BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The overnight boat from Montevideo caught fire and sank in the River Plate early today. Most of the 421 persons aboard apparently were rescued. The coast guard said as many as 400 may have been picked up.

In a scene of horror, 338 passengers and 63 crewmen dove into fog-blanketed water to escape the flames that broke out on the Ciudad de Asuncion (City of Asuncion) at 2:15 a.m.

The coast guard said two navy patrol boats, the Murature and the King, rescued the survivors. They estimated the number on the Murature was 250, and on the King 150. A dozen other vessels—navy and civilian—also churned to the rescue.

Deep fog prevented some craft from reaching the disaster scene. The coast guard said doctors,

Slim Chance For Change In Weather

By The Associated Press

Texas weather was hot and sultry Thursday. The Weather Bureau said there was little chance of a change before the weekend.

Skies were cloudy in the northern half of the state and gradually turned to clear in the south.

Some isolated showers fell along the upper Texas coast before dawn. There was widely scattered thundershower activity along the Red River from Wichita Falls to Paris and Mt. Pleasant. These showers were heaviest in the area from Lake Texoma to Paris.

Forecasts called for readings in the 90s and 100s in most sections with widely scattered afternoon and evening showers.

A heavy rain near Huntsville in southeast Texas late Wednesday night was blamed for a four-car traffic accident in which 4 persons were killed and 6 injured.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Dennis Heeth of Houston and two students at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville: Michael Orr, 22, of Gladewater and Winston Churchman, 22.

The Highway Patrol said the station wagon in which the students were riding collided with a car driven by John Quinn of Houston about 7 1/2 miles northwest of Huntsville on State 19. The station wagon entered into the Heeth car. A fourth car, unable to stop in time, hit the wreckage. The driver, Billie Wayne Shepard of Houston, was not hurt.

Man Starts Fire, Then Shoots Self

BROWNWOOD (AP)—A police chief Cleburn Spain said Lloyd Albright shot himself to death in front of officers today after tossing cans of gasoline into a residence and setting it afire.

The house, which contained a beauty shop owned by his estranged wife, was damaged but the blaze was put out before the police arrived.

Spain said Albright, a carpenter, fired several shots at random as police approached and then turned the weapon on himself.

Junior College Survey Panel To Continue Its Operations

The Junior College Survey Committee, a sub-committee of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Long Range Planning Committee, has announced that it will continue its operations.

In a statement issued today, the committee said that other courses of action may be open, and that these will be investigated. The panel held its first session since the State Board of Education turned down the Scurry-Fisher County junior college proposal on July 1.

"We wish to express our sincere thanks to the many organizations and individuals throughout Scurry and Fisher Counties in particular, as well as those in Nolan, Mitchell, Borden, Garza and Kent Counties for their interest and support in our recent effort to direct the project calling for a junior college district comprised of Scurry and Fisher Counties," the committee's statement said.

"Because of the significant amount of time and money expended in this effort by our committee, as well as numerous other individuals and groups, and because of what this committee feels is a genuine desire on the part of the people of the area, particularly Scurry County, for the opportunity to make use of a fully accredited junior college facility, this committee proposes to continue its operations. We feel that there are other courses of action on this matter which probably are open to us. We shall look into them as thoroughly as we can. In fact, we have already taken initial steps on one of them. As soon as something definite develops on any of these possibilities, we shall continue our practice of informing the public as thoroughly as we can."

"As to the suggestion that a petition for a junior college district from an area larger than Scurry and Fisher Counties might receive favorable attention from the State Board of Education, we can only reiterate that we have already spent several months trying to do just that. If this is now the desire of some of our neighboring counties, it would seem to us that the next move is theirs."

Fair Employment Bill Has Committee Okay

WASHINGTON (AP)—A fair employment practices bill questioned by President Kennedy as part of his civil rights package was approved today by the House Education and Labor Committee.

The bill, which faces severe obstacles in reaching a vote in the Senate, was approved by a voice vote. Several dissenters were heard.

It would create a five-member commission and an office of administration of the bill. The commission would be empowered to issue orders banning racial discrimination in employment.

New Board Begins Rail Dispute Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new presidential board assigned to make one last effort at unifying the railroad work rules tangle before a 19-day strike expires, picked fact-finding as its main job today. But the members agreed they will mediate if they can.

If the chance for mediation does not appear, their task it to get together a report on which to base the legislative settlement proposed by President Kennedy as he will make.

The new board, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, was named by Kennedy in connection with his dramatic announcement late Wednesday, less than eight hours ahead of 12:01 a.m. deadline, that the showdown between the carriers and their on-train workers had been put off to July 29.

In the interval the board—and Congress if necessary—are to try their hand.

The board, which is required to make its report by July 22 and thus give Congress a week for any further action, met today for its organizational session, with representatives of the railroads and the operating unions also on hand.

Wirtz said at the start that the group's primary function will be to prepare a report and not direct settlement actions.

However, he agreed with George Meany, AFL-CIO president and member of the board, that there is nothing to stop mediation efforts if the chance comes up.

There are no plans for further negotiations between the parties under government auspices, Wirtz indicated.

The key point in obtaining the delay for the board's work was agreement by the railroads to hold off on application of the new manpower-cutting work rules. The unions said they would strike at once if the change were made.

Kennedy said on July 22 he will send his own recommendations.

tions and the special committee's report to Congress. This would mean Congress would have just one week to come up with legislation to prevent a strike if an agreement is not reached.

Meanwhile, Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, named chairman of the new special committee by Kennedy, set up a morning meeting today with representatives of the rail carriers and unions.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, vice chairman of the committee also will be on hand.

The meeting was called as a planning and organization session and follows last on the continuous round of labor-management government meetings here since June 17.

Kennedy's four other appointees, all of whom gave their consent to the White House Wednesday to serve, were not expected to be present at this inaugural session.

They are Joseph Block, board chairman of Inland Steel, Chicago; George Harrison, AFL-CIO president and long-time president of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks; AFL-CIO President George Meany; and Stuart T. Saunders, board chairman of the Norfolk & Western Railroad.

British Stunned As Queen Boored

By NORMAN BADDERLY

LONDON (AP)—British officials were stunned today that Queen Elizabeth II was boored by demonstrators protesting the state visit of King Paul and Queen Frederika of Greece.

Communist, anarchist and ban demonstrators shouted invective at the royal party as it entered the left a gala theatrical performance Wednesday night.

Elizabeth, visibly shaken, drove off alone and unwilling to Buckingham Palace instead of attending a government reception with the royal visitors and her husband, Prince Philip.

The demonstration was organized by the "Committee of 100 Against Tyranny" to demand freedom for what they call Greek political prisoners. The Greek government calls them murderers and traitors convicted of crimes in the civil war that broke out at the end of World War II.

Premier Panayotis Pinielis of Greece saw one of the chief instigators of the demonstrations, Mrs. Betty Ambrosides, today.

He promised to give King Paul her appeal for release of her husband, Yorgo, from prison.

Mrs. Ambrosides said she would take no further part in the demonstrations.

Mrs. Ambrosides, 45, is a British Communist, a school teacher, and wife of a Greek Communist who has spent 18 years in prison.

"At this moment, plans stand to continue with demonstrations here tonight," said a spokesman for the Committee of 100 after learning of Mrs. Ambrosides' decision.

A spokesman for the rail unions said that two of the five top rail union officers definitely would be present. They are Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Louis J. Wagner, president of the Independent Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen.

The heads of the three other rail unions left Washington late Wednesday. They are to be represented by top aides at today's meeting.

Kennedy's appointment of the special study committee, the climax of a day of intense activity in the White House, was his second surprise announcement in the rail dispute in two days.

On Tuesday the president had repudiated arbitration of the work rules dispute by Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, a former labor lawyer and Kennedy's former secretary of labor.

Salt Water Pollution Hearing On

AUSTIN (AP)—A Callahan County producer told a Railroad Commission examiner today that elimination of salt water disposal pits in four West Texas counties would bankrupt many independent oil men in the area.

If T. Wagley testified at a hearing called to consider an order to eliminate the disposal pits in Shackelford, Stephens, Eastland and Callahan counties near the Hubbard Creek Reservoir, the pits are used to evaporate salt water produced along with the oil.

Wagley said if the pits are abolished, "it would just have to plug up wells out and get rid of them." Wagley said he has seven leases in the Callahan County regular field which has 25 wells that produce four to six barrels of salt water per acre per day.

He also presented examiner Gord N. McNitt, commission geologist, with a petition signed by about 100 small producers in the area.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

XACAL, Mexico — You probably won't believe it but this is really a town pronounced Xacal right here on the flat Yucatan Peninsula.

And the Maya Indians who live around here come up with some highly enlightening things about the Other World. They are experts at this because the information has been handed down from generation to generation.

It is a well known fact, for instance, that people who die without paying their debts have to run around in the form of a turkey or deer until one day their creditors go hunting and shoot them dead. As soon as the meat is sold and the creditor makes enough to recover the debt, the condemned soul is released and goes to the Good Place.

And some of the more sinful people become frogs when they die and have to live sealed up in a tree or rock until a curious person just happens to come along and cracks things open. Then the frog changes to a soul and soars up to the Happy Hunting Ground.

For ordinary respectable folks the process is different. They don't know they are dead for a while and go right on living with their family like nothing happened.

But comes the third day and they begin hearing their names mentioned in prayers and see everyone weeping so naturally they become a little suspicious.

And when they find themselves the guest of honor in a funeral procession, they probably reach out for the nearest relative and ask, "Say, what's going on here?"

The relative regards him tearfully and says, "You are dead Cousin Halsey and we are on our way to bury you."

So Halsey moans and says, "My gosh, and I thought I had problems before."

Also, very few of the Maya dead are buried in coffins. They always return on the Day of the Dead, which is November 1 or 2, my speedometer is busted so I can't keep track, and a fellow in a coffin would have to carry it around all day so it would get pretty heavy after a while.

An awful lot of Mayas will not permit doctors to live among them because there would be more illness and of course more people passing to their rewards.

Now there is a certain wisdom to this philosophy and it can easily be applied to the Abney household.

A few weeks ago I got a terrible pain in my handkerchief pocket every time I sat down for a meal so the Lady from Puebla said I probably hated the cooking and should see a psychiatrist.

But being the type I am, I went to a regular doctor and after hearing all the symptoms he said it was some kind of digestive thing and wrote out a prescription for 18 dollars worth of medicine.

Well, I got home and by the time I had taken a pill from the fourth bottle, the Lady from Puebla came in and announced she had found a nail in my chair and pulled it out. No more pain.

We put all the bottles in our walk-in medicine closet where everybody goes to take the first thing within reach when they get a pain. One day we're going to open a pharmacy.

But you can see the Mayas aren't as dense as they sound and if somebody is thoughtful enough to notify me the day I die, I will go along peacefully.

Kent Youth Winner Of 4-H Award

COLLEGE STATION. — Elvis Spradling of Kent County and Cecelia Ann Drabek of Ford County today were named to represent Texas at the 1963 sessions of the American Youth Foundation Leadership Training Camp, Stony Lake, Michigan. The 1963 season is the 20th for the camp conference type program.

In making the announcement, Floyd Lynch, state 4-H club leader, said Miss Drabek would attend the camp session beginning July 29 and ending on August 11 and that Spradling would attend the August 12-25 session. Each, he added, will receive a full camp scholarship from the Ralston Purina Company and travel expenses from United Gas.

Daily camp activities are divided between class work and recreation.

The major objective of the training is to assist young people to discover and develop their best selves, to help them make constructive life adjustment, and to better equip them to guide others.

Lynch explained.

Both are veteran 4-H members and college students. Miss Drabek attends the University of Dallas and is majoring in chemistry while Elvis attends Rice University and is majoring in physical education. ## Argentina General Election Shows Split Of Peronists

By FRANK N. MANITZAS, BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The Peronists in Argentina are very much divided. Results of the general election Sunday emphasized the split in their once powerful ranks.

Many believe the chasm stretches to the main in Madrid—Juan Domingo Peron. The exiled former dictator is acting less like a leader, and more like a figurehead.

Peron's latest thoughts came Wednesday via his private secretary, Juan Manuel Algarbe.

Voicing Peron's reaction to the election results, he said:

"Neither peace nor tranquility can be expected at this time in Argentina, but a new period of fighting and violence. With all the legal roads closed to the Argentine people, only the road to an insurrection remains."

Strong words from a man who fled from military rebels in 1955 and would not fight for his 10-year old empire.

"Similar threats came just the other day from a tough textile union boss, Andres Framini."

"Every day in every place, there will be one order: To cause the most damage to the enemy."

To Framini, the enemy is the government.

Peron also attacked the election as "a farce destined to perpetuate the power of the forces that have governed the country for the past eight years."

Known Peronists were banned as candidates for executive offices. Dr. Raul Madera, the brain surgeon who pushed for equal rights for the Peronists, was knocked out of the 1963 race by presidential decree. Other candidates backing the Peron-Frontist National and Popular Front also were eliminated in a methodical campaign by the government.

And the Peronists' Justicialista movement kicked out Dr. Madera, calling him "a traitor to the cause." This was but one of many explained maneuvers in the political world Peron left behind.

The order from Madrid and Peronist chiefs in Argentina for last Sunday's election was "vote blank." About 15 per cent of the voters obeyed. In 1961, there were about 28 per cent who voted the Peronist line under similar orders.

Antonio Cafiero, a Peronist economic strategist, said that many workers—the labor force is predominantly Peronist — felt the "blank vote" was a negative vote. The high man in the presidential race, Dr. Arturo Illia, would not talk specifically about the Peronists but in effect promised them a free role in elections if the electoral college chooses him president. He said outlawing of parties would be halted.

Opening the polls to the Peronists was Frontist's crime in the eyes of the military. They are not likely to let Illia, do the same thing.

Lawrence, who has resigned from the Salvation Army, was sentenced to 12 months in jail for indecent assault. He announced he would appeal and was freed on bail.

101-Year-Old Negro Dies In Oakland

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Lydia Flood Jackson, 101-year-old daughter of a pioneer California Negro leader and the first Negro to attend Oakland public schools, is dead.

Mrs. Jackson was the oldest native of Oakland at the time of her death Monday. Her father, Isaac Flood, born in South Carolina, was freed in 1838 and came to California during the gold rush with his wife, Elizabeth.

Mrs. Jackson's mother founded California's first school for Negroes in 1854. In 1971 her father led a successful fight to have Negro children admitted to Alameda County public schools.

His daughter led the way, attending the old John S. Smith School and later night classes at Oakland High School. Mrs. Jackson also was a long-time leader in the California Association of Colored Women.

Rail Crisis 7th In JFK's Series

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has had seven big crises since he entered the White House. Some he won, some he didn't. Two were with labor and industry. But they look like just temporary disturbances compared with the others in the tormented fields of race and communism where total solutions are a long way off. Just nine days from now Kennedy will have been President 2½ years. He had no illusions about the future when he took office Jan. 20, 1961.

In his inaugural speech that day he said American problems would "not be finished in the first 1,000 days" or in the life of his administration. He was talking mainly about the problems ahead with communism. Nowhere in that inaugural did he mention the racial problem which would burst over him, if he fore-

It raised prices, contrary to Kennedy's wishes and understanding, after a new contract in which steelworkers got some benefits but no pay raise. Kennedy denounced the steel-makers. It was the power of the presidency against the steel industry. The industry quaked and quit and dropped the price boost. Luckily for Kennedy, all his crises didn't happen at once. The fourth one arrived Sept. 30, 1962. It was a test of wills with Ross Barnett, governor of Mississippi. The will of the governor against the will of the court and the President was a poor match. Barnett tried to defy a U.S. court order to admit James Meredith, a Negro, into the University of Mississippi. Kennedy countered with U.S. marshals and federal troops. Two men were killed in a riot against the marshals. But Meredith got through.

This was followed by Kennedy's most hair-raising crisis. Oct. 22, 1962. After watching Kennedy do nothing in the Cuban and Berlin do-nothing episodes, Khrushchev may have figured him for a soft touch. He slipped nuclear Cuba. It might have meant war but Kennedy called his hand and said: Out. Khrushchev waddled off with his missiles. Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace, learning nothing from Barnett's debacle, tried his own test of wills and invoked Kennedy's sixth crisis on June 11, 1963. He defied a U.S. court order to admit two Negroes to the University of Alabama. Kennedy federalized Alabama's National Guardsmen and marched them up to Wallace. Wallace wilted. The Negroes got in.

Kennedy met his seventh and latest crisis Wednesday, just a few hours before the railroad unions were to begin the railroad strike. The railroads, upheld by a presidential commission, a presidential board and the Supreme Court, eventually were going to lay off about 40,000 railroad firemen and about 25,000 other rail workers. The lay-offs were scheduled to start today. The unions said they'd strike at once. Kennedy got both sides to agree to do nothing until at least July 29. Before then, he said, he would ask congressional action. The only purpose of such action would be to prevent any strike at all. A modern railroad passenger coach costs about $200,000.

Sorghum Acreage Soars In Texas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas farmers have planted in excess of one million acres more to grain sorghum this year than in 1962. The Agriculture Department reported Wednesday. The increased grain planting—an obvious result of tighter federal restrictions on cotton and wheat acreage—could lead to production of more than a quarter billion bushels this season. The department said 6,453,000 acres had gone to grain sorghum compared to 5.1 million in 1962. The Agriculture Department forecast Texas' corn production at 24.1 million bushels compared with 32.6 million in 1962. Wheat production this year was 36.3 million bushels, down from the 43.7 million a year ago, the drop attributable to both the drought and federal acreage restrictions. Oat harvest was 15.9 million bushels, almost identical with the previous season. Rice production was estimated at 15,572,000 hundredweight, while it was 15,801,000 last year. Nationally, the Agriculture Department forecast this year's production of corn at 3,849,133,000 bushels and of wheat at 1,110,578,000 bushels. The corn crop estimate, the first of the year, compared with 3,643,615,000 bushels last year and 2,551,952,000 for the 1957-61 average. The crop is being grown under a program offering payments and price supports to farmers reducing their feed grain plantings to help reduce surpluses. The wheat estimate is 26,483,000 bushels more than last month's forecast of 1,064,095,000 bushels. It compared with 1,091,787,000 last year and 1,225,262,000 for the five-year average. Wheat is being grown under acreage allotments and marketing quotas and a voluntary acreage reduction plan. The indicated national production of other major crops compared with last month's forecast where such was made, last year's crop and the five-year average, respectively, included: Oats: 965,736,000 bushels; no forecast last month; 429,495,000 and 433,898,000. Flaxseed: 30,831,000 bushels; no forecast last month; 31,902,000 and 27,248,000. Rice: 63,789,000 hundredweight; no forecast last month; 64,458,000 and 50,026,000. All has: 109,418,000 tons; no forecast last month; 121,034,000 and 117,235,000.

Ambassador Reports From India

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Checking the population growth is the most urgent problem in India, retiring U.S. Ambassador John Kenneth Galbraith said Wednesday. There is also a great margin for increase in the productivity of Indian agriculture, Galbraith told a final news conference. The envoy, who is returning to Harvard economics teaching, said the most intense activity of his life was in the weeks following the Chinese attack on India last autumn. The ambassador leaves on the homeward trip Friday. Chester Bowles takes over as ambassador next Wednesday.

Chamber Of Commerce Sees Rapid Growth Since 1890

(Editor's note: This is the 2nd of a series of articles on the history, growth and activities of the Chamber of Commerce organization. It is written through the cooperation of the staff of your local C. of C. with the primary purpose of enlightening the public as to the purpose and ultimate goals of the Chamber of Commerce.)

Since 1890, the growth of the chamber of commerce movement has been so rapid that it would not be an exaggeration to estimate that over 4,000 are now in existence. The growth has been more than one of numbers for, in the place of the old boards of trade and offices where "wild claims" to fame were fostered and nurtured, has come the realization that the chamber is of prime importance to the civic development of the community. Between 1912 and 1925, so much emphasis was placed on civic problems that many chambers began to assume the character of civic associations. Their membership was all-inclusive of every element in the community and their program was largely one of promoting public facilities.

By 1925, it became apparent that balance was a necessity in the chamber-of-commerce program. The chamber of commerce as we know it today has been de-defined in many ways. Among the more familiar definitions are: "Chambers of Commerce are men working together to make their community a better place in which to live and make a living." "Chambers of Commerce are voluntary organizations of the business elements of a community and others who share their viewpoint, organized for the purpose of improving the conditions under which trade and industry are conducted and to promote the general welfare of the community."

But regardless of which of the preceding definitions you prefer, or whether you have one of your own, it must be general rather than specific because the structure and organization as well as the program of work differ widely. The chamber in a small rural community will have a membership made up primarily of merchants and farmers with a complete absence of industrial representation. This chamber will undertake activities that confine themselves to farm-city relations. The larger community will have industrial representation and programs of a somewhat broader range while the city of metropolitan stature will have complete representation in its membership and program. Regardless of the differences of

WIN!

Beginning with one store in 1953, by January 1, 1956, Shop Rite Foods was operating nine Piggy Wiggly stores, and at that time three more stores and the Piggy Wiggly franchise were purchased in Amarillo from the Boston Family. These three stores have since been replaced with new, large, modern stores.

Fantastic growth sprang from this small beginning, and soon Piggy Wiggly customers in other large areas of Texas began enjoying savings gained by volume buying, and Piggy Wiggly began to be recognized as the place to save on nationally famous brands. These facts coupled with the fact, friendly service within the stores made the Piggy Wiggly famous in the west.

Help us celebrate our 10th Anniversary by registering daily for these valuable prizes. No purchase is necessary and you need not be present to win. Only residents of Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma, 18 years or older may participate. Employees of Piggy Wiggly, its subsidiaries and their immediate families are not eligible.

Bronx Diner Is Explosive Scene

EDITOR'S NOTE—CORE pickets and white teenage hecklers have made a Bronx diner an explosive scene for five straight nights. Rocks have been hurled, shots fired, police nightsticks swung. An Associated Press reporter who has been covering the disorders presents the temper and views of the opposing sides, and pictures the neighborhood scene.

By JAMES RYAN

NEW YORK (AP)—A weird picture of racial picketing, peering adults and teenagers looking for kicks has emerged from civil rights demonstrations at a Bronx hamburger spot.

For five explosive nights, Negro and white pickets at the White Castle Diner have drawn thousands of hecklers.

Pilot Shot While Flying In Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A pilot and his rich employer were in a hospital today, suffering from bullet wounds suffered while flying to Mexico City from Monterrey.

Pilot Alfonso Arditia told police his boss, Monterrey businessman Ernesto Lopez Fonseca, fired five shots at him as they flew about 150 miles north of Mexico City.

Arditia was wounded in the abdomen and shoulder. Fonseca was wounded in an arm and elbow by ricocheting bullets, the pilot said.

Fonseca's wife and four children were on the plane. Attendants said they were suffering from nervous shock.

The pilot brought the private plane in for an emergency landing.

Prisoner Figures Out Simple Escape

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A 240-pound prisoner figured out a simple way to escape from jail. He tried the booking cage door off its rollers—with his hands.

Deputies said that's how Harold Allan Roberts, 26, of Hollywood, made his way out of West Hollywood sheriff's station on Wednesday night.

Deputies had just booked Roberts on suspicion of armed robbery, burglary and possession of narcotics.

Shots have been fired. Police nightsticks have swung. Arrests have been made. Hundreds of kids have flung rocks.

Eric Robertson, chairman of the Bronx Action Committee of the Congress of Racial Equality, which is sponsoring the picketing, said: "We anticipated some trouble all right, but nothing like this from the teenagers."

"We have to keep demonstrating to make what we're doing known to the white community," the pickets are demanding that the chain which owns the diner hire more Negroes.

A white teenager, pointing to his Confederate cap, said: "We said a heck to get into Freedomland (a Bronx amusement park) to get these."

Some spectators scream epithets at the light oval of pickets.

Police barricades protect the pickets from hecklers. They also mark off a walkway where no more than 25 persons may enter the diner at one time, by police order. The tiny place is always filled.

But the diner is losing money because some of those who fill it don't buy. Some like the attention they're getting.

Outside, television floodlights give the neighborhood an air of a movie premiere.

On and on the pickets march. Their signs say: "Freedom Now," "No Employment, No Hamburgers."

This is a middle-class neighborhood long established. It is mostly Italian-American, but Jews and Irish-Americans live there too.

"This has turned a lot of my friends into savages," said John Mulligan, 21. The rock throwing was done by the immature, he said, because "they think just because you're a Negro you're no good."

"They the pickets got no right standing out there," said a teenager in a car parked near the diner. "They aren't doing anybody any good."

Car, Truck Industry Promoted

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A series of tax reductions and exemptions were decreed Wednesday by the government, seeking to help develop the Mexican car and truck industry.

Reductions up to 100 per cent in fiscal taxes and complete exemption of import duties were declared by the ministries of the treasury and trade and industry for equipment, raw materials and semi-elaborated products which are to be used in the manufacture of cars in Mexico. The government also will shorten to five years the amortization period for the capital invested in these fields, so as to reduce costs to a minimum.

Computer Makes A Match

By HENRIETTA LEITH

NEW YORK (AP)—In Baytown, Tex., about 25 miles from Houston, lived the Rev. Lemuel G. Conway, a retired Methodist minister and a widower.

The Rev. Mr. Conway had his real estate business and his purebred cattle to keep him busy, but he was lonely.

At Pasadena, Tex., 15 miles on the other side of Houston, an attractive widow, Gladys Coover, was lonely, too, even though the nursery school she had run for years kept her busy.

Today the Rev. Mr. Conway, 61, and his bride, the former Mrs. Coover, 62, are in New York on the start of their honeymoon — and they have an electronic computer machine (Univac) to thank for their match.

"I wanted to marry again," he said, "because I was used to a family and had a nice, big house. I knew single fellows like me could have a lot of trouble with housekeepers, so I figured I'd get one of my own. When I saw the ad in a Houston paper, the proposition appealed to me."

"I'd been a widow since April, 1962," put in Mrs. Conway, "and a friend told me about Meritronics, Inc. But I wouldn't go with her—I went up alone."

After the Rev. Mr. Conway had provided the machine with a history of himself—religion, business interests, likes, and dislikes and attitudes—he was shown five pictures.

"I numbered them one to five," he said, "and I investigated all five. I eliminated two on the telephone, and eliminated two others after visiting them. Then I telephoned Mrs. Coover and she said she couldn't see me until Saturday. I thought she was kind of sassy over the telephone, but I went to see her on Saturday."

Mrs. Coover had turned down two prospects because statistics from the machine showed they were too short. So the Rev. Mr. Conway was her first real prospect.

The Rev. Mr. Conway gave her an engagement ring four weeks after that first meeting. They were married Tuesday.

Friday, they will fly to Paris and the next day go to Madrid. The Rev. Mr. Conway has five children, 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mrs. Coover has one child and three grandchildren.
