Volunteers donated 132 units of blood Monday to the Red Cross Bloodmobile on its semi-annual visit to Wellington.

City to Apply for $1.6 Million Funds

Application for two federal grants totaling $1,685,205 will be made by the City of Wellington, as a result of action by the City Council Monday night, March 20.

City Manager Glen Taylor was notified Monday morning that Wellington can qualify for 35 units of Section 3 Housing under HUD funding, in the amount of $1,185,205. This would provide housing for "large families, other families, the elderly and handicapped," Taylor told the council.

Included in the 35 units would be 7 with three or more bedrooms, 14 with two or three bedrooms and 14 with one bedroom, according to the city manager. Poverty guidelines would be applied to determine those eligible to occupy this housing.

The second grant application will be for $500,000 in community block grant funds. This is the same as the $98,000 grant received by the city and county, which is being used for paving and home improvements in the north part of town.

The applications were approved in separate motions which passed when Mayor Bill Hatch voted to break a tie. Council members Lyndon Crelia and Tom Wilkins voted in favor of making applications for both grants while Wayne Cudd and J.L. Harper voted against the applications.

Taylor said he will ask for additional information on the housing grant.

The block grant can be used for certain housing, street paving or for installing public facilities affecting public health. The latter could include an additional water reservoir, Taylor said. The city has been told by the Texas Department of Health that it does not have sufficient water storage capacity for its population.

A motion was passed unanimously accepting the Cox addition into the city. This new housing area in southwest Wellington will be developed by Circle 3 Development Co., owned by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox.

It provides for 24 building lots along three short streets, each ending in a cul de sac. This lies across FM 1035 west of the Moore Addition, and the new three streets will be extensions of 18th, 19th, and 20th Streets.

A contract to install the water and sewer lines in the new addition was let to Davis Irrigation Co. of Memphis on a low bid of $24,177. Morris Davis, owner, told Cox he could begin work next week.

The city also received from Cox the approved plat of the addition and dedication deeds for streets and alleys.

Tony Stephens and Alton Belew, the retiring president and new president of Wellington Softball Association, asked the city to install a short protective fence, repair other fences and install a concrete ramp to the stands at Marian Airpark Ball Park. The council members agreed to this but asked the men to get a cost figure on this work and present it in the next day or two. Beginning of the softball season is only two weeks away.

Approval was given a request from the Beautify Texas Council to invite youth groups to participate in events aimed at beautifying their city. This is a statewide movement, and no specific projects were identified in the council's request for approval.

A motion seeking to cut reimbursement to subdivision developers from 100 percent to 50 percent of the cost of installing sewer and water lines was voted down when Mayor Hatch for the third time Monday night voted to break a tie by voting against the proposal.

Councilman Cudd made the motion, which also would have lowered the period allowed for development from 15 years to 10. J.L. Harper seconded the motion. Opposing it were members Crelia and Wilkins.

During the meeting, the mayor told the council that the $11,300 sales tax rebate received recently by the city from Comptroller Bob Bullcock's office was the largest Wellington has had.

Taylor said that permission has been received to burn 30 houses in northeast Wellington that cannot be repaired or salvaged in any way.

The council voted for a $5 monthly fee to be assessed persons living outside the city limits but receiving garbage pickup service. The city will furnish the dumpster containers used.

County Farmers Demonstrate on Capitol Steps

Eight Collingsworth County men were among 10,000 farmers who paraded up Pennsylvania Avenue and held a demonstration for higher farm prices on the capitol steps last week in Washington.

The group participated in lobbying and demonstrations that were the final phase of American Agriculture's efforts to raise farm prices before spring planting.

And it appeared by Tuesday, March 21 that the months of local meetings, demonstrations and trips to Washington had paid off. The Senate Tuesday passed a mish-mash of legislation that would raise farm prices. The bill that was passed combined two plans that are not compatible and the final legislation will be worked out in the House-Senate conference committee. The House was expected to appoint members to the conference committee on Wednesday, but no action was expected on the House floor until the Congress returns from Easter recess on April 3.

Local men met with Congressman Jack Hightower and staffers for Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower, and the group talked to James Starkey, Robert Strauss' assistant for international agricultural trade agreements. Starkey told the group that farmers should continue to come to Washington and protect their interests. Tom Sanderson, one of the local group, said. Starkey said that every other economic group is represented in Washington and farmers should be too.

Outside the government, the Collingsworth County group met with national Farm Bureau staff men and National Cotton Council staffers. Both organizations have received criticism from American Agriculture supporters for not supporting the demand of 100 percent parity. Farm Bureau has recently supported the flexible parity scheme of the Dole bill.

"On this trip American Agriculture was well-respected and everybody seemed to have time to talk to us," Sanderson said. "There were no locked doors and we were never turned down for an appointment."

The Collingsworth group also met with an assistant to John White at Democratic National Headquarters. They presented in person the resolution that county Democrats had passed calling on President Carter to abide by the farm plank of the Democratic platform (which calls for parity based on cost of production plus a reasonable profit.)

Sanderson said that each evening the Texas delegation of American Agriculture met in one of the Senate office buildings for reports on what each group had accomplished during the day. He said 300 to 400 farmers packed the room each night.

"It was a very satisfying and gratifying trip, and I think the people who donated money for us to go got their money's worth," Sanderson said. "I don't think there's a county in the country that can match the effort our little county has put out in moving this program forward."

Going from Collingsworth County Tuesday through Friday were Sanderson, Danny Davis, Joe Wood, David Caison, Jimmy Breeding, Denzil Lacy, J.H. Oldham and Dudley Phipps.

Community Easter Service To Be Held at Norwood

This year's community Easter service will be held at Samnorwood Baptist Church Sunday, March 25, at 7:30 p.m. This is the first time this special service has been held outside of Wellington.

It is sponsored each year by the Ministerial Association. The Rev. Darrell Feemster is pastor of the host church. The Rev. J.D. Henson, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, will preach the Easter sermon.

Special music will be presented by the Lighthouse Quartet, led by Tom Wilkins, who will also lead the congregational singing. This group appears at churches throughout the county and regularly at Thomas Nursing Center. They also appear on cablecom Channel 5.

The Rev. Tom Thomson of First Methodist Church will give the invocation and Rev. Feemster the benediction.

The Rev. Ken Johnson, pastor of First Christian Church and president of the Ministerial Association, will preside at the service.

An offering will be taken and this money is used by the association to help the needy within the county. In the past, the money was designated to help needy transients.

The Ministerial Association will still help transients if real need can be found, Rev. Johnson pointed out, but the Wellington pastors have found, along with church groups in many other towns, that some of these "needy" transients travel about the country on the generosity of churches and people.

Most churches which are members of the Ministerial Association will dismiss evening services so members may go to Samnorwood.

Quail Ex-Students to Visit New Building, Hold Banquet Saturday

Visits to the new buildings of the Quail School plant will highlight this year's Ex-Students reunion and banquet—something no other group of ex-students has been able to do.

Service for J.B. Trew Here Thursday

J.B. Trew, 86, prominent farmer in the Rolla area for many years, and later a Wellington resident, died in Amarillo Wednesday, March 22. He had lived at Olson Manor Nursing Center two years.

Funeral services will be conducted at First Baptist Church here Thursday at 2:00 p.m. with Rev. Mickey Fugitt officiating. Burial will be in

The banquet will be held Saturday, March 25, the traditional night-before-Easter date.

Besides the general reunion, the class of 1958 will hold its 20th anniversary reunion from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. in a room of the north building.

Plans are being made for approximately 150 ex-students and their families to attend the banquet, according to Lonetta Neeley Ingram, secretary-treasurer.

Visiting will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the banquet will be served at 7:30. This year it will be catered by Carrol's Barbecue of Shamrock.

There will be a short business meeting in which new officers will be elected. A gift will be presented to the ex-student traveling the farthest.

Officers in addition to Mrs. Ingram are David Russell, president; Rosetta Burney

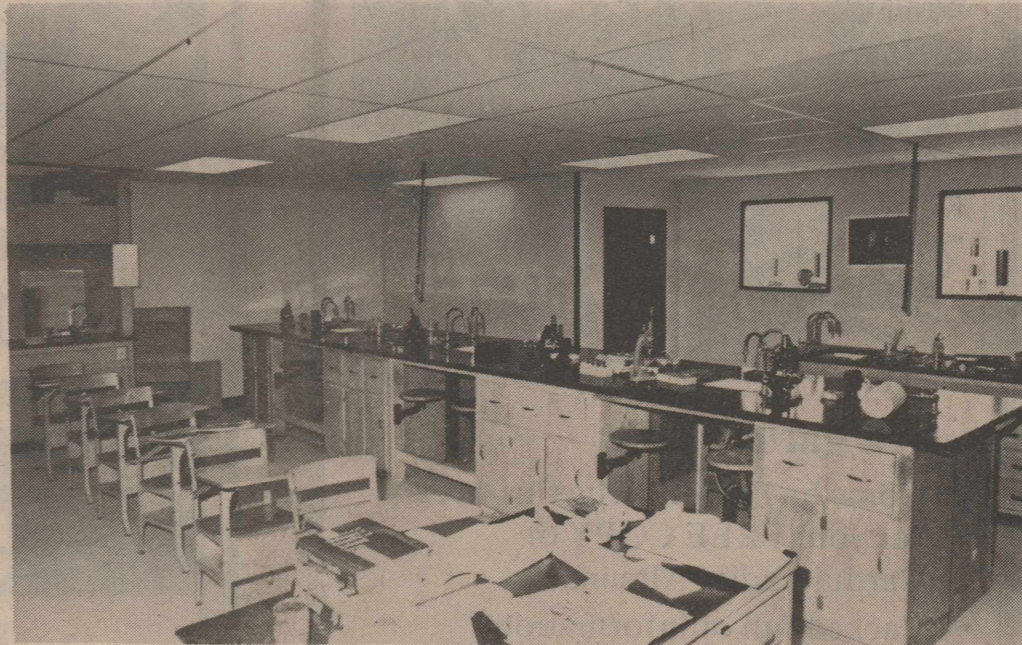

Wischkaemper, vice-president; and Brenda Childers Ferguson, reporter.

There will be no program this year in order that the ex-students may have more free time.

"Everyone is urged to attend to see the new facilities and see old friends," said Mrs. Ingram.

Of the 16 members of the 1958 graduating class, only one still lives here, Carolyn Wright Moseley. Two others live near by, Ronald Cummings of McLean and Gano Wilson of Estelline. Several are in Amarillo, and the others are scattered to such points as Kansas, the Corpus Christi area, and Illinois.

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Lois Ratliff, who was one of the class sponsors; Mrs. Dollie Mae Wilson and Mrs. Shack Messer, class mothers; and Edith Messer Hill of Claude who was a member of the class.

NEW-QUAIL SCHOOL

Science lab at the new Quail School is part of one of four buildings that will be on display this week as Quail Ex-Students gather for their annual reunion. Science, business and home-making classrooms are housed in one building, elementary and junior high classes in another, restrooms and dressing rooms in a third and the ag shop in a fourth. Buildings were paid for with the $153,000 insurance claim money the school received last May when a tornado destroyed the old school and donated labor. Construction of a cafeteria is next on the school rebuilding agenda.

Dodson Ex-Students To Meet Saturday

A series of motion pictures relating to Dodson and the Dodson School will be shown at the Dodson Ex-Students banquet Saturday, March 25.

The dinner will begin at 7:00 p.m. at the Dodson Cafe, with Mrs. Nellie Roberson, owner, serving the meal.

Afterwards, the ex-students and their families will go across the street to the American Legion Hall for the films and for visiting.

Jo McKinney Hunt, secretary, said it was not yet known how many would attend, but some are due to come from such places as far as Oklahoma City and Midland-Odessa area.

There will be a short business session.

President of the association is Jeanette Swift Moore and the vice president is Barbara Lennon Roberson.

The reunion, held on the evening before Easter Sunday, is an annual event.

AGRICULTURE DAY

Members of the Wellington chapter of WIFE (Women Involved in Farm Economics) distribute leaflets to Mrs. John Bevers Monday, March 20, Agriculture Day, outside City Grocery. The pamphlets reminded shoppers that "food is still a good buy despite inflation's bite." "In 1900 every American family spent 40% of its disposable income on food. Today the average family spends only 18% on food," the pamphlets said. WIFE members, from left, are Vada Wood, Diane O'Rear and Sue Lacy.

Trio Arrested on Burglaries Monday

Charges of breaking and entering have been filed against two Wellington men in the burglary of Thomas Boys Grocery and the house occupied by Tony Cox west of Wellington early Monday, March 20, according to Sheriff John Rainey.

Charged in both burglaries were Gary Patrick, 29, and Davy Mithlo, 38. Charged as an accessory to both burglaries was Lora Kitner, 25.

The three were arrested Monday and arraigned before Beatrice McKinney, justice of the peace. Bond was set at $3,000 for each.

A court order was issued by Judge Zook Thomas which cleared the way for Patrick to be taken to Amarillo for 10 days evaluation. He entered an Amarillo hospital Tuesday, Chief deputy Richard Keller said.

Mithlo made bond, while Miss Kitner remained in jail Tuesday evening.

Sheriff Rainey said it appears that Mithlo was not involved in the grocery store burglary and that charge against him will probably be dropped.

According to the sheriff, the break-in occurred some time after 4:18 a.m., when Deputy meeting of the state steering committee, when plans were made for the state WIFE convention in Lubbock Sept. 8 and 9. Mrs. Darlene Born of Follett, state president, discussed a trip which will be made to Washington.

WIFE members point out that food is still a good buy in the United States, and that Americans pay a lower percentage of their income for food than any other country in the world.

Youths to Pay for Damage to School

Three students, members of the Wellington senior class, who were charged with criminal mischief (vandalism) to the high school building, were ordered by County Judge Zook Thomas Monday to pay for the damage which resulted.

The three, Dewayne Wheeler, 18, Clay Don Lacy, 17, and Joe Ed White, 17, will share equally in paying the damage cost, now estimated at approximately $6,000.

Judge Thomas also sentenced each youth to 90 days in jail and $100 fine plus court costs. The jail sentences and fines were probated for a two year period, but each young man will pay $53.30 court costs.

Charges against the three were filed last week but because Judge Thomas was out of town, they were not taken into custody until Monday morning, March 20, Sheriff John Rainey said.

The charge filed was a Class A misdemeanor and therefore they were tried in county court.

Punishment was also set by the school, but Supt. E.W. Clement declined to say what this was.

After handing down the sentence, Judge Thomas asked each boy if he had a job and how much he felt he could pay each month toward the damage. He set the amount at $50 each, which was less than any of the boys mentioned.

"I realize this is severe, but I don't think the taxpayers are entitled to pay for what you do," Judge Thomas told them. He specified the damage is to be paid only by the boys. "If you run out of a job, I'll help you find one," he told them.

Other terms of the probation state that they will not violate the laws of this state or any other state, that they must not associate with people of bad reputation and they must be employed.

The three boys have been active in school affairs and participated in athletics.

Their parents were in court with them: Mrs. Naydean Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lacy and Mr. and Mrs. Ed White.

Water damage to the high school building resulted after the youths gained entry to the building at night, turned on water faucets in drinking fountains and rest rooms, then stopped up the drains, and also dumped contents of lockers on the floor.

Record 132 Units of Blood Given Monday

A record blood donation of 132 units was given by Collingsworth people during the visit of the Red River Red Cross Blood Center bloodmobile Monday, March 20, Charles Floyd, chairman, announced.

Altogether, 139 persons volunteered as donors, and that is the number the Red Cross will consider on this county's record. The quota was 118 units.

Floyd learned Tuesday morning from Shelly Wright, Red Cross blood program field director, that some of the blood given in Wellington Monday afternoon was given that night in Wichita Falls to an accident victim.

During the entire time Collingsworth General Hospital has secured blood for patient needs from the Wichita Falls blood center, this is the second time the county has met its quota.

Thirty-nine were first time donors Monday, Floyd said. Some were newcomers to the community.

One Wellington man, Johnny Brown, became a two-gallon donor.

Seven reached the one-gallon mark, Mrs. Bill Hall, Bob Goforth, Rodney Myrick, John Birkey, Ray Null, R.L. Hunnicutt and Mrs. Hubert Bowen.

Robert Owens, owner of Owens Auto Salvage, brought his employees and they gave 11 units. One employee was deferred.

Samnorwood Lions Club came as a group and donated 7 units.

Wellington Lions contributed separately but designated their blood as coming from the club. They accounted for 11 units.

Wellington High School Students turned out 18 productive units. Twenty-one students attempted to give, but one was deferred because of medication being taken and two girls did not weigh the required 110 pounds.

John Brim, who lives six miles south of town, was probably the most persistent donor. Because he is more than 65 years of age, he had to get his doctor's permission to give blood, then he had to provide proof of medication.

Several groups helped: Wellington Young Homemakers served refreshments and some were also donors; B&PW Club provided volunteer workers; Thomas Nursing Center and Collingsworth General Hospital furnished professional nursing personnel and high school boys unloaded and reloaded equipment from the bloodmobile truck.

Telephoning prospective donors were Mrs. Charles Floyd, Mrs. Bill Hill, Mrs. Charley Hill, Mrs. Bura Handley, Mrs. John James, Mrs. Lyman Daniel, Mrs. Paul Schaub of Lutie and Mrs. Kenneth Davis.

"I was overwhelmed at the turnout," Floyd declared. "I am proud to live in a town like Wellington where people are willing to give of themselves. The ones who gave blood have every right to be proud of their gift. People came through when they had to and I am glad to be a part of this."

Floyd, administrator of Collingsworth General Hospital, said this had been one of the borderline or poor donor counties in so far as the Red Cross is concerned. The fine donation Monday erases this.

"If we were to lose the Red Cross as a source of blood, our hospital would have to depend on commercial blood banks," Floyd pointed out.

There was a constant flow of donors from the time the station opened at 1:00 p.m. until it closed at 7:30. Bloodmobile personnel stayed an hour and a half beyond the scheduled closing.

Those offering blood were Kenneth Tramel, Juan Sanchez, John James, Jack Campbell, David Peters, Joe Harris, Albert Fulcher, Grady C. Methodists Plan Two Services Sun.

Two services are scheduled for Easter Sunday morning at First United Methodist Church, the Rev. Tom Thomson has announced.

The first will be at 8:30 a.m. and the other at the regular hour, 10:55. Sunday School will begin at 9:45.

This change is made due to the limited seating capacity of Trinity Church, where First Methodist members are meeting until the completion of their new sanctuary.

There will be congregational singing of Easter music at the first service. At the second, the chancel choir will sing "Holy City," and the Children's choir also will sing.

One child will be christened at the second service, and possibly others will be baptized.

There will be no evening service in order that members may attend the community Easter service at Samnorwood Baptist Church, Rev. Thomson said.

Library Group Begins Paper Drive

Friends of the Library are urging that Wellington residents donate old newspapers to their collection drive, Miss Bonnie Willis said this week.

Papers should be tied in bundles using a strong cord or placed in grocer's sacks and then tied.

They may be left at the Collingsworth County Library in the southwest corner of the courthouse first floor, or at the homes of Mrs. Bill Spillman, Mrs. David Caison, Mrs. Dennis Cudd or Miss Willis.

The paper will be sold to an insulation manufacturer in Hollis at 3 cents per pound. Proceeds will be used by Friends of the Library to purchase new books for the library.

Two Fined in Camper-Trailer Theft Here

Two young men pled guilty in county court Monday afternoon to charges of theft in connection with breaking into a garage one-half mile south taking a camper-trailer and dragging it behind a pickup before finally leaving it on a county road.

Sheriff John Rainey identified them as Tony Cox of Wellington and Steve Kane of Dodson. Judge Zook Thomas assessed a fine of $200 and court costs of $53.30 against each man.

A third man charged in the incident, Larry Adams of Wellington, pled not guilty before the court and Judge Thomas set his bond at $500 according to the sheriff. He will be tried by a jury at a date to be set in April.

UMW Groups Continue Study Of Jamaica and Its People

The Lydia and Esther Circles of the United Methodist Women met Friday, March 17 at 10:00 a.m. in the Methodist Fellowship parsonage for a combined study of Jamaica, one of the studies of the Caribbean Islands.

Mrs. John Holton was in charge of the study. Due to her visit to Jamaica, she was able to bring a colorful description of the island's people, customs, resources, religions and needs. A collection of needlework, baskets, hats, an oil painting by Mrs. Holton of a Jamaican scene, cookbook, jewelry and other native artifacts were on display.

Mrs. Earl Alexander gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Holton narrated the program and the questions and responses were read by Mrs. Yvonne Thomas, Mrs. Lula Mae Simon, Mrs. Corean Washington and Mrs. Fredonia Hunnicutt. "The Right Hand of God", directed by Mrs. Hiram Cudd, was sung by these four.

Highlights of the narrative and responses were informative as to the area of the church concern for the Caribbean people in the coming decade. Methodist Women feel a responsibility toward these people which was emphasized by the challenges of the readers. The Caribbean people have combined all foreign influences with their own lifestyle and developed a culture all their own which is one to admire.

Cotton Growers Association To Represent Farmers Only

Collingsworth County farmers have learned one thing for sure in their travels to Washington this winter. The area's cotton farmers have no one to speak for them in Washington on a regular basis.

The National Cotton Council is made up of 7 sectors of the cotton industry from farmer to miller. Although farmers pay more than half of the cost of running the council, they have only 1/7 of the representation on its board of directors.

And Cotton Incorporated is devoted to research and advertising which affects the farmer beneficially, but indirectly.

Cotton farmers across the nation, or perhaps just in Texas, should band together and form an organization that will represent them and no one else in Washington.

The organization need not be elaborate. It merely needs a few well-trained lobbyists and staff to keep track of farm legislation and present the farmer's viewpoint on that legislation. The organization should also notify farmers about what is happening to them in the legislative process.

One other function that the organization should undertake is to monitor and influence trade agreements with foreign countries. It should serve as a watchdog to make sure that cotton farmers' interests are not sold out during critical negotiations.

It should not be hard to set up a system similar to the current bale check-off system that is used for Cotton Incorporated or in some areas for the National Cotton Council. The system could be easily managed and the cost per bale should be low in comparison to other check-offs. The program should be voluntary.

Cotton is our principal cash crop in Collingsworth County and poor cotton prices hurt everyone in the community. Everyone of us needs to be better informed about the cotton industry, and about government policies that affect the price we receive for our crop. A cotton growers organization might be a good place to start.

County Fair: Yes or No?

Do you want a county fair in September?
The Chamber of Commerce needs to know.

From the small number of people who have worked at putting on the fair in the last few years, obviously someone isn't interested.

On the other hand, we don't remember ever having heard anyone say he is opposed to a fair. Most people think they are fun.

After the farm products division was pulled out of the 1977 fair, the Chamber of Commerce, its sponsor, began to ask some questions. A farm division is the very heart of any county fair and lack of one was noticeable.

A tremendous amount of hard work goes into a fair, and those responsible must take time away from their businesses or jobs or homes.

There is a ballot below on this page. Use it and let the Chamber of Commerce know if you want a fair this September and also tell them if you are willing to work.

If it appears not enough people are interested, the Chamber can turn its time and work to something else that people are interested in.

DO YOU WANT A COUNTY FAIR IN 1978?

The response of the people will determine if the Collingsworth County Fair is held in 1978. Please fill in this questionnaire:

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Attorney General John L. Hill has served notice he will oppose Southwestern Bell Telephone's request for a new $214.3 million rate increase.

Hill has filed a motion with the Public Utility Commission to intervene in the case.

The commission set March 27 as first pre-hearing date on Bell's latest proposal.

Although the company asked to put new rates in effect April 14, PUC General Counsel John Bell is preparing a motion to suspend the rates for 120 days, until August 12.

If Hill is given permission to intervene, he would have authority to cross-examine Bell witnesses, present witnesses and argue before PUC.

The attorney general told a news conference he is advising the Bell request is "substantially out of line."

Bell said the rates are necessary to give the company an adequate rate of return on its investment and permit expansion of its services to an increasing number of customers.

Hill said he has not ruled out the possibility that the telephone company may be entitled to some additional rate relief.

A $58 million increase was allowed in rates December 1976, but that was small potatoes compared to the $298 million requested.

Racing on Ballot

Both Democrats and Republicans will vote May 6 on whether pari-mutuel on-track race horse gambling should be legalized in Texas on a local option (county) basis.

Party executive committees last week certified the non-binding referendum for the May primary ballot along with the list of statewide and multi-county candidates.

Actually, Republicans earlier had agreed to the straw vote. Democrats waited until horse race advocates submitted petitions signed by 96,000 asking for a referendum.

In a surprise move, which irked consumer loan representatives, Democrats also submitted for a vote the question of whether the 1979 legislature should authorize higher interest rates on loans under $5,000.

Sen. Bill Patman of Gannado guided the latter through the committee. Consumer loan advocates have been pushing for an increase in rates. Since voters are almost certain to vote "no," the referendum (although not binding on the legislature) is seen as a major obstacle to an increase.

Money News

Money and taxes are making news again in the Capital City.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said it's likely Texas legislators will have about $650 million more to spend next year over and above the present level.

Meanwhile, Gov. Dolph Briscoe is serving notice repeatedly that, if re-elected, he will urge legislators to devote at least half of any surplus in the state treasury to a tax reduction. If Bullock's figure stands, and if Briscoe wins another term, that means he will be asking a cut of about $325 million, with priority to relief for homeowners and family farmers. Briscoe said he will also call again for repeal of the state sales tax on utility bills.

Courts Speak

Ending 17 years of lawsuits, the State Supreme Court turned down the latest contest of the 1960 will of Sarita Kenedy East whose estate included 178,000 acres of oil and gas rich lands in Jim Hogg and Kenedy counties.

In other actions, the high court:

Upheld a verdict favoring Gibson's discount firm in a lawsuit resulting from a rattlesnake's biting a customer in the grocery section of a Del Rio Store.

The Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a death penalty murder conviction in the fatal shooting of a Mesquite policeman and a highway patrolman.

Sales Taxes Rise

More than 900 Texas cities received checks totaling $69.2 million as their share of the one percent local sales tax levy for March.

Comptroller Bob Bullock said the soaring collections are an indication times are getting better.

Bullock said the March collections are 17.4 per cent higher than recorded during the same period in 1977.

So far this year, the 915 cities have collected $101.5 million, an increase from $89.4 million for the first three months of 1977.

PRAIRIE ARCHITECTURE

G.H. Crawley built this house in 1908 about one mile east of Hwy. 83 near the north line of Childress County. This photo was made in 1941 just before the house was remodeled. Mr. Crawley moved to Wellington in 1920 and his son R.R. (Rube) and his bride (Alma Alexander) lived in the house for about 48 years.

Short Snorts

A record-breaking construction pace continued into 1978, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

A series of statewide tests to see how students are doing in reading, writing, arithmetic and citizenship will be held April 3-May 5 in 2,234 elementary and secondary schools.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby announced interim appointment of Sen. Roy Blake of Nacogdoches to the finance, administrative and jurisprudence committees. New Sen. Blake will also serve on the interim rules sub-committee.

Average calendar day allowable of Texas oil production as of March 15 totals 3,521,070 barrels.

The Texas Department of Community Affairs reported receiving $178,638 in unexpended funds from the Governor's Office of Migrant Affairs for the 1977 contract period.

Highway officials warned that long lines await those who have not obtained new auto registration validation stickers. April 1 is the deadline.

Judges T.C. Chadick and Franklin Spears were winners in the State Bar's lawyer poll in two State Supreme Court races. Judge Jim Vollers and Marvin O. Teague were winners in the poll for Court of Criminal Appeals races.

Wealthy ladies in ancient Rome sometimes washed themselves in a sugary mixture consisting of 20 pounds of crushed strawberries and two pounds of raspberries.

Shannon Conrad

Three good reasons why Glenn Conrad is vitally interested in legislation which affects our schools and teachers

Glenn believes that education is one of the most important problems facing the next session of the Texas legislature. School administrators must be assured of funds to provide quality education for our children, and allocations must be made in advance so that proper planning can be accomplished.

Furthermore, Glenn believes that school financing must come from a more equitable tax structure and that this can be done without an additional burden on property owners.

We need a common-sense, down-to-earth man to represent us in Austin, someone who will stand up for the best interests of all of us. Glenn Conrad is that kind of man. He is working hard to meet and talk with everyone he possibly can in the 66th District, and he'll work just as hard to get the things done you need done in the statehouse.

This document is the first of two volumes which, upon completion of Volume II, will form the Water Quality Management Plan for the Red Basin. Volume I, Basic Data Report, includes information on existing wastewater treatment facilities; existing water quality; existing land use patterns; existing population; and projections of economic growth, population, and probable land use patterns. Volume II, Plan Summary Report, will present the recommended plans for water quality management and the legal, financial, and institutional requirements of each plan. Also included in Volume II will be descriptions of feasible alternatives, an environmental assessment, and a summary of the public participation activities conducted during the development of the plan. The public hearing shall be conducted in compliance with Section 26.037 (formerly Section 21.089), Texas Water Code. The study area for this plan includes most of the Red River Basin. This plan will not address the planning required in the Texarkana Designated Area-wide Planning Area; detailed planning within that area will be provided through the development of the Texarkana Area-wide Waste Treatment Management Plan and will not be considered at this hearing.

"It cost me about 100 bales of cotton by not having all my crop in Coker 312."

ED BOYLES, AVI Farms, Seminole, Tex., (shown with son Kevin) says, "Coker 312 has always beaten other cottons by 200 to 300 pounds per acre. Last year it averaged 1200 pounds of lint per acre on 430 acres. The staple averaged 35, mike 4.0 and grade 41. I figure it cost me about 100 bales of cotton by not having enough seed to plant all my crop in 312. I plan to plant about 1200 acres of it this year."

Ed Boyles knows what Coker 312* can do. How about you? Aren't these the characteristics you need too?

TURNOUT — 23 to 26%	MATURITY — Medium early
STAPLE — 1 1/16" to 1 3/32"	DISEASE RESISTANCE — Moderate tolerance to both fusarium & verticillium wilt
STRENGTH — 82,000 to 88,000 p.s.i.
MIKE — Usually 3.5 to 4.3

Rockets-Rockettes Win Combined Championship in Miami Relays Sat.

The Skyrocket and Rockette track teams won the combined championship in the Miami Relays Friday and Saturday, March 17 and 18—a total of 205 points.

The Skyrockets also placed first in the boys division with 123 points, while the Rockettes were third in the girls division, with 84 points.

This was the first time the Wellington teams have competed under the metric system, Coach Phil Bailey pointed out. This adds approximately 10 yards for each 100 yards in distance.

Only one contest was held in yards, and this was the 100 yard dash.

Debbie Chisum, girls coach, fielded a team that is showing consistent improvement and should make its move into the championship bracket.

The Rockets won both the sprint and mile relays, but the bad luck that has dogged the sprint team all season continued. Richard Garcia pulled a hamstring about half-way through his distance. He hobbled the remainder of the way and Robert Chambers held his cool and waited to take the stick. He was the last man to leave his post, but in a burst of speed, he helped make up the distance.

Coaches are concentrating on rehabilitating Garcia's leg this week, and although he said much of the soreness was gone Tuesday, it would be Wednesday before they would know if he will run at Memphis Saturday. Meanwhile, Ricky Jones, who has not run the sprint relay, is doing a fine job in Garcia's place, Coach Bailey said.

Wellington winners and time in the Miami events were:

400 meter relay (sprint) Wellington, 45.66. David Baumgardner, Garcia, James Thomas and Robert Chambers.

110 meter high hurdles: 2, Kevin Hall, 15.5; 5, Craig Needham.

400 meters: first, Robert Chambers, 52.78; fourth, Chris Lynch.

800 meters: fourth, Marty Warrick.

300 meter intermediate hurdles: second, Robert Powell, 43.58; sixth, Jon Sessions, 46.2.

200 meters: fourth, Ricky Jones, 24.6.

Mile run: third, Juan Granados, 5:16.09. Granados is one of three freshmen on the varsity track team this year.

1600 meter relay: first, Wellington, 3:40.73. Kevin Hall, Lynch, Warrick and Chambers.

100 yard dash: second, James Thomas, 10.22.

Long jump: first, Chambers, 20'7 1/4"; second, Garcia, 19'1".

"The mile relay team has run about the best times we have found in this part of the state, Bailey said. "There are some teams south of here that are probably as good."

"We ran 3:33.8 at Panhandle last week, and at Miami, we had them outclassed and outdistanced. Robert Chambers was finishing when the rest were going down backside. This was just a workout for our team. But our kids are working extremely hard."

A week earlier, in the sprint relay, one runner dropped the stick, which usually dooms the team in that contest. "The kid picked the stick up and continued on and we still ran 46.6, which is unbelievable time with a dropped stick. We were .2 second from qualifying for the finals, but were third in our heat, which is a big credit to the kids."

"This bunch of kids has worked. I can't really describe it. If we can get rid of our bad
