Utilities Pose Top Question For Firms Seeking Homes

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of articles based on information taken from the Industrial Facts Book, compiled for Pampa by the Texas A&M University engineering staff.)

By GLENN McCASLAND
Many people never think of utilities and communication systems as important to the growth of a community.

However, they are most important because industries must know just what type of utilities and communications are available in a community before they will move into that city.

The fact that the electric power for Pampa is generated and distributed by Southwestern Public Service Company with a generating capacity of 1,038,000 kilowatts means little to the guy paying the family bill.

It means a lot to a large manufacturing firm that needs heavy loads of power to operate properly. It could be the determining factor in just where the plant is built.

These businesses spend time and money looking into such matters and the availability of information on Pampa from material presented by the Facts Books shortens their work and could provide quicker decisions as to locations.

The electric power in Pampa is most important. Two interchange substations located in the area are rated at 115,000-69,000 volt, 39,500 kw. Five-distribution substations in the city are rated as 52,700 kw stations.

Distribution of the electric power is made through transmission lines of 69,000 and 115,000 volts. The city is on a looped system, providing a flexible source of electric energy if needed.

There were 9,385 customers as of August 1963 with 8,025 of them in residential areas, 1,150 in commercial areas and 202 in industrial areas with eight municipal customers.

Southwestern Public Service makes a complete rate chart available upon request, thus enabling anyone to check costs of electricity.

Electrical service is extended to the premises of industrial customers without charge to the customer if the construction cost involved is justified by the annual revenue from the electrical load.

Natural gas is produced and distributed by Pioneer Natural Gas Company. Transmission to the city is made through one six-inch and one eight-inch line from the south and one four-inch and a six-inch line from the west. The BTU content is kept above 1000. Average specific gravity of the gas is .60 and the normal main street pressure is 7 oz. on the low pressure mains.

In 1962, the Pampa office was providing service to a total of 8,328 customers. This consisted of 7,415 residential, 861 commercial, 13 industrial and 39 public authority customers.

Water is provided by the City of Pampa from 18 eight-inch wells. Six are located inside the city limits and 12 outside. The wells vary in depth from 400 feet to 525 feet. The water is pumped to the treatment plant through one 16-inch and one 30-inch line. Three pumping stations have a capacity of 18 million gallons per day. Maximum raw water delivery capacity is 11 million gallons daily.

Present average daily water consumption is 2.5 million gallons per day with the peak consumption per day at 8.2 million gallons. From January 1962 until January 1963, a total of 1,074,485,950 gallons were pumped from the wells.

Pampa is one of 11 member cities of the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. The multi-purpose Canadian River Dam Project, now being constructed on the Canadian River near Sanford, will provide additional municipal and industrial water for Pampa. It will also feature recreational facilities and will serve a conservation purpose.

The reservoir created by the dam will contain a capacity of 2,441,500 acre feet of water. An aqueduct of reinforced concrete will stretch 322 miles of pipeline from the dam to the most distant point of distribution. The pipeline will vary in size from 96 to 15 inches.

The dam is scheduled to be completed about August of 1965.

Pampa has a ground storage capacity of 4.86 million gallons and an elevated storage of 1.4 million gallons of water. Treatment consists of chlorination. The city will extend water lines without charge a distance of 100 feet per tap. Outside the city limits all cost must be paid by the developer.

The city provides for the disposal of garbage and trash twice a week for resident dwellings and two or more times weekly for commercial customers, using 11 trucks for this operation.

The city owned and operated sewage system serves all areas of the city with the Imhoff Tank System, a digester and clarification processes used in the treatment of the waste. The present system has 24,600 connections and will be expanded to 35,000 connections. The city has ordinances prohibiting the use of the system for the disposal of grease, acid or packing house waste.

Telephone service is provided by Southwestern Bell with 13,545 dial service connections in the city as of December 1962.

The city has a class D telephone office which operates from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. Monday until Saturday with the telephone company taking over until 8 a.m. the next day and 24-hours on Sunday.

Individual teletype service is available and the Santa Fe Railway office also provides 24-hour teletype service.

The United States Post Office operates a first class postoffice in the city with house-to-house delivery available.

The post receipts from Pampa's office in 1962 was $255,231, according to figures from the regional office in Dallas.

4 Pampa Students To Receive Honors

A total of 44 Pampa High School students have been named as initiates for the National Honor Society chapter plans for their induction in NHS are being completed by the Nooncater, sponsor. The 23 seniors and 21 juniors will be initiated at a school assembly which Nooncater is sponsoring with Principal Camom Marsh. Date and time will be announced later this week. Seniors eligible for the NHS are Derrell Cash, Ann Christie, Collet, Janna Conner, Mark Madduck, Terry Edmondson, m Eller, Cynthia Erwin, Fran Green, Drew Harvey, Hank Harty, Dianne Hepler, Mary Martin, Helen Moffitt, Carol Peoples, Kathy Smith, Mark Higgins, Dana Taylor, Sandy Imson, Elizabeth Trotter, Jennifer Turner, Russell Veale and David White. Junior candidates for the honor society include 21 students.

Science Fair Planned At Pampa High School

One of the biggest events of the current school year will be the school next week when Pampa High School plays host to the annual Science Fair at the girls' gym. Mrs. Elaine Ledbetter said a total of 413 students would present projects, but she was having a problem. "We've got so many projects entered, we haven't the room to put them in the gym," she said. At least 50 projects will be left out if the number of students continues to grow. The fair opens March 5 and will continue through March 7. All 40 students from PHS entering exhibits in the fair. Mrs. Ledbetter said 91 projects have been entered from primary grades 1-3 and 192 from intermediate grades 4-6. Junior high students have entered 91 projects in the fair. "We won't be able to take all the first place winners to the Amarillo fair," Mrs. Ledbetter declared, "but the show should be a tremendous success." Mrs. Ledbetter also said because of late visitors no project could be allowed to be removed from the gym until 4 p.m. Saturday, March 7. "We want as many people as possible to visit the exhibits and sometimes they can't make it on Saturday, so we want to have the fair intact for these newcomers," she explained. The fair will include a wide variety of divisions, for example a botany division, chemistry and biochemistry, medicine and health, earth and space and physics. Mrs. Ledbetter said some of the exhibits include themes like "Algae and Antibiotics" by Avril

They are Jim Arthur, Brenda Lou Barte, Sam Bryan, Linda Cox, Dean Evans, Keith Griffith, George Henderson, Larry Hollis, Carl Johnson, Pam Lude-man, Cynthia Plaster, Paula Sealey, Marion Neslage, Phil Smith, Charlie Snuggs, Kyle Vann, Larry Veale, Skip Warren, Terrie Watson and Sam Williams. To be eligible for NHS, students must be a senior or a junior and must have a grade average of 85 or above for all high school years through mid-term this year. Each year 15 per cent of the senior class and 5 per cent of the junior class are elected by teachers through secret balloting. Students are judged on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character and service. Last year's 22 seniors and 16 juniors were initiated at spring ceremonies on March 13, 1963.

munities. Dispatchers said they received a number of calls about the failure, but no emergency arose during the period. Bill Robinson, administrator for Highland General Hospital, said the power failure was hardly noticed because the hospital's auxiliary unit automatically cut in when the general service went out. The unit is a gasoline-powered generator which supplies the same current as Southwestern Public Service. This unit, Robinson said, serves the surgery and delivery rooms, one elevator and the emergency room. "When I saw the lights fall, I called surgery where I knew an operation was being performed. I asked was there any trouble there and was told 'I guess not, the lights are on,'" Robinson said.

Gordon Lyons, manager of the Public Service office in Pampa, said he had been unable to contact Amarillo about the failure due to "number of calls we have received here, keeping lines tied up." Lyons said, however, he had learned by radio that the Nichols Plant had failed, thus causing the trouble in this area. Sheriff's officers in Wheeler reported that city was without lights and radio contact with the rest of the area for 15 minutes. Panhandle sheriff's deputies said the power there was off 10 minutes, came on and then blew out again, returning to normal about five minutes later. Groom was also without lights for some 10 to 15 minutes, officers reported.

School officials in White Deer said power failed in that community for 25 minutes and forced changing of classes there by walking through the hallways asking students to go to their next hour. The rest of White Deer was without power during the same period. McLean reported failure of power there for 10 minutes while Lefors was dark for 25 minutes. Lights flickered a little at Canadian, but did not go out. There was no report from Miami.

Public Service officials said power failed in Canyon, Hereford and as far north as Guyton, Okla., but no times were available from these communities.

Vickers, 27, a physical education major at Cal Poly, is the son of Edwin S. Vickers, 608 Buckler.

Youth Injured In Car Mishap

A 16-year-old Pampa resident was injured about 10 p.m. Saturday in a two-car collision in the 100 block of W. Francis. Police Chief Jim Conner said Darrell Luster of 1033 S. Banks was a passenger in a car driven by Coyt Randal Johnston, 17, of 522 S. Gillespie at the time. Johnston's automobile struck the rear of a car driven by John Gregory Locke, 16, of 1101 Charles.

Young Luster was not seriously injured, according to investigating officers, but would be listed as the city's 19th injury of the year in auto accidents.

MARRIAGE IS HAZARDOUS
CHRISTCHURCH, England (UPI)—The Rev. Leslie Yorke, vicar of Christchurch, told the congregation at Priory Church here Sunday that marriage was as hazardous as driving a car through London.

Pampa Students Take Honors

Miss Cynthia Ann Rasco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Rasco, and Miss Susan Jean Patrick, daughter of Mrs. Peggy Patrick both of Pampa, were sweepstakes winners Saturday in the 12th annual piano competition festival of West Texas State University at Canyon.

CYNTHIA ANN RASCO

Miss Rasco and Miss Patrick received superior ratings in the piano solo division and also superior rating in the sight reading competition. Both students are piano pupils of Tracy D. Cary, and will receive medals and certificates for each category in which they played and in addition will receive from the university a special medal for placing superior in every event they entered.

Miss Rasco is a 10th grade choir accompanist at Pampa Senior High School, and Miss Patrick is 9th grade choir accompanist at Pampa Junior High School and is organist for the Church of the Brethren. Both are previous winners of National ratings in the auditions of the National Guild of Piano Teachers and have been participants in the Amarillo Symphony

Young Artist Competition. Judges for the festival were Paul Peek, Odessa College; Ron Rathbun, Abilene Christian College; and Earl Miller of Wayland College at Plainview.

New Books on Shelves At Public Library

FICTION
A Singular Man — by J. P. Donleavy: here is a story about George Smith, a successful financier, who lives in an apartment building called Merry Mansions. He makes the headlines when it is discovered that he is erecting an elaborate air-conditioned tomb for himself.

Besieger of Cities — by Alfred Duggan: Demetrius, named "Besieger of Cities", was the first man to be worshipped as a god during his lifetime by the people of Athens. In this panorama of political maneuverings and warfare, the author reveals all sides of a man whose career was at the center of a turbulent period of world history.

Prince Ishmael — by Mari- anne Hauser; a historical novel based on the legend of Casper Hauser, a strong young man who mysteriously appeared at the gates of Nuremberg in the early part of the 19th century and almost as mysteriously died five years after his appearance.

Darkwater — by Dorothy Eden; the author has so expertly maintained her atmosphere of foreboding and suspense in this Gothic romance that all are under suspicion until the final page is turned.

NON-FICTION
The Galvanized Yankee — by D. Alexander Brown; this is the story of the Galvanized Yankees who were soldiers of the Confederate States of America who were recruited from Union prison camps to fight the Indians in the West. Here is their tale from September 1864 to November 1866.

Banditti of the Prairies — by Edward Bonney; this is the autobiography of a bounty-hunter, a self-appointed agent of justice who helped round up the Danite band and the slayers of John Miller and Colonel George Davenport.

Royal Raiders — by North Callahan; a summary of the Tory action during the American Revolution which presents it as a movement of colonists against the British, and Americans, with Tory sympathies, against their neighbors.

Highway to the Wilderness — by Walter Bacon; an absorbing account of an escape from the tensions of modern life to the land of the Lapps, 180 miles beyond the Arctic Circle, where the author, his Finnish wife and their daughter spent three fascinating years. Illustrated with photographs.

Merchants OK Foundation

Merchants Activities Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce today endorsed plans for the Pampa Industrial Foundation campaign.

The endorsement came on a motion by Mrs. Ocie Steward of the Gift Box and Mrs. Mable Ford after the committee, along with some 40 other city businessmen, heard campaign director Fred Neslage explain its purposes.

Neslage spoke to the committee at the hospitality room of the Citizens Bank and Trust at 9:30 a.m.

He outlined the plans for the foundation and told of successes of a number of Texas cities in obtaining industries through a similar program.

The meeting of the committee was called Saturday by chairman Duggan Smith. No requests for funds was made at the meeting.

HUNTER OUTFOXED

CASTRO DAIRE, Portugal (UPI)—Wolves had become so bold and destructive in this area during the recent cold wave that 200 armed hunters decided to wipe them out. The hunt was admirably organized but it was not much of a success. All the hunters could bag collectively was one fox.

DEFIANT CLERK

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The defiance of a lady liquor store clerk apparently was too much for a gunman who tried to hold her up Saturday night. The clerk, Mrs. Rose Alexander, backed away from the cash register and refused to open it despite the bandit's demands. The would-be robber took his pistol and fled down an alley.

French Chanteurs Delight Community Concert Goers

Pampa was host Saturday night to the Varel and Bailly Chanteurs de Paris. The group was presented by the local Community Concert Association to a near capacity audience in the Junior High School auditorium. Comprised of eight male singers with Bailly as director and accompanist (Varel acts as business manager and remains in Paris) the group is on its second tour of the U.S. and has distinguished itself with appearances on the Garry Moore and Ed Sullivan shows.

The program with the exception of one or two songs was entirely in French. Bailly pronounced Bay-yeel emceed in delightful but often enigmatic English, for example: "Eet you go to Montmartre you weel see zee 'pan-tair', zee 'Pica - zoo' of tomorrow." With Bailly thumping out bouncy rhythms on the piano, the talented young men presented a repertoire of French folk songs, French and American popular songs and original compositions of Varel and Bailly. Bounding onto and off the stage and using a variety of antics, they added gaiety to their program and made each song a French vignette.

Of the French songs "La Seine - La Mer," which was very popular in the U.S. a few years ago, was most familiar. The American songs were: "On the Street Where You Live," "I Could Have Danced All Night,"

Liston Predicts 3rd Round Ko

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston had so little regard for challenger Cassius Clay today they rested for Tuesday night's title fight that he not only predicted a three-round knockout over Cassius but added: "There is no possibility of my losing."

That's a rare statement, indeed, for any fighter to make—perhaps an unprecedented one before an encounter in which head-butts, an elbow slash, or an ankle kick might cause a technical knockout defeat.

Liston, 30, apparently has respect for unbeaten Clay, but even the sports writers have for gaseous Cassius. Three writers picked the "Louisville Lip" to wrest the crown from Liston—among 45 polled. And one of the three forecast Clay's 20th straight professional victory on a knockout within 13 rounds.

Although Clay is doing only awkward in the mornings and making no public appearances, he still says he'll knock out Liston in the eighth round.

Fans of the Miami area certainly do not share Clay's confidence. They are avoiding the box-office windows in restaurants. And millionaire Bill McDonald, backer of the "live" fight at the Miami Beach Convention Hall, admits he'll probably take a financial bath to the tune of about $300,000.

MacDonald, a retired auto-trailer manufacturer, paid $625,000 to Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., for the live show. He must draw about $850,000 to cover the purchase price and his expenses.

However, Nathan L. Helpen reported today that the "momentum is picking up" at the 271 locations for closed-circuit television in the United States and Canada and there still is a chance that nearly all of the 1,103,451 seats in those locations will be sold — a long chance.

A sellout would provide closed-circuit receipts of about $5,100,000, Helpen said. Helpen is president of Theatre Network Television, Inc. (TNT).

SWC Roundup

The United Press International Texas Aggies can end a year Southwest Conference straight championship drought this week, but chances are a brighter that they will only win a title tie.

The Aggies, who last won an undisputed crown in 1923 and shared one in 1951, can be sure of no worse than a tie by winning both outings this week.

It won't be an easy assignment, for two of the loop's fastest, both shooting clubs visit Agland—chief challenger Texas Tech Tuesday night and Southern Methodist Friday night.

Have One Game Lead

Going into the final 10 days of the race, the Aggies boast a one-game edge with their 9-1 record over Tech's 8-2 and five games over SMU and Rice (6-4). Texas and Arkansas share fifth spot at 5-5 and are only remote mathematical possibilities.

The Aggies can clinch the tie by beating Tech and SMU and take it all by doing the same if Tech should stumble over Arkansas in a Saturday television game at Fayetteville.

Three of the Aggies' final four games are in the very friendly confines of their own little White Coliseum. After Tech and SMU contests are over, they go to Fort Worth March 3 and return home March 5 to wind it up against Texas.

Tech Looks for Sweep

Tech's hopes lie in sweeping its remaining games, including a game at Lubbock March 3 and Baylor at Waco March 5, while MU, Texas or TCU upset the Aggies.

The Aggies would have to see three of their remaining four games to win the title. Baylor visits TCU and goes to Texas tomorrow night, while on Saturday TCU at Rice in an afternoon TV game and Texas visits Baylor night.

The final four games also will be highlighted by the scoring battle between Rice's Kendall Rhine, the full season leader, and A&M's Bennie Lennox, who sets the pace in league play.

Rhine is averaging 23.8 to 21.3 points per game for Lenox for 20 games, but in the 10-game title race Lenox is leading 22.8 to 22.1 per game.

The two tied with 352 points (a 25.1 average) in league play last year, but Lenox edged Rhine 568 points (23.7) to 537 (22.3) over the full schedule. Lenox will have to wipe out a 50-point margin in four games to catch Rhine for the year.

The Ol' Swami Predicts

By JEFF COHANE

THE OL' SWAMI comes out of winter hibernation to peer drowsily at the cracked crystal ball and see what it has to say about the performance of the many art of self defense which will be shown to a handful of fans via closed-circuit TV tomorrow night.

We refer of course, to the bout labelled for the heavyweight championship of the world... between a semi-literate ex-convict and an alleged member of the Black Muslim chowder and debating society.

These two upright specimens of the physical best in mankind are to meet in a contest called by the Encyclopedia of Sports: "for the physical benefits derived from the exercises pursued in developing his skills" ... oh, brother!

ENOUGH OF the description, what does the crystal have to say concerning the outcome? Coming in loud and clear is the prediction "Liston by a knockout." The round? ... the crystal is a little more ambiguous on that, it merely says "whenever Liston can catch him."

It really doesn't take a crystal ball to decide that. On paper, the match stands even more one-sided than Floyd Patterson vs. Pete Rademacher... in reality, it should be just as short as the Liston-Patterson fights.

Liston, despite his faults, is a champion, and rightfully so. Although there really aren't many of the best to prove it on, what there is around of good fighters he has disposed of quickly and impressively... Clay, the unbearably loud-mouthed, over-dressed buffoon, has carefully been fed a diet of setups and stiffis who would would fall down and go boom right on schedule according to the Louisville Lip's garish imitation of poetry. If "the big ugly bear should fall in eight," it would be the biggest fake in this fake sport ever seen... and that takes in quite a bit of territory.

To close it out, we will take off on Cassius Marcellus Clay, Esq. with a little rhyme of our own: "Sonny Liston's gonna have some fun... Cassius Clay goes in one!"

THE CRYSTAL BALL also predicts there will be quite a few changes in the area coaching situation by next fall. Jack James of Clarendon has definitely called it quits and retired from the profession (which we consider a waste of fine talent) and his job is up for grabs, with an area coach mentioned among the prospects. F. G. Crofford, the sage of girls basketball at Claude, has stated his intentions of moving on. At least five other coaches have told us in confidence that they are considering moving for various reasons, chief of which, of course, are advancement and higher salaries. We hate to see good friends go, but a man has to do the best he can.

THE PANHANDLE literally dominated the nominations for All-State in Class B with 12 boys from here listed among the candidates. Also surprising is the number of sophomores and juniors on the nominating list. Among area nominees are three McAdoo and two Quittake cagers, Lonnie Richardson of Allison, Randy Sherrard of Channing, Ray Guerrero of Miami, Jerry Roberts of Groom, Dale Morris of Quail, Alvin Alexander of Hedley and Tommy Hays of Briscoe.

Since most of the sportswriters will get their impressions from how far the team goes, best bets will be either the McAdoo or Quittake boys. Quail, Channing and Allison won their districts, but if they get past bi-district, will have to run into the two powerhouses in the opening round of the regional tournament at Canyon this weekend.

Borger Defeats Pampans In Hobbs Tourney Finals

HOBBS, N.M. (Spl) — A red-hot second half following an ice-cold first half failed to overcome Bullpup superiority at the free throw line as Borger defeated Pampa for the championship of the Hobbs JV Basketball Tournament Saturday night, 47-35.

The Green 'n' Gold had made their way to the finals by opening with a 64-63 squeaker over Hobbs B, then downing Roswell, 57-53, in the semifinals. Borger went to the finals with an opening 61-56 win over Lovington and a 69-63 win over Hobbs JV. Other first round scores had Hobbs beating Carlsbad, 66-49, and Roswell beating Andrews, 80-61. In consolation play, Andrews eliminated Hobbs B, 76-66 while Lovington crushed Carlsbad, 101-69. Roswell beat Hobbs JV, 82-69 for third place. Andrews beat Lovington, 61-58 for consolation honors and Hobbs B racked Carlsbad, 101-62 for seventh place.

The Shockers opened the tourney by handing Hobbs their third loss of the season in a hot-shooting contest. Pampa opened a lead, only to see Hobbs come back and tie it at 16-all at the quarter. With Harny Harnsberger and Roper Roper dominating the rebounds while Bob Howard aided them in the shooting, Pampa pulled into a 36-31 halftime lead and stretched it to 52-44 at the three-quarter mark.

Hobbs rallied and Pampa went into a stall with three minutes to go and a give-point lead. Hobbs tied up the ball and cut the lead to three then rebounded a free throw attempt and scored a basket at the buzzer. Pampa hit 60 percent from the floor on 28 of 47 field goal attempts, Hobbs 55 percent on 27 of 49. Hobbs was more accurate at the free throw line with seven of 10, but Pampa hit more of the charities, 10 of 24 for the decision. Harnsberger had 10 board grabs and Roper nine as the Shockers out-rebounded, 36-28. Roper canned 25 points, Howard 14, Harnsberger 11, Mike Murphy led the full-court pressing hosts with 19.

Pampa then pulled out a rugged decision over tall and hitherto-undefeated Roswell. Full-court pressing Roswell pulled into a 20-14 quarter lead as 6'9" Bill Barber dominated the rebounds, with Roper picking up four fouls against him in the first quarter. David "Sugar" Cain and Mac McWilliams came in for Roper and dragged down key rebounds against the big boy as the Sugarman hit five points and Lanny Lewis and

Finley Gives In, Signs KC Lease

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Charles O. Finley, embattled owner of the Kansas City Athletics, jumped from the clutches of the American League back into the collective lap of the city council today.

The unpredictable owner pulled the unexpected again Sunday night by accepting the city's demand for a four-year lease on Municipal Stadium, a lease he repeatedly had vowed never to sign.

But the city was in no hurry to put its signature on the dotted line. Finley, who has threatened to sue the American League, made it clear he was accepting the lease in the face of a league threat to kick him out of baseball.

Mayor Ilus W. Davis, to whom Finley addressed his telegram of acquiescence, said he was happy that the owner had accepted the city's proposal.

But the mayor and other city officials declined further comment until after a meeting today of the city council's baseball committee. Davis said he also would confer with Joseph Cronin, president of the American League, to determine the league's reaction to Finley's latest move. Cronin received a copy of Finley's telegram.

The baseball committee meeting was scheduled to begin at 11 a.m. EST.

Finley's announcement of acceptance Sunday night followed by two days the American League meeting in Boston at which the other club owners agreed that the city had negotiated fairly with Finley on a lease. The league then voted to take steps within 10 days to expel Finley and take away his franchise because the owner had disregarded its directive to sign a lease here by Feb. 15.

Oswald A Leftist

One of the most peculiar reactions growing out of the assassination of our late president has been, as we have commented before, the continuing attempt to somehow link the sordid act to American conservatives.

The intellectual left has never before given much evidence of integrity when it has found itself cornered and we only have to harken back to the days of the Hiss-Chambers case to recall when they stood nakedly exposed.

Once again this group is trying to disassociate itself from an embarrassing circumstance, endeavoring to foist the delusion that there is some sort of invisible umbilical cord between the madman, Oswald, and conservatives.

A refreshing breeze in this regard was felt in a recent column by Victor Lasky and we would like to reproduce it in its entirety, if for no other reason than to give praise to Dwight MacDonald for his candid comments on the situation:

"Dwight MacDonald, one of the more honest of the left-wing journalists, has chastised fellow-intellectuals for attempting to pin the assassination of President Kennedy on the lunatic right."

"Oswald is our baby, not theirs," says MacDonald.

"As a result, MacDonald will undoubtedly suffer the slings and arrows of certain know-it-alls who cannot bring themselves to believe that someone of the 'progressive' faith might have brutally murdered Mr. Kennedy on the streets of Dallas."

"Naturally, to their way of thinking, the foul deed had to have been perpetrated by an evil rightist."

"The left wing is not of one mind about Lee Harvey Oswald, however. The pro-Castro weekly National Guardian, for example, is arguing that the accused assassin was apparently the victim of a rightist - engineered frame-up. Of course, this argument presupposes that the FBI and the Secret Service are involved in a monstrous plot to cover up for the real assassins."

"On the other hand the Communist party Worker acknowledges that Oswald may have been the killer, but the Khrushchev organ vehemently denies Oswald's connections with the left. In fact, the Worker has suggested that Oswald was, in reality, a right-wing agent in the employ of the FBI and the CIA."

"Meanwhile, the Warren Commission has decided to probe the activities of a so-called right wing group recently accused of having threatened the lives of 20 congressmen who had voted against appropriations for the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Counsel J. Lee Rankin said the Commission would explore any relationship between the Minutemen, a para-military group, and the events of last November 22."

"But the FBI report on Oswald, now in the hands of the Warren Commission, in effect fully exonerates the so-called right wing from any involvement in the President's assassination. In fact, the FBI report fully explores Oswald's direct links with leftist - liberal groups such as the Fair Play for Cuba Committee - and the American Civil Liberties Union."

"The FBI report also makes it clear that, in all probability, the assassination was not the product of a conspiracy, but rather the end product of a tortured, psychopathic mind. Oswald's psychiatric history, ranging from the streets on the Bronx through service in the Marine Corps and defection to the Soviet Union, is thoroughly explored."

"Dwight MacDonald's remark came as a result of a column by 'TRB' (actually Richard L. Strout of the Christian Science Monitor) in the New Republic. Strout, alias 'TRB' concluded an item on the broadcasting network of the so-called right as follows: 'They are the kind of programs... that the brooding Oswalds of the left or right wing listen to and sometimes act on.'"

"MacDonald, one of our liveliest intellectual journalists, took umbrage. In a letter to the New Republic, MacDonald observed that 'the awkward thing for liberals about Oswald was that he was a crackpot leftist - it now appears he did take an unsuccessful shot at General Walker.' And MacDonald concluded:

"There may be 'brooding Oswalds' of the right, but so far they have not taken action, which, as an old-fashioned believer in the Bill of Rights, I think is the important thing. The only Oswald we have had was on the left, and I think there's enough to criticize in the broadcasting activities of Messrs. Hunt, Hargis, et al., without smearing them with Oswald's connections with the left. In fact, the Worker has suggested that Oswald was, in reality, a right-wing agent in the employ of the FBI and the CIA."

"Meanwhile, the Warren Commission has decided to probe the activities of a so-called right wing group recently accused of having threatened the

What Do Easter Seals Do?

This week and the next, more than a million Texas homes will be receiving their 1964 Easter Seals in the mail. Many of these people when they open their Easter Seals will no doubt ask, as well they should, "What do Easter Seals do? The Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults and its 90 local county Easter Seal affiliates want people to ask because they are proud to tell.

All right, just what do Easter Seals do? Well, they do a lot of things, but they all add up to one word - rehabilitation - preparing crippled children and handicapped adults for active, useful lives. This means months, often years of treatment so that a child can go to school or a man or woman can hold down a job.

The Texas Society and its local affiliates have nearly 30 treatment centers all over the state where handicapped people are being rehabilitated - but more are needed and the programs in the existing centers should be expanded to meet this ever-growing need.

It's a wonderful thing to see a crippled child walk for the first time. It's a kind of miracle - and although it doesn't happen overnight, it does happen at Easter Seal Centers all the time.

Controversy Looming in Poverty War

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The administration's "war on poverty" is about to enter the staging phase — in Congress. Some problems it may encounter later in actual combat could be enlargements of those accompanying the government's present assault on youth crime and delinquency.

One matter, in fact, is a principal root factor in the now largely concluded turbulent, behind-the-scenes debate among administration men over how to mount the poverty war.

The controversy centers on how to make the federal influence and financial muscle felt in the pinpointed poverty areas without in any way hampering much-desired local initiative and effort.

Says a government official: "The problem is how to embrace without crushing."

The president's committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime recognized this difficulty as soon as it began preparing its special attack more than two years ago.

A number of major cities rushed in quickly to bid for sizable federal money grants for "demonstration programs" in youth trouble zones.

But this committee is a favored project of Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy. In a key working command post he had David Hackett, a tough-minded sidekick. There were no quick grants.

Instead, the committee parceled out planning funds, calling on recipient communities to get up comprehensive assault programs that would involve a wide range of government and private agencies and promise to hammer at underlying causes — bad schools, bad housing, lack of jobs, family difficulties.

Eight of 16 cities which got "study money" now have gained demonstration grants.

The goal was to put the major burden of organizing, executing and financing the programs on the communities themselves. Indeed, the objective really was more special than that. The committee wanted the bootstrap effort to come from the particular trouble zones within the cities.

"We felt," says one committee aide, "that if we didn't spur these people at the neighborhood level to organize among themselves, then no amount of money poured in would ultimately do any good."

Ideally, this two-stage technique, enlisting first the broad community approach and then the neighborhood initiative, would seem a vital tactic in the war on poverty. The targets of that attack generally will be the same causes which underlie youthful misbehavior.

Getting the folk in the trouble zones into the picture can produce a special rash of problems, as the President's committee has found.

In Philadelphia, city-wide organizers forgot to include an important affected neighborhood sector. In Chicago, a fight has raged around the degree of control over programs to be exercised by city and neighborhood authorities.

On New York's Lower East Side, complaining neighborhood minorities have run smack into school officials disturbed at the challenge to their established authority. Washington had a similar clash involving school officials.

A major Harlem project, however, is another story. Cohesive neighborhood leadership exists, and agreement is complete that the school-housing-job situation demands a total rebuilding.

Committee people think that where conflict develops it is usually healthy, reflecting the abrasive but necessary force of change. It could be read, nevertheless, as a sharp signal of the troubles the poverty fighters may face when that big battle is joined.

Reds Offer Latin America Deal on Factories, But U.S. Would Pay Part, Soviets Get Control

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Soviet bloc nations are exploring the possibility of setting up joint factories in Latin America which would be financed in part with funds from the Alliance for Progress program.

The backstage ventures, merging Communist, Latin American and U.S. funds, are being proposed by Russian, Czechoslovakian and Polish diplomats to the governments of Brazil, Chile, Peru and Bolivia.

According to the most recent U.S. intelligence estimate on Soviet penetration in Latin America, the Communists are offering to launch this economic integration plan by sending technicians to construct mass - production and assembly plants to turn out Russian-designed cars, trucks and tractors.

The Red diplomats stress that 50 per cent of the cost would be put up by the Soviet bloc nations, with the Latin governments furnishing the other half — most of which they could obtain through loans and grants from the U.S.

The plants would be operated jointly except in cases where the Communists put up more than 50 per cent of the cost. Profits are to be split according to the percentage of investment.

As a ground-breaker, Czechoslovakia is negotiating with the government of President Joao Goulart to establish a large automobile plant in Brazil to enter competition with U.S. models.

These secret negotiations, including the method to be used to obtain Alliance for Progress funds, are being handled by one of Goulart's advisers who is a Czechoslovakian national and known Communist.

OPENING WEDGE — A joint announcement of this trail-blazing Red economic deal is expected to be made by the Brazilian and Czechoslovak governments when the United Nations World Trade & Development conference opens in Geneva in mid-March.

At this Soviet - engineered meeting, the Czechoslovakian government plans to negotiate similar agreements with other Latin American Trade Association countries for a share of the car and truck market.

Until recently, Communist economic penetration efforts have been directed primarily at increased trade with Latin America rather than control of the means of production in these countries.

The new approach gives the Kremlin the opening its 30,000 espionage agents in Latin America need to finance the take-over and control of basic industries there.

So far, the Johnson administration has not reacted to this new Soviet initiative because of Secretary of State Rusk's recommendation that there be no U.S. counter-action until the Kremlin's objectives are clear and there is more "hard in-

Editor: My cousin Jubilate Subterfuge had an altogether exuberant personality and was considered by many to be a genuine smart aleck. The citizens of Spatanga looked on him with a mixture of awe, admiration and some ill will. When ever a brawl took place, or some foul deed was committed the sandhill people were generally inclined to blame cousin Jubilate.

Although he possessed a brilliant mind, it was also a mind that had been used very little for constructive purposes, and at an unseemly age, he still attended the math classes of professor Irlsone Droner who was a dedicated though some - what tiresome type of teacher. Cousin Jubilate delighted in making Professor Droner's life miserable, so much so, that one might wonder if that were not his sole purpose in attending the classes.

On a particularly warm day Professor Droner's words slowly floated over his captive audience and worried Jubilate's ears. "Figures can't lie," said the professor. "For instance, if one man can build a house in 12 days, 12 men can build it in one." At this point Jubilate interrupted. "Then 288 will build it in one hour, 17,280 in one minute, and 1,036,800 in one second."

Before Professor Droner could sputter out a word, Jubilate continued: "If one ship can cross the Atlantic in six days, six ships can cross it in one day. Now, I don't believe in either one of those theories so where is the truth in arithmetic?"

Needless to say, Jubilate was expelled from school. Now anyone with an ounce of gray matter in their cranium understands that Jubilate's summation was somewhat unfair, but I wonder if he didn't put his finger on a dreadful sickness of our age, that of trying to cure all ills with numbers, specifically so rect consequence of the long-raging case of Otto Otepa — the veteran security official suspended for giving information to Senate investigators. It has been revealed that in an effort to get evidence against Otepa State Department officials tapped his phone and closely scrutinized the contents of his wastebasket.

This disclosure apparently has sent a tremor of fear throughout the State Department, and wastebaskets are being surreptitiously emptied in toilets. The result has been clogged pipes and flooded washrooms.

To halt this practice, the Department has posted a printed notice on bulletin boards reading:

"To All Employees: Subject: Disposal of Paper."

"There have been serious floods in restrooms which, General Services Administration has advised, have been caused by the disposal of paper in both toilets and urinals. This practice should be discontinued, and trash receptacles used for the disposal of paper."

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

We heard about a finance company that tried a new method on a slow - paying account. A letter asked what would the fellow's neighbors think if his car was repossessed. The letter came back a few days later with the scribbled notation: "My neighbors tell me that would be a lousy trick." Oregon's U.S. Senator Wayne Morse does a switch on that one in dealing with crank letters. He returns them to the sender with a printed statement stapled to it: "This letter reached my desk a few days ago. I am forwarding it to you in the belief that as a responsible citizen you should know some idiot is sending out letters over your signature."

Today's smile: We liked the one about the physician who told a patient: "Drink a lot of water. It will keep you from getting stiff in the joints." The patient replied: "I never get stiff in the joints. I do all of my drinking at the home."

No doubt the world of tomorrow will be computer controlled. The latest use of the electronic fact-finder is the Norden Aerolog, now being installed on Pan-Am jet liners to provide visual information during flight and permanent records of engine performance. It converts such input signals as temperature and turbine speed, and is designed to improve flight safety.

Eye appeal: RCA Victor has found reproduction of great paintings on the covers of classical record albums have increased the sale of works of Beethoven, Mozart, Verdi and Wagner.

Thoughts while shaving: We've never read it, but an erudite literary editor told us recently Carl Sandburg's "Abraham Lincoln" is considered the greatest biography of modern times. A recent survey of child study habits by a group of ophthalmologists shows that walking around the room for an occasional stretch helps promote a longer interest span and reduces eye strain.

The Rochester (N. Y.) DEMOCRAT & CHRONICLE headlines: "Dairy Sweetheart Chosen in Bath; Results A Secret." Truth will out.

The governing board of "Who's Who in America" says that in listing anyone's name it does many million dollars to cure each ill.

Also, another number sickness that we find in our government is the apparent belief that efficiency means creating more agencies, or more departments with their many auxiliaries staffed by an ever greater number whose salaries must be paid out of our tax money. Our government has created agencies to investigate other agencies, and then still another agency, to investigate the investigating agency.

This has gone to such an extreme that the word efficiency, which once had a connotation of beauty to yours truly, now sounds profane when used by the Washington people percolators. I have to agree with Cousin Jubilate's mathematical logic, at least as far as government is concerned, simply adding or multiplying people percolating bureaucrats solves no problems at all, or at least not the problems facing you and me, fellow citizen.

The Almanac

By United Press International
Today is Monday, Feb. 24, the 55th day of 1964 with 311 to follow.

The moon is approaching its full phase.
The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history:
In 1803, Chief Justice Marshall ruled the U.S. Supreme Court had the power to declare invalid any act of Congress which in the tribunal's opinion, was unconstitutional.

In 1869, impeachment proceedings began against President Andrew Johnson in the U.S. House of Representatives because he fired War Secretary Edwin Stanton.

In 1922, the Frenchman known as "Bluebeard" was executed for murdering 10 of his 13 fiancées.

In 1945, American troops liberated Manila, capital of the Philippines, from Japanese occupation and control.

A thought for the day—Irish author George Bernard Shaw once said: "You don't learn to stand on your own in the world by standing on guard, but by at tacking."

not confer distinction, but merely recognizes it. We read recently that 37 per cent of the nation's families don't own washing machines. They must use laundromats. Incidentally, the estimated life of a washing machine is 11 years. Other appliances last varying periods before needing replacement: refrigerators 16 years; home freezers, 1 years; vacuum cleaners, 1 years; TV sets, 12 years; an sewing machines, 24 years.

Americans are probably the greatest people for "eating out." Last year, restaurants, snack bars, etc., served 67 million meals for a tab of nearly $8 billion. Spring is just around the corner when the seed catalogs arrive in the mail. Egbert Hans, noted garden expert and horticulturist, tells us the best way to make a selection for next summer's flower garden is to consult several seed catalogs and make comparison of the specific plant description and prices. He says evergreen should always be bought at local nursery, simply to avoid transportation difficulties, but dormant deciduous plants may be purchased from catalog with confidence.

Country Editor speaking: "Youth is that period when your teenage son knows everything except how to earn a dollar."

Fact

The solstice, in astronomy, is either of the two points at which the sun reaches the greatest declination north or south. Each solstice is upon the ecliptic, midway between the equinoxes, therefore 90 degrees from each. The term is also applied to the time at which the sun reaches the point defined — about June 21 and December 21.

Dear Abby....

Ex-Smokers Contend That Willpower Is the Secret

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: About two years ago you had a whole column of letters on how to quit smoking. Would you please consider running it again?

"NEEDS IT" IN PHILLY DEAR "NEEDS IT": With pleasure!

DEAR ABBY: My man smoked three packs of cigarettes a day and used up a whole box of snuff, too. He said that his mouth felt like the bottom of a bird cage. He got a prescription from his doctor for something that was guaranteed to curb his desire for smoking. I don't know what it was, but I know I saw a miracle happen because my husband hasn't smoked in four years.

OLLIE'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: One day, 12 years ago, I decided that smoking was a filthy, stupid and expensive habit, so I made up my mind to quit. This is what I did: The moment I walked into a room I announced, "I'VE QUIT SMOKING." After that I couldn't very well bum a cigarette off anyone, and I didn't carry them myself. I knew that I didn't dare beg a smoke or I'd make myself look like a real jerk. It was a matter of pride.

NO JERK

DEAR ABBY: After having the cigarette habit for 40 years, I took my cigarettes out of my pocket and said, "You have been bossing me around for 40 years, now I am going to boss YOU around." I put away the pack and never smoked again. That was 15 years ago. I'm now 92 and feel fine.

W. H. E. (Ontario)

DEAR ABBY: When I had to have a cigarette before I could open my eyes fully in the morning, I knew I had better quit. I tried to taper off, but that never works. I finally walked into a church one morning (it wasn't even of my own denomination), got down on my knees and prayed to God to deliver me of the habit. And do you know, I haven't smoked or even had the desire to since? When everything else fails, try prayer.

AN ORDINARY GUY

DEAR ABBY: My husband smoked like a chimney. He had a lung X-ray taken at the suggestion of his physician. A dark shadow was discovered on his lung. Fortunately it was NOT cancer, but my husband snipped off that part of the X-ray and taped it to a package of cigarettes. He carries it with him constantly and now every time he is tempted to smoke, he looks at that X-ray and takes a peppermint drop instead.

GRATEFUL

DEAR ABBY: Here is a proven method for overcoming the cigarette habit. If a person smokes 40 cigarettes a day, he should cut down to 39 the first day, 38 the second, 37 the third and so forth. It takes a lot of willpower, but if I could do it (I was a four-pack

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Los Angeles:—Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feather-tipped panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It feels like nothing on but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available in our area at

Punch' and Cookies High On List for Leap Year

By GAYNOR MADDOX HAVE A HEART COOKIES (3 dozen)

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
- 1 tablespoon orange rind
- 4 teaspoons milk or cream
- Sugar

Sift flour, baking powder and salt. Blend butter with sugar and egg until light and fluffy. Mix in flour mixture alternately with orange concentrate, rind and milk. Refrigerate until dough is easy to handle (you may hasten chilling by placing dough in freezing compartment). Roll out 1-3 of dough at a time on floured board; cut with 2 1/2-inch heart-shaped cutter. Then with small (1 inch) cutter, cut small heart out of large cookie. Place cookies on greased cookie sheet. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in 350-degree oven (moderate) about 6 minutes.

HIS-AND-HER'S PUNCH (Fifteen 1/2-cup servings)

- 2 cups tea, chilled

Musical Program Concludes PMTA Luncheon Meeting

The Pampa Music Teacher's Association, local affiliate of the Texas Music Teacher's Association and the Music Teacher's National Association, were entertained with a luncheon - musicale Tuesday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, 1215 Williston.

The program opened with the Music Teacher's Prayer led by the president, followed by a musical program presented by the following members: Mrs. Carl Shafer, soprano, singing "My Heart Is A Silent Violin" (Fox) accompanied by Jerry Whitten; "La Regatta Venetiana" (List) was played by Mrs. Lois Fagan; and two violin numbers "Mazurka" (Milynski) and "Berceuse" (Godard) were presented by Mrs. Evelyn Thomas Price accompanied by Mrs. Yoder.

Tracy D. Cary, pianist, presented "Humoresque" (Rachmaninoff) and led the group in singing one of his own compositions, an arrangement of "O Little Town of Bethlehem" which was recently accepted for publication by H. W. Gray Co., New York. Mrs. Sheila Parr presented "Soaring" (Schumann); Eckstein's "Rhapsodie" was played by Mrs. A. E. Burns; and Chopin's "Nocturne In F. Sharp Minor" was performed by Mrs. Yoder. The program closed with a piano duo, "Invitation To The Dance" (Von Weber) played by Mrs. Yoder and Mrs. Fagan.

The Association's next meeting will be a luncheon March 10 in the Cibola Room of Coronado Inn for a program, "Holding The Musical Interest of Teenagers" presented by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carson, and the annual election of officers will be held.

A buffet luncheon was served from a table appointed in red and white Valentine motif to the following members: Mrs. W. H. Fuller, Mrs. W. M. Cooper, Mrs. Calvin Whalley, Mrs. Ramon Wilson, Mrs. Evelyn Price, Mrs. Sheila Parr, Mrs. Lois Fagan, Mrs. Carl Shafer, Mrs. A. E. Burns, Mrs. Fidelia Yoder, Jerry Whitten and Tracy D. Cary.

Know all and you will pardon all.
