

Rain Up to 6
Inches Soaks
Area This Week

Rain up to six inches has fallen over Collingsworth County since Saturday night, October 1, giving the area the soaking that was considerably overdue.

At Wellington, the moisture measured 2.96 inches in the Weather Bureau rain gauge, although areas around town got up to four inches. The heaviest rain, six inches, for the same period, was reported north of Dodson, while Quail, on the opposite side of the county, received three inches, according to Mrs. G. T. Stephens, Leader correspondent.

Other sections around Dodson got four inches and over.

Postmaster R. T. Savage reported that four and a half inches fell at his farm northeast of town.

L. W. Hartman, living in the Buck Creek community, measured 4.85 inches at his place.

Farther south and west, three inches was measured at the Rolla Gin. Mrs. L. A. Davis said not much cotton in the community is open yet so little damage to grade is expected.

Cecil Brown reported three and a half inches at Samnorwood. "Everybody's ready for it to quit raining," he commented. Not much wheat has been planted in that section, but that already drilled in is up and looking good.

The moisture record, kept by Jim Williams at the city hall, shows Wellington received 21.96 inches during the first nine months, or to the end of September. Beginning Saturday evening, October 1, and continuing intermittently through Tuesday night, the additional 2.96 inches fell.

To Skyrockets

The Skyrockets were honored guests at a dinner given them by Tom Wilkins of Tom's Red Top Cafe Monday night, October 3.

Wilkins had told the boys that if they won the Memphis game, he would entertain them. What they got some of the boys called "the biggest dinner we've ever had. They just kept bringing out the food."

"We think this is one of the finest things an individual can do for us," Coach John Hurley commented.

Ministerial Alliance Plans
Thanksgiving Service

Members of the Ministerial Alliance will meet Sunday, October 9, to lay plans for the community-wide Thanksgiving Service, the Rev. Bill Thomas, secretary, announced this week. The meeting will be held at the First Assembly of God beginning at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. Delmar Freeman, president, will be in charge.

The Rev. Bob Evans, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, will give the devotion. In addition to plans for the Thanksgiving service, the pastors will take up other plans of a common nature among the churches.

That group is now distributing to local stores signs reading "This Store Closes on the Lord's Day," and any merchant who has not received one should contact a minister.

Wellington Host to Texas and Oklahoma Singers This Week

Singers from 31 counties will gather in Wellington Saturday and Sunday, October 8 and 9, for the annual Oklahoma and Texas Singers Association convention, and for the peak session Sunday afternoon, an estimated 2,500 voices will peel out from the Community building in songs of the Stamps-Baxter and Happy Heart varieties.

Plans were completed this week by the Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the event: W. S. Brewer, president of the First Sunday Singers, who is handling local arrangements, and Elmo Hudgins of Pampa, president of the Oklahoma-Texas singers.

All sessions will be held in the Community Building.

The singing starts at 2:30 p. m., Saturday with class and quartet singing. The night session begins at 7:30, with more of this type singing.

Sunday's sessions begin at 9 a. m. with a business session, then at 10 o'clock the crowd will get back to its main interest of singing. The afternoon event will begin at 1 p. m., and continue until around 4.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary will have the food concession at the convention. Sandwiches and pop will be sold Saturday evening and a plate lunch Sunday at noon.

The official welcoming of singers from the Panhandle of Texas and Western Oklahoma will come at the beginning of the Sunday afternoon session. Wayne Cudd, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will welcome the visitors, and Mr. Hudgins will give the response.

A large number of special singing groups will be here to entertain, including the Stamps quartet, Stamps-Baxter Quartet, the Wills Quartet of Arlington and the Happy Heart Quartet of Amarillo, Mr. Brewer said.

This is the biggest singing event of the whole year in Collingsworth County, and we hope every singer and everyone who loves singing will be out to help us," he declared.

Quail Farmers
To Elect Tuesday

Plans for a Young Farmers organization at Quail will be laid in a recent meeting and Tuesday, October 11, set for the election of officers, Frank Kennedy, vocational agriculture instructor, has announced.

The Quail Organization will be part of the national organization of Young Farmers, composed of young men out of high school who wish to continue the study of agriculture begun in the Future Farmers chapters.

The Quail members, in their initial meeting, chose for future study such topics as establishing new crops in their area, finding better markets for some already growing here, Austrian winter peas as a legume and soil builder, livestock and crop diseases, Kennedy said.

Entertainers Needed

Rotary Rehearsals For Old-Time Minstrel

The Wellington Rotary Club is sponsoring a Negro Minstrel like those it used to give "only bigger and better." Rotarians declare, with rehearsals to begin at the high school auditorium Wednesday night, October 5.

Dr. Chas. B. Jones is directing arrangements.

"Anyone who is interested who can entertain is invited to come to rehearsals and join the minstrel," Dr. Jones said. "We need singers and dancers and one thing and another that will add up to an evening of side-splitting fun." The Minstrel will be given in late October.

Bennett Goodie is in charge of the orchestra and King Bowen and Peck White will help. Ted

THEY'LL SING IN WELLINGTON

The Wills Family Quartette of Arlington is one of the many that will appear on the program of the Oklahoma and Texas Singers Association annual convention here Saturday and Sunday, October 8 and 9. A crowd of 2,500 is expected for the peak session.

Wildcats Won't Be Easy

Rockets to Play First Home Game Here Fri.

The Skyrockets play their first home game Friday night, October 7, against the Canadian Wildcats—a team that neither they nor their coaches are underestimating. Game time is 7:30.

"Canadian has a fine ball club. They have lost one district game to Memphis, but we don't feel that means much. It was just one of those things that they were not ready, and it's our opinion that Canadian has a better ball club than that game indicates," Coach John Hurley declared.

Principal Maxey McKnight said Tuesday that football tickets that have not been sold in advance will go on sale at the northeast ticket office at 6:30 p. m., Friday. The price will be $1.25 for the game for reserved seats.

General admission will be $1.00 but the only seats of this type will be at the north end of the west stadium, the south end being reserved for the Canadian band, pep squad and students. Student tickets are 50c.

Cars will be allowed to come into the field at 5:30, and there will be a charge of 50c per car.

This year's edition of the Wildcats has a good line and well-rounded backfield. They are running from the split T formation for the first time. Previously they've used a wing-T. They appear to have a good running game, and they appear to be trying to develop a passing game, and they are doing a lot of work along that line.

The Cats threw 18 passes against Memphis and did a fair job, although this wouldn't merit saying their passing attack is good. They had an open date last Friday, and in the two weeks since Memphis, Coaches Hurley and Lindsey figure they are likely to have developed anything.

"Our boys are working hard and will continue to get ready," the coach went on. "We feel like we have to be ready for every game to come close to winning. I can't see an easy game from here out. They look pretty tough."

Taking the team as a whole, the Rockets are in pretty good shape. Reggie Smith, who broke a bone in one ankle in practice last week, is definitely out of the Canadian game and will be out several weeks longer. Jim Forrester, who got a badly sprained ankle in the Memphis game, will probably see limited service against Canadian, the coach said. Don Hood, sick last week with a strep throat, is back in fine shape.

Coach Hurley, still emphasizing the Rockets as a team rather than as individual stars, this week gave a hefty pat on the back to some of those boys who do the playing. "Pat Wilkins did a tremendous job and we're proud of him. We've been holding Pat back to get the

Funeral at Dodson
For W. F. Hays,
Former Resident

W. F. Hays, 61, of Alamosa, Colorado, who grew up at Dodson and farmed there until 1943, died at Scott and White Hospital in Temple Friday, September 30.

Funeral services were held at North Baptist Church, Dodson, Monday afternoon. Officiating were Elder L. J. Crawford of Shamrock and the Rev. Harmon Keelin, pastor of the Methodist Church at Dodson.

Pall bearers were Floyd Teutsch, Elbert Warren, Bynum Hightower, Manson Cornelius, Perry Mack Scott and Thurman Wyrick. Honorary pall bearers were A. G. Tyler, Gilbert Hunt, Aaron Welch, Carl Harris, Merlyn Carter, Walter Roberson, Marvin Wynn and Farris Cornelius. Flower bearers were Mrs. Walter Roberson, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Fred Covey, Mrs. Charley Grimes, Mrs. Hugh Painter, Mrs. Buster Fillpot and Miss Dorna Lee Tyler.

Burial was in the Dodson cemetery under the direction of the Kelo Funeral Home.

William Fountain Hays was born at Krum, July 24, 1894, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. M. C. Hays, who came to Texas from Kentucky. The family moved to what was to become the Dodson area when Mr. Hays was 5 years old and he grew up there. He was married to Miss Lola Mae Hart at Wellington August 4, 1920.

The family was active in many phases of community life. His parents helped organize the North Baptist Church and were charter members, and Mr. Hays still held membership there. He was highly esteemed and respected throughout that area.

Mr. Hays moved to Muleshoe in 1943, then in 1948, to Alamosa, Colorado, where he was farming.

Surviving are his wife and three sons, James L. Hays of Irving; Cpl. Elbert J. Hays of Ft. Devens, Mass.; and W. F. Hays Jr., of Borger; also one brother, Jesse B. Hays of Carlsbad, N. M., and three grandchildren.

W. M. Tucker, 64,
Former County
Attorney, Dies

W. M. Tucker, who served as county attorney of Collingsworth County longer than any other one man, died at his home in Shamrock at noon, Friday, September 30, after an illness of a number of months. He was 64 years of age.

He was elected county attorney without opposition in 1938, taking office January 1, 1939. He served five terms, turning over the post January 1, 1949. He had not sought the office for another term. Altogether, he practiced law in Collingsworth County 28 years before moving to Shamrock in February 1954. He continued as an attorney there until his health failed.

Mr. Tucker, most often called Morgan Tucker by those associated with him over the year, was a product of Collingsworth county. He had come here with his parents as a child, and his thorough knowledge of the county, its people, their way of living and thinking, was apparent in the courtroom and in his practical, down-to-earth legal reasoning. Many city attorneys learned that this very thing gave the county-seat lawyer a shrewdness that was more than their match.

A friendly man who liked all kinds of people, this friendliness tempered the harshness of many cases in litigation with which he dealt.

Mr. Tucker was born January 16, 1891, at Mountain Home, Ark.

VFW Sponsors
Johnny Reitz

Johnny Reitz, one of the West coast's most personable orchestra leaders, brings his orchestra and floor show to Wellington on Thursday, October 13, as one of the outstanding musical attractions of the current season, featured on radio, television, and recordings. His popularity throughout the various clubs in the West is unsurpassed, and it all stems from his ability to give the dancers the tunes that appeal to them in very danceable tempo.

Reitz is sponsored here by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The band's musical styling ranges from moderate bounce tunes through smooth ballads, rocking swing tunes, and sharp mamboes. The top ten pops, ageless standards, and current Latin favorites are always included in the book.

"Johnny's 'Show Time' is a colorful, fast-moving thirty minutes. His New Orleans jazz unit, costumed to fit the occasion, stops the show. Pat O'Neal, the Irish night club favorite of the Coast, presents his original dance routines. There's a surprise black light number you'll really enjoy. Don't miss this," the sponsors say.

Winners Named

Women, Girls Show Outstanding
Work in Achievement Day Exhibits

The fine work which homemakers of Collingsworth county, present and future, are doing was given public recognition in the annual Achievement Day of Home Demonstration Club Women and 4-H Girls Saturday, October 1.

Both educational booths and individual entries were featured. These reflected the study and projects done by the women and girls in their club work, and while the course of study is uniform on each level, variety and individuality, as well as fine quality of workmanship, characterized the entries.

Visitors familiar with fairs held on county and bi-county level in this part of the state declared that women and girls displayed as much in their Achievement Day exhibits as is often found in the entire women's division of fairs.

The work of the women and girls was remarkable, too, for the fact that almost one-half the year it was carried on without a home demonstration agent. Plans were made with Miss Mary Trammel before her resignation last January 1, then they worked alone un-

Cotton Harvest Three Weeks Late in This Area

With the cotton harvest from two to three weeks later than normal, Collingsworth county had ginned 318 bales through Monday, October 3, Claude McKinney, local representative for the Texas Employment Commission reported after a check of all gins of the County.

Rain since September 25 has also delayed the opening of cotton and has discouraged workers from coming to this area, he added.

It is estimated that not more than two per cent of the cotton is open in the fields.

The best cotton in the county is in the Dodson and Quail areas, with some cotton around Samnorwood, but this section is spotted.

Some good cotton, some not so good, is reported around Wellington.

One of the bright spots in the crop in the southeast part of the county is the staple. Both Ed Crowder of the Farmers Co-op Gin and Marvin Wynn of the Davis Gin at Dodson reported that all cotton that has come in so far has a staple of one inch or better. While this is due partly to the growing season, it is also due to farmers of that area turning to the longer staple varieties, such as Langart and Northern Star, with less and less of the half and half type cotton.

Wynn said he believed, with frost at the normal date, all forms now on the stalk will mature but anything put on since the rains began will be too late.

If the weather stays fair, the Dodson area may have the best crop since 1949, Crowder estimated.

Both men estimated that much of the cotton will make a bale to the acre, although some will drop to a third of a bale.

Irrigated cotton around Dodson will boost the prospects, some of that acreage yielding around two bales per acre and much of the remainder a bale and a half. While this irrigated cotton is described as "very good" it is late, and therefore it was watered late in the season. The four to six inch rains have left some fields almost waterlogged.

With fair weather, the cotton will open fast and pickers will be needed badly.

Some farmers plan to defoliate their fields again this year and use mechanical pickers. While some will use chemical defoliators, others will let nature take its course, since the cotton is late, and wait until frost kills all the leaves and opens up the bolls.

With fair weather back, fields will dry fast and Mr. McKinney estimated that around 200 workers will be required to fill the immediate need, in addition to those already in the county.

Modern New Front
On WTU Building

Work began Monday, August 3, on the new front for the West Texas Utilities Company building, owned by Mrs. C. C. Small of Austin.

Display and transom windows have been torn out, and a three-foot glass brick wall will extend down from the present transom opening. Beneath this will be a glass wall, with the solid glass door at the east end, according to Cameron Beam, manager.

The old awning is being torn away and a new one, three feet wide and of modern design, will go up.

The work is being done by Go-forth Brothers Construction Co. of Amarillo and will be finished in two or three weeks.

When exterior work is completed, the inside will be redecorated and a new tile floor laid, Mr. Beam said.

W. M. TUCKER

W. M. Tucker, who served ten years as county attorney of Collingsworth County, died Friday at his home in Shamrock, where he had lived since February 1954. Funeral services and burial were here.

Methodists Plan
Church Repair

The official board of the Methodist Church, in a meeting Monday night, October 3, made plans to refinish the church basement, and finance it by selling pie and coffee during a fellowship hour following each Sunday evening service.

One of the major pieces of improvement will be putting down tile on the floor. In addition to Sunday School class rooms, all recreational rooms, the chapel and kitchen of the church are located in the basement.

"We would like to invite all friends of the church to attend the Sunday evening services and the fellowship hour which follows," Mrs. J. W. Thomas, a member of the board, said.

Plans are also being made to repair the southeast corner of the church, struck by lightning a number of months ago. Bricks were loosened, and it is feared that rain and freezing weather this winter might permanently damage the building.

Baptist Revival
Closes Sunday

Revival services at the First Baptist Church will close Sunday night October 9, after a series of special dates have been carried out, the Rev. Bill Thomas pastor, announced this week.

Preaching continues under the direction of the Rev. J. Frank Davis, pastor of Sheridan Road Baptist Church, Tulsa. Homer Peden is directing the song service.

Sunday has been designated Roundup Day, with a goal of 601 in Sunday School, Rev. Thomas said.

Special nights are: Family night, Wednesday night; Other Church Night, Thursday night, when pastors of other churches in Wellington and their congregations are invited to visit.

City Buys Communication
Sets for Departments

The City has accepted a bid on radio communications equipment to serve the Fire Department, City Water Works, and for general use, City Manager Bura Handley announced Wednesday morning, October 5.

This equipment, he pointed out, is not connected with the communications equipment of the county law enforcement officers and chief of police.

The new purchase includes five mobile pieces for cars and fire trucks and utility trucks, along with a 50 watt base station at the City Hall.

Later expansion of this equipment has been discussed and each fireman may have a small set at his home. This would eliminate the necessity of calling each fireman by telephone in case of night fires.

Rockets Win 20-0 In First Conference Game

A fired up Wellington line and smart quarterbacking enabled the Wellington Skyrockets to win their first conference game against a stout Cyclone eleven at Memphis last Friday night. The backs also looked better than they had against Shamrock and of course better than they had against Phillips, but it should be noted now that the Rockets have played the best game thus far against the Black-hawks who won their other two games by 61 to 0 and 75 to 0 scores.

Memphis won the toss and elected to take the wind since a fairly strong breeze was blowing and Wellington received on their own 25 yard line. Three plays gained only 5 yards and Wellington punted to the Memphis 38. After two tries on the part of the Cyclone, Don Scott broke through to throw them for a loss forcing Memphis to punt and the Rockets had the ball again on their own 15 in a matter of minutes.

At this point Pat Wilkins, who had been moved to the signal calling slot started calling a heady game and the Rockets steadily moved down the field with Ford, Jameson and Tarver doing the carrying behind the sharpest blocking the Rockets have put on in some time. They advanced to the Memphis 18 yard line where the ball was fumbled by the Rockets and Memphis took over only to have to punt before the scoreless first quarter ended.

As the second quarter started, Wellington had the ball on their own 38. Warner Ford, who turned out to be the leading ground gainer for the Rockets, took a pitchout from Wilkins and raced to the 50 yard strip before being brought down. Three thrusts at the line by Wilkins, Jameson and Ford made the sixth first down that the Rockets had piled up. Tarver picked up 4 yards and a short pass from Wilkins to Elbert made another first down. Wilkins flipped a 19 yard pass to Tarver who went over for the first touchdown and the punt for conversion was good.

Memphis made three of their first downs immediately after the first Wellington touchdown, but the Rocket line proved to be too much and Memphis punted and Ford made a beautiful return of 55 yards, but the half ended before the Rockets could capitalize on the turn of events.

The two teams battled scoreless in the third quarter with the Rockets. At the beginning of the 4th quarter, Don Scott broke through in another of his sensational plays to recover a Memphis fumble after the back had been hit by McNabb, Scott and others. This set up the second Wellington touchdown. On a delayed play Maxie Tarver raced 28 yards right through the Memphis line while everybody else in the Wellington backfield was being given a sound tackling. Wilkins made the point for conversion good and the score was 14 to 0 early in the fourth quarter.

The third touchdown came as a result of a march from the Rocket 25 in which fine running by Ford, Wilkins, and Jameson played a part, but the pass catching ability of Jerry Elbert being the main thing that threw the Memphis boys off balance. The pass combination of Wilkins to Elbert was particularly effective and then Elbert had the drive to go on down for extra yardage after catching the pass. The last touchdown was made by Ted Stansbury who had not been used much previously. He swept around end and went 22 yards for the final touchdown.

The whole Rocket team looked particularly sharp for the game with Memphis. In addition to Scott, McNabb and Elbert, Forrester and Scarberry also turned in exceptional performances in the line. Don Hood started at center and turned in his usual slashing performance for a short time, but he was suffering from a sore throat and fever and had to be replaced by Cloyce Scarberry, who turned in a very fine game at the center post both on defense and on opening holes on offense.

Wellington made a total of 15 first downs as compared to only 4 for Memphis and gained 198 yards rushing and 70 yards passing as compared to only 54 yards rushing and 25 passing on the part of Memphis.

The Rockets took quite a beating as far as physical injuries were concerned with Ford, Forrester and some of the others coming out worse for the wear. Coach John Hurley says that he does not know just what shape they will be in next Thursday as they meet Canadian here for their first home game.

Banded Game Has Meaning

AUSTIN—Texas hunters were asked by the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission to report bagging banded or tagged game.

He said the principal purpose of marking birds and other animals is to help technicians trace migratory habits of the game and to accumulate other vital data which can be used in wildlife management.

A Letter to Parents

Students Urged to Be In School Every Day

Superintendent Bennett Goodloe this week sent a letter to the parents of all Wellington students explaining the need for every student to be in school every day, since under the present school laws of Texas the number of teachers a school may have is based on the number of children who attend school each day.

Of the 816 students enrolled in school last year, there were 41 students absent each day, Mr. Goodloe said. We are allowed one teacher per 25 students. For the 774 who came regularly, we earned 31 teachers. If all 816 students had attended school daily, we would have earned 33 teachers. Since 31 teachers are not sufficient to take care of our enrollment of 816, we have employed 2 extra teachers, one for Junior High and one for Elementary schools in order that the classes would not be so crowded and that the teachers could have more time for individual help. Some of the classes had from 33 to 36 students, which is by far to many in one class.

"We urge each and every parent to assume the responsibility to see that your children are in school every day because every extra teacher we have to employ costs the school district. Other wise, if all the students come to school daily, the state pays for the teachers. We want the best school available for your children. We welcome each of you to visit your school at any time," he said.

Longtime Quail Resident Dies At Amarillo

Mrs. Elbert Richards, who with her family lived near Quail for a number of years, died at her home at 1945 South Marrs Street, Amarillo, Sunday at 1:30 p. m. after a lengthy illness.

She had lived in Amarillo for two years. Funeral services were held at the First Methodist Church, Memphis, Tuesday at 2 p. m., with the Rev. A. J. Quinn Jr., pastor of Highland Baptist Church, Amarillo, officiating. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Memphis, under the direction of the Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Richards was born Connie Craft at Shawnee, Oklahoma, April 6, 1895, and at the time of her death she was 60 years, 5 months and 24 days of age.

She was a member of the Methodist Church.

During the time she lived here, Mrs. Richards made many friends in the area around Quail and through the southwest part of the county.

She is survived by her husband, Elbert Richards of Amarillo; three daughters and eight sons: Mrs. Robert Jacobs of Arlington; Mrs. Howard Fry of Memphis; Jack Richards of Long Beach, Calif.; John Richards of Pampa, Robert Richards of Lefors, and Ted Richards, Olan Richards, Othal Richards, Bill E. Richards, Curtis Richards and Miss Mary Richards, all of Amarillo. Eighteen grandchildren also survive.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wilson of Dumas, spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. W. W. Johnson, and her sisters and their families and his father, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Wilson Sr.

STRIKE IN SILHOUETTE—Brooding sky and bomb-torn ruins of a police outpost at Khan Yunis heighten the sense of urgency expressed by silhouetted figures of Egyptian troops as they race for cover in the disputed Gaza Strip, site of many clashes between Egypt and Israel in recent months.

HANG YOUR SHIRT ON A KAPOK LIMB — That's what Ecuador's Ministry of Economics would have you do, as it announces that it is making large tracts of land available to those who would cultivate the living "general store," hitherto harvested only from wild growth. Bark is used in manufacture of twine, sacks, nets, hammocks and cloth. Hairlike fruit fiber, lighter than cotton, is used for stuffing floats, life preservers, cushions. Seed fiber, very elastic, far exceeds cork in floatation qualities and is used in lifesaving devices, clothing and upholstery. Seed also yields oil for soap making and feed cake for livestock. Tree is said to be both rain and drought resistant.

New Books in County Library

Several volumes of new fiction have been added to the county library, including two about pioneer Texas, Miss Katherine Boverie, librarian, has announced. "The Far Journey" by Loula

Grace Erdman of Canyon tells of a family who moved west to the Panhandle in the 1880's, and some of the place-names—such as Mo-bee—are everyday words to folks here.

"Divine Average" by Kirkland is a story of Texas farther south, around San Antonio, in the period 1838 to 1858.

Other new books include the

Don't Pick Up "Abandoned" Fawn; The Fine's Heavy

AUSTIN — Justices of the Peace fixed the maximum fine of $200 plus court costs on four separate cases charging illegal possession of fawn deer, according to the monthly Game and Fish Commission arrest report.

The crackdown marked an unusual number of complaints about persons picking up newly born deer on the mistaken premise that they had been abandoned. Wildlife authorities caution against this action since female deer would reclaim their offspring after misguided do-gooders departed.

The maximum fine cases were lodged against persons in Houston, Poteet, Schulenberg and Pasadena (Houston suburb).

In the effort to discourage persons interfering with members of the Animal Kingdom, the Legislature passed a law making it illegal to possess wild deer and some other species, without a permit. Another reason for discouraging attempts to domesticate wild animals is that they often times become nuisances and in many instances actually dangerous after growing up and becoming frustrated in captivity.

best selling "Band of Angels" by Robert Penn Warren.

The monthly report reflected stern court action against some flagrant violations such as a Pampa citizen who was fined $150 plus court costs for shooting a wild turkey out of season and a Borger man fined $100 for hunting antelope before the season opened.

Some other violations, reflecting common problems of the fall wildlife harvest, concerned shooting from automobiles, exceeding the dove limit, using a shotgun without the three-shell plug device, shooting ducks out of season, and hunting without a license.

Game wardens had some problems with forgetful fishermen, since 101 persons were filed on for fishing without a license. Four of the five persons charged with "telephoning fish" or using an electrical device to shock fish were fined $50 and court costs.

A seldom used law was used in prosecuting an Atlanta, Texas, man for driving a motor boat at a dangerous rate of speed on Lake Caddo.

Some of the commercial dealers got into trouble and three Houston men were fined $100 each plus costs for selling shrimp without a license. A Port Isabel man got a similar penalty, plus the loss of his dealers' license, for selling oysters in unsanitary containers.

Hopper Control Pays Off In Panhandle Area

College Station — A recent survey made in eight Panhandle counties showed that from 95 to 98 percent control of grasshoppers was obtained by chemical sprays. Only in isolated areas where the terrain was rough and vegetation rank was the control poor, say the surveyors, J. M. Landrum of the USDA's Plant Pest Control Branch and Assistant Extension

Entomologist C. F. Garner.

They report that approximately 700,000 acres of rangeland was sprayed during 1955 in 13 Panhandle counties with a resulting saving of $525,000 to the ranchmen. The average increase in grass growth where infestation was heavy and control was practiced was more than 200 percent. Studies have shown that only six to seven hoppers per square yard on 10 acres can consume grass at the same rate as a cow. Infestations of 80 to 60 hoppers per square yard may get all of the grass.

A recent survey shows that two and a half million acres of rangeland in the area are still heavily infested. On the uncontrolled lands an estimated $1,875,000 worth of grass has been destroyed. The entomologists say an expenditure of 60 cents an acre for spray applied at the proper time could have saved most of the loss.

They point out a successful rangeland hopper control program has longtime results as well as those of immediate value. Following are wide control programs, a decrease in hopper numbers will be noted for several years. Spraying small areas is helpful in reducing initial infestations but hoppers migrate and may infest the treated areas within a short time.

They say most agree that control measures were commenced too late this year. Grasshoppers had already eaten a large percentage of the forage and some species had deposited eggs before control measures were started. They are hopeful that everyone concerned will be on the alert next year and will begin control measures at the proper time next spring.

Digestive Illness Ranking Second

AUSTIN — Digestive disorders rank second only to the respiratory diseases, primarily colds and influenza, as the leading cause of time lost on the job, declares Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. Even though indigestion may not make one actually ill, or miss work, it may hinder your work, or interfere with your sleep and pleasure in living. It may turn one into a grouch.

The digestive tract, especially the stomach, is very sensitive to disturbances in other parts of the body. Indigestion can be due to one or more of many causes which makes self diagnosis pretty difficult. Don't try to doctor yourself but see your physician if you have repeated attacks.

The cause of indigestion may be irregular habits of eating and drinking. It may be a symptom of a disease of the digestive system such as gall bladder, appendix, ulcer or cancer. It may be caused by nervousness or emotional tensions. Sometimes the beginning of a disease of the heart, kidneys, liver and other organs is indicated by indigestion. In children a sudden upset stomach may be the advance notice of a cold, influenza or some contagious disease.

If you want to avoid indigestion take a look at some of your everyday living habits. Do you eat a variety of well prepared foods at regular meal times? Having good companionship at meals helps you to relax, and have a good time. Rest a little while before eating if you are overly tired. Balance your work with a reasonable amount of play, so that you have the recreation you need. But do not over do it; get plenty of rest and sleep each night.

A person can probably eliminate recurring indigestion by using common sense living habits. If indigestion persists, see your doctor and follow the treatment he prescribes. You will then feel ready for work, meals and recreation.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

If you haven't been attending the out of town games, you will have a chance to see the '55 Rockets in action on their home field next Friday night when they meet a very good club from Canadian. The Rockets rolled up an impressive score against a strong Memphis squad last week as they displayed a finely balanced and well coached eleven. The blocking was as good as any ever done by a Rocket team. Better get out and see them if you like football.

Bennett Goodloe has sent a letter to all parents urging them to have their children in school every day. The importance of this can be seen when you realize that it is the total school days the children attend that counts in getting state aid—it is not the number enrolled. Wellington needs more teachers just as do many schools. If every child enrolled last year had attended every day, Wellington could have had 2 more teachers. This also applies to all other schools in the county.

Some of the farmers in the Fresno community have been razzing me for saying that the cotton looked pretty sick in spots in that vicinity. Well, it did at the time the paragraph was written which was nearly four weeks ago. Now they are claiming that they are going to make some very good cotton. On the yield per acre, the county will probably beat last year. Dodson, Rolla, Quail, Lutie, and Dozier all have good cotton.

The Shamrock Garden Club came over last June to inspect the yards in Wellington. At that time there was not much to be seen except lawns and shrubs. They should come now for the town has many wonderful flowers since the rain. It is worth a drive over town just to see them, and they should be better next week.

Clarence Littleton brought me a magazine to read named Sunshine. He said he would pay me for my time if I would read and then didn't like it. It is a cheerful little magazine full of fun, facts and Philosophy. Here is a sample: "Every man has two educations—that which is given to him, and the other, that which he gives himself. Of the two kinds, the latter is by far the most valuable. Indeed, all that is most worthy in a man, he must work out and conquer for himself. It is that which constitutes our real and best nourishment. What we are merely taught seldom nourishes the mind like that which we teach ourselves."

Beef Cattle For Poor Environments

AUSTIN — Cattlemen from the U. S., Latin America, Australia and Africa are ordering copies of a new University of Texas Press publication, "Breeding Beef Cattle for Unfavorable Environments."

The book publishes a symposium presented at the King Ranch centennial conference, an international gathering of scientists and cattle breeders held at the ranch headquarters in October, 1953. Editor is Albert O. Rhoad, research consultant and geneticist for the King Ranch.

Part One of the symposium discusses the problems of environment: effect of climate upon animal health and reproduction relationship of soil fertility and animal nutrition to production, and improvement of range grasses in semi-arid regions. Part Two emphasizes the necessity of adapting cattle to the environment, rather than attempting to maintain a completely artificial environment for animals that are not able to adjust profitably to natural conditions of the area.

Distinguished scientists from many parts of the world report on breed improvement in their countries: the crossing of the native Afrikaner and the Hereford in South Africa, the crossing of the Gyr and the zebu and other Indian breeds in Brazil, and development of the famous Santa Gertrudis breed in the U. S., a cross between Brahman and Shorthorn breeds.

The book also includes a summary of the 100-year history of the King Ranch.

Hurst, Crosby and Duncan Score

FIRECRACKERS WIN OVER McLEAN JUNIOR TEAM 20-0 THURSDAY

Not to be outdone by their elders, who were not their betters, either, the Junior high Firecrackers, youngest of the three football teams, turned a 20-0 victory last week over the McLean Juniors. This was the same score by which both the Skyrockets and Rocket B teams won their games.

Jerry Hurst scored the first touchdown in the first quarter, on an end around play for 20 yards. The second period saw the next touchdown, a dash from 15 yards out by Bruce Crosby.

John Duncan punctuated the third quarter with an end-around run for 60 yards that gave the third score. "We spoofed them on it," Coach Mack Bush declared. "They didn't know where the ball was." Good blocking by Benson Long and Hurst cleared Duncan's path.

Extra points were scored on the first and third touchdowns. McLean got in one long run of about 30 yards, but this failed to materialize in a score.

The Firecrackers rest this week, Coach Bush said.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

WHAT IS A TORT?

A "tort" is a legal wrong or injury committed upon the person or property of another. Examples are assault, battery, false imprisonment, libel, slander, malicious prosecution, alienation of affections, and negligence causing personal injuries or property damages.

The remedy provided by law to persons against whom a tort is committed is an action for money damages. Liability arises from a breach of duty primarily fixed by the law. In some cases, the person wronged may have the additional remedy of injunction or of specific restitution of property. The injured party must act in a timely manner, since the statutes impose limitations on the time within which he may begin suit.

A breach of contract is not a tort. Neither is a tort necessarily a crime, although in some instances the same act may be both a tort and a crime. For example, if one man slashes another with a knife, he may be prosecuted criminally. He may also be sued in a civil action for the injuries caused by the assault and battery.

The law of torts is not static. It grows with the growth of society. In some instances it takes an act of the Legislature to keep pace with the changing attitudes of society. In other situations, new torts are developed by the courts. For example, the invasion of a person's rights of privacy has come in many states to be recognized as a remedial wrong—that is, a wrong for which the law provides a remedy by way of money damages. Texas has not yet adopted this view.

Torts are sometimes classed as follows:

1. Intentional Wrongs, such as trespass to land, assault and battery, false imprisonment, and conversion of personal property. In all of these cases the act must be intentionally done.
2. Negligence, such as careless operation of a motor vehicle causing injury to another.
3. Strictly Liability, such as the keeping of dangerous animals, or the doing of a potentially dangerous thing, which is not a matter of common usage, such as blasting.

The law of torts, built up over a period of many years by the process of court decisions and legislative enactment, forms a silent but strong protection necessary in an orderly society.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Balancing Stock Numbers With Range a Problem

College Station — Maintaining the right balance between livestock numbers and available range feed and forage is one of the toughest problems faced by the ranchman or stock farmer. Weather variables, too dry and less frequently too wet, make necessary continuous adjustments in stocking rates, says A. H. Walker, extension range specialist.

The well planned livestock program, explains the specialist, should be based on average years and not on a single good year. The program should make provisions for deferred grazing of at least one pasture each year; the planting of supplemental grazing crops—summer and winter; adequate reserves of hay and silage; grazing off only about half the growth of native grasses and buying feeds needed early and in season.

Deferred grazing, points out Walker, is usually the cheapest and best method of range recovery and litter, that is, if the deferred pastures are not grazed until frost. Too, he adds, close grazing results in less forage produced; invasion of pastures by poorer kinds of plants; soil washing or erosion and perhaps of most importance . . . rainfall penetration is greatly reduced. During May and June 10 inches of rain were recorded at the Spur Experiment Station, on bare soil moisture penetration was 9 inches but was 51 inches on soil with a good grass cover.

If calves or lambs are being held over for the winter, Walker says only a plentiful supply of grass will make the holding a paying operation. He says too many operators wait for rain in September and October to produce their range feed for the winter season. "It's a big gamble which seldom pays off and making needed adjustments in livestock numbers before a lack of grass forces marketing is a better method to follow," says Walker.

His final suggestion, try to keep a reserve of cured grass on the range; hay in the barn and silage in the ground.

Farm Bureau Re-Opens Blue Cross-Shield in County

W. R. Coleman, president of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau has announced a special re-opening of their Blue Cross-Blue Shield Group. Application for a special re-opening was voted by the Board of Directors in a recent meeting. Approval of their application has been received and Farm Bureau members who are not now enrolled may join between October 1 and November 15.

The Texas Farm Bureau Board of Directors approached Texas Blue Cross several years ago with a request that a special group plan be developed to offer to the various County Farm Bureaus throughout Texas. A program of benefits and rates was prepared and presented to the State organization for study and approval.

Today, Blue Cross-Blue Shield groups are found in most counties of Texas that have Farm Bureau organizations. Membership in Blue Cross-Blue Shield and C. I. E. (Catastrophic Illness Endorsement) is offered to each farm and ranch family when they join Farm Bureau. The present special campaign is designed to permit those who belong to Farm Bureau, or who join during the Blue Cross-Blue Shield campaign, to enroll for Hospital and Doctor prepayment without serving the usual 6 months eligibility period.

Families throughout the nation have long recognized the importance of protection against the cost of unexpected hospital and medical-surgical care. Just twenty-five years ago, no such plan existed. Those who could not save enough out of earnings or income were often faced with the serious problem of meeting unexpected bills for the care of a member of their family. In 1929 a Texas hospital modestly launched the first experiment in Group prepayment. Each member of the Group paid in a like amount each month and when any member of the Group required hospitalization, the funds were available to give relief from the charges made for his care. Blue Cross and Blue Shield have pioneered in many fields. Their entry into the field of Group protection through the Farm Bureaus in each County was another experiment that proved to be an invaluable service. Texas Farm Bureau had long recognized that Texas farm families were entitled to the same protection as business and industry.

Texas Farm Bureau members have already received millions of dollars in benefits from Texas Blue Cross-Blue Shield. Mr. Coleman stated that those who belong to Farm Bureau, or who join now, may enroll for Blue Cross payments to the Hospital, Blue Shield for the Doctor, and C.I.E. C.I.E. gives added protection of up to $5,000. for treatment of eleven dread diseases, including Cancer, over a period of up to five years for each specific disease.

Application may be made through the County Farm Bureau office and payments are made through Farm Bureau each quarter.

Each Farm Bureau member not now enrolled in Blue Cross and Blue Shield will receive information on the services and their cost. For detailed information, contact the Farm Bureau.

May had the heaviest rainfall, 8.30 inches, while June got 7.15, as measured in the Weather Bureau rain gauge.

February	.53
March	.25

Rufus Sweat, mail carrier on Route 6, which covers the area east almost to the state line in the central part of the county, reported good rains, with three inches measured in the rain gauge at the farm of Miss Narcie Willard, at the east end of his route. He added that dirt roads are in much worse condition than last spring, and that he was unable to get up some of the hills although his pickup is equipped with mud tires. A Samnorwood school bus stuck on two days on the road running along the Pete Melton farm at Aberdeen.

Al Bettis, coming in from the Ed Blaine Ranch in the edge of Oklahoma, near the northeast corner of this county, reported four and a half inches when he left Tuesday evening, with another cloud coming up.

Farther south, seven inches was reported on the ranch of Judge C. C. Bishop and Burton Love.

confidence he needs as quarterback, and in the Memphis game it looks like he has it.

"Duggie Jameson is a gifted runner and we have him as a running halfback. That was the change we were working for in shifting some of the players. It also means that the swap has given us six backs that we can really count on. We feel we should utilize the material we do have to the very best advantage.

"In the line, Jerry Elbert is doing a wonderful job for a sophomore. He's one of the most capable sophomores I've ever seen, and if his potentiality develops, he'll probably be one of the best linemen in the school in a long time.

"The other regulars are doing a fine job, too—Stansbury and Ford in the backfield; and in the line, Ernest McNabb and R. W. Warren are two of as fine tackles as I've seen in this district Class A. Gus Drake shifted to end from the guard slot and has adapted himself exceptionally well. And Don Scott is doing a wonderful job as guard.

"We're exceptionally proud of some kids we hadn't been having on the regular team. Cloyce Scarberry went in at center against Memphis and did a tremendous job. Then David McCaskill had to go in for Forrester and it was one of the better games of his career.

"We're proud of the fact we don't have any one boy who is outstanding. The outstanding thing is that we have 11 out there pulling for the same thing," Coach Hurley concluded.

Possible starters against Canadian are:

Odd, isn't it, that a fellow can reach a greater height if he has more depth.

Leader Store Observes 28th Birthday Here

One of Wellington's oldest businesses, the Leader Department Store, this week is observing the 28th anniversary of its founding here.

As the custom of the store, merchandising specials are being offered for a limited period in observance of the birthday, the owners, Mack Saied and Mack Saied Jr., have announced.

They, and all employees of the store, are looking forward to a fine fall season, offering customers of the Wellington trade territory one of the largest stocks of new, up-to-date merchandise to be found in this area.

The Leader was established in a small store on the east side of the square, when Mr. Saied moved his family here from Healdton, Oklahoma, where he had also been in the dry goods business.

Later, as the store expanded, it was moved to the west side of the square, then the third move brought it to the present location in the center of the north side of the square. The building is more than twice the size of that formerly occupied.

For years, Mr. Saied carried the full responsibility for operation of the store and for the many progressive steps taken. At the end of World War II, his oldest son, Mack Saied Jr., returned from service, and after studying merchandising at Texas Technological College, Lubbock, where he received his degree, joined his father in the operation of the store.

"We have always stressed quality merchandise and nationally advertised brands, because we know that is the kind our customers want to buy," the owners said.

In addition to Mr. Saied and Mr. Saied Jr., the Leader Store personnel includes Mrs. O. B. Wilson, Mrs. Harris Royal, Mrs. John Forbis, Mrs. Aubrey Spear and John Forbis.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Gibbs and their son, Riley Gibbs, of Glen Rose, were luncheon guests of Mrs. J. A. Leach and Miss Inez Leach one day last week. The family has visited in the Leach home from time to time in the past.

While Texas population has not quite tripled since 1890, water consumption has increased 7,000 per cent, says the Texas Water Conservation Association.

Society News

Seven Brothers and Sisters Meet
For First Time in Many Years

A recent reunion in Wellington brought together seven brothers and sisters, whose ages range from 64 to 90 years. The three living here are Mrs. J. C. Scott, R. F. Fulcher and J. M. Fulcher. The brothers and sisters who visited here were Mrs. Alice Hutchinson of Altus, Okla., Mrs. Lena Shugart of Plainview, W. J. Fulcher of Irving and G. F. Fulcher of San Antonio.

Eldest of the group is W. J. Fulcher, whom the family describes as "the spryest of all of us." R. F. Fulcher is the youngest. He has been ill for several months, but during the reunion he was much better, and one of the high points of the occasion was the big family dinner at his home, spread under the trees in the yard.

There were other unusual features of this reunion. It was the first time the seven had been together since the younger members were small children. The older brothers and sisters were married and had families of their own by the time the younger one were born. Some of the group hadn't seen others for 35 years.

The older children were born and grew up in Hamilton County, then the family moved to Coke County, near San Angelo. They were among the early settlers of the area, and no county seat had been picked. Here the younger children were born.

Their mother was a native Texan, a member of one of the early families to settle in the state. Their father came from Louisiana.

Other members of the family gathered to help the seven brothers and sisters celebrate.

Nourishing Milk Adds to Stuffed Peppers' Zestful Appeal

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

STUFFED green peppers are always welcome eating and a wonderful way to make leftovers taste particularly good.

The meat mixture-stuffing in this recipe is enriched with a half cup of instant nonfat dry milk, and the peppers are served with a low-cost sauce also using instant nonfat dry milk. That means lots of extra nutrition.

A one-pound foil-lined package will yield 5 quarts of dairy-sweet nonfat milk at a moderate price. It is also available in handy, pre-measured packages containing 3 foil-lined envelopes, each of which will make one quart of nonfat milk.

Stuffed Peppers Supreme (Makes 6 servings)

Six medium-size green peppers, 1 pound ground beef, 1 cup cooked rice (½ cup, uncooked); ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk, 1 (½ pound) package process sharp Cheddar cheese, shredded; 2 teaspoons salt, few drops tabasco sauce.

Wash peppers. Cut off stems and remove seeds. With sharp knife, cut a scalloped edge around each pepper. Cook peppers in boiling water, about 3 minutes. Remove from water; drain thoroughly. Combine beef, rice, instant nonfat dry milk powder, shredded cheese, salt and tabasco sauce; blend well. Spoon meat mixture lightly into peppers.

Place peppers in shallow baking dish. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until peppers are tender when pierced with a fork—about 35 to 40 minutes.

Onion Parsley Sauce (Makes about 1½ cups)

One and one-half cups water, ½ cup instant nonfat dry milk, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce, 1 onion, grated (about 2 tablespoons); 2 tablespoons chopped parsley.

Pour water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder, flour and salt over surface of water. Beat with rotary

PHONE MERGER MAKES GENERAL NATION'S LARGEST INDEPENDENT

SAN ANGELO — Overwhelming approval of the merger of General Telephone Corporation and the Theodore Gary and Company was voted today by stockholders of the two companies at meetings held in New York and Kansas City, respectively. The merger will become effective October 31, 1955, according to word received here by W. G. Wright, president of General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Basis of the merger is an exchange of stock in which General Telephone will absorb Gary. Gary stockholders will get 1 1/2 shares of General common for each Gary share, either common or participating common.

General Telephone System, which even before the merger is the largest independent (non-Bell) telephone system with operations in 21 states, now will operate about 2 1/2 million telephones in 30 states, or a third of the country's non-Bell system telephones.

Principal investments of the Gary Company are the Associated Telephone and Telegraph Company, whose subsidiaries are engaged primarily in the manufacture and sale of telephone communications equipment (and includes the Automatic Electric Company) and Continental Telephone Company whose subsidiaries are engaged in furnishing local and long distance telephone service through 18 telephone operating subsidiaries in 17 states.

Subsidiaries of both companies are located in Texas and Oklahoma.

General Telephone Company of the Southwest, a part of the General Telephone System, serves 179,000 telephones through 232 exchanges in Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

The Gary Company subsidiaries located in the Southwest include the Texas Telephone Company with headquarters in Sherman, Tex., and the Oklahoma Telephone Company with headquarters in Broken Arrow, Okla.

The Texas Telephone Company, with more than 32,000 telephones at the end of April, 1955, operates exchanges in Aransas Pass, Bailey, Bonham, Collinsville, Comanche, Denton, Ector, Garland, Gustine, Howe, Ingleside, Mt. Calm, Pilot Point, Plano, Tioga, Van Alstyne, Whitesboro, Wylie and Sherman.

The Sherman exchange is the largest in the Texas Telephone Company with 8,700 telephones followed in size by Denton with over 5,700 telephones and Garland with over 6,700 telephones.

The exchanges served by the Telephone Company which serves more than 5,600 telephones includes Avant, Barnsdall, Fairfax, Hominy, Kaw City, Ramona, Stroud and Broken Arrow.

Skylights and New Type Fixtures Make Work Lighter

Twelve sheets of corrugated, transparent plastic material went into the roof of the new Farmers Co-op Gin building to form skylights for daytime running. These sheets are the same size and each simply takes the place of one sheet of corrugated iron, the material with which the entire building is covered, roof and sides.

Dick Sweat, gin manager, said he will probably insert more of these transparent sheets in the roof before another season.

The interior of this plant is much better lighted throughout than has been true with gin plants in the past. The skylighting already provides better daytime illumination than in the old gin, and a complete and functional arrangement of large fluorescent lighting fixtures will furnish plenty of light for working at night.

Mr. Sweat says the fluorescent lighting will make working conditions much better, furnishing more light than the old type open light bulbs, but will not use any more electricity.

Push-Button Driving Reality in New Dodges at Castleberry Motor Company Friday, October 7

DETROIT — The new 1956 line of Dodge passenger cars will be introduced to the public Friday, October 7, in dealer showrooms throughout the country. Viewers of the new cars were promised the first glimpse of an entirely new era in automotive design—both in exterior and interior appearance and in mechanical advancements, by W. C. Newberg, Dodge president.

Outstanding among many mechanical improvements is the revolutionary new "Magic Touch" push-button drive selector which completely eliminates the necessity for any kind of a gear-shift or drive control lever, and brings the automatic driving dreams of yesteryear to today's reality.

In the radically new body design for 1956, Dodge has carried the Forward Look into an even bolder, more dramatic form. Unique high-sweep rear fender tail fins lend an aircraft-like effect and mold the flavor of speed into every line of the car, giving it at the same time a pronounced directional appearance.

Forward-pointing body shapes and moldings tastefully proportioned hood, body and deck areas, gracefully tapering hood and front fenders, and the wide, slightly swept-back effect of the divided grille, all combine to give slimness and tautness of line and a distinct feeling of motion to the new Dodge cars.

New in its basic concepts and exciting in its beauty and appeal is the Four-Door Lancer by Dodge. All of the youth and vigor of true hardtop styling have been skillfully combined with the comfort and convenience of the four-door sedan. Full-width rear doors provide easy access to the rear passenger compartment, while full side vision is assured by a unique design which allows the use of full rear door windows.

Significant of Dodge's traditional consideration of the car buyer's freedom in price selection is the fact that the new Four-Door Lancer Dodge hardtop is offered in the low-priced Coronet, as well as in the Royal and Custom Royal series, Bryon J. Nichols, vice president and general sales manager, pointed out.

Four separate series comprise the 1956 line of Dodge Cars: Coronet, offering four-door sedan, club coupe, four-door Lancer hardtop, Lancer hardtop and Lancer convertible; Royal V-8, offering four-door sedan, four-door Lancer hardtop and Lancer hardtop; Custom Royal V-8 with four-door sedan, four-door Lancer hardtop, Lancer hardtop and Lancer convertible. Finally, a new Station Wagon line offers a wide choice of seven Suburban two-door and Sierra four-door models.

Both the Coronet and Suburban lines allow the customer a choice of Dodge "Get-Away Six" or Dodge V-8 engines in certain body types. Selection between Red Ram V-8 and Super Red Ram V-8 is also available in the Suburban and Sierra lines.

Important engine news of the year is the new Dodge Super Red Ram V-8 engine which has been upped to a total displacement of 315 cubic inches, resulting in vastly increased power and torque. Horsepower is up to 218, while even more significant is the new "break-away" from standing start performance, resulting from the phenomenally improved torque. Designed with a unique single-rocker valve train and polyspheric combustion chamber, this new engine features such other improvements as higher combustion efficiency, greater fuel economy and longer engine life. High compression ratios and the radically redesigned combustion chambers afford increased engine output and higher efficiencies, yet the new Dodge engines allow new car buyers the economy of regular gasoline.

And to top it off, Dodge again offers an optional four-barrel carburetor with matching intake manifold, dual exhausts and a distributor with special spark-advance curve for those desiring even higher Super Red Ram V-8 engine output. Horsepower is 230.

Matching in its Forward Look concepts the "Magic-Touch" push-button gear selector, is the new Dodge Highway Hi-Fi, an automatic car record player, operating through the car radio. It gives 45 minutes to a full hour of uninterrupted music on each side of the 7-inch records. A choice of high fidelity classical and popular recordings and even recorded readings of selected subjects is available. The addition of Hi-Fi is a significant forward step in the development of the automobile as a home-on-wheels.

The marvel of Hi-Fi is its simplicity. Mounted in a convenient sliding drawer under the glove box the unit is designed so that the driver can operate it without taking his eyes from the road. By means of uniquely designed pickup arm, the car can be driven over the roughest of roads without affecting the record player's operation in any way.

The brilliant Flair-Fashioned design which distinguished Dodge

Rattler Angle Alerts Hunters

AUSTIN — Dove hunters have reported so many narrow escapes from rattlesnakes that the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission cautioned City folks unfamiliar with the outdoors against "walking without watching."

"There probably are no more rattlers but just more hunters," observed the Executive Secretary. "Anyway, it won't hurt for the folks to be more observing about snakes as well as everything else. Thus they will protect themselves and get more generally from their fall contact with nature."

A Texarkana hunter got some sport from a hassle with two rattlers. He lined up their heads and got both with one shot.

HERE'S HOW — Dress uniforms for ceremonials such as the Changing of the Guard at Buckingham Palace feature these 20-inch-tall shakos, not worn as part of a British service uniform since 1880. Nearly as old as the traditional headgear is the question: "How can the guards see while wearing those things?" Maj. Alistair Ritchie of the Queen's Own Scots Guards, now making a United States-Canadian tour, reveals the secret. There's plenty of vision between combed-out hairs which fall across the eyes.

Eighty per cent of the flood and storm waters in Texas rush unused into the Gulf of Mexico, the Texas Water Conservation Association estimates.

Trouble with the crew haircut or an older guy is that too many of the crew have already bailed out.

Habitat Gain Boosts Quail

AUSTIN — Texas hunters this fall should be able to notice gains in the quail population because of favorable weather and general habitat improvement, reports the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said the primary cause of the popular game bird's comeback has been increased rainfall and consequent benefits to cover and feed. However, the Director noted that public interest improvement has been a factor which should become more pronounced from now on.

"We are going to have some pretty good quail shooting in places this fall," said the Director. "Field men report substantial increases in many areas. One of the favored places in the Panhandle."

The Game and Fish Commission lately has encouraged its wardens to consult with sportsmen's groups and landowners on restoring quail habitat.

Editorial Comment — The Wellington Leader

State Probers Stress TV's Responsibilities to Youth

A Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, after hearings in New York and Washington, warned the television industry that while the industry has many fine shows for youngsters, some shows are risky in exposing children to ruthless, unethical forms of behavior.

This is particularly true in the case of emotionally disturbed youngsters, they pointed out.

The investigators did not overlook the TV industry's existing code of decency. For that and for the many excellent children's programs televised, it had high praise. But it complained that some telecasters bypass or ignore the decency code's checkpoints.

The industry would do well to heed the investigators' report, to eliminate or at least tone down crime and violence shows during children's viewing hours. By so doing it could render a great service to the nation's youth as well as their parents.

The great variety of entertainment available today often makes it difficult for parents to exercise the proper supervision over what their children see and hear. Sometimes it is difficult for parents to decide just what is good or bad entertainment for the youth.

This is particularly a modern-day problem. A generation or two ago, life was simpler, less varied and complex in its temptations. Today's high-powered automobile, radio, glorified movie and TV represent a far cry from the horse and buggy theater and once-a-year circus of grandpa's day.

TV has become a big factor in today's scheme of things, and in its role of entertainment it wields a great influence over children. Such a role carries with it a great responsibility and a great obligation. Producers should keep this constantly in mind and direct toward children only those shows that tend to stimulate the healthy rather than the unhealthy emotions.

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

It seems like nearly every time the President appoints a new bureaucrat, it comes out that he has been a Commercialist somewhere back in the past and is not more than half reformed.

And the politicians worry when these characters get in office. Afraid, I guess, that they may infect the government with Business Principles.

You take confirmed addicts of Business Principles and they can scuttle lots of progress, all right. Like when one of them gets on a school board and don't want to spend money the district hasn't got, even when the experts keep telling him that Johnny can't learn arithmetic in an old-fashioned cheap schoolhouse.

interiors last year has been carried forward in the 1956 models. Once again, luxurious new fabrics have been created as the magic of the Jacquard loom has combined nylon, rayon, cotton and metallic threads into exotic abstract patterns for Custom Royal and Royal models. Coronet interiors feature dramatic blockstripe pattern composed of the same materials.

Striking new upholstery treatments have been designed for all interiors, with special insert-type bolsters on Custom Royal seat backs. Bright silver metallic welting in some models adds another contemporary note. Combinations of blue, greens, reds, blacks and white make Dodge for '56 as truly Flair-Fashioned on the inside as on the outside.

Center-of-all eyes for those who first enter the 1956 Dodge cars is the tasteful, asymmetrical design of the instrument panel. The large easy-to-see speedometer is located directly in front of the driver. Individual instrument dials are positioned on both sides of the speedometer. On the left side are the fuel and ammeter gauges, while the oil pressure and temperature gauges are to the right. The instrument dial faces are painted a dark gun-metal gray color with white lettering, providing excellent visibility under all conditions. Soft green no-glare lighting illuminates the dials for night driving.

The panel itself has been given a new two-tone color treatment. The crown or top surface of the panel is painted with a semi-gloss coating which reduces glare. Just above the instruments, a brow prevents distracting reflections on the windshield during night driving. Below this brow, the panel is painted a light color, harmoniz-

Dodge Introduces New 4-Door Hardtop

One of the newest, most exciting automobiles to appear on the American motoring scene in recent years is the glamorous 1956 Dodge Four-Door Lancer hardtop. All of the youth and vigor of true hardtop styling has been skillfully combined with the comfort and convenience of the four-door sedan. While the car shown above is in the Custom Royal series, the same body style is being offered in the lower priced Royal and Coronet series.

ing with the other interior colors. Custom Royal models also feature a smart-looking chrome molding around the instrument panel insert.

Legion are the number of body, structural and mechanical improvements: new power brakes, new safety door latches, new 12-volt electrical system, new Power Tip spark plugs, new headlights and new pull-type door handles are among the most outstanding.

The new safety door latch comes as one of the major advances in the field of automobile safety engineering. Introduced for use with Dodge's exclusive self-tightening rotors, it represents another great forward step in passenger protection because it minimizes the possibility of the automobile doors opening under crash impact.

To lead the trend toward higher compression ratios and its increasing demand on the electrical system, and to insure the superior ignition and starting performance enjoyed for many years by the owners of Dodge cars, a completely new type of 12-volt electrical system has been developed. All components of the new system give performance that is superior to the previously used 6-volt system or any 12-volt system currently in use.

New power brakes available for all Dodge cars equipped with the Power-Flite transmission, give faster and easier response and easier action. Completely new in design, the vacuum-operated power unit supplies a power assist to the brake pedal linkage in the ratio of 2.5 times the brake pedal mechanical advantages. Built-in instantaneous power response, combined with a new low-position pedal design, offers much faster braking in any situation—a decided safety factor. The easier action reduces driver fatigue and lowers pedal pressure required for stopping without power assistance, a tremendous safety feature in the event of a sudden loss of power help.

Redesigning of the lower beam of the sealed beam headlights of the new 1956 Dodge has provided an extended zone of high-intensity safety lighting at the right side of the vehicle path, yet has reduced glare for the oncoming motorist. Thus, more light reaches the area where pedestrians or other vehicles might be encountered, and as much as 80 feet more "seeing distance" is provided along the right side of the roadway. One of the other great improvements in the new headlamp is gained through the use of a cap over the lower beam filament. This cap cuts off the rays of light that tend to escape upward, reducing the reflected glare-back from particles of moisture or solids in the air. This greatly improves visibility in fog, snow, dust or rain.

NEW CAB STYLE—Ford's F-100 pickup truck with wraparound windshield and hooded roof is available in a 110 or 118 inch wheelbase to carry either a 45 or 65 cubic foot box. Powered by a 223 cu. in. I-block six cylinder engine rated at 133 hp, or a 272 cu. in. Y-8 rated at 167 hp, the pickup has five transmission available: standard, overdrive, Fordomatic and heavy duty 3 speed and 4 speed. Ford's 1956 trucks go on display at 6,800 Ford dealer showrooms September 23.

Safety Stressed in New Models

Ford Offers 200 Truck Styles To Meet All Transports Needs

Ford's 200 new 1956 truck models with greater engine performance and payload capacity go on display in 6,800 Ford dealer showrooms throughout the country September 23.

Two new models have been added to the Ford truck line — a T-750 tandem axle model in the heavy truck series, and a new longer wheelbase pickup.

Gross vehicle weights extend from 5,000 pounds on the pickup to 42,000 pounds on the heavy duty tandem axle models.

For 1956, Ford's cab design introduces increased visibility of wrap-around windshields and optional wrap-around rear window.

Introduced for the first time to the trucking industry are two standard safety features — a safety steering wheel and safety door latches. Seat belts are optional.

The safety steering wheel is designed with a rim three inches above the horn button to give the driver's chest added protection from the steering column in case of a crash.

Also, a new safety door latch reduces the chance that doors will open in an accident, providing occupants added protection from being thrown out of the cab.

Tubeless tires, standard equipment this year, increase Ford truck economy. Larger payloads can be carried because tubeless tires and wheels weigh less, which is important to a trucker with as many as 10 tires on his truck. They reduce tire-change time up to 70 per cent.

Ford's short stroke, low friction engine design has been continued this year in eight combinations developed for more power, fuel savings and durability.

Horsepower has been increased in all engines, by 12.7 per cent in the smallest 223 cu. in. six cylinder engine rated at 133 hp to 17.6 per cent in the largest 332 cu. in. heavy duty Y-8 engine rated at 200 hp when equipped with a four barrel carburetor.

In the medium-heavy truck series, a special heavy-duty 168 hp Y-8 engine is available equipped with a four-barrel carburetor — one of the most powerful engines in this weight class.

In the heavy truck series, an optional power package consists of four-barrel carburetion, dual exhausts and special cold air intake. The intake is a hood air-scoop, increasing efficiency and performance. The 332 cu. in. engine develops 200 hp with this equipment.

Another option is a thermostatic fan which adds power to heavy trucks by disengaging the engine fan at low operating temperatures. This provides up to 18 more usable horsepower at the clutch.

In all engines, improved manifold and valving moves the fuel mixture in and out of the combustion chamber more efficiently.

In addition to wraparound windshield design, styling advances include a new one-piece grille with integral head lamp hoods and housings. The hooded 1956 roof extends ahead of the windshield, and acts as a partial sun visor.

In the Customized cab, foam rubber cushioning five inches deep in the seat and three inches deep in the seat back contribute to driver comfort.

All Ford cabs are available in a choice of eight single colors or eight two-tone color combinations.

A standard 12 volt electrical system provides better ignition performance, higher generator output and faster cranking speeds.

Power steering will be available this year as an option on conventional heavy trucks. It is standard equipment on tandem models with 302 and 332 cu. in. engines. Fordomatic transmission is available this year on P-500 parcel delivery trucks, extending this work saver further up the range of weight classifications.

Texas Will Cut Bumper Harvest Of Grain Sorghum

AUSTIN — Texas will produce more than half of the nation's grain sorghum crop this year, with a bumper crop expected to beat last year's yield by more than 20 per cent.

The University of Texas Bureau of Business Research says the production gain in grain sorghums can be attributed to a 15 per cent increase in acreage and generally more rainfall in most areas.

The Bureau also reports remarkable high yields are in prospect for most of the cotton-producing areas, due to improved soil moisture supplemented by irrigation of about 25 per cent of the state's crop. Boll weevil infestation is somewhat worse this year than last, but damage has not been excessive.

Cotton production is expected to be down only about 1 per cent, although Texans planted a million fewer acres in cotton this year than in 1954.

Reporting on livestock, the Bureau says most cattlemen feel they can see their herds safely through the coming winter season. Prospects for early fall and winter pasturing are better than they have been in years, and there was a bumper crop of hay.

Texas farmers suffered a 3 per cent decline in income during the seven-month period of January-July, 1955, compared with the same period of last year. Prices received by farmers during July fell 2 per cent from June figures, but remained about the same when compared with prices received during July 1954.

For Original Window Displays

LONE STAR GAS OFFERS PRIZES TO DEALERS IN OLD STOVE ROUNDUP

Lone Star Gas Company is offering substantial cash prizes to gas appliance dealers coming up with the most original window displays during Old Stove Round-Up Time, October through November. Entries should be filed with the local manager for the gas company and the deadline for entries is October 1g and the deadline for photographs of the window displays is November 25. The photos also should be turned in to the local manager for Lone Star.

Quality of snapshots submitted is not important, the gas company points out. Windows will be judged on originality of ideas primarily, secondly on clarity of presentation.

The following contest rules must be followed to qualify for the prizes of $200 for first prize, $100 for second and $50 for third.

Window displays must remain before the public—as shown in the entry photograph—a minimum of two weeks. The Old Stove Round-Up Time theme of "so much more than ever before . . . automatically" must be used in the window display. Each display must be built around or feature a top-of-the-line automatic gas range. The dealer winning first, second and third place in the window display contest will receive a $50 bonus if he has a connected gas range on his sales floor.

Lone Star officials pointed out that regardless of whether a store is large, medium-size or small, the dealer will have an equal chance of winning. Last year's Old Stove Round-Up winner was a small appliance store. The owner's window display idea judged the most original of all these submitted.

The reduced fares may be purchased by individuals or parties, such as FHA groups, grade school and high school classes, etc., it was also announced.

According to J. E. Roberts,

FHA Personnel To Area Meet
