JAPAN IS FIRM ON DEMANDS OF CHINA

LEAGUE OF NATIONS WILL RECEIVE NEW PLAN TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Dec. 3—Foreign Minister Baron Shidehara today completed the draft of Japan's counter proposals to the League of Nations' council's Manchurian peace plan and new instructions to Ambassador Yoshizawa probably will be dispatched to Paris late tonight.

The counter proposals were understood to meet points in the league's plan which are unacceptable as they stand to the Tokyo government.

Japan Stands Firm

Japan is standing firmly on its demand that the Chinese military forces must entirely evacuate Manchuria if a neutral zone at Chinchow is to be realized. The solemn engagement of the Tokyo government to observe the neutrality of this area, except where banditry may require repressive measures, is held to be a sufficient guarantee, while a neutral control, it is held, could not be accepted by Japan.

PARIS, Dec. 3. (AP)—The League of Nations' council today awaited notes from Tokyo and Nanking in the hope they might serve to reduce several formidable obstacles still obstructing realization of a plan for Manchurian peace.

Replies from both governments as to whether they will accept the league's resolution providing for a commission of inquiry are still unreceived.

FATAL DATE IS TOLD JURORS

NEWTON YARBERRY ON TRIAL SECOND TIME IN GIRL'S DEATH

(By The Associated Press)

BEEVILLE, Dec. 3—Testimony that Dorothy Symons referred repeatedly to a planned date with Newton Yarberry the night she disappeared was given in district court yesterday by state witnesses.

Yarberry was on trial for a second time on a charge of murder of the attractive 18-year-old choir singer. The first trial resulted in a hung jury. The girl disappeared July 30 and her body, clad in a bathing suit, was found in mud and seaweed at Aransas Pass.

The state's case was built on circumstantial evidence. Mrs. Sidney Fowler, whom the girl visited July 30, testified Miss Symons told her of a swimming date with Yarberry for that night. The girl took a bathing suit with her, Mrs. Fowler said.

Tom Conner said he walked with Miss Symons from Mrs. Fowler's home to Aransas Pass. He quoted her as saying she was going to meet Yarberry. He did not alter his story although he was cross-questioned minutely during more than three hours on the stand.

Pork Chops, Ham Sell For Low Price

NORFOLK, Neb., Dec. 3 (AP)—Imagine pork chops and ham on the hoof at less than one cent a pound.

That's the price fall pigs, weighing sixty to seventy pounds, brought at a sale in the stockyards yesterday. They sold for 50 cents each.

Local dealers said the price was the lowest in their recollection.

Mistreated Child Made State Ward

ESCANABA, Mich., Dec. 3. (AP)—Judge Judd Yelland of probate court ruled last night that Elaine Plucker, 8, be made a ward of the state welfare department after testimony had been presented in his court that the child, thinly-clad, often had been kept in a packing box in the yard of her home in all kinds of weather.

The hearing was instituted by Mrs. Cora Plucker, the child's grandmother, who sought custody of her. Elaine's mother died when the girl was two weeks old and the grandmother cared for her until the remarriage of her father three years ago.

YOUTH SHOT BY VICE CRUSADER

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Hope was revived today for the recovery of Herman Knol, 17-year-old youth shot in the abdomen by Daniel L. Gilday, liquor and vice crusader.

Although physicians had predicted the development of peritonitis probably would be fatal, Dr. Leo Jacobson found that the condition had been checked and the youth's temperature had declined from 103 to 100 degrees. If the youth lives through the next 24 hours, Dr. Jacobson said, he may recover.

Meanwhile Gilday remained in jail because his attorney failed to procure a $15,000 bond for his release on a charge of assault in attempt to kill.

MEETING POSTPONED

City commission will not meet today, as members desire to attend the Lubbock-Amarillo High school football game this afternoon. The commission will meet at its usual time next Thursday.

DEMOCRATS IN SQUABBLE ON CONTROL

COMMITTEE CONTROL OR ONE MAN RULE TO BE SETTLED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3—One man rule or committee control is the latest issue staring house Democrats in the face as they approach assumption of congressional rule.

Three stalwarts of the party, Byrns, of Tennessee, Crisp of Georgia and Ayres of Kansas, will propose forming a steering committee when the party caucus is held Saturday. The unopposed candidate for speaker, Garner of Texas, is known to be against it.

Byrns wants the "wisdom of nine men representative of all sections and elements of the party" to be added to the directing force of the speaker and floor leader in view of increased Democratic responsibility.

Almost every other source of trouble has been disposed of by the Democrats and the caucus will find out one candidate for each major house post.

Perfume King Ordered To Pay Wife $5,200,000

POKER PLAYING, ONE NIGHT A WEEK, APPROVED

COTY, NOTED PARIS MILLIONAIRE, SAYS IT IS TOO MUCH

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Dec. 3. —M. Francois Coty, noted Paris millionaire perfume manufacturer, a large part of whose fortune has come from sales of his products in the United States, faced the prospect today of having to pay an additional $5,200,000 to his former wife as compensation for her share in building up the business.

A Paris court issued the order.

Mme. Coty divorced the manufacturer in 1929. They were married in 1900. He borrowed money from her brother and they opened a laboratory in which she also worked in order to keep the secret of the perfumes within the family.

Their fortune rose to nearly $35,000,000 by the time they were divorced and Madame Coty claimed half of it because there was no marriage contract. M. Coty paid her $12,000,000 and she claimed an additional $5,200,000.

When the order was handed down in the civil court yesterday, M. Coty's attorney pleaded that the manufacturer did not have the money, asserting that the state of business in the United States had resulted in huge losses to his interests there.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—A Chicago court has sanctioned Peter Dowid's poker playing—one night a week—but there's a catch to it.

Win, lose or draw he's got to start home at 11:45 p. m., and if he follows the advice of Judge Joseph Sabath he will take an alarm clock with him.

The provisions were fixed by the court yesterday in effecting a reconciliation between Dowid and his wife, Victoria, who had sued for separate maintenance. Peter said he wanted some rights.

"You'll have them," said the judge, "but do as I say. No drinking, except three little ones on your night out each week. You may do what you want for amusement, which probably means playing poker, but you must be home at midnight, so buy an alarm clock and have it ring at 11:45. Then leave."

Everybody agreed, including Peter who said this was "more than I ever had before."

PRIZES OFFERED PERFECT BABIES

HAMILTON, Ont., Dec. 3 (AP) — There's $200,000 in prizes awaiting young men and young women of this vicinity who are "99 per cent perfect."

All they have to do is enroll in the late W. G. Walton's eugenic contest, then get married and have a 99-per cent perfect baby. Each baby who meets the requirements will net them $1,000, half to be paid when the child is 12, and the other half on the 21st birthday.

Walton, firm believer in eugenic marriages, left the $200,000 in his will. Before applicants can enroll, physicians must declare them 99 per cent perfect, physically and mentally.

Arguments Slated In Jennings Case

PECOS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Lawyers were ready to present arguments today in the murder trial of W. R. Jennings, former Winkler county peace officer. Jennings testified yesterday he shot W. M. "Blackie" Laughlin in self-defense.

Jennings denied he had "planted" Laughlin's gun. George Wright, former Wink policeman, had testified he had seen some one throw Laughlin's gun from an automobile to Laughlin's body after the killing.

BANKHEAD WIN IN ELECTION IS PROBED

COMMITTEE REPORTS SOME FRAUD FOUND IN THE VOTING

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3—On findings of universal disregard for election laws and circumstances indicating "some fraud", Chairman Hastings of the senate election subcommittee today formally questioned the validity of the Alabama election which sent John H. Bankhead to the senate.

The Republican senator from Delaware laid a bulky factual report, without recommendations, before his committee as it gathered to permit counsel for Bankhead and the contestant former Senator J. Thomas Heflin to argue disputed points.

Outstanding conclusions of the report were:

Violations Cited

That violations by election officials were the rule rather than the exception and spread to every voting place examined.

That on the basis of ballots temporarily laid aside Hastings' workers could not find that the election result would be altered, but other questionable ballots might change this.

That Bankhead spent $1,500 to $2,500 more than permitted by the Alabama law disqualifying candidates with expenditures over $10,000.

That exclusion of all improperly handled ballots would make determination of the wishes of the Alabama majority impossible.

Says Seals Broken

That among the law violations by election officials were failure to number the ballots in ink; failure to roll and seal the ballots; breakage of seals on ballot boxes; voting of absentees as much as ten years out of the state; voting by persons who did not pay their poll taxes until long after the legally specified time.

Indications so far have been that Bankhead would be seated next week, the contest coming up later.

Man Slain In Card Game Early Today

HOUSTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—J. F. "Easy" Copeland, 30, was shot to death early today in a card game when two shots were fired from a darkened room by a tall man wearing a white mask.

Witnesses said Copeland was slain as he cried, "don't do that," and advanced on the man holding the pistol and believed by those present to have been planning to take the money which changed hands in the game.

Police homicide officers were questioning 14 persons.

PLANS PARIS HOP

MADRID, Dec. 3 (AP)—Captain Bert Hinkler, who recently flew across the South Atlantic from South America to Africa, today postponed a flight to Paris on the way to London because of bad weather. He probably will start tomorrow.

Wheat Tariff Asked By British Millers

LONDON, Dec. 3 (AP)—A general tariff against foreign wheat of about 9 cents a bushel, at the present rate of British exchange, the Daily Express said today has been proposed by British millers.

The millers also proposed, the Express said, that a similar duty be imposed on unsold foreign wheat stored in Great Britain, particularly thousands of tons of Soviet grain lying in port elevators.

SANDIES MEET WESTERNERS FOR TITLE

SEVEN THOUSAND ARE EXPECTED AT CLASH THIS AFTERNOON

With their interest centered on Tech field where the Lubbock Westerners and the Amarillo Sandies again will battle for the football supremacy of District One, Texas Interscholastic League, seven thousand grid fans were beginning to make their way toward the college campus at 1:30 today.

The game, the second this season between the two teams, is scheduled to start at 2:30.

Lubbock was "football mad" this morning. On every hand football was the topic of conversation and the hotels at noon were teeming with visitors with nothing else on their lips.

Expect Record Crowd

The game is expected to draw a record crowd for a high school contest in Lubbock.

The entire west side of the Tech stands had been sold out at noon with the exception of a few seats on the ten-yard line, J. O. Smith, in charge of the downtown sales at Bowen's Hilton drug, reported. Only one or two box seats were left. The remainder of the tickets were expected to be purchased by out-of-town fans before game time at the gate.

Included in the fans at the game will be approximately 1,500 Amarillo supporters, the majority of which arrived at 12:30 on a special Santa Fe train. Other visitors include coaches and scouts from Central and East Texas districts.

Parade On Program

After detraining, the Amarillo delegation headed by the high school and pep squad were to parade through the downtown streets and gather around Amarillo's headquarters, the Hilton hotel.

More than 800 were on the eleven-car train. A number of Pampa and other North Plains fans were included in the visitors.

Starting at 1 o'clock, more than 500 Lubbock courtesy cars were to arrive at the Hilton to transport the visitors to the game. The cars were under the supervision of Dan Powers of the high school faculty. The visitors will be brought back to the hotel after the game.

Interest in the game continued to increase with the steady arrival of fans throughout the morning. A large number of Amarillo persons drove through in cars this morning. Scores of South Plains people also were arriving throughout the morning. Roads were reported slightly heavy but fans were coming from all directions.

Will Settle Tie

To the winner of the game goes the district title after a three-way tie had resulted in previous games between Pampa, Amarillo and Lubbock. Pampa was again defeated by Lubbock Monday of this week and Lubbock meets the Sandies today as a result.

The winner of today's game must face the Quanah Indians Saturday for the bi-district title, the place to be decided by officials tonight.

In order to allow their employes to attend the game this afternoon, all Piggly-Wiggly, Helpy-Selfy, M System, Red and White grocery stores, the lumber yards, wholesale grocery houses and a large number of other business firms are closing their doors from 2 until 5:30.

MELVERN HUNTER DIES WEDNESDAY; FUNERAL NOT SET

Victim of an illness of only two weeks, Melvern Hunter, 24, Texas Tech engineering graduate, of Plainview, died in a local hospital Wednesday night. He was brought to Lubbock from Plainview Monday after his condition had been pronounced critical by physicians there.

He is survived by his young widow, the former D'Aun Sammons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Sammons, 1601 10th street and two half-brothers, one of Ohio, and the other of Kansas. The widow is also a graduate of Tech.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed today, pending the arrival of the brothers who started from Kansas City by motor today. Interment will be in Plainview, probably Friday.

Hunter was graduated in electrical engineering, receiving a bachelor of science degree in August 1930. He was one of the most prominent students on the campus and was a star basketball player for three years. He was also active in many other school affairs, taking a leading part in activities of the engineering school.

The young couple was married here on February 18.

TOBACCO MART CLOSED BY GROWERS

AUCTIONS POSTPONED AS FARMERS FIGHT LOW PRICES

(By The Associated Press)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 3. — Following the lead of Henderson and Owensboro, other Kentucky dark tobacco markets have postponed auctions until next week with the exception of Franklin, Ky., where farmers did not express open dissatisfaction with prices.

Sales were literally "howled down" by farmers at Owensboro Tuesday and at Henderson Wednesday, forcing warehousemen to stop the auctions. In both cities the growers and boards of trade decided to conduct no more sales until Monday.

Dark leaf prices at both Owensboro and Henderson averaged between $4 and $4.50 a hundred pounds before sales were halted as compared to averages of $8 and $9 last year's opening. At Franklin, where 136,000 pounds were sold yesterday at average of $4.13 a hundred many rejections were reported but actions were not stopped.

Sales of burley, grown in central Kentucky, will begin at Lexington Monday, other markets opening the day after. Burley ordinarily sells at double the price of dark tobacco, grown in western Kentucky.

A committee of burley growers at Lexington yesterday approved a co-operative marketing contract but will not seek signers until assurance is given enough tobacco can be pledged to make it effective.

Clara Bow Is Sued For Gambling Debt

LAS VEGAS, Nevada, Dec. 3. (AP) For the second time in a year an alleged unpaid gambling debt has been charged to Clara Bow, redhead screen actress.

A suit for $1,100 was on file here today against the actress on a demand note claimed to have been given in a gambling debt. Rex Bell, cowboy whose ranch Miss Bow has been visiting, was named co-defendant.

The suit was brought by Louis Cuneo, one of the owners of a gambling casino, who said the demand note was given last September 26 and requests for payments have been unsuccessful.

DENY ALIMONY FOR HUSBAND

CHAUFFEUR - HUSBAND ON OSAGE HEIRESS TO GET EXPENSES

(By The Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 3.—Charles J. Chalette, chauffeur, who married his employer, Elizabeth McAllister, Osage Indian oil heiress, cannot collect alimony from her but is entitled to divorce expenses.

Superior Judge Dudley Valentine ruled that California law makes no provision for a man to collect alimony even though a wife has an estimated income of $150,000 yearly, as reported in Mrs. Chalette's case.

The judge, however, ordered Mrs. Chalette to pay her husband $3,750 as a defense fund in the divorce action she has instituted.

Chalette married Miss McAllister last September. At that time he said he had $165. He reported his present assets at $32.

Chalette admitted his wife gave him various sums, promising him $10,000 yearly as spending money. The former chauffeur testified, however, that most of the money she gave him is in escrow in real estate deals and attached by her.

Mrs. Chalette instituted divorce proceedings after approximately two months of wedded life. She charged her husband with cruelty and asserted he had married her for her money.

"BRIARCLIFF" GOES THE WAY OF ALL CHAMPION STEERS—TO AUCTION BLOCK

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 3—"Briarcliff Thickset," king for a day, went the way of all champion steers today—to the auction block.

At the stockyard inn, where cattlemen gather, there was only one thought:

"Who'd buy this Angus calf; how much would he bring?"

"Briarcliff" a yearling from Duchess county, New York, was adjudged the grand champion steer of the International Livestock show—the highest honor. But the auction of champions today marked the end of his brief reign.

The rules of the international necessitate these auctions. Hotels and railroads, in past seasons, have vied in bidding for these moguls of meat—to serve as choice morsels on Christmas day.

Last year's monarch, "Jimmy," another Aberdeen Angus, brought $2.50 a pound. The year before, "Lucky Strike," still another Angus, sold for the peak price of the show, $8.25. But that was a year of great prosperity and no such price was expected today for "Briarcliff."

Interest at the exposition, with most of the premier honors awarded, centered on the auction. After "Briarcliff" were many more.

ZEPPELIN WHICH WOULD MAKE AKRON AN AERIAL MIDGET SEEN BY DESIGNER

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 3—The Akron may be the world's largest dirigible, but to its designer it's just an aerial midget compared to the size of an airship he has found can be built with the utmost safety on the same principle.

Dr. Karl Arnstein, vice-president and chief engineer of the Goodyear Zeppelin corporation, under whose direction the Akron was constructed, revealed before he sailed for Germany today that his studies show a ship three times as large could be constructed without sacrifice of efficiency.

"In fact," he said, "the bigger they are the better they fly."

Dr. Arnstein, who designed more than 70 of Germany's wartime Zeppelins before joining the American company, explained that during his trip abroad he will confer with Dr. Hugo Eckner about the long-contemplated plans for a regular trans-Atlantic and trans-Pacific airship service.

He said although studies have shown that dirigibles can be built larger he does not believe the immediate future will require a type of ship for passenger service larger than 10,000,000 cubic feet. The Akron is about 6,500,000 cubic feet.

Today's Social Engagements Are Postponed Because Of High School Football

Mrs. John Keathley Is Complimented With Pretty Luncheon Here Wednesday

Although Wednesday and Friday of this week are dates for a number of parties and club meetings, there are few happenings in the social world this afternoon because of the high school football game between Lubbock and Amarillo.

Several of today's affairs have been postponed until Friday in order that members of the organizations may attend the game. Other events which could not be slated for Friday because of conflicts with regular other meetings and parties, have been indefinitely postponed.

Lu Beta Delphians are having a meeting at the Hilton this afternoon because this date had been chosen several weeks ago when conflicts were found on the regular meeting dates for December—the second and fourth Thursdays.

The Junior High school Parent-Teacher association meeting, which was to have been held this afternoon at 4 o'clock, is to be held at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

Ace Hi To Meet

A bridge party for the Ace Hi club, scheduled for 3 o'clock this afternoon with Mrs. C. G. Farr, 1810 13th street, is to be the same hour and place Friday afternoon. The Thursday Bridge club party that was to have been this afternoon has been indefinitely postponed.

One after-the-game affair is to be carried out as scheduled. This is the annual progressive dinner for the Lubbock High school branch of the National Honor Society. The dinner will be served in three courses this evening. The first course will be in the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Stewart, 2318 Broadway. The second course will be in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis, 1720 Main street. The third course will be served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Matthews, 2109 18th street.

Wednesday affairs here included a pretty compliment to one of the most popular brides of the fall and meetings of several needle clubs.

As a courtesy to Mrs. John A. Keathley, the former Miss Kate Boyd, Mrs. R. D. Moxley and her daughter, Mrs. Winfield Watkins, jr., entertained Wednesday with a luncheon in the Moxley home at 1805 14th street. Miss Boyd was married the day before Thanksgiving.

A color scheme of gold and rose was used in appointments throughout the entertaining rooms.

The table in the dining room was covered with yellow and orchid damask and centered with a silver bowl of pink roses and yellow chrysanthemums. Mrs. Keathley and several of her girlhood friends were seated at this table. Corsages were yellow chrysanthemums and orchid sweet peas.

Five foursome tables were arranged in other rooms and each was centered with a silver bowl of flowers and laid with corsages as place favors.

Silver candlesticks on the buffet held white tapers.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a gift and she was presented a shower of glassware by the guests.

The guest list included Mesdames Dick Mims, H. G. Fehleison, Weldon Hankins, Ross McWhorter, Gaylord Hankins, John Dalrymple, A. V. Weaver, J. S. Johnson, Walter P. Jennings, T. B. Duggan, J. D. DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D. Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

JEALOUSY

THE OTHER DAY when I felt dejected and disconsolate, and therefore out of tune to write, I picked up the first volume of Mark Twain's Autobiography. As is usually the case whein I take up any book by this, my favorite author, a few hours passed before I laid it down.

I particularly enjoyed the description of his experience with a lecture bureau when in Boston, where each prospective lecturer was tried out before an audience of 2,500 people in the old Music Hall. With due acknowledgement to his publishers, Harper and Brothers, and to the memory of the author, we shall let the dead man speak:

"De Cordova—humorist—he was the man we were troubled about. I think he had another name, but I have forgotten what it was. He had been printing some dismally humorous things in the magazines; they had met with a deal of favor and given him a pretty wide name; and now he suddenly came proaching upon our preserve and took us by surprise. Several of us felt pretty unwell—too unwell to lecture. We got outlying engagements postponed and remained in town. We took front seats in one of the great galleries—Nasby, Billings and I—and waited. The house was full.

"When de Cordova came on he was received with what we regarded as a quite overdone and almost indecent volume of welcome. I think we were not jealous, nor even envious, but it made us sick, anyway. When I found he was going to read a humorous story—from a manuscript—I felt better and hopeful, but still anxious. He had a Dickens arrangement of tall gallows frame adorned with upholsteries, and he stood behind its overhead row of hidden lights. The whole thing had a quite stylish look and was rather impressive.

"The audience was so sure that he was going to be funny that they took a dozen of his first utterances on trust and laughed cordially—so cordially, indeed, that it was very hard for us to bear—and we felt very much disheartened. Still I tried to believe he would fail, for I saw that he didn't know how to read. Presently the laughter began to relax; then it began to shrink in area; and next to lose spontaneity; and next to show gaps between; the gaps widened; more yet; still more. It was getting to be almost all gaps and silence, with that-untrained and unlively voice droning through them.

"Then the house sat dead and emotionless for a whole ten minutes. We drew a deep sigh; it ought to have been a sigh of pity for a defeated fellow craftsman, but it was not—for we were mean and selfish, like all the human race, and it was a sigh of satisfaction to see our unoffending brother fail."

Now, my fellow parent, think of similar experiences of yours, when you hoped and prayed that some other person would fail, and when you feared he wouldn't. Can you imagine a living soul who has not entertained such meanness toward his fellows at some time? Of course you cannot; jealousy and the "sinful" attitude which it arouses is as common to mankind as heart beat and breathing.

When we are aware of this fact, we will guard ourselves more carefully so that we might offend less often and less gravely. Awareness of the universality of jealousy ought to make us more charitable toward our neighbors and toward our children, enabling us to realize that in their place we would act about as they do.

A Traveling Jewel Case

IT is very hard, often, to think of what to give a friend who goes to Palm Beach, abroad, on cruises or spends her week-ends visiting.

A new jewel case answers this problem, a neat little, cute little, useful jewel case in leather which opens up so you can see what you have in it and shuts up so you can pack it.

One of the best things about this is that it comes in the most delectable colors, new rose pink, soft green, pale lavender, bright orange, and other tones to match the taste of the most fastidious person to whom you want to send a gift.

EMPTY STOCKING XMAS WOULD BE ELIMINATED

Expressing fear that Lubbock poor children would be missed by Santa Claus, as not a single call was made to Boy Scout headquarters Wednesday to offer discarded toys, D. T. Jennings, scout executive, commented that "there is no childhood disappointment equal to that of an empty stocking on Christmas morning."

Persons who have old toys their children have discarded are asked to call 695, the scout office, and report the toys. Boy scouts will pick up the playthings Saturday, the firemen will mend and repair them and the Lions will distribute the toys at their annual Christmas party.

Bingham Will Ask Medal For Airman

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—As a hero's reward for the flier he considers America's ace of aces, Senator Bingham will ask congress for a medal of honor for Major Raoul Lufbery, noted French-American pilot.

And, in recognition of peacetime aviation accomplishment, he will seek a gold medal for Wiley Post and Harold Gatty for their eight-day flight around the world.

Lufbery, who leaped to his death May 19, 1918, over Maron, near Tours, France, was unofficially credited with 26 planes. Officially he bagged 17 before his craft burst into flames over the lines while chasing a German photographic machine.

LUBBOCK DELEGATION VISITS TOWNS OF AREA YESTERDAY

Circulating an invitational message of a Christmas pageant and parade which will be conducted in Lubbock, Friday, December 11, four members of a chamber of commerce public relations committee Wednesday visited Abernathy, Hale Center, Plainview, and Olton. Interest in the unusual spectacle was display in those towns, the committeemen reported.

A similar trip will be made to Slaton, Southland, Post, and other communities in that sector Friday. Bands to compete in the pageant here are sought by the committeemen.

Conferences Held

Approximately 20 people, representing Olton, conferred with the Lubbock group at Olton courthouse and a committee from the Plainview Chamber of Commerce discussed the pageant with the visitors. Many people from all the places visited are planning to come to Lubbock December 11, it was said.

The pyramids of Egypt and the Great Wall of China were said to have been built during periods of depression to relieve unemployment.

A Fortune For Their Trouble

Because they "got along" with Mrs. Margaret Schindler, eccentric recluse of Wichita, Kas., when nobody else could, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Woltz and their son, Eugene, shown above, are $74,000 richer. Judge J. E. Alexander, in probate court, held that the Woltz family was entitled to the estate since they had helped Mrs. Schindler, who died in March, 1930, in her declining years.

ARTIST, PENNILESS AND STARVING, DEFEATS POVERTY, REACHES SUCCESS

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. (AP)—It's a traditional art story—but there it is.

A month ago, Vicente Canade was literally starving in a Brooklyn garret with a wife and six children. He was digging ditches, doing odd jobs. He wanted to paint but he had no material and the wolf howled at the door.

Came a fairy godmother.

Mme. Marie Rose Desestret, a little French woman of enough means to carry out her whims, decided a few years ago that America was most likely to be fertile ground for modern design. She came over and set up shop.

As time went on, Madame Desestret came to the conclusion that America was not only fertile ground but carried its own seed of modern genius. She became deeply interested in American artists.

She founded a new, modern type salon which she called L'Elan galleries. Her object was to take modern art away from the unsympathetic red plush of bygone days.

She sought little known Americans of the modern school and placed their work in a setting in which it was most likely to be understood. She remembered she had once seen pictures by an unschooled artist named Canade. She made inquiries and found him.

"I like your work," Madame Desestret told him, "I'll take care of you—go ahead and paint."

Canade, happy, worked feverishly. In January L'Elan galleries will be his for a one-man show.

Population of Illinois charitable and penal institutions increased more than 50 percent in 10 years, while the state's population increased 17.65 percent.

AFTER NEARLY FIFTY YEARS IN THE LOWER HOUSE, PAGE TO PASS WHEN DEMOCRATS ASSUME CONTROL DEC. 7

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Fifty years less twelve days of serving the house of representatives will see William Tyler Page, clerk, raised briefly to the speaker's chair.

To convene the house December 7, he will be, in a way, king for a day. But it will be the wrong day.

I had hoped to be sitting in the speaker's chair December 19, the fiftieth anniversary of the day when I came here, at 13 years of age, a page boy," said Page. "If the house had been deadlocked, that might easily have happened. But recent Democratic victories have made anything but a speedy Democratic election of speaker and clerk very unlikely."

"I may come right up to that fiftieth anniversary and not arrive there at all," said Page. "It all depends on what happens after the Democrats presumably elect my successor on December 7.

May Not Get Position

"A movement is on foot, I know, to offer me some sort of a position here, and it all depends on how that develops.

"Some business openings have been discussed with me but frankly, after 50 years here, I would feel like a fish out of water anywhere else. This is my life work. I like its contacts. I should like to continue in some capacity even though the salary does not comport with what I have been receiving."

The veteran legislative expert, who has written the American's creed, known to every school child, and guide books for new congressmen, grew a bit misty-eyed as he reviewed his nearly half a century under the capitol dome.

Reviews Career

It has included: The rise and fall of nine speakers; the march up Capitol Hill of twelve inaugural parades; the fan-fare which went with the successive admissions of twelve new states to the union; the spectacular struggle pending passage of four constitutional amendments; a comradely acquaintance, down through the years, with 8,000 members of the house of representatives.

On that platform from which Nicholas Longworth made prophetic farewell on the closing day of the seventy-first congress, Page will say his goodbye to the clerkship on the opening day of the seventy-second.

"I haven't decided yet whether I shall sing a swan song," Page said. "The associations have been so very pleasant I want to say something. But when the heart is full, it is so easy to spill over—so hard to say just the right thing."

STEAM WITHOUT BOILING WATER I S DESCRIBED

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—A new boiler which produces steam without first boiling the water was described to the American Society of Mechanical Enngineers here.

It operate at a pressure of 3,500 pounds to the square inch, which is above anything used before in power plant practice.

The revolutionary workings of this boiler were reported by A. A. Potter, dean of engineering at Purdue university, H. L. Solberg, associate professor of mechanicaal engineering and G. A. Hawkins. The boiler operates in the Purdue engineering laboratories.

In producing steam, the difference between a teakettle and a boiler is mainly one of pressure. The teakettle boils at 212 degrees and no amount of added heat raises the temperature of the water. When water is confined in a closed vessel, like a steam plant, the boiling point rises. But every boiler has a fixed point where the water boils and above which its temperature does not rise.

At 3200 pounds, steam reaches what science calls the "critical point," when boiling no longer occurs. Any additional heat increases the temperature of the fluid.

One advantage of the 3500-pound boiler is elimination of the delay of boiling. Eight minutes after the heat is turned on the new boiler is delivering 3500 pound steam at the outlet.

BEARD FACTS

It was the custom among Romans to shave off the beard at the age of 21, and present it as an offering to household gods. A beard was grown after that age only as a sign of mourning.

MOVIE MAKERS SAYS THEY ARE GOING TO STOP COPYING EACH OTHER IN '32

BY HUBBARD KEAVY

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 3. (AP)— The movie cycle is out.

Judging from the concensus of executives at the major studios, there will be little plot or formula copying in the coming year's production programs.

The reason is that the producers, looking back over the red in ledgers of the last two years, have decided film cycles are bad for the industry and that too many pictures are being made. Usually the pictures which follow the original smash are much less successful.

Although each year executives have announced they intended to maintain variety in their output, it invariably followed that their plans drifted into cycles before they had proceeded very far.

Each found the temptation to model after the other's highly successful picture too great to be overcome. The first successful war talkie brought an avalanche of others. So also was the first gangster story copied and re-copied until audiences rebelled.

There will be definite new trends in the screen fare that is planned. However, fantasies, human interest stories, musicals and travelogs will have a prominent place in the schedule of each studio.

All of these should meet with popular favor for it is basically true that entertainment should represent the opposite of the theatergoer's state of mind. When people are depressed, financially harrassed and worried, they dislike stark realism in their entertainment, psychologists tell Hollywood.

It is at such times, and when in such state of mind, that they turn to stories of dream life, fantasy, gay adventure and happy romance for relaxation.

AFTER FORTY-SEVEN YEARS ON BENCH, KANSAS CHIEF JUSTICE ENJOYS WORK

TOPEKA, Kas., Dec. 3.—(AP)—After 47 years on the bench, William A. Johnston, chief justice of the Kansas supreme court, still finds enjoyment in the work and the cases are interesting as when he began deciding them nearly half a century ago.

Now in his 84th year and said by his friends to be the dean of judges in point of continuous service in English speaking courts of last resort, the "grand old man of Kansas" today entered his 48th year on the same bench.

As to retirement, this veteran justice, eight times honored by voters of the state with reelection, told an interviewer:

"I have no purpose to stay on here longer than I am able and useful in transaction of the business of the court, but I have no intention to retire until I am either retired by the voters or some other reason may enforce my retirement."

The term he now is serving will expire in 1937.

Seldom has he missed a day's work. The chief justice arises early for breakfast at seven, walks a couple of blocks to his office about eight and works until six, with time out for lunch. On Sundays he attends the Presbyterian church.

His office door is always open to attorneys and visitors. Friends wonder when he finds time to prepare opinions but he has written approximately 3,000 spread through 102 of the 135 volumes of the court's reports.

Chief Justice Johnston says his avocation is law and his recreation is walking and "keeping up" with events of the world by reading newspapers and magazines. He is a charter member of the mystery and detective story reading circle.

Chief Justice Johnston believes prohibition has been a success in Kansas. For other states, his comment is "that's a political question and we are not supposed to discuss politics."

WORLD'S STRANGEST JOB IS FEEDING FOOD TO LIVING HUMAN CANCER CELLS

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE,
Associated Press Science Editor

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 3.—The world's strangest and newest jobs, feeding meals to living human cancer cells which are raised in glass tubes, were exhibited before the radiological society of North America.

The cancer cell chefs are three New Yorkers, two men and a woman. They are shown in a scientific movie film of the latest things in cancer study at Crocker Cancer Research institute of Columbia university and at Johns Hopkins university. The film was exhibited to the X-ray convention by the Chemical Foundation, Inc.

New Development

Perfection of this artificial growing of human cancer cells is a development of the past few months. Yet already the "impersonal" but living bits of real cancer have yielded to their caretakers considerable practical information.

Raising these malignant cells is more ticklish than an incubator baby. Regardless of their destructive powers when organized in man, they are delicate things. A single invisible mold or bacterium floating through the air into their glass homes while they are being fed ruins the whole works.

So at Columbia they are kept in a specially constructed tunnel, lighted by glass windows. It is big enough to hold a table, upon which the cancer cells live in glass receptacles of various shapes. The caretakers sit outside, thrusting their arms and heads inside the tunnel through special openings.

Workers Sterilized

The workers hands and faces are sterilized, their bodies encased in sterilized uniforms. They may not even speak while their heads are inside the tunnel.

These precautions are not to protect the caretakers so much as to safeguard the cells against contamination. Even the air is washed before entering the tunnel by being forced through damp felt cloth. They have to be fed regularly every 48 hours.

Experiments have not gone on long enough to say whether a colony of them might ultimately perish of old age, but that is unlikely as they have the power of reproduction. The film shows them doing this by "dividing," each living cell transforming itself into two cells. Sometimes this birth process requires only a few minutes. Each living cell has power to move from place to place with a swimming sort of motion.

They are killed in various ways to learn how best to destroy cancer. Some are so sensitive to X-rays and rdaium that a small dose of radiation kills them although it would not injure healthy flesh.

Arkansas Assured Of Woman Senator

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. Dec. 3. (AP)—Arkansas is virtually assured of having a woman in the United States senate until 1933—the first ever to hold such a position by election.

Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway, widow of Senator Thaddeus H. Caraway who died here recently, was nominated unanimously Tuesday by the Arkansas Democratic state central committee to fill her husband's unexpired term. The special election will be held January 12. Nomination by the central committee is considered equivalent to victory.

NEARLY HALF OF IT

The United States at the end of 1930 had developed water power of 14,885,000 horsepower out of an estimated potential capacity of 38,000,000 horsepower, according to the United States Geological Survey. Development of water power of the world is now 46,000,000 horsepower, an increase of 100 per cent in the past ten years.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

As Coppy grabbed the little pup and cut the balloon loose it went up and shortly drifted out of sight. The pup barked loud and long. And then it said, "I was tied tight to that balloon and, what a fright! It's gone now and I'm tickled that I didn't go along."

"I saved you," Coppy proudly said. "You see, I used my little head and took this fine police plane, when you drifted into air. I figured I could rise up and grab you. You're a lucky pup! Gee, for a time I was scared, too, but now I do not care.

"We'll sail around the clouds a while, and when we've traveled 'bout a mile or so I'll turn and come right back. Then we'll drift to the ground. The other Tinies are below. They're worried over us, I know. How tickled they will be when they find out that you've been found."

"Say, I appreciate my luck in being rescued. You have pluck," replied the little black dog. "And I also like this ride. It's cool as it can be up here, and there is not a thing to fear. As long as you are pilot I won't worry 'bout my hide."

It wasn't very long until the wee dog got another thrill, as Coppy turned the plane toward earth and circled all around. Said Coppy, "This is not a race. I'm looking for a landing place." And, when he found a handy spot, he drifted to the ground.

The Tinies and some dogs came near and all began to loudly cheer. "Hey, Coppy, you're a hero," shouted Clowny. "Make a speech." "Oh, it was easy," Coppy replied. "I simply took an airplane ride and grabbed the little doog when his balloon came within reach."

(The Tinymites find a dog show in the next story.)

Republicans Still Will Seek Control

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—The Republicans—in the words of Representative Tilson—are still going to try their "darndest to get control" of the house of representatives.

This despite the fact that the Democrats now have 219 seats to 214 for the administration forces and no prospect of change before the session gets under way next week.

Mr. Tilson was defeated for his party's speakership nomination by Representative Snell.

How One Woman Lost 47 Lbs. of Fat

In 3 Months and Feels Years Younger

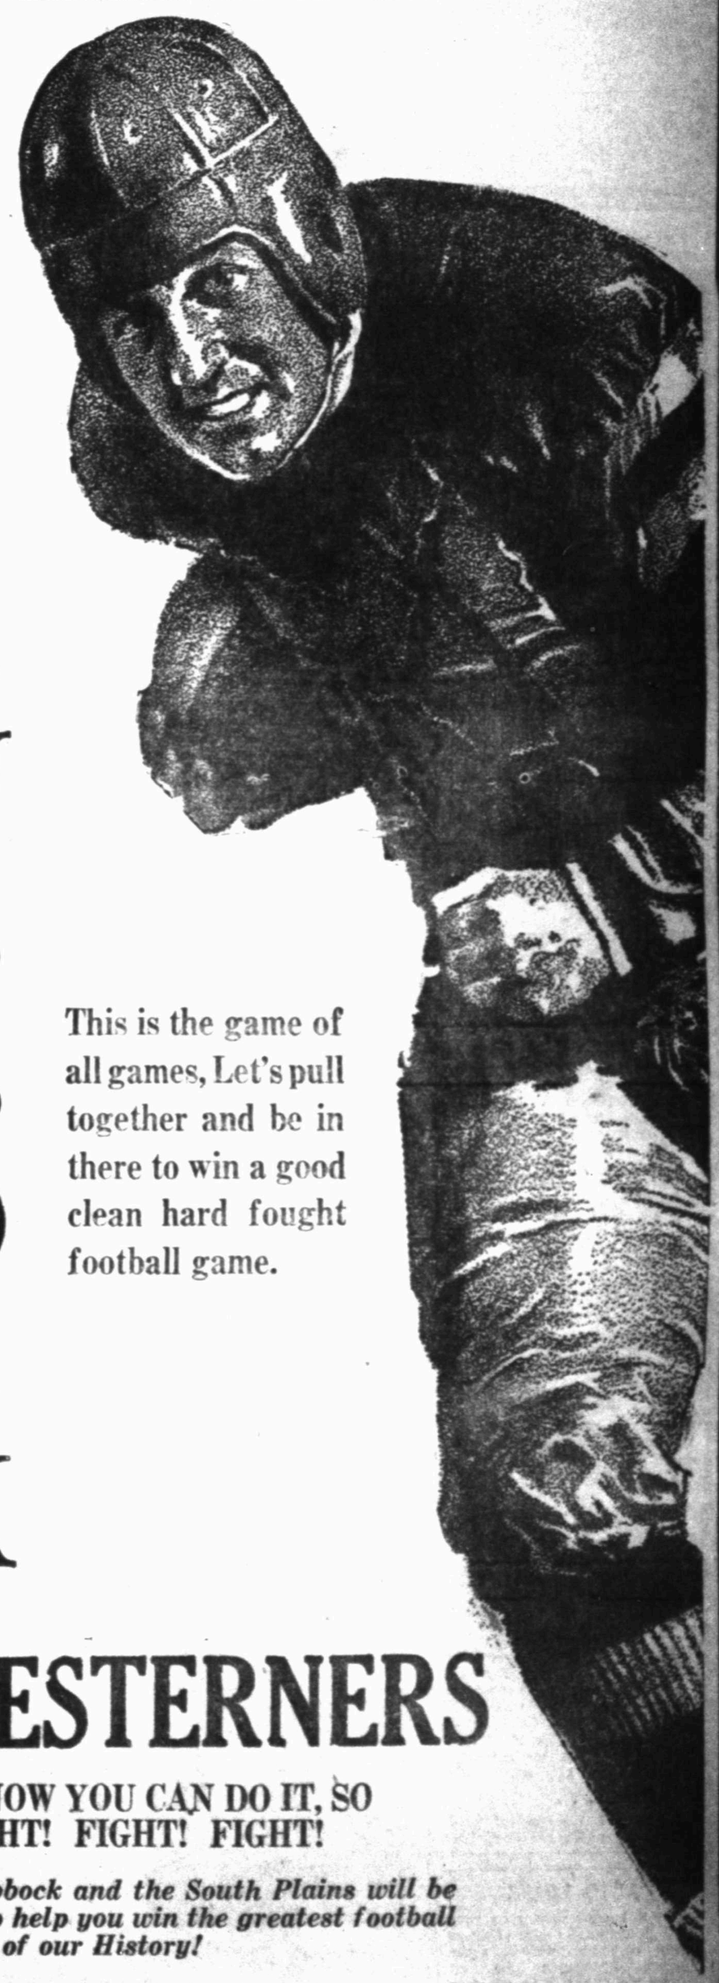

"I have been taking Kruschen Salts for nearly 3 months. I have continued taking one teaspoonful in warm water every morning. I then weighed 217 pounds, was always bothered with pains in my back and lower part of abdomen and sides.

"Now I am glad to say I am a well woman, feel much stronger, years younger and my weight is 170 pounds. I do not only feel better but I look better, so all my friends say."

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85 cents at Mark Halsey Drug Store, City Drug Store, Lubbock Drug Company, Bowen's Drug Store, Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy, and druggists the world over. Take one half teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

Attention to diet will help—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—the Kruschen way is the safe way to lose fat. Try one bottle and if not joyfully satisfied—money back. —Adv.

DISTRICT ONE FOOTBALL RACE REACHES CLIMAX HERE TODAY

S. M. U. MUSTANGS TO GET NATIONAL TEST SATURDAY

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

The time has come and now is. In a few, short hours the Lubbock High Westerners will make their final stand for the District 1 football championship. They clash with the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm in a crucial contest beginning at 2:30 o'clock. With the Lord on their side they might win. But the Lord is impartial, Lady Luck is a myth and Dame Fortune an old spinister of fairyland who has no more to do with running a football team than does the writer.

• • •

So it's heads you win, tails we lose. Or however that old cabbage is worded. We're not going to attempt a prognostication because prognostications do not win football games. It's going to be a lively scrap, Axel, a lively scrap. The best team will win. It may be a pout, it may be a scoreless tie or it may be decided by a single touchdown. Both teams should play conservative football. We do not anticipate many touchdowns this afternoon.

• • •

This to Amarillo fans, scribes, coaches and players: Please do not laugh because Lubbock tried to protect its football field against snow and rain by covering it with everything from bed sheets to slabs of cement sidewalk. We promised Prof. M. H. Duncan that you would not laugh, so please conceal your mirth, if you have any when the game is over. "Ah, don't say anything about that in the paper," Coach Duncan pleaded. "Why, they'll laugh us out of town if we lose the game after such careful preparations."

• • •

Please have regard for our feelings, Amarillo, and don't laugh at our efforts. Personally, we believe Amarillo had much rather play on a dry field than a wet one. We do not believe that the Amarillo fire department was hired to wet down the terra firma or vice versa on Butler Field prior to the Thanksgiving Day game so that the Sandies could practice in the mud. Many people in Lubbock believe just that, be and perhaps, but we cannot conbe an dperhaps, but we cannot conceive of a team which purposely wet its field in order to be prepared against sloppy weather, at least not in West Texas. Now over in the Oil Belt, which really is not West Texas, it would not be surprising to find that such conditions existed. Why, they actually import and subsidize athletes over there, we are told.

• • •

HEY, YOU BLUFFERS who didn't think Texas Tech could beat Simmons University, how about bringing that cash around to pay for a gold football! The trophies have been selected and we're ready to send the order. By purchasing a quantity of them, we were able to secure attractive prices. Bring or send your kopeks to this office or hand them to Coach Spencer Wells. Some of you have already inquired about it, even brought your cash in to pay off, and we thank you. Come back again, as soon as possible, and we'll sure take it this time.

• • •

Here are the lucky birds who have the honor of buying footballs: Coaches Spencer Wells, Buck Davis, Dick Smith, Ross McWhorter, Carl Patton, R. J. Keller, Riley Huie, C. W. Ratliff, Parker Prouty, The Plainsman, Ray Hinchey, Roscoe Wilson, Jack Parsons, Leroy Drown, Tim Stovall and J. C. Anderson. The following campus organizations have agreed to buy footballs: Wranglers club, Silver Key club, Los Camaradas club, Centaur club and The Toreador. Silver Key will buy two and the Centaurs will buy two, and there are the 23 gold footballs that we need.

• • •

In addition to the nineteen lettermen, we're going to give balls to Coaches Pete Cawthon, Dutchey Smith and Dei Morgan and one to Manager Bo Williams.

• • •

Coach Cawthon, by the way, may give his ball to Prexy Anderson. There was some sort of agreement between the two, we understand, whereby if Tech won, Cawthon was to award Prexy for his great helpfulness to the Matadors in wearing out the welcome sign on the Abilene doormat.

• • •

Here's a letter received yesterday. It speaks for itself for the present and we'll comment later:

Dear Mr. Parris:

How about talking up that old Ex-Westerner game again this year? All the boys are muchly in favor of this, so why not? We mean after the Westerners have played their last game. We could get a game with some good teams and hold our own against any of them.

Think this over and put it up to the fans. Thanks for the trouble.

"A Westerner."

AMARILLO AND LUBBOCK OUT FOR TITLE

SANDIES FAVORED IN CHAMPIONSHIP TILT THIS AFTERNOON

Another chapter of District 1 football history will be concluded today when the Amarillo Sandies and the Lubbock Westerners walk off Matador field after their championship contest. That is, the season will be over in District 1 provided the teams are not tied in such a way as to necessitate another game tomorrow.

Today's game is the second of a series of two which became necessary when the Lubbock Westerners allowed the Amarillo Sandies a victory in Amarillo one week ago today. As a result of that game, Pampa was thrown back into the race, which had resolved itself into a three-cornered tie, and two playoff games were ordered. Lubbock won the first, defeating Pampa by a count of 7 to 0 here Monday.

Sandies Favored

Because Lubbock won the game Monday and because Amarillo so unmercifully defeated Lubbock on Thanksgiving, the Sandies are favorites today. The Westerners are battered and bruised almost beyond recognition after playing two hard games within a week.

The winner of today's game must meet the Quanah High school Indians on Saturday in a bi-district scrap. The game more than likely will be played at Quanah.

Lubbock Club Weaker

A week ago Coach Chapman could have placed a team on the football field as good, perhaps better, than any eleven men Coach Cherry could have mustered. But times have changed, as they say in scientific laboratories, and it will be extremely difficult for the Westerner mentor to shoot a team on the field today that can take another severe pounding in the neck, and like it. Whereas, the Sandies have had occasion to rest and recuperate, to plan and persuade, to iron out wrinkles and get in shape.

And Amarillo's reserve power! Therein lies the secret of a football team's success. Amarillo has it. Lubbock has it not, at least not on any big scale. The least thought about it now the better we can feel during the game.

Use Strange Jersies

Again the teams will switch jersies. By some trick of fate, the colors of Amarillo and Lubbock are the same. One is Black and Gold, the other is Gold and Black. They will be neither today. As in the game at Amarillo a week ago, the Lubbock Westerners will blossom out in bright blue jersies this afternoon. The Sandies will wear the white jersies in which they downed the Westerners. But that's the color of another horse.

The Westerners engaged in a spirited workout yesterday. There was everything but overconfidence on the faces and in the words and actions of the gridders and coaches. There was not enough confidence to make the scattered curbstone coaches go out and give twenty points. With the exception of Gene Barnett, fullback; Captain Bob Crawford, center; Melvin Griggs, halfback, Bill Davidson, halfback and Mack Scoggin, halfback, the team is in pretty fair condition. Each of these are suffering minor injuries and ailments.

Charity Is Matchmaker In Exhibition Grid Contests

UNEMPLOYED IN FIVE STATES TO RECEIVE HELP IN GAMES

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 3 (AP)—Charity was the matchmaker for five exhibition football games Big Six conference teams will play Saturday.

Unemployment of Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska are to be beneficiaries of the final skirmishes in this section.

The Oklahoma Sooners who continue their charity work the following week-end, will not close their season, however, until after two games in Hawaii, on Christmas eve and New Year's day.

Nebraska's Big Six champion Cornhuskers play an intersectional engagement Saturday at Denver with the Colorado Agges, state champions.

Other charity encounters: Oklahoma vs. Oklahoma City university at Norman; Kansas vs. Washburn college at Topeka; Missouri vs. St. Louis university at St. Louis, and Kansas State vs. Wichita university at Wichita. Oklahoma meets Tulsa university at Tulsa December 12 before embarking for Honolulu.

THIRTY-FIRST FOOTBALL FATALITY RECORDED; SPORT PUBLIC WONDERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—While Fordham university paid last tribute today to Cornelius Murphy, jr., 21-year-old football star who died yesterday of injuries suffered in his team's closing game with Bucknell ten days ago, the sport loving public wondered what would be the result of the unusual number of gridiron fatalities this season.

Murphy's death was the thirty-first recorded this season. In many quarters it was believed important steps would be taken to check the toll of football.

Coaches, officials, ex-players and others connected with football rallied to the support of their game and pointed out that few players had been killed or even seriously injured in major college games. Of the 31 deaths recorded so far, only four have occurred at major colleges, one at a small college and one at a normal school. Others were at high schools or in "sand lot" games where players often went into the game without proper protective garments or proper training and supervision.

The exceptions are Murphy, Cadet Richard B. Sheridan, jr., Army end, who died Oct. 26 of a broken neck suffered in a game against Yale, C. V. Smith, Millsaps college tackle who suffered a fatal neck injury playing against Stetson, Nov. 11, and James Nichols, Alabama freshman center, who died Nov. 17 from injuries in a scrimmage with the varsity.

TREMENDOUS PHYSICAL STRAIN GIVEN BLAME FOR ALBIE BOOTH BREAKDOWN

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—The tremendous physical strain of three years of varsity football, two baseball and two basketball campaigns on a physique that mustered only 145 pounds is believed to have contributed to the breakdown that has forced Albie Booth into a private sanitarium for months of rest and recuperation.

Despite his lack of size, the "Little Boy Blue" of Yale's major teams since his freshman year has put a long and vivid athletic career behind him. In addition he worked every bit of his way.

Had Milk Route

With two brothers, Albie conducted a milk route that forced him out of bed each morning of his high school days at 4 a. m. That provided him with funds to stay in school. When he landed at Yale, Albie sold automobiles to pay his bills.

There have been university honors aside from athletic laurels to fill the time of the rugged little fellow who was the first of modern Yale ball carrier to gain more than 1,000 yards from scrimmage in a single season. Last month he was elected chairman of the "prom" committee for class day exercises next June.

Booth captained football, basketball and baseball teams in his freshman year, captained his last varsity football squad, and was captain-elect of the basketball five. He roamed over the baseball team, playing shortstop, third base or center field equally well. He won five varsity letters in baseball and football, besides two minor awards in basketball.

He might have set a record never before equalled in Yale history by accepting the baseball captaincy to add to the honor football and basketball paid him, after Edgar Warren, captain-elect, lost an arm last August in a motor boat accident.

The boys decided to elect Albie But Booth shook his head.

"Ed will be out there yet," he said.

Warren probably will be, but Booth has finished his varsity career. He will need at least four months rest in the Gaylord sanitarium at Wallingford fighting off a pleurisy infection and the danger of a more serious lung ailment.

Western Coaches To Form Schedule

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Western conference athletic directors and coaches will gather in Chicago tomorrow for their annual winter meeting to arrange schedules and to talk about such things as charity contests and an ailment described as falling of the gate receipts.

Football schedules for 1932 are ready and need only to be approved but the annual indoor and outdoor track and field championship dates must be selected and awarded.

Crowds last fall were off to an alarming extent and retrenchments may cause curtailment of schedules, especially in minor sports. The problem already has become critical at Wisconsin and Iowa.

"REBELS" WIN BALL FIGHT

REORGANIZATION SEEN IN MINOR LEAGUES AFTER SESSION

WEST BADEN, Ind., Dec. 3. (AP)—The "rebels" of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues, parent body of America's 16 existing minor leagues, apparently have won the battle of West Baden.

Backed by an overwhelming majority, they were in full charge of the thirtieth annual convention today and ready to complete their plans for a drastic reorganization of the association—a reorganization which would oust the present administration body and replace it with a committee of five club owners with absolute powers of management and control.

The showdown of their fight was definitely set for today and not one member of the old regime, headed by President Mike Sexton, had any hopes of retaining his powers. Only because some "rebel-minded" owners wanted to get more information about the reorganization plan was the movement postponed from yesterday.

Under the plan, Sexton president for 22 years, would be retired with a full year's salary and the committee, three members from the class AA league and the other two form class B and D leagues, placed in full charge for a year during which it would make recommendations.

The committee would be directed to create a central purchasing agency for all minor league supplies, make contracts toward general rehabilitation and to map campaigns to give minor league baseballia wider appeal.

California Institute of Technology has uncovered an excellent specimen of the duck bill dinosaur in Utah.

PONIES CLASH WITH GAELS ON COAST

COMPARISON WILL BE GIVEN WITH OTHER STRONG TEAMS

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Southern Methodist university, which after ten games remains something of the unknown quantity of the nation's undefeated football teams, ventures into a region where its performances can be closely compared with those of other strong teams this week in one of the many big intersectional games on the schedule.

The Mustangs cleaned up in the Southwest conference and easily won the championship with only a scoreless tie with Texas Christian to mar their record. But they have done little to provide a basis of national comparison. The Southwest schedules are pretty much a home affair and except for Texas' visit to Harvard to suffer a severe beating, Arkansas' 13-13 tie with Chicago and Southern Methodist's 13-6 victory over a rather weak Navy team there have been few intersectional games.

Saturday, the Mustangs face the "giant killers" of the Pacific coast, the galloping Gaels of St. Mary's, in a game that should go far toward clearing up their national rating.

The S M U-St Mary's game, however, has to take second place on the coast program as Washington meets Southern California in the final game of the conference season.

PORT PAYNE, Ala., Dec. 3 (AP)—A farm woman, who admitted her husband was choked to death after she "lassoed" him with a rope as he tried to flee, and her son were imprisoned here Wednesday on charges of murder.

The prisoners are Mrs. Willie Roberts, 42, and Albert Wood, 28, a son by a former marriage.

She told authorities her husband, William Roberts, 53, attacked Wood with a knife Sunday. She intervened, throwing a noose around Robert's neck. Then he ran, she added, but collapsed after a few step as he drew the rope tight.

Millionaires Total 515 In This State

DALLAS, Dec. 3 (AP)—Texas had 515 millionaires in 1929, based on treasury computations that anyone with an annual income of $50,000 or more is worth $1,000,000. One man or woman, whose identity was not revealed, paid taxes on an income in excess of $5,000,000. Four other Texans paid on at least $1,000,000.

One hundred and forty-six had incomes of more than $100,000. Incomes between $4,000 and $5,000 were most numerous among those reported in Texas.

The average net income of Texans reporting was $5,217.90, the highest since the first tax was imposed 15 years ago.

OKLAHOMA'S "TRUTH SERUM" CONVICT HELD IN TEXAS

FORT WORTH, Dec. 3 (AP)—Charges of burglary and automobile theft here and charges of burglary and felony theft at Kerrville are facing three men arrested here last night by city detectives.

The men, Claude Newton, "truth serum" convict under a 99-year sentence for the slaying of an Oklahoma City policeman; A. L. Avers, escaped convict from the Oklahoma state penitentiary and a 24-year-old Texas state penitentiary ex-convict, were yesterday linked by officers with the burglary of the Post and Elkins Automobile company here November 23. An automobile recovered in a garage of a vacant residence last night has been found to be a stolen machine, detectives said.

Newton was sentenced to 99 years in the Oklahoma penitentiary for the slaying of Briggs Chumley, Oklahoma City policeman. He submitted himself to a "truth serum" test before a peace officers' convention two years later and under influence of the serum continued to deny his guilt. He is now under one of Governor Murray's "banishment," paroles.

Dickens Farmers To Slaughter Calves

SPUR, Dec. 3. (Special)—Dickens county farmers will slaughter nearly a thousand calves, most of them milk-fed steers, and can the meat this winter. Some farmers have begun canning and after the holidays it will become more general.

In a campaign staged last summer by the Spur Chamber of Commerce 610 calves were promised by 561 farmers. This figures represents only about two thirds of the total, it is estimated by Dewey Granberry, secretary.

Grady Lane, county agent, and Miss Clara Pratt, home demonstration agent, have held six or seven beef killing demonstrations to show farmers how to kill and cure beef. Most of their time the next two months will be devoted to this work.

Hog killing is also included in the program. At least 1,000 hogs will be slaughtered and canned. The hams, shoulders and bacon will be cured and many entered in the Lubbock cured meat show in the spring.

It Was Election Day And He Lost

CHICAGO, Dec. 3 (AP)—Yesterday was election day for Toni Jarecki, 37.

He lost, and as a result was sentenced by Judge Stanton to serve from 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $100.

The voting was done by three of the four wives he was alleged to have had.

After listening to the testimony, Judge Stanton asked the three wives present what they wanted done with him.

Two replied:

"Put him in jail."

The third said she was willing to take him back but the judge said:

"The vote is two to one for jail and the sentence will be one year to five in the penitentiary and a $100 fine."

Never Dangerous To Cure Eczema
That's What Doctors Say—

Some people have an idea that it is dangerous to try to cure eczema—that the "poison" will go through your system.

That's all wrong, doctors say. Nobody knows exactly what causes eczema, but plenty of folks know how to stop it—how to get relief that's nothing short of magic.

Eczema—tetter—salt rheum—no matter what you call it, no matter how long you've had it, nor how many things you have tried—

When it itches so it almost drives you crazy—when you think you just can't stand it another second—put some Moone's Emerald Oil on it.

If that doesn't give you—instantly—greater relief than anything you've ever tried, money back.

Don't be afraid of its hurting you or your clothes—use lots of it. And remember that Bowen's Drug and Bowen's Hilton Pharmacy and every first class druggist guarantees it —Adv.

FAITH is the soul going out of itself for all its wants.—Boston.

Romance Passes

The news that the English Channel pilot boats which operate out of the Solent are to be changed from sail-driven cutters to steam tugs isn't particularly important, on this side of the Atlantic. A few people, though, will read it with regret—for it marks the passing of one of the last strongholds of the marlinspike seamanship of the old days.

There have been pilot boats in the Solent ever since England first sent merchant ships to distant seas; and through the centuries the men who manned these swift cutters have been seamen of the first order, able to keep their little vessels at sea in any kind of weather.

Of course, the new steam tugs will breed seamen, just as the old cutters did. Yet the change marks the loss by the old-time sailing ship of another province—almost its last. The steamship is almost universal now. One more link connecting the present day with the age of clipper ships is being snapped.

This, to be sure, is inevitable; and it may be that we spend more time than is good for us in lamenting the change from the picturesque and romantic old ways to the efficient new ones.

After all, these changes are taking place, and there isn't anything we can do about it except make the best of it. We can't swim upstream, no matter how much we might like to. Our grandfathers may have lived in a world that was more colorful than our own, but we can't get back to it.

In fact, we are very likely cheating ourselves when we mourn the departure of the sailing vessel, the stage coach, the gaudy Mississippi river steamboat and those other adjuncts of the past. Keeping our eyes on them, we fail to see the colorful things that our own age provides.

What, for instance, is more purely romantic than an airmail plane, splitting the sky at midnight, its motor droning high above sleeping villages? Can't a railway train, symbol of controlled power be a thing of beauty? Isn't the man who sets out on a two-weeks' autb tour doing something for which the men of the old days would devoutly envy him?

Danger In Hunting

The opening of the fall hunting season has brought an amazing number of reports of deaths and injuries to hunters, especially in the populous states of the east and middle west; and a reading of them almost makes one think that there are large sections of the country in which there is no longer any room for the hunter.

For that seems to be the cause of a huge percentage of these accidents. The hunters are to close together. There are too many cities and towns, and the open fields where game abounds do not have space for all who wish to hunt to do so in safety.

It is odd, when you stop to think about it. Much less than a century ago such items as venison, wild turkey and pheasant were common on the bills of fare almost everywhere west of Pittsburgh. Today the congestion is so great that the hunters can't get out of each other's way.

Flo Ziegfeld said there would always be stage-door Johnnies, and that's why there would always be "Follies." And what follies!

By this time it is evident that in the Manchurian theater of war China has missed her queue.

John H. Raskob is petitioning 50,000 Democrats as to their views on prohibition. Looks like something is going to be soaked.

Dino Grandi eluded 50 New York detectives and police. Why, you might think he was in Chicago.

CAN anybody—just anybody—tell The Plainsman where English peas come from? Most West Texans know that broom corn comes from the Brownfield vicinity; that Lamb county's watermelons are used on Fred Harvey cars; that cotton grows more cheaply in the Lubbock territory than anywhere else and that helium gas comes from near Amarillo.

We know that Portales, New Mexico, is the sweet potato town; that the Hondo valley shines in apples, apple juice and cabbages. Frijole beans are grown in vast quantities near El Paso—but where do English peas come from?

★ ★ ★

The question may sound simple enough on the surface. Perhaps many people aren't concerned with the home of this famous dish.

But without English peas it is considered next to impossible to serve a banquet. They're apparently just as essential to any public dinner as the after-dinner speeches.

★ ★ ★

SINCE The Plainsman has been earning his living from the more or less respectable profession of newspapering he has attended, by actual count, 1124 banquets of one kind or another.

And upon 1123 of those occasions he has found, hiding under the mashed potatoes or drenched by brown gravy that so-called tasty offering—the pile of English peas.

The one exception came this week, when, as official press agent of the Lubbock county branch of the International Union of Physicians and Surgeons, The Plainsman was the recipient of a lovely dinner.

★ ★ ★

It's really remarkable the way those unassuming English peas can—and do—muscle in on all kinds of repasts.

The fact that it is able to do so without most people ever stopping to wonder, is even more remarkable.

Far be it from this column to start any riots, Communistic or otherwise. But seriously, where at do the English peas come from?

At least some learned Tech professor ought to know.

DANA X. BIBLE has signed a five year contract as hend coach at University of Nebraska and therewith has exploded a popular rumor which has been heard in all parts of Texas.

When Bible went to Lincoln a couple of years ago and signed a short term contract with the Huskers, the wiseacres nodded their heads.

"As soon as that contract is out", they predicted, "Bible will come back to Texas — but not back to Texas A. and M. He's going to be head coach at Texas university—and he would be now but if he'd shifted from College Station to Austin direct it would have caused an awful row."

★ ★ ★

Texas fans, however, may rest assured that the baldheaded gent who made grid history for the Aggies will not be back to the Lone Star state to stay, any time soon. He's booked at Lincoln until the end of the 1936 season, anyway.

And who can blame Bible?

Coaching in the Southwest conference is a perilous pastime. Even though SMU, by its ways and means committee is able frequently to win the flag, it never make much of a runaway. Any team—with the exception of poor, old Arkansas—may spring an upset and spill the well known beans any time.

But in Nebraska, it's different.

The Huskers win the Big Six title so often that it's monotonous.

Other teams and their fans for years have declared that "there ought to be a law against Nebraska". Bible almost has a cinch up there.

IT may not mean much to the casual observer, but old Beck and Jim are coming back fast in Lubbock county and over the South Plains.

Horseflesh, or muleflesh if you prefer, is staging a comeback that makes that of Jack Dempsey look like the small imitation of the real thing—and the farmers of this section are going to profit thereby.

Power farming is all right in its place—but it's place isn't on the average size farms of this section. Then, too, the farmer can take Beck and Jim and raise their feed through their own efforts. He can't raise feed for tractors.

Chicago Is Bidding For Both National Conventions But Capone's Reputation Doesn't Help; Ballyhoo Broadcast

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Here are a few local notes gleaned by your correspondent:

Edward N. Hurley has been visiting here, trying to lure both the Republican and Democratic conventions to Chicago. The idea is that Chicago, if it asks for both, should at least get a 50-50 break.

Dutcher

Hurley, an ex-brakeman who became a millionaire and a Democrat, is one of the world's most popular men. American and European men of affairs, Republican, Democratic and including the Scandinavian, respect and like him for his hard business sense which is combined with an altruistic cosmopolitanism.

• • •

BUT Chicago, although many politicians would like to go there, suffers as a convention city possibility because of Al Capone, Big Bill Thompson and the city's reputation for pineapple-tossing. If a bunch of Tammany toughs could create a nasty atmosphere as they did for the Democrats at Madison Square Garden in 1924, what couldn't Chicago gangsters do when properly organized?

Latest dope (inconclusive) is that Republicans are likely to choose Cleveland and that Democrats are as likely to choose St. Louis as Chicago.

• • •

EVERYBODY expected a lot of people to get Grandi of Italy, a recent visitor, mixed up with Gandhi of India. But just as many, judging from sidewalk conversation, confused him with the famous erstwhile senator from Pennsylvania, Joe Grundy.

• • •

W. G. McADOO has written a book about his career which some reviewers say demonstrates a continued yearning for public office. Colonel Frederick Palmer recently produced one which pictured Newton D. Baker as an heroic figure in the World War. Ernest K. Lindley is out with a somewhat adulatory biography of Governor Roosevelt of New York. That takes care of Democratic presidential possibilities except Governor Ritchie of Maryland, of whom there is no full-length biography.

• • •

AT least four books have appeared which are decidedly uncomplimentary to President Hoover. Naturally, one anticipates (this being a presidential year) a tome ballyhooing the achievements of the administration. Inquiry at Republican headquarters, however, fails to disclose that any such book is in preparation anywhere.

• • •

LIFE is just one title after another for Chief of Police Pelham D. Glassford. He worked his way up, after West Point, to a colonelcy. During the war they made him brigadier-general. After the war he automatically lapsed back to being merely Colonel Glassford. Upon his retirement, thanks to an act of Congress conferring war rank on retired officers, he became General Glassford again. But the chief of police job here, which he recently accepted, carries only the title of "major." So now he is Major Glassford again.

• • •

PROHIBITION Director Amos W. W. Woodcock suspended Agent Henry Dierks, who is charged with killing a young man in a restaurant over a small bottle of wine, only after Colorado citizens had shown unprecedented indignation through mass meetings and other demonstrations. Woodcock, however, is sincerely opposed to having his agents kill people except under extreme provocation.

GASTON B. MEANS, demon investigator and nationally famous character since the Harding administration, was arrested the other night and charged with beating both his wife and a cop. Police for several months had investigated complaints of screams from the Means home. Mrs. Means, wearing a black eye, showed up first thing in the morning to bail Gaston out.

Diet and Health

EDITOR'S NOTE: Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 2 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1438 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The articles are: "Normal Diet," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Bar Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

PNEUMONIA

Penumonia still is one of the mighty factors in human life. One of the Captains of the Men of Death, "Pilgrim's Progress" called tuberculosis The Captain of the Men of Death, and in that day it was true—it was the most frequent cause of death. Now it has been unseated from its high command. There are several diseases, almost equally responsible for the majority of mortalities. Of these pneumonia is the chief.

Dr. Clendening

It is in many ways a mysterious disease. The cause of it—the actual germ—we have known for many years. Yet how it gets into the body and into the particular part of the body affected—the lungs—or in other words, the actual mechanism of attack, we know virtually nothing. A facile answer is that it is breathed into the lungs. This seems natural, but it does not explain why one whole lobe of the lung is affected while all the remainder of the lung is clear. Or why all the remainder of the lobes of the lungs do not successively become involved with so patent a contagion constantly present in one of them.

It is not contagious from one individual to another. Nurses, doctors and members of the family can be around pneumonia patients day and night and remain unaffected. Yet at certain seasons of the year it will bring down large numbers of the populace one after the other. It would seem as if some change in the body's condition—chemical or physiological—were the only important predisposing cause of pneumonia.

What that predisposing change in the body is we know as little as did Hippocrates 2,400 years ago. Wet, cold and exposure certainly are factors. Alcoholic sprees and lack of plenty of nourishing food likewise. Aside from these, there is mere speculation.

There are several forms of pneumonia, two main ones—lobar pneumonia, in which one entire lobe of a lung is affected (or possibly two entire lobes)! and broncho-pneumonia, which affects the terminals of many small air-tubes all over both lungs. Broncho-pneumonia was the sort we encountered in the great influenza epidemic and is the kind which supervenes on measles in children. It is by far the more fatal and dangerous of the two.

As to treatment, there have been innumerable attempts during the past fifteen years to establish an effective serum or anti-toxin for pneumonia. All of those developed have been, in my opinion, failures. Many are frequently used; they do no harm; it is possible they may do some good; in pneumonia the physician is willing to try anything that might help.

Rest, good nursing, fresh air and light nourishment are still, however, our mainstays in treatment. The use of oxygen has of late years been made more valuable by the use of the oxygen tent apparatus. This apparatus is too expensive for most private physicians to keep on hand. In every community, therefore, it is the duty of the community hospital to obtain one of these, and to make it available to the particular citizen who needs it.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Dec. 3—It might have interested Signor Grandi to learn that a play written by his boss, Benito Mussolini, has been kicking around Broadway for several weeks. And, at last reports, no American producer had gathered sufficient courage to produce it.

As a dictator, the Honorable Benito has been more than passingly successful. But his literary efforts have been flops to date.

Play gamblers, who have staked money on the work of indifferent dramatists, might have turned angel were it not for the fact that Mussolini, being the gent that he is, demands a considerable percentage of profit. I have not seen the play; I have merely heard of its comings and goings from managerial offices. And such reports as have reached me indicate that it might prove a long shot even with the name of Mussolini attached. With very high royalties involved, it is likely that Mussolini will have to satisfy himself with being a dictator.

• • •

And there is kicking around, also, a play that David Belasco intended to produce at the time of his death. It is titled "Pantaloon," and has to do with back-stage life.

Belasco believed, seemingly, that most people live a lie; that life itself was a liar. And that in remorse and forgiving lie the qualities that do away with evils.

The drama had been written in collaboration with Achmed Abdullah, who has penned many a picturesque and colorful tale. Abdullah is now going over it. And that, in itself, is ironic, since Abdullah once was party to a novel in which the leading character was said to be patterned after Belasco. And it wasn't a particularly flattering picture.

Be all this as it may, Belasco's father was a famous Pantaloon in London. They left England for America, to wade ashore at San Francisco before piers or quays had been built. As far back as the Middle Ages, Belasco could trace a straight line of showmen.

One of the opening lines recited by a Harlequin, reads "Truth is a thing in motley and bells . . . Do you know what is just back yonder back-stage? Back yonder is truth, and for the sake of truth I change the patches on my suit day after day. Therefore, should there be any liars amongst us, will you not have the honor to leave the theater? We would not have truth shock you. . . I wonder, sometimes, if you would know the truth if you saw it."

And speaking of the grand "old massa" reminds me that the tales persist in Broadway that his daughter, Reina, is soon to step forth as a producer.

Reina is the wife of Maurice Gest, also a producer, but has been concerned with the theater only indirectly. Now comes the rumor that she would revive "The Return of Peter Grimm" if she could but find an actor to fill the David Warfield role. Also, she is said to be interested in the presentation of "Virginia City," another of her father's plays. So don't be surprised if the name of Reina Belasco appears one of these days in the place of the great David.

Grape juice companies are still paying dividends, though packing companies are probably having a hard time trying to make both ends meat.

PLAY OFFERED LAST NIGHT

ENGLISH PLAYERS WIN FAVOR WITH "JULIUS CAESAR" HERE

With the simple stage settings of Shakespeare's time and aided by ingenious modern lighting effects, Sir Philip Ben Greet's English players presented "Julius Caesar" Wednesday night in the high school auditorium.

By their sheer ability to enliven the roles they took did the players win the large audience from the opening lines—and this same quality held the undivided attention of the spectators through the entire seven scenes.

Superb Acting

Superb playing was credited to Russell Thorndike, in the leading role of Marcus Brutus. His playing was finished and certain.

"Julius Caesar" does not have what is generally called a comedy role, but Casca, as interpreted by Ben Greet, almost became a comedy part and it was the venerable leader of the players who received the most sympathetic response from the audience. Ben Greet's playing of Casca, however, was sufficiently restrained to harmonize ideally with the other roles.

Excellent Effects

A few rude chairs and steps were only stage properties. In the storm scenes, thunder and lightning were carried out with excellent effect. The Roman robes worn by the players completed the simple settings. The lighting effects, suited exactly to the scenes, were the only modern touch.

Mark Dignam, in the title role, was forceful. He also carried the role of Octavius Caesar. Frederic Cargent played Marcus Antonius; C. E. Holloway, Cassius; P. Willoughby, Ligarius; Rex Walters, Debonius; Christopher Casson as Varullus; Alfred Farrell as Decius Brutus.

The players gave "Twelfth Night" yesterday afternoon.

SHAKESPEARE'S DRAMAS WILL LIVE INDEFINITELY, BEN GREET THINKS

Speaking explosively, his shock of white hair sharply conspicuous, a man whom Great Britain knighted recently for his 50 years on the stage opined that Shakespeare's plays will live indefinitely unless the actors kill them; enacting the Bard of Avon's dramas in modern dress is "horrible"; the outlook of the legitimate theater is good; Fort Worth is "a vulgar place"; and school children, above all else, should learn to speak English.

These are opinions of Sir Philip Ben Greet, outstanding Shakespeare student of England, expressed Wednesday afternoon in a three-scene interview—in a local hotel lobby, in a taxi enroute to Lubbock high high school auditorium and in Sir Philip's improvised dressing room backstage.

Interview Difficult

It was with some difficulty the interview was arranged. Sir Philip was asleep until 2:30, and he penned several letters before he went to the auditorium.

"Actors are busy people, always busy," Sir Philip explained in a gruff, but none-the-less friendly manner, as he bought airmail stamps in the hotel lobby. "They always are traveling—have to put up with all sorts of things. In Fort Worth only last week—" Sir Philip hesitated until he seated himself in the taxi, Then,

"Fort Worth is a very vulgar place. One of my players was thrown to the ground by a policeman there and struck several times, without provocation. The papers carried the story. Most annoying."

Actors Horrible

What of actors playing Shakespeare in present-day clothing?

"Horrible," replied Sir Philip. "Only word for it—horrible. Hamlet in a dinner jacket! What guys they looked. Farcical. Lady Macbeth drinking whisky and soda. Can you beat that?"

Sir Philip, who plays comedy roles chiefly, mimicked Lady Macbeth drinking whisky and soda—as good an imitation as ever given in a taxi.

"But Shakespeare's plays will never stop while they are decently acted," he said. "Never. Their future depends on the actors. There have been many very good actors of Shakespeare. No, I can't name the best. We have had great audiences in America. Americans like Shakespeare."

Future Is Bright

As he was entering the school building he said,

"The future of the legitimate stage is bright. The little theatre movement is most commendable, and in Dallas recently I saw the best little theatre playing I have found.

"Wonderful stage," said Sir Philip as he examined the high school stage. "Your schools and city auditoriums have better stages than most theatres." He examined the settings approvingly, "Gray for tragedy and bright colors for comedy."

The Ben Greet players present Shakespearean drama with the simplest of stage property.

"Told you we put up with everything. I am property man here," the actor said as he entered an improvised dressing room backstage. A property room, containing folded chairs, stage sets and other equipment, was littered with grease paint tubes, costumes, wigs and other of Sir Phillip's belongings.

Influence Cited

An admirer of Sir Philip came into the room. "I first saw you play twenty years ago—started me reading Shakespeare," the man said.

"There you are," Sir Philip beamed. "That's our influence."

His parting shot was:

"In God's name let them—your school children—learn to speak the English language correctly. That is my daily prayer."

Wednesday afternoon Sir Philip played Malvolio in "Twelfth Night," and in the evening he was Casca in "Julius Caesar."

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 1 to 3 points on overnight buying orders and trade buying. January sold up to 6.09 at the call but liquidation set in later and the market eased slightly.

After the initial demand had been supplied, the market appeared to be without much support. At the end of the first half hour, January was selling at 6.01 and May 6.27, or 3 to 6 points net lower.

Liverpool cables reported continental selling in that market with fluctuations influenced by irregularity in sterling and easier Egyptian markets. Egyptian cotton futures in Alexandria were 15 to 46 points lower. A private crop report was issued placing the indicated yield at 17,268,000 bales and ginnings prior to December 1st at 15,100,000.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 3 (AP) — Cotton today opened very quiet, 2 to 5 points up on the execution of overnight selling orders.

Liverpool cables were worse than due and sterling was firmer which caused foreign liquidation.

Prices soon lost their initial gain when January dropped to 6.02 and March to 6.19, down 3 to 6 points from the opening figures and one point below yesterday's close.

Trading was very narrow and near the end of the first hour the market was quiet and at the lows.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Dec. 3. (AP)—Influenced by stock market weakness, grain prices turned downward early after a show of firmness at the start. Reports of persistent adverse weather in Argentina failed to act as a sustaining bullish factor. Opening unchanged to 1-2 cent higher, wheat afterward receded all round. Corn started at 1-8, 1-2 decline and continued downgrade.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 3 (AP)—Stocks steadied after an early period of heaviness today.

Gains of a point or so had developed by the second hour in American Can, Southern Pacific, New York Central, American Telephone, Pullman, American Tobacco "B" Lambert and McKeesport Tin Plate. U. S. Steel, after easing to the new low of 51 1-4, firmed. The preferred issue, however, sagged half a dozen points to the lowest since 1917, but the decline was attributed to thinness of the market. Radio preferred shares, on which dividend action was due today, dropped 2 to 3 points.

A few other weak spots cropped out, notably Western Union, Borden and Jersey Central, the last named breaking 12 points. It is inactive.

Call money renewed at 2 1-2 per cent.

Lighthouse Keepers Are Without Foo

GALVESTON, Dec. 3 (AP)—Coast guardsmen planned renewed effort today to take food to two assistant keepers of the South Jetty lighthouse about two miles in the gulf.

The two men were reported to have run out of food except for a meager supply of flour. Attempts yesterday to replenish their stock were unavailing because of heavy seas resulting from continued northerly winds.

The lighthouse, whose red and white beacon light guides thousands of vessels into port each year, is within three miles of the Galveston business district.

Commissioners Are Back From Hearing

Saying they were satisfied with letting of a contract for asphalt and caliche improvement of state highway No. 7 northwestward through Shallowater, a Lubbock delegation which went to Austin to protest surfacing the road with asphalt returned Wednesday. The delegates had discussed the relative merits of concrete and asphalt paving and respective costs with members of the state highway commission, which let the contract.

Going to Austin were Commissioners L. C. Denton and J. T. Pinkston and J. H. Hankins and Joe Bowman. Rich beds of caliche in West Texas counties make cost of this type of improvement, with an asphalt topping, economical, it was pointed out. The commission also reported, according to a statement written Wednesday by Mr. Denton, that concrete is not proving entirely satisfactory in West Texas because it buckles and cannot be maintained cheaply.

Prince Of Wales Is Suffering Of Chill

LONDON, Dec. 3. (AP)—The prince of Wales is suffering from a slight chill, with symptoms of a malarial nature, it was officially stated at York house this morning.

His condition was not regarded in any way serious, the announcement said, but he plans to remain in bed today.

The prince was stricken with a chill yesterday and his engagements for today were cancelled.

ALL-TIME FROST RECORD SET FOR LUBBOCK SECTION

Lubbock's late-frost record became nine days longer last month, no killing frost occurring until November 22, breaking the previous record of November 13 set in 1922, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the state experiment station here, reported.

Mean temperature, at 52 degrees, was higher than usual, while the mean minimum temperature was the highest ever recorded for this month by the station. Maximum reading was 81 degrees and minimum temperature was 27 degrees, the latter registered Nov. 22.

Precipitation of 1.39 inches last month has been exceeded but three years in the 20 years records kept in Lubbock. The station reported twelve clear days, seven partly cloudy days and eleven cloudy days. Maximum relative humidity was 91.5 per cent, minimum relative humidity was 49.5 per cent; and mean relative humidity was 77.4 per cent.

Total wind run for last month was 3,824 miles as compared with 4,752 miles for the average November. Total evaporation was 2.204 inches.

Although the normal November rainfall of .63 of an inch was more than doubled, total rainfall to date, 17.9 inches, is .57 of an inch under the normal precipitation for the same period.

Lubbock Club Boy Writes About Show

"There were plenty of animals but few people," Arvie Elliott, Lubbock county four-H club boy attending a national congress of farm boys and girls in Chicago, wrote of the International Livestock show there.

The youth, awarded the trip by the Santa Fe railway for an exceptional demonstration in hegari, wrote Lubbock county agents and four-H club members Sunday after a telegram had been sent him by the Lubbock county four-H club council.

Elliott praised his hosts, told of a banquet, a barbeque dinner, a parade in a livestock pavillion, and other events in which he had participated with other four-H club members, and said they were to visit a packing plant and Lincoln park and to have their own dinner party.

"Only a few Texas animals are in the show," Elliott wrote. He expected to leave Chicago for Lubbock late Friday. He arrived there last Sunday morning. A snow-blanket was encountered virtually all the way from Amarillo to Chicago, the four-H boy wrote.

FIVE ARE KILLED

COLD WATER, Ariz., Dec. 3 (AP)—Dr. T. J. Tarasoff, a colonel in the Russian medical corps during the Czarist regime, and four other persons were killed by a collision of his motor car and a Southern Pacific passenger train here last night.

November City Tax Collections Higher

A slight increase in November city tax collections as compared to October collections has been reported by R. A. Holland, city tax collector.

Collections last month, both current and delinquent, totaled $12,556.24, and for October the total was $12,161.60. The November total was divided as follows: Current, $7,234.02, and delinquent, $5,322.22. The collections for November, 1930, however were considerably heavier than for this past month. CROSBY YOUTH FACES BOND

J. D. BOSWELL HELD IN CONNECTION WITH SLAYING

CROSBYTON, Dec. 3.—(Special) —Arraigned before Peace Justice A. A. Mitchell on a murder charge in connection with the slaying of a negro near here in the alleged holdup of a dice game, J. D. Boswell, Crosby county youth, late Wednesday was expected to post bond of $7,500.

District Attorney Durwood H. Bradley and County Attorney W. J. Martin represented the state at the hearing. The district prosecutor indicated a bond of $5,000 would be satisfactory to the state.

Recently Onnie Graham, 16, one of the trio of white boys who were implicated in the case, was given a term from one to five years in the state reformatory at Gatesville by Judge Edgar Hutchins in juvenile court. Boswell and Earlie Dyers, the third youth involved in the case, cleared Graham of any connection with the actual discharge of the shot gun that fatally wounded the negro. He was taken to Gatesville by Sheriff Elmer Reed.

Examining trial for Byers has not been held. No date has been announced. Boswell will appear before the grand jury when it meets in Crosbyton early in January.

IS HE READING YOUR AD??

He's a busy fellow, this man who reads the Avalanche and Journal. That's why he reads them. He wants all the news, local, national, international; he wants stimulating editorial comment, and interesting features; he wants honest, complete shopping guidance; and he wants all these things compressed within the pages of a single newspaper.

Appeal to the Buyer

The Avalanche or Journal reader is a buyer, but not a leisurely buyer. He has very little leisure; nor does he wish to spend it "shopping around." He does most of his shopping right there in his easy chair. Therefore to this busy man, who chooses this newspaper as his point of contact with the world at large, advertising is NEWS.

Your Message Will Be Read

If your message appears in the Avalanche and Journal, this man, busy as he is, will read it. He will know who you are, and what you have to offer. When he buys, he will buy from YOU. He won't have time to seek out merchandise, however attractive, that is being hidden under a bushel. The most direct route between you and this man's pocketbook is the Avalanche and Journal.

HE WILL READ IT—IF IT'S IN THE

AMERICAN SCIENTIST FINDS WAY TO SMASH ATOM; THEORIES ARE REFUTED

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. (AP)—Prof. Robert Andrews Millikan, one of America's foremost scientists, has found a way to smash the atom, once considered the smallest thing in the universe.

But the universe itself, he believes—contrary to the opinion of many of his fellow scientists—is not eventually going to be smashed.

Discussing atoms and bits of atoms and the universe itself, Dr. Millikan returned yesterday on the Aquitania from Europe, where he held conversations with Professor Einstein and lectured at 20 universities in Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and Czechoslovakia.

He announced he and his colleague, Karl D. Anderson, have been successful in smashing the atom by the use of the cosmic, or alpha ray.

"It requires ordinarily 2,500,000 volts to disintegrate a nucleus," he said. "As the cosmic ray attains a voltage of from 1,000,000 to 3,000,000, the bombardment of an atom with this ray became a simple matter.

"The effect of the bombardment is to scatter the electrons at about the speed of light, or 186,000 miles a second."

Study of this same cosmic ray, Dr. Millikan said, has brought him to the conclusion the universe is expanding—and not diminishing or traveling toward inevitable annihilation, as believed by Sir James Jeans of England and some other scientists.

SANTA ON WAY TO LUBBOCK

CHRISTMAS PARTY TO BE HELD HERE ON DECEMBER 11

Old Santa Claus and his expedition of people from the far north are rapidly nearing Lubbock and will be on time on Friday, December 11, according to word received from the party Thursday. Santa and his men are in Idaho and will soon be crossing the Rockies toward the middle western states, the dispatch said.

Upon his arrival here, December 11, the grand old gentlemen will be seen in a big Christmas spectacle and parade which is being sponsored by the Avalanche-Journal.

Prince of Love, the official messenger of the expedition, informed the Avalanche-Journal that "Mary" Christmas is coming with Santa again this year as she has in the previous pre-Christmas visits to the United States and that she will be seen in the parade here.

This year "Mary" will be seen riding a camel. She will be high up above the crowds so all may have a good view of her as she waves kisses to the happy young ones as well as to the enthusiastic older admirers.

Kind Acts For Young And Old

It is "Mary" Christmas who advises with Santa Claus regarding the many interesting playthings and useful presents for boys and girls. However, "Mary" gives more attention to the wants and needs of little girls than to those of little boys. It really requires the experience and consideration of a motherly woman to know just what is best for little girls and that is the reason Santa has been so gad to seek "Mary's" advice in such things. Then too, "Mary" and Santa work together in matters pertaining to old folks—that is, the very aged, like some of our grand parents. The old people love "Mary" very dearly and many of them from this section of the country will visit the parade to find pleasure in just waiving to Santa and "Mary."

Some people who have never seen "Mary" are under the impression that she is very old and bent with years. Such is not the case, for while she is old enough to know the pains and joys of life she is still young enough to appreciate the problems of the little tots and understand the difficulties of older children.

Wins Popularity Everywhere

She has a face like a pretty doll which smiles out from beneath a bright brown kissed with gray curls. She wins the hearts of all who know her for she has found continual youth through thinking only of the goodness of people and doing kind deeds for others.

Everyone can keep young and be happier if they will think of the good traits of their friends and relatives and pay less attention to the faults of others. Kind acts towards others also pays in a full measure of happiness to those who practice the golden rule. The happiest people are those who think more of the comforts of others and less of their own troubles.

Merchants Are Conscientious

The most successful merchants are the ones who try to please their customers and work hard to give full measure in all their dealings. That is why the merchants of Lubbock enjoy and deserve the patronage of the people of this entire section for no one needs to send elsewhere for anything as the stores here are stocked with just as good merchandise as can be found in any other city in the country, and at just as fair prices.

New York Production

It is interesting to know that the spectacle coming here is an imported production, having been originated by the producer, Albert H. Thacher, head of Thacher Production of New York City. Thacher conceived the idea of arranging Pre-Christmas visits of Santa Claus some six or seven years ago and the popularity of the program has not with such universal success that the demand for the production necessitates, arrangements being made early in the year. Lubbock is one of the few principal cities included in the Itinerary of the 1931 Spectacle and the Avalanche-Journal was fortunate in arranging the booking several months ago.

OKLAHOMA CITY WILL CELEBRATE FINDING OF OIL

OKLAHOMAM CITY, Dec. 3 (AP)—Three years ago, come Friday, Oklahoma City found an infant oil field in its back yard.

Under the towering steel derricks which proclaim the industrial giant into which that infant has grown, the city plans to celebrate the anniversary of its rich strike.

Civic leaders will recall the thrill that vibrated through the community when the first well gushed in, marking the strike of the oil-surfeited area which has become the Oklahoma City pool.

There will be memories, too, of moments fraught with peril during the spectacular wild well strikes and blazing fountains of oil and gas.

"Wild Mary Sudik," most famous of the wild wells which menaced the city, shot 48,000 barrels of oil and 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas high into the air for 11 days, defying control.

There are 845 producing wells in this field. A total production of approximately 83,000,000 barrels valued at $58,100,000 has been recovered thus far and indications are that is only a beginning.

One of the few women diamond cutters in the world is Mrs. Helene Lewedow, of Pittsburgh, Pa. She learned the art as a girl in Belgium.

Thirteen Arrested In Liquor Seizure

WESTPORT, Mass., Dec. 3 (AP)—A motorboat was showered with machine guns bullets and sank. 13 men were arrested and 1,200 cases of liquor, which police said were valued at $100,000, seized as three branches of the law swept down on alleged rum runners yesterday.

The motorboat Star, out of New Bedford, burned and went down off Horse Neck beach after a chase by a coast guard speedboat. Her crew of seven was arrested. Six other men were captured and the liquor seized at a cottage on the shore during a raid by coast guardsmen, customs officers and westport policemen. A group about 15 men escaped during the raid.
