Primary Elections Saturday

The SDN Column

One of the big paradoxes of this country today will be demonstrated tomorrow, according to forecasters, as Texas voters go to the polls in primary elections. They are predicting that something like 1.7 million Texans will bother to go to the polls, less than half the number qualified to do so.

At the same time, there are those who are ever ready to set themselves up as critics of the government, critics of the system and just about everything else that lends itself to criticism, yet they make no effort to join in the sure-fire remedy for dissatisfaction. People who go to the polls regularly and thus exercise their votes as provided for citizens of this country might well admonish the slackers: Vote, or else keep your mouth shut.

The Snyder Daily News reaches a milestone today—its 20th birthday. The newspaper and the city have virtually parallelled each other in many respects. The paper became a daily publication at the height of the big boom in 1950 and has chronicled the events of the day for two rather significant decades. Now, the city has a "new look" and in recent years has made a new and more diversified surge. And the newspaper is in the final stages (we hope) of a vast improvement program that involves new equipment, processes of printing which were mostly in the early experimental stages when this paper was founded and revamped offices and working space.

So, with Snyder, the newspaper heads into a new decade with a sort of "second wind" and with renewed optimism.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District's new Lake E. V. Spence near Robert Lee is in a setting that is conducive to wildlife development and there already is a lot of it around, ranging from jackrabbits to javelinas. R. A. Schooling of the CRMWD staff says he has sighted some javelines several times in one area of the new lake basin. And there are deer, antelope and wild turkey in the same general region. And, of course some rattlesnakes, too.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Friday, May 1, the 121st day of 1970. There are 244 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1898, an American naval force under Adm. George Dewey destroyed a Spanish fleet in Manila Bay.

On this date:

In 1873, the U. S. Post Office put penny postcards on sale for the first time.

In 1893, the Columbian Exposition opened in Chicago.

In 1931, the Empire State Building in New York City was dedicated by former Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

In 1935, Ethopian Emperor Haile Selassie fled from Addis Ababa.

In 1943, American troops cleared Hill 609 in Tunisia.

In 1945, the death of Adolf Hitler was announced on the German radio.

Ten years ago—Cuban Premier Fidel Castro made it clear at a May Day rally in Havana's Plaza Civica that he had no intention of holding elections.

Five years ago—Severe flooding along the Mississippi River's 1,000-mile course from St. Paul-Minneapolis to St. Louis in late April was estimated to have left 19 dead, 40,000 homeless, and damage estimated up to $200 million.

One year ago—Moscow staged a muted May Day, setting a new style for a demilitarized May 1 celebration which was copied in all its satellites except East Germany where the traditional military show was put on.

Demos Save Contested Scurry Races

Scurry County Democrats will find a modest-sized ballot and local Republicans will have a small one waiting for them Saturday in primary elections.

The Democrats will operate polling places in all voting precincts of the county, while the Republicans will vote at one polling place at the West Elementary School in Snyder.

The Democrats have several contested races for local offices, while there are contested races for two state-wide posts only on the Republican ballot.

There are three in the race for county judge on the Democratic Party ballot, with Preston Wilson, Shelby Coker and Joe V. Robinson listed in that order. They are seeking the post now held by Sterling Taylor, who is not a candidate for re-election. There also are three in the race for county treasurer, with Billy Wayne Thompson and Charlcie Roberson challenging the incumbent, Agnes Brown for that post.

In the commissioner precinct 2 race, Earl (Hassie) Sneed, the incumbent, is opposed by Earl McDow. In the race for commissioner, precinct 4, Paul Moore and Arthur Lee Pieper are in the race opposing the incumbent, Bill Hairston.

J. P. Billingsley, justice of the peace in Precinct 1, is opposed by Cone J. Merritt.

The Democratic Party ballot includes state and district races, including the U.S. Senate post in MAMMOTH SPILLWAY — Members of the CRMWD board and guests look over the service spillway of Lake E. V. Spence during a tour of new facilities Thursday. The new lake impounded by the Robert Lee Dam now has over 30,000 acre feet of water and is awaiting its first big catch following completion of construction work. Second from left in the picture looking down at the water is Joe Carroll, Snyder attorney, and second from right is Rex Fields, Snyder member of the water district's board of directors.

Light Turnout Is Expected

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Political candidates made one last effort today to sway one more undecided voter or to persuade one more disinterested Texan to vote Saturday.

Less than half the state's 4.1 million registered voters are expected to bother with the balloting to pick nominees for senator, governor, the legislature and a host of other state and local offices.

The Texas Election Bureau predicted a turnout of only 1.7 million voters.

In the hot Democratic senatorial race, a heavier turnout would be expected to favor Sen. Ralph Yarborough, 66, D-Tex., who has been running for statewide offices in Texas since the early 1950s. He was first elected to the Senate in 1957.

A low turnout would be expected to favor Lloyd Bentsen, 49, wealthy Houston businessman and former Lower Valley congressman, who has staged a concerted campaign since Jan. 6 to get his name before the voters.

Five other contested statewide races are on the Democratic ballot and two are on the Republican ballot but the Democratic senatorial race furnished most of the fireworks.

In fact, Yarborough and Bentsen feel some of the other races have contributed to the general lack of voter interest in the primaries.

For the first time in the history of Democratic primaries there is no competition in the governor's race which is usually one of the headline events. Gov. Preston Smith got a political "free ride" and has taken no part in the Senate or other races. Even Smith's probable opponent in November, Paul Eggers, Republican, has been unable to campaign extensively because of illness.

In the Democratic land commissioner's contest, incumbent Jerry Sadler has made no public appearances or speeches although the challenger, Rep. Bob Armstrong of Austin has traveled extensively.

Another damper on political fever is the absence of the usual liberal-conservative democrat feud over precinct conventions Saturday. An earlier political alliance between the governor and Yarborough supporters to recognize labor and liberal Democrats proportionately in selecting delegates for the Sept. 15 state convention brought about political peace at least temporarily.

Another lack of political interest comes from Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes' lack of competition in the primary. Barnes, who is already getting ready for a 1972 governor's race, has spent considerable time during the campaign season speaking outside of the state.

Even the Democratic senatorial race did not generate much interest until April. Bentsen began his campaign in January to get his name before voters but Yarborough did most of his campaigning on weekends between sessions of Congress until about three weeks ago.

The Democratic winner faces the GOP nominee either Rep. George Bush, 45, R-Tex., or Robert Morris, 54, of Dallas, in the general election Nov. 3.

Before Yarborough won reelection in 1964 he had to win a hard party primary victory from Gordon McLendon, Dallas radio executive by 232,000 votes, then defeated Bush in the general election by about 330,000 votes.

Public Invited To Art Show

The public is invited to attend a showing Sunday afternoon of paintings by Wilson Hurley at the Diamond M Museum.

The special showing of the well-known New Mexico artist's works, was arranged by the Diamond M Foundation, headed by C. T. McLaughlin.

Hurley and his wife will be here for the local showing. A number of guests from other West Texas cities and towns also are expected here for the showing, which will be between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m.

US Troops Push Inside Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — About 8,000 U.S. combat troops swept into Cambodia 70 miles northwest of Saigon today and began setting up bases for assaults on the headquarters zone of the supreme Communist command for South Vietnam operations.

It marked the first time in the nine-year-old Vietnam war that an American ground force has extended its operations into Cambodia, at least in force.

About 55 miles to the southwest one of four South Vietnamese task force that invaded the Parrot's Beak area of Cambodia Wednesday linked up with Cambodian troops defending the provincial capital of Svay Rieng. This force had thrust 30 miles into Cambodia along Highway 1.

Scores of U.S. B52 bombers and nearly 100 artillery pieces blasted the way for the American assault force accompanied by some 2,000 South Vietnamese troops and hundreds of tanks and armored personnel carriers.

Friendly resistance was light and scattered in the area known to the military as the Fishhook, and advance units stabbed 20 miles into Cambodia.

One U.S. C130 cargo plane dropped a 15,000-bomb four miles inside Cambodia to blast away jungle land for the building of a base called Fire Support Base Center.

The mission to set up bases indicated that the Americans plan to stay a while in Cambodia. While initial U.S. Command reports indicated only light ground action, Associated Press photographer Charles Ryan reported drom four miles inside Cambodia that American transport helicopters lifting in troops ran into heavy enemy groundfire.

Ryan said a score of helicopters were hit. Pilots told Ryan that five of the helicopters were shot down and crashed.

A crewman told Ryan that one pilot was shot in the head while flying his helicopter at tree-top level, and the aircraft immediately crashed. A radio transmission said the pilot was killed, but the U.S. Command in Saigon said it could not confirm this.

If confirmed, it would mark the first American serviceman killed in an offensive operation on Cambodian soil.

The U.S. Command said that by dusk Friday, 99 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops had been killed; most of them by helicopter gunships, and one supply truck destroyed.

Initial reports from the U.S. Command said six Americans were wounded.

TOURING GROUP INSPECTS FACILITIES

CRMWD Project Complete

A tour by members of the board, the staff and several guests Thursday for all practical purposes wound up the Colorado River Municipal Water District's construction program of 1966.

This is the big project which resulted in construction of the Robert Lee Dam, and the installation of all facilities needed to produce water and transport it to users.

The tour took the group to Robert Lee and back into the Big Spring CRMWD office with stops at pump stations and other facilities along the way making up a major portion of over $32-million work of equipment and property.

Included in the total cost of the project are pipelines totalling $11,833,465; control equipment costing $180,585; pump stations costing $2,391,326; low flow diversion works costing $1,009,341; the Robert Lee Dam, costing $14,417,997, including land and permit expense; engineering expense costing $2,003,491.

The touring group inspected the dam and service spillway, three pump stations, the low flow diversion works near Colorado City, and new computerized control equipment which just now is in the process of installation at the Big Spring control center of the district.

The low flow diversion installation just northwest of Colorado City was required of the CRMWD to reduce salt contamination. At present, water from Lake E. V. Spence, the reservoir impounded by the Robert Lee Dam, is being mixed with water from Lake J. B. Thomas at Moss Lake east of Big Spring. It is then being pumped to Big Spring, Midland and Odessa. Midland became a customer of the district this spring and began taking water from CRMWD less than a month ago.

The tour was conducted by O. H. Ivie, general manager of the district, assisted by staff members.

Those from Snyder making the tour were Rex Fields, Lyle Deffebach and Dr. John Blum, CRMWD board members; James Rosser and Joe Carroll of the Snyder law firm of Rosser and Carroll, legal counsel for the district; and Wacil McNair, editor of the Snyder Daily News. W. A. McGlaun, the other Snyder board member, attended the brief board meeting at the Big Spring office Thursday morning, but was unable to make the tour with the group.

Estimates are that Lake E. V. Spence now has something over 30,000 acre feet of water. Its capacity is approximately 488,000 acre feet, or well over twice as much as the capacity of Lake Thomas, which now also has about 30,000 acre feet.

Industrial Drive Makes Progress

The Scurry County Industrial Foundation's fund drive pulled closer to the $50,000 mark today as more contributions were listed.

The foundation has had a campaign underway for several weeks seeking to raise $100,000 for industrial development here.

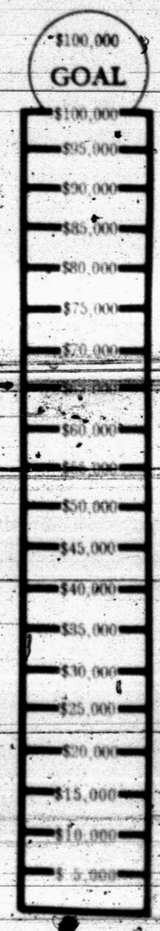

The foundation is now in the process of settling up its accounts associated with the Ritz-Craft project. This successful project is due to result in production of Ritz-Craft Mobile Homes here by mid-summer.

At the same time, the foundation hopes to get its finances in shape to bid for more industry here. The local organization established a policy some time ago for providing sites and assisting with site development for new industries which bring plants here. The fund drive's total today reached $47,845.

The latest contributors to the fund drive include:

Garth Austin
Elna Johnston
Gwen Fleming
Rodger Sullenger

Steel Price Increase Announced

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP) — Bethlehem Steel Co., which with U.S. Steel normally sets the steel industry's pricing trends, has announced a 4.7 per cent increase on big tonnage items used to make cars and many household appliances.

The announcement by the nation's second largest steelmaker Thursday afternoon drew no immediate reaction from the rest of the industry.

At the Pittsburgh headquarters of U.S. Steel, the industry giant, a spokesman said the Bethlehem move was being studied. A spokesman for Inland Steel in Chicago said officials would "study the competitive situation and see what the market will be."

Nixon Launches Cambodia Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a stunning turn of policy, President Nixon has launched a surprise offensive by U.S. and South Vietnamese troops against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong sanctuaries in Cambodia.

He declared the assaults were essential to save American lives, continue his Vietnam troop withdrawal program, and help end the war.

Nixon announced his controversial decision to the nation Thursday in a dramatic televised speech in which he acknowledged it might make him a one-term president but argued the stakes were too high for political considerations.

"Whether I may be a one-term president," he declared, "is insignificant compared to whether by our failure to act in this crisis, the United States proves itself to be unworthy to lead the forces of freedom in this critical period."

His decision was immediately assailed by a number of leading senators, although some others praised it. In the immediate aftermath of the speech there was no doubt Nixon faces a bitter and prolonged battle in the Senate.

A White House official said the thrust into Cambodia, should last six weeks to two months. Thousands of U.S. and South Vietnamese troops are engaged against an estimated enemy force of 40,000.

Nixon charged the Communists in the last two weeks have been overrunning Cambodia and turning it into a vast spring board for attacks into South Vietnam. He promised that "once enemy forces are driven out of these sanctuaries and their military supplies destroyed, we will withdraw."

Nixon Briefed At Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon went to the Pentagon today for an up-to-the-minute briefing on the new Cambodian operation and emerged saying: "I know I did what I believe was right."

The chief executive, accompanied by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, gave no assessment on the new offensive in Cambodia reporting only that he had received a very good briefing.

Nixon said it was just the beginning of a Cambodian campaign which could last several weeks.

Kopechne Case Closed Legally

BOSTON (AP) — Although a grand jury could reopen the Mary Jo Kopechne case, Massachusetts' chief law officer says that in his view, no criminal action is likely against Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

"The legal aspects are over," state Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn told newsmen Thursday, after release of the 163 page transcript of the inquest report and presiding Judge James A. Boyle's findings in the death of the 28-year-old secretary last July 18.

"Legally, that's it," Quinn said, "but politically it remains to be seen."

Kennedy was expected to return to Boston from Washington today for several public appearances-speeches before two groups and a Saturday narration of Aaron Copland's "a Lincoln Portrait" with the Boston Pops Orchestra.

Judge Boyle, whose retirement took effect today, said in his 12-page report that Kennedy was negligent when his car toppled off a narrow, unrailed bridge into a tidal pond at Chappaquiddick Island the night of July 18.

Quinn said that, under rules established by the Massachusetts Supreme Court publication of the inquest report foreclosed any prosecution unless new facts came to light.

Leslie H. Leland, the 29-year-old druggist who is foreman of the current Dukes County grand jury, said he believed the case should be reopened and that he wanted to confer with his fellow jurors.

There is precedent in Massachusetts law for reopening cases. In the past as many as three successive grand juries have considered the same criminal matter.

Leland's grand jury comes to the end of its term in two weeks.

The final decision rests with Chief Justice C. Joseph Tauro of the Massachusetts Superior Court. He alone has the power to authorize a further investigation on request of a district attorney or grand jury.

The present Dukes County grand jury investigated the Kopechne death for two days early in April but took no action. The presiding judge ruled the jurors could not have access to the then impounded inquest transcript and report.

The day after the grand jury wrapped up its inquiry, Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis notified the Superior Court that no prosecution was contemplated.

Hugh Scott Has Wrenched Knee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania is nursing a wrenched knee, the result of a tumble from a speakers' platform.

Scott, 69, finished an address to the Pennsylvania Association of Letter Carriers Wednesday, stepped backwards and dropped three feet.

The Capitol physician said the right knee was wrenched but no bones broken.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap Here

Considerable damage resulted from a two-vehicle collision on Avenue S at Thirty-eighth Street at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Involved were the 1969 Model Chrysler of Carlie James Yoast, 2215 Forty-fourth Street, and the 1966 Model Chevrolet ½-ton pickup of Alston Rue Galyean, Star Route, Ira.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,000, and damage to the pickup was placed at $100.

The other mishap occurred at 8 p.m. in the 1900 block of Avenue L.

The 1966 Model Chevrolet of Dixie Marlene McArthur, 1306 Nineteenth Street, was in collision with a fence at 1200 Nineteenth Street, owned by Floyd Underwood. Damage to the car was negligible, but damage to the fence was set at $50.

House Is Destroyed In Thursday Blaze

Fire of undeterimined origin destroyed a small, vacant, frame house at 406 Thirty-first Street last night.

City Firemen, who answered the call at 10:05 p.m., arrived to discover flames shooting high into the air. The fire already had spread throughout the house and burned every room. The roof was destroyed.

Owner of the building had not been determined this morning.

Iron Curtain Blasts Nixon Decision

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia was blasted from both sides of the Iron Curtain today. About the only praise came from America's allies in the Far East.

Red China and North Vietnam accused Nixon of expanding the war to all Indochina. The Soviet news agency Tass said the military actions "grossly flout the independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Cambodia."

Officials in Nationalist China, South Korea and the Philippines expressed approval of Nixon's action.

The following reaction was expressed by other world leaders and governments.

The French government deplored the U.S. decision to send American troops to Cambodia and said "experience of recent years has shown that military action leads to an unescapable train of events which cannot be controlled."

Britain maintained silence on the move. Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart refused to yield to left-wing demands that his government attack the action. He did say that the United States gave Britain no advance warning of the decision.

Pope Paul VI deplored "the recurrence of grand events that upset peace" in a May Day speech in St. Peter's Basilica, but he did not refer directly to the Indochina crisis.

South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu said Nixon had no choice but to send ground forces into Cambodia.

Texas Draft Call 834

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' draft quota this month is 834 men, all for the Army, State Selective Service Director Morris S. Schwartz said today.

The May quota will be filled with men whose draft lottery numbers are 145 or lower.

April's quota was 940, and was filled with men whose lottery numbers were no higher than 115.

Schwartz also said there probably will be a drawing in July to establish lottery numbers for men born in 1951.

Texas' May quota is part of a national quota of 15,000 men, all for the Army, Schwartz said.

New Front Cools Texas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing weather returned to the Texas Panhandle this morning and violent thunderstorms appeared to be dying down after destructive blows in eastern areas of the state.

Damage appeared heaviest at Baytown, where high winds propelled water from Galveston Bay into the Brownwood addition and LaPorte, where gusts estimated up to 70 miles per hour tore at roofs and toppled utility poles Thursday evening.

A cool front moving slowly toward the southeast was blamed for the turbulence.

There were still showers and thunderstorms early in the day near and ahead of the front, which stretched from near Tyler to Galveston and Brownsville.

Temperatures meanwhile dipped to 31 degrees at Amarillo and 33 at Lubbock near dawn, while readings far to the south held as high as 76 at Brownsville.

Water blown into Baytown rose into a dozen houses and blocked eight streets in a low area. The cold front was blamed for tides running as much as four and one-half feet above normal.

At Lufkin, Morgan Butler told of being knocked off his feet as gusty winds whipped through his neighborhood, ripping off parts of the roofs of a construction company building and a home close by.

While falls measuring up to two inches were falling in East Texas, blowing dust cut visibility to four miles or less at Lubbock and wind hitting 40 m.p.h. in gusts whipped light rain across parts of the Panhandle.

Skies were still cloudy this morning east and about 75 miles west of the frontal zone while it was clear over most other sections.

Opera Star Talented Actress

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Teresa Stratas, a Metropolitan Opera soprano who combines voice with looks and acting ability, also has the temperament of a diva, the approach of a night-club singer and the egalitarian philosophy of her mother.

Critics who praise her singing in such roles as Mimi in "La Boheme," Lisa in "Pique Dame," Gretel in "Hansel and Gretel" and Nedda in "Pagliacci," always praise her acting, too. She acts without having studied acting, by throwing herself into the part and being herself as well as on.

"Actors were more calculating on stage," Miss Stratas says. "I haven't learned how to preserve a little bit something personal within. I'm so completely involved, if I'm doing a part where I'm dying of TB or something horrible like that, I'm impossible to be around. It's fine if I'm doing Gretel. Then life is a gingerbread house all the time.

"Some operas are definitely dated and have laughable situations, but 'Pagliacci' can be as contemporary as a Broadway show like 'Hair.'

"Real people with real feelings — that kind of character is most interesting to do. Parts where I have to react to other people's actions are the most difficult.

"I wasn't born into the world of opera and I don't approach it like every opera is the most marvelous thing. 'Otello' rubs me the wrong way. Gee, Desdemona is stupid.

"Violetta in 'Traviata' is what she is: then she does fall in love for that first time. I've been asked to do 'Traviata,' but I won't touch it in America until I have it 100 per cent under emotional control, and I don't. The second act runs away with me emotionally."

Miss Stratas says, "I have a reputation for being a little bit [illegible]

"I'm a very up and down person. It's one of the reasons I'm not married. Sometimes I get up early and face through a lot of work and accomplish very much. Then I have periods of depression and have to be completely alone. Men don't understand. They think they've done something wrong or you've got someone else.

"I won't put my dog on a leash. And it's the same with people. I think, if you don't try to strangle someone, they won't try to get away. And I get frightened when somebody tries to put clamps down on me."

Miss Stratas was born in Toronto, Canada, of Greek parentage. "We were a poor but closely knit family, with a fabulous mother. She was not impressed at all with who one was but with what was within the person. And she made sure that her children felt that way.

"My parents owned a little greasy spoon restaurant, where I started singing. I sang 'Pistol Packin' Mama' and customers gave me nickels and dimes — no doubt to shut me up.

"One night a drunk left two tickets to the opera (the Met on tour) as a tip. It was my 16th birthday, so they gave them to me and my brother.

On the Defensive

"When you don't know something, you're afraid of it. We didn't want to see that snobby opera just for society people. We went on the defensive. We were up quite high, but we'd taken binoculars. It was 'La Boheme' with Tebaldi and Bjoerling and Cleva conducting. It was just [illegible] everything clicked. I thought, 'My gosh, it's the most perfect of all arts because it's everything contained.' I thought, 'Gosh, I want to become an opera singer.'

"The next day I saw 'Wings of Gets in Your Eyes' and I sang for the boss at the Royal Conservatory. They gave me a scholarship.

"At the end of my third year there I was still singing in night-clubs every night because my family was having financial problems. The dean would say, 'You can't sing Schubert and Brahms all day and go into that smoky atmosphere.' He was right, but I would never take experience singing in night-clubs.

"If you can hold an audience that goes there to drink and talk, you can hold the attention of people who pay $12 and $15 to hear you.

"Miss Stratas [illegible] York, sang for Rudolf Bing and asked him in a note whether she should pursue classical or pop singing. Bing merely thanked her. Miss Stratas quit the Conservatory she was quitting and on her last day there the Met called to tell her that Bing had entered her in the 1959 Met Auditions for young singers. She won a year's contract to the house.

"The first year, I sang every maid in the book and held trains for every prima donna. I learned what to do and what not to do from observing what happened [illegible]

Victoria de los Angeles.

"At the beginning of the second year, Licia Albanese was sick and I did Liu in Turandot.

"Since then, it's been only guest [illegible] at the Met and in such [illegible] Scala and in Munich.

Worst Actors Awards Made

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Harvard Lampoon has chosen Peter and Jane Fonda for its worst actor and worst actress of 1969 awards.

Unable to decide which was the worst movie of the year, it came up with a package of ten.

"We just lumped them together as Worst 10," a spokesman for the humor magazine said Thursday, "because we couldn't pick the worst."

In the package were "Easy Rider," "Medium Cool," "Putney Swope," "Topaz," "Bob and Carol and Ted and Alice," "The Maltese Bippy," "True Grit," "John and Mary," "Hello Dolly!" and "Last Summer."

Miss Fonda won the Lampoon's award for worst actress for "Spirits of the Dead" and for marrying Roger Vadim.

Indians Mortgage Land To Buy Back Heritage

By RICK UNOK
Associated Press Writer

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Members of the Arizona Indian tribe have mortgaged their homeland to buy back some of their heritage.

Representatives of the Colorado River Indian tribes plan to liquidate from their reservation on the lower Colorado River [illegible] bring anchored off to settle an [illegible]

The articles were gathered by the late Birdie H. Brown, a pioneer and operator of a store in Parker, Ariz.

"We have up to $50,000 to spend," said the Colorado River tribal chairman, Adrian Fisher. "We put up some of our best land to borrow the money."

They will be bidding against dealers and collectors who are willing to pay as much as $200 each for the 300 pieces the tribes are interested in.

Fisher said the artifacts are irreplaceable and there is nothing like them left on the reservation. He said only one old Chemehuevi woman is left who can still make baskets.

She makes about two a year, Fisher said, but the need to get matters. The Colorado River reclamation projects have ruined the riverbanks where the Indians used to find the willows they needed.

Said Dorothy Hall, bidder for the Indians:

"We had some of the old women who used to make baskets [illegible] they couldn't bear to see them [illegible]

Agnes Savilla, a Chemehuevi woman, recalled Mrs. Brown's store used to be a stopoff for Indians going to visit their children at the boarding school there.

"We couldn't go home, but our parents could come visit us on Saturdays," she said. "They didn't like to come empty-handed, so they'd stop by the Browns' store and trade for candy or oranges to take to the children.

"My mother traded a beaded cape for about eight dollars worth of things," she finished sadly.

Mrs. Savilla said the baskets never had been made for sale, but for use in this world and the next.

"It would never do to bury a Chemehuevi without a basket," she added.

Fisher said any artifacts the tribes obtained would be housed in the tribal museum which would be open to researchers.

"We ourselves could extract detailed ethnographic informa[illegible] Chemehuevi [illegible] they are gone, the artifacts can never again elicit this kind of valuable recollection and detailed description."

One of the old women who had been looking over the collection shook her head. "They won't never make no baskets, these young girls," she said. "But they could look and see and know what we did."

David Janssen Under Court Order

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — David Janssen, who starred in the title role of the popular television series "The Fugitive," is under court order to pay his ex-wife $3,750 monthly support.

Janssen, 40, and his wife Ellie, former New York model, were married Aug. 23, 1958, in Las Vegas, Nev. They separated on their 10th anniversary.

Superior Court Judge Richard L. Wells weighed the matter a month before ruling Thursday the marriage was dissolved and that Janssen must assume the obligations of legal fees and support.

Sentencing Not Crime Rate Answer

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Sentencing a man to 1,000 years in prison is not the answer to the rising crime rate, says the presiding judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

K. K. Woodley, who has a reputation as a hard-liner, told a Senate committee Thursday that his court should be given authority to reduce sentences it thinks are excessive. "You don't answer the problem by raising the punishment," he said.

Woodley is retiring from the court this year. He and his successor, John F. Onion Jr., were among those who testified before the Senate Interim Committee on Penal Servitude and Parole.

Also testifying was Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith, who said recent Dallas juries that set millennial sentences for armed robbery were "trying to tell somebody something." The juries were expressing their frustration with "a horse and buggy system of justice," he said.

Smith made several suggestions on how to bring Texas' system of criminal justice from what he called the 18th Century to the 20th Century. Woodley and Onion backed him up on several of the proposals.

Luncheon dates on a diet

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: Please write something in your column about people (usually women) who are trying to lose weight. It is their business what they eat in their own homes, but when they accept a friend's house for dinner or lunch, don't you think it's rude of them to pick at their food and to say, "I'm sorry, I'm on a diet and can't eat very much." Or even flatly refuse to taste your dessert!

When the hostess goes to a lot of trouble to make food attractive and tasty shouldn't the guest, out of courtesy to her, eat and enjoy it?

People should diet at home! It's like a slap in the face when these picky dieters come to your table and spurn good food.

INDIGNANT

DEAR INDIGNANT: Lucky you! Apparently you don't know how hard it is to lose a few pounds.

When a dieter is invited out, she should let her hostess know that she is watching her calories. I would not feel "insulted" if a guest tried to stick to his diet at my table. I would help him instead, by serving fruit and cheese for dessert, and I wouldn't coax him to eat more than he wanted.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for two years to a wonderful man, but something has come up which threatens our marriage.

I have three children by a previous marriage. The children's father has been sending support checks regularly since our divorce. He's never complained, but I know it has been a terrible hardship on him because he is now married to a woman whose husband deserted her and her three children, so he adopted her three, and is now supporting six children.

My children and their father have always had an excellent relationship. Now my children see their father's stepchildren at school and church, and they notice the disparity between their standards of living and that of their father's adopted children, whom they like very much.

Abby, my present husband is very well to do, and he doesn't need that support money from my "ex," but he says he is not about to let him off the hook.

It seems so wrong for us to continue to accept support checks from my "ex" who is struggling hard to make ends meet, when my children don't need it, and his adopted family does.

My children and I have talked it over and want to put a stop to the support checks, but my husband is determined to keep collecting until the children are all of age. What can I do, Abby?

WALKING A TIGHT ROPE

DEAR WALKING: Nothing. Your present husband for reasons of insecurity, probably resents your "ex" and is determined to keep him on the hook for child support. Or he could be, frankly money-hungry. Both are regrettable, but there is nothing you can do about either, unless thru persistent hammering you can finally get thru to him. Keep trying.

DEAR ABBY: That designing female who set up a candlelight and wine dinner to find out if that new muscle man in the office was as good a lover as he appeared to be sure got what was coming to her. Nothing! Poor guy was probably emasculated previously by another female before he was old enough to protect himself. His mother.

Complaint Caller Is Very Brave

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Martha Mitchell's after-hours telephone complaint to a newspaper regarding the Senate turndown of G. Harrold Carswell for the U.S. Supreme Court made the judge's wife "very proud" of the outspoken Cabinet spouse.

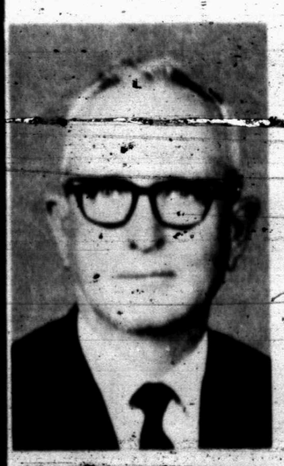

"I think she's very brave," Virginia Simmons Carswell said Thursday of the wife of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell. "If she feels that's the right way to do it, that's up to her."

Mrs. Mitchell's call to the Little Rock, Ark., Gazette urged the newspaper to "crucify" Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who voted against Carswell.

Carswell has resigned his federal judgeship and entered the race for a Florida seat in the Senate.

END OF 33,000 MILE SAILING JOURNEY — ALONE — Robin Lee Graham, who was 16 when he set out nearly five years ago to circle the world in a sailboat, waves to newsmen as his boat entered the harbor at Long Beach, Calif., Thursday. The end of the journey made him the youngest person ever to travel around the world alone in a sailboat. He changed boats once, and even took a bride during one stop; but she didn't travel with him. Legislation Set On Benefits

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House will receive legislation, probably next week, for another increase in Social Security benefits for retirees—and a boost in the taxes on persons still at work.

The House Ways and Means Committee had the legislation almost completed Thursday when it adjourned for the weekend. The benefit increase probably will be 5 per cent across the board, added to the 15 per cent boost voted last year.

Republicans are pressing instead for a scale related to the cost of living, but apparently they do not have the votes.

The payroll tax that pays for Social Security, including hospitalization under medicare, would be increased by raising the yearly wage base on which it is levied from $7,000 to $9,000, effective next Jan. 1.

The effect of this increase, along with a rate boost already written into the law, would be to increase the maximum Social Security tax paid by an employe, and matched by his employer, from this year's $374.40 to $486.

The committee bill would channel some of the extra revenue into the fund for medicare, hard hit by soaring charges for health services. It would also try to curb these by providing for preset hospital charges and standards for doctor bills.

Sailor Completes World Voyage

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — "I don't like being by myself," mused 21-year-old Robin Lee Graham, having spent 57 months and 33,000 miles being just that to become the youngest person to sail solo around the world.

His 33-foot sloop, The Return of the Dove, the second of two boats he used on his long journey, eased into Long Beach Marina Thursday. Graham stepped ashore into the arms of Patti, the wife he won on the other side of the globe.

"A nice hot bath," was his first fervent wish. "All I know is I'm glad to be home. It's better than being out there."

Out there was Honolulu, Samoa, Tonga, Fiji, where he met Patti, a California girl on a tour the Solomon Islands, Australia, South Africa—where he married her seven months later—South America, the Caribbean, through the Panama Canal to the Galapagos Islands and, starting March 5, the final 3,600 miles home.

Graham quit high school to make the voyage and had planned to continue his education through a correspondence course, but he was a bit busy.

"There was too much to do aboard the boat to do much studying," he said, "but I did read a lot."

One of the things which kept him away from his books was his original boat, the 24-foot Dove, provided by his parents, which leaked badly and had two broken masts after being battered by storms. He replaced it midway through the journey.

"You have bad days and good," he said of his adventures. "You remember the bad days."

Now, he said, "I'll go back to school. I may pick up some sort of technical trade."

Patti joined her husband at various points along his route but didn't sail with him because "he started alone and he wanted to finish alone."

How did it feel to be home?

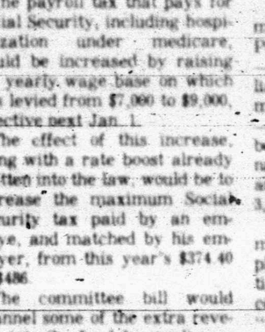

"Tired."

Barbiturates Kill Inger Stevens

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Inger Stevens, a blonde Swedish-born actress who often complained of loneliness despite a busy career and frequent dating, is dead at 36.

The talented star, clad in a negligee, was found on the kitchen floor of her ranch-style Hollywood Hills home Thursday by her longtime friend and secretary, Lola McNally. Coroner Thomas Noguchi said death was caused by acute intoxication from barbiturates, a common ingredient of sleeping pills.

Miss McNally, who lives in the Stevens home but was away for the night, said she talked with the actress by telephone Wednesday night and all seemed well. But upon receiving no answer to a call Thursday morning, she went to the home.

Miss Stevens, she said, opened her eyes and tried to speak, but couldn't.

She was pronounced dead en route to a hospital in an ambulance.

Miss Stevens, a native of Stockholm, came to the United States with her parents at the age of 13. She got to Hollywood in 1956 and found almost instant acclaim. Yet in 1959 she tried to take her own life by swallowing a poisonous cleaning fluid in a New York apartment.

She explained at the time: "Sometimes I get so lonely I could scream."

Miss Stevens was the star for three years of the television series, "The Farmer's Daughter."

She was divorced from New York theatrical agent Anthony Soglio on July 17, 1957, and never remarried. There were no children.

Her movies included "The Long Rifle Home," "Firecreek," "A Guide to the Married Man," "House of Cards," "Five Card Stud" and the recent "A Dream of Kings."

She spoke not long ago of retiring and devoting her life to retarded children.

She was chairman of the California Council for Mentally Retarded Children and spent considerable time at the Kedren Community Health Center in the Los Angeles Negro district of Watts.

Three Charged With Use Of "Slingshot"

EUFAULA, Okla. (AP) — Three Oklahoma men were charged Tuesday under a dusty 60-year-old state law for possession of a slingshot in connection with the shooting of two freight trucks with missiles south of Checotah.

Charged with use of a "slingshot" were Otto C. Deberage Jr. and Oren Marland Glover, both of Oklahoma City, and William E. Sanders of Del City.

The trio pleaded innocent before Associate Dist. Judge Marilyn Mathews and were held under $12,000 bond each. Preliminary hearing was set for May 27.

All three men were former employes of the truck lines, said Asst. Dist. Atty. John Boydston.

Uvalde Pupils Continue Boycott

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Mexican-American pupils, on strike since April 14, continued their boycott of public schools here Thursday.

Officials reported 800 of the 3,560 pupils missed classes for the 17th day. The average daily absentee rate is 281. Slightly more than half the enrollment is Mexican-American.

There were unconfirmed reports of meetings on the dispute Thursday but no details or results were disclosed.

The boycott began over the all-Anglo school board's refusal to renew a Mexican-American teacher's contract. Two days later the board received a list of 14 demands for bilingual education, more Mexican-American teachers and other changes.

The board said it would discuss the demands only after the pupils return to school. Strike leaders said they would continue their strike until the board agreed to negotiate.

Wall Street Is Swamped With Many New Problems

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street keeps getting swamped with new problems these days before it is able to rise above the old ones.

Perhaps never before has there been such a confluence of muddy issues spilling onto the desks of analysts, problems with which even the State Department foreign affairs specialists would have difficulty.

The threatened escalation of the war in Indochina is giving nightmares to analysts who based their hopes of a rising market on a reduction of hostilities in that area. Their theory in recent weeks has been this:

"War might have been good for industry in the past, but it surely isn't anymore. Look at those terrible profit statements. And see how war has brought inflation. A cool Southeast Asia would warm the stock market just enough."

Although one war is one war too many for analysts who understand balance sheets but not balances of power, these securities scholars are also being forced to keep an eye on the confused and potentially explosive Mideast.

Foreign affairs are very much a factor in this market, but analyses of foreign affairs by securities men lack credibility. Few investors are willing to buy stocks because of a military or political forecast by a securities analyst. And so they remain almost cataleptic.

Domestically speaking, it is also difficult to determine the thinking of those who guide the American economy. High interest rates were supposed to curtail heavy spending. But something has gone wrong with that theory.

Capital spending plans—the plans of business of remodeling and expanding—were supposed to be falling off by now. Instead, business seems to be raising its intentions to spend.

That, at least, is the opinion of some private economists who have surveyed the field, and whose conclusions include a simple forecast of still higher interest rates and a prediction of a possible money panic.

Eliot Janeway, an author, economic consultant and financial adviser, has been warning for some time about the possible panic. He sees business and government locked in a battle to borrow from an insufficient supply of lendable funds. He suggests credit controls, and possibly a continued market dip.

The continued demand for money by corporations is explained partially by their need to modernize in order to make themselves more productive and thus offset the higher costs of inflation. But in so doing they contribute to inflationary pressures.

This isn't the only thing that confuses analysts trying to predict the future of the market. The entire Nixon program to halt inflation is now being second guessed. The administration maintains that results will begin to show soon; but impatient investors are uncertain. They're not in the mood to believe.

And then there is the big, big question that is highlighted by the demonstrations at annual meetings. Will the need to improve the environment be reflected in lower corporate profits? Who can answer with assurance?

It isn't only the solvency of other companies, or of the entire economy, that concerns many analysts today. Their own firms are in trouble, many of them anyway, and this fact contributes to a lack of investor confidence.

It seems reasonable to assume, for example, that a small investor who reads of mismangement, paperwork problems and thefts in brokerage houses isn't going to be enthusiastic about turning over his money for investing.

Junior Editors Quiz on BEN FRANKLIN

QUESTION: What did Benjamin Franklin do beside invent electricity?

ANSWER: Franklin didn't invent it, but he gave the science of electricity a great boost when, in 1752, he flew a kite in a thunderstorm and found that sparks from lightning would run down the wire (1). Franklin did invent the lightning rod. The electrical terms, battery, armature, condenser, were created by him. Beside his electrical discoveries, Franklin made many other contributions to humanity. Starting as a poor printer, he became a successful publisher and influenced his readers toward ideas of thrift, honesty, and hard work. A public-spirited man, he helped to organize a fire department in Philadelphia, established a hospital, founded a library (3) and a university (4). His useful inventions included a iron stove, which heated better than did a fireplace, and bifocal glasses (2). Americans remember best the noble part Franklin played in the days when America became a nation. He helped to draft the Declaration of Independence and acted as one of its signers. As Minister to France, he played a vital role in the American victory.

If Boyle Had His Way . . .

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — If I had my way—

Any American over 50 years of age who had never been on a public welfare roll would be given a gold medal.

Pigeons would wear diapers.

Congressmen would have to hitchhike around their home districts at least once a year so they'd really get to meet the people.

It would be against the law to have knives and forks on the table at a chicken dinner.

Anybody who ever asked another person during a cold spell how he was standing the heat wave would be compelled to jog a mile through the snow clad only in his underwear.

The name of pop-art would be changed to unpop art.

Any advertising writer who wrote that something was as American as blueberry pie would get a free blueberry pie right in his face.

All television comedians who joke about their wives and mothers-in-law would have to buy them equal time on a national network so they could tell what a crumbum he is.

Supermarket shopping carts would be equipped with rubber bumpers.

Every bottle at a cocktail party would self destruct five minutes after the party was supposed to be over.

Every person convicted of drunken driving would receive an automatic one-year jail sentence.

No man would be permitted to wear shoulder-length hair in public unless he concealed it under a crew-cut wig.

Anyone convicted of peddling narcotics would immediately have injected into his own person whatever drugs were found on him at the time of his arrest.

For sportsmans who weary of the long baseball season, pro football teams would play two schedules—one in the spring and another in the fall.

All college faculty members would be free to join in a student picket line—but they'd lose their pay any day they did so.

Corporations which issue credit cards would have to print on the back of them this warning: "These cards are addictive and can lead to quick insolvency."

Wilson Boosted By Public Poll

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his Labor party got another boost today from a public opinion poll. The Daily Mail's National Opinion Polls recorded the popularity lead of the opposition Conservatives had dropped from 7.5 per cent last month to 2.9 per cent.

Last week, two opinion polls put the Laborites narrowly in the lead for the first time in two years while a third registered a big drop in Tory support.

Wilson must call the election by next spring, but speculation is growing that he will schedule it soon because of his party's rising fortunes.

Providence, R.I., was founded by Roger Williams in 1636.

Sociologists Make Survey On Nudist

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Two sociologists who removed their academic robes to interview an estimated 2,600 nudists over eight years say the practice eliminates "a lot of tension and sexual curiosity."

But they also found that some nudists must put on some clothing to arouse their mates.

The survey was conducted by Dr. William E. Hartman, director of the Center for Martial and Sexual Studies at California State College at Long Beach, and his assistant, Marilyn Fithian.

Mrs. Fithian said 25 per cent of the interviewed persons reported increased frequency of sexual relationships after becoming nudists; 58 per cent indicated no change, and 4 per cent a decrease. Others declined to say.

Assembly Approves Lowering Voting Age

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The General Assembly overwhelmingly approved a bill Wednesday to lower the voting age to 18.

The measure must be approved by the legislature again next year, then get three-fifths of the vote in a statewide referendum before it can become law.

NY Knicks Sink Lakers 111-108

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — That sensational 56-foot long shot Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers made as the buzzer sounded against the New York Knicks in Los Angeles Wednesday night is the longest shot on record in National Basketball Association playoff annals.

But it isn't the longest shot by [illegible] basketball.

West got off his desperation long heave with one second left and the Knicks ahead by 108-106. It swished through the net as the buzzer sounded and tied the regulation game at 102-102. The Knicks went on to win 111-108 in the extra period for a 2-1 lead in the best-of-7 NBA championship playoff.

What is the longest shot on record by actual measurement and by whom?

The answer is: George Lisn of Alabama, 84 feet, 11 inches.

Lisn got off his historic heave in the Alabama Field House at Tuscaloosa on Jan. 4, 1955 in a college game against North Carolina. Alabama won 77-55.

There was so much speculation over the distance of the shot that Alabama officials got out a tape measure and pinpointed it at exactly 84 feet, 11 inches.

The longest heave in pro basketball is an estimated 82-foot last second desperation shot by Jerry Harkness of the Indiana Pacers against Dallas in an American Basketball Association game at Dallas on Nov. 13, 1967.

Under ABA rules, it was a three-point goal and gave Indiana a 118-118 victory.

Bob Cousy is credited with the longest shot in the NBA. He sunk an estimated 75-footer for the Boston Celtics against Syracuse in a game at Providence, R.I. on Feb. 18, 1963.

Owls Dominate SWC Net Play

HOUSTON (AP) — The Rice Owls, who racked up the Southwest Conference team tennis crown, have three of the eight competitors today in the semifinals of the SWC individual championships.

Jan Guerry of Rice will play Dick Fikes of Texas A&M. Steve Carrero of Rice takes on Marcelo de la Serna of Texas Christian and Mike Estep of Rice plays Tim Smith of Southern Methodist.

Carrero is the defending singles champion; Guerry is the top seed. Estep is seeded fourth. Second-seeded John Gardiner of SMU will play Avery Rush of Texas in the other semifinal match.

The first and second rounds of the tournament were played Thursday with the only upset coming when Bill Borders of Arkansas defeated another Rice player, Gus Pellini, 6-3, 8-4 in the first round.

Doubles competition was halted in the second round Thursday by rain.

The finals for singles and doubles will be played Saturday.

MAY RIDE IN DERBY — Diane Crump, 21-year-old blonde from Oldsmar, Fla., is on the threshold of becoming the first female rider in the Kentucky Derby, slated at Louisville Saturday. She seems to be telling Fathom, her mount in the Derby, something. Miss Crump says the Derby won't be any different "than the first time I rode." (AP Wirephoto)

7-5 DERBY FAVORITE

Terlago Gets Early Nod At Louisville

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE (AP) — A field of 18 3-year-olds — the lack of a solid favorite and Diane Crump. That's the mixture ready to [illegible] Saturday's wide-open and history-making Kentucky Derby.

The catalyst is Miss Crump, who will be the first girl jockey to ride in America's most famous horse race.

Lacking an attention-getting colt, such as Majestic Prince, this 96th renewal of the Derby at Churchill Downs swept in public interest when the 21-year-old Miss Crump was named to ride W. L. Lyons Brown's Fathom.

The first colt entered Thursday for the 1¼-mile, $125,000-added classic was Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen, the 1969 juvenile champion who has won only one of four starts this year, and the last was William C. Robinson's Admiral's Shield, winner of Tuesday's one-mile Derby Trial.

Those whose names passed the entry box in between included Samuel J. Agnew's Terlago, the Santa Anita Derby winner and the early 3-2 pick for Saturday, and Raymond Curtis' My Dad George, the 4-1 second pick who won the Flamingo, Florida Derby and Stepping Stone Purse consecutively.

If all 18 leave the gate at 5:40 p.m., EDT, the gross purse will be a Derby record $172,500, with a record $138,000 to the winner. Coverage on television will be from 5:45 p.m. and on radio from 5:30 p.m. CBS will handle both.

The forecast calls for mild weather with a chance of thundershowers. The usual crowd — traditionally estimated by Churchill Downs at 100,000 — will be on hand.

Also entered were the Ethel D. Jacobs pair of Personality and High Echelon, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Gary's Corn Off The Cob, Alan Magerman's George Lewis, Robert Lehmann's Dust Commander, Mrs. J. S. Dean Jr.'s Holy Land, Charles Engelhard's Protanto, and Her-An-Stable's Naskra.

Joining Fathom as field horses [illegible] were Lin-Drake Farm's Dr. Behrman, Steve [illegible]'s and Irving Apple's Rancho Lejos, Dr. Richard Kuhn's and Walter Hickey's Robin's Rig, the Wolfson Brothers' Native Royalty and F. V. Benjamin III's and J. M. Jones Jr.'s Action Getter.

Bill Shoemaker will take Terlago out of the No. 14 post, with My Dad George just inside him under Ray Broussard. Bill Hartack will send George Lewis out of the No. 1 slot and Angel Cordero Jr. will leave No. 18 on Corn Off The Cob. Corn Off The Cob is the co-third favorite at 8-1, with High Echelon, No. 12, and Larry Adams, and Personality, No. 17, and Eddie Belmonte.

It was thought Belmonte might miss the Derby after a mount he rode at Aqueduct Wednesday was disqualified and he was faced with a 10-day suspension. The New York stewards ruled Thursday, however, Belmonte was blameless.

Other jockey assignments are Dust Commander, Mike Manganello; Holy Land, Hector Pilar; Rancho Lejos, Rudy Campas; Silent Screen, John L. Rotz; Robin's Rig, Larry Moyer; the breeder of the colt, Protanto, Jorge Velasquez; Dr. Behrman, Chuck Baltazar; Action Getter, Mike Venezia; Naskra, Braulio Baeza; Admiral's Shield, Jimmy Nichols; and Native Royalty, to be announced.

Miss Crump's chance at making racing history came after Brown overruled trainer Don Devine. Devine had said after Fathom's seventh-place finish in the Derby Trial he would not run in the Derby.

"Neither Don nor I wanted to enter him," Miss Crump said. "In the long run he'd be better off not to go in the Derby. Mr. Brown knows it's a big gamble, but he thinks we have a big chance."

Miss Crump is the only girl ever to ride in the Trial, the first of her sex to obtain a license in this country, the first to ride at a major American track, Hialeah, and the only girl to ride at Churchill Downs.

The Derby overshadowed Saturday's features at other tracks.

Fast Hilarious is the early choice in an expected field of 10 in the $36,000 seven-furlong Carter Handicap at Aqueduct.

Rickey Raps Grand Slam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If Ralph Rickey appears a bit glassy-eyed today it's only because he has the "day-after-a-grandslam" syndrome — a most uncommon malady in the pitcher-dominated Texas League.

Rickey ripped a high inside fast ball with the bases loaded in the sixth inning Thursday night to propel San Antonio to a 6-0 victory over El Paso.

Albuquerque nicked Arkansas 3-1 to move into a second place tie in the league's Western Division, and two games were postponed. Cold and Winds stopped the Memphis at Amarillo contest and rain forced postponement of the Dallas-Fort Worth at Shreveport game.

Until Rickey served up his shot, San Antonio's Paul Reuschel and El Paso's Tony Cox were in a scoreless pitchers' duel. Reuschel went on to hurl a five-hitter. The Missions collected but seven hits.

Albuquerque won 3-1 as Jim Flynt scattered 11 Arkansas hits. The Dodgers Ron Downing scored on Steve Yeager's single in the second frame and singled home Tim Johnson to break a 1-1 tie in the sixth. A triple by Eddie Crosty and double by Jose Cruz netted the Travelers' tally in the sixth, and Albuquerque added an insurance run in the eighth.

Mets' Ryan Fires 3-Hitter At Giants

By TOM SALADINO
Associated Press Sports Writer

Nolan Ryan dazzled National League batters during April but the flame-throwing New York Mets' right-hander closed out the month on a gradual downhill slide.

The 23-year-old speedballer set down San Francisco 4-1 Thursday, limiting the Giants to three hits while striking out eight and walking eight. Not a bad performance, however, considering Ryan's two previous starts:

—A one-hitter in a 7-0 victory over Philadelphia on April 18, striking out 15 batters and —A two hitter in which he dropped a 1-0 decision to Los Angeles, April 25, striking out five.

Thursday's performance by the Alvin, Tex., resident, evened his record in two-plus major league seasons to 14-14 and he has now struck out 259 batters in 252 innings.

The 6-foot-2, 190-pounder's credentials for this season:

An 0.69 earned run average in 26 innings, two earned runs, six hits, 28 strikeouts, 20 walks and a 2-1 record.

Atlanta creamed Chicago 9-2 and Los Angeles edged Montreal 2-1 in the only other NL games played. Houston at St. Louis was called by rain.

In American League action, Boston nipped Oakland 8-7, Chicago stopped Baltimore 6-3, Minnesota whipped Cleveland 4-1, Washington bombed Milwaukee 12-2, New York blanked California 1-0 and Kansas City got by Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings.

Ryan's third complete game of the season gave him more than he had all of last year when he finished but two games in a 6-3 season. His victory also was the world champion Mets 10th triumph in April, establishing a club record. Ryan's eight bases on balls also set a club record.

Ryan was supported by Tommie Agee's homer and a two-run single by Joe Foy. Bud Harrelson tripled and was driven home by Cleon Jones' single for the Mets other tally. The Giants lone run came on a walk, a single by Hal Lanier, a sacrifice and Bobby Bonds' groundout.

Also closing out a torrid month of April was the hot-hitting left fielder of the Braves, Rico Carty. Carty boomed two homers, including a grand slam in the first inning and Hank Aaron and Hal King chipped in with solo blasts in the Braves rout of the Cubs.

Carty's homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, also stretched his hitting streak to 20 games and upped his batting average to .423, second best in the league. He also has driven in 23 runs.

George Stone, 3-1, stopped the Cubs on six hits and struck out a career high of 10 batters.

Jim Hickman rapped a homer off the southpaw in the ninth inning, making a total of 34 round-trippers hit out of Atlanta Stadium in nine games. All five blasts Thursday night carried over 400 feet with Aaron's estimated at over 500 feet.

Chicago's Billy Williams became the first player in NL history to play in 1,000-straight games but went hitless in four trips.

Rookie right-hander Sandy Vance scattered four hits in gaining his first major league victory and got all the support he needed when the Dodgers scored twice in the opening inning.

Singles by Maury Wills and Ted Sizemore and a walk to Willie Davis loaded the bases. Andy Kosco struck out but Wes Parker walked to force in one run and a fireout bouncer by Willie Crawford brought in the other.

Montreal's run came in the fourth when Kosco slammed into the right field wall while chasing Bobby Wine's fly ball.

Lobo 9 Hosts Tigers Tomorrow

Snyder High School's baseball team, currently leading the District 3-AAA race with a 3-1 record, gets a chance to extend its lead Saturday at Levelland. The Tigers of Coach Speedy Moffett tangle with the Lobos in Lobo Park at 1 p.m.

The Bengals return home next Tuesday, hosting Midland High in a non-league affray at 4 p.m.

Coach Moffett listed probable starters for the contest tomorrow, as follows: Stewart Sims ss, Wesley Bishop 2b, Larry Wall c, Merce Hernandez lf, Jim Patrick p, Jackie Murray 1b, Randy Levens rf, David Thompson cf, and James Hood 3b.

Snyder is 13-8 for the season.

WE'RE CELEBRATING OUR 20th Anniversary

Twenty years ago today the first issue of The Snyder Daily News was delivered to the residents of Snyder.

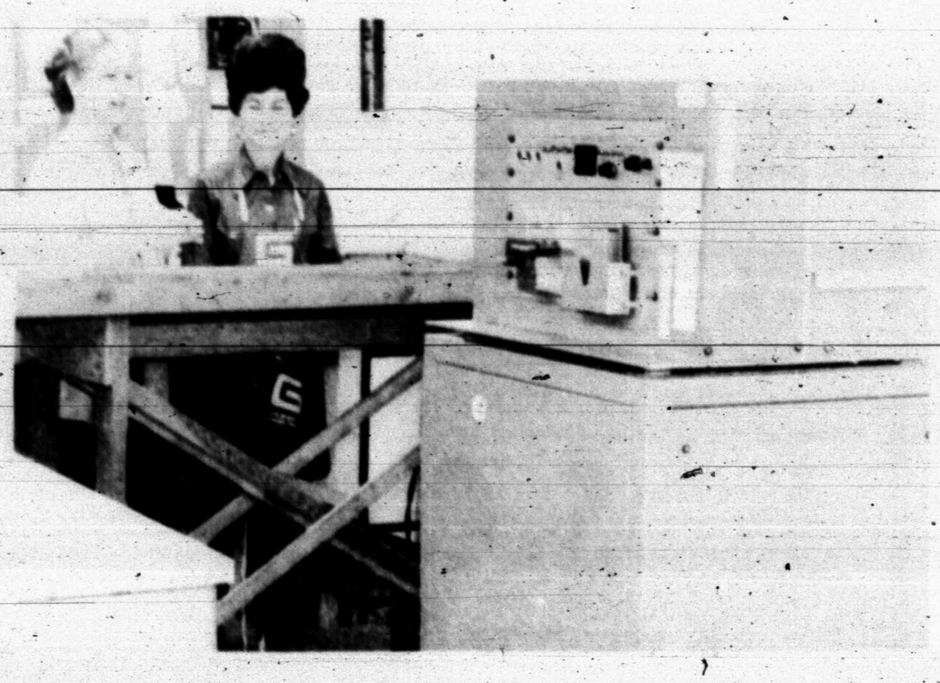

Over this span of years, in spite of small or major problems a regular issue of the News has never failed to reach our readers.

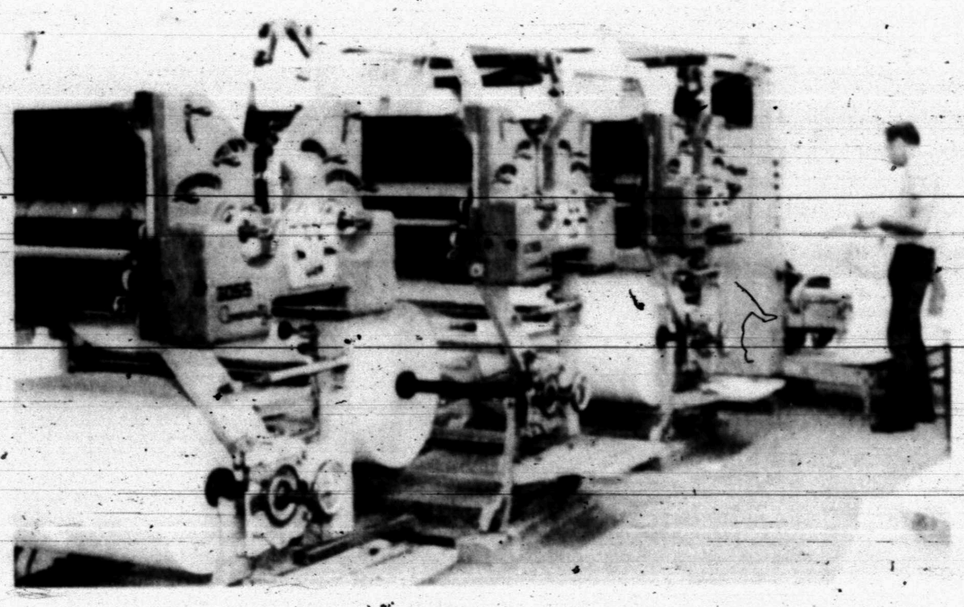

Prior to the beginning of The Snyder Daily News the area was served by The Scurry County Times, a weekly newspaper which was changed to a semi-weekly publication in 1949.

The Snyder Daily News has experienced a continual growth over these years and in the past six months has made a major change in the process of producing the newspaper.

New equipment has been added to produce the newspaper by the offset printing method instead of letterpress which was used until this time.

Remodeling of the newspaper plant is still in progress and some of the new equipment and office space is pictured on this page.

Our Thanks . . .

Our thanks to the many readers and advertisers who have been our loyal customers throughout these years. You make it possible for the continued publication of your daily newspaper.

It is your newspaper, with news about you, your friends and neighbors. We are dependent on you for the local news of interest to the community.

Again, we thank you for the many courtesies that you have extended us over the years.

GOPs Join Democrats In Criticizing Cambodia Action

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Long-time Republican supporters of American involvement in Vietnam, fearing political disaster for the GOP, have joined Democratic war foes in criticizing President Nixon's air and U.S. ground troops into Cambodia.

[illegible] U.S. policies in Southeast Asia, scheduled another meeting today to discuss how to cope with the situation after its failure to prevent the move into Cambodia.

Although Nixon's speech drew some bipartisan support, the overwhelming tone Thursday night was critical, especially at a Capitol briefing at which Undersecretary of State Elliott Richardson and Deputy Secretary of Defense David R. Packard told senators of Nixon's decision.

While Nixon said he was putting aside political considerations to take steps to prevent an American defeat, Republicans who held high hopes of picking up the seven seats needed to control the Senate were clearly stunned by the President's speech.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., a strong Nixon man who just hours before the President's speech had defended the administration's support of South Vietnamese operations into Cambodia, said he was troubled by the commitment of American troops.

"There is no doubt in my mind the public reaction is going to be adverse," Dole told reporters. "I just can't see anything but an increase in wounded, killed, and this will cause a sharp downturn in support of the President's policies."

Likewise, Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., a member of the Armed Services Committee who had declared support of earlier operations into Cambodia by South Vietnamese troops, said he thought "it's going to be very hard to get" support for Nixon's dispatch of ground troops.

While the attack ordered by the President is "probably correct" from a military standpoint, he said, the question of what he is going to do from a political point of view to get American support is very, very doubtful."

Dominick spoke on Metromedia Radio News.

However, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who earlier in the day told Seattle, Wash., University students he opposes use of U.S. ground troops in Cambodia, said after the speech Nixon's decision could be "a turning point." But, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate added, he would have gone "much further than the President did."

"I would give them 15 days to make peace or make Haiphong ... under a full paddle," Goldwater said in Seattle, Wash.

Key lawmakers backing Nixon included Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Assistant GOP Leader Robert P. Griffin of Michigan and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan.

"There has never been a time when it is more important to hold one's emotional fire and to trust the President, who alone has all the facts," said Scott.

Democratic Senate leaders, sharply critical the past two days of U.S. Cambodian policy, had withheld immediate comment on Nixon's speech.

But Sens. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and George S. McGovern of South Dakota were sharply critical.

Muskie found the action "irreconcilable" with Nixon's prophecy in his Vietnam speech 10 days ago that a just peace is in sight. McGovern said, "This is not the formula for saving American lives, this is the formula for a bigger and bloodier war."

Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, dean of Senate Republicans, reported that the mood was "somber" at the White House when Nixon informed congressional leaders of his decision.

"If his strategy is successful and we are able to bring the war to an earlier conclusion and have less losses of our men," Aiken said, "then we will have to call him a hero as he would be."

But the venerable Vermont Republican said, "I've heard this twice before since the war started. It didn't work then, but I do hope it works this time."

Asked what he thought the Foreign Relations Committee on which he is the senior Republican, could do, Aiken said "I don't know. We are trying to keep up with what's going on."

But he conceded that "during the past two weeks we haven't been successful," a reference to the fact that even the outspoken opposition expressed Monday to Secretary of State William P. Rogers failed to have any impact.

And, hitting a point that has caused considerable disquiet on Capitol Hill, Aiken said "It's very unusual to have action of this magnitude without any consultation with the hill."

Top senators received no advance word of the decision to support the South Vietnamese attack into Cambodia, and they learned of the commitment of American ground troops from the President an hour after it had started.

While the leadership was at the White House, 13 other senators were at the Capitol briefing Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said Richardson and Packard made clear that Cambodia has not invited American intervention or asked for U.S. combat troops.

For the first time in history, the Wisconsin Democrat said, Congress may force the President to reverse his course and withdraw from Cambodia.

But Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, had said earlier in the day "I don't think there is any actual, practical way we can in the near future to deny the President the power to order American troops into Cambodia."

The issue flared before the House Thursday afternoon during debate on an amendment to military procurement legislation that would bar the dispatch of combat troops unless the President determined it was necessary to protect U.S. lives in Vietnam.

Opponents charged the proposal by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., would have the opposite effect and was, in fact a grant of authority to the President similar to the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin Resolution used by the Johnson administration as the basis for sending American ground troops into Vietnam.

House leaders, uncertain of the outcome and anxious to await Nixon's speech, but off action until next Wednesday.

The Senate committee has before it a proposal by four senators led by John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, to bar U.S. military aid to Cambodia. There appeared to be some question whether this could be broadened to take into account the steps ordered by Nixon.

Another proposal by McGovern and Hatfield, to be considered when the procurement legislation reaches the Senate in a month or so, would limit U.S. funds in Southeast Asia to activities involved with the withdrawal of American forces.

Reactions ranged sharply from one extreme to another without regard for party lines.

"Pretty ghastly," declared Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y. "President Nixon's finest hour," said Rep. G. Elliott Hagan, D-Ga.

"It was a fine presentation," commented Sen. J. Caleb Boggs, R-Del.

"Reckless and sad," said Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis.

At the White House, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler reported a spot check of phone calls that lit up the switchboard for an hour showed them running 6 to 1 in favor of the President's course.

Williams Will Remain On Job

HEREFORD, Tex. (AP) — County Judge H. C. Williams, who has been asked to resign the post by the Deaf Smith County grand jury, said Wednesday he plans to remain on the job.

County Sheriff Ed Roberson resigned last week, saying he couldn't work with Williams.

The grand jury recently concluded an investigation into organized crime and drug traffic in Deaf Smith county.

Williams said he is not guilty of any malfeasance or misconduct in office and sees no reason why he should resign.

County commissioners will meet Friday to consider the applications for the sheriff's job.

Two Killed On Slick Road

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two persons were killed Thursday when a pickup truck and a mail truck collided on a slick highway in north Tarrant County.

They were Ernest Schwab, 65, and his wife, Elizabeth, 63, of Grand Valley, Colo.

Bill Bradford of Fort Worth, driver of the mail truck, escaped serious injury.

The accident occurred 14 miles north of Fort Worth near the Denton County line.

The Amazon River, with a volume of flow 11 times as great as the Mississippi's, spills from its mouth one-fifth of all the fresh water discharged by rivers into all the seas of the world.

Society May Amend Pleadings

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The National Audubon Society has until May 29 to amend its pleadings in a suit asking that shell dredging in San Antonio Bay be stopped.

Federal Judge Reynaldo Garza said he will allow the defendants until June 29 to file amended answers before he will rule in the suit.

Garza told the attorney for the society Wednesday that there is serious doubt that this case should be tired in federal court. He also told the attorney that he had a "hard row to hoe."

The Audubon Society has filed suit against five companies which are dredging shell in San Antonio Bay.

The society has leases on several islands adjacent to San Antonio Bay with the islands designated as sanctuaries for the preservation of wildlife in the bay and marshes.

Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, wintering grounds for the world's only wild flock of whooping cranes, is near the southern part of San Antonio Bay.

The society contends the dredging of San Antonio Bay, Hynes Bay and Guadalupe Bay cause sediment to be suspended in the waters of the bay.

The sediment is injurious to fish, oysters, food [illegible] and threatens the survival of the whooping cranes, the society said.

Also named as defendants in the suit are the commissioners of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the executive director and the deputy director for the department.

The defendants have asked the suit be dismissed on grounds that the federal court does not have jurisdiction.

TORNADO PATH — One of at least two tornadoes which ripped through Oklahoma City early Thursday left this stretch of shattered homes in its wake. Nearly every home on one side of this northwest Oklahoma City street was demolished while houses on the other side of the street appear virtually undamaged. Despite the wide area hit by the storms, there had been no deaths reported. Nearly ten hours after the twisters struck, 32 persons had been treated for injuries. (AP Wirephoto)

Finch Denies Welfare Reform Scrapping Plan

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Welfare Secretary Robert H. Finch has denied the Nixon administration is on the verge of abandoning its massive welfare reform plan, a disclaimer shared by the senior Republican on the Senate Finance Committee.

"I think they want to push it right on through," Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., told a reporter Thursday after speculation was raised during committee questioning of Finch that the plan might be scrapped.

Finch, who was called back for a third day to testify today, entered a quick denial that the administration was giving up on the program, already approved by the House.

Williams also said he cannot support the bill in its present form.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said at Thursday's hearing rumors were circulating the administration had decided to drop the plan. He said he tended to agree with the rumors because of what he called a lukewarm presentation by Finch and Health Education and Welfare Department officials.

Finch said the legislation is extremely complex and acknowledged it has been difficult to answer questions tossed at him, but he added his department will produce all the information requested.

A main flap in the hearing Thursday involved figures in the HEW presentation showing that, in some cases, a family could end up with less total income if the father or mother took a job than if the family head did not work and simply drew the expanded benefits.

The administration's bill sets a yearly $1,600 family income floor for a family of four and brings the working poor into the program for the first time. Other benefits push the amount higher. One of the main purposes of the bill is to increase the incentive to work to welfare recipients.

But Williams said the bill would do just the opposite in some cases.

For example, a Chicago, Ill., four-person family would have a total income from various benefits of $6,206 if the household head earned only $1,000 a year and a smaller total income of $6,109 if the father or mother had much higher earnings of $5,560, the HEW presentation showed.

A New York City family of the same size could have total income of $7,614 without any earnings at all, but only $7,743 if the family head had a job which paid $6,550.

The income in these cases included benefits from food stamps or commodities, medicaid, and public housing.

Williams said he believed one reason the HEW witnesses seemed lukewarm was that they had compiled this information for him on the eve of the hearings, and the figures probably surprised them.

Finch and his associates agreed the figures were accurate but insisted they were not typical cases.

For one thing, they said, New York has far larger supplementary benefits than most states.

They also emphasized that they had no jurisdiction over food stamps and public housing.

Beatles May Work Together Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Beatle George Harrison says the four members of the musical group may get together again.

Paul McCartney has announced his intention to break away and perform separately. Harrison, here on a business trip, commented Tuesday:

"Everyone this year is trying to do his individual album, but after that I am ready to go back to work together again."

In Washington, the State Department said Beatle John Lennon and his wife, Yoko, also were in the United States for business discussions. The department said they opened with talks in Los Angeles and would be in New York May 7-16.

Clarification Asked On Pornography

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top lawyers for Massachusetts and Texas have asked the Supreme Court to clarify existing obscenity laws and guarantee states the right to suppress newspapers and movies.

At issue in Massachusetts is the Swedish movie "I Am Curious (Yellow)," a sexually explicit and popular film currently showing in many U.S. cities.

Massachusetts Atty. Gen. Robert H. Quinn called the movie commercial pornography. He told the high court the three-judge district court in Boston is shielding theater manager Serafim Karalexis from prosecution and thus creating "the possibility of disrespect for the public at large."

Karalexis has been threatened with repeated prosecution if he tries to show the movie.

The U.S. Justice Department joined Quinn, arguing before the Supreme Court "society is concerned about morality and pornography." He said state legislatures have the right to "reflect the will of the people in banning" pornographic movies.

Also Thursday Texas Asst. Atty. Gen. Lonny F. Zwiener, argued that the high court should remove federal interference with prosecution of Brent Stein, publisher of the underground newspaper Dallas Notes.

Stein's printing equipment was confiscated during a raid by Dallas police during which officers also searched his apartment.

Set-Ups Sold But Liquor Free

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina restaurant owners haven't been able to get the legislature to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink but they are doing it anyway for all practical purposes—and legally, influential legislators say.

Using a state Supreme Court ruling that restaurant owners can possess liquor on the premises, they're selling set-ups and adding the liquor "free."

Candidates Wind Up Campaigns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cambodian war developments echoed loudly today in the Texas campaign for U. S. senator.

Robert Morris called for the use of troops from Free China against North Vietnam while his opponent in Saturday's Republican primary, Rep. George Bush, gave a qualified endorsement to President Nixon's use of U. S. fighting men against the Communists in Cambodia.

Both candidates for the Democratic nomination—Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Lloyd Bentsen—placed themselves on record against U. S. involvement, both speaking out prior to the President's televised speech Thursday night.

Morris, a Dallas lawyer and former congressional committee staff member, told a reporter in Dallas the Nixon decision "as far as it goes, is correct," but means abandonment of a Vietnamization policy.

"In 1967 or 1968 the Free Chinese offered to send six of their own divisions against an exposed Hanoi," Morris said. "This would have ended the war decisively. Instead of accepting that offer our State Department not only declined but further ceased the bombing of North Vietnam.

"Now the 250,000 (enemy) troops thus relieved from the pressure of defending the home front are committed to aggression in Laos and Cambodia, and are threatening Thailand. Therefore we must Asiatize the war and must allow the 600,000 Free Chinese troops to finish the job they've offered to do. The situation is now desperate."

In a statement issued through an aide in San Antonio after Nixon's address, Bush commented, "The President says this move is necessary for our troop withdrawals to continue and essential to the safety of our men.

"On the short-term, limited basis that he outlined, it will have my support. However, the Congress should be asked to ratify the President's action since Cambodian soil is involved."

Bentsen declared at a news conference in San Antonio, held before Nixon disclosed this country's military move, that he was "absolutely opposed to us having land forces in Cambodia or Laos."

It is illogical to exert a massive effort in Cambodia, Bentsen said, when U.S. policy, as outlined by the President, is a planned withdrawal of this nation's fighting men from Vietnam. He added that he opposed any extension of the war into Indochina.

Bentsen also raised the question of how the United States will be able to withdraw its troops from Vietnam if a substantial number of South Vietnamese are diverted to fight in Cambodia.

While Yarborough did not comment at once after the Nixon disclosure, the senator said only the day before that U.S. moves to help Cambodia defend itself were "exactly the way we got involved in Vietnam." He has criticized the U.S. involvement there repeatedly.

CHURCH NOTES

Trinity United Meth

Church School will begin at 9:45 a.m. A variety of opportunities for discussion and learning are provided through three adult classes at Trinity, and there are classes meeting for all age levels in the children's and youth divisions.

Worship will be celebrated at 10:55 a.m. The pastor, Bobby J. McMillan, will base his sermon, "Forgiveness and Love," on Luke 7:36-47. Choir will be directed by Mrs. J. M. Kayser.

The Senior High UMYF will meet at 6 p.m. and the Junior High UMYF will meet at 5:30 p.m. This Sunday evening a series of family night opportunities will begin with an "Open House With Our Children." The congregation is invited to share in discovering the what, the how, and the why of children's learning opportunities in Church School. It will begin with a film depicting a situation in which a child learns, and then a tour of the children's division will be conducted. The teachers and pupils of the children's division will be present in their class rooms to discuss with the parents and other members of the church what is going on in their particular class. This opportunity will begin at 6 p.m.

Other opportunities for the week at Trinity include: Wednesday, May 6 7:30 p.m. Choir Practice; 8 p.m. Koinonia Bible Study Group Host: The Billy Jack Hunters. The topic for discussion, led by Mrs. Ted Zeck, will be the Lord's Prayer.

Dunn United Meth

Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 9:30 a.m. worship service. The pastor, Bobby J. McMillan, will base his sermon, "Forgiveness and Love," on Luke 7:36-47. Church School will begin at 10:30 a.m.

First United Methodist

Morning worship service begins at the First United Methodist Church at 10:55 a.m. Dr. Hubert Bratcher will be the preacher for the morning service. Church School begins at 9:45 a.m. The Chancel Choir will be under the direction of Mrs. Bob O'Day and Mrs. Wayne Tyrone will be at the piano. Claude Donaldson will sing a solo.

The Junior High and Senior High UMY groups will meet at 5:15 p.m. As this is National Family Week, the church will have Children's Day at the evening service. The Wesley Singers will sing. Other children will also be a part of the program. After the covered dish dinner, a film "Hello, Up There," will be shown. This is for all age groups. Bring your family and begin Family Week together.

Tuesday the Preuitt Circle will meet at 9:30 a.m. On Wednesday the Ruth Circle will meet at 9:30 a.m.; the Guild at 7 p.m.; and the Chancel Choir at 7:30 p.m. On Saturday a Folk Festival will be in Lamesa for the District UMY meeting.

Calvary Baptist

Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. at Calvary Baptist Church. The morning worship will follow at 11 with the pastor, Rev. George Shoff, bringing the message. Training Service is scheduled at 6:15 p.m. and the men and women will meet at this same time for paryer. The evening service will follow at 7. Wednesday at 7 the teachers and officers will meet for lesson preparation and the mid-week prayer service is set for 7:45 p.m.

Visitation is at 7 p.m. Monday and Thursday and the ladies will visit at 9:30 a.m. Thursday.

The weekly radio broadcast, "A Voice From Calvary," will be heard over KSNY at 9:05 a.m. Saturday.

Visitors are welcome at every service at Calvary and a nursery is provided for the babies.

First Baptist

Sunday will be the first Sunday for Rev. Raymond E. Hall to be in the pulpit as pastor of First Baptsit Church. Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a.m. with the lesson taught over KSNY at 10:05 by Ben Brock sponsored by the CITA class. The morning worship hour begins at 11 with Rev. Hall in the pulpit and Joe W. Jones directing the music. Mrs. Nathan Mearse will sing "I've Discovered the Way of Gladness," and the adult choir will present "I Stand Amazed."

The Youth Choir will continue to meet at 4:30 to rehearse "Tell It Like It Is" for presentation May 13. There will be a snack time at 5:50 for the youth. Training Union and teachers and officers' meeting will begin at 6. The Youth Choir will sing Sunday evening for worship service at 7.

The Ladies of the WMU will meet at the church Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. for their general meeting. A special program will be presented, "While It Is Yet Day." Slides will be shown and there will be a display on Buddhism.

The menu for the Wednesday night supper is spaghetti, tossed sallad, garlic bread and cake. All meetings will be at their regularly scheduled time. Midweek prayer service will begin at 7:30 followed by the adult choir rehearsal at 8:15 p.m.

Colonial Hill Baptist

The Colonial Hill Baptist Church will have its regular services Sunday. Sunday School begins at 9:45 a.m. and the morning worship service begins at 11 a.m. The pastor, Miller Robinson, will bring the message, "Our Helper In the Christian Life," from Romans 8:26-27.

Sunday afternoon the church will have a shower for its nursery. Members may bring toys and books and other play things for the church nursery all day Sunday. Gifts may also be brought by the church office later during the week. This shower is planned to help furnish the church nurseries adequately. Some members may even want to give items that their child has outgrown. All contibutions are welcomed.

Training Union begins at 6 p.m. and the evening worship service begins at 7. In the evening worship service the film "Flip Side," will be shown. It is the story of a group of mixed-up teenagers who seek some answers about life, but who find the wrong ones. It is the story of permissive parents who substitute cars and money for parental discipline. All are urged to see this life-related film during the evening worship service.

Also, all day Sunday the men of the church will observe Baptist Men's Day. The day will begin with a breakfast at the Steak House restaurant at 8:30 a.m. Then the men will participate in the morning worship service by singing in the choir.

This special program will climax with a father-son banquet on Monday night. The RA's are sponsoring a supper for the boys of RA age and their fathers. Bicycle Safety Importance Cited

"There are probably more kids riding bikes on roads today than ever before, and our responsibility as adults, parents or interested citizens is to see to it that they continue to ride in safety," Chief Stephen Clark of the Snyder Police Department said today.

"Latest available statistics indicate there are more than 44 million bicycles being ridden by over 60 million people," the Chief continued, "and as the summer season approaches, more and more youngsters will be using them for fun, transportation and recreation. Motorists must share the road with them intelligently and courteously, and parents must make sure that they and their children live up to their own responsibilities."

Chief Clark advised parents to see to it that their youngsters' bicycles are thoroughly inspected by a knowledgeable mechanic. Brakes, lights, reflectors, chains, spokes, tires, gearing devices and other vital parts should be checked, adjusted and repaired, he said.

"Today's youngster leads an active life," Chief Clark said, "and uses his bike for practically everything. Obviously, the bike takes a lot of abuse. That's why a thorough preventive maintenance inspection is a good idea."

The veteran police official went on to say that parents have the additional responsibility of making sure their children know and observe safe cycling procedures.

"What many people don't realize," he said, "is that a bicycle is considered a vehicle, the same as an automobile, and that most of the same rules of vehicular traffic apply to bikes.

Therefore, such regulations as keeping to the right and observing stop signs, red lights, etc. apply to bicyclists as well as motorists."

"The bicyclist should consider himself a bicycle driver driving a vehicle in and with the stream of traffic. It is his responsibility to drive safely."

"Riding a bicycle, Chief Clark said, is part of the life pattern of American children. We should see to it that it remains a safe, pleasurable and healthy activity."

To help parents instruct their children in safe bicycle driving techniques, Chief Clark passed along the following safe bike driving code, received from the Bicycle Institute of America:

1. Obey all traffic regulations, lights, stop signs, etc.

2. Keep right. Ride single file. Don't weave in and out, swerve, race or stunt in traffic. Never hitch a ride on a truck or other vehicle.

3. For night riding, be sure to have a white light in front and a red light or state-approved reflector in the rear. Have a clear-sounding horn or bell to warn others of your approach.

4. Slow down at all intersections, look both ways, then proceed with caution.

5. Always give pedestrians the right of way.

6. Watch for cars pulling into traffic or for doors opening.

7. Don't carry passengers or packages that interfere with your vision or control.

8. Always use proper hand signals for stopping and turning.

HIGH COST OF STATUS TABOO

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT. Why will girls turn down $100-a-week jobs in clean, pleasant factories for much poorer paying and no easier jobs in an office? Because of the status taboo — an interesting point made by Robert Snelling in his book, "The Opportunity Explosion" (Macmillan, 1969.)

Among many examples which suggest a re-evaluation of job values, Snelling describes the man who made $14,000 in salary and commission in his first year of selling shovels and wheelbarrows wholesale. This job was passed up by a number of applicants, many of whom later took sales jobs for big "name" companies for $75 to $100 a week.

If it be Possible

let this cup pass from me" (St. Matthew 26:39).

Even the Son of God could not always have His way. The bitter cup did not pass. Even though Jesus prayed three times for the cup to go away, He always concluded with, "not as I will, but as thou wilt".

He drank it deliberately in a calm majestic mood, while God stood by in loving sympathy.

By drinking that most bitter cup, Jesus became the Saviour of the world. God gave Him strength for the suffering and through this heroic deed, Jesus became perfect.

People, all about us, every day, cry the same prayer, "let this cup pass from me". We tremble at the ordeal ahead. Our faith shrinks to know we must suffer such fate as St. Matthew spoke of. But suffering seasons us. It links us to God, for high adventure and noble service through His church.
