Hearing On Charter Sparked By Humor

Witnesses Limited To 15 Minutes And Connally Uses Gavel Freely

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 11—The United Nations charter rode through a peppery and sometimes uproarious barrage from antis today toward obvious approval by the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

The witnesses, some of them old hands at Capitol Hill testimony, were limited to 15 minutes each. Committeemen, who have long been recorded as heavily in favor of ratification, asked only a question or two.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) held the watch on each witness, gavelled one of them into silence with the help of the police, and with a mixture of courtliness and bluntness kept the proceedings largely in a state of amusement.

Racial Equality Plea

There was one proponent in the schedule, W. E. B. Dubois, of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He said he favored U. S. ratification of the charter designed to enforce peace but he urged a reservation clarifying a pledge of racial equality.

The committee's third day's hearings got off to a turbulent start when Agnes Waters, of Washington, D. C., listed as representing the National Blue Star Mothers, castigated the whole treaty. She charged "conspiracy" and "fraud" and when her time was up didn't want to quit.

Connally refused to bargain for another five minutes. Mrs. Waters shouted her views further and the chairman banged the gavel so loud she couldn't be heard.

Try To Equal Noise

Calmly, Connally commented: 'I'll see if I can't make as much noise as you can."

Several policemen helped Mrs. Waters to her seat. She brushed off the arm of one, saying "I'm not afraid of you" and subsided.

David Darrin said he represented the United Nations of Earth, Associated, and Connally asked what that was. It wasn't anything, Darrin said, except a letterhead he devised one time. It didn't have any members except himself.

"There is no reason why a man can't associate with himself," observed Senator Barkley (D-Ky) and when the crowd guffawed, Connally strired up more laughter by saying:

"Please, let's have order and let's hear Mr. Darrin and Association."

He thanked Darrin when he had finished and said he hoped he would "report to the association." The witness said the international charter would lead to "perpetual war."

The Rev. J. Paul Cotton, Cleveland, O., representing the World Peace forum, clashed with Connally when the chairman called time on him and said that was an infringement of free speech. He was shut off, however, after testifying that in his opinion "there is something sinister in the speed" of the Senate on this charter.

New Rule Starts In Berlin Today

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, July 11.—Four generals upon whom devolves the task of governing the defeated German Reich's bomb-cratered capital today constituted themselves Berlin's "kommandantur" and announced they would take over the city at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Their names soon will be household words in Berlin—Col. Gen. Alexander V. Gorbatov of Russia, Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, of the U. S., Maj. Gen. L. O. Lyne of Britain, and Maj. Gen. Geoffrey de Beauchesne of France.

Friendly Atmosphere

In what Lyne, as spokesman for the "kommandantur" or commandery, described as an "atmosphere of great friendliness," the four met in Gorbatov's headquarters in Berlin's veterinary college. The Soviets had raised the banners of the four victorious nations in the huge building's courtyard, leaving a large red and gold star hammer and sickle atop the building to indicate this was Russian-occupied territory.

The conferees sat at a T-formed table with Gorbatov at top. He will head the "kommandantur" at first, after which other members will rotate on a 15-day basis.

Difficulties Lie Ahead

Lyne admitted great difficulties lie ahead, but said 17 subcommittees were working out details and added "I cannot believe there is any problem which cannot be solved."

For the present, each Allied occupied sector will be responsible for supplying its troops as well as civilians, but there will be interchange and possibly a pooling of commodities to insure unified supply and distribution. French officials and troops are continuing to live as guests in the British sector, meanwhile studying their occupation tasks.

To Issue Proclamations

Lyne said proclamations will be issued tomorrow to Berliners informing them that in broad outline the set-up hitherto designed by the Russians will be continued and advising them the "kommandantur" now is the supreme governing body which will direct the Berlin mayor and the city council what to do.

The food problem still looms as the biggest immediate one in Berlin. Questioned whether the principle of each sector providing its own food did not mean that other sections of Germany would be deprived of German food reserves to feed the capital, Lyne said that was a matter for the experts to decide.

Liberalized GI Plan Approved

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—The House Veterans committee approved a liberalized GI bill of rights today—but first stripped it of a bonus provision which would have given each veteran $1040.

That proposal, sponsored by Committee Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) would have applied to every discharged veteran regardless of whether he has a job. Under the present bill unemployed veterans can get $20 a week assistance for one year.

Committee members offer no explanation for voting down the bonus plan. It can be brought up later as a separate measure.

Job Plan Controversy

Meanwhile, another committee-approved measure—to permit veterans to take jobs in "closed shops" without joining the union—prompted two controversies on the House floor.

Rep. Green (D-Pa) sharply criticized Rankin for "reporting the bill without bearings or more consideration" and asked unanimous consent that it be sent back to the committee.

Rankin blocked the move by objecting and told Green "any (Turn to Page 7, Column 2, Please)

Cutback In Value Of A Coupons Feared

DALLAS, July 11 (AP)—Possibility that the recently increased value of a gasoline coupons may be reduced due to over-issuance of gasoline to C card holders was announced today by H. F. Carmichael, district Office of Price administration director.

Carmichael said a spot check of 100 C card gasoline issuances would be made at each of the district's war price and rationing boards to determine whether or not such gasoline for preferred mileage is being seriously over-issued. Indications are, he said, that it is.

Carmichael added that the national gasoline picture suggests that unless over-issuance can be stopped it may be necessary to reduce gas coupon values.

Bugler Out, Music Wakes Up Veterans

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., July 11 (AP)—The boys at the Army's Welch Convalescent hospital are now awakened by music instead of the blast of a whistle.

Psychiatrists say it has a better effect on war-weary nerves.

A sound truck makes its rounds through hospital grounds playing popular music to awaken the patients.

FLOOD WATERS INUNDATE BROWNWOOD — A recent rain of 5.10 inches in a short time sent Adams branch on the north and Willis creek on the south over an estimated square mile of Brownwood's business and residential district. One person was drowned. Widespread damage has been caused by continuing flood waters in several parts of Texas.

Two Drown, Property Damage Heavy As Texas Deluges Continue

(By The Associated Press)

Flood dangers in the Jacksonville-Kilgore area of East Texas were lightened yesterday afternoon when rains ceased and swollen streams began falling. However, skies remained heavily overcast.

Two deaths from drowning and property damage estimated at several hundred thousand dollars were caused by deluges which have hit the area since Tuesday night.

Bodies Recovered

The body of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Sander, 26, was recovered yesterday afternoon in Rabbit creek south of Kilgore after a day-long search by 100 volunteers. The body of her daughter, Mary Nell, was found earlier. The two were drowned in a flash flood as they tried to escape in an automobile from a flooded house.

The child clung to the top of the car half an hour while her father and neighbors tried to reach her. The bodies have been taken to Troup.

Rainfall in the Jacksonville area since Tuesday night reached 9.31 inches. Only one tomato shed was operating yesterday afternoon after the waning greenwrap tomato crop had been virtually washed out.

Crops Washed Out

Corn and other crops were washed out of the fields in many communities. A heavy peach loss was expected because the orchards were mired in and crops cannot be harvested.

Kilgore was virtually isolated after a 3-inch rain, with all main highways cut off by rampaging creeks. However, waters were falling and train service was expected to resume today.

A number of oil derricks were knocked down by floods in the Reeds Switch area.

Other streams rushing over the highways swept two automobiles off the road near Overton and two trucks from the Henderson-Kilgore highway.

One occupant of the cars, Seaman Lee Bank Damuth of New London, Tex., was taken to a Henderson hospital for treatment.

Denton reported 1.5 inches of rain in a 24 hour period ending yesterday morning. Paul Dunkle of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station at Denton said crops generally would not be damaged seriously, but oats, barley and wheat still in the field would suffer.

Athens reported rains in that section aided crops and pastures in the county.

Showers fell at Sherman, where seven days of rain this month have brought the year's total to 34.90 inches, more than the average fo rthe twelve-month rainfall there.

Officials Answer Protests Over World Sugar Division

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Sugar-short Americans are asking whether they aren't getting a raw deal under a "share-the-sugar" arrangement with the United Kingdom and Canada.

The question was prompted by news that the United States has brought the big Cuban sugar crop and is turning a goodly portion of it over to others.

The answer given by food officials is a detailed and emphatic "no."

In an effort to meet military requirements of the various fighting Allies and minimum needs of their civilians, this country, the United Kingdom and Canada have maintained what might be called a pooling arrangement on sugar since the war started.

Under this plan, all sugar available to these countries was, for the purpose of division, thrown together. Then from this total supply, military and civilian needs of these countries were met, and some was sent to Russia.

This pooling arrangement was prompted largely by the facts that some important peacetime sources of supply — particularly the Philippine Islands and the Dutch East Indies — were lost to Japan, and by the military necessity of keeping all Allied countries supplied.

Without such an arrangement, (Turn to Page 7, Column 2, Please)

St. John's Gets Foundation Aid

St. John's Methodist church of Lubbock is to receive $75,000, one-fourth of a $300,000 expansion campaign for the Wesley Foundation, Methodist student-work organization, according to announcement here Wednesday by Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, Methodist district superintendent, following his return from Dallas where plans for the three-year fund campaign were completed.

The fund-raising campaign, to be launched simultaneously throughout the five conferences of Methodism in Texas, was suggested by Dr. Glenn Flinn, who for several years has been giving of his time freely for promotion of the Foundation work. The campaign extends to May, 1948.

Organization Setup

At the Dallas organizational meeting were two ministers and one layman from each of the five conferences, the Texas, Central Texas, Southwest Texas, North Texas and Northwest Texas.

Dr. C. P. Clark, former Lubbock pastor now at First church, Abilene, was chairman of the meeting, and Hal Cherry, Fort Worth layman, was named secretary.

The Wesley Foundation, sponsored by the Methodist church for promotion of religious education and supervised recreation at state-operated colleges, has a unit here under direction of Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Matthews. St. John's has been designated as the "college church" here, and funds will be used by the church for building purposes and other promotion of Foundation work.

Other churches sharing in the $300,000 fund, and amount to be received by each: College church at Texas A. & M. $75,000; University church, Austin, $75,000; and First church, Denton, $75,000.

Bond Is Reduced For Imogene Stevens

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., July 11. (AP)—Superior Court Judge William H. Conley today ordered a reduction to $15,000 in the $50,000 bond under which Mrs. Imogene Stevens of New Canaan has been held since the June 23 fatal shooting in a neighbors home of Albert Kovacs, young submarine sailor.

Judge Comley's order was issued following a hearing in his chambers attende by Mrs. Stevens, her husband, paratroop Major G. Ralsey Stevens, 3rd, her attorney David Goldstein, and jail officials who brought her to the county courthouse.

"The next problem is to try and raise the bail," was the only comcomment of the blond, youthful-appearing veteran of the Normandy campaign as he left the hearing.

Mrs. Stevens is awaiting trial on manslaughter charges in September.

French Officials To Speak With Churchill

ST. JEAN DE LUZ, France, July 11. (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill, vacationing at this picturesque little Basque seaport, is expected to have an informal diplomatic conference with French officials, possibly tomorrow.

The Prime Minister took advantage today of the first excellent weather since he arrived to go sailing and spent most of the afternoon painting from the deck of the small sardine fishing vessel.

NOTED SQUADRON BACK

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11 (AP)—Two famed Marine Corsair fighter squadrons, the Wolfpack and the Eightballs, landed here today after a four and one half months tour of combat duty in and around Tokyo, during which they downed 313 Japanese planes and sank 80,000 tons of shipping.

Expanded American Press System Urged

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—Senator McFarland (D-Ariz) called today for an independent, world-wide American communications system as an implement toward achievement of world freedom of the press.

Such a system also is necessary of American commerce and business are not to operate at a disadvantage in the postwar world, the Arizona senator said in a statement.

McFarland, a member of the Senate Interstate Commerce committee, recently visited Europe with Senators Wheeler (D-Mont) and Capehart (R-Ind) to study communications. The survey, he said confined his opinion that "there can be no adequate freedom of news in the world without an effectively unified American communications system."

"I am a firm believer in the creed so ably expressed by Mr. Kent Cooper of the Associated Press, Mr. Hugh Baillie of the United Press, and numerous outstanding newspaper publishers that freedom of news—the right to send news everywhere and the right to pick up news everywhere without artificial restraints — would be one of the greatest deterrents to war," he stated.

"We shall not achieve that goal by declarations in peace treaties alone — it must be implemented by a vigorous and practical policy of establishment of a free, strong and independent American communications system operating all over the world."

McFarland added that it ap- (Turn to Page 7, Column 1, Please)

Japs Say Third Fleet Scared Off, But New Blows Expected

They Assert 'Tactical Opposition' By Them Saves Most Of Their Fleet

By LEIF ERICKSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Thursday, July 12—While radio silence shrouded the next move of the big U. S. carrier Tack Force 58, a Japanese military commentator said over Tokyo radio today that "without being able to resist this (mounting air) challenge, we cannot annihilate the enemy on the home land."

The unidentified commentator said "future attacks from the air undoubtedly will be the prelude to the decisive battle on the home land."

Tokyo's Report On Raid

Tokyo radio said about 1,200 carrier planes participated in Tuesday's assault, that it lasted 12 hours and that, in all, 1,940 American planes of all types were over Honshu island that day.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, disclosing night air attacks Tuesday night off Honshu, said no additional word had been received from

BRITISH BLOW REPORTED

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11 (AP)—Tokyo radio tonight broadcast an unconfirmed report that more than 200 planes from two carriers of a British task force attacked Sabang off the northern tip of Sumatra island Wednesday morning at 10:30 a. m. Japanese time (8:30 p. m. Tuesday, cwt).

The report placed the blow a day after the acknowledged day-long assault by 1,000 carrier planes of the U. S. Third Fleet Tuesday on the Tokyo area.

the task force since yesterday when he reported its planes had destroyed or damaged 154 enemy air craft, all but two on the ground, up to noon Tuesday.

Tuesday night, Nimitz said, "a number" of enemy ships were hit with rockets by Marine aircraft south of Honshu.

He also confirmed that 200 raiders plastered airfields on the southern Japanese island of Kyushu Tuesday.

Cargo Ships Fired

Additionally, he announced that search Privateers of Fleet Air Wing One set three cargo ships afire off the China coast that day and that enemy airfields in the northern Ryukyus were cratered Monday and Tuesday.

The enemy radio said that "due to our tactical opposition, practically no Japanese planes or warships were damaged."

What he meant by "our tactical opposition" was not clear unless it was withdrawing and hiding their planes and refusing to fight in the air.

Tokyo radio's discussion of the Third Fleet attack made another ambiguous reference to a task force operating east of the Kanto plain area and also to the southeast.

Still "In The Vicinity"

The whereabouts of the armada of battleships and carriers has been a mystery since it unleashed 1,000 planes at Tokyo's airfields Tuesday, but the Japanese said it still was "in the vicinity of our homeland."

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz himself promised the Japanese that Navy and Marine aircraft would keep raining blows on their homeland in preparation for "further amphibious assaults."

The Tokyo radio reminded listeners that the last time carrier planes struck the Japanese capital Iwo Jima was invaded and said the same tactics might be expected now with landings somewhere else.

Another enemy broadcast said the aerial assault on the home islands was maintained Wednesday by 150 fighters from Okinawa which struck air bases on the east and south coasts of Kyushu.

Japs Hoarding Planes

The whereabouts of the hoarded Japanese air force likewise was a mystery, for it refused to accept the challenge flung down by Adm. William F. Halsey's carriers cruising daringly close to Japan.

From that standpoint, Tuesday's heavy strike at Tokyo's ring of 70 air bases was a disappointment, for of 154 enemy planes destroyed or damaged, only two were caught in the air.

Reports continuing to filter in pushed toward 2,000 the number of planes which were in action over Japan and Japanese-held territory Tuesday.

In addition to the 1,000 carrier planes raiding Tokyo, and the more than 500 Superforts that struck five Japanese cities, nearly 200 bombers and fighters attacked from bases on Okinawa.

They hit two suicide bases on Kyushu and raided Korea and the Chinese coast, setting three medium freighters afire and attacking three destroyers.

Fire Bombs Open Path For Aussies

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Thursday, July 12—Australian Seventh division troops, aided by searing fire bomb strikes of U. S. 13th Air force Lightnings, Monday drove a three mile wedge into Japanese outer defense lines guarding smashed "Stone Ridge," inland from Balikpapan, on East Borneo.

A headquarters communique today announced the gain which brought leading elements through densely forested hinterland north of Australian-occupied Balikpapan to within a half mile of enemy-held fortifications on a 200-foot rise called Mt. Batochamper by the Malayans.

Heavy Mine Fields

The advance was impeded by mine fields and moderate resistance of the entrenched Nipponese.

Jellied gasoline bombs were dropped by low-flying P-38s, scorching a path for the advancing foot soldiers over a 12-mile radius.

At the same time, Seventh Fleet warships and other 13th Air force planes hammered the enemy line of resistance northeast of Manggar airdrome. They softened it sufficiently to enable the Aussies there to score a three-quarter mile breakthrough Monday. Fiercely fighting Japanese naval personnel is defending that approach to the Sambodja oil fields, and still replying with artillery and mortars to the combined sea-air-ground attacks.

Counterblow Repulsed

The Japanese attempted their third counterattack in two days, with the latest thrust coming three miles inland from the Seppinggang Ketjil river in the center of the Aussie lines. The attack was repulsed, a spokesman said, with Seventh division infantrymen streaming through the broken enemy defenses.

Tokyo radio broadcast a front line report from a Domei correspondent in the Balikpapan area which declared Japanese special attack units (kamikaze) on the ground have been particularly active since July 4 and claimed the destruction of three Matilda tanks. There was no Allied confirmation.

Yesterday's communique reported the smashing of two night infiltration attempts north of Aussie-held Manggar air field.

Greece-Yogoslavia Tension Is Mounting

LONDON, July 11 (AP)—Yugoslavia tonight renewed assertions that Macedonians were fleeing from Greece "before an organized terror" as Greece's prime minister, Admiral Petros Voulgaris, rushed to Salonika for a personal investigation of danger-fraught border troubles.

Before leaving Athens Voulgaris formally appealed to Britain and the United States to protect the Greek population in northern Epirus, along the Albanian border, until frontier disputes in that region could be settled at the international peace conference.

Premier Voulgaris' trip to Salonika apparently was inspired by Marshal Tito's assertion in a speech at Belgrade last week that "Greek reactionaries" were firing across the Yugoslav border in an attempt to provoke Yugoslavs to retaliation. Tito said at that time that Yugoslavia would not be provoked by the reported incidents, but would not demobilize her army as long as other nations remained armed.

Raid Damage Is Minimized

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11 (AP)—Japanese broadcasters today claimed the U. S. Third Fleet Task force which sent 1,000 planes to raid Tokyo airfields yesterday has "withdrawn for fear of our special attacks, but reported new air blows on Kyushu island, southern Nippon.

Western and southern Kyushu airfields were hit by 150 Okinawa-based fighters following night scouting visits by a few Superforts and Liberators over Kyushu and the western coast of neighboring Honshu island, said Tokyo radio in broadcasts heard by the FCC.

Reports Unconfirmed

The attacks, while unconfirmed by American sources, probably were in continuation of the recent daily forays against southern Japan by fighter units from Okinawa and Iwo Jima.

Tokyo radio also said the Japanese government had taken new steps to build up the nation's food supply and strengthen its railroad system, preparatory to an expected invasion.

The broadcasts added that the raid on Tokyo airfields yesterday by Vice Adm. John S. McCain's mighty air fleet had caused "extremely small" damage. While U. S. sources said 1,000 planes made th attacks, destroying or damaging 152 enemy aircraft, Tokyo upped the number of raiding planes to 1,200. The enemy said the raids lasted 12 hours, from 5 a. m. to 5 p. m., and claimed without confirmation 26 American planes were downed.

Noting the absence of Yank carrier aircraft over Tokyo today, one broadcaster concluded it was "apparent that the enemy task force has withdrawn after the raid for fear of our special attacks."

But he warned that the American carrier force "is still in the seas in the vicinity of our homeland."

MARINE, NAVY FLIERS DESTROY 17,000 PLANES

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—More than 17,000 Japanese planes have been destroyed since Dec. 7, 1941, by United States Marine and Navy planes, Undersecretary Artemus L. Gates of the Navy said today.

American fleet combat losses during the same period have approximated 2,700, Gates added, or a combat ratio of better than six to one.

Big Three Face Gigantic Tasks

LONDON, July 11 (AP) — The agenda of the Big Three's approaching talks at Potsdam, as reported in reliable diplomatic quarters makes the meeting the most important diplomatic conference since Versailles.

More than a score of important issues, including reparations and relief, await the attention of President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin.

Day's Developments

Three officials with important roles in the conference figured in developments today. Joseph E. Davies, former American ambassador to Russia, arrived in London; the Russian embassy disclosed that Ambassador Feodor Gusev left for Moscow to confer with Stalin; British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden talked with King George, believed to be a sign of Eden's imminent departure to join Churchill, now resting in southern France.

Diplomats rated these as chief issues for Big Three consideration:

Coordination of the occupation policy in Germany, involving fraternazation, re-education of the Germans, and the extent to which political parties and trade unions will be allowed to function.

End Of Car Rationing In January Forecast

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP) — The Production board, predicting the end of passenger car rationing in January, today considered an automobile industry request for permission to undertake full-scale plant expansion immediately.

Henry P. Nelson, WPB's coodinator of automotive reconversion, told a meeting of the automobile industry advisory committee here that WPB would decide "within a few weeks," on the proposal for a multi-million dollar factory expansion. No priority aid will be granted, however, he said.

The industry now has priority authorization for construction needed to build two million cars a year. The proposed new step—which Nelson acknowledged "must be undertaken sometime this summer" in the interest of peak post-war employment — would involve the building of new plants and branch factories adequate for four million or more cars annually.

Automobile rationing probably will be eliminated by January, Nelson said, by which time output will exceed the volumne required for essential drivers.

At a news conference after the meeting with presidents and experts of the 10 manufacturers now resuming automobile production, Nelson revealed also:

That WPB will relax its con- (Turn to Page 7, Column 8, Please)

Rotary Club Here Host At Annual Tri-District Session Wednesday

The Lubbock Rotary club was host to an annual tri-district assembly of the 127th District Rotary International Wednesday at the Hilton hotel. Charles Peyton of Cleburne, district governor, was in charge of the meeting which was attended by approximately 60 delegates representing 18 clubs of this area.

Purpose of the meeting was to acquaint new club officers with their duties and to review the overall work of Rotary clubs.

District Governor Presides

Following registration at 9:15 a. m., delegates were welcomed by Alex McDonald, president of the Lubbock club. The district governor opened the meeting.

Speakers for the day and their topics were: Duke Aston of Cleburne, "Defining Rotary;" Harris M. Cook of Canyon, "Club Service;" Pic Larmour of Graham, "Community Service;" Jim Willson of Floydada, "International Service;" Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, "Rotary Foundation."

In the afternoon, secretaries and presidents met in separate one-hour sessions. Fred Wemple of Midland presided at the meeting of presidents and Larmour was in charge of the meeting of secretaries.

Other Similar Meetings

A similar meeting was held in Mineral Wells July 6 and another will be conducted in Amarillo today for clubs of that area. Due to wartime restrictions, the district was divided into three sectional meetings. In normal times, the district would hold only one such meeting.

Past district governors attending the meeting were Harris M. Cook, J. M. Willson, Pic Larmour, Fred Wemple and Ed McLaughlin. McLaughlin has also served as director of the Rotary International.

The assembly delegates attended the regular Rotary luncheon at noon. Special speaker was R. A. Kilpatrick of Cleburne who is a brother of the late Jimmy Kilpatrick of Lubbock. He spoke on what Rotary should mean to the members. He pointed out that Rotary means fellowship which is the foundation of the organization.

The speaker compared Rotary work to various instruments, including a tripod. One leg of the tripod was representative of club service, one vocational and community service and the third leg, international service.

"Main benefit of being a member of the Rotary club is learning to play the game of life with fellowmen in a big way and getting a kick out of it," he said.

Guests introduced at the luncheon, who were not assembly delegates, were Tom Cartwright of Amarillo, George Loos of Laredo, Frank D. Carroll of Dallas, J. S. Bennett of Ralls, Tom Popplewell of Fort Worth and W. C. Ribble of Abilene.

Registered delegates and clubs represented: Ira J. Driver, Charles T. White, Big Spring; G. M. Roberts and Sam C. Jenkins, Lamesa; J. D. Halbrook, J. E. Ferguson, Sweetwater; Emmitt Lynch, Ernest Brannen, Percy Ralls, Leonard Bartlett, O. C. Thomas, Harvel Littlefield, Lloyd Wicks, Ralls; H. M. Christian, R. C. Georgs., Jack Christian, W. P. Small Quantity Of Sugar Received Here

Two and a fraction carloads of sugar, very little in comparison to demands, of the eight Lubbock wholesale grocery companies and one food store this week.

Two wholesale companies and a food store shared equally in a carload and one company was fortunate enough to get a full car. Three other concerns shared in a part of a carload.

Most of the company managers said the sugar received this week was the first they had seen since May.

Approximately 80,000 pounds is in a carload. One food store had some sugar Monday but the supply only lasted about two hours.

Wholesalers said they expected little relief in the near future. One manager said he wired several sugar companies Tuesday and was informed that none was available.

Monkeys Needed For Polio Experiments

AUSTIN, July 11. (AP)—V. M. Ehlers, state sanitation engineer, wishes servicemen could send monkeys as souvenirs from the Pacific instead of grass skirts and trinkets.

His wish, he says, is based on the need for animals on which to conduct experiments in poliomyelitis.

The animals available in the state department of health laboratory, rabbits, guinea pigs and rats, are not subject to this disease which is increasing so rapidly over the state.

Monkeys are prey to polio in much the same way humans are.

News Briefs

Funeral services probably will be read today for Mrs. Josephine Vernon of Dallas, mother of H. D. Phillips of 1626 Sixteenth, who died in Dallas early Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips left Tuesday for Dallas. Mrs. Vernon had visited here several months with her son, an employe of Southwestern Associated Telephone company.

Death July 1 of C. A. Rogers, formerly associated with Ratliff-Rogers Buick agency here, at his St. Louis residence was learned here Wednesday. He suffered a heart attack. The widow is the former Dorothy Branch, niece of Mrs. R. L. Goad of 716 Ave. K.

Miss Ella May Butler reported on attendance at a recent state convention when the Lubbock unit of the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists met Tuesday night at Hilton hotel. Twenty were present. A picnic is to be held Aug. 7. Mrs. Loraine Holland was elected secretary-treasurer to succeed Mrs. Mary Helen Millington, resigned.

Indian Commissioner Holds Tribe Meeting

GALLUP, N. M., July 11. (U.P.)—The four problems of the Navajo Indians were listed today as health, education, irrigation and problems of the returning Indian servicemen.

William A. Brophy, making his first appearance as Indian commissioner before the Navajo tribal council at Window Rock, Ariz., near here, yesterday pointed out that 3,000 young Navajo men and women were in the armed forces. He said the returning GI would have some opportunitiy for improving himself by "greater educational advantages and access to credit that his non-Indian brother has."

Brophy promised that health and education on the Window Rock and other Navajo reservations "would be improved."

Sergeant Has Soft Heart; Bakes Pies

PYOTE ARMY AIR FIELD, July 11. (U.P.)—Who says the Army is tough!

A worried father wrote to the B-29 superfort training field at Pyote that his son liked lemon meringue pie and, since he couldn't send one through the mail, he'd appreciate it if someone would whip up a pie for the boy.

Mess Sgt. George Connacher baked two.

The pie-lover, Pfc. Austin W. Carey of Erdenheim, Pa., ate his fill.

Gallup Tests Truman Proposal For Postwar Era

Mixed Reception Is Given Congress Pay-Boost Plan

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—Although most students of government agree that higher pay for congressmen is not only warranted but might make service in Congress more attractive to citizens, the people back home still tend to resist the idea of raising Congressional pay.

President Truman recently proposed a plan for increasing the salary of senators and representatives from the present $10,000 a year to $15,000 after the war. Shortly after the President's views were made known, the Institute started a survey to find out what the general public thought of the plan. From interviews with a carefully selected cross-section of voters the survey indicates the following highlights on this problem, which will be debated for many months.

GALLUP

People in the business and professional classes are in favor of raising congressional salaries. White collar workers are about evenly divided in their sentiments. The main opposition comes from farmers and from workers in the skilled, unskilled and semi-skilled groups.

The problem for congressional leaders, in short, if they want public support for salary jumps is to explain the situation and give convincing reasons to those segments of the population where $10,000 seems like a bountiful and magnificent sum.

The survey results follow:

"President Truman says that he favors raising the salaries of congressmen from $10,000 to at least $15,000 a year after general wage ceilings are removed. Would you approve or disapprove of this?"

	App.	Dis-App.	Undec.
Bus. and Pro. People	55%	32%	13%
White Collar	41	46	13
Farmers	24	55	21
Workers	32	46	22
NATIONAL	31	50	19

About one-third of the voters of the country (32 per cent) have correct information as to the present salary scale of senators and representatives, which is $10,000 a year. When this "informed" one-third were asked how they felt about giving members of Congress a raise, the number who expressed approval was somewhat larger than the average for the country.

Hay Movement Almost Halted In Southwest

DALLAS, July 11. (U.P.)—Unfavorable weather conditions and diversion of manpower to the grain harvest has nearly stopped all movement of hay in the Mid-West and Southwest, the office of marketing services reported today.

Prices remained steady with nominal quotations on new crop alfalfa delivered in Dallas remaining at $27 per ton. Dealers were offering $15 per ton for new crop upland prairie and $14 for new crop Johnson No. 2 Garde F.O.B. North Texas shipping points. Alfalfa receipts in Kansas City were only one half of last week's volume.

A car of alfalfa equivalent to U. S. No. 1 extra leafy green sold at $26, three cars equivalent to U. S. No. 1 or No. 3 leafy brought $22 to $23; eight cars of undercured alfalfa, but otherwise of good quality, ranged from $17 to $21, and 27 cars of low quality out-of-condition hay brought prices ranging from $9.50 to $16 per ton.

Water Safety Course Is Scheduled Here

Mrs. J. H. Stiles, executive secretary of the county chapter of the Red Cross, said that a representative from the mid-western area office at St. Louis will conduct a water safety instructors course under auspices of the Lubbock chapter Aug. 6-11.

The course will include 15 hours of instruction. Prior to it, a senior water safety course will be offered by Russell Birdwell to qualify persons for the instructors course and likely will be conducted a few days before the instructors course.

The Red Cross is seeking a trained swimmer and life guard to be employed at Buffalo lakes, now closed because of lack of a life saver. Persons qualified either through a Red Cross life saving and water safety course or such courses offered by military branches or other recognized agency offering training in life saving may apply. Living quarters will be available on the Buffalo Lakes site.

Women Find They Are Married To Same Man

FORT WORTH, July 11 (U.P.)—Two young women were summoned before a military police court here yesterday to give information concerning their husbands who were AWOL.

At court it was learned both of them were married to the same man. After comparing notes for a few minutes, the women parted friends. Now the luckless soldier still faces the AWOL charges, probably will be charged with bigamy and still have to face the wrath of two wronged — so they said—women.

SOLDIER KILLED

LAREDO, July 11 (U.P.) — Cpl. Stephen A. Vosper, 25, of Toledo, Ohio, was killed accidentally while hauling airborne armament at Laredo Army Air field Monday, Col. E. M. Day, commanding officer of the field, announced today.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

I feed my family RIGHT, these food-short days —and here's how I do it!

"I'm having the same trouble everybody has these food-short days. But I make sure, in the combination of foods I am able to buy, that my family gets the protective food elements it needs. One of these foods is Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, delicious as a cereal, in tasty muffins, and in dozens of tempting dishes that help provide nourishing, well-balanced and varied meals. I serve ALL-BRAN daily."

Improve your family's diet 5 ways with delicious Kellogg's ALL-BRAN!

Start reinforcing your wartime menus with abundant, economical Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. See how much nutrition you get from just one ounce!

IRON. One ounce of ALL-BRAN provides more than ½ of your daily minimum need for iron!

OTHER MINERALS. Weight for weight, 4 times as much phosphorus, nearly 3 times as much calcium, as whole wheat!

VITAMINS. Twice as much riboflavin, 3 times as much niacin, and just as much thiamin, as whole wheat.

PROTEIN. ALL-BRAN served with milk gives you a good amount of excellent-quality protein.

GENTLE LAXATION. A grand aid when elimination is faulty owing to lack of bulk in the diet. And it doesn't interfere with normal digestion, either!

ONE CUP OF ALL-BRAN

2 EXTRA BRANBURGERS PER LB. OF MEAT!

ALL-BRAN Branburgers

1 egg
1¼ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 cup milk
1 cup Kellogg's ALL-BRAN
1 pound ground beef

Beat egg, add salt, pepper; onion, parsley, milk and ALL-BRAN. Let soak until most of moisture is taken up. Add beef and mix thoroughly. Shape into patties and bake in hot oven (450°F.) about 15 minutes, or broil about 20 minutes. Make gravy by adding milk and seasoning to drippings. Thicken slightly. Yield: 6 large, or 10 small patties.

A cereal made from the VITAL OUTER LAYERS of finest wheat!

ALL-BRAN is made from the vital outer layers of wheat, in which are concentrated important protective nutrients found in the whole, ripe grain. It's carefully toasted—milled extra fine for golden softness. Get ALL-BRAN at your grocer's today! Made by Kellogg's of Battle Creek and Omaha.

Shift In Pacific Commands Brings No Comfort To Badly-Shaken Japs

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press News Analyst

Readjustment of joint-command control of air power in the Pacific, announced from Guam, came at a time well calculated to add to enemy expectation of new landings on Japanese territory but with no hint where they will come.

SIMPSON

The shift of Okinawa - based medium bombers to General MacArthur's direct supervision appears especially significant. It adds weight to Admiral Nimitz' promise of continued air assaults "preparatory to further amphibious assaults."

Completes Transfer

In effect the change completes the transfer of Okinawa from Navy to Army command which began with MacArthur's assignment of General Stilwell to lead the 10th Army based there after the death in action of its former commander, General Buckner. That was followed by the transfer of the 7th Air force from Luzon to Okinawa.

Unquestionably major ground forces involved in any impending new advance would set out from Okinawa. Assuming that the 10th Army as well as the 7th Air force now also is directly under MacArthur, he has available on that pivotal Japanese island both the troops and the tactical air units for close support of a new overseas sweep.

The regrouping is significant also of the changing situation beyond the Pacific as American seige lines close in on Japan. In previous island by island operations, except the return to the Philippines, relatively small landing forces were necessary.

The invasion of Japan's home islands when it comes, however, will be a different matter. It will take full scale troop movements under protection and support of the Navy and combined Army-Navy air power. That is what the regrouping of commands both in air and on the ground implies is being set up now. Although there is little to indicate that the invasion itself is close at hand or will be launched until additional bases off the Japanese coasts have been secured.

Senators Press Probe Of Incident In China

WASHINGTON, July 11 (U.P.)—Two Senators today pressed an investigation of the court martial and death sentence of two American soldiers in China accused in the mysterious death of an elderly Chinese woman after a drinking spree that ended with a buffalo ride.

Sens. Rogert A. Taft, R., O., and Brien McMahon, D., Conn., revealed they asked the War department for information on the case which was kept secret for a month to spare the mother of one soldier.

A stay of execution for the soldiers, Pvts. James F. Cooper, Cincinnati, O., and John V. Brennan, Hartford, Conn., had apparently resulted from the request, McMahon's office said. But no official details were known.

Cooper's wife, who arrived in Washington yesterday to seek aid for her husband, said her only information of the incident was contained in a letter she received from her husband on June 26. She said she had "no idea" if the sentence had been executed.

Records of the court martial proceedings were enroute here today from China by air carrier. The records were requested by Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson. War department precedure requires review in Washington of all death sentences.

Widow Of Sergeant To Christen Destroyer

WASHINGTON, July 11. (U.P.)—The destroyer U.S.S. Basilone, named after the heroic Marine gunnery sergeant who was killed on Iwo Jima, will be christened by his widow, Lena Mae Basilone, a sergeant in the Marine crops women's reserve.

The Navy said today that the destroyer, under construction at the Consolidated Steel Corp. of Texas at Orange, Tex., was tentatively scheduled to be launched late this fall.

Mrs. Basilone presently is stationed at Camp Joseph H. Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif. Her husband, John, won the medal of honor for heroism on Guadalcanal. He was killed on the first day of the Iwo Jima assault, Feb. 19, 1945.

Thermal Draft Sends Bombs Back To Plane

TINIAN, July 11. (U.P.)—The crew of a Superfortress told today how a thermal draft threw released bombs back into their plane and caused it to head back over their flaming target upside down.

The incident occurred over Wakyama, Japan. Crew members believed that the first bombs released over Wakuyama started intense fires. The resulting updrafts then caused incendiaries released later to fly back into the bomb bay where they ripped off the door and damaged the horizontal stabilizer. The B-29 did a half-lop and headed again over the burning city.

The plane eventually was righted and returned safely to base with its crew.

Veteran Pays Return Visit To Governor

AUSTIN, July 11 (AP)—Sgt. Aldrice L. Smith of Wortham, veteran 36th division member, dropped into Gov. Coke R. Stevenson' office today to complete some unfinished business.

It was Smith a few days ago who left at the governor's mansion, and departed without ceremony, a metal plaque of the German 36th division which the United States (Texas) 36th division captured in the Austrian Tyrol.

Smith was commissioned by Maj. Gen. John Dahlquist, commanding officer of the division, to deliver the plaque personally.

Gov. Stevenson invited suggestions from present and former members of the 36th division on disposition of the plaque.

Construction Of Dams To Be Recommended

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 11 (U.P.)—Construction of 700 small dams along the Rio Grande watershed is to be recommended for inclusion in the conservancy district-reclamation bureau flood control program.

C. B. Sanchez, secretary of the Sedillo soil conservation district said he would make the suggestion since the dams would be necessary to hold back silt and keep it from filling up river dams.

A bill authorizing the flood control project and providing for dams on the river itself is pending in Congress. The additional small dams would cost about $500 each, Sanchez said.

Henry Ford Announces Special Equipment

DETROIT, July 11. (U.P.)—Henry Ford, president of the Ford Motor Co., announced today that new and prewar cars manufactured by his company will be provided free with special auto driving equipment for veterans who have lost arms or legs in the war.

Ford said that the equipment may be installed in any Ford car, including Mercurys and Lincolns, in new or prewar models, adding that variations have been developed to compensate for every known combination of amputation.

He emphasized that the equipment will not interfere with normal operation of the car.

MEN'S CLOTHING

DO YOU think men respect women's taste and judgment on attire? We read recently that a man's fashion editor says 80 per cent of men's clothing purchases are influenced by women. Well, of course, to be honest about it, about 40 per cent of men's clothing purchases at the moment are influenced by their Uncle Sam, but as time goes on and discharges are given and men look around for civvies we suppose women will get busy with a little advice.

Off hand we'd say that the suits and slacker-jacks we have seen in the last few weeks must have been bought in protest to the khakis and blues that have been in wardrobes since 1941. And we seriously doubt that a woman had a hand in selecting those dashing costumes.

Men won't resent a woman's efforts to influence their choice of hats and clothing if the advice is honestly and diplomatically given. We mean you don't have to take a male by the arm and pilot him to a store but advise, suggest and remind in a helpful, not nagging, manner.

A famous cosmetic concern is spending thousands of dollars in advertising charts, showing women the colors that flatter them and the colors that are inharmonious. Perhaps something like that for men would not be amiss.

RECENTLY we were at a meeting presided over by three men, each of whom wore a tie that was so dazzling we could not keep our mind on what was being said. And don't try to tell us they were Christmas gifts because we have an idea they were bought recently by the wearers.

SPEAKING of hats, wonder now that Edward R. Stettinius, jr., becomes chief U. S. delegate in the Councils of the United Nations, if he will wear a hat. Perhaps when he represents us abroad he will become as well hatted as Anthony Eden.

SEVERAL months ago when we were worrying about Lubbock young men who were prisoners of the German government, we had visions of them being tortured, of being starved, of bearing scars the rest of their lives from those months of confinement. The same thoughts, only more horrifying we held when we thought of those who were taken prisoners when they fought on Corregidor and at Bataan.

We had no kinsmen in the group but there were (and are) men we had known from infancy and in whom we felt a personal interest. When we knew letters were not getting through and when we saw the anguish on their parents' and wives' faces, it hurt all the more.

In recent weeks many Lubbock men who hae been confined behind wires for months and months have been liberated and are at home, some of them for sixty days, others "for keeps." And in all cases we have been pleased to note the young men show little effect, at least outwardly, of the days and weeks and months they were war prisoners.

LT. NEIL H. WRIGHT, JR., seems to have lost weight but then Neil had his diet problems and had dieted away quite a few pounds in order to get in the air corps. He is already being careful not to gain too much. His eyes are bright, his complexion clear and his hand shake left us with our fingers tingling.

Lt. Vernon Turner has that light, springy energetic, quick walk which seems to characterize graduates of West Point. His color is good, his eyes a bright blue and his hair, which was almost sheared to his scalp by fellow airmen at the camp, is growing back thick and lustrous.

Lt. Joe Bob Foster's teeth are as dazzling a white as during those years when he played football with the Westerners and his hair is as wavy and black as ever. When he gets his stomach straightened out once more and the muscles, that have not had to work since he was shot down last August, get to functioning he will be as good as ever.

And T/5 Joseph Hough, who was taken prisoner on Corregidor May 6, 1942, says he feels as good as ever. He is a slender, tanned blond.

They are the only men we have seen but the others are reported to be natural looking and outside of being nervous when they are asked too many questions and not allowed much quiet, appear perfectly normal.

But what is so wonderful about it to the Woman's Angle is those boys' dispositions. There have been so many books written lately about the correct treatment of the returning veteran and his many psychoses, we've almost dreaded to meet them. And after seeing those who have come ahead of the others, we are almost ready to hurl back to the warning of those cautious writers the reply that man in charge of the 101st Airborne division sent to the Huns.

Eight Transports, Including Giant Queen Mary, Disgorge 35,000 Vets

NEW YORK, July 11 (U.P.) — More than 35,000 jubilant veterans of the European war, the largest group of returning soldiers to arrive home in one day since V-E day, were pouring into New York harbor today.

Eight transports, paced by the giant Queen Mary and West Point, steamed past the grey-green Statue of Liberty under a cloudless sky, their rails lined with 28,266 cheering Americans and some 7,000 Canadian soldiers.

Five infantry regiments, a general hospital unit, numerous Eighth Air force groups and scores of smaller units were among the arrivals.

7,607 On West Point

The Navy transport West Point, formerly the SS America, brought 7,607 troops, including the 345th and 347th regiments of the 87th division and their commanding general, Maj. Gen. Frank L. Culin, jr.

Other 87th division units included: Headquarters special troops, band, 87th counter-intelligence corps detachment, the 334th, 336th and 912th Field Artillery battalions.

They had as fellow passengers 33 Japanese diplomats, for whom the New York skyline promised no welcome but internment.

15,000 On Queen Mary

The Queen Mary had a passenger list of more than 15,000, including the 7,000 Canadian who will be on their way to Canadian redistribution centers a few hours after their arrival.

Among her 8,642 American troops were the 103rd General hospital and advance units of 10 other General hospitals. Eighth Air force units aboard the British liner included bomb groups 466, 467, 440, 458, 448 and 491, air service groups 374, 375, 376, 377, 378 and 379.

The transport John Ericsson brought 7,493 soldiers into New York, including the 414th and 415th regiments of the 104th division.

The 22nd Infantry regiment of the Fourth division was among the 3,011 soldiers on the transport James Parker.

Four Smaller Ships

Four smaller transports carried 1,502 troops into the harbor.

They were:

The Alfred Moore, with 412 troops including the 781st Tank battalion and headquarters and headquarters company of the 12th Armored group, first American troops to enter the Brenner pass.

The John Stevens, with 368 men of the 787th Tank battalion.

The Andrew Hamilton with 359 Eighth Air force troops, including the 47th bomb group, the 84th and 86th bomb squadrons and the 794th air materiel squadron.

Also On Queen Mary

The Queen Mary also carried advance units of the 10th, 131st, 157th, 137th, 140th, 129th, 125th, 110th, 61st and 155th General hospitals and the following other units: 462nd Ordnance Tire Repair company; advance detachment, 624th Ordnance Base Automobile battalion; headquarters and headquarters company 1199th Engineer Base depot.

Also aboard the Queen Mary were the 394th, 395th, 396th, 397th, 417th, 418th, 419th, 421st, 422nd and 423rd military police gate and control detachments.

The West Point brought the following additional units: headquarters and headquarters battery 87th division artillery, headquarters and headquarters company 87th division; headquarters and headquarters company Fifth corps, with military police platoon; headquarters and headquarters battery, Fifth corps artillery; Fifth Engineer special brigade headquarters; 205th counter-intelligence corps detachment; 55th and 56th Order of Battle teams; and the 169th, 170th, and 171st Photo Interpreting teams.

On The John Ericsson

Aboard the John Ericsson were the 329th medical battalion; 804th Ordnance Light Maintenance company; 104th Quartermaster company; 104th Signal company and the 104th division military police platoon.

Maj. Gen. Terry Allen, 104th (Timberwolf) division commander, boarded the Ericsson, formerly the liner Kungsholm, in the narrows for a personal greeting to the last contingent of his division troops to reach American soil.

Col. Gerald C. Keeleher, of Albany, N. Y., and Col. John H. Cochran, of Michigan, commanding officers of the 414th and 415th regiments, accompanied the units.

Litigation Dismissed On Aid For Families

AUSTIN, July 11 (AP)—The Third Court of Civil appeals today dismissed litigation by which osteopathic and certain other physicians sought to participate in Texas in federal allotments for emergency care of wives and infants of enlisted men and aviation cadets.

The court said the rule which excluded them from participation was made by the childrens' bureau, a federal agency, and the state department of health was concerned with the plan only in the capacity of an agency of the federal government.

It added that state courts have no jurisdiction over the United States or its agencies charged with administration of the G.I. baby act which appropriated $42,800,000.

The court reversed and dissolved lower court orders permanently enjoining operation of the plan under which the qualification of physicians was determined.

One Dies, Two Hurt When Plane Crashes Into Water Tower

SAN DIEGO, Tex., July 11. (AP) —A Navy training plane crashed into the city's 100-foot, steel water tower at 2:30 a. m. today, killing the pilot, injuring two women, damaging several homes and putting the domestic water service on a rationed basis.

The pilot has not been identified.

One hundred thousand gallons of water plunged into nearby homes and streets below as the plane, from the Kingsville Naval Air station, struck the elevated reservoir, and steel from the structure scattered.

In local hospitals were Mrs. John Glover, injured in a fall after a wave of water from the tower swept the stairway to her second story apartment away, and Mrs. Albert Mendoza, 45, whose arm was hurt by flying metal.

Texas State Guardsmen patrolled the little south Texas town, now dependent for its water upon a 50,000-gallon temporary ground reservoir.

A section of the plane's engine crashed through the roof of the Fernando Pena home, where Pena's wife and baby were sleeping, and was imbedded deeply in the earth beneath the floor. Three small children escaped from another home on the crest of a wave of water which loosened the house from its foundations.

Amarilloan Denies WMC Man's Charge

AMARILLO, July 11. (AP) — R. E. L. Phillips, railroad Retirement board manager in Amarillo, denied today that Amarillo was a transportation bottleneck.

He referred to a statement by Arville Erringer, Dallas area director of the War Manpower commission, that Amarillo was the most critical bottleneck in the Southwest in movement of men and arms to the Pacific, with El Paso, Clovis, and Belin, N. M., not far behind.

"The manpower shortage is distributed over the entire rail system of the Southwest and got worse at Clovis, Belen, and Vaughn, N. M., because of feeder lines from South Texas, New Mexico and Colorado," said Phillips.

Erringer said top priority had been given recruitment of rail labor to break bottlenecks.

Phillips said Erringer's statement was probably based on the fact that the Amarillo headquarters of one large west line controls 5,800 miles of track from points in Oklahoma westward.

No one knows what became of the Mayflower, famous ship of the pilgrims.

Largest Tomato Crop Produced In State

DALLAS, July 11 (U.P.) — The largest crop in the history of Texas commercial tomato production has moved from the state since March 28, it was revealed today as the department of agriculture's office of marketing services said more than 14,300 cars of "green-wrap" tomatoes had been shipped.

The total to date compared with 11,173 cars last year, 8,934 in 1943, and was double the 1942 shipment and about triple the 1941 total, the OMS disclosed.

A decline in shipments from East and North Texas points was noted, but the government service said this season was one of the best financially Texas growers have experienced.

Prices ranged from $2.75 to $4.75 a lug for six by six and larger sizes in the valley and from $2.50 to $4 in East Texas, OMS said.

An estimated 4,875,000 bushels was estimated to have been produced in the lower Rio Grande valley, while other Texas tomato producing sectors accounted for 2,574,000 bushels.

The OMS report estimated that the truck-quantities of the crop this year was about 1,227 carlots.

Four Navy Men Are Missing On Cruiser

RECIFE, Brazil, July 11. (AP)—Four United States Navy sound technicians were among the missing aboard the Brazilian cruiser Bahia, which went down a week ago today in a series of explosions near the middle of the South Atlantic.

The missing men of the U. S. Navy are Emmette Peter Bale, William Joseph Eustau, Andrew Jackson Pendleton and Frank Benjamin Sparks (home addresses unavailable).

The loss of the 3,150-ton cruiser was the greatest disaster in Brazilian naval history. Of its 366 officers and men, only 31 had been landed here.

Thirteen rescued men died en route to Recife.

The ship, apparently victim of a floating mine, sank within three minutes after the first explosion.

Belton Sells Jail To Produce Dealer

BELTON, Mo., July 11. (U.P.) — Belton is without a jail today. It was sold for $125 to a local feed and produce dealer here.

The one-story frame building, a jail for 60 years, will be replaced as soon as the city completes plans to remodel the city hall. A 2-cell fireproof jail will be located in the city hall.

Until then, Dick McAnally, the town mrashal, said, the local citizenry will have to get along on its good behavior.

District American Legion Playoff Starts Here Today

The eyes of West Texas will be centered on the American Legion junior baseballers today, with Lubbock one of the central spots on the baseball map for the next two days as play starts at Chapman field in the District 1 playoff this afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Out of town teams will take the spotlight for the opening day, with teams from Hedley and Morton clashing in the tournament opener. No advance information has been released on the two teams that open the playoff, but indications are that the game should be a good one.

Lubbock's American Legion team will swing into action in a twin bill on Friday, starting at 4 o'clock with Hedley, and will play Morton in the nightcap. The Lubbock team will be favored to win the tournament, having beaten both teams in pre-tournament games.

Today's game will be a nine inning battle, with Friday's double bill being scheduled for seven inning games.

Elaborate pre-game ceremonies have been planned by the Lubbock American Legion post, and the season's top crowd is expected to turn out. Seats have been built at Chapman field for the tournament games, and the grounds has been put in top condition.

There will be an admission charge of 30 cents for the games.

Kiwanis Ties For Junior Loop Lead

Backing up Buddy Weber's one-hit pitching the Kiwanis junior ball nine hung up a 8-2 victory over the Lions Wednesday night to tie the American Business club for first place in the American league.

Striking out thirteen Lion batters, Weber held the opposition hitless until the bottom half of the sixth inning. Billy Presley, after reaching first three times on errors in his first appearances at the bat, lined out a single over short with two out. Elliott was put out at home trying to score from second base.

With the American league now tied two ways, and the possibility of a three-way tie hanging on Friday's Optimist-Lion contest, the first half play-off game, or games, have been transferred from Chapman field to the Boy's club. The American Legion games with Amarillo on Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon necessitated the change.

Blue Bonnet Takes Years 17th Victory

The Blue Bonnet Laundry softball ten hung up its 17th win of the year Wednesday afternoon at Mackenzie park, winning a 14 to 9 decision over the Junior Chamber of Commerce club in an exhibition game.

Houston Taylor did the hurling for the winners, and coasted to an easy victory. Winfred Breedlove homered for the winners, while Jeff Carter hit for the round trip for the losers.

Lamesa Nine To Play In Angelo

LAMESA, July 11 (Special)—The District 3 playoff in the American Legion junior baseball race will be unreeled at San Angelo Thursday and Friday with Lamesa's nine entered with Ballinger and San Angelo in the round robin playoff.

San Angelo will open the round robin playoff Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, facing Ballinger in the first test. San Angelo will return to action at 2 o'clock with Lamesa. Lamesa will follow its San Angelo game with another battle with Ballinger.

Finals, if needed, will be played on Friday.

Three Districts Play

The winner in this district will compete with the winners from Districts 1 and 2 for the regional crown. District 4 had no entries for the race. The District 1 race will also open Thursday in Lubbock, while Wichita Falls will be the site of District 2.

"Choc" Sanders, Lamesa High school football coach and manager of the baseball team, may be unable to make the trip to the tourney because of a strep throat which has had him laid up for several days.

Joe Spikes, Legion post athletic officer and chairman of the junior baseball setup in Lamesa, will accompany the team. He has served as coach during Sanders' illness. H. S. Fitzgerald, high school principal, and E. P. White, a member of the faculty, will help furnish transportation for the team.

Probable Lineup

Spikes listed only a tentative lineup, naming W. L. Patterson as catcher, with George Hart and J. R. Bizzell as pitchers. Orville Neiman will hold down first base, Arthur Bizzell at second, Bill Taylor at third and Bottles White at shortstop to round out the infield. The outer garden patrol will be Billy Merritt or Frank Rose in left field, Homer Rippy in center, and Bill Nix in right. Bizzell may take a turn in the outfield when Hart is pitching, Spikes said.

The Lamesa lads remain a question mark, having split two games this season, winning over O'Donnell on July 4 by a 31 to 7 count, then losing an 11 to 1 game to Lubbock.

Reports Of Spanish Visit Said Untrue

LONDON, July 11. (AP)—No. 10 Downing street issued a special communique today to squelch rumors that Prime Minister Churchill or one of his emmisaries intended to visit Spain and see Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Nelson Defeats Sarazen, 4-3

DAYTON, O., July 11 (AP)—Byron Nelson of Toledo, the man for whom a par round is a ragged performance, and a couple of fellows who never were given more than passing notice today led a field of 16 into the second round of the 27th annual Professional Golf tournament.

Nelson was under par as he eliminated Gene Sarazen of New York, 4 and 3.

The prize dark horses were Jack Grout of Hinsdale, Ill., Clarence Boser of Hartsdale, N. Y., and Bob Kepler, coach of Ohio States' Big Ten champions.

Grout, 35-year-old Oklahoman playing in his third PGA event, put an end to the hopes of Pvt. Bob Hamilton of Evansville, Ind., and Fort Lewis, Wash., for a second straight pro title. Grout also was one under par as he trimmed the husky Hoosier soldier, 5 and 4.

McSpaden Is Upset

Doser dished out a 5 and 4 beating to Harold (Jug) McSpaden of Philadelphia, one of the boys who has given Nelson the most competition in the last couple of years.

The biggest comeback of the day was recorded by Kepler, who wiped out a three hole deficit in the last eight holes to win a 2 and 1 decision from George (Hank) Schneiter of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Kepler, the man who directed the Bucks to a National Intercollegiate golf title only two weeks ago, had four birdies on the last eight holes and sewed the match up on the 445-yard 17th when he poured in a 20-foot putt for a birdie four.

Sgt. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Dayton's Wright Field almost duplicated Kepler's performance but he blew sky high on the last hole to drop a one-up decision to Sterling Johnson of Morristown, Pa.

Revolta Wins Easily

The most lop-sided victory today was recorded by John Revolta of Evanston, Ill., who tied with Nelson for tournament medalist honors.

The bushy-haired Revolta gave Frank Kringle of Linden, N. J., a 10 and 9 beating with a performance that saw him three over par for the first 18 holes and even par for the nine holes of the afternoon round.

Nelson, turning in nine-hole scores of 35-37-35 lost the first and second holes to Sarazen. He evened matters on the fifth, however, and never was behind again. And he reported his ailing back was "much better."

American League To Shake Up Schedule

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP) — A reshuffling of playing schedules in order to meet increasing transportation difficulties was agreed upon today by American League clubowners.

They met in a separate session preliminary to a joint meeting with the National League at 1 p. m., tomorrow. A. B. "Happy" Chandler, new commissioner, will meet with the owners for the first time.

The National League owners will huddle tomorrow morning for a "general discussion" before attending the two-league pow wow with Chandler presiding.

Teams Make Changes

Will Harridge, American League president, said that each club in his circuit will work out its own schedule revisions, and that all teams probably will be affected.

"We'll make whatever changes are necessary in order to fit our schedules in with sleeping-car accommodations and other travel conditions," Harridge said.

The Office of Defense Transportation recently reduced the number of pullman cars available to civilians, making it almost impossible for ball clubs to obtain sufficient sleeping reservations.

Night games scheduled on the tail-end of series may have to be played in the daytime, even moved ahead, in some instances, a full day in doubleheaders.

May Start Earlier

Harridge said he thought the best solution was to "start games earlier in the daytime," whenever a transportation problem is involved.

Other than the transportation problem, today's meeting was merely a "generally discussion," Harridge said.

He said that the matter of finances of the commissioner's office was not brought up nor was the signing of Chandler's seven-year $50,000 a year contract.

"Those are things which rightfully must be considered between the commissioner and the 16 clubowners who hired him," Harridge said.

Chandler is expected to sign his contract tomorrow and will ask that funds of the commissioner's office be turned over to his secretary-treasurer, Walter W. Mulbry.

Ban On Shipment Of Horses Hurts Races

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP) — Horse racing suffered a new blow today as the government prohibited transportation of racing and show animals by railroad and common or contract truck carriers.

The effect is to confine the "sport of kings" to tracks now operating, except in cases where arrangements can be made to move the horses by means not falling under the ban.

The orders were issued by the Office of Defense Transportation and the Interstate Commerce commission as a result of a wartime transportation crisis. The ban became effective at 5 p. m., central war time today and will expire July 1, 1946, unless modified or lifted in the meantime.

Immediate reaction of racing officials was varied. Some felt that they could carry on without serious consequences while others said the orders would put them out of business.

The situation appeared to be that racing can continue indefinitely at tracks where horses are now quartered but that other tracks such as those in Florida and in New Orleans may be hit hard, if not shut down altogether.

The ODT explained that the ruling does not apply to privately-owned trucks, making it possible for owners to move horses from track to track in such vehicles.

These conditions apparently will enable some shipment of horses, especially between tracks not too far apart, such as in New York state.

It was also explained that horses may be returned to home stables by rail or truck if the owners sign affidavits that they will not be raced or exhibited.

Col. J. Monroe, ODT director, sid these latest prohibitions on the billion-dollar sport which was completely shut down for four months, January through April, will make a considerable volume of equipment available for other transportation purposes.

All-Stars Named In Big Leagues

NEW YORK, July 11. (AP) — The Chicago Cubs and Cleveland Indians led their respective leagues in men selected for the "mythical" 1945 All-Star game today by vote of 13 of the 16 big league managers in a poll conducted by the Associated Press.

Seven Cubs were picked on the National League's 25-man squad and five Indians surprisingly made the American list for the game that never will be played.

The '45 All-Star tilt, scheduled to have been played yesterday in Boston's Fenway Park, was called off in co-operation with the ODT and replaced by a two-day schedule of exhibitions for war relief.

Reversing the usual procedure, the National team would lean heavily on power hitting from the bats of Tommy Holmes of Boston, who leads both circuits with .401 and has hit in 37 consecutive game, and Chicago's Phil Cavarretta, batting .372.

The unofficial 1945 All-Stars with pitchers won and lost records and batters' averages in parentheses:

National League — Pitchers, Cooper (8-1) Boston, Gregg (10-5) Brooklyn, Passeau (10-2) and Wyse (10-5) Chicago; Sewell (9-7) and Roe (6-6), Pittsburgh; Barrett, (10-6), St. Louis and Mungo (9-4), New York.

Outfielders — Holmes (.401) Boston; Walker (.299), Rosen (.363), Brooklyn; Ott (.325) New York; Pafko (.301 and Nicholson (.259) Chicago.

American League — Pitchers, Newhouser (13-5) Detroit; Ferriss (14-2) Boston; Christpher (11-5) Philadelphia; Morowy (10-5) New York; Reynolds (8-7) and Gromek (9-5) Cleveland; T. Lee (9-6) Chicago, Leonard (9-3) Washington.

Catchers — Ferrell (.238) Washington; Trash (.253) Chicago; Hayes (.240) Cleveland.

Infielders — Etten (.294), Stirnweiss (.309) and Grimes (.276) New York; Mayo (.292) Detroit; McQuinn (.265) Stephens (.318) St. Louis; Boudreau (.274) Cleveland; Cuccinello, (.328) Chicago.

Outfielders — Case (.327) Washington; Cramer (.278) Greenberg (.286) Detroit; Johnson (.297) Boston; Moses, (.278) Chicago; Heath (.315) Cleveland.

Tuffy Nabors Heads For Lubbock Visit

Pvt. Roland "Tuffy" Nabors, at one time rated as the greatest football center in Texas Interscholastic league circles, is back in the "good old U.S.A., and heading for Lubbock.

This was the word received from him late Wednesday afternoon by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rafe Nabors, 2407 Eighth street.

Pvt. Nabors landed at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and armed with those long missed hamburgers, hot dogs, cokes and other tidbits that he has been without while serving a year overseas as a scout in the infantry, Tuffy called home.

He revealed that he was at Camp Kilmer, N. J., and would soon be enroute for Houston, where he would get furlough papers, and start for home.

Nabors played three years at Lubbock High school and one year at Texas Tech, where he won state wide fame as a center. He was named on the All-State team in 1941, the year Lubbock won the District 1-AA title, and was beaten in the bi-district by Wichita Falls Coyotes.

Nabors was captain of the All-Star North team at the annual all-star game at Abilene that season. He entered the service in June 1943. He took early training at Fordham university before shipping overseas.

Tech Dean Closes Short Course With Plea For Home Ec Support

Invoking the support of rural women for continued proficiency and maintenance of the home economics division at Texas Tech, Dean Margaret W. Weeks Wednesday afternoon delivered the final address in a three-day educational short course held this week on the campus.

Scheduled activities of the course, sponsored by the Texas A. and M. college in cooperation with the divisions of home economics and agriculture at Tech, were completed when certificates of attendance were presented 197 homemakers. Rural women represented the 20 counties in extension district No. 2, including Bailey, Briscoe, Borden, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Floyd, Dawson, Garza, Gaines, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Lamb, Lynn, Parmer, Scurry, Swisher, Terry and Yoachum.

Important Profession

"Homemaking is the most important of professions," Dean Weeks said in presenting a progressive report of work done since 1925 when the college opened and the home economics division was inaugurated.

She stimulated interest by relating specific examples—outstanding accomplishments of graduates, and work done by students of the division. "Our method of instruction is effective in the lives of students because we work with real situations-such as planning home furnishings for low cost housing, renovating sewing machines, rebuilding and upholstering chairs, planning canning budgets for Casa Linda, gardening and caring for babies at the home management house," Dean Weeks explained.

Aim Of Department

"Home economics at Tech has for its aim helping the homes of West Texas, we are building on what is already here, growing with the future development of the country," he said.

Tech's division of home economics ranks with the other two leading colleges in Texas, where home economics is strong, but in plant facilities, in room for expansion—Tech is far below. "We need the help of you and all other thinking West Texas women," the dean impelled.

In Wednesday morning's sessions, discussions on food production were given by C. R. Heaton, emergency horticulture assistant; Sam Moore, poultry husbandman; both of the extension division; and Dr. W. W Yocum, department of plant industry at Tech.

Fall Garden Urged

Heaton told the group that "fall gardens offer considerable advantages over spring gardens in the South Plains area, since they require less water and usually produce higher quality vegetables." He explained that weeds, insects, and diseases cause less trouble during the fall, some seeds germinate better, and the cool season crops do better at that season of the year.

"Providing moisture conditions are favorable, the best general planting time for South Plains fall gardens is Aug. 1 to Sept. 1," the horticulturist said. Among the vegetables Heaton mentioned which can be planted in July are corn, chard and turnips.

He recommended that late July gardeners plant carrots, lettuce, mustard, rutabagas, and winter squash. Heaton said results of experiments show that cowpeas should be planted no later than mid-July.

Poultry Production

Directing his remarks to poultry producers, Moore stressed that care which pullest receive during the summer growing period determines to a large extent the productive ability of the laying flock next fall and winter.

"Disease and parasites are constant threats to the poultry producer's pocketbook," Moore said. Maintaining that there is a specific recommended treatment for nearly every known disease and parasite of poultry, but since prevention is more desirable than any cure, he said "prevention is given greatest emphasis for the control of poultry diseases."

"Although proper feeding, housing and other phases of management contribute to the control of disease, sanitation is by far the most important factor," Moore declared.

Press System

pears clear that if such a system cannot be speedily established, other steps will have to be taken.

"It has been suggested, for example," he continued, "that the Army and Navy systems, now virtually world-girdling and unquestionably the finest in the world, be used at least temporarily as a basis for a world wide system which would be under American control and operating for the best interests of American diplomatic, commercial and strategic needs. Advocates of such a proposal point out that is an operating system now and that some means should be devised whereby it could be operated commercially in the post-war world."

Regarding the great networks of communications and transport systems which she has thrown up over the world, American should "exercise immediately a fair, equitable but hard-headed diplomatic policy for our own advantage," McFarland argued.

Bids Are Sought On Highway Construction

AUSTIN, July 11 (AP)—The State Highway department today invited bids July 24 on the following proposals, by counties:

Grayson and Fannin, 38.3 miles widening concrete pavement on U. S. 82 from Sherman to Honey Grove.

Navarro and Freestone, 9.6 miles widening concrete pavement on state 14 from Richland to Wortham.

Lubbock, Garza and Lynn, 47.5 miles seal coat on U. S. 84 from Slaton to Scurry county line.

The department also invited bids on construction of a one story building with basement at Camp Hubbard, Austin, the department's laboratory.

News Briefs

Richard Hanaleman, about 27, pleaded guilty in county court Wednesday of liquor law violation, and was fined $100 and costs. The sheriff's office said Cleopatra Patterson, 21, a negro, had been arrested after she allegedly neglected terms of a deferred payment bond on a liquor law violation conviction. J. L. Thomas, 19-year-old negro, was in city jail last night "laying out" a $15 fine for a Tuesday night binge in which he flourished a pistol. The latter act cost him $100 and costs in county court. He pleaded guilty. He will be turned over to county officials after he satisfies the corporation court assessment.

Sugar Complaints

officials explain, the Allied countries would have been forced to engage in perhaps serious "cut-throat" competition.

Food authorities of the three countries got together here early this year and estimated that surplus sugar-producing areas within Allied reach would be able to place about 10,600,000 tons of sugar in this pool. This quantity is equivalent to about 30 per cent of a normal year's production for the world.

This sugar was then allocated among various countries needing supplies for military and civilian purposes and others normally dependent upon these producing areas for sugar.

Officials determined that about 1,900,000 tons were needed to meet the "most conservative" needs of liberated areas, Russia, the neutral nations (which includes Spain) and the Middle East.

Left For Division

This left about 8,700,000 tons for division among this country, the United Kingdom and Canada.

The Allied food authorities agreed upon the general principle that the civilian consumption of the three countries during the last nine months of this year should be at the same average rate — that of 70.8 pounds. In making this decision, they were influenced by the fact that pre-war consumption was about the same for all three. The pre-war per capita consumption was said to be about 97 pounds for the United States, 104 for the United Kingdom and 95.5 for Canada.

If this principle is to be carried out, it will be necessary for this country to make a part of the Cuban crop available to Canada and the United Kingdom.

The other dispute occurred when Rep. Celler (D-NY) declared that a veteran who sought to appear against the bill was "cuffed and taken into custody" in Rankin's office yesterday. Rankin shouted that the charge was a 'deliberate attempt to smear me."

Denies Manhandling

He denied the veteran was manhandled, but he did say an ex-serviceman caused such a commotion in his office that one of stenographers called a policeman.

Today's bill broadening terms of the GI assistance act of last session would:

Liberalize loan provisions eliminating the present requirement that loan applications be approved by the Veterans administration.

Permit veterans to take correspondence courses as well as regular college training.

Increase the subsistence allowance for schooling of veterans.

Rankin said he hopes to get the bill to the House floor next week.

force will be eliminated soon "as an effective weapon."

In his final report as assistant secretary of air, a post he surrendered last week after nearly four years' service to become undersecretary, Gates described destruction of Japanese air power as naval aviation's first job, and expressed confidence it would be accomplished shortly.

In addition, however, he said, "Naval aviation must be ready to augment the Army Air force's bombing of Japanese targets by delivering pin-point attacks where designated; it must continue to deliver mobile air power to strike targets inaccessible or unsuited to long-range land-based bombers; it must be ready to support future troop landings; it must continue its effective destruction of enemy shipping, and it must destroy Japanese naval units wherever found. In addition it must keep our own supply lines safe by constant patrol."

City's 'Squeeze' On Ice Plants Defeated

SHREVEPORT, July 11 (AP) — The Shreveport city council today tabled a proposal by Mayor Sam S. Caldwell to refuse water to local ice plants to prevent them shipping their product out of the city.

Utility Commissioner Clyde Fant said he did not believe the city had legal right to cut the water off to the ice plants.

State Scholastic Payments Completed

AUSTIN, July 11 (AP)—A $2,996,960 payment on the current per capita scholastic apportionment, made yesterday, completes payment of the $25 regular apportionment for this school year.

A $2 supplemental payment, authorized by the state board of education last week, will be paid before Aug. 31 bringing to $27 the total payment for the year, state superintendent of education L. A. Woods said.

The state board of education set next year's apportionment at $30 which means each school district will receive that amount for each child of scholastic age. There are now 1,498,480 scholastics in Texas.

Court Upholds Claim To Excess Rentals

AUSTIN, July 11 (AP)—A civil appeals court decision upholding the claim of landowners to $17,974.21 in excess rentals paid by the government for property at Camp Barkeley near Abilene was in effect upheld today by the Supreme court.

The court refused for want of merit the application for a writ of error against the ruling of the 10th Court of Civil Appeals in a cast styled Abile Hotel corporation et al vs C. W. Gill et al.

Opposing claimants to the fund were one group of 67 landowners, who originally held the camp and training site property, and another group of more than 500, or "certificate holders." A trial court judge ordered the surplus rentals paid to the landowners, and this was upheld by the civil appeals court which said that "the landowners were the equitable and rightful owners" of the fund.

Deaf Mute Confesses Slaying Wife, Baby

PEABODY, Mass., July 11. (U.P.)—A deaf mute prize-fighter beat his deaf mute wife and only daughter to death with a hammer early today and confessed by writing a note to police.

"I killed my wife and baby," read the note which Dave Horblit, 26, scrawled on a scrap of paper after walking into a police station.

The policeman at the desk, noting Horblit's neat white shirt and well-washed hands, shook his head in disbelief. Horblit nodded affarmation and when asked how it occurred wrote again on the paper—"a hammer."

Police accompanied the light-heavyweight fighter to his home on Maple street where the bodies of Mrs. Catherine Horblit, 22, and her 20-month-old daughter Caroline lay.

Air Fleet Returning Home At Rapid Clip

AIR TRANSPORT COMMANDER BASE, Wales, July 11 (AP)—The last of a once mighty fleet of British-based U. S. Eighth Air-force bombers started homeward today at the rate of one every 20 minutes.

An officials tabulation disclosed that 2,110 four-engined bombers carrying 41,500 Eighth AAF personnel had been re-deployed to the United States.

Altogether, more than 60,000 troops, or the equivalent of four infantry divisions, have flown home since the third week in May with 20,000 more due to go this month.

Mexican Air Force Strikes At Japanese

FIFTH AIR FORCE FIGHTER COMMAND, Luzon, July 11. (AP)—Pilots of Mexico's aerial expeditionary force, who trained at Majors Field, Greenville, Tex., and at Brownsville Army Air field, took part in long range observation missions over Tokyo, the fighter command said today.

The Mexicans also took part in missions over the southern tip of Formosa and flew top cover to 5th Air force Liberators.

Stern Warning Is Given By OPA In Food Locker Hunt

DALLAS, July 11. (AP) — Only possessors of meat who can prove they surrendered points or raised the animal slaughtered will be exempt under the OPA frozen food locker investigation starting Monday, enforcement officer Charles Woods said today.

A livestock producer is defined in instructions given investigators as follows:

1. One who operates a farm at which he resides more than six months of the year, or supervised the raising of the animal on the premises at least one-third of the life of the animal.

2. One who raised the animal from birth until the time of slaughter, or owned and fed it 60 days preceding slaughtering, or for a period of time preceding slaughter during which the animal's weight was increased by at least 35 per cent.

3. The meat is from the owner's own household and he does not intend to sell or transfer it. For instance he can serve the meat to his hired hands but can't give them any to take home.

These rules apply equally to meat killed at home by the individual or to meat he had handled by customs slaughterers.

Stassen On Way To Rejoin Third Fleet

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11 (AP) —Navy Commander Harold E. Stassen, a veteran of war and of world efforts to prevent it, said today Japan probably would not be defeated without a long-bitter struggle, and asked the home front not to let up in backing the fighting men.

The 38-year-old former governor of Minnesota, on his way to rejoin the staff of Admiral William Halsey's Tokyo-smashing Third fleet, expressed confidence at a press conference that the "superb forces" battling Japan, augmented by manpower from the European theater, would win final victory.

"But any letdown on the home front costs lives on the fighting front," he said.

Cavalry Unit Gets Presidential Award

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION ON LUZON, July 11. (AP) — One hundred and fifty officers and men comprising rifle Troop G of the 12th Regiment, First cavalry (dismounted) division, have received the presidential unit citation.

The troop was cited for seizing a part of the Admiralties Island March 7, 1944, and holding on to it against vicious and repeated enemy counterattacks.

The commanding officer during that struggle was Capt. Matthew Dikeman of Temple, Tex., now a lieutenant colonel with the 12th regiment.

During less than seven hours fighting the troop suffered casualties reaching 35 per cent.

Truman Shies From Churchill Meeting

ABOARD CRUISER AUGUSTA, With President Truman, July 11 (AP)—President Truman intends to go into the Big Three meeting in Berlin next week without talking before hand with Prime Minister Churchill.

The idea apparently is to assure Premier Stalin that the American President has no thought of making any independent agreements, even of a tentative nature.

(This word was in conflict with Spanish radio reports that Mr. Truman may arrive "at any moment" at the little French town of St. Jean de Luz, where Mr. Churchill is vacationing near the Spanish border).

It still is not permitted to say where or when Mr. Truman will disembark from the Augusta. But it was disclosed that British men of war will escort Mr. Truman's two-cruiser force from the British Isles to a northern European port.

W. H. Meggs Dies In Hospital Here

W. H. Meggs, 83, of Idalou, a resident of the South Plains for the last 17 years, died Wednesday afternoon in Lubbock General hospital.

Survivors include his widow; three sisters; three sons, Talmage Meggs of Linden, Tex., Grover Meggs of Swink, Okla., Luther Meggs, with the armed forces overseas; two daughters, Mrs. O. L. Dennis of Idalou, and Mrs. Jewell Fipps of Lubbock; nine grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Idalou Baptist church. Burial is to be in Idalou cemetery, Rix Funeral home reported.

Names Of Injured Marines Released

FORT WORTH, July 11. (AP) — Eagle mountain Marine air station today released the names of the two Marine corps captains who were seriously injured in a plane crash Monday near Beaumont.

They are Capt. Marvin H. Porterfield, jr., of Martinsburg, W. Va., and Capt. Charles E. Caniff, of Danville, Ill.

The two men are now in the United States naval hospital in Norman, Okla., where they are both undergoing treatment for broken backs and legs. Their condition is reported as good.

The two captains were en route to Beaumont to return the body of another Marine, Sgt. Frederick J. Wyttenbach, of Prairie du Sac, Wisc., who drowned in a lake near Beaumont Sunday.

Negro Convicted In Bludgeon Slaying

FORT WORTH, July 11 (AP) — Richard Gamble, 31-year-old negro, today was convicted by a district court jury of the bludgeon slaying of Mrs. Lydia T. McBride, 56, whose body was found on the grounds of an elementary school here June 15. He was sentenced to death.

Mrs. McBride was a postal employe at a Fort Worth Army airport.

Head-Hunters Aid In Stringing 1,000 Miles Of Wire

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 11. (U.P.) —Artificial difficulties were heaped upon the natural ones of 1,000-mile lines of telegraph, telephone and teletype wires from India to China in 1942, Lt. Col. C. W. Janes, the man who directed the job, reported when he returned to his home here.

The Army Signal Corps officer's motley crew of workmen included head-hunting Naga tribesmen, who were hired to patrol sections of the line and report breaks. They performed efficiently, he said, until they became apprehensive that they were not busy enough.

"Then," said Col. Janes, "they began cutting wires with their jungle knives, and rushing to headquarters to report the 'breaks'."

A pop call from a large Burmese ape added to the variety of life for a GI switchboard operator.

Janes reached Ledo, Burma, in November, 1942. Because advance parties needed communications, he and his assortment of Americans, Britons, Chinese, Indians, and the native tribesmen, plunged into the jungle ahead of the Ledo road builders.

To nature's handicaps was added constant danger of attack from the Japanese, so that Janes' men usually worked with carbines slung across their shoulders. Friends also impeded the work on one occasion, Chinese troops unaware of the purpose of the wires destroying a large section.

The wiring finally was completed, he said, in a monsoon which wiped out bridges and drowned several men.

Knob Knockers Rob Two Safes

Burglars struck at two places Tuesday night in Plainview and one in Abernathy, taking between $300 and $400.

At Abernathy, a 600-pound safe was hauled from Consumers Oil Co., to a point 10 miles northeast of town and rifled of approximately $100 in money and an estimated 3,000 gallons worth of "T" and "R" gasoline stamps, according to E. G. Thompson, manager.

Owens Electric Co., in Plainview, was burglarized of $200 or $300. The knob on the safe was knocked as was done in the Plainview breakin. Lubbock officers assisting in the investigations termed them "pretty clean jobs."

Other Articles Taken

A portable typewriter and two watches also were taken from the Owens place.

Two new tires and wheels and $2.95 in money were removed from the Shepherd Cherolet Co., in Plainview.

Officers were inclined to believe that the burglaries were done by the same persons who took $500 Monday night from the Ford Motor Co., in Brownfield.

Thompson said about $150 in checks, the station's charge tickets and a $5,000 bond were recovered at the place where the safe from his Abernathy business was opened.

Break Door Glass

Burglars drove to the front of the bulk oil station, broke a door glass and reached in and turned a night latch, officials found.

A large amount of tools and several tires were taken from automobiles in Tulia the same night, local officers were informed.

Aiding in the Hale county probes were the following officers from Lubbock: Raymond Waters of the Rangers, Chief Deputy Sheriff Raymond Land, and Capt. Aubrey Fawver of the police.

Bad Movies, V-Mail Top Gripes In Navy

WASHINGTON, July 11. (U.P.)—A Navy survey of morale conditions in the Pacific revealed two chief gripes among naval men—bad movies and V-mail.

They prefer airmail to V-mail "any day in the week" and would rather have older but higher grade films than some they now are getting, according to Charles S. Thomas, Los Angeles business executive, who made the survey.

Thomas, who is resigning as special assistant to Secretary of Navy James Forrestal, to return to his business, covered 25 bases and flew more than 30,000 miles.

Morale throughout the Pacific, he said, was "simply superb." Nevertheless, Thomas said, he is making a number of recommendations to improve some of the morale factors that cause the greatest amount of squawks.

Among these will be:

A full-sized newspaper to be published at Guam because "our men don't like their news condensed."

The manufacturer of a simple, inexpensive small radio sets for sale to the men so that they can sit in their quarters and listen to the armed forces radio broadcasts.

The sale of magazines in ship's stores because the publications coming through under individual subscription are battered in shipment.

Rites Set At Ralls For John M. Reeder

RALLS, July 11. (Special) — Funeral services for John M. Reeder, 85, who died here Tuesday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Clarence Vaughn, will be conducted at 6 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Ralls First Baptist church.

Rev. W. R. Dale, pastor of the Primitive Baptist church at Cone, will officiate, and burial is to be in Lorenzo cemetery, Marr Funeral home reported.

Pallbearers named were John Justice, Odest Morton, Tom L. Davis, Witt Taylor, Walter Lynch and Guy Vaughn.

Other survivors include five sons, Flynn of Austin, C. C. of Winslow, Ariz., J. L. of San Bernadino, Cal., A. L. of Vici, Okla., and Claude of Albuquerque, N. M.; a daughter, Mrs. Lulu Caskey of San Francisco, Cal.; a brother, H. L. Reeder of Andice, Tex.; a half brother, J. A. D. Hester of Lamesa; 20 grandchildren; and six great-grandchildren.

Drive Opens Against Careless Shooting

Officers set about Wednesday to stop careless shooting of .22 and BB rifles by youngsters.

The police and sheriff departments have received a growing number of complaints against the practice in the last several weeks.

Police said a Mr. Hanna was narrowly missed yesterday afternoon by a .22 slug which tore into his small residence on north Ave. U. Two boys had been seen shooting in the vicinity.

Two men were forced yesterday to leave their work on a water well drilling job near 2800-block Ave. H for fear of being hit by a bullet from a wild shooting 12-year-old gunman living in the vicinity. "The boy shoots at any and everything—dogs, cats, chickens, etc.," a report to the sheriff's office said.

Weather records for 25 years reveal that the North Carolina coast has the same amount of sunshine that Florida has.

Colleges Plan To End War Speed-Up

MINNEAPOLIS, July 11. (U.P.)—Most American colleges and universities plan to dispense with their "accelerated" educational programs as soon as possible after returning veterans' needs have been taken care of.

That's from a report on a survey by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. The speed-up schedules were inaugurated as a part of the wartime emergency.

However, placement officials in 62 out of 101 colleges and universities questioned in the survey indicated that the program had demonstrated serious disadvantages and that the permanent benefits of education obtained under such pressure are definitely reduced. Some schools already have discontinued the accelerated schedules or plan to continue them only as long as demobilized servicemen need them.

Sixteen of the institutions of higher education planned to keep the speed-up program permanently, but five of these indicated that it would be a modified form. And officials of 23 schools still were uncertain if and how long accelerated schedules would be maintained.

The survey also showed that educators recognize certain improvements in teaching techniques developed during the war, such as greater use of visual education and closer vocational guidance. They favor educational movies, more direct vocational training and certain speed-up techniques veloped in teaching foreign languages.

One comment came from the school of business administration of the University of Minnesota.

"No amount of high-pressure, high-speed classroom work can substitute for normal maturity."

House Back-Tracks On Funds For FEPC

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP) — The House Appropriations committee about-faced today and recommended a $250,000 fund for continued and unrestricted operation of the fair employment practice committee.

It did so at an afternoon session less than three hours after it had voted FEPC $250,000 to liquidate.

The latest action left both sides in the six-weeks fight over FEPC somewhat bewildered, and assured a record house vote tomorrow that may jar loose the $752,000,000 national war agencies supply bill that has been riding a parliamentary merry-go-round since June 1.

The deadlock has tied up funds for sixteen home-front war agencies, many of them facing payless pay-days until it is broken. All are operating now under special legislation allowing them to incur obligations but spend no actual money.

Murder Charge Filed In Houston Slaying

HOUSTON, July 11 (AP) — George H. Van Pelt, 46, today was charged before Justice Tom Maes with murder in the slaying of Byron Tillman Snow, 49, apparently bludgeoned to death with a half-gallon kitchen pot.

Snow's body was found at 8:15 p. m. yesterday on a couch in the living room of a deserted rooming house when attendants from a funeral home arrived in answer to a woman's telephoned report that "a man has been hurt."

Snow, employed in a fruit stand, had come here recently from Little Rock, Ark., according to Justice Maes, who returned a verdict of "murder."

Homicide detectives W. P. Brown and L. L. Watts found the blood-stained kitchen p[illegible] the drainboard in the kitchen [illegible] the rooming house.

It's A Good Suggestion

Let's Use Those Jap Diplomats!

HARD-HEADED U. S. Sen. Ed Johnson, of Colorado, pops up every-so-often with an intelligent suggestion which, although it may entail a break with tradition, has much to recommend it. His latest is one of his best, but, because it urges a departure from time-worn methods, is not likely to get very far.

Noting that the U. S. has on its hands 132 "top-drawer" Jap diplomats captured when Germany fell, Senator Johnson suggests they be taken on a strictly business-like, supervised tour of U. S. war plants and other resources, then sent back to Japan to tell the leaders there what they saw. The Coloradoan thinks, and so do we, that such an innovation would go far to bring about an earlier-than-otherwise surrender by the Japs.

We'd like to see these 132 sons of, er ah, heaven be shown the might of the United States from one end to the other, then flown over Tokyo in B29's and shoved out of the planes to make the balance of the jaunt by parachute. By the time the B29's got back to their bases, and whatever broken legs experienced in the 'chuting were bound up, the Japs would start learning first hand that they've "got a bear by the tail."

It's a cinch those 132 diplomats can't hurt us any by being added to the Jap war program. On the other hand, they might help us a lot.

"Flowers To The Living"

BEFORE all of the awards for wartime service are distributed, it is to be hoped that somebody in authority proposes a medal, an orchid, or a pat on the back for the men and women who have worked so diligently to keep the nation fed. High on this list should be the butcher, the baker, the grocer and the milkman.

The firms and individuals that deal in foods are between two fires. They must become instantly familiar with thousands of changes in federal regulations and obey them. Then, having faced conflicting and confusing orders from various agencies, they must turn around and face customers who are not always willing to accept the explanation.

The rules under which these food merchants work are enough to drive them to distraction. But coupled with these conditions is their inability to stock the items their customers so urgently and insistently demand.

Throughout this area of rationing, the food handlers have tried in every legitimate way to meet the public's needs. They are still trying, and they will continue making this effort until the situation becomes normal and anybody can buy whatever he seeks.

It is not the dealer's fault if there is no meat, a shortage of some favorite food, or a dearth of what the average housewife considers an essential. He did not make the rules—he simply obeys them, or else. And for his patience, his courtesy and his tireless effort to serve, he deserves well at the hands of the American people.

Americans, being of the nature to try to find a chuckle in everything, have made lots of jokes about the rationing, the shortages and the services connected with food handling. It's probably good for the national temper that they have. But there is nothing very funny to the man with the responsibility of handling food products these days when he finds himself beset by shortages of labor and products on the one hand, and tied into knots of government red tape on the other.

But despite his difficulties—those that couldn't be helped and those dumped on him by the forces of bureaucracy, alike—he has carried on and is still carrying on.

He deserves credit—and approbation — for his services.

Some Unpleasant Facts

WARNING after warning has been given American motorists about the need for caution, considering the age of the cars they are driving, the condition of their tires, and the steady deterioration of the highways. Yet the American automobile driver continues to demonstrate that, in the mass, he is little interested in safety.

Despite all the warnings, the number of persons injured in traffic accidents since Pearl Harbor totals 3,100,000—almost five times the toll of wounded in the United States armed forces in that same period.

For at least two years after the victory, the highways of America will be filled with cars equipped with brakes, steering gear and other parts that have passed the age when they can stand speed strains. Roads have become pitted and have become a hazard to every car with weakened tires. Every hard bump brings closer the day when those tires are going to blow out.

This is not a new story. It has been repeated to the point of exhaustion ever since Pearl Harbor. Yet the record speaks for itself—five times the toll of wounded on American highways over the battlefronts.

We girls had, naturally, never seen a comet, and we read everything about it that we could lay our hands on. We were not in the least superstitious. "It is a perfectly natural occurrence," my mother had assured us, and we believed her. Then one day in April some disturbing news came. EARTH TO PASS THROUGH THE COMET'S TAIL, the paper read, RESULT DEBATABLE. The tail, it went on, was composed largely of gases. We would go through it at 2500 miles a minute at 9 o'clock on the evening of May 18. The earth has passed through a comet's tail before, it reminded us, once in 1819 and again in 1861, but those comets were smaller ones. This was Halley's. In a single month its tail had grown from 5,000,000 miles to more than 20,000,000. It was still growing. . . .

A good many sensible people—not just country people, either—began to wonder if we might not be in for something. What they read wasn't designed to quiet them any. "Through the glowing appendage of Halley's comet, as poisonous as it is beautiful, the earth will plunge on May 18th, 1910," said Collier's Weekly.

Scientists hastened to reassure us. It was true, they said, that the tail did conain poisonous elemens, but these were too thin to do any real damage. Most people took their word for it, but a few were already too aroused.

Lem Gott predicted the imminence of Doomsday. It would come, he warned, as of the heavens cracking. After Boshy heard that, if you as much as snapped a whip in the stable he would quake all over.

It took more than the threat of Doomsday to scare Mrs. Guptill. If the world was coming to an end, she guessed this was as good a time as any, she said. As for her, she wasn't going to sit around until May 18 with her hands folded.

Julia, too, showed real bravado. She was interested in comets, and she hoped this one would come close enough so that she could get a good look, she said. She was going to take all the bottles she could find and fill them with gases when we passed through the tail. This was ridiculous, Sue confided in me. Being in the Academy, she naturally thought she knew all there was to know about science. "Those gases are purely hydrolic," she said, leaving me mystified, but impressed.

Still I didn't like the idea of gas. My father sometimes gave it in his office. It had a sickening smell. I had seen patients who had taken it resting upon his sofa. I knew how careful he was to turn it off at just the right instant. You couldn't turn off a comet's tail. . . .

At night the light from the street lamp shone in round and bright through the porthole. I had a hard time sleeping. . . .

My mother began to complain that I looked spindling. "I'm going to mix you up some sulphur and molasses," she said. "It helped me as a girl, for all your father says."

There was no use in protesting. Sulphur and molasses had always been revolting to me. But this year it seemed to have a new taste. A taste like gas.

Attendance at church had increased noticeably. The Blaisdells and the Haskells, who had cherished a feud for generations, ended it by talking over the back fence. Two of my father's least responsible creditors suggested making a settlement.

In his zeal to save others, Lem Gott had begun to paint warnings in appropriate and conspicuous places. IS YOUR HOUSE FOUNDED UPON A ROCK? he printed in red across one of the ledges along the shore. YOU ARE MAKING YOUR LAST RUN stared out at you from the foul fence at the ball ground. The comet would hit the earth, he told all who would listen. May 18 would be the last day any of us would live.

On the evening of the ninth a fog rolled in, a heavy fog that blotted out the sky. There would be no use in getting up before sunrise, people agreed. To some it was a disappointment. To me it was a real relief.

The fog hung on after that, burning off every day before noon.

On the 16th we had our first word from Cousin Victoria. She knew we were sorry for the way we had treated her, she said, and she was willing to accept our apology. She was distraught about the royal family. Then followed a quotation that Sue was proud to recognize as coming from Julius Caesar.

When beggars die, there are no comets seen;

The heavens themselves blaze forth the death of kings.

A postscript added: "This may be the last letter you will ever have from me." Clearly, she felt herself, too, a special target.

"I'll certainly be thankful when the 18th is over," my mother sighed. "Such a to-do over nothing!"

On the 17th the fog lifted, and some claimed to have seen the comet then, in broad daylight, though no two, it seemed, had seen it in the same place. At night it would be bigger, brighter.

Boshy's agitation grew. His sniffs quickened in tempo. "What kin we do if the comet aims square at us?" he asked Mr. Tapley.

"We might ban it," Mr. Tapley told him. "The way we did automobiles."

On the morning of the 18th my mother insisted on my taking an extra spoonful of sulphur and molasses. "I'm goin gto have your father give you a thorough going-over," she said, looking worried. "And beginning tonight you go to bed at 7."

She had forgotten!

"Not tonight, Mama. Everyone is going to the hill tonight."

Navy Reports Loss Of Fast Transport

WASHINGTON, July 11. (U.P.) — Bombed and set afire by Japanese planes, the high speed transport U.S.S. Dickerson was sunk by U. S. naval gunfire off Okinawa after she was found to be beyond salvage, the Navy reported today.

The Dickerson was attacked by the enemy planes on April 2 while she was steaming some 15 miles off Okinawa. Five officers and 46 men of the transport's complement of 150 were lost in the engagement.

Tax Deductions For Congressmen Studied

WASHINGTON, July 11. (AP)—The treasury is seriously considering an action that would save each member of Congress at least $1,000 a year in federal income taxes.

The problem is: whether to allow senators and representatives to count as business expenses their meals and lodging while in Washington.

Recent court decisions have changed the picture somewhat. It was learned today that the department has reopened the question and has been studying it carefully for two weeks.

Congressmen never have been permitted to deduct these expenses in filing tax returns. Nowadays a congressman spends several thousand dollars a year on Washington meals and lodging—perhaps an average of $4,000 or $5,000. Some spend more, and pay taxes on it at 25 per cent and up.

17-Year-Old Is Held Following Stabbing

BONHAM, July 11. (U.P.)—Elmer Lumley, 20, was dead today following an altercation shortly after midnight near Telephone, Tex.

Lumley, one of a group returning from a party, was stabbed with a knife.

17-year-old youth was being held in jail pending charges.

"Buy A War Bond TODAY"

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

I FELT rather let down when I read the story of Moscow's recent victory parade when two hundred German flags were thrown into the gutter by marching soldiers and when Marshal Zhukov, riding to the Kremlin on a white horse, said in his speech:

"Today it is recognized by all that the Soviet Union played the main, decisive part in the achievement of this historic victory over Germany."

And then, in a twelve-line dispatch it said that Marshal Zhukov, "while stressing Russia's part in the defeat of Germany, gave credit to America and Britain."

BRANDEIS

Thanks, Marshal Zhukov, for giving us credit for having helped.

I am sure the parents of the thousands and thousands of soldiers who died on German soil will be grateful to you for being so nice to us.

Undoubtedly the army of boys who are coming back to us without an eye, without an arm, without a leg, with their minds and their hearts sore, will thank you, too, for the compliment.

* * *

This is no time for dissension or for quibbling.

We should be united in peace as well as we were in war.

But may I remind you, Marshal Zhukov, how badly you needed us when the Nazis were marching on Moscow and when you had to move your government way back into the interior?

May I remind you how badly you needed our lend-lease material, our equipment, our food, our mechanical and engineering genius?

May I just mention, in passing, what a tremendous difference there is between your living standards and ours?

May I remind you that we are not afraid to throw our country open to your press and your observers and that we let your visitors roam all over our land, while you shut your doors to anyone who has eyes to see, ears to hear or a pencil to write?

* * *

WE LIKE you Russians. You are fine people.

We let you have all the glory you need, because we don't need glory to keep our people together.

Go ahead, Marshal Zhukov, tell your millions all about your great deeds. You did them and you deserve credit for them.

But when you say that you played the main, decisive part in the victory over Germany, that is a little bit like a beauty parlor advertisement I read this morning which says:

"Take our course of treatments and become a glamour girl."

Your course of treatment was just what the Germans needed.

But please remember, there is more than one operator in the average beauty shop.

And you Russians alone could never licked Germany.

And yet, you are a splendid figure on that white charger of yours, Marshal Zhukov.

But the horse is pretty, too.

If Russia Fights Japan

Karafuto Area In The Spotlight

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE American Navy's sorties against the Karafuto portion of Sakhalin Island furnish fresh evidence that Russia will eventually, and perhaps sooner than expected, cast her military lot with the United States and Britain against Japan. On many occasions Pentagon spokesmen have noted that this area is a strategic spot with respect to Russo-American operations against Nippon.

In any large-scale attack on Hirohito's forces in Manchuria the Red Army would require tremendous supplies of oil for its tanks, planes and its great flotilla of submarines lying off the harbor of Vladivostok. The Soviet Union possesses the largest known supply of petroleum of any nation in the world, but its fields lie far to the west.

TUCKER

These wells were operated at maximum capacity during the conflict with Germany, and the machinery requires considerable overhauling. Moreover, it would be an almost impossible task to transport sufficient amounts across Siberia to the Maritime Provinces.

Tokyo has permitted lend-lease supplies to reach Vladivostok, even though they were for use against her Berlin ally. But the least sign of the Kremlin's entry on our side would bring a blockade of the many straits leading to the Russian port.

Thus possession of Karafuto (the Reds hold the northern section of Sakhalin) would provide vast bases for planes, oil, ammunition etc. They could easily be shipped or flown to Stalin's troops on the mainland.

Karafuto would give the U. S. another great advantage. It lies only about 1,000 miles north of Okinawa, which we have seized and consolidated. Between those two islands—Karafuto and Okinawa—stretches the Japanese homeland.

A study of even rough newspaper maps reveals the ease with which the big B-29s, using those southern and northern bases, could commute every hour of the day above the enemy's territory.

Our diplomatic and military experts still remain silent on Russia's prospective role, but they are not fooling anybody in Washington.

CONNALLY: Sen. Tom Connally may not have been the most brilliant statesmen at the diamond horseshoe assemblage of world diplomats at the San Francisco conference of the United Nations. But numerous foreign delegates returning home through the capital testify to the indirect part he played in obtaining assent to almost any compromise which the United States would accept.

To the representatives from the far corners of the earth, many of whom had read of but never set foot on American soil, the brawny Texan typified the might, the breeziness and the romance associated with this great Republic.

His shaggy hair, his gestures, even his somewhat flamboyant oratory, symbolized the vast resources of the West and Southwest, whose bounty of oil, cotton, cattle, ships and planes contributed so much to the final conquest of Hitler.

Tom's physique and personality were a daily topic of conversation among the foreign groups, including even the British. As President Roosevelt had planned when he chose the Golden Gate metropolis as a meeting place, they had glimpsed America's mills, mountains, rivers, prairies and wheat fields on their trip across the country.

In the chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations committee they saw, or thought they did, the image of the western continent's virility.

The other Americans—Sen. Arthur Vandenburg of Michigan, Lt. Com. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, Reps. Charles Eaton of New Jersey and Sol Bloom of New York—might have been fellows from any of numerous nations represented.

But "Tawm" epitomized the power beyond the seas which, twice in a generation, had saved European civilization from complete collapse.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

ONE of the most widely disputed points between capital and labor is the size of coming unemployment rolls.

Both groups have an ax to grind. Union chiefs quote alarmist statistics to prod congressional action on a revision of the national wage policy, unemployment compensation and a "cushion" of public works.

Big business executives foresee a pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. But they also stress prosperity ahead to block union demands in Washington and to dispel public worry which might result in timid purchasing.

LEMAN

Economists of the Labor Research association in New York maintain that, even if the Japanese war is going full tilt, the arms cutbacks by Spring will amount to about 50 per cent, causing an overall jobless total of approximately 3,000,000.

But if Hirohito quits, a severe emergency will occur. They estimate that the Federal Reserve board index of industrial production will sag from its current level of 225 to between 140 and 160. Translated into human terms, this would mean eight to 10 million people hunting for work.

Simultaneous with this ominous prediction comes a forecast by analysts of the National City Bank of New York. They find many favorable factors in reasonably speedy reconversion, holding estimates of unemployment, at least until the end of the year, down to small figures.

HIT: Workers, living in communities in which Victory plants have either shut down or have discharged large numbers, are frightened at prospects. Women picket Willow Run with signs like this: "My husband is not expendable. We got four kids."

CIO officials list the following unions as the ones which will be the hardest hit in the near future: United Auto Workers (which also includes aircraft and agricultural implement makers); Shipyard; Federal Workers; United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers; Steel; Furniture; Architects & Engineers; Mine-Mill (especially brass workers) and Maritime.

Five thousand have been laid off in small war plants in New York City. Current estimates are that 125,000 will be out by September and 350,000 by the end of December. Shipyard slashes run from Maine to the Gulf and up the West Coast. Already sharp cuts have been made in airframes.

* * *

OPTIMISM: Wall Street analysts contend that labor's fears of unemployment are exaggerated; that several factors are reassuring.

Many war industries—like ship repair, lumber, textiles and mines—are crying for more men. Farms and service trades are understaffed.

In 1941 when factories shifted to all-out war work, there was a great clamor by unions that "priorities unemployment" necessitated federal handouts to the jobless. But the lull was so short that no government relief measures were required. The economists say that the change-back will probably be almost as swift if materials are released.

Top drawer executives are still counting heavily on pent-up demands by consumers to pick up any slack for at least a couple of years and maybe longer.

Manufacturers are so convinced that good times are in the offing that they plan to invest four and a half billion dollars for plants, alterations and equipment in the next 12 months. Such a capital outlay is nearly three times the prewar average and 50 per cent higher than in the peak years 1929 and 1941.

The Federal Power Commission says that public utilities intend to spend around one billion for plant and equipment, maintenance and inventory increases. Large sums also will be used to expand railroads, residential construction, public works and the trade and service industries.

There are flies in the ointment which could retard reconversion. Owners are disgruntled because Uncle Sam is slow in removing his machinery from their factories.

Senate Hears Echoes From Fighting Fronts

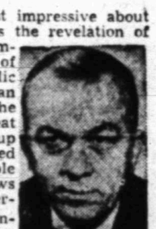

U. S. Public Approves Charter

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—In the huge and airy caucus room of the Senate Office building, where so much of our recent history has been reflected, there is now being written the final act that will change the whole course of our foreign policy.

There the Senate Foreign Relations committee is holding public hearings on the San Francisco charter. Its approval by the committee is assured. So is its ratification by the Senate after some debate.

What is most impressive about this occasion is the revelation of the terrific impact, finally, of American public opinion. You can almost feel the pulsations beat upon the group of men seated about the table there. It shows again that American public opinion is a living, vital force which men in office cannot deny.

STOKES

You come to see, as you listen to the proceedings there, that these men are not gathered here to make a decision. It already has been made for them. They are gathered here merely to confirm a decision already made by the people. They are obeying the mighty desire rising from the people all over a war-weary nation, and from the people, too, of other war-weary nations, who are literally shouting:

"It must not happen again!"

Tension Is Missing

This occasion, like others held in this room reserved for major issues, has drawn a good crowd. Every seat was taken when the hearing opened the first day. Some stood outside. But this was a placid audience, come to satisfy itself with the sight of a desired deed being done.

There were no tensions here, as there have been in this room on other occasions. No nervous sitting on the edge of chairs, ready to condemn raucously or derisively, or to approve with vicious applause that is meant to irritate an opponent at the same time it cheers a friend. There is good will here.

The drama here is in the lack of drama. That is its real meaning.

THERE was a time, not so many months ago, when venom permeated this high-ceilinged room in a clash of personalities symbolizing the two sides of a controversial domestic issue. The chandeliers literally were set to tinkling with the furious applause of fur-coated, bejewelled women for Jesse Jones, the practical banker and businessman; and, the next day, with the equally furious applause of representatives of labor organizations for Henry Wallace, sometimes described as a dreamer.

There is still bitterness over domestic issues.

There once was bitterness over the issue of international co-operation, now so generally accepted. This shows how far we have come, what a transformation there has been through the shedding of blood. This shows what a reawakening of political leaders has occurred at the call of millions of small voices. They were voices of parents whose young men offered their lives and voices of young men who laid down their lives.

Old Bitterness Gone

It was not five years ago that this same caucus room was saturated with bitterness over the Lend-Lease bill, that first step in co-operation with those who eventually become our Allies.

There was tension when the late Wendell L. Willkie walked into this room, hardly able to tread his way through the tightly packed throng, to take his stand alongside President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull, and thereby to win the enmity of Republican party leaders.

Such Republicans as were present the other day had only friendly smiles for former Secretary of State Stettinius when he sat down before them to testify about the San Francisco charter, and there were no tensions in the atmosphere.

MR. Stettinius recognized the change when he thanked Congress for its help. He spoke of the co-operation between President Roosevelt and Congress throughout the preliminaries to San Francisco. He pointed to the long period of education of the American public, saying that the whole American people participated directly "to an extent never approached before."

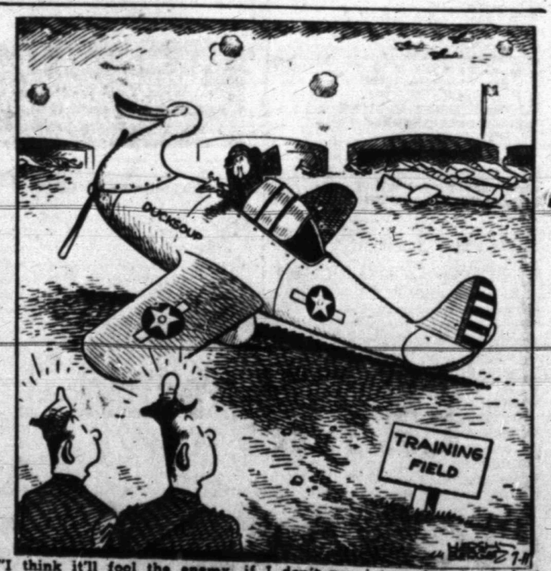

But there are other reasons, hundreds of thousands of them. The weary footsteps of Salerno and Anzio Beach and Cassino and the Normandy beaches and Guadalcanal and Iwo Jima and Okinawa echo now on the marble floors of the Senate caucus room.

General Says Jap Surrender Unlikely

CHINA, July 11. (AP)—Maj. Gen. Claire L. Shennault held a press conference yesterday "there is always the possibility the Japs will surrender, but in my opinion the chances are better than 50-50 they will not."

Asked for comment on a recently published remark by Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, former chief of staff to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, that the war might last another two years, the U. S. 14th Air force commander said that if the Allies exploited their advantages "I don't think it is necessary to fight two more years to lick the Japs. They are in pretty bad shape and getting in worse shape daily," he said. "They are not in shape to fight a long continued war."

U. S. Public Health Service Warns On Seasonal Polio Rise

WASHINGTON, July 11. (U.P.)—The U. S. Public Health service, warning that a seasonal rise in infantile paralysis has begun, urged parents today to keep children out of crowds and take other precaution against the dread disease.

Listing 155 new cases in the country during the week ended June 30, the service said a rise in poliomyelitis could be expected from now until fall "because this is the time of year for it."

It suggested the following precautions in communities where cases of the disease are reported:

1. Keep children out of crowds.
2. Avoid swimming pools.
3. Avoid over-exertion such as exhausting bicycle rides.
4. Don't remove tonsils except in urgent cases.
5. Get rid of flies.

Dr. Charles Armstrong, director of the division of infectious diseases, said one third of the 155 new cases reported in the last week in June were in Texas. In the previous week, 116 cases were reported and 96 the week before that.

He said that while polio symptoms vary the usual signs are a little fever, vomiting and diarrhea or constipation.

Definite symptoms follow a few days later. They are stiffness in the neck, leg, arm or back. In the case of bulbar payalysis there is great difficulty in breathing.

Armstrong said that all parents can do when symptoms appear is put the child in bed and call a doctor.

Texas Sergeant Gets Bronze Star Medal

CAMP WOLTERS, July 11 (U.P.) Camp Commander Col. Earl C. Flegel presented the Bronze Star medal to Sgt. Marvin R. Spencer, for his efforts in "heroically knocking out a German machinegun nest and seizing nine Nazi prisoners." It was learned here today.

The Texas sergeant, who is now a member of the military police staff here, was in a two-truck supply convoy when they were forced to stop on their way to the front lines near Metz, France by three German machinegun nests. Although wounded in the right arm, Spencer advanced "without hesitation" and eliminated one of the obstacles which tried to prohibit his way to the front lines with the needed ammunition he was carrying.

Formerly a member of a pioneer squad charged with the task of blowing up enemy bridges and railroads, Spencer aided in the destruction of the remaining two nests, still unmindful of his wounds, and seized nine prisoners in the short activity that followed. He then proceeded to lead the supply convoy through to its destination.

Spencer is the son of C. E. and Dollie May Spencer of (214 14th St.) Galveston, Tex. His brother, Clarence, is with the Army in Germany.

Operation May Not Be Needed For Baby

GALVESTON, July 11 (U.P.) — Doctors are studying the case today of the three-day-old baby girl of Cpl. and Mrs. Lawson L. Smith, of Austin, with the thought and hope that an operation will not be needed to save the young girl's life.

The baby, which was flown here from Austin in a C-46 transport plane, was at first thought to be suffering because of what doctors at first believed to be an esophogus fistula. X-rays gave the doctors hope that an operation would not have to be performed on the child.

Cpl. Smith was given special leave from a port of embarkation to go to Austin because of the serious condition of his young daughter.

The baby was flown from Bergstrom Army Air field, Austin, to Galveston.

Confiscated Oil Brings High Price

AUSTIN, July 11 (AP)—Sale of 30,290 barrels of confiscated oil at $43,315 an average of $1.43 per barrel, is the highest price in the memory of Travis county district court officials. Prewar confiscations brought from 10 to 25 cents per barrel.

The sale, made in Harris county to American Liberty Pipe Line company by Sheriff Neal Polk, was approved yesterday by Judge Roy C. Archer of 126th district court.

PRICES EDGE DOWNWARD

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—Stocks suffered from neglect rather than real selling pressure in today's market and most leaders edged downward.

Timid offerings cropped up after three successive recovery sessions. British doubts regarding the recent election outcome—results are due around July 26—were viewed as a bit bearish. Expectation of further Washington developments on speculation, together with growing labor disputes, inspired the trimming of accounts.

Transfers of $10,000 shares compared with 940,000 Tuesday.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off .2 of a point at 66.7.

Prominent losers included Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Boeing, Pan-American Airways and American Telephone.

Holding advances were Radio Corp., Distillers Corp., Hiram Walker, Western Union "A," International Harvester and Santa Fe.

Railroad bonds skidded.

Cotton . .

NEW YORK, July 11 (AP)—Cotton futures rallied into new seasonal high ground in early trading today but lost all the gains on profit-taking and hedge selling attracted by the sharp advance during the past week. Final prices were 10 cents a bale higher to 20 lower.

Commission houses were the in principal buyers in the morning run-up of 75 cents a bale. A favorable weekly government weather report appeared overshadowed by the potential threat of considerable weevil damage to the cotton crop.

There was a substantial amount of hedge selling during the session influenced by the fact that market prices the staple are well above the buying government levels.

NEW ORLEANS, July 11 (AP) — The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was unchanged at 22.73 cents a pound; average for the past 30 market days 22.70; middling ⅞ths-inch average 21.31.

Dallas News Buys New Plant Location

DALLAS, July 11 (U.P.) — Purchase by the Dallas News of a site for the construction of a new plant was announced today by G. B. Dealey, publisher of the News and chairman of its board.

Plans for the new plant, to be constructed as soon as conditions growing out of the war will permit, were being prepared by George L. Dahl, Dallas architect, and associated with him is William Gingsberg, New York engineer.

"The News is going to move; not today, but sometime in the future. It has been at the present location for the past 60 years, and on nine different occasions it has had to expand under nine different building contracts," Mr. Dealey said.

The new site is located near the union station.

Plan Announced For Debarkation Hospital

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP) — Army construction of a temporary 2,500-bed debarkation hospital in conjunction with Letterman General hospital, San Francisco, was announced today by Sen. Downey (D-Calif.)

The construction will cost "in the neighborhood of $3,000,000," Downey's aides said.

AIR CONDITIONED

Japs, On 43rd Month Of War, Face Oil Shortage Which Doomed Nazis

By RALPH HEINZEN
United Press War Analyst

Japan, today, after 43 months of war, had a very clear picture of her only choice: Unconditional surrender or increasingly widespread devastation on land and her own military reaction choked by a tightening blockade and a swiftly developing oil famine.

Hopes of a compromise peace, consequence of a weakening of our will to fight or of a split between the Allies, faded completely as acting Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew reiterated that United States policy toward Japan "has been and will continue to be unconditional surrender."

Grew's Warning

With Japan very definitely on the run, cut off from the plunder of her rich stolen empire to the south and forced to fight on with only the weapons she can forge at home and, for the time being, in Korea and Manchuria, Grew warned that the gravest danger to the Allied cause lies in loose peace talk.

Our naval supremacy in Japan's own home waters is so great that planes of Admiral William F. (Bull) Halsey's Task Force 38 took only 16 minutes for the round trip from their carrier to the Tokyo target and back to the carrier. Modern planes fly fast, but simple mathematics would indicate that the carriers were barely 40 miles off the mouth of the Bay of Tokyo.

Jap Fleet Not "Out"

The presence of the newest American superbattleship, the 45,000-ton Iowa, in the task force indicates clearly that there still is a Japanese fleet hidden for safety somewhere in home waters. It would be folly to risk such a vital and costly unit as the Iowa if its big guns were not necessary in an emergency to cover the four carriers in the task force—the 27,000-ton Lexington and Essex, the 10,000-ton Independence and San Jacinto.

Against American air superiority, however, Japan is helpless and without the proper air umbrella her fleet is forced to stay hidden. It is clear that the purpose of the combined strike of 1,000 carrier-borne bombers and 550 Superfortresses against Honshu main island is to further weaken Japan's small remaining airforce and to destroy plane production.

Lesson From Europe

That is an application in the Pacific of lessons learned in Europe. Georing showed the way both in Poland and in France. In each operation, Germany began her blitzkrieg attacks by a mass concentration of every bomber that could fly against the Polish and French airfields. In the first 24 hours of the drive against France in May 1940, more than 60 per cent of the small French air force was damaged or destroyed on the ground.

In tactical bombing, no planes or bombs are wasted on immediate military targets. Long-term results are sought. Japan is to feel the pinch of these latest bombings in the months to come. There will be a further decrease of aircraft production but there will, far more important, be a very grave oil famine in the months ahead.

Refinery Major Target

For the third time within a month the great Utsube oil refinery near Yokkaichi has been a major target. At the very same hour, Australian troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur vitrually completed the capture of the Pandansari oil refinery area, in the Balikpapan bay region of Borneo.

There is more than a coincidence in those two widely separated operations. They are very definitely twin moves on the Allied checkerboard, moves destined to bring Japan closer to that day when there will not be enough oil to move her fleet or her airforce—a state of inferiority into which Germany was thrown many months before her final collapse despite Germany's great synthetic production capacity.

Japan is paying dearly for failure to provide herself with enough oil for a long war. Her lack of an adequate fleet of oil tankers was evident from the start of the war as one of the glaring weaknesses of the Nippon war machine. Although she had the third largest merchant fleet in the world, her tanker fleet was seventh in rank.

Only 49 Tankers At Start

On the eve of Pearl Harbor, Japan had but 49 tankers or 5 percent of its total merchant fleet. The United States had 349 tankers, or 30 percent of its total. Short on tankers, Japan was obliged to move most of the crude oil from her rich southern conquered fields in barrels by cargo ships and barges, instead of moving it in bulk in tankers. That slowed down oil transport tremendously and as a result today, Japan is running out of oil and gasoline. Every day brings new reports of Japanese planes destroyed on the ground because they were without fuel to be moved to safety or to rise and fight.

The same oil famine which whipped Germany, kept her tanks, planes, ships and motor-convoys idle, now menaces Japan. It gives at least a partial explanation for the weird "unofficial" demarches being made around the world in neutral capitals, as reported by Mr. Grew, all pointed toward saving Japan's face by offering compromise terms which she might be able to accept.

Marine Recruiters Here Wednesday

In Lubbock Wednesday, Capt. J. F. Gheen, commanding officer of the U. S. Marine recruiting district with headquarters at El Paso, was enroute to Amarillo to present posthumously medals to the parents of two West Texans killed in action against the Japanese.

Accompanying Gheen were S/Sgts. Dottie Gillespie and Jan Hurley, members of the U. S. Marine Corps, Women's reserve, and Sgt. Ralph Kaffka, public relations sergeant.

The two women Marines will be in the local recruiting office through Friday, and possibly Saturday, it was announced by S/Sgt. D. N. Pope, Lubbock recruiter. Women who wish to enlist in this branch of service may contact them on the second floor of the Federal building for full details.

Marjorie Schneider, Sybil Booth and Joyce Hines, all of Lubbock and the former two students at Texas Tech, filed applications for enlistment in the corps. They will go to El Paso for final examinations on July 22.

Poor Digestion? YES ☐ NO ☐
Headachy? ☐
Sour or Upset? ☐
Tired-Listless? ☐

Do you feel headachy and upset due to poorly digested food? To feel cheerful and happy again your food must be digested properly.

Each day, Nature must produce about two pints of a vital digestive juice to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested—leaving you headachy and irritable.

Therefore, you must increase the flow of this digestive juice. Carter's Little Liver Pills increase this flow quickly—often in as little as 30 minutes. And, you're on the road to feeling better.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's Little Liver Pills aid digestion after Nature's own order. Take Carter's Little Liver Pills as directed. Get them at any drugstore. Only 25¢. Adv.
