Administrative Staff Contracts Are Renewed

The Perryton school board renewed the contracts of superintendent Gilbert Mize, coach Pete Peterson and principals Joe Champion, Troy Sullivan and Kenneth Precise at their last meeting.

Mize was given a three-year contract. He is now in his seventh year as superintendent and is in his 13th year as a member of the Perryton school system. He came to Perryton in 1942 and has served as classroom teacher and elementary school principal since that time, except for Army service during World War II.

Peterson came to Perryton in the fall of 1951 and was given a two-year contract by the school board. Pete came to Perryton from Happy. He took over as head football coach when the Rangers had gone through two years without winning a game and has fashioned a stout team during the past four years. He had only one losing season, the first one, and wound up the past two seasons with 7-2-1 records.

Precise has been on the school faculty for the past seven years. He served one year as classroom teacher, then was named elementary and junior high school principal. He relinquished the junior high job four years ago and continued as elementary principal.

Champion came to Perryton from Dumas, where he was head

Perryton Schools Begin Evaluation Program Study

The Perryton schools began this week a self-evaluation program to determine how the system stands as an accredited school. This self-evaluation, being done by all accredited schools in the state, is being carried on for the first time.

Results of the program will determine how the subjects taught in the Perryton schools are accepted by the colleges and universities in the state.

There are four areas of the self-evaluation — curriculum plan and development; social skills and attitudes; other instructional areas; and pupil services.

Every member of the faculty takes part in the survey program, designed primarily to find the weak points in the school program.

The survey will continue for the next two or three months, according to superintendent Gilbert Mize.

In the past, schools were accredited on the basis of lesson plans, examination papers, notebooks, etc., which were sent to the State Department of Education for checking. Under the new plan, each school evaluates itself and these findings are audited by an inspector from the state department.

The new program is thought to be more flexible in allowing

Canadian Bridge Dedication Date Scheduled for May 5

Free Barbecue Will Open Big Highway Event

The dedication date of the Canadian River bridge on state highway 70 has been set for Thursday, May 5. The date was named at a meeting of the steering committee from Roberts, Ochiltree and Gray counties at a meeting in Miami Monday.

The dedication ceremony will open with a big barbecue promptly at noon at the bridge site. Arrangements are being made to barbecue six beefs, as a crowd of between 2,500 and 3,000 is expected.

On the afternoon program, E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the state highway commission, will give the main address.

Following the barbecue, the program will start at 1 p. m. with a half-hour concert by the Perryton and Pampa high school bands.

Fred Thompson of Pampa will be the master of ceremonies. The invocation will be given by Rev. Keith McCormick of Perryton and recognition of platform guests will then be made by Max W. Boyer of Perryton.

This will be followed by greetings from the three county judges—Ed Haynes of Roberts, Howard Slaughter of Ochiltree, and Bruce Parker of Gray.

The program will be brought to a close with a ribbon-cutting ceremony. The first ribbon will be cut by Mrs. Sherman White of Pampa, in memory of her husband, former Gray county judge. W. B. LaMaster of Perryton, a long time booster for the bridge, will cut the second ribbon. The third ribbon will be cut by Woods King, Roberts county commissioner, who has worked for the completion of the bridge.

A fourth ribbon will be cut by Robert Lee Bobbitt of San Antonio, a former member of the State Highway Commission.

Sheriffs of the three counties, Ray Phagan of Ochiltree, W. H. Carr of Roberts and Rufe Jordan of Gray, will be responsible for traffic.

The steering committee decided to put the dedication date in May instead of trying to hold it

Commissioners Set Tax Rate And Other Items

The county commissioners named the county depository, set the tax rate, and transacted other routine business in their regular meeting Thursday.

The tax rate was set at $1.25 per $100 valuation, the same as at present. The First National Bank was selected as the county depository for funds.

The county is putting $70,000 on time deposit for the next six months.

The commissioners voted to buy two beehives and share one-third of the cost of food for the dedication of the Canadian River bridge on highway 70 in May.

Dr. G. L. Kengle was re-appointed county health officer for the next two years.

A unanimous vote of the commissioners was secured to put the wind erosion law into effect. This law provides that when a farm is blowing, the land can be worked to stop the blowing, and the cost of this work will be assessed against the owner of the land.

Boy Scout Drive Opens

The annual Boy Scout fund drive opened Monday morning with a group of about 40 workers meeting in the Harvester Room of the Hotel Coffee Shop for the initial session.

A collection of about $3,000 is anticipated, according to Rev. Keith McCormick, chairman of the campaign.

Drew Ellis, chairman of the advance gift committee, reported that approximately $1,645 has been contributed by this method. About the same amount is expected to be raised by general solicitation.

Vance Apple and Joe Erickson are sub-chairmen of the drive. Dean McCutcheon is auditor for the campaign.

An effort is being made to secure as many $12 contributions as possible, this being the amount it takes to maintain a boy in Scouting for a year. The money collected goes to the Adobe Walls Council to provide professional Scouting direction, supplies and administration for the program in this area.

Wind Erosion Law Is Readied For Expected Dusty Weather

A legal notice is being published in this issue of the Herald which outlines the program of work of the Ochiltree County Wind Erosion Conservation District in the event it becomes necessary to prevent land from wind erosion in this county.

The notice is in compliance with the wind erosion law set up in the 1930's and which was used then to check blowing fields in order to safeguard surrounding fields.

In the event it becomes necessary for the Wind Erosion Conservation District to work land in this county to check the blowing, an assessment of up to $2 per acre will be levied to pay the cost of the work.

An advisory committee will be named to carry out the program.

The Ochiltree county commissioners voted last week to take the necessary steps to get this wind erosion law into operation. Last year there were several complaints about blowing fields which the owner would not plow and refused to let neighbors go into the fields to check the blowing.

Under the wind erosion law, the owner is compelled to let the necessary work be done, and he has to pay for it.

Red Cross Drive To Be Outlined At Meet Tonite

A meeting will be held in the Harvester Room of the Hotel Coffee Shop tonight, Thursday, at 7:30 o'clock to open the annual Red Cross fund drive. Ralph Headlee is fund drive chairman this year.

Ike Burnett of Amarillo, general field representative, will be at the meeting. He will bring with him Tom Davis of Vernon national campaign vice chairman.

Davis will give a short talk on the Red Cross fund drive and what it means to this community.

This meeting is open to the public and all Red Cross workers are asked to be present.

Freshe Bread Now In Town

Introduction of Freshe bread in Perryton stores is being announced in an advertisement in this issue of the Herald. The company passed out free samples of the bread in Perryton Tuesday.

Freshe bread is baked in Amarillo and delivered fresh daily into Perryton. The Freshe company has been serving the Panhandle and South Plains since 1950.

Jim Henderson is the salesman

While there have been no dust storms thus far, with the present conditions it is quite likely that there will be considerable blowing dust within the next month or so, and the commissioners want to be prepared for these conditions.

A hearing has been set for March 14 for landowners who protest the proposed assessments to make their protests known.

New Nash Goes On Display Here Today

The 1955 Nash, featuring a brand new V-8 engine and sweeping changes in styling, goes on display today at the Ochiltree Nash Co. The Ambassador V-8 series, with the 208-horsepower engine and a distinctively unique styling concept, is at the top of the 1955 Nash line.

Both the Ambassador and Statesman are completely restyled in appearance, inside and outside. The new wrap-around windshield, front fenders, hood and grille are entirely new in design, and combine to present an appearance completely unlike any other American car.

Three engines are offered in the Ambassador series, including the V-8, Super Jetfire Six and the LeMans Dual Jetfire Six. Four transmissions are offered, the standard, overdrive, Dual-Range Hydra-Matic, and the Twin Ultra-Matic.

A full selection of extras is offered, including air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, and electric window lifts.

More Irrigation Wells Drilled In Local Area

Interest in irrigation is continuing to mount, and there are several more wells either being drilled or planned in Ochiltree county, according to county agent Delbert Timmons.

To date there are 38 wells in operation and several being drilled. One driller is reported to have said he has 17 wells in prospect this spring in Ochiltree county.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD

AUSTIN, Tex.—Investigation of veterans' land sales is spreading. Twenty new witnesses were called in for testimony by the House investigating committee the past week. All were former employees of the General Land Office.

More will testify this week—the third week of interrogation by the House committee. Two additional months of investigation will be undertaken by the Senate committee by order of the upper house. Investigation by the Senate committee has been going on since late in December.

A parade of witnesses will continue for several days. Latest suit brought by the attorney general towards the total recovery sought by the state to $1,113,000. Named among the defendants were J. Paul Little and H. R. Stallings of Crystal City.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said the land was purportedly owned by A. E. Abbott, "a fictitious person—an assumed name used by the defendant J. Paul Little."

Shepperd has charged that Veterans Land Board files were rifled and records removed, after the investigation started before Christmas.

Regulating Labor Unions
A determined effort is being made to draft more stringent labor laws. It stems from the Port Arthur strikes.

Labor unions on the other hand are actively expressing their opposition. A Senate committee delayed action on Sen. George Parkhouse's bill. It prohibits picketing by non-employees and strikes by other than the majority group of employees.

In the House, the labor committee heard a bill written by the State Federation of Labor. According to Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., co-sponsor, it would have prevented the multiple-strike situation in Port Arthur.

Under the Maverick-Berlin bill, the state labor commissioner would be required to call an election to determine whether the union represented a majority of the employees. A strike or picketing until that was determined would be prohibited. Also, if the union lost the election, it would be prohibited from picketing.

This bill also creates a full-time Industrial Commission to review disputes and invoke public opinion. But it would have no enforcement powers to settle labor tussles.

Nobody opposed the bill. It was sent to a sub-committee for a week's study.

Ray Harrington, secretary of the Texas Council of the CIO, said his group reluctantly accepted the bill. "We are about convinced," he said, "we are going to be hit over the head with a stick at this session. We're trying to pick out the smallest stick, the one that will hurt the least."

Some industrial leaders call the union's bill a little Wagner Act. They say it forces arbitration by a state commission, collective bargaining, and production of books and records.

Crime and Comics
Rep. Joe E. Pool has introduced a bill to outlaw crime, horror and sex comic books. Another to prohibit all sorts of lewd and scandalous publications has been presented by Rep. Grainer McIlhenny.

A House committee heard 16 witnesses, 14 in favor of the two bills. Authors passed out samples of the publications. Committee members got so busy examining the exhibits they missed much of the four hour testimony.

Insurance Bills
A bill by the Association of Texas Fire and Casualty Companies won the approval of a Senate committee. It is designed to correct abuses in the casualty field.

Sen. C. C. Martin is sponsor.

New Chain Letter Operation Gets Tested Here

The savings bond type of chain letter has been reported in Perryton, but thus far only a few unusual sales of bonds have been reported by the local banks.

Under this system, the person getting a chain letter buys a bond and sends it to the person on the top of the list. He then makes a new list, puts his name at the bottom, and sets out to sell this list to five more persons.

Theoretically, at the end of the chain, the participant sits back and counts his savings bonds as they pour in from all points of the compass.

Persons who take part in this chain say they are operating within the law, since the letters are not mailed, but are carried to prospects. In turn the persons on the list buy the bonds and mail them to the person at the top of the list.

Here is where the Post Office comes in. This is an offense when the person knowingly deposits the bond in the mail, or sends or delivers it by mail, according to postmaster Irvin Hergert. The fine is not more than $1,000 or imprisonment more than two years or both.

This savings bond chain letter has been reported in various Plains cities in recent weeks. Two men from Quanah were reported to be in Perryton Tuesday, peddling their list and collecting bonds from their "customers."

"In order to avoid the loss of money and possible prosecution, just keep your name off any list," Hergert advises.

Newfoundland Loses Dog

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—Newfoundland dogs are fast disappearing from Newfoundland and one breeder says it is because of federal registration regulations.

Only five thoroughbreds are left here, compared with 30 in 1949 when five breeders exported more than 100 pups a year. Harold MacPherson, well-known Newfoundland merchant, doesn't think the industry will recover until regulations are revised.

Before Newfoundland joined Canada registering the dogs was a simple process, all done on paper. Today, however, the pups must be either tattooed or nose-printed. MacPherson thinks tattooing is cruel and he says Newfoundland dogs are not suited for nose-printing because they sweat too much.

Footie in Plane Forced Landing Near Love Field

C. W. Foote experienced his first forced landing Sunday morning when the engine in his Beech Bonanza plane exploded after taking off from Love Field, Dallas. He was not injured and the only damage to the plane was in the engine.

Foote said that he had a normal takeoff and when he reached about 1,000 feet altitude "the engine simply came apart." He landed in a wheat field about three miles northwest of Love Field.

A new engine was installed at the scene of the forced landing and he flew the plane home Tuesday morning.

AUSTIN, Tex.—Investigation of veterans' land sales is spreading. Twenty new witnesses were called in for testimony by the House investigating committee the past week. All were former employees of the General Land Office.

More will testify this week—the third week of interrogation by the House committee.

Two additional months of investigation will be undertaken by the Senate committee by order of the upper house. Investigation by the Senate committee has been going on since late in December.

A parade of witnesses will continue for several days.

Latest suit brought by the attorney general boosts the total recovery sought by the state to $1,113,800. Named among the defendants were J. Paul Little and H. E. Stallings of Crystal City.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said the land was purportedly owned by A. B. Abbott, "a fictitious person—an assumed name used by the defendant J. Paul Little."

Shepperd has charged that Veterans Land Board files were rifled and records removed, after the investigation started before Christmas.

Regulating Labor Unions
A determined effort is being made to draft more stringent labor laws. It stems from the Port Arthur strikes.

Labor unions on the other hand are actively expressing their opposition.

A Senate committee delayed action on Sen. George Parkhouse's bill. It prohibits picketing by non-employees and strikes by other than the majority group of employees.

In the House, the labor committee heard a bill written by the State Federation of Labor. According to Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., co-sponsor, it would have prevented the multiple-strike situation in Port Arthur.

Under the Maverick-Berlin bill, the state labor commissioner would be required to call an election to determine whether the union represented a majority of the employees. A strike or picketing until that was determined would be prohibited. Also, if the union lost the election, it would be prohibited from picketing.

This bill also creates a full-time Industrial Commission to review disputes and invoke public opinion. But it would have no enforcement powers to settle labor tussles.

Nobody opposed the bill. It was sent to a sub-committee for a week's study.

Ray Harrington, secretary of the Texas Council of the CIO, said his group reluctantly accepted the bill. "We are about convinced," he said, "we are going to be hit over the head with a stick at this session. We're trying to pick out the smallest stick, the one that will hurt the least."

Some industrial leaders call the union's bill a little Wagner Act. They say it forces arbitration by a state commission, collective bargaining, and production of books and records.

Crime and Comics
Rep. Joe R. Pool has introduced a bill to outlaw crime, horror and sex comic books.

Another to prohibit all sorts of lewd and scandalous publications has been presented by Rep. Grainer McIlhenny.

A House committee heard 16 witnesses, 14 in favor of the two bills. Authors passed out samples of the publications. Committee members got so busy examining the exhibits they missed much of the four-hour testimony.

Insurance Bills
A bill by the Association of Texas Fire and Casualty Companies won the approval of a Senate committee. It is designed to correct abuses in the casualty field.

Then to the department clinics for X-ray examinations and routine tests. Came the final stage, and she was placed on a table for pelvic examination. New Chain Letter Operation Gets Tested Here

The savings bond type of chain letter has been reported in Perryton, but thus far only a few unusual sales of bonds have been reported by the local banks.

Under this system, the person getting a chain letter buys a bond and sends it to the person on the top of the list. He then makes a new list, puts his name at the bottom, and sets out to sell this list to five more persons.

Theoretically, at the end of the chain, the participant sits back and counts his savings bonds as they pour in from all points of the compass.

Persons who take part in this chain say they are operating within the law, since the letters are not mailed, but are carried to prospects. In turn the persons on the list buy the bonds and mail them to the person at the top of the list.

Here is where the Post Office comes in. This is an offense when the person knowingly deposits the bond in the mail, or sends or delivers it by mail, according to postmaster Irvin Hergert. The fine is not more than $1000 or imprisonment more than two years or both.

This savings bond chain letter has been reported in various Plains cities in recent weeks.

Two men from Quanah were reported to be in Perryton Tuesday, peddling their list and collecting bonds from their "customers."

"In order to avoid the loss of money and possible prosecution, just keep your name off any list," Hergert advises.

Newfoundland Loses Dog

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (AP)—Newfoundland dogs are fast disappearing from Newfoundland and one breeder says it is because of federal registration regulations.

Only five thoroughbreds are left here, compared with 30 in 1949 when five breeders exported more than 100 pups a year. Harold MacPherson, well-known Newfoundland merchant, doesn't think the industry will recover until regulations are revised.

Before Newfoundland joined Canada registering the dogs was a simple process, all done on paper. Today, however, the pups must be either tattooed or nose-printed. MacPherson thinks tattooing is cruel and he says Newfoundland dogs are not suited for nose-printing because they sweat too much.

C. W. Foote experienced his first forced landing Sunday morning when the engine in his Beech Bonanza plane exploded after taking off from Love Field, Dallas. He was not injured and the only damage to the plane was in the engine.

A new engine was installed at the scene of the forced landing and he flew the plane home Tuesday morning.

FISH GETS A MOUTHFUL—This goldfish recently ate a bigger meal than he realized when he apparently plopped a bird seed into his mouth. This seed sprouted and a plant about six inches long now grows from his mouth. The owner, Mrs. Willard Clayton of Marshall, Tex., thinks that it sprouted from bird seed. The fish seems reasonably contented, except that it occasionally shakes its head back and forth as if to shake the plant loose. (P) Photo

RECORD SET—T. T. Perry, manager of the Texas Tech poultry farm at Lubbock, Tex., holds Queenie the year old white rock hen that laid the largest egg he has seen in his 35 years of poultry business. The egg, 5 1/2 ounces, 9 1/2 inches around the long way, 7 1/2 inches the short way, is held along side of a large size egg. Queenie is one of 325 hens products of 2nd generation inbreeding which are producing 2 dozen double-yolked eggs each week. Perry believes the strain may produce eggs large as turkey eggs if inbreeding is continued. (P) Photo

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—A string of oil lease filings in recent months has raised Alaskans' hopes that wells may bring a boom to rival the rush once caused by gold.

An oil company applying for leases on 90,520 acres of the Kenai Peninsula was the eighth major petroleum firm to indicate interest in Alaska exploration.

Same Song, Second Verse, Still Dry

D. R. Gaither, part-time farmer, accountant and income tax expert, is responsible for this latest version of the drought. He surmises that if this area is to maintain its 10-year moisture average since 1892 the following facts are to be considered.

1. The 63-year average is 21.03.
2. During the last four years, since Jan. 1, 1952, the average rainfall has been 15.05.
3. To bring this last 10-year period up to average, this area will need 21.62 inches of moisture each year for six years.
4. If no rain is received for the next 10 months and none during the next four years, Ochiltree county will be floating in 129.73 inches of moisture during 1961 if the average is to be maintained.
5. Should this county receive 129.73 inches of moisture during 1961 it will be the wettest drought breaking year in history.

Winning Film Here Tonight

"On the Waterfront" the 1954 Academy Award picture which won "Oscars" for Marlon Brando and the cast, will be at the Ellis Theatre tonight, closing out three-day stand.

The awards were announced just this week.

The picture is a brass-knuckled drama of love and terror in the jungle where the city meets the sea. Lee Cobb is co-starred in the production.

'Women's Prison' Tells Story of Brutal Warden

A new dramatic shocker is "Women's Prison," which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday, starring Ida Lupino and Howard Duff.

"Women's Prison" is said to reveal the real raw truth about man-smuggling inside a big house for women, where a sadistic superintendent mentally and physically tortures the women prisoners in her care, to the point where they finally revolt. Set in a penitentiary which houses male and female prisoners under the same roof, but separated by a presumably "invincible" wall, "Women's Prison" reportedly is a shocking indictment of prison methods today deemed both outmoded and dangerous.

Ida Lupino plays the superintendent who vents her neurotic rages on her prisoners, causing one to break down completely and another to be injured fatally. Jan Sterling and Cleo Moore play the hard bitten leaders in

Growing Carriers

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., LP—The super carrier Ranger, under construction here, could take two carriers the size of the old Ranger on her deck.

The last Ranger, the first ship ever constructed from the keel up as an aircraft carrier, was completed in 1934 and scrapped after outstanding service in two oceans during World War II. The name Ranger is a famous one in naval history, the first being commanded by John Paul Jones.

The new Ranger, of the Forrestal class, was started in one dry dock and after the mid section is finished it will be moved to another dry dock. This will advance construction at least six months by avoiding the wait for the Forrestal to be completed in the larger dry dock.

Hens Try Stunts

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., (AP)—Thomas F. Sifton's hens are at it again. Ten years ago one laid an egg 10 inches around its longest dimension.

Now, Sifton reports, another of his hens laid three eggs in one day.

The riot which follows the exposure of a "love nest alley" between prison bars; Audrey Totter is seen as the unfortunate whose death initiates the prison explosion and Phyllis Thaxter is seen as a timorous frightened new prisoner who breaks under the shock of Miss Lupino's inhuman treatment. Howard Duff plays the humane prison doctor who tries to shield his patients from the sadistic superintendent's emotional excesses.

The miracle of America is that, with 45 million cars on the road, more of them don't collide.

JAMES STEWART, memorable in The Glenn Miller Story and Rear Window, now as the stranger with a gun, challenging the gold-mad Yukon where a fancy woman (Ruth Roman) was his for the taking. "The Far Country" opens at the Ellis Theatre Tuesday, Feb. 22.

Lou and Bud Are Seen as Keystone Kops

The hilarity of Hollywood's silent picture days becomes sheer bedlam when Bud Abbott and Lou Costello take up this fabulously funny era in "Abbott and Costello Meet the Keystone Kops" which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday.

The howls start when Bud and Lou, fresh from the thrill of a Nickelodeon thriller, are lured into investing money they don't own in a movie studio that doesn't exist. And the momentum of merriment builds as the comedians trek to Hollywood to unmask the embezzler, only to turn into the wackiest stunt-men who ever turned the movies upside-down.

There are spills, chills and laughs galore as Bud and Lou get involved with studio Indians, Mack Sennett Bathing Beauties and the immortal Keystone Kops —when they go dazedevilling in the air, on the plains and in the water. Between crazy chases, pies in the face and the inevitable across the tracks race with the railroad train, the laughs are loud, long and likely to arouse

Dental Cavities Can Be Helped With Right Care

AUSTIN—There are some 300 million dental cavities in United States children, and the backlog is increasing at the rate of about 40 million a year. The toll of dental disease is a particular tragedy because the knowledge to reduce the high incidence of tooth decay is at hand, according to Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer.

One of the chief reasons for the decay toll is the heavy consumption of sweets, he said. Sweets are readily fermentable and offer a good nutrient for bacteria to manufacture enamel-destroying acid.

Dr. Holle urged that parents offer fruit or popcorn or cheese to children instead of jams and pastries for between-meal snacks. The ritual of toothbrushing still one of the most effective methods of preventing dental disease, Holle said. However, the brushing should be done immediately after eating and on retiring at night.

"In addition to the fluoridation of water, help reduce sugar consumption throughout a lifetime, crippling that now plague adult generation," Dr. Holle said.

"As part of the prevention program, children should be taken to the dentist as soon as their first teeth are in," said Dr. Holle. The dentist and the parent can thus become acquainted under favorable circumstances, free of any discomfort or type of introduction is better, happier and more than one in which the child is suffering from a toothache caused by dental neglect.

Q I plan to convert my GI term insurance policy to a permanent plan. Will I have to send VA a new list of beneficiaries, or will beneficiaries already named carry over to my permanent insurance?

A It is not necessary for you to submit a new list of beneficiaries when you convert your insurance. The beneficiaries you have named originally will carry over to your permanent insurance. You can, of course, change the designation of beneficiaries at any time you desire.

Q What is the time limit for filing a claim for an allowance to cover the burial costs of a veteran?

A A claim must be filed within two years from the date of permanent burial of the veteran.

Q I have just been released from military service. Will the Veterans Administration help me find a job?

A Job-finding assistance is outside the scope of VA's activities, as defined by law. Employment placement is a function of the Veterans Employment Service of the U. S. Employment Service. Any local State Employment Office can give you further information.

Q I intend to buy a house with a GI loan. I have approached a lending institution, and it requires a down payment. Are down payments mandatory under the law?

A The law itself does not require a down payment on a GI loan. However, since private lenders do make the loans, they have the right to make decisions as to terms and down payments.

More Service, More Taxes

The Texas Legislature is in the middle of legislation now that is causing considerable anguish among the law makers—these bills have to do with spending money and raising taxes.

One is not possible without the other. Therein lies the legislative dilemma.

The legislators are faced with the task of raising money to provide for minimum needs without raising taxes. More money is needed for state highways, for schools, for hospitals, for other state institutions.

A small minority of Texas voters went to the polls in November and approved an increase in pay of state officials; to increase old age assistance; to provide for more and better service of various kinds in this great sovereign state of ours.

The only way these bills can be met is by taxing someone each Texan is sure that the lawmakers ought to lay the tax on "somebody else." But it doesn't work that way.

The proposed increase in taxes for beer, gasoline and cigarettes is currently unpopular, but has a good chance of passing. Smokers and drivers will protest, they will not allow a tax increase to keep them from drinking, smoking and driving. And in a few months, the tax rise will be forgotten and the new prices taken as a matter of course.

The legislators, in the meantime, are supposed to give Texans what they want and at the same time provide a painless way to get the money.

We doubt if they can swing the deal.

A Time for Changing Customs

We have read that women not only live six years longer than men but they are more hardy and hale along the way. For example, a recent count in all the nation's hospitals showed 77,720 more males than females were flat on their backs.

The male is considered much more fragile because (1) women outnumber men considerably today (2) one-sixth of all hospital admissions are for pregnancies and no male has yet developed this condition.

These statistics suggest there should be some readjustment to the old gallantries. Women should realize that they must take care of the old boy if they expect to have his company in future years and men should face up to the fact that they are really more fragile.

Therefore, it is time to change the customs. Women should look to ways to keep their mates from exerting themselves. There should no longer be disapproval from the neighbors when the little women is seen perspiring at the business end of a lawn mower. The trash can, and should be, carried out by the women-folk.

It is the women who should supply the helping hand to the stairs, the seat in the bus, the bare head to the frosty air at funerals, the strong arm, to carry suitcases, and long stride demanded for a well-aided dog.

Where Does Our Money Go?

Last year, a hundred and four Texas counties did not bother to submit their budgets to the state auditor, although this is required by law. Why? The state auditor has no power to make them do it. So, nobody but the commissioners' courts in those counties knows what became of the tax monies collected.

There is no reason to believe that the great majority of these local governing bodies did anything with county funds that shouldn't have been done; we are attacking only the principle of the thing—the idea that the public needn't know what the government does with its hard-earned tax dollars.

Texas commissioners' courts handled over a billion dollars in assessed property taxes last year; Texas counties have gross debts of one billion 500 million dollars. We believe the people should know exactly where this money goes, and how these debts accumulate.

Public attendance at meetings of the commissioners' court is notoriously small, and even when the public attends, it does not understand a great many of the court's actions. So that isn't the answer.

The answer lies in complete publication of the minutes of county commissioners' court meetings. This is not unreasonable—local officials have just been granted four-year terms by Texas voters, and in return the public is entitled to a more thorough knowledge of the actions of our grass-roots government.

There is now in the legislative hopper at Austin a bill (H.B. 12) which will provide for the publication of such proceedings. It deserves the support of every free-thinking citizen.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

The editor of this great moral and metropolitan weekly newspaper missed a news story last week about the farm fire which totally destroyed the house and contents of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Butler near Waka. And we can't explain this to any degree of satisfaction—except that we just weren't "on the ball" last week.

As a matter of fact, we didn't even have a story when the boss of this outfit came back from a tour of Europe, either. We thought we had one, but repeated searching through the back issues convinces us that this story got left out, or what is more likely, was never written.

Maybe one reason we're missing these news stories is that we've been too busy taking up money. On Monday morning we received an envelope containing pledge cards, etc., for the current Boy Scout drive. Last week we had an envelope containing pledge cards, etc., for the March of Dimes drive. We are still carrying around an envelope containing pledge cards, etc., for the Chamber of Commerce membership drive. We were also, in recent weeks, given an opportunity to sell Ranger Club banquet tickets and membership dues, to sell concert tickets, sell pool taxes, etc.

In fact, we've taken up money for everything except advertising, job printing and office supplies, which is where our eating money comes from and it's high time we did some of the latter instead of the former.

Speaking of eating, we had a chat recently with Frank Carter, publisher of the Pampa Daily Spokesman and a big cattle operator, owner of the Combs-Worley ranch near Pampa. Frank said he was one of the men named to the "Eat More Beef Week" committee and set out on a round of civic clubs and other organizations to boost the eating of that Western necessity—beefsteak. Frank said the first five places he visited, he was served fried chicken.

Notice where the Air Force colonel at Laredo received a fine of $1,800 and a reprimand for being convicted of flying Air Force mechanics to Pennsylvania in military planes to repair tractors for his farm. The tractors were secured by the colonel as Army surplus. The same day, a private first class in the Air Force at Fort Worth received a dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances and five years in confinement at hard labor for refusing to salute the paymaster on payday.

Notice the contrast? We are not defending either man for his actions, but we doubt if rank does make that much difference. And some ex-officers still wonder why enlisted men are still so bitter about this rank situation while they were in service.

It is better to give than to lend and it costs about the same.

We didn't know until this week that the highway department had changed the signs on old 117. It is now state highway 15, and we first heard about the sign changing the other night at a party when Clair Brillhart asked if anyone knew how come he drove to town on 117 and went home on 15? No one knew, including this department, although we

Hereford Assn. Names Officers

All officers and directors of the North Plains Hereford Breeders Association were reelected at the annual meeting of the group held last week. R. H. Holland will serve his second term as president.

Other officers are Leroy Born, Follett, vice president; Delbert Timmons, Perryton, secretary; C. A. Hoover, Ralph Hale, Lawrence Ellzey, Myron McCarter, Dale Hoover, Dick Hall, Gary Conley, and Arthur Morgan, all of Perryton; C. J. Frantz, Jr., Waka; Loren Paine, Lipscomb; Carl Clawson, Hitchland; and Max Blau, Booker, directors.

didn't let on that we didn't. However, we do have a story and a picture of Lowell Robertson, highway department employee, standing with the new highway 15 sign. So no one can accuse us of leaving this one out, anyway. Reason Clair drove in on 117 and back on 15 was that the department had changed just half the road signs.

They say an adolescent is one who's well informed about anything he doesn't have to study.

Years ago the London Spectator offered a prize for the best philosophy of life which could be written on the back of a postage stamp. The entry which won the prize could almost have been written on the back of a postage stamp. There were just eight words in it: "Love, trust, dare, and go on doing it."

A perfect alibi for the lazy person is found in this squib which we picked up somewhere: "The dog dies in from ten to fifteen years; the squirrel in from ten to twelve, and the hare in from seven to eight. Strenuous exercisers every one! Now, what about the lazy animals? The tortoise who is a world's champion for laziness enjoys the greatest longevity—200 to 300 years. The pike swims along for 200 years, the galloping horse lives only 30 years, the swan who glides slowly through life often lives 100 years."

You can't buy happiness with money but you can't purchase a thick steak with kind words.

Police Escort

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff T. M. Whitten rushed to a motor court where people reported hearing strange cries. He located nothing unusual and radioed for another deputy. City and University of Virginia police and a state trooper heard the call and responded. They found Max, a boxer dog partially paralyzed by infected tick bites, howling in the rain. He was escorted to his doghouse by representatives of the four law enforcement divisions.

Farm scientists say that hogs can be fattened more rapidly if they spend most of their time in the dark.

Wolf Creek Philosopher City Expansion To Solve Farming

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher has another odd idea this week, which is nothing unusual for him.)

Dear editor:

In nearly every paper you pick up these days you read something about crop controls, dissatisfaction over how much cotton or wheat or what not individual farmers are getting to plant this year, and at the same time everybody knows if every body produces everything he's capable of the country will be overwhelmed with surpluses and the price will drop to nothing or the government will have to open up Fort Knox and exhaust its gold reserves buying the stuff.

This has caused a lot of people a lot of concern, and some pretty heavy thinking has been going on.

I have thought the problem over carefully myself and can now announce that the people who are alarmed are not considering all the angles.

While the problem of surpluses may be pressing at the moment, if we can just hold on a little while longer, it'll disappear.

I make this prediction from a recent trip I had to take which took me through several Texas cities, including Amarillo, Lubbock, Fort Worth and Dallas. That's more traveling than I've done in years and I expect it will last me from now on, I'm glad to be back home.

But the thing I observed, and which the farm experts and worriers apparently are overlooking, is that there's more building going on in them cities than you ever dreamed of. Cities are reaching out in every direction for more room, and a man who announces in Lubbock for example that he's putting up 100 more houses has a hard time even getting his name in the newspapers. It ain't news any longer.

And the same is true in smaller cities and even in towns, I hear they're building some houses in Spearman, even.

Now here's my point. Every time a city develops a new subdivision, it takes that much more

LETTERS from READERS

It looks like every time we have a chance for rain, a big high wind comes along and blows it off to South Texas. Makes me wonder if we're livin' right.

Slim Smith came by last night just to tell me that it rained some up in Missouri where his son lives, but they pay such high taxes up there, the state can afford a rain once in a while.

A lot of people here are keeping an eye out for rain clouds, but at the same time they're getting their chisels ready just in case things start blowin'. Nothing like being prepared.

A black cat crossed the street in front of me Saturday night, but surely one little black cat, or even a great big one could not produce as much drought as we've had.

One of my daughters got married a couple of months ago, and the other one is fixin' to. Question: What kind of luck is that?

Thinkin' about those daughters, they're my wife's children by her first husband but she doesn't like for me to tell folks that. Of course, they're mine, too, for I'm her first husband, and she says I'm also the last, too—regardless.

Service Clubs surely must be Divinely ordained. Cold potatoes, bad meat-leaf and yesterday's puddin' wouldn't hold an earthly organization together as long as some of them already have existed.

People in small towns don't get lonesome. Trouble with us here is that there just aren't enough nights in the week. Man told me the other day that he and his wife had planned to spend a quiet evening at home, and after 7:00 o'clock, both of them had phone calls reminding them of meetings, and each of them left the house going in different directions. What does that do to Home life?

Kids got me a TV for my birthday. I saw a feature called "The Driven Snow." Between what the film and the TV together put out, enough snow covered the panhandle to raise six wheat crops.

Always something to be thankful for. I went off and left my garage doors open for two weeks last Summer. No one even bothered to come in and re-arrange the junk I've got stored in it. We never had it that good before, even when the Democrats were in.

Swiftly Fisher has a short temper and really hit the roof when he got a parking ticket last week. He wasn't near a hydrant or too far from the curb. There was a big sign saying "ONE HOUR PARKING" and he'd only been gone twenty minutes.

Running to Traffic Court, where Hack Miller was on duty, Swiftly hollered how he hadn't done anything wrong ... how he is the most law-abiding driver in town.

But Hack examined the ticket, and smiled. "Slow down, friend," he said. "You're not guilty—except of making a big fuss about nothing. This ticket came some kid's policeman play.

720 HOURS a MONTH!!

Yep, those are my hours of work, folks. I'm ALWAYS on the job, ready and willing to take over your work and give you time for other things. And, another important thing... I never charge overtime! In fact, the more you use me, the LESS I charge per hour!

My big bonus is the satisfaction of having served you well—doing scores of chores about the house. The only way you can increase my monthly pay is to give me more jobs to do—like air conditioning, for example. But my hourly wage remains the same—about 3½¢ an hour, on the average, for all the C.P.S. Co. homes I serve. And look at all the extra comfort you get. Not bad, huh?

That God is the only Mind, and man is the individual expression of the one Mind will be emphasized in Christian Science church services this Sunday. The allness, wholeness, completeness, and perfection of God and all that He creates will also be stressed in passages to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook by Mary Baker Eddy, "Mind" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will include the following passages among those to be read: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: to whom be glory for ever" (Romans 11:34,36). "Divine metaphysics, as revealed to spiritual understanding, shows clearly that all is Mind, and that Mind is God, omnipotence, omnipresence, omniscience,—that is, all power, all presence, all Science. Hence all is in reality the manifestation of Mind" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, page 275). The Golden Text of the Lesson is from James: "If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and it shall be given him" (1:5).

MY COUNTRY

Look at this noble countenance. Or better, let him look squarely at you. What are his eyes saying as he studies your record... your Americanism? He looks deep into your soul, does he find gratitude, loyalty, high hope? Is the American way the true way with you? He risked wealth and person to give us this Free and Noble land — Washington, the sturdy father of the greatest country on earth. Citizens, be proud, attend church and thank God.
