Officials at City hall announced Saturday that the operation of parking meters in a zoned area affecting 17 blocks in the downtown section would be started Monday to initiate a 90-day trial of the devices.

17 Blocks Affected

The meter method of dealing with parking ills of the city will be in effect on the following blocks: Broadway, Avenue H to Texas avenue, south side only, and from Texas avenue to Avenue L, both sides; Main, Avenue H to Texas avenue, north side only, and from Texas avenue to Avenue J, both sides; Texas avenue, Thirteenth street to Broadway, both sides, and Broadway to Main, west side only; and Avenue J, Thirteenth street to Main, both sides.

Work underway during the past two weeks is to be completed by Monday morning with the installation of 320 meters. A shipment of 150 was received Saturday morning to complete the contract quota of 350 ordered by City commission last June from the Dual Parking Meter company of Oklahoma City.

Tips On Meter Operations Offered By Official Here To Install Street Devices

Comments on the operation of meters were made yesterday by A. T. Otto, installation official of the Dual Parking Meter company. He said in a written statement:

"The parking meter system is intended to "prorate" impartially available space for the greatest number, to increase curb turn-over eliminate double parking, and to make it less irritable to find a place to park.

"Drive into a parking space in proper line and deposit a five cent coin in the meter. Parking space may then be used for one hour.

Several Accidents Reported In Area

An open bucket of syrup landed on the head of a Kilgore man, about 45, driver of one of two cars in collision on College avenue about 4:45 p. m. yesterday. To add to his consternation, he was lodged in county jail pending possible charges.

His wife was one of five persons slightly injured. In the car also were a couple from Bristow, Okla., both suffering injuries, and the Texas couple's three children.

Miss June Williams, about 15, who had an arm sprain, and Mrs. J. W. Richerson, who had a forehead cut, both of near Shallowater, were occupants injured in the other car. Two others were in the machine. Those injured were treated at West Texas hospital.

No one was hurt in two other mishaps. Two automobiles overturned two miles east of Shallowater about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Weldon Lawson, state highway patrolman, said drivers were Miss Vollie Calley of Shallowater and R. J. Battle, also of Shallowater.

Slight damage to two automobiles resulted from a collision at Avenue H and Tenth street last night about 8:30 o'clock, police said.

Week Of Brilliancy In Expansion Of Trade Ended

(By The Associated Press)

A GENERAL list in steel wages, a fast-flowing tide of special and extra dividends, pay bonuses, sharply higher third quarter earnings, booming commodities and shares, all combined with quickening of the industrial pulse and expanding retail sales to make last week one of the most brilliant periods in the nation's recent business history.

The Associated Press index in industrial activity advanced to 986.2 from 95.7 the previous week and 81.4 in the like week of 1935.

Wage Boost Blazes Trail

Top business news of the week was the general boost in wages by the steel industry to the highest scale on record.

Steel circles said the advance, which affects more than 500,000, on Nov. 16, may nick final quarter earnings at it will be impossible for steel companies to put through offsetting steel price rises before the first of next year.

Virtually all workers accepted the increase. Some dissenters wanted more.

The department reported October building permits were larger last month than in October, 1935, in Fort Worth, Marshall, Amarillo, Lubbock, Houston, in Texas, and Tulsa, Shawnee and Enid, in Oklahoma.

Original AAA Control Setup Is In Demand

Farm Spokesmen, Called Into Parley To Talk Insurance, Ask Direct Control, Parity Price Continuation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7.—A demand for a strong federal production control program along the lines of the invalidated AAA was presented to the administration today by a group of farm representatives called together primarily to discuss crop insurance.

The administration proposal for crop insurance was mentioned only incidentally in a resolution adopted by 100 farm spokesmen asking direct control of crop production and maintenance of "parity" prices.

Farmers Want AAA

Secretary Wallace, after an interview with the president, told White House reporters the farmers attending the meeting apparently wanted to revive the original Agricultural Adjustment administration which was voided by the supreme court.

This sentiment was openly expressed at the discussion between members of President Roosevelt's crop insurance committee and the farmer spokesmen they had invited here to climax a three day discussion of the proposed crop insurance plan.

It was the first official indication of a move to revive the old AAA in the face of the supreme court's ruling it was unconstitutional. Coming on the heels of the Roosevelt triumph at the polls, the incident was regarded with great significance.

Edward A. O'Neal, who, as president of the American Farm Bureau federation, is head of the largest farm organization, said he wanted reenactment of the old "Triple A" together with features of the present soil conservation plan and loans to farmers on commodities.

Strike Causes Inconvenience To Emissaries

Peace Envoys To Buenos Aires Inter-American Peace Parley Delayed In New York Harbor Since Crew Insufficient

Solution Not Seen

Snarl Becomes More Intense; No Washington Intervention Seen; Critical West Coast Situation Broadens

(By The Associated Press)

A NATION-wide strike against American shipping increased in intensity today without sign of intervention at Washington.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull and the American delegation to the inter-American peace conference at Buenos Aires were delayed in New York harbor while eastern strikers changed their tactics from a "sit down, folded arms" strike to active picketing.

Thus, after two weeks of spreading strife from San Francisco to both coasts, methods of strikers became uniform but the shipping tie-up still was most critical on the Pacific side.

Paralysis Spreads

The paralysis of west coast shipping caused by the strike of 37,000 union workers spread to shipyard workers worked in San Francisco—6,000 of them, union leaders claimed, but employers disputed this figure.

Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins concentrated her efforts on seeking relief of an emergency situation in Alaska, where many towns dependent on sea commerce soon will be ice-bound and still have not received winter supplies.

Relief for southeastern Alaska was assured as maritime unions authorized shipments by rail to Prince Rupert, Canada, and from there by mail boats as far as Juneau, Alaska.

Violence was reported on Baltimore's waterfront, where 11 men faced disorderly charges and later two others were arrested on a charge of beating a seaman but were dismissed.

The Munsion liner American Legion, with Secretary Hull, Assistant Secretary of State Welles and other Argentina-bound diplomats aboard, put out from its New York pier but was forced to anchor off the statue of liberty by order of the United

Fascist Leader Says Entry Te Be Today; Refugees Fleeing By Every Avenue; Frenzied Precautions Taken

(By The Associated Press)

MADRID, Nov. 8 (Sunday) — Socialist militiamen, fighting off fascist forces marching against the capital, massed tanks and guns toady to withstand an insurgent counter-attack expected at dawn.

Thousands of refugees milled about in their search for havens as a number of insurgent shells scored hits on their houses on the outskirts of the capital.

Onslaught Is Desperate

The militiamen, girding themselves for the morning struggle, took heart from the successful resistance last night to fascist onslaughts at Villaverde and El Campamento, north of Carabanchel Alto and south of Madrid.

In a desperate battle, the militiamen held off the fascist onslaughts and slowly driving back the insurgents, made gains of more than a mile.

Machine guns and tanks, supported by new fighting planes, figured in the bitter clash.

Socialist Cabinet Flees

Batteries of socialist guns within the city limits poured shells towards the fascist lines, bringing home to the Madrid population how near the enemy was to the capital.

Spain's socialist cabinet fled today while fascist forces stormed close to the gates of the city.

A military committee took command of Madrid's defenses replacing the civil government.

Hope the capital's defenders would consent to surrender the city without further defense was expressed by diplomatic sources.

An agreement under which prisoners and hostages would be exchanged together with an insurgent guarantee of no reprisals without a fair trial was being negotiated.

The government later established headquarters in the Benicarlo palace at Valencia where the ministers met

Whips You Down Just To Read This, What? Students Continually Lashed

PARENTS who visited Texas Technological college campus for Parents' day celebration Friday may not have understood students' picturesque oddities of speech "whipped" from vocal cords of 2,700 youths.

The four-letter word, "whip," is the newest, expressing action. It can mean anything in the collegiate lexicon from taking a girl to a movie to bending an elbow or typing a theme.

Red Raiders are "whipped" out after brisk afternoon workouts. Freshmen girls complain of having their hair "whipped to frazzles" by windy weather. Students who are "low in funds" complain that movies are out of reach because, "I am whip broke", and talkative co-eds who control conversation at midnight sessions "whip" the group of girls to a "nub".

Girl-students may be called co-eds on other Southwestern campuses, but the young Jeans, Marys, and Dorothys registered at Tech accept characterizations from the men students of "flucy", "fluff", "squirt", "hide", and other equally-original descriptives.

The "flucys", however, call the boys who frequent their lives "cheese hounds", "rats", "sheepherders", or the like.

Slide rules which help engineers solve formulas and problems of calculus are "brains" and "slip sticks". The Engineers with "brains" in hip pockets leave the administration building for "the school," or the

The local schools will, during the week, attempt to show their visitors the activities which they engage in regularly, not specially prepared programs.

Three schools open the visiting period tomorrow night with an arrangement whereby parents are invited to view actual work. In K. Carter and Dupre schools patrons will see the children at work for two periods in the evening, while at George M. Hunt teachers will be in their rooms to receive visitors and explain the work done by children.

Special Events Set

Sanders, Guadalupe and Central Ward have slated special events for Tuesday. At Sanders on Tuesday visitors will be invited to view primary work, while on Thursday evening when the Parent-Teacher association meets the elementary grades will be on display as well as present a play, directed by Mrs. E. The assembly program will present an education week play, "Progress," directed by Miss Lulu Mae Cravens. Plans are underway for the official opening of the broadcasting system in Senior High school, Principal R. W. Matthews said, but no definite arrangements can be made until the remainder of the equipment arrives. If possible the radio system will be officially opened during the week, with parents and patrons invited to come and see the broadcasting in the auditorium as well as visit rooms in the building and hear the program.

Special demonstrations have been scheduled at Junior High school. On Monday fourth and fifth grades, Tuesday the sixth grade, Thursday the seventh and eighth grades. On Friday a program of culminating activities will be given in the auditorium from 1:30 until 3 o'clock. Each department in the school will be represented in this program.

All Equipment For School Broadcast System Not Here

Although all equipment has not been received and the system is far from complete, the broadcasting system in Senior High school has been serving students this week. Speakers have been placed in all the classroom, and announcements and music during the periods while students assembled in the morning and after lunch have been heard over the system.

In addition, English classes of Miss Grace Padley and Miss Dorothy Lomax have been using the system in their study. Speeches were made by thirty students on varied subjects.

"The Central Mirror" New Magazine Published At Central Ward School

Through the courtesy of the Parent-Teacher association all students in Central Ward received a copy of the autumn number of their literary magazine, "The Central Mirror." The magazine, which will be issued four times during the year, is the only literary magazine in the list of Lubbock School's publications.

The aim of the publication, the first copy says, is to publish examples of the best work that is being done by the students of Central Ward school, inform parents of the progress being made by students and work toward better self expression.

The cover design, a block print showing the north wind blowing autumn leaves, was designed by Lucille Le Compte.

Pool Is Editor

Lubbock Real Estate Board, Texas Property Owners Group List Objectives

Wide Program To Be Sought

State Group Seeks Economies In Government Revision Of Tax Assessment And Numerous Other Reforms

Lubbock Real Estate board is sponsoring the Texas Property Owners association program in Texas and is supporting an organization of this district, said Sam J. McFarland, president. The board here is seeking memberships in the state group.

At its meeting last week, and at other meetings, the board has aligned itself with the program of the association.

The state group has eight objectives:

1-State ad valorem tax, urging that the present tax law be completely abolished by constitutional amendment, effective December 1, 1937.

2-Revised basis for assessment, suggesting the following revision in present practices: A-all tax levying bodies in each county to use the county basis of assessment in order to insure uniform valuations for all tax bodies; B-for the purpose of arriving at true value of real property for assessment purposes, income or use value shall be the controling factor.

More Control Asked

3-Control public expenditures, urging legislation giving legislature greater control over expenditures of public funds.

4-Limitation of public indebtedness; vigorously oppose any effort to repeal or modify House 312 restricting power of governing board to incur public debt without vote of the people.

5-Uniform budget law; insist on strict compliance with uniform budget law and vigorously oppose any effort to modify or repeal the law.

6-Validating bills; vigorously oppose legislature passing so-called validating bills legalizing public indebtedness illegally occured.

Wants Government Economy

7-Economy in government; recognizin that economy and efficiency in the administration of the affairs of a representative government are its chief safeguards, it shall be the policy of the Texas Property Owners association to cooperate whenever possible with the constituted authorities in bringing about the highest degree of efficiency and economy in the affairs of both state and local government.

8-Enforcement of present tax laws; in order that real estate and other classes of property, as well as other lines of business in Texas, may not be forced to bear more than their just share of the costs of government, and in order that all laws for the assessment, collection and disbursement of tax funds may be equal and uniform as provided by the constitution and statutes of Texas, establishment of a state tax commission, independent of politics and appointed for a six year period with sufficient authority to enforce the present tax and budgetary laws of the state, is urged.

Session Well Attended

It cost $8,000,000 and will house the Diet. Only the pyramid atop the central tower is reminiscent of the ancient Japanese architecture. Professor Michie Will Read Paper

J. N. Michie, head professor of mathematics at Texas Technological college, will leave Tuesday for a meeting of the Texas Academy of Science in San Antonio, November 12 to 14.

Michie, fellow in the Academy several years, will read a paper Friday discussing a simple modification of root squaring process, "Graffe's method," for the numerical solution of algebraic equations when there are five pairs of complex roots in a given equation. He explained this process had application in stability of airplanes and in electrical engineering.

Michie plans to return Sunday. Mrs. Michie will visit with friends in Austin a week.

Two States In Row For Water

Texas Official Of Attorney General's Office Goes To New Mexico For Hearing On Rio Grande Water Rights

AUSTIN, Nov. 7. (AP)—H. Grady Chandler, assistant attorney general, left today for Albuquerque, N. M., to represent Texas in a hearing to determine rights to use Rio Grande waters.

The suit, pending in the United States supreme court, was filed against New Mexico by Attorney General William McCraw in November, 1935. Last march the high tribunal overruled a defense motion to dismiss the bill of complaint, and Charles Warren of Washington, D. C., was appointed special master for a hearing held in Washington last August.

Impounding Alleged

Texas alleged New Mexico impounded large quantities of water in defiance of a compact, made in 1929, by construction of reservior upon the Chama, a principal tributary of the Rio Grande, and sought to enjoin New Mexico and the middle Rio Grande conservacy district from storing, diverting or using water to which Texas and its citizens were entitled.

Woman Dies When Tragedy Is Sung

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7. (AP)—While Lawrence Tibbett, as the hunchback jester in the tragical opera "Rigoletto," sang his notes of irony, death struck in a box where his wife was sitting.

Miss Marian Zelle, social leader and art patron, collapsed and died from what physicians said was a heart ailment in the municipal opera house.

Her body was removed and the performance continued uninterrupted with the singers and most of the audience unaware of the tragedy.

Unity Of Methodism Talked At Houston Church Assembly

HOUSTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—Unity of Methodism was the general theme of joint business sessions of the six conferences of the two branches of the Methodist church in Texas.

The southern conference, only representative of the Methodist Episcopal church at the joint meeting, voted in favor of reunion of the church and the subject was discussed favorably in the five conferences of the southern Methodist church and by speakers at various sessions.

"The Food Parade" To Feature Orchestra, Trio And Singing Clerk; Other Program Highlights Slated

A new live talent show will originate Monday, over KFYO, bringing the station's total of new programs to six during the past week.

"The Food Parade," sponsored by Austin's Food Stores, will feature the Grocer's orchestra, a trio, and "The Singing Clerk", C. A. Rogers. The initial broadcast will be Monday at 12:30.

"The Old Man of the Mountain", heard daily at 11:30, presents the 3-V Entertainers. "California" Rose, with her banjo and songs, comes to KFYO a veteran of stage and opera. She played with Barney Girard's "Follies of the Day," for three seasons, the Hurtig and Seamon's Show, "Talk of the Town", and was a member of the "Gay Widow" company in New York. Little Billy, "English Nut Piano Stylist," studied in Europe, and was in dramatic work for years. He toured India, China, and Australia for the Williamson and Musgrove Co. "Doc" J. H. McDonnell, "Old Man of the Mountain," adds words of wisdom to the broadcast.

The swing-section of Ned Bradley's band adds background for Brunette Beard's vocalizing on the "Everlite Program", 12:15 to 12:30 daily.

Floyd Jones furnishes the cowboy laments on Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday evenings, while "The G. E. Songbird," sings the other three nights on Sherrod Bros. 6 o'clock program.

Cowboy songs and guitar music comprise the "Plainview program," 11:45 daily over KFYO. Titled the "Hale County Troubador", Bill Curtis sings and strums.

The United Drug Co used five 15-minute disc programs, over KFYO last week. The talent included Donald Novis, Jane Pickens, Virginia Rea, Rubinoff, Connie Boswell, Conrad Thibault, Irene Beasley, and others.

To Be Heard Over KFYO This Week

Miss Margery L. Clevenger, of Hobbs, N. M., graduate student at Texas Tech, will be heard over Station KFYO this week in the play, "When The Earth Froze." She takes the role of Fanny in the production, to be given Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights at 6:30 o'clock. Miss Clevenger, who received a dramatic arts degree from the University of Oklahoma, won the state acting award when she was a student in high school and was the first girl ever to act as stage manager for a playhouse production.

Reds Birthday Is Celebrated

Demonstrations Of Progress Made At Moment Europe Is Darkened With Foreboding; Military Might Paraded

MOSCOW, Nov. 7. (AP) — Soviet Russia celebrated its 19th birthday today with jubilant demonstrations of progress and with the dire warning that war clouds were gathering thicker over Europe.

Joseph Stalin, general secretary of the communist party, and most of the high officials of the government and the party reviewed a mass demonstration from the Lenin tribune.

While hundreds of thousands marched in flag-draped Red square, the skies were darkened with soviet war planes roaring overhead.

Industrial triumphs were the central theme of a civilian parade which followed the traditional review of the Red army.

Five-year Plan Ahead

Scores of factories and plants announced they already had fulfilled or were about to fulfill the second five year plan in three years and 10 months. The Manganese mines and Ural coal trusts announced they were far ahead of their production schedules.

Red flags and bunting were festooned throughout the capital to commemorate the day 19 years ago when Nikolai Lenin and his far-from-united little band of bolshevists pushed aside the tottering provisional regime of Russia and seized one of the world's largest and richest nations.

Mexico Hails Soviet Progress With Whistles

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 7. (AP)—Mexico, hailing the soviet Russian revolution as the motivation of its own social changes, commemorated the revolution's 19th anniversary today.

A celebration was started at midnight on a signal from screeching locomotive and factory whistles.

Professional Plums In Old Mexico Will Be Restricted

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 7 (AP)—Legislation requiring all foreigners practising law, medicine or other professions in Mexico to become naturalized citizens was forecast today in the chamber of deputies.

Congressman Jose Gomez Esparza, chairman of a legislative commission, said his committee was planning to report out such legislation and was confident it would be enacted speedily.

Gomez Esparza said the measure probably would seek also to distribute physicians and lawyers more evenly throughout Mexico, nationalize all professional schools and "socialize" medicine.

Cosmic Ray Hunter Sends Apparatus To Astounding Atmospheric Heights

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 7. (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Millikan, mighty huntsman of the cosmic ray, has carried his investigation into the behavior of these celestial many-billion volt energy bullets to the edge of the earth's atmosphere, 92,000 feet in the sky.

This, he said, is 98.3 percent through the atmosphere.

He revealed today some results of the photographic record of electroscopes which were carried by a string of ballons 20,000 feet higher than man has been able to soar above the earth.

The highest instrumental recording ever made, Dr. Millikan reported, results from apparatus ingeniously devised by his assistants, H. V. Neher and S. K. Haynes.

The whole apparatus, electroscope, clockwork, photographic film, recording barometer, and thermometer, with parachute and protective steel wire basket, weighs only 2 pounds 3 ounces.

From San Antonio, Texas, five sounding balloons were sent up this summer.

Four of the five instruments sent up have been returned to Dr. Millikan.

Dr. Millikan reported the electroscope readings showed maximum ionization at about 66,000 feet, and at the 92,000-foot altitude the ionization dropped 22 per cent.

Ionization is the process by which the molecules of a substance are broken up into small electrified particles called ions. This can be caused either by ordinary electrical current or certain rays.

To Sing Tuesday

Rudolph Friml's melody "L'Amour Toujours L'Amour" will be sung by Evelyn Case, guest star of the "Musical Moments" program to be broadcast from Station KFYO, next Tuesday evening at 7:45 o'clock. The program features Rubinoff and his violin, who will be heard in the maestro's unusual interpretation of a new ballad hit, "Sweet Misery of Love." Rubinoff's orchestra will play "Copper Colored Gal," from the 1936 edition of "The Cotton Club Parade," and "Cabin On The Hilltop."

Charged With Forgery, Man Here Is Placed Under Bond

Charged with forgery of a check for $12.85 on W. C. McDaniel Oct. 17, Ray Woods waived examining trial when arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. T. Inmon Saturday afternoon.

Bond of $1,000 was set for Woods. The check was drawn on Lubbock National bank and was made payable to Jessie Johnson. Sam W. Fort, police identifications officer, signed the complaint.

BAYREUTH LOOKS AHEAD

BAYREUTH (AP) — Plans for next year's season have already been announced by the administration of the Bayreuth festival plays.

Eight performances of "Lohengrin," five of "Parsifal" and two of the "Ring" will be given. The festivals are scheduled to begin on July 22 and last 'till August 20.

The oldest musical instrument the world has known is the flute. This instrument, back in cave-dwelling days, was fashioned from the hollow leg bones of birds and other animals.

Tech Students All-Sufficient

Without Mincing Stride, They Could Survey, Plan, Build Township—And They Are Able To "Run" Town, Too

BY FRED GRIFFIN

WITHOUT deviating from their daily extra-curricular employment, Texas Technological college students could supply all labor necessary to survey a township, design and build its homes and office buildings, maintain its schools, churches, and business houses, and operate a number of farms and ranches in its vicinity.

"The butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker" are working their way through college. Since there is little demand for a manufacturer of tallow lighting fixtures in 1936, his modern counterpart at Texas Tech is the boy who earns college expenses as an electrician.

Technical Men Aplenty

Civil engineering assistants employed as surveyors on National Youth administration projects would map the hypothetical town, and architectural draftsmen, carpenters, painters, and plumbers could be supplied when construction started. H. R. Bundock, freshman student from Fort Worth, has distributed cards advertising his carpenter and repair work.

Other than education students doing high school practice teaching for college credit, there are a number of tutors, music teachers, and expression instructors who could be conscripted for public school duty in "Techtown." One home economics student is teaching under Works Progress administration projects.

Preachers Available, Too

At least three denominations would draw pastors from employment files at the college. Tony Dyess, Methodist, is in charge of a four-church circuit in this section, and Conner Russell, Baptist, frequently fills pulpits in Lubbock and other towns. Leonard Ware is a Church of Christ minister. One student is a professional choir singer.

The correspondence school advertising catch-phrase, "Earn while you learn," evidently means something to many Texas Tech engineering and agriculture students, for they are putting academic theories into practice before graduation. A welder-machinist, a radio transmitter, radio repairman, and other engineering students already are cashing in on their technical knowledge. College departments themselves pay students to operate and maintain mechanical, electrical, and other engineering machines and devices.

Charles M. Howell, senior mechanical engineer, is student in charge of the physics workshop.

Farmers? Plenty Of 'Em

No phase of farming is overlooked when students look for a job to help defray expenses. They work in creameries, make cheese, wash dairy barns, supervise nurseries, tend hatcheries and poultry farms, milk cows, and do general farm chores. A number of boys pay room and board with milk from a cow they have borrowed from their father's ranch.

Cafes, restaurants, soda fountains, and hotels would have no dearth of employees if the make-believe city became a reality. Working students could assume positions from desk clerks to bus boys, from cashiers to dish washers.

Superintendent of service at one downtown hotel is a Tech student, as is his assistant. Nearly every bell boy in the city is working his way through college, and many downtown luncheon counters employ only college students. One girl operates a hotel elevator.

They Do Everything!

William Hughes, sophomore from Merkel, earns his living operating a mimeograph machine in the basement of the Administration building at the college. Tech Press employs eight boys, and downtown printing shops offer employment to others.

A municipality made up of Texas Tech students would not go unentertained. Musicians pick up several dollars a week by playing for college dances with campus orchestras. Hollywood productions would be viewed in a motion picture theater where all cashiers, doormen, ushers, and projectionists were merely transplanted from their present jobs. Should the dance be formal, two floral designers would supply corsages for the event.

Taxidermists And Morticians

One student finds a living in taxidermy. Another is a registered pharmacist. Many work in downtown business houses, including department stores, groceries, butcher shops, woodworking shops, filling stations, wholesale warehouses, ice cream and candy factories, five-and-ten shops, cleaning and dyeing establishments, bakeries, utilities firms, and other commercial houses.

Among the undertakers' assistants registered in the office of Cecil Horne, head of the college employment bureau, are two brothers, Cyrus and J. C. Landrum, from Fluvanna. Jamie McNeill, senior journalism student, works in the Lubbock County library.

Then There's Iceman, Barber

William J. Davis, Fort Worth, and Winston Reeves, Plainview are independent free-lance photographers, and other students are employed in photographic studios downtown. One boy lists his vocation as "iceman," and another is a hospital orderly. Joe B. Taylor, senior agriculture student, is a barber.

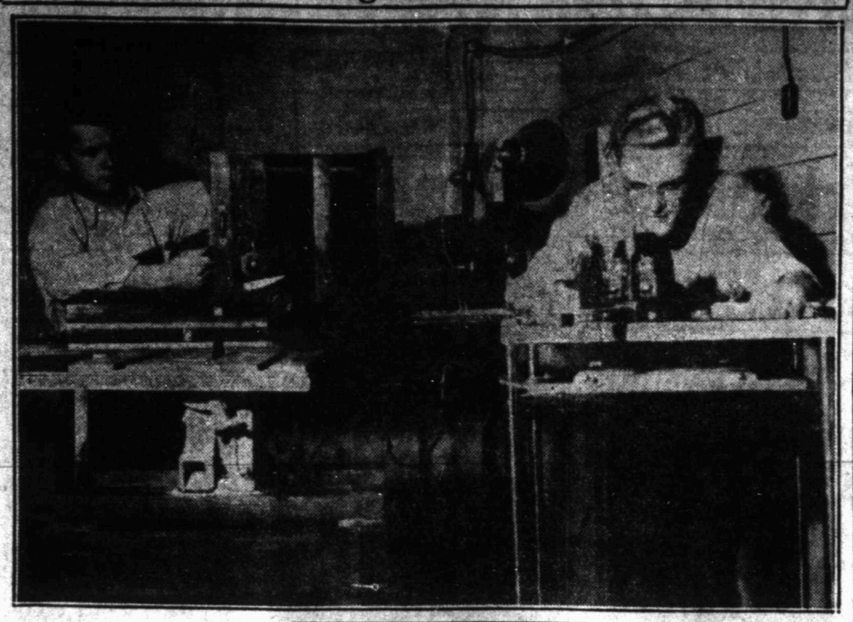

Boys who do not hold regular jobs augment their funds by direct selling. They distribute hosiery, magazines, and other commodities. Myron McCormick, Lubbock senior, solicits cleaning and pressing. Leonard Lowry, Plainview, is a street bus driver.

Would Be Fish Valet

Women students find more prosaic forms of employment as waitresses, stenographers, housekeepers, and switchboard operators, but Lady Claire James, junior from Lubbock, re-blocks and re-trims hats in a downtown millinery shop.

B. C. Simmons, Lubbock sophomore, would be unemployed if he were experienced in only one of the fields he listed on his application for employment. He professed training in "treating and caring for tropical fish." The college employment bureau is filing such applications, with places of employment, salaries and other data concerning each applicant for work.

Representative "Working" Studes At Tech Are Pictured

At right Charles M. Howell, also a senior engineer, operates the Texas Tech physics department workshop in the basement of the Chemistry building. Howell, son of J. T. Howell, Methodist minister, lives at 1611 Avenue L.

Former Slaton Resident Is Claimed By Death Last Week

Funeral services were held Friday in Pueblo, Colo., for Mrs. J. W. Pierson, a former Slaton resident, who died in that city Wednesday. Mrs. Pierson was the mother of Paul Pierson of Lubbock and Jack Pierson of Fort Defiance, Ariz.

While in Slaton she lived with her daughter, Mrs. John A. Gillies, wife of the then Slaton division superintendent of the Santa Fe. They moved to Pueblo. Mrs. Pierson was the widow of a pioneer Amarillo physician, the late Dr. J. W. Pierson, who died in Pueblo in 1932. He had practiced on the Plains for about 40 years.

Deer Hunting Fatalities Reach Grim Total Of 52; More Than 100 Injured

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 7.—The nation's deer hunting fatalities reached an all-time high of 52 tonight with more than twice that number injured.

A season near its end in the far west but with nearly a month to go in the midwest left an unpleasant possibility the total may be extended.

Not included in the death list are J. A. Lyman, Wendover, Utah; L. O. M. Lucero, Denver, and Dr. W. S. James, Pueblo—hunters missing in remote areas more than a month.

The total does include, however, two Coloradoans mysteriously shot. Police have not determined formally whether they were victims of stray bullets or were murdered.

An Arizona hunter fell over a 30-foot cliff to death. Two Utahans were killed in an automobile accident while on a hunting trip. Four sportsmen drowned and five died from over-exertion. Thirteen shot themselves while handling their guns carelessly, and 25 fell under the bullets of other hunters.

There were many hairbreadth escapes.

A New Mexico hunter, shot in the mouth upon arising suddenly from a clump of bushes, insisted he might not have been hurt had he yawned. As it was, he lost two teeth.

Near Salt Lake City, a hunter broke a leg in a tumble down a slope and, after lying helpless 16 hours in a bobcat-infested region, was rescued by means of an eight mile stretcher trip through darkness.

HAVE 70 QUAKES

MANILA, P. I. (AP)—Seventy earthquakes in half a year, or an average of 12 a month, is the record of the Philippine Islands.

Earthquakes of sufficient strength to be recorded, were as follows: January 14; February 12; March 12; April 10; May 10, and June 12. Several of the quakes were felt in Manila, but none caused extensive damage.

Turkey Pool Date For Area Is Set

Pool dates for turkeys to be sold through Plains Cooperative, Inc., of Plainview, agents for many turkey growers in this section, were announced by Roy B. Davis, manager of the company.

Thanksgiving market dates are November 9 to 13. Christmas dates are December 1 to 12.

Birds will be shipped by refrigerator truck or car, depending on the amount of produce handled. Whether the Los Angeles or Chicago market will be used was not indicated in advices received by County Agent C. C. Jobson.

The local group is an associate of the Northwestern Turkey Growers association, largest of its kind in the nation.

Cheese Plant In Operation

Lamesa Site Of Kraft-Phenix Activities; $200,000 Plant Being Stocked With Equipment; Milk Goes Up

(Special to The Avalanche-Journal)

LAMESA, Nov. 7.—Kraft-Phenix corporation's sixth cheese plant in Texas has started operation here in the plant formerly owned by the West Texas Dairy Products company, built in 1929-30 at a cost of $200,000 and designed as a milk drying plant.

New equipment to be used in processing raw milk into cheese has been installed. The equipment is prepared to handle 100,000 pounds of raw milk daily when running at full capacity.

Milk routes into this section of West Texas are being operated. First production is expected to be slow. An increase in the price of raw milk over that paid for butterfat or cream is prevailing.

Abernathy Man Loses An Arm In Gin Accident On Saturday

Another gin accident, early Saturday morning at Abernathy, cost the arm of W. H. Crow, employed at the Farmers Cooperative gin there when his right arm was caught in gin machinery, mashing it so that it was necessary to be amputated.

Mr. Crow, according to the story told here, was attempting to clean the machinery and in reaching under it, his right arm was caught, and crushed. He was brought to Lubbock sanitarium where the injury was dressed. Rix ambulance brought him to Lubbock, arriving about 2:20 a. m. The accident occurred about 1:30.

At the sanitarium it was reported late Saturday he was doing as well as could be expected.

Spur Creamery Is Remodeled; Improvements To Cost $5,000

SPUR, Nov. 7 (Special)—Spur creamery, a local concern owned and operated by Roy Stovall of this city, is remodeling its entire plant, building and equipment. W. P. Nugent and son, Lubbock and Spur contractors, are engaged. Cost of the improvements will exceed $5,000.

The creamery produced an average of 25 car loads of butter per year, a large part of which is shipped to eastern markets. Cream purchasing is conducted in 14 counties in this section; 11 counties are supplied with ice cream, and three with bottled soft drinks.

There are 12 regular employes, and four trucks are operated.

Mrs. Hooper Will Lead Discussions

Mrs. C. E. Hooper will lead a discussion of nineteenth century problems and reforms in England at a meeting of Llano Estacado Delphian chapter Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the junior ballroom at Hotel Lubbock.

It will be pointed out that since many of the early years in the century were spent in warfare, that attention had to be centered upon preservation of the nation. Thus many social abuses were condoned. Finally poets, novelists and writers generally espoused the cause of the oppressed and inarticulate. Then came an era of reform that lasted throughout the remainder of the century.

Topics will be discussed by Mesdames S. B. Haynes, Charles Whitacre, Frank Gaines, Bertha Brown, Roscoe Wilson, Parker Prouty, R. H. Hester, F. A. Kennedy, S. H. Reid, Martha Morgan, F. A. Kleinschmidt, R. L. Durham, D. D. Cross, George W. Soash, Ray C. Mowery, J. I. Kilpatrick and H. F. Godeke.

Texas Aggies Upset Mustangs, 22-6; Arkansas Wins; Frogs Crush Longhorns

Farmers Steal Mustang Show; Shockey Stars

Fightin' Aggies Turn On Old Coach To Take First Game In Nine Years From Ponies At Dallas Stadium

BY FELIX R. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Southpaw Jim Shockey and his Texas A. and M. mates stormed the Southern Methodist Mustangs corral with their own aerial thunder today for a crushing 22-6 trumph before 27,000 fans.

Nine years without a victory over a Methodist team, the Aggies resorted to a wild, gambling offensive game to smother Matty Bell's favored Mustangs. It was their game from the start.

Todd Knocked Out

Five minutes after the opening kick-off Dick Todd, the Cadets' brilliant sophomore halfback, was carried from the field with a brain concussion suffered in a scrimmage pileup. His mates, with nimble Bobbie Nesrsta filling Todd's shoes, soon pushed over the first touchdown an Aggie team has scored on Southern Methodist in five years.

Brilliant play by an Aggie line that opened gaping holes, smothered the Methodists' frequent passing attempts and stopped running threats, equalled the running and passing antics of their backfield mates. Joe Routt and Virgil Jones, a hustling pair of guards, led in the line.

Nesrsta Also Stars

Shockey's left-handed passes reached Dick Vitek's and Nesrsta for touchdowns while Nesrsta plunged over from the one-yard line after a 65-yard drive for the third.

Routt and Jones mothered Bob Finley, Methodist fullback behind his own goal line for a safety and the odd two points.

The Methodists made an uninterrupted drive of 43 yards, winding up with a double lateral from Finley to Johnny Sprague to Kenneth Goodson, to score from the six yard stripe for their second period touchdowns.

Without its Dick Todd, the Aggie backfield of Shockey, Nesrsta, Cummings and Vitek, aided in spots by Paylon Manning, played inspired, aggressive ball to threaten constantly. Once Vitek snagged Finley's punt on his own 35 and skittered 65 yards through a maze of would-be Mustang tacklers for a touchdown, but a holding penalty nullified the day's most sparkling sprint.

They're Gone To Town

The Aggies started back on their own 35 for the first score. Vitek opening the splurge with a 17 yard punt return. Shockey bulleted a 25-yard pass to Morrow and an offside penalty moved them up to the three. Nesrsta, twice stopped by a Methodist line, belted right tackle for the score. Boyd converted.

Finley's out of bounds kick and a 15-yard holding penalty shoved the Aggies back to their one yard line and Pitner kicked out to his 43. Goodson's 18 yard pass to Billy Dewell and line thrusts by Finley and Goodson brought the Mustangs to the six where Sprague took a lateral from Finley, whirled, lateraled to Goodson and the lanky halfback shirted right end for the score.

Southpaw Shockey's passes to Nesrsta and Vitek carried the Aggies to the 11 stripe in the third period, but Boyd's attempted field goal went wrong when Vitek fumbled the snapback. A 15 yard penalty shoved the Methodist back to their one and Finley, attempting to run the ball, was downed for a safety.

Nesrsta grabbed the kickoff on his 30 and tore down the side lines to Methodist 35 to start the next scoring drive. Shockey hurled to Morrow on the 12 and Nesrsta plowed to the seven. Vitek took Shockey's pass running across the goal line.

Shockey gathered in Finley's long

The Texas Aggies, conquerors of S. M. U. yesterday, will arrive in Lubbock at about 1:50 o'clock this afternoon enroute to San Francisco where they play the University of San Francisco Dons Wediesday.

The train bringing the Aggies and their fans will combine with the regular westbound train here which takes the Texas Tech Raiders to Los Angeles. The two teams leave on the same train at about 2:15 o'clock.

Tech officials have requested that a large number of fans greet the Aggie train, and at the same time give the Red Raiders a send-off. The special train carrying Tech fans to the coast leaves this morning at 9 o'clock.

Centenary And Tulsa Tie 3-3

Lee Stokes Boots Field Goal With Ten Seconds Left To Play To Give Gents Tie In Airtight Game At Tulsa

BY ALFRED WALL

TULSA, Nov. 7. (AP)—Cooly taking advantage of a real break—a high, wind-hindered punt that put his team in scoring position—Lee Stokes, center, booted a field goal with about 10 seconds to play and Centenary's Southern Gentlemen ended up in a 3 to 3 tie today with Tulsa university's Golden Hurricane.

Russel McClane, Tulsa right half who otherwise played a fine game, was the punter who cost his team a victory.

The Hurricane finally had stopped a goalward march on the 23 and took the ball. McClane's boot from near the goal line was bad, the ball sailing nearly straight up where a stiff north wind caught it. Centenary downed it on the six yard line, couldn't gain and then Stokes' field goal from the 18 knotted the count just before the final gun.

Gregory Kicks Goal

Forrest Gregory, the polished kicker who made the field goal which beat Kansas State here last week, made the home team's field goal today.

From start to finish it was a close battle between two evenly matched teams. The Hurricane had a trifle the advantage during the first half. In the second half Centenary showed more fire but Tulsa held doggedly.

Centenary's desperate scoring drive in the fourth was all William Stone, flashy right half. He carried the ball on ten line plays in succession, shaking off tacklers and rolling up first downs before Tulsa held. Then came McClane's bad boot that cost the Hurricane a victory.

Wildcats Defeat Wisconsin, 26-18

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 7. (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats crashed to their first undisputed football championship in Western conference history today—but left Dyche Stadium shell-shocked and reeling from a withering aerial barrage laid down by Wisconsin's gallant Badgers, who lost 18 to 26.

The game furnished everything from wild thrills to downright hysteria for 25,000 spectators.

Northwestern, conqueror of might Minnesota a week ago, and showing signs of a "letdown," proved its greatness by proceeding by land for four touchdowns.

The three Badger scores were fashioned by as spectacular and deadly a passing attack as has been turned loose on a Western gridiron in years.

This Badger passing asseult connected 19 times out of 30 for 185 yards and had Northwestern jittery and the crowd in a constant uproar.

Porkers Shove Rice Backward In 20-14 Game

Razorbacks Demonstrate Grid Ability On Ground As Well As Through Air In Winning From Institute Team

(By The Associated Press)

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 7.—Slacking up on their famous passing, the University of Arkansas Razorbacks utilized hip-twisting today to shove the Rice institute Owls down farther, 20 to 14, in the conference and put themselves nearer the top.

Rice flipped 15 times while the Razorbacks showed a Home-coming crowd of 5,000 to but 20 aerials. The Arkansas' were the only ones to annex a touchdown via the air, however.

Rice runners made fans gasp with two spectacular plays when they twice ran more than half the field for touchdowns. The Owls made the first one by running back a kick off. Schuehle took the Arkansas boot and ran it back to the Rice 37 where he lateraled to Vickers who ran also the boundary to the goal.

Neece Returns Punt

The second Owl touchdown came when Neece took a Porker punt on his own 18, twisted and turned to go along the sidelines for another score. Fans booed the officials on grounds that he ran out of bounds, but the touchdown was sustained.

Vickers and Schuehle successfully booted their placements.

The Arkansas scored after the first six minutes of play when Keen went through tackle for a touchdown. His score followed a Rice fumble when Jimmy Benton, towering Porker end, tackled Schuehle hard enough to make him drop the ball. Robbins recovered for Arkansas and Keen scored. Owen kicked the placement.

Robbins To Benton

The only aerial which drew blood for the Razorbacks came in the late second when Jack Robbins threw a brilliant 20 yard pass to Benton's arms as he was over the stripe for the count. This came immediately after Ed Lalman, Porker tackle, had recovered a fumble on Rice's 20.

Keen, speedy Arkansas back, annexed a second tally when he took his turn as showmanship. Taking Schuehle's punt on Arkansas own 40, the short runner looked like a greased pig as he slid through the entire Rice team to the goal. Robbins failed to kick the placement.

The lineups:

Galveston Stockholders May Take Over And Run The Bucs

GALVESTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—Announcement of a movement on the part of hitherto inactive Galveston Baseball association stockholders to take over control and management of the Texas League franchise here, has been made by Roy J. Koehler, acting president of the club and one of the stockholders.

The stockholders are to meet early next week, Mr. Koehler said, and discuss a plan understood to entail the advance sale of season tickets at reduced prices.

Primulus Cops San Francisco Handicap; Wacoche Second

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Easily outdistancing her rivals, Primulus, Frank E. Smith's sleek 3-year-old filly, captured the San Francisco handicap and a purse of $4100 today at Tanforan track. Wacoche was second, and Wildland third.

Phimulus paid $11.20, $6 and $5 on mutuels. Wacoche paid $8 and 5.80 and Wildland $6.80 to show.

Deer And Turkey Hunters Grinning Over Prospects Of Good Season In Texas—But Don't Forget The Laws

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Nov. 7.—Prospects for the best hunting season in years were predicted today as approximately 50,000 Texas hunters primed their guns for the opening of the deer and turkey season Nov. 16.

Will J. Tucker, executive secretary of the state fish and game commission, said deer were more plentiful this fall than at anytime in the past 10 years. He added that they were in fine physical condition.

Tucker attributed the increased supply and improved condition of deer to strict enforcement of game laws and to favorable weather and better grazing range.

He estimated 50,000 hunters killed 428 deer and 1,594 turkeys on licensed shooting preserves, which, officials said, represented about one fourth of the game killed.

Tucker said deer would be found in abundance throughout the coastal region below Corpus Christi, the central-western part of the state, the eastern portion and the region southwest of San Antonio.

Game law officials outlined the following regulations:

Various counties over the

Auburn Noses Out Georgia Tech In Tight Game, 14-13

ATLANTA, Nov. 7. (AP)—With a bit of luck and an advantage in "breaks" of the game, Auburn's Tigers barely withstood a determined bid for victory by Georgia Tech today to triumph over the Engineers 13 to 12.

The Tigers were outplayed nearly all the way by a hard-driving Tech team that missed four scoring opportunities and rallied late in the game to score its pair of touchdowns.

Alabama, LSU Come Through With Triumphs

Northwestern Clinches Big 10 Title; Southern Cal Loses And Stanford Ties Huskies In Exciting Grid Dramas

By HERBERT BARKER

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 (AP)—Alabama and Louisiana State emerged as the South"s twin football power houses today as Northwestern's Wildcats clinched the Big Ten championship and Fordhams' sturdy Rams strengthened their chances of a Rose Bowl invitation.

Most of the day's fireworks were concentrated, however, in the Far West where Southern California and Washington State both were beaten for the first time this season and Washington's Huskies had to rally to tie Stanford, 14-14. Southern California was beaten by California 13-7, and Washington State was bowled over in stunning fashion by Oregon State, 16-6. U. C. L. A., meantime, moved back to winning form and beat Oregon, 7-0.

Alabama, running over Tulane's hitherto unbeaten Green Wave, 34-7, remained in the chase for the Southeastern conference championship along with Louisiana State, 12-0 conqueror of Mississippi State, and Auburn, which barely nipped Georgia Tech, 13-12.

Northwestern beat off Wisconsin's gallant Badgers, 26-18, in a spectacular engagement.

Fordham trounced Purdue, 15-0, before 35,000 spectators. This triumph not only kept the Rams in the undefeated class but represented their third major intersectional triumph and left them in a strong position for the Rose Bowl bid.

Fordham's triumph was the high spot of a big day for eastern teams in intersectional combat. Penn's Quakers, rolling on high, trounced Michigan, 27-7; Navy finally found the winning combination and beat Notre Dame, 3-0, on a field goal by Bill Ingram; Manhattan stopped Kentucky, 13-7, Boston College nipped North Carolina State, 7-3, and Harvard crushed Virginia, 65-0.

In the Mid-West, Minnesota shellacked Iowa, 52-0, Ohio State ran up a 44-0 count on Chicago. Art Guepe's 75-yard touchdown dash in the last quarter was all that saved Marquette's perfect record, the run and subsequent conversion adding up to a 7-6 victory over Creighton.

Nebraska moved on in the Big Six title race, beating Kansas 26-0, as Oklahoma and Kansas state played a 6-6 tie. Missouri stopped St. Louis, 13-7 outside the league. Denver whipped Drake, 27-13. Tulsa and Centenary played to a 3-3 deadlock.

The Texas Aggies turned the Southwest conference race upside down by spilling Southern Methodist 22-6, as Arkansas won over Rice, 20-14, and Texas Christian trampled Texas, 27-6.

In the Southeastern conference Georgia upset Florida, 26-8, and Vanderbilt won over Sewanee, 14-0, as Mississippi and Tennessee scored over non-conference rivals. Mississippi beat Loyola of New Orleans, 34-0, and Tennessee whpped Maryville, 34-0.

Duke and North Carolina again chalked up Southern conference triumphs, the former halting Wake Forest, 20-0, as North Carolina toppled Davidson, 26-6.

Baylor Blasts Goldbugs, 48-6

Bruins Take To Air And Land To Subdue Oklahoma City's Gridders; Russell Is Star Of One-Sided Game

WACO, Nov. 7. (AP)—The Baylor Bears filled the air with footballs today to defeat Oklahoma City university 48-6.

Almost every member of the Baylor squad saw action in a game in which the Bruins tore through the air or over the ground.

Bob Masters, Baylor back, turned in the outstanding play of the game. Taking the kick-off after the half, Masters raced 95-yards to a touchdown.

Captain Lloyd Russell, Baylor's "singing quarterback", was the star of the Golden Grizzlies' offense. Russell, who has gained reknown because he not only is a star football player but croons as he runs, accounted for two spectacuar touchdowns during the game.

Billy Patterson, Baylor sophomore passing ace, was on the throwing end of practically all of the Bears' heaves.

Ben Gernand kicked six straight goals after touchdowns and made two six-point counters running with the ball.

Oklahoma City featured a fine running back in "Nimble Nim" Newberry. Sweet and Austin were other backfield standouts and Moss played exceptionally well in the Goldbug line.

John Reynolds, center, and Carl Brazell, fullback, were defensive standouts for the Bears.

The lineups:

Oklahoma City	POS	Baylor
Moss	LE	Huessner
Talley	LT	McDonald
Coley	LG	Coleman
Johnson	C	Reynolds
Beavers	RG	Kriel
Trauffhber	RT	Parry
Sas	RE	Kimbriel
Newberry	QB	Russell
Woodworth	LH	Patterson
Holman	RH	Gernand
Sweet	FB	Brazell

Officials: Referee, Haskins (Oklahoma); umpire, Ferris (Arkansas); headlinesman, Sweeney (Bethany); Field judge, Lipscomb (Centre).

Southern Conference Prexy Is Tired Of 'Graham Plan'

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 7. (AP)—Forest Fletcher, president of the Southern conference, charged today that the sixteen member colleges of that group were "violating the spirit of the Graham plan" and recommended that the plan be abandoned as a means of curbing subsidization of athletes.

"I will propose at the annual meeting of the conference next month that the Graham plan be abolished and that the conference adopt uniform entrance and scholastic requirements which will eliminate tramp athletes instead," said Fletcher, head of the Washington and Lee physical education department and a former member of the American Olympic track team.

Borger Coach Gets Dope To Show Star Back Is Eligible

BORGER, Nov. 7. (AP)—Coach Carl Moulden of the Borger High school Bulldogs returned tonight from Mexico and El Paso with documents designed to prove Halfback Lewis Ortega Ramires is not over the scholastic age limit, 18 years.

Plainview High school authorities previously produced documents they said showed Ramires was 19 years old, beyond the interscholastic league age limit for football players.

Moulden returned with what was described as the original birth certificate of Ramires and other certified documents stating the star back was born in June, 1918.

The Borger coach said he obtained documents from Mexican officials and in El Paso.

Field Goal Is Good For Navy

Notre Dame Goes Down Again As Bill Ingram Kicks Goal For 3-0 Victory; 57,500 Watch Tars Come Back

BALTIMORE, Nov. 7. (AP)—Bill Ingram, last to carry on his family's brilliant gridiron tradition at the naval academy, booted a 25-yard dropkick in the third period today to give the Sailors a 3 to 0 victory over Notre Dame and extinguish a losing streak that had sent the middies reeling before three major foes this season.

As 57,500 looked on in Municipal stadium, the Tars cashed in on their one chief scoring opportunity, then fought fiercely to protect their slender lead with a defense that time after time broke up Irish air raids.

The Midshipmen—outlucked by Yale, outmaneuvered by Princeton and outplayed by Pennsylvania—had the big crowd sheering wildly as they battled courageously against a heavier, favored Notre Dame team, halting four touchdowns bids.

The Ramblers started firing broadsides at the outset, enlivening their offense with constant air threats, and moved to Navy's four yard line, where Maurice Ferrara picked up a fumble by Ed Simonich to save the Sailors.

Star Shadow Wins Arlington Handicap; Ann O'Riley Next

ARLINGTON DOWNS, Texas, Nov. 7. (AP)—Star Shadow, four-year-old gelded son of the great Man O' War, won the third renewal of the Arlington fall handicap today with his stable mate, Ann O'Riley, second in the new track record time of 1:44 4-5 for the mile and sixteenth.

The pair closed odds on favorites in the field of eleven which went to the post and the $2.00 mutuels paid only $5.00, $4.50 and $3.60.

Faust, raced by A. G. Tarn, the Canadian sportsman, was third, paying $4.00.

The crowd was the largest of the fall meeting, estimated at 12,000 despite the Downs being half-way between Fort Worth and Dallas, each the site today for a Southwest conference football game.

Minnesota Dashes Iowa 52-0 In Roaring Grid Comeback

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Minnesota's gridiron machine, disabled by Northwestern a week ago, roared down the comeback trail today, knocking out Iowa, 52-0.

Three spare parts—Larry Buhler, fullback, and Robert Johnson and Charles Schultz, linemen—replaced thre cogs of the original assembly to throw the Golden Gophers back into high gear before a homecoming throng of 65,000, a record attendance.

Ozzie Simmons, Iowa's black speedster, was smothered by Minnesota's vicious charging linemen and his cohorts were no match for the Gophers eleven, which scored twice each in the first and fourth periods, three times in the second, and once in the third.

College "Boswells" Suffer Along With Coaches When Things Go Bad With Team; Press Agents Pressed

By PAUL MICKELSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP) — Double, double, woe and trouble isn't confined to bridge duffers and weary football coaches. A far more beleaguered group is the tireless battalion of college press agents, serious fellows who let their adjectives die for old Mudville while they toss restlessly in bed.

Troubles never cease for the campus Boswells, who are more important than good fullbacks. They must carry the hod all year, suffer mental tortures when their teams lose, fill the stadiums, get coaches' alibis into print and make them look real, write life stories about Joe Blow, and then wind up a hectic season by getting the campus gridiron idol on the All-American team. They are the ones who actually lifted college football by the bootstraps and made it a big business. Without them, the game wouldn't be the same.

Many succeed, some fail. But, strangely, fatalities in their ranks are few. Most of them, headaches and all, remain on the campus for one generation after another as the coaches are hired and fired.

As the season hits the stretch tomorrow, most of the campus Boswell's chief concern will be

Steers Unable To Stop Baugh And Lose 27-6

Slinging Sammy In Rare Form As Frogs Bowl Over Texas, Scoring Almost At Will To Stay In Pennant Race

BY P. D. ELDRED

FORT WORTH, Nov. 7. (AP)—Sammy Baugh's bewildering passes enabled the formidable Texas Christian grid team, scoring almost at will, to subdue the rough and tumble Texas Longhorns here today, 27 to 6.

Although they knew their only chance of winning was to break up Slingin' Sammy's deadly passing game, the Longhorns were utterly unable to cover the screen of speedy backs and ends ranging downfield to receive his bullet heaves.

McClure Does Scoring

The scoring honors went to right halfback McClure, who ripped through the burly Texas line for the Horned Frogs' four touchdowns but, in each case, it was the dangerous Baugh who was largely responsible for advancing the ball into scoring position.

To top it off, Sammy intercepted Sheridan's pass on his own 35 yard line in the last minute of play and raced down the sideline 57 yards before being thrown out of bounds on the Texas 8 yard line. Texas was penalized five for offside and McClure piled up on a mass of linesmen, three yards short of another score, as the game ended.

They Play Rough

Rough playing brought frequent penalties during the game, Texas losing a total of 85 yeards and Texas Christian 40 for irregularities.

Unnecessary roughness, charged against Captain Clint Small, of Texas, virtually gave the Horned Frogs their fourth touchdown. The Frogs had rushed up the field from their 17 yard line on passes and line plunges.

Baugh heaved again to Harrell, who was thrown out on the Texas 32. Baugh threw with deadly accuracy to Roach, who fell on the seven yard line. Small, charging from behind, dived kneesfirst into the prone Roach's back and the referee penalized him, moving the ball up to the Texas one-foot line. From there McClure knifed right tackle for the score and Roach kicked the extra point.

Score Early

The game had been under way a few minutes when the Horned Frogs took the ball on their 23 and marched down to a score after Baugh had completed several ground gaining passes; alls missed the try for extra point.

Baugh passed over center twice near the end of the first period, McClure snagging the second thrown on the Texas four yard line, from where he went over on the next play. Roach kicked the point.

Baugh, unchecked by the befuddled Longhorns, continued his rampage into the second period, passing unimpeded to Harrel and Roberts who rushed the ball to the Texas 13. Roberts ran it to the nine and McClure, on a reverse, raced across the goal. Roach kicked the point.

Coaches Save Power

The Horned Frogs rushed Sammy Baugh and his first stringers to the side lines, saving them for the next game in Texas Christian's drive for the Southwest conference championship. Dave O'Brien, Baugh's understudy, and a crew of second-stringers, playing strictly safe ball, held the Longhorns in check for ten minutes.

Then the powerful Longhorn back started clicking on runs and passes, Atchison heaved to Arnold on the Texas Christian 30 and Arnold lateralled to Small. Two plays later Atchison passed over center to a speeding end, Peterson, who lateralled to Wolfe. The big back cut through the Frog secondary and scored standing up. Wolfe missed the try for extra point from placement.

Coach Dutch Meyer jerked the second stringers, sending Baugh, McClure and the rest of his power house back into the game to protect the Horned Frog lead. They had difficulty, for Wolfe a few minutes later carried the ball down to the Texas Christian 8 yard line. There he fumbled and Walls recovered for Texas Christian, definitely killing all chance of a Longhorn comeback.

The starting lineup:

TEXAS	POS	T. C. U.
Collins	LE	Walls
Esunas	LT	Hale
Terry	LG	Rogers
Small	C	Aldridge
King	RG	Harrison
Tullos	RT	White
Lakey	RE	Roach

Officials: Viner (Missouri), referee; Minton (Indiana) umpire; Pouts (Baylor) headlinesman, Howell (Trinity), field judge.

State Grid Champs Invade Lubbock For Holiday Battle

Golden Sandies Of Amarillo Oppose Westerners At Texas Tech Field In Title Contest

Lubbock, With No More Than A Fighting Chance, Calls Up Full Strength Wednesday In District 1 Deciding Game

A GRIDIRON rivalry dating back to pre-war days is to be resumed Wednesday before what promises to be the largest crowd ever to see a football game in Lubbock.

On one side are the Lubbock Westerners, a brave bunch of youngsters who will be fighting, not alone for the District 1 championship of the Texas schoolboy league, but for victory over the Golden Sandies of Amarillo, who'll be on the other side.

Dope, which rarely runs true to form in the Panhandle football league, has nevertheless dominated in District 1 games so far this season. If it continues to conform, the Sandies will make virtual wrecks out of the Westerners, who have what it takes to get along in ordinary high school warfare but who are due to be completely outclassed when the Sandies come to town.

Persons who have reserved tickets for the Lubbock-Amarillo game are warned to call for them at the Hub Clothiers Monday, otherwise they will go back on sale.

"We'll need every ticket we can get to take care of the last minute rush," E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, Lubbock High athletic business manager said yesterday, "so unless persons call for their tickets Monday, they'll go back on sale."

For days and weeks and even months, since spring training started last winter, in fact, the Westerners have been focusing on the November 11 game with Amarillo. They are determined to turn a "fighting chance" any way but loose. They know what it means to be defeated; they know what it means to win, so either way, they'll encounter no new experience Wednesday afternoon at the Texas Tech stadium.

Not since 1931 have the Westerners defeated Amarillo, and it required two games to turn the trick that year, Lubbock losing the first. As a result of the latter game, the Westerners won the district championship for the first time.

In any other district but this, the Westerners would stand more than a fighting chance of winning another pennant. That has been the case nearly every year, but Amarillo, state champions twice in a row and apparently headed for a third with the best balanced, best all-round team it has had in years, hold membership in this district. Its district mates have nothing in common with Amarillo's vast supply of material and Amarillo's stellar lineup, and none but Lubbock is given even a fighting chance to stop the long time reign of the Sandies.

The Westerners, taking the game philosophically and at the same time with a burning desire to upset the whole works, will go into the game in the best of physical condition, which means that the eleven regulars are ready. They have worked hard; they are not nervous or jittery, but more or less light hearted and anxious.

So far as weight is concerned, the teams are fairly well matched, until Lubbock has to use reserves. Coach Weldon Chapman can match Amarillo's "college" line with beef and brawn, except for the ends; he can put sped, versatility and hope in the backfield; he probably can match Amarillo's best punter, because C. L. Storrs can punt the ball; he can provide a fine runner in Harold Ingley, a medium but lightweight line plunger in Max Rutledge, a hard trying halfback in the novice, Walter Webster, who also carries sufficient weight.

But it is doubtful if Lubbock can hold "Wildhorse" Mayes, the sensational runner, wriggler and razzle-dazzler, or big Bob Clesson, well equipped plunger and all-round star back. In Clesson and Ricketts, Coach Blair Cherry of Amarillo has a couple of all-district and all-state lads who no doubt will win the honors again this year. Ricketts is a tackle, and a hardy one.

Lubbock has no passing attack; Amarillo record books took care of that when it was discovered there that the Westerners' star passer and blocker, Earl Ince, was ineligible. Co-Captain Storrs will do his best to connect with the ends, H. L. Gantz and the toothpick-size Ralph Letsinger, but the odds are against completion of many aerials. The Westerners will depend largely upon the fleet Ingley, the ambitious Webster and the plunging of lightweight Rutledge for their gains.

Two-hundred-pounders like Babe Ritchie, surely an all-district tackle, and Rafe Nabors, large and rugged center, with a guard weighing almost 200 and another tackle coming close, give Lubbock sufficient weight in the line to offset Amarillo's big boys, but the Westerners probably will be outdone at ends. Letsinger and Gantz are fighters from the drop of the hat, but they lack weight.

But the fans will see what they will see come Wednesday afternoon and 2:30 o'clock.

Hardin-Simmons Is Winner 26-0 Over K-Wesleyan

ABILENE, Nov. 7. (AP)—Kansas Wesleyan, hiterto unbeaten and untied, fell before Hardin-Simmons here this afternoon 26 to 0.

The Cowboy regulars scored two touchdowns and the second and third stringers added counters in the second and fourth periods.

Burns McKinney, Hardin-Simmons ace, took a lateral from Tyler and raced 50 yards on the Cowboy's first play from scrimmage. A few minutes later he swept end for a long gain and lateraled to Tyler, who went on for a total of 48 yards to Wesleyan's 17. McKinney passed to Scroggins for a touchdown.

Jack Hinrichs fumbled before crossing the goal line in the second period and Mack Alexander covered the ball in the end zone for a score. Hinrichs added the last marker on a 61 yard dash, blocking by Linesmen Clipson and Radoslovich aiding materially.

Two runs on 17 and 22 yards by Amos Mirris, the Coyotes' all-conference back, and consistently good punting by Watson, end, stood out for the Kansans. The visitors, however, never got within 25 yards of the Cowboy goal line.

Stanford And Washington In 14-14 Deadlock At Palo Alto

PALO ALTO, Calif., Nov. 7. (AP)—A mighty University of Washington football team and an under-rated Stanford eleven locked grips today in a 14 to 14 tie which culminated one of the most thrilled-filled encounters witnessed here in many years.

It enabled the finest gridiron machine assembled by Coach Jimmy Phelan at the northern school to retain its undefeated status at the head of the conference championship race but before Washington fans could rest easy their team had to come from behind in the final period to tie the count.

Special Train Of Fans Precedes Red Raiders To Coast

SPORTOGRAPH by COLLIER PARRIS

BIG DOINGS THIS WEEK for our football forces. The clubs have been thinking about the Armistice Day games all season. Tech's Red Raiders undoubtedly had Loyola on their minds Friday afternoon, and Lubbock High school's previous games have been mere stepping stones to Wednesday's go with the Amarillo Sandies.

The teams will play before the largest crowds in the histories of the institutions, rumors and ticket sales indicate. It remains for the high school team to be the first to fill up Texas Tech's stadium, and it'll probably be jammed Wednesday. Reports from Los Angeles have it that from forty to sixty thousand will see Tech and Loyola play the same afternoon.

THE Raiders, considerably bunged up after Friday's rugged contest, board their special Pullman on the back of John Santa Fe's west bound rattler at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon. They'll make the trip to Los Angeles rather slowly, stopping at Flagstaff tomorrow and spending most of the day there, move to the outskirts of Los Angeles Tuesday, and on into the big town Wednesday in time for the game.

Coach Cawthon has put his foot down on any pre-game hullabaloo, banquets, sightseeing trips, etc. The team has been invited to come on to Los Angeles Monday where they'll be greeted and treated, photographed and fooled with, but Cawthon has telegraphed a nay, nay. "Greet the folks on the special train, take pictures of the band and everybody else," he said, "but we're coming out to play football and for nothing else."

The special train, carrying the Tech band and several cars of fans, is due to pull out at 9 o'clock this morning. It is to arrive in Los Angeles about noon Monday.

The team isn't going on the special.

A train carrying the Texas Aggies to San Francisco will arrive here this afternoon about 1:50 o'clock, and the Aggie cars will be attached to the train carrying the Tech team westward. Originally it was planned for the Aggie special to team up with the Tech special, but the Aggies won't get here in time.

The Tech mentors were considerably fretful yesterday. At least two of the regulars sustained severe cracks on the conk Friday, and if not on the conk in other important places. It isn't likely they'll be doing much playing at Los Angeles, and their absence will weaken the club more than merely somewhat.

Big Jim Neill, however, got nothing more serious than a busted beak Friday, and he'll be ready. His nose was spread all over the left side of his face when he forgot to duck while blocking for the attempt at extra point after his touchdown drive. A double-fisted uppercut caught him on the schnozzle and ungently brushed it to one side.

THE Raiders can do themselves a lot of good by winning that game Wednesday. There's no other attraction in Southern California, and the eyes of that end of the state, as well as the optics of Texas, will be on 'em. They're representing Texas, not just Texas Tech.

Along those lines, it might not be inappropriate to reproduce parts of a column written by Jack O'Brien for the San Antonio Light. The Light sports editor wrote:

"Football fans will remember we long have advocated the entrance of Texas Tech into the Southwest conference, but for some reason or other, powers-that-be don't seem to 'want any part' of the Red Raiders.

"We'd rather see Texas Tech in the conference than Arkansas, not because we dislike the Razorbacks, but it would be more distinctly a SOUTHWEST conference, with all Texas teams, than having the Arkansas team—which should be in the Big

Haddock Meets Bob Cummings

Ruler Of Circuit Set To Tangle With Scientific Grappler On Wednesday Night; McShain To Meet Markus

Dangerous Danny McShain is coming back to the local wrestling ring this week, but not for the main event. He'll be pitted against the Hebrew grappler, Jerry Markus in the special go.

The main event finds Dale Haddock, the king of the conference, doing honors with Bob Cummings, the West Coast lad.

Dale, undefeated ruler of the circuit, has challenged Danny McShain for a main go in the near future, and Promoter Sled Allen is trying to line the battle up for next week.

Cummings, a scientific grappler who gets mad on occasions but does not stay mad long enough at a time, is nevertheless expected to give Haddock quite a row.

Reynolds Smith, McGonagill Meet In Corpus Golf Final

CORPUS CHRISTI, Nov. 7. (AP)—Reynolds Smith, Dallas, member of the 1936 Walker Cup team, is pitted against Jimmy McGonagill, also of Dallas, in the final 36-hole match of the 1936 golf tournament of the Corpus Christi county club here tomorrow.

McGonagill defeated Milton Ward, Corpus Christi player, six and five in the semi-final match here this afternoon while Smith was easing C. D. Hepinstall, Houston, out of the chase, seven and six.

Mrs. E. R. Hury, San Antonio, medalist and defending champion of the women's division, meets Miss Kay Pearson, Houston, in the women's final.

North Texas Eagles Assured Of Lone Star Loop Pennant

COMMERCE, Nov. 7. (AP)—The Eagles of North Texas State Teachers college were assured today of the Lone Star conference title as a result of a 6-0 victory last night that swept the East Texas Teachers from the undefeated and untied ranks.

A 23-yard pass from Hester to Turner netted the touchdown after runs by Stovall, Reeves and Hester had placed the ball on the East Texas 23-yard stripe.

The East Texans threatened with an aerial attack in the second period but failed to push over a tally.

Coaches State Schoolboy Champs

One of the most respected football coaches in the country, Blair Cherry, above, brings his well known Amarillo High school Sandies here Wednesday to do championship battle with Lubbock's Westerners in the week's Texas interscholastic league feature.

Fred Jacoby Wins Outboard Motor Trophy For 2nd Time

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Fred Jacoby, professional outboard driver from North Bergen, N. J. has been awarded the Townsend and Ferguson medals for the second year in a row as the result of his racing victories during the year.

He won the Townsend high point trophy for having amassed 18,992 points as compared with 17,290 for Andy Laird of Tracy, Calif., the runner up, and 12,125 for Clinton Ferguson, Waban, Mass., third place winner.

A load up to 1500 pounds can be carried by a full-grown camel.

Daniel Baker Favorite In Texas Conference After Win

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 7. (AP)—Daniel Baker's Hill Billies were top-heavy favorites today to win the Texas conference crown after a 14-7 victory over the McMurry college Indians last night.

It was the fourth conference win for Daniel Baker. Howard, Hill Billie halfback, had a part in both of the winner's scores. He passed to Crane for the first touchdown, then intercepted a pass and completed another aerial to place the ball in scoring position, from where Watson plunged over for the second.

Tech Team And Fans To Leave On Two Trains

Special Pulls Out At 9 This Morning; Red Raiders Leave On Slower Trip At 2:15 On Afternoon Train

Considerably bruised and battered after Friday's rugged game with the Oklahoma A. & M. college Cowboys, Texas Tech's Red Raiders leave this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock for Los Angeles, where they engage the Loyola university Lions Wednesday in the holiday attraction for Southern California.

A special train carrying the Tech band, several students and two or three cars of fans, is to leave the Santa Fe station at 9 o'clock this morning. The special will arrive in Los Angeles around noon Monday.

Texas Aggies Here

The team is traveling on another special train which also takes the Texas A. & M. college Aggies, victorious over S. M. U. yesterday, to the coast. The Aggies play University of San Francisco, at Frisco, Wednesday. On the train will be a number of Aggie fans.

Tech's football car will be attached to the Aggie special, and cut loose at Flagstaff tomorrow morning where the Red Raiders will spend the day and work out. They will resume the journey Tuesday, arriving in the outskirts of Los Angeles Tuesday evening. They will not reach the scene of the game until just before game time.

Coach Pete Cawthon looked over his club yesterday and was not exactly pleased at what he saw. Several of the regulars did not suit out for the practice, due to injuries. The shock troops and all available regulars were sent through defensive maneuvers against Loyola plays. Coach Tom Lieb of the Lions, himself a star under Knute Rockne, also uses the Notre Dame system, and the teams' offenses are similar in many respects.

Cawthon is taking a squad of 33 players, or three complete teams, hoping that by Wednesday the stars injured in the Aggie game will be ready to go.

OPPOSES COLONY RETURN

OXFORD (AP)—If Britain returned Germany's pre-war colonies the act would bring more trouble than peace, Sir Arthur Salter, Oxford professor of political theory, said recently.

WHAT IS PUPIL DILATION AND HOW IS IT PRODUCED? Nature provided muscles to regulate the size of the pupil to control the amount of light entering the eye in proportion to the intensity of the light. Excessive light is very injurious Reaction of the pupil is to contract, reducing the amount of light entering the eye Light of less than normal intensity necessitates more light entering the eyes, to maintain normal or near normal vision. These muscles act involuntarily.

Fixed abnormal pupil dilation is produced by a drug instilled into the eyes which paralizes the muscles hence Nature is interferred with, preventing the regulation of the size of the pupil as required by light stimulation In this condition, eyes cannot be used for near work Remember this, no drug can refract light or the human eye Our Modern Scentific Optometrical Eye Examinations Are Safe and Free From Pupil Dilation.

Chicago Yegg Holdup Victim

Hoodlum's Body Found After Roadhouse Battle; Patrons Scatter Like Quail And Gun Is Baton

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Three men and two women were wounded and a holdup man was shot to death when four gunmen, using two automobiles driven by women, staged a sensational raid on the Pow Wow roadhouse in suburban Franklin park early today and threw more than 100 patrons into a panic.

The slain robber was identified as a minor hoodlum by the police.

Their two women companions remained in automobiles with the motors running while the four men entered the tavern, one of them wearing a handkerchief as a mask.

Shotgun Is Baton

While many of the patrons were dancing, three of the gunmen forced other patrons to throw their money and jewelry on tables and then lie on the floor. The fourth gunman, armed with a shotgun, kept the orchestra playing.

When the robbers came to the table at which Policeman Wilfred Woodmaster, 28, who was not in uniform, was sitting, he answered their demands by drawing his pistol and firing four shots.

At the sound of the shooting the gunman standing near the orchestra opened fire, the charge striking five persons who either did not know the robbery was in progress or believed it was a joke for the amusement of patrons.

Wild Scramble Ensues

The wounded robber collapsed over a table and was carried out by his companions who escaped in a car in which two women were waiting.

Later the body of one of the gunmen was found in a car in front of a hospital. It was identified as that of Patsy Dichiara.

Patrons scurried for shelter when the shooting began, upsetting tables and chairs in a mad scramble to escape. The gunmen fired twice.

Those wounded and taken to a hospital were Morton Rumsey, 19, Hesperia, Mich., a chauffeur; Nicholas Dictis, 40, a waiter; Arvid Moberg, 30, and his wife, Esther, 28, and Mrs. Adeli E. Sheffer, 24.

Break Up Of Lottery Scheme Is Revealed By U. S. Agents

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Government agents today revealed the break-up of what they said was a $3,000,000 lottery scheme based on the Santa Anita Christmas day handicap.

Customs agents brought three Los Angeles men before U. S. Commissioner Paul Lockhart and charged them with conspiracy to commit an offense against the United States under the tariff acts and possession of $17,500 worth of lottery tickets.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Industrial leaders whirled upward in today's stock market, many to new highs for recovery with gains of 1 to as much as 5 points.

Brokers attributed resumption of the post-election advance largely to renewed optimism over the widespread wage-boosting move, benefitting thousands of workers; favorable earnings statements and a flood of extra, special and increased dividends presaging the heaviest public spending in years.

The turnover amounted to 1,745,280 shares, the largest Saturday volume since Feb. 1, last. The Associated Press average of 60 issues came back .5 of a point to 72.6, a new peak since April 20, 1931.

Petroleum issues came to the fore as consumption registered further improvement.

Ninety-eight per cent of milk is assimilated by the human body, scientific tests show. Digestive action on milk is quicker than on meat, eggs, or fish.

Cotton

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 7. (AP)—Cotton ended the week on the upgrade today, gaining from 7 to 9 points in quiet dealings under the impetus of renewed speculative demand.

The two-hour trading period was divided almost exactly between an hour of selling and an hour of buying.

But professional support came into the market at the low levels and prices moved ahead briskly to finish at the best levels of the day. Dec. finished at 11.91, Mar and May at 11.85 and Oct 1937, at 11.38 bid. Spot cotton was higher at New Orleans on sales of 5,990 bales, gaining 6 points to put middling at 12.36.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 7. (AP)—Cotton rallied today from moderate early declines as trade buying in December promoted covering. March advanced from 11.75 to 11.90 and closed at 11.87 with final prices generally 8 to 11 points higher.

Pre-bureau liquidation and hedge selling accounted for opening losses of 1 to 4 points.

A little foreign buying supplemented the steady flow of trade price-fixing orders in December contracts. The near month sold up to 11.94, or 12 points net higher and a new high for the current movement.

The trade was inclined to even-up accounts in advance of the government crop report to be published Monday.

Eighty-Two-Year-Old Man In Dire Circumstances, But He Would Not Dodge Farm Work

Oldest transient to call on the Salvation Army here for help in the term of Captain John G. Churchill, appeared Saturday. He was J. H. Jones, 82, who said he came from Smokey Mountain, Tenn., had no relatives and wanted a job. He was "broke".

Jones told Captain Churchill he "could do most anything", and had tried to get work but failed. He appeared vigorous and wants farm work or yard work.

He had a heavy iron-gray beard, and appeared to be strong for his age. He said he would try to get work in Amarillo if he could get transportation there.

Argument Over Law Suit Is Blamed For Shooting Of Two

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Nov. 7. (AP)—Authorities today blamed a quarrel over a law suit for the fatal shooting of Ed Ballard, wealthy former circus owner, of French Lick, Ind., and Robert Alexander, of Detroit, a former business associate.

Coroner J. P. Randolph said Alexander, 65, shot Ballard, 63, and then ended his own life with the same weapon last night in a fashionable hotel here.

The shooting occurred in Alexander's apartment. Hundreds of delegates were attending an Arkansas Education association convention in the hotel at the time.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Successive rushes to buy whirled corn prices upward today to levels unsurpassed before since 1927 and to the maximum gain allowed any 24 hours.

Wheat, rye, oats and provisions all borrowed strength from corn. Wheat climbed ⅜ cents in some cases, influenced partly by reports of rain in sections of Argentina where moisture is not wanted. Better domestic milling demand for wheat was also a strengthening factor.

Take Levine Tip If You're Going East: Use Plane

For a hurried eastern business trip, when time is a factor, an airplane trip is best, said Morris Levine of Levine's Saturday after return from a 10-day trip to New York City. He went east to purchase much-needed merchandise to fill depleted stock, sold on extra-heavy buying.

The east is "one busy place," jobbers and manufacturers of women's ready-to-wear, clothing of all kinds, piece goods of cotton and silk, and other items, are hard to get, he said. "The mills are sold out of fall merchandise; they are 90 days behind. They are working on spring goods and it is difficult for them to stop and turn to making winter apparel."

Levine landed in New York at 3 p. m., after leaving Amarillo at 5 o'clock that morning. He said the plane was 55 minutes ahead of schedule. A stage ticket to the Academy of Music allowed him to hear on Thursday night before the election President Roosevelt and Governor Lehman. The hall was jammed and the crowd enthusiastic.

"Eastern people are tickled to death with the reelection of President Roosevelt," he said. "I believe what defeated Landon was his opposition to the social security act."

Levine predicted no decrease in price of merchandise this season; instead he saw possibility of a slight increase. "There is strength in price of merchandise," he added, "and a big demand for good merchandise. The trouble is making deliveries; mills and jobbers are hard put to ship."

United States And Mexico To Discuss Big Park Today

EL PASO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Mexican and United States government commissions, taking another step toward establishment of the Big Bend international park, meet here tomorrow for determination of boundaries in the Big Bend country.

Their two-day session will be devoted to determination of boundaries that would link 788,000 acres in Brewster county, Texas, to approximately 400,000 acres in the Mexican states of Chihuahua and Coahuila, to combine some of the most spectacular scenic areas on the American continent.

Democratic Campaign Buttons Set Party Back By $100,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—Little celluloid campaign buttons, unwanted by party leaders but demanded by the public, set the Democratic national committee back exactly $100,000.

National Committee Chairman James A. Farley said at a press conference today that the public's demand for campaign buttons accounted for $100,000 of the party's $500,000 campaign fund deficit. Party leaders, he said, had not planned on using any.

Air Infantry' Plan Created

France Like Russia Will Be Able To Land Forces Back Of Enemy Lines; Would Hang Nets To Trap Planes

PARIS, Nov. 7. (AP) — France, throwing all its energy into the European arms race, today created "the infantry of the air," a new aviation unit of great offensive and defensive strength.

The air ministry disclosed that France, like Russia, would be able to drop whole companies of soldiers behind enemy air lines with parachutes in the event of war.

The "infantry of the air," an official announcement said, would include companies of riflemen and squads of airplanes to transport them behind enemy lines.

Would Hang Air Nets

A system of nets strung through the air for trapping invading airplanes is another measure envisaged for aerial defense of France against a possible enemy.

The network would consist of about 30 cables, strung a few yards apart hurdle-like, and held aloft by captive balloons.

Technicians admit that airplanes easily could avoid such a trap but believe the nets might cause enemy aviators to fly at higher altitudes where bombing would be less accurate.

The plan is proposed primarily to defend industrial commmunities near the frontiers.

Press Agents

the showing of their campus pride. It's nearing All-America time.

Getting their hero on the mythical team works both ways. Each fall, the press agents are flooded with protests from alumni, who think the man singled out for the honor isn't as good as another who's overlooked. In 1934, the Minnesota P. A. was swamped iwth protests from Minneapolis fans who insisted the great Pug Lund was an over-rated player. Bob Madry of the University of North Carolina had the same experience 1934 when he boosted George Barclay for All-America honors. Both Lund and Barclay made the team and rated it.

Probably the greatest curse of the college P. A.'s is the demand for press box reservations and complimentaries. Long experience in the ticklish matter has made many of them past masters in the art of diplomacy.

The most prolific and impartial campus publicist we know is Joe Petritz of Notre Dame, whose memory for names and initials is amazing.

Our favorite, however, is Mike Robin of Illinois. Mike, always deadly serious, can paint a team's prospects blacker than pitch and make you cry over the Illinois "lightweights," who then pop off the bench to make top-heavy eleven look like a vacant lot team. Captain Pat Echols and "Cappy" Wells of Army were great favorites but they've left.

So Wildcats Win

The campus Boswells, who also write their coaches' radio talks and "ghost stories," are a superstitious lot. They are alert for the "evil hand." We once were a jinx to Northwestern, watching the Wildcats lose every game we covered for two years. Finally Walt Paulison offered us a bribe of an autographed football, which a neighborhood kid had been hounding us about, if we'd stay away from one important game. We stayed and Northwestern won. Since that day, we haven't seen Northwestern lose.

Nation's Greatest Fox Hunt To Open Monday In Piney Woods Of East Texas

CROCKETT, Nov. 7. (AP) — Five hundred hounds, backed by the hardy sportsmen of the Texas Fox and olf Hunters' association, will make life miserable for fox in the piney woods hereabouts at daybreak Monday.

At that time, sportsmen from 25 states will gather for the 44th annual field trials of the association at Camp Jim McLean in the eastern part of Houston county. Fifty wily Georgia fox have been imported to augment the local stock, which hunters say is unusually numerous this year.

Gillespie Is Master

The hunt, association officials said, is the largest in America. Will A. Gillespie of Overton, veteran hunter, is master of hounds and will make the first cast when day breaks tomorrow. At that time, hounds under two years—novices at running the clever fox—will be loosed in derby day competition. The three day running of all age field trials will start Tuesday and the grand champion hound will be named Thursday.

The judges will score the dogs on ability to find and run down fox, on their poise in the stirring chase through the wooded, rolling country, and on the speed with which they finish the hunt.

Two new trophies are offered this year. Friends of H. L. Wilson, veteran fox hunter who died last fall, offer a memorial challenge trophy for high score in hunting and trailing. Another new award is offered by the sportsmen of Houston county.

Historic Setting

The famous Gamino Real, the Old King's highway—the historic trail traversed by LaSalle and his doughty men—crosses the grounds where the hunt will be staged. Near the tent city which will house the 5,000 visitors who are expected for the event and the accompanying festivities are the ruins of the old stage coach station of the days of the Texas republic.

Camp Jim McLean is named for Jim McLean, veteran Crockett sportsman whose title among hunters far and wide was "the gray eagle of Augusta."

The bench shows, another competitive feature of the meeting, will be judged by Sam Wooldridge of Versailles, Kentucky. The judging starts Monday night.

Six—included.

"Southwest conference teams have been trying for ages to beat Centenary of Shreveport, but it took the Red Raiders to turn the trick, 12 to 6. According to the statistics of that game Tech strictly outplayed the Gentlemen from Shreveport—incidentally a grand outfit any way you take 'em.

"Old Pete Cawthon has a good outfit, and, like the Marines, if you want to see the country, join the Texas Tech Red Raiders."

That's nice going for one of the state's mostly widely read scribes. If more of the typewriter gang would follow suit, Tech would be in that league pretty soon. But it'll take that kind of sentiment to pull the trick.

"Mister Jim," we remarks in the press box Friday to Jim Crow, veteran wheelhorse in the Baylor athletic department, "when are you guys gonna let us in the conference?"

"Frankly," he says, "I don't think they'll ever let you in, until we get somebody out. The conference is just the right size now, with seven clubs. Maybe they'll let Arkansas, or Baylor, out of it and let you in. You're surely good enough. I'd like to see you in."

REPORTS FROM Amarillo indicate that nobody in the Helium city gives Lubbock a chance against the Sandies Wednesday. General opinion up that way is that the Sandies will steam roller the Westerners with utter disdain and by as large a score as time will permit.

Which is okay by us. Let 'em think it. They may have another think coming about 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. It isn't probable, but possible. All things are possible in football. Apparently ten or fifteen thousand other folks believe the same way, because they'll be out there Wednesday to watch and wait.

Intent upon pushing into the capital, fascist artillery continued heavy bombardment of the city's outlying section.

Inside, defending militiamen were ordered to "fight without quarter, without truce." Developments in the 72 hours, the war ministry predicted, would tell the story of Madrid's successful defense or fall.

Barricades Thrown Up

Throughout the city reinforcements were rushed to garrisons and barricades were erected at strategic points. Desperate socialist soldiers used sandbags, paving stones, bundles of newspapers and virtually anything they could obtain to build blockades against the projected insurgent entry.

A never-ending stream of refugees flowed into the city from nearby war zones, adding to the confused situation in the capital's interior. States shipping commission. The ship was found under-manned and six more seamen were required before it could put to sea.

Joseph Curran, chairman of the insurgent New York strike group which overruled officers of the International Seamen's union in voting strike action, estimated 16,000 ship workers have walked out in gulf and Atlantic ports outside New York. He claimed three to four thousand strikers in New York.

Charges Are Heard

Miss Perkins, calling Curran's committee a "rump" organization, accused him of exaggerating the extent of the east coast tie-up. Her observer, she said, found the figures too high.

She expressed confidence in Assistant Labor Secretary Edward F. McGrady's efforts to settle the west coast controversy but, asked if intervention by the president would be necessary, she said: "I don't know."

The strike caused cancellation of the sailing of the New York-Cuba mail liner Oriente, scheduled to leave at noon, and the grace liner Santa Elena was delayed two hours at New York to complete its crew.

Aid For Travelers Asked

The act paid $5 to each worker, $4 to his wife and 50 cents a child per week, an amount sufficient for necessities.

Other social legislation passed included pensions for women over 55 years, destitute persons over 65 years, and health insurance, Colonel Gilks stated. Employers and employes contribute one-third to health assurance.

"The standard of weight and height has increased in the past 15 years," he said, due in part to regular health examinations.

A proposed night session of the club, set next Friday, was postponed a week. Officers will be nominated next week and elected at the night session.

Local Professional Men Are Not Above Visiting Kitchen Occasionally To Display Culinary Arts

BY MARY HOWELL

WITH blue northers and blustery blizzards predicted for the South Plains this winter, epicures of Lubbock business men turn from last summer's cool sherberts and light salads to piping hot chile con carne, "chicken and dumplings", delectable pumpkin pies and at the same time, nimrods who are planning hunting trips to the mountains and the lakes of the Southwest won't starve if some of the local camp cookers are in the party.

"Doctor, lawyer, merchant, chef", all favor plain cooking in preference to rich foods and ornate garnishings. Most Lubbock business men like coffee. One attorney will not eat a meal if he does not have milk, another lawyer demands a feed of "cornbread and milk" once a week.

When F. A. Kleinschmidt, Tech's head of the architecture department goes into Mrs. Kleinschmidt's kitchen at 2324 Broadway, there's going to be Italian spaghetti for the family and invited guests. The architect plans the procedure of the recipe as carefully as a supreme court building by boiling 2 packages of spaghetti in salted water until tender, drains, and puts back on fire and adds 2 cans of tomato soup, 1-2 t paprika, 4 bouillion cubes, 1-4 lb. butter, and 3-4 lb. of American cheese (grated). When the mixture is thoroughly mixed and melted he adds enough Sap Sego cheese to sprinkle. He started making spaghetti this way when he was a student at Harvard university.

What is believed to be a "build-up" to a good camp feed is contributed by W. G. McMillan, local contractor and outdoor man, who has a favorite recipe for baking duck and other wild meats underground that takes less than two hours, and can be cooked while one hunts for more game. "Into a small hole dug 12 inches deep, place hot coals and let them stay until they have heated the sides, remove all live coals and leave the hot ashes, and place bundles of duck (or other meats) wrapped in three layers of wrapping paper that have been moistened with water. The ducks should be seasoned with salt and pepper and wrapped with two strips of bacon before putting into the layers of paper. After placing the bundles of meat in the hole cover over with dirt and build a good fire above and the meat will be done in less than two hours," McMillan said, regretting that "there is no gravy, however, when you cook meat like this."

"I had rather have a meal of 'sour-dough' bread and 'son-of-a-gun' than anything that I can think of." Rollie C. Burns, Lubbock county pioneer and former cowhand, said this week after he had eaten with several of his friends who rode the range together when the plains country was new. The 79-year-old cowboy, who lives at 2407 Fourteenth street, says that "son-of-a-gun" is made by "taking parts from all cuts of the beef, cutting them in small pieces, fringing them in a hot skillet without any fat, and seasoning the pieces with pepper and salt." "They are served while warm with the cowboy's bread and a cup of java and you have there a real meal", Burns said.

E. L. Pitts, local attorney, who never eats a meal without a glass of milk, likes steaks that have been smothered for two hours. Mrs. Pitts first sears the steaks in a thick

The Woman's Angle

IF you tire of contract or authors or flinch, or whatever card games you're playing this winter, perhaps you'll welcome the diversion called "Store." Each player takes some store as his—grocery, butcher shop, jewelry and so on. All the cards are dealt one by one to the players face down. When the pack is exhausted, the one to the left of the dealer turns the top card on his pack. In rotation, others do the same. If a card matching yours is turned you have to shout something in the other fellow's store before he can shout something in yours.

If you're a butcher and he's a druggist and you don't yell "quinine" before he shouts "tripe," you have to take all his exposed cards. The one who gets rid of his pack first wins. Then, just to complicate things, everybody changes stores.

Try it unless you're like we are and suffer mental paralysis that follows the exposure of a card.

THE "GAB" GAME

SPEAKING of games, we heard of a jolly game called "Gab!" Prizes are awarded for two-minute talks—without renewed breaths—on subjects printed inside folders handed to each guest. Here are a few of the subjects just to give you a faint glimmer of what a riot this absurd game is:

"The Home Life of a Bumble Bee," "Why Every Prune Is So Wrinkled," "Why I Like Me," "How To Make Love" (with gestures), "Why Women Wear Such Absurd Hats."

Try to chatter without pause on any of these matters and you'll see how a tame party can be turned into a howling success.

CONCERNING ONE CWF

NOVEMBER'S issue of "Fortune" carries an article concerning the how and why of "The Reader's Digest," that little magazine that is probably as indispensable at your house as it is at mine. The interesting thing about it to us was that it carried an informal snapshot of Charles W. Ferguson, one of the top-flight editors, who edits the original articles prepared for the publication.

Concerning Charlie, the article relates that he is "stocky, curly-haired and spectacled. Graduated from Southern Methodist University to become a circuit rider in Texas and Oklahoma. (Well, now that's stretching the truth a bit. Charlie wasn't anymore of a circuit rider than you are. He did serve a pulpit in a small town, Booker, near the Oklahoma border). "Intelligent, literate Mr. Ferguson turned his energies to writing, contributed to Mencken's Mercury, produced one bad book called "Pigskin," one excellent book entitled "The Confusion of Tongues," which remains a standard work on indigenous U. S. religions and a third, "The Joiners," to appear in the spring."

Charlie described his new book to us when we met in New York this summer. From his candid opinion of it we gathered that it might be a bit on the Sinclair Lewis type of thing.

AND NO WONDER!

FANNY HURST doesn't like to give lectures before women's clubs. . . . After one such adventure she asked the audience if anyone would like to put forward any questions. . . . Finally one timid soul arose and timorously began: "What we've really been concerned about, Miss Hurst, is the marvelous way you do your hair in the back." . . . That's just one of 20 reasons why this authoress looks the other way when people beseech her to make lecture tours.

Violinist To Appear First

Rabinof Is To Appear Friday Week; Baggiore, Tenor, And Vienna Choir Boys Will Be Presented Next Year

South Plains Civic Music association members are to hear three concerts this season, announces the Rev. W. R. Vivrett, president of the organization.

Benno Rabinof, world famous violinist, is to appear here November 20 at 8:15 p. m. in the Lubbock High school auditorium. His impressive record during the past few seasons has brought him unquestionably within the ranks of the more important younger violinists. This past season he appeared in 50 cities in all parts of the country.

The new tenor sensation, Attilio Baggiore, and the Vienna Choir Boys, that charming juvenile choir, are scheduled to appear here on tentative dates in January and February respectively.

Was Musical Prodigy

Baggiore, who is an American of Italian parentage, was a musical prodigy from boyhood, talented as a singer, violinist and conductor. He was heard by John McCormack when the great Irish tenor visited Fargo for a concert, and McCormack gave him enthusiastic encouragement. He worked his way through Moorehead college in Minnesota and then went to Italy for voice training. In Naples he was introduced to Enrico Caruso who was impressed by his singing. His first operatic experience was gained at La Scala in Milan and the Royal Opera in Rome, and his return to the United States for concerts at the invitation of the National Civic Music association two seasons ago was followed by a series of triumphs. As an artist, Baggiore ranks with the best. His voice is a lyric tenor of exceptional power and unique beauty.

There is no organization in the world comparable to that unique company of boys, the Vienna Choir Boys. They are members of a musical hierarchy that was founded in 1498 by Emperor Maximilian. For nearly 500 years, up to this time, the traditions of this organization have been kept intact and their ideas inviolate. Under the care and tutelage of the State, their reason for being has been to sing fine musical works. Every one of the twenty who are making their fifth American tour, is a finished musician, capable of singing accurately the most complicated choral harmonies. Haydn, Schubert, Mozart and other illustrious composers received musical training from the Saengerknaben institution, as it is known today.

Holds High Place

Rabinof stands today in the high place that was prophesied for him on the event of his auspicious debut in New York several years ago. Rabinof was designated by the late Leopold Auer, a man who had launched such violinists as Elman, Seidel and Zimbalist, as "the most gifted of all the pupils he had taught in America".

Born in New York, Rabinof began the study of violin at the age of three and a half years. His talent became early apparent and at the age of nine, young Rabinof played before Auer, immediately excited his interest and admiration, and was accepted as his pupil. As evidence of belief in his pupil, Professor Auer conducted the Philharmonic Orchestra on the occasion of Rabinof's Carnegie Hall debut in New York. His success with both New York press and public was immediate, and a subsequent European tour confirmed the opinion that Auer had added still another of the great to his pupils. Rabinof, the only one who is American born, is still in his twenties.

"One of the most pleasing and impressive soloists which the Dallas Symphony has ever had, it presented in the person of Benno Rabinof, violinist," says John William Rogers of the Daily Times Herald, Dallas. "Equipped with the superb technique of a great virtuoso and possessed of a rich vibrant tone, one perceives that the music which he is playing becomes really an intense experience for himself, which through his art he manages to project arrestingly to his hearers."

From Dallas Critic

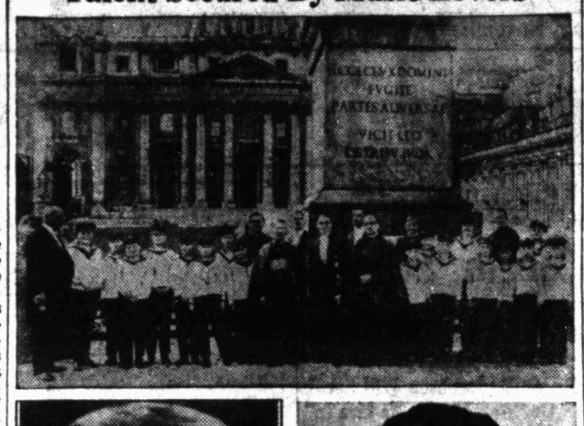

John Rosenfield, jr., of the Dallas News writes, "While Mr. Rabinof impressed us with his handling of the technical exactions, he wooed us with his tone. In the lower positions he drew the most heart-warming sounds since Kreisler. The Rabinof tone is not the sweet sentimentality of Elman or the lush, baritonal singing of Kreisler. It is of itself, big, broad and handsome."

The South Plains Civic Music association was organized during the week of October 19-24 under the direction of Miss Murl Springsted of New York City, representing the Civic Concert Service, inc., subsidiary of the National Broadcasting company. Twelve other Texas cities have similar organizations.

Only members may attend concerts and no tickets are sold for single concerts.

Talent Secured By Music Lovers

Dance Given At Hall

That evening as part of the college social routine, Botany club members attended a dance at Seaman hall. Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Studhalter, Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Reed, and Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Howell.

An approximate membership of 15 and their dates attended.

Saturday evening the annual engineers' ball was given at the Allen Auditorium. Decorations featured two engineering insignias with a background of blue and yellow, engineers' colors.

At the entrance a large sign, "Texas Tech Engineers" was placed. A spotlight located another crest, that of the Engineering society, on the orchestra pit. Yellow and blue crepe paper covered the ceiling and formed a canopy over the musicians' stand. Suspended from the middle of the ceiling were banners of the various engineering departmental societies. Pounds of confetti, hundreds of balloons, and yards of serpentine were released after intermission.

Ned Bradley and his ten-piece orchestra provided music for dancing.

O. V. Adams, dean of the engineering division, and Mrs. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Green, and Roger Clapp, instructor in mechanical engineering, were chaperones. Other special guests included the engineering faculty. President and Mrs. Knapp, Student Council President Thompson, Toreador Editor Jim Lindsey, and Mack Scoggin, George Carrithers, Joe Alford and Roy Dunn, class presidents.

Brief Bits Of News And Gossip About Folks' Comings, Goings And Doings

DEAR LOUELLA: Guess who is not going together anymore. Janet Hambright and Harold Humphries! They will probably make up by the time you read this. They've been going together about six years, you know. Janet was stepping out with Jimmy Ong the other night, I understand.

Do you remember Helen Bostick who used to go to Tech? I heard that she is married to a copy reader on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Be sure and watch the society sheets between now and Thanksgiving for some interesting weddings. I think there will be a few surprises in the bunch.

A Wedding

Speaking of weddings, did you know that J. L. Stimson was married to Miss Jimmie Lee Lester of Lamesa, formerly of Carlsbad, N. M. I met Jimmie Lee last spring when the Junior Leaguers were serving lunches at Tree Top Inn and she and I found ourselves guests of Mrs. D. Burns. We discovered we had a lot of other acquaintances in common.

By the way, have you heard of the Burnses since they moved to Abilene? I thought maybe some of them would have written to me by this time.

YOU know Mrs. Dovie Wilson, don't you? WELL, when she went to vote Tuesday she gave her name as Mrs. R. D. Williams. I hadn't known about that.

I had a chance to take a nice trip to Erie, Pa., this week but couldn't find enough nickels and dimes. Mrs. Herb Bannister, Mrs. Allan Moses and Mrs. Don Hay (the former Clara Hagan) left Friday. Clara will meet Don up there and remain, and the other two will start home after seeing the Pennsylvania sights about a week. They offered to take me along. It certainly would have been fun.

Lorene Childers Writes

had a letter from Lorene Childers (from Sanderson) the other day and I ought to be answering it instead of writing you. She would appreciate a letter from me (she said so) and from the way you don't write, I doubt if you ever read my missles. Lorene has a philosophical point of view that I'd like to capture. I believe she'd make a good columnist.

Do you remember Cecil B. "Brownie" Akers? He is spending the week-end here. Speaking of things to be captured, I'd like to get off with a personality like Brownie's. One can feel his presence long before he is seen. When he walks in our office, after a long absence, all work ceases and attention is fixed on the smiling visitor. That happened Friday, when he breezed in.

MRS. GORDON McFARLAND and two babies of Dallas are visiting the J. C. Streets now. I haven't seen them yet, but those who have say the younger of the babies is the very image of the older one, Gordon, jr., who is perfectly beautiful.

It seems that everything I write today reminds me of something else. At the moment, I am reminded of another beautiful child, little Betty Jenkins, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Jenkins. I see her every once-in-awhile in the beauty parlor having her lovely reddish, brown curls shampooed.

Ray Culps Were Here

I saw the Ray Culps of Lamesa in Lubbock last week. I'd often wondered what became of Ray after he quit working on The Morning Avalanche. He said he had been sick for several years. He seems o. k. now. He and the missus had with them a three-months-old blue-eyed son. Ray took care of him while she went shopping.

The Junior Welfare league folk are scanning the orchestra file of available big names for their second annual charity ball to be given about next month. It is going to be a BIG affair.

A LOT of people about town are biting themselves on the back of their necks because they didn't buy memberships in the civic music association. Now that the local group has announced such an interesting program and Amarillo is going to get an association, it looks like an interesting winter for the members. You know, members of this association can attend the Amarillo concerts FREE and the Amarillo bunch has promised to get at least two different concerts from those scheduled for Lubbock.

I heard a number of people say that if they had known the thing was going over, they would have joined

On Home Town Girls

Here's some dope about hometown gals that are making good: Florence Pickett, Louise Wolffarth and Mary Scott, all first year teachers at Corpus Christi, have each had $15 a month raises since school started.

Another hometown gal that's making good is Myrtle Porter who is week-end jaunting at the Dallas exposition. Yesterday she and the boy friend saw the A. and M.-SMU football game.

I'd like to tell you who all is going to California today on the special. I couldn't get the entire list, and if I did it would be too long to write. The lucky stiffs! I've thought every year that NEXT year I'd be among those on the train.

I VISITED the Ewing Thaxtons in Littlefield the other day and had the nicest visit. She was Mary Lois Green when she lived here, do you remember? She told me all about Polly Parrott, who has a real good job and is in Denver. I'd been missing Polly but had no idea where she was. Mary Lois said Polly likes Denver rea well but is lonesome for "good old Lubbock" at times.

I wonder if a lot of former residents don't have a sort of empty feeling when they think of "good old Lubbock." This is a dandy town and I love every person in it, almost.

Chinese Hard To Read

Lucie Gregory Evans kept her promise and sent me a card. I can't read Chinese and so I can't tell you where it was posted. I think it was Shanghai. Before September 26, when it was written, she had visited Hawaii, Yokohama, Kamakura, Tokyo, Kyoto, Osaka and Kobe. She said the Inland sea was a beautiful sight from the boat deck at sunrise.

I also had a letter the other day from Louise Jennings Taylor (Mrs. Elliott) from Sierra Blanca. She and Elliott really like living in that ranch country, she said. And little Jimmy already thinks he is a cowboy. He uses the laundry bag for a pony.

I could rave on and on and on. For instance, there have been a bunch of interesting parties in town the past week. But I haven't time.

Yours, Lou.

Better Do Something About It Unless You Want To See Clark With Beard

BY DAN THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 7. — Would you like to see Clark Gable with a nice bushy beard? If not, you'd better do something right away to help the actor in his right to remain clean shaven in his next picture, "Parnell."

Clark insists that he absolutely will not face the cameras with a beard. Director John Stahl is equally insistent that he must. And there the matter stands. But Stahl has a reputation for getting what he wants. So, a little fan support wouldn't hurt Clark's cause a bit.

Always Belittlin'

MOVIE actors are funny people. They frequently complain about having to work too hard—and then when they get a day off they don't appreciate it.

Take the case of Gene Raymond. Now working in Lily Pons' new picture. Gene had a call to be made up and on the set at nine o'clock. He was there on time and played one brief scene—stepping out of a taxi.

"That's all for today, Gene," said the director. "You can go now."

"For the love of Moses," wailed the actor. "I spent a whole hour making up and worked one minute. What kind of a business is this anyway?"

Divorce First

ROMANTIC note: Claudia Morgan, daughter of Ralph Morgan, is reported to be planning to divorce her husband, Robert Shippee, explorer and aviator. And it is whispered that the reason is red headed Dick Foran, the western star, who has been seen with Claudia quite a bit of late.

What! No West?

CONSIDERABLE excitement has been stirred up around town by the five young men brought here, as winners of a studio contest, for the express purpose of meeting Mae West. So far the lads have been enjoying themselves tremendously. They've been in the Trocadero, Brown Derby, Vendome and have glimpsed most of the stars. In fact, they've done just about everything —except meet Miss West.

New Star

A NEW star soon will be blazing across the cinema heavens. Her name is Frances Farmer and you really won't have to watch for her because unless I miss my guess you won't be able to get away from this young lady.

We saw her for the first time, along with a lot of other people, a few nights ago at a preview of "Come and Get it," in which she has the feminine lead. And we haven't stopped thinking about her yet. Blonde and beautiful, this young lass has what it takes to attain well earned screen stardom. Samuel Goldwyn can take plenty of bows for giving her her big chance.

Watch Her, Too

ANOTHER lass upon whom you might keep an eye is a charming brunette by the name of Jayne Regan, who recently signed a long term contract at Twentieth Century-Fox. An only daughter of wealthy parents—her father owns a large tea company and her mother's people own a big brewery—she is in pictures because she would rather act than anything else. She has talent, plenty of intelligence and a determination to make good.

No Stone Throwing

If Jean Harlow ever gets a desire to throw stones, she would do well to get over that habit very quickly. Jean, you see, is planning to build an all-glass house. At least she confided that idea to me a few days ago. Since a new type of glass brick has proven highly successful in the construction of several eastern buildings, the ex-platinum blonde has come to the conclusion that it's perfectly safe material for a house. Anyway, she's going to try it—and might even furnish the place with glass furniture.

News Flashes!

GERTRUDE MICHAEL'S next assignment probably will be the feminine lead opposite Robert Donat in "Clemintina."

Madeleine Carroll has mastered two complete dance routines for "On The Avenue."

Actual shooting finally has started on Jimmy Cagney's first picture under his new contract.

Sally Eilers is enroute back to Hollywood from London and will go into a picture at Universal immediately. James Dunn, who has been her teammate on numerous occasions, again will be opposite her.

LAURINBURG, N. C. (AP)—I. U. Kincaid was on what appeared a vain search for a match with which to light a cigaret when he heard his daughter, upstairs, scream: "The house's on fire!"

Chic Sale Is Critically Ill

Famous Character Actor Lived Life Backwards Until Recently When He Was Stricken With Pneumonia

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 7 (AP)—Charles "Chic" Sale was "living his life backwards" until six days ago when he was stricken with pneumonia.

Chic Sale

The 51-year old character actor has been critically ill since Monday.

"Twenty five years ago," he laughed, recently, "I was playing the character of an 80-year old man. Now, in middle age, I'm playing young men.

"If I live to be 70, I expect to be Shirley Temple's biggest rival."

At Good Samaritan hospital, Dr. Roy E. Thomas reported Sale showed a slight improvement late yesterday but his condition during the night was again grave.

Several years after a long and spectacular career on the stage Sale was brought to Hollywood and appeared in "The Star Witness," a gangster picture.

Once more, he enacted his stock character—the crotchety man. Other parts were offered, they all called for the same characterization. He refused.

Only recently, he finished a picture in which he had the role of a comparatively young man.

He was born in the middle west at Huron, S. D., and it was a plains character that he made so popular on the stage.

Eventually, he wrote "The Specialist," a literary version of one of his hilarious monologues on rural architecture. It made a fortune for him.

Thirty Years Of Suffering Ended By The Gly-Cas

Constipation, Nervousness And Indigestion Had Wrecked Mr. Agnew's Health: Gly-Cas First Medicine To Help Him

"There is only one Gly-Cas and every sufferer should realize it and profit by it," said Mr. J. W. Agnew, 614 East Ave. A, Temple, Texas. "For thirty years I had been constipated, my system became clogged with poisons and my stomach was badly affected. I was troubled greatly with an extreme burning sensation from my throat to my stomach. In 1930 I had a terrible attack which was pronounced 'acute indigestion,' but nothing or no one was able to do me any good at all and it stayed with me continually until I finally began Gly-Cas. I was terribly nervous, would lie awake for hours at a time, unable to rest or sleep. I did everything in my power to get relief but met only with repeated failure and grew worse each day until I was persuaded to give this new Gly-Cas a trial.

MR. J. W. AGNEW

"I am now on my fifth box of this new Gly-Cas and I would not be without it," he continued. "My bowels are now regulated, poisons have been removed from my system in a most natural manner and I am like a new man. My friends remark as to my physical condition. It is really wonderful the way Gly-Cas corrected my stomach disorder too, I now eat and enjoy the foods I wish and never suffer any ill effects from indigestion, burning sensation or the like. Even my nerves have been quieted, sleep soundly through the entire night, and get my proper rest. No wonder so many people are praising Gly-Cas—it is one medicine that deserves it all and more too."

Gly-Cas is sold by Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1219 Broadway, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns.

Gly-Cas $1.00 per box—6 boxes $5.00. Add 2c postage for each box ordered. Send money orders made payable Mark Halsey Drug Store. Don't send cash. Checks not accepted—No. C. O. D. Mail Orders.—Adv.

Dedication Set At Palace Today

A dedication program of "Mirrophonic" sound equipment in the Palace theater will feature Miss Emily Martin, freshman student at Texas Technological college, of Mason at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Martin has been named "Miss Mirrophonic" for a program which will be broadcast over radio station KFYO from the Palace theater stage.

Directing the broadcast is Ollie Cook, KFYO program head, who will introduce Mayor Ross Edwards;

MISS EMILY MARTIN

Chas. A. Guy, Avalanche-Journal publisher; Obie Hunt, Dallas, and Don Ruliffson, Chicago; Hal B. Grady, theater manager; C. B. (Brownie) Akers, Oklahoma City, and Jim Lindsey, Toreador editor.

"Mirrophonic equipment makes the screen individuals more 'life-like' as they converse," said Ruliffson, who represents Electrical Research products, inc. "It brings out sound to the finest point ever reached heretofore."

CHICKENS FOR THE POT

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—That line about a chicken in every pot has come true—but hardly on a daily basis. Though a leading poultry state, California produced only 14,943,000 chickens in 1935 for a population of 5,600,000. That's a little over two a year for each man, woman and child.

SPRAYS PLANTS, BEES DIE

FAIRFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Airplane spraying of 150 acres of tomatoes on Ida M. Armstrong's farm was a success—for the tomatoes. Then neighbor George J. Triphon brought suit for $4,238 charging the spray had destroyed 277 colonies of bees on his place.

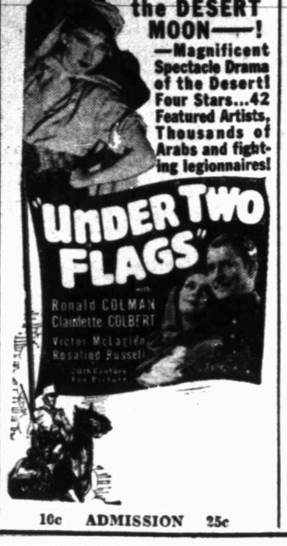

GROWS UNDER HOUSE

OSBORNE, Kas. (AP)—All the melons planted by young Billy Weese withered from the hot sun but one. It grew on a vine that crept under the house and grew in the shade. Bill had to dig a hole under the house to remove the melon. It weighed 39 pounds.

Science estimates the earth gains weight about a pound an hour from shooting stars.

Men's Recipes

club aluminum skillet and leaves them to steam for two hours. The judge watches his diet carefully and does not consume over-rich foods.

Attorney Clark M. Mullican, who eats three square meals a day, thinks "food like mother used to cook" is the best. He thinks that foods that are fancy should not be put on the tables of American families, and that "garnishes ruin the looks of things". Mullican, who was a colonel in the World war, says that French chefs serve Belgian rabbits instead of chicken and beef. Mexican dishes have a special place in Mullican's life.

Waitresses at the Hilton hotel never take orders at breakfast when Spencer Wells, local department store manager sits down at one of the tables of the coffee room. Wells always eats the same breakfast composed of "scrambled eggs, crisp bacon, dry toast with coffee."

When asked what his favorite dish is Dr. Martin H. Benson, of the local baby clinic, said "chicken and dumplings" and added that "mother probably could not give anyone a recipe for them because she puts a pinch of this and spoon of that, but anyway she makes the best I've ever eaten".

Sheriff Tom Abel will go home some night this week and find pumpkin pie on his dinner table made from the recipe that Mrs. Abel gave a friend: One cup prepared pumpkin, one cup brown sugar, 1-4 t nutmeg, 1-4 t cinnamon, 1 t salt, 1-2 cup chopped nut meats, 2 cups sweet milk, 2 T flour, 2 eggs, and 1-2 cup grated cocoanut. The ingredients are mixed and poured into a lined pastry shell and baked in a moderately hot oven for 40 minutes.

Mrs. Bradford Knapp, wife of Dr. Knapp, Tech president, may not believe in the old saying, "an apple a day will keep the doctor away", but she observed National Apple week last week by serving to the college president a dessert of apple tapioca pudding that she gives: Soak one-half cup tapioca in a cup of water until the grains have softened. Peel four apples and slice them into thin layers and place apples in bottom of a baking dish, putting layers of each and sprinkling with sugar and cinnamon between layers. Cover the pudding with water, place in hot oven and bake for one hour. The pudding may be served with whipped cream or thick sweet cream, Mrs. Knapp said.

When S. E. Cone and W. S. Posey go on hunting trips, Posey makes Irish stew that "puts other slum gulley to shame", Cone says. Posey, vice-president of the First National bank, "mixes peeled Irish potatoes, onions, salt and pepper, and bacon and cooks until just before the potatoes fall apart."

Bellwether for '37

WITH automobiles as with everything else, there has to be a leader of the flock.

All right then, step this way and feast your grateful eyes now on the authentic motor car bellwether for 1937!

Look at the size of it, the keen clean line of it, the streaming sweep of it, its neat fleet beauty.

It so perfectly captures in its beautifully contoured metal the dash and spirit of its buoyant action that it looks fast even when it's standing still!

Sure it's a Buick — the most stunning, sizeable, satisfying Buick that ever gladdened your startled gaze — but its good looks are literally the least of it.

Behind that massive radiator grille and under that gorgeous bonnet is an even bigger, smoother, valve-in-head straight-eight Buick engine, fed by an all-position aerobat carburetor that does thrifty things with gasoline.

And control of this magnificent performer — from thrilling take-off all through the range of speeds and including safe-stop hydraulic braking—is soft and easy as a fork in pie.

You can't describe it, so why handicap language this way — come in, now, see for yourself.

*Safety glass included — accessories slightly extra. Prices subject to change without notice. General Motors terms to suit your liking.

"It's Buick again!"

High School Girls Present Operetta At Hall Assembly

"The Nifty Shop," a one-act operetta by Otis Carrington, was given in Senior High school assembly Friday afternoon by members of the school Girls Glee club.

The manager is portrayed by Mary Grace Ellison, the mother by Lenora Shaffer.

Other characters include "Olga," a chore girl from Sweden, Marilyn Riggs; two French maids, "Rosemary" and "Janet," Helen Robinson and Reuby Tom Rhodes. Slaton grange, organized recently during a visit of Harold W. Gaulrapp, organizer, will meet Thursday night, November 12, in the Slaton high school. All farmers, their wives and others interested in agriculture, are invited to attend. The charter was left open and those who desire, can join this week. Judge Sewell is master; P. G. Meading, program chairman and A. J. Payne, secretary. There are 26 members.

TO BE IN LUBBOCK

Organizer H. W. Gaulrapp is to be in Lubbock county beginning Monday to discuss organization of community grange units.

STUDIES ARE MADE

Recently the Slaton FFA made a study of contouring and terracing, with the idea of the students being able to assist farmers in running lines for terracing. They studied a report issued by the Spur state experiment sub-station, R. E. Dickson, superintendent, on the experiments conducted there in 1926-27 and 28. They found:

Our average annual rainfall on inches, over a period of 17 years.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Each week a chapter of the F. F. A. in Lubbock county will submit an article on its work. This week's is from the Slaton chapter, W. C. (Brigham) Young, instructor.

the South Plains is from 20 to 22 Eighty-five per cent of the total comes in the summer or growing season; a high rainfall comes in May and September. A mid-summer drouth has always occurred between early June and late August, records of the past 25 years show.

The drouth which will come next summer and the following one, shows the great necessity of our saving spring and fall rains to carry crops through the summer. Twenty per cent of the annual rainfall runs off into lakes, or about 4.5 inches of the 20 inches. A gentle slope of the one-foot fall in 100 feet, loses nearly as much water as a three foot fall in 100 feet. Grass is the best to hold water; maize, kafir, etc., (grain sorghums) are next best, with cotton land next and bare soil the worst to let water run off.

OLDEST ORGANIZATION

The Grange is the oldest farm organization in the United States, having been started over 70 years ago. It now has a membership of over 1,000,000 farmers and others interested in Agriculture. It is not a buying or a selling organization, not handling any merchandise or produce. It is, however: 1—known as the one and only farm fraternity; 2—based on a sound legislative program, and has done more towards getting farmers and agriculture the things they need and deserve, more than any other organizations; 3—it is cherished because of its entertaining features in all meetings, a return to the good old "literary program," mixed with sound fundamentals; 4—it has an inspiring, educational program for those interested in agriculture. It is not culture.

According to the theory of S. Vsessviatsky of the Astronomical Institute of Moscow many comets that appear in the night may be the product of eruptions from the surface of the planet Jupiter.

What Farmers Of Area Do To Make Their Work Pay

MORTON, Nov. 7—Fred Nichols, living 10 miles northeast of here, is filling a 240-ton trench silo for purpose of feeding cattle. Last year he used silage in feeding and had excellent results until his supply was exhausted. He then fed bundles and dry roughage. He fed about 35 pounds of ensilage and 16 pounds of grain daily.

CONTOURS PROVE VALUE

SILVERTON, Nov. 7—Alvin Redin, farmer in the Rock Creek community, favors contour and terrace work for pastures. After a 5-inch rain in September, he found that terraces on the pasture kept all the rainfall and none of it went into a lake.

MANY LAMB SILOS

AMHERST, Nov. 7—Five thousand tons of feed will be stored in Lamb county silos, says Donald Turner, county agent. Silos range in capacity from 25 to 400 tons. Smaller silos will be used for dairy herds and larger ones for cattle feeding.

TURKEYS ARE HEALTHFUL

TULIA, Nov. 7—Turkey demonstrators in Swisher county have more then 1,000 birds in their flocks, County Agent Colgin reports. There are seven demonstrators. No disease has been discovered in any of the flocks. A balanced ration, pure water, clean houses, plenty of green food and care is being given by each demonstrator. Young toms are expected to approximate 25 pounds or more and hens 18 to 20 pounds.

SILOS NOT OPENED

MATADOR, Nov. 7—Several Motley county farmers who filled trench silos last year, did not open them this year but will do so later in the winter. Some of those who told County Agent Frank Buckley they did not open their silos were: J. T. Swim, Roaring Springs; W. L. McWilliams, Whiteflat, W. I. Rushing, and G. Seigler, Matador. A dozen or more farmers have refilled silos.

GOOD HEGARI YIELD

FARWELL, Nov. 7 — O. M. Merriman of the Lariet community southeast of here, averaged around 30 bushels of threshed hegari seed an acre on a 200-acre farm planted on the contour, he told County Agent Jason O. Gordon. All land was listed and cultivated on the contour. "I believe the practice of holding early rain made my good crop," he said.

"BABY BEEF" TURKEYS

FLOYDADA, Nov. 7—Harry Morckel, a model farm demonstrator in the county near here, has 400 "baby beef" type turkeys he will home dress and market this season. He syrup-pan terraced his 110-acre farm and takes water from roadside ditches. Recent rains were held from terrace to terrace.

TERRACES HELP GRASS

POST Nov. 7—H. F. Wheatley, a farmer in the Close City community, on top of the caprock, constructed low, narrow terraces on a small pasture of native grass near his barn. Water held by the terraces kept the grass green and growing during the dry weather, the remainder of the grass dying.

TURKEYS PROFITABLE

Well-bred turkeys, properly fed, make for profit on the farm, William Yoxtheimer of Idalou, turkey grower, told County Agent C. C. Jobson. "Our first hatch was five months old September 5. The toms weighed 18 pounds and are gaining at the rate of a pound a week." He is feeding the following mixture: 100 pounds of wheat bran, 100 pounds wheat shorts, 100 pounds tankage, 300 pounds ground maize, 33 pounds commercial feed, 10 pounds salt, 10 pounds sulphur, 10 pounds bone meal, and 15 pounds limestone flour. Yoxtheimer expects his toms to average 25 to 28 pounds Thanksgiving, hens slightly less. He has approximately 300 birds.

"What Chance For Romance?" Is The Unasked Question Of Eastern Girls As Regards Dude Ranches Over West

DENVER, Nov. 7. (AP) — Dude ranchers learned from an expert today that the unasked question of attractive eastern girls, including heiresses and school teachers, is simply this:

"What chance for romance?"

"You must answer that, subtly, in your advertising," said the expert, Lee Hermann, of Colorado Springs, secretary of the Colorado Dude Ranch association, talking to members.

Handsome Cowboys

"If you want to bring feminine business to western dude ranches you must tell the women, off hand like, that you have handsome cowboys; moonlight on babbling brooks and all the other stage props that go to incubate the germ of tender romance.

"You can put it in the ad where it is a bit inconspicuous and will be overlooked by the past-middle-age dyspeptic, who does not like to be bothered by love-crooning youngsters and wants to come west for a rest.

"The girls will find it, for that is the information for which they are searching. Thus, a clever ad will attract the wealthy man with a stomach ache as well as love-seeking maidens."

Proof that some of the dude ranchers already have discovered that the romantic setting boosts business was offered by Hermann. He said several heiresses have found dude ranches "good prospectin' ground." They married cowboys.

Last Rehearsals Will Be Staged

Plans are being completed for the last of the district rehearsals for the Boy Scout circus to be held November 27 and 28 in Lubbock. Rehearsals will be held this week in the eastern district at Crosbyton on November 10 and at Sudan November 12 for the northwestern district, C. I. Wall, chairman of the program committee announced.

Rehearsals have already been held for the southwestern district at Brownfield, southern district at Lamesa, southeastern district at Slaton, and Lubbock district at Lubbock, Wall said.

The next rehearsal after this week will be the semi-final to be held at the Texas Tech gymnasium Tuesday evening, November 17th, at 7:30 when troops from all over the council will bring their events in to go through the entire circus.

WATERLESS CROP GROWS

ALVA, Okla., Nov. 7 (AP)—Without a drop of rain from the time it was planted until it was stored, a crop of sudan on the farm of D. E. Walker was cut at a height of four and a half feet. The seven-acre tract returned a yield of five tons.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—There are four birthdays in the Theofanes G. Spiropoulos family but only two birthday parties. The first and third children were born on March 19, the second and fourth on November 21.

GET OUT EARMUFFS

HARRISBURG (AP) — The fireside weather prophets predict a cold winter. Their formula: "Dry and warm this late in the year means bitter cold weather." They look for less snow in the bleak months of 1937, however, than fell in January and February this year.

Advice Is Given On Grain Feeding

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7. (AP)—The agriculture department predicted today that farmers who feed their grain to meat animals next year probably will do better than those who cash in on the grain.

This forecast is based on the assumption that the drouth, which caused wide grain losses and cut livestock numbers, will be followed by large yields of grain due to more normal weather.

A survey of animals on farms and supplies of feed for them was said to show 25 per cent less grain per animal this year than last year and the five year average of 1928-32.

On January 1, the survey said, the total number of animals on farms probably will be the same, but there will be fewer cattle, horses and mules and more hogs, sheep and chickens.

Forum To Foster Benefit For Poor

The Lubbock Woman's forum will meet for a Bible program Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the engineering auditorium at Texas Technological college. Mrs. M. M. Ewing will be leader.

The forum is planning a benefit bridge to be conducted November 17 in the ballroom at Hotel Lubbock at 8 p. m. Proceeds will be used in a charity tonsilectomy project sponsored by the club. Last year, the secretary said, the club assisted other clubs in paying for 16 tonsilectomies for underprivileged persons and this year, since September, it has helped with three similar operations.

Tickets for the bridge will go on sale Tuesday at 25 cents each. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Chester Elliott or Mrs. W. R. Hudson.

Money—An End To A Means

THE queerest stories that ever get in the newspapers are the ones which appear every now and then telling how some miser has died of starvation or malnutrition while hanging on to a hoard of cash that would have bought enough food for a regiment.

Typical of these is a case that recently came to light in New York.

An aging spinster died in a hospital after having gone without food for four weeks. The medical examiner listed her death as "suicide by starvation."

As far as could be learned, the poor old woman had been so obsessed by an unreasoning fear of destitution that she had been unwilling to spend any money on food. But she had $5279 in the bank when she died!

What agonies of fear, distrust, and anxiety preceded this climax of tragic folly we can only imagine. It must take tremendous pressure, long applied, to turn a mind upside down so that money becomes more valuable than the things it can buy—when those things it can buy are the price of life itself.

BUT the beginnings of a thing like that are easy enough to understand. You can see them all around you. Most of us have a hint of them in our own lives.

What is involved is simply a natural confusion about the primary object of living. Every man shares in it who is too busy at his bread-and-butter job to spare time for the fundamental joys of life.

Whenever we get so busy making a living that we have no time left for the living itself, we are on the same melancholy track that this deluded spinster followed—a long way behind her, perhaps, but still on the same track.

For life is more than a mere process of getting and spending. Its highest values are never found in the pay envelope or in the dividend coupon.

These things—the bits of cash we are able to win from a frequently stubborn world—are only means to an end. The end is the greater richness and fullness of living; the means are important only as they lead to it.

Everyone is perfectly well aware of this, of course; but how often, how tragically often, do we get mixed up about it! Who has not seen the busy citizen, ambitious, energetic, and eager to "get ahead," denying himself time with his family, time for those unrenumerative moments of relaxation and meditation that help a man's spirit to expand, plugging along through youth and middle age—and then, suddenly, dying before he has had a chance to turn his achievements into happiness!

THE world, as Wordsworth remarked, is too much with us. To make life mean what it should we have to withdraw from it now and then; we have to get our happiness as we go along.

If we put it off until some indefinite tomorrow when we may have time, we run the risk of doing as this New York woman did—starving with money in the bank.

AUTO INDUSTRY LEADS

That business can be stimulated by artificial means is demonstrated at this time each year by the automobile industry. Unlike most enterprises the automotive industry goes after business instead of waiting for business to come to it. It has developed its own art of "making" business.

Perhaps the greatest trade stimulant ever invented was the annual introduction of new automobile models and the automobile shows at which they are exhibited. They come along when the tide of this business is at its ebb and have never failed to produce enough demand to keep the entire industry going through the winter months.

The new cars and shows are certain to arouse widespread interest in motors and motoring with resultant benefits to those enterprises which depend for existence on the motor car, and that means more business and less depression.

What a pity other industries cannot bring out new models every year! Many divisions of the textile industry do, as do also many small enterprises. But it seems that American initiative and ingenuity might profitably go in for more artificial trade stimulants.

By waiting a few thousand years to dig up the deceased, you become a noted archeologist. Any sooner and you're a horrid word.

Today's One-Minute Sermon

The wilderness and the solitary place shall be glad for them: and the desert shall rejoice, and blossom as the rose.

It shall blossom abundantly, and rejoice even with joy and singing: the glory of Lebanon shall be given unto it, the excellency of Carmel and Sharon: they shall see the glory of the Lord, and the excellency of our God.—Isaiah, XXXV: 1-3.

THE NEW BOOKS

Vincent McHugh's "Caleb Catlum's America" Is As American As Corn On The Cob; Thomas Bell Presents Human Study Of Early Married Life In His "All Brides Are Beautiful"

"CALEB CATLUM'S AMERICA," by Vincent McHugh; (Stackpole Sons, New York).

"CALEB Catlum's America," by Vincent McHugh has that particular blend of broad humor and sensitive poetry that go to make greatness. It is as American as corn on the cob. It is an extravaganza that never gets flat or forced. It is both rowdy and subtle. In short, it is a swell book.

Caleb Catlum is a hero in the tradition of Paul Bunyan and John Henry—both of whom stalk through this book. He was born in 1798 and he is deathless, because the Catlums descended from Eric the Red and Ponce de Leon, who drank from the fountain of eternal youth.

With Lewis And Clark

Caleb went west with Lewis and Clark. He teamed up with Mike Fink in the heyday of the Mississippi flatboat men. He rode the plains with Buffalo Bill, shot at a mark with Daniel Boone, talked with Mr. Jefferson in the White House, rode circuit with Abe Lincoln and piloted steamboats with Mark Twain.

He was a monumental braggart, a liar who could make his lies come true, a fighter and a drinker and a wencher and an everlastingly restless searcher.

For Common American

He stands for the common American, and in the end, he is licked by the traders—the Sam Slick, Jim Fisk breed, who overrun the country. So Caleb and all his deathless tribe—Lincoln, Sam Adams, Davy Crockett, Paul Bunyan, Wyatt Earp, Huck Finn and the other real and legendary heroes of the land—retire, at last, to a great cave in the Rockies. . . . there, like King Arthur in Avalon, to bide their time until the country shall be ready to receive them again.

Story Of Adjustment

"ALL BRIDES ARE BEAUTIFUL," by Thomas Bell; (Little, Brown, Boston).

THERE is something very much like the Bronx in Thomas Bell's new novel, "All Brides Are Beautiful." That is to say that the Bronx is a place of rather small variations where little differences in such matters as salary, amusement and food are made to count a great deal more than they are in some other places.

It is so with Mr. Bell's story of the early married life of Susan and Peter Cummings. Truly they live through the two and a half years encompassed by the novel without very much of anything happening, and yet when something as expected as a lost job turns up, it is magnified by Mr. Bell's method into something quite important.

Matter Of Much Importance

The reader will at once assume that to a family in the Cummings' station a lost job is a matter of enormous importance—and he will be wrong. Mr. Bell is out to demonstrate that the only real enemy a young couple of the sort has is the capitalist economy, to be sure. But he has too much finesse to get out into the street and shout about it.

And anyway, his real purpose seems to go even deeper than this. He seems to have the idea that there is a place for a novel which merely shows what fun two young people can have when they are married and in love. The novel (he says so himself) is not a love story, but the story of adjustment and successful living under conditions which seem difficult, but which can be lightened when the will to lighten them exists.

This is a curious contradiction. People who write realistically about marriage in the Bronx, and who see the economic difficulties squarely, are usually what the young son of our neighbor calls "sour pusses." Mr. Bell is not a sour puss. He is a human being, and his novel is a novel, and not a translation of John Strachey into fiction.

Of The Dead Level School

"WEEPING IS FOR WOMEN," by Donald Barr Chidsey; (Alfred A. Knopf, N. Y.).

DONALD Barr Chidsey's "Weeping Is For Women" is one of the best examples of the dead level school this department has found.

By the dead level school is meant only the technique of general and careful understatement. Its practitioners confine themselves to telling their story in as few words as possible, setting detail by detail, incident by incident, subtly filling the reader's mind with tinder.

Then, always without hyperbolic writing, they insinuate the detonating agent into the flow, and wait (sometimes almost with smacking lips) for the explosion. It comes with gratifying suddenness and devastating effect, if properly timed. Mr. Chidsey is an expert timer.

Dream For World Trip

His novel is about suburban George and Miriam, who lived far enough out in New Jersey for the hills to be hills and the rocks to be free of advertising signs. Their two children, Edie and Warren, were respectively in college and high school. George and Miriam were like everybody else in their town excepting for their dream, which was of a trip around the world. Mr. Chidsey makes you first understand what the trip meant to them.

Then he makes Edie stop college to marry a thrifty young man, and thus release enough of the college fund to make the trip around the world possible. After complications George and Miriam decide to go. All through the summer Warren, mowing lawns between his senior year in high school and his freshman year in Colgate, is having an affair with a married woman. Warren is physically a good specimen.

With George and Miriam almost ready to leave, Edie happily adding to the population of New Jersey, and Warren lost in his young dream Mr. Chidsey has set the stage. Neatly he inserts his TNT, and lights his fuse. Then the reader blows up.

If you read the novel don't be fooled by the placid beginning. The water roughens soon enough.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

WASHINGTON wags suggest that the administration welcomed the seamen's strike because it meant that several hundred thousand sailors would remain ashore to vote for President Roosevelt on Election Day. But the inside story belies such a suggestion.

Anticipating a preelection walkout which might cost him conservative support, the President sought to name a Maritime commission which could settle the dispute. But the delay in passing the maritime measure until the closing days of Congress forced him to make recess appointments to the commission. The prospective members—Senator Couzens for one—realized that they would have to deal with the sensitive subjects of strikes and subsidies before Congress reconvened, and they were pretty certain that political members on Capitol Hill would not sanction their decisions or confirm their appointments. Therefore the President's original candidates for the Board declined to serve, and he named a "temporary commission".

The seamen have little faith in these temporary appointees. They don't know whether their agreements will stand up when the permanent commission is named. So they walked out—on the eve of election.

CHOICE: President Roosevelt's post-election attitude toward Big Business puzzles even his closest friends. They don't know whether he'll fight or join 'em. And on his attitude may depend the direction of legislation and executive action for the next four years.

Several weeks ago New Deal master-minders advertised that the President would turn conservative in his second term. What they meant was that he would propose and promulgate no new sensational reforms. Their argument was that, having been reelected, he would begin to think of his place in history. In their view, he would not want to be labelled in school text books as "Roosevelt the radical" or "Roosevelt the spender." They hinted at a consolidation along conservative lines of New Deal agencies.

But the vicious attack of certain interests in the closing hours of the campaign (the factory propaganda against the Social Security Act, for instance) deeply stirred the President. So did the pronouncements of certain industrialists, especially Henry Ford's. With respect to friends and foes, the President is an Indian—he never forgives or forgets. So he may abdicate a constructive and conservative niche in history for reprisal and revenge.

LIAISON: Big Business, however, mobilized its own "salvation army" against a Rooseveltian retaliation. Few realize how many conservatives concluded in the closing days of the campaign that they didn't want to change political, social and economic horses—that they didn't want to swap Roosevelt for Landon.

Before a certain world-famous newspaper in the East declared for the President (contrary to its general philosophy and editorial policy), it conducted a careful survey of Wall Street and the business district. It discovered that the "economic royalists" would not be displeased if the President were reelected. Such men as Messrs. Leffingwell (a Morgan partner), John Dennison and Henry I. Harriman (U. S. Chamber of Commerce directors) and Curtis Bok privately—and sometimes publicly—favored a Roosevelt victory.

These men's basic thesis is that Mr. Roosevelt seeks to preserve the capitalistic system, though in slightly altered form. It will be up to them to soften his hatred against their brethern.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NEW YORKERS in a position to know say that the much discussed question of whether the steel industry shall grant a pay increase to all grades of factory workers—as Myron Taylor hinted might be done in the case of U. S. Steel—will hinge on just one thing.

That decisive element will be the result of a survey privately conducted by the managements of several leading steel companies to determine whether or not such a move would really serve to halt John Lewis' unionization drive. If there are convincing indications that higher pay will checkmate the closed shop campaign for a long time to come, higher pay will be granted.

If, on the other hand, it appears that corporate generosity along these lines would merely slow up unionization temporarily, and that this concession would be followed by further employe demands, the wage rise will not progress beyond the talking stage. Why waste good money to no permanent purpose?

UNYIELDING: A great deal depends on a careful current canvass of worker sentiment in the steel mills. Carnegie-Illinois is likely to act within a few weeks if the conclusion is that Lewis can be stymied in this way.

If no increase is granted by the end of the year it can be taken to mean that the industry has decided wage concessions are futile and plans to fight it out with the Committee for Industrial Organization without yielding an inch.

CHEAP: Financial insiders are inclined to be bearish on the prospects for the American liquor industry in the next few years. They point out that there are approximately 340,000,000 gallons of whisky already in storage and that current production is running far ahead of any demand that can reasonably be expected to develop.

Just to complicate matters, the consumption of Scotch whiskey in the United States has just about doubled since a special tariff arrangement on liquor was reached with Great Britain.

Keen observers prophesy that four year old bonded whiskey will be selling about as cheap a year from now as one year old whiskey sells today. The first big outpouring of post-repeal liquor will be four years old in 1937, and the output of distillers has been gradually but steadily stepped up since. So present prices are no criterion of prices to come.

FLEECED: Meanwhile the warehouse receipt racket is going full blast. Few of the smaller distillers have enough working capital to carry large inventories of aging whiskies. Consequently they finance themselves in large part by selling warehouse receipts to cover such inventories. Frequently these receipts fall into the hands of unscrupulous brokers.

These present day Wallingfords market their receipts at fanciful prices—especially in the smaller cities. They paint glowing pictures of what the whiskey represented by the receipts will be worth when it comes of age—basing these estimates on current retail quotations and completely ignoring the inevitable overbalancing of demand by supply which is bound to knock the spots out of the liquor price structure.

Many people are buying warehouse receipts at exaggerated figures as they used to buy stock in phony gold mines and oil wells. Apparently the lambs are determined to be fleeced. Securities Exchange commission supervision might make quite a difference in the honesty of the sales patter, but the SEC has no jurisdiction.

OPEN-FACE: Veteran brokers predict that President Charles R. Gay's open invitation to Stock Exchange customers to step right up with questions and criticisms will be accepted in a big way.

All except a handful of bitter-enders agree that the exchange's new "open-face" attitude is smart public relations, even if it violates long-established traditions. It is realized a bit late that cultivation of good will might have softened the blows of federal regulation. The exchange wants John Q. Public on its side in future arguments with the government.

Catholics Considering Cardinal Hayes As Next Pope

BY FREDERIC SONDERN
European Correspondent

VATICAN CITY, Italy, Nov. 7 (Exclusive)—The highest Vatican circles are seriously contemplating Patrick Joseph Cardinal Hayes, of New York, as possible successor to Pope Pius, XI. The Holy Father's health during recent months has created great anxiety among the cardinals in Rome and raised much discussion. Contrary to current reports, Secretary of State Pacelli is not being prepared for the papal throne. According to insiders, the tradition against making a Vatican foreign minister pope will be upheld.

CARDINAL HAYES
. . . Will he succeed Pius XI?

Two arguments favor the American prelate. Pope Pius feels that the United States is the ideal base for Catholicism's great drive against the "new heathenism sweeping the world". An American pope would guarantee the fervid support of the wealthiest Catholic community in the world. And of all the non-Italian candidates, an American would give the papacy a much desired neutrality. Nothing definite can or will be decided, of course, while the present pope lives. But the trend is significant.

Offensive Plans Made

The Vatican itself resembles a general staff headquarters preparing plans and arms for a big offensive. Since the time of the Counter-Reformation, churchmen say, no such extensive reorganization of personnel and propaganda methods has been undertaken. The whole world-wide net of Catholic organizations and sub-organizations is being contacted directly from Rome and cleared for action. The church is to be adjusted to modern political, social and cultural condition. Appeal to the modern individual from pulpit, press, and radio is the watchword. The Catholic movement, Rome's militant organization numbering millions all over the world, will be marshaled direct from Rome by Monsignor Pizzardo—next to Pacelli, the Holy See's shrewdest diplomat and politician—instead of by the local bishops as before. The priest's education is to be thoroughly revised and modernized—with special attention to modern propaganda methods. In addition there will be established in each country a central bureau, responsible only to Rome, to combat red agitation with every political weapon available.

THE Spanish civil war has convinced the Holy Father that haphazard measures can no longer be pursued. The church must fight, and at once. A stop-gap arrangement that seemed to promise a reconciliation with Hitler has broken down. Persecution of Catholic priests is beginning again, with little resistance from the people except in Munich, where Cardinal Faulhaber's dominating personality holds a great following. Rome realizes by that example that the church has lost contact with the masses. In France the prelates complain of the same tendency. And even in Italy, despite the peace between Mussolini and the church, Fascist saber-rattling fascinates the young Italian far more than going to mass.

High churchmen in Rome admit that Father Coughlin has taught them a lesson. They are almost unanimous in disapproval of the "Radio Pater" for his undignified attacks on Roosevelt and his political activity. But as one authority said to me, "Coughlin has shown us the way of getting at the modern man. He has embarrassed us by showing and using the political power of the church so openly. And we have not dared to interfere for fear of American newspaper shouting, 'Interference from Rome.' We shall curb him after the presidential campaign is over. But he has done us a great service by opening our eyes to possibilities. In Europe people are so accustomed to radio propaganda that the Vatican radio can have but little effect. We know how to tackle America, however, and that is our most important problem at the moment."

Pacelli's Trip Watched

Cardinal Pacelli's trip is being watched with great interest. The papal foreign minister has apparently advised the Holy See that the establishment of a nuntiature in Washington is inadvisable at the moment. He was frightened by the intensity of the election campaigns in the racial and religious groups, and feels that any tampering with Roosevelt or Coughlin at that time would loose a flood of anti-Catholic agitation that might harm or kill Rome's great plan, in which the United States plays such a large part.

PACELLI is contacting the American cardinals and leading Catholic personalities for two purposes—to explain the Vatican's plan for the new crusade, and to get a personal reaction on the tendencies, condition, and above all, the power of American Catholicism. A very important item is the influence that Cardinal Mundelein has attained over the Hollywood producers. For the pope sees the American movie as a huge cultural and propaganda weapon of worldwide importance. The Vatican authorities feel also that the United States is a favorable ground on which to have it out with the red

Problems And News Concerning Those Old Favorites

WIDESPREAD interest in checkers and chess over the South Plains area has prompted this "corner" of the Sunday Avalanche-Journal's editorial page. Several score persons are actively engaged in chess play and chess clubs; several hundred belong to checkers clubs and play that grand old favorite.

Here is the latest checkers and chess news, along with problems and comment.

A 10-game match is to be played Tuesday between Newell Banks and Willie Ryan, in Detroit. The games are to be played simultaneously with both players blindfold, and the winner will be the champion of America in that type of play. It will be remembered that Banks played four blindfold games last year in Lubbock, winning three and drawing one. Ryan, too, is noted for his exhibitions.

Otho Clendennen, Lubbock, has won his first round match in the Southern Correspondence tourney. His opponent, Ivan Layton, Amarillo, has just conceded the set of games to Clendennen, who goes into the second round by two wins to one loss.

We regret to hear that Bill Godfrey, Sweetwater, was injured fatally recently in a car mishap near there. Godfrey was one of the leading book players of that section, and was instrumental in starting the Ware boys out in the game.

Winning solution to the last problem comes this time from Otho Clendennen. His play for the position: Black on 19, 22, 24, kings on 21, 32; White on 28, 31, kings on 11, 18, Black to move and win: 21-17, 18-25, 19-23, 28-19, 17-22, 25-27, 32-7, Black wins.

On the same mail came this play from Gish Houston, Tech student; for the same problem: Black moves 32-27, 18-25, 21-30, 11-18, 27-23, 16-20, 23-18, 20-27, 18-22, 27-24, (27-32 draws) 30-25, 24-15; 22-26, 31-22, Black wins. Two days later the correct moves came from Houston, as shown by Clendennen's play above. Also arriving too late for last week's column, came a correct solution to the problem of Oct. 25 from Malcolm Cooper, Brownfield. His solution to last week's problem was the first received from out of town.

The contest for this week is something new, and no problem is given. Instead, we are running a game played recently by correspondence between the writer and Alfred Nelson, Amarillo. It is a first round game in the correspondence tourney mentioned above. It was played to a draw, but one of the players missed a win. The contest is simply to pick the move in the following play that lets the win out of the bag. Checker pamphlets will be mailed the first two who pick the right move, which in this case proved to be the wrong move. The game:

Black, Cooper	White, Nelson
11-15, 24-20, 12-16, 20-11, 7-16, 22-18
15-22, 6-11, 29-25, 4-8, 25-22, 8-12, 28-24
16-20, 23-19, 9-14, 18-9, 5-14, 22-17, 11-18,
22-25, 3-7, 30-25, 3-8, 25-22, 15-18, 22-15,
7-11, 26-23, 11-18, 19-16, 12-26, 31-15,
10-19, 24-15, 14-18, 17-14, 1-8, 14-10, 6-9,
10-7, 9-12, 7-2, 12-16, 2-6, 18-19, 6-13, 19-23, drawn.

Leadership of the first round of Lubbock Chess club's semi-annual championship tournament probably will be determined when Dr. R. S. Underwood, City champion, and Dr. Alan L. Strout, former titleholder, meet.

Except for his games with Doctor Underwood, Doctor Strout has completed his schedule. He has two losses and two draws. Doctor Underwood with six games to be played, has two losses and one drawn game.

Play will be continued Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in a meeting in Hilton hotel.

Lubbock players who admire the chess ability of J. C. Thompson, vice-president of Texas Chess association, of Dallas will be interested in the fact that he is leading a Dallas city championship by the score of 5 victories and no losses. One of his major wins was over Edgar Hartsfield, Texas champion.

The Dallas Chess and Checker club recently defeated soundly the University of Texas Chess club in an inter-city match. In the following game, played in that match, Champion Hartsfield defeats Chas. Hrisikopoulos, who was the dark horse of the recent state tournament:

Annual Crop Of South Plains Turkeys Ready For Market; Demand Is Slow

Operation Of Pool Expected

Crop Exceeds That Of Average Year And Cooperative Selling Deemed Necessary For Overcoming Competition

BY J. SAM LEWIS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Annual turkey buying season for the Thanksgiving market is under way, the mart having opened the past week with quotations by local packing houses and poultry buyers through local dealers.

Supply in this area seems to be a little "long" and, with larger crops reported in the growing areas that command higher prices than Texas birds, local buyers do not see much of a present market. Reports from all sections where turkeys are grown in commercial quantities indicate better crops than for several years.

Opening prices here included: Young toms, 10 cents a pound; old toms, nine cents; old hens, eight cents; No. 2 birds, six cents.

Closing Market Not Decided

Closing of the market has not been definitely decided by the trade, but it is believed that carload shipments will have to leave the territory by about November 14 in order to get to eastern markets on time. One houes indicated closing of local buying would be about November 12 or 13.

Later purchases will be shipped by express. Leaving Lubbock in carload lots, dressed birds can reach New York by November 20 or 21. The Friday and Saturday before Thanksgiving generally are the best days on New York and Chicago turkey markets.

Cooperative Selling Expected

Pooling and selling cooperatively are expected to increase this year's volume. Working in cooperation with the state extension service and through county agents, some farmers over the territory are raising birds to be sold through a pool. Earlier results of the pool were considered satisfactory.

Plains Cooperative, Inc., Plainview, is expected to be the selling agent. Through Roy B. Davis, manager, a cooperative hatchery that handled nearly 10,000 poults, was operated last spring. Poults were distributed over a dozen counties.

Levi Churchill, irrigation farmer of near Muleshoe, has approximately 2,100 birds he expects to market this winter. William Yoxtheimer of Idalou has several hundred birds. Crosby, Floyd, Hale, Hockley, Bailey, Lamb, Terry, Gaines, Lynn, and other counties have a number of demonstrators who will sell quality birds.

Plainview Show Is Help

Much of the success of farmers in handling quality birds is given to the dressed turkey shows held at Plainview for several years.

Lubbock is the center of poultry shipping in Northwest Texas and is one of the largest in the state. Its shipment of turkeys will range as high as 60 car loads for both Thanksgiving and Christmas markets.

A number of farmers of the territory ship their farm dressed birds direct to Chicago markets. They indicate they will continue that practice.

PEPPERS TO MARKET

LAREDO, Nov. 7 (AP)—Two carloads of sweet peppers, grown on the Primavera ranch in Zapata county, shipped from here late last week, were the first to go to market from the 1936 fall crop in this section. The Primavera ranch has 65 acres of peppers in cultivation which, with production on other farms, is expected to yield about 75 carloads in this region.

The Last Roundup--Before Feast Day

Blissfully unaware that the fatal date is nearing, this noble flock of turkeys is intent on only one thing—the rich feeding grounds toward which they're wending their way. With three fair "shepherdesses" guiding them, they're headed for their final fattening—the last roundup on a ranch near Salt Lake City. This flock is part of the thousands being prepared for the Thanksgiving market by northwest turkey growers, who supply a large percentage of the feast day birds.

Administrative Committee Drafting Insurance Plan For Crops Has Parley With Storage Men

Plan Calls For Premiums In Produce Paid In Fat Years And Receiving Same Amount When Years Are Lean

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Representatives of the warehouse industry conferred here with the administration committee which now is drafting a federal crop insurance plan, presenting suggestions on methods for storing crops from "fat" and "lean" years.

Eighteen spokesmen for the industry that now stores wheat, cotton, corn and other farm products discussed technical problems with Secretary Wallace and other members of the group asked by the president to formulate an all-risk crop insurance plan for suggestion to congress.

Give And Take Plan

Wallace's plan calls for paying crop insurance premiums and losses in kind. For example, a farmer would pay a certain amount of wheat in good crop years and receive wheat back in poor years.

Both the president and Wallace indicated that the stored commodities should be held so as not to burden the markets.

Agricultural economists have pointed out that this will be an immense technical job because if the government is to store a sizeable part of these annual crops between the bumper and poor years, huge storage facilities will be required.

Dead Hen Winner Of Honors Staged Under Auspices Of John Tarleton Institution

STEPHENVILLE, Nov. 7 (AP)—A dead hen won first honors in the tenth John Tarleton College International egg laying contest.

The winner, Earth Egg farm's hen No. 126, threatened to break the national record until she choked on a grain of corn 13 days before the competition ended.

She died five minutes after laying an egg that brought her total to 312 eggs in 49 weeks. At that time she held a national lead and none of the 36 pens of birds contesting was able to catch her.

Stock Shipments Said On Decline

AUSTIN, Nov. 7. (AP)—The University of Texas Bureau of Business research says total livestock shipments from Texas points to Fort Worth and interstate points declined in September.

Calves, hogs and sheep increased slightly over September, last year.

Aggregate shipments of 4,201 cars were 15 percent under 4,931 in September, last year. Cattle shipments, 2,492 cars, against 3,446 cars last year, dropped 28 percent; calves, 854, against 827, were up 3 percent; hogs, 354, against 192, were up 80 percent, and sheep, 501 against 446, were up 8 percent.

"Excellent pasture and feed situations in conjunction with a weak price situation induced by marketing of d'stressed live stock from the drouth areas of the northwest appears to be responsible for the sharp decline in Texas cattle shipments," the bureau says.

It says the same conditions are causing unusual large numbers of cattle to be shipped into Texas. Almost 14,000 head were imported from Kansas and Oklahoma during September, more than ten times the number from these states during September, 1935.

Only the southern Panhandle and Edwards Plateau reporting districts showed an increase in cattle shipments in comparison with September last year. South Texas shows the greatest decrease.

Oklahoma Farmer Expects To Have Corn On Cob Sometime Around Christmas Holidays

PERRY, Okla., Nov. 7 (AP)—Jim Marshall planted some corn for roasting ears June 9 and if it doesn't freeze he'll have corn on the cob by Christmas.

Marshall said dry weather kept the seed from germinating. The corn sprouted 103 days after he planted it following recent heavy rains.

Farmers Hold Their Turkeys

Cuero Chamber Of Commerce Is Facing Prospect Of Having To Pay Premium For Birds At "Turkey Trot"

CUERO, Nov. 7. (AP)—The Cuero Chamber of Commerce faced the prospect today of having to pay a premium for turkeys for the annual "Turkey Trot" here Nov. 11.

Turkeys were plentiful but not at the prevailing prices. Many South Texas growers were holding their birds for higher prices and few had been offered since the Thanksgiving market opened officially Wednesday.

Packers offered 11 cents for number one birds, 9 cents for old hens, 8 cents for old toms and 7 cents for number twos. They predicted the selling movement would start over the week-end but offered no hope for higher prices.

Growers and packers estimated the crop in the Cuero section at five to 10 per cent greater than last year and said the condition of the birds was about the same.

V. W. Ortman, who produced 700 turkeys this year, said he intended to hold them for 18 cents.

"With the prevailing price being paid for beef and pork, 18 cents is not too high and I believe the farmers can get it if they hold back their turkeys," he said.

Cotton Grown During Drouth Of 1925 Is Bought Recently

ROBSTOWN, Nov. 7. (AP)—Thirty two bales of Nueces county cotton grown during the drouth of 1925, and in storage here 11 years, was bought recently by W. B. Ray of Corpus Christi to settle the estate of the late Joe Kocurek, Robstown farmer.

Kocurek owned the land and the son, John, grew the cotton. At the end of the season John desired to sell, but the father wanting to hold the staple, bought his son's interest. Kocurek paid one cent a bale a day for storage, although he had opportunity to sell the cotton for twice its initial value.

Upon Kocurek's death, the cotton went to John and a sister at Chicago as heirs, and Ray paid 12 cents a pound for it.

GRAPEFRUIT SHIPPED

SAN BENITO, Nov. 7. (AP)—About 2,000,000 grapefruit, the equivalent of 65 carloads, are being shipped daily from the lower Rio Grande Valley. Shipments are expected soon to pass 100 carloads daily.

COTTON IS GINNED

McKINNEY, Nov. 7 (AP)—Mrs. Oscar George, Collin county cotton statistician, says 58,243 bales were ginned to Oct. 18, or twice the amount at the corresponding date last year. Most of the staple in the county, she says, has been gathered.

World Series Of Outstanding Farm Sports Contest Slated On Nov. 10; Corn Huskers Will Stage Contests

NEWARK, O., Nov. 7. (AP) — The 1936 "world series" of the outstanding farm sports contest, the national corn-husking championship, comes to the 487-acre farm of Alva Oyler on the old National road 13 miles southwest of here, November 10.

Nature decreed a change of venue for this year's bang-board contest. Originally it was planned for Missouri, but the drouth caused such poor corn there that the sponsors were afraid the small, unfilled ears would not bang loud enough to keep the spectators interested. Hence, the decision for Ohio.

Drouth Brings Repeaters

There will be 18 contestants—two from each of the corn belt states—Iowa, Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, South Dakota and Ohio. They represent the best in corn-husking — some places they call it corn-picking—in their respective states. Usually they are chosen in county and state elimination contests, but it is regarded likely this year's contestants from Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska and possibly South Dakota, will be the same as last year, since no state contests are planned because of the drouth.

Last year's national, held in Fountain county, Indiana, was won by Elmer Carlson, of Iowa. He established an all time record of 41.52 bushels, picking it within the allotted time of 80 minutes.

The Ohio Farmer, one of the sponsors, predicts that 125,000 people will attend this year.

Thirty-five acres of Oyler's 100-acre corn field, which he expects will yield 6,000 bushels this fall, will be left standing for the contest.

How It's Done

The contestants move between two rows, picking from both and tossing the ears into wagons which keep pace alongside them. The bang-boards are nothing more than sideboards on one side of the wagon, placed there to keep the corn from being thrown beyond the wagon box.

No coaching from the sidelines is allowed and penalties are charged against contestants leaving more than five ounces of husk on one hundred pounds, and for ears overlooked on stalks.

Oyler will not be a contestant. "I'll just be the host and a spectator," he said.

Farmers Of One Community, At Least, Keep Too Busy To Get In Any Kind Of Trouble

SYLVESTER, Ga., Nov. 7 (AP)—A survey shows there isn't an uninhabited farmplace in Grady county, Ga. Neither has the county held a term of criminal court in two years. There's a connection, county officials say—"Our people live at home; too busy for devilment."

"It's Twins" Getting To Be An Old Story To Carolinian

ANDERSON, S. C., Nov. 7 (AP)—"It's twins."

Rochelle Simmons, 28-year-old negro farmer, has heard that four times from his mother-in-law.

Three sets of twins born to Selma Simmons, his 32-year-old wife, are living. A fourth died.

All of the twins arrived in the past six years, with their grandmother as the only attendant at the births.

The Simmons, married 13 years, had five children before they began coming in pairs. Nine of their family of 13 are living.

Thirty-Five Cent Rooster Is Winner Of 50-Cent Prize

CENTERVILLE, Nov. 7 (AP)—Bernard Chandler paid Hart Jackson 35 cents for a rooster just before the opening of the Leon county fair.

Chandler exhibited his rooster at the fair.

It won a 50-cent prize.

Chandler figured his profit: one rooster and 15 cents.

Archer County To Get Funds

Checks For Compliance With Conservation Plans To Be Sent Out; Other Counties Close On List

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 7 (AP)—Archer county probably will be first to receive checks for compliance with agricultural conservation plans made last spring, the state agricultural conservation committee announces.

Baylor, Foard, King, Wichita, Wilbarger, and Young counties also were named by the committee as having completed the preliminary work which entitles farmers who signed work sheets to make application for government grants.

Work sheets from these counties have been checked and approved by the committee, and notifications of the county quotas in total soil depleting acreage, cotton acreage and production sent to the counties.

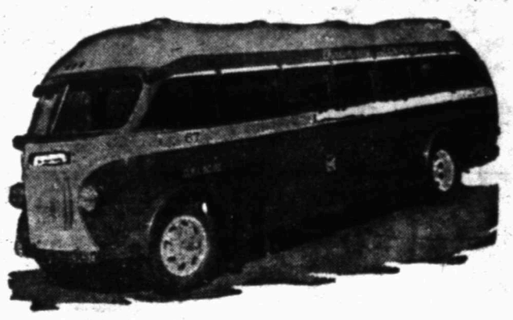

In the case of Archer, the first county in Texas to get its crop land measurements completed and work sheets in the hands of the state committee, the applications for grants have been prepared and are now in the county ready for producer's signature. The probability is that farmers in this county will have the first checks issued to Texas under the Agricultural Conservation act. The counties' quotas and the number of work sheets signed in each county follow:

County	County Quota Cotton Acres	Cotton Lint	Total Soil Depleting Acreage	No. Work Sheets
Archer	6,363	679,884	22,765	184
Baylor	36,734	3,966,475	70,291	523

BIG TURKEY CROP

SAN ANGELO, Nov. 7 (AP)—A turkey crop of 10 or 12 carloads, a slight increase over last year, is expected here this year, with quality improved. Grain damaged by the recent flood will be a source of feed, growers say.

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Brown County Hereford association announces its first sponsored Hereford sale will be held here Feb. 15. Registrations are being made at the office of C. W. Lehmberg, county agent.

TARZAN AND THE LEOPARD MEN, No. 91

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

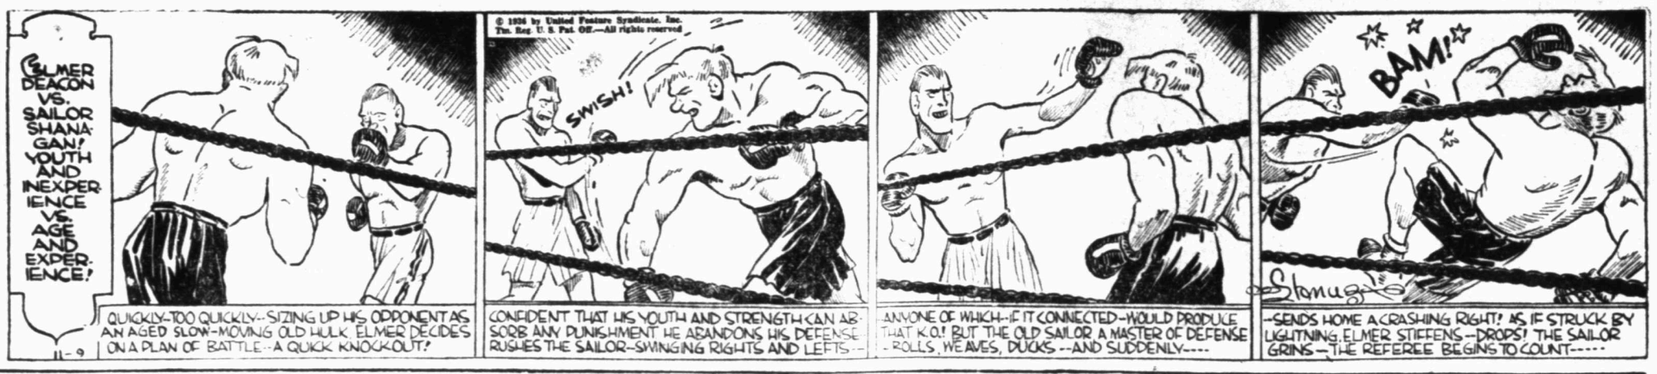

Preparations went forward for the frightful feast of human flesh. Fires were lighted under the cooking pots on the clay platform. Servitors of the temple passed among the Leopard Men, handing out gourds and jugs of strong native beer, which was gulped eagerly.

Greedy, ambitious Bobolo kept his eyes on Kali Bwana, who shrank far to one side of the dais, her brain reeling to the hideous pandemonium around her, half numb with fear and apprehension. His crafty mind was evolving a scheme to kidnap the girl for his own purpose.

He calculated that around her impressive and seemingly supernatural presence he might build up a cult and criminal clan of his own to rival the Leopard Men. In modern terminology, it might be said that he planned to "muscle in" on Lulimi's profitable racket.

Bobolo drank deep of the heady beer to bolster his courage for the dangerous undertaking. All around him his fellow clansmen were rapidly becoming intoxicated, and they were looking upon the white girl with leering glances. Bobolo knew he must act quickly.

Progress Seen Over Country

Chamber Of Commerce Of The United States Optimistic In Reports; Favorable Factors Are Cited

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States today spoke out with high optimism on economic conditions, saying that business momentum "is impressive, both in its extent and in its promise for the period ahead."

In its publication, "Washington Review," the chamber cited one favorable factor after another to support the conclusion:

Steady Progress

"When all the evidence is brought together in an endeavor to consider the sum total of economic activity throughout the country, it appears unmistakably that since the summer of 1935 there has been steady progress."

Although such a prolonged advance might ordinarily suggest a temporary recession in the near future, the chamber reported that this did not appear in present economic cards.

"Consideration of the elements which enter into national activity, both by business fields and by areas," it was said, "makes it clear that during the last seventeen months the most significant development has been the improvement in balance, among the fields of enterprise and among the areas of the country."

Seasonal Low In Shipments Of Eggs Noted In September

AUSTIN, Nov. 7 (AP)—The seasonal low in egg shipments from Texas to interstate points occurred in September.

The University of Texas Bureau Research says poultry shipments of 17 cars, however, represented an increase of six cars over September, last year. Egg shipments of 26 cars was one more than in September, 1935.

Egg receipts from other states increased substantially. Of a total of 26 cars, nine were from Kansas, nine from Missouri, one from Oklahoma, and seven from Nebraska. This was an increase of 23 cars over September, last year.

Social Leader Kills Herself

Mrs. Roy Campbell, Santone, Dies Friday Afternoon As She Fires Bullet Into Her Body At Home

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 7. (AP)—Mrs. Roy Campbell, prominent in social, civic and Republican political circles here and wife of the former collector of customs for this district, died by her own hand when she fired a bullet into her body at her fashionable home here. She was 65.

The tragedy occurred early Friday afternoon in the bedroom of the home while her husband was in an adjoining living room on the first floor. Hearing the shot, he rushed into the bedroom and found his wife, partly dressed, lying across the bed.

Verdict Returned

Justice of the Peace Bat Corrigan returned an inquest verdict of suicide.

One bullet from a .45 caliber pistol entered Mrs. Campbell's body near the heart. Dr. Charles E. Sturm was summoned, but she was dead when he arrived.

"She had been very active in the Landon campaign here," Dr. Sturm quoted Campbell as saying, "and since Tuesday had been grieving and brooding over the result. That's the only reason I can think of."

Applications Are Open For Postmastership At Monroe

Notices have been posted in Abernathy postoffice and other places for the receipt of applications for the place as postmaster at Monroe. It is proposed to establish an office there.

In the event the office is established, it will be known as "New Deal, Texas." This will replace the present name of Monroe, named after Monroe G. Abernathy, of Lubbock, who helped found the town of Abernathy and later that of Monroe.

No civil service examinations are to be held. Postmaster George W. Ragland at Abernathy will take applications for the post.

Swallows Teeth

When Fritz Marquardt, steward on the S. S. Berlin, swallowed his false teeth on a voyage east-bound he was transferred to the S. S. Beard Five Feet Long Is Declared The Winner In A Contest In Japan

TOKYO, Nov. 7 (AP)—Maojiro Kato's beard, so long he has to be careful not to trip over it, won the national championship today as the longest in Japan.

Kato, a 72-year-old patriarchal hardware dealer, is only five feet one inch tall. His beard is five feet, six inches long. And it causes him plenty of bother.

When Kato goes walking he stuffs the ends of his flowing white whiskers in a specially made handbag to keep them from dragging on the ground.

Democratic Committeeman Of Mertzon Rates Voting Well

AUSTIN, Nov. 7 (AP)—Dr. E. O. Deal of Mertzon, Democratic chairman of Irion county, apparently ranks among the best of general election forecasters.

Several weeks ago he notified state campaign headquarters here the Irion county vote would be 550, with 475 Democratic ballots. County returns showed 476 Democratic out of a total of 573.

REBELS ARE KILLED

GUADALAJARA, Mexico, Nov. 7 (AP)—Three rebel leaders operating in the state of Jalisco were killed, it was reported today, in a battle with federal troops.

Their bodies were hanged from trees and exhibited to the inhabitants as a warning.

Famed Justice Now Quitting

Justice Earl Freeman, Yuma, Quits Office In December; Has Married About 25,000 Couples In 10 Years

YUMA, Ariz., Nov. 7 (AP)—Yuma's famed "marrying justice" who has performed wedding rites for so many eloping Hollywood film couples, is quitting the business.

Justice of the Peace Earl A. Freeman leaves office next December 31, not having run for re-election. He has formed a law partnership with James B. Rolle.

Thousands Married

Judge Freeman said today he had married about 25,000 couples in his 10 years in office.

"That's 50,000 people—enough to populate a good-sized city," he chuckled. "You know, Yuma, itself, including the suburbs, has only about 8,500 population.

"The movie couples who have had me to marry them—they're all a wonderful, fine bunch of people. And that goes for the people who came down with them—fine people. I hope they'll drop in to see me when they can."

The justice achieved a pet ambition last fall when his favorite actress, Claudette Colbert, and Dr. Joel Pressman, came to him to be married. Judge Freeman had always said if Miss Colbert ever married while he was in office, he hoped she would get him to perform the ceremony. She not only did, but bestowed upon him a rose and a kiss.

WATCH IS FOUND

BEAUPORTVILLE, Que., Nov. 7 (AP)—When Raoul Belanger was dragged from under the hoofs of his horse last Tuesday and removed to a hospital where he died the next day, his watch was missing. A stable hand, tending the animal, found the timepiece today imbedded in the horse's hoof.

elements. Moscow is not strong in America, and the Catholic political organizations in the large cities, like Tammany hall, will give the church a good lever. Those contacts are also being carefully inspected by the pope's minister.

As customary in Rome, there will be no fanfares heralding the beginning of the Catholic campaign. But there will soon be rumblings. And the United States will hear the loudest.

PROMINENT CATTLEMAN HAD AWFUL GAS BLOAT 2 YEARS; LAUDS VAN-TAGE

Mr. Reuben Miller, Widely-Known Cattle Rancher, Had Two Years Of Torture—Gas Pressed On Heart—and Caused Awful Pain—Was Bilious and Constipated — Now Van-Tage Has Relieved Him

MR. REUBEN MILLER, Widely-Known Western Cattleman, Who Says: "VAN-TAGE gave me the first real relief I've had in 2 long years of suffering. So I unhesitatingly endorse This Medicine."

Remarkable Statements — from throughout This Whole Western Section—praising and endorsing VAN-TAGE, continue to pour in daily to the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway, Lubbock, where this "Amazing Mixture of Nature's Roots and Herbs and Other Splendid Medicinal Agents," is being introduced and explained to the local public by a Special Van-Tage Representative, known as the VAN-TAGE Man. For instance, just a few days ago, the following Remarkable Statement, describing what VAN-TAGE can do in certain forms of suffering, was received from Mr. Reuban Miller, of 407 S. 11th St., Boise, Idaho, a Prominent Cattleman of That City. Mr. Miller is a man of 73 years of age and a Long-Time Western Resident. What he has to say about Van-Tage is Truly Amazing and will be read with Real Interest by hundreds of people throughout this entire Western Region. This Prominent Man's Remarkable Testimonial reads as follows:

2 Years of Misery With Gassy, Upset Stomach

"No one knows how I have suffered for a period of two long years with a sour, gassy, upset stomach," said Mr. Miller. "All my food seemed to sour in my stomach as quick as I ate it and then I would bloat and swell with so much gas that it would even press up into my chest and cause awful pain around my heart and I'd belch up old food substance into my throat from my upset stomach and felt sick, like I was going to vomit. My liver was sluggish and so constipated I never missed a day without taking a laxative, and I had awful headaches and dizzy spells and biliousness continually.

Now Tells How Van-Tage Relieved His Misery

"I tried everything for this misery, in fact, have taken more medicine in these past two years than in all my former life put together, but it seemed like I couldn't find anything to help me. Then finally I found Van-Tage and will say that I am 100 per cent improved since I took this Great Medicine, in fact, can say this is the first time in two years that I've gotten anything like real benefit. Now my gas and bloat are relieved ALMOST ENTIRELY and I have no more gas pain around my heart. My bowels have been given a great cleansing and it also acted on my liver and my headaches and dizzy, bilious spells are relieved. I know from experience that this is a Great Medicine and I give it my hearty thanks for what it did for me and unhesitatingly endorse it to all who suffer as I did."

Is Like Taking Several Medicines At Once

VAN-TAGE contains over 30 ingredients. So it is like taking several medicines all at once. Some of its ingredients clear gas and bloat from stomach, others cleanse bowels; still others help sluggish acting liver and kidneys; and others relieve rheumatic and neuritic pains, caused by contaminated system. Weak, miserable people soon feel different in general. Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Van-Tage is reasonable. So don't hesitate. Get VAN-TAGE—TODAY!

A Special Van-Tage Representative, direct from the Van-Tage Laboratories, is now at the Mark Halsey Drug Store, 1221 Broadway, Lubbock, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this Remarkable Compound.—Adv.
