Pecora Reveals Market Profits

SAYS NEARLY BILLION DOLLARS MADE IN LAST SIX YEARS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 1—Evidence that New York stock exchange member firms have made nearly a billion dollars in the past six years, despite the depression, was presented today to a senate committee.

Ferdinand Pecora, counsel for the senate stock market committee, placed before its re-assembled members data showing that exchange firms averaged almost $2,000,000 apiece in net profits during the two boom and four depression years.

Gathered from the member firms themselves, the statistics showed they have had a total gross income of more than $2,000,000,000 during the six-year period.

Measure Nears Test

During the high-time years of 1928 and 1929 their gross annual revenue averaged far more than $1,000,000 apiece.

These and a mass of other hitherto undisclosed statistics relating to market operations were presented to the committee as stock exchange control legislation approached the test in both houses of congress.

Concededly the disclosure of this data was timed to put the bill "over the top." The move followed close after charges in the house yesterday of a "vicious" campaign of "misrepresentation" against the legislation by the New York exchange.

Depression's Story Told

Buried in the mass of statistics was an amazing story of the depression's effect. It showed member firm profits dropped from $349,000,000 in 1928 to a loss of $6,000,000 in 1932 and rose again to $96,000,000 for the first eight months of last year. The total net profits for the period were $833,167,686.

Other high-spots in the voluminous data showed that:

The 631 reporting firms had 1,371,920 customers in 1929, of whom 811,986, or 59 per cent, were cash

Chicago Used To 'Test Tube Babes'

CHICAGO, May 1. (AP)—"Test tube babies" are not new to Chicago. One laboratory has produced such infants for 60 Chicago couples.

Describing his method as "uterine insemination," Dr. Victor D. Lespinasse today said he called upon eugenic fathers in some cases, but in others the father of the child is the patient's husband.

The Chicago physician said he employed his method only where parenthood was impossible because of physical disability of either the husband of wife.

He said patients seeking eugenic fathers found race most important to the prospective mother; next complexion, then health and intelligence.

OFFICERS END KIDNAP HUNT

FAMILY CLEARS PATH FOR RANSOM DEAL WITH ABDUCTORS

(By The Associated Press)

TUCSON, Ariz., May 1—The kidnapers of 6-year-old June Robles were free today to negotiate for a $15,000 ransom without interference from authorities.

Her father, Fernando Robles, issued an announcement to the kidnapers saying he was ready to meet fully their demands and that, at the family's request, official investigation had been stopped to permit unhampered negotiations.

Consults Reputed Seer

Bernabe Robles, reputedly wealthy grandfather of the child, returned from a second trip across the border to Santa Ana, Sonora, where he told a hotel proprietor he had sought the advice of Manuel Gamboa, recognized in that area as a seer.

Passing through Nogales on his return, the pioneer cattleman expressed hope that "this little journey is going to lead toward solving of the kidnaping." He did not say what advice, if any, he had received from the reputed seer.

Baby Reported Safe

Alphonso Aguirre and Henry Dalton, Tucson city councilman, who accompanied Bernabe Robles into Sonora, differed, however, on the value of Robles' activities below the border.

"The baby is safe," Aguirre said, but he declined to disclose the source of his information.

Voluntary Levy On Utility Bills Set

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 1. (AP)—A voluntary tax of ten cents a month to be added to each utility bill for a one year period has been voted by the Little Rock city council to raise city relief funds.

The bills of the four utility companies—electric, gas, telephont and water—will bear a separate notation on the ten cent tax.

The ordinance creating the tax provides no penalty for failure to pay it.

Negro Slayer Dies In Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE, May 1. (AP)—Calmly remarking "I'm saved," Johnnie Williams, 31-year-old Houston negro, was electrocuted early today for the shotgun slaying of H. L. Bennett, Harris county chicken raiser, in January, 1931.

Williams appeared unruffled as he walked to the death chair and used his last speech to remark:

"I'm not guilty—I'm saved."

EXPLOSION OF TRUCK HURTS SECOND MAN

GALVESTON VICTIM IS TRAPPED IN CAB ON STATE HIGHWAY

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, May 1—Roy Simms of Galveston was burned to death and R. A. Merrill, also of Galveston, was burned from the waist up when a gasoline truck in which they were riding exploded early today near Dickinson.

F. I. Mitchell and R. W. Woodrey of Houston had just passed the truck on the Galveston-Houston highway when they happened to glance in the rear view mirror of their automobile and saw a sheet of fire envelope the other machine.

Rushed To Hospital

Mitchell and Woodrey rushed back to the truck, which was a mass of flames, and found Merrill rolling in a ditch, frantically trying to extinguish his clothing. They succeeded in putting out the flames and rushed him to a hospital here, where he was in a critical condition.

The men were unable to get to Simms who was trapped in the cab of the truck.

The truck carrying the gasoline was believed to have struck a culvert. Merrill was driving.

WOOL MEN SCORE TARIFF MEASURE

WASHINGTON, May 1. (AP)—Strong opposition to the administration tariff-bargaining bill from wool interests was expressed today before the senate finance committee. The wool men were heard after senate Democrats announced they were ready to amend the measure to provide for executive hearings of affected industries before the rates on foreign competing articles were changed.

The committee planned to close its public hearings today and to report the bill Thursday. It probably will be one of the last measures considered in the senate.

Discoveries Left By Dr. W. H. Welch

BALTIMORE, May 1. — (AP)—Dr. William H. Welch, dean of American scientific medicine, who died in his sleep yesterday at the age of 84, has left behind a long record of discoveries and advancement in medical research, particularly in pathology.

Last month marked the golden anniversary of his association with the Johns Hopkins university. Death was attributed to cancer.

R. Welch introduced to this country many of the developments in bacteriology from the laboratories of Pasteur and Koch. He discovered the bacillus which produces hydrogen gas in wounds, usually with fatal results, and he made noteworthy progress in combatting many diseases, ailments and poisoning.

Heflin's Comeback Up At Polls Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 1. (AP)—Alabama Democrats wrote their answer today to the essayed political comeback of former United States Senator J. Thomas Heflin.

Many other issues were up for decision in the party primary, and Democratic leaders called it the most important Alabama election since reconstruction days.

Heflin sought to unseat Miles F. Allgood in the fifth congressional district. Majoe Joe Starnes also is a candidate.

The state's critical financial condition vied in interest with reorganization of the state government, prohibition, reapportionment of representation in the state legislature and local issues.

JAPAN WARNED OF TREATIES

NIPPONESE JOIN WITH BRITAIN IN SAYING CONTROVERSY OVER

(By The Associated Press)

Japan followed the lead of Great Britain today in indicating it considered the controversy over Japan's "hands off Asia" policy closed.

A Japanese foreign office communique pointedly ignored a statement by Cordell Hull, United States secretary of state, reading: "In the opinion of the American people and the American government, no nation can, without the assent of the other nations concerned rightfully endeavor to make conclusive its will in a situation where there are involved the rights, the obligations and the legitimate interests of other sovereign states."

In London it was said that the League of Nations is determined to carry on its project of cooperation with the reconstruction of China.

AMERICA AWAITS REACTION TO NOTE

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—The state department awaited far eastern reaction today to its polite but direct reminder to Japan that claims of "overlordship in Asia" must stick within treaty limits.

Cordell Hull, soft-spoken secretary of state, unfolded to newsmen last night a statement asserting beneath smooth diplomatic language that the United States does not approve of Japanese control, as projected, over Chinese affairs.

The statement delivered in substance to Foreign Minister Hirota by Ambassador Joseph C. Grew in Tokyo, stated in effect:

First, that Japan is still a party to treaties for the maintenance of Chinese sovereignty;

Second, that treaties cannot be legally "modified or terminated" except by the processes agreed upon by the contracting parties, and;

Third, that the United States has certain rights in China and proposes to keep them.

Philippines Accept Independence Offer

MANILA, May 1. (AP)—Without a protesting voice, the Filipino legislature today accepted the United States' new offer of independence as embodied in the Tydings-McDuffie act and prepared to set up machinery necessary for self-government.

Under the terms of the measure, signed March 31 by President Roosevelt, the Filipinos will obtain complete independence in 1945.

During the intervening years a commonwealth government, to be set up probably next year, will govern the islands.

Dillinger Hunted In Chicago Haunts

CHICAGO, May 1 (AP)—Police dug deep into gangland haunts today to find John Dillinger.

Convinced the slippery desperado has taken refuge in one of the numerous hideouts his gang is reputed to have here, the authorities combed the city, but had found no trace of him.

Definite identification of Dillinger as one of the four gunmen who disarmed three policemen early yesterday led to the belief that the notorious outlaw was hiding in Chicago.

CHIEF DANGER POINT LOOMS IN HAVANA

ONE MAN KILLED AND SIX INJURED; OTHER LANDS ON EDGE

(By The Associated Press)

Stringent police precautions signalized the world-wide celebrations of May day. While radical workers organizations had called for unprecedented demonstrations in flaming manifestoes, the situation at noon indicated that no tremendous disturbances were likely.

The sole danger point at that time appeared to be in Havana, where one person was slain and six wounded in the midst of a communist demonstration in mid-town.

Police Direct Paraders

In other lands, however, the demonstrations assumed the characteristics of a parade staged in Tokyo where 7,000 demonstrators marched under the direction of 3,000 police.

In Moscow, the red army corps which constitutes the garrison of the capital led a parade of citizens who cheered the sight of 600 tanks and more than 500 airplanes roaring before them.

In Austria, May day was seized upon as the occasion to elevate Prince Ernst Von Starhemberg, Fascist leader, to the post of vice chancellor of the nation.

Communist meetings got under way on the outskirts of Paris in mid-afternoon without police interference and the situation in the French capital was reported calm with business practically normal despite the fact that the communists had called for a nationwide general strike.

New York Police Ready

Celebrations by communists and socialists got under way in New York about noon but their beginnings were quiet and orderly. The New York police were in readiness for any eventuality.

Paris resembled a military camp—as 30,000 police backed by 10,000 troops with machine guns and armored cars were called to cope with disorders.

A policeman died at Anger in French provincial rioting in which

YOUTH DIES IN STRIKE FIGHT

PORTS PARALYZED AS LONGSHOREMEN WALK OUT IN TEXAS

(By The Associated Press)

The industrial scene, clearing in several sectors as settlements ended strikes, was marred today by a death.

Paul Mehalic, about 18, who left a sandlot baseball game to watch a clash between strikers and guards at the Latrobe electric steel company in Latrobe, Pa., was killed last night by a stray bullet.

Quiet settled over the district after the pickets, who claimed they were fired on from windows, were quelled by tear gas. State police were called to maintain order.

Shipping At Standstill

Shipping at the principal Texas ports was brought to a standstill as approximately 4,000 longshoremen, after long negotiations with ship operators over wages, went on strike at midnight. Galveston, Houston, Texas City and Corpus Christi were among the ports affected.

A truce was promised in the strike of 2,000 Cleveland gasoline station attendants as both sides considered an agreement calling for direct negotiations and a return to work.

More than 10,000 other Ohio workers were back at their posts—8,400 Cleveland employes of the Fisher body company, 900 Chase Brass company workers, 900 Akron rubber mold machinists, and 300 at the Enterprise Aluminum company in Massillon.

FIFTEEN SHOTS FIRED INTO MEETING OF 300 PERSONS

(By The Associated Press)

LAKE CHARLES, La., May 1. — A white man was shot and dangerously wounded here today when 15 shots were fired into a meeting of 300 persons, gathered to discuss the longshoremen strike situation at the Texas and Sabine district ports.

Murphy Humphrey was the only man hit as the shots splayed into the meeting. He was taken to a hospital in a critical condition, suffering from a wound in the head.

Negroes Arrested

Police arrested Elisha Catholic, 45-year-old negro member of the Louisiana Longshoremen's union and six other negroes in connection with the shooting.

Sheriff Henry Reid said the shots were fired from Catholic's house.

A fist fight in front of the meeting place was stopped by police shortly before Humphrey was wounded, and after the shooting the meeting was dispersed by a squad led by Police Chief Sam Iles and Sheriff Reid, who marshalled all available officers in the neighborhood to restore order.

Lake Charles, classed as a Sabine district port, is affected by the general longshore strike which became effective in the Texas ports at midnight.

Escaped Convicts Believed Cornered

COSHOCTON, O., May 1 (AP)—The three convicts who scaled the wall of Ohio penitentiary Sunday afternoon were believed cornered by a posse in a swamp near Conesville, 14 miles south of here today.

All roads in the vicinity were closely guarded as the authorities prepared to close in on the heavily armed desperadoes.

The trio was forced to abandon an automobile, which they stole from H. A. Musselman, a farmer of near Hebron, last night, because of a blockaded wooden bridge.

ONE THOUSAND FARMERS AT CONCLAVE

CREEKMORE TALKS TO REPRESENTATIVES OF 23 TEXAS COUNTIES

With approximately 1,000 Northwest Texas farmers from 23 counties present, a popular meeting of the Northwest Texas Cotton Growers association was being held today at Texas Technological college.

E. F. Creekmore, general manager of the American Cotton Cooperative association, here especially from New Orleans for the meeting, detailed the history of cooperative marketing of cotton and showed how his organization was seeking to bring to the farmer a better price for his product.

Preceding the call to order by M. S. Hudson, president, community singing was led by Dr. J. O. Ellsworth, of Texas Tech, with Mrs. Harry Le Maire at the piano. After the invocation by Dean James M. Gordon, Mr. Le Maire played two accordion solo numbers. Mrs. Virginia Massingale gave a reading.

Business Men Serve Lunch

Immediately following the program, lunch was served by a committee of business men, headed by W. O. Daniel.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Tech, in an address on the "Necessity for Cooperatives in the New Deal," stressed the fact that "the time has come when we must meet and plan together.

"You and I must share in the developing of the new adjustments of the new plan," he stated. "Unless we do have larger and better and stronger farm organizations in this country, the farmer may reach the place where he is not certain he has been as well represented as he should be at the council table."

NELSON IS NAMED AS ARMS BUYER

SAN ANTONIO, May 1 (AP)—George "Baby Face" Nelson, one of John Dillinger's ace machine gun killers, has been positively identified as the "Jimmie Williams" to whom H. S. Lehman, San Antonio gun dealer, shipped five machine guns last October.

Gus T. Jones, agent in charge of the United States bureau of investigation here, announced today that Lehman has positively identified a photograph of Nelson as the man known here as "Jimmie Williams" to whom the guns were shipped from San Antonio.

Lindy Might Have Been Mr. Manson

LITTLE FALLS, Minn., May 1. (AP)—Except that Ola Manson had other ideas about it, the man who flew solo from New York to Paris might have stepped from his plane at le Bourget flying field, France, and said:

"I am Charles A. Manson."

County records disclosed today that the grandfather of Charles A. Lindbergh was born Ola Manson, but that he assumed the name of Lindbergh when he migrated to the United States from Sweden in 1860. Many other early settlers from Europe took new names which they believed more in keeping with the new country.

Principle Of Balance Is Applied

You can make a pleasing picture of yourself by taking care that arms and legs balance, the principle being the same as that applied to the placing of furniture.

* * * *

BY LAURA TOWNSEND DAVIES

If you had two heavy pieces of furniture in a room, say a large bookcase and a piano, and all of the other pieces were comparatively small, such as chairs, tables, lamps, etc., would you place the bookcase and piano on the same side of the room? No, you would be more apt to place the bookcase on one side of the room and the piano on the other to have a balanced room.

The same principle applies to the person. If you were to sit, say, with the right foot in front of the left, would the picture be balanced if you placed your right arm on the arm of the chair? No, the graceful pose would be with the left arm on the arm of the chair, right hand and arm relaxed in your lap. Then the picture would balance.

LUBBOCK CITY HEADS CONFER WITH SENIOR P. W. A. EXAMINER

FORT WORTH, May 1. (Special)—Lubbock City officials conferred with Thomas G. Reid, senior financial examiner for the Public Works administration, of Washington, D. C., at the state PWA offices here Monday.

Mr. Reid began a study of a compilation of possible revenues from Lubbock's proposed municipal gas system, for which PWA funds have been asked.

Those here to urge approval of the city's application were Mayor Ross Edwards, City Commissioners A. J. Richardson and J. C. Royalty, and City Attorney E. L. Klett.

They told Reid that the municipal plant would have about 4,000 consumers and would be served at half the net domestic rate now charged Lubbock consumers by the West Texas Gas company which is 67 1-2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

The proposed distribution system would cost about $1,300,000 and the gas supply would be obtained from wells near Hobbs, N. M. Mayor Edwards estimates that the plant would pay for itself in twenty years and in addition create a $1,000,000 surplus twenty years hence.

Reid will spend three weeks in Texas studying the collateral behind a number of applications for the financing of PWA projects before he returns to Washington.

Nation's Biggest Passenger Plane Tries Wings

The giant flying boat S-42, built by Sikorsky for Pan-American airways, is shown as it proved itself airworthy on a test flight over Bridgeport, Conn. The plane, powered by four engines and capable of flying 2,500 miles non-stop with a mail load and crew, was planned as America's largest passenger plane. It is 76 feet long, has a wing spread of 114 feet, and has a gross weight of 38,000 pounds. It will be fitted with 32 passenger seats for the South American service. (Associated Press Photo).

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS SAVED AND THOUSANDS OF ANIMALS KILLED IN SOUTH PLAINS JACKRABBIT DRIVES

More than 150,000 jackrabbits have "bit the dust" in a series of several hundred rabbit drives conducted in at least 200 South Plains communities since January 1.

While the amount saved through killings have been with shotguns, estimate, a conservative figure places the saving at not less than $150,000.

One man estimated 32 rabbits would eat as much feed as a sheep and that five sheep would eat as much as one cow or steer. At that rate, feed for nearly 1,000 cows has been saved.

Centered In Wheat Area

Most of the drives have been in the wheat growing sections. It was estimated that the damage, if it had not been checked, would have reduced the crop of a rabbit-infested area as much as 20 per cent.

Early spring has not seen the usual letup in the number of drives, a dozen or more having been reported recently.

Drives have been reported in Hale, Swisher, Castro, Lamb, Floyd, Crosby, Lubbock, Hockley, Scurry, Garza and several other counties.

Shotgun shell dealers have had a good business. Nearly all of the killings have been with shtoguns, those in charge specifying that no rifles be used.

Hale county probably has led the area in the number of drives and the number of rabbits killed. At least 50 drives have been held there, resulting in the extermination of between 40,000 and 50,000 rabbits. The 20 or more school districts have averaged more than two drives each, a number having had three or more. Some were by district lines; others by individual farmers for a few sections. Many of these drives netted more than 1,000 rabbits.

Swisher County Second

Swisher county is a close second. One series of drives in which two school districts competed for a prize resulted in 11,000 rabbits being killed. Other drives netted 500 to 1,000, more than 20,000 being killed in addition to the ones in the big drive.

Crosby county, especially across Blanco canyon on the East plains, had a number of large drives with 1,000 to 2,000 rabbits being killed. Including Floyd county, between 20,000 and 25,000 were slain.

Scurry county has seen nearly as many rabbit drives as Hale county, with about as many rabbits killed as in Swisher county. Castro county also has had large number of drives and the total is well past 10,000 head.

Lubbock county's drives have been in the northeast and northern parts where there is a large wheat acreage. In the other counties where drives have been reported, the total number of animals killed probably will run into the thousands in each county.

Besides these drives, many individual farmers have staged one-man drives, while numerous city men make frequent trips to the country after rabbits and kill a few to eat.

Motorists have killed untold numbers, as evidenced by the number of dead ones, especially young rabbits, found on highways after being run down by automobiles.

MONTAGUE COUNTY BOASTS OF NATURAL WONDERS UNKNOWN TO MOST RESIDENTS

NOCONA, May 1 (AP)—Montague county, which borders on the Red River and is nearly centrally located in the northern part of Texas, has some natural wonders that are not written in history.

Possibly thousands of residents of the county do not know that it has a "petrified forest" and a "dripping spring." These are the names they are known by to those acquainted with them.

Montague county, or the area where the county now is located when Texas was a republic, was the dwelling place of many Indians and various kinds of game such as buffalo, deer, wild turkeys, prairie chickens, antelope, wild cats, and many kinds of reptiles. A number of old timers remember when most of these wild animals were here and when some Indians gave trouble too.

"Here When We Came"

The origin of the petrified forest and dripping spring has been the source of much speculation. The oldest inhabitants appear to be no better informed on that point than the present generation and reply to inquiries: "Both were here when we came."

The petrified forest is in the southeastern part of the county and the dripping spring about two miles from Nocona.

As far as can be learned the spring drips the year around as it probably has for thousands of years. It is located under a rock ledge and never goes dry during drouths. Very little attention is given to it and it some times becomes filled up when heavy rains wash the dirt down from above. The water apparantly comes down through the rock but its source never has been determined. It is said to be fine drinking water.

Large Stumps Favored

The rock forest covers a number of square miles and from appearance is thought at one time to have been a dense forest. The rocks are so much like dead timber that one would hardly be convinced until he tried to cut them with a knife or ax. The trees, of course, are much heavier than the natural wood. Investigation revealed that some trees must have been over 100 feet tall. Some stumps are at least three feet across.

A house here has many pieces of petrified timber in the structure. The fireplace especially is beautifully inlaid with these rocks.

Many theories have been advanced regarding the transformation of this forest because the soil in the locality appears to be about the same as in other parts of the county. But the explanation remains locked in nature's book of mysteries.

The rock forest is about twenty miles south of Nocona.

Cardui is purely vegetable, harmless, for women of all ages. Many women who have used it advise their daughters and friends to try it. . . "I took Cardui for weakness during the change of life," writes Mrs. Clara C. Allen, of Enfield, Ill. "It helped me and built up my strength. I also gave it to my two daughters and they were helped. Thousands of women testify Cardui benefited them. If it does not benefit YOU, consult a physician.

YOUTHS RETURNED TO SANATORIUM AS ESCAPE FAILS

James H. Stiles, jr., son of the Lubbock doctor, was one of the two nine-year-old boys, both patients at Sanatorium, who were returned there from San Angelo late last night by Dr. J. B. McKnight, superintendent, after they had been caught in an unsuccessful attempt to escape.

The boys, Stiles and Edgar McDaniels, Dallas, were picked up by a motorist a short distance from San Angelo early at night and upon learning they were running away from the sanatorium he turned them over to local police.

Both lads were hungry but they let it be known they did not want to return with Dr. McKnight. Both put up a "fight" as they left the police station.

"Edgar had talked to me for two or three days about running off and returning to our homes," James told police, "so this morning about 10 o'clock we started for the river."

The boys said they spent most of the day fishing on the north Concho and then late in the afternoon went back to the highway hoping to catch a ride.

The McDaniels lad is from Dallas where he had been a patient in the Shrine hospital. His mother is a widow.

White Cross Seals Will Be Sold Here

Plans for sale of White Cross seals, to raise funds for aid of crippled children in Texas, are underway here, with J. B. Maxey as chairman of the Lubbock county sale. Crippled-children committees in business men's and other clubs are assisting him.

The campaign, sponsored by the Texas Society for Crippled Children, Inc., is purported to raise funds to supplement the state appropriation of $10,000 per year for the biennium. Proceeds from the sale of seals, together with the appropriation, will be used toward hospitalizing 20,000 crippled children in Texas.

Plans for conducting the campaign, locally, have not been completed. In many cities the seals have been sold through the school systems. A supply of the seals were received several days ago by Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college. They are now available from Mr. Maxey, Dr. Knapp said.

Miss Margie E Neal of Austin, who is state chairman of the campaign, suggests, in a letter to the county chairman, that the seals be sold for as much as the buyer wishes to pay for them. Often they are sold to school children for one cent each and to adults for one cent for every year of their ages.

CHISOX SLUMP ENDED WITH HIT SPREE

BATTING AVERAGE OF TEAM BOOSTED 23 POINTS IN GAME

BY HERBERT W. BARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

An overnight rise of 23 points in the Chicago Whitesox' batting average had induced their backers to shed their principal cause for alarm today.

The Pale Hose woeful disappointments in the early stages of the American league race, broke no records as they blasted five Cleveland pitchers for 18 hits and a 20-10 victory yesterday but the rattle of baseshits at Comiskey park was the sweetest music Whitesox fans have heard this spring.

"Batting Crisis Over"

Until they finally broke loose, the Sox had batted only .242 in nine games, losing six of them, but the barrage they laid down at the expense of Monte Pearson and a varied collection of successors indicated the batting crisis had passed.

Al Simmons, who had made only seven safeties in his first nine engagements, led the fusillade with three hits, including his third homer in as many days. Sad Sam Jones, veteran right hander, started for Chicago but weakened after holding the Indians to six hits in six innings and retired in favor of Joe Heving with the score 20-3.

Meanwhile the New York Yankees regained first place by tripping Washington, 7-4, while the Detroit Tigers were taking a 7-2 beating from St. Louis' Browns. Charley Ruffing went the route for the Yankees and drove in the winning runs in the ninth with a lusty drive into the left field bleachers with two on. The Browns hopped on Lynwood Rowe for four runs in the first three innings and won from the Tigers, going away.

A's Trounce Boston

Fine relief pitching by Bob Kline and successive homers by Frank Higgins and Lou Finney in the eighth helped the Philadelphia Athletics win from Boston, 6-2, in the other American league tussle.

The Chicago Cubs and New York Giants held their places at the top of the National league heap. The Cubs had to travel 12 innings to earn an 8-6 decision over the Pittsburgh Pirates with Guy Bush's courageous relief pitching and Gabby Hartnett's string of three hits, including his fifth homer, as the decisive factors. The Giants rolled to a 5-0 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers as big Fred Fitzsimmons stopped the Stengel-men cold with five scattered hits.

Bartell's double and Ruble's single enabled the Phillies to top the Boston Braves, 5-4 in a tight ten inning struggle while the St. Louis Cardinals rallied for four runs in the seventh to beat the Cincinnati Reds, 10-6.

GOLFERS AVER COURSE EASY

WALKER CUP PLAYERS FIND NOTHING HARD ABOUT ST. ANDREWS

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 1 (AP)—The younger members of America's Walker cup golfing team have decided after two practice rounds that St. Andrews' famous course is just a "pushover." The oldsters are busy warning them there is no more deceptive layout in the world.

Such youngsters as Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati and Gus Moreland of Texas, both newcomers to British play, were inclined to make light of the widely known pitfalls of the course after their first encounter with it.

Fischer Beats Par

Fischer, who drives the longest ball of the team of nine, blasted out a gaudy 72, one under par, on his second trip around the layout, while Moreland, despite four three-putt greens, returned a 74.

"What's tough about this course?" Moreland wanted to know after he had scored his second successive birdie at the famous "road hole," grave yard of many a golfer's championship hopes.

Somebody might have tipped off the Texan that it was on that particular hole that old Davie Ayton, apparently headed for an open championship, once took 11 strokes. Chick Evans, American star, was thrown there for a loss in the shape of an eight, and other first-rate golfers have taken as many as 13 strokes at it. On the other hand, a Scotsman, Peter Robertson, holed out there in two strokes, a drive and a brassey, in 1922, a feat never equalled, before or since.

Egan Equals Moreland

Moreland's practice score was equalled by Chandler Egan, veteran from the far west, while Johnny Goodman, Lawson Little and Jack Westland had 75s. Captain Francis Ouimet carded a 78 and Max Marston a 79. George Dunlap, American amateur titleholder, took an 80 and probably was reminded of his last two tussles with the course. The former Princeton star reeled off a 72 and 74 in the first two rounds of the British open here last year and then wound up with a pair of 80s.

Britain's team of ten for the international matches May 11 and 12 was completed with the appointment of Lionel Munn, 47-year-old player from Kent and Eric McRuvie, a 24-year-old Scot. The other members of the squad include the Hon. Michael Scott, British amateur champion; Cyril Tolley, Roger Wethered, T. A. Torrance, Eric Fiddian, Jack McLean, S. L. McKinlay and H. G. Bentley.

Arthur (Whataman) Shires, a Texas leaguer once more, distinguished himself in his introduction Sunday as a Fort Worth Panther both affirmatively and negatively: two sparkling plays afield, no hits in four chances, and—the thing a lot of 'em went to see—no pugnacious clowning.

Sports editors want to satisfy their readers, the ideal page being limited to suiting some all the time and all some of the time. Actual classifications picked up at random: Mr. A likes details of Texas league games, particularly those of Fort Worth, but doesn't care two whoops down a dry well for even the barest major league summaries. . . . Mr. V would like everything about the majors, from boxscores to the name of today's batboy, and would like Texas league narratives, too, although the Ross-McLarnin fight and the Kentucky derby are just space-fillers to him . . . Mr. X would like to know all about Texas race meets, from hour-by-hour odds to the name of today's also-rans, but probably doesn't know who Fort Worth plays today . . . Mr. Y likes to read about, and see pictures of, wrestlers and boxers, and baseball, in his eye, is merely a string of scores until, of course, he's pulled in by the more embracing drama of the world series.

On a seeming consensus of reader-interest, news from all fields is chosen, length and prominence being gauged relatively and correlated with seasonal interest as expressed in Lubbock and the South Plains. Lubbock has many baseball—both regulation and softball—and golf followers, the wrestling gates reflect the mat game's popularity locally, boxing is a stripling but perhaps is growing, and a smaller group keeps tab of track-field, tennis, and whatnot, from skeet shooting to rattlesnake hunts. Football, perhaps the most widely followed sport here, is out of season now, of course, news developments being confined largely to coaching personnel and schedules. The approaching Texas Technological college school of coaching, however, will give a major spot to gridiron strategy and execution. Football will return momentarily to summer headlines.

Just what would be Lubbock's response to an opportunity to see two up-to-par independent baseball clubs matched here? Determination of the answer should come May 13, when the Ramblers and the Texaco Al-Stars of Amarillo probably will meet here. Hollis Payne, Rambler player-manager, naturally is hoping the city his club represents will turn out in at least moderate numbers. The Ramblers will play the Hobbs Phillips 66 nine next Sunday at Hobbs.

Field chaff: Galveston's Buccaneers drew 5,807 cash customers opening day to win the Texas league attendance prize . . . Dallas was second with 5,777 . . . Game-chicken fighting is on the upgrade in this area . . . Duke Tramel, punch-worn Fort Worth middleweight, tells San Angelo he wants to fight Wilson Dunn, Oklahoma Indian slapsicuffer, again if Dunn will take off about 10 pounds . . . If you remember the Tramel-Dunn bout here you'll find a merry chuckle in that one . . . At least two office holders in the courthouse are former college athletes: County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson of the Baylor Bears and Tax Collector Hurley Carpenter of the Texas Tech Matadors . . . Sportdom's idols never are satisfied: Glenn Cunningham, great Kansas miler, wants to do a 4:04 mile, four quarters of 60 seconds each, when he steps on an ideal track in equally perfect weather conditions . . . Benny Leonard picks Barney Ross to whip Jimmy McLarnin.

Hallas And Don Hill To Grapple

TOUGH GREEK TO TRY TO PIN SCIENTIFIC CALIFORNIAN

Grunt and growl fans—and they seem to be increasing over the South Plains—will troop to the Auditorium here tomorrow night to see Billy Hallas, known from coast to coast as a tough nut to crack, clash with Don Hill.

The match will be the main event of this one of the regular weekly matches promoted here by Fletcher M. "Sled" Allen, one-time baseball maestro in this section but more lately dedicated to the mat game.

Hill, a former University of Southern California athlete, with long grapevine legs and considerable mat science is favored to pin Hallas, a clever veteran who was nationally ranked as a welterweight before his poundage lifted him from that division to the middle.

Promoter Allen said Hallas weighed in as a middleweight now and would tip the scales tonight within about six pounds of Hill, who will not possess nearly the craft born of years of contorting in the ear-mutilating industry.

Middleweight champion of the Pacific coast, Hill is near the light-heavy line in poundage, resulting in not altogether satisfactory anticipations of the main event. Opinion that the ex-Trojan and the El Pronan were nearly enough evenly match to present a crowd-pleasing bout was expressed by Allen.

Pat Garrison, of Borger, has informed the promoter he will be unable to appear here as announced, substitute will grapple with Billy Cazzel, cigar-eyed referee from Amarillo, in the semi-final event.

BOBBY CALMES IS AWARDED DECISION

JUDGES RULE AGAINST TONY CHAVEZ IN CLOSE BATTLE

Bobby Calmes, of Duncan, Okla., came, saw and the judges said he conquered here last night in the main event of a National Guard boxing card, held in the Auditorium, instead of the Armory, as a result of a recent agreement between Auditorium Boss Sled Allen and Capt. Ben F. Condray, guard leader.

Calmes, fighting Tony Chavez, of Albuquerque, was given credit for having superior speed and slightly more accuracy in punching but there was many a fan who wondered at the snappy, 10-round bout's end if a draw wouldn't have been more appropriate. Throughout most of the milling Chavez was the aggressor and had the long end of the credit for in-fighting, a talent which has boosted him to a claimant of the Rocky Mountain featherweight title.

500 See Bouts

An estimated crowd of 500 persons saw the leather-pushing program, which carried 28 scheduled rounds in four matches. The main event took the lethargy out of the program and elevated it to par for customers who appreciated skilled boxing as well as toe-to-toe punching.

The Avalanche-Journal scorecard compiled the fight as even, the third, seventh, and eighth rounds being awarded to Chavez, the second, fifth, and tenth to Calmes, and the others drawn. Neither gloveman earned a decisive margin in a single round.

Each Weighed 123 Pounds

Weights were announced as 123 pounds each, although Calmes, smaller of frame, looked to be two or three pounds lighter.

They were cautious in the first, Chavez spearing the body, Calmes—his clinched left eternally cocked—the head, and a light trade and some infighting marked the round; Chavez's ruggedness began to tell in the breaks in the second, while the counter-punching Calmes continued to crack that left to the head and face; the bronzed New Mexican connected solidly while attempting to keep Calmes at bay in the corners in the third and both continued to hack in the breaks, usually separating valuntarily.

Blows Fall Short

Chavez's blows were falling short of the fast-moving Oklahoman in the fourth, but the New Mexican retaliated, while his face was punched, by clubbing Calmes' body; in the fifth, Chavez continued to force the fight, Calmes depending upon counter-punching and a change of pace that came with his back-pedaling, and, once halted, came through with an edge at infighting; the sixth was much the same, Chavez also striking effectively in the breaks and landing two blows that seemed unintentionally low, while Calmes continued to use both hands moderately well to the head.

Calmes was tied up much of the seventh, Chavez cracking him solidly, particularly to the face, in several exchanges; both mittmen were forced to the ropes and corners in the eighth, Chavez's fencing being slightly the better; they tussled through the ninth between trades, and Chavez began to beat Calmes to the punch consistently; the Oklahoman stormed out for the last round by landing both hands to the head, Chavez replied with one, they milled head-to-head, traded to the body, Chavez missed several and Calmes found his head.

Vernon Defeats Roberts

Joe Vernon of Pampa defeated Kid Roberts of Littlefield by a technical knockout when the Lamb county fighter did not answer the gong for the fifth in a scheduled 8-round semi-final. After claiming a foul at the end of the second, Roberts waived aside Referee Bo Sexton's authorization of additional rest-time. Vernon won three of the four rounds, the second being called a draw. They are middleweights.

Referee Sexton stopped the Jim Perry-Micky Dunivin middleweight preliminary after 1 minute 55 seconds of the fifth as unsatisfactory. Dunivin, of Pampa, was substituted for Red Davis of Amarillo. Perry is from Fort Sumner, N. M. It was to be a six-round bout.

Barnie Bogan, 138, of Lubbock, gained a technical kayo over Kermit Wooldridge, 139, of Abernathy in 1:37 of the fourth and last round of a curtain-raiser.

Judges were H. C. Cobb and J. S. Williamson. Johnny Walker was time-keeper.

PADRES RALLY TO WIN TILT

MISSIONS COME FROM BEHIND TO TAKE THIRD STRAIGHT

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Skipper Henry Severeid's surprising San Antonio Missions have formed a pleasant habit much to the delight of their ardent supporters—that of coming from behind to win games. The Missions nosed out Beaumont, 5 to 4, yesterday by working a squeeze play in the ninth for the winning run.

Third Straight Victory

The victory was the third straight for San Antonio over Beaumont and gave the Padres five of their six games in the short home stay against Houston and Beaumont. After Beaumont had tied the score at 4-4 in the first of the ninth, the Missions uncovered a winning rally that consisted of a hit, a walk, a sacrifice and a squeeze play. Following their fruitful home stay the Padres started a 14-day road trip today around the loop.

Ralph Erickson, southpaw, was invincible for Dallas against Fort Worth. Erickson pitched and batted his mates to a 2 to 0 decision in the first of a two-game series at Fort Worth.

After engaging in a 0 to 0 mound duel with Peaches Davis for eight innings, Erickson spanked a single in the first of the ninth to score Keesey and Jonnard. Up to the time Erickson singled, Davis had a shade the best of the mound duel.

Oilers Smother Indians

In an all Oklahoma affair, the Tulsa Oilers smothered Oklahoma City, 10 to 1. The Oilers pounded Meadows, King and Arnett for 14 hits, getting 10 off Rufus Meadows the first four innings.

Paul "Pound 'Em" Easterling had a field day with the hickory by getting four hits in five times at bat which included three doubles.

Ira Hutchinson, Galveston right-hander, scattered seven Houston bingles and then punched across the Buc's winning tally in the eighth with a single to give them a 5-2 triumph.

Ballard To Start Cage Duty Tonight

Spring basketball workouts will be the order of the day—or rather the night—tonight when Virgil Ballard, newly elected coach from Gainesville, blows his whistle for the first time over the cagers of Texas Technological college.

The workout tonight begins at 7 o'clock and will be in the big barn alternately referred to as the gym and auditorium.

The practice, first scheduled for Monday, was delayed a day, as Ballard was to be guest of Gainesville business men last night at a dinner in his honor. A watch was to be presented to him by the Gainesville men in appreciation of his work as mentor at Gainesville High school and Junior college.

Tech basketeers will continue practice five nights a week for four weeks, except that only four can be crammed in this week, Ballard said.

Ballard also will be freshman football coach at the college.

"DERBY TRIAL" TO BE TODAY

EASTERN ENTRIES GET REST AS WESTERN HOPEFULS RACE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 1 (AP)—A formidable array of eastern candidates for the Kentucky Derby Saturday, headed by Mrs. I. D. Sloane's record-breaking English-bred colt, Cavalcade, familiarized themselves with the Churchill Downs racing plant today while a smart band of rivals engaged in an actual racing test to weed out the unfit from the western hopefuls.

The Seaboard nominees, already conditioned by racing in the east, included Mrs. Sloane's Time Clock, Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Discovery, Mrs. Frank J. Heller's Agrarian, and Mrs. J. H. Whitney's Singing Wood, J. H. Louchheim's Speedmore and John Simonetti's Sgt. Byrne.

Sir Thomas Favored

Another eastern eligible, Joseph E. Widener's Peace Chance which has been training here, was entered in the preparation purse for three-year-olds in an effort to show he is equally as capable as the western band headed by A. B. Gordon's Sir Thomas, the favorite to win today's "derby trial" over one mile at the Downs.

Other prominent western eligibles entered in the preparation were W. E. Smith's Likewise, Albert Sabath's Dan Sabath, E. R. Bradley's Blue Again and Calumet farm's Prince Pompey.

Charles T. Fisher's Mata Hari and Colonel Bradley's Bazaar, the only fillies that will run in the Derby, Gordon's Sir Thomas and Norman W. Church's Riskulus, winner of the Agua Caliente derby, were the only western hopefuls considered certain to start in the $30,000 added stake Saturday.

The eastern band will be swelled to nine with the arrival Thursday of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Spy Hill.

Cavalcade appeared nervous after his arrival yesterday, but his handlers said he would soon work out of that. The eastern arrival which most impressed local turf followers by his appearance was Agrarian, which ran second to Cavalcade in both of the Sloane colt's record races at Havre de Grace last week.

Phillips 66 Team Defeats Rambler

In a game marked by heel-and-toe slugging, which included three circuit smashes, the Lubbock Ramblers—this city's only independent ball club—dropped a 12-5 verdict to the Phillips 66 nine in Borger Sunday afternoon.

Hilliard, Rambler shortfielder, walloped four hits in five trips, counting a pair of doubles on a pair of singles to lead his mates in the assault.

With Lubbock leading, the Sixty-sixers unlimbered their sticks in the fifth inning, turning in two home runs, with two men on in each instance, to collect six runs and turn the tide.

Gaither, Rambler outfielder, put one over the fence in the fifth, sending one man in ahead of him.

Underhill and Dillon labored from the mound for Borger; Watson and Thompson for Lubbock. Holly Payne, Rambler player-manager, completed his battery behind the plate.

The score by innings:

MAX BAER HAS PLAN TO USE ON CARNERA

BECOMES A DR. JEKYL AND MR. HYDE, BUT HE'LL NOT THINK

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 1. (AP)—Max Baer, who'll swap you a good right hand any time for a clever theory, has discovered suddenly that he's a wolf in sheep's clothing, a Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde, or something.

Maximilian Adelbert prides himself in the fact that thinking is not one of his favorite pastimes, so this new conclusion leaves him marvelling a little at himself, astonished no less than he expects Primo Carnera to be when they fight for the heavyweight title here June 14.

"Natural Ability, Only"

"Understand now," he insists, "one thing I'm not going to do in this fight is think. I promise. I just use my natural ability. But I got a plan. I'm going to surprise that big guy and then I'm going to knock him out in four or five rounds."

Briefly, this subtle transformation is as follows. Baer made a motion picture with Carnera last fall and he was joking all the time. The huge champion saw nothing but his playful side and Baer suspects Primo considers that's the only side he has. Whereupon the strategy immediately becomes obvious.

"You see?" says Baer hopefully. "When the first bell rings I come out scowling. I grab him and wrestle him around. I say 'come on you big bum, this isn't any moving picture.'

"I'm a Jekyl and Hyde, see? I figure that'll ruin Carnera. Huh!

"Remember:- No Thinking"

His manager, Ancil Hoffman, who is a kindly man, merely said, "Please, Max. Remember what you promised about thinking."

Baer, apparently in fine condition after a brief exhibition tour, arrived here yesterday with 7 pieces of baggage and his entourage, including his little 18-year-old brother. Buddy, who is six feet six inches tall, scales 256 pounds and will spar with him whenever he decides to train, probably at Atlantic City.

The curly-headed challenger swore he wouldn't see another night club, his favorite parking space, until after he was champion of the world—roughly 11 p. m., June 14, according to his own prediction. He hasn't given up entirely that section of his career dedicated to providing American femininity with stifling heart throbs—it's merely a postponement.

GAIN MADE BY MARCH SALES

INCREASE MADE OVER PREVIOUS MONTH AND LAST YEAR

DALLAS, May 1 (AP)— March sales of department stores in larger cities, stimulated by pre-Easter buying, were 38 per cent larger than in February, says the monthly business review of the federal reserve bank of Dallas, released Monday. This record exceeded that of the corresponding month last year by 58 per cent.

Notwithstanding the showing of department store sales, the review says that "heavy and widespread rains, which materially improved conditions in the agricultural and livestock industries, and the continued strong demand for merchandise in both wholesale and retail channels were the outstanding developments in this district during the past 30 days."

Purchases Increase

The review explains that in connection with the heavy increase in department store sales record over March, 1933, due allowance should be made for the effect of the bank holiday on that month's retail trade activity. Wholesale distribution reflected a further increase as compared with the previous month and exceeded that of March, 1933, by a wide margin. While retailers generally show little disposition to buy ahead the sustained consumer demand has necessitated a heavy volume of replacement purchases.

Collections have been well sustained for this season. The number and liabilities of commercial failures, while seasonally larger than February, were materially lower than a year ago. Debits to individual accounts at banks in principal cities were 8 per cent greater than in the previous month and 56 per cent larger than in March, 1933, the latter increase being due in part to the closing of the banks for two weeks in March last year.

The prospects for agriculture and livestock were materially bettered as a result of general rains in March and the first half of April. Small grains have made rapid improvement. Farmers generally have made good progress with planting operations although this work has been retarded in some areas by wet soil. Vegetation on the ranges is greening and in some sections is furnishing considerable grazing. Livestock have come through the winter in fairly good condition and reports indicate that they are taking on flesh. While the added moisture in the western half of the district has relieved to some extent the effects of the prolonged drouth, there are many areas where there is a marked deficiency in soil moisture and more rain is urgently needed.

Building Permits Gain

The daily average of combined net demand and time deposits of member banks was well sustained during March. The average for the month amounted to $728,121,000, and while it was $342,000 below that in February, it exceeded the average for March last year by $125,798,000. The March figure was $148,013,000 above the low level reached in August, 1933.

Construction activity reflected a considerable improvement. The valuation of building permits issued at principal cities in March was 42 per cent larger than in February and 5 per cent above that in March last year.

Broken Neck Is Help To Youth

TIFFON, O., May 1 (AP)—A broken neck received in a football game when he was a member of the Heidelberg college team two years ago saved Valton Sharp, 23, of Abilene, Tex., from a reformatory sentence.

Pleading guilty to charge of issuing worthless checks, Sharp was sentence to one to three years in the reformatory, but Judge Ralph Sugrue suspended the sentence because of the injury and on Sharp's promise to make good the checks.

Sharp, who previously had said he issued the checks during a memory lapse which he attributed to the football injury, was permitted to return to Texas.

SCIENCE THOUGHT GAINING AN UPPER HAND IN INFANTILE PARALYSIS FIGHT

PHILADELPHIA, May 1 (AP)—Science apparently is gaining the upper hand in its fight against another scourge of mankind—infantile paralysis.

Research workers have developed a vaccine which cures monkeys of symptoms similar to those suffered by human victims of the disease.

The monkeys became weaker and weaker as the paralysis—known to physicians as anterior poliomyelitis—took its course. Then the vaccine was injected. Gradually the animals recovered the power of locomotion. Within a short time the cure appeared to be complete.

Dr. John A. Kolmer, bacteriologist and immunologist at Temple university, has been directing the experiments at the research institute for cutaneous medicine.

He has not yet reached the point where he is ready to try the vaccine on humans.

"Every possible chance of failure must be checked before we take such a step," he says.

"But, if the laws which seem to govern the action of vaccines in general are true of this serum, then there is every reason to believe that, having proved effective on monkeys, it will prove effective on mankind."

BROWNSVILLE, Pa. — Mike Minosky, 28, was willing to go along with the holdup until the thugs got insulting, then—

Returning home late at night Mike was halted by two gunmen. He emptied his pockets of 11 cents.

"Ain't you got no more?" asked one of the thugs. Mike said no.

Then they slapped him. Minosky got mad, flattened one of the gunmen and took a swing at the other. Both thugs fled.

HRH Tells One

LONDON — The Prince of Wales, renowned for his appreciation of a good story, tells one of his own.

The yarn, related by his royal highness at a dinner of the Welsh guards, tells of a man who complained to his doctor of pains, but was unable to locate them.

The patient was ordered to place a piece of paper under his vest and make a mark wherever he felt the pain. But when the doctor called later, the paper was missing.

The man's daughter, asked if she knew its whereabouts, replied:

"Do you mean that piece of paper with all the holes in it? We put it in the pianola and it played, 'O God, our help in ages past'."

On The Stocks

CHICAGO — Aloysius Lattyak, 7, knows what it was like to be punished on the stocks in colonial days.

He was caught, with his head wedged in the door of a huge box in an abandoned gravel pit, for 27 hours.

Rescuers came when the cries of his imprisoned companion, Stephen Frejeck, 8, attracted attention.

The boys fell into the box while leaning over its edge and Aloysius was caught while trying to find a way out. Doctors said he will recover.

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—John Sayers, 98, veteran of the Union army, found that being struck by an automobile was worse than being shot in the leg at the battle of Shiloh.

"It hurt worse than the bullet, to get run over last night," Sayers said on his hospital bed. "I always was afraid of them autos."

GRIMSBY, Ont. —J. Herbert Beamer has back the possessions he lost in a bailiff's sale for tax arrears.

His neighbors bought them for nominal sums in the auction and returned them to Beamer "on loan."

That Girl on Broadway says an opportunist is a person who takes a pile of stumbling blocks and builds with them a road to success.

Incompatibility means that things just won't go together. For instance, a sniffling cold and a moustache.

THERE are still left in the world some people who, seeing another in distress, will come to his aid even though he be a total stranger.

Witness the recent reassuring experience of Claude Grollman, the merchant.

En route home from Dallas, where he had contracted a case of influenza, Mr. Grollman, at midnight last Friday, stopped at a small confectionery in Sweetwater. He asked the proprietor, who apparently was just closing shop, for an aspirin tablet.

As he handed the tablet to Mr. Grollman the man noticed his customer was in the throes of a chill.

"What's the matter?" he asked. "Are you sick?"

Upon being told by Mr. Grollman that he was, the man further inquired where his customer was going and Mr. Grollman told him Lubbock.

"Man, you can't go to Lubbock like you are without catching pneumonia. You'll freeze."

And without another word he pulled off the overcoat he was wearing, put it on the Lubbock man and told him to wear it home, returning it when he could.

MR. GROLLMAN, with thanks started to tell his benefactor who he was, but the man waved him aside.

"I don't care who you are, where you live or what you do", he said. "The point is you need this coat. Just send it back when you can."

Mr. Grollman, with the coat on, reached Lubbock a sick man with a fever of 102 degrees.

Without the coat his illness may have been much worse, if not fatal.

The coat has been sent back now along with a letter of thanks from the Lubbock merchant.

But just in case you might want to patronize a confectioner in Sweetwater sometime that man's name is R. M. Wilkinson and his store is close to the T&P depot.

A man like that deserves to get ahead—and no doubt will.

THE PLAINSMAN has learned through personal experience, that although a man may be a scientist or a college professor with a string of degrees as long as a hypocrite's public prayer, he can still be human.

And among those learned gents now in Lubbock for the scientific parley at Texas Tech there is at least one of that category — and more probably a hundred others.

* * *

Dr. Oliver C. Lester, some sort of a dean and head of the department of physics at University of Colorado, put himself into the distinctly human class' in a speech before the conclave yesterday.

Said he: (Tech profs please note.

"A dean is a guy too dumb to be a college professor, but not dumb enough to be a college president!"

The crowd in which there were no presidents roared its approval.

That Man on Avenue Q says an oldtimer is one who can remember when a wife's conscience hurt her if supper was five minutes late.

* * *

An ideal husband is one who notices the little things he wouldn't notice except to humor his wife.

ONE of The Journal's Washington correspondents sent this in the other day, which may answer a question you've been pondering yourself:

"A midwestern police official visiting Washington had a new theory as to why John Dillinger was able to remain at large so long. No reward was posted for capturing or killing the country's ace menace after his last jail break.

"'When a cop or a detective, making only a relatively small salary and having a family at home, is sent out after such a desperate killer he's quite apt to think twice about exposing himself to a flock of machine guns unless it's absolutely necessary,' explained the officer. 'Had there been a comparatively large reward posted from the start it would have given a lot of live lads an incentive to go out and stick their heads into danger spots.'

"This doesn't go for federal agents. They are not allowed to accept bonuses for their captures."

Doubtless this officer knows whereof he speaks and certainly a reward should have been posted for Dillinger.

However, one angle of the suggestion doesn't look so good under the magnifying glass of the mind. That is, if our officers are not willing to accept the work which falls into line of duty they shouldn't take the jobs in the first place.

What do you think?

Jean Muir One Star Who Doesn't Take Herself Seriously; Says Actors Are Interpreters And Not Creative Artists

BY DAN THOMAS
NEA Service Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, May 1 — "The trouble with Hollywood is that there are too many persons here who think the entire world revolves around them."

Pretty Jean Muir, blond and blue-eyed, made this statement between bites of roast duck. Having just come in from a two-hour horseback ride, Jean was attacking her food with a relish seldom found among screen actresses, most of whom have to watch their figures so carefully.

"So many players like to regard themselves as great creative artists," the young actress continued. "But they aren't at all. They simply are interpreters—interpreting characters created by someone else.

"If Hollywood could only reconcile itself to the fact that it really is just a small dot on the earth, everyone would be far happier—and we probably would get better pictures."

Jean has been in Hollywood just about a year, which is six months longer than she expected to stay. She thought the movie moguls were crazy to bring her out here. She thinks they're even more crazy to keep her here.

But the studio execs who have watched her popularity grow with each of her three pictures to date, are of a different opinion.

She's Self-Confident

There's something delightful and refreshing about Miss Muir. She's definite in her opinions and direct in her speech. Never does she stop and wonder, "It it all right to say this?"

When she arrived in the film colony she had no idea that she ever could make the grade in pictures. Consequently she made no attempt to impress anyone.

She appeared at the studio in old slacks and without any make-up. She made no fuss over a single director or executive. But she made good.

Jean's contract has six more years to run. With good luck she figures that by that time she should have saved $250,000. With that assurance of a life income, she then plans to do something else — but won't reveal what it is to anyone.

Six years, however, is quite a long way off. In the meantime, watch for her to become one of the stars in the cinema heavens.

In Notable Family

Probably the most important person in the motion picture colony today, as far as ancestry is concerned, is Dorothy Dell, whose real name is Dorothy Goff. A genealogy compiled by one of Dorothy's relatives traces the young actress' ancestors way back to William Goffe, one of the signers of the death warrant of King Charles I in 1649.

Other noted persons in the family tree include Thomas Goff, one of the owners of the Mayflower on her memorable 1620 voyage; Darius Goff, inventor of the loom for making mohair and other woolens; Judge John W. Goff, former presiding justice of the Supreme court of New York; and Samuel F. B. Morse, inventor of the telegraph.

Studio Stooges

Some sort of ruling should be instituted which would prevent studio employes, except those absolutely required, from attending previews, according to Laird Doyle, prominent scenarist.

"It's impossible to get an authentic reaction to a picture when the theater is half filled with studio people," Doyle declares. "Their reactions are governed too much by their personal likes and dislikes rather than by what they see on the screen."

Doyle's comment is one of which producers should take heed. They never will be able to tell whether a picture is good or bad, when the theater is filled with persons who laugh at the proper moments just to hold their jobs.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

THE CANDIDATES' CARNIVAL

As a feature of the forthcoming West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention at San Angelo, May 14-16, a great political carnival has been planned at which all candidates for state-wide offices have been invited to speak.

There-in lies an opportunity for West Texas.

Everyone who lives in what we generally call West Texas knows of the discrimination which has always been made against this area by the politicians in the saddle at Austin.

Everyone who has really thought about the situation is sick and tired of it and wants a change.

Perhaps a change can be made and our territory secure a square deal if we handle correctly the candidates' carnival at the WTCC meeting.

Every convention attendant and every delegate should attend the carnival in San Angelo on Monday night, May 14.

We should size up the various candidates, recall their previous activities against or on behalf of West Texas and listen to what they have to say. After listening, we should remember what they have said and, for future reference, keep the knowledge handy.

The Journal firmly believes that only by stamping, with ballots, upon the enemies of West Texas—by voting en bloc, if you please—can we ever assure ourselves of an 'even break' at the capital.

The WTCC candidates' carnival has possibilities.

It is up to West Texans to make them work out.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 1—The National Emergency Council has begun issuing a weekly report for New Deal officials on the public attitude toward the NRA program, as telegraphed by each of its 48 state directors.

The report is labeled "Strictly Confidential" and is confined to unvarnished facts. Its most recent summary of the national trend says:

"With increased business in majority of industries and trades, employment is rising. Newspaper support falling away in some localities, partly due to politics.

"This is impairing friendly attitude of public to some extent. There is some sentiment in favor of state codes, due to the feeling that they may function more effectively than corresponding national codes."

Reports of complaints and criticism are as frequent as those of industrial and employment gains.

The hosiery code is "widely violated" in New England, workers complain of discharges for union activities, and "many" complain that code authorities don't press trade practice complaints.

Strikes are still "troublesome" in Middle Atlantic states and discouragement over slowness in setting up code authorities is partly offset by promise of an accelerated compliance drive.

The south criticizes similar slowness. Complaints are increasing and "unfavorable newspaper propaganda is bothersome" in central states, though new compliance machinery and amenability of code violators is helping.

CWA discontinuance had an unfavorable reaction in the southwest, making merchants timid. Code authority organization and functioning "need stimulation" in Rocky Mountain states.

On the Pacific Coast "many complaints filed of violations of labor provisions of hotel, restaurant, motor vehicle, retailing, trucking and construction codes. employers and employes alike are discouraged over lack of vigorous action against flagrant violators."

Not Even Half as Crazy

At the White House, though attacks on the "Brain Trust" are greeted derisively, they get fun out of telling this one to the New Deal professors:

A pompous, conceited professor, lecturing a class on a pet theory, branched into an impromptu intelligence test.

"If I'm going to Europe next month and the ship is 450 feet long and 175 feet wide, how old am I?" he asked.

"Forty!" responded a student, who was then called on to explain:

"Well, I'm 20 and I'm only half as crazy as you are."

Teeth Stay in Stocks Bill

The Wall Street lobby tore some holes in the stock market control bill, but the Pecora-Landis-Corcoran group which framed that measure is secretly pleased in the belief that it preserved the principles of strict control in both House and Senate bills despite terrific pressure.

These "teeth" are imbedded in both bills: 1. Some control over credit for speculation — through margin provisions. 2. Forbidding of pool and other manipulations. 3. Requirement of fair, adequate, and frequent reports to stockholders. 4. Authority for the supervising commission to change the rules of stock markets when the markets won't do so themselves.

Wall Street, of course, is still foarming at the mouth, and hoping to beat the bill. In urging an independent commission to administer the control act, it hoped to have appointed thereto both Assistant Secretary of Commerce John Dickinson, who framed a mild and ignored regulatory bill, and John Hancock, partner in Lehman Bros., New York bankers.

But Roosevelt said any such commission must also administer the Securities Act. And it's now certain that Federal Trade Commissioner James Landis, Wall Street's worst foe, will be transferred to the new commission—if there is one.

Also, Commissioner George C. Matthews, a LaFolletteite from Wisconsin, is a likely appointee.

Two different piles of ruins in Babylonia are diversely credited with being remnants of the tower whose building caused the confusion of tongues, the Tower of Babel.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLITO, a handsome youth accused of a murder he did not commit, escapes from Key West to Havana with two thieves, BEAU and LOTTIE. MARICA TREADWAY, who could prove Pablito innocent, fears scandal and remains silent.

In Havana Pablito, under the name of "Juanito" becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a gymnasium.

Pablito loves ESTELLE FIELD, daughter of rich JIM FIELD, and she loves him. They meet and plan to marry, but Field takes Estelle on a yachting cruise. Two years later, believing Pablito lost to her, she becomes engaged to ALEC DAVIDS.

SIR AUBREY, a titled Englishman and Pablito's father, has been carrying on a search for him, employing BILLINGS, New York detective.

Believing Estelle faithless, Pablito spends months in aimless travel and then returns to Havana. He asks Lottie to marry him.

Meanwhile Field has lost his fortune. Davids breaks his engagement to Estelle and she and her father return to Havana. Marcia Treadway, learning Pablito is in Cuba, joins them to clear him of the murder charge.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIV

At last, thought Marcia, she was on her way to tell the story that, kept secret, had been such a terrific burden. For a moment she closed her eyes. Opening them, she saw above a flower-laden window sill one of the tiny lights that burns always below a shrine in so many Cuban homes. The shrine, together with the loveliness of the landscape, impressed her and brought a softening of mood. Marcia, on her way to confession, thought of Cuba as she never had before—a land that kneels to the forgiving, gentle Virgin; that feels the sunlight and sings often. A warm land. A happy land.

The taxicab lurched, avoiding a goat and her kid. A moment later it almost brushed a group of bare, brown babies, playing in the dust.

Soon they left behind the crowded houses and narrow, twisting streets touched here by ebon shadows and there gilded by the sun. They were following a road of red soil that wound past the thinning dwellings to reach the country where houses were merely grass-thatched huts.

"It is here that he lives," the taxicab driver told Marcia, as he halted the cab before a grocery store. "Upstairs."

She got out and looked about. The grocer's force came hurrying out to see the stranger. While being thus inspected Marcia rang the bell.

Lottie peered down the stairs through the grilled gate at the newcomer. "Whatcha want?" she inquired sullenly.

"I have come to see Senor Juanito."

"What for?"

"That, my child, is hardly your affair," Marcia answered coolly. "Is he in?" Subduing this amazing creature would have been simple enough for Marcia if they had been on the same level. Looking up made it more difficult.

* * *

Lottie appraised the visitor as frankly as had the grocer and his clerks. "He ain't here," she said too loudly, for Pablito heard her answer and appeared behind her.

"No?" Marcia questioned, smiling. She drew back the grilled gate which Lottie had clicked open from above at the touch of the bell. Marcia stepped from the glare of the sunlight and began to mount the stairs.

Pablito recognized her and lost color. Lottie's lips set in the sneer she always summoned as a cover for fright. She did not like this. She had a definite feeling that something was wrong.

Marcia, now on the level with Lottie and Pablito, spoke quickly. "You may not remember me, Pablito," she began, "but—"

"I remember you very well, Miss Treadway," he answered honestly. "Will you sit down?"

"Thank you. I want to speak to you alone, please."

"I think you'll find it more comfortable by the doorway," Pablito suggested. He had always had that courtous manner, Marcia remembered as she sat down. She saw him glance appealingly at the girl who stood, sullen and obstinate, her eyes narrowed and her head a little dropped.

"Lottie, if you don't mind—" he began gently.

"Say I ain't dirt!" Lottie answered in a shrill voice. "She can't come here and wipe her feet on me!"

He shook his head and suddenly the girl was scarlet and silent.

"If you don't mind, Lottie," he said again and more gently.

"Oh, all right!" she said, moving toward a doorway with opalescent glass panes. A moment later the panes were threatened as she slammed the door noisily.

Pablito faced Marcia Treadway then. He settled in a chair that was sufficiently close to hers for a low-voiced talk, and waited. As he waited he saw that something was making it difficult for her to speak.

"If you don't mind I'll smoke," she murmured. "Odd, isn't it, how smoke clears the mind as it clears one's lungs."

"Will you have on of these?" Pablito rose as he spoke and brought a small humidor which he held open before her.

"English!" she commented.

"Yes, I learned to like them from an English friend of mine. You may not care for them. I hope you are well, Miss Treadway?" He could not, for the life of him, imagine what had brought her.

"I'm quite well, thank you," Marcia answered. "But—to explain my visit—" Speaking was even less easy for her now, he saw. He waited patiently. Her cigaret, had

Plans Are Outlined

Dr. Struve, in his lecture at the church last night, gave an interesting discourse on astronomical studies and outlined plans for work to be carried on in the new McDonald observatory to be located in the Davis mountains.

"The 80-inch McDonald reflector now in the process of construction, which will be set up near Fort Davis, will be the second largest telescope in existence," Dr. Struve said. "It will, in part, be devoted to the study of the galaxy or Milky Way. This part of astronomy deals with the distribution of the stars, their distances and motions . . ."

The first intercollegiate football game was played between Princeton and Rutgers in 1869.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—Cotton opened easy, 5 to 8 lower under renewed liquidation and on the unfavorable spot market. May 10.68; July 10.82; Oct. 11.00; Dec. 11.07; Jan. 11.15; March 11.25.

Trading was quite active at the start. Liquidation was more or less general and there was a little selling of May, possibly against notices estimated at about 7,300 bales. There was also some foreign selling and the break into new low ground for the movement uncovered stop orders. July sold off to 10.74 and December to 10.99, active months showing net losses of about 15 to 18 points at the end of the first half hour.

Liquidation continued later in the morning with prices working off gradually to 10.71 for July, or about 19 to 20 points below yesterday's closing quotations and approximately 2 cents a pound below the high prices of last February. Trade interests continued to buy on a scale down and there was considerable covering but the market was barely steady and within 3 or 4 points of the lowest around midday.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 1. (AP)—Cotton had a lower opening today in the face of Liverpool cables much better than due. Initial trades here were 6 to 8 points down and prices declined a little further after the start until all active months were 8 points under yesterday's close with July at 10.79, October at 10.92 and December at 11.03. Overnight selling was in evidence at the start as a result of yesterday's weak close.

The market rallied one to three points soon after the opening in sympathy with a better tone in stocks, but soon turned easy again on a renewal of liquidation by tired longs. July dropped to 10.78, October to 10.87 and December to 10.99, off 9 to 13 points from the close of yesterday.

Cotton was easier most of the morning, due to rather free long liquidation, coupled with weakness in stocks and wheat. There were also some further May notices issued both here and in New York. July dropped to 10.69, October to 10.83 and December to 10.94, or 17 to 18 points under yesterday's close.

Near mid-session, prices rallied 9 to 11 points from the lows on covering, reducing the net loss to 7 to 8 points.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 1 (AP)—Downturns formed the rule in grain prices early today. Some points in Kansas reported rains and this together with a break in silver and easiness in copper had a bearish influence on cereals. Opening 3-8 to 7-8 lower, May 79 3-4 to 7-8, wheat afterward dropped further. Corn started 1-8 to 1-2 off, and subsequently underwent additional setbacks.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 1 (AP)—While the selling tide appeared to have been stemmed in today's stock market, and scattered rallying tendencies were discernible, caution was the watchword among the speculative forces.

There was no stimulus to be drawn from commodities and the Washington outlook was still cloudy. Wheat dropped about 2 cents a bushel as rains were predicted for the thirsty crops. Cotton was off around $1 a bale to its lowest level since early January. Silver futures sagged and the bar metal was lowered 1 cent an ounce to 41 3-4 cents, the bottom mark since Nov. 6, last. Rubber was firm, however, on the new restriction agreement. Bonds were irregular. International dollar rates showed little change.

Shares of American Telephone lost about 2 points at one time. The oils were a trifle soft, probably because of failure of Socony and Standard of New Jersey to increase their dividends. Columbian Carbon got up a point on favorable dividend action. U. S. Rubber was up as much. Celanese recovered fractionally, as did United Aircraft. U. S. Smelting, U. S. Steel and Du Pont came back a point each. Homestake Mining got up 4. The rails and motors were about even, as were the alcohols. Power and light issues did virtually nothing. Losses of a point were suffered by American Tobacco B and Liggett & Myers B.

VON STARHEMBERG VICE CHANCELLOR

VIENNA, May 1. (AP)—Prince Ernst Von Starhemberg, leader of Austrian fascists, today was appointed vice chancellor of the nation by President Wilhelm Miklas.

By the May day appointment, Von Starhemberg succeeds former Vice Chancellor Emil Fey who simultaneously became minister of public security.

Both Von Starhemberg and Fey were immediately given the oath of their respective office. The president thanked Prince Von Starhemberg for his services in leading the Heimwehr—the Fascist home guard—in battle against the socialist in the February civil war.

By the new combination under Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, Von Starhemberg would automatically take the chancellor's place if Dollfuss were unable to officiate while Fey, in his new cabinet post, insures Heimwehr control over the police, the gendarmerie, and auxiliary and security troops.

Another mark of distinction for this May day was the proclamation by Chancellor Dollfuss of Austria's new constitution in a nationwide broadcast.

ing in 1930. In that census 691,895 farms reported selling cooperatively $892,481,491 and buying $125,948,597 worth of goods, he said. Purchases were 23 per cent greater than 10 years before and sales 47 per cent greater, he pointed out.

"In the South 90,624 farmers sold crops and 50,235 bought goods, cooperatively, out of 3,223,000 farms," Dr. Knapp said. "In Texas out of 495,485 farmers, only 8,459 sold and 3,700 bought cooperatively. In Hale county, out of 1,729 farmers, 235 sold and 233 bought cooperatively, while in Lubbock, out of 2,495, only 225 sold and 20 bought."

Price Decline Cited

Mr. Creekmore, who has just recovered from a serious throat illness, pointed out that in less than one year, from July 1920 to June 1931, cotton declined $165 a bale. In 1920 the price was 43.75 cents per pound and 11 months later it had dropped to 10.85 cents per pound.

It was following this debacle, he said, "that within two years a cooperative marketing organization was functioning in every large cotton producing state. Early aims of the program have not been accomplished, such as the reduction of costs through the middleman's operations. The middleman has not been eliminated but his operations have been curtailed." Freight rates and insurance rates have been lowered, he added.

Swinging into the operations of his organization, Mr. Creekmore declared, "we offer you the market value for your cotton." At the end of the year members of the A.C.C.A. receive half of the profits of the organization, the remainder going toward association work, he said.

Changes Explained

"Our changes have been made because of the changes in conditions and as our operations dictated," he said. "We are just as much a competitor with foreign countries and growers as Texas is with Mississippi cotton growers."

Mr. Creekmore said his organization had obtained a $10,000,000 loan from government credit groups for operations, and that that sum "enables us to handle about 15 per cent of the crop." The operations will be about 1,500,000 bales, he said.

This afternoon Sterling C. Evans, president of the Bank for Cooperatives, and C. O. Moser, public relations vice-president of the A.C.C.A., will speak. Mr. Moser introduced Mr. Creekmore at the morning session.

PROBE CONTINUES IN BANK ROBBERY

Their movements veiled, Lubbock and other South Plains county officers today continued an investigation of last week's Levelland bank robbery. The hunt for, and dovetailing of, clues led to several Texas counties of this area and possibly to eastern New Mexico.

Charles Mead, suspected in the bank holdup after two witnesses identified his picture, had not reported to Hockley county authorities at Levelland as he had promised, so far as peace officers here knew at noon today. Mead had telephoned he would appear Monday to prove his allegation of innocence.

A man arrested here as a suspect in the holdup slashed his throat and an arm about midnight Saturday while held in city jail, it was learned yesterday. Four stitches were taken in the man's neck and five in his arm.

The man was a drug addict, it was said. He was released without charge Sunday.

customers as contrasted with marginal traders.

The firms had 1,028,491 customers during the first eight months of 1933, of whom 596,376 or 58 per cent, were cash operators.

Out of 120,000,000 shares of stock sold on the exchange during July, 1933, representing 240,000,000 sales and purchases, member firms, their partners, and individual members of the exchange, made $65,000,000.

Member firms had 269,915 margin accounts on their books June 30, 1933, as contrasted with a high of 340,019 July 31, 1929 and 203,450 at the end of 1932.

LARGE VOTE SEEN IN SOUTH DAKOTA

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., May 1. (AP)—South Dakota citizens today were nominating candidates for congressional, state, district and local offices in the biennial state primary election.

Notwithstanding an absence of clear-cut issues, a record total vote of more than 200,000 was in prospect, compared with a previous high mark of 170,000 cast two years ago. Democratic registration is nearly 100 per cent and Republican about six per cent higher than 1932.

Contesting Governor Tom Berry's re-nomination is Lieutenant Governor H. A. Austrud. The other contest in the Democratic ranks is between Rep. Theo B. Werner in the second congressional district and John T. Nilek, Sturgis attorney. Fred Hildebrandt, first district congressman, is unopposed.

Four candidates are contesting for each of the three principal nominations on the Republican ticket. For governor voters may choose from Otto Kaas, Britton; D. K. Loucks, Watertown; W. C. Allen, Aberdeen; and Charles Alseth, Lake Preston.

Two Men Acquitted Of Theft Charges

Acquittal of automobile theft was won by Brewster Dillard and R. D. Moreau in 99th district court Monday afternoon.

Sam Smith, principal state witness, of Floydada was unable to identify Moreau and the state moved for an instructed verdict in Moreau's case. Smith identified Dillard.

One hit-and-run and three liquor cases were scheduled for trial today, Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, said. LEAGUE PLANS ITS POLICY

RECONSTRUCTION WORK IN CHINA IS TO BE CONTINUED

BY ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff

LONDON, May 1 (AP)—The league of Nations, ignoring Japan's objections to its activities in China, is determined to push forward its work of collaborating in the country's reconstruction, the Associated Press has learned.

The league's London headquarters made the stand known today in view of the declaration of British Foreign Secretary Sir John Simon that so far as the British government is concerned the incident provoked by Japan's restatement of her China policy is closed.

British official circles backed up this attitude, pointing out that Sir John,—who is a member of the League of Nations council — emphatically denied the new Japanese pronouncement would prohibit the employment of foreign advisors by China.

It is accepted here that Japan has officially withdrawn from the "hands-off China" position voiced by a foreign office spokesman April 17 and that Tokyo's position is correctly stated in a later note of interpretation delivered to Great Britain and the United States by Foreign Minister Koki Hirota.

The league council's committee which is associated with the work of the Chinese government's economic council is meeting at Geneva May 14 during the council session.

"Unless Japan raises the question through legitimate channels, league work in China will not be discussed by the council except in the committee charged with that work," it was stated in league quarters.

Traweek, former Matador residents now residing in San Diego, died there April 23 from the effects of a bite three weeks before by a dog infected by rabies. He was a grandson of Dr. A. C. Traweek, pioneer physician here. The body was sent here for burial, arriving Sunday. Mrs. Traweek was confined to her home with illness and was unable to make the trip.

JUDGE IN JUAREZ SCORES DIVORCES FOR MOVIE STARS

JUAREZ, Mexico, May 1 (AP) — Judge Ignacio Guiterrez Zamora of the Jaurez civil court, who thinks nothing of granting 15 or 20 divorces a day, favors divorce for people in general, but not for movie actresses.

"Some of them get divorces just for the notoriety, and I am opposed to such practices," said Judge Guitierrez.

He believes that the Chihuahua divorce law, providing quick and easy decrees, is the "salvation" for many unhappy American couples who cannot obtain marital freedom under complicated American laws.

"In Mexico, a marriage ceremony is just a civil contract, and should be broken when both parties no longer wish to observe its provisions," explained the judge.

Since taking the post of civil judge in Jaurez 19 months ago, Judge Guiterrez has granted about 2800 decrees to American couples.

Before the present Chihuahua divor law was passed two years ago the civil court had two small rooms and employed a secretary and a clerk.

Now the court has taken over four rooms. Its seven clerks are rushed to handle the details of the heavy mail order divorce business from the United States.

"AIRMAIL SERVICE BETTER"—FARLEY

ST. LOUIS, May 1 (AP)—Postmaster General Farley said in an address here that a "better and more economical airmail service" will result from cancellation of airmail contracts.

He was the principal speaker at the unveiling and sealing of the cornerstone of the new $4,569,000 federal building here.

If bids on the remainder of the routes do not run higher than the averages on those opened April 20, he said, airmail service over the approximately 26,500 miles in the new system will cost several million dollars less than did the service over the 25,248 miles of the old system.

"In the year 1932, before the present administration took office, the airmail cost the people of the United States approximately twenty million dollars," Farley said. "We confidently expect to give more, better and safer service for less than half that amount."

Farley renewed his charges that the old contracts were the result of "collusion and fraud" and said they were awarded "without actual competitive bidding and as a result of an unlawful conspiracy." He revised in detail the testimony before the Black committee.

On Track Of Romance

That there may be something to the rumor that Douglas Fairbanks, jr., and Gertrude Laurence, Blitish actress, are engaged, you gather from the way they looked at each other when Doug came down to a London station to see Miss Lawrence off for Majorca. She was to spend a month's vacation there.

THREE-IN-ONE PUZZLE UNSOLVED

MAN SAYS HE ISN'T ALLEN ROBERT HAMMELL, BUT EVERYONE ELSE SAYS THAT HE IS

CHICAGO, May 1 (AP)—The very best minds are running short of ideas in their attempt to sort out the three personalities of Allen Robert Hammel.

He says he isn't Hammel. Everyone else says he is.

Cherchez, they suggested, la femme.

So the authorities produced two women who could be depended upon to drag up the past.

"Lady, I never saw you before," said the enigma to the woman who ought to know. She says she is his Chicago wife and the mother of five of his children.

They brought Mrs. Robert Lee Hammel over from Cincinnati last night. She talked with him for two hours about their two children.

"Lady, you're mistaken. I don't know you," said the three-in-one.

It is the beginning to embarrass the county authorities, who want to prosecute Allen Robert Hammel as an absconding Brinks Express company guard, who walked off from a money truck one day at the same time $39,000 disappeared from the vehicle.

Notwithstanding wives, tattoo marks, and scars, Hammel has coldly insisted, once in a while with a bit of irritation, that he was Burt Armstrong, New York rental agent, and there must be some mistake.

Once last night Hammel-Armstrong seemed to be a bit forgetful of Armstrong and maybe a wee bit reminiscent of an early love. Chatting with Sarah West Hammel, whose husband deserted her at Columbus, O., 15 years ago, he addressed her as "Sarah," at least, they said he did. And he had sworn he never saw her before.

"There!" cried Mrs. Hammel. "You do know me, for you called me Sarah!"

"I didn't call you 'Sarah' at all," replied the enigma.

The Ohio Mrs. Hammel said there was no question in her mind but that he was the long lost, the erstwhile Beau Brummel of the Columbus police, the Robert Lee Hammel whose mother collected life insurance on him years ago, when he was declared legally dead.

Sarah West Hammel showed him pictures of Harry Hammel, now 14, and of their daughter Helen, 18. The boy was said to bear a marked resemblance to Hammel-Armstrong, but the man of mystery showed no interest.

She told him his mother was anxious to see him. He failed to react.

They put him back in a cell to await prosecution.

ly lighted, had gone out. Nervously she crushed it in a tray and took another. He struck a match and held it for her.

His assurance made the matter all the more difficult. She thought suddenly, "He could not possibly have committed such a crime! How could they have accused him of it?"

Then she said, "I have been trying for years to find you. Oh, don't be afraid! You have nothing to fear from me! It's rather the other way—"

Falteringly but bravely she told her story. Half way through the narrative he broke in to say, "But the old man was beating the child—?"

"He testified that you were not alone. He said there were two other people with you; a man and a girl—"

"He testified?" Pablito echoed stupidly.

"Yes, yes! You didn't think—?"

"I thought he was dead," he answered and for a moment closed his eyes.

Before Marcia left Lottie sought Beau. She said excitedly, "I've been listenin'—"

"Watcha talkin' about?" Beau demanded shortly.

She told him. "She's still in there," Lottie finished with a backward nod of her head. "Says she wants to tell the whole thing!"

He was on his feet instantly and after one haunted look about the room began throwing clothing into a yawning traveling bag. Lottie sank to the edge of the bed.

"What about Lou?" she asked.

"Don't you tell her until I'm on my way!" Beau said emphatically. "Understand?" For an instant he turned to glare at her.

"There's a boat outa Santago tomorrow mornin'," she suggested.

"That's too late."

"There's nothin' else but what sails for Key West and New York."

"Oh, shut up! I don't need a nurse."

"There's a little boat sailing fer the Isle of Pines. If you wasn't afraid of waitin' around there a week you might try that."

"Listen, kid, you book your own reservations. I'll make mine. Wonder if I got everything?" He looked around quickly.

"Say—they'll never get me!" He picked up the bag, his hat and a light coat. "So long, kid," he said. "Maybe we'll meet in hell if not before."

"We been together a long while, Beau."

"Sure have!" he agreed. With a little emotion that made his voice rough he added, "Well, kiss me."

She raised her face.

He descended the rear stairway and stepped into the taxicab that was waiting for Marcia, smiling as he did so. The lady, he told the driver, had decided to remain indefinitely. "Ah!" murmured the driver. He looked over his shoulder slyly and he and Beau exchanged a fraternal, understanding wink.

But Beau's self-confidence dwindled as they neared Havana. The get-away was not going to be so easy. "Damn it," he muttered half-aloud. "This is what comes of neglectin' business. I'm as scared as when I quit Sing Sing."

The memory of Lottie's goodby clung to him, too. Lottie was a good kid, "an awful good kid," Beau reflected mournfully, "If I'd married her it would have saved a lotta trouble." He was thinking of Lou.
