Post Script

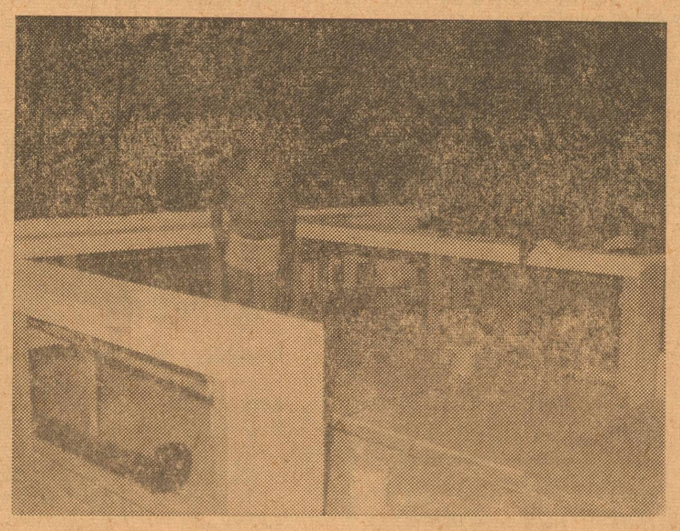

This new residence, placed on a lot on East Warner Avenue last week will be the home of Mr. and Mrs. Varzaragoza Esquivel as soon as all utilities are connected. Mr. Esquivel is a county road employee and the couple have two young childr n, a girl age 3 and a boy, 13 months. Their new home is a nice addition to East Warner.

Repaired in Eldorado.

This 30-foot house trailer was brought last week to Eldorado from San Angelo, where it had received a beating in a recent hail storm. B&B Camper craftsmen removed the damaged aluminum siding and replaced it with new over the week end. The job was ready to go by Monday.

Ever since Coy Bishop took over the camper business, he and Bethel Jeffrey have had all the work they could do and a market for all the campers they could build. While theirs is not a mass production business, it is a modest but solvent operation.

Future laundry location.

As seen here plumbing has been roughed in and other work is being done in preparation for a new steam laundry to be installed down town some time in July by Phil Olson. He is being assisted by his father-in-law, P. S. Dudley, seen above in an area that will accommodate no less than 16 washers.

Phil Olson continues to operate the Hazelwood laundry which he bought over a month ago until such time as he will be able to move down town. The new location is just north of the bank. Much new machinery and equipment is on order at the present time.

$26,000 Benefits Given 15% Hike

Social security benefits paid to residents of Schleicher County totaled $26,000 a month as 1969 ended, J. M. Talbot, social security manager, reported today.

A benefit increase, signed into law by President Nixon on Dec. 30, 1969, has since raised the monthly rate of payment by 15% for the 327 social security beneficiaries in Schleicher County, Mr. Talbot noted.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in this area, 207 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 81 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 31 are getting benefits as disabled workers or the dependents of disabled workers.

Mr. Talbot pointed out that although the majority of social security beneficiaries are older people, about one of every four is under age 60.

In the State of Texas, 321,147 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. The 186,789 who are under 18 are receiving payments because a working father or mother has died or is getting social security disability or retirement benefits.

Of the 30,272 who are 18 through 21 years of age, most are getting students' benefits under a provision which permits the continuation of a child's benefits past his or her 18th birthday, and up to age 22 if he or she is attending school full time.

But in this 18 to 22 group, Mr. Talbot said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that is provided working people of all ages under the social security program.

A number are the children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 18 and who will probably never be able to go to work and become self-supporting. The benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely and benefits are also payable to their mothers if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Another small but significant group of youthful social security beneficiaries are those who are receiving social security benefits as disabled workers. Under a 1967 change in the law, disability benefits can be paid to a person who becomes disabled for work even if he has less than five years of work under social security. As little as a year and a half is required in the case of a worker who becomes disabled before age 24.

For further information, contact the Social Security Office at 3000 West Harris (P.O. Box 3808) in San Angelo, Texas, or see the representative when he is in your area.

Jan McClelland of Sonora visited Mrs. Sherwood Barker and Mrs. R. L. Ballew before departing on Thursday for Hawaii for a six weeks holiday.

Local Co-Op Granted Loan Of $400,000

The system has plenty of room in which to expand—it now has lines in nine other counties in addition to Schleicher. These are Menard, Sutton, Tom Green, Irion, Reagan, Upton, Crockett, Pecos and Val Verde.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Each time a pesticide is used on the farm or in the home there are four basic rules of safety which should always be followed to the letter.

Always take the appropriate protective measures. These are outlined on the container label. The label should be reread each time an application is made. Point two, always strive for accurate application. Hit the pest at the right time with the proper insecticide. Remember to protect those around you by preferably storing the unused pesticide under lock and key. And finally, don't leave the disposal of containers or left-over chemicals to chance.

The correct disposal of left-over chemicals or containers is not always covered on the label instructions; therefore, that job is left to the user. To safely break glass containers, roll them first in paper and then crush them. Metal and plastic containers, other than aerosol containers, should be punched full of holes to make them unusable, and then crushed. These along with the glass should be buried in an out-of-the-way place where there is no possibility of contamination. It is best to also bury paper containers; however, they may be burned provided there is no wind and you stay out of the smoke. Since there nearly always is a residue in the empty bags, it's a good idea to bury the ashes.

Do not puncture or burn aerosol (pressurized) bug-bombs. They should be buried or taken to a land-fill dump for proper disposal.

And finally, the safe use of agricultural chemicals depends upon the user. They are safe when used according to label instructions and in accordance with safety recommendations.

If you see a triangle of fluorescent orange and reflective red ahead on the highway, it means slow down and drive carefully. It's a Slow Moving Vehicle emblem and was placed on the machine as a warning to motorists to slow down.

The emblem was developed by agricultural engineers to warn drivers when they are approaching a slow-moving vehicle. The emblem can be seen and recognized up to 500 feet away at any time of the day and under almost all driving conditions.

Many accidents are caused simply because the motorist often does not realize that the object ahead is moving so slowly until it is too late to avoid a collision. If the emblem is in place, and is duly noted, there is time to slow down or even stop.

The center of the emblem is fluorescent yellow-orange, the most visible color in daylight, and the outside border is reflective to show up at night. The emblem is intended for use on vehicles designed to travel 25 mph or less and can easily be mounted on most farm equipment.

It's inexpensive, durable and movable and doesn't interfere with the machine or its operator.

Schleicher county farmers who must move farm equipment and machinery on highways should attack the SMV emblem on the back of the tractor or implement being moved. The emblem is being used nationwide and motorists should be familiar with it. Its use is cheap insurance against rear end collisions.

You never outgrow your need for milk. And people in Schleicher county need to consume more dairy products for best health conditions.

Since June is Dairy Month, now is a good time to plan meals which utilize the abundant supply of wholesome dairy products.

Too, since temperatures are approaching summer levels, it is also the time when refreshing, easy-to-serve meals come into their own and dairy products fill the bill.

From our earliest colonial history, the dairy cow has played a major role in the progress of our nation. The early settlers depended upon the dairy cow for a large portion of their food supply and today the nation's dairy industry supplies an ever-increasing population with an abundance of wholesome and healthful products —— many not even dreamed of by the pioneers.

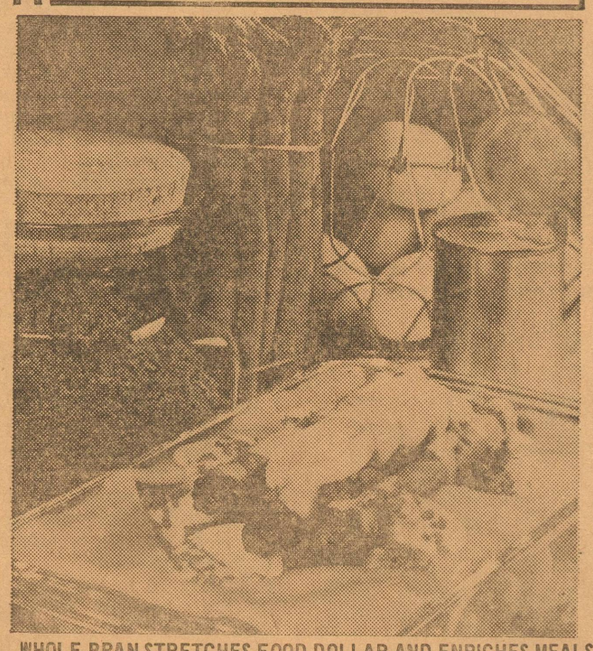

And still back of the mighty industry is the dairy cow, a marvelous creature. She takes the grass and grain from our fields and makes them into nature's most nearly perfect food—milk. And what's more, dairy products, including milk, are a food bargain in today's food stores. Compare their cost from the standpoint of food nutrients supplied with other sources of the same nutrients and you can readily see why dairy products are a best food buy.

WHOLE BRAN STRETCHES FOOD DOLLAR AND ENRICHES MEALS

Cereals are one of the most economic sources of energy and nutrients. One ounce, 1/2 cup, of NABISCO 100% Bran costs just pennies. It provides 100% of the minimum daily adult requirements of vitamins B_1, B_2, C and Niacin, plus goodly amounts of iron and phosphorus.

To stretch your food dollar and add nutrients and flavor: combine 100% Bran with crisp toppings for casseroles, stuffings for vegetables and fish; add to ground beef for hamburgers and meat casseroles; toss with cooked rice; mix with sugar and sprinkle over fruit or layer with ice cream.

Plentiful asparagus and eggs are layered with cheese and enriched whole bran in this easy to make one dish supper.

CHEESE'N EGG ASPARAGUS SUPPER

1 1/2 pounds asparagus, washed, tough ends cut off, cut into 1-inch slices (reserve 3 whole spears)
6 hard-cooked eggs, sliced (reserve 5 slices)
1 (10 1/2-ounce) can cream of mushroom soup, undiluted
2/3 cup milk
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon curry powder
1/8 teaspoon ground white pepper
1 cup NABISCO 100% Bran
6 slices sharp pasteurized process American cheese

Cook asparagus slices and spears in boiling water until crisp-tender; drain. Arrange half the asparagus and half the eggs over bottom of a lightly greased, shallow 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Combine next five ingredients for sauce. Pour about 3/4 cup over asparagus and eggs. Top with 1/2 cup NABISCO 100% Bran and 3 slices of cheese. Layer remaining asparagus slices and eggs, 3/4 cup sauce and remaining 1/2 cup bran. Cut remaining 3 cheese slices in half diagonally; arrange around outside of dish. Lay reserved egg slices and asparagus spears in row down center; top with remaining sauce. Bake uncovered in a preheated moderate oven (375°F.) about 20 minutes, or until bubbling hot. Makes 6 (about 3/4 cup) servings.

HELP KEEP TEXAS HIGHWAYS BEAUTIFUL

You are the one who can help eliminate highway litter. It isn't easy. The easy way to get rid of cartons, cans and containers is to leave an ugly, expensive trail of refuse along the road.

Responsible citizens don't litter.

Be extra careful about scrubbing the cutting board on which raw meat or poultry has been prepared. Wooden boards absorb juices which makes a fine place for bacteria to grow and multiply. Use hot water and plenty of soap or detergent to thoroughly clean board.

Off hand I can't think of a better summer dessert than meringue shells filled with fresh fruit or ice cream. Simple to make, the process goes like this:

Meringue Shells

3 egg whites
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ t. cream of tartar
3/4 cup sugar.

Preheat oven to 250 degrees F. (very slow).

Beat egg whites until foamy. Add salt and cream of tartar. Beat until soft peaks form. Add sugar gradually, beating constantly and continue beating until stiff peaks form. Shape meringue into six mounds on heavy brown paper on a baking sheet. Using the back of a spoon, form a hollow in the center of each mound. Bake 1 hour. (Do NOT increase oven temperature.) Turn off heat and let meringue cool in oven.

Serve filled with ice cream, fruit, pudding, or a combination of any of the three. (Note: 1 teaspoon lemon juice may be used instead of cream of tartar. Add juice after sugar has been beaten into egg whites. Cream of tartar and lemon juice are used to make the meringue more tender.)

Coconut Kisses

Into a stiffly beaten meringue fold coconut (or finely chopped walnuts or slivered almonds). Drop by tablespoons onto a cookie sheet and bake at 250 F. until firm — about 30 minutes. Makes a dainty cookie. The meringue is made from the same recipe as for the shells.

More about eggs—

Eggs are indispensable in many a dish, but particularly in light, fluffy meringue.

From the Swiss town of Mehrinyghem came this most delightful and delicate cooking concoction. It was here nearly 250 years ago that a baker came up with the idea of meringue!

Though it is nothing more than a combination of egg white, sugar, flavoring and air, a meringue is one of the most glamorous of kitchen creations.

Eggs are plentiful now, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service. So include meringues in your dessert planning.

To make a near-perfect meringue, you should:

—Blend in the sugar gently, about a tablepsoon at a time.

—Beat meringue only until sugar is dissolved.

—Be sure pie filling is medium-warm. A cold filling leads to leaking—a hot filling may cause beading.

Also, remember that egg whites beat to greatest volume at room temperature. Separate the eggs (carefully, for even a speck of yolk will cut down the volume) and return the yolks to the refrigerator. These will keep two or three days in a covered container (with water) until you can make good use of them in such dishes as French toast, scrambled eggs and puddings.

The family shapes and develops social values in the child. He may feel secure and safe as he faces the elements of diversity in society or he may feel frightened and overwhelmed. To the young person who has been helped to grow up with a sense of joy and expectation, a world made up of differences will be a foundation on which he can build a full, rich and satisfying life. But to the adolescent who has been raised in an inflexible environment, conforming rigidly to the belief of the superiority of his own group, anything different will be threatening, says Jennie Kitching, Extension family life specialist. Such a young person faces his future with unease, seeking only to repeat and retain what is familiar and avoiding the new. Miss Kitching says adolescence is the final opportunity the family has to help the younger person understand himself in the midst of the diverse elemnts of the world.

Mrs. Belk carried her sister's prayer book and her flowers were white orchids with stephanotis.

Colonial bouquets of pom mums and majestic daisies were carried by the maid and matron of honor.

The bride's son, Heath Berry, was ring bearer.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. Members of the wedding party and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Fred Earwood, greeted guests.

SIX WAYS TO BEAUTIFY YOUR HOME

Providing a fresh coat of paint to the exterior of your house will give its weather-worn appearance the brush. Work from the highest point down. When using a scaffold or ladders and planks, work across in strips about four feet wide. When using a single ladder, work from the top rung down, in strips as wide as you can reach safely and comfortably. Paint both trim and siding before you move the ladder.

You can enhance the approach to your house by building a stepping-stone walk. An easy way is to cast individual concrete stones in place right in the soil. This avoids the necessity for lugging heavy stones and permits making each one any size or shape desired.

To prevent clogged gutters—and keep the rain running down the downspout instead of the walls—use a guard designed to keep leaves and other debris out of the gutters. A plastic product called "Vexar" gutter guard is easy to install, flexible, and won't scratch or cut hands. It helps keep your walls free of unsightly moisture damage.

Metal stains on light colored exterior siding should be put to the acid test. To eliminate them, try washing with a water solution of oxalic acid, sold in crystalline form at paint and hardware stores. Dissolve three-quarters of a pound in one gallon of water and sponge over the stain. Allow to dry for several minutes, then wash the area off with clean water.

Husky, sturdy, solid and handsome, nylon shutters provide an open-and-shut case of beauty, value and style. DuPont nylon shutters install in minutes, require no special tools and insure long-lasting good looks. They can be handled very easily since they snap onto special fasteners, and can be easily removed and replaced if you want to change your exterior color scheme.

Whether you're green as a gardener or a blooming genius, consider the color of your house and select plants with flowers that will show to good advantage against this background. Yellow flowers, for example, are not as effective near a house painted yellow as they are near a white or red house. Cultivate an appreciation of such relationships and your house will grow in beauty.

100,000 WILL THRILL TO RISE AND FALL OF ANCIENT AMERICAN CIVILIZATION IN HILL CUMORAH PAGEANT

One of the most bizarre scenes in the Hill Cumorah Pageant is the rite of human sacrifice in the court of King Lamoni whose people turned from the teachings of the Lord, wandered into the wilderness and fell into savagery.

PALMYRA, New York—America's most colorful, most elaborate religious spectacle—the famous Hill Cumorah Pageant—will be presented for the 34th year this summer, July 27-August 1.

On 25 stages on a broad hillside in this Finger Lakes Region of Western New York, 500 young men and women will bring to life the strange and intriguing drama of the rise and fall of a 1000-year-old ancient American civilization.

During the week of six evening performances, more than 100,000 tourists and others will come here from over the nation and from abroad to feast their eyes on the costumes of Greek, Roman, Hebraic, Aztec and Mayan Indian design; the play of varicolored spotlights on curtains of water; the burning of a prophet at the stake; the destruction of the City of Zarahemlah, one of the most awesome scenes in the history of pageantry.

Scenes from both the Bible and the Book of Mormon are portrayed.

In a vision, the audience sees Christ ministering to his followers in the Holy Land, his arrest by Roman soldiers, and then, after his resurrection, his appearance to his followers in the New World, counseling them before his ascension to Heaven.

This moving, reverent presentation is based upon a chronicle written by a prophet of the ancient civilization and buried on Hill Cumorah in 421 A.D. Guided by the Angel Moroni, Joseph Smith took up these golden plates and translated them into the Book of Mormon.

In 1830, on the basis of this chronicle and other revelations he founded the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, commonly known as the Mormon Church, which today has a worldwide membership of 3,000,000.

Palmyra is about 25 miles east of Rochester. Hill Cumorah is four miles south of Palmyra on State Route 21, and two miles north of the Manchester Interchange of the New York Thruway, Exit No. 43.

Did You Know That---

In 1913 there were seven graduates from Eldorado High School. They were Ida Conner, Delia Hale, Cecy Black, and Dell Bearce and Messrs. Lawrence Boynton, Henry Todd and Herbert Finley.

In September of 1929 there was one school in Schleicher County which had claim to being the smallest school in the state.

The first boys to go to the war were ten volunteers who volunteered in company H, at San Angelo, on the 20th of July, 1917. They were Charles E. Lewis, Edwin W. Wilhite, Horace G. Craig, Simon J. Gay, Rufus H. Key, Robert Samuel Sheppard, John Lawrence Neill, Bev McCormick, William B. Foley, and Herbert ("Dogie") T. Finley.

The first Schleicher County boy wounded during the war was Earl Booth on the 25th of September, 1918, in the battle of St. Mihiel.

Historical Society meets Friday night at 7:30 in Memorial Bldg.

Fresh Produce Good Buys for June

College Station, Tex. —— Fresh produce floods the markets as items are hauled from Texas truck farms. To insure best value in buying fresh fruits and vegetables, here are suggestions from Gwendolyne Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist.

Now is the time for enjoying cantaloupe, and due to modern transportation facilities, the cantaloupe season is a long one. Cantaloupe prices have compared favorably with the cost of other fruits for several weeks, but it is during the harvest season for nearby growing areas that prices are lowest. Quality melons, full of flavor, will be available in the weeks ahead.

Ripe cantaloupes should be wrapped in waxed paper and placed in a plastic bag or other covered container before storing in the refrigerator, since the odor can be picked up by other foods, Mrs. Clyatt reminds.

Oranges, apples, pineapples, bananas, and strawberries are other fruits worthy of consideration, and stocks of canned vegetables and tomato products are still heavy and budget buys are abundant in grocery departments.

Fresh vegetable from nearby truck farms are coming to market and quality is very good considering weather conditions of recent weeks. Corn, squash, collards, mustard greens, blackeye and purple hull peas, carrots, head lettuce, cucumbers, potatoes, green onions and radishes are among the more economical choices.

Retail beef levels are about the same as last week with special features on chuck cuts, steaks, hamburer and corned beef. Special emphasis is also being placed on standing rib roast—4th and 5th cuts and liver.

Canned and smoked hams offer the conscientious shopper excellent food buys in the pork family and Boston butt roasts, shoulder steaks and chops are featured in several markets. Bacon is also being featured in some stores

June is Dairy Month and production levels should be at their peaks. Prices for milk and dairy products will be more favorable during June than later in the year because of plentiful supplies that exist during this period.

June egg production is also expected to be 3% above a year ago. Egg size should not be confused with quality, however, retail sales are lower this week with large sizes genrally the best value by weight. A few markets are also featuring whole fryers and chicken hens, Mrs. Clyatt reports. Only the smaller sizes of turkeys are being featured in a few markets, she notes.

Where The 16-Bed Nursing Home Addition Will Go

This poem was written in memory of my father. It is dedicated to my loving mother who was his faithful companion for sixty years. —Marshall Davis

PAPA (The Late E. T. Davis)

Papa was not a wealthy man,
His possessions were always small;
He did not have much education, yet
He always stood straight and tall.

Papa was a peculiar man,
His kind is hard to describe.
He always lived an open life,
There was nothing he tried to hide.

Papa was always plain spoken
Whether you were for it or "again it"
But, you could rest assured
When he told you something, he meant it.

Sometimes, he seemed almost hard
Until sometimes you would fear.
But he could always have compassion,
To the shedding of a tear.

Papa had a lot of personal pride
Yet he was always humble.
He never would condone wrong doings,
But, would reach for men that stumble.

Papa loved his neighbors,
His family and his land.
He always thought one that did not
Just simply was not a man.

Papa never wanted to quit,
Whenever it came to work.
In all my life, I never knew,
A duty that he would shirk.

When he was happy or feeling good
He would grin on the side of his face
And when he would get angry,
He would really change his pace.

Papa, in many ways, was a wise man.
He never claimed to know it all,
But, to me he will always be a Giant

Hazard Insurance Adequate?

One of the details that often needs buyer attention in the purchase of a home is hazard insurance coverage—such as fire or owner's public liability protection.

William J. McAuliffe, Jr.

When the closing of a real estate purchase takes place, the home buyer typically has the opportunity to pay the seller for the remaining unexpired term of such insurance coverage—and the policy then is endorsed over to the buyer. Payment is for the number of months of coverage left, multiplied by one-twelfth of the annual premium paid by the seller (referred to as a pro-rated adjustment).

As you go to closing, you should make sure there is adequate hazard insurance protection on the property. And you should see that arrangements are made for you to remit payment and immediately have the policy or policies endorsed over to you. In some cases, it is possible to arrange for the insurance company to issue a policy endorsement, making the transfer effective at time of closing.

For added protection, you may wish to consider placing a "binder" covering your interest into effect when the agreement of sale is executed. This step will protect you between the date of your purchase and the date of your closing.

It is important for you to be satisfied that the insurance to be transferred to you is sufficient to protect your interests. You or your agent should review the insurance in force as soon as possible.

Usually, the hazard insurance transferred is for fire and includes extended coverage. You may apply for additional coverage immediately if desired. If you make a pro-rated adjustment, you have the option of renewal or replacement when the existing policy expires.

Besides insuring against physical hazards, it also is wise for you to guard against financial loss from land title defects. This can best be accomplished by an up-to-date land title search and owner's title insurance.

GOLDEN TOUCH OF HOSPITALITY

BY JANE ASHLEY

Meat Pies are Picnic Fare

Savory turnovers are just the thing to fill those hearty picnic appetites. They make a good meal for out-of-hand eating. Make them the day before, wrap in foil and warm over the coals.

Savory Meat Turnovers

1 tablespoon corn oil
1 clove garlic, sliced
½ pound ground meat
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons corn starch
1 (8-ounce) can stewed tomatoes
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
Pastry for double crust pie

Heat corn oil in skillet. Add garlic; brown and remove. Add meat, salt and pepper. Cook over medium heat; stir frequently until browned. Remove from heat. Mix in corn starch. Stir in tomatoes and pimiento. Cook over low heat; stir constantly until thick. Roll pastry to ⅛-inch. Cut into 6-inch squares. Place 3 tablespoons meat mixture on half of each square. Fold over; press edges together. Cut slits; place on ungreased baking sheet. Bake in 425° F. (hot) oven about 20 minutes. Makes 6.

FUN WITH FIGURES

If you are average, your brain weighs 3½ to 4 pounds. If you are more than 20 years old, your brain is gradually losing weight. (So never let anyone call you a fat head.)

The largest number of volumes at any college or university library, according to the U.S. Office of Education, is 8,999,511 at the University of California. Following in second and third place respectively are Harvard University, with 7,600,357 books, and Yale with 4,995,398.

JODY WHITTENS' HOUSE BURNS

The residence in Houston belonging to Joyce and Jody Whitten burned on Monday, June 8th, and was considered a total loss.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Whitten and Mr. and Mrs. Lum Burk, live here.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Etheredge and grandchildren, Susan and Greg of Dallas, come home Thursday afternoon after spending five days on the river at Christoval in their new trailer house.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Sharp of Crane were guests of the Jack Etheredges on Thursday and Friday. Mr. Sharp is Mrs. Etheredge's brother.

Austin, Tex.—Pressure from the courts may move the Legislature to massive election law reforms next year.

At least two major Texas cases which could have far-reaching consequences for the state election processes and political system are pending in three-judge federal courts.

In one, Corpus Christi, San Antonio and San Marcos plaintiffs challenge the constitutionality of the annual voter registration requirement and the January 31 registration deadline. They ask reopening of registration after the June runoff primaries to allow voters until October to qualify for the November general election. More than 30 states already have a general election sign-up extension, and no state requires as early a close-off of registrations as Texas.

A second case tests validity of the candidates' filing fee system. An El Paso candidate for county commissioner and a Tarrant County candidate for county judge won places on the May primary ballot through court action when they pleaded they could not afford to pay the stiff filing fee.

A third case attacks the constitutionality of the statute denying aid to illiterate voters in marking ballots.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. acknowledged a great many changes are needed in the state election code. He is compiling a list of needs with an eye on court decisions and plans to contact legislators about them soon.

Dies indicates he is inclined to favor the recommendation that May-June primary dates be shoved back until August and September (as some 14 states now provide).

He also tentatively likes the idea of making voter registrations good for four years.

And the state, believes Dies, "is going to have to reach the conclusion candidates cannot continue to completely finance primaries."

Legislative Decorum Eyed

A House committee studying ways to improve the legislature's decorum and public image indicated it wants curbs on the familiar practice of lawmakers' voting for absentees on an electronic machine.

Committee members couldn't bring themselves to condemn "proxy" voting for members absent from the floor for a few minutes to take telephone calls from constituents. But they frowned on votes cast for legislators who are truants from the capitol.

Committee, headed by Rep. John E. (Ned) Blain of El Paso, discussed a variety of proposals to make the House of Representatives look and act better.

Among other major suggestions: a glassed-in spectators' gallery, desk-to-desk floor telephone communications and overhead projectors to display hasty floor amendments to legislation.

Drug Memo Signed

High-ranking state officials signed a "memorandum of understanding" with the U. S. Department of Justice Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

Memorandum formalizes the present working agreement and outlines areas of responsibility for state agencies and the federal bureau in which mutual efforts and cooperation will be necessary or desirable.

Overall purpose of the memorandum is to establish and maintain effective working arrangements between the state and the federal bureau to hold to a minimum diversion of narcotics and dangerous drugs from legal channels to illicit traffic. Most of the stimulants and depressants sold illegally originated from legitimate foreign or domestic channels.

Appointments and Honors

Sen. Criss Cole of Houston, a war-blinded Marine Corps veteran, has been nominated for the "outstanding rehabilitant in the nation."

Former Lake Jackson Mayor William D. Colegrove is the new president of the Beautify Texas Council.

Ralph D. Spencer of Lubbock now is secretary of the Texas Board of Architectural Examiners.

Dr. Robert Skinner was named acting director of the State Health Department tubercular control program.

Gov. Preston Smith announced these appointments:

—Southern Regional Education Board, Rep. Russell Cummings of Houston.

—Commission for Indian Affairs, Barney Joseph Wieland of El Paso.

—Lavaca-Navidad River Authority Board, Hans R. Wittenburg of Edna.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court heard arguments as to whether it should uphold a district court decision that the Texas obscenity control law is unconstitutional.

By a 6 to 3 decision, High Court held that a man could not recover damages although an Arlington hospital nurse fed him solid food soon after a colon operation.

A suit for $43,600, against a life insurance company that issued a policy on a quarter-horse, was refused by the Supreme Court because the company was not notified immediately when the animal became ill.

High Court ruled for Grand Prairie in a 3,000-acre annexation dispute with Arlington.

Court refused to hear the appeal of an Austin teenager dismissed from school after he was caught with marijuana in his pockets.

Attorney General Rules

Raza Unida Party in Hidalgo County cannot get its local candidates on the November ballot unless it gathers new petitions from non-participants in other party primaries, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

—The Teacher Retirement System Board of Trustees has authority to invest its trust funds in home office facilities, land and equipment used for administering the system, to manage and control facilities and pay expenses for operating, maintaining, repairing and improving them.

—Election officers named to hold district school trustee elections must hold a regular election for county school trustees and are to be compensated by the school district which also pays for election supplies out of the maintenance fund.

Hospital Funds Distributed

State Board of Health allocated $1,477,380 to 12 applicants for federal Hill-Burton health facilities construction funds. Projects and amount allocated are:

—Southwest Texas Methodist hospital, San Antonio, $400,000; McAllen General Hospital, $315,000; Spohn Hospital, Corpus Christi, $225,000; Torbett-Hutchings-Smith Hospital, Marlin, $150,000; Fort Worth Radiation Center, $60,000; Teague Hospital Authority, $99,715.

—West Coke County Hospital, Robert Lee, $38,295; Overall-Morris Memorial Hospital, Coleman, $19,010; Sterling County Hospital, $38,900; Morningside Manor, San Antonio, $41,960; Space Center Memorial Hospital, Nassau Bay, $50,000; and St. Mary's-Gates Memorial Hospital, Port Arthur, $40,000.

Hill-Burton program pays up to 50% of cost of construction or modernization of hospitals and other health facilities in areas of critical need.

Three Cities Honored

Gov. Smith presented the Governor's Community Achievement Awards to Lockhart, Atlanta and Graham.

Awards were for cities of up to 12,000 population in tribute to progress made toward improving the quality of living.

Smith cited Atlanta for such improvements as a new high school and 65-bed hospital, city-wide beautification and a new sewage treatment plant.

Lockhart was honored for improved housing, health services and general beautification projects.

Graham drew its citation for broad-based citizen participation to improve medical-health services, beautification and economic and property use.

Short Snorts . . .

Governor Smith directed a $1.2 million highway fund transfer to reinforce the Department of Public Safety budget.

Texas Committee on State and Local Tax Policy invites suggestions on revenue sources and making tax laws more efficient and equitable.

Federal Office of Emergency Preparedness turned down Governor Smith's request to declare San Marcos a disaster area for flood damage aid.

Parks and Wildlife Department authorized $127,509 in spending for beach cleaning and maintenance in Galveston, Brazoria County and Nueces County.
