Hijackers killed in passenger rescue

WILLEMSTAD, Curacao (AP) — Security officers stormed a hijacked Venezeulan jetliner early today, killing the two hijackers and rescuing the 79 people aboard who had been held hostage for 36 hours, officials said.

Venezuelan and U.S. anti-terrorist specialists assisted in the operation. But a Pentagon spokesman in Washington, Navy Lt. Tom Yeager, said that although U.S. "technical advisers" were sent to help, no Americans participated directly in the assault.

Details of the lightning-fast attack, carried out at 1:50 a.m. EDT, were sketchy and witnesses, and government officials offered conflicting information. Several passengers suffered minor injuries in scrambling from the Venezuelan Aeropostal DC-9, which was hijacked Sunday after leaving Venezuela.

The hijackers had threatened to blow up the plane unless they received a helicopter, millions in cash and if possible, weapons.

"The operation was carried out under the direction of the government of the Netherland Antilles. All the security personnel from the friendly nations helped in the planning," said Don Martina, Prime Minister of the Netherlands Antilles, a largely self-governing, six-island Dutch territory. He declined to give further details.

Witnesses said the rescuers moved in from the front and rear end of the plane. The hijackers apparently allowed the left front door to be opened after the wife of one of the gunmen appealed to her husband over a radio to free a woman passenger who reportedly suffered a miscarriage. When the door opened, the security men charged in.

Government authorities said that one woman passenger suffered a back injury in a fall and that she was one of several passengers taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment. None of the 74 passengers and five crew members was seriously injurd, they said.

A policeman who took part in the assault injured his hand. Officials first said he was shot, then that he was hurt falling.

AJRA seeks donors

With the 9th Annual AJRA National Finals due to begin Aug. 13, event sponsors are now finalizing lists for individual donors and a new support category this year, "mini-sponsors."

These will be in addition to the large number of local donations already secured from businesses and individuals.

Individual donor donations will go toward prize money to be distributed among the young AJRA contestants. In addition, these funds help purchase 30 junior world championship saddles and 60 champion and reserve champion buckles.

Individual donors will be listed on special donor pages in this year's rodeo program.

The new mini-sponsor category seeks donations from local businesses. In return, banners with their names will be displayed inside the coliseum during the rodeo.

While assistance is still being sought in these two categories, AJRA sponsors note that a significant amount of donor support has already been secured.

The 1984 saddle donors — presented to the All-Around Champs of each age group — will come from Snyder National Bank, West Texas State Bank, Great Western Motel, the Chamber of Commerce-Board of Community Development, the City of Snyder, Ezell-Key Feed and Seed and C.E. NATCO.

Co-sponsors for the rodeo this year — the six firms which individually "sponsor" each bucking chute — are The Shack, K-Bob's, Dairy Queen, Fort Justice, King's Highway and Patterson Drilling Company.

Among the mini-sponsors already signed up this year is York Transports Co.

Group will protest Amarillo nuke plant

By NOBLE B. YOUNG
SDN Staff Writer

An anti-nuclear protest group bicycled into Snyder Monday afternoon enroute to Amarillo and a peacefull protest there related to the Pantex nuclear weapons assembly plant.

The 11 bicyclists from the Houston area are involved in a 714 mile-14 day "pilgrimage for peace" scheduled to end Saturday in front of the plant just outside Amarillo.

The group passing through here ranged in age from 14 to 55 and included a Roman Catholic priest, high school and college students and assorted teachers and social workers. They arrived in Snyder around 4:30 p.m. Monday after completing an 80-mile ride from Abilene.

According to 36-year-old Bob Henschen, who lists his occupation as professional musician and serves as group coordinator, the protesters expect to join some 500 to 1,000 others from 14 cities in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

They plan a three-day demonstration at the weapons assembly facility to conclude on the Aug. 6 anniversary of the dropping of the first atomic bomb on the Japanese city of Hiroshima.

Henschen said Monday that his group represents a coalition of religious and "conscience based" peace groups called "The Red River Coalition" formed 1 ½ years ago.

The original goal of the group, he said, was to purchase property opposite the Amarillo plant to establish a permanent peace camp.

That deal fell through and the coalition has now turned their efforts to the organization of rallies and peaceful protests in support of the work of Roman Catholic Bishop Matthison of Amarillo who has worked for the closing of the plant.

The bishop urged Pantex workers to walk off their jobs "for reasons of conscience" in 1982.

To date, only one man has quit a job at the plant in response to the protester's pleas. The bicycling groups are hoping to gather sufficent donations in excess of the costs of their pilgrimage to bolster a "Solidarity Peace Fund." It will be used to provide financial assistance for those workers who leave Pantex jobs in the future.

The group stayed Monday night at Our Lady Of Guadalupe Church in north Snyder. Group members expressed optimism about the effects of their efforts while acknowledging the relatively small size of their movement at this

Boy hospitalized after dog attack

Five-year-old Ruben Martinez of Rt. 3, Snyder, son of Paul and Patria Martinez, remained in Cogdell Memorial Hospital Tuesday morning recovering from a dog attack which occurred shortly after noon Monday.

According to police, the youth was apparently playing in the back yard of his uncle Ruben DeLao's residence at 1205 13th St. when he was attacked by DeLao's female pit bulldog.

The boy was taken from the scene to the local hospital where doctors treated him for serious lacerations to the scalp and the side of the head.

He was kept in the intensive care unit at Cogdell Monday night but a hospital spokesman said he was improved Tuesday and would likely be moved from ICU to a regular medical floor later in the day.

The dog was picked up by city authorities following the incident and taken to the Scurry County Veterinary Clinic for observation of rabies.

Homeowners buy Cedar Creek land

A group of 15 Cedar Creek homeowners — concerned that a proposed residential development in their area would have building requirements less restrictive than existing homes — has now finalized a land deal to purchase the property in question.

The group — organized as Cedar Creek Development Association Inc. — has purchased two parcels of land from previous owner Murry Bowden.

These include some 16.6 acres north of Augusta Drive and some 11 acres north of Cedar Creek Drive in the Cedar Creek Additions

David Strelecki, president of the newly formed corporation, said current plans are to re-plat the acreage and to place legal restrictions into property deeds which will insure future construction complies with existing homes.

These restrictions will basically entail square footage requirements from 2,000 to 2,500 ft. plus specifications that all homes must be single family residential.

Lot sizes will include from 100 ft. to 110 ft. fronts.

Once the plat and deed restrictions are finalized, Strelecki said plans are to offer the land back for sale to potential developers.

He noted that members of the corporation have no plans to develop the property themselves.

The feller of Deep Creek says, "Anyone who believes in free speech must not be paying his phone bill."

Even if we didn't work at a newspaper, we would probably ask for permission to go down and go through the editor's discarded mail.

Newspapers get all sorts of mail, and an editor meeting deadlines has a tendency select the mail he opens by the appearance of the envelope.

An interesting item appeared this week, a promotional piece from Field's Exclusive Services Inc.--a 64-year-old match-making service.

The marriage-brokage firm has been making marriage arrangements for three generations. "We don't play games. Our clients want to get married," said Dan Field, nephew of the founder.

The firm handles all religions, all ages and is worldwide. At first Uncle Joe operated the business out of his living room. He would invite the nervous couple over for dinner. If they liked each other, they would talk again Saturday. If they still liked each other they could do business the next day. On Sunday they would sign a 90-day contract to court. "It was all very nice and proper."

Things are different now. The owner works seven days a week and says, "It used to be a nice girl wanted a nice boy with a nice job who wanted a family. Nowadays, girls are more particular. They make $20,000, so they want a boy who makes $40,000."

The introduction service claims to be very exclusive. "Most of our customers are professional people," he says. The advertising brochure makes the claim, "We make arrangements for your sons and daughters without their knowledge."

Dan Fields recently arranged a meeting that led to a marriage for a Persian Gulf shiek to an American woman. "They came in recently to bless me--they gave me cash."

Fields insists his organization is not a lonely hearts club. The firm's youngest client was 16 who wed three years later. The oldest was 92 who wanted a 21-year-old wife. Despite advice from the firm, the man went on a cruise of his own, came back broke and settled for a 78-year-old wife. Fields claims she was still too young for him.

Fees range from $25 to $250, depending on the work involved. He has a telephone number which he answers seven days a week. If you call the number, Dan doesn't miss a chance for business. "By the way," he says, "are you married?"

Merit raise plan mulled

A final planning session related to the 1984-85 city budget was completed Monday — a meeting which included discussion related to reimplementing the merit raise system for city employees after the coming fiscal year.

City Manger John Gayle said Tuesday that work on the budget was essentially complete and that he expected a first approval of the operating estimate Aug. 6.

He said he expected the merit raise system to be included in the package, although it would not be reimplemented until after a 12-month employee review period.

All councilmen attended the Monday session. Mayor Rod Waller was absent. Those attending were Gene Thomas, Tommy Davis, Truett Bryan, Troy Williamson, Mickey Nunley and Don Osborn.

Exposure incident noted

Snyder police were called to investigate an indecent exposure incident at a laundromat shortly before 6:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A local woman called police at 6:25 a.m. and told officers that she had been confronted by a man who exposed himself to her while she was doing washing at the City Automatic Laundry in the 2700 Block of Ave. Q.

Officers searched the area for the suspect but were unable to locate the man.

12-year-old girl with rabies not expected to live

HOUSTON (AP) — Doctors at Texas Children's Hospital gave an experimental drug to a 12-year-old girl who contracted the nation's first human case of rabies this year, but did not expect her to awaken from a coma.

The girl, whose name was not released, was in critical condition late Monday and kept on life support equipment. She has been receiving ribavirin, an experimental anti-viral agent "effective in the test tube against the rabies virus, said Dr. Ralph Feigin, the hospital's physician in chief.

"We do not believe this will alter her course, but there is no other treatment," Feigin said. "Since the diagnosis was only established Saturday, it is most unlikely this patient will survive. There have never been recorded cases of recovery from rabies other than in a very small number of indiviuals who have actually been immunized prior to or immediately subsequent to the time they had a known exposure to the disease."

The girl first was hospitalized July 11 after complaining of a sore throat and headache, Feigin said. She was transferred to Texas Children's Hospital on July 16.

"The patient deteriorated quite quickly," he said.

Feigin said it was not until Saturday that physicians were able to determine for certain that the girl had rabies.

Doctors had difficulty diagnosing the rabies because the patient did not show typical symptoms, Feigin said. Physicians first believed she was suffering from encephalitis and then from herpes simplex.

"Sometime in the remote past, she may have come in contact with a bat or some other animal that might have bitten," he said. "But at the time she was lucid, she denied such exposure."

He said tests would continue to isolate the rabies virus to "give us a clue of the source. Right now there are no clues."

Doctors believe hers is the first human case of rabies since an incident in Michigan in March 1983.

Health officials in the Houston area have confirmed scattered cases of rabies in bats and skunks. Feigin said the history of rabies shows the illness is slow to develop and could take as little as seven days or as long as 18 months to show up.

Dallas lawyer charged with selling younster

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas lawyer has been indicted on charges of selling a baby to a Massachusetts couple for $23,000 and is being investigated on other adoption cases he handled in the last three years, authorities say.

Albert Jack Leviton, 60, was named Monday in grand jury indictments on charges of sale of a child and aggravated perjury. The latter charge alleges Leviton lied about the fees he received in a court proceeding. Both are felonies that carry a penalty of up to 10 years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Dallas County Assistant District Attorney Gary Arey, a juvenile division prosecutor, told the Dallas Times Herald the indictments were issued after a nine month investigation.

Leviton, reached at his home Monday night, told the newspaper the indictments came as a "total shock."

Arey said Leviton was not questioned during his division's investigation.

"I am really overwhelmed by this information," Leviton said. "I am really breathless over this thing."

Arey said the probe was launched after the Massachusetts couple and another couple living in New Jersey telephoned Dallas officials, complaining they paid excessive fees for adoptions of Dallas-born children.

Leviton is being investigated on ten other adoption cases, many of which investigators have yet to identify the adoptive parents or the child's whereabouts, Arey said.

"We have several kids hanging out there that we don't know where they are," Arey said.

He said the cases were discovered through a check of court records that showed Leviton's names on adoption documents.

Private adoptions which are arranged by individuals rather than adoption agencies are legal in Texas, Arey said. But it is unlawful for lawyers acting as intermediaries to accept payments beyond reimbursement for birth-related medical expenses and a reasonable fee for legal service.

Dear Abby

Lost Brother Now Is Found, Thanks to Salvation Army

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing to thank you for your column in the Ventura (Calif.) Free Press about six months ago. You had recommended writing to the Salvation Army to locate a long lost relative who had dropped out of sight for many years. That gave me an idea, so I contacted the Salvation Army and asked if it could find my brother whom I had not seen or heard from since I left England 30 years ago.

Two nights ago I received a call from the Salvation Army telling me that my brother had been located in Australia! (I am still shaking even as I write this.)

Abby, I have no words to tell you how I feel. I telephoned my brother, who was as thrilled as I was. I am now making plans to visit him and his family in Australia.

God bless you, Abby, for what you did for me.

OLGA KNIGHT,
VENTURA, CALIF.

DEAR OLGA: Glad I could help. That's what I'm here for. To others who are interested in locating long lost relatives, the Salvation Army operates a Missing Persons Locator Service in 86 countries. It is available to the public. Some basic guidelines:

1. The inquirer should be searching for a near relative.

2. The inquirer must be able to provide essential information about the missing person.

3. The Salvation Army reserves the right to accept or reject any request for services based upon considerations of reasonableness, feasibility or motive.

4. The inquirer is asked to pay a $5 non-refundable fee.

5. The inquirer may secure information and/or a missing persons inquiry form by contacting the nearest Salvation Army office in his area or by contacting the nearest Territorial Headquarters: 860 N. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60610; 120 W. 14th St., New York, N.Y. 10011; 1424 Northeast Expressway, Atlanta, Ga. 30329; 30840 Hawthorne Blvd., Rancho Palos Verdes, Calif. 90274.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a policeman who works on cars in his spare time. He works the afternoon shift (3 p.m. to 11 p.m.). We never get to bed before midnight, but he's always up at 7 and working in the garage by 8 a.m.

I am furious. A man just called at 9:30 a.m. and said, "Is Ron still asleep?" I am burned up to have someone imply that Ron is lazy because Ron is one of the most industrious people I know. He never wastes a minute.

So what do I say to these people who assume my husband is still in bed in the middle of the morning?

RON'S SHIRLEY

DEAR SHIRLEY: Say, "No, Ron is not asleep. Ron is always up at 7 a.m."

Shirley, I appreciate your loyalty, but I think you're overreacting. If it's not broke, don't fix it.

DEAR ABBY: I found a badly damaged, unlocked suitcase on the highway near Pine Bluff, Ark. Heaven knows where the owner is by now.

I have no way of returning it, since there was no identification either on the outside of the suitcase or inside among the contents.

The suitcase obviously belonged to an elderly man of modest means and will be sorely missed.

Abby, please remind your readers once more to enclose some identification inside their luggage in case it gets lost.

MRS. C. McG.

DEAR MRS. McG.: Thanks for a valuable reminder.

Led astray in the melee

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

Here is another deal illustrating the aggressive bidding philosophy that won the Cavendish Invitational Pairs in May for Marty Bergen and Larry Cohen. Bergen was South. After East had overcalled with two clubs, Marty jumped to three spades. In their methods, this jump was pre-emptive. Marty was stealing bidding room from the opponents and gambling that the opponents would not be able to double for penalities.

In fact, a double for penalties would have been most lucrative for East-West. They could win the ace of hearts, two heart ruffs, and two tricks in each minor suit for a three-trick set.

But West could not judge that defensive potential for his side. Instead he reasoned that his opponents had at least a 5-4 fit in spades; hence his partner should have a singleton spade. Shouldn't that give him three cards in hearts? And so our brave West, led down the primrose path by the Bergen-Cohen bold bidding style, tried four hearts. That ambitious contract was down two.

There is a game contract that will make for East-West, but we defy anyone who hasn't seen all four hands to reach it after North has bid a spade and South has raised to three. Three no-trump comes home, since North-South can take only four spade tricks, after which East-West can score six club tricks, the A-K of diamonds and the ace of hearts.

BOOK REVIEW

TESTING THE CURRENT. By William McPherson. Simon & Schuster. 348 Pages. $15.95.

Recapturing the past and bringing it to life again is a difficult thing for a writer to do well. Especially in a first novel.

But William McPherson does it very well indeed in "Testing the Current," a beautifully written chronicle of a year in the life of Tommy MacAllister.

The year is 1939. The Great Depression is drawing to a close and World War II is just about to begin. But neither of these events has much effect on Tommy, a child of 8.

Rather, he is concerned with the day-to-day events that make up his limited life. The youngest son — his two brothers are much older — of a wellto-do family, Tommy lives in a Wisconsin town and his life is largely a sheltered one.

His family's home is located in an enclave of people of means, and it is their lives that fill his days, rather than the larger events taking place in the distant world outside.

Using Tommy as his observer, author McPherson draws finely detailed word pictures of the people who make up Tommy's life. People such as his stern, work-obsessed father, his fun-loving — and apparently adulterous — mother, his two older brothers.

Outside the immediate family there are others: an irascible doctor, a neighbor lady who takes drugs to ease her pain, the black woman who runs the country club.

All of these are woven deftly into the fabric of Tommy's world, and they all blend smoothly into the whole. On the surface, this year in Tommy's life is a relatively bland one, but below the surface it boils with life.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company has filed a tariff with the Public Utility Commission of Texas that will allow Centrex customers to control the number of access lines to the exchange network. Customers electing service under this proposed offering will be charged for exchange access based on the number of access lines rather than on the number of Centrex station lines.

The new offering, called Centrex III, is scheduled to become effective on August 10, 1984, unless the Commission suspends the effective date. The Commission has assigned the matter to Docket 5573.

The net effect of the Centrex III tariff will be a decrease in total billing.

Persons who wish to intervene or otherwise participate in these proceedings should notify the Commission as soon as possible. A request to intervene, participate or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512) 458-0223 or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company pone en conocimiento de los usuarios que ha registrado una nueva tarifa ante la Comisión de Servicios Públicos de Texas, lo que permitirá a los abonados del servicio Centrex controlar el número de líneas de acceso a la red central. A los clientes que adopten la opción propuesta mediante esta oferta, se les cobrará por el acceso a la red central en base al numero de líneas de acceso y no en base al número de líneas de estaciones Centrex.

La nueva opción, llamada Centrex III, entrará en funcionamiento el día 10 de agosto de 1984. (Esta fecha está sujeta a cambio, dependiendo de la decisión final de la Comisión.) Se ha registrado la tarifa bajo el Docket 5573.

El efecto real de la nueva tarifa Centrex III se verá en la reducción del costo total de las facturas.

Los usuarios de Southwestern Bell Telephone Company que estén interesados en participar en esta reunión, o que requieran mayor información, deben dirigirse por escrito a: Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. También se puede obtener información adicional llamando a Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division al 512/458-0223, al 512/458-0227, o al 512/458-0221 si requiere teletipo para sordos.

Makeup magic

Former star of Falcon Crest, actress Shannon Tweed, told Beauty Digest magazine one of her favorite makeup tricks: "When I get almost down to the bottom of a lipstick, I'll take what's left and scoop it out and add it to the other lipstick remnants I keep in a small jar. After I've saved three or four colors, I mix them up together and create a brand new color — for free. I apply my new color with a lipstick brush."

National dividend proposed to congress

NEW YORK (AP) — John H. Perry's "social invention" may receive a hearing from Congress before the year is out, and that, he says, brings closer the day when budget deficits will be no more.

As matters stand, says Perry, a Riviera Beach, Fla. businessman and inventor, many Americans feel budget cuts will deprive them of some benefit. His National Dividend Plan, on the other hand, would assure them a return.

An organization to promote the plan, Americans for the National Dividend Act Inc. has been formed in Rosslyn, Va., just outside Washington, D.C. And it has won many adherents in Congress too.

In fact, it is the subject of H.R. 5085, introduced in March by 32 congressmen as the "National Dividend Act of 1984," and is now awaiting consideration by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DR. LAMB

Get a checkup before jogging

(NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a 44-year-old male and out of shape. I'm 5 feet 10 and weigh 168 pounds. When I was in my 20s, I weighed around 145 to 150. The extra pounds have gradually developed over the years. I don't smoke and have no known health problems, other than being moderately overweight and out of shape. So I have decided to start an exercise program. I would like to start jogging to help build up my heart and lungs and to help get rid of that extra fat.

My concern is that I have heard of people dying from jogging. I don't want to drop dead from jogging when I could have lived sitting by the swimming pool. Just how great is the risk of having a heart attack from jogging? I have also heard that if you could run a marathon you would never have a heart attack. That seems to be just the opposite view. What is the truth, and do I really have anything to worry about?

DEAR READER — You are wise to take some measures now to help prevent a heart attack. Too often the first symptom of heart disease is dropping dead, but that usually does not occur on the jogging trail, regardless of what you have heard.

If you have not had a medical examination for some time, I would urge you to do so, primarily to find out if your blood pressure and cholesterol are normal. Since you don't smoke, those are the only other risk factors that you should consider before beginning your program. If they are high, I would recommend that you start a walking program along with restricting your calories until the blood pressure and cholesterol at least start coming down. I think the risk factors are the best guide to how much exercise a person can do.

The stories of jogging deaths are greatly exaggerated. The few deaths that have occurred usually have involved someone who already had serious heart disease. And most often, death occurs in someone who insists on pushing it, usually by trying to jog or run too fast. It is better to run further slowly than to try for peak efforts. The other rule is to increase your exercise gradually, then be consistent about your exercise.

To help ease your concern about the dangers of jogging I am sending you The Health Letter 13-4, A Perspective on Jogging Deaths. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My wife is 34 and craves ice from morning till night. She even gets up in the middle of the night to eat it. She did not start eating ice until she had her first child. We now have two. Can she be lacking something in her diet?

Not only is it embarrassing for her to ask for more glasses of ice when we are eating out, but it gets expensive keeping a large bucket of ice in the freezer.

DEAR READER — She may have an iron deficiency. There are studies showing that individuals with a desire to eat lots of ice, clay or laundry starch often have an iron deficiency. Take your wife to her doctor to be tested for iron deficiency.

My dental colleagues have reminded me that eating ice can be damaging to the teeth. The persistent cold exposure may cause a cold injury to the teeth. You may have more expenses than just the cost of buying ice by the bucket if her habit continues.

Fast arrests eyed near GOP confab

DALLAS (AP) — While city clerks sit poised over a machine that can crank out three pages of criminal complaints per minute, American Civil Liberties Union lawyers are gearing up for a counter-point to the city's speedy arrest plans for the Republican National Convention.

As part of the city's plan to quicken the processing of suspects, computers have been rigged to spew criminal complaints at amazing speeds.

"All we have to do is punch a button," boasted Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade, and out pop forms dealing with weapons carrying, parading without a permit or assaulting a police officer.

The ACLU, meanwhile, is preparing mass-produced, fill-in-the-blank legal forms of its own.

Local and state ACLU lawyers are setting up shop near the Dallas Convention Center.

At Wit's End

by erma bombeck

Reprinted by Request:

For years I have been trying to convert my husband to "punctuality." It is my life's work.

What I'm dealing with is an 11-month baby who has never seen the first ten minutes of anything. He's never seen a curtain go up, never heard an overture, never seen a race start, never entered a bus that was standing still, and has never gotten a parking place close to the door.

Just once I'd like to get to a buffet table where there wasn't a gaping hole in the tuna mold or a salad with all the tomatoes gone.

Just once I'd like to go to a movie when the lights are on and I can see to find my seat.

Being late is habit-forming. I know there is something Freudian about it, but I don't know what. My best guess would be that wherever he's going, he doesn't want to go in the first place.

The thing about people who are always late is there is no way to reach them. I've tried deception, where you lie about the time you're supposed to be somewhere. His body rejects the adjustment.

Humiliation has been tried. Like the night we arrived at a party and we heard a voice say, "Good grief, the Bombecks have arrived. I didn't know it was so late. Roy, we've got to go."

Enticement never worked. One night I talked him into going to a football game on time. When the band struck up a tune he said, "What is that?"

"It's the Star-Spangled Banner. They play it before every sports event."

"What for?"

"Everyone sings it and it sets a tone."

"No one is singing it," he said, "and for this I came without socks."

The conversion of a confirmed dawdler is the dream of a lot of people. We got lucky the other night, enroute to a sports event. Made every traffic light, found a parking spot near the entrance, and encountered no crowds. Inside, we made a discovery. The event wasn't until the next night.

As my husband sat down in the bleachers he said, "This early enough for you? I don't know what you see in being here on time. It's boring."

To appeal firing

DALLAS (AP) — Nurse-dispatcher Billye Myrick, who delayed sending an ambulance to a dying woman, says she'll appeal Monday's decision from a city trial board that upheld her firing.

"I'm a good nurse," she declared after the Civil Service trial board handed down its decision. "I can't sit here and take what they've done."

The trial board hearing was the nurse's last chance to appeal her dismissal on the city level.

Fire Chief Dodd Miller, who fired Mrs. Myrick on March 16, said Monday that the nurse's next step would be in state district court. He offered no further comment.

Attack kills 66

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Leftist rebels attacked civil guards at a cluster of farms, reportedly killing 66 people in one of their bloodiest offensives in western El Salvador since the civil war began in 1979.

Civilian sources said the death toll from Monday's attacks included 63 civil defense guards at the farms. The civil guards are farmers armed and trained by the regular army to defend their cooperatives from rebel incursions.

A military spokesman put the death toll at 40.

Crash fatal to father

PEARLAND, Texas (AP) — A 29-year-old man was killed and his wife critically injured in a head-on collision as they drove their 3-day-old girl home from the hospital, authorities say.

Rodney Allen Bartay was killed Monday afternoon on a rural road in Brazoria County, authorities said.

For farmers...

Credit breaks urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate may vote in the next few days on a resolution urging that farmers be given at least the same credit breaks when applying for loans that Latin American and other foreign government borrowers get.

The non-binding proposal, sponsored by Sen. J. James Exon, D-Neb., urges President Reagan and the Federal Reserve Board to "take steps to ensure the availability of agricultural credit to the agricultural producers" of the United States.

The measure, which has wide bipartisan backing from farm state members of Congress, is awaiting action on the Senate calendar.

Exon's resolution notes that last year, Brazil, Mexico, Argentina and Venezuela held $260 billion in outstanding debts, and that interest payments on these loans alone totaled more than $20 billion.

But these governments had been successful in securing postponement in debt and other special arrangements "through private negotiations, assistance from the United Statese government and the International Monetary Fund," the resolution states.

At the same time, U.S. farmers "have been unsuccessful in securing similar special treatment from private banks or the federal government," it adds.

U.S. farmers should "be treated no less favorably than foreign borrowers with comparable levels of risk," states the resolution.

Expected stillborn becomes miracle baby

FRAMINGHAM, Mass. (AP) — When a baby girl that doctors said would be stillborn cried with life in the delivery room it set off tears of joy among nurses and doctors, said the jubilant father of 4-day-old "Ami" — A Miracle Infant.

Tammy and Bill Zilembo entered the delivery room at Framingham Union Hospital on Friday after having already discussed the infant's autopsy and making plans for a funeral. Doctors said that tests had shown no sign of life in the child that was 27 days overdue.

"We went in there knowing there was nothing there," Zilembo, 30, said Monday.

"We prepared for the worst. We made arrangements for the burial of the child. We wanted to hold the baby, have pictures of it."

Nation's governors debate deficit reductions

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — As the nation's governors grapple with ways to cut the federal deficit, Democratic Gov. Mario Cuomo of New York is charging President Reagan with ducking "the truth" of a tax hike next year.

Democratic and Republican governors talked of bipartisan solutions to the estimated $170 billion annual flood of federal red ink at the National Governors' Association meeting, but presidential politics made agreement difficult for the final session today.

A draft resolution calling on Reagan to announce his deficit-cutting plan before the election circulated among the Democratic state executives.

"The resolution concentrates on asking both presidential candidates to be clear and specific on their plans and to make then known in time for the American people to make a judgment," said Arkanasas Gov. Bill Clinton.

One draft of the resolution — which might go only to the Democratic governors and not the full group — complimented Walter F. Mondale on his announced policies and said Reagan is "unwilling or unable to put America's financial house in order."

Republican governors talked of a deficit resolution, but reached no consensus Monday.

Reagan was to speak to the governors briefly at lunchtime, talking by telephone hookup from his ranch in California. Mondale will not be attending the meeting, although there was a brief flurry of activity late Monday as the governors tried to entice him here one more time.

The governors were scheduled to adopt a number of policy statements today, including one supporting comparable worth and a comprehensive jobs plank.

But it was taxes and the federal deficit that held the governors' attention.

Republican Gov. Richard Snelling of Vermont pushed his "Proposition 1" group, a bipartisan effort to get a balanced budget by 1989.

"Both parties have contributed to the deficit," he said. "I'm disappointed in both candidates so far."

Cuomo, here only briefly on Monday, attacked Reagan and the Republicans.

He said Democratic presidential candidate Walter F. Mondale is right in saying a tax increase will come next year, whoever is in the White House.

"I think there's no question that all the responsible Republicans agree that there needs to be a tax increase," said Cuomo. And he said Reagan's claim to look to spending cuts for the solution is just not plausible.

"Everybody knows you can't do it with an expenditures cut. So unless you're a fool — and I don't think the American people are going to remain fools for long — you have to understand that President Reagan is going to be for raising taxes," Cuomo said. "He hasn't been able to conceal it."

Cuomo said the president's refusal to admit he would raise taxes will help Mondale.

"The American people, if they're paying attention, are going to say, 'Well, Mr. Mondale, he's stronger than we thought. That was, . . a good bold move. He's telling us the truth,'" Cuomo said.

Mondale called for the tax hike in his acceptance speech at the Democratic National Convention on July 19.

"It's the truth that even the Republicans are telling us. The only one who's not telling it is the president," he said.

time.

Twenty-seven year-old Kathy Collmer — a Houston area nursing home worker — expressed surprise at the way the group has been treated through the first 400 miles of the journey.

She said she had expected to encounter some hostility from individuals, but that none had been experienced to date.

Carl Schaer, a 30-year-old school teacher traveling with the group, said the group is also trying to educate the people of Texas "about the dangers of nuclear war."

From Snyder, the 11 bicyclists — accompanied by five support personnel in motor vehicles — plan overnight stops in Post, Lubbock and Tulia before arriving in Amarillo.

Their three-day vigil outside the Pantex plant will conclude at the 8 a.m. shift change at the Pantex plant Aug. 6. At that time, an interfaith religious service is planned at the main gate for the benefit of both the assembled protesters and plant workers.

Seniors top Tigers, 6-4

Snyder Black slipped a notch after strolling out to a seemingly comfortable lead here Monday, but regained composure to defeat the Sweetwater Tigers 6-4 in Senior Teenage League play.

The teams resume their best-of-three series here tonight at 7 o'clock on Moffett Field. Winner of the series will advance to the state tournament next week in Midland.

Charles Bollinger went the distance for Snyder, striking out eight batters and walking five. He was backed by a defense that was sometimes stellar, sometimes shaky. The Black team committed four errors.

Jason Reeves took the loss for Sweetwater. Tiger pitchers handed out seven hits, including a triple to Willie Greathouse and a double to Chad Peterson.

After a scoreless first inning, Snyder came across with three runs in the second, and added two in the third and one in the fourth for a 6-0 lead. Walks and errors - along with two hits - helped Sweetwater get back in the game in the sixth. But Snyder shut down the Tigers again in the seventh inning, preserving the victory.

Justin Webb slapped two singles for Snyder while Jimmy Cain, Chris Fryar and Ricky Hunter drilled one apiece.

Sweetwater committed three errors.

Junior Teenagers stumble, 6-5; face Roscoe team at 6 tonight

COLORADO CITY — Durl Ruther slammed a seventh-inning sacrifice fly to deep centerfield, bringing in the winning run as Sweetwater's Dodgers defeated the Snyder Dodgers in Junior Teenage League District Tournament play here Monday, 6-5.

It was a disappointing loss for Snyder, which had taken a 5-3 lead on Mark Velasquez's two-run single in the top of the inning. Snyder plays here again at 6 p.m. today, taking on Roscoe, a 6-4 loser to Colorado City. Sweetwater and Colorado City vie at 8:30.

Wednesday's slate begins at 1 p.m. with the winner of tonight's 6 o'clock game facing the 8:30 loser. Winner of the 1 o'clock game will play again at 3 p.m. Wednesday. If necessary, another game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Relief pitcher Casey Hale had done an admirable job getting Snyder out of trouble in the bottom of the sixth inning. But in the seventh, he opened with a walk to Lee Morris. Keith Ramey followed with a double up the middle, and Morris scored to put Sweetwater within a point, 5-4.

Hale then sent Shane Gill to first base when he hit the batter with a pitch, and Snyder coaches brought David Martinez to the mound. Martinez got next-up Scott Gill to hit a grounder to second baseman Van Echols. Echols, who had also given a masterful job at his position for six innings, overthrew fielder Albert Rodriquez's outstretched glove this time, and Morris scored on the error to tie the game. Scott Gill ran all the way to third on the play.

One out later, Ruther followed with a towering shot to centerfield, and Scott Gill managed to beat the throw home for the winning run.

Sweetwater had scored in the first inning to take 1-0 lead. Snyder tied in the third when Alan Holt walked and scored on an error. Snyder then went in front 2-1 after Martinez singled, and later scored on a basehit from Hale.

The lead grew to 3-1 in the top of the sixth as Holt doubled in Velasquez, who had walked to get aboard.

Sweetwater tied the game in the bottom of the stanza when Snyder starter Rodriquez issued back-to-back walks and Wayne Rotan and Ruther followed with consecutive hits - Ruther's a double. Hale came in to pitch the final two-thirds of the inning, getting one out on a fly ball, and fanning Marty Daniels.

Sweetwater pitcher Lee Morris struck out nine batters and stranded 10 Snyder baserunners. Snyder got an unofficial seven hits.

Sweetwater had eight hits and left eight on the basepaths. Hale was the losing pitcher, despite pitching less than a full inning.

Olympic Games...

Swimmers faring well

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Michael Gross reached out and grabbed a second swimming gold medal for West Germany, but American Bruce Hayes had the winning hand at the end of one of the most dramatic relay races in Olympic history.

Gross, the 6-foot-7 "Albatross" with the 7-4 wingspan, added a victory in the 100-meter butterfly Monday to his triumph Sunday in the 200 freestyle - but as the anchor in the 800 freestyle relay he came up literally one hand short.

It was Hayes who held, relinquished, then regained the lead in the final leg of the race that gave the United States its second swimming gold of the day. Earlier, Mary Wayte led a 1-2 finish in the women's 200 freestyle.

Those golds, coupled with a victory by Ed Etzel of Morgantown, W. Va., in men's English match small-bore rifle competition, gave the United States nine in the first two days of these Summer Games. West Germany, Canada and China have three golds apiece and West Germany, with seven total medals, is second to America's 15.

In the two other golds awarded Monday, Wu Shude of China hoisted 589½ total pounds, 5½ more than countryman Lai Runming, in the 123-pound weightlift, and Fredy Schmidtke of West Germany won the 1,000-meter time trial in cycling in 1 minute, 6.10 seconds. The top American finished eighth in each event, Albert Hood of Los Angeles in the weightlifting, Rory O'Reilly of Costa Mesa, Calif., in the cycling.

In another cycling event, though, Steve Hegg of Dana Point, Calif., recorded the fastest outdoor Olympic time ever in a qualifying round of the 4,000-meter individual pursuit. But his time of 4 minutes, 35.57 seconds, although under the world best of 4:40.23 set five years ago by Hans-Henrik Oersted of Denmark, won't count as a record because Hegg overtook Pedro Omar Caino of Argentina.

U.S. boxers Paul Gonzales of East Los Angeles, Virgil Hill of Williston, N.D., and Evander Holyfield of Atlanta joined Sunday winner Mark Breland in scoring first-fight victories.

Gonzales outpointed Kwang-Sun Kim of South Korea in a 106-pound bout, Hill stopped Edward Neblett of Barbados in the second round of a 165-pound match and Holyfield stopped Taju Akay of Ghana in the third round at 178 pounds.

The U.S. women's basketball team, fresh from Monday's 83-55 pounding of Yugoslavia, takes on Austria and the American men, who routed China in their first game, played Canada today.

In volleyball, the U.S. women began play by sweeping West Germany 17-15, 15-8, 15-10 Monday. The American men, four-set winners on Sunday against Argentina, play Tunisia today.

Five more swimming medals are up for grabs late today. And the American men's gymnastics team holds the lead over heavily favored China going into tonight's finals. The U.S. women gymnasts are second to Romania following Monday's compulsories. Their team finals are set for Wednesday night.

Hayes, from Dallas, was part of the 800-meter freestyle relay team that set a world record of 7 minutes, 18.87 seconds in Monday morning's preliminaries. Then, in the afternoon, Mike Heath, also of Dallas, David Larson of Jacksonville, Fla., Jeff Float of Sacramento, Calif., and Hayes went out and bettered their own record with a clocking of 7:15.69. Five new world swimming records are in books, all set by men.

Seaver shuts out Chicago Sox, 7-0

by The Associated Press

At the age of 39, it's not easy keeping your fastball up and your earned run average down. But Tom Seaver is doing all right for himself these days.

After struggling at the start of the season, Seaver has turned things around. On Monday night, he posted his fourth victory in July and third shutout of the year in leading the Chicago White Sox to a 7-0 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Seaver allowed but three hits, striking out four and walking none, in bringing his record up to 10-6 and his ERA down below the 4.00 mark.

In other American League action, it was Kansas City 7, Toronto 4; Texas 5, Baltimore 1; New York 4, Milwaukee 3; Minnesota 9, Seattle 5 and California 5, Oakland 4 in 12 innings.

In the National League, San Diego ripped Los Angeles 12-0, Montreal downed Pittsburgh 3-1, Chicago beat Philadelphia 3-2, St. Louis topped New York 3-1 in 10 innings, and Houston edged Atlanta 4-3.

Seaver faced only 29 batters - two over the minimum. The shutout was the 59th of Seaver's career, tops among active pitchers. He has 283 lifetime wins, second among active pitchers to Steve Carlton's 309.

Rangers 5, Orioles 1

Frank Tanana allowed four hits while hurling Texas over Baltimore with home run support from Ned Yost and Larry Parrish.

Tanana, 10-10, retired 14 of the first 15 batters he faced, walking Cal Ripken Jr. in the first, before Mike Young singled with two outs in the fifth.

While Tanana's mini no-hit bid was still intact, Billy Sample raced into the corner to snare a drive by Dan Ford high off the left field wall. Sample was credited with nine putouts, two shy of the major league record for a left fielder.
