SENATE REJECTS OIL TARIFF BY 39 TO 27 VOTE

Snook Remains Calm To Last As State Takes His Life In Electric Chair

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

C. O. Moser, vice president of the American Cotton Cooperative association, told an audience at the Wichita county courthouse Thursday night that what the federal farm board will be able to do for the cotton growers this year and for the future will depend directly upon the degrees to which they cooperate in the program or their benefit.

The board can borrow $100,000,000 to help stabilize the cotton market. Mr. Moser said, but this still will be of little benefit if the farmers plant a large acreage and market the crop in the manner in which it has often been marketed.

The board has no authority to compel the reduction of cotton acreage but it has published figures showing what is likely to happen of the acreage in cotton is not curtailed. Here at last seems to be an opportunity for the farmers to help themselves, the first important aid the government has offered. We will see how they avail themselves of the opportunity offered them.

At last competition has developed for the mayoralty and two councilmanic positions in Wichita Falls. At least one group, the Curd, Ammann, Corlett group, may be called a ticket from the similarity of the platforms on which each has announced and the incidence of their announcements. A contest for office nearly always develops interest. Interest in elections is a healthy thing for public affairs.

Talker said something yesterday about the wonderment of city folks over the country folks moving to town. He realizes that something might also be said about the wonderment of country folks at why anybody should want to leave the towns to live in the country. Any rural resident can give you a number of reasons why city life is more attractive.

Building permits issued in Wichita Falls during the month of February totaled only $11,775, which, we must admit, is a pretty poor showing. But during that period work was started on more than $100,000 worth of improvements at the Wichita Falls state hospital and with other building started outside the city limits the total would probably reach $200,000. And the custom of taking out permtis for much less than the buildings cost is still being practiced. The sooner we change our permit system the sooner Wichita Falls will make a better showing in building figures.

Talker knows of no one who has given more unselfish service to the youth of Wichita Falls than has Paul Seeds, director of the playground band. Mr. Seeds has worked in season and out and many days and nights with boys who have come under his leadership. He and his bands have given enjoyable entertainment to the people of Wichita Falls and a lot of service to the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Seeds has proposed to the city council that the city employ a full time band director for playground bands. He hopes, of course, that if such a position is created he will be employed to fill it. Otherwise he has an offer from another city and will leave Wichita Falls within a few months.

The spirit in which Mr. Seeds has cooperated with civic organizations, his popularity with the boys who have come under his leadership in a music way, his willingness to serve in every possible way, the needs of the boys, the entertainment that they provide for so many people ought to assure that his proposal be given every consideration possible.

Ray Nichols of the Vernon Record has been up in Chicago attending some kind of a convention and says its a fine feeling to attend a convention when somebody else is paying the bills. He writes in his own paper that many of the males among the natives of the Windy City wear derbys and spats. Maybe they wear the derbys to bounce off the pineapples which are reported to be the popular fruit of that city.

Mr. Nichols hasn't said whether he has adopted the Chicago styles or not. Maybe he is planning to surprise the home town folks by returning derbied and spatted.

GIRL'S SLAYER LEAST RUFFLED MAN IN CROWD

Ohio Professor Dies for Murder of Theora Hix On Rifle Range

DOOMED MAN SILENT

Blood-Shot Eyes Coldly Stare at Those in Death Room

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 28. (AP)—Displaying the same iron nerve that carried him through six months of residence in the death house at Ohio state penitentiary, Dr. James Howard Snook, university professor, went to his death in the electric chair tonight for the murder of his co-ed companion, Theora Hix. The current was turned on at 7:04 and he was pronounced dead at 7:09:30 p. m.

He received three contacts of 2,000 volts each.

Dr. Snook appeared to be the calmest man in the execution chamber. He entered accompanied by three guards. His eyes were red—as if he had cried after his last meeting with his wife. He walked with firm step and head erect. As the two chair guards took him by the arm, the doctor stepped forward briskly and sat down in the death chair.

Death House Crowded

He as accompanied into the room by two ministers, Rev. Isaac Miller of the King Avenue Methodist church, his pastor, and the Rev. K. E. Wall, prison chaplain. The death house was crowded.

Two guards took the doctor by the arms and strapped him in the death chair. Another adjusted the mask. A second before the current was turned on, Rev. Mr. Miller intoned in solemn voice "the Lord be with you."

A second later the chief deputy passed the signal to three unnamed guards and the doctor surged under the first electric contact. After the three contacts, the first at 7:05½ p. m., and the last at 7:09½ p. m., the current was shut off. For three minutes five physicians waited.

Body Examined

Headed by Dr. George W. Keil, the prison doctor, the physicians examined Dr. Snook. The prison physician was unsatisfied, and thrice he returned to the chair to place his sensitive instrument against the condemned man's chest.

TAFT WAGING LOSING FIGHT

Former President Grows Weaker

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (AP)—Physicians attending William Howard Taft said after visiting their patient shortly before midnight that he was somewhat weaker.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (US)—William Howard Taft continued to wage a valiant fight for life today, although he is gradually growing weaker.

The bulletin by his physicians, issued at noon, stated:

"The former chief justice is slightly weaker. Is able to take very little nourishment. There is no decided change in his conditon since yesterday."

A bulletin tonight said Mr. Taft's condition was unchanged.

Throughout the day there was a constant stream of callers at the Taft home on Wyoming avenue. Members of the United States supreme court, on which he served so long, called at the residence to leave cards and an expression of hope for his recovery with Mrs. Taft, but they did not see him. Ambassador Paul Claudel of France was another caller.

Robert Taft, son of the former president, was the only person to be admitted to the sick room, except Mrs. Taft, the physicians and nurses. Mr. Taft arrived from Cincinnati today and hurried to the bedside of his father.

The former president rallied for a moment and greeted his son with a wan smile and a weak handclasp. Dr. Hagner said that Mr. Taft also greeted him today with a smile, but that he quickly went to sleep again and for the most part is in a state of coma.

Chronic 'Wreck Victim' Is Ordered to Jail

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (UP)—Two many wrecks sent A. Aloie limping to jail here today.

Aloie presented a claim for $10,000, the damge he said was done to him personally in an interrurban wreck earlier this week.

"This man is a professional wreck victim," Attorney A. J. Graham for the railroad told Judge Immenhausen. "Every time he hears about a wreck he dashes out to the scene and lies down in the debris. My records show that he claims to have been in more than 50 wrecks in the last few years."

"I think we'll put him in jail while we check up his record," said the court.

BRIBE STORY FLATLY DENIED BY OFFICERS

Wilson and Ellis Contradict Crow's Testimony in Every Detail

CASE TO JURY TODAY

Martin Rules Evidence of Star Witness Must Have Support

Trial of C. P. (Blackie) Wilson and Dan Ellis, deputy constables charged with accepting a bribe, neared its close Friday afternoon when the defense rested its case after both defendants had taken the stand to deny practically every detail of J. J. Crow's story of paying $95 to escape prosecution on liquor charges on the afternoon of Feb. 20.

Sam Spence, district attorney, announced that the state will introduce brief rebuttal testimony Saturday morning, the defense is expecting to call at least one additional witness in answer and the case is expected to reach the jury shortly after noon. In a tentative charge prepared Friday afternoon Judge P. A. Martin instructed the jury that J. J. Crow is an accomplice in the alleged bribery and that only that part of his testimony which is corroborated by other evidence, either direct or through circumstances, can be considered.

In their statements to the jury Friday morning and afternoon both Wilson and Ellis declared that they had gone to the March garage where Crow's car, containing 24 gallons of whisky was stored, on unofficial business in connection with repairs on their personal cars. Ellis, both of them testified, went first. Wilson came later and discovered that his working partner was there after Ellis was called to the telephone. Both defendants said that they left the garage together in Ellis' car, went to the Senate cafe to lunch together, denying in every detail Crow's story as told to the court Thursday morning.

The two men denied any knowledge of Crow or of the whisky, declaring that they had seen a man they later learned to be Crow in the storage garage on the afternoon of Feb. 20. Crow had testi-

Amarillo Realtor Acquitted by Jury

AMARILLO, Texas, Feb. 28. (AP)—John Dees, realtor, was acquitted of a charge of murder for the slaying of Finis Brown, mechanic, after the jury had deliberated for an hour today.

Brown was shot to death in Dees' real estate office here Oct. 9. Dees pleaded that Brown had made threats against his life, and said that the gun was accidentally discharged.

The real estate man, who rented a house to Brown's divorced wife, said that when he heard of Brown's threats he had sent Brown's former wife to attempt to dissuade him. Shortly thereafter, Brown came to his office, Dees said.

The attending physician testified that two of the four bullets which struck Brown entered from the side and toward the back. State witnesses said that Brown was shot after he had left the office and was starting down the stairs, but other occupants of the building denied this, saying that all the shots were fired within Dees' office.

Nicholson Makes Ready To Explore Black Abyss After New Discoveries

By FRANK ERNEST NICHOLSON
Leader Carlsbad Cavern Expedition
(All Rights Reserved)

CARLSBAD, N. M., Feb. 28.—Today we penetrated the tunnel at the far end of the new room referred to as Coral Gardens to a depth of 50 feet lower than the known depth of the lower level. We have covered a territory equal in distance to that from Times Square to Park Row and for most part the ceiling was high enough to house the same buildings.

This continues to appear the oldest part of the cavern. We have found a giant stalagmite which we judge to be between 40 million and 50 million years old, also the kleaidescopic dazzle of translucent curtain formations in myriad color. This section is much drier than the explored area. The floor in places is composed of a bluish gray, pliable as sculptor's clay.

So far the only life we have seen has been huge crickets and bats. Countless hundreds of dead bats are here. Biology explains that bats travel as far inward as possible when ready to die.

Now we are busy preparing ropes, equipment, etc., for the descent into the huge black abyss that appears to lead down several hundred feet—a sheer drop. Obviously it was one of the principal drains for the water that began cutting the cavern millions of years ago, and which, science contends, is still carving down to no one knows what depth. We are preparing to go down far enough to find the stream and the solution chambers now being dissolved.

We have noticed, in occasional bare rocks, fossils of sea shell, proving the cavern was once at the ocean bottom and identifying the deposits as of over three score million years ago.

The hours pass rapidly for us, and our attention is bound with interest as we push forward, but at rest periods, when conversation wanes, and one wanders a short distance away for observation he finds the utter silence punctuated with the slow monotonous dripping of water, which brings apprehension. The perpetual darkness is ominous, but tonight our spirits are alert with thoughts of what adventures we may encounter tomorrow when we reach the bottom of the abyss.

HOOVERCRATS AWAIT RULING

Committee Plans No Action On Disbarment

FORT WORTH, Feb. 28. (AP)—The executive committee of Texas anti-Tammany Democrats, meeting here today, determined to take no action respecting refusal of the Democratic state executive committee to allow the name of Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, placed on the ticket as candidate for governor until the supreme court has passed on mandamus proceedings instituted by Senator Love.

Meeting in executive session, the committee made known is decision in a statement signed by Alvin Moody of Houston, chairman of the group.

"It was the desire of those present," Moody's statement said, "that we should await the decision of the supreme court to ascertain whether or not we have incurred a penalty of ostracism, probation and penance for performing our first obligation of citizenship."

Asked what he believed the court's decision toward forcing D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman of the Democratic executive committee, to place the name of Senator Love on the ticket, Moody said that he expected it "would be favorable to us."

Senator Love, in answer to an inquiry as to his political outlook as a gubernatorial candidate, explained that it was rosy.

"I understand," he said, "that there are 18 candidates now in the field for governor. I am the only one who voted with the majority in refusing to cast my ballot for Al fred E. Smith."

Moody's statement was that the situation was fully discussed by the 29 executive committee members who attended the meeting and that members of the party who deserted the ranks of the Democratic party to vote for Herbert Hoover in 1928

Possibility of Tax On Natural Gas Slim

AUSTIN, Feb. 28. (UP)—A death knell was sounded to the possible passage of a tax on natural gas during the fifth special session of the Texas legislature today when the house committee on taxation assured natural gas producers that a levy will not be passed without giving them an opportunity to protest.

Representative Phil Sanders, author of the gas tax bill which met with such strong opposition from producers in all sections of the state, said that he now is convinced that the sliding scale in his bill is impractical. He indicated he was conferring with two other representatives on a bill that would tax pipe lines.

Siegers Blow Madman Through Roof With Dynamite After Bloody Fight

Enraged Slayer of Wife Holds Police and National Guardsmen Off Until Blast Wrecks House

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Feb. 28. (UP)—Hubert Floehr, 60, berserk with insane rage after murdering his wife, was blown to pieces tonight in the wreckage of his home when dynamite was used to end his lone fight against police and national guardsmen who besieged him.

Floehr wounded three men, one perhaps fatally, during a fight that lasted all afternoon. All the while, the body of his murdered wife, prone on the dining room floor of the stucco house, was in full view of those of the besiegers on that side of the house.

Woman's Body Removed

The body was removed before the house was dynamited. While Floehr was in an upstairs room on his sentry-like patrol of the various windows of the house, one of the besiegers sneaked in and carried the wife's body outside.

Then a volunteer placed a stick of dynamite under the building. There was a blast that shook the neighborhood. Floehr's mangled body was sent up through the roof, and the house was almost demolished.

Floehr formerly was an inmate of the Toledo state hospital for the insane. He escaped several months ago. This afternoon he went amuck. There had been a quarrel, turning bitter. Floehr's mind snapped back from its recent sanity to the murderous rage of the maniac. He got a pistol and shot his wife.

Fires at Son

The son, William, 14, transfixed with horror, watched the tragedy. As the father turned toward him, the boy ran for the street. Floehr fired at him twice without success.

Police arrived in force. Karl Waener, the chief, took charge. He placed himself where Floehr could see him, and a moment later he

Mellon Asks Drive On Double Taxation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28. (INS)—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today urged American participation in a world-wide movement to end international double taxation. He appeared before the house ways and means committee to urge enactment of the Lawley bill to this end.

"The movement to mitigate the evils and burdens that arise from the taxation of the same income, profits, or property by two or more countries, has in recent years gathered considerable momentum, due to the high post-war tax rates and to the growing realization that double taxation of this character is unscientific and unsound," he said.

Double taxation, he said, is a barrier to the expansion of foreign trade and investments. Mellon proposed reciprocal concessions by which profits of foreign companies operating in the United States would be exempted from taxation here, if the foreign nations granted similar exemption to American firms. This principle is now effective with shipping companies.

The body was found by police who went to an address given them in a telephone call.

The body was taken to Burkburnett by the Owens Funeral home of that city. Tentative funeral arrangements were set for Sunday afternoon in Tipton, Okla.

Mr. Bowers is survived by his widow and two small children. The family was said to have been moving from Carnegie at the time of the fatal accident. They were accompanied by Bill Cude, also of Carnegie.

The accident occurred when Bowers, walking toward a filling station to obtain gasoline for his automobile, was struck by a car driven by J. H. Brumley of Burburnett. The injured man was brought to Wichita Falls in Mr. Brumley's car before an ambulance called from Alberts Funeral home had arrived. An examination revealed severe fractures of the skull in two places and serious internal injuries. An emergency operation was immediately performed.

INDEPENDENTS LOSE BATTLE FOR PROTECTION

Full Day of Debate Precedes Vote on Import Duty On Petroleum

FRANKLIN QUIZZED

Ardmore Operator Tells of Battle Waged for 'Little Man'

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Climaxing one of the most dramatic scenes in the long tariff controversy, the senate tonight rejected by a dozen votes the Thomas proposal for a tariff on oil and gasoline.

The roll call which came shortly after 10 o'clock showed 39 against a tariff and 27 for it.

The amendment voted upon, as introduced by Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, would have placed a tax on foreign crude oil of $1 a barrel and on gasoline and other by-products of petroleum of 50 per cent ad valorem based on American valuation.

Pittman Rider Loses

Prior to the final vote, the senate rejected, 57 to 8, a rider by Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, which would have terminated the tariff on Jan. 1, 1934, and made it inoperative meanwhile if the price of crude oil at the point of production in either Oklahoma or Texas exceeded $1.75 a barrel. Pittman proposed this as a guard against over-production which he said he feared would result from a tariff.

Another rider by the Nevada senator to make the proposed duty on by-products ineffective during the four-year period if the retail price of gasoline went above 18 cents a gallon at New York City, exclusive of purchasers' tax, was rejected without a record vote.

"Trading" Charged

Cries of "vote-trading" on sugar and oil resounded throughout the chamber at the second night session on the Hawley-Smoot bill as Senator Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin, charged the American Independent Petroleum Producers association with attempting to influence senators to trade on the two propositions and with being "even willing to trade the president of the United States in on this deal."

Blaine, member of the senate lobby committee which earlier today questioned Wirt Franklin, president of the association, regarding activities in behald of an oil tariff asserted the methods employed by the independent producers for a tariff were "nefarious and damnable."

Franklin Defended

Half a dozen senators, both Democrats and Republicans from Southwestern states, defended Franklin and the Independent Producers association, Senator Allen, Republican, Kansas, saying the independents were "behind an earnest effort," to help a "stricken industry" and has sent representatives to Washington to seek "influence in a perfectly proper way."

Blaine asserted that officers of the association planned to carry to

O. B. Kelley Enters Race for Mayor; Deadline on Petitions Tonight

A third candidate for mayor entered the field for the coming city election Friday afternoon when O. B. Kelley of Front street filed a petition bearing 111 signatures with W. E. McBroom, city clerk.

Mr. Kelley is at present the operator of a tire shop at 410 Front street. He was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor in 1922 and was defeated as a candidate for police commissioner in 1925. He has been a resident of Wichita Falls for more than a score of years and from time to time has been actively connected with unskilled labor movements here.

Mr. McBroom reported late Friday that no further petitions had been filed and no petition blanks obtained at his office. P. B. Curd, J. O. Ammann and W. B. Corlett, who announced Thursday for mayor, alderman in place four and alderman in place five, respectively, had not filed their petitions. Mr. McBroom stated he had been notified they intended to turn in the signatures Saturday afternoon. Petitions may be filed until midnight Saturday and certificates must be made within 10 days before the election April 1.

Only three other names have been entered in the city election, Walter Nelson Jr, having announced for mayor several weeks ago, J. N. Prothro for place five on the council and E. H. Eddleman for place four on the council.

BRIBE CASE TO JURY TODAY

Officers Admit No Money Found on Pair

fied that Wilson pulled a gun on him in the garage, that the three went to lunch together, and later the money was exchanged while they were in parked automobiles on Front street in the late afternoon.

The defendants agreed in their testimony that they went together, not in Crow's company, to the Senate cafe for lunch. Ellis, they said, went to the telephone to call his wife and in his absence a stranger, later pointed out as Crow, seated himself on the restaurant stool between them. Ellis also had a conversation with "Slim" Maddison before he took his place at the lunch counter, he testified.

"Would you have arrested Crow if you had known about the liquor," R. E. Taylor, defense counsel, asked Wilson.

"I sure would," the defendant answered.

"Would you arrest him now if Sam Spence there would accept a complaint?" the attorney persisted.

"I'm not afraid to arrest nobody," the witness replied.

$20 Bill Explained

In reply to the attorney's questioning, Wilson said he had come into possession of a $20 bill on the afternoon of Feb. 20 when a man who owed a fine in the justice court redeemed a hot check. He had changed the bill in the Senate cafe, returned $5.50 to the man, and given $14.50 to O. L. Gibbs, justice of the peace in payment of the fine on the morning after his arrest, the officer declared.

The testimony was offered in connection with Crow's assertion that he paid the $95 bribe in three $20 bills and fives and tens. During the morning session the cafe cashier told of changing a $20 bill for Wilson late last Thursday afternoon.

Judge Gibbs offered the records of his docket to show that Frank Morgan, constable, had received his share in the costs of the case on Feb. 21. On cross-examination Mr. Spence sought to show that the docket showed only when the money reached Mr. Morgan rather than when it had been paid into the court, asking Judge Gibbs if it wasn't true that the transaction had really been completed before Wilson's arrest.

The witness said he could not remember all the details of every case but that if he had said it happened before the arest of Wilson, he was mistaken.

The officers said they had spent the early part of the night of Feb. 20 patrolling a section of the Seymour road where they had heard complaints of petting parties. They denied that they were making any effort to avoid arrest or had any knowledge that warrants had been sworn out against them.

Constable Praises Men

Frank Morgan, constable, said he had sent the men to the Seymour road, that he had seen Ellis in his office at the courthouse about 4 o'clock on the afternoon before the arrest, and that he had great confidence in the integrity of his men.

F. J. Paul, guard at a Fort Worth and Denver crossing said he had seen Wilson and Ellis, unaccompanied, in Ellis' car at about the hour Thursday afternoon when the two went to the cafe for lunch. Similar testimony was given by Charlie Somerville, who said he remembered waving to them as they passed in the car, and testified that Crow was not in the machine at the time.

M. A. Burnside, one of the managers of the March storage garage, testified that he had seen the two officers in the garage on Feb. 20 but had not seen them in the company of Crow. He denied that he had seen Wilson drive Crow's car from the place, contradicting earlier testimony from Crow.

L. L. Taylor, Jim Perkins, and Elmer Thornton, deputy constables, were all called to the stand to tell of seeing the two accused men together, without Crow, at various times during the afternoon in question.

State Admits Good Standing

Before the defense rested its case about 4:30 Friday afternoon, the jury was told that the state admitted that both defendants had been of good standing and reputation in the community before the charges were filed, making the calling of character witnesses unnecessary.

The state closed its case before noon Friday morning after another group of witnesses had been called in corroboration of Crow's statement.

O. B. Kelley, the first, said he saw two automobiles parked on Front street on Thursday afternoon and had recognized Ellis. Cross-examination showed that Kelley had on one occasion been arrested by the officer.

Mrs. Ford Wallace, wife of the proprietor of the Senate cafe, told of seeing the three men together at lunch and told of Wilson's changing the $20 bill. Lafayette Henderson, a negro bellboy at the Marchman, said he had seen Crow and Wilson together at the hotel on Feb. 20.

No Money Found

Mrs. Beatrice White, waitress at the Marchman, testified that on that afternoon Crow told her he had been caught with whisky and that he might be able to pay off. He asked her to call on him at the jail if he failed to get out of it, she said. Clarence Crump, filling station attendant, told of helping Crow take the numbers of some bills which Crow claims to have given the officers.

The changing of the $20 bill was again described in the testimony of Homer G. Perky, night manager of the Senate cafe.

J. D. Jones told of telephone conversations with A. H. Beasley, described as Crow's "partner" last week, but denied that Beasley had told him he had caught "two of them and would probably catch two more." The denial was entered in connection with the statement of Lee Vaughn, garage proprietor, that he had heard Beasley make such a statement over the phone to a man named Jones on the afternoon of the arrest.

Sheriff W. G. Bralley and Warren Belcher, deputy, described the arrest of the two deputy constables. The prisoners each had small sums of money which did not correspond to the marked bills which Crow claimed to have given them, the officers said.

BRALLEY TAKES ISSUE WITH "FRAME-UP" TALK

Declaring that he had heard insinuations to the effect that the sheriff's department had had a part in a "bootleggers frame-up" against C. P. (Blackie) Wilson and Dan Ellis, deputy constables charged with accepting a bribe, Sheriff W. G. Bralley Friday afternoon indignantly denied the charge and declared that the defense attorneys in the trial had failed to introduce one line of testimony showing any such conspiracy by the sheriff.

Mr. Bralley said that he and his deputies had acted in the line of duty in arresting the accused officers when the warrants were sworn out.

"The defense attorneys have been talking about a frame-up. It has been published in newspapers, and it has come to me that my own name has been specifically linked with this so-called 'bootleggers frame-up.' No witness called by the defense has even been questioned along such lines, and I think it is only fair that my department be given an opportunity to say that there is no truth whatever in that talk."

Kansans Present Bill To Halt Large Scale Farming

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 28. (UP)—A new "bogey" for the farmer is seen by Kansas legislators.

Two bills aimed against "chain" farming were presented in the special Kansas legislature today. Their proponents would prohibit corporations from engaging in "big scale farming."

These corporations, several of which have appeared in the Southwest, maintain big acreage a battery of farm equipment, and employ business executives to direct their properties.

was bleeding from a deep scalp wound.

At available spots around the house, police and volunteers were stationed. They could see Floehr inside. The insane man had gathered a heavy rifle, apparently, a shotgun and several boxes of ammunition for his last stand.

Guard Called Out

The Defiance unit of the national guard was called out, with its one-pounder gun. A tear bomb squad was summoned from Fort Wayne, Ind., across the state line.

But there were casualties among the besiegers. Floehr was running around from window to window of his home, upstairs and down, across the body of his wife, into and out of bedrooms, sniping at every head he saw.

First he shot Newell Littlefield, 22, of Newport, Maine, a senior at Defiance college. Littlefield was wounded in the chest. His condition was reported as critical.

A short while later William Chappel, 35, a salesman for the Toledo Edison company, went down with a slight wound in the hip.

Police decided to end the fight. They could not bring themselves to dynamite the house with the dead body of Floehr's wife in it. While the insane man was upstairs, a volunteer removed it from the dining room downstairs, and the blast was set off.

George W. Sollock, 70, of Rule, Texas, died in a local hospital about 5:10 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mr. Sollock was brought to Wichita Falls about 12 days ago for treatment when an illness from which he was suffering became serious.

The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary and was taken overland early Saturday morning to Rule for interment Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Sollock is survived by his widow; two sons, P. E. Sollock of Rule and G. N. Sollock of Olney; and a sister, Mrs. C. M. Keen of Rule. The deceased was said to have been a pioneer of the Rule section.

SNOOK 'BURNS' FOR MURDER

Slayer of Co-ed Calmest Man in Chamber

Finally at 7:11 p. m. he stepped back and said:

"Gentlemen, sufficient current has passed through this man's body to cause death."

Snook said nothing as he entered the death house. His lips were clasped tight and he did not open them once. He gazed Fixedly at the witnesses until the death mask was set in place. Shortly before the execution, Mrs. Helen Snook, wife of the condemned man, who broke bread with her husband at his last meal on earth, was led from the prison by two friends. She semed in a state of collapse and was able to walk only with the aid of one of her escorts.

Wife Nearby

During the electrouction, Mrs. Snook, her ankle injured slightly, sat in Warden Thomas' residence in the penitentiary building. In addition to Mrs. Snook, two others had the final meal with Snook—Oscar Roedell of Pomeroy, a close friend of Dr. Snook and Mrs. Frank Landrum, a cousin of Mrs. Snook, and a resident of Junction City, Ohio.

Hundreds of curious gathered outside the prison walls while the execution was impending, and until newspaper men rushed from the main door, the reporters were besieged, the stock questions being "has he gone?" Police kept the crowds moving as best they could, but on the street upon which the penitentiary faces, thousands of automobiles, containing curious, moved by slowly, gazing at the forbidding prison walls.

Calm at Parting

Rev. Miller, after the execution, said that Dr. Snook was calm and quiet just before he started his walk to the death chair. The minister said he bore up well when he parted with Mrs. Snook, the wife who has stood by his side ever since the law took the professor into its toils and adjudged him guilty of the killing of his co-ed mistress.

Dr. Miller declared that Snook's final words "will never be known." He refused to amplify this statement. But it was evident that even though Dr. Snook was calm when he bade his wife the last farewell, he lost his calmness as the death march started, for the testimony of tears was evident in his bloodshot eyes.

'Poker Alice's' Death at 77 Removes Strangest Figure of Old Gaming Era

Always Dealing From the 'Top of the Deck,' Woman Gambler Reaped Harvest When West Was a Man's Land

RAPID CITY, S. D., Feb. 28. (AP)—Death, dealing from "a cold deck," flipped the ace of spades for "Poker Alice" Tubbs yesterday. It was her admission card to the big game that is eternity.

She was one of the last of a coterie of hard living, straight shooting men and women who added the color—sometimes it was blood red—to the old West. "Deadwood Dick," "Wild Bill" Hickock and "Calamity Jane" were others.

Poker Alice wore a gun, smoked cigars and could swear like a trouper, but in all of her 77 years of life she dealt from the top of the deck.

Gambler's Career

During a life as adventurous as any man's, she gambled for high stakes without a single betraying quiver of the hand as she dealt; without the twitch of a face muscle. Cold as the steel of the revolver she wore, she sat in unnumbered thousands of high stake games.

Yesterday she bucked a game that she—that nobody—could beat. Old age and complications, following an operation for gall stones, were given by doctors as the cause of her death.

Poker Alice was English born, but American bred, and always the gambler. She started as a faro dealer. A woman at the box was a novelty that drew the black beards of the wild West, with their bags of gold, to the gambling table. So successful was she, that soon she was known, not just as a woman gambler, but as a winning gambler, man or woman.

Three Times Married

Colorado, Nevada, Montana, the Dakotas—wherever there was pay dirt and hombres with nerve enough to lay it against the turn of a card—there Poker Alice was. She took $6,000 in one night's play at Silver City, N. M.

It seems rather strange, in retrospect, that Poker Alice, self reliant, courageous and able to take care of herself anywhere—should have had time for love, yet she was three times married. Her first husband was a mining engineer, Frank Duffield. Then there came W. G. Tubbs, a gambler who despite a wide reputation of his own, never could equal Poker Alice at the card table. Her third husband was George Huckert.

MONUMENT TO LA SALLE SET

Texans to Unveil Memorial To Explorer

NAVASOTA, Texas, Feb. 28. (AP)—In this town near the spot where the famous French explorer, La Salle, was slain by his traitorous companions, a monument to his memory will be unveiled March 6.

The memorial, erected by the Daughters of the American revolution, and residents of Navasota will be unveiled with fitting ceremony.

W. S. Barron of Bryan, speaker of the house of representatives, will accept the monument on behalf of the state and Mayor John D. Rogers will receive it for Navasota. Mrs. O. E. Baker, state historian of the D. A. R., and dean of history at Simmons college, Abilene, will deliver the principal address.

Special busses have been chartered for the Houston delegation and more than 300 history students in Sam Houston State Teachers college at Huntsville will attend in a body.

The Allen academy band from Bryan will furnish the music for the occasion. The state regent of the D. A. R., Mrs. James T. Rountree of Paris, will be escorted to the monument by state and city officers, the city men's committee and pages in costume. Out-of-town persons taking part in the ceremonies will be Mrs. A. W. Dunham of Galveston; Mrs. W. A. Quebedeaux of Georgetown; Mrs. Charles H. Webb of Paris; Mrs. Edwin S. Lammers of Dallas; Mrs. W. A. Rowan of Houston; Mrs. E. O. Baker of Abilene; Mrs. W. S. Gibbs of Huntsville; Mrs. Fred S. Abney of Brownwood; Mrs. O. M. Farnsworth of San Antonio; Mrs. Lipscomb Norvell of Beaumont; Mrs. W. D. Garbington of Dallas, and Mrs. Ike B. McFarlane of Houston.

Miss Anne Yocum of Houston made the suggestion that the monument be erected to mark the vicinity of the tragic death in 1667 of Rene Robert Cavalier Sieur de la Salle. That was at the D. A. R. conference at Beaumont in 1919. In 1923 the D. A. R. voted to contribute $3,000 to the memorial and the next year Navasota residents consented to raise $1,500.

The monument was the work of Frank Teich, Llano sculptor. The statue stands seven and one-half feet high on a pedestal of pink Texas granite, seven feet high and six feet wide.

Hoo-Hoo Members to Meet Here April 5 for Program and Initiation

Plans for one of the largest meetings of the Hoo-Hoo club ever held in this section were discussed at a meeting of officers and directors of the Wichita Falls Hoo-Hoo club No. 45 at a luncheon given by G. Don Bowie at the Wichita club Friday noon.

Plans for the year were discussed with reference to the program for National Forest week which is being sponsored throughout the United States by Hoo-Hoo clubs and with patricular reference to a meeting in this city of all the members of the organization from Wichita Falls and surrouding towns.

The meeting will probably be held at the Hoo-Hoo clubhouse at Diversion lake April 5 or April 7, it was said. A program of entertainment and initiation of lumbermen who are eligible for membership is being planned. Several national officers are being invited to take part in the meeting, among them Henry Isherwood of St. Louis, national secretary of the order; Gaines Whitsitt of Amarillo, "Snark of the Universe;" Wesley Hall of Amarillo, an active member of the order, and others. The clubhouse at the lake will be placed at the disposal of the guests and a large number of delegates are expected from Oklahoma and North Texas cities, it was said.

City's Warrant Debt Reduced to $124,500

The warrant debt of the city of Wichita Falls was reduced to $124,500 Friday when large payments on the principal and interest of both the boom-time overdrafts and funding warrants issued in 1924 were made, it was announced by W. E. McBroom, city clerk. The payments made Friday effected a saving of $1,730 annually in interest.

Payments of $29,075 on the principal and interest of the overdraft and of $6,935 on the principal and interest of the funding warrants for downtown street paving were made. The balance of the city's indebtedness is for sewer, water and park improvements.

SENATE BEATS TARIFF ON OIL

Independent Operators Lose Battle for Duty

President Hoover a "rumor that was prevalent in the Continental Oil region that he (the president) was a large stockholder in South American oil and to extract from him a denial and then use that denial to advance their cause."

Senators Sheppard, Democrat, Texas; Bratton, Democrat, New Mexico; and others joined Allen in declarations that Franklin and his associates did nothing improper in seeking an oil duty.

Seventeen Republicans and 22 Democrats voted against the Thomas amendment, while 20 Republicans and seven Democrats supported it."

Thomas Urged Activity

Just before the vote on his amendment to place a duty on oil, which was defeated, Senator Thomas, took full responsibility for the presence of the Independent Oil producers in Washington.

A cut was made in the price of oil last month, he said, which made it impossible for the independent operators to do business.

"I sent word to Franklin," he added, "that the only chance he had to get relief was to bring men to Washington who knew the business and not to send high pressure lobbyists."

He added that the men who came here "represented the best men in Oklahoma, Kansas, Texas and Colorado. They came here at my invitation and I take full responsibility."

Thomas said he had arranged interviews with senators for a number of the oil men, and he asked if there was anything wrong in that.

"Has it come to the place where an industry about to be destroyed by centralized wealth is not privileged to come to the senate to present its cause," he demanded.

Blaine read a telegram from F. E. Tucker, of Ardmore, Oklahoma, secretary of the Independent Producers association to Franklin in which Tucker was quoted as having said:

"Would it be impertinent or impolite for me to write a courteous letter to President Hoover that he answer charges being circulated in the Mid-Continent oil fields that he is heavily interested in South American oil?"

The association, he added, had "peddled about untrue statements and charged them to members of the senate as they did in the case of the junior senator from Vermont (Senator Dale.)"

Jumping up when Blaine was near the end of his remarks, Senator Broussard, Democrat, Louisiana, an advocate of an increased sugar tariff, demanded that Blaine "retire."

"You have heard only one witness," began the Louisiana senator. "You are casting aspersions on every senator on this floor, by talking about trading in votes without naming any one. I think you should retire after the remarks you have made."

Blaine replied that any one had a perfect right to seek his retirement from the lobby committee and denied he was charging any senator were "guilty."

"I'm charging that this lobby has been attempting to trade votes of senators," he asserted.

Unhesitatingly Mr. Franklin, who as president of the Independent Producers association has led the fight for an oil tariff, answered the committee's questions. He explained in detail the activity of the tariff proponents since the Mid-Continent delegation arrived in Washington.

Thomas Introduces Bill

Leading the tariff battle on the floor, Senator Thomas of Oklahoma proposed a duty of $1 a barrel on crude oil and 50 per cent ad valorem on gasoline, the latter equalling three cents a gallon.

Thomas pleaded for the "little fellow." He said the independent oil industry was in distress. He declared the demand came from the "little fellows," not from the Standard group, the Royal Dutch Shell and the Mellon Gulf oil group.

"How are we going to benefit the small producers through a tariff on oil when the whole industry is controlled by a few great companies?" asked Senator Borah of Idaho.

Thomas replied that the tariff would keep out some of the 109,000,000 barrels of oil imported annually by the major companies.

Making capital of parts of Mr. Franklin's testimony before the Caraway committee, some of the tariff opponents continued charges of a "deal" among senators wanting tariffs on oil, sugar and lumber. These charges were first made last night when a proposed tariff on lumber was defeated.

The charges were revived today after Mr. Franklin had testified members of his staff had attempted to effect an agreement between Senators Pine and Thomas of Oklahoma and Senators Phipps and Waterman of Colorado.

Mr. Franklin told the committee his group had tried to talk with every member of the senate to enlist them in the fight for the independent oil man.

He charged that after the oil conference called by President Hoover at Colorado Springs last June the independents and in particular, himself, were threatened with coercion unless they lined up with the big companies.

"A lot of the independents are with us but they are afraid. They know that if they enter this fight they will be licked when they go to New York to borrow money," Mr. Franklin said.

He denied that he was a lobbyist, declaring he was fighting for his rights as a business man.

Correspondence Read

The correspondence of Franklin and his associates, placed in the records of the lobby committee, involved some of the outstanding political leaders in Washington.

Thus Representative John Q. Tilson, Republican house leader, was represented as agreeing to support the oil tariff if the Texas and Oklahoma congressmen supported the entire tariff bill.

Representative John N. Garner, Democratic house leader, publicly stated he would vote for the tariff bill if it contained the oil duty.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, former assistant attorney general, was presented as anxious to be retained by the independent association at a fee of $5,000 or $10,000.

A letter was introduced from Representative Sproul, Republican of Kansas, charging that Frank Mondell, former house Republican leader, and Phillip Campbell, another former house member, were lobbying for the big oil producers opposed to the oil tariff.

Another letter said Senator Dale, Republican, of Vermont had "traded" with Senator Pine, Republican, of Oklahoma, agreeing to vote for the oil duty if Pine voted for protection on some of the things he was interested in. Dale later declared this "trade" never took place and he would oppose the oil duty.

Franklin testified that he tried to get the aid of Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican national committee, but Huston refused to commit himself. The witness said he had also placed his case before President Hoover.

Franklin charged that opposition to the proposed oil duty was coming from the big oil producing companies, like Standard and Shell, which desired to import crude petroleum from Central and South America.

He charged also that Edward S. Rochester, secretary to the federal oil conservation board, had tried to "intimidate him" when he opposed the policy put forth by Mark L. Requa at the conference on oil conservation at Colorado Springs last year.

Gold Rush Follows Reports of Rich Strike in Covered Wells, Ariz., Area

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 28. (US)—Report of the discovery of gold ore, assaying as high as $68,000 a ton, today started hundreds of persons stampeding toward the Covered Wells region of Arizona.

News of the strike, asserted to be the richest ever made in Southern Arizona, was brought to Los Angeles by K. G. Manley, construction superintendent of Tucson, Ariz.

He arrived with samples of the ore, found last Saturday, to show to two of his partners, James Warner Bellah and Porter Emerson Browne, authors and playwrights.

Publication today in Tucson of the news is reported to have started the rush of prospectors toward the Quijotoa mountain.

Secret Is Told

Luke Meadows, a prospector of Covered Wells, found the fabulously rich ore last Saturday afternoon. He hurried to Tucson after telling Kieth Knight, also of Covered Wells, his secret.

Three others, Joseph A. Hunter, Lloyd Addington and Manley were told of the find. They are partners of Meadows in various mining ventures.

Specimens of the ore, which Meadows carried with him, were assayed by A. L. Pellegrin and Son. A one-pound specimen assayed $68,560 to the ton. A second one, weighing three pounds, assayed $25,714.

Claims Filed

On Sunday the partners went to the scene of the strike and located several claims over an area of about three miles. Guards were placed, monuments erected and the claims filed in Tucson.

According to Manley, the ore was found in a porphyry dyke with an iron capping. The vein is about six inches wide and can be traced for about three miles. Where it outcrops ore apparently of the same value as the samples was found over a distance of about 100 feet. If it is found that the vein persists to a depth of only a few feet, Manley said, the dicovery will be a bonanza.

Browne and Bellah acquired an interest in the claim by the fact that they had grubstaked Manley about two years ago.

HOLLAND, Texas, Feb. 27. (UP)—A mother and her 1-year-old son were drowned today when the truck in which they were riding with three others overturned in a ditch near here.

The accident occurred when another motorist crowded the truck off the highway, members of the party said.

Bodies of Mrs. Freeman and her son were taken to Bartlett to be placed on a train and shipped to Tulsa.

New Foot Disease Attacks Millions

ATHLETE'S FOOT

Vegetable Parasite Responsible—Symptoms Are Itching Between and Under Toes—The Skin Cracks and Blisters

STOP INFECTION BEFORE IT SPREADS

Look at your feet tonight and especially under and between toes—they may be infected with the vegetable parasite known to science as Tinea Trichophyton—let us hope they are not.

The United States Public Health Service assert in a recent bulletin that at least one half of all adults suffer from it at times—men, more than women.

And bear in mind it is no disease to trifle with for many of its victims have been disabled for weeks.

They call this modern disease Athlete's Foot because the germ Tinea Trichophyton breeds on the floors of the dressing rooms of gymnasiums and athletic clubs—also on shower boards and mats and near swimming pools.

When this parasite first attacks, there is an eruption followed by itching (often intense) the skin cracks—it blisters—when the blister breaks there is an oozing of liquid.

If not caught in time the disease usually spreads along the sole and sides of the foot—the skin reddens and may peel off.

CAUTION: The disease is infectious—someone in your own home may have it—(find out tonight). Beware of bathmats, either at home or in hotels—use a newspaper—it's safer. Wear your own slippers and walk as little as possible in your bare feet.

TREATMENT: After bathing the feet apply Moone's Emerald Oil generously, not only under and between the toes but over the bottom and sides of foot. This powerful oil soothes and penetrates—stops the itching and checks the growth of the germs of this vegetable parasite.

Pharmacists everywhere in America dispense Moone's Emerald Oil—a bottle lasts a long time.—Adv.

On to Wichita Falls!
the SPARTAN Squadron .....

See this fleet at the Municipal Airport

Piloted by instructors and students, a squadron of training planes of the Spartan School of Aeronautics will be at the Wichita Falls Municipal Airport Saturday and Sunday, arriving Saturday at 2 o'clock for a demonstration of the methods and equipment used at America's finest aviation school.

Demonstration flights will be made both by instructors and students, and those in Wichita Falls interested in having an established school of aeronautics will be given an opportunity to examine Spartan equipment, question instructors and judge the type of men which have been drawn to the Spartan School.

This instructive demonstration will take place at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The senior and junior chamber of commerce and all those interested in establishing a first-class local flying and ground school are invited to attend a banquet to be given in the ballroom of the Kemp hotel at 6:00 p. m. A meeting and general discussion will take place in the same location at 8:00 p. m. Everyone interested is urged to attend.

The Spartan School of Aeronautics has the highest rating granted by the United States Department of Commerce, being licensed by the Department as Transport Ground and Flying School; all instructors and training planes are government licensed. Spartan is one of the few schools in the United States enjoying such distinction.

Does Wichita Falls Want a First-Class Aviation School?

The Spartan School of Aeronautics proposes to establish in Wichita Falls a school equal to any in efficient methods and equipment used, thus bringing exceptional advantages to the city. This will make it possible for any who wish to enter flying as a profession to do so without great expense, and will strengthen Wichita Falls' claim to distinction as an aviation center. Everyone interested in bringing a school of aeronautics to Wichita Falls should attend the meeting at the Kemp Hotel. Mr. N. G. Souther, business manager of the Spartan School, will provide necessary information and may be interviewed at the Holt Hotel, Saturday and Sunday.

RECIPES FOR SUNDAY MENU

Queen of Muffins

One-fourth cup butter.
One-third cup sugar.
One egg.
One-half cup milk (scant).
One and one-half cups flour.
Two and one-half teaspoons baking powder.

Cream the butter, add the sugar and egg well beaten, sift baking powder with flour and add to the first mixture, alternating with milk. Bake in buttered gem pans 25 minutes.

Pear Cocktail

Cut canned pears in small balls, using a potato ball cutter, or cut in cubes. Put in cocktail glasses, almost cover with white grape juice, grenadine or sweet mint sauce; chill and serve.

Sweet Mint Sauce

One cup water.
One-half cup sugar.
Juice of one-half lemon.
One-eighth teaspoon of mint extract.
Green color paste.

Cook water and sugar for five minutes, cool, add remaining ingredients, using enough of the color paste to give a good green shade to the sauce. The grenadine syrup gives a red color to the sauce.

Roast Lamb

The leg, loin, ribs, shoulder and breast of lamb are all suitable roasting pieces. When preparing lamb for roasting, be careful to remove the "fell," or pink, skinlike layer from the outer surface of the meat, since this frequently gives a strong, muttony flavor to the roast. Wipe with a damp cloth, sprinkle with salt and pepper, place on dripping rack and dredge meat with flour. If done in a covered roaster, cook for the first 30 minutes at 500 degrees F., and then reduce the temperature to 350 degrees for the remaining time, allowing 20 minutes to the pound. When using an uncovered roaster, cook at a temperature of 500 degrees F. for the first 15 minutes and then reduce the temperature to 350 degrees for the remaining time. Baste frequently.

Currant Jelly Sauce

To one cup of brown gravy made from drippings in roast pan, add one-fourth cup currant jelly, and one tablespoon of lemon juice. Heat and serve with roast lamb.

Irish Potatoes, Hotel Style

Scrub medium Irish potatoes and bake in a hot oven or at 450 degrees F., until soft. When they are done, remove them from the oven immediately and slit the skin on top each way about an inch, thus forming a cross. Then hold each potato in a clean cloth and with the fingers gently push the potato from the bottom until it breaks, all snowy white and fluffy, through the cuts in the top. Sprinkle with salt and place a teaspoon of butter on the top of each and garnish with paprika or finely chipped parsley, then serve immediately.

Asparagus Salad

Drain and rinse stalks of canned asparagus; cut narrow rings from green pepper, lay three or four stalks in each ring. Arrange on lettuce leaves and serve with French dressing, to which has been added one-half teaspoon of parsley, finely chopped and one-half tablespoon of green pepper, finely chopped.

Pistachio Charlotte

One tablespoon granulated gelatin.
One-fourth cup cold water.
One-third cup scalded milk.
One-third cup powdered sugar.
One teaspoon vanilla.
One-third teaspoon almond extract.
Green color paste.
One-half cup pistachio nuts, blanched and chopped.
One-half pint cream.

Lady Fingers

Soak gelatin in cold water, dissolve in scalded milk, strain into a bowl, and add powdered sugar. When it is cold, but before it is stiff, add vanilla, almond extract, green color paste and pistachio nuts. Beat cream until stiff and gradually beat in the gelatin mixture. Line individual or large moulds with lady fingers cut to fit, or with thin strips of sponge cake, turn in the mixture and chill. Remove from molds and sprinkle with nuts. Serve with or without butter scotch sauce.

Suggestions for St. Patrick's Day

Though green vegetables may be served for the sake of the color scheme on St. Patrick's day, they should be used several times a day, every day in the year, for their dietetic value. Many green vegetables are green in color, but not all. They might be defined as the leaves and stems of edible plants and those fruits which are used as vegetables. Some of these are spinach, cabbage, Brussels sprouts, lettuce, water-cress, celery, onions, tomatoes, cucumbers, cauliflower, string beans, green peas, chard, turnip greens, mustard and endive. Green vegetables contain much water, cellulose, mineral substances and vitamines.

With a fancy name, artistic decorations, and impressive presentation, familiar dishes frequently assume the role of something clever. It requires a little more time, but not necessarily more cost. The colorful bits that may be on hand, together with a little ingenuity and imagination, and the feeling for color that does not allow one to serve a plain white thing for what should be the piece de resistance, make it possible for the interested housekeeper to plan distinctive meals.

The following recipes offer some suggestions for presenting familiar foods in new roles. They are appropriate for St. Patrick's day, but with slight changes in decoration may be served at any time.

Potato Hats With Apple Rings

Cook sweet potatoes until almost tender, remove skins and cut crosswise; trim to look like the crown of a tall hat. Cook for three minutes in a syrup made of one cup of sugar, three tablespoons of butter and one-third cup of water. Slice large green apples, remove core and cook until almost tender in the same syrup. Place the apples in a baking dish, put potatoes on top of them, sprinkle with sugar and bake until heated through. Garnish with rings of green pepper and a sprig of parsley.

Irish Icebergs

Make lemon sherbet, color with leaf green and freeze. Serve from cone shaped ice cream scoops. Over each serving pour a tablespoon of peppermint syrup; sprinkle with finely chopped blanched pistachio nuts.

Peppermint Syrup

Cook one-half cup of sugar and three tablespoons of water for five minutes. Flavor with three drops of oil of peppermint, cool and serve over lemon sherbet.

St. Patrick's Blarney

Six apples.
One cup water.
One dozen marshmallows.
Two cups sugar.
Twenty-four pecan halves.
One teaspoon green vegetable coloring.
Grated rind of one lemon.

Make a thin syrup of sugar and water, add grated rind of lemon, and vegetable coloring. Put in cored and peeled apples, cook slowly, turning from time to time, so apples will cook and color evenly. When soft but still in shape remove from fire and put apples in sherbet glasses. Put pecan meats and marshmallows into syrup and cook until thick; fill center of apples with pecan syrup. Place in ice box to chill. When ready to serve, top with whipped cream, beaten stiff with a tablespoon of sugar added by degrees. A few bits of finely minced citron may be stuck in the center of each apple, if this flavor is liked.

Rolled Wafers

One-fourth cup butter.
One-half cup powdered sugar.
One-fourth cup milk.
Seven-eighths cup bread flour.
One-half teaspoon vanilla.

Cream the butter, add sugar gradually, and milk, drop by drop; then add flour and flavoring. Spread very thinly with a broad long-bladed knife on a buttered, inverted baking pan. Grease in four-inch squares, and bake in a slow oven until delicately browned. Place pan on oven door, cut squares apart with sharp knife and roll while warm in cornucopia shape. If squares become too brittle to roll, place in oven to soften. After shaping, fill with ice cream or whipped cream. Colored wafers may be made from this mixture by adding leaf green or fruit red. If colored green, flavor with one-fourth teaspoon almond and three-fourths teaspoon of vanilla. Colored wafers must be baked in a very slow oven and turned frequently, otherwise they will not be of uniform color.

Canary Care

Canaries need appetizers in spring as well as people. Plant a little garden for your bird and then place the cage over it, or put a little green in the cage every day.

Cream Cheese Pie Favorite With Men

One-half cup sugar.
One tablespoon flour.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
Grated rind one-half orange.
One-half cup thin cream.
One and one-half cakes cream cheese (or six ounces loose cream cheese).
Two eggs.
One-fourth teaspoon vanilla.
Pastry.

Mix sugar, flour, salt and orange rind together. Add cream cheese and work in the cream gradually. Add egg yolks and vanilla and mix well. Fold in the stiffly-beaten whites. Pour into a pie pan lined with rich pastry. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) 25 to 30 minutes or until firm. Serve cold with strawberry jam. This is a delicious pie which is a great favorite with men. —By Margaret Wagner Harte, in McCall's for March.

Flower Touch

If you have little money for home decorations, buy single flower vases at the five and ten-cent stores and purchase just a couple of daffodils, roses or carnations. Place vases at either side of the table and the effect will be pleasing.

Pistachio Ice Cream

Prepare vanilla ice cream, using for flavoring one tablespoon of vanilla and one teaspoon of almond extract. Color with leaf green. This flavoring is sufficient for a half gallon of ice cream.

Souvenir Spoons

If you belong to the age when souvenir spoons came home from every trip you took, get them out of the attic and shine them up. They are in vogue again. The older and qualinter, the better.

Flashing Cheer

One's window curtains are more than a mere decoration for the room. Kitchen windows with merry red, green, pink or yellow curtains are cheering to all those who pass by the rear of the house.

Shoe Care

No leather shoes should be worn without being dressed properly with cream beforehand. This protects that pristine beauty and saves them from discoloration and scuffing.

Stuffed Eggs

Creamed stuffed eggs make a delectable luncheon dish. Devil the eggs, place on a slice of toast, cover with cream sauce and heat piping hot.

Mrs. Albritton Hostess At Pretty Texas Day Luncheon

One of the prettiest affairs accentuating the Texas day motif that has been given this season was the luncheon at the Woman's Forum clubhouse in which Mrs. O. B. Albritton was hostess to members of the Twentieth Century club and guests Friday at noon.

In the center of the long table stood a large bowl brimming with red and white carnations and long, beautiful spikes of blue snapdragon. Clusters of blue candles stood at each end of the table, gleaming in crystal holders and individual favors were parchment Texas flags standing at each place. The place cards were miniature hand-painted Texas bluebonnet scenes.

Following the luncheon, the president, Mrs. E. B. Lehrack, took the chair during a short business session. Several committees were appointed.

Mrs. C. E. Deaton was leader in a splendid program on "Texas Day." The roll call was answered with "Texas Heroes and Their Deeds," making an interesting program in itself. Thrilling stories were told of early days in the state, and Mesdames C. E. Deaton and Roy I. Carter told of historical events in their own families.

Mrs. C. E. Naylor gave an interesting paper on "The Background of Texas History," and Mrs. B. P. Williams delivered another particularly good theme, "Texas Under the Spanish Flag."

Mrs. E. H. Eddleman gave the "Legend of the Bluebonnet," followed by a singsong led by Mrs. Walter Bachman with Mrs. C. E. Deaton at the piano, when the entire membership joined enthusiastically in "Texas, My Texas."

"Texas," by Mary B. Ferris, was given with deep feeling by Mrs. T. H. Lawson and the program was closed with a vivacious round table discussion led brilliantly by Mrs. C. E. Deaton.

Covers were laid for Mesdames D. H. Alliday, Walter Bachman, J. D. Bright, Roy I. Carter, E. H. Eddleman, H. B. Gilbert, E. B. Lehrack, C. E. Deaton, T. H. Lawson, A. B. Lipscomb, C. E. Naylor, R. B. Parker, B. J. Shaw, F. P. Warren, two guests, Mrs. John B. Martin and Mrs. Pugh, of Amarillo, who was the house guest of the hostess, Mrs. O. B. Albritton.

Travel Club Meets At Woman's Forum Friday

Members of the Travel club met at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Friday afternoon for a lesson on "Sweden" when Mrs. Q. B. Lee led an interesting lesson on "Nobel Prize Winners in Literature" by Anne Russell Marble. Mrs. Lee gave an interesting paper on "Nobel, His Interests and Awards" and Mrs. E. T. Duff gave a paper on "Voyagers on Sea and Air" taking up Captain George Fried and Col. Charles Lindbergh. Mrs. Duff also read a paper on the same subject prepared by Mrs. W. W. Fraser.

Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin discussed Anne Morrow Lindbergh, and her poetry, and round table discussion was held on "Unique Handling of Temperance in Sweden" and "How the Nations Unite in Combatting Icebergs."

HOW WHITE IS WHITE?

WE USUALLY think of newly laundered things as pure white. But the truth is that most of the time they are not white at all. Sometimes they are gray, sometimes they are yellow, and sometimes they are even blue. It all depends on the soap.

White things will emerge from washing absolutely white if they are washed with a soap that is absolutely pure. And White King Granulated Soap is the purest soap made. No "filler" nor foreign matter—nothing but the finest vegetable oils, good enough to eat!

It's economical too! Because White King is condensed, a little of it goes a long way. One teaspoonful in a basin of water, one cupful in the tub. Safe and swift for blankets . . . dishes . . . lingerie. Your grocer has it.

Arbor Day Theme Studied by Story Telling Members

Another original program was given by members of the Story Telling club when Mrs. H. A. Glass was hostess to them Friday afternoon at her home on Avenue J in an Arbor Day meeting.

"An Oak That Owns Itself" was the subject of a talk by Mrs. Charles Litchfield, who spoke interestingly of the old oak near Athens, Ga. "The Boastful Bamboo," was a delightful number given by Miss Donnie Awtrey, a visitor. The lovely legend of the bluebonnet was given by Mrs. H. E. Kurtz and the beautiful musical number, "Trees" brought the program to a close.

In the short business meeting preceding the program, two names were voted on and accepted for membership, Mesdames L. E. McConnell and R. P. Willis.

Chicago Man Talks On Financing of Chest

"Financing a campaign is just as much a profession as law or medicine," a score of community chest directors were told Friday morning by James E. Almond of Chicago, secretary of the American City bureau, at a meeting in the directors room of the City National bank building.

Mr. Almond explained in his talk how his organization had financed 1,000 campaigns in the last 17 years and how such a campaign might be successfully handled in Wichita Falls.

Although the possibility of staging a campaign here under the bureau's direction was not discussed Friday morning, officials stated the matter would probably be taken up later.

H. A. Gray, president, was in charge of the meeting. Those present were Misses Erma Schnelle, Ida Catherine Walker and Myrle Neely; Messrs. Walter Robbins, A. E. Kelly, J. P. Marrs, W. E. Wilson, G. New City School Census, Starting Today, to List Six-Year-Olds

Eight census takers will begin Saturday morning taking the school census of Wichita Falls which will include all children who will be six years of age or under 18 years of age next Sept. 1, it was announced Friday by W. W. Brown, secretary of the board of education.

The census this year will include for the first time in the history of the state school children six years of age, due to the recent act of the legislature allowing six-year-olds to enter public schools. The census taking will extend throughout the month of March, Mr. Brown said. Parents were urged by the census officials to determine whether their children will come within the age limit by Sept. 1 in order to facilitate the count and prevent mistakes.

The census takers will be J. E. Park, H. A. Glass, S. L. Butler, R. A. Jarrott, W. A. Franklin, J. T. Rundell and W. E. Walker, and A. E. Holland, who will take the negro school census.

MR. EDISON'S SECOND WIND

Daily Editorial

MR. EDISON has planted his first two acres of goldenrod, is putting the last licks to his production equipment, and expects to begin delivery of artificial rubbery within a few months.

Time cannot wither nor age destroy his infinite variety of enthusiasms. At 83, he exhibits the identical qualities of pertinacity and resourcefulness which distinguished him at 38.

And thereby proves that old age —as Ninon de l'Enclos, George Bernard Shaw and Mr. Justice Holmes might attest—is a relative equation and a matter of personal opinion.

His unimpaired self-confidence should act as a tonic on several million of Mr. Edison's juniors, who are interpreting the appearance of a few gray hairs as summons to demobilize ambition and retreat to the dump-heap.

It dramatically challenges the balance sheet's recent tendency to conclude that the human mind has little to offer progress—or profit—after its fiftieth year.

Mr. Edison is running on his second wind. Folk who don't give their second wind a chance to show goods, aren't setting paces or winning races in any state of life or on any stage of affairs.

They don't attain distinction or celebrity as sprinters or sluggers or scientists—what have you in view?

They're operating by set schedule —following grooves, not inspiration.

Opportunity promptly scratches them from her visiting list, and business drops them from the pay roll, not so much because their potential utility is ended, but because anybody who hasn't demonstrated initiative, purpose or originality, at the high tides of energy and creative capacity, isn't likely to disclose a push-button on the nether side of meridian.

MR. EDISON needs no liniment for his thinking muscles. Very useful people are never conscious of birthdays or occupational strains; concentration doesn't notice the calendar.

Fatigue is the poison of obscure and unsympathetic tasks; it chiefly affects the job-cowards, who stick to uncongenital lasts and cower in perpetual fear of a weekly lay-off, rather than risk a single adventure in independence.

Those are the tasks that hag a man at his prime and prematurely loot his forces.

The essential difference between the notable and the mediocre is a matter of courage and perseverance.

Burning the candle at both ends isn't nearly so wearing as squandering vitality on distasteful or pifling objectives.

All the big things ever achieved on earth, were brought to pass by men who kept on when they were tired. Motors aren't wracked by continuous high speed; it's the intermittent stops and starts and the ceaseless application of brakes that rattle 'em to pieces.

The indefatigable plugger is longest lived. The head, like all other tools, deteriorates fastest and rusts quickest in idleness.

Introspection is a corrosive—unemployed imagination soon becomes an auto-cannibal.

Action circulates the blood and stimulates the faculties.

Half the old dodoes, sitting 'round seasonal resorts with nothing to do but shudder at emptying hour-glasses, would be a decade sprightlier if they hadn't heeded some fool doctor's advice to retire and "take it easy."

DAVID BRANCH'S DAILY FILOSOFY

"He who compromises with that which he knows to be wrong, insults his own soul."

It is the duty and privilege of each of us to stand up boldly for the things we know to be right. The truth and right is what everyone is seeking and it is the prerogative of all who have found the golden thread to enlighten others.

The point of America's dependence upon rubber was stressed at the naval conference. The only rubber Europe need worry about is the supply in the tourists' necks.

Some automobile drivers who look as if they owned the streets haven't even finished buying their cars.

New York is called Bagdad-on-the-Subway. How about a name for Chicago, something like Bombay-on-the-Beezer?

St. Vitus would blush for shame if he could see some of the modern dances.

If you enjoy having words, go and pick on Webster.

The Need of Prevention

EVERYBODY is pretty well up on the fact that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. One of these days we may have sense enough to take that into account in everyday life.

Two stories in the daily papers recently give especial point to this.

One of them concerns Ruth St. Clair, the 29-year-old New York woman who got a life term when she was convicted of shoplifting for the fourth time.

The other has to do with Charles Hannah, the 61-year-old misfit who has confessed to the murder of 4-year-old Melvin Horst at Orrville, Ohio.

If ever there were two cases that pointed to the need for preventive measures these are the two.

Take the St. Clair case first.

Ruth St. Clair has been up for shoplifting four times. All in all, she has stolen less than $1,000 worth of merchandise. For these offenses she has been sentenced to life imprisonment.

There was a good deal of protest at this sentence. Then Ruth's record was revealed. It is discouraging. Repeated attempts have been made to help her. Various people have tried to "give her a chance." Every time she has been a backslider.

She is by no means subnormal mentally; yet some queer, unexplained quirk in her makeup has pulled her back, each time, into a life of petty crime. Today, with all the good will in the world, New York officials are forced to admit that she is about incorrigible. Life imprisonment seems to be almost the only answer.

Then there is Hannah. He quit school as a boy and went to work in the coal mines. Then he took up railroading, was fired for drinking, did odd jobs for years, drifted into bootlegging, got into trouble—and finally wound up as the central figure in a peculiarly atrocious, revolting murder.

Now neither of these people is what we call a half-wit. But each one has always been lacking, in some psychological sense—an "incomplete personality," as the psychologist put it. Each one, given a fair degree of bad luck, was almost certain, from earliest childhood, to wind up as an enemy of society.

It's too late to do anything about it now, of course. The prison and the electric chair are about all that remain.

But some day it might pay society to adopt preventive methods in cases of this kind. There ought to be some way of spotting cases like this in advance. Perhaps the budding science of abnormal psychology is not quite far enough advanced, just yet; but at least it could give some valuable help.

As it is, we do nothing until the damage has been done. Then we dust out another cell and mourn another tragedy.

We won't be really civilized until we have found some way of steering these "incomplete personalities" into paths where they can harm neither themselves nor the rest of us.

Satiety

UNOFFICIAL REPORTS that the Madison Square Garden corporation sank at least $50,000 for the privilege of exhibiting Phil Scott in a ring with Jack Sharkey at Miami Thursday night may reveal something of a change in the attitude of a long-hoodwinked public.

Rising on the crest of Jack Dempsey's unusual popularity and on a period of extreme price inflation, the pugilistic trade for several years has offered fabulous purses to its leading performers, particularly in the heavyweight class. Jack's reputation as a mauler, the prevalence of a spendthrift attitude toward money, and the genius of Tex Rickard put the racket over on a large scale. During the past two years the same extravagant plan has been attempted, and there are many who will hope that Thursday night's box office verdict may convince both the heavies and the promoters that their field, like all others, must lower its financial sights.

There is nothing surprising in the willingness of a setup like Phil Scott to endure such hardships as training and preparatory matches occasion for one whirl at an American fighter of note. The American public has continued with apparent cheerfulness during the past several years to endow such flashes richly. It would have been hard to find a dozen men in any community who gave Scott an outside chance of beating Sharkey. The owners of that missing $50,000, after reading of the fight, will chuckle with satisfaction at having their money instead of used seat stubs as mementoes of their judgment. And promoters may be able to use the Miami Scott-Sharkey case as leverage in driving better bargains hereafter with the big fisted boys.

A Puzzle for Teacher

MODERN LIFE is full of puzzles; but somehow a school teacher seems to get more perplexing ones than anybody else—which, perhaps, is only natural, seeing that any youngster is enough of a puzzle to provide several grown-ups with mental exercise for days at a time.

Anyhow, a Cleveland school some time ago decided to segregate its pupils, putting the boys by themselves and the girls by themselves. Now, assessing the results, the teachers don't know what to think of it all.

Kept by themselves, the boys are fighting all the time and developing very rowdy tendencies. Kept by themselves, the girls also are getting rougher, so that they sock one another with rulers and talk back to their teachers.

Yet each group is getting far better marks in studies than formerly!

How are you going to figure that one out? There's a puzzle that the teachers will be chewing over for a long time.

Reply to a Guy Who Offers Me One Wish

Striving not to be Napoleonic,
Nor for love of a Helen of Troy;
Since you offer one wish as a tonic,
Let me tell you the one I'd employ.

Asking not for the genius of Moses,
Nor the wealth of an Indian king;
As this foregoing matter discloses,
I crave not any tangible thing.

Wisdom, wealth, even love, is a dumb thing
To be wished for, while man makes mistakes.
So, mister, when I wish for something,
All I'll ever request is "the breaks."

Newspaper Man Stuff

They still are laughing about it over in the N. Y. Times editorial rooms. On Lincoln's day one of the rag's Long Island correspondents interviewed the local civil war veterans and covered the village celebrations. Then he wound up his telegraphic report with: "The high spot of the day was Captain Tomkins' elocution at the town hall. He rendered Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which was as follows." The chump then jotted down the entire Gettysburg address.

The busy Times editor watching the Gettysburg speech come over the wire, became slightly ill, but not ill enough to prevent him from wiring the correspondent:

"On Washington's birthday for God's sake don't send us Washington's speech at Valley Forge. We've got it!"

Add Similes

John Fitzgerald's: "As optimistic as a dramatic critic who signs his name at the bottom of his reviews."

Merciless Truth

Every time we pass a certain corner on the canyon, where former headliners now collect and groan about things, we think of the classic pulled by Fatty Arbuckle, who, while sitting in a Hollywood restaurant had a drink of gin offered to him.

"What's that?" queried Fatty.

"Gin!" ejaculated the other.

"Gin?" asked Arbuckle.

"Yeah, gin," was the reply. "You know—the stuff you and I were buying 15 years ago when people we called "dumbbells" were buying real estate!"

By Way of Report

Now that the newspapers revive Rheba Crawford, the former Salvation Army lass, and record her divorce and forthcoming marriage, one wonders about the fellow who lost his job because he lost his head over the charming Hallelujah gal. When Rheba was "The Angel of Broadway" he wrote pieces for a New York rag, and one day jotted down a flattering paragraph about her. Rheba thanked him by letter. He wrote her, urging her to call at his office; that it would be to her advantage. Rheba called after hours, it appears, and found him attired in weird wardrobe. "I am a Yogi," he said as he fingered a crystal. "You and I were married 5,000 years ago!"

The frightened girl started for the door, but the mad lad threw her and began ripping her gown from her shoulders. Her screams brought him to his senses and he let her go. Her Broadway "pals," however, learning of her experience, had him barred from his club and then fired from his newspaper. That was several years ago, and he hasn't been able to connect since, for what little luck he's had has all been bad.

The only difference, incidentally, between him and most of his critics, is that he was found out. And as Joseph Hilton Smyth observes; "You either ride the town or the town rides you."

Portrait of a Columnist

The "Broadway Columnist" has served numerous novelists, playwrights and short-story scriveners in the past year. At least seven novels employed the Broadway Columnist as a leading or minor character, but in the exaggerated manner. It remained for Joseph Hilton Smyth, however, to be the first author to "catch" the type, and in his "Back to Broadway" short story in the current (Feb. 22) Satevepost, Smyth artfully jots down a perfect picture of a Broadway paragrapher who tries to "get away from it all."

And Smyth's accuracy is deadly. He makes his outstanding character (the columnist) mouthe such banalities as: "We all make mistakes. That's why Reno is so crowded."

The columnist's name is Wally Weber.

Incidentally

One wonders whatever became of the play Barry McCollum threatened to write and which was to deal with columnists. At the time Mr. McCollum announced that the first scene would be laid in the dining room of the Algonquin and the final scenes in a cemetery.

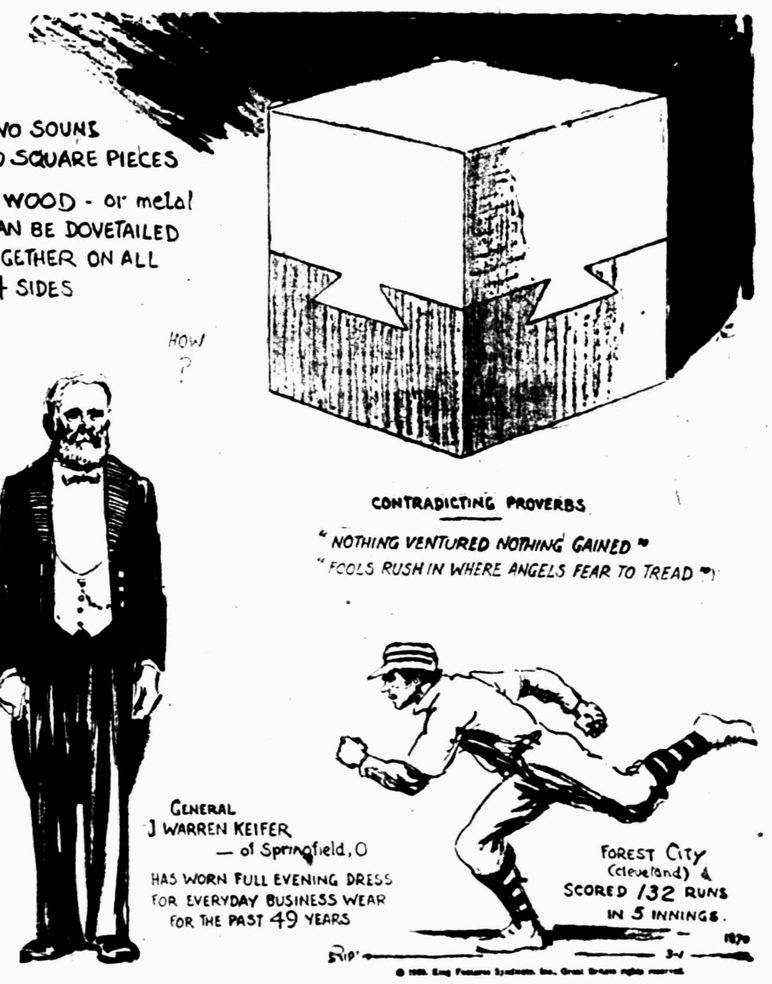

The "Algonquin Legend" still persists and it reveals how little any writer knows when he hammers away at the "Algonquin bunch." The only Algonquin writers are those without portfolio or those who call themselves "free-lance writers," which is ritz for meaning out of work.

Just for the Records

A contemporary rag breathlessly reports the discovery of "Jeff Davis," ex-but-rich husband of Ruth St. Clair, the shoplifter, whose life sentence under the Baumes law has aroused press, pulpit and public. The newspaper hastens to report that "Mr. Davis," as it prefers to call him, has promised to help his former wife with coin, and would have come forward sooner but for fear of losing his esteemed post with a mighty organization and his position in society.

Well, if we were going to shield Mr. Davis, we wouldn't have printed his photograph, but we don't see how it can do Jeff any harm. And anyway, he isn't rich, nor is his job an esteemed one. And he isn't in society. In fact he is the chief usher of a Forty-seventh street theater.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Passing of the Old-Fashioned Soda Fountain

A convention of carbonated beverage-makers was held the other day at which the transformation of the soda fountain from a soft-drink institution to a combination soup kitchen, delicatessen shop and all-hot stand was the chief topic of discussion.

PHILLIPS

The opinion was unanimous that the soft drink addict has been left high and dry by the change and that it is up to the soft drink men to rescue him through the direct sale of bottle drinks.

The change that has come over the old-fashioned soda fountain is bewildering. The old-time fountain specialized in sodas and the clerk was always a soda clerk and never a pastry chef, salad-mixer, apprentice waiter or grocer's assistant.

He satisfied thirsts, not hunger, and there was no flavor of the church picnic, butcher's barbecue or Elks chowder party about his domain.

No boy or girl ever went to a soda fountain for soups, sandwiches and stews. The knife and fork were no part of a drug store's equipment and if you went to the druggist and asked him to put you up a pie of blueberry pie, a slice of sponge cake or a Hungarian goulash you were merely ignored as either a practical joker or the village idiot.

During the last few years the drug store soda fountain has closed as a soda fountain and opened as a cafteria.

It has become merely a place where you may get a nut sundae or a strawberry soda if luck is with you and there are not too many people ahead of you waiting for hot groceries.

The modern soda fountain clerk may get away with a scant knowledge of soft drinks but he has got to understand plain and fancy cooking and hold a diploma in the art of slicing ham, bologna and tongue so thin that the ultimate consumer will have to depend entirely on the sense of sight rather than the sense of taste to determine what it is he is eating.

He must be an exponent of the close shave rather than a demonstrater of expert meat carving, and must know how to make each leaf of lettuce do a full day's work.

The carbonated beverage men are right when they say they see an opportunity to corral the discontented soft drink seeker. The drive to sell bottle drinks direct to the home with no sandwich man as a middleman has possibilities.

After all, no man dying of thirst was ever saved by two slices of rye bread and a piece of roast beef invisible to the naked eye.

You Can't Hold Your Place with Leaky Sails

Folly, you say, for a skipper to enter a race expecting his craft to ride the winds to victory with power blowing through holes in her sails—wasted!

And yet many business captains are practicing the same inconsistency. In the race for Wichita Falls' buying favor they are checking their own progress by allowing the potential power of many advertising dollars to escape through holes in their advertising program—wasted.

When it comes to advertising, too many business men seem to lay aside the keen judgment which brings them success in buying and selling merchandise. They do not buy advertising on a basis of value received for each dollar. To play the role of "Good Fellow" they often divide their advertising appropriation into bits, wastefully spattering a little here and a little there without due consideration of whether or not each advertising dollar is bringing the maximum return.

Friend Jones of the Elite Dramatic Club gets a contribution for one hundred dollars under the guise of an "advertisement" in the club program. Another hundred dollars is spent for a "stunt" advertisement which can attract the attention of comparatively few people—and, as a sales stimulant, is worth about as much to Mr. Merchant as the attention he would get by walking down Indiana Avenue attired in his B. V. D.'s.

Mr. High Pressure then comes along with a souvenir proposition which he paints as a great builder of good will for Mr. Merchant—and a few hundred dollars more are charged to the advertising appropriation without a chance of bringing a profit in sales.

Hundreds of dollars may also be spent for circulars and handbills which are scattered promiscuously about residential sections, read by few interested potential customers and resented by many householders who must pick them up.

The merchant who includes these and other equally wasteful ways of spending money in his advertising program places his business under the same handicap as the ship with holes in its sails. His loss in unproductive sales efforts reaches a total which really makes heavy inroads on his profits if he but knew it. In the race for business he cannot hope to keep pace with the sales organization powered with an advertising program which gets maximum returns for every dollar invested.

Check over your advertising program. Resolve that in 1930 there will be less of injudicious spending than in 1929. Before investing $10 or $100 in any scheme or in any medium of doubtful value, ask yourself just what you would be losing by not putting that money in tried and proved, result-bringing space in the Times and Record News. How much in cash receipts? How much in customer good will? How much in all the legitimate benefits of advertising?

Hold to the course! Plug up the wasteful leaks! Make every dollar yield its quota of actual sales!

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Bloodshot Eyes

Question—Mrs. J. C. J. writes: "My daughter has had to stop school on account of her eyes. They burn and are very much bloodshot. Not having worn her glasses regularly I believe brought on this acute condition. If you suggest a fast, do you think the fruit has been sprayed for the Mediterranean fly, and which is consequently lacking in acid, would be advisable?"

Answer—Your daughter's condition is probably caused by some systemic toxemia and is not due wholly to the fact that she has not worn her glasses enough. If her eyes require glasses she should certainly wear them at all times but see to it that her diet is correct and that her bowels move two or three times daily. The spray used on oranges does not affect the food value of the orange, and I am informed that the acid content is not changed, although this would make no difference in your daughter's case.

Acne

Question—G. K. writes: "Please advise me through your column how I may cure a severe case of acne which I have had for three years. Have tried many doctors, but got only temporary relief.

Answer—Acne is primarily caused by an unhealthy state of the colon which is due to using the wrong kind of foods. A contributing cause may be a naturally oily skin or carelessness in keeping the face clean. Wash the face several times daily, with soap and water, following with cold towels. Eliminate all fats and oils from your diet, using only small amounts of butter. Overcome constipation as soon as possible by following the diets I recommend in this column. Meanwhile, use a daily enema until normal bowel action is established.

Anti-Royalists In Spain Demonstrate

MADRID, Feb. 28. (AP)—Metropolitan Spain today was swept by a tide of republicanism and anti-monarchial demonstrations after a public pronouncement by Jose Antonio Sanchez Guerra, former premier and bitter enemy of the late dictatorship, in which he said: "I will never again serve the present king."

Thousands gathered in the streets of Madrid and fought with police who attempted to bring down their red banners and hush their shouts of "down with the king" and "death to the king." Ten civilians were arrested, and one man was injured seriously in a clash outside the theater in which the former premier's speech was delivered.

Gen. Damaso Berenguer, new Spanish premier, announced that henceforth all public political speeches would be prohibited. Many of the most prominent leaders of all parties had been making preparations for public pronouncements, but the decision apparently ended their plans.

Chicago Has Money But Can't Pay Off

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (UP)—Chicago had the money to pay the long overdue salaries of its employes today but couldn't use it.

Because of a legal technicality, the citizens' relief committee was unable to borrow from the taxpayers' trust fund, put into operation yesterday when subscriptions to pull the city out of its financial troubles went over the $50,000,000 mark.

Communist Paintings Bring Papal Protest

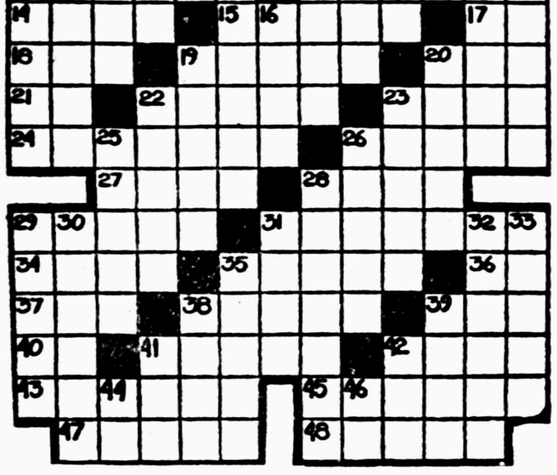

BERLIN, Feb. 28. (AP)—The papal nuncio today filed a protest with the federal Prussian government against a communist exhibition on paintings, one of which portrayed Christ on the cross wearing a gas mask and a pair of high boots. The action followed the centrist party's protest in the landtag against derision of Christianity and "slandering the pope, a Christian sovereign."

TWO INJURED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 28. (UP)—S. A. Walker and J. W. Simmons, oil field workers, were scalded severely today when a boiler in the south city oil field exploded.

INDIANS DEFEAT HILLSBORO, 31 TO 20, BUT LOSE TO PARIS

WICHITANS LAG IN TOURNAMENT

Junior College Round Robin Closes Today

Special to The Record News.

PARIS, Texas, Feb. 28.—The Wichita Falls Junior college Indians won their first basket ball game in the Texas Junior College Athletic association's tournament here tonight when they defeated Hillsboro Junior college, 31 to 20. The Indians this afternoon were defeated by Paris, 50 to 36. The Paris score of 50 was the highest recorded in any association game this season.

Yesterday the Indians were defeated by John Tarleton college and Texarkana, and today the Wichitans were regarded as virtually eliminated from the race. Paris, Texarkana and John Tarleton were leading the field as today's games drew to a close. Texarkana today beat Gainesville, 34 to 30; and John Tarleton defeated Hillsboro, 23 to 14.

The tournament ends tomorrow.

In the Indian's victory over Hillsboro tonight Blacklock, forward, led the scoring for his side with five field goals. He was closely followed by Allred, center, with eight points, and Dillard, who piled up six. Wedd, Hillsboro forward, led his team with six points.

London Irked At Sharkey's Victory

LONDON, Feb. 28. (AP)—There were few in London today who had a good word for the Sharkey-Scott fight decision in Miami last night.

One of them was Ted Broadribb, widely known referee, who had this to say of Lou Magnolia, the fight arbiter, in The Evening News.

"I have seen Magnolia control several fights and in my opinion he is a good referee and a man who won't be bluffed."

In general, however, the newspapers dealt in fire and brimstone—especially the evening papers. The morning journals could carry no more than a few lines of the result, but their afternoon colleagues were strong in condemning the decision which gave Sharkey a technical knockout when Scott claimed he had been fouled.

Fred Dartnell, The Star's boxing expert, cabled from Miami.

"I consider that Scott was deliberately robbed of the decision."

The Evening News asserts that many American sporting writers agree the blow which gave Sharkey victory was a foul. Its famous sporting cartoonist, Tom Webster, who is at Miami, said: "Although our Phil never looked like winning, he should have had the verdict on a foul."

Scott's English manager was reported in The News as saying: "Scott has failed in his attempt to bring back to Britain the world's heavyweight championship, but his failure will be a blot on American boxing history which will never be erased."

SCHMELING STARTS TRAINING TODAY

BERLIN, Feb. 28. (US)—Max Schmeling, Germany's aspirant for the world's heavyweight title, begins training tomorrow for his fight against Jack Sharkey, victor over Phil Scott, scheduled for New York in June. Maxie will train in the little wooded dale of Sienserthal near here.

"The greatest thrill of my life came this morning," said Maxie, "when I heard American radio fans calling for me to come to America to fight.

"You can bet I am going to fight, and give my best. They won't need to have a referee come to my aid, and I certainly won't yell 'foul!'

"The man who licks me will have to knock me out.

"I'll start training tomorrow, beginning with the light stuff like rope-skipping. At the end of March, I'm scheduled for a four-round exhibition at the Sports palace in Berlin, and then after more training, I'll probably sail for America at the end of April."

Asked what he thought of the Sharkey-Scott go in Miami last night, Maxie smiled, and answered:

"I think Scott's through as a fighter."

Two Texas Aggie Stars Advance in Baseball

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb. 28.—Following close on the heels of the announcement that Jerome Harris, former Texas Aggie cage and diamond star from San Antonio, had signed as a catcher with the Cleveland Indians, has come the notice that Siki Sikes, former three-letter man at A. & M., has been listed among the candidates for an outfield berth with the Shreveport Sports of the Texas league. Sikes lettered at A. & M. in football, basket ball, participating in each sport three years. He played end on the championship A. & M. grid elevens of 1925 and 1927 and with Joel Hunt, Gerald Mann and Raga Matthews distinguished himself in the annual East-West football classic of 1927. In 1928 he was captain of the Aggie cage team, playing at center and guard. He was a pitcher and first baseman in college baseball and last year was one of the leading hitters of the West Texas league with the lofty average of .368.

Olney Defeats Estelline, 21 To 17, To Tie Up Bi-District Race

Entire Cubs' Squad Holds Workout; Wright Regains Use of Hurling Arm

CLEARWATER, Fla., Feb. 28. (UP)—Shortstop Glenn Wright apparently has entirely recovered the use of his throwing arm which kept him out of action last season, and Manager Wilbert Robinson today appointed the former Pittsburgh star playing captain of the team.

Wright's play featured today's practice of the Robins and his home run in the final inning gave Hank Deberry's nine a 6 to 6 tie with Val Picinich's team in a six-inning game.

Adolfo Luque, the only missing pitcher of the squad, sent word today he would leave Cuba Tuesday, arriving here the following day.

More Braves Arrive

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 28. (UP)—Manager Bill McKechnie's Boston Braves squad is almost complete and infield and outfield workouts will be held daily beginning tomorrow. Fred Maguire, Bob James, Ralph Boyle, Johnny Neun and Bill Dunlap arrived today and Gene Robertson, Rollings, Nolan and Bratcher are expected tonight.

Lance Richbourg sent in his signed contract, spiking rumors he was a "holdout." He reported he had been working with the University of Florida team and would report at camp Saturday.

Gullic Injured

Moore Gives Promise

BILOXI, Miss., Feb. 28. (UP)—Carlos Moore of Birmingham, Ala., apparently is the only rookie with more than a fighting chance to earn a place in the Washington Senators' regular squad.

President Griffiths is relying on Moore, Bob Burke and Lloyd Brown for relief pitching with Fred Marberry, Hadley, and Ad Liska bearing the brunt of the work. Sam Jones and Garland Braxton are counted on as regulars later in the season but are expected to be late rounding into condition.

Helps has an outside chance to hang on as a catcher if he loses considerable weight. Rookie Pitcher Pyle is expected to be left in Chattanooga when the Senators leave and Don Savidge undoubtedly will be farmed out, with Pitcher Paul Daugert and Catcher Jester being slated for release unless they show unexpected form.

Two Phillies Missing

WINTERHAVEN, Fla., Feb. 28. (UP)—The arrival of Pitcher Earl Collard and a message saying Catcher Harry McCurdy would start for camp tomorrow, left only two Phillies battery men unaccounted for today. Chester Nichols is a holdout but no word has been received from Lou Koupal.

The Phils took a short workout this morning and were given the afternoon off.

Bartell Is Holdout

PASO ROBLES, Calif., Feb. 28. (UP)—The unexpected announcement that Dick Bartell, regular Pittsburgh shortstop, is a holdout, was made here today by Sam Dreyfuss, vice president of the club.

The salary asked by Bartell was not revealed. Burleigh Grimes, star spitball pitcher, is unsigned. He is at odds concerning salary and length of contract. Two workouts were held by the pitchers and catchers today.

Cubs Work Out

AVALON, Catalina Island, Calif., Feb. 28. (UP)—The entire squad of Chicago Cubs worked out today just after the outfielders arrived on the noon boat to join the pitchers and catchers.

There were 30 players in uniform when the first batting practice of the training season was held. Lester Bell, new third baseman, seemed to fit in well with the sluggers, Hornsby, Wilson, Stephenson and Cuyler. Beginning tomorrow two workouts will be held daily.

Rain Stops Red Sox

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 28. (UP)—Intermittent showers interfered with the work of Red Sox battery men today but Manager Wagnes had the men out long enough to loosen up.

The bright spot of practice to date has been the showing of Horace Lisenbee, who starred for Washington in 1927. Lisenbee claims to have entirely recovered from the arm trouble which handicapped his work last season.

Koenig Rejuvenated

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 28. (UP)—Mark Koenig's rejuvenation around shortstop, where he is fighting Lary for the berth, featured the workout of the Yankees today.

Koenig is very resentful over winter stories that New York officials were ready to trade him and he is playing a great game for so early in the training period.

The workout was devoted to routine, such as perfecting the fielding and batting styles of younger players and showing the rookie pitchers a few of the tricks.

Stars Arrive For Houston Marathon

HOUSTON, Feb. 28. (AP)—Clarence Demar, national champion, and a half dozen other distance stars, are expected tomorrow to take part in the national A. A. U. 20-mile marathon carded for Sunday.

Some of the runners arrived today and when the out of state stars check in tomorrow the entire field of 13 will be ready for the trip to San Jacinto battle grounds early Sunday morning.

The marathon will start at noon Sunday when the runners are sent on their way back to Houston.

Besides Demar, Bill Agee of the Emerywood A. C., Baltimore, winner of the national 15-mile marathon, and Joe Savage of New Orleans Athletic club are entered.

The Southern Pacific Athletic association of Houston has four men entered in the event, the Houston Y ones, and two runners are listed from Dallas. The other six men are registered from out of state clubs.

VICTORY COMES AS SURPRISE

Cubs Break Tie in Final Quarter to Win

By FRED LANDERS
Record News Correspondent

ESTELLINE, Texas, Feb. 28.—The Olney Cubs, basket ball champions of district 4, tonight won a sensational vitory over the Estelline quintet, champions of district 3 in the second of a series of matches to decide the bi-district championship. The score was 21 to 17. Olney's victory placed the Cubs in a tie with Estelline for the bi-district honor, the latter having trounced the Cubs 24 to 12 in the first championship bout last Wednesday night at Olney. The tie will be played off here Saturday night.

Last Minute Victory

The immortal W. Gilmore, Olney's crack forward who was the outstanding star when the Cubs won the district 4 championship at Wichita Falls two weeks ago, and Wright, star Cub center, broke a 17 to 17 tie in the last three minutes of play tonight to win the game. Each tossed a filed goal.

Nor was this the only time during the clash that the score was tied. Playing air-tight basket ball, the two teams found themselves tied 3 all at the end of the first quarter, and 10 all at the half. Estelline forged ahead in the third quarter, which ended 14 to 17 in their favor. The Cubs rallied, however, and as the last stanza neared the finale the score for the third time was tied, 17 all. What happened after that was being celebrated tonight by a large delegation of Olney folk here for the bout.

Wright did the lion's share of the scoring for Olney, garnering nine points off of three field goals and the same number of free goals. S. Wix came second with five points, and W. Gilmore third with four. S. Curtis, Estelline forward, was high point man for his side with three field goals.

1800 See Game

Olney's victory tonight was witnessed by some 1800 people, who overflowed the high school gymnasium, thus breaking a precedent here for attendance at a cage bout. The majority were swept off their feet by the Cub's victory, as Estelline was a high favorite to repeat their triumph of last Wednesday.

The winner of Saturday night's game will represent districts 3 and 4 at the state tournament to be held in Austin in the near future.

AGGIES MEET TEXAS TONIGHT

A. & M. Hopes to Leap Out Of Cellar

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Feb. 28. (AP)—Their hopes for a position far from the cellar in the conference basket ball standings blasted by two losses to the champion Arkansas Razorbacks last week, Coach John Reid's Texas Aggies are determined to add a tinge of brightness to their now rather dull record by defeating the Texas Longhorns in the season's finale at the A. & M. Memorial gymnasium Saturday night.

Though the game will have no material effect on the conference pennant race, already won by the Arkansas quintet, the Aggies and Longhorns will share the center of the conference spotlight this week by virtue of the long rivalry that has made them outstanding athletic enemis of the conference. While to lose or win the game will not affect the Longhorn's second place rating in the percentage column, to the Aggies a victory will mean a position above the cellar.

In their first meeting this year the Longhorns were victors, 33 to 25, and Saturday night the Reidmen will be seeking revenge for that defeat.

Altus Girls and Pleasant Point Boys Enter Tourney Semi-Finals

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Feb. 28.—The Altus senior girls defeated Friendship, 35 to 15, in the opening game of the eleventh district high school basket ball tournament of the state Thursday night in Altus. The Hess girls defeated Victory by a count of 15 to 14, placing Altus and Hess girls in the semi-finals for Saturday morning, much to the surprise of the large audience witnessing the games. Pleasant Point senior boys defeated Ozark 31 to 15. This defeat was due mainly to the failure of Smith, Ozark forward, to appear at the court until the first half of the game was completed. Ozark formerly had been counted as a strong contender for district honors.

Olustee boys defeated Victory, 25 to 23, leaving Pleasant Point and Olustee to compete in the semi-finals Saturday afternoon.

Semi-finals of the district tournament will be held Saturday morning and afternoon and the two final games to determine district winners to enter the regional tournaments of the state will be played Saturday night.

Leaders to Discuss Plans for School

Definite plans toward the proposal to establish a complete, modern aeronautical training school in Wichita Falls as part of the Spartan School of Aeronautics of Tulsa will be discussed at a banquet and meeting to be held in the ballroom of the Kemp hotel at 6 o'clock Saturday evening to which all persons interested in aviation have been invited, it was announced Friday by Norman G. Souther, business manager of the Spartan school.

Officials of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, who have been displaying an interest in the proposed school, will be in attendance at the banquet to take part in the discussions and aid in determining the interest manifest by Wichitans toward obtaining the school. Mr. Souther Friday urged all persons interested in any phase of aviation to attend. No charge will be made.

The proposal of the Spartan school is to bring the capital and complete equipment to Wichita Falls for establishment of the training school, and to employ, as far as possible, local mechanics, pilots and instructors for the work, Mr. Souther explained. Hangar space will be rented from the Municipal airport on the Burkburnett highway, where plans call for the school to be located, and gasoline, oils and supplies will be purchased there.

To demonstrate the type of equipment used by the Spartan school, a fleet of nine ships from the Tulsa school, piloted by advanced students from all parts of the United States will arrive in formation at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, remaining over Sunday at the Municipal airport.

FARMERS TO REDUCE COTTON

Acreage Cut Expected Here; Egg Prices Lower

Material reduction in cotton acreage in this section of the country for the 1930 crop was predicted Friday by agricultural leaders here, with the probable percentage of reduction estimated at from 10 to 15 per cent.

Belief was expressed that the address given at the courthouse Thursday night by C. O. Moser of Dallas, vice president and secretary of the American Cotton Cooperative association, had accomplished a great deal of good for the industry through presenting to a representative group of farmers and business men the conditions existing and the measures recommended for their correction.

Thursday night's gathering included representations from Altus, Frederick, Grandfield and other Oklahoma communities; Electra, Vernon, Seymour, Burkburnett, Archer City, Henrietta and other nearby cities.

It was also predicted that the amount of cotton marketed next fall through farmers' cooperatives will be much increased over former years. In 1929, it was said, only about 8 per cent of the cotton grown in Texas was disposed of through the cooperatives. In Southwestern Oklahoma about 95 per cent of the crop was marketed in that manner. The fact that cooperatives may now obtain money for their ventures from the government, through the federal farm board, greatly enhances their opportunities for handling more cotton from every Texas community, it was stated.

Following a drop of 75 cents per case on eggs delivered at Chicago, local prices took a 15-cent cut Friday afternoon. No. 1 fresh eggs in new cases now are worth $5.85 delivered to local dealers, $5.60 in old cases.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 28. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Liberal hog receipts around the 11-market circuit resulted in generally 10 to 25c lower prices on the lighter weights while at some centers strong weight butchers suffered losses of 25c to 50c. The top of $11.40 was paid at Chicago and St. Louis. Offerings 102,400, an increase of 32,500 over a week ago and 10,000 more than a year ago.

Fat lamb trade was more active and steady. Choice 82-90-pound lambs in Chicago, cleared from $10.00@10.50 with choice light weight lambs upward to $10.85. The supply approximated 43,600 against 40,957 last Friday and 40,205 a year ago.

No material price changes on cattle. Trade at most markets was the usual Friday cleanup. Eastern dressed beef markets reported demand very slow with price concessions being made in an attempt to effect a clearance. Light to moderate supplies will be necessary the forthcoming week if current prices on killing classes of cattle are to be maintained, although stockers and feeders are closing the week rather slow the market for such offerings has a brighter outlook than for slaughter grades. Shipments of replacement stock to Kansas this week were comparatively light due to the desire of Kansas buyers to delay their purchases until after March 1 which is the tax assessment date. Receipts 10,500, a slight increase over a week ago but about the same as a year ago.

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 28. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Hogs—Receipts 1,100; truck hogs 10c $10.90 on choice 110 pounds; packing sows $8.25@9.40; stock pigs $7.75@9.35.

Cattle—Receipts 600, calves 400; steady, slaughter steers, good and choice, 950 to 1,500 pounds, $11.50@15.25; fed yearlings $12.25@15.50, heifers $10.75@14.00; cows $7.50@9.75; vealers $7.50@13.50; stocker and feeder steers $10.50@13.25.

Sheep—Receipts 3,000; steady; lambs $8.75@9.85; ewes $3.75@5.35.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 28. (AP)—Cattle—Receipts 1,000; calves 300; dull; top $12.25 for heifer yearlings, heavy steers around $11.50; few cows good enough to bring more than $8; bulk heifers $9.00@10.50; yearlings $11.00@12.25.

Hogs—Receipts 1,500; 25c lower; top $10.25.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. (AP)—Cotton was comparatively quiet today with fluctuation rather irregular. Steadiness in the wheat market promoted rallies from early declines, but they were not fully maintained and after selling up from 15.38 to 15.55 May closed at 15.51 compared with 15.52 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed barely steady at net declines of 1 to 7 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 2 to 8 points. Offerings were light, and the market soon steadied up to about yesterday's closing quoations. The demand tapered off on this little bulge and the market weakened again later in the morning with May selling off to 15.38 and old October to 15.78 or about 14 to 15 points net lower on the active positions. This dip brought in more covering and some buying on the steadier ruling of the wheat market which sent the price of old October up to 15.96 or 4 points net higher. There was a renewal of realizing in the last few minutes and closing prices were a few points off from the best. Trading in new contracts was relatively quiet.

Continental and Bombay buying was said to have been supplied by realizing in Liverpool and cable advices reported moderate sales of cotton cloths to Africa and South America. In the Manchester market, but said yarns were dull, with stocks burdensome.

Exports today 24,261 bales making 5,414,443 so far this season. Port receipts 13,119. U. S. port stocks 2,162,558.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 28. (AP)—A report that the secretary of agriculture would recommend against closing any of the commodity exchanges as proposed in congress had a steadying effect on cotton today and rallied the market 17 points from an earlier decline. The market lost about 7 to 8 points of the recovery in late trading on realizing and July closed at 15.56, or 6 points net lower.

Bear Activities Offset by Ease In Money Market and Wheat Gains

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Feb. 28. (US)—Early attempts of professionals to depress prices were offset by continued ease in the money market and favorable grain developments so that the list closed higher in less active trading today. Washington advices telling of further steps planned by the federal farm board to halt professional destruction of grain prices was the most important influence to bullishness. Steel gained fractionally while Anaconda finished with advance of 1¾. General Electric gained 2⅛, Westinghouse 6, Paramount 1¼, Warner 2⅞, American Telephone 3⅛, Houston Oil 3⅝, Union Carbide 2¼, Brunswick Balke 2, United Aircraft 5, Water Works 4¼, Midland Steel Products 13⅛. Call money rate again eased from renewal of 4½ to 4 per cent. Turnover dropped to near the 3,000,000 share level.

With the market unsettled early in the day several brokers passed out the advice that there was "disappointment because brokers loans were down only $5,000,000 for the week." Such advice is foolish. If the drop in brokers' loans had any significance or importance, at this time, it would be bullish. They are up only $170,000,000 from the low of January despite the rising market since that time. That represents very little public participation. That part of the trading public that has stocks evidently did not sell much during the past week and that fact alone should be pleasing to those who are allied to the bull side for one reason or another. There can be no broad advance of consequence, otherwise known as bull market, without the public. Increases in loans, or small declines in times of irregularity, are bullish, if anything.

Run in of the shorts in the Copper stocks was well advertised, particularly in connection with Anaconda. Insiders appeared to be working in the stock as floor report told of brokers allied with dominant banking interests doing most of the buying. While the whirl was on the street was flooded with reports of "big orders placed privately." It was inferred that several Utilities as well as Electric companies had been booking for needs ahead. If these reports were correct it would seem that the report of stocks of metal on hand should reflect such demand in as much as production at most mines has been cut for the past three weeks. So far figures showing stocks on hand do not confirm the rumors.

Talk of American Telephone split up was in circulation again, some brokers maintaining such recapitalization was nearer than generally expected. Warner brothers officials were reported holding conversations with Brunswick Balke interes's, looking to closer alliance. Instead of Chrysler trying to get control of Auburn, it was reported, the negotiations that have taken place have had to do with Chrysler getting use of some of the Auburn patents. Parmelee Transport annual report will be out in a few days and is expected to show net of about $4 a share. Baldwin pool is resuming operations and reviving earnings estimates upwards. One of those things is going on in Canada Dry again and like previous pool work is accompanied by rumors of merger with White Rock. The talked of basis of exchange is entirely out of line with the market.

Further interesting stories are told of the plans of Eastern Utilities, if and when investigations and the result thereof permit. Recent buying of Brooklyn Union, it is claimed, has been for the account of the Koppers Coke or Mellon group. The Bexley corporation, Gregory corporation and others allied with the Koppers group now have close to actual control of the company it is claimed. They have had working control of the company for several years. Those who should know what is going on maintain this group will not dispose of their stock for less than $300 a share or its equivalent.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 28. (AP)—Reports current late today tended to show that Europe finally is buying substantial amounts of wheat for March, April and May shipment from North America. Active purchasing of Chicago future delivery wheat contracts gave an increasing upward tilt to wheat values here, with demand ascribed largely to government sponsored agencies. After wheat dealings had closed for the day, however, insurance rates on all grain transactions were greatly disturbed by rumors of possible injunction proceedings likely to interfere with workings of the marketing act under which the federal farm board and its allies are operating.

Chicago closing quotations on wheat were unsettled, ranging from the same as yesterday's finish to 2⅝ cents a bushel higher. Corn closed ⅛ to 1⅛ cents up; oats ⅛ to ⅜ cents advance, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 2 cents.

The market was very active, and prices averaged about 3⅛ cents higher for May as compared with yesterday's finish. At one stage, May reached within one cent of the government loan basis, but profit taking sales led to subsequent reactions.

Considerable notice was also taken of an authoritative statement that British importers are behind in purchasing their overseas quota, and that a steady demand from Great Britain for wheat will develop shortly.

Export clearances from this country and Canada for the week were 3,050,000 bushels, the smallest total for any week in many years.

Trade sentiment as to corn was in general much more friendly to buying than of late. Commission houses stressed statements that more natural action of prices may be looked for regarding corn than as to wheat. Corn values were also strengthened by reports of prospective enlarged demand from feeders of hogs. Oats went higher owing to sympathy with corn and wheat.

In provisions the effect of grain strength was counterbalanced by downturns of the hog market.

Closing bids and offers: Wheat—March $1.07⅞@1.15⅞, May $1.16⅞@1.10⅝, $1.18⅝@1.19, July $1.11⅞@1.11⅝, $1.17⅞, September $1.14⅞@1.19⅞. Corn May 86⅞@89⅞c, July 86⅞@89⅞; September 89@91⅞.

Export Gasoline Prices Reduced

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 28.—Reduction in export gasoline prices, announced from New York and made effective as of Fb. 27, will hit some of the refineres who sold some of their higher gravity motor fuels during the early part of February, and which are still being delivered.

The half cent a gallon reduction will be absorbed by the shippers, for the material was sold on the basis of prices prevailing at time of shipment. The new export prices follow:

U. S. motor 8 cents.
60-62, 400 ep. 9 cents.
64-66, 390 ep. 9½ cents.
64-66, 375 ep. 9¼ cents.

In the Mid-Continent the U. S. motor market is steady, with refiners reporting prices at from 5¾ to 6½ cents a gallon in tank car lots. Kerosene is also reported at 4½ to 4¾ cents a gallon for the 41-43 grade. Fuel oil and gas oil are soft, with the 32-36 grade of gas oil at 2½ cents a gallon. In January it went to 3 cents. The 18-22 grade of fuel oil is reported at 62½ to 77½ cents a barrel, but the quotation depends on the state of affairs of the refiners storage. One finds 22-26 grade around 75 cents a barrel and 24-26, where it is available, at 80 cents a barrel.

COW RUSTLERS FIRE ON PLANE

Girl Killed in Crash Laid To Thieves' Guns

WALSENBURG, Colo., Feb. 28. (AP)—The theory of a pilot that his plane was crippled by shots fired at it by cattle rustlers caused an investigation today into an airplane crash that brought death to a high school girl and serious injuries to another on isolated Mosca pass yesterday.

Miss Elsie Noble, 16, high school student at Pueblo, was killed and Miss Abra Tallow, 16, also a student at the school, was seriously injured. Harry Miller, pilot, suffered slight injuries.

Miller told authorities he felt two shots hit the plane after which an aileron refused to function.

100 EXPECTED AT U. T. DINNER

Texas Exes to Hear Talk by Littlefield

Approximately 100 graduates and ex-students of Texas university representing Wichita county are expected to attend the annual banquet sponsored by the local Texas-exas sociation at the Wichita club Saturday night at 7 o'clock, when Clyde Littlefield, head coach of football and track at the university will be the principal speaker.

Local associations throughout the state celebrate Texas Independence day annually with a banquet, the plan having been instituted several years ago as a means of keeping alive close contact between the university and those who have been students there in the past.

Mr. Littlefield has been connected with the athletic department of Texas university almost constantly, with the exception of time given to military service during the war, since his graduation in 1916. For the past two years he has been head coach of the predominating fall and spring branches of athletics. Selection of a subject for his talk here Saturday night has been left with the speaker.

Arrangements for the banquet, and the program to be given in connection with it, have been made by a committee headed by Joe Hatchitt. Julian Montgomery, president of the local association, will be toastmaster. Dr. O. T. Kinbrough, baritone, will sing "On the Road to Mandalay," by Oley Speaks.

Other features of the program will involve all those present, it was indicated, although no indication as to the exact trend to be taken by such entertainment was given by the committee. Assignments to various members have been sufficiently enigmatic to suggest that something of a "gridiron" program will be followed.

Ticket sales have been in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. E. E. Fischer. The banquet is to begin at 7 o'clock.

Will of Jens Moller Filed With Clerk Here

The estate of Jens Moller, Texas pioneer who died her last week, is to be divided between his two sons, Albert Voltaire Moller and Jens Jr., according to the terms of a will filed Friday afternoon with Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk. The value of the estate is estimated at around $35,000.

Under the terms of the will the money is left in trust to the two sons, the income to be paid semi-annually to the older and handled through the trustee for Jens Jr. James A. Mytinger is named trustee. Mr. Mytinger, Ralph Mathis and A. V. Moller are named executors of the will. Provision is made for the distribution of the estate among the grandchildren at the death of the older son.

Mr. Moller, a native of Denmark, spent many years of his prime in Galveston, where he was a leader in civic development. He came to Wichita Falls several years ago to be with his eldest son. He died here at the age of 86 years early last week.

MAJESTIC: George Arliss in "Disraeli," all-American selection for best picture of 1929. Sound news. "Hardboiled Hampton," comedy.

STRAND: "Sunny Side Up," Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. Talking shorts. Sound news.

STATE: "Unholy Night," with Ernest Torrence, Dorothy Sebastian and Roland Young. Talking shorts. Sound news.

GEM: Bob Custer in "Parting of the Plains." Chapter No. 13 of "Tarzan, the Tiger." "Household Blues," comedy.

Taken by and large, "Sunny Side Up," now gushing Polly Annism at the Strand, may answer a flock of questions. In the first place, it may indicate just how much thought enters into the cry for worth-while entertainment on the talking-screen; that is, if such a cry really is raised, but is it? This picture appears to have definite "box-office" approval all over the country, and recently ran over time down in San Tone. From another angle it certainly explains the predominance of divorces among the motion picture colonists. Despite any effort which might be made toward remaining uncontaminated, one's habits for leisure (or domestic) hours do take on the color of the daily occupation. And if the husband of any glorified American girl talked the inane chatter of these current leading men when he came home from work, a fortnight at the most should be fixed as the limit of her endurance. Conversely, should any wife deliver herself of such imbecilic speeches as are given to the female half of these love-pairings, it is easy to realize how pleasantly the jaded male could contemplate coughing up fat alimony in exchange for sweet relief.

But what has it in the way of entertainment? El Brendel, chiefly, in occasional flashes of comedy; a little flaxen-haired hussy who can cuss a bit, and dance a bit more; and one elaborately spectacular stage set, in which the idea of red-hot S. A. is represented as melting the igloos behind which the shapely dancers were hidden. None of which includes Janet Gaynor nor Charles Farrell. Mere semblance of plot is excused in musical comedy when it serves merely as a cue-sheet for bringing on musical or dance specialties. So the "Sunny Side Up," story might be excused—if Miss Gaynor or Mr. Farrell could sing, even a little bit. Pursuing the hopeless circle, the singing voice may be terrible if the little girl be a "Jersey Lily" in personal beauty, but Janet—well.

◇ ◇ ◇

One portion of the picture was cast according to its general musical and intellectual content—the chorus of 6-year-old tots were naturally appealing, and sang exceptionally well for their age.

State Asks Padlock On Electra House

Padlocking of a house in Electra where the dispensing of intoxicating liquor is charged is sought by the district attorney's office in an injunction petition filed in the 30th district court against Mrs. Flora Bell Douglas Friday afternoon.

The petition filed by Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney, alleges the sale of whisky in the house and asks that Mrs. Douglas be placed under a $1,000 bond to obey the closing injunction.

Judge Allan D. Montgomery set Monday morning, March 3, for a hearing on the petition in the 30th court here.

Council Extends Tax Penalty Date

An extension of 30 days for payment of city taxes was granted Friday afternoon at a special meeting of the city council, adjourned from the regular session last Monday night. The original grant of an extension of time for payment ended Friday, the present extension ending April 1, the beginning of the fiscal year for the municipal government.

No further time will be allowed, it was decided, and a penalty of 10 per cent will be assessed for payments after April 1. No other business was discussed at the meeting. Alderman C. E. McCutchen acted as mayor pro-tem in the absence of Mayor J. W. Akin.

Radio Committee Of Junior C.-C. Announced

Appointment of the radio committee of the Junior chamber of commerce for the current year was announced Friday, with Temple Shell as chairman, and Jerry W. Moffet as vice chairman.

'CHUTE JUMP LISTED SUNDAY

Fleet of Planes Also to Give Demonstrations

A fleet of airplanes in exhibition flying and a "delayed" parachute jump will feature an aeronautical demonstration to be held Sunday afternoon at the Municipal airport on the Burkburnett highway, it was announced Friday by C. P. Logan, manager of the port.

R. C. Bridges of Holliday, veteran pilot, will jump from a ship at an altitude of 5,000 feet and fall approximately 1,500 feet before pulling the rip cord which opens his chute. The jump will take place at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon, Mr. Logan said.

A fleet of nine ships from the Spartan School of Aeronautics of Tulsa, Okla., will be on the field throughout the day and will give demonstrations of flight both over the city and the landing field. In addition, a tiny Heath four-cylinder airplane will be on exhibition at the field. This ship is one of the smallest planes in the world which is capable of actual long-distance flight. The regular tri-motored transport ships will land at the port on regular schedule all day Sunday, four in the morning and four in the afternoon.

RITES HELD FOR D. L. HILL

Last Services Said for Gas Company Official

The city of Mineral Wells Friday afternoon paid tribute to a former prominent business man and citizen when funeral services for D. L. Hill, 39, who died in a Wichita Falls hospital early Thursday, were held at 2 o'clock from the First Baptist church of that city. Dr. Harlan J. Matthews, pastor of the Mineral Wells church, and Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church here, officiated at the rites. Interment was in the Mineral Wells cemetery.

The body was taken to that city early Friday morning by the Hines mortuary, in whose charge the body was held here.

The Sam Houston school presented a program on Sam Houston. Roy J. Daniel was the principal speaker and talked on "Texas Day Independence and the Part Sam Houston Played in Independence." The children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades sang Texas songs.

A Texas day program will be given at the Zundelowitz Junior High school next Friday evening, it was announced.
