Cold Front Is Losing Punch

Texas Still Divided Into Summer And Fall Zones; Scattered Rains Reported

(By The United Press)

A fading cold front, the first herald of the approaching fall season, lost its punch today, but it still had Texas divided into summer and fall zones.

The U. S. Weather bureau said the front was hanging on a rough line from Lufkin to San Antonio to Del Rio to El Paso in its dying hours.

TOTAL .44 HERE

Today's rainfall total measured .44 inch at 2:30 p. m., said Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the U. S. Weather Bureau station at Municipal airport. The rain began at 12:58 p. m. and "looks like it will keep on throughout the night now," Frost said.

The center of the front was expected to slide off to the east now, Forecaster John W. Zimmerman said, and circulation of warming southern air was to be resumed. Temperatures in North Texas were to begin climbing.

GRID GAMES POSTPONED

Two football games scheduled tonight have been postponed because of inclement weather.

The Lubbock Pioneer-Wolfforth encounter, scheduled at Chapman field, has been re-scheduled for 8 p. m. Saturday at the same time.

The Cooper-at-Meadow game also will be played Saturday. If the weather is fair Saturday, kickoff time will be 8 p. m. If not, the game will be played in the afternoon, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

But the front had brought a refreshing touch of early fall weather.

Four Streets Designated In First Tryout

Bids On Available Space For Storage At Airport Asked

By H. I. KIEFER
Journal Staff Writer

Four heavily traveled streets were designated for "guinea pig" parallel parking tests at a special meeting of the city commission this morning.

They are Broadway from the east city limits to the Texas Tech campus; Thirteenth from Avenue G to Q, and all of Avenue H and Fourth street.

Bids Are Asked

The commission also issued a call for bids to be opened at 11 a. m. Saturday on the use of available space at Municipal airport for the storage of cotton.

At the same meeting, members announced, they intend to enact an ordinance providing for parallel parking on the test streets.

City Manager Steve Matthews said the work of changing parking meters on those streets will be started immediately after the ordinance is passed. Several days will be required to complete the job, but parallel parking will be put into effect as fast as the meters are changed, starting early next week.

To Cut Down Spaces

Officials estimated that about seven cars can be parked parallel in the space which will accommodate 11 at an angle.

The ordinance as agreed upon at the special meeting will provide for at least two exceptions to the parallel requirement.

In front of the postoffice, parking will be required at a 30 degree angle instead of the present 45 degrees.

The average car, officials said, will protrude about three feet less into the street at 30 degrees than at 45.

The 30-degree angle requirement also will be applied to recessed parking places. Cars in those places, according to the plan, will not be allowed to protrude more than 7½ feet into the street beyond the curb line.

May Be Extended

Members of the commission pointed out that parallel parking now is practiced on some portions of each of the test streets. The proposed ordinance will make the system apply to all of them, except those portions designated for 30 degree parking.

If the tests are satisfactory on

Strike Threats For Industries Cloud Outlook

Nationwide Steel Walkout Within 10 Days Is Possible

(By The Associated Press)

Tension appeared mounting in labor disputes in some key industries today.

There were strike threats by the nation's CIO Steel and Electrical workers. All was not peaceful between John L. Lewis' United Mine workers and southern coal operators.

The possibility of a nationwide steel strike in 10 days arose after an announcement by U. S. Steel that it would not accept a presidential fact-finding board's peace formula without bargaining.

Ready To Bargain

The CIO United Steelworkers union, which dropped its demand for a fourth round wage increase, earlier had accepted the board's recommendation for a 10 cents an hour package increase for insurance and pensions.

Six steel companies have announced readiness to resume bargaining, using the board's report as a basis for settlement. But they did not commit themselves to the board's recommendations for the 10 cent package boost.

Benjamin Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said the corporation is not ready to accept the board's recommendations before starting further bargaining negotiations.

UMW Strike Rumored

Philip Murray, CIO-USW president, did not comment on Fairless' announcement he was willing to resume negotiations. Murray called off a steel strike last July for 60 days while the board investigated the dispute. At the request of President Truman, the strike truce was extended to Sept. 25 after the board's report last Saturday.

There were rumors of a possible strike by the United Mine workers as the union officials opened contract negotiations with the Southern Coal Producers association at Bluefield, W. Va. The operators have been adhering to the policy of "no contract-no welfare payments." The union is seeking past due payments by the operators into the union's welfare fund.

Two Bright Spots

In New York, a strike vote by 200,000 employes of the General Electric company and Westinghouse Electric corporation was suggested by negotiating committees of the CIO United Electrical

Young Blonde, In Love With Convict, Pleading His Case

(By The Associated Press)

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15—Peggy Peterson, 22, blonde and pretty, fell in love with a convict.

She was a receptionist and typist in one of the offices at San Quentin prison, California.

William J. Sansbury, a 24-year-old convicted burglar, was assigned to the same office as a clerk.

"I don't know when or how we fell in love exactly," she said.

But she does know that it has sent her life up a new, unchartered road that has not been easy to follow.

Sansbury was released on parole from San Quentin recently after serving 21 months for burglary. He was brought to Baltimore to stand trial on a two-year-old charge that he forged $875 in checks.

The trial was held yesterday in criminal court before Judge Robert France.

Savings Offered

Sansbury's attorney told the story of the prison romance.

Then Peggy took the witness stand. She had quit her job to come east to help Sansbury.

"Judge, I know he'll go straight," she pleaded.

She offered $200 of the $240 she had left from her savings to help Sansbury make restitution for the offense he admitted.

Peggy disclosed she has applied for a marriage license. Whether or

Enrollment For Year Expected To Show Drop

Permits Issued To 5,442; Classwork Starts Saturday

Up to 2 o'clock this afternoon, a total of 5,442 students had obtained permits to register for the fall semester at Texas Technological college.

The figure was climbing steadily and lacked only 703 reaching the final enrollment figure of 6,145 in the fall semester last year.

Drop Is Expected

In keeping with the anticipated trend in other colleges, less enrollment is expected in Texas Tech this fall than during the fall semester last year since fewer veterans are expected to enroll.

The veterans' enrollment figure also was continuing to climb this afternoon, coming within a few hundred of the total of approximately 2,200 in the fall semester last year.

Up to 2 p. m., almost 1,700 veterans who will attend college under the GI bill had begun registering, said H. A. Anderson, coordinator of veterans' affairs. Approximately 100 additional veterans whose aid under the GI bill has expired and who will receive tuition under the Hazelwood act Men honorably discharged, who are citizens of Texas and whose help under the GI bill has expired are eligible to apply for tuition under the state act.

Periods Are Assigned

Registration was proceeding at an orderly pace, said Registrar W. P. Clement.

Contributing to the steady, orderly manner of registration, students were reporting at assigned 30-minute periods to register. Before opening of official registration at 8 a. m., approximately 5,300 had obtained permits to register and assignment of registration periods.

Following the two official registration days, classes will open Saturday morning. Monday will be the final day for registration without payment of a late registration fee. Thursday, Sept. 22, will be the final day a student may enroll for the fall semester.

Meetings Are Held

Separate meetings of freshmen women and men were conducted Wednesday night in the recreation hall and gymnasium, respectively, Dean of Women Margarette Walker

IN JAIL, TOO—Maurits Peterson, jr. 27, whose wife Sandra faces a murder charge in Brady, Tex., in connection with death of real estate man Lewis Patterson, is serving a jail sentence in California for hit-run driving and failure to provide for a child by a former marriage. Peterson says he will join his wife in Texas as soon as he's free.

Four Burglary Reports Made

Police and county officers this morning were investigating four burglary offenses.

Approximately $100 worth of merchandise was reported taken from J. W. Hendryx grocery, at 501 Ave. Q, which was entered at a west window after a screen had been slit and window glass shattered.

S & S Sales and Thompson garage, both at 706 Broadway, were broken and entered. Intruders went into the garage by prying a board off the rear of the building. From the garage, entrance was effected to the sales company, which is a partitioned-off space in the garage building. Loss was light.

Residence Entered

County officials were studying reports that someone broke and entered the David Zipps residence in the Avinger addition, scattered possessions but probably removed nothing.

Moore's Bonded patrol discovered the grocey burglary about 2 a. m., official reports of the police showed.

Taken, according to a preliminary estimate of store owners, were four dozen pairs of canvas gloves, a half dozen pairs of leather gloves, a box of frankfurters, approximately 12 pounds

Kiwanis Raises Fund For Girls

L. E. (Jack) Davis today announced at a Kiwanis luncheon in Hotel Lubbock that the club has raised $12,931.38 for the erection of a new Girl Scout building at 2600 Ave. P.

Davis, who was president of the club in 1948, told fellow members the Kiwanis club plans to complete the project before officially turning it over to the Girl Scouts.

William C. O'Mara, chairman of the building committee, said plans for the building are now in the hands of James Atcheson, an architect, who has promised to have the blueprint completed soon.

Bids To Be Taken

"Then we will take bids from reputable contractors," O'Mara said, "and start construction as soon as possible. We would like to have the building completed by the end of the year," he added.

Others on the building committee are Larry Copenhaver and Tillman Carter.

Mrs. J. B. Jones, chairman of the Girl Scout office staff, said "it's a dream come true" as she thanked the Kiwanis club for its official project. She spoke in behalf of the more than 400 adult leaders and 1,100 girls associated with the Girl Scout program here.

O'Mara called for a vote of thanks for the preliminary work done by Davis and the members returned a loud clapping ovation.

Davis reminded the club of its

SEARCH FOR TEXANS IS ENDED

Fliers Found Dead In Plane Wreckage

(By The Associated Press)

WAYNOKA, Okla., Sept. 15.—Five Air Force paratroopers today dropped from the skies to find a light civilian plane—missing since last Thursday—burned and its two occupants dead.

The plane with its two victims was found seven miles southwest of Waynoka in rough sand hills country near the Cimarron river.

Burned beyond recognition were J. W. McBrayer, White Deer, Tex., and William B. Cline, Amarillo.

They were returning from Cleveland to Amarillo when they were lost in murky weather and crashed.

Farmer Heard Crash

The paratroopers reported they could make out the name J. W. McBrayer on the plane.

The country in northwest Oklahoma where the plane crashed was so rugged that the bodies had to be carried out to ambulances on the highway.

First tip on the whereabouts of the plane came from a Freedom, Okla., farmer, who heard the crash and saw smoke last Thursday.

Paratroopers Jump

Paratroopers of an air rescue unit flew to the scene and descended. Making the jump were Master Sgt. J. F. Ryan, Staff Sgt. A. W. Roffiter, Sgt. G. O. Fealock, Sgt. B. R. Nuckels, and an unidentified airman.

The search turned to the Waynoka area when a Freedom, Okla., farmer, Darrell Bilyeu, yesterday said he heard a crash last Thursday and saw smoke. However, he said he did not think any more about it until he heard of the search.

New Cobb's Store Adds "Spoke" To Hub-Of-The-Plains

Lubbock's enviable position as one of the great trading posts of the Southwest will be strengthened tomorrow when Cobb's, another large new department store, opens for business following its openhouse between the hours of 7 and 10 o'clock tonight.

Every appreciable addition to the city's retail market serves not only to more greatly attract longtime patrons. It also serves to extend the area by attracting additional customers from points farther removed over West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. The addition of Cobb's to Lubbock's retail market will add greater appeal to buyers from over the far-flung retail and wholesale empire revolving around our city.

See Section 3 of today's Journal for complete information about Cobb's new store—another spoke in the Hub of the Plains.

Germans Elect Cabinet Chief

BONN, Germany, Sept. 15 (AP)—Catholic conservative Dr. Konrad Adenauer skinned through by a one-vote margin today to win the necessary majority to elect him first chancellor of the west German republic.

The 73-year-old lawyer pulled a bare majority of 202 votes in the 402-member bundestag (lower house) of parliament after nomination by President Theodor Heuss yesterday.

As first German chancellor since Adolf Hitler, Adenauer will be the strongest man in the new federal government, heading a cabinet of his own choice.

To Have Policy Role

In his new position—equivalent to prime minister—Adenauer will assume the guiding role in western Germany's return to self-rule.

The three-party rightest coalition supporting Adenauer came within one vote of failing to win the necessary majority.

The vote was: yes—202, no—142, invalid—1, abstained—44.

Although there are 402 deputies, only 389 were present at today's session. The constitution requires a majority of the full house, regardless of whether all 402 members are present.

It appeared obvious that the 15 Communists had joined the Socialists and disgruntled Bavarian rightists in opposing Adenauer for chancellorship.

To Select Cabinet

Oil Allowable Hiked By Texas Commission

AUSTIN, Sept. 15. (AP)—An average allowable of 2,135,238 barrels of crude oil per day for October was ordered today by the Texas Railroad Commission.

This will represent a 32,044-barrel daily increase over the current permission flow of crude oil, the commission reported.

The slight increase was achieved by adding one day to the producing schedule. This will put statewide flow on a 19-day basis and the East Texas field on 17 days in the 31-day month compared with 18 and 16 days, respectively, for the 30-day month of September.

Russian Roulette Is Fatal To Ohio Youth

AKRON, O., Sept. 15 (AP)—Russian roulette killed a 17-year-old boy last night at nearby Cuyahoga Falls.

Police Sgt. Paul Benway said the victim, Gordon C. King, was showing a friend, Lynn Hastmen, 13, how the game is played.

He removed all but one bullet from a .22 caliber revolver, spun the chamber and placed the weapon against his temple. Then he pulled the trigger, but the hammer fell on an empty chamber and nothing happened.

He tried it a second time and fell dead, a bullet through his brain.

Waitress Dies After Shooting

AUSTIN, Sept. 15. (AP)—A 29-year-old waitress died here today after being shot in the backyard of her step-father's home.

The victim, Mrs. Mildred Rankin, was fatally wounded, and her companion, William C. Bryan, Austin, was nicked on the right temple. His wound was not serious.

Man Is Held

Mrs. Rankin's step-father, 77-year-old George W. Gregg, was held by city police.

Detective K. R. Herbert quoted the Spanish-American war veteran as saying he heard someone in his back yard late last night, shoved a .45-caliber revolver into his belt and walked into the darkness.

Police quoted Gregg as saying he saw two persons, and he thought one of them was coming toward him.

Firing Is Started

He shouted to them to leave, whipped out his gun, he told police, and began firing.

He stopped when his stepdaughter began screaming, "Mamma, mamma, I'm shot."

U.S. Senate Chase Opens In New York

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 — The nation's only U. S. Senate contest this year starts officially in New York today with nominations of Senator John Foster Dulles, Republican, and former Governor Herbert H. Lehman, Democratic and Liberal party candidate.

The Democratic state committee meets in New York City to name Lehman, 73-year-old financier, four-term governor and one-time director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration.

The Republican state committee will meet in Albany to nominate Dulles, 61, a lawyer and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's adviser on foreign affairs.

Unexpired Term Open

Dulles and Lehman—both of whom were prodded by their party leaders to enter the race—seek to fill the remaining year of the unexpired term of Robert F. Wagner, veteran Democratic senator

Wagner, who sponsored much of the New Deal's important legislation, resigned last summer in the face of illness and advancing years.

Dewey appointed Dulles to serve as senator until after the election, and later helped persuade him to run Nov. 8

The Dulles-Lehman contest is expected to be a popular test of President Truman's fair deal. It also is expected to give some indication of what lies ahead in the 1950 elections.

The outcome is likely to affect Dewey's decision on whether he will try to stay in public office after 1950, when his term expires.

Dewey Refuses To Run

Dewey—twice beaten for president—was urged by some GOP leaders to enter the Senate race, but refused. He now is reported pointing toward a try for a third term as governor next year.

Lehman was beaten in the 1946 Senate election by Republican Irving M. Ives, New York state's senior senator.

Woman Is Injured When Cars Collide

A 67-year-old Lubbock housewife suffered a broken neck and her 26-year-old daughter was charged with a traffic offense in connection with the collision of two automobiles at 8:25 a. m. at Twenty-fifth and Ave. V, police said.

The victim, Mrs. E. W. Adkison of 1914 Eighteenth was taken to West Texas hospital by Bix ambulance.

It was feared she may have suffered internal injuries, as well.

The daughter, Mrs. Irene Adkison Holman of 2508 Thirty-sixth, was driving her light sedan northward on Ave. V. A light new pickup operated by Charlie Perryman, 17, a negro of 2602 East Ave. D, was traveling westward on Twenty-fifth.

R. O. Christesson, traffic car patrolman who investigated the collision, gave Mrs. Holman a ticket asking her to appear on a charge that she failed to yield right-of-way to the other vehicle. Her car, the report showed, struck the pickup in the left front and side.

Mrs. Adkison's condition was good as could be expected," a report from the hospital said at 11 a. m. Her first lumbar vertebra was fractured, her physician said.

KILLED IN CRASH

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 15. (AP)—Count Gottfried von Bismarck-Schoenhausen, 48, grandson of the German empire's "iron chancellor," and his 33-year-old wife, Melaine, were killed yesterday in an automobile crash, police reported today.

Sailor In Sea For 12 Hours

ROME, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—A U. S. sailor who fell off an aircraft carrier and paddled for 12 hours in the Mediterranean was called on the carpet to answer some embarrassing questions today.

Seaman William Joseph Toles, 19, of Rochester, Mich., was picked up by a merchant ship some 62 miles out in the Mediterranean, landed at Genoa, and forwarded to Rome.

Toles fell off the carrier Coral Sea Tuesday night. The big ship looked for him for hours, in vain. Twelve hours later the freighter Executor of the American Export lines fished him out of the sea.

Red-necked with embarrassment, the sailor went today before Commander Edgar K. Thompson, U. S. naval attache in Rome, who asked some searching questions.

"Just Like That"

"How," the commander asked, "with all that deck space big enough for a squadron of planes to land on did you happen to fall off that ship?"

"Well sir, I just don't know," Toles answered. "I was just walking along on that ship, and all of a sudden I found myself in the water."

"Just like that?" Thompson asked, raising an eyebrow.

"Just like that, sir."

"Then what did you do?"

"Well, sir, I pressed the inflating button on my mae west life preserver and started yelling. I yelled mighty hard."

His story to the commander was at some variance with the quotations attributed to him by sources in Genoa. There he was quoted as saying he decided to take a little snooze on deck, and rolled overboard while asleep.

Two Killed In Blast Of Generating Plant

RUSHVILLE, Ind., Sept. 15. (U.P.)—A $1,000,000 power generating plant blew up today, killing at least two persons and possibly burying others in the wreckage.

Indiana state police reported that one body was removed early from the debris. Police Chief Julius Campbell said another body was removed a short time later.

The explosion wrecked a building housing a turbine in the Southeastern Indiana Power company's diesel generating plant, which makes electricity for many communities in southeastern Indiana.

Second Fair Booster Trip Is Taken Today

Headed by Gordon Thompson and John W. McKee, co-chairmen, the boosters made stops at Shallowater, Anton, Littlefield, Amherst, Sudan and Muleshoe before noon.

The group was to go to Farwell and then Clovis, where lunch was to be eaten, before journeying to the last stop on the trip, Portales. Boosters are due back in Lubbock at 6:30 p. m.

Two more boosters trips will be made next week on Tuesday and Thursday.

Oklahoma "Jim Crow" Laws Set Back For Negro Student

(By The United Press)

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 15—Two ancient Oklahoma "Jim Crow" laws were threatened today as a negro student won the right to live on the state university campus and remain in the city overnight.

The University of Oklahoma board of regents ruled last night that Julius Ceasor Hill, 40, Tulsa, was entitled to housing accommodations on the campus.

Hill, a graduate student in English, had protested earlier yesterday to university President George L. Cross that his reservation for a room on the south base campus had been cancelled although "they accepted my deposit of $10."

The negro explained that he mailed in his application with the word "American" written in the blank for race.

Cross hastily summoned the board of regents into extraordinary session when Hill refused to accept the cancellation.

The board's arbitrary ruling meant that Hill's admission to the campus would break an Expanding the support the club already has been giving to Girlstown, U. S. A., Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club will make a $50 monthly donation to Girlstown and will sponsor an annual winter carnival and dance for benefit of Girlstown, club representatives announced today.

The first annual winter carnival and dance sponsored by the club was given Dec. 7 last year with approximately $500 in proceeds going into a fund for use in club projects. That money also has been put aside for use for the club in buying needed items at Girlstown.

Hereafter, proceeds will be sent directly to Girlstown for use there as needed.

In addition, the Lubbock club will present information about Girlstown to the district Business and Professional Women's organization and also to the national organization so that Girlstown may be considered as a national project.

Man Who Went On Rampage In Neighbor's Home Killed

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15 (AP) — Charles Burke lay in a hospital today with a stab wound inflicted by a young army veteran who went on a rampage which ended in his death.

Burke, 31, was knifed in the abdomen when he tried to subdue Lawrence Moyer, 24-year-old purple heart veteran. Moyer had nearly wrecked a neighbor's home and had terrorized an entire block in south Baltimore before he was finally cut down yesterday by bullets from a policeman's revolver.

His relatives said the ex-serviceman had been wounded in the head shortly before the end of World War II. They told police he often had suffered seizures and "didn't seem to know what he was doing."

Incident Described

Officers gave this account of yesterday's episode:

Moyer suddenly lost control of himself, stomped into the home of his next-door neighbor, Mrs. Mildred Watts, and began to smash furniture.

Burke dashed into the house when he heard the commotion. He tried to quell the raving veteran, who drew a switch-blade knife and plunged it into his neighbor's abdomen.

Witnesses summoned Donald Hundertmark, an off-duty policeman who was sleeping in his home across the street. When he arrived and tried to quiet Moyer, a violent struggle followed.

Only after Moyer struck at Huntertwark with the knife, narrowly missing him on one thrust, did the officer draw his pistol and fire. One bullet struck Moyer in the chest and he was pronounced dead at South Baltimore General hospital.

At University hospital attendants said Burke is expected to recover.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 15.—Some of us pie-faces are hard to convince, but John Derek insists that good looks can be an awful liability.

Don't expect Derek to be modest. The town's new rave among leading men won't deny he's handsome. On the contrary, he says:

"The movies always cast the good looking bloke as the leading man, but actually, in real life he isn't a leading man at all.

"Why, in school I was positively an introvert!"

Kids, he said, are inclined to shy away from boys with pretty faces. "They think you feel superior, or they think you're a weakling. It's a hundred times harder to prove yourself a man."

Trouble With Women

That, though tough enough, is in the past. What irks Derek now is that, as an adult, he says he's having the same trouble—with women.

"It's actually hard to get dates," he complained. "The girls think you're conceited. They think that you think you can have any girl you want."

Now working in "rogues in Sherwood Forest," Derek said he turned down the Valentino role because he feels it would have branded him a dandy. He hopes he has lined up, for his next two films, the roles of a circus performer and a football player.

Before crying any salty tears over the plight of poor Derek, consider the bankroll his face represents.

"I guess it is my bread and butter," he concedes, somewhat grudgingly. "But I'd sure like to play a gangster."

Ayres Adds Footnote

Travel notes: Virginia Mayor off to Utah to keep company with her husband, Michael O'Shea, who's locationing for a western. . . . Jane Wyman resting in London after "State Fright." She has to be in Hollywood by October to begin "The Glass Menagerie" . . . Ann Blyth is planning a trip to Ireland next year, to visit her mother's birthplace.

John Payne is prepping his first independent movie. But you won't see him cast with his wife, Gloria De Haven. This oft-separated couple decided recently to pursue individual careers.

A switch on an oldie, but appropriate: the sign on the outskirts of Pioneertown, Calif., read "live here and live longer," until Lew Ayers came along. After "Daybreak" locationed a week at the hot desert resort, Lew scribbled beneath the slogan, "it only seems longer."

What would it take to bring Jack Benny back to the screen? "A tremendous script," said Jack. He added that he hadn't run across one. He is, however, mulling the possibility of filming the old Frank Craven stage hit, "That's Gratitude," in which he'd want Ronald Colman as co-star.

Bob Hope reports receiving a lot of mail from Texans since he struck oil in the lone star state. He says they all want to sell him choice land, with oil deposits almost a certainty. "If some property owner would just say he has a piece of worthless swamp land for sale," Bob observed sourly, "I'd probably buy it—from sheer surprise."

HIGHWAYS SHINE

BOSTON, (U.P.)—Millions of tiny beads have been sprayed with bullet-like force into 3,000 miles of state highways to make center white lines wore vivid at night. The project consumed 40,000 gallons of white paint and 240,000 pounds of glass beads.

Turtle Roams Same Area For 62 Years

FLORA, Ill., Sept. 15. (AP)—Myrtle the turtle is back in the Sailor Springs area—maybe.

Some residents are wondering if Myrtle has been roaming these parts for more than 62 years, or whether an old shell game is being played.

George A. Baker said he first spotted the turtle in 1928 and the date "1887" and the initials "D. D." were carved on the back of the turtle he nicknamed "Myrtle." Baker said he carved "1928" on Myrtle's back. Baker carved "1943" and "1947" on Myrtle's shell when he found her again in those years, he said.

The other day Baker said he found Myrtle again and brought her into Flora to show her off.

GUARANTEE SUPPORT PRICE LOWER

Government Is Having Easier Time With Potato Surpluses

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 — Uncle Sam is having a much easier time with surplus potatoes this year than last.

The reason is that there are fewer of them and the grower price guarantee is lower.

It cost the government about $225,000,000 to carry out its price promise on the 1948 crop. Agriculture department officials believe the cost this year will be less than $50,000,000.

Last year's program, which the department only recently wound up, was costly because the crop was about 136,000,000 bushels more than consumers wanted. This was a record surplus.

Program Explained

Here is how the program operated:

Before the 1948 crop was planted the department announced a planting goal in terms of acres to be planted. This goal was divided among individual growers.

The goal was the acreage which the department deemed necessary to produce the potatoes consumers were expected to take. Officials figured that if production balanced with the need, there would be no surplus and prices would naturally work out at or above the price guarantee.

Growers did not plant so many acres as the goal, but more potatoes were produced on each acre than had been counted on.

The surplus developed, and the government said in effect to the grower:

Price Stabilized

The price guarantee averaged about $1.65 a bushel, although it varied by grades and seasons. The government's offer had the effect of stabilizing the market price at or near the government support price, but some growers still had no market.

They turned to the government. It bought the excess potatoes at the promised price and diverted them into byproduct outlets, such as livestock feed, alcohol, flour, etc. But it got very little for them.

Amounts sold by individual growers to the government ran all the way from a few bushels to thousands of bushels. In a few cases individual growers sold more than $50,000 worth to the government. But the average amount sold by each grower to the government was about $6,000 worth.

Not All Profit

Money received from the government was not all profit. Out of it the grower had to pay production costs, just as did the farmer who got equivalent amounts from consumer markets.

How much would growers have received if there had been no support program? There is no absolute way of telling, but department economists estimate the surplus would have pulled the price down to about 90 cents a bushel.

The 1949 price support program is designed to assure growers an average of about $1.20 a bushel, about 45 cents less than last year. The surplus this year may not run over 30,000,000 bushels compared with 136,000,000 last year. About 350,000,000 bushels are used for food and other purposes.

MRS. OLGIE LAMEAR, her rifle ever ready, rolls her wagon through Ohio on the long road from Arkansas to Vermont.

People Along Way Kind And Hospitable

Arkansas Woman, 54, Making Wagon Trek To Vermont Home

CLEVELAND, Sept. 15—(NEA)—Mrs. Olgie Lamear is going home, with her two dogs, 12 pedigreed goats, 48 chickens and three horses. Home to Mrs. Lamear is "50 or 60 acres in Vermont, where I was born." She's been living in Hope, Ark., and is making the long trek from Arkansas to Vermont in a wagon.

"I've been on the road better than three weeks," said Mrs. Lamear as she stopped near here for a night's rest. "I've been traveling ever since our farm in Arkansas was sold at a county sale. Arthur, that's my husband, drove me and my children—that's what I call the animals—to Cairo, Ill., in a truck.

"He had to go back to Hope to take care of business. Then he was going to get on a bus and overtake me. I expected to meet him at the Indiana line, but we haven't seen each other yet."

Mrs. Lamear, a 54-year-old woman in a faded blue cotton dress, recalled that she'd made the trip from Vermont to Arkansas in 1947 in another wagon. The one she's using now was a gift from Arkansas neighbors.

• • •

Just outside of Cleveland, a policeman stopped her at the request of Humane Society representatives, saying that one of her horses looked sick.

"I told the policeman he'd look peaked, too, if he'd been struck by a copperhead, the way Happy was a while back," said Mrs. Lamear.

Mrs. Lemear finds people—and especially policemen—are kind and hospitable. The officer who stopped her gave her oats for the horses. A blacksmith shod one of them. A housewife gave them a supply of carrots.

At her feet, as she drives, are a rifle, a lantern, bones for her dogs, goat milk (food for asthma) and other assorted articles. She usually stops at a friendly farmhouse about sundown, asks if she may sleep in her wagon on the premises.

"I'll sure be glad when we get to Vermont," she said, as she moved on.

Married Woman Is Barred By School

PUEBLO, Colo., Sept. 15 (INS)—The Excelsior school district near Pueblo has ruled that it is "not proper for a married woman to be in high school with unmarried girls."

The ruling came on the application of Mrs. Helen Hunt, 17, for admission to the high school for three credits to earn a diploma.

Snyder Churches Used For Handling Schools' Overflow

SNYDER, Sept. 15 (Special) — Five churches have been pressed into service here to handle the overflow of students from the schools, bursting at the seams with a record enrollment of 1,702.

The high school, with an increase of only 65 over last year's 267, is managing all right, but the elementary school is jammed with 1,370 youngsters, 540 more than last year.

School Supt. M. E. Stanfield announced Wednesday that arrangements have been completed for handling the overflow by placing two sections of the first grade in the First Christian church, two sections of the second grade in the First Baptist church, one section of the second grade in the Presbyterian church, one section of the third grade in Snyder Methodist church, and two sections of the third grade in Snyder Church of Christ.

"We are going along nicely considering the overcrowded conditions prevailing, and we hope to relieve the situation just as soon as new building room is available," he said.

The large increase in enrollment is attributed to the oil development in this area, which has brought hundreds of new families here.

Farmers From South Plains To Meet Here

Farmers from six South Plains counties were to convene at the Experiment station east of Lubbock today for discussions and demonstrations of field crops.

Part of a two-day field event for farmers of this area, men from Lynn, Crosby, Hockley, Garza, Lamb and Hale counties are among those who are expected for the demonstrations.

A variety of tests of cotton and grain sorghums under dry land and irrigated conditions as well as a new storm proof variety of cotton will be shown the farmers, Don L. Jones, superintendent of the experiment farm declared. New varieties of grain sorghum will also be shown.

Other demonstrations will include a mechanical cotton chopper and plots of hybrid corn, plus discussions on defoliation, cotton insect control and the disease known as "angular leaf spot," currently becoming prominent on the Plains.

Lubbock county farmers who were to attend a similar field day last Friday have also been invited to today's event. Farmers from Parmer, Swisher, Floyd, Dawson, Gaines, Terry, Yoakum and Bailey counties have been invited to the second day of demonstrations Friday.

Lubbock Visitors Honored With Series Of Parties

Lubbock visitors are being complimented with a number of courtesies during the cool days of early fall.

Miss Joanne Lord of Portland, Maine, a former Lubbock resident, has received several party honors recently.

A dinner was given for her Tuesday night at the Mexican Inn by Mrs. Betty Winner. Those on the list were the honoree, the hostess, and Mesdames John L. Burkholder, Billy Spikes, Al O'Brien, James Campbell, Byron Martin, C. B. Martin, Jack Conley, and Misses Elizabeth Schmidt, Dorothy McGinnis, Jean Goodloe and Fern Ball.

Mrs. James Campbell entertained with a dessert-bridge for Miss Lord Monday night in her home.

Following a dinner given Wednesday night by Miss Dorothy McGinnis at 2307 Seventeenth, games of Canasta were played. Attending were the honoree, Miss Lord, Miss McGinnis, Mrs. Betty Winner, Miss Elizabeth Schmidt, Miss Jean Goodloe, Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McGinnis.

Miss Goodloe is to entertain for Miss Lord today and Miss Schmidt will have a party for her Friday.

For Mrs. Robertson

Mrs. Sim O'Neal was hostess at a Wednesday luncheon given at her home on the Levelland road as a compliment to her houseguest, Mrs. W. A. Robertson of Comanche.

The luncheon guests were Mesdames G. A. Foote, John VanPelt, Jess Levens, Jack Griggs, Walter Posey, Rufus Rush, Olie O'Neal, Carl York, L. M. Jones, John Glover, Vernon Brown, Bryan McDonald, Eldon Fuller and C. E. Maedgen, sr. Games of bridge were played in the afternoon.

Mrs. Rush will have a luncheon for Mrs. Robertson Friday.

Honor Mrs. Harris

As a courtesy to Mrs. Bob Harris of Abilene, a coffee was given Wednesday morning by Mrs. R. D. Harris at 1801 Twentieth.

On the guest list were Mesdames Ned Craig, Johnny Howell, Lawrence Clark, Ford Bell, E. F. Bell, Gary Martin, Paul Kinard, E. C. Wood, Pauline Barnett, Chester Harris, Glenn Harris and M. H. Kinard, jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris will return to Abilene this week where Mr. Harris will re-enroll at Hardin-Simmons university as a ministerial student.

Lutheran Society To Be Dinner Hostess

Mrs. David Sieberg and Mrs. Burnell Mueller were hostesses at a meeting of Daughters of the King Missionary society of Shepherd King Lutheran church Tuesday night at the church. The opening scripture and prayer were given by the two women.

Mrs. I. E. Scott presented a Bible study on Isaiah and a magazine quiz was led by Mrs. A. J. Becker, jr.

Following an anniversary dinner to be held Oct. 18 at 7 p. m. at the Chicken Village, the annual "Thanksoffering Program" will be held at the church.

Others at the Tuesday meeting were Mesdames Vincent Sells, J. L. Watkins, Vernon Benton, Tom Loyd, Rex Colwick, Orbin Nowell, Joel Neugebauer, Lenro Keeton and Rev. David Sieberg.

Jewish Auxiliary Has Get Acquainted Tea

Jewish Ladies auxiliary began a new season with a get acquainted tea held Wednesday afternoon in Congregation Shaareth Israel. The occasion was also in honor of newcomers.

Rabbi Julius Kerman gave the opening prayer. Mrs. Sam Portnoff directed a program. Mrs. Alvin Goldstucker presided for a business session.

How To Play Canasta; 11

Give Yourself An Edge In Canasta By "Taking Pack"

By WILLIAM E. McKENNEY
Written for NEA Service

THE CHANCE of making a Canasta is obviously better if you have 20 cards than if you have 11. Paradoxically, your chance of getting rid of all your cards is also greater. The more different sets you can meld, the greater the chance that you will be able to get rid of your last few cards by laying off.

The effect here is double-acting. In drawing from the stock, the abstract chance is better to get one of, say, five ranks, than one of two ranks. At the same time, your five different melds limit the opponents' safe discards more than do two melds.

The more melds you have, of course, the more points you score. But a word of warning: do not exaggerate the importance of this reason for wanting to take the pack. If you are a 500 Rummy player, you will perhaps have an impulse to meld everything in sight. But in Canasta, the point values of the melds (usually under 300) weigh relatively little against the big scores—the Canasta bonus (300 or 500), the net gain by going out before the opponents have made a Canasta or before they have melded at all.

Sometimes, as we shall see, the chance of hooking a big score is better served by not melding. The loss in points that you might have melded (usually under 50) is then trifling.

* * *

WHEN we say that the paramount object is to get the pack, we mean, of course, a big pack. A pack of, say, 10 or more cards is usually worth taking at some sacrifice, and when the pack grows to 20 or more, the side that gets it will almost surely have a decisive advantage.

But do not scorn the pack merely because it is small. There is often tactical advantage in taking only a few cards; this is most likely to happen (a) when the pack is taken for the first time, to make an initial meld, and (b) when you have only a few cards left and nothing better to do than take cards to lay off and so build toward Canasta.

The first pack is often the biggest, and in any case taking it is likely to give you a lasting "edge". To make an initial meld, you have to deplete your hand and therefore weaken its scoring prospects; if you can replenish it by taking the pack at the same time, this disadvantage disappears.

Tomorrow: Tips to beginners.

Baptist WMS Fosters Day Of Information

Approximately 85 persons attended the "Day of Information" program sponsored by First Baptist Women's Missionary society Wednesday at the church.

From 10 until 11 a. m., a general meeting was conducted, and from 11 to 12 o'clock, the women met in five different groups under the following chairmen: Mrs. Lattimore Ewing, programs and literature; Mrs. J. Ralph Grant, missions and Bible study; Mrs. Hurley Carpenter, Mrs. J. A. Daniel and Mrs. W. H. Trice, community missions; Mrs. Mack Mead, stewardship; and Mrs. R. W. Caruthers, benevolence. Circle chairmen met with Mrs. A. E. Cook, WMS president.

Members of the benevolence group assisted with serving lunch in the church annex at noon. To conclude the meal, Mrs. Trice presented an inspirational talk on "Soul Winning." Dr. Grant was a luncheon guest.

Mrs. Frank Cheek, accompanied by Mrs. Bob Ramsey, taught the group the WMS hymn for the year, "Christ for the World We Sing." Mrs. Ramsey, president-elect of the College Avenue Baptist WMS, and Mrs. Lee Jackson, president of Trinity WMS, were guests for the day.

Payne-Rader Wedding Read In Plainview

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rader of Lubbock announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss LaVerne Rader, to Marvin Payne, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Payne of route 2, which took place Sept. 10 in Plainview with Dean Brookshire of the Church of Christ officiating.

The bride wore gray with black accessories.

After a trip to Colorado the couple will be at home here. The bridegroom is engaged in farming and is to be bookkeeper at the Tudor gin this fall.

Discuss Texas Heroes At Meeting Of UDC

Two talks featured a meeting of the Stephen Wilkinson chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. H. Hankins.

Mrs. Marvin McLarty discussed "Ben Milam, Impresario in Texas," and Mrs. L. V. Risinger discussed the life of Albert Sidney Johnston.

Mrs. Hankins reported on visits she had paid to chapters as district chairman.

Needle Societies

Mrs. G. W. McCleary was hostess to Wednesday Needle club yesterday afternoon in her newly purchased home at 2430 Thirty-first. She showed her guests through the house.

Friendly Nine Needle club held their first meeting of the fall season when they met for luncheon in the R. W. Breedlove home, Route 7.

New officers installed were Mesdames E. C. Cavines, president; R. W. Breedlove, secretary-treasurer; and John D. Stephenson, reporter.

Secret pals for the summer were revealed. Mrs. J. D. Hendrix was a new member attending and guests present were Mesdames Mary Bell and Lucy Doggett.

Next meeting will be Mrs. Odis Moore, 2511 Twenty-ninth, on Sept. 21, at 1:30 p. m., when a gift exchange will be a feature of the program.

Child Study Unit Is Starting New Year

Autumn corsages were presented to those attending the first meeting of the fall of AAUW Child Study unit 4 Wednesday at Barbara Ann Nislar's, 2111 Twenty-eighth. Flowers used in the corsages were also used to decorate luncheon tables at which 22 members and one guest, Mrs. W. C. Pratt, were seated.

Mesdames Walter Granberry, Frank Cook and M. L. Cooper were hostesses. Mrs. John Blakey presided for business.

Mrs. Cole To Be Club Hostess On Sept. 28

Mrs. R. D. Cole, 2012 Twenty-ninth, will be hostess to the 1936 Forty-Two club at her home Sept. 28 at 2:30 p. m. This was announced at a party given for the club Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. William Maker, 2114 Eighteenth.

Ten members and the following guests attended: Mesdames Ollie Martin, J. L. Pate, George Lee, Sue Jenness and Maude Bradley.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Middle-Aged Widow Is Hesitating To Act On Invitation From Bachelor Friend

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a widow, 47, locally employed in a professional capacity, and in the course of my work I have become friends with a pleasant scholarly bachelor who is about 50.

As I live in a rooming house, I have no place to entertain, and more than once this gentleman has suggested that I might like to spend an evening in his apartment, listening to his musical recordings, of which he has a choice collection. I should very much like to accept, but as I was reared in the horse-and-buggy era, I am a little doubtful about being so "bold."

I have broached the idea to several of my friends, and while some believe it would be perfectly all right for me to go, others firmly advise against it; and in fact one older woman said emphatically, "Drop the man immediately."

If we were young people, impulsive and adventurous or in love, I can agree that there might be risks in that type of visiting; but in view of our age and good common sense, not to mention our respectable status, don't you think an exception might be made for us? I want your frank opinion and I intend to abid by it.

(Signed) E. G.

MATURE CHARACTER ISN'T CONSTRICTED

DEAR E. G.: Everyone who attempts to advise you on this question is likely to give a slightly different answer from the next person. For that reason, to avoid confusion, my recommendation is to follow the promptings of your own conscience and social judgment, in deciding whether to act on the invitation.

If visiting the man's apartment would make you feel vaguely defensive, "scarlet" or apologetic, then or later, I'd say it's better not to go. But if you could stroll in there at peace with your thoughts, as much at ease and as cheerfully curious as if you were entering a woman friend's home for the first time—or as casually as the man might call at your home, if you had one—then I'd say suit yourself and go if you choose.

It seems to me that persons approximately 50 years of age have (or should have) reached a pitch of mature understanding of what they're doing and why; and that they are entitled to be more concerned with the substance than with the "seeming" of their actions.

UPRIGHT SPIRITS DON'T APOLOGIZE

KNOWING what it's all about (as the saying goes); knowing what moral or social values the so-called properties are designed to uphold, they surely ought to feel competent to meet new situations ingeniously rather than stuffily, and without fearing loss of "face." Anyhow, it's my belief that persons your age may do as they please if their ethics are good and their actions decent, even though unconventional by Madame Grundy's standards.

Now one last word: If you do decide to visit the man's apartment for an evening of music, don't "undignify" your friendly acceptance of his hospitality by making copious explanations to mutual acquaintances. The creed of the self respecting person is this (remember it)—"Never explain; your friends don't need it and your enemies won't believe it."—M. H.

Indiana Judge Mentioned As Appointee To Supreme Court

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 15 (AP) — Indiana Democratic circles buzzed today with reports that President Truman would appoint Federal Judge Sherman Minton to the United States Supreme court.

Minton, member of the circuit court of appeals at Chicago, said such an appointment would be "a complete surprise" to him. He was at his home in New Albany, Ind., recovering from a broken leg.

A figure high in state Democratic circles, who asked to remain anonymous, told the Associated

DECISION REVEALED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—President Truman is naming Judge Sherman Minton of the U. S. Circuit Court at Chicago to the Supreme court.

Mr. Truman announced his decision at a news conference today. He said Judge Walter C. Lindley of the U. S. court for the eastern district of Illinois will succeed Minton on the appellate court.

Casper Plaitt, now a circuit judge of Illinois, will succeed Lindley.

Press that party leaders have been given authentic information that Minton would replace Justice Wiley Rutledge, who died last Saturday.

At the same time the Indianapolis Star said its Washington bureau has learned reliably that Mr. Truman would elevate the former Indiana Senator to the nation's highest court.

But White House sources said, in reply to a query last night, that they knew nothing about such an appointment.

The Star said Mr. Truman was expected to make the announcement at his scheduled press conference today.

Minton, now 58, served in the Senate from 1935 to 1941. Then he became administrative assistant to President Roosevelt and nine months later he was appointed to the appellate court. Minton and Mr. Truman were seat-mates while both were in the Senate and they became close friends.

Minton is a Protestant but his wife is a Catholic.

There has been no Catholic on the Supreme Court since Justic Frank Murphy died in July. There had been speculation that the President might choose another Catholic until he named former Attorney General Tom Clark, a Protestant, to succeed Justice Murphy.

Officer In War

With the death of Justice Rutledge, political dopesters again foresaw the possibility that Mr. Truman might give recognition to Catholics in filling that vacancy.

Minton's rise in Indiana politics was coincident with the governorship of Paul V. McNutt, who later became Federal Security commissioner, War Manpower commissioner, high commissioner and then ambassador to the Philippines.

Minton was public counselor of the Indiana Public Service commission when he was elected to the Senate. He was defeated for reelection by Republican Raymond E. Willis.

He attended Indiana university, where he played football, and Yale university law school. In the first World War he served as a staff officer under Gen. John J. Pershing.

He was born in Georgetown, near New Albany. He has three children.

U. S. Seeks To Break Up Food Store Chain

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) — Attorney General J. Howard McGrath today filed suit to break up the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company's nationwide food chain.

The civil action was brought in federal district court at New York City this morning.

It is a follow-up to a criminal conviction of the A. and P. company under the anti-trust statutes at Danville, Illinois, three years ago.

The conviction was affirmed in the U. S. Court of Appeals at Chicago early this year and the company paid fines totaling $175,000.

The action in New York requests a court order requiring A. and P. to separate its manufacturing and processing business from its buying and selling business and to separate its present seven retail store divisions into seven independently owned retail food chains.

Candlelight Vows Read

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Gibson of 2008 Twenty-sixth announce the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Lanier Felber, and T. G. Woolley of Lubbock, which took place Wednesday night at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Paul Patillo, 3201 Twenty-eighth.

Mr. Woolley is a son of Mrs. S. S. Vaughan of Carlton.

The candlelight service was read by Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of First Baptist church.

Following a trip to Colorado and New Mexico, the couple will be at home at 2316 Thirtieth.

TO INSTALL

First Baptist Ruth class will conduct an installation service at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. F. Boldin of the Levelland highway.

Matador Club Filling Out New Agreements

Paul Cates, president of the Matador club, today said all members of the organization are filling out new agreement forms this year.

"We have reorganized the club to aid Texas Tech athletics from top to bottom," Cates said, "and in our process of reorganizing, we are installing a complete new system of records and are asking former members, as well as men and women joining us for the first time, to enter into new agreements."

Meanwhile Bernard C. Vincenti, chairman of the Jaycee public affairs committee, continued to push a Jaycee drive to recruit new members to the club.

He said 70 Jaycees who are canvassing Lubbock for new Matadors are receiving better response during the second week of the drive than they did during the first week.

Goal for the Matador club, according to Cates, is 1,500 new members.

Cates said persons wishing to join the Matador club before the workers contact them can do so by contacting Bo Sexton, club secretary, at the Western Union office.

Son Of City Couple Is Given Promotion

Donald T. Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Gibson of 2008 Twenty-sixth, has been promoted to position of assistant to the district geologist for the Stanolind Oil and Gas company at Tyler, it was learned here.

Gibson received his education at Texas Technological college, getting both his bachelor's and master's degrees here, the latter in 1939. He joined Stanolind the following January and was transferred to Tyler from a geophysical party.

For the past two years Gibson has been supervising Stanolind's core project in the Mexia fault zone area, mostly in Limestone county and some in Navarro county.

Minister At Tyler Is Elected Bishop

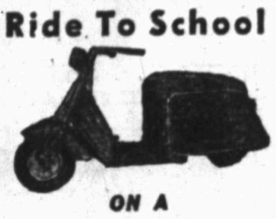

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Sept. 15. (U.P.)—The Rev. James P. Clements, 38, rector of Christ church, Tyler, Tex., will become suffragan bishop of Minnesota.

Clements was elected to the high religious office yesterday at a special convention of the Episcopal church.

He also served as rector of an Austin, Tex., Episcopal church.

Texas Publisher Conceives Religious Work

Original Paintings Of Bible Characters Go On Exhibition

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP) — Original paintings of biblical characters from a book conceived by Houston Harte, San Angelo, Tex., newspapare publisher, were exhibited here yesterday.

Harte selected the biblical passage which accompany Guy Rowe's paintings in the book, "In Our Image."

Both the publisher and Rowe attended the showing at the Ferargil galleries.

It took the artist more than three years to complete the paintings.

News Executives Present

Others present at the exhibit included Henry Luce, publisher of Time and Life magazines; Sumner Blossom, editor of American magazine; William Chenery, former editor in chief of Collier's; Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, who worte the foreword to the book, and Lloyd Stratton, assistant general manager of the Associated Press.

Leon McCauley, manager of the religious department of the Oxford University Press, Inc., which is publishing the volume, said one or more paintings from the book will be published in color in the New York Daily News, the Philadelphia Inquirer, the Milwaukee Journal, the Chicago Tribune and Time magazine.

Purpose Explained

He said they would appear in black and white reproductions in at least 25 religious publications.

Harte publishes the San Angelo, Tex., Standard and San Angelo Times and is a former vice president and director of the Associated Press. He got the idea for the book as a means of making biblical characters more human and appealing.

He learned of Rowe's work while collecting paintings of famous contemporary Texans in 1945. Rowe agreed to take the commission.

Seven Protestant clergymen were asked to list the 50 most significant and interesting stories in the old testament. Harte selected the 26 most frequently mentioned in the lists and eliminated only portions which interrupted the narrative.

"In Our Image" will be published Oct. 6.

GOP Statisticians Predict Majority In House In 1950

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—Republican statisticians figured today that the 1950 congressional elections may well give the GOP 80 additional House seats and a comfortable majority.

They based their figures on returns from the Republican triumph in a special House election in Pennsylvania where GOP candidate John P. Saylor won a seat formerly filled by a Democrat.

The figures came from the office of Rep. Leonard W. Hall of New York, chairman of the national Republican Congressional committee.

If the Republican per cent of increase in the Pennsylvania contest were applied nationally, Hall's office said, "the result in 1950 would be to give the Republicans 80 additional seats in the House."

Won Large Majority

Prior to Saylor's election, the House lineup was: 261 Democrats, 170 Republicans, one American-Labor and three vacancies.

Hall's figures showed that Saylor won by a majority of 8,460 in a race in which 107,358 votes were cast. (These figures differed slightly from other unofficial total compiled by the Associated Press.)

The Republicans said that percentagewise, the total vote was one of the largest ever in a special election—95.8 per cent of the number cast in the regular 1948 election in that district.

Damage Suits Trial Opens In U.S. Court

Trial of two damage suits totaling $90,000 against the Shell Oil Co., and the Shell Pipe Line Co., was started in U. S. District court this morning before Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley and a jury.

The damage suits, based on negligence, are being brought by O. V. Bundy of Denver City and E. R. McCollum of Lubbock, as the result of a gas explosion at Denver City, June 25, 1948, in which the two men were burned and suffered other injuries.

The two cases, both an outgrowth of the same explosion, are being tried jointly at Judge Dooley's direction although there was no formal consolidation of the cases.

McCollum, a foreman for the Panhandle Construction company of Lubbock, and Bundy, an employe, were engaged in construction of a sewage lift station for the city of Denver City, when the explosion occurred. Plaintiffs' contention is that the explosion was caused by leakage of gas from the defendants' pipe line 20 to 30 feet away.

McCollum is seeking $52,500 damages and Bundy $37,500. They are being represented by Davis Scarborough of Abilene and R. T. Bailey of Dallas.

Geo. W. Dupree and James H. Milam of the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree and Milam, are representing the defendants.

PEACE TREATIES MAJOR PROBLEM

Vishinsky Expected To Press For Big Four Meeting At UN

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Sept. 15 — Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky, slated to head the Soviet delegation at the U. N. assembly in New York next week, is expected to press for a new meeting of the Big Four council of foreign ministers.

With U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman all due to be on hand, informed circles here said Vishinsky will urge an early formal meeting of the council.

Questions Left Hanging

When the foreign ministers ended their Paris meeting on Germany last June, they agreed to meet informally during the U. N. session to discuss their next meeting.

The Paris session reached an agreement to end Soviet traffic restrictions (the blockade) in Berlin, but several other questions were left hanging.

Among major problems still to be solved are possible future economic and political unity of Germany, an independence treaty for Austria and reconciliation of divergent allied views on who should write a peace treaty for Japan.

The Austrian treaty was turned over to the ministers' deputies, but they have failed to reach an agreement, thus turning the matter back to the foreign ministers council.

Treaty Urgent Need

Moscow informants said Vishinsky, who was turned down at the Paris meeting, probably will press again for action on a peace treaty for Japan.

Acheson, backed by Bevin and Schuman, contended a Japanese treaty was not a question for the council. They argued it should go to the Far Eastern commission, which includes Australia and the Philippines.

Vishinsky stressed then, and probably will do so again, that he felt the foreign ministers council was the place to begin negotiations on Japan, informants said.

(Acheson and Bevin agreed in Washington this week that a Japanese peace treaty is urgently needed in order to accomplish a long-delayed Pacific settlement.

To Leave For U. S.

(Acheson indicated the U. S. and Britain may make a new bid to Russia to end the two-year deadlock over who should draft the treaty.)

Vishinsky lunched at the American embassy here Tuesday with Ambassador Alan G. Kirk, it was disclosed last night. Kirk said it was a "friendly, purely social" occasion.

He said he had invited the Soviet foreign minister in view of the possibility that Vishinsky would leave for the New York U. N. meeting soon. He said he had followed the practice of meeting with a foreign minister before the statesman left his home country on previous diplomatic assignments.

Moscow observers noted, however, that it was the first time in several years that this principle of diplomatic courtesy had been applied by the American embassy here.

Course At Tech Open To City Residents

Lubbock residents interested in college training in property and casualty insurance are now being permitted to enroll in special evening classes at Texas Technological college, it was announced Wednesday.

Offered by the accounting and finance department, the courses are open to residents who submit a transcription of college or high school credits to the registrar.

The courses will prepare students for the examination which leads to the Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter's certificate. Parts one and two of the course will begin Monday at 5:30 p.m. on the Tech campus.

Veterans who desire training are requested to bring Veterans Administration credentials at the time of their enrollment, it was revealed.

Persons wishing to register Monday night may do so in room 207 of the administration building.

Gov. Alexander Spotswood was partially responsible for the construction of the first ironworks in Virginia in 1716.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate.

When the foreign ministers ended their Paris meeting on Germany last June, they agreed to meet informally during the U. N. session to discuss their next meeting.

The Paris session reached an agreement to end Soviet traffic restrictions (the blockade) in Berlin, but several other questions were left hanging.

Among major problems still to be solved are possible future economic and political unity of Germany, an independence treaty for Austria and reconciliation of divergent allied views on who should write a peace treaty for Japan.

The Austrian treaty was turned over to the ministers' deputies, but they have failed to reach an agreement, thus turning the matter back to the foreign ministers council.

Treaty Urgent Need

Moscow informants said Vishinsky, who was turned down at the Paris meeting, probably will press again for action on a peace treaty for Japan.

Acheson, backed by Bevin and Schuman, contended a Japanese treaty was not a question for the council. They argued it should go to the Far Eastern commission, which includes Australia and the Philippines.

Vishinsky stressed then, and probably will do so again, that he felt the foreign ministers council was the place to begin negotiations on Japan, informants said.

(Acheson and Bevin agreed in Washington this week that a Japanese peace treaty is urgently needed in order to accomplish a long-delayed Pacific settlement.

To Leave For U. S.

(Acheson indicated the U. S. and Britain may make a new bid to Russia to end the two-year deadlock over who should draft the treaty.)

Vishinsky lunched at the American embassy here Tuesday with Ambassador Alan G. Kirk, it was disclosed last night. Kirk said it was a "friendly, purely social" occasion.

He said he had invited the Soviet foreign minister in view of the possibility that Vishinsky would leave for the New York U. N. meeting soon. He said he had followed the practice of meeting with a foreign minister before the statesman left his home country on previous diplomatic assignments.

Moscow observers noted, however, that it was the first time in several years that this principle of diplomatic courtesy had been applied by the American embassy here.

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there has been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Texas druggist for four ounces of Barcentrate. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonsful twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Barcentrate is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate.

Course At Tech Open To City Residents

Lubbock residents interested in college training in property and casualty insurance are now being permitted to enroll in special evening classes at Texas Technological college, it was announced Wednesday.

Offered by the accounting and finance department, the courses are open to residents who submit a transcription of college or high school credits to the registrar.

The courses will prepare students for the examination which leads to the Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriter's certificate. Parts one and two of the course will begin Monday at 5:30 p.m. on the Tech campus.

Veterans who desire training are requested to bring Veterans Administration credentials at the time of their enrollment, it was revealed.

Persons wishing to register Monday night may do so in room 207 of the administration building.

Gov. Alexander Spotswood was partially responsible for the construction of the first ironworks in Virginia in 1716.

Dukes Even Series With Win Over Lamesa

Final Game Is Slated Tonight

ALBUQUERQUE, Sept. 15. (AP)—Albuquerque and Lamesa meet tonight—weather permitting—to decide the second finalist team in the West Texas-New Mexico League playoff.

Albuquerque trimmed Lamesa 11 to 2 last night to even the four-of-seven series 3-3.

The win came behind the pitching of Southpaw Tom Breisinger.

The winner of tonight's game meets Amarillo in the finals starting Friday. If Albuquerque wins, the final round will begin here. If Lamesa wins, the Friday game will be played in Amarillo.

The team with the highest standing at the close of the regular season gets the first games in the series.

Amarillo Is Idle

Amarillo has been sitting idle for several days—waiting for the Lamesa-Albuquerque winner to be decided. Weather has twice postponed the Duke-Lobo series.

Don Ferrarese will pitch for Albuquerque and Bob Upton for Lamesa in tonight's game.

The victory last night showed Albuquerque in the winning form it had all year to cop top spot in final league standings.

Behind Breisinger it was all Albuquerque. The southpaw won his 16th of the year and his fifth against Lamesa. The loss was the fifth for Lamesa pitching ace Jack Guiterrez in 24 games.

A paid attendance of 3,498 saw the game. It was the biggest crowd of the year here so far.

Dukes Go Ahead

Early in the tilt—the first inning—Albuquerque went ahead and was never touched. A single by Manager Hershel Martin and a triple by Allan Maul produced the first run in the first inning.

Dick Dawson walked and scored on Martin's triple to left center and Martin scored on Dick Gyselman's single in the same inning—the third. Les Mulcahy singled to bring home Maul who had walked.

Lamesa's two scores came in the fifth on an infield single by Glenn Selbo and an infield out.

Albuquerque scored again in the fifth and sixth—each time with singles.

Four runs crossed the plate in the seventh. They came on Maul's double, an infield play, a walk, Ben Attyd's single, Duke Hamrick's fly out and Breisinger's single, coupled with a three base error.

The Dukes wound up their scoring when Gyselman doubled in the eighth and scored on Mulcahy's single.

Bowling Results

Bowling in the Business league at Plamor Lanes got underway last night, and Sears took three straight from Stanolind Pipe for the best team score.

Wright paced Sears with 439 points, and Maculia paced the losers with 177-421.

Reeves Insurance and Hub Laundry split, with Reeves winning two of three games. Bean rolled a 204-534 series for the winners, and O. C. Bumpass countered with a 210-503 high for Hub.

In another team match Mark Halsey won two games from West Texas Gas, with Reid rolling 190-462 for the winners and Terry toppling pins for a 177-463 series for the Gasmen.

Household Supply ended the night's activities with a two and one game margin over Dahlson Furniture, with Claiborne bowling the high score for the winners, a 164-478 series. Watson was high for Dahlson, rolling 164-466.

LUBBOCK TAILORING TEAM SCORES WIN IN LEAGUE

The league-leading Lubbock Tailoring bowling team turned back the second place No Name Seven team in the Ladies Commercial Bowling league last night, winning two out of three games.

In other matches, Number Two beat Hemphill-Wells two to one; Southwestern Public Service beat Russell Hardin two to one; and Team No. 6 beat Team No. 8, also two to one.

Artie Reed of Hemphill-Wells grabbed honors with a 209-550 series, while Southwestern Public Service, with a 25-pin handicap, had team honors on a 753-2222.

Individual high scorers from each team included, in addition to Reed, Bertha Thomas, SW Public Service, 206-500; Irene Daniel, No Name No. 7, 174-475; Gale Tyson, Lubbock Tailoring, 172-467; Lovie Beavers, Team No. 6, 194-467; Polly Buckner, Russell Hardin, 138-445; Billy Glover, Team No. 2, 150-445; and Dorothy Payton, Team No. 8, 162-397.

FEATURE CLASHES SET FRIDAY

Class B Games On Schedule Tonight

Three games tonight lift the lid on another full South Plains schoolboy football weekend game.

In all, 29 games are scheduled this week, and of these 11 are conference clashes.

Most of the activity is slated for Friday night, when a 25-game program will be unreeled. A single game Saturday night (Denver City at Wink) rounds out the weekend docket.

Two B Tilts Slated

Two Class B conference tilts and a six-man contest are scheduled tonight. In District 3-B, favored Dimmitt is host to Amherst. District 4-A activity finds Cooper at Meadow, and in the six-man game Pettit plays Three-Way at Morton.

Friday night the plot thickens, with practically all the top area clubs getting in on the act.

Plainview, in District 1-AA, journeys outside the region to meet Polytechnic High at Fort Worth.

In District 3-AA, Lubbock's highly-regarded Westerners open their 1949 campaign by playing hosts to the aerial-minded Childress Bobcats. Lamesa, 7-0 victor over Levelland last week, entertains Seminole, another Class A team. Brownfield is idle.

All nine teams of District 3-A see action this week. The lone conference engagement finds favored Crosbyton at Tulia. Crosbyton was idle last week while Tulia dropped a 6-0 decision to Canyon. Matador, loser by 13-6 to Turkey in its opener, takes on Silverton this week, and Spur goes to Hamlin. Paducah tries for its first 1949 victory when it entertains Crowell, while Floydada is host to the Post Antelopes, defending bi-district champions.

Lockney Meets Sudan

Lockney, 3-A titlist last year, is at home against the Sudan Hornets in an inter-district clash that has attracted considerable attention. Sudan, ranked as one of the top contenders in District 4-A North before the start of the season, lost a 12-7 decision to Class B Dimmitt last week and will be trying hard to get back into the victory column against the burly Lockney powerhouse. Ralls, after earning a 13-13 tie with Post last week, entertains another 4-A south club, Tahoka, this week, and Abernathy, 7-6 upset victim of New Deal in its curtain-raiser, goes against Slaton at Slaton.

One conference clash is on the docket in District 4-A North, where the Morton Indians invade Littlefield to battle the favored Wildcats. Sundown puts its new 2,000 seat grandstand to use for the first time as it entertains O'Donnell, and Muleshoe goes outside the state to meet Portales, N. M. Levelland goes gunning for its first 1949 triumph at Hereford.

The Seagraves Eagles, of 4-A South, make their 1949 debut in a home game with the Big Spring "B" team.

Cooper Invades Meadow

In 5-A games involving area teams, Andrews is at Pecos in what promises to be a scoring bee. Last week Andrews thumped Olton, 44-6, while Pecos was crushing Class AA Brownfield, 41-0. On Saturday night, the Denver City Mustangs play at Wink.

Snyder, lone area representative in 6-A, journeys to Stamford to try for its second straight 1949 win.

In addition to tonight's Amherst-at-Dimmitt battle, three other conference encounters are on the District 3-B Friday night slate. Favored Olton invades Spade, Friona is at Farwell, and Springlake goes to Whitharral. It will be the first night game in history at Whitharral. Hale Center, defending district champ, takes on powerful Kress at Kress in a non-conference go, while Anton enjoys an open date.

District 4-B activity finds Cooper at Meadow tonight, with two more conference meetings Friday night. Ropesville's Eagles are at Petersburg, and Plains goes to New Deal. Whitface entertains the Levelland "B" squad, while Frenship is idle.

Graziano KO's Charlie Fusari

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Rock is back on the victory road. Not the Rocky Graziano of old but still the most exciting fighter to watch in the ring today.

For nine rounds against Charlie Fusari in the Polo grounds last night, it looked like the Rock was through. He was trailing on every scorecard and it seemed only a tenth round knockout could save him.

Then it happened—the explosive burst that the crowd of 31,092 had been waiting for all night.

Left Hook Connects

A left hook suddenly connected and Fusari reeled from mid-ring to the ropes. A right, then another, and then a rain of blows that draped Fusari over the ropes and then to the floor for a count of nine.

Like a tiger smelling blood, Rocky tore after Fusari. He pinned him in a corner, held his head in place with his left hand, and sledgehammered him with his right.

The crowd was on its feet, roaring for the kill. It was like a bullfight with the spectators yelling for the fatal sword thrust. But Referee Ruby Goldstein had seen enough. He pulled the snarling Graziano from his victim and declared the Rock the victor at 2:04 of the last round.

"He shouldn't have stopped it," wailed Fusari. "I was waiting for him to slow up and then I would have come after him."

Few observers agreed with him. But the 24-year-old Jerseyite, stopped for the first time in his career, lost nothing in defeat.

He was outweighed 12 pounds—159 ½—by one of the fiercest punchers in the game—and except for one mistake was the better fighter.

Fusari In Lead

The three officials all had Fusari in front for nine rounds. Judge Charley Shortell scored it 5-3 with one even. Judge Jack O'Sullivan recorded 5-4 while Goldstein's card showed 4-3 with two even. The AP scoresheet had Fusari ahead 5-3 with one even.

Fusari piled up points with left jabs and left-right combinations. He even rocked the Rock in the first round. He opened a cut over the 27-year old New Yorker's left eye in the second frame and took a good many of Graziano's Sunday punches without flinching.

The weight edge caught up with him in the last stages and he admitted he was tired.

Rocky Is Happy

Rocky, who was making his first fight in New York in 15 months, was jubilant.

"I'll take anybody on Jake Lamotta? Sure, I'll take the champ and beat him too. But I need a couple of tuneup fights first. I was rusty but this fight did a lot for my confidence.

"I underestimated Charlie. He's a good fighter but I can lick any welterweight and that goes for Ray Robinson, too."

Graziano will fight in Newark, N. J., after the five stitches heal over his left eye. Then another warmup before he hits back for the big dough.

Meanwhile he cut into a gate of $135,117. It was a good gross. Cloudy skies and a late sprinkler kept the melon from being larger.

RAMBLERS TO MEXICO

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Randolph Air Force base Ramblers will fly to Mexico City today to open their football seasons Saturday against the Colegio Militar eleven.

The first player to break 70 in a single round of the U. S. Open was Tom McNamara who shot a 69 at Buffalo in 1912.

Dodgers Beat Reds, 4 To 2

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Brooklyn Dodgers must be wondering today just what must they do to catch the high-flying St. Louis Cardinals?

Since the first of the month, the Brooks have piled up 11 victories in 13 tries, a true championship gait.

And just how much yardage did they pick up on the Redbirds during that torrid stretch drive? Not a foot. While the Dodgers were polishing off Boston, New York and Cincinnati, the Cards duplicated the Dodgers' feat by winning 11 of their last 13 skirmishes.

So as the two perennial rivals swing into the final two weeks of the blistering National league campaign, the Cards still cling to the game and a half edge they held last Sept. 1.

Dodgers Beat

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

If the signs we saw Monday night, while enjoying a movie under the stars, are any indication, we're going to have an early fall and a long winter. Not that we set ourself up as a weather expert, or expert of any nature, for that matter. But it's a little early for ducks to be making their pilgrimage south—farther south, that is. Yet sitting under the stars, we saw three distinct flights going overhead in the traditional vee formation. Of course, we realize that they might have been flying saucers chasing Alley Oop, or merely specks from the screen, but they looked like ducks. All of which may disappoint the person reporting (the same night) that she saw objects passing over Lubbock that might have been jet propelled.

Jack Parsons, who operates a small business house known as J. C. Penney, reports that pennant fever is sweeping all Missouri. Jack recently returned from a business trip to the state and reports that you'd better get up early and get your business done fast, for there's no opportunity to talk to anyone in the afternoon. As soon as the St. Louis Cardinal game goes on the air, business virtually comes to a standstill. And it doesn't matter whether you're in a big city or a crossroads hamlet. Business, pleasure and everything comes to an abrupt halt as the populace flocks to the radio. After the game is over, you can't get business done because everyone is discussing the game. Jack reports he's never seen a state so baseball crazy. Incidentally, he called up to find out how the Cards fared!

Tonight is payoff night in the Shaughnessy playoff series between Albuquerque and Lamesa. It's been a ding dong series so far, with Lamesa holding the edge by virtue of winning the first game. They've kept the Dukes on the defensive ever since and now approach the final game all even. Their best opportunity of winning came last night behind Jack Guiterrez. Now they come to the final with Bob Upton chosen for the clincher. Upton might fare better this time against Don Ferrarese, who beat him 2-0 Sunday in Lamesa, when the Dukes won on two unearned runs. It will be Upton's third appearance in the series, although he has pitched only nine and two-thirds innings so far. He returned in a relief role Monday night after the game was lost. Certainly this final game should be a bitterly fought one, with the winner weakened for the payoff series against Amarillo.

Anyone who saw the Texas Tech freshmen in action yesterday must have been impressed, tremendously impressed. It has been called the finest first year squad in Tech's history and we can believe it. The first team outweighs the present varsity. The linemen are big and rangy. The backs appear, strictly on defensive display, to be well above average. Once Coach Allie White has a chance to put togethen his men on an organized offensive and defensive basis, they might prove to be tough enough to cause the varsity all sorts of trouble. They did on defensive yesterday. The fish play their first game of the year Sept. 30 against West Texas State's first year men here. It should be a good indication of things to come for fans.

Biggest question mark in the Hardin-Simmons camp at this time appears to be Wilton "Hook" Davis, the fine halfback. The great Cowboy back underwent a knee operation and hasn't done much in practice so far. But does that appear to worry Warren Woodson, the head coach? No. Woodson says that he has six men running in the same slot and that Harold Taylor, with slight improvement, will be as good as Davis. Sounds like Woodson either has a sensational backfield coming up, or else he's whistling to keep up his courage. Certainly the fact that he has moved Pat Bailey, normally a fullback, to Davis' position indicates that the loss is more serious than Woodson would like to admit. After all, wouldn't SMU be weaker with Doak Walker out of there? Yep. And Davis is to H-SU what Walker is to SMU.

Lubbock Gun club was represented by two men at the Grand American Handicap trap shoot in Vandalia, Ohio, and they fared all right. C. D. Blair and Si Gooden finished in the money, but won no major events. Meanwhile, other club members back home here were getting their sights lined up on a couple of shoots in the near future. First of all there will be a shoot in El Paso Sept. 30, Oct. 1, Oct. 2. Then there will be a shoot in Odessa Oct. 29 and 30. The latter originally was billed as the West Texas Association shoot, but now, Odessa promoters want to change the name to the West Texas Championship Shoot, since it is so near the end of the season.

Lou Little, to veteran Columbia university coach (you might almost call him the old pro), has another one of his back-breaking schedules lined up for the Light Blue. But they say he has, for the first time in years, depth. Depth on the Columbia campus means two men for almost every position. The Lions lose a lot of games every year, but they also come up with a great surprise once a year and every now and then they have a great team. One of those great ones beat Stanford in the Rose Bowl when they weren't given a chance. Another beat Army, the first time in three years that the future generals had been beaten. But what we liked best about Little was a recent statement he made in answer to the query about his tough schedule. Lou said: "That's all right. There's no point in getting licked by the dubs. If you're going to get licked you might as well get licked by the good ones." He has something there.

THE ROUNDUP: Jackie Sullivan will work for M. L. Wilkison this winter . . . and M. L. has opened his radiator shop-garage on a 24-hour basis . . . Alton Patterson of Ballinger is the biggest man on the McMurry squad. He weighs 252, stands six feet three . . . Coach Matty Bell of SMU, dean of SWC coaches, is entering his 23rd year as head coach in the conference (TCU six years, Texas Aggies five years) . . . Herb Parsons, the gun expert and marksman who showed here this summer, is advertised as a feature attraction at the Rice Festival in Crowley, La. . . . From a Texas publicity release on the football outlook: "None of the first three foes are recognized football powers . . ." . . . Rocky Graziano won another squeaky one last night . . . Earl Pollard, former Golden Gloves welterweight fighter, was in yesterday. He's going to Tech and hopes to make his pro debut here soon. Like to see him and Jack Woodruff again.

Pioneers Will Test Frenship

At 7:30 o'clock tonight Wolfforth will invade Chapman field for a football opener with the Pioneers of Lubbock High school.

Tickets may be bought at the gate for 50 and 25 cents.

The Frenship school will be bolstered by two lettermen in its start against the Pioneers which has a large squad of boys, a large number of whom gained valuable experience last season in junior high school football.

Coach of the visiting eleven is W. L. Willis, and opposing his District 4-B representatives is a squad coached by Dee Alexander and Leon Batchelor.

Wednesday the Lubbock team went through an offensive workout and practiced punting, punt returns and kicks from placement.

Both teams will run off the T-formation, and there is not expected to be a decided weight advantage by either team. The Pioneers are expected to have a smoother working club this season, with a better running and passing attack.

The Pioneer squadmen:

ENDS—Sidney Allen, Jerry Smith, Larry Corbell, Jarrell Young, Charles Wright, Charles Lackey, Roy Burrows and James Blazi.

TACKLES—Charles Cole, Harlan Cooke, Jim Moore, Nelson Evans, David Smith, Parley Wade, Johnny Turpin, Neal Benjamin, Wesley Curry, Ray Thornton, George Berry and Ray McClarty.

GUARDS—Ben West, Melvin Deardorff, Bobbie May, Charles Nix, Don Stuart, Mike Harris, Teddy Dotts and Jimmy Cantrell.

CENTERS—Howard Branson, John Pittman and Hulen Haley.

Fort Worth Defeats Shreveport, 8 To 1

(By The Associated Press)

Fort Worth and Oklahoma City held the edge in the Texas league's Shaughnessy playoff today.

Oklahoma City's second tilt with Tulsa was rained out last night, but Fort Worth managed to open in threatening weather and promptly took an 8-1 victory from Shreveport.

The teams meet again tonight at the same sites for the second games in the best four-out-of-seven series—Fort Worth and Shreveport.

Robert Milliken set Shreveport down with three hits and when the Sports lifted Andy Bush for a pinchhitter in the eighth, his mates racked Tom Pullig and Dee Sanders for six runs.

Bush had yielded only two runs and four hits in the seven innings he worked.

Competition In City Bowling Loop Slated

The newly-organized Women's City Bowling league will begin a 26-week schedule at Plamor Lanes on Sept. 19, league officials announced Wednesday.

The six-team league will stage matches at 7:30 p. m. each Monday, with all competition on a "two-third handicap, 110 blind" basis.

Officers chosen at the league's organizational meeting earlier this week were Nita Haseloff, president; Nell Gamble, vice-president; Arcine Haseloff, secretary; Nancy Gamble, treasurer; Pat Zimmerman, reporter, and Billie Rogers, sergeant-at-arms.

Doaker Has Room For Improvement?

DALLAS, Sept. 15 (AP)—Doak Walker COULD improve on his football record. But leave us not hold it against Southern Methodist's All-America if he doesn't.

For instance he could run 97 yards with a kick-off for a touchdown. His best was a 96-yard gallop against Santa Clara in 1947.

He could carry a punt back 77 yards for a score. His top run along this line was 76 yards against Missouri last year.

He could lope 71 yards from scrimmage for a touchdown. His best thus far has been 70 yards against Texas.

He could kick 80 yards. His longest punt was 79 against Oregon last Jan. 1 in the Cotton Bowl.

Martin Beats Pat O'Dowdy

Wayne Martin made his return to the area a memorable one last night at Sled Allen's arena as he met and defeated rugged Pat O'Dowdy in the final event of a bout which combined boxing and wrestling.

O'Dowdy made up for his shortcomings as a wrestler to deal "off the record" punches to Martin as he realized that Martin was the better wrestler.

Spectators greeted each appearance of O'Dowdy with boos and empty popcorn containers, and during the match he was showered with two cupfuls of orange drink which hit innocent spectators. Following the match a brief fist fight broke out, but little damage was done to either party.

Martin won the first fall after 15 minutes with a cradle-split in an action-packed performance, with each wrestler breaking many holds before Martin could catch the Rowdy one.

O'Dowdy came back in the second fall, and with what was allegedly a mouthful of rubbing alcohol blinded Martin long enough to pin him in two minutes with an arm lock and stomp.

After five minutes of slugging, Martin won the final round with a drop-kick and smother to take the match. Following the decision O'Dowdy and Martin went at it briefly again, with the referee becoming involved also.

Winner of the semi-finals event was Bill Brooks, making his first appearance in the local arena, and he took Billy Sandow in two of three falls for the verdict.

Brooks, an oldtimer in the game, showed up well before the large crowd in taking the first fall in eight minutes with a stepover toehold. Sandown countered with an inside stepover toe hold for the second fall, but Brooks won the third set-to and match with a hammerlock slam in 13 minutes of the final period.

Another colorful bout was seen in the preliminary, with Gorilla Pogi and Glen Detton giving their all in this one.

The match went 14 minutes of hard wrestling before Pogi caught Detton with a cat toehold and finished the bout.

AMATEURS INVITED

FORT WORTH, Sept. 15 (AP)—Eighty-eight outstanding amateur golfers have been invited to play in the pro-amateur event preceding the Texas-Oklahoma professional team matches next week.

Raiders Hold Hard Workout

It looks like a rough afternoon for Texas Tech today.

Yesterday's disappointing scrimmage with the freshman squad demonstrated that either the Red Raiders had better wait until the freshmen are eligible for varsity competition, or else the varsity had better start tightening up.

Certainly the varsity looked anything but good against Coach Allie White's first freshman team. The yearlings stopped everything the varsity threw at them. They not only stopped the more experienced team, but they often threw the backs for losses. It was a bigger, tougher freshman line that did the job.

Several first year players stood out in the scrimmage. Backs W. H. Barker of Colorado City and Gene Doss of Arlington Heights, Fort Worth, backed up the line notably well. Jimmy Williams of Phillips, at center, also was backing the line strongly. Other linemen showing up well included Neil Rogers of Abilene at guard, Marland Ribble of Arlington Heights, Fort Worth, and August Meynig of Colorado City at tackles, and Alton Linne of Monahans at end.

Williams was hurt during the scrimmage and had to be carried from the field. His left knee was twisted as he went after a tackle and was blocked from the side. Trainer Mason Gorby said that he was afraid it was serious, after a thorough examination had been made.

As for the Tech varsity, Coach Dell Morgan sent the players through the longest scrimmage of the year, with gradual improvement being noticed as the afternoon wore on. Blocking improved considerably, especially against second and third string freshmen, but the showing yesterday did not lend encouragement to hopes of an upset over Texas Saturday.

Downfield blocking by the Raider regulars was pretty good, but line blocking was shoddy much of the time. Against a strong freshman line that was packed, Tech wasn't having much success.

The entire scrimmage yesterday still showed that the Raiders have a lot of work ahead of them.

BORNEMAN WILL MISS TECH GAME BECAUSE OF INJURY

AUSTIN, Sept. 15 (AP)—Fullback Ray Borneman, top ground gainer of the Texas Longhorn team last year, may not play against Texas Tech here Saturday.

Soreness in a knee which he injured in the Orange Bowl game has been troubling him. Coach Blair Cherry said he did not want to take a chance on the knee being reinjured.

Trainer Frank Medina reported the knee has healed, but needs more conditioning before Borneman can go full tilt.

Lewis Levine of Harlingen, a 185-pound Junior squadman, ran at Borneman's spot in the No. 1 lineup as the Longhorns went through a long drill yesterday afternoon.

Levine has been looking good in practice sessions and will start Saturday in Borneman's place.

The remainder of the starting offensive backfield will see either Bobby Coy Lee or Paul Campbell at quarterback; Perry Samuels, one of this week's co-captains, at left half, and Randall Clay at right half.

Probable starters in the line are Ends Ray Stone and Paul Williams; Tackles Gene Vykukal and Kenneth Jackson; Guards Errol Fry, co-captain, and Bud McFadin; and Center Dick Rowan. There will be several changes if Texas kicks off.

Sophomore Byron Townsend was running at full speed yesterday after missing last week's scrimmage because of a sore shoulder. He will share left half duties with Samuels and Billy Pyle.

Cherry tested both the offensive and defensive strength of his team in a scrimmage against a demonstration team which ran Texas Tech plays.

A crowd of 30,000 to 35,000 is expected for the Texas season opener, Ticket Manager Alice Archer reported.

Journal Presents New Grid Feature

The Evening Journal again today presents another sports first, a high school schedule chart that lists all the important games on the schedule this week end.

The chart is a compact form by which you follow your favorite high school teams. In reading the chart from left to right you will find key letters substituted for the names of opposing teams. Each week the results of games played will be added in dated columns until the yearbook is completed.

Reading from left to right, the first team will be known as AA, therefore the letters AA appear in the schedule opposite the team which they will play on the date listed at the top and in the same column. Capital letters indicate games at home; lower case letters indicate games played away.

To determine conference games, check the number of the districts showing in the column next to the name listed. When one team plays another WITH LIKE DISTRICT NUMBERS, it will be a conference game.

This feature will appear each week on Thursday afternoon in The Evening Journal.

Lighted Field Goal At Tech

A lighted softball field will be the principal project of the Texas Tech chamber of commerce, whose members yesterday began a membership drive for the ensuing year.

Organization membership is open to any student enrolled at Tech, according to Bill McCasland of Lamesa, president. McCasland, a senior, said that there will be membership booths on all registration lines today and Friday.

Last year the group produced a 30-minute, color motion picture, "Futures Unlimited." The film has been shown throughout the South Plains area, and acclaimed as a student-directed, student-cast production.

"Our idea is to create and foster a spirit of generous consideration among the students at Tech, in an effort to create a better institution," McCasland said.

Sponsored by Haskell G. Taylor, acting dean of business administration, the chapter is one of the few located on an American college campus. The group is seeking recognition by the national chamber of commerce.

Midland Nine Blasts Vernon Dusters, 8-1

(By The Associated Press)

Midland jumped to a one-game advantage over Vernon as one Longhorn league playoff series managed to set underway.

The Indians exploded for six runs in the second inning last night and then went on to beat the Dusters, 8-1.

San Angelo and Big Spring were idle for the second straight day. This time it was wet grounds.

Tonight, Vernon and Midland play again at Midland and San Angelo is at Big Spring.

Julian Pressley's home run, four singles and an error gave the Indians the six big runs in the second inning.

Southpaw Ernie Nelson scattered eight hits to Vernon, but one was a homer by Cotton McCaskey in the eighth.

A crowd of about 1600 watched the game.

JUDGE BERATES NEGRO ATTORNEY

Lawyers In Communist Trial Cited For Contempt Of Court

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—At least one—and maybe more—of the defense lawyers at the Communist conspiracy trial must answer contempt charges when the case ends.

Federal Judge Harold R. Medina slapped a contempt citation on Defense Attorney George W. Crockett, jr., yesterday.

The judge called a second attorney "persistently contemptuous."

The crackdown on Crockett, a Detroit negro, was the most severe administered by Medina in his many arguments with the defense of 11 top Communist leaders, on trial for almost eight months.

The judge did not sentence Crockett but told him: "You will be brought to justice."

Defendant Carl Winter, Michigan Communist leader, was being cross-examined in a government effort to learn if he had used false names. He repeatedly pleaded that he could not remember places and events brought up by U. S. Attoryen John F. X. McGohey.

Birth Record Introduced

Finally, Judge Medina permitted introduction of a birth record to try to pin down Winter's whereabouts in June, 1942. It was a record of the birth of his only child, a daughter.

"The witness brought this on himself by one of his nonresponsive answers," Medina said in permitting introduction of the birth record.

Then the judge began to read parts of the birth certificate himself. Apparently he read more than Crockett thought he should. The attorney jumped up and started:

"In view of your honor's seemingly unintentional reading . . ."

Judge Medina cut Crockett short and told him:

"That is one of the most contemptuous things that has occurred at this trial, and for that you will be brought to justice. You say I seemingly do something and accuse me of deliberately evil motives here.

"I now adjudge you in contempt for that."

Objections Cut Short

Crockett protested that he meant no reflection on the court.

Another defense attorney, Harry Sacher, asked the judge to vacate the contempt citation.

"I shall certainly not vacate it," Medina replied. "I have had too much of that sort of thing."

A short time later, Sacher fell afoul of the court's wrath. Judge Medina cut short the lawyer's objection to certain evidence and told him he wanted to hear no more argument.

"Will there come a time when your honor will hear us?" asked Sacher.

Crackled Judge Medina:

"Mr. Sacher, I consider that impertinent, but you have been so persistently contempt u o u s throughout the trial I suppose nothing will make you desist."

The 11 Communist leaders are accused of conspiring to advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

City Parking

the guinea pig streets, members of the commission said, parallel parking will be extended to other thoroughfares.

Agreement on the test streets was unanimous, although no recorded vote was taken. Concurring in the proposal were Mayor W. H. Rodgers and Commissioners E. K. Hufstedler, W. B. Price, Clarence Whiteside and John Spikes.

The commission also approved the recommendation of City Manager Matthews that the west (Hilton Hotel) side of Texas avenue between Tenth street and Main be designated for parallel parking.

Proposition Submitted

The call for bids on the use of available areas at Municipal airport for the storage of cotton followed the submission of a proposition to a special meeting of the commission Tuesday by West Texas Compress and Warehouse Co. The company offered the city $250 a month for enough space to store about 40,000 bales of cotton.

The commission rejected the offer to give others who might be interested an opportunity to be heard.

The result of the disclosure of the compress company proposal has been many inquiries and three sealed bids which were referred to the meeting today, officials said.

The commission decided not to open them and announced that any others interested may submit sealed proposals until the Saturday meeting is called to order.

Man With Cut Throat Reported Recovering

HILLSBORO, Sept. 15 (AP) — James Moore of Midland, who drove to a hospital after his throat was slashed, was reported in good spirits today.

Moore, 21, was attacked Monday night by a hitch hiker he picked up at West, Texas.

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

MARKET IS UNSETTLED

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Strike threats in basic industries unsettled the stock market today.

At the final bell losses were in a clear majority but in most cases were limited to less than a point.

Prices declined fractions to around a point at the opening of the market but soon leveled off. Later in the day some issues showed a tendency to rally.

Steel, railway, and oil shares were on the defensive through the session.

Turnover slowed a bit from the fast pace hit Tuesday and Wednesday but toppled 1,000,000 shares for the third day running.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, Barnsdall Oil, Southern Pacific, Douglas Aircraft, Homestake Mining, General Electric, U. S. Gypsum, and American Telephone.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Cotton futures trading was extremely quiet today. Price movements also were narrow. There was some liquidation of the nearby October delivery prior to first notice day on September 27. Hedging made its appearance in nearby March and May contracts which was absorbed by mill price fixing.

Further unsettled weather conditions were reported in the cotton belt, with light to heavy rains falling in Texas.

Cotton futures were quiet and closed steady. Trade buying disclosed a limited amount of hedge selling.

Federal Business Census In District Is Near Completion

The official federal business census in the 19th Congressional district is now 98 per cent complete, L. D. Whiteley, supervisor for this district, estimated this morning.

"The field work has been completed and less than one per cent of the questionnaires are still out," Whiteley explained. "We are helping some businessmen fill out their forms and we expect to be finished by Sept. 30."

Whiteley said no word has yet been received as to whether the local district census office in the federal building will remain open until the first of the year, when preparations for the 1950 census will start in earnest.

It is expected that the office will start taking applications for enumerators about Jan. 15. Unofficial word is that the actual work of taking the 1950 population census will begin in April.

Meanwhile, reports showing results of the current business census are expected to be ready within six weeks of the date when the local office completes its findings.

Man Is Sentenced In Policeman's Slaying

BRECKENRIDGE, Sept. 15 (U.P.) A district court jury last night required only 45 minutes to convict Louis G. Andrews for murdering a policeman and fix the penalty at life imprisonment.

Andrews was sentenced for the June 10 shooting of officer J. L. Shaw. The state had introduced evidence that, prior to the shooting at a railroad roundhouse, Andrews had brandished a pistol and had threatened to use it against the policeman.

Texas Weather

er to North Texas while it lasted.

At Amarillo, Childress and Clarendon, today's early low was 54. Across the state, to the south of the weatherman's "cool curtain," Laredo, Galveston and Brownsville had readings of 76 degrees at the same hour.

The temperature range yesterday afternoon was from 62 at Childress to 98 at Alice. Dallas had a top of 65, Amarillo 68, Texarkana 76, and Waco 79. At the opposite extreme, Laredo came up with a 97, Victoria 94, Brownsville and Corpus Christi 92, and San Antonio and Houston 91.

Rainfall in the 24 hours ending this morning was mostly moderate and was well scattered. Mineral Wells had 1.40 inches; Fort Worth, .74 inch; El Paso, .52; and Lufkin, .13. Numerous other stations reported lesser amounts.

Twe layers of clouds, one at 500 feet and the other at 3,000 feet, caused gray skies in Lubbock but were not expected to result in rainfall.

Only one commercial airliner was able to land this morning after it circled the city for about an hour. Other scheduled airliners were rerouted.

The minimum temperature of 58 degrees this morning followed a maximum Wednesday of 63. The mercury was expected to climb to the middle 70's today.

Graveside Services Are Held For Infant

Graveside services were to be held at 4 p. m. today at Lubbock "Babyland" cemetery for Tommy Joe Marcom, 2-day-old son of Rev. and Mrs. Howard Marcom of Wilson, who died Wednesday afternoon in Mercy hospital in Slaton.

Rev. Marcom is pastor of the First Methodist church at Wilson.

Other survivors are a brother, Robert; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Nelson of Abilene, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Marcom of Levelland.

Girl Tennis Player In Incest Case Asks Court's Permission To Enter Tournament

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15 (AP) — Pretty Laura Lou Jahn, 16, who accuses her father of forcing her into intimacies with him, has asked court permission to continue playing in the Pacific Southwest tennis tournament here.

Laura Lou and her 10-year-old brother are in custody of juvenile authorities while their father, tennis coach Leslie E. Jahn, 41, awaits a preliminary hearing on three counts of incest.

A two time winner of the national girls indoor singles title, the girl has matches scheduled for tomorrow and Saturday. She is the nation's second ranking junior girl player.

Jahn, an instructor at exclusive tennis clubs, was arrested last Saturday after his daughter, an attractive blonde girl, told officers her father had forced her to submit to him since she was 10 years old.

He denies the charges, saying his daughter was angry with him because he refused to let her have dates during tennis trips. Specifically, Jahn is charged with having sexual relationships with Laura Lou on the nights of Sept. 6, 7 and 8.

Jahn appeared for arraignment yesterday on a complaint issued by the district attorney's office. Free on $2500 bond, he was ordered to appear for hearing Sept. 26.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Lucille Meska, Laura Lou's mother, arrived by air from Miami, Fla., and went into conference with Deputy District Atforney William Ritzi. She said she plans to seek custody of the girl.

Mrs. Pat Decker, an investigator for the district attorney's office, said she will confer with the court on Laura Lou's request to play in the tennist tournament.

Shivers Announces Plans To Seek Governorship In 1950

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—Gov. Allan Shivers, who had parried questions on the subject in his home state, told reporters here yesterday that he would be a candidate for a full term as governor of Texas in 1950.

Asked if he expects the people of Texas to elect him next year, Shivers gave the emphatic answer —"yes."

To Be Candidate

"Certainly, I'll be a candidate for the governorship—God willing and the people favorable," said Shivers.

He was here as an honor guest of President Miguel Aleman for Mexican independence days celebrations.

Shivers said he was "particularly impressed and very grateful for the grand reception" and he told Aleman that "I am here to convey the very special friendship and appreciation that Texas holds for Mexico."

Meets With Officials

During his tour of the city yesterday, Shivers laid a floral wreath on the monument to independence, met with federal district officials and attended a round of receptions. He will be here until Saturday.

(In Texas, Shivers' announcement of his campaign plan was not unexpected, but the locale was a surprise. He became the third announced candidate. The others are the perennial candidate, W. J. Minton, of Sherman, and twice-beaten Caso March of Waco, former law professor at Baylor.)

AMERICAN VETO THREATENED

United States Not To Okay Gold Hike

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder has notified the international monetary fund that the United States will not agree to a boost in the price of gold.

His declaration indicates that this country will, if necessary, use its veto power to kill any general increase which might be favored by the board of directors of the 48-nation fund.

Snyder made his statement, it was learned today, at a closed meeting of the fund's committee on gold. It helped to quash—for the moment—a South African proposal for a fund study of a new, higher price. It is now $35 an ounce.

To Raise Issue

But the Union of South Africa, world's biggest gold producer, plainly had plans to raise the issue again before the annual governors' meeting of the fund and the world bank ends tomorrow night.

And it became clear that the lines were drawn for a major assault—prolonged if need be—against the gold-price policy of the United States, the world's major buyer.

Meantime the delegates here in annual meeting:

1. Prepared to vote to India the chairmanship of the fund and bank for the next year. The election is tomorrow but the outcome was taken for granted. Some believed that India would select Sir Chintaman Deshmukh, its governor for the fund, to receive the honor.

2. Weighed whether to hold next year's meeting in Paris. France would have had the meeting this year had not economy and convenience dictated otherwise.

May Leave Friday

3. Put a fund committee to work considering ways to break down the currency controls which hamper trade in most of the world. The fund has reported "no general trend" toward improvement in the last year.

4. Heard that Sir Stafford Cripps, British governor for both fund and bank, may leave Washington for home early Friday, before the conference ends.

If so, his departure would leave less chance than ever that the British, heavily pressured to lead a devaluation of currencies among the "deficit countries," might make any statement on the issue.

However, one British official said there is "no change of any kind" in Cripps' familiar stand—that there is no plan to devalue, despite American arguments that this is the only prompt way to build up England's dollar-earning exports.

Anti-Vice League Wins First Clash

LA MARQUE, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—The La Marque anti-vice league held the upper hand today in its fight to clear the city of gambling devices and alleged gambling operators.

Four cafe owners, charged by the Rev. Harry H. Burch and two other ministers with "displaying gambling devices," pleaded guilty yesterday before Justice of the Peace G. P. Reddell in Texas City. They paid $25 fines and court costs. A. J. Bostock, George Bostick, Robert Smith and Herbert Bell appeared voluntarily, a week before their scheduled hearing.

The Rev. Burch, 43-year-old crusader who played the machines himself to prove that they paid off, said more charges would be forthcoming if the machines reappeared in La Marque.

Waco Pirates Drub Texarkana, 16 To 1

(By The Associated Press)

The Waco Pirates walloped Texarkana, 16-1, last night and the team that finished fourth in the Big State league standings is playing like a champion in the playoff.

The lop-sided victory opened the final playoff series in the Class B circuit. The two teams play the second game tonight in Texarkana. The next three games will be at Waco, starting tomorrow.

Bill Pierro, the league's strikeout king, set Texarkana down with six hits and fanned 12.

Waco collected 19 hits off three Texarkana pitchers and splurged for eight runs in a wild fourth inning.

Dixie Upright's three-run homer highlighted the big inning. He also got a double and a single in six times at bat to drive in seven runs.

Texarkana's only run gave it a brief lead. Jim Matthews and Tince Leonard walked and Lou Fitzgerald socked a double.

The committee recommended the union's G-E and Westinghouse conference boards meet jointly Sept. 26 to consider a membership strike vote.

There were a couple of bright spots in labor disputes.

The 22-month-old strike of 1,500 AFL printers against Chicago's five major daily newspapers appeared nearing an end. Representatives of the publishers and the AFL International Typographical union agreed upon terms which provide for a $10 a week wage increase. The rank and file of local 16, Chicago Typographical union, will vote Sunday on terms of the new contract.

UNDERWORLD INVESTIGATION URGED

Frank Costello Tells Mayors He's Not In Their Politics

NEW YORK, Sept. 15. (INS)—Frank Costello, ducking punches from mayors of at least three big cities who charge he's trying to horn into their politics with a crime syndicate, told two of them today they've got the wrong fellow.

The usually tight-lipped New Yorker, whose name has been linked with vice from coast to coast, told Mayor Fletcher Bowron of Los Angeles he was talking "poppycock" and was apparently the innocent victim of a shell game.

Bowron accused Costello of trying to gain political sway in Los Angeles, New Orleans and Chicago and other cities.

Cohen Small Fry

Costello said Mayor Delesseps S. Morrison of New Orleans, who charged Costello was involved in "a vast network of rackets" seeking to dominate the Louisiana city, must be getting his information "from the same bottle as Bowron."

Shortly before the east coast gambler lossed his attack on Bowron, quoting from a letter he sent the California official, the Los Angeles mayor voiced support of a demand that Costello's activities be subjected to a federal investigation.

Bowron described Los Angeles mob Czar Mickey Cohen as a mere "small fry" front man for the Costello underworld octopus.

Support Gained

Morrison, the first to demand a federal inquiry, declared Costello is attempting to make a political grab for power in American cities as well as directing gambling, slot machines and allied rackets that are "national and international in scope."

Bowron and Morrison, spearhead of a "good government" movement to smash rackets in their cities, gained support from Miami, Chicago and Portland, Ore.

Mayor Dorothy Lee of Portland sent word that a recall movement against her "was sponsored by underworld elements."

Charge Answered

The ex-Army colonel asserted Costello chose Los Angeles as the springboard of a grab for political dictatorship and apparently staged the recent Mickey Cohen gang shooting to embarrass the administration of Mayor Bowron.

It was this charge Costello answered from his New York headquarters. The letter was addressed to Bowron, but he made it clear he didn't mind if it fell on the ears of Morrison also.

Costello wrote Bowron: "If you are remotely qualified to be the mayor of such a large city, you should realize these statements are wholly false and pure fiction."

He told Bowron he was never connected with gambling or any enterprise in Los Angeles, or in its political campaigns.

He closed with the opinion that it should be an easy matter for Bowron or any mayor to keep gambling and racketeering in check.

Two Young Refugees From Latvia Find High Adventure At County Fair In Pennsylvania

MANN'S CHOICE, Pa., Sept. 15(AP)—A trip to a county fair would be just another outing to most Americans. To two refugees from Latvia—23-year-old newlyweds—it was high adventure.

A farmer, Bob Crissey, met them while he was a corporal in the Army. They were in a slave labor camp at Rosenheim. The young American shared his rations with the pair.

The young man was Uldis. His pretty bride-to-be was Skaidrite. In a hopeless attempt at Latvian, Bob called her "Skylight." When he came home, Crissey invited his Latvian friends to live in Pennsylvania.

Room For All

"We haven't much money," he wrote, "but we have lots of goats and plenty to eat and room for all."

Four days after they arrived at Mann's Choice—Ulhis, his bride Skaidrite, and Marta, her mother—Crissey took them to the Bedford County Fair. It's the one time of the year Bedford county folk unanimously declare a holiday.

The admiring Latvians saw sleek Jersey cattle, displays of flowers and fruits, shiny new cars, electric stoves, pianos and furniture. Enraptured, they watched a demonstrator ironing with an electric mangle.

They loved the horses. They gazed in longing. Then Skaidrite said:

"Many horses we had in Latvia, the horses we loved. In Germany," and her voice grew scornful, 'not many horses." Wistfully she asked what a horse cost in America.

ON THE FERRIS WHEEL—Uldis and Skaidrite having fun.

Won Bear Prize

The grandstand show took on new delights viewed through the eyes of fresh youngsters seeing it for the first time. The dancing girls and the trained bear were never better. The circus band never had sounded so good. And then the midway.

"We'll give 'em a real time," promised the front man for the carnival—Prell's Broadway shows. And they did. Uldis and Skaidrite were whisked from rides to shows, through the fun house and penny arcade.

By some magic known only to carnival folks, Skaidrite discovered she had won an enormous teddy bear at a baseball-throwing game. Her eyes grew big as saucers as the operator handed her the toy.

Laden with candy apples and popcorn and cotton candy, the laughing youngsters rode the merry-go-round. Skaidrite hugged her husband in happy fright as they dipped through the sky in the tilt-a-whirl.

Marta, Skaidrite's mother, enjoyed the fair in a more quiet manner. She nodded in approval at the prize exhibits of the county's farm kitchens while her new neighbors smiled through tear-dimmed eyes.

They all had another hot dog and a stick of pink spun candy before starting the drive home through the warm night. Uldis, his arm around his bride, suggested they name the teddy bear, "tomorrow."

'He says," Skaidrite explained, "the name is good. Because tomorrow is where our hopes are."

The front office man for the carnival escorted them to the gate. As the young couple walked in the moonlight to the car, the front office man blew his nose in a damp red handkerchief.

"When a fella thinks about folks like that," he said, "you feel like gettin' down on your knees and kissin' the ground you're walkin' on."

Army May Return To Suits Of Armor

SAN PEDRO, Calif., Sept. 15 (AP)—The Army may be returning to suits of armor.

Maj. Gen. W. H. Middleswart of the Quartermaster General's office disclosed yesterday the development of bullet-resistant body armor for soldiers—made of plastic and nylon.

The general said the cloth-like substance will resist a .45 caliber bullet fired from only 15 feet away. The material is nearly a quarter-inch thick.

Three-Dimension TV In Color Predicted

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—President Eric Johnston of the Motion Picture association of America has predicted that three-dimensional color television will some day be channeled into neighborhood movie theaters.

"But we aren't going to sit idly by and permit television to be grabbed off by somebody else," the handsome executive told the Theater Owners of America convention last night. "We're going to do everything possible to protect and advance our own rights.

"Nobody knows where this sprawling new young giant of television is going, but we as an industry aren't going to be caught short. We never have stood in the way of progress and we aren't now."

Officers Cleared Of Charges

Hearing Held On Complaints

Formal opinions of the Lubbock Civil Service commission late Wednesday absolved police officers of charges of official misconduct in connection with the recent arresting and jailing of two persons.

In connection with charges brought by Lonnie Houston Johnson, jailed when, officials charged, he would not sign a ticket Aug. 24 to appear within five days on a reckless driving charge, this opinion was read by Marion Sanford, chairman:

"All officials involved acted fully within their legal powers and in accordance with the instructions handed down to them by their superiors, and in accordance with departmental procedures; and rather than to be censored, they are to be commended for faithfully carrying out their duties as police officers.

Made Telephone Call

"The Civil Service commission regrets that regulations and procedures have prevented the acceptance of cash bonds in minor traffic violations, and concurs with the City commission in feeling that an ordinance should be passed making it possible to accept cash bonds in such cases."

The reference to the cash bonds relates to another angle of the Johnson case. When the defendant was taken to the station he offered to post a cash bond for later appearance on the traffic charge. But police declined, there being no provision for such practice in the ordinances. A few minutes later, however, Johnson was allowed to post a cash bond and obtain his liberty after he had telephoned Mayor W. H. Rodgers from the jail and Rodgers had telephoned City Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson, it was brought out at several stages of the three and a half hours of testimony from numerous witnesses.

Incident Is "Regretable"

In an opinion in the case brought by Charles William Morgan, who charged police misconduct in connection with his being jailed on a reckless driving complaint July 9, the commission dictated into the record:

"We do not see where any officer exceeded his authority or acted improperly."

In the third case investigated, however, the Civil Service commission, while not finding any misconduct, nevertheless said that failure of the department and its personnel promptly to identify a man suffering of a mental condition and return him to a relative here who had asked them to be on lookout for the man was a "most regrettable incident."

Sanford and the other members of the commission, Alex McDon-

Helen Taylor To Compete At Dallas

Whiteface Girl Is Chosen As Queen For Farm Bureau Area

An attractive Whiteface High school junior student, Helen Taylor of Morton route 1, was chosen bi-district Farm Bureau queen Wednesday afternoon at the Farm Bureau meeting in Lubbock hotel.

Miss Taylor previously had been chosen Cochran county queen. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Taylor.

She was named queen on basis of personality, poise and general appearance.

To Compete At Dallas

She and the winner from the northern part of the district, chosen Tuesday at Plainview, will be candidates for district queen. The district winner will be chosen at the state Farm Bureau convention to be held Nov. 21-23 at Dallas and will be a candidate for state winner to be chosen at the same convention. The state winner will go to the national contest at Chicago.

The queen from the northern part of the district is Wanda Pearl Fisher, 17, of near Flomot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fisher, Motley county farm couple. Miss Fisher was selected from four county queens, the same number competing here.

Others Enter Contest

Several awards will be given to the district winner.

Candidates here Wednesday, in addition to Miss Taylor, were Carolyn Middleton, Lynn county queen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Middleton; Mary Helen Bruce of Lubbock route 6, Lubbock county queen and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bruce, and Thelma Lou Smiley of Duncan Flat community in Dickens county, daughter of Mr.

Extension For Field Sought

Lion Oil Company is to try to extend the Canyon lime producing area of the Diamond M field in Southwest Scurry County one mile to the west at its No. 1 Strom, a wildcat which is slated to drill to 7,000 feet.

This venture is 662 feet from south and 1,836 feet from west lines of section 198, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it approximately one mile west of the nearest completed producer from the Canyon lime on the northwest side of the Diamond M field.

An Old Dry Hole

No. 1 Strom is an old dry hole drilled in 1946 to 2,903 feet in the Permian lime and plugged and abandoned at that point after failing to develop any indications of oil or gas production.

It is now to be re-entered, cleaned out and deepened and operations are to start immediately.

The first dual producer for the Flanagan field in Central-South Gaines County has been completed at Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Flanagan, an east offset to the Ellenburger discovery in that area.

Magnolia No. 1 Flanagan was completed from the Devonian and from the Clear Fork after failing to develop Commercial produc-

THE QUESTION
Do you think parallel parking will improve traffic conditions downtown?

THE ANSWERS

WALTER WEST, 2107 Fourteenth, policeman: "Yes, I do, in a lot of ways, on account of people are more careful about backing out of a parallel parking place than an angle parking place. It will also leave more room for traffic in the streets."

L. W. FRISTOE, 4214 Ave. A, policeman: "Oh, sure. For one thing the streets are too narrow for other kinds of parking. It will give more room for moving vehicles, and will keep people from backing into the moving cars. You can get out of a parallel parking place easier, too."

MRS. DELTON TAPP, Box 1563, employe of T. N. M. O, coaches: "No. I think the lighting system needs changing. In all of the bigger cities the traffic all moves in the same direction at the same time, instead of having to stop at every light. Parallel parking will be a hinder, because there won't be enough parking spaces."

GARTH ENGLISH, 2219 Ninth, partner in Pop's Farm and Ranch store: "No, I really don't. It seems to me that there are so few people capable of parallel parking that they constitute, a greater traffic block than people angle parking. Also, you can park so many more cars at an angle."

FOR MILADY'S FURS

About 30,000,000 fur-bearing animals are killed annually in the United States to meet the demand for furs. Some 20,000,000 of these consist of muskrat, opossum, mole, lamb, kid, marmot, and squirrel.

MRS. E. R. McCALLUM, 1611 Ave. O., service assistant at the telephone company: "I do. It gives more room in the street for driving. It also will keep people from backing out into traffic."

KEITH TURNER, 3117 Twenty-seventh, student at Draughon's business "No, I don't, because the cars have to pull in, and most ladies don't pull into a parallel parking lot too well. It will take some of them 15 minutes to park, and that will hold traffic up. I bet only about 1 out of 50 woman can parallel park well."

Alabama Klan Leader Turns In Name List To Get Free Of Jail

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Sept. 15 (AP)—Alabama Klan leader William Hugh Morris tomorrow makes another bid for freedom from jail.

This time he bases his plea on a sealed envelope which he turned over to Circuit Judge Robert J. Wheeler. Morris said the envelope contains a partial list of names of members of Jefferson (Birmingham) county members of the white-robed order.

Morris, a portly 44-year-old contractor, was sent to jail July 7 on a contempt of court citation for refusing to give Klan membership records to a grand jury. He's been there ever since, except for a 10-day period when he was released on bond.

Hearing Set Friday

The jury indictad 18 men for flogging and related charges.

After receiving the list, Judge Wheeler set a hearing for 2 p. m. tomorrow to determine if Morris has purged himself of the contempt citation.

Morris first refused to produce the list, then claimed he was unable to because they had been stolen from his home while he was in jail.

His new petition says he "has, by every means within his power, refreshed his memory in an effort to identify by name persons known to him to be members."

Police Officers Are Absolved Of Charges At Hearing In City

ald and A. Doyle Justice, agreed that:

"In our opinion it was a most regrettable incident, and Police Chief Lewis Kittrell feels the same way.

"We believe it is possible to improve the functions of the police department and that under a new policy such incidents may not happen in the future.

Sanford, reading the opinion, appended this remark:

"Speaking for myself and not for the commission, I think if I had been in their (the police) position I could not have done much better, however."

Arrest Is Explained

A police patrolman arrested the alleged incompetent two days after his sister, a prominent Lubbock woman, had asked that he be found. The police—explaining at the hearing that the man was five inches taller than the woman described him and that he spelled his name different from the way she had given it—overlooked the man's identity and, for his own protection, as it was explained at the hearing, sent him to a ward of the county jail for examination of a physician.

The physician ordered the man released from custody, finding he was not insane. The police rearrested the man the next day and jailed him before a member of the detective department discovered him there and obtained his release. He told them conflicting stories and gave imperfect information, they said.

Members of the commission unanimously agreed that inefficiency was apparent in that particular case. They took cognizance that some patrolmen were on vacation, some were off duty on the day the request was made for the subject's apprehension and return to the care of relatives, and suggested to Chief Kittrell that efforts be made toward avoidance of such incidents in the future.

"Pressure" Is Denied

Sanford, Justice and McDonald pointedly asked several police desk sergeants, as well as the city recorder, if there ever had been "any attempt on the part of any official of the City of Lubbock, whatever his capacity, to get any police charge dismissed."

All police officials answered in the negative.

Will Not Tolerate Pressure

Cooper, for instance, was asked this question by Sanford:

"Was there any intimation at any time of any pressure put on you to take the bond (the cash bond offered by Johnson)?"

"I thought there was something, since the city attorney had called," Cooper answered.

The commissioners were quick to explain that they did not mean the city attorney, whose function is to confer with the police in legal matters and who, they carefully pointed out, had not been alluded to in the question.

"Under no circumstance will the Civil Service commission tolerate any pressure being put on the police officers by any official of the City of Lubbock," Sanford said in crystallizing the view of the commission as a whole.

The other two members nodded their agreement.

McDonald asked:

"Has any official ever asked you to kill a ticket—the mayor or a city commissioner or anyone else?"

"No."

"You refer to an attempt of some official to have a charge dismissed for a political reason?" Wilson asked.

"Definitely, yes," Sanford answered.

"We meant any officer being restrained by any official for political reasons," another commissioner said.

The complainant Johnson earlier had told the commission that Mayor Rodgers had advised him over the phone to "post a cash bond, if you feel you are not guilty, and get you a lawyer."

Bond Was Posted

He said when he told the police what the mayor had said, one of the officials told him the mayor "is not running this side of town."

He said he called Rodgers back and "in 20 minutes I was out on a $50 cash bond."

Someone asked:

"How did you happen to choose Rodgers to call?"

"I knew him."

"You had business dealings with him?"

"I operate the junk car races on his property."

The junk car races are run at Buffalo lakes, 10 miles southeast of Lubbock. Rodgers is a part owner of the lakes property.

Numerous Witnesses Heard

McDonald, speaking for himself and, pointedly not for the commission, was first to show his individual reaction to the charges of Johnson and Morgan that they had received improper treatment at hands of the police.

He and the other commissioners had heard numerous witnesses in the long session in the commission room of the City Hall.

"I don't think these officers, in any of these (the Johnson and Morgan) cases, should be censored," he said. "I think they were within limits of their authority in their actions . . ."

He, Justice and Sanford went on to explain that they did believe, however, that it would be well for the police to accept cash bonds in traffic cases where there are no aggravating circumstances; that persons should not be required to remain overnight in jail on such misdemeanors when a cash bond conceivably would guarantee their appearance to answer the charge.

"It is not within our scope as a commission to recommend that to the city commission," the civil service commissioners said. They indicated the statement reflected their preferences only as individuals.

To Get Occasional Complaint

"We made 3,200 arrests in 1948," Kittrell told the commission. "It is almost inconceivable that we wouldn't get an occasional complaint.

"However," the chief said, referring to the case of the mentally ill man who was not identified as promptly as his relatives believed he should have been, "that is the first mistake of its kind we've ever made, far as I know."

Sanford called the meeting to order at 1:30 p. m., adjourned it at 5:05.

He explained that the special called meeting was assembled at request of the city commission to investigate "certain charges in police conduct and operations, all cases having been referred by the city manager or the city commission acting through the city manager."

He explained that "no specific charges" had been brought, inasmuch as the charges to be investigated had not resulted from action by the city commission or the police chief. Sanford said he was "not sure that the charges are properly before us, under Civil service regulations," but that the commission had been asked to make the investigation and resultant recommendations.

From that moment there was steady taking of testimony, which was placed in the record by a shorthand reporter, Georgia Cheney.

Witnesses, for and against the police, were sworn. The commissioners, carefully inquiring into the facts of the charges, at times asked their questions sharply. Legal questions were pumped into the current by Justice, an attorney, and by City Attorney Wilson.

Witnesses sworn and questioned included:

Chief Kittrell, J. J. Moore, of Moore's Bonded patrol, Sgt. L. D. Blakney of the police, Police Patrolman Robert Brasher, Radio Operator Jack Hunnicutt, Patrolman James P. Wilson, Desk Sgt. Sidney Smallwood, City Detective Lee Rice, jr., the complainant Morgan, 19, A. O. Walker, Morgan's employe, Patrolman James Atchison, Patrolman Ira Scott, the complainant Johnson, Patrolman W. C. Johnson, Patrolman Lynn Campbell, Desk Sgt. T. W. Cooper, City Recorder J. Solon Lea.

The accounts of the complaints were closely listened to, then the police versions were taken into the record.

The stories had sharp variance, but the action of the commission clearly showed which versions they believed.

and Mrs. D. P. Smiley.

The bi-district winner was chosen by a three-member committee composed of Bernert Roberts, president of the Hockley county Farm Bureau, of Levelland; Mrs. Leonard Lang of Terry county, and H. G. Sprawls, Yoakum county agent. Judges were from counties not represented by candidates for bi-district queen.

Contestants at Plainview Tuesday, when the winner was chosen for the northern part of the district, were Miss Donna O'Daniel, Swisher county; Miss Betty Karrh, Hale County; Miss Jenne Sharp, Castro county, and Miss Fisher.

Prejudice Of Own Sex Barrier

Woman Should Be President Of U. S., New Mayor Thinks

Mrs. Edith P. Welty, a youthful grandmother who was elected this week as mayor of Yonkers, N. Y., declares in the following signed article that a woman should be the next president of the United States. Mrs. Welty, known in her city as "public energy number one," says, however, that the most formidable barrier against a woman president is prejudice—the prejudice of her own sex.

BY MRS. EDITH P. WELTY
Mayor Of Yonkers, New York
(Written Expressly For INS)

YONKERS, N. Y., Sept. 15—A woman should be the next president of the United States.

Why not?

No reason on earth except prejudice and old-fashioned ideas. It's about time we got over them.

When I say a woman should be president, I don't mean just any woman, I mean the right woman.

She should have vision, knowledge, character, executive ability, independence, honesty—and horse sense!

Women Have More Time

Sex, you see, hasn't one thing to do with it. These are the same qualifications a man should have to be president. And plenty—plenty—of women have them too.

As a matter of fact, women on the whole make better politicians than men. Women have more time to devote to and are more interested in good, clean government.

Men are interested in good government, but they're too busy earning a living. They haven't the time or energy left over that's necessary for political work.

Women not only have the time, but because they usually don't have families to support, they aren't likely to be tempted by political spoils.

I don't have to spell that one out.

Men Know Better

Women have one more thing on their side too. Ironically, it also counts up to three strikes against them.

A woman has to be ten times as good as a man to get anywhere today. So the odds are that the woman who gets there will be dern good.

I say a woman should be our next president.

But will she?

I'm ashamed to admit that her worst battle will be not against men—but against women.

Men are prejudiced—which in itself is bad enough. But in their zeal to keep it a man's world, they have drilled their prejudice into women so effectively that women are more prejudiced against their own sex than men.

Deep down underneath, the men know better.

SIGNING OF NEW CONTRACT URGED

Hawaiian Governor's Plan To End Dock Strike Considered

HONOLULU, Sept. 15. (AP)—Hawaii's governor needled a new peace proposal into the islands' tangled 138-day CIO dock strike today. His formula: Boost wages 14 cents an hour, resume work, set up a new contract.

Gov. Ingram M. Stainback first put the proposal to the striking international longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union. Then he laid it out for Hawaii's seven struck stevedoring firms. Both sides said they wil consider it.

A basic wage of $1.54 an hour was the governor's suggestion. This is the same pay recommended by his fact finding board in June. The employers accepted it then. The union rejected it.

Demands Reduced

The ILWU's 2,000 stevedores struck May 1. They wanted to hike their $1.40 an hour to $1.72. Their figure has been scaled down since, but never on terms the employers would accept.

Now the governor urges: Take 14 cents. Make the docks hum again as quickly as possible. Then sit down at a bargaining table with the employers right away. There negotiate a new two-year contract and make it effective next April 1.

Just how the new proposal came about, no one would say even the governor said he couldn't recall for sure.

Its roots go back to a plan drafted by two maritime unions Tuesday. They are the CIO cooks and stewards and the independent marine firemen. Both have given solid support to the longshoremen. But both want to see ships sailing again.

They suggested $1.54 an hour. But they proposed amending the territory's new dock seizure law which has put the government in the stevedoring business. Change the law, they said, to make the pay $1.54 instead of $1.40 and hire the strikers.

Leaders Called In

The two maritime unions submitted this proposal to Stainback and asked the territory to sponsor a permanent settlement.

The governor took it from there. He called in ILWU leaders Henry Schmidt and Jack Kawano. Originally, he planned to relay the maritime unions' plan to them, then do the same to the employers.

The three of them began talking it out, Stainback said. They agreed the amendment idea was too complicated. Pretty soon they got it stripped down to go back to work for $1.54 and negotiate a new contract.

The governor said he wasn't sure whether he or Schmidt first expressed it in those terms. Anyway, Stainback made it into a proposal to them. Later he did the same to Philip Maxwell, vice president of the Hawaii employers council.

Maxwell said probably there would be no employer action until their negotiating committee returns from New York, about Monday. An attempt to settle the strike there with Cyrus S. Ching, director of the U. S. Mediation service, collapsed.

The first of 10 freighters scheduled to arrive in Hawaii in the next 10 days started loading pineapple and general cargo at Honolulu yesterday. The Isthmian line's Meredith Victory is being worked by government stevedores.

Nine more ships are due in from the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and the Orient with general cargo. They are scheduled to take sugar and pineapple to east and gulf coast ports. All these ships are operated by the Isthmian and Waterman lines.

LOAN IS GRANTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (AP)—The Rural Electrification administration yesterday granted the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Colorado City, Tex., a loan of $55,000. The loan will be used for extension of electrical service to farming areas.

Extension Of Producing Area In Scurry County Is Sought

Production Announced

Following through a one-half inch tubing choke it made an initial daily production of 537.37 barrels of 34-gravity oil from the Devonian. The gas-oil ratio was 10-1. Flow was natural and there was no formation water. Flowing casing pressure was 675 pounds and the tubing pressure was 560-20 pounds.

The production from the Devonian was from perforations in the casing between 10,345-10,382 feet. Total plug back depth was 10,404 feet. From perforations in the 7-inch casing between 7,288-250 in the Clear Fork it flowed 403.65 barrels of petroleum in 24 hours through a one-half inch tubing choke. The gravity of that oil was 39,5 and the gas-oil ratio was 773-1. The flow was natural, with no formation water reported.

The new well is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey.

Producer Completed

Ralph Lowe of Midland, has completed the second producer from the Canyon lime for the Doss pool in Central South Gaines County at his No. 1-B Helen Cunningham and others.

Flowing through a one-half inch tubing choke, it completed for a calculated 24-hour potential of 301 barrels of 46-gravity oil. The gas-oil ratio was 1,100-1. There was no formation water.

The production was through perforations in the casing at 8,-840-951 feet in the Canyon-Pennslyvanian, after that section had been treated with 15,000 gallons of acid.

It is a direct south offset to the pool discovery, and 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 4, block A-24, psl survey. The well is ten miles southwest of Seminole.

A third Producer

Humble Oil & Refining Company No. 5 Cunningham appears to be the third producer from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian in the Doss field of Southwest Gaines County, 10 miles southwest of Seminole.

That venture, located 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 4, block A-24, psl survey, developed 3,000 feet of clean, 44.6 gravity oil, and 450 feet of heavily mud cut oil, during a two hour drillstem test in the Canyon at 8,874-8,925 feet.

Gas showed at the surface in 15 minutes after the tool was opened. The volume was estimated at the rate of 25,000 cubic feet per day.

No water was developed from the drillstem test. The project has now drilled to 8,948 feet and will test the bottom section at 925-48 feet, and then complete and put on production.

Two Wells Completed

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company has completed two new producers from the Ellenburger in the Shafter Lake field of North-Central Andrews County.

The company's No. 9-154 University made an initial daily production of 1,448.60 barrels of 41.4-gravity oil through open tubing, with no formation water.

Gas-oil ratio of the oil was 260-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 85 pounds.

The production was through perforations in the 7-inch casing from 11,660-11,750 feet, after that zone had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. Total depth of the exploration was 11,815 feet in the Ellenburger.

This new source of oil is 555 feet from west and 765 feet from south lines of the northwest quarter of section 24, block 13 University survey.

Sinclair also completed its No. 4-153 University in the same area, for a daily production of 856.36 barrels of 41.8-gravity oil through open tubing. There was no formation water.

Gas-oil ratio of the new petroleum was 259-1.

The production was through perforations in the casing between 11,650-795 feet. Total depth of the venture was 11,824 feet. The pay section was treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

The well is 765 feet from north and 555 feet from east lines of the southwest quarer of section 13, block 13, University survey.

Location Is Staked

Lion Oil Company has completed a new flowing producer from the Canyon lime on the northeast side of the Diamond M field in Southwest Scurry County. The same company has staked location for immediate drilling of a one location stepout from the nearest oil well on the southeast side of the same field.

The new oil well is Lion's No. 15 C. T. McLaughlin. It is located 660 feet from west and south lines of section 201, block 97, H&TC survey.

On a 24-hour potential test it flowed 498 barrels of 43.6 gravity oil, through a 16/64th inch tubing choke. It made no water. Gas-oil ratio was 861-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 625 pounds. Flowing casing pressure was 100 pounds.

The production came from perforated section in the Canyon lime between the top of the pay at 6,-664 feet and the total depth at 6,791 feet. The 7-inch oil string was cemented on bottom. The pay section had been treated with 1,-000 gallons of acid prior to the completion test.

The new project on the southeast side of the Diamond M field is to be Lion No. 1 Clarence (McLaughlin.) It is 1,511.64 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of section 183, block 97, H&TC survey.

Drilling to 6,800 feet to explore the Canyon lime will start immediately, using rotary tools.

Standard Completes

Standard Oil Company of Texas has completed its No. 2-5 Brown on the north side of the North Snyder field in North Central Scurry County. Standard also staked two new locations on the north side of that field, to try for production from the Canyon lime.

No. 2-5 Brown flowed through a one-half in tubing choke and rated a daily potential of 1,560 barrels of oil. Flowing casing pressure was 500 pounds and the flowing tubing pressure was 700 pounds.

Production was from pay in the Canyon lime above the plug back total depth of 6,895 feet.

It drilled to 8,146 feet in the Ellenburger, but that zone showed no signs of production.

The new well is 467 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 440, block 97, H&TC survey.

Standard No. 9-2 J. W. Brown is to be a 6,900-foot exploration on the Nort hSide of the North Snyder field.

It will be 2,173 feet from north and 600 feet from west line of the south helf of section 449, block 97, H&TC survey, and ten miles north of Snyder.

Drilling with rotary tools will get under way soon .

The same company will start drilling soon on its No. 10-1 J. W. Brown, 1,960 feet from north and 1,880 feet from east lines of section 450, block 97, H&TC survey.

It will drill to 6,900 feet with rotary tools. The drillsite will be 11 miles north of Snyder.

WAGE INCREASE PART OF PACT

Long Strike Against Chicago Newspapers Near Settlement

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (AP)—The long and costly strike by 1,500 AFL printers against Chicago's five major daily newspapers appeared near settlement today.

The strikers, who quit work nearly 22 months ago in a dispute over a new contract, will vote Sunday on terms agreed upon last night by union and publishers' representatives.

The new pact calls for a wage increase of $10 a week. The union originally had demanded a pay boost of $15. Provisions of the new contract have been approved by the executive council of the AFL International Typographical Union.

Closed Shop Issue

John J. Pilch, president of local 16, AFL-ITU, said the local's officers and scale committee will recommend acceptance of the new contract to the rank and file at Sunday's vote.

A spokesman for the publishers said the contract proposal agreed upon was virtually the same which the union rejected last March and which union officers had termed a "yellow dog contract."

Last night's meeting was the first held between the publishers and union representatives since last March. Previously they had held 124 negotiations sessions.

The publishers had rejected the union's proposed contract, they said ,because the terms called for closed shop conditions in violation of the Taft-Hartley law. On March 27, 1949, Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert issued an injunction restraining the union from insisting on closed shop provisions and other terms banned by the law.

Complied With Order

Judge Swygert later cited the union and its international leaders on contempt charges. They appealed, but later filed proof of compliance with the injunction.

The strike against the dailies was believed one of the longest against a group of metropolitan city newspapers. But the struck newspapers — the Tribune, the Daily Sun-Times, Daily News, Herald-American and Journal of Commerce—have not missed a day's publication since the strike started Nov. 24, 1947.

The strike of the composing room workers brought a new look to Chicago's dailies. A new technique of newspaper printing was started. The printed pages were prepared by typing stories with typewriters, pasting them in place on large dummy sheets, fitting cut-out headlines over them, and photographing the finished page for reproduction by electroplating.

$13 Million Wages Lost

The photoengraving operations were improved greatly during the lengthy strike but were slower than printing. The difficulties of operating with idle linotype batteries resulted in late press runs and fewer editions in the early weeks of the strike.

The printers have lost an estimated $13,000,000 in wages during the strike. However, this loss has been offset in part by strike benefits they have received from the nation's working membership of the ITU—$60 a week for married men and $40 for single men. Many strikers have not received benefits as they obtained jobs elsewhere.

Wages for the printers, before the strike, were $85.50 for a 36¼ hour week for day shift; $91 for a 36¼ hour week for night shift, and $91 for a 30-hour week for the early morning shift.

During the strike the six newspapers were reduced to five by consolidation of the Morning Sun and Evening Times into the daily Sun-Times with morning, afternoon and Sunday editions.

Movie Director Sued For Unpaid Alimony

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15. (AP)—The first wife of screen director Howard Hawks has accused him of being $46,612 in arrears on alimony payments.

As a result of the superior court action filed by Mrs. Athele Hawks, a sheriff's attachment has been levied on the director's palatial desert home near Palm Springs.

The complaint was filed on behalf of Mrs. Hawks by her legal guardian. She is the sister of Norma Shearer, onetime actress. The Hawkses were divorced in 1940 after 12 years of marriage. His second wife, Nancy Gross (Slim) Hawks, is also divorced from him.

London estimates that it needs 200,000 more flats and houses to end the shortage.

Grand Jury To Hear Unruh Murder Story

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 15 (AP)—The Camden county grand jury will hear on Sept. 22 how Howard B. Unruh massacred 13 persons with a German luger automatic on a quiet Camden street ten days ago.

Prosecutor Mitchell H. Cohen said yesterday he will present only a few eye witnesses of the shooting but the jurors will be given a stenographic transcription of verbal statements made by Unruh in giving his own version of the shootings.

Bullet In Hip

The 28-year-old Unruh is at the New Jersey state hospital in Trenton, undergoing a series of mental tests. Cohen said he will turn over to hospital authorities today the report of psychiatrists who examined Unruh and papers found in the ex-GI's home on River Road.

In Trenton, Dr. Harold S. Magee, medical director of the hospital, said the bullet in Unruh's left hip may never be removed. He was shot just before his capture.

Dr. Magee said physicians have decided the bullet is "deeply imbedded" in the bone of Unruh's left hip.

"LIVING" SCULPTURE

A "living" stone monument is one carved from rock which is in the place it has occupied from time immemorial. The Rushmore Memorial, in the Black Hills of South Dahoka, is such a piece of sculpture.

Protection Payments In Kansas Revealed

PARSONS, Kans., Sept. 15 (INS)—Charles Potts, recreation parlor operator in Parsons, testified today that he paid $1,500 in "protection" money for poker game and punchboard operations in his establishment.

Potts testified for the state at the hearing of an ousted suit against Vernon C. Axton, suspended mayor of Parsons.

Potts said he paid $100 a month from January, 1948, to December, 1948, to Jack Robertson. He identified Robertson as head of the Parsons Eagles lodge.

Potts also asserted he gave former Police Chief Frank A. Williams $100 a month in January, February and March. Williams resigned two months ago as police chief.

Potts said a three-dollar limit poker game operated in a back room of the recreation parlor and punchboards were available for play in front of the establishment during 1948.

Davis Rites Will Be Held This Afternoon

Funeral services for Mrs. Wylie Davis, 44, resident of Lubbock about two years, who died late Saturday in a Dallas hospital, were to be held at 2 p.m. today in the chapel of Rix Funeral home.

Rev. William F. Blakeslee, pastor of St. Elizabeth's Catholic church, was to be in charge of funeral rites. Burial was to be in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home.

HOME IS GUARDED

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP)—Two police patrolmen have been assigned to guard the home of Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, who is presiding at the Communist conspiracy trial, it was disclosed today.

Crop And Property Damage In Hurricane Set At $52 Million

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 15 (AP)—The hurricane which swept through Florida and into Georgia and the Carolinas August 26-27 caused crop and property damage estimated at $52,350,000, a report showed today.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at Miami, said in his report to the U. S. Weather bureau at Washington that the hurricane killed two men, injured 133 persons and caused $45,000,000 damage in Florida alone.

He said the hurricane also killed 300 hogs, 112 head of cattle and 2,000 chickens. It destroyed 265 dwellings, 524 other buildings and damaged 30,762 buildings, including 27,086 homes.

Both deaths "were the result of failure to heed warnings," Norton reported. One man drowned while trying to save a sailboat and another was fatally injured while trying to operate a pump in high winds.

Florida property damage amounted to $18,000,000 and crop loss totaled $20,000,000, including 14,000,000 boxes of fruit. Power and communications suffered $4,000,000 damage while loss to highways, bridges and streets amounted to $500,000, the report showed.

The report showed Georgia suffered damage of $4,000,000, South Carolina $2,100,000 and North Carolina $1,250,000.

Damage Suit Results From Blow On Head

CHICAGO, Sept. 15 (INS)—The time has come, Mrs. Linda Donnelly, of Joliet, Ill., said today, to speak of cabbages and other things.

The cabbage Mrs. Donnelly has in mind is one she alleges struck her on the head as she was shopping in an Atlantic and Pacific Tea., Co., store.

Mrs. Donnelly charged that a clerk threw a cabbage at a coworker, missed and struck her on the head instead. She said in her suit filed in a federal court in Chicago that she suffered a broken nose, eye injury and incurred a permanent sinus condtion.

Walking Champion, 74, Plans Hike To Chicago This Fall

McRILL: 1808 steps to a mile.

By DANIEL R. ANTHONY
Special Correspondent

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Sept. 15—Kirby McRill, who calls himself the "World's Champion Walker," came back home after seven months in a Kansas City hospital. But he took a bus.

Kirby says he isn't quite up to snuff yet, which is why he didn't walk it. Not because he's 74, but because, he claims, someone laid him low with a dose of strychnine.

"The fellow said he was goin' somewhere, and didn't have time to eat his lunch. Well, I'm a big eater. Poison musta been in a hunk of cheese. A few days later, I just keeled over, right there on a main street in Kansas City."

He's out now "walkin', gettin' the blood back to goin', gettin' in practice." He's practicing up for a long walk this fall. He plans to hike up to Chicago to take in the railroad fair.

Kirby McRill first attracted attention by walking into Leavenworth from his farm every time he had business in the city. It was a trip of about 30 miles. Later, he walked all over the country, because he liked to and because he thought it was good exercise.

About 27 years ago, he went to Kansas City, dyed his long hair and beard a flaming red, and carried sandwich signs on the streets. He'd wear bright red socks to match his beard, and baseball pants and jacket.

Lately, he's been in the box business. He collects boxes from downtown stores, puts the little ones inside the big ones, ties a rope to the biggest, and hauls them to his "market."

Kirby used to be called "Kirby the Unkissed," because of his boast that he didn't like women and would have nothing to do with them. But that was before he met up with Daisy Bell.

Daisy Bell is Kirby's wife, but they're not getting along too well these days and he's figuring out a way to win her back.

"She's a barber in the second chair at 613 Main Street," he said. "Only woman I ever cared for, and I'll get her back yet. I had her trained so she could walk 50 miles with me. Never had a man follow me for more than 40."

Kirby is a scientific walker. He prefers walking on railroad tracks because they fit his stride and his size 13E shoes—"us McRills always had big feet." And he likes to count his steps. He takes 1808 steps to the mile. "Counted 'em thousands of times," he said.

He claims his beard and flowing mane keep him cool in the summer, because they keep him from getting sunburned.

An Italian battleship paid a friendly call to Malta recently, nearly six years after surrendered Italian warships were brought to the island.

Criminal Attack Of Child Is Confessed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16 (INS)—Police said today that a 33-year-old ironworker confessed that he criminally attacked a four-year-old girl in the hall of a downtown Washington rooming house hotel.

Capt. Robert V. Murray identified the man as Hugh J. Mincey, who was held without bond on a charge of rape.

The victim, Beverly MacDonald, was reported in "satisfactory" condition at a hospital where she is being treated for shock, bruises and lacerations.

Murray said Mincey, who came to Washington from Wyoming, first denied the assault but under steady questioning, confessed and signed a detailed statement.

"PERIL POINT" PROVISION ISSUE

GOP Scrambling For Votes To Limit Tariff-Cutting Power

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (AP)—Republicans scrambled for votes today in a major Senate test on GOP efforts to limit President Truman's tariff-cutting power under the reciprocal trade act.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) was reported flying home from Europe to cast his ballot in today's voting on amendments to the trade program. Aides of Senator Brewster (R-Me), also in Europe, made efforts to reach him too.

Most hotly contested of the amendments is a "peril point" provision written into the trade agreements law last year by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress. It requires Mr. Truman to answer to Congress if he cuts import duties to a point which the Federal Tariff commission deems risky to American industry.

Vote Margin Estimated

The administration wants to drop that provision and restore to the President his full power to cut tariffs in return for similar action by other nations.

Democratic Leader Lucas of Illinois told reporters he thought the peril point amendment would be defeated by a margin of two or three votes.

Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee, who has shephered the extension bill through nearly two weeks of debate, was a little more optimistic. He predicted a three to five-vote margin.

But Senator Millikin (R-Colo), leader of the peril point forces insisted they had a fighting chance.

With such close voting in prospect, Ferguson's aides told reporters he was expected back from the inter-parliamentary meeting at Stockholm in time to take a hand in the peril points battle.

Two Demos Counted Out

Brewster's aides said they hoped very much that he also would arrive in time for the vote. He was scheduled to go to London following the inter-parliamentary meeting, however, and efforts to reach him by phone there had not been successful late yesterday.

Administrationleaders said they expected only two Democrats—McCarran of Nevada and Johnson of Colorado—to side against them in the peril points voting.

The Senate also faced debate on several other proposals before it could reach a final vote on the extension bill.

One of these, offered by Senator Thomas (D-Okla), would limit the amount of oil that can be imported into the United States to five per cent of domestic production.

Another, by Senator Malone (R-Nev), would end the reciprocal trade agreements program and substitute for it a flexible tariff system geared to wage rates and other production costs abroad.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the vote, Malone declared the U. S. is "giving away our heritage and the source of our income under our present trade agreements policy."

"Most people forget," he said, "that low tariffs frequently require that subsidies be paid by the American taxpayer to keep workers alive in domestic industries and to protect their jobs."

Used Car Dealer Is Killed In Collision

HOUSTON, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—Carl H. Conner, 38, well-known dealer in used cars, died last night when his convertible collided with a trailer-truck and then overturned and burned on Humble road.

Conner suffered a fractured skull and was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Witnesses said Conner's car swerved from the road after the collision and rolled into a pasture. He was thrown from the wreckage.

The truck driver, Lawrence E. Cox, 34, received minor cuts and bruises.

Bugsy Siegel's Girl Friend Europe-Bound

DALLAS, Sept. 15 (AP)—Bugsy Siegel's girl friend, Virginia Hill, is either enroute to Europe or already there but why she made the trip is a "matter of speculation."

Clinton H. Anderson, Beverly Hills, Calif., police chief said Miss Hill, good friend of the California mobster who was shot to death in 1947, left Mexico City for Europe "about two weeks ago."

"There are reports she is going to see Lucky Luciano in Italy, but that's purely speculation," Anderson said. He plans to fly home late today from the convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Knows Money's Source

Anderson said Miss Hill was "getting money from someone."

"I know who the money's coming from but will not say who, now. We're going to try and keep track of Miss Hill in Europe. We think she has a lot of information about the Siegel case which would help us. It's going to be hard to watch her now that there's been publicity about her trip. She'll be careful now.

Asked why anyone would be giving money to Miss Hill, Anderson said "It could be so that she will keep her mouth shut."

Rites Slated Friday For Lorenzo Woman

LORENZO, Sept. 15 (Special)—Funeral services will be held Friday for Mrs. I. N. Haygood, 63, who died at her home here at 8:20 a. m. Wednesday of a heart attack.

Services will be conducted in the Lorenzo Baptist church at 2 p.m. Friday, with Revs. W. M. Draper of Anton and W. R. Underwood of George West officiating. Burial will be in Tech Memorial cemetery under direction of the Marr Funeral home of Ralls.

Mrs. Haygood came here with her husband in 1919 and had been a resident of Crosby county since. She is survived by her husband; one son, John D. Haygood of Lubbock; two daughters, Mrs. E. W. Hester of Lubbock and Mrs. W. S. Galloway of New Orleans; two brothers, Hubert Horne of Amarillo and Boone Horne of Big Spring; five sisters, Mrs. Charles Rogers of Amarillo, Mrs. Eula Draper of Amarillo, Mrs. Wyatt Hester of Lubbock, Mrs. Mae Horne of Lubbock, and Mrs. J. J. Hannah of Glen Rose; and six grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be James O'Rear and Wayland Catching of Lorenzo; Leo Baker of Muleshoe; and Dr. J. M. O'Rear, E. V. Middleton, and Elbert Hester, all of Lubbock.

The Geneva Convention is a code adopted by 26 nations in 1864 insuring neutrality and immunity for all humanitarian agencies engaged in medical care to the war wounded, later revised to govern treatment of prisoners of war.

"WINNERS" ARE PREDICTED

Lubbock Is Favored To Beat Childress In Class AA Tilt

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

The 10 highest ranked schoolboy teams in Texas are sharing top billing in this weekend's bumper football card getting underway tonight.

No single game has the eyes of fans throughout the state squarely focused on it. But the results of the "big 10" will do much to remove clouds of doubt surrounding some of the teams.

The No. 1 ranking team, according to a poll of sports writers, is Port Arthur. It is favored to down Fortier High of New Orleans in a game at the Louisiana city.

Second rated Austin is an extremely slim choice in its clash with defending state champion Waco. It will be the first appearance of the season for Waco.

Lubbock Is Favored

Denison, No. 3, meets a strong Wichita Falls eleven making its initial start. Denison is given the nod, albeit a slight one.

Lubbock will be making its first start when it meets an underdog Childress team. A Lubbock victory, as expected, may move the club higher in the standings.

Fifth-ranking Abilene should defeat Fort Worth Arlington Heights by a slim margin, while Temple, No. 6, is a strong favorite to defeat once-beaten San Antonio Jefferson.

Marshall, seventh ranked, will be idle.

Texarkana and Pampa, eighth and ninth respectively, are good choices to get by Houston Lamar and Graham. And Houston Davis, No. 10, should defeat Orange after a tough battle.

The opening games threw us for a loop last week as we picked only 27 out of 44, missed 15 and had four ties for a .586 average.

Games Are Listed

But, here's how the other games look, by districts:

1—Amarillo over Denton, Oklahoma City Capitol Hill over Borger.

2—Vernon over Altus, Okla.

3—Odessa over Sweetwater, Lamesa over Seminole.

4—El Paso Cathedral over El Paso Bowie, El Paso High over Fort Worth Tech, Ysleta over Carlsbad, N. M.

5—Brownwood over Stephensville, San Angelo over El Paso Austin.

6—Big Spring over Cisco, Breckenridge over Fort Worth Paschel, Mineral Wells over Electra.

9—Longview over Jacksonville, Henderson over Nacogdoches, Grand Prairie over Gladewater.

10—Lufkin over Ennis, Waxahachie over Bryan.

11—Beaumont over Houston San Jacinto, Port Neches over Nederland.

Kerrville Is Picked

13—Palestine over Hillsboro, Corsicana over North Dallas.

14—Corpus Christi over Dallas Forest, Kerrville over San Antonio Tech.

15—Harlingen over Kingsville, Alice over Falfurrias, Laredo over Alamo Heights, Robstown over Victoria.

City Conference

Dallas — Highland Park over Adamson, Sunset over Quanah, Cleburne over Woodrow Wilson.

Fort Worth—Weatherford over Carter-Riverside, Houston Reagan over North Side, Plainview over Polytechnic.

San Antonio — Burbank over Texas Military Institute, Central Catholic over Lanier, Brackenridge over Beaumont South Park.

Empty Billfold Is Returned By Thief

HOUSTON, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—Mrs. Vernon Harris, wife of a deputy sheriff, was happy today with her empty billfold.

It was stolen a week ago, but the thoughful thief emptied it of $40 and dropped the billfold in a mailbox. Important papers were not disturbed, and postal authorities returned the wallet.

Trial Of Smithwick Scheduled Oct. 24

BELTON, Sept. 15. (AP)—Sam Smithwick will be tried Oct. 24 for the murder of a crusading Alice, Tex., radio commentator.

The date of the trial for the 60-year-old former Jim Wells county deputy sheriff was set late yesterday by District Judge Wesley Dice.

District Judge Paul A. Martineau transferred the case here from Alice on his own initiative.

Smithwick is charged with fatally shooting W. H. (Bill) Mason as he sat in his automobile in an industrial section of Alice last July 29.

Mason, 51, who had worked on newspapers from coast to coast, had criticized Smithwick in a broadcast the day before his death. He said the deputy owned property on which an Alice night spot was situated and that loose women plied their trade there.

Smithwick has been transferred from the jail at Alice to the one here.

Shooting Is Fatal To Houston Grocer

HOUSTON, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—W. C. Yee, 22, a Chinese-American grocer who was shot in the back Saturday morning, died last night in a hospital here.

A charge of assault to murder filed against Mrs. Mary B. Joe, 35, will be changed to murder, police said.

Housing Is Great Problem In Britain Just As In The U. S.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: L. R. Blanchard is general executive editor of the 21 metropolitan papers—mostly in the East—in the Gannett chain. As one of the nation's most widely known and respected editors, Mr. Blanchard has often traveled the world for his papers, informing himself, first-hand, on what is going on. Recently he went to England to look at Socialism and the series of articles he wrote while on the trip are highly revealing. Because some politicians urge that the U. S. follow England in experimenting with Socialism. The Journal asked—and received—permission of the Gannett papers and Mr. Blanchard to present the series in Texas. We consider Mr. Blanchard's articles to be most significant, especially since Britain, largely supported by American tax dollars will seek from us next month more aid to be used in carrying on socialistic aims.)

* * *

By L. R. BLANCHARD
Executive Editor, Gannett Newspapers

NOTTINGHAM—Housing is as great a need in England as in the United States.

Because he does not fear indebtedness as most American citizens do, the Englishman erects acres and acres of substantial brick houses with public money and rents them to deserving clients at absurdly low rates.

Nottingham is a good place to study housing. It is the home of famous lace factories, a bicycle industry and a cigaret industry. It is also a mining center. The housing clients are from the working class, earning $20 to $30 weekly. In most homes the wife works, too, either in a factory or on piecework at home.

Such people are moved into a brick home of neat design, built well enough to last 100 years. The houses do not look like flats, but each has room for from four to six families. Each has a private entrance and the inevitable hedge and fence.

Rooms Are Small

The apartments have living room, kitchen and bath on the ground floor, three bedrooms above. None of the rooms is large and the living room is a dining room as well.

Comfort is assured by the thick walls and a coal-burning grate which also maintains a supply of hot water. A small coal-burning stove serves the kitchen. There is electric wiring.

For such a home the tenant will pay the city about $2 a week. The rental varies with its size. Obviously the rental does not cover the cost of building, and it certainly wouldn't pay for insurance and other items facing the home owner. The buildings, however, may stand for from 60 to 100 years, thereby extending the amortization period.

Nottingham has no private financing of such "estates" or "council houses." Nor is this method of building an invention of the present government. It was started years ago and is accepted as part of municipal life. The new factor today is the great upsurge in demand for such homes.

This increased demand arises, as in the states, from demobilization of the services, the starting of new families and a normal increase in population. To ease the shortage here, several hundred prefabricated structures were set up in one tract. As in the States, they are rather dreary in appearance, but are lighted and warmed and each has the Englishman's greatest pride—a "frij." One never hears the word "refrigerator" here.

* * *

NOTTINGHAM'S population is 280,000. And this is the city's record in housing:

Since 1918 it has built 19,433 houses. The greatest single year was 1924 when 7,820 were erected.

Since 1918 it has spent almost 40 million dollars for those houses. Last year the city paid a million and a half dollars against the debt they represent.

The city's annual report shows that rents met two-thirds of the amortization charge, about 7 per cent came from city taxes, and about one-quarter was a direct grant from the national government.

Debt Worries No One

The city's debt is $63,404,000. That figure does not disturb the Englishman. As an official in another city asserted, much of the debt is represented by assets which it bought—buildings and equipment.

Like many other British cities, Nottingham operates the gas and water services, along with a transport system — double-decker buses. Otherwise it spends its money as American cities do. It has police, street departments, sewers, fire departments, weights and measures, city museum and the like.

The national government, collecting income taxes from everyone, makes a sizable donation to Nottingham. In 1948 the grant was more than 6 million dollars. Local officials claim to be almost entirely free of national domination despite those large grants, the largest of which are for education, housing and police and fire departments. As for the police, they operate largely as a national force, anyway.

(Tomorrow: No buying rush.)

Three-Hour Manhattan Lunch Predicted As Eventual Cause Of New York's Destruction

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—What will finally destroy New York City?

Time has washed down the drain the great metropolises of many previous civilizations. And in time this hubbub-on-the-Hudson probably will also be reduced to the whisper that now echoes from Sodom, Gomorrah, Nineveh and Tyre.

But how?

It is unlikely that atom bombs will make it a wilderness again. The pigeons may slowly cover it up as the starlings are fast obliterating Washington, D. C., or, as some believe, the city may be wiped out in a sudden mass outbreak of violence by maddened riders of the Long Island railroad.

My own theory, however, is that Shangri-York will be done to death by the three-hour Manhattan lunch. This is a spreading epidemic that attacks our social, economic and cultural structure at the top.

The modern three-hour Manhattan luncheon is the old simple businessman's blue-plate special raised to the stature of a Hollywood production.

Business Is Excuse

Its temples are the popular restaurants of the midtown and financial districts, places where the waiters purr and the menu prices look like a listing of the war debt.

Gathered around the table are two to four people who ostensibly have met to undertake important business, but those real objective is to gossip, see, and be seen.

The ritual begins promptly at 12:30 o'clock.

"Anybody going to have a drink?" says the first man tentatively. "Think I'll pass myself."

"Pass," says the second, after a pause.

"Well——" hedges the third.

"Let's have one anyway," says the fourth, mad because they have all palmed the real decision off on him.

So they all lap up a double round of martinis—extra dry. And the first man orders a third martini, wondering if the others think he is drinking too much. He wonders himself, too.

Afternoon Wasted

In a mellow glow they go on to a half dozen oysters or clams—for energy. Next comes a huge plate of chicken au gratin with asparagus tips and a side order of salad. Like women they hesitate over whether to try a dessert. The answer is always "yes"—a chunk of pastry big enough to throttle a hippopotamus.

Then comes coffee and "brandy."

"Oh, why not?" And a double round seems only sensible.

A rosy glow wraps them in goodwill, and they are all geniuses together. Then someone says:

"Good lord, it's 3:30!"

They waddle out and grab a cab back to the office. There the double martinis, chicken, oysters, salad, coffee, and French pastry churn them into a torpor. The afternoon is lost.

Three-hour luncheons may take a long time to destroy New York. But they do a quicker job on the men who eat them.

78 Shot In Prison Break

SEOUL, Sept. 15 (AP)—Seventy-eight persons were killed or wounded today in a break by 430 prisoners from the jail at Mokpo, a seaport 200 miles south of here.

Ten guards and 68 prisoners were reported shot in a battle at a village two miles from Mokpo. Twenty-eight of the prisoners and 10 guards were known to be dead and 40 other prisoners were dead or wounded.

Guerrillas Captured

The prisoners staged their break yesterday while being returned to prison from work farms. They seized guns and ammunition and fled to the hills.

Police, army and navy units pursued.

A sharp fight was underway between guards and the remaining 356 escaped prisoners.

Church Meeting To Open Here Friday

A three-day meeting at the Primitive Baptist church, 2402 Twenty-third, will begin Friday morning, with church leaders from several Texas cities to be in attendance.

Elder W. H. Fox, leader of the church here, said services are scheduled for 11 a.m., 2:30 p.m., and 7:30 p.m., daily, except for Sunday, when no 7:30 p.m. meeting will be held. He said communion would be observed during the meeting.

Some of the expected out-of-town guests are T. A. Dunn of Crosbyton, E. J. Norman of Wellington, H. E. Richards of Anton, and E. J. Ellis of Tulia.

Australia hopes to find an American market for frozen scallops and crayfish.

CONTROL OF CONGRESS AT STAKE

Republican Hopes Boosted By Victory In Pennsylvania Race

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) — Republicans who have been calling for all-out attacks on the Truman administration grabbed for the GOP campaign reins today on the strength of a Pennsylvania special election victory.

As an example, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said his party's success in a trial run in the 26th Pennsylvania district "shows there is no room for me-tooers and compromisers in next year's fight for control of Congress."

"We've got to give the Democrats hell if we expect to win," Wherry told a reporter.

Wherry View Gains

As floor leader, Wherry often finds himself in the minority even among his Republican Senate colleagues in his opposition to President Truman's domestic and foreign policy proposals.

He has contended, along with some other party members, that the Republicans tossed away the presidential election last year because Gov. Thomas E. Dewey put on a sweetness and light campaign in contrast with President Truman's vigorous stumping.

Wherry's hand seems to have been strengthened by the victory of Republican John P. Saylor over Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, sr., the Democratic candidate, in the Pennsylvania race where the President's program was a main issue.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), who has voted for far more of the administration's proposals than Wherry, said the Pennsylvania results prove that Republicans can't win by pussyfooting.

Slogans Used

"I think the election demonstrates that when the Republicans meet the issues squarely and vigorously, they can win," he said.

Rep. Hall (R-NY), said that if all congressional districts in 1950 show the same GOP percentage increase that was demonstrated by the Pennsylvania race, the Republicans will gain 80 seats—and a majority—in the House. Hall heads the national Republican congressional committee.

Saylor talked in his winning campaign about the "regimented semi-police state and the socialistic welfare state philosophy" he said the Truman administration is fostering.

Similarly, Hickenlooper said he going to talk in his 1950 re-election campaign against statism, a term he and Republicans generally interpret as a move to substitute paternalistic government for individual enterprise.

New York To Vote

This argument will get a workout also in the New York special Senate election race. This contest begins officially today with major party designation of candidates for the November contest to fill the seat vacated by the resignation of Democratic Senator Robert F. Wagner.

Senator Dulles (R-NY), scheduled to receive the Republican nomination, already has teed off on what he calls the trend toward statism on the part of the Truman administration. He will accept his party's nomination on a state-wide radio program which also will include Governor Dewey and Senator Ives (R-NY).

Democrats plan to name former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman as their choice. President Truman has indicated he may campaign in the state for Lehman. There may have been some discussion of arrangements when Edward J. Flynn, New York national committeeman, visited the White House yesterday.

Flynn predicted Lehman will win in a campaign based on the Democratic national platform, which Mr. Truman has made the basis for his proposals to Congress.

The New York committeeman said he doesn't regard the Pennsylvania special election results as significant. He noted that the district had been in Republican hands since 1938, except when Rep. Robert L. Coffey, jr., Democrat, won it last fall by a 12,000 margin.

All-School Rally, Open Houses Are Set For Students

An all-school pep rally at 7 p. m. today and an open house for Texas Technological college students by Lubbock churches will round out a week of pre-school social activities.

The pep rally for all Tech students will be held in the gymnasium and will include an appearance by football Coach Dell Morgan as well as some of the players in Saturday's game against the University of Texas.

Most Lubbock churches are included in the open house program which begins at the separate congregations at 8 p. m.

Counseling Completed

Tonight's activities follow a three-day counseling and orientation program given freshmen Monday through Wednesday by Tech student counselors. The program was climaxed Wednesday night with addresses by the deans of men and women.

Marshall Gettys, vice president of the Tech student counsel, was in charge of the men's program, while Dorothy Phillips, head of the junior counsel of the Association of Women Students, directed business at the women's meeting.

Dean of Women Margarette Walker told freshmen girls of life on the Tech campus for women and instructed them of various activities throughout the year, as well as the regulations governing those activities. She also brought out the future for women students and graduates of the college.

A similar address was given by Dean of Men James G. Allen to freshmen males. Both addresses followed individual counseling throughout the day between student counselors and incoming collegians.

Private conferences were also granted the newcomers Wednesday by the deans of men as well as by the veterans office for veterans. The guidance center also reported numerous counsels for the freshmen.

Donation To Polio Fund Voted By VFW

Approximately 400 members attended the regular semi-monthly meeting of the V. F. W. Wednesday night at the clubhouse, Thirty-fourth and Ave. N.

It was voted to donate $100 to the polio fund. Members also voted to sponsor an Armistice day dance on the night of Nov. 11, proceeds from which will go to Girlstown, U.S.A.

The V.F.W. also voted to sponsor a Boy Scout troop.

Membership awards were presented to Henry Gutersloh, Eldridge Rayburn, Buster Holton, W. F. Pennington, Carl Moyers, Jewel C. Marbut, and J. H. "Cotton" Bryant.

Private Detective's Business Unromantic

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 15 (U.P.)—Pipesmoking Ephriam Bisson says the private eye business is drudgery, but a real-life investigator can get plenty of tips from the radio serials.

The former Groton police chief thinks fiction's Sam Spade is pretty clever. "Whoever writes those programs would make a fine detective," Bisson said.

But from his experience, fiction is stranger than truth. He said it's a matter of pavement-pounding, checking and re-checking dull and uninteresting facts and plenty of hard work.

Contrary to the serials, the 53-year-old operator said, a private detective handles few murders.

"Missing persons, protection of business property and divorce evidence gathering—that's what most of it is," he complained.

Roads Group Holds Floydada Meeting

FLOYDADA, Sept. 14. (Special) — About 25 persons attended a meeting Wednesday night of the Rural Roads association held up in the high school building here. Col. Joel I. McGregor, vice-president of the Texas Rural Roads association, was the principal speaker at the meeting.

County Judge G. C. Tubbs was elected president of the local organization and G. M. Shirey was selected as treasurer. Other officers will be elected at the group's next meeting to be held Sept. 29.

An organization constitution and by-laws were discussed and adopted at Wednesday nights meeting. Col. McGregor explained the functions and purpose of the farm roads association.

Muddy roads interferred with the attendance at the meeting, Judge Tubbs reported, but a big turnout is expected at the next scheduled gathering.

The Rural Roads association is a non-profit organization begun a year ago to fight for permanent improvements which would be made from taxes collected on natural resources. Only negligible taxes have ever been levied in Texas on such products, road association officials declared at the meeting.

Tonight's meeting was the third in a series of similar conferences now being held all over the state. Another such meeting is scheduled at Crosbyton Thursday.

Kentucky Policemen Acquitted Of Murder Charges In Shooting

HAZARD, Ky., Sept. 15 (AP) — Two young Evarts, Ky., police officers were acquitted of murder charges by a circuit court jury late yesterday.

Isachar Combs, 29, Evarts' fifth police chief within as many months last year, and his assistant, 32-year-old Lewis Deaton, announced they were through with police work after winning the acquittal.

At their first trial, they were convicted on manslaughter charges with the jury recommending 10-year sentences. They won a new trial on pleas of newly discovered evidence.

They had been charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting Dec. 17 of Bryan Middleton, 47, Evarts restaurant operator. The officers said they had gone to serve a liquor-search warrant on Middleton in the legally-dry town of Evarts.

Mayor Elihu Bailey said last year's rapid turnover of police chiefs resulted from trouble with bootleggers.

Floydada Rotarians Hear John Shepperd

FLOYDADA, Sept. 14. (Special) John Ben Shepperd, Gladewater attorney and former national Jaycee president, Wednesday night told members of the Floydada Rotary club and their guests that "America's fitness to survive depends on a vigorous demonstration that we can make our form of democracy work on a strife-torn world."

The occasion was a meeting of the Rotary club and Rotary Anns honoring the faculty of the Floydada public schools and members of the board of trustees. The barbecue supper and gathering was held in the Ward school gymnasium.

Shepperd asserted that "our trouble has been the reluctance of our people to understand that working for democracy in the United States is an effective way of spreading democracy to other nations," and that "freedom and democracy are never permanently secured. They must be achieved anew by each new generation. Our people must be brought to realize that democracy is a competing way of life and government."

He also declared that "in the dramatic psychological clash between democracy and Communism we find the arsenal of Democracy anchored in the classrooms of America. This is the first time in the history of our country we have been called upon to defend in the idealogical realm the American way of life. We must train a new type soldier. American schools and American teachers have become the training ground and cadre."

Shepperd was introduced by Richard F. Stovall, Floydada attorney.

John Stapleton, president of the Rotary club made a brief welcome address and spoke a few words of appreciation. I. T. Graves, Floydada superintendent of schools, introduced members of the school faculty and their wives and husbands.

Fred Zimmerman, jr., was in charge of the program and acted as master of ceremonies. Others on the program committee for the event were Clarence Guffee, Garlan A. Glover, Phil Steen, and Robert Crowell.

Approximately 225 persons attended the program.

Students in Pakistan schools have a new set of history books, prepared and approved by the Pakistan History Board.

Farm Session Held In City

"If there is a depression it will be our fault," Walter Hammond, president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation told 300 Farm Bureau members of the southern half of District 2 in a meeting in the Lubbock hotel Wednesday afternoon.

"Depressions usually begin with agriculture," Hammond said. "When farm prices keep declining a depression usually follows."

"Industry and labor have been looking after their share of the $200 billion national income. It is up to us, and us alone, to look after the farmer's interests," Hammond asserted.

Queen Is Chosen

Hammond's address brought to a climax the all-day business session. Members and representatives of agricultural agencies also heard Congressman George Mahon, 19th district representative, and Bill Tilson, Meadow, district director of the State Farm Bureau. Austin Crownover, Waco, field representative, made a plea for more membership to "strengthen the voice of agriculture so that its weight could be felt in any legislative body."

Following the business session and bringing to a close the one-day conference a "queen" was chosen from among four candidates to represent the district at the Dallas Fair this fall. She was Miss Helen Daphene Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Taylor, route 1, Morton.

Hammond pointed out that it was the American Farm Bureau that made it possible to get loans on wheat "stored in the open." "We got no action at all until we talked with President Truman," Hammond said. "Three days after our talk with the President we were able to get loans on the wheat that was on the ground. Then strangely enough there seemed to be a lot more elevator storage space available."

Hammond stated that the Texas Farm Bureau now has 35,000 members but he hopes to see this number increased to several times that number.

"We don't want to see agriculture become a political football," Hammond said. "The brains of the nation come from the farms. We don't need to call on outside help or leadership. The farmers only need to stick together."

Must Be Reasonable

"We don't know yet whether there will be any changes in the Anderson bill but if there are they will be in line with your wishes," Hammond concluded.

During the morning session Mahon drew loud applause when he said:

"In shaping our farm program for the future we must be reasonable in our demands."

"Agriculture is stronger today than ever before in our history," Mahon said. "Farmers come closer to owning their own business than any other segment of the American people."

"But farmers, and in fact, people in general, don't realize the seriousness of conditions yet to be faced," Mahon continued. "Readjustment in agriculture is a necessity because of the tremendous surpluses that have been built up."

Mahon repeated many of the points he made in an address before 500 persons in Plainview Tuesday. He will go to Big Spring Thursday to address a similar group there at 11 a. m.

Glenn T. Hackney, president of the Lubbock county Farm Bureau, opened the meeting Wednesday. Rev. L. N. Lipscomb gave the invocation and led group singing. Following an address of welcome Hackney turned the meeting over to Bill Tilson.

"Black Dahlia" Case Reopened As Death Room Is Discovered

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15 (INS)—The two-and-a-half year old "Black Dahlia" murder case flared into prominence again today with the disclosure of a police report which placed the 22-year-old Elizabeth Short in a south Flower street motel room before her death.

Girl Is Identified

H. H. Hoffman, the motel owner, identified the dark-haired beauty as the girl who occupied the room three days before her nude, disected body was found in a vacant lot in southwest Los Angeles on Jan. 15, 1947.

According to the report to authorities, Hoffman found blood-covered shorts, blouse and skirt in the room which he said the short girl had occupied. Sheets discovered in the room were so saturated with blood that Hoffman said he had to "soak them in a bucket of water" before he sent them to the laundry to be cleaned.

Picture Is Shown

The report, filed within the last two months, said that officers had shown Hoffman a picture of the victim and that he had replied:

"That is the girl who was here."

In a later interview recorded in the same report, Hoffman named a man, a known acquaintance of "Black Dahlia," who came to the motel and stayed "about four or five days" in the room next to the one occupied by the girl.

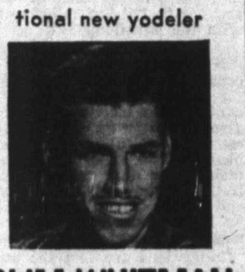

Hoffman said that he did not report his information at the time of the murder because he "didn't want any trouble with police."

The Herald-Express yesterday announced that the room where the "Black Dahlia" had been mutilated and murdered had been found.

NAVY'S BIRTHPLACE

Marblehead, Mass., claims to be the birthplace of the American Navy since the schooner Hannah, manned and fitted there, was the first American warship regularly commissioned, Sept. 2, 1775, by Gen. George Washington.

British Laborites' Confidence Boosted By Washington Talks

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

The easement devised for England's economic crisis by the American-Canadian-British conference in Washington also has lessened the political anxiety of John Bul's first socialist government, as this column predicted a week ago might happen.

Prior to the conference the economic situation had become so grave that it looked as though the government might be forced to call a general election forthwith instead of waiting until next midsummer when it normally would be due. The point, of course, was that if the government waited, and the crisis further deteriorated, it might lose the election on the grounds that it had failed to cope with the situation.

Time For Pledges

Now London reports that the conference decision may permit the government to hang on and avoid a snap election. This would give the party an opportunity to complete fulfilling its election pledges. Two important items remain to be dealt with—nationalization of the huge steel industry, and reform of the House of Lords by limiting the veto power on measures passed by Commons.

Indications are that the socialists really are confident of winning the coming election. Naturally the economic situation is a cause of deep worry, but they can claim that they inherited it when they took over in 1945. As an offset they can point to a large measure of nationalization of industry, and to the inauguration of a huge welfare program—wholesale medical treatment, old age pensions and so on—running to the staggering sum of more than two and a half billion dollars per year.

Security Ace In Hole

This personal security program undoubtedly is the ace in the hole for the general election. The small income folk of Britain have become security minded. They prefer a moderate "absolute security" as provided by the government, to gambling on gaining a greater security by private initiative. Of course they have to help pay for this security in taxation, but in the lower brackets this isn't so terrible, although fairly stiff: It's the "private initiative" gambler who pays through the nose for security programs.

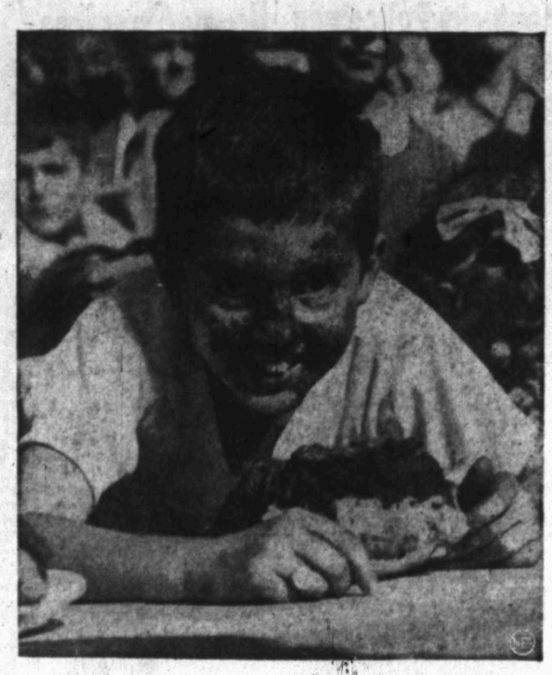

A glance at the figures of the last general election in 1945 give some indication of the large number of folk who are leaning toward the welfare government. Out of a total of more than 25,000,000 votes, nearly 12,000,000 voted the socialist ticket, the rest being distributed among several parties. Not all who voted for socialism were socialists, but while there is no way of breaking down that figure it is clear that many Conservatives and members of other parties voted with the Laborites (socialists).

Whether England is to become a permanent socialist state may depend on the next general election. If the socialists are returned to power they will, under normal circumstances, have another five year tenure of office. In that time they could complete and stabilize socialization of the country to such an extent that it would be difficult to revert to the old free enterprise system.

In short England would desert the capitalism on which her empire was built—a daring experiment.

Gerald did away with 144 cubic inches of pumpkin pie in 60 seconds to take first place in the contest. He won a bike and promptly gave it to his 11-year-old sister, Gloria.

Woman Claims Prof Beat Her

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 15. (AP)—A buxom 35-year-old nurse testified in court here that she once posed in the nude for the university professor who beat her with a pistol.

Anna B. Pierce also declared on the stand in general sessions court yesterday that Russell B. Maxey called her his "kept woman" before an attorney friend of his.

Maxey, a 45-year-old engineering professor at the University of South Carolina, is on trial for burglary with intent to murder the attractive brunette nurse and for assault and battery with intent to kill.

Conviction on these charges carries a maximum penalty of life imprisonment.

Jealousy Admitted

Miss Pierce also related on the stand yesterday that Maxey pistol-whipped her for almost two hours after he emerged from under her bed where he had hidden in her suburban home here August 3.

When he was arrested, Maxey told officers he beat Miss Pierce because he was jealous and wanted to marry her. He recently become reconciled with his wife.

The pretty dark-haired nurse further testified yesterday that Maxey several times asked her to marry him but she turned him down. She told the jury, however, that she and Maxey had traveled and registered at several hotels as man and wife.

She also said that she allowed Maxey, a professional photographer, to make "figure studies" of her without her bathing suit on when they once visited a South Carolina Beach.

the OPENING OF COBB'S NEW DEPARTMENT STORE FRIDAY, SEPT. 16th

13th Street and Avenue J, Lubbock

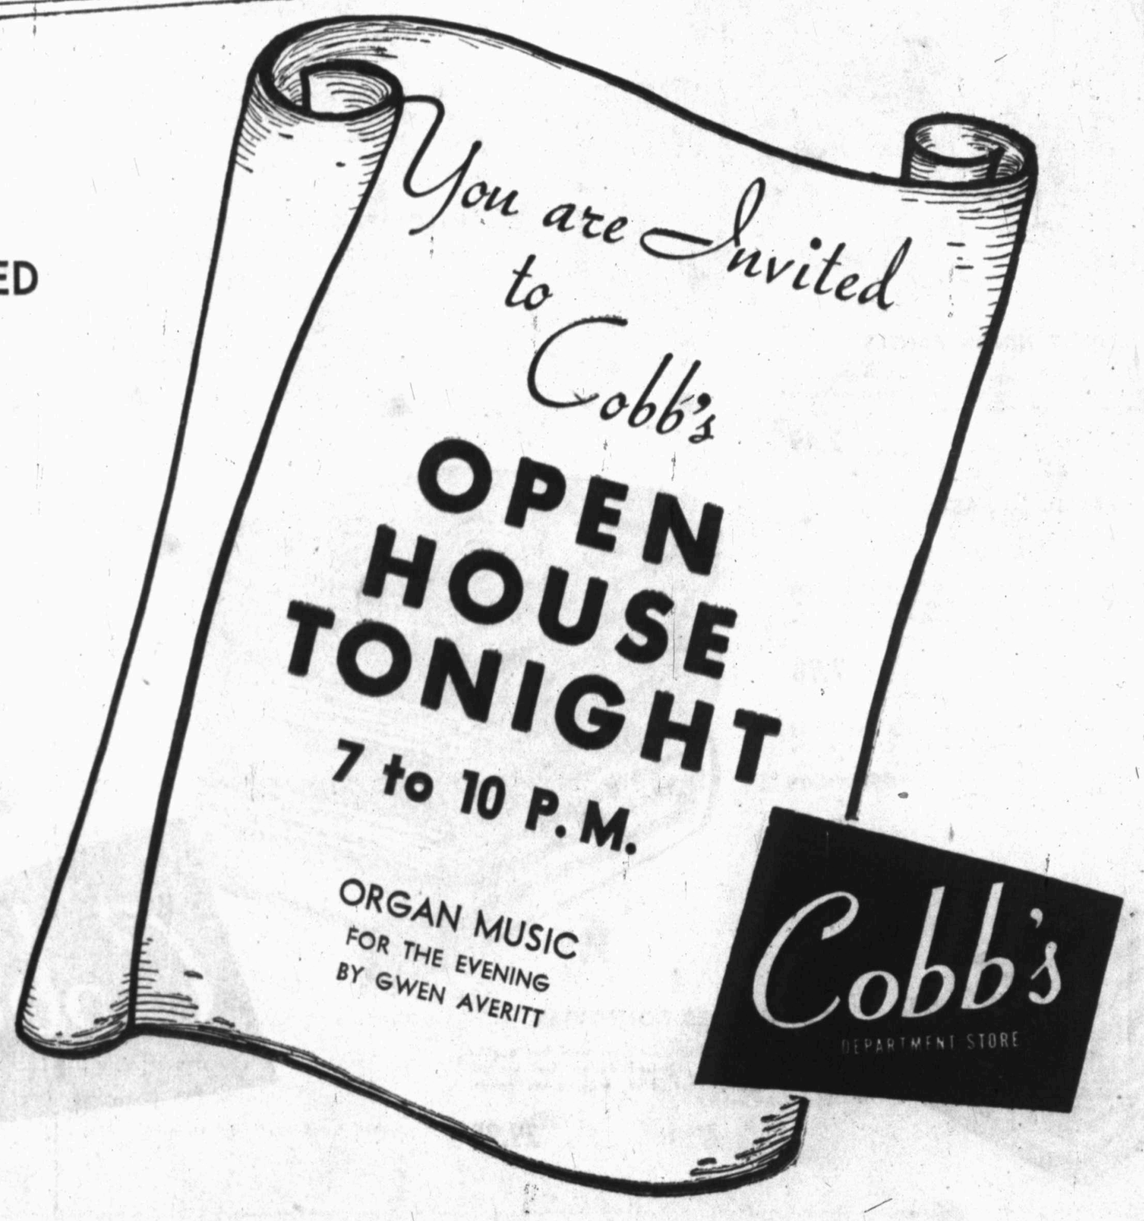

ORCHIDS WILL BE PRESENTED TO THE LADIES ATTENDING COBB'S OPEN HOUSE TONIGHT

Tonight, from 7 to 10 p. m., the doors of Cobb's will be opened to you, the people of Lubbock and the great South Plains for the formal showing of Lubbock's newest department store. We cordially invite you to visit Cobb's, inspect our store and complete stock of fine, new merchandise, and join us in celebrating the fulfillment of plans to bring to Lubbock a complete new family store.

The entire personnel of Cobb's will be on hand to greet you, tonight. No merchandise will be sold during the formal opening---Cobb's will be open for business Friday.

Fashion Parade In All Splendor Represented In Cobb's Opening

Fashion moves along in a sophisticated manner for Fall '49 and the opening of Cobb's Department Store this week finds the fashion parade represented in all its splendor in the new store's racks.

Feminity, softness with an easy, slightly lowered waistline and a slender skirt base, is the over-all silhouette for the season, which is now upon us, fashion experts at Cobb's tell us.

Skirts Focal Point

Skirts are still the focal point of interest—they are slim-looking, highly detailed and replete with motion. A motion created by flying panels, jutting peplums—many pleats. New and smart and universally endorsed is the very slim, buttoned-to-the back skirt.

Up go skirt lengths—with 12 to 14 inches the average length in daytime wear and ten inches from the floor for after-five dresses. Some collections show casuals as high as 16 inches from the floor.

Again the shoulder emphasis is on the natural, rounded look with the raglan, all-in-one cut and the bishop variations by far the most popular sleeves shapes in every designer's showing.

Necklines To Extremes

Necklines go to the extreme-extremes—either lifted to hug the back of the neck, showing off the short-cropped hair styles or plunging low into deep V's. Deep cut necklines are cowled, draped, side-swept or forward. Whether high or low — they are all dramatic.

The important looking dresses for Fall are slim and molded — generally animated by a side-swept drape or some type of panel. Skirts that aren't paneled are new in their back-swept, button-on effect or in the tuilp taper of full peplums or tunics. Many of the newer dresses are seamed at the back for smooth, hip-hugging sides. Hemlines are side or center-slit on the narrowest of skirts. Sashed dresses make a new appearance—side drapes with the cascade look are high in popularity.

Bows Are In Again

It is interesting to note that bows and scarf trims are exceptionally important for simple, dramatic emphasis. Huge perky bows for the young-in-mood casual fashions and a sophisticated scarf treatment for the more mature fashions.

Three quarter sleeves with deep, loose cuffs will make a prominent impression in the fashion picture. The push-up sleeve, slightly full above the elbow, continues to hold its own in popularity.

Pockets Biggest News

The extreme use of pockets is the biggest news of the season! You'll find them on the bodice—on the skirt—high up, almost at the shoulder line. Large pockets with diagonal treatment—concealed pockets that fall into the drapery of the skirt—or small pockets used in pairs or more, are seen over and over again in all the new collections. On jackets, they are placed on the hips, running frankly to the very center back.

Pockets, pockets everywhere — some are used for convenience, others purely for the sake of design.

Buttons, too, run rampant over the fashion picture! Like pockets they are used for either utility or display. Many of the newer button trims are made of such utilitarian materials as cork or plastic —while others serve as jeweled accents for dressier frocks.

Hats Hug The Head

Millinery carries the irregular, head hugging shapes shown in the Spring and Summer collections. The helmet, the deep cloche and the little beret are the basic shapes. Making a strong bid for new popularity is the turban — smart, sophisticated turbans have been shown in lovely metallic cloths and spiced with jeweled or feathered accents. Early predictions forecast that the turban will be the fashion for the soft, smooth detailing of the ready-to-wear creations of the season.

To complement the three-quarter sleeves and both the high and low neckline, necklaces and bracelets will be shown in great and diversified groups. Drop earrings will be more popular for after-five wear with the simple button earring the daytime classic.

The colors most predominantly shown in the handbag picture are taken directly from nature's palette to accent the proud beauty of the newest fashions.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL separates return to the rustic in this two-piece ensemble. The shirt is supple corduroy with a hi-or-lo collar line, smart with buttons and bows. The all-wool plaid skirt has its pleats stitched across the hips for smooth smartness.

GLOVE GLAMOUR

Gloves with a frivolous, feminine look are getting a big hand this fall. Side-draping, smocking, elacticized wrists, multi-stitching and dressmaker detail give new fashion importance to gloves as a major costume accessary.

Fall Footnotes Predict High Fashion, High Color In Shoes, Cobb's Collection Reveals

New variations to old theme is the keynote of the Fall shoe collections at Cobb's new department store opening this week.

Straps In The Picture

Straps that angle across the instep or circle the ankle and the insteps, are very much in the picture. The classic pump takes to bright trim by the addition of smart clips (borrow your earrings) at the vamp. The suit-slanted stroller is ever-smart and twice-as-elegant as heretofore in suave calfskin, and suedes. The sling pump takes an encore in the fashion scene for Fall.

The charming Louis heel, hesitantly introduced last year, is here to stay for the dressy-afternoon frock and the cocktail length dress. Spats and spat versions are good news, with dressmaker and semi-tailored suits. Many of the strapped shoes wear button detail

Colors For Ensembles

For smoother, more flattering fit, more and more of the new shoes have elasticized uppers, which lend themselves more naturally to more intricate styling.

Colors are evident in harmony creating ensembles — with the brown-tones, wines, brick, green and even navy making a strong bid for prominence.

BELTS ARE IMPORTANT

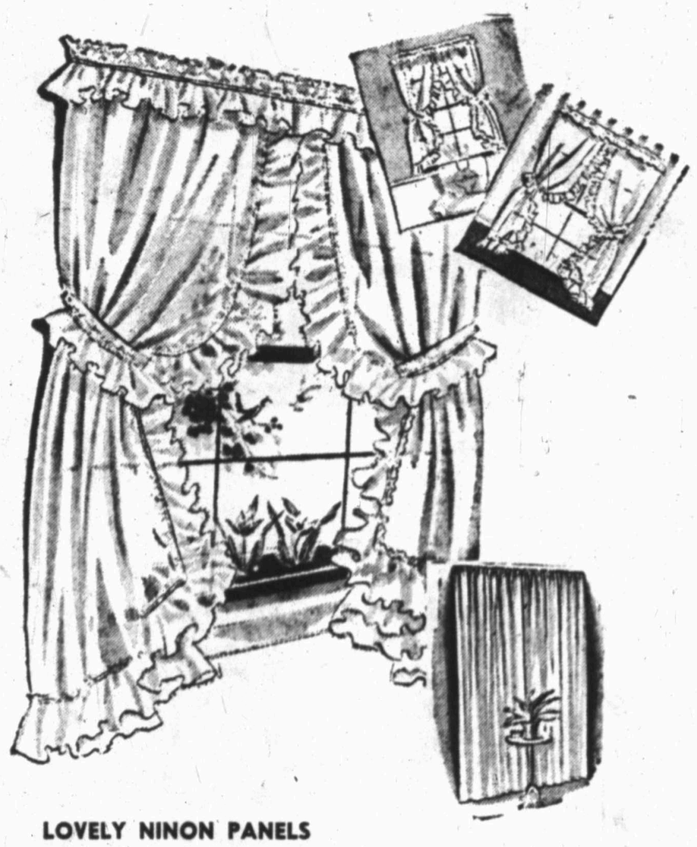

Don't belittle your middle by ignoring the fashion importance of belts. Cobb's fashion experts say. Dog-leash narrow, waist-embracers are highly popular — leather belts in narrow-to-corselet widths are brave with color and trim . . and the jersey sash in woven or knit weights is used sash or cummerbund fashion to encircle the middle. And don't forget the striking effects that can be achieved with printed scarves for waist-hugging wonders.

BOUNTY FOR BRIDES

Every pastel tint in the rainbow is presented in a galaxy of ultra-elegant bridal finery. Shell-transparency tones are used in the traditional bridal satins, nets and the shimmering velvets in drapery-dramatic bridal and bridesmaids' gowns.

Many bride's gowns carry matching mitts as part of the dress itself—more and more stress is laid upon greater versatility in the design of the gown. Removable long sleeves—little bodice-boleros and other tricks adapt the gowns from the wedding aisle to the ballroom floor.

Brocaded satins — metallic-thread shot crepes—the loveliest of chiffon velvets and silk chiffons and marquisettes are more lavish in one of the most lavish of bridal showings in years.

Cobb Brothers Department Stores Started In Area 23 Years Ago

Twenty-two years ago the first of three brothers came to the South Plains to enter the retail dry goods business in this rapidly-growing agricultural empire.

It wasn't long before he was joined by the two other brothers and the firm of Cobb Bros., was established. The company now is one of the major department store firms of West Texas, having 12 stores in this area, eastern New Mexico and Arizona.

Tom Cobb President

The twelfth unit, the Lubbock store, is to be formally opened this week at the corner of Thirteenth and Ave. J.

Tom Cobb, president of the firm, was the first of the trio to come west from Dallas, where he was employed by Higginbotham, Bailey, Logan Co., wholesale dry goods company. Two and three years later, Joe, secretary-treasurer; and Bob, vice president, joined him and the newly-organized company began to expand.

Started In 1927

Start of the organization was made when Tom Cobb and I. A. Stephens, Lubbock man, who was also employed by the Dallas company, bought out the Lewis Bros., store in Brownfield on Jan. 1, 1927. They operated the store until April, 1928, when Stephens decided he wanted a store in a larger field and sold his interest in the store to Cobb. Stephens opened a store in Dallas, later coming to Lubbock where he operated a store at the location now occupied by Dunlap's.

A year later, Joe Cobb joined his brother at Brownfield. He had been working with the same firm his brother left two years earlier. In 1930, the trio was complete when Bob Cobb, who had considerable retailing experience with Sears and A. Harris at Dallas, moved to the South Plains.

Tarrant County Farm Boys

Thus was formed Cobb Bros., by three former Tarrant county farm boys. The brothers were born near Grapevine and educated in Tarrant county schools.

With the Brownfield store doing a good volume, the brothers decided to expand their business and in 1934 opened stores in Lamesa, Littlefield and Tahoka. Later R. W. Rutherford, who had joined the firm at Littlefield, was killed in an automobile accident and in settlement of the estate the stores at Littlefield and Tahoka went to his heirs.

Graham Store Opened In 1934

Retrenchment in the heart of the depression forced closing of the store at Tahoka (later reopened), but in 1934 the Graham store was also opened and did a good volume from the beginning.

Next unit in the group was the opening of a store at Levelland in 1937 and establishment of the other branches came in the years prior to and during the war.

Seymour's Cobb Bros., store was opened in 1938 and Morton, Plainview and Muleshoe in 1940. Knox City and Stamford were added in 1943.

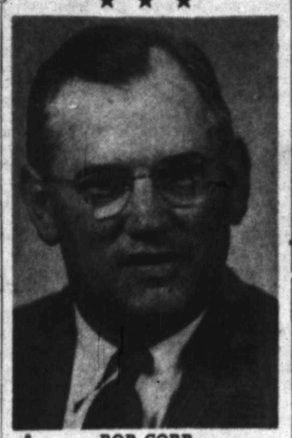

Headquarters Moved Here

In 1945, the company's headquarters were moved from Brownfield to Lubbock, where the brothers had purchased the six-story Myrick building, where the company's general offices are now located. Plans for the Lubbock store were announced then, but actual construction held up until a lease was secured on the adjoining site and building limitations eased last year.

Two more stores were added to the chain during 1946 with purchase of stores at Casa Grande, Arizona, between Phoenix and Tuscon, and at Carlsbad, N. M.

Vice President

Cobb Brothers All Make Homes In City

Lubbock is not only the headquarters for Cobb's Department Stores, but the Cobb brothers all have moved to Lubbock to make their homes.

Tom Cobb, president of the company, has resided here since 1945. He lives at 1808 Broadway; is married and has a daughter, Aurelia Ann, a student in Tech and two sons, Dan T., 12; and Joe Paul, 9.

COLLEGIATE CAPERS

Two interesting skirts and one good jacket equals two suits in the co-ed wardrobe. Add a jumper, as many blouses as the budget will allow—and toss in a clever jerkin or vestee—and you don't need a slide rule to discover the mathematical potential of a basic and highly interesting, casual about-the-campus wardrobe.

Other Store Managers

A strict policy of maintenance of stocks of quality merchandise at reasonable prices has been followed by the brothers throughout their 20 years of operation.

The Lubbock store will be a slight departure from this policy due to the fact that there will be two separate stores housed in the three-story building. The basement or downstairs store will be a complete store within itself for budget buying with popular priced goods available in complete lines in every department.

The upstairs two floors will be devoted to merchandise of higher quality goods, comparable to those of the finer stores of Lubbock and this section of the state.

Every Item In New Cobb's Store Bought For Lubbock Store

Every single bit of merchandise in Cobb's Department Store, Thirteenth and Ave. J, which opens for business Friday morning, has been purchased exclusively for the Lubbock store.

The Cobb brothers and heads of the various departments made buying trips to St. Louis, Dallas and New York during the past several months making purchases for the new store.

The merchandise, especially a lot of the new fall goods, has been arriving daily during the past several days and sales persons have been working night and day unpacking and displaying for the store's opening this week-end.

"Luggage Look" Is Latest Style In Fall Handbags; Various Sizes Are Available

It's the newest expression in handbag fashions! It's "The Luggage Look" for milady's fall handbag, a look that denotes a wonderful convenience and novel loveliness. For this new accessory, designers have used as their inspiration the carry-all capacities of suitcases, have transpored them into brilliant bags that duplicate the form of luggage, are actually miniature overnight cases in size.

One of the smartest of the "Luggage Look" bags is created of highly-polished calf, shaped with satchel-type handles of burnished tortoise, and fitted to carry everything from comb to nightie. In all sizes, these bags have the same fine-grain leathers as the most aristocratic luggage, the same careful detail and rich metal frames that add much to the fabulous appeal of their new and prophetic style.

On the dressier scene, the bag for evening is cued to the more feminine gowns. Dainty little dressmaker bags in exquisite fabrics—some with dramatic magnificently beaded and jewelled, and handsomely fitted. Many are complete with gold - trimmed combs, compacts, and even cigarette cases, and each is beautifully lined with matching or contrasting fabric.

Sophisticated Simplicity Describes Fall Suit And Coat Collection At Cobb's New Department Store

Shorter Suit Jackets

Suits see shorter jackets—fitted, boxy, back-belted and the classic Norfolk jackets. Skirts are slim, and occasionally, kick-pleated — panel fronts hug the hips tightly—the slimmest of skirts are slit, both for utility and good-looks.

Shoulders are padded lightly; sleeves vary from the usual narrow, classic fit to the flattering raglan and dolman cuts. Small collars with individual treatment are notched, tabbed and carry novelty lapel handling. Pockets are predominate as is multi-button trim.

Jackets Are Surprise

Jackets have a spanking new look and are a pleasant surprise to any one anticipating a new coat purchase. There are great coats, less flared than previously—balmacaans with raglan shoulders—polo coats in lush camel hair fabrics — the belted silhouette and the three-quarter length coat.

Dress-up coats are dramatic and elegant and are trimmed with fur for the collar, lapels and trims. The coats are round at the shoulder, subtly emphasized with dressmaker detail and most of the close-fitting and princess styles.

All-Weather Coats

Pouchy, carry-all pockets—deep concealed pockets, pockets for trim—pockets for utility are extra credit in the coat curriculum.

New coat fabrics boats a host of interesting textures and patterns. Shadow overplaids, bold bright plaids, of varied and assorted color combinations, are all bright and exciting. Iridescent tweeds are the big news, of course, and the usual small-to-large checks continue to hold their own.

Colors Are Gay

In suits and coats alike, the colors are gay and brilliant with vintage shades sparkling in the color panorama. All the grape colors from pale purple to deep, malaga purples, rich with red overtones, will be in great demand. Reds are rosy and clearhued.

Check taupe, toast and all the neutral brown tones for top popularity and you are sure to find the new putty-color widely accepted. The brown family, as a whole, is considered the leader in the color parade.

Green In New Intensity

Olive, moss and green-gold are the favorites in the green family. Slate blues with grey tones and teal (blue-green) is revived with a fresh, new color intensity. A true, blue-navy enters the scene proudly for fall-into-winter wear.

Leading woolen mills, leather fabricators and accessory manufacturers have banded together to bring to the market all of these colors in identical color values in all manner of merchandise.

You'll find it an exciting hunt—a "which one shall I get" dilemma, when you shop for your new fall suit or coat from these dramatic, colorful creations.

Cords, Velveteen, Plaids Complete Casual Ensembles

Everything from the top of your head to the tip of your toes is accessorized with corduroy, velveteen or plaid to add the final finishing fillip to your fall casual ensembles.

Clever toques [illegible]ts and cloches add the [illegible]ine interest with hu[illegible]arry-all handbags and even shoes turning corduroy conscious. Corduroy, velveteen and wool plaid ballet-type slippers are the footnotes to fashion to complete your ensemble.

Cobb's Features Latest Design, Planning In Department Stores

Cobb's Department Store at Thirteenth and Ave. J, which will be formally opened to the public this week, represents realization of a dream of the three Cobb brothers over the past 20 years to have a fine department store in Lubbock, the center of the South Plains area.

The Lubbock store is the twelfth unit of a group of stores operated by the Cobbs in West Texas, eastern New Mexico and Arizona.

Latest In Planning And Design

Constructed of brick, concrete and steel, with a cream-colored brick exterior, the new store building contains a basement and two stories, 78 by 125 feet. Of fireproof construction, thermostatically refrigerated air-conditioned and heated, the building was constructed especially for department store use and represents the latest in store planning and design.

Haynes & Kirby were architects for the building which was constructed by Carl Maxey, Lubbock contractor.

Basement Complete Store

The huge basement, with an asphalt tile floor, is to be a complete store within itself for budget-buying of popular-priced merchandise. Complete lines in all departments will be maintained.

A receiving room for stock for all departments and divisions of the store will be maintained in the 52 by 100-foot basement of the adjoining Myrick building, owned by the three brothers.

The street floor, with a colorful terrazzo tile floor and walls finished in pastel and deep tone colors, has bleached or frosted oak fixtures. Ladies and children's better shoes, men's better shoes, men's clothing, hats and furnishings, and ladies lingerie and accessories will be the departments on this floor.

The second floor, also finished in pastel colors with matching fixtures, will house ladies' ready-to-wear, millinery, children's and infants' wear, foundation garments, better piece goods, white goods and home furnishings departments. The second floor has asphalt and carpeted floors in the various departments.

Offices In Myrick Building.

General offices of the store, on the second floor of the Myrick building, may be reached from the second floor. General offices of the company are located on the sixth floor of the adjoining building.

The basement store may be reached by stairways at the left front and center rear of the building. A stairway to the second floor and an elevator is also at the rear of the building for the convenience of shoppers.

The building's foundation was constructed to carry two additional stories, which may be added in the future.

Bob Cobb, vice president of Cobb Bros., is manager of the new store. Earl Hunter is general auditor and Argo V. Peek is credit manager.

Department Managers Named

W. C. Arnold is manager of the basement store; Mrs. H. T. Bateman, manager of basement ladies' ready-to-wear; Mrs. W. A. Johnson, lingerie; Jim Hussey, manager shoes; Charles Wright, manager men's department; Mrs. Geo. E. Thompson, manager ladies' ready-to-wear; Mrs. Lucille Ingalls, manager children's and infants' wear; Miss Marie Hale, piece goods and home furnishings; Mrs. Ada Burton, manager millinery; and J. C. Monroe, advertising and display manager.

Most of the personnel of the new store are long-time experienced persons in department store retailing and nearly all of them long-time residents of Lubbock.

Orchids Will Be Given Ladies At Store's Opening

Every woman and young lady visiting Cobb's Department Store's formal opening Thursday night from 7:00 until 10:00 p. m. will receive an orchid.

The orchids, flown into Lubbock especially for the formal opening, will be souvenirs of the opening of the new department store.

Coordinates In Vogue This Fall

Mainstay of fall wardrobes for the tot-to-teen set are a gay array of coordinated skirts, jumpers, jackets, weskits, slacks, and pedal pushers. Corduroy is the standby fabric in a wonderful range of autumn colors that combine smartly with bright checks and plaids in cotton or woolen. Velveteens and plaids are smart companions, too, in many fall ensembles for the little miss and her older sister. You'll find them all at Cobbs'.

Softly tailored styles that simplify mother's ironing problems are the general rule for young school dresses, with frills reserved for party fare. Practical dark, yet bright colors dominate the scene, with white pique collars and cuffs providing light accents.

Plaids in both wools and cottons appear in every schoolroom from kindergarten to senior high. Wool jerseys, novelty rayons, and the new, embossed cottons lend new fabric interest to the children's wear picture.

Girls' coats imitate grown - up styles with new cuff and yoke treatments and modified flare backs. Fitted, princess coats are slated for increasing popularity, and coats with detachable hoods appear to be as much in demand as ever. Leading coat fabrics are sturdy wool fleeces, suedes, coverts and tweeds in a wide range of the favored autumn colors.

Suits for the 7-to-14 crowd feature styles in light-weight wool plaids and gabardines. Separate jackets are shown in novelty-patterned velveteens and corduroys.

Novelty fabrics are used in a wide assortment of girls' millinery and accessories. Polka-dotted velveteen and printed corduroy make gay hat and bag combinations. Bright, felt appliques trim matched-up belts, bags, and beanies to give added fashion dash to youthful costumes.

Fixtures In Cobb's New Store Built In City By Local Men

Fixtures in Cobb's Department Store which will be formally opened Thursday night are Lubbock-made throughout.

Lubbock workmen, supervised by S. V. Cunningham, fixture manager for all of Cobb stores, built the fixtures right in the store.

The fixtures, all sectional, are modern in every respect and built to provide the greatest utility in every department.

Street floor fixtures are of bleached oak, while fixtures in the basement store and the second floor are painted various pastel colors to comform with wall finishes in the various departments.

Local craftsmen, carpenters and cabinet makers, and painters, all union men, were employed in building the fixtures.

THAT ADDED TOUCH

A note of brilliance at your throat—a sparkle at your wrist, and a burst of glory at the neckline—are the jewelry touches for autumn's frocks.

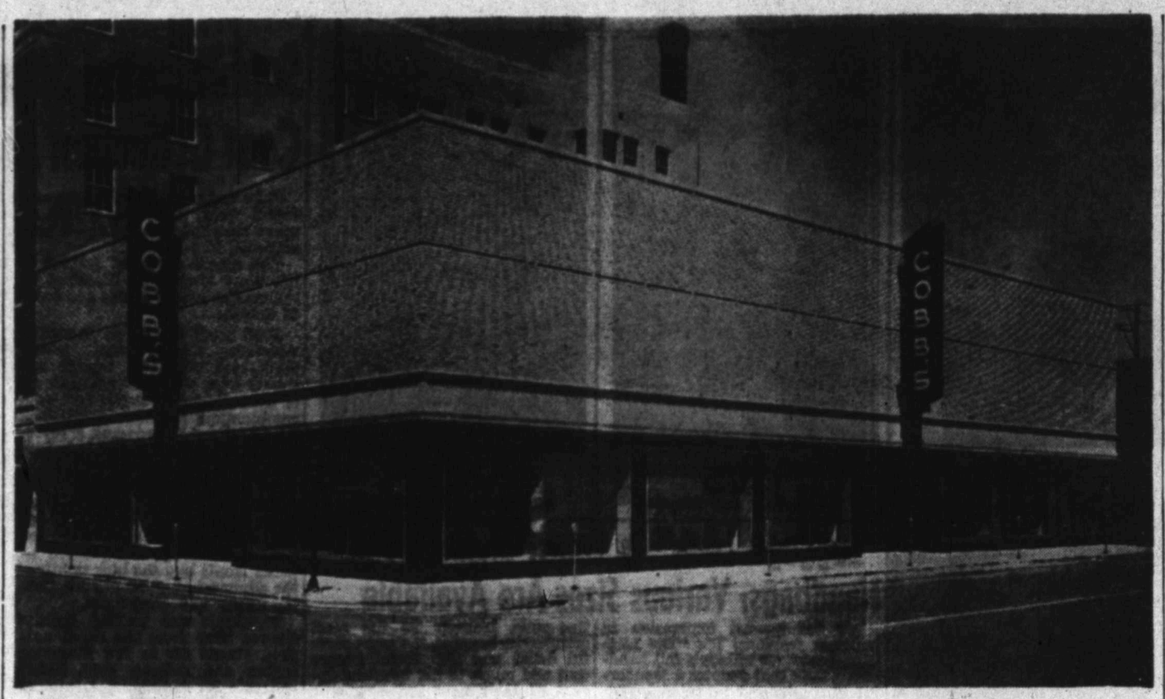

A shower effect, with large clip-on earrings, the bold button-type and the drop, pendant earring are all equally important in fashion significance.

Bracelets of all widths, of all metallic and jewelry finishes, dramatically set off the three-quarter sleeves of new tailored and dressy frocks.

Pendant necklaces, choker necklaces and rope or multi-strands of pastel-hued pearls are lavish touches to wear with either simple, high, untrimmed necklines, the square and low cowl cut or the deep V-plunge.

BE BUTTON BOLD

Be bold and brazen in your use of buttons when restyling an old dress to new importance, or when making a new one yourself. It's the newest and one of the most important fashion trims and you can set your budget limit on just how extravagant in your button use you care to be.

NEW COBB'S DEPARTMENT STORE—Pictured above is an exterior view of the new Cobb's Department Store, at the corner of Thirteenth and Ave. J, which will be formally opened this week. Built of brick, tile and steel, the store has no exterior windows and is air-conditioned for summer and winter. The foundation of the building was constructed strong enough to carry two more stories.

Your "Good Black Dress" Dramatically Simple, Yet Elegant, Smart, Dramatic; Silhouette Contradictory

The one dress that really creates a fashionable frame for every woman is her "good black dress." Elegant yet simple, it is smart and dramatic and is featured in Cobb's ready-to-wear department on the second floor.

In the black dress story, as in other facets of the fashion picture, the silhouette is contradictory. Slim, slim silhouettes vie against the tulip-inspired shape with its multi-pleats and soft, full-skirt fashions.

Ruffles Appear Again

And you'll choose your most becoming style from peplums and tunics of various lengths—or, be enchanted with floating panels—or, enraptured with row-upon-row of ruffles. You'll wear either cap sleeves—or mandrain—or gracious batwing sleeves. Your new dress will be round and soft-looking at the shoulder line—with a high—or—a low, low neckline.

The basic fabrics for after-five dresses are faille crepe, woven stripe bengaline, rib or cord crepes, Jacquard taffeta, tissue rayon, moire, matelasses, and jacquard are the more elegant materials. Silks are the most lavish—canton crepe, surah, gros de Londres and ottoman are high style interest.

Yes, there will be pockets galore—exciting buttons rampant—tucks by the score and all the wonderful detail and drapery of the new silhouette—gracing your smartly elegant "good black dress."

Cobb's Have Many Moods For Fall; Separates Colorful And Dramatic

Cobb's says sing a song of separates in a gay and happy tune — because its a highly symphonic season for ensembles—ensembles of separates.

These are three important parts to the composition that look like a complete outfit, yet go on for more occasions and more seasons, as separates.

The skirt, weskit, shirt combination with the skirt and weskit matching and a tailored or dressy blouse for contrast is ace high for all-around wear. On the same basis, the skirt, blouse and jacket trio continue to hold their own in any society—appearing in correlated tweed and jersey.

Coordinates in the blouse and skirt twosomes are linked by a belt to give a one-piece look. In matching or contrasting jersey, tone-on-tone wool jersey tweed skirt and color-blended jersey blouse, plus a jersey belt to match the blouse.

Sweaters Good Tie-In

Waist-length cardigan sweaters all the favorite wool yarns, go quite gay also, in metalic ribbon, chenille and other novelty knits. These are worn at the skirt top or tucked-in.

For dress-up occasions, skirts are worn slightly above the ankles. They are rich in soft, cuddly woolens, light-weight tweeds and wool jersey. They are usually teamed with off-the-shoulder jersey or cashmere sweater blouses—or luxurious, heavy silk shirts.

Slacks and other active-sports wear remain much as in the past. Team them, however, with new separates; let your colors run bold and bright, and voila, you have arrived for Fall!

To keep the interiors of his delivery trucks cool, one Berlin butter merchant grew real lawns atop the trucks.

Nationally-Advertised Brands To Be Feature In Cobb's Store

Shoppers in Cobb's Department Store, which opens for business Friday morning, will find a wide range of merchandise available including a majority of the national-advertised brands of men's and women's clothing.

In the men's department such brands as Stetson hats, Curlee suits and overcoats, Holeproof hosiery, Cooper underwear, Van Heusen shirts, ties and pajamas, Hickok belts and braces, Freeman shoes, John C. Roberts and Tom Sawyer, D. and J. western wear, Hawk brand and Lee work clothes will be found in addition to many other brands.

For The Women Shoppers

For the ladies, there will be Leeds coats and suits, Lassie junior coats, Braeton junior suits, Hi-Ho junior suits and coats, Lo Balbo coats and suits and Duchess coats and suits, in the coat and suits department.

In dresses will be found Jonathan Logan junior dresses, Marlene dresses, Berkley junior dresses, Prima Donna dresses, Aywon dresses, Franklin dresses and Reich dresses.

In lingerie, the female shopper will find such nationally-known brands as Luxite, Formfit foundation and brassieres, Shoform brassieres, Holeproof hosiery, Gold-stripe hosiery, As You Like It hosiery and Claussner hosiery.

Wear Right Gloves Featured

In the women's and children's shoe department, such well-known brands as Delmanette, Penaljo, Red Goose and Grace Walker, will be featured.

For those desiring piece goods, choice may be made from Cohama, Celanese, Gilbrae and Logantex fabrics and Quadriga prints. Patterns to be featured will be McCall and Simplicity.

Blankets will be found in such nationally-advertised brands as St. Mary, Purrey and Pepperell.

In addition to these famous products, the store's shelves and racks will carry hundreds of other brands of merchandise, many of them as well known as those listed above.

Spotlight Remains On Short, Easy-To-Do Hairdo This Fall

The spotlight remains on the short, easy-to-manage, casual hairdo—hair pieces that give short hair the longer look are more and more the vague. Falls, switches and clusters which augment the brief coiffures are becoming less expensive as demand and more European hair shipments increase.

Short hair wears a side angle—with soft, suggested waves, contour curls and breezy bobs hugging the shape of the head for greater flattery. These hair styles are highly dramatic and give stately elegance, and femininity to the high collar and low plunge, jewel-frosted necklines.

In keeping with the coiffure trends, make-up is soft and pastel—lipstick is rosy-hued and highlights the natural shape of the mouth. Rouge is only suggested for daytime wear with darker tones used for evening, underlights emphasis.

Cream make-up foundations carry through for an over-all pastel look—used skilfully it is blended high into the hairline—and as low as your neckline descends.

Experts in the U. S. Treasury each day count approximately 40,000 new bills and 25,000 old ones.

New Cobb's Department Store To Boast Large, Experienced Staff

When Cobb's Department Store opens this week, it will be a full-grown institution from the time the doors open.

A complete stock of goods in every department and an experienced and well-trained staff of employes will provide shoppers with an efficient and well-planned shopping service.

The store will have a staff of 50 employes, all of whom have had experience in retail sales work in Lubbock and elsewhere.

Experience Totals 182 Years

The store's ten department managers represent a total of 182 years experience in retailing, an average of 18.2 years each. A majority of them have been in Lubbock most of the time.

Bob Cobb, vice president of the company, has had more than 25 years experience, having previously been with Sears and A. Harris & Co., at Dallas, before joining his brothers in the department store business.

Monroe Display Manager

J. C. Monroe, display and advertising manager, has had 22 years department store experience, 20 of which have been in Lubbock. He is married and has a three-months-old daughter.

Earl Hunter, office manager of the company's general offices, has been a resident of Lubbock since 1930 and has had 16 years experience as an auditor. He is married and has one daughter.

Here 26 Years

Miss Marie Hale, buyer and manager of the second floor piece goods and home furnishings, has lived in Lubbock 26 years and has had 18 years experience in retailing.

Mrs. Howard Ingalls, buyer and manager of the second flood children's and infants' departments has had 19 years retailing experience, during her 26 years residence in Lubbock. She is the mother of one daughter.

Thirteen Years In Lubbock

Mrs. Geo. E. Thompson, buyer and manager of the ladies ready-to-wear department on the second floor, has had 20 years retail experience, 13 of which have been in Lubbock. She has one daughter.

Mrs. Ada Burton, buyer and manager of the millinery department, has had four years retailing experience. Formerly of Fort Worth, she recently moved to Lubbock. She has a daughter.

Mrs. W. A. Johnson, buyer and manager of the lingerie and accessories department on the street floor, has had 27 years experience in retailing, one year in Lubbock. She also is the mother of a daughter.

Wright Here 22 Years

Charles Wright, buyer and manager of the men's and boys' furnishings on the street floor, has had 25 years experience in retailing, 22 of which have been in Lubbock stores. He is married and has a son and daughter.

Jim Hussey, buyer and manager of the men's, women's and children's shoe departments on the street floor, has had 14 years experience in retailing. Formerly of Fort Worth, he is married and has a six-months-old son.

W. C. Arnold, downstairs store manager, has resided in Lubbock county 30 years with seven years retail store experience. He is married and has a five-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Dovie L. Bateman, manager of the downstairs store ready-to-wear, has had 18 years experience in retailing, ten of which have been in Lubbock stores. She is a widow and mother of two daughters.

Men's Wear Has Bold Fall Look

The "Bold" look for men, which has been a feature of the casual wear collections for the past two seasons comes into its own this autumn in a collection of jackets, slacks and sport shirts that give the male with a love of color a chance to give full expression to his long-suppressed desires, so reports Charles Wright, manager of Cobb's Men's furnishing department.

Plaids and checks in bold patterns and striking color combinations, are the rule for sport coats. Very much in the picture, too, are coats and jackets of corduroy in solid colors of green, wine and coppery brown as well as colorful, patterned cords. The majority of slacks are in plain shades to harmonize or contrast with the new bold coats and jackets.

Wind and water-repellent jackets in closely-woven twill with plaid, wool linings are a favorite for campus wear; and for later in the season, full length storm coats of wool and cotton gabardine with linings and collars o wombat and mouton will be seen in the cheering sections at all the games.

The Gaucho sport shirt continues to be the number-one casual choice in a wide array of new fall versions—long or short sleeves—striking color combinations — knit or wool-fabric.

PLAIDS POPULAR

Plaid remains high on the popularity poll at Cobb's. Check the importance of shadow to bold plaids in every phase of the fashion story. It's spotlighted over and over again in conjunction with velveteen and sheer, solid-color woolens.

THE JUMPER—Always one jump ahead in style, now shows up in the newest shades of nature, breaks into a bold plaid, is designed with mammoth patch pockets. At the right, a men's wear all wool flannel suit, classically styled and made important with its over-sized pockets.

Your Gloves, Milady

It's the twist at the wrist the counts in gloves, this season. On the strictest little casual to the most sophisticated glove, there are saucy ruffles, petal-like pouffs and flashes of soft laces.

Colors, too, are braver and brighter—doeskins and leathers, brilliantly dyed; Suedes and fabrics wearing contrasting thumbs that pickup the dominant color of your ensemble.

Millinery Mood Close To Head

Velvets, velours, and felt types, berets, bumpers, bonnets, profile and cloches feature the close-to-the-head mood in millinery for fall, featured in the millinery department at Cobb's Department store.

Manipulated Felts

For the street scene, luxurious felts are manipulated to a close-to-the-head look, or in little shapes with peaked crowns and finished with a jaunty drape at the side.

Sheer enchantment and face-framing flattery for every woman are the dramatic, back-hugging, not-too-high draped turbans. There are new notes of elegance and luxury in the metallic cloths, the super-sheen velvets and the heavy, lustrious satins used for these turbans.

Trims Are Exciting

Trims for all hats are glamour and excitement-packed! Braid and beads, jeweled patterns, new feather treatments all add thrilling grace notes to the Fall millinery tone poem.

California Collections Set The Fashion Tempo; Fall Styling Confident, Beautifully Wearable At Cobb's

Rich designer collections in casual clothes are featured at Cobb's Department store with California and Dallas collections setting the pace for an exciting season.

Colors are rich and borrowed from nature itself; fabrics are plesant, lavish and rythmic in weave. This year's creations are perhaps the most distinctive in styling, with fabric and workmanship at its peak than in any previous year, Mrs. Geo. Thompson, manager of the second floor ladies' read-to-wear department, declares.

Fabrics Are Varied

Casual fashions from California run the gamut of such fabrics as tweed, wool jersey, alpaca, English oxford, machine and hand knits, corduroys and with rayon and nylon appearing in every line.

Styling in the suit picture runs to shorter jackets with shoulders padded for fit only. The slimmest of slim skirts, with action-slits, fore and aft, are seen over and over again. Shoulder accent is important. Clever tucks and darts dramatize detail in every phase of suit styling. Dolman sleeves in full or modified angles are in high favor. For trim there are buttons and more buttons, touches of braid, and accents of fur.

Plaids Bold, Rampant

Coats range from the dressiest of styles in sleek finished fabrics such as broadcloth, faille, gabardine to ultra casual fashions in fine tweeds, camel hair and shag woolens.

Plaids are bold and rampant. Stripes more popular than they have been in many a season. Dolman sleeves are used in many coats. The 5-8 length is back with new strength and the shortie remains in high favor.

A California original, and high fashion, too, is the coat-dress, done this fall in beautiful woolens, alpacas, corduroys, faille or repp. These coat dresses are classic in line and carry either back or front fullness. They are carefully lined to the waist.

Pads Are Missing

Dresses have taken on a new importance — high, tight necklines with bobby collars or a deep convertible, plunging neckline are two of the themes. Pads are small or non-existant. Hip accents predominate — drapes carried to the hip and falling into a manipulated panel or pouff, with tiers, tunic effects or trim bandings, equally important. Double panels and tiers are used for dramatic effect.

Pockets theme the Fall fashion story—taking on multiple shapes and forms — with all manner of cuff, tab or contrast trim.

IN THE MOOD of elegance, an effective cocktail hat of jet aigrettes is sparked into brilliance with its touches of jewels. The necklace is by Coro.

ASSURES VAST GASOLINE SUPPLY

U. S. Finds Profitable Means Of Producing Oil From Shale

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

RIFLE, Colo., Sept. 15.—New cliff dwellers have returned to the rocky mountains—the U. S. Bureau of Mines men who have solved how to get oil cheaply out of shale.

The bureau has discovered how to assure the United States of enough gasoline for centuries by making shale oil at a cost no more than petroleum.

Instead of using ladders, these modern cliff men go up in bulldozers, 30-ton trucks, electric shovels, compressors that have 12 wheels side by side and tower trucks resembling fire apparatus.

These huge machines climb a five-and-a-half mile, hairpin turn road up the side of a mountain to sheer cliffs of colored marblestone shale at 8200 feet altitude. There they drill a corridor big as a church straight into the solid rock, and spend their careers quarrying vast rooms deep back in the rock.

Demonstration Set

Many new mining techniques have been developed. Now one man produces more than 100 tons of broken rock a day where a few years ago the limit was said to be six tons.

For a century the one big thing that made shale oil too expensive was the cost of getting out the rock.

This demonstration mine, and extraction and oil refining plants down the mountain side at 6000 feet are on a four-week run to show that shale oil is ready to supplement petroleum. Next week more than 200 industrial key men will come here for a two day demonstration.

They will be shown how industrial shale oil will have its rock crushing and extraction plants right up at the cliff faces to save money by using gravity in handling the rock. After the oil is extracted it will travel in pipelines to refineries, either lower down or at distances, just as petroleum is handled.

Renews Lost Industry

They will see the sketches of 145 miles of similar, pure shale cliffs, which form the rims of the thousand square mile plateau where this first mine sits. This plateau alone contains seven times more shale oil than all the petroleum the United States ever has produced.

The present mine is in a rich layer, 70 to 100 feet thick, known as the mahogany ledge, because its shale polishes to resemble mahogany. This rich ledge alone contains about four times more shale oil than all the proven U. S. petroleum reserves.

The great Colorado deposit is thousands of feet thick. Utah and Wyoming have similar rich deposits. Other oil shales are scattered all over the United States and Alaska. A century ago Ohio had 25 shale oil companies. Then discovery of petroleum put them all out of business. Today the oil men are coming here to learn how to renew this lost industry.

Report On Canadian Dam Project Planned

City Commissioner Clarence Whiteside, committee chairman of the Canadian River project, who returned last week from a conference with Senator Clinton Anderson and New Mexico officials regarding the project, was scheduled to make a report on the meeting and progress of the project at a meeting of the City Water Resources board at the Chamber of Commerce offices at 2 p. m. today.

Whiteside, who conferred with the New Mexico officials and Amarillo civic leaders at Albuquerque, also announced a meeting of Canadian River Dam project cities representatives here at 10:30 a. m., Wednesday, Sept. 21.

Purpose of the meeting will be to report on activities to date; decide on the type or types of special water districts to be created; select a steering committee; choose a name for the project cities organization or committee; take up apportionment of expenses of committee; and to discuss any matters pertaining to the project.

At least one representative and if possible as many as three from each of the 11 Panhandle-Plains cities interested in the project are urged to attend, Whiteside said.

In addition to the cities representatives, others expected to be here will include; H. E. Robbins, regional director, Bureau of Reclamation, Amarillo; Spencer L. Baird, regional counsel, and other members from the regional office, and Col. E. V. Spence, Austin, Interstate Compact Commissioner of Texas.

MEET THE MANAGER—John D. (Johnny) Haygood, owner and manager of Haygood's Office Supply company, was born at Desdemona, Eastland county, Dec. 22, 1915. His family moved to Lorenzo in September, 1919, and he went to school there, finishing Lorenzo High school in May, 1933. He attended the engineering division of Texas Technological college from 1933 to 1935. He worked for W. L. Hester in the office supply business from 1929 until 1944. He organized Haygood's Office Machine Service at 1307 Texas avenue in 1944. In September, 1946, he enlarged the business to Haygood's office supply, having secured an exclusive Royal Typewriter franchise as well as Clary Adding Machines, Edison Voicewriter and other equipment. He is a Knight Templar, York Rite and 32nd degree Scottish Rite Mason and a member of the Shrine. He is a member of First Baptist church and American Business club. His hobbies are movie photography, softball and he is a "rabid" spectator sports fan. Mr. and Mrs. Haygood and one son, Emzy Dale, 7, live at 1920 Ave. N. (Staff Photo).

Seven-Year-Old Girl Dies Of Head Injury

LISBON, O., Sept. 15 (AP) — Blonde, little Donna Marie Saunders is dead. The seven-year-old girl never awakened from the deep sleep she fell into Feb. 9. After being struck by a coal truck.

Donna was running to board a school bus when hit.

Doctors had done all they could. In July, they amputated her left leg to halt infection. But last month they said all hope was gone—X-rays showed the damage to her fractured skull could not be mended.

Neighbors, too, had done their best. They started a "Dimes for Donna" fund and chipped in more than $5,000.

But all the efforts proved futile. Donna died at her parents' farm home yesterday.

BIRD STOPPED TRAIN

A six-pound pheasant stopped an 843-ton train in 1925, when it flew through the window of the locomotive cab and knocked down the engineer. Automatic brakes stopped the train when the engineer released his hold on the throttle.

"Politest Cop" Helps Driver

DES MOINES, Sept. 15 (INS) — The "politest cop" on the Des Moines police force demonstrated today the attributes which won him that title.

Patrolman Tony Mihalovich stopped Daniel Middour, 18, of Des Moines, last Sunday when the patrolman, who was off duty, noticed Middour "driving in a reckless manner" on E. University ave.

Mihalovich instructed the youthful driver to appear at police headquarters Monday morning but when Middour failed to fulfill his promise by Tuesday, the patrolman obtained a warrnt for his arrest.

Youth Is Fined

Today, Milhalovich, accompanied by Patrolman Max Cleveland, went to Middour's home at the Fort Des Moines housing project and escorted the youth to Municipal Judge C. S. Cooter's court.

Judge Cooter fined Middour $75 after he pleaded guilty to reckless driving — then "the politest cop" intervened.

"I'm asking you to be a little lenient, judge," Mihalovich said. "He's married and has a little baby and he doesn't make much money."

Judge Cooter reduced the fine to $3 and granted Middour time to pay.

Judge On Trial For Shooting

ATLANTA, Sept. 15. (AP)—Attorney John Lockwood was shot by Judge Robert Carpenter, a defense counsellor contended yesterday, because he had conspired to take from the judge his "wife, his money and his good name."

Lockwood spent the better part of a battering, two-hour cross-examination denying insinuations that he and Mrs. Carpenter ever had improper relations.

Time and again Defense Attorney Ellis Barrett snapped pointed questions suggesting intimacy. Lockwood repeatedly retorted that the relationship between him and the judge's wife was one of lawyer and client.

Trying To Catch Judge

The 44-year-old Fulton county civil court judge is charged with assault with intent to murder Lockwood. The shooting occurred July 27 after a four-block automobile chase.

The judge's attorney told the court: "We expect to show that this is all a part of a conspiracy to take this man's wife, his money and his good name."

Special prosecutor Elmer Tuttle quickly replied: "If they proved every word of what they said, it would not be justification for homicide."

The night of the shooting, Lockwood admitted, he and Mrs. Carpenter were trying to catch the judge and Mrs. Estelle Manful together in a lakeside cabin. (Mrs. Carpenter is suing her husband for divorce and is suing Mrs. Manful for $100,000 for alienation of affections.)

Lockwood said he and Mrs. Carpenter spent three hours watching a road hoping to see the judge's car. He said he got into the back seat because of an old hip injury and that Mrs. Carpenter followed so she wouldn't have to crane her neck to talk to him.

Asked if Mrs. Carpenter rubbed his leg, Lockwood snapped a curt "no, sir."

The attorney denied he embraced Mrs. Carpenter when he returned her to her home.

Barrett then established that Lockwood was armed and accused him of being "out to waylay the judge."

Lockwood replied he was only seeking evidence for Mrs. Carpenter's divorce case.

Earlier, Lockwood's 24-year-old daughter Dorothy testified that as early as mid-March Judge Carpenter threatened "to break and ruin my father and run him out of Georgia."

The judge, she added, promised to carry out the threats "if my father didn't quit helping Mrs. Carpenter."

ONCE UPON a time we knew an old Scotch lady whose favorite saying way, "Be sure ye're sins'll find ye oot!" So with this thought in mind, we'd like to ask Groves Denman and the rest of the Lubbock Lions who went to the New York convention in a body: What happened to you guys the night you spent in Concord, North Carolina?

The raw truth of the matter is that the North Carolinians set up a special program to welcome and entertain the Lubbock Lions but somewhere, somehow, the Lubbock Lions didn't show. At least, the principal speaker, one Carl Goerch, was all dressed up and ready to speak—but was left waiting at the church, as it were.

We found this out by way of Mrs. Bertha Adair, a Lubbock nurse, whose daughter, Miss Bertha Nell Adair, is currently a student nurse at Johns-Hopkins, in Baltimore. It all came out when fellow student nurses trotted out a copy of the North Carolina State Magazine to tease Miss Adair about Lubbock and Texas.

Mr. Goerch had gotten himself up quite a speech belittlin' Texas and praising North Carolina (which must have been quite a task) and, when he didn't get to deliver it to the Lubbock Lions, he had it printed in the North Carolina State Magazine. There wasn't much to the speech as we read it. It was the same old stuff we've heard before from luckless residents of other states who feel sorry for themselves and try to cover up by yammering about Texas' "deserts," and "open spaces," and by pointing out that, after all, pioneers from their own state moved to Texas to make our state what it is.

But we value the information about the missing Lubbock Lions in Concord, N. C., the night their bus stopped in that city.

Hey, Mr. Denman! Where were you guys that night?

RAYMOND PAINTER'S family owns property on the corner of Avenue L and Main street—property which already is valuable and which may be expected to become more valuable as time goes on. Therefore, Mr. Painter is interested in Main street, just as any of us would be if we were in his position.

Mr. Painter was up to see us the other day, pointing out a traffic weakness in connection with Main street—one he thinks should be corrected, if at all practicable. We think so, too, as will many other citizens.

Mr. Painter points out that Main is a nice, wide thoroughfare up to where Avenue O would cut through if Avenue O cut through. Then, he points out, the street is narrow—too narrow to accommodate as much East-West traffic as it should accommodate.

It would be a great help to the general public if Main were widened all the way out to College.

Main could be made into a principal traffic street, since the distance between the college and the courthouse (focal point of Lubbock's original plan) is the same as on Broadway.

But widening Main from the Avenue O point to College would likely be very costly and unless property owners all the way out were agreeable, the widening process might be too long, drawn-out a job, as well as too expensive to undertake.

However, since Lubbock needs more East-West arteries linking downtown with Texas Tech, the Main street suggestion is worth looking into by the City's engineering department and the City Planning commission. Perhaps it could be done at less expense than most would guess, and with less difficulty.

THE TRUTH of the matter is that Lubbock is in a switch for heavy traffic arteries leading across town both East-and-West and North-and-South.

East-West, we have Nineteenth, Broadway, Fourth and Thirty-fourth—all of which are very heavily traveled. But the rest of the streets are too narrow for heavy traffic arteries—some so narrow that when cars are parked opposite each other only a narrow space remains for moving traffic.

North-South, we have Avenue A, Avenue H, Texas, Avenue Q, and College, also clogged with traffic—and then a collection of narrow streets similar to those running East-West.

One of these days—and the time is not far distant—Lubbock is going to have to do something in the way of furnishing more quick, wide routes across town in all directions.

As a matter of basic economy, it may be that Lubbock will have to start solving its cross-town traffic problem by setting out some one-way streets.

Until people get used to them, one-way streets are worrisome and bumfuzzling. But when the public becomes accustomed to them, they are not so bad.

Since it costs so doggone much to widen a street any distance, many citizens feel it is better to put up with occasional one-way streets than to spend large sums widening those streets—especially when the public treasury is low.

Could be. Could be.

AS THE people of Lubbock contemplate the possibilities of a new, first-class hotel—or expansion of property already here—they should be interested in a few figures on the world's largest hostelry, the Stevens, in Chicago, owned by Connie Hilton and associates.

The Stevens, on Chicago's beautiful "Boul' Mich," has five basements, its own power plant and the second largest laundry in the nation's second largest city.

There are 3,000 rooms in the Stevens, a bath for each room except in the suites, and if a 10 year old boy started out to take a bath each Saturday night in a different bathroom, he'd be 89 years, six months and two weeks old before he completed the circuit!

That's quite a little boarding house, hey?

BY DREW PEARSON: CHIEF JUSTICE VINSON AND MIDDLE-ROADERS WILL SWAY COURT

Frankfurter, Unhappy With Feuding, Might Quit

WASHINGTON—For the first time since Franklin Roosevelt appointed the majority on the Supreme Court, you can write it down that the "nine old men" will now rule against FDR's general political philosophy.

PEARSON

This turn to the right will be apparent shortly court convenes in October, and would have taken place even had not Justice Wiley Rutledge passed away last week. It will be emphasized all the more, however, with his death.

There will now be three different and district groups on the Supreme Court, with generally divergent points of view on most subjects.

Group No. 1—The militant liberals have now been reduced to only two men—Justices Hugo Black and William O. Douglas. Up until Frank Murphy's death, they controlled the court; because they could usually persuade Stanley Reed or one other justice to go along with them. Now a definite minority, Black and Douglas, will still have a powerful impact on the nation, will probably become like Holmes and Brandeis in their ringing, historic dissents. But their influence over the court majority will be no more.

Group No. 2—The conservatives are represented by Felix Frankfurter and Bob Jackson. Jackson, more astute than Frankfurter and a more skilled politician, is the dominant of the two. Both men were appointed by Roosevelt as liberals; both have drifted well over to the right, and both are in opposition to most of FDR's social and economic views.

* * *

Middle-Of-The-Roaders

Group No. 3—The middle-of-the-roaders are led by Chief Justice Fred Vinson, who for the first time, since the death of Murphy and Rutledge, will now control the majority of the court.

With the chief justice will line up popular Stanley Reed, also from Kentucky. A trifle lazy, easy to sway, and worried about increased government controls and so-called "statism," Reed has been gradually veering away from the liberals.

Also voting with the chief justice most of the time will be hard-working ex-Attorney General Tom Clark, who partly owes his Supreme Court appointment to his old friend Vinson. For it was Vinson who tipped the balance in favor of Clark when the President's mind was undecided. Clark will be more liberal than Vinson in many cases, but most of the time he will stay with his old friend.

Though a Republican, Justice Harold Burton also lines up rather consistently with the chief justice. Burton feels a great loyalty to President Truman, who appointed him, and with whom he once served in the Senate. Furthermore, Burton, a plodding lawyer who has to struggle to turn out even three or four opinions a year, is forced by necessity to hang on somebody's coattails. And the chief justice's tails are both the most respectable and the most convenient.

* * *

THERE was a time when Bill Douglas seriously considered resigning from the Supreme Court. Still a young man, the confining drudgery of the court bored him.

With the death of Rutledge and Murphy, however, he will probably not resign—first because he will not desert his old friend Hugo Black, and second because he will not desert the liberal cause.

Also Douglas gets a kick out of baiting his opposite number, Felix Frankfurter. The only member of the Supreme Court who successfully and consistently gets under Frankfurter's skin, Douglas almost makes him frantic.

A Scotsman of few words, Douglas will sit listening attentively to a long and involved legal exposition by the ex-Harvard professor. Then suddenly, just as Frankfurter reaches his climax, Douglas will intervene with: "Now you don't really mean so-and-so, do you, Felix?"

Those who sit in on Supreme Court conferences say Frankfurter is much more likely to resign than any other member of the court, the chief reasons being the needling of Bill Douglas and the lack of young people's company in Washington. At Harvard, Frankfurter was constantly surrounded by adoring youngsters, but in Washington they don't come round to see him anymore.

Frankfurter fancies himself quite a political trader, and used to concentrate on winning over Stanley Reed, sometimes called "the swing man" of the court. One morning, as law clerks and justices went to work, Frankfurter, his office door wide open, could be heard pleading on the phone.

"Now, Stanley," he said, obviously talking to Justice Reed. "You know I don't want to influence you, but don't you let those 'so-and-so's' take you in.

The so-called "so-and-so's" were, of course, the court liberals, who several times did bend over backward to win the vote of Justice Reed. In the Associated Press case, for instance, the liberals needed one more vote and instructed their law clerks to study all of Reed's last opinions in order to insert some of his pet phraseology in their final opinion. After an exhaustive search, one of Reed's pet legal theories was dug up and woven into the AP opinion. Reading it, Justice Reed beamed: "If this stays in," he said, "I'll go along with you."

* * *

Chief Justice's New Rule

Fred Vinson, a great human being, hasn't surprised those who know him well by his drift to the right. The chief justice's background and social surroundings always have been a little right-of-center. Under Roosevelt he was a faithful follower of the new deal left-of-center philosophy, but now he is traveling on his own.

What has surprised some of his Supreme Court colleagues, however, has been Vinson's formality. Chief Justice Stone ruled the court with an easy-going informality under which the most insignificant law clerk could drop in to see him at any time.

But under Fred Vinson, associate justices have found not only that they have to make appointments in advance, but are asked to tell Vinson's secretary what they want to see the chief justice about. As a result, certain justices do not call on Vinson any more.

In these days everything costs more tha none expects it to — especially living.

Liquor Dealers Group Plans Convention On Luxury Liner

FORTUNES in New Styles of Show Business—The luxury liner, Italia, once the Kungcholm, has been chartered for a remarkable cruise, leaving here Jan. 10, to carry off and carry on a convention of the Metropolitan Retail Liquor Dealers Association. It will put in at South American and West Indies ports, with the big climax in Havana. For the 10 nights aboard, 10 Broadway shows have been booked. The troupers will be carried along all the way, though they will appear only one night each. Each performance will be different and complete, with a "name" headliner. More than 75 entertainers will be in the assemblage. They will be on the cuff and get handsome pay besides. Two orchestras will be carried.

* * *

All this has been set up by a pair of still young fellows who started as musicians in a droopy little band that played a Summer hotel in the Catskills. As Beckman & Pransky, they now conduct one of the largest theatrical enterprises in the nation. They foresaw the possibilities of what became known as the Borscht Circuit, quit their jobs (Beckman played the piano and Pransky the sax) and sold the nearby mountain hotels, which used only semi-amateur "entertainment-directors," on the idea of week-end shows.

* * *

THEY started rather small, but they soon developed stellar personalities which became popular. As the demand outran the growth of economical shows, they sprinted ahead of it, engaging Sophie Tucker, Milton Berle, and many such, at $5,000 for one night. This policy jacked up business beyond anything of the sort ever seen, until the hotels had to expand tremendously, and it became commonplace for some of them to take $20,000 a day and pay more than half that sum for stars once a week.

* * *

The two wise showmen took on conventions, fairs, club entertainment, and have sold shows for as much as $25,000 at one affair. They noticed the trend to crazy new methods in music, and dreamed up the idea that started Bop City, the most startling surprise Broadway has had in years, and its most consistent money-maker. The convention-at-sea departure is their baby, too. To get the Italia for it, they had to lay $200,000 in cash on the line. And that's a lot of cabbage to extract from a bowl of borscht. Now that vaudeville has triumphantly come out of its long sleep in Los Angeles, at the Orpheum, a stand steeped in tradition of that form of amusement, it again is a Coast-to-Coast institution, though it still has wide gaps which make circuit bookings impractical. Several hundred performers are again fulltime vaudevillians, restoring a source of talent from which all our lively arts drew heavily. Its roots have never died. Its many branches still live.

* * *

HOLLYWOOD owes a debt to variety, whence it drew Judy Garland (Gumm Sisters), Fred Astaire, Bob Hope, Bing Crosby, Danny Kaye, Ethel Barrymore (a recurrent occasional), Eddie Cantor, Tony Martin, Charlie Chaplin, Will Rogers, Milton Berle, Al Jolson, Marx Brothers, Abbott and Costello, Jack Carson, Marie Dressler and countless hundreds who make up the ranks of gifted unstarred players. Also, many of movieland's directors and writers.

* * *

But let us hope the evils which so long kept vaudeville in a coma will never return. The industry was shot through with private graft and raw discrimination. The agent system was venal and corrupt. Franchised representatives took 10 percent of gross salaries to offer acts to the circuits' booking-offices. It soon became so that virtually no turn could do business without paying that tithe. The wheels then extracted another five percent. Big, rich houses—including our revered Palace—made many acts play at a heavy cut, because they were choice engagements. Others shaved the pay, conversely, because they were not tremendous money - makers. Acts footed their own railroad fares, and routes not economically laid out could ruin them.

Scanty Modern Bathing Suits For Women Scored By Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—While never a man to knock a well-turned ankle or even to be properly scornful of a dimpled knee, I find myself agreeing with Life magazine about the Bikini bathing suit, which has wisped across the water from the European loafing spots.

RUARK

The Bikini is composed of three articles of clothing—two about the size of band-aids and the other roughly comparible to pen-wiper in its dimensions. These fragments are surrounded by naked womanhood, giving a sometimes startling effect to a man of true shyness, such as I possess.

I encountered the Bikini two years ago, in Capri. I spent the first day blushing, the second day bored, and the third day rather mildly annoyed at womanhood in general.

Very few young ladies, and no old ladies at all, are so constructed that they seem at home in these fragile dibs and dabs of cloth. No fat ladies, no skinny ladies, no ladies with too much topside or too much bottomside should be caught alive in a Bikini.

* * *

After first blush at the prospect of so much goose-pimpled feminity hurling itself about on the Piccolo Marina—that was the day I introduced the verb "ogler" meaning to stare rudely, into the French language—I suddenly began to get bored even at the pretty ones. There was just too doggone much meat around. It was like strolling through the freeze room of a wholesale butcher shop. I began to yawn.

Then the annoyance set in. It seemed, as I sat there in this welter of near-nudity, that women owe a certain responsibility to the public. Some legal restrictions, perhaps, on how much a lady can display according to per personal qualifications to display same.

For instance I do not believe that a woman of the general proportions of Miss Elsa Maxwell has any legal right to appear upon any beach where others are present in anything short of a mother hubbard which ends at her ankles.

* * *

THIS would apply equally to the long lean girl with the knobby knock-knees, and to all others with such unusual accouterments as would encite undue annoyance among the spectators. (I wish I could say here that this might easily hold true for fat old gentlemen with hairy shoulders who wear skimpy shorts, but I am not belaboring the gents today).

What I do not understand is why so prideful a thing as a female can be so utterly unwitting of her general effect when romping on a beach or shorts-ing around in the country. They spend a few billion a year creating a myth, for the impressment of the male, and then they take it all off and show you the raw material and the dough is wasted.

A lady will prison herself in a girdle, moor her overgenerosities with assorted hampers and hammocks, supplement deficiencies, spend six hours on her hair and rebuild a complete face for the bemusement of her quarry. But she will take the same guy to a beach and emerge as nearly natural as an egg. Then she wonders why the lovelight dies in Cuthbert's little red eyes.

* * *

The female form is not something that can be flounced about in the public domain without a lessening of its mystry quotient, and once that's gone, the ladies are on the way out of business. Another hard fact is that not all ladies have Grable's legs or Hayworth's torso, and a flagrant exposure of inadequacies is not designed to lure a potential life-partner down the daffodilly path.

The patience of man has been strained for a considerable time with the foolishnesses of fashion and the unadulterated imbecilities women practice in an effort to attract the stupider of the sexes. I do not believe they can expect the boys to except all the mish-mash they go through on the dressing side and simultaneously hold still for complete undress, since the one nullifies the other.

Among the more sensible lassies, I cannot think that public nakedness is permanent. No man who asks for a caviar canape wishes to be served a full course, New England boiled dinner.

Negro College Sets Study Of Nutrition

NASHVILLE, Sept. 15 (AP) — A nutrition research project has been approved to be carried out at Tennessee Agricultural and Industrial College here on funds allotted under the Research and Marketing Act. It is the first such project to be approved for a Negro college. Approval is a direct outgrowth of work by Dr. J. R. Ottis, Alabama colored extension leader, who was appointed last year by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan to survey research personnel and facilities of Negro colleges and to determine how they might be utilized under the RMA. Selected Negro children will be studied in this project, which is part of a nation-wide program to determine the nutritional status and food intake of various population groups.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine V'ewpoint

SHOULD the mother of a teen-age daughter wait up for her when the girl is out on a date? The mother of a 16-year-old high school junior wants the answer to that question.

MILLETT

A lot of modern mothers will disagree with me, I'm sure, but I think the answer is an emphatic "Yes."

Why?

Because a girl is likely to be a little more responsible, if she knows her mother will be waiting up for her, than if she feels she is strictly "on her own."

She's more likely to get home on time if she knows that by staying out later than she is supposed to she'll be keeping her mother up. And a girl can be pretty indefinite about the time she got in, if no one heard her when she came home.

Then, too, there's the matter of drinking. Every mother wants to feel she can trust her daughter implicitly. But the sad truth is that a girl who knows she doesn't have to face a parent when she gets home is more likely to be persuaded to take a drink than the one who knows she can't get by with it.

* * *

DOESN'T HURT THE MAN

AND it doesn't hurt the young man to know that he is out with a girl whose mother is concerned enough about her welfare so that she makes it a rule not to go to bed until her daughter is safely home.

Waiting up for daughters is somewhat out of style these days. So much so that a daughter may even protest that none of the other girls' mothers wait up for them.

But it's just as good an idea as it ever was—old-fashioned though it may be.

Let her get the idea that she waits up for her because she doesn't trust her, rather than because she likes to have her children safely under their own roof before she goes to sleep herself.

"Ten thousand dollars!" echoed Benny. "If I ever lost that much in one evening, I think I'd cut my throat." "Yeah, Boss," sympathized the writer. "Just think—two whole days' work!"

Today's Journal Editorial

HELPFUL, ALL AROUND

Congressman George H. Mahon, in a series of speeches in the northern part of his 19th Texas district this week, doubtless gave his listeners much good information regarding the application of government to their own, individual problems. But it is our guess that Mr. Mahon profited even more than his listeners from his attendance at the several meetings in the area.

The Washington scene is so different from the home scene of any congressman that he naturally needs occasional contacts with constituents on their home grounds to keep the proper perspective. The only way the congressman, whomever he may be, can keep a proper perspective is to get home whenever he can, to see and talk to the people he represents. When he does this, he can go back to his seat in the House with a clearer idea than he would otherwise have of the job he needs to do.

So, while numerous of Mr. Mahon's constituents gained by hearing their representative speak in the district this week, Mr. Mahon gained, too. And his gain by getting firsthand opinion from his neighbors at home doubtless will be mirrored, later, by his official votes and actions in the Congress.

COMMENT ON STATEMENTS BANNED

Air Force Clamps Censorship On Row Started By Navy Man

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (U.P.)—Air Force officers were under strict orders today to steer clear of the row occasioned by Navy Capt. John G. Crommelin's blast at unification.

In a warning to all commanders, the Air Force said its officers are not to comment on any statement such as that issued by the veteran Navy flier Saturday. Crommelin accused the Army and Air Force of teaming up to take over control of the Defense department and to whittle down the Navy's offensive power.

Cooperation Sought

The flier, in issuing his criticism, said frankly that he thought he was bringing his naval career to an end. But Navy Secretary Francis P. Matthews said yesterday he would take no disciplinary action at this time.

In its order silencing airmen, the Air Force said:

"You are reminded that it is the policy of the Air Force to refrain and to avoid taking any action which might be construed as reflecting opinions of the Air Force or its personnel in connection with such controversy."

The order pointed out that "this Air Force policy was established for the purpose of contributing toward maximum cooperation in developing an effective defense team." In view of this, the order said, there must be no public discussion of statements on unification and "inter-service relationships."

Scheduled To Testify

Crommelin admitted that he helped stir up the widely publicized B-36 controversy in the hope that it would bring on a full-dress inquiry of the Navy's role under unification. The flier is scheduled to testify next week before a naval court of inquiry that is trying to find out who, besides Cedric R. Worth, had a hand in circulating a mysterious document criticizing the B-36 superbomber and Air Force and defense officials responsible for its purchase.

Mr. Truman is on record with a warning to all three services to stop their bickering and to put their steam into building the strongest possible unified armed force. Nevertheless, it was considered unlikely he would go over the heads of Matthews and Defense Secretary Louis Johnson to order any disciplining of Crommelin.

Crommelin has been supported in his stand by Adm. William F. (Bull) Halsey, retired veteran of the Pacific war, and other top-ranking Navy men.

SHERIFF LAUGHS LAST

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (U.P.) — A practical jokester offered his friend's car for sale to a deputy sheriff as a laugh-getter. Inside the car the deputy found a slot-machine. The car's owner, Milton J. Tripp, was arraigned on charges of possession of gambling equipment.

FLYING DISC?—That thing Marion Meade is wearing on her head might almost be a flying disc, but she claims it's a hat. Visiting Jelsum, Holland, the American tourist discovered the chapeau, popular with Hollanders 200 years ago. Marion hopes to set a new style craze with the outsize topper.

Barkley Claims No Copyright For His 'Veep' Trademark

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—Vice President Alben W. Barkley said today he has no copyright on the word "Veep," and any old vice president who wants to can use it. But he hopes not many will.

The Veep said his children (he may have meant grandchildren) coined the name for him, and that people all around the country have picked it up as his new title.

If vice president of souch groups as the George Washington university student council also becomes veeps, Barkley said, the term then "would have no identity with me." He said he would regret such a development.

Children Invented Name

Leonard Kirsten, to whom the Veep addressed his remarks in a letter, said he was agreeable, and had no intention of usurping the title, but "What can I do?" He said that as vice president of the George Washington council, he is continually being called veep by his classmates.

"Of course, the name 'Veep' is not copyrighted, in the legal sense of the word," Barkley replied, "but it is a name that my children gave to me in connection with the vice presidency.

"They just took the two letters, V and P, and put a couple of small ee's between and it spelled 'Veep,' and it has become rather familiar over the country as a new title for the vice president.
