Funeral services will be conducted Thursday, February 26, at 10:00 a.m. in First United Methodist Church, with the Rev. James Boswell, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Henry Deskins (Deck) Wells was born in Collingsworth County May 18, 1902, the son of the late Lucy Duke Wells and Henry Clay Wells. He attended Canyon Normal, now West Texas State University from 1919 to 1921.

He was graduated from the University of Texas at Austin with a bachelor of arts degree in 1923 and bachelor of journalism degree in 1924. He lettered in tennis and was a member of Phi Kappa Psi and was issue editor of The Daily Texan, the university newspaper.

In the summer after his graduation, he returned to Wellington to take a job with the Leader. He bought half interest from his cousin, J. Claude Wells, the following year. In 1931, he became full owner.

Under his direction, the newspaper won numerous regional, state and national awards and prizes. The Leader was the first newspaper in Texas to publish a history of its home county in book form.

He wrote a weekly column, "Deck's Didactics," which also won numerous awards.

H. DESKINS WELLS

The newspaper's subscribers often said that it was their favorite item. His topics ranged from international politics to travel to the day-to-day activities of the people of Collingsworth County. But many of his columns were nature studies. Wildlife, geography, the changing seasons, the sky and the stars inspired some of his best writing. The column was often quoted in Texas daily and weekly newspapers.

Mr. Wells had been president of the Panhandle Press Association and was president of the Texas Press Association in 1938-1939.

He was a candidate for Congress in 1940.

From 1941 to 1947, he was executive secretary of the Texas Press Association. He published the Texas Press Messenger from 1942 to 1947, maintaining the state offices at his newspaper. During this time, work was

Quail-Valley Play Again Friday Night

Quail and Valley boys will play Friday, February 27, at 7:30 p.m. to determine the winner of the District 4-B tournament. The game will be in Clarendon High School Gym.

These same teams were contenders for the top place in round robin play, with Quail taking that division of the championship by a narrow margin.

If the Quails win again Friday, they will be uncontested 4-B champion.

If Valley wins the tournament, the teams will meet in a playoff a game, Coach Bill Wilson said.

The 4-B winner will play Mobeetie, already champion in District 3-B.

In the first round of tournament play, Quail and Valley each drew byes Monday night, February 23. Norwood defeated Estelline and Hedley won over Lakeview.

The second round Tuesday night saw Quail defeat Norwood 69-49, in a game that was fairly close until the last four minutes of play.

Three Norwood Eagles were in double figures. Clinton Oldham with 13, Clifford Oldham and Richard Lee with more than 10. Randy Breeding and Rick Bentley made 8 each.

Gary Wischkaemper was game leader with 24 points. Johnny Needham 13, Tommy Caldwell 12, Brian Barton and Harvey Oatman 8 each and David Russell four.

Also in the second round, Valley defeated Hedley 61-43, in game that saw neither team playing to its capability.

"We want to urge Quail fans -- and anyone else interested in seeing a pretty good ball game, to be at Clarendon Friday night," said Coach Wilson.

Flea Market Set for First Weekend in Mar.

Wellington's first Flea Market is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, March 6 and 7.

"Anyone who has anything at all they want to bring and sell is welcome," Johnny Nash, one of the organizers, said.

Those who wish to sell are encouraged to load their items into a pick-up or truck and drive it to the market on Saturday morning. Sellers will be assigned a parking place for their vehicle. An area will be set aside behind Johnny's Texaco and Carroll's on Hwy. 83.

The Wellington Lions plan to operate for the sellers a refreshment stand.

Flea markets such as the one at Bowie attract traders from hundreds of miles. Many people bring truckloads of a wide variety of items, from trinkets to equipment to valuables. Others arrive with empty trucks and leave with them full after a week-end of shopping.

Organizers hope to make the Flea Market a monthly event on the first week end of each month.

Clement Asks School Plant Survey by TEA

Wellington School Superintendent E.W. Clement requested this week that the Texas Education Agency in Austin survey the elementary school physical plant and make recommendations for its improvement.

Clement said the TEA school plant section provides at no charge engineering and architectural consultants to school districts upon request.

"The school board is aware of the problems at elementary school," Clement said, "and we feel it will be good to get expert advice."

Clement said the consultants act as advisors only, and that all decisions on the school plant will continue to be made by the school board.

Quails Win 4-B Round Robin Tournament Finals Friday

Quail Quails won the District 4-B round-robin championship over the Valley Patriots 57-54 Thursday, February 19, in Clarendon Gym. The victory came after Quail took over the lead in the last three minutes of play, then two free shots with two seconds to go helped secure the title. Quail is currently playing in the 4-B tournament, which counts for one-half in determining the Class B district championship. The finals will be played Friday night in Clarendon. If the Quails win, they will have the championship outright. If they lose, a play-off will be held Saturday night. The winner will then play Mobeetie, which already has won the District 3-B title, for the bi-district title. Valley led by 13 points with two minutes remaining in the third period, but the Patriots, with 7 turnovers and several missed shots, saw their lead drop to four points by the end of the period. Quail hit 5 of 9 field goals in the fourth quarter, while Valley managed two of 11. The Quails rebounded the Patriots 6-4 in that period and Brian Barton's two free-throws, his only two points of the game, with seconds left were all that Quail needed. Quail ended the season schedule with a 29-3 record. The youngsters from West Collingsworth had a slow first half, and this was down Valley's alley. The Patriots had a good second period and led 34-24 at halftime. Quail shot 48 per cent of the field goals during the first half, but Valley shot 58. The Quails came back shooting 48 per cent in the third period, and the Patriots dropped to around 36, allowing Quail to outscore its opponent 17-11. Much of this was through free shots. The Quails made 7 of 9 shots. Valley one two. Quail still trailed four points going into the final quarter, but outscored Valley 16-9 and made four of 6 free shots. Valley made 5 of 10. Quail upped their shooting percentage to 55 per cent. Valley continued in the 30s. The Quails, led by Gary Wischkaemper, who scored 29 points, and Johnny Needham, who had 12, sparked Quail's offense. The two seniors combined for 11 points in the last two minutes of the third period. They scored 6 more points in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter and enabled to get its first lead since early in the game, 49-47. Valley's leading scorer, Pepper Jones, who had 15, tied the game with 4:41 left.

Bentley Escapes Injury in Wreck

Richard Bentley of Dozier received minor injuries in a one-vehicle accident Monday, February 23, which cost the life of a prominent Canadian man, Freddie Powell, 19. According to Shamrock Police Chief George Hooten, the accident occurred 9 miles west of that town on Highway 1-40. Powell was identified as the driver of the late model Ford 4-wheel drive pickup loaded with cake, when the left rear tire blew out, causing him to lose control. Powell was thrown out of the vehicle after it had overturned several times, and it then rolled over him. Chief Hooten brought Bentley to Shamrock General Hospital where he was treated and released, and where Powell was pronounced dead on arrival.

Newspaper Awards Cover Half-Century

In his early years as editor, Deck Wells hung out a shingle under the newspaper building's awning that typified his optimistic and progressive out-look. It read "The Wellington Leader-Texas Greatest Weekly Newspaper." And over the years many judges in regional, state and national contests agreed. Under his leadership, The Leader has been used to interpret an agricultural economy to university students in an industrial area, and served several times as a pattern for presenting agricultural news.

In 1933 Deck's Didactics was judged the best local column in the state-wide newspaper contests. The Amarillo Globe News trophy honored it as most outstanding some years later. The Silver Anniversary Edition published in 1934 was named the Outstanding Edition for a weekly newspaper in Texas and also the Most Outstanding Edition by the State Fair of Texas. Twice The Wellington Leader won the prestigious Dallas News trophy, in 1936 as the Best All Around weekly in Texas, and the General Excellence Award in 1949.

The appreciation award for Texas Press Association president, 1938-39. The Fort Worth Star Telegram award for outstanding service to agriculture came in the 1940s. The award for Unselfish Service in Soil Conservation came in 1950. More awards came:

First place in column writing in 1951 by the Texas Press Association.

Third place, Service to the Small Industry by National Newspaper Contest, 1957.

First place in the appearance contest, by Texas Press Association in 1962.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce Community Service Award in 1973.

Distinguished Service as a Charter Member of Wellington Kiwanis Club, 1929-1974.

For lifetime Service in Collingsworth County by Chamber of Commerce in 1975.

#1—continued from page 1 begun on the organization's expansion.

He had been an alderman, then during the hard depression years of 1933 to 1937, he served as mayor.

He was president of the Chamber of Commerce in 1930, and again in 1970. He was a charter member and past president of the Kiwanis Club.

He was a Mason and a member of First United Methodist Church. He belonged to Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalism society.

Former Governor Preston Smith appointed him Interstate Compact Commissioner for the Red River on May 26, 1972. As commissioner, he conducted negotiations on behalf of the State of Texas with other Red River Tributary states until March 20, 1975.

This office was in keeping with his interest in soil and water conservation. That interest brought him the award for Unselfish Service to Soil Conservation in 1950, presented by the Ft. Worth Chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America. He was one of the first two men in Collingsworth County to win a conservation award.

He loved Collingsworth County deeply and its people. He put to work a fine intellect and an unusual ability with words in its behalf.

From the beginning of his work as editor, he supported such things as better roads when there was no pavement and better schools because he believed its children were the county's greatest resource. In recent years he was pleased to see more of them begin to come back to live.

His natural ability for leadership extended into many other fields -- the hospital and health care, strengthening the county's agricultural base, development of recreation and preservation of the county's heritage.

Many times he represented the county before governmental groups in Austin and several times in Washington. He toured NATO maneuvers in the North Atlantic in the early years of its organization.

He married Marian Atkins on May 27, 1927 at Wichita Falls. She died on June 10, 1946. They had one daughter, Mrs. Ansel (Diane) McDowell, Jr., of Perryton.

On November 9, 1947, he married Louise Willis at Wellington. She died on September 8, 1974. They had one son, Henry W. Wells of Wellington.

Other survivors are two sisters, Miss Hattie D. Wells of Wellington and Mrs. China B. Smith of Iowa Park, and four grandchildren, Marian Elizabeth McDowell, Linda Diane McDowell, Ansel Lewis McDowell III, and Stewart Wells McDowell.

Pall bearers will be Bill Godfrey, Luther Sullivan, Sandy Parsons, Jr., J.K. Porter, Ted Rogers and D.E. Scott.

The master of ceremonies will be the Rev. Charles Finley, new pastor of First Christian Church, who in his capacity will be introduced to the community.

In addition to people from all parts of Collingsworth County, visitors are expected from a number of near-by towns.

#2—continued from page 1 Kiwanis and Woodmen of the World. He had served on the City Council for several years.

He is survived by his widow of 1301 West Avenue; one daughter, Mrs. Fred Gribble of Altus, Okla.; three sons, Frank W. Hatch of Eldorado, Bill Hatch of Wellington and Tim Hatch of Lubbock; seven grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

DAR Cites Importance Of American History

Each year in the month of February, DAR chapters across the nation prepare themselves to launch material on the public concerning American History. The Daughters of the American Revolution encourage the study of American History in all grades of school. They provide spot-announcements, history quizzes, public and school displays as well as contests for the youth of our country. All chapters across the nation participate in these activities which develop on the local level, then state, and hopefully the national level.

In Collingsworth County DAR offers each year bronze medals to the most outstanding student, boy or girl, in high school excelling in American History. Each school in the county is eligible for one nominee. The hardest part comes to students in all county schools in the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades who wish to enter the American History Essay Contest. Each year a national theme is chosen, in celebration of our bicentennial year the 1976 theme is "The Declaration of Independence" --essays may be on the reason for the Declaration, resulting advantages to our country, why it is considered the most important of all American historical documents, or on a Signer. All students who enter the essay contest will receive American History Certificates of Appreciation and the winners of the contest from each county school will receive American History Certificates of Award and a bronze American History Medal.

DAR also stresses the qualities of Good Citizenship among our senior high schools. Each year an annual award, one of the highest offered by the society, is given to a senior high school girl or boy chosen by the faculty on the basis of dependability, service, leadership, patriotism. This contest is open only to girls and boys in senior classes, who are citizens of the United States and who finish school the second semester. The "Good Citizen" in each school is eligible to receive the Good Citizen Pin. He or she then presents his or her papers to the state contest, if a winner, then sent on to the National Contest. The national winner is presented to the Continental Congress and given a sterling silver Paul Revere bowl engraved, "National DAR Good Citizen 1976". Beginning in 1963 the National Society established as an annual award a $1,000 Scholarship to the college of the National Winner's choice.

"Good Citizenship Medals" are also awarded to outstanding boys and girls in all three county schools in Collingsworth County. Each school is to select a boy and a girl in the fifth grade and the eighth grade. Four students from each school who have fulfilled the qualities of honor, service, courage, leadership, and patriotism will receive bronze medals and certificates. These awards are given to the lower grade students to urge them to strive for the one award given when they become seniors.

DAR strives for Congress to designate February of each year as American History Month. In January, H.J. Res.111 was introduced in Congress to designate this. Word has been received in local chapters that the policy concerning the commemorative days shall be considered by the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service of the US House of Representatives only twice a year--September and March.

Women Request More Letters Objecting to Text Material

A group of young women met Wednesday morning, February 18, to write letters protesting the language used in some of the state-adopted school textbooks.

These women have said that they and their families do not use the language contained in some of the books and they object to its use in the texts which are adopted by the Texas Textbook Committee.

During the meeting, a committee was formed with Mrs. Johnny Mote as Chairman. The purpose of the committee is to try to bring to Wellington Mrs. R.C. Bearden, Jr., of San Angelo, state textbook chairman of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The group plans a seminar, with Mrs. Bearden informing the concerned parents on the subject of "Keeping Textbooks Clean."

It has been pointed out that Wellington teachers are authorized by the administration to skip objectionable material in books used.

"The group would like to encourage anyone who is concerned about this to write letters to the State Textbook Committee," said Mrs. Mote. The address may be obtained from her, or Mrs. Earl Lynn Bartlett, Mrs. Bob Weatherly, Mrs. Steve Dolloff, Mrs. Farris Wood or Mrs. Kenneth Davis.

Approximately 20 attended the meeting Wednesday.

Mrs. Masten Has Esther Group

The Esther Group of U.M.W. met in the home of Mrs. Cecil Masten Friday, February 20 at 10:00 a.m.

Mrs. Henry Vaughan of Hereford gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. Lowell Wells presented the program on Poetry of the Old Testament. Poetry is eternal. There is no beginning and there will be no end. Primitive religion sought poetic expression, and so does the church of today, she said.

The Old Testament is full of the most beautiful poetry, from Genesis to Malachi. What could paint a more beautiful picture than the 23rd Psalm? This is one of the most perfect forms of biblical poetry. Un-bias critics place the Book of Job among the greatest epic poems of the world, Mrs. Wells continued.

The hostess served birthday cake in honor of Mrs. Maude Vaughan.

Those attending were Mrs. Cal Hurst, Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mrs. John Holton, Mrs. Maude Vaughan, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. R.L. Karnes, Mrs. Henry Vaughan and the hostess, Mrs. Masten.

Baptist Church, Wellington.

Hostesses for the reception were their daughters, Maxine McGarry of Oklahoma City, LaDonna Barnett, Rose Mary Younger, and Shirley Crow, all of Amarillo.

A centerpiece of gold and yellow satin roses stood at the center of a serving table covered with a gold lace cloth. The gift and register table was covered in gold brocade.

Granddaughters served and assisted, including Patricia Ann McGarry Ellis, Gwendolyn Gay McGarry Dunn and Dianne McGarry, all of Oklahoma City; Brenda Barnett, Ramona Whisenhunt and Debra Barnett, all of Amarillo.

Several songs were sung by the Horton sisters and other members of the family, including a song dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Horton which was written by Maxine McGarry. A poem written by Mrs. McGarry was displayed at the register table.

Five generations were present at the reception: Mrs. Ada Austin of Amarillo, Mrs. Malcolm Horton, Mrs. Thomas McGarry, Mrs. Patricia Ellis and Tamara Dawn Ellis, 5 months old, all of Oklahoma City.

Excelsior Members Hear of Fine Laces and Embroidery

Miss Marie Shadid was hostess to the Excelsior Club Thursday evening, February 19, for a program on fine laces.

Also the program speaker, Miss Shadid told the origin of many fine laces, the methods by which they are made, and some of the traditional patterns.

"Although various open-work fabrics made by looping, knitting or twisting threads have survived in Coptic graves of Egypt, in Peru and elsewhere, modern lace is primarily derived from products of Renaissance Italy," she said.

Miss Shadid showed enlarged natural color photographs of a number of laces.

Among these were several Italian laces. First was a gossomergauze type lace, but another type from the Cantu-Lombardy area consisted primarily of small circular pieces which serve as tablemats, place mats or antimacassers. Italian fringed lace was used as an applique on heavier fabrics.

Others included Flemish lace used for collar and cuff sets; Alencon lace, popular for centuries and now widely reproduced by machine.

Glass Cookwear Has Advantages

What's the cookware world coming to? Cooking in glass, Mrs. Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says.

"Cooking utensils made of a white glass-ceramic substance are designed for use in the oven, under the broiler and on top of the range--and are pretty enough to go to the table for serving," she noted.

Mrs. McCormack is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She explained that foods bake faster in glass ovenware than in shiny metal pans because the glass holds the heat instead of reflecting it.

"When baking in glass, reduce the oven temperature at least 25 degrees unless the recipe states that temperature has been written for glass."

Also, glass cookware has covering and bridal veils;

Irish lace of a type popular during the 19th century for curtains in Victorian homes; and English lace from a private collection, an elegant lace used in the 18th century to border handkerchiefs, which were an indispensable part of any fashionable gentleman's dress.

An exhibit of embroidered materials from Lebanon which belong to Miss Shadid and her sister, Miss Rose Shadid, followed. These included an elaborately embroidered table cloth in dinner size, with 12 napkins, and other pieces of embroidery which their mother, the late Mrs. Shadid, brought when she came from Lebanon to Oklahoma.

A dessert plate was served to two guests, Mrs. Violet Potter of Stillwater, Oklahoma, and Mrs. Louise Vaughan of Hereford, a former Wellington resident and member of Excelsior Club.

Members present were Mrs. Lowell Wells, Miss Rama Camp, Mrs. Russell Yates, Mrs. J.F. Michael, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Miss Dorothy Robertson, Miss Bonnie Willis, Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, Miss Rose Shadid, and the hostess, Miss Marie Shadid.

no carry-over of food flavors or odors, no discoloration, and is easy to keep clean because its surface is smooth and nonporous. It doesn't rust or pit from foods.

"Spot cooling weakens the glass and increases the chance of breakage. To avoid this cool hot dishes before adding liquids, handle a hot dish with a dry cloth, and do not set a hot dish on a wet or cold surface," the specialist advised.

Glassware is easy to keep clean if it's greased well before having food put into it. If the dish is quite full, the top edges and handles also should be greased before putting into the oven.

"To remove baked-on food, soak the dish in water to which detergent has been added, or in a solution of three tablespoons of baking soda to one quart of water--then wash as usual," she suggested.

Midway HDC Studies Buying

Midway Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday, February 18, in the home of Mrs. Russell Hill.

The program "Consumer Reports--Buyers Hangups," was presented by Mrs. David Peters, who pointed out the savings possible by comparative buying.

Inclucence in buying is psychological, she told the group. Prices were compared on wide range of items.

Mrs. James Howell opened the meeting with a prayer and Mrs. Hill read the scripture.

During the business session, members voted that the club year will follow the calendar year, January 1 to December 31.

Mrs. Cecil Masten reported on a stretch and sew class.

Those present were Mrs. David Peters, Mrs. Jack Colson, Mrs. Boswell, Mrs. Masten, Mrs. Virgie Jones, Mrs. Ruth Wyrick, Mrs. Mattie Childress, Mrs. Maude Vaughan, Mrs. Charles Cason and the hostess, Mrs. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris W. Brown of Bethany visited her father, E.U.B. Lockhart, last week.

Miss Nancy Graham and Miss Janice Bandy of Canyon were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Graham during the weekend.

County Girl Enters Contest

Renee Lacy was a contestant in a Bicentennial Pie Baking Contest for all home demonstration club members and 4-H club members in District I which was held Saturday, February 21, in Amarillo. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Robert Lacy.

Miss Lacy received a specially designed bicentennial ribbon for entering the contest.

Entries from Potter County earned both first and third place honors, while a Lipscomb County entry placed second.

Party Honors Mrs. Parsons

A Valentine motif was carried out.

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Velman Warrick, Mrs. Rolan Bryan, and Mr. and Mrs. Orvel Couch, now of Homer, Louisiana, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. DePauw.

Brownies Honor Founder, Give International Program

Brownie Troop 41 met in the home of Mrs. Bobo Castleberry Thursday, February 19, in observance of "Thinking Day". The program was a tribute to Juliette Low, who founded Girl Scouts in the United States March 12, 1912.

The celebration was held on her birthday. Her husband, Sir Robert Powell, had earlier founded Boy Scouts, which began in England.

There are now Girl Scout organizations in sixty-seven other countries. Each girl at the meeting contributed twenty-five cents to the Juliette Low Fund, which was started in 1928. A portion of this money is used to help TOFS (Troops on foreign soil).

Each girl attending gave some information on another country and some showed items from a foreign country.

Sandy Henard talked about England, Lesa White gave a report on Austria and Gina Barnett spoke about Japan. Nicole Keller told about India and showed a brass urn, while Karen Mote reported on Germany showing a scarf made there.

Vacuum Cleaner Versatile Tool

Vacuum cleaners conserve both time and energy in many cleaning operations besides on carpeting and upholstery, Mrs. Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist, says.

"The floor brush attachment is used on bare floors, linoleum or tile types of covering, such as those used in kitchen, utility room or bathroom. The brush can also be used for dusting painted and papered walls.

Mrs. McCormack is with the Texa Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"The soft bristled brush cleans moldings and baseboards, books, lamp shades, carved furniture and even picture frames.

"The upholstery brush may be used on chair and sofa coverings, draperies and mattresses. And the crevice tool cleans narrow, hard-to-reach areas—also corners of dresser drawers and even suit pockets, trouser cuffs and ladies purses," she said.

These attachments should be cleaned after each use. Use the suction end of the hose for this purpose.

Ronda Hiesler chose to speak about Norway and Betty Vernon reported on Sweden and showed coins from Canada and Mexico.

Leticia Cummings showed pictures and a map of Spain, Kristy Settle told about Italy and showed perfume from France, Dana Thomas spoke on Scotland, Kim Castleberry told about Russia and showed a nest of handmade dolls from Russia. A new member, Freinde Perez, told of life in the Philippines and showed a dress made from pineapple leaves.

Refreshments were furnished by Mrs. Joe Cummings and served to Mrs. Reyanaldo Perez, Mrs. P.J. White, Mrs. Johnny Mote, Mrs. Eugene Vernon and the leaders Mrs. Jerry Settle and Mrs. Castleberry.

Mrs. Lewis Has Dodson NWMS

Dodson Nazarene World Missionary Society met Tuesday, February 10, in the home of Mrs. Mayme Lewis, with Mrs. Bill Holder in charge of the meeting.

Continuing the mission study, members heard a discussion of the chapter, "He Had Compassion."

This included "The Changing Role of the Compassionate Ministries" and Ministries of the Church, and "The Afflictions of the People," and "The Educational Work of the Church." These were by Mrs. Lewis, assisted by Mrs. Cora Lowry.

Mrs. Ila Orr gave the devotional, Mrs. Carter, the opening prayer, and Mrs. Georgia Owens and Mrs. Iva Lewis the closing prayers.

YOU'LL BE FAMOUS FOR THIS FRIED CHICKEN—Fried chicken is always a favorite dish, but if you want to try a new variation of it, the Texas Department of Agriculture home economist recommends the Texas Chicken Dinner. A crunchy cornflake-peanut crust and mushroom sauce add special appeal to this recipe.

Mrs. Karnes Entertains Club

Mrs. Leonard Karnes entertained the Good Neighbor Club Friday, February 20.

Mrs. Earl Alexander conducted a brief business meeting with Mrs. Ray Club reading the minutes of the last meeting. Each member answered roll call with the first saying of their child.

The group were taken into the nursery to view the baby gifts received by Mrs. Wayne Tutt at a recent shower. Mrs. Tutt is the former Linda Karnes.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Merritt James, Mrs. Coy Vaughan, Mrs. Alexander, Mrs. Clubb, Mrs. R.L. Karnes, Mrs. R.H. Ball, Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. Anna May Thomas, Mrs. Tutt and the hostess Mrs. Karnes.

A tea honoring Mrs. Eddie Maxwell and Mrs. Dan Langford was given Sunday, February 22, in the Heritage Room.

Four-Letter Words Trigger Parental Reaction--Usually

COLLEGE STATION--Obscene or profane four-letter words have a "magical" quality to most children, Mrs. Ilene Miller, a family life education specialist, says.

"This happens because these words usually provoke some kind of reaction from parents, teachers and other adults. Reactions range from anger, amusement, disgust, dismay, worry and embarrassment to feelings of personal insult," she added.

Mrs. Miller is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Obscene words, at first, are just like other words a child is learning. But the child soon discovers the obscene or profane words have the power to produce strong emotional reactions when other words don't."

A child may hear and see adults or other children use these words without understanding their meaning—but he sees the emotional power the words have. Sometimes he knows the meaning of the words but hasn't learned a better way to express his thoughts.

"It is not surprising that a child will continue to use the four-letter words frequently to trigger that strong emotional reaction in adults. Children find it extremely fascinating to do this because it gives them a feeling of power and importance. The fact that certain words are forbidden increases that fascination," she continued.

Parents and teachers wonder how to cope with these verbal expressions. Sometimes parents paddle a child, wash out his mouth or punish him on some other way. These approaches may stop the words, but what about the child's thoughts and emotions?

"Perhaps the best approach is to relax, not worry and try not to react emotionally at all. In this way, the child will not experience the 'emotional power' of these words.

"A casual reaction, such as: 'We don't use this word in our family; we say _____' helps the child learn more acceptable ways to express himself.

"Another alternative is to give the child a new, longer and harder word as a substitute for the four-letter word. Children may repeat the four-letter words for a while, but if adults remain unemotional and casual, this behavior will usually stop," the specialist said.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Insurance agency spokesmen have called on the State Board of Insurance for another raise in homeowners policies averaging 5.2 per cent.

Surprisingly, the request was smaller than the rate adjustment recommended by the board's own actuaries who figured a 6.7 per cent hike was justified on the basis of claims.

Either increase would cost policy holders about $30 million a year for all types of building coverage.

Rates would vary according to location and construction.

Differences in recommendation were due to the fact the board calculates on the basis of two years' experience in fire losses, while the industry uses a three-year experience base.

Both the board staff and industry spokesmen recommended higher new rates become effective July 1.

An average 8.3 per cent increase in homeowners policy rates already had been permitted to go into effect last week. Industry representatives contended the prior rate was inadequate to cover losses and was based on old data.

New rates were proposed for fire, extended coverage and farm and ranch as well as homeowners policies.

Bond Debt Soars

Bonded debt of Texas state and local governments rose to $11 billion in 1975, is growing 10.4 per cent a year and is expected to pass the $15 billion mark in 1980.

A Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations study concluded the annual volume of debt and the total amount of outstanding debt is climbing steadily each year.

Amounts of outstanding debts in 1974 were: city general obligation bonds, $1.8 billion; city revenue bonds, $2 billion; school districts and junior colleges, $2.7 billion; counties and road districts, $484.7 million; special districts and authorities, $1.7 billion and state agencies and colleges, $1.7 billion.

Allowable Still 100%

Texas Railroad Commission again set the monthly oil production allowable at 100 per cent.

March will be the 48th straight month of all-out production, except for the East Texas field (held to 86 per cent).

Speaking at the commission allowable hearing, the head of the state's largest oil and gas association claimed four bills before Congress may cause a crisis which can be used as an excuse for nationalizing the petroleum industry.

Jack Blanton, Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association president, said a price rollback provided under the 1975 Energy Policy and Conservation Act will cost the Texas economy $1.5 billion a year.

Blanton said the industry today operates "in an atmosphere of confusion, uncertainty, suspicion and hostility, not a compliment to a nation that badly needs its best minds working in a single direction to solve the problems of insufficient energy resources.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court ruled against the appeal of a Portland woman for a $1 million damage verdict as the result of an alleged rape by an orderly on a public hospital elevator.

The high court upheld an injunction against a Waco pet foods plant from producing sickening odors.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a Dallas

Voters to Decide on Sales Tax

Wellington voters will have an opportunity to speak Saturday, April 3 on how they want city funds raised.

An additional one-cent sales tax has been proposed and citizens will vote it in or turn it down on that date.

Capital outlays are necessary each year for our city to progress. Recent improvements at the tennis courts and renovation of the Bura Handley Community Center have made our town a more pleasant place in which to live. The city is currently helping with improvements at the softball diamond. A new street sweeper is needed immediately and in the next few years a new fire truck must be purchased.

Rising costs are diminishing the amount of money available to the city for these capital improvements, and in order to continue them additional funds must come from one of three sources: increased property taxes, increased water and sewer rates or an additional one-cent sales tax.

The question of how the money will be raised requires careful consideration by all voters.

Other Editors Say . . .

No Dust Bowl

There's no call for panic. The "dust bowl" drought of the mid-thirties is not coming back. It can't.

It may and probably will become drier than it is now. On the other hand it could rain tonight. But the black dusters aren't going to be repeated. We've just got too much going for us.

Latest reports from the Agricultural Extension service are impressive. In 1974 a staggering 5,900,000 irrigated and producing acres were counted in the 39 acres of the Texas High Plains District.

This involved the expanded use of underground pipeline in place of open ditches. It included 200 tailwater recovery projects and a one-year increase of 500 sprinkler systems in the district.

Of course, the Ogallala aquifer which provides this water from underground must be conserved rigorously. But irrigation is not the only weapon we have to fight drought. There are, for example, strengthened soil conservation practices.

Hardly a farmer on the High Plains does not practice such conservation almost automatically. No more will the top soil be left to blow down to hard pan. This time we know better.

As for feed and cotton, we don't know. But we do know that Lake Meredith is holding its level pretty well. There's even water in the creeks.

So there's no cause for panic. We can always take comfort in this: While the government can't make it rain, it can and does still build dams. And if worse comes to worse, we can always throw a big one across Palo Duro Canyon.

5th Sunday Meet Begins Friday at Primitive Baptist

The Primitive Baptist Church, 1300 Graham Street, will entertain the Panhandle-Oklahoma Association's fifth Sunday Meeting beginning Friday, Feb. 27 at 7:00 p.m. and continuing through Sunday noon.

"We expect several visiting ministers from Texas and Oklahoma to be with us at this meeting," Mrs. Aubrey Stuckey, one of the organizers, said, "and we invite our Wellington area friends to visit us at this time."

Meals will be served at the church dining room Friday night, Saturday noon, and Saturday night and Sunday noon.

A number of cost-reduction actions and improved management procedures have already been instituted by the department, including a moratorium on certain right of way purchases, a 20 percent reduction in the work force, cancellation or deferral of contract lettings, curtailment of mowing operations, and related functions.

Also under consideration are various design alternatives such as reductions in grade separations, median widths, and numbers of lanes. An aim will be to invest in projects that start providing benefits at an early date, especially on a statewide basis, and to defer projects for which benefits would not be realized for several years.

"Looking ahead, many commitments for projects now included in the department's backlog of work will have to be rescinded," he stated. "It is also clear that financial resources at this point will Conflicting accounts and rumors about the financial condition of the department prompted invitations statewide to department officials to address civic leaders, officials, and the public to provide detailed assessment of the present situation, the study and the ongoing cost-reduction efforts of the department.

"It is the department's duty to inform the people of the situation and to point out that the mobility modern Texans enjoy, the mobility on which our economy depends, is in danger," White concluded.

Mr. White was introduced by Hulon Wall, area chairman of the Associated General Contractors.

Mr. Wall also pointed out that by 1980, all highway revenues in sight will be absorbed by maintenance, leaving no state funds for new construction or even for upgrading obsolete roads and bridges.

Wall pegged the increase in construction costs at 118 per cent since 1967, while he said highway revenues have remained more or less constant.

Highway Construction Crisis Real, Serious Says Engineer

"The crisis is upon us. It is real, and it is serious."

District Engineer Lewis H. White of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation today used those words in reviewing the current transportation situation in Texas.

White spoke before a group representing several cities and counties at Gloat's Chaparral Restaurant in Childress.

Citing the fact that the federal and state governments have been investing decreasing amounts in better transportation in recent years at a time when transportation needs have grown as a result of an expanding economy, he noted that transportation in Texas is caught in a squeeze between declining revenues and rising costs.

Studies currently underway have revealed that the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has a backlog of construction and right of way projects totaling $11 billion.

"The best forecast as things stand now indicates that we will have about $1.9 billion in state and federal funds for construction over the next 20 years," he said.

"Actually, this will be available for only six years or less since around 1980 we will not have sufficient state dollars," he added.

"That's enough to whittle away only 17 percent of our current backlog." Putting it another way, the program will be only one eighth as large as was possible at past funding levels, he said.

Recognizing the gap between projected revenues and established needs and the drastic program reductions to be made, the State Highway and Public Transportation Commission contracted with McKinsey and Company, a noted management consulting firm, to study the conditions and to assist the department in finding the best courses of action to respond to the changing environment in order to provide the most mobility for the available dollars.

Included in the study will be an assessment of what facilities and what mobility can be provided at different levels of taxation, including current tax levels. Each element will be tested for its benefits-to-cost ratio.

The study is expected to develop, by mid-year, alternate statewide arterial systems, together with financing alternatives. The results of the study will be reviewed with local officials and private citizens at an

"Man & Land & Love" Staged Here Friday

Collingsworth County's history rolled across the stage Friday night in the bicentennial production of the original script story of "Man and Land and Love."

The production presented the county's history in song, dance and drama.

A highlight was the "Roll Call" where members of the audience stood and cheered for the schools they had once

A highlight was the "Roll Call" when the dozens of small schools that once dotted the county were called by name. Members of the audience stood and cheered for the schools they had once attended or at which they had been teachers.

The only hitch in the production came when the director, Mrs. Bob McAlister, suffered an injured nose as a model Ft. Worth and Denver railroad train started its run.

Mrs. B.M. Sims wrote most of the script several years ago, and updated it this year.

On behalf of the county Historical Commission which co-sponsored the event, Mrs. Clyde Drake expressed thanks to all who participated: "Thank you all for the wonderful way you helped make Friday's presentation a wonderful evening for us all."

Mrs. McAlister, on behalf of the production group, gave special thanks to those in charge of direction, program, tickets, publicity, food and photography booths, sponsoring merchants, a "cast who made it all possible, and an appreciative audience who made it all worthwhile."

Narrators were Vikki Saunders and Charles Floyd, who were also the contemporary parents. The pioneer parents were Bill Havens and Stacy Neeley.

Indians were Michael Mackey, Raymond Mackey and Haskell Bonaparte.

Children in the production were Darvin Nix, Lisa Nix, Belinda Crelia, Kathy Crelia, Gina Barnett, Lisa Hartman, Jim Warrick, Todd Roberson, Quincy Weatherly, and Ginger Daniels.

Marianne Morgan had the role of school marm, while Bob Cummings was the jogger.

Cowmen and nesters were Richard Sims, Randall Sims, David Null, Freddie Chambers, Jimmy Saied, Sammy Gonzales and George Brewer.

"Panhandle Pretties" included Lori Collins, Susan Kimbro, Denise Archer, Rosie Garcia, Kay Coffee, Debra Norris, Kim Goforth, Kathy Patterson, Evelyn Gragson, Karen Jeffrey, Linda Coffee and Leigh Ann Jeffrey.

Pioneer women were portrayed by Brenda Willis, Darla Dodge, Laura Gragson, Connie Langford and Lee Ann Sessions.

Participating in the living history class were Randy Thomas as George Washington; Kathy Mote as Martha Washington; Debbie Hicks, Nancy Hanks; Robert Burba, Johnny Applesseed; Darla Anderson and Starla Anderson; southern belles; Brent Long and Tim DeVoss, confederate soldiers.

Modeling dresses in the county centennial fashion parade were Debra Woods, Stacy Fires, Judy Clark, Pam Vines, Lana Lacy, Debbie Trimble, Mrs. Murray Dodson, Spencer Sealk, Cindy Coleman, DiAnna Schaub, Leatha Martindale, Vonnie Knoll, Kathy Guthrie, Sharon Childers, Karen Cladwell and Dana Jameson.

Providing music between acts were Elvis Sain, guitar; Kenneth Porter, banjo; and Mrs. Tommy Campbell and Kloette Camp, piano. Gospel singers were Benny Kilgo, Garry Wofford, Mrs. Gaymond Hodges and Mrs. P.M. Scott.

More entertainment was by the Beauty shop Quartet Twice -- Mrs. Hiram Cudd, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Paul Schaub, Mrs. B.M. Sims, Mrs. Jesse Peters, Mrs. Robert Lewis, Mrs. Richard Nall and Mrs. Don Van Pelt.

Sixth grade folk dancers were Lisa Hartman, Lynette Spillman, Kim Morgan, Valerie Van Pelt, Melanie Pendleton, Kathy Whitten, Renee Owens, Lisa Nix, Danna Jameson, Brent Long, Johnny Mote, Bruce Alexander, Jeff Barnett, Anthony Porter, Tony Maxwell, Ed Campbell, Wade Williams and David Nelson.

There were many who worked behind scenes.

Members of stage crew were Tony Martinez, Bob Cummings, Clay Don Lacy, Lyn Hurst, Robert Norris, Jimmie Morgan, Jon Sessions and Jackie Black.

Special props were provided by Marshall Peters, David Peters, members of the 1954 Study Club, Mrs. Doc Turner and Mrs. Jackie Barnett.

Directing the ticket sales were Mrs. Calvin Hurst, assisted by members of the Collingsworth County Museum.

Researchers were Mrs. Clyde Drake, Mrs. Lowell Wells, Mrs. Ben Ratliff and Mrs. R.R. Crawley. Mrs. L.C. Hill prepared art work for the programs and Mrs. Lynn Wright headed publicity.

Skyrockets Lose to Stratford 72 to 63

Wellington Skyrockets lost their bid for the bi-district basketball title to Stratford Elks in overtime play 72 to 63 Tuesday night, February 24.

The game was played before 700 in Canyon's West Texas State Field House.

It is the second consecutive year the Rockets have gone into the bi-district.

With 32 seconds left in regulation play, the score was tied 62-62, and Coach Robert Hicks called time out to map strategy for a final shot.

Wellington was never able to get the ball away, and that fact appeared to slow their momentum for the overtime period.

The Skyrockets dominated much of the game. Stratford was down 10 points, 15-5, early and fought an uphill battle which didn't begin to pay off until in the fourth period.

Although the lead changed hands 14 times in the last quarter, Stratford trailed 62-61 with 1:40 left in regulation time.

Elk Joel Hart tied the game on one goal of a one-and-one situation.

Stratford's Wayne Garrote missed the first part of another one-and-one free throw with 39 seconds left and Wellington's Shane Tarver controlled the rebound.

This was when the Rockets' best time out was called.

Wellington scored only one point during overtime play, while Stratford went on to pick up 10.

Shane Tarver led rebounding in the game with 14 points. Wellington shot 44 per cent from the field, Stratford 49. Both made 66 per cent of their free shots, 11 of 18.

Wellington shot from the field 59 times, Stratford 61. The Elks out-rebounded the Rockets by only one, 43-42.

Shane Tarver was high point man for Wellington
