Soviets Warned U. S. Will Not Be Forced From Berlin

McGee Placed In Jail Here

ONE of the South Plains' most intensive manhunts officially ended at 8:30 p. m. Friday when Detective Captain Pat Davidson, of the Lubbock Police department, and Deputy George Eubank, of the Lubbock Sheriff's department, booked Richard W. McGee, 24-year old insurance salesman, at Lubbock county jail.

McGee, accused of murder with malice of R. L. Allston, grocery association executive, was returned from Austin where he was apprehended Thursday night after a 30-hour alert over the state. Eubank and Davidson left Lubbock immediately after the insurance salesman's arrest was reported here by radio to return McGee, here for trial.

To Be Arraigned Today

Shortly after McGee, a former University of Texas student, was locked in his cell, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and Sheriff Grady Harrist arrived at the jail and went to McGee's cell to question him about the fatal shooting of Allston at his apartment in Colonial Apartments shortly after noon Wednesday.

"I don't care to make a formal statement until I consult my attorney," Croslin said McGee told him.

Croslin said that the accused man would be arraigned before Justice of Peace D. W. Robertson at 9 a. m. today, and that he would recommended that McGee be held without bond pending grand jury action.

Youth Tells Of Escape

The two officers who returned the youth from Austin said that McGee was "well behaved" on the trip to Lubbock, but that he "hinted" several times that he would "like to have his handcuffs removed."

Eubank said the youth "talked

Railroads Turned Back To Owners

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The government turned the railroads back to their owners today.

They were seized two months ago—May 10—by order of President Truman. He acted in the face of a threatened strike by three operating brotherhoods for higher wages and changes in working rules. That disptue was settled last night after a series of White House conferences.

Secretary of the Army Royall, in nominal control of the carriers during government operation, turned them back to the regular management at 2 p. m. (CST) today.

New Demand Seen

Royall said in a statement that "the necessity for continued Army controls has ceased to exist." He added that satisfactory operation of the carriers under the Army was largely due to a "high degree of cooperation by both labor and management."

William R. Faricy, president of the Association of American Railroads, expressed pleasure at Royall's prompt decision to return the roads to private operation.

The engineers, firemen and switchmen who threatened the strike settled for the 15½ cent an hour wage increase previously accepted by other railroad workers, plus certain changes in operating rules. The pay increase is retroactive to last November 1.

There were strong indications, however, that a new demand for an additional pay increase will be pressed by the nation's 1,250,000 railroad employes soon. Management expects the drive to get up full steam about September.

MEN DEFLATED

WESTON, W. Va., July 9 (AP)—West Virginia's rugged men were a deflated lot today. First place in a tobacco-spitting contest was won by Garnet Puddler—a woman. She squirted three feet farther than her nearest male competitor.

U. S. Protests To Hungary On Threats To 'Voice' Listeners

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The State department charged today that the Hungarian government is carrying on a "systematic campaign to frighten the people of Hungary" from listening to the Voice of America radio broadcasts." It said some persons have been arrested for listening.

Assistant Secretary of State George Allen declared that the campaign shows that the leaders of Hungary "fear they can hold their power only by denying to their people, in increasing degree, freedom of information."

"This device," Allen said, "has log been a necessary tool of dictators—Communists and Fascist"

MARCH BIDS FOR LABOR VOTE

Johnson Scores Isolationism; Coke Narrows Campaign Issues

(By The Associated Press)

COKE STEVENSON said Friday that a strong national defense and a strong stand against Communism are not issues in the U. S. Senate race because there is no disagreement on these two points.

Lyndon Johnson said men need not have died in a second world war if the "old men of the Senate" had been forced to put a 10-million-dollar preparedness program into effect after World War I.

George Peddy, the third major candidate in the Senate contest, continued his accusation that Johnson did nothing to stop Russia until he started running for the Senate.

Stevenson Claims Support

In the gubernatorial campaign, Caso March promised to seek repeal of nine "anti-labor" laws enacted by the last legislature.

Stevenson completed a 275-mile tour of the Midland-Odessa area and said he is receiving more encouraging reports of his standing in the Senate than he received in any of his races for lieutenant governor or governor.

He told reporters he found most

'Ike' Issues 'Final No'

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, July 9. —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower laid down a "final and complete" refusal today to accept the Democratic presidential nomination under any "terms, conditions or premises."

Key anti-Truman Democrats from the north quickly abandoned their campaign to draft the general and switched their support to the President.

Those from the south went into hurried huddles, trying to figure out whether they would try to get behind somebody else.

Truman backers, and even some party members who wanted another candidate, passed the word that it's all over, the Presdient will capture the nomination on the first ballot.

Ike Would Refuse

So it looked as if delegates were coming to town Monday mostly to pick a vice presidential nominee and approve a party platform.

Eisenhower gave his positive "no" to Senator Claude A. Pepper of Florida. It was his third attempt to avoid a political draft from either major political party.

"Under no conditions," Eisenhower said in a telegram, "will I be in the position of repudiating or even seeming to swerve from the letter or spirit of my prior announcements.

"I will not violate my own conception of my appropriate sphere of duty.

"No matter under what terms, conditions or premises a proposal might be couched, I would refuse to accept the nomination."

Pepper To Comply

Pepper was one of those who had declined to accept as final Eisenhower's other two pronouncements that the general could not accept a nomination to public office.

The senator said yesterday he would place Eisenhower's name in nomination at the Democratic convention next week if someone else didn't do it first.

It was for that reason that the general sent his "final and complete" refusal to the senator. Pepper said he would comply with "the greatest reluctance" with Eisenhower's urging that his name not be offered to the convention.

That, of course, would not keep

Fight Flares On Demo Platform

PHILADELPHIA, July 9 (AP)—The fight over civil rights within the Democratic party finally exploded into the open tonight when a southerner, Aubrey Williams, told Democratic leaders they would not lose southern voters by supporting President Truman's civil rights program.

Southern members of the Democratic platform drafting committee had set calm and silent while northern negroes demanded that the party platform contain the President's proposals for laws against lynching, poll taxes, and discrimination in employment.

Southerners Fight Back

But when Williams, who is from Montgomery, Ala., and former national youth administrator, said that it was mainly southern Democratic leaders who oppose the Truman program—and not the people—the fireworks broke loose.

Former Alabama Governor Chauncey Sparks snapped that Williams represents nobody but himself and should not carry any

Texas Wheat Crop Estimate Less Than Half 1947 Total

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—The Agriculture department today forecast a wheat crop of 57,020,000 bushels in Texas this year—less than half the state's 1947 record crop of 124,270,000 bushels.

Forecasts for other major crops in the state were corn 43,369,000 bushels; oats 14,734,000 bushels; rice 24,096,000 bushels; oranges 5,800,000 boxes; grapefruit 24,000,000 boxes, and potatoes 4,400,000 bushels.

The national forecast for wheat was 1,241,751,000 bushels, an improvement of four percent over earlier forecasts. If that amount is harvested it will be the second largest crop nationally in history. Last year's record crop was 1,364,919,000. The ten-year average crop is 924,623,000.

Drouth took a toll of Texas wheat prospects this year.

An all-time record national corn crop of 3,328,862,000 bushels was forecast. It compares with the previous 1946 record total of 3,287,927,000 bushels. Last years crops was 2,400,952,000 bushels.

UN Mediator Makes Urgent Appeal For New 10-Day Truce

Arabs Claim 325 Jews Killed In First Day Of Renewed War

By MAX BOYD
Associated Press Staff Writer

CAIRO, July 9—Arabs reported tonight they had killed 325 Jewish fighters during the first day of renewed Palestine warfare even as the United Nations mediator was pleading for a new 10-day truce.

Count Folke Bernadotte, the mediator, said in Rhodes after a meeting with King Abdullah in Amman, Trans-Jordan, that he had asked both sides to stop fighting for 10 days, beginning at 6 a. m., (CST) tomorrow.

The Swedish count's appeal was made on an urgent basis—but neither the Arabs nor the Jews showed any signs of agreeing. An Israeli spokesman said in Tel Aviv no action would be taken tonight because of the Jewish Sabbath.

Arabs Claim Gains

Bernadotte will fly tomorrow to Lake Success to place the whole situation before the United Nations Security council.

The Egyptian defense ministry issued a communique here tonight saying 325 Zionist soldiers had been killed in military operations undertaken by the Egyptian army, Saudi Arabian troops and Sudanese volunteers. The time the operations started was not given. The old truce expired at midnight (CST) Thursday.

Attacks were launched, the communique said, on points occupied by the Jews during the truce period on the southern Palestine front. These points were recaptured, the communique said. It added that Egyptian planes raided Aqir airport and Tel Aviv harbor. Aqir is 5 miles southeast of Tel Aviv.

Jewish Capital Bombed

Other developments of the day included:

1. Bombs dropped from a Spitfire on the Israeli capital of Tel Aviv killed two and wounded 10 or more persons. Haifa had its first air raid alarm since World War II but no bombs were reported.

2. Jewish mortars opened up on the Arab-held old city of Jerusalem. The heavy guns of the Arab legion of King Abdullah withheld their answering fire while legionnaires deployed toward the Jewish-held modern section of the Holy City.

UN Fleet Sails

3. In Washington Secretary of State Marshall indicated the United States government blames the Arabs for renewing the fighting. But Marshall left to the Security Council any finding of guilt. He also ruled out for the present any idea that the U. S. might now lift its embargo on shipping arms as a means of helping Israel.

4. The United Nations fleet of three American destroyers, the U. S. aircraft carrier Palau, and U. S. naval vessel Marquette, and the French warship Elan sailed from Haifa with members of the UN truce commission staff on board. Only 40 members of the UN team which once totaled at least 200 remained, most of them on Mount Scopus in Jerusalem.

5. The British foreign office said Britain had appealed to the Arab countries twice in the last 24 hours to extend the four-weeks truce.

6. A spokesman for the ministry of national defense of Egypt said there is no doubt that the Egyptian army had resumed fighting thsi morning on the southern front of Palestine.

7. Strong Syrian concentrations of men and armor were reported by the Jews in the Lake Hula area north of the Sea of Galilee. The Jews said they expected a major attack.

Count Bernadotte's surprise visit to King Abdullah lasted an hour.

Foreign diplomats in Amman said the king and the count discussed the "fundamentals of a permanent Palestine solution."

The U. S. Navy did not announce the number of persons evacuated from Palestine, but it said they were taken aboard the Palau and the Marquette. The Navy said both vessels have left Haifa and were en route to the island of Rhodes.

Tech Board May Pick New President Today

FORT WORTH, July 9 (Spl.)—Texas Tech's board of directors will gather here Saturday for a meeting which may result in the selection of a president of the college, succeeding Dr. W. M. Whyburn, who has resigned effective Aug. 31.

An estimated 15 of the Southwest's top-ranking educators are expected to be interviewed by the directors during the day's meeting, scheduled in the swank Fort Worth club.

As to who is the leading candidate for the position was anybody's guess.

One board member who had arrived here this afternoon said flatly: "The field is wide open; I don't think any member has definitely decided on any one man. Saturday's screening will more than likely make up our minds on some of the candidates."

Federal Judge Confers With Both Sides On Coal Dispute

WASHINGTON, July 9 (AP)—Justice T. Alan Goldsborough talked over the "captive" coal mine strike with attorneys for both sides today, leading to speculation on an out-of-court settlement of the four-day-old shutdown in mines owned by the steel industry.

The steel companies, represented by Harry M. Moses, refused to agree to a union shop provision carried over by UMW President John L. Lewis in his new contract with the rest of the soft coal industry.

Trial Of Two Lubbock Bus Drivers Ends In Deadlock

(Special To The Avalanche)

GUTHRIE, July 10. (Saturday) —A 50th District Court jury of King county reported at 1 o'clock this morning that it was hopelessly deadlocked in the case of two striking Lubbock bus operators of the Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., charged with violence under the O'Daniel law.

The defendants, tried jointly, are J. H. Pace, of 1611 Ave. Q, and Glenn Harris, of 2207 Ave. Q. They were indicted by a grand jury in connection with alleged violence May 22, in Guthrie, against Vigil N. Stovall, of Lubbock, a substitute driver. The maximum penalty under the law is two years in prison, and the minimum is one year in prison. Suspended sentence also is possible.

Face New Trial

The jury had received the case about 10:45 o'clock Friday night. About 1 o'clock this morning, the jury returned to the crowded courtroom and Foreman Charley Deaton reported to Judge Lewis Williams of Benjamin that the jury could not reach a verdict. From unofficial sources it was learned that the jury had voted almost consistently nine for conviction, three against.

Sheriff George Humphries said that the jury had been released and that the two defendants would again face trial at the November term of court in Guthrie.

The courtroom was almost full throughout the two-day trial.

Ten Witnesses On Stand

The case is one of several in which violence has been alleged by the bus company, following the strike of the bus operators, members of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, in Lubbock on the night of May 21.

The court was convened Thursday morning by Judge Lewis Williams, of Benjamin.

The state, represented by District Attorney Joe Reeder, jr., of Benjamin, and special prosecutors, George W. Dupree and Jim Milam both of Lubbock, presented ten witnesses during the trial.

The prosecution contended that

Meat Dealers Are Indicted

HOUSTON, July 9 (AP) — Six week's investigation of reported horsemeat sales in Houston markets, restaurants and school cafeterias was climaxed today with the indictment of 11 meat dealers.

The Harris county grand jury returned 14 indictments containing a total of 43 counts alleging sale of horsemeat for human consumption or sale of sulphite-treated meat.

Among those indicted today is L. C. Boeker, operator of two meat companies and holder of a contract for supplying meat to Houston school cafeterias during the past school term.

Five indictments containing 21 counts were returned against Boeker. They alleged "selling food for human consumption from the carcass of a horse."

Houston Schools Complain

The Houston public schools were listed as complainant in each count.

Boeker also was charged on one count with delivering sulphite-treated meat to a school cafeteria. Another count alleges a similar delivery to a downtown cafe.

Maximum penalties for the charges are a $500 fine for each sale of horsemeat and $200 fine for each sale of sulphite-treated

Contempt Citations For Nine Labor Leaders Will Be Asked

NEW YORK, July 9 (AP) — A House Education and Labor committee said today it would recommend that nine labor leaders be cited for contempt of Congress because they refused to tell the committee whether they are Communists.

Rep. Charles J. Kerston, (R-Wisc) announced the committee's plan at the end of three days of hearings into alleged Communist infiltration into the CIO department store workers' union.

Kersten said the hearings were adjourned until recalled by him and he would recommend the contempt action to the full education and labor committee. The group conducting the hearings here is a subcommittee.

Hail And Rain Reported Over Northwest Section Of Plains

HAIL and rain damage was reported northwest of Lubbock Friday afternoon, while to the northeast of the city light hail and thundershowers fell but damage, if any, had not been determined.

The Weather Bureau station had received a report from a farmer that considerable damage had been done to wheat crops in an area 20 miles northwest of Municipal airport. He said that about half an inch of rain had fallen within ten minutes.

Light hail and showers were reported at Muleshoe. Whether crops in outlying areas had been damaged could not be determined late last night. Sudan received only light showers.

Lubbock received a sprinkle about 6 p. m., as did Floydada shortly after that time. The weather station north of here recorded only .01 of an inch rainfall.

No other reports of moisture, other than those named, had been received by the Santa Fe dispatcher at Slaton.

Siege Called 'Intolerable'

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 9 — The United States disclosed tonight a stern warning to Moscow that it will not be forced out of Berlin by threats or pressure.

This government acted in concert with France and Great Britain, in ripping the seals of secrecy off their notes to the Kremlin.

The British, however, held up formal release of their note a half hour past the time they were released by the U. S. and France.

This country and France offered to negotiate with the Soviets the East-West disputes over the beleaguered German capital. But they said that negotiations would only be possible after Russia's blockade of the western sectors of the city had been lifted.

Blunt Demand Made

They demanded that the blockade be ended at once. The American note, signed by Secretary of State Marshall, called the blockade "intolerable." He implied that it violated a hiterto secret, war-end agreement made by Premier Stalin with President Truman and former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The United States, Marshall told the Kremlin, will not be compelled to abandon its rights as a Berlin occupation power "by threats, pressures or other actions." Then in words as blunt as they are undiplomatic he declared:

"It is hoped that the Soviet government entertains no doubts whatsoever on this point."

Russian Answer Awaited

The three notes were sent to Moscow Tuesday. They have not yet been answered by Russia. They were held secret by all three governments until tonight to give the Soviets time to think over what they should do.

Some diplomats here said the French note was perhaps somewhat softer in tone, but they noted that France was not a party to the original Potsdam agreements on post-war Germany and thus approached the problem differently from the United States and Britain.

The French, too, insisted on

Reds Threaten Air Lane Block

BERLIN, July 9 (INS)—The Soviets tonight announced sweeping new curbs on allied motor traffic to and from Berlin and threatened to block the western air corridor to the city with planes flying on "instruments."

A high U. S. Air Force source said American authorities were informed by the Russians that they are planning daily "instrument flights" in the corridor that would make it dangerous for the western air-supply of Berlin to continue.

He said, however, that the Americans consider the threat "largely as a bluff."

"Training Flights" Planned

The source said the Russians announced they are planning to engage in flights in the corridor from 8 a. m. to 6 p. m. that "would leave the Anglo-Americans the choice of halting their food flights or running the risk of collision."

The source said the Russians warned they would fly "at all altitudes," instead of sticking to the 5,000-feet ceilings.

The Russians described their contemplated activity in the corridor as "training flights." The American source said previous agreements have barred such flights from the corridor — the west's last unrestricted link with the city.

New Controls Announced

The Soviet action on motor traffic came later.

The Soviet news agency ADN annouhced that in the future the Campaign Funds Prove Problem

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, July 9 — Candidates making major races for high state office in Texas face a problem in following the letter of the law on campaign expenses.

The law says candidates for United States senator and governor must limit their spending to $10,000. Candidates for other state offices must limit theirs to $2,500.

Any voter who can add two and two knows that it has been violated countless times in these days of high-pressure, high-speed campaigning using statewide radio chains, airplanes, newspaper advertising, automobile caravans and a dozen other vote-getting devices. Not all the voters understand how the law can be sidestepped.

The chief dodge is not to know what your friends are spending in your behalf. When a candidate files his sworn statement of receipts and expenditures with the secretary of state, he swears only to what has been contributed or spent with his "knowledge or consent."

Not Enforced

Escape hatch No. 2 perhaps is the fact that by what seems to be general agreement, the law has not been enforced or tested except in isolated instances. Enforcement of penal provisions is up to local prosecuting authorities. Any citizen may bring civil proceedings to bar the name of a candidate from the ballot if he has evidence the expense law has been violated, but they seldom do.

Attorney General Price Daniel called it a "horse and buggy law" geared to 1919 campaigns, when it was passed, rather than to present day races.

He said he believed it should be re-written to put enforcing teeth in it, and placing a ceiling on expenditures more in keeping with modern campaign methods so that candidates could comply with it.

Political realists say that even a "poor boy" campaign costs anywhere from $2,500 to $10,000. A fairly comprehensive statewide vote drive can be put on for $100,000. You can pretty well cover the state with $250,000 but it has been said—if not proven—that a rip-roaring all-out race costs somebody anywhere from a half a million to a million dollars.

Dies Figures Cost

Expenditures reported to the secretary of state thus far in the Texas senatorial race range from less than a thousand dollars to more than five thousand. There are three candidates who are trying to reach every voter in Texas, and perhaps four in the unbernatorial campaign.

One of the candidates for the Senate who is making an inclusive race said he may ask a grand jury investigation of campaign expenditures. He is F. B. Clark of College Station. Martin Dies of Lufkin said he did not run for the Senate because he could not "make a legal race." Dies said he figured it would cost at least $60,000 and he could not "honorably" raise it and spend the money legally . . . within the $10,000 limit.

"Despite the law, it is no secret that a campaign for high state office, or the United States Senate, costs a huge sum," Dies said.

"I am not blaming the candidates, nor am I blaming most of the contributors to these campaigns since it is a situation that has been brought about by common consent."

From the layman's standpoint, the law seems very specific. It obviously gives the candidate a legal out in the form of reporting, but it puts quite a burden on local friends of candidates who for example buy radio time or who chip in unofficially to pay for any other device without telling their candidate.

It puts a $50 limit on local meeting expenses for such items costs. It says no more than $500 shall be spent in any one county by campaign managers, assistant managers or their authorized agents.

Then it says it shall be unlawful for any person other than the candidate or his managers directly or indirectly to spend money "except as expressly permitted."

It also requires that expenditures for local rallies be reported to the county clerk within 24 hours.

It boils down to a situation that practically everybody knows about, but that nobody does anything about.

Drilling Permit For Gaines Well Asked

A permit requesting right to start drilling immediately on a 7,500-foot wildcat in central northwest Gaines county has been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas. The application was filed by Guy Mabee Drilling company of Midland on its No. 1 McCrea.

It will be 660 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 372, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey. That makes it 12 miles northwest of Seminole.

The slated destination of 7,500 feet should take the venture into the Clear Fork section of the Permian.

To Re-Enter Dickens Project

A dry hole in central Dickens county, which was abandoned in November 1947, on a total depth of 7,787 feet in granite, is to be re-entered and tested in two upper horizons.

This venture was the W. O. Woodward, trustee, (H. L. Hunt interests), No. 1-B Williamson. It is two miles south of Spur, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 189, block 1, H&GN survey.

After the project is cleaned out a string of casing will be cemented at about 7,300 feet. That pipe will then be perforated at 7,025-55 feet, and that zone tested.

If that interval fails to produce operator plans to go on up the hole to 8,030-50 feet, and perforate and test.

Activity at this exploration is to start at once.

Plans For Breaking Out 200 Acres Of Tech Land Made

Topographical maps were made Friday of plans for the breaking out of 200 acres of Texas Technological college farm's grassland, Dean W. L. Stangel, head of the Agricultural division, announced. The land is to be used to raise feed for livestock in the animal husbandry department, and is to be irrigated, Stangel said.

"After a study, it was decided that the feeds from such an allotted area would produce more food value under cultivation than it is producing in native grass," Stangel said.

The land to be cleared and broken is from the original 800 acre native grass pasture-land, and is to be under the control of the animal husbandry department. In 1947, Tech cleared 160 acres for cultivation, which was turned over to the plant industry department to be used as a laboratory for studying variety crops. At the time Tech was established, 2008 acres of land was allotted for all purposes.

Johnson Keeps Busy Schedule

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

VICTORIA, July 9 (AP)—Senatorial candidate Lyndon Johnson slipped into blue striped pajamas at 8 o'clock last night to rest from what he believed the biggest speechmaking day in Texas political history.

He had delivered 26 speeches, many from the air, while his helicopter hovered over workers at their jobs, others in town after his plane landed.

Johnson was weary but in good spirits.

The 10th District Congressman said he "knows" he is picking up votes.

"A friend told me," he said "that when I first started campaigning I did not have a single vote among the elderly members of his city's civic club.

"Now, he tells me, I've got two out of three of their votes.

"This is the reason he said they decided to vote for me: They got to thinking about retiring themselves and who would take their places in their businesses. They wanted their successor to be a young man with experience—not an old man with experience nor an old man without experience.

"They decided the same thing should apply in the Senate race."

Johnson has been in Congress eleven years.

Dropping his head on one arm, the young Johnson City lawmaker mused over the day's events.

There had been a cafe operator in Floresville who met him at the helicopter with a steaming bowl of chili—his favorite order at the man's cafe for 10 years.

There had been the Latin-American who translated his speech for Spanish-speaking spectators at the same city.

There had been two railroad workers who were pleased that the senatorial candidate stopped to shake hands but who urged him to move his helicopter off the railroad tracks for a train due in 20 minutes.

But mostly he had been pleased with the crowds that met his helicopter.

Johnson has not scheduled any night public speeches recently.

"I think most folks want to do the same things that I want to do at night—stay at home with their families and rest, read a paper or listen to the radio," he said.

First Term Of Lubbock's Free Summer School Closes Doors

The first, or credit work, term of Lubbock's free summer school closed its doors Friday.

The second term, which is a program of non-credit enrichment study, will begin Monday. Both school age students and adults may enroll in classes of their choice Monday morning by simply reporting at the designated meeting place of the class. A complete list of courses and tentative meeting times will be published in the Sunday Avalanche-Journal.

The majority of enrichment courses will be offered in the morning; however, actual meeting time for classes will depend upon the dictates of group convenience. Enrollment for the second term is expected to be much smaller than that for the first because of the fact that no credit work is to be offered, Principal Floyd Honey said.

Superintendent R. W. Matthews today expressed satisfaction with the work and cooperation achieved in the first summer term, and stated that teachers and principals were "very pleased" with the amount of work accomplished in such a short period.

Co-Operation Between Doctors, Ministers And Psychiatrists Urged At Medical Meet

SUN VALLEY, Idaho, July 9, (INS)—Co-operation between ministers and psychiatrists as well as doctors in general was urged last night by Dr. Donald W. Hastings, wartime chief of the army air forces psychiatric program.

Dr. Hastings was the last speaker at the three-day meeting of the Idaho Medical association. He is now head of the department of psychiatry at the University of Minnesota.

The speaker said:

Notes Should Be Compared

"The time has come for the two professions to compare professional notes and make this world a better place to live in."

Dr. Hastings said there is no conflict between religion and psychiatry and added:

"Psychiatry is not interested in the moral aspects of treating a patient. It is not a religious and it is not a substitute for religion.

"Doctors have no business advising their patients either to get married or to get divorced. When people come to a doctor asking such advice he can only organize their problems. He cannot make their decision, or he may create more problems than he solved.

"Clergymen, too, often have people come to them for advice whose troubles are psychosomatic, and they are referred to a psychiatrist."

Professors Seem To Conflict

He admitted that medicine and religion sometimes "seem to conflict" and said:

"A physician may have a woman patient of Catholic beliefs, for whom there is very sound medical reason for regulated birth control."

Dr. Hastings suggested that in such a case the patient make her own decision after getting the advice of both the doctor and the priest.

The psychiatrist also warned:

"A phychiatrist is not a Mr. Fix-it who tells people how to live their lives. He is a medical scientist who seeks the source of abnormal behavior and attempts to regulate it."

New Construction Is Authorized Here

Of the $94,200 in new construction, five permits accounted for $86,000, according to a survey Friday of city building department records.

The largest was to C. H. Grollman, owner, and W. G. McMillan, contractor, for a two-story business building costing $34,000 at 1306 Broadway.

E. K. Killingsworth, contractor, obtained one for a frame and stucco addition costing $20,000 to the Porter-Sistrand clinic at 2401 Nineteenth and Roy Roberson was authorized to erect a brick and tile business building costing $14,000 at 2001-7 Fourth.

Two permits for residences were: Carl Suitt, 3619 Twenty-ninth, $10,000, and James Rice, 2618 Second, $8,000.

Permit total for the month was increased to $209,385 and for the year to $6,733,979.

Clovis Tramples Hubbers, 15-10

Wildness Gives Clovis Victory

CLOVIS, N. M., July 9 (Special)—The Clovis Pioneers took advantage of one big inning offered them by a wild, ineffective Red Ramsey and scored nine runs in the second, then coasted to a 15-10 victory over the shaky Lubbock Hubbers.

Ramsey's wildness and poor hurling presented the Pioneers the game on a silver platter. The youthful Dallas hurler lost all control in the second inning, during which he walked six men, hit another, gave up three singles and a triple and fell so far behind that the Hubbers never could catch up.

Lose Ground

The humiliating performance on the mound cost the Hubbers a chance to go into second place and dropped them back to within half a game of the Amarillo Gold Sox. Albuquerque beat Pampa 16-6, while the Gold Sox dropped Abilene, 18-14.

The Hubbers, as they often do, took a lead in the first inning, when one run trickled across the plate. They added another in the top of the second and seemed to be on the way to owning big Al Kavanaugh. And then the match hit the powder works and the explosion could be heard in East Texas.

Manager John Bottanini led off the bottom of the second with a walk. Jess Jacinto lofted to Charley Scarborough and there was one away. But Gene Machado was hit by one of Ramsey's blazing fast balls and went to first, Bottarini moving to second.

Parade Begins

That was the beginning of the parade. Kavanaugh strolled to load the sacks. Mike Dalton walked, forcing in Bottarini. Frank Pacheco took four balls to crowd Machado over the plate and Chuck Novotney completed the cycle by taking four to send Kavanaugh across the plate. Still there was no sign that Ramsey was through.

Then Ray Bauer interrupted the laziness of the picture by singling, his hit driving in Dalton and Pacheco. Mel Serafini bingled through the box to load the bases again and Bottarini, up for his second platter appearance of the frame, singled through the box to score Novotney and Bauer.

Jacinto eased the situation by flying to left, but Machado completed the rout with a solid triple that sent Serafini and Bottarini in to dent the rubber. Kavanaugh walked again and Dalton ended the slaughter by fanning.

Rich Gets Homer

The Hubbers, as a team, never gave up trying, pecking away in small doses at Kavanaugh and the Pioneer lead. They never were able to catch them, after giving the home club a tremendous margin.

Virgil Richardson hit for the circuit in the third with no one on and Ramsey drove one over the fence in the seventh, after Scarborough and Frank McAlexander had singled.

Tonight another schoolboy wonder takes the mound, Cotton Russell hurling for the Hubbers against Tootie Dobbs for the Pioneers. Manager Jackie Sullivan benched himself in the third inning, when he complained that a hand hurt him.

Satchel Paige Blanks Browns In Two Inning Relief Role

CLEVELAND, July 9 (INS)—Leroy (Satchel) Paige, the ageless and fabulous Negro pitcher, made his American League debut here tonight by blanking the St. Louis Browns in a two-inning relief role for the Cleveland Indians who lost 5 to 3 before a crowd of 34,780.

The Browns nicked the gangling right hander for a hit in each inning but they could not score against him.

Paige is considered one of the greatest pitchers of all time and his age is reported to be anywhere between 40 and 50.

Paige was a replacement for Bob Lemon, who gave the Browns three runs in the first inning and was charged with the defeat, his seventh against 12 victories. Although the Indians outhit the Browns 12 to 9, they could not forge ahead against Fred Sanford the starter and winner and against Ned Garver.

To Play On U.S. All-Star Nine

Alderson Represents Texas At Ozark Meet

Jack Alderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Alderson, 2222 17th street, will leave Lubbock this morning by Braniff Airlines for Van Buren and Fort Smith, Ark., where he will be official junior ambassador from Texas to the National Baseball Festival of the Ozark Mountains.

Alderson, an outstanding 18-year-old high school athlete, represents Texas at the festival, which will last from Sunday through July 18. He also will play on the festival's baseball team, playing on the United States All-Stars nine in a series against the Van Buren All-Stars.

Has Fine Record

Selection of the former Lubbock High school football, basketball and baseball star was made possible through the high recommendations of H. J. McCabe, commander of Allen Brothers Post of the American Legion.

McCabe submitted Alderson's name as one of the leading high school players, an all-around athlete and a gentleman. He pointed out his superb record as a high school player, his trait of leadership and his work in the American Legion Junior League baseball program.

As a result, the director of the National Baseball office of Philadelphia, Pa., who operate the festival each year, quickly accepted the recommendations. They wrote Gov. Beauford H. Jester of Texas, advising him that Alderson would be junior ambassador from Texas. They also requested a four foot by six foot flag, which will be given to Alderson to present to the state of Arkansas, hosts to the festival.

Writes For Paper

Alderson will be taken on inspection tours of the Ozard area, will be a guest at dinners and will have every social opportunity during his week's stay. He also will be in the outfield regularly for the baseball team, where his .400 batting average will be made known.

The young Lubbock athlete also will do a daily story for the Avalanche - Journal, which will describe his adventures in Fort Smith and Van Buren. They will begin on Tuesday in The Morning Avalanche.

Mr. and Mrs. Alderson will not accompany their son, but will go to Fort Smith the early part of next week.

Final Six Weeks Start In Texas Softball Loop

SAN ANGELO, July 9 (Spl.)—The final six weeks of play in the Texas Softball League get under way with a full slate tomorrow night.

Only one team, Bluebonnet of Lubbock, is certain of being in the Shaughnessy playoffs for the season's title. Bluebonnet has won 19 games while losing only three to clinch first place in the league. They will meet Baldridge Bakery of Lubbock at Jumbo Webster Field, the third-placers fighting for a first division finish.

Ralph Earhart of Bluebonnet, who formerly held the league batting lead, has slipped from over .400 down to .367 and his slide allowed Bert Hester of San Angelo's Ragsdale team to take over with an average of .381.

Jackie Neel of Bluebonnet continues to be the leading hurler, with 167 strikeouts, ten victories against one defeat, five shutout victories and one no-hitter.

League regulations require that teams not use any new players after games or July 17, so that this week end and next will be the last chance for substitutes to become eligible for the playoffs.

Pitching dominates the league, with only nine out of 130 men hitting .300 or better. Shutouts have occured in 39 of the 92 games that have been played so far.

City Open Qualifying Rounds Start Today At Meadowbrook

Qualifying rounds for the City Open golf tournament, sponsored by Lubbock Optimist club, will get underway today at the Meadowbrook Publinx course, officials have announced.

All entries had not been reported to tourney headquarters late Friday night, so no complete list of contestants will be available until qualifying scores are posted.

Any Lubbock golfer is eligible to enter the tourney, officials emphasized, but qualifying rounds must be shot not later than Sunday afternoon.

Plainview, Lubbock Softball Nines Split Double Header

Plainview and Lubbock softball teams split honors in the special twin bill Friday night at Jumbo Webster park, with the College Avenue All-Star girls' nine of Lubbock drubbing the visitors, 16-1, and Culligan's Servi-Soft Water nine dropping the Thomas Jewelers, 6-2, in the feature tilt.

Maxey McKnight, Texas Tech track coach, was the winning hurler for the Culligan crew.

Fighter Killed In California

STOCKTON, Cal., July 9 (INS)—The second boxing fatality in California in six months was recorded today when Jose Berja, 27-year-old featherweight fighter, died after being knocked out last night.

Berja, known to ring fans as "Little Joe," was knocked unconscious by Roy Higa of Honolulu in the eighth round of their ten-round main event battle.

He was carried from the ring and taken to a Stockton hospital where he died without regaining consciousness.

Physicians said his death was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

In San Francisco, Donn Shields, chief inspector for the state athletic commission, who was present at the fight, said there had been no infraction of commission rules.

Shields stated.

"Everything possible was done for the boy. A doctor remained with him all night. Berja was in fine condition at his pre-fight physical examination, but he may have suffered a previous head injury.

Possible controversy over glove weights in the fights was denied by Shields, who said:

"The boys used 6½ ounce gloves. A ruling of the commission providing six ounce gloves be used for all fights up to the 147 pound weight class will not become effective until July 30."

He said that a rule providing fighters remain on the canvas until the eight count also will become effective July 30.

The first 1948 California boxing death occurred February 27 in Hollywood, when 28 year old Leroy Decatur, a negro boxer, was killed.

Ewell Defeats Patton, Dillard In Olympic Trials

EVANSTON, Ill., July 9 (AP)—Barney Ewell, holder of six national sprint titles, scored a surprising upset tonight when he won the 100 meter dash, pulling away from a brilliant Olympic tryout field that included Pel Mel Patton of Southern California and Harrison Dillard of Baldwin Wallace.

The time was announced as :10.2, which equals the world record held by Jesse Owens and Hal Davis of the United States. The wind was not a factor in the race.

Ewell started fast, went in front at 20 meters, and increased his lead all the way. The big negro devoured the ground with long strides that more than matched those of Patton, reckoned as America's prime hope for sprint titles at London.

Ten yards from the finish Bill Mathis, former National AAU champion, fell flat on his face, as the result of a leg cramp. He lay inert on the cinders for several minutes.

The battle for second place was close but the judges after a huddle awarded it to Patton with Dillard third.

Savold, Walcott Top Contenders

WASHINGTON, July 9 (U.P.)—Veterans Lee Savold and Jersey Joe Walcott were designated top men among aspirants for the heavyweight crown in the quarterly ratings released today by the National Boxing Association.

Blond Savold of Paterson, N. J., who never had a title shot, is 32. Walcott of Camden, N. J., who challenged twice, is 34.

The N. B. A., which still lists Joe Louis as champion, does not recognize either Savold or Walcott as a "logical contender" for the title. It says there are no logical contenders in either the heavyweight or welterweight divisions.

However, it does list Walcott and Savold as the "outstanding boxers" beneath Louis in the heavy class. Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati, who has been campaigning vigorously for a chance at the Louis' throne, is not rated as a heavyweight. Charles is recognized as logical contender for Gus Lesnevich's light-heavyweight title.

Beneath Walcott and Savold, 11 other heavies are given "honorable mention." If Louis ultimately makes "official" his promised retirement, managers of those 11 unquestionably will demand participation in an elimination series to determine Louis' successor.

In the featherweight division, four logical contenders are listed after champion Willie Pep. They are Chico Rosa, Sandy Saddler, Carlos Chavez and Jimmy McAllister. No other class has that many contenders.

Spur Legion Nine Gains Place In District Two Tournament

SLATON, July 9 (Special)—Spur's American Legion nine clinched a place in the District 2 tournament, which opens Tuesday night at Rosenthal field in Lubbock, by splitting a twin bill with Slaton here this afternoon.

Slaton copped the first tilt, 13-12, behind the hurling of Wayland Stephens, but dropped the second setto, 19-14.

BARBER COLLEGE WINS

Lubbock Barber college nosed out the First Baptists, 8-7, in a City Softball league game Friday afternoon. Bill Vandeventer was the winning pitcher.

Jaycee Fight Ducats Selling At Rapid Pace

Tickets for the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce fight card at Rosenthal Field July 22 continued to sell at a rapid pace yesterday, with only a few reserved seats left at the end of the second day of sales.

Late in the afternoon Delbert Williams of Petersburg phoned the Jaycee special desk in the Hotel Hilton and reserved 50 seats in Section B. As a result, only eight seats remain in this choice section, while the two other ringside sections also were going fast.

By 4:30 p. m., when the special desk closed for the day, only three rows were left in Section C and only two in Section D. The outer ringside sections, A and E, had 10 rows of seats left.

Box Seats Selling

Preston Baumgardner, in charge of reservations for the Jaycees, yesterday requested that all Lubbock residents making telephone reservations pick up their tickets not later than Wednesday afternoon at 4:30.

Holders of box seats at baseball games also were taking advantage of the special opportunity to reserve their boxes for the fights. When the desk closed yesterday, over a dozen holders had made reservations, The offer for box seat holders to redeem their boxes for the fights expires at noon Monday. Interested persons should call Baumgardner at 4363, or the Jaycee office at 6861.

Baumgardner said that a special booth would be set up in Levelland and Petersburg Wednesday, so that residents of those two places might buy both reserved and general admission tickets more easily. There is also a possibility that a special bloc of seats will be reserved for the Plainview fans.

Fighters Return Sunday

Bert Kahn, promoter of the fights for the Jaycees, yesterday went to El Paso to talk with the El Paso promoter Dick Griffin and to secure talent. Sunday Mickey Riley of Dallas will be here to sign contracts on additional fighters.

Sunday also is the day that J. D. Kirkpatrick and Bill Henderson will leave Cliffside Park, N. J., for Lubbock to train for their six-round fights. Both will be making their first professional appearance before South Plains fans, after providing them with fine showings in the Golden Gloves.

The card, which is in the process of being made up now, will feature Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Mauler, as referee. His presence is certain to attract additional fans and the faithful will be rewarded by his word in the ring.

FOR OUR FAIR:

A Hereford Division

A registered Hereford division in the Livestock department would be a highly desirable addition to the Panhandle-South Plains fair next Fall. The request of the South Plains Hereford association that one be provided seems assured of approval by fair association directors unless circumstances, such as the time element, make the step clearly impractical.

The logic of the suggested expansion is apparent. Herefords long have been an important breed on the South Plains ranges. Yet the possibilities may have been little more than touched. Spokesmen of the South Plains Hereford association, which was organized recently, are making a systematic effort to exploit those possibilities.

Hereford men say, frankly, they expect cotton surpluses may force a trend toward other uses within the next few years for much land now planted in the staple. They are convinced that Herefords might be a most important replacement, for, or supplement of, cotton as a cash crop. They say this section, with its abundant feed producing potentialities, might become the most important Hereford breeding area, bar none, in the land. A Hereford division in the Panhandle-South Plains fair, they assert, would help provide the support and encouragement needed to attain these goals.

There is no question as to the eagerness of fair directors to do all they can to help the South Plains. If they deem a Hereford division is at all practical, they can be relied upon to provide one at the next fair.

If that proves impossible, continuing manifestations of interest by the breeders almost certainly will insure an important Hereford division by not later than 1949, and at all Panhandle-South Plains fairs thereafter. Officials of the fair association are just as much interested in adding a splendid new asset to the fair as the Hereford breeders are to provide one.

Logical Suggestion

ONE exceedingly persuasive fact supports to the contention of Rep. C. A. Eaton, of New Jersey, chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, that the House of Representatives should be given equal authority with the Senate in shaping American foreign policies.

That fact is that the House is in closer touch with the American people than any other branch of the federal government. The entire House membership is elected every two years. These elections would afford the quickest available means of obtaining a direct expression from the masses of the American people on matters of vital foreign policy. Senatorial elections do not afford such an opportunity now. Elections affecting only one-third of the Senate membership each two years are not a true cross-section test of opinion. Further, they do not allow the people to displace a majority of that body if its actions on foreign policy are in conflict with the public attitude.

To require ratification by the House as well as by the Senate, before such things as foreign treaties might become operative would give the masses of people a more direct control over such policies. True, such a requirement doubtless would add to the time and difficulties required for final action in such matters. But, considering that treaties are likely to involve such vital things as war and prosperity, perhaps the time and difficulties would be justified.

PATIENCE finally heard a train rumbling through the tunnel.

"Oh, Roger, I thought one was never coming."

Roger said he too had been beginning to get anxious.

"You think we'll catch the 'plane now?"

He glanced at his watch, a frown wrinkling his brows.

"I hope so."

It was nearly 2:45 by the time they reached the hotel. In a moment they were in and out again with their cases and flinging them into a taxi. Charlotte and Dwight Breeden had, of course, gone on. The man at the reception desk had told them that as they'd dashed past him.

"Thank heaven, I paid my bill and packed this morning," said Roger. "I wonder if I dare tell this taximan to drive any faster?"

Patience gave a little shudder. Her nerves, she was finding, weren't quite what they had been since that lorry had come out of that side road so disastrously! In fact she was quite frankly terrified. As it was he seemed to be taking them along at a hair-raising speed.

"I think he's going as fast as he can," she said. And then suddenly something struck her. Something that she hadn't noticed before.

"Roger, what's happening to the weather?"

"It's not looking too good, is it?"

Dark clouds lay low in the sky. A gusty wind seemed to be rising.

"Flying won't be too pleasant, will it?" Patience said timorously.

"They won't take off if it's too bad."

She wondered which would be the lesser of two evils. And decided that if they could still catch the 'plane she'd rather risk the journey. The thought of not being there at the barrier to meet her aunts was even more frightening.

"What's the time, Roger?"

Roger's hand covered hers.

"Darling, you keep asking me that! It won't stand still, I'm afraid."

"I'm sorry. I just can't help it. Roger, supposing we do miss the 'plane?"

"Even if that happens the world wouldn't come to an end."

HOW could he be expected to understand how terribly important it was she should get there? It wouldn't matter to him, of course. He'd not got an Aunt Helen and an Aunt Alice waiting to meet him at the barrier in time to catch the 6:30.

But already above them a plane was circling in the sky. They could hear the roar of its engines. Patience leaned out of the window watching it, her heart full of misgiving.

The driver swung in through the wide gates. He brought his cab to a standstill. They dashed out and raced towards the tarmac. But there were only two 'planes there, and it was clear that neither was about to set out on a journey.

Roger looked around and found an official. He made swift inquiries. The 3 o'clock 'plane to London?

"It's just taken off, Monsieur."

"Oh, Roger, Roger, what shall I do?" gasped Patience.

"Is there another one?" asked Roger. "It's most important this young lady and I should get back. We had reservations on the 3 o'clock.

The man shook his head.

"I'm very sorry, Monsieur. That will, I'm afraid, be the last 'plane away today." He looked at the sky dolefully, and back again at Roger and gestured with his hands. "The weather. Our reports are not good. It may change, of course, but I do not think it is very likely."

Patience's heart shook.

"Roger, we must get back," she said desperately.

Roger looked at the official.

"Is there any chance of hiring a private 'plane?"

Again the man shook his head. He was indeed very sorry. It was most unfortunate that they had not been there just a few minutes sooner.

ROGER put a hand on Patience's arm. "We'll have to go some other way, darling. Train and boat, I'm afraid, are our only hope."

"But it'll take so long."

Their taxi driver, they found, had been waiting to see what had happened.

"Take us to Cook's," said Roger. "We'll go straight to them and see which is the quickest route to take."

Patience sat back again in her corner. Her hands clenched and unclenched in her lap. She wished—oh, how much she wished it!—that she'd never agreed to come to Paris.

"Roger, what can we do?"

"Well, first we'll see just how soon we can get there."

"How soon do you think it'll be?"

"I'm afraid it'll mean traveling by night. Probably Le Havre to Southampton or the Newhaven-Dieppe route."

"And they take a long while."

"Quite a time."

"Oh Roger!"

Roger drew her hand through his arm. "Darling, don't worry too terribly. We'll get out of this all right. We'll wire Charlotte to the flat—she said she was going there before she went to the theater—and tell her to hold the fort as tactfully as possible if your aunts contact her. And once we're back—I know, I'll see them with you, and help you to explain what happened. I'll take all the blame." He smiled down at her reassuringly: "Darling, don't look so tragic. You wait till I tackle Aunt Helen and Aunt Alice—believe it or not I've got quite a way even with quite middle-aged women."

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IT would be nice if people could wear two suits at one time.

Let me illustrate that seemingly foolish remark.

Andrei Gromyko is generally known to wear the robe of the Russian statesman. He is stern, non-communicative, or, in American terms, nasty and repulsive.

But some newspaper reporters have caught him off-guard. They discovered that he is also a father and husband, in other words, a human being.

BRANDEIS

For instance, just a few days ago, he complained petulantly about being criticized for his vetoes.

He cast only 25 vetoes, he said, while President Truman has cast 137 in the same time.

"It seems he is well ahead of me," he said with a smile.

Wouldn't is be nice if Mr. Gromyko could wear two suits at one time—one of the statesman, the other of the human being?

Trygve Lie, Secretary General of the United Nations, is also a formal and punctilious sort of man. He is not very jovial and not the type to make the United Nations a very human and popular organization.

But a few days ago he was much concerned about getting a package off to his native Norway on an overseas plane.

It was extremely important, he told the airline officials.

State papers? Confidential documents?

No. That package contained forty vials of streptomycin which are hoped to save the life of Mr. Lie's former chauffeur who is ill of tuberculosis in a hospital in Norway.

The only thing that can save his life is this powerful new drug, which is unobtainable in Norway.

Wouldn't it be nice if all the United Nations delegates and officials could wear two garments at one time—the robe of officialdom and the plain suit of a human being?

I have been on this earth for quite a few years.

In those years I have met thousands and thousands of people, as most newspapermen do.

I must admit that among those thousands there have been several hundred who were pretty awful specimens of that human race to which we belong.

I still meet lots of people and approximately half of them are what you would call second-class merchandise.

But I don't dismiss them as rotters any longer.

I have learned to find something good in every one I meet, and I have learned something much more priceless:

Way down deep in his heart—or in hers—every hu-

HST'S FOES BUSY

Douglas In Spotlight

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — The 1944 doublecross performed on William Orville Douglas by the big city bosses, including President Truman's backers, has been advanced here by the Supreme Court Justice's friends as a powerful reason for substituting him for Mr. Truman for the 1948 presidential ticket.

The Washington jurist is the real choice of many New Dealers, especially the Americans for Democratic Action, who had been whooping it up for "Ike" Eisenhower. They eulogize him as a more legitimate heir of Franklin D. Roosevelt than any man whose name will be placed before the convention.

TUCKER

Justice Douglas was F.D.R.'s first preference as a 1944 running-mate after he had agreed to dump Henry A. Wallace, according to the version peddled here on the eve of the maneuvering and trading. The late President hoped to build up Mr. Douglas as a possible successor, and, had he been named for V. P. four years ago, he would be the party's logical candidate today.

VICTIM: But the former Yale professor and SEC chairman was the victim of the nominations of ex-National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, Bronx Ed Flynn, Jerseyite Frank Hague and the late Sidney Hillman, then head of the C.I.O.

Oddly, Messrs. Flynn and Hague, as well as other promoters of Harry S. Truman in 1944, are the ones who now want to sidetrack him, with Justice Douglas as their only good bet available.

SIGNIFICANT: Although Justice Douglas has said that he does not seek the nomination, the belated unveiling of the 1944 conspiracy against him by his friends at this critical moment is regarded as significant. It seems more than accidental. Here it is:

After F.D.R. kissed off Wallace by telling the convention that he (Roosevelt) would vote for the Iowan if he were a delegate, the late President prepared to write a second note naming Douglas as his ideal runningmate.

Then the bosses went to work on the tired, weary man in the White House. They persuaded him to add Truman's name after that of Douglas in this second communication.

INFLUENCE: Mr. Hannegan, an ambitious young man, sought to advance the Missouri Senator, who had been a pal since old Pendergast days in Kansas City. Messrs. Flynn and Hague looked upon the ex-professor as an intruder, an unknown, and did not believe that he would add any strength to the ticket.

Sidney Hillman—"clear it with Sidney"—might have been expected to have supported Douglas because of the latter's extreme liberal and pro-labor views. But the shrewd New Yorker did not feel that he could handle the "hard-boiled Bill" if the latter ever sat in the White House. And Felix Frankfurter, an anti-Douglas man on the Supreme Court, exercized tremendous influence on the C.I.O. boss.

VILLAIN: Bob Hannegan, however, is branded as the real villain of the anti-Douglas plot in the version now told so assiduously in hotel lobbies, smoke-filled rooms and pre-convention huddles.

When he read F.D.R.'s second note to the delegates at Chicago, he reversed the order of the two names so as to put Mr. Truman's first. It was the final fillip that gave the Missourian a narrow margin over Wallace, and led to his entry into the White House.

Mr. Hillman did his part by rushing to the tower of the Morrison Hotel and persuading Mr. Truman, who had planned to nominate James F. Byrnes for the No. 2 spot, to make the race himself. He also passed word among his labor allies that Truman, not Douglas, had been tapped by the White House.

This account, so carefully timed for its last-minute effect here, is advanced as evidence that the Washington jurist deserves the presidential nomination if the boys and girls conclude that Mr. Truman is too heavy a handicap to carry against the Dewey-Warren combination.

LOCAL: The two anti-Truman factions oppose the Douglas candidacy, albeit for different reasons.

The Flynn-Arvey-Hague group does not believe that he can win, pointing out that he has not increased his political stature or popularity in the last four years. His name at the head of the ticket would not help them to elect their local slates, which is why they want to get rid of Truman. Nor do they think that, as President, Douglas would recognize their rightful political and patronage claims on him.

The Southerners are even more bitter toward the Supreme Courter than they are against Truman. They have checked his record on Civil Rights. And they have found that on and off the bench, he has been a far more militant and strident advocate of anti-segregation, anti-lynching and anti-poll tax legislations than either Presidents Roosevelt or Truman.

SAFEGUARD: Justice Douglas' New Deal promoters do not seem to realize that his resignation from the Supreme Court would weaken the safeguard which their great hero —F.D.R.—expected to protect his reforms for at least a generation. Or if they sense it, they are willing to take that chance in their frantic desire to name one of their own as the 1948 flag-carrier.

As of today, the high tribunal is fairly well divided between liberals and conservatives. Doublas belongs to the former faction, which also consists of Justic Black, Murphy and Rutledge. The conservatives are listed as Frankfurter, Ree., Jackson and Burton. Chief Justice Vinson has been the swing man, siding with one or the other groups.

But if Mr. Douglas should have to resign to run for first or second place and if the Senate refused to confirm a Truman appointment next January, the selection might fall to Governor Thomas E. Dewey. And he would hardly name an ultra-New Dealer of the Douglas stamp.

A lot of stuff being dished out these days as food for thought is nothing more than pap for prejudices.

Hang on to as many dollars as you can. In the next few years they will likely increase in value to the point where each of them will buy 50 cents' worth of something.

"Couldn't we talk you out of giving us your clothes?" asks a collection agency for charity. Not unless you first talked us into becoming a nudist.

A woman can get her name in the papers by having triplets, but there are easier ways.

"The WAA is offering for sale a number of obstacle courses." After trying for ten minutes, we were unable to think of anything the world needs less at this time than obstacle courses.

PLATFORM POLICIES STUDIED

Demo Party Leaders Confused

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA — Nothing has revealed more clearly the dilemma of the Democratic party today than the preliminary proceedings preparatory to drafting a 1948 platform at its convention here.

For example, when Morris Sayre, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, appeared before the group holding public hearings on platform proposals, he was given a two-hour grilling about the policies and objectives of this big business group. He squirmed under the unsparing criticism of his inquisitors.

STOKES

Here the party's traditional stand against monopolistic and greedy tendencies often found in great corporate enterprises was brought up to echo, briefly, the triumphant crusade in which Franklin D. Roosevelt once united the plain people of the country under the Democratic party banner.

NAM Tactics Scored

The atmosphere was alive with challenge as the N.A.M. was charged with killing price control and failing to live up to its promises that removal of controls would lower prices, with seeking tax privileges for the rich and well-to-do, with trying to destroy the New Deal reforms. The prisoner at the bar was indicted without mercy, a scapegoat for the great economic forces that are regaining control over government.

Here the party leaders on the platform group let themselves go. Here they talked freely and with one voice.

But, when advocates of President Truman's civil rights program appeared they were heard in complete silence, without interruption, and when they had concluded, not a word was said by the gentlemen at the table, not a question asked, either by the three representatives of the South or those from other parts of the country.

This silence had been imposed by agreement among the platform group so that the issue would not be fought in public to dramatize anew the split that divides the party so bitterly. It was decided that this issue would be argued behind closed doors later when the group sits down to write the platform.

This is the skeleton in the Democratic closet, and vainly the politicians tried to lock it up. But it won't be locked up.

The gentlemen about the table heard Walter White, executive secretary of the National association for the advancement of colored people, as he told them, that "the day of reckoning has come when the Democratic party must decide whether it is going to permit bigots to dictate its policy"; that "the party must move forward or perish."

With an almost brutal frankness he cited figures to show that it was negro votes that provided the margin of victory in 12 states with 228 electoral votes for the Democrats in the 1944 presidential election, and that in "reasonably close elections" negro voters are a vital factor in some 75 congressional districts in 17 border and northern states with a total of 295 electoral votes. It was very plain talk.

Plan Is Made

In silence, too, the gentlemen of the Democratic party listened to Dr. Channing H. Tobias, distinguished negro leader of New York, in one of the most moving and eloquent appeals ever heard by this reporter. He confined himself in his brief, impromptu talk to segregation in the armed forces which he said is uppermost now in the minds of negro citizens because of the new draft act.

"I tell you frankly," he said, "that negro Americans at this time are not disposed to look with indifference upon that issue. They are appealed to in times of preparation for war and in time of armed conflict on the basis of the Constitution and the bill of rights, and they are challenged with their lives to go out and defend those sacred instruments of Democracy and freedom.

"Do they not stultify themselves? Without question they do that, recognizing the fact that the very principles themselves are belied in the positions they are forced to occupy before their country."

He concluded: "If there is not freedom for all, this is not freedom at all."

He finished and departed in silence—but a silence that spoke like a mighty thunder in the still room.

And all the noisy words with which the gentleman at the table had confounded Mr. Sayre of N.A.M., all the fine phrases about economic progressivism, were as nothing, for a divided party can not win an election, and if it can not win an election it can do nothing about those high aims for the plain people.

Mr. Sayre will have the last word.

PRE-TRUCE BOMBING—The blasted and charred body of a Haganah soldier tumbles out of a jeep as other soldiers run to throw sand on the burning vehicle during a surprise raid by a twin-engined bomber, presumably Egyptian, before the current truce went into effect. The men in the background apparently met death as they leaped from the jeep to seek cover. Tel Aviv censors, who delayed this picture's arrival in the United States, said that casualties were heavy. The photographer, NEA Staff correspondent David S. Boyer was rescued from an Irgun Zvai Leumi lynching party by Haganah officers after the picture was taken near Rishon Le Zion, Palestine. MARKET CONTINUES COMEBACK
NEW YORK, July 9. (AP)—Railroad stocks pounded down the line to the highest level in two years and the market generally reached a 23-month peak today.

Individual issues advanced fractions to more than two points.

Final prices were just about tops for the day.

Trading was the most active in about two weeks. Turnover of 1,370,000 shares compared with an even 1,000,000 yesterday.

Wall Street had two pieces of good news to work on. The settlement of the long dispute between three unions and the nation's rail systems, and this morning's surprise news that the Interstate Commerce Commission had allowed eastern railroads to charge higher passenger fares.

Biggest immediate worry is the result of the walkout of the miners employed by captive soft coal mines, those owned by steel companies.

Big Steel gained 1⅝ at 62⅜ and Youngstown Sheet added 1¼ at 86⅛. Both touched new highs for the year during the day.

Others at 1948 peaks during the day, the higher by fractions to 2 points or more at the close, were Missouri-Kansas-Texas preferred at 27⅞, N. Y. Central 17⅞, Southern Pacific 62⅛, Illinois Central 42, Nickel Plate 20, Dow Chemical 47¼, Philip Morris 31½, Emerson Radio 18⅝, White Sewing Machine preferred 117, Colorado Fuel and Iron 19⅝ and Lehigh Valley Coal 4½.

Richfield Oil fell back ⅛ to 44. The decline apparently reflected disappointment over the fact that directors voted the usual dividend on the common, whereas many had expected a boost.

In the over-the-counter market the bank-eligible U. S. government 2½s of September 1967-72 regained 3/32 of a point of recent losses. The issue closed at 101 31/32 bid while others were unchanged.

In the listed market, selected railway bonds advanced around 1 to 2 points.

Marked up in the curb were Fairchild Camera, Kaiser-Frazer, American Gas and Electric, and Cities Service. Volume of 330,000 shares compared with 390,000 yesterday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .5 of one point to 72.4, the highest since August 1946. The rail component also gained ⅛ point at 47.9, a top since July 1946.

Of the 1,029 issues which appeared on the tape, 560 advanced and 236 declined.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, July 9 (AP) — A drop in corn prices which extended to more than 4 cents at times today sent the yellow grain to new lows since mid-March. The July contract sank within a few cents of the $2.00 mark on the board of trade. All other contracts have gone under that level.

Other grains also were weak. Wheat held up fairly well, traders said, in view of heavy receipts at cash terminals and prospects of showers in the northwestern spring wheat belt.

July and September were the weakest corn deliveries. Holders of these contracts were liquidating them and not finding any willing buyers.

Wheat closed ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, July $2.29¼-29.29, corn was ¾ to 1¾ lower, July $2.02-02.02¼, oats were 1 cent lower to ¼ higher, July 80⅛-¼.

TAKE the most repulsive human being you know.

I am sure that if you could trace him back to his early childhood you would find that he was just as cute, just as honest, just as sweet as all little children are.

That child did not grow into a repulsive adult by its own making. Like a plant, that child needed training and cultivation.

Perhaps that child was brought up in the wrong soil, the wrong moral climate, with the wrong kind of nourishment.

There isn't much you can do about old plants that have withered and warped. But for Heaven's sake let us see that the seedlings are properly cared for.

And if I got away from my original subject—well you got two columns in one.

Grand Jury Probe Of Death Of Carole Landis Talked

HOLLYWOOD, July 9 (INS)—The Los Angeles county grand jury tonight was considering a full investigation into the sleeping pill death of Carole Landis, beautiful blonde movie star.

Possibility that official probing into the mysterious suicide was seen after the mother of the blonde actress disclosed that she "was not completely satisfied" with a coroner's inquest yesterday.

A number of circumstances surrounding the strange tragedy remained unexplained following a two-hour "informal questioning" of British actor Rex Harrison; the film star's maid, and her former stand-in.

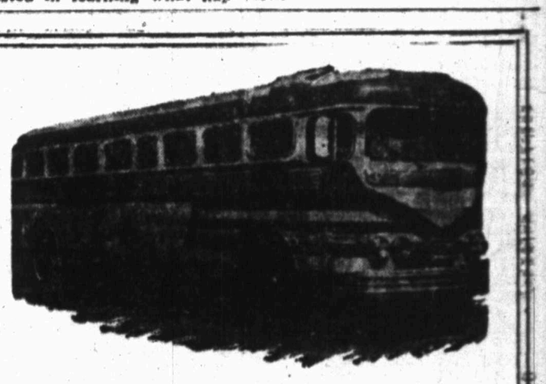

Authorities were particularly interested in learning what happened to a so-called "second note" the one-time sweater girl of the screen reportedly wrote before she snuffed out her life with an overdose of lethal sleeping tablets.

Rep. John McCormmack Says He Would Take Second Spot

NEW YORK, July 9 (INS)—Rep. John W. McCormick, of Mass., said tonight that he would be "willing" to accept the vice presidential nomination of the Democratic party.

The House minority leader, appearing on Mutual's "Meet The Press" program, said:

"I'm available. I'm willing. But I am not an active candidate. If they think I'm the man that fits into the second place picture this year, I'll accept with the greatest of pleasure."

Soviets Warned U. S. Will Not Be Forced To Leave Berlin

their "rights" in Berlin and said they "will not give way before menace or pressure."

UN Charter Cited

By their emphasis on the "international" nature of the Berlin dispute, the western powers opened the possibility that if Russia does not give way on the blockade they may take their case to the United Nations. Marshall, in fact, appealed to the Russians for a peaceful settlement in line with article 33 of the United Nations charter. This article calls on the parties to any dispute to settle it by negotiation, mediation, conciliation or various other peaceful means. In addition, it empowers the U. N. Security Council, when that body deems necessary to "call upon the parties to settle their dispute by such means."

Authorities described the American note as extremely firm though not in any sense belligerent in tone.

In it Marshall proclaimed American willingness to negotiate with the Soviets and other occupation powers outstanding disputes over Berlin but he declared of the city and the western zones that restoration of communication between the western sectors of Germany is "a prerequisite" of any negotiations.

Situation Intolerable

Marshall indirectly accused the Russian government of breaking an agreement which Premier Stalin made with President Truman in June 1945, through the imposition of blockade restrictions on travel to Berlin.

The note declared:

"It is intolerable that any one of the occupying authorities should attempt to impose a blockade upon the people of Berlin.

"The United States government is therefore obliged to insist that in accordance with existing agreements the arrangements for the movement of freight and passenger traffic between the western zones and Berlin be fully restored.

Needs Are Imperative

"There can be no question of delay in the restoration of these essential services, since the needs of the civilian population in the Berlin area are imperative."

The blockade of Berlin by the Russians has been in effect three weeks, forcing the western powers to supply the 2,000,000 Germans in their areas by air.

Britain and France sent separate notes.

The United States note took the cover of secrecy off some of the arrangements made by President Truman directly with Premier Stalin in the June 1945 regarding the joint occupation of the German capital.

Marshall told the Russians that the agreements regarding occupation of Berlin "implied the right of free access to Berlin," and he added that "this right has long been confirmed by usage."

Marshall declared that restrictions Russians have imposed on traffic movement have "operated to prevent" the United States, Britain and France from looking after the well-being of 2,400,000 people in the western sectors of Berlin.

He said that in the population are hundreds of thousands of women and children who need food, medical supplies and other materials.

"The most elemental of these human rights which both our governments are solemnly pledged to protect are thus placed in jeopardy by these restrictions," he contined. It was at this point that he called the blockade "intolerable." In talking about negotiations on Berlin problems, Marshall made it clear that he was not talking about a conference of the four-power foreign ministers council which the Soviet-controlled press in Germany has recently been advocating.

He declared that such agreements as exist between Russia and the United States over Berlin should be settled by negotiation or other "peaceful methods" rather than by "duress."

Reds Threaten

Russians will require all allied cars using the autobahn — the Hitler-built four-lane main highway—to have Soviet permission for each trip and permit examination at Soviet check-points.

The Soviet order at the same time re-opened the autobahn to traffic from the west, but like traffic from the east, this will be under strict Soviet supervision.

The Western Allies in the past have abandoned certain railroad traffic rather than submit to Soviet controls.

Air Shuttle Praised

The Soviets said their new order is aimed at preventing traffic in "illegal goods."

Until now, allied automobiles have been permitted to leave Berlin without Soviet permission or examination.

Berlin-bound traffic from the west was stopped by the Russians when they instituted currency reforms in Berlin.

These developments came as Maj. Gen. George P. Hayes, deputy U. S. military governor, told International News Service that the Western Allies are beating the Soviet blockade of Berlin with their air-shuttle.

He praised American "ingenuity and technical genius of the type that solved so many problems during the war" for success of the air lift to Berlin. He said: "The experiment of the past two weeks has proved that the air lift is successfully meeting the problem of supply to Berlin."

'Ike' Again Says No

someone else from nominating the general. And some delegations actually are pledged to vote for Eisenhower.

But the general could scarcely have made it more certain that he would turn the nomination down. He said his position was based on a "sincere conviction as to the best interests of the country."

In quick succession after Pepper released his wire:

1. Chicago Democratic leader Jacob M. Arvey announced that he and Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York were abandoning the boom to draft Eisenhower and "intend to vote in the convention for the nomination of President Truman." Arvey in Chicago and O'Dwyer in N. Y. both predicted Mr. Truman's nomination.

Roosevelt Convinced

2. James R. Roosevelt, prime mover in behalf of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Democratic presidential nomination, informed Eisenhower-for-president headquarters tonight "I am now convinced Gen. Eisenhower would not serve if nominated by the Democratic party."

3. Leslie L. Biffle, convention sergeant-at-arms and adviser to President Truman, told a reporter: "I don't think there is any question now that the President will be nominated on the first ballot."

4. Former Senator Hugh Mitchell of Washington, who had given a strong hand to the attempts to draft Eisenhower, said "it's all over—President Truman is going to be nominated. Let's forget about our differences and get together to elect him."

Another Candidate Sought

5. Southerners weren't giving up quite so easily. They were scrambling frantically and gloomily for some place to turn.

Senator Lister Hill of Alabama told a reporter: "Those of us who are against Mr. Truman are going to have to counsel and agree on another candidate."

Hill has been an Eisenhower man. He and many other southerners were fighting Mr. Truman largely because of the President's stand for anti-lynching anti poll tax and anti "Jim Crow" laws.

Hill made it clear that Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas would be just as unacceptable to the south as President Truman because of the civil rights issue. Next to Eisenhower, Douglas has been mentioned more than anyone else among stop-Truman Democrats.

Rump Session Hinted

Arvey told a news conference he was not turning to Douglas. Instead, he called for united backing for Mr. Truman.

Democratic National Chairman McGrath says he is confident that Douglas also will decline to let his name go before the convention.

Among the southerners, the trend seemed to be to try to get together on a "protest candidate" of their own. That might be someone who could offer no real challenge to Mr. Truman's nomination but who might become the pick for a southern Democratic convention.

Unhappy southerners already have announced they plan such a meeting in Birmingham July 17 if the Philadelphia convention selects Mr. Truman.

South Seeks Nominee

With that in mind, some of them were talking of people like Senator Richard Russell of Georgia, Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky, who will deliver the keynote address here next Monday night, and House Democratic leader Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Two Kentucky delegates already have announced they are coming here to work for Barkley for president.

Hill and Pepper said they plan to talk with Roosevelt when the California special arrives tomorrow morning. It probably will be decided then, Hill said, whether to go through with the caucus Roosevelt originally called for tomorrow night with the intention of getting up steam for Eisenhower.

Also in a fidget was Senator Olin Johnston of South Carolina.

He was hedging a bit on whether he would lay before a Democratic national committee meeting tomorrow a resolution calling on Mr. Truman to get out of the presidential race.

Before coming to Philadelphia, he had announced he intended to do just that. McGrath hinted that any such resolution probably would be bottled up in a resolution committee of the national committee.

And after the latest Eisenhower statement, Johnston hustled off to see some other southerners like Hill and Pepper. Over a shoulder he tossed word to a reporter he would decide later what he would do about his resolution.

On the two biggest problems still apparently remaining before the convention—vice presidential nomination and platform—nothing definite had developed.

A dozen-odd men have been mentioned for second spot on the ticket. McGrath said twice today that Mr. Truman had not expressed any preference.

A platform committee was in the process of winding up hearings today. It still has to hew the planks one by one, including the one on civil rights.

Some southerners say it may be possible to get a civil rights plank that will afford a path for dissatisfied Dixie delegates to come back into the Truman camp.

Examination at the hospital failed to reveal any serious injuries, and he was released to go back to work, the attending physician said.

$5,000 Bond Set In Assault Case

Bond of $5,000 was set Friday afternoon in the court of Justice of the Peace C. E. Lynn for Walter Martin Welch, 27, listed as living two miles south of Lubbock on Slaton highway, after a charge of assault with intent to rape had been brought against him at noon yesterday by a 27-year-old Lubbock divorcee.

Welch was still in custody of police last night after failure to post bond. At last reports, he had made no statement to authorities.

Mother of Two Children

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin took a statement from the woman, mother of a 9-year-old daughter and an 18-months-old son.

She had been savagely beaten, Croslin said, and was examined Friday. The district attorney said she had been whipped with a belt, which police held as evidence.

At Court to Visit Friends

The woman told Croslin that she and two other women went to a tourist court here Thursday night to visit friends. Afterward they went dancing. The complainant said that she had worked all day at a drug store and that she was tired, so that when they returned she lay down and went to sleep.

She said she was awakened by the presence of a man in the room. She allegedly never had seen him before. He made an indecent proposal to her, she said, and seized her when she attempted to call a taxicab in which to leave.

Police received a call that a woman was being beaten and made the arrest.

The woman said her assailant had stripped much of her clothing from her and had beaten her about the body and struck her in the mouth when she fought him.

The felony charge was filed in the court of C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, for grand jury investigation.

A $15 fine was assessed in corporation court against Welch, for disturbance affecting others at the tourist court. Welch pleaded guilty and was remanded to custody in lieu of fine, City Recorder J. Solon Lea said.

Fines Are Assessed

Daniel Fernandez, about 40, was fined $100 and costs by Judge Walter Davies in county court Friday on a charge of violation of liquor law. Judge Davies also assessed a fine of $25 and costs against J. H. McGinty, about 30, for violation of the 1947 plumbing license law.

Joe Macias, a Mexican charged with desertion on July 6 in the justice court of D. W. Robertson, had posted bond of $750, court records showed.

Mrs. J. S. Hubbard of 2521 Twentieth Friday reported to city police that her resident had been entered on the night of July 7 when the occupants were out and a billfold, containing $2 and miscellaneous personal papers, had been taken.

weight.

Charles E. Shepperd, Florida state legislator from St. Augustine, declared heatedly:

"We do not propose to tolerate any further interference in states rights in the South. We and the negro understand each other. We don't want any federal bayonets forcing him down our throats.

Williams, who now publishes the Southern Farmer and is president of the Alabama Farmer's union, said the white people "brutalize every decent instinct of mankind" when they keep the negro in an inferior position.

GOP Program Assailed

Sparks shot back:

"When you use the word brutalize I think you are going a little too far."

Earlier two Roosevelt New Dealers let loose a blistering attack on the GOP and urged the Democratic party to pledge government curbs on living costs and to save rich oil resources from the people.

The first, wartime price administrator Leon Henderson, termed inflation a Republican-made "time bomb" under prosperity and told Democratic platform drafters they should pledge immediate action to avert another round of price and wage increases.

He called for price, allocation, inventory and credit controls.

The second, former Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes, using sarcastic tones reminiscent of political battles of the thirties, charged the Republican party would "give away" vast underwater oil resources and "enhance the riches of the Rockefellers and Pews."

Appearance of Henderson and Ickes featured final hearings on a 18-member resolutions subcommittee of the party's national convention opening Monday. Tomorrow a five-man subgroup will get down to the task of writing a draft of the party's 1948 statement of principles.

Truman Doctrine Hit

Another Truman policy also came under attack. A spokesman for the American Council for a Democratic Greece told the subcommittee that the "Truman doctrine" in Greece should be abandoned.

Further, the American Zionist council pleaded for a modification of a present embargo on shipments of arms to Israel.

Henderson's proposal for government controls to curb inflation ran counter to recommendations offered by William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Green urged a voluntary attack on prices by industry, labor, agriculture and other economic groups under sponsorship of the government. He suggested that the President's Board of Economic Advisers consult with committees representing these groups in development of a "joint program."

Control Of Insects On Farms Discussed

Approximately 200 Lubbock county farmers met in the Aggie auditorium at Tech yesterday afternoon to hear various discussions on cotton, cotton insects and how to control them.

D. W. Sherrill, county agent, had previously pointed out that destructive insects were not too numerous in the county at the present time. But he warned that a period of cloudy and humid conditions could cause them to multiply rapidly enough to get out of control.

Films were shown at the meeting on the cotton aphid and the fleahopper and other types of insects. Colored illustrations of the insects, including their life cycles, together with guides on the use of insecticides were distributed to those present.

W. L. Stangel, dean of the division of agriculture at Tech, spoke on 'Balanced Farming;' L. O. Buchanan, director of the cotton classing office here, talked on 'Better Class and Grade of Cotton;' and Don Jones, superintendent of the experiment station, explained 'New Developments On Cotton Breeding Work.'

Following the discussion, W. L. Owens, entomologist, directed a trip to the John King farm, west of the college. There, both destructive and beneficial insects were identified. The pamphlets on insect control may be obtained at the county agent's office.

Rain Falls In Area

weekend was for scattered thundershowers in the afternoon and evening. Little change in temperature was indicated. The maximum reading Friday was 96 degrees.

Meanwhile, wind and rain storms lashed the widely separated cities of Greenville and Borger Friday, causing comparatively minor damage, the Associated Press reported.

Rain and heavy winds were reported between Waco and Hillsboro Friday night but no damage was reported.

The Waco Weather bureau reported 1.04 inches of rain in an hour and winds up to 40 miles an hour, the Associated Press said.

The Borger storm, which struck about 7:30 p. m., knocked out long distance telephone lines, broke plate glass windows, and uprooted trees. No injuries were reported.

Lightning struck three homes, two business places, and killed three horses during a two-hour storm at Greenville. The lightning was accompanied by strong winds and heavy rain. Power and transformers were damaged.

Jack Roberts, news editor of radio station KHUZ at Borger, said winds estimated at 60 miles an hour struck that city, and an inch of rain fell in about 20 minutes. The Borger storm lasted about 45 minutes.

During a 30-minute period at Greenville, an inch of rain fell. The temperature at Greenville dropped from 102 degrees at 2 p. m. to 76 degrees at 4 p. m. The horses were killed on a ranch near Greenville.

The western part of the state blistered today. There was a reading of 104 degrees at Salt Flat; Wink had 103, and Laredo, Fort Stockton, and Crystal City, 102 degrees.

Man Who 'Demoted' HST On Roadside Sign Is Fined $75

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., July 9 (INS)—A sign designating Independence as the home of President Truman cost a young advertising representative $75 dollars today in court.

John W. Fraser, Jr., 28, was fined $25 and $50 damages after he pleaded guilty to defacing the roadsign by adding the prefix "ex" before the name of President Truman.

The levy was ordered by Magistrate J. J. Brady who said he was disregarding "political implications" of the act which could result in a fine of $500 and a year in jail.

Owners of the sign had asked for leniency in the case.

McGee Returned To Lubbock Jail

a streak" shortly after they left Austin.

The deputy said McGee told them he "hitched a ride" from Brownfield to San Angelo through Lamesa after trying unsuccessfully to "thumb a ride" toward Roswell.

Eubank said the youth told him that while he was riding with the unidentified motorist the auto radio began a newscast in which a report of the Lubbock slaying was started.

The insurance salesman calmly reached over and flipped off the radio switch before any details of the slaying could be given, saying to his benefactor, "Things like that upset me so," Eubank reported.

The youth spent the night in San Angelo, the deputy said, and hitchhiked from San Angelo to Fredricksburg after abandoning a plan to go to San Antonio. At Fredricksburg, McGee boarded a bus for Austin.

Papers Are Found

It was in Brownfield that South Plains officers lost McGee's trail Wednesday afternoon, after Bill Garrett, Hilton hotel bellhop, had reported that a man who answered the description of McGee had "kidnapped" him in Lubbock and at pistol point had forced him to drive to Brownfield.

Later a man identified as McGee had acshed a check in a Brownfield bank, but from there the clues to McGee's whereabouts had faded completely until he was spotted boarding an Austin city bus at 4:30 p. m. Thursday in the downtown section of the capital city. He was arrested a short time later by Austin police as he sat on the back seat of a bus near the home of his sister.

At the county jail here, Eubank and Davidson found a newspaper clipping in McGee's billfold which told of the death of Allston following the shooting at 2020 Fifth. Also in the billfold was a scrap of paper on which was written the name of Bill Garrett and also the name of one of Garrett's relatives who lives in Fort Stockton.

Services Are Conducted

Garrett had reported that the man that kidnapped him had claimed to be an insurance salesman and had taken his name and address and that of a relative shortly before the man dropped his pose as a salesman and pulled the short-barrelled revolver from under his coat.

At the jail before he was placed in his cell, McGee thanked Eubank and Davidson for their considerate treatment of him on the trip to Lubbock from Austin. He was stripped of all metal parts of his dress including a large gold ring.

At the time he was booked he was wearing a light blue suit, a gay colored bow necktie and white shirt, but was unshaven and appeared tired.

McGee was confined in the county jail only a few hours after final services for Allston were held at the First Christian church with the Rev. Travis A. White, pastor, officiating.

Allston was shot at 12:45 p. m. Wednesday and died 4:15 p. m.

Allston is survived by his wife, two daughters, Betty Jane and Sue Allston; his mother, Mrs. Rosabell Allston, Amarillo; three brothers, Alfred and John W. Allston, Amarillo, and O. W. Allston, Pampa; and four sisters, Mrs. Clair McCollum and Mrs. C. F. Tarkenton, both of Pampa, Mrs. Henry Jensen, Salina, Kans., and Mrs. G. G. Crawford, San Diego, Calif.

Pallbearers were George Kuykendall, Daniel Boone, V. E. Goodwin, Gerald Sandlin, all of Lubbock, and Roy Abbott, Amarillo, and Hollis Miller, Pampa.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Optimist club and members of the South Plains Grocers association. Allston was manager of the grocery association at the time of his death.

Mr. Allston was shot through the kitchen door of his quarters in Colonial apartments, at 12:45 p. m. Mrs. Allston told officials that McGee had talked with her husband briefly before the shooting and that Mr. Allston had denied McGee entrance to the apartment. McGee, she said, an hour earlier virtually had forced his way into the Allston apartment to ask Miss Betty Jane Allston, 18, whether she would marry him—against the wishes of her parents. When she failed to answer, McGee was said to have threatened the entire family, to have shaken Miss Allston, and to have warned that he would be back "soon."

He went directly to a pawnbrokers and bought a pistol. Then he returned to the Allston apartment.

A charge of murder with malice was filed against McGee Wednesday night by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin following the death of Allston from a gunshot wound in the neck.

State health inspectors told reporters sulphite gives spoiled meat the appearance of fresh meat.

The jury began its prolonged investigation June 1 after District Attorney A. C. Winborn, Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan, school board officials, and state health department inspectors had conducted inquiries of their own.

Bonds Total $36,000

All information collected through the inquiries was turned over to the grand jury which questioned approximately 200 witnesses.

District Judge Frank Williford, who received the indictments today from grand jury foreman Gus Dittmar, set bonds totaling $36,000 for the 11 defendants.

Boeker's bond totaled $16,000.

Other defendants and their bonds include:

S. Schenven, one indictment including 10 counts, $5,000 bond; Sol and Irving Taub, named jointly in two indictments with two counts each, $2,000 bond each; William Siros and Guy T. Mazzola, charged jointly in one indictment with two counts each, $2,000 each; L. A. Harris, one indictment of two counts, $2,000; V. A. Wilborn, Morris H. Cohen, J. J. Lieberman and Harry Silverman, charged with one indictment each, $1,000 bond each.

All those indicted, except Lieberman, were called before the grand jury at least one time during the investigation.

Blind Youth Seeks Books In Appeal To Residents Here

Thirteen-year-old Charles Ray Isbell of 418 Avenue C, who has been blind since birth, has read and re-read hi copies in Braille of "Science and Health" and the Bible and would like other books to read.

Not knowing whom he might call to locate Braille books, he appealed to the newspaper to help him find such books or some other such aid.

He would like standard books, such as the dictionary or reference books, as a loan or gift.

Name Is Misplaced

In answer to the appeal, Charles received several calls Friday night, some of them offering record players.

"One lady called to say she had a combination radio-record player that I might use," Charles said last night, "but I have misplaced her name and phone number and would appreciate her calling me again." Charles' number is 2-7488.

The boy has attended the Texas School for the Blind at Austin each school year since he was nine, except when he had rheumatic fever more than a year. Concerning the rheumatic fever, he said, "I'm virtually over it. I am lucky, I guess."

He described blindness as a "minor physical difficulty" and said a blind person is not as handicapped as one might think. He can read and write, get around by himself in the house, play the piano, listen to the radio and take part in many activities.

Charles had explained in a story in Friday afternoon's Journal that he would be glad to have a record player. He has several albums of records which he once played over and over when he borrowed a record player. He had said he was hopeful someone had an old machine stored away in the attic which he might use. The calls came in but now he needs to know the name of the lady who called to offer him the combination machine.

Isolationism Scored

Texans interested in such subjects as high taxes, the high cost of living, crops and prospects for rain.

"They agree with me that matters like a strong national defense and a strong stand against Communism are not issues at all. Everybody favors them," Stevenson said. He described an "issue" as "something about which there is definite disagreement."

Isolationists Hit

Johnson spoke to citizens in El Campo after reburial rites were held for Pvt. Rudolph J. Jecemenek.

"His blood and the blood of thousands more like him is on the hands of do-nothing isolationists who loved their dollars more than they loved your lives.

"Had we insisted that the old men of the Senate spend ten million dollars to put in effect the preparedness program recommended by the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars after World War One, Rudolph Jecemenek might be here today," Johnson said.

The candidate also visited Edna, Ganado, Wharton, Bay City, West Columbia, Angleton and Galveston yesterday.

Peddy said in a radio speech at Amarillo late Friday that Johnson visited Europe in 1945 but failed to take any action thereafter to halt Russia's expansion in Europe.

"If he saw any of the suffering, the degradation, the chaos that was paving the way for Russia to do what she is doing today, he never did do anything or say anything about it," Peddy stated.

Speaking at Beaumont, March made a bid for labor's votes in the governor's race with these words:

"Beauford Jester has crucified labor in Texas by securing the passage of nine anti-labor statutes during the last session of the legislature.

"When I am elected governor I will do everything in my power to repeal these laws. Since collective bargaining is a product of free enterprise, I would not have the government interfere with the rights of either management or labor in their bargaining."

March planned a whirlwind swing today through Cleveland, Livingston, Corrigan, Lufkin, Nacogdoches, Henderson and Tyler.

He is scheduled to be in Houston Sunday and campaign Monday at Conroe, Huntsville, Crockett and Palestine.

William Murray, candidate for the railroad commission, was guest at a dinner given by his supporters in Midland Friday noon and guest at a coffee two hours later at Odessa. He will be a guest at a breakfast in Lubbock this morning and at a luncheon in Amarillo at noon.

Murray will be in Beaumont and Port Arthur Tuesday and Wednesday; at Carthage and Halletsville Thursday and at Texarkana, Sherman and Denison on Friday.

'Victim' Of Highway 'Accident' Not Found

Carl Kendrick of Idalou highway reported to the sheriff's office last night that a motorist had stopped him on the east canyon hill and ask him to report an accident to the office.

The man told Kendrick, according to the reports in the sheriff's office, that he thought he had hit a pedestrian on the hill, but could find no evidence of the victim after stopping and making a search.

Deputy John Barnett and Judge Walter Davies went to the scene of the supposed accident to help the motorist search for the man he thought he had injured. No injured person was found, and investigation of the automobile showed no signs of a collision with a person or animal.

City police were searching for a suspect who was believed to have taken a .45 automatic pistol from the suitcase of a traveler at the AAA Travel bureau, Main and Ave. H, about 4 p. m. Friday.

M. E. Smith of Trinidad had come into Lubbock from Levelland by bus, and left his bag at the bureau while he went out to eat and visit a barber shop. Returning to the travel bureau, he noticed that the bag had been disturbed, and investigation revealed that the gun was missing.

The suspect being sought by police last night was said to have been in the building when Smith first opened his suitcase there, and Smith stated that the man showed considerable interest in the gun.

Bus Drivers' Trial

the defendants violated the O'Daniel law by alleged use of violence to prevent another person to engage in a lawful vocation.

Driver Left Bus

On the night of May 22, according to testimony of state's witnesses, the defendants grabbed Stovall by the leg after he had stopped a bus in Guthrie. He was released, however, upon agreement that he would leave the bus, the testimony indicated.

Stovall said that he left the bus following the alleged incident and walked back toward Lubbock until he caught a ride with a motorist.

The defense, represented by G. H. Nelson, George McCleskey, and F. D. Brown, all of Lubbock, presented six character witnesses in behalf of Pace and Harris.

Defense Denies Claims

In answer to the prosecution's contentions, the defense argued that the force and violence, if any, was not sufficient to prevent a man from engaging in a lawful occupation. They stated that the alleged force or violence was very meager.

They further argued against the state's case that the bus was not lawfully operated at the time of the alleged incident, since it did not have the proper Railroad commission tags on the front of the bus. Therefore, they contended, the proceedings should be quashed on the grounds that there had not been an alleged offense against the state.

Witnesess Are Named

The case was given to the jury about 10:45 p. m. Testimony had been completed about 4 p. m., arguments followed.

Witnesses for the state were Virgil N. Stovall and Jess Levens, both of Lubbock, the latter vice president and general manager of the TNM&O, Inc., Mrs. C. R. Moseley, of Athens; 'Babe' Graves, Hawley Graves, Lynn Ray Smith, R. S. Benson, Oscar Hudsteth, Foss K. Wideman, and R. B. Haley, all of Guthrie.

Character witnesses were H. W. Stotts, Hop Halsey, Jarrott W. Martin, T. O. Murphy, Carl R. Mullins, ad C. J. McCarthy, all of Lubbock.

The bus company has alleged several acts of violence since the beginning of the strike. A driver was claimed to have been attacked by several men at Abernathy, the night of May 21. Several buses were targets for rocks and other missiles. It was said that sugar was found in fuel connections of some buses, an tires deflated on others.

OBJECT REPORTED THROWN AT BUS NEAR MATADOR

MATADOR, July 8 (Special)—Thursday about 9 p. m., a bus driver reported to Sheriff John Stotts, of Matador, that someone had thrown an object at the bus one mile west of there.

The driver said that it was thrown from a car going in the opposite direction. Four small dents were found on the side of the bus about four feet behind the driver's seat, the sheriff said.

On June 15 a dynamite explosion wrecked the office of Hurley Carpenter, assistant general manager of TNM&O, and did less damage to three other offices.

A reward of $1,000 was authorized by Jess C. Levens, bus company general manager, for information leading to the arrest and conviction of those responsible for the bombing.

DEATH IS PROBED

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 9 (AP)—Mysteriously received injuries were fatal last night to 19-year-old Vivian Matthews of Tipton, Okla., found unconscious and bleeding on a road near Frederick Wednesday morning. She died shortly before midnight but never came out of a coma to tell what happened. In Frederick, Deputy Sheriff R. L. Morey of Tillman county questioned two men who were with her Tuesday night.

GERMANS FINISH STUDY

COBLENZ, Germany, July 9 (AP)—Western Germany's leaders finished their proposals tonight for a German government. If these proposals are accepted by the American, British and French military governors, 45,000,000 Germans in the west may have a government modeled after the United States next year.
