COMMITTEE IS HOPEFUL OF NEW BILL

COMPROMISE SEEN AS GROUP CHOSEN TO DRAFT MEASURE

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 11. — A free conference committee of the Texas legislature trying to work out a composite oil conservation bill satisfactory to the administration and to its opponents, reported today that hope of success was high within its membership.

At 9:30 a. m. the committee met, organized and went immediately into executive session, excluding newspaper men and all others save members of the committee.

Fifteen minutes after the main committee organized, a sub-committee to draft the proposed new bill was appointed, two of its members being administration proponents and two being opponents. The fact that action was taken so soon, together with statements of members of the man committee, led to belief a compromise was in sight.

The sub-committee was instructed to report to the conference committee of the whole at 2 p. m.

Representative A. P. C. Petsch of Fredericksburg, an administration leader, emerging from the executive conference, said:

There is every indication the subcommittee will get together and work something out suitable to all hands. Everybody is in a good humor and ready to get down to business."

AMERICAN AIRMAN IS STILL MISSING ON NORWAY FLIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, Aug. 11.—Parker Cramer, American airman, and his radio operator, lost since Sunday on a flight between the Shetland islands and Copenhagen, still were missing today and hope for their safety waned.

Danish authorities were of the opinion they might have come down to a forced landing on the waves and been blown out to sea by a storm which has been raging over the North sea for several days. The regular air mail service over that stetch has been suspended because of the weather.

Captain Riis Larsen, Arctic flier, said they might have been forced far to the south by the storm and drifted out to open sea where it would be difficult to locate them. The water was reported to be choppy and the wind high.

A squadron of Danish seaplanes, aided by several vessels, searched the Kattegat from the southern tip of Norway to Copenhagen yesterday and another flotilla of Norwegian planes scanned the Skargaard sea from Oslo to Bergen, but no clues were found.

DISCONTINUE PHONES

SILVERTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—With the city and telephone company at loggerheads over rates, most of the business telephones in this city have been discontinued. It was expected that the fight might result in a temporary shutdown of the local exchange.

PLAN DEFENSE OF ESTIMATE ON COTTON

AGRICULTURAL DEPT. SAYS THAT REPORT IS ACCURATE

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The agriculture department today was prepared to defend its estimate of 15,584,000 bales for the 1931 cotton crop, which has been termed too high by some cotton traders.

Trade estimates were about 1,500,000 bales less on the bases of August 1 condition. Reports that the government's forecast had been questioned by traders also reached the farm board. It was made clear that the board was surprised at the large estimate issued Saturday.

Sure of Accuracy

"I am confident," W. P. Callander, of the department's crop reporting board, said, "that our estimate will be found to be reasonably accurate."

The August 1 forecast is the first of the season on the new crop. It is based on probable conditions, including weather, moisture and insect prevalence. Should drouth develop during the succeeding months, for instance, the prospective yield is consequently altered.

Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, telegraphed Secretary Hyde yesterday, asking that all the records of last Saturday's report be preserved for a "thorough investigation." A memorandum has been prepared for the secretary by Callander.

REDISTRICTING NEAR SOLUTION

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—Congressional redistricting moved a step nearer accomplishment in the Texas legislature today, but its chances remained slim, due to the fact the session ends tomorrow.

The senate passed the Greer bill, which would give East Texas, West Texas and South Texas new districts, under the increase in population entitling the state to three new congressmen. It refused, however, to take up the Puzl bill to provide that in event there was no redistricting, each candidate for congressman-at-large would be required to elect the place he sought—1, 2 or 3—and thus enter a run-off if he failed of a clear majority.

Man And Estranged Wife Found Slain

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Bullets in their hearts, Frank Lejnen and his 25 year old wife, Mary Moreno Lejnen, who had been estranged in life, were found dead by police here today in a little one room shack.

Two children of the wife by a former marriage were awakened from their sleep in an adjoining house by the shots.

Notes found in the house by police from Lejnen to his wife, lamented their estrangement. Letters from three children of Lejnen by a former marriage, pleading for their father to come back to his home in New Orleans, were also found by police.

Negro Who Escaped From Raiders Found

Following his escape from raiders at Slaton, Saturday night, Willie Davis, a negro, was arrested Monday at Slaton by a deputy sheriff, the sheriff's office here reported.

A charge of possession of beer for purpose of sale was filed against Davis in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court. The negro waived examining trial, his bond being fixed at $500 pending consideration of his case by a September grand jury.

The sheriff's department made three raids at Slaton, Saturday night, arresting a negro woman who now faces a beer possession charge. About 65 bottles of beer, including about 25 on ice in a keg, were confiscated at a place operated by Davis, a deputy sheriff said.

"Murray For President" Rumors Are Circulated

OFFERED TO FINANCE THE CAMPAIGN FOR "ALFALFA BILL"

(By Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 11—The Oklahoma City Times says C. A. Owens, chairman of Governor Murray's former oil and gas legislation committee, asserted today he was the representative who proposed to finance pre-convention campaign expenses of Governor William H. Murray for the presidency.

The Times quotes Owens as saying the "estimated budget" was $250,000, of which $150,000 would have been used the first 12 months dating from last March.

"Expected Nothing"

"Neither I nor my principal was to expect anything from Mr. Murray as governor," said Owens. He did not name his "principal."

Recently Governor Murray said he was offered a total of $138,000 as campaign funds during last spring's legislative session if he would become a presidential candidate. He said the offer was made by interests desiring to control his attitude on the proration of oil.

"While various conferences were held in which the governor seemed interested, the proposed arrangements were not consummated," Owens said today. "I may have been that the governor was influenced in his analysis by his knowledge of my conviction on the oil question; however, he never so advised me."

"Proration didn't have a thing to do with it," said Owens, concerning the outcome of the negotiations. "It was just like putting money on a horse race. If something happened to show you the horse didn't have a chance you wouldn't put

Newton Yarberry Is Indicted In Murder

SINTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—Newton Yarberry was indicted by the San Patricio county grand jury on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Miss Dorothy Doris Symons, 18, whose body was found Aug. 1 in a grave of mud and seaweed near the Aransas Pass breakwater.

Sheriff S. F. Hunt arrested Yarberry at Corpus Christi. Bond had not been set today.

The grand jury exonerated Tom Conner, who had also been charged with murder in connection with the choir singer's death.

BUTTON GAME PROVES GOVERNOR FAVORED ONCE BEFORE

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 11—The little "Murray for President" button they talked about in Chicago last week was explained by Carlton Weaver, speaker of the Oklahoma house, as not necessarily making a presidential candidate. "Now," says the Oklahoma City Times, "another button has dropped out of the past to recall what a will-o-the-wisp this game can be."

It's about the size of a dollar and between the photographs of two men it says: Bryan and Murray—1908."

The biography and historical sketches of Governor William H. Murray don't mention it and some say it was a premature vice-presidential boom that got no further

SANS SUSPENDERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—The first day in his life, says Governor Murray, that he left his suspenders at home, some out-of-town visitors called at the executive offices.

"There it goes," he said, as a Chicago caller appeared. He extended one hand to the visitor; the other clutched his trousers.

"Just the day you come here I wouldn't have on my suspenders. I changed from my cotton suit this morning and I wouldn't bother to unhitch them from the other pair."

BODIES FOUND IN A BURNED AUTO TODAY

TWO OF VICTIMS IN MICHIGAN SLAYINGS BELIEVED WOMEN

(By Associated Press)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Aug. 11.—Bodies of four persons, all believed to have been slain, were found burned in an automobile on the road marking the Wayne-Washtenaw county line near Willis early today.

The victims were tentatively identified as: Thomas Wheatley, 16, of near Denton; Harry Lore, also about 16, of Ypsilanti; Vivian Gould and Anna Harris.

Miss Gould and Miss Harris, both of Cleveland were visiting at the Lore home in Ypsilanti.

The car belonged to Mr. Wheatley.

The boys left home Monday night to attend a show in Ypsilanti, Wheatley said. It was not determined where they had met the two girls.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS AMONG TROOP OF MONKEYS MAY LEAD TO A CURE

BY F. B. COLTON
(Associated Press Science Writer)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. (AP)—An artificially produced epidemic of infantile paralysis among a troop of monkeys at the National Institute of Health may lead to curing the disease in humans.

If a method can be found to cure or prevent the disease in monkeys, scientists of the institute explain, the chances are excellent for curing or preventing it in human beings and for ending outbreaks such as the one existing in New York City. The institute is part of the United States Public Health service.

Monkeys are used in the institute's experimental epidemic because they react to an infantile paralysis infection nearly the same as humans. Experimental vaccines are given to healthy monkeys to see if they will prevent the animals from contracting the disease.

Lindy And Anne Forced Down As Fog Hides Nome

FLIERS FALL SHORT OF GOAL BUT PLAN TO CONTINUE

(By Associated Press)

NOME, Alaska, Aug. 11.—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh landed on the north coast of the Seward peninsula about 11 p. m., last night (4 a. m., Central Standard time today), after leaving Point Barrow at 11:53 p. m. Eastern Standard time.

Messages received here did not give the exact location of the landing place but indicated it was somewhere on Kotzebue sound. Hence the flying couple fell short of Nome, their immediate destination, about 75 miles. Nome is on the south coast of the Seward peninsula.

Advices said the Lindberghs planned to come here in the day light.

Contact was made with the Lindbergh ship at about 10 p. m. and the radio station here was asked by Mrs. Lindbergh to have flares and bonfiers ready on the beach for a landing around midnight.

The landing evidently was made when heavy fog enveloped the district over which they were flying, causing the famous pair to change their plans.

Lindberghs left Point Barrow last night after weather reports here indicated clearing skies and the end of rain which had been falling for two days.

About two hours after they left Point Barrow on the 523-mile hop to this town, fog began to settle here.

Fog Is Blamed

Although first information did not give the cause of the landing, it was believed here that the fog had extended up the coast and they came down rather than risk coming into a heavier bank later.

Within an hour after the flying colonel lifted his trim ship from the lagoon at Point Barrow, leaving behind the most northerly point on their tour to the Orient, he was reported passing over the coast guard cutter Northland at Wainright, 80 miles southwest of Point Barrow.

At about the same time Mrs. Lindbergh messaged from the plane that all was "okeh."

The cutter, bound for Point Bar-

SUBMARINE IS DISABLED IN ARCTIC SEA

NAUTILUS AGAIN HAS ENGINE TROUBLE AND IS ADRIFT

(By The Associated Press)

TROMSIE, Norway, Aug. 11—The submarine Nautilus, in which Sir Hubert Wilkins set out to reach the north pole under the ice, today was reported adrift in the Arctic seas with engine trouble.

The report said the mechanical difficulty was of a nature which could not be repaired by the crew.

The trouble developed soon after the submarine left Tromsie yesterday for Spitzbergen.

Sir Hubert Wilkins set off across the Atlantic for Provincetown, Mass., in the submarine Nautilus on June 3. Ten days later she was disabled at sea when her engines failed. The battleship Wyoming took her in tow to Ireland, and on June 22 she reached Cobh, continuing from there to Plymouth where repairs were made.

She went on to Bergen, Norway, on July 28. Additional repairs were made there, and last Wednesday she sailed from Bergen for Tromsie, continuing her northward voyage yesterday for Spitzbergen.

The difficulties she encountered necessitated abandonment of a plan for meeting the Graf Zeppelin at the pole.

A motorboat has put out from Tromsoe to offer assistance, for the Nautilus is north of this port at a point where the current is strong and the sound narrow, giving rise to fears she might be driven ashore.

GREENVILLE, Aug. 11.—Joe S. West, 77, pioneer Hunt county farmer living five miles east of Royse City, was shot and instantly killed early today by a burglar who had forced his way into the house through a window.

NEGRO CONFESSES

ROCKWALL, Aug. 11 (AP)—James Williams, 24-year-old negro, confessed to Rockwell and Hunt county officers here today that he killed Joe S. West, 77, at Royse City while in the act of burglarizing the West home shortly after midnight.

The assailant fled through a door. Mrs. West told officers she was positive the man was a negro who worked for them until a few months ago.

Hunt county officers were notified and started in pursuit of the man. At 9 a. m. today, a negro hiding in wooded thickets on the borderline of Hunt and Rockwall counties was arrested and officers hurriedly started for Dallas with him, fearing mob action.

The negro was arrested by Sheriff Earl Hall of Rockwall county, who found him working in a yard here later in the morning, as though nothing had happened. West's pistol, from which one bullet had been discharged, was found in the negro's home and West's pocketbook was discovered in his possession.

GOVERNMENT SEEKING TO FRUSTRATE REVOLUTION

(By The Associated Press)

HAVANA, Aug. 11.—All Cuba was in the grip of martial law today and strict censorship prevailed as the government struggled to put down a revolutionary movement which was spreading throughout the island.

President Gerardo Machado, acting on the authority granted him by congress, suspended constitutional privileges in all the provinces, signing a decree which recognized that the situation was serious.

"Political elements hostile to the government, in accord with enemies of the present social system," he said, "have lent greater activity to their campaign against the public peace, realizing in various sections acts of rebellion of armed forces in frank revolutionary attitude."

A clash between government troops and rebels was reported to be imminent in the Guanabacoa section on the outskirts of Havana where the loyalists had surrounded a band of insurgents and were preparing to attack.

Nine revolutionists and one rural guard officer were believed to have been killed and six others wounded in a sharp engagement in Guanabacoa last night.

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Daily Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

NERVES

The other day a mother from a distant city came in to see me about her child of sixteen months. Said she: "My baby takes a nap every afternoon on the davenport but he will not go to sleep unless I sit beside him and hold his hand." Then she added, "Don't you think that he will grow out of this habit when he is old enough to be reasoned with?"

"Not very likely to do so," I replied. "Why should he chose to give up something which gives him so much satisfaction?"

"Shall I let him cry?" she asked.

"Of course."

"But once I did and he screamed for three-quarters of an hour. I feared it would make him nervous and I just could not stand it to hear him."

There was her chief difficulty. She got nervous. Most children are spoiled because their parents can't control themselves.

"Don't you see, Mother," I continued, "that when you gave in to him after he had worked so hard you made it all the worse for him? Don't let him cry if you are going to do eventually what he wants you to do. That is not fair to him. In the first place, you should count the cost, see the thing through in your imagination, and know whether you have the stuff to carry it out."

"As for his getting nervous, suppose he does. Won't he get more nervous, by and by, when this bad habit must be broken? You certainly are not going to sit by him all his life, putting him to sleep. Besides he will make more demands on you, giving you no end of trouble by and by, and keep himself a baby always."

"Yes, but when he gets a little older I can reason with him," she insisted.

"Well, he is your baby. Do as you like. You will, anyway. But if you are looking for advice let me tell you that by the time he is old enough to be persuaded to go to sleep without you and that sleep is valuable for his health and happiness, he will have tied himself to you so tightly that he will not be ready to respond to reason."

"If I were you, as soon as he knows that you will not sit by him and hold his hand when he lies down, I should put him in his regular bed for the afternoon nap and, after all the necessary routine had ended, I should leave him, after announcing that I was not coming back. Then if I had character enough, I should make my word good."

Many a mother fools herself to believe that all will work out well when her child "is old enough to reason." By that time he will have learned so many bad habits that he rarely will be reasonable about such trying matters as we have described.

What you don't want your child at three or five or fifteen to command you to do, don't let him make you do when he is a few months old. If you don't want to continue to lie down beside your child or stay by him while he goes to bed; if you don't want to continue to rock your child to sleep, or to carry him about in the middle of the night, don't start doing it. Put not your trust in Baby's reasoning by and by. Put it in your reasoning now. Use simple common sense.

If you suddenly discover you have already spoiled your child by such foolishness, stop it. The longer you continue the more costly to you and the child will be the cure.

Mrs. Coolidge Sponsors Shorn Hair

BY SUE McNAMARA

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bobbed hair has taken a sudden leap forward in popularity since news came to the capital that Mrs. Calvin Coolidge has had her long black locks cut.

Mrs. Coolidge

When a society reporter announced that the former First Lady was seen around Plymouth, Vt. wearing a becoming bob, tea tables of the capital began buzzing animatedly in spite of the heat.

Grace Coolidge is a colorful personality in whom Washington is still much interested despite her absence of nearly three years. Her gracious manner and her gay costumes left a pleasant memory here.

So, when she bobs her hair, it is a matter of first importance — to the capital women, at least.

Friends say Mrs. Coolidge kept her hair long in deference to Calvin Coolidge's wishes, and that if it is short now it is because the former president has changed his mind.

Mrs. Coolidge has always taken scrupulous care of her hair, and while living in the White House patronized a local hairdresser for weekly shampoos.

When the summer White House was established in the Black Hills, a Denver hairdresser wrote Mrs. Coolidge seeking her patronage. The hair dresser planned to spend the summer in Rapid City.

Mrs. Coolidge promptly accepted the offer and every week a White House car drove the 30 miles from the game lodge to Rapid City, bringing the hairdresser down to the lodge to give the First Lady a shampoo.

Mrs. Coolidge's new bob is said to be conservative, not altering her usual appearance except in the back, where there is now a sleek trim neck line in place of coiled braids.

TAX RATE FOR COUNTY SAME

NO CHANGE WILL BE MADE IN SPITE OF BIG CONTRACTS

Although new contracts for county works total more than half a million dollars and property assessments have decreased, Lubbock county's tax rate for the 1931 fiscal year will be the same as in 1930—72 cents on $100 assessed valuation.

County Judge E. L. Pitts announced that Monday night following an all-day session of County Commissioners court.

The levy includes allowances for all county expenses, such as general fund, courthouse, jail, library, parks and various sinking funds, the county judge said.

Prospects are Listed

New highway construction, amounting to more than $350,000 and the new jail, for which $140,000 in warrants was issued, keeps Lubbock county from having this year one of the lowest tax rates in the state, he said. Included in the highway projects figured in the 1931 budget and cared for by the 72-cent tax rate are paving jobs on Highways Nos. 7, 137 and 9, commonly known as the College avenue and Nineteenth street projects.

The present levy in force last year and again this year is the lowest Lubbock county has had in several years, county officials declared. In 1927 the rate was 80 cents; 1928, 80 cents plus 10-cents, road district tax for a part of the county; 1929, 71 cents plus 10-cent road district tax.

Bonds Retired

The road district bonds, used to finance the paving of the Lubbock-Slaton portion of Highway No. 9, were retired last year with a part of the $1,000,000 road bond issue voted by the county.

Property listed on the 1931 tax rolls aggregates in assessed value about $24,940,000, or about $200,000 less than the total for 1930, the tax assessor reported to the commissioners' court.

Revenue Estimated

The above figure gives the county expected revenue of about $319,280 for the year, it was said. This does not include deductions for delinquent tax payments.

The court also made the customary poll tax assessment of 25 cents for each voter in the county, as allowed by law. The state poll tax is $1.50 per person.

Levies for the five common school districts in the county, districts Nos. 1, 2, 3, 6 and 30, were made by the court. All five were allowed the maximum of $1 on the $100 assessed valuation at the request of their trustees, Judge Pitts said.

DEVOUT INDIANS DANCE AND PRAY TO WEIRD ACCOMPANIMENT OF OLD TUNES

EL PASO, Aug. 11. (AP)—To the weird accompaniment of ancient tunes, Devout Indians, gathered from over the Rio Grande valley, danced the matachines dance at San Lorenzo, south of Juarez in Mexico yesterday.

For a background they had the mission of St. Ignatius, young as missions in this country go, the original mission, hundred of years old, having been destroyed, with priceless furnishings, in the great flood of 1870.

Dance Starts Early

Early in the morning they began the dance, withered old men, wrinkled old women, shuffling back and forth in mysterious rhythm, keeping up a Christian ceremony engrafted on custom handled down from Aztec forefathers.

As the widow gave her mite, they gave their labors, a votive offering to the St. Laurence who aids the poor, the sick and the needy. While they danced, they prayed, perhaps for starving children, perhaps for some one ill, voiceless prayers, revealed only by moving lips.

Each dancer bore a painted gourd partially filled with rocks and sand which he shook in time to the music. Each wore an Indian costume he had made with much effort for himself. Save for the shuffling of feet, the scraping of the music and the rattle of the gourds, there were no sounds.

A big man dressed in red calico bedecked with row upon row of fringe, glittering with small beads and bits of polished mirrors, shook with the violence of his dancing. A white panama hat shaded his quivering cheeks. But no one laughed, or felt like laughing.

From early dawn until evening fell, they danced and danced, and then rested, exhausted, on the ground nearby. Asked if they thought their prayers would be answered, they replied with faith:

"If it be God's will and for the good of my soul."

Three Army Fliers Parachute Safely

HONOLULU, Aug. 11 (AP)—Three army aviators parachuted safely to earth Monday when two airplanes became disabled over the Waianae mountains, behind Schofield barracks, near here.

Lieut. Weldon E. Rhoades leaped after his single-seater pursuit plane went into a tailspin.

Second Lieut. Donald E. Meade of the air corps reserve, whose home is at Hays, Kas., and Private James D. Coons, Carlisle, Penna., leaped from a disabled bomber. Neither was injured.

SHED DESTROYED

LAREDO, Aug. 11 (AP)—In one of the most spectacular blazes seen here in years the Texas Mexican shipping shed was destroyed by flames last night. Damage was estimated at $4,000. The shed contained several hundred bales of sorghum and hay and farm equipment belonging to J. Blake Alexander. Origin of the fire was thought due to hay combustion.

LICENSE FEES SUIT FILED

BEXAR TAX COLLECTOR RESTRAINED FROM GIVING UP FEES

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 11. —(AP)—Special Judge Perry S. Robertson of the 73rd district court issued a temporary order restraining Maury Maverick, county tax collector, from turning over to the state highway commission any automobile license fees under the present distribution plan until after the hearing of a suit filed Monday by County Attorney D. F. Davis.

Judge Robertson set the case down for hearing on August 20, at which time Maverick probably will be represented by an assistant attorney general.

The suit was brought at the direction of the county commissioner's court.

Davis sets out in his petition that the county will receive not more than $175,000 a year for its road and bridge fund from license fee collections under the present plan.

The contention is that "special privilege is given to 195 counties of the state," by allowing them to retain all the license money collected by them and only requiring five counties to remit surpluses to the state after the $175,000 is received.

Davis sets out that the present apportionment "deprives Bexar county and its automobile owners of the equal protection guaranteed by the law" and that "said law is wholly discriminatory."

It is set out that only five counties, Bexas, Dallas, Harris, Tarrant, and Jefferson, pay to the state highway department in excess of $50,000 from license fees, together with 50 per cent of the remainder up to $175,000.

"TOASTING" expels SHEEP-DIP BASE naturally
(Black, biting, harsh irritant chemicals) present in every tobacco leaf

"They're out—so they can't be in!"

The finest tobacco quality plus throat protection.

Every LUCKY STRIKE is made of the finest tobacco leaves the world can offer—the finest from Turkey—the finest from Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia, Georgia and the Carolinas—the Cream of many Crops throughout the world. But all tobacco leaves, regardless of price and kind, as nature produces them, contain harsh irritants. LUCKY STRIKE'S exclusive "TOASTING" Process—a process that mellows, that purifies, that includes the use of the modern Ultra Violet Ray—expels certain harsh irritants naturally present in every tobacco leaf. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds, who use them as a base in making sheep-dip*, as well as a powerful spraying solution for fruits, flowers and shrubs—enough to permit the daily dipping of over 50,000 sheep or the daily spraying of many thousands of trees. Thus, you are sure these irritants, naturally present in all tobacco leaves, are not in your LUCKY STRIKE. "They're out—so they can't be in!" No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

ENTERTAINMENT SCHEDULED FOR VISITING COACHES THIS WEEK

DEAN AND WYATT TO HURL PLAY-OFF

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

The Tech coaching school took on new life and a new meaning Monday morning when Jimmy Phelan of the University of Washington stepped onto the professorial platform to take charge of the football work. Not that the pupils were getting tired of Wallace Wade, for the latter did a week of fine work and was well liked by the more than 300 coaches here.

Phelan is an altogether different type of man and instructor from the slower, easier going Duke University mentor. He took charge with a bang yesterday, expressed his appreciation at being present and, totally unlike Wade, made his debut by stating that arguments and questions were not only wanted but were necessary for a successful school. Wade, in his first address, made it plain that he wanted no arguments, and he was right so far as his reasoning went. They're both fine men, fine coaches and the difference in style will tend to make the school even more successful.

The dynamic University of Washington coach, who learned his football under the greatest instructor and coach ever to grace a gridiron, Knute Rockne of Notre Dame, took hold yesterday in a great way. He was enthusiastically greeted and at the intermission and following the first address in the morning the old gym rang with compliments to him. Yesterday afternoon on Matador field he used uniformed athletes of high type in practical demonstrations and again his marked style, contrasting with that of the older and more coach-experienced Wade was highly effective.

These lads attending the school who once high-tailed over the Kangaroo court-yards of Austin College have been looking askance at us since we printed the names of the Baylor boys here this and last week and one or two have openly challenged our statement that Baylor ranked second in the number of representative men at the coaching school. Some of them want their names listed to prove the point, but some of them do not and there you are. Anyway they got together long enough for Fotografer Brown to snap a picture the other day. Sure is cute. But back to the challenge. We did not name all of the former Baylor men, and if some nice, obliging ex-Kangaroo will count them he may use his own comparison.

Every school in the Southwest Conference, except the University of Arkansas, seems to be represented at the coaching school. There may be someone from Fayetteville but we haven't been introduced. Jack Meagher of Rice, Clyde Littlefield of the University of Texas and Matty Bell of A. & M. are the head coaches already here. Ray Morrison has promised to be here this week. Morley Jennings of Baylor couldn't make it due to illness in the family but Bochey Koch represents the Baylor coaching staff.

Uncle Jake, alias Oswin K. King, one of Dallas' leading sporting scriveners, has become a publisher, as most sport sheet fans know. In Number 17 of Volume 1, Uncle Jake carries a two-column story about football prospects at Texas Tech this year and a picture of Coach Pete Cawthon. The picture is good. The story has a Lubbock date line and must not be a chamber of commerce contribution because it does not say that Tech will win every game on the 131 schedule and that it is the best team in the state, conference or non-conference. It says that Captain Jack Durham may be shifted from his regular position at center to a guard post, and that is news to us.

With so much good guard material coming up from the freshman ranks, together with one or two leftovers from the varsity ranks of last year it hardly seems likely that time would be spent making a guard out of a first class snapper-back. Captain Durham may not play the full season at center, but hardly because he will be playing guard. It will be because some mighty husky sophomore centers will be coming up to give the Matador captain something to worry about.

* * *

Rice Institute rates a front page story and a much longer one in Uncle Jake's sheet. To hear Dr. Gaylord Johnson, business manager of athletics at the Owl institution, tell it to Dick Bowles, who wrote the story, the Owls will win every game on the schedule and the Southwest Conference pennant is already being reserved a space overlooking Rice Field. About all we can say to that is that the pennant will have plenty of room to change with the wind without becoming tangled in other champ-

JIMMY PHELAN TAKES OVER CLASSES

WASHINGTON MENTOR INSTRUCTING OVER 300 IN SCHOOL

A watermelon feast tonight opens a series of nightly entertainments for coaches and their wives attending the Texas Tech coaching school, which swung into its second week yesterday morning. Tomorrow night the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will be host to the 300 or more visiting coaches at a special banquet, and a farewell dance is slated for Thursday night. No farewells will be exchanged, however, before Saturday, the closing day of the school.

Jimmy Phelan, flashy head coach of the University of Washington, took charge of the school yesterday morning with a lecture of two hours' duration that covered a multitude of defensive plays, and followed up with a two-hour period of practical work on Matador Field yesterday afternoon. Again this morning, he lectured at the gymnasium, holding the undivided attention of the big school as he illustrated various points by the use of a blackboard.

System Different

Phelan, former star athlete at Notre Dame university under the late Knute Rockne, and considered by Rockne as one of the best backs to play at the Irish school, introduced a style and system of teaching and of football so entirely different from that of Wallace Wade of Duke University last week that the contrast promises to be one of the most important parts of the school.

Both coaches have advanced systems and arguments worthy of hearing, if the composite attitude of the coaches attending the school is an indication, but they are unlike each other.

S. D. Burton of West Texas State Teachers college and Chuck Taylor of Chicago will have charge of basketball this week, the sessions being held in the afternoons between 3 and 5 o'clock. Jimmie Kitts of Athens High school practically completed his work last week.

TERRACES CREATE A FARM

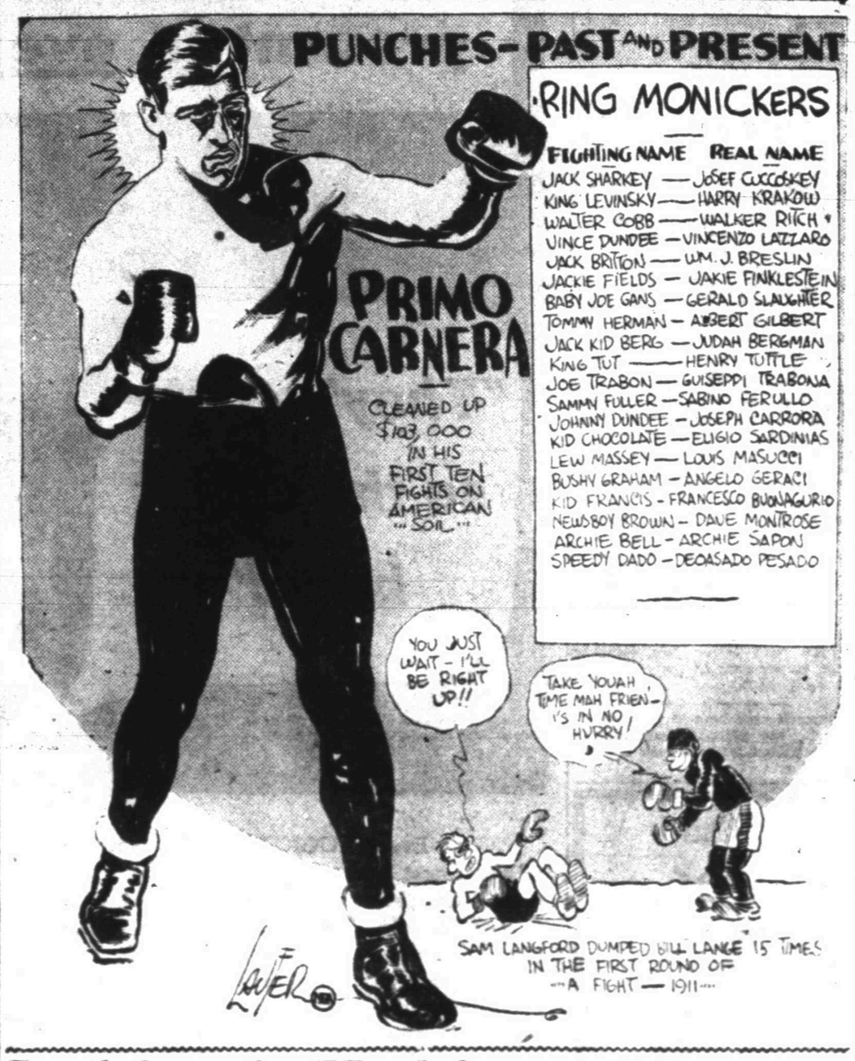

GREENFIELD, Okla. —(AP)—Terracing projects in this vicinity have transformed land which five years ago had ditches too deep to be crossed with farm machinery into a farm producing 60 bushels of oats and 50 bushels of barley to the acre.

Coach Jack Meagher, attending the coaching school here, has little to say about his prospects but it is no secret that he has the material that has been looking at the Owl institution since Rice became an institute. By hard work and his own fine ability to coach, Meagher, a former star pupil of Knute Rockne and even considered by some to succeed that worthy man early this summer, has built up the athletic department at Rice in an almost miraculous manner, and he's likely to show splendid results this fall. We're not predicting a championship for Rice, but we're pulling for the Owls and Meagher so far as our pulling ability is limited.

LIGHTNING STRIKES GOLF PRO WITH STEEL PUTTER IN HAND TO CANCEL ANNUAL PHILADELPHIA TOURNAMENT

ORELAND, Pa., Aug. 10 (AP)—Big Ed Dudley, Concord, Pa., golf professional, was struck by lighting early last night as he putted on the 34th green in the annual Philadelphia open tournament at the Manufacturers club. The incident, together with a heavy storm, cancelled the day's tournament.

Dudley was not seriously injured.

The Concord pro was leading the field at the time, having turned in a 72 on the first 18 holes. He had a steel-shafted putter in his hand when the lightning traveled down an umbrella held over him. The bolt apparently leaped to the club and into the ground.

A few minutes later the rain increased in intensity and the players hurried to the clubhouse. Dudley complained of his leg, which was growing stiff. He said he did not believe he would be able to compete today.

The scores of the day were cancelled by the committee in charge and winners will be determined on today's 36-hole play

TEN TROTTERS ARE ENTERED WEST TO SEEK GOLD CUP

THREE - YEAR - OLDS TO SEEK HAMBLETONIAN HONORS TOMORROW

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—The $60,000 Hambletonian, richest light harness horse stake in this country, is down for decision tomorrow with at least ten of the year's smartest three-year-old trotters slated to race for the big prize over the mile track at Good Time park.

The advance sale of tickets indicates that a crowd of 20,000 will pack its way into this quaint little horse-loving town to see the crowning of the 1931 trotting champion for the winner of the Hambletonian generally is recognized as the year's leading three-year-old.

Named for a great trotter, the stake is the one race for which breeders and owners always point their best performers. Like many of the races on the flat, the entries are made when the horses are foaled and the purses built up by added fees as the probable starters show improvement. The final payment of $500, due today, will determine how many will face the starter in the three-heat stake.

The Good Time stable's bay filly, Nedda Guy, with a mark of 2:03 3-4, probably will rule the favorite.

FINE—DOLLAR A MILE

DENVER, Colo. — Police Judge Walter E. White doesn't like speeders. Gerald W. Vincent found that out. He was brought into court on a speeding charge. The judge pinned a fine on him of one dollar for every mile per hour he was traveling, and not the customary dollar for every mile above the speed limit.

TWO CHALLENGERS ARE BEING GROOMED FOR SPEEDBOAT TROPHY

MONTAUK, N. Y., Aug. 11. (AP)—The far west and mid west are grooming two formidable challengers for the gold cup, coveted speedboat trophy on which the east has maintained a strangle hold for five years.

Dick Loynes, veteran California pilot, now is assembling the motor of his Californian which he brought via steamboat through the Panama canal for the gold cup race on Saturday. Last year he made a lap record of more than 63 miles an hour before a smashed hull forced him out. This year his boat boasts of stronger hull and probably will pack more power than any of the other contenders.

Horace Dodge of Detroit, fretted a bit yesterday while mechanics worked over his new Miss Syndicate 111. In her two trial runs the 24-cylinder motor developed trouble and prevented Dodge from taking the wheel.

Seven other challengers, including the 1930 winner, Hotsy Totsy, are being tuned up for the race.

LEGS WRECK HOME

EL PASO—Lester Aaron is an old-fashioned husband, and Ruby, his wife, is a flapper spouse. Consequently, when Ruby adopted the fad of bare legs, Lester objected. Ruby said she'd rather have bare legs than an old-fashioned husband so she directed her bare limbs home to her mother, who lives in Tulsa, Okla.

GIRLS' TEAM TO PLAY LOCALS TWO GAMES THIS WEEK-END

Following a two-day rest after their trying series with the Biving Bulldogs last week-end, the Lubbock Hubbers get back on the firing line tomorrow night against the Littlefield Cyclones. The latter team, managed by Art Mueller, will be coming here for the third time this season.

On Friday and Saturday nights of this week the Hubbers meet the Goldsmith D and M. girls from Wichita, Kansas, in a special two-game series. According to information received here, the girls' club left Wichita Sunday for a tour of the Southwest and west that will take them until October 1 to complete and include more than 50 games. Composed entirely of girls, the reports state, the team is capable of giving any semi-pro baseball club a run for the money and most of the games engaged in result in victories for the stronger organization of the weaker sex.

Later this month, after covering the southwest states, they go north to Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and double back to Reno, Nevada, and thence to the Pacific coast, where they are scheduled in fifteen games.

Playing with the Goldsmith girls on this trip will be Lefty Langford one of the greatest southpaw girl pitchers in the country. She will appear on the mound in the game here Friday night, according to advance notice from Wichita. An all-around athlete, playing basketball as skillfully as baseball, has a reputation as heavy hitter as well, and when not pitching is playing some other position.

Galveston Bucs To Get Two New Stars

GALVESTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Del Pratt, manager of the Galveston Buccaneers, announced here today that he had signed Johnny Rizzo, outfielder of the Valley league, who recently had a two weeks "look" with Galveston, and Jim Ryan, young right handed pitcher, from Augusta, Ga., of the Palmetto league. Both Rizzon and Ryan recently became free agents when their respective leagues disbanded. Ryan finished in the Palmetto as the leading twirler, with 11 won and 2 lost. Both new players are with the Bucs in Houston.

Sixty South Wales colliery ponies shown at a London horse show recently were insured for nearly $15,000.

BEAUMONT AND HOUSTON TO SEEK TITLE

FOURTH GAME OF THE FIRST HALF SERIES TOMORROW NIGHT

HOUSTON, Aug. 11 (AP).—Jerome "Dizzy" Dean for Houston and Whitlow John Wyatt for Beaumont are the pitchers due to take the mound here tomorrow night when Houston and Beaumont compete in the fourth game of their title playoff for the first half Texas league pennant. If Houston triumphs, it will give the Buffaloes the first half pennant with three consecutive victories. If Beaumont should win, the series will stand 2 to 1 for Houston with the fifth game scheduled for Thursday in Beaumont. In the first three games July 25, 26 and 27, Houston won the first 3 to 2, tied the second 5 to 4 (15 innings), and won the third 14 to 11.

"Dizzy" Dean, who has registered 22 victories this season against six defeats, trimmed Beaumont in the first game of the recent series. He returned the next day to pitch seven innings in the 15 inning struggle. Wyatt, who has won five and lost one this season, worked in part of the tie game. Houston will have George Washington Payne and Tex Carleton in reserve. Beaumont will have Izzy Goldstein and Luke Hamlin ready to relieve Wyatt if necessary.

Other stars who will be seen in action include Carey Selph of Houston, league's leading scorer; "Duckie" Medwick, seecond in home runs and runs driven in and Joyner White of Beaumont, leader in three base hits this season.

Houston is far in front in the second half race, and if the Buffaloes win the first half play-off there will be no usual post-season series prior to the Dixie championship play.

PAYNE WINS TWENTY GAMES IN LEAGUE

By BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The second pitcher in the 1931 Texas league pennant marathon to win 20 games is George Washington Payne of Houston. Payne stepped along with Jerome "Dizzy" Dean, who has won 22, last night when he handed Galveston a 2 to 1 defeat. While Payne was busy holding the Buccaneers to seven hits, the Buffaloes checked in with their tenth consecutive victory and their thirteenth triumph in their last fourteen games.

Payne's 20th victory had a sweet taste to it because he had to bear down and out-pitch Russ Cromer, who held the league leaders to eight hits.

Steers Whip Cats

The story of Hansen's revenge was told last night in Dallas where the Steers whipped Fort Worth 12 to 0. Left Hansen, Fort Worth castoff, limited his former club to six hits. Dallas pounded Bill Harris, James Harris and Lil Stoner for eleven timely hits. It made Hansen's ninth straight victory since joining Dallas.

The San Antonio Indians suffered a bad spell of errors and the Beaumont Exporters, taking advantage of the bobbles, scored a 5 to 4 decision. The Exporters counted three in the first inning with the aid of two errors, and two more in the fifth thanks to another error. Of course the Exporters mixed in nine base hits which are enough to win most any ball game minus errors.

Rowland, in the role of a pinch hitter, doubled, driving in two runs to tie the score, and then Geygan drove home the winning run to give Shreveport a 5 to 4 victory over Wichita Falls. The Sports uncovered their rally in the ninth inning.

WITH NO HOPE OF WINNING NATIONAL LEAGUE PENNANT, PITTSBURGH OPENS CAMPAIGN TO LAND IN 1ST DIVISION

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Pittsburgh Pirates have no hope of winning the National league pennant just at present but they evidently still are of the opinion they can smash their way into the first division before the curtain falls for the season.

After three months of floundering around while their pitchers treid to find their effectiveness and their batsmen searched vainly for their batting eyes, the Pirates pulled themselves together just when it looked like they were going to fall right out of the league.

Reasons For Spurt

The insertion of the Amherst football star, Howard Groskloss, at second base, the return to hitting form of Paul Waner and the overnight development of Glenn Spencer into a starting pitcher who could win were three primary causes for the Pirates' spurt since July.

Yesterday with Spencer working on the mound, the Pirates nosed out the Chicago Cubs, 4-3.

The defeat dropped the Cubs from a virtual tie with the second place New York Giants to a position half a game removed from the runner-up rung.

The Pirate-Cub game was the only one on the major league schedule yesterday as both leagues prepared for intersectional warfare starting today. In the National league western teams come east and in the American, eastern clubs battle the west.

Two Escape Death In Fire At Dallas

DALLAS, Aug. 11 (AP).—Damage estimated at $20,000 was caused by a fire which swept through the Salvation Army women's home and two adjoining buildings here last night. Two persons narrowly es- caped death and 25 women, mostly aged, were made homeless.

The fire originated in a wooden garage between the home and a rooming house and spread rapidly. Johnny O'Leary, 48, was trapped on a sleeping porch of the rooming house. Firemen rescued him with ladders after tearing away screens and windows.

The bullet struck Sanders on the right side of the nose and emerg- ed from his left cheek, then struck Redman beneath the right ear and lodged in the back of his head.

Both men were recovering today at a hospital. An operation was performed on Redman and the bul- let extracted from his head.

Who Wants A Nice Boat Cheap?

Would you like a nice, large size steamship in your home? This giant craft probably could be had almost for the asking, figuratively speaking. She is the Leviathan, once the largest ship afloat, which the United States acquired from Germany, when we entered the war. Uncle Sam found her a white elephant, the United States lines acquired her, got in- to financial difficulties and has tried to return her to the government temporarily. The shipping board, however, was said to favor selling the Leviathan and other S. S. liners to the Roosevelt-International Mercan- tile Marine line.

Seiz- ure included 185 gallons of whiskey, 100 bottles of beer and two truck loads of liquor equipment.

Thought For Today

For we walk by faith, not by sight.—Corinthians 5:7.

Life grows dark as we go on, till only one clear light is left shining on it, and that is faith.—Mme. Swetchine.

Aids Canada

The hard luck of Europe seems to be the good luck of Canada. American tourist traffic to Europe has fallen off amazingly this summer. There isn't as much money floating around loose this year as there has been in years to past, and Europe isn't getting her full quota of tourists. Transatlantic steamer lines have slashed their fares, but even so are losing money with monotonous regularity.

But Canada is doing better in the tourist trade than ever before. Evidently citizens of the United States who would have gone to Europe if times were better are going to Canada instead; and one can only say that they will get their money's worth, no matter what part of the Dominion they choose to visit.

Heavy as Canada's tourist traffic is, however, it is only a starter. Its vacation spots are innumerable. In a few years the rush of tourists in 1931 will look like an insignificant driblet. For the vacation seeker, Canada has "it" in a big way.

Failing Machinery

The devices of a mechanical age have check-mated some of nature's sternest threats, but mankind occasionally gets a reminder that the forces of nature are not to be trifled with, even in an era of perfected machinery.

The disaster that befell the automobile party in the Mexican desert the other day is a case in point.

Here were seven people, starting out to cross a barren desert in an automobile. The crossing had been made many times before without trouble, and a trip that was an invitation to death a few years ago had become commonplace.

But the auto broke down in the middle of the desert, 250 miles from the nearest habitation. Four of the party died and two went mad.

Machinery had robbed the desert of its terrors; but when the machinery developed a flaw, the desert proved just as hostile and dangerous as ever.

Not Alarming

It is hardly surprising that United States Steel cut its dividend. The surprising thing, when you stop to think about it, is that it was still able to pay a dividend that stockholders in many companies would think exceedingly healthy.

The reduced dividend, we are told, is a reflection of the depression, and proves that it is a bad one. Well, what's new in that? We have known, for a long time, that business was bad; we have known, indeed, that it was very bad. Should we become alarmed simply because U. S. Steel has cut its dividend and so to speak made the depression official?

Total U. S. Steel earnings for the quarter ending June 30 were only a little short of $14,000,000. If things were as bad as some calamity howlers try to make us believe, the corporation would have showed a deficit.

A New Air Giant

The Graf Zeppelin, completing a trip to the Arctic, returns to Berlin to find its days as queen—or possibly king—of the air just about numbered.

By the time the great German airship makes another long-distance trip it probably will have lost the title of "world's largest airship." The U. S. Navy ship Akron will be flying in a short time, and the glories of the Graf Zeppelin will be surpassed.

The excellent work that the Graf Zeppelin did for aviation will not soon be forgotten, however. The ship proved what airships can do. It set people thinking about them. It demonstrated airships' safety. It may yield first place to the Akron, but it has set a noble record.

Depression or no, figures certainly are improving with the return to curves.

What makes us despair for China is that she is able to carry on warfare without borrowing any money.

THERE is a group of unthinking young boys in Lubbock—boys from 15 to 19 years old—who have been bullyragging negro citizens as they walk or drive along the streets and on several recent occasions have driven their cars down on 'The Flats' to hurl rocks and rotten eggs at houses and business establishments there. The practice is not only eminently unfair but it is also dangerous.

The miscreants are at the age where they think such stunts are sport. They don't stop to realize that they are threatening Lubbock with race troubles which might easily become serious and which might give the city bloodshed and bad publicity for a long time to come.

* * *

THE PLAINSMAN happens to know one of the leading residents of 'The Flats', a man who has raised a family of several children, all of whom are hardworking, lawabiding negroes. This particular citizen, who is respectable in every way, has appealed to this column to urge that parents of boys find out what those boys are doing and recites several instances where he has averted trouble between the youngsters and outraged blacks. He has the right idea—he knows what trouble might arise and his efforts to quiet things down should be appreciated by every white citizen who can imagine the threat which accompanies every such occurrence.

Boys will be boys, but boys should also be made to know that they cannot, in safety and fairness, bullyrag negroes without running a chance of getting into serious trouble.

The best way to take care of the situation is for parents to check up on the activities of their youngsters and see, if possible, that they behave themselves on their nocturnal wanderings.

AS EXAMPLES of what the young'sters are doing, not long ago a negro was repairing a tire on Main street one evening. As he worked away a carload of young white boys idled by and struck him with a gunny sack loaded with sand. The negro was knocked to the pavement as the boys sped off.

Just the other night a car filled with white boys made several efforts to ram a car driven by a negro in the vicinity of Avenue H and 13th street. They were finally successful, damaging the negroe's front fender before speeding away. On a recent Sunday night boys drove by negro churches, while the crowds were leaving, and pelted them with rocks and eggs. Several nights ago a rock was hurled through a negro car, narrowly missing a woman who was wearing spectacles.

"It is easy for the fair-minded person to imagine how the negroes are feeling over these assaults and to likewise imagine that they are becoming aroused to a point of striking back."

Cooler heads on 'The Flats' have been successful in frustrating any fighting thus far but the whites are going to have to do their share, too.

There's no excuse for the whole business.

It all goes to prove that this is a pretty good place to live, after all, with plenty of rain and enough occasional cool breezes to make life a pleasure even in the summer time.

And it won't be long now until the tang of autumn will be on us—with fall business and everything.

Strategy Of 1932 Presidential Campaign Revolves About The Popular Bugaboo Of Ridding Country Of Depression

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The Democrats say conditions are pretty bad right now and the Republicans say things might be a lot worse. That sums up the 1932 campaign strategy of the politicians to date.

DUTCHER

President Hoover gets the blame from the Democrats because things are as bad as they are and high praise from his own party because they are no worse.

The G. O. P. is obviously the party of hope and optimism. The Democrats have hope and optimism, too, but their hope of victory is based on the alleged hopelessness of the economic situation for the next year or so and their optimism is thus based on pessimism. The Republicans, on the other hand, found their 1932 expectations almost entirely on the hope of a pickup in business. If there is no such pickup, according to common theory, the election will cause this city to be so overrun with Democrats in 1933 as to result in a serious shift in the center of population.

Republican optimism is incurable because it is based on the fundamentally sound theory that things get just so bad and then they get worse but that that sort of thing can't go on forever. Lately some Republicans have come to suspect that their best chance will be presented in 1936, by which time the country will have learned that the Democrats can't end a depression, either. But that theory is unorthodox and the official party campaign dogma is a reversion to the slogan of 1864. "Don't swap horses while stuck in the mud."

President Hoover and his cabinet members presumably would still be issuing statements to assure the country that the depression was all over if such statements were not invariably followed by crashes in the stock market and the commodity markets. But although gentlemen in high position now realize the discretion of restraint concerning such matters, the official party propaganda, besides pointing out how much more serious conditions would be if they were a great deal worse, continues to be fashioned after the manner of Pollyanna. One of the little inspirational items in the Republican national committee's weekly news letter starts off like this:

"Now that the slump is about over and people are beginning to quit talking about hard times—"

Purely by coincidence, this word came as President Green of the A. F. of L. was predicting that seven instead of six million persons were likely to be unemployed next winter, as President Hoover was holding conferences to discuss the need of unprecedented relief measures and as wheat was hitting a new low of 48 cents a bushel. It did not, however, coincide with any Democratic statement which might indicate that the situation would be any roster if the present administration were booted out.

Well, anyway, the national committee was only trying to sell the idea that this is just the right time to buy things cheap so as to be rich later. Frick started his money making career by buying coke ovens in the 1873 slump, one is reminded, and "Carnegie made $300,000,000 by buying steel plants in hard times. Fortunes are made, the committee says, by optimists who buy from pessimists. Obviously this is the time to go out and buy yourself a steel plant or a coke oven, for, as the committee asserts:

"In less than five years there will be thousands of American business men entitled to membership in the 'I-wish-I-had club.' It is not in good times but in bad times that businesses are bought for 30 cents."

Thus the incurable optimistic Republican organization appears to have achieved the seemingly impossible by demonstrating that the depression is really a mighty good thing—for those who know how to use it.

And that ought to hold those incurable pessimistic Democrats for a while.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

EDITOR'S NOTE. Six pamphlets and six articles by Dr. Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin for each pamphlet and 3 cents in coin for each article, with a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1453 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are: "Reducing and Gaining," "Feminine Hygiene," "Indigestion and Constipation," "The Care of the Hair and Skin," "Infant Feeding" and "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes." The articles are "Best Book for Mothers," "List of Books for Mothers," "Bed Wetting," "Diet of the Expectant Mother," "Ear Troubles" and "Tuberculosis."

PRINCIPLES OF FATTENING

THE PRINCIPLES of fattening are just the opposite of those for the reducing diet. The important thing is to eat more of everything, the patient being urged to force his appetite just as the overweight is urged to curb his appetite. Both are hard to do. The thin person who is urged to force the appetite usually fears the extra food will not be digested. But this need not be a source of worry. Nature has wide powers of adjustment, and when it has to, the digestive system can do all the extra work required.

Dr. Clendening

A good way to make these people eat more is to change the whole system of the household meals—do not give them anything they have been accustomed to.

The most stimulating foods to nutrition are milk and eggs. They are the foods growing animals live on. Milk is usually easy to take, even if the appetite is fickle, because it is a liquid and can be gulped down quickly. It is not a highly concentrated food but the addition of extra cream greatly increases its nourishment value. An egg nog with the yolk and white of the egg separated and beaten up and added to the milk-cream mixture with a little sherry wine (which doctors are allowed to prescribe) is a combination which contains about 400 calories.

The diet should also include meat, fish, chicken etc., in liberal quantities. These articles also have a stimulating effect on nutrition. Also cereals which have a high nutritive value. Fruits and vegetables must be included especially potatoes. Bread with plenty of butter—the bread or toast being more the medium for plenty of butter than anything else. Deserts, jams and jellies are allowed in liberal quantities.

Just as the overweight patient has to exercise, the underweight has to rest. To lie down for an hour after each meal will do more to put on weight and strength than any other thing. If in the stress and strain of a workaday life an hour is too much, take as large a part of it for rest as you can. It is surprising how easy it is for anyone to arrange a half hour or fifteen minutes rest three or four times in the course of the day. By rest I mean lying down in full relaxation on a couch or bed or sofa.

This plan is valuable for the convalescent from a surgical operation or a prolonged illness of any kind.

Lately the use of insulin has come in as a fattening agent. Insulin is the substance used in the treatment of diabetes and normally present in the body except in diabetes. Dr. Falta believes that obesity is due to an increase of the insulin secretion and that the combination of insulin and plenty of sugar and starch in the diet will put on weight. It should always be taken under a physician's guidance.

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

S. A. H. "Every Sunday morning I wake up with a headache. What puzzles me is why it comes on only once a week."

Answer. This sounds like a fatigue headache. Possibly eyestrain. Then there is Saturday night to think about.

Mrs. D. M. H. "My boy is fourteen years old and only 4 feet 11 inches tall. Would cod liver oil help?"

Answer. No method is now known to promote growth. A growth hormone is being used experimentally, but the results have not been disclosed. Cod liver oil is not calculated to help.

IN NEW YORK with Gilbert Swan

NEW YORK, Aug. 11—This sure is no town for a couple of innocent young savages from Central Africa.

Take Manuel and Diosaner, for instance.

What they'll have to tell the Ubangi boys when they get back if ever! Have they been stepping? And have they learned things?

Sweet mama, the way those Harlem boys gave them the runaround.

To begin with, the Ubangi gents were brought to New York by Martin Johnson, the explorer. They were hired as valets to a couple of valuable chimpanzees, included among the Johnson jungle trophies.

So they slept in the elephant house. This kept them from being homesick.

And then—alack aday—the urge for culture came over some of the Harlemites. What, for instance, did the native lingo of the Ubangis sound like? Could certain root derivations be traced?

It all sounded high-class, elegant and refined! In fact, it was educational. Simple souls that they were, Manuel and Diosaner went dutifully up to the vast negro belt to show off.

But not before an astute and alert potential showman had heard about it. Did he leap to the occasion? Sweet man—and how!

From one end of Harlem to another it became known that the celebrated visiting Ubangis would positively deliver a lecture in the native Swahili dialect. And for the mere entrance fee of four-bits per person. The small hall was packed. The gate receipts were nice pickings.

And when it was over with, Manuel found a nice crispy $1 bill in his hand and a pair of goif knickers. And such knickers. Sweet mama! With swell black checkers on them.

Manuel had been looking around. It was a hot night. The Harlem lads had come in flannel pants and yellow, blue, pink, lavender and white silk sport shirts. What would look better with checkered knickers than a nice, snappy sport shirt?

He returned for more lectures—some 10, in all. The crowd increased. The innocent Ubani continued to get one buck per appearance and a new pair of knickers each time. The "house" made a thousand. But he had a wardrobe to pique the envy of many a golfer. He didn't know for sure just what they were for, but he knew what he liked.

Manuel and his partner walked out into the night. The gay lights of an ice cream parlor roused his awakening interest. He sat himself down to his first chocolate soda. This was the first.

Within a few days they were Harlem's latest novelty. Curious ones began to ply them with questions, through an interpreter. Someone asked them how much they got. The innocents confessed to $4 a month and keep. They also confessed to sleeping in the elephant house. What—? The uplifters took them in tow.

Next day Explorer Johnson was amazed to hear a demand for a union scale of four bucks per day, and an eight-hour day. He thought of his promise to their chief to return them to Nairobi even as he had found them. What, the explorer pondered, would happen when they went back to Central Africa with ideas of knickers, ice cream and union hours?

Maybe the grasshoppers in Nebraska and North Dakota are only making hey-hey, while the sun shines.

If this arrangement for using wheat and oats for legal tender goes on, one of these days we'll be paying for a pair of garters with a bunch of radishes.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The natives finally stopped their song. Said Scouty, "Ere we move along let's ask them if they'll sing some more. Their voices sound real good. I simply love fine harmony. That's why this all appeals to me. I'd like to join right in with them, I only wish I could."

The Travel Man said, "Well, why not? It must be that they know a lot of very pretty songs. I'll ask them if they'll sing one more. If you can catch on to the tune you all can join in very soon. But when you start your singing, kindly sing and do not roar."

He then turned to one native, who said they would all be glad to do the thing that he requested. Soon their voices filled the air. The Tinies listened for a while and then wee Clowny, with a smile, said, "I am going to try my luck. If 'm flat, I don't care."

However, he did very well and Scouty shouted, "Say! You're swell!" And then the others sang and when the song was the natives clapped their hands cried. "We're mighty glad Tinies tried. Your singing made happy. That's what singing's ally for."

The Travel Man then said. "We we must move along. There's he to see. Not far from here there a place that we can reach ease. Let's hurry now and there quick. A sight's in store you'll think slick. In fact, I'll you what it is — some big ban trees."

"Oh, my, let's hurry." Coppy s "Bananas grow up overhead maybe we can climb a tree and some." Off they ran! It wasn't until they found a very pr stretch of ground. Upon it st the monstrous trees and nea was a man.

(The Tinymites help the ba na man in the next story.)

"All the Kings Horses" and "All the Kings Men" Could not bring back the Jinrickisha again—

The monarchs of the Orient knew the greatest luxuries in their time. Their "rickshaws"—richly cushioned, upholstered in finest silk, and manned by sturdy slaves — were fashioned for restful travel. In them the Oriental prince traveled comfortably, safely and leisurely.

Today, EVERY man is a prince. In a modern, up-to-date automobile he too travels in comfort, safety, and leisure, yet propelled by a wealth of power and at a speed never dreamed of by ancient Kings.

There is a used car in today's classified ads—smart, smooth running, up-to-date—that will bring you dependable performance, at a price you can afford.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—The stock market developed a firmer trend today after early heaviness among the rails had brought generally lower prices.

Union Pacific, after dropping 2 to a new low, more than recovered its loss and Atchison made up a similar decline. American Telephone, U. S. Steel, American Can, Westinghouse and Consolidated Gas rallied 1 to 1 3-4 when the quiet upward movement got under way. Auburn, Allied Chemical, Eastman, American Tobacco "B" and Columbian Carbon were up 2 to 3.

Extreme gains had been slightly modified by noon.

Call money renewed at 1 1-2 per cent.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Grain prices averaged lower early today after an initial show of firmness that resulted from unlooked for returns of Liverpool wheat quotations. A bearish construction put upon the United States government crop report as to wheat, however, led to enlarge selling, and so likewise the corn belt rains. Opening unchanged to 5-8 cents higher, wheat afterward underwent a general sag. Corn started 3-8 off to 1-2 up, and later declined all four.

AUSTIN, Aug. 11 (AP)—Governor Ross S. Sterling Monday signed a bill to appropriate $30,000 for investigation possible anti-trust law violations in the oil industry. The inquiry would be carried on by the attorney general's department.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 11 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today 6 to 10 points lower under a renewal of liquidation or reselling inspired by relatively easy Liverpool cables.

Prices here did not make a full response to the showing of the English market, however, and there was enough demand to steady the market within a point or two of the initial quotations. October contracts sold off to 6.87 and March to 7.40 with the market showing net declines of about 10 to 12 points at the end of the first half hour. Business was moderately active with some trade buying as well as covering reported on the declines, while the selling was scattered after the very heavy liquidation of Monday.

Liverpool cables said that continental and Bombay liquidation in that market had been absorbed by covering at the decline. Manchester was reported unsettled with business much restricted.

Trading became less active and prices steadier after the early offerings had been absorbed. The opinion was expressed in some quarters that the market had been pretty well liquidated and this idea may have led to some covering or local buying, while there were reports that some trade buying orders which had been withdrawn right after the publication of the crop estimate, had been put back in the market. Rallies, however, were limited and at midday October was selling around 6.93 and March 7.46 or 4 to 5 points net lower.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11. (AP)—The cotton market had rather a quiet and easier opening. Liverpool cables came in lower than due and first trades here showed losses of 6 to 7 points. Prices rallied 2 to 4 points right after the start on a little covering but soon eased off again owing to a lack of buying power. October trading down to 6.89 and December to 7.08, or 7 to 9 points under yesterday's close.

Near the end of the first hour the market was very quiet and at the lows.

The market ruled comparatively quiet all morning, but prices gradually improved owing to shorts covering and a scarcity of contracts. October traded up to 7.01 and December to 7.22, or 14 points above the early lows.

At mid-session the market was quiet and steady and only two points under the best.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11. (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, Oct 6.89; Dec. 7.11; Jan. 7.22—bid; March 7.42—bid; May 7.60—asked; July 7.82—asked.

NEW YORK OPEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 11. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, Oct. 6.88; Dec. 7.11; Jan. 7.24; March 7.43; May 7.60; July 7.76.

American Aviators Questioned Today

TOKYO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, jr., American aviators whose plane was held by government authorities because they took photographs while flying over Japanese territory, were questioned today by the public procurator, who will determine whether court action shall be taken. The procurator decided to continue the questioning tomorrow.

Meanwhile customs officers called on the fliers and requested a deposit or a guarantee of the payment of duty on their plane and providing for an exemption from payment of customs for one year on the condition that they leave Japan within a year. The matter was left unsettled.

PIONEERS ARE TO MEET WEDNESDAY

Toting basket lunches, members of the Lubbock Pioneers association will meet Wednesday on the Panhandle-South Plains fair grounds to exchange yarns of days gone by and renew old friendships.

It is an annual event. No formal program is customary, the only business usually transacted being election of officers for the ensuing year. P. B. Penney of Lubbock is president.

Old settlers and their families begin to arrive soon after the lunch-hour and the meeting lasts until late in the afternoon. A picnic supper will be spread at 5 p. m. Barbecue will be provided.

Bob Crump of Shallowater is secretary, F. E. Wheelock of Lubbock is arrangements chairman, Max Coleman of Lubbock is program chairman, and Ed Meredith of Lubbock is barbecue chairman.

The association was formed in 1926.

MURRAY

your money on him, would you?"

Owens, as chairman of the committee which was named during the 1931 legislature to make recommendations on il legislatin, signed a majority report recommending revision of the state's present oil laws on which proration is based. A minority report urged that proration be not abolished. No legislative action was taken on either report.

"I was talking to the governor one day and I brought up the subject of him running for president," Owens said. "He didn't care to discuss it.

"When I asked him if the campaign could be financed, would be be interested, he said he would if there were no strings tied to it.

"Through certain connections I arranged the underwriting of expenses of the campaign and wrote him out an analysis of his advantages and disadvantages as a candidate."

Owens, the Times says, was shown a copy of a "prospectus" covering Murray's actions for a year and a half and the tenor of his public utterances.

Later he said Governor Murray had consented to his telling the story of the campaign offer but that the governor would have nothing more to say about it.

"At the present time," said Owens, "I am here on private business and if the governor should choose to run, I wish him good fortune."

BUTTON GAME

than a back room of the Brown Palace hotel, Denver, and that few ever saw the button and its mates.

There is no evidence that Murray ever knew about it and it was no part of the news of the Democratic convention at Denver that nominated Bryan and John W. Kern of Indiana.

C. N. Haskell, first Oklahoma governor, who headed the state delegation that year and was chairman of the committee that drafted the Bryan platform said he "never saw the button or heard of it before."

"And I don't think Bill Murray ever did," he added.

Murray attended the convention and made numerous speeches about the state consitution he helped to write not long before.

The Oklahoma governor hasn't said anything officially to give it impetus, but Oklahoma's "Murray for President" boom won't be downed. A. H. Meyer, who would promote it here, said today he hoped to set up headquarters next month to start things on a national scale.

Wayne Rodgers To Face Charges Here

Wayne Rodgers, arrested last week in Chicago in connection with theft of a rented automobile here, will be prosecuted in United States district court here, a telegram to the Lubbock county sheriff's department from the United States district attorney's office at Dallas indicated today.

An automobile, allegedly obtained from a rent-car agency here, was recovered in Rodgers' arrest in Chicago. He probably will be prosecuted for violation of the Dyer act, which forbids inter-state traffic in stolen automobiles, Assistant Texas District Attorney Burton S. Burks, said.

School Executives Will Discuss Tech

An association of public school executives to advance the interests of Texas Technological college is the subject of a meeting scheduled for 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night on the college campus.

G. S. Dowell, superintendent of schools at Dickens, announced the meeting of the more than 170 school superintendents and principals attending the college summer session here. Crowding for the Matador school, the school executives could serve much like strong alumni groups of older institutions, Dowell indicated.

LEGISLATURE

crude petroleum must rise. Threats of shutdowns came from both states last night.

Forty-eight hours after the defeat of the state administration oil emergency legislative program in the senate here Governor Sterling issued a statement which was generally construed to mean he would join Oklahoma in the martial law shutdown movement if the legislature did not vote oil relief he considered necessary at its special session, which closes tomorrow.

To Meet Oklahoman

Governor Sterling at the same time anounced he would confer today with Charles West, a representative of Governor Murray. He refused to disclose the nature of the conference.

The Texas governor asserted that protests against the defeat of his program were pouring in from independent operators throughout the state. His statement that many citizens consider "our conservation laws are being trampled under foot and are asking the chief executive to use the militia of the state to protect them" was regarded in oil quarters here as notice to legislators that drastic steps to curb the flow of oil in East Texas would be taken unless the major part of the Sterling program was adopted.

Kansas Hearing Seen

In Kansas purchasers of oil had been given notice by the public service commission that a hearing would be ordered to determine the nature and extent of the shutdown order for the state unless the price was advanced this week. Kansas crude oil should be worth at least 60 cents a barrel the commission said in a letter sent Kansas refiners and oil purchasers.

Th Kansas move brought commendation from Governor Murray in Oklahoma though the sponsor of the shutdown movement in that state said he was not interested in any price less than one dollar a barrel. There will be no compromise on the price, he asserted, indicating he was not beginning to weary of his shutdown plan.

PARALYSIS

lysis are treated with new serums which the experimenters hope hold the secret of the cure they seek.

In the war on infantile paralysis, scientists are combatting an enemy they neither see nor understand. The infantile paralysis germ never has been isolated. It is one of the so-called "filterable viruses" like those that cause yellow fever and smallpox. The germs in this group are so small that they pass through the finest filters that can be devised, and so can not be filtered or "strained" out of a solution and examined.

Scientists are not absolutely sure whether infantile paralysis is spread by contact or in some other way. It prevails in summer, while most diseases spread by contact reach their height in winter or early spring when people are closely crowded together indoors. Children from one to five years old are most susceptible. A majority of cases occur in children under fifteen. An explanation of these facts may hold the clue to control of the infection, the institute of health points out.

Foursquare Revival Is Under Way Here

Dalhart's school enrollment increased twelve per cent in 1931 over 1930.

She said after her husband had been shot, the negro grasped her arm and demanded, "get me the key to that trunk." She said she told him she would have to light a lamp to find the key and he quickly warned her, "don't light a lamp or I'll kill you."

The woman said she replied, "you've already killed my husband so go ahead and kill me." He assured her he had "shot Joe low and he'll be all right."

Mrs. West said she frightened the negro away by pretending there were other people in the house, calling "Mrs. Allen!" When the negro asked her if there was anyone else there she told him a man and his wife were in the next room. The intruder then ran out the front door.

The West family was considered one of the wealthiest in Hunt county.

Officers learned that negroes had been talking about a trunk in which they believed West kept money.

PRISONER HELD HERE IDENTIFIED

Identified in connection with a $640 robbery at Carlsbad, N. M., a man believed to be Elmer Denning, alias Buck Wilson, waived extradition here this morning and left with Sheriff W. L. McDonald of Carlsbad for that town.

Receiving information from Sheriff McDonald, who urged precaution if Denning were captured, the Lubbock county sheriff's department arrested the suspect at a downtown hotel here Monday afternoon. The suspect denied he was wanted at Carlsbad.

He was identified this morning, by a man who accompanied Sheriff McDonald here, as having been with a negro, held in connection with the robbery, and the man robbed about 30 minutes before the latter was struck on the head with a bottle and relieved of $640. The negro was arrested at Carlsbad and $280 found in his possession, officers said. Little money was found on the suspect taken into custody here. The robbery occurred last Wednesday night.

The man believed to be Denning came to Lubbock to aid another man in buying a ranch, local officers were informed.

RULING MADE ON MELON SHIPMENTS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11. —(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today ruled that southwestern railroads could require shippers to load boxes of fresh vegetables and melons crosswise instead of lengthwise.

Railroads operating from Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas attempted to put the rule into effect last March. The Lower Rio Grande Valley Shippers' association protested and the schedules were suspended until October 20.

The railroads claimed vegetables shipped in what is known as lug boxes, when packed lengthwise in boxes, when packed lengthwise in the car, were damaged to a much greater extent than when packed sidewise. They presented studies showing that loss and damaged claim payments averaged over $40 a car for tomatoes when packed lengthwise and much less when packed sidewise.

Shippers objected on the ground that ventilation of the vegetables would be interfered with, but the commission said sufficient space for ventilation was provided by the use of slats in making the boxes.

When Governments Totter . . .

Honest News Reports are INVALUABLE

SOLDIERS revolt against their superiors, riotous mobs pillage and destroy, constituted authority is challenged—another government falls.

Reporting the news of turbulent national crises is an acid test of a press association's efficiency. Rumors fly thick and fast, facts are difficult to verify. Partisans of conflicting interests strive vigorously to influence news dispatches for their own benefit.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS correspondents are respected and welcomed in the capitals of the world because statesmen and officials are familiar with the high standards of the organization they represent. These reporters' sole task is to report the news—facts untarnished by bias or propaganda—and accord fair and impartial treatment to the conflicting parties to a dispute.

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS staff, at home and abroad, serves no interests of business, politics or religion. It gives the readers of member newspapers the facts of daily happenings around the globe.

TECH CLASSES HEAR STACK

COLUMBIA PROFESSOR HERE IN INTEREST OF SAFETY

Texas Technological college classes and the Lubbock Lions club were addressed today by Dr. Herbert J. Stack of Columbia university in New York City. He was chairman of the child's safety committee of the White House conference on child health and is safety supervisor for an insurance bureau.

Safety education and accident prevention have been Doctor Stack's subjects in appearances before university and civic groups on a 10,000-mile trip through 20 states. The Columbia university representative addressed several classes at Technological college this morning and the Lions club at its luncheon at the Hilton hotel.

Room For Improvement

According to Doctor Stack, while Texas had a much better record than many of the states during the last year, there is much room for improvement. Although automobile accidents increased only slightly in this state, New Mexico experienced an increase in automobile deaths of 46.4 per cent in a single year; in Arizona the increase was 43.7 per cent; in Kansas 16 per cent. The nation, as a whole, experienced an increase of near ten per cent in motor vehicle fatalities, bringing the toll of deaths over 32,500 for the year, a greater number than was killed or died of wound in the American Expeditionary forces in the last year in France.

More than 68,000 persons were killed in other accidents during the year, bringing the 1930 death toll to more than 100,000 persons, besides nearly 5,000,000 persons who were seriously injured in various types of accidents.

Doctor Stack showed the common causes of various kinds of accidents, particularly stressing automobile hazards. He also showed that improved highways in states are often followed by big increases in accidents. Motorists who have been satisfied in driving at lower speeds attempt to drive faster and the cars particularly those with defective brakes or tires, can't stand the pace.

Roadways Blamed

He showed that defective roadways were responsible for but few accidents and defective mechanism for but a comparatively small percentage. The most important cause of accidents are the motorists and the pedestrians themselves, Doctor Stack said.

While reckless driving and not observing traffic regulations are given as the most common causes of motor accidents, Doctor Stack believes that the real causes are apt to be mental conditions. He describes some of these types of drivers as follows:

1. The stubborn, show-off type of motorist who has little regard for the rights of other motorists or pedestrians and takes all kinds of chances.

2. The ignorant motorist who does not know the rules of the road and traffic regulations and, furthermore, doesn't care.

3. The nervous, emotional, unstable individual who in an emergency, in loose gravel, at an intersecton or attempting to pass another vehicles "loses his head" and causes an accident.

4. The drunken driver who thinks when he has been drinking a little that he can drive better. He is a menace to the road.

5. The slow plodding motorist who hogs the road as if it belonged to him and even though he doesn't get into accidents himself, may cause other motorists to get into trouble.

6. The mentally unalert driver who fails to signal, backs onto a roadway, or attempts to cut in too quickly. His mind just doesn't function actively to foresee difficulties.

Doctor Stack holds that many accidents are caused by these mental conditions among drivers and that causes often given for motor accidents may not be the real causes but only symptoms of a bad mental attitude.

The speaker described success of safety education among school children. During the last year, the lives of more than 6,000 children were saved as a result of safety instruction. While accidents to adults in the last five years have increased 35 per cent, those of school children have actually showed a ten per cent decrease, he reported.

Department Store Sales On Decline

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11 (AP)—An eight per cent decrease in department store sales in July as compared to June was shown today in the monthly report of the federal reserve board.

For the first seven months of the year, department store sales also were 8 per cent smaller than for the same period in the previous year.

The drop in July as compared to June was greatest in the Dallas district where the decrease was 17 per cent. The Kansas City district had a decrease of 15 per cent while St. Louis dropped 12, Boston and Minneapolis 10 per cent, Cleveland, Chicago and San Francisco, 8; New York and Philadelphia, 7; and the Richmond district 4.

For the seven months of the year St. Louis had the greatest decrease with a drop of 12 per cent, with Dallas following with 11 and Chicago 10. The other districts for the seven months showed the following decreases: Boston 7 per cent; New York 7; Philadelphia 8; Cleveland 9; Richmond 3; Atlanta 9; Minneapolis 5; Kansas City 8; and San Francisco 9.

The figures on the total decrease for the country were obtained from 523 department stores in 231 cities.

SHUTDOWN FOR KANSAS SEEN

ULTIMATUM IS GIVEN UNLESS PRICE OF CRUDE HIKED

TOPEKA, Kas., Aug. 11 (AP)—Kansas purchasers of crude oil have been given notice by the public service commission that unless the price paid for Kansas crude was advanced this week the commission would order a hearing to determine the nature and extent of a shutdown order for the state.

Without fixing a price it considered should be paid Kansas producers, the commission, in a letter written by Thurman Hill, member said it was clear Kansas crude should be worth at least 60 cents a barrel.

Sent To Purchasers

The letter, addressed to some 60 Kansas refiners and purchasers of crude, said the commission reliably was informed Kansas refiners were buying crude oil from Texas at an average cost of 70 cents a barrel. This cost, Hill said, took into account freight rates from Texas which he figured averaged 48 cents a barrel.

"Assuming," he told the refiners, "but not admitting, that the gathering cost of Kansas oil exceeds Texas oil by 10 cents, it is clear that Kansas crude oil exceeds Texas oil by 10 cents a barrel."

Until now, Hill said, the commission had refused to consider a complete or partial shutdown under the proration law "believing it was better for the interests of the state at large for producers to suffer financial loss than laborers employed in oil field work, refineries depending upon Kansas crude, and farmers who needed gasoline during harvest.

The commission was aware, Hill continued, 42 cents a barrel was not a sufficient price for the crude but "we believed as long as no competing crude oil from Oklahoma or Texas came into Kansas that we should not interfere."

Shutdown Looms

In the light of developments, however, the letter concluded, "we no longer feel it our duty to withhold partial or complete shutdown orders. Unless the purchasers of crude oil in Kansas this week extend to the producers of Kansas the same consideration they are granting to producers of Texas crude, a hearing will be ordered to determine the nature and extent of a shutdown order in this state."

Hill estimated a 20-cent increase in the price paid Kansas producers would mean $600,000 additional monthly revenue to them.

Passage Of Texas Oil Laws Sought

TYLER, Aug. 11 (AP).—Thirty-one East Texas operators urged passage of legislation beneficial to independent producers, in telegrams forwarded to Governor Ross Sterling and Senator Thomas Pollard of Tyler last night. Messages were sent on resolution of the operators in session as a steering committee to prepare for the mass meeting of oil men scheduled here for Friday morning.

Opinion was expressed by some operators at the meeting that a shutdown of the field would be exceedingly difficult. General sentiment appeared to be for a sales cooperative plan with indications that such a move would be advanced at the mass meeting with strong support.

Four thousand oil men are expected to attend the meeting called to consider emergency relief for the oil industry.
