HOSPITAL BOARD . . .

Draperies Ordered, Date For Formal Opening Discussed

The Schleicher County Hospital District seven directors are beginning to see daylight at the end of the tunnel.

At their regular meeting Monday night they placed orders for draperies and appointed a committee to begin making plans for a formal opening.

The date of the formal opening will be on a Sunday and it will be at least three weeks after the contractor completes the building and its acceptance by the board. At the present time the contractor expects to complete the building by January 1st, but Supt. Bob Ashley said this week that the finishing touches may be somewhat slower than expected.

Yet to be done is finishing the unfinished built-ins all over the plant. Some are yet to be stained and varnished. Then there are ceilings to be hung throughout the building, as well as floors which are to be finished with floor tile. Front doors, too.

After the board accepts the building from the contractor there will remain much technical equipment to be installed. The company that sold the x-ray and operating room equipment have the responsibility of installing it along with its electrical control.

There will be kitchen equipment plus all supplies down to pots and pans and mops and sponges. The former Ford building is now chock full of beds, equipment and supplies, which will need to be moved and installed throughout the building.

The thinking this week is that the formal opening may be last Sunday in January or the first Sunday in February.

Lila Holland of San Angelo was given contract for making draperies for windows all over the building at a cost of over $2,000. She has done work for many Schleicher county residents and is highly recommended. At Monday night's meeting she produced samples of draperies which she recommended in all the various rooms. Woolen draperies to be used in the reception room will be produced by El Dorado Woolen Mills in Eldorado.

Since progress is still more or less indefinite the board decided to leave to the chairman (Ratliff) and secretary (Mittle) to announce the date of the formal opening of Schleicher county's new hospital. But Ratliff appointed Meador, McGinnis and Cain as a committee to begin making plans for the Formal Opening whenever it is to be.

'Blondy' McMillan Injured Critically

Mrs. Myrtle N. (Blondy) McMillan, 57, was injured critically in a one-car accident about 3:30 p.m., Sunday seven miles north of Eldorado on U. S. 277.

Mrs. McMillan, who formerly lived here in Eldorado but whose address more recently has been 2322 Guadalupe in San Angelo, sustained fractures of both ankles, both knees and a thigh bone when her auto apparently went out of control and rammmed a stone embankment.

Highway Patrolmen Bill Webster and Larry Hill, who investigated the accident with Schleicher County Sheriff Orval Edmiston, said the auto skidded about 20 feet after striking the embankment.

Mrs. McMillan was taken by Sheppard ambulance to the Clinic Hospital where her condition remained critical early this week.

She is a sister of the Nixons here, and her daughter is Mrs. Dwight Wiedenmann of San Antonio. All close relatives have been at her bedside.

Mrs. McMillan and her late husband, Ralph, formerly operated a dry cleaning shop here.

Santa Claus Parade Here Monday

Santa Claus will be here next Monday. Yes, the Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the first Santa Claus Parade in Eldorado at 4:30 p.m., on December 9th.

At the conclusion of the parade a Senior girl from high school will be crowned "Miss Merry Christmas" of 1968. Two judges from San Angelo will interview our 15 Senior girls during the day. Just before the parade three finalists will be announced and will ride on the Chamber of Commerce float. The other contestants will join the finalists in the parade, all wearing lovely formals.

Those organizations having floats in the parade will be: Beta Sigma Phi sorority, Jaycees, Boy Scouts, Lions Club and possibly the Girl Scouts and Woman's Club. The parade will be led by the Eldorado Eagle Marching Band.

A $5.00 prize will be awarded to the child wearing the best Christmas costume. All school children below the 6th grade are urged to wear a colorful Christmas costume and march in the parade. If you plan to take part, be in front of the feed store, dressed and ready to march at 4:15 p.m.

The parade will halt at the Court House and there Chamber President Raymon Mobley will crown Miss Merry Christmas. Then ol' Santa will be available to hear the Christmas wishes of Eldorado's youngsters. He will give each child time to sit in his lap and tell him just what they want him to bring them.

Eldorado's merchants are stocked and ready to serve your Christmas needs. While you are downtown for the parade, visit our stores and do your Christmas shopping. One of the main purposes of the parade is to promote a community Christmas spirit. Our merchants have all agreed to remain open until everyone has had time to do his shopping.

Make-It-With-Wool Contestants To Be Here Saturday For Contest

Approximately 122 entries have been registered for the "Make It Yourself With Wool" show which is to be held this Saturday. Mrs. Henry Speck Jr. is busy putting the finishing touches on all plans for the day.

Registration of the contestants begins at 8:00 a.m. Saturday at the high school. Judging will then take place and the day will be climaxed with a style show which begins at 3:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. All Eldoradoans are cordially invited to attend the show and view the garments made by many West Texas teen-agers and women.

Several door prizes will be given to parents and sponsors of the contestants. Shortly after the registration of all contestants and parents a drawing will be held. Gift certificates from Eldorado merchants will be presented to those whose names are drawn.

A decoupage display will be shown and tips on this popular hobby will be available. Mrs. Jim Brame and Mrs. Toney McMillan will serve as Chamber of Commerce hostesses for the day.

Mrs. Mabel Parker visited here recently with Mrs. V. G. Tisdale, Mr. and Mrs. Bascom Hartgraves, and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Topliffe and other relatives and friends. She planned to visit relatives at Robert Lee before returning to her home at Tulsa, Okla.

Still 2650 Bales

"We haven't done a thing all week," said Wayne Mikeska Wednesday when asked for a gin report.

The total last week was 2650 bales and since that time the county has had fog, rain, sleet and snow, plus a good deal of bitter cold winds.

There may be another 100 bales in fields over the county waiting for a spell of warm, dry weather, and the gin is standing by.

Post Script

Here is a special word to all pastors of local churches and their reporters. Turn in all news pertaining to Christmas arrangements to the Success. Give details for the coming season regarding the special programs, offerings, etc.

And the Success urges its readers to keep Christ in Christmas by giving to the Christmas benevolences of the church of your choice.

Postmaster Bernard Carr and his crew urge everyone to mail their Christmas cards and packages as soon as possible.

This will ensure mail reaching its destination by Christmas time and will also lighten the work load on postal workers here and over the rest of the country.

Again this year the post office has a special Christmas postage stamp on sale. It is a Van Eyck painting and will add an extra touch to Christmas cards. A sheet of 50 stamps sells for $3.00.

The postal crew remind you to be sure that your outgoing mail is properly and legibly addressed with Zip Codes included.

"... and we lost Sam!" These were the chilling words uttered by Mrs. John Gilmore when she and John and her twin sister dropped in at my house Sunday night, having returned from Fort Worth.

They had left here Thursday to visit at the home of their nephew, Joe Coulter. Sam, their large Airedale dog was taken along because Joe had a fenced-in back yard where Sam would be safe and fed properly.

Everything went according to schedule except that when Saturday morning came and the party was ready to start for home, there was no Sam. Apparently he had jumped the fence and disappeared. John and Joe scoured the neighborhood without results, and the car finally returned to Eldorado without Sam.

Donnie's sister left Tuesday for Van Horn for a visit in the home of her son, Harold Coulter. Since then the Gilmore home seems to be strangely quiet with no Sam. His favorite rug is still waiting for him in the living room as is his supply of dog food, his dog house and water fountain.

In Fort Worth Joe Coulter is running an ad in the paper and he is checking the pound for stray dogs.

Miss Mace Named To 'Who's Who'

San Marcos, Tex.—An Eldorado student at Southwest Texas State College has been selected for the 1968 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities."

Paula Mace was one of 31 Southwest Texas students picked for the latest edition of the annual directory of student leaders from colleges and universities across the United States. Students are chosen for leadership, service and scholastic ability as determined by a point system based on campus activities, positions held and grade point averages.

A 1965 graduate of Eldorado High School, she is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, the Student Senate, the Association of Women Students, Alpha Chi, Kappa Delta Pi, the forensic squad, the Texas State Education Association and she is president of Sterry Hall.

Miss Mace has been a Gaillardian and nominee for Miss SWT and All-College Beauty.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Harris and boys from California visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rance McDonald and other relatives during Thanksgiving holidays. He is a captain with Continental Airlines.

Blizzard Hits B's

The Eaglette "B" team suffered its second loss at the hands of Class AA Winters "B", November 26 by a 47-22 count.

Winters, junior-studded team, was leading all the way but the freshmen and sophomore Eaglettes never gave up.

Patty Page and Sherry Davis led with 10 each with Sherry hitting 8 of 9 free shots. Jeanne McCravey got two points. Rebound leader was Judy Hanusch with 5 on offense.

Guards, Gay Lyn Richardson, Leslie Martin, Jean Rountree, had rebounds of 6, 3, and 3 while Gail Robinson got 2 and Kay Williams one. Every Eaglette played and hustled well. That group also included Marian Bland, Eva Stigler, Betty Kay Bradley, Debbie Johnson, and Randy Yates.

Eaglettes Try Winters

Last Tuesday before Thanksgiving Eldorado traveled to Winters to try the very tough Blizzards for the second time and it was a battle all the way before Winters took it in the closing minutes 37-29. It was a vast improvement for the green over their opening game with the same team when they beat Eldorado 58-34.

This time Eldorado took a 7-6 lead behind Kathleen O'Harrow's shooting and in the second period Linda Derrick hit four while Winters notched 7 making it 13-14. Winters. The second half saw Eldorado blow six free throw opportunities and fall behind 20-22. Winters won it at the free throw line in the fourth quarter making 9 of 11 and 13 of 13 for the game.

Dale Montgomery was able to connect on a couple of free shots but no field goals which hurt the offensive attack. Linda Derrick hit only two field goals while Kathleen O'Harrow had 5. Part of the poor offensive hitting has to be contributed to All Regional, AA, Senior Guard Babs Tatum, who blocked shots and rebounded well all night.

The story was a different one defensively as the Eaglette guards allowed only 12 field goals while the first five played equal time and Sheri Roberts came in during the final period and picked up 4 rebounds. Lisa McAngus and Mary Lynn McCalla got 6 rebounds each. Donna Davis pulled down 8, Lisa Whitten 1, and Claudia Meador led with 9. All six guards played an exceptional game giving Winters forwards lots of trouble and making them work.

The free throw per cent picked up to 65% but the floor per cent was only 21.

However, the over-all play was good and the extra practice and game experience should see the offense improve and the defense get tougher and more controlled.

Thanksgiving visitors with Mrs. J. B. Montgomery were Mr. and Mrs. Billy Edmiston and children of Midland, Mrs. A. W. Hedlund of San Angelo, and the Jack Montgomery family.

Saucy Dinner Delight

CASSEROLES ARE IDEAL dinner fare for the family in brisk weather. They're easy to prepare, thrifty meals that can taste like gourmet dishes when a saucy touch is added to the ingredients, as in this delicious recipe.

STUFFED CABBAGE CASSEROLE

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup rice
 $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. bacon, diced
2 large onions, chopped
 $1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. ground beef
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup A.I. Sauce
2 cans (8-oz. each) tomato sauce
1 tsp. salt
1 medium-sized head cabbage

Cook rice in boiling water 5 minutes. Drain rice; reserve. Sauté bacon until just tender; drain off drippings reserving 2 tbsp. drippings. Cook onions in 2 tbsp. drippings until tender. Combine rice, bacon, onions, beef, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup A.I. Sauce and 1 can tomato sauce; mix well. Remove core from cabbage. Dip cabbage into boiling water until leaves separate easily. Remove leaves carefully to retain shape. Spoon meat mixture into centers of leaves. Fold around meat. Place cabbage rolls, seam side down, in 3-qt. baking dish. Mix remaining A.I. Sauce and tomato sauce; pour over cabbage rolls. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350° F) about $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours. Makes 8 servings.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

The Reynolds Home Demonstration Club had a delightful afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Williams at the last meeting day. In her own hospitable way Mrs. Williams served an assortment of home made cookies with coffee and hot spiced tea for refreshments. After being served it did not take the guests long to begin asking for the recipe of a colorful and delicious cookie which Mrs. Williams gave me and I share with you.

Gertrude's Gum Drop Cookies

4 beaten eggs
2 cups (1 box) brown sugar
Mix sugar and eggs thoroughly.
2 cups chopped gum drops or jelly candy. (No black ones.) Dip scissors in hot water and snip jellied candies in small pieces. Add to sugar and egg mixture.
2 cups chopped or broken pecan meats. Coat with flour and add to first mixture.

Add $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon salt and 2 cups of flour to the mixture and pour into a greased and floured cookie tin. Bake in a sheet and cut in squares while hot.

Gertrude made hers into drop cookies and they turned out very well. Powdered sugar icing is not a must but gives an added touch.

1968 is the year dedicated to the consumer. That means everybody for we are all consumers. The President's Committee on Consumer Interests has compiled these tips on protecting consumers against those who would take advantage of all who trust too much. These points are made:

—Buying by mail. You will get a lot of "junk mail" in your box. Before you buy anything by mail, see if you can get a better deal at a local store. Be careful about mail that offers an "easy" way to make money at home—there is no such thing.

—Buying at the door. Don't fall for "gimmicks" or for the "free" gift offers. When a salesman comes to the door, and wants you to buy something right now, DON'T! Ask him to come back tomorrow if you are interested and while you wait call your banker, or the sheriff and check on the product.

—Signing your name. Before you sign a contract or an agreement, ask yourself these questions:

Do I understand everything it says? Do I agree with everything it says? If your answer is "no" to either question, DON'T sign. Call your lawyer if the article is something you really want.

—Buying on credit. Don't be fooled by talk about "low" monthly payments. Find out the total amount you will be paying over the life of the loan. Subtract the cost of the item you are buying. The difference is what you will pay in interest. If it is too much call your banker or your lawyer.

—Health Cures and Health Machines. Some are good and some are bad. The only way to know for sure is to call your doctor; he will tell you the truth. Don't use medicine prescribed for someone else. —Glasses and hearing aids. Go to your doctor to make sure that you need glasses or a hearing aid and whatever you do, don't buy at bargain prices until you can clear all doubt as to how good the article really is.

—Don't be afraid to say "No." Don't let yourself be high pressured into buying something you don't want or need.

—Get a receipt. Whenever you buy something make sure you get a receipt and read it all the way through.

—Don't be afraid to check on sellers. The only ones who object to this are the ones who are trying to take advantage of you.

—Talk with a bank officer. If you are going into your savings to make a purchase or close a business deal, talk first with one of the bank's officers. He may have some pointers that will save you money, and maybe grief.

There are laws to protect the consumer but first he must look out for himself; there are no laws against willfully being taken in.

About the time I think that nothing new is turning up these days along comes something to disprove the whole theory. Such as Bessie Doyle's cabbage tamales. Who would have thought it? Bessie says that they are delicious and of course I believe her implicitly. A yway I can read a recipe and almost know how it is going to taste and this one tastes very, very good. Try some soon. Who knows, these new tamales may be the hit of your holiday cooking!

Cabbage Tamales

1 pound ground meat
 $\frac{1}{2}$ pound pork sausage

1 small bottle chili powder
1 large onion
1 cup uncooked rice
1 can Rotel (hot pepper, tomatoes)
2 slices white bread
1 large can Pet milk (evap.)
1 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste.
Mix all the above ingredients well. Use one large cabbage head. Wash and using paring knife cut the core out; this makes separating the leaves easier. Place separated leaves in hot water; cook at low temperature until leaves are wilted, soft enough to handle. Spread leaves out and place small amount of meat mixture in center of leave. Roll and fold leaves to hold meat. Hold together with toothpick. Use leaves and mixture until finished and stack rolls into layers in a baking dish. Cover with water and cook slowly for about 2 hours.

Cook some pinto beans and make Mexican cornbread and get ready for some good eating. Fresh, frozen or canned fruit would make a fine dessert to top the menu off with.

Promised for next week: A very fine yeast roll recipe which may be refrigerated for days and stays ready for use as the need occurs.

Stock Outlook: 1969

Let's talk about the stock market, including a thought or two on the overall market—and a comment on the general configuration within which you and I will have to select stocks for 1969. First, let me touch briefly on the supply/demand factor as related to common stocks.

My opinion is that the increasing appetite for equities on the part of institutional investors has outpaced — and will continue to outpace—the number of new issues brought to market.

For a long time now, I've felt that the decided upsurge in institutional demand continues to be a very real support for the market. As someone put it rather succinctly: "It's simply a case of too much money chasing too few stocks."

As far as supply is concerned, over the last 10 years we've seen a change. Corporate managements have been less inclined to get their money via the equity route. Sacrifice of ownership and inevitable dilution are two of the reasons. And, of course, in going the debt route—bond interest is tax deductible. In the last few years especially—the new issue markets have been heavily weighted in favor of bond offerings.

So we have a dramatic increase on the demand side and a decrease on the supply side. Result? Higher stock prices. Just like the results of any supply/demand imbalance.

In addition—there's one other factor which has contributed recently to higher stock prices: the substantial influx of foreign buying of U.S. securities. Especially from European investors. In recent weeks we've seen substantial buying from British trusts, Swiss banks, and both Dutch and German funds.

When I was in Britain last summer, I talked to several London bankers, as well as portfolio managers of the Scottish trusts in Edinburgh. Strangely enough, the Scots feel more constructive about the longer-term outlook for U.S. stock prices than many analysts in our own country.

Despite all the hue and cry from Europe some months ago about a "flight from the dollar," recent weakness in the French franc, plus last November's devaluation of sterling, has made many Europeans take a second look at investment opportunities in the United States.

Potential American investors are now concerned about timing. Should you commit funds now? In my view, waiting to invest—pending clarification of either economic or market uncertainties—is a chancy business. If, at any given moment, an investment situation looks attractive (in terms of your own individual objectives), I believe this is the basis for investment decisions. Obviously, timing is important. But waiting for a "consolidation" in the market, for clarification of international uncertainties, for the results of an election, all involve substantial risk. If a stock looks attractive, I would say now is the time to buy it!

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Whether the machine is a two-horse power lawnmower or a 20-foot combine, a good job of preparing it for winter storage will pay off in longer service and lower repair bills.

Parking the machine in a building is only a small part of good winter storage. You need to make sure it will not rust or deteriorate during storage.

No matter what kind of machine you store, there are at least three things you need to do to get it ready for storage. Clean it. Lubricate it. And eliminate any stress on parts.

The cleaning job means the removal of trash, dirt and dried grease. It can be done by washing the machine with kerosene or steam. After cleaning, the machine should be lubricated and run for a few minutes to distribute the lubrication. Chains and adjustment bolts should be coated with a rust preventive oil.

Take these steps for preparing an engine for winter storage. Clean the air cleaner and fill the oil cup to the proper level with new oil. Change the oil and filter; then idle the engine for a few minutes. Drain the engine block and radiator or add permanent anti-freeze to protect them. If the engine is drained, the radiator cap and drain plug should be left open to drain away moisture from condensation. Better tag the machine with a sign, "Don't use—Cooling system drained."

Drain the fuel system to prevent a buildup of gum and residue. Flush diesel tanks with a diesel flushing oil and white kerosene. All fuel tanks except LP gas should be left empty during storage. Remove the spark plugs and put two tablespoons of oil into each cylinder. Crank the motor several revolutions to coat the combustion chambers with oil. Clean and replace the plugs.

Seal the exhaust, air cleaner intake and crankcase breather to prevent the entrance of moisture, dust or other foreign matter. If the engine has a clutch, depress the pedal and fasten it to keep the clutch plate from sticking to the flywheel. Store the battery in a cool, dry place, where it will not freeze. Take the weight off tires and release the tension on belts.

Confidence and enthusiasm are the great sales producers.

The beauty of a fire in the fireplace during the upcoming Holiday Season can be made even more noteworthy with the addition of a little something special.

That something special is the preparation of materials for the fireplace which will give multi-colored flames. Chemical treatment of the material to be burned can result in green, red, blue, orange or purple flames instead of the usual yellow flames from wood.

Calcium chlorida can be used to produce orange colored flames, copper chlorida, blue; potassium chlorida, purple; strontium nitrate, red; lithium chlorida, carmine, and copper sulfate, emerald green. Dry pine cones, small chips or blocks of wood can be soaked in these chemicals for the multi-colored flames. Most of the chemicals can be purchased from chemical suppliers or drug stores.

To treat the cones or wood, a plastic pail and an onion sack are needed. The cones or chips are placed in the sack and immersed in a solution containing one pound of chemical dissolved thoroughly in one gallon of water. The bag must be weighted so that all of the material is completely covered and the cones and wood should soak for at least 10 minutes.

After soaking, place the treated material on newspapers to dry and then they are ready for brightening the holiday fireplace fire.

If wood is not easily available, newspapers can be rolled into "logs" which will burn with a rainbow of color. Simply tie the loosely rolled newspapers with heavy twine and soak them in a solution of four pounds of copper sulfate and three pounds of rock salt dissolved in a gallon of water. After allowing several days for these "logs" to dry, they may be burned just as wood.

Fortitude smiles at the person who can laugh at himself.

Every year livestock are killed by stockmen who misuse pesticides. It can easily happen unless you follow the instructions carried on the label of the pesticide container.

It will soon be time to spray livestock to control lice. Only recommended chemicals should be used. Through carelessness you can get into trouble by grabbing the wrong can of insecticide and either kill some animals or contaminate them with illegal pesticide residues.

Make doubly sure you don't use a pesticide on livestock which was recommended for controlling crop insects. The failure to read the container label can result in dead livestock and this can be very expensive.

The only way to make a come back is to go on.

Turkeys and broilers, fresh oranges, grapefruit, dried prunes, canned tomatoes and tomato products, onions and dry beans are on the December plentiful foods list compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Orange and grapefruit production is up 41 and 26% while tomato and beans are up 14%.

Wade Parks was a visitor in Eldorado on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. He was here to renew old acquaintances, since he worked on the ranch for Tom Henderson before World War I. He went to the Army from Eldorado in 1917. He now owns a ranch and lives at Centerville, Texas.

June Deaton visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Deaton over the holidays. She flew back to New Orleans Saturday where she is employed with the Jefferson Parish Times.

Among out-of-town relatives in attendance at funeral services for Mrs. Will L. Isaacs were: Mrs. R. L. Pearce, Mrs. Robert K. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Mitchell, Aubrey Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Finlay, Jr., all of Fife, Texas; Howard Finlay, San Antonio, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Bradley of Brady, Texas; and Mrs. J. H. Francks, of San Angelo, Texas.

PARADE

(Contributed In The Public Interest By The Success)

Austin, Texas.—When Preston Smith becomes governor on January 21, it will be to the tune of marching bands and at least five dance orchestras. Smith has revealed plans for a gala inauguration reminiscent of the 1950's.

A big Congress Avenue parade will follow his swearing-in at noon that day, and after a brief rest Governor and Mrs. Smith will lead off the dancing at a grand ball. They'll be honored with at least four other balls during the evening.

Last time the capital witnessed such a celebration was when Price Daniel took office in 1957. Then more than 20,000 well-wishers danced 'til dawn. But inaugurations have been rather sedate since then. Governor Smith said he'd reveal more details of his inauguration in a couple of weeks.

Smith Prepares For Office

Gov.-Elect Preston Smith says Harold K. Dudley will be his top assistant and that he will beef up the Texas governor's staff dealing with federal programs.

Dudley, 44, Smith's chief campaign organizer, was manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Smith said he "will have to have some additional" staff members to work with rapidly-expanding federal-state relations issues. He revealed that Wayne Gibbons of Breckenridge, who is Governor Connally's Washington liaison man, can stay on if he wants to (as can other middle-echelon Connally aides), but that the Washington office must be expanded to do an effective job.

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo may also be tapped for government duties in the new administration, Smith indicated — though probably not as secretary of state. He is considering "three or four" for that post.

Smith pledged to continue his "open door" policy as governor and to hold regular weekly news conferences.

Cocktail Clubs

Proposed new rules for drinking clubs were shelved in public hearing by 11 bistro operators who urged different categories of regulations for a wide variety of establishments catering to the cocktail trade.

Texas Liquor Control Board took the issue under advisement and will hand down its ruling at an early date. Meanwhile, its proposed requirement that payment for mixed drinks be made in cash and strict definition of club "guests" remains under court attack.

Witnesses at hearing in the state capitol made these principal suggestions:

—That rules be geared to types of operations in 1,335 clubs over the state (344 of which are in dry areas).

—That record-keeping requirements be kept as simple as possible.

—That they be punished only for "knowing" violations.

—There are obviously several kinds of private clubs, all trying to operate under one broad definition. Comprehensive regulations might include clear-cut definitions of the various kinds or classes of clubs. This would, of course, involve a classification system" testimony.

fied Royce Chaney of Dallas, representing the Texas Lone Star Chapter Club Managers Association of America.

Other club operators suggested separation on lines of non-profit and strictly-business clubs — or those which have relatively static membership and the rapid-turnover clubs such as those in motels and hotels.

"No matter what regulations are adopted," maintained the president of a large San Antonio club, "there will be confusion under present laws." He suggested liquor-by-the-drink legalization is the only answer. A new push for that (probably via constitutional amendment) is expected to be made in the next legislative session which starts next month.

Courts Speak

Federal judge here dismissed the suit by a Fort Hood nuclear weapon repairman to keep his commanding officer from transferring him to Fort Sill, Okla. Employee claimed his security clearance was being taken away without due process of law.

Court of Criminal Appeals applied retroactively a U. S. Supreme Court decision that indigents must have legal counsel in all stages of criminal proceedings, and granted a new trial to a San Antonio man sentenced 13 years ago to life imprisonment for robbery by assault.

State Supreme Court upheld an injunction against a Lubbock man for engaging in the nonauthorized practice of law.

Court of Civil Appeals here declined to enjoin Tarry House Inc. from operating as a private club in a Lake Austin residential area.

Canal System Proposal

Texans and their Legislature will be asked to give approval and support to the huge $10 billion Texas Water Plan through legislation and a vote in November of 1970.

Texas Water Development Board plans to reveal details of the plan this month. It is known that it will propose two huge canal systems to carry surplus water across North Texas to the Plains, and down the Gulf Coast to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Both canals will be federally-financed, if they prove feasible. But state money will be needed to help finance them and companion reservoirs which will be needed to meet the water needs of a Texas with 30-million people in the year 2020.

Board asked a legislative study committee to endorse a proposal to increase the present $400 million water development fund bond program to a figure in the range of $2 to $3.5 billion. It said it wanted advice from legislators on how much state financing, through loans, should be put into the program, before setting a precise figure. But it did suggest that the matter be submitted to the voters for approval or disapproval at the election in November, 1970.

It also asked that the Legislature make a number of policy decisions giving the board and other state agencies the authority, and the direction, to carry out jobs of pollution control, recreation and park development, water rights control, planning and contracting for the massive job which lies ahead.

If the water is to be where it is needed in the years ahead, to allow all parts of Texas to grow and prosper, detailed planning work must be begun in 1969, the board said. The Texas Water Plan will be the biggest public works job ever undertaken, nearly four times as large as the $2.5 billion California water project now under construction.

A legislative committee headed by Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake took the request under study. It will make its recommendation to the Legislature in January.

Attorney General Rules

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held House committee probing amusement vending machine operators' connection with taverns is legally constituted and can issue subpoenas for witnesses.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—Roman Catholic diocese property used for bishop's residence and containing a chapel may be exempt from property taxes.

—There are no statutory requirements for deputy constables or other deputies under the election code.

Constitutional Rewrite Done

Constitutional Revision Committee completed work and will report to Governor Connally on December 12. Under recent changes in the proposals, homestead exemption would be limited to $25,000 for those homes acquired after the new constitution is adopted.

Commission wants to allow use of general revenue funds for construction of college buildings.

It also came out for protection of personal property of heads of households and unmarried adults from forced sales.

Juveniles' Drug Use Causes Concern

House Committee on Juvenile Crime and Delinquency spent two of its recent public hearings listening to testimony about teenagers' use of drugs and marijuana. While the committee has been advised that this is not the main juvenile problem, you can bet it will make recommendations to the Legislature on the subject.

Jack Reville, chief of the Criminal Law Enforcement division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said the major problem is that the state has only 25 narcotics agents. "Eight of them are in training," says Reville, "and we need to double that to make a dent."

Jury Snubs Charges

Travis County grand jury found no legal basis for action in Republican party charges that employees of the State Agriculture Department were pressured for campaign contributions.

GOP spokesmen agreed that action now would be "untimely and precipitous" but said it will continue to investigate reports.

Grand jury called five witnesses, including a former state employee who gave the GOP a statement that he was squeezed for campaign contributions but got his money back through bogus expense accounts approved by his superiors.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said he was pleased that the jury had investigated the charges and found them "to be false."

World's Largest

Both UT's scope and its telescope were increased with a formal dedication at the McDonald Observatory near Fort Davis.

Built for the University with support by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the National Science Foundation, the third and largest of the University's huge telescopes atop Mount Locke has now been dedicated. More than 200 scientists, University officials and their guests witnessed the ceremonies.

According to Dr. Harry Ransom, UT System Chancellor, the new, 107-inch telescope is expected to play an important role in investigating the atmosphere of Mars and other planets for NASA. With a lens 100 times the size of the amateur cameraman's lens, the scope is housed in a 10-storey, steel and concrete domed structure high atop the 6,791-foot mountain.

Short Snorts

Kenneth W. Cook has been named acting assistant administrator of the Texas Liquor Control Board, and Rayford W. Walker, chief of staff services.

State Building Commission is considering a $4 million state building to house library records, mail services and a parking garage for state employees.

Speaker Ben Barnes and Governor Connally address a national conference of legislative leaders in Honolulu this week.

Application has been filed with the State Banking Commission for a Jeter State Bank charter at Westfield in Harris county.

State Securities Commissioner William M. King revoked the secondary trading exemptions of Industrial Instrument Corporation of Austin and American General Resources Corporation, Houston.

Sonora Elks Set Party

Sonora Elks Lodge No. 2336 will hold their annual Christmas party for all children on Thursday evening, Dec. 19, at 7:00 p.m. in the lodge hall in Sonora.

Those members who are sponsoring a child, or know of any underprivileged child, are asked to furnish a gift for them.

Santa Claus will put in an appearance and a good time is expected by all.

"The community is cordially invited to come and join in the Christmas spirit with us," the Elks Lodge members stated.

PAR-TEE

Due to the "Thanksgiving" rains, snow, etc. the golf course has been unplayable all this week. Morris Whitten and I have been wondering if it is possible to find a device that will dry out the fairways so that we can play again this week.

The Waldrons have been on vacation. It is good to have them back among the "flock"—we missed you.

Duplicate Bridge is scheduled for this Saturday night at 7:00 at the club house. Then next Saturday night is the covered dish supper. Let's all make our plans to attend both of these events.

I am sure that most people had company over the Thanksgiving holidays or else went to see the "kid". The Curtis Humphries went to Oklahoma and they report that the snows in northern Texas made driving rather slow and hazardous.

We had the Joe Hexts, Gary Hexts, Bryan Hexts from Pasadena and the Bill Lockeyes from Abilene visiting in our home over the holidays. Joe, Bryan and Bill all got nice bucks, but Gary did not hunt. We ate Thanksgiving dinner at the hunting camp with Ben Hext doing the cooking. I tell you that Ben sure makes a "wicked" biscuit!

We talked with Judy and Butch Thanksgiving night and it seems that Texas is getting more snow than Minnesota. Up to that time it had snowed one time—about two inches in Rochester.

Ippiness is having a friend who can keep a secret.

Methodist Notes

The Rev. D. G. Salter, pastor of the First United Methodist Church here, is in San Antonio this week attending special called sessions of the Conference. Dick Preston is lay delegate.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service held their Christmas party and gift exchange Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Steen.

This coming Sunday morning Ed Meador will have charge of arrangements for the service and a speaker from the Gideon Bible Society will give the message.

The Sunday School Christmas party will be held the night of Dec. 15th. Also, the White Gift altar service will be held then at which contributions are made to the Methodist Home at Waco, and the Mission Home and Training School in San Antonio.

Ray Ballew returned recently to Eldorado for visits with relatives after completing Naval Officer's Candidate School in Newport, Rhode Island. Ensign Ballew will report to Coronado, California, on December 12. He will return to Eldorado on the 20th for Christmas and New Year's holidays, and then report back to Coronado for further training.

Floyd McGinness and family of Crosbyton visited relatives here over the recent holiday week end.
