Britain Seeks Violation In Bulgarian Pact

LONDON, Sept. 24 (AP)—An authoritative Whitehall informant said today Britain would seek to establish that Bulgaria violated her peace treaty by the execution of opposition leader Nikola Petkov, thus making herself liable to allied action through the council of ambassadors.

The allies' treaties with the five former Nazi satellite states stipulated that council of ambassadors—envoys of the major powers—would consider alleged violations in the case of Bulgaria, with whom France was not at war, the council would be made up of the British, Russian and American ambassadors.

New Forest Fires Hit Conroe Area

CONROE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The second outbreak of forest fires in the Conroe area this year was reported today by J. O. Burnside, chief of fire control for the A. and M. College Texas forest service, who said that 12 fires were being fought.

Several homes were threatened. The flames started Monday and yesterday, Burnside said. Texas forest service fire fighters were busy all day yesterday and last night. Several forest industry crews also are helping in the fight. Burnside said no damage estimate was available today. He said his men had not had an opportunity to map out the full extent of the flames.

The Foster estate reported one of their cars destroyed in a fire. Location of the fires given by Burnside.

One near old Waverly, four southwest of Willis, four near Splendora, one near Cleveland, one north of Humble and one north of Magnolia.

Helicopter Rescues Three Injured Gls

MANILA, Sept. 24 (AP)—1st Lt. William Bailey of Ft. Worth flew a helicopter for eight hours, 15 minutes today to evacuate successfully three critically injured U. S. soldiers whose ambulance had plunged down a 125-foot cliff 175 miles north of Manila.

The 13th Airforce said the injured men were taken by helicopter to an emergency landing strip 30 miles south and then moved by liaison planes to the hospital at Clark field.

The ambulance went over the cliff yesterday as the men were returning from the rescue of 26 of 27 American soldiers who bailed out of a lost transport plane.

Students End Strike Protesting Water

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 24 (AP)—Three hundred students of Stephen F. Austin high school at Port Acres ended a two-day strike over a water supply problem today by returning to classes.

They returned with a state health department promise to install a pump to relieve the water trouble. The students had protested that water at the school was rusty and unpalatable, and that it came from a surface well.

Some patrons of the school signed a petition to investigate the possibility of "seceding" from the Port Arthur school district, asserting failure of the school board to remedy the water situation.

Speculators Blamed For High Food Costs

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A congressional subcommittee investigating high living costs asserted today that speculation was "supporting food prices at unjustifiable levels" and called on President Truman to "use every means" to restrain it.

The committee, meeting in New York, telegraphed the Chief Executive that margin requirements on grain exchanges should be raised and that the manner and timing of governmental food purchases should be studied to minimize their speculative effect on prices.

Russia Is In Minority After Fight With U. S. For Assembly Leadership

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 24. (AP)—Battered and beaten by a majority which no veto could block, Russia found herself today in a weak minority position in her contest with the United States for leadership in the United Nations assembly.

A series of assembly test votes produced that result. Overwhelming majorities crushed Soviet opposition and placed firmly on the assembly's agenda for this session the American-sponsored issues of Greece, Korea and a new veto-free security agency.

Similarly, on an Argentine proposal supported by the United States for revision of the Italian peace treaty, the assembly voted to put the question on the agenda for future full consideration despite the fact that Russia objected and Britain and France took a hands-off attitude.

Diplomatic authorities said the meaning of the votes was highly important for the rest of this session. They predicted that Russia would gain little support for her resolution to condemn alleged "warmongering" in the United States but that the United States would put over easily its program for action by the assembly in the face of Russian protests.

Barring some unexpected development, it appeared that the split in the United Nations has gone about as far as it can go for the time being. Still a matter of high-priority speculation among diplomats, however, is the possibility that after the United States wins its expected assembly victory the Russians may decline to cooperate either with the projected new security agency or the special Greek border agency which Secretary of State Marshall has proposed.

The assembly completed yesterday both the week-long general debate, which saw the lines of showdown between America and Russia clearly drawn, and the approval of the 61-item agenda covering the subjects it will discuss and the decisions it may make the rest of this session.

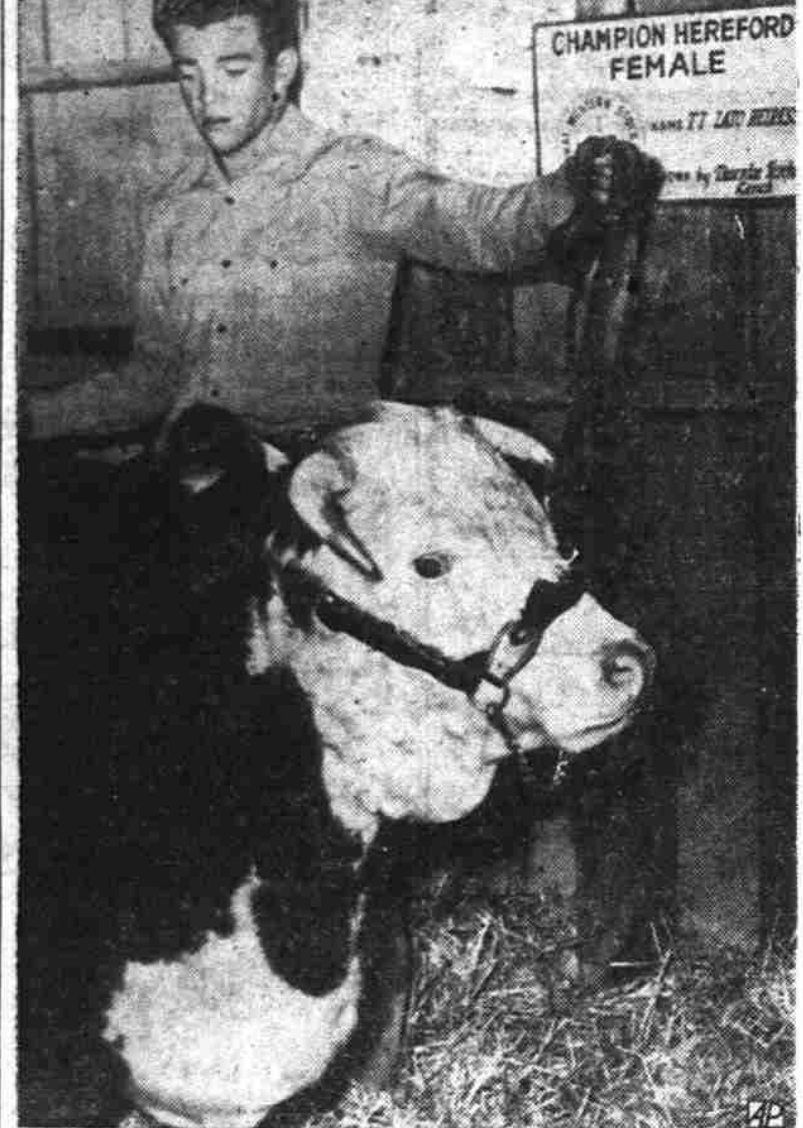

Italian Textile Workers Strike

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 24 (AP)—A strike of technicians and their assistants threatened today to paralyze the entire Italian textile industry, one of the country's busiest, throwing 550,000 persons out of work.

Both union and company spokesmen said the strike, begun this morning, would shut down the industry completely within a few days because the workers lacked technical direction.

Some 15,000 to 20,000 assistants quit work, ostensibly on grounds that the industry classified them as "laborers." A similar number of technicians and administrative workers walked out, also charging that they were not classified properly.

The strike was backed by the communist-dominated Italian general confederation of labor which in the last two weeks has staged farm strikes in the Po valley and in the Rome section and in the metal industry.

HEREFORD BRINGS RECORD HEIFER PRICE — Well satisfied with his buy, Gerald Montgomery, 18, of Madeira, Calif., is sure the $35,000 he paid through his father, Bliss Montgomery, for TT Zato Helress, Denver 1947 grand champion heifer, will produce high-value bull calves. The price paid was third highest in the Dan Thornton Hereford sale at Gunnison, Colo., and set a national record for heifers. (Photo by Floyd McCall from Denver Post mobile WIREPHOTO unit). Unified Forces Study Plan For Single Chief

High Command Holds Proposal Under Scrutiny

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP) — The proposal that a single military commander be made responsible for defense of the continental United States is under study by the new unified high command.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal told a news conference yesterday that the plan, proposed several months ago as a part of the armed forces unification program, still is being scrutinized but that no decision has been reached.

The new national defense act makes no specific provision for such a command, but it leaves the way open in a section covering the joint chiefs of staff, the military commanders of the Army, Navy and Air Force plus the chief of staff to the President. The duties of the staff, that section says, includes the establishment "of unified commands in strategic areas when such unified commands are in the interest of national security."

In some military quarters, this is interpreted to mean that the so-called "zone of the interior," meaning the continental United States, could be considered a strategic area requiring an over-all command.

The unified command system—under which a single commander is chosen from Army, Navy or Air, depending on the dominating factor of defense in the area—has been in effect in overseas and off-shore theaters since early in the year.

Advocates of the plan for the zone of the interior say that among other things it would preclude any possible argument or confusion over where the responsibilities of one service left off and another began.

U. S. Hits Ultimatum

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—The United States government has called upon Yugoslavia to stop the "exceedingly dangerous" practice of issuing ultimatums to British and American troops in the Trieste area because it is "likely to precipitate incidents leading to most serious consequences."

Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett told a news conference today that American Ambassador Cavendish Cannon had expressed this view in a protest presented in Belgrade on Monday.

U. S. Seeks Balkan Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, Sept. 24. (AP)—The United States delegation to the United Nations assembly today was reported working on a plan for a special "watch dog" commission to help restore peace in the Balkans under assembly authority.

Informed quarters said this was one of the major issues studied by Secretary of State Marshall with other members of his delegation in their daily forenoon conference in New York City before today's committee sessions here at Lake Success.

The U. S. delegation, it was understood, did not complete the final draft of its Balkan resolution, but was agreed on two main points:

1. Some sort of assembly group should be sent to the Balkans at once to observe and report on developments.

2. The assembly must determine which of the Balkan states are to blame for the continued disturbances.

Equine Sleeping Sickness Reported

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 24. (AP)—One definite case of equine encephalitis, and at least four or five suspected cases, have been reported in Cooke county.

The disease, which first was reported in the New Orleans area recently, is sleeping sickness of horses.

Tanker Explosion Kills Seaman

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 24 (AP)—One man died early today following an explosion aboard the tanker Esso Saranac at 11:45 o'clock last night some 230 miles east by south of the Chesapeake lightship. Two others were burned and need immediate medical attention, coast guard headquarters here was advised.

The tanker radioed that the front furnace on the port boiler blew off and that steam severely burned three crewmen, one of whom died a short time later. The ship did not report the names of the dead and injured. The coast guard cutter Cherokee left Norfolk early today to assist the tanker and remove the injured crewmen. The Esso Saranac reported that she was drifting helplessly and could not get up steam for another 48 hours.

Orange Juice Slated For School Lunches

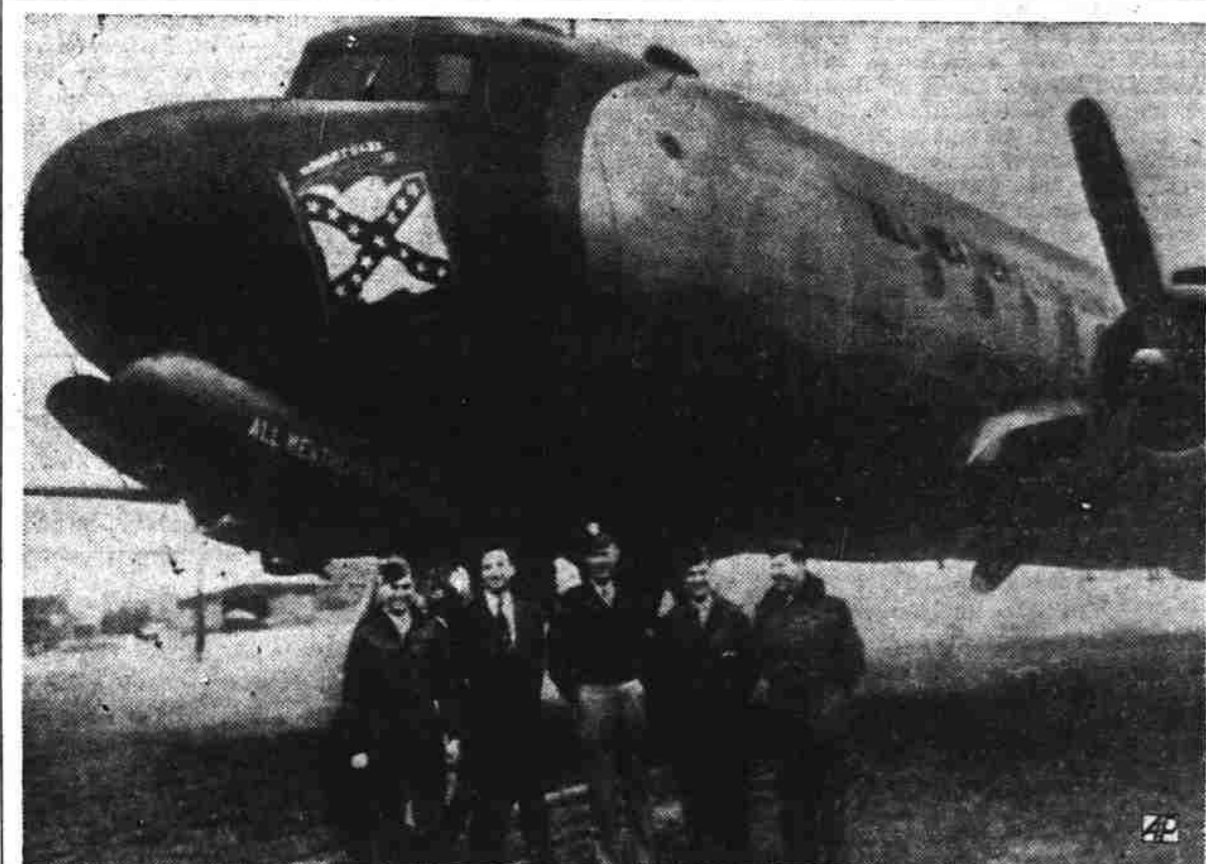

A shipment of orange juice, 624 gallons of it, will shortly be sent here for distribution to school lunch rooms in half a dozen counties of the immediate area.

The juice is given to the lunch rooms as part of the USDA subsidy program.

The commodity will be distributed by W. Walker Bailey, county school superintendent.

ARRIVES AT BERLIN
BERLIN, Sept. 24. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury John W. Snyder arrived by plane today for two days of conferences with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the U. S. military governor. Snyder said he came to Berlin at Clay's invitation. He declined to comment on what might be discussed.

Teachers Plan No Immediate Action

No immediate action is contemplated by the teachers of the Big Spring Independent School district, Miss Jo Hestand, president of the Big Spring Classroom Teachers association, said Wednesday.

Her announcement followed a meeting by representatives of the teachers, who Saturday had informed the board they could not continue indefinitely to teach for less than the state minimum salary.

"The citizens of Big Spring Independent School district have been informed that a statement from the classroom teachers would be made by Wednesday," said a formal announcement from the association.

"We are still of the opinion we should not teach for less than the state minimum salary.

"Due to the fact that certain action is being taken to remedy the situation, we are postponing definite action pending the outcome of the contested election suit. Our September checks are being accepted as partial payment of the state salary scale."

Meanwhile, there was a strong possibility that a petition contesting the Sept. 9 school district election here would be filed during the day. Notice of intention to file such a suit was given Saturday by Ted O. Groebel and 16 other proponents.

Announcement by the teachers clarified the situation temporarily, and instruction continued as usual in all classrooms of the city.

JEWISH HOLIDAY OBSERVED
Several local business houses were closed Wednesday in observance of Yom Kippur, the day of atonement which follows the beginning of the new year on the Jewish calendar. Private observances were the rule, there being no congregational ceremonies planned.

Rains had stopped both here and at Brunswick, Ga., this morning, and waters were receding.

Connolly Assured Of Freight Cars To Haul Texas Grain

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—Senator Connolly (D-Tex.) said today that railroad officials assuring him that more freight cars will be made available in Texas and Oklahoma to move this year's grain crops.

The association of American railroads wired Connolly: "Demands for boxcars exceed supply in all parts of the country and we are doing utmost to spread available equipment on equitable basis."

FEMALE VOTE ALLOWED
BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24. (AP)—A new law—signed last night by President Juan D. Peron—today gave Argentine women the right to vote in federal elections. The nation's provinces are considering similar legislation to permit female suffrage in provincial balloting.

The convention is scheduled to end today.

Kucera recommended that city officials apply local ordinances to care for local needs, and to follow the new safety code in so far as they find it practical.

Part Of Store To Be Given Out Promptly

Riches Should Meet Need For Emergency Help

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—An Allied Big Three commission has agreed to make prompt distribution of part of a $330,000,000 gold store seized during the war from the Germans as a means of helping meet critical financial needs of European countries.

Undersecretary of State Robert Lovett said today that representatives of the United States, Britain, and France, forming a "gold pot" commission, agreed to restore the gold to those countries from which it was looted by the Nazis.

Lovett told a news conference that only about half of the gold pot can be distributed immediately. In answer to a question, Lovett said he believes use of the gold will not eliminate the need for stop-gap emergency aid for western Europe from the United States.

But, he added, it will be a substantial help and might help to ease France over its present financial difficulties.

In Paris, French leaders were reported to have told Secretary of the Treasury Snyder that France will face a financial crisis within a few weeks unless help is forthcoming and that any aid under the Marshall plan would be too late.

Lovett said the United States urged a preliminary distribution of the gold not later than Oct. 15 and the commission has agreed to try to meet this deadline.

Of the Nazi-looted gold, about $260,000,000 worth has been recovered by American forces in Germany and about $70,000,000 worth recovered from other countries.

Eleven countries have filed claims to the money, totaling nearly $800,000,000, and Lovett explained about half the amount now in hand will have to be withheld to meet claims.

Aside from France the claimants include Albania, Austria, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Greece, Italy, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, Poland and Yugoslavia.

Lovett announced the move to meet European stop-gap needs at a conference at which he displayed copies of the full report of the 16-nation Paris conference on the Marshall Plan for European economic recovery.

He said the massive series of documents was forwarded last night by Secretary of State Marshall from New York and would be transmitted today to President Truman.

Six of the nine cabinet members are in Washington and the remaining three will be represented at the meeting with Mr. Truman. Undersecretary Robert A. Lovett will attend from the state department in the absence of Marshall at the United Nations general assembly in New York.

Secretary of Treasury Snyder, who is in Berlin today for conferences with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the U. S. military governor, will be represented by Undersecretary Archibald L. M. Wiggins.

Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach is taking a rest and is in Seattle visiting relatives. He will be represented by Undersecretary David A. Morse, who also had an appointment to see Mr. Truman prior to the cabinet meeting.

Dr. Nourse was expected to make the quarterly report of the economic advisory council available to Mr. Truman for possible review by the cabinet.

Attorney Dissects New Traffic Code

Kucera said "and use diplomacy in working out conflicts with state officials."

Kucera was critical of the provision of the code which holds that municipal authorities can't put a stop sign on a state highway without entering into a contract with the state.

He also said traffic control will remain a local problem.

Citing the conflict between the new code and local municipal ordinances, Kucera gave as an example the right of the pedestrian to cross a street against a red light.

The code provides he can do it if it is not hazardous, Kucera said. But he predicted that Texas cities would continue to regulate movements, pedestrians, parking, establishment of fire lanes and signal lights.

Women Of Belgium Must Ask Hubby When Bank Account Question Arises

The women of Belgium must have the permission of their husbands to make additions to the bank account or draw any money from the account," said Dr. June Hyer in a discussion of the political and educational status of women in France, Belgium and the Netherlands to the American Association of University Women in the Episcopal Parish house Tuesday night.

"The women have very little purchasing power as a result of this fact. Since the women do not have the purchasing power, the magazines and newspapers do not advertise, consequently the women do not get the advantage of learning the tricks of interior decorations, new recipes, new styles and many other services the American women have. All types of clothes are worn together, such as a fur coat, a sport dress, a strand of pearls, heavy shoes and a fuzzy hat. These may or may not be of clashing colors."

"The Belgians are for the most part thick skinned because of the diet of potatoes and bread."

"Legally the women of the Netherlands have the same rights as men but do not exercise these rights because they are not taught how to use them. The Belgian women have recently been granted the voting franchise but the women of France do not have the right. There are four marriage contracts in France, under three of them, the woman has no right; the husband can bring in four more wives if he chooses and there is nothing the wife can do. Under the fourth and more recent one, the husband cannot sell any property that the wife brings into the marriage contract without her permission, but she cannot sell it without his permission."

Dr. Hyer spent nine-months in Europe studying the influence of the influence of Nazi decrees and administration on the postwar philosophy of higher education in these countries. It was while there that she was asked to speak on the topic, "The organization of Women's Clubs in America." Not knowing what to do with the topic, she took instead the topic, "Political and educational status of American Women." It was while preparing this speech that she learned the status of the women there. They leave that to the men and know little about organizing clubs. This was made obvious by the fact that they were eager to know how the women organized clubs in America.

Dr. Hyer was introduced by Mrs. Charles Abele. A tea followed the speech. Mrs. Abele served punch from a table laid with lace, centered with fall flowers.

Those attending were Mrs. Jack Martin, Mrs. Bill Griese, Mrs. Eugene McNallen, Mrs. Willie Mae McCormick, Mrs. Frank Scarborough, Jr., Mrs. Albert Dillon, Mrs. W. G. FISH DIET
WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (U)—With meat and egg prices soaring, Secretary of Interior Krug suggested Tuesday eating more fish.
Krug said fish production is now at its peak for the year and that prices are about the same as last year with some popular items lower.

The National Recreation Association reports archery is "rapidly increasing in popularity" in the United States.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag every time you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

STOMACH TROUBLE. All forms of stomach trouble can be "classified" under two great divisions, namely, the organic and the neurotic. Organic disorders consist of those diseases which involve structural changes in the wall of the stomach. For example, ulcers of the stomach. Neurotic disorders are those conditions wherein the gastric juice is not normal in quality or in quantity.

There is often, a confusing similarity between the symptoms of many forms of stomach trouble. A correct diagnosis is difficult to obtain. That is why one practitioner will often diagnose your case as one thing and another diagnose it as an entirely different condition. However, Chiropractic does not depend for its success upon a diagnosis of the case. The Chiropractor does not concern himself with whether the patient is suffering from gastritis, peptic ulcer or nervous dyspepsia.

THE CHIROPRACTOR KNOWS That something is wrong with the stomach; he knows that there are certain nerves supplying the stomach; and that these nerves branch out from the spine. He knows that these nerves must be

Traffic Clinic Funds Hit $293

A total of $293.13, the amount netted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce traffic clinic Friday and Saturday, will be placed at the disposal of a committee which will work with church groups in meeting out charitable amounts to needy families for Christmas. It was announced at the JayCee meeting Tuesday in Hotel Crawford.

Accepted to be held under Junior Chamber auspices was a model airplane contest, and appointees to a committee on prizes in the event are Herb Feather, Jack Thompson, Travis Griffin and Hugh Mathis. James Sims, who promoted the idea to the Jaycees, explained rules and procedure for model airplane shows.

Approximately one-half of the funds pledged in support of the Junior Chamber balloon parade Dec. 4 have been collected.

Test Prepared In Sharon Ridge Pool

R. F. Townsend and R. H. Ratliff prepared to test on No. 10 Strain, a shallow test in the Sharon Ridge pool of southeastern Scurry county today.

The test, located in the southeast quarter of section 117-97, H&TC, topped pay at 1,700 feet and shot to 1,755 feet Saturday. Townsend & Ratliff No. 9 Strain, in the same quarter, was at 1,300 feet.

R. F. Townsend, et al. No. 4 Moran, east 160 acres of block 4, Kirland & Fields, set oil string at 1,520.

It was not until 1600 A. D. that Galileo demonstrated that air has weight.

AT POLICE MEET

Garrison Cites Need For Plan To Cope With Atomic Bombings

DULUTH, Minn., Sept. 24. (U)—Police and public safety officials of the nation today were urged to plan against the possibility of disaster in the form of atomic bombings.

The advice came from Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas department of public safety, who told a convention of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

"With the threat of atomic war hanging over our heads, I do not see how those of us who are charged with preserving the public safety of the nation can do any less than to plan against every sort of disaster, whether from fire or flood or explosion or warfare."

Describing how order was brought out of chaos in the Texas City explosion, Garrison said:

"We must x x x have the foresight to realize the need for disaster planning. We never expected Texas City to blow up. But it did. And we don't know when some similar tragedy may occur."

"Perhaps we do not expect to wake up some morning with atomic bombs exploding in our faces. But it could happen. And if we, the police of America, get caught flat-footed, unprepared to handle the chaos that would follow such an occurrence, we shall be at least indirectly responsible for increasing the loss of life and property for weakening the nation's morale and its ability to fight back."

Garrison said he was not predicting anything, "but I am saying that we must be prepared, as the heads of law enforcement in America, to cope with any emergency that may arise."

"To do that, we must have a plan," he continued. "We should have disaster plans, evacuation plans, and any other kind of plans that might conceivably be needed, including a plan of defense against atomic warfare."

Garrison recommended that planning primarily be done in towns and cities, which are "the real operating units," with state and federal governments helping to support, assist and coordinate.

He strongly recommended that state governments should each have at least a loose plan of coordination for disaster handling and that the towns and cities should have the nucleus of a disaster organization with some safe and convenient spot arranged and equipped for use as a control center.

"Beyond these suggestions I am not willing to go. If anything stronger or more detailed need to be said against the possibility of atomic warfare, I think we should look to the secretary of national defense to say it," Garrison told his audience.

AT PRESENT

Composer Hails Cowboy Song As Only Real American Music

EDGARTOWN, Mass., Sept. 24. (U)—The cowboy song is the only genuinely American music at the present time, says Bernard Wagenaar, New York composer.

The Dutch-born musician, however, says that the outlook is promising for the creation of serious music "essentially American." When an authentic American style comes, he says, it will not be based on folk music, as is the national music in Europe.

"Aside from the cowboy songs," he claims, "there is no genuine folk music in this country."

Although he describes cowboy music as "attractive and interesting," Wagenaar adds, "it is hardly the background for serious music in the larger forms."

"Negro music is not American folk music," he explains. "It is African in origin. Our Indian music is Indian rather than American. Kentucky ballads are an inheritance from England. Creole songs are French."

"Out of such ingredients you can't make a genuine American salad—something must be added." Wagenaar believes that such music will arise from "the fusing of nationalities in this country," adding, "it is not something that can be attained by desperately striving for it."

"That spirit which will be called typically American will most likely be marked by two very strong American characteristics—a healthy exuberance and a charming sentimentality."

Wagenaar, who has lived in the United States for 27 years, is working on his fourth symphony.

WARY MOVES

Dobie Case At UT Isn't Closed Yet

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. (U)—A possibility remained today that J. Frank Dobie might retain his connection with the University of Texas.

His name was ordered dropped from the payroll yesterday.

"I haven't got my campaign planned yet," the white-haired, leathery-cheeked folklorist, teacher and writer drawled. "I'm going to read these rules over and see what they say."

The rules he referred to are those dealing with leaves-of-absence for university professors and appeals from administrative denial of requests for such leaves.

Dobie declined to comment further, but his announcement of "campaign plans" was taken as a refutation of the theory that Dobie wanted to be fired.

A member of the faculty since 1914, the 59-year-old individualist has told university president T. S. Painter he did not wish to resign or to be fired, but neither would he agree to teach at the university this fall.

He said an incurable case of hay fever during the fall months in Austin each year made it impossible for him to "sleep or think or do any sort of work." He planned to teach in the spring.

Dr. Painter also indicated the matter was not yet in the closed-case category.

The university President announced yesterday that Dobie's connection with the school had been terminated because of his refusal to report for duty.

Later, Dr. Painter issued a clarifying statement in which he said: "This administrative action (the dropping of Dobie's name from the payroll) will be reported to the board of regents for their consideration in due course. This is the usual procedure when any staff member quits or fails to report for duty."

Plastics Take Fun Out Of Skidding

NEW YORK — (U)—Children won't like this, but skidding dogs and adults, who slide on rugs accidentally, can obtain a firm tread by a plastic applied to the bottom of the textile.

The National Safety Council estimates that 65 per cent of home accidents come from falls, and that sliding rugs account for many of these.

Rowland didn't get back in time to make his talk.

Citrus, Vegetable Growers Set Up Exhibits In Dallas

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (U)—Exhibits were being set up here Tuesday preparatory to the fifth annual convention of the Texas citrus and vegetable growers and shippers which will open Thursday.

More than 1,000 citrus and vegetable growers from Texas and points over the nation are expected to register today for the three-day meet. Austin Anson, executive manager of the association, said. The program will get underway officially with a Thursday luncheon at which association president Robert V. Dublin, Jr., of Laredo, and John Ben Sheppard, president of the U. S. junior chamber of commerce, will be the featured speakers.

Speakers Thursday afternoon will include Sam Rayburn and Atty. Gen. Tom Clark.

The Colorado River is about 1,700 miles long, of which 17 miles form a portion of the boundary between Arizona and Mexico.

Government Reports On Cotton Output

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24. (U)—The census bureau reported Tuesday that 1,552,858 bales of cotton from this year's crop were ginned prior to Sept. 16. This figure included round bales, counting them as half bales, but excluded linters.

The quantity ginned to the corresponding date last year totaled 1,255,327 bales and in 1945, 1,021,517 bales.

The ginnings by states this year and last, respectively, included: Arizona 19,739 and 11,322; Arkansas 93,500 and 73,012; Louisiana 195,825 and 91,974; Mississippi 152,249 and 149,305; Oklahoma 3,779 and 3,946; Texas 754,280 and 517,172.

Rotary Told U. S. Should Try To Make Good Impression In Europe

It is time, Miss June Hyer, University of Houston, told members of the Rotary club Tuesday noon that the United States concern itself with the possible impressions to be created by people and things leaving this country for Europe.

Out of the matters, which are insignificant to us, are created the bases of impressions—and misunderstanding—of the U. S., she explained. Miss Hyer recently returned from an extensive tour of Europe.

Other difficulties in promoting understanding, she said, come from their unsteady political situation.

tion, torn between democracy and communism and apt to go in the direction offering the most seeming security at the moment. Europeans also cannot understand our system, which changes leaders regularly, and in this respect the long tenure of Roosevelt attracted attention. Because ideologies are so different, Europeans cannot grasp our major political parties which show more difference in emblems than elsewhere. How men outside of government can exhibit such control and power such as John Lewis also amazes Europeans, as does the heavy percentage of clothing sent abroad being cotton. They do not realize American homes and buildings are warm, hence cotton is enough; rather they regard that we are giving away that of minor worth, said Miss Hyer. She said time was to help Europe help herself, not just give to the continent.

Jim McCulloch, Stamford, 127th Rotary district governor, was introduced by President Otto Peters, Sr., and touched briefly on Rotary's objectives, how it is the first international civic organization to begin operations anew in war stricken areas. He also touched on plans for the district conference here early in 1948. Visitors included Jim Beal, Sweetwater Rotarian, Nell Brown, Sam Goldman, J. H. Greene, Mrs. R. P. Kounitz and Harold Fox.

Baptists Plan For New Seminary

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 24. (AP)—Preliminary approval has been given Jacksonville as the site for a college of seminary status which would be owned and operated by the American Baptist Association.

The selection was disclosed in the report of a committee, headed by the Rev. J. E. Cobb of Arkansas, to representatives of 123 churches in six southwestern states at a meeting at the First Baptist Church here yesterday.

The commendation will be presented to the Texas Baptist Association at its annual meeting Nov. 12-13 at Port Arthur. If approved, it will then be submitted to the annual meeting of the American Baptist Association at St. Louis in March.

Sponsors expressed the hope that the seminary would be ready to open in the fall of 1948. It would begin operation in connection with Jacksonville college.

Industry Is Seeking Machines To Save Labor And Cut Costs

(AP Newsfeatures Writer)
NEW YORK—Rising production costs are causing industry to turn to the labor-saving machine.

With employment hitting record peaks, not much attention has been paid to the progress of the "iron men." Nevertheless, industrial experts say employers in hundreds of fields—from the factory to the farm, in offices and stores—are using more and more mechanical devices which can work around the clock without stopping to eat or sleep.

Here are a few typical examples of machines which already have moved, or soon will move, into action:

An "assembly line" system for dairies. All stages in milk production, including sterilization, are handled in a continuous flow. This system is said to save 25 per cent in man power.

Massive presses which can stamp out whole sides of houses and affect drastic cuts in the assembly times for prefabricated homes.

A device to grind six cast iron gear cases in the time previously used on one.

A complete bakery system, more than a block long, with automatic controls which render the old-time baker virtually obsolete.

New packaging "hands." In a pharmaceutical factory they take bottles of drugs off the assembly line, add circulars and droppers and open and close the individual packages in which the bottles are deposited. Then they stack the packages neatly in cartons, seal the cartons and move them to the shipping department.

Much of the credit for the mechanization boom, engineers say, belongs to electronic devices which were spurred on by the war. These devices can "see," "feel," "smell" and "taste" with a speed and accuracy far surpassing human senses. They are being used in an increasing variety of ways: to detect impurities and imperfections, to sound warning alarms when other machines don't work properly, to provide "fool proof" signals in transportation. They are the basis of the spectacular computing machines which solve mathematical questions far beyond the depth of unaided humans—and they also can be adapted to cook a thick steak in less than a minute.

The most publicized "technological advances" have taken place on the farm, where by virtue of new and improved planters, pickers and harvesters, production has increased one third over prewar while the manpower used has declined ten per cent. Even such long term holdouts against complete mechanization as cotton and sweet corn reportedly are on the way to succumbing, with improved cotton weeders and pickers in the development stage and a corn picker just introduced which can pluck table corn without damaging the ears.

On the merchandising front, authorities say new automatic vending machines may be the forerunner of the automatic store. "Silent salesmen" now sell products like nylon hose, men's shirts, cakes of ice, phonograph records and books. In the production stage are gadgets which their sponsors claim will simplify supermarket shopping by enabling customers to just what they want on tape as they walk about the store. As the customers arrive at the check-out counter the purchases will come tumbling down a chute.

Not only is the "clerkless store" a possibility, industrial engineers say, but theoretically a fully automatic factory, using different machines which already have proved their worth in actual operation, also could be constructed. That this will come is widely doubted, however, since intricate and costly devices often would have to be installed to do work which could be performed cheaper by men.

During the depression, many economists argued that widespread unemployment had resulted from the displacement of working men by machines, and it is probably that if there is any future drop in the working force that argument will be heard again. Advocates of increased mechanization say, however, that machines have helped to reduce working hours and raise wages and are necessary for further improvements in the standard of living. They argue that while machines displace some workers they help create new industries which in turn give employment.

But regardless of the argument the fact right now is that the machines are on the march.

AT DALLAS DEBATE

Hollywood Pair Oppose 'New Look'

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—Some favor long skirts and some don't, but the argument goes on and on. A Hollywood pair didn't and two fashion experts from New York did here last night on "America's Town Meeting."

Constance Bennett and designer Adrian were the film colony duet who didn't like long skirts and the new "look." Fira Bennenson, designer, and Lois Long, fashion editor, did.

Miss Bennenson and Miss Long argued vehemently that women should accept the new feminine look of natural shoulders, small waist and long skirt.

Miss Bennett and Adrian opposed what they said was "Paris dictation" and backed the cause of the "American look" of reasonably padded shoulders and mid-calf length skirts.

"If you wear the new style you might as well get a Stanley steamer and put your husband in a three-inch collar," Adrian said.

Artist Needed To Make Faces, Help Veterans

AP Newsfeatures

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. — Virginia McCall has postponed a career as an artist to help surgeons "paint" out the scars of battle-shattered faces.

Working with wet plaster, Miss McCall records the facial injuries of war veterans at Valley Forge General Hospital in like-like masks used by plastic surgeons to rebuild broken faces.

"Human life seems more important than works of art at the moment," explains the artist whose paintings have been displayed in Paris, Washington, Philadelphia and Chicago.

Room of Hope
To veterans the mask room at Valley Forge is a room of hope for here Miss McCall's masks show the step-by-step restoration of faces scarred in warfare.

Surgeons from China, Russia, South Africa, Australia and Canada have traveled to Valley Forge to see the masks of this artist whose great-grandmother worked in the wards in the Civil War.

Before an operation is performed Miss McCall molds a mask of his face and paints it to show the injuries. Surgeons take measurements from the masks for future restoration and use the masks in the operating room as guides.

Of 7,000 plastic cases admitted to the hospital since 1943, many have returned to normal life though some have undergone as many as 40 or more operations. Miss McCall helps speed recovery by teaching painting and drawing in a studio cluttered with easels and paintings.

Help For a Veteran
"I was just lying in bed one day when Miss McCall came in and left some scrap books and pencils," said Staff Sgt. John F. Anthony, of Haverhill, Mass., who has spent three years in hospitals after shrapnel injuries.

"She told me to draw everything and anything. As I went along I got more interested—now she's encouraging me to do oils. It certainly takes your mind off things," he said.

Fifty Are Expected At Traffic School

AUSTIN, Sept. 24. (AP)—Fifty city and county traffic officers are expected to attend a traffic school to be conducted here Oct. 6 and 11 by the state department of public safety. Assistant Director Joe S. Fletcher said here today.

Twenty hours of instruction will be devoted to study of the new traffic laws which became effective Sept. 5 and an additional five hours will be devoted to the laws' application to engineering problems, he said.

Other studies include the techniques of traffic law enforcement, accident investigation, records and analysis, and physical laws.

Fishermen Rescued From Burning Boat

GALVESTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—Three Port Arthur fishermen were safe today after an air-rescue when their shrimp boat burned and split in half near San Luis Pass.

Two Galveston beach patrol life guards assisted in the rescue yesterday.

Patrolmen Leroy Colombo and Jack Thompson saw the vessel burning and cleared a landing spot for a Piper Cub plane on a nearby island.

The three fishermen—Louis Deshotel, Cornelius Auenson and Vernon Abbott—swam to the island. The plane flew the men to Port Arthur.

KEYS made at Johnny Griffin's.

Putting Leisure Time To Good Use

This reminder may seem a bit tardy, but it's still not too late to act if you want to avail yourself of educational opportunities in the evenings.

Howard County Junior College is offering a variety of courses, based upon demand. Classes are to be held Tuesday and Thursday evenings, in order that employed adults will be able to meet the schedule.

Most of these courses are vocational in nature, thus preparing a person for another or better position, or to train the student to become more productive and effective in his current trade or profession. Beyond these are courses which are cultural or academic—such as languages, Woodworking and leathercraft are vocational, yet they offer a splendid means of training for profitable and creative hobbies.

One of the distinct advantages of a small college at home is that it can become a people's college, meeting the needs and demands of the people it serves. This prime objective can be realized only to the extent that people make use of the college.

Thus, if you have leisure time and want to put it to use that will return dividends in money or happier living, we suggest you explore the possibility of an evening school class at the college. Whether you ever got passed the second grade makes no difference—your interest is the thing.

Formula For Effective Compromise

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, has unleashed his second blistering attack on the United States, seeking to place blame for deadlocks on this nation.

But it remained for Warren R. Austin, U. S. delegate to the U. N. Reply to Vishinsky's repeated reference to Russia's position being right, as opposed to the U. S. contentions in the same direction, Mr. Warren said:

"It's not who's right—but what's right." There's the meat of the coconut. If there could but be a general recognition and acceptance of this fundamental truth, how easily it would be to compose differences. It may seem paradoxical, but it will be easier to agree on what is right rather upon who is right.

In the same breath, Mr. Austin also made the pointed observation that the (U. N.) "general assembly must show its capacity to do things." This was out of appreciation of the repeated employment of the veto by Russia in the security council. On the basis of the security council's performance—or lack of it—to date, the chief hope of constructive function of the U. S. lies in its general assembly. If it does not manifest a capacity for action, the whole mechanism may become one of frustration.

The best way to achieve effectiveness is in the simple formula given by Mr. Austin, to act boldly for right as nearly as human minds can determine the right.

World Condemns Red Methods

One tumultuous week has passed since the western democracies, paced by America, opened their major offensive in the United Nations to focus world attention on the threat to peace produced by Russia's tactics for aggressive expansion of communism—and already global opinion as represented in the U. N. has rendered a vehement verdict condemning Red methods.

Barring the support of her satellites, the Soviet Union stands virtually alone in this great issue among nations who would like to be its friends. Of course the ultimate objective of the western offensive is to force Russia through public opinion to abandon the methods she has been pursuing, but it remains to be demonstrated whether she will bow to the verdict. There are doubts on that score. Yesterday Britain, the last of the Big Five to mount the assembly roster, declared her position through Minister of State Hector McNeill and ranged herself solidly with the United States, who previously had been joined by France and China. So the Big Five lineup on this issue is America, Britain, France and China versus Russia. The other nations—barring the Soviet dominated countries—also have been flocking about the banner of democracy.

McNeill, 37-year-old Scotsman who is a protégé of British Foreign Minister Bevin, lined up his country with America in a dramatic address which was directed mainly to Russia. This quick minded, tough talking young statesman—whose two-listed methods are rather reminiscent of Bevin's—first hammered the Muscovites and then appealed to them to drop what he described as their unyielding attitude toward world problems.

Meantime the Marshall Plan, which Russia claims is designed to give America control of Western Europe, was being earnestly studied in both Washington and Paris without regard to Soviet opposition. The program developed by the 16 nations in the French capital is divided into two parts. One is a long term proposition under which America would provide $13,300,000,000 through the years 1948-51 for general rehabilitation. The other is an emergency call for food and some other pressing necessities.

Sun Effects Air Currents

By MAX HALL

(For JAMES MARLOW)
WASHINGTON, D. C.—Yesterday at one minute before 5:22 p. m., General Standard Time, the center of the sun crossed the equator, going south.

That moment is the equinox. It marked the arrival of autumn. South of the equator, it marked the arrival of spring.

Interestingly, what some people call "equinoctial gales" are puffing around various parts of the country.

For example, a new tropical windstorm is whistling through Florida. Last week a major hurricane lashed Florida and raked the Gulf Coast. The Great Lakes area and the northeastern states have been feeling strong winds that have no relation at all with the tropical storms.

None of these disturbances is really "equinoctial," in any direct sense.

The weather bureau says they are not connected with the equinox as an astronomical event.

Today, when the sun's rays in the equator at precisely perpendicular angle, and the north pole begins settling down into its six months of darkness and the south pole into its six months of constant light, the event itself won't have any effect on the winds that blow.

Even so, weather experts say there is a relationship between the southward passage of the direct sun rays at this season and the currents of our air.

This relationship is complex, but the rough idea is that land masses and water masses are cooling rather fast at this time of the year. Furthermore, the land is cooling faster than the water, and this uneven cooling helps to stir the breeze.

The hurricane was a dramatic illustration of the grief unusual weather can cause.

But enormous damage can be done by just plain rain, which caused floods and crop damage in the early summer, by searing heat, which injured the corn crop in August; and by frost, which has already stolen down into the north central states.

But that isn't surprising for September. The weather bureau says the north central states and northern New England can normally expect an average of one freezing day each September, and Rocky Mountain areas can expect two or three such days.

In past years, the bureau says, every state except Florida has had freezing weather in September.

Wyoming and Colorado have had September temperatures of 9 below zero.

In September 1917, Colorado had a statewide average of 11.8 inches of snow.

Dream Of Apartment

NEW YORK, (U. P.)—This is a true story of a young man who found and lost a dream apartment.

Ever since he returned from overseas, he had walked the dreary treadmill of the national housing shortage. He lit in more places than he had with the paratroopers. His only address was portable—his suitcase.

He haunted so many real estate offices that in one he was bawled out for coming in after ten o'clock. They had seen him around so often they thought he was an employee.

Some weeks ago a friend tipped him off on how he could get into one of the fancy new cave dwelling units going up in Manhattan.

"Of course, you're married?" asked the apartment house manager, pointing out that only families were acceptable as tenants. Dogs, old maids and bachelors were barred.

"Uh-h-h," said the young man, thinking fast. "I'm engaged, but my fiancée and I can't get married until we have a place to move into."

"Of course," purred the manager ominously, "in that case, we'll have to check into the situation."

The young man, who until then had regarded matrimony as an affliction slightly less desirable than smallpox, gave the manager the name and address of his current girl friend.

He then rushed to a phone, made a luncheon date with her and proposed—somewhere between the vichy soisse and pie a la mode.

"Looky, you gotta marry me," he said. "I have to get that apartment."

She looked in his eyes and saw therein not love, but a desperate longing for his own easy chair and a place to park his razor. So, as women will, she let him have the hammer right on the forehead.

"Bill," she said, naming his rival, "asked me yesterday to marry him. And, furthermore, I am going to."

The young man took that blow more philosophically than she liked. "But you owe me something," he said. "You've got to help me. You've got to pose as my fiancée—at least until I get into that apartment. Then I can tell the manager you jilted me, and I won't get thrown out."

Indignant at first, she finally agreed to play her part in the ruse. The apartment manager's sleuth came around, corroborated the "engagement," and finally the young man received notice to show up with his fiancée by a certain date if he wanted his apartment.

He called the girl but was unable to reach her. He was frantic when he finally located her—just an hour before the leasing deadline.

"We have to hurry down to sign up," he told her. "It's no go unless you're along."

"I can't go through with it," she said.

Dumfounded, the young man stormed, threatened and then got down on his verbal knees before the rock wall of her resistance.

To no avail.

"You see," she told him happily, "Bill heard—much about that building he finally went down and applied for an apartment for us. I can't do anything now that would hurt our own chance to get in."

Now she's one of the town's most stylish dressmakers and runs up duds for Carole Landis, Lucille Ball, Mitzi Green, Mrs. Jack Benny, Mrs. Bob Hope and other similarly well-heeled females.

She has managed to reach her fashionable peak by a series of showmanlike promotions which make her virtually the Billy Rose of the smart dress business.

Her latest gimmick: Using live mannequins in the display windows of her salon.

GENE KELLY was walking down Broadway, hidden behind the anonymity of a scrubby black beard he grew for an imminent film, when he investigated a crowd on a Broadway corner.

He discovered it was a movie crew shooting a Manhattan scene on the spot, with Director George Cukor directing away furiously as Ronald Colman went through his starring paces.

Assuming an innocent expression, Gene pushed into camera range, stopping the action. He was pushed aside by an assistant who didn't recognize him, and as Cukor and Colman quietly fumed, the dancing star stepped in again.

"Have that guy pinched," Cukor yelled to a nearby policeman who was shooting away the crowds. Just as Gene was about to be trundled off to the pokie, he turned around to see Colman and Cukor could get a good look at him and a little M-G-M reunion was held on the spot.

Banker Opposes Europe Aid

WASHINGTON, (U. P.)—A red hot battle is being staged behind the scenes between the state and treasury departments on one hand and the export-import bank over loans to Europe.

While the state and treasury departments have been scraping the bottom of the appropriations barrel looking for a few million here and there to stop revolution in Europe, William McChesney Martin, head of the export-import bank, has been sitting on $800,000,000 already appropriated by Congress.

However, Martin considers Europe a bad financial risk, says that if Congress wants to give away money it should say so.

As the heat got hot on the export-import bank last week, President Martin quietly left on "an extended tour of Europe." President Truman may order him back to face the music.

STILL JEALOUS
Now that he is boss of all the land, sea, and air forces, Defense Secretary James Forrestal already is showing favoritism for his old friends in the Navy.

Forrestal is keeping only his naval and marine aides—Capt. Charles Buchanan, USN, and Capt. Edward Elder, USMC. The Army and Air Corps will not be represented.

Forrestal's public relations post has also been assigned to a Navy man, Capt. Robert Berry, who, himself, thinks the job should go to a civilian, not a man trained to fight.

Finally, Forrestal plans to take his Navy office staff with him to the Pentagon building, thus surrounding himself entirely with Naval personnel, except for a couple of Army enlisted men.

MARTIN MUSES

Stocky, scowling Speaker Joe Martin bluntly admitted to close friends recently that the "Eisenhower boom has politicians worried." Darkly he added that "an undercurrent for MacArthur" also is rustling across the country and might burst into presidential fireworks.

Joe didn't seem too happy about this either.

"What if MacArthur should suddenly step off the boat at San Francisco?" blurted out the earthy, plain-spoken Speaker.

"Next he would be riding down Fifth Avenue. What then? Can't you visualize it? The idea of MacArthur for president could take the country by storm."

"Let me tell you," continued the little man from Massachusetts.

sets, "if things get worse in Europe, the people may turn to a military man like Eisenhower or MacArthur."

The Eisenhower boom already has penetrated the grass roots and is gaining strength, Martin continued, citing as his source ex-GOP candidate Alf Landon. "I don't think Alf would kid me," he added.

"I am a politician, and I know how these booms can pick up momentum," explained the Speaker. The Eisenhower boom was not starting too early, he said, and hinted the chief of staff might not be so reticent about politics once out of uniform.

Eisenhower, Martin agreed, was more popular than MacArthur, but "if chaos should develop," he warned, "The people will look for an iron hand. Then they may turn to MacArthur."

"But what about the bonus march?" asked one friend. "I can't forget how MacArthur ejected those veterans from the capital."

MARTIN TOO OLD?
"The public has a short memory," shrugged Martin. "That was 15 years ago."

"You mustn't forget MacArthur is getting along in age," pointed out another of Martin's friends. "He's 67, if I remember right. Isn't that a little old to be running for president?"

The Speaker shook his head: "Some people are 60 years old when they are 90, and others are 90 years old at 60. A man is as young as he feels and MacArthur must feel young or how could he run Japan so vigorously?"

As for Martin's own designs on the Republican nomination, the man who would be heir to the presidency if Truman should die, had little to say. He admitted that he had outlined a speaking tour which would cross the paths of other presidential candidates, but claimed it was no presidential-scouting trip.

"I started out with two," he explained apologetically as he fumbled down a list of speaking engagements. Then he added: "It would be nice to make this trip a junket. We could stop to shoot pheasants in South Dakota."

LAST VISIT
In his declining years, Fiorello La Guardia never lost a nostalgia for Capitol Hill, where he began his amazing public career and where, as a fledgling House member, he once astounded his colleagues during prohibition by reading a recipe for home brew into the congressional record.

Last time La Guardia visited Congress was just before adjournment in July, when his failing health was sadly apparent. He looked worn and haggard. Representative John Dingell of Michigan, an old friend, urged La Guardia to "take it easy."

"Look here, Little Flower," warned Dingell, "You've been blossoming over too much terrain and your petals are beginning to droop a little. The rugged La Guardia I once knew is getting pretty frail. You need a rest. You ought to slow down."

"I guess you're right, John," the New Yorker grinned palely. "But I can't take time to slow down as long as there's work to do."

In Hollywood—Bob Thomas

Olivia Is Booster Of Marriage

By FRANKLIN ARTHUR

(For BOB THOMAS)

"HOLLYWOOD, (U. P.)—Olivia De Havilland, who a little more than a year ago was Hollywood's No. 1 bachelor girl, is now the town's prize booster for the married state.

She stopped playing insane long enough on "The Snake Pit" set to offer a few sane observations, gleaned from her first year as Mrs. Mark Goodrich:

"There's nothing like wedded life. No girl should be without it. But don't get married just to be Mrs. Somebody. You really do know the real thing when it arrives. Make sure yours is."

"Don't fear for your freedom. I haven't given up one single thing, but I've gained lots. I can even have coffee in bed, served by my husband. What bachelor girl can make that statement?"

When Hal Wallis bought June Truesdell's psychological novel, "Be Still, My Love," for an announced $50,000, then took a look at June he mused: "Hm. Here, perhaps, we have another Kathleen Windsor."

Quickies: Very quietly last week, on his 25th birthday, William S. Hart, Jr., came into a $100,000 trust fund set up at his birth. But there's been no indication he's giving up his contest of his two-gun father's will, which excluded him and his mother, Winifred Westover, from the $1,000,000 estate.

Groucho Marx is branching out again. He and Norman Krassa have written a play, "Elizabeth," which Melvyn Douglas will produce and direct, hoping eventually to reach Broadway with it. And Groucho's mulling a deal which would make him emcee of a new radio audience-participation show...

LOOKING 'EM OVER

WITH TOMMY HART

Our Town could now proffer a challenge to any junior golf team in the state and stand more than an even chance of winning it. That goes for any of the metropolitan areas as well as the hamlets.

The village boasted two of the best young linksmen in Bobby and Marvin Wright. Now the talented Maxwell brothers, Billy and Bobby, are moving here from Abilene. Bobby is the Abilene junior and senior champion. Billy is perhaps West Texas' best young golfer and improves with each outing.

The four of them can hold their own in any invitational tournament in this area. In fact, Billy has probably taken more titles in West Texas this year than any other mashie wielder. He's due to be even better next year and the year after that. He's the boy who shot a 66 into Byron Nelson in the recent exhibition at the Muni course. After the match, Lord Byron forecast a brilliant future for the youngster, said he had all the shots.

The Maxwell brothers' arrival will help to take up some of the slack in the local links picture caused by the departure of Bill (Red) Roden, who plans to move to Odessa shortly and enter business. Bill will continue to hold a membership in the local club but will headquarter in the Ector county capital.

The Muni golf course's driving range, which is located between the first and ninth fairways of the old layout, will shortly be open for business. The facility can be abandoned any time the city decides to put the front nine back in order.

Jones Leading Bobcat Threat

Ways and means of stopping Tommy Jones, star Childress back, occupied the attentions of the Big Spring Steers in football drills Tuesday afternoon.

The B stringers ran Childress plays, as reported by the scouts, and more of the same was booked for today.

Jones, who weighs but 141 points, has been sensational in both of Childress' starts this fall and will be a strong candidate for all-state honors.

In addition to being a running threat, Jones does his team's kicking. The passing ordinarily is done by Tommy's brother, C. Jones, and Roger Ulmer, but Tommy can chuck the leather on occasions.

All the Big Springers appear to be in good shape.

The contest appears to be just what the locals need, what with the Odessa game coming up a week hence. The Longhorns are in need of a toughening-up process and Childress appears capable of giving them all they bargained for.

The outcome will be watched closely all over the state. If the Big Springers should happen to win that one, if by the closest of margins, they would be given an excellent chance to upset the Odessans.

Hubbers To Meet Lone Star Champ

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—The Class C baseball championship of Texas will be decided in a seven game series between Lubbock, winner of the West Texas-New Mexico league, and the Lone Star league champion.

Milton Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico league, announced the series yesterday after a conference with Fred Nicholson, president of the Lone Star league.

If the Lone Star league series is completed by tonight, the championship series will start at Lubbock Friday.

The first three games will be at Lubbock and the next four—if all are needed—at the Lone Star league city.

Kilgore was back in front in the Lone Star league today with a chance to nail down the championship tonight.

The Drillers' 6-3 decision over Marshall last night gave them a three games to two lead in the seven-game series.

Greenville Wins
By The Associated Press
Greenville's Majors increased their chances of advancing into the finals of the Big State league playoff last night, dumping Wichita Falls, 9-8, in an eleven-inning game.

It was the second straight Greenville victory. Wichita Falls now leads the best of seven series, three games to two.

Reynolds, Shea Stop Senators

By The Associated Press

New York Yankee pitching, inconsistent since mid-July, is looking better with every passing day. Instead of a crippled, sore-armed staff, Manager Bucky Harris now has four starters bidding for the coveted opening World Series job with their best performances of the season.

Bucky seems to have solved the age-old problem of keeping the boys interested in the intervening days between the pennant clinching and the series opening.

He has most of the staff outdoing one another in a wholesome rivalry for that No. 1 job against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Allie Reynolds, Frank Shea, Bobo Newsom and Bill Bevens are in the running with Spud Chandler beginning to show signs of life.

Reynolds and Shea yesterday tossed the Yankees to a doubleheader win over Washington 2-0 and 3-1.

Reynolds, working eight innings, blanked the Senators with six hits, before yielding to a pinch hitter.

Shea gave only two hits, although he walked seven, in his eight-inning chore. Reynolds' shutout was his 13th success and Shea picked up win No. 14.

In each case, Lefty Joe Page stalked from the bull pen to tune up his soupbone with a one-inning stint. Unless it's a case of reaching the peak a week ahead of time, the Yankees are ready.

Page, incidentally, equalled a long standing Yankee record set by Jack Chesbro in 1904 when he appeared in his 54th game in the nightcap.

Chandler has not pitched in a league game since Sept. 1 when he threw to only three batters on relief in Boston. Bone chips in his arm may keep him out of this series. However, Chandler has been throwing harder in recent days and might surprise all.

Brooklyn also started work with the series in mind, instead of worrying about the Cardinals, who finally have been eliminated mathematically. Joe Hatten was given a five-inning outing against New York to gain credit for his 17th victory, 6-1. Dan Bankhead tossed the last four innings after Hatten went out for a pinch hitter and most of the reserves were thrown into action.

Even Jackie Robinson, who was presented with a new car, television set, $500 watch and other gifts in Robinson Day ceremonies, yielded to Ed Stevens midway in the game.

St. Louis, a bit concerned about Boston's challenge for second money, disposed of Pittsburgh, 8-4 despite Ralph Kiner's 5th homer. As a result, the Cards now are two full games ahead of the Braves. Kiner's blow put him ahead of New York's Johnny Mize.

Shaw Suffers Arm Fracture

WATER VALLEY, Sept. 24. — Water Valley's hard-luck Wildcats, preparing for their District Seven six-man football game with the Rankin Red Devils, will probably have to play without the services of Capt. Ken Shaw.

Shaw, a back, suffered an arm fracture in last week's game with Merton. The mishap occurred in the third period of the game.

Elvin Mathis, Valley mentor, gloomily predicted that Rankin would swamp his charges.

Rankin's starting lineup will probably consist of R. Bell 150, T. Hall 185, and J. Holmes 135, backs; T. Blue 135, D. Still 140, ends; and J. Stephenson 135, center.

ONE OUT OF EIGHT — Stewart Iglehart, captain of the Old Westbury polo team, bends low over his pony as he drives home one of the eight goals he scored at Westbury, N. Y., Sunday as his team galloped to a 10-to-7 victory over the defending titleholders, Mexico, in the National Open Polo Championships. A ten-goal man, Iglehart literally carried his team to victory with long hard shots which dominated the play. (AP Wirephoto)

Coahoma Plays Eagles Friday

COURTNEY, Sept. 24. — The 'game of the year' will be unraveled here Friday when Coahoma's up-and-coming Bulldogs take on the Courtney Eagles.

The six-man football championship of District Seven could well hinge on the outcome of the tussle. The Coahomans hurdled Sterling City, 31-20, with a surprising show of power last week while Courtney was thumping Garden City and looking good in doing it.

The War Birds, whose offense is built around the talented and versatile Taylor Cross, are being coached this year by G. W. Kenner, who succeeded H. H. Deck to the post.

Five Teams Enter Soccer Tourney

DALLAS, Sept. 24. (AP)—Five teams already have entered the Texas Amateur Athletic Federation soccer competition and there still are several weeks left to enter.

A Ramsden of Dallas, Texas Soccer commissioner, who also is Southwestern Commissioner of the National Amateur Cup competition, announced today.

Four Dallas teams and the veteran Tom Brown Galveston Pirates are on the line.

Entries close Oct. 12 at noon. The tournament is open to amateur teams of U. S. citizenship.

Deadline for entries in the national amateur cup competition of the U. S. soccer federation is Oct. 1 at noon at New York. Teams from Texas and neighboring states of Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico and Arkansas are eligible.

The lantern used by Paul Rerevere was made of punched iron with a hinged door through which a candle could be inserted.

Local Elevens Play Thursday

Two local football teams, the Yearlings and the Short-horns, move on Lamesa Thursday for their first assignments of the 1947 season.

The Yearlings, those in the eighth grade, meet the Junior Tornados at 6:30 p. m. while the Short-horns, composed of B string players of the varsity club, play the Lamesa reserves immediately afterwards.

The Yearling eleven is coached by Good Graves, former Howard Payne standout, while Conn Isaacs and J. B. Neely handle the Short-horns.

The ninth graders on the Yearling squad, handled by Jumbo Jim McWhorter wait until Friday to start their season, taking the field here against Odessa's Junior Bronchos.

O'Daniel Lashes U. S. Public Debt

McALLEN, Sept. 24. (AP)—W. Lee O'Daniel, Texas' junior U. S. Senator, has declared the $260,000,000 public debt the "greatest cloud" on the American horizon.

O'Daniel made this statement here yesterday, saying that ten billions of it—chargeable to Texans on a pro rata population basis—is five billions more than the state's property value.

He also said that he was opposed to American aid to Europe. He did not amplify his remarks on this subject.

O'Daniel ended a day's tour of the Rio Grande Valley yesterday. While in Edinburg he received a ticket for overtime parking at a meter and a friend, W. P. Smith, paid the fine.

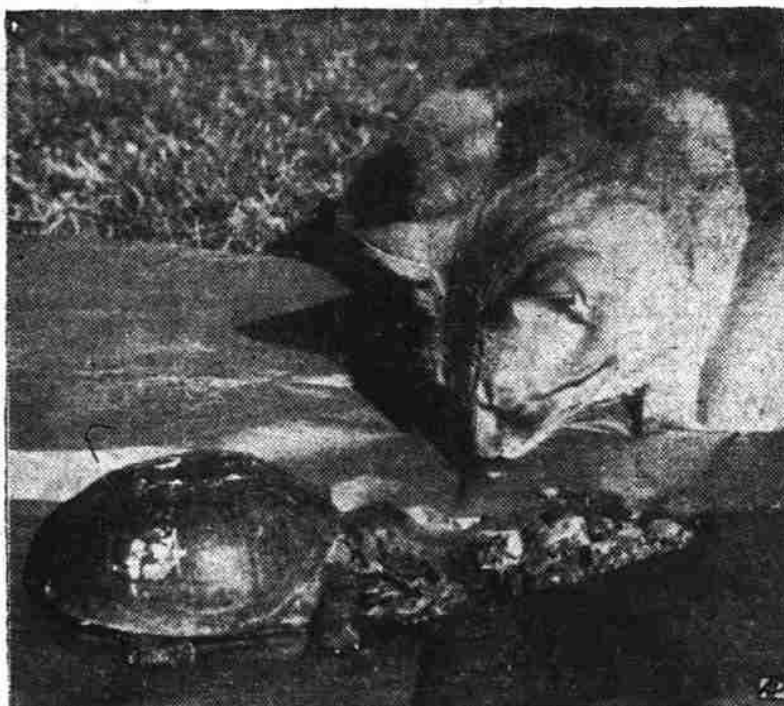

Local Scout Leader Begins Sixth Year

Henry D. Norris began his sixth year Wednesday as field executive for the Buffalo Trail council in Big Spring. The Big Spring district has been his first and only assignment since he entered Boy Scout work professionally, and under his direction, working with the district committee, the Big Spring area has enjoyed one of the best records in membership and activities in the council.

Rests From Injuries

Will Griggs, Negro, was resting satisfactorily at the Big Spring Hospital, where he is employed, following injuries sustained early Tuesday afternoon when struck by a truck.

The mishap occurred when Griggs was walking at NW 4th and N. Gregg streets. Roy Key, driver, stopped and gave aid, police said.

HAVE ONE ON ME — Skipper, tough Tomcat, and Stupid, a desert turtle, share meals at the El Paso, Texas, home of Mrs. Peggy Stevenson. Trial On Sugar Ration Violation Is Slated Today

FORT WORTH, Sept. 24. (AP)—Trial of eleven men charged with violation of the second war powers act by illegal handling of sugar ration coupons was to begin today before Federal Judge T. W. Davidson.

U. S. Attorney Cavett S. Binion filed charges yesterday against nine men identified as soft drink bottlers in various Texas cities.

The nine men are alleged to have purchased sugar rationing coupons in June and July of 1946 from three men who have been indicted for conspiring to violate the act.

The charges allege that at various times during the two month period the men purchased sugar ration coupons from Edward A. Miller, 30, of Fort Worth; Willard F. Miner, 34, and Charles Kohs, both of Chicago.

Those charged here yesterday were W. E. Brown of Texarkana, Pat E. Hodge of Marlin, J. MacBacon of Sherman, Drury Lane of Caldwell, Ralph Turicchi of San Angelo, R. L. Wington of Itasca, who operates a grocery and market, M. L. King of Ranger, Leverett Bryant of Tyler and Victor A. Sala of Gonzales. If found guilty of the misdemeanor of which they are charged, the men individually face a maximum penalty of one year in prison and a $10,000 fine or both.

Independent Oil Producers Protest Prices Of Supplies

HOUSTON, Sept. 24. (AP)—Letters seeking distribution of oil casing and tubing only through "responsible channels" have been sent seven steel companies by a representative of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners' association.

H. J. Porter, president of the association, said here yesterday he had been empowered to write the letters.

The written requests ask the companies co-operate to distribute casing and tubing through "responsible channels" that will not engage in black market operations.

An assertion is made in the letters that Texas independent oil producers have paid—in some instances—as much as 150 percent over list price in order to obtain scarce items.

Restaurant Men Hold Meet Here

Business sessions were in progress today at the Crawford hotel for the West Texas Restaurant Association, which holds its regular meetings in Big Spring.

Among speakers to address the restaurateurs, said John Held, Odessa, president, were Ralph Mitchell, Austin, state health department, V. G. Griffin, Fort Worth, Armour & Co. sales manager, R. S. Gerhart, Lubbock, John Katman, Lubbock, and C. W. Mason, sanitarian for the Big Spring-Howard county health unit. Katman's talk was to deal with operational accountability.

An informal social Tuesday evening at Chowford preceded opening of business sessions. Members attending from most of the cities in the territory from Abilene to Monahans and Lubbock to San Angelo were guests at a luncheon Wednesday noon at the Crawford.

Widely Known Sports Fisherman Is Dead

McALLEN, Sept. 24. (AP)—Ed A. Keirn, 56, widely known sports fisherman, is dead.

The retired Wichita, Kas., businessman died here at his home yesterday.

Keirn won the ability award at the Tampico, Mexico, tarpon rodeo and landed the biggest tarpon in the Brownsville rodeo this year.

SPENDS RESTFUL NIGHT

Charles F. Morris, fuel dealer and long-time resident of Big Spring, spent a restful night Tuesday at Cowper-Sanders hospital where he is seriously ill. He entered the hospital for emergency service early Tuesday.

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado River is 278 miles long, at one place is 13 miles wide and nearly 6,000 feet deep.

Most Gins Run At Sound Rate, Says Specialist

Cotton gins visited by F. E. Lichte, Texas A&M College extension service cotton gin specialist, are handling their volume at a safe rate, he said here Wednesday afternoon.

At that time Lichte had visited five of the county's 13 gins. None of them had been crowding cotton, although the volume of seed cotton to gins was increasing steadily.

"Both ginner and producer lose by too rapid ginning," he said. "The ginner will wear out parts he can hardly replace by continued pressure ginning. Result to the producer is less return for his cotton if it is put through too hurriedly."

He also had a tip to farmers about packing seed cotton.

"A few years ago we ran a test on that. We had the conventional 'cow tromping' on half the load of a four-bale trailer, and filled the other half loosely. There was a $12.50 difference per bale in favor of the loose cotton."

Weather could be the big factor in the price of cotton to producers, he said. Severe rain, beating cotton into the ground, could lower grade enough to penalize up to $25 a bale in some instances, he said.

SOME EAR

'Big Joe' Corn Puts Florida In Beef Race

(AP) Newsfeatures

BELLE GLADE, Fla. — "Big Joe," an ear of corn with a cast iron constitution, may prove the difference between success and failure for beef cattle ranchers in the mucklands of Florida's Everglades country.

"Big Joe" is a variety of corn developed especially for farmers by Dr. Roy Bair, agronomist at the University of Florida's Everglades experiment station.

Cattle ranchers in this rain drenched country have long needed a "finishing feed for the production of grade A beef cattle" but all previous attempts to raise corn in the heat and mucklands failed miserably.

In summer, and frequently in winter, the Everglades are deluged by rain. Water seeps into the husks of Western varieties of corn and what appears to be a fine, juicy ear turns out to be a pulpy, rotten mass. Bugs and worms take over.

But Big Joe takes all this in his stride, sheds off the water, outgrows the worms and emerges at harvest time a 10 to 12 inch husky, flint-coated field corn. Joe's husk is long, tight and thick.

Although worms are able to fight their way through the silk they have a long way to travel—because of the husk's thickness—to get into the kernel. Because Joe grows faster, by the time a worm has worked his way to the kernels, the ear is too large to damage seriously.

Dr. Bair estimates that Big Joe, with proper fertilization will yield 60 to 65 bushels per acre.

Stalcup, Moon Win Putting Tourney

Mrs. Tot Stalcup and Jimmy Moon copped first place in the putting tournament for mixed couples at the country club Tuesday night, beating out the combination of Bob Satterwhite and Bernice Jordan for the blue ribbon.

Jack Nelson and Lois Hodges captured consolation honors.

A total of 22 players took part in the meet.

Electric Servants

PHILADELPHIA — (AP)—Getting and keeping one servant may be a great problem to most Americans, but each average citizen of this country has the equivalent of 110 servants working for him 24 hours a day. An SKF Industries study of electric power shows that the installed capacity of the nation is equivalent to 11 horsepower for every American. One horsepower is estimated to equal 10 working men.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Sept. 24. (AP)—The stock market set off on an irregularly lower track today in the wake of Tuesday's fall. A number of rails, oils and leadline indices dropped fractionally although there was little indication of any real pressure. Moderately active dealings at the start showed somewhat. Near midday modest losses were in the majority.

There was nothing in the news to lighten the concern over international relationships to which some of yesterday's liquidation flurry was attributed. Commission houses noted that volume on the decline failed to equal that of the preceding week's fast rally.

In lower ground at times were Southern Railway, Southern Pacific, Texas Co. touching a new 1947 low, Standard Oil (N. J.), American Smelting, Kennecott, General Electric, Union Carbide, Oronite, Bethlehem, Republic Steel, Ceres, Rockwell, Phillips Petroleum and General Motors. Resistant were Anaconda Copper International Harvester, Cerro de Pasco, American Can, Philip Morris and Air Reduction.

Bonds were narrow and commodities mixed.

You can't beat Mother Nature!

Nature's Finest!

Tiger or Giant Swallowtail (Papilio thoas) is the largest American butterfly. Lemon-yellow with velvety black. Wingspread to 5 1/4 in. Caterpillar, called "Orange Puppy," feeds on citrus fruits.

The Crude Is The Answer To Phillips 66 Fine Motor Oils

Mother Nature couldn't be beaten the day she made the Tiger Swallowtail butterfly—and she was doing a mighty fine job when she produced the crudes that go into Phillips 66 Motor Oils, too!

Then, Phillips special refining processes, Phillips practical skill and know-how, turned these exceptionally fine crudes into fine lubricants... lubricants that have what it takes to do an honest-to-goodness job of protecting your engine. Ask for Phillips 66 Motor Oil or Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil.

Phillips 66 Motor Oil has made thousands and thousands of friends... and has chalked up an enviable record covering billions of miles of satisfactory performance!

Phillips 66 Premium Motor Oil is brand new! It cleans! It prevents bearing corrosion! It resists high temperatures and high pressures! In short, this oil is made especially for motorists who want something extra-special in lubrication.

You'll like them both... Phillips 66 and Phillips 66 Premium!
