New 'Relay' Satellite Is Set To Work

By CHARLES STAFFORD

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A new communications satellite named Relay soared through space today awaiting a call that would put it to work as a versatile link among nations of the Western world.

A Thor-Delta rocket, living up to its reputation for reliability, lifted the 172-pound communications satellite into the heavens Thursday night, just one second behind its scheduled 6:30 p.m. departure. It was the 14th straight successful mission for Thor-Delta.

Three hours after liftoff, as Relay completed its first circle of the globe, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced: "The orbit looks extremely close to nominal."

The exact path of Relay will be known after a careful study of telemetry data, sometime today, he said. A nominal—or planned—orbit called for a speed of 17,000 miles an hour, an orbital path ranging from 800 miles to 4,500 miles high, and one complete trip around the world every 3 hours and 4 minutes.

NASA's Robert Mackey said the first contact with Relay would be attempted by a NASA test station at Nutley, N.J. If its systems checked out favorably, the first communications experiments will be attempted by ground stations at Andover, Maine, and Goonhilly Downs, Great Britain.

Robert Gray, a NASA official, said the only interruption in the day-long countdown came in the early morning when workers at the launch pad had to pause to knock ice off the gantry. Relay rose into the heavens in the midst of Florida's worst cold spell in this century. The temperature at launch time was a windy 39 with the mercury falling.

Relay was launched at night so that it could speed over the horizon into the sunlight for maximum exposure during its first four orbits. This was necessary to allow the 8,215 solar cells lining its outer surface to soak up energy from the sun and convert it into electrical energy to charge the spacecraft's storage batteries.

Relay's power supply was designed to permit communications tests for 1 hour, 40 minutes each day. Its designers predicted it would operate at maximum efficiency for the first 30 days in orbit, and render useful data for one year.

It is geared to relay television, radio, teletype, telephone, and high-speed data signals between Andover, Goonhilly Downs and Pleumeurboudou, France. A station at Funcino, Italy, not yet completed, will be able to receive its signals.

Stations at Nutley, N.J., and Rio de Janeiro were designed to exchange voice and teletype tests, with the Brazilian station also passing along these tests to the Italian station.

The Saturday schedule calls for news stories to be exchanged between the United States and Europe. Similar transmissions are planned Monday between the United States and South America.

If all goes well, the public will witness an intercontinental Christmas program Wednesday televised through Relay. The program, carried by all three U.S. television networks, will feature yuletide preparations in 11 nations on the North American and European continents.

Relay is akin to Telstar, the orbiting switchboard which went dead in late November after four highly successful months of transmitting television pictures, radio and telephone conversations between the United States and Europe. But its parentage is different.

Telstar was privately built and financed by American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

EVEN IN FLORIDA—There was ice on trees, even in Florida. Rita Ydo, who came to this country from Holland recently, had to touch them to make certain they were to the real thing. Cold weather caused a pipe in a sprinkler system at Jacksonville, Fla., to burst and spray water over a tree. Freezing temperatures did the rest. (AP Wirephoto)

Mariner II Poised For Look At Venus

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mariner 2, closing in for a look at the planet Venus, turned on its scanning instruments at 8:35 a.m. Eastern Standard Time today on command from a tracking station at Goldstone, Calif., 36 million miles away.

The National Aeronautics and Space administration said at 9 a.m. that the gold- and silver-plated spacecraft acknowledged receipt of the command in six and one half minutes.

The order turned on two devices called radiometers which will scan the surface and the atmosphere of Venus for 42 minutes, starting 66 minutes before the craft's closest approach to Venus.

Response to the command, representing the greatest distance ever spanned by an ordering radio signal, and produced sighs of relief from U.S. scientists. Two built-in command signals designed to turn on the instruments had failed to do the job.

After signals from the spacecraft assured the Goldstone station that Mariner had received the order, there was a delay of about 10 minutes while officials studied further signals to make sure the angle of direction of the radiometers was such that they would scan the planet.

Coded signals will be relayed by telephone from the Jet Propulsion Laboratory's Goldstone, Calif., tracking station and amplified over a public address system at a National Aeronautics and Space Administration news conference here.

The U.S. Information Agency, plans to send reports on Mariner's progress to 107 posts around the globe in 38 languages. Later there will be a documentary film of Mariner's progress for world-wide theatrical showings.

Mariner's journey got off to a bumpy start. Due to a somewhat faulty performance of the 10-story high Atlas-Agena B complex that launched her, she began her trip on a greatly off-target course.

That error was soon substantially corrected. Since then, though, Mariner has been beset by various other temporary troubles—some of them still a mystery.

Even now, as she whizzes towards Venus, one of her solar panels is out of kilter.

Scientists do not believe this will impede Mariner's snooping at the target planet. They point out that Mariner already has obtained treasures of new knowledge about interplanetary space.

Mariner has weathered at least a half-dozen intense geomagnetic storms, encountered dense clouds of solar particles whizzing by at speeds up to 1.55 million miles an hour, felt the ping of cosmic dust—perhaps created by the explosion of a long-dead planet.

Her speed—mounting as she comes more and more under the gravitational pull of Venus—will reach a high point of 40,572 miles an hour by earthly standards as she passes the rendezvous point.

While scientists expect to get a check on the condition of the spacecraft itself, they say it will be "at least weeks and possibly months" before they'll be able to say what Mariner actually found out about Venus.

Says NATO Force Lags

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Lauris Norstad, retiring supreme commander for Europe, warned today that the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's conventional forces are so under strength it might be difficult to contain even a modest Soviet attack.

His somber assessment was delivered at a closed meeting of NATO ministers. At the same session, reports of vast increases in the Soviet submarine fleet and in Soviet rocket deployment were presented and analyzed.

Two members of President Kennedy's Cabinet — Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Defense Robert S. McNamara—stressed that NATO needs adequate conventional strength in order to have a choice of responses to aggressive Soviet moves.

Rusk reaffirmed the willingness of the U.S. government to help set up a seaborne multinational European nuclear force and said Washington is anxious to sound out the feelings of its European partners.

But Rusk specified that the Europeans themselves would have to work out ideas on the political control for such a deterrent. He also specified that the vast expense of this project would have to be shared.

The session lasted more than three hours. The military talks were held behind closed doors.

Conference sources said McNamara did not spell out in detail American thinking on the multinational European nuclear deterrent but made it clear the Americans have already made an offer and that the proposal first advanced two years ago still stands. Now it is up to the Europeans to come forward with suggestions of their own, he said.

NATO has never been able to achieve its target of 30 combat-ready divisions in Western Europe.

The Kennedy administration believes one lesson provided by the Cuban crisis was the clear need to have many possible responses to aggressive Communist moves. This formed a theme of McNamara's speech, informants said.

Cold Seige Hits Florida

A prolonged siege of unseasonably cold and snowy weather in the eastern half of the nation appeared moderating in most areas today.

Abnormally cold weather persisted in Florida, which has been hit by the coldest weather in more than 70 years, causing millions of dollars damage to fruit and vegetable crops.

Temperatures this morning again dropped below freezing in northern Florida and into the 30s as far south as Miami. However, the readings were higher than Thursday when the mercury dropped into the teens, marking the state's worst freeze since 1889.

The severe pre-winter weather also has taken a heavy toll in lives—estimates were up to 150. Damage to property was expected to run into the millions of dollars.

Snow squalls swept areas in the Northeast, already weary from more than a week of battling the wintry elements. The snow belt covered areas in Ohio, Indiana, Lower Michigan and western sections of New York State and Pennsylvania. Snow also fell in Western Maryland and in some parts of New England.

In Florida, harvest hands left the winter-killed vegetable farms and moved into the citrus groves in an attempt to salvage something from the heavy freeze. Fruit growers planned a quick harvest of some of the citrus to convert to juice before rising temperatures deteriorated the frozen fruit.

The Florida Citrus Commission reported damage was heavier than in the winter of 1957-58 when 30 million boxes of fruit froze on the branches and 30,000 trees were killed.

The Weather Bureau said there was a general moderation of temperatures in most of the eastern half of the country. There were only a few sub-zero readings in northern Minnesota, with -7 in International Falls the lowest. A cold pocket of air, with temperatures in the teens covered the snow-blanketed northeast region.

The snow blanket in northeastern Ohio, with falls continuing, measured up to 54 inches in the Ashtabula area. Highway crews were hampered in clearing highways because of the drifting snow.

A seven-mile stretch of freeway connecting Cleveland and Painsville was closed because of heavy drifts. A 40-mile speed limit was in effect on a 120-mile leg of the Ohio Turnpike from Pennsylvania westward.

In Cleveland, stalled, abandoned and parked cars have slowed the cleanup operations. Police said nine tow trucks have removed an average of 1,000 cars a day from the streets since last Friday.

Donovan Is Encouraged

NEW YORK (AP)—James B. Donovan, negotiator to win freedom for the 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners, says he hopes to have them back in this country by Christmas.

Donovan said he was encouraged, both by President Kennedy's endorsement of his objectives at Wednesday's press conference, and by an announcement of cooperation by the American Red Cross.

The Cuban missile crisis had stalled Donovan's efforts to exchange medicines, medical supplies and baby foods for the prisoners, captured in the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion of April 1961.

Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro had demanded $62 million ransom, but Donovan said no cash will be involved.

The Red Cross announced in Washington that it was collecting supplies from U.S. manufacturers for shipment to Cuba, and would provide welfare services to any Cuban prisoners released to the United States.

Alberta Basks As Florida Shivers

CALGARY, Alta. (AP)—While Florida shivers, southern Alberta is having a belated touch of Indian summer.

The mercury didn't climb above 38 Thursday in Jacksonville, Fla., but at Calgary—1,500 miles to the north—it reached 56, one degree above previous record highs in 1944 and 1956.

Request Remembered

CLERMONT, Fla. (AP)—Dorothy Hoskinson lives on a dark street. She asked her brother-in-law, Jim Hoskinson, to do something about it if he won election to the City Council.

Jim was elected this week and he remembered Dorothy's request. He sent her a flashlight.

Rains Invade South Texas

By The Associated Press

Light rain fell at a point or two in extreme South Texas as winter beat a retreat from the state Friday.

Temperatures sagged a little below freezing across North and West Texas but it was considerably warmer nearly everywhere than the day before.

The early December cold wave was blamed for three deaths in home fires at Dallas, Fort Worth and Nederland.

There was light rain or drizzle most of the night in extreme South Texas. Fog mixed with the drizzle at Brownsville and McAllen in early morning.

Occasional showers were expected to spread into Central Texas and to grow heavier near the coast. Continued fair weather was predicted in Northwest Texas.

Forecasts called for slightly higher temperatures in all sections through the weekend and another cool spell about Tuesday or Wednesday.

The mercury climbed above freezing everywhere in the state Thursday for the first time in two days. Top marks ranged from 42 degrees at College Station up to 62 at Dalhart.

Readings early Friday edged down to 27 at Dalhart, 30 at Amarillo, Lubbock and Texarkana, 31 at Wink and 32 at ElPaso and Dallas. It was 49 at the same time in Corpus Christi.

$450 TO BE GIVEN AWAY SATURDAY

A total of $450 will be given away again Saturday afternoon in the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Merchants Committee "White Star" pre-Christmas program.

The drawing Saturday afternoon will be held at 4:30 p.m. on the courthouse square. Anyone may register at any of the local business firms displaying the white star.

Negotiators Begin Effort To Avert Shipping Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government called in union and management negotiators today in an effort to avert an East and Gulf Coast shipping strike on Christmas Eve.

Dock workers who struck four days in early October are threatening a new walkout after a current 80-day emergency strike court injunction expires on Dec. 23. Negotiators are in complete deadlock with the deadline only nine days away.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, calling an afternoon meeting, advised both sides "the national interest must be considered more important than the bargaining position in which each of you seems so firmly frozen."

"As a nation," Wirtz said, "we can ill afford a continuing breakdown in your negotiations. Our domestic needs, which are dependent upon the orderly flow of commerce, as well as our world-wide commitments and relationships with other free countries, would be seriously injured by a resumption of the strike."

The dispute is over a new contract between the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) and shipping and stevedoring firms handling pier cargo at ports from Maine to Texas. About 60,000 longshoremen are involved.

Wirtz and director William E. Simkin of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service are to meet with chiefs of the union and the New York Shipping Association, an employer group which normally sets the bargaining pattern for other port employers.

A government official close to the situation said the meeting could be described "as a last frantic effort" to get some meaningful negotiations started. There has been no agreement on any of a score of points in dispute.

The government's concern with the prospect of a winter stoppage of Atlantic and Gulf shipping was reflected in Wirtz' stern reminder to both sides that their "persistent inability to reach a satisfactory settlement is a matter of deep disappointment and grave concern."

The ILA has rejected an employer offer to raise longshoremen's wages by 27 cents an hour over a three-year contract period. The union has refused to negotiate further until the companies withdraw their own proposals to reduce sizes of pier gangs and allow greater flexibility of manpower.

The ILA has demanded a six-hour day instead of the present eight-hour day, double time for overtime, and extra pay for certain types of work. The shippers say the union demands would more than double the labor cost of handling cargo.

The longshoremen presently earn $3.02 an hour.

Under the Taft-Hartley Law requirements, the National Labor Relations Board is to poll the longshoremen next week on the employers' last offer. This presumably is the 27-cent offer their union has already rejected.

Brazil Reports All 50 Survive Crash

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Jornal do Brasil radio reported that all 50 persons aboard a Brazilian air liner which went down in the wilds of Amazonas state early today survived. The broadcast said some were injured but that there were no deaths.

Earlier, the newspaper Jornal do Brasil quoted military sources in Manaus, capital of Amazonas, as saying no signs of life could be detected when the wreckage of the Panair do Brasil Constellation was spotted in a jungle clearing 18 miles from Manaus.

The Constellations had last been heard from at 3 a.m., six minutes before it was to have landed at Manaus, on a flight from Belem.

Air line officials said the plane carried 40 listed passengers and 3 babies, plus a crew of 7.

Most, if not all, were believed to be Brazilians.

Panair do Brasil headquarters here confirmed sighting of the plane and a spokesman added, "Apparently there are survivors."

The radio report said the plane made a forced landing on the shore of a lake near the Pedro River in an area called Terra Nova.

Capt. Dalvo da Costa, veteran chief Amazon area pilot for the air line, was reported at the controls.

It was the third Brasilian air accident in less than a month.

A Brazilian Boeing 707 jet crashed and burned on a hilltop near Lima, Peru, Nov. 27 and all 97 persons aboard perished; the day before, two Brazilian planes collided in flight and crashed near Sao Paulo, killing 27 persons.

3 Small Children Perish In Blaze

ROSWELL, N.M. (AP)—Three small children burned to death Thursday night south of Roswell in a military housing project fire.

Mike Jones, 4, Billy Jones, 2, and Trina Jones, 7 months, were the children of Airman and Mrs. Michael Jones. A fourth child, Don, 6, escaped unharmed.

Police said the father, an airman at Walker AFB, was on duty and the mother was reported to have been away from the barracks-type home.

A fire department report indicated a natural gas heater exploded in the living room.

Soviet Proposals Attacked By U. S.

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

GENEVA (AP) — The United States attacked all current Soviet disarmament proposals today as deliberate efforts to break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and undermine the security of the free world.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference that the United States and its allies will never allow themselves to be lured into such a trap.

American nuclear delivery capacity and U.S. military bases around the fringes of the Soviet bloc are key elements of Western defense strategy which the West will not give up until the final stages of disarmament, Dean said.

The Soviet Union, he said, is wasting its time and blocking any start to general disarmament if it persists in its effort to "subvert the military and political position of the free world" with slanted proposals.

Dean said the Soviet demand for elimination of Western bases and nuclear striking power would "radically alter the world balance of military power in favor of the Soviet bloc during the very course and, indeed, rather close to the outset of disarmament."

"It should by now be clear to one and all that no amount of debate and casuistry—specious reasoning—will be able to convince the United States to abandon its allies in Europe and elsewhere to the mercies of the Soviet military machine," Dean said.

"We will not allow NATO to be fragmented, as would be the case under Soviet proposals, into 15 isolated military compartments forbidden from joint activity and cooperation and separated into split North American and European districts.

"We will not permit this situation to arise while the mighty Soviet military machine remains essentially intact in its own part of Eastern Europe under a single unified command.

"This is especially true when the superiority of the Soviet Union alone in tanks and artillery over combined NATO forces is quite substantial."

Dean said the United States remains committed to the cooperative defense of the free world.

STILL STUCK TO THE REAR DOOR of this auto is the headlight ring of the other car involved in the collision, seen at far right. The mishap occurred at 4:43 p.m. Thursday at Avenue Q and Twenty-fourth St. Mrs. A. A. Crumley, 2209 Avenue O, a passenger in the car, was admitted to Cogdell Hospital with a severe head cut. Driver of the car, Mary S. Morse, 2105 Avenue S, received a minor head cut. The car at right was driven by William G. Rominger, owner of the Cabin Courts. He was not injured nor was a passenger, Mrs. Allen Seter. Mrs. Seter's daughter, Kathy, 5, suffered a bloody nose, and her son, Allen Jr., 18 months, was reported to be "just crying." Bolger Ambulance Service took the victims to the hospital.

Affluent Society Gradually Gaining Ground On Writer

BY INEZ ROBB

Slowly but surely the Affluent Society is catching up with me. Of course, in the past few years I have not been unaware of the vast increase in the number of chaufeured Rolls-Royces on the streets of New York, of the prevelance of mink coats on subways and buses or the casual daily invitations to take a table for ten at $100 per person to this or that charity ball, testimonial dinner or theatrical benefit.

Only last week I received an invitation to a testimonial dinner at $5 per head and suddenly found myself furious that my Dun-and Bradstreet had dropped $95 dollars or 95 per cent on a single mail delivery.

Whereas my reply to the $100-per-person solicitations is either "Are you kidding?" or "flattery will get you no place," my reposte to the $5 invite was, "You are getting closer and closer."

However, twice within the past few days the Affluent Society has engulfed me when I wasn't looking. In the first instance, when I went to keep my regular weekly appointment at the hair dresser, I said that I had just read that the latest lotion to set hair was — ugh! — dried milk.

"It says it gives the hair bulk and a satiny sheen," I said, repeating the article, parrot-like.

"Yes, it does," said Ila, the priestess who presides over this beauty emporium.

"Then give me 50 cents worth of bulk and satiny sheen," I ordered. "I am flying to Miami Beach tonight to make a speech and I want to look my best."

"In that case," said Ila, "we'll set your hair with champagne. There is nothing like a champagne set for sheen, bulk and lasting control."

"Look," I cried, in some alarm, "I can afford a beer set, and probably a milk set, but I cannot afford a champagne set."

"Oh, yes, you can," said Ila, who had already opened a split of champagne and poured a glassful. "Here," she ordered, "drink half of this. It only takes a half-glass to set hair."

"You drink it!" I ordered. "I don't want a big head both inside and out."

Well the long and the short of it is that I had a champagne set and that I am lovely, controlled of coiffure and married. And Ila is only surprised that I did not realize that the champagne set is an everyday thing with the carriage trade.

My second encounter with the Affluent Society resulted from an invitation to meet with a solemn committee dedicated to good deeds. The committee asked me to meet with it over luncheon in one of New York's ultra-fashionable and expensive restaurants.

Now, I like to eat in fashionable and expensive restaurants on someone's else money. But I am constitutionally unable to do business over the luncheon table. So I suggested that we meet in the Fifth Avenue office of the chairman and have a drugstore sandwich and a cup of soup while we threshed out the committee's problems.

I arrived at the chairman's office to discover that he occupied an executive suite of sumptuous elegance. As we gathered, I was trying to decide whether I would order from the drugstore a hot pastrami on rye or a chicken salad on white with mayonnaise and no lettuce.

Fifteen minutes after we had arrived, no one had yet asked us what we wanted to order, so I came to the conclusion that we were not going to eat — just work.

At that moment, the door opened and a butler began distributing trays to each of us — trays set with the most delicate of imported china and the most handsome of vermeil (sterling silver dipped in gold) flatware!

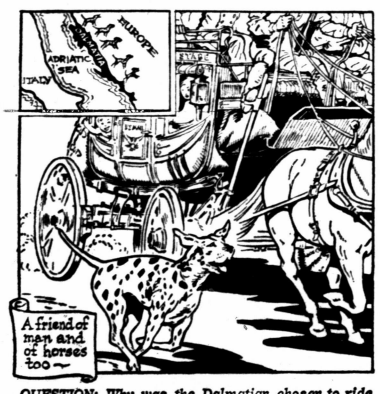

As paper thin sandwiches of chicken, and tomato and cucumber were handed around, together with a cup of rich mushroom soup, mine host said, "Mrs. Robb thought we would get more work done if we had a sandwich and a cup of soup in the office."

Shades of delicatessen sandwiches coffee in paper cups and cardboard spoons!

"So I brought this from home," the chairman continued. And, I thought, probably in a Rolls-Royce.

Junior Editors Quiz on DOGS

QUESTION: Why was the Dalmatian chosen to ride fire trucks?

• • •

ANSWER: The Dalmatian is one of the finest of dogs, faithful, intelligent, easy to raise. It is a very old breed which has always gotten along well with horses. There are pictures of such dogs running behind Egyptian chariots. Later the Dalmatian was trained to run alongside horse-drawn coaches, sometimes between the wheels. As fire engines changed from hand-drawn to horse-drawn, the Dalmatian moved over to the fire-house. Here he was the pet of firemen and guarded the fire house faithfully. When alarms sounded, the Dalmatian went right along with the fire engine, often running between the horses' hind legs. Gas engines have of course replaced fire horses, but the Dalmatian has remained in many fire houses. He often rides to fires, these days, on the engine, which travels faster than he can run. The name Dalmatian comes from Dalmatia, a small country in the Balkans, now a part of Yugoslavia.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: As you go by a fire station, peek inside to see if a Dalmatian is there. Ask a fireman to tell you about Dalmatians.

Corporate Images Are Formed Early

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—What is a "corporate image" to you?

Lately many corporations have been worrying out loud about their public image—which, as I gather, is pretty much like looking at yourself in a crazy mirror in an amusement park and hoping that passers-by won't think the reflection is the real you.

Anyway, more and more corporations seem to be spending more and more money trying to improve their image.

It is my opinion that one's image of a big and complex corporation is built up from fantasies early in life, or as the result of confused collisions with reality as one grows older. The individual's mental picture of a large business firm may be wildely different from that held by those who run it.

During a bout with insomnia the other night, I fell to thinking of the problem of "corporate images." Here are a few that loomed before a dozing brain—and I don't think the corporations will mind some gentle spoofing:

Du Pont—A kindly dentist fixed a nylon tooth in my mouth and then said, beaming, "Now you can eat all the plastic corn on the cob you want. Better living through chemistry."

American Telephone & Telegraph—A fine-faced gray-haired old man saying into a telephone, "Yes, son, we are always glad to have you call us long distance, but this time I simply can't afford to send you the money," and an operator all alone at a huge switchboard, saying, "Please get it right this time. The number you want has been changed to 365-049-657-102-thuh-ree, thuh-ree, nigh-on."

General Electric—He wears a picture of Thomas Edison in his lapel, and as you give him a burned out light bulb he hands you a new one and observes, "Progress is our most important product."

General Motors—A tall, well-dressed man gets out of his large long car to remove compact caught in his bumper.

George Romney, governor-elect of Michigan, has resigned as a director of the Douglas Aircraft Co. Donald W. Douglas, board chairman, said in Santa Monica, Calif., that Romney resigned because of the added responsibilities he faces in his new public office. Romney quit as head of American Motors to run as a Republican for governor.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy changed plans at the Junior Village Children's Home in Washington and personally handed out all the gifts available to the boys and girls. It had been planned to distribute most of the gifts later, with a sampling of toys going to each of the cottages where the 700 children are housed.

After giving out what gifts were at hand, Mrs. Kennedy told her secretary to see that there were enough gifts for all. The First Lady also went through the wards of District of Columbia Village, a home for the elderly, and chatted with a number of patients.

Hermleigh Tourney Off And Running

HERMLEIGH — Eight games were fired off the launching pad here Thursday, as cage play in the first round of the Hermleigh Tournament was completed.

The tourney is being sponsored by the local Quarterback Club, and Coach Leslie Johnson is serving as its director.

Host Hermleigh barely got past Loraine, 56-55, in one of the featured games of the day. Loraine held an 11-point halftime bulge and was ahead of the Cardinals by as much as 18 points at one stage before Hermleigh came back to sink its winning basket with only 8 seconds of time remaining.

Dane Hudnall paced the win with 21 points.

The Hobbs Panthers saw a last second goal attempt go "in and out" in its game with Highland, losing by a 46-45 margin.

Post B sidetracked Blackwell 56-46 and McCaulley rushed past Fluvanna 52-35 in the other boys games of the first day.

Results in the girls contests included: Fluvanna 54, McCaulley 36; Blackwell 57, Post B 50; Highland 45, Hobbs 43; and Hermleigh 44, Loraine 30.

The biggest individual scoring sprees of the day fell the way of the female performers. Blackwell's Kay McCarley created the most noise with her 43 points, while Hermleigh's Jolene Roberson rang up 37 and Highland's Jerita Price meshed 29.

Today's games will all be in the winner's bracket. The schedule includes Fluvanna girls vs. Highland at 5 p.m., McCaulley boys vs. Highland at 6:15, Hermleigh girls vs. Blackwell at 7:30, and Hermleigh boys vs. Post B at 8:45.

Saturday contests already in prospect include McCaulley girls vs. Hobbs at 9 a.m., Loraine girls vs. Post B at 10, Fluvanna boys vs. Hobbs at 11, and Blackwell boys vs. Loraine at 12 noon.

Competition will be for first, second, third, and consolation, with finals in both divisions set to begin at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Travis Stops Stamford In Doubleheader

The Travis Blue Devils succeeded in putting the skids under Stamford in Travis Gym Thursday night, snaring easy victories in both ends of a cage double bill.

Travis 9th, after playing the visitors on fairly even terms through the first half, exploded for 17 points in the third period while holding the Stamford quint to a mere 2 in sprinting to a 49-28 win. The point total was the largest of the year for the Blue Devils.

Jackie Rice pumped 20 points through the hoops to lead the attack, while Donnie Newman chipped in with 10 to help things along.

Travis 8th marched to a 36-24 triumph over the visitors, which was also its highest point producing night of the young season. Neither team was able to mount a sustained scoring drive until the second half, but Travis had built up a 14-5 lead by intermission and had little trouble in going on to cop the decision.

Scoring honors for Travis went to Bobby Clardy with 12. He was followed closely, however, by David Cadena and Kenny Haskell with 11 and 10, respectively.

Lamar Red knocked the props out from under Travis White 47-15 in the first 7th grade game of the day, also reeled off in Travis Gym. Tony Suttle paced the winners with 14, while John Brinner meshed 7 for the losers.

The victory was the third of the year for the Red five, which ranks as the only 7th grade outfit in the community that has yet to taste defeat.

The other 7th grade tussle of the evening was Lamar Gray getting past Travis Blue, 39-33. Tommy Bullard and Don Malone each had 12 for Lamar, and Kent Noble led the way for Travis with 10.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

Letters to Santa That Might Not Ever Get Written If Somebody Didn't Do It For Them:

Dear Santa: Just send me a fence of my very own that I can straddle whenever I feel like it. Or — if you happen to be out of fences — the middle of any road will do.

Jawaharlal

Dear Santa: I would like to have a fully-stitched, regulation-size football. Then I wouldn't have to play by Jack's rules all the time. I'm getting sick and tired of it and would like to make up my own set of rules, but as you probably know already Jack has the only ball.

Bobby

Dear Santa: All Yankees are imperialists, and all Russians — caramba! — are indian-givers. All I want is to get my missiles and bombers back. And if I DON'T get my way, I'll. . .I'll . . . well, anyway. . .

Fidel

Dear Santa: I've got just about all the toys a little girl could want, but get awful tired of playing with them all the time. Why won't they let me be like other kids?

Caroline

Dear Santa: Reinforcements is what I need, and quick. I am beset on every side by marshals, and if fresh troops do not arrive immediately, the Lyceum will be lost. Full speed ahead! Batten down the hatches! Battle stations, every one, and don't fire until you see the whites of their eyeballs!

Edwin

Dear Santa: Get rid of der derspicable Der Spiegel vas ist got mein goat!

Konrad

Dear Santa: For some reason they're not throwing the Herald-Tribune at our house anymore. Please give me a subscription, as I simply adore the woman's page.

Jackie

Dear Santa: I've been trying to make it a point to do all my Christmas shopping in the Common Market, but have encountered nothing but difficulties. Could you please drop some common sense down the chimneys of my countrymen while making your jolly rounds on the 25th? You and Mrs. Claus drop in for a spot of tea sometime, eh? Cnerrio.

Harold

Dear Santa: My wedding dress is getting a little worn. Please, Santa, could I have a new one to have on hand . . . just in case?

Liz

Dear Santa: Could you please fix it so that I get a room with a southern exposure?

Billie Sol

Dear Santa: All I want for Christmas is a fair shake. Is every voter in the whole lousy state of California some kind of nut or something?

Dick

Dear Santa: I live down here in occupied Mississippi and am doing my very best to try and get along with everybody. For Christmas I sure would like it a lot if you-all would give me that little ol' Bing Crosby record called "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas." It's my favorite.

Ross

Dear Santa: I don't want anything from you, and would deem it a personal favor if you would quit going around spreading cheer like you do every Christmas. You see, I can't stand the sight of you and your idiotic elves. In fact, I hate EVERYBODY.

Krishna

Dear Santa: I want somebody's head, right here on a platter. I'm not sure whose yet, but am prepared to wait until h- - - freezes over if necessary.

Adali

Dear Santa: Even though you wear a red suit, I still don't know whether to trust you or not. If you can really do everything they say, then how about giving me West Berlin and a trip to Disneyland? I have tried to be a good boy. Well, most of the time.

Nikita

Dear Santa: My friends have been telling me that there is no such thing as the New York Sun. Daddy said to write you and the people down at the Daily, and that whatever they said goes. Well?

Virginia

Dear Virginia: We live in a world full of greed and prejudice, and people believe only what they see. Just because you don't see atoms dancing around on the courthouse square doesn't mean that they aren't there, does it? And just because you don't taste the fallout in your milk doesn't mean that it isn't there, does it? Most assuredly not. However, concerning your question, I'm afraid that your little friends are right. The Sun, you see, has been extinct for some time now, and the rest of the papers are on strike. Had you thought of trying The Inquirer?

Canyon Reef Cage Tourney Underway

First-round action in the annual Canyon Reef Basketball Tournament was touched off earlier today, as a strong field of cagers began their run for the trophies.

Returning to defend its title is Seminole. The Indians, bitten by the graduation bug, find themselves in a non-favored role as the tourney gets underway, however, with Aspermont and Plainview commanding the most respect over them.

Leading the way for Aspermont is the team's tremendous two-time all-stater, John Godfrey.

Serving as co-hosts in the meet are the Snyder varsity (2-2) and B (3-2) teams. Tiger cage coach Ned Underwood is tournament director.

Seminole and Big Spring met at 1 this afternoon to launch the tournament. Snyder and Stamford were to have taken the floor at 2:30, Aspermont and Snyder B at 4 o'clock, and Plainview and Breckenridge at 7 to complete the first-round picture. One consolation battle is set for tonight, also, and will match the Seminole-Big Spring and Snyder-Stamford losers.

Seven games are scheduled for tomorrow beginning at 8 a.m., as the competing teams vie for all eight tournament berths. The Saturday slate takes the following shape:

8:00 a.m.—Aspermont-Snyder B loser vs. Plainview-Breckenridge loser.

9:30—Seminole-Big Spring winner vs. Snyder-Stamford winner.

11:00—Aspermont-Snyder B winner vs. Plainview-Breckenridge winner.

3:00—Seventh place game matching twice-beaten teams.

4:30—Consolation final.

6:00—Third place game.

7:30—Championship final.

Pacing the Snyder varsity scorers prior to initiation of tournament play is senior co-captain Stuart Long with 54 points, an average of 13.5 per contest. Sophomore Leslie Anderson tops Snyder B in the point parade with 55 to his credit for an average of 11.

Jordan Top Lineman

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP)—Lee Roy Jordan Thursday was named lineman of the year in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

Sunday Shoot Slated By Canyon Gun Club

The Canyon Gun Club is planning a turkey shoot at the Club range beginning at 1 p.m. Sunday, and all men interested in taking part are invited to do so.

Any type firearm will be allowed during the day's competition.

Ponies Stall LSU

By The Associated Press

Southern Methodist made some changes in its lineup, got an opponent on its home court and broke a three-game losing streak with an 83-68 victory over Louisiana State for an important intersectional basketball victory Thursday night.

The return to form by the Methodists indicated they weren't overrated when they were picked as championship contenders before the season started.

But while SMU was giving the Southwest Conference its second intersectional triumph of the week, other league teams weren't doing so well. Arkansas took a 76-68 drubbing from Tulsa and Texas Christian was whipped 82-60 by Michigan.

These results made the record against outsiders 8-19 for the campaign to date—poor even for a league that seldom breaks even in intersectional warfare.

SMU had trouble with LSU for a half but the Methodists went on a scoring splurge right after intermission and stayed ahead the rest of the way.

Jim Smith, one of the sophomores inserted by Coach Doc Hayes, came through with 11 points and 12 rebounds, and the latter was high for SMU. James Thompson scored 19 points and David Somerville 17 for the Mustangs.

Michigan led TCU by 16 points at the half and sent the bulge as high as 25 the rest of the way

Youth Who Made Threats Committed

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—An Alabama youth accused of making threats against President Kennedy has been ordered to a federal mental institution.

The youth, James B. Hubka, 20, of Ensley, was termed mentally incompetent to stand trial by a psychiatrist, Dr. Howard B. Stevens, and a federal judge ordered him sent to an institution at Springfield, Mo.

Hubka, arrested several weeks ago by Secret Service agents, was charged with sending a letter to a high Justice Department official which allegedly contained a threat against the life of President Kennedy and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Favor Declines For Simple Reason

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Most Cubans who flee their homes contend that Prime Minister Fidel Castro is losing favor and often have elaborate explanations as to why.

But one of the latest group of 12 men who docked at Mastic point, Andros Island, had a simpler version. He said Castro lost half his support when the Soviet troops began arriving.

The reason he gave: "The Russians took all the rum."

Agency Says TV Star Owes Fees

LOS ANGELES (AP)—His former talent agency says Richard Chamberlain, star of television's "Dr. Kildare" series, owes it commissions.

MCA Inc. now out of the talent agency business, says Chamberlain owes it an unspecified amount of money under his contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. So too, the firm said, do several other stars, and Chamberlain's suit will be just the first of many.

Rev. Kay Is New Pastor At Union

The Rev. Murray Kay is the new pastor of Union Baptist Church.

Rev. Kay came here from Dawson County, where he was pastor of Klondike Baptist Church for more than four years.

Originally, he served various churches in Comanche County for about 20 years. He is the great-grandson of the late Rev. R. D. Ross, a pioneer Baptist minister of Erath County, and he has served two churches where his great-grandfather served in the last century.

Rev. Kay is a graduate of Howard Payne College and has a daughter who is a senior there now. He also has a son who is a student at West Elementary School in Snyder.

Rev. Kay, his wife and two sons, are now at home at the new parsonage of the Union Baptist Church.

Mrs. Kay was active in the county WMU organization in Dawson County and was president of her local WMU and taught a Sunday School class in the Klondike Church.

The Kays have been active in Baptist denominational work for the past 25 years.

Green Hill Church Has Coronation

Twenty-five girls of Green Hill Baptist Church participated in a Girls Auxiliary Coronation program at the church last Sunday night. Three of them passed two steps and 18 of them passed one step during the past year.

Recognized for their work were four Maidens, 13 Ladies-In-Waiting, two Princesses and two Queens.

Background for the coronation was a large chalk drawing of the Bible opened at the book of Proverbs. The theme, "Train Up A Child," was carried out in the closing meditation with the lights out and a girls quartet singing "Train Up A Child," as the words of Proverbs 22:6, printed in flourescent chalk glowed in the darkness.

The charges were given by the pastor, the Rev. Allan Cartrite, who emphasized the theme and challenged the girls to understand what "training" really is, to understand that "up" means to adulthood and further, to understand that the only "way" is the Lord's way, and to remember that a true queen in the Kingdom would not depart from obedience or continuous study.

Immediately following the recessional, refreshments were served to approximately 200 persons who attended the coronation.

Ben Blue To Close His Supper Club

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Poker-faced comedian Ben Blue says he'll follow the lead of restaurateur Mike Romanoff and close his supper club.

Blue opened his club here five years ago. He said Thursday it will close next Sunday. Like Romanoff, he blamed in part the government's crackdown on expense accounts.

Romanoff said earlier that his plush restaurant will shut down Dec. 31 after a money-losing year.

Blue claimed he is having no trouble with creditors. "I just see the handwriting on the wall," he said.
