Master Plan for the future of Our Children

In the schools' "master plan" to be decided in the bond election on Saturday, next in scope, and in priority, to the High School expansion is the rehabilitation and improvement of Runnels Junior High.

Extensive engineering studies have demonstrated that here is a structurally sound building, despite its age. It has the advantage of a central location. On its campus are other units which can be adapted to a Junior High School unit to accommodate 600 students. These are the old Central Ward, and the administration building which houses a part of school business affairs.

Principal addition to the main Runnels structure would be a physical education facility for girls (there is no separation of facilities now), plus the required dressing rooms.

The old Central Ward would be converted into vocational shop space—a facility that every educational survey shows to be badly needed if the school system is to give a degree of skilled training to a segment of the pupil population not destined for higher education.

The present administration building would become band and choral space—another facility now completely lacking at Runnels. There would be a minor addition to this building of offices and storage space.

Complete Overhauling At Runnels

The major Runnels structure would be completely overhauled, to bring it to modern status. This entails new heating, lighting, wiring, a general upgrading of all rooms.

The Runnels re-modeling decision did not come lightly. It is planned to bring about a modern, usable Junior High without the District having more cost in land acquisition, and new construction.

The school program also envisions some new construction.

Principal unit is the proposed new elementary school in the College Park area, on land donated to the district in the Moss land development. This is to serve a growing area of the city, and also to serve the important purpose of relieving the congestion at Washington Place school, one of the most over-crowded in the system.

The new Moss School is planned ultimately as an 18-classroom structure with all auxiliary facilities. The first phase would provide for eight regular classrooms.

Present projections would be for a wing of the new building to handle the special education classes (now at Central Ward). The classroom design would be such that this wing would be adaptable to the special education program, or to regular instruction, depending upon the requirements of student population.

More Classrooms At Kentwood

Another major item in new elementary construction is the addition of six classrooms at the Kentwood School. This newest unit in the system now has five classrooms (it was built from current revenues, without increasing bonded indebtedness), and is in an area where student population can be expected to increase. The building is so planned that, when demand occurs in the future, it can be expanded into a school of 24 classrooms with all auxiliary facilities.

Another new facility, with its priority falling into place after school improvements, is a proposed administration and service center, likely to be located in the Goliad Junior High-College Park school area.

This represents a need beyond the provision of some offices. As of now the school administration is divided, with superintendent and some educational staff people on 19th Street, the business and tax offices in a barracks building at the old South Ward site.

General Administrative Facility

The system's service center not only would combine these in practical manner, but also would provide facilities for trustee meetings which the public could attend; facilities for staff and teacher conferences; adequate housing for business machines, voluminous records; quarters for director of cafeterias, supervisors, visiting teachers, school nurses, and all staff people in supervisory instructional activities. There also is planned facilities for handling general school supplies and warehousing of textbooks. Audio-visual accommodations, curriculum-materials center, general accounting and personnel facilities are other items in this building.

The development of the Senior High School campus calls for removal of bus barns and shops, now woefully inadequate. A maintenance center, with shops, is planned on the old South Ward campus, whose facilities are now obsolete for school purposes. The layout would include headquarters and shops for general school maintenance—buildings, furniture, equipment and grounds—as well as for needed maintenance on vehicles.

As related in prior articles, such a move is inter-related with others, so that, in the whole picture, the Big Spring school district is looking ahead to a decision Saturday which permits improvements which must come, as a matter of practicality and economy.

Airman Charged In Tots' Deaths

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Police window. She was taken to a Waco hospital for treatment of shock and a leg injury.

The bodies of the children were found in the car when it was pulled from water 15 feet deep. They were Ruth Elaine, 4, Ester Rose, 3, Robert Everett, 2, and Evonne Rene, 10 months.

Charged before Justice of the Peace John Cabaniss was Airman I.C. Rudy T. Davis, 22, stationed at Connally Air Force Base near this central Texas city. Officers said he was originally from Montezano, Wash.

Police said Davis told them he stopped his station wagon, cut the left front brake line, then drove off a 15-foot bank into the Bosque River seven miles north of here.

Davis earlier claimed the brakes had failed. The children ranged in age from 10 months to 4 years.

Davis said he and his wife, Edith, 22, escaped from the merged car through an open

Neutralists Digging In For Red Attack

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Neutralist Gen. Kong Le dug in today to await a new onslaught by pro-Communist Pathet Lao, who forced him from his command post east of the Plaine des Jarres.

The neutralist commander and his force set up headquarters at Ban Khong, several miles southwest of his former headquarters at Muong Phan. The latter was overrun by Pathet Lao Monday after a two-day mortar and artillery bombardment.

Western military observers who flew to Ban Khong said Kong Le's troops had staged "an orderly withdrawal" to the hilltop village. They said it appeared more defensible by infantry than Muong Phan.

Chartered American planes airlifted refugees and wounded to Vientiane, 110 miles southwest of the Plaine des Jarres, and flew in medical supplies as Kong Le prepared for a new Red attack.

Ban Khong remained quiet but the rumble of shell fire could be heard in the distance. Western observers said the Pathet Lao and their Viet Minh allies from North Viet Nam were consolidating their position at Muong Phan.

Western military men who visited the scene said they had no idea how big a force faced Kong Le or how many neutralist troops were massed at Ban Khong.

Earlier estimates had said

7,000 neutralist troops were strung out on a 22-mile semicircle of high ground running north and south along the eastern fringe of the strategic plain. It was believed they were outnumbered about 4 to 1 by the Reds.

With the fall of Muong Phan and nearby Phou Kheng Hill and Kong Le's retreat southward, it appeared that his neutralist force had been split.

Kong Le admitted that some of his troops had gone over to the Pathet Lao, but he denied Communist claims of mass defections.

South Says Rights Offer 'Obnoxious'

Group Studies Baker Blame For Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate committee investigating Bobby Baker goes behind closed doors Wednesday to consider a proposed report that blames the Senate for putting Baker and others in places of responsibility without imposing "enforceable standards of honesty."

To remedy the situation, it urges a strict set of ethical regulations for Senate employees and senators.

The report, submitted to the Rules Committee by its special counsel, L. P. McLendon, alleges that as a Senate employee Baker was guilty of gross improprieties but holds he was not legally guilty of conflict of interest.

Baker, 36, resigned as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority Oct. 7 after conflict-of-interest allegations.

The proposed report said disclosures in the Senate investigation "convincingly prove the existence of a breeding ground of practices inimical to the public interest."

"No amount of sophistry," it said, "can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it."

"The Senate, as a body, and senators individually have suffered the loss of much respect and prestige because of conditions this investigation has brought to light."

TO NEWSMEN

The report was submitted to the committee 10 days ago and was leaked to newsmen Monday. Wednesday's closed meeting is for members to go over the draft and offer suggestions.

Committee Chairman H. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., has said he expects the committee to make some changes in the proposed report before submitting it to the Senate.

The committee's Republican minority, which has attacked the Democrats' handling of the investigation, was reported drawing up a separate report.

Proponents Feel Votes Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators backing the civil rights bill predicted today a package of amendments proposed by Senate leaders had picked up votes toward ending a Southern filibuster.

On their part, Southern senators said the proposed changes would make the bill "even more obnoxious," and they'd go down the line fighting it.

"I feel these amendments have won some cloture votes," Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., floor manager of the bill said after a meeting of 47 of the 67 Democratic senators.

Humphrey said the amendments would provide a bill all could live with and "it will be a good bill."

He spoke of the amendments as a compromise to get support to end the filibusters.

"Cloture and improving the bill," was the way he described some 70 amendments worked out by a bipartisan leadership and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., captain of the Dixie bloc, said it was the consensus of the Southerners that the amendments would make the bill more obnoxious.

He told newsmen also that the Southerners had decided at their weekly caucus to permit no votes on amendments to the bill for the remainder of this week.

Sponsors of the bill had forecast that a vote might be allowed on the pending jury trial amendment after today's Maryland primary.

Russell said "we are not counting on this in our strategy here" although he conceded the Dixie forces would welcome any psychological boost from a strong showing in Maryland by Alabama Gov. George Wallace.

CLOSED MEETINGS

The Southern caucus was the first to end of three morning closed meetings on the bill.

The other two were Democratic and Republican conferences at which the package of amendments worked out by Senate leaders with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was to be explained.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders voiced hope that the proposed 70 changes would win the votes needed to shut off the Southern talk and permit passage of the bill.

Russell said he was confident the leaders still lacked the two-thirds vote needed to shut off debate.

And he made it quite clear the proposed amendments had, if anything, strengthened Southern opposition.

The changes would make the bill more than ever "a political punitive expedition into the South" and would "put a premium on hypocrisy," he declared.

JURISDICTION

Russell said, for example, that the amendments giving exclusive jurisdiction of discrimination complaints for specific periods to states with public accommodations and equal employment opportunity laws were specifically designed to ease the impact on states outside the South.

Some of these state laws may be weak and unenforceable but they age the benefit of the exclusive jurisdiction principle, he said.

Russell said there was some discussion among the Southerners of which jury trial amendment might win the most support but that the decision was to stick for the time being with a proposal of Sen. George Smathers, D-Fla. This is the pending amendment.

Under it, any individual accused of criminal contempt for violating a civil rights injunction could get a jury trial on demand.

CAMBODIA ISSUE

Russian Lashes U.S. Asia Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union unleashed a sharp attack today on U.S. policy in Southeast Asia at the very outset of debate in the U.N. Security Council on charges of aggression brought by Cambodia against the United States.

Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko did so in challenging the right of a delegate from South Viet Nam to take part in the debate. But the council overrode his objections and voted 9-2 to let the South Viet Nam representative participate.

Only Communist Czechoslovakia supported the Soviet demand.

RESPONSIBLE

Fedorenko declared that the United States was responsible for alleged acts of aggression committed against Cambodia.

"It is the United States that sent its troops into the so-called Republic of South Viet Nam," Fedorenko asserted. "No representative of that regime should be seated here."

U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Yost said that council rules provide for seating of a representative involved in an issue before it.

He said the only equitable procedure for the council to follow would be to seat the representative.

DEAR ABBY A Salute To Alaska

DEAR ABBY: I write with compulsion tonight. I can no longer contain my pride in my town, my state, my nation. Where do I start? I have seen people who have lost their dear ones. People who have lost only some of their worldly possessions, and people who have lost everything. But no backs are bowed. The cooperation and organization is astounding! From teenagers who offer to baby-sit for their neighbors so that they may salvage what they can from wrecked homes, to engineers and survey crews already working to rebuild. Restoration of transportation, mail service, water, newspapers, power, has begun, and even the corner grocery store is swept up, mopped up, and sometimes propped up, but open for business. What a heroic job our radio hams did, working night and day to relay messages to loved ones. And the American Red Cross! And the generosity of our sister states! I could go on and on. Let no man say that we are "soft," that we Americans are weak. I have seen our strength and I am overwhelmed.

A PROUD ALASKAN

DEAR ABBY: You advised that short-skirted cocktail waitress who complained about her hours and the men customers making passes at her to get a job with shorter hours and longer skirts. That is easier said than done. Six years ago my husband walked out and left me with five children under 10 years of age. I had never worked a day in my life and was trained for nothing. I took a job as a short-skirted cocktail waitress. It wasn't easy, but it beat charity. I have been able to support my family and provide insurance for their future educations. If men customers get rough, I tell them in a nice way that I have five children to support and a scene could cost me my job. They never give me any trouble after that. I work five days a week from 7 p.m. until 2 a.m. and take home about $160 a week. I am a P-T-A president, Cub Scout den mother, blood donor and a one-day-a-week hospital volunteer. I am also—

A SHORT-SKIRTED WAITRESS

DEAR SHORT-SKIRTED: You are also a far-sighted woman. And justifiably proud.

Get it off your chest. For a personal, unpublished reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Spiritual Ministry Holds Movement's Heart, Soul

(This is the third and concluding of a series on the Salvation Army work here during National Salvation Army Week.—Ed.)
As a United Fund agency, the Salvation Army expends its help from the community fund and then some in welfare work with needy families here and needy American families and individuals on the move.
There is a third facet of the work which is self-financed and which is the heart and soul of the movement. This is the spiritual ministry.
Assistance is given in the spirit of Christian love, although there seldom is any religious rite connected with the charity.
On Sundays and Wednesday evening, guests in the lodge are expected to attend the worship services. Not infrequently, down-trodden people ask for spiritual food, too.
Most people think of the traditional street corner meeting as the religious side of Salvation Army work. This is part of it—and not as much a part as Capt. William Thomas would like it to be. Last year the Army had 28 such meetings with 175 staff members attending.
The citadel has 60 senior members and 25 junior members. The Sunday school membership is 53. In senior meetings on Sunday, about 25 attend regularly and 15 the mid-week prayer service. Attendance in the Sunday school averages 50 (60 so far this year).
That this work is producing results is shown in 15 seekers among seniors last year, 22 among juniors. In the first four months of this year there have been 11 senior and 21 junior seekers of salvation.
The Girl Guide program, dormant for the past three years, has been reactivated with eight members. The Sunbeams, for youngsters, has 19 on roll, but attendance has been averaging 15.
Home League of the Army—a service arm of the women—has 28 members, nearly half of whom meet regularly to quilt, sew, visit rest homes, support various welfare projects of the Army, and have their devotions.
A boys' program, also inactive for several years, is being started with a base of recreation and crafts until interest can be established. About 18 boys, 7 years and up, are participating at the playground at Sixth and San Jacinto. No men's organization exists, but here a start also is being made with 10 having attended Camp Hob-

School Bonds Endorsed By Two Groups

Two more organizations Monday gave the school Master Plan bond issue unanimous endorsement.

The Jaycees, prior to the regular program, voted solidly to give the $5½-million dollar issue its backing. An explanation of the proposed plan had been given a week ago to the group.

The Big Spring Real Estate Board also gave the plan its total support after Harold Talbot, board president, had presented, pictures, slides, charts and a general explanation of the thing involved in the effort.

Jaycees had their meeting at the Wagon Wheel with Jim Wright, president, in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Herman Smith, who recently attended a Freedom Forum in Lubbock, gave a report on speakers there. About 25 members were present for the session.

Realtors had their meeting at the Downtown Tea Rooms. In addition to endorsing the bond issue, the group voted to give $25 toward the Christmas decoration fund. Marie Rowland, president, said that the Big Spring board had been invited to be guests of the Midland realtors when National Real Estate Week is launched there. Next meeting of the group will be June 1.

State Cotton Planting Lags

AUSTIN (AP)—Cotton planting in Texas is still lagging behind last year's rate, despite active planting last week on high plains irrigated acreage, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

The department said 60 per cent of intended cotton acreage is planted, compared with 74 per cent at this time last year. Cotton in the eastern half of the state made good growth with widespread insect control spraying and dusting under way, the department said Monday in its weekly crop report.

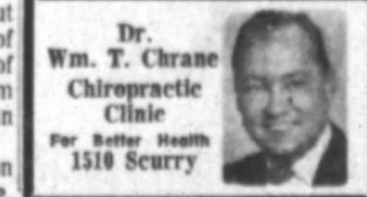

The state wheat harvest began in the low plains and cross timbers as warm weather hastened maturity, the report said. "Dryland" wheat on high plains continued to deteriorate with additional acreage abandoned and cattle being turned in on some fields.

Sorghum planting passed the 55 per cent mark, compared with 62 per cent a year ago at this time.
"Range conditions are good in cross timbers and eastward across the state. Dry weather has continued to limit grazing in Panhandle, Trans Pecos, South Central and South Texas. Additional livestock on high plains were put back on feed," the report said.

Movement of most spring vegetables from the Rio Grande Valley continued active last week, with tomatoes, cucumbers, sweet corn, squash, okra, peas and potatoes furnishing production.

Narcotics Charge

LAREDO (AP)—Ronald Lee Burton, 25, and his bride of less than a week were arraigned here Monday on charges of possessing narcotics. The couple married in Oklahoma City May 12, were arrested Friday after returning from a honeymoon in Mexico. Officers said they seized one gram of pure heroin.

Oil, Cattle Study Asked

ABILENE (AP)—Directors of the West Central Texas Oil and Gas Association have asked Gov. John Connally to look into the cause of what they call deterioration of Texas products, including oil and cattle.

Specifically the directors asked the governor to appoint a citizens committee to make the study and to recommend action.

The request was in a telegram sent Monday during the association's annual meeting here.

Frank Ikard, president of the American Petroleum Institute, in an address called natural gas legislation the most serious problem facing the industry.

The former congressman from Wichita Falls, Tex., said his group planned to work for a new gas bill but it was too late this present session of Congress because of the time limit and the extended debate on the civil rights bill.

Ikard estimated it will take the Federal Power Commission 4 to 14 years to complete its present area studies on gas prices. The present law authorizes the FPC to regulate the wellhead price of natural gas.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled as just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just spritz a little PASTETECH, the alkaline (non-aet) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath." Get PASTETECH at drug counters everywhere.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

How to be a hit

with the misses

The answer, obviously enough, is to become a 1964 Dart owner. For this young-at-heart beauty is winsome—and then some.
Take 1964 Dart styling, for instance. Handsome, dashing, suave, and far from stuffed shirt. Here's a car anyone could love for looks alone. Inside, leather-grained vinyls are every bit as soft and supple as they appear. And how many other compacts can you name that offer a choice of standard or bucket seats, carpeting, and engines ranging from an Economy Run winning Six, to a sizzling, new 273 cu. in. V8.
So, if you want to be a hit with the misses, see your Dodge Dealer. But hurry, there are bound to be many other fellows with the same idea.

Khrushchev Warns Arabs Of Polaris Sub Dangers

PORT SAID, Egypt (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev said today the Arabs would be exposed to great danger if the United States introduced Polaris missile submarines into the Mediterranean.

The Soviet leader evidently referred to negotiations between the United States and Spain for use of the joint U.S.-Spanish naval and air base at Rota as a headquarters for the missile-firing subs. The U.S. submarine tender Proteus moved to Rota in February.

In an obvious reference to

U.S. 6th Fleet operations in the Mediterranean, Khrushchev said the "imperialists use aircraft carriers and warships to lie in wait for nationalist movements."

"They use warships as observation posts and to bring pressure on the policy of non-alignment," he said. "Aircraft carrier imperialism aims at restoring reactionary systems in Asia and Africa."

Standing on an anti-imperialist monument to Egyptian war dead, he condemned the British-French and Israeli attack of 1956 on Suez and said many of the West's politicians have failed to learn the lesson of that defeat.

"Many of the West's politicians are still unable to realize the truth behind this shameful end," he said.

He added that the goal of Britain and France in that attack was "to destroy Egypt's independence." He called Israel "the agent of imperialism."

"The Soviet leader paid tribute to this city, saying:

"Port Said is renowned among the world's cities because it is a national bastion before which the dreams of the invaders collapsed."

Khrushchev said that in the past it was in the power of the big nations "to enslave all of Africa's and Asia's peoples."

Opening lead: King of ♣
Altho the North-South holdings contain the 26 points prescribed for a game contract, a four spade contract is apparently beyond reach, since one diamond trick and three clubs must be lost. Yet, some Souths, who became declarer when this deal occurred in a recent tournament, succeeded in making four spades when the defense was induced to slip up.

A game contract is not open to serious criticism, inasmuch as the combined holdings contain a duplication of values which it is not easy to uncover during the auction. Observe that North and South have the top four heart honors and yet can take only three tricks in the suit. The holding of three small clubs facing three to the jack is yet another unfortunate flaw. At the tables where South was successful in his efforts, the play proceeded as follows: West opened the king of diamonds and declarer played the ace. Trumps were cleared up in three rounds and South followed by cashing his three heart tricks winding up in the North hand. A club was led now and East put up the king as West followed with the nine. East then played the ace of clubs and, when the queen fell from partner's hand, South's jack became established for the game fulfilling trick.

Altho East had been placed under pressure, his procedure, when clubs were finally led, was not clearly thought out. South, by actual count, has shown up with five spades and three hearts. West, for his three diamond bid, presumably has a seven card suit, giving South two diamonds. This leaves declarer with three clubs. If one of these is the queen, then he cannot be prevented from winning a trick in the suit—and, therefore, East cannot gain by playing the king.

When the club is led from dummy, East should play low to allow for the possibility that West holds a lightly guarded queen. Even after East put up the king of clubs, he could still have recovered by underleading his ace next. When the nine of clubs drops from West's hand, the conclusion becomes unmistakable that he has, at most, a doubleton in the suit, so that the underlead of the ace can hardly prove costly.

Britons Back To Jobs After Bloody Holiday

LONDON (AP)—Britons went back to work today after the three-day Whitsun weekend that left 86 dead on the crowded roads and 200 arrested for teenage violence.

The traffic deaths were twice last year's figure. The teen-age battles were the worst the country has seen.

Thousands of youngsters in the garb of "Mods" and "Rockers," rival cults, battled on the beaches of resorts along the southern coast, wielding chairs, knives, bottles and studded belts.

Reinforced police hauled them in by the dozen. At Bournemouth, a resort normally inhabited by retired colonels and aged widows, more than 40 were arrested.

This was celebrated the Festival of Pentecost, commemorating the descent of the Holy Spirit on the Apostles.

The Rockers ride powerful motorbikes and wear leather jackets, jeans and cowboy boots. The prototype was Marlon Brando in "The Wild One."

The Mods, aggressors in every battle over the weekend, are a home-grown cult.

They dress expensively, ride motor scooters and often are as vain of their appearance as their "birds"—their girls.

Many male Mods use eyebrow pencil, eye shadow, transparent lipstick and even rouge. Hair styles change every week.

On weekends they get "purped up" on a stimulant which enables them to go without food and sleep. The government is drafting a law to outlaw possession of the pills without a prescription.

Spring Branch Votes Schools, Air Conditioning

SPRING BRANCH — Residents of the Spring Branch School District—an area adjacent to Houston—gave heavy endorsement last Saturday to an $8,750,000 bond issue for new schools—then also voted another $2.1 million to air condition all old buildings as well as new ones to be constructed.

The Spring Branch school board submitted two issues. The first was for new construction, which the board recommended. The second was for the air conditioning, without a recommendation.

For major new construction the vote was 4,899 to 1,213 against. For air conditioning, the tally was 3,905 to 2,023. The school expansion program is due to continue through 1968.

A Devotional For The Day

He who sows for the Spirit will from the Spirit reap Life eternal. (Galatians 6:8. WEYMOUTH.)
PRAYER: O Father, who hast made known to us that our Christian life is not perfect until the Holy Spirit controls it, grant us a growing sense of the Spirit working in us and helping us. So may we live nobler and calmer, more joyful and useful lives, ever gaining fresh knowledge of Thy love. In the name of Jesus, our Savior. Amen.

Step, But Only A Step

The new cotton program has been acclaimed in some quarters as an initial step toward increasing consumption and thus help the staple find its way out of the woods.
F. S. Love, Charlotte, N. C., secretary-treasurer of the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, reminded cotton producers that "textile mills can spin anything from corn shucks to horse hair. We are not dependent on cotton. Textiles are moving forward. We want you to move with us. It's entirely up to you as to whether you do."
He listed these factors as among cotton's present needs: Price competitiveness and stability, dependable varieties, reliable ginning, high strength, agricultural statesmanship on the part of the cotton industry, and promotion.

The one-price system under the new bill can do much toward helping cotton regain some of its lost ground, he ventured, but "producers cannot content themselves with criticizing synthetic."
What this all boils down to is that cost reductions must be passed at least in part on to the market stream to keep the fiber competitive. The other elements of improving the health of cotton is constant research for new processing methods, and for promotion to increase the demand. Having gone through a successful National Cotton Week, we need to keep this in mind with a year-around effort to encourage all of our people to insist on cotton goods wherever possible.

Alliance May Look Up

Can President Johnson generate the dynamism which the Alliance for Progress has disappointingly lacked in the first three years of its operation? This is a critical question for the future of the Western Hemisphere, and the free world. And there is strong new hope that Johnson can make the alliance work—if its basic concept is sound, now that he has decided to go all out in the effort.
That decision was clear and emphatic in Johnson's talks this week with Latin American ambassadors and representatives to the Organization of American States. The regional uncertainty over the Johnson administration's intent, stirred by initial reorganization of U. S. Latin aid agencies and aggravated by the Panama Canal and Brazilian crises, may be dispelled by this forthright approach.
President Johnson pledged to double alliance accomplishments in the coming year and to push related aid appropriations in Congress. He underscored that intent by moving a dozen spotted credit commitments on the spot. He held up his own "war on poverty" in this country as evidence the U. S. will practice what it is preaching to reform-reluctant privileged groups in Latin America, and he reassured Latin political leaders that he will not leave them in the lurch if they go out on a limb for alliance goals. And he faced squarely, in a manner the Latins must respect, the principles and problems of nonintervention, democratic diversity, self-determination and social revolution.

If Johnson can sustain this vigor, conviction and balance in Latin American policy, the Alliance for Progress could conceivably capture the imagination and support of the Latin American peoples, as it must do for success. For that response, they must be convinced that the U. S. concern is permanent, genuine and humanitarian, on the side of real freedom and not merely an anti-Communist cold-war strategy or opportunism tied solely to our own immediate and material national interests.

Marquis Childs Wallace's Vulnerable Points

WASHINGTON — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama has invaded the North to try to focus all the discontents of a time of troubles on the civil rights bill.
His own base in Alabama is about as solid politically as it could be. He is Governor not so much of a state as of a state of mind. That state of mind is "Down with the Federal government."

Alabama's reliance on Federal help is one of Wallace's most vulnerable points. His predecessor, former Gov. John M. Patterson, once said that 80 per cent of the state's budget covering all programs was from Federal funds. Wallace's opponents speak bitterly of how his blown-up pictures plaster highway projects while obscuring in small print it states that 90 per cent of the cost is paid by the Federal government.

PROOF OF HIS prowess was the vote by a margin of four-and-a-half to one in Alabama to keep President Johnson's name off the ballot in favor of unpledged electors. This represents a long-cherished Southern hope—to enable a small bloc of Southern electors to bargain in a close Presidential election between the two candidates through the antiquated machine of the Electoral College.
Wallace is a new phenomenon out of the South. He is neither a Claghorn nor a fiery orator ringing changes on the bloody oppression of Southern chivalry. While his grip on his state approaches that which Huey Long once exercised in Louisiana, and he obviously intends to purge all opposition including Alabama's two Senators, Lister Hill and John Sparkman, he has about him none of the flamboyant dictator.

SECOND PERHAPS only to Georgia is Alabama's rating in military and space installations. And Alabama Congressmen fight like tigers to keep those installations and get more. One of the provisions in the civil rights bill Wallace has hardest is that cutting off Federal funds from any project that is not integrated.
As for Wallace's own campaign in Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland, money seems the least of his worries. Throughout Alabama Wallace collection jars are in every restaurant and public place and they fill up fast.

WHY, THEY TAKE it out of your pockets and they give some of it back and they pour it down a rat-hole somewhere. "Yeah, in Alabama," came a voice from the heckling crowd.
Briefly the smooth-talking Governor was thrown off his stride. The Big Spring Herald

WHETHER SMALL contributions cover costs such as the estimated $50,000 Wallace spent in Indiana on television is undetermined. Large private contributors may help. Alabama gave $10,000 in state funds to the Coordinating Committee for Fundamental American Freedoms operating in Washington in opposition to the civil rights bill. The committee could hardly do better than invest in the Wallace campaign.
When Wallace is asked why no one has been apprehended for the murder of four Negro children in the bombing of a Negro Sunday school in Birmingham, he says that the FBI and the Department of Justice are in there, too, and if they can't find out who can. And he adds that a Communist might have done the bombing to stir new conflict. This, too, is vulnerable ground, the dark and bloody ground of racial violence Wallace so carefully avoids in public.

WHY, THEY TAKE it out of your pockets and they give some of it back and they pour it down a rat-hole somewhere. "Yeah, in Alabama," came a voice from the heckling crowd.

1964 Presidential Primaries Dizziest Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 1964 presidential primaries are as dizzy as any in memory.
Some voters like best the man they know least. For some non-candidates hope is their oxygen tent. Actual candidates get rebuffed and rehabilitated.
Take Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace. He's been running in Democratic primaries without a chance for his party's nomination which at this point belongs entirely to President Johnson.

But after he got 33 per cent of the Democratic vote in the Wisconsin primary and 29 per cent in Indiana, he switched to: "I am a serious candidate." Today he was running in the Maryland primary against a stand-in for Johnson.
Then there's former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who lost the 1960 presidential contest and the race for the governorship of California in 1962. He said that was "my last campaign for public office."

WALLACE SAID last March: "I have no illusion about becoming president. He said he was just running to express opposition to Johnson's civil rights program.

AS IF TO SHOW he meant it he moved to New York and said "under no circumstances" would he accept a draft. Came 1964 when the political sap stirred in the states' presiden-

To Your Good Health Fungus Infection A Cause Of Thickened Nails

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.
Dear Dr. Molner: What causes club toenails? How can they be treated? I have gone to a chiropodist and he tells me I could have them removed but with no guarantee as to whether they would grow back again. They don't bother me except for the difficulty in cutting them.
—MRS. H. F.

Thickened nails are in general found among older persons; sometimes in middle age, not often in youth.
Tight shoes or socks can cause such thickening. More often it is from some disease of the nail, and fungus infection is a common one. These infections generally take a long time to develop. Getting rid of them can be difficult, although in recent years the drug griseofulvin has been wonderfully helpful in certain types of fungus are involved.
Anyway, brittleness of the nails tends to go along with thickening.
Care in cleaning under the nails, just as you do the fingernails, is important.
In many cases, filing the nails to lessen their thickness is necessary.

Soaking the feet to soften the nails before trimming makes care easier.
These are about all the measures the individual can take by himself.
When fungus infection is involved, sometimes it is necessary to remove the nails. As I said, griseofulvin, which is an antibiotic for fungi, is remarkably effective in some cases, but not all types respond to it.
Dear Dr. Molner: If a pregnant woman is exposed to German measles but had the disease as a child, is there any danger? Does the mother have to get the measles for the unborn baby to be harmed?—MRS. M. O.

If she has had German measles there is little if any chance that she can get them again. Exposure will do no damage. The mother must get the disease before the child can be harmed.
"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Era Of The Folding Cup

One of the standard pieces of equipment in my school lunch bucket when I was small lad was a folding cup. This amazing device was made of a series of brass rings, tapering slightly downward. These were inset in such a manner that when pulled up they interlocked and formed a neat container. The folding cups, when first bought were plated with shining tin and the slip-on top was usually ornamented with an embossed design. Folded, the cup took up a small space. Opened, it was the answer to a replacement for the common dipper.

EVERY SCHOOL kid was required to have such a cup. We usually carried them about in our pocket and, when the recess bell sounded, we always strolled long enough to make it to the hydrant for a drink of water before tardily plodding to the classroom.

Under use, folding cups had two major faults. One, they tended to collapse unexpectedly while filled with water and send a cascade pouring down one's shirt front. Secondly, the tin plating wore off quickly and the brass appeared. Kept closed and not too well cleaned, they developed a acrid brassy smell and taste which added a piquancy to the water.

LATER ON, there were cups made of aluminum but anyone who was really anyone had a shiny brass model. Brass owners held that only the poor white trash bought the aluminum cups.

(There were two major criticisms offered against the aluminum models. In the first place, they were dull and drab and even more inclined to fold up at the wrong time than their brass predecessors. In the second place, folk of that day had heard rumors that aluminum might be sort of poison.)

YOU LOST an average of one or two cups a school term and there were always stern repercussions when you had to report your loss at home. The cups, as I recall, didn't cost too much—perhaps 15 cents—but it was some sort of federal crime to lose one.

They were products of an age before anyone had even dreamed of any such new fangled gadget as a drinking fountain. They were the answer, though, to the suspicion that the common dipper in the waterbucket was not all it should be from a sanitary standpoint.

WHAT REMINDED me of these devices of my childhood was the sight of one reposing in regal splendor in the show case of a pawnshop.

The dealer told me he had bought it from some customer who had wandered in. The cup was a genuine brass model with just enough tin plate left to show how glittering it must have once been. The rings proved tricky, when examined, and prone to collapse without warning.

The odor, too, was nostalgic. I TURNED THE old cup over and glanced at the price tag. The dealer had written "$4.95."

The chances are he will get that price for the cup.

Richard Starnes Crusty, Competent Cannon

WASHINGTON — Clarence Cannon, a crusty and durable welterweight who spent more than 40 years in Congress, was generally accounted one of the three or four most powerful men in Washington when he died last week.

He was certainly one of the most colorful and, after 85 summers, one of the most choleric. As chairman of the key House Appropriations Committee, Rep. Cannon fit every cliché about the creaky ancients who run Congress with a whim of iron. But for all his splenetic combativeness and his dour cast of countenance, he was one of the ablest lawgivers of this century.

HE WILL, for example, exercise great influence over the course of democratic government for as long as it survives by virtue of the volumes of parliamentary lore and precedent he wrote. He was House parliamentarian (itself a powerful and a little-known post) for 19 years prior to his first election in 1922. He wrote the rule book for every Democratic convention since 1920, and with the late Speaker Sam Rayburn was a familiar, if unlikely, sight to audiences watching televised conventions.

In the machinery of government, Rep. Cannon's "Precedents of the House of Representatives," "Synopsis of the Procedure of the House," and "Cannon's Procedure" are authoritative operating manuals.

BUT, OF COURSE, it was as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, a job he held for 22 years, that he became one of the select inner group of power-wielders that run Washington and much of the world. As chairman he presided over the spending of well over a trillion dollars—a figure that also can be expressed, $1,000,000,000,000—and at the same time managed to win the reputation as a hunched, homely, aloof and unapproachable skinflint.

"That brusque exterior," a long-time associate said, "was not a true revelation of the man's nature. He was a warmhearted individual. He was good to work with—as long as you did not try to be devious. He liked people to lay it on the line."

IN ONE bout, which was touched off by Rep. Cannon's abiding regard for saving a buck, the peppery octogenarian took on the whole Senate. The fight boiled down to a question of legislative procedure involving House and Senate, and ultimately it arrayed Rep. Cannon against his equisally stubborn and even more ancient Sen. Carl Hayden (D., Ariz.). Before it ended Rep. Cannon gavelled his committee into adopting a resolution containing a stinging rebuke to the Senate for adding $22 billion to the national debt, decreasing U. S. gold reserves and contributing to inflation—all by tampering with Rep. Cannon's handcrafted appropriation bills.

WHEN HE WAS 80, Chairman Cannon's 49 colleagues on the Appropriations Committee, to whom he customarily alluded as "a bunch of pirates," gave him a silver tray. In his speech of acceptance, Rep. Cannon said when he first ran for Congress "my opponent said I was too young, utterly incompetent and untrustworthy. By attaining the age of 80, I have lived down one of the accusations."
Most of the pirates, and perhaps many others around Washington, would insist that he had also long since lived down the other two charges. (Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Holmes Alexander No Statue Of Liberty Plays

WASHINGTON — When President Johnson went to Chicago on April 23rd, the FBI thought it prudent to put a "tail" on two Leftists who were deemed capable of doing violence.

One of these, a Negro woman, paid a call on a visiting delegation from Ghana, and her plain-clothes escort went with her, never letting her out of sight. While this visit between the American Negro and the Ghanians was taking place, an official notice was slipped under the hotel door. It warned all occupants of the building to stay away from the windows and to avoid suspicious motions.

THESE NORMAL precautions hardly seem out of order, considering what happened in November at Dallas, but the Ghana delegation, whom I later met in Washington, made a good deal of our "police state methods," and presumably carried this impression back home.

Another African delegation, this time from Algeria, recently met with some of us here, and was asked a question about the Monroe Doctrine. The spokesman, a thoughtful and well-informed priest, who was the group's expert on foreign policy, gave a rather involved philosophical answer. He tagged the Monroe Doctrine as an exclusion policy; which it certainly is. Its purpose, as he saw it, was to prevent European and Asian peoples, as well as their alien ideologies, from setting up their systems in the Western Hemisphere.

HE ARGUED THAT this was a short-sighted concept because it would turn the New World into a monolith, presumably a democratic one, and prevent the Americans from enjoying the benefits of cross-bred ideas and politics.

These two examples will do to illustrate a little-explored wrinkle in our foreign relations — the supposed necessity of making ourselves look good to foreigners. The Ghana delegation, smarting from American criticism about police state methods at home, was anxious to show us as the pot calling the kettle black. The Algerian delegation, fresh from a liberation war against France, was hyperbolizing the ideal of universalism. Both Ghana and Algeria are ardent advocates of neutralist diplomacy, anxious to get the best from both the Free World and the Communist Bloc.

IT IS THE KIND of situation which, for a long time, has preyed upon the naive of amateur foreign affairs managers. While nobody with the memory of the November tragedy in mind is going to protest too much about using protective measures for the President, there is still the idea that we have to prove our democratic purity by striking Statue of Liberty postures.

IN THE ABSTRACT, perhaps, a democratic President ought to be able to walk among his people with no danger to his person. A democratic nation, in the abstract, ought not to need an exclusion policy as we have in our immigration laws and in the Monroe Doctrine, and ought not to control the travel of citizens to enemy countries. But the realities are that madmen and enemies do assassinate heads of state, and that alien ideologies, both Fascist and Communist, have tried to "complement" our ways of life with theirs.

We are in a time when the temptation to try to strike postures before foreigners — to prove ourselves freedom-lovers and peace-lovers — is one that should be resisted without apology.

Baptists Exhorted To Lead In Rights

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Northern Baptists were told today they could not just discuss the racial issue in the abstract but that they must take an active part in the civil rights movement.

"The only serious question for Christians these days is how to participate in what is happening, what civil rights group to support," said a policy paper released during the 57th annual meeting of the American Baptist Convention.

"No Christian can acquiesce in any law or social custom which maintains the image or practice of segregation," the paper said.

CHICAGO UNIT

The paper was prepared by a Chicago committee composed of the Rev. Dr. Charles Andrews, director of the First Baptist church; the Rev. Frank G. Nelson, director of the University of Chicago Graduate House; and the Rev. Dr. Charles Long, faculty member of the University of Chicago Divinity School.

After the presentation of the paper, convention delegates met in small discussion groups. A resolution on race was to be prepared and placed before the delegates for a vote on Friday morning.

Both the American and Southern Baptists are holding a series of meetings leading to a weekend celebration by 40,000 persons of the work done by Baptist groups during the past 150 years.

RIGHTS LEADERS

The American Baptist Convention is to be addressed tonight and Wednesday by leaders of the civil rights movement, the Rev. Drs. Ralph Abernathy and Martin Luther King Jr., both of Atlanta, Ga.

The racial issue likely will hit the Southern Baptist Convention floor Thursday when the Christian Life Commission makes its report. There have been indications that an effort will be made to get endorsement for a strong Southern stand against segregation.

Harold E. Stassen, president of the American Baptist Convention, called Monday night for a middle-of-the-road policy on civil rights.

"Segregation or discrimination on the basis of race or color is clearly wrong; on the other hand the forceful insistence upon complete fulfillment of rights as individually interpreted is not sustained by our religious principles as I see it," said Stassen.

Several good boxes—the only reserved seats at the rodeo—are still available for those desiring front seats when the annual World's Championship Rodeo is held here June 3-4 at the Chamber of Commerce office has announced. Each box has six chairs, and is available for $15 plus general admission.

"We also urge those who plan to enter floats in the parade June 3 to call us well in advance," Edith Gay, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said Tuesday. "Each float must be identified as to sponsors in order to compete for the $100 in prizes."

The parade is scheduled for 4 p.m. June 3 to kick-off the annual rodeo, and bands, sheriff's posses, and riding clubs are expected to enter.

Patrolman And His Family See Royal Couple

Officer Bob Broughton of the Big Spring Police Department returned from vacation this week in Mexico, where he and his family saw Crown Prince Akhito and Princess Michiko of Japan.

The Big Spring policeman said they arrived in Mexico City the same day—a week ago today—the Japanese royal couple entered the city.

"There was such a traffic jam, I'd have hated to work the traffic," he said.

Another patrolman, Walter Johnson, was due to return to work today following vacation and six-weeks attendance at a polygraph operators school at Texas A&M in College Station. Johnson paid all of his tuition and other school expenses, and drew half his salary while he attended the school because the police department does not have a polygraph machine.

Two Big Spring officers are in their second week of study at Texas A&M where they are attending a course in Supervision of Police Personnel. The school will continue through May 22.

Westbrook Has Field Trip For Three Classes

WESTBROOK (SC) — Members of the fourth, fifth and sixth grade classes with their teachers and sponsors enjoyed a picnic and field trip to Big Spring Friday. The group enjoyed a skating party, had lunch at the City Park and then toured Webb Air Force Base.

Making the trip were 16 students from the fourth grade and their teacher, Mrs. S. L. Yeilding, also three mothers, Mrs. Royce Moore, Mrs. Dutch Doss and Mrs. Jimmy Henderson; from the fifth grade there were eight pupils, their teacher, Mrs. Robert Hutchins, and three mothers, Mrs. David Anderson, Mrs. Clyde Chambers, Mrs. Sherrill Bassinger; from the sixth grade were 16 students, their teacher, Ralph Bryant, Mrs. Bryant, Mrs. E. C. Whitehead, Mrs. A. C. Moody, Doris Hines, Mrs. Ted Jackson, Mrs. Billy Bassinger, Mrs. James Kelly, Mrs. Don Demson.

Members of the second grade class with their teacher, Mrs. Orlean Cook, and parents of the students will enjoy a last of school picnic at Abilene City Park on Tuesday May 19. The trip will be made by school bus.

Choir Draws Big Crowd

Final performance of the annual Festival of Light Music, presented by the Howard County Junior College music department, drew a near capacity crowd in the college auditorium Monday evening.

While the production was generally excellent Saturday in its opening performance, the Monday show moved without a hitch. At every point in the program, there was enthusiastic audience reaction. Ira Schantz, director of the choir, estimated that the HCCJ music scholarship fund would benefit by approximately $25 from the two performances.

Auto Fee Limit Is Reached Here

Auto registration fees for 1964 probably will pass the half million dollar mark in Howard County by the end of May.

As of May 15, Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector, reported total registration fees collected stood at $489,747.

"Of this total, $175,000 has been credited to the county. The state has received the remaining $314,747.

No county in Texas can receive more than $175,000 of the auto license fees paid in that county in any year.

Pastors Attend Area Conference

The Rev. Ramon Navarro and Rosario Moreno, pastor and lay member of the Northside Methodist Church, Big Spring, are attending the annual Rio Grande Conference at Mount Wesley Methodist in Kerrville. More than 100 churches of Texas and New Mexico, with Spanish speaking congregations, will be represented. Bishop Paul E. Martin of Houston will preside.

The conference opens this evening with Holy Communion, and will end Friday at noon with pastor appointments for the year announced at the close.

Damage Claim Filed In Court

A suit for damages has been filed in 118th District Court against John Paul Standard and others with Howard Laster listed as plaintiff.

Lester seeks $73,103.77 for damages he alleged he suffered in a two car mishap at State and Fourth Street intersection Dec. 17, 1963.

Junior High Class Promotes

FORSAN (SC) — Thirty-four junior high school classmates heard valedictorian Deryl Ann Dunagan and salutatorian Bill Crutcher speak at graduation exercises Thursday, May 14 at the Elbow School gymnasium. The Forsan and Elbow schools have closed for the summer.

Miss Dunagan spoke on "Now — Big Moments," and Bill's speech was entitled "High School Hopes." Each was presented with citizenship awards by Cliff Ferguson.

Roy Stockstill, superintendent of schools, presented honor roll awards to Bill, Deryl Ann, and to Randy Banks.

The students dressed in caps and gowns for the graduation ceremony. Augie Tidwell played the piano during the procession and recessional, and invocation was given by Aubrey Goodwin. The ceremony also included "Backward Glances" by Elizabeth Bryant.

In the class were Linda Arnold, Randy Banks, Vicki Bee, Elizabeth Bryant, Mary Burcham, Rusty Campbell, Cheryl Carter, Brenda Cleavenger, Mollie Condon, Bill Crutcher, Paula Daugherty, Claudia Davis, Carolyn Decker, Johnny Dolan.

Forsan Senior Class Finishes

FORSAN (SC) — Twelve graduating seniors heard Dr. Marvin Baker, president of South Plains College at Levelland, deliver the commencement address Friday at Forsan High School.

The valedictory address was given by Paula Sue Gordon, and Donald Gooch gave the salutatory address. Awards and scholarships were presented by Roy Stockstill, superintendent.

Paula Sue Gordon, the valedictorian, won the Study Club award. Cliff Ferguson, president of Forsan Service Club, gave citizenship awards to Dena Parker and Donald Gooch—a Dena Paul Lancaster, president of the school board, presented the diplomas.

Processional and recessional were given by Dianne Banks, invocation by the superintendent, and benediction by Mac Robinson, Forsan Baptist Church.

Graduates are Paula Sue Gordon, Dena Parker, Joyce Flynn, Bette Conger, Donald Gooch, Mack Henderson, Kenneth Soles, Jackie Howard, Ronnie Wilkins, Berny Scudday, Johnny Knapp and Dannie Kenner.

At the baccalaureate Dianne Banks played the processional and recessional. Invocation and the service was brought by Darrell Flynt, Forsan Church of Christ, and the high school chorus sang, "One God," and "The Green Cathedral." C. L. Gooch pronounced the benediction.

The graduating trip is under way this week. The 12 graduates, accompanied by W. M. Romans, class sponsor, and Mrs. C. L. Gooch and Mrs. R. Knapp, sponsors, are visiting Colorado Springs, Colo.

CAP Cadets Plan Wednesday Meet

Cadets of the Big Spring Civil Air Patrol squadron will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Civil Defense Building, 207 W. 10th. They will be given a complete orientation program. Cadet Commander Gary Stewart will be assisted in the program by Lt. Tom Grady of Webb Air Force Base.

Plans for moving the meeting place to Webb AFB will be discussed. A discussion of military courtesy will also be heard. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Certificates Still Unclaimed

Thirty-nine gift certificates are still on hand at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce office waiting to be picked up by the owners. Fifteen of the $1 not claimed at the Maid of Cotton pageant have been picked up, Edith Gay, secretary, said Tuesday morning. A list of ticket numbers, published in the Herald Sunday, resulted in a good portion of the pickups to date.

Delivers Sermon

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Rev. S. L. Yeilding, pastor of the Westbrook Baptist Church, was guest speaker at the Mabelle High School near Coleman, at the baccalaureate service Sunday evening. The pastor was a former teacher in the Mabelle school.

Police and plain-clothesmen put restraining arms on a man trying to get to the open car bearing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, in white hat, and United Arab Republic President Nasser, directly above policeman in white uniform, at Port Said in Egypt today. Graveside Rites Held For Infant Son Of Andings

Graveside services for James Rudolph Anding, infant son of Airman and Mrs. James Anding, 700 Gregg, will be held at Big Spring City Cemetery at 2 p.m. Wednesday under the direction of Nalley - Pickle Funeral Home. The infant died at 2:05 a.m. today in a local hospital.

The father came to Webb Air Force Base in April, 1961. He was married to Ruby L. Green Dec. 22, 1962. He was with the 3560th Supply Squadron at Webb until May 1 when he was transferred to Anchorage Alaska. The parents were members of Baker Chapel AME Church.

Survivors include the parents; a brother, Reginald S. Anding, Big Spring; paternal grandmother, Mrs. Alice Anding, Calhoun, La.; maternal grandparents, Rev. and Mrs. Floyd Green, Big Spring; maternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Green, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shields, San Angelo; paternal great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Henderson, Calhoun, La.

Banks To Check Proofs On Item For Magazine

Police Chief Jay Banks has received proofs of a story which he has been invited to write for Texas Town and City, a monthly publication of the Municipal League.

Garland deGraffenreid, editor of the magazine, asked the Big Spring officer to make any necessary corrections or changes in the story so the publishers can use it in an early issue.

The story outlines police operations in Big Spring with emphasis on incentives to the development of individual responsibility, such as the police committees: Police fund, uniform, wrecker inspection, jail kitchen and accident review board.

Webb Projects Are Proposed

Two projects for Webb AFB were spelled out in testimony before the House appropriations sub-committee on military expenditures Monday.

Total for the two — extension of runways at the Colorado City auxiliary landing strip and the construction of a gymnasium — is $379,000.

The auxiliary strip southwest of Colorado City is used in touch and go landings for Webb pilot trainees. It is 8,100 feet long and fully operational. The requested extension would simply increase the margin of safety for T-37s and T-38s making the practice landings. Information on the proposed gymnasium was not detailed, but it would replace a present inadequate structure.

Warmer weather will prevail from the southern Plains to the south Atlantic states with little change elsewhere. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Shallow Garza Test Finals

A Garza County project to the Post (Glorieta) pool has been finished.

Tom W. Landers No. 1-H-I-N, McCrary pumped 83 barrels of oil with 15 per cent water from perforations between 2,649-2,764 feet on potential test. The well was fractured with 30,000 gallons and 4 1/2-inch casing set at 3,000 feet. Total depth is 3,000 feet and the elevation from the ground is 2,379 feet.

The project is located 330 feet from the south and 800 feet from the east lines of section 2, Holmes, Divers & Long survey.

Two Suffer Minor Hurts In Crashes

Two persons received minor injuries in separate automobile accidents Monday.

Mrs. W. E. (Eva) Pounds, 29, 117 Madison, was taken to Cowper Clinic-Hospital and Eddie Joe Lamb, 27, 808 W. 7th, was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation in a Nalley-Pickle ambulance.

Authorities today said Mrs. Pounds was treated for minor injuries and released Tuesday morning. Lamb did not require treatment.

Police said Mrs. Pounds was

Gardner Gets Warm Hand

Some 700 enthusiastic fans, a good portion of them previously acquainted via records and television with Dave Gardner, gave the touring comedian a warm Big Spring welcome Monday night.

The show was in the City Auditorium, and it was all Gardner, with an assist by the Mack Alexander band. Toward the end of his machine-gun-pattern of jokes, Gardner took a fling at the drums with the band and showed himself no second-rate in this department either.

Gardner, troubled somewhat with lighting arrangements, did not miss a beat in incorporating chuckle-bringing comments into his act. A news photographer's flashgun brought forth a tent revivalist's shout of "See? There's the Light!" more than once.

Gardner's brand of humor is spontaneous and topical, and he showed on the stage, like in his records, that there are no sacred cows from his many-times acid remarks. Some jokes flirted with the edges of sacrilege, a few touched the boundaries of irreverence, but Gardner's appeal is strong among the younger, upper-teens and twenties groups. These dominated the audience here Monday, and it was a happy, satisfied audience. —KEITH McMILLIN

Denton Named To Annual Post

Lynnard Wayne Denton, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Denton, Silver Heeler Addition, Big Spring, has been named business manager of the Frickley "Pear," yearbook for Abilene Christian College. The Student Life Committee at ACC made the selections for all student publications, for the 1964 - 65 school year. He is a junior at ACC this year and an English major. Last summer he attended Howard County Junior College.

Dad Wants To Pay Checks

Anyone who has a check purportedly written by Robert Priddy, 22, former airman, is asked to contact the sheriff's office without delay.

Priddy, discharged from the Air Force on May 1, is being held in the Howard County jail on charges of writing worthless checks. Sonny Buzbee, deputy sheriff, said that so far approximately $300 in checks allegedly written by Priddy have been turned into the sheriff.

Buzbee said that Priddy thinks there may be $100 more in checks not reported. The deputy said that Priddy's father is due in Big Spring on May 25 and has said he wants to redeem outstanding checks his son has written.

Bond has been set at $1,000 in the case now on file against the former airman. Buzbee said that Priddy is from Cassville, Mo.

Utah Teachers Stay Off Jobs For Another Day

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Most of Utah's 10,000 teachers, faced with possible court action, planned to stay off their jobs today to decide the next move in their efforts to get more money for education. Virtually all public schools remained open, as Monday, when the two-day teachers' protest walkout began, and the State Board of Education sought a court order to keep teacher leadership from prolonging the walkout.

The order would prevent Utah Education Association officials from "encouraging teachers or other personnel to breach their contracts or to strike against the state, or any of its school districts."

ADVISEMENT
Judge Joseph G. Jeppson of 3rd District Court took the request under advisement. The UEA planned a statewide meeting for teachers at the State Fairgrounds in Salt Lake City.

The teachers were to discuss at a mass meeting today proposals that included prolonging the walkout and continuing to refuse to sign next year's contracts. They hope to force the hand of Gov. George D. Clyde and get more school money. The walkout was triggered by Clyde's refusal to heed the recommendations of his study committee and call a special legislative session to consider an emergency $6-million appropriation for schools.

OTHER SPOTS
The success of the teachers' action was being watched in neighboring Idaho and throughout the nation by teachers not content with local conditions. A walkout by 620 union teachers hit East St. Louis, Ill., Monday.

The walkout drew some student support in Salt Lake City, where demonstrators carried signs reading "Fair Play for the UEA" at the State Capitol. Clyde told the demonstrators, "Every step is going to be taken that can be taken to see you don't lose your opportunities." He was hanged in effigy by other students at a local high school.

John C. Evans Jr., UEA executive secretary and leader of the protest action, called Monday's walkout successful. The UEA has demanded more money for salaries and school facilities. It says Utah teachers' salaries rank 23rd in the nation. They receive between $4,400 and $7,000 a year, with the average $5,900, it said.

The UEA claims it represents 96 per cent of Utah public school teachers.

Flames Destroy Tenant House
Fire destroyed a tenant house on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McNew, nine miles north of Big Spring, Saturday evening. A neighbor discovered the blaze, which fortunately was kept from adjacent buildings. Mr. and Mrs. McNew said they were grateful to the Big Spring Fire Department and to neighbors who were so helpful in controlling the flames.

Cattle Income Shows Decline
WASHINGTON (AP) — An Agriculture Department survey showed this week the average net income of cattle ranches in the Southwest last year was 38 per cent less than in 1962. Drought and lower cattle prices were said to be the main causes for this decline.

The 1962 net income average was $8,236 and the 1963 figure was $5,081.

In the Northern Great Plains the net income average for such ranches was $7,540 in 1963 and $7,252 in 1962. In the intermountain region the averages were $9,838 last year and $11,936 the previous year.

Oldsters, Young Ideas, Break Fair Bus Trip Here
Thirty-seven members of the Santa Monica Half-Century Club, ranging in age from 41 to a youngish 84 years, en route to the World's Fair in New York, had lunch at Coker's Restaurant Monday.

The elderly tourists, travelling in a big Continental air conditioned bus, left Los Angeles County May 14. They will be back in Los Angeles June 15. Their travels will cover close to 10,000 miles and their itinerary includes stopovers in nearly every major city in the U. S.

Helen Evans, who operates a tour bureau in Los Angeles, is in charge of the group. She said that the trip calls for visits at all points of interest on the southern route and equal time on the northern route back home.

The tourists are assured of hotel reservations along the road, of tickets and transportation to the Fair in New York, of at least eight special free banquets and of all other accommodations except day by day meals.

The stay in New York City will cover three days and the party is due there May 26. The bus has two drivers, Jim Allen and Erick Erickson, experienced handlers of tours of this nature. Assisting Mrs. Evans as coordinator is Charles Bender.

Stocking Runs Fail To Help Colt Ace

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

The ladies of Houston got 186 runs for Ken Johnson.

Houston only one hit in a 4-0 victory that sent the Phillies back into first place in the National League.

The Colts staged the promotion in an effort to produce runs for Johnson, the no-hit, no-duck knuckelballer who went into the game with a 3-3 record.

getting men on base. Only two reached first. Nellie Fox when he was hit by a pitch in the first inning and Jim Wynn, who lashed a ground single over third base leading off the fifth inning.

Happiness Is A Silver Hat

The victorious Phoenix, Ariz., JC track team gathers for a group picture with coach Ronald C. Eastin after scoring 122 points to unseat HCJC in the 1964 National Junior College Track and Field meet here Saturday night. Coach Eastin holds the ABC Silver Hat, emblematic of his first place finish. HCJC had ruled the meet three straight years.

Johnston struck out nine and allowed nine hits before being replaced in the eighth inning.

The Mets had been unable to score against San Francisco pitching for 31 innings and trailed 1-0 in the eighth when Bob Taylor singled, Rod Kanehl beat out an infield hit and George Altman homered.

Booster Club Promotes Saturday Grid Battle

Ticket sales for the upcoming intra-squad football game of the Big Spring Steers are to be handled by the Quarterback Club, which will use proceeds to finance operations during the 1964-65 school year.

Memorial Stadium, starting at 8 o'clock Saturday night.

Chances are Benny Kirklund will quarterback one of the teams and either Joe Jaure or Van Tom Whatley the other one.

Skateland, Forsan Post American Softball Wins

Two games were played Monday night at the City Park in the American Softball League, with Skateland battling past the 331st in the opener, 10-3, while Forsan nipped Pioneer in the second contest, 3-2.

That gave T. J. Wall the win and Long the loss.

Henry had a double for the winners while Tidwell and Balios had a triple and double, respectively, for Pioneer Natural Gas.

Torres Triumphs In Golf Tourney

Armando Torres emerged the winner in the tournament staged by the Big Spring Golf Association at the Municipal course last weekend.

More than 50 boys have been undergoing drills and coach Don Robbins said he was impressed with their enthusiasm and determination to succeed.

Palmer pulled even with a birdie on No. 3 and went ahead to stay with another birdie on the sixth hole.

Hebert finished with a par 72 for 279 and $3,500 second-place money.

Bull Signs Pact With NFL Bruins

Bovines Wind Up Home Play Today

The Big Spring Steers play their final home game at 4 p.m. today, at which time they oppose the Abilene Eagles.

Angelo Bobcats in San Angelo. Abilene has won four of its last five starts and could tie for first place, if Midland Lee Big Spring has only one game left on its schedule after today—a Saturday outing with the San Angelo Bobcats in San Angelo.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: DAVID BRINKLEY, television commentator: "President Lyndon B. Johnson said it would help if we could get young boys off the streets and out of the alleys and pool halls. He was perhaps, reflecting the subconscious bias of his generation dating back to the time when poolrooms were said to be shady hangouts for gamblers and bums. But there are some of us who found poolrooms to build character, to teach self-reliance, and to be respectful of his superiors—his superiors being those who could run the rack without missing. Furthermore, we know it to be a fact that some of the most distinguished officials in the President's own administration spent some of their youth in poolrooms. Beyond that, poolrooms now are coming to be clean, antiseptic, and perhaps full of women and children. If Mr. Johnson had kept up with these sociological developments he might instead have recommended that we get the young boys off the streets, out of the alleys, and into the poolrooms."

GARY PLAYER, the golfing South African: "I've seen many changes in the five years I've been on the golf tour in America. First, there are more foreign players making the tour. There are more American pros playing in foreign countries, too. Pro golfers today are also more conscious of clean living—more exercising, less smoking, more concentration on fitness and being in good shape. I think they also practice harder today than when I joined the tour. All the travel used to be done by car. Today you see more traveling by plane. The money's bigger so the pros can afford it. It's ten times tougher to win today. There are 250 touring pros today, against about 150 five years ago. All the golfers on the tour today have a lot of ability, and you never know who's going to win..."

ROBERT L. BURNES, St. Louis writer: "There's no comparison between the New York Mets and the Houston Colts this year. The Colts have achieved more respectability in little more than two years in the National League. The Mets are still a stumbling, bumbling, ineffectual ball club. You wind up feeling sorry for them because you wonder how they are ever going to win more than a handful of games. There is definition to what the Colts are doing. They have capable veterans, spotted at numerous positions, but in almost every instance there is a good-looking rookie right alongside. By contrast, if any ball club ever patently indicated that it is committed right now to last place, the Mets showed it on their visit here. There seems to be, even this early in the season, an attitude of resigned defeatism on the part of the Mets. It is certainly in contrast to the aggressive attitude of the Colts."

BOB RULE, Houston writer: "Make no mistake about it, the one big reason behind Rice's opposition to the University of Houston as a member of the Southwest Conference is the entertainment dollar."

JIM MacKENZIE, Arkansas football coaching aide: "Pro scouts coming through Fayetteville told us Oklahoma had more pro prospects than any team in this part of the country."

FRANK BROYLES, Arkansas coach: "SMU beat us worse last year than any team since Texas in 1961 (33-7) but the score (14-7) didn't show it."

Bengals Win Two Games From Odessa's Oilers

The Big Spring Tigers kept their 1964 undefeated record unblemished Sunday as the visiting Odessa Oilers were dropped, 15-7 and 7-1, in a doubleheader at Steer Park. The Bengals now stand 7-0 on the season.

In the opener, doubles by Perez and Swangston and a homer by Robert Hammock paced the victory as Tony Piarro tossed a six-hitter at the Oilers. Hammock, who had a two-for-four game at the plate, was the big man with a bat as he produced four runs. Mendoza also had two hits for the locals.

The second contest saw Chubby Moser go the distance as he tossed a no-hitter at the Oilers. The visitors garnered their only run in the fourth inning on two errors, a hit batsman, and two passed balls. Valenzuela was charged with the loss.

The only extra-base hit of the contest was by Hammock of the Tigers as he had a double en route to a four-for-four night at the plate that saw him account personally for two of the Tigers runs.

The Bengals go to Odessa next Sunday to return the contests.

Typical Finish Rewards Palmer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "When did you know you had it won, Arnie?" someone asked Arnie Palmer.

Palmer pulled even with a birdie on No. 3 and went ahead to stay with another birdie on the sixth hole.

Cards Edge By Braves

The Cardinals locked up Monday night with the Braves in the National Little League in one of the wildest games of the still young season with the Redbirds coming out on top six innings later, 17-16.

Palmer trailed Lionel Hebert by three strokes going into the final round of the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Monday, then put together one of his typically brazen, blistering finishes for a two-stroke triumph.

Palmer, boldly going to his driver at every opportunity, whipped over the 7,042-yard Quail Creek Country Club course in a final-round five-under-par 67 for a winning 277, including birdies on the last two holes.

Each team has two honoraries, Larry Brown and S. Eggleston hitting round-trippers for the Braves with one man on each time, while Mike Hill hit a three-run homer and Jeff Thomas a grand slam blast for the Cards. There were also five doubles, with John Rutherford, John Armstrong, Neal Bryson and Thomas getting one each for the Cardinals while Larry Vasquez hit a two-bagger for the Braves. Vasquez also hit a triple.

Hebert finished with a par 72 for 279 and $3,500 second-place money.

Vervey had a closing 70 for 281 and third place, his best PGA tour finish. McGowan, 73, and Souchak, 72, tied for fourth at 282. Dave Marr had a closing 68 for 283 and sixth place.

The money winners: Arnie Palmer, $5,000; Lionel Hebert, $3,500; Bob Vervey, $2,750; Jack McGowan, $2,125; Mike Souchak, $1,750; Dave Marr, $1,400; Bruce Devlin, $1,050; Jerry Steelman, $700; Tony Leno, $400.

The tourney start was delayed by two days of rain. On one of those days, Thursday, Palmer had shot a 75 before it was washed off the boards. When the first round was finally played Saturday, he had a 72, added a 69 Sunday and had another 69 on the first 18 holes of Monday's 36-hole windup.

It was his first tourney victory since he picked up his fourth Masters title at Augusta, Ga., earlier this year. The $5,000 first-place money increased his winnings for the year to $44,288.

Hebert, who shared the half-way lead with George Bayer and was in sole control after 54

Tourney Set For Sunday

A city-wide partnership golf tournament will be held Sunday at the Big Spring Country Club with a field of 60 teams expected to turn out for the event.

Players will be allowed to make their own pairings, with a tandem being made up of a 10-and-under handicapper and a 15-and-over handicap player with a maximum of 15 allowed. Starting times will also be made by players with entries being able to tee off at any time as long as they can get in 18 holes of golf. There will be a charge of $5 a team with merchandise awards going to top finishing tandems.

Panhellenic Forum To Have Party

The Big Spring Panhellenic Forum will have a Coke party May 27 for high school senior girls who plan to attend schools with national sorority affiliations. Also, their mothers will attend. The forum met Saturday at a luncheon at the Big Spring Country Club.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted by the group, and new officers named. Mrs. Curtis Driver will serve as president, and Mrs. Dee Jon Davis is vice president. Mrs. M. R. Koger was named secretary-treasurer.

Program chairmen for the coming affair are Mrs. Wayne Denton, Mrs. Ewing Werlein and Mrs. Jack Little. Also, Mr. Ray Boren and Mrs. M. W. Talbot were named to chairmanships. Twenty members attended.

Plans for national affiliation were discussed and will be studied further at a fall meeting.

6-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tues., May 19, 1964

Receive Award

Participants in the Certified Professional Secretaries examination display the award presented to them at the divisional meeting of the National Secretaries Association (International) held in Dallas. They are Mrs. S. Gorman, Miss Marguerite Cooper, Mrs. Bill Stone, Mrs. Camille Patterson and Mrs. Herbert Heath. Mrs. Pat Porter is not pictured.

Secretaries Awarded Division Certificate

The Big Spring Chapter of the National Secretaries Association (International) won for the second consecutive year an award at the 12th annual meeting of the Texas - Louisiana Division of the National Secretaries Association held in Dallas on the weekend.

The local chapter was presented a certificate for the largest percentage of members participating in the Certified Professional Secretaries examinations. The group was in competition with 44 chapters in the Texas-Louisiana division with a total membership of 1,535.

Delegates attending from Big Spring included Mrs. Winifred Greenlee, Mrs. Bill Stone, Mrs. Camille Patterson, Mrs. Jerry Callahan and Mrs. Pat Porter. Certified Professional Secretaries participants are Miss Marguerite Cooper, Mrs. S. Gorman, Mrs. Herbert Heath, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. Stone and Mrs. Porter.

Results of the examination given in May will be announced at the international convention in July in Washington, D. C.

At the Dallas meeting Mrs. Bobbie Jones of Lake Jackson was named president, and Miss Edna Oates of Dallas was named Secretary - of - the Year. Mrs. LaVerne Arrowwood, CPS, Southwest district vice president was one of the featured speakers.

Special prizes were won by Mrs. Greenlee and Mrs. Porter. The 1965 division meeting will be held in Shreveport, La.

'Amateur' Is Topic At Program

The Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi heard a program entitled, "The Amateur," Monday evening when Mrs. John Carlson, 2516 Larry Drive, was hostess to the group.

Mrs. Arthur Lee Smith was the speaker and said that the amateur works for love, not money; pursues a subject because of a taste for it, not to make a living but to minister to life.

During the business session, suggestions were examined for next year's programs and service. The choice will be made at a called meeting during the summer. A couple's social meeting was set for 7:30 o'clock Saturday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Badger, 2608 Rebecca Drive.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Carlson and the cohostess, Mrs. Melvin Clark, from a table covered with ecru lace and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Attending were 14 members and two guests, Mrs. Ray Pipes and Mrs. Reg Hyer.

Scholarship Presented

Miss Kathleen Martin was introduced by Miss Elizabeth Daniel at a banquet held Monday evening by members of the American Association of University Women. The honoree was presented the award by the club for the second year, and is an honor student at Howard County Junior College.

At the meeting in the Patio Room of Holiday Inn, Miss Nell Brown presented a 25 year history of the club. Reports were made on the completion of the year's work.

The group endorsed the school bond issue, and Mrs. Marvin Tate urged all members to vote Saturday on the issue.

The incoming president, Miss Mary Foreman, was introduced, and Mrs. C. N. Humphrey outgoing president, was presented an arrangement of spring flowers by the hostesses. They were Mrs. M. R. Turner, Miss Maurine Van Cleave, Mrs. Dale Vaughan and Mrs. Ira Williams.

Business Women Outline Work At Monday Meeting

Two members of the Cactus Chapter of the American Business Women's Association spoke on their business experiences when the group met Monday evening at the Downtown Tea Room.

Mrs. Darwin Webb spoke on banking and the various opportunities in that field. Mrs. Alice Sellers discussed shop operation and merchandising.

Mrs. Shirley Silivinski was installed as a new member. The refreshment table was decorated with an arrangement of spring flowers presented by Mrs. Dessie Trippie. Sixteen members attended.

Surprise Party Notes T. H. Tarbet Birthday

T. H. Tarbet Sr., a long time Ackerly resident, was honored at his home in Ackerly Saturday with a surprise birthday party on his 80th birthday.

Mr. Tarbet first came to Dawson County from Rule 50 years ago, and resided in the Cotton Center community north of Ackerly until the mid-forties. He returned to make his home in Ackerly in 1951, and has been here since that time.

The party was attended by all Mr. Tarbet's descendants except one grandchild. His two sons,

P. K. Tarbet of Ackerly, and T. H. Tarbet Jr. of Big Spring, their wives, and a number of his grandchildren were in attendance. They were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tarbet of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. Don Tarbet of Farwell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lampe of Midland, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tarbet of Lubbock, Sam Tarbet of Ackerly, Mr. and Mrs. David Tarbet of Big Spring, and Kathy Tarbet, also of Big Spring. Mr. Tarbet's seven great-grandchildren also were in attendance, as well as his wife and his sister, Miss Josephine Tarbet of Rule.

Family Leaves For World's Fair

Five sisters and sisters-in-law left May 14 to attend the World's Fair in New York and visit relatives.

The travelers are Mrs. B. F. Petty, Mrs. J. R. Petty, Mrs. Herschel Petty and Mrs. Noel Lester, all of Big Spring, and Mrs. O. C. Curtiss of Fort Worth. En route, they will visit Mrs. J. R. Petty's daughter and family, the J. T. Erwins, of Fort Campbell, Ky., and Mrs. B. F. Petty's daughter and family, the Warren L. Wilburs, of Washington, D. C. They plan to return home June 2.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Top Sheets Easier To Fit

Dear Heloise: Since bottom fitted sheets are so difficult to put on the bed, I buy all top fitted sheets. These are fitted only on one end. Put the first sheet on the bed with the "fitted" end at the top of the bed and the second sheets on the bed with the fitted end at the bottom of the bed. Naturally, the top sheet holds the bottom one nicely in place. Also, these sheets may be interchanged thus making them last much longer in my estimation. And also the top sheet may be used as a bottom sheet if you are one who likes to partially change your beds twice weekly. This is quite a savings on laundry bills.

HELOISE
Emily

Dear Heloise: For a quick hair set, I save spray bottles, wash them thoroughly and put stale beer in them. Then I spray my hair before setting it and after it is set, spray it once again. The beer will dry quickly and hold very nicely. It also leaves a shine on my hair. I use rollers and it takes about one hour to dry. . . Mrs. C. B. Many beauty operators write that when your permanent begins to lag or sag or just string . . . that if the hair is set with beer it will give it body. I have tried this method on my own hair and it is so. But no beauty consultant, beauty stylist or hair consultant, so far as I know, has ever thought to put it in a spray bottle. Thanks to Mrs. C. B. for that idea. . . Heloise Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Brushers Honored At Housewarming

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Brasher, Rt. 1, Ackerly, were honored at a housewarming Thursday evening. Hostesses were Mrs. Alfred Herren, Mrs. Belton Hill, Mrs. Durwood Blagrove and Mrs. J. E. Peugh. Refreshments were served to 42 guests at a table covered with a white linen cloth and appointed with milk glass. An orange carnation centerpiece accented the serving area.
