ANSWERLINE

Q. Is the Highway Department planning on any more work on the roads which they worked on a couple of weeks ago? I am mainly referring to Second Street that runs through downtown.

A. According to David Elmore of the Texas Department of Transportation in Big Spring, there are no plans - at least for this summer - to do any more with them since they have completed sealing the cracks in the asphalt.

April 12 for Hospital Board candidates

Wednesday is last day to sign-up for city, school

Wednesday, March 23 is the last day that candidates may sign up for the May 7 election for the county's school board and city elections but potential candidates have until April 12 at 5:00 p.m. to sign up for a place on the Mitchell County Hospital Board.

On the Hospital Board, the terms of Fred Thompson, H.E. Parker and Vergil Stone will be expiring and they have all filed for re-election.

There will be at least two contested races for spots on the Colorado City Council as Place 6 incumbent Allen Pharis will be challenged by Patrick Parker.

Place 4 will definitely see a new representative as Brian Bassham will not seek re-election. A. W. Rowe was the first to sign up for that spot and he was joined in the race Wednesday by Gayla Proctor.

Incumbent Gary Redwine has signed up for another race for Place 3 on the council.

Two places are up for election on the Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees and so far, they have attracted one candidate each. Yolanda Molina is the incumbent in Place 4 while Rosanne Jameson has filed for the vacant Place 6 position. Dwayne Harris was the representative from Place 6 until he resigned last month.

Westbrook residents will vote for a mayor and three city councilmen and will also have the chance to approve or disapprove adding $2 to their monthly water bill to fund a part-time policeman for the city.

On the council, the terms of J.L. Rees (mayor), Peggy Hill, Kate Sanchez and Sally Parker are expiring. Only Rees and Parker have signed up for another term so far.

The Loraine City Council will have three terms expiring and they are the spots held by Lee Matlock, Oscar Singleton and Chrystene Hall.

Matlock will seek another term and Arthur Zuniga has also tossed his hat into the ring for a spot on the council.

Six positions are up for election on the Loraine School Board and they include the terms of Danny Butler, George Martin, Henry Mitchell, James McLeod, Linton Ray Webb and the seat Mike Gage held before resigning.

Ken Kendall, who was selected as the new superintendent of the Loraine ISD last week, said Thursday that George Martin and Danny Butler had signed up for re-election and Steve Crawford had signed up for a one-year term.

Kendall was selected from some 20 candidates to replace Gary Buckingham who is now the superintendent at Eden. Kendall had been serving as principal for the district.

Westbrook to vote on police funding

Westbrook residents will have a chance to fund a part-time police officer when they cast their ballots in the May 7 election.

The Westbrook city council voted earlier this month to add this item to their ballot because "we need more police patrols in this area" said Mayor J. L. Rees.

Westbrook voters could raise up to $240 a month to pay for a part-time officer by casting a vote for a $2.00 surcharge to be added to their monthly water bill said Rees.

Rees said one person, William Glass, had met with the council about the position.

Election set in June for water district

An election to establish a three-county underground water district has been called for June 7.

The temporary board of the Rolling Plains Underground Water Conservation District, consisting of David Stubblefield, Bill Eiland and Ralph Miller, said the election will be to establish an underground water conservation district, to elect permanent directors and to establish a taxing authority.

The election will be held in Mitchell, Scurry and Borden Counties with an early voting period beginning May 18 and ending June 3.

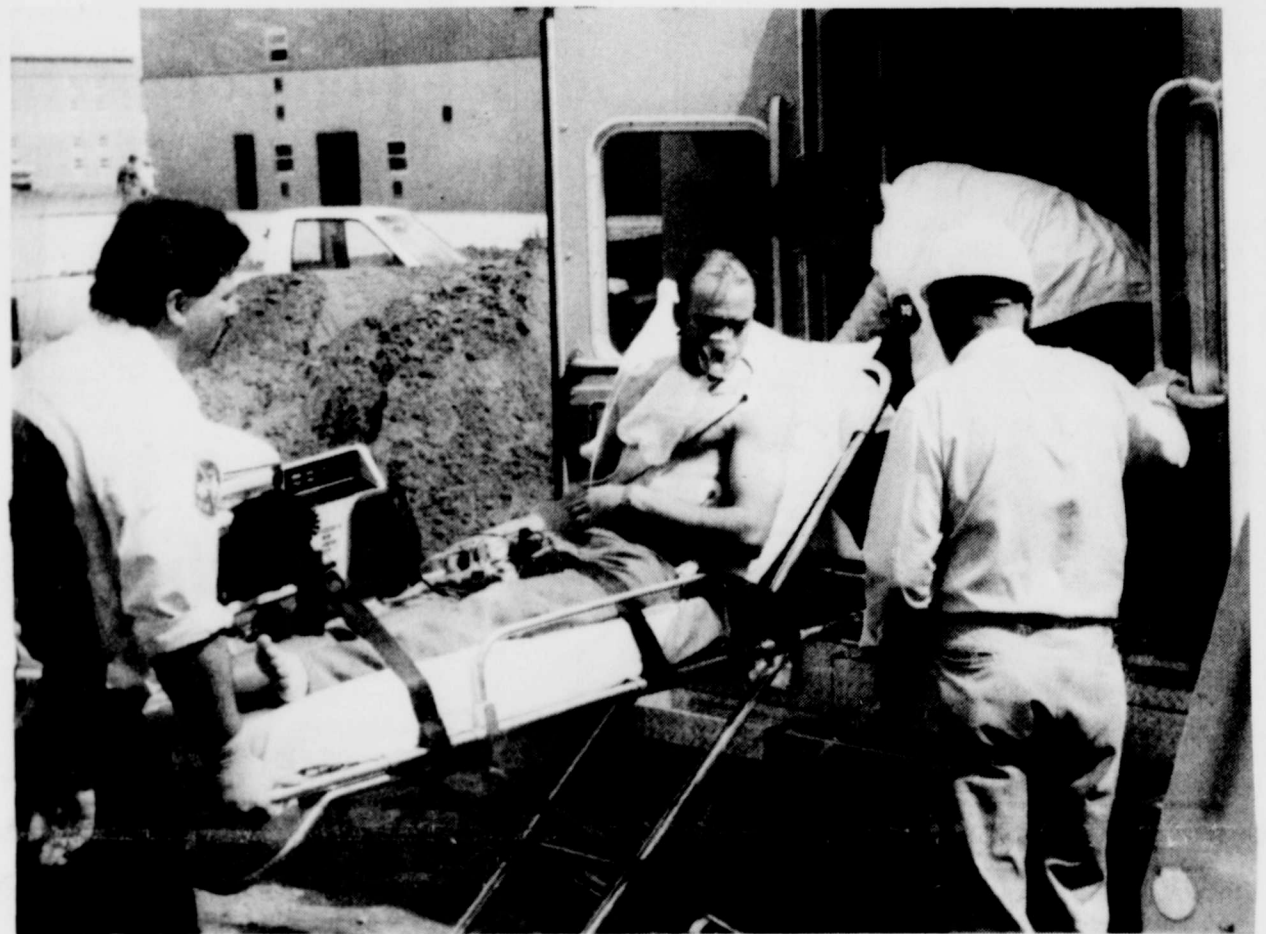

The requirements for becoming a director include owning land subject to taxation in the county that a person wants to represent. Candidates must file an application with any of the temporary directors beginning March 23 through April 22 to be included on the ballots. Write-in candidates will have until May 8 to declare their intentions.

All registered voters may vote in the election. The June election will also establish the water district's authority to tax property owners in the respective counties. By law, the district may not tax more than five cents per $100 appraisal of property value. The temporary board had stated that they plan on the first tax rate to be one-cent per $100 appraised value.

Board members said they anticipate the tax rate to decrease once start-up costs are met. This would mean a person owning property valued at $50,000 would pay $5 the first year and possibly less thereafter.

The board plans an educational campaign to explain the district to all citizens and its benefits to both rural and city residents.

Anyone wanting more information or to schedule a speaker for their organization may call David Stubblefield at 728-3622.

CLOSE CALL: Kenneth Moore, an employee of Acme Electric Co., and a Westbrook resident, is placed in a Mitchell County Ambulance unit following an electrical shock at the Wallace Unit Thursday. Moore was working in the Line Administration Building when the accident occurred. He was kept in Mitchell County Hospital overnight for observation. Ambulance Service Paramedics Mark Potter and Bill Everett are shown placing Moore in the ambulance.

Guelker remains winner by two after recount

Carl Guelker remained the winner of the commissioner's post in Precinct 2 following the recount of ballots held Wednesday morning in the Mitchell County Courtroom.

Challenger Scott Morton gained two votes, however, to make the election closer than the original count indicated.

Election night returns indicated 196 votes for the incumbent Guelker and 192 for Morton. The final tally, following the recount, will be 196 to 194.

This will be Guelker's second term on the commissioner's court.

Wallace Unit workers set sights on May 11 opening

Workers at the 80-John Wallace Unit still have their sights on a May 11 completion date for the 1000-bed unit said Frank Toland, Texas Department of Corrections Construction Supervisor.

"We have 220 workers on site right now," said Toland, "and everyone is working toward the May 11 date."

Many of the sub-contractors have already put some of their crews on overtime and more is expected as the deadline nears for the opening.

"We are down to where it takes a lot of time to do some of the finishing work," added Toland noting that the educational building was just about complete and kitchen appliances are currently being installed also.

Toland also said the permanent road to the facility should be started next week as should the standpipe for water storage.

"Once the crew gets in from Tulsa, it should only take them a couple of weeks to finish the standpipe," Toland said noting that the structure will already be painted before it arrives here.

For Park's Fuels Tax abatement sought

The tax abatement screening committee, composed of two members of the Chamber of Commerce and a representative of all the taxing entities in the county, voted 3 to 1 Wednesday afternoon in favor of a tax abatement for Parks Fuels, Inc. of Big Spring.

This is a non-binding vote by the committee and now each taxing entity - Mitchell County Commissioners' Court, Mitchell County Hospital Board, Colorado City City Council and the Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees - will separately consider the recommendations of the screening committee.

Voting for a 5-year, 100% tax abatement were Chamber representatives Mike Burt and Donna Laurens and the county's representative, Ray Mayo. City councilman Sammy Contreras voted against it.

Bob Parks told the committee that the total cost of the convenience store that is presently under construction at the intersection of Highway 208 and the north service road of I-20, will be approximately $300,000 and employ four to six people.

Burt reminds business of April 15 deadline to render property

Mitchell County businesses have until April 15 to render their property with the county appraisal district said county tax assessor-collector Mike Burt.

"They are actually due on the first of April but this year, we can grant an extension if necessary," said Burt.

While state law requires owners and operators to render, any property owner - including farmers, ranchers and homeowners - may render their property.

Burt reminds everyone that if his office cannot deliver a tax bill because of an incorrect address, the property owner is still responsible for paying the taxes plus possible late payment penalties.

ANOTHER 316 BEDS GOING UP: Turner Construction has begun work on the 316-bed dormitory facility to be built within the confines of the Wallace Unit. The structure will contain 47,000 square feet with 36,000 on the bottom floor and 11,000 on the mezzanine. The inmates confined to these units will share the same dining and laundry facilities but will not co-mingle with the other inmates at the Wallace Unit. This unit will employ approximately 30 additional personnel.

Forty homes on CIA list

This year's Christmas-in-April project will be even more ambitious than last year. Jan Lemons, chairman, says the selection committee has narrowed its list of homes to be worked on to "about 40." Last year some 25 homes were repaired. The one-day blitz of dwellings throughout Mitchell County is scheduled for April 30th.

Mrs. Lemons reports some 70 applications were received this year. Due to the number of homes to be improved there is an increased need for volunteers. A form was recently published in the RECORD and all possible volunteers are asked to fill out the form and return it as soon as possible.

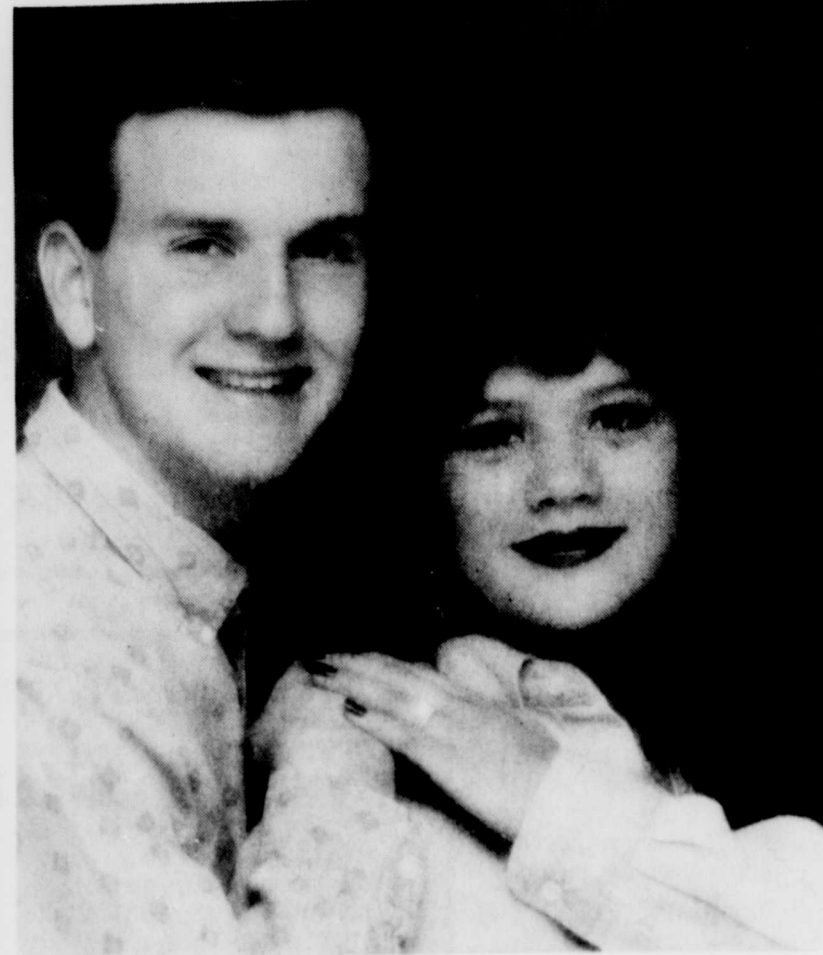

"We need this information," Mrs. Lemons said, "in order to distribute workers in areas where they wish to work or are needed. They do not need to be skilled workers. We need volunteers who can do anything from scrape paint to deliver sandwiches."

Anyone willing to volunteer is asked to fill out a volunteer form even if it turns out they can't work on April 30. One of the reasons for this is because of insurance requirements.

Especially needed this year are young people who can help with general clean up operations. (A waiver must be signed by parents who have their children working with them.)

Also, the planning committee needs an idea of how many children may be expected at the child care center.

Bernie Fieldelley of Cincinnati, Ohio, purchased the state's first Governor's Permit for a desert bighorn sheep for $70,000 during an auction at the recent Foundation for North American Wildlife Sheep convention in San Antonio.

The hunt will be conducted this fall and will include Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. biologist Gary Calkins as a guide.

Ninety percent of the money, $63,000, from sale of the permit will go to the department's desert bighorn sheep restoration program. At this time the department is evaluating the acquisition of some critical desert bighorn range.

In an effort to do their part in restoring sheep populations, the Texas Bighorn Sheep Society has donated materials and most of the labor to build water collection devices in the mountains of the Trans-Pecos.

These v-shaped devices, also called water guzzlers, are designed to catch rain water then to funnel the water into a storage tank from which the flow is regulated by a float valve. Each of these guzzlers has two 2,500-gallon capacity polypropylene holding tanks.

These guzzlers are placed near numerous heavily-used sheep trails at elevations which allow sheep to obtain water without leaving the relative safety of high-quality escape terrain. And of course guzzlers are in areas where there is no water, now providing water for all types of wildlife.

During the most recent annual helicopter survey for desert bighorn sheep, department biologists observed 190 sheep in 70 hours of flying. Six Trans-Pecos mountain ranges currently are populated by bighorn sheep herds. Each range has been stocked by the department in a reintroduction effort. Currently there are over 300 bighorn sheep in the state of Texas.

Poison Awareness Week set for March 20-26

Nearly 300 organizations in 135 Texas cities will be joined by 180 organizations in 42 other states in a grassroots campaign to combat a "silent epidemic" during Inhalants & Poisons Awareness Week, March 20-26, initiated by the Texas Prevention Partnership.

The Texas Prevention Partnership is a public-private effort initiated and funded in part by the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse. TPP has been conducting a comprehensive inhalant prevention program since 1990.

The education and awareness week comes in the wake of a recent national survey which found by the time American youth reach the eighth grade one in five has sniffed a legal substance to get high, making inhalants the third most abused substance after alcohol and tobacco for that age group. The rate of usage of inhalants among eighth graders is double that of marijuana.

The University of Michigan study, conducted for the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) and released in February, confirmed what many educators, law officers and parents had feared, that inhalant abuse is increasing among middle school students (6-8th grades). Among eighth graders, the use of inhalants increased 17.4 percent

Crystal Crawford completes basic Navy training

Navy Hospitalman Recruit Crystal S. Crawford, daughter of Harrell W. and Debra Crawford of 1237 Oak St., Colorado City, recently completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Florida.

During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies include seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

Although the Navy is getting smaller, the state-of-the-art ships, aircraft and high tech systems in today's fleet require bright, talented young men and women to operate them. The Navy has over 56,000 job openings this year, most of which include guaranteed training.

from 1992 to 1993. "Crack cocaine and marijuana are making headlines, but far more of our 12- to 14-year-olds are abusing common household products," said Harvey Weiss, executive director of the Texas Prevention Partnership.

Chronic inhalant abusers suffer irreversible brain damage. First-time users have died from powerful adrenaline surges that short-circuit the heart. Kidney, liver, lung and bone marrow damage can also develop.

Dr. Richard Scatterday, an Irving, Texas expert on the medical effects of inhalants, said the dangers from first-time use of inhalants cannot be overemphasized: "It appears that the risk of sudden death with any given episode of inhalant use exceeds that presented by any other drug of abuse."

The long-term University of Michigan study parallels findings of inhalant abuse in Texas; one in four Texas seventh graders has sniffed or "huffed" common household products.

Weiss, who founded the National Inhalant Prevention Coalition which is partially supported by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, said inhalant abuse has been a "silent epidemic" which only recently has gained the attention of the media at the national level.

"Inhalants strike our youngest and most vulnerable non-renewable resources," Weiss said. "Communities across this country are joining together to begin to change this devastating trend."

Join us March 20-26 for Inhalants & Poisons Awareness Week and help combat this major problem. For more information contact Texas Prevention Partnership, 1615 Guadalupe Street, Suite 201, Austin, TX 78701, phone (512) 480-8953.

LORRAINE SENIOR CITIZENS CENTER

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

March came in so cold, dark and dreary it was hard to tell if it came in like a lion or a polar bear. On March 31 it just may be so beautiful that the lamb and lion may lie down together.

The center is decorated in a cheerful green St. Patrick's Day theme and no matter the weather outside, we extend a warm greeting to the Irish and to all other nationalities as well.

Recent visitors have been Robert Hollman, James and Treva Quinney, Charles and Marion Reeder, Paula Brock and Johnny and Louise Walker.

Our sympathy and love go out to Estha Coffee and Paula Brock. We hope that Estha will be happy in her new home at Wisteria Place in Abilene.

It was great to visit with Elba Mae Evans again. Maybe she and Patsy Walker can come back out this way to live again sometime. We have missed them both.

It is great to have Wayne and Lynetta Dubose back at the center. Lynetta has been under the weather so we hope she is better by this time.

I'm sorry to report that we will have to reschedule our Loraine Coming Home Fest. When this date was decided long ago it was not noted that Election Day would be on the same date and held in the Loraine Center building. We hope to have another date to report soon. This is not the fault of any one person and we apologize for any inconvenience it may cause.

Louise Liles has moved into the Taylor Witta complex. We hope she enjoys her apartment and the center.

We had several political candidates come visit and eat lunch with us. It was nice to meet some of them we didn't know. There was a good turnout here at the center on Election Day even though the weather was not very cooperative.

If the candidates who didn't win still feel like they have something to offer their community we hope they try again at a later date.

Margarite Brame is back from a tour of South Texas and the King Ranch. She didn't know until the day of departure just where she would be going. It was a surprise tour. She said she had fun and ate a lot of great seafood.

Members having birthdays in March are Laura Lewis, J.M. Lewis, Effie Wheeler, Vida Alsobrook, Gladys Hart, Allie Ruth Wiggins, Darlene Hamrick, Julia Green, J.D. Iglehart, Geraldine Parnell, Lewis Claxton, Raymond Hackfield, Annie Bell Jones and Billie Ruth Abernathy. Iva Armstrong will make the special cake.

Overhearing Doris Henderson say that she and Theron are soon to bring home a grandcat reminded me that March is the month dedicated to the American cat.

I thought it might be fun to hear about some of the pets that our seniors have...

Right away Virgil Parnell said he and Geraldine have seven cats, Blackie, Whiskers, Rascal, Mama Cat, Buddie, Little Whiskers and Cat ... Darlene admits to having ten cats, fourteen longhorns and two dogs, Bud and Patty ... Millie Rose has three dogs; Big Boy guards the front of the house and smaller Tip and Pit take care of the back ... Lee and Nellie Matlock have a toy Chihuahua named Tinker that they think is pretty special ... Margarite Brame has a big white Eskimo Spitz named Mozark who has a large appetite ... Ralph Lankford said his pet was over there playing hand and foot and I think he was pointing toward Sue! ... Leona Linam has a nice dog named Sandy that stays over at her children's place more than hers. They all live in the country and several times Sandy has kept Presley and Billie Powell, Leona's kids, from getting snake-bitten. I wouldn't say Sandy was spoiled but when Pres and Billie go somewhere Sandy gets to ride up front with Pres so she can look out the window. Billie sits in back by herself. Preacher Merrill saw them in town one day with the dog in front and Billie in back and asked if they thought a marriage counselor might help! ... Winn Henderson has three dogs, Belle, Shortie and Mitt. They guard the schoolhouse ... Iris Preston and Joy Dickenson feed a lot of birds ... Amy McKee has a pretty calico cat named Celina. Celina came from Celina, Texas ... Louis Small has a Shepherd named Blondie and Laura and J.M. Lewis have two dogs, Biggen and Bear...

We are happy to report that Gretchen Johnson is feeling better and is now able to run and play. Gretchen is a darling little Schnauzer that resides with Dorothy Johnson. Soon after Dr. Bruce passed away Dorothy's children, Kenneth and Beverly Jean, got the dog for their mother. Gretchen is now over ten years old and is still a faithful friend and companion. She's part of the family.

I'm sure you've read and heard that having a pet is good for us, no matter our age. Besides providing company, they have been helpful in lowering one's blood pressure and in some cases are helping to combat depression. We all know the wonders that seeing eye dogs can do and how about all the stories we hear about where pets have actually saved lives.

March may be the month dedicated to the American cat but every month should be dedicated to all creatures, large and small.

I hope you enjoy my story about my friend Black Jack.

"Black Jack"
Above the noise of my television late one night I heard a loud rattling sound at my back door. It was unnerving, to say the least. I cut off the TV and lights, then stayed quiet for a good while thinking "whatever" or "whoever" would go away. The noise continued at frequent intervals so I decided it was necessary to investigate. Just beyond the locked back door is a screened door that is also kept locked. This knowledge helped a great deal in my decision to open the back door just wide enough to take a quick peek. There on the bottom of the screen was a tiny half-starved black kitten hanging on for dear life.

I reasoned that someone threw him out of a car as they sped by. A cruel thing to do, I thought. Of course I fed him!

As he was lapping up the last of the milk and soft chicken, I noticed a small patch of white fur near the end of his tail about the size of a dime. Even though malnourished and begging, he had a proud demeanor about him. I named him Black Jack and in no time he was fat, sleek, beautiful and in his prime. We became good friends and oftentimes had gab sessions on the back steps.

He told me all about himself and what he had been doing during the day and I did likewise. Each time we shared space on the steps I told him he was handsome and special and he seemed to agree with my opinion.

One very cold winter afternoon Black Jack brought a girlfriend home to meet me. I called her Miss Grey. She was so ordinary and homely-looking with matted grey fur and green eyes. I was extremely disappointed in his choice of feline females and she knew right away that I didn't think she was good enough for Black Jack. They left together soon after our meeting, headed in a southerly direction.

A week went by without my friend coming home to eat and I was worried that something bad had happened.

The next day or so while in the back yard I found Black Jack under a large evergreen shrub. He had several huge gaping holes in his side and his lifeless body was stiff and cold. I was simply crushed. After recouping from the sad situation I discovered the ground was too hard to dig, so with a shovel, I managed to deposit his body in a garbage bag for disposal. I was taking all this very hard when I noticed Miss Grey watching me from behind a tree trunk. I lashed out at her, giving her a hard verbal whipping, accusing her of Black Jack's demise. She just lowered her head and slowly walked away in a dejected manner.

Two months later I was sweeping off the back steps when Mrs. Grey came around to see me. She had three little grey kittens tagging along behind her. I tried to ignore them but she let out a loud meow and as if on cue, here came a little black kitten with a tiny patch of white fur near the end of his tail. I started to cry when he eagerly came right up to my feet. He was Black Jack Jr., coming to visit. At that moment I knew Big Black Jack had made the right decision. Mrs. Grey was just the perfect feline for him. Now she seemed to be beautiful and not in the least ordinary.

Take good care of yourselves and see you at the center.

Ag Extension Service to host computer courses

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service's "Have Computer Will Travel" project will be in the Rolling Plains and West Central districts from March 21 through April 8. The portable notebook computer lab will host shortcourses on Quicken7 for DOS, BudPro and futures and options.

Quicken7 for DOS is an easy-to-use and inexpensive record keeping program widely used by agriculture producers. Participants in the introduction to Quicken shortcourses will learn how to enter transactions, write checks, categorize by income and expense, split and memorize transactions and develop reports. No computer experience is necessary.

Developing Financial Statements with Quicken will be a further review of using asset and liability accounts to handle inventories, growing crops, depreciation and family living withdrawals. Participants in this course will also learn how to use a balance sheet, income statement, cash flow statement and other special reports such as the Schedule F and the Form 1099. A working knowledge of Quicken is needed for this course.

BudPro is a computer program developed by the Extension Service that is capable of tracking and projecting production costs. CottonPro, MiloPro and CowPro are the lines of the BudPro software that will be taught in the courses. No computer experience is required for any of these courses.

The beginning futures and options course will cover hedging, margin accounts, basis, options, practical exercises and marketing strategies. The two-day course examines cattle, wheat and cotton commodities.

Stan Bevers, assistant professor and Extension Service economist at Vernon and instructor for the series of shortcourses, will kick off his tour with Introduction to Quicken7. The locations and dates for these courses are Matador, March 21; Ballinger, March 22; Childress, March 25; Palo Pinto, March 31; Abilene, April 4; Anson, April 5-6 and Weatherford, April 7-8. All one-day courses run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The Anson course will begin at 7 p.m. and end at 10 p.m. both days. The Weatherford course starts at 9 a.m. and runs until 4 p.m. each day.

The Introduction to Futures and Options course will be taught in Anson March 23-24 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. each day.

Developing Financial Statements with Quicken7 will be taught in Crowell March 28-29. The course will be held from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. each day.

CottonPro and MiloPro will be taught as one course April 5 in Anson. CowPro Computer Program will be held April 6, also in Anson. Both courses start at 9 a.m. and end at 4 p.m.

Registration for all of the Quicken7 courses is $40 except for Weatherford. Since it is two full days the registration is $75. Introduction to Futures and Options costs $50 and the BudPro programs are $40 each. Couples are encouraged to attend and pay only one registration fee if they share a computer.

Contact the county extension agent in the county holding the course or call Stan Bevers at (817) 552-9941 for more information or to register for a course. Registration is limited to 12 participants per course to provide hands-on experience for everyone.

Gramm recognizes National Ag Day on Sunday, March 20

U.S. Senator Phil Gramm is urging all Americans to join in the celebration of National Agriculture Day on Sunday, March 20 and to pay tribute to the men and women who provide the nation with its bountiful supply of food and fiber.

"As we all know, a vibrant American agricultural industry is vital to ensuring an equally dynamic U.S. economy. It is important to note that agriculture provides jobs for 21 million Americans and pumps $1 trillion into the U.S. economy," Gramm said.

"American farmers produce hundreds of different crops and dozens of breeds of livestock on a countryside that ranges from lush pasture lands to deserts, huge plains to high mountains and vast rural areas to suburbia. Our farm families spring from different ethnic backgrounds, work successfully in every imaginable kind of farming structure and have a unique combination of entrepreneurial genius and managerial skill," the senator said.

"I applaud those men and women who are committed to the continued growth of American agriculture as we enter the 21st century," Gramm said.

"American Agriculture—Growing Better Everyday" is the theme for the 1994 celebration. The focus of Ag Day will be on new and industrial uses of agricultural products. In choosing this theme and focus the Ag Council hopes to make the public more aware of the technological and environmental advances by the agriculture industry.

CARD OF THANKS

THANK YOU

I would like to thank the voters of Pct. 2 who supported me in the March 8th primary.
Thanks again!

Carl Guelker

Thank You

To simply say "Thank You" is not enough to express my sincere appreciation and gratitude for all the things the wonderful men and women have done for me during my recent surgery and radiation treatment. The care and concern I have received from so many has meant so much to me. I, along with my Mother and Sister, want you to know how much we love you.

The prayers and support of the church people. A special thank you to my Pastor Dr. Travis Monday for support to us in Dallas.

Also thank you to the ones that helped me: Phillis Lane, Carolyn Newman, and Ms. Bob Chalker, secretaries. To the drivers in 1993-1994 for 8 weeks to Lubbock: Buster Aycock, Tommie Wright, Truman Bodine, Elbert Spann, Brennan Dockrey, Bob Sheen, Dale Geiger, Bob Chalker, Joe Hopper, Ben Lancaster, Mary Green, Orvil Griffith, Pasco Vest, Bob Rhea, Kent Womack; and the drivers to Midland for 6 weeks: Tim Colaw and Bro. Travis Monday. A special thanks to you all!

Sincerely,
Bill Vest

Card of Thanks

We deeply appreciate Dr. Roach, Mitchell County Hospital nurses for the Memorials, flowers, cards and food brought to our home during the loss of our loved one.

The family of Mrs. W.A. Spivey
