Chinese Reds Close Trap On Nationalists

By JOHN RICH
INS Staff Correspondent

SHANGHAI, May 3. (Censored)—Chinese Communists snapped shut the rail escape exit from Shanghai today by driving into Hangchow on the coast and claimed capture of 80,000 Nationalists in the Nanking-Hangchow-Shanghai triangle.

The Chinese Central News agency admitted 4,000 Communist troops swept to the heart of Hangchow, putting the Communist forces on the coast south of the Yangtze river for the first time since their leap across the river barrier.

Although the Nationalist agency did not say Hangchow had fallen, this appeared certain as previous reports said government troops had evacuated the strategic rail city 100 miles southwest of Shanghai.

Plot Is Reported

The newspaper Sin Wan Pao said the Communists entered Hangchow without a fight.

The Communist claim on capture of 80,000 Nationalist reportedly was based on figures as of last Friday.

These developments came as a U. S. naval spokesman said a reported plot to block the Whangpoo river was responsible for the withdrawal of American, British and French warships from Communist-threatened Shanghai.

Chinese Nationalist headquarters also reported that the Communist drive on Shanghai from the west was stopped cold at Kunshan, 30 miles away, but other Communist units were hammering at the Tsien-Tang river defense line at Shunan. Shunan is nearly 200 miles southwest of Shanghai.

Small Towns Captured

The Central News agency announced that Nationalist troops are still holding on to Kunshan.

The newspaper Sin Wan Pao said the Communists swept into Hangchow and rounded up Nationalist elements left behind, while the local Kuomintang reform committee helped them take over control of the administration.

The Central News agency said the entry came after the Nationalist garrison had "accomplished its mission."

The Communist Peiping radio in claiming more than 80,000 Nationalists were rounded up south of the Yangtze said a string of

Crusading Constable Opens Up With Another Raid In Houston

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, May 3.—Constable Dale Richardson let the grand jury know he was back in town today with a furniture busting raid on the back room of a tap room in the heart of the downtown district.

The burly boy from the bayshore, using a baseball bat with might and main on the furnishings, halted several times in mid-swing to deliver his opinions on the Harris county grand jury.

"I'd like to know why the grand jury has to investigate me," he said, standing in front of a baseball machine, "when, they got this kind of stuff running here."

The constable, wheeled up in front of the tap room about noon. With him was his first lieutenant, deputy constable Roy Meaux.

Breaks Glass In Door

They stalked through the bar, and made for the door marked "men." Constable Richardson rammed his fist through the glass of another door leading out of the rest room, then snapped the lock.

He and Deputy Meaux charged in the back room,

Hearing Slated On Plan To Change Names Of Streets

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A PUBLIC hearing on a proposal to change the names of many Lubbock streets will be held in the city hall council chamber at 2 p. m. next Tuesday City Manager Steve Matthews announced late yesterday.

Members of the city commission said everyone desiring to appear for or against the proposed changes will be given opportunity to be heard at the meeting.

If the attendance overflows the relatively small council chamber on the second floor of the city hall, the hearing will be transferred to the auditorium of the adjoining American Legion home, Mayor W. H. Rodgers said.

System Explained

The name changing plan to be considered is one recommended by the city planning commission headed by K. N. Clapp, after extensive study by a special committee composed of J. D. Hassell, Chas. A. Guy and Dr. J. T Krueger, members, and former City Manager M. R. Smith.

Broadly, the system proposed follows:

Alphabet streets (Avenues A, B C, etc.) and numeral streets (First Second, Third, etc.) would remain unchanged.

Numerous short streets which occur between numeral streets would be given "½" designations. For example, Ellwood street, which lies between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets would become "22½ street.

Names Of Cities Used

Main and Broadway, which lie between Tenth and Thirteenth streets, would retain their present names. So, also, would Texas and College avenues.

Avenues west of College avenue and now named for former Presidents would be re-named in alphabetical order for cities east of the Mississippi river. Members of the committee said they would have preferred cities west of the Mississippi, but there aren't enough of them.

Streets north of First street, now bearing an assortment of names, would be re-named alphabetically for colleges.

Streets east of Avenue A, and now designated as East Ave. A, East Ave. B. etc., would be renamed alphabetically for trees.

Proposed Changes Given

Here, specifically, are the names proposed in the ordinance which will be discussed at Tuesday's open hearing.

Short Streets Between Numbered Streets

Present Name	Proposed name
Edna	11½ st.
Sanders	21½ st.
Wolffarth	31½ st.

Official Straw Hat Day To Be Observed In Lubbock Today

Today is Straw Hat Day in Lubbock and merchants are advising men who want to be in style to wear their summer headgear. Any other kind will be as out of place as an umpire who has just made a bum decision.

The Weatherman had something to add to the advice on his own—better wear a chin strap too, regardless of the type hat worn. The wind is going to be strong.

Lubbock men's stores and department stores agreed to designate today as official Straw Hat Day, a time when somber felt fedoras are discarded in favor of flashier, well-ventilated models.

Their judgment was backed up by Monday's maximum temperature of 91 degrees and Tuesday's high of 87. The maximum is expected to be almost as high today.

Wichita Falls Man Decapitated In Blast

WICHITA FALLS, May 4. (AP)—Albert Lowe, 47, an independent oil operator, was decapitated late today when a small steel chest exploded as four men tested a high powered .30 caliber rifle.

Wichita Falls county Sheriff Hammett Vance was bruised when a piece of the chest struck the rifle he was holding and was deflected against his abdomen.

The accident occurred as Lowe, a close friend of the sheriff, Vance, Deputy Sheriff R. C. Mann, and L. P. Stephens, Austin, a representative of the Sheriff's association, tried out the gun. The chest was about 225 yards away on a hill.

The accident took place at the county's rock quarry, about three miles southeast of here.

Vance had owned the rifle about a year, but had never shot it. The four men decided to test the weapon at the lonely rock quarry. Each man had tried out the rifle when Lowe suggested to Vance, "Why don't you try to hit that old trunk up there?"

He was talking about the small chest.

Vance fired, and Lowe told him "you shot too far to the left." Vance fired again and there was a blinding explosion. Black smoke drifted to an estimated height of 100 feet.

Lee Cooper, Wichita Falls county commissioner, said the chest was of boiler plate steel, about ½ to ⅝ inches thick. He said he believed it contained powder dynamite, used by men blasting rock out of the quarry.

CZECHS ARE ARRESTED

VIENNA, May 3 (AP)—Reliable Austrian government sources said tonight three generals, five colonels and a "substantial number" of other army officers have been arrested during the last four weeks in Czechoslovakia on charges of "anti-state" activities.

Bradley Asks Military Aid For Europe

BY FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3 — Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Army chief of staff, declared today that Western European countries could "stop" the Russian military machine if they have time to build up their economies and defenses.

In testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations committee, Bradley said United States backing and aid will induce these countries to "contest resolutely any threat of aggression."

Bradley appeared as one of the witnesses presenting the Administration's case for ratification of the North Atlantic pact. Committee hearings on the pact are now in their second week. Bradley said: "I assure you that our frontiers of collective defense lie in common with theirs in the heart of Europe."

Canada Leads Way

Canada, meanwhile, became the first power to complete its ratification of the pact. Canadian Ambassador Hume Wrong deposited the certificate of his government with the State department.

Secretary of State Acheson told the United States Chamber of Commerce at its annual convention that the U.S. military aid program for Western Europe must not be carried out at the expense of recovery among the Marshall plan nations.

He said renewed hope and confidence in Western Europe have brought increased production and financial stability, and added:

"The effects of this marked improvement, both in morale and in actual living conditions, are being felt throughout Western Europe, and beyond."

Withholds Comment

Sen. Connally (D-Tex), committee chairman, announced that John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs expert, will testify on the pact on Wednesday.

Bradley's views on the ability of Western Europe to defend itself was given in response to questions by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), a vigorous opponent of the Atlantic pact.

He refused to say whether he thinks Russia has such "extraordinary weapons" as the atomic bomb, or to divulge what Army intelligence has learned about

Tascosa Urged As Site Of Dam

The advantages of Tascosa over Sanford as a site for a prosposed Canadian river dam was urged by a delegation from Hereford which conferred with a Lubbock group at the city hall here Tuesday afternoon.

O. P. Cowart, Hereford Chamber of Commerce manager and spokesman for the visitors, said frankly they came to Lubbock in an effort to enlist support for the Tascosa site over the Sanford site which, he added, appears to have the backing of Amarillo interests.

"Amarillo pats us on the back but wouldn't hesitate to cut our throats," he commented. "Lubbock always has treated us fairly. That's why we have come to Lubbock, instead of going to Amarillo, to seek help."

Group Reserves Opinion

Accompanying Cowart here were Troy Moore, county commissioner; R. L. Thompson, Deaf Smith county clerk; Wayne Evans, past president of the Hereford Chamber, and Guy Lawrence, a director of the organization.

Conferring with them at the meeting arranged here at their request by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce were Homer D. Grant, chamber manager; Mayor W. H. Rodgers; City Manager

Bids On Proposed Courthouse Building To Be Opened June 15

Bids for the construction of the proposed new Lubbock county courthouse will be opened at 2 p. m., June 15, in the office of County Judge Walter Davies, according to a resolution passed late Tuesday by the County Commissioners court at a called meeting.

Separate bids will be received on general construction, heating and air conditioning, plumbing, electrical work, and elevators, the Commissioners court notice set out.

Bids, which may be submitted to Judge Davies at any time up to the time of opening, must be accompanied by cashier checks, certified checks or acceptable bonds in the amount of five per cent of the greatest amount of each bid submitted.

Copies of plans and specifications for the new courthouse may be procured from the architects, Haynes & Kirby, on a guarantee of their safe return before the expiration of ten days after receipt of bids, it was announced.

Clay To Quit German Post

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 3—President Truman announced today that Gen. Lucius D. Clay will retire as American military governor in Germany on May 15.

The President said that Clay's two ranking deputies will carry on the general's duties until a civilian high commissioner is appointed.

The deputies are Lt. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner and Maj. Gen. George P. Hays.

Britain, France and the United States—the three western occupying powers in Germany—recently decided to replace the military government with a civilian administration.

Clay Is Praised

John J. McCloy, head of the World bank, has been prominently mentioned for the post of civilian high commissioner.

The White House announcement made no mention of Clay's future plans.

The Army said it had had no request either for retirement or new duty from the 52-year-old general.

In a formal statement giving Clay highest praise for his long and distinguished military service, the President declared:

"On May 15, 1949, I am acceding to his repeated request to be released from his task. Several times before it had been thought that his request could be granted, but in recurring emergencies I felt that his character and ability were essential to the task in Germany to which we were committed. He could not be spared."

Showers Forecast In Plains Section Today

Thundershowers this morning are expected to dampen recently planted farming land over the South Plains today, and help settle dust that was stirred up by Tuesday's strong winds, the Weather station said late last night.

The Weather station said that while no heavy rain was in sight last night thundershowers probably would criss-cross the Plains today and bring some moisture to many part of the area. Little electrical activity and no hail is expected, the station said.

Strong winds with velocities ranging up to 30 miles an hour will continue today, the station said. Tuesday's wind stirred considerable dust in rural areas. Velocities up to 36 miles an hour were marked at the Weather station.

Temperatures today will range from a low of 62 to a maximum of 82, a slight drop from yesterday's low of 65 and maximum of 87 degrees. Thursday will be partly cloudy with little change in temperatures.

Coalition In House Okays New T-H Plan

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3—President Truman suffered the worst legislative defeat of his new term today when the House approved the Wood labor bill which retains the Taft-Hartley act with minor changes.

The lower chamber voted twice, 210 to 196, and 217 to 203, for the Wood measure which was supported by a Republican-Southern Democrat coalition.

Final passage, however, was blocked until Wednesday when Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY) employed the parliamentary maneuver of demanding that a copy of the engrossed measure be read.

It takes several hours to engross a bill so a recess was taken overnight.

Two Votes Slated

Regardless of Wednesday's outcome, Mr. Truman's top election campaign pledge to wipe out the Taft-Hartley act will be balked.

Two votes are slated. The first, a motion to send the legislation back to committee, would kill the bill if approved.

The second vote, on final passage, will either see the Truman-opposed Wood bill passed or defeated. Defeat, again, would kill the legislation.

Before approving the Wood bill, the House administered a 211 to 183 defeat to an administration compromise designed to forestall passage of the coalition measure.

71 Democrats Join GOPs

Northern pro-labor Democratic members who rebelled against "softening" of the administration Lesinski bill helped in beating the compromise.

On the roll call vote on the Wood measure 71 Democrats joined 146 Republicans in approving the Taft-Hartley "retainer." Technically, the bill "repeals" Taft-Hartley, but in name only. The 71 Democrats were almost entirely from the south.

House Democratic leaders had hoped that when the members had to record their votes on the roll call they would not want to repudiate the Democratic campaign pledge to kill Taft-Hartley. Their hopes were in vain.

The compromise plan, carefully drafted by administration leaders in Monday conferences, was de-

Charges Filed In Briscoe Burglary

Two Lubbock men, both of whom have prison records on previous convictions for burglary, have been charged, along with an Amarillo man, with the burglary of Badgett Drug store at Silverton.

The two men are being held in the Swisher county jail at Tulia, authorities reported, pending an investigation of their possible connection with breakins there.

The three, who were arrested Saturday morning by Amarillo police, are Osby Lois James, 30, and J. D. Taylor, 25, both of Lubbock, and Eugene L. Webb, 24, of Amarillo.

Webb Posts Bonds

They allegedly burglarized the Badgett Drug store at Silverton Friday night.

Tuesday night, Webb was free after posting bonds of $3,000 at Tulia and $5,000 in Silverton, Amarillo authorities said. Webb also had been charged with burglary in Swisher county.

Three rings valued at $250, a $20 cigarette lighter and $20 cash were taken in the Silverton burglary. Three of the rings were found on the suspects at the time of arrest, Amarillo police said.

Capt. of Detectives Pat Davidson of Lubbock said the men had been questioned by his department in connection with recent drugstore burglaries here, but that the suspects had made no statements indicating their complicity in the cases.

Taylor's record shows that he

Three Dead, 16 Hurt In Bus-Auto Collision

PENDLETON, Ore., May 3 (INS)—Three men were killed and 16 people injured today in a collision between an automobile and an Overland Greyhound bus a mile north of Stanfield, Ore., on Highway 30.

The Umatilla county coroner's office identified two of the victims as Bill Elk, 42, and David Halfmoon, 25, both Indians. The other body was too badly mangled for immediate identification, he said.

Oliver Ralph Taylor of Beaverton, Ore., driver of the bus, said the car came around a curve at a high rate of speed, swerved wide, hit the shoulder and careened into the bus head-on. The car was demolished. The bus left the road but stayed upright.

State police said Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson of Union, Ore., a bus passenger, was in critical condition. Seven of the 15 hospitalized persons were taken from the scene in ambulances.

Atom Spy Network Probe Is Revealed

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3 — A member of the House Un-American Activities committee announced today the spy-probing unit is investigating a spectacular Russian espionage network aimed at obtaining America's atomic bomb secrets.

Rep. Velde (R-Ill) made the disclosure in a statement which also revealed a renewed clash between the un-American Activities committee and the New York federal grand jury investigating Communist activities.

Velde indicated the grand jury wants him to reveal his information on what he termed "one of the most serious espionage cases ever developed in United States history."

The congressman, a former FBI agent and county judge, announced he would not obey a subpoena to appear before the grand jury on Wednesday but would appear Friday if "it does not interfere with my duties."

Velde added, however, that he would not divulge any information gained as a member of the un-American Activities committee unless that group authorizes such disclosure.

He said he would give the grand jury any information he got while he worked for the FBI from 1942 through 1945.

Velde said both the grand jury and his committee are probing the espionage case. He added:

"It involves the attempt by the Russian government, working through American Communists and agents in this country, to secure the secret of the atomic bomb.

UAW Sets Ford Strike Thursday

DETROIT, May 3. (AP)—An authorized strike of 60,000 Ford Motor company workers was ordered today.

The walkout was scheduled to begin at noon Thursday.

Local 600 of the CIO Auto Workers changed plans to call the strike tomorrow after the international executive board set the Thursday date.

A shutdown at Ford's Rouge plant would soon tie up most of the company's operations.

Ford Denies Charge

Both the local and UAW President Walter P. Reuther charged that Ford had speeded up assembly lines again today. Production rates have been the center of a dispute for several weeks.

Ford tonight labeled the speed-up charge "an absolute untruth."

In a telegram to Reuther, Ford personnel director John S. Bugas called the charge "pure fabrication" which "appears to be a prime example of bad faith to drum up a strike atmosphere."

Bugas also asked that Reuther personally attend tomorrow's scheduled meeting between the company and the union. The Ford official said he made the request in order that "everything within reason" might be done to avert a strike.

Things happened in quick and confused succession today.

A local committee checked the lines and reported the speed-up.

The local executive board, in emergency session, ordered the Western Powers Await Russian Move Toward Lifting Blockade

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 3.—Envoys of the U. S., Britain and France sat in their offices all day today apparently waiting for Russia to make the next move toward lifting the Berlin blockade.

It was understood that the most recent step in the top secret talks here was the delivery of a joint Western Power declaration to Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Jakob A. Malik. The statement presumably was drafted following yesterday's conference attended by Dr. Phillip C. Jessup, U. S. Ambassador-at-large; Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain, and Jean Chauvel of France.

The next step, diplomatic informants indicated, is for Malik to notify the western envoys whether he is prepared to confer with them again on the basis of their joint declarations.

Malik attended a committee meeting at Lake Success this morning and then returned to the Soviet delegation home on Park avenue.

Crosby County Drys To Step Up Drive Against Legalizing Beer

(Special To The Avalanche)

CROSBYTON, May 3 — With only three days remaining in which to campaign against the proposed legalized sale of four per cent beer in Crosby county, dry forces, combined with the United Drys of Crosby county, are expected to step up their efforts to defeat the proposal.

A county-wide vote on the proposal has been called for Saturday.

Interest is running high in the election, and some 1,800 votes are expected to be cast by county voters, officials believe. The county has a voting potential of slightly more than 2,000. A close contest is indicated, observers on the scene say.

Lewis Benton, Crosby county clerk, said Tuesday afternoon that a total of 67 absentee ballots had been received at his office. Tuesday was the last day for absentee voting, Benton said.

Interest in the election is widespread throughout the South Plains. Should the county go wet, it would be the only such spot between Amarillo and Big Spring and Hobbs and Wichita Falls.

Attempt To Write Segregation Ban In School Aid Bill Defeated

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP) — The Senate today snowed under an attempt to write an anti-segregation amendment into a $300,000,000 school aid bill.

By a vote of 65 to 16, it rejected a proposal by Senator Lodge (R-Mass) to bar distribution of any of the federal funds to states whose public elementary and secondary schools are not open to peoples without regard to race, color, creed or national origin."

Fifteen Republicans voted with Lodge for his amendment. It was opposed by 48 Democrats and 17 Republicans. (Both Sens. Connally and Johnson of Texas voted against it.)

Opponents of the amendment said it was an effort to kill the bill; that southern senators would be united against any measure that would name the price of aid the abolishment of the South's separate school system for white and negro children.

Lodge denied he was trying to kill the bill.

Northern Democrats and Republicans led the fight against Lodge's amendment while the southerners, for the most part, kept out of the argument.

It was the second defeat in two days for Lodge. By a vote of 68 to 11, the Senate yesterday turned down his proposal to revise the aid formula so as to give the states a flat $10 a year for each school age child.

Under the formula proposed in the bill, the payments would range from $5 to slightly over $29 per pupil, with the biggest per capita payments going to the states with the lowest income. The theory of the bill is to more nearly equalize educational opportunities.

After turning down the anti-segregation amendment, the Senate took up a proposal of Senator Tydings (D-Md) to knock out aid for all states except those in which per pupil expenditures for education are below the average.

The Senate quit overnight with the amendment still pending.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
CAN BE A BAR TO BEAUTY!

When good looks fade and vitality falters—when you feel spent and look pale and drawn—it may be because your red blood cells are too faded and weak. You may have a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies say up to 58% of women—many men and children—are the weary, dreary victims of this Borderline Anemia.

If you have this Borderline Anemia, you need Ironized Yeast Tablets! They are specially formulated to help build up faded, puny red blood cells to healthy redness and size, and thus permit your color and vitality to come surging back. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other causes—see your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. Take them to reclaim your lost energy, your healthy color, your enjoyment of life!

Electra City Officials Present Bouquets To Texas Zephyr Crew

ELECTRA, May 3 (AP)—Electra's city council turned out last night to present huge bouquets of red roses to two members of the crew of the westbound Texas Zephyr.

Conductor John Coffield and engineer Con Shell were pleased —and a bit dumfounded. There was quite a crowd on hand to see Coffield and Shell get the roses from City Attorney John E. McKelvey and City Commissioners Ray B. Dickey, C. F. McSpadden, Ted Price and John Lee.

It was Electra's way of thanking the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen for its help in preventing Electra from becoming a "whistle stop." The railroad union helped the town in its fight against the line's plan to make Electra and several other smaller towns "conditional stops" for the Zephyr.

New York Group Buys Interest In Farm Near Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, May 3. (AP)—The sale by the First National bank, trustee, of a major portion of the Harrisdale Hereford farms to a group of New York investors for approximately $600,000 was announced here today.

About 2,750 acres immediately west of Fort Worth city limits are involved. The investors will form a Texas corporation and plan to subdivide the property for residential additions and small farm tracts.

The cattle will be moved to another tract.

Traffic Official To Face Court Hearing In Denver Accident

DENVER, May 3 (INS) — Assistant traffic engineer, Eugene Simm, 28, is pondering the current street safety campaign in Denver today as he awaits a hearing Friday before Deputy Police Chief H. Rugg Williams.

Police said Simms had his car in a "no parking" zone when it was struck by another driven by Otto W. Lunnon, 68, and the traffic engineer had no brake and light inspection certificate when questioned by police.

The hearing will determine liability for the accident.

Body Of Unidentified Man Is Found In Bayou At Houston

HOUSTON, May 3 (AP)—Railroad bridge inspectors found the weighted body of an unidentified man in Sim's bayou here today.

A party of four Southern Pacific inspectors spotted the body, wedged under a railway trestle. They called officers and Sheriff C. V. Kern and half a dozen deputies went to the scene.

The decomposed body was dressed in a gray felt hat, blue denim jumper, blue pants and black shoes. A rock and a railroad tie plate were fastened to the neck by a cord.

A belt buckle, with the initial "G," was found on the body.

The cause of death was not immediately determined. The body was taken to a hospital for an autopsy.

Bible Remains At Head Of U. S. Best Seller List, Census Shows

WASHINGTON, May 3 (U.P.)—The Bible still heads the best seller list.

The Commerce department said today that sales of the Bible in this country exceeded 9,000,000 copies in 1947. Fewer than 4,000,000 copies were sold in 1939.

The data was revealed as a result of a census taken in 1947.

MANY RENT HIKE REQUESTS SEEN

Landlords Seek More Details On New Rent Increase Formula

WASHINGTON, May 3 (INS) — Federal rent offices throughout the nation were besieged today with inquiries from landlords as to the effect of the new rent increase plan announced Monday by Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods.

The inquiries indicated that a large number of applications for rent increases will be filed in the next few weeks.

The rent offices have been furnished with forms on which applications for rent boosts will be made. These are being furnished to landlords.

APPLICATIONS MADE

Roy D. Carnes, area rent director, said that four petitions had been filed Tuesday under the new rent law, and that his office had received between 20 and 30 teciphone calls requesting information about procedure to be used in seeking changes in rents.

New Formula Announced

The new formula, intended to fulfill a requirement of the rent control law enacted a few weeks ago, would:

Give owners of small structures rent increases to raise their net operating incomes to 30 per cent of their gross income if their net is now less than 25 per cent of their gross.

Allow owners of large structures rent boosts to raise their net operating incomes to 25 per cent of their gross if their net is now less than 20 per cent of their gross.

A small structure is defined as an apartment building or house with four dwelling units or less, a large structure is an apartment building of more than four dwelling units.

Woods has explained that landlords will only be required to show current operating expenses and depreciation charges on their applications.

The new formula replaces the old provision under which landlords were required to show "hardship" and furnish expense and income figures for a base period.

Before rent increases are granted, tenants must be notified. They will have the right of appeal on up to the federal expediter's office in Washington.

Woods said in New York that a government survey shows that rent control is favored by a majority of American businessmen, including some real estate men.

He declared at a meeting of the Commerce and Industry association of New York that abandonment of control would severely impair the nation's economy. He said:

"Your manufacturer, your banker, your merchant know what would happen if a third of this country's population suddenly had to pay a lot more out of its income for rent than it does now."

Woods is on a tour "explaining" the new rent control law, which President Truman called a victory over "the real estate lobby."

The 30 per cent net figure for small structures and the 25 per cent for the large ones was chosen because a survey conducted over a period of years showed that half of the landlords had nets above these figures and half below.

They were chosen, therefore, as a kind of "mean" and those below the 25 per cent level on small structures and 20 per cent on large were regarded as in the hardship class.

Officials pointed out that the 30 and 25 per cent figures to which the hardship cases will be raised are ratios of net to gross, and do not indicate what the return on investment would be.

They essentially guarantee, it was explained, that the owner of a small structure shall have a ratio of net to gross of at least 25 per cent, and the owner of a large structure a ratio of at least 20 per cent.

Plane Bearing Iowa Man, Bride Feared Down In Lake Michigan

DES MOINES, May 3 (INS) — A wide-spread ground and air search was underway today for a young Humboldt, Ia., radio mechanic and his bride of 11 months who have been missing in their light plane since Sunday.

Fear mounted, meanwhile, that John Russell, 22, and his wife, Marilyn, 21, crashed into Lake Michigan shortly after taking off in their plane from Chicago's northerly isle airport.

They had flown to Chicago over the weekend to visit relatives, and started the 300-mile homeward journey in a light, two-place plane with enough gas for the six-hour trip.

Norbert Locke of the Iowa Aeronautics commission supported the belief the young couple's plane had crashed into Lake Michigan shortly after the takeoff.

He said Iowa and Illinois highway patrol cars were conducting a ground search while civil and army planes from Selfridge Field, Mich., were searching from the air.

Six Persons Killed In Headon Car-Truck Crash In California

BEAUMONT, Calif., May 3. (INS) Two families of six persons were killed today when their automobile collided head-on with a hay truck on the Los Angeles-Palm Springs highway near Beaumont.

The dead: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stockwell and their son, Jimmy, 5, of Compton, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. William Byles and their son, Michael, 3, of Long Beach, calif.

The two women were sisters and they were enroute to Phoenix to visit with relatives. The unidentified truck driver escaped injury.

Landlords Divided Into Two Groups For Use Of New Rent Control 'Adjustment Formula'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 3.—This is an ABC on the way for landlords to figure their case if they want permission to raise rents.

The government last night issued a formula for them. It divides landlords into two groups:

1. The small one. He has a place with one to four dwelling units.

2. The large one. He has a place with more than four units.

The small landlord. He gets a rent increase if his net operating income is less than 25 per cent of his gross income. He'll get an increase bringing his net operating income up to 30 per cent of his gross income.

The large landlord. He gets an increase if his net operating income is less than 20 per cent of his gross income. He'll get an increase bringing his net operating income up to 25 per cent.

What are gross income and net operating income? Gross income is his total income before expenses. Net operating income is simply what he has left of his gross income after (1) paying expenses—including taxes—and (2) making an allowance for depreciation on his property. For example:

Jones, a small landlord, got $1,000 in rent from his four apartments. That's his gross income. His expenses for keeping up the apartments, including taxes, plus an allowance for depreciation, come to $800.

Depreciation Limit Set

The $800 was his operating expense. Since he got $1,000 in gross income, he has left $200. That's net operating income. In other words: total income, minus expenses, leaves net income.

(Note: A small landlord will not be allowed more than 21 per cent of his gross income for depreciation; a large landlord will not be allowed more than 16 per cent of his gross income for depreciation.)

Here's an example of a small landlord who can ask for a rent boost and how he figures it out:

Take Jones again. He had $1,000 gross income, $800 expenses, and was left with a net income of $200, which is only 20 per cent of gross income. But he's entitled to a 30 per cent net income. What does he do?

Formula Set Up

He multiplies the expense ($800) by 100 and divides the result (in this case $80,000) by 70 and gets $1,143.

That $1,143 represents a rent increase of $143 a year over the $1,000 rental Jones got before.

So now his gross income is $1,143, his expenses are $800, and his net income is $343, whereas it used to be $200. So that $343 gives him a 30 per cent net income on his gross income of $1,143.

In the case of a large landlord, the formula goes like this: Multiply the operating expense by 100 and divide by 75 (not by 70, as in the case of the small landlord.)

Rent Hikes Limited

Note: It was pointed out that a small landlord gets a boost so that his net income—if it's now less than 25 per cent of his gross income—shall become 30 per cent of his gross income; and if a large landlord's net income is under 20 per cent, he'll get a boost so it becomes 25 per cent.

But what of the small landlord whose net income already is 25 per cent, or the large one whose net income already is 20 per cent? Do they get boosted up to 30 per cent and 25 per cent? No.

But doesn't that mean the landlords who now are making less than these people will wind up making more? Yes. But that's the way the formula is.

Notification Required

If you're a landlord and think you're entitled to a rent raise under this formula, get a petition from your area rent control office.

it starts from the date you filed it starts fro mthe date you filed the petition, not the date on which the government finally acts. Why?

Because petitions may pile up in the rent control office, awaiting action. So a landlord, due to no fault of his own, would lose money unless his increase started from the day he filed his petition.

A tenant must be notified of a proposed rent increase before the area rent office can grant it. He can appeal the area rent decision to the regional and national offices.

U.S. Average Crude Oil Output Increases

TULSA, May 3 (AP) — Topped by a big Oklahoma gain, the nation's daily average crude oil production managed to show an overall increase of 675 barrels for the week ended April 30, the Oil & Gas Journal reported today.

The total daily average for the week, The Journal said, was 4,918,575 barrels.

Oklahoma's increase was by 16,100 barrels to 425,900 barrels.

Three states had 900 barrel gains—Illinois, up to 175,300 barrels; Indiana to 22,700 and Wyoming to 122,200. Louisiana's production increased 850 barrels to 494,950.

Arkansas' gain was 250 barrels to 81,550.

Largest declines were in California, down 4,700 barrels to 942,000 barrels; Kansas, off 9,900 to 286,700; Michigan, 4,750 to 41,050 and Mississippi, 2,350 to 105,900.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 1,913,300 barrels and New Mexico, 131,800.

Typewriter Firms Fined For Texas Anti-Trust Law Violation

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP)—Two typewriter companies were fined $12,500 each for violation of the state's anti-trust laws in 126th district court today.

The companies were the Underwood Corporation of New Jersey and the L. C. Smith and Corona Typewriters, Inc., of New York.

Suit was brought by Attorney General Price Daniel alleging that the companies had fixed retail prices of typewriters, parts and supplies with dealers and other companies.

The Woman's Angle
By Ellen Miller

CIRCUMSTANCES often force men to be adept at homemaking and force women to be breadwinners, so both boys and girls should learn the same basic skills in preparation for marriage, acording to an article in the national Parent-Teacher association publication.

Seven basic skills which it suggested every boy and girl should acquire, are the following:

1. The ability to obtain and hold a job to support a home and family.
2. Knowledge of how to maintain a home—how to repair ordinary household equipment—understanding home routine.
3. Knowledge of cooking, balancing diets, care of clothing and personal belongings.
4. Understanding of preparation for financial security, including budgeting, wise shopping and handling money.
5. Knowledge of how to maintain health.
6. Knowledge and understanding of sexual needs and behavior.
7. Some knowledge of child care and what is involved in planning for and having a baby.

FLOWER FANCY

People with a passion for red flowers tend to be impulsive, according to a New York psychologist. Lovers of orange flowers are usually extroverted, and people who dote on purple flowers tend to be a bit elegant and self centered.

But what, we wonder, would he say about the perfectly normal people who love all flowers of all colors?

TEA FOR TWO HUNDRED

SERVING a lot of tea—either hot or iced—is pretty simple, according to the Tea bureau of New York. For the many people who don't find it so easy, maybe these suggestions will help:

For 200 servings, pour 1½ gallons of vigorously boiling water over a pound of tea and let steep for 10 minutes. Then strain into a storage crock or stainless steel container. This concentrate may be used for either hot or iced tea.

For hot tea, pour one part of the concentrate into a serving pot and add seven parts of very hot water. For iced tea, dilute the concentrate with seven parts of cold tap water and serve in ice-filled glasses.

For those who make tea in smaller quantities, the bureau suggests eight teaspoonsful of tea to each pint of boiling water. After steeping five minutes, the leaves should be stirred, and the liquid strained. This solution will need to be diluted with two pints of cold tap water.

To clear cloudy tea, add a small amount of boiling water, these authorities suggest.

Town Talk

MRS. P. S. COLLETTE of High C ranch, Ingram, who is a guest in the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Holmquest, 2013 Main, was honored at a luncheon given Tuesday by Mrs. Holmquest at Hector's.

Other guests were Mrs. Raymond Marshall and Mrs. D. B. Pope.

Judy Collette is here with her mother. They are to return home Friday. The family formerly lived in Lubbock.

Miss Margaret Turner, Mrs. John D. Lynch and Miss Ruth Ford, who are touring Europe, will spend today in Edinburg, according to their itinerary schedule.

They will begin a tour of Edinburg and Melrose Abbey by private automobile by way of the Castle and Scottish National War Memorial, Greyfriars Churchyard, St. Giles' Cathedral, and High Street, and continue during the morning to John Knox's house, Holyrood Palace and Abbey, and Carlton hill.

In the afternoon they will visit Melrose Abbey, Dryburgh Abbey, Abbotsford House, Galashiels and return to the Hotel Caledonian.

By a private auto excursion to Trossachs and Loch Katrine the American trio will visit tomorrow at Linlithgow, Stirling, Port of Menteith, Aberfoyle, Trossachs, Loch Katrine, Loch Vennachan, Loch Achray, Callander and Forth Bridge before returning to the hotel and transferring to the night train sleeper to London.

Mrs. Homer Pharr, 2608 Twenty-second, and Mrs. Vernon Brown, 2010 Broadway, have returned from a two weeks' vacation in Mexico.

The part they enjoyed most was having six members of their family together again, but the beautiful scenery and the numerous entertainments given for the American visitors made the trip perfect.

The two Lubbockites and their brothers and sisters who accompanied them on the south of the border trip were guests in the Los Muchos homes of Dr. W. Chapman, who has a medical practice in connection with one of the sugar cane factories there, and John Chapman, a large-scale tomato grower.

The 20 American families of the vicinity live within a compound near the typical little Mexican town. The country-side is covered with sugar cane and tomato fields, and sugar cane factories, which produce about 300 tons of sugar daily, fill the town. The town of Los Muchos and the American compound are located in a 100 mile wide, 300 mile long valley, which is compared in fertility to the valley of the Nile.

Several excursions were made by the guests and their hosts to near-by pueblos. One of the most interesting was to El Furtere, one of the oldest towns in that part of Old Mexico. There they were entertained in a home which had served as an old fort for 400 years.

Mesdames Pharr and Brown have brought back home with them souvenirs and stories for their families, and many pleasant memories for themselves.

Miss Mae Murfee has received word that her niece, Miss Roberta Murfee of Houston has just been awarded the Phi Beta Kappa key at Rice institute. She is a daughter of attorney Latimer Murfee of Houston, formerly of Lubbock, and a graduate of Lubbock High school.

When she wrote to her aunt, Roberta was in College Station, where she had gone, accompanied by her mother, to be Duchess from Rice at the A&M Cotton pageant and ball.

Study Of Alaska Given By Speakers

Mrs. C. C. Chambers and Mrs. A. B. Cunningham were speakers on the second part of the study, "On Our Doorstep," given Monday afternoon for First Methodist WSCS on, "The Historical Background of Alaska." A quiz on the lesson was directed by Mrs. J. B. Edwards and a vocal solo, "Sunrise," was presented by Mrs. Aubrey Woodfin.

Members of Bolivia circle who were tea hostesses after the program arranged the refreshment table with a far north scene. Included in the icy setting were igloos, eskimos, dog team sleds and penguins. Mrs. J. D. Peters is chairman of Bolivia circle.

Fifty-five persons attended.

REPRESENTS MORTON — Miss Nelda Brisco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brisco of Morton, this summer will attend Girls' state mythical 49th state administered for one week in Austin by high school girls. A junior in Morton High school, Miss Brisco has a high scholastic standing and has been active in extracurricular events. She is sponsored by Morton's Lion's club. Girls' state is a project of Department of Texas, American Legion auxiliary, designed to give girls an insight into governmental functions.

Women To Hear Elliott

Paul Elliott, lecturer in physics at Texas Technological college, discussed "Control of Atomic Energy" at a meeting of Lubbock Woman's club held Tuesday afternoon in the sales room of Hub Lee Tire company.

Mr. Elliott worked with other scientists at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., atomic energy center before joining the Texas Tech faculty.

Club members also heard a report from Mrs. George Berry from the advisory committee to the Lubbock Women's club and recommendations from the board of directors.

Chartered Bus Takes FHA Delegates To Rally

Representatives of 16 schools in this area will journey by chartered bus to the spring rally of Future Homemakers of America, Texas association, to be held in Dallas May 5-7. Representatives of 20 other schools in Area 2 will make the trip to Dallas by private car.

Travelers On Motorcoach Tour Of W. Tell Country

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Margaret Turner's European article today is the third of a series sent from Switzerland. She will return to Lubbock in approximately two weeks.)

LUCERNE—On our motorcoach tour to the William Tell country, we stopped at the spot where Queen Astrid, beauteous Belgian, lost her life in a car crash several years ago. The tree which King Albert's car hit when he went off the highway as he turned to get a map from the back seat, is a gigantic pear, now in full bloom. Underneath is placed a large concrete cross and across the highway a small chapel has been erected in memory of the queen.

Workers were busy repairing highways damaged by rocks brought down by the last snows of winter and all of them waved at our bus as we rolled past. The driver spent a busy afternoon extolling the virtues of William Tell and sitting under large trees, drinking apple cider, we tried to capture the spirit. But a fast walk down and then back up a one-half mile of steps to the Tell chapel, built on the level of Lake Lucerne, was a task for a South Plains walker.

We were told today that Lucerne is preparing for a great number of tourists this summer and judging from the show windows of watches, handkerchiefs and wood carved articles, we can well believe it. There must be a greater number of hotels here than in any other given radius anywhere in the world. Our hotel, the Palace, was built in 1906 and is on the lake front. It has two large dining rooms and an immense salon, in addition to a great hall and foyer leading to the lobby. The waste of space would be maddening to an American hotel manager.

From our windows we look out on dozens of sailboats skimming along in the turquoise water. Wispy clouds have veiled the Alps and a chilling breeze has arisen. The tempo over here seems to have extended even to twilights which are long, the sun hanging long in the far distance as if reluctant to leave the sight of magnificent beauty.

WE turned typical tourist today, since there was nothing specific on our schedule, and explored the shops. Of course when one thinks of Lucerne, he thinks of watches. There were letters from one of the leading firms, Bucherer, when we arrived, containing a welcome note, and also a handkerchief embroidered in a colorful sailboat and bearing the name of the firm in inch-high letters.

WHEN we were at lunch Ruth Ford had the misfortune to lose a filling from a small bridge, due to the hardness of the roll she was munching. That necessitated a trip to a dentist and we walked along the street looking for the word, "zahnarft." On noting it, we walked into a hall way, saw the name "Dr. Shear," buzzed a bell and waited for an office girl to walk down two flights and show us to the waiting room.

After citing her plight, Miss Ford was asked to wait for a few minutes. We entertained ourselves with views through a stereoscope. (The first one we had seen since childhood.)

The dentist turned out to be a Swiss, who was born in Illinois, and who seemed pleased to have an American patient. He was amazed at the removable bridge and said they were not used by the Swiss and his amazement grew when we told him that American dentists no longer use gold in filling teeth.

AFTER leaving the dentist's office we walked around to see the Lion of Lucerne, a "must" on anyone's trip and well worth the walk. Gigantic trees grow at either side of the monument and green water laps at its base. Benches are placed at intervals for those who like to rest and to read literature about the tribute to the Swiss guard of Paris who fell during the French Revolution in 1792. Two American officers, knitting their foreheads in an attempt to read the Latin inscriptions, lent a touch of color to the grayness as we sat gazing at it.

When we stopped at a handkerchief and novelty store, the aging proprietor told us they had overstocked but were looking forward to visits from our countrymen. "Americans always buy so much stuff," she told us. When we came back to our rooms a few minutes ago and displayed our purchases we rolled on our beds in laughter. Yes, Americans buy a lot of stuff all right!

P-T Council Officers Are Installed Tuesday

Installation of officers and reading of the president's report were featured at a meeting of Lubbock City Parent-Teacher council Tuesday afternoon in Senior High school auditorium.

Mrs. H. F. Godeke, installing officer, administered the oaths of office to Mrs. J. B. Adams, 1921 Thirteenth, president; Mrs. Alfred Crosby of 2105 Thirtieth, Mrs. Neal Byrd of Idalou highway, Mrs. Fred A. Kelly of 2809 North Third and Mrs. Sam Dial of 1918 Ave. M, vice president; Mrs. Ruth Carter, 2009 Seventeenth, secretary; and Alfred C. Smith, of 2114 Eighth, treasurer.

City council this year has sponsored three radio programs monthly, sponsored three plays for children, sent telegrams to the Legislature concerning the Gilmer-Aiken and Library bills, and circulated petitions for bond elections, it was declared in the annual report presented by Mrs. T. F. Wiesen, retiring president.

Cottage P-TA Sets Supper

Approximately 500 persons are expected to attend the chuck wagon supper to be held at Cottage school, Second and Vernon, Friday night, sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association. Hours are from 6:30 to 8 o'clock.

A program, to include music, is being planned. Tickets are 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for children. The menu includes barbecue and other chuck wagon fare.

Mrs. R. A. Harrington is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mesdames J. W. Young, Clyde Landers, A. Strickland, Lloyd Price and C. L. Goad.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Womack and sons, Jacky and Jimmy, of Waco, arrived recently to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sim O'Neal, Levelland highway. Mr. Womack returned to Waco Monday, but the rest of the family will visit here two or three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Rook, 3002 Thirty-third, and Mrs. C. H. Parsley, 2309 Thirteenth, have returned to Lubbock from Dallas where they attended opera performances.

According to one survey, more than 68 per cent of U. S. families owned one or more passenger cars.

Mrs. Price Is Hostess

Mrs. W. B. Price was hostess to members of Readers Digest club in her home, 1610 Ave. X, Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. H. Murdough reviewed, "At The End of the Santa Fe Trail," (Sister Blandina Segale).

Mrs. Frank Ford was elected chairman for next year, and Mrs. Howard Hampton was elected vice chairman. The meeting was attended by 10 members.

New Discovery Is Reported In South Central Gaines County

Discovery from a lime formation thought to be Pennsylvanian has been reported in the Doss area of south-central Gaines county at Ralph Lowe No. 1 Cummingham, exploration in the northwest edge of the pool.

A drillstem test was run in the lime when total depth was 8,951 feet and flowed oil at the rate of 19 barrels per hour. On last report, the venture was bottomed on 8,980 feet in the lime horizon, coming out on a second drillstem test.

The last test flowed oil at the surface at the rate of 22 barrels hourly. No further information on the discovery was available.

Location Is Staked

It is located 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 4, block A-24, psl survey, which puts it approximately one-half mile from the nearest Clear Fork-Permian production in the Doss field. This venture developed no prospects in drilling through the Clear Fork.

Location was staked for an outpost to the Sheron Ridge-Canyon field recently opened in Southwest Scurry county as Lion Oil company No. 1 R. P. Marchbanks estate.

The drillsite is 1,914 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of section 164, block 97, H&TC survey. Elevation is 2,310 feet.

With rotary tools, the venture is to start drilling by May 4. Projected depth is 6,700 feet for a Canyon-Pennsylvanian exploration.

Tentative top of the Woodford shale has been called at Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 1 Doss, deep wildcat in southeast Gaines county, 10 miles southwest of the Cedar Lake pool.

The top was called on 12,590 feet. It is reported 268 feet low on that horizon to Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Hicks, deep wildcat failure in the extreme southeast part of the county, 14 miles southeast of Lamesa.

The Seaboard exploration was drilling ahead below 12,701 feet in shale.

It is 4,620 feet from east and 7,430 feet from south lines of league 292, Lynn CSL survey.

An Ellenburger wildcat unofficially has been reported staked in southeast Terry county by the Texas company, Amerada Petroleum Corporation, Cities Service Oil Company and Tide Water Associated Oil Company as No. 1 T. K. Ray, four and one-half miles northeast of the Adair field.

The drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey.

The San Andres-Permian in southwest Andrews county made water at Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1-A Andrews-University, wildcat eight miles southeast of Andrews.

A four-hour drillstem test at 4,783-4,820 feet recovered 570 feet of black sulphur water. The venture is dry and abandoned.

It was 2,032 feet from south and 656.6 feet from east lines of section 15, block 1, University survey.

Former Editor To Publish New Tabloid In New York

NEW YORK, May 3 (AP)—T. O. Thackrey has announced plans to publish a new tabloid morning newspaper here, with Mrs. Emmons Blaine of Chicago, 83-year-old harvester heiress, as owner of the majority of preferred stock.

Thackrey, former editor and publisher of the New York Post Home News, said yesterday that publication will start in two or three weeks. He said he holds 51 per cent of the common stock.

The newspaper, to be called the "Daily Compass," will sell for ten cents a copy. It also will have a Sunday edition.

The plant used by the defunct New York Star—formerly PM—will be used for publication.

Thackrey, saying he would "call the shots as I see them," declined to comment at this time on the new tabloid's editorial policies.

In the past, he has given strong support to the state of Israel, endorsed Henry A. Wallace for president, and opposed the Atlantic pact.

When Thackrey resigned April 6 from The Post Home News—owned by his heiress wife, Mrs. Dorothy Schiff Thackrey—he said there had been a series of policy disagreements about the newspaper.

Judges Named For Collegiate Air Meet Sponsored By TCU

FORT WORTH, May 3 (AP)—Two CAA officials and the president of the National Soaring association, will serve as judges for the National Intercollegiate air meet here Friday and Saturday, sponsored by TCU.

They are Wes Brubaker, chairman of the Fort Worth CAA office's airmen's section, and W. D. Hill, also of the CAA here; and E. J. Reeves, Dallas, NSA president.

SHANGHAI TIGHTENS FOR SIEGE—Anyone either entering or leaving Shanghai, even for homes in the suburbs, is carefully searched by soldiers at various check points throughout the city perimeter. Exact Name Of Ingrid Bergman Italian Film Has Newsmen Puzzled; Various Titles Used

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 3.—I really would like to know the name of the Ingrid Bergman-Rossellini picture. It was given to me as "After The Storm." Originally it was called "On An Island"—one of the other Los Angeles dailies called it "God's Earth," and last week another newspaper gave it as "Lost Pathway." They can't seem to make up their mind.

I happen to know that at the time all this furore broke, RKO was negotiating with both Ingrid and Rossellini for a term contract. In any event, Ingrid and Rossellini are planning another picture after she finishes this one.

Irish Actress Gets Role

Lea Padovani, the Italian actress, is a big hearted girl. She personally okayed Kathleen Ryan, 19-year-old Irish beauty for the second lead in "Christ In Concrete" because she said, "we need somebody young and beautiful in the picture."

You probably remember Kathleen as the girl James Mason chose for his leading lady in "Odd Man Out" at a time when she hadn't had one whit of screen experience.

I am glad Rod Geiger, who is producing "Christ In Concrete" in London, is changing the title to "Give Us This Day."

Helmut Dantine Signed

The tip comes over the long distance from New York that Seymour Nebenzal is just about to sign Helmut Dantine for "M." He has changed his mind about an "unknown face" in the gruesome starring role and decided he wants a good actor.

Helmut hasn't made an American picture in a year and he hasn't played an out and out meanie since "Mrs. Miniver."

New Romance Hinted

Lew Ayres and Arlene Dahl are dating now that Jane Wyman has gone to Europe. Or is the Wyman-Ayres romance cooling anyway?

Judy Garland stepped out for the first time since separating from Vincente Minnelli when she went to the movies with Arthur Loew the other night. But there are still bets she will make up with Minnelli.

Corinna Mura, the singer at Charley Foy's, marries agent Eddie Silton next Sunday at the Last Frontier hotel in Las Vegas. He has been mad about the gal for years.

'Anna Lucasta' To Open

Paulette Goddard will not be the first white actress seen in "Anna Lucasta," after all. Shelley Winters stars in the first white cast of the negro drama when she opens in the stage show at the Coronet theater on May 25. Shelley's co-star is Syd Chaplin, Charlie's son.

Monica Lewis, who was mentioned so often with Ronald Reagan, and Stanley Kramer, the wise young producer, were together practically every evening in New York—but Ronnie hasn't been pining. He's been seen with a number of attractive girls in Hollywood.

Jane Hollingsworth and Edward Wormhout of the Beverly Hills Bank of America will shortly name the day.

Dancer Is Married

Viola Essen, ballet dancer and movie actress, was married last week in New York to Peter Cadeby. He was formerly with the Paramount company. She was formerly wed to Werner Ludwig Gebauer, well known violinist.

Ivan Goff, husband of Natalie Draper, entered the hospital today for an operation.

Magda Gabor and Sidney Warren will marry much sooner than anyone thought. Then they will go on to Europe with her sister Zsa Zsa and George Sanders on a double honeymoon.

Joan Crawford and Greg Bautzer picked up her children at Sunday school and took the whole quartet of them to the Beverly Derby for brunch.

Janet Thomas, definitely iced with Johnny Meyer, at Ciro's with Spencer Martin. His romance with Pat Smart is said to be in the cooler, too—but she denies it in New York.

Gloria Lord's new beau at the Sportsman's lodge was Clint Bagwell.

Lubbock Woman's Father Dies In Fort Worth; Rites Set Today

Wilmer V. DeWitt, 77, father of Mrs. R. C. (Bob) Harvey of 2602 Twenty-second, died Monday night in the home of another daughter, Mrs. H. T. Hoskins of Fort Worth. He had been in ill health for some time.

Funeral services, under direction of Gauze-Ware Funeral home of Fort Worth, will be this afternoon.

Mrs. Harvey was with her father at the time of death. Bob Harvey left Lubbock Tuesday to attend funeral services.

Other survivors include the widow and a son, Vernon DeWitt, both of Fort Worth, and four grandchildren.

Faulty Traffic Lights, Smoke Combine To Aid Fire Rumor

Two unrelated events led to widespread concern that a major fire had broken out in south Lubbock early Tuesday afternoon.

Billowing black smoke was carried by a stiff south breeze into the business section, and when traffic lights began "blinking" simultaneously, police and fire departments and the Avalanche-Journal were flooded with inquiries.

The "fire" was a trash fire at a junk yard on South Ave. G, where parts of old automobiles were being burned.

The blinking traffic lights were due to some fuses blown out in the control system, the police department said. Timing of the lights had been off all day.

INFANT IS KILLED

SAN ANTONIO, May 3. (AP)—A home tragedy today took the life of Robert H. Hummell, 15-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Hummell. The infant pulled a large glass from a shelf and then apparently fell. The child died of a fractured skull.

Housewife Leads Glamor Girls In Baylor Queen Vote

WACO, May 3. (AP)—"We want Mehaffey" was the rallying cry of Baylor University law students today.

"Mehaffey" is Mrs. A. J. Mehaffey, Waco housewife, mother of two children (aged 9 and 11), and Baylor law student.

The Waco News Tribune said news leaked out that Mrs. Mehaffey polled the most votes in the annual May Queen election. She hadn't sought the honor. Students just wrote in her name.

This was a hard blow to the 19 teen-age glamour girls from Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana who thought they had the field to themselves.

Dean Cites Rules

But there was every indication Mrs. Mehaffey would not be named queen. Dean Abner McCal of the law school said her candidacy had been filed 48 hours late, and was not accompanied by the required filing fee.

"If she wasn't entered," said the dean learnedly, "how could she win?"

That's where the law students rebelled. They argue that democracy should be served, despite technicalities. The least they'll settle for is a separate coronation for their fellow law student, if the crown is officially given to one of the glamour belles.

Mrs. Mehaffey herself is a bit bewildered. She is widely known as the wife of a Waco dealer in used cars and alligator steaks, whose trade name is "pore old Mehaffey."

She's not saying exactly how old she is. But she was a campus beauty in her undergraduate days at Baylor—back in the '20's. She also studied at the Sorbonne in Paris. Mehaffey received his Baylor law degree in 1940. Mrs. Mehaffey decided she wanted one, too.

Broadway Business Property Purchased By Brownfield Man

A piece of downtown business property in Lubbock was purchased by Hiram Parks, Brownfield theater owner, for $33,000, the warrenty deed filing showed Tuesday.

Parks bought the property from G. F. Wacker of Oklahoma, who owns a chain of variety stores.

The property was described as lots 4 and 5, block 136, original townsite. It is located on the south side of Broadway between avenues F and G.

Parks said he had no immediate plans for the 50 foot frontage at present. A building with 25-foot front covers part of the property. A lease is in force until Jan. 1.

TCU Musical Group To Present Operetta

"H.M.S. Pinafore," a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, will be presented at 8:15 o'clock tonight in Lubbock Senior High school auditorium by the music department of Texas Christian university of Fort Worth.

The local presentation is under sponsorship of the First Christian church and Lubbock Lions club. Tickets are priced at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children and are on sale at the Lions club office in the Hilton hotel.

The operetta is under the direction of Prof. W. J. Marsh, of the T.C.U. music department.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

"It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 206 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back. Adv

Two Men Held After U.S. Agents Crack Down On Counterfeit Ring

CHICAGO, May 3 (INS) — An exciting saga of Secret Service investigation during which an operative posed as a gangster to get evidence was climaxed today in Chicago when agents captured two men and seized $100,000 in counterfeit $20 bills.

The haul was described as the biggest of its kind in years by Harry D. Anheier, chief of the Chicago U.S. Secret Service unit.

Anheier identified the two arrested men as Dixie Richmond, 43, and Irving Morris, 42, a University of Illinois pharmacy school graduate, all of Chicago.

Wide Search Made

Anheier said the Secret Service believes Richmond and Morris operated the most extensive counterfeiting ring in the nation.

A five-month nationwide hunt for the two came to a Hollywood-like end early today when agents surrounded a taxicab in which Richmond and Morris allegedly had rendezvoued with an operative to sell some of the counterfeit 20's.

The unidentified agent was transferred to Chicago from the East to pose as a gangster interested in moving into counterfeiting and thus make contact with the ring.

Richmond was wounded by the operative during the capture when the accused man made a pass at his pocket as if to draw a gun.

Others Are Arrested

Anheier said the Chicago phase of the investigation began last November when numerous counterfeit $20 bills began showing up all over the country. Some 24 "passers" of bogus bills were arrested. Several of them named a man known to them only as "Dixie" as the head of the ring.

The agent passed himself off in underworld circles as a big-time Chicago mobster and Anheier said, finally made a connection with Richmond and Morris. The operative met the two several times and finally convinced them he wanted to get into counterfeiting.

Anheier said Richmond and Morris arranged to meet the agent and sell him $100,000 worth of fake currency for $30,000. The deal was to be completed shortly after last midnight, according to the Secret Service.

The Chicago unit leader said Richmond and Morris took the agent to a north side elevated station where they showed him the $100,000 in fake currency. The bills were hidden in a baggage locker.

Then the three men taxied to a nearby address which had been agreed on as a pay-off site. The pay-off never occured. Other agents surrounded the cab when the operative stepped out.

Morris was arraigned later before U. S. Commissioner Edwin P. Walker.

Richmond was confined in a hospital.

Shortage Of Wheat Storage Space Seen

GALVESTON, May 3 (U.P.)—The Santa Fe railway said today that the 1949 wheat harvest in the Southwest presents a problem of storage rather than transportation.

J. P. Cowley, general manager of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe, said best estimates place the Oklahoma and Texas crop at 200,000,000 bushels.

"These two states will not have sufficient storage to take care of this production," Cowley flatly stated. He added that Texas-Oklahoma conditions are similar to those in Kansas.

Cowley said the Santa Fe would use all its facilities to cope with the expected bumper crop.

However, he said that "in normal to heavy years the Santa Fe has performed in an almost Herculean way to handle this short but extra-ordinary movement. Definite programs effectively followed most years may not be adequate this year."

Cowley, a vice-president of the line, said the Santa Fe is making an all-out effort to mobilize equipment to cope with the problem.

"We are converting many cars for grain hauling and have ordered reconditioning of other cars," he stated.

Tech Show Presented At Schools In Area

An abbreviated version of the 1949 Texas Tech varsity show, "Milestones in Melody," went on the road Tuesday and was presented to high school students at Seagraves and Seminole.

Bill Parsley, director of the show, said it had been cut to about forty minutes of fast moving entertainment. It originally ran for nearly two hours.

Several other trips will be made around this area according to Bill Tinney, faculty sponsor of the show. The group left at 8 a. m. and returned at 5 p. m. They reported excellent response in both cities.

Members of the cast included: a trio, "The Three Flat Notes," Lamar Jackson, Lubbock, Bill Jackson, Houston and Bob Parkinson, Pampa; novelty dance routines, Maxine McCollum, Lubbock, Margaret Smart, Whitewright, and Jo Simmons, Lubbock; tango, Kenneth Hobbs, Pampa, and Mary Naugle, Dallas; a tumbling act, Harriet Moltz, Seguin, Jimmy Carter, Big Spring and Gerald Davis, Lubbock.

Also included were the members of the Charleston dance line. They are Helen Moore, Fort Worth; Betty Willis, Amarillo; Janet Moore, Amarillo; Pat Flanigan, Midland; Carol Sherrod, Lubbock and Jane Armstrong, Wichita Falls. Joe Meador of Lubbock acted as master of ceremonies.

Radio Newsmen At Amarillo Find Selves Featured In News

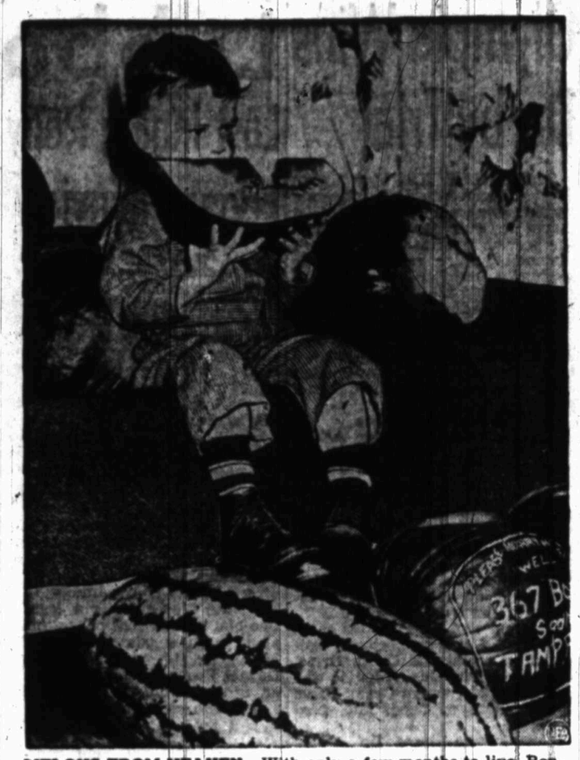

AMARILLO, May 3 (U.P.)—Newsmen at radio station KFDA broke into the news themselves last night.

They heard a noise in the office on the second floor of their building, called police and accompanied them on the investigation. One of two men in an attorney's office leaped from a second story window and escaped after a six-block chase.

The second man was apprehended on the window sill. Apparently he didn't care to risk a broken leg, or neck. He told officers he was merely visiting his attorney's office. He couldn't explain the hole in the office floor directly over a drug store and was taken to jail.

Mexican Official Estimates 1949 Cotton Crop At 600,000 Bales

MEXICO CITY, May 3 (U.P.) — Agriculture Minister Nazario Ortiz Garza today estimated Mexico's 1949 cotton will be about 600,000 bales.

Garza said that current estimates indicate the nation will have an exportable surplus of about 300,000 bales. He added that the government will permit the "free export" of the fiber this year.

Airline Official To Entertain Rotarians

Lewis M. Zafran, Pioneer Air Line's regional traffic and sales manager, will be featured on the program today when members of the Lubbock Rotary club will entertain as special guests their sons and daughters at the Hilton hotel.

Irving L. Jones, Rotary club president, urged members who have no children of their own to bring someone else's to the day's program.

Zafran, who is from Fort Worth, is one of the nation's foremost amateur magicians. He has been entertaining the Southwest with his amazing shows for many years. He is presented by courtesy of Pioneer Air Lines.

Started Hobby As Boy

He started his hobby of magic as a youth and in an amateur capacity. During the war he presented shows all over the South Pacific, New Zealand and Australia. Zafran is a charter member of the Fort Worth Magicians and the International Brotherhood of Magicians.

Since joining the traffic and sales staff of Pioneer early in 1947, Zafran has performed in practically every city which is served by the air line. He has also performed before company employes, civic clubs, social organizations and school groups.

While he is not presenting his hobby to audiences, he is in charge of all sales and traffic efforts of Pioneer west of Fort Worth.

Hubbers Lick Pampa

Newcomer Meyer Hurls 9-5 Win

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

Those amazing Hubbers continued on the warpath again last night, taking their country cousins from Pampa for the fourth consecutive time, by a score of 9 to 5.

Lanky John Meyer, who reported only yesterday morning, elbowed himself a nine-hitter against Manager Grover Seitz' impotent Oilers. And the new hurler helped his own cause along with a pair of impudent hits and a brace of runs.

Merlin Hubbard, who was some shucks as a hurler last year, didn't show too much last night. The Hubbers hit him early and hit him hard, making 10 hits good for eight runs in the first three innings. After that they coasted.

Fielding Improved

Hubber fielding also was markedly improved last night and the slim crowd, held down because of the high winds of early night, saw one of the better games of the year.

Jim Prince, whose big bat and steady fielding has been playing a big part in Hubber victory, started things off again last night. It was almost a repetition of Monday night's game Nelson Davis forced Buddy McCallum, who had singled, Manager Jackie Sullivan doubled Davis to third and Prince chased them all home with a blow that cleared the rightfield fence with a county mile to spare.

Four hits in the second, two singles, a double and a triple, brought in three more runs. And in the third, Mike Dooley got the second of three straight hits and came across the plate ahead of Al Duarte, whose looping blow barely cleared the rightfield fence for a homer.

A single, a double and an outfield fly sent the final Lubbock tally across the plate in the sixth.

Meyer Makes Good

Meanwhile Pampa couldn't do much good against Meyer, who made a good impression in his first start. The former Gladewater hurler has a tendency to wildness, but he bore down enough to pitch himself out of trouble most of the time. He walked seven, but fanned eight.

Pampa made two scratch hits and an infield out good for a run in the first, used three walks and a single for one run in the fourth and used a walk and two hits for another pair of runs in the sixth. Their final run came on a walk and two hits, one of which was of the infield variety.

After the first three innings, the Hubbers obligingly went tame. They garnered only three more hits off Hubbard and his successor, Jim Anderson, but they didn't need any more.

McCallum and Dooley each had a pair of doubles and a single in four trips to lead the Hubbers, while Meyer and Prince each had two for four. Sullivan, with a double and a triple, ran his skein of consecutive hits to eight before he was stopped.

The Hubbers go to Lamesa tonight to open a two-game series and follow that with a pair of games in Abilene. They return here Sunday afternoon against Amarillo.

Missions Curb Dallas, 3 To 1

SAN ANTONIO, May 3. (AP)—Tommy Fine, the former Baylor ace, pitched the San Antonio Missions to a 3 to 1 victory over the league leading Dallas Eagles in the series finale tonight.

It was the second time in three days that the second place Missions were able to take the mark of the Eagles with brilliant pitching.

A snappy double play, the Missions' third of the evening, ended the game after the Eagles had one run across, and the bases loaded in the ninth.

Fine gave up eight hits, but kept them well scattered, except in the last inning when the Eagles got three.

SHREVEPORT, La., May 3. (AP)—Oklahoma City snowed Shreveport under a 16-3 score in their Texas league fray here tonight.

The game was scoreless until the Indians really hit the warpath in their half of the fourth, scoring two runs. They added four in the fifth, 3 in the seventh and then racked up seven more in the last frame.

The Sports got only one in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Oklahoma City piled up 16 hits for its 16 runs, while Shreveport tallied 8.

AVREA LEADS OILERS TO 8-3 WIN OVER EXPORTERS

BEAUMONT, May 3. (AP)—Lanky Jim Avrea set the Beaumont Exporters down here tonight with only three hits as the Tulsa Oilers won an easy 8 to 3 victory. The win gave Tulsa the three-game series 2-1.

The Oilers jumped into the lead in the third inning with one tally. They duplicated the feat in the next stanza with another run. Avrea coasted along until the seventh inning when Jean Herbert blasted a 350 foot home run in the eighth making the score 3 to 1 and then clinched the game with a five run outburst in the ninth.

Blue Sox Defeat Lamesa, 6 To 1

ABILENE, May 3 (AP) — Five hits resulted in five runs in the first inning for the Abilene Blue Sox tonight and they went from there to defeat Lamesa, 6-1, and sweep the two-game series.

Bernis Copeland, only returning Blue Sox player from last year, pitched airtight ball for Abilene except for a one-run leak in the fourth when a walk to Coats and consecutive singles to Ed Melillo and Catcher Frank Calo scored for the Lobos.

Manager Jay Haney left center field and relieved Paul Cooke on the hill for Lamesa after the first inning salvo. He limited Abilene to a single run in the third on a walk, two singles and a sacrifice.

Art Bosch led the Blue Sox attack with three hits in four trips. Calo and Selbo who played right field most of the game, collected twi singles apiece off Copeland, who scattered the seven hits except for two in the fourth.

Levelland Defeats Sundown In 4-A Tilt

LEVELLAND, May 3 (Special) — Levelland defeated Sundown, 12-7, here today in the first game of the top half District 4-A baseball playoff. The Loboes will play Morton at 2 p.m. Thursday for the north championship.

Levelland, Sundown, and Morton ended the regular season tied for first place which necessitated the playoff.

The Loboes came from behind in the sixth inning with nine runs after Sundown had pushed across three in their half of the inning to go ahead 5-3.

Borger Gassers Best Gold Sox, 15 To 13

BORGER, May 3 (AP) — Third baseman Bob Johnson's clutch triple in the eighth inning, coupled with Hugh King's masterful relief twirling, gave the Borger Gassers their tenth straight win tonight. The Gassers whipped Amarillo 15-13.

Borger led in the fifth 11-2, when defense and pitching fell apart. The Amarillo Gold Sox jumped on starting hurler L. L. Peterson and reliefer Marion Grant for eleven runs to take a 13-11 lead.

Borger scored one in the seventh to make the count 13-12. In the eighth Johnson tripled scoring Jimmy Littlejohn and Bill Wynn to give the Gassers the lead. Hugh King handcuffed the Sox in the later innings to chalk up the win.

Littlejohn grand slam homered for the Gassers in the fourth. Canett and Ferguson hit four baggers for the winners.

Olympia Wins Derby Trial

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 3. (INS) The Hooper stables' Olympia walked away with the Derby trial stakes at Louisville today to cinch the post of favorite for Saturday's diamond jubilee running of the Kentucky Derby. His time for the mile was 1:37 2/5.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro broke the Hooper colt rapidly, set a fast pace up to the stretch turn, and then eased up to go under the wire a length and a quarter from Ponder, coupled with De Luxe, the Calumet entry.

First Out Of Gate

Capot, ridden by Teddy Atkinson, was third. Ocean Drive, entered with Olympia by the Hooper stables, finished fourth.

Warmly supported by the crowd, Olympia paid $2.60 to win and $2.20 to place. Ponder paid $2.40 to place. There were no show mutuels.

The running time of 1:37 2/5, was the same as that made by Citation in the trial last year.

Olympia and Pety Cotter were first out of the gate, closely followed by Capot and Ocean Drive. They raced in this order to the half mile pole, where Ocean Drive moved ahead of Capot into third place.

Arcaro Eases Up

Around the far turn Olympia began to widen on his field, although still under restraint, and at the head of the stretch it was apparent that his winning margin would be whatever Arcaro desired. He was five lengths in front with a sixteenth of a mile to go when Arcaro eased up.

Ponder, considered to be the lesser half of the Calumet pair, was well back in the early stages. He began to move rounding the stretch turn and finished five and a half lengths ahead of Capot, although never menacing Olympia in the slightest.

Longhorn Fencing Team Wins Southwest Conference Title

COLLEGE STATION, May 3. (AP)—The University of Texas won its third straight Southwest Conference fencing title here today, defeating Texas A&M in a playoff, 3-2.

The playoff was necessary because the Aggies, Longhorns and Baylor finished morning play in a deadlock.

Individual championships will be determined tomorrow.

Lubbock Wins, 8-7

Last Inning Rally Edges Plainview

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

A two run rally in the last of the seventh inning gave Lubbock High school an 8-7 decision over the victory-hungry Plainview Bulldogs yesterday at Chapman field diamond before a large crowd of Westerner supporters in a south half District 1-AA baseball game.

The victory was the sixth consecutive conference win for the local nine and sends them into the playoff with the north half winner which has not been decided.

After almost handing Plainview the game in the top of the seventh when four runs scored on one hit, two walks, three errors, and a pair of wild pitches by Jimmy Richards, the Westerners put together two hits in their half of the inning, along with a passed ball and a hit batter, to take the decision. Garnet Reeves, Lubbock left fielder, drove in the two runs with a single into center field.

Miscues Mar Game

Seven Westerner miscues in the game marred what would have been a well-played ball game. Plainview committed one error afield. The visitors scored in two bad innings afield for the Westerners. Three mistakes were made in each of the fourth and seventh frames.

Reliefer Richards got credit for the win, and Jack Howton was the losing pitcher. Jimmy Hamilton started for the Westerners, giving up three runs on six hits in the five innings he worked. Lefty Bennie Day came on in the sixth, giving up one hit and leaving three runners stranded on base. Richards worked the seventh inning in which the four runs were scored to put Plainview ahead.

Extra-base blows were the rule rather than the exception in the game, and two homers, three triples, and two doubles went into the records. Powell Hinson blasted a four-ply wallop into left field in the first frame, and Charles Galey hit the longest ball seen here all year into left for an easy home run in the third with Hinson and Catcher Morris Turner on base.

Double Plays Featured

Triples were garnered by Second Baseman Dan Adkisson and Third Sacker Hinson for Lubbock. Phil Thompson, Plainview first baseman hit a triple in the fourth inning which hit in center field and bounded over the head of Jimmy Sexton on a crazy hop as the Lubbock fielder came in on the ball. Turner for Lubbock and Dale Scott of the Bulldogs hit doubles.

Three Westerner double plays highlighted the game and kept Plainview from scoring additional runs. One came in the first inning. Another was in the second frame with one out and the bases loaded. And the final Lubbock double-killing was in the fifth.

Branca Stops Reds With Six Hits

Dodgers Cop 3 To 0 Shutout Over Cincy

BROOKLYN, May 3 (AP)—Ralph Branca pitched a shutout the hard way today as he stopped the Cincinnati Reds with six hits in leading Brooklyn's Dodgers to a 3-0 triumph.

The unbeaten righthander was in trouble most of the way in notching his fourth victory of the season and breaking a three-game Brooklyn losing streak.

He issued six walks, three of them in the fifth inning, and it took a spectacular play by Gene Hermanski to bail him out.

With two away, Hermanski made a running catch of Jimmy Bloodsworth's drive to left center. The Brooklyn leftfielder bounced off the foam rubber cushion along the left field wall as he made the out, but was not injured.

In addition the Reds had two on in the first inning, three on in the fifth and two on in the seventh. But Branca was tight in the pinches. He fanned seven Redlegs in going the distance for the third time.

Graziano Asks Reinstatement

CHICAGO, May 3. (INS)—Shock-haired Rocky Graziano returns tomorrow to the city where he won the world's middleweight boxing crown with sledge-hammer fists for the kind of battle he's worst at—a verbal set-to.

At 7 p.m. tomorrow in Chicago the black-thatched New Yorker will climb into the ring with the Illinois Athletic Commission to seek reinstatement so he can resume earning his steak and potatoes with his pugilistic talents.

Hangers-on around Chicago's ringside gym were wagering that "the Rock" might gain the decision in this tussle. For one thing, the Commission before which Graziano will appear is not the one which set him down in 1947 because of his dishonorable discharge from the U.S. army.

A new Commission was named after last November's election.

Graziano was banned in Illinois shortly after he won the middleweight championship from Tony Zale in Chicago stadium. Zale regained the crown by kayoing Rocky in a return match.

The speculators also pointed to the fact that Rocky paid his penalty to the army by serving time in a stockade.

That latter argument is expected to be the one used by Graziano's Chicago attorney, Frank McAdams.

Lubbock, Tech Trackmen Drill

A workout with the Texas Tech track team Tuesday afternoon livened the practice session for the six Westerner trackmen going to the state meet at Austin on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The six qualifying for the big schoolboy meet were Wayne Stroud, Malcolm Young, Charlie Williams, Donald Decker, Cecil Caddell, and Alfred Adair. Along with Coach Fred Brown and Manager Davis Hopper, the team will leave by private cars at 8 a.m. Thursday.

In the practice yesterday Charlie Williams ran the 220-yard dash in 21.9; Decker stepped the century in 10 flat and the 200-yard low hurdles in 22.7; and the 440-yard relay team, composed of Stroud, Young, Williams, and Decker made the distance in 45.4. A strong wind slowed the relay team considerably.

In addition to the events named above, the Lubbock team will also enter the broad jump, high jump, and pole vault. Williams will enter the broad jump, and Decker may also enter that event. Adair will participate in the high jump, and he and Caddell will handle the pole vault.

Chandler Lifts Leo's Suspension

CINCINNATI, May 3 (AP)—Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler gave Leo Durocher a clean bill of health today and demanded that every baseball club in the country take immediate measures to protect its players from the abuse of fans.

In less than two hours, Chandler found there was not sufficient evidence to indicate the New York Giants' manager had "deliberately assaulted" Fred Boysen, a fan of Puerto Rican descent, after a game at the Polo Grounds last Thursday.

Suspension Lifted

"Under the circumstances, the suspension against Durocher is lifted immediately and Durocher will rejoin his team on Wednesday, May 4th," Chandler announced as movie and still cameras preserved the happy scene.

The commissioner took a belt both at club owners who have not properly policed their parks and at fans who have abused the athletes.

"There is ample evidence," he said, "that the Polo Grounds was not properly policed on the afternoon of April 28th or Fred Boysen would not have been permitted to move about in the box seat section, for which he had no ticket, and to hurl insulting language, which he directed at Durocher principally, and would not have been on the field at the conclusion of the game.

"Fair play demands that vicious name-calling by fans, in the direction of players, be not indulged in. Ball players have a right to protection from unwarranted abuse."

President Horace Stoneham of the Giants, beaming at the quick acquittal of his peppery little manager, promised the situation would be rectified immediately at the Polo Grounds.

Still Faces Assault Charge

Durocher, having paid what he earnestly hopes is the last of numerous trips to Chandler's office here, just sat and relaxed and drank milk after the ordeal had ended.

Durocher will not arrive in New York in time to direct his club in tonight's game against Pittsburgh.

All Durocher faces now is the charge of simple assault filed against him in New York City yesterday by Boysen's lawyer. It is scheduled for hearing Monday, and Leo said he will be there.

Red Sox And Tigers Battle To 14-14 Tie In 13 Inning Tussle

Joe Page Hurls Win Over Browns

DETROIT, May 3 (AP) — The Boston Red Sox and the Detroit Tigers battled to a 14-14 tie in 13 innings here today in a game punctuated by four home runs, two by each team.

Eleven pitchers saw action in the free-clouting game that had run three hours and 50 minutes when it was called because of darkness.

Tex Hughson, who took over the Red Sox pitching duties with two out in the last of the ninth, held the Tigers scoreless the rest of the way. The Detroiters left eight men strander on base while Hughson was working and twice he retired the side with the bases loaded.

Paul 'Dizzy' Trout, the fifth Tiger pitcher of the afternoon, came in at the start of the 10th and allowed only three hits the rest of the way.

The Tigers pounded out 18 hits off six Boston pitchers, with Rookie Johnny Groth hitting homer No. 5 of the season and Aaron Robinson hitting his third, a three-run blast, in the third inning.

NATS HIT SEVEN HOMERS TO DROP CHISOX NINE, 14-12

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP) — The Washington Senators hit seven homeruns today, two in the tenth inning, to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 14-12, before a crowd of 4,507 persons. Al Evans and Gil Coan hit the Senators' sixth and seventh round trippers in the tenth after Steve Souchock's pinch double pulled Chicago into a 12-12 deadlock in the White Sox ninth.

Tag Team Match At Arena Tonight

Two tough teams will battle it out in the main event at Sled Allen's wrestling area tonight in an Australian tag team match, with the preliminary beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Scheduled to team up for two out of three falls are Rod Fenton and Alex Kasaboski against George Curtis and George Dusette. It will probably take less than the hour time limit for one of the two teams to finish the fracas.

All Are Capable

These four men are very evenly matched in weight and ring experience, and all are capable of getting rough and tough. Kasaboski and Fenton are the type wrestlers who try to make their own rules when they think the referee will not interfere.

The two Georges are cleaner type wrestlers and prefer to adhere to the rules with wrestling holds that are legal, but against their opponents tonight they may have to fight fire with fire. Dusette is noted for his great strength and breaks many holds with sheer power.

Nenoff, McDonald Meet

In the first event Steve Nenoff meets Danno McDonald for two out of three falls or an hour time limit. The bald Nenoff, who sports a handle bar mustache, will have a tough fight with the Canadian. McDonald comes to Lubbock with a great record from the wrestling territory of the far north, and the Scotsman is said to be fast and a hustler who keeps after his opponent all the time.

Nenoff is a veteran in the ring and will probably figure out his adversary before the match is over.

Tickets are on sale at Wylie's Drug store until 5 p.m. today.

Protest By Borger High School Official Is Dropped By TIL

AMARILLO, May 3 (AP) — A protest by Borger High school of the eligibility of a star Pampa High school athlete has been dropped.

C. A. Cryer, chairman of the district 1-AA executive committee and superintendent of Borger schools, returned from Austin today where he had conferred with Interscholastic League officials on the case.

Principal J. C. Knowles of Borger said Saturday he was protesting the eligibility of Denral Davis as a baseball player. He said he did so on the grounds that Davis had accepted meals at various colleges while visiting, thus violating the Interscholastic League amateur rule.

Mustangs Nip Lamesa, 5-1

LAMESA, May 3. (Special)—The lowly Sweetwater Mustangs, who had won only one game in nine starts, put an end to the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes' seven-game win streak here this afternoon, winning a District 3-AA baseball encounter, 5 to 1.

The Tornadoes still have a firm grip on first place despite today's upset loss to the Mustangs. Lamesa has won seven, lost two in district play. The Lamesans have one other loss, a non-conference one, to the Odessa Bronchos.

Righthander Johnny Woodward won for the Mustangs, holding the Tornado nine scoreless on five hits until the seventh frame.

Sweetwater collected six hits off Jerry Phillips, who suffered his second loss before leaving the mound in the fourth inning, and Bill Hart. The Mustangs scored four times in the fourth stanza on two singles, two walks, a hit batsman and a pair of wild pitches. They added the final marker in the seventh.

Lamesa will meet the Steer nine from Big Springs at Big Springs on Friday in the next conference encounter.

North Texas State Host In Track Meet

DENTON, May 3. (AP)—Texas A. and M., North Texas State and East Texas State will hold a triangular track and field meet here tomorrow. It will be the Aggies' final tune-up before the Southwest Conference meet at Fayetteville next week.

It will be the first competition for the entire Aggie squad in nearly three weeks. Rain washed out a dual meet with Rice two weeks ago, and last weekend all members of the team were idle except the seven who competed in the Drake relays.

Don Cardon, who probably could help the Aggies in the hurdles and possibly the 440 or 880, remains on the doubtful list. His knee injury, suffered in the Southwestern Exposition meet at Fort Worth in March, has not responded to treatment.

Most closely watched at Denton will be the performances of the Aggie pole vaulters, half-milers, sprinters and broad jumpers. These are the events most apt to swing the conference title to Texas or A&M.

ST. LOUIS, May 3 (INS)—The New York Yankees announced today the purchase of relief pitcher Ed Klieman from the Washington Senators at the waiver price of $10,000.

Linksmen From 50 To 100 Will Compete

Directors Of Tri-State Senior Golf Meet Expect 200 Entries

AMARILLO, May 3 (Special)—Directors of the Tri-State Senior Golf tournament are shooting for 200 entries here July 26-30 when the pioneers of southwest golf convene for the 15th consecutive time at the Amarillo Country club.

An effort will be made to increase the Association's membership in New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas and Arkansas. More than 375 linksmen, all 50 years of age or older, now belong to America's largest senior golfing fraternity.

The 1949 entry fee has decreased from $7.50 to $5.00 and the list prizes increased from 50 to 75, to be divided among players in 10 flights. Their aggregate value is over $500.

An annual feature is the Tri-State team matches, a competition among the five lowest scorers of Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. Texas has a slight lead in the series.

There will be a qualifying competition in five different age flights. Classifications are 50-55, 51-60, 61-65, 66-70, 71-100. The meet annually draws several dozen players over 70 years old, including a few over 80.

The championship flight boasts as much class as the average state championship meet anywhere in America. The meet began in 1947 and has grown into one of the most colorful events in Golfdom. Any player in America over 50 years old is eligible. Entries should be addressed to J. E. Evans, 920 Austin street, Amarillo. Memberships in the Association are $1.00 and tournament fee is $5.00 additional.

George Bean Grade School Boys, Girls Win Over Overton Teams

The sixth grade boys and girls from George Bean grade school scored two softball victories over the Overton sixth graders Tuesday afternoon.

The boys came out on top of a 5 to 1 score while the girls notched an easy 28 to 3 win. Home runs were hit for George Bean by Wade Wolf and Don Daniel for the boys and Barbara Adkinson for the girls.

Of 154 feature films shown in Hungary last year, 57 were United States productions, 40 Russian, 23 British and 19 French.

Lewis Is Blamed For Defeat Of Compromise Labor Legislation

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3 — A Texas pro-administration Democratic congressman who would not permit use of his name blamed John L. Lewis tonight for the defeat of the Sim bill which the Democratic administration offered as a compromise on the Taft-Hartley labor law.

This congressman cited the telegram which Lewis' United Mine Workers sent today to congressmen from coal-mining states, saying that they wanted a straight vote on the Lesinski bill and would consider a vote for the Sims or Woods bill as a vote for the Taft-Hartley act.

Lewis Politics Blamed

The administration Democrat blamed Lewis' politics for this wording in the message. Those favoring the Truman administration compromise, offered under the name of Rep. Hugo Sims, youthful congressman of South Carolina, recalled that Lewis was for Republican candidate Thomas Dewey in the last election and felt enmity for President Truman.

Some observers said fewer Southern Democrats would have voted against the Sims bill had it not carried his name. They termed the administration strategy of letting Sims' name go on the bill as a blunder. Some said "had Speaker Rayburn introduced the bill himself, it would have carried."

These same persons said Sims had antagonized many southern congressmen by his actions and previous votes on bills. It was his deciding vote which brought forth the minimum wage bill from the committee, they recalled. In almost every vote to come before the House, there has been a 5 to 1 split in th South Carolina delegation with Sims casting the opposing vote. All South Carolina congressmen showed up for the Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night but Sims.

These factors probably had little effect on the vote of the 11 Texans, however, who voted against the bill.

Rep. J. M. Combs, Beaumont, in an analysis of the administration defeat, said: "It is true hot tempers and a good many unfortunate things happened."

Laborite Opposes Bill

He cited the open opposition to the Sims bill by Rep. Vito Marcantonio, N. Y., American Laborite, Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-NY), and "other radical elements."

"I'm still hoping the Democrats can get together on a program of their own—otherwise we will assume a position of utter irresponsibility," said Combs. "Unless we measure up to our responsibilities to pass sound sensible legislation, on many vital subjects including farm legislation and all the others, we will wind up as a 'do-nothing' Congress as bad as the 80th."

Rayburn Leaves Capitol

Rep. Sam Rayburn's reaction to the administration's defeat on the Taft-Hartley compromise measure was to go to his private office, just off the House floor, grab his hat, shove it far over his ears and walk off down the hall of the Capitol.

Observers theorized variously as to whether Rayburn was going off by himself to have a smoke in his other private office, or going to see the President.

As Speaker Rayburn walked into his private office, Rep. Combs, went with him. Combs went in the office with Rayburn for just a minute, then emerged. Combs was stunned by the vote.

Russian might.

Bradley also refused to comment on the published opinion of former Ambassador to Russia Walter Bedell Smith that Russia has the secret of fissionable material, but has not yet developed the atomic bomb.

Up To Western Europe

The Army chief declared that the defense budgets of the Atlantic pact countries would be "six or seven times" the $1,130,000,000 of U. S. aid contemplated for the first year under the European rearmament program.

In response to a question by Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), he emphasized that "in the final analysis, Western Europe can be saved only by Western Europeans" and not by "American dollars or American arms," he added:

"But if we Americans, together with the Western Europeans, believe that economic assistance can bring economy stability, we should also believe that military assistance can bring military stability to us all."

ian control.

This was a cardinal point in the revised occupation statute which the big three drew up at that time.

Clay was named to head the military government in the American occupation zone on March 29, 1945, by theh late President Roosevelt.

Now, Mr. Truman said, the work of "moral and economic reconstruction among the Germans in the Western Zone" has proceeded to a point where that area is about "to obtain a greatly enlarged measure of political and economic responsibilities." The President added:

"General Clay has now completed a prodigious task of administration.

"As a soldier he has raised the morale and efficiency of our troops in Germany to levels in which he and the country can take justifiable pride."

New Raid Staged

their pistols drawn, and apprehended 12 citizens who said they had just dropped in to listen to box scores.

Eleven convinced Constable Richardson that their motives for being there were beyond legal reproach, but he arrested Charles J. Saliba, 45, charging him later with operating a gambling house.

Richardson said Saliba unplugged a direct wire service from horse tracks and answered the telephone once. The constable took the phone away from Saliba, he said, but the caller hung up without even saying goodbye.

By that time several hundred had followed the constable into the tap room and the overflow, estimated at several thousand, was blocking traffic.

Richardson went to work with his baseball bat.

He bashed in the baseball machine, ripped off a baseball scoreboard, turned over a counter and scattered rundown sheets all over the room, tore two telephones off the wall, listened to the race results over a headset, unplugged the service and cut the wires to a baseball score ticker.

He turned to a newspaper reporter, who had been using another telephone, and said:

"Get A. C. Winborn (the district attorney) on the phone and get hom down here to investigate me while I'm in action. Get him on the phone—I'll talk to him."

He didn't get Mr. Winborn..

Spectators Cheer

Richardson, Deputy Meaux and Saliba pushed their way through the jam. Their appearance brought a cheer from spectators, but a few boos could be heard.

With Saliba as a passenger, the two officers drove to the criminal courts building.

He approached Winborn and his assistant Paul Maynard, in the lobby, the constable said, and asked the district attorney about filing a charge against Saliba.

Winborn looked at the crowd behind Richardson, the constable said, and snapped: "This is no theater!"

Winborn, the contable said, told him to go see Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan about filing a charge.

Richardson laid his case before Judge Ragan.

"You'd better see the district attorney about this," Judge Ragan said.

"I just came from there," Constable Richardson said.

Judge Ragan telephoned Winborn.

The charge of operating a gambling house was filed in Ragan's court against Saliba, who made bond immediately.

Criminal District Judge Frank Williford, jr., instructed the May term grand jury Monday to take a thorough look at Constable Richardson and his activities.

The constable has been making gambling raids out of his territory for several months, to the unofficial annoyance of the sheriff's department, Houston police and other constables.

Spy Ring Probed

whether we can successfully prosecute the guilty or not, we do know that there are a number of Russian espionage agents who have been, and still are operating in this country.

"It may be that our laws are not sufficiently strong to enable us to bring to justice these dangerous criminals."

Velde indicated he will demand a strengthening of existing laws to enable successful prosecution of espionage agents.

The congressman refused, however, to disclose further details of the alleged Soviet attempt to steal the A-bomb secret "until the time is right."

At the same time, an Army staff expert warned that it is "theoretically possible" to manufacture atomic bombs 1,000 times as powerful as the ones used on Hiroshima and Nagasaki.

Lt. Gen. J. A. Goshorn, of the Army's command and general staff school, said in a magazine article that a "sudden, vicious" atomic attack would "literally paralyze most of our economic potential."

yesterday.

Out of this three-power talk was drawn up the joint declaration of policy which the western diplomatic source said he believed had gone to the Russians today.

Speculation among several official sources was that this declaration contained at least these two points:

1. A call for lifting the blockade of Berlin soon, perhaps next week.

2. A suggested date for the meeting of the foreign ministers of Russia, Britain, France and the United States to deal with the whole German problem. These officials make up the council of foreign ministers. May 25 is the date generally mentioned in informed circles.

small towns in the upper reaches of the Yangtze was captured. The broadcast said these extended as far south as Fouliang, east of Lake Poyang.

Refugees On Ships

The exodus from Shanghai was practically halted, although the vessel General Gordon was set to sail today with more than 1,000 refugees, including 50 Americans. The SS Haven also is leaving with 400 displaced persons.

But American airlines flights are leaving with vacancies and the Chinese airlines reported travel to Hong Kong and Formosa is "near normal."

An officer on the staff of Vice Admiral Oscar Badger, U. S. Western Pacific commander, rejected some Shanghai criticism that the Navy "ran away" from its bund positions off the big port city to anchor in the Yangtze river mouth off Woosung.

Informed Of Plot

He said the Navy was tipped that "unfriendly forces" planned to sink obstructions at the mouth of the Whangpoo and bottle up the allied warships.

The officer said Admiral Badger was informed of the plot by the same informant who gave him information enabling the Navy to evacuate successfully Tientsin in northern China.

The officer said enough small American ships are available to rush the remaining 1,650 American nationals down the Whangpoo although he warned such an evacuation scheme must be scrapped if the Communists grab Woosung, north of Shanghai.

Shuttle Service Used

The naval spokesman said a shuttle service is operated between Shanghai and Tsingtao, where the main American fleet units now are located, and Americans will be landed at Okinawa, Japan, and Hong Kong, if they wish to leave.

Hong Kong dispatches said one-eyed Gen. Lie Po-Cheng is throwing his armies against the Nationalist Tsien-Tang (Chien-Tang) river line southwest of Hangchow, apparently in a drive to cut the railyway between Hangchow and the Nationalist emergency capital at Canton in the south.

These dispatches said the Nationalists are ready to blow up the massive steel bridge spanning the river south of Hangchow, whence Nationalist officials already have fled.

The new highway now known as Northwest Ave. Q would be named Clovis road and Northeast Ave. Q would be changed to Amarillo road.

The system would not require any changes in numbers of individual addresses. Places would retain the numbers they now have even if the street name should be changed.

Mayor Rodgers emphasized the hearing will be open to everyone and expressed the hope that many citizens will appear to participate in the discussions.

was sentenced to Gatesville reformatory in 1939 for robbery with firearms at Amarillo. He was later sentenced to serve concurrently five 10-year sentences on burglary convictions in district court here in 1941.

James was assessed two two-year sentences to run concurrently in 1938 on burglary convictions, and was given a three-year sentence in the penitentiary in 1941 after conviction on a similar offense.

Both men have long police records of less serious violations in Texas and several other states.

Burglary of Parks drive-in on East Broadway, in which $55.25 in small change was taken, was under investigation of the Lubbock county sheriff's department Tuesday.

R. R. Parks, proprietor of the drive-in, told investigators that a duplicate key used to gain entrance had been left in the door by which the burglars entered and left the place.

Theft of a gun from the car of Lester Harris of Idalou was reported to the sheriff's office. The weapon, he said, belongs to Homer Harrison of Idalou.

Lubbock Symphony Program Outlined At Directors Meet

A meeting of the board of directors of the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra was held Monday night in the cafeteria of the Lubbock National bank.

A highlight of the meeting was a report from the guest artists committee, in which it was announced that Leonard Warren, Metropolitan opera baritone, will be guest artist for the first symphony concert next fall. Warren will be presented in concert with the orchestra on the nights of October 24 and 25.

Operetta Is Planned

The December concert will feature Robert Pipkin, concert master of the symphony orchestra, in a violin concerto, and his wife, Mary Anna Pipkin, in a Rachmaninoff piano concerto.

At the February concert, tentative plans call for the first half of the program to consist of orchestral selections, and the second half to be devoted to an operetta will have orchestral accompaniment, and will be composed of solo voices and a chorus. The operetta will not be presented in costume.

At the final concert of the season, in late April or early May, plans have been made for a two-piano team to appear with the symphony.

Budget Is Okayed

At the meeting, the budget for the forthcoming season was presented and accepted. Tentative plans for a financial drive also were formulated. Marion T. Key is finance chairman. Roy Bass, chairman of the board, was in charge of the directors' meeting.

Symphony officials also have announced the season's subscriptions will be accepted through the first concert next fall for renewal in each subscriber's present seating location. Prices will be the same as they were this year, with the exception of the two front rows in the center section of the high school auditorium, which will be $10 for adults and $5 for children.

Season subscriptions for the remainder of the auditorium will be $7.20 and $3.60. Ticket orders will be ready to be picked up at the door at the first concert next fall.

Renewals should be mailed to post office box 894, it was announced.

Beer Election Set

day will climax several weeks of struggle between the wet and dry factions in Crosby county. The more highly organized of the two opposing groups is the dry faction, especially since the organization of the United Drys of Crosby County about two weeks ago.

Headed by Rev. Carl Grissom, pastor of First Baptist church of Crosbyton, the United Drys held its organizational meeting in Ralls April 19 to fight the proposed legalization of four per cent beer in the county. Some 75 persons attended. Pastors from the majority of the county's churches were present.

Actual administration of the United Dry campaign is being handled by Rev. Roy Clayton, pastor of the Baptist church of Roaring Springs, Dickens county, who was until recently a worker for the United Texas Drys.

The group set up a budget of approximately $640 to finance their campaign. Other leaders of the United Drys of Crosby County include M. K. King, Ralls, secretary; Roy Terrell, Lorenzo, treasurer; Bill Jones, Ralls, general chairman for men; Mrs. H. C. Pearson, Lorenzo, general chairman for women; Raymond Tanner, Lorenzo, general chairman for youth.

Town chairmen and church chairmen for each group are being appointed in the various communities and churches. Concerted action in the form of frequent meetings all over the county apparently has strengthened the dry cause.

Other phases of the United Dry campaign include newspaper advertising, personal solicitation, direct mail appeals to the county's qualified voters, and distribution of handbills. The group plans a parade of young people on Friday.

The voting element of the county favoring the legalization of beer has remained unorganized, and no concentrated effort for legalization has been made by the wets as a group.

That the sale of beer within the county will be legalized Saturday is more than a remote possibility, however, as evidenced by a report from an Amarillo beer wholesaler that, to date, he has received more than 50 applications for beer franchises in Crosby county.

It must be remembered, in connection with this, that licenses for the sale of beer cannot be issued to any person who has not resided in the county for at least six months. Thus, it would appear that 50 or more Crosby county residents, all of whom are residents of at least six months time and are therefore not "drifters" who have come into the county in recent weeks on the strength of the possible legalization of beer, have already made plans in anticipation of a wet victory.

At the last beer election in Crosby county, held some nine years ago, the dry faction polled approximately 668 votes. Their strength has been estimated to be relatively the same today, whereas there are some 2,000 veterans and new residents in the county, many of whom are expected to favor the legal sale of beer.

ORDER IS UPHELD

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP) — The Board of Immigration Appeals today upheld deportation orders against John Santo, New York union leader, and Jay Peters, alleged Communist underground figure. Santo, a native of Hungary, is described by the Justice department as the organizer of the New York City transport workers union.

Big Yank MP Opens Own 'War' On Reds

VIENNA, May 3 (AP)—A husky American military policeman knocked down at least eight Russian officers today and, brandishing an iron chair over his head, chased another around the lobby of the plush Imperial hotel, Provost Marshal Col. Willard K. Liebel said.

The American was Pfc. Edward J. Touhey of Long Island N. Y. Touhey was under observation in an Army hospital here. Liebel said Touhey had been drinking "but not enough to cause all this disturbance." Touhey was described as over six feet, 3 inches tall and weighing about 230 pounds.

The "one-man" war against the Russians put the American headquarters here in a tizzy. They expected an official Russian protest tomorrow.

Texas States' Rights Party Leaders To Meet In Marshall

MARSHALL, May 3 (AP)—Leaders of the Texas States' Rights party will meet here Saturday.

Primarily it is to be a meeting of the state executive committee. But new party officers are to be chosen, and anyone interested in the States' Rights movement is welcome, the party said.

The meeting was called by Curtis Douglass of Pampa, chairman of the executive committee. He said it is primarily for the purpose of hearing committee reports and recommendations and to discuss plans for Texas participation in the May 10 national party meeting at Jackson, Miss.

About 50 party leaders are expected. Local arrangements are in charge of Paul W. Warren of Marshall, state executive committeeman from the Second State Senatorial district.

Selection Of Jury Continues In Perryton Double Slaying Trial

PERRYTON, May 3. (AP)—Selection of a jury for the murder trial of D. A. Cronister, 41, moved slowly today.

By the time court recessed for the day 75 potential jurors of a 148-man special venire had been rejected.

Examination of the remaining 73 will resume at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Yesterday Judge Jack Allen of 84th District court rejected District Attorney Bob Galloway's application for a change of venue on grounds of bias and prejudice in Ochiltree county.

Cronister is charged with the double slaying last May of C. W. Barker and his son, W. H. Barker, on a southeast Ochiltree county road in a dispute over property sold by Cronister to W. H. Barker.

Congress Finally Clearing Stage For Action After Four Months Of Committee Hearings

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 3. — It's just beginning to get good in Congress now. Meaning, there'll be a little more action.

Congress has passed the halfway mark in this year's session, with four months gone and maybe two or three left to go.

Don't feel bad if you're an average person who's been reading about Congress for four months and find now you can't remember precisely what's happened here.

The fact is, nothing much has happened. It's been mostly talk, argument and jockeying.

The going has been pretty slow particularly in the Senate, but the first few months of any session always drag.

Hearings Take Time

That's because those months are always used in getting the big bills ready for debate and a vote in both House and Senate.

They're pretty much taken up with long committee hearings on the bills, and the brigades of witnesses who make headlines.

About the only action completed by Congress — meaning House and Senate together—was passage of the new rent control law.

Aside from that, everything else has been pretty much up in the air, with action by the House on this, by the Senate on that, but seldom by both houses on any one thing.

For example, the Senate has approved a bill to give the states $35,000,000 to provide better care for children's health.

House Delays Action

But the House isn't ready to tackle that bill yet and it can't become law unless the House approves.

True, both houses okayed the Marshall plan another year. But—

Neither house has yet voted the money, or appropriations, for doing it. When they get around to it, there'll be some explosions because a lot of men want to cut down on spending.

This week the House expects to vote on a new labor bill. But that's only half the job. We won't have a new labor law until the Senate also votes, which won't be for some time yet.

Meanwhile, this week the Senate expects to vote $300,000,000 to help states do a better job in educating their children. That won't become law, either, unless the House also approves, some time later.

HST Program Delayed

President Truman's civil rights program is still up in the clouds. And it may get blocked out of this session.

Committee hearings are only beginning on some parts of that program. For instance, on a fair employment practices committee (FEPC).

With the mood of the Southern Democrats set sternly against the program, it doesn't have much chance.

The main reason for the slowness of the Senate this session was the three-weeks' filibuster of the southerners' against the civil rights program earlier this year. They don't want it up again.

Health Plan Opposed

As for the President's health program, hearings will start on that, too. It also seems to have no chance this year. Why?

Too much opposition to it, inside and outside Congress, or at least to the compulsory health insurance part of it.

And approving the Atlantic pact and voting arms for Europe are still touchy problems ahead.

The pact is pretty certain to get the nod, after quite a Senate debate. Since the pact is a treaty only Senate approval is needed. The House takes no part in that.

But both houses have to vote on money for European arms. Will they do it? You'll have to guess. Both houses now are calling more and more for economy.

Basic Science Bill To Require 'Corrections'

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP)—Clerical blunders messing up legislation sometimes cost the state lots of money and they always bring authors of the bills to grief.

Latest example of such a bust was omission of House amendments on the hotly-fought basic science bill that was signed into law last week by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

Sponsors of the bill now must ram through corrective legislation to insert five amendments dropped from the bill in the enrolling department of the House. It won't cost much but it will be a lot of trouble.

The Senate adopted the House amendments, but when the final copy of the bill was prepared for signature, the amendments were omitted, said Rep. Doyle Willis of Fort Worth, author of one of the amendments.

Rep. Jack Ridgeway of San Antonio, a House sponsor of the basic science bill, asked both proponents and opponents to co-operate in correcting the measure.

China Aid Urged

south, and drive toward India. McCarran added:

"He said that the Communists in China are true Communists and true Stalinists. He said there was no doubt but what a great number of Chinese Communists were indoctrinated and trained in Russia and now are the Communist leaders in China."

Chennault's testimony followed a charge by Rep. Judd (R-Minn) of the House Foreign Affairs committee and an authority on China, that "Communist pressure" blocked appointment of Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer as ambassador to China in 1946.

Judd endorsed a proposal that Wedemeyer be named to the post now and that Chennault be returned to China as military adviser to the Nationalist government.

Judd said Wedemeyer was chosen for the ambassadorial position three years ago but the appointment was cancelled before official announcement because of Communistic protests. The congressman blamed "appeasement" blocs within the State department for the last-minute cancellation. He added:

"If Gen. Wedemeyer had gone out at that time and the State department had pursued a stronger policy toward China, we wouldn't have the calamity in the Far East that we have today."

Wedemeyer has written a report believed to recommend extensive U.S. aid for China but the administration has refused to release the document.

McCarran quoted Chennault as saying there are 10 provinces in China which "will fight Communism to the death." The general added:

"They have been buying Communists dead and alive for the last 20 years and will continue to do so."

Chennault declared Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is the only man in China that all Nationalists will follow.

State Activities Disrupted By Power Failure At Texas Capitol

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP)—Power failure for an hour and ten minutes at the capitol today disrupted affairs of state government.

Two women, caught when one elevator was stuck between floors, had to climb out several feet but were unharmed and calm.

The House couldn't get along without its electrically-run gadgets—voting machine and loudspeakers—and adjourned until tomorrow morning. The Senate was in recess but a committee hearing went on.

The failure was caused by an overload, capitol workmen said. Electricity went off at 3:21 p. m., flickered occasionally but wasn't fuly restored until about 4:30.

An estimated 300 Lions and members of their families last night attended the annual Lions club family night meeting held at Mackenzie state park. From 5:30 to 7:30 p. m. the group was entertained at the amusement rides in the park and at 7:30 p. m. were feted at a hot dog supper served at the barbecue pits.

Dr. C. H. Schulkey and Dr. T. G. McCorkle, both Lubbock dentists, were among 20 members of the Baylor university college of medicine class of 1924 which held a class reunion in Houston Monday, the Associated Press reported. Canadian Dam

Steve Matthews, and Ruel Martin, chairman, and Joe Nislar and Harry N. Roberts, members, of the Lubbock Water Resources board.

The local group did not commit itself as being in favor of a dam at any particular site. But Grant and Davis did put the Hereford representatives in touch with U.S. Reclamation service authorities to whom they will present their arguments in favor of the Tascosa site.

Survey Nears Completion

The conference here pertains to a survey now nearing completion by the Reclamation service which will seek to determine whether a dam and reservoir on the Canadian would be financially feasible as a source of water supply for many South Plains and Panhandle communities.

Most frequently mentioned as the sites for the dam, if built, are Sanford, which is about 40 miles northeast of Amarillo, and Tascosa, which is about the same distance northwest of that city. Tascosa is about 40 miles as the crow flies upstream from Sanford. The points are about 60 miles apart following the meanderings of the river.

Hereford is about 50 miles almost due south of Tascosa.

Altitude Advantage Cited

One of the reasons for the Hereford interest in that site, Cowart acknowledged, is a projected major highway from Dalhart through Tascosa, Hereford and Littlefield into Lubbock.

"The highway would cause a good deal of travel to by-pass Amarillo and come to Lubbock," Cowart remarked. "That may be one of the reasons why Amarillo seems to be so much in favor of the Sanford site."

Some of the arguments cited in favor of the Tascosa site were persuasive. They pointed out that the altitude of the Canadian riverbed at Tascosa is about 173 feet higher than at Sanford. That would mean a huge saving in pumping costs to get water from a reservoir to points south.

Gypsum Deposits Reported

They referred also to insistent reports that huge formations of gypsum are cut by the Canadian between Tascosa and Sanford. Interested Lubbock officials already were aware of these reports. If correct, they could mean that water impounded at Tascosa might be much better in taste and quality than any stored at Sanford.

Mayor Rodgers has one opinion from a highly authoritative private source that water impounded at Sanford would be unfit for human use. The same opinion, however, held somewhat the same view of water stored at Tascosa. But he said the Tascosa water probably would be the better of the two.

Personal Interest Secondary

Cowart repeatedly emphasized that the Hereford citizenship is more interested in getting a dam built than in its location, if it would help to solve the long range water problem of the High and South Plains. But it is their conviction, aside from the community's personal interests, that Tascosa would be the more practical site, he said.

Grant and other Lubbock participants in the conference pointed out that this city's and area's first interests are in a dam and reservoir which would guarantee abundant water of usable quality at a price this and other communities can afford to pay. The site of the dam and reservoir are secondary considerations, they added.

"After all, if the dam is built, the reclamation service will decide the location," Davis remarked. "Officials of that service will put it where they think it should go. There's not much Lubbock could do about determining the location."

Cowart said a meeting with reclamation service officials contacted by Grant and Davis probably will be arranged at once.

Texas Worker Killed, Another Hurt As Oil Derrick Collapses

CUERO, Tex., May 3 (AP)—One man was injured fatally and another seriously hurt when an oil derrick collapsed and fell on them yesterday in Goliad county.

Alvin Mart Hood, 41, employe of the Goldrus Drilling company, died at 1:52 a. m. today in a Cuero hospital. Funeral services will be held in Richland, Tex., tomorrow.

H. R. Haak of Kenedy, driver of a truck for the rig-moving company, suffered serious injuries. Hospital attendants said, however, his condition is not critical.

The derrick was being moved to a new location in Weesatche, Tex., and was within 18 feet of its destination when a leg collapsed.

HST Beaten On New Labor Bill

feated after it had caused a three way split in Democratic rank over labor legislation.

Pro-labor northern Democrats joined with Republicans and southern Democrats in opposing the compromise. The unexpected northern Democrat bolt developed over retention of the injunction feature, intensely hated by labor.

Administration leaders had offered the compromise in the hope of defeating the bill sponsored by Rep. Wood (D-Ga.), retaining most of the Taft-Hartley act with some modifications. This bill is backed by the Republican-Southern Democrat coalition.

Southerns Hold Fast

The southerners held fast to their support of the Wood bill despite the President's flat statement last Thursday that they need not come to him for patronage if they did not vote with him on Taft-Hartley act repeal.

TEXANS' VOTE GIVEN

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—On a roll call vote by which the House approved the Wood labor bill tonight, Texas members supported the measure by an 11 to 9 count. The bill is subject to further vote on final passage. Rep. Sam Rayburn of Bonham, as speaker of the House, did not vote. He has voiced opposition to the measure.

Here's how the Texans voted:

For the Wood bill: Lloyd Bentsen of McAllen, Clark Fisher of San Angelo, Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls, Paul Kilday of San Antonio, Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth, George Mahon of Colorado City, Tom Pickett of Palestine, Bob Poage of Waco, Ken Regan of Midland, Olin Teague of College Station, and Frank Wilson of Dallas.

Against the Wood bill: Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer, Omar Burleson of Anson, J. M. Combs of Beaumont, Johnny Lyle of Corpus Christi, Wright Patman of Texarkana, Albert Thomas of Houston, Clark Thompson of Galveston, Homer Thornberry of Austin, and Gene Worley of Shamrock.

The southerners held fast to their support of the Wood bill despite the President's flat statement last Thursday that they need not come to him for patronage if they did not vote with him on Taft-Hartley act repeal.

The administration leader, who did not wish his name used, said the House may now accept the Wood bill and then vote down all legislation on the final test.

Unless later Senate action should lead to passage of legislation, this would leave the Taft-Hartley act on the statute books and block President Truman's 1948 campaign pledge for its repeal.

The Taft-Hartley repeal bill originally sponsored by the administration has been reported to the Senate. The date for its consideration is uncertain.

Amendments Defeated

Before the House rejected the administration compromise, it defeated several amendments offered by northern Democrats in an effort to soften its provisions. One of these would have knocked out the 80-day injunction.

The compromise plan was announced by House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) Monday, after a round of conferences, starting off with a morning session between the President and congressional Democratic chiefs.

The President's position was not announced, but it was assumed that he did not object to the strategy.

The administration leader said the opposition of Rep Kelley (D-Pa.) floor manager of the orginal administration bill, killed chances of passing the compromise.

He said the House may adopt the Wood bill but vote it down on the final passage.

Injunction Plan Hit

Administration supporters, he declared, will vote for no legislation at all rather than accept the Wood bill.

The House rejected, 238 to 132 on a teller vote an amendment by Rep. Perkins (D-Ky.) to restore the voluntary machinery of the original administration bill.

Just before the vote, Rep. Bailey (D-NY) angrily shouted:

"We in West Virginia want no part of an injunction. Not a single member of the West Virginia delegation favors any kind of labor legislation that contains the injunction. Our state has learned its lesson through blood, tears and suffering."

Speaker Rayburn, who participated in the Monday conference with the President, made one of his rare appearances on the floor to plead for approval of the administration compromise.

Kelley declared the compromise violated the party's top 1948 election campaign pledge to wipe out the Taft-Hartley act. He told the House:

"It would be better to have the Taft-Hartley law than this compromise. Then the people will know where the fault lies for not fulfilling our campaign promise."

Ford Strike Set

strike at 10 a.m. tomorrow — whether or not the international approved.

Shortly afterward, the international executive board set the Thursday deadline and announced that any walkout before then would be unauthorized.

In a second emergency session, local 600 agreed to conform to the international's deadline.

The announcements broke out of a clear sky when it appeared settlement was near. After an investigation yesterday, UAW Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey reported Ford had slowed down the line to a speed acceptable to the union.

Today's announcements threatened to disrupt strategy in UAW's spring bargaining drive. Ford is the first target in the union's campaign for social security benefits. Because of this, top UAW officials had made all-out efforts to reach a quick settlement of the speed-up grievance.

Shortly before the strike was ordered, the international handed Ford a formal request for opening of contract negotiations May 16.

A strike at the Rouge plant would come the same day as a scheduled walkout of 3,500 UAW members at Ford's Lincoln-Mercury plant here. The Lincoln-Mercury strike has been authorized by the international executive board. An alleged speed-up is also the issue there.

CIO Claimed Fighting Poll Tax To Strengthen GOP In South

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—The administration's civil rights program came under new fire today with a Dixie Democrat accusing the CIO of trying to wipe out poll taxes in order to build up the Republican party in the South.

Rep. Burleson (D-Tex) fired that charge at two CIO representatives during their testimony before a House administration subcommittee on proposals to end payment of poll taxes as a voting requirement in national elections.

Seeks "Liberal" Democrat

But the two labor men, John W. Edelman and Thomas E. Harris, retorted that the CIO only wants a different kind of Democrat, a more liberal kind, elected from the South.

Edelman told the committee:

"Today more than ever, the rank and file people in the poll tax states resent this restriction on the rights of franchise. The average working man and woman in the South regards the requirement that he pay a poll tax before he can vote as a stigma placed upon him by a privileged minority."

Burleson promptly challenged the CIO spokesman to "prove that statement is so." Speaking directly at Edelman he said you "are doing and have done an irreparable damage in the South by some of the things you advocate."

The congressman did not make it clear whether he meant Edelman personally or the CIO generally, but he went on to say he was referring specifically to the poll tax issue.

Harris, the other CIO representative, then remarked that the predominance of one party—the Democratic—in the South is due in part to the poll tax.

Burleson cut in to say: "You figure you are going to make more Republicans by failing to have poll taxes."

"If they are repealed," Harris replied, "I don't think the poor people are going to vote Republican, but for a different kind of Democrat."

"Oh," the Texan said, "you are making a distinction between different kinds of Democrats."

"Precisely," Harris said, adding: "We are not trying to increase the strength of the Republican party."

Mayor Blames State Officials In Houston Horsemeat Mixup

HOUSTON, May 3 (AP)—Mayor Oscar Holcombe issued a formal statement today tossing horsemeat problems into the lap of the State Health department, but promising his own investigation of Houston's City Health department.

The mayor said he would make a "thorough investigation" of the department, but emphasized that recent tests of meat samples were state-directed.

"The public should know," the mayor said, "that those tests so severely criticized by the grand jury were made in the state-designated regional laboratory, under direct supervision of R. D. Wende, director of that state of Texas regional laboratory."

State Pays Salary

Mayor Holcombe emphasized that Wende is a full-time employe of the Texas Health department, and is on the state pay roll. The State Health department selected Wende, Holcombe said, and he has been in charge of the laboratory since 1943.

Holcombe, leaving no stone unturned, added that Wende's "superior officer" is Dr. George W. Cox, State Health department director.

"This state regional laboratory is under the control of Dr. Cox," Holcombe continued, "and makes tests for horsemeat not only for Houston and Harris county, but also for eight other counties in this region, including Galveston. It also tests milk for 55 counties."

Jury Suggests Change

The jury report to which Holcombe referred was made last week, after 20 samples, allegedly horsemeat, were re-tested by state chemists and found to contain no horsemeat at all. Condemning the City Health department as "inefficient" and "inconsistent," the jury advocated replacing City Health Director Dr. Fred K. Laurentz with a "capable" official.

Mayor Holcombe had something to say about that, too. Insisting he did not intend to whitewash the City Health department or any employe therein, he stressed that "some chemists believe it is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to make an accurate test after meat has aged for weeks.

Texas Solons Delay Action On Dry Cleaning Industry Proposal

AUSTIN, May 3 (AP) — The Senate State Affairs committee today heard arguments but refused to act on a bill to regulate the dry cleaning industry.

Proponents of the measure by Senator G. C. Morris of Greenville said it was to protect the public and raise standards of the business.

Opponents challenged that it was neither in the public's nor industry's interest.

Judge Scores Levity In Iowa Slaying Trial

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., May 3 (INS)—Joking banter between prosecuting and defense attorneys at the murder trial of Robert C. Rutledge, jr., 27-year-old St. Louis physician, today drew the ire of presiding Judge J. E. Heiserman of Anamosa.

The judge dismissed the court session seven minutes early when attorneys renewed their jovial discussion after being warned:

"I don't mind a little levity, gentlemen, but let's not carry it too far."

Defense attorney R. S. Milner and Assistant County Attorney Dave Elderkin had engaged in a superficial battle over what instructions the judge would or would not give the jury in regard to "circumstantial evidence."

The exchange came near the close of the second day of routine examination of prospective jurors in an effort to obtain the 12 who will hear the trial in which Rutledge apparently will be fighting for his life.

Prosecuting Attorney William Crissman has indicated by his questioning of the jurors about their attitudes on capital punishment that he will demand the death penalty.

Pump Failure Causes Water Shortage On Tech Campus

Pump failure in one of the three water wells which supply Texas Tech campus caused the campus to be partially without water late Tuesday afternoon.

Officials said the main well which produces around 350 gallons per minute was out of order but should be restored to working capacity some time today.

Meanwhile, in order to supply the dorms and other buildings, the city tied an eight inch line into the college system. Water was available for drinking purposes most of the time but students living in the dormitories reported there was insufficient water for bathing.

Some kinds of fish can survive being frozen in ice, but the length of time they are frozen and the conditions under which the ice melts are important factors to survival.

Texas Farm Areas Eligible For Federal 'Disaster' Loans

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan today designated Utah and parts of Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado and Texas as areas where emergency "disaster" loans can be made to eligible farmers by the Farmers Home administration.

Congress recently passed legislation authorizing such loans to farmers in areas stricken by storms, blizzards, freezes and other disasters. It provided about $45,000,000 for such loans.

Loans will be made for the purchase of livestock, orchard and citrus nursery stock, and other items needed to continue farming operations and to defray farming expenses brought about by winter damages.

Applications for loans may be filed at local Farm Home administration offices in the designated areas.

The counties included:

Texas—Zavala, Dimmit, Uvalde, Kinney, Maverick, Cameron, Kendy, Willacy, Jim Wells, Frio, La Salle, Hidalgo, Brooks, Duval, Jim Hogg, Starr, Webb and Zapata.

Suspect In Arkansas Robbery Questioned In Austin Hospital

AUSTIN, May 3. (AP)—Arkansas state police were questioning a man in Brackenridge hospital today as a robbery suspect.

Lt. Allen R. Templeton of the Arkansas police refused to give further details, including the man's name.

U. S. POLICY IS CRITICIZED

Chinese Prelate To Return To Homeland Despite Red Threat

BY BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 3—Death will come to Archbishop Paul Yu-Pin, the huge, pleasant, learned Chinese prelate, if he returns to China, his anxious friends keep telling him. But he plans to go back later this month.

The spiritual leader and education of 5,000,000 Chinese Catholics is rated No. 2 on the most recent list of "war criminals" released by the Chinese Reds. His friend Chiang Kai-Shek is No. 1.

Sees Ultimate Victory

He has thought a bit about the counsel of his friends, he told us the other night at a downtown restaurant as he tucked a napkin in his clerical collar and delicately went to work on a piece of duck. It is not a new threat in the life of the vigorous scholar who recently flew to Rome to give Pius XII a first-hand account of the collapse in China. The Japs had a $500,000 (American) price on his head during their occupation of his homeland.

"But not to return would be another way of telling the Chinese that they have lost this new war for survival," he said. "Their morale is low enough as it is. I must do my bit to show them that all is not lost. With a lifting of morale, a handful of American officers and, in time, the kind of supplies the U. S. will give to Atlantic pact countries, China can still win. That's a fact that is being tragically overlooked here.

Have Faith In U. S.

"We don't ask for American soldiers," he went on. "If there is one thing in which we are a bountiful country it is manpower. So many Chinese troops have lost faith in their commanders, but though the Communists have spread an enormous amount of propaganda against the Americans the Chinese still feel that with American officers plotting their battles they could win."

I asked him about his personal danger again. He took off his napkin, revealing a thin line of the magenta vestment beneath his coat, and thought before he replied.

"It won't be easy for them to find me," he said. "They have seized or destroyed several of the newspapers and schools and farms for displaced people that I formed, and, of course, my home in Peiping. But I am more nimble.

To "Go Quickly"

"I know one thing: If they do catch me, I won't be another Cardinal Mindszenty. I don't want to be that kind of a hero. I will go quickly, but not by suicide. That is against my belief. There are many good men to take my place if I go."

But the archbishop, who was the youngest Catholic bishop in the world at the time of his consecration, is not sure that his death—if it comes—will be the work of Communists.

"Those of us who have devoted much of our lives to strengthening Chinese-American relations are in danger of death at the hands of the good people to whom we appealed," he said with the trace of a smile. "The generalissimo and Madame Chiang, who is a noble woman, and I—to name a few—have long told our people that their great friend is the United States. The United States, we assured the people, would not let this or that happen to China. But now . . ."

Scores Marshall Truce

The archbishop shrugged, and a friend at the table added what he did not choose to add: that General Marshall's "truce" had enabled the beaten Reds to re-deploy, that there never was a chance of achieving the American desire for a coalition government in China, that shipments of U. S. supplies to China were held up, that Communists have exploited ably the stories of graft in Chiang's government.

"America has been kind in many ways to China," the archbishop cut in, gently but firmly. "But its present policy toward my country, if it is a policy, is short-sighted. It daily watches our people pushed back and presumes there is no fight left in them. There is. It watches a great land-mass taken and hopes, perhaps, that Gen. Mao will be another Tito.

"He won't be, but if he is he'll be killed and replaced by a party-liner.

"It watches untold areas rich in natural resources fall into the hands of an enemy of all free peoples, including northern uranium deposits far richer than those of the Belgian Congo.

"And your big business men are short-sighted too, in assuming they can do business-as-usual with the Reds. In such a short time they will find it impossible. In such a short time, through force and propaganda, we could find China an enemy of its old friend, America, a tragedy too terrible to visualize."

The archbishop worked with his napkin again for a bit. Then he smiled and said, "We have spoken of many unpleasant things. Will you have a beer? . . . But please remember that there is still time. Still time."

Funds For State Colleges Pushed

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 3.—The key Gilmer-Aikin education bill went to the governor today.

The Senate voted 19-8 without argument, to accept House amendments to the criticism-battered bill by Senator James Taylor of Kerens which reorganized supervision of the state's school system.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester has endorsed the Gilmer-Aikin plan. His signature to make the bill law was considered certain.

Money Bill Advanced

The legislature also began to clear the way for final action on major appropriations—a must before the lawmakers can quit and go home.

In the House, the last of the major money bills—one calling for nearly $58,000,000 for state-supported colleges—went to the calendar with committee approval. It is $12,000,000 higher than the one approved by the last legislature for the current two-year period.

The actions brought a prediction from Lt. Gov. Allan Shivers as to when the session will end. "Between the fourth and tenth of June," he said.

Also sent to the governor today for signature was a bill to reduce payroll taxes and increase benefits under the unemployment compensation act. The House approved a Senate amendment to the bill.

Principal changes made by the House in Taylor's Gilmer-Aikin bill were to make the elective board of education a 21-member instead of a nine-man board, and to move the election date from April to coincide with the general election in November.

The bill abolishes the elective office of state school superintendent and substitutes a commissioner of education. It weathered a filibuster in the Senate and kept the House arguing for weeks before it passed.

Taylor said he would ask conference committees to work out differences between House and Senate on the two companion Gilmer-Aikin bills.

The House today also killed a resolution ratifying the U.S. constitutional amendment to limit presidents to two terms.

The Senate recalled—and the House approved the recall—of a bill passed by the Senate yesterday to allow public seining of menhaden five miles out in the gulf. Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton moved for the reconsideration, arguing that there is opposition to it along the coast.

Only food and used clothing now may be sent in gift parcels to Rumania.

REA Grants Loan To Floyd Co-Op

FLOYDADA, May 3 (Special)—A $695,000 loan for Floyd County Electric co-op was granted today in Washington, L. W. Chapman of the REA office here announced.

The loan, according to United Press reports, is one of a group totaling $2,910,000 for expansion of electric service in rural areas of six states.

The Floyd county co-op loan, Chapman said, will be used to build two new sub-stations, and to replace many one-phase lines, which may be used for domestic purposes only, with three-phase lines which are required for the heavier loads imposed by irrigation pumps.

One sub-station is to be in the Finney Switch area, and another is to be in Snyder community, however the exact locations of the stations have not been determined, Chapman said.

New line construction totaling 258 miles and giving domestic service to over 300 additional members will start Monday, Chapman indicated. Work will be done in Floyd county and all the adjacent counties. However, today's loan is not concerned with that project.

VERBAL FREE-FOR-ALL FLARES AS HOUSE DEBATES ISSUE

Tenure Limit Plan Is Defeated

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, May 3.—A proposed federal constitutional amendment limiting presidential terms went down swinging amid cries of "Republican legislation" in the House today.

The knockout came after almost an hour of rights to the jaw and jabs with the left on what is Democratic in "this great and glorious land of ours."

"I had the honor and privilege of making the motion to kill this two years ago," said Rep. Ray Kirkpatrick of Trenton, "and I have the honor and privilege to do so now."

Word Battle Flares

The House followed along for the second ratification knockout—72 to 64.

The proposal would limit presidents to two terms. It has to be ratified by 36 states before its adoption. Rep. Max Smith of San Marcos, its sponsor in the House, said 22 states had ratified it.

"It's not party legislation," Smith declared. "The Republicans have been in power two-thirds of the time in the history of our country. It seems to me the Democrats would want legislation to keep them from being in office too long."

"That great commoner, William Jennings Bryan, first advocated this limit," declared Rep. S. J. Isaacks of El Paso, "and he was far from being a Republican."

"We all know this was designed against one man, that great leader, Franklin Delano Roosevelt," said Rep. Bill Richards of Lockhart. "We say—let the people elect the man they want—and then we turn around and say—no, you can't elect him again. They're afraid the people will run away with their own authority."

"If we had a Republican president today," Smith remarked, "every member in this House would vote for this legislation."

Pennsylvania Fire-Fighters Use Solution To Make Water Wetter

BRADFORD, Pa., May 3 (U.P.)—(U.P.)—City firemen here have a new solution to make water wetter.

Fire Chief John A. Moran said the solution, when added to water normally carried in booster tanks and can, serves as a penetrating agent to carry moisture to the heart of flames.

The solution is particularly adapted for use where baled cotton, rags and other materials are burning and water has a hard time penetrating. The new solution, according to the chief, will even work into deeply charred sections of wood.

A gallon of the mixture is added to a hundred gallons of water to make a green, sudsy solution that is a real aid in quenching stubborn blazes.

Pennsylvania Doctor Serves As Railroad Fireman On Saturdays

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., May 3. For six days a week Dr. Matthey A. McGrail is a practicing physician and surgeon but on the seventh he is a railroad fireman.

McGrail has never forgotten his boyhood urge to become a railroad man. He was born in Altoona, Pa., a railroad town where his father was a telegrapher on the famed Horseshoe Bend. Every day McGrail walked up the steep grade after school just to hitch a ride in a locomotive down the mountain to Altoona.

Dr. McGrail makes no medical appointments on Saturday, for he is scheduled to make the run as fireman. He even holds a union card. The doctor says it relaxes him to bump along in a locomotive.

Plans For Demo Barbecue Pushed

Members of the local arrangements committee for the big $10-a-plate Democratic barbecue to be staged here Saturday were beginning to worry Tuesday about a lot of details regarding the barbecue.

"First thing we're worried about is whether or not we'll have enough local people at the barbecue," Wesley Read, co-chairman with Arch Underwood on the barbecue, said. "We have reports of such large delegations coming here from other places that we're afraid they're going to outnumber our local attendance."

Ticket Sales Pushed

Eighteen teams of Lubbock men went out Monday in an effort to boost local sales of tickets, but no report had been received on their progress late Tuesday afternoon. They are to make reports late today.

Delegations have already purchased tickets from as far away as Houston, Alice and Fort Worth. Midland and Odessa will send approximately 150 persons here for the barbecue, tickets for that number having already been paid for.

Floydada will also have a good delegation here, Homer Steen, editor of The Floydada Hesperian, reported. Hereford has made reservations for 14 persons.

Brannan To Speak

Abilene, Wichita Falls, Amarillo, Plainview and Snyder have made reservations for large groups.

Five Persons Take Citizenship Oaths At Ceremonies In City

Five persons became citizens of the United States Tuesday in the Lubbock district of Federal court. With a solemn oath of allegiance they stepped across the threshold from alienship to citizenship.

Two were former citizens of Canada and one each came from France, Italy and England. All now are Texans as well as Americans.

Mrs. Grace Vivian Neubauer came to the United States in June, 1946. As a war bride she came by way of Sydney, Australia. She now lives with her husband, William C. Neubauer at 311 Vernon. Mrs. Neubauer was born in Canada.

U.S. Resident Since 1907

Another Canadian who became an American Tuesday is William Thomas Bell. Bell has been residing in the United States since 1907. His present home is at 1911 Avenue K.

Mrs. Bernadette Georgette Blum, another war bride, comes from France. The petite blonde arrived in this country in October, 1946. As she took the oath this morning, her husband, E. L. Blum, stood behind her holding their month old son in his arms. The baby took the proceedings without a whimper of recognition that his mother had just severed her final ties with her native land, France.

From London, England, comes Mrs. Mary Isabel Alsup who now resides with her husband on Route 1, Lubbock. Like the other three young women, Mrs. Alsup was a war bride when she arrived in the U.S. in May, 1946.

Happy To Be Here

Mrs. Lena Anna Reeves, now living at Levelland, came to this country with her G. I. husband in September, 1946. She is very happy to be in this country, she says, away from all the fears and misery that have beset her native land, Italy.

The class in naturalization was conducted by O. W. Manney, examiner for the U. S. Department of Justice. He presented the petitions of the five applicants to the court and stated that:

"The backgrounds of each and every one of these applicants has been thoroughly checked. All are of good moral character and have subscribed to the principles of this government. All are free of any criminal record or subversive activity."

Waiting Period Shortened

Because each of the applicants had married an American citizen the preliminary of "first papers" was waived and the waiting period in residence was shortened from the required five years to two.

Presiding Judge Joseph B. Dooley, Amarillo, told the applicants that responsibilities go hand in hand with the pride of American citizenship.

"You have now renounced all ties with any other nation, state or potentate," Judge Dooley told them.

"The position of the United States in seeking world peace is well known. The U.S. is charged with a heavy obligation to hold back the tide of totalitarianism. All of our citizens, new and old alike, are obligated to play their individual parts in this destiny."

Legalistic Quibblings Threaten To Tarnish North Atlantic Pact

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

Discussion of the Atlantic pact in the Senate Foreign Affairs committee represents a typical American approach to great international problems.

Diplomats and senators alike feel the obligation to let the public know that it's affairs are being handled with searching care and deliberation. Sometimes this seems to deteriorate into an effort to convince ourselves that we aren't doing what we are doing

When it was decided that Britain needed a big victory loan, everything was agreed upon among the top leaders. Then it went to Congress, where Britain was so berated that much of the good will of the action was lost.

Quibblings Mar Pact

Congress approved the Marshall plan and then scared Europe to death with a last minute fight over the actual appropriation.

Now the United States has taken the lead in forming a historical alliance. But instead of standing as a firm and shining example of western unity it seems likely that the pact will be delivered all tarnished with legalistic quibblings. It would be unnatural if Europe does not wonder, if interpretation of the pact varies so much now, what loopholes will be sought in case of an emergency.

The alliance is designed as a firm warning that no nation can again gamble on conquering Europe without having to fight the United States. That is its military objective.

Has Other Objectives

The pact also has its economic objective. It is to assure Western Europe that its industrial and business life can be rebuilt without fear of loss by war.

A political objective is to convince Western Europeans that the United States is not trying to use them as buffers, as they have widely feared; that the U. S. no longer tries to ignore the fact that trouble in Europe is trouble in Kansas.

For the diplomats to say that the pact does not mean automatic war in case of aggression is merely to disguise the taste of the medicine. It is true, as the State department points out, that there is room for measures short of war in some possible cases; that there is no obligation to go to war until we have consulted and decided that war is necessary. Then, in this legalistic approach, we will be obligated to fight.

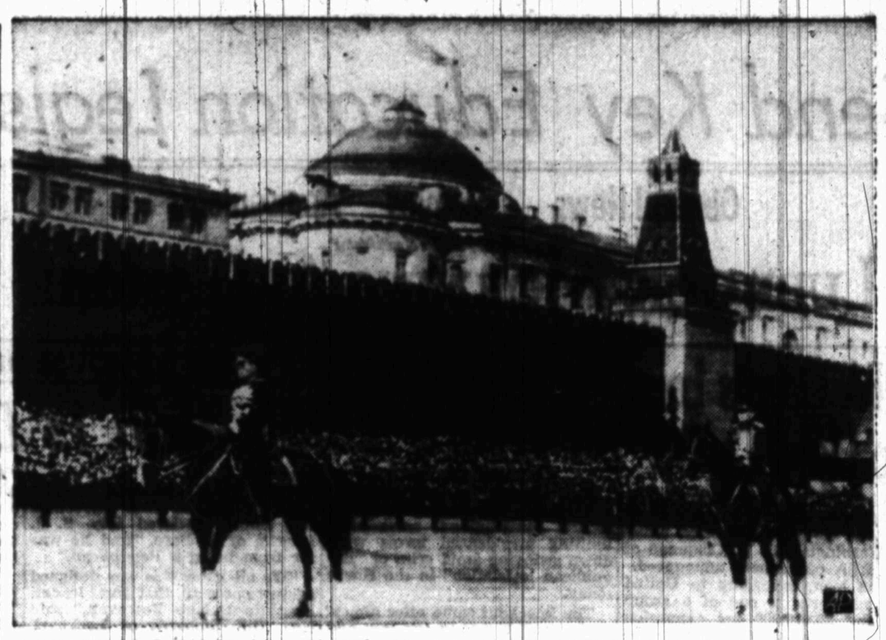

Four Die In Highway Mishap Near Burnet

BURNET, May 3 (AP) — Four persons were killed in a highway accident near Burnet yesterday at 9:45 p.m., Sheriff Wallace Riddell of Burnet county reported today.

Dead were Victor R. Hooten, 41, of Kempner; Randolph M. Maxey, 35, Hazel Burnette and Beatrice Thompson of Lampasas.

Riddell said the victims were traveling in a 1937 sedan and apparently were returning from Lake Buchanan when their car crashed into the rear end of a trailer truck. The truck was loaded with cedar and was parked beside the highway with flares around it.

When Pliny visited India 1,900 years ago he reported to Rome that he saw grasshoppers three feet long with legs strong enough to use as saws.

Film Star, Husband Discuss 'Triangle'

MESSINA, Sicily, May 3 (INS) Screen star Ingrid Bergman, her Italian director and her husband held a "lets-talk-it-out" shipboard meeting off Sicily today and a statement on the triangle situation is expected tomorrow.

This was the first time that the blonde star has confronted her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, since his arrival in Italy by plane last Wednesday.

In Hollywood yesterday a representative of Miss Bergman's studio said Dr. Lindstrom went to Italy to investigate "rumors" of a romance between the star and film director, Roberto Rossellini.

Statement Prepared

A spokesman for the Italian director said that a statement has been prepared but not yet approved. He added:

"As now framed the statement does not say anything much one way or the other."

The names of Miss Bergman and Rossellini were linked romantically for weeks before Lindstrom flew to Rome for the meeting aboard ship in the Tyrrhenian sea.

The three now are cruising and talking aboard the sloop San Lorenzo along the coast.

Miss Bergman and Rossellini, who have been making a film on the little Aeolian island of Stromboli north of Sicily, stopped production four days ago for the series of meetings with Lindstrom.

The Island of Madagascar now bans films showing "resistance, struggle for liberty, rebellion, robbery, gangsters and immoral subjects."

Dentist Advises Parents To Allow Children Few Sweets

HOUSTON, May 3 (AP)—If you can get your children to forego sweets they will have better teeth.

And if they have better teeth, the youngsters stand a much better chance of escaping severe ailments such as rheumatic fever and tuberculosis.

The advice came out today at the 69th annual meeting of the Texas State Dental society.

One of the speakers was Dr. Floyd E. Hogeboom, professor of dentistry for children at the university of Southern California School of Dentistry, who gave the advice.

Retail Grocers Group Schedules Barbecue

Lubbock district Retail Grocers association members, families and employes will attend a barbecue at 8 p.m. Thursday at the barbecue pit in Mackenzie State park in honor of new members, Clyde Stovall, president, said Tuesday.

A membership drive was conducted April 1-30. Last year, the Lubbock district organization won second in the nation and first in the state in membership campaigns among retail grocers' organizations.

Approximately 350 persons are expected to attend the barbecue.

Professor Of Landscape Art, Design Joins Tech Faculty

Elo Urbanovisky has recently joined the Texas Tech faculty as a professor of landscape art and design in the agriculture division.

Dean W. L. Stangel, head of the agriculture department, said Urbanovisky would divide his time between the classroom and landscaping of the campus.

His classroom work will be with students who have majored in some phase of plant industry and want to learn about beautifying some of the surroundings they may come in contact with after leaving college.

Urbanovisky will devote his time with campus landscaping to maintaining as well as improving the campus as a whole. He is from Dallas.

Fort Worth Man Is Loser In Collision With Armored Truck

FORT WORTH, May 3. (AP)—Authorities' worst fears were realized after an armored truck loaded with money bags and a car collided here today.

Some money was discovered to be missing.

But it wasn't part of the truck's load. Charles Fincher, 30, driver of the car, reported someone took his billfold.

OLD AGE DISEASES INCREASE

Higher Death Rate To Accompany Longer Life Expectancy In U.S.

BY MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN ANTONIO, May 3—Current increases in life expectancy are to be accompanied by an upward trend in the general death rate, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said today.

Degenerative diseases inherent in old age become greater problems as each year is added to the life span, he explained.

Cox spoke before the public health section of the eighty-second annual convention of the State Medical association of Texas.

Health Bill Assailed

Dr. Tate Miller, Dallas, association president, opened the convention this morning by reminding the 2,400 doctors that, whether they like it or not, the medical profession now is involved in politics.

He mentoned problems now existing both in Austin and in Washington—assistance in bringing about efficient enforcement of the state basic science law and mobilization against the national compulsory health bill.

Miller said extreme effort is being expended in Washington to break down the national medical structure which has taken generations to build.

"The compulsory health bill already has been presented to Congress. We gird our loins for another conflict . . . it probably would be futile to hope that President Truman might later see the light, when he apparently is unable to perceive light."

Death Rate Drops

Cox said the 1946 general death rate of 8.6 per 1,000 population was an al-time low, probably never to be equalled.

Quoting statistics showing improvement in the number of lives saved from such diseases as measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, poliomyelitis and malaria, Cox said the gains are overshadowed by increases in heart diseases.

The state health officer said a baby born in Texas in 1900 had a life expectancy of 49 years. The figure had climbed to 59 years in 1937 and to 66 years in 1947.

Diabetes Tests Planned

Two nationally known physicians, speaking at general sessions of the convention, discussed recent development in research on diabetes, rheumatism and arthritis.

Dr. Cecil Striker, Cincinnati, Ohio, said plans are underway to launch nationwide programs for mass blood-sugar tests to locate unknown diabetics.

The tests compare, he said, with the mass X-ray programs which are being used in the detection of tuberculosis.

Diabetes, Striker said, is the nation's number 8 public health enemy.

Smyer High School Student To Take Part In League Meet

SMYER, May 3. (Special)—Miss Sue Knight, Smyer High school extemporaneous speaker, will represent the West Texas district at the Texas Interscholastic league meet Friday in Austin.

Miss Knight won over other speakers of this district at the recent Interscholastic League meet held on Texas Tech campus in Lubbock.

She will be accompanied on the trip to Austin by Mrs. W. R. Maskew, head of Smyer High school department of English, superintendent of schools V. F. Hickman said today.

Federal Court Hears $10,000 Damage Suit

Motion to strike part of the plaintiff's plea in the $10,000 damage suit of Clyde Brown, Levelland, versus the Continental Bus System, was denied by Judge Joseph B. Dooley in Federal court yesterday afternoon.

The suit arose from an accident on July 12, 1947 in which B. C. Brown, 18, son of Clyde Brown, was killed and three others injured.

The accident occurred between Jacksboro and Olney in Young county when the car in which young Brown was a passenger collided with a Continental bus. The driver of the car, William Leeper, Hockley county, Robert E. Fowler, Texas Tech student and Genevieve Kimbrill received minor injuries.

The suit is being brought in the name of Clyde Brown, Mrs. Thelma Crites, mother of the deceased, and her husband Harold Crites. Hugh Anderson is the attorney for the plaintiffs and Holloway, Crowley and Hudson, Fort Worth, represent the defendant.

Beauty Operators Clinic Is Scheduled Here May 28-29

Hair stylists Lee Self of El Paso and Vernon Isabell of Fort Worth, will be special guests at a beauty operators clinic set for May 28-29.

Plans for the clinic and a dance to be held in conjunction, were made Monday evening at a meeting of the Texas Accredited association of Beauty Culture in the Hilton hotel.

The association also selected delegates and alternates to attend the state convention in San Antonio June 12-13.

Delegates are Mrs. T. D. Julian of Arlene's Beauty school, Mrs. Maurine Sims of Chic Beauty shop, Mrs. Ester Adams of Dixie's House of Beauty, Mrs. Orene Hocker of Dunlap's Beauty salon, and Mrs. W. A. Curry of Arlene's Beauty school.

Alternates are Mrs. Mary Helen Millington of Helen's Beauty shop, Mrs. E. M. Hughs, state beauty shop inspector, Mrs. Fay Sims of Dunlap's Beauty salon, and Miss Ella Maye Butler of the Hilton Beauty service.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Warning Service On Tornadoes Is Urged By Louisiana Solon

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—A tornado warning service was suggested today by Rep. Brooks (D-La).

He's taken it up with the federal Weather bureau and is hopeful that something can be worked out to warn residents of tornado areas at least when conditions are such that a howling windstorm might strike.

After a conference with officials of the agency, Brooks said they had agreed to see what could be done, at least on an experimental basis.

Panic Is Feared

"Maybe they can't tell just where a tornado would strike," he said, "but if they could just alert people whenever tornadoes are possible it would help," Brooks told a reporter.

Brooks said the forecasting service hesitated somewhat at predicting tornadoes for fear of causing panic among wide areas.

"But I favor calling a spade a spade," said the representative.

Tornadoes frequently occur in the south central and west central states Brooks said, when a cold front advances from the northwest. The weather bureau, he said, knows when such a front is advancing and knows in general its extent and direction and with some study might be able to give accurate and timely warnings.

A monument was erected by the Mormons at Salt Lake City for the gulls which answered their prayers for an end to a grasshopper scourge.

U.S. BACKS BRITISH PROPOSAL

Britain Offers Plan To UN For Disposition Of Italian Colonies

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 3. Great Britain submitted to the United Nations today its proposal for the disposition of Italy's pre-war colonial empire and won American support.

British delegate Hector McNeil gave to the 58-member political committee a proposal which advocated:

1. Independence for all of Libya in ten years if the General Assembly, upon reviewing the situation at that time, should find that the inhabitants are ready for it.

Trusteeship Urged

2. British-United Nations trusteeship over strategic Cyrenaica (the eastern part of Libya) during the interim ten-year period.

3. A five-power commission, consisting of Britain, the United States, France, Egypt and Italy, to make recommendations for the disposition of Tripolitania, in western Libya, and to report to the next session of the General Assembly in September.

4. Incorporation of Eritrea, except for the western province, into Ethiopia, and that western Eritrea be annexed to the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

U. S. Supports Plan

5. That Italian Somaliland be placed under the UN trusteeship system, with Italy as the administering authority.

The United States immediately supported the British proposal. American delegate John Foster Dulles characterized it as "a practical solution" of the Italian colonial problem.

Dulles said he hoped the United States will be able to extend the Marshall plan "to some extent" to the areas involved.

'Wife Beating' Substituted For Burglary Charge In Dallas Case

DALLAS, May 3 (INS)—A Dallas judge confronted with one of those ticklish domestic relations cases handed down a decision "a la Solomon."

The defendant was arrested and charged with burglary when he was caught trying to sell a suitcase full of women's clothes. The charges were dropped when it was discovered that the clothes belonged to the man's wife.

Police charged him instead with wife-beating when the woman claimed her husband had beaten her and left her locked in a room.

The judge, Justice of the Peace W. E. Richburg, said:

"They'll probably be in good humor again by Monday. Just hold him in jail over the weekend and she'll be down to pay his fine."

BUGS IRONED OUT

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.)—Amateur radio operators tracked down two "mystery stations" that have been interfering with television broadcasts in this area. The "stations" were electric germ killers which, acting like transmitters, sent out a signal in the television wave bands. The owners of the devices promised to quit using them.

Munich Conferences Not Total Failures French Official Says

NEW YORK, May 3 (U.P.)—Ten years after the Munich conference, where the appeasement of Nazi Germany reached high tide, it shaped up today in the view of a veteran diplomat as neither "all good nor all bad but a unique hodgepodge of the two.

"It necessitated too many and too painful sacrifices for us to congratulate ourselves upon it; it brought too many advantages for us to recall only its grievous aspects."

That is the appraisal in the light of a decade of history of Andre Francois-Poncet, French ambassador to Berlin from 1931 to 1938. Those years which saw the rise of Nazism and Adolf Hitler he regards as "The Fateful Years," and that is the title of his book in which he sketches his tenure in Berlin. It is published today by Carcourt, Brace and Co. ($4).

Now political adviser to the French military governor in Germany and scheduled to be civil governor under a forthcoming set-up in western Germany, Francois-Poncet had a ringside seat at this epic drama. Being a frequent sojourner in Germany since boyhood, a fluent speaker of German and a to notch diplomat, he knew how to make the most of it.

Full Story Told

While short on now-it-can-be-told revelations, the book is an excellent job as a refresher for those who got the story from the daily papers or as an original presentation for those who may hear the word Munich without envisaging a toothy Englishman with an umbrella or hearing the words, "Peace in our time."

Francois-Poncet himself sat in on the Munich conference, which he regarded as foredoomed in its main purpose before it even began.

"It was dominated by the efforts of the British government, which was determined, under Neville Chamberlain's leadership, to keep the empire out of war at any price," he says.

And the way it was conducted contributed nothing to its success. Chamberlain, Hitler, Mussolini and Daladier glowered and mauled words and "no one presided at this session, and there was no methodical agenda. By want of directive, the discusion proved difficult, confused and interminably long."

But finally the job of surgery, or butchery, was done, and Czechoslovakia was carved up. The carving settled nothing, and Hitler, "breaking his word, yielded to temptation and to his evil genius, and on March 15, 1939, marched into Prague. That day he sealed his doom."

The author sums up the advantages of the Munich conference in two questions:

"From that day forward Britain resolved in her mind to crush this man, cost what it might. Would she have seen this so clearly, would her determination have been as firm, would she have shown such indomitable valor in the trials of war if Neville Chamberlain had not previously reached the extreme limits of conciliation?

"Would Roosevelt have been able to reverse public opinion in the United States and totally support the cause of the European democracies if he had not realized at the outset that France and Britain had gone to all lengths in order to spare the world the scourge of war?

"The agreement afforded us a year of respite at a moment when neither France nor Britain judged herself to be sufficiently prepared for war."

HAND-BUILT DEFENSES—Pressed into service to erect pill boxes and blockhouses for the city's defense, residents of Chinkiang, China, form a chain to pass blocks of hard-packed earth to workers. Danny Kaye Injured In Auto Accident On English Highway

LONDON, May 3. (INS)—Danny Kaye suffered several bruised ribs in an automobile accident today shortly after George Bernard Shaw told him "your face is your fortune."

Kaye was enroute back to London from Ayot St. Lawrence, the countryside village where Shaw lives, when the accident occurred.

The American taped his ribs and appeared at London's Palladium, where he has been a huge success, and a favorite of the royal family.

Kaye put on his usual act, jumping about the stage and throwing his arms over his head in pantomine, despite his obvious pain.

Hearing Opens Today In Wisconsin Slaying

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 3 (INS)—A preliminary court hearing for Milton Babich tomorrow may develop into an all-out battle over his confession that he killed 16-year-old Patricia Birmingham.

Babich is scheduled to be arraigned on a first degree murder charge before Judge Harvey L. Neelin in district court at 3 p.m.

Arthur Richter, chief defense counsel, said he would fight to block the admission of Babich's unsigned confession if the state should attempt to introduce it in court.

Surprise Move Hinted

He added that without the confession the state may not be able to produce enough evidence to warrant binding the youth over to municipal court for trial.

Richter claims the confession was obtained in violation of Babich's constitutional rights. District Attorney William J. McCauley has denied the charge.

McCauley may attempt a surprise move by abandoning the confession for purposes of tomorrow's hearing and introducing other evidence gathered since Patricia's body was recovered from the Milwaukee river April 30.

This would include the .22 caliber murder gun recovered from the Milwaukee river bottom Monday.

Blaze In Home Claims Seven Persons In West Virginia Town

HINTON, W. Va., May 3 (U.P.)—Seven persons, including three small children, died in a fire of unknown origin which destroyed a small frame home here early today.

The victims were:

Mrs. Anna June Deeds, 24, her two children, Drema Kay and Hazel Joyce, 6; Mr. and Mrs. James Ellison and their three month old daughter, and Homer Tincher, 30.

Hinton Fire Capt. John Lively said the victims were sleeping in the same room of the one and one-half story frame home in the residential section of the city.

Beaumont Music Shop Burglar Steals Only Classical Records

BEAUMONT, May 3 (INS)—A Beaumont burglar may have showed poor manners, but he certainly had good taste.

The thief broke into the Neches Record shop and carted off 33 albums of records—all classical.

His tastes ran to fast moving symphonies, concertos and sonatas. The operator of the shop said the burglar left five albums on the display case—but they were all slow sellers.

Federal Agent Tells Court Of Shadowing Accused Girl Spy

By JAMES LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 3—An FBI agent testified today that G-men trailed Judith Coplon on at least five occasions when she made no contact with her Russian friend, Valentin Gubitchev.

FBI agent Richard Brennan made the statement while testifying at the girl's spy trial in Washington under surprise questioning by defense attorney Archibald Palmer.

Palmer said the purpose of his interrogation was to show that the government avoided telling the jury about the times when Miss Coplon was shadowed without result.

Maps Are Shown

This move by the ex-government girl's counsel came after Palmer failed in an attempt to bar FBI maps of Miss Coplon's Manhattan interludes with Gubitchev as evidence in the trial.

Palmer accused the government of "outrageous" and prejudicial tactics in exhibiting to the jury detailed maps of Judith's movements with Gubitchev, to whom she is alleged to have transmitted official United States secrets.

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves peremptorily overruled the defense objection to the maps as "wholly without merit." Palmer took exception to the ruling, repeated that this objection was legally sound and stirred the judge's ire. Reeves snapped again:

"There's no merit in it."

Girl Is Trailed

The maps charted the course followed by Miss Coplon and Gubitchev after they met in New York Jan. 14, the date on which the government charges the girl planned to pass espionage data to the Russian.

Leo Gauthier, FBI map expert, said the maps and others covering meetings between Miss Coplon and Gubitchev on Feb. 18 and March 4 were prepared with the aid of 24 G-men who shadowed the couple in a wholesale use of cloak-and-dagger technique.

Brennan testified under Palmer's questioning that Jan. 19 he saw Miss Coplon leave the Piccadilly hotel in New York with "a man who was not Gubitchev." The FBI agent added that he did not know who the man was.

The G-man also said that Jan. 20 and Jan. 21 he shadowed Miss Coplon from her parents' home in Brooklyn to Manhattan and that on neither of these days did she meet Gubitchev or attempt to pass documents to anyone.

Russian Free On Bail

Palmer asserted that the government purposely neglected to tell the jury about the days on which there were no Coplon-Gubitchev meetings.

Prosecutor John M. Kelley protested that Palmer was guilty of "impropriety" in making such a statement and the judge ordered the defense lawyer's remark stricken from the record.

The Russian, free on $100,000 bail pending his New York trial on espionage conspiracy charges, has been given court permission to make the trip to Washington, but neither defense not prosecution showed any eagerness to call him.

Palmer, who has asserted that Miss Coplon's only interest in Gubitchev was a romantic one, was asked whether he wanted to question the Russian. He replied:

"What do we want with him? She was through with him when they parted."

Kelley indicated that the government has no burning desire to quiz Gubitchev at the present trial. Miss Coplon and Gubitchev will stand trial together in New York when the Washington proceedings end.

Texas Groups Warned To Use Caution In Extending Credit

DALLAS, May 3. (AP)—The president of the Associated Credit Bureaus of America today warned Texas credit managers that current business conditions suggest caution in extending credit.

The speaker was E. Dewitt of Seattle.

The credit managers met in conjunction with the Retail Merchants Association of Texas and allied groups.

Area Scout Training Camporee Set Here; 350 Are Expected

A Plainsman district Scout Training camporee will be conducted Friday and Saturday in Mackenzie State park and is to be attended by 25 troops in Lubbock county, W. R. Postma, Boy Scout executive, announced.

Approximately 350 boys are expected to attend. A Friday night program will be open to the public.

The camporee will be conducted in the area east of the barbecue pit. It will open after boys get out of school Friday afternoon.

Eagle Award Planned

Highlight of the camporee will be the outdoor Eagle presentation at 8 p.m. Friday when the highest award in Scouting, the Eagle Scout award, will be awarded to W. G. McMillan, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McMillan of Levelland highway. In order to win the award McMillan had qualified as a life scout and in addition has won 21 merit badges. He is assistant scoutmaster of Troop 3, sponsored by the First Baptist church.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president emeritus of Texas Technological college and a member of the executive board of the South Plains council, Boy Scouts of America, will present the award.

Royal Furgeson, district advancement chairman, will have charge of the Court of Honor, in which several Star and Life awards also will be presented.

The camporee will break up shortly after lunch Saturday.

FARMING—NOT MODERN ART—To a passenger in a plane 1,000 feet of an Iowa field, this pattern appears to be something out of modern painting. But to the plowman (small black dot at edge of white center strip) it's contour plowing and insurance against erosion on his hilly farm at the edge of town. Hike In Private Home Building Is Forecast

CHICAGO, May 3. (AP)—Thirteen per cent more privately built new homes are planned this year than in 1948.

Most of them will be in the under $10,000 classes and they'll represent an average six per cent decline in building costs.

This forecast was made in a survey today by Practical Builder, building industry magazine.

However, the publication said while "builders in Alabama, Georgia, and Louisiana consistently reported a greater number of 'starts' in new homes as compared to last year, the rest of the country indicated fewer of the same 'starts'." It said the survey showed a "more conservative approach to spring home building activity."

The survey showed a reduction in building costs ranging from five to 15 per cent, with six per cent the general figure.

Most of the builders said the bulk of their houses would be in the $7,500-$8,200 group.

Cost reductions, the survey showed, are resulting from greater productivity by labor; increased supply of most materials; firmer price quotations on products and sub-contractor work; more engineering and pre-planning; a general improvement in methods "because there is more time to study the job."

SECOND VICTIM CLAIMED

HENDERSON, May 3 (AP)—Newel McCormack, 61, Long Branch, Tex., died in a hospital here today of injuries suffered in a three-car wreck at Mt. Enterprise last Friday night. Winifred Lagrone, Deadwood, Tex., was killed.

Mexican Peso Continues To Lose Value In Ratio To U. S. Dollar

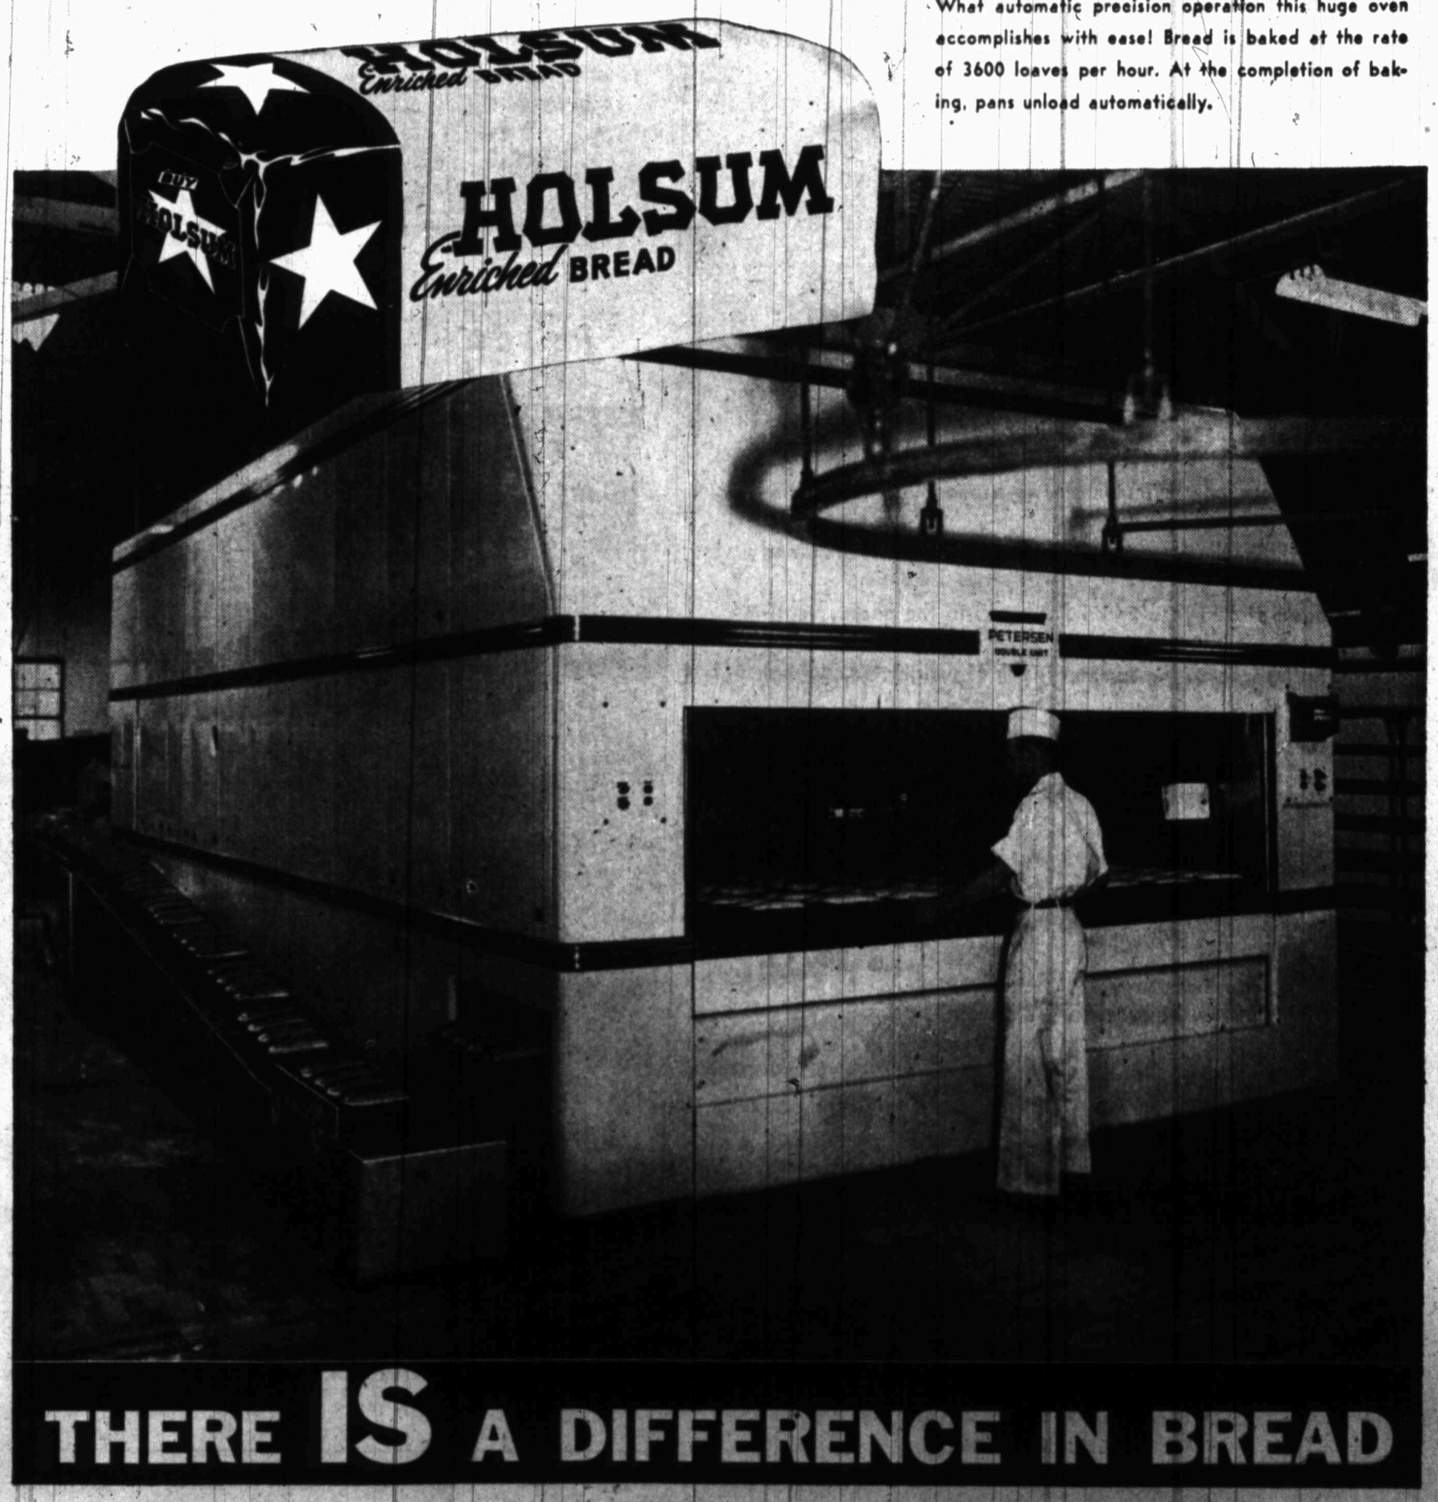

MEXICO CITY, May 3. (AP)—The peso dropped again today, slightly more than 13 cents to the dollar.

The market opened at 7.21-7.25 and closed at 7.40-7.45. This is a drop of seven per cent since last Tuesday when the peso began sinking. It was quoted then at 6.97.

Voters Approve Reorganization Of Government, Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
(American Institute of Public Opinion)

PRINCETON, N. J., May 3 — Cutting out waste and inefficiency in the operation of the Federal government is considered a vital need by nearly half of the voters questioned in a national poll by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

The higher the education level of the voter, the more important he thinks it is to do something about streamlining the Federal government.

That is indicated in interviewing on a series of questions dealing with the report of the Herbert Hoover Commission which recently completed an exhaustive 20-month search for ways to streamline the executive banch of the government.

The poll was designed to find out whether voters look upon the need for reform as something vital and pressing, or something of only moderate importance, or even something that could just as well wait.

The results follow:

"How important do you think it is that something be done about reorganizing the government in Washington—very important, fairly important, or not too important?"

Very important	44%
Fairly important	17
Not too important	15
No opinion	24

The vote according to education level is shown below:

	College	High School	Grade School
Very important	66%	46%	36%
Fairly important	17	19	16
Not too important	10	15	16
No opinion	7	20	32

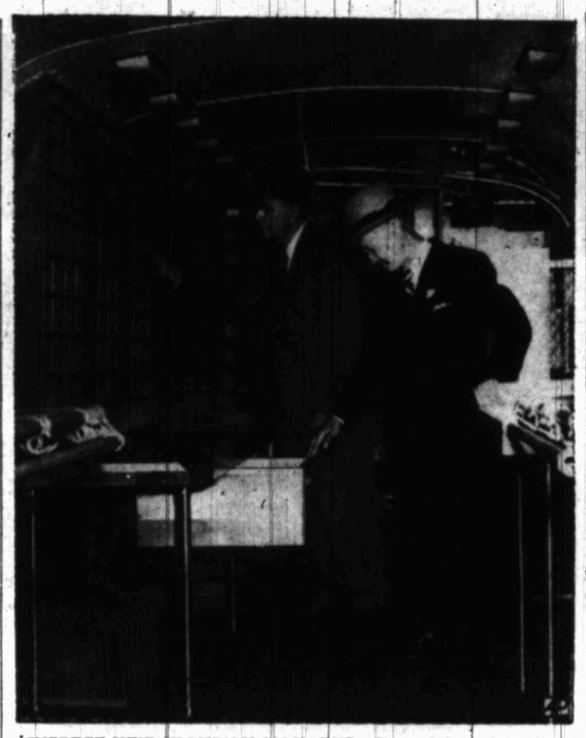

The Hoover Commission recommendations would, if put into effect, save several billion dollars over a period of years in the cost of running the government. The Commission was set up in June, 1947 by Congress and began its work in July, 1947.

Cutting Expenses

The Hoover report came out at a time when many of the nation's taxpayers think government expenses could be substantially cut. In a poll reported last month on the question, "Is there anything the Federal government spends money for now which you think should be reduced or cut out? What?" the largest single number said there are "too many bureaus and employes, and too much waste and duplication" in the government.

In testing public attitudes toward the Hoover Report the Institute has used a battery of questions to find out the number of voters familiar with the work of the Commission and what they think of its recommendations.

The findings will be reported in a second article on Friday.

Zionist Group To Hold Dinner Here Tonight

Lubbock Zionist district will hold a dinner at 7:30 o'clock tonight at Phil's Ranch house in celebration of the first anniversary of the establishment of the state of Israel.

Julius Israel of Houston, executive director of the Southwest Zionist region, will be principal speaker. Rabbi Julius Kerman of Lubbock, president of the Lubbock Zionist district, will be toastmaster.

Miss Ann Eskin of Lubbock and Misses Reva and Geraldine Steinberg of Plainview will participate in the program.

The anniversary celebration will be observed today in many other places throughout the world.

Lubbock Baptist Pastor Speaks At Optimist Club Luncheon

Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor of the First Baptist church, was featured speaker at Tuesday's weekly Optimist club luncheon in Hotel Lubbock.

Dr. Grant, who recently returned from a brief preaching mission to the Hawaiian islands, discussed the geography, history, economics and customs of the islands.

Two members of the local Junior Optimist club made speeches in the Lubbock finals of the annual Optimist International speech contest for boys. Dale Wooley, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wooley of 2602 N. Third, and Jordan Curington, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Curington of 311 Ave. X, spoke on "Youth Looks Forward to Its Civic Responsibilities." The winner of the local contest is to be announced at Thursday night's regular Junior Optimist meeting, and will later compete in the District 7 finals at Oklahoma City.

Ivan L. Little, J. L. Upshaw and J. W. Reid were judges for the speaking contest.

Ernest O. Stewart, jr., made a brief talk urging full cooperation of the Optimists in the current Cleanup, Paintup, Fixup campaign.

One new member, George Spinning, was introduced.

G. C. Stewart presided at the luncheon, with invocation by M. L. Shepherd. About 65 members and guests attended.

Mexican Customs Service Bans Import Of Certain U.S. Goods

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico, May 3. (AP)—No longer may residents of Mexican border towns buy such things as furniture, radios and refrigerators from Texas cities across the Rio Grande.

Chief Clerk Luis J. Aragon of the Nuevo Laredo customs service said today that a ban on such imports went back into effect on May 1.

Stores and theaters were ordered to close early, in Italy, to save electricity.

Methodist Church To Hold 'All Family' Program Tonight

All Family night will be observed at 7 o'clock tonight at Asbury Methodist church with a recreation program, a meal on the lawn and a program in the church auditorium.

The event will be in observance of Family week, said Dr. C. A. Bickley, pastor. A motion picture about the home will be shown and songs about home will be sung.

On the planning committee are Arch Harper, Mrs. Uel D. Crosby, Earl Harris, Jack Christian, Mrs. L. D. Marshall, Gene Horton and Charles Kelly.

On the recreation program, some of the families will participate in stunts.

Convicted Slayer Of TCU Dean Reverses Story Second Time

CLEBURNE, May 3 (AP) — Arthur Clayton Hester, convicted slayer of Dr. John Lord, twice has changed his trial testimony that Dr. Lord was a homosexual.

Waiting in jail here to be taken to the state prison where he faces a 50-year prison sentence, Hester yesterday said Dr. Lord was not a sex pervert. Hours later he reversed and said, "Dr. Lord was a homosexualist, just like I said to start with. My statement today was untrue. I made it because I thought it would help me."

Convicted Of Murder

Hester was convicted last Saturday of the bludgeon killing of Dr. Lord, 70, dean of the graduate school at Texas Christian university in Fort Worth. Dr. Lord had given Hester a home.

The handsome, often jaunty youth of 18 appeared voluntarily in the office of District Attorney John A. James yesterday. He had asked Sheriff Houston Walling to take him there so he could "clear some things up."

In an interview with Jack Proctor, Cleburne newspaper man, Hester said, "I wanted to clear the name of Dr Lord because I really liked the old man."

In his signed statement to James, Hester said:

Fear Prompts Move

"I was afraid Mr James would prosecute me again if I said I had lied during the trial. Dr. Lord was not a homosexual as I testified to and not at any time did he ever have an unnatural sexual relation with me or conduct himself in any manner that would lead me to believe him a homosexual."

Then he said to Proctor, "My life was at stake; I had to frame it."

Later, after questioning by the district attorney, Hester reversed himself the second time.

During his trial Hester said he beat the educator to death because he failed to keep a promise to lend him the family car if he would submit to an unnatural act.

He indicated these two factors were involved in the slaying on March 8.

Hester was arrested in Los Angeles March 12, after driving and hitchhiking there from the Lord home near Burleson, a short distance south of Fort Worth.

BARBECUE AND PROGRAM SLATED

Floyd County Soil Conservation Tour To Be Conducted Friday

FLOYDADA, May 3 (Special)—Several hundred farmers, businessmen and others interested in soil conservation are expected to take part in the annual Floyd County Soil conservation tour slated to begin here Friday morning.

The tour, which will begin at 9 a. m. at the courthouse here is sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Floyd County Board of Development to acquaint residents of the county with conservation methods being practiced by farmers and ranchers.

Barbecue Is Slated

Th group leaving from Floydada will join a similar group at Lockney for a tour of farms in the northeast part of the county, with a noon halt at Lockview Farms.

A barbecue sponsored by the chamber of commerce and Lockview farms will be served, after which C. B. Spencer, of Fort Worth, soil conservation expert with the Cottonseed Crushers association, will speak. He is expected to outline many of the better soil conservation practices used in the Southwest and make some recommendations for the Floyd county area.

The tour will be completed during the afternoon with visits to several farms to the northwest and west of Lockney. The group will be dismissed at 4 p. m.

To Present Awards

Conservation practices to be observed on the tour include mixed pasture grasses, dryland terracing, wheat variety tests, irrigation systems, irrigation efficiency tests, winter legumes, bindweed control, crop residue management, and fertilizers.

Edd Johnson, Floydada businessman, said that awards would be made at Lockview Farms to 4-H club and FFA boys who are adjudged winners in a county-wide window display contest held in connection with the tour.

Johnson said that judging was completed Monday afternoon and that winners would be announced during the barbecue. The Floydada Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored the window contests and will make cash awards.

Four Plead Guilty In County Court

Eleven cases naming four defendants were disposed of by pleas of guilty Tuesday afternoon in county court.

Waymon Bush, 53, a negro, however, waited until a jury had been selected before he changed his plea to guilty of liquor law violation. He was fined $300 and assessed 60 days in county jail. The jail sentence, Judge Walter Davies said by his judgment, will be suspended during the defendant's good behavior.

S. M. McCann, 44, of Slaton, was assessed 60 days in jail and costs, but accredited with six days' jail time spent since his arrest, in each of five cases charging liquor law violation. The assessments will run concurrently.

A similar assessment in each of four liquor cases was the assessment naming Arthur (Snuffy) Hart, 58, a negro.

Samuel A. Long, 32, a negro, was fined $100 and costs for illegally carrying a pistol. Long shot Elonzo Clewis, another negro, early Sunday after he had been cut by Clewis with a knife, officials said they had been informed. Neither was seriously injured.

Braniff Airline Asks Route To West Coast

WASHINGTON, May 3 (AP)—Officials of Braniff Airways told the Civil Aeronautics board today that their company can provide through one-carrier service from Texas to the West Coast with maximum efficiency and minimum cost.

Charles E. Beard of Dallas, vice-president, said the airline has studied demand for such service from the Southwest, to California and feels it should be initiated in the public interest.

Oscar Crane, also of Dallas and assistant treasurer of the company, told examiner Earl Cox that Braniff could operate over the proposed route and show a profit.

The two testified at a hearing before Cox on the applications of several lines wanting to establish through one-carrier service from the South and Southwest to the West Coast.

Officials of Delta air lines are expected to testify tomorrow.

Lubbock Student Is State Essay Winner

Kara Sam Dunn, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Sam G. Dunn of Levelland road, has been named winner of the 1949 Texas Junior Classical League essay contest, held in Waco last Saturday.

The essay was of research on "The Bases of Roman Glory," and all Latin students in Lubbock Senior High school wrote research essays. The best essays were selected by Mrs. Novelle Newsom, Latin teacher in Lubbock High school. Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education, chose Miss Dunn's as the winning essay in the group. It then was submitted to the state contest.

Latin clubs in Texas whose members comprise the Junior Classical League sent delegates to the Waco meeting and submitted essays and scrapbooks for judging. Delegates from Lubbock included Jean Shelly, Theola Leonard, and Bobbie June Mitchell.

Miss Mitchell won first place in the essay contest last year.

The scrapbook of Gens Togata, Latin club of Lubbock High school, won third place in the scrapbook contest. The book was dedicated to Mrs. Newsom. Marion Gill was art editor.

At the Waco meeting, Miss Mitchell served on the committee which voted for state officers. Miss Leonard gave a report on the local club's activities during the past school year.

Burial will be in the Tech Memorial cemetery under the direction of Plains Funeral home.

Pallbearers will be Ed Brown, Clyde Tatum, Oscar White, J. H. Crisp, Jim Crisp, and Earl Ince, sr.

Levelland Check Case Ordered Continued By Federal Judge

Federal Judge Joseph B. Dooley Tuesday continued the case of the Union Supply company versus the Levelland Country club, the Levelland State bank and the First National bank of Levelland.

The supply company is suing to recover $5,650, the amount of a check made payable to the supply company which was given to a former supply company employe by the country club.

The supply company says the former employe deposited the check in his personal account in the Levelland State Bank.

The check was drawn on the First National bank of Levelland.

The supply company claims the banks failed to exercise proper care in handling the check. The Levelland State bank contends the supply company failed to hold its former employe to a proper accounting.

Search Continues For Teacher, Wife Missing At Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, May 3 (AP)—Search continued today for a Corpus Christi teacher and his wife missing since Sunday when they went fishing in Corpus Christi bay.

John Paul Kelly, 40, teacher at a local junior high school, and his wife, about 36, set out in a 12-foot skiff. Their absence wasn't learned until their son, David, 12, notified school officials yesterday that "Mother and Dad didn't come home."

TO GRADUATES:

It Could Be Worse!

THE results of a survey reported this week were not necessary to tell the typical college senior that jobs now are less plentiful for graduates than during the war and the post-war boom years. Most of them know this condition to be true from personal investigation.

But they should not allow themselves to imagine the condition is peculiar to their particular group. Most of them are sufficiently realistic to appreciate that the situation applies to nearly all others seeking jobs, to those wanting better positions and to the businesses which provide, or would like to provide, employment.

Nearly everyone is in the same boat in the matter of employment. The time has passed when almost anyone can obtain a job for the asking and hold it almost without regard to such considerations as competence, experience, diligence and general conscientiousness. The time is in the past when almost any sort of business operated in almost any way will return a big profit on the investment. The customer again has become the boss — and without customers there cannot be employers; without employers, there can't be jobs.

It is more difficult for the typical individual in any group to find a job than at any time during the past eight or 10 years. It is more difficult to hold a job.

But the employment outlook is far better than during the 10-year span prior to 1939. Probably it is as good, if not better, than at any time in history except during the war and post-war booms. College graduates and others usually managed to place themselves sooner or later with varying degrees of satisfaction before the boom periods.

Those who graduate this year will, in the vast majority of cases, fare equally or better than their fathers. Finding the right job merely may take more time, advancements probably will come a little slower, and then to those who earn and deserve them.

Rural Mail Boxes

ONLY a few years ago rural mail boxes were some of the unsightliest objects along most roadsides. The condition has been improved a great deal, but much more could be done.

So this week has been designated Rural Mail Box Improvement week under the sponsorship, at the request of the Postoffice department, of the ladies' auxiliary of the National Rural Letter Carriers' association. Mrs. L. H. Thomas, of Ralls, is Texas committeewoman of the national auxiliary.

The self-interest of residents on RFD routes for co-operating in the observance is obvious. Boxes which conform to standards obtainable from any postoffice, or carrier, help speed deliveries and are a safeguard against damage to, and loss of, rural mail.

It is to be hoped that all persons with unsightly, insecure boxes will improve those conditions this week. The rural carriers will appreciate it. Improved service is sure to result from widespread cooperation. And it will be a deserved gesture of appreciation to ladies of the auxiliary for their interest and efforts in sponsoring the observance.

Even with the latest Federal restrictions on credit, it's easier to go into debt than it is to get out of it.

Down Memory Lane

(Taken from the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche, May 4, 1928.)

Formal opening of the Asbury Methodist church, formerly the Nineteenth Street Methodist church, will be held next Sunday, it was announced yesterday by the Rev. G. P. McCollum, pastor. The opening will mark the completion of the first unit of the congregation's new $10,000 building.

The dedication sermon at the morning service will be preached by Rev. D. B. Doak, presiding elder of the Lubbock district. The day's program will also include, Sunday school at 9:45, opening prayer by Rev. H. K. Monroe, sacrament administered by Rev. D. C. Ross, orchestra numbers, singing by Miss Beulah Dunn.

The church was formerly located at the corner of Nineteenth street and Avenue J, the first unit being built at the intersection of Avenue T and Twentieth street. The next addition will be a Sunday school annex.

Mrs. Elbert Smith and Mrs. John Coey are to serve as the reception committee Sunday, while Charles Brock, Elbert Smith and John Pagan will act as ushers.

With His Dragon Behind

Island Of Escape

By HUGH LAWRENCE NELSON
Distributed By NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Four lonely women go to Speare Island on a fishing boat, the Shrapnitte. One of them, Bea Cosgrove, is told by Miguel Oak, skipper of the boat, not to go. He gives her a nickelplated pistol to draw attention from the automatic which his trained eyes see concealed under her clothing. On the island Bea, along with Agnes Firth, Mabel Jones and Lilly Warren, are greeted by Henry Gough Harding, owner of the island. Each of the women carries a letter from the Lonely Hearts' Matrimonial and Correspondence Club as credentials.)

II

Henry Gough Harding's close-cropped hair, either gray or blond, fitted his massive skull like a cap. His deeply tanned skin, his bushy black eyebrows emphasized the pale, living blue of his deep-set eyes.

Bea watched his long fingers stir through the contents of the four bags. He stopped poking, fished out the tiny revolver.

"Which of you felt the need for this?"

"It's mine," Bea said. She felt a rush of color to her face as he stood there studying her, making no attempt to hide his amusement.

"And you are?"

"And you are?"

He picked up her letter. "So, Miss Bea Cosgrove. Spinster. Schoolteacher for 20 years. Hair dark. Eyes hazel. I would have said green. Weight 125. Height five feet five. Age 40. Excellent character, moral, trustworthy and dependable. Hmmm." He looked at the gun again, tossed it in a short arc out into the water. "So."

He picked up another letter. "Mrs. Lilly Warren."

"Here," Lilly said.

"So I see. Mrs. Warren, widow. Private secretary. Hair natural red. Eyes black. That's interesting. Weight 115. Height five feet four. Age 41. Well spoken of by last employer. Vivacious and gay."

Lilly smiled at him.

He picked up another letter. "Mrs. Mabel Jones."

The gaunt woman raised her hand silently.

"Mrs. Jones, also a widow. Housewife. Hair brown to gray. Eyes brown. Weight 110. Height five feet nine. Age 44. Recommended as a quiet devout, hard-working woman by pastor of local church.

Red splotched Agnes Firth's cheeks as she waited for Harding to begin on the last letter. "Miss Agnes Firth, spinster. Social service worker. Hair blond. Eyes blue. Weight 118. Height five feet three. Age 43. Excellent record at social work until her resignation over two years ago."

Mrs. Firth sighed, was again a part of the group.

Harding tore the four letters into small scraps, scattered them into the water. "On Speare Island we have the present and the future. When I tore up those letters I erased the past and any holdovers of the necessity of lying and scheming in the world you've left. It is a new beginning, a new chance for you all."

The house's stone foundation and the veranda on the west and south sides blended with the hill to the north and overhung the sheer drop of cliff to the east. Broad stone steps on the west led up to the veranda and the wide front doors. On the south, the twin narrow-gauge tracks appeared abruptly on the steep slope leading to the cove and disappeared in an opening in the foundation.

The glistening white of the two-story structure was saved from the appearance of an overgrown box by the square tower at the southwest corner. The three-story tower encroached half on veranda space and half inside in the huge main room.

Inside the house the mutton-smelling candles on the large dining table flickered when Henry Harding stood up to end the meal.

"I know you're all tired, and I'll not keep you long. There are some things to be said, and a decision to be made. One of you may become my wife. I intend to be blunt now to save future misunderstandings.

"First, something about myself. Some years ago I was a small town real estate dealer. Oil was discovered on some property I acquired. I sold part of my holdings for millions.

"I acquired this island. Some of you may remember the newspaper headlines: 'Eccentric Millionaire to Found New Eden.' People laughed at me, but I poured a portion of my money into Speare Island. The boat you came on has been under my charter. For over a year now I have had crews of men working. Putting up buildings, starting the gardens, the flocks of sheep, bringing in supplies and storing them away safely. These candles we use were made here, represent a first step in my desire to make Speare Island independnt of outside help. You saw the last of the crews leave. We are far from the path of planes and steamers. Everything now is up to us." He paused, frowned and then went on. "It is true commercial fishermen use the west side landing. For water. They have been useful so far and I have permitted them to keep on with that custom. But for all practical purposes we are alone.

"Now, a word about my money. Even if a marriage is consummated, my wife cannot hope to get any of my money by leaving or outliving me. The money stays with Speare Island. It is tied up legally with the island's future. Is that understood?"

There were nods and murmurs from the women.

"Good. We shall not mention it again. For you four, the next three months can be looked upon as a period of trial and adjustment. You must prove to me you can shed your old ways of life. True, that may be easy since you were neither happy nor successful. Here each will have certain tasks. At first we will rotate these

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

IN a very tiresome book which I just finished reading there is one paragraph that almost makes the darn thing worth the three dollars I paid for it.

The title of the book is "The Price Is Right," and I bought it because it deals with the newspaper syndicate business, editors and columnists.

BRANDEIS

In that book I met more skunks than I have encountered in all my years as a newspaperman, syndicate worker and columnist.

Just another observation before I tell you about that one worth-while paragraph:

If you ever want to write a "best-seller" book—and I am sure you do—and run out of ideas, just have your heroine or your hero indulge in an off-color love affair. Don't make it too clean. That's commonplace.

In your literary love affair either the party of the first or of the second part should be married. The other can be either single or married.

You must also be sure to go into some of the more indecent details. It won't make your book good. But it will make it spicy. Spice sells books, just as in French cooking a lot of spicy sauce can disguise the odor and the taste, if the meat or the fish isn't fresh.

I like French cooking. But I don't eat it. It always upsets my stomach.

Here is that three-dollar paragraph:

"I've never found that anybody gets much choice about the things he wants. The desire for them is inside you, like a susceptibility to head-colds. It doesn't do you any good to stay out of drafts or tell yourself you're a dope for wanting them."

There is a lot of truth in that paragraph.

I don't know whether we inherit our desires or acquire them.

But, whatever the scientific explanation, they are deeply imbedded and difficult to uproot.

It's easy to criticize an alcoholic or someone who is too fond of the opposite sex or has a craving for smoking.

The desire is in him or her, but it takes more will-power than most of us have to overcome it.

I have never been able to condemn people who have become slaves of their desires.

As one of my doctors recently told me about smoking, often the irritation of fighting a desire does more harm than the fulfillment of the desire.

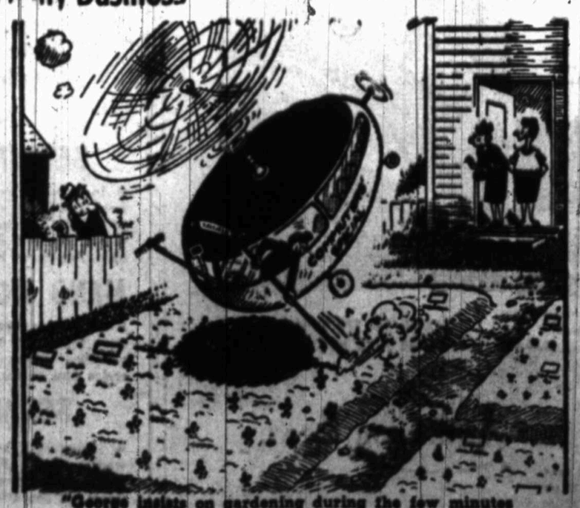

I know I'm not very good medicine for a Sunday school class or a Parent-Teacher group.

But facts are facts, and to cure evils you must first acknowledge facts.

Just this morning I read a statement by Sir Henesage Ogilvie, the eminent British scientist: "What exhausts, is effort rather than use, the performance of tasks that are distasteful or beyond easy fulfillment."

Or to quote Popeye "I'yam what I'yam."

OVER SHIP SCRAPPING

Service Feud Flares

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Cancellation of contracts for construction of the super-carrier, the United States, has precipitated the most violent Air-Navy controversy around the Capital since the late "Billy" Mitchell defied the "brass" in the middle twenties. There are even charges of bad faith on both sides.

TUCKER

Applying the same White House attitude toward battleships and carriers, the Admirals maintain that the Truman-Johnson order virtually scraps the fleet save for submarines and destroyers.

In their opinion, if a 65,000-ton carrier providing its own umbrella of protection is considered obsolete, the big battlewagons and all except fast, heavily armored cruiser types become out of date.

BLOCKED: Truman-Johnson supporters insist that the ban simply carries out the agreement on strategic roles reached at the Key West conference of our national defense experts several months ago. Under that pact warships were to engage in air operations only in executing naval tasks or covering a landing.

The responsibility for large-scale bombing of an enemy's cities, factories, communications and ground troops was entrusted to the Air Force. Secretary Johnson and President Truman, according to this viewpoint, have simply blocked a Navy attempt to violate this top-level decision.

Regardless of the merits of the dispute, Navy spokesmen charge it supports their suspicion that Mr. Johnson favors the Army branch. Other influential figures blamed for the action include Chief of Staff Omar N. Bradley, Special Adviser "Ike" Eisenhower and general Hoyt S. Vandenberg, head of the Army Air Force.

BOMB: The development of a more deadly, postwar atom bomb was really responsible for this latest clash and climax, revealing vividly the importance which both arms attach to this weapon and the evident intention of employing it to the full in any future conflict.

When the top strategists learned of the new-type bomb, both Navy and Air began a race for the right to lay claim to its use. But the Admirals realized they did not have a carrier equipped for discharging a plane large or powerful enough to carry the A-weapon. They immediately got to work in the House Appropriations committee during the last Democratic Congress.

WASTE: Under a 1938 authorization act, which was passed in preparation for World War II, they found that they still had hundreds of thousands of unbuilt tonnage. This meant that they did not have to obtain athorization from the Armed Services committee, which is headed by Representative Carl Vinson of Georgia, now an Air Force champion.

As chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee handling national defense funds, Representative Harry R. Sheppard of California obtained sufficient money to draw the blueprints and start construction.

These preliminary moves were not opposed by President Truman or James V. Forrestal, then National Defense Secretary, although liquidation of the building now may mean a waste of $15,000,000.

DEMONSTRATION: It was then that the Air Force staged its dramatic publicity demonstration, which included the world non-stop flight, the Berlin airlift and other schemes designed to impress both the White House and Capitol Hill. It has succeeded only too spectacularly, in the muttered opinion of the Admirals.

Representatives Vinson and Sheppard still introduced an amendment to the national defense budget, prohibiting completion of the United States. He withheld it presumably because he anticipated the action which has just been taken.

ROLE: "There will always be a Navy," replied Mr. Vinson to those who already mourn its passing, "but it will have a new role. It will escort and protect carriers and landing parties, and destroy enemy craft. It will have to guard transports, for, although there will be great battles in the air, it is the soldier on the ground who wins wars.

"But a carrier is no agency for land bombing. In addition to the vast amount of money involved, the United States would have been too big to pass through the Panama Canal. I thoroughly commend Secretary Johnson's action."

NECESSITY: "I'll concede that battleships may be out," counters Mr. Sheppard. "But I don't believe in putting all our eggs in one basket. There is no assurance that we will have land bases for our bombers in the next war.

"I may leave the Capitol to take a streetcar home. But if they aren't running, I have to take a taxicab or a bus. If we can't hold advance fields in England, on the European continent or in Japan the next time, or in North Africa or the Middle East, supercarriers will be a necessity."

However, there is no expectation that Congress will overrule the White House and Pentagon. The legislators will accept the advice of such men as Mr. Vinson and Chairman Clarence Cannon of Appropriations, who seem to think that air power alone can achieve victory.

Einstein says there is a close relationship between gravity and electricity. We are duly thankful that the former doesn't operate as fast as the latter.

The Maine parents of the boy who began walking at age 9 days are lucky, in that he can walk the floor with himself.

Overheard: "When I pop my fingers, my wife jumps!" (And when she jumps, he probably runs.)

Modern children fascinate and bewilder us. Recently we have noticed that many of them read comic books while attending the movies.

Individual initiative and private enterprise are being smothered all over. The other day a man was fined $50 for making his own car license plates.

Another indicated eventuality to worry about: Peace is fast becoming as expensive as war, and it looks as if the time will soon come when we can't afford either.

Many married men are following with keen interest the case in which a California man is suing for divorce on the ground that his wife has gained 40 pounds in weight since they married.

We are running into a snag in our day-dreaming. How much money does a person have to wish for in order to have a million dollars after taxes?

Believe It Or Not -- By Robert Ripley

INSURANCE GROUP ACTIVE

Investigation Of Lobbies Urged

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — At long last it appears that the way will be opened shortly for a Senate investigation of lobbies.

Such an inquiry was endorsed by President Truman even before the 81st Democratic Congress met in January. During his successful election campaign he had revealed and denounced the operation of highly-financed lobbies against his program in the 80th Congress, and this was followed up by introduction of a lobby investigation resolution early in this Congress by Senator Kilgore (D-W.-Va.).

STOKES

The Senate Judiciary committee was expected to consider this week a report recommending approval of this resolution and an initial appropriation of $50,000 from a sub-committee to which the resolution was referred, consisting of Senators Kilgore, McGrath (D-R.I.) and Wiley (R-Wis.). The investigation, if approved by the committee and the Senate, would be conducted by a Judiciary sub-committee.

Should Study Connection

In its explorations the inquiry could well try to find out if a sort of super-lobby is now operating here, that is, whether there is an interlocking connection among various special interest lobbies, either understood or formal, to assist each other in fighting the Truman social welfare program. Such combinations are familiar in state legislatures, a ganging-up or log-rolling process in which all pitch in and help each other. They can be very effective, as is illustrated dramatically in California, for example, in the campaign against Governor Earl Warren's state health bill.

There is evidence of a community of interest, at least, here on the national legislative front.

Some individual lobbying groups, of course, operate along a broad front for and against a variety of measures, which is typical of organized business, financial and labor lobbies.

Such a lobbying operation has just been announced by the National Association of Insurance agents, which calls upon its 25,500 organized member agencies all over the country to "rally family, friends and business associates" to write to Congress "to protect America's fundamental concept of freedom." The broad specification of the sort of legislation against which they are instructed to complain in this "letters for freedom" campaign would include virtually the whole Truman program. The goal (pity the poor congressman!) is a million letters. This crusade is to be the principal activity of NAIA in the weeks immediately ahead, according to John C. Scott, its president, who perhaps is not exaggerating very much about the power of insurance agents when he boasts:

"We insurance agents, because of our location and standing in every community in the country, city, town and crossroad, have the unique opportunity to serve, and perhaps, save ourselves while serving others, by becoming the leaders in every community of a great national effort to stop the drift toward socialism."

Pressure Is Hinted

They have proved their political potency before. Insurance is, indeed, one of the most powerful of lobbies operating here because of the great financial and economic power of this industry that ramifies into so many others and because of its ability to get to the grass roots through its agents and build a backfire against congressmen.

It might be enlightening, just as an experiment, to call in a few of these agents and pin them down before an investigating committee as to whether they and their families really are against the Truman program or whether they are afraid they'll lose their jobs if they don't parrot the political beliefs of their bosses. It may be recalled how in the last lobby investigation held here, which was in 1935 Hugo Black, then a senator from Alabama, now a Supreme Court justice, called in Elmer the Western Union boy to tell how he was detached from his regular duties and put to copying names out of a telephone book to sign to telegrams protesting the bill to regulate public utility holding companies. He got three cents a name from his big business employers.

Insurance, utilities and rail roads, which have been among the most effective and highly-financed lobbies, now are joined by the American Medical association, which is organizing the doctors, just as the insurance agents are being organized, in a $3,000,000 campaign against President Truman's health insurance bill.

It is time to throw a little light again on the lobbies to see who and what is back of them.

MARKET IN NEW GAINS

NEW YORK, May 3. (AP)—A revival of demand gave the stock market a little bounce in the last few minutes of trading today.

Closing prices showed a fairly even mixture of gains and losses running from fractions to around a point. The pickup in buying interest, though, wiped out many early losses and pushed some stocks into plus territory.

Turnover for the day amounted to 830,000 shares, compared with 740,000 Monday which was the slowest in a week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced .1 of one point to 83.2. The industrial group posted the only gain, while the rail and utility sections were unchanged.

Only 952 individual issues appeared on the ticker tape, of which 379 advanced and 339 declined.

Dow Chemical was one of the handful of issues moving outside of a generally narrow price pattern. The price advanced 1¾ to 43¾ following news that directors had raised the common stock dividend to 40 cents from the 25 cents paid in two previous quarters.

Chrysler also came up posting a net gain of 1¾ at 51½. Amerada, a high-priced stock, moved ahead 2¾ to 100 and Standard Oil of California gained 1¾ at 66.

Non-ferrous metal stocks did fairly well despite announcement by a major primary copper producer of the first price reduction since the beginning of the war. Down around ½ point each were Phelps Dodge at 39¼, Anaconda Copper 39⅝, and Kennecott 44¼.

Closing higher were Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Studebaker, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Westinghouse Electric, Du Pont and Standard Oil (NJ).

Lower were Republic Steel, American Telephone, Electric Power and Light, American Can, Radio Corp., U S Gypsum at a new low for the year; and Santa Fe.

Corporate bonds moved along a narrow price route.

Boosted in the curb were United Gas, Humble Oil, Colon Development and Cities Service. Losers included New Mexico and Arizona Land.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, May 3 (AP)—Wheat No. 1 hard 2.35-42.
Oats No. 2 white 83½-86½.
Barley No. 2 white 98¾-1.01½.
Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. 2.55-60.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 3 (AP)—Wheat led other futures higher in today's board of trade session. The advance started when mills bought against sales of flour to Italy and prospects of flour purchases by Norway and Holland.

At the close wheat was ½ to ¾ higher than yesterday's close, May 2.15¾-19. Corn was unchanged to ¼ higher, May 1.32¾-⅞. Oats were ½ to 1⅛ higher, May 80¼-½.

A Great Dane, owned by Mrs. C. R. Robb, won the supreme championship at a recent Scottish Kennel Club show in Edinburgh.

Unsettled. Extras 70 per cent A and over 69 to 69½ cents a dozen; extras 68 to 69 A 65 to 68½, standards 64 to 66, current receipts 64, dirties 62½, checks 62.

tasks each week. By trial we will determine where talents lie.

"I have outlined roughly what is ahead. Do you still wish to stay? I have arranged with the master of the Simpatico to lie offshore tonight. If I light the beacon on the water tower he will return tomorrow. Anyone who wishes can leave then."

There was no sound but the sputtering of the candles.

Henry Gough Harding smiled, left the table for a moment and returned with materials of varied colors over his arm. He spread them out, showed they were garments. One black, one orange, one blue and one green.

"Roughly speaking your duties will be separated into those of the house, the flock, the garden, and the sea—which covers supplies.' He picked up the black. 'Miss Cosgrove, since you volunteered to get the meal tonight, may I ask you to take charge of the house for the first week? This is your badge of office. Please wear it tomorrow."

The black was lustrous. The material though of a coarse weave was soft, clinging. She said, "If it fits, I'll be glad to wear it."

He said stiffly, "It will fit. I have had your measurements. I have planned. The green and the garden go to Mrs. Jones."

"I can garden," Mabel said. "I got a green thumb."

"To Miss Firth, the orange, and the sheep."

"I'll do my best," Agnes said. "I don't know anything about sheep."

"Just keep them away from the cliffs. They're stupid animals, apt to commit suicide."

Bea Cosgrove's fingers tightened. She glanced quickly at the man, but he had already turned to smile at Lilly Warren.

"The blue is yours. For the present there will be much to do in the lower storeroom."

"I'll look forward to it," Lilly said.

"One thing more. There are no pockets in your costumes. I do not know whether any of you ladies indulge in the tobacco habit. On Speare Island during the dry season there is no smoking, no carrying of matches. Fire is our enemy. The brush and grass are tinder dry. In a week or two or three, the rains begin. Now, any questions?"

Mabel Jones tried to stifle a yawn.

"I'll clear away," Bea said. "It is getting late." She refused Agnes Firth's offer of help.

She finished clearing, washed the dishes and pans and hung the tea towel on a tack near the woodburning stove. She pushed open the door a crack, placed the occupants of the other room, and let the door close silently.

She blew out all the candles but one, moved quickly to the sugar cupboard, hiked up her skirts with one hand while she made a nest between the bags with the other. She forced the automatic in the cavity, patted down the bags.

A slight sound, a movement of air made her turn. She stood motionless. The swinging door moved gently back and forth a few times before it came to rest.

Suddenly, blindingly, there was a blaze of light. Bea looked around wildly until she made out the cunningly concealed electric lights. She walked into the now brightly lit main room. The three women were stock still near the table.

Henry Hardin came in through the front door. "For tonight, as a special occasion, I've turned on the generators so you may have light to retire without candles. Good night."

Fishing Equipment May Cost Few Cents Or Run Into Thousands, Wild Life Experts Says

By NARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, May 3 — So you want to catch a fish, eh?

Well, it's liable to cost you some money for equipment.

That is, unless you go native—like small boys do. In that case, you can go into the timber and shave off a willow sprig for a pole, cut a length of twine for a line, bend a common pin and call it a hook and use the cork from a bourbon jug for a bobbin.

Or you can spend what you like, up to thousands.

I learned all this during a visit with Carl D. Shoemaker, a gray-haired gent who is a member of the fishing hall of fame. He is conservation director of the Wild Life federation and looks more like a bank president than a back woodsman.

Hoover Wore High Collar

"You can cast a line for as little as $7.35, tax included," he said.

A cheap reel costs around $3. You can get a line for 50 cents, and half a dozen hooks for 20 cents. A rod will cost about $3.50, sinkers a dime and a bobbin about a nickel. Dig your own worms.

All right, said Shoemaker, you're ready to go fishing. Put on the oldest clothes you have. Don't try to act like Mr. Herbert Hoover on his first time out.

The conservation man said that when the former president was secretary of commerce he was invited to explore the steel head trout situation in the Rogue river in Oregon.

"Herb showed up in a business suit, white shirt, expensive hat and high collar," said Shoemaker. "He didn't catch anything, but he was a mess when he got back to camp. To his credit, though, Mr. Hoover grew up to be a good fisherman and later wrote a book on trout fishing."

Fish Are Smart

Anyhow, wear something old. Let's say you are fishing from the bank—for bass. You feel a tug on the line and the cork goes under. Let 'er go; maybe count 10 and then give the pole a good jerk.

"You've got to remember," said the old fisherman, "that a bass and most other fish will run with the bait before deciding to take the bait and the hook, into the mouth."

After that you keep the line tight and play with him for a time until you're sure you haven't got an old corset or boot on the line.

A bass, for instance (quoting the fisherman) is sometimes smart enough to outsmart you. If you don't hold him in he'll jump until he gets off the hook, or get himself snagged on a log. A bass has been known to jump a dozen times out of the water before he gets tired.

Presidential Lore Revealed

Then you reel the catch in easy-like. If that fails—there's always a fish store on the way home.

Getting back to presidents as fishermen. Shoemaker has some lore on a lot of them.

Cal Coolidge got credit for popularizing the old battered gray hat with "flies" stuck around the band. It isn't generally known, but silent Cal was a "worm" fisherman.

Teddy Roosevelt was a great game hunter, but not much of a fisherman.

FDR liked to fish and especially loved to dip for the denizens of the deep. Mr. Truman also is an ocean fisherman, but likes to tell the boys at the poker table that, barefooted as a kid, he was a great one to bring home a mess of bullheads from the streams near Independence, Mo.

Grover Cleveland was the first great president-fisherman, according to the wildlife man.
