Quiet Welcome Awaits Mac At San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17. (AP) — General MacArthur comes home tonight to end 14 years of overseas duty but he will be greeted with little pomp and ceremony. That's the way the general wanted it in the first few hours of his return. And so his arrival will be stripped to the formalities of brief military honors.

The city is keeping a lid on its big welcome until Wednesday. Then MacArthur will ride through streets expected to be jammed by tens of thousands of people. He will receive a formal welcome from Gov. Earl Warren and Mayor Elmer Robinson.

ARRIVES TONIGHT

The general who was fired because he openly challenged his government's policy in Asia is due to arrive about 8 p.m. PST (10 p.m. CST) from Hawaii in his plane, Bataan.

City officials had planned to give MacArthur a rousing greeting at the airport and a full-dress parade into the city to touch off a burst of welcoming applause across the nation.

Instead, he will receive the Army's salute to a returning five-star hero—the booming of 17 guns, the brassy music of an Army band, and the traditional honor guard. His party, including ris wife and 13-year old son, will be brought quickly into the city to the St. Francis Hotel to spend a quiet evening. The general turned thumbs down on any talks or press conferences.

NO SPEECH YET

But Wednesday at 9:45 a.m. (11:45 a.m. (CST) MacArthur will come out of his retreat to join in the great party. He will be driven through the streets to the city's civic center for the public ceremony.

The governor and mayor will deliver welcoming talks. MacArthur has let it be known his remarks will be brief and that he will not make a major speech.

When this ceremony is ended, MacArthur will go quickly to the airport to board his plane for a nonstop flight to Washington — and his historic appearance before a joint meeting of Congress at 11:30 a.m., CST, Thursday.

Superintendent Of Schools To Get New Car

The Snyder school board yesterday accepted a bid of Herod Motors on the purchase of a new car to be used by the superintendent of schools, M. E. Stanfield.

After considering seven bids from six Snyder automobile dealers, the board voted to buy a Studebaker Land Cruiser sedan for an outright price of $2,315. The car is the largest Studebaker model and has a V-8 engine.

Herod Motors bid only to sell the car outright without accepting trade-in of the present car used by the superintendent, a 1949 Plymouth valued by the board at about $1,100. "If the school sells the Plymouth for this amount, the change in automobiles will amount to a difference of only $1,215," Bob Dupree, member of the board committee receiving the bids, said. Dupree, an automobile dealer himself, did not present a bid.

All other bidders bid on trading for the present car, specifying the cash difference expected.

J. R. Hicks Motor Co., presented two bids, but only one was considered by the board. The company proposed to sell a Pacemaker Hudson for a difference of $1,300 or a Super Hudson for $1,450 difference. The board considered the heavier car.

Lee Motors bid to sell a DeSoto for $1,600 difference. Pollard Motor Co. bid for $1,671 difference on a Chrysler Windsor. A bid from R. B. Sears Motor Co., proposed to sell an Oldsmobile "88" for a difference of $1,723.

Stimson Motor Co., presented two bids, one on a Buick Special for a difference of $1,750 and the other on a Pontiac Chieftain for $1,850 difference. All cars except the Buick were equipped with automatic transmissions.

The bids were called for on middleweight cars with horsepower ratings from 100 to 110, Dupree said. He added that the school board had not decided whether the Plymouth would be sold or kept for later use by new aministrative personnel.

New Problem Again Ties Up Texas House

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP) — Another highly controversial redistricting problem was scheduled to tie up the Texas House today. State Senatorial and House realignments were worked out weeks ago. Now plans to realign Congressional Districts are making their bids.

Set as a special order of business today was Rep. Paul Wilson's bill which would give Texas' Congressional delegation a drastic shakeup.

He drew district lines that would knock out at least three incumbate new districts putting Rep. Ken Regan of Midland against Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, Rep. Omar Burleson of Anson against Rep. Ed Gossett of Wichita Falls and Rep. Tom Pickett of Palestine against Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Gilmer and Gladewater.

SUBSTITUTE BILLS

Reps. Harley Sadler of Abilene and F. H. Sherman of Dallas had substitute bills ready to offer.

Sadler would create new district lines but would leave all present Congressmen in their present districts and give the new congressman to which Texas is entitled to Harris County (Houston).

Sherman would create two new districts — one more in Harris County and one in Central South Texas where no present Congressmen lives.

He would throw two incumbents into the same district, Reps. Pickett and Olin (Tiger) Teague of College Station.

RAYBURN EYED

Wilson, Sadler and Sherman all treat Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn's district differently.

Wilson would give Rayburn a district of Grayson, Fannin, Denton, Collin, Hunt, Rockwall, Kaufman and Rains Couties.

Sadler would boost Rayburn's small district nearer the population of other districts by putting together Cooke, Grayson, Fannin, Collin, Hunt, Rockwall, Ellis, Kaufman and Van Zandt Counties.

However, the Congressman from Bonham reportedly does not want Cooke County tacked on his domain.

Sterner would give him Denton, Collin, Ellis, Fannin, Rockwell, Kaufman, Hunt and Grag counties.

Russia Tells World She's 'Way Ahead'

LONDON, April 17. (AP) — Russia told the world Monday night she has finished her second Five Year Plan nine months ahead of schedule. She boasted topping her prewar production by 73 per cent, instead of the 48 per cent she aimed for.

In the major fields, however, her production still fell far short of the United States.

The announcement, by Moscow radio, trumpeted great gains in "the most important tasks of the plan" — but admitted the government gave no figures on production, but dealt only in percentages. It compared 1950 with 1940.

The Russians said:

Steel production — prime index of modern civilization—was 10 per cent above the target. Western experts earlier this year estimated the Soviets turned out about 39 million tons of iron ingots in 1950—compared with a U. S. production of almost 97 million tns.

Crash Victim Is Unimproved

Donald Haney, 14-year-old Snyder high school youth, was still unconscious from injuries received when the car he was driving overturned 3.2 miles south of Snyder late Sunday afternoon.

His condition is still critical Snyder Hospital attendants said. He suffered a broken shoulder and head injuries when he was thrown from the car as it overturned into a 20-foot-deep ditch after going out of control on a curve.

Doyce (Dusty) Moore, 17-year-old high school senior, also injured in the wreck was released from Snyder Hospital yesterday. He sustained only minor injuries.

Haney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Haney who live about five miles west of Snyder on the Lamesa Highway.

Group Will Attend San Angelo Meeting

A group of about 15 persons from Snyder will go to San Angelo tomorrow to attend a one-day clinic on beef classification under the new government regulations, according to O. M. Fowler, county agent.

Extension workers and others interested in the new beef price setup, from over West Texas, are slated to attend.

British Sub, 75 Aboard, Vanishes Without Trace

Deep Mystery Veils Loss In Channel Dive

Two U. S. Destroyers Join Mighty Search For Missing Craft

PORTSMOUTH, England, April 17. (AP)—The Royal Navy submarine Affray with at least 75 men aboard vanished without a trace today after a dive in the English Channel.

Helicopters, airplanes and ships—including two American destroyers—began searching a stretch of sea 75 miles long and 25 miles wide along the South Channel Coast of England for the 1,600-ton submarine which has schnorkel breathing apparatus and escape devices.

The Affray went down south of the Isle of Wight at 8:15 p.m. (2:15 p.m. CST) Monday while on exercises. It was due to surface 11½ hours later but failed to do so. An Admiralty statement said it was possible the sub's commander had misinterpreted his surface instructions. But a spokesman added that the Navy suspects serious trouble.

DIVERS FLOWN IN

Navy divers were flown to the scene from bases in Scotland. Seventeen vessels, including six submarines, destroyers and American warhips were called out to hunt. One was the Royal Navy's Reclaim, a deep diving training vessel especially equipped for salvage. The Affray had orders to move westward at a speed of four and a half knots (five and one-eighth land miles per hour) after submerging.

In the 11½ hours in which she was ordered to stay down she thus could have covered nearly 60 miles.

The search centered between the Isle of Wight, which is near the port city of Southampton, and Portland, about 60 miles westward.

CREW CAN BREATHE

Navy officer refused to speculate on how long the crew might stay alive if the Affray remains underwater. Vessels equipped with her breathing apparatus can stay submerged for weeks or even months, so long as they are undamaged and their breathing tubes remain above water.

Searching ships and aircraft were instructed to hunt for oil spots or wreckage as well as marker buoys which a submerged submarine in trouble could be expected to send up.

The searching was being directed from the Royal Navy's big base here.

The Affray belongs to what is called the "A" class. She was launched April 12, 1945, and was completed in May, 1946.

Britain's last submarine disaster occurred on Jan. 13, 1950 when the submarine Truculent went down in the Thames Estuary after she was rammed by a Swedish tanker. Of her crew of 79, 64 men were lost.

Congress Acts For Sweeping Policy Probe

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP) — Senate Republicans today proposed creation of a 24-member Senate-House Committee to make a broad investigation of Far Eastern policy.

The GOP Policy Committee endorsed the idea as drafted by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) in the form of a resolution for introduction in the Senate.

The resolution calls for "a complete evaluation of the United States policies in the Far East and their relation to the foreign and military policies of the United States as a whole."

Senate Democratic leaders have agreed there should be an airing of the policy differences behind President Truman's firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from his Far Eastern commands.

POLITICS CHARGED

However, the Republicans proposed equal party representation on the suggested committee — 12 Democrats and 12 Republicans.

The Democrats could be expected to insist that, as the majority party, they should have majority representation.

Both Senate and House would have to approve in order for the Republican plan to be put into effect.

Both parties have accused each other of playing politics in the Truman-MacArthur controversy.

Chairman Taft (R-Ohio) said the GOP resolution had endorsement from 33 Republican Senators in advance of the committee action.

Taft said it ought to be pointed at a full airing of the Truman Administration's world policies, and not be just a limited inquiry into the reasons for MacArthur's discharge as Pacific Commander.

DEMOCRATS DISAGREE

Senator McFarland of Arizona, the Democratic leader, said he doesn't care how the investigation is made "just so the people get the facts."

But Senators McMahon (D-Conn), Kerr (D-Okla) and Gillette (D-Iowa) took another tack. They made it clear Democratic defense of the President's policies is likely to take the form of an attack on the Republican advocacy of MacArthur's theory that the vital fight against Communism is in Asia, rather than Europe.

MacArthur plans to fly here Wednesday to address a joint meeting of Congress Thursday. The House already has extended an official invitation for this speech, which will be carried by radio and television networks. The Senate seemed certain to follow suit today, after some debate.

Peace Parley Prospect Dim

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., April 17. (AP) — A North Korean demand for a Big Five Peace Conference —with Communist China represented — was expected here today to get little support in the United Nations.

The demand for such a conference was voiced in identical cables sent by North Korean Foreign Minister Pak Hen En to General Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam of Iran and Security Council President Daniel von Balluseck of the Netherlands.

The cables, made public Monday night, said the Korean war could be settled only in accord with the decisions of the first World Peace Council, a Communist-sponsored meeting in the Russian sector of Berlin last February.

The council then demanded, in addition to Red Chinese participation in a Big Five Conference, withdrawal of all foreign troops from Korea. It called also for repeal of the UN resolution naming Communist China the aggressor in Korea.

County Leaders Not Decided On Airport

Humble Shows Gain for Year Of 7 Per Cent

HOUSTON, April 17. (AP) — Humble Oil & Refining Company Monday reported a 1950 net income of $129,360,000, a 7 per cent increase over 1949.

Earnings were $7.20 a share, compared to $6.70 the previous year.

The company's annual report to stockholders said oil production last year totaled 110,675,000 barrels, about four per cent over 1949, 25 per cent over the average war year, 1941-45, and more than twice as much as before World War II.

The report said new investments for properties, wells and facilities were $110,490,600, a decrease from 1949, principally because of the lower cost of new wells and an inability to secure sufficient materials to drill a number of wells that had been planned.

Humble drilled 816 wells last year, including 143 exploratory tests. Dry hole costs were placed at just below $24 million.

Government Clears Ceiling Price Fixes

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP) — Government price control officials cleared the way today for wholesalers and retailers to apply for ceiling price adjustments to meet levels fixed under state Fair Trade Laws.

The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) issued an order permitting sellers to ask price relief under certain conditions.

Forty-five states have fair trade acts which permit manufacturers and retailers to agree on minimum prices for specific items. Texas does not.

J. E. Foote, of Big Spring, and N. W. Alexander, of Dallas, talked with the commissioners about supplying the fuel, but no action was taken because the court has not yet decided whether the airport will be leased to an operator or whether an operator will be hired to manage the airport for the county.

In either case, the commissioners stated they would be better satisfied with the county owning the gasoline dispensing equipment, and the oil company officials also agreed.

The officials, however, offered either to lend the county dispensing equipment or to sell the equipment to the county by monthly payments amounting to one cent per gallon of fuel sold, a minimum payment to be specified.

Sale of the equipment to the county would be better for the county for at least two reasons, the company representatives said. "After the equipment is paid for, it will belong entirely to the county, and you can purchase fuel from any company you choose," Alexander said.

"Of course we would like to supply the fuel while the county is buying the equipment if this method is used," Foote added. "And if you purchase the equipment, we can supply the fuel at a saving to the county by furnishing it in transport loads. When the equipment is paid for, the county can then buy from any company it chooses."

The men explained that if the company merely loaned the county the equipment, supply would have to be through the Snyder distributor in smaller loads which would make the cost higher.

The three commissioners present, Cullen Toombs, Doyle Parmer, and Walter Grant, agreed they would be better satisfied with the county owning the equipment, which would consist of tanks and pumps. "This would also be better than if the equipment were owned by the party leasing the airport," Parmer said.

The officials said they would furnish the county with estimates on the cost of equipment Monday. Officials of the Humble Oil Refining Co., previously talked with the commissioners about the matter also.

Allies Smash Enemy Front In Dam Fight

TOKYO, April 17. (AP) — Allied forces plowed deeper into North Korea today, maintaining relentless pressure on three enemy buildup areas where smoke screens may mask movements for a big Red offensive.

TOKYO, April 17. (AP) — Allied troops ripped into Communist forces on Korea's East Central front today in the swelling battle for the huge Kwachon Dam.

The Red's man-made smoke screen began to lift late Tuesday afternoon. United Nations warplanes roared into action with jellied gasoline bombs, rockets and machineguns.

On the ground Allied infantrymen battered the Reds with artillery and rifle fire.

Thousands of combat-ready Communist soldiers were massed in the hills north of the dam. The Allied attack was aimed to keep them off-balance and block their long-expected spring offensive.

Crime Probe's Extension Aim Of Republicans

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP) — Republicans called today for a prompt decision by the Senate on whether to set in motion again the sensational probe of crime and the underworld.

Senator Wiley (R-Wisc) said he would introduce a resolution to extend the Senate Crime Investigating Committee's life to next Jan. 15. Wiley and Senator Tobey (R-NH), GOP members of the committee, are sponsoring the resolution.

Wiley, told a reporter he planned to ask the senate to set a side next Monday to act on the resolution Failing in that, he said, he would ask for a committee recommendation no later than Tuesday.

An American Bar Association Special Commission, headed by Former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, recommended Monday a limited extension of the crime committee only to help get anti-crime measures written into law.

The Crime Committee now is due to expire the end of this month.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) withheld comment on the Bar group's recommendation. He has opposed any further extension of the committee.

Are Your Truman - MacArthur Opinions Just Emotional ... Or Are You On The Ball?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP) — You probably have positive opinions on the Truman-MacArthur dispute. Everyone else seems to. But —are your opinions just emotional? For example:

You like Truman and dislike MacArthur from away back; or you dislike Truman or have lost confidence in him and have always admired MacArthur.

Or did you reach your opinions calmly after squarely facing some of the basic questions involved in this dispute?

The first question, of course, is this MacArthur expressed views on our foreign policy. They conflicted with the Truman foreign policy.

The President ordered him to keep quiet. MacArthur didn't. He was fired by the President who is commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

Do you think the President was right in firing a general who refused to obey his orders?

OTHER QUESTIONS

Here's where the other questions come in, based on the Truman view and the MacArthur view on our foreign policy.

This is the President's position: The Communist threat is greater from Russia in Europe than it is from China in Asia. Our strongest allies are in Europe.

But Communism is on the march in Asia.

So we're going to try to block it —but limit the blocking to Korea. If we spread the fighting — by bombing China's bases in Manchuria, or by using Chiang Kai-shek's troops to invade Asia — we may end up in World War III.

Russia may come in. If Russia moves in Asia, it may move in Europe, too, long before this country and its allies are ready.

HOPE FOR TRUCE

So we'll stick to fighting in Korea and hope to work out some kind of truce, without letting the war spread. Why? The longer the general war can be avoided, the better the hopes for avoiding general war. Why? Because the more time we have in Europe, the stronger our allies there will be.

But here's another side to that:

At the rate the Truman policy is going, the end to the fighting in Korea is not in sight. Meanwhile, Americans are being killed there. And, worse, a huge Chinese offensive is expectd soon.

Even if that offensive is blocked, the fighting may go on for months or years.

This is where MacArthur's views come in:

Why let the Chinese pour men and supplies into Korea from their "privileged sanctuary" in Manchuria and leave Manchuria untouched? MacArthur says the real war against Communism is in Asia, not Europe.

Would you go along with MacArthur and open all-out war against the Chinese, even if it meant general war, with Russia moving in Asia and Europe, as the Trumanites fear it might?

No one, not even the Trumanites, can say for sure Russia would get into the fighting. They might bid their time and move only when they felt completely ready. On the other hand, the MacArthur supporters can't be sure the Russians would't move.

Every Life Has Peak Point: Hero's Welcome Awaits Mac

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, (AP) — Every life has its peak point, its hour when it rounds into perfect flower.

General of the Army Douglas MacArthur comes home tonight after 14 years abroad and a hero's welcome will await him wherever he goes.

But, stripped of his commands, he is coming home to a fight, too . . . a battle he must wage with words instead of weapons. . . a battle he has fought all his life. . . over the American policy in Asia.

The cheers of his countrymen will sound a rather wry echo in the heart of the old warrior. For at 71 he must know he cannot answer many more bugles. And when the parades are over and the cheers die down, what then?

BELIEF AT STAKE

MacArthur has come home to put at stake a lifetime of military belief. There is a kind of war among the generals involved, a war as to where the United States must right now concentrate its power. MacArthur says "in Asia." Marshall and "his boys" — Eisenhower and Bradley — say "in Europe."

What will the American people say? Right now they are doubtful and confused, torn in loyalty by this division of views among its highest heroes. One thing they are sure of: It is better to have a war among the generals than it is to have a general war.

No matter what the final outcome is of MacArthur's homecoming — slow oblivion or final vindication — it must have a bittersweet flavor to him.

GREATEST DAY

For amid all the acclaim that will greet him he must know the doubt in many minds: "Yes, he was right in the past — but is he right about the future?"

When the general looks back upon his own crowded career, I think he will always feel it reached its greatest climax on Sept. 2, 1945, when he accepted the Japanese surrender aboard the Battleship Missouri in Tokyo Bay.

For 18 minutes on that sunny day MacArthur stood on the summit of the world, tasting victory at its sweetest.

Quiet

an overnight rest in San Francisco and brief ceremonies there Wednesday morning, MacArthur will depart for Washington and his appearance Thursday before a joint meetng of Congress.

The five-star general and her of three wars got a foretaste here Monday of the preponderance of the acrimony that awaits him in Washington.

NO ANTAGONISM

For two hours Hawai's polyglot population lining a 25-mile route cheered MacArthur, his wife, Jean, and their son, Arthur, 13.

The spontaneous outburst of acclaim—at this starting point of the Pacific war which MacArthur fought from beginning to end — presaged pageantry and public demonstrations planned for him in San Francisco, Washington and New York.

But there was no note of the antagonism that has split America and the non-Communist world over his views. He urged that the Allies should bomb Chinese Communist bases in Manchuria and use Chinese Nationalist troops against the Reds to end the Korean war.

MacArthur smiled and waved in response to the shouts of the crowds. He shook a GI's hand. He chatted with an ex-soldier who had fought with him on Bataan. He chuckled as a fat bare footed woman danced a hula when his green sedan rolled by.

HONORS WAR DEAD

He received an honorary degree of Doctor of Jaws from the University of Hawaii in an amphitheater jammed with 5,000 people. He heard the univerity president acclaim him "One of the greatest Americans of all times."

He stopped at Punchbowl, a National Cemetery in the extinct crator of a volcano overlooking Honolulu and Pearl Harbor. He placed a wreath of orchids at the base of a flagpole in honor of 13,000 World War II dead buried there.

Some of the neat white rows of crosses marked the last resting place of men who perished in the Japanese sneak attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

After standing rigidly at salute for a minute, MacArthur turned to correspondents, pointed at row on row of the crosses and said "I know the glory of their death."

It was the simple praise of a man who had lived through the bitter campaigns of the Pacific war and had watched men die from Bataan to Okinawa on the long, hard way to Japan's surrender.

Allies Smash

Ridgway, new Allied supreme commander, banned all references to the exact size and location of Chinese and Red Korean forces.

On the Western front United Nations troops maintained their pressure south of Chorwon. The town, 17 miles north of the border, was destroyed by artillery and air attacks earlier this month. It is still an important Chinese base and road junction.

Yonchon, on the road leading northwest to Chorwon, was abandoned by the Reds. The Allies hold high ground on all sides of Yonchon, but had not entered the town itself.

An Allied tank-infantry force smashed into a Red pocket of resistance on the main road to Kumhwa, a Chinese bastion on the Central front. Fifty of the 250 Reds were killed by tank and rifle fire.

Humhwa is east northeast of Chorwon and northwest of Hwachon. It is a key point in the Red buildup area.

PLANES HIT TRAINS

The exact location of the fight was not reported.

Activity on the East and West Coasts was limited to patrol actions.

Dive-bombing U. S. F-80 Shooting Star jets struck Communist rail facilities Tuesday for the third straight day. Pilots reported five locomotives and 37 rail cars destroyed.

The Reds lighted forest fires and smudge pots in an effort to hide their ground movements from the prying eyes of Allied pilots. They used the same trick last November, just before they opened their drive down the heart of the peninsula.

The new field commander of the U. S. Eighth Army in Korea, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, visited his troops Tuesday on the Western front.

He told AP Correspondent Jim Becker his United Nations forces were ready and able to contain any Communist thrust.

Spring was breaking fast in Red Korea as Van Fleet made his first frontline tour. Roads again were dry and dusty.

Billy Underwood, stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Underwood, 2102 Avenue Z.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. DeLoach, 1101 Seventh Street, had a surprise visit from their son, Bruce. He was recently inducted into the Army and is stationed with the Field Artllery at Fort Sill, Oklahoma.

Band Concert Friday Night

Snyder High School and junior high school students in three bands will be presented in a concert at the high school auditorium Friday night, Jim Verner, band director, announced today.

The beginners' band, made up mostly of sixth grade students will open the program. The junior high band will appear next, with the high school band presenting the remainder of the program.

The beginners' band this year is made up of 45 pieces, the largest in its history, Verner said. The high school concert band now has 58 pieces.

A feature of the high school band program will be two instrumental ensembles, a flute trio and a saxaphone quartet. Sue Hamilton, Jane Houston and Joanne Addison are members of the flute group, while Phil Maegors, Georgia Harrell, Cecil Agee and Lowell Bynum make up the saxaphone group.

The high school band played for all home football games last fall, and made five out-of-town appearances during the season, Verner said. The band also accompanied Snyder representatives to the Fort Worth Stock Show, and gave a concert in Breckenridge while en route there.

Farm Offices Seeking Space

Administrative officers of the Soil Conservation and the Production & Marketing Administration yesterday asked the commissioners court to approve county construction of an agriculture building, but no action was taken.

The request was made by Sol Seay, SCS administrator, and Floyd Smith, PMA administrator, who first asked the court to have a temporary frame building constructed on the same site with—or, adjacent to—the present PMA building in the 1900 block of Twenty-seventh Street.

When the court refrained from taking immediate action to this effect, the group, which also included Nolan von Roeder, district supervisor of the SCS, and B. C. Drinkard, head of the Farm Security Administration, then asked if the county would propose a permanent type building somewhere.

The permanent building would necessitate voting of bonds, it was decided, so the court and the group then discussed proposing a combination jail and agriculture building.

Von Roeder said that if either the county or city would lend a site for the building, he would construct one for $2,500 and rent it to the organizations. The group agreed to talk with the city council and again with the commissioners court about the matter.

The need for a new building is caused by a recent order from the federal agriculture department to place the SCA and PMA offices in a single building. Drinkard said all agricultural agencies had been considering moving their offices together if space in such a building were available.

The Snyder police department arrested a man here yesterday on information of the sheriff at Great Bend, Kan.

He is Dan Staab, 30 years old, who gave a Great Bend address. Sheriff Joe Green of Great Bend wired the Snyder police department stating that he held a felony warrant for Staab's arrest on a charge of embezzlement.

Green said that Staab was wanted in connection with the sale of 72 cases of beer owned by a distributing company for which Staab had worked.

Police said that Staab had agreed to waive extradition, and was being held in city jail awaiting transfer to Great Bend by members of the sheriff's office there who are to come for his this week.

They Are Your Highways . . . To Save Them Is Your Problem

There is an old Proverb . . . One Picture Speaks Louder Than a Thousand Words.

These recent pictures of various Texas truck-damaged highways tell a tragic story.

They show conclusively what is happening to Texas highways under the relentless pounding of heavy and overloaded trucks.

These are your highways.

You provided the money to build them.

You are paying at the rate of $115,000,000 annually to maintain and repair them, according to the 1950 report of Texas Highway Department.

You must furnish the money through taxes to rebuild them. Texas Highway Department officials say this will cost one and one-quarter billions of dollars.

You have granted the big truckers the Privilege of using them for personal gain – not the Right to abuse and destroy them.

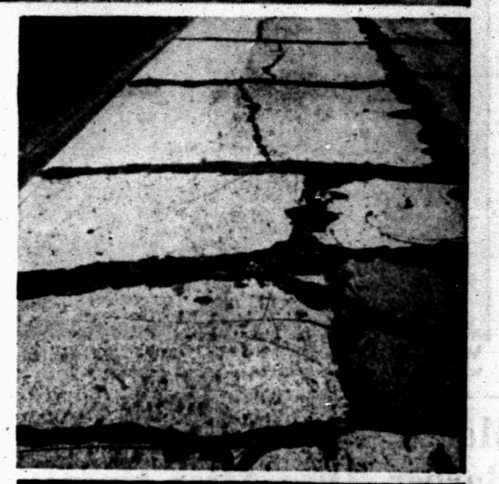

It is in the interest of every Texas taxpayer, including the truckers and the railroads, to prevent the destruction of Texas highways and to safeguard the lives of the people who use them.

Now before the Texas Legislature is a bill, sponsored by the big truckers, to raise the truck load limit from its present 48,000 pounds to 58,420 pounds, an increase of more than 20%.

Raising the truck load limit means increasing damage to the highways . . . increasing the hazard to human life . . . increasing congestion on the highways . . . increasing the inconvenience to automobile travel . . . and increasing the burden carried by Texas taxpayers–all of this for the sole benefit of the big truckers.

With its present truck load limit, Texas has the finest system of highways in the United States.

To keep it that way it is important that you write your State Senator and Representatives in Austin at once telling them that you oppose the Big Truckers' bill to increase the Texas truck load limit.

Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, April 17. (AP) — Oscar Winner Leo McCarey today took the wraps off his new film, which he says will aim at the heart of Communism in the U.S.

Until now, McCarey has been silent about his new film, "My Son John," since he was fearful that other producers might steal the idea. Now that the film is well under way, he revealed to me something of its nature.

The idea came to me when I was in the middle of a show business story, 'Born in a Trunk,'" said the creator of "Going My Way." The new story was so imperative that I dropped everything else to get to it.

"After the idea came to me, I knew that I had to have Helen Hayes for it. So I hurried east to tell her about it. Fortunately, I sold her on it. Then I had to come back and get the script into shape.

"This is a story about Communism in America. But a picture that is merely against Communism does not do the job. I feel you have to be positive about the thing. You have to show not only that Communism is bad, but that the American way of life is better.

"I have seen all the other anti-Communist pictures made in Hollywood. I dont want to knock the people who made them, but to me the pictures were not art. They are films, with Communists as th villains instead of the Nazis.

"In my picture there will be no scenes of the Communist party. There will be no Russians with heavy mustaches and thick accents, saying, 'Comrade, you weel meet me on de corner at nine o'clock; we will stop and have a dreenk of vodka before the meeting.'"

Mothers who attended were Mrs. Curtis Necessary, Mrs. Bob Reynolds, Mrs. L. F. Brown, Mrs. C. H. Thackerson and Mrs Van Sumruld.

Writ Won Against Texas Labor Unions

AUSTIN, April 17. (AP) — Brown and Root Construction Company has won a temporary injunction against a number of Texas labor unions.

The firm alleged that the unions seek to force it into a closed shop. Judge Charles O. Betts granted the temporary injunction Monday. It replaces a temporary restraining order granted last October and is binding until final disposition of the case. It prohibits the unions from picketing Brown and Root construction projects.

Attorneys for the unions filed notice of appeal.

DON'T ROB YOURSELF OF POISE AND SELF-ASSURANCE

Are you so conscious of your excess weight that your poise and self assurance is suffering? You needn't be that way—not when it's so easy to take off extra poundage without starvation diet or tiresome exercises.

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs little. It contains nothing harmful.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

HERE IS THE PROOF

"I have gotten wonderful results taking Barcentrate," writes Louise Bonham, Brookston, Texas. "When I started I weighed 220 pounds. I now weigh 150, a total loss of 70 pounds. I feel 100% better and am glad to recommend Barcentrate very highly to anyone."

Maceo, Famed Rags-to-Riches Barber, Dies After Operation

BALTIMORE, April 17. (AP) —Sam Maceo, the Italian immigrant boy who went from barber to fabulous bar owner, is dead.

The colorful Texas night club operator died Monday night in Johns Hopkins Hospital. He had been operated on March 28 for cancer of the digestive track. Complications set in a few days ago.

The 57-year-old Maceo was once accused by the U. S. government of being a part of a $5 million to $25 million nationwide conspiracy to violate federal narcotics laws. He was acquitted in New York in 1942, nearly five years after the indictment.

His Hollywood Dinner Club was once a haven for "big names" of the entertainment world and he booked such bands as those of Ben Bernie, Guy Lombardo, Phil Harris, and Harry Richmond.

When Harris and Film Star Alice Faye married, Maceo was best man at the wedding. Harris was a defense witness in Maceo's trial.

OWNED SWANK SPOTS

At Galveston, an island resort on the Texas Gulf Coast, Maceo operated the famed Balinese Room, on a pier over the gulf; the swank Studio Lounge, the Western Room, termed a "Poor Man's Studio Lounge", and the Turf Grill, a smart cafe. His Maceo Enterprises, Inc., with which he was associated with an older brother, Rose Maceo, owned oil production.

With him at his death was his wife, Edna Sedgewick, former New York musical comedy star. They had three children, a daughter, Sedgie, 6, and twin sons, Jay-R and Eddie, 8.

Since the formation of the Texas House Crime Committee, newsmen had frequently asked committee members if they planned to hear Maceo on gambling.

CIVIC LEADER

"I had assumed we would," said State Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, a member of the investigating group. "We had never discussed the matter specifically. Everytime Galveston gambling was mentioned Sam Maceo's name was mentioned."

Maceo's place in Galveston life was secure. He was active in civic work, the Community Chest, Red Cross, and American Cancer Fund drives.

Errors Rule As Cats Rip Eagles Anew

By WILBUR MARTIN

To err is human and baseball players are people.

They proved it at Dallas Monday night, where Fort Worth beat Dallas, 8-4, for the third time in two days. The smallest crowd in two years at Dallas—802— watched the Eagles make six errors, Fort Worth five.

Not by error, but because of them, Houston holds first place in the Texas League by itself today.

San Antonio made six bobbles and Houston took a 6-0 victory that shoved San Antonio into second place.

In other games, Beaumont dusted off Shreveport, 4-2, and Tulsa clipped Oklahoma City, 6-3.

Octavio Rubert held San Antonio to three hits but was hit on the leg by a drive off the bat of Austin Knickerbocker in the seventh inning and is expected to be out for a week. Dick Bokelman held the Missions hitless the rest of the way. A home run by Les Fusselman helped Houston.

In the dreary game at Dallas, Fort Worth picked up seven earned runs.

Harry Schaeffer wasn't phased a bit when Shreveport loaded the bases in the ninth inning. Because he wasn't, he got credit for his second win of the young season, two-run triple in the ninth inning to boost its margin over Oklahoma City, wheh hurt itself with three errors.

The same teams meet again tonight.

Baptists Void Bid to Warren

NEW ORLEANS, April 17. (AP) — Southern Baptists have withdrawn an invitation to Fuller Warren, Florida's Democratic governor, to address their convention June 20-24 at San Francisco.

The churchmen withdrew their invitation Monday "in the light of recent developments in your state."

The First Baptist Church of Key West, Fla., led the way by passing a resolution Sunday that the invitation was recalled. The church criticized Warren for reinstating Sheriff Jimmy Sullivan of Dade County (Miami). The reinstatement was "contrary to Christian principles," the church declared.

Warren suspended Sullivan after a Dade County Grand Jury indited him on charges that he failed to enforce gambling laws and permitted gamblers to bribe his deputies. Sullivan was reinstated last week.

Branch Rickey King for Day; Pirates Tops

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Staff)

King for a day, anyway. That's Branch Rickey's National League pace-setting Pittsburgh Pirates.

Getting a jump on the rest of the National League clubs, which were slated to open warfare today, Pittsburgh spoiled Cincinnati's sneek preview Monday by routing the Reds, 4-3, before 30,441 disappointed and blanketed fans. Near-freezing temperature and snow flurries marred the Reds' inaugural.

That left the Pirates all alone in the victory column as rain washed out the other half of the special ceremonial opening at Washington. The Senators and Defending Champion New York Yankees were to have ushered in the American League season.

Weather permitting, all 16 clubs should get under way today with an estimated 242,000 customers expected to attend the eight openers. That includes the Senators-Athletics scheduled night game in Philadelphia, first night opener in the American. Freezing and wet weather, however, was predicted in a majority of the cities.

Pittsburgh's triumph was doubly sweet as it came at the expense of Ewell (The Whip) Blackwell, one of the National League's better hurlers.

Big State Loop Gets Off to A Flying Start

(By The Associated Press)

The Class B Big State League swings into action tonight with new managers for every club and one new member — Tyler.

Gainesville is at Wichita Falls; Austin at Temple; Tyler at Waco and Sherman-Denison at Texarkana.

Tyler replaced Greenville in the circuit, starting its fourth year hopeful of a record attendance of nearly a million.

The league dropped to a total of 650,401 attendance last year. The record of 800,886 was set in 1947, first season of play.

The lineup on managers is:

Bruce Ogrodowski, Wichita Falls; Hal Van Pelt, Gainesville; Hank Oana, Texarkana; Bill Herring, Temple; Tom Jordan, Austin; Buster Chatham, Waco; Hal Epps, Tyler; Billy Capps, Sherman-Denison.

Texarkana, which has won the pennant twice, is favored to take it again.

The Bears will open with veteran Tince Leonard on the mound, opposing southpaw Roy Parker.

Wichita Falls will open with a gold-colored baseball and gold-colored bases in celebration of the Minor League's 75th anniversary. Carmen Ferullo will start for the Spudders.

Waco will use Owne Maguire on the mound, while Temple, the team Central Texas mothers, will open with Don Spyker pitching against Ed Santulli.

Open Amateur Golf Tourney

PINEHURST, N. C., April 17. (AP) —Their battle with par over, qualifiers in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament today opened the man-to-man phase of the event.

Stealing the play from the more widely heralded Walker Cup contingent, a pair of newcomers to the tournament, Dale Morey, Dallas, Tex., and Howard Everitt, Atlantic City, N. J., were the top performers in Monday's qualifying round.

Morey, current Southern champion, was the only man in the field of 148 to beat par on each side, notching nines of 34-35—69, for a three under par performance over the 6,900-yard No. 3 championship course of the Pinehurst Country Club course.

Everitt, a former Pennsylvania amateur champion, was a stroke back with 34-36—70.

Apaches Stay On Warpath In Gulf Coast

(By The Associated Press)

The Apaches are on the warpath and are rampaging unchecked through the Gulf Coast area. Seven cities in that section are wondering what to do to stop them.

Although no one is in danger of losing his scalp since the rampaging Apaches are the Laredo club of the Gulf Coast League, there is a chance that the fast moving Indians will make a run-away of the Brownsville Monday night, 4-3, for their sixth victory of the season without a defeat.

In other games Corpus Christi nipped Lake Charles, 3-2; Galveston defeated Port Arthur, 7-3, and Harlingen beat Texas City, 8-5.

Home runs continued a feature, with four pounded out of the Parks Monday night, two by Laredo's George Lopez.

Marty Errante went the distance for the Aaches.

Righthanded Jesus Valenzuela curved-balled the Lake Charles into submission for the Corpus Christi Aces. Valenzuela tied up with Lefty Bobby German in a pitcher's duel, stopping the Lakers with one hit in the last seven innings.

The Harlingen Capitols picked on three Texas City pitchers.

A&M To Test Vaunted Line Of Longhorns

(By The Associated Press)

The mighty University of Texas Longhorns will find out just how strong their top foe—Texas A&M — in the Southwest Conference baseball race is Saturday.

But they know about Southern Methodist. They found out Monday in handing the Mustangs a 12-3 licking and boosted their record in conference play to six straight victories against no defeats.

The Steers, two-time defending champions of collegiate baseball, cut loose with two big innings — the fourth and seventh — to smother SMU.

In another conference game, the Baylor Bears brushed off Texas Christian, 8-3.

Gus Horncier and Frank Kane led a 12-hit assault against three SMU pitchers.

The Mustangs touched Milton Deason for 11 hits, but couldn't score until the ninth.

Ray Fitzpatrick pitched Baylor to its victory, spacing eight hits. It was his sixth win of the year without a defeat.

Larry Isbell and Ty Newton chipped in two hits for the Bears and Ken Williams came through with a home run.

The only game today matches Texas A&M and Sam Houston State in a non-conference game.

Menace No. 1 With Reds Seen As 'Political'

By DeWITT MacKENIE
(Associated Press Staff)

The gravest danger which the Democracies face in the conflict with Bolshevism is, as I see it, political rather than military.

That is the danger of trying to achieve peace by appeasement.

Maybe your columnist is a bit hipped on the subject of appeasement. If so his excuse is that as an observer he had the harrowing experience of following Britain's Prime Minister Chamberlain through the latter's fatal efforts to appease Hitler.

You can't appease an aggressor. There is only one thing a bully understands, and that is force or a threat of force.

NO APPEASEMENT

So far as America is concerned, we have the assurance which President Truman gave in his broadcast April 11, explaining the MacArthur dismissal. Referring to the Korean war the chief executive said:

"We are ready at any time to negotiate for a restoration of peace in the area. But we will not engage in appeasement. We are only interested in real peace."

That is a categorical statement The United States will have no part in trying to avoid trouble by appeasement.

However, there are other countries which are not so fortunately situated as our own. They are Asiatic countries which lie in the path of Bolshevist aggression, or Western nations which have territorial interests in the Far East.

OTHERS ENDANGERED

The Russo-Chinese alliance makes a powerful combination which towers over the rest of Asia like a colossus. It is a power which a neighboring country — like India, for example — cannot regard lightly. And it is a power which a Western nation like Britain, with important Asiatic colonial interests, cannot treat cavalierly.

Thus it perhaps isn't strange to see Britain and Asia recognizing the Chinese Communist government which is waging war against Democracy. One doesn't hold these recognitions up as striking examples, but as reminders that people who live at the base precipitous mountains have to watch out for landslides.

The question of appeasement is of particular importance now because it is quite clear that the Communists don't want peace in Asia. Their strategy is to weaken the Democracies by keeping them involved in military operations like the Korean war.

Such a harrowing situation is calculated to inspire concessions from countries which are endangered. Every concession to force is a loss of ground for the principles for which the United Nations stands.

India Asks Red China Speak on MacArthur

NEW DELHI, India, April 17. (AP) —India has asked Communist China's reaction to General MacArthur's dismissal with a view to determining whether the time is ripe for a new attempt at arranging Korean peace talks, a foreign ministry source said today.

India's Ambassador to Peiping, K. M. Panikkar, was expected to "make his own soundings" before assessing the situation. He is expected to reply to the government here with an estimate in a few days.

F. M. Brownfield, 3012 Avenue W, returned home last week from South Bend, Tex., where he has been taking the hot baths for his health.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Brownfield had as guests last week Mr. Brownfield's daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thannisch from Fort Worth.

Mrs. Elma Browning, 2800 Avenue Q, went to Fort Worth over the week end to visit her sister, Mrs. P. D. Walters.

Cool Days Ahead

Part of the Stephens Hardware & Supply's air conditioning supply is shown above. They have a complete line of Paramount air conditioners to fit any cooling need. The larger one with the side panel removed has a squirrel type blower, can be used for business or residences either. The smaller one has a two speed fan and is used for cooling homes. Another advantage of shopping at Stephens is that they have plenty of copper tubing and fittings for air conditioner installation.

Many Obstacles To Predicted Record Breaking Cotton Crop

COLLEGE STATION, April 17. (AP) —Indications are that cotton planting in Texas in 1951 will be up considerably over last year's totals, the Texas A&M College Extension Service estimated today.

But the amount planted and how much cotton will be produced depends largely on the weather between now and planting time.

Involved also are the questions of amount of fertilizer, insecticides labor and machinery available, and the effect of insects.

The federal government has asked for a 16 million bale cotton production this year because of the war emergency.

SOME ESTIMATES

Here are the estimates of the Extension Service:

Total supply of fertilizer in the nation is expected to equal or slightly exceed the 1950 supply. The situation is beginning to tighten up because farmers are unable to get formulas they want, and they haven't yet begun to take substitute formulas.

Phosphate is expected to be rather tight, and nitrogen may be scarce later because farmers are not buying now, and storage is filling up. Potash is expected to be more plentiful than last year. Generally farmers should get by in pretty good shape.

Insecticide prospects are about same as they were last October. Farmers have fair supplies on hand, and this early buying has helped the situation. generally the supplies in sight are adequate to do a good job. Farmers may not be able to get what they want but substitutes will be available that will give good control when properly used.

LACK OF LABOR

Shortages of machinery for applying both dusts and sprays may develop, but cooperative use of this machinery and with what can be bought and constructed on the farm, no serious situation is expected to develop. Should severe infestations of insects develop, the possible lack of labor could easily become more impirtant than machinery.

The machinery situation is favorable with the exception of pickers and strippers. Custom and co-operative use of the available machines will help. In case of necessity homemade strippers could be used, especially in the high plains and Northwest Texas.

The acreage diverted from cotton during past years to more diversified types of farming is not expected to be put back into cotton unless crops normally grown have failed. In areas where diversification is well established, only small increases in cotton plantings are expected. Someland that has been planted to small grains—no stand because of drouth—and some in the areas where vegetables were destroyed by the latest freez now will be planted to cotton.

FREEZE CURBS INSECTS

Cold weather up to now no doubt has helped the boll weevil situation, but it gives no assurance that weevils will not be a problem. The weather in June and July will determine the severity of the summer infestations. Favorable weather for weevils in June and July could mean serious infestations.

Boll weevils were very bad in 1950, and the number that went into hibernation last fall was large Early stalk destruction and plow up will no doubt help keep down the number that emerge this spring.

Probably the greatest single problem is the weather. Moisture is needed in practically every area in the state and especially in the normally heavy cotton producing areas. Winter legumes have in most cases made little or no growth, where they did come up and this fact might have an effect upon the per acre yield. Fertilizers, if available, can be used to offset some of the effects of no legumes.

THE BIG PROBLEM

Labor is still a big problem. The draft and shift to better paying jobs are important factors, and the number of imported laborers needed in connection with the production and harvesting the cotton crop probably will be much larger than for last year. State and federal laws, especially child labor and school. will have a very important bearing on the domestic supply of migratory labor.

Agricultural Extension Service personnel now are holding meetings in most cotton producing counties to bring the facts to the farmers. Demonstrations on use of latest production, insect control machinery and methods. seed treatment, labor saving hints, and cultural practices are being stressed in these meetings.

Weather is the key that may unlock the door for theasked-for 16-million bale crop. Farmers have the machinery and the know - how and the price is favorable.

Among West Texas counties in which pink bollworms were found after Sept. 1 last year were Edwards, Kerr, Real, Bandera, Kendall, and Kinney.

Among West Texas counties where pink bollworms were found before Sept. 1 were Tom Green Concho, McCulloch, San Saba Mills, Coleman, Brown, Ward Crane, Upton, Reagan, Gaines Dawson Scurry Fisher, Jones, Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Callahan, Loving Winkler, Ector Midland Glasscock, Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Lampasas, Crockett, Schleicher, Menard Mason, Hudspeth Culberson Reeves, Pecos, Terrell, Jeff Davis Presidio, Brewster, and Uvalde.

Laws Useless Where Majority Has No Sense of Immorality

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

This is what I deduce from the crime investigations.

Whenever the state attempts to suppress by law activities in which many citizens indulge with no sense of personal or communal guilt, illegal avenues open. But illegitimate business can only survive in connivance with law-enforcement agencies. So an alliance springs up between illegal operators and politics, until a whole network of racketeering and corruption develops. Then the citizens cry for political purges and stronger laws. But though the purges are necessary, the nature of law should be reviewed.

Corruptions invariably happen under sumptuary laws, such as prohibition. Why? Simply because such laws do not correspond with the conscience of a majority or large minority of the people. No inner a sense of misdemeanor inhabits breaking them.

Nine-tenths of the members of all societies believe that murder, rape, burglary, or other crimes of violence are sinful, and the laws against them are upheld not only by courts and police, but by public conscience. In public conscience resides the real law - upholding force.

Except where the consumption of alcoholic beverages is barred by religious disciplines which have created instinctive inhibitions, such as among Moslems and some Christian sects, few men associate evil with taking a drink. But without such association their habits and the activities of those who supply them cannot effectively be regulated by law.

Similarly, large numbers in all human societies enjoy playing with chance, risking money and testa card, the fall of a ball, an acca card, the fall of a ball, a accident of numbers, or the outcome of a horse race, boxing match, or even an election. "I bet you" is one of the commoner phrases in all languages.

Now, drinking or gambling are not associated with virtue, and in excess, are generally regarded as vice. They have ruined some lives, as have gluttony, sexual libidinousness, and avarice—abnormal exaggerations of eating, making love, and desiring gain.

The general conscience therefore accepts that traffic in and improper use of alcoholic beverages should be regulated to discourage excess and protect the community, for though drinking is condoned, drunkenness is condemned.

And though the public conscience attaches no immorality to taking a chance, it deplores many conditions attending gambling. Also, the rules should be fair—the gambler should have a chance against the operator. But where gambling is illegal, the gambler involves himself in a misdemeanor, and cannot appeal to law against dishonest operators. These cheat eye, both the law and their clients. Gambling has its decorums. Poker, essentially a game of chance —compounded with skill—is played for money. Players don't think it immoral, but they read a cheat out of the game.

Wise societies accept man as he is, not as their more censorious members think he should be, and legitimitize practices which do not equate with a popular sense of guilt. Their laws try to temper inclinations, offer them relatively harmless outlets, and even seek through them some advantage to the community. Many countries direct the gambling instinct under fair breaks to the advantage of the treasury.

But where what is "legal" does not conform with what most or very many people consider "moral," the law always breaks down. Sumptuary laws have resulted in racketeering since Caesar introduced them in Rome.

And law must not only synchronize with the dominant concepts of morality, but must, in practice, prove protective of the majority. This applies to statutes governing legitimate pursuits. The OPS price freeze of January has confronted most of the business community with the choice of ruining their enterprises, committing a felony, or finding lopholes to do the illegitimate legitimately. Thus confronted the normally law - abiding become lawbreakers or law evaders without sense of guilt, and though police agencies multiply illegality is not checked.

For nothing ever really is accepted as illegal unless, or until, it is also accepted as immoral.

Travis Spirit Cited As Guide to Free Peoples of World

SAN ANTONIO, April 17. (AP) — Atty. Gen. Price Daniel cited the spirit of William Barrett Travis as a guide for the free peoples of the world in meeting the threat of Communism.

Travis was the commander of the Alamo during the battle for Texas independence and who swore, "I shall never surrender or retreat."

Daniel spoke Monday at the annual Pilgrimage to the Alamo, the opening event of the 56th Fiesta San Jacinto.

J. N. Barnette of Nashville, Tenn., head of the Sunday School Department of the Southern Baptist Convention, spoke.

Harris's Plans One-Cent Sale OnAnniversary

A double celebration will be held at Harris Pharmacy, Perry D. Harris, owner said.

The occasion—the first anniversary of Harris Drug store as a Rexall dealer here—will be celebrated with a big one-cent sale.

The sale will feature all Rexall drug items. Purchase of one item at the regular price permits the customer to purchase another identical item for only one cent.

Incidentally the Rexall one-cent sale is a nation wide affair, which happens to fall on the first anniversary of Harris's becoming the Rexall dealer here.

It will be held Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week, Harris said.

Addition of Leon Stewart Harris, son of the store's owner, as a registered pharmacist permits the store to offer an even better prescription service than ever before, Harris said.

The young Harris is a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, and is a licensed and registered pharmacist in both Oklahoma and Texas.

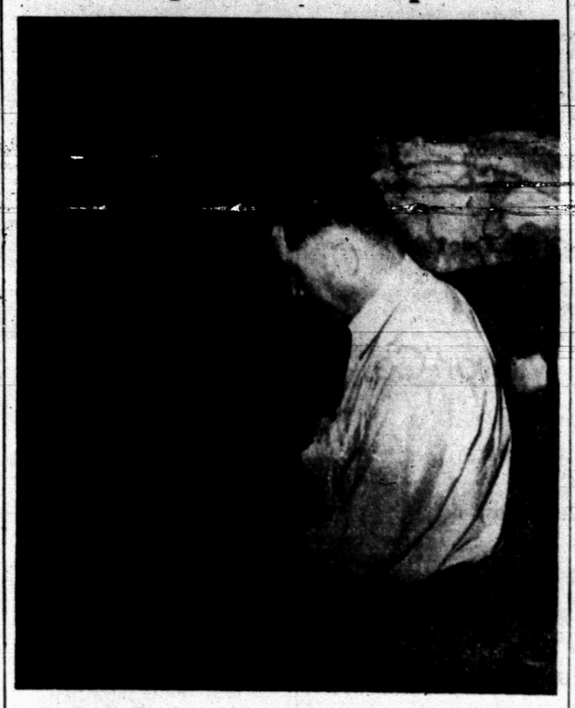

Having a pharmacist on duty at all times plus the fact that Harris Pharmacy offers an efficient, quick delivery service provides Harris customers many advantages.

"We will pick up a prescription, fill it, and deliver it to the customer quickly," Harris said.

It is especially appreciated by people who do not have transportation available at the time, or persons who are ill and can not cme to the store, he said.

"We invite everyone to take advantage of our big one-cent sale to stock up on needed drug items at a big saving," Harris said.

'Operation Sleep'

Final operation in making a beautiful factory-built mattress is being demonstrated by B. W. Dunnam, of the Dunnam Bros. Mattress factory, 2302 Avenue S. Through improved machinery only about two hours are required to completely build the finest innerspring mattresses by the factory.

Officers Elected Here Last Night At District Youth Fellowship Meet

Supper was served at the church, and was followed by a recreation hour. The worship hour program was led by Hubert Strom.

In the business meeting which followed the worship hour, Miss Billie Alford was elected secretary for the district organization. Other officers elected included Miss Katherine Elliott, recreation director.

Rabbit Drive Slated At Turner Community

A rabbit drive in the Turner community, about eight miles west of Snyder, is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning

Hunters are asked to meet at the old Turner school ground, which is one mile north and one-half mile west of the Dick Randals ranch. Shells may be purchased there at cost, and dinner will be served free of charge at the school ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davie and son, Mark, were in Austin Friday and Saturday while Mr. Davie attended a special criminal law conference. Mr. Davie is district attorney here. Sunday the Davies were in San Antonio with Mrs. Davie's parents. They returned here late that night.

Snyder Florist Preparing For Mother's Day

Bell's Flower Shop is making advance preparations for a big Mother's Day celebration.

"With the development of the occasion, red and white flowers—such ones have become the official Mothers Day flowers," Roland Bell said.

LONG PREPARATION

"We have been busy for weeks preparing for the big demand for such flowers that we will have Mother's day," he said.

"Many mothers, the older ones especially, prefer pot plants to cut flowers, because they lend cheer all the year," he said.

For people who prefer pot plants, Bell's have a wide selection of them.

Red, blue, and white hydrangeas are in full bloom in the rows of pots in the Bell greenhouse.

"The red and white ones are naturally that color, but the blue ones have to be cultured before they will become blue," Bell said.

A tour of the plant showed that there was high activity in all departments preparing for Mother's Day.

The corsage bar was staked with ribbons and bows ready to bind beautiful corsages for Mother's Day, there was a wide selection vases, and containers for special flower orders for the occasion, and pot plants were ready to bloom

Even an orchid plant was about ready to burst into bloom.

AQUARIUM

Bell's also have gold fish for sale. Fish flashing every colors of the rainbow swim placidly in the pond. One of the most noticable is a small, jet black one, with eyes which protrude from the sides of its head. It has something of the appearance of a one-inch long black catfish.

Bell's also offers telegraphic service at no additional cost to the customer.

"No matter where your mother is, you can wire flowers to her from Bell's for Mother's day," Bell said.

Charity Investigator Needed

Like many phases of the county's work since the boom, county charity has become big business. It is unfortunate that it is handled in an inefficient and time-consuming manner.

At almost every regular meeting of the commissioners court, from two to five requests for aid are heard. Edgar Tayl[illegible], county judge, reports that between meetings he has many emergency requests which cannot wait to be considered by the full commissioners board.

With their numerous other duties, neither the commissioners nor the county judge can be expected to serve as welfare investigators.

That the county's welfare work is becoming big business is evident from the fact that the last budget included an $8,000 appropriation for pauper care and pensions. During 1950 and the first month of 1951, the county expended $13,319 on charity cases.

In December of last year, after the county paid $10,000 to the Snyder Hospital for 110 cases, the commissioners created the office of investigator of charity cases. But so far no investigator has been hired, and the commissioners must continue to pass on requests without proper investigation.

Cases of need arise daily, and the county needs an agent to deal with them. The need is more urgent here than in other places of comparable size because the usual channels of mercy to the needy—the Salvation Army, the local Red Cross chapter, and a city welfare bureau—either do not exist here or are not equipped to investigate requests and disburse funds on a large scale.

In view of the magnitude of the job, the inefficiency of the present system, and the many other demands made upon the commissioners court, an investigator should be hired to see that the county's charity budget is spent wisely on persons who really need its aid.

Don Adams Is Given Award By Vet Group

In recognition for his work as commander in 1950, Don Adams, was presented with a gold watch by members of the Snyder post of Veterans of Foreign Wars at its meeting last night, according to Jack Caperton, post commander.

The presentation was made by Jesse King, also a past post commander, who lauded Adams for his leadership in making the local VFW post one of the outstanding organizations in West Texas, said Caperton.

Reports on the recent district VFW meeting held at Sweetwater were also made by delegats who attended.

Discussion of the present status of the Youth Center was held but no official action taken by the post.

2 Completions In The County

Two completions on Scurry County field locations have been reported to the Railroad Commission.

John R. Less and others No. 4 Van Norman, in the Sharon Ridge 2400 field, pumped 24 hours to make 53 barrels of 29 gravity oil and no water. Gas-oil ratio was 300-1. The well had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid. Top of the pay was at 2,307, with 2,310 feet total depth. Location was 330 feet from south and 990 feet from east lines of the northwest quarter of section 131, block 97, H&TC survey.

Léon Oil Co. N. 10 Jack, drilled in the Diamond M-Clark Fork pool, made 80.89 barrels of 30.2 gravity oil and 20 per cent water on a 24-hour pumping test. The well had been treated with 20,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 193-1. Top of the pay was at 3,138 feet, with production from perforations at 2,182-199, 3,199-210, 3-116-226 and 3,260-294 feet.

Drillsite was 1,654.3 feet from west and 990 feet from south lines of section 196, block 97, H&TC survey.

Jokester Vanishes During the Panic

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., April 17. (AP) Postal Clerk John Parkhurst accepted a parcel Monday, then noticed the return address:

John Doe, San Quentin, Calif.

Parkhurst also heard a ticking noise coming from the package.

He called police, who dunked it in water, opened it and found — an alarm clock.

Meantime, the jokester vanished.

Sport Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
(Associated Press Staff)

DALLAS, April 17. (AP) — Mildred Babe Didrikson Zaharias has changed greatly over the years. When we first knew her she was a spindly girl of 18 who had just finished one of the greatest individual performances in history—she had won two first places in the Olympic Games. She actually won another but was disqualified.

Then the Babe was a most confident young lady; she didn't think anything stood between her and her goal in any sport.

Today she is the first woman athlete ever to reach six figures in her annual income. She is regarded as the greatest golfer of her sex. She has been the greatest trackster, the greatest basketball player.

Not long ago she was creating a stir in sports by trying to play in the men's PGA Tournament. At that time she intimated that the men were afraid she'd beat them. Of course, they didn't let her in the tournament.

But I asked her the other day while she was in Dallas playing in the Weathervane Golf Tournament if she didn't want to compete against the men in the big money tournaments. She quickly answered:

"Of course not; I'd finish twenty-fifth. There's a lot of difference in women's and men's golf, you know."

"And what about the time you tried to play in the PGA?" I ventured.

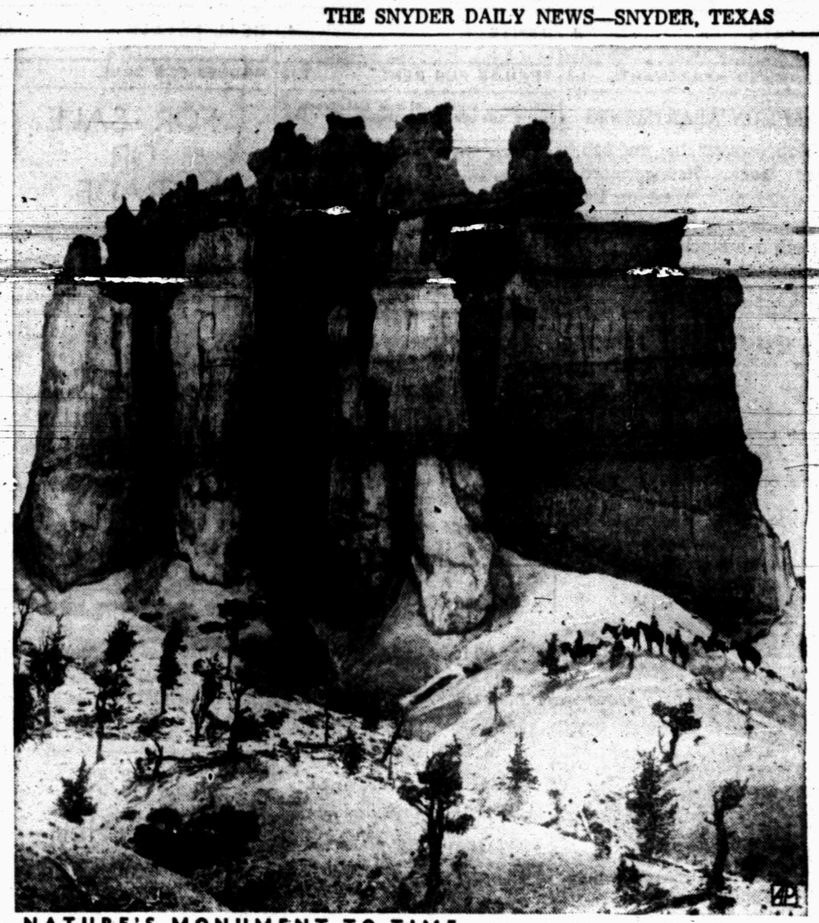

Oh, that; that was just a publicity stunt," she replied.

In other words, the Babe, as she grew to full stature as an athlete found out quite a few things. She's ready now to admit that somebody could beat her. She's even dissatisfied with her golf. "I'm improving," she says. "I'm trying to better my scoring. And so long as I continue to improve I shall stay in sports."

The new Didrikson.

Vets Must Act Fast For Life Insurance

WASHINGTON, April 17. (AP) — Any veteran who wants, but doesn't have, government life insurance must act fast, the American Legion advised today.

Issuance of new policies will be discontinued under the new bill which would provide $10,000 free death benefits for members of the armed forces, Legion Commander Erle Cocke, Jr., noted.

The change becomes effective as soon as President Truman signs the new bill into law, as expected.

Disabled Vets Meet At Village Tonight

The national organization recently granted a charter for the local disabled veterans, he said.

All disabled veterans of any war are invited to attend the initial meeting tonight, Armstrong added.
