Tobacco Taxes—
Unfair and Unefficient—
When Moody Comes—
A 300 to 1 Shot—

TEXAS needs five million dollars to maintain state government in 1927 and 1928.

"This is your problem, meet it," the governor said, in effect several months ago to Claude Teer, chairman of the house appropriations committee.

Mr. Teer went to work. He schemed and figured and conferred. The result is the proposed tobacco tax.

THE last session refused to pass the tobacco levy, principally because is would revive the antiquated and despised nuisance tax. It would do more than this. It would introduce class legislation. If you tax tobacco, why not chewing gum, or silk stockings or automobile tires?

ALRIGHT, call it class legislation, Mr. Teer will tell you. Call it what you please, indicating that by any other name it would serve his purpose and that is to provide this sorely needed five millions of dollars. It's either a tobacco tax or a state income tax, according to Mr. Teer.

WHAT, then, is the solution? The West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, which convenes here on the 15th day of this month will attempt to answer the question. Or, at least, it will express sentiment of thinking West Texans on this much-discussed legislation.

This newspaper is against the tobacco tax because we believe the loss to Texas towns in real estate values, through bankrupt cigar stores throughout the state, will wipe out all the money collected from the sale of cigarets and cigars; it is against the tax because it is an unfair tax, and because it will revive the nuisance tax—suitable only as a war-time emergency measure.

DAN MOODY comes to this city for the big convention, his first visit to Wichita as governor. He will go out to Lake Kemp and here see an emblem of Pat Neff's $300,000 topographic survey program. The big lake grew out of this aerial discovery of West Texas possibilities with water. Now the conservation leaders have held a conference and have requested Governor Moody to resume the topographical work. The governor, after a minute study of the Wichita project, will see for himself what the so-called theorists have proven to be a 300 to 1 shot—that is, making land produce a value of $300 where it produced a value of only $1 before.

INCIDENTALLY, one Texas governor saw fit to ridicule this now famous topographical survey as "tomfoolery," and he discontinued it. That should be all the more reason for Moody's revival of this great work that other sections of West Texas might develop under the riches of these irrigation ditches just as the Wichita Falls area is developing.

PEOPLE continue buying food and clothing, paying house rent and investing in new automobiles, despite the gloomy stories you hear in the street about the price of oil kicking the bottom out of things. Don't stop buying. Conditions are not nearly as bad as painted. If they were, there would be a bread line, according to the howls you hear in some quarters.

The state of one's mind is responsible for one's actions. If you want buyers, don't startle them into needless economy over a slump in the price of oil that will only last a few months, at the most.

HOW many people in Wichita Falls are idle, because of the price of crude? Oil field workers, Yes. But how many clerks, lawyers, doctors, carpenters and others are without jobs and salaries? There's your story in a nutshell. Many of those affected by present conditions do not reside in the city and those who do live here will not be affected by this temporary condition. They will continue to spend. They know these slumps wear themselves out and that normal conditions follow in due time.

IN HOUSTON, as in Wichita Falls, there is considerable talk of the city manager form of government. Houston, unlike Wichita Falls, has seen the need of a more efficient form of city government. Our officers are good and true men, all loyal and trustworthy and efficient. No doubt, many of them would favor the city manager plan, once they are acquainted with its many good points. The retiring mayor of Dallas, for instance, advocated a change to the city manager plan. His heart is with his city and he does not want it to be handicapped with an old-fashioned form of municipal operation when others the enjoying the advantages of a much more efficient plan of city hall operation.

MOODY WANTS RESIGNATION OF BORGER MAYOR

Governor Orders Rangers To Return to Panhandle Oil Boom City

MAY OUST MAYOR

Moody Hints at Possible Quo Warranto Suits By His Office

AUSTIN, May 3. (AP)—Dissatisfied despite numerous "optimistic statements," the administration tonight prepared another campaign to restore law and order to Borger, Panhandle oil town.

Resignation of the Borger mayor and at least one of the city commissioners is desired by the governor it was learned and reports persisted that his wishes will be carried out.

Two-Hour Conference.

A two-hour conference today between Governor Moody and assistant Attorney General Galloway and various Texas rangers resulted in Moody's ordering them back to Borger to continue investigation of alleged municipal election irregularities.

Moody was non-committal about the conference, except to say that quo warranto proceedings might be instituted against various officials.

No official comment was available on the report from Borger that the mayor's resignation had been tendered.

LEGIONNAIRES ASK MOODY TO NAME NEW MAYOR.

AUSTIN, May 3. (AP)—American Legionnaires at Borger today in a telegram requested Governor Dan Moody to appoint Gilbert Frazier, commander of the Borger legion post, as mayor to succeed John Miller, who is expected to resign.

Moody's office force said such an action is not in the power of the executive and said that Borger city commission should name a new mayor to fill the unexpired term.

BORGER MAYOR ASKS SUCCESSOR BE NAMED.

BORGER, May 3. (AP)—John R. Miller today informed City Commissioners by wire from Midland, Texas that he would tender his resignation as mayor of Borger to be effective next Monday, May 9 and the two commissioners indicated that they would accept it. Miller suggested that they consider now the appointment of his successor and asked that they select a man acceptable to all good citizens, saying that dissension would be detrimental to Borger. The commissioners say they have no one in mind for the office.

First Borger Mayor.

Miller, the first mayor of Borger, served since the formation of the town last autumn and was overwhelmingly re-elected last month. He was indicted several weeks ago by the Hutchinson county grand jury on a charge of accepting a $200 bribe in December 1926, from C. E. Van Noy, one of his opponents in the mayoralty race for protection of a gambling house operated by Van Noy.

North Texas Oil Chokes Pipelines As Overproduction Scissors Price

AUSTIN, May 3. (AP)—Proposed changes in the oil and gas conservation act will be discussed here Saturday at a meeting of oil and gas company representatives called by the Texas railroad commission. Among subjects to be considered will be restoration of the penalty for violating a rule of the railroad commission, authorization of unit operation of newly discovered pools, and a law on the ratable taking of gas by pipe lines.

Oil producers of Texas have lost $150,000,000 in the last eight months because of over production of petroleum, Judge H. E. Bell, chief of the commission's oil and gas division, said today. He announced the meeting and said the commission desires attendance of fee owners of oil and gas lands, royalty owners, oil and gas representatives and anyone else interested.

The North Texas fields, which produce much of the 600,000 barrels of oil taken from Texas wells daily have choked up the available pipe and storage facilities, and in some instances actual shut downs in production have resulted Judge Bell said.

With a view to relieving the situation, recommendations of Herbert Hoover and the national conservation commission will be discussed Saturday. These include a proposition that oil operators be permitted to pool their interests and regulate production as needed, instead of maintaining units of sharp competition, regardless of the demand.

U. S. WILL ACT SOLO IN CHINA

Coolidge Defines Policy Of Peace For America

WASHINGTON, May 3.—President Coolidge today definitely committed the United States to a policy of peace and absolute independence of action in the Chinese crisis.

This was stated at the White House, following a cabinet meeting at which the situation was discussed and a decision reached to clarify the American position.

It marks the final break between this government and the four powers on the proposal for joint military action to force Eugene Chen and the radical Cantonese to make amends for the Nanking outrages.

At the same time, it was stated that it is even doubtful if the United States will join the four powers in a second joint note to the Chen faction.

It was stated that the presence of American warships would hardly be necessary in China if a stable government existed and that this country is most anxious to withdraw as early as it safely can do so.

Insofar as protection of foreigners is concerned, the United States was officially declared "to be ready and willing to co-operate now as in the past.

The entire diplomatic and consular corps in China is understood to be radically opposed to the policy as outlined today. It revives a rumor that American Minister John Van A. MacMurray is to resign. This was denied.

RUTH SNYDER'S DAUGHTER PUT UP AS WITNESS

Lorraine Snyder, 9, Takes Stand in Trial Of Her Mother

GRAY ALSO WITNESS

Co-Defendant Tells Story Of Illicit Relation With Accused Woman

NEW YORK, May 3. (AP)—Henry Judd Gray, the little East Orange, N. J., corset salesman, charged with murdering Albert Snyder, magazine art editor, took the stand in his own defense today in the Snyder-Gray murder trial.

Erect, voice well pitched, his diction unusually good, the "lovable little cuss," as Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, his paramour and co-defendant called him in her letters, soon was launched into a story of events leading up to the murder of Albert Snyder. It was a story that followed the outline given in the opening made for him by his chief of counsel, Samuel L. Miller.

Blames Mrs. Snyder

He fixed upon Mrs. Snyder the conception of a plot to kill her husband for his insurance, which in case of death by accident would net her as beneficiary almost $100,000. He began a picture of Mrs. Snyder that revealed her a woman predatory in her love, pursuing him by letters and by telephone calls, and as his companion at numerous night club parties and at hotels. He pictured her a subtle mentor in the intrigues that preceded the killing, and told of her introducing insurance and murder into their conversations.

Gray took the witness stand late in the day, after Mrs. Snyder's defense had rested. He followed Lorraine, Mrs. Snyder's 9-year-old daughter, as a witness. Little Lorraine was asked whether it was light when her mother waked her on the morning after the murder. She said it was light, and, in response to another question, said she ran to a neighbor's house for help. She then was excused.

Daughter on Stand

Mrs. Snyder surrendered the witness chair to her daughter after occupying it for more than 12 hours. Of that number, eight and one-half hours were devoted to a severe cross-examination. She fixed upon Gray both the plot to kill her husband and the actual murder.

The state, through the persistent questioning of Assistant District Attorney Charles Froessel, brought Mrs. Snyder's testimony to evident confusion in its last phases. One contradictory reply followed by the accusation that she was lying brought opposing attorneys near blows.

When she resumed her seat beside her counsel, Mrs. Snyder was in evident distress but did not cry. She watched Lorraine intently as the child, a mite almost lost in the great witness chair, added her a bit of testimony to the thousands of words the perspiring court stenographers have taken since the trial started.

Mrs. Snyder Weeps

When Gray took the stand and began giving intimate details of their meetings, Mrs. Snyder wept, dabbing at her eyes with a white handkerchief rolled in a ball in her hand. She hung her head during some parts.

Gray, after telling of his early life, his marriage, and giving the age and birthplace of his own daughter, described his meeting with Mrs. Snyder. Their relations transgressed their marital vows on the second meeting, he said.

Mrs. Snyder, he related, accompanied him to the showroom of his firm one night and he there fitted her with a corset. Mrs. Snyder was weeping with her head on her arms and her arms resting on the counsel tables as he told of this.

Although Attorney Miller brought details from Gray under the handicap of Gray's forgetfulness, which Gray explained was oft times due to his having been drunk when events occurred, before court recessed for the day. Gray had disclosed that on a visit to Mrs. Snyder's home in Queens Village he found her ill and fainting.

Explains Condition

He explained her condition was due as a neighbor had told him, to the fact that Albert Snyder had been told of Mrs. Snyder's going out with a man. This man was Gray, but Gray was certain that Snyder never knew it was he who accompanied his wife on the night in question.

This was the first testimony that showed Snyder's having had knowledge of her indiscretions. Mrs. Snyder in direct and cross examination said her husband never suspected her.

Austin Gains $500,000 in Ten Months Under City Manager Plan

Overdraft of $66,000 Changes Into Cash Surplus of $425,000 Under Business Regime

By WILLIAM J. WEEG
Written Especially for The Record News

AUSTIN, May 3.—From an overdraft of $66,000 to a surplus of $425,000 in all departments of the city government in 10 months. That is the final story of the operation of the city manager plan of government in Austin, a city of 50,000 people, since the inauguration of the business form of municipal administration here on July 1, 1926.

This financial picture of the city's situation stands out in greater relief in the statement by City Manager Adam R. Johnson that for the first time in the history of the city government, Austin's municipal treasury had a surplus on the first day of January, 1927, whereas in past years an overdraft ranging upward of $150,000 existed on the first day of each year.

How it Was Done

How was this remarkable financial showing accomplished? City Manager Adam R. Johnson attributes the success of the administration in this particular to the organization—or rather the reorganization—of the municipal government to comply with the city manager plan of government.

First of all it would be well to point out that Austin is being governed by a board of five city commissioners, all serving the city without any compensation or remuneration. One of these commissioners is the mayor whi is the ceremonial officer of the city and the head of the city commission. Under the direction of the city council the city manager, whose salary is $10,000 a year, functions as the administrative officer of the city and to him all employes of the city government and all department heads are responsible.

Experienced Men Kept

The administration of the city is divided into seven divisions, namely, finance, legal, water and light, police, fire, public health and welfare, and public property. Each of these departments is headed by a director with a salary ranging from $2500 to $5000 a year, depending on the department which he directs.

When Mr. Johnson became city manager on July 1, opponents of the city manager plan of government entertained fears that employes of the city working under former administrations would lose their places with the city. But such has not been the case in Austin's city government. More than two-thirds of the employes who served under preceding adminis-

HIKE IN STATE TAX RATE SEEN

35-Cent Maximum Needed For Necessary Income

By Universal Service.

AUSTIN, May 3.—An increase of the ad valorem tax rate from 23 cents to the constitutional limit of 35 cents for the next fiscal year and 25 cents for the second fiscal year will be necessary to meet recommendations of the senate finance committee for the $44,827,861 needed for the support of the government during the next biennium.

The committee's statement, released today, reveals that of the $44,827,861 recommended, all but $39,427,861 must be paid out of general revenue funds.

Court Costs Heavy.

The senate's budget experts figured that $2,449,714 is needed to run the judiciary system for the first year and $2,443,905, the second year.

The eleemosynary institutions, $4,790,605 is recommended for the first year and 4,176,885, the second year.

Under the heading, "Departmental Bill," $5,783,319 is recommended for the first year and $5,383,996, the second year.

These appropriations do not include $3,000,000 aid for the rural schools of the state.

Turning to the estimated receipts for the first year, the senate committee estimated the state coffers would be enriched $23,282,661 the first year and $21,93',661 the second year, or a total of $45,584,420 for the two-year period.

Based on Higher Tax.

This estimated revenue, it was pointed out, was based on an increase in the ad valorem tax to the constitutional limit of 35 cents on the $100 property valuation for the first year and a decrease in the tax to 25 cents for the second year.

The house appropriation committee has not yet compiled its report.

LIQUOR SEIZED

$11,000 Rum Haul Made By Sutton Sheriff.

SAN ANGELO, Texas, May 3. (AP) A truck loaded with 400 gallons of alcohol was seized by W. B. Hutcherson, sheriff of Sutton county, three miles from Sonora at 2 o'clock Tuesday morning and the driver taken to jail. No charges have been filed. The driver said he left Eagle Pass at noon Monday and that he was going to Coleman. Bootleg prices on the liquor value it at $11,000.

ADDED DANGER DEVELOPS AS LEVEES BREAK

Water Rushes Into Fields Above Vicksburg As Dykes Crumble

DISEASE IS FEARED

Crowded Refugee Camps In Danger of Pestilence From Congestion

VICKSBURG, Miss., May 3. (AP)—A crevasse 160 feet wide has occurred in the Louisiana side of the levee of the Mississippi river at Milliken's bend, 2 miles north of Vicksburg. Major John C. H. Lee, engineer in charge of the third district, said late today after an airplane flight over the place where the water was rushing through the dyke.

Waters from the crevasse were moving south and eastward toward the line of the Vicksburg, Shreveport & Pacific railroad and threatened to cut off that rail connection to the west and to interfere with the electric power lines which serve both Vicksburg and Jackson, Miss.

Tallulah, Delhi and Rayville, on the V. S. & P. railroad, and scores of small communities lie in the path of the advancing waters.

Government engineers here were trying to determine the speed and direction of the flood movement by airplane surveys.

The Milliken bend crevasse waters will move southward along the basis of the Tensas river and Bayou Mason to join the Ouachita and Black rivers and empty into the Red river valley.

Residents of this territory have been preparing for many days for floods either from a breach in the Mississippi defenses or from the lower Arkansas river crevasses.

Men, timber, sand bags, and revetment equipment were being hurried from Vicksburg to the scene of the breach tonight.

SCORES OF TOWNS PREY TO FLOODS
By Universal Service.

NATCHEZ, Miss., May 3.—Scores of towns and villages in Northeastern and Central Louisiana today fell prey to flood and backwater from swollen rivers, as levees facing larger communities and protecting hundreds of thousands of square miles of land, reeled under the pressure of raging torrents.

Two fresh breaks in levees were reported in Louisiana during the afternoon. The Millikens bend levee went out at 2:40 and later the Dickport levee, protecting the United States experimental station for cotton pests, broke. The Millikens bend break will flood Madison and Tensas parishes.

Twenty cases of malaria were discovered at the Natches refugee camp today. Only one victim of the menace, however was in bed.

Out of the 907 refugees in the camp there 10 cases of enteritas, one pneumonia, two typhoid and 78 miscellaneous ailments in addition to those having malaria.

Refugees Pour In.

About one-third of refugees pouring into Natches from Concordia and Tensas parishes in Louisiana across the river are white men, women and children.

Louisiana is fighting with her back to the Gulf of Mexico, forced to give ground on a vast front to the inexorable floods whose stupendous damages are magnified as additional levees snap under the strain. With the main swell in the Mississippi river today passing Vicksburg, Miss., thousands of men worked day and night along the levees from that city south frantically trying to bolster the barriers against the onrushing monster.

Texas Cowboy Ropes Panther

ALPINE, May 3. (AP)—A story of roping a vicious panther, one of three killed in one day is being told by James E. Casner, owner of Rancho Lometa, near the border in the Big Bend section.

Many goats had been killed in the vicinity during the last two months and Tom Burdett, foreman of the ranch and a typical West Texas cowboy had set traps to catch the marauders. While making his rounds, he found a panther caught in one of the traps. Hearing a noise, he looked around and discovered another large one nearby. Having no guns he took his rope and lassoed the huge animal. A lively struggle ensued, but finally the man emerged victor.

Later another panther was encountered, making three accounted for in one day, considered a remarkable record here.

Fifty goats have been killed on the ranch lately, four of them being killed by one panther in a single day.

The troops captured 126 horses as well as guns and ammunition.

COLLEGE MERGER

Plan to Move Southwestern University Broached In San Antonio

By Universal Service.

SAN ANTONIO, May 3.—Consolidation of Southwestern University at Georgetown and Westmoorland College, with the location for the combined schools in San Antonio, is provided for in plans announced today by officials of the two institutions after a conference here. According to the plans, Westmoorland College would be the junior unit.

Southwestern University, it was said, has an enrollment of about 2000 students and the cost of removing the university to this city and erecting new buildings was estimated at $1,000,000. By Rev. Edward R. Sanford, president of Westmoorland College.

HAMBONE MEDITATION

Letters To Wichita Woman Tells Tragedy of Flood Stricken Home

Chaotic conditions prevailing in the flooded regions of the Arkansas river were described in a letter received by Mrs. O. G. Baker, 2200 Buchanan street, from her brother-in-law, R. Bohenan, who lost all of his possessions except the clothes he was wearing in the flood.

Mr. Bohenan said that the levee broke in five places in front of his house. Within 15 minutes the water had gained such a height that it was necessary to take Mrs. Bohenan and his family away in row boats.

The row boats took the Bohenan family to a high knoll.

Extracts from the letter follow:

They are rescuing all they can. . . . There was a man drowned within a hundred yards of R——, and he couldn't get to him. . . . We got out with the clothes we had on—nothing more. . . . You ask if I am a Christian. If I hadn't believed in God, I couldn't have gone through what I did. It was awful there on the knoll, about 10 feet of land, and water as far as the eyes could see. Horses and mules braying, hogs squealing, cows bellowing and negroes crying and screaming.

"Bud has worked every day on the water. . . . I am uneasy about him, but I guess he will get out all right. . . . I have been under care of physician for last week. He says I must be operated on if I am to get any better, but if I can get bread for my babies I can live as long as I can, and death would be a relief."

Mrs. Baker's sister is Mr. Bohenan's wife. W. D. Taylor, a brother of Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Bohenan, is employed at Albany, Texas. Mr. Baker is employed by the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad in Wichita Falls.

After the election of officers, President McFall took the chair presided for the remainder of the meeting. He was unanimously elected. Mr. McFall expressed his thanks for the confidence and responsibility the members had bestowed upon him. Mr. Nolen, retiring president, also expressed his sincere thanks to each member for the hearty support given him, and urged each to continue to co-operate with Mr. McFall. O. E. Brown, new vice president, stated that he would do all within his power to co-operate with Mr. McFall for the making of the greatest year of the association.

Mr. Peyton and Mr. Randall also expressed their thanks for the confidence the members in reelecting them.

Death Claims Harold Wright

Harold B. Wright, former manager of the basement of the Miller-Ferguson company, and well known in business circles here, died at his home at 1707 McGregor street Tuesday night at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Wright had been in ill health for more than four months.

He is survived by his widow, three sisters, Mrs. Joe Eno, Toledo, Ohio; Mrs. J. T. Gilmore, Little Rock, Ark.; Mrs. Frank Jones, Woodburn, Ky., and one brother, Will Wright, of Fort Smith, Ark.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

General Hospital Staff Named

Organization of the staff of the General hospital was made at a meeting of physicians of the county Tuesday night at the hospital. Dr. J. W. Fowers was named as president, Dr. C. W. Stevenson, vice-president, and Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, secretary. The executive board of the hospital is composed of the three elected officers and Dr. W. P. Lowry and Dr. J. A. Heyman.

The staff of the hospital will work for the upbuilding of the institution and suggest improvements. It is a distinct organization from the hospital board, which is concerned with the operation of the institution. Organization of the hospital staff is in line with the general improvements made during the last few months.

Dr. C. R. Hartsook, president of the hospital board, made a short talk at the opening of the meeting. Other physicians discussed various needs of the institution, and expressed gratification at the improvements made. The staff will meet the fourth Tuesday night in each month.

Discussion of Manager Plan Features Meeting of Realtors

Curlee to Present Advantages of System at Meeting Next Week; Baldridge Elected President

Officers for the ensuing year were selected Tuesday by the real estate board at a meeting held in the Kemp hotel.

William Baldridge was elected president; J. M. Baber, first vice-president; John Monroe, second vice-president; L. E. Junell, secretary; A. L. Huey, the retiring president, and Roscoe Staton, members of the board of directors. The installation of new officers will be held at the next meeting, scheduled for Tuesday.

The election of officers preceded a debate between Walter Curlee and B. D. Sartin, relative to the city manager form of government.

Curlee Tells Advantages.

Mr. Curlee, who was scheduled to talk in favor of having a city manager in Wichita Falls informed the board that he had not understood he was to make an address Tuesday and as a result was unprepared. However, he made a short talk and announced that he would reply to Mr. Sartin at the next meeting.

During his address, Mr. Curlee asserted that the city manager form of government was an economical means of administering the affairs of the city.

"The city is a business proposition," he said, "and you never see a big business operated only by a board of directors, such as the city council. There must be a directing head, responsible to the board of directors but with the authority to transact affairs of the city."

Mr. Curlee pointed out that the city's business could not be transacted successfully by men who only devoted a part of their time to the city's affairs.

Would Save Huge Sums.

Mr. Curlee compared the city of Wichita Falls to a corporation with 60,000 stockholders.

"In every corporation of this kind," he said, "there is always a directing head responsible to the board of directors. And that is the way it should be in this city."

A city manager would save the city from $100,000 to $200,000 a year, Mr. Curlee asserted.

Speaking against the city manager form of government, Mr. Sartin declared that a city manager would be a "football in politics."

"A city manager," Mr. Sartin said, "would be subject to removal by the city council and if it seemed to be 'good politics' he would be removed by the councilmen."

Mr. Sartin as an example cited the resignation of the city manager at Pasadena, Cal., who resigned because, he said, the council of his city interfered with the successful administration of the city's business because of politics.

That city manager forms of government have only been installed because cities were in bad financial straits, was the contention of Mr. Sartin.

"In other words," he said, "a city manager is nothing more or less than a receiver for a city. Everybody knows that when a receiver is appointed for a business that it is not good advertising for the establishment and neither is it good advertising for a city to appoint a 'receiver'."

City Manager Plan Prospers

trations are now in the service of the city, ten months after the new form of government was started.

"Right there is the reason for the success of our government and of the city manager plan in Austin," City Manager Adam R. Johnson stated. "By retaining the employes who knew conditions at the city hall and who were versed in city government, we were able in six months to effect a complete reorganization of municipal administration, a task I thought would require a year or more to accomplish. When the new administration, a group of business men who had never engaged in politics or held any political office, assumed power here, they were 'green' concerning the workings of government. Had we gone out and secured an entirely new force, this city would not today have the efficient and successful government that it has today."

That is Mr. Johnson's idea of the outstanding accomplishment of the city manager plan of government in Austin.

$500,000 Cash Gain

But from the viewpoint of the citizens the gain in finances of approximately $500,000 in 10 months and transforming a city from practical bankruptcy to a large surplus is perhaps the outstanding accomplishment.

When the city manager commission began its service on July 1, 1926, it found an overdraft of $30,000 existing in the general fund of the city. An overdraft of $26,000 in the water and light department was also shown in an audit made last September at the request of the new commission. In addition to the overdraft, the water and light department carried on its books delinquent accounts aggregating $24,000, some as far back as 1915.

Practically four-fifths of the money alloted to the various departments in the 1925 budget had been expended during the first six months. The new council faced the problem of running the city for the last six months with one-fifth of the money appropriated available.

The city council courageously began the task despite the huge financial obstacles. At the end of six months, on Dec. 31, 1926, the affairs of the city were administered in such a business-like manner that the general fund showed a cash balance of $8000.

Surplus Created

In creating this surplus, the city affairs were administered during the last six months of 1926 at a saving of $84,000 over the first six months. In addition a number of notes made by a preceding administration were retired and $10,000 in delinquent light and water accounts were collected as well as $100,000 in delinquent taxes.

Any city can show a cash balance where money is all going into the treasury and economics are predicted in disbursemenst, some persons will say!

Yet the people of Austin have benefited by the fact that Austin has in 10 months gained in its financial balance $500,000. In previuos years the city was forced to pay six per cent interest on overdrafts ranging from $150,000 upwards. Today the city of Austin is drawing interest at the rate of 2 1-2 per cent on a cash balance of $425,000.

HEY, FISHERMEN!

AUSTIN, May 3. (AP)—Ten thousand rainbow trout, 100 of them having died in shipment today were received by the state game, fish and oyster department from a federal hatchery at Neosho, Mo.

The fish will be distributed to Texas hatcheries for propogation and eventually will be released in streams and lakes.

BAR APPROVES APPEALS ACT

Constitutional Amendment Endorsed at Meet

Proposed amendment to the Texas constitution providing for the reorganization of the appellate court system in the state was unanimously indorsed Tuesday at the monthly luncheon of the Wichita County Bar association, held in the Wichita club.

The indorsement was voted at the conclusion of an address made by Judge J. H. Barwise of Fort Worth, a former resident of Wichita Falls. The motion for the indorsement was made by Fred Weeks.

Terming the proposed amendment one of the most constructive measures for the Texas judiciary ever offered, Judge Barwise said:

"It is the most important piece of legislation upon which the people of Texas have been called to pass on in many, many years."

The disposition of cases on appeal, Judge Barwise said, will be speeded up by the enactment of the amendment to the constitution.

During the luncheon, Miss Bernice Martin gave a reading and Alva Willgus sang three solos in addition to leading a sing-song.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

"Purges" and "Physics" Bad for Old Folks

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

LUBBOCK HOST TO VETS SOON

Fifth Division Meeting to Be Held May 21-22

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, May 3.—Governor Dan Moody will be among the notables in attendance at the fifth division convention of the Texas department of the American Legion here May 21 and 22, if the duties of his office will permit him to spare the time, it has been announced here. A very urgent invitation has been dispatched from officials in charge of arrangements for the convention, but as yet the governor, himself an ex-service man and Leginoaire, has not signified whether he will attend.

Among those who have advised they will be here are: R. C. Winters, state commander of the Legion, Abilene; W. J. Buie, division commander, Stamford; Reed Johnson, superintendent, and P. L. Forbes, of the veterans bureau, Dallas, P. B. Stapp of national headquarters, Indianapolis; Walton Hood, commander of the Legion post at San Antonio, the largest unit of the Legion in the World war, with 3100 active members; and Mrs. Harding, state president of the Ladies auxiliary.

Registration headquarters for the convention will be at the Lubbock hotel and every visiting ex-service man on eligible auxiliary members are expected to register large delegations are expected from all points in West Texas. The gates of the city will be opened wide in true West Texas spirit, and ex-service men generally regardless of their affiliation with the Legion are extended an invitation.

The two-day program, not yet fully completed, includes a giant Dutch banquet Saturday night, May 21. Sunday at 11 o'clock a special patriotic program and rally will be held at the First Christian church, with Homer L. Pharr, judge of the 72nd district court presiding. The program will be both entertaining and instructive, and plans are being made by the ladies auxiliary here to entertain all women visitors. Business sessions of the auxiliary will be held simultaneously with the Legion program.

VISCOUNT MOURNED

Death of Cowdray Spreads Grief in British Isles.

LONDON, May 3. (AP)—Throughout the British Isles and especially in Scotland there was mourning today for Viscount Cowdray, oil and industrial magnate and philantrophist, who died at his Scottish home in Aberdeen yesterday.

Grief was especially keen in Aberdeen and the surrounding country where hospitals and charitable institutions had benefitted through his generosity to the extent of something like 75,000 pounds sterling.

TROOPS MOVED

By Universal Service.

SAN ANTONIO, May 3.—Two officers and 170 enlisted men, comprising the 90th service squadron, will report to March field, Calif., on June 18, according to a general order received here today. The transfer is in connection with the government's five-year expansion program, Kelly field officials said.

In return, Kelly field will receive the 90th service squadron, including 88 men and officers, on June 20, and another squadron not yet designated.

OCEAN DIP MEDICINE

NEW YORK.—In order to be healthy, even immune to colds, happy and live long, take a dip in the ocean daily even when the mercury is way below zero, the five members of the Penguin club advise. Sheriff Gets Big Run Haul

Hall County Officers Seize Liquor Supplies

Special to The Record News.

MEMPHIS, May 3.—The sheriff's force of Hall county was very busy the past week, making several big hauls of homebrew and whiskey.

N. H. Horton, of Turkey, charged with unlawful sale of intoxicating liquors was arrested and placed in the county jail, later being released on $750 bond. It is alleged that he had been selling intoxicants to 12 and 14-year-old boys. The sheriff dispossessed him of about six gallons of homebrew.

Three negroes were arrested four miles west of Lodge Saturday afternoon, with about 25 bottles of homebrew. They were lodged in the county jail.

The biggest haul was made Sunday afternoon, when the sheriff and his deputies found about 35 gallons of finished whiskey hid in a canyon, located about 1000 yards from the Estelline and Turkey highway, about 35 miles southwest of Memphis. The whiskey was in half-gallon fruit jars and one 16-gallon keg, which was full. Just a short distance from where this 35 gallons was found, another estimated amount of about 36 gallons had been destroyed by fire.

A 20-gallon still was captured in the Lewis pasture Saturday night, about 30 miles southwest of Memphis, but no arrest was made. The still and its accessories were brought to Memphis.

J. H. Vandever was arrested on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, and was released on a $750 bond. It is alleged that while driving his car on the public square in Memphis, he ran his car into two other cars, causing considerable damage to each of them, no one being hurt.

GREAT FUTURE FOR AIR MAIL

Texas to Figure in New Mail Extensions

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—Transportation of mail men and merchandise by air between all the capitals of the western hemisphere was held out as a project likely to see fruition not far hence by Assistant Secretary MacCracken, in charge of commerce department aviation, in a speech today before the Pan-American commercial conference.

The air lines which terminate at southern American cities, he believed, offer a real opportunity for establishment of routes to Latin-America from the United States. Specifically he named San Diego, Cal., Miami, Fla., and Galveston, Texas, or Brownsville, Texas.

Extension Planned.

He said that there was "a serious proposal pending" to extend the Chicago-Dallas route southward to the Gulf of Mexico or to some point on the Mexican border and added there was every reason to believe that with resumption of service between New York and Atlanta, the route to Miami would be resumed.

"These lines offer a real opportunity for establishing routes to Latin-American countries," MacCracken said. "It is equally to the advantage of your countrymen and mine that such service should be inaugurated and maintained. An air transport line from Florida south branching westward to Central America and eastward along the eastern coast of South America, one from Galveston or Brownsville, Texas, south along the gulf coast and one from San Diego south along the west coast would serve not only as arteries of commerce, but also as bonds to strengthen the ties of friendship between the members of the Pan-American union.

Rosy Prospect.

"The marvelous possibilities for aircraft in inter-American commerce are beyond our power to comprehend, but we can and should see clearly that commercial air transport is an indispensible part in our international welfare."

Pupils of San Antonio School Warn They'll Strike If Principal Is 'Fired'

SAN ANTONIO, May 3. (AP)—Students at Brackenridge high school here today refused to go to their first hour classes and went to their classes later in the day with the threat that they would conduct a general strike if their principal, Miss Ora Johnson, is dismissed.

Rumors that Miss Johnson is to be dismissed for "insubordination" have been current lately and these have been partially confirmed by a member of the school board. This morning the students called an assembly themselves, filed into their auditorium and discussed the situation.

At first it was decided to strike immediately and until Miss Johnson's status was settled, but leaders feared that this might be indecisive and it was finally agreed to attend classes with the understanding that the strike would start should Miss Johnson be dismissed.

Miss Johnson admitted that she had been accused of insubordination but asserted that she had been so busy attending to her duties that she had no time to meddle in school politics. She expressed appreciation of the students' endorsement.

Miss Johnson emphatically denied that she had been insubordinate and said that the only reason for the move to dismiss her was the fact that she is a woman.

In the meantime student leaders worked rapidly and by noon the entire student body of approximately 1,500 had signed petitions of protest against a move to oust her.

Don't Drive Children From Home By Too Much Quizzing On Affairs

All of Us Hate to Be Questioned—We Resent Prying Into Our Private Affairs—But, Remember, Parents, This Feeling Is Intense With Youth, So don't Drive the Young People from Home with Family Curiosity.

The other day a young girl tried to commit suicide by jumping into a river. When she was pulled out as she went down for the last time the explanation that she gave for her desperate deed was that she couldn't stand any longer being nagged by the aunt with whom she lived.

"I don't want to do anything wrong," she said. "I only want a little independence. I want to do what I want to do without being asked every time I start out of the door where I am going and who I am going with and why I am going and how long am I going to stay and when I am coming back. And I'd rather be dead than to be so watched and spied upon."

To which the aunt replied that she had no idea why the girl felt as she did and that she hadn't intended to persecute her but was merely trying to do her duty and take care of her.

I do not know how it strikes you, but to me this seems as pathetic a little story as you could read in a day's scanning of the newspapers. For here on one side you have youth with its eagle's heart panting, throbbing and yearning for freedom, for a chance to stretch its wings and fly, and on the other hand you have age pushing it back into the cage and locking the door upon it for fear it might fall and get hurt if it escaped for a moment into the open.

And between them they make tragedy. For in its exasperation at being hampered and thwarted at every turn, youth forgets what it owes to age. It forgets that the hand that restrains it is also the hand that fed and succored it in childhood, that has nursed and nurtured it and that has bestowed upon it a thousand kindnesses.

So youth is ungrateful and age resentful, for age also has forgotten many things—among them, youth's passion for personal liberty and the almost fanatical zeal with which it guards the privacy of its soul.

Of course, this girl who preferred death to being perpetually catechized about everything she did and didn't do is an extreme example of the revolt of youth against the questionnaire.

But there is probably no other thing so alienates parents and children or that does so much to drive the young people away from home as does family curiosity.

For it is true that in the average home no one can come or go without furnishing an alibi for every minute of their absence. No one can make the slightest move without having to make elaborate explanations about why he or she is going to do it. No one can make the smallest purchase without giving a reason for it and telling its cost and where it was bought and why they didn't buy it somewhere else. No one can eat or fast or go to bed or sit up without it becoming a matter of debate.

In time we grow more or less callous to the pinpricks of this eternal questioning, but it never ceases to irritate us, and to youth, which is thin-skinned and sensitive, it is maddening.

Later on in life we learn that bondage is the inevitable price that we pay for family life and that very often it is worth the freedom it costs us. But youth does not know that it is love which makes its every thought and act of momentous interest and importance, that it is love which trembles for its safety and seeks to protect it, that love it at the bottom of most of the nagging that asks ceaselessly:

"Where are you going? Whom are you going with? Whom do you expect to see? What are you going to do? When are you coming home?"

So youth gnashes its teeth and flings back a bitter retort and slams the door behind it and makes up its mind to marry the first man that asks it or get a job in another city, so as to get away from mother's and father's questioning, so as to have a little liberty and be able to do what it wants without having to give an account of its every action.

And mother and father, bewildered at the irritation of their children at being asked a few simple questions, stabbed to the heart by their children's cruel impatience, wring their hands in helpless grief over the situation and believe the worst of the youngsters and pessimistically wonder what the present generation is coming to.

This little tragedy of misunderstanding, this daily friction that rubs the tempers and the nerves of both parents and children raw, goes on in virtually every household in which there are young sons and daughters, and it is none the less sad because it is so unnecessary.

The remedy lies in parents recognizing the futility of putting their children through the third degree about everything they do when it infuriates the youngsters and does no good. For if Mamie and Johnny are merely going to the corner drug store to get an ice-cream soda it is not necessary that they should tell father and mother where they are going if they get any particular kick about doing it on their own initiative and without question. And if they are going on a booze party to a questionable resort, they are certainly not going to tell the truth when asked about their movements.

"But I have a right to know where my children go and what they are doing," say the parents. Surely. But the only way you can find out is for the children voluntarily to confide in you. You can't wring the information out of them by high-handed methods nor nag it out of them by questioning them.

I know one wise mother who says that she has bitten off the end of her tongue in her efforts to prevent herself from questioning her children and her reward is that her children invariably tell her where they are going when they kiss her good-by.

Why we should all hate so much to be questioned nobody knows, but it just seems natural to resent having anyone pry into our private affairs. We all have this feeling, and in youth it is most intense. Which is something parents would do well to bear in mind.

BLUE GROVE NOTES

Special to The Record News.

BLUE GROVE, May 3.—Dr. Walter Johnson, presiding elder of the North Texas conference, is conducting a two-weeks meeting in Blue Grove, assisted by the pastor, Rev. J. E. Wade, and the Rev. Mr. Browning of Byers, in charge of the song service. So far the meeting has been a wonderful success, with numbers of conversions and additions to the church.

Mrs. P. O. Wright visited her sister in Jack county Wednesday.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, is slowly improving.

Mrs. Leslie Thompson was shopping in Henrietta Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Wallace attended quarterly meeting at Brown Saturday afternoon.

Blue Grove school closes today. This is the day which for a month or more the pupils have all been looking forward to as the day that should set them free from the care of books and allow them to talk and laugh and play all day long, unrestrained by the unpleasant rules of a school teacher. No doubt each one feels sad at the thought of parting with their teachers, who have labored so faithfully and patiently for their good, and their schoolmates who have been so kind, but part they must, some to meet in school work again, some propably never.

T. D. McElroy of Quanah spent Thursday with M. L. Pennington and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pennington.

MODISH MITZI — Everyone Has Friends Abroad — By JAY V. JAY

In the first morning mail Mitzi gets a letter from a friend who has a friend in Russia. Isn't it jolly? Perhaps she will go to Russia—meantime, you can admire her dress of grey flat crepe with its curving waistline and wide bow trimmings.

Mitzi has lunch—in a black coat with an interesting Chinese design on the back of it broken at the waistline—and is given another letter to a friend of a friend somewhere in China. Of course China seems to be a bit unsettled at the moment, but Mitzi might go there.

The Goofer helps, too. Mitzi looked so charming in her satin frock with the deep V yoke and front tie, that he almost forgot that he has a letter to a friend in Cairo. Probably Mitzi will want to go to Cairo—it's an extremely interesting place.

Even Dad. It isn't that Dad wants her to go traipsing around in outlandish places, but his friend writes that Teheran is really quite civilized. Mitzi is wondering if she could wear this taffeta Zouave frock and if they have dances in places like Teheran.

Tomorrow—Sport Clothes and Sport Hats.

Large Number Attend Forum Annual Breakfast at Club

Covers were laid for more than 200 members of the Woman's Forum at the annual breakfast served Tuesday morning at the Country club. In keeping with the Texas Day program, the tables were beautifully decorated for the occasion in blue bonnets combined with pink roses. The star-shaped wreaths made of the bluebonnets and bowls of roses being arranged at intervals from one end to the other. May poles tied with colored ribbons held by miniature dolls were also features and places were marked with small bouquets of bluebonnets and pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Bert Bean, social chairman, was in charge of arrangements and tables hostesses were Mesdames M. J. Bashara, E. P. Bass, C. E. Beavers, J. D. Bright, C. C. Cabiness, T. M. Conrey, W. L. Hawkins, J. H. Johnson, Sam Kruger, O. E. Maer, J. H. Massie, Frank Mercer, R. B. Parker, J. T. Stevens, J. E. Shipley, H. F. Weldon and James P. Bowen.

Mrs. Alva Willgus gave the invocation and Mayor R. E. Shepherd sang a group of Texas songs accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Shepherd. Mrs. Hubert Harrison gave the forum treasurer's report and Mrs. T. T. T. Reese reported on the building committee fund. Mrs. W. W. Silk spoke briefly in appreciation of the retiring president, Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin, who was unable to be present on account of illness.

Features of the program included the presentation of Miss Rebecca Smith of the T. C. U. English department at Fort Worth, who talked on "Texas Legends," and the installation of officers. Mrs. Ben G. Oneal was installed president; Mrs. Ola G. Hamlin, first vice president; Mrs. A. R. Bleakley, second vice president; Mrs. C. P. Burton, treasurer; Mrs. Hubert Harrison, corresponding secretary; Mrs. G. L. Shapard, auditor, and Mrs. W. P. Bolding, social chairman.

Miss Smith told of the origin and significance of the Texas legends, describing them as decorations of history and the embodiment of hopes, fears and traditions of the people.

Out of town visitors at the breakfast who are members of the forum, came from Mankins, Bellevue, Henrietta, Bowie, Dallas, Electra, Vernon and Iowa Park.

Colorful Setting Will Add Charm To May Fiesta Friday

With elaborate costumes and a colorful setting lending attractive features, the Rose Fiesta to be given by members of the Junior Forum Friday evening at Green Acres, home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weeks promises to be one of the most charming May fetes of the month. Following the coronation in which the May queen will be crowned, the court will be entertained at four camps. First the Russian camp will be visited when Mrs. M. A. Rutis will be hostess, assisted by Bernice and Mary Brown, Martha Ellen Hines, Geraldine Monroe, Joyce Samual and Evelyn Yates. The party will wear Russian costumes and a Russian setting will prevail.

The next will be a Japanese tea garden in charge of Mesdames A. G. Holmes, S. B. Heard and J. P. Bowen. Those assisting will include Misses Edna Bobo, Tootsie Kay, Mabel Drinkard, Susan Aynsworth, Mildred Sherrod, Louise Carpenter, Dell Hatchitt, Margaret Norwood and Elizabeth Gilbert. Here lovely flowered kimonas will be worn and the setting will be entirely Japanese.

Mayor and Mrs. R. E. Shepherd will act as host and hostess at the Gypsy camp and in here a band of Gypsies will entertain. These will include Cliftine Butler, Dolores Peavy, Helen Howard, Francis Phillips, Catherine and Elizabeth Weldon, Maxine and Nell Duffy, Edna Stovall, Mary Agnes Riley, Pearl Bristow and Gene Fisk.

The program will be concluded with a visit to Dixieland., Here Judge Scurry in the Confederate veteran uniform and Mrs. O. E. Maer in colonial costume, will act as host and hostess. The setting will be the veranda of an old home away down south and those assisting in this booth will wear colonial costumes and will include Mesdames Ben G. Oneal, Lois Parker, John Eastin, Bentley Nelson, J. W. Gray and Misses Modina Howell, Annabel Harrell, Louise Kay and Lorene Tucker.

Mrs. T. A. Hicks and Mrs. G. B. Smedley will be in charge of the concessions and business firms contributing to the affair will include the Lehrack Ice Cream company, Coco Cola company, and Peoples Ice company. Victrolas will be furnished by the Zale Jewelry company.

Original Program Given by Club

Members of the Manuscript club met at the Y. W. C. A. Monday evening for an original program. Mrs. G. M. Holt and Mrs. Marie Engle Johnson read original poems and the first chapter in a novel entitled, "Arrows of the Almighty," written by Mrs. W. H. Sanford, was read by Mrs. Johnson. The book will be published soon, according to the announcement. The seventh and eighth chapters of the composite novel the club is writing, "The Man in the Grey Overcoat," written by Mesdames Claude Williamson and Sam Kruger, respectively, were read by them. Mrs. H. B. Criswell of Dallas, read an original short story.

Those present included Mesdames Holt, Johnson, H. B. Van Emden, Ann Pence Davis, Claude Williamson, Marjorie Pierce, J. P. Bowen, H. B. Criswell, T. B. Noble, M. Shain and Misses Katherine Henricie and Lucille Sherrod and Billy Holt.

Mr. and Mrs. Milliron Entertain at Bridge

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Milliron, 1905 Sixth street, entertained a group of friends at their home Monday evening when tables were arranged for "42" and bridge. Cut flowers and potted plants were used in the decorations, and at the close of the games, refreshments were served to Misses Clara Croucher, Edmontine Friberg, Maudie May Pressler and J. R. Greer, Jack Lacey, Bill White of Iowa Park and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Friberg and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. K. Ross.

Miss Parker Hostess To Bridge Club

Miss Gertrude Parker was hostess to the M. H. G. club at her home on McGregor street Monday evening when two tables were arranged for bridge. In the games, Miss Mattie Lee Horn won the high score favor, while Miss Vera Cain was consoled for low. Refreshments were served to Misses Anna Lee Womack, Sibyl Hayes, Opal Ballew, Hazel Trout, Vera Cain, Evelyn White, Dorothy McCloud, Thelma Smith, Mattie Lee Horn and Mesdames L. T. Frances and F. W. Womack.

Grant Street Women Hold Meeting Tuesday

OFFICER OKEHS KISS IN PUBLIC

Osculations By Wedded Folk Not Against Law

By Universal Service.

MEXICO CITY, May 3.—Kissing in public, frowned upon in Mexico since the days of Hernan Cortes and his conquistadores of the Sixteenth century, received official vindication today at the hands of the federal authority.

Juan Correa Nieto, federal prosecutor, has decreed the public kiss "not only legitimate, but sublime," sounding a warning to the police who would interfere with the operation.

Hence, Senor Correa Nieto has been christened the "procurador del beso"—attorney for the kiss—as well as "procurador de justicia," his official title.

Law Upholds Wife

The matter of the kiss was forced to an official issue by a charming young wife, whose public demonstration of her affection for her husband provoked police interference. The youthful matron forthwith wrote the procurador, demanding official ruling.

In presenting her case, the attractive complainant spoke authoritatively of kissing practice in other parts of the world, asserting that even in staid Boston the public kiss was not an offense. As further evidence, she cited a fiery demonstration of the American "movies" exhibited in Mexico. These examples were so compelling as to inspire the beholder to immediately emulate without thought of his surroundings.

Police officials inclined to the view that, while the municipal statutes contained no provision forbidding public kissing, the practice was one which had been considered immoral since the time of the conquistadores.

He Vindicates Kiss

They shuddered at the prospect of gallant caballeros and fascinating senoritas publicly following the perfervid styles in osculation set by the American movies.

But the procurador de beso has ruled otherwise. The kiss stands vindicated.

SPUDDERS AND WACO AGAIN THIS AFTERNOON.

* * *

Jim Roberts will endeavor a comeback against the Cubs unless Williard Carl changes his mind.

* * *

We have to turn the tables on 'em today. Failed to hold up our end of the transaction yesterday. North Texas clubs all slapped back their southern invaders, all but our nine.

* * *

A. McColl hurled a noble one against Santone Tuesday. But look what Old Man Couchman did. And the veteran Robert went and lost that kind of a ball game. Lost it on an error.

* * *

Don't Jump At Conclusions.

No, Agnes, you're all gone again. Charley Grip absolutely did NOT pitch that game in Dallas Monday for the Spudders. But Charley did give a bunch of the boys large amusement in Dallas Monday night the way he kicked Clete Kaufman around in a match at the chamber of commerce.

* * *

Everybody loves a winner. But let 'em get licked a time or two and divorce proceedings are under way. That's funny fandom for you —not 100 per cent, but 50 per cent, at least.

* * *

Nature of the Critter.

After that drubbing Monday, all a fellow sportingly inclined could hear was something like this: "Gosh, whatsa matter with the ball club?" Or, "something's gone wrong with the Spudders; whaddayuh reckon it is?" and so on.

Yeah, our nine got "took" to a good old country cleaning, making it three losses against 15 wins, whereupon your bop-eyed bug becomes awfully excited, starts imagining everything is wrong from two flat tires in the rear through a punctured carburetor up to mental derangement of the man at the wheel.

* * *

Dropped another one yesterday. Now we're jilted out right. That, young lady, is the great American baseball fan. The Spudders this morning are bums and nogoods in the eyes of many of your erstwhile most enthusiastic Spudder followers. The Spudders have lost another game.

* * *

To Inquisitive Mat Fan.

Why won't they give Jack Gorman a whack at Jack Reynolds, do you ask? Search me, brother, other than Reynolds has refused to mix with Gorman. Reynolds the world's welterweight champion claimant who defies Matty Matsuda and supposedly the world at large at his weight, won't take on Gorman. At least, so Gorman, who has made several overtures to Reynolds, declares.

Gorman has displayed that when in condition he can give any man in his class a great battle for the laurels. Reynolds realizes this. Reynolds all but admitted here several weeks ago that he considers Gorman more dangerous than Matsuda. Can Reynolds claim the championship with a straight face and still refuse to mix it with Gorman?

* * *

HOW?

Paul LaGrave, the Fort Worth business manager, struggled into the Dallas park the other day when Wichita Falls was on deck. "Hi-you, whaddayu want?" chirped Maxwell of the Steers. "Dida come over to see the Spudders play?"

LaGrave threw up both hands, pulled a heavy scowl and then erupted something similar: "Hell-no! I never wantta see this blankety-blanked blank blank Spudders again!"

Then bubbled over into heavy effusion on one of our Petes, to wit, "I'm going to get that guy Turgeon drafted outta the league or run out or something before another season goes by. Every time I look up that blankety-blumped blump is sliding into second, or sliding home or stealing the club house itself!"

ATHLETIC 7, RED SOX.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3. (AP)—The Athletics made it two straight over the Boston Red Sox today, winning 7 to 2. The Mackmen hit Slim Harriss, their old teammate, for six runs in the first three innings. Cobb sent two runs over the plate in the first inning on a double, and a cluster of four hits behind a base on balls accounted for a quartet of runs in the third. Howard Ehmke did not allow a hit until Jacobsen singled with one out in the fifth inning.

WACOANS NOSE SPUDDERS, 5-4

Homers By Pratt, Blackerby Sew Up Opener

Dell Pratt sprang his ace on us in the form of Ace Elliott, Waco's prize righthander, Tuesday in the first game of the southern attack on North Texas sectors. Ace just about spiked our guns.

Skipper Dell himself and George Blackerby, the lanky black-haired youth who wintered here and played basketball with the Landon Hill quintet, socked homers from Herbert Cobb's delivery and stacked up a four-run advantage in the first frame.

The Cubs scored again in the second, chopping the affair by a 5-4 verdict.

Herbie slipped a three-two cripple to Pratt with a couple on the sacks and the veteran Waco pilot did nothing but hop right on for a ride over the left field fence. Blackerby picked on a cripple, also. The Cubs lucked out on Herb in the second for a run, after which they could get well no more.

Cobb Has Nerve

Kid Cobb again displayed his grit, clamping down on the boys after that first-stanza blistering and second round tough break, and held 'em scoreless the remainder of the way. Waco grabbed six safeties off Herb's delivery in the first two couplets. The remaining seven stanzas saw registered a couple of inspid one-sackers.

Fortune merely backfired that Cobb got away to a poor start. Five runs, at that, ordinarily are not sufficient to whip up on our nine. They sufficed yesterday because the peer of the Waco staff was in exceptionally good form barring an occasionally flight of wildness.

Outside of the first-inning rush, neither team was over-stocked with base blows in the bludgeons. Waco pecked eight safeties, while the Spudders poked seven. Vigare, West, Jenkins and Fitzgerald punched a pair apiece.

Windle walked to start the first and went to third when West singled to right. Both men scored ahead of Pratt when he lined one into the teeth of a heavy gale over the left field wall, a fair ball by inches. Blackerby followed his skipper's act by sending the first punch over the same fence.

The Spudders scored one run in in the first inning. LaFayette rolled out to Pratt. Mann walked and went to third when Shires booted Fitzgerald's grounder. Fitzgerald went to second. Lamb poped to Pratt. Jenkins bounded a single off Elliott's glove, and Mann scored. Turgeon forced Jenkins at second base, Windlet to Pratt.

Cubs Lucky in Second

Waco scored another tally in the second. Elliott opened with a single to center. Windle sacrificed him to second. Wilson filed out to Jenkins. West singled to center. Lapan let Fitzgerald's throw get past him and Elliott scored. West took second on the throw-in and went to third when Cobb recovered the ball close to the stand and heaved into left field. Jenkins recovered Cobb's throw to left and nipped West at the plate with a perfect peg.

The Spudders scored in the sixth. Fitzgerald opened the inning with a single to center. Lamb lined out to left. Jenkins singled past first and Fitzgerald stopped at second. Turgeon singled past third and Fitzgerald scored. Swenson filed to center and Lapan fanned.

In the seventh inning the Spudders made two more runs. Cobb led off with an easy grounder to Pratt for the first out. LaFayette and Mann walked. Fitzgerald grounded to Pratt and both runners advanced a notch. Lamb slapped a double down the third base line and LaFayette and Mann raced home. Jenkins grounded out, pitcher to first.

After two were out in the ninth the Spudders made a great effort to send over the tying run but fell short. Mann walked for the third time during the game. Fitzgerald singled past first. Lyman Lamb smashed a hot one at short, but Windle came up with it in time to force Fitzgerald at second base for the third out.

Loughran Beats Young Stribling

By MURRAY LEWIN
Universal Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 3.—Amid the jeers of 20,000 disgusted boxing bugs Young Stribling was ushered out of the ring at Ebbets field tonight a loser to Tommy Loughran in a 10-round brawl that marked the opening of the outdoor boxing season.

By his victory Loughran earned the right to consideration as a contender for Jack Delaney's light heavyweight title. A contender is all Thomas can ever hope to be though as long as Bright Eyes retains his health and strength.

Stribling fought fairly well for a few rounds and then resorted to wrestling and mauling as Loughran took the lead away from him. The southerner did not have a friend in the crowd when the thing was over.

Loughran went into the ring a favorite at 7 to 5. There was little betting as Stribling is not liked in this town although the boys hesitate to bet against him.

Harold Mays, husky young light heavyweight from Bayonne, N. J., won from Bob Lawson, Alabama negro, on a foul in the fourth round of the first preliminary on the Young Stribling - Tommy Loughran card at Ebbetts Field tonight.

It took Wyoming Warner of Cheyenne, Wyo., just 51 seconds to dispose of Johnny Warner of New York in a scheduled four-round preliminary.

Sailor Eddie Huffman, Los Angeles light heavyweight, bothered by a 13-pound handicap, battered King Solomon, Panama heavyweight, into submission in ten rounds. Huffman weighed 179, Solomon 192.

PANHANDLE WINS

Bill Hoehn's Panhandle Refiners defeated the Wichita Falls high school Tuesday afternoon on the Panhandle diamond, 12 to 3. Everybody got a hit.

BRAVES GO ON BATTING SPREE

Shower of Hits Brings 7-4 Victory Over Phils

BOSTON, May 3. (AP)—The Braves went on a batting spree here today at the expense of three Philadelphia pitchers and won the opening game of a series with the Phillies, 7 to 4. The Boston team scored their runs on bunched hits in the first, seventh, and eighth innings off Pruett, Decatur, and Willoughby. Williams and Moore drove in three runs. A one-handed stop made by Fournier over first base was the fielding feature of the game. The score:

ROBINS 7, GIANTS 6.

NEW YORK, May 3. (AP)—Overcoming a five-run lead, the Brooklyn Robins again defeated the Giants today, 7 to 6, for their fifth straight victory, three of them from New York. Brooklyn bunched six hits for four runs in the eighth. Deberry's single driving in two runners to tie the score. In the seventh Deberry had hit a homer with Butler on base, Hornsby banged a home run with two on base off Doug McWeeny, in the opening inning. Terry, New York first baseman, limped in the third inning and gave way to Bentley who hit a homer in the eighth. The score:

PITTSBURGH 11, CARDS 10.

PITTSBURGH, May 3. (AP)—Overcoming a seven run lead, Pittsburgh slugged out an 11-10 victory over St. Louis today. Earl Smith, Pirate catcher, had two home runs and his single in the ninth with three on base, brought in the winning tally.

Rhem went along fine for the Cards until Smith nicked him for a homer in the fifth. In the eighth Bottomley hammered out a circuit clout for the Cardinals. Smith duplicated it in the Pirates' half.

In the ninth P. Waner, Wright, and Grantham singled. Keen passed Traynor, forcing in the tying run. Then Cronin fanned, but Smith singled.

Pittsburgh used twenty players. Both teams collected a total of 33 hits. The score:

CUBS 4, REDS 3.

CHICAGO, May 3. (AP)—Chicago bunched hits in the fourth, sixth, and ninth innings today to defeat Cincinnati, 4 to 3. Grimm's home run with a man on tied the score in the fourth after the visitors had scored two runs. Grimm then drove in the run in the sixth which put Chicago ahead and started the winning rally in the ninth inning.

The Cubs will be without the services of Percy Lee Jones, former Dallas sandlotter and star left-hand pitcher, for about a month, it was learned today when an examination disclosed that a bone in his left elbow had been chipped. He will be operated on tomorrow. The score:

Bull Biffs Grip For Knockout

Gorman Beats McMillan In Straight Falls

Bull's a better biffer, than the Buffalo bullet-head.

For Bull Montana, the Hollywood shiek, clouted Charley Grip into submission Tuesday night at the Ross arena in the outdoor inaugural of the "wrestling" game locally.

As a wrestler, Bull with all his 172 pounds can not cope with the 152-pound Grip. At least, he didn't show such ability Tuesday night. But as a barroom battler or whatever you would call it, barrooms being antiquated, the cinema idol grabs the grapes.

Grip out-grappled the mountainous Montana, and although a pigmy by comparison, pinned the Bullish one in 14 minutes with a body slam paving the way for initial honors.

But Bull beat Bullet-dome to the punch on the comeback, butting Grip groggy and then tagging on a crab hold that came near to breaking Charley's back. Charley conceded the fall. The time was 21 minutes. Montana scored the deciding fall in 12 minutes with a clean knockout, butting Charley in the bean again and then cracking him on the jaw with a mean right swing. That's all; the match was a riot the route, keeping the large assemblage in hefty humor throughout.

Jack Gorman, the San Angelo welter, trimmed Tuffie McMillan of Breckenridge in straight falls, grabbing the opener in 16 minutes with a leg strangle and the second fall in three minutes with a toe hold.

Jack Leggett, 162-pound amateur, beat Jess Lowrance, 155-pounder, in a one-fall match with a smother. The time was five and one-half minutes.

McColl Gives Up One Hit in 1 to 0 Win Over Bears

DALLAS, May 3. (AP)—Alex McColl pitched the greatest game of the present Texas League season here Tuesday and beat the Steers 1 to 0. McColl faced only 28 men and only one of them got on base. Phipps' triple off the right field wall in the fourth inning was the only one prevented McColl from pitching a no-hit, no-run game. The Steers won in the seventh when Brainard doubled and scored on Flaskamper's sacrifice. The score:

Oil, That Cherry Tree

THE LEGENDARY story about George Washington, the hatchet and the cherry tree continues to be the battling point between Mayor Thompson of Chicago and the school authorities, with William McAndrews, superintendent of schools, the mayor's object of attack.

In the recent compaign Thompson made much capital of the fact that the cherry tree story had been expurgated from the school histories in Chicago, terming it pro-British propaganda on the part of McAndrews. Now, Walter J. Rayner, president of the school board, announces that he will not be any too hasty in urging the superintendent's resignation as demanded by the mayor.

"The cherry tree story should not be taught as history," Mr. Rayner decides, but thinks it might be all right to include in the curriculum. "They undoubtedly have some value in building up a child's character," says Mr. Rayner, "because of the ideal or moral they advance."

So, between Mr. Rayner and Mr. McAndrews, there won't be any Santa Claus in that respect if they have their way. But "Big Bill" promised to get McAndrews' scalp, and to do it he will have to defend the cherry tree story as fact.

Some writers recently have been throwing cold water on most everything idealistic pertaining to the founders of our nation which had been accepted for generations as essentially true. They have quit picking on Jonah and the whale and the miracles to attack traditions closer home.

Now, what could be more possible for George Washington or any other boy to acknowledge to his father that he had, in the absence of anything else convenient at the moment, whacked away at a cherry tree?

Are we of this generation such an ornery set that we refuse to believe there was ever any good in anybody else. A whole lot of us seem to be.

Luckily, however, any observer in any community can see the George Washington incident, in its principle, reenacted every day. The lad of character is still with us regardless of attempts to make us believe that everything is, was and always will be "bunk."

Alliances and Binding Ties

THE TIES that naturally bind the two nations will prove more lasting and more instrumental in world peace than a treaty alliance between the United States and Britain, in the opinion of U. S. Ambassador Houghton in a recent address at Manchester, England.

Ambassador Houghton's suggestion was in approval of similar expressions from Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to this country.

"We must not hope or seek to develop those wholly natural helpful relations between the British and American peoples into anything like an alliance," Mr. Haughton said.

"The idea may be tempting; nevertheless, I believe it to be wholly false. To bring the English-speaking peoples together into an armed and exclusive group, prepared if need be to enforce its collective will by force, would if it were possible tend neither to promote peace nor to assure our mutual security.

"Its only result would be to unite all the rest of the world against us. It would, slowly perhaps, but very definitely, make an end of peaceful progress. It would turn this earth once again into an armed camp. In the end, precisely what we sought to avoid—war—would result, and out of such a war we may be sure that neither honor nor safety nor profit to any people could possibly emerge.

"We may have to fight side by side in the future, as in the past. That we do not know, but if the need arises, which God forbid, let it be for a cause and a reason which bring us instinctively together, not by a calculated arrangement which might of itself tend to bring about so dreadful a catastrophe."

Mr. Houghton said it. The two nations, in the time of peril, will be brought "instinctively together," should the crisis arrive. An alliance would only serve to arouse the suspicions of other nations, lead to counter alliances, and eventually into another catastrophe such as the one from which the world is now struggling to recover.

Mr. Creager's Optimism

REPUBLICANS WHO look to the possible nomination of Al Smith as the democratic candidate to put the state of Texas in the G. O. P. column next year may have a pleasant dream for a time, and that's about all.

In the first place, there is less than an even chance of Governor Smith being nominated, and even if he is there is about as much chance for Texas to go republican in the national election as for the democrats to carry Pennsylvania, a state where they sometimes even forget to count the democratic vote.

National Committeeman Creager's omptimism is admirable. He even starts out with the assumption of Smith's nomination when, as a matter of fact, there is a strong move on foot among the most influential democrats in the land to have both Smith and McAdoo eliminated as candidates before the convention meets more than a year hence. Much can happen in a year. A new democratic Moses may appear between now and then to change the whole situation. Even then he may lose, but it is pretty safe to predict that the Texas electoral vote will not contribute to the defeat.

Bo-Broadway

By JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

NEW YORK, May 3. (EFS.)—The Bus Barkers of the Twin Squares—Times and Longacre—used to refer to the journey as a "sightseeing trip." Now they call it a "lecture tour."

* * *

Despite a multiplicity of discouragements, New York is still the happy hunting ground of the faker. There is no closed season for "suckers" in the capital of the commonplace where a boob and his dough are soon parted.

All the faker requires in Manhattan, to lure the gullible, is an imposing front; and sometimes, if the graft is good enough, the dizzy facade may be dispensed with.

The average faker hires an office, plasters a pleasing name on the front door in gold leaf, acquires a little office furniture, engages a stenographer and sends out his verbal bait on stationery with a Broadway, Fifth avenue or Wall street address.

The variations of this procedure are interesting. Recently a truckman hired a small loft embellished with a vintage desk and a broken kitchen chair. From this hole in the wall, dubbed the headquarters of the "Crippled Children's Relief Association, Inc.," he mailed 11,000 parcels, each containing three handkerchiefs. The names of the 11,000 recipients were selected from the telephone book and a letter accompanied the handkerchiefs stating that the C. C. R. A., Inc., was donating 75 per cent of its proceeds to various charitable organizations. The price of the handkerchiefs was $1 for three but the letter added that all donations would be gladly accepted.

The postal authorities intervened and 13 sacks of mail were intercepted containing $71,000. One woman had enclosed a check for $100 in her letter, sending a list of names and addresses of 40 of her friends who, she said, would each gladly send a check for a similar amount.

A young man named Fritz, assistant dramatic editor of a delicatessen counter on Eighth avenue, decided recently to get married and acquire some children and a delicatessen shop of his own. His plan was to engage in a side line while reaping a fortune from the shop by the "sweat of his frau."

He selected for the role a young debuntante of the gas house district—a maid named Flo, who daily acts as her maw's coadjutor at the kitchen sink and at night labors as a theater usher.

Fritz gave her an engagement ring and everything was set. Last week he asked Flo would she pelase lend him the engagement ring as he wanted to show it to his mother.

Flo has been around a bit. She said later she had a "sort of a dull feelin' in th' pit of her stomach" that all was not well. "I got a hunch," was the way she expressed it, "that they was some nastiness about to happen."

She told Fritz she thought she ought to have some security and he gave her his watch and chain that had belonged to his father. She promised to return the heirloom when he got back with the ring.

Flo's hunch was well founded. Fritz not only failed to return the ring but opened negotiations to get his watch back. But Flo held tight to the ticker and finally Fritz had to hale her to court.

A sympathetic magistrate explained to Flo that Brother Blackstone, in the heat of debeate, had made no provision for penalizing the violation of a gentleman's code.

"If he ever finds a girl fool enough to marry him," said Flo to a reporter, "I hope all his children are all acrobats."

Arise, O Lord; O God, lift up thine hand: forget not the humble.

Wherefore doth the wicked condemn God? He hath said in his heart, Thou wilt not require it.

Thou hast seen it; for thou beholdest mischief and spite, to requiet it with thine hand: the poor committeth himself unto thee; thou art the helper of the fatherless.

Break thou the arm of the wicked and the evil man: seek out his wickedness till thou find none.

The Lord is king forever and ever: the heathen are perished out of his land.

Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the humble; thou wilt prepare their heart.—Psalms 10:12-18.

A Study of Abdominal Pains

Distress in the abdomen is either caused by congestion or irritation due to mechanical pressure or toxic poisoning. The most common disturbance is that produced from excessive intestinal gas, as this gas forms in pockets in the small intestines or in the colon, which pressure against sensitive nerves will produce a distress which will come and go as the gas moves about. The pressure of gas in the intestines also may interfere with the normal functions of the liver and gall bladder, and thus produce congestion in these organs.

When gas is present in the lower bowels it may irritate or congest the ovaries and womb in the female, and prostate gland in the male.

Stomach gas produces an uncomfortable feeling of fullness, but usually does not create any painful symptoms.

Pains around the navel may be caused by gastritis or stomach ulcers.

When inflammation of the gall bladder exists, the pain will be felt just under the ribs on the right side at the nearest point from the navel and the left side of the abdomen.

A congested spleen may cause a steady ache. This trouble is very hard to diagnose as it is often associated with excessive gas in the splenic flexture of the colon, for where the larges intestine makes a turn downward it comes in close contact with the spleen, and usually the distress felt in this section is due to gas pressure.

The pains associated with appendicitis first start in the pit of the stomach and then shoot down to the lower right side, just above the pubic bone. The pain often felt a little higher up on the right side is due to gas in the colon and not to an inflamed appendix.

With women, any pain in the lowest part in the abdomen, just back of the pubes, may be due to ovarian or womb trouble, or may be caused by inflammation of the bladder. Pains in any of these organs may come from a chronic congestion or inflammation, but are always increased if the abdominal organs are prolapsed, or if excessive gas is present.

A safe plan to use in getting rid of any kind of abdominal distress is to diet carefully, so as to avoid the flatulence produced from fermenting food and intestinal food-battles because of incompatible mixtures.

Frequent enemas will always relieve abdominal pains, but you must search to find the cause, which can always be ascertained through a correct physical diagnosis.

QUESTION: J. R. W. writes: "Does it injure a man's health to work on the night shift?"

ANSWER: I am sure it is possible to work at night and sleep in the day time, and not injure the health in any way, providing you can get in enough hours of sleep during the ensuing day.

QUESTION: Mrs. Bertha Z. writes: "What is the cause of bitterness in my mouth every morning? I followed your fruit fast for three days, but that didn't do me any good. Is there anything I can do for poor circulation, as I am always cold? What causes burning on the tongue?"

ANSWER: You should have fasted longer in order to get rid of the bitterness in your mouth, which is caused by an excess of bile. The cure of poor circulation depends entirely upon increased physical exercise. The burning on your tongue is a reflex coming from a similar burning in your stomach from an excess of hydrochloric acid.

QUESTION: Mrs. A. M. L. writes: "Two years ago when I was 22 I had a nervous breakdown due to overwork. For some reason or other I don't seem to make much headway toward regaining my strength. At times, I am able to walk five or six blocks but any attempt to walk farther is followed by a sort of relapse which takes three or four weeks before I am able to walk that distance again. Any advice that you could give me would be greatly appreciated."

ANSWER: Walking is the best exercise which you can use, but your daily walks must be gradually increased, so that you do not at any time overdo it. If you are careful in increasing your walks about a minute a day, you will finally be able to walk four or five miles without fatigue.

GRANTED FURLOUGH

Moody Gives Convict Permission To Visit Mother.

AUSTIN, May 3. (AP)—H. D. Morse Jr., sentenced to two years from Jefferson county on felony theft conviction, today was granted a 30-day furlough in order that he may visit his mother, said to be seriously ill.

Gov. Dan Moody granted clemency on recommendation of the board of pardons, and of physicians. Morse will be allowed to leave prison unguarded.

CHAIN BANKING

McFadden Asks for Fight On Stock Purchases.

WASHINGTON, May 3. (AP)—Asserting a tendency existed in the United States to organize holding companies to buy bank stocks Chairman McFadden of the house banking committee called on the comptroller of the currency today to use his powers to stop such practices.

The purpose of the stock purchases, Mr. McFadden said, was to centralize control of several or possibly a large number of unit banks. He termed this "a vicious form of chain banking" and declared that if supervisory forces of the government could not remedy the situation prohibitive legislation would be enacted.

KID DUGAN By Dick Dorgan

Friend Al,

Well, because the Mrs. don't like Pitts. she begin to squawk for a auto like Bush and Yde and the rest of them have so I tried to laugh it off. She would keep this here Ford broke all the time. Well, we pass a store and there are some cars in the window so I point to a funny looking guy across the street but she sees the autos anyway. I made a sucker out of one of these slick salesman and paid him only three hundred down and the rest monthly so the joke's on him if I bust it up. The first thing a dame got in my way and I dusted her off with the mudguard, and she began to squawk like she was going to get damages from John D. Rockefeller. Well, she wasn't hurt much and to hear her holler I guess it helped her lungs.

Your pal, Jack Keefe.

The Moving Man Got all The Blame

REGULAR FELLERS —By Gene Byrnes.

M'ILROY WELL REAL GUSHER

Production May Take Lead In State

AMARILLO, May 3.—All of the gusher oil wells are not found in Pecos county, of West Texas, the Seminole area of Oklahoma, and in Mexico.

This fact was conclusively proven late Sunday, May 1, by the McIlroy Oil company, when its No. 2, E. Cockrell ranch, in the center of the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter of section 4, block B3, of D. S. & E. survey, in the new McIlroy pool of southeastern Hutchinson county, came in for 650 barrels an hour.

This is easily the Panhandle field's largest oil well and also takes rank with other gushers in the Mid-Continent oil province.

Three Feet of Pay.

The pay in the new gusher was 2922 to 2925 feet, and flowing against 75 pounds back pressure. It had been in the top of the pay for some days, averaging 1550 barrels a day Saturday and Sunday afternoon the remaining two feet of pay was encountered by W. R. White, drilling contractor(under order of E. D. (Tex) McIlroy and W. W. McIlroy, heads of the McIlroy Oil company.

The response was immediate and the owners quickly increased the back pressure, because of a lack of tankage and until the Kay County Gas (Marland) company and Humble Pipe Line company could connect. They tied into the new oil well early Monday.

The "risers," erected to carry over the surplus gas, were spraying a full stream of oil, and a few moments after the well gushed in the crowd of people standing about got a thorough drenching of oil. The country around the well was also well sprayed with oil. The oil tested 41 gravity at 62 degrees.

Owners Are Tickled

"The McIlroy No. 2 Cockrell could easily made 15,000 or 20,000 barrels a day, perhaps more," said W. W. McIlroy, who added that he felt is was the biggest well in the state, as well as the Panhandle today.

S. D. McIlroy remarked that he believed the new well had tapped the mother oil pool of the Panhandle. He fells that the No. 3, one location farther west, and now on top of the sand, and the No. 9, in the southeast corner of the lease, will both be gushers when drilled in.

The completion of the No. 2 Cockrell swells the McIlroy interests production in the field to better than 55,000 barrels a day, and gives the McIlroy Oil company the lead for 16,420 barrels a day.

TOUGH LIFE

AMARILLO, May 3.—"It never rains but what it pours."

This is what officials of the Frio Oil and Gas company are saying. Late last week they penetrated a sand at 1287 feet in No. 2 Sanders, in the northeast corner of 11-5n-36e, north of Clovis, in Curry county, New Meexico. The next scvrew tapped gas and it began to spray oil. Drilling suspended to underream and the 10 1-4 inch pipe parted, lettering in the hole fill the well and drown out the gas.

3750 BARRELS

5,000-Foot Well at Spindle Top Is Big Producer

HOUSTON, May 3. (AP)—The Houston Post-Dispatch tomorrow will say that the Gulf Production company's Noll 10 Oakwood, 5,000 feet deep, at Spindle Top, is flowing 3,750 barrels. The Yount Lee Oil company's No. 28 McFadden is flowing 4,000 barrels. As a result of these new wells, Spindle Top production has increased to 55,000 barrels a day.

DRILL IN GUMBO

Gulf Well Reaches Reported Pay Sand Near Stark

ORANGE, May 3. (AP)—According to information received here from the Lutcher oil field near Stark, the Gulf Production company is drilling in what is thought to be the same stratum of gumbo under which the pay sand was found in the discovery well, which came in more than two months ago.

Texas Company Production Upheld By Many Purchases, Says Holmes

AMARILLO, May 3.—While the Texas Company had many disappointments in 1926 in seeking new pools of oil, it kept its production up by many purchases of other properties, reports President R. C. Holmes. It bought eight outstanding properties, having 127,901 acres of lands and leases fully developed and 2,011 wells, and making 12,582 barrels a day.

During 1926 it produced 21,009,199 barrels of oil, or 197,937 barrels less than in 1925. South and Central Texas led with 5,466,966 barrels; Oklahoma was next with 4,448,435 barrels; North Texas third with 3,590,535 barrels; Arkansas next with 2,690,738; then Louisiana with 1,440,823 barrels; Colorado sixth with 1,338,661 barrels. North Central Texas seven for 940,245 barrels; Kansas eighth with 450,838 barrels; Wyoming next with 368,786; Kentucky tenth for 227,922 and New Mexico last with 27,040 barrels.

It had 5,450 wells on Jan. 1, 1927, a gain of 2,336 in a year's time. Of the total, Oklahoma had 1,623; North Texas 1,107; Kansas 953, Kentucky 479, Louisiana 357, North Central Texas 327, South and Central Texas 312, Arkansas 226, Wyoming 51, Colorado 12 and New Mexico 6.

The Texas Company drilled 20 gassers and 152 dry holes and abandoned 56 wells. It had 18 gasoline plants with a yearly production of 19,586,960 gallons. The natural gas production amounted to 14,207,810,000,000 feet.

It also operated in Mexico, having an output of 546,363 barrels. The pipe lines owned totaled 5,029 miles. Its refineries ran 36,228,963 barrels of crude, recovering 16,297,214 gallons of gasoline; 3,231,106 gallons of kerosene and 1,455,083 gallons of lubricating oils and 10,185,551 gallons of fuel.

SWABS 300 DAILY

Maer and Staniforth's No. 4 L. F. Wilson, Day Land and Cattle company survey in Archer county, is swabbing approximately 300 barrels daily from the regular 1550-foot sand of the area. An exact guage has not been obtained on the well, as it is being run into a tank with other wells.

The Gulf Production company's No. 1 L. F. Wilson, located south of the Maer and Staniforth lease, has set and cemented pipe and will drill in within the next few days.

SHAMROCK FIELD.

The Texas company in No. 1 Bentley, in section 42, block 24, of H. and G. N. survey, in the Shamrock field of Wheeler county, is reported as flowing at the rate of 55 barrels per hour. Sand depths were not ascertained. Last report had the drillers straightening the hole at 2,340 feet.

A location has been made by this firm for No. 1 Sewell, in section 1, block 27, of H. and G. N. survey.

SOUTH OF DUMAS.

Humble Oil and Refining company has pulled the 6 5-16 inch and is now removing the 6 5-8 inch pipe from No. 1 Kilgore, in section 28, block 44, of H. and T. C. survey, south of Dumas, in Moore county, and will complete it for 10,000,000 feet of gas from 3,010 to 3,478 feet. Total depth was 2,867 feet, and the water was shut off at 2,750 feet.

SOUTH OF PAMPA.

Riley and Heck in No. 1 Hopkins, in section 66, block B2, of H. and G. N. survey, due south of Pampa, has a showing of oil at 2,900 feet. Due to cavey hole its potentialities can not be determined until the cave is licked and pipe is run.

SOUTH BEND ADDS THREE

Stovall and Panhandle Wells At Sand

Three wells will be completed in the South Bend field of Young county within the next week, C. C. Stovall having one well ready to drill in and the Panhandle Refining company having two practically on the sand.

Stovall No. 6 fee northwest of his No. 5, which was brought in two weeks ago at 6000 barrels initial, is scheduled to begin drilling Wednesday. This well extends the 3500 foot line a short distance northeast.

Panhandle Refining company No. 20 McCluskey, first rotary test to be drilled to the Stovall line, is drilling at 3527 feet in black shale, and should reach the pay within the next two or three days. Panhandle's No. 17 McCluskey, a direct south offset to the Stovall No. 1 fee, topped the lime at 3850, and dropped the bailer in the hole. It is now drilling by the bailer, and will be delayed a few days until completed.

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, May 3. (AP)—Continued nervousness over the crop outlook in the Mississippi valley combined with sharp advances in the Liverpool and Alexandria markets, appeared the dominating influence in the cotton market today. Prices for all months made new high ground for the movement, July contracts selling up to 15.70 or 31 points net higher and nearly 3½ per pound above the low level touched early last December. They closed at 15.68, the general market closing very steady at net advances of 25 to 29 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 4 to 8 points, active months soon showing net gains of 15 to 16 points in response to the strength of the markets for both American and Egyptian futures abroad, and prospects for unsettled weather with showers or thunderstorms in western and central sections of the belt.

The advance met a good deal of realizing and after the execution of stop orders uncovered as prices worked above previous best levels the market eased under realizing. The volume of business tapered off on the reaction of 8 or 9 points from the best, suggesting there was little disposition to take short side of the market, and prices firmed up again during the afternoon. Nervousness over the flood situation in the Mississippi valley was probably increased by prospects for unsettled weather with showers, which some thought might possibly be the fore-runner of renewed rains, and trading became very active late. Many early sellers for profits were supposed to be replacing their contracts on the afternoon advance, while there was covering and trade buying supposed to be for both domestic and foreign account.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, May 3. (AP)—The stock market moved upward again today under the stimulus of easier money rates. Selling squalls swept through the market now and then, but with few exceptions, offerings were well absorbed, whereas a series of drives against the shorts resulted in some rather spirited gains. Final quotations disclosed a long list of net advances ranging from 1 to 3½ points. General Motors was the individual feature, moving up 5⅜ points to duplicate the record high of 196¼ for the present stock.

The increase in brokers' loans last week, coincident with a couple of sharp reactions in the market, caused surprise in some quarters, but it was explained as being due to the unusually heavy volume of new bond financing. Call money opened at 4½ today and then dropped to 4. There was no change in time money and commercial paper rates.

Seasoned dividend paying railroad stocks recorded some excellent gains but weakness cropped out in some of the speculative issues. Chesapeake and Ohio closed four points higher at 171¼ after attaining a new peak for the year at 172⅝. New York Central, Delaware and Hudson, Lackawanna, "Katy" common, Norfolk and Western and Atlantic Coast Line showed net gains of 1¼ to 5 points.

President Storey's denial of rumors that the Atchison was purchasing Chicago Great Western, following closely upon Arthur Curtis James' announcement that he was not buying the stock, induced heavy liquidation of Chicago Great Western issues, the common losing about a point and the preferred 2. Gulf, Mobile and Northern showed a net loss of 2⅜ points after touching a new high for the year at 75⅝.

Colorado Fuel was again a sensational performer, soaring 7 points to 87, the highest price in 15 years, at the partial expense of an over-crowded short interest. International Silver soared 6½ points to 141. Revival of activity and strength in Certainteed Products, which moved up nearly 3 points to a new high at 51½, was based on large current earnings and merger rumors.

Nearly two score issues established new peak prices for the year, or longer. The list included Brooklyn Union Gas, Coca Cola, Case Threshing, American Radiator, American Sugar Refining preferred, Jones Brothers Tea, Schulte Stores, R. H. Macy, Federal Light and Traction, International Business Machines and Submarine Boat. New lows for the year were registered by International Paper, Electric Storage Battery, and American Beet Sugar preferred.

Stocks Climb To New High Levels As New York Market Develops Sudden Punch On Tuesday

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, May 3.—Stocks renewed their climb today and several reached new high levels for the movement. Action of the market yesterday was surprising and indicated that the powerful interests behind the advantage were not inclined to allow much of a setback. Money after opening at 4 1-2 per cent declined to 4 per cent. Commodities were stronger. Sterling featured foreign exchange by rising to a new high for the year on a scarcity of commercial bills on the market.

Persistent buying was noticeable in Otis Elevator, which lifted the stock three dollars. Big developments are going on in the company's business. Orders continue at a high rate for its elevator and an increasing demand is taking place for the Otis Escalator. The latter, it is said, has been perfected and has now been made a success. Architects have now realized that it is one of the best means of moving the largest number of people in the quickest time. In the plans now for new buildings, foundations are being laid out for this means of moving people. Theaters and movie palaces, it is said, will be equipped with escalators. More and more of them are being installed in subways and tubes because of the deepness of tunnels. The Otis company owns the basic patents and anticipates a growing volume of business within the next few years.

Fresh buying occurred in Baltimore & Ohio and Missouri, Kansas & Texas issues. Chesapeake & Ohio went forward at times when profit-taking developed in the low price rails. Gulf, Mobile & Northern quieted down. This line, it is understood, would fit in nicely for the Burlington. There was some buying of Consolidated Railways of Cuba. The company has already been granted an increase in rates and looks for another advance based on a higher valuation of the properties.

General Motors was the start feature and reached the best price of the year. Domestic business continues at a satisfactory rate and its export trade is keeping at a high level. The latter it is understood, is showing a faster increase than anticipated by insiders. Mack Trucks was in demand. Earnings for the first quarter, to be published soon, are expected to approach the $2 a share mark with profits in the following quarters likely to show an increase. Mack is the only producer of heavy trucks and is in a class by itself.

Colorado Fuel fooled the shorts by rising six points. If earnings keep up at the rate established in the first quarter, the year should be a profitable one for the company. Transactions in the stock were in excess of 70,000 shares. National Biscuit was a strong feature. This is the first national's first industrial. As the stock is now selling seven for one, the insiders have a profit of from 500 to 700 points. This concern is one of the best managed in the country. Cushman was up on a few transactions.

WATER TOWER CONTRACT LET

Indian Heights Reservoir To Cost $37,105

Contract for the erection of a water tower in Indian Heights for the supplying of water to citizens living in the west side of Wichita Falls was awarded Tuesday to the Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel company, of Dallas, by the city council in special session.

Cost of the erection will be $37,105, according to the terms of the contract. The tower will be completed within six months after erection has started.

WADE ON TOUR

West Texas C-C Manager To Attend Four Meetings

In the interest of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, Homer D. Wade, general manager of the organization, will leave Wednesday on a four-day trip during which time he will attend various chamber of commerce meetings.

Mr. Wade will attend a meeting Wednesday afternoon of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce; the Memphis chamber, Wednesday night, the ninth district meeting of chambers of commerce, Thursday afternoon at Childress; the Vernon chamber, Thursday night and the Chillicothe chamber, Friday.

A. P. Duggan, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will attend the Vernon and Chillicothe meetings, Mr. Wade said.

FIVE C-CDANCES

Place for Convention Balls Designated by Committee.

Five dances in the down town section of Wichita Falls will be held during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention, according to a decision of the entertainment committee Tuesday.

One of the dances will be an old fashioned square dance affair with only violin music. A professional caller will be engaged for the dance.

The dances will be held at the convention headquarters in the Hamilton building; Kemp hotel, Elks club, Fritz Motor company and the Dixon Motor company.

The queen's ball will be held Monday night at the country club.

FIREARMS BANNED

Use of Mails Prohibited in New Ruling.

Mailing of firearms will in the future be prohibited, according to instructions received Tuesday by O. P. Maricle, postmaster, from the postmaster general in Washington.

The ruling excepts the mailing of firearms to officers in the United States army and navy forces and to guardians of government property. However, the order sets out that firearms mailed to these officers must be for official use only.

For violation of the new law, those convicted are liable to a fine of $1000 or two years in the penitentiary, or both.

BENEFIT DANCE

A benefit dance will be held at the Business and Professional Women's club house, Camp Noble, Saturday May 7, it was announced Tuesday. The affair will be the last benefit dance of the season ending a series of winter and spring dances. Gordon Shay's orchestra will play from 9 to 12. Tickets may be secured from club members for $1.50.

CLUB TOLD OF POWER OF ADS

Methods of Advertising Discussed at Meet

"Out-Door Advertising" was discussed by members of the Advertising club Tuesday at the weekly luncheon at the Kemp hotel. J. L. Eggleston talked on "The Economic Importance of Advertising," pointing out that only in recent years has advertising in all its branches come into prominence and been recognized to any degree. He also stated that distribution must keep up with production and that advertising is an unusually powerful distributing agency, which is improving in color and copy every year.

Mr. Eggleston also stressed the fact that advertising played a prominent and important part in the war in the selling of bonds and stamps.

Harry Hoag, manager of the Superior Advertising company talked on "Art in Advertising," and said that advertising must be both scientific and artistic. It must be placed where one would want to see it, and scenery around an ad should all blend with the poster in order to have an artistic advertisement.

"Co-ordination of Advertising Media," was discussed by M. H. Pruitt of the United Advertising corporation. Mr. Pruitt remarked in his talk that co-ordination between advertising men and advertisers was very important, and that a sound foundation would not be built until various types of advertising were put to use.

W. S. Brown reported that only while the contest was going on for a ship named "Wichita Falls" would merchants be asked to ship their goods over that certain line, and that no effort is being made to discriminate against any other line.

Harry Hoag was presented as a new member. C. A. Spragins gave a short discription of the Mississippi flood, as he has just returned from New Orleans.

Paul Colvert was named chairman of the retail sales people's banquet which will take place in the near future.

Today { At the Theaters
By Ruth Morrison

Majestic: "Fashions for Women," with Esther Ralston, comedy, Topics of the Day and Pathe News.
Olympic: "Just Another Blonde," with Dorothy Mackaill and Jack Mulhall; special vaudeville attraction: comedy and Fox News.
Strand: "White Flannels," with all-star cast and comedy.
Mission: "Flaming Forest," with Antonio Moreno, and chapter 6 of "Scotty of the Scouts."
Garden: "Broncho Land," with Dick Hatton, and comedy.
Gem: Mae Busch in "Frivolous Sal," and comedy.

From a bob-haired French cafe cigarette girl to the most famous woman in Paris and then back again to the restaurant—all in one brief space of seven days goes to make a "large" night's entertainment.

Esther Ralston's first starring comedy, "Fashions For Women," opening today at the Majestic theater, contains much rare humor and an array of beautiful gowns.

Embellished by beautiful blonde Esther Ralston, the picture itself has the four-fold attraction of humorous situations, fairy tale romance, the fascination of a dual role and styles enough to touch any woman's heart.

Just because she resembles a famous mannequin, the most talked of woman in Paris, Esther Ralston, an impish devil-may-care cigarette girl is selected to impersonate the noted model at a huge fashion show. The double role is particularly well filmed and the different personalities of the two women, the cigarette girl and model, is exceedingly convincing for, being the same person, only a careful differential of mannerism—a stride or tilt of the head—can serve to distinguish between them.

Einar Hanson, as the aviator lover, looks to be the best European leading man importation thus far. Raymond Hatton, the modiste shop's press agent, lends much comedy through his bantam-like gestures.

The story was made for Paramount by Dorothy Arzner, one of the few women directors in picturedom. Her knowledge of women's clothing and deftness of direction during the huge fashion show assisted much in the film's success.

BONDS VOTED

Seven Cast Ballots In $4000 Election In Cobb District

Issuance of $4000 in bonds for the erection of a new school building in the Cobb district was acted upon favorably Saturday by the voters in the district, according to the returns of the election canvassed Tuesday by Burl Bryant, county school superintendent. There were seven votes cast in the election; six votes were for the issuance of the bonds and one against.

LESLIE NOLEN LAID TO REST

Last Rites Said For Youth Drowned in Rio Grande

Funeral services for Leslie Nolen, 21, son of Mrs. Maud Nolen, 1626 Pearl, who was drowned Saturday near Rio Grande City in the Rio Grande river, were held Tuesday in Laredo. He was buried at 9 a. m. in that city.

Memorial services were conducted at 4 p. m. in Wichita Falls at the home of Mrs. Nolen.

Mr. Nolen was employed by the Evangeline Oil company, of which J. J. Jenkins of Wichita Falls, is president. He was working on an oil lease near Hebronville.

While on a fishing trip Saturday, Mr. Nolen waded into the river, fully dressed, and according to witnesses of the tragedy, he was apparently sucked into the river by a whirlpool.

The body was not recovered until Monday morning.

He was a graduate of the Wichita Falls High school, where he was a prominent athlete. He formerly held the post of master councillor of the DeMolay order.

Tuesday, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Estes, and also Rev. Kreager, pastor of the Church of Christ.

LAKE FESTIVAL PLANS READY

Parade and Bathing Revue To Feature Program

Plans for the spring festival at Lake Wichita May 11, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club are progressing rapidly and it is believed that the event, which will open the season at the lake, will be one of the most entertaining and elaborate of the summer, according to announcement of arrangements at the weekly meeting of the club Tuesday night.

Mrs. Clara Manning, Miss Mary Cowart and Miss Maud Thomas, compose the committee in charge of the program, and announced that plans for the four features of the festival, parade, bathing beauty revue, water regatta and dance, have been nearly completed.

The parade will be held the afternoon of May 11 in the business district and will be composed of Business and Professional Women club members in elaborate costumes. The bathing beauty revue will be held at 8 o'clock at the pavillion and will be followed by a water regatta and later by a dance on both floors of the pavillion. The swimming pool will also be opened and all concessions will be in charge of the club.

Reports were made by officers of the club and an "open house" dance was announced for May 17. All names for bids were requested to be turned in by members by Wednesday, May 11.

Bob Quawls, taken into custody by Sheriff W. G. Bralley, on information furnished by McKinney officials, was taken Tuesday to McKinney by Sheriff W. A. Kerby, of Collin county. Quawls is charged in McKinney with passing a worthless check.

TRY WALKING

Traffic Violators Face Extra Fine For Failure To Appear

Walk a block or two and save a $1 or two and maybe three.

This is the edict put forth Tuesday by Judge Bass in the corporation court relative to automobile owners who receive "invitations" to visit the court for infractions of the traffic laws.

The edict sets out that those receiving tickets can say, "Good morning, judge," pay $2 and walk out of court, but if it is necessary for the judge to issue a warrant and send for the "infractor" then the "ante" will be raised to $3, depending on just how the excuse made for not appearing when summoned sounds to the judge.

SLAYING CASE TO JURY TODAY

Negro Takes Stand to Tell Of Shooting

Arguments to the jury by state and defense counsel in the case of Jim Allen, negro, accused of slaying Lawyer Bratton, negro, on trial in the 89th district court, will start Wednesday morning.

Presentation of testimony by the defense ended late Tuesday afternoon. Allen testified in his own behalf and stated that he shot and killed Bratton because the latter had made threats on the accused man's life.

Witnesses for the state testified that Bratton was fleeing when Allen shot him and that the accused man chased Bratton around a truck in order to be in a position to shoot.

E. F. Fruechte, assistant district attorney, is prosecuting Allen, assisted by Raymond Allred, special prosecutor.

C-C Traffic Committee Designates Streets to Be Closed at Convention

Recommendation to the police department that certain streets in Wichita Falls be roped off and vehicular traffic brought to a standstill during the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention will be made by the traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce, according to a decision reached Tuesday.

The committee will request that the following streets be roped off: Eighth street, between Ohio and Travis, and Scott street, from Eighth to 13th.

The committee also will recommend that during the convention no parking be allowed on the principal downtown streets between Seventh and Tenth streets.

Clever Comedy Closes Season For Junior College Dramatic Club

"Expressing Willie," given by the Blue Curtain club, climaxed the dramatic season Tuesday night at the Junior college. The audience filled both the balcony and main floor of the building. The play was under the direction of Miss Juanita Kinsey, with all proceeds going to the Wai-Kun, the college annual.

Edward Smith took the leading role of Willie in the three-act comedy, and was supported by an all-star cast. Mary Peters played the part of Minnie Whitcomb, Willie's old sweetheart, and her rival, Frances Sylvester, was well presented by Dolores Peavy.

In the story, Willie is a poor boy who is suddenly made wealthy by some queer fate pertaining to tooth paste. He leaves his old associates and his country sweetheart for the flatteries of his newly acquired town friends, who are really after his money. His mother is never changed, however, and after many exciting incidents, brings Willie and Minnie back together again.

Other parts in the play were taken by Dorothy Reed, Willie's mother; Taliaferro, an artist, by Isadore Cohen; Dolly Cadwallader, aspiring social climber, ably played by Mildred Mays, and her husband played by Weldon Carter. Simpson, the butler, was taken by Emmett Bauknight, and Jean, Frances' maid, played by Edna Rundell.

A Benefactor

A public benefactor is one who helps people to be happy. Such a man was Dr. R. V. Pierce.

It is impossible to be happy if you are suffering—in pain or distress—ill. To restore health and strength to ailing people was Dr. Pierce's mission. During his lifetime, he gave to the world a priceless herbal remedy in his Favorite Prescription, for restoring the health of weak, nervous, overworked women, and thereby increasing happiness in the home.

As a skilled physician, an honored citizen, Dr. Pierce was known far and near for integrity and fair dealing. His phenomenal success was due to the unquestioned purity of his medicines.

Women in every walk of life today say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has relieved them of nervousness, weakness and kindred ills. It is a reliable medicine made from roots and herbs, sold by druggists, in both fluid and tablets. Send 10c for big trial pkg. tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Alleged Arrest After Auto Crash Basis of $1525 Damage Suit

Arrested for blocking street traffic after a collision between his automobile and a street car damaged G. C. Moore to the extent of $1,525, he alleged in a suit filed Tuesday in district court against the Wichita Traction company and the Upham Gas company.

Moore was driving an automobile on 10th street and when he reached the intersection of Indiana and 10th, according to the petition, the plaintiff in endeavoring to dodge a fence built around an excavation in the street by the gas company, he drove his car in front of a street car.

As a result of the collision, the plaintiff sets out in his petition, his car was damaged to such an extent that it could not be moved.

The motorman of the street car ordered Moore to move his automobile from in front of the street car, which was an impossibility, the plaintiff alleges.

When Moore did not move the automobile, according to the petition, the motorman summoned a policeman and as a result the plaintiff was lodged in the city jail charged with obstructing traffic. After depositing a $25 bond, Moore was released from jail.

Moore requests $1,025 actual and $500 exemplary damages.
