Two Games End Cagers' Season

Olton High School's basketball teams close out their home season here Friday night when they entertain teams from Dimmitt.

Next Tuesday night, the Mustangs and Fillies end the season with a double header at Muleshoe.

Both Olton teams will be looking for victories, with the Fillies needing a pair of wins to end district play at 4-4 and the season at 18-10.

The Mustangs would like to win either of their games in order to escape a winless season in district play.

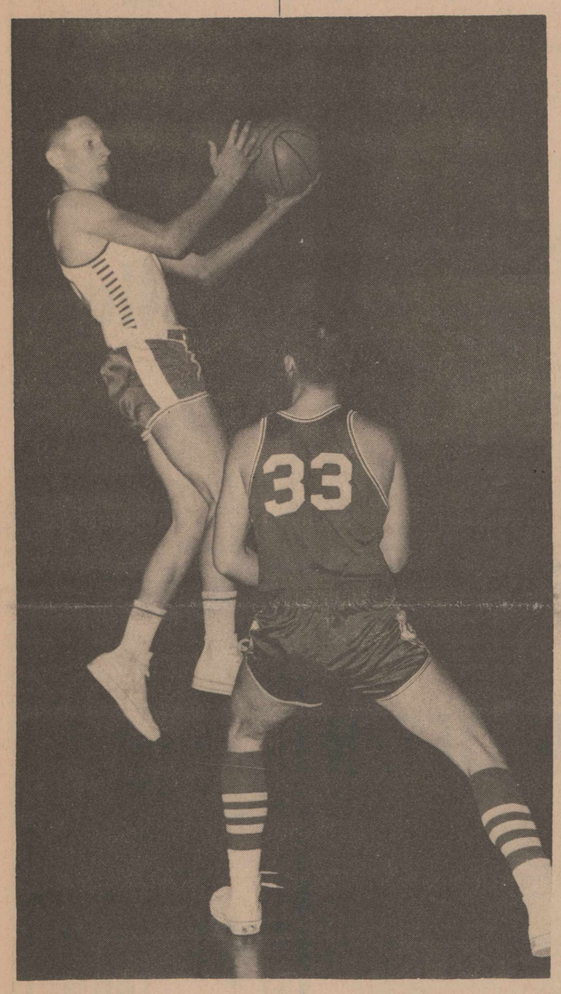

Both Olton cage units went down to defeat in games with Friona here Tuesday night, the Fillies losing 52-47 before icing in the contest in the last minute.

Gayle Nicholas led Olton scoring with 34, while Cheryl Poteet had nine and Tommy Witten four. Charlotte Nettles led Friona with 22.

Gladys Thomas led Olton rebounders with seven, while Linda Price had five, Deanna Farrar four and Maxine Schaefer three.

A big second quarter for Friona was the trick that told the tale in the Mustangs' game. It was 14-14 at the end of the first period and 39-22, Friona, at the half.

George Jones and Joe Priest led the Mustang attack with 14 points each, while L. Buckley scored 23 for Friona.

TWO POINTS!---Mustang cager George Jones goes up for a shot during the Mustang's 74-56 loss to Friona here Tuesday night. A hot second quarter won the game for the Friona team.

Lamb County Tax Values Surveyed

For the first time since 1957, the Government has made a full-scale survey of property tax values in Lamb County and in other areas throughout the country.

It was undertaken by the Census Bureau in connection with its 1962 Census of Governments. As a result, data is now available on the 67,449,000 pieces of real and personal property that are carried on local tax rolls in the United States.

In Lamb County, it shows, the gross value of local property came to $26,507,000, as compared with the total on the books in 1957, $24,346,000. Deducting the portion that was tax-exempt locally, the net amount was $26,219,000.

This constituted the tax base upon which local tax rates were applied, but it was not the full market value of the property involved. Normally, property is assessed for tax purposes at far below its actual value.

The County assessment roll, which was the basis for tax payments due in 1962, consisted of real property in the sum of $15,919,000 and personal property of $10,300,000.

The survey shows that the property tax continues to be the major source of local government financing, accounting for nearly 90 percent of all revenue at that level.

It lists $367 billion in property available for taxation by county agencies. Not included in this total are buildings belonging to hospitals, schools and churches with tax-exempt status and public buildings.

Taxable property values have soared nearly 30 percent since the 1957 survey, the Census Bureau reports. This rapid growth is attributed in large part to new construction in the period, both residential and commercial. To some degree, also, it is due to higher assessing of property.

Feed Grains Program Sign-Up Opens Friday

OLD TIMES RECALLED---When Mr. and Mrs. Artie Erb of Pleasantville, Iowa, returned to visit friends here the past few days, they recalled many experiences they had when they first came to the Olton area in 1909.

Payment Rates Are Revealed

Payment rates and sign-up period for the 1963 Feed Grain Program in Lamb County were announced Wednesday by L. D. Aten, county ASC office manager at Littlefield.

Farmers may sign up for the program from Friday, Feb. 1 to March 22, Aten said.

For grain sorghum, minimum payment in Lamb County on diverted acres will be $9.46, while the maximum will be $23.65. Price support rate is $6.88.

While the voluntary diversion program for feed grains is generally the same as in 1961 and 1962, a few provisions are different, Aten said.

The principal one, he said is the price support payment which will be available to farmers participating in the program in addition to the regular price support loans and purchase agreements.

On feed grain farms with total base acreage of more than 25 acres, the payment on the first 20 per cent reduction from the base will be the minimum payment rate.

On any acreage diverted above the minimum requirements, payment will be maximum farm payment provided the intended acreage signed up is above 20 per cent, Aten said.

For small farms with total feed grain base acreage of 25 acres or less, on which the producer diverts the entire feed grain base acreage, the payment rate will be the maximum payment for the farm.

The average payment per acre for Lamb County for the following commodities is:

GRAIN SORGHUM--Diverted acres minimum $9.46, maximum $23.65, price support rate $6.88.

CORN--Diverted acres minimum $5.29, maximum $13.23, price support rate $3.78.

In addition, participating farmers (except those on small farms who divert all of their feed grain base acreage) will receive price support payments on the normal production set for their farm on the planted 1963 feed grain acreage, without regard to whether they feed their grain, market it, or place it under price support, Aten said.

The payment will be figured on the farm's normal yield regardless of the actual yield on the farm in 1963, he added. This payment will be 18 cents per bushel for corn, 14 cents per bushel for barley and 16 cents per bushel for grain sorghum.

Total production of feed grains on a participating farm will be eligible for price support at a loan rate of approximately $1.71 per hundred for grain sorghum. The past two years there has been a limit of pounds that could be placed in price support loan.

Advanced payment will again be available at the time of sign-up. Final payments under the diversion program and price support payments will be made after compliance has been determined, Aten said.

Farmers will be notified in the near future of their base acreages and payment rates for diverted acreage, and their farm's normal conserving base.

The intended acreage to divert when application is made to participate in the 1963 Feed Grain Program will have to be the acreage when measurement is completed, or the farm will not be a participating farm even though the 20 per cent minimum is met, Aten explained.

The conserving base is the average of cropland acreages in 1959-1960 which were devoted to summer fallow, legumes for cover or grazing, or other conserving uses.

In order to qualify for payment under the feed grain program, an acreage equivalent to the conserving base must be devoted to conserving uses (in addition to the diverted acreage) in 1963, he said.

Early Days In Cotton Growing Related By Pioneer Residents

BY AMY TURNER

"I had to go 45 miles to take my cotton to the gin. I used four horses on three wagons."

Hard to imagine?

Not for Artie Erb, one of the first men to grow cotton in Lamb County.

Mr. and Mrs. Erb, now of Pleasantville, Iowa, are currently visiting in Olton with old friends.

The Erbs came to Olton in February of 1909, the same year that the town held its first birthday.

Erb grew some of the first, if not the first, cotton here in 1919.

"Ihad nine acres of cotton and got three big bales off of it," he recalled this week.

Mrs. Erb also recalled some of her experiences as a "pioneer woman."

"There were a lot of things I had to get used to," she said.

"I guess," she added laughingly, "if I had known about some of them, I never would have gotten off that train in Plainview."

She recalled the time she killed a rattlesnake with 11 rattlers just outside her bedroom window.

"I'm not a brave woman," she commented, "in fact, I'm just deathly afraid of snakes."

"But her (her husband) was gone and I had my two young daughters there so I just killed it. In fact, I chopped that snake all to pieces."

Mr. Erb noted that when he got home, he found she had chopped one of the fangs off and it took him quite some time to locate it.

"I was afraid one of the children would step on it," he said, "so I had to find it. Boy, she really took that snake apart."

The Erbs had a stock farm about six miles north of Olton. They noted that they had to come to 'town' for all their groceries and supplies.

"Olton then consisted of a courthouse, a church and two grocery stores with the post office in one of the stores," Erb said.

"Oh yes," he added, "we also had a windmill and a blacksmith shop. Wouldn't want to forget those."

They said that all denominations attended the church and Mrs. Erb, a Methodist, taught a Sunday School class there for about 20 years.

"Sometimes," she laughed, "I didn't know whether I was a Baptist or a Methodist."

She also recalled the trips she and her little daughter made to town in a buggy.

"We had five gaps to open," she said, "and at each one, I would get down, lift my daughter out of the buggy, open the gap and get back in."

She said the reason she took her daughter out of the buggy was that she was afraid the wind or something might scare the horse and he would run off.

"Well, one day that horse took off," she said, "and there we were. Of course, we were alright, but the horse came on into town and everyone knew who it belonged to."

"They came running out to look for us and...oh, my," she concluded expressively.

Erb told about the time in 1919 when he took 190 head of cattle to a dipping vat six miles away.

"It was a real pretty day, about 75 or 80 degrees," he noted. "That afternoon, a black norther boiled up and we started back. I went on ahead to drive the cattle around a house."

He said the next thing he knew he couldn't see anything or anybody so he just "gave that horse his head" and went on home.

"Those cattle were scattered all over eight or ten sections," he said. "Took me all the next day to round them up. And cold! It was so cold that a heifer froze to death that night."

The Erbs were the first individuals to own a telephone exchange here. They purchased it in 1916 and had the switchboard in their home.

Mrs. Erb said she and her daughter mostly ran the switchboard.

"Sometimes we had some help," she noted. "Mrs. Arthur Nafzger worked for us."

"It was really sort of fun," she added.

The Erbs had two daughters, Flavie, now deceased, and Mrs. Hal Hartrick (Neva), now of Temple. Both girls graduated from Olton High School.

Mrs. Erb was one of the first women to help hold an election here.

Recalling some of their experiences in the then barely developed area, Erb grinned slyly and said:

"And they call it the 'good Old days.' "

MRS. JAMES STIGERS

Granbery-Stigers Vows Said In Ceremony Held Sunday

The Main Street Church of Christ was the scene Sunday afternoon at 3 for the wedding of Miss Charla Beth Granbery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Granbery, and James Loyd Stigers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Stigers of Denver, Colo. Pastor of the Lockney Church of Christ, Bro. S. A. Freeman, performed the double-ring ceremony.

Lovely in a gown of white imported French lace over net and taffeta, the bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. The gown, styled with fitted bodice featuring a portrait neckline and brief sleeves, was complemented by lace gauntlets. The bouffant skirt was of lace over shirred tulle and taffeta swept into a train.

A diamond-shaped crown of crystal teardrops and pearls held her ballerina-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of feathered carnations, red roses and stephanotis.

The wedding music was presented by the Broadway Church of Christ Chorus, Lubbock. Their selections were "Because," "I Pledge My Love," "Oh Promise Me," "Be With Us Lord" and the traditional marches.

An arrangement of palm greenery with cathedral tapers formed the background of the church. Spiral candelabra and brass candelabra holding gleam lights flanked either side of the altar. Aisles were lit with gleam lights.

Mrs. Don Gregory of Abilene was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Deryl Machen, Charlotte Loveless, Mrs. Guy Welch of Abilene and Miss Judy Ogletree of Lubbock. Linda Stigers, Denver, sister of the groom, and Paula Jones were the candle lighters. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of American Beauty red peau de soie fashioned with basque bodices, elbow-length sleeves and bell-shaped shirts. Sabrina necklines were accented in back by classic bows and long tapered streamers. Circlets of red peau de soie with circular veils of illusion formed their headpieces. Each carried a nosegay of white feathered carnations centered with red roses. Candle lighters wore identical dresses as the bridesmaids.

Bill Stigers of Denver, Colo. was his brother's best man and Wade Machen was the ring bearer.

Groomsmen were Guy Granbery, brother of the bride, of Petersburg, Lawrence Marchman and Phil Spring of Houston and Buzzy Maxwell of San Antonio.

Don Gregory of Abilene and Jimmy Hodges of Lubbock were the ushers.

The wedding ceremony was followed by a reception in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L.E. Silcott. The serving table was covered with a white net cloth over taffeta, accented with small white satin bows and streamers. Wedding cake and punch were served from crystal appointments.

In the reception houseparty were Kay Birdwell of Ferris, and Judy Ellison of Crosbyton, who presided at the table. Others in the houseparty were Mrs. E. C. Jones, Mrs. Paul Burrus, Mrs. C. S. Silcott, Mrs. C. A. Cox and Mrs. L. L. Holyfield. The bridal couple was assisted in the receiving line by their parents.

For the wedding trip the bride chose a pastel blue wool suit with a mink collar. She added a matching blue satin pillbox hat and brown accessories. She complimented her ensemble with a corsage of roses from the bridal bouquet.

On their return, the couple will be at home 2410 Church Street, Abilene.

The bride graduated from Olton High School and is now a senior in Abilene Christian College. The groom, a graduate of West High School, Denver, is also an ACC senior, majoring in marketing.

The bride is a member of the W Club, Ko Jo Kai Social Club, Alpha Chi and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. The groom is president of his fraternity, Phi Delta Psi.

Out-of-town guests for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Stigers and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stigers and Kathy, Mrs. J. H. Stigers, all of Denver, Colo. Miss Carol Fields of Broomfield, Colo. and other guests from Littlefield, Dimmitt, Lubbock and Abilene.

Planting Date Experiment Data Released

Research information coming out of experiments conducted on date-of-planting grain sorghum at the High Plains Research Foundation indicates that May 15 is the best-planting date. Hybrids planted May 15 have produced higher yields with less damage from the sorghum midge and birds than hybrids planted earlier or later.

A grain sorghum date of planting test was initiated in 1961. The purpose of this test was to determine the effects of planting dates on yields of early, medium and late maturing varieties of grain sorghum. Despite the early planting damage from birds, and the late planting by midge, the results clearly demonstrate some of the advantages and disadvantages of the various planting dates.

Six hybrids, two each of early, medium and late maturing types were used in the test. The planting dates for all six were April 25, May 15, June 5, and June 25, at a seeding rate of 10 pounds per acre for each. The entire test received a sideaddressed application of 100 pounds of nitrogen per acre on June 26. The April 25 and May 15 fields received four irrigations totaling 15.63 acre inches. The June 5 and June 25 fields were watered three times for a total of 12.68 inches.

Bird damage on the plots of the first two dates of planting was heavy because there was no sources of food for birds in the area. This amount of damage would not occur in large fields so can be discounted.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex.----Rep. James Cotton of Weatherford--one of the most militant members of the 58th Legislature--is examining the flight records of state-owned planes.

Cotten is concerned about what he considers frivolous use of state property.....namely, three airplanes which the Department of Public Safety is supposed to use for transporting officers to distant scenes of crimes, or to attend law enforcement meetings without missing too many duty hours.

Cotten says he has discovered these planes have been used: For rushing a representative home for the weekend; for ferrying a state senator home to make a speech; for transporting the state librarian to a monument on the coast "to get ideas on how to set up displays."

Cotten wants to know "How much did these junkets cost?"

State pilots haven't answered, but Austin airport authorities guess the cost at $26 to $75 an hour--depending on which plane is used--plus pilot's time.

Now the representative from Weatherford is talking about grounding all passengers except those who are entitled to use state planes for necessary, official business.

He plans to introduce a bill that would forbid legislators from hitch-hiking rides aboard the planes unless they were on official business.

PARENTAL SUPPORT BILL--A bill which would make relatives responsible for the welfare of the needy old people has been introduced by Rep. J. Collier Adams of Lubbock.

Patterned after the "Montana Method," the bill calls for contributions to the support of citizens of Old Age Assistance rolls and disabled persons receiving state aid.

The "responsible" relatives could be the assistance recipient's parent, aunt, uncle, niece, nephew, spouse, brother, sister, son, daughter or grandparent.

Proposed law would make a person earning $201 a month and supporting only himself pay $5 a month toward a relative's care. If he made $376 a month and was supporting two people, he'd have to pay $20.

"I just believe," Representative Adams said, "that the commandment 'Honor thy mother and father' should be upheld." He said he also figures that the most needy people could get larger benefit checks if others received semi-support from their families.
