Snyder Area Teased By Rains Today

Scattered showers teased the Snyder area today as unsettled weather covered most of the state.

An early-morning thundershower produced .16 of an inch of moisture in Snyder, and showers were reported throughout the area, some ranging up to half an inch.

Temperatures were unseasonably cool, with a low reading of 53 degrees recorded in Snyder this morning. A cloud cover and northeasterly breezes kept the mercury down during the morning.

The Weather Bureau indicated that the wet spell would continue today and possibly tonight.

Some turbulence was reported in Central Texas areas last night, with hail pelting some communities.

A twister was sighted but did no damage.

At Burleson, south of Fort Worth, hail the size of hen eggs broke a window in a service station and damaged Police Chief Eldon Collins' automobile.

Godley, near Cleburne, reported 1.10 inches of rain. Rio Vista had 1.02 inches.

Other rainfall in the state included Rosser 1.20, Junction .24, Brownwood .81, Texarkana .19, Fort Worth .14, and Snyder .10.

Navarro and Ellis counties, 30 to 60 miles south of Dallas, had soaking rains and some hail.

Crops, roofs and glass were damaged at Cryer Creek in the Corsicana area. Some cars were dented. Dawson, Richland and Kerens all had 1 inch of rain and some hail. Corsicana had .82 and hail. Frost had 1.64. Lightning knocked out a transformer, keeping the small Navarro County town of Blooming Grove dark for 3½ hours until 11 p.m.

Ennis had more than 1 inch of rain. Waxahachie, also in Ellis County, had rain so hard that streets were flooded for a while.

Waxahachie rain totaled 1.13 inches. McGregor, 18 miles southwest of Waco, reported 3 inches of rain by midmorning, with the rain continuing. Crawford reported 2.55 inches.

Hail described by a resident as the size of baseballs battered the ranch country near Leakey, in Southwest Texas. The oats crop was believed damaged over a 10-mile wide area.

Mrs. Charles Boren, who lives on a ranch northwest of Leakey, said the huge hailstones "covered our yard solid."

Another hail-pelting thunderstorm swept eastward across Dallas County but no damage was reported. A resident of Duncanville described the stones as the size of eggs.

The Weather Bureau, in noting that the threat of severe thunderstorms had ended, reported locally heavy thundershowers and possible small hail were scattered over the south and southeast Fort Worth-Dallas area early Tuesday. The showers moved to the east at about 20 miles per hour.

A cool front was reported along a line from Shreveport to Junction, in West Texas, with thunderstorms drifting southeast from the Abilene, Waco, Junction area.

Cloudy weather was reported over much of Texas with temperatures ranging from 52 degrees at Dalhart to 77 at Laredo and Brownsville early Monday.

Prosecutions Due In Racial Violence

By JACK ADAMS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department geared today for a possible long line of criminal prosecutions over Alabama's "freedom riders" racial violence.

A force of FBI agents, thrown into the area over the weekend, made its first arrests late Monday and more arrests were expected. The Justice Department indicated it would seek stiff penalties.

All of last week's outbreaks followed efforts by out-of-state white and Negro students to break Alabama's ban on integrated bus seating.

In the initial arrests, four men were taken into custody by FBI agents at Anniston, Ala., and charged with the fire bombing of an interstate bus near the city May 14.

The offense carries penalties up to 20 years in prison and a fine of $10,000.

The Anniston incident, in which the mob of white men broke the bus windows and tossed in a fire bomb, was the first of the past week's violence.

Other freedom riders, traveling by bus into Alabama from Atlanta, Ga., were kicked and beaten at Anniston and Birmingham. On Saturday, a major riot broke out—with a number of persons injured—when an interstate bus arrived at Montgomery, Ala.

Attorney general Robert F. Kennedy announced the Aniston arrests late Monday after a 45-minute conference at the White House with his brother, President Kennedy.

Byron R. (Whizzer) White, deputy attorney general who has been in Aalabama several days, flew into Washington about midnight to talk over the situation with the attorney general. He and Kennedy conferred until about 2:30 a.m.

John Siegenthaler, administrative assistant to the attorney general, who had been in Montgomery, also was at the meeting.

White arranged to fly back to Aalabama this morning.

The attorney general was back in his office before 10 o'clock this morning and talked by telephone with the President.

Edwin Guthman, a Justice Department information officer, said the President has been kept fully informed all along.

Guthman also told newsmen an exact count showed 666 U.S. marshals and deputies at the Maxwell Air Force Base near Montgomery. They are being kept at the field on an alert status.

Most of them are regular deputy marshals, Guthman said, and others include border patrol men, alcohol tax men and some federal prison guards specially deputized.

As Democratic congressional leaders were leaving the White House after their regular Tuesday meeting with Prsident Kennedy, a reporter told House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas there had been charges that the President and attorney general, by the federal government's actions, were responsible for violence at Montgomery.

"I don't think the President or attorney general inspired any of this trouble," Rayburn commented.

Despite the Alabama race troubles, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said the administration will not seek new civil rights laws this year.

The Alabama congressional delegation — both senators and all nine House members—joined Alabama Gov. John Patterson Monday in urging that federal marshals be recalled from the state.

A telegram made public by Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., said the delegation deplored violence but had been assured by the governor that the state "has the means, the ability and the will to keep the peace without outside help." The appeal was sent to President Kennedy and the attorney general.

Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas, who had federal soldiers in his state in 1956 when mobs tried to stop the integration of Central High school in Little Rock, asked the Arkansas delegation in Congress to back up Patterson's demand that the marshals be removed.

In general support of the federal intervention, Sens. Mansfield, Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., stressed that the racial violence has foreign policy overtones, with millions of Negroes in Afries beginning to attain their independence from colonialism.

Tax Conferees Plan Report On Progress

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Senate and House experts trying to write a compromise tax bill said today they will have some sort of report Wednesday.

Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger, head of the House conferees, stressed it would be only "a progress report."

"All I can say now is that we are still friends. We are still speaking to each other. I am still optimistic," Ballman said.

Gov. Price Daniel in a message to the legislature urged emergency consideration of traffic safety measures, calling Texas' two-year highway death toll "a great tragedy."

Measures singled out by Daniel were those revising the driver licensing act, providing driver courses in high schools; providing a chemical test for drunk driving cases; setting up traffic courts; and increasing the numbers and salary to the Highway Patrol.

The 10-man tax conference committee met twice Monday and until late last night.

Is there any progress?

"I don't know," answered Senate Chairman Wardlow Lane. "So far we are just talking."

Between the meetings each group conferred with Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Speaker James Turman. Reports were that some House committeemen talked with Gov. Price Daniel and carried his recommendations into this morning's meeting.

Tax experts from the Legislative Council and the Texas Research League waited outside in case their advice is needed.

When, and if, Senate and House differences are settled by the conference committee, then each house must approve the compromise before it goes to the governor.

Up for probable final passage was the Senate-passed bill making the 11,000-student University of Houston a fully state-supported institution in 1963. The bill was approved unchanged Monday night by the House State Affairs Committee. Speaker James Turman said the bill would probably be passed.

Meanwhile loan shark legislation was a main item in both houses today.

Rep. Don Kennard, Fort Worth, said his so-called "jail house bill" (HB61) requiring states sending milk into Texas to assure that the milk conforms to Texas health standards.

The milk bill was the subject of heated discussion early in the session, with the Missouri Legislature threatening retaliation against Texas products if the bill passed.

A provision that inspections of out of state dairy barns would have to be made by Texas authorities was stricken from the bill.

Bob Eckhardt, Houston, failed in an attempt to win House passage of his bill (HB431) taxing gas produced under dedicated reserves contracts for gas pipeline companies. The House, voted, 64-61, to postpone consideration of his bill to next Monday, the final day of the session.

The Kennard Bill, as amended, provides a maximum penalty of 12 months in jail, $500 fine, and double damages and refund of principal to persons damaged by usurious interest rates. Lenders charging more than 10 per cent would be subject to the penalties.

The original bill kept the legal ceiling at the present 10 per cent, but imposed the heavy penalties only on lenders charging over 36 per cent.

"Let's make it so tough the money lenders will be down here trying to pass a good regulatory bill instead of killing one," said Rep. James Nugent, Kerrville, sponsor of the amendment sending the penalty level down to 10 per cent.

The Senate State Affairs Committee voted, 9-8, to adjourn in the middle of a bitter debate on Sen. Dorsey Hardeman's motion that the group reconsider a bill (HB7) that the Senate recommitted last Thursday.

Hardeman said he had written a new small loan control bill over the weekend and had received another bill draft from Prof. Harvey L. Davis of Southern Methodist University. Davis has been active in the Texas Committee to Eliminate the Loan Shark Evil.

The vote to adjourn killed off the discussion.

Other Senate committee action included:

Recommendations of debate on a bill (HB379) to license bail bondsmen. "Just last Saturday I learned of a man who recently completed a federal prison sentence for a narcotics conviction and already is back in the bail bond business," said John Caboon, Houston.

Approval of a House-approved bill (HB423) doing away with separate acknowledgement in all matters except sale of a homestead was tabled. Similar Senate versions of both bills have been on the Senate Calendar without action for several weeks.

Approval of a house-approved bill (HB120) creating a senior college at Del Mar College. The bill contains a House amendment that the school shall receive no state aid for the next 20 years.

MIDNIGHT PIPER—Larry Gunter, 18, demonstrates how he played "Scotland the Brave" in the wee hours of the morning until police showed up and stopped the wail of the bagpipes in Kansas City, Mo. Larry said he and Miss Eva Silverman, left, were going home from a party and he had "this wild impulse" to blow the pipes. He agreed with officers, however, that it was a pretty ridiculous time of night to play. Larry said he some day "I'll go to Scotland where they don't mind by playing the pipes, even early in the morning." (AP Wirephoto)

Latin Chiefs To Join JFK

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) —Most South American chiefs of state may join President Kennedy if he comes here for an inter-American conference July 15, informed sources said today.

They added that negotiations are under way to get Presidents Arturo Frondizi of Argentina, Janio Quadros of Brazil, Jorge Alessandri of Chile, Manuel Prado of Peru and José Velasco Ibarra of Ecuador to attend the meeting. Official sources declined to confirm this.

The July meeting has been called to launch a high-geared program for Latin-American development on the basis of Kennedy's "alliance for progress" plan.

Uruguayan officials privately said Kennedy's visit here has not been officially announced.

Johnson's Report Is Due Wednesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will report to President Kennedy Wednesday on his trip to Southeast Asia.

Johnson, stopping over in Bermuda today on his way home, plans to fly in Wednesday morning, Assistant White House press secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said he is expected to see Kennedy about 11:15 a.m.

After reporting to the President, Hatcher said, Johnson will hold a news conference.

Absentee Voting Deadline Today

Absentee voting ends today in the special U. S. Senate runoff election scheduled for Saturday.

County Clerk Dan Cotton said 31 absentee ballots had been issued. Applications for absentee ballots must be made at the County Clerk's office by 5 p.m. today.

Balky Korea Regime Has U. S. Worried

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—The U.S. Embassy today expressed deep concern about the abolition of all political parties by South Korea's new military rulers. The military junta also refused to approve an agreement bringing their soldiers back under U.N. control.

"Any step suppressing free government processes and which makes more difficult restoration of civil government is a matter of deep concern," said a U.S. Embassy spokesman.

The generals ruling the country showed no sign of backing down under U.S. pressure.

The embassy also is supporting the U.N. Command in its efforts to have the South Korean military recognize the authority of U.S. Gen. Carter B. Magruder. As U.N. commander-in-chief, he is operational chief of all military forces in South Korea.

Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-hi, chief political strategist of last week's coup, told newsmen Korean forces would return to Magruder's control as soon as possible.

But several hours later the U.N. Command issued a statement saying the 30-member Supreme Military Council had overruled Pak on part of an agrement with Magruder.

This voided the entire agreement, the U.N. Command said, although it added that there were still "some points on which their views coincided."

The council's balky stand tended to confirm reports of dissension within the group. Some marine and paratroop commanders are reported demanding more places in the Cabinet composed largely of army men.

Negro Leaders Map Strategy

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Negro leaders called a news conference in racially tense Montgomery today apparently to make known their plans for the future course of a segregation-testing "freedom ride."

A Nazi "hate" bus rolled through the city with civilian police under instructions to "try to keep them moving."

The bus, carrying 12 young men wearing red and white swastika arm bands, is en route from Arlington, Va., to New Orleans as a protest against racial integration and communism, said the American Nazi party's leader, George Lincoln Rockwell.

Members of the Alabama Legislature, in the early weeks of their biennial session, returned from a weekend recess to find the city under martial law after two days of race rioting.

They were expected to invite Gov. John Patterson to make an emergency appearance before the jointly assembled House and Senate after the legislature met at noon.

Earlier today, city police arrested a former reserve policeman accused of beating two television newsmen in the first outbreak of violence last Saturday. Police department records show the defendant resigned about two weeks ago.

A Negro hotel bellboy, bandaged over one eye, told newsmen he was struck by a flying bottle while walking to work early today. He said he didn't see his assailant.

Assistant Police Chief E. J. Brown said a man identified as Claude Henley, 37, of Montgomery was jailed and then released under $200 bond on charges of attacking NBC cameraman Maurice (Moe) Leavey and soundman H. W. Riser.

A mob jerked cameras from photographers and beat the newsmen before savagely attacking nearly two dozen white and Negro freedom riders just after they stepped off a bus in the Greyhound station Saturday.

Also beaten was John Seigenthaler, an assistant to Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy. Seigenthaler had come here as President Kennedy's emissary to ask Gov. John Patterson to guarantee the safety of the freedom riders.

Five persons were fined from $25 to $100 Monday for failing to obey officers at the bus station riot. Police said the five did not take part in the violence.

National Guardsmen, who took over the city under Gov. Patterson's order of qualified martial law, Monday night quadrupled their guard at the Greyhound bus station to keep away loitering white youths. City police arrested seven youths who surrounded two Negroes in a car.

Another element in the building tension was the expected arrival of 12 American Nazi party's "hate bus" riders. Party head George Lincoln Rockwell

Rift Threatens Tractor Exchange

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cracking charges and demands threatened the tractors-for-prisoners trade today from two sides—the U. S. Congress and Fidel Castro.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk was faced with angry congressional demands that he say whether the administration approves the private efforts to exchange earthmoving equipment for the freedom of 1,200 Cuban invasion prisoners.

A flurry of heated speeches in which Cuban Prime Minister Castro's proposal for such an exchange was described as a "heinous barter" by an "inhuman monster" kept the Senate in session until early evening Monday.

From Cuba, meanwhile, came word that Castro reportedly threatens to break off the negotiations.

"If the insults of Mr. Kennedy's agents continue with regard to the indemnification Cuba demands," said an official Cuban radio commentator, "then all discussion will be stopped and the mercenaries (prisoners) will have to face the revolutionary tribunals of the Cuban people."

Castro has been infuriated by the United States' calling the proposal an exchange. He insists it is indemnification for damage caused by the invasion.

Exchange or indemnification, U. S. Senators minced no words about the proposition.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., chairman of the Senate Latin American subcommittee, said the State Department owes it to the American people to make a statement of policy on the offer.

He asked Rusk to announce soon "what the position of our government is."

Morse called it "a dangerous thing to countenance" voluntary committees whose operations are found to have "repercussions on our foreign policy."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he did not believe the government "should lend itself to that kind of a blackmail operation."

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., said that if sponsors of the fund-raising drive are acting without President Kennedy's authority they "are violating the law."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., asked if the department was going along with a policy of "appeasement" of Castro by "silent cooperation" with the fund-raising group.

The speechmaking erupted once more when Sen. Styles Bridges, R-N.H., asked "How much more humiliation and contempt must we suffer from this communist dictator?"

While the turmoil swirled, the fund-raising committee — composed of labor leader Walter P. Reuther, Eleanor Roosevelt and Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the former president—met with a delegation of 10 Cuban prisoners. The prisoners were paroled by Castro to come to the United States to try to negotiate the deal.

Reuther announced afterward that his group had agreed to supply the tractors, provided Castro meets certain conditions.

Reuther appealed to Americans to contribute to a fund for the tractors—which may cost as much as $17 million.

Reuther said—without contradiction from any U. S. officials—that he had been given the green light as far as the Logan Act is concerned. The Logan Act bars negotiations by private citizens with foreign powers.

Comedienne Joan Davis Dies Today

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Comedienne Joan Davis of radio and TV fame died in a Palm Springs hospital today following a heart attack.

An associate said Miss Davis suffered the attack at her home here Monday afternoon and was taken to an emergency hospital. She died at 3 a.m. today.

Miss Davis, 48, had a long run with her television series called "I Married Joan," in which the male lead was played by Jim Backus.

When Miss Davis died in Desert Hospital her mother, Nina Davis, and a Catholic priest were by her side.

The agile and animated comedienne had been in virtual retirement for the last three or four years, spending much of her time at her desert home here. She also had a home in Hollywood.

Pair Of Tax Bills In Oklahoma Cleared

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two tax bills cleared their final hurdles in the legislature Monday and headed toward the governor.

The House approved Senate amendments to the income tax withholding system and tobacco tax hikes.

The measures are expected to net the state $31 million for the next two fiscal years.

Laos Parley Set To Chart Course

By LOUIS SEVIN

GENEVA (AP) — The East-West conference on Laos prepared today to chart its future course after a week of opening statements that showed the delegates deeply divided on the way to supervise neutrality in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

The conference must now decide whether to (1) split up to study committees, (2) go on debating points at issue in full sessions, or (3) recess until after the June 3 meeting in Vienna of President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

The nations at the conference table are split roughly three ways on how the International Control Commission set up to police the cease-fire in Laos should function, both in checking the military situation and later in supervising the Laotian neutrality the conference is supposed to underwrite.

The Communist bloc wants to limit the commission's activities and subject it to vetos of just about everybody concerned. The West wants to extend its operation to every corner of the jungle kingdom and eliminate any veto restrictions.

India, chairman of the commission that also includes Poland and Canada, favors a middle position that would allow a veto but permit the filling of majority and minority reports. Neutral Burma and Cambodia support the Indian stand.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk had demanded that the commission be empowered to investigate truce violations without hindrance.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko would allow investigations only on order of the co-chairmen of the conference, the Soviet Union and Britain, and require all commission decisions to be unanimous.

Cambodian Foreign Minister Nhiek Tioulong Monday said he agreed with a Soviet contention that under the Western proposal the control group might become an "instrument for interference in the internal affairs" in Laos. He appealed to the United States to modify its position.

With neither the United States nor the Soviet Union showing any tendency to modify its stand, there was growing belief that the dispute would be left for President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev to resolve at their meeting.

Sweetwater Man's Murder Trial Starts

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) — The murder trial of Shelby Doggett of Sweetwater, Tex., was on today before Judge Robert Lander with the state expected to complete its case.

A jury was qualified for a death penalty should accused slayer of Lawton golf pro Jim Lanman be convicted.

Lanman was slain last August. Doggett, 23, and Ronald Lockwood, 19, of Altoona, Pa., were later arrested in Pennsylvania in Lanman's car.

Forrest McClung, Comanche County sheriff, read a statement taken from Doggett and Lockwood by officers in which the two admitted the slaying. The statement accused Doggett of firing the shots.

Lockwood was tried earlier and sentenced to life.

described the bus as a protest against communism and integration.

A spokesman said the Nazis hoped to make speeches in Montgomery.

Integration leaders, including the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta and National CORE Director James Farmer, kept in seclusion after a lengthy siege in a Negro church under protection of the National Guard and state patrolmen.

Guardsmen in Jeeps, or on foot in squads with fixed bayonets, patrolled the streets. City police aided, but the hundreds of federal marshals ordered here by Atty. Gen. Kennedy were no longer on the streets.

The marshals, who kept the Sunday night mob at bay at the Negro First Baptist church until state patrolmen and guardsmen arrived, were withdrawn by the Justice Department. They are standing by at Maxwell Air Force Base on the outskirts of the city.

Deputy Asst. Atty. Gen. Byron the federal force, said the marshals would stay here as long as necessary to protect civil rights.

Anonymously telephoned bomb threats were made to the bus station, radio station WAPX, two white junior high schools, a white college and a Negro college. Investigating National Guardsmen, city police and firemen found no bombs.

While CORE headquarters in New York was announcing new freedom ride attempts by six members who arrived here Monday, a spokesman in Tennessee said the Nashville Student (non-violent) movement still planned to send its "freedom riders" all the way to their original destination — through Alabama, across Mississippi and on to New Orleans.

Throat Infection Sidelines Graham

LONDON (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham was felled by a throat infection today and canceled the first two dates in his three-week crusade in Britain.

The American preacher had expected to address 3,000 clergymen and lay church leaders in the Central Hall of the Borough of Westminster.

His doctor also advised him to pass up a scheduled meeting Wednesday in Swansea, Wales. His place will be taken by an associate, the Rev. Leighton Ford.

The evangelist's spokesman said Graham hopes to be able to keep his engagement for a big rally meet Monday in Manchester.

No Civil Rights Laws Are Sought

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today that despite race riots in Alabama the Kennedy administration will not seek new civil rights legislation this year.

Mansfield said in an interview his plans for the session call for an attempt to amend the Senate rules, probably in July, to make it easier to cut off Southern filibusters against civil rights legislation.

But he said he has no plans to try to bring up any new bills in this field. Two-thirds of senators voting now can cut off Senate debate. Mansfield has proposed that this authority be given to a lesser group of three-fifths.

In the House, Judiciary Committee Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said it soon will open hearings on civil rights measures.

"This bad situation cries for immediate remedies and for legislative action," he said.

Celler and Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., introduced six civil rights bills earlier this month, including one to speed desegregation of public schools in areas where Negro and white children still are not permitted to attend school together.

Other measures would make the Civil Rights Commission a permanent federal agency, permit injunction suits to prevent any denial of civil rights—not just voting rights. Eliminate the poll tax in federal elections, eliminate literacy tests for voting, and forbid discrimination by business firms and labor unions in hiring, firing and promotion.

Pierre Salinger, White House news secretary, said at the time the proposals were introduced they "are not administration-backed bills." He said President Kennedy wants some time to try enforcement of laws already on the books.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said that in view of the Kennedy administration position "I don't think we're going to get any action on civil rights this year and probably not next."

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who said he would like to see Congress arm the attorney general with the authority to initiate injunction suits to cope with situations such as that which developed in Montgomery, Ala., when mixed racial "freedom leaders" were beaten by a white mob, also was pessimistic about any early action.

DIRECTORIES—The American Association for University Women of Snyder has worked hard the past year in securing General Director's Letters. Above the higher education committee are looking over the six copies recently received. Miss Ruby Butts, outgoing president of the local chapter will make the presentation of the directories at Snyder High School Friday. The directories contain lists of scholarships, fellowships, and student loans available at all the senior colleges and univesities in Texas. Copies are to be distributed to Snyder, Hermleigh, Ira, Southland, Post and Fluvanna. Seated are Mrs. Glen Holladay, Mrs. F. W. Beaver and Mrs. Howard Jones. Standing, Vela Bell, Mrs. L. C. Winters and Miss Butts.

Mrs. Wiggins Hostess To Ira H-D

The Ira Home Demonstration Club met Friday at 2 p. m. in the community center with Mrs. Weldon Wiggins as hostess.

Those present were Mrs. Floyd House, Mrs. Mack Kruse, Mrs. Pete Sterling, Mrs. Robert Erwin, Mrs. S. R. Clements, Mrs. J. W. Lewis, Mrs. Wiggins and one visitor, Miss Ruby Butts, H-D agent.

Miss Butts presented the program "Keeping Young By The Way You Work." Some of the points were: what is work? Most present agreed it was something you didn't enjoy doing. A person who is dependable, optimistic, tolerant, flexible, has a will to live, and enjoys life, find they keep young by working. The thought for the day was: "God could not be everywhere, so he made mothers."

The nominee to be presented to council to go to the State THDA convention at San Angelo in August was Mrs. Mack Kruse. Also any other member who wants to attend the convention from the Ira Club, their car expenses and meals will be paid by the Ira H-D Club.

The next meeting has been changed to May 23rd, at 9 a. m. to make plastic purses with art foam. Anyone interested is invited. For lunch, each person is to bring their favorite summer dish with recipes. The meeting will possibly be over by 2:15 p. m. and Mrs. Robert Erwin will be hostess.

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy is about to ask Congress for a big boost in space and defense spending, plus a modest new set of economic tools to try to curtail hard-core unemployment.

The word moderate is one most frequently heard to describe the plans the President is drafting to send to Congress in the next few days in a new economic message. The cost may run to around $1 billion.

Kennedy is reported to have overruled some key advisers who advocated a broad public works program and other non-military spending proposals aimed at curbing unemployment.

Instead, the President is said to have decided that, with business conditions improving, emphasis on speeding U.S. efforts to beat the Soviets in putting a man on the moon and strengthening the nation's defenses is more urgent and politically feasible. This program, too, will create jobs.

Kennedy has run well behind his own deadlines on domestic economic plans. Last February he promised to submit to Congress by the end of March a plan to improve the unemployment compensation system on a permanent basis. His deadline for an over-all economic reappraisal ran out six weeks ago today.

Actually, the President is seeking to keep the budget deficit for the fiscal year beginning July 1 within reasonable bounds. Officials point out that in the post-recession fiscal year ended in mid-1959 former President Dwight D. Eisenhower ran up a deficit exceeding $12 billion. Kennedy is determined to keep next year's deficit well under half that amount.

Accordingly the word is that the administration will go slow for the time being at least, on economic aid proposals.

This is what he is likely to recommend to Congress:

Unemployment compensation standards. The states would have to meet these federal standards in raising the amount and duration of benefits. Congress always has resisted such proposals, but in the past two recessions it has had to enact temporary augmenting programs anyway.

Kennedy may revive his earlier proposal to finance the changes by broadening the tax base on employe wages from the present first $3,000 to $4,800. He may also recommend bringing more workers under the system.

Training - relocation. Priority may go to workers 30 or older, heads of families with work experience but displaced permanently from jobs. Money would be made available to train such workers in new skills and pay their expenses to move to new areas.

Young workers. This is aimed at jobless school dropouts. A proposed Youth Conservation Corps would supply low-wage employment in national parks and forests and in city playgrounds and parks. Employers also would be paid to give youths on-the-job training at low wages.

Survey Of Livestock Is Underway

Postmaster H. D. Moreland today reminded rural patrons of the Snyder Post Office to be on the lookout for June Livestock Survey cards.

Mail carriers are leaving survey cards in a sample of boxes along their routes this week.

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture bases livestock and poultry estimates on replies to this survey," Moreland explained. "It's important for everyone who gets a card to fill it out and return it to the carrier. This way, USDA gets a true sample of the area's livestock and poultry holdings."

Carriers assisting with the survey are Warren Dodson, Route 1; Hilton Lambert, Route 2; Joel Hamlett, Route 3; A. R. Morton, Arah Route; Jim Hassell, Clairemont Route, and Mrs. B. Y. Lenoir, Fluvanna Route.

Survey cards will be forwarded to Cary D. Palmer, state agricultural statistician in Austin. After adding and analyzing the cards, USDA statisticians are able to estimate the state's milk production, grain and pig crops and the number of hens and pullets.

Information from the survey will guide livestock and poultry producers in making important business decisions, Moreland said.

Trio Is Hit By Tragedy

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP)—James and Helen Sweeney had five children. So did Mrs. Florence Charlton, a widow, who lived nearby.

Tragedy struck all three of them Monday. For Mrs. Charlton it was the second time in less than three years.

Police said Barbara Sweeney, 8, one of the five children in the Sweeney family, was killed instantly when she ran into the path of an auto driven by Mrs. Charlton.

Officers said Mrs. Charlton became hysterical after the accident. Her husband, Edward, was killed in an auto accident on Memorial Day in 1958 in which another couple was killed. Mrs. Charlton was the sole survivor.

De-Emphasis Decided On In Carolina

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A long series of basketball troubles at the University of North Carolina and N.C. State College culminated Monday in a dramatic program of athletic de-emphasis decreed by the administration and trustees.

Involvement of players from both schools in the basketball gambling scandal was the spur for the action.

The man credited with bringing big-time collegiate basketball to the Tar Heel state, veteran coach Everett Case of N.C. State, reacted philosophically.

"We must remember, these men are running first of all, educational institutions. This thing was starting to run away with itself. An evil influence was getting into the game," Case said.

In announcing the de-emphasis to the consolidated University of North Carolina's 100 trustees, President William Friday explained, "Our aim is to save athletics."

With but three or four exceptions, the trustees stood up to signify approval of the program that:

1. Kills the 12-year-old Dixie Classic basketball tournament sponsored by N.C. State College and matching State, UNC, Duke and Wake Forest against four top intersectional teams.

2. Limits UNC and state basketball competition to the 14 conference games required by the Atlantic Coast Conference, participation in the ACC tournament, participation in the NCAA tournament and only two non-conference games.

3. Curtails player recruiting by allowing only two athletic grants-in-aid a year to basketball prospects outside the ACC states of Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina. Friday said the same principle would apply to football.

4. Bars basketball players from participating in organized competition during the summer months.

The Dixie Classic had hardly been killed, however, before there were hints of rebirth. Wake Forest Athletic Director Bill Gibson said Monday night that since Colgate, Illinois, Tulane and Stanford had been scheduled to participate, Wake Forest and Duke would talk about staging the Classic in another city, possibly Winston-Salem, Greensboro or Charlotte.

N.C. State Athletic Director Roy Clogston said he would have no objections, but couldn't "be a part to encouraging it."

The limitations on non-conference games sent State and UNC athletic officials scurrying to telephones to cancel games scheduled for the coming season.

North Carolina had to cancel games with UCLA, Southern California, Louisiana State and participation in the Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington, leaving only Notre Dame and Indiana as non-conference opponents for the 1961-62 Tar Heels.

State canceled games with La-Salle, UCLA, Southern California, Michigan, Villanova and George Washington, but will play Tennessee and West Virginia outside the conference.

One of the few athletic figures who publicly disagreed with the program was basketball coach Bill McCann of Virginia, an ACC school.

"I think the decision is entirely wrong," McCann said. "Why punish the game of basketball for the conduct of a handful of bad actors?"

Two players from North Carolina, reserve Lou Brown and star Doug Moe, were implicated in the game-fixing scandal being investigated by the New York district attorney's office. Charges of accepting bribes to shave points for gamblers have been brought in Carolina against three N.C. State players, captain Stan Niewierowski, Anton (Dutch) Muehlbauer and Terry Litchfield.

The gambling scandals followed player recruiting violations of recent years which resulted in the NCAA placing State on probation for four years and North Carolina for one.

CHOMPIN' AT THE BIT—A new innovation in the Girls' Recreation Program for the coming summer—horseback riding—has been added to the varied list of activities, with 74 girls having signed up for that phase during Saturday's registration. Mrs. Jack Longbotham will be teaching the course, with three of the early registrants—Cheril Stevenson, Sara Trigg and Kris Stevenson—pictured above. The riding course is to begin early in June, and any other girls desiring to sign up for it may do so Monday, June 5, at either the high school or Travis Junior High gyms. (Photo by Jackson)

Cards, Sox Notch Little League Wins

The booming bat of shortstop Roy Hunter was the difference here last night, as the Little League Cardinals clipped the Cubs, 7-3.

Hunter had a perfect night at the plate, singling in his first two appearances and capping off his performance by powering a four-bagger in the fifth. His spree accounted for the driving in of five of his team's seven runs.

Card hurler John Salmon hurled steady four-hit ball in posting the win, the first of the season for the Redbirds following a pair of early setbacks. Each of those safeties were one-basers, with shortstop Ronnie Shields collecting two of same.

Delbert Foree absorbed the loss for the Cubs, who are winless in three outings.

In the American League nightcap the White Sox inched out into the league lead, winning their second game in three ventures, 4-1, at the expense of the Indians. It tended to drop the losers into the cellar, also, as all league teams began the week's play with identical 1-1 records in the leather-tight race.

Sox first sacker Gus Tovar produced the most stick static for his mates, as he slammed a first inning leadoff homer and a sixth frame two bagger. Robert Golden and Buddy Powell also landed doubles to aid the Pale Hose cause.

Powell spaced eight singles in going the route, and being credited with the victory. James Jones was the only Indian collecting more than one base knock, as he went 2-for-3.

Tommy Wooldridge, who was touched for seven hits over the course of the game, was the losing hurler.

Barring rain or high water, tonight's opening headliner will see the Braves and Giants, co-leaders in the National with spotless 2-0 marks, meeting at 7 o'clock in an early "decider." The Yankees and Athletics will clash in the follow-up encounter, with the winner of that game destined to be tied with the White Sox for the league's top rung.

Giants Win; Nab Farm League Lead

The Farm League Cardinals slipped by the Braves last night in the first game of the evening, 13-12, aided by an 11-hit barrage, four of which went for extra bases.

Mark Wilson, Jim Frank, Roxy Small and Lindsley Lawson each delivered with a two-bagger apiece in boosting the Cards to the win, which was their initial successful venture in three tries.

Terry Browning went the distance for the Cards in posting the win. John Lacik absorbed the loss for the Brave nine.

Charles Brumit and Jack Greene were tops for the Braves, each landing a pair of singles in four appearances.

In the second contest of the evening, the Giants gained access to the league's uppermost rung with an 8-4 win over the previous co-leading Cubs.

The winners picked up 10 base blows off loser David Casey, who even in losing hurled a fine game, striking out 11.

Giant catcher Jerry Boyd, who unloaded on Casey's offerings for two doubles and a single in three times up, was the top man in the Giant attack. Bill Taylor and winning chunker David McGinnis each contributed a double and a single to the cause, also.

Cub left fielder Terry Looney, with a triple and a single, led his mates at the plate. Casey boosted his own effort by singling twice, also.

McGinnis was nipped for seven hits during the course of the game.

"66" STYMIES SEED NINE

Denson Edges Into Loop Lead

Denson Gulf, locked in an early-season dogfight with Von Roeder Seed Farms for the City Softball League's top spot, attained that goal last night by dumping R. E. Smith, 8-3, while the Seed nine dropped its first game of the season, 3-2, to Phillips "66".

It was the fourth win without loss for Denson, with Von Roeder dropping into the second slot with a 3-1 reading.

Lonnie Crosby tended to hill duties for the Denson nine, striking out 14 over the route. He doled out three hits, two of which were landed by Joe Falls and losing chunker Leroy Leard in the fourth frame, both runners of whom eventually scored on a fielding bobble.

Howard Jones was the big gun in the Denson attack. He pounded out a two-run homer and a double in four trips to show the way.

Duane Prince also aided the winning cause with a pair of singles in as many appearances.

Leard, in absorbing the defeat, gave up seven base knocks.

Mickey Nunley chunked the "66" nine to victory, scattering six hits over the route. Howard Sterling was tagged with the loss, although being touched for only three safeties.

A big first inning in which Phillips scored all three of its runs made the difference. Charlie Cole walked to trigger things, then tallied on a triple by James Boyd. Boyd came in ahead of Colvin, who boomed a circuit smash for the deciding blow of the game.

The Seedmen came alive in the third to score both of their runs. Brown and Max von Roeder both drew free passes and scored on a two-bagger off the bat of Howard Sterling to account for the team's run production for the night.

J. Feagan went 2-for-3 for Von Roeder, while Mickey Sterling also landed a double toward the losing cause.

Howard Sterling was charged with the loss after giving way to reliefer Pottsy Neeper in the third frame, who gave up one hit over the remainder of the game.

Trainer Quashes Ugly Rumor

NEW YORK (AP) — The Daily News said today that Carry Back, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, "was injured in shipment between Pimlico and Garden State and is a doubtful starter in the Belmont Stakes."

In Camden, N.J., however, site of Garden State Park, Jack Price, trainer of Carry Back, said the 3-year-old colt shipped in excellent shape from the Pimlico track in Baltimore.

("I've got about 18 calls about whether he's been hurt," Price said. "Where do these things start?")

The News said that Carry Back, expected to be the first 3-year-old since Citation in 1948 to win racing's triple crown, "is believed to have suffered an injury to the big cannon bone of one back leg."

Congressional Eyes Still Fall On Sparrow Of Sorts

BY INEZ ROBB

Who can say that the Congressional eye, too, is not upon the sparrow?

Laundry workers may still have to bend to the tub and iron shirts for 65 cents an hour, since they are once more omitted from the provisions of the minimum wage law. Thus was won some Southern support for the bill.

But Congress has other goodies to compensate these laborers for their omission from the benefits of a minimum wage. A bill now before Congress would reduce the Federal tax on country-club dues from 20 to 10 per cent. The chief rallying point for this humane bill is the argument of its Congressional supporters that country clubs are no longer the sole province of the rich.

The more abundant life in the U. S. A., so the argument runs, has enabled all of God's chillun to join country clubs. Thus it is unfair to soak the poor for the privilege of playing golf and floating in the Olympic-style pool at the new-type five-and-dime country clubs.

At least it is unfair to soak them with a 20 per cent tax. So the new bill would halve the Federal take. The bill, perish forbid, is not designed to ease the tax bite on members of Burning Tree, the Washington club to which White House and Congressional leaders oft repair to restring their nervous systems on the golf course.

The fact that the new bill would bring tax relief to Burning Treers and members of other equally opulent country clubs around the nation is purely coincidental. Its humanitarian purpose is solely to help lift the tax burden from the shoulders of the deserving poor who are trying to break 90, too. If its blessings accidentally fall upon the rich, well, that is the price we pay in a democracy.

If and when this tax relief measure passes Congress, there should be no need for strengthening the act providing medical services for the aged or for further distribution of government surplus food to underprivileged children.

Once country-club dues are cut in half, every right-thinking American should be self-supporting all the way. It seems odd that no one heretofore has hit upon this simple solution to the nation's financial problems. That beats Huey Long's old formula for "every man a king," and fits neatly into the President's injunction "to ask not what America can do for you, but what you can do for America."

What we can do for America is to cut country-club dues by 50 per cent and make every citizen self-supporting.

And as long as we are in the realm of tax reform, I again make a plaintive pitch or plea for inclusion in 27½ per cent depletion allowance, tax-wise, enjoyed by the oil industry, as well as coal, sulphur, iron, copper and even sand and gravel, to mention a few.

Why my yen to be included in its tax haven should so infuriate the oil industry not only baffles me but hurts my feelings. It's not as if I were down in Washington, beating of Congressional doors and clamoring for the depletion allowance to be either reduced or abolished.

All I am trying to do is to get under the tax tent with the big boys. But every time I mention my desire not to fight 'em but to join 'em, the oil men get livid and start deluging me with drop-dead letters. They do not seem to realize that in rejecting my plea they are running counter to the Horatio Alger philosophy of this country to encourage the poor, but honest, to sink or swim with the big fish.

It is high time the oil industry asked not what poor Nell Robb can do for it, but what it can do for poor Nell.

Nation Faces Total Threat

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Secretary of the Navy John Connally said Monday night that the nation faces a threat that is both total and insidious.

"There are no easy answers and apparently there are no lasting solutions," the Fort Worth man said.

"This is a threat that encompasses the entire spectrum of our life."

Connally was the principal speaker at the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce membership banquet attended by more than 800 persons.

"We must decide how much we are willing to sacrifice for our way of life," he said. "We are faced with a tyranny of domination of mind and soul by an atheistic power."

The secretary said the people of the United States are going to have to decide if we are prepared to wage an economic war, or propaganda war, or political engagement.

Author Says Whole World Is In Shock

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"The whole world is in a state of shock," said author John Steinbeck. "That is why people don't think.

"You can't think when you're in a state of shock."

At 59 Steinbeck, rated among the best of the United States' living writers, has turned out 27 books. His latest novel, "The Winter of Our Discontent," will be published next month.

But for 30 years Steinbeck also has made an intensive study of the Middle Ages, and feels mankind is again entering that kind of historical period.

"Again we're seeing the breakup of old forms of authority—religious, governmental, even parental—before new ones are established," he said, puffing cheerfully on a pipe in the study of his East Side home.

"That's why people are so restless and worried. They don't know what to tie to.

"There's even a new trend in cocktail parties here. Instead of showing up with their husbands or wives or mistresses or lovers, people bring their psychiatrists.

"Good Lord, the way we live."

But Steinbeck, who saw life in the raw in half a dozen jobs ranging from brick laying to war reporting, retains a wonderful gusto for living. Rumpling his graying hair and beard, swiveling his glasses from his nose to the top of his head, he scribbles out 2,000 words of prose almost daily with a ball point pen in a series of old fashioned ledgers.

"I used to write 3,000 words a day, but it got to be too exhausting," he said.

The ledgers in which he writes would be gold mines to future literary scholars — if Steinbeck kept them. But he says he throws them away.

"They don't seem awfully damn important to me," he said in the rapid-fire, half mumble with which he talks.

"I heard once that J.P. Morgan spent a fourtune for three of Shelley's hairs. Ridiculous. If he had lived when Shelley did, he probably wouldn't have read a line of his poetry."

Hailed as a social reformer when "Grapes of Wrath" appeared in 1940, Steinbeck feels he has grown both more intense and more mature with the years.

"Everything in life is colored by your personality," he observed "but as you mature you become more aware of outside things, less concerned about yourself.

"There's nothing that cleans up like dying. If you stick around too long, they get tired of you. Sometimes I think I've stuck around too long.

"I may run out of gas, but not out of ideas as ideas have pups. It's when you're not doing anything that you don't have ideas."

Can't Remember How He Got Two Wives

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — Richard J. Rutkowski of South San Francisco has two wives but he can't remember how it happened. Or so he told Carson City Police.

Rutkowski, 24, was arrested Monday for passing bad checks. A routine police check showed he had one wife too many.

"I just woke up one morning with an extra wife," Rutkowski said. "Don't ask me how it happened."

He was arraigned on a felony bigamy charge.

Farm Bill Is Opposed By Ginners

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas Cotton Ginners Association has issued a nine-point objection to the administration's omnibus farm bill.

Directors of the organization detailed their opposition at a meeting in Dallas Monday.

The association president, R. L. Massey of Pilot Point, sent copies of the statement to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman and to Texas congressmen. He said the directors considered the bill, as originally written, isn't in the best interest of cotton farmers.

These exceptions to the omnibus farm bill, currently before Congress, were taken by the 1,200-member ginners organization, which is the nation's largest:

1. The traditional method of law-making must be protected through open hearings by Congress. Ginners opposed specifically the concept of the secretary of agriculture drawing up farm programs with "politically appointed" committees.

2. Any legislation which removes the minimum of 16,310,000 acres for cotton is unacceptable.

3. Any limitation on payments or supports is discriminatory and has no basis for fair and equitable participation by all farmers.

4. Any farm program should recognize the necessity for competitive prices and markets.

5. Farm programs should provide some protection for farmers in the form of supports.

6. Marketing orders are not workable for cotton. These federally operated orders are one of the key proposals in the omnibus farm bill.

7. Cross-compliance in farm programs which would require cotton farmers to comply with regulations on all crops in order to participate in various other government programs is unfair.

8. Any program which does not take into consideration all segments of the cotton industry is unfair and unworkable.

9. Any quotas established in farm legislation should be in acres and not pounds or bales.

Mort Sahl Awarded Damages For Libel

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Mort Sahl has won a judgment for libel damages as a result of a trade-paper article that he said mortified him because it called him "a phony liberal."

The night-club monologist Monday was awarded $100 general damages and $5,000 exemplary damages against Jaik Rosenstein, publisher of Hollywood Closeup. Sahl had sued for $150,000.

QUESTION: What is wind?

• • •

ANSWER: Wind is the movement of air. In a calm period, the air moves so slightly we hardly know it. Sometimes it is so gentle it hardly stirs the leaves of trees. But when the wind rises to full force, it is strong enough to blow down trees. The earth is covered by a layer of air which is continually moving. The degree of wind is caused by two major changes. One is when air of different temperatures comes together, the other due to atmospheric pressures. Warm air is light and has an upward movement. Cool air presses against this, forces the warm air up and then other air comes in to fill the space. As you can see, this causes movement of air—or wind. There is a scale to describe the different degrees of wind. A fresh breeze is air moving at 19 to 24 miles per hour. At 47 mph, it is a strong gale and harmful to fruit crops. Between 64 and 75 mph, it is a hurricane and is dangerous to man, and property. The winds of a tornado often whirl at more than 300 miles an hour and are the most destructive of all.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can discover the area where most of the tornadoes in the United States take place.

Government May Begin Bargaining

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's biggest employer, the federal government, is seriously considering entering into formal bargaining relations with its employes' unions.

Up to now federal agency dealings with the unions have been on a hit-or-miss basis. The unions claim as members about one-fourth the approximately 2.4 million federal employes.

Some branches of the government work closely with the unions. A few agencies, such as the Tennessee Valley Authority, have formal agreements. In others the unions are kept pretty much at arm's length.

President Kennedy is represented as feeling the time has come for the government to adopt a formal policy for dealing with employe organizations that is more in keeping with what federal law requires of private employers.

Chairman John W. Macy Jr. of the Civil Service Commission confirms that a study is being made looking toward issuance of a formal union relations policy. It's indicated no such policy will be issued for several months.

Everybody concerned, including the unions, accept the fact that public employes won't have any right to strike or picket.

As for wages, Congress establishes rates for classified, or white collar federal workers. Wage boards establish rates for laborers, geared to what is paid in private employment.

This leaves the field of working conditions, promotions, demotions, overtime and the like. The unions want formal recognition so they can bring grievances or be consulted on upcoming policy changes.

Among questions being considered are whether there should be written agreements, whether one or several unions can be recognized by one agency, whether grievance arguments should be settled by arbitration and whether the government should check off dues for the unions from wages.

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has borrowed Ida Klaus a mediator with the New York City labor department, to recommend how far a recognition policy should be applied. Miss Klaus is a former chief attorney for the National Labor Relations Board.

"Our talks are exploratory right now," said one official "but I think everyone is disposed to adopting some sort of recognition policy. We can't duck and put this off any longer."

The prospect of a new and more union-conscious federal policy has chilled the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The current issue of the chamber's "Labor Relations Letter" says the move would "even shock" the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt who in 1937 said government employes "should realize that the process of collective bargaining, as usually understood cannot be transplanted into the public service."

Federal Aid Likely Topic For Baptists

ST. LOUIS (AP)—It appeared likely today that the Southern Baptist Convention will be asked to consider a resolution setting forth its position on federal aid to education.

Some delegates are prepared to introduce a school aid resolution during the four-day meeting opening today. More than 15,000 members of churches affiliated with the SBC are expected to attend.

The Southern Baptist Convention is the largest Baptist body in the nation. It has 31,906 churches with 9,485,276 members.

The Rev. A. B. Van Arsdale of Decatur, Ala., who is to deliver the keynote sermon tonight, has expressed "unalterable opposition to federal aid to private and religious schools."

He said the Baptist group's position was widely misunderstood during the presidential campaign, adding:

"We weren't opposed to Mr. Kennedy because of any fear of the great masses of Catholics in the United States.

"We were afraid of this parochial and hierarchical effort to get federal support."

Other Baptist leaders have spoken up on the question of federal school aid in recent weeks.

Mamie Is Presented With Giant Ticket

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower has a giant-sized ticket to a June 1 fund-raising dinner in Washington at which her husband, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, will speak.

Mrs. Eisenhower was presented the ticket at a luncheon here Monday with a group of prominent Republican women.

Eisenhower met at his Gettysburg office with Lewis L. Strauss, former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and with a member of the Japanese Diet (parliament), Banboku Ono.

A spokesman said that Ono called to express a wish that Eisenhower pay a visit to Japan.

Daily Crude Flow Rises

TULSA (AP)—Daily average domestic oil production rose 32,485 to 7,655,410 barrels during the week ended May 20, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

The Journal estimated 1961 production at 1,014,586,900 barrels compared to 1,003,226,800 a year ago.

Oklahoma was up 26,100 to 538,500 barrels; Louisiana up 150 to 1,162,700; Arkansas, wdon 1,875 barrels to 80,925; and Colorado, down 600 to 131,800.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,448,350 barrels and New Mexico at 317,300.

LeMay Is Leading Exponent Of B70

EDITOR'S NOTE — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who will take over as Air Force chief of staff July 1, is a veteran bomber pilot and the first chief of the Strategic Air Command. His believes in the B70 bomber. His appointment, writes Fred S. Hoffman, an Associated Press military affairs reporter, may signal a new effort to get the speedy plane in the air soon.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Curtis E. LeMay's advent as Air Force chief of staff may signal a new effort to win an administration go-ahead for the 2,000-mile-an-hour B70 bomber.

LeMay is a veteran bomber pilot and first chief of the Strategic Air Command, is an exponent of the B70 and a believer in the concept of a mixed bomber-missile force as a main deterrent to enemy attack for some years to come.

An associate of the incoming staff chief said LeMay believes the B70 is needed and that the general doesn't want to see it canceled or delayed.

This LeMay associate contended the B70 project has not been abandoned, that the Kennedy administration has reached no final decision. He spoke in terms of presenting a case for the B70 "in court," apparently meaning the highest levels of the administration.

Generally, the source familiar with LeMay's thinking said he expected "no radical changes" when the bluff, vigorous, 54-year-old general takes over from retiring General Thomas D. White July 1.

LeMay has been vice chief under White for four years, the source noted, and thus has worked with White in developing the policies and practices now in effect.

But where White was an appointee of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, LeMay is President Kennedy's choice—and thus may have more influence at the top of the current administration than White could exert.

Presumably, LeMay could exert that influence in the direction of gaining support for the B70, which Kennedy has proposed cutting back—at least for the present.

In his military budget message to Congress nearly two months ago, Kennedy recommended cutting back the project by $138 million to $226 million in the bookkeeping year starting July 1.

The President said then that, taking into account planned missile capability and the fact that the B70s would not become available in operational numbers until the late 1960s, it was deemed "unnecessary and economically unjustifiable" to develop the bomber as a full weapons system at this time.

However, Kennedy proposed carrying the B70 program forward on a lesser scale "to preserve the option of developing this manned bomber weapon system, if we should later determine such a system is required."

If LeMay should embark on a campaign to get the B70 bomber on the runways, he likely would have a tough time selling Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Testifying on Capitol Hill, McNamara has resisted pressures in the direction from Senate advocates of the B70.

At one recent session, Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., asked McNamara: "do you think that it would be intelligent to get this B70 as a weapons system developed and tested at the earliest possible time?"

McNamara replied: "I definitely do not. I think it would be a serious waste of this nation's resources to pursue that program."

Probe Of Imports Due, Says Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said today a House Small Business Subcommittee will investigate the crude oil import program.

The date was set for the hearing, but Patman said it would be made in the near future by a group headed by Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla.

The hearing is to determine whether the import program is "weakening the domestic oil industry and fostering monopoly control," Patman, chairman of the Small Business Committee, said.

In 1958, he said, Congress gave the President power to limit foreign oil imports to maintain a vigorous domestic industry.

But recent hearings held by the Interior Department suggest "that instead of making full use of the powers which have been granted, the previous administration put into effect a program which may be weakening the domestic oil industry and fostering monopoly control," Patman said.

He said that if testimony by industry witnesses is correct "the import program . . . amounts to a cash dole to independent refiners.

Refineries in all parts of the country are given foreign oil quotas and ration tickets to buy cheap foreign oil, Patman said, but "most of them never used foreign oil and can't use it because of freight costs from coastal points inland.

"It appears," he said, "that cash markets for these ration tickets are in operation and inland refiners are selling their quotas to coastal refiners at prices ranging from $1 to $1.50 a barrel."

Patman said that if the effect of the program is to encourage independent refiners to trade in portion of their markets to the international oil companies for cash, then the program neither encourages a vigorous industry nor discovery of new oil sources.

"There is little doubt that the serious plight of the U.S. crude oil industry is a direct result of the big company imports of oil," Patman said.

Mobil Guide Cites Snyder Attractions

Snyder's tourist resources, history, and economy are featured in the Mobil Travel Guide for the South Central and Southwestern States, the first American guidebook to report in detail on local level sightseeing and rate independently hotels, motels, and restaurants.

The section on Snyder was prepared by researchers who blanketed Texas, selecting outstanding tourist attractions and personally rating facilities for quality and value.

Listing "what to see and do," the guide suggests swimming, picnicking, fishing, boating and hunting in the area of Lake Thomas. The Fat Stock Stock Show is cited an annual event of interest.

Mobil's Guide notes that Snyder, originally a small cattle and cotton ginning town, has boomed since the discovery of oil nearby.

The Guide to the South Central and Southwestern States describes hundreds of villages, towns and cities. A national board of travel authorities examined more than 2,300 selected motels, hotels, restaurants and resorts, rating each on a star system.

Food and travel experts answer such questions as "Is this restaurant worth a detour? How much will it cost? What's the best inexpensive hotel we can find for the price? Is there a laundry? Do they have a baby sitter service?"

Edited for both the local family on a one-day or weekend sightseeing expedition and the visitor from afar, the South Central and Southwestern States edition of the Guide describes prominent tourist attractions and facilities in Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Louisiana, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. It provides the traveler with a handbook as reliable, objective and detailed as the famous Guide Michelin—a world - respected catalogue of France's tourist delights.

Reports cover fishing and hunting, parks and forests, camping and boating, state history, special limits, and annual events—all full of interesting and useful details.

The Guide is published in three other regional editions: California-Nevada, Northeastern States, and Great Lakes Area. Each edition sells for one dollar wherever books and pocket books are sold and at most Mobil service stations.

Says Jeff Chandler 'Fairly Comfortable'

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP) — A hospital spokesman says Jeff Chandler is improved and "fairly comfortable."

Chandler, 42, was given 55 pints of blood by transfusion when an artery ruptured last Thursday. His physicians said the complication developed from surgery May 13 to correct a slipped spinal disc.

Tower Gets Big Boost By Morton

By JOE BENHAM

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The Republican national chairman offered senatorial candidate John Tower Monday night, as a man who "will do more for your state and country than any man I know."

Sen. Thruston Morton, R-Ky., added:

"I don't think anything could give more strength to the cause of our country when Mr. Kennedy meets Mr. Khrushchev in Vienna than to have elected in Texas a symbol of sound, conservative government in America."

Morton's speech was one of a series by state and national GOP figures at a $1 a plate barbecue attended by more than 2,000 persons.

Tower, seeking to wrest from interim Sen. William Blakley of Dallas the seat vacated by Vice President Lyndon Johnson, was cheered with the slogan "Tower Si, Blakley No" on his arrival. He was cheered again when he promised that "I will be consistently conservative and I will be a full-time senator."

Tower continued:

"We are fighting another battle of the Alamo, and nothing is more important than the salvation of our free institutions and we must fight for them, believe me.

"It has been suggested that if we want defense installations, dams and things like that, we'd better vote Democratic. I don't think the people of Texas are going to be bribed with their own money, and I don't think they're going to be blackmailed."

In introducing Tower, former state GOP chairman Thad Hutcheson of Houston said Sen. Blakley "has proved just one thing—he achieved the most glaring absentee record in the history of the U.S. Senate."

Democrats Lining Up For Blakley

HOUSTON (AP)—Liberal and conservative Democrats rallied around Sen. William Blakley as he campaigned through South Texas today.

The senator was in Houston following a dinner speech in Galveston after a tour of East and South Central Texas.

In reply to a question about what the Republicans stand for in Texas, Blakley replied:

"I really don't know what they stand for, except for one thing. They want the Democrats to send a Republican to the U.S. Senate. The Republican opposition is saying that you have to vote Republican to be a good Democrat. That's silly."

Texas leaders in last fall's presidential campaign spoke out in support of Blakley.

A statement endorsing his candidacy was issued by Gerald C. Mann, Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Gen. Carl Phinney and Barefoot Sanders.

Mann was state director of the Kennedy-Johnson campaign; Judge Hughes and Gen. Phinney were co-chairmen and Sanders was director for Dallas County.

Their statement said Republican John Tower "has been so busy running down Blakley that he hasn't found time to discuss his own qualifications—or his own Republican Party." The statement added that Blakley "has run a clean campaign, on his own merits, and has consistently refused to descend to the name-calling level of his Republican opponent."

Sanders urged Texans to vote for Blakley because "we believe that the best interests of our state and nation will be served by keeping Texas Democratic and keeping Blakley in the Senate."

Murchson Bros. Are Victors In 'Battle Of Millionaires'

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The epic "battle of millionaries" for control of the $6.7-billion financial empire ruled by Alleghany Corp. ends today with a victory for the insurgent Murchison brothers.

Never before had a proxy fight been waged for such stakes.

All that remained was formal announcement of the margin in stockholder votes they rolled up over vanquished management forces led by Allan P. Kirby, outgoing chairman.

Counting disputed proxies, it was expected to top 800,000. Disregarding them, it was still well over a half million, informed sources said.

Unanswered, however, was this question: By winning the battle, did John D. Murchison, 39, and Clint, 37, win the war?

Paradoxically, the outcome left Kirby, rich and proud, owning nearly 35 per cent of Alleghany's 9,844,970 common shares, a holding larger than that of the corporation's new rulers and their associates combined.

In the lexicon of poker, Kirby was "looking down the throats" of the victors. The best indication was that he would bide his time, spurning the Murchisons' expected profer of representation on the board.

Kirby, 68, reputedly worth $300 million built on a Woolworth 5-and-10 cent store inheritance, stayed away from today's thrice-recessed session of Alleghany's May 1 annual meeting.

The count of proxies was finished only last weekend.

The dissident Texans whose father, fabulous oilman and investor Clint W. Murchison Sr., once was a Kirby business ally swept all nine director berths—the seven elected by common stock votes and the two chosen by preferred shareowners.

The Murchison forces planned to assemble in New York on Wednesday to take over officially, probably by installing an interim crew of new corporate officers.

One report had them angling for services of John J. McCloy, former New York banker and government official, as directing head of the company.

Robert B. Anderson, a former secretary of the Treasury and now a special partner in a Wall Street investment firm, was another possibility.

Alleghany controls the $2.5-billion New York Central Railroad and Investors Diversifield Services, a $3.7-billion, Minneapolis-based investment company complex.

In addition, it has multimillion-dollar holdings in the Baltimore and Ohio and Missouri Pacific railroads, Webb & Knapp Inc., giant New York realty firm, and Transamerica Corp., an insurance holding company.

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Twelve additional warrants were taken out Monday against eight white men held in recent floggings in northeast Alabama, Circuit Solicitor W. E. Hollingsworth Jr. announced.

The men were arrested following incidents in Talladega County the night of May 13, when three white persons were flogged for associating with Negroes.

Sheriff Luke Brewer said all eight men were members of the Ku Klux Klan. They are being held under bond on charges of assault with intent to murder and flogging.

Kennedy To Have Own Golf Course

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy is giving the President an abbreviated golf course of his own for a birthday present.

Workmen have been busy at the Kennedy's weekend estate in Middleburg, Va., carving out a course of three or four holes for the President's private use.

It's pretty hard to keep a present like that a secret and Kennedy already has been trying out the layout.

According to reports, Mrs. Kennedy is footing the bills for greens and fairways covering some 20 acres on the 400-acre Glen Ora estate the Kennedys have leased for a year in the heart of the Virginia hunt country.

The longest hole will be about 350 yards.

Already, a sign denotes it as the "Glen Ora Country Club."

Kennedy's birthday is next Monday, May 29, when he will be 44 years old.

Mrs. Kennedy's gift should be pretty well ready by then. Along with the golf course there is a tractor-drawn lawnmower to keep the greens in proper shape.

Besides golf, Glen Ora has stables for horses, a swimming pool and trap-shooting equipment.

Kennedy seems to be following in the footsteps of his predecessor in the White House, Dwight D. Eisenhower, in his enthusiasm for golf.

Eisenhower has a small practice golf course at his Gettysburg, Pa., estate. It includes a putting green with several practice approach areas.

When he was in the White House, Eisenhower made use of a small putting green on the south lawn outside his office.

Kennedy has been trying a few practice shots there too.

Eichmann Is Described As Authority

By THOMAS A. REEDY

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was described in court today as the supreme authority over the Jews in Romania during World War II, with more power even than the collaborating Antonescu government.

The prosecution produced documents showing the Gestapo officer, on trial for directing the Nazis' Jewish program, dealt directly with Bucharest and often bypassed the Nazi Foreign Ministry.

Eichmann delegated his power to SS ('Elite Guard') Maj. Gustav Richter on the scene.

In one document introduced by the prosecution, Richter said he had scolded the puppet government because one of its courts had ordered the return of money an official had taken from a Jew on the false pretense of helping him to emigrate. The ruling was set aside and the Jew was deported to a death camp.

Orders flew out of Berlin to whip up the pogrom. Deportations to Auschwitz followed and many for Romania's Jewry.

July 26, 1942, was the black day thousands also were shot in Romanian ghettos by roving bands of the Einsatz Kommandos—special action squads whose reports came to Eichmann's office "for Jewish affairs."

An aging widow gave an eyewitness account of the persecutions in Czernowitz, which lost almost its entire Jewish population of 70,000 through starvation, disease and the gas chamber.

Mrs. Perle Mark testified that her husband, the chief rabbi, was shot in a group of about 160, her father and mother were shot when they fell on a march through the streets to a hastily constructed ghetto and her brother and her son were deported.

The remora fish is equipped with a powerful suction disk on the top of its head. When it wishes to ravel, the remora attaches itself to a shark, marlin, barracuda or even a ship.

Wires Money For Ransom

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) —John (Jake the Barber) Factor says he has wired $25,000 to Eleanor Roosevelt "to help save the lives of the 1,200 Cuban patriots being held by dictator Fidel Castro."

Mrs. Roosevelt, Milton Eisenhower and Walter Reuther head a committee to raise money to buy 500 tractors Castro has demanded as ransom.

Factor himself was the object of a $200,000 ransom attempt after he was kidnapped by a Chicago gangland mob in 1933.

Factor, 69, describes himself as a semiretired realtor and philanthropist. He says he has donated more than $2 million to various charities in recent years.
