

"WILBER, WE GOTTA GET READY!" -- La Danda Collins and Colt Redinger are getting the rodeo spirit as they look forward to the annual Little Buckaroo Rodeo. The fun event, sponsored by Alpha Rho Delta, is slated for Saturday, July 12 at C. R & R Arena just north of town.

Weather Modification Gets Voter Approval Here

Wednesday's weather modification balloting drew more than twice as many Oltonite voters as did the Democratic primary here in May. Locally, 264 persons indicated "for" while 69 people marked "against" on the Wednesday ballot.

Voters in portions of four area counties - Lamb, Castro, Hale and Floyd - gave the green light for resumption of the weather modification program was was discontinued in 1977.

Northern Lamb County residents approved the measure 733 for; 209 against. Southern Castro County voted 245 for and 69 against. The situation was reversed in Floyd County where it was 128 for and 331 against.

Most of Hale County was included in the area to be included in the hail suppression program where the vote was 1,154 for; 1,264 against.

Numerous letters from residents outside the proposed weather modification program area were printed earlier this week in the Plainview Daily Herald with a good many persons threatening a boycott of Plainview businesses if the measure was approved Wednesday.

Hale County boxes where the proposal was approved were Hale Center, Cotton Center, Halfway and Edmonson.

'Top Hat' Marks Chimney Sweep

Harried housewives or bothered businessmen who find themselves pestered with cleaning problems, indoors or out, have only to call H&H Cleaning Service for satisfactory solutions.

The newly organized cleaning service is owned and operated by Mark Hulin who this weekend moved his home to Littlefield to set up his base of operations, but who has plans to offer his service in outlying towns over the south plains.

Wearing a formal "Top Hat", symbolic of his profession, Hulin specializes as a Chimney Sweep.

Clad in white overalls he assures the homemaker that with the aid of his protective tarp and constantly running vacuum cleaner, he is equipped to do that dirty job without clutter or mess. He says that he carries liability insurance for his patrons protection.

"Chimney Sweeps have been known as far back as 18th century England," Hulin explains. "When fireplaces were used as the basic form of heating, the necessity for keeping the opening of the chimney shaft free from the thick residue which forms in the flue lining, made them necessary.

"Prior to the energy crisis, fireplaces in this area were more romantic and decorative than useful. Today's more continuous usage for practical purposes is causing a much greater build-up of flammable creosote in chimneys of area homes. If ingnited, this creosote burns with great force."

Hulin states that there were over 40,000 chimney fires in the nation last year, with several on record in Lubbock. They are listed among the top 10 fire hazards of the home. The first fire in a chimney is a terrifying experience; the second is often a total disaster.

He cautions that chimneys used three times a week or more during a burning season should be inspected and cleaned annually. Others used less often may be cleaned every two years. He offers free inspection and estimate to any one interested in this service.

Also included in H&H service is window cleaning, both commercial and residential. He lists the removal of storm windows for effective cleaning, or any other window cleaning chore that presents a problem.

Representative for Steamatic Carpet cleaners, Hulin is equipped for excellent carpet cleaning, offering protective care and color brightening.

H&H will even remove those unsightly oil spots on driveways and in home garages.

Hulin and his wife, Darla, are parents of a daughter, two years of age. Their home-based operation may be reached by calling 385-6300, Littlefield.

Until recently Hulin has been a teacher/coach. Although he enjoyed his profession, he has always had a desire to operate his own business. To satisfy this yearning - H&H Cleaning Service was formed. He offers to start at the very bottom...of your chimney, and work his way up.

MARK HULIN is ready for his job of chimney sweep, a service which he is offering to area residents. The top hat is a trade mark of the chimney sweep.

Cemetery Assn. Meeting Set

A general meeting has been set for Thursday, June 26 by Olton Cemetery Association. The 8 p.m. meeting will be held in the community room of Olton State Bank.

All interested persons are invited to attend. Important business will be conducted.

Keys Found

A ring with keys has been found in scrap newspapers turned in for the Girl Scout paper drive. The bundle of papers in which they were found was left at Ratliff Upholstery. Owner may claim keys by describing them.

Special Event Planned Here

Plans are underway for a special "happening" for the Olton area Saturday, Aug. 2. Exciting events are in the making for this first annual celebration.

No name has been selected for the affair that might be called "old settlers' reunion," "homecoming," "pioneer round-up" or other title. Suggestions are invited and may be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce.

Preparations are being made for a parade of antique vehicles, fiddlers' contest, liar's contest, horse shoe pitching contest, beard growing contest and square dancing on the streets that evening.

Several gifts will be presented during festivities such as oldest resident, person living in Olton longest time and person traveling farthest distances.

Old Fashioned Jamboree Slated

Jamborees are coming!

Music lovers are in for special treats this summer with old-fashioned "jamborees" the third Saturday in June, July and August.

The first jamboree will begin at 8 p.m. Saturday, June 21 in the agriculture community building. Some half dozen music groups are expected to perform, offering blue grass, country and gospel music. Bub Holt will be master of ceremonies.

Admission will be free although a pass-the-hat offering will be taken during the evening to underwrite the minimal expense that will be incurred through rental of the building. All monies, beyond that amount, will be donated to Olton Cemetery Association's development fund.

An invitation is extended to any group wishing to participate.

A concession stand will be operated.

Young Australians Visiting, Planning Trip To Panama

"You might mention they're unemployed marine biologists, there might be someone here looking for one," advised Chris Spain this week. Here to visit relatives there is evident comraderie among the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Spain and his two "Aussie" companions, Ross Wishart and Chris Grof.

Ross hails from Brisbane, Australia. Young Grof, too, was born in Australia but his parents moved to Cali, Colombia when he was 12 years old. Thus he met, grew up with and became friends with Chris Spain, who is the son of Jim and Joy Spain.

Graduates of James Cook University in Queensland, Australia, the two young men are as yet unemployed.

"There's not much demand for marine biologists," admits Ross. Like many counterparts in the States, the two have learned that a college degree does not mean there will be a job waiting in one's chosen field.

Grof, who finished undergraduate study in December, says that probably he'll have to return to school for graduate study. Right now, the two are enjoying travel.

Before joining Spain (who graduated in May from Colorado State University at Fort Collins, Colo.), the two Australians rented a car and saw as much of the U.S. and Canada as they could squeeze into one month.

"We saw so much, so quickly, it's hard to say what was most impressive. I guess it must have been the snow. We saw lots of snow -- it was quite unique," says Ross, who was awed by the beauty of Banff National Park.

Mexican food was also new to Ross, who exclaims, "I'm into it now!"

Ross adds the "seconds" offered here for coffee have been a genuine bonus of his visit to the States. Confessing he loves coffee, he says that free re-fills are unheard of in his homeland. "You have to buy every cup you drink. Here, where we can have all we want - well, we sort of went beserk over coffee!"

Sprinkler irrigation systems have also amazed the visitors. Coming from a sub-tropical to tropical area where there is plenty of rain, Ross described the irrigation back home as "a small trickle".

Aware of the intensity of weather modification here, Grof says there is no such program in Australia, or at least in the Brisbane area. Hail is not unknown though and he recalls one fruit grower's solution to hail damaged apples.

"The hail damage was so bad he couldn't sell his apples so he made juice from them and did quite well. So well, in fact, he continues his juice business."

Visiting here a little more than a week, the two Australians and Chris Spain have been lending helping hands to his cousin, Steve Spain. They have enjoyed fellowship as they helped wield hammer, paint brush and hoe.

Memories of the friendliness of Olton people they've met will go with them as they leave this weekend for a trip they expect to take about three weeks.

On their way to Cali, they plan to motor to Panama in Spain's well-used Toyota.

"We'll drive it as far as we can and then leave it," they explained, with some measure of reservation. Their itinerary is "round-about" with a visit first to Oklahoma City and on to Houston where they'll visit Spain's sister.

Shunning the high cost of motel stay, they plan to camp all along the way.

After a visit with his parents, Spain plans a visit to Indonesia where he will buy batik art to sell when he returns to the States. He made similar trip last year and has with him a sampling of that unusual art of textile painting.

Studying bio-agriculture and English at CSU, Spain hopes someday to write. Two poems that he wrote after his visit to Indonesia last year have been published. Perhaps this summer will bring even more incentive.

SundayNight Burglary Reported At Leon's Grocery

A Sunday night entry and burglary of Leon's Grocery and Market was discovered Monday morning.

When Harold Eby, an employee, arrived to open the store for business hours, the side door was unlocked. He immediately called Leon Noack, the owner-manager.

A preliminary search of the premises revealed that a box of large trash bags had been taken from the shelf and used as carrying bags. Taken were approximately 400 cartons of cigarettes, valued at almost $2,500.

The office door had been kicked open and some $450 in change was missing. Throughout the large inventory, it was difficult to know what else may be missing.

Noack is of the opinion the robbery took place between 2 and 6 a.m. evidently by someone who had a key in their possession.

Local police, County officers and Texas Rangers have been called into the case. Investigation continues at press time.

Graveside Rites Held For Luis Lopez Sr.

Graveside rites were conducted Saturday afternoon in Olton Cemetery for Luis Lopez Sr., 71.

Officiating were Blanton Martin of Hart Camp and the Rev. Glenn Rosendale, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Church. Arrangements were made by Parsons Funeral Home.

Mr. Lopez died about 7 p.m. Thursday in South Plains Hospital in Amherst. He had been a resident of the Olton area 28 years.

He was born Sept. 23, 1908 in Bexar County. He married Petra Lopez Nov. 22, 1941 in Bexar County. He was a Roman Catholic and retired farm laborer.

Survivors include his wife, Petra; one daughter, Marilyn Lopez; seven sons, E.G. of Spade and Leroy, Henry, Ray, Lupe, Larry and Luis Jr., all of Olton; 13 grandchildren; three sisters, Ramona Obya of San Antonio, Lorenza Gonzales of Somerset and Victoria Sauceda of Van Ormy and two brothers, Eusebio of Somerset and Teodeso of San Antonio.

Say What?

Jogger Watching

BY FREDDY STOCKDALE

By now you may or may not know that of all the nation's millions of athletes, I place myself in the weekend athlete category.

However, it must be pointed out that man does not live by weekend volleyball alone. Hence I spend a few of my weekday mornings shooting baskets at a nearby park.

Now I know that bouncing a basketball around and attempting to throw it through a hoop without anyone trying to guard me is not exactly strenuous activity, but it sure beats the next choice - jogging. In my opinion, anything is less boring than running around in a big circle at a park wearing your underwear. If I'm going to get some exercise I'm at least going to be doing something besides panting and thinking how much farther I have to go.

Don't get me wrong, I'm not anti-jogger, just anti-jogging. In fact, joggers amaze me. I have made enough trips to the park to realize that the majority of joggers are regulars. I have even made it into a science. I can tell what time it is by who is jogging at that particular moment.

They are an interesting bunch, this cast of regular runners. So interesting, as a matter of fact, that I have given them all names.

Without further adieu, let me introduce you to some of my running friends. See if their character descriptions match some jogger you are familiar with.

--No running contingent should be without at least one person who looks like he or she just stepped out of a sporting goods catalogue. In this case, there are two--Sweatband Billy and Sweatband Barbara. As their names imply, Billy and Barbara wear at least two pairs of sweatbands on their wrists in addition to headbands. They are always decked out in $90 custom jogging suits and $35 Nike running shoes. They are not married but should be. Both look great, run terrible.

--On the other side of the coin there is Dirty Daniel. He always looks like he just changed his oil without using an oil pan. He has long greasy hair and runs in a dirty teeshirt, cutoffs and black socks that flop around his ankles. Looks terrible, runs great.

--My personal favorites are a pair I call Ma and Pa. Neither could be a day under eighty, but they are out there everyday - walking, not jogging. Ma is always wearing a long dress and a huge sunbonnet, while Pa struts around in an old pair of overalls. The only thing matching their fast pace is Ma's nagging mouth. She is always telling Pa how he should be doing this or that. Pa never says a word. I guess they are married, but in this day and time, who knows?

--Then there is Macho Mike. Huge guy. Looks like he eats Volkswagens for breakfast. Wears tight shorts and tight shirts, and, of course, a gold chain around his neck. He'll get out of his car, run around the park for about thirty minutes, flexing his muscles the whole time, then get in his car and leave. While he is running he makes it a point to appear that jogging is the easiest thing in the world for him. Ah, but I know better. As soon as he gets in his car, he starts breathing hard and his tongue hangs out.

--The Waltons are the latest addition to my regulars list. They are THE all-American family, complete with mother, father and 2.5 children. All wear white shorts, shirts, socks and shoes. I'm sure they always have a snack of apple pie and milk waiting for them when they arrive back at their three bedroom, two car garage home. Sort of makes the Osmonds seem like the Addams family, doesn't it?

--Another regular is One Lap Lucy. She is an absolute knockout. A real Va-Va-Va-Voom type. She only runs one lap a day but with her figure, that's all she needs.

--Her counterpart is One Lap Larry. He only runs one lap a day also, but not because he has a great figure. No doubt about it, he is after One Lap Lucy. He also goes by the name Hustlin' Hank.

--Perhaps the most dedicated jogger at the park is Infinite Irving. He is there before I arrive and there after I leave. As far as I know, he never quits running. He is about 50 years old, fat and takes tiny steps when he runs. The bottom half of his body is like a machine. Those tiny steps never waver. The top half looks like an accident about to happen. His arms flail, his head bobs and weaves and every breath sounds like it's going to be his last. But he just keeps on jogging.

Well, there they are. Each are individuals but part of a group. Alike but different. All with the common goal of making their bodies feel bad, so they can feel better.

Goodnight Infinite Irving - wherever you are.

School Board Meets, Accepts Five Resignations

School board members Monday evening heard school principals explain Texas Assessment Basic Skills tests taken this year by fifth and ninth grade students throughout Texas.

Ray Kinnison interpreted tests by fifth grade students in H.P. Webb Elementary while Robert Sivley reported on ninth grade testing in OHS. A report on Metropolitan tests, taken by the entire student body, was also given.

Trustees accepted the resignations of Janie Elguea, teacher aide; Lydia Ross, bus driver; Tom Duncan, assistant coach; Tommy Hancock, vocational agriculture teacher and Stacy Hancock, secretary.

Employment of Vickie LaFrance and Verna Ruth Richardson was approved.

Dr. Kenneth Blacock of Region 16 Education Service Center met with the board for a report of the visiting committee on accreditation.

In other action, the board approved a pay raise for bus drivers.

Everything But The Kitchen Sink!

By Mozelle Trotter

An important part of our heritage is passing. The Union Church appears to be "doomed by the parade of progress."

The dream for a number of years, a new parish hall for St. Peter's Catholic Church, seems to be coming true. But coming of the new means the old must pass away. Where the new hall will be built, stands the weathered old building that has housed the worship of many people.

Nearly three-quarters of a century past, W.P. Soash came down from Iowa and envisioned this area not as a prairie but an agricultural wonderland.

In 1908, he established a townsite so that potential land buyers might know that it was a land with a future. To promote the growth of the infant town, he gave the people land for two things he felt necessary for any town - a school and a church.

The little church was built that year, a few blocks from the "square" in the middle of town which was given to the town for a site of Lamb County's Courthouse.

Soash gave the church land with the stipulation that it serve peoples of all denominations and it did, indeed, for several years.

So congenially did the people worship that it was said preachers sometimes didn't know their members from another denomination's.

In 1924, Baptists felt they should build their own house of worship. Two years later, Methodists moved into their own basement building. Other denominations continued to meet for a while but the little building was left empty for a time after a tornado damaged the tower holding the giant steel bell which called worshippers to services.

Church of the Nazarene believers organized in 1928 and, in 1929, mended the storm damages and the 20-year-old building became their official home.

For 30 years, the Nazarene congregation worshipped in the little white frame building at Avenue G and 10th Street. Then, when a new brick church house was built, the Nazarenes acquired the old Methodist property.

It was then, in 1958, that the building was secured for the newly organized St. Peter's Catholic Church and the building was moved to their land on 11th Street.

And thus the Union Church has served. Structurally, to ease its congregation's growing pains, the church underwent the addition of small side rooms at either side. From photographic comparisons however, it still boasts its original clapboard walls. Few other changes have been made - the only major one, the removal of the damaged bell tower in 1928-29. It was replaced with a large front porch.

What's to become of the humble house where countless voices lifted songs . . . where untold hearts were warmed and souls made new . . . where pleas and praises have been spoken to Almighty God . . . where children's children learned His holy word?

Yea, what's to happen?

Card Of Thanks

I wish to thank all my friends and neighbors for your flowers, gifts and visits while in the hospital; my special gratitude for all your many prayers.

God Bless All,

MRS. DARRELL DeBERRY

Recipe Revue

By Mozelle Trotter

"I've always hated math but I love the course I'm taking this summer at Wayland," says Mrs. Darrell DeBerry.

Nancy, who plans to obtain a degree in elementary education, is taking math this summer because she wanted to get her least-liked subject out of the way. Instead, she has found herself enrolled in a course she enjoys under a teacher she describes "great".

College is very different from high school, Nancy soon learned. She is relishing the opportunity to learn more and more and is eager to prepare herself to work with children.

"I realize we'll need for me to work. And teaching is what I'd like for I love kids," she says.

She commutes each day to school, arriving home about noon time. In addition, she is also getting college credit for the aerobics class she is enrolled in here. Deciding against the 6 a.m. jogging she and a friend began, Nancy is enjoying the exercises of the aerobics class, and describes it as "lots of fun".

Nancy grew up on a farm northeast of town, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. John Norfleet. She and Darrell were married last fall, her senior year at OHS. Darrell, too, has lived in Olton all his life. He graduated from Olton High School in 1977 and is engaged in farming.

Pets are Nancy's number one hobby. She loves all animals and has several special pets. "Chelsea" is the name of a mutt she adopted from the pound in Lubbock. Darrell had said, "No cats" but when they visited the pound, his resolve disappeared. "George" immediately rubbed up against him and purred with such evidence of friendship that Darrell softened and suggested they adopt him, too.

For graduation, Darrell gave Nancy a Doberman she's named "Nevada". Rounding out the menagerie is an Easter gift, a black rabbit named "Duffy".

The young DeBerrys are Baptists.

Nancy likes to cook but prefers easy to fix dishes. The recipes she shares come from a large cookbook compiled from favorite recipes of women in the tri-state area. Each of the recipes has been tried and approved by Nancy and Darrell.

MERE-MINUTE CASSEROLE A LA MEXICO

2 cans (15 oz) chili with beans
3 cans (10 oz) enchilada sauce
2 T minced onion (even dehydrated)
2 cans (8 oz) tomato sauce
3 c shredded cheese (any old kind!)
4 to 6 T diced green chilies
1 pkg (13 oz) corn chips

Mix all together in a "scramble". Bake 30 mins. at 325 degrees. Then make ruff around dish with more chips. Pour 2 c sour cream over and add another cup shredded cheese to top. Return to oven - not you, the dish - for 5 mins. more. (If TOPS won't let you, use yogurt instead of sour cream - ju hum!)

PETTI DE POLLO ALLO YOLANDO

4 deboned chicken breasts
flour
salt, pepper
paprika
2 eggs, beaten and mixed with ⅓ c Parmesan cheese
1 can long asparagus spears
Velveeta

Beat chicken breasts till flat and long enough for the asparagus. Coat chicken with flour seasoned with salt, pepper and paprika. Dip in egg mixture and fry in hot oils (mixture of butter and Mazola) until golden brown. Do not overcook! Remove chicken and drain oil. Put chicken back in skillet and place asparagus spears over top of chicken, then top with slices of velveeta. Heat until cheese melts and serve hot.

LOU ALICE'S CORN DISH

Saute 1 onion and 1 bell pepper in 1 stk oleo in skillet. In saucepan, cook 1½ c Minute Rice, 2 cans cream style corn, 1 beaten egg, 1 sm jar pimentos, 2 T sugar, salt and pepper to taste. Add ½ c milk. Combine two mixtures in casserole. Cover with cheese; sprinkle with paprika. Bake 25 mins. at 350 degrees.

50th Anniversary Reception Honors Mr., Mrs. H.B. Carson

Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Carson were honored Sunday, June 8, at a reception held in their home northeast of the city. The event was in celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

Carson and the former Miss Lucille Gentry were married June 7, 1930 in Holdenville, Okla. They moved immediately to this area where they have since lived. With farming and ranching interests, both here and in Oklahoma, Carson is now retired and the couple spends time in retirement and fishing areas.

Friends and relatives calling Sunday afternoon were greeted by the honorees. The registration table featured a 1930 picture of the couple; presiding were granddaughters.

The party table was laid with an antique lace cloth. An arrangement of yellow roses, gift of Carson's immediate family, centered the table. Brass holders fitted with golden tapers, a tiered wedding cake and crystal service completed the appointments. Granddaughters presided.

Hosting the event were children and grandchildren of the honorees: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. McClain and children and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Carson; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allcorn, Vic, Kyle and Troy; Mr. and Mrs. Uil Gunter, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hodges and Kent Gunter; Harlan Carson, Kody and Kamber; and Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Carson, Kirk and Jill, of Dalhart.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Larry Witten, R.V. Allcorn, Amos Walden, Elmer Lewis, Carmaleta Barnett and John Thompson.

Some 200 guests were in attendance from Shawnee, Okla., Abilene, Panhandle, Plainview, Hart, Littlefield, Edmonson and the local area.

Olton Lions Club Queen Directs Program, Says 'Bye'

Melanie Witten said "goodbye" Tuesday, ending her year as Queen of Olton Lions Club. Last year's Sweetheart, Stacy Barnett, will assume the role of reigning queen after next week's Ladies Night meeting. Shelli Williams, recently elected, will officially become sweetheart.

In charge of Tuesday's program, Miss Witten, with the assistance of Misses Barnett and Williams, sang "I've Got That Lion Spirit" with piano accompaniment by Cynthia Sorley.

Miss Witten played the guitar as the young women led the group in an audience participation of "I Love Him Better." Miss Sorley then sang, "I Want To Be More Like Jesus," and "Learning To Lean On Jesus."

Announcement was made that Ladies Night will be Tuesday, June 17 at 8 p.m. in the community building. Installation of new officers and observance of the club's thirtieth anniversary will highlight the evening.

Guests attending were Kari Hull of Kimball, Neb., Karl Dirksmeyer of Plainview; Steve DeHay of Lubbock; Chris Spain of Columbia, South America; Ross Wishart and Chris Grof, both of Australia; Joe Hartley, Jerry Wyatt, Fred Ketchum, Steve Spain, Becky Park of Plainview and Lionesses Joy Hawkins and Pauline Strain.

Gasohol may be the tip of the iceberg. Blending ethanol with unleaded gasoline is only one of the ways ethanol can supplant petroleum usage. On that basis it replaces only ten percent of gasoline that would be used without ethanol. When used as the sole fuel in an engine, it replaces 100 percent of the gasoline that would have been used without it. When used as a dual-carbureted diesel fuel supplement it offsets diesel usage by 25 to 50 percent. For many farmers, another advantage of burning straight ethanol may be that it can be considerably less expensive to produce. Ethanol burned alone can be hydrated (containing 10% - 15% water) and therefore requires less expensive distillation than anhydrous (no water) ethanol which is required for mixing with gasoline.

Miss Daugherty, Mr. Barnett Wed In Saturday Ceremony

In an intimate ceremony in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cornelius, Saturday, June 7, at 5 p.m. Miss Patricia Ruth Daugherty became the bride of Barton Campbell Barnett.

Dr. Travis Hart, pastor of First Baptist Church, directed the twin ring ceremony performed before an improvised altar arranged in front of the fireplace of the home. An eight foot archway entwined with mixed flowers, gypsophila and tropical greenery was flanked by baskets of multi-colored blossoms.

The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Daugherty. Barnett is the son of Mrs. Carmaleta Barnett and the late D.J. Barnett.

Traditional nuptial selections were presented by Mrs. Mark Hodges at piano, who also played accompaniment as she was joined by her husband, Mark Hodges, in singing, "The Gift of Love".

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white chiffon. The moulded bodice featured a V-neckline of Venise lace. A sheer yoke of Point D'esprit was defined in Venise lace and seed pearls. A chiffon flounce flowed over the arms and down the back, forming capelet sleeves. A row of Venise lace encircled the Empire waistline. The circular skirt swept to back fullness forming a chapel length train.

To complete her ensemble, the bride chose a wide brimmed picture hat. The crown and brim were appliqued with Venise lace. A band of chiffon encircled the crown. Attached to the back of the hat was elbow length veiling.

She carried a cascading arrangement of white daisies and pink sweetheart roses, atop an "old" pearl-covered Bible carried by her mother at her own wedding. "New" was her attire, and "borrowed" were pearl earrings belonging to her sister. She wore the traditional "blue" garter.

Miss Virginia Daugherty of Waco attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a formal gown of sheer mint green cotton voile fashioned with fitted bodice featuring a scooped neckline and long full sleeves. Her three-tiered skirt fell in soft fullness from a natural waistline accented with a tiny sash. She carried a spring bouquet.

Serving as best man was Coby Gilbreath of Dimmitt, cousin of the groom. Mothers of the bride and groom were seated by Ted Daugherty, brother of the bride. Guests were registered by Mrs. Pat Britton, sister of the groom.

Following the ceremony a reception in the patio of the home, honored the young couple. The table was laid with a cutwork linen cloth, handmade by Mrs. Antonio Villanueva. Centered with the bridal bouquet, the table featured a tiered wedding cake. Silver and crystal appointments were used to serve punch, finger sandwiches and wedding cake.

Presiding at the table were Misses Lori and Stacy Barnett, sisters of the groom, and Miss Schell O'Neal, relative of the bride.

Following a short wedding trip the newlyweds will make their home north of the city.

Both the bride and the groom are graduates of Olton High School. The bride is presently a senior student at Texas Tech. Barnett is currently engaged in farming.

Listed as out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbreath, Coby, Matt and Hal, of Dimmitt; Mr. and Mrs. James Barnett of Lubbock; Mrs. Mark Cleveland of New Orleans, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Britton of Longview; and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rogers and grandson, Ray, of Gustine.

MONDAY DINNER

Vic Allcorn, student at Golden Gate Seminary, Mills Valley, Calif., was honored guest at a dinner Monday evening in the home of his parents and brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allcorn, Kyle and Troy. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allcorn, Mr. and Mrs. R.V. Allcorn and Brad, Miss Vicki Cleveland of Dimmitt, Miss Leanne Hawkins and Bryan Allcorn both of Canyon. David Daughtrey of Plainview called during the evening.

GAS OUTDOOR COOKING

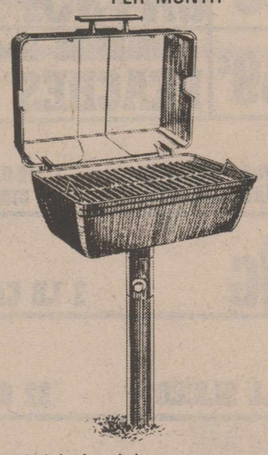

Sizzle a steak. Grill a burger. Bake a potato. Nothing turns on summer fun like outdoor cooking. And no outdoor cooker can compare to a gas grill. You can cook full family meals, everything your indoor range or oven can cook, and all with that great outdoor flavor.

Just look at the advantages of a gas grill:

- solid, sturdy construction for many summers of cooking enjoyment
- no charcoal, no lighter fluid and no wait
- gas grills reach cooking temperatures fast
- controlled heat for perfect cooking everytime
- new features for more efficient energy use
- keeps your house cooler because the heat is outdoors
- and, if you buy before August 1, 1980, you'll save 20% off the purchase price.

Good fun, great taste and savings. Turn it on with a gas grill on the patio.

Pam Lawson, John Huguley Recite Double Ring Vows

Wedding vows were solemnized at 7 p.m. Friday, June 6 in First Baptist Church by Miss Pamela Gayle Lawson and John Carl Huguley.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Don Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. A.G. Huguley.

Dr. Travis Hart, pastor, officiated the double ring ceremony before an altar set with an archway entwined with greenery and accented with blue and white carnations and white wedding bells. To one side was an anniversary candle flanked by two candles signifying the two lives becoming one. At the other side, an opened white family Bible was marked with a long stemmed red rose.

Mrs. Mark Hodges, organist, presented nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Jack LaFrance as she sang "Someone" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin fashioned with modified A-line skirt with empire bodice. Lace appliques adorned the bodice with its wedding ring collar and lantern sleeves. A deep border of matching lace adorned the hemline. Lace appliques enhanced the cathedral train.

She carried a cascade of white roses accented with blue and white carnations. For "something old", the bride wore a strand of pearls belonging to her great-grandmother. Her accessories were "new" and she "borrowed" the wedding gown from her sister, Mrs. Joe Snider. She wore the traditional touch of blue.

Mrs. Snider was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a formal gown of blue and white floral sheer fashioned with three tiered skirt. She carried a ball shaped bouquet of white roses and blue and white miniature carnations.

Little Miss Misty Huguley, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. Guests were registered by Mrs. Ricky Lawson, sister-in-law of the bride and cousin of the groom.

Ricky Lawson, brother of the bride, was best man. Bradley Woodring, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. Guests were seated by Daryl Huguley, brother of the groom, and Joe Snider, brother-in-law of the bride.

A reception was held in fellowship hall. Laid with a bouffant cloth of white sheer over blue, the bride's table was graced with the two-tiered wedding cake accented with light blue roses and topped with a pair of white doves perched atop white wedding bells. Presiding at the table were Leigh Ann Kersh, Carolyn Durham and Barbara Leathers.

For a wedding trip to Carlsbad, N.M., the bride wore a blouse of white knit accented with blue and white stripe seersucker and matching seersucker slacks.

The couple is at home at 501 Avenue E.

The bride is a student in Olton High School.

Huguley attended Olton schools and is engaged in farming.

MRS. JAMES PATRICK LUCKIE

Linda Ivins - Pat Luckie Exchange Wedding Vows

Wedding vows were solemnized Saturday afternoon in First Christian Church in Plainview for Linda Sue Ivins and James Patrick "Pat" Luckie, both of Plainview.

Officiating was Dr. Robert W. Daniel, pastor.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ivins of Cotton Center, former residents of Hart Camp. Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Luckie of Plainview are parents of the bridegroom.

Mrs. John W. King Jr. of Plainview, organist, presented nuptial selections and accompanied Mrs. Wayne Rankin of Plainview, soloist.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of ivory chiffon styled with fitted bodice over-laid with re-embroidered lace and pearls. It featured a Queen Anne neckline outlined with re-embroidered lace and sprinkled with pearls and full bishop sleeves embellished with lace and pearls. The softly flared skirt fell from an empire waistline and swept to a chapel length train.

The bride wore a pearl adorned lace caplet which held her veil of bridal illusion. She carried a cascade of white roses, peach carnations and white daisies atop a white Bible which was a gift from her grandmother years ago.

Keeping traditions, she wore an opal necklace belonging to the groom's maternal grandmother as something "old" and "borrowed". Something "new" was a lace handkerchief. Something blue was a tiny baby blue bow worn on an ivory garter.

Mrs. Tim Reed of Kress was matron of honor. Alice Doyle, of Plainview was bridesmaid. They wore formal gowns of peach colored qiana fashioned with full gathered skirts accented at the waists with narrow sashes and bodices featuring round necklines and dolman sleeves. They carried nosegays of peach carnations and white daisies.

Brent Harrison of Plainview was best man. Mackie Bain, also of Plainview, was groomsman.

A reception was held in fellowship hall of the church. Members of the houseparty were Sharon Pope of Kansas City, Mo. and Annette Edwards of Lubbock, cousins of the bride, Mrs. Carl Reed of Spade and Mmes. Fred Herring, Bill Williams, Gerald and Chambers and Dorothy Peret, all of Plainview.

The couple will be home at 2306 West 10th Street, Plainview following a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M.

A graduate of Spade High School, the bride attended Texas Tech University and earned a BA degree from Wayland Baptist College in accounting. She was a member of Omega Phi Alpha, national service sorority. She is employed with Miller Flying Service, Inc.

Luckie graduated from Plainview High School and South Plains College. He is presently attending Wayland Baptist College. He is a member of National Association of Realtors and is employed with Furrs, Inc. and Ralph Graham Realtors.

BEAUTY TIPS from the Revlon Beauty School

Shaping A Beautiful Mouth

If your lips are less than perfect, don't despair. With the aid of a lipstick brush or lipliner, you can reshape them to be symmetrical.

Try one of these techniques:

1. For full lips, apply face makeup over the mouth. Use lip liner just inside the natural lip line, defining corners well. Use a soft, medium-dark creme lipstick. Apply color carefully, graduating to outer corners of the mouth. (Avoid bright colors, frosts, glosses.)
2. For thin lips, use lip liner to outline your mouth but stay within the natural lip line. Give a fuller look by using light-to-medium colors, frosts and glosses like Glossy Plum Stick-of-Gloss from Revlon.
3. For normal lips, experiment as you please, but use a lip brush for more precise application.
4. For a fuller top lip, emphasize the bottom lip by using lip liner, a light, bright lip color.
5. For a fuller bottom lip, emphasize the top lip by using a lip liner, a light, bright lipcolor and a gloss. De-emphasize bottom lip with a softer, darker color in a soft-lustre creme lipstick.

Federal Land Bank Announces Rates

Bill Wischkaemper, manager of the Federal Land Bank Association of Littlefield, announced that effective June 1, 1980 new loans will be closed at the variable interest rate of 9¾ percent on farm loans and 10¼ percent on rural residence loans, the same rate now being charged existing borrowers on the variable rate. This is a reduction from 12 percent fixed rate on farm loans and 14 percent on rural residence loans which was put into effect earlier this year.

The Federal Land Bank of Texas introduced the variable rate loan in 1969 which allows the billing rate to increase and decrease with variables in the money market. Earlier this year, faced with unprecedented high money cost, a fixed rate loan was offered on a temporary basis. Improvement in the money market in recent weeks makes it possible to return to the variable rate on new loans.

10 REASONS TO INCREASE ADVERTISING

1. Whether business is good or slow, you have to get your share of whatever business is around. Cutting back your newspaper advertising puts you at a disadvantage at the very moment you need an edge.

2. In times of uncertainty, consumers are careful and a little reluctant to spend. They want to be sure before they buy; they want information. One of the main ways they get information about products, services, prices and values is from newspaper advertising. Yours -- or somebody else's.

3. Maybe you figure other retailers in your line are going to cut back their advertising, so it's safe for you, too. Right? WRONG. You're in competition for the consumer's dollar with every other retailer in town, no matter what he sells. People have only so many dollars to spend and if they don't spend them for what you sell they'll spend them for something else.

4. "Slow" times ahead? Perhaps, but there are more Americans working now than ever before. More women working, too, adding to family income. People still need and want goods and services and will spend for them. There is plenty of business out there. Your competitors will be bidding for their share -- and yours.

5. You can't do much about factors in the marketplace -- rent, labor costs, price of merchandise, what the competition will do. But one thing you do control is your own promotion. Remember that newspaper advertising is not just a cost of doing business. It's a proven tool that returns many times your investment in store traffic and sales.

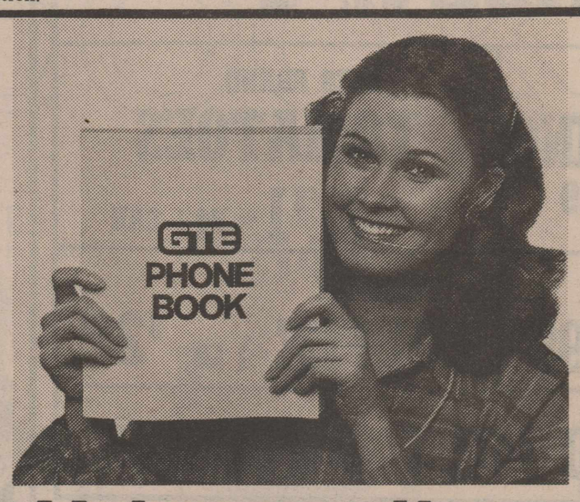

6. Remember how long it took you to get started? Once you build up a business, you can keep it going with a moderate, consistent newspaper advertising program. But if you cut your advertising and lose your hold on the public's awareness you will find it's much harder to build it up again. It's sort of like starting all over.

7. Your newspaper advertising is part of your sales force. Ads help to pre-sell the customer and help you close the sale faster. What saves you time saves money.

8. You say your customers know you and for a while, at least, they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote. That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one out of five Americans moves every year. So there's a steady flow of your customers out of your market, and a corresponding influx of new people who don't know you at all. Tell them about yourself.

9. Here's a hard fact to chew on. Over any given period, a company that advertises below the industry average has sales that are below the industry average.

10. Advertising is "news" -- about products and services. Most shoppers look for this kind of news in the pages of the newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in newspapers because they provide an immediate pay-off at the cash register.

Reminiscing

By Lily May Silcott

In this day when rumors of war threaten the stability of the world, David Grayson remembers what war was REALLY LIKE. He was a part of the effort of Allied Forces that struggled through World War II in an earnest endeavor to win a war that would "end all wars".

Although disabled, he was triumphantly returned to his homeland when treaties were signed. Disillusioned today with disruptions of the peace, he still feels an undiminished allegiance to his country and says that he would do it all over again if it would help to secure the peace of our nation.

Grayson serves as Counselor in Olton High School. As a history major he often shares his experiences and his views with young people who are searching for true values in a sea of political upheaval.

Born in Paris, he was moved with his family to Wheeler County when he was not quite six years old. After he was graduated from Allison High School in 1942 he was drafted into military service. He became the third of four brothers (from a family of six boys) to serve his country in time of war. After about three years, most of it in the European theatre, he was home for Christmas, arriving December 23, 1945.

Quickly picking up the threads of a disrupted life, he entered West Texas University in January. Three years and one semester later he was proud possessor of a BS and a Master's degree in history and school administration. Further graduate studies have qualified him for positions as superintendent, principal at all levels, Counselor and/or Vocational Counselor.

He currently serves as vocational counselor for both Hart and Olton schools. The position is based upon total number of students served, making it necessary to divide his time between the two schools. Monday and Tuesday each week find him in the Olton system; Thursday and Friday in Hart. Alternating Wednesdays equalize the division of time. He and his wife, Margie, make their home here in the city.

With a remarkable memory for details and dates, Grayson gives a fascinating account of a foot-soldier's eye view of the conflagration. But he modestly states, "I'm sure there are many fellows right here in the city who could do the same."

Only three days after his arrival at the induction center, Fort Sill, Okla., some illness threatened a quarantine of all personnel. Given the choice, he left without even going to the barracks for his clothing, for Camp Butner, N.C. where he received basic training. Following maneuvers in Tennessee he was sent overseas to Italy in the early spring of 1943. As a rifle-carrying recruit he was assigned, after the invasion at Anzio, to the 36th Infantry where he found himself among many Texas buddies. Theirs was the first unit into Rome in June, 1944. Invasion training was given in Naples from June through August.

He was with the Seventh Army invasion of southern France. He remembers this amphibious landing as the most beautifully planned and executed maneuver he had ever witnessed. "Led by the artillery, there were planes overhead as far as we could see and every action was carried out according to a master plan. I have often wondered if we will ever again be as militarily strong as we were at that time.

"By that date we had learned a great deal about such invasions...but the Germans had learned also. They backed up and waited for us to come ashore. They made their stand in the mountains. We had it pretty easy for two or three weeks. Crossing France, it was November before we went into Alsace.

"The infantry was always first to enter an area, and we always inquired of the natives about conditions and enemy emplacements. In France we received good information, but in Alsace (where natives had lived under the rigors of invading armies for centuries) they had no firm allegiance. We could not trust the information they gave us hesitantly.

"During that winter of '44 I slept within the protection of a house...a total of 15 nights. Staying dry was a problem. We learned to carry two pairs of sox around our waists, next to our body...drying. When we stopped to put them on our feet, they'd still be muddy...but dry. We learned from the Germans that several layers of thinner clothes were much warmer than the usual issue of heavier ones."

As they were pressing toward the Siegfried Line, in battles that were part of the southern sector of the "Battle of the Bulge", Grayson received his 'hit'. The date was Dec. 10. Because of the heat of the battle, he was forced to lay unattended for half a day. Eventually a couple of squad members carried him over the hill, and an ambulance transferred him to a field hospital. Within five or six days he was taken back to a general hospital located in a school building. After that he was flown back to England in a C47.

It was in the hospital plane that Grayson learned about automatic pilot systems, "The plane was flown by a young kid, he looked to be about 17 years of age...and there was no co-pilot. He spent such little time at the controls that I began to think I'd rather take my chances on the battle field than flying so helplessly through the air. When we arrived at Chester, England, there were about 10 acres of stretcher cases."

Eventually he was treated at the General Hospital there. The wounded man was back with his unit by Mar. 1. Some shrapnel had been removed from his body, but he still carries two pieces in his hip and one in his arm.

Joining the troops at the Moder River he says, "Our forces began pushing the Germans back. With the artillery running ahead and forming a smoke screen, we entered Germany about Mar. 10 for a 30-day stay on the Rhine. From then until last of April the war was easier. Our last skermish was May 5. It, too, was beautifully planned. The 36th captured Field Marshall von Rundstedt, who had been in charge of the German Army, during the Battle of the Bulge. The next day we were given orders to dig in and not fire, unless fired upon."

Grayson, who was by that time a squadron leader, took his men back from the lines toward the town. According to the rules laid down for them, he ordered a doctor and his wife out of their home for one night in order to get his men in out of the snow. He explains, "We'd been out in the cold for so many nights...I thought we could let them try it for one night."

The "36th" liberated two concentration camps. The veteran says these are things he would like to forget, "The first was a smaller one at Ludwigshaven in April of '45. It was not so bad, there were only about 2000 mostly political prisoners. But the second was a concentration of Jews who were half-starved. We tried to share our cold K-rations with them, but they couldn't handle such solid food. Even though there was snow and it was very cold they were clad in light clothing...much like pajamas...and they were barefoot. Some of the worst camps were only about 16 miles away...but I had no way to go there to witness conditions...and certainly no desire to do so."

After about 10 days at Marseille, France, Grayson boarded a troop ship for the voyage home. He arrived back in Newport News, Va.,...the same place he had left some 21 months before.

In a queer set of circumstances, this returning veteran was the very first enlisted man off the ship. Right beside a Brigadier General he was caught in the eye of the camera...and the picture was published in the Dallas News. Although he has seen copies of the paper in museums, he has never owned a copy of that Dec. 16 paper. This reporter, and no doubt many of his students today, feel that he was certainly worthy of this distinction since he had spent 213 days on the front lines and was bearer of the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

At home for Christmas, with his new Civilian status, Grayson entered WTSU in January, 1946. There he met a young lady, Miss Margie Taylor who was to share his name and his fortune for the rest of his life.

Margie was born and reared upon a farm near Perryton. A high school graduate of 1946, she went to Amarillo to enter school. She and Grayson dated for about two years before their marriage Aug. 20, 1948. The ceremony was performed in the home of a friend.

Upon completion of his work at WT the young couple moved to Stratford in February where he assumed a teaching position. After two and one-half years, there, they moved to White Deer where he spent 25 years as social studies teacher, counselor and high school principal. The next move, July, 1976 was to Olton.

The Graysons are parents of two children. The son, Douglas, was born in Stratford. Following his Dad's example he spent a "hitch in the army" serving one year on the cold battlefields of Korea. Never having married, he lives and works for an oil company at El Reno, Okla.

The daughter (born at White Deer) and her husband Mr. and Mrs. Phil Miller are publishers of the Groom weekly newspaper...fighting the "battles of the press". They are parents of the Grayson's grandson, three years of age, and have expectations of a granddaughter (?) soon.

Through the years Margie has stayed quietly at home to rear her children. She was especially careful to be with them through the critical teen years of their lives. Presently she is enjoying keeping their lovely home on 10th Street, and giving her husband every possible support in his task of working with high school students.

She loves to cook and, by her husband's frank admission, is the "best cook in town". He thinks his "general appearance" should bear out his testimony.

MR. & MRS. DAVID GRAYSON

Margie has for sometime been involved in ceramic creations. She has only recently begun the study of oil painting under instruction of Jean Green. She thinks she will eventually want to try pastels.

She is member of Olton Homemakers Extension Club and holds an office in her Sunday School Class at First Baptist Church, all of which keeps her busy.

In recent action both Mr. and Mrs. Grayson were elected Adjutants of Disabled American Veterans Region I and its coordinated Auxiliary. They attended State meetings of the organizations held in Dallas during the past weekend. The Graysons are very enthusiastic about the spirit of the DAV in which they have found very serious meetings and wholesome atmosphere. The large Region, some 79 counties, will require some travel for each of them, and much attention to its objectives.

In the home Margie displays collections of two of her interests, after-dinner coffee spoons and woven baskets. The couple shares the home with Destiny, a miniature Doberman. All three give evidence of a well-adjusted, happy household.

For everyday living the Graysons feel that the 'old Golden Rule' is still a good policy...it still makes good business sense and contributes to the individual's well-being.

The educator states that he is truly happy in what he is doing. He likes counseling, although often he can do nothing except give a student encouragement. Counselors and teachers have to be very careful not to interfere in domestic affairs.

He says with regret, "We have so many kids with ulcers today. Some of them have problems at home. Some are rebellious and do not want to accept rules of any kind. Many of them just need somebody to talk to. Never has there been a greater need just to sit down and think logically...this is the best means of problem solving, whether it be a matter of disintergrating families, declining moral standards or uncertain economic matters.

"In my work, all I can do is to try to help the kids get ready for the next step and encourage them to make the most of their lives.

A serious student of history, his specialties are the Civil War and WWII. As for the Civil War...he credits it with developing the most hearty breed of American men this country has ever known.

As a veteran of WWII, when he sometimes shares the horrors of war, he endeavors to get students to be realistic in seeing a true need for national protection. Along these lines one day, an outspoken young lad defiantly stated that he would never join a service or go to war, adding that should the enemy come to his town...he would shoot him then. To this the veteran answered, "No, you wouldn't. If you had been running that long...you'd just keep on running."

Junior High Students Post Good Improvement Averages

Students in Olton Junior High made notable progress in reading and math from April 1979 to April 1980, according to Carl McClure, principal.

Test results show that under the STAMM math program, initiated in the local school, sixth grade students averaged one year and four months improvement during the year. Seventh graders averaged one year, seven months while eighth grade boys and girls recorded average gains of two years, one month.

With the Pegasus Pace reading program, sixth graders registered an average improved level of one year, two months; seventh grade, one year, five months and eighth grade, two years, two months.

A good number of junior high students are enrolled in summer school reading and math. Sixty-three are taking math during the summer session; 39, reading.

Former Resident Earns Doctorate

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Chaney, Melissa and Tifanee, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chaney, Justin and Brandon, and Mr. and Mrs. S.H. Chaney of Earth attended commencement exercises at University of Oklahoma College of Medicine held in Civic Center, Oklahoma City, June 8.

Jerry Lynn Gray, cousin of Gene and Bill Chaney, was among the 183 members of the graduating class. Graduated with honors, Gray was numbered in the top five of the class and was recipient of the Upjohn Achievement Award, for academic and professional excellence.

Dr. Gray will be remembered here. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gray, the family lived in Earth and were members of First Church of the Nazarene, Olton.

New Teleservice Offered Oltonites

Social security has expanded service to the public with a new telephone center in Texas, Bill West, Field Representative with the Lubbock social security office announced today.

Dial 1-800-392-1603 (toll free) if you need social security information in a hurry. Questions about social security in general can be answered by calling this teleservice number.

West said that "if you are already getting social security checks, information about your personal social security record can also be obtained by calling the above toll free number.

People in the Olton area can file claims for Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) checks by calling the Lubbock District Office, station-to-station, collect, 763-7385.

How To Destroy America

1. Debase our currency. With no gold or silver backing it will decrease in value until it is worthless.

2. Spend more than our government takes in in taxes. Run the printing presses to cover deficits.

3. Let the national debt rise until we can no longer even pay the interest on it and are forced into bankruptcy.

4. Raise taxes until welfare is more attractive than working so that we end up with more people on welfare than are working.

5. Build a bureaucracy of millions who add nothing to the nation's productivity. Have them issue rules and regulations by the tens of thousands that strangle the businesses that do produce.

6. Promise lifetime pensions to almost everyone. Collect only a fraction of their cost. Then, when millions depend on their pensions and the pension fund is bankrupt, tax the young to pay for the retired.

7. Give away our property (such as the Panama Canal) and our taxpayers' money to foreign countries, even to those who are our enemies. If you can't get away with giving it away, loan it at ridiculously low interest to countries that will never repay it.

8. Support the overthrow of governments that are friendly to us by Marxist revolutionaries.

9. Fight no-win wars against our communist enemies that cost hundreds of thousands of casualties, then abandon our allies to the enemy. Demoralize our young people so they will refuse to fight for freedom under any circumstances.

10. When small businesses can't make a go of it because of excessive government regulations and are considered bad credit risks by the banks, loan them billions through the Small Business Administration even though many of them will default. When big businesses have the same problems, bail them out directly.

11. Encourage the cities to spend recklessly and go deeply in debt. Then bail them out with federal money.

12. Loan billions to students, then let them wipe out the debts by bankruptcy as soon as they finish their education.

13. Tear down cheap run down housing and drive poor people from their homes and apartments. Then build more expensive housing in its place that they cannot afford.

14. Sign a SALT agreement that locks us into an inferior position in relation to our avowed communist enemy.

Who would do these dastardly deeds? No one who loved America. Just hundreds of our Senators and Representatives.

How did your Senators and Representative vote?

If you don't like the way they voted, tell them. And be sure you are registered and that you vote against them in the next election.

INSUR-MATION

We are building a metal workshop in our backyard. Will my hazard policy cover damage to the workship?

Both the standard Fire Policy and the Homeowner's Policy will cover loss to the workshop. The coverage available would be for the same perils (fire, wind, storm, etc.) as insured on the described dwelling (your home). Each policy limits the amount of coverage to 10% of the amount insured on the dwelling. This extension of coverage will not apply if the workshop is designed for use in a commercial or manufacturing operation. It is only insured if its use is solely personal. If you need more coverage than is provided by the automatic 10% extension available with the standard Fire Policy or Homeowner's Policy, additional amounts of coverage can be added to either type policy.

If I knew you and you knew me --
If both of us could clearly see,
And with an inner sight divine
The meaning of your heart and mine --
I'm sure we should differ less
And clasp our hands in friendliness --
Our thoughts would pleasantly agree,
If I knew you and you knew me.

Friends from World War II army days, Mr. and Mrs. George Dussort spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Miller. They are from Walsenburg, Colo. Also Sonny's sister, Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Gibbs of Amarillo visited the Millers and her father, John Ratliff.

Nell Woods is home from Central Plains Hospital in Plainview. Her daughter, Norma and T.C. Kennedy and Karin, their daughter from Canyon, had dinner with Nell Saturday. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Kennedy Sr. Others there were another son, Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy of Hart and their granddaughter Tammy and Larry Trimbell of Plainview.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ronnie Travis, Lisa and Chris were here Saturday to visit Ruth Adams. Ronnie will be remembered as pastor of the one-time Hopewell Church. He is now pastor of the Lee Baptist Church in Dimmitt.

Laura Kennedy of Corpus Christi is here visiting her sister, Inez Yates. Another sister, Ruth Gautier of Sea Side, Ore., has been here for a while.

Mrs. Grace Spitter of Visalia, Calif. is here to spend some two months with her daughter and family, Dr. and Mrs. Van Brimhall and Lisa.

Guests in the Helen Bohner home are Juanita (Holland) Bennett of Joseph City, Ariz., Betty (Barnes) Agge of Los Angeles, Calif.

Guests in the H.B. Carson home Saturday and Sunday were her sisters and families, Mr. and Mrs. O.W. Terry and granddaughter, Donna Gallahon of Shawnie, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Evans and son, Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Evans Jr. and two children of Abilene.

No one knows the weight of another's burdens.

Saturday night, the Gerald Allcorns and sons Kyle, Vic and Troy, entertained with a birthday party honoring Harlan Carson. Those present were Harlan, Kody, Kamber, Mr. and Mrs. H.B. Carson, Wayne and Peggy Carson and their daughter and family, Kathlene and Charles A. McClain and two children of Sweetwater; Uil, Fern and Kent Gunter; Mark and Jennie Lynn Hodges, the Otis Terrys and Donna Gallahon of Shawnie, Okla. and Eddie and Kirk Carson of Dalhart.

Last Friday Mrs. Sidney Allen of Frederick, Okla., and Lucille Couch had lunch with Era Leathers.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Snider and children, Teresa and Chad, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ray Howard and family of Rogers, Ark. The Howards live on Lake Beaver. They spent their time skiing and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of Hart visited me Wednesday afternoon.

Dannita (Holland) Lawson of Arizona is visiting her father, Nolan Holland.

During the weekend, Debra Powers, Damon and Robin went to Garden City, Kansas to visit her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Huckabee and family. Their daughter, Jana, was recovering from major surgery. She was in the hospital in Garden City. Mrs. Sherry, who had been there for a while returned home with Debra and the boys.

My little great-grandson, Casey Bledsoe, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Bledsoe of Odessa, has moved home from the Health Center Hospital at Lubbock and is doing fine. Thank you for your concern, your calls and your prayers while he was so ill.

VISTA VOLUNTEERS

VISTA Needs Support

What is VISTA? The initials stand for "Volunteers In Service To America". ACTION is the umbrella organization over VISTA. Programs other than VISTA, under the administration of ACTION include: Peace Corps., Foster Grandparents, Retired Senior Volunteers Program, University Year For Action and a volunteer program for high school students.

The role of a VISTA participant is to help the people help themselves. A VISTA trains people in the community to be able to do things on their own. He/She puts the resources of the community in reach of the people and encourages them to use those resources to their maximum advantage.

A community organization which is committed to help solve problems of the disadvantaged, acts as a sponsor to the VISTA participant. The South Plains Community Action Association (S.P.C.A.A.) is currently sponsoring seven locally recruited volunteers (LRVs), and six nationally recruited volunteers (NRVs). The LRVs include: Jo Jo Chester in Olton, Patricia Trejo in Morton, Vivienne Kisner, Clifford Potts, and Angela Hernandez in Levelland, Judy Nolan in O'Donnell and Bennie Nance in Tahoka. The NRVs include: Abby Polin based in Littlefield (from California), Mary Santoro (Massachussetts), Maureen Ward (Connecticut), Les Judd (New York), and Bill Byrnes (Louisianna), all based in Levelland, and Marcia Bechtold (Pennsylvania) in Tahoka.

The LRVs will generally be working on helping migrants and seasonal farmworkers in their respective communities. The NRVs are assigned a specific area of concentration. Les Judd and Abby Polin are concentrating on Manpower and Education problems. Marcia Bechtold and Maureen Ward are in Health Services, Mary Santoro is working on Childhood Development, and Bill Byrnes is concentrating on Weatherization and Energy programs.

As one can see, the NRVs are from all over the country. What are they doing in western Texas one might ask. They are generally requested to be placed in the Southwest, U.S. and preferably in rural area. Western Texas is a lot different from what most NRVs are accustomed to. A report they are enjoying the challenge of VISTA, and hopefully, will be able to help the S.P.C.A.A. better serve the people who need their services the most. The organization the current VISTA project, which will continue for three years, will make a positive impact on the lives of many low income people of the South Plains.

The VISTAs need community support. Please help us help the community.

Gregg Cannon Gets 'Excellent' Rating

Gregg Cannon recently returned from Austin where he competed in the Texas State Solo and Ensemble Contest sponsored by the University Interscholastic League and the University of Texas.

Gregg received a rating of excellence and a silver medal for his multi-percussion solo, "Prologue and Jubilo" by Jared Spears. Richard Berkly, percussion coordinator for Round Rock Independent School District, served as one of the percussion judges and commented, "A very well prepared performance."

In order to be eligible to compete in the State UIL contests, a student must receive a first division rating on a solo or ensemble in the regional contest held in February.

Gregg has served as percussion section leader the past two years for the Mustang Band and will be entering Lubbock Christian College in Lubbock this fall where he plans to continue his work in band.

For a first time event, I think the Band Talent Contest was a success. We only had two bands entered but the music was good and they provided ample entertainment. Quite a few people were able to come and many others said they would have come but forgot - didn't know about it -or- thought it was another Saturday.

I would like to try the event again next year only correct all the mistakes we made this time. Maybe offer more prize money to attract out of town bands and out of town visitors, better publicity to draw a better crowd, and maybe start it later. I would like to hear from anyone who has any ideas on the subject.

I want to thank all those who worked so hard to make this event successful. Those that come to mind are Joe Rivera, Raymond Powers, Jerry Jenkins, Bill Yoakum and Travis Thornton for judging the event.

Thanks, too, for the two bands who entered the contest, "Dakota" and "The High Plains Drifters".

Life is like an ice cream cone. Just when you think you've got it licked - it drips all over you!

I want to thank Bill and Ellen Yoakum for their donation to the Sharla Nicholas - Miss West Texas Beauty Pageant. We really appreciate the way the people of Olton have gotten behind this worthwhile project.

I hope none of you farmers had to replant your cotton this year but if you have had to, now or in the past, you might be interested in some advice from Bob Etheredge. He wrote that a farmer, years ago, told him that he had lost his first planting of cottonseed for about five years in a row so now he always plants his "Sorry" seed first!

Bob also reported that the embargo on grain shipments to Russia by President Carter is not preventing that Country from getting all the grain it wants after all. They are simply buying it from other countries - Argentina, for example. Ironically enough, it was pointed out that three out of four tons of grain Russia is buying comes from the hands of three or more countries.

Dean's Honor Roll Lists 15 Oltonites

At least 15 students from Olton are among the more than 5,000 named to deans' honor rolls at Texas Tech University for the spring semester, according to a release from the college.

Named to the academic honor list for posting grade point averages of at least 3.0 on a 4.0 scale were Kathy Ahrens, Lori Barnett, Lisa Brimhall, Nancy Britton, Patricia Daugherty, Janet DePrang, Lynda Featherngill, Donice Johnson, Kim Kinnison, Caleb McClure, Sherilyn McGill, Pam Nafzger, Jan Spain, Mary Lee Smyth and Tim Watt.

(Lists are sent out by Tech, and other universities, and compiled from home addresses on students' records. This listing, therefore, might be incomplete.)

'Race Horse' Tourney To Be Played Here

Play will get underway promptly at 6 p.m. Tuesday, June 17 in a "Race Horse Tournament" at Olton Recreation Center.

Race Horse competition is man and woman alternating shots, all starting play on hole number one. High score couple drops out on each hole until just one couple is left. There will be a chip off on tie scores.

Entry fee is $5 per couple with all fees returned in prizes. Golfers must have a partner to enter. Pairing will be made according to handicap.

Persons are asked to bring a favorite covered dish for fellowship meal following play.

ENERY SAVINGS

Trying to keep your summertime air-conditioned temperature above 75 degrees and wondering how much you're really saving? You save three to four percent in energy for each degree, depending on geographic location, says Sue Young, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.
