CHAPARRAL CHICKS TWEET FOR FOOD — Herald Photographer Danny Valdes captured this sight Tuesday as "momma Chaparral" took a breather from her nest, leaving the chicks in full view. The tiny birds are offspring of two Chaparrals which have been noticed around Cosden's tank car repair department for the past two years. After Walker Reed, leadman, found the chicks last week they have been the center of attention for repair personnel and train switchmen, who have been keeping tabs on the "tweeters" all week. "The female sits in the nest most of the day and you can walk up within two feet of the nest and she won't jump out," said Jim Knight, repairman.

Arab-Israeli Fighting, 'Police Action' Staged

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab-Israeli fighting flared on the Egyptian and Jordanian fronts today, and an Israeli patrol entered southern Lebanon for the third straight day of "police action" against Arab guerrillas.

Lebanese Premier Rashid Karami told his Parliament in Beirut that he was considering asking Morocco and Tunisia to send troops to help defend Lebanon against Israeli attacks. Interior Minister Kamal Jumblatt indicated that Karami had considered asking Syria or Egypt for help but had decided not to because of objections by conservatives.

It appeared unlikely that Moroccan or Tunisian forces could arrive any time soon, even if their moderate governments agreed to take part in the Arab-Israeli conflict, Karami did not say whether they had agreed to send any troops.

SHOTS SWAPPED

Two Israeli soldiers were reported wounded before dawn in an artillery exchange across the Suez Canal. Israeli jets then crossed the canal and pounded artillery positions on the Egyptian side, the Israeli military command reported.

Israeli and Arab gunners also exchanged artillery and mortar fire across the Jordanian front Tuesday night. Spokesmen said two Israeli border settlements came under mortar fire but that there were no casualties.

Israeli troops in the occupied Golan Heights of Syria fired 14 shells into the town of Irbid, in North Jordan, during the night, a Jordanian military spokesman reported. He said there were no casualties and that Jordanian troops returned the fire, silencing the Israeli batteries.

CANNON SHELLS

Israeli spokesmen said cannon shells from Iraqi forces stationed in Jordan landed near two Israeli settlements in the Beisan Valley and near another settlement in the Golan Heights. No casualties were reported.

The Israeli patrols into Lebanon apparently are now operating daily. They began Monday after the weekend ambush of an Israeli school bus near the Lebanese border in which eight children and three adults were killed.

The Israelis said the patrols did some shooting at suspected guerrillas and Lebanese army targets Monday but that there were no exchanges Tuesday.

Maj. Gen. Mordecai Gur, chief of Israel's northern military command, said Tuesday the patrols would continue. "Our main aim is to get the Fatah (guerrillas) away from the border and to defeat any attempt to fire at settlements," he said. He added that the patrols had been instructed not to fire on civilians or enter villages.

DANGEROUS STAGE

Israeli spokesmen said the patrols take up positions on high ground inside Lebanon overlooking Israeli settlements, wait for guerrillas, and strike them when they appear. The patrols are backed up by tanks and other armament on standby on the Israeli side of the border, the spokesmen said.

Premier Golda Meir told the Israeli Parliament Tuesday that Soviet involvement in Egypt had reached "an advanced and dangerous stage" and that any more U.S. delay in selling arms to Israeli would cause "irreparable damage."

She said the Soviets have installed 20 SAM3 missile bases in Egypt since December and that the Israeli air force must prevent them from setting up the same kind of advanced missiles in the Suez Canal zone. Israel has been pressing the United States for delivery of more fighter planes.

CANT WIN PEACE

Iranian Foreign Minister Ardeshir Zohabi said in Tehran that a catastrophe is imminent in the Middle East and that "time is working against Israel." Zohabi, former ambassador to the United States and to Britain, declared in an interview: "Israel might win another battle or even another war, but she cannot win peace."

House Panel Okays Pay-Price Measure

Nixon Summons Business Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon summoned financial and business leaders from across the nation to a White House dinner tonight in an effort to calm their fears about the sluggish economy and explain the U.S. move into Cambodia.

A White House spokesman said plans for the dinner were laid after Nixon met last week with Bernard Lasker, chairman of the New York Stock Exchange.

MIXED NEWS

He announced the session Tuesday during a day of mixed economic news that varied between a stock market plunge to its lowest level in 7½ years and a Labor Department report that wholesale prices are rising less than last year.

—On Capitol Hill, a House subcommittee voted 5-1 along party lines to require Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers to set wage and price guidelines each year and require Nixon to set up a watchdog agency to oversee them.

—In addition, the staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation predicted the federal budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1, will show a $4.5 billion deficit instead of the administration's projected $1.3 billion even if all the Nixon revenue-producing measures take effect.

—The House Ways and Means Committee approved the administration's request for an $18 billion increase in the national debt ceiling to $395 billion.

MISUNDERSTOOD

White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Lasker told Nixon last week the Cambodia decision was widely misunderstood. Some analysts think doubts over administration policies have contributed to the sharp drop in the market.

The Dow-Jones average of 30 industrial stocks plunged 10.20 points Tuesday to 631.16, the lowest since Nov. 19, 1962. It fell 20 points Monday and is more than 90 points under April 28, when Nixon told a group of visiting businessmen he would be buying stock if he had any money.

The House subcommittee on executive reorganization approved a bill sprinkled with the commanding word "shall," but Nixon and his economic spokesmen have said repeatedly they want nothing to do with formal wage-price guidelines. They contend the method failed during the Johnson administration and has been less than completely successful in European countries.

'INCOMES POLICY'

Nonetheless there have been recent chinks in the government armor, most notably when Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns said an "incomes policy"—which some observers tout to mean some form of persuasion—might make a modest contribution to curbing inflation.

And George Romney, secretary of the Department of Housing and Urban Development, recommended a presidential committee be set up to draw public attention to wage and price increases the administration thinks are inflationary.

But the subcommittee's bill appeared to be more a measure of Democratic discontent with a Republican administration and a reflection of the upcoming congressional elections than a measure destined for enactment.

FOOD PRICES

Similar proposals have been before the subcommittee since 1958 without action, and Democratic leaders in the House and Senate declared Monday the economy is in a crisis and urged Nixon to consider broad economic controls.

The preliminary report on wholesale prices for this month was ambiguous, showing a drop in food cost but an increase in prices of industrial raw materials. The over-all effect was an increase of two-tenths of one percent in the index, bringing it to 116.8 per cent of 1957-59 prices.

Prices this month are 3.5 per cent above a year ago, a smaller annual rate of increase than the 4 per cent or more recorded during late 1969.

Dr. Bill Cook, head of the university's urban noise laboratory, said he hopes the survey will make Houstonians more aware of noise and stir a demand for legislation against noise pollution.

The survey will be made in all neighborhoods, Cook said, and another survey will be made two or three years from now to see if noise is increasing.

Houston is relatively quiet, as far as big cities go, Cook said, but if residents want to keep it that way they have to be on the lookout for any major new source of noise.

He said any new rapid transit system, for example, should be designed to be as quiet as possible.

DANCING NUDE NO PROBLEM FOR BISHOP'S DAUGHTER

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dancing nude is no problem for Louise Hatch, 22-year-old daughter of a Massachusetts Episcopal bishop.

"I thought it might bother me," said the newest member of the nude musical "Oh Calcutta!"

"It's very free and very nice. I just feel sorry for people who get uptight about it."

Miss Hatch said her father, Bishop Robert W. Hatch of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Massachusetts, had not seen the play, which she describes as "a burlesque of burlesque."

"But he's really very liberal," she said.

Foreign Stock Marts Slumping

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market plunge in this country is sending tremors through most of the world's major financial markets.

The London stock market dropped Tuesday to its lowest level in three years. The Financial Times index dropped 13.8 points to 315.5, last reached in March 1967. Nearly all industrial leaders showed losses.

British financial writers called the slump on the London market "Black Tuesday" and blamed falling prices entirely on New York.

In Toronto, the stock market touched a four year low Tuesday, with industrials off 3.67 at 141.61. Prices on the exchange Monday had suffered their sharpest drop since 1963.

The Montreal stock market closed lower although the declines were considerably less than those recorded Monday when the industrial index plunged more than six points to a three year low. Financial analysts blamed the slide in good measure on the crisis in Wall Street.

Stocks on the Paris Bourse fell over a wide range, and continued to do so despite a statement of confidence by the French finance minister.

"Wall Street is in full disarray," said the evening paper Paris Presse. It added that a mere stock exchange crisis had developed into a crisis of confidence in the Nixon administration.

In Switzerland, the Zurich market closed sharply down with losses in all sectors. Financial writers there also said that Wall Street's plunge, which triggered the European declines, were caused by a loss of faith in the administration.

Prices on the Frankfurt exchange declined across the board in heavy selling. Brokers reported an increasing number of foreign sell orders. And in Amsterdam, all foreign stocks closed lower.

The only major stock markets to withstand the downward pressure emanating from Wall Street were Tokyo and Milan. Both exchanges enjoyed late rallies.

The Tokyo exchange's index rose 0.75 to 149.60.

Milan's stock market closed mixed.

U. S.-Cambodia Aid Hassle Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott said today the withdrawal of U.S. forces from Cambodia could render moot—or unnecessary—an amendment to halt spending for American operations there. But Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the issue "cannot and will not be avoided."

Scott said he considers a Senate vote likely by June 15. He said by that time, he expects most American troops will be out of Cambodia.

"It would seem to me that it would moot the thrust of the amendment," Scott said.

But Mansfield said the Senate will vote on the legislation even if action is stalled until June 30, President Nixon's Cambodian withdrawal deadline. He said the amendment would bar any future incursions into Cambodia by U.S. forces.

Mansfield said opponents of the amendment will be making a serious mistake if they delay action "on this issue which cannot and will not be avoided."

The Senate Tuesday adopted phrasing 82 to 11 declaring the proposed June 30 cutoff of spending for U.S. military activities in Cambodia to be in support of Nixon's announced withdrawal timetable.

But the impact of the vote was negligible with no sign the White House would ease its stand against the main amendment sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., disclosed Tuesday the administration had advised Congress it was supplying $7.9 million worth of small arms to Cambodia. He said the way the program was initiated and disclosed indicates "the administration's disdain for true consultation with the Congress on foreign policy matters."

And Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said in a Senate speech some of President Nixon's allies in the Cambodian dispute will turn out to be adversaries when the administration proposes programs to help needy Americans at home.

The Senate action came as Indonesian President Suharto called for the withdrawal of all foreign forces from Cambodia during a White House banquet.

Warning the threat of war across Asia is spreading, Suharto cited an agreement by 11 non-Communist Asian and Pacific nations that international action be taken to solve the Cambodian problem.

Nixon, responding briefly to Suharto's remarks, said he agreed.

39 ARRESTS War Against Drug Dealers In Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — Officers raided fashionable apartments and "filthy pads" before dawn today in their most concentrated attack so far of their continuing war against narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Most of those arrested were drug dealers. Six months of work by a large corps of Department of Public Safety narcotics undercover agents paved the way for the widespread raids, said Elmer Terrell, agent in charge.

At 10 a.m. state police reported 39 arrests of persons, aged 16 to 27. Only two said they were students. The arrests included 16 named in grand jury indictments, 11 arrested for possession of narcotics, and 11 held for investigation.

The narcotics agents were assisted by city police and the sheriff's deputies. About 45 officers took part.

The Travis County grand jury returned 95 indictments late Tuesday against 51 persons on the basis of "buys" made by the undercover agents. Terrell said the buys included heroin, marijuana, hashish, cocaine, opium, LSD, mescaline, speed, pep pills and several new narcotics and hallucinatory drugs.

Terrell said this was the third and largest raid in Austin within 18 months.

"This is one of the most concerted efforts of this type ever made during this continuing series in the war to stamp out narcotics and dangerous drugs use in the Capitol city," Terrell said.

Similar raids have been made on the basis of undercover work by state police agents aided by local officers, in Houston, Beaumont, El Paso, San Antonio, Midland, Odessa, Lamesa, Corpus Christi and other points in the Permian Basin and High Plains areas.

Kentucky Primary

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — All seven Kentucky congressmen — four Democrats and three Republicans — have won renomination in primaries which attracted a light voter turnout.

In a contest Tuesday that directly involved the Indochinese war issue, State Sen. Romano Mazzoli won the Democratic nomination to face Louisville's 3rd District incumbent, William O. Cowger, unopposed in the Republican primary.

Mazzoli had urged that the nation "proceed with dispatch to terminate our present involvement in a most inhumane and costly war." His leading opponent, State Rep. Tom May, supported the venture into Cambodia.

Cowger, who has supported President Nixon's actions, said he does not expect the war to be an issue in the general election.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Recently I hit upon a marvelous time saving idea when I was faced with the task of sewing weights on the hem of my new drapes.

I'm not too enthusiastic about sewing by hand and it is such a time consuming job. The task of removing the weights when the drapes need washing or leaning and then having to re-sew them is also a pain in the neck!

So I snapped my weights on the drapes!

I had a kit for using grippers when making baby clothes and used this.

I purchased weights that had all cloth attached to them. Then I put the gripper fasteners on the drapery hem and the other parts of the gripper to the cloth tab on the weights. It took me only 15 minutes to attach 22 weights.

It's so easy to unsnap the weights for laundering or cleaning and has proven to be a real time saver. Carol Capagna

Dear Heloise:

This is a warning that I would like to pass on to your readers. I'm sure many folks are aware of this, but even so, it will refresh their memory.

NEVER, NEVER, place anything in the car's back window shelf. In case of an accident, the object becomes a flying missile and could cause severe injury to occupants of the car. Nancy De Foor

Dear Heloise:

When I make my bed I put on my fitted sheet, put the pillows on the pillows and place them on the bed.

Then I put the top sheet on and the blanket or blankets over that and tucked them in real tight at the foot of the bed.

Instead of making the bed as usual, I turn back the top sheet and the blankets just like you do when turning the bed back at night when you are ready to crawl in.

Then put on the spread and when nighttime comes, all you have to do is turn back your spread and the bed is all ready for you to hop into. Mrs. W.I.C.

I think you're swinging with that one. Wouldn't this be a great idea to use when making children's beds? It would be such a help in getting them tucked in at night ready for a visit from the sandman. Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I have found a real good way to thread a needle with cotton thread:

I take a thin plastic strip that comes on several different brands of cigarettes and use that. It can be used over and over.

I put one end of the strip through the eye of the needle and then the other end of the strip through the same eye of the needle on the other side, leaving a large loop in the plastic strip.

Then I put the cotton thread through the loop and pull both ends of the plastic strip through the needle eye and the thread comes through the needle ready for sewing.

I can see the plastic strip easier than a threader. Mrs. J. E. Magrogan

Dear Heloise:

One day, while bragging to my sister-in-law about many things I had found to remove garlic odors from the hands, she said, "Why not use deodorant spray?"

Heloise, I hate to admit it, but it does the job, fast, and oh, so easy. Mrs. H.L.

Dear Heloise:

Each time a garment is cleaned, a plastic bag and a wire hanger comes with it. But wire hangers do rust!

Don't throw either away. Just cut the plastic bag in three up-and-down strips. They don't have to be perfect. Now, just wrap the plastic around the hanger.

Makes wonderful hangers and protects the clothes. Mrs. V. Marto

A LOVELIER YOU Jackknife Exercise Flattens Stomach

By MARY SUE MILLER
A Lovelier writes: My life allows for very little exercise. I ride to and from work, and sit at a desk all day. It shows — around my middle. Will you please let me know a routine that trims the abdomen in a short time.

The Answer: Inches acquired from physical inactivity over a long period of time are not so easy to lose in a hurry. Before the result of spot exercise becomes apparent, at least a month of faithful work is required.

The routine for trimming the abdomen, given below, cannot be recommended to everyone. It is good stomach medicine only for girls and young women with a normal amount of vigor. Here's how to take it:

Starting Position: Kneel on floor, then sit on heels; bend forward and press palms of hands to floor about eight inches forward of knees.

Action: Straighten legs and arms, and come up onto toes. Resulting position resembles a half-open penknife. Hold it and contract — pull in — abdominal muscles for five slow counts. Then return to starting position. Rest and repeat four times. Increase at your own speed to ten repeats, night and morning.

Meanwhile, make a point of sitting erect and drawing in the abdomen as much as possible. This is more difficult than the exercise and every bit as good for what ails you.

MIDRIFF SLIMMERS

To solve the riddle of extra inches around your middle, send today for my leaflet, "Midriff Slimmers." It contains quick, easy reducing exercises for slimming diaphragm, waist and abdomen. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Civinettes Hear Talk On Children

Child psychology was discussed at the Civinettes meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. George Colvin, 704 W. 15th. John Kegerrus, a psychologist at Big Spring State Hospital, was a guest speaker. He described the psychological development of a child from early infancy through teens.

In covering children's psychological problems he said that often "being too good" by mothers that is "too good" in her child hinders the child in developing his sense of independence normally, Kegerrus explained.

The Civinettes are giving a wiener roast for the state hospital Work Village, June 1. Mrs. Ronnie Reeves, chairman of the food committee, will be assisted by Mrs. Ed Trice and Mrs. Walter Field, the latter a guest at the meeting. The Big Spring High School girls sextet will entertain at the wiener roast.

Couple Honored By John Kee Rebekahs

Mr. and Mrs. John Cate were honored for their service to John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge 153 Tuesday evening in the IOOF Hall. A boutonniere and corsage were presented to the Cates by Mrs. Lee Thackrey, and a gift was presented by Mrs. Grady C. Beck, noble grand. A poem was read by Mrs. Johnny Acuff.

The charter was undraped for Mrs. Ann Eberly by Mrs. Cate. Assisting her were Mrs. Jones Lamar, Mrs. A. E. Clanton, Mrs. W. E. Rayburn, Mrs. Charles Leek, Miss Juanita Hamlin, Mrs. Alton Allen and Mrs. H. F. Jarrett. A salad supper was served by the hostesses, Mrs. K. C. Webb, Mrs. Garland Land, Mrs. Grace Martin, Mrs. Ted Brown and Mrs. W. R. Loftis. Committees for June were appointed. They are Mrs. Ralph LaLonde, Mrs. Cate and Mrs. O. G. Burns, program committee; and Mrs. Thackrey, Mrs. Lillian Smith, Mrs. Morgan Martin and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Hughes, refreshment committee.

A Devotion For Today

Let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. (Matthew 5:15, AASV)

PRAYER: O God, I am encouraged when I know that someone else has thought well of me. Although I am not worthy of such adulation, help me to be the kind of person through whom others can see You. In the name of Christ our Lord. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Peace, It's Wonderful

Impugning the motives of one's opponents is an old though little honored method in political debate. It is a method much employed in these days when passions over Southeast Asia are running high.

Yet surely we could agree on the general premise that responsible men and women on all sides of the dispute want peace. We see different ways of achieving peace, but all must agree that it is devoutly to be desired.

The curious thing, though, is that there are differences as to what really constitutes peace. This seems a simple thing, but evidently it is not. There is genuine confusion as to the conditions under which it could be said: We are at peace.

We call attention to a statement on the subject written by a 10-year-old boy as an assignment in his fifth grade class in a Los Angeles school. The pupils were asked to write a composition on what the word "peace" meant to them. Here is what that boy wrote:

"Peace means no fighting, no wars, no killing, no shooting people, making up, no one bothering you, no smog, no pollution, no arguments, no kidnapping, no stealing, no killing animals for no reason, no yelling, no one waking you up for no reason, no hitting unless necessary, no kicking and thanking the Marines for not sending my brother to Vietnam." Peace, ah, it's wonderful!

Big Thicket Park

Another chapter in the move to create the Big Thicket National Park will be written in Beaumont June 12, when the Senate subcommittee on national parks will hold a hearing on the subject.

Sen. Alan Bible, chairman of the subcommittee, will preside. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, whose Senate Bill 4 would authorize the creation of the park, will also be there. Reps. Bob Eckard of Houston and Jim Wright of Fort Worth will soon introduce a companion measure to the Senate bill in the hope that authorization can be completed during this session of Congress. Rep. George Bush of Houston has also endorsed the park proposal.

One important question remains: How large should the park be? There is no agreement on the subject at this time. Many conversant with the situation think nothing less than 100,000 acres should be considered to preserve as much as possible of a unique, primeval wilderness area.

Pay Television Headed For House Floor Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The first bid for a pay television system was filed with the Federal Communications Commission in 1952 but 18 years later the fight still rages.

It's headed for the House floor now but there is no fixed date for the confrontation assured by a slashing minority report on a bill approved by the House Commerce Committee.

"This is mischievous legislation dictated by powerful interest groups — the broadcasters and theater owners," the nine minority panel members claim. They said as now written the bill "would kill this new industry aborning."

HOWEVER, the committee's majority argued the proposed regulations "are the most effective means for ensuring that the programming now offered on conventional television will remain available to the viewing public without charge."

The FCC approved a pay-TV plan in December, 1968. It was upheld by the U.S. Court of Appeals. The Supreme Court declined to review it.

But the House committee, which has been calling for delays in putting the system into effect, came up with a series of more stringent regulations that could throw up a big roadblock.

Included in the proposal are a complete ban on commercial advertising, a sharp reduction in the amount of feature films and sports — considered the backbone of pay TV — that could be shown, and a stretch-out on the time ban for showing certain sports programs.

THE NEW PACKAGE was drafted by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., a long-time congressional opponent of pay television. Dingell originally had introduced a bill that would have prohibited the FCC from authorizing anyone to engage in pay TV broadcasting. A Commerce subcommittee rejected it and approved a resolution suggesting the FCC modify its rules on sports programs.

When that subcommittee proposal came before the full committee, however, it was rejected in turn. Dingell's new package then was rammed through, opponents claim, without any actual hearings and in the absence of subcommittee Chairman Rep. Torbert H. Macdonald, D-Mass.

Here are some major changes proposed by the committee:

—The FCC would allow a pay-TV station to show commercial advertising in its conventional programming. The Dingell proposal would ban it entirely, both in the station's pay and conventional operations.

—THE FCC would provide that not more than 90 per cent of the pay-TV operation could be in a combination of feature films and sporting events. Dingell's bill would make it 45 per cent of the over-all operation and not more than 60 per cent in prime time hours, from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m.

—The bill would extend from two to five years the ban against pay on showing sports programs which have been regularly carried live on conventional television in a community.

—It would carry over an FCC ban against showing any series program with an interconnected plot and add a ban against carrying non-dramatic programs shown in a community on conventional TV for five years.

—IT WOULD prohibit feature films from being shown on pay television more than one year after first general release. The FCC had proposed this be set at two years.

"The commission (FCC) is subjected to intense but covert pressures when the financial stakes are high," the committee's majority report said.

"Therefore, it was felt that the guidelines for STV and particularly the safeguards preventing the siphoning of conventional television programming should have the force of law."

But the 9-member minority concluded that the probabilities of such siphoning are quite remote.

Bad Dream

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Tony Rose thought he was having a nightmare. He woke to find his horse galloping away with his bed — and himself still in it.

On an overnight camping trip with his horse, Roadrunner, professional horse trainer Rose camped alongside the road at nightfall, fastened his bed to his camp bed and went to sleep. Roadrunner was probably frightened by a snake and made off, dragging bed and master behind him.

Rose, clad only in shorts, managed to roll off the bed. He stopped a passing car and gave chase, but it took a police patrol car to stop the runaway.

'The Biscuit' Is Rising Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Jacqueline Bisset is the kind of girl a man would turn to look at twice even if he were fleeing a sinking ship.

But attractive as she is with her striking figure, copper-brown hair and 250-watt, gray-green eyes, Miss Bisset, one of the most rapidly rising young international film stars, has no desire to be billed as a sex image.

"I don't think of myself as that at all," she said. "When they tell me to be sexy in a photograph, I don't know what they mean."

"Do they mean you should hike your skirt up or stick your tongue out? It's ridiculous."

"What makes a person sexy is liking the opposite sex. It's more mental than physical. There are a lot of birds around who dress in a sexy fashion, but who aren't at all sexy in their minds. They are just doing a narcissistic trick in their heads."

"A Frenchwoman, even if plain, is attractive because she is aware of being a woman and feels like a woman. That makes a man feel more masculine."

During a brief career as a London model, Jackie—as her friends know her now—had such nicknames as "Jackson," "The Biscuit," and "B.B.B." for "big-bottomed broad."

"But they can't call me by the last one now—that's gone," said Miss Bisset, with the pleasant complacency of a girl who tapes in at 36-24-36.

Only 24, Jackie already has been in 11 films, including "The Detective," "Bullitt," and "Airport." She has appeared with such top male stars as Frank Sinatra, Albert Finney, Dean Martin, and Steve McQueen.

"The Grasshopper," she is costarring with Jim Brown and plays the title role of a Las Vegas lass with elastic morals.

She feels that she has reached a difficult point in her career. "I've been identified with so many famous male stars that now I have the problem of establishing my own identity," she said. "Not necessarily as a star, but at least an identity.

"My goal changes as I go along. If I do a big part well, then I want to do a small part brilliantly. I want to keep growing, not become static, and keep experiencing new emotions, good or bad."

"But to me life is fun. My philosophy? Well, I kind of like the advice a girl friend once gave me: 'Relax, to thine own self be true—and lie like hell to everyone else.' But I don't think she really meant it. The same with people."

Report Is Confidential

By JACK SHOLL (substituting for John Cunniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — Two of the most comprehensive studies ever undertaken on how big block trades affect stock market prices are nearing completion.

More than two years after it was created by Congress to investigate the power of the big blocks, a Securities and Exchange Commission group expects to present its findings on Nov. 1.

And a University of Pennsylvania professor's 1½-year study on the impact of institutional investing in the market is slated for publication in late July.

The results of the studies will undoubtedly cause considerable stirring in the financial community. Both were launched amidst growing governmental and securities industry concern that the buying and selling of large blocks—10,000 or more shares—tends to make individual stock prices highly volatile.

The major fear was that the small investor may not be getting a fair shake in a market increasingly dominated by institutional participation.

Lacking the resources of institutions, it was felt the little guy may be on the losing end of fast price fluctuations when holders of a large number of shares get in or out of a stock.

If anything, the problem has become more severe since the studies began.

The New York Stock Exchange reports a 37 per cent jump in block volume in 1969 over 1968. This means, according to the exchange, a big block transaction crossed its ticker on the average of once every four minutes last year.

Industry observers say the institutions—mutual and pension funds, insurance companies, trusts and endowments—are now responsible for about 95 per cent of the block trades. And they say trading by institutions accounts for over 50 per cent of the daily volume on the New York Stock Exchange.

While the SEC and the professor are analyzing daily stock prices, they are also looking into broader aspects related to institutional investing and big block trading.

The SEC study, being done under a congressional grant of $875,000, is zeroed in on the institutions themselves. Its 50-member, full-time staff wants to know about how institutions get their funds, how the funds are managed and the relationship between the institutions and the companies in which they own stock.

Friend particularly wants to know if mutual funds are channeling their investments into companies that are most beneficial to the economy. In other words, investing heavily in the steel industry may be better for the economy than large investments in the candy industry.

Neither Friend nor the SEC are willing to discuss their preliminary findings. An SEC spokesman says its report is confidential until it goes to Congress.

Around The Rim Cap—The Unassailable

They threw a big party for George Gentry in Baytown last weekend to mark his retirement after 40 years as an educator. A group, containing a former associate and several former students, flew down from here, and there were several hundred others who would like to have done the same.

HIS EXIT as a Texas schoolman was in a sense a standing ovation to a man whose abilities were matched by his courage and integrity. It was, from all accounts, a touching tribute from a citizenry which almost let a minority sacrifice Cap Gentry a few years back.

It was my rare privilege to have been one of Cap's boys. He influenced me greatly as home room and math teacher and as principal. It was he who interested me in going to Baylor, a development which I always regarded as fortuitous.

AS I RECALLED, he was reared in Van Zandt County, and that hard work, and his work in a dairy as he earned his way through Baylor put big hands and massive shoulders on him. He had curly black hair and sparkling but piercing black eyes.

Such renegades as Push Yarborough, Malcolm Patterson, Abe Bettie, Archie Clayton, Pasty Burns, Etchie Gensberg, Jim Bob Hatch and others put him immediately to the test when he started his teaching career here and drew us as his home room. His instant good humor misled us; it didn't take long for us to learn who was the captain in that room.

ABOUT THE ONLY math I ever understood was learned in his geometry classes. To this day, with a little brushing, I believe I could demonstrate that the square on the side of the hypotenuse is equal to the sum of the squares on the other two sides of a right triangle. He mixed a bit of mirth and good-natured jibes with instructions, staged a coon hunt for the boys, and a wiener roast over the ashes of the models we had confuted for solid geometry.

Most everyone was fond of Cap Gentry, and it's a cinch all respected him. He was fair but firm, and in that unlighted day many a lad confessed: "Man, he can wield a board!" He was the epitome of gentility and decorum, but he almost disgraced the Baptist church one night when he looked up and discovered that John Askew Coffey (who can't carry a tune in a bucket) was seated in the choir.

HE ALSO was the personification of Lincoln's "be sure you're right, then go ahead." Once in the days when Sammy Baugh was slinging 'em for Sweetwater, Cap Gentry questioned the eligibility of a player on Sweetwater's championship team. The district committee was assembled at the Bluebonnet hotel, and when Cap waded through the jam-packed, hostile crowd, he touched off a roar as ominous as if he had been a Gentile with an unwashed pig in the camp of the Arabs. Still, the crowd parted before this square-jawed man like waters of the Red Sea. Once again he cared this role when Sam Angelo had protested Sweetwater, then won the title and wanted to forget the protest. You know who held their feet to the coals amidst threats and cries of anguish.

HE TANGLED with the Legislature with the same fearless tenacity to get more funds for schools. Not many years ago when he was confronted with flimsy charges designed by an anti-Gentry faction to oust him as Baytown superintendent, he met them head-on, won his case before the Texas commissioner of education, next in court, and finally at the polls when the electorate took care of the situation for the future. A lot of folk here could have told his adversaries that they were messing with a man as unassailable as righteousness itself.

Desegregation And Money

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has tackled the problem of school desegregation in the North as well as in the South with a new comprehensiveness. He has recognized that one of the big obstacles heretofore has been money. Integration often requires new facilities and, in many instances, aids in transportation.

THE PRESIDENT outlined briefly the backlog of segregation still to be eliminated. Some 220 school districts are under court order calling for complete desegregation by September. Another 496 are in the process of negotiating desegregation plans under the auspices of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to take effect this September. Another 278 districts are operating under plans begun in 1968 and 1969. More than 500 northern districts are under review or likely soon to be for possible violations of the civil rights act of 1964.

The President, in a message to Congress, declared that, quite beyond these matters of enforcement, the American people must seriously come to grips with the truth — of the nation's 8.7 million public-school students of minority races, almost 50 per cent are in schools with student populations made up of 95 per cent or more of pupils of a minority race.

BASICALLY, the President has taken cognizance of the fact that there are two categories of problems in the desegregation of public schools. One relates to those districts in which there is de jure segregation — namely, practices which have been built up under state laws or city ordinances. The other concerns de facto segregation, or racial separation in the schools based on residential patterns.

The school districts of both types which have been asked to integrate have complained of the high cost of doing so. The President now has asked Congress to appropriate an additional $1.5 billion over the next two years to assist local school authorities in meeting their special needs in connection with problems arising from de facto or de jure segregation.

INDEED, the proposed legislation provides that funding will be made available for various projects to overcome the educational disadvantages of "racial isolation." These include transportation services, as long as federal money is not used "to require or maintain transportation solely to achieve racial balance."

Financial assistance will be provided even for those districts which wish voluntarily to eliminate or prevent "racial isolation" in schools and desire to improve the quality of education with special interracial programs.

The President's message gives the details of the federal government's plan to help in meeting the additional costs of transition from segregation to desegregation.

UNQUESTIONABLY, money has been the source of the difficulties with which many schools have been confronted in trying to comply with court orders. The fact that the President is seeking to provide large sums will be welcome news, though there will be other problems arising, such as the attitude of teachers who do not wish to be transported to distant schools. But the administration feels that the local communities can best handle matters of this kind.

AT ANY RATE, the President is hopeful that the funds now to be made available will enable the school systems to make more progress than before towards desegregation as well as the improvement of education for a large number of children.

Summer's Worst Hazard—Eating Outdoors

WASHINGTON — This is the season of the year that, for all its verdant splendor, should be entered into cautiously by the individual with a modicum of concern for his personal comfort.

This is, in short the season when people all over the United States will resume an annual bout of self-flagellation that would be ruled unconstitutional by any rational Supreme Court. It is the custom of eating outdoors.

OF ALL the daft American habits, this is the one that would baffle the psychiatrist attempting a mass head-shrinking in this broad and sometimes wondrous country of ours. Possessed of a land crowded with comfortable homes, some with air conditioning and a few with even books, Americans for the next three months will spend horrific hours ingesting nourishment in the great, open — but uncomfortable — spaces.

EATING IN the open air is perhaps summer's worst hazard, and illogical. For centuries man labored to build a fitting roof over his head so he could eat in a nice stuffy room, and today we leave that refuge on the slightest pretext to wolf our comestibles like animals on some inimical greensward or dune of sand.

It doesn't matter what the menu is — although it's apt to lean heavily on sporty items like hot dogs — eating outdoors is a dreadful nuisance. Breezes waft foreign substances into the food, gnats settle on each bite, paper napkins blow away. (Paper — ugh — napkins) paper plates spill their contents on laps, beer bottles slip from wet hands.

DRINKING OUTDOORS is not only untidy, but demonstrably dangerous. Placed in a backyard with a few ounces of Old Popskull under his belt, your middle-aged man will be so exhilarated by nature, and distilled spirits, he will turn athletic and wind up in bed with a sacroiliac and assorted charley horses. Ladies will caress strange vegetation and come down with poison ivy. The neighbor's dog will swoop down and make off with the ham.

BEACHES ARE worse. For some singular reason, people believe they will be cooler if they drive 100 miles to some ocean resort jammed with surly citizens and sit down on the hot sand under a broiling sun that would bring hardship pay to any diplomat. They find it's at least 10 degrees hotter there by the beautiful seas and always return home nursing third-degree burns about the body.

The next day, they're bragging to their friends about how good they feel, only kindly do not touch that shoulder, Mac. I have yet to encounter a child who failed to become violently ill at 2 a.m. after a day at the beach with the family.

HOUSES WERE made to eat in, especially in summer, winter, spring and fall, and the sensible man this season will save money, energy, and wear and tear on his nervous system by finding one and locking himself therein against the importunities of family and friends who seek to lure him outdoors.

To Your Good Health

Why She's Tired In The Morning

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there a reason for people waking up tired in the morning? And the longer they sleep, the more exhausted they feel.

My friends and I used to think it was a matter of age, we being over 60. But on a TV program, several contestants aged 25 to 45 were asked about it, and their hidden, written answers were "tired." — Mrs. D.B.

A reason for waking up tired? Lots of them, ranging from purely physical to purely psychological, plus mixtures. It's a common problem; there's no common denominator in the reasons. So here are some:

Some people just need more sleep than others. Among the over-60 folks, I know a lot who get up early and feel good. Habit has a lot to do with it.

A restless night — with aches, bathroom trotting, disturbing noises, a spouse who snores — can leave one feeling tired.

Night time sedation (sleeping pills) can have a sort of "hangover" effect. Too much to drink can do the same.

General physical condition is important. Faulty nutrition is a factor. Low thyroid activity can cause morning fatigue. So can anemia. Also some smoldering chronic infection.

Poor ventilation or too warm a room can be bothersome. Subtle carbon monoxide poisoning, usually from a defective heating system, can be decidedly important — and not always easy to recognize. However, it doesn't take a great amount of carbon monoxide to bring a headache along with the fatigue.

Psychological factors are frequent. One is just the matter of one's sleep patterns. If you have become an habitual sleeper-in, it takes some time to get into the habit of earlier rising.

Other mental aspects are boredom, anxiety, worry. If you go to bed worrying, it can be reflected in morning fatigue.

If you dread the problems of the day, you "wake up tired." Or even if there's nothing in the day ahead that disturbs you, just having no incentive to get up can make you feel tired from the moment of waking.

Age can have a bearing. Some folks, usually quite old ones, can get to a point at which they need a great deal of sleep.

In the 60s, don't automatically jump to the conclusion that it's "just age." People vary, of course, but in the 60s there are many who actually find that they require less sleep than they did some years earlier.

These spry ones I've noticed generally are the ones who remain very interested in things, whether work or hobbies.

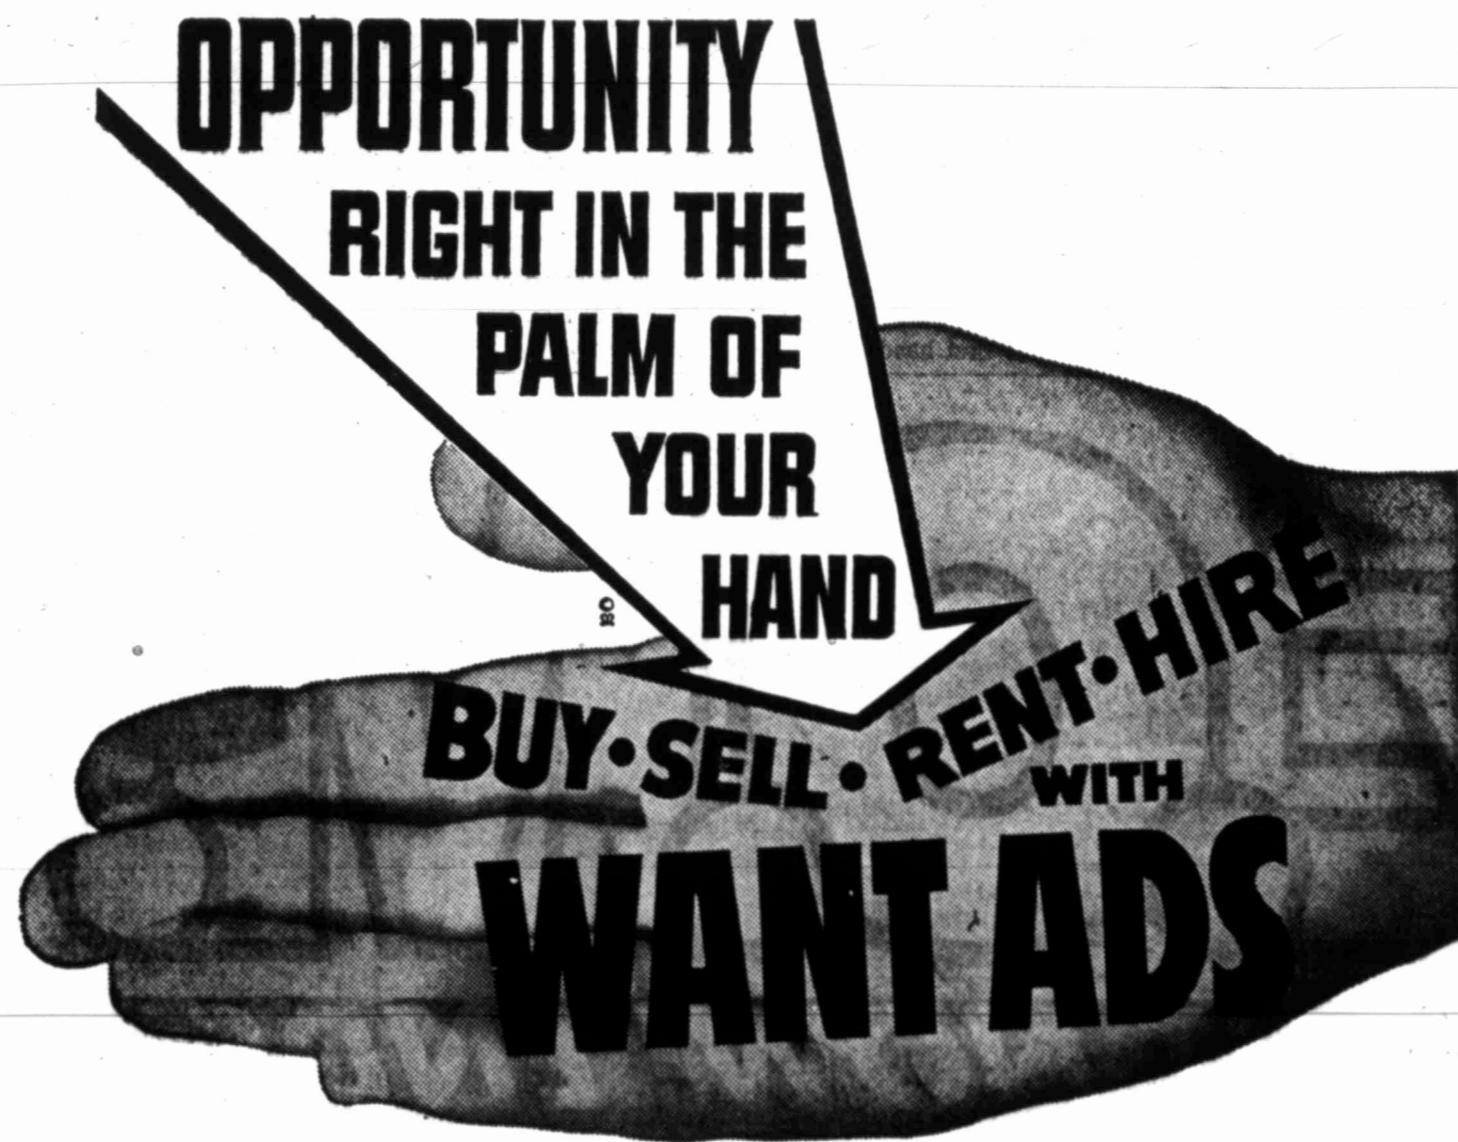

You can lose weight if you really want to! Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and without gimmicks — to the level that best suits your individual needs. For a copy, write to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

American Fighter-Bombers Attack Antiaircraft Guns

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers attacked anti-aircraft guns in North Vietnam Monday after the North Vietnamese opened fire on a U.S. reconnaissance plane about 90 miles northwest of the Demilitarized Zone, the U.S. Command announced today.

A communique said two Air Force F4 phantom fighter-bombers returned the enemy fire "in defense of the unarmed reconnaissance aircraft."

"Ordnance was expended on the enemy gun positions with unknown results," the communique said. "None of the U.S. aircraft were damaged. This protective reaction is an inherent right of self-defense."

It was the first attack on a U.S. reconnaissance plane over North Vietnam since scores of American warplanes in the first weekend of May attacked anti-aircraft guns and missile positions in North Vietnam. Those raids were ordered, Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird said, "to make sure that the North Vietnamese understood that we intended to use air support should the reconnaissance planes be fired on."

Defense Department officials in Washington said Saturday that U.S. reconnaissance planes had flown unchallenged over North Vietnam in the three weeks since.

American reconnaissance planes with fighter-bomber escorts have been patrolling North Vietnam regularly ever since U.S. bombing of Nov. 1, 1968. According to Defense Department records, five reconnaissance planes and four escorts have been shot down, the last on May 2 during the big raids, and U.S. escort planes have returned ground fire more than 60 times.

Meanwhile, informed sources in Saigon said the U.S. Command may keep up B52 bombing strikes against North Vietnamese base camps and supply depots in Cambodia after American ground forces are pulled out next month.

The B52 strikes would be independent of support by American fighter-bombers for South Vietnamese forces remaining in Cambodia after June 30.

"The decision on the use of the B52s probably will be a political decision rather than a military decision," said one informant, "but it's always a good military posture to leave your options open."

In Washington, White House press secretary Ronald Ziegler said Tuesday that the United States has reserved an option to assist the South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia with air operations. He did not specifically mention the B52s.

Fighting continued near the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Mimot, about 90 miles northwest of Saigon.

North Vietnamese troops cut into a reconnaissance patrol from the U.S. 25th Infantry Division six miles northeast of Mimot, wounding one American. Seven of the 45-minute fight.

Farther east in Cambodia and about 100 miles from Saigon, troops of the 1st Air Cavalry uncovered 67 tons of weapons and ammunitions.

TCU RANCH TRAINING GRAD — Corwin L. Smaller NATO Members Backing British Proposal

ROME (AP) — The smaller NATO members lined up today behind a British proposal for exploratory talks on the European security conference the Russians want. But the United States and West Germany were opposed.

Discussion of the British proposal was among the main items of business remaining at the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's 15-member council of ministers began winding up its two-day spring meeting.

The Soviet Union has been pressing for months for a big European security conference between Western and Communist nations, and a considerable number of West Europeans favor the idea of talking with the Russians. But U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers and some other Western diplomats oppose such a conference, fearing the Soviets might use it to solidify their position in central Europe and that it would not bring real security any closer.

British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart proposed a compromise between a general conference and the kind of negotiations now going on between some Eastern and Western European nations. He said such discussions, which he called mutual exploratory talks, could be opened to neutral as well as Communist and Western nations and that one outcome might be a standing committee on East-West relations.

France, Belgium, Holland, Norway, Turkey, Denmark, Greece and Luxembourg showed signs of favoring Stewart's proposal. Italy and Iceland were reported on the fence. Canada and Portugal appeared to have joined the United States and Germany in opposing the idea.

West Germany feels multilateral talks might interfere with its current talks with East Germany, Poland and the Soviet Union. The United States supports Bonn's position.

Moscow has shown no sign of readiness to discuss one issue that might make a security conference interesting to Western governments: mutual, balanced reduction of Western and Communist armed forces in central Europe. Nevertheless, the NATO ministers were believed preparing a new proposal for talks on this issue.

Tuesday's opening session was highlighted by the reading of a letter from President Nixon defending U.S. military operations in Cambodia and expressing appreciation "for the understanding and support" which NATO countries have shown toward them.

The foreign ministers listened in silence as Rogers read the letter, and some said privately they were mystified by Nixon's assertion that his NATO allies supported the Cambodian operation.

Rotary Told Of Dread Disease

Alcoholism is a major problem in the nation today, Rotarians were told at their noon meeting Tuesday.

The speaker was Shelby Parnell, head of the alcoholic rehabilitation program at the State Hospital. He said that in sheer numbers, alcoholism is greater than the narcotics problem. Alcoholism is recognized as a disease and the only cure is total abstinence, Parnell said.

Two patients, both former alcoholics, spoke to the group on their experiences.

Rev. Robert Knutson was introduced as a new member. President Curt Mullins announced that F. H. Talbot and Charles Rainwater would attend a meeting of Rotary International in Atlantic City next week.

Max Black was in charge of the program.

Well-Traveled Sen Shines As Starter

Joe Grzenda is what the baseball trade refers to as a journeyman reliever ... and he's got the journey to prove it. In a career dating back to 1955, Grzenda has pitched in such minor league outposts as Jamestown, Valdosta, Durham, Birmingham, Charleston, W. Va., Victoria, Birmingham again, Denver, Syracuse, Oklahoma City, Denver again, Birmingham still another time, Vancouver, Oklahoma City again, Mobile and ... you guessed it ... Birmingham and Denver.

Along the way he made it to the majors for four games with Detroit in 1961, 20 with Kansas City in 1964 and 21 in 1966 and 11 with the New York Mets in 1967 before spending a full season with the Minnesota Twins a year ago. Even that didn't last and Grzenda was shipped off to the Washington Senators shortly before the start of the 1970 campaign. But, even with his varied travel background, it came as something of a surprise when he showed up on the mound in Boston's Fenway Park Tuesday night ... as a starting pitcher, no less.

But the 32-year-old left-hander, pitching in a park that has an unfriendly history where southpaws are concerned, limited the hard-hitting Red Sox to one hit for eight innings and the Senators made off with a 7-5 triumph.

"I didn't know for sure I was going to pitch until 5:30," said Grzenda, who got to start when Casey Cox showed up sick. "I was happy. I always wanted to start in the big leagues. And the surprising thing was that wasn't nervous. I thought

"I hadn't started a game anywhere since 1963 and I hadn't pitched a complete game since before my arm got hurt (1959). I was disappointed I couldn't finish."

Cox was well enough to get the last two outs after Grzenda surrendered a single to Carl Yastrzemski and a homer to Tony Conigliaro with one out in the ninth.

Elsewhere in the American League, Minnesota beat Milwaukee 6-2, California topped Oakland 4-2, Baltimore trounced Cleveland 7-0, Detroit blanked the New York Yankees 3-0 and the Chicago White Sox defeated Kansas City 3-1.

The only hit off Grzenda for eight innings was Conigliaro's triple in the first as the Red Sox scored three times following a rash of Washington errors. But the Senators had shelled Gary Peters for five runs in the top of the first.

TWO DOUBLES

Paul Casanova, who smacked a two-run double in the first, doubled again in the sixth after a homer by Aurelio Rodriguez and scored on Ed Stroud's single for a 7-3 bulge.

Pitcher Jim Kaat posted his fifth victory, drove in a run and scored the deciding run from first on a single as the Twins beat the Brewers. Kaat added another hit and scored another run as he upped his record to 5-1. Cesar Tovar homered for the Twins, Danny Walton and Tommy Harper for the Brewers.

The Angels remained one game behind Minnesota in the AL West as Bill Voss hammered a tie-breaking two-run double in the seventh inning. Voss' hit followed a single by Jim Spencer and a walk to Ken McMullen, who accounted for the Angels' first two runs with a second-inning homer. Reggie Jackson connected for the A's.

The Orioles opened a 7 1/2-game spread over the Yankees in the AL East as Jim Hardin blanked Cleveland on five hits and Chico Salmon rapped four singles. Boog Powell drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and a single.

Willie Horton's three-run homer in the ninth inning broke up a brilliant pitching duel between Earl Wilson of the Tigers and Mel Stottlemyre of the Yankees. Both hurled four-hitters. Horton, who also hit a three-run shot Monday night, connected following a walk to pinch hitter Gates Brown. Al Kaline's sacrifice and an intentional walk to Norm Cash.

The White Sox took a 3-0 lead over the Royals, one of the runs coming on Ossie Blanco's first major league hit, before Wilbur Wood snuffed out a seventh-inning uprising to preserve Jerry Janeski's fourth victory.

Firebirds Claim Sixth Victory

Blanked the first inning, the Firebirds scored in every inning thereafter to topple the Steers, 13-7, in American Minor League competition here Tuesday.

Tommy Belcher, who allowed three hits and fanned eight, was given the mound win.

Raymond Mayfield, Jeff Aldrich and Gary Cole each smashed two hits for the winners.

The Steers also managed seven hits but couldn't match the Firebird fire power in the middle innings.

The Firebirds are currently 6-3 in the race. The Steers are 3-4-1.

Colts Vanquish Jets, 14 To 3

The Colts broke open what had been a close American Little League game with four runs in the fifth inning and seven more in the sixth to rout the Jets, 14-3, here Tuesday night.

The win left the Colts with a 3-7 record. The Jets slumped to 1-9.

Ismael Solis paced the Colts' eight-hit offensive with three blows. Ken McMurtrey picked up the win.

MURCER-EPSTEIN TRADE NEAR?—The New York Yankees are reportedly preparing to trade Bobby Murcer, right, and one or two other players to the Washington Senators for Mike Epstein, left.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

A seething racial situation in one of the Corpus Christi schools, where a head coach walked off the scene in the midst of spring workouts rather than face up to a situation where he obviously had little backing, could work to Spike Dykes' advantage on his new coaching job at Alice this fall.

No athletic program in the state has deteriorated like the one at Corpus Christi in the last decade. The problem appears to be worsening in multi-school systems everywhere, not only in Texas but throughout the country.

Anarchy is the rule rather than the exception in some school systems. All too often, coaches are being asked to maintain discipline where school administrators have failed to do so.

Another thing in Dykes' favor in his new assignment is the fact that Beville, a power in the area last year, decided against having spring training because the coach didn't feel it was necessary.

Dykes knew the coaches in the Texas Valley weren't inclined to work as hard as the football people in this area when he left here for Alice. Spike, of course, believes there is no substitute for hard work and devotion to duty. If applying himself to the job will get the job done, then Dykes will be an immediate success.

He'll only be a sophomore next fall but Dick Conley will make somebody hustle to earn the fullback's job on the Big Spring football team this fall.

Conley made a big impression on the coaches in spring training with his hustle, his know-how and his poise. He should develop into quite a ball player before he's through here.

Golfer Jack Nicklaus was rather blunt in discussing golf architect Robert Trent Jones, long a revered name in the sport. Said Jack: "It's nothing personal. The man just designs bad golf courses."

Lubbock Christian College, which is becoming a four-year school, will field a baseball team again next spring for the first time in six years. It'll be coached by Larry Hayes, who also coaches the Chaparral basketball team.

Tracy Dickson, one of ex-Big Springer Jimmy Marcus' basketball standouts at Lockney High School, will go the track route at West Texas State. He's a 9.8 sprinter who has done the furlong in 22.0.

Long after Babe Ruth hit his celebrated home run against Charley Root in the 1932 World Series, controversy raged over whether the New York Yankee great pointed to the spot in center field where he intended to deposit it. Root snorted and insisted Ruth wasn't that brash. Ruth later confirmed, Root's contention, although many newsmen ignored the remarks of both to preserve the legend.

Ruth remarked later: "Right now I'd like to settle all arguments: I didn't point to any spot, like the flagpole. I sort of waved at the whole fence and that was foolish enough. I just wanted to give the ball a ride out of the park, anywhere ... and when I was going around the bases I kept telling myself, 'You lucky bum, lucky, lucky.' Yeah, it was silly but I got away with it."

The Babe was inspired to raise his hand and point to the fences after two pitchers in the Chicago dugout, Pat Malone and Burlie Grimes, put their thumbs in their ears and wriggled their fingers at Ruth after Babe headed for the plate.

Root worked two strikes by The Bambino and the catcalls in the Chicago dugout mounted until Ruth unloaded.

Padres Stun Reds In Two

By The Associated Press

The time the hunters finally caught up with Clarence Gaston and Nate Colbert, the hounds had Charlie Fox by the throat.

Gaston lashed six straight hits, including two triples and a three-run homer, before Cincinnati got him out and Colbert walloped a pair of two-run homers before a stray pitch knocked him out as the San Diego Padres stunned the Reds 8-1 and 4-1 in a Tuesday night doubleheader.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, meanwhile, brought Fox, San Francisco's new manager, crashing to earth with a 20-hit salvo that rattled the Giants 19-3.

It was the Dodgers' biggest offensive binge and the worst beating absorbed by the Giants since both clubs moved to the West Coast in 1958. And it was a shattering experience for Fox, following the Giants' doubleheader sweep over San Diego last Sunday in his managerial debut.

ASTROS BEATEN

In other National League games, Philadelphia nipped Montreal 3-2; Atlanta beat Houston 5-3; the New York Mets trimmed St. Louis 5-1 and the Chicago Cubs downed Pittsburgh 6-3.

Gaston, a .230 hitter for the Padres last year as a rookie, bashed triples in the first and fifth innings of the opener. Each time, Colbert followed with a homer off Cincinnati pitching ace Jim Merritt, giving him 10 for the season and a share of the major league lead.

Two singles by Gaston and a three-run homer by Ollie Brown helped the Padres' Mike Corkins even his pitching record at 4-4 while Merritt slipped to 9-3.

In the first inning of the nightcap, Gaston sent the Padres ahead to stay with his three-run blast off Pedro Borbon, who was making his first start in the majors. Borbon then hit Colbert on the right cheekbone with a pitch, finishing the San Diego slugger for the rest of the night.

Colbert lay dazed for about 30 seconds, then got up and started toward Borbon, but was restrained by teammates. He was sent to a hospital for X-rays, which proved negative.

After Borbon was brushed back by a Danny Coombs pitch in the third, creating a mob scene on the field as both benches emptied, Gaston singled in the bottom half for his sixth consecutive hit in the twin bill and seventh in a row going back to a ninth inning single Monday night against the Reds.

The San Diego outfielder's streak ended three short of the NL record when reliever Clay Carroll retired him in the fifth, but he finished the night with a .342 batting average... eighth best in the league.

Pitcher Claude Osteen led the Dodgers' assault on five San Francisco pitchers with two singles, a double and a homer good for four RBI. Catcher Tom Haller also cracked four hits and Billy Grabarkiewicz had a single, double and triple... and scored five runs.

Kuhn Slated To Testify For Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was to be the leadoff man for the defense today in Curt Flood's $3 million anti-trust suit against baseball.

Kuhn's appearance will mark the start of the second half of the case before Judge Irving Ben Cooper in Federal Court. It is expected to continue for at least another week.

After calling 10 witnesses in five days, including Flood, Hall of Famers Jackie Robinson and Hank Greenberg and the commissioners of pro football, basketball and hockey, the defense rested Tuesday.

Motions by Mark Hughes, baseball's chief lawyer, to dismiss the case, were denied by Judge Cooper who ordered the case to continue "until all the evidence has been adduced."

Flood, former St. Louis Cardinal center fielder who refused to accept a trade to Philadelphia, is charging baseball with violations of federal and various state antitrust laws and common law and claims the reserve system constitutes "peonage and involuntary servitude" and deprives him of the freedom of labor.

Hughes claimed Flood's lawyers had failed to prove the peonage and slavery charges and insisted it had not shown a violation of antitrust laws.

Jay Topkis, speaking for Flood in the absence of Arthur Goldberg, his chief attorney, asked the case be continued to learn "what kind of an explanation can baseball come up with to explain its fantastic system of regimentation."

Topkis praised Flood's sacrifice of refusing to play because his "freedom is worth more." He added, "I don't think this is a claim to which an American Court can turn a deaf ear."

BY VETERAN OF RACE Chargers Given Nod

By LLOYD RUBY (Written For The AP)

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — I figure 10 or 12 drivers are capable of winning the Indianapolis 500 this race, even though there are 33 men right now who think they can win the race or else they wouldn't even be in the starting field.

But I really feel there are only 10 or 12 individuals who will be competitive as long as their equipment holds up. In that respect, I think my car is stronger than any car here.

The guys I think will be competitive right from the start are Al Unser and his brother Bobby, who won the race in 1968; A. J. Foyt, a three-time winner at Indy and one of the sport's greatest competitors; Mario Andretti, last year's winner; Roger McCluskey; Joe Leonard, who still holds the track qualifying record; Gordon Johncock, Johnny Rutherford, Art Pollard and Dan Gurney.

The Unsers, Foyt, Andretti and McCluskey always charge. They like to run up front and always make an effort to get there. I figure these guys will be fighting it out up front while I'm trying to get up there with them from 25th starting position.

I'll tell you, I enjoy racing Al, A.J. and Roger any time, especially at Indy. I don't mind running with these three guys side by side flat out all day long. I have a lot of confidence in their ability.

I think Leonard will be a factor this year. He has top equipment. Johncock hasn't done anything spectacular so far this month but he always comes on strong in the race. Rutherford is starting on the front row this time, but I really don't know what he'll do. Pollard could be a factor and it's hard to say what Gurney will do with the new equipment he brought this year.

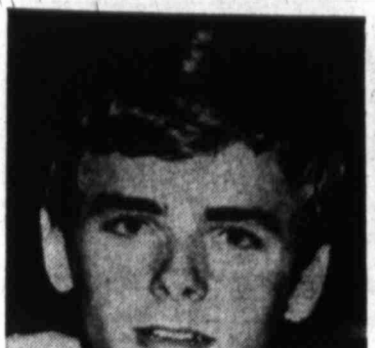

The worst problem I can foresee in the race is the guys whose equipment won't be capable of maintaining the pace.

There's a tendency to overexert yourself when your equipment isn't up to it.

But everybody has to run on the same race track and I don't mean to make bad remarks about rookies or guys with little experience getting in the way.

track gets slick, many guys will find themselves in trouble real quick.

WON IN DEBUT Kart Champ Due Back This Year

One of the first entrants for the second annual Big Spring Enduro Kart Race was 15-year-old Deidra Yearwood of Albuquerque, winner of the Junior American Reed and Stock class in the 1969 Big Spring Enduro.

The races are set for Saturday and Sunday at Comanche Trail Park and are sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and the Big Spring Jaycees.

Deidra, who lived in Midland last year, captured the imagination of the Saturday crowd last year when she started late in the Junior class competition and still managed to beat her closest competitor by two laps. Making it even more amazing was the fact that it was her first race.

As she said following the victory, "I can't believe I beat my closest competitor by almost two laps; I never knew I was in the lead." The smiling youngster, who beat more experienced older male drivers after having her engine die as started Jim Corbell waved the starting flag, continued: "I never thought I would have a chance of winning, since this was my first race and I just came to have fun."

Fun or not, Deidra averaged 67 miles per hour over the twisting, turning mile-and-a-half course, hitting speeds of close to 90 on the quarter-mile straightaway near the pit area.

There will be no races (only practice runs) on Saturday this year, with the Junior American Reed and Stock set for 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 on Sunday, followed by a break for church services. The races will resume at noon, with four hour-long races in the afternoon.

AGNEW SUMMONS COUNCIL ON YOUTH OPPORTUNITY

Summer Jobless Woes Building

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has summoned the President's Council on Youth Opportunity to a rare meeting...

SERIOUS UNREST

"When you have a group of highly active young people loitering on street corners or gathering in crowds without the prospect of channeling their energy into constructive activity such as athletics or employment, you have all the ingredients for serious urban unrest," said Mayor Thomas J. D'Alessandro III of Baltimore at a League manpower seminar in New Orleans earlier this month.

The top item on Thursday's agenda, an administrative training, rather than recreation, would produce a decision on the best return on the investment in March to convert the $35 million OEO summer recreation program into a year-round program aimed at work-training and study.

The Nixon administration, providing real recreational opportunities and created jobs.

Officials said the council, composed of representatives of Cabinet departments and the Office of Economic Opportunity, has met in general session only once in the past eight months. But an administration spokesman denied the meeting set for Thursday was an emergency session. He said it was called to bring the various domestic departments together for an estimate of employment commitments and to discuss summer recreational plans and needs.

BLACK YOUTHS

Government figures show the unemployment rate among black teenagers has hit 45 per cent in Los Angeles and 40 per cent in Detroit. Nationwide, urban specialists are forecasting a 30 per cent unemployment rate among black youths this summer.

"The catalyst" for Thursday's council meeting, the spokesman said, "is that we are approaching the summer and want to see before the end of the fiscal year what's being spent and where and what the targets and objectives are of the several agencies involved."

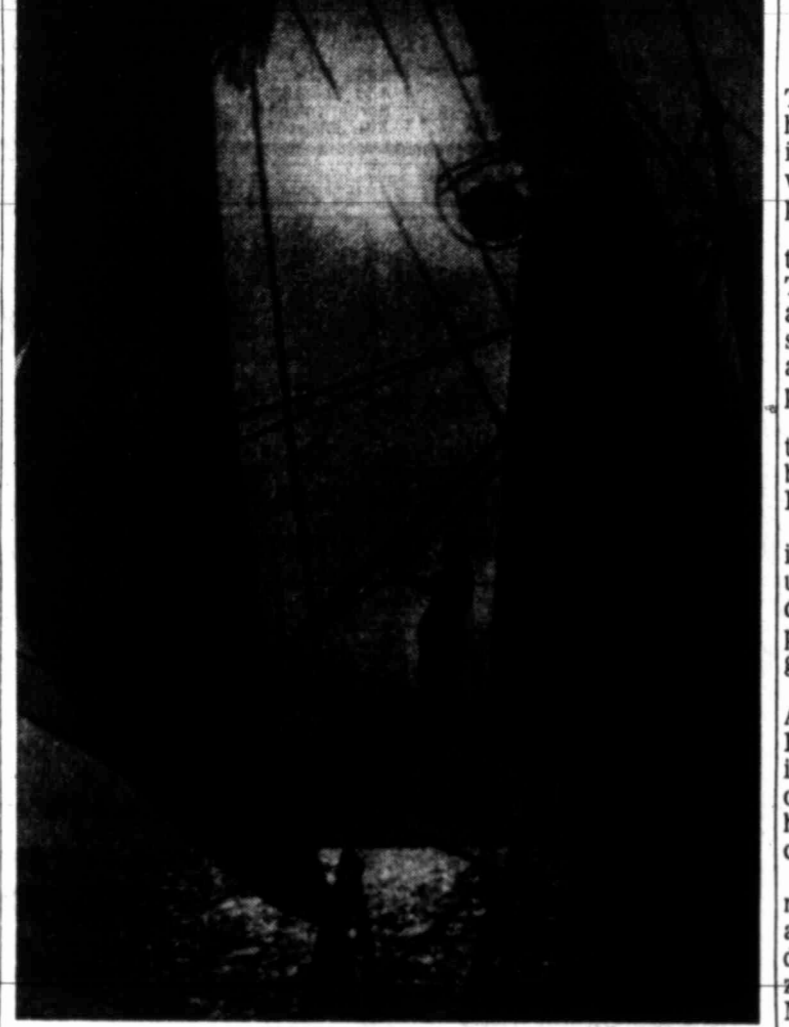

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said it was coincidental that the council was meeting on the same day that Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., plans to introduce a bill that would add $100 million and 227,000 job slots to the Neighborhood Youth Corps' summer program.

NEED FOR NYC

The Nixon administration has announced a $146 million program that would provide 328,000 summer jobs. A Labor Department spokesman said this would be augmented later with special contingency funds for the nation's 10 largest cities.

The need for an expanded NYC program and continuation of the $35 million OEO summer recreation program have been championed for weeks by urban advocates, particularly the National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors.

The joint organization, the lobbying and research arm for the nation's cities, citing Bureau of Labor Statistics' figures, says one of every three ghetto dwellers between the ages of 16 and 21 will be unemployed this summer, barring government intervention or a sudden economic upswing.

Mob Stones School Bus, Set Fires

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP) — A mob of several hundred Negroes stoned a school bus, set fire to a grocery store and burned a school board automobile in Melbourne's predominantly black south side today.

The rioters, estimated by police at 800 to 1,000, dispersed after pleas by several ministers who went into the area.

After several days of intermittent trouble, a band of about 80 Negro youngsters marched on City Hall Monday night and attempted to burn it down.

Larry L. LaGrave, 27, was in fair condition at a Lubbock hospital as the couple's five-year-old son, Michael.

One-year-old Joseph LaGrave, another son, was in critical condition at the hospital.

Police said LaGrave and his family was enroute to Portales, N.M. where he had a teaching job. LaGrave was just discharged from the Army at San Antonio Monday after serving a year in Vietnam.

Prospectors Meet Tuesday

The Big Spring Prospectors Club will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Headlining the activities will be an auction of small items donated by the Roadrunners.

Last month's public artifacts show attracted several new members. Field trips for the month included one to Prairieville to search an old school site, and a full day investigating Lone Wolf Mountain and Indian campground.

Thirteen vehicles made up the caravan loaded with 35 hunters.

Future plans for an all day barbecue picnic at the Carter Ranch near Garden City will be discussed.

Asked to wait about an hour until a zoning matter then being discussed was cleared up, the Negroes refused and went back to their neighborhood, arriving as a bus from the Florida Institute of Technology was going through.

A barrage of rocks and bottles thrown at the bus injured three riders. One reportedly was hit by a rock and the others by broken window glass, but none was hospitalized.

Negro councilman Julius Montgomery went into the area and tried to quiet the throng, but failed. Then an emergency call went out to police as a rapidly rising crowd swarmed around a shopping center.

A car belonging to the School Board was overturned and burned and windows were broken in some stores. Several blocks away, police said a fire was started at a grocery store but was quickly contained.

HISTORIC DAY FOR LATIN FEDS Intervene In Integration Suit

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — The U. S. Justice Department has intervened for the first time in a school integration suit involving Mexican-American pupils.

The department filed the motion in U.S. District Court here Tuesday to intervene in a suit alleging that the Sonora, Tex., school district discriminates against Mexican-American pupils.

The department also asked the court to require the pupils be given special instruction in English.

Department officials in Washington said such a request is unique among the many school desegregation suits filed by or participated in by the federal government.

An attorney for the Mexican-American Legal Defense and Educational Fund (MALDEF) in San Antonio, which filed the original suit, called it "a historic day for Mexican-Americans."

Pete Tijerina, MALDEF attorney in the case, said the suit alleges that the Sonora school district was intentionally rezoned in 1948 and 1964 to keep Mexican-American pupils segregated.

Sonora, a town of about 3,000 with a heavy Mexican-American population, is located about 65 miles south of San Angelo in Southwest Texas.

At issue in the suit is the 200-pupil J. W. Elliot Elementary School, which MALDEF says has an enrollment of 98 per cent Mexican-Americans and two per cent Negroes.

The other elementary school at Sonora has an estimated 52 per cent Mexican-American enrollment, Tijerina said.

Tijerina said the zones set up by school officials separated the Mexican-American ghettos, known as barrios, from the rest of the community.

"They gerrymandered the school district," he said.

The suit alleges segregation of Mexican-American children, and inferior facilities and curriculum in the Elliot Elementary School.

Tijerina said the school has no cafeteria and that the pupils must be bused to the central campus for meals.

There are no Mexican-American teachers or administrators in the entire Sonora School District, Tijerina said. The school board, he said, is all-anglo.

The class action suit was filed against the Sonora Independent School District, the school board, the superintendent and the district's four principals.

Emerald Loss Sparks Suit

DALLAS (AP) — A Tyler man filed a $200,000 damage suit Tuesday against the State Fair of Texas alleging the fair was responsible for the loss last October of his 126-carat emerald ring.

The ring was on display at the women's division building Oct. 9, 1969, when it was reported stolen.

Tom C. Patten said fair officials failed to provide proper security where the stone was displayed.

Patten said the ring could have been sold for about $100,000. He said it was set in a cluster of 12 diamonds.

The emerald was reportedly mined in Columbia early in the 18th century and was later salvaged from a Spanish galleon when it sank while transporting it to Spain.

CLARKS, CALLS CELEBRATING

BEAUMONT (AP) — The Clarks and Calls had their day in Beaumont hospitals over the weekend.

A boy was born Sunday in St. Elizabeth hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Clark who live at 240 Clark St. The physician? Dr. Clark, of course, Henri.

Also on Sunday at the same hospital Mr. and Mrs. Everett Call of 2610 Call St. in Vidor had a girl.

On Saturday at Women and Children's Hospital Mr. and Mrs. George Clark of Silsbee also had a boy.

Michelle Hall, Burn Victim, Is 'Fairly Well'

Baby Michelle Hall, who suffered severe burns in a mishap on May 12, is doing "fairly well" as she undergoes treatment at the Shrine Burns Institute in Galveston, members of the Big Spring Shrine Association have been informed.

Michelle, the 16-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall of Ackerly, was badly hurt when she somehow clambered into a lavatory of hot water.

Shriners arranged to transport her to the Galveston Center, and the Shrine pays all her expenses there.

A physician wrote that "since she is such a young child we continue to consider her critical. She has run into one complication (an apparent infection), but it responded well to antibiotics. She is currently eating well and her weight is being maintained. She is being tubbed daily, dressed and Mama and Daddy are visiting her frequently and this seems to help."

Tractor Purchase Fails To Get OK

The contested purchase of a $36,000 tractor died in confusion and silence at the city commission meeting Tuesday afternoon, as former supporters of the purchase failed to move for its approval.

Reasserting his position that the 2-1 vote to buy the tractor at the last meeting was invalid, Eddie Acri was supported by City Attorney Herb Prouty who said that a recent court decision requires, in effect, that every action of the commission have three-favorable votes for approval.

Acri then again questioned the wisdom of buying a $36,000 item with money borrowed from other city funds to supplement the garage fund, which contains only $22,000.

Acri moved to deny the purchase and was strongly seconded by George Zachariah "on grounds we don't have the funds."

Mayor Arnold Marshall then called for a vote and Acri and Zachariah voted to support the former's motion. Wade Choate, breaking the tie, voted "nay" and the motion appeared to have failed.

The mayor then called for a motion to buy the tractor, but was answered by silence.

A long pause was broken by Choate asking McAdams, "What do you think, Garner?" and McAdams answered to the effect that he would have to vote against any motion to purchase the tractor.

The proposal then died for lack of a motion from either Choate or McAdams, who cast the two favorable votes on the purchase at the last meeting. Acri voted against the purchase last time, the mayor abstained, and Zachariah was absent.

In discussion before the vote was taken, Marshall asked City Manager Larry Crow if the tractor could be purchased with available funds. The city manager answered, "What is the alternative?" referring to need for the tractor.

At the last meeting the commissioners heard from Acting Public Works Director Bo Anderson who said that the city intended to trade an old tractor used in the street department for the new tractor, which is to be used at the sanitary landfill site. The loader now working at the landfill was to be transferred to the street department where, Anderson said, it could be expected to be in service indefinitely.

City officials said the request for the new tractor was being made to avoid expensive and time consuming repairs and to keep the state-regulated landfill site up to standards.

At Tuesday's meeting Choate and McAdams asked if the city had enough money to afford the new loader and Choate brought out the fact that short term loans could be obtained from the city depository interest-free.

Crow said that temporary transfer of funds from one city account to another is normal procedure.

On the basis of the city attorney's findings on the procedural question, Acri asked that the minutes of the last meeting be changed where it shows "the motion carried" by the invalid two to one vote. The change was ordered by the commission.

Teens Still Can't Vote In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Oregon voters refused Tuesday to lower the voting age to 19. Advocates of the change said community reaction to campus troubles was responsible.

"I have to admit that bitterness is my gut reaction," said Earl Blumenauer, 21, chairman of the campaign.

Nearly two-thirds of the voters rejected the age change. More than half of the state's one million voters went to the polls.

Gov. Tom McCall said he was sorry and so did State Treasurer Robert Straub, both of whom campaigned for the 19-year-old vote.

McCall had envisioned the outcome earlier when his office was flooded with letters of protests to campus disturbances.

"The 19-year-old vote is down the drain," he said as he observed the reaction to the Portland police riot squad moving onto the Portland State University campus to end a demonstration.

Blumenauer, a senior at Lewis and Clark College in Portland, said: "The same backlash that we experienced will be felt in Congress." He predicted failure of any federal effort to lower the voting age.

McCall won renomination with ease and Straub won the Democratic nomination to oppose him. This set up a replay of the 1966 gubernatorial contest when McCall, then secretary of state, beat Straub by 70,000 votes despite a Democratic registration edge of more than 100,000.

Two of the state's four congressmen had no opposition for renomination, and the other two won handily.

A proposed new state constitution was defeated by about the same margin as the referendum on the 19-year-old vote, but authority to issue pollution control bonds carried handily.

LUBBOCK (AP) — A San Antonio woman, Mrs. Kathryn Jean LaGrave, was killed and her husband and two children injured in a car-truck collision Tuesday night on U.S. 87 about two miles south of Lubbock.

Larry L. LaGrave, 27, was in fair condition at a Lubbock hospital as the couple's five-year-old son, Michael.

One-year-old Joseph LaGrave, another son, was in critical condition at the hospital.

Police said LaGrave and his family was enroute to Portales, N.M. where he had a teaching job. LaGrave was just discharged from the Army at San Antonio Monday after serving a year in Vietnam.

$1.5 Million In Damage Claims

HOUSTON (AP) — About $1.5 million in damage claims have been filed against the city of Houston since the new Torts Claim Act went into effect Jan. 1, city attorney William A. Olson said Tuesday.

The act allows citizens to sue the city for damages for death or injury in certain cases.

Olson said he believes the figure may exceed $3 million before the year is out.

Most of the claims, he said, involve city vehicles driven by city employees.
