Goal surpassed by $185

It's 'Over the Top' for '68 United Fund

County's 1968 United Fund drive "over the top" of its goal with some cards still to go. The drive, which began with some cards still to go, has reached its goal. The fund's budget was trimmed to $8,200 for 1967, but raised to $9,200 this year. In other years the budget for participating fund organizations had been between $10,000 and $11,500.

Cash expressed his appreciation to all campaign workers for the success of the drive which was launched one month ago on Oct. 3.

One of the major factors in the success of this year's fund campaign was the big United Fund response received from Postex Mill workers. They contributed over $2,000, or over 21 per cent of the fund's 1968 goal.

Ten organizations are participating in the Garza United Fund this year.

The amounts each has been allocated are as follows: Salvation Army $1,000; American Red Cross $1,000; Girl Scouts $1,500; Boy Scouts $2,800; Garza Youth Center $500; Summer Baseball Program $1,900; Texas United Fund $100; Texas Social Welfare Association $25; Medical Research Foundation $25; Texas Rehabilitation Hospital $50.

Post student elected to district FTA post

Elbert Rudd, Post High School student, was elected chaplain of District 13, Future Teachers of America, at the district meeting Saturday at Monterey High School in Lubbock. Elbert is a high school junior.

Dr. Neil Record, assistant to the president of Wayland Baptist College, spoke on the topic "Anyone Can Teach" at the meeting, which was completed by several work-shops.

Olson High School will be host for next year's district convention.

Monday was just about a whole week rolled into one day as far as writing the news for this week's Thanksgiving Edition of The Dispatch was concerned.

Since the paper was published Tuesday morning — to complete normal distribution before the big traditional turkey — eating holiday, things got a bit hectic Monday.

We were still running down society items for Mrs. C. in mid-afternoon. Mrs. C. was just about voiceless after being floored by a horrible cold over the weekend. She came down a while in the afternoon to "punch" some copy, but Editor Charlie and yours truly divided the "society desk" assignments.

And then there was the problem of digging up enough front page news to fill the front page in just a few hours. But somehow, the news staff here always manages.

Post has a lot to be thankful for Thursday — like the scheduled reopening of the hospital Dec. 1 by hospital trustees, the going over the top of the United Fund goal, good cotton crop prospects, and the chance to get a new and badly needed City Auditorium for almost nothing at a special time warrants election Dec. 5.

We are one of those who believes in running scared at every election. It makes no difference that over the last few years almost every club man and woman in town joined together to agree that this community's No. 1 need was a community center, which the city auditorium project will provide.

Couple critically injured in auto-truck collision

Kenneth Williams, wife in hospital at Fort Worth

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Williams, who had moved from Post to Mineral Wells only three weeks ago, were both reported in critical condition in St. Joseph Hospital at Fort Worth Monday as a result of head injuries sustained in a car-truck collision near Mineral Wells Sunday night.

Relatives reported by phone Monday night that both Kenneth and his wife, Carolyn, were still unconscious and no decision on a brain operation for Kenneth would be made before Tuesday. Attending specialists did not believe operations on either Mr. or Mrs. Williams would be required however.

The accident happened about 9 p. m. Sunday 12 miles north of Mineral Wells on US-281.

Texas Highway Patrolman Neal Binford, who investigated the crash, said that the couple's Volkswagen was on the left side of the highway, apparently starting to make a left turn, when hit from the rear by a pickup truck, driven by Charles S. Garrison of Kaw City, Okla.

The patrolman, unable to talk to either driver, theorized that Garrison probably was starting to pass the Williams car when the Williams vehicle pulled across in front of him for a left turn.

Both vehicles were headed north, the patrolman said.

When Garrison got out of his pickup truck to help he was hit by an oncoming car driven by Ray John Sigle of Freer, Tex., and one of his legs was broken in several places, besides sustaining other injuries.

Both vehicles were reported as total losses.

Thanksgiving to be holiday for most

The traditional Thanksgiving Day holiday here Thursday will see almost all Post business firms and offices closed.

Exceptions will be some of the local restaurants serving special turkey dinners and some of the service stations.

There will be no mail delivery. The courthouse will take a long holiday weekend with offices closed Thursday and Friday, thus providing a four-day holiday for courthouse employees.

The Dispatch, which published its weekly edition Tuesday to complete distribution prior to the holiday, also will be closed both Thursday and Friday.

7th grade boys win at Slaton

Eight players got into the scoring column Monday night when Coach Waco Reynolds' 7th grade boys' basketball team opened its season with a 26-20 conference win at Slaton.

Lanny Blacklock led the Post scoring with eight points. Jerry Saldivar and Robert Mendieta hit four apiece, and two points each were contributed by Reginald Moore, Arthur Ayala, Ernie Saldivar, Robert Torres and Ricky King.

The 8th grade boys and girls and 7th grade girls also opened at Slaton Monday night, but details of these games were not available at The Dispatch's early press time Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams were both taken to the Nazareth Hospital in Mineral Wells for emergency treatment. Mrs. Williams then was sent immediately by ambulance to the Fort Worth hospital and Mr. Williams was sent to the same hospital the next morning.

Kenneth was a senior student at Texas Tech in business administration and recently had taken a bookkeeping job in the office of the big helicopter training school at Mineral Wells, where 1,700 or 1,800 training helicopters are flown regularly and 750 helicopter pilots are graduated monthly.

Parents of the injured couple, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams Sr., left Post early Monday for Fort Worth, along with Marvin Williams, a brother of Kenneth.

Relatives report that Mr. and Mrs. Williams had driven to Dallas to see the Cowboys play a professional football game with the Washington Redskins Sunday afternoon and were probably en route to pick up their two children when the accident occurred as they turned off the highway.

Car rams into overturned truck

Post man killed in wreck; another hurt

One Post man was killed and another seriously injured late Saturday night when their automobile rams into an overturned truck on U. S. Hwy. 84 six miles southeast of Slaton.

Leslie Pete Lewis, 60, of 617 Pine, an employee of Postex Cotton Mill, died in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock about 2:45 a. m. Sunday of injuries suffered in the accident.

The driver of the car in which Lewis was a passenger, Burl Milton, 57, was seriously injured. Milton is employed as a janitor at the city hall here and also does janitor work elsewhere in Post.

Funeral services for Lewis were pending Tuesday morning at Hudson Funeral Home. His wife, Juanita, who is a patient in the M. D. Anderson Hospital at Houston, was due to arrive in Lubbock by plane Tuesday.

The tractor-trailer truck which the men's car struck was forced into a ditch and overturned on the pavement. Another car going the wrong way on the divided highway was a factor in the wreck, investigating officers said, but wasn't hit and didn't stop.

The truck was driven by Preston Lester Rhame of Houston, who was not injured.

Campbell rites are held Friday

Funeral services for Marton H. Campbell, who died suddenly at his home here Wednesday morning of last week, were conducted at 3 p. m. Friday at the First Baptist Church, with the Rev. Joe Vernon, pastor, officiating.

He is survived by his wife, Margaret, and a son, Thomas W. Campbell, both of the home here; a daughter, Mrs. Darlene Geiser of Springdale, Ark., and three grandchildren.

Burial was at Terrace Cemetery under the direction of Hudson Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Bob Votek, John T. Billingsley, Walt Ray, Clay Courter, Gilbert Blodgett and Doye Morrison.

Three new opponents

Grid slate for 1968 completed

Five games at home and five away are on the Post Antelopes' 1968 football schedule, which was completed Monday by Head Coach Glynn Gregg.

New opponents on the 1968 schedule will be Roosevelt, Tahoka and Idalou.

Roosevelt of District 4A is the only new non-conference opponent. Tahoka and Idalou are new members of District 4AA following the district reshuffling by the University Interscholastic League a few weeks ago.

Coach Gregg said every attempt was made to schedule one or more

Class AAA teams for 1968, but to no avail. The formation of a new 11-team Class AAA district makes it necessary for each team in that district to play a ten-game conference schedule. Except for that, Post would have been able to schedule Slaton and possibly Colorado City, Coach Gregg said. Both these schools are members of the new 11-team district.

Post also tried to schedule Class AAA Muleshoe, the coach said. Roosevelt, the non-conference newcomer to the Antelope schedule, will be in its third year of Conference A football in 1968, and is expected to field one of the stronger teams in District 4A. They will return 24 lettermen from this year's squad, and have 28 promising sophomores coming up to bolster the lettermen and other varsity squad members.

The fact that Post will have to play at Denver City again in 1968 can be blamed on the "luck of the draw" at the recent District 4AA meeting, which followed the district reshuffling. The same draw sends both Frenship and Morton back to Post for the second consecutive year.

The district realignment sent Slaton up a notch into Class AAA and sent Stanton and Midland Carver to another district. It also brought Tahoka and Idalou up from Class A into Class AA and placed them in this district.

The 1968 schedule follows: Sept. 13: Hale Center at Post. Sept. 20: Lockney at Lockney. Sept. 27: Floydada at Floydada. Oct. 4: Roosevelt at Post. Oct. 11: Stanton at Stanton. Oct. 18: Tahoka at Tahoka (district). Oct. 25: Frenship at Post (district). Nov. 1: Denver City at Denver City (district). Nov. 8: Idalou at Post (district). Nov. 15: Morton at Post (district).

A time to be truly thankful

Millions will pause long enough Thursday—Thanksgiving Day—to give thanks to Almighty God for our heritage, but the vast majority will look upon this annual observance as "just another holiday" from their hosts of responsibilities.

Thanksgiving Day will be celebrated in the homes, in the churches, in remote places of our great land, and on the gridiron. But Thanksgiving Day should have more significance than just another holiday, for it means so much more than this.

Brought about by an appreciation of the fact that they had been blessed to live through that first bleak winter, the Pilgrim Fathers were compelled by an inner urge to make manifest their thanks in a definite way. And thus Thanksgiving Day was born. In spite of the fact that half the people perished during that winter, still they offered up their thanks unto God, for they had been spared.

Three hundred and forty-six years later, when millions of us are enjoying a life replete with all the good things with which we are endowed, the sad fact remains that all too few of us are truly thankful.

We demand, without counting the cost.

We take, with no thought of giving.

We heap undeserved praise upon our passing fancies. And we fail to take heed of those things which have enriched our lives the most.

One of the great "inaccuracies" which characterize our description of various friends and acquaintances is to speak of them as "self-made men," for such is seldom the case, as no man is an island.

No generation has ever lived under the constant threat of annihilation as can be said of us, and yet we live.

Would it be asking too much, then, if we should suggest to all men and women everywhere that in spite of the worries and strife and chaos of life—we pause long enough this Thanksgiving Day to be truly thankful?

Proposed auditorium is big bargain

Post probably has never been offered a better municipal bargain than the proposed city auditorium, which local property owners will be asked to approve at a special election Tuesday, Dec. 5.

Only a few years after its construction at a cost of $75,000, the former bowling alley building is available for just $7,500, only 10 per cent of its original price.

Adjacent lots with highway frontage can be purchased for $2,000 and repairs to the bowling alley building—primarily a new roof—will cost only an additional $3,500.

This will give Post a usable city auditorium with adequate parking facilities for a total package price of only $11,000.

No bond issue or tax increase will be required for the city to handle this via the time warrant route to spare the purchase price over the next few years at only a few thousand dollars a year.

The auditorium for the first time here will provide enough suitable space for all types of large functions.

It will also make it possible for Post to provide adequate convention facilities, thus bringing in added economic benefits for the business community.

For the last several years every community survey conducted has found a community center at the top of Post's "most wanted list" by virtually a unanimous verdict. This city auditorium will fill that need.

At such a bargain price, the city auditorium as proposed should receive an overwhelming vote of approval at the special election Tuesday, Dec. 5. But voter approval does not mean at all, unless each such voter gives to the polls that day and marks his ballot FOR Post's progress.

Public apathy in such an election can spell the defeat of the city auditorium. This needed, new facility can only become reality if those who care, care enough to go to the City Hall that day and vote.

The Chamber of Commerce has worked long and hard to bring the city auditorium project to a successful conclusion. But it must have your support at the polls on election day Tuesday, Dec. 5. — JC

Cooperation urged on 'measles project'

Parents of pre-school age children are urged to cooperate with the Post Rotary Club in its sponsorship of a project calling for the vaccination of all local children of this age group against measles.

The success of the project will be measured by the percentage of children receiving the inoculations.

The Rotary Club voted to take on the measles vaccine project after hearing it explained by the city health officer who said that free vaccine could be obtained through the State Board of Health.

Local physicians will volunteer their services in giving the measles "shots" with a 25-cent donation asked to cover costs of items needed in administering the vaccine. Even this 25-cent donation will be waived, however, for parents unable to pay it, with the payment in such cases to be made by The Medical Center Foundation.

The inoculation program, if reaching at least 50 per cent of the pre-school age group, would prevent any local measles epidemic. At the same time, it would save parents the cost of measles inoculation required here before any youngster can enter the first grade of school.—CD

THIS IS ANOTHER one of those "hurry up" columns. I have about three of them a year—when The Dispatch is getting out early for a holiday, and with Thanksgiving coming up Thursday, this is one of them.

I could call it an "Army Column," if it was "hurry up and wait," but with us getting the paper out Tuesday, there won't be any "wait" to it—just "hurry up." In other words, "Go, go, go!" I'll tell you next week whether it was worth it or not.

THE MAN UP the street says many people who now drive so fast past a schoolhouse are the same ones who were so slow when they passed through it.

Having to hurry so on this column gives me a chance to put in a few facts I've been collecting here and there on county courthouses in Texas, which more than likely will be interesting to some readers and dry as dust to others. To start it off, when a Texas historical marker was unveiled at Linden a few weeks ago, it designated a courthouse started in 1839 and finished in 1856. It's the oldest courthouse in Texas being used for its original purpose.

CASS COUNTY—that's the county in which Linden is located—first had Jefferson as its county seat, and the first place of government was William Perry's saloon. Linden became the county capital in 1852, with a two-story wooden courthouse. The brick structure, remaining in part today was No. 2—begun in 1859, with time out for a Civil War.

There are a lot of old courthouses in Texas. Next to Linden, Berne (Kendall County) has the oldest—1869—followed by McKinney (Collin County, 1874), Carrizo Springs (Dimmit County, 1880), and Franklin (Robertson County, 1882). All have had face liftings.

STILL FUNCTIONING in a grand old style are three hardy veterans of 1883—Bastrop, Lampasas, Albany (Shackelford). Anybody who wants to see how a 19th century Texas courthouse ought to look can go look at the one in Albany.

Some more of the old-timers still in service are: 1884, Belton (Bell); Henrietta (Clay); Floresville (Wilson); 1885, Weatherford (Parker); Clarksville (Red River); Centerville (Leon); Meridian (Bosque); Centerville (Leon); Marfa (Presidio); Paint Rock (Concho); Hamilton.

ONE OF THE most interesting Texas courthouses I've seen is the Wise County courthouse at Decatur. Built in 1895 of pink limestone from Burnet, it has been pronounced a perfect architectural example of its type and era.

Many Texas courthouses have been destroyed or damaged by fire. The Leon County courthouse at Centerville burned in 1885, but the smoke had scarcely died away before a contract was let to erect a new one. Completed in 1887, this courthouse is constructed of slate brick made within three blocks of the square on which the building now stands.

TWO ANDERSON County courthouses at Palestine have burned the last in 1912. And in Madisonville they're drawing up plans for the sixth Madison County courthouse. Four burned, including the latest one May 14 of this year.

BECAUSE OF "Old Rig," the Horned Frog, the Eastland County courthouse at Eastland probably has received more nationwide publicity than any other courthouse in Texas. According to numerous apparently authentic records and witnesses, a native Texas horned frog was placed in a metal container and sealed in the cornerstone of an Eastland County courthouse being built in 1897. In 1924 a new courthouse was erected, the cornerstone from the prior one was opened, and the horned frog was alive—after a period of 31 years! The horned frog received a great deal of publicity and was displayed nationally. When it died the following year, its remains were interred in a glass-front casket, and are on view in the present Eastland County courthouse.

And at Gail, 32 miles south of Post, the Borden County courthouse is the one large building on the street.

Hofheinz family buys big circus

HOUSTON — The Roy Hofheinz family has purchased Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus—the Greatest Show on Earth—for over $10 million after 97 years of circus ownership by the Ringling family. It was announced Saturday by John Ringling North in Rome, Italy.

The Hofheinz family purchase is in partnership with the families of Irvin and Israel Feld of Washington, D. C.

The closing of the multimillion-dollar transaction was made in the Rome Coliseum—the setting for the world's first circus and the inspiration for the world's first air-conditioned stadium, the Astrodome, which was conceived by the Houston Sports Association of which Hofheinz is president and his family directors.

"The ownership by our family will bring additional worldwide acclaim to the city of Houston," Hofheinz said. "We have established the greatest showplace on earth in Houston and now establish ownership of the Greatest Show on Earth in Houston. I hope families throughout the world will be as thrilled with seeing the show under our ownership as our family is with the purchase."

Rites held for niece of Justiceburg woman

By FRANK McWHIRT
It's time again to say hello to everyone who reads this column. News will be very short due to the holidays as the paper had to get out early. I hope each of you will have a very happy Thanksgiving. If you plan on a trip, do it carefully as we love all of you and want to see each of you home safely.

THANKSGIVING

We'd like to take this means to pause a moment in our busy working life—when some days we seem to run in circles and still don't accomplish what we started—to give "Thanks to God for our many blessings." There are so many things to be thankful for that to list them would look like your child's Christmas list to Santa Claus.

We'd like to say a special "thank you" to our customers and friends. You have given us the opportunity to serve you through your illnesses and with your health needs, and have trusted our ability as a pharmacist to fill your family's prescriptions, and have asked our counsel when we could be of aid. This, too, is a sacred trust and we will try to continue to serve you in the best possible manner that we can serve.

I personally would also like to say "thanks" to my employees. I am indebted to those who have worked hard and long hours in trying to make our store a place that you, our customers, like to come to. Last, but not least, I'd like to say "thanks" to the churches and pastors of our community who help us so many times in our trials and tribulations.

We hope you have the best Thanksgiving ever.

ONLY $13,000 CAN BUY POST A CITY AUDITORIUM!

For A Progressive Post, we — the board of Directors of the Post Chamber of Commerce — are convinced the CITY AUDITORIUM will be a tremendous new asset to Post for the following reasons:

1. It will provide—for the first time in Post's history—adequate space for all types of community activities.
2. The proposed auditorium (former bowling alley building) is available for city purchase at $7,500—only 10% of its original cost a few years ago. With purchase of adjacent lots for suitable parking area, and $3,500 added for repairs, total cost of this municipal auditorium facility would be only $13,000:
3. NO BOND ISSUE WILL BE NECESSARY NOR ANY TAX INCREASE REQUIRED!
4. Such an auditorium will give Post suitable convention facilities for the first time, enabling our community to receive economic benefits derived from such conventions.
5. This project—listed as the No. 1 need for Post in all citizen surveys, will be of benefit to every citizen. Securing the new city auditorium will unify the efforts of all our clubs and organizations interested in the progress of Post.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Families go along for years pretty well having things the way they want them — especially holidays — and all of a sudden, BAM!

For 22 years the C's have had things pretty well their own way as far as having all their family together. I had a sneaky suspicion last June 22 that things were going to change in that respect but I refused to let myself think about it.

I'm sure June 22 doesn't exactly stand out in the mind of my readers but that is the day that Miss C, the elder, became Mrs. K. Happy as I was (and am) about her being married that nagging little thought about holidays kept nipping around the edges of my subconscious.

Finally the first holiday is ready to roll around and it's just as I thought — the C's are down to three instead of up to five.

Lt. and Mrs. K do have Thanksgiving Day off from their duties at Fort Sill, Okla., but he has to report for duty early Friday morning. Even one of Mrs. C's Thanksgiving dinners isn't worth driving 500 miles, all in the same day, for So, Mrs. K will attempt her first turkey.

I only hope it's better than the first one I cooked away from home way back during World War II years. That undoubtedly was the toughest turkey ever put on the market. The cook couldn't have had anything to do with it!

But all is not lost. Miss C will definitely be home from Trinity University and no doubt will enjoy being "cock of the walk." She is not to be cheated as far as family is concerned. She and her guest will spend a couple of days with her fond parents and Miss Sam Basset and then go on to Fort Sill to visit the K's. I'm a bit envious.

It will be nice to have the house full of Thanksgiving smells. This cooking for two is a bit dull so I'm looking forward to the pungent smells of Thanksgiving turkey, pumpkin pie, cranberry sauce, candied yams, whipped potatoes, giblet gravy, fruit salad in whipped cream, hot rolls and BUTTER.

If anyone needs sympathy on Thanksgiving it is the wives of hunters who are forced to fix such things as venison, dove, rabbit, quail or squirrel.

A happy Thanksgiving to you all. Enjoy your day and your family.

Visitor is hostess at church meeting

Mrs. Roy O. Miller of Los Angeles, Calif., who is here with her husband visiting in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, the Rev. and Mrs. George L. Miller, was hostess at last Thursday's meeting of the United Presbyterian Women.

Members arrived at 9:30 o'clock at the church where they were served sweet rolls and coffee from a table carrying out the Thanksgiving motif. An arrangement of fruits and fall leaves centered the table.

Following the business meeting, conducted by U.P.W. President Mrs. Howard McCampbell, the group moved to the sanctuary for Plans were made for the club's Christmas party, which will be held in the center Dec. 1.

Postmaster urges correct addresses on letters, packages sent overseas

Postmaster A. J. McAlister today urged the citizens of Post to be sure to use the correct address on their letters and packages going to servicemen overseas to avoid serious delays in delivery.

Postmaster McAlister reported that millions of letters and packages going overseas have been delayed because they were insufficiently addressed. He said that one of the biggest problems has been the failure of persons to include the very important five-digit APO or FPO number in the military address. Mail not containing this number is incorrectly addressed.

He said that last year more than nine million pieces of mail were delayed in delivery. Of this number, 3 1/2 million pieces failed to include the complete five-digit APO or FPO number in the address. This improperly addressed mail had to be sent to a military locator directory where time-consuming searches were made to determine the proper addresses.

"As the Christmas mail volume going overseas is expected to increase up to 30 per cent or over four million pounds above last year, every precaution should be taken by friends and relatives of servicemen to address their letters and packages properly to assure rapid delivery to its destinations to an overseas military address. They are:

1. The serviceman's identity grade, full name, and service number.
2. His military unit—complete.
3. Gateway post office — New York, San Francisco or Seattle.
4. APO or FPO — a five-digit number.

When any of these elements is missing, the letter or package will be delayed in delivery.

REVIVAL ENDS SUNDAY

The revival under way this week at the Calvary Baptist Church will be concluded with services Sunday, Nov. 26. Evangelist Tommy Phelps of Amarillo, a former professional wrestler, is doing the preaching, with the Rev. Lee R. Jones, former pastor, leading the singing. The Rev. Dale Dozier is pastor of the church.

THANKSGIVING IN COLORADO

Mr. and Mrs. David Newby and Steve will leave Wednesday to spend the Thanksgiving holiday in Breckenridge, Colo., with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bullock. The Newbys' daughter, Meredith, a student at the University of Colorado, will also be a guest in the Bullock home.

How much corn in a cornfield?

Bobby was raised in the city. It wasn't until recently that he had ever set foot in a cornfield.

Oh, he'd seen hundreds of cornfields from the window of a speeding car. And, shopping with Mother at the market, he'd seen the golden ears peeping through their green jackets.

But when we visited the Stoner's farm Bobby actually set foot in a cornfield. And Bobby looked at our host as though he were a millionaire.

"Gosh, Mr. Stoner," he said, "God sure gave you a lot of corn."

The other day we had a note from the Stoners inviting us to have Thanksgiving dinner with them.

"Please bring Bobby along," they wrote. "He helped us appreciate just how much corn there is in a cornfield — and where it comes from."

Demonstration on atomic energy is seen by students

Friday, Nov. 17, a demonstration was presented by Donald Jensen of the Atomic Energy Commission in the high school gymnasium. The purpose of the demonstration was to illustrate the creation and utilization of atomic energy and to encourage bright young students to follow a scientific career.

One of the highlights came when Benita Noble, a Post High School junior, volunteered to become a human guinea pig. Miss Noble stood on a low, rubber-covered platform and placed her hand on a large generator, causing every hair on her head to stand on end.

The next highlight of the program came as the loud sound of an explosion was heard just at the moment that an atom was supposedly being split on a demonstration screen. This literally kept the students on the edge of their seats for the rest of the show.

A small model of a nuclear reactor was used to show how atomic energy may be created and used for peaceful purposes. In order to demonstrate the use of radioactive isotopes in medicine, Elbert Rudd, a Post High junior, was given a simulated atomic cocktail.

At the conclusion of the program, Mr. Jensen appealed to the students to take an active interest in science, for they are the scientists of tomorrow.

Tahoka girls open by losing to Idalou '6'

LISTENING POST

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
A pair of gerbils received top priority on our Kurt's Christmas list this year. Fortunately, or (unfortunately, depending on whose side you're on) Earl and I read the following article in the December issue of "Good Housekeeping": "A report on a new pet, the gerbil, in the Better Way, September, 1967, has raised a question about the danger of its becoming a pest in the Southwest. California has a law excluding them from the state, except as laboratory animals. Such legislation also is being considered in Arizona. The fear is that gerbils, native to Asian deserts, might escape and multiply rapidly in the semi arid Southwest regions.

If that happens, they could destroy acres of grazing land. Agricultural authorities ask that gerbils not be taken to Western Texas, Arizona or New Mexico as pets.
Thanksgiving will be particularly meaningful at our house this year—for once we found the perfect excuse for not buying BEFORE instead of AFTER. (And to think that Mother wanted me to do a column on the Pilgrims.)

Sending money through the mails can be a very risky business and we are pleased to announce that no one has been taking any chances. At least, we certainly haven't been bombarded with letters full of quarters for our No. 4010 Book Display Rack. Such caution and shrewd manipulation of financial affairs is to be highly commended and for those who quite properly wish to take adequate precautions, a piggy bank has been installed at the library. Last week's proceeds totaled $10 (only $82 to go) and a note reading, "Rosie, I need to BORROW a quarter. Thanks, Bertha."

Tom McKeown saved a copy of the Industrial Factbook for the Library. If you haven't had a chance to see one yet, drop by—they're a real credit to Post.

High school and college students who haven't decided on a career yet might consider the possibility of becoming a professional librarian. These people are really in demand. 4-H CLUB MEETS

The Elementary 4-H Club met last Thursday in the school auditorium with practiced officers. Thirteen members and one visitor, Arnold Sanderson, were present. Practiced officers present were: Ronald Case, president, and Cy Willson and Benny Greene, play secretaries. The 4-H Pledge was led by Andy Torres and Garland Johnson.

LLP so maybe we'll be hearing from her soon, Vicki?

The library will be closed Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, Nov. 23.
