8th Breezes finish season as 7-2A district champs

The Winters 8th Breezes had to receive a "First Quarter wake-up call" and did respond after trailing 6-0 at the end of the first quarter.

The Breezes began a drive late in the first quarter, carrying over into the second quarter, capped on a 6-yard touchdown run by Mark Deike. The pass for two points was good from John Belew to Kevin Conner.

They continued their quest after a Conner fumble recovery. This drive was capped by a 20-yard touchdown run by Jerry Esquivel. The 2-point try again was good on a pass from Belew to Conner for a 16-6 halftime lead.

The Breezes picked up in the second half where they left off. After they held Stamford on their first possession in the second half, they began a drive that culminated in a 15-yard touchdown run by Esquivel. Belew and Conner were successful again with their extra point pass.

The Breezes' last touchdown was stepped up on a blocked punt by Michael Luna. This touchdown drive was capped on a 7-yard touchdown run by Belew.

Stamford did score once more for the final 30-14 score.

Coach Ed Henley commented on the success of the team, "The Breezes completed the season 7-0-1. The district championship was a goal they set for themselves at the beginning of the season. Teamwork was the key to a successful season, everybody contributed, everybody did their job."

City delays airport closing; approves rates

With a strong showing of local pilots and a lack of information from all parties, the Winters city council tabled possible action regarding closing the airport.

Local pilots, Wes Hays, K. W. Cook, Steve Ballard, Kevin Busher, Joe Gerhart, David Bradley, Morris Robinson, Wes Hays, Jr., and Trey Lee attended the council meeting on behalf of the airport.

In the regular meeting of the council on Monday, November 11, Mayor Sandy Griffin designated the Airport Board and City Manager James Blankenship to research information about the Texas Department of Aviation list of faults with the Winters airport.

One estimate to repair the nineteen year old airport was given at $422,000. There is a possibility of a grant from the state for this money if the city would furnish 10%. Mayor Griffin stated, "The City has no money available for this kind of expenditure".

Pilot Joe Gerhart added, "The airport serves more than just pilots. Many times local pilots have flown patients and medical equipment to hospitals in Dallas, Houston, Temple and San Antonio. The airport has served the whole community".

"The economic impact of closing the airport needs to be studied," said David Bradley.

Several businesses were listed that use the airport such as Ballard's Crop Spraying, oil companies, and a possible new company that will use the airport.

The Airport Board hopes to have better facts and present a report within 30 days.

In other business, the council approved a water rate study that was discussed at the last meeting.

Also, an ordinance concerning the Browning-Ferris Industries' (BFI) rate increase of 2% with no alley pick up was approved. The price increase will take effect on December 15, 1991. The week of December 9-14 will be the last week of alley pick up. BFI will assist any handicapped persons with bringing their trash to the curb for those who call the city and inform them of that need.

The new rates are:
Inside city limits - residential $9.95 per month (this is no change because of city absorbing the increase)

Outside city limits - residential $12.18 per month
Commercial container collection will also increase 2%. The Convenience Center will be $33.15 per dump.

School board considers extending school day

Listed on the agenda for the regular monthly school board meeting to be held Thursday, November 12 is consideration of extending the Pre-K through grade 3 school day.

Presently the school day ends at 2:45 p.m. for these grades. The agenda item calls for a 3:30 p.m. dismissal time. This coincides with all other grades.

This new dismissal time would begin in the second semester of the present school year if passed by the school board.

Also being considered during this meeting is full day kindergarten to start the second semester of the 1991-92 school year. At the present time kindergarten is only half-day.

One of the other items on the agenda is a discussion of the disposal of two houses at Wingate and the barracks building used for special education at Winters. The houses were acquired with the consolidation of the Wingate school system. The barracks will no longer be needed because the special education classes will move into the new school building when finished.

Other agenda items of interest include a report on Runnels County Education District, authorization of the lease-purchase of a school bus, and voting on Runnels County Appraisal District board of directors.

The board meeting will be held in the school administration office at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, November 14.

County voters approve eight of 13 amendments

Runnels County voters said "Yes" to eight of the 13 Constitutional Amendments that were presented to the voters on November 5.

Amendments number 1, 4, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13 were approved, while numbers 2, 3, 5, 6 and 7 were voted down.

Twenty-five percent or 343 voters of Precinct No. 4 (Winters Housing Authority) cast their votes out of 1374 registered to vote. Out of 491 registered voters in Precinct No. 4 (Winters City Hall), 126 cast their vote for a total of 26 percent.

Precinct No. 5 (Wingate Lions Club Building) had 27 percent or 55 votes cast out of 207 registered voters.

Eleven of the 13 amendments were approved statewide.

Amendment No. 11 for the lottery, was approved by a 65 percent vote statewide, despite strong opposition.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles ©1991

This time, we try to finish what we started last time concerning the mass movement of large oil companies to the international arena.

We decided that we would split this thing up into "real causes" and "communication problems".

First, "real causes". Incentive to drill for oil and gas in these United States is at an all-time low, despite strong and stable oil prices. Why?

Because of taxation, costs of new environmental requirements, and uncertainty about the future, drilling is at an historical low point. There is no clear mandate from the American government or its people that the domestic energy infrastructure is worth saving. The message seems to be: the oil and gas industry can provide revenue for the government, but beyond that, there is no clear reason to fortify the American petroleum industry.

Oil companies take that as their cue to leave to greener pastures where clear mandates have been made to provide for a strong non-OPEC oil and gas business. Places like the United Kingdom, France, Italy, Germany, the Eastern Bloc, Africa, and Mexico have all welcomed oil businesses with open arms.

I personally don't see the light at the end of the tunnel on this problem, but maybe someone will realize the importance of a healthy domestic petroleum industry, soon.

Real cause #2:

The big fields have basically been discovered in the onshore lower 48 states. That isn't to say there isn't oil to be produced, but the really huge ones have been found. That leaves Alaska and offshore, where there exists a strong possibility that giant fields are waiting to be discovered.

At this time, most of the potential giant field areas are off limits to drilling, for environmental reasons, or at least supposedly for such reasons. No compromise is in sight, so Alaska and the U.S. intercontinental shelf is destined to decline to insignificance in 5 to 10 years.

On the other hand, there are numerous places worldwide that hold the potential for vast reserves, especially those that major oil companies salivate over. Exploration in third-world countries has been either poorly managed or just inadequate to explore all of the potential basins, so many opportunities exist for the application of American expertise.

I have a dissenting opinion on the majors' attitude concerning lack of opportunity here as opposed to overseas.

The great opportunities 'over there' can evaporate in hours if the host government decides it would rather own what the oil companies think they own. Instability is a lot worse than burdensome taxation. I also believe that majors are forgetting that it doesn't require a giant field to be profitable.

While it is true, that giant or 'elephant' fields are few and far between in the States, there is plenty of small to medium fields left to make many people rich. Independents seem to be the only ones interested in such endeavours at the moment.

Now we discuss the "communication problems".

The first "real cause" listed above is all about poor communication.

John Q. Public doesn't understand the significance of the petroleum infrastructure because it has always been shrouded in a veil of mystery and mistrust. There is no reason to think that oil companies have become more honest than they were in the "Seven Sisters" days, because the companies haven't done anything special to win Mr. Public's trust back.

Oil companies, on the other hand, believe that they are getting a bad rap.

Both sides are correct to some extent.

It is time for us to get together on this communication thing.

In the meantime, oil and gas will remain a force in the United States, if only because independent oil men and women don't mind making the 'little' bucks, while the majors try for the elusive 'big ones'. But, it is possible that the service infrastructure will be damaged beyond repair by great reductions in spending in the U.S....

Again, that is another story, for another time in this space.

NRH gears up for smoke out, clinics

North Runnels Hospital is gearing up to assist in preparation for the Great American Smoke Out! The regular blood pressure/blood sugar clinic will be held Tuesday, November 19. In addition to this service, Lee Medical Supply of Abilene will offer pulse oximeter testing. These screening opportunities will be free of charge to the public, and will be held, as usual, in the hospital lobby. A pulse oximeter measures the oxygen level in the blood stream. This is a minor, noninvasive procedure that takes just a moment of your time.

You are encouraged to take advantage of this service, especially those who may anticipate breaking the smoking habit.

At the same time, the American Red Cross will offer cholesterol screening for a small fee. Fasting is not necessary, however, a more accurate reading may be obtained after fasting.

North Runnels Hospital looks forward to seeing you on Tuesday, November 19, from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon in the hospital lobby!

Heritage, Happiness and Hope

Betty Paschal made her first trip to Glorieta this year in October for the Chautauqua (Indian word for a gathering) with a bus load of people from First Baptist Church. When asked what she enjoyed most about the trip, Betty replied "everything!"

There were several others going for the first time; Neva Puckett, Bertie Rae Lee from Ballinger and Tooter Harrison's friend, La Moyne Houser of Comanche.

Mary Jim Currie from Paint Rock was a second year traveler. Some like Vivian Foster, Hortell McCaughan, Jo Olive Hancock, R.Q. and Doxie Lou Marks and myself go back year after year.

We have a group we call the golden girls: Jerry Lloyd, Emily Pendergrass and Charlotte Miller. Jerry said, "Tell them we behaved this time."

David and Jeri Speegle take care of all of us and our needs. They had Jonathan with them this trip. He is in training to be an adult.

The conference center was ready for visitors with Halcomb Auditorium all decked out in flags from every nation flying in the breeze. The lake that had been so dry and dusty last year was now filled with clear sparkling water and surrounded by thrifty foliage. The aspens were taking on their golden hue for the winter.

Special interest conferences were planned for the visitors, also programs and tours of the Glorieta grounds. We always prefer to take our own tours. Most of the travelers on our bus decided they would go higher in the mountains to the ski lodge and return by Santa Fe, but on the way home they were good samaritans and brought in some people whose car had stalled on the road.

With 834 people registered, it was a good idea to be early at the cafeteria for meal time or be prepared to wait in line for quite a while. To my knowledge, no one missed a meal.

Everyone in attendance at the conference received a new book for senior adults entitled Heritage, Happiness and Hope in the Senior Years by Jack Gullledge. His wisdom and humor make the book a pleasant reading experience.

Gullledge says our heritage is to keep the wolf away from the door and to avoid the pitfalls along the path. He quotes Harry S. Truman, who said "The only thing new in the world is the history you don't know." The witness of the past can indeed be the heritage of the present and a forecast of the future, says the author. He thinks the kind of ancestors we have is not as important as the kind of ancestors our descendants will have.

Practical information is given on subjects such as stretching your money, maintaining personal appearance and health, relocating or staying where you are and insuring home safely.

The two "Happiness" chapters use 1 Corinthians 13 as a basis to everyday life. Because loving others can be accomplished only by those who truly love themselves, self-esteem and self-worth are also emphasized.

The concluding two "Hope" chapters help Christian senior adults look realistically at their remaining years of service and the prospect of early death. The hope of eternal tomorrow with the Lord is treated joyfully and expectantly.

Over 200 visitors attend quilt show at Rock Hotel

by Kay Colburn

Over 210 visitors enjoyed the annual quilt show held at the Rock Hotel, Friday and Saturday November 8 and 9. The show was sponsored by the Z.I. Hale Museum members.

Guests came from Ballinger, Rowena, Snyder, Robert Lee, Clyde, Stephenville, San Angelo, Bronte, Abilene, Novice, Wingate and Laredo. Also from Meadview, Arizona; Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; Choctaw, Oklahoma and Wales, United Kingdom.

Mr and Mrs. John Wagstaffe from the western part of Wales in the United Kingdom, were in Abilene visiting her brother for a three week stay in the States. They saw the notice of the Winters Quilt Show in the Abilene Reporter News and wanted to see American quilts on display. They were most appreciative of the show and expressed their admiration for Texas. Mr Wagstaffe said he would like to take a piece of Texas back to Wales with him. Mrs. Wagstaffe told Noma Eoff, while viewing the quilts, that she would mail her instructions for making a ribbon quilt, a design that she did not see among all the many American quilt designs at the show.

The Wagstaffes had also visited the painted rocks in Paint Rock, San Antonio and Fredericksburg. They were hoping to be able to visit Taos and other points in New Mexico before returning home.

Those attending the show on Friday were given a demonstration on applique quilts by Edna England. On Saturday, visitors were treated to a water color and fabric painting demonstration by Ginger Test of Novice. Juanita Shields also of Novice, demonstrated how to transfer photographs to fabric to be used as quilt blocks for a picture album quilt.

All who wanted to test their skills were invited to stitch on a quilt donated by Jewell Kraatz and stretched on a quilt frame ready for quilting.

Noma Eoff demonstrated how cotton was carded into bats for quilt batting in days before batting could be purchased ready for use from the store.

Winners of the show are as follows:

Best of Show: Edna England.
Pieced Quilts: Homer Stoecker-First Place; Chris O'Dell-Second Place; and Jerry Lloyd-Third Place.

Appliqued and Embroidered Quilts: Unusual Quilts: Juanita Shields-First Place; Debbie Smith-Second Place; and Juanita Shields-Third Place.

Antique Quilts: Noma Eoff-First Place; Ginny Smith-Second Place; and Nina Hale-Third Place.

Baby Quilts: Noma Eoff-First Place; Lura Lee Garrett-Second Place; and Jan Sims-Third Place.

Quilt Tops: Rhuenell Poe-First Place; Mrs. Jim King-Second Place; and Lenora Wilkerson-Third Place.

Judges for the show were Marsha Fry and Carolyn Flanagan of Ballinger and Patricia Ham-bright of Winters. 64 quilts were entered in the show.

Appreciation is extended to all who brought quilts for the show. Those who brought them as makers of the quilts, or as fortunate owners of family heirlooms were Mary Margaret Leathers, Noma Eoff, Pauline Huckaby, Doris Stoecker, Nina Hale, Lura Lee Garrett, Rhuenell Poe, Mrs. John King, Lois West, Edna England, Lorine Halffmann, Juanita Shields, Jewell Kraatz, Helen Mayfield, Jeanie Bahlman, Jamie Sims, Jan Sims, Jerry Lloyd, Ruth Cooper, Ginny Smith, Chris O'Dell and Darlene Sims.

Appreciation goes out to all the active members of the Z.I. Hale Museum who helped to make the show a success. Special thanks are given to Hattie Bell Bishop, Gerald and Wanda Smith and Noma Eoff for their time, planning and plain old hard work that made the 1991 quilt show the best one to date.

Scouts to conduct annual food drive for the needy

Local scouts and volunteer leaders will be gathering on Saturday, November 16 to hold their annual Food Drive, to help stock the Winters Food Pantry.

During the month of November, Winters scouts will be joining other scouts across the country in a nationwide scouting effort to help feed the hungry.

Scouting programs are committed to teaching the value of community service and this is one way our scouts feel they are doing their part to help in our community.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts work jointly on this project, which involves Explorer Scouts, Webelos, Cub Scouts, Tiger Cubs, Junior Girl Scouts, Brownies and Daisies.

Scouts will be meeting at the Scout Hut Saturday morning at 9:00 a.m. in uniform and will work until the town has been completely covered.

The scouts will be going door to door asking for your donation of canned foods, so please be prepared when they call on you. If you are going to be away from home, you may leave your food items in a sack by your front door or drop them by the Scout Hut. If you plan to be out of town, drop your donation off at the Scout Hut any afternoon or call on a scout you know.

Keep in mind that only non-perishable items and canned foods can be accepted, and that all food stays in Winters. This is a worthwhile cause, so please give generously when your local scout calls on you.

From The Well

by
Pastor Jim Hanson
St. John's Lutheran Church

"From the Well", a weekly feature contributed by Jim Hanson, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church makes its debut in this week's edition of the Enterprise.

Every summer my brothers and I would go to "the farm." We lived in St. Paul, Minnesota, a city where my dad was a preacher. I hated the city; dangerous streets, dirty sidewalks, and dusty air. People were always in a hurry and you didn't know anybody. When I close my eyes and try to picture those years in the city, the image that comes, is in black and white — no color!

"The farm" was different. Aunt Suzie and Uncle George loved us and made us feel at home. Cows and horses, chickens and pigs, and a collie named Bobby all lived there. Of course we had work to do. One of my chores was to "go get the cows." Every afternoon about four, Bobby and I would go down to the pasture to get them.

Sometimes it was easy, sometimes not. It always took a lot of time, and it made me tired and thirsty. As we came up the hill, following the path around the bend to the barn, I would look up and see the windmill, the pump, and the big old tin cup hanging on the spigot. And the cup seemed to say "Welcome, it won't be long now."

It wasn't long before the cows were in the barn and Bobby and I were at the well. I'd fill the cup with the cool water from the well, drink it down, and then pour a cup or two in the basin for Bobby. Nothing better in the world than a cup of water from the well when you're thirsty and tired.

It was good to be on the farm in those days. When I close my eyes and picture those years on the farm, the image that comes is red, yellow, green, and blue — in color!

Recently I attended a conference for pastors in rural areas at Texas A&M. The theme was "Rural Churches, Well-Springs of Hope." As I listened to the speakers, encouraging us to see the deep and real values of living in rural America, I thought of the windmill, the well, and the tin cup. My spirit was refreshed. It is good to live in rural Texas. The church is a well of hope and the cup is there.

My hope is that this column will be for you, a cup from the well, and that reading it will refresh, encourage and renew your hope.

Members of the armed forces who were in Hawaii on December 7, 1941, and civilian employees of the War Department or Navy Department who were wounded in the attack, or survivors of those who were killed are eligible to receive the Pearl Harbor Commemorative Medal.

Eligible veterans or their survivors should call the toll-free number established by the Defense Department for additional information and forms, 1-800-545-4052.

Copies of the application forms also are available from VA Regional Offices.

St. John's Journal

Fifteen ladies answered roll call, with Truman Deike and Theodora Frick serving as hostesses. Other members present were Hildagard Kruse, Hattie Minzenmayer, Bea Schroeder, Lela Thormeyer, Leona Voss, Gertie Witte and Ramona Hanson.

The meeting ended with the Lord's Prayer.

Mail early, weather no respecter of seasonal sentiments

When Herodotus of ancient Greece wrote that neither snow nor rain could prevent couriers from delivering their messages, he couldn't foresee how ice and snow can halt over-the-road traffic and ground airplanes loaded with holiday mail.

Today's mail carriers are very much aware of the effect bad weather can have on mail deliveries. That's why the U. S. Postal Service urges customers to mail their holiday greetings and gift packages as early as possible. The climate here may be beautiful, but ice, snow, or other bad weather conditions may prevail somewhere en route to your mail's destination address.

The Postal Service is prepared locally to handle any late-mailing surge in volume and will do their very best to see that your mail is dispatched on time. However, they have no control over the impact adverse weather may have on air and surface transportation. Why take a chance on someone being disappointed because you waited until the last minute and your mail got delayed when a highway or airport was closed? Mail early — so that all enjoy the thought of a "White Christmas!"

Spirit Filled Happenings

By Dixie Leverett, Church Editor, Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church

by Dixie Leverett

As a teenager I lived in a small town near the Texas gulf coast and attended the First Baptist Church.

In the church was an older second cousin of mine with a wife and three young children. He was a quite man, a Sunday school teacher, a deacon and worked in the church. They didn't seem to have much material worth, but their love for God and each other was so evident.

He died a sudden death. There were so many people who came to the funeral to give their final respect that you could not fit them all into the church, though it had a large sanctuary.

People came from everywhere and they all told of how he had helped them. There were stories of how he picked them up, took them home, fed them and gave them his last dollar. He was known to have taken food to those that were in need, even though his own family was in need. He'd go to the hospital and sit with ill friends regardless of how tired he was. His list of good deeds just went on and on.

A few weeks later, I went to his grave sight and what I saw on his marker made my heart leap for joy. It simply read "A Man of God." What greater tribute could anyone have?

John 15:13 - Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Jesus Christ gave up his life for us, and as Christians we must give up our life for others, by doing the good deeds. James 4:14 - Whereas ye know not what shall be on the morrow. For what is your life? It is even a vapour, that appeareth for a little time, and then vanisheth away.

Friday, November 15, we will have an old fashioned gospel singing. Everyone is invited, musicians and singers, bring your specials and fellowship with us. A salad supper will follow. Time

Guiding Light Spirit Filled Baptist Church is located at 1017 N. Cryer in Winters, and is a spiritual light growing every brighter in a seemingly darkened world.

Sunday services meet at the following times: Sunday school-9:45 a.m.; worship service-11:00 a.m.; evening service-6:00 p.m. and Wednesday service-7:00 p.m.

Community of Caring

Articles contributed by concerned citizens of Winters

Who Cares?

There are 135 kids in latch-key... but... who cares?

There are over 40 teenage parents within our school district... but... who cares?

There are over 300 kids at risk in our high school... but... who cares?

There were over 350 cases of child abuse/neglect in the last 2 years... but... who cares?

We had over 70 junior youth with no place to go and socialize on Saturday night... but... who cares?

Winters ACES tried to hold the Youth Center open on Saturday night for a dance for these youngsters, during the stormy situations that persisted... success... YES. Do we need a place for our young people to go and socialize without the threat of mischief or trouble. Is this costly? You know it will eventually cost the city of Winters a great deal. What it costs now is the time, money, commitment, and positive attitudes that could influence the lives of several young people for the rest of their lives. Do you care?

There are people who actually care enough to address these issues and keep trying to make a difference in the lives of these kids and their parents as well. The problem is that most of the people who live and work in Winters are not aware of the magnitude of adolescent problems outside the normal growth and development issues that these kids would normally face.

It is extremely tough being an adolescent and if you can't remember those years after you have survived them yourself, then you must be pretty shallow. It is the shallow, self-centered people who are the ones who manage to stop or try to halt any progress that is made to help these at-risk kids, simply because they don't understand or try to understand that the world is rough for others too.

The people who are trying to make a difference with latch-key, adolescent parents, juveniles, the "good" kids as well as the "bad" kids, your kids, the at-risk kids, are very tired of getting "stabbed" in the back by the misunderstanding of the general public (or a selected few).

What is needed is people with opinions and energy to help make life easier for a few more kids than their own. That really is not a tough request for a town like Winters. This is a "Christian" community with people who care about the future of this community, right? Well, we will see.

The people who are working on these issues are stubborn and are not going to give up trying, but it would be so much easier with a few more "Indians" and a few less "Chiefs" to help out. Team work is terrific and our kids are terrific. They all need a chance.

Do you care? If so... say so... and then back your words with a little help... Thank you from all of the above mentioned children, plus all of those who are not...

New 800 number for Social Security

For some time now, many people have been doing their Social Security business by telephone. They find that the Social Security toll-free service is quicker and more convenient than making a trip to the office. That's why it's important that people know about the new toll-free number. It's 1-800-SSA-1213 (1-800-772-1213).

Using the 800 number service and the assistance of a teleservice representative gives you the option of conducting almost all of your Social Security business by phone.

To serve you better, SSA also offers a telephone response unit that uses prepared messages to speed the processing of certain routine requests. Using a touch-tone telephone, you can: obtain a request form for a Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement, request an application for a Social Security number, request verification of the amount of your Social Security or SSI benefit, order publications, and listen to general information about the Social Security programs.

Service on the 800 number is available weekdays from 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. But, the best times to call are early in the morning or late in the afternoon, Wednesday through Friday, after the first week of the month.

Good luck, Alina, at the cross country state meet!

Cross country team runs in regional meet

The Winters Blizzards cross country team ran into some stiff competition at the regional meet at Lubbock. They finished 8th out of 16 teams. Individual times and places are as follows:

Ramie Reyes-36th-18:06; Lance Brown-53rd-19:11; Leo Campos-60th-19:24; Vennie Reyes-61st-19:25; Andy Webb-67th-20:05; Kirk Conner-68th-20:23; Scott Kozelsky-75th-21:07.

"Although these places seem high, there were 134 runners. Again these young men are to be commended for their efforts after only two years of Cross Country competition," stated Coach Ed Henley.

7th grade Breezes tie Stamford 14-14

The 7th grade Breezes ended their season with a 14-14 tie against Stamford.

Adam Cruz caught a 24-yard pass from Arnold Silva to set up the first touchdown. Corey Van Zandt got the TD on the next play on a 1-yard run. Silva swept the right side for the two point conversion.

Trailing 14-8 in the 4th quarter, Silva intercepted a Stamford pass. Four plays later Silva tied the game on a 1-yard run. The two point conversion failed.

The previous week, the Breezes came up short against the Albany Lions by a score of 30-8. Silva got the lone score on a 56-yard run and Van Zandt added the two point conversion.

"These kids came a long way since the beginning of football season. They seemed to be out-matched in the majority of our games but always played tough. Hopefully they will grow and develop before next year. I would like to thank each and everyone of them for their hard work and dedication," stated Coach Chuck Lipsey.

The Breezes ended their season with a 3-3-2 record.

Band Notes

by Rhea Parramore

The Marching Blizzard Band participated in the Veteran's Day Parade in Abilene last Saturday. The band represented Winters with a fine performance.

On Thursday, November 14 from 3:30-5:30 the band members will be delivering the fundraiser items previously ordered. Payment for items will be turned in on Thursday, November 21. The fund raiser was a great success and the money will be used to help the band program.

Congratulations to Alina Briley for qualifying for the state cross country meet next weekend in Austin. Alina plays baritone in the Blizzard band.

Emergency medical workers tend to "accident victim", Stacey Deike, during a mock car wreck staged for Red Ribbon Week at Winters High School. Tending to Stacey are Jim Lincycumb, EMT, Paul Holman, paramedic, and Virginia Skaggs of the Winters Police Department.

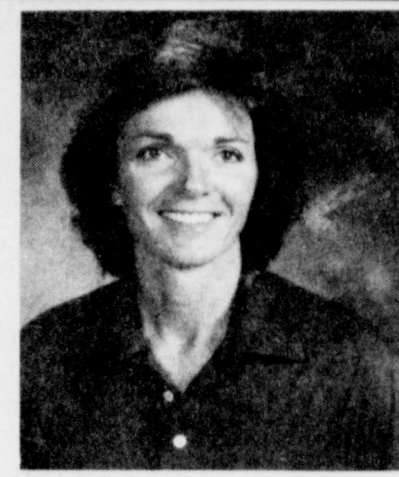

A large crowd gathered last Tuesday night at the WHS auditorium to hear Mrs. Nicki Soice, independent consultant from Wichita, Kansas, and a member of the Lieutenant Governor's TASK force. Mrs. Soice spoke on drug/alcohol/substance abuse among today's young people. She met with junior high and senior high school students during the day in conjunction with Red Ribbon Week, then spoke to concerned adults at the evening meeting. A return visit by Mrs. Soice is scheduled for February.

Crews News

by Hilda Kurtz

Many women have always been firm believers in recycling, only they call it by a different name - Garage Sales!

Our sympathy to Betty Gray and her family and other relatives due to the death of her husband, Marvin. He was buried on Friday.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to our very dear friend, Helen Brevard of Coleman, who buried her husband, S.J., Saturday in a Coleman cemetery. The Brevards once lived in our community on a ranch before retiring and moving to Coleman.

Nila and Therin Osborne have been in and out of the North Runnels Hospital; they stayed several days with their grandchildren. John was in two days with asthma and bronchitis and Stephanie had pneumonia. Both are home and doing okay.

I was sorry to hear Wesley McGallian fell and hurt his hand. I think he also broke his thumb. He was doing carpentry work on his house.

After Sunday night services at Hopewell, Brother Oscar was honored on his birthday with a surprise luncheon and presented with a gift of money.

Woman Royal Services met in the home of Harvey Mae Faubion at 9:30 a.m. Present were Nila Osborne, Netha Kerby, Eileen Prater, and Selma Dietz.

Doris Wood's nephew of Fort Worth came Thursday night. He carried Doris to the TCU and Texas A&M football game. Her sister, Louise Walters of Fort Worth, brought her home and visited for several days. Frances Mincey of Big Spring spent the weekend.

Pat and Earl Cooper were in Coleman Saturday to be with Helen Brevard and attend S.J.'s funeral services. Ray Cooper spent Saturday with them.

Gary Hill of Eastland came Wednesday and Mike Hill of Sweetwater came over the weekend. They did some odd jobs and had dinner with their mom, Claudia Hill.

Hopewell Church visitors for Sunday morning were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Connor of Glen Cove and Bro. Oscar and his two sons, John and Mark of Abilene.

Jerry and Carolyn Kraatz were in Stamford Thursday night to watch Winters and their son, Chad, win their final district ball game.

On Sunday after church services, Carolyn, Karen, Wayne, Kyle, Melinda, and Chad Kraatz enjoyed eating out at the Casa Cabana.

Relatives and friends turned up at the home of Bill and Josie Hoppe Friday night. They brought good things to eat, including four cakes, to celebrate Josie's 84th birthday. Josie's grandson, J'Dan Miller, also celebrated his birthday with Josie. Many more of these happy birthdays to you both.

Bernie Faubion carried Noble Faubion to see his doctor in San Angelo during the week. They also went by to see Carla and Lonnie Webb. While there they also got to see Lavenia and Jim Webb and Jack Webb of Dallas who were there visiting as well.

Brandon Phillips and friend Scott of Abilene came Saturday to say hello and goodbye at the Faubions.

Around 65 came on Saturday to the Baptist Church Fellowship Hall in Menard to wish Myrtle Wright a happy 80th birthday and help her celebrate. Those attending from here were Melvena, Marvin, Scott, Keith, and Sally Mae Gerhart; Laurie Kruse; Bernie Faubion; Sherri and Bryant Mikeska; and Pat and Allen Bishop.

Tammy, Justin, and Mark Kaczynk of Winters spent Sunday with Connie and Georgia Gibbs.

Ruth Pape visited her two sons, David Craig and Lee Ueckert, in Houston the first of the week. Later she and Lee headed for Tampa, Florida to see Elaine Kennedy and her husband. On Sunday some friends dropped in and they picked grapefruit. On Tuesday Elaine, Lee, and Ruth drove to Cape Canaveral and Cocoa Beach. It was amazing to see everything. On Wednesday Lee and Ruth drove to Clearwater and walked the beach. On Thursday they picked more grapefruit. On Friday, as they were coming home, they toured the World War II Battleship in Mobile, Alabama.

The next day they ate dinner with son David and spent Saturday with daughter Debbie Hom in Corsicana. Ruth had a wonderful time but is glad to be home.

After Corra Petrie had turkey and dressing dinner at the Methodist Church Sunday, she visited with Bob and Judy Holloway.

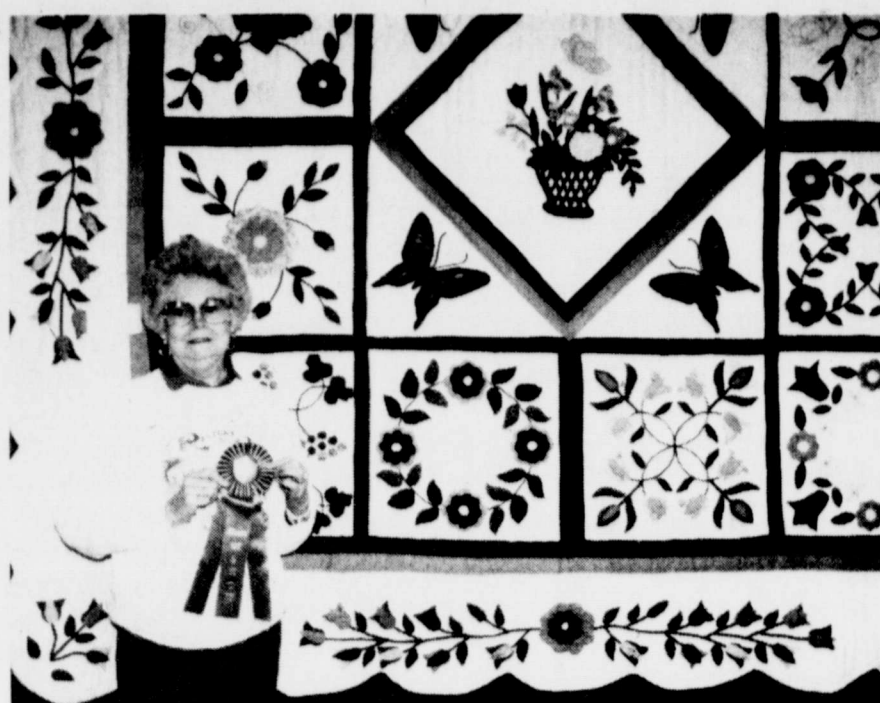

Margie Jacob had her children home on Sunday. Enjoying dinner were Brenda Jacob; Bryce and Justin Busenlehner; Beverly, Cory, and Brad Van Zandt; and Carol, Mike, Scott, and Jeanna Kozelsky. On Saturday Branda, Beverly and boys and Bryce went shopping in Abilene. Afterwards they all attended church at the Holy Family Church.

Carol Kozelsky, Beverly Van Zandt, and Margie Jacob attended the Hospice potluck supper in Abilene Monday night.

Eileen Prater picked up her coop food in Ballinger on Thursday. She and Harvey Mae ate out in Winters. On Friday, Eileen worked the Library Book Sale at the Arts and Crafts Festival.

And don't forget, the Praters killed a large rattlesnake on their backsteps; it had ten rattlers.

Dawn and Steven Bowyer of Arlington; friends of Bill and Marque Mathis, spent Friday.

Best of Show - Edna England stands before her winning entry in this year's quilt show sponsored by the Z.I. Hale Museum. The show was held in conjunction with the annual arts and crafts festival.

Between the Bookends

by Melvin Mathis, Friends of the Library

These articles come to the public as a service of The Friends of the Library of Winters Public Library. They are meant to inform, inspire and challenge. The Public Library has often been called "The Peoples' University." But those who enter its doors are not asked as to their academic credentials. This group simply requests the assistance and understanding of the public in this vital enterprise.

The advisory council is composed of Marthel Russell, Nina Hale, Jane Allcorn, Ouida Nichols, Marsha Shoemaker and Gary Moore. Serving as lay delegate to the Big Country System is Eunice Mathis with Melvin Mathis as alternate. Pauline O'Neal is Librarian and Walter Durham serves as Green Thumb Aide.

Officers of Friends of the Library are Pat Bishop, president; Eunice Mathis, vice-president; Richard Lee, secretary, also serving as reporter and Melvin Mathis, treasurer. Richard Lee has been chosen to represent this group immediately as a member of the advisory council. Another representative is to be chosen for a term beginning next April.

Hundreds of hours of volunteer effort have been expended the last eight weeks in revamping the Library to meet the high standards of the Big Country Library System. Friends of the Library invite others to assist, even if only for an hour or two at a time.

Patrons are asked to sign up for cards with their name and a number assigned, for checking out books. The Library no longer charges membership dues, but donations are certainly welcome.

Five cents per day for overtime books will be charged beginning November 18. Until then, the Library has an AMNESTY PERIOD. Patrons are asked to please bring in all of your overdue books. No charge will be made.

JIM BOWIE'S OTHER FIGHT...

Alamo hero, Jim Bowie, had a close scrape in 1831 when he and 10 other Texans were attacked by Tejuacana and Caddo Indians. Outnumbered with 15 to 1, the Texans dug in to fight. After an all-day battle, with half their forces dead, the Indians withdrew. In 1836, Bowie wasn't so lucky. Outnumbered 27 to 1 by Santa Anna's forces, 181 Texans died at the Alamo.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR WASTE DISCHARGE PERMIT RENEWAL

CITY OF WINTERS, 310 S. Main, Winters, Texas 79567 has applied to the Texas Water Commission for renewal of Permit No. 10320-01 which authorizes a discharge of treated domestic wastewater effluent at a volume not to exceed an average flow of 320,000 gallons per day. The permit also authorizes treated effluent to be used to irrigate city-owned land at an application rate of not to exceed 3.65 acre-feet/acre/year. The wastewater treatment facilities are approximately 5600 feet east of and 2900 feet south of the intersection of Farm-to-Market Road 53 and U.S. Highway 83, southeast of the City of Winters in Runnels County, Texas. The effluent is discharged into Bluff Creek; thence to Elm Creek; thence to the Colorado River in Segment No. 1426 of the Colorado River Basin.

In accordance with the Texas Surface Water Quality Standards, the Commission staff must determine the existing uses for the receiving water in the area of the proposed discharge and whether the proposed discharge will cause significant degradation to any high quality waters in the area. The unclassified receiving waters of Bluff Creek have limited aquatic life uses. The designated uses for Segment No. 1426 are contact recreation, high quality aquatic habitat and public water supply. The effluent limitations in the draft permit will maintain and protect the existing instream uses. All determinations are preliminary and subject to additional review and/or revision.

The Executive Director of the Texas Water Commission has prepared a draft permit which, if approved by the Commission, will enforce more stringent effluent limitations and requirements in order to meet existing applicable rules and regulations. It is proposed that the expiration date of the renewed permit be specified as midnight, five years after date of Commission approval.

Legal Authority: Section 26.028 of the Texas Water Code and 31 TAC Chapter 305 of the Rules of the Texas Water Commission.

No public hearing will be held on this application unless an affected person who has received notice of the application has requested a public hearing. Any such request for a public hearing shall be in writing and contain (1) the name, mailing address and daytime phone number of the person making the request; and (2) a brief description of how the requester, or persons represented by the requester, would be adversely affected by the granting of the application. If the Commission determines that the request sets out an issue which is relevant to the application, or that a public hearing, would serve the public interest, the Commission shall conduct a public hearing, after the issuance of proper and timely notice of the hearing. If no sufficient request for hearing is received within 30 days of the date of publication of the notice concerning the application, the permit will be submitted to the Commission for final decision on the application. Requests for a public hearing on this application should be submitted in writing to Christopher Gee, Assistant Chief Hearings Examiner, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512) 464-8061. Information concerning any technical aspect of this application can be obtained by writing Phillip Urbany, Wastewater Permits Section, Texas Water Commission, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711, Telephone (512) 463-8201.

Issued this 4th day of November, 1991.

VETERINARY UPDATE

by Jimmy Smith, DVM

Winterize your livestock

We've had a lot of calls this past week about the affect of the freeze on haygrazer and milo stubble. Remember that any kind of stress on any member of the sorghum family (this includes haygrazer, milo, Johnsongrass, and sudangrass) will stimulate the production of Prussic acid. Prussic acid is changed in the rumen of cattle and sheep into hydrocyanic acid or cyanide.

When newly frosted sorghums are eaten by sheep or cattle, they may contain a toxic amount of Prussic acid. This Prussic acid is a very unstable compound and it breaks down rapidly. Usually by the time the stalk is dry enough to crack when it is bent, all of the Prussic acid is decomposed and the forage is safe for the animals to consume. Coastal is not in any danger of causing Prussic acid poisoning because it is not a member of the sorghum family.

Now is the time to winterize your water supply and shelter for your livestock and pets. Although winter water consumption rates will likely go down as compared to summertime consumption, nonetheless an adequate supply of fresh water is necessary for both pets and livestock as well. Pigs are especially sensitive to water deprivation.

Lack of water to hogs causes central nervous system changes due to an imbalance in the sodium:water ratio in the brain. Death usually results so be sure to keep out an adequate supply of fresh water at all times.

Shelter is also important. A windbreak is usually all that is necessary for cattle, but fall and wintertime lambing and kidding may require barns. Pets kept outside require a tight, well-bedded shelter in order to stay warm.

I suggest that you do not use heat lamps or heating pads as external sources of heat for pets if at all possible. Electrical shorts or overheating may cause a fire. Usually a nice cozy shelter with bedding will suffice.

Now that we've had a good hard freeze it is a good idea to get on with the fall worming program with horses, cattle, sheep and goats. When worming your horses, be sure and use a wormer that will kill bots. The cold weather will greatly discourage further botfly activity, so you can worm for them now, and not have to worry about reinfestation for awhile.

Cattle, sheep, and goats all fall into just about the same category right now. Our main concern with the ruminants is the removal of the stomachworm, which greatly interferes with growth and production, especially in sheep and goats. The advent of cold weather stimulates the stomachworm to digress into a physiological state of activity known as hypobiosis.

During this state of hypobiosis, the adult stomach worm sheds very few if any eggs. This combined with the fact that only the hardest worm eggs already on the pasture will survive the winter make it an ideal time to practice optimum internal parasite control.

Now is also a good time to practice lice control on your cattle. Lice infestations usually don't show up clinically until January and February, but by then all of the damage is done and it's too late to do anything about.

What you will see if your cattle have lice will be a great amount of hair loss as they rub on anything that won't move, trying to scratch the itching spots that are caused by the lice. We have some of our worst weather during late winter so to maintain a good haircoat is important. Control lice now while you can do some good. Several insecticides are available in both pour-on and spray concentrations. Be sure to read directions before using. Some are not approved for use on bulls. The male testosterone, found in the bull's body, potentiates the affect of some insecticides, thereby making them more poisonous to bulls.

Wildlife packets, which consists of 100 trees in four different species, are available in four types: quail and pheasant, squirrel, turkey and deer. These packets contain species that are beneficial to wildlife habitat and nutrition and

The Windbreak Tree Program will conclude on February 13 with the seedlings arriving at the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) office in Ballinger on February 19, 1992.

Runnels Soil Conservation News and Notes

Windbreak Trees Available Through RSWCD

by Don Haley

A well-planned and cared for windbreak can offer many benefits to the homeowner. Among these advantages are protection for the home, farm buildings, livestock and fields from hot, dry summer winds and the icy, cold winds of winter. These trees also add beauty, color and value to the homestead.

With that concept in mind, the Runnels Soil and Water Conservation District is again offering quality evergreen and hardwood seedlings for sale to area residents through the annual Windbreak Tree Program.

Evergreen pine seedlings, 12-inches in height, may be purchased in multiples of 20 (20, 40, 60 etc.) for $30.00 per 20 trees. Available species are Afghanistan Pine, Austrian Pine and Red Cedar. Bullet pines, having the same height but smaller root volumes, are available in the Afghanistan Pine variety for $20.00 per 20 trees.

Hardwoods, approximately 24-inches in height, can be purchased in multiples of 25 (25, 50, 75 etc.) for $15.00 per 25 trees. Available species include Native Plum, Catalpa, Cottonwood, Desert Willow, Green Ash, Honeylocust, Osage Orange, Pecan, Red Oak, Russian Olive, Sandcherry, Walnut, Skunkbush Sumac and Nanking Cherry.

Card of Thanks

To those people who helped during Mary Shields' long illness and those who were there after her death, we say thank you.

To the staff of North Runnels Hospital for your kindness; for the cards, flowers, and food, thanks.

The kindness and generosity of a small community means more than most people realize.

are available for $40.00 per packet.

Please consider ordering early so that your trees may be reserved for you before stocks are depleted. The Windbreak Tree Program will conclude on February 13 with the seedlings arriving at the Soil Conservation Service (SCS) office in Ballinger on February 19, 1992.

So far this year, 25 area residents have purchased some 1600 windbreak tree seedlings for planting this spring. Over the past three years, 174 residents have purchased and planted almost 11,000 evergreen and hardwood seedlings through the program. So join with your neighbors and help "break" the force of erosive winds by ordering and planting windbreak trees.

Technical assistance in the planning and planting of your windbreak is available to make your tree planting project a success. For more information on this year's Windbreak Tree Program, please come by the SCS office in Ballinger or call 365-3415.
