Bootleggers Flee Afoot After Fatal Shooting Near Farmhouse

ALTUS, Okla., Aug. 29. (AP)—Elmer L. Carter, about 32, deputy sheriff, was killed and Joe Whitt, night police chief of Altus, was critically wounded in a pitched gun battle with bootleggers four and a half miles southwest of here tonight. The four rum runners escaped.

Carter, advised of the liquor shipment found no other county officers available and asked Whitt to accompany him.

The officers met the rum runners, reported on their way to Borger, Texas, on a country road.

FREDERICK, Okla., Aug. 29. (AP)—Buster Robertson, living on a farm near here, was brought to a hospital here late tonight suffering two bullet wounds believed to have been received in a gun fight between officers and rum runners near Altus in which Deputy Sheriff E. L. Carter was killed. His condition was serious.

In the battle that followed, both officers emptied their guns and were attempting to reload when the rifles used by the rum runners, ended the fight.

Carter, mortally wounded, crawled a quarter of a mile to a farm house to call in to his fellow officers to report the conflict. Then he died.

Before his death, he said there were two men in the car escorting the liquor truck and two others in the truck. It was not known if any of the rum runners were wounded. None of the trucks had been found late tonight.

Quickly organized posses were in pursuit of the fugitives.

Two men in an automobile preceding the truck, loaded with 700 gallons of whisky, opened fire when stopped by the officers. After shooting down the two officers, the two gunmen, acting as a convoy for the liquor truck, and two men in the truck fled.

Whitt was shot through the head and his recovery was considered doubtful.

Hounds Lead Posse In Search for Slayer

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 29. (AP)—Posses, armed with machine guns, followed blood hounds through the dense woods near Marcola, Ore., today searching for Ray Sutherland 67, alleged moonshiner, wanted for the killing of Joe Saunders, 37, deputy game warden, and Oscar Duley, 35, Eugene policeman and deputy sheriff and the wounding of two others in a pitched gun battle.

Fire Fighter Killed By Highly Charged Wire

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 29. (AP)—W. Clark Hughes, of Bossier parish, and former speaker of the state house of representatives, was killed instantly tonight when he stepped on a highly charged electrical wire while directing efforts to extinguish a fire in a store and garage at Vanceville on a plantation seven miles north of here.

$2,000,000 In Highway Contracts To Boost Drouth Aid Program

AUSTIN, Aug. 29. (AP)—Drouth relief in Texas was given added impetus today with announcement by the state highway department that contracts calling for the improvement of 148 miles of state roads would be awarded at the meeting of the highway commission Sept. 15 and 16. The tentative list of awards calls for the expenditure of slightly more than $2,000,000 of which one-half will be spent on roads and one-half on bridges.

At the same time, the highway department announced it had ordered all division engineers to make an immediate survey of their territories with the view of starting extensive maintenance work that ordinarily would have been held over until spring. T. H. Webb, acting highway engineer, stated that division engineers had been instructed to make the survey with the view of using local labor on the projects. As soon as the survey has been completed, plans will be made to go forward with the work immediately, he said.

More Expected

Although the tentative list of projects as announced today calls for the expenditure of approximately $2,000,000, the total was expected to be considerably more by the time the commission meets.

The list calls for the construction of 129 miles of grading and drainage structures, 15 miles of triple asphalt surface treatment; four miles of concrete paving, three miles of triple bituminous surface treatment on gravel base and one underpass.

The road work will be concentrated in West Texas. G. G. Wickline, bridge engineer, stated tentative plans had been made for several bridges to be constructed in West Texas counties as an aid in the drouth relief work. The tentative list of bridge work to be placed under contract had not been completed but will aggregate more than $1,000,000.

Use County Funds

All work to be placed under contract at the meeting will be carried out with county funds, the state being unable to furnish its share owing to the depletion of the highway fund through extensive contracting earlier in the year. As soon as state funds are available they will be used to finish the projects.

The list of propects issued today included:

Culberson county, highway 1, 13 miles grading and drainage from Van Horn east.

Fisher county, highway 70, 27.9 miles grading and drainage, from Nolan county line to Jones county line.

Hall county, highway 86, 3.1 miles grading and drainage and triple bituminous surface treatment on gravel base, from Briscoe county line to Turkey.

Hansford county, highway 117, 19.7 miles grading and drainage, from Hutchinson county line to Ochiltree county line.

Hutchinson county, highway 117, 11 miles grading and drainage from Camp Rock to Hansford county line.

Navarro county, highway 22, 3.8 miles concrete paving, from highway 1-A to Corsicana.

Ochiltree county, highway 17, 16 miles grading and drainage from Hansford county line to Perryton.

Refugio county, highway 128, 19.2 miles grading and drainage from near Refugio to Victoria county line.

Throckmorton county, highway 23, 13.5 miles triple asphalt surface treatment from Throckmorton to Baylor county line.

Upton county, highway 99, 4.9 miles grading and drainage from Rankin to Reagan county line.

RITES SET FOR GUN VICTIM

Funeral of E. H. F. Rathke To Be Held Today

Special to The Record News

IOWA PARK, Texas, Aug. 29.—Funeral services for E. H. F. Rathke, 59, prominent Wichita county stockman accidentally shot to death on his farm Thursday night, will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Iowa Park Methodist church. Rev. A. H. Muehlbrad of the Trinity Lutheran church in Wichita Falls, of which Mr. Rathke was a member, will officiate. Burial will be in the Highland cemetery.

The body of Mr. Rathke, one side of the head blown away by the discharge of a 12-gauge shotgun, was found about 7:30 Thursday night by his son, W. A. Rathke. The body lay beside a gate leading into a field of the Rathke farm, 7½ miles northwest of Iowa Park. The elderly stockman had ridden through the fields in search of a missing steer, taking his gun along in search of rabbits.

According to a theory developed from a study of the circumstances, Mr. Rathke is believed to have left his gun at the gate. On returning, leading his horse through the gate, he is believed to have reached for the weapon with one hand while holding the animal with the other. A sudden movement of the horse is believed to have occasioned the accidental discharge of the gun.

After an inquest conducted Friday, Justice of the Peace J. D. Shannon returned a verdict of death from an acidental gun shot wound.

Mr. Rathke has been a leading stock farmer here for the past 22 years. He is survived by his wife, four sons, and one daughter, Miss Maidie Rathke of Iowa Park. The sons are H. O., Kansas City; E. H., McCamey, Texas; G. M., Graham; W. A. and R. S. Rathke, Iowa Park.

Sooner Democrats Gather for Meet

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., Aug. 29.—Democratic state notables began arriving at Medicine park Friday for the annual convention of the Young Men's Democratic league Saturday. Among those already reported as having arrived are, Alfalfa Bill Murray, Democratic candidate for governor, Scott Ferris, former congressman and Oklahoma national committeeman, Senator Elmer Thomas, Gordon Bierer, state president of the league, and Thomas P. Gore Democratic candidate for United States senator.

Saturday morning will be given over to organization conference and the afternoon devoted to speechmaking. Due to interest in state politics and the approaching campaign the largest attendance in many years is expected at the convention Saturday. A love feast will be held in the evening with Josh Lee, famous Oklahoma humorist officiating as toastmaster.

'Forgiven'

A. D. Payne, Amarillo attorney, told a correspondent just before he committed suicide early Saturday that he had been forgiven by his wife's spirit for having caused her death in a bomb explosion.

TANDEM PLANE CRASH FATAL

Inventor Third Victim At Chicago Races

CURTISS-REYNOLDS AIRPORT Chicago, Aug. 29. (AP)—A crowd of 40,000 horror-stricken spectators saw the small "home-made" plane of George Fernic, St. George, Staten Island, N. Y., rise from the field, pause in mid-air, then plunge sickeningly downward into a parked plane at the national air races today.

Fernic, a Rumanian, was dead when pulled from the cockpit. His plane demolished a ship in which Miss Martie Bowman of Hempstead, L. I., N. Y., had just completed a closed course race. The famous aviatrix missed death by inches as the falling plane cleft through the fuselage of her ship. She and W. S. Allison of Cleveland had just stepped from the ship and were standing nearby with a group of mechanics.

It was the second major crash witnessed by air race fans since the beginning of the meet, and brought the total fatalities to three. Fernic had flown his tandem plane to the air races, arriving Tuesday. He had designed and built the craft himself, placing on it a short auxiliary wing which he believed gave it additional stability.

In a larger plane of a similar design, which he had intended to fly to Rumania, he crashed several months ago at Roosevelt field, but was unhurt.

The ship derived its energy from a motor of only 70 horsepower. Fernic had told friends he was pleased with the plane's performance, but that it needed a more powerful engine. Witnesses blamed his fatal accident on insufficient power to pull the ship out of the loop.

MAN DROWNS IN TANK HERE

Cramps Blamed for Death Of Clarence Click

Clarence Click, 23, whose home is near Thornberry, about nine miles from Wichita Falls, drowned when he was seized with cramps while swimming with several companions in a small lake about a mile north of the Iowa Park road just beyond the city limits about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. He was identified by Bill Long, a cousin, who is a member of the fire department stationed at Central fire station.

Rescue Efforts Fail

Companions of the deceased said he had eaten a heavy lunch only a short time before going in swimming at the tank. They attributed the attack of cramps which caused his death to the fact that he entered the water and exercised strenuously too soon after having eaten. E. S. Veal, 1204 Warren street, and Morgan Murphy, who lives on the Iowa Park road, swam out to the young man when they heard his cries and saw his struggles to stay above the surface. Their efforts proved futile, however, and he escaped their grasp and sank below the surface. A call for help was sent out immediately and ambulances from the Albert's Funeral home and the Merkle Undertaking company equipped with pulmotors, rushed to the scene. Motorcycle Officers Earl Brooks and J. H. Pogue accompanied the ambulances and assisted in the search for Click's body.

Frank Creighton, Boy Scout executive here, was notified and P. E. Hunter and Maynard Creighton, scouts, were sent at once to aid in the search. The body was located three times and each time lost before it could be brought to the surface. The fourth time the two scouts dived, young Creighton secured a stout fishing cord about the man's ankle and brought the body to shallow water, Officers Brooks and Pogue wading out to bring the body to shore.

Parents Summoned

The Albert's company lung motor was immediately applied, but

Surgery Unnecessary For Booth Tarkington

BALTIMORE, Aug. 29 (AP)—There is no need for an operation to save the eyesight of Booth Tarkington, Indiana author, who is a patient at the Johns Hopkins hospital here, officials of the institution said today. They said the author had made his third entry into the hospital for rest and observation, and that the condition of his eyes was not more aggravated than it has been for several months. No further operation was contemplated they said.

Two Prisoners Recaptured At Archer City After Vernon Break

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Aug 29.—Two of the four prisoners who tunneled their way through the brick wall of the jail here early Friday morning were back in the same jail Friday night, recaptured within a few hours after their escape by Sheriff Ed Goodwin of Archer county.

Ernest Oglesby, under sentences aggregating 93 years and said to have engineered the break, and Marion Sanders, sentenced to four years and waiting a second burglary trial, were apprehended on the outskirts of Archer City about 8:30 Friday morning. Sheriff Goodwin, who had just been informed of the escape by a long distance telephone conversation, recognized the car in which the two were driving toward Archer City. The machine is alleged to have been stolen after the getaway. The two men offered no resistance and were taken back to Wilbarger county in the custody of Sheriff R. R. Rheay and deputy L. D. Campbell early Friday afternoon.

The other two prisoners, George Allen and Mon Coffer were still at large late Friday night although officers were scouring the Pease river breaks upon information that the pair had been seen in that vicinity.

The four men sawed through two bars of their cells, tunneled through a brick wall, and escaped down a blanket early Friday morning.

C.-C. TO URGE WICHITANS TO TRAVEL BY AIR

Halliburton Assures City It Will Not Be Left Without Service

AID PROMISED

Wichita Delegation Confers With Air Head At Oklahoma City

Wichita Falls, through its chamber of commerce, will make a concerted effort to increase travel by air from this city and to give every support possible to the Southwest Air Fast Express in serving this territory, aviation leaders predicted Friday afternoon following a successful conference with Earle P. Halliburton, president of the line, in which Mr. Halliburton assured the Wichita Falls delegation that this city would not be left without air passenger service.

Conference Held

Members of the Wichita Falls delegation, composed of W. M. McGregor, Harry Gray Jr., J. L. Jackson Jr., J. H. Allison, Wilbur Cahoon, J. W. Chatham and Dudley B. Foy, returned from Oklahoma City Friday afternoon after the conference Friday morning with Mr. Halliburton. It had been previously announced that Mr. Halliburton would discontinue service here in order to assume a new air mail contract on a part of the route from New York to Los Angeles by way of Atlanta and Dallas.

Although the Wichita Falls delegation was given assurances that the suspension of service has been canceled, Mr. Halliburton pointed out that he could not continue as an individual to shoulder the entire burden of the airways unless his line is placed on a paying basis. The Oklahoma man, a pioneer in the air passenger business and head of one of the leading lines of the nation, expressed appreciation for the support the S. A. F. E. has been given in this area, and declared that he "would not desert" Wichita Falls in the matter of service.

Perfect Record

The Safeway lines blazed a new air trail from Oklahoma City to Wichita Falls and thence to Dallas and Fort Worth. In the 1,600,000 miles traveled by the company's planes, not one accident has been marked against its record and no person has been injured. Between 50,000 and 75,000 passengers have been hauled during its operations in the Ford tri-motored ships which have been made standard equipment for the lines.

For the present, the efforts of Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce to cooperate with the Safeway lines will be directed toward increasing air travel from this city and territory. Efforts to secure air mail service for the city, long sought by the chamber of commerce, probably will be delayed for the time being. Appointment of a special chamber of commerce committee to aid in the work of making Wichitans more "air minded" will likely be asked, members of the delegation said. Both the trip to and from Oklahoma City Friday were made in S. A. F. E. planes, the delegation leaving Friday morning and returning home early Friday afternoon.

Baby Girl Starts Trip Abroad to See Parents

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (INS)—A 2-year-old Chicago lass embarked today upon a journey that will take her to New York and then across the Atlantic to visit her grandparents in Breslau, Germany. Her mother will take the tiny voyager to New York, but once she is put aboard the Hamburg American liner St. Louis she will make the rest of the trip alone. She is Inga Schaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Schaffer of Chicago.

Farm Loan Official Held on Federal Charge

DALLAS, Aug. 29. (UP)—Charges of violation of the federal farm loan act faced Sam Krauss, former secretary and treasurer of the Kaufman National Farm Loan association tonight. Federal agents who arrested Krauss charged him with appropriating $3,878 of the firm's funds to his own use.

Unofficial Returns Give Sterling 90,708 Lead

DALLAS, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Texas election bureau tonight announced complete unofficial returns on last Saturday's run-off race for the Democratic nomination for governor from all except 12 counties, accounting for 854,564 votes and giving Ross S. Sterling of Houston a majority of 90,708.

The figures were: Sterling 472,636 and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson 381,928.

Texas Beauty Injured In Havana Recovers

HAVANA, Aug. 29. (AP)—Miss Anne Carroll de Brow, Texas beauty queen injured Wednesday in an automobile accident today declared she had entirely recovered from the shock of the accident. She went airplane riding yesterday and topped off the ride with a swim at Laplaya beach.

Amarillo Wife Slayer Blown To Pieces When Explosion Rocks Cell

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 30. (UP)—A. D. Payne, confessed bomb slayer of his wife, was blown to pieces by a terrific explosion in his cell at the county jail here shortly after midnight tonight.

The cause of the blast was not learned immediately but jail attendants said no one else in the building was injured. They said they were reasonably certain Payne had destroyed himself.

Sheriff W. N. Thompson and other county officials were summoned to the scene. A large crowd was gathering about the jail.

Blast Blows Payne's Chest Away

Payne's chest was blown away by the force of the explosion and part of his chin was torn off.

The United Press correspondent, the last to talk to Payne, was near the jail when the explosion occurred. He was one of the first to view the body and said Payne apparently had discharged a small vial of nitroglycerin or a stick of dynamite against his chest while lying face downward on his bunk.

Prisoner Shown Deadly Vial

Three prisoners, R. L. Condor, Commodore Pulliam and Vernon Churchill, were asleep in the cell with Payne. Payne aroused Condor, and told him he wanted privacy. He told Condor to take the other two out of the cell with him.

Condor and Pulliam left for an adjoining cell but were unable to awaken Churchill, who was sleeping on the bunk two feet below Payne.

Condor said Payne showed him a small vial of nitroglycerin and told him he was going to blow the place up. He said he had carried the vial since he had been in jail at Stinnett, where he was spirited when threats of violence followed his arrest here Aug. 5.

Payne had been carrying the vial in his belt, Condor said.

Churchill was not injured in the explosion. A mattress on Payne's bed was ignited by the explosion and smoke filled the room, but the flames were extinguished quickly.

J. W. Minter, justice of the peace, began an inquest at 1:30 a. m.

Sheriff Thompson said the explosive had been smuggled into the jail and said he would begin an investigation at once.

The explosion occurred in a steel tank-like cell. The room was enclosed with plated steel, with bars on one side only. The blast caused little damage and no one else in the jail was injured.

Makes Statement Before Death

Payne dictated a statement to the United Press earlier in the night, which he asked to be released after his death.

"I will never be tried before an earthly court," the statement said. "Remember I killed my wife because I loved her. Her spirit has been with me constantly since my arrest and she has assured me she has forgiven my crime."

Payne requested the United Press correspondent to look up an insurance policy on his life. "You will find in it," he said, "a clause whereby my insurance would not be effective for another year if I were executed. I have had the policy a year. The clause reads that the policy must run two years before payment is made in case of execution by the state.

"But in case of suicide the policy is effective in one year, so if I were to kill myself my children could collect the insurance.

"That is all that I can leave them. I want you (addressing the correspondent) to see that my children get the money.

Payne appeared in better spirits when the correspondent left, however, and talked of his trial, which was set for Sept. 15.

AMARILLO, Texas, Aug. 29. (AP)—A. D. Payne, Amarillo attorney held here awaiting trial on a charge of having dynamited his family car, killing his wife, last June 12, tonight killed himself in his cell at the Potter county jail here, apparently with a blast of dynamite.

Sheriff W. N. Thompson and the jailer rushed to the cell after hearing the blast and found Payne's multilated body. His bed had been set afire. How he procured the dynamite they did not learn immediately.

The noise of the explosion was heard several blocks away from the jail.

Payne's chest had been blown off.

The grand jury had returned an indictment against him at noon today, charging murder in connection with his wife's death. His son, A. D. Jr., 11, was crippled by the explosion which demolished the automobile and killed his mother, as they were driving from their home toward town, on June 12.

Two of Payne's children, Ladell, 14, and the boy, A. D. Jr., visited him in the jail this afternoon and J. W. Graves, the jailer, said Payne collapsed when the children were separated from him. He said Payne was weeping deliriously and it was some time before he could get him back upstairs.

The attorney made a lengthy confession several weeks ago, admitting the bombing plot against the life of his wife and son, and pleaded that he be given the death penalty as soon as possible.

He declared he would plead guilty when arraigned before District Judge Henry S. Bishop next Monday, but his brothers, Sidney Payne of Tulia and Ben Payne of New Mexico, indicated they would supercede that with a plea of not guilty, claiming he was insane.

Payne, throughout his imprisonment at the Stinnett jail where he was taken from here to thwart possible mob violence, continually insisted he would not attempt to defeat justice by committing suicide.

He pleaded with officials to speed his trial, insisting he wished to die in the electric chair for his crime.

In a 26,000-word statement he confessed to murdering his wife by planting dynamite in the seat of his automobile and sending her to death by asking her to drive downtown. His 14-year-old son, A. D. Jr., who accompanied his mother, was injured seriously but recovered.

Food and Money From Red Cross Needed Immediately

COMMITTEES NAMED

Tax Remission Plea Brings Sharp Break Among Delegates

An immediate special session of congress to appropriate $15,000,000 to be made available to the stricken farmers of Texas for financing 1931 crops was urged as the basis of a drouth relief program outlined in eight resolutions adopted by the Texas relief committee at the close of an all day session here Friday. The resolutions were mailed at once to Gov. Dan Moody, who appointed the 40 members of the committee, to be forwarded by him to President Hoover and Arthur M. Hyde, secretary of agriculture, for consideration in the national relief program.

At the same time the resolutions urged that the immediate threat of privation in certain sections be met by the American Red Cross, asking that organization to assume charge of distributing food or money until such time as government aid is made available.

AUSTIN, Aug. 29. (UP)—Chairman Pat Neff of the state railroad commission summoned representatives of the Texas railways to meet tomorrow for the purpose of putting emergency rates on livestock into effect in the drouth areas. The rates have been authorized by the Interstate Commerce commission and an order is needed to make them apply in this state.

Crop Failures Told

A third resolution proposed a full 50 per cent reduction in freight rates on feed into and livestock out of the drouth area, adding that the same rates should apply to livestock returned as on shipments sent out. The committee recommended that the rates apply to all feed yards and other destinations where the movement is necessary to provide feed for stocks. The reduced rates should hold until the emergency is passed and the drouth situation relieved, the resolution read.

The committee recommended that same means be provided for the extension of matured and maturing amortization payments on farm loans made through government agencies, and urged the remission of state taxes for at least one year in those counties or parts of counties asking for the extension and suffering the greatest need.

Governor Moody was petitioned to ask the president of the Republic of Mexico to continue the Mexican consulate at Sweetwater, serving 84 counties, and working to assist hundreds of Mexican families in the stricken areas.

The resolutions named Governor Moody, W. H. Fugua, Amarillo, and D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, on a proposed committee to visit Washington at once to arrange with President Hoover and various governmental department heads for an immediate conference for the purpose of presenting the true conditions existing in Texas and for securing federal aid and money to be loaned at the lowest possible rate and with the most lenient collateral possible.

Highway Work Commended

An eighth resolution commended the highway commission for its efforts in making possible the employment of local labor on the state and federal highways of Texas.

After the adoption of the relief program, the committee Friday afternoon authorized the appointment of an executive committee to continue its work and to call other general meetings as required. D. A. Bandeen was named chairman. Other members included A. P. Pierce, Quanah; N. T. Gaines, Bellevue; J. M. Edwards, Turkey, and Bob Hall, Electra. Mr. Bandeen immediately called a meeting of the executive committee in Quanah on Tuesday of next week.

A total of 52 West Texas counties, among them Wichita, asked for governmental aid in meeting drouth conditions at the meeting Friday. Committees were appointed to work in each of the counties, most of them including bankers, Red Cross officials, and county agricultural agents. The petitioning counties were Cass, Kent, Dickens, Borden, Scurry, Bailey, Swisher, Floyd, Lubbock, Hale, Coleman, Howard, Haskell, Lynn, Garza, Nolan, Foard, San Saba, Throckmorton, Fisher, Knox, Baylor, Clay, Hardeman, Wichita, Crosby, Cottle, Wilbarger, Archer, Childress, Callahan, Stephens, Motley, Mitchell, Kimble, Stonewall, Jones, Brewster, Briscoe, Taylor, Shackelford, El Paso, Hudspeth, Culberson, Reeves, Pecos, Jeff Davis, Presidio, Terrell, Val Verde and Crockett.

Wichita in List

J. F. Friberg was named to head the Wichita county committee which included Robert P. Hall, Electra, E. H. Lilly, Burkburnett, G. C. McGown, county agent, and Will George, Iowa Park. In presenting its application for aid the committee pointed out that the irrigated valley in Wichita county is "perhaps in a unique position, not needing or desiring financial aid," but added that a careful survey that indicated that a financial necessity exists even in that section and throughout the greater portion of the remainder of the county. A copy of the petition as signed by the committee follows:

"We, the undersigned county committee of the county of Wichita, Wichita Falls, Texas, respectfully petition your honorable body to place the name of Wichita county on the list of those counties in Texas desiring drouth relief through whatever channels this committee may see fit.

"We recognize the fact that the irrigated valley in Wichita county is perhaps in an unique position not needing or desiring financial aid. However, after a careful survey of the conditions it may develop that a financial necessity exists in this section also. We do know and feel that there are large sections, in fact the greater portion of the remainder of Wichita county, that does need help and relief at this time.

"In conclusion we again desire to request help and aid through the drouth relief committee for Wichita county, Texas, the same to be dispensed by and through the duly authorized committee.

J. F. FRIBERG, Wichita Falls.
ROBERT P. HALL, Electra.
E. H. LILLY, Burkburnett.
G. C. M'GOWN, Wichita Falls.
WILL GEORGE, Iowa Park."

The resolutions were adopted and committees appointed after a group of 70 leading Texans, including bankers, newspapermen, farmers and business men had listened to a somber description of successive crop failures bringing privation and suffering in their wake. Many counties are facing their third failure, speakers asserted, declaring that credit is exhausted, all mortgageable resources sold and starvation and suffering looms immediately ahead. The eight resolutions were prefaced by a detailed and vivid description of the hardships already endured and still facing the farmers of drouth stricken counties.

O. B. Martin, director of extension for A. & M. college, presided at the meeting Friday when the 40 committee members and 30 unofficial delegates gathered at the Wichita club. The morning and early afternoon sessions were given over to a study of the individual needs of the counties and to tentative proposals for relief.

Split on Tax Returns

The question of state tax remission brought a severance of views and representatives of Dawson and Hall counties requested that their names be withdrawn from the list asking aid, asserting that their counties did not want to be known as unable to pay taxes. The resolution in its original form was amended to read that the remission was asked only where it was most urgently needed and sought by the farmers of the area.

Resolutions of Drouth Committee Tell Story of Distress in Wide Texas Area

To His Excellency Herbert Hoover, President of the United States,

To the Honorable Arthur M. Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture,

Washington, D. C.

The committee on drouth relief of the state of Texas, appointed by his excellency Dan Moody, governor of the state of Texas, pursuant to request of the president of the United States, have convened in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, on this the 29th day of August, 1930, for the purpose of carefully studying the conditions of various counties throughout the state of Texas, suffering from drouth conditions, a list of such counties having been heretofore certified to the secretary of agriculture of the United States, and to ascertain and determine the immediate and ultimate needs of those engaged in agricultural pursuits in such counties.

A full report has been heard from practically every county suffering from such drouth conditions and as preliminary to the resolutions which we offer, we beg herewith, at least in a small measure, to recount and acquaint you with actual conditions as they exist in such counties.

Three-Year Drouth

For the past three years these counties have suffered from severe drouth. No crops have been raised by farmers of these counties. These people have entirely expended all resources of which they were possessed. All available funds have been used by them in the purchase of the bare necessities of life. To sustain themselves they have been compelled to sell off and dispose of all available property on their farms. Their hogs and chickens have been sold. All available livestock have been mortgaged for all the property is worth. The farms where owned by these farmers are mortgaged. The interest and taxes are due and unpaid. Foreclosures are threatened. Every available resource has been expended to sustain life itself, and these people are impoverished to such an extent that their condition is deplorable.

These people are not mendicants, but are the bone and sinew of the country. They are of the highest type of citizenship. They are hardy, resolute and determined. They have withstood the hardships of the last three years with a spirit undaunted. Their backs are to the wall. They survived two years of dreadful drouth without a murmur, hoping and expecting that the next year would be a fruitful one, and that thereby they might be relieved. For two years the banks, loyal to the interests of their counties, have loaned these people to the limit, and have carried them as far as such banks can do so. They now have no collateral to put up to the banks. The banks under the law cannot further make loans to them. These people—men, women and children, are in need of immediate relief. They need food, clothing, money and many of them medicines, and their condition is so serious that immediate relief in the bare necessities of life must be had.

Aid Badly Needed

They should be aided to remain in their homes, and they need aid to secure seeds for their farms and other necessities to carry them through another season. They need relief at this time from the interest on their farm loans and an extension of time in which to pay their taxes. They need loans to relieve them from their necessities and without collateral, or on such collateral as they may have to give. In this connection it is pointed out that in 1918 some of these counties were in a similar condition and aid was extended to them, practically without any collateral, and to their credit, be it said, practically every county repaid every dollar that was extended to them. These people are in imminent need—not a month or ten days from now—but at this very moment, and unless aid is extended to them immediately, great suffering will ensue, their health will be threatened, and all of the consequent evils resultant upon a destitute condition of men, their wives and children, being without work, without money, property and without food will ensue.

In other sections of the country relief has been extended where drouth for only one year existed. In this section three years' drouth have ensued. No aid has been requested until after three years of drouth has sapped every available resource of these people.

This condition is not a picture, but a reality.

Resolutions

ONE—That the president of the United States be urged to call together in session extraordinary the congress of the United States for the purpose of providing an appropriation of fifteen million dollars to be made available to the drouth stricken farmers of Texas for the financing of their 1931 crops, said loans to be made on the security of a portion of the crops or other available security of the borrower, and payable one, two and three years from date. This action is immediately imperative in view of the fact that the farmers in the affected areas are no longer bankable risks due to three successive failures, and the banks cannot jeopardize their depositors' funds by further extension of credit.

TWO—That some means be provided for the extension of matured and maturing amortization payments on farm loans made through government agencies.

THREE—We commend Judge Ealy and the other members of the Texas highway commission for their efforts in making possible the employment of local labor on the state and federal highways of Texas.

FOUR—It is the sense of this body that the conditions in the drouth areas of Texas warrant the same consideration in reduced freight rates as shown to the other sections of the United States. Therefore, we request that the full reduction of 50 per cent of the regular freight rates on feed into and livestock out of the drouth area be granted. We further request that the same rates apply on the livestock returned as applied on that shipped out. We also recommend that the rates be made to apply to all feed yards and other destinations where the movement is necessary in order for the livestock to be moved to feed. We further recommend that the period during which the reduced rates apply be extended from time to time until the emergency has passed and the drouth situation is relieved. We further recommend that the emergency rates be made to apply to fuel and other commodities necessary to relieve the situation brought about by the drouth. In order to assist the purchaser of small quantities of feed, fuel and provisions, we recommend that the reduced rates be extended to include approved dealers in these commodities.

FIVE—That we request the governor of Texas to wire the president of the republic of Mexico, and the secretarie de la relaciones exteriores, Mexico, D. F., asking the continuance of the Mexican consulate, Laure Izzaguierie, located at Sweetwater, Texas, as this office is serving the Mexicans of 84 West Texas counties, and it is very essential in helping with the drouth relief work with the Mexican families in this area.

Red Cross Supervision

SIX—That we request the American Red Cross to assume charge of distributing foods or money in the area of the drouth, and that the director for the southwestern division be requested to make a personal investigation of the needs of the afected area, and to set aside such amounts of money to the individual community as he deems necessary, such relief to be immediate to assist the peoples of this area to such time as governmental aid of a permanent nature can be secured.

SEVEN—Whereas, in years gone by the Texas legislature has remitted all or a part of the state taxes on certain counties in Texas, 14 in all, because of catastrophes of nature, such as floods or storms, and in some instances such tax remission has been for a period of 40 years, and in a majority of cases for 25 years. And whereas, the present drouth condition is fully as serious a catastrophe of nature as other catastrophes which have occurred in the past on account of which tax remission has been granted; now, therefore, BE IT RESOLVED, that the next legislature be requested to extend tax remission for at least one year, to the most vitally affected counties in order that these particular counties may benefit at least in some small extent from the relief asked for. For said tax money would remain in circulation in said counties instead of being withdrawn from them to far distant points.

EIGHT—That a committee composed of Governor Dan Moody, W. H. Fuqua, Amarillo, Texas, and D. A. Bandeen, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce be appointed to arrange with President Hoover and various governmental department heads for an immediate conference for the purpose of presenting the true conditions existing in Texas as outlined above for the purpose of securing at once federal aid and money to be loaned to the people of Texas at the lowest possible rate and with the most lenient collateral possible and that this committee be urged to secure co-operation of Texas senators, congressmen and other necessary agencies in securing the quickest and most efficient results.

Shriners Enjoy Party At Lakeside Resort

Free rides on all the amusement features at Lakeside park was the outstanding feature of the evening when approximately 400 Wichita Falls Shriners and their families were entertained Friday night.

Every Shriner was admitted to the dance floor free of charge, and almost the entire crowd spent the evening dancing.

Over 1,000 persons were entertained at the party, according to Ed Peterson, chairman of the entertainment committee.

Boy of 16 to Face Charge of Robbery

A 16-year-old Wichita Falls boy was named in a complaint charging hijacking which was prepared by Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney, Friday afternoon for filing in district court Saturday morning, in connection with the charge that the youth held up a 10-year-old miniature golf course caddy and robbed him of 15 cents here last week, according to information given by James A. McDonald, county juvenile officer.

MAN DROWNS IN TANK HERE

brought no sign of life in the drowned man. The resuscitation team from the Texas Electric Service company, which had been called to the scene, then took Click's body and worked for two hours and 10 minutes in an effort to revive him by the prone pressure method. The body had been in the water about an hour, however, and all efforts failed.

The body was taken in charge by the Albert's Funeral home. The parents of the drowned man, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Click, who live on the farm near Thornberry where the young man made his home, came to Wichita Falls Friday evening, but no funeral arrangements were made. The body will be held here until definite arrangements are made Saturday morning.

Besides the parents, Click is survived by two brothers, Raymond and Richard Click, both of whom live at the family home; and six sisters, Mrs. Sam Burnett of Elmo, Texas, who is expected to arrive here Saturday, and Misses Vera, Audrey, Helen, Oleta and Dorothy Belle Click, all of whom live with the parents.

ALBERT AILEN

Albert Allen, 52, of Savoy, Texas, died in a local hospital about 5:30 o'clock Friday afternoon following an illness which brought him from his home to this city for treatment. The body was taken in charge by the Hines mortuary and forwarded at 11 o'clock Friday night to Savoy, where funeral services and interment will probably be held Saturday. Mr. Allen is survived by his widow.

RECIPES

Smothered Sausages

One cupful sausage meat.
One cupful diced celery.
One egg.
Two tablespoonfuls tomato or white sauce.
One quart highly seasoned mashed potato.

Saute the sausage meat until tender and to it add the celery, cooked until tender. Mix and moisten with the tomato or white sauce. Add one-half of a beaten egg to the mashed potato. Form into a thick roll with the sausage mixture in the center, lay in a greased baking pan and brush with the rest of the beaten egg. Bake about 20 minutes at 400 degrees F. or until the potato is golden brown in color. Remove to a hot serving dish, surround with white sauce or tomato sauce, garnish, and serve. For individual servings, line an ice cream scoop with mashed potato, fill the center with sausage mixture and spread a layer of mashed potato on top. Invert on a greased baking pan and bake and serve as directed above. Serves six.

Sauerkraut Tomato Cocktail

Sauerkraut juice is a wonderful appetizer, mildly laxative, but, unfortunately, it is not appealing in flavor to all. The flavor may be improved greatly by mixing equal parts of sauerkraut and tomato juice, or one part sauerkraut to two of tomato: or it may be improved by adding a few drops of tobasco sauce or horseradish sauce. This may be tried different ways, measuring carefully, until the exact proportions are discovered which please the family. In any case, it tastes much better when thoroughly chilled. It will remain cold if placed in a bowl of cracked ice. A bit of parsley may be placed on the ice. Mixed tomato and sauerkraut juice is excellent for baby, being mildly laxative, and anti-scorbutic. The other seasonings are not used for children.

Halibut Aurore

Two pounds cut halibut.
One tablespoonful flour.
One tablespoonful butter or oil.
One cupful milk.
One tablespoonful minced parsley.
Juice one lemon.
One-fourth cupful water.
One tablespoonful mushroom catsup.
One tablespoonful tarragon vinegar.
One tablespoonful capers.
Two teaspoonfuls salt.
One teaspoonful vinegar.

Place fish in baking dish with the water, the vinegar, and salt, and bake at 425 degrees F. for 30 minutes or until tender but not broken. Remove to a large dish and allow to cool. In one saucepan make a sauce of the fat, milk, flour and parsley. Meanwhile, in another, heat the mushroom catsup, tarragon vinegar, lemon juice and capers. When the white sauce has cooled a little blend the two, beating well and pour over the fish. Serve very cold, garnished with cut lemons and sprigs of parsley. This may be served hot if desired in that manner. Serves six.

Cauliflower Duchesse

One medium cauliflower.
Two tablespoonfuls butter.
Three tablespoonfuls vinegar.
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
Two tablespoonfuls chopped green pepper.
Two tablespoonfuls chopped pimiento.

Cook the cauliflower until tender, drain and leave whole or separate into flowerets as preferred. Pour over a sauce made by melting the butter and adding to it the vinegar, salt and chopped green pepper and pimiento. Serves six.

Molded Beet Salad

Two cupfuls tiny beets.
Two tablespoonfuls vinegar.
Two-thirds cupful hot water.
One teaspoonful salt.
One teaspoonful sugar.
Two tablespoonfuls grated horseradish.
One and one-half tablespoonfuls gelatin.
One-fourth cupful cold water.
Three-fourths cupful mayonnaise.
One head lettuce.

Scrub the beets thoroughly and boil until tender; rub off the skin. Pour over them the vinegar, salt, sugar, horseradish and hot water. Place over the heat and bring to the boiling point. Then add the gelatin which has been softened in the cold water, and stir until dissolved. Pour into a shallow pan which has been previously wet with cold water. Set away to chill, cut in cubes, and serve on lettuce or cress with mayonnaise. This recipe will serve at least eight. Large beets may be used and cut into cubes about an inch in diameter after cooking.

Orange and Pineapple Ice Cream

To one quart (four cups) of orange juice, add four cupfuls of thin cream, one cupful of crushed pineapple (canned), and one and one-half cupfuls of sugar; freeze. (Do not try to use fresh pineapple; when added to cream before cooking a bitter flavor is the result). Garnish the ice cream with a little orange marmalade when serving.

Chicken Mousse

One cupful white meat of chicken, cooked and ground very fine.
One cupful chicken broth.
Three egg yolks.
One tablespoonful gelatin.
One-fourth teaspoonful salt.
Few grains paprika.
One-half pint double cream.

Beat the yolks of the eggs and stir lightly into the broth, add seasoning and cook in a double-boiler like a custard. Just before removing from the fire, add the gelatin, which has been allowed to soften in a little cold chicken broth. Pour this custard over the chicken meat and stir over ice water till it begins to set, then fold in the whipped cream; turn the mixture into a mold, let stiffen, and serve garnished with parsley. Serves six.

Savory Sandwiches

One-half cupful almonds.
One tablespoonful cooking oil.
Two tablespoonfuls chopped pickles.
Salt.
Paprika.
One tablespoonful chopped chutney.
One large cream cheese or an equal amount of cottage cheese.

Blanch the almonds and brown in oil in a frying pan being careful not to burn them. Chop fine. Season well with salt and paprika, and add pickles and chutney. Spread either bread or crackers with softened cream cheese and sprinkle with the almond mixture. This is sufficient filling to make up one small loaf of bread in sandwiches if the slices are cut thin.

Waffles

The waffle has been introduced into society. It has not been officially announced who sponsored her appearance but she has been seen at every meal from breakfast to the after-theater party. Her popularity is due to the fact that she may be served either as a main course or as a dessert.

The home-made waffle coaxes many who are hard to please. For the fruit growers, meat, fish and vegetable producers, spice growers, honey distributors, sugar refiners, maple syrup and sugar producers, to say nothing of the dairymen and ice cream manufacturers have all joined forces in creating waffles in new dress. A waffle suitable to the occasion, the hour of the day, and the taste of those to be pleased.

For breakfast she may wear brown gravy, maple syrup, honey, fruit syrup or jelly, plain sugar syrup, marmalade or jam. But for the other meals she is apt to bedeck herself in anything from vegetable sauces to ice cream.

Waffles are easy to make and easier to serve when baked electrically at the table.

The first essential for good waffles is an iron which has been properly treated and cured for. Electric waffle irons should not be washed. They should be wiped off with either a damp or dry cloth. Preheat the iron for 10 minutes and grease the waffle iron slightly or go over the grids with a brush dipped in cold water before pouring the first waffle batter. It is more convenient to pour the batter on the waffle iron from a pitcher than to dip it by spoonfuls.

The time for baking the waffle is about three minutes. About one minute should be allowed for heating between waffles.

Sticking is usually due to the fact that the waffle iron has not been preheated sufficiently or has been overheated. If a waffle sticks carefully remove every particle or crumb clinging to iron before continuing or the disaster will repeat itself. A small stiff wire brush is excellent for brushing off the crumbs.

A cast-iron waffle iron should be well seasoned before using at all. It should be washed well and scoured with steel wool and a soap or scouring powder. It should then be boiled for a half hour in a washing soda solution and then scoured again. Then wash and dry the iron well and cover the surface with an unsalted fat. It should then be heated until quite hot and the fat wiped off with crumpled paper. The time for preheating this type of iron must be learned by experience but it generally takes about five minutes on a giant gas burner. Grease the iron slightly with any unsalted fat, pour in the batter, turn the iron when the bottom side starts browning and cook to a golden brown.

The second essential for good waffles is a good recipe. The following recipe makes a crisp, tender, flaky, light waffle. Separate two eggs and beat the yolks well; add one and one-half cupfuls of milk. Sift together two cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonsfuls of baking powder and from one-half to one teaspoonful of salt. The amount of salt depends on whether the fat used in the waffles is salted or unsalted. Beat well and add six tablespoonfuls of melted shortening. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and bake at once. If it is necessary for the mixture to stand place in the refrigerator and add a little baking powder just before baking. Sour milk may be substituted for sweet milk, if two-thirds of a teaspoonful of baking soda and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder is used instead of the four teaspoonfuls of baking powder.

From this basic recipe it is possible to evolve many variations. The simplest is to use one cupful of either corn-meal or graham flour in place of one cupful of the flour. Or stir corn-meal into boiling water to make a mush, and use one cupful of this in place of one cupful of flour. Decrease the milk to one cupful because of the moisture in the mush. One cupful of cooked cereals may also be substituted for half the flour in the same way as the scalded meal. For rice waffles, substitute one cupful of cooked rice for one-half cupful of the flour and use only one cupful of milk. These are excellent ways of using left-over cereals. A crisp waffle can also be made with bread crumbs, replacing one cupful of the flour with one cupful of stale but not dry bread crumbs. Scald the milk and pour over the crumbs. When cool, proceed as with the other waffles.

Pineapple waffles are made by adding one-half cupful of drained, crushed pineapple to the standard waffle batter. Serve them with a pineapple sauce made by cooking together to a thick syrup one cupful of crushed pineapple and juice and one-half cupful of sugar.

The butter for waffles is more easily served if it is melted. Of course, maple syrup on waffles is hard to surpass, but every one likes a change. There are a number of sirups on the market that offer variety. Try honey on waffles. Cinnamon honey is also good. It is made by placing honey in a bowl and adding ground cinnamon to taste. It should be blended well. Jellies, jams and marmalades offer still other changes. Cake waffles may be made of a simple two-egg cake mixture and put together in layers with jelly or jam and the top sprinkled with powdered sugar.

A rich but pleasing dish is waffles with stiffly whipped cream sweetened with brown or maple sugar. Another unusual dessert is to top the waffle with vanilla ice-cream and pour over this a caramel or fruit sauce. Delicious shortcakes may be made with waffles and berries or other fruits.

A happy combination too seldom served is waffles and chicken. A waffle, or half a waffle, may be placed on one side of the plate and a serving of fried chicken and gravy on the other side. Small sausage fried crisp and brown, or frizzled dried beef are also excellent served with waffles. Creamed chicken or chicken a la king may be served either on the waffle or at the side of the waffle. Other dishes such as creamed sweetbreads and mushrooms, or creamed chipped beef may be served with waffles in the same way as waffles and creamed chicken.

There is nothing better with breakfast ham than crisp waffles topped with rich brown gravy. Make the brown gravy in the same pan in which the ham was grilled, adding two tablespoonfuls of flour for every tablespoonful of ham fat. Stir until smooth, then add one cupful of cold milk for every two tablespoonfuls of flour, and heat well stirring constantly. Serve with the crisp waffles.

For the luncheon dessert, waffles appear in new flavor when served with hot jelly sauce. Turn the contents of a glass of currant jelly into a bowl. Add one-half cupful of boiling water and mix thoroughly. Heat well, and just before serving add two teaspoonfuls of finely-minced, fresh orange peel.

Orange hard sauce makes a delightful topping for waffles. Cream one-third cupful of butter; add one cupful of confectioner's sugar gradually while beating constantly. Then add two teaspoonfuls of orange juice and one-fourth cupful of finely-chopped orange peel. Chill thoroughly before using.

For spiced hard sauce, omit the orange juice and peel and substitute one-fourth teaspoonful of nutmeg.

For maple hard sauce, substitute well crushed maple sugar for the confectioner's sugar, using no flavoring.

For crushed pineapple sauce, cream one-third cupful of butter; add one cupful of confectioner's sugar gradually while beating constantly. Then add one-fourth cupful of boiling water, and when light and well mixed, add one and one-half cupfuls of drained, shredded pineapple.

For jelly butter, add three tablespoonfuls of butter to one-third cupful of hot water. When smooth, add to one cupful of jelly. Stir well. Soft marmalade may be created in the same way, by substituting marmalade for jelly.

A spoonful of Libby's spicy little Sweet Mixed Pickles—a couple of slices of Libby's Veal Loaf—a mound of cole slaw. How's that for a quick, inviting meal?

Why your mouth should water

DID you know that health as well as enjoyment demands food which "makes your mouth water?" Because that starts a flow of gastric juices which makes digestion quicker and more thorough. Libby's Sweet Mixed Pickles are ideal for this purpose. Just to see those crunchy, tantalizing little onions, bits of cauliflower, and cucumbers starts your mouth watering.

Libby's Sweet Mixed Pickles are sold in bulk from covered glass bowls. Also in gallon sized cans and various sized bottles

PERU RETURNS TO NORMALCY

Business Recovers From Revolution

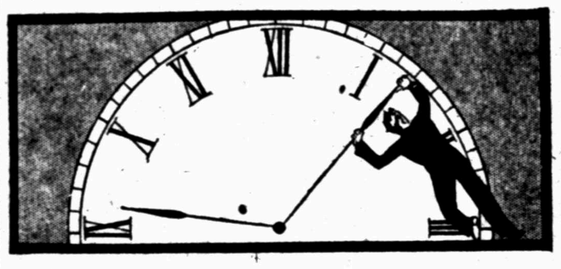

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 29. (AP)—Peru's new government turned toward efforts for restoration of normal business today and at the same time removed several Leguia adherents from the offices they held prior to last week's revolt.

Business men have poured into the government house since the new revolutionary administration was formed by Lieut. Col. Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, apparently conferring on the future outlook. Among them were the manager of the Italian Electric Light and Power company, which holds a monopoly on bus traffic, and the managing staff of the Bank of Peru and London. It was reported that at the latter conference serious efforts were made to adjust the financial phase of the situation.

At the same time the government attempted to build up diplomatic relations, the foreign office issuing a statement which expressed appreciation that foreign envoys had not recognized the previous Junta, formed by General Manuel Ponce, and said the new government wished to maintain heartiest relations with the foreign representatives.

Meanwhile, the cleaning out of Leguia appointees began, with Major Eduardo Castro Rojas appointed to succeed Colonel Salgado as chief of the presidential military household, and Erasmo Roca succeeding Enrique Zegarra as undersecretary of public works. Other adjustments were planned.

Regular army soldiers were placed on guard at government house, replacing a special machine gun battalion which had protected President Leguia.

THE HAND OF TIME

You can't push it back, but you can prolong your days by eating foods that keep the arteries soft and pliant, the muscles strong and vibrant and the mind clear and active. Shredded Wheat with milk supplies the elements that keep the body strong and supple—contains all the needed vitamins and mineral salts for insuring health and strength. It's ready-cooked, ready-to-serve. Delicious for any meal, with milk or fruits.

Torch Cuts Iron Hinge From Distance 25 Feet

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—A torch that can cut through an iron hinge from a distance of 25 feet was tested successfully today by the fire department. The torch, equipped with a straight tip burner on a slender iron pole, is designed to aid firemen in cutting through barred windows out of reach of fire escapes and landings and will become part of the regular equipment of the city's fire department rescue trucks.

In the test today the torch cut through the hinge, three and a half inches wide, in two minutes. It was designed by a member of the department.

Dispenser of Jamaica Ginger Held in Kansas

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—Henry Mandell, alias Ralph Lewis, alias Charles Harris, was free under bail of $8,500 today pending action of two jamica ginger charges against him in federal court.

He was held in $5,000 bail for a hearing Sept. 17, on a removal order to Topeka, Kan., where he is involved in the ring alleged to have flooded Kansas with poisoned jamica ginger.

Hearing on the second charge, that of possessing liquor, was set Sept. 3 and bail at $3,500. Mandell, an official, was arrested when federal agents raided the Diana Pharmaceutical company in Brooklyn and found a quantity of illegal ginger extract.

Wine, Women and Song
Our Cycle Civilization
More "Dark Ages"
Mr. Hoover's Prosperity

By EMILE GAUVREAU

"Mix work with love and drink," advises Dr. Eugene Lyman Fiske, director of hygiene at the Life Extension institute, on the eve of a trip to Europe. "It helps to prolong life." The authority on longevity says that man has three normal outlets: Intoxication, love and labor. Neglecting any one of these shortens his term of usefulness and makes him old at 37.

Dr. Fiske is giving us a modern version of the "wine, women and song" toast of the 90's. But there is a difference. Today we'd rather work than sing, we have to be lawbreakers to get our wine, and millionaires manage to monopolize the women.

Eight centuries before Christ the Mayan Indians of Central America kept records of eclipses of the sun and moon, comparable for accuracy to modern science. So reports Dr. Herbert S. Spinden, curator of ethnology at the Brooklyn museum. He says his discovery will help to decipher Mayan hierogiyphics.

From this you may gather that civilization is a matter of cycles. You will find this to be so from the relics of a dozen dead dynasties. We do not advance in a continuous straight line. Our so-called culture is not superior to the kind the inhabitants of the globe enjoyed in the time of Pericles. It would appear that we are simply in another cycle or arc of civilization.

When we have reached the apex we will shoot down as surely as Rome and Greece declined. There will be a "dark age" to follow our own, just as there was a medieval period between the early Christian era and the Renaissance. Man himself epitomizes this rise and fall in his own brief cycle of life. Enlightenment is but a moment in an eternity of darkness and groping by little ants who think they are important.

Income taxes, instead of the one per cent reduction voted by the last congress, will be higher than ever, according to treasury officials, who are up against a 50 per cent slump in revenue under the Grundy tariff measure. The treasury surplus of $184,000,000 is in a fair way of being wiped out.

President Hoover, when signing the tariff act on June 15, said that one of his impelling reasons for doing so was to remove business uncertainty. A Republican leader, Senator Watson, moved by the same optimism, predicted prosperity two months after the president signed. Both the purpose and the prediction have been given the lie by facts. Hoover will have to answer for these facts when he comes up for re-election in 1932.

Heroism of the "Alias Valentine" type will be more and more frequent as unemployment continues. Some girls have taken to holdups, the most recent being Miss Irma Vallee, weighing 55 pounds, who robbed two delivery boys at the point of a toy gun in her temporary quarters in a hotel. At the police station her heroism resolved into tears. She told a heart-breaking story of starvation and forced idleness.

Sociologists will find other Irma Vallees in hotel rooms plotting similar deeds. Starvation will drive them to the streets or to crime. These girls will not accept charity. It is up to society, which condemns them when the mischief is done, to help them when help is possible. An active free employment bureau for young girls and an intelligent aid society would help.

"I don't see no excuse fer the "25 years ago" columns 'cept to remind lots o' folks that they hain't got anywhere. After all a fine, expensive education is like a dress suit. We don't git to use it often enough fer all we've got tied up in it.

It is reported that baked apples recently fell off trees in two states. But tree sitters deserve stronger names than that.

Once there was a newspaper paragrapher who read about Einstein's theory of space and never once thought about making a crack about our parking problem.

A Miami judge has ruled that liquor may be manufactured within the home. Probably in the hope it would make some families keep still.

They'll Cut Both Ways

NATIONAL air shows like the one held at Chicago, provide material for both the optimist and the pessimist.

They lift up the optimist by demonstrating how mankind has conquered the air and by indicating a new method of escape, a new form of recreation more thrilling and uplifting than anything ever developed before.

At the same time they put another crease in the pessimist's brow by reminding him that these marvelous machines are, after all, largely designed for purposes of destruction. Those army planes that swoop along in such inspiring style—given the proper conditions they could be apparitions more dreadful than the pale horseman that St. John saw from Patmos.

So it is that an air show of this kind gives you mixed emotions. You can see in it the incarnation of a race set free, or you can see in it a glittering new weapon with which humanity one day will blow its brains out. You're right, either way. The airplane, like most of the rest of our inventions, can cut both ways.

Indeed, it often seems as if that knack of inventing two-edged tools is the outstanding characteristic of the present age.

We devise marvelous machines, only to find out that we have, thereby, given ourselves enormous responsibilities. These intricate devices of ours may yet make it possible for us to lift ourselves by our own bootstraps; similarly, they may bring us to the point where we shall proceed to exterminate ourselves, calling back the Dark Ages for all the earth with all the unsuspecting innocence of an infant playing with a fulminate of mercury torpedo.

All of which, perhaps, is just a sign that we are a little bit more clever than is altogether good for us. One side of mankind's brain has developed amazingly. People can fly through the air, send their voices around the world and enlist mechanical slaves to do their drudgery; but one is permitted to wonder just how much good this is all going to do us if we do not have the intelligence to use these new devices properly.

At any rate, the combination of things ought to make the current era exciting. For better or for worse, we are going somewhere at a rapid clip. It may be that we are headed for an order of society, a way of life, more magnificent, free and inspiring than anything that was ever dreamed of before; on the other hand, we may be about to engage in self-destruction on a stupendous scale.

That is the cross-roads to which this age of inventions is bringing us. We are traveling fast. It depends on our collective common sense whether we shall go up or down.

Safer, in Spite of "Stunts"

BECAUSE of the stunt flying that is part of the routine for army and navy flyers, the common supposition is that these aviators run much greater risks than commercial flyers. However, figures recently made public by the Travelers Insurance company show that just the reverse is true. The army and navy flyers enjoy a lower death rate from accidents than do the commercial transport pilots.

The death rate last year among pilots holding department of commerce transport license and having at least 400 hours in the air was 29 per thousand. On the other hand, the death rate of commissioned pilots in the army last year was only eight per thousand, and in the navy was just 10 per thousand.

What the reason might be is not quite clear. Certainly the average transport pilot knows his job as well as anyone could ask. Perhaps the strict regulations and discipline under which service pilots operate tend to make their jobs a little more safe.

Talking Back to a Cop

A NEW YORKER named Maj. Charles P. Shinn has just done something that ought to endear him to motorists all over the country. He talked back to a traffic cop—and got away with it.

Major Shinn, returning to his native city after a month's vacation, unwittingly drove down a street from which traffic had been barred. A policeman stopped him. Major Shinn protested that he did not know the street was restricted, and asserted that there were no detour signs at its entrance. The cop thereupon remarked:

"Go on. You knew that sign was there. You've been driving this way every day for a month."

Major Shinn promptly called the cop a liar, and landed in court as a result. The heartening part is that the judge promptly exonerated him.

This won't have much effect on the ordinary abusive traffic cop. Still, it is a comfort to know that one of these loud-mouthed autocrats can be pulled up on a short check-rein once in a while, anyhow.

Real Profits Ahead

ALTHOUGH the commercial air transport companies are still, for the most part, operating "in the red," that is no sign that they will not ultimately make a great deal of money.

An article by Earl Reeves in the current issue of World's Work points out that any new form of transportation has to operate at a loss at the beginning. The railroads in this country, he says, started in 1828, but they were a full quarter of a century old before they were making profits.

Aviation probably will not have to wait that long. Last year the commercial transport lines carried 150,000 passengers on regular schedules. Some lines already are making money; and as new economies come into use there is little doubt that the aerial passenger plane will prove a real money-maker.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

That maps and time tables to the contrary, there is no city of Washington, D. C. It was legislated out of the picture.

That Romeo loved a Rosaline before he died for a Juliet!

That the Italian Ambassador's Mrs. is the only woman in any diplomatic service who receives a salary for whopee purposes.

That after a girl is married her neck swells a little.

That Ruth Etting avers a recent tornado in Nebraska swept the feathers from a hen in her backyard until it was naked.

That for any other insect bite the best bet is to apply the paste that comes from mixing salt with soda.

That the Atlantic City life guards will tell you not to smear olive oil on yourself before getting sunburned because the oil helps you to fry, you chumps! Use vinegar with the whites of eggs.

That it is a Chinese law that no piece of paper with writing on it should ever be destroyed.

That Poe was sealed when he was 26 to Virginia Clemm, 13.

That in the theatrical audiences of Shakespeare's time the femmes wore masks, so that there seemed less impropriety in their listening to the coarse passages of the drayma.

That the figure on top of the Capitol dome (in Washington) only looks like an Indian. It is Miss Freedom in Grecian robe restraint.

That George Washington's tomb in the Capitol crypt is still vacant. (Say! This column ought to go big in Washington!)

That the substitute U. S. Mail lads carrying Special Delivery mail rate no salary. They get nine cents for every "Special" they deliver and if they deliver one letter that day they get nine centimes!

That Anagrams were popular in 1903, Mr. Woollcott!

That during the madness of George III, "King Lear" was not played on the English stage. Oh, you knew that? I see.

That Goethe's "Wilhelm Meister" was once burned as an immoral tome. Tome, meaning book; Book meaning something to read!

That Richardson's "Pamela," printed by Franklin in 1744, was the first novel printed in America.

That "Annie Rooney" and "Down Went McGinty" are both said to be pirated, thefted, stolen (or column'd) from Bach.

That Jenny Lind's kids were not particularly musical.

That Mrs. Stowe received only $800 for the serial rights to "Uncle Tom's Cabin" and nothing for the stage rights.

That women were first seen as actors in 1661.

That Florida autos have the license only on the rear.

That, beg pardon, it was Mrs. Alexander Hamilton who introduced ice cream to theseegood old United States (get that George Cohan touch!)

That "women and children first" doesn't mean anything in the life of our President. He precedes the First Lady on all occasions. Mrs. Harding, frixample, was politely barred from the White House elevator the first time she tried to enter it ahead of Gamaliel.

That there is supposed to be a statue or bust of Chauncey Depew somewhere in or on the Grand Central station—but where.

That cowboys wear those huge sized 'kerchiefs 'round their necks for no other reason but to wipe off their persp.

That olive oil will prevent brass articles from becoming tarnished. (Aw, let the brass cleaners get sore!)

That of the 4,300 species of flowers cultivated in Yurrup only 420 of them possess an agreeable perfume.

That finely powdered pumice stone mixed with vinegar will cleanse your Tombstones. (Oooh, skeletons and ghosts—BOOO!)!

That no matter how many stars you see in the sky tonight or any other night it will rain if it feels like it.

And that the worst 10 years of a woman's life are those between 29 —and 30.

Add Mouthfuls!

"I wish," wishes the incessantly amusing Izzy Ellinson, "that all those endurance sitters would go sit on a tack!"

Hoover to Discuss Building Program

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (UP)—President Hoover will discuss the government's incomplete $568,000,000 public building program with officials in charge at his mountain camp over the week-end, with the purpose of speeding it up, if possible, in order to aid unemployment.

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Perry Heath and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General J. W. Philp, in charge of the building program, have been invited to accompany the president to acquaint him with the progress being made.

"STEP-CHILD"

BY ROB EDEN

STEP CHILD

After months of searching, Kay Smith finally recalls her past at the sight of Larry Nettleton, her husband, from whom she had fled on her wedding night. Larry insists that she return with him to New Orleans at once. Kay, who had been about to marry Dane Talbot, whom she really loves, shudders at the thought.

Would it be better to go with Larry—leave Dane here?

CHAPTER XLIV

Larry Nettleton's arms were around her, his lips were nearing hers, when Kay pushed him away. The last thing in the world she wanted—to be alone with him. She was afraid of what she should say.

"Why, what's the matter, Karen?"

"Larry, we might as well have this out now as any other time," she began, then stopped. How could she tell him? What would he say? She didn't like the stubborn frown on his forehead, the look in his eyes, the tight way his lips closed at her words.

"Have what out?"

"I never should have married you, Larry."

"Don't be a little fool Karen," he said impatiently, and waved the idea away as if it were too ridiculous for him to bother about.

"But I mean it."

"Of course you don't."

"I don't love you—"

Doctor Raleigh out there explaining to Dane . . . If she could only be there, too, to make it easier . . .

Larry's eyebrows lifted inquiringly. "I love you, Karen. You'll learn to love me. I don't care if you don't love me now, because I know you'll love me later—when you know me better."

Kay shook her head.

"I knew." Larry went on, "the first time I saw you that I loved you. And I wanted you. I spoke to your father about our marriage long before he told you of it. You were so young I didn't want to frighten you. Your father agreed He was worried about you—I think he was contemplating death then. But he did not want to leave you alone and unprotected. I say that the first time I saw you I loved you. When I go after a thing I usually get it, Karen."

Yes, Kay thought. He probably did.

Something like Julie in Larry. They were much alike. Not in looks but in disposition. Julie wanted Dane, and Larry wanted her . . .

"Now you're to get the foolish idea you don't love me out of your mind. Right away. You're to try to love me." He spoke as if he were giving definite orders. As if she were a child to be told to do this and that. "After a while you will. I know you will. We'll go back to New Orleans—"

"I don't want to go back—"

"There you are again being perverse. We have to go back for a time. My business there needs me. When I've finished with it we can go any place you want. Travel."

"Larry. You don't understand. I've told you I don't love you, and I don't want to go back with you. I mean it. I'll never learn to love you. I know myself well enough to know that." She was amazed at her courage. For she did not dream she could ever talk this way to Larry.

Larry smiled fatuously. Still as if she were a child and did not quite know what she wanted. His tremendous egotism refused to let him believe that what she had said was true.

"I don't know why I married you. I didn't want to. I suppose it was father's death that made me, and the promise he made me give. Then, I was feeling queerly. I don't understand why. I just went on in the path of least resistance. I don't think father would have demanded the promise if he had known how unhappy it made me feel. I couldn't really disobey him when he came in to ask me. He acted—so unlike himself. I was frightened. So I promised. I'm sorry now about everything . . ."

"Well when we get back to New Orleans, you'll feel differently about it," Larry assured her.

"I won't! Larry, listen! What would you say if I told you I loved someone else?"

"But you don't. You didn't know any men in New Orleans—"

"I didn't there, Larry. But I've met a man here—I love—"

"You were married, Karen. You had no right—"

"I didn't know, Larry. Didn't Doctor Raleigh explain?"

"Of course, but you should have known. You can't love anyone here, Karen. You know you don't."

No use telling him any more. He wouldn't believe it. He was so sure of her. So sure she would love him some day.

"Could you be ready to leave this evening for home?"

Kay thought she hadn't heard right, so she asked him to repeat what he had said. This evening? She longed for Doctor Raleigh to come back and explain to Larry that she couldn't go. Any excuse, her health . . .

But the doctor was with Dane. Telling him.

Would it be better at that to go with Larry? Leave Dane here? All her life with Larry, loving Dane. All Dane's life with Julie, loving her . . .

The orchids on her desk that Dane had sent. Wilting now.

"I don't know," she murmured, not knowing what to say.

"I'll make the arrangements then for tonight? We can go back by plane." Larry was saying calmly.

"No! Not tonight—"

"When, then?"

It was too much for her to decide. There was Dane's life. Her life. Their futures . . .

"Please go, now, and let me alone." She felt very tired.

"Go!" Larry was surprised.

The door opened and the physician came in very quietly. "I didn't mean to leave you," he explained to Kay. She looked at him anxiously, wanting to know what Dane had said, had done. He must have gone, for the doctor came in alone. She could read nothing from his face, though. It was inscrutable.

"I think you'd better go now, Mr. Nettleton. I want to talk with Kay. I can't get used to calling her Karen." A ghost of a smile passed over his face.

"You want me to leave Karen with you?"

"I do. I'll ring your hotel when I've finished with her."

"I'll wait—"

"No. I'd rather you'd go."

Reluctantly Larry got up, and Doctor Raleigh dismissed him, not through the door into the reception room, but through a private passage that led directly to the street.

A great weight seemed to fall from Kay's shoulders when she finally saw the door close after him. He hadn't understood why he had to go, and his face plainly showed his feelings. Karen was his wife. There was no reason why he couldn't stay with her. Karen didn't

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J HASKIN

This is a special department devoted to the handling of inquiries. You have at your disposal an extensive organization in Washington to serve you in any capacity that relates to information. Write your question, your name, and your address clearly, and enclose two cents in coin or stamps for reply. Send to the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Are women's voices ever heard in the Amos 'n' Andy programs?—B. G.

A.—Women's voices are never heard. The men talk to women on the telephone and receive letters from them, but their voices are not brought into the sketch.

Q.—Did George Washington's father live in England?—S. H. T.

A.—Washington's grandmother, Mildred Warner Washington, buried her husband, Lawrence, at Bridges Creek when he was 37 years of age. The widow emigrated to England with her three children, John, Augustine and Mildred, and there married George Gale, her second husband. Twelve years after her death, Gale came to America with his three step-children. Augustine, later to become Washington's father, thus returned to his native land.

Q.—Who wrote "Oh! What a tangled web we weave, when first we practice to deceive"?—J. B.

A.—It is from Scott's "Marmion," canto VI, stanza XVII.

Q.—What was the price which William Penn paid for Pennsylvania?—L. A. W.

A.—In speaking of this event John Hix says that the amount was $80,000 (16,000 pounds).

Q.—How are the gate receipts divided in the games played by the American league?—G. W. S.

A.—Organized baseball divides gates receipts on the following basis: Sixty per cent to the home team and 40 per cent to the visiting team.

Q.—What is the derivation of the word berserk?—A. N.

A.—Berserk is from Icelandic beserkr meaning bear shirt. In Norse tradition and folklore, a beserkr was one of a class of wild warriors or champions of the heathen, who dressed in bear skins.

Q.—How was Standard Time adopted?—C. L. C.

A.—Standard time seems to have been first suggested by Charles Dowd of Saratoga Springs in 1870. In 1879 the question was again raised by Sandford Fleming, chief engineer of the Canadian Pacific railway. It was brought to the attention of the leading governments of the world, and an international conference was called in 1882. It met in Washington on Oct. 1, 1884. The delegates of 26 countries were present, but did not unanimously agree. However, most of them favored the adoption of Greenwich, England, as the origin of longitudes. The French were the only representatives of an important nation that would not agree, and it was not until March 10, 1911, that France abandoned the meridian of Paris and adopted that of Greenwich as its prime meridian.

Q.—Please explain about lightning bugs.—E. F.

A.—Lightning bugs or fireflies belong to any species of two genera of beetles of the family Lampyridae. Photuris pennsylvanica is a common form in the eastern United States. Fireflies produce a bright soft intermittent light without sensible heat from an organ in the lower part of the abdomen. This organ appears to be a specialized part of the fat body and is supplied with nerves and abundant trachaea. The light is supposed, by some, to be caused by oxidization of a substance secreted by the cells.

Q.—What does microphyllous mean?—T. T.

Q.—Who was Lucasta?—C. H. E.

A.—Lucasta was the poetic name of Lucy Sacheverell, the ladylove of Sir Richard Lovelace, the English cavalier poet, and this name is also applied to his poems about her. It is a Latin name meaning chaste.

Q.—Can a soldier who served in the Spanish American war and who was disabled in the world war receive two pensions?—H. T. B.

A.—A pension may be drawn for service in only one war. A person entitled to a pension in two wars may select the pension which he desires to receive.

Q.—Is the statue on top of the dome of the Rhode Island state house symbolic?—H. C.

A.—It has no particular significance. It has been called the "Independence Man," and was placed at that location by the architect as a finial point.

The Record News Offers A Booklet on the School Child's Health

Children may not like to think of it, but vacation is almost over and school time is at hand. Parents must give thought to it and one of the first questions that confronts them is, "Is my child fit to attend school?" The answer to this question is one of the gravest of parental responsibilities. Clothes, shoes, books, bags and lunch boxes are the usual considerations, but the routine of going to school has a new and more important side to which parents have previously paid too little attention—the health of the child. Children should be prepared for school as carefully and completely as soldiers are got ready for war.

The booklet, The School Child's Health, prepared by the American School Hygiene association, with the cooperation of the American Red Cross, should be in the hands of every mother.

Use this coupon in ordering copy.

Wichitans Attend Wedding Of Former Residents Here

Announcement was made Friday of a wedding solemnized in Siloam Springs, Ark., Saturday, Aug. 23, that will be of much interest to friends of both parties in Wichita Falls. Miss Faye Rhine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Rhine, formerly of Wichita Falls, became the bride of Gail B. Powers, son of Mrs. Edna Powers of this city.

The marriage service was read by Rev. L. V. Purles, pastor of the First Christian church of Siloam Springs, in the presence of only the immediate relatives and a few close friends. The impressive ceremony was solemnized before an improvised altar of palms and pink and white gladioli and shasta daisies banked in beautiful masses.

Miss Patti Nentwig of Little Rock, Ark., played "At Dawning," as pre-nuptial music. The wedding march from Lohengrin was used as the processional and "To a Wild Rose," was played softly during the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of lido blue with accessories harmonizing and carried an arm bouquet of pastel shaded asters. Her sister, Mrs. T. P. Hornback of Rule, Texas, who was her only attendant, wore a handsome model of shaded brown and carried pink rosebuds. T. P. Hornback attended the bridegroom.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Powers left on a short wedding trip after which they will make their home in Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Powers attended school in Wichita Falls at high school and Junior college, later going to C. I. A. Mr. Powers also attended the local schools and college in New Mexico.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

We walked around our living room and found Whistler's mother hanging as if she were drunk upon the wall; Lenbach and child were rakishly askew and the old Maryland home of our ancestors was almost upside down. The ice card that is supposed to have been put carefully away after the iceman's visit, lay on the floor back of a big reading chair. Now that is the work of an efficient maid.

◆ ◆ ◆

It has made us remember the admonition of our mother, "If you want anything done well, do it yourself." We intend to be our own maid—that is until the members of our own family strike.

◆ ◆ ◆

The professor of anthropology at the University of Chicago had an article in the February American Mercury entitled "What Is the Family Still Good For?" He traces the changes in the family as an institution to four things; first, the multiplication of labor saving devices; second, the cramping of living quarters; third, the automobile and fourth, the growing economic independence of woman.

◆ ◆ ◆

Mr. Sabin, being the professor that he is, must know about man. But we cannot agree with him that labor saving devices are a thing to threaten the existence of home. The more labor saving devices one can pay for, the merrier the home life. Note we emphasize the "pay."

◆ ◆ ◆

Several times in our life, we have been forced to board; we knew then what it meant to have cramped living quarters. In fact, we were cramped in self-expression, in the food we liked and a general antagonism toward our manner of life really cramped our morals. We have never lived in small apartments, being of that old style of Americans who believe in the family; probably no apartment house owner would have wanted us with our progeny.

◆ ◆ ◆

The only thing that worries us personally about automobiles is that we do not have one. Mr. Sabin states that in the going and coming of a family, "the automobile is of course the most potent factor. It affords a ready means of escape from the visible home." It is necessary for us to escape from home once a day at least and just as necessary for us to return. Mr. Sabin missed the point where the automobile does damage—that is its use in the skylarking done at night and its too frequent use as a carrier of "spirits" of that kind that do break up some homes.

◆ ◆ ◆

We wonder if anthropologists in general consider a woman who works—in an office as well as at home—economically independent. We are willing to concede that there is now a higher percentage of women economically independent than at any period in the history of the world. But men have always been independent. Men have wedded clinging vines and sometimes looked out for them and sometimes quit them in disgust.

◆ ◆ ◆

It looks to us as if a marriage where two independent people planned the life before them would have twice the chance for success as that where the man is altogether the ruler of the home.

◆ ◆ ◆

Shoals unknown to the brides and grooms of the 90's lie in the stream before married couples of this era. Life changes with every generation and no present can be judged by the past. One may see the mistakes of the past and try to build for a better future, but when a person begins to state "when I was a boy" or "when I was a girl" as a preface to advice to 1930 progeny, they're apt to have a silent "blah" as comment. Anyway they're on the way to growing old, which is what no self-respecting man or woman wishes to do in this generation.

Fraternity Entertains At Annual Affair

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pitman were host and hostess Thursday evening when the national fraternity of Pi Delta Koppa entertained its members with the annual "Kid Party."

The guests reverted to childhood in dress, manners, actions, and nicknames. Among the games played were "Drop the Handkerchief," "Farmer in the Dell," "Pleased or Displeased," and many others. The prizes for the chewing gum game was won by Miss Kate Early Parker. The game "Clap in clap out" nearly broke up the party.

Prizes for the most attractive costumes were awarded to Miss Anna May Caldwell, and Howell Caldwell.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Glenn Howard, Howell Caldwell, Margaret Bryan and Bill Doty; Misses Blanche Howard, Kate Early Parker, Mildred Van Loh and Anna May Caldwell, and Messrs Glenn Howard, John Stine, George Counter Jr., Howell Caldwell, Joe Moss, Ted Patterson, Joe Pitman and Bill Doty with Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pitman.

Placid Husband Best Bet After All, She Writes

Dear Miss Dix—It amuses me and puzzles me beyond words when I read of husbands who complain that their wives have developed into bores, and that they are tired of wives who take no interest in their personal appearance; who never read the newspapers, never want to go out of an evening, and who are about as interesting as a rag doll. Do these men never consider the wife's side of the case? Take me for instance.

I am of a vivacious, company-loving nature. I am alone in my house all day, and when my good husband comes home to dinner I am full of chat and display all kinds of interest in current events, etc. But my dear placid man is more concerned in consuming his evening meal, and incidentally remarking the perfection of my cooking, and asking if the house has been warm enough and so forth. After dinner we retire to the living room, where husband proceeds to clamp earphones on his ears and listen to the radio. This, with a sprinkling of reading, an odd word or two and an occasional snooze behind his paper complete the end of a perfect day.

Yet I do not consider my husband a bore, and when I look about me and stop and think I decide that the quiet, placid husbands are the best bets after all. If well fed and given a comfy chair and allowed to smoke in the best room in the house, there is little danger of their philandering. The conversational husbands of the nervous, restless type who must be doing something every minute, keep their wives guessing—and I prefer to be sure of mine.

There are times, of course, when I would like my husband to open up and tell me what he has done at the office and whom he has seen, but he is not of a talkative nature, and in order to get information from him I must drag it out with such effort that it loses its flavor.

So I have given it up and just enjoy him as he is. I have enough sense of humor to see that our silent evenings at home are amusing in their own way and vision enough to realize that in the quiet, good-natured husband, who says it with deeds, not words, there is a faithfulness and loyalty on which a wife can rest her soul in peace. If only the wives of such noble and kind-hearted husbands could realize this fact there wouldn't be half so much unrest in this world. And if only the husbands who are running away from devoted wives whom they think dumbbells had sense enough to see that often the wife who isn't brilliant and doesn't shine in society, is a steady light by which he can steer through all the storm of adversity, why it would about end divorce, wouldn't it?

—DORIS.

Answer—I'll say it would, Doris, and furthermore I'll add that you are one of the wives whose price is above rubies. Lucky is the man who got you! For you appreciate as few wives do, that a man wants a home in which he can rest of an evening after his hard day's work is done.

Perhaps it is because going downtown to the great majority of women is a sort of a lark, a gay adventure to them, that they persist in assuming that it is the same sort of picnic to their husbands. They will not realize that in these days of strenuous competition a man must give everything that is in him, body and soul, to his work, and that when he comes home he is so mentally and physically exhausted that he simply wants to slump.

He doesn't feel equal to being entertaining, or agreeable, to dressing up and going out, to doing a single thing he doesn't have to do. And blessed is the woman among her sex who has the heart and brain to see this, and the mercy to a poor, tired, dumb animal to let him curl up on the hearth rug before the fire and snooze in peace.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—I am a single woman, 32 years of age, and have a niece of 18 who has a child born out of wedlock.

I am torn between knowing whether to take this baby and go to another city, saying that the child is mine and my husband is dead, or to pay for its care somewhere. My niece is not in a position to care for the little one and will go insane if I cannot do something for her. I do not know whether she will ever be able to care for the child. Should I devote my life to the care of both of them? I do not think I will ever marry, and I have only a fair way of earning my living myself. Please tell me what to do.—AT SEA.

ANSWER—In the first place give up the foolish idea of going off somewhere and changing your name and pretending you are a widow with a child. That kind of thing only works out in novels. In real life it is always a boomerang that destroys the idiot who thought she could put it across.

There is nowhere you can possibly go that some one won't bob up who has known you before. No unmarried woman can deceive people into thinking she is a widow, and the only result of your foolish sacrifice would be that you would find that you had lost your good name and were an ostracized woman in the community.

My earnest advice to you is to put the child where it will be well taken care of and pay for its keep, while you go on with your regular life, living honestly in the sight of the world. Make your niece go to work and learn some way of being self-supporting, and keep before her eyes all the time the fact that she is responsible for the baby, and that she must work hard so that she can take care of it herself. That is the only way you can save her. That is the only way you can build up her self-respect.

Mother love is the strongest instinct in a woman, and if there is any strength in her the knowledge that her baby is dependent on her will call it forth. If you assume this girl's sin and try to shield her from its punishment you will ruin her. And why should your life be sacrificed to her? It is not right and it would do no good.

Help her, but make her bear her own burden. The innocent should not suffer for the guilty. Don't do this foolish thing you are contemplating.—DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Miss Dix—I am a happy bride of two months. I had a good position before marriage and have continued to work since. My husband has to be at work at 7 o'clock, while I don't have to be on my job until 9. We live with my mother and she thinks that I should get up and get my husband his breakfast, but he thinks it is all right for me not to do so. What do you think?—MRS. B.

Answer—I think that any woman who has a husband with enough pep in him to get up and go to work at 7 o'clock should get up and get him a good hot breakfast and show him a shining morning face across the table, that is starting the day off right, and makes a man feel that he has got something worth while to work for.

Last impressions are very important things, and I often wonder at the stupidity of wives who let their husbands go from them in the morning with a picture in their minds that they will carry with them all day, of a frowsy woman in a boudoir cap and a soiled wrapper; or of a cross, peevish fretful face, or the rankling memory of a quarrel over the bacon and eggs, or an early morning grouch because of having to get up and cook themselves some sort of dyspepsia-breeding mess in a hurry that they call a breakfast.

If you want to keep your man get up and cook him a good breakfast. Never bring up an unpleasant subject at the breakfast table and send him away with a memory of a cheerful wife in a pink dress, bungalow apron that is spick and span and with the aroma of a cup of perfect coffee ascending like incense about the altar of home.

—DOROTHY DIX.

Scaffolding Mars White House View

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Tourists viewing the White House for the first time these days will have to recall pictures of the mansion to enjoy its full architectural beauty.

The main structure is enveloped with scaffolding and dozens of workmen are giving it the biennial white dressing which the wear and tear of nature makes essential.

In the foreground large patches of brown earth are strewn over the greensward. In a deep ditch alongside these mounds, additional workmen are installing a new eight-inch water main to supplant an old six-inch pipe that was requiring frequent and expensive repairs. The increase in size of the main will practically double the water capacity.

On the east, facing the treasury, more workers may be seen atop the terrace colonnade putting on a new roof. This structure affords entrance to the White House proper for thousands of tourists and during the social season it is used as a cloakroom for guests.

The repairs will be completed soon and will cost about $18,000.

Radio Installed in Vatican for Pope

Rather than rely on a foreign power station, the vatican authorities have embarked on costly work for the installation of their own power station, and in two months the pope will inaugurate officially the Vatican City radio.

The station, which is of the most up-to-date pattern, has been presented to the pope by the Marconi organization.

It will be able to work both wireless telegraph and wireless telephony. The two wave-lengths are 19.84 meters and 50.26 meters. The power of its aerial feeder system will be of about 12 kilowatts, and a radiation system will consist of two Marconi Franklin uniform aerials.

Argentine Troops Held Ready for Revolt Duty

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 29. (INS)—Fears of a revolutionary outbreak in the state of Rio Grande Do Sul, Brazil, today caused the authorities to order federal troops confined to their barracks, it was reported in dispatches from Montevideo.

The state of Rio Grande Do Sul for some years has been the headquarters of the dominant opposition party in Brazil. Its candidate was defeated in the presidential election last year.

Recount of Vote in La Grange Sought

LAGRANGE, Texas, Aug. 29. (AP)—Former County Judge John P. Ehlinger today filed an application for a mandamus to force a recount of the vote in the July primary, in which he was declared to have been defeated for county judge by Theo. W. Luderrs, incumbent, by 27 votes.

The application was filed in district court. The party executive committee had denied the plea. Ehlinger charged error, fraud and illegality.

Three Boys Held For Burning Man to Death

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 29. (AP)—Three boys, all under 12 years of age, were arrested today in connection with the fatal burning Aug. 13 of an elderly man in a junk yard.

Police said the lads confessed piling brush over James Wright, 69, an itinerant laborer, as he slept and setting it on fire. Wright died later.

When the boys, whose names were withheld, were asked why they started the blaze, their only answer was:

"Just for fun."

They are held on a charge of juvenile delinquency.

TWO KILLED AS DRUNKS FIGHT

Woman Wounded When Husband Gets Jealous

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 29. (AP)—Two men are dead and the wife of one was reported dying as the result, police said today, of jealousy increased by prolonged drinking of home brew liquor.

George F. Green, 48, killed himself after fatally wounding Guy Davis, 31, last night. Green also fired two bullets into the neck of his wife, Betty Green, 38, who was not expected to survive. Davis died this morning.

J. W. Swind, roommate of Davis, told police all three victims worked in a shoe factory. He said he accompanied them to the Davis home after work, where they began drinking home brew. Green, intoxicated, late in the evening accused Davis of undue attentions to Mrs. Green. The two men engaged in a fist fight with Mrs. Green and Swind as spectators. Swind said Green suddenly drew a gun and shot Davis and Mrs. Green before ending his own life.

Canal Association Seeks $60,000

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29. (AP)—A campaign to raise $60,000, the first year's operating budget of the Trinity River Canal association, will be launched today from the association headquarters here.

An extensive publicity campaign will be started at once with a view to educating the people of Texas to the commercial and industrial importance of a navigable Trinity river. The promotional plans then will take on the dimensions of a national campaign to inform the entire country of the value and justification of the project, the announcement stated.

Officers and directors of the association and others interested in the undertaking expressed themselves as greatly encouraged by the optimistic notes sounded in conferences here Thursday with engineers and representatives of the Texas congressional delegation.

Errant $10 Bill Leads To Arrest of Bandit

MONTREAL, Aug. 29. (AP)—George Baquit, believed to be from Detroit, was arrested today as the man who held up the St. Catherine street east branch of the Banque Provinciale with a shotgun and robbed it of $3,500.

Half an hour after the robbery Baquit was walking across the Place D'Armes when a $10 bill fell from his pocket and fluttered to the feet of Constable Archambault.

The constable picked the bill up and handed it to Baquit, who vehemently denied ownership of it and finally took to his heels. Archambault caught him and had to knock him unconscious to subdue him.

G. B. Shaw Takes Swim At Summer School After Speech

LONDON, Aug. 29. (AP)—George Bernard Shaw went to the Independent labor party's summer school to make a political speech today but remained to give an exhibition of swimming and diving.

The noted writer found the heat too great to permit his oratory so he borrowed a bathing suit, jumped into a pool and made a great hit pretending to rescue some Laborite girls.

"It's surprising how healthy minded we become when few clothes are worn; you feel as though you could even walk into church with hardly any clothes on at all," was the great man's only public utterance.

Slayer of Couple Mutilates Co-Ed

ENSENADA, Mexico, Aug. 29. (INS)—Mexican police officials revealed for the first time today that Marion Lois Kentle, Los Angeles artist, who fiendishly mutilated by the person who first stabbed Francis Conlon, her sweetheart to death and then killed her with the same knife.

At the same time it became known that the United States government had taken official notice of the case, that United States Consul Harold Collins, stationed here has made a report to Washington, covering his personal investigation of the case.

Simultaneously it developed, too, that the Mexican federal officials and United States Consul Collins have quarreled over the investigation. A note, addressed "Dear Scotty," and found in Miss Kentle's purse, reminded her of her promise to make the trip to Mexico.

Texas Youth Killed, Two Hurt in Crash

HOUSTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Ralph Roe, 21, was killed and E. B. Guess, 35, and Irvin Burns, 45, were injured in a collision on the Houston-Shreveport road five miles north of Humble today. All three men lived in Humble.

They were in a truck driving to Humble when they met a sedan driven by Mrs. John H. Rose of Houston. Mrs. Rose and her daughter, Miss Jeanette Rose, were en route to Paris.

Mrs. Rose and her daughter were uninjured.

Miner Killed, Two Hurt In Illinois Accident

VALIER, Ill., Aug. 29. (INS)—One miner was instantly killed and two others were injured today when they were caught between a fall of top coal while at work in Valier Coal Mining company's mine here today.

The dead man was Elmer Stanley, 43, of Valier. The injured men are Harold Payne and Mike Barletto, also of Valier. Their injuries were reported not to be serious.

Man Trapped 10 Hours In Mine Dies of Injury

SCRANTON, Pa., Aug. 29. (AP)—Ralph Massenkeil, 25, who was trapped 10 hours in a mine cave hole on Luserne street Wednesday with William Williams, 55, died today from internal injuries.

The two men were repairing a cave-in 30 feet deep where two homes were wrecked Wednesday morning when a slide of earth buried them. It required 10 hours to get the two out.

GIRL FREED IN DEATH PLOT

Officers Silent on New Turn Of Case

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Aug. 29. (INS)—Release of Betty Ann Schwartz, pretty 19-year-old Chicago girl, who has been held in jail here for two weeks in connection with the alleged conspiracy to assassinate Gov. Doyle E. Carlton, was ordered by state's attorney today.

The order freeing the girl who told officers she "knew lots" about the case and defied them to "try and make me tell" came shortly before the beginning of the third day's session of the preliminary hearing of three men charged with a plot to slay the governor.

Officers refused to comment on the order.

Defense lawyers began the hearing with a vigorous cross-examination of W. A. Shands, of Gainesville, member of the state road department, who declared he had never had conversations with either of the three defendants, Fred C. Eberhardt, Frank Ralls or Henry Halsema, concerning the plot to assassinate Carlton.

Shands' cross-examination was confined almost entirely to the efforts of Eberhardt to secure removal of the Dade county (Miami) sheriff with the view of controlling the gambling situation in that section.

Vincent C. Giblin, attorney for Al Capone, yesterday testified he offered Eberhardt $100,000 to obtain control of the liquor and gambling in Dade county.

HOMICIDE CHARGE

YOU CAN'T AFFORD IT

NO MATTER how many fine silks and woolens you own, you can't afford to wash them in hot water. Because, even if you have the price of new ones, you can't renew the tender skin of hands that emerge red and swollen from hot wash basins.

If you think that only hot water can get clothes clean, here's news for you! White King Granulated Soap, a pure vegetable and nut oil soap, will yield quick, cleansing suds in cool or lukewarm water. Ginghams and prints will stay bright, white goods wash whiter, and your hands will remain smooth and soft.

White King Granulated Soap is condensed. You will be surprised to find how little is required. It's the safest and yet the most economical soap you can buy. Hard water does not hinder its effectiveness. Have you tried it? At your grocer's.

WILD GASSER CLOSES FIELD

I. T. I. O. Well Blows Out As Sand Cuts Pipe

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—All drilling wells in the heart of the Oklahoma City field were shut down late this afternoon while emergency crews were called out by the Indian Territory Illuminating Oil company to aid in shutting in the No. 1 Sonora Bodine, which went wild as a big gasser after sand cut connections below the master gate.

The well is a diagonal southeast offset to the discovery well. It was drilled to total depth of 6626 feet, making some oil and a lot of water. A week ago it was plugged back to 4820 feet and shot with nitro, resulting in a nice gas well.

It was shut in and connections were being made to tie it into the gas gathering system of the field.

Early inspection showed the lower washers of the master gate cut away, which makes it necessary to remove all connections and stab into place a new set of connections. This probably will require several days.

All roads in that part of the field have been blocked and a fire zone established.

'Crook' Play Inspires Holdup at Theater

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (US)—Police today were seeking two young men who rose out of an audience watching a "crook" film at the Avalon theater, Chevey Chase, last night, and robbed the manager of $265.

Moving deceptively toward an exit, they pulled handkerchiefs over the lower part of their faces, slipped into Manager Edward Bowman's office, aimed a pistol at his head, and walked off with the day's receipts he had been counting. They left Bowman bound and gagged.

Paralysis Victim Makes Progress Toward Recovery

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29. (UP)—Irving S. Johnson, 25, infantile paralysis victim, whose life is being sustained by means of a "Robot breather" or artificial respiration machine, today made another stride toward recovery.

Physicians in charge of the young man, suffering from restricted diaphragm muscles brought on by the disease, announced his progress was even more rapid than they had hoped for.

Tong War Victim Dies From Hatchet Blow

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (UP)—A tong murder in which the traditional Chinese weapon, the hatchet, was combined with the modern gangsters' "ride" was discovered here today. The victim was Sing Foo, a cook.

Foo, with his skull fractured by a hatchet blow, was found on a Bronx street where he had been thrown from a speeding car. He died in a hospital without naming his assailants.

Tree-Sitter Shouts Fire Alarm From Perch

HOUSTON, Aug. 29. (UP)—Johnny Fry, who passed his 1,000-hour mark in a tree sitting contest last Thursday, remained aloft tonight, enjoying the role of a hero. When the servant house in the rear of his home caught fire last night, Johnny screeched lustily and summoned passersby who rescued an aged negro woman from the house. He plans to stay up until school starts.

Peru to Punish American Flier

LIMA, Peru, Aug. 29. (AP)—Lieut. Col. Luis Sanchez Cerra, head of the military junta, today told the Associated Press that Harold B. Grow, American naval reserve officer acting as head of Peru's flying corps, would be court-martialed. Grow was arrested and imprisoned last week by the Arequipa junta.

"Grow is a mercenary who has been violating the rules of public right.

"Following the orders of the overthrown dictator, he intended to fly over Arequipa and bomb the city without caring about the tremendous consequences of his action.

"As Grow violated the rules of the military code we will prosecute him before a court-martial."

States' Aid in Drying Up Country Asked

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Stressing the vital need for state and local cooperation in prohibition enforcement, Assistant Attorney General Youngquist in a radio address last night said effective enforcement by federal forces, unaided, was an "utter impossibility."

The number of federal agents—estimated at one to every 70,000 people—he described as "pitifully inadequate" to the task of drying up the country. Reiterating the appeal for state cooperation frequently voiced of late by Attorney General Mitchell, Prohibition Director Woodcock and Chairman Wickersham of the law enforcement commission, Youngquist said the local authorities in many sections already were giving valuable help.

War Gallantry Wins Leniency for Bandit

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (US)—A man may holdup a bank and not be a criminal, County Judge Conway decided today. When Wilton H. Olden, insurance agent, pleaded guilty to sticking up a teller and failing to get a dollar, the judge said:

"I'm satisfied that you are not a criminal and I'm going to treat you as such. I know that you were desperate for the welfare of your wife and children. You showed the same disregard of yourself in the war when each day you risked your life for your country, laying mines. Outside of this act, your career has been honest, clean and brave. Don't worry and tell your wife not to worry."

Youth Kills Self After Wounding His Father

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 29. (UP)—Ralph Thomas, 21, shot and killed himself today after twice shooting his father, Lehigh Thomas, 45, when the latter attempted to intervene in a jealous fit. The son was angered over the visit of another man to the home of Vernal Campbell, 20, a girl with whom he had been keeping company. Young Thomas went to the Campbell home to demand an explanation. A scuffle ensued over the gun the son had when his father sought to stop him. The father was shot in the arm and leg. The youth then shot himself through the head.

Two Overalled Bandits Rob Bank in Illinois

Clint Small and Edgar Witt In Sharp Debate Over Criminal Laws

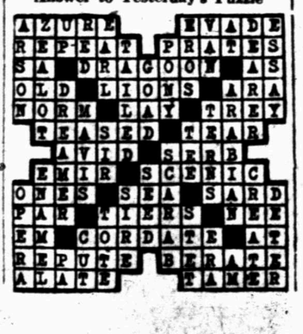

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29. (AP)—State Senator Edgar Witt of Waco, lieutenant governor-elect and State Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington, defeated gubernatorial candidate this summer, disagreed sharply over the proper cure for the ills of criminal procedure during their addresses before the opening session of the county and district attorneys' association convention today.

Senator Witt placed on the shoulders of the prosecutors the responsibility of effecting legislation that would speed up criminal trials. He urged repeal of the law that forbids the prosecutor to allude to the fact that a defendant, on trial, fails to testify in his own behalf. Senator Small later disagreed on this suggestion, pointing out that the defendant's failure to testify would not be evidence on which the district attorney could obtain a conviction.

Senator Witt pointed out this was an opportune time to effect changes in the criminal procedure because the taxation burdens are being felt and thousands of dollars annually could be saved by speeding up criminal trials.

Urging the district attorneys to take the lead in having the criminal procedure re-written, Senator Witt declared the great need is for making punishment more certain instead of making the penalities heavier.

Today's Protest

A news story saying Harold S. Vanderbilt will pilot the Enterprise against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V in defense of the America's cup Sept. 13 mentions in the next paragraph that Vanderbilt "has an enviable reputation as a bridge player," and that "one play, the Vanderbilt convention was named for him."

Protests being the usual thing with losers these days, there is the probability Sir Lipton, in the event he is defeated, will contest the race on the grounds Vanderbilt had a card up his sleeve.

Today's Hunk o' Hope

With Milt Steengrafe getting back into shut-out form and Hal Wiltse only one game away from his 20th victory of the season, who said we ain't going to win that pennant? Keep a stiff upper lip, mates; Lil Stoner isn't a regiment, and not since Bill Hallahan's days in the Texas league has one pitcher won a whole play-off series; and Wild Bill wouldn't have done it then if he hadn't got the breaks in the weather.

And who said there was going to be a playoff, anyway? One final winning spurt and we'll be league champions. So don't deny the boys. Don't whimper; cuss!

A Real Football Hero

We hear of many men who go to college broke, get a job, study hard, and in addition knuckle down and make the varsity team. Some of them we read in magazines, others in novels. Most of them are hokum but here's a story I know is true, because I saw every bit of it:

In September, 1921, a few days before registration time at the University of Texas in Austin a giant of a man in a worn grey suit knocked at the front door of a boarding house. The landlady answered and heard the man plead for a job. "Just anything," he said. "Just so I can get something to eat."

He didn't even say he was to enter the university, didn't put any sob stuff into his talk at all.

"Are you a student," the landlady asked.

"Yes," the man replied, "a law student."

The boarding house was a large one, and needed an extra hasher. He got the job. All rooms were crowded; there was no place for him to sleep. Finally he spied a corner in the third-floor hallway. "Can't you stretch a curtain across the end of the hall and put me a cot in there," he said.

"But you'll freeze in this hall, with such drafts coming through," the landlady said.

"No I won't; I've slept in worse than this."

And it was done.

"When can you move your things in and start to work?" queried the landlady.

The big fellow looked down at a stuffed laundry-sack he had carried in with him and said: "I'm already moved, and I can start to work right away."

"Well," his employer told him, "You needn't start until in the morning. We serve breakfast at six. Better go down about 5:30 to get things ready, for we have an awful crowd to feed."

"Alright," he said.

The next morning a group of about 40 boarders, some of the students in the university, were amazed to see a man dressed in overseas uniform of an American doughboy bringing their coffee to them.

"Well, well!" exclaimed the wits, "So we're still at war!"

"Yes, and one more remark like that and we're going to have a little scrap right here," answered the big waiter; and after that nobody made fun of his clothes. If they didn't like his way of dressing, he figured, they could—well, you know —; and anyway he had fixed it with his landlady. He had explained to her he didn't have but one civilian suit, and he had to keep that to wear to classes. He had brought a few uniforms back from France with him. It was winter and they were warm; why not wear them at work?

We will call the big fellow by the name of Archie Benson because that is not his name.

Archie worked hard. He received a little money for his duties in addition to his meals and hall-way sleeping place, but it was very little and it all went for books and registration in the university. Classes started. Archie would rush to the law building every morning after he had waited on the last stragglers at the breakfast table. After three classes, he would rush back, change into his uniform, and "hop" the dinner table. Then he would rush up to his room, put on his grey suit and dash back for two more classes in the afternoon. These over at 3 o'clock, He found nothing to do from 3 until 6, when the supper hour started. He couldn't study in the daytime. So—when football season opened, he went out for the regular squad.

Then he had a full day indeed. Classes over at 3, he would rush to the gym, get into his football togs and work out until 5:45. Then back to the gym, into his grey suit, a run for the boarding house; out of the grey suit and into his uniform. . . . That one suit must be preserved.

At night he would study. The supper table cleared, he would sit on the porch, smoking his cigaret. That over he retired to the front parlor, where he was permitted to keep his papers. He studied late and hard every night.

Soon his fellows in the law classes began to comment on the clarity of his answers to the professors. "Who is he?" they asked. "Dunno, but golly he looks like that big guy out for guard on the team." Later they found out he was the one. They began to talk to him and like him.

Archie played in one or two of the smaller games that season, but he didn't make the regular team. But he mowed down his foes when he did play, and his name crept into the headlines of both the campus and the local newspapers. On the strength of his football ability he was able to make many friends. Some of them advanced him loans, and he was able to buy a new suit.

He passed all his courses that year, and next year his return to the campus was anything but like his arrival the year before. Then he straggled around looking for a job. Now he was greeted at the station by a pep squad. Archie was the greatest guard the team had known in years!

And that season he lived up to his reputation. He made the varsity easily, worked on his courses hard, and got his degree. The last we heard of him he had completed two terms as mayor of a thriving Texas city, and was running for re-election as county attorney.

Bettencourt's Triple Prevents Shutout for Hurler

HOUSTON, Aug. 29. (AP)—Driving Vincent and Hillin from the hill in the fifth under a nine run rally the Houston Buffs took the first game of the series from Wichita Falls tonight 12 to 3. Sailing along under a 12 to 0 lead Kaufman lost control momentarily in the ninth and walked the first three men to face him. A long triple by Bettencourt cleaned the sacks, but Kaufmann retired the side without further damage. Kaufmaan held the Spudders to four hits and fanned 10. Score:

Wabash Clerks Not On Five-Day Schedule

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Clerical employes of the Wabash railroad have not been placed on a five-day week with proportionate reductions in pay, as stated yesterday by the Associated Press, W. E. Gollins, general chairman of the Wabash division of the Brotherhood of Railway clerks, said today.

Clerical employes who are not members of the brotherhood also are working regular hours at usual salaries, he said. The Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad has put the five-day week policy into effect for employes below the rank of chief clerk.

Sports Stay in Chase By Defeating Beaumont

BEAUMONT, Aug. 29. (AP)—Shreveport kept in the Texas league pennant chase this afternoon by thumping Beaumont 3 to 2 in the opening game of the series. Morrell limited the Shippers to six bingles while the Sports were banging Vaughn and Newman for nine, one a homer by Holman in the second. A double and two singles gave the Exporters their two runs in the eighth. Three sparkling double plays enlivened the contest. Score:

Trophy Races Start On Detroit River Today

DETROIT, Aug. 29 (AP)—The British challengers and the United States defenders seemingly equal in speed, nerve promises to play a large part in deciding the winner of the Harmsworth trophy races, the first heat of which will be run on the Detroit river tomorrow afternoon. It will require no little nerve to take the several turns on the five-mile course with a minimum declaration of speed.

On the straightaway stretches the hydroplanes will be approximating 90 miles an hour. Gar Wood, defender of the trophy, has said the speed reduction making the turns is at least 10 miles an hour. The course is long and narrow and no fewer than 24 sharp turns must be made before the 30-mile heat has been finished. Wood has the advantage of having been over the course many times aftener than the challengers pilots, Miss Marion Barbara Carstairs and Bert Hawker. He also is given an advantage in the fact that his mechanic, Orlin Johnson, has teamed with him in six Harmsworth races, numerous gold cup contests and scores of other speedboat events.

Disputed Ballot Boxes Held in Bank Vault

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 29. (AP)—The Montgomery Journal today said the 42 ballot boxes in the recent Democratic primary in Jackson county have been impounded in the vault of the First National bank of Scottsboro pending a grand jury investigation into disputed frauds in the election.

The fraud charges, were said to include allegations that votes were cast for dead persons; that some persons voted three and four times and that persons who had not paid poll taxes were permitted to vote.

SHIPPER GAME IS 'NO CONTEST'

League Makes Second Ruling on Protest

The protested second game of the double-header between Wichita Falls and Beaumont last Wednesday has been declared no contest, the Texas league office here announced Friday.

The effect of the decision is to substract a victory from the Beaumont standing column, and a defeat from the Wichita Falls column.

The ruling was made, officials said, due to the fact the two teams will not meet again this season in a series in which the protested game could be played out. Had there been another Wichita Falls-Beaumont series in the schedule, it was said, the teams would have been ordered to play the game the full nine innings.

The game was protested by Carl Williams, Spudder skipper, who held there had been no agreement to play the nightcap seven innings. The Spudders lost the game, 3 to 2.

Instructions to the two teams to play the protested game out were wired to Beaumont Thursday, but the message was received after the two teams had left the field. Failure of a telegram containing official notification of the protest to be delivered to Beaumont club officials was assigned by Texas league officials as the cause of the delay. When Williams made the protest Wednesday night, he telegraphed it to Texas league headquarters here, and left a duplicate copy in the Beaumont telegraph office to be delivered to Rube Stuart, Beaumont prexy. The message addressed here was received in the Texas league offices, but the copy addressed to Stuart was not delivered until 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon, according to Milton Price, league secretary.

Before league oficifials here could rule on the question it was first necessary to hear Beaumont's answer to the protest. The answer was received here at 5:07 p. m. Thursday, Price said. Instructions were then sent to Beaumont that the game should be played out, but the teams had already left the fields.

Western Golf Champ Defeated

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City defending champion in the women's western golf tournament, was eliminated from the 28th annual turnament today by Miss Dorothy Page, Madison, Wis., but the 36-hole final tomorrow still finds two former western champions competing.

Miss Page, champion in 1927, will meet Mrs. G. W. Tyson, Kansas City, winner in 1923 and national champion in 1927. Miss Page defeated Mrs. Hill one up on the 18th green while Mrs. Tyson turned back the 1929 runner-up Mrs. Gregg Lifur, 3 and 2.

Whereas Mrs. Tyson held the advantage at the turn and at no time throughout the match was behind, Miss Page came from behind to take the lead and then played doggedly to stave off a last hole rally of the Kansas City woman.

Tennis Hopes of Betty Nuthall Are Shattered

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 29. (AP)—Betty Nuthall's hope of duplicating the 1924 and 1928 clean sweeps made by Mrs. Helen Wills Moody in the three most important tennis championships open to women, was shattered by the hard driving racquets of Marjorie Morrill Dedham, and Frank Shields, New York, in one of the semi-finals of the mixed doubles title play today at Longwood.

The British girl became the American women's singles champion and co-holder of doubles title last Sunday at Forest Hills, N. Y., in Mrs. Moody's absence. She teamed in the present tourney with George Lott of Chicago, for the defense of the mixed title they won here last year. They galloped through the lower half of the draw without serious opposition until today, when they were outplayed widely by Miss Morrill and Shields, who won in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

The other mixed finalists were Edith Cross of San Francisco and Wilmer Allison, Austin, Texas. They entered the championship round by defeating Mrs. J. Dallas Corbiere, South Boro, and Fritz Mercur, Bethlehem, Pa., 6-3, 6-4. The Californian-Texan combination dominated the match from the first game.

Priest Gives Blood To Save Church Convert

NORFOLK, Neb., Aug. 29. (AP)—The Rev. George Jonaitis, priest of Catholic church at Stanton, Neb. and retiring chaplain of the Nebraska department of the American Legion, gave a quart of his blood today to save the life of a man he recently had converted to the Catholic faith.

John Gurtner, 62, of Stanton, injured in an automobile accident two weeks ago had lost so much blood doctors decided a transfusion was necessary to save his life. Unable to obtain vounteers here, the doctors communicated with Father Jonaitis, who came to Norfolk.

Gabby Fooled 'Em; Now Cards Are Making Plenty Trouble

By BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—Gabby Street has found the proper St. Louis baseball combination.

Managers who preceded the enthusiastic Missourian at the helm of the Cardinals won pennants, but lost their jobs. Gabby will not win the championship this year but he will keep his job, and in these days of unemployment this may be rather more desirable than a championship.

There was widespread sympathy for Street when he was promoted from coach to manager. Everyone said that the former battery mate of Walter Johnson was "a good fellow" and declared it was a shame to see him sacrificed.

At the annual dinner of New York Baseball Writers, the principal skit was built about the refrain,

"You won't be there, Gabby."

But Gabby has fooled the writers as well as the fans. He will be there, not only this year but next season as well.

The Cardinals did not seem to be a very good baseball team at Bradenton last spring but Manager Street thought they were fine.

"They are counting us out," he said. "But I am convinced they are wrong. We have a far better club than anyone thinks. We will make a lot of trouble for the others."

That is just what the Cardinals have done. They are not going anywhere themselves, probably, but they are digging some holes for their opponents.

Ask Wilbert Robinson, he knows. The Cardinals stopped Brooklyn while the league leaders were dreaming of the hour when world series lightning would strike in the vicinity of Ebbets field.

He is an enthusiastic figure on the third base coaching line when the Cardinals are staging a rally and he is hardly less enthusiastic in a hotel lobby when the only baseball played is by word of mouth.

Street was the Washington catcher when Cantillion managed the Senators, then called the Nationals, and there was a world of baseball wisdom to be acquired just by listening when "Pongo Joe" chose to talk.

Street knows his pitchers and the improved work of the Cardinal staff this season is a monument to his patience.

"Wild Bill" Hallahan, a pitcher with blistering speed, has dropped the "Wild" from his name and forced an even dozen Robins to miss third strikes the other day.

Flint Rhem, given up for lost by the majors, is back again and others have pitched great ball for "Good Old Gabby."

Rogers Hornsby won a championship and a world series for St. Louis, Bill McKechnie won a championship and lost a world series. Both lost their jobs.

Gabby has won neither a pennant nor a world's championship but he may yet. He has another chance.

GIANTS 3, ROBINS 2

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—The Giants came from behind in the late innings today to recapture second place from the Brooklyn Robins with a 3 to 2 victory which broke their losing streak of five games. Bill Clark and Freddy Fitzsimmons had an old fashioned pitchers' duel, each team getting eight hits. The Giant pitcher was retired for a pinch hitter and Bill Walker got credit for the victory. Clark lost the game when Finn fumbled Ott's grounder with the score tied in the eighth and Hogan and Jackson singled to bring in the winning run. Score:

SILENT RATTAN MASTERS CARR

Kansan Takes Decision In Bout Here

"Silent" Rattan of Kansas City, 146 pounds, took two falls out of three to beat Charles Carr of New Orleans, 151 pounds, in the main event of the wrestling bill at Athletic park Friday night.

Rattan took the first fall in 13 minutes with a flying mare and arm stretch. Carr came back to down Rattan with a hook scissors in 11 minutes. Carr apparently had Rattan beaten with another hook scissors for the third fall when the deaf and dumb wrestler staggered to his feet with Carr still hanging on and fell backwards to win the fall and match with a slam. Carr was knocked groggy and helpless.

Promoters Billings and Willoughby announced that no more matches would be held at Athletic park but that arrangements would be made for establishing an arena in a downtown building with seats so built as to give all spectators a closeup view of the mat battles.

Al Mercer and Jimmy Coffield each took one fall in a 45-minute time limit preliminary. Sylvio Checco took the curtain raiser from Red Rogess in 21 minutes with an airplane spin and body slam.

CHISOX BLANK INDIANS, 3 TO 0

Caraway Wins Own Game With Double

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 29. (AP)—Cecil (Pat) Caraway pitched a sensational 13-inning shutout over the hard-hitting Cleveland Indians today and won his own game for the Chicago White Sox by smacking a double which scored the first run off Recruit Clint Brown. The final score was 3 to 0. Caraway limited the Indians to three singles, all in the regulation nine innings. He came to bat in the 13th after Brown had got himself into a hole by allowing Clancy to single and fumbled Watwood's sacrifice to give both runners safety. A ringing smash off the right field screen sent Clancy across with the winning run. Score:

Our courteous ad taker will receive your Classified Ad and help you to word it, then our collector will call the next day. These accounts are "accommodation accounts" for the convenience of our patrons in transacting business over the telephone.

Classified Ad patrons desiring to have ads charged must have a telephone listed in their own name. No book record is made by the publishers on account of the great number of transactions, hence the necessity of collecting promptly.

Correction of errors in Classified Ads must be made before the second insertion. No allowance will be made for more than one incorrect insertion.

Cancellations and adjustments regarding errors should be telephoned to the Classified Ad department between 8 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Ads accepted for afternoon paper up until 11 a. m. same day.

Morning paper up to 6 p. m. for the following morning.

Sunday paper up to 7 o'clock Saturday night.

Same copy in both papers.

THE CLASSIFIED DEPARTMENT IS OPEN ON SUNDAYS from 4 to 6 p. m. and telephone orders for classified ads to be inserted or to be discontinued will be accepted.

Exceptions: Want ads will be accepted over the telephone for all excepting the following classifications: Situations Wanted and Wanted to Rent. Ads for these classifications are cash with the order and will not be accepted over the telephone.

The Times reserves the right to classify all Classified Ads under the appropriate headings and to revise or to withhold from publication any ads deemed objectionable.

Town That Forgot Prohibition Dry After Month of 'Liberty'

FOND DU LAC, Wis., Aug. 29. (AP)—A township that "forgot" the prohibition law is dry again after a month of unrestricted sale of beer and hard liquor.

Wisconsin has no enforcement act, a circumstance which led officials of the township to decide that prohibition must be at an end. The township remains unnamed, but the Fond Du Lac Commonwealth Reporter, which published the story today, vouched for the facts.

Recently a saloon keeper applied for a license and was presented an elaborate document which the township clerk found in his old files. It permitted the sale of intoxicating liquor. With the license proudly framed above his bar, the saloon keeper put good beer on tap and provided hard liquor for those who wanted it.

All went well until a county official dropped in for some sarsaparillo and found beer instead.

The official went to the township board and the "license" was revoked. The township official explained he understood there was no law against liquor and that "anyway, he wanted him to sell good beer."

Railroad Officers Held for Shooting

MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 29. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff T. H. Sullivan and C. C. Lane, a special officer for the Louisville & Nashville railroad, were arested today on charges of wounding Mrs. Thelma Wooten, 24, by firing into a passing automobile near here last night.

The woman was shot and perhaps fatally wounded as she rode with her brother, Emery Whitehurst, and C. I. Davis, a friend. Whitehurst said two men appeared at the side of the road and opened fire without warning as his automobile passed.

Lane admitted firing at the car but said he did so after the driver tried to run him down. He contended a jug of whisky was thrown from the automobile as he and Sullivan approached.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Quality was generally lacking in cattle receipts here today.

Slaughter steers sold at $7.25. Some plain steers sold at $5.60 and a load of short fed steers brought $6.00. Fat yearlings topped at $10.00.

Grass fat cows sold from $4.00 to $4.50. Low cutters moved from $2.50 to $2.85.

Heavy weight bulls were reported around $5.00, and light bulls were listed from $4.25 down.

Steer calves sold from around $7.75 down with heifer calves from $7.25@7.50.

Light weight calves brought $8.50. Bulk of the medium and heavy weight calves changed hands from $6.50@7.25, about steady. Cull sorts sold mostly around $3.50.

Rail hogs sold at 5@10c higher prices, with truck hogs mostly 25c lower. Best rail butchers topped $10.55. A part load of around 270-pound butchers sold at $10.10. Truck hogs sold up to $10.10, bulk of the better grades of 174 to 230-pound truck hogs ranging from $9.90 to $10.00. Packing sows were steady, bulk selling from $7.25 to $8.00.

Fat lambs sold at steady to 25c higher prices Friday, while trade in other classes of sheep and lambs remained steady. Two decks of sorted fat lambs moved at $8.25 and fat yearlings ranged from $5.00 to $5.50. Aged fat wethers sold usually at $4.00.

Hogs—Receipts, 700; rail hogs, 5 to 10c higher; top, $10.55; truck hogs, mostly 25c lower; top, $10.10; bulk better grades, 174 to 230 pound truck hogs, $9.90@10.00; packing sows steady; bulk package sows, $7.25@8.00.

Cattle—Receipts 3,000, including 1,300 calves; all classes about steady; one load steers, $7.25; other loads, $5.60@6.80; one load slaughter yearlings, $10.00; carlots fat cows, $4.50; low cutters, mostly $2.50 @2.85. Few weighty bulls around $5.00; fair supply stock steers in $6.00 range; slaughter calves very uneven; light weight calves strong with top of $8.50; other loads of medium and heavy calves from $6.75 to $7.50, steady.

Sheep—Receipts, 2,400; fat lambs steady to 25c higher; other classes steady; two decks sorted fat lambs, $8.25; fat yearlings, $5.00@5.50; aged fat wethers, $4.00.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Receipts of cattle around the 11-market circuit were estimated at 14,000. Steady prices were maintained on the few strictly grain fed steers and yearlings offered, but otherwise, the market on killing classes of cattle ruled weak to lower. Receipts of off quality killing cattle has been excessive the past three days. The eastern dressed beef trade continues in a healthy condition, which is an indication that demand for native grain fed steers and yearlings will be fairly broad the forthcoming week.

Hog trade was marked by considerable unevenness with prices at various markets anywhere from steady to 40 lower as compared with Thursday's best time. The day's extreme top of $11.40 was paid in Chicago. Offerings were around 51,000.

Fat lambs were on a steady price basis for the first time this week. Choice native lambs in Chicago brought $9.25 and a few rangers sold up to $8.75. Matured classes of sheep were scarce and unchanged. The supply approximated 39,000.

Hogs—Receipts, 3,000; market uneven, 25 to 35c more than Thursday's best high, or steady to 10c higher than the low close; top, $10.65 on 170 to 220 pounds; good and choice, 160 to 350 pounds, $9.65@10.65; packing sows, 275 to 500 pounds, $7.65@8.85; stock pigs, good and choice, 70 to 130 pounds, $8.25@9.25.

Cattle—Receipts 1,200, calves 1,000; killing classes slow, steady to easier; quality mostly plain; top yearling steers, $11.25; stockers and feeders slow, steady; steers, good and choice, 1,000 to 1,500 pounds, $9.25@12.00; heifers, good and choice 550 to 850 pounds, $9.00@11.25; cows, good and choice, $5.50@7.50; vealers (milk-fed), medium to choice, $6.00@10.00; stocker and feeder steers, good and choice, $7.00@8.75.

Sheep—Receipts, 4,000; killing classes steady; top range lambs, $8.50; lambs, good and choice, 90 pounds down, $7.75@8.60; ewes, medium to choice 150 pounds down, $2.50@4.25.

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (INS)—Chicago livestock:

Hogs—Receipts 14,000, market steady; top $11.45; bulk $9.00@11.35; heavyweight $10.00@11.00; medium weight $10.85@11.40; lightweight $11.10@11.45; light lights, $10.35@11.35; packing sows, $8.00@9.15; pigs, $9.00@10.10; holdovers, 10,000.

Cattle—Receipts 2,500, market steady; calves, receipts 1,000, market steady; beef steers, good and choice, $11.00@12.25; common and medium $7.00@12.00; butcher cattle, heifers $6.00@11.25; cows $5.00@9.50; bulls, $5.50@8.50; calves $10.00@12.50; feeder steers, $7.00@8.50; stocker steers $6.00@8.00; stocker cows and heifers, $4.00@6.50.

Sheep—Receipts 6,000, market steady; medium and choice lambs $8.00@9.00; culls and common $5.00@7.00; yearlings $5.50@7.50; common and choice ewes $2.00@4.25; feeder lambs $6.50@7.50.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 29. (AP)—Cattle—Receipts 700, calves 700; market, steady; medium to good yearlings $8.00@10.00; top, $11.00; top fair to medium quality caked steers, $8.50; medium to good beef cows, $4.25@5.25; bulk grass heifers, $5.00 @6.50; canners and cutters, $2.75@3.25; bulls, $3.75@5.75; heavy vealers, $7.00@7.50; choice, $8.00; top, $8.50; common calves, $3.50@5.00.

Hogs—Receipts, 1,200; market steady; top, $10.40; bulk, $10.25, on medium weights; sows and stags, $8.00.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (AP)—An early decline was followed by partial recoveries in cotton today, but prices weakened again in the late trading under increased selling which seemed to come partly from the South. December contracts which after selling off to 11.48 at the start rallied to 11.56, broke to 11.30 in the late trading and closed at that figure. The general market closed easy at net declines of 28 to 31 points.

The opening was steady at a decline of 6 to 11 points under selling which appeared to be inspired by relatively easy Liverpool cables.

Prices recovered part of an early decline, with active months selling within 3 to 5 points of Thursday's closing quotations on this demand. Trading then became very quiet and after rather narrow and irregular fluctuations during the early afternoon, prices broke in the last half hour under increased offerings which were attributed partly to hedging by the South. The new October declined from 11.37 to 11.12 and March from 11.82 to 11.54 and the market closed at the lowest.

Liverpool cables said trade calling there had been supplied by liquidation. Port receipts today 83,050. U. S. port stocks 1,881,106. Exports today 26,712, making 270,792 so far this season.

Futures closed easy, 28 to 31 points lower. Spot quiet; middling, 11.40.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29. (AP)—Pre-holiday quiet featured the cotton market today, traders being unwilling to enter on new commitments in advance of a triple holiday as the market will remain closed until Tuesday morning for Labor day. With Liverpool cables lower than due the market opened 3 to 4 points down and gradually eased off during the day, first on pre-holiday liquidation and later on the bearish weekly statistics until prices showed losses from the previous close of 10 to 11 points. The market developed quite a spurt of activity in the final trading under heavy liquidation and hedge selling, carrying the active near months down to levels 27 points below the previous close. The close was at the bottom showing net declines for the day of 27 to 35 points.

Liverpool came in 4 points worse than due and first trades here showed losses of 3 to 4 points. The market gradually eased off on liquidation ahead of the holiday until October traded down to 11.35 and December to 11.50 or 7 to 9 points below the previous close.

After mid-session prices eased off a little further on Hester's weekly statistics which were considered bearish and October eased to 11.32 and December to 11.48 or 10 to 11 points below the previous close.

A private authority made the crop condition 56.3 and the indicated crop 13,940,000 bales.

Active liquidation and hedge selling caused prices to make new lows right at the end with October at 11.15 and December at 11.32, down 27 points and the close was at the bottom. March and May were down 30 points and July lost 35 points on the day.

Port receipts 75,909, for week 44,558, for season 628,295, last season 378,796. Exports 18,887, for week 73,583, for season 256,848, last year 173,285. Port stock 1,883,073, last year 670,516. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 69,940, last year 54,492. Spot sales at southern markets 30,236, last year 41,395.

Futures closed steady at net declines of 27 to 35 points:

Stocks Show Impressive Gain Despite Expected Holiday Slump

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 29. (US)—Despite the impending holiday which had been expected to work to the detriment of prices on the stock exchange, the market today exhibited impressive strength which persisted to the close. Volume of transactions instead of declining as is usually the case preceding an extended holiday actually expanded, indicating large-scale preparations for the hoped-for improved market following Labor day. Without any external news whatever to affect prices in either way, buying demand continued active for the highest-grade stocks and this in turn influenced the more speculative issues. In any event the entire market closed strong, the railroads joining in the day's improvement with a fair-sized average gain. Speculative evening-up operations, especially short covering, undoubtedly contributed substantially to the strong demonstration in prices, but there also was evident a higher type buying.

United States Steel common furnished leadership, achieving, allowing for its dividend, a new high since May. With this premier industrial reflecting continued large-scale buying demand, the entire market was stimulated in the belief that the buying of steel evidenced more than speculative buying. As a matter of fact, the best-informed steel people are conservatively confident that the predicted improvement in demand for steel products is actually developing. No sudden uprush either in orders or operations is to be looked for, but a steady upturn will be the more pleasing, since it will indicate lasting quality. Other leading stocks followed steel into new high ground for the present recovery.

The daily weak spot was uncovered in Electric Auto-Lite which broke over six points at its low for the day on reports its $6 dividend was in danger. Packard Motor was raided on widespread rumors its $1 dividend would be omitted but the stock was well taken and closed unchanged. Official denial was made of any contemplated change in the dividend. Packard is one of the best-managed concerns in the automobile industry. General Railway Signal developed as a new strong spot on buying attributed to more encouraging news concerning the company's business. A strong group is understood to have been formed to sponsor the stock marketwise. At times the stock has been an active performer. The entire motion picture group advanced into new high ground as more favorable reports appeared to confirm the statement made here recently that the industry has definitely turned the corner. The buying of all stocks in this group was very impressive.

Upturn in the railroad stocks may have been partly due to short covering, but it is becoming more evident daily that some revival of railroad traffic is close at hand. The normally increased volume which develops with the autumn season will probably be experienced this year. The safety of various railroad dividends depends upon the rapidity of this upturn in traffic, but certain of the roads whose distributions are in danger are willing to permit the immediate future to decide the dividends.

The more speculative stocks were all reflecting professional activities, particularly short covering. Their sponsors, however, have been preparing for more aggressive activities during the coming week. The $26,000,000 drop in brokers' loans exerted little influence on the market, although it was considered cheerfully. Money remained at 2 per cent.

Grain

CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Aug. 29. (AP)—Light offerings of all grains marked trading on the Fort Worth cash grain market Friday. Export demand for wheat was very dull with export bids of 92@93c, basis delivered Texas gulf ports, drawing little business. Mills were bidding 94@95c, basis ordinary No. 1 wheat delivered Texas common points and demand from that source was active for the scant offerings.

Good demand was reported for corn, oats, barley and milo, with kaffir slow sale.

Estimated receipts: Wheat, 17 cars; corn, 3; oats 7; barley and sorghums, 2 cars.

Corn—No. 2 mixed, $1.01@1.02; No. 2 white, $1.04@1.05; No. 2 yellow, $1.10@1.12; all others nominal, no sales were made after the full advance.

Oats—No. 2 red, 52@54c, with best type seed oats in demand at the higher figure.

Barley—No. 2 nominally, 72@74c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo, per 100 pounds nominally, $1.55@1.60; No. 2 kaffir, $1.70@1.75.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Buoyancy developed in the corn market today as a result of widespread belief that private corn crop estimates next week would show a sensational slash. According to current gossip, a leak indicated that one leading unofficial authority had reduced to 1,925,000,000 bushels his forecast of the 1930 crop, whereas the lowest predictions heretofore have been about 2,000,000,000 bushels. Flurried buying that ensued hoisted the corn market 3¼c a bushel, with some sales as high as $1.00 even, but then heavy profit led to something of a reaction.

Closing quotations on corn were firm 1⅜@2⅜c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Wheat closed unchanged to 1⅛c down, and oats ⅝@1⅛c up, with provisions ranging from 10c setback to a rise of 5 cents.

Wheat values displayed a tendency to lag, and in the end lost fractional gains which had been scored on account of corn market strength. Talk was heard that deliveries of wheat here on September contracts are probable next Tuesday. Besides North American export business in wheat today amounted to only about 400,000 bushels. Notice was also taken of continued heavy receipts of wheat in Canada, 938 cars at Winnipeg today, more than twice the total of a year ago. Oats traders took their cue mainly from the action of corn.

Provisions held about steady, influenced by the course of hog values.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—September 83⅝c, 87⅛@87¼c; December 89½@89⅝c, 92⅝@92¾c; March 93¼c, 97⅝c; May 96⅝c, $1.00½. Corn—September 97½c, $1.92½; December 93⅛c, 98⅝@98½c; March 95⅛c, $1.00; May 97c, $1.02.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (US)—There still is apparent a rather general fear that the Canadian pool will be required to hedge a good share of its wheat holdings. No direct confirmation or denial of this has yet been obtained, but inasmuch as the initial price being paid by the organization is that which was suggested at first by the banks in case the pool did not hedge, it does not appear likely they will do so.

Winthrop, Mitchell & Co. say: "It is our continued belief that Europe and other importing countries will ultimately absorb all the wheat that North America has to spare and as far as the United States is concerned, our unusual consumption at home will not leave us as much to spare as the present arithmetic would indicate."

Rumsey & Co. say: "Corn is high, but it is surprising how fast it is going into consumption at these high prices. Notwithstanding the fact that special bids were put out from this market Thursday night, there was very little corn bought. The total purchases to arrive today are less than half the requirements for this market alone.

In addition to the unfavorable political conditions, Argentina is faced with unfavorable labor conditions in some sections of the country, cables said today.

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Aug. 29. (AP)—Cotton broke more than $1 per bale today. The market opened unchanged to 6 points down on cables that were lower than due. Prices held within narrow limits all morning, but broke sharply in the afternoon and closed at or near the bottom for the day, 30 to 35 points net lower. The cotton area was without record precipitation and temperatures were seasonal. Saturday and Monday are holidays in the American market.

It was officially announced the cooperatives would not attempt to peg cotton prices this season such as was undertaken last year.

TWO OIL FIRMS CONSOLIDATED

Phillips and Independent Are Merged

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 29. (AP)—The consolidation of the Phillips Petroleum company of Bartlesville and the Independent Oil and Gas company of Tulsa was announced at 4 p. m. today in Tulsa and Bartlesville, confirming rumors that had been heard all day on the streets.

Terms Agreed to

It was stated that the executive committees of the companies had agreed to all terms and conditions of the merger, which will be on the basis of change of independent stock for that of the Phillips company at an approximate book value of properties as of July 31, 1930.

The agreement is subject to action of the Phillips' directors and the directors and stockholders of the independent company.

No change in the management, headquarters or personnel of either company is contemplated, the statement said.

This merger brings together the three Phillips brothers—Frank L., L. E. and Waite—who organized the Phillips Petroleum, with Waite Phillips withdrawing from the company and starting one of his own, which later was sold to the Barnsdall. Later Waite Phillips was instrumental in acquiring control of the independent, of which he now is chairman.

Phillips Strong

The Phillips Petroleum company controls more than 1,000,000 acres of oil lands, most of which is in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. The company's net gasoline production in 1929 was 219,775,000 gallons. Its capital stock at the close of 1929 was $63,024,155.

The Independent Oil and Gas company produced 10,120,000 barrels of crude oil in 1929 from 833 wells in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. The company operated 587 miles of oil pipe lines and 400 miles of natural gas pipe line, the latter handling 72,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily in 1929. The refining capacity of the independent company was increased from 6,000 to 12,000 barrels a day through the acquisition last year of the Manhattan Oil company.

At the end of 1929 acreage held by the independent company totaled 773,706 acres, in Oklahoma, Kansas Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Michigan, Colorado and California. The company's gross revenue for the year was $26,504,299.

40 and 8 Delegates Leave for Austin

Rabbi S. J. Schwab was first of the vanguard off to the Ninth annual promenade of the Texas 40 and 8, which convenes in Austin Sunday, Aug. 31. He left Friday night for the convention city. The 12th convention of the American Legion, department of Texas, also convenes in Austin Sept. 1, 2, and 3.

Other delegates to the 40 and 8 promenade were Victor Nobles, D. J. Carey, L. Adrian Busby, Leonard Hotham, J. F. Friberg and William S. Parks. Alternates named were Stephen Marchand, J. H. Simmons, Roy J. Daniel, O. T. Ailes, Dr. L. I. Lucey, N. Manoushagian, J. H. Bledsoe and Wayne Somerville.

Dr. Austin Leach, J. F. Friberg, Leonard Hotham, Victor Nobles, Dr. L. I. Lucey, L. Adrian Busby, Roy Daniels and O. T. Ailes are expected to go to Austin Saturday, according to a statement by Rabbi Schwab.

Delegates and alternates have been instructed to gather at the 40 and 8 headquarters Sunday morning for the purpose of nominating a chairman for the Wichita Falls delegation.

Registration will begin Sunday morning at the Driskill hotel and Rabbi Schwab, grand aumonier, will deliver the invocation in the formal opening. Roy J. Daniel, Voiture 939, will give the response to the address of welcome made by Uncas Johnson, Voiture 175, Austin.

STRAND: "All Quiet on the Western Front," best seller and recent Record News serial. Comedy and sound news.

MAJESTIC: Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook in "Anybody's Woman." Not so good for children. Comedy and sound news.

STATE: "The Singing Caballero" with Ken Maynard. Sound news and comedy.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" was a best-seller because it differed from the profusion of war books which were then cluttering up the literary market. Just so, the picture has packed the Strand theater in its first day here as has no other war movie.

◇ ◇ ◇

If the book or the picture had been shown a few years ago, the audience would have rioted and the theater manager would have been compelled to hide out for several months. No theater manager would have booked it in the first place, and no publisher would have bought it, for it was "pro-German," which was almost as bad as saying someone was leprous.

◇ ◇ ◇

While the pictures which came out shortly after the war successfully depicted all the horrors suffered by the American soldier, no one has ever taken the trouble before to show how similar the stenches are on both sides of No Man's Land. Eric Marie Remarque had the vision and courage to write the book, and it went the way of all best sellers—to the screen as fast as Remarque could connect with a fountain pen and a dotted line.

◇ ◇ ◇

No other picture has ever shown the schoolboy hysteria so beautifully. The boyish enlistment to the flying colors and band music and the adulation of the crowds—the sober marching through mud—the final emptiness of the future for the same boys who had been shouting and throwing their schoolbooks at each other only a few months before—it is all to be found in the movie.

◇ ◇ ◇

Most movie fans have learned not to expect a picture be a as enjoyable as the book from which it is made ("Young Man of Manhattan" was the only exception) and it was expected least of all in this war picture. It is, however, as true a representation as could be made.

◇ ◇ ◇

If other thousands pack other theaters to see "All Quiet on the Western Front" and if school children drink in the tremendous lesson, it will do more good than all the world conferences ever held toward bringing peace on earth.

Two Jailed In Theft of Tires

Two men were being held in the city jail Friday night following their arrest by police early Friday morning in connection with the theft of two automobile tires and a quantity of automobile parts and supplies from a car belonging to E. R. O'Brien, 1816 Speedway, while the car was parked at the Wichita Falls Lumber and Building company, 1801 Austin street, Thursday night, according to the report of the arresting officers. Motorcycle Officers Earl Brooks and J. H. Pogue made the arrest, reporting they found the tires and supplies in the automobile which the two men occupied at the time of the arrest Friday morning. Charges will be filed Saturday following questioning of the men, it was said.

DEMO LEADERS MEET TODAY

County Committee to Count Primary Vote

The Wichita county Democratic executive committee will meet at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the courthouse for the purpose of making an official count of the votes cast in the county in the run-off primary a week ago and to issue formal announcement of the winners in each race.

The meeting will be the last at which Judge Edgar Scurry will preside in the capacity of county chairman. Following the business session, in which matters concerning the retiring committee will be disposed of, the affairs of the body will be turned over to Bert King, newly elected county chairman, and the precinct chairmen named in the first primary here. Judge Scurry has urged that all committee members, both of the retiring and the incoming committees, attend the session in order to take part in the matters to be discussed.

look sick. She looked better than ever. More beautiful. Lord, she was beautiful . . .

"Now, child?"

"You've told Dane?" What she had been aching to ask, wanting to know, but Raleigh paid no attention to her question.

"Did he suggest you go back with him tonight?"

"Yes—but Dane—"

"Hush, we'll talk of that later. What did you say?"

"I can't go, doctor. I don't want to."

"I know you don't. But you're his wife, Kay—"

"I know, but I don't know what to do. Tell me!"

"You love Dane?"

"More than anyone in the world!"

"And he loves you, too. It's been a bit of a shock to him. I left him in the reception room—alone. Why don't you like Larry Nettleton?"

"I don't know. I never have."

Raleigh nodded understandingly. "I didn't like his attitude either, when he came in here. A little too belligerent. At first he wouldn't believe what I told him about you. Couldn't understand it. I had a devil of a time making him stay here while I went in to you—"

He stopped suddenly, and went to the window, where he stood for some time, seemingly forgetting the girl sitting in the chair waiting for him to continue. After perhaps five minutes, he walked to the door into the reception room, and opened it.

"You can come in now, Mr. Talbot."

Dane came in and he and Kay looked at each other hopelessly. There was nothing to be said. Kay knew from the despair in his eyes how he felt. She felt the same way. She longed for the comfort of his arms, his kisses, but there was Larry Nettleton between them . . .

"Now, then—sit down, will you?" Doctor Raleigh said. And Dane slid into a chair.

Call Field Hangar Destroyed by Fire

Wichita Falls lost another reminder of the days when the city was a buzzing army training center when flames early Friday morning destroyed the largest of the hangars at Call field, a structure once valued at $20,000 when it was built by the government and used as a unit in the aviation training camp here.

The fire broke out about 2:30 a. m., Fire Chief J. L. McClure stating that a nearby grass fire probably ignited the wooden building although the origin of the fire was not definitely known. The large hangar measured 95 by 375 feet and had been used in the past as an automobile show building during the Texas-Oklahoma fairs. It was originally two hangars but was made into one by joining the two sections for use by the fair association. R. E. Shepherd, secretary of the fair association, said the building was valued at $3,500 and was the property of the association.

DEATHS

R. J. COURTNEY

Funeral services for R. J. Courtney, 72, retired cattleman and resident of near Wichita Falls for several years who died Thursday while visiting at the home of his son, H. C. Courtney, at Northfield, Texas, were held Friday afternoon in Northfield with Elder R. R. Price of the Church of Christ of that city officiating. Interment was in the Northfield cemetery.

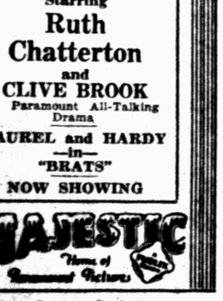

Besides the son in that city, Mr. Courtney is survived by his widow, another son, R. L. Courtney of Northfield, and a daughter, Mrs. H. P. Ring of Wichita Falls.

NOW!—New and Greater values in Goodyear Tires than ever before!

That headline is strictly true.

Two bed-rock reasons make it true.

One reason is, Goodyear Tires are better right now than they have ever been.

The other reason is, rubber is cheap and consequently Goodyear Tires are available at the lowest prices in history.

Their preference for Goodyears rests upon definite Goodyear superiorities in both tread and carcass, the two main parts of a tire.

You are not asked to believe these statements without proof.

Any Goodyear Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the facts.

That is true of the people who buy new cars.

Now is the time to get YOURS

It is true of buses which carry passengers—more transcontinental, urban and interurban buses and coaches operate on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

It is true also of trucks—more Goodyear Truck Tires are made and sold than any other kind.

Year after year, throughout the world, the number continually increases. Millions more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

The agreement is subject to action of the Phillips' directors and the directors and stockholders of the independent company.

No change in the management, headquarters or personnel of either company is contemplated, the statement said.

This merger brings together the three Phillips brothers—Frank L., L. E. and Waite—who organized the Phillips Petroleum, with Waite Phillips withdrawing from the company and starting one of his own, which later was sold to the Barnsdall. Later Waite Phillips was instrumental in acquiring control of the independent, of which he now is chairman.

Phillips Strong

The Phillips Petroleum company controls more than 1,000,000 acres of oil lands, most of which is in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas. The company's net gasoline production in 1929 was 219,775,000 gallons. Its capital stock at the close of 1929 was $63,024,155.

The Independent Oil and Gas company produced 10,120,000 barrels of crude oil in 1929 from 833 wells in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. The company operated 587 miles of oil pipe lines and 400 miles of natural gas pipe line, the latter handling 72,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily in 1929. The refining capacity of the independent company was increased from 6,000 to 12,000 barrels a day through the acquisition last year of the Manhattan Oil company.

At the end of 1929 acreage held by the independent company totaled 773,706 acres, in Oklahoma, Kansas Texas, New Mexico, Arkansas, Michigan, Colorado and California. The company's gross revenue for the year was $26,504,299.

40 and 8 Delegates Leave for Austin

Rabbi S. J. Schwab was first of the vanguard off to the Ninth annual promenade of the Texas 40 and 8, which convenes in Austin Sunday, Aug. 31. He left Friday night for the convention city. The 12th convention of the American Legion, department of Texas, also convenes in Austin Sept. 1, 2, and 3.

Other delegates to the 40 and 8 promenade were Victor Nobles, D. J. Carey, L. Adrian Busby, Leonard Hotham, J. F. Friberg and William S. Parks. Alternates named were Stephen Marchand, J. H. Simmons, Roy J. Daniel, O. T. Ailes, Dr. L. I. Lucey, N. Manoushagian, J. H. Bledsoe and Wayne Somerville.

Dr. Austin Leach, J. F. Friberg, Leonard Hotham, Victor Nobles, Dr. L. I. Lucey, L. Adrian Busby, Roy Daniels and O. T. Ailes are expected to go to Austin Saturday, according to a statement by Rabbi Schwab.

Delegates and alternates have been instructed to gather at the 40 and 8 headquarters Sunday morning for the purpose of nominating as chairman for the Wichita Falls delegation.

Registration will begin Sunday morning at the Driskill hotel and Rabbi Schwab, grand aumonier, will deliver the invocation in the formal opening. Roy J. Daniel, Voiture 939, will give the response to the address of welcome made by Uncas Johnson, Voiture 175, Austin.

At the Theaters

By ELEANOR FLEMING

STRAND: "All Quiet on the Western Front," best seller and recent Record News serial. Comedy and sound news.

MAJESTIC: Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook in "Anybody's Woman." Not so good for children. Comedy and sound news.

STATE: "The Singing Caballero" with Ken Maynard. Sound news and comedy.

"All Quiet on the Western Front" was a best-seller because it differed from the profusion of war books which were then cluttering up the literary market. Just so, the picture has packed the Strand theater in its first day here as has no other war movie.

◇ ◇ ◇

If the book or the picture had been shown a few years ago, the audience would have rioted and the theater manager would have been compelled to hide out for several months. No theater manager would have booked it in the first place, and no publisher would have bought it, for it was "pro-German," which was almost as bad as saying someone was leprous.

◇ ◇ ◇

While the pictures which came out shortly after the war successfully depicted all the horrors suffered by the American soldier, no one has ever taken the trouble before to show how similar the stenches are on both sides of No Man's Land. Eric Marie Remarque had the vision and courage to write the book, and it went the way of all best sellers—to the screen as fast as Remsrque could connect with a fountain pen and a dotted line.

◇ ◇ ◇

No other picture has ever shown the schoolboy hysteria so beautifully. The boyish enlistment to the flying colors and band music and the adulation of the crowds—the sober marching through mud—the final emptiness of the future for the same boys who had been shouting and throwing their schoolbooks at each other only a few months before—it is all to be found in the movie.

◇ ◇ ◇

Most movie fans have learned not to expect a picture be a as enjoyable as the book from which it is made ("Young Man of Manhattan" was the only exception) and it was expected least of all fn this war picture. It is, however, as true a representation as could be made.

◇ ◇ ◇

If other thousands pack other theaters to see "All Quiet on the Western Front" and if school children drink in the tremendous lesson, it will do more good than all the world conferences ever held toward bringing peace on earth.

Two Jailed In Theft of Tires

Two men were being held in the city jail Friday night following their arrest by police early Friday morning in connection with the theft of two automobile tires and a quantity of automobile parts and supplies from a car belonging to E. R. O'Brien, 1816 Speedway, while the car was parked at the Wichita Falls Lumber and Building company, 1801 Austin street, Thursday night, according to the report of the arresting officers. Motorcycle Officers Earl Brooks and J. H. Pogue made the arrest, reporting they found the tires and supplies in the automobile which the two men occupied at the time of the arrest Friday morning. Charges will be filed Saturday following questioning of the men, it was said.

DEMO LEADERS MEET TODAY

County Committee to Count Primary Vote

The Wichita county Democratic executive committee will meet at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the courthouse for the purpose of making an official count of the votes cast in the county in the run-off primary a week ago and to issue formal announcement of the winners in each race.

The meeting will be the last at which Judge Edgar Scurry will preside in the capacity of county chairman. Following the business session, in which matters concerning the retiring committee will be disposed of, the affairs of the body will be turned over to Bert King, newly elected county chairman, and the precinct chairmen named in the first primary here. Judge Scurry has urged that all committee members, both of the retiring and the incoming committees, attend the session in order to take part in the matters to be discussed.

look sick. She looked better than ever. More beautiful. Lord, she was beautiful . . .

"Now, child?"

"You've told Dane?" What she had been aching to ask, wanting to know, but Raleigh paid no attention to her question.

"Did he suggest you go back with him tonight?"

"Yes—but Dane—"

"Hush, we'll talk of that later. What did you say?"

"I can't go, doctor. I don't want to."

"I know you don't. But you're his wife, Kay—"

"I know, but I don't know what to do. Tell me!"

"You love Dane?"

"More than anyone in the world!"

"And he loves you, too. It's been a bit of a shock to him. I left him in the reception room—alone. Why don't you like Larry Nettleton?"

"I don't know. I never have."

Raleigh nodded understandingly. "I didn't like his attitude either, when he came in here. A little too belligerent. At first he wouldn't believe what I told him about you. Couldn't understand it. I had a devil of a time making him stay here while I went in to you—"

He stopped suddenly, and went to the window, where he stood for some time, seemingly forgetting the girl sitting in the chair waiting for him to continue. After perhaps five minutes, he walked to the door into the reception room, and opened it.

"You can come in now, Mr. Talbot."

Dane came in and he and Kay looked at each other hopelessly. There was nothing to be said. Kay knew from the despair in his eyes how he felt. She felt the same way. She longed for the comfort of his arms, his kisses, but there was Larry Nettleton between them . . .

"Now, then—sit down, will you?" Doctor Raleigh said. And Dane slid into a chair.

Call Field Hangar Destroyed by Fire

Wichita Falls lost another reminder of the days when the city was a buzzing army training center when flames early Friday morning destroyed the largest of the hangars at Call field, a structure once valued at $20,000 when it was built by the government and used as a unit in the aviation training camp here.

The fire broke out about 2:30 a. m., Fire Chief J. L. McClure stating that a nearby grass fire probably ignited the wooden building although the origin of the fire was not definitely known. The large hangar measured 95 by 375 feet and had been used in the past as an automobile show building during the Texas-Oklahoma fairs. It was originally two hangars but was made into one by joining the two sections for use by the fair association. R. E. Shepherd, secretary of the fair association, said the building was valued at $3,500 and was the property of the association.

DEATHS

R. J. COURTNEY

Funeral services for R. J. Courtney, 72, retired cattleman and resident of near Wichita Falls for several years who died Thursday while visiting at the home of his son, H. C. Courtney, at Northfield, Texas, were held Friday afternoon in Northfield with Elder R. R. Price of the Church of Christ of that city officiating. Interment was in the Northfield cemetery.

Besides the son in that city, Mr. Courtney is survived by his widow, another son, R. L. Courtney of Northfield, and a daughter, Mrs. H. P. Ring of Wichita Falls.

That headline is strictly true.

Two bed-rock reasons make it true.

The other reason is, rubber is cheap and consequently Goodyear Tires are available at the lowest prices in history.

Their preference for Goodyears rests upon definite Goodyear superiorities in both tread and carcass, the two main parts of a tire.

You are not asked to believe these statements without proof.

Any Goodyear Dealer will be glad to demonstrate the facts.

That is true of the people who buy new cars.

It is true of buses which carry passengers—more transcontinental, urban and interurban buses and coaches operate on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

It is true also of trucks—more Goodyear Truck Tires are made and sold than any other kind.

Year after year, throughout the world, the number continually increases. Millions more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

Now is the time to get YOURS
