CITY'S FORCE IS FAR TOO SMALL FOR PROTECTION

Sensational Facts Given By May in Interview Friday

ONLY 19 IN FORCE

Residential Sections Go Unprotected Through The Night

Sensational facts were given forth Friday by Chief of Dectives May, of this city. They are as follows:

There are only four patrolmen on duty at night in this city to protect 50,000 people.

The whole city police force totals only 49 men, many of whom are not officers. Other cities establish their police forces in a ratio of one officer for each 1,000 inhabitants, therefore this city, according to Chief May, is entitled to 50.

The city police force is only large enough for a town of 10,000 inhabitants.

The police budget granted is only $38,000 annually.

Safe Blowing Series.

The criticism which was so freely heaped upon the police, sheriff and constable forces of Wichita Falls by many citizens recently when an epidemic of store entries and safe crackings set in locally during August, resulting in about 15 different business houses suffering losses, was answered by Detective Chief Dave May Friday.

Summing up the situation as reviewed by Detective Chief May, the reason for the store entry epidemic and the failure to recover any more of the loot or bring to justice those who were guilty of the crimes, the reason as far as the police department goes is "Not Enough Men."

Police Worked Hard.

"I have no alibi in the safe cracking episodes for the detectives and policemen on duty. They have worked hard and have accomplished much with what they had to work with. The trouble is Wichita Falls is trying to get metropolitan protection by having a force about large enough for a country town of 10,000 people," the detective chief said Friday.

May, who has for the past three weeks been working with his detective force to clear up the robberies has lined up the last week's clews on the local situation resulting from arrests of safe crackers at Altus and Fort Worth. Even what has been done in trying to connect the local situation with the Corsicana and Altus robberies which were committed by men who said they were from Wichita Falls, has been under heavy handicaps according to the detective chief.

"Yes, probably the public looks at the list of robberies and wonders why in the world there are no more arrests made. We have been cussed down here at the city hall, because the things happened in the first place and then because we have not put anyone in jail for the thiefs. On the face of it, it may appear reasonable that we could have prevented some of the stores being entered, particularly after the first few had been broken in There is a reason though which the public should know, and then the criticism probably won't be so misplaced." May explained.

Only 19 In Force.

To prove his contention the detective pointed out that in the first place, Wichita Falls is a city of more than 50,000 people. People here, it seems, can't get away from the old idea that this is not just a country town any more but that we are one of the largest cities in the state, he said. For Wichita Falls, there are 19 men all told who are working in the police department in some capacity. This includes Chief of Police George Hodgins, Night Chief Will Allen, Detective Chief Dave May, Day Sergeant McConnell, Night Sergeant Bradford, six patrolmen, two traffic officers, four plains clothes men, and two motorcycle policemen.

The detective chief explained that most cities provided police protection on the minimum protection basis of one officer to 1,000 people. On this basis Wichita Falls would be entitled to at least 50 men in the police department rather than 19. Wichita Falls is probably the only big city in the south trying to get along with such a small police force," May commented.

When asked if by concrete example he could prove that the police department should be doubled and that the present department is cripled in any respects, the detective chief was ready with the proof. "I certainly can. In day time we have two detectives on the job who come down about 6:30 or 7. From the time they arrive, they are busy from morning until night answering calls from a dog fight to a murder. Something comes up for serious investigation, which in most cities would be detailed two men to work for a week. The call is turned in and my two detectives are out on a call. No matter how serious the call is or how badly an officer is needed at once, I must wait until the two men return," May said.

"If I leave the office to answer the

UNKNOWN PRELIM DRAWS BIG CROWD

The early preliminaries of the Dempsey-Firpo fight were staged by two oil men in front of the Kemp shortly afternoon Friday, when the two came to blows while discussing a lease contract.

One of the fighters weighed in at about 100 and his height was about five feet five inches. The other challenger weighed about 200 and was around six feet in height. Only one round, about a five minute one, was fought but the crowd said they did not believe the bout was "framed."

The sincerity with which each tried to meet his responsibility to the crowd that had gathered, could not be doubted when blood began to flow and eyes to change to ebony shade.

The total receipts to the fight were $50 according to Referee and Manager George Hodgins, chief of police, who took the combatants to the city hall and collected in behalf of the city. An appropriate speech of acceptance on behalf of the city is expected to be made by City Attorney W. E. George before Judge Joe Carrigan this morning.

FIRPO TO COME BACK IN A YEAR

"Hardest Puncher I Ever Faced," Says Dempsey After Bout

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Luis Angele Firpo, defeated by Jack Dempsey tonight, declared he would be ready to take another shot at the heavyweight championship of the world in a year.

"I will be back," he said.

Firpo made the following statement:

"In a year I will be back again. Tonight I feel I made a creditable showing.

"I will make a motor trip to Canada. Then I will go to my home in Buenos Aires and when I come back I will be better prepared to fight the champion."

Greatest Contest—Rickard.

Of tonight's contest, Rickard said: "It was one of the greatest fights in the history of the ring. It gave me the thrill of my life.

"Firpo is one of the best fighters I ever have seen. It was touch and go and the lucky man won.

"Firpo is not done for yet. He will be heard from again. He is a big young fellow and a terrific fighter.

"I stand quite ready to match Firpo against Dempsey again in another year. I would be quite prepared to stage a bout next summer.

"Moreover, I am quite ready to match the South American against Harry Wills, if Firpo will fight Wills and Wills will fight Firpo."

Rickard announced tonight's attendance as 85,800 and the gate as $1,250,000.

Dempsey Admits "Socking."

By The Associated Press.

RINGSIDE POLO GROUNDS, Sept. 14.—Jack Dempsey admitted tonight after his victory with Luis Angel Firpo that he never had received such a socking in his life.

"I won as I thought I would," said Jack, "but I can truthfully say that I never had such a fight in all my life. When he socked me on the chin in the first round, knocking me through the ropes after I had knocked him down, I thought my finish had come.

"Those who told me that Firpo would be a soft mark certainly were talking through their hats. After he slammed me with that first right, I knew that I had a fight on my hands. Firpo is dangerous every second. I hit him with everything I had and certainly was surprised when he continued to crawl off the floor.

"He is game and the hardest puncher I ever faced. It was the first time I was knocked down since I became champion and I'll never forget it. I saw eight million stars when I got that punch on the chin that knocked me out of the ring."

THOSE SEEKING TO HALT WALTON ARE DESPERATE

Movement On To Bring About Extraordinary Session

INJUNCTION SOUGHT

Muskogee Exalted Cyclops Refuses Resignation - Demand

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 14.—Members of the state legislature will be put in jail "and kept there," if they attempt to meet in extraordinary session to interfere with his war on floggings, Governor J. C. Walton declared late tonight.

"I don't intend to stand for any such thing," the governor said.

By The Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 14.—With extension of martial law to new sections of Oklahoma in prospect and a military censorship of the press threatened by Governor J. C. Walton two steps were under way tonight in an attempt to curb the powers being assumed by the executive.

Following the posting of a censor today in the offices of the Tulsa Tribune, Richard Lloyd Jones, editor of the newspaper, announced he would seek an injunction in federal court in defense of the freedom of the press.

The second step took the form of a movement to bring the legislature into extraordinary session without a call from the governor for a consideration of acts of legislature. Authorities differ on the right of the state's laws making body to take such action, no proceedure having been perfected by statute for such a course, altho, it is said, the matter is not prohibited by the state constitution in an interview at Tishomingo today, Wm. H. Murray chairman of the constitutional convention of 1907, declared the right to assemble on its own volition was an inherent power belonging to the legislators. Either house of legislature has the power to convene itself by the call of a constitutional quorum of its membership, which is a majority, Murray contended.

Governor Walton remained at his home today where it was reported that he was ill with a heavy cold.

It was understood that he held a number of conferences concerning the martial law situation, however.

Aldrich Blake, the governor's counselor, who has had charge of much of the governor's campaign against mob floggers, planned to leave here tonight for a vacation. He said he intended to go to Michigan for a week or two.

Refuses to Resign.

By The Associated Press.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 14.—W. R. Sampson, in an official statement issued tonight declared that he had not and would not resign as exalted cyclops of the Muskogee ku klux klan No. 3 as demanded in Governor Walton's ultimatum. The ultimatum was delivered by Dr. A. E. Davenport, health officer for the governor to C. C. Lydick, secretary and treasurer of the chamber of commerce expired this evening at 6 o'clock.

Sampson declared that he intended to hold his office until his term expires. "I am ignoring the ultimatum delivered to the secretary and treasurer of chamber of commerce," the statements read. "For the reason that yesterday the governor declared he never spoke through a second person, but delivered all orders himself. If the governor wishes to request my resignation why does he not ask, himself."

Sampson denied he had participated in any attempted flogging and declared that there had been none in Muskogee county since he had been cyclops.

Bright Future For Wichita Seen At Commerce Council

Predictions of a bright future for Wichita Falls was the keynote of the first fall meeting of the business council of the chamber of commerce held Friday noon at the Kemp hotel. T. P. Duncan, chairman, gave a very optimistic talk on the growth of business of the city.

"Business is good; there is no cause for anything but the most optimistic views; crops in this section have been reasonably good; there is some improvement in the oil situation and conditions in the business world generally have showed a marked improvement since we adjourned in the early summer."

He was followed by George Keith who spoke on the co-operation with the Texas-Oklahoma fair. He predicted an unusually large attendance, and said that preparations were in good shape for the fair.

J. C. Mytinger told of the trade trips which are being made to advertise the fair. He gave the outlines of plans for trips which are to be made to Henrietta, Abilene, Seymour, and Vernon.

W. B. Hamilton, chairman of the civic development committee of the chamber of commerce, discussed the city-wide clean up campaign and the work in connection with the civic league. This civic development committee will meet Monday morning, September 17, at the chamber of commerce.

Carter McGregor spoke on the removal of the wooden blocks on Indiana street. He said that the committee would keep on working until the street was repaved from Sixth to Tenth and expressed the opinion that the work would be started within 60 days.

A. H. Britain discussed plans for colonization of the Valley, and he will be able to make a report soon.

Judge B. D. Sartin told of work which will mean the extension of highways to the trade territories. Preliminary grading on the Seymour road will begin, and money enough to pave ten miles, or $325,000, has already been appropriated for that purpose. This road will lead to the diversion dam of the irrigation project.

Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of city schools, made a speech on progress of the city schools. He predicted that before many years another junior high school would be necessary to accommodate the students.

Mrs. T. B. Smock and Mrs. Bert Bean, representatives of the civic league, spoke of the work of beautifying the city.

The civic league will have charge of the residence section, while the chamber of commerce will have charge of beautifying the business section.

Wife No. 2 May Be Wife No. 5 Unless Wife No. 3 Gets Mack

By Central Press

GREAT WHITE WAY, Sept. 14. Everybody in or out of the glare of the electrics around these diggin's seems considerably perturbed these days.

And poor old Willard Mack who next to the late and lovable Nat Goodwin has done more than any other six men to keep the wedding ring makers in business, is responsible.

Love has combined with mathematics in this instance and as a result it takes nothing less than an astrologer to figure the thing out without going plumb dizzy.

Now here is the cause of all the perturbation: Marjorie Rambeau was Wife No. 2 on Mack's list.

Pauline Frederick succeeded her and became Wife No. 3.

Then Beatrice Debbe Bayard Stone came along and supplanted her, becoming Wife No. 4. She's still it theoretically if not practically.

But it seems that Mack and Wife No. 4 have mutually agreed to disagree and judging the future by the past it is considered likely that Mack soon will be a free agent in the matrimonial league.

Now Wife No. 2 and Wife No. 3 of the much-married Mr. Mack have found subsequent husbands far from perfect and have been quoted as saying that though Mack had fallen short of their ideal of a husband still he was several parasangs and a couple of kilometers in advance of the most desirable one they had ever encountered.

Both are now on their way to marital freedom.

Now that brings up the all-perturbing question:

When, by, as and if each of the aforesaid parties are made free agents by the divorce courts will Wife No. 2 become Wife No. 5, or will Wife No. 3 take the place of Wife No. 4 and become Wife No. 5?

Even an astrologer will need a slide rule to figure that out.

Inasmuch as Mack has indicated that he has only the kindliest feelings for his ex-wives, it's an even money bet that Wife No. 3 will be successful in corraling the much loved Mr. Mack unless Wife No. 2 steps in and becomes Wife No. 5 in the meantime.

CENSORSHIP OF NEWS IS BEGUN

Walton Appoints Major To "Read Proof" on Tulsa Tribune

By The Associated Press.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 14.—A military censor took up his post in the editorial rooms of the Tulsa Tribune, an afternoon newspaper, at noon today. He ordered "proofs" of all news matter relating to Governor Walton and martial law in Tulsa county to be submitted to him for approval.

The censor is Major Roark of Oklahoma City, a former newspaper man and an officer in the Oklahoma national guard contingent here to enforce military rule.

By The Associated Press.

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 14.—The Tulsa Tribune announced today it would apply for an injunction in United States district court to prevent Governor Walton from interfering with publication of the paper if the executive carries out his threat to establish military censorship over its news columns.

No censor had appeared at the Tribune office this morning by the time the first edition went to press, although Adjutant General Markham, commanding Oklahoma national guard troops enforcing martial law here, said one would be placed on duty later in the day in conformance with the governor's order.

The Tribune denies Governor Walton's charges that the newspaper has "agitated against the state's military investigation of masked activities in Tulsa county."

RETURNS HEARD BY BIG THRONG

Record News Held Big Party for Firpo-Dempsey Fray

Mrs Dempsey made quick work of Mr. Firpo, but it apparently was none too quick for the great throng that filled the street in front of The Record News office on Tenth street for almost a block. The street was blocked except for a narrow lane through which streets cars passed; the Masonic Temple windows were black with people; small boys roosted on awnings and one, more nervy than the rest climbed a tree immediately across from the Record News windows, from which the results were megaphoned.

The crowd began gathering long before the big fight started, and was increasing in size at the time the flash "Dempsey wins in the second round by a knockout" came over the wire. Wire trouble on The Associated Press wire was responsible for some confusion in receiving the returns and caused a slight delay but the crowd got what it came after, and cheered lustily when the finish was announced.

ARGENTINES WEPT AS FIRPO LOST

By The Associated Press.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 14.—The defeat of Luis Angele Firpo by Jack Dempsey was a stunning disappointment to the fens of thousands of people who thronged the streets of Buenos Aires tonight hopeful of receiving the news that the Argentine fighter had won for his country the championship of the world.

When it became known that Firpo lost, groans were to be heard among the crowds in front of the bulletin boards, and some of the people wept.

Wichita Boosters Singing Enlivens Childress Crowds

CHILDRESS, Tex., Sept. 14.—A minstrel composed of 35 white coated and pennant bedecked singers from Wichita Falls arrived in a special pullman at 8 o'clock this morning. The delegation is visiting the Childress fair in the interest of the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition to be held in that city, Oct. 1 to 7, inclusive.

During the forenoon the party escorted by members of the local chamber of commerce and fair officials visited the fair and inspected the agricultural and livestock exhibits and displays. It being Children's Day the stores were all closed, and the merchants aided in showing the visitors a good time.

The members of the delegation were delighted with the Childress fair and said it was one of the best they had visited in either Texas or Oklahoma. The various musical organizations joined with the singers from Wichita Falls and some real jazzy music was given by the combined forces. The singing of R. E. Shepherd was especially appreciated.

The trippers were taken to the races but were forced to leave the fair grounds as a heavy rain started falling at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Friday night the visitors were guests of the Elk's club at a ball at the local Elk's hall. Here before the crowd of dancers Sheppard sang the original "Mr. Galliger and Mr. Sheen" song hit and encored several times, singing some verses of the song that were new here.

The Wichita Falls delegation left for that city at 11 o'clock, and expected to arrive at their home town early Saturday morning.

Pretty Widow, Slain By a Wife, Thought Eternal Triangle Victim

By The Associated Press.

CHILDRESS, Texas, Sept. 14.—The eternal triangle was hinted at as behind the fatal shooting of Mrs. S. A. Maxwell, by Mrs. Albert Whiteside of Hollis, Okla. by officers here this evening.

Two women met for the first time since the county fair here a year ago yesterday evening. One tossed her head and said something to the other.

She started to reach into her handbag but Mrs. Whiteside was first in the draw, and, with five rapid shots from an automatic pistol sent five steel jacketed bullets into the right side of Mrs. S. A. Maxwell, 35, pretty and attractive widow. Mrs. Whiteside quietly handed her smoking revolver over to Sheriff Jim Crane, who was standing within 15 feet of her. Mrs. Whiteside had entered the fair ground with her two daughters, Levetta and Willie Lee, 15 and 17 years old. She had come over from her home in Hollis with a booster crowd of 500 persons.

The fair grounds were full of people and almost a panic resulted when the shooting started. Mrs. Maxwell smiled to those about her as men rushed to her and prevented her from falling to the ground. She was laid down. She still bore a wan smile. Her first request was to send for Albert Whiteside, husband of the woman who had fired the shots. Mrs. Maxwell died late last night.

The Whiteside family is prominent in Oklahoma having a ranch along the state line in Childress and Harmon counties. Her father-in-law was in the fair grounds and with many friends, accompanied Mrs. Whiteside to the sheriff's office where bond was set and made at $5,000.

After bond was made, Mrs. Whiteside returned to her home in Hollis with her mother-in-law. A charge of murder will be filed against Mrs. Whiteside, officers said tonight, but no date has been set for an examining trial.

MINISTER SHOWS HOW TO GET ALONG WITH SHORT CASH

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—How he is supporting a wife and nine children, three of whom attend college, on $1,800 a year was described to the board of review here by Rev. Albert A. Kaltschuk, who protested against a $200 assessment on his library.

"Every last one of my children, down to the baby, is going through college," he said.

"How do I do it? I put them to work in their spare time. They begin to save when they are young for college, and when they are old enough to go they are prepared to pay their bills themselves."

The board declared his personal property exempt.

SLOT MACHINES PAY BIG TAXES

Tax Collectors Are Ferreting Out All Vending Apparatuses

Slot machines are going to pay the state, county and city of Wichita Falls a great amount of taxes. W. R. Hyer, city tax collector, and Guy Raley, county tax collector, Friday morning making a survey of such machines in this city to be sent to the state comptroller and taxes collected in accordance with an act passed at the second call session of the last legislature.

When the the two tax collectors went on their tour of inspection Friday morning, they found more kinds of slot machines than one would think could have ever been invented. The slot machines are, according to the state comptroller, to be judged as units and not in groups and each is to pay a single occupation tax.

In Wichita Falls, Tax Collectors Hyer and Raley found a number of electric fans in hotels which operate by placing a nickel in the slot. When the machine takes in 5 cents the state gets five dollars annually and the county and city $2.50 each, making a total of $10 a year on each fan if a hotel operated by the slot system that will be realized. Some Wichita hotels have 30 of the slot machine electric fans, making $300 revenue that will be paid in taxes from this one source.

Even Peanut Machines.

Every penny peanut machine, and there are hundreds of them in Wichita Falls the tax collectors found out, will have to pay two dollars per each per year tax for the privilege. Then there are millions of gum machines that will net two dollars tax each. Stamp machines in drug stores were also found and these will be taxed. There are 80 slot telephone machines in the city, and the state, county and city will derive a luscious bit of taxes from these.

Weighing machines, player pianos, and phonographs will have to grind out monetary melodies to pay the extra tax.

The Cause Of It.

The tale going the rounds as to the why of the slot machine tax being inaugurated is laid to a legislator. The solon, while on his way to the second call session of the legislature this summer, the story goes, went to a hotel and paid a high price for a room. He thought this should have included an electric fan. He found that he had to put a nickel in the fan slot every quarter hour during the night to keep from suffocating. The legislator is said to have told the hotel manager what he thought of such a procedure and declared war on all slot machines.

Arriving in Austin, he is said to have begun a campaign to pass an airtight slot machine bill. He further found his colleagues were heartily in accord with his ideas on the subject. The bill passed and that's why the Wichita tax collectors are so busy now.

FIERCE BATTLE ONE OF FASTEST IN RING ANNALS

Mighty Argentine Defeated By More Experienced Foe

"JACK" GETS FORTUNE

Champion Almost Loses In Spectacular First Round

By The Associated Press.

RINGSIDE, POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Jack Dempsey tonight retained his world's heavyweight title, knocking out Luis Angel Firpo, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas," in the second round of one of the fiercest, fastest, and most spectacular battle in the history of pugilism.

The champion floored his Argentine challenger five times in the first round and twice in the second round before a short right uppercut to the jaw sent Firpo down for the last time. But in the three minutes and 57 seconds of whirlwind, terrific mauling, Dempsey himself once was knocked clear through the ropes on top of the press benches and, groggy, under a bombardment of mighty rights, once sank to his knees.

Crowd Frenzied.

Before Firpo went hurtling down to defeat carrying with him the shattered hopes of a continent, he gave a vast, frenzied throng of 85,000, one of the most thrilling and courageous ring exhibitions of all time. Battered, bloody and groggy, he showed his marvelous stanima, by coming back with a whirlwind, crushing drive toward the close of the first round that had the title-holder tottering, closer to losing his crown than at any time in his career.

Firpo's Best Fight.

Firpo fought the best fight of his career. The challenger's mighty right was never mightier. Against the relentless power and versatility of the champion's furious attack he went down but in defeat he gained more glory than in any battle of his career. He was beaten, but his menace to the heavyweight throne was not removed.

From the tap of the first gong, these two scowling giants tore at each other with attacks of unrestrained savagery. Firpo was the first to land, when they came to close quarters, but in a flash the champion plunged, shot in a right to the body and a left to the jaw, sending the challenger crashing to the floor on his side.

Argentine's Comeback.

Momentarily dazed, but with eyes ablaze, Firpo rose to his feet after a short count and rushed back. Again he was met by a withering drive and went down for the second and third times. Blood flowed from his mouth, he was stunned and Dempsey let loose the most terrific power of his swings as he sensed victory. Firpo went down twice more and both times it seemed the end had come. But after taking a count of nine on his fifth knockdown, the challenger suddenly sprang at his adversary like a wounded tiger, an infuriated jungle beast.

Swinging with flail like rapidity, and sledge-hammer power, the famous right thrust that had brushed aside all opposition before and swept him to fame, the Argentine rushed at his adversary. Caught unaware by this stunning comeback on the part of the man he had believed beaten into submission, Dempsey reeled under the assault. A right to the side of the head sent Dempsey to his knees and as he arose another swing knocked him from his feet and through the ropes on top of the newspapermen huddled at the edge of the ring.

Dempsey Near Defeat.

Dempsey's knees wavered as he climbed back in. He clinched to save himself. Firpo couldn't follow up his advantage and the bell ended a round that will go down as one of the most sensational of all fighting history. It came to an end with both gladiators on their feet.

Unleashed for the second roupd, they leaped at each other once more. Dempsey again was the quicker on the attack and Firpo went down under the crushing blows of the champion. He arose only to go down once more. Now there was no doubt of the outcome. The challenger, bleeding and tottering, forced himself to his feet, carrying on largely by instinct. Dempsey stepped in, whipped his left to the body and then a short right to the chin that sent Firpo sprawling on his back, staring vacantly at the glare of the lights overhead.

The Last Blow.

The Argentine tried feebly to turn over, to gather strength to rise. His fighting heart called him back to the fray but the body that had withstood one of the most terrific assaults the ring has ever known, could not respond. He lay flat at the count of ten, after 57 seconds of the round had elapsed, and was helped to his corner by the victorious champion.

Crowd Rushes.

Then that vast throng, whipped to a fever pitch of excitement by the sensational struggle of these two slugging gladiators, gave vent to an ovation that echoed and re-echoed from Coogan's Bluff as Dempsey's hand was raised in victory. Ringside spectators rushed for the ring, some hurdled three rows of press benches to get at the champion and lift him to their shoulders. For a moment it seemed that the frenzy might assume the proportions of a riot, but the police, after a struggle, gained control.

And while the American had fulfilled popular expectations and the call, maybe two or three more are turned in and nobody there to attend to them," the detective chief explained. He said under such a system the men did well to attend to routine details, much less give serious time and thought to solving burglary problems.

Only Four At Night.

May said the same situation prevailed at night. A night chief and two detectives are all that are at the city hall to answer every kind of call imaginable. "We have no patrol drivers but have to do that ourselves. There are four policemen on duty at night to look after a city the size of Wichita Falls. How can these be at different places in the business and residence districts at the same time? It is easy to see how these crooks can locate the few scattering officers, know just where they are and pull a burglary. It is a surprise that more stores have not been entered than have," he said.

As proof, the detective chief showed statistics from the city of Tulsa, 75,000 inhabitants, which May submitted in comparison. "Tulsa has 18 detectives, three detective sargeants and a detective chief, or 22 in that department as compared to eight in the Wichita Falls department. Tulsa has 25 patrolmen and Wichita has six. The Tulsa traffic squad has 11 men and we have two. Tulsa has two rooming house inspectors; we have none. Tulsa has a bicycle squad of eight men who ride over the residence section each night and protect property and are on the lookout for thieves. Such thing is unheard of here," he said.

Tried To Locate Burglars.

"This shows what a city a little larger than Wichita Falls is doing to prevent burglaries such as we have had. Of course, we are all working day and night with what few men we have to clear up the burglary situation but we are rushed with new calls every hour of the day, which must be attended to at once. For two weeks, myself and Detective Boone got up at 1 o'clock in the morning and rode this city until daylight, trying to locate those pulling these burglaries. We then worked all day on routine matters, which shows how we were handicapped."

Budget Inadequate.

The budget at the city hall, under which the police department is kept up, is said to be around $38,000 annually. This according to Detective May, makes it impossible to keep up an adequate police force and has resulted in three patrolmen and a detective being laid off the first of the month.

"Let the people of Wichita Falls know the exact way things are standing here at the city hall and then let them criticise us if they still think we are not doing as well as can be expected under existing conditions," May concluded.

PARKER-HUNT WEDDING WAS SURPRISE.

The announcement this week of the marriage of Miss Maydelle Parker and Raymound Hunt last Saturday came as a surprise to their local friends. Both are well known here and have been popular members of the younger social set of the city. They left for Corsicana where Mr. Hunt is employed in the oil industry of that section. The good wishes of their Burkburnett friends go with them to their new home, for their happiness and prosperity.

"GOOD LUCK SHOWER" FOR MRS. N. C. SHEFFER.

The social calendar of the week was featured by a beautiful complimentary party in the form of a "good luck showre" for Mrs. N. C. Sheffer, by two friends, Mrs. Harry Tenbrink and Mrs. R. L. Sparkman, all of the Humble Lease community.

The entertainment was held in the community hall of the Presbyterian church, formerly the Y building, and the room was beautimully decorated in blue and white, centering around a dainty gift table appropriately prepared for the occasion.

More than 30 ladies were in attendance and many other guests, unable to attended, were represented by choice little gifts for the honoree, bespeaking her popularity with hr large circle of friends.

The guest-book bearing the names of those present was a pretty handpainted folder in appropriate design, and following registration, a busy game was introduced where each guest was presented with a square of pink or blue sateen, on which she was asked to embroider her name and a given design, without outline or pattern.

Needless to say this contest gave rise to the afternoon merriment of the social occasion. The first prize left to Mrs. Jess Cook, and a tiny pair of imported Dutch shoes, made of China from Holland, the home of one of the hostesses, Mrs. Ten Brink. The second prize, going to Mrs. J. M. Bristley, was also a bit of bric-a-brac from Dutchland. The booby prize, a nut shaped soap bar, went to Mrs. Artie Sparlin. The finished squares were presented to the honoree with the collection shower to be used in a 'Friendship quilt."

The happy function, which came as a pleasant surprise to Mrs. Sheffer, was concluded with a treat of refreshments with the following menu: Perminto sandwiches, apple pie, pickles, olives and iced tea.

The guests were: Mesdames Forest Travis, Tom Word, W. B. Burgess, N. C. Sheffer, honoree; J. A. Bencie, G. H. Taylor, E. B. Madden, J. W. Ford, W. B. Calhoun, L. L. Blancett, R. L. By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Mayor Joseph Caulfield, of Johnstown, Pa., has ordered all negroes who have resided in that city for a period of less than seven years to leave town, the American Civil Liberties Union announced today it had been informed by Warren Worth Bailey, former Pennsylvania representative and editor of the Johnstown Democrat. The mayor also has issued an order forbidding all future importations of negroes and has announced that he will compel every negro visiting that city in the future to report to either the mayor or the chief of police, the civil liberties union declared i twas informed. Until further orders from the mayor negroes living in Johnstown are prohibited from holding public gatherings and will not be allowed to assemble except for church, it was said.

The organization sent a telegram of protest to Mayor Caulfield and asked him on what authority he issued his orders.

TO OFFER 5 CENT LOAF PIGGLY WIGGLY BUYS BAKERY HERE

Five cent bread became a realty in Wichita Falls with the purchase by the Piggly Wiggly company of the Sanitay Bakery, 809 Ohio street, from Hirscy Brothers, according to C. S. Wyatt, president of the Piggly Wiggly company. As a result five cent bread is available at all Piggly Wiggly stores in the city and at the Piggly Wiggly store in Burkburnett.

While the bakery will be operated in its present location for the time being, new equipment will be purchased and the bakery later removed to 904 Eleventh street, and will be one of the best equipped and most modern bakeries in the state of Texas.

A bakery department is being added to every Piggly Wiggly store, while heretofore stores Number Two and Four only have had this department. The bakery department will include cakes, pies and other pastries, with hot rolls at 11 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. every day.

Joe Hilbey, formerly manager and owner of the Sanitary Bakery, will continue in charge of the bakery under the new ownership. He is one of the best known bakers in the state, and has been in Wichita Falls for the past eighteen years. Frank Hirsey will be superintendent and night baker for the plant and John Maier, who has been in the employ of the Sanitary Bakery for the past seven years, will be the day assistant.

"It was our desire to give the people of Wichita Falls five cent bread through the Piggly Wiggly stores," said Mr. Wyatt. "In order to do this we bought a bakery the product of which is well known to the people of the city and will increase its capacity threefold. No bread will be retailed at the store but will be available at all Piggly Wiggly stores."

Park 'Er Anywhere And Go To Circus

The two hour parking limit will not be enforced today because of the large number of out-of-town persons not acquainted with the city traffic laws who are expected, Police Chief George Hodgins announced Friday.

"We want our visitors to have a good time and don't want the to have spending a good part of the day at the city hall trying to get acquainted with the traffic laws. This does not give anybody license to hitch their Ford to a fire plug or anything like that," Chief Hodgins said.

In order to give perfect police protection to the circus day crowd, Chief Hodgins has put seven extra traffic men on duty. Every precaution to keep the crowd moving and the traffic regulated will be taken, according to the chief of police.

The circus is expected to arrive at Wichita Falls this morning at 10 o'clock, giving plenty of time for unloading before the parade this morning.

The whole family will be there. Home Coming Day. First Christian Church next Sunday.—Adv.

UNION painters are urgently advised to attend meeting Tuesday 18th. Business of importance to be considered. W. S. Martin, fingncial secretary.

COURT FOR TAX APPEALS ASKED

President Is Expected To Throw Weight for New Measure

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 14. Establishment of a court of tax appeals, to be appointed by the president, and composed of citizens not connected with the treasury department, is being urged and may be adopted by the congress which meets in December.

The national chamber of commerce which has a membership of 1,400 business organizations, located in every part of the country, with an underlying membership of 800,000 of the country's leading business men, asks that such a court of tax appeals be authorized to sit in the various centers of the country convenient of access to taxpayers.

Under the administrative features of the law respecting income and other internal revenue taxes hardships and injustices may be caused taxpayers who act in good faith tax specialists of the national chamber argue. New legislation should be enacted, they say, which would enable a taxpayer to have a prompt and conclusive settlement of tax liability, to the end that business enterprises may not be embarrassed by the appearance of liabilities hitherto unknown to exist and which have their origin in revised regulations or in a new interpretation of the law. Each taxpayer should likewise have an opportunity for an impartial hearing of questions arising between him and officials administering the law, and such a hearing should be possible without his undergoing great expense and inconveniences.

Fundamental as these questions are to the rights of citizens, there are other problems of taxation which have far-reaching consequence. Existing situations tend to create classes of privileged persons who enjoy incomes free from taxation while withdrawing their money from the ordinary uses of industry and commerce, with consequences of inequity in shifted burdens of taxation and in other ways.

Such a situation is caused by the possibility of issue of classes of securities the income from which is exempt from income taxes. Other problems are caused by the continuance of some war excise taxes, by rates of tax higher than were ever known outside times of actual war, and by provisions incorporated in the laws levying taxes, experience with which may have demonstrated results contrary to those which were intended.

Many of these problems have had the earlier attention of the national chamber and some of them were discussed at the eleventh annual conference. Their importance is obvious. The annual meeting went on record as expressing gratification that the board of directors had already taken action looking toward an immediate examination of the whole field of federal taxation, and asked that the board request the committee on taxation, which it is about to appoint, to give special attention to the subject of a court of tax appeals.

UNUSUAL TEST IN BLUE GROVE WELL

The Nebraska-Texas Oil & Gas Co. is making an unusual test by prepared chemicals. It is claimed this acid will eat iron and steel. They are making this test on 250-foot drill stem and bit on their well 2,400 feet deep. They have been fishing on this test for the last thirty days. This is a very unusual process and will be watched closely by the oil operators of both Wichita Falls and Henrietta.

STILL CAPTURED IN RIVER BOTTOM

Sheriff officers captured a 50-gallon still and a quantity of mash in a liquor raid in the Red river bottoms Friday afternoon, two men being arrested at the time.

The officers have secured several large stills in the same section of the county the past few months.

Hamadryad, or giant cobra, found in India, Southern China and the Philippines, lives entirely on other snakes.

Vast Communist Agent System Founded On German Espionage

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—"No greater victory short of the overthrow of the federal government could be won by the communists in this country than to bring about recognition of the soviet regime in Russia by this government," it is declared in the last article of a series of six in which the United Mine Workers of America seeks to prove that a plot is afoot to bring about a revolution in this country and Canada, and establish a dictatorship of the communist international from Moscow.

In this document it also is alleged that "the demand for the release of 'political prisoners confined in federal and state prisons is a phase of the revolutionary movement that goes hand in hand with the demand for recognition of the soviet republic."

It is charged further that the nub of the communist movement on the American continent "is an outgrowth of, and, to a certain extent, a continuation of the German espionage system here during the war." Says the author of the articles

"A recognized government is entitled to a consulate in every city, and a consular staff may be as large as desired and may do what it wants to do. The first thing the soviets might be expected to do in the United States, if accorded recognition would be to establish 'consulates' in all the leading cities. The 'underground' revolutionary organization centered around the communist party of America would then be able to come to the surface and start its work with renewed impetus.

"With the diplomatic doors open to them the soviets could bring in men and money as they desired. While the possibility of their overthrowing the American government is not to be conceded, one of the major lines of defense against them would be removed; they would be afforded unlimited opportunities for revolutionary work, and energies that are sorely needed for constructive effort in America would be dissipated in fighting the serpent in the house.

"Deportations of alien communists would be halted and the 'Red' agents of Moscow, when arrested in this country, could demand the 'protection' of the consulates and diplomatic emissaries of the communist international."

The German espionage system which communists in America are alleged to have taken over is described as an organization recruited by agents of the Kaiser from among the malcontents and disloyalists of the United States. "Large numbers of anarchists, syndicalists, agitators, would-be revolutionists, enemies of the government and individuals who had been convicted of crime, were enlisted in this service." An undercover as well as a surface organization is said to have been established.

After the flow of German money for maintenance of the espionage system was stopped during the war and the soviet regime gained control of Russia, the German workers in America are said to have offered their services to Lenin and Trotsky. They "held out the prospect that with proper cultivation the revolutionary units already existing in the United States could quickly mobilize the labor unions and trade unionists for an armed uprising, with seizure and overthrow of the government and the establishment of a soviet dictatorship.

"Today the Bolshevik organization in America is better systematized, more co-ordinated and has a larger range of activities than it ever had before. These activities are expanding in scope. The communist organization is real and effective and, from a skeleton organization drafted by the Germans, has multiplied many times in strength and scope of action until today it has ramifications that reach into virtually every labor union, every industry, every community and most of the phases of American life."

The communists are held to be "hopeful of controlling the next convention of the American Federation of Labor in October, and are carefully working now to control a majority of the delegates that attend it. They are hopeful that a nation-wide strike of the coal miners will take place next April which will afford them the opportunity to attempt again the seizure of the union through revolutionary methods, as they attempted in the strike of 1922."

William Z. Foster, head of the Trade Union Educational league, is alleged to have declared at a communist meeting at Pittsburgh last June that the one-big-union idea already had been adopted by 13 state federations of labor and that federations in other states gave promise of doing likewise.

Names of the 45 major communist organizations in the United States and Canada are changed frequently, says the writer of the article. It is set forth as Lenin's idea that "when the stigma of communism is definitely attached to a 'surface' organization, it should be merged into a new group."

Finally, the United Mine Workers charges that:

"More than $1,000,000 for the communist movement was raised in this country under the guise of Russian famine relief. This money was deposited in banks in New York and Chicago in the name of relief committees and eventually found its way after passing through various other banks accounts, into the hands of the real communist emissaries in the United States."

Goree News

The Stamford District Epworth league will hold their annual institute in Goree on September 21, 22 and 23rd, at the Methodist church. A number of very prominent speakers of the church are expected to be here for the institute. The Rev. Ancil Lynn of Wembo Nyama, Congo Beige, Africa, will lecture here on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. Lynn is a missionary to Africa from the North west Texas conference and is now at home on a furlough.

E. L. Covey, president of the Goree chamber of commerce, has called a mass meeting for next Tuesday night to consider a road building program for this part of Knox county. Members of the Munday chamber of commerce will attend the meeting and effort will be made to come to agreements of a program for building the principal highways of this section.

The commissioners court voted to discontinue the work of the county farm demonstrator and home economic agents of the county at the expiration of their present contracts which will be December 1st of this year. Protests are being sent in from all parts of the county against the action of the court.

The primary class of the Christian church and a few little friends were entertained with a picnic Saturday afternoon by the teacher, Mrs. N. W. Roberts. A "wenie" roast proved a delight to all. Many good things to eat were provided and the little folks returned home rather late but very happy.

About 75 citizens of Seymour visited Goree boosting their fair to be held there from the 20th to 22nd. Hon. O. O. Newton was spokesman for the boosters and stated that they would have one of the best district fairs to be held in Texas this year.

County agent Cantrell is collecting agricultural products to exhibit at the Seymour fair. Mr. Cantrell states that the exhibit will likely be sent to the Texas-Oklahoma and Dallas fairs also. While the dry weather has cut out the crops short to some extent, the exhibit from Knox county will be fairly good.

Mrs. Ora Brickhouse and son, Harold, have moved to Denton, where Harold will enter school at the State Teachers college.

John Britton of Benjamin has accepted a position here with the First National bank.

Firm, Plump Flesh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, keen and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.

S. S. S., since 1826, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

EVERYBODY'S FAIR.

Day by day the Texas-Oklahoma fair is drawing nearer and nearer. Likewise, as each day passes, it is becoming larger and larger.

The Fair Association is highly appreciative of the reception the fair boosters have been receiving in towns they have visited on their recent trips to points in this territory. Indications are that the good folks of Wichita Falls neighbors view the Texas-Oklahoma Fair as their fair.

This is as it should be. It is their fair. No one should labor under the delusion that it is solely a Wichita Falls proposition. It just so happens that Wichita Falls is the logical place for the holding of this great enterprise, and the business men of Wichita Falls are more than glad to do all the work they can and put their energies into it, to make it a success worthy of the great territory it embraces.

Indications point to the greatest fair in the history of this section of the country this year. This is only because of the loyal support of the men and women who have made the Texas-Oklahoma Fair possible.

THE WILL OF A GOOD CITIZEN.

Men recive the greatest credit for their wordly deeds after death has claimed them. This is a truth that is demonstrated countless times, and while it is regretable that a man should have to wait until he receives the final summons before his worth is fully recognized, such is nearly always the case.

It is true, too that little side-lights on the lives of many men do not become known until we search the records they left behind. When Warren G. Harding died a nation mourned him. He left his cares and worries behind him, and when he was gone, those who admired him most, thought not so much of his station in life, but of the example of honest manhood he set for those who follow him.

There is much of his kindly character brought to light in his will, recently probated. Not only did he provide amply for his widow and his aged father, but it would seem that he forgot no one who had rendered service to him. Aside from a number of relatives, the late president remembered the manager of The Marion Star, formerly the president's newspaper, the treasurer of that company; left $25,000 to the park system of Marion, bequeathed a sum of money to his church. It would seem that nothing was omitted.

Mr. Harding even made the request that no part of bequest to Mrs. Harding be used in the erection of any monument to him aside from a simple stone to mark his grave. Certainly a man who was so thoughtful of others was worthy of the confidence of the people, and will be missed not only as the head of a great nation, but, what is more, as a worthy and useful citizen.

RANCHMEN COMING BACK.

Texas ranchmen have had their lean years and their fat years. They had their fat years in war time. They had their leanest years after the coming of peace. They had drouths, they had fearful slumps in prices, they found themselves overstocked with high priced steers, they found themselves heavily indebted to the money loaners of the country and disaster was the portion of thousands of the live stock raisers of the southwest.

El Paso is the last of the cow towns of the southwest. Former state senator Richard M. Dudley is the mayor of El Paso. Dudley knows the ranchmen and the ranchmen know Dudley. This blunt pioneer citizen of the southwest predicts that the ranchmen are coming back and he knows whereof he speaks.

"We are having some fine weather out here and for the first time in five years the plains of West Texas and southwest Texas and of Arizona and New Mexico are covered with green," he writes. "Lots of rain has fallen and to my mind the era of return of prosperity to our ranchmen has begun. They have been in bad condition with debts and few cattle but for the first time in five years they have lots of grass and water, and you know the ranchmen of the southwest can come back as fast as a rubber ball if you will give them a chance."

An era of high priced meat is here. It has been here for a long time. According to the federal department of agriculture the population of the nited States is increasing at such a rate that the exportation of American beef will cease in the near future. Great Britain has been a great buyer of American beef for years and these governmental experts say that in the near future Great Britain must look to South American countries for its beef supply.

Cotton has come back with a vengence, assisted by the drought and the weevil. Corn is in demand at a fancy price, and the swine breeders of the southwest are not cursing the government, calling for relief legislation or threatening to run amuck, politically speaking. Top prices are nearing ten dollars per hundred and this keeps the swine breeders in a happy frame of mind.

If it were possible to pay the wheat grower of the northwest $1.25 a bushel Magnus Johnson would be short lived as an American senator. Just now cotton promises to be the gold crop of the world, with a scant supply and a maximum world demand.

Recent advices from the industrial centers of Japan show that the textile industries were unharmned by quake or fire or water and that the spinners of Japan are facing the future with a grim determination to win.

Japs are fatalists. They are undismayed. They accept that which the gods send and do the best they can. If the Japanese gods are angry, then the destroying elements devastate life and property. If the gods are in a mellow mood they shower their blessings upon their subjects.

Already the Japanese government has appropriated 250 million dollars for the relief of the victims of disaster and hordes of Japanese workmen are clearing away the debris of the three fold visitation which swept their country. When a jap is overwhelmed he digs himself out. He may be hurt but he doesn't whine.

Ah Ha, My Proud Beauty, Now We Have You!

So Goes It

By B. H.

The man who said he couldn't find work is now in hiding since cotton pickers are so badly needed.

The woman who sued her husband because he filled her teeth with silver instead of gold. Judging from the description of her husband, she should be thankful he didn't knock her teeth out.

Now that the Dempsey-Firpo fight is a thing of the past the "I-told-you-so" club will convince immediately and remain in session indefinitely.

Those who are discouraged should remember that all big men were little fish once on a time.

Promises are easier made than kept as any politician will tell you. Many politicians make promises they fully expect to keep and the public takes their word for it. But the crowd, being for the politician, or for his promise, accepts it as its face value. When he starts to deliver, he finds out everybody isn't for him. Moral: The less you promise, the less you will have to fulfill. Flawless logic.

Lizzie Frizzle says she may go through life single, but one thing is certain: She'll never marry a man with one of those awning moustaches.

One of our correspondents sent in an item about "thirty odd women" participating in some social function. If we had printed that we would have been visited by a delegation of the entire thirty-odd.

The Colonization Questionaire. THE GEOGRAPHICAL DISTRIBUTION OF REPLIES.

Yesterday we stated that over 50 per cent had replied and that based on the number that were in a position to dispose of their land this amounted to about 62 per cent.

However, not all the replies received were replies in the sense that they gave information. One or two wrote letters instead of answering the questions. A few wrote on the questionaire that they did not care to answer. A few others sent the questionaires in perfectly blank with no indication of who was sending it. All of this was to be expected and must be allowed for.

What was really the most important item of all was the geographical distribution of the holdings of those who replied. A search of an ownership map of the project discloses the fact that according to ownership of land the people who answered were well distributed over the project.

Every man has his own individual views of every subject, but of necessity his views are more or less influenced by the opinions of his neighbors and associates. With this thought in mind it is apparent that the questionaires must represent closely the general sentiment of the land owners towards the questions asked.

The matter of opinion of the land owners in regard to the various matters taken up is of course unstable. As the various phases of colonization are taken up and they become better acquainted with the facts it may well be that opinions held on certain subjects will change; to illustrate—many people thought a year ago that district No. 2 would not vote its bonds, yet when the bond issue was voted on some months later is passed almost without opposition.

WHAT TODAY MEANS

BY MARY BLAKE.

VIRGO.

Until 5 p. m. the aspects incline to activity and to execution, but also somewhat to haste and carelessness with danger of controversy. If the unpleasant features of the influences can be overcome, the energy they liberate can be used to accomplish much work or to indulge yourself in profuse pleasure.

A child born today will be quite and steady and in disposition but may develop a tendency to cruelty.

These are the masters of destiny born today, the men and women who who make their lives what they will because they are superior to their own emotions.

If today is your birthday you should be determined, resolute and relentless in the application of what you know to be right principles to your own account as well as the conduct of others. Your gravest fault is not one of righteousness so much as out of intelligence. You do what you always think is right but you don't always think right for your mind is neither analytical nor plastic. You accept the principles of everyday morality without question and you apply them without leniency and without generosity and always overlooking the fact that there is hardly a principle in all ethics which has not at different times been in history both right and wrong.

You are potentially cruel and only the constant association of generous and sympathetic people will prevent your developing this proclivity.

You have an appreciation of art, literature and music but are afraid of gratifying your tastes in them. You are fond of outdoor life, but here again you will not permit yourself the enjoyment of this one indulgence that knows no excess.

Emotionally you are tempestuous because you are constantly repressed, and what affection you do occassionally show finds you so clumsy and unnatural in the showing that it carries no credence. If you do marry at all, it will be late in life after you have learned much from the school of experience.

Successful people born on your birthday are:

Daniel Allen Reed, U. S. senator.
William H. Taft, ex-president of U. S.
Horatio Parker, composer.

New Bowie Mill.

BOWIE, Texas, Sept. 14.—Accepting an invitation extended by the Textile committee of the chamber of commerce, L. W. Robert of Atlanta, representing the Cannon-Robert cotton milling interest of North Carolina and Georgia, will visit Bowie between September 20 and 25 and inspect the sites offered for the establishment of one of the companies mills here. Mr. Robert is in Texas on a tour of inspection of the various cities seeking a location for additional textile mills in this state.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

A Convenience for the "Cutter."

One Mother Says:

When my small son wants to "cut" I put a sheet down on the floor and put him in the middle of it with round-pointed scissors and some old magazines. He can cut to his heart's content, for it is a very easy matter for me to gather up the sheet and empty all the tiny scraps into the wastebasket.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

TO GENEVIEVE

I heard you singing, Genevieve,
Of all the hallowed joys
You knew before you had to leave
Your home in "Illinoise."
Your singing brought me real distress
For you seemed unaware,
That people don't pronounce the "S"
Out there.

You warbled that you wished you might
Be at your mother's knee.
And learn from her dear lips to write
Your little a, b, c.
This put me rather ill at ease;
A tear or two it brought,
For that is not how a, b, c's
Are taught!

You sang about the Wabash's waves
Which you can hear afar
As they're flowing past the graves
Where your dear parents are.
The words were very sad, but still
My soul they did not cloy:
The Wabash, child, is not in Illinois.

You sang, I think, how much you yearn
To visit that dear spot
And that you're meaning to return,
But you had better not.
If you decide to go back there
There'll be a pretty mess;
Particularly if you wear
That dress.

BONDED WAREHOUSE SURVEY IS COMING

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 14.—An extensive survey of bonded warehouses is now being made by the state marketing department according to Commissioner Charles Baughman. The survey covers financial conditions of warehouse companies in particular.

Through such reports the department is able to keep a record of financial status of all warehouse firms, it is said. Two such reports are required annually; the other is due about March 1.

Questionaires sent out by the department to warehouse managers cover every phase of operation. Capital stock, amount paid in, amount of warehouse bond, when it expires, class of comodities stored, insurace carried, and methods of weighing are among the general questions asked.

A series of questions, also, is asked regarding the storing of cotton, rates, damage received, and who handles the product. Another series of questions covers in particular grain products, asking capacity of bins, number, character of construction, etc. Fire protection of warehouses is another subject dealt with. Qualifications of warehousemen are also solicited in the questionaires.

Reports from the questionaires are now being received by the warehouse division.

Did anyone ever say to you—?

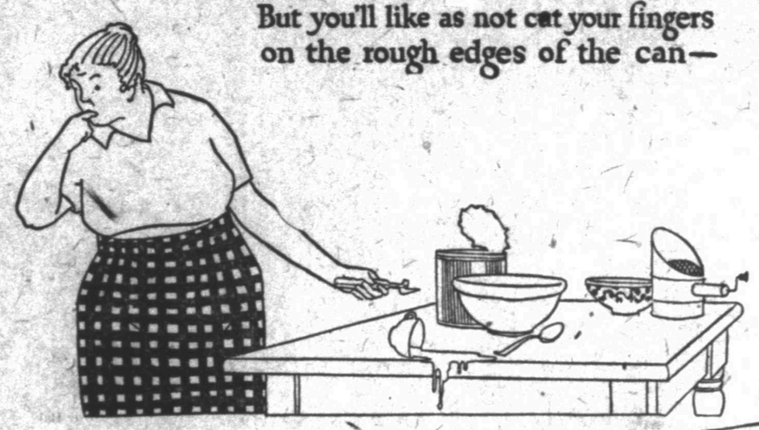

"YES. I know any fat is better when it's fresh.
But only an air-tight can will keep it fresh and you've got to tote a tin can like a watermelon—

"YES. I know. To keep fat really fresh the can has got to be really air tight.
But about the only way to get into a really airtight can is with a chop-axe —

"YES. Of course fresh shortening is worth some extra trouble.
But you'll like as not cut your fingers on the rough edges of the can—

YES. After you've once got the can open, of course fresh fat is fine to cook with.
But how are you going to keep it nice and clean in an open tin can, unless you hold an umbrella over it — well now!

THE NEW bucket is absolutely airtight, so that Snowdrift is sweet and fresh.
It has a handy handle.
It's as easy to open as winding the clock—a little key peels off a strip of tin, without leaving any rough, ragged edges.
A well-fitting cover goes back on.
And we tried to improve the looks of the new bucket, while we were at it. It is blue and white.

Spudders Take Opening Game From Crabs

KUNZ HOLDS VISITORS WHILE SPUDDERS WALLOP MACK FOR ENOUGH HITS TO WIN EASILY

Bob Barrett Pounds Pill For Circuit in Second; Heavy Hitting Features Opening Battle Of Last Series Of Ball Season.

BY DON WELDON.

The Spudders romped on the Galveston Sand Crabs in the opening game of the last series yesterday afternoon, trimming the visitors easily, 12 to 6. Kunz, in the box for the Bergerites, had things all his own way and from the start the Spudders had little trouble in keeping a safe margin.

Mack, who worked for Galveston, seemed to be off form and the Spudders pounded him hard for 13 hits. He let seven locals to first on balls, and only struck out two batters, while Kunz struck out six.

The Spudders took first blood in the opening frame, when Tanner scored Weiss, who had walked, with a hard hit double to the right field wall. The visitors evened the count in the second, but in the last half of the inning the locals again took the lead when Barrett clouted a long home run over the left field wall. The ball was one of the hardest hit of the season and went for the circuit against a hard wind, clearing the fence by feet.

The fourth was the big inning for the home crew, and they marked up six runs, garnered with three hits and a bunch of walks that put them in position to count. In the fifth they got four more runs, while the Sand Crabs attempt to rally in the sixth, which netted four counters, was not sufficient to tie the count.

The game was a wild one from the start, featured by hard hitting, with a home run, a three base bingle and seven two sack wallops pounded out fare of Mary Larmonmfdtardaddd in eight and a half frames. The Spudders won in spite of a handicap of three errors, which failed to materially count against them.

In the fourth inning the Spudders started a wild base running streak that cinched the game for them with six runs. Berger and Barrett walked, scoring the two first runs of the inning when Bischoff hit a hard two bagger to right field, Kunz hit safely, Bischoff taking third, and after making one attempt that sent him scurrying safely back to third, Bischoff stole home for a counter. Locker and Weiss walked, and scored on Tanner's timely single, Cotter scoring Tanner with a safe bingle to center.

After Barrett was out in the fifth inning, Bischoff singled to right and went to second on Kunz's safe bingle to left. When Macks wild pitch bounced of Wendell glove, Bischoff scored and Kunz took second. Bescher singled over second, scoring Kunz and Coombs fliend to second. Beseber, and scored on Tanner's single to right. Tanner stole second, but was not advanced.

Four safe wallops in the sixth frame gave the visitors a start toward a knotted count, but they were unable to make the grade and failed to get within striking distance of the Spudder score.

Neither team counted in the last three innings of play, and Kunz and Mack settled down to the business of holding the batters. Mack got better and the Spudders found him hard to hit in the latter frames, and had to be content with the big lead already garnered, while the Sand Crabs found Kunz too much from the start.

JACK DEMPSEY

most venturesome predictions of critics by his short and spectacular triumph, the challenger received an ovation in defeat for the fight that marked him among the most corageous battlers who ever sought the world's title.

Dempsey won because he was the "Dempsey of Toledo," the smashing, mauling, relentless assailant who battered Jess Willard into submission four years ago and ascended the heavyweight throne. Firpo proved himself a dangerous challenger despite the briefness of his stand against the champion, but his inexperience, the lack of an all-around fighting equipment to re-enforce his powerful right, caused his downfall in the face of Dempsey's superior speed and generalship. The outcome proved that sheer strength and hitting power alone, plus a courageous heart, could not survive against experienced skill, experience about and equally as formidable punching prowess.

Dempsey had to call on his all to survive that withering comeback of Firpo's in the first round after the Argentine had been floored five times. But the fact that he had the reserve, the stamina and courage to weather that sudden and terrific storm and emerge triumphant demonstrated conclusively that he is the present-day "champion of champions," and in the belief of those who saw him tonight, one of the greatest of all time.

Dempsey's victory answered the riddle of his battle with Tommy Gibbons at Shelby, Mont., last July. It proved that the champion had not lost his punch, that Gibbons lasted the limit simply because he waged a defensive fight, intent upon staying the limit, and that against a foe ready to struggle toe-to-toe, Dempsey can give and take the mightiest of punches, and, in the end, win.

Dempsey Gets Fortune.

Dempsey gained a fortune with his victory tonight, for he will receive close to a half million dollars as his share of the gate receipts, estimated at $1,270,000 by Promoter Tex Rickard, a figure second only to the record "gate" of $1,600,000 established two years ago by the Dempsey-Carpentier battle at Jersey City.

The champion's share, 37 1-2 per cent of the gross receipts approximated $480,000, while Firpo, whose share was 12 1-2 per cent, will receive about $160,000, twice as much as he got for any previous fight.

Round One.

Dempsey missed a left hook to the chin and dug right to Firpo's body, sending him to his knees. Dempsey floored Firpo with a left hook to the jaw but he staggered to his feet at a count of one. The champion sent him crashing to the floor for the third time with a hard right to the jaw but he did not take a count. Dempsey fighting furiously, knocked him to the floor for the fourth time with a right to the chin. When he got up, Dempsey chased Firpo to a neutral corner, flooring him with a right and left to the chin for the fifth knockdown. Firpo, battling like a tiger, chased Dempsey to the side of the ring, knocking him through the second and top ropes with a savage right to the jaw. The champion, bleeding from the mouth, was groggy. Firpo pounded the dazed Dempsey on the jaw with the sledge-hammer rights when the round ended. Firpo also was bleeding from the mouth as he went to his corner.

Round Two.

Firpo swung a right to Dempsey's shoulder. Dempsey hooked a left to the chin and then drove both fists to the body and the challenger fell to the floor. Firpo, bleeding and groggy, was cornered and floored for the second time, but he quickly jumped to his feet. Dempsey chased Firpo to the center of the ring, whipping over a left hook and a right to the chin, knocking the giant Argentine flat. With blood trickling from his mouth, Firpo rolled over on his back, while Referee Gallagher counted him out.

PRELIMINARIES

By The Associated Press.

POLO GROUNDS, New York, Sept. 14.—Close to 50,000 fans had jammed their way into the Pole Grounds, while tens of thousands more swarmed in at every entrance, when the first preliminary to the Dempsey-Firpo title match was called. The opening fisticuffs brought together Leo Brown of Australia, and Dan Bright of England, in a six round set-to.

The first preliminary was over before either fighter had a chance to warm up, Dan Bright, English heavyweight knocking out Brown in 58 seconds of the first gong. A ring swing to the jaw sent Brown sprawling for the count. Brown weighed 207 and Bright 208.

Charley Nashert, Jersey City, light heavyweight, received the judge's decision over Frank Koebele, of Brooklyn, one of Firpo's sparring mates, in the second preliminary, a four round, added attraction. Koebele, battered badly about the head and body, was dropped for counts in the first and third rounds and was barely hanging on at the final bell. Both weighed 172.

Mike Burke, of Greenwich Village, battered Al Roberts of Staten Island into defeat in the third preliminary of six rounds. Roberts absorbed terrific punishment about the head and was barely able to keep on his feet, bloody and groggy, he reeled about the ring under a fusillade of blows. Burke weighed 173 1-2 and Roberts 188.

Bartley Madden, west side heavyweight, won the judge's verdict over Leo Gates of Harlem, in the fourth preliminary, a slow 12 rounder. Madden weight 182 and Gates 199.

10 STEAMERS TO SAIL WITH COTTON

By The Associated Press.

GALVESTON, Texas, Sept. 14.—Ten steamers with 119,000 bales of cotton crammed into their holds are scheduled to sail from Galveston before midnight Saturday night in order to protect September 15 sailings. POLICE MADE 'EM MOVE LAST NIGHT

"The best work we have ever done since the new ordinance was last night with the large crowds in the business part of town to get the prize fight returnes," Police Chief George Hodgins said last night.

There were more motor vehicles in the business section last night than in months, but the work of the traffic officers prevented congestion.

SAN ANGELO, TEXAS FORBIDS MASKS

By The Associated Press.

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Sept. 14.—The San Angelo city commission at its meeting this morning instructed the city attorney to draft an ordinance prohibiting the appearance of masked persons on the street here. The ordinance will be acted upon next Friday, it was announced.

W. B. Wilson, chief of police, recommended the adoption of such a measure after permission for a parade of the ku klux klan had been asked informally recently of Mayor Burns Yancy and the police chief. The request was referred to the city commission which ruled that application for such a permit must be submitted formally in person or writnig. This has not been done.

WOMEN AND BABES DIE IN N. Y. FIRE

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Four persons were burned to death in a fire in a five-story tenement house in Sheriff street on the east side today and fears were expressed for the safety of other members of the 16 families who occupied the building. Firemen rescued 20 women and children.

The fire mushroomed through the building with great rapidity, but the firemen brought the blaze under control after a two hour fight. In searching through the ruins on the third floor the bodies of three women and a baby were discovered, all badly charred.

Policemen.

New York police officers use hand signal lights to aid in directing traffic. Electricity is supplied by a small pocket storage battery. The lamp is the size of a watch and is fastened to the wrist by a strap. Wires connecting the lamp with the battery run through the sleeve, and when the officer raises his hand to stop traffic the light flashes red.

TRIPLE PLAY BURNS UNASSISTED IN GAME

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—A triple play unassisted by George Burns, Boston first baseman, occurred in the second inning of the Boston-Cleveland game here today which the home club won, 4 to 3, in 12 innings. Stephenson opened the second inning with a single to center, Lutzke walked. Brower's liner was caught by Burns who reached out and tagged Lutzke on the base line. Stephenson was well on his way to third and Burns dashed to second and slid into it a few feet ahead of Stephenson, thereby completing the triple play, the fourth in big league history.

MEXICO NOW HAS A KU KLUX KLAN

Members Wear Black Robes and Trust to Pistols More Than Words

By The Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY.—The ku klux klan has appeared in Mexico but thus far has confined its activities to visits to newspaper offices and to writing communications to the press. The klansmen wear black robes and hoods and are chary with words, emphasizing their arguments with pistol flourishes. Their only entrance into public affairs has been a cleanup campaign conducted at Tacubaya, a suburb.

ADDITIONAL SPACE AT THE BOWIE FAIR

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, Texas, Sept. 14.—Additional space for the holding of the livestock and poultry exhibits of the Bowie fair, October 4-5-6, has been secured by the fair comittee of the chamber of commerce. The wagon yard of "Uncle Bill" Lunn, adjoining the armory, has been leased and it is planned to place the poultry and hogs in this space.

This step was made necessary when it was found that the grounds of the artillery stable in the rear of the armory would be inadequate to hold the many entries that have been promised. Much interest is being manifested in the fair by the farmers of the trade territory of Bowie and the success of the fair is assured from the start.

Bowie School Opening.

BOWIE, Texas, Sept. 14.—A total of 784 pupils have been enrolled in the Bowie public schools which opened for the 1923-24 session last Monday. The enrollment started Saturday when the members of the eighth grade reported for assignments.

There are 199 students enrolled in the high school, with 55 of this number in the senior class. The East Ward school has the greatest number of pupils in the grades there being 207 assigned to this school. The North Ward school has 127 enrolled and the South Ward 131 to date.

Irish wolfhound, theoretically, is the oldest breed of dogs in Great Britain, although in practice the modern hound, is a recent revival of an almost extinct species.

COTTON REACTS FROM ADVANCE

Goes Up $2 Per Bale And Breaks But Close Is Steady

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—An early advance of approximately $2.00 per bale in the cotton market here today was followed by reactions. December contracts broke from 27.03; the early high level, to 27.23, and closed at 27.35, with the general market closing steady, net 20 points higher to 10 points lower. Closing prices on the active months were about 8 to 19 points net higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 20 to 31 points. October sold up to 27.97 and January to 27.20, but offerings increased as prices approached the 28 cent level. The selling pressure gradually increased and the market was rather weak during the afternoon, October sold off to 27.54 and January to 26.80 making declines of about 38 to 51 points from the early high levels on the general list. One of the private mid-month crop reports placed the cotton condition at 54 and the indicated crop at 11,300,000 bales.

Port receipts today were 27,674. U. S. port stocks 354,658. Exports today 6,190 making 382,052 so far this season.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 14.—In the early trading in cotton today there was a rapid rise of 39 to 42 points, carrying the October position up to 27.19, but after the heavy buying orders were filled the market made no further display of strength and during a good part of the remainder of the session was barely steady with a tendency to say, at one time being almost down to the level of yesterday's close, and finaly closing at net gains on the day of but 20 to 12 points. The closing range on October was from 26.89 to 26.93.

RAILROADS APPLY FOR FORMER RATES

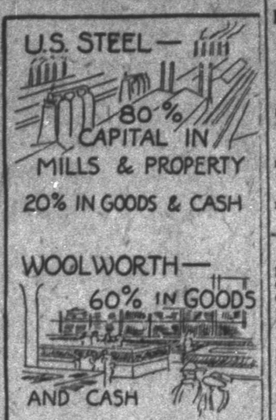

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 14.—Railroads are submitting testimony in their application for restoring freight rates on lumber to a mileage basis between southeast Texas points, and from shipping points to Texas ports.

The application is being opposed by lumber shippers, commercial organizations, and representatives of port cities. The case will probably occupy several days.

The proposed rate schedule offered by railroads would increase rates from principal sawmill points over present special rates, and in some instances would lower the present mileage scale rates from other points.

Tentative scales of rates for all railroads in southeast Texas have been laid before the railroad commission.

MONEY At Work

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments.

To determine how much working capital any particular business should have, compare it with other successful concerns in the same line.

As was stated here yesterday, the handling of working capital is a good test of managerial efficiency.

There is no hard and fast rule that a business needs to keep a set percentage of its total assets in working capital.

A ten cent store needs most of its capital in goods and cash. 60 per cent of Woolworth's capital is kept liquid. U. S. Steel, on the other hand, has about 80 per cent of its capital invested in fixed assets, and only 20 per cent liquid.

Both companies are well-managed and highly successful.

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—Selling power was again exerted against today's stock market but better resistence was offered and net loss, as a rule, was held to a point or less.

Marland Oil, the dividend on which was passed yesterday, dropped 2 1-2 points to 22, a new low record for the year.

Net losses of a point or so were established by Baldwin, Woolen, Corn Products, American Can, Famous Players, International Paper and Allis Chalmers. DuPont broke 5 1-2 points to 123 1-2; Mexican Petroleum, making its first appearance on the tape in about six weeks, sold at 182, off 28 points.

Davison Chemical moved against the current trend, crossing 53 then falling back to 50 1-2, where it was up 1 1-2 on the day. Gulf States Steel touched 80 3-8 but eased later to 77 7-8, up 5-8.

United States Steel was again in supply, touching 88 1-2, a new low on the movement.

Heavy buying on French and Belgian francs and Italian Lire, all of which registered substantial gains, was the feature of the foreign exchange market. French francs jumping 10 points to 5.84 cents and Belgian Francs quoted at 4.85 1-2 cents, recorded a similar gain. Italian Lire sold around 4.45 1-2, up 6-1-2 points. Demand sterling held steady around 4.54.

Call money opened at 5 1-2 per cent, eased to 5 thence to 4 1-2, where it closed. Time funds were quoted at 5 3-4 per cent for the first time this year, but all bids were still being made at 5 1-2 per cent. Commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Chinese must pay approximately 20 per cent more than we for American made goods, the extra cost covering freight, insurance, landing charges, customs duties, portage to warehouse in China, storage costs, all retail selling costs there and profit.

AVERAGE WHEAT PRICE IS LOWER

Increasing Arrivals of New Wheat at Winnipeg Affects Market

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Notwithstanding numerous upturns, wheat averaged lower in price today largely as a result of increasing arrivals of new wheat at Winnipeg. The market here closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 1-2 cent down with December 1.02 5-8@3-4 and May 1.08 1-8. Corn finished at a range varying from 1-8@1-4 cent decline to 1-4 cent advance, oats 1-8 to 1-4 cent up and provisions at 5 to 22 cents gain.

Corn was easy with wheat despite complaints of damage by frost. Oats was firm owing to scantiness of receipts here.

Higher quotations on hogs strengthened the provision market.

SHALLOW OIL SAND MAY EXTEND POOL

HENRIETTA, Texas, Sept. 14.—Allen & Foster have skidded their rig and begun a new hole in their Boddy No. 1 well, located on the M. Carabajal survey one-half mile north of the city limits. A broken joint caused trouble on the first hole and it was necessary to skid the rig over and start a new hole.

William H. Dunning, Jr., has 6 5-8 inch casing and is water-reaming at 2,900 feet in the Hapgood well seven miles southeast of Henrietta, in southwest corner of block 62, Marion county school lands. Drilling of this well is being forwarded to the contract depth of 3,500 feet.

John O'Neil is drilling at 1,350 feet in his rotary test on the Theodore Kuykendall farm, three miles west of Henrietta, John Levis survey, abstract No. 291.

Mix and Moore report a good oil sand found at 1,140 feet in their test on the F. M. Hull lands, D. E. E. Brannon survey, which is located approximately four miles northwest of the Henrietta-Petrolia oil and gas field. It is expected that this sand will produce more than 50 barrels per day of high-grade oil, and development in the vicinity will be stimulated quite a bit from the present showing.

Fort Worth Livestock.

By The Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 14.—When all were in, receipts were close 2,000 head of cattle and 700 head of calves Friday. Prices held to a generally steady level, but the calf trade displayed signs of weakening and the deal was called steady to 25 cents lower. Some light steers went at 6.50 and a car of medium weight cattle brought 6.00. Odd steers closed at 7.00.

Mixed shipment predominated in the butcher stock division. Prices made the usual range, good cows going from 4.00 to 4.35, fair to good cows making 3.00 to 3.75, cutter 2.00 and 2.65, and canner 1.50 to 1.65. Bulls were taken at values that were within a general range of 3.00 to 3.72. Calves sold at 7.00. The best carloads cleared at 6.00 to 6.25.

Packers were trying to force hog values slightly downward and salesmen were attempting to raise the level, the result being a generally steady market. The carlot top was 9.00. Bulk sales made a spread of 8.50 to 8.85. Hog receipts were closed to 1,000 head. Pigs were plentiful with a big decline of about 75c. The good kinds were selling around 6.25. The sheep market was steady. A few choice lambs sold at 12.50. Receipts amounted to only 2.00.

Delivering coal by the vacuum cleaner principal in drawing the smaller-sized lumps into a suction pipe that delivers them to their bin, is being used by a manufacturer in the middle west.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Potato Soup—Four medium sized potatoes, one small onion, one stalk celery, two cups milk, one tablespoon butter, one-half tablespoon flour, salt and pepper to taste. Cook potatoes, onion and celery, which have been cut into small pieces, in as little water as possible until tender. Melt the butter, add flour and gradually add the milk, stirring until smooth. Put in the vegetables and serve. Or the vegetables may be run through a strainer before being added. This makes a smooth thick soup.

Spaghetti with Over-Left Meat—Cook spaghetti in salted water until tender. Two cupfuls of chopped meat, two onions cut fine, one green pepper, cook until vegetables are tender. Tomatoes may also be cooked with this or one pint of canned tomatoes may be used. Add any leftover vegetables you may have on hand or one can of peas and one of mushrooms. Adds spaghetti and serve on platter with grated cheese sprinkled on top.

COOKING BY TEMPERATURE

Housekeepers have long used temperature standards in cooking candies, but have not gunged their general cooking by the oven temperature as much as they might well have done nor have they done their deep fat frying by that method. But this is one of the most certain ways of getting results.

No matter what sort of fat is used,

'NOTHING LIKE STELLA VITAE'

Mrs. Ray Is Restored To Health After Suffering A Complete Breakdown.

"After my first child was born my health broke down completely. I was so weak and run down I couldn't do my housework. Headaches bothered me constantly, my appetite failed and I hardly ate enough to keep going.

"My mother said there was nothing like Stella Vitae and she kept after me till I took two bottles. I grew stronger and more energetic, have a fine appetite, enjoy my food and sleep like a baby at night."

Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief.—Adv

Hagenback-Wallace Circus.

Herbert Brenon, who filmed Pola Negri's "Spanish Dancer" for Paramount, found that music from orchestras carried only half way across the beautiful Busch gardens in Pasadena which were being used in one of the scenes. Scores of gypsy girls dancing on the lawn were unable to keep in step owing to the lack of music. Equal to the emergency, Brenon installed a huge "megaphonic booth," seated the orchestra in it, and the music which could be thrown in any direction carried over three times as far.

"The Spanish Dancer" is the third picture which Pola Negri has made since coming to America. Featured opposite her is Antonio Moreno. Heading a strong cast are Wallace Bery, Kathlyn Williams, Gareth Hughes, Adolphe Menjou and Robert Agnew.

Bebe Daniels is featured in Arthur Train's novel, "His Children's Children" in it's screen form, put out by Paramount. The six pictures Bebe liked best are "The Covered Wagon," "Sentimental Tommy," "The Four Horsemen," "Manslaughter," "Safety Last" "The Miracle Man."

MAE MURRAY.

Miss Murray, who has just finished "The French Doll" is back in Hollywood after a New York visit and has already started production on her newest picture, "Fashion Row." Miss Murray announces that she will wear approximately 100 gowns and will introduce several new dance creations.

Rex Ingram and his wife, Alice Terry have returned to Hollywood following a short vacation at Catalina Island. Mr. Ingram's short sojourn away from the Metro studios was a brief respite sandwiched in between the final shot on his mammoth Metro production, "Scaramouche" and the taking up of his duties again in the Metro cutting rooms, where he will supervise and personally edit the production which he will later bring to New York.

Valentina Zimina Cherolier is French, is a veteran of two revolutions, and was willing to appear in a third. Fortunately the third one is only a picturization of Rafael Sabatini's romance of the French Revolution, "Scaramouche," which Rex Ingram is directing for Metro.

This dark-eyed little French girl has crammed more adventures into her life than most men—she has been in two Russian revolutions; she is one of the survivors of the Russian Battalion of Death, made up of women; she spent six months in the trenches; she was in prison for two and a half months, and did Red Cross nursing for two years.

Jackie Coogan was certainly glad when he finished "Long Live the King," a screen version of Mary Roberts Rinehart's novel.

For the last two weeks Jackie has been working with his guards in the court scenes, and strict military procedure has prevailed. On the slightest provocation they saluted him, and he always had to salute in return.

"But now that I'm no longer king," Jackie said when he finished the last scene, "I don't have to salute anybody and can give my right arm a rest!"

"My most comty lounging suit"—Shirley Mason's, a silk Chinese mandarin suit; Jean Arthur's, knickers and middy blouse with a snappy tie; Peggy Shaw's, short skirt and silk overhouse; Margaret Feilding's, a cool heavy silk kimona.

Tom Mix is finishing his latest thriller, "A Fly'n' Fool" at the Fox Hollywood studios. Betty Jewell is opposite the star, Lambert Hillyer is directing.

To Attend Fort Sill.

BOWIE, Texas, Sept. 14.—Chosen from the many applicants, Lieut. Lynn A. Boyd of the Bowie national guard artillery unit left Friday for Fort Sill, Okla., where he will attend the school of fire conducted by the officers of the regular army for the next six weeks. Capt. Reed Williamson accompanied Lieut. Boyd and will remain at the camp for several days before returning home.

DAILY HINT FOR HOUSEWIVES

300 degrees Fahrenheit should be the temperature when oysters or French fried potatoes or similar foods are to be fried, as the cooler food will lower the temperature about 20 degrees and 360 is as low as the heat of the fat should go.

A gas oven requires a slightly higher temperature than does coal or electric heat, largely because the gas oven is drier than the others. For a very hot oven the temperature of a gas oven should be 500 to 550 degrees and 450 to 500 for coal or electric. Pastry and puff-paste requires this degree of heat.

For an ordinary hot oven, for roasts biscuits, baked potatoes and other foods, needing considerable heat, 450 to 500 degrees is required in a gas oven and 50 degrees less in electric or coal stove.

For a moderate oven, such as is used for lamb and poultry, should be 50 degrees less than for the hot oven about 400 degrees being hot enough for coal and electric stoves.

A slow oven is one that is about 300 degrees in the gas stove and 275 degrees in coal or electric stove.

SUGGESTIONS.

For the Sunday School Penny—For the small girl who attends Sunday school and is afraid of losing her penny for the collection an ingenious grandmother invented the following: She sewed a medallion on one corner of the tiny handkerchief and fastened it down with a snap fastener. The penny or other coin is safe until collected.

POVERTY AND CRIME.

The majority of those who pass through the death house at Sing Sing are under twenty-one. This statement is on the authority of a former warden at Sing Sing who seemed surprised that anybody should be surprised at this.

What does that mean?

It sounds as if it means that if this were Mars, or some other more favored planet, the youth of the country who had committed crimes would be in hospitals instead of in electric chairs.

But does it mean only that?

The majority of those who pass through the death house at Sing Sing come from poor families.

Very rarely does the son of a rich family come to his death by electrocution or hanging. This is partly because, if his crime would call for this, he is often sent instead to a hospital for the criminal insane.

But it also means that but a small percentage of the actual crime of the country is committed by the sons and daughters of rich families. It is the progeny of the poor who fill the jails and feed the electric chairs.

This is not opinion. It is statistics.

Why?

What is the connection between poverty and crime? Is enough attention being paid by society to that connection? What could be done about it? Should it not modify penalties? Should it not abolish the death penalty? Should it not demand a study of crime along this special line? Should not the history of every criminal be known step by step?

But what if all this was done? Crime would still be committed, and crime would still be connected with poverty as long as poverty exists. Is not a proper study of crime also a study of the causes of poverty? And when are we going to be expert enough not to say to that:

"Well, of course poverty comes from shiftlessness—anybody could tell that!"

FLASHES FROM LOVE-LAND

Love-land is like a lighthouse and the big light that fills it's tower slowly turns and brightens the way of all the lovebarks in its waters.

Lovers here, and lovers there, now in light, now in darkness, sailing, tossing, floating down to the river, matrimony.

Some barks are hurled on the rocks and overturned, some are beaten by the wind, and others broken by the waves, some stick to the light and others perish in the darkness.

But those that keep strictly in the flashes from loveland instantaneous forgiveness—quick perception—perfect understanding—reach the river Matrimony in safety and security.

WOMEN TO HAVE FAIR EXCHANGE

They Work for Sale But Cannot Compete For Prizes

The Woman's Exchange during the Texas-Oklahoma fair and exposition, Oct. 1 to 7, inclusive, will be located in the main entrance, in the Women's building. There will be 11 classes of exhibits, according to Mrs. H. F. Weldon, secretary of the Women's Exchange.

The exchange is a new department this year. Its purpose is to give an opportunity to those women who wish to do so to sell their work. No article that is placed in the exchange can compete for a prize.

The different departments of the exchange and chairman are as follows:

Embroidery, Mrs. J. L. Maxwell; children's work, Mrs. George Keith; canning, Mrs. B. F. Fain; flowers, Mrs. W. W. Robertson; culinary, Mrs. Arthur Kendall; sewing, Mrs. Leonard French; crochet, Mrs. R. E. Strange; knitting, Mrs. C. E. Basham; old ladies work, for women over 50, Mrs. W. N. Maer; tatting, Mrs. Martin Rowe.

Mrs. Weldon will be glad to give information to any woman interested.

FIRST BOX SALE FOR FAIR IS BIG

The first day's sale of box seats, grandstand, Texas Oklahoma fair and exposition association, exceeded expectation. More than 30 reservations were made for the boxes. A great deal of interest is being shown in the fair this year and the sale of boxes indicates the excellent support being accorded the fair officials by local citizens.

Each box contains six seats, and the purchaser of a box is entitled to all performances held in front of the grandstand day and night. Those who purchase boxes now will be entitled to use them during fair of 1924 without additional costs.

Those who want choice reservations of boxes should see John K. King, 620 Waggoner building.

NEALY CREAMERY WILL HAVE BOOTH

The Nealy Creamery company, Fort Worth, makers of "Mistletoe" dairy products probably will have a booth at the Texas Oklahoma fair and exposition to be held here, Oct. 1 to 7, inclusive, acording to information received by George Keith, president fair association.

The Nealy Creamery company will also send a large number of jersey cattle to be exhibited at the livestock show. The firms has had a herd at several fairs in the mid-west circuit. The jersey herd is said to be one of the best in the south, having won consistently at various fairs and expositions. The cattle are all of the dinary type of jerseys.

BOWIE MAY DRAW AUTO TOP FACTORY

BOWIE, Texas, Sept. 14.—A factory for the manufacture of automobile tops is a possibility for Bowie, according to a report made by Secretary F. O. Miller to the Chamber of Commerce at the weekly meeting Tuesday evening. A site for such an enterprise is being sought by a business man of Bonham, it is stated.

An invitation has been extended the Bonham man to visit this city and see the many possibilities and great advantages offered by Bowie for the establishment of such an enterprise.

HUSBANDS IN JAIL; WIVES ARE HUNGRY

"I stole to provide for my wife and children," a man told officers a few days ago when he and his partner were jailed on a charge of stealing oil field supplies.

The confession to the theft was Friday morning when the wives of the two men appeared at the court house and asked for aid. The women said their husbands had left each of them five children to support and since the fathers had been jailed they had absolutely no means of providing food for the little ones.

Nothing could be done by the officers.

COWS IN WICHITA NOT TUBERCULAR

Of 145 herds of cattle examined in Texas cities during August by city health officials in co-operation with the state livestock sanitary commission in an effort to stamp out tuberculosis among dairy cattle only six cows afflicted with the disease were reported, according to Dr. A. H. Douglass, city health officer.

Dr. Douglass says out of five herds of cattle examined during the month in Wichita Falls none were found with tuberculosis.

ODELL'S BOND IS PLACED AT $1,400

Three complaints totalling $1,400 in bonds, were filed against J. A. Odell by the county attorney's department Friday morning, following his arrest Thursday morning on a charge of throwing a woman out of his car while driving on the Holliday road the same afternoon.

Odell is charged with driving a car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and his bond set at $1,400.

Grapes, Not Apples.

The Record News wishes to call attention to an unintentional typographical error which occured in an advertisement for the Busy Bee Fruit company in Thursday morning's issue. Apples were quoted as a "6-7 pound basket, 50 cents" when it should have been "Malaga grapes, 6-7 pound basket 50 cents."

The championship title remains in status quo.

Dempsey is said to have entered the ring with an army blanket around his shoulders. One that he had borrowed or bought since the war for no kind of army equipment was termed the "greatest fighter in the world" from 1916 to 1918.

Detective Chief Dave May reveals the fact that Wichita is without police protection.

Slot machines will have to divide their graft with the state, city and county in taxes. Peanuts, chewing gum, weighing and the like will now go up.

Sheriff's department here say they recently caught a man bootlegging who is worth more than $100,000. Following art for art's sake, presumably.

Bootlegging for a living and bootlegging as a hobby seem to be two different things, with the former class in the majority.

That man who got out of the penitentiary to face nine of his wives probably figured he had nothing more to live for anyhow.

Maybe the officials figured the man needed more than penal punishment and felt like the ex-wives were competent to administer it.

Largest Nebraska City Does Without Water

During the last two weeks Omaha, Nebraska, has been without a city water supply. The trouble was the pumping plant and the reservoir system. A rise in the Missouri river at the time aggravated the trouble. The water of that river is always muddy. In flood season it is thick with red mud. Such as Omaha got for more than a fortnight was like soup. Industry closed down and laboring people were out of employment.

The pumping plant was forty years old and had not been kept in repair since the city undertook to handle the water supply. The Omaha World-Herald commenting on the water failure said: "There has been in recent years too much attention to political effect and financial showing in the management of our water plant and, therefore, too little to its engineering, industrial, civic and business aspects. What we mean is the ambition to make a showing—to have Omaha furnish a complete object lesson in municipal ownership."

The people of Omaha could not use the city water for any purpose. They went to springs that used to serve a few hundred people. Of course that was no relief for the many thousands of people there now. The Nebraska power company helped to its fullest ability by concentrating on distillation of water. Forty thousand gallons a day not required by the company was given away to the people who called for it. Old or sick persons who had no means of securing the water supplied by the power company were supplied by the company free of charge at their homes. The power company carried big advertisments in the newspapers calling the attention of the people to its offer to supply distilled water free at any hour of the day or night.

Authority Says Business Men Are More Efficient

"In my experience as a public accountant," says E. W. Sells, head of Haskin & Sells, nationally known accountants; "I have had to do with the financial affairs of all kinds of corporations and with those of government, states, and municipalities.

"I have come in more or less intimate contact with many of the various officers and managers of all of them. It is based upon my judgment that the managements of corporations are generally honest, and as compared with those of public affairs, is far more dishonesty among politi- more economical and efficient. There cians and office-holders than among corporation managers."

People Are Using Telephones More Every Day

If the demands for service in the next five years outstrip past records, the whole telephone industry will have need of all its resources to meet the situation—in capital, in manufacturing output, and in men to handle the job.

Since 1900, the figures show, the population of the United States has increased 45 per cent, while the increase in the number of telephones has been about 1,240 per cent. According to the statistical experts the present growth of telephones is at a rate three times as rapid as the rise in population, but we doubt the absolute accuracy of this assertion.

The telephone follows population. A booming town, growing in population over night, clamors for telephones. When for some reason wholesale desertions befall a community, telephones are taken out. Probably they eventually re-appear at other places, so that the net loss the country over is neglible.

In affirming that the telephone growth is three times as rapid as the increase in population, the Bell bulletin adds that "saturation is still far off."—Telephony.

MEXICANS HERE WILL CELEBRATE

Recognition to Be Combined With Independence Celebration

Mexicans of Wichita Falls will hold an Independence celebration today in celebration of the anniversary of the time when Hildago, the priest, led the people of that country in revolution which brought them their independence on Sept. 16, 1810. The celebration will be a doubly joyful one because of the recognition of Mexico by the United States.

The affair will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon at the labor temple, under the auspices of the Woodmen of the World, an organization to which a number of the Mexicans of this city belong. The feature of the program will be an address by City Judge Joe Carrigan. There also will be Mexican speakers on the program. It is estimated there are a thousand Mexicans in Wichita Falls.

Genero Garcia said yesterday in speaking of the celebration:

"The Mexican people are very happy over the recognition of their country by the United States. It is a great thing for Mexico, and the United States will derive much benefit from it. This event, coupled with the celebration of Mexican independence, adds much to the day."

S. A. IS ADDING NEW REST ROOM

Work has begun on a ladies' rest room to be used in connection with the dormitory of the Salvation Army headquarters at Seventh street. The dormitory has thus far provided only bed rooms and dining room for women in need of help, and the rest room is to be used as a lounge and reading room.

Ensign Lorin F. Corliss, officer in charge of the Salvation Army local work, says that the dormitory has been rushed with homeless women or women seeking refuge. From four to ten are accommodated there each night. He reports many cases of husband desertions.

One young woman ran away from home bringing with her her seven-month old child. She refuses to go home because of her stepmother. There are other similar cases.

Domestic work is found for many who go there, and the local laundries work in co-operation with the Salvation Army in finding locations. "It is impossible, however, to get work for the women with children who come to the dormitory for aid," said Mr. Corliss.

LADIES ON SPREE END UP IN JAIL

The modern sight of two women intoxicated and having the time of their young lives drew a large crowd when the pair were taken from their car downtown and to the police station Friday morning.

There were some men in the crowd who said they were old enough to remember when women never thought of drinking whiskey and said they just could not get used to the now regular occurence of females enjoying their liquor and obtaining the same results as men.

Two wan-eyed, heartbroken husbands, who showed they had stayed up a good part of the night waiting for their wayward wives, were a pitiful sight at the police station Friday afternoon seeking to make bond for their better halfs and give them another chance.

BIG SHOW HERE TODAY

Hagenbeck Wallace, largest animal show in the world, to gladden the hearts of young and old, with two performances and grand free street parade today.

Today is the day when mothers will experience little difficulty in getting Danny or Freddie, Edna or Dorothy out of their little beds. Of course there is a reason, for early this morning the three trains bearing the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace circus pulled into the railroad yards, and today is circus day. Everyone knows that is a combination of July Fourth, Christmas, New Year's and a birthday of Young America.

Just as soon as the first section arrived in the city the work of detraining and unloading started and the tents were pitched on the circus grounds at Ball Park. There the big tops spread over twelve acres and the band will play, the air calliope toot, the lions will roar and the scent of the "hotdog" will be in the air. Spangled folks, funny clowns, elephants, horses and everything are among us today.

Little Tommy, unless he visits the railroad yards or hurries to the circus grounds will get his first "peep" at the circus, when the street parade of more than a mile in length covers the downtown streets at 11 o'clock. Scores of pretty girls, performers from the Far East; standard acts from Europe and America, as well as hundreds of fine Kentucky horses and prize-winning Belgian sires, will appear in the procession, in which it is claimed more open dens of wild animals will be exhibited than ever before.

Two performances are scheduled, the afternoon at 2 o'clock and the night show at 8 p. m. The doors will open an hour earlier so that the patrons can inspect the wonderful Hagenbeck menagerie, which contains a specimen of every animal living today. The zoo is said to be worth. Troupe of Equestrians; the Australian close to a half million dollars.

Among the featured performers in the big show are the Orrin Davenport Woodchoppers, the Canton Chinese, the trained wild animal numbers and the English fox hunt. A total of 200 performers, 100 wild animal actors, 100 domestic animals and fifty clowns participate in the program, which will be presented in three rings, a steel arena and on the hippodrome track.

"YELLOW DOGS" TO MEET SUNDAY P. M.

A meeting of the Order of the Yellow Dog is called for Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Masonic temple. Only De Molay members in good standing are eligible, and all De Molays are urged to be present.

The Order of the Yellow Dog is the playground of De Molay work, and an interesting round of social activities is being planned through the fall and winter season for the Yellow Dogs and their canine lady friends.

Pistol; 30 Days.

Fred Porter, a negro, plead guilty before Judge Guy Rogers of the county court at law, on a charge of carrying a pistol and was sentenced to 30 days in jail Friday morning.

PICKERS MAY BE TOO LATE HERE

Salvation Army Official Fears Time Is Too Short

Reports have been received from Commandant J. F. Comer of the Salvation Army that adequate numbers of cotton pickers can not reach Wichita Falls from Fort Worth for a week or possibly ten days.

Mr. Comer is now trying to get men sent here to harvest the cotton, but he finds that it is impossible to get the one hundred or two hundred families that are needed in this section to pick cotton.

After Back Taxes.

A call session of the city council Friday morning resulted in the appointing of Parfet and Martlew, local tax attorneys, to collect for the city about $1,500 back taxes paid the federal government on sewer pipes in 1920.

The case will be taken by the attorneys on a contingent fee basis, the commissioners decided.

Suits Filed.
