Chamber banquet is Saturday

TDCJ chief is featured speaker

The Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce Banquet will be this Saturday, Feb. 24 at 7 p.m. with Texas Department of Criminal Justice Executive Director Wayne Scott the featured speaker.

State Representative Rob Junell will introduce the speaker.

A limited supply of tickets are available for the event. By Tuesday, 175 tickets had been sold.

Chamber of Commerce officials said that tickets selling for $12.50 will be available Thursday and Friday and suggest that everyone purchase their tickets by noon Friday.

There will be no tickets available at the door.

Awards to be presented at the banquet include the Outstanding Farm/Ranch Family of the Year and the Citizen of the Year.

The Eddie Strain family was honored at last year's banquet with the Farm/Ranch Family of the Year Award and Jan Lemons was named the Citizen of the Year. David Stubblefield will present the Farm/Ranch Family of the Year award at this year's banquet.

Scott, the keynote speaker, was appointed executive director of TDCJ in January. He began his 24-year career with TDCJ as a correctional officer I at the Huntsville Unit and was promoted to successive career levels while serving at units around the state—the Wynne Unit, Retrieve Unit, Goree Unit, Ellis Unit I and II and the training academy.

Scott was promoted to regional director of the northern units in 1985 and the central units in 1986. He was appointed deputy director for operations in 1990 and director of the institutional division in 1994.

FM 3525 will link Rogers Rd., Hwy. 208

Bids are expected to be awarded in May for a two-mile highway to be constructed in Mitchell County this summer. The proposed two-lane FM 3525 will connect with Highway 208 and Rogers Road.

The connection of the Snyder Highway with the Interstate was requested by Mitchell County Commissioners.

The paved surface road will provide a bypass for some of the traffic that travels down Hickory and turns on 17th Street to travel by the hospital and Kelley Elementary, said Dan Richardson, area engineer for the Texas Department of Transportation.

It will also allow truck or gin traffic to get to the gin without driving through the downtown area.

In addition, the highway will provide another route for traffic shuttling goods and supplies to the TDCJ Wallace Unit.

Last week the city council approved closing a 50-foot wide portion of the city landfill for the proposed right of way for FM 3525.

Lady Wolves put up good fight in loss

MIDLAND - The best season ever for the Colorado City Lady Wolves ended Tuesday night as the Brownfield Lady Cubs took a 56-44 Class 3A Area victory.

The game, played at the Coliseum on the campus of Texas Tech in the Region 1, Class 3A Regional tournament. They will tip off at 8:30 p.m. against Amarillo River Road.

River Road defeated Bridgeport, 53-51, Tuesday. The early game in the Regional tournament will be Graham against Slaton. Tip off is set for 7 p.m.

"This was a hard game to lose," said Coach Darrin Leverton. "We felt like coming in that we would have to have a really good game to win. We definitely thought we had a shot if we played well."

The coach added, "I think the kids played tremendous. I wished more shots would have gone in, but it's been a great year and hopefully this will just help us for the future."

Brownfield scored first and never allowed Colorado City to take the lead. The Lady Cubs took a 9-7 lead at the end of the first quarter and extended it 22-16 at the intermission.

Both teams scored 17 points each in the third quarter, but Brownfield held on to a six-point lead, 39-33, going into what would be the final eight minutes of basketball for Colorado City.

The Lady Wolves scored first with 7:49 to play when Shelley Galey hit a jumper to make it 39-35. Brownfield's Aimee Martinez hit the front end of a one-and-one to make it 40-35.

Colorado City's Freda McKnight and Vanessa Shepard both had one-and-one chances and both made the first and missed the second, but the Lady Wolves had

Repavement project to begin

Detour signs are expected to go up within the next week or two on I-20 for the Texas Department of Transportation's repavement construction project.

The 12 month project will include the east-and westbound lanes of a three-mile stretch of I-20 from the Snyder Highway west to FM 1229.

Crews will mill existing asphalt pavement, rework base, pave and add a metal beam guard fence.

Work will be done on the 3.829 mile section of the interstate in four phases, with work being completed on one section at a time.

"There should be minimum inconvenience," said Dan Richardson, TXDOT area engineer.

Some exit ramps will be closed down but there will be detours, he said.

TxDOT crews began work on the area three weeks ago.

Black History Month celebrated

"Never Stand Still" was the theme for the Black History Month banquet held at the civic center Saturday evening.

Billie Devorce, mistress of ceremonies for the program, reminded the approximately 100 people in the multi-racial audience of the mountains climbed throughout black history.

"The mountain we have climbed—the mountain before us and we welcome the mountain top of the future," she said.

Local educator David Woods stressed the importance of discipline.

"Stand Still? My daddy wouldn't let me stand still," began Woods, the keynote speaker for the program. Using humor, he delivered a message of tough love, admonishing parents to take responsibility for disciplining their children.

"Parents! Hear me a second. You go right in that door that says 'keep out'. You've got the deed," he said.

One of the highlights of the program was Woods' dramatic

Smoke causes accident on I-20

A Colorado City couple was released from hospitals Monday after suffering injuries when their pickup struck an 18-wheeler.

The accident occured around 1:25 p.m. Sunday when smoke from a grass fire obscured visibility on I-20 at the 222 mile post, according to Department of Public Safety Trooper Monty Kea.

Samuel and Doris Crenshaw were taken to Mitchell County Hospital where Mrs. Crenshaw was treated for cuts and bruises. Sam Crenshaw was airlifted to Hendrick Medical Center and treated for a sprained ankle.

High winds carried smoke from a grass fire south of the interstate across the roadway, reducing visibility to zero, said Trooper Kea.

A truck tractor pulling a full box trailer, driven by Jerry Don Foster of Dallas, slowed down because of the heavy smoke and was struck from behind by the Ford Ranger pickup driven by Crenshaw.

DPS Trooper Mark Negri was the investigating officer.

COOK'S CORNER

Joyce Womack

by Sheila Plagens

Joyce Womack does enjoy cooking —especially for her grandchildren. In fact, she likes to do just about anything for her grandchildren. When interviewing her for this article she jokingly told me her life began "when her grandchildren came."

Joyce doesn't go to much trouble cooking anymore—unless family is coming for a visit. She and her husband, Glen, both retired, enjoy travelling in their travel trailer when possible. When she does cook, she always uses a recipe "because she wants it to be perfect."

Joyce worked for years at Costin Implement, which she enjoyed very much. Now that she is retired, she enjoys sewing and quilting with the women at First United Methodist Church. Being a golf widow, she has time to do those things. She even had time to make her two daughters-in-law wedding dresses!

When I talked with a couple of Joyce's friends, they told me she made the best pralines they had ever eaten. Although that isn't one of the recipes she chose to share with us, I'm sure the ones she is sharing are just as good.

When Joyce's entire family comes to visit, she has twelve at home. Her sons, Trey and Gary, and their families enjoy coming to the farm to play and have a good time. Trey and wife Pam have two children, Molly, 3 and Brett, 1. Gary and his wife Kim also have two children, Weston, 2 and Brooks, 2 weeks.

Joyce's is sharing three of her favorite recipes with us today.

"HOPPING JOHN"

1 T. vegetable oil
2 celery stalks, chopped
1 large onion, chopped
1 med. red bell pepper, chopped
2 cloves garlic, minced
1 16 oz. pkg. dry blackeye peas (soak overnight)
2 cans chicken broth

In large saucepan, heat vegetable oil, add celery, onion and red pepper. Cook until golden. Add garlic and cook 2 minutes. Drain peas, add broth, dash of cayenne pepper, salt and 4 cups water to celery mixture. Simmer until peas are done.

RANGER COOKIES

1 cup margaine
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 T. vanilla
2 cups flour
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. baking powder
2 cups quick oats
2 cups Rice Krispies
1 cup peanut butter chips
1 1/4 cup sunflower seeds (roasted, salted or unslated)

Beat together margarine and both sugars. Add eggs and vanilla and blend well. Stir in the flour, baking powder and soda. Add oats and cereal. Fold in peanut butter chips and sunflower seeds. Mold into balls the size of walnuts. Bake at 350° until done.

POUND CAKE

1 cup butter (no substitution)
3 cups flour
4 eggs
1 cup buttermilk
1/4 tsp. soda
2 3/4 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla

Have all ingredients at room temperature. This is VERY important. Cream butter and sugar, add eggs one at a time, then milk and flour. Bake at 350° for one hour.

Cooper hosts Baptist women

The Women on Missions of First Baptist Church met February 12 at 7 p.m. in the home of Frances Cooper. The decorations and refreshments had a Valentine theme.

Mae Dunn presided over the meeting. Jean Edwards read the minutes of the previous meeting and gave the treasurer's report.

Anna Staats distributed red hearts with small angels pinned to them, eaching containing a missionary's name and birthday. She led the prayer for the missionaries.

A film was shown about chaplains, the theme of the program presented by Margaret Bodine. Assisting were Katie Morris, Earline Sellier, Jean Edwards and Virginia Dearen.

Those attending were Earline Sellier, Margaret Bodine, Virginia Dearen, Anna Staats, Katie Morris, Betsy Aycock, Frances Cooper, Jean Edwards and Mae Dunn.

A chapel for the prison was discussed and Chaplain Eddie Riley said that one is sorely needed. Following is a poem written by Jean Edwards as part of the program:

Our Prison Needs a Chapel

Our prison needs a chapel
Where men can sing and pray.
And where the Bible can be taught
To study groups each day.

Our prison needs a chapel,
A place where the chaplain can preach.
Where choirs can practice their praises
And the lost sinners can be reached.

Our prison needs a chapel
Just like we need a church.
If we had no place to worship,
We would all feel sad and hurt.

Our prison must have a chapel,
Their waiting should have us disturbed.
We must talk about this need
Until the whole county has heard.

Because our prison needs a chapel,
Where men can worship our Lord.

And have their lives turned around
As they read and study His Word.

Will you help us get a chapel?
Will you give 'til it really hurts?
To see that the building is completed
And our prison have a church?

THIS 'n THAT

By Sheila Plagens

Greetings to everyone!

Imagine this! You have flown 300 miles from home and plan to rent a car. You go to the car rental office and notice your driver's license has expired and they won't rent you a car. You go to the DMV in the large city and wait hours to take your license test—and fail the eye test! Now you panic! What to do, what to do—when a nice lady at the DVM tells you to retake the test on another machine because that eye machine was broken. You finally take the test and pass and get the driver's license, go back to the car rental agency and get a car and go to a basketball game. Can't imagine?

Well, just ask Chuck Claxton how he coped—it all happened to him!

A big thank you to Joyce Womack for the cookies! I shared with some of the girls at work and we all decided they were the best!

Suda and Wright's daughter Susan Farr, along with husband Larry and Cody, Kimberly and Brian Scott were there with birthday wishes also.

I guess you've heard that McDonald's is opening Monday. Here's an interesting note about our fast food restaurants located at the intersection of Hwy. 208 and Interstate 20. After a delicious dinner was served to all present, Charlene Reily introduced her speaker, Fedor Iskhakov, a Russian student who is enrolled in Colorado ISD for this semester.

Fedor gave a very interesting talk on the schools and their operation in Russia. He also told about his family and their home and jobs. He said one of the things he was interested in before he came was participation in the freedom that those in Russia felt Americans, especially students, had. He was most welcome and held an enraptured audience. The club presented him with a gift.

CHIEF LONE WOLF

BY JIM BAUM

His name was Rinkey. Rinkey Free. And he was a monkey. He belonged to A.A. (Coon) and Mildred Free, who always called him Rinkeyfree, as if it were all one name.

Mildred says Rinkeyfree spelled his name with an "e," but how she learned that isn't clear. Be that as it may, here's the story of Rinkeyfree.

The monkey was given to Coon and Mildred by Uncle Frank Free back in 1954. "He had this pitiful little monkey," Mildred recalled, "and of course our kids fell in love with it. I did, too."

"Would you like to have it?" Uncle Frank asked. Presto! Just like that Mildred was the proud owner of a one and a quarter pound monkey.

Naturally, Rinkeyfree needed a wardrobe. What self-respecting primate would want to be seen without clothes?

"I made it a little jacket," Mrs. Free continued. "It had a harness so it could be kept on a leash. I made a little pair of pants about three or four inches long. And I had to make a hole for the tail."

Making clothes for a monkey is one thing, dressing one is quite another. "If you've never tried to dress a monkey, you don't know what you're missing," was the way Mildred described the tussle.

Rinkeyfree had his own ideas about wearing "a little jacket" and a pair of pants "three or four inches long," with a hole for his tail. So Coon was conscripted to help dress the little critter. Finally, he quit in frustration.

"I'm not dressin' this monkey no further," he stated emphatically. "If someone were to look in the window and see a 200 pound man and a 100 pound woman tryin' to dress a one pound monkey, they'd send us to Big Spring."

Despite the problems of dressing Rinkeyfree, he received the love and affection any parents would give their offspring. "Rinkeyfree was a beautiful thing," Mildred cooed in a maternalistic manner. "We fed him just right. We fixed him a bed out in the pen and we had a drop cloth over it with a hole in the corner so he could go in and out. We had a light bulb in there so he could keep warm in the winter time."

Don Free, then age 9 and Rinkeyfree. (Don's on the left.)

Over the years Rinkeyfree became a familiar sight in the Free neighborhood. All the kids knew him by name and he was free to come and go as he pleased.

Such liberty eventually cost the little monkey a couple of inches off his tail. Mildred recalls there was a prolonged cold spell and Rinkeyfree went in his pen, but left his tail partially hanging out.

"A day or two later he was drooping around and we decided there was something wrong with him," Mildred said. Turned out the end of his tail was frozen.

We took him to the vet and had to have a portion of his tail amputated. That caused him to lose some of his balance and Rinkeyfree was ashamed because he didn't have all his tail."

Despite the impediment, Rinkeyfree still managed to make his usual rounds. "Every kid in town played with him," Mrs. Free recalled. But Rinkeyfree's favorite pastime was performing like a trapeze artist, walking across a high line.

"He would jump up in this big tree and over on the Pruitt's garage. Then he'd go up on the power line." And he would spend hours walking overhead on the high line.

Of course, the Frees had to trust Rinkeyfree to come down and come home. "That's all we could do," Mrs Free said. And she says the little rascal knew when to come home, too.

"When Coon would pick me up at work at 5:30, we would head home and we'd see Rinkeyfree up on the high line when we got close to home. He would just be a hookin' it home. He would jump down on that tree onto the garage and he would be standin' there beggin' when we got home."

Just another busy day on the high line, folks.

Other times Mildred and Coon would be eating at their dining room table and guess who would drop down out of the tree and peer in through the glass door? "He would just beg and beg, chatter, chatter. Eventually the kids would say, 'Momma, I'm gonna go feed him.' "

Rinkeyfree was fond of grapes, berries, peanuts, pecans and bacon. He didn't like table scraps. When he was offered something he didn't like, "he would just look away off, like 'You ignorant thing, you.' But if it was something he liked, he would have his hand out just as soon as you walked out the door."

One day, when Mildred and Coon weren't at home, the kids decided to give Rinkeyfree an egg. It became his favorite plaything. The monkey would take an egg, go up the Free's big tree, then roll the egg out on a limb.

"You would think, 'Oh, he's gonna drop it, he's gonna drop it. Then when he got ready to turn that egg loose, he would just throw it. Then he'd run down the tree and eat the yellow out of that egg."

The memories of Rinkeyfree will truly last a lifetime for Mildred. The Frees were able to enjoy the antics of Rinkeyfree for the better part of 12 years.

There came a time when Mildred had to be hospitalized due to an illness. Outside temperatures were bitterly cold with freezing rain. She remembers Coon coming to her hospital room one morning. "Honey," he said. "Rinkeyfree's sick. I saw he wasn't feeling good so I went out and got him and brought him in the house. I left him in the bathroom with the fire on."

That evening when Coon got off work he didn't go by the hospital until later than usual. When he finally did show up, he told Mildred simply, "Rinkeyfree died and I was burying him."

"That was a loss to us," Mildred said softly, almost 40 years later. "He was getting old, but we had so much fun with him."

There are still many folks in Colorado City who remember the loveable monkey. It was almost as if he were adopted by the community. Neighbors made it their business to help look out for the high flyin' Rinkeyfree.

As for Mildred, she still misses him today. She says she would like to have another monkey. But there'll never be another Rinkeyfree.

The Mitchell County Retired Teachers Association met at 11:45 a.m. February 13 in the Wallace Center for a dutch treat luncheon with a Valentine's Day theme.

She stressed the need for a new hospital for this area, as Sterling, Scurry, Howard, Borden, Fisher, Nolan, and Coke counties are also served by Mitchell County Hospital.

Earline Sellier presided over a short meeting and Mabel Merritt reported on the volunteers' hours—14,601 turned in last year.

Those attending were Earline Sellier, Frances Cooper, Mary Ellis, Mamie Lou New, Alma Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore, Mabel Merritt, Carolyn Witten, Betsy Aycock, Florence Bodine, Dorothy Fowler, Fannie Faye Feaster, Lonie Pruitt, Frances Godwin, Elaine McMichael, and guest Terry McAdams.

STATE INSPECTIONS

TDCJ pre-cast panel construction underway

The Wallace Unit's warehouse site south of the interstate is now buzzing with activity.

Last week the first phase of the TDCJ construction project got underway. Exterior wall panels for four of the new closed security units, including the city's third prison facility, will be built.

Fifty inmates will be making approximately 3600 panels in the year-long project.

Carpenters have begun making the forms for the concrete and workers have begun pouring the concrete for the tilt wall construction. Some of the exterior wall panels will be approximately 17 feet in length.

Other new units which will receive the pre-cast panels when they are finished include the Smith Unit in Lamesa, the Alford Unit in Wichita Falls, and the Clemens Unit in Amarillo.

Jim Parrish, assistant project superintendent, said that the Huntsville inmates working on the project are basically in an apprenticeship program.

The prison population is made up of people with a variety of skills and work experience, he said. Some already had experience in construction and carpentry work needed for this project while others are being trained in trades they can use once they leave prison.

Winds blow fire school's plans

by Eunice Fisher, editor

The best laid plans often go astray—especially when those plans depend on West Texas weather.

Lake Colorado City State Park hosted a week-long fire behavior school for Texas Parks and Wildlife personnel last week.

This was the first time that the seminar had been held locally although the Parks and Wildlife Department has conducted five such training sessions around the state in the past.

Forty-five participated in the intermediate level classes, coming from all over the state. Several were from the Panhandle and Hill Country areas. One was from Caddo Lake State Park in East Texas.

Classes started Monday and finished last Friday with a three hour test. Four natural resource specialists taught the classes and a Texas Natural Resource Conservation Commission instructor conducted a workshop on TNRCC regulations.

One of the highlights of the training was a large prescription burn scheduled last Wednesday.

Prescription burns were planned on three areas of the state park: a 10 acre section, a 25 acre and a 31 acre area.

A prescription burn is an intentional fire set under controlled circumstances to accomplish certain goals, said Lake Colorado City State Park Director Mark Fambro.

Annual prescription burns are normally conducted at the park this time of year.

"All state parks and management areas have resource plans to manage as naturally as possible," he said. "Fire is a tool, especially in West Texas, that helped develop the prairie lands and ecosystems throughout the state."

The burn had been planned for months. County Commissioners lifted the county-wide fire ban last month. Wallace Unit inmates hand hoed fire breaks in preparation for the burn.

After two days of classroom instruction, the students organized for the burn, the hands-on, do what you've learned portion of the class. They divided into three different units with a field boss for each unit. There were different crew assignments: an ignition crew to start the fires, a suppression crew to put out the fires and a pumper crew to manage the pumper and spray equipment.

The equipment was on hand to be used only if needed because the instruction focused on natural means of putting out a fire—using natural and man-made fire guards, setting back fires on the down wind side, using back fires to burn back into the wind and then starting flank fires.

"The only water that should be used is what you drink," was a class maxim.

The media, including a nearby television station, was called for dramatic pictures of the fires.

As the students closely monitored the weather Tuesday, conditions weren't promising.

The general rules for a burn require temperatures less than 80 degrees, relative humidity greater than 20 percent, wind speed not more than 20-25 mph.

"And then you shouldn't burn within 12 hours of an approaching front because back fires could become head fires if the wind shifts," said Fambro.

Weather conditions Tuesday and Wednesday were just the opposite—sustained winds at 20 mph with wind gusts up to 30 mph and a relative humidity that dropped to 18 percent.

"The temperature was at 80 degrees and we knew we had a weak cool front arriving Tuesday night," said Fambro.

The burn had to be called off.

"Everything was borderline. Because this was a training class it wasn't worth taking the risk," he said.

Fambro said that the local state park is normally ideal for a prescription burn with its park roads, lake, bare cotton fields and lots of natural fire breaks already in place.

"This may be the first year in eight years that we haven't been able to burn," said Mark Fambro.

Planning a later burn still needed in the park becomes more difficult as visitation increases in the spring. However, Fambro said he may try to have a small summer burn and use it to compare the advantages of a summer burn on mesquites compared to a winter burn.

However, all was not lost. The students earned their certificates and they all had previously taken part in prescription burns anyway. On Thursday they toured the Spade Ranch to see the ranch's fire fighting operation.

And the visitors boosted the local economy, staying at local motels, shopping and eating at area restaurants, although they did drive to Snyder to go to the movies one night.

Early voting began Wednesday; cast votes at county courthouse

Early voting for the March 12 party primaries begins Wednesday, Feb. 21 and ends March 8.

Mitchell County voters can cast ballots at the courthouse from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Registered voters may participate in either primary.

According to County Clerk Debby Carlock, voters will be asked which party ballot they will be voting and if they have moved from the address listed on their voter registration card.

She reminded people to be sure to bring their voter registration cards to the polls.

When people vote for one party or the other on the primary ballot, they must vote on the same party ballot in the case of a runoff, said Carlock.

Local elections are all on the Democratic Party ballot and several are contested. Three candidates have filed for the office of Mitchell County tax assessor-collector, two for the office of Mitchell County sheriff and two for the office of pct. 3 county commissioner.

Pct. 1 County Commissioner Ed Roach and County Attorney Mark Piland will be unopposed on the ballot.

Candidates for tax assessor-collector include Kakai Wulfjen, Linda Clary and Faye Lee.

Charles Rice and incumbent Patrick Toombs are the two candidates for the office of Mitchell County sheriff.

Incumbent Buddy Hertenberger and Wyndell Inman are running for the precinct 3 county commissioner's seat.

There are three candidates for the post of district attorney for the 32nd Judicial District: incumbent Frank Conard II, Mark Edwards and Gary Harger.

On the Republican Party ballot, local attorney Pat Barber is a candidate for the court of criminal appeals judge place 2 position. Barber has four opponents in the primary: Brad Wiewel, Mike Keasler, Ray J. McQuary and Paul Womack.

Troy Fraser's and Mark Barina's bid for the state senator's position in District 24 is also on the Republican Party ballot.

The last day to receive applications for ballots by mail is March 5.

Antique Assn. discusses promotion

If the Antiques Association has anything to say about it, it won't be long before lots of folks realize that Colorado City is the place for antiques.

Owners of local antique shops met Thursday evening to discuss plans for advertising.

Instead of competing, the group is cooperating, with the idea that visitors will shop in more than one store and together they can attract the shoppers to Colorado City.

At the meeting, the eight who attended looked over the various antiques publications and discussed the pros and cons of the different places they can advertise.

The group's immediate plans include coordinating with the Railhead Trade Days March 16 and 17 by activities such as handing out maps showing the locations of the antique stores.

Everyone is invited to the Antiques Association's next meeting Thursday, Feb. 22 at 6 p.m. at the civic center.

The association includes: Lazy 7 Antique Haven, A. W. Rowe; Colorado Drug Antique Emporium, Ken Farmer; Homegrown Crafts & Antiques, Sharon Dockrey, Nam's, Buddy Hertenberger; Ward's Salvage, Mr. Ward; Apache Flats Auction & Trading Post, Doyle Mitchell; Good Ole Days Antique Mall, Glenda Stinson, Heartfelt Treasures, Glenda Stinson; Our House, Betty Boedeker; Bob's, Bob Sparks; Log Cabin Collectibles, John and Mary Kay Williamson.

Chairman resigns from appraisal board

Chairman Frank M. Brownfield resigned from the Mitchell County Appraisal District Board of Directors, effective Feb. 1.

Brownfield, who has served on the board 10 years, has been chairman of the appraisal board since 1992.

The board of directors accepted his letter of resignation at their regular meeting Thursday evening.

"I no longer feel that I can accept the possible liabilities involved in serving on the Mitchell County Appraisal District Board," wrote Brownfield.

Brownfield did not attend the meeting.

On Monday, Brownfield said, "I've served 10 years and believe it's time for me to get out."

Crow to retire after 24 years

After 24 years as criminal investigator for the 32nd Judicial District of Texas, Kenneth L. Crow is retiring.

He will be honored at a reception February 23 from 5-7 p.m. at Mulberry Mansion, 1400 Sam Houston Street, Sweetwater.

Conservation farmer award goes to Dockrey

Charles Dockrey has been selected as the 1995 Resident Conservation Farmer of the Year by the Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District.

Dockrey, who has been farming for 40 years, maintains a family farming operation with the assistance of his two sons, Bruce and Rodney.

He farms 2,474 acres and his principal crops include cotton, wheat and sorghum.

Dockrey has been recognized by the soil and water conservation district for developing conservation systems to control wind and water erosion on his cropland, the majority of which is highly erodible because of its soil texture and slope.

He has been a district cooperator since 1968.

reading of Martin Luther King's "I Have A Dream" speech.

White evangelist Gene Self said that King's message was divinely inspired and recalled the interracial friendships he made while growing up in Colorado City.

He drew applause from the audience when he admonished the white, Hispanic and black churches in the community to be more concerned with being Christian than with color.

Police Chief David Montgomery presented a memento from the recently renovated police station to L. C. Devorce, the first black police officer in Colorado City.

As Chief Montgomery was introduced to the guests, Billie Devorce asked the audience to stand in respect for the police chief which they did.

Chief Montgomery recalled how the Cinco de Mayo celebration came about and called for a community-wide Juneteenth celebration.

"Isn't it about time the city, the county and the schools recognized Martin Luther King Day?" he said.

Elaine McMichael, granddaughter of D.W. "80" John Wallace, recalled the life and achievements of her grandfather and talked about the impact of others who had made contributions in Texas, such as the buffalo soldiers, early Mitchell County residents, graduates of the Wallace School and early teachers in segregated schools.

"Our forefathers had difficulties but they did not stand still," she said. "Each person faced the difficulties of their day and came out victorious."

February's sales tax rebates to Colorado City were down 12.5 percent for the month, according to the State Comptroller's Office.

The rebates are an indicator of retail sales.

According to State Comptroller John Sharp monthly payments to Texas cities and counties this month reflect the slow holiday sales which many retailers experienced in December.

Statewide, the local rebates increased by only 1.9 percent over the payments made by the Comptroller's office in February 1995.

This month's payments included taxes collected on holiday sales in December and reported by businesses filing monthly returns in January, quarterly returns for sales made in October, November and December, and all yearly filings for 1995. Sharp had earlier predicted that Christmas sales statewide would increase only slightly over 1994.

Colorado City received $39,645.46 this month in comparison to $45,080.89 last year.

For the year, Colorado City has received $66,399.04, 6.86 percent less than year-to-date totals in 1995.

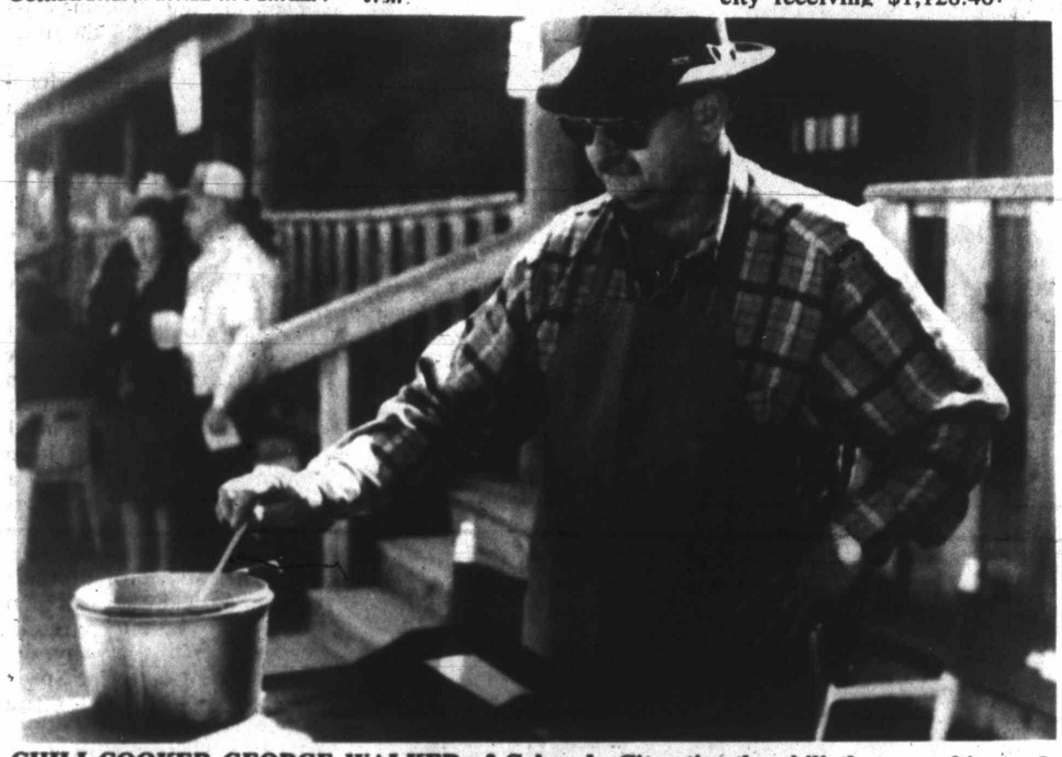

Countywide total figures are similar to Colorado City's with county totals down 12.43 percent for the month and 6.98 percent for the year-to-date.

Westbrook received $585.40 in February, a 45.62 percent decrease from the $1,076.65 received in February 1995.

Loraine's payment increased 5.13 percent this February in comparison to last year with the city receiving $1,128.40.

Information from the American Heart Assn.

Cardiovascular disease is leading cause of death throughout state

On an average day in Texas, 149 residents die from cardiovascular diseases, according to data released by the American Heart Association (AHA), Texas Affiliate. The AHA compiled these statistics using 1994 mortality information recently released from the Texas Department of Health.

Cardiovascular disease (CVD) remains the number one killer in Texas, claiming the lives of 54,362 people in 1994 (40 percent of the 135,870 Texas residents that died). That translates into two of every five deaths. As a comparison, in the same year cancer was the state's second leading cause of death, claiming 31,378 lives. Accidents accounted for 6,300 deaths and 2,742 people died of human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) infection in 1994.

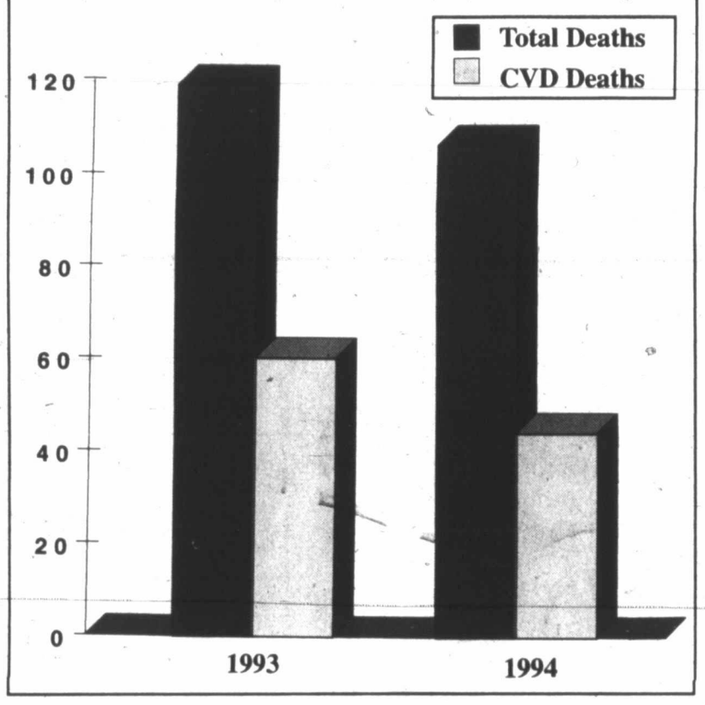

Nationally, statistics show that from 1983 to 1993 the number of deaths from cardiovascular disease has declined only 3.8 percent. One reason for this small decline is that the total U.S. population, and particularly the population of middle-aged and older people, is increasing. Another reason is that recent advances in medical treatment have allowed more people to survive previously fatal cardiovascular events, and now these people are dying of subsequent cardiovascular illness.

The mission of the AHA is to reduce disability and death from cardiovascular diseases and stroke. To accomplish this, the association concentrates its efforts in three areas: education, community service programs, and research. Last year the Texas Affiliate reached five million people in Texas with interactive programs and awarded over $6.7 million in research funding in Texas.

To reduce your risk of heart attack and stroke, the AHA recommends having your blood pressure checked regularly, not smoking, eating nutritious foods in moderate amounts, having regular medical checkups, and exercising. For more information call 1-800-AHA-USA1.

A non-profit health organization funded by individual and corporate donations, the American Heart Association, Texas Affiliate, is the state's largest voluntary health organization dedicated to reducing disability and death from heart and blood vessel diseases.

New MCHD equipment to help cardiac victims

A new piece of equipment has been added to the Mitchell County Ambulance Service which will save valuable minutes when transporting a suspected victim of a heart attack.

A physio-control lifepak II, a 12 lead EKG, is state of the art patient care equipment which few community hospitals now have but which are used by helicopter services, said MC Ambulance Service Director Mark Potter.

Emergency workers can run an EKG enroute to the hospital and transmit the information by cellular phone to the physician waiting at the Mitchell County Hospital.

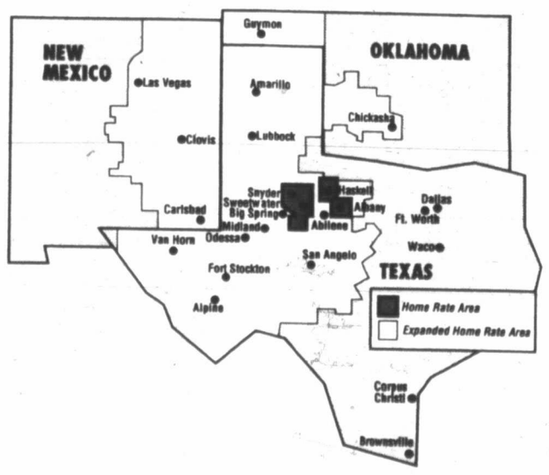

The Pink Ladies, the MCHD ladies auxiliary, donated half the cost for the $15,000 equipment.

Lady Wolves win Bi- District championship

The Lady Wolves captured the Bi-District Championship last Saturday in Alpine, defeating the Mountain View Lobos 65-29.

The Lady Wolves used a tenacious defense in the first half to shut down the Lobos, allowing them only 11 points while putting up 25 themselves.

It took a few minutes for the Wolves' offense to get untracked. Playoff jitters were evident as the Wolves missed their first four shots before Bettina Bridgford canned a short jumper for the Wolves' first basket three minutes into the game.

"In the first quarter we looked very nervous," second-year Coach Darrin Leverton said following the game. "These girls had never seen a Colorado girls' team in the playoffs, much less played in one," he said.

The Wolves led 8-6 at the end of the first quarter then lost the lead briefly early in the second quarter, and trailed 9-8, but Krissy Crawford sank a short jumpshot to give the Wolves a lead that they would never relinquish.

The Wolves' defensive allowed only five second quarter points. The Wolves' Krissy Crawford held Erica Quezada, the Lobo scoring leader, scoreless for most of the game. Quezada scored her first field goal midway through the third quarter. Bettina Bridgford also gave great defensive effort in the first half.

The Wolves' offensive came alive in the second half, leading much of the half by 20 points or more

Offensively, the Wolves shot poorly all night but forced 28 turnovers and took 27 more offensive shots than Mountain View.

The Wolves' offensive efforts were led by senior Shelley Galey as she poured in a season high 15 points, followed by Krissy Crawford with 14.

Other Wolves scoring were Jini Sparkman, nine; Casi Joiner, seven; Bettina Bridgford, six; Jana Redwine, four Melissa Rivera, four; Mica Merrell, two; Shakei Ausbie, two; and Freda McKnight, two.

Crawford led the Wolves in rebounding with 12.

EDWARDS for DISTRICT ATTORNEY

"I am particularly proud of the fact that in this district we have sent about 50 criminals per year to the penitentiary, plus disposed of another 300 indictments through plea bargains..." Frank Conard, Sweetwater Reporter, January 7, 1996.

The fact is that the records of the Office of Court Administration show that since September 1, 1991, 677 cases were dismissed by the district attorney while 284 criminals received deferred adjudication. Of the total cases disposed of since 9-1-91, 961 (57%) were by dismissing them or giving the criminals deferred adjudication.

"I am also proud of the aggressive stand my Office has taken against drug dealers during the last 7 years..." Frank Conard, Sweetwater Reporter, January 7, 1996.

The fact is that the records of the Office of Court Administration show that in one month alone (December, 1994) Frank Conard allowed 9 drug dealers to receive deferred adjudication for delivery of drugs. Since September 1, 1991, Frank Conard has allowed 55 drug dealers to receive deferred adjudication for delivery of drugs. This allows these criminals to remain free with no conviction and, if they get in to no more trouble, the case against them is dismissed.

I will take the fight against crime seriously. For criminals charged with delivering drugs I will work to put them in prison, and will certainly not give these criminals deferred adjudication probation.

Wolves to battle Clint in Pecos

The Colorado City Wolves clinched a playoff spot on February 13 with their 69-64 overtime win at Sonora. They also got a little help from Reagan County. Reagan County knocked off the Kermit Yellowjackets, who were tied with Colorado City at 5-4 on the same night.

"We are real excited about being in the playoffs," Coach Hayden Merket said. "That was our first goal going into the season. It was real unsure if we'd make it for awhile, but the kids really came together for us," he added.

The Wolves will play Clint Friday night at 8 p.m. in Pecos. Clint is the district 7-3A champion and will look to be a tough bi-district opponent for the Wolves.

"This should be a close game," Coach Merket said. "Clint is real similar to us in style. They have great quickness and play a lot of man-to-man." It [the game] will probably come down to who shoots better."

If the Wolves beat Clint they would likely play Seminole Tuesday night somewhere around Midland.

The Wolves' path to the playoffs wasn't too easy. The hardest thing was to win a road game in district play. Five of their six district wins came at home.

"As we got into the district, I felt that we should make it to the playoffs, but we would have had to beat teams we've never beaten before," Coach Merket commented.

"Basketball has not been real strong here the past few years, so it's great just to be where we are right now," he added.

The Wolves are 16-13 and put their season on the line Friday night.

Wildcats to face tough Bearcats

The Westbrook Wildcats enter the playoffs with all five starters averaging double figures in points. Coach Jim Hill said that this was the first time that he had ever had five players in double figures since he started coaching at Westbrook.

The Wildcats will play District 26-A runnerup Garden City Friday night at 8 p.m. in Coahoma.

Garden City has a misleading record of 12-15—they are no pushovers.

"It's gonna be a tough game," Coach Jim Hill said. The Bearcats are loaded with size. They have a pair of six-foot four-inch players whom they run in and out. Garden City also has a couple of very quick guards.

"Their guards run the floor real well," Coach Hill added.

With several players away at the Houston Livestock Show, Westbrook's bi-district playoff couldn't have come at a worse time.

The Wildcats were without the services of starter Homer Matlock for their three practice games. They are still unsure whether or not he will be available for their playoff.

"We're going to have to go to Coahoma ready to play," Coach Hill commented.

"They [Garden City] are a well-coached team and could have easily been the champions of their district. They forced Rankin into a one-game playoff to decide the district championship.

If Westbrook defeats Garden City, they will take on the winner of the Roscoe vs. Highland bi-district playoff next Tuesday.

The Wildcats enter their playoff with a 15-5 record.

Loraine to begin playoff drive Friday

The Loraine Bulldogs are returning to the playoffs after reaching the regional semi-finals a year ago. The Bulldogs have struggled a bit in recent weeks but seem to be on the right track with impressive practice game wins over Buena Vista, Eula, and Panther Creek.

"I think we're playing pretty good basketball right now," first-year head coach Barry Gill commented. "I think these practice games have boosted our confidence going into Friday's game."

The Bulldogs will take on Rankin Friday night in Coahoma at 6 p.m. Rankin, the District 26-A champion, has a record of 17-7. Rankin also has a lethal weapon in Tomas Wrotten, a six-foot, six-inch post, who has been averaging over 30 points a game for the Red Devils.

Loraine, whose tallest player stands six feet, two inches, should have some trouble matching against the much taller Wrotten.

"I think it'll take a total team effort to contain him [Wrotten]," Coach Gill said. "We're going to try to make him work for everything he gets."

The Bulldogs have no specific goal in mind. They're just going to try to take one game at a time. That's not a bad idea. Taking one game at a time got them to the regional semi-finals a year ago.

If the Bulldogs beat Rankin, they will take on the winner of the Roby vs. Blackwell bi-district playoff next Tuesday.

The Bulldogs are 20-12.

SPORTS NOTES

Monahans to join District

Monahans will join Colorado City, Crane, Kermit, Midland Greenwood, Reagan County, and Sonora in District 8-3A next year.

Monahans will compete in every sport within the district except football, for which they will remain in District 5-4A.

Monahans, a perennial power in class 4A, won its UIL realignment appeal to enter the district. A tough district just got tougher.

Baseball games re-scheduled

Baseball games scheduled for Tuesday, February 20 have been changed to Thursday, February 22: Varsity Wolves vs. Coahoma, there, 4:30; and JV Wolves vs. Coahoma, here, 4:30.

The change was due to the Varsity Lady Wolves' playoff game Tuesday night.

WOLVES

cut the lead to three, 40-37 with 6:53 to play.

Krissy Crawford made it a one-point game, 40-39, with 6:47 left, but Brownfield came back and took a 44-39 lead with 4:53.

Crawford brought Colorado City back to within three, 44-41, with 4:37 to play, but that was as close as Brownfield would allow the Lady Wolves to get.

Colorado City was led in scoring by Crawford with 20 points, but the 6-1 senior fouled out with 4:22 to play in the fourth quarter.

The Lady Cubs also had one player in double figures. Keva Flournoy had 22.

For the game, the Lady Wolves were 12 of 20 from the free throw line while Brownfield ended up hitting 25 of 42.

With the loss brought the end of a high school career for six Colorado City Lady Wolves. The seniors are Shelley Galey, Shepard, Shakei Ausbie, Crawford and McKnight.

"They have done a tremendous job for us this year," said Leverton. "We are really going to miss that crew. They are the main reason we were able to do what we did this year."

Sol-Solved
*1994 is the last complete reported year available. The Solves is actually 13% or a total of 10 cases cleared after adjusting for six burglaries that were solved by another Police Agency.

Charles Rice believes the solutions to these critical problems are:

1. Closer supervision and attention to proper investigation and crime scene procedure.
2. More cooperation and interaction with all other Police agencies.
3. More time spend patrolling county roads and community area - not the interstate. (After all these crimes didn't occur in the fast lane).
4. Less out of county travel and spending more time on the job in the county.

Charles Rice Is Qualified To Correct This Problem.

7 years Experience - Extensive Training - Numerous Commendation For His Work.

The following statement is made by Sergeant Detective David E. Smith of the Ennis Police Department...

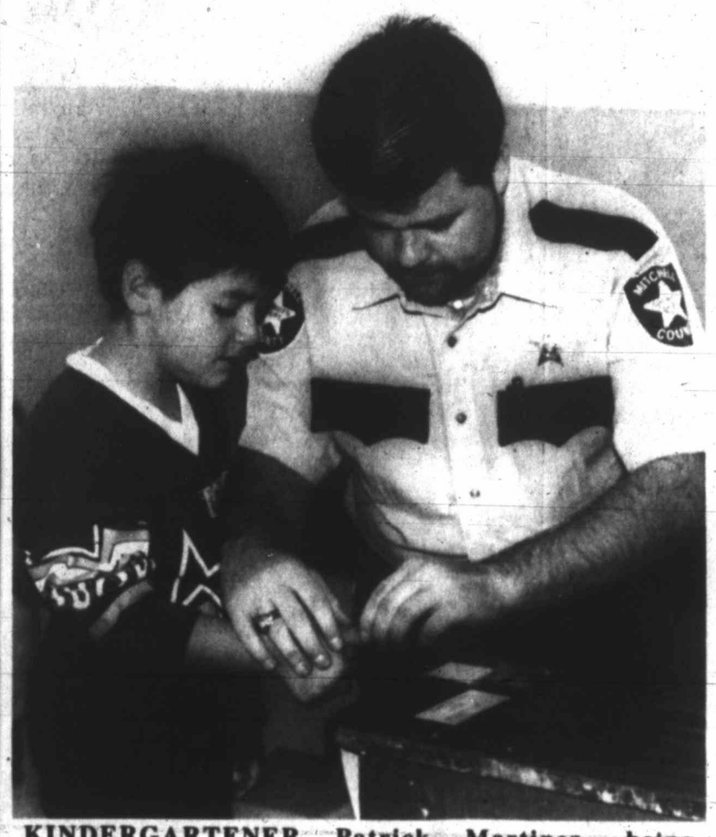

...In 1992, during a six month period, Officer Rice assisting the Ennis Texas Police Department in undercover work, developed evidence on 102 drug cases that resulted in a 95% conviction rate.

KINDERGARTENER Patrick Martinez, being fingerprinted by Mitchell County Sheriff's Dept. employee Jason Penn, is one of the thousand children expected to be fingerprinted in local schools over the next two weeks. The Identa-Youth program, sponsored by the National Sheriff's Association, provides parents with a set of their children's fingerprints to keep. Preschool-age children can also participate.

Mitchell County youth get fingerprinted

Approximately a thousand Mitchell County youngsters will be fingerprinted by Mitchell County Sheriff's Department deputies within the next two weeks.

Through Identa-Youth, sponsored by the National Sheriff's Association, parents receive a set of their children's fingerprints to keep.

Deputies fingerprinted children at Kelley Elementary and Westbrook School this week and will go to Hutchinson Elementary and Loraine School next week.

The fingerprinting is done as a service to the community by the sherifff's department.

Permission slips are sent home for parents to sign and the one set of prints is kept by the parents.

Local youngsters' fingerprints were last made by the sheriff's department three years ago.

Parents are welcome to bring pre-school age children to school to be fingerprinted at the same time, said Sheriff Toombs.

Loraine News

By BESSIE ANN VAUGHN

Greetings from Loraine.

Did you have an interesting and memorable Presidents' Day? What did you do to celebrate?

The only thing I could think of to do was to look at the presidents' faces on U.S. currency. (At least I didn't have to hear campaign promises.)

The only drawback as far as my personal paper money was concerned was that the bill with George Washington on it was mostly all I had to look at.

There was one with Lincoln on it and another with President Hamilton's picture on it. I wish I could tell you that I had several bills with Hamilton's face on it, but I'm not supposed to tell a lie.

I will say this: I would be especially pleased if someone wanted to mail paper money in large denominations to me, only to further my education.

Yeah, I know—get real!

Property for sale around Loraine proper is beginning to show some movement and recently these properties have changed hands:

The home of Virginia Hallmark sold to Mr. and Mrs. G.D. Boyles from Midland. At this time, Mrs. Hallmark resides in the Loraine Nursing Home.

The old Moody Richardson homestead sold to J.O. Sanderson, then to Billy Mays, has now again been sold to Ivana Jones.

Annie Belle Jones bought the residence owned by Mattie Neely and is enjoying her new home. Mrs. Neely moved to Houston to be near her children. This left Annie Belle's residence for sale and it was sold to Mr. and Mrs. John Harty.

"Mind over Matter?"

Before I took a turn for the worse I was some better than I am at the moment, yet not nearly as well as I soon will be, but better than even I could have imagined and certainly more well than before getting bad in the first place, or perhaps it just seemed so while finding myself in a delicate condition that I in no way plan to linger or languish in for any prolonged period of time, as time will surely tell on a creature such as I, who at one time was in a hearty prime-time of wellness, when suddenly taking the aforementioned turn in an ailing direction, though not for long, as I'm quite positive it will only be for a short duration and you can count on my words as being gospel!

"Yesteryear"

Yesteryear in Loraine, 1931 to be exact, J.H. Neill would sell you a new bedroom suite on sale for $49.50 and a new refrigerator for $19.70.

The corner grocery was the place to buy a good broom for .39.

Barrett Grocery advertised 10 bars of good laundry soap for .27—and a box of shredded wheat for .10.

Other things in this May 22, 1931 issue of Loraine's Mitchell County newspaper that caught my attention were these headlines:

Improvements in Loraine: Meeks Ice Service erected a nice little brick ice house on North Main... Alonzo Phillips put in a new "filling station" on Post Office Avenue, east of the bank building...W.J. Coon is overhauling his grocery store plus painting the interior...Clyde Wilson's Garage and Toggery are also making improvements...

Other interesting reading was that Fire Chief Jack Walker had published that anyone parking within 10 feet of a fire plug would be fined $5...Attendance at the Loraine Methodist Church that Sunday was 246...A successful school term comes to a close... Loraine Masonic Lodge 1021 A.F. and A.M. will elect officers May 28, 1931. The editor of the Mitchell County newspaper in 1931 was Mr. Walter E. Edmiaston. Earlier, back in 1909-1910, Loraine's newspaper was the Loraine News and R.L. Hall was editor.

I hope this triggers some good memories for you (those old enough to remember).

I would be pleased to hear some of your good memories about Loraine to share with our readers from time to time...good, funny or bad. Send to B.A. Vaughn, Box 117, Loraine, Texas 79532.

Take care and see you around town.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA), Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS) is announcing the availability of an Environmental Assessment and finding of no significant impact for the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Program. Copies of the documents are available on request from the following office.

U.S. Department of Agriculture
Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service
Plant Protection and Quarantine
Central Regional Office
3505 Boca Chica Blvd., Suite 360
Brownsville, TX 78521-4065

The boll weevil is a devastating pest of cotton that results in large annual yield losses and expenses for control. The proposed program is a component of the National Cooperative Boll Weevil Control Program, which has successfully eradicated the boll weevil from seven states in the southeast and southwest. In Texas, the program is a cooperative effort among the APHIS, the Texas Department of Agriculture, the Extension Service, the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, Inc., and local cotton producers.

The environmental assessment is tiered to, and incorporates by reference, the analyses contained within the "Final Environmental Impact Statement for the National Boll Weevil Cooperative Control Program -- 1991." The environmental assessment considers the potential impacts of alternatives and specific control methods for boll weevil eradication on human health, the physical environment, and nontarget species. Specific protective measures for this program are contained in the environmental assessment.

APHIS' finding of no significant impact for the program was based on quantitative and qualitative risk assessments, the program's operational characteristics, and site-specific aspects of the proposed program's area.

Does the government own you money?

By MARY McMULLEN
CEA-FCS

Would you like to put some extra money in your pocket? If so, be sure to check and see if you are eligible for EIC or Earned Income Credit. This is a benefit for people who work.

In 1995 if you earned less than $24,396 and had one qualifying child living with you, you could get up to $2,094. Workers with incomes of less than $26, 673 and two or more children in the household are eligible for up to $3,100 in EIC for 1995.

Couples or single people between the ages of 25 and 64 with no children living with them and earning less than $9,230 are eligible for up to $314 under this benefit.

It is important to remember in order to claim this benefit you must file an income tax return even if you owe no taxes. For people with one or more children in the household, you must file form 1040 or 1040A and attach schedule EIC. For people with no children, you may file a form 1040, 1040A or 1040EZ.

For further information, contact the Texas Agricultural Extension Service at 728-3111 or your tax preparer.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to the Editor:

Truth in political advertising—wouldn't it be desirable?

In the writer's opinion, Frank Conard has done an outstanding job as District Attorney for the three-county area. If voters will take time to inform themselves they will discover that the District Court can allot only six weeks annually to each county for prosecution of felony criminal indictments. Probably enough time for Fisher County, but too little for Nolan County considering the number of indictments returned by each Grand Jury session.

District Court records show that in the last seven years there have been over 3,400 cases filed in the three-county district with over 3,000 of those cases disposed of. District Attorney Conard has, as of this date, never had a conviction reversed on appeal.

An outstanding record!

Earl Chancellor

Dear Editor:

The Record's coverage of the Wolves' basketball season has been great this year. My sincere appreciation to whomever has been responsible for providing the articles.

As a mom who couldn't always be there, it was nice to get an account of the action. Relatives and friends have also enjoyed reading the reports.

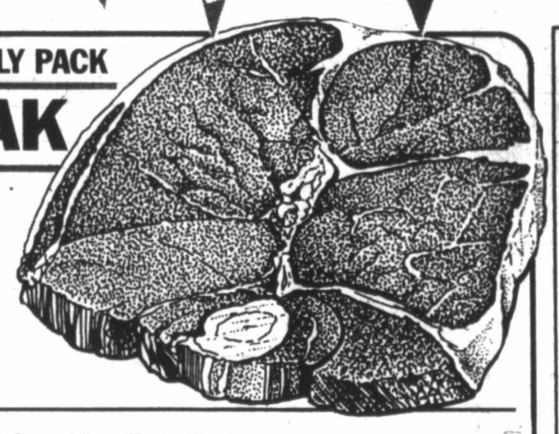

Attendance and support at home games has been tremendous, and I can't help but believe that the attention given to the team in the local newspaper has helped. Thanks to the Record for supporting Wolf basketball in 1995-96.
