The 933 lambs that Roy Hudspeth sold Cleve Jones Company averaged 83 pounds.

Santa Fe railroad shipped out 53 carloads of cattle and sheep for northern points last week.

The Cleve Jones Company bought 2,400 lambs from Roy Hudspeth.

Moore and Neill sold 900 lambs to William Allison.

Cleve Jones Company bought 779 lambs from Mrs. Velma Shurley, 213 lambs from Travis Glasscock, 504 kids from B. W. Hutcherson, 560 lambs from Dee Finley, 17 calves from Jones and Dameron, 25 calves from M. G. Shurley, 31 calves from B. M. Halbert and Sons, 55 calves from Tom Saunders, 4 calves from Joe Berger, 51 calves from John Fields, 27 calves from Moore and Neill, 500 lambs from Moore and Neill, and 2,800 lambs from Ben Mittel, Perry Mittel and Henry Mittel.

Six cars were shipped Saturday to Indiana and Illinois, six cars were shipped Monday to Kansas and Iowa.

Thirty-eight cars of cattle and sheep have been shipped since October 1. Twelve cars of cattle and 26 cars of sheep went to Indiana, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri and Kansas.

Motorcycle Races Here Next Week

Sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association, a motorcycle racing meet will be held Sunday October 13, at the Glenn Reeves station 30 miles out on the Junction road at 2 o'clock.

Eight riders are expected to compete on the new one-mile track and eight or ten races will be held with about $150 given in prize money. The A. M. A. will also furnish a trophy for the rider with the highest number of points.

The following will compete on the new track:

Gus Roush, Odessa, Leon Locker, McCamey; Aris Carr, San Angelo; Jack Jones, L. D. Carr, San Angelo; Cecil Thixton, Big Spring, Darlton McCollum, McCamey, and Weldon Webb, McCamey.

Glenn Reeves is promoting the meet.

HALL BUYS BUILDING

G. H. Hall, publisher of the Devil's River News, and operator of the La Vista Theater, has bought the building housing the theatre, it was announced last week.

Included in the deal was the adjoining building which now houses the Rancho Togs and Toggeries Shop. Mr. Hall has announced plans for completely remodeling the building in the spring. At that time, new seats, new fixtures, front, sign and all new projecting equipment will be installed.

Benavides Assessed Death Penalty By Eldorado Jury

After deliberating only 19 minutes, the jury trying Emilio Benavides, Mexican ranch hand charged with the murder of Henry Calcoate and his family, brought in a verdict of guilty and assessed the death penalty. Further proceedings in the case will be decided Saturday morning by Judge J. F. Sutton. It was not known whether the defense would file motion for retrial.

As he was leaving the court house after the verdict was brought in, Walter E. Davenport, counsel for the defense, was assaulted by an unidentified party. He was taken to a local physician's office for treatment, where his injuries were said not to be serious.

Lem Eriel Johnson visited in San Antonio, Austin, and College Station last week-end. He saw the Aggie-Javelina game at College Station.

Aldwell Addresses Lions on Democracy

Write Joint Letter To Representative South

Members of the Sonora Lions Club signed pledges Tuesday morning at the regular luncheon meeting at the First Baptist Church agreeing to do everything in their power to re-vitalize the ideals and practice of American democracy.

In a speech to the club explaining how the members could serve the country most patriotically at the present time, Roy E. Aldwell stated that the best way Americans can strengthen American ideals is by educating youth.

After reading the pamphlet, "A Call to All Americans," Mr. Aldwell explained the work of communists among the underprivileged classes along the Mexican border.

"Speakers exposing the methods of these underground groups," Mr. Aldwell said, "have had their lives threatened."

"Our problem is to educate youth in Sonora and Sutton County. There is no better approach to this than to work through the Boy Scouts of America. Let every boy belong either to the Boy Scouts or to the Cubs, and teach them the principles of the American democracy."

The nation, he said, is after all much like a boy. When a strong, well-trained boy walks down the street, the other boys let him alone. When the weak boy follows the others are tempted to pick on him. What we must do is make our nation so strong and well trained that no nation will dare to infringe on our rights.

In conclusion, Mr. Aldwell brought out two strong points. Hitler got his power through the youth of Germany, not through the middle-aged and the old.

"The youth of this locality, and hence the Boy Scouts, are the responsibility of the Lions Club and of every citizen in this county," Mr. Aldwell closed.

J. D. Lowery, county clerk, announced plans for registration, and called for volunteers to assist in filling out the blanks. Only men not between the ages of 21 and 35 are eligible. All ladies are invited to help.

It was also announced that the Lions Club was writing a letter to Representative Charles South stating that the people of Sonora wished to cooperate with the federal government in any defense plans, and would be glad to assist in any way possible.

S. N. Hall was introduced as a new member and Herbert Speece and Mr. Harder of Fort Worth were introduced as guests.

Suggested $56,500 Grant For Sonora

Sonora was recommended by the Civil Aeronautics Administration for a $56,500 allotment for an air base last week when the administration submitted a bill totaling $4,913,562 for the construction of 39 fields in West Texas, and $38,461,837 for 300 fields over the state of Texas.

The program for the entire country will amount to $500,000,000. The House of Representatives, in a deficiency defense bill, allowed $30,000,000 in cash and $50,000,000 contractual authority to start the program.

Other towns recommended to take part in the West Texas program were San Angelo, $163,822; Menard, $69,500; Junction, $178,716; Ozona, $180,316; Rock Springs, $61,500; and Kerrville, $173,073.

As yet, no field has been found which could be used for an airport in case Sonora was awarded the recommended allotment.

Mrs. A. C. Elliott returned Sunday for Henderson where she visited with relatives. She also was in Austin to see Webb, who is going to Texas University this year.

TRADITIONAL GAME

Sonora meets Eldorado today. This is the game fans look forward to more than any other game of the season. The boys are out to break the ten year jinx the Eagles have on the Broncos, but they need the support of everybody in town to do it. Go to Eldorado and boost the Broncos.

ELDORADO LAMB AUCTION

The Eldorado Parent Teacher Association sold 50 lambs at auction Wednesday on the Main Street corner of Eldorado.

The Sonora Lions Club, C. T. Jones and Company, H. V. Stokes, and M. M. Stokes bought lambs at the auction.

It is estimated that the P. T. A. took in over $640 on the auction.

ATTENDS CONVENTION

Miss Grace Draper and Miss Opal Randle attended the National Hairdressers' and Cosmetology Convention in San Antonio Saturday.

Miss Randle sketched two outstanding models who were competing for the $1,000 Challenge-Shield prize given for the most original coiffure, and the life-size charcoal drawings will be on display this week.

SCOUTS MEET WEDNESDAY

The Sonora Boy Scout troop met Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Scout Hall. Mr. Montgomery showed the Scouts how to give artificial respiration. After the demonstration, the boys played "Steal the Bacon."

John Eaton gave a talk on first aid and the Scouts worked on various tests.

The meeting closed with the Pledge of Allegiance.

English Girl Enjoys Her Weekly Holidays Despite German Bombs

Southampton, Eng. 3rd September, 1940
Dear Reggie,

"This morning I received two newspapers from you, and was glancing at the inner pages when I saw the headline 'Letters From English Girl...' I was so excited at finding myself in print I could scarcely eat any breakfast and went to work much earlier than usual in order to show my friends that I'd become a journalist overnight. I can tell you they were very impressed and today everyone has been quite polite to me. I made a howler at the end of one letter, though, when I said that 'when a bomb drops 1/2-mile

Total Tax Rate Rises One Cent

County, state and city taxes are now payable and if paid during October, will be subject to a 3 per cent discount.

According to Mrs. Lem Johnson, deputy tax assessor and collector, the total evaluation for Sutton County for 1940 is $4,947,744, a gain of $435,637 over the $4,512,107 evaluation of last year.

The county rate this year will be 57 cents, an increase of 9 cents over the 1939 rate of 48 cents. The state tax, however, shows a drop of 8 cents from last year, so the total tax increases 1 cent this year and will be $2.06.

Discounts run as follows: 3 per cent if paid in October, 2 per cent if paid in November, 1 per cent if paid in December, and no discount if paid in January.

Penalties start with 1 per cent in February, 2 and 3 per cent in March.

This year E. C. Ahrens was the first citizen to pay his taxes. He paid them at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning. He and Mrs. Ahrens also paid their poll taxes.

SPECIAL EDITION

The Special Edition of The Devil's River News will be printed on Friday, October 25, 1940, fifty years after the newspaper was founded. We are hoping to make it something worthwhile, an edition you will want to keep.

We are printing articles pertaining to the old timers, and things that happened in Sonora and Sutton County many years ago. There will be pictures of people who have lived here forty years or more, and there will be a complete history of Sutton County since its organization.

If you are interested in having one or more copies reserved, please let us know, so we can print enough "Devils" for everyone.

MILK SUBSTITUTE OF SOY BEAN CONTENT SUCCESSFULLY USED IN FEEDING CALVES

In a calf feeding experiment at Texas A. & M. College, a total of 19 calves have been successfully raised on a milk substitute. The milk substitute mixture used is as follows:

	Protein
20 lbs. skim milk powder	6.62
18 lbs. 54 per cent protein C. S. meal	8.75
15 lbs. Soy Bean meal	5.66
15 lbs. Linseed meal oil	4.59
10 lbs. Whey	1.19
7 lbs. Alfalfa leaf meal	1.13
6 lbs. Red dog flour	.91
7 lbs. Hominy feed	.55
1 lb. Salt
1 lbs. Oyster shell flour	29.40

This experiment is still in progress and there are 13 calves being fed this milk substitute diet at the present time. The calves receive their mother's milk for the first 4 days after birth, then are fed whole milk from the herd until they are 28 days of age. Between

I handed the newspapers over the fence to Mr. Moody, for it will give him something to talk about for weeks. But he looked at the front page and said "Devil's River News," shook his head and frowned, as though no good would come of his reading it.

After a long journey we turned up a side lane, and when we saw a great line of parked cars, we (See No. One on Page Eight)

Proposed Highway Will Miss Sonora

To Pass Through Junction or Menard

The State Highway Commission at Austin had under consideration Tuesday the proposed designation of a new route between Fort Worth and Del Rio to facilitate movement of livestock by truck from the Edwards Plateau region to market and to make a more direct roadway to the Big Bend.

The proposed route, which would pass through Brady and other intermediate points, was discussed before the commission Monday by delegates from several West Texas (See No. Three on Page Eight)

BOXING WEDNESDAY

The stage at the La Vista theatre has been extended and will be ready Wednesday night for the amateur boxing matches. About six matches will be held under the auspices of the Lions Club and will start immediately after the show is over. There will be no additional charge.

SEISMOGRAPH CREW TO BE HERE TWO WEEKS

The Independent Exploration Company of Houston, seismograph and testing company, has taken offices in the First National Bank building and is testing equipment near Eldorado. The testing crew will work on the Paige-Cooper field.

"We are getting data on new equipment," said John M. Golden company representative, "and we have found in previous experiments that the Edwards lime country is the hardest in Texas from which to get seismograph results. Due to this fact, it is easier to tell whether improvement has been made on new equipment."

Sonora was chosen for the tests, Mr. Golden said, because of its central location for testing purposes.

Fifteen men, three one and one-half ton trucks, two pick-ups, and one smaller trailer will be here with Mr. Golden for about two weeks.

Fire Prevention Week Starts Monday

Citizens' cooperation was asked Thursday by A. H. Adkins, president of the Volunteer Firemen, and Jodie Trainer, secretary-treasurer, for fire prevention week, which starts Monday.

Sonora can do its part during this week by paying closer attention to inspection and by helping the fire department when it goes on a run.

"Drivers should stop until the trucks have had time to get to the fire, rather than try to race us," Adkins said.

The department has appointed a committee to contact business men and try to get the fire warden system started. If this system were to be worked out, fire wardens would go to the center of the street when the alarm sounded and direct traffic away from the route the engines take.

In mentioning a few points for inspection, Mr. Trainer stated that lighting, attics, and garages should be looked at and cleaned, or repaired if there was any danger.

Since winter is near flues should be cleaned and inspected. Oily rags should be put in a safe place also, he said, since it was theorized at a recent fire that this might have been the cause.

Mrs. G. P. Hill registered a new Chrysler sedan Tuesday morning.

Harold Friess, who has been ill for the past week, is recovering rapidly.

available on the feed markets of Texas and also one which would be more palatable than most of the milk substitute formulas already proven.

While we do not have sufficient information to warrant definite conclusions at this time, we believe a few observations are worth mentioning. The milk substitute being used is fed as a gruel and has very definitely proven equally as palatable as the skim milk. Very little scours of any marked degree of severity has been observed in any of the experimental calves. Growth as measured by livestock and certain skeletal measurements has been slightly more rapid.

Election Officials Set Up Machinery For Registration

Cards Will Be Filled Out at Voting Places

Beginning at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, October 16, all men between the ages of 21 and 35, inclusive, will be registered under the provisions of the Burke-Wadsworth Selective Service law. Registration desks will be placed at all voting places, and the registration will be done by volunteers who are not between the ages of 21 and 35. There will be no "absentee" registration, and registration will last only one day. Those who do not register on October 16, without good cause will be penalized.

In order that readers may get a clearer picture of how the process will work, the Selective Service Headquarters in Austin has issued the following memoranda:

The county clerk is the official immediately responsible for the registration within each county.

The general instructions to all persons within the age limits (21 to 35 inclusive) will be to Register where you vote. A registration place must be provided in every precinct in your county. These places, together with the necessary equipment, must be furnished without expense to the government. They will be kept open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Any non-resident presenting himself will be registered. There will be no absentee registration—each person must register wherever he is October 16.

Probably the most important job will be that of arranging for registration clerks, called "Registrars." These will be volunteer workers; they may be either male or female, but male registrars must be under 21 or over 35 years of age.

It is estimated that for the State as a whole the number of men to be registered will be about 80 per cent of the voting strength according to the last July primary elections. This may not be entirely accurate for any given box, but it will furnish a means of approximating the number that may be expected. In making estimates for registrations by this method, each County Clerk should make due allowance for variations in those boxes where the vote cast in the Democratic primary is not proportionate to the population of that box.

It will require from 20 to 30 minutes for each registration.

On October 17 the registration cards will be turned over to the Local Boards which will be set up in the meantime. There will be at least one local board for each county, and in counties with a population of more than 30,000 there will be one Local Board for each 30,000 of population.

Additional instructions will be sent from time to time. Copies of the official Selective Service Regulations will be sent just as soon as they are received from Washington.

JAPAN PUSHES SOUTHWARD DESPITE PROTEST OF THE UNITED STATES

Events moved rapidly in the Far East during the past ten days as Japan pushed into Indo-China, despite the protest of the United States. At almost the same time, mutual defense plans in the Pacific were the subject of conversations between this country, England and Australia, and Great Britain formally announced that the giant Singapore naval base and other strategic Far Eastern points were at the disposal of the United States.

Japan undoubtedly knew of the American plans for checking the Nipponese expansion. So it is believed by competent observers that the step was taken in Indo-China on the theory that the coming election and serious situation in Europe would prevent American reprisals. With the Chinese war still unsettled and a serious drain on both Japanese manpower and economic wealth, it is unlikely that Japan would take any step it thought would bring an open clash with the United States.

The working agreement between Japan and the Axis was never more strikingly illustrated than at this time. Within almost a matter of hours after Japan won its demands from French Indo-China, the German-dominated Vichy government clashed with British and loyal French forces in Dakar, capital of French West Africa. This was of vital importance to the United States, since Axis control of this port would give Germany and Italy an important base only 1,500 miles from South America. Apparently Japan banked on this threat to keep America occupied in the Atlantic.

Two retaliatory measures appear possible for this country against Japan. The long-threatened embargo on Japanese imports could be invoked, or an American naval squadron could put in at Singapore, ostensibly for repairs.

Regardless of future developments, it seems evident that Japan has hastened its expansion program with the passage by Congress of the huge defense measures and the Conscription Bill. An authoritative Japanese newspaper viewed these steps as a sign that the peace policy of the United States has been replaced by a strong military policy, and states that soon Japan must deal with an America fully prepared to back up its demands with military might.

Observers believe that a clear, concrete picture is emerging from the previously uncertain American policy in the Far East, and that the clash of interest with Japan is coming down to cases. If Britain improves its European position with the advent of winter, plus additional aid from America, the United States may be able to depend upon England to guard American interests in the Atlantic. In that case, it is conceivable that this country will change its tone to Japan, and come out strongly for the preservation of the status quo.

Viewed from any angle, America's position is not too good. For America needs time to perfect its defenses, sped up war material production and train troops to the intricacies of modern warfare. As the war in Europe advances, and Japan grows bolder, it is increasingly clear that the preservation of our national interests in both the Atlantic and the Pacific depends upon a British victory.

Basically, the interests of the English-speaking peoples are identical. It is a struggle for survival.

90 Per Cent of U. of T. Students Belong To Churches

AUSTIN—While a state school and consequently non-sectarian, the University of Texas nevertheless is the scene of religious activity comparable to that of the average Texas community — despite the fact that no University regulation compels students to attend religious services.

Nine-tenths of its 11,000 students are members of some church, Registrar's Office records show. Of these more than a fourth become affiliated with the church of their choice in Austin, either through Sunday School, Bible class, student religious organization or in attendance at church more or less regularly.

In some groups, this percentage runs as high as three-fourths, it is shown. Though no statistics are available, church officials believe more than half the student body attends church intermittently — a percentage which compares favorably with church attendance in the average Texas city.

Approximately 90 per cent of the University faculty members are active church members, according to the records of the Faculty Committee on Religious Student Life.

Courses in Bible are offered for University credit by the Association of Religious Teachers, whose faculty is composed of religious educators from various churches in the University community. Last year, these courses had an enrollment of more than 1,000 students.

C. V. Pollard, a university of Texas instructor in German, reports a proved method for learning to read the language with less than 50 hours' instruction.

Wages of Texas Workers Show Gain

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 — Average wages for Texas workers rose slightly during August, as payrolls gained 4.3 per cent over August, 1939, compared with a 2.2 per cent gain in the number of employed, University of Texas Bureau of Business Research officials reported.

Both employment and payrolls remained about the same as in July.

Wages in manufacturing industries, however, failed to keep pace with the gain in workers in August a year ago. The Bureau estimates 134,339 workers were employed, 4.9 per cent more than a year earlier, while wages rose only 4.4 per cent.

Employment in non-agricultural business and government establishments is considerably higher than at the beginning of 1940, the bureau estimates. Although the estimate for August is not yet available, this figure for July was 960,000, compared with 941,000 for January. The peak thus far occurred in May, when 967,000 workers were employed.

Vehicle Tax High

AUSTIN, October 3—The average tax burden on each vehicle in Texas was $52.50 during 1939, according to figures for the tax year furnished the Texas Motor Transportation Association.

Texas was ahead of the national average of $50.82, but twenty-second below the high of $82.13 paid for each vehicle in Florida. This $52.50 includes $27.94 paid for state gasoline taxes, $13.10 paid for state registration and other fees, $7 paid to the federal government in gasoline taxes, and $4.46 paid for other federal excise taxes.

TEXAS OUT-O-DOORS

Dove Hunters Fare Well

Texas is enjoying one of its best dove-hunting seasons in many years, according to reports received throughout the state by the Game Department. Hunting was excellent in most parts of North Texas after the season opened there Sept. 1. A cold snap about Sept. 10 drove some birds South, but most of them apparently did not travel far and the central and southern parts of the state are getting their share of good sport.

An excellent breeding season and a plentiful supply of weed seed and other food for the birds has brought Texas one of the best seasons in some years. Following the suggestions of the Game Department, more farmers are each year allowing vegetation to grow in their fence rows and are planting food stuffs for game birds. Others are leaving a row or two of small grain standing on the edges of their fields.

Raccoon Suckles Dog

A dog in Liberty county has an unusual family. In addition to her several puppies, she is suckling a small raccoon. The young 'coon gets as much attention from the dog as do her puppies.

Javelina Caught in Traffic

Houstonians are still wondering just how a javelina, the only native wild hog in North America, found its way onto the streets of Houston recently. The javelina was dodging in and out of traffic during the morning rush hour when it was finally caught by F. L. Dotson. It was presented to the Houston zoo. Just where the wild hog came from is still a mystery. Most javelinas in Texas are found in the southwest portion of the state, a considerable distance from Houston.

Fishing Is Better

With the coming of cooler weather, fishing is reported better from many parts of Texas. Texas lakes and streams have been stocked with many millions of fish this year and much stream and lake improvement work has been carried on by the Game Department's aquatic biologists.

Persons who put away their fishing tackle with the coming of cool weather are missing some of the best angling during the year. Fishing is generally better over a larger portion of the day when temperatures do not run so high. Many ardent anglers put away their tackle with the coming of hot weather and are just now starting to get it out of the moth balls.

Skunk Tackles Terrapin

Whether a skunk which was seen recently attempting to bite the head off a terrapin was trying to get a meal or was merely playing with it like a cat does a mouse is problematical.

The skunk was watched for a half hour by a state game warden. Frequently it would hold the terrapin down with one foot, while attempting to bite its head every time the terrapin came out of its shell. Then the skunk would back off and quietly wait for the terrapin to emerge. The "game" was still going on when the warden drove away.

The Wages of Sin

While Game Department wardens have not been able to gather sufficient evidence to prove a case, it is believed a headlighting deer hunter came to grief recently in East Texas by being shot in the knee by his companion on their illegal hunt. The accident appeared to happen in this manner: Both the hunters were in the same field. The light carried by one failed to operate properly and he sat down to overhaul it. The other hunter, seeing something reflecting his light and believing it to be deer eyes, blasted away. His companion went to the hospital with a knee shattered by buckshot.

Spectacles No Bar In Selective Draft

Glasses are not considered a handicap to military service—in fact, they will help many men to get into the army in the coming selective draft, according to the Better Vision Institute. The visual requirement for service under the selective draft is 20-100 in each eye without glasses, correctable to 20-40 in either eye. That means that recruits are required to see sharply without glasses about one-fifth the distance seen by normal eyes. If glasses bring the vision in either eye up to a seeing distance half that of normal eyes, the recruit is acceptable as far as vision goes. Most young men wearing glasses, says the Institute, will be able to pass that visual qualification.

Promotion in the army, however calls for better eyes. The minimum requirement for a regular army commission is 20-40 in each eye without glasses, although in some of the non-combatant divisions visual standards are somewhat lower. In the air corps normal vision, 20-20 in each eye without glasses, is required for a commission.

TEXAS PUBLIC RESPONDS TO RESULTS OF REPEAL

AUSTIN, Texas.—(Sp)—Citing numerous unchallenged proofs, Secretary Walter Beck of the Texas Brewers' Institute asserted today that conditions surrounding sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages are more satisfactory to the public today than at any other time within the past ten years.

Beck's conclusions, together with the facts upon which he based them, were outlined in the current issue of the Institute's publication, "Beer."

The principal indices to public satisfaction and approval included:

1. County elections on the wet and dry issue show the people of the counties in which elections were held are, for the greater part, satisfied with their present status; in other words, the elections in most cases have not changed the prohibition or repeal status.
2. In recent legislative races, questions concerning liquor had less bearing upon the outcome than at any other time within two decades.
3. All attempts to arouse prohibition sentiment in the past several months have fallen flat. These attempts included a proposed statewide referendum, whose sponsors at one time claimed thousands of signatures.
4. Reports to the state headquarters of the Texas Brewers' Institute—which endeavors to learn of disturbances resulting from unwise management of beer stores—reflect "vastly improved conditions."
5. The Texas Liquor Control Board's regulations have proved so efficacious that they have been adopted as a model in other states.
6. The condition of public sentiment has been reflected from a number of sources. One is the fact that editorials in state newspapers criticizing the conduct of liquor law enforcement have been negligible in number. Another is the recognition by authorities that the "drunken driver" problem is a matter of law enforcement and is not confined to repeal counties but exists in so-called dry counties, and that it was equally present during the Prohibition Era. Still another is the fact that the beverage industries have joined with enforcement authorities in informing the public what they should expect in the conduct of retail dealers.
7. The "social restraints" are being re-established; "it is no longer the vogue to select a pocket flask as a gift for a boy or girl, and a liquor breath is no longer a sure-fire way to impress the party of one's manliness."

"All signs," Beck asserted, "point to growing satisfaction with the social results of repeal. An improvement cannot be doubted by any observer who attempts an objective inquiry. Of course, much remains to be done. It is not so important to relate that improvement has occurred as it is to emphasize that improvement is progressively continuing."

"Deep in the public consciousness is the contrast between the reign of terror when mobs used the huge profits of illicit traffic in alcohol, and today, when alcoholic beverages may be honestly obtained from distributors who have contributed as taxpayers some six thousand millions of dollars to the public treasuries."

"However," continued Beck, "the note of better opinion is more evident in the license areas than it is in the prohibition counties where suppression is less successful than the regulation which occurs in license areas."

Wheelbase and Body Of New Fords Longer

DEARBORN, Mich., Sept. 26—The new Ford line is released for public inspection today.

There has been a lot of discussion of changes. And changes there are, with a considerable increase in size for the Ford V-8's, DeLuxe and Super DeLuxe.

Designers have taken full advantage of increased wheelbase and overall lengths to give added spaciousness, and Ford engineers have worked right up from bigger tires through to luxury seat cushions and new softer springs for the solid enhancement of riding comfort.

A new four-cylinder truck and commercial car engine is part of the economy features of the Ford working line.

The wheelbase of these big new DeLuxe and Super DeLuxe Ford V-8's is longer and the overall length is greater. The designers have taken advantage of this extra overall length to increase the inside body length both in foot room and seating width. In fact, the front seat of the sedan is seven inches wider than last year. The rear room is greater and the window area, already large in previous Ford cars, is even larger this year.

Running boards have practically disappeared from sight, due to the width of the new bodies. But they are there to step off when the doors are opened.

The 85-horsepower V-8 engine is still unique as it is the only 8-cylinder car in the low-price field. These new Fords have lower transmission gear ratios, thus hiking up the "get-away."

In addition to beauty both inside and outside the Ford engineers emphasize the greatly improved ride in all 1941 models. This extra riding comfort starts with two inches longer wheelbase and a new electrically-welded "X" frame. This new frame structure is 100 per cent more rigid, making the body now mounted on big rubber cushions still quieter in service. The springs, front and rear, with their increased effective strength, have a balanced action, eliminating any "pitching" and give the easiest kind of ride. The rear seat cushions are two inches farther ahead of the rear spring and axle, which further improves the riding qualities.

School Spirit

School spirit is one of the essentials of a good football team, pep squad, band, and any other extra-curricular activity. No one will admit that he or she hasn't got the school spirit, but there is a very poor representation of it in good old Sonora High. Why, no one seems to know. One requirement for good school spirit is to be a good sport and take things as they come and not to set your mind on one thought: Always to win. No one wins everything he or she undertakes and few expect to. Take things as they come and say, "We'll win next time." Don't set your whole mind on winning so much that one little bit of "hard luck" sets your whole system out of order and you just give up. Go in there with the determination to win regardless of any setbacks, and one can't help but win; nothing has been found yet that can keep you from it.

Sonora High School participates in all of the major sports that are played, and boasts facilities for them compared to the best. In all of the games that this author has witnessed, there has never been a spontaneous display of enthusiasm from even half of our high school students. So, how can a team feel proud of its school if the student body isn't proud of their team?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I like the Bronco this year very much. I think it is the best school paper we have had in Sonora high school since the paper was started several years ago. I like the editorials very much, especially the one addressed to the football boys. Taking the paper as a whole, I think it is bigger and better than ever before.

A Bronco Fan.

Dear Editor:

I like the Bronco very much this year because the articles and editorials are so good. I hope the articles of the teachers continue, and since most all students like to see their names in the paper as often as possible. I think you might print similar short articles about each student, and also lengthen your gossip column.

Yours truly, A FAN.

"At the Half"

The Sonora High School band and pep squad gave their first performance at the half Friday night.

The unit marched on the field to the cadence of the drums. They faced the stand and formed the letters M. H. and S. H. Then the unit counter-marched to the middle of the field and did the split which is a very colorful maneuver. After repeating the split several times, Clayton White, drum major, led the organization off the field.

The Menard band and pep squad gave a very nice and colorful performance at the half. The band marched on the field. The drums gave the roll-off and the band began to play. They faced the stands and formed the letters M. H. and S. H. Then they marched off the field.

Yellow Yackets Hustle Broncos Out In 13-7 Win

Broncos Show Best Playing of Season

Friday night, September 27, 1940. This was the first conference game of the season. After a hard fought game the Yellow Yackets nipped the Broncos, 13-7. The Broncos played a good game especially the second quarter. The two Richardsons, Ory and Hudson, did some fancy running and not forgetting that they couldn't have done it without the rest of the team. Sonora scored in the second quarter and Menard scored in the first and fourth.

Following is the play by play description of the game and line-ups:

Menard		Sonora
Callan	Stevenson
	Left End	Berger
Bowers	Left Tackle	Sawyer
Hubbell	Left Guard	Neurburg
Spence	Center	Odom
White	Right Guard	Shroyer
Leverett	Right Tackle	Johnson
Wyatt	Right End	O. L. Richardson
Haney	Quarterback	Glen Richardson
Word	Fullback	Ory
Thompson	Right Half	Hudson
Reynolds	Left Half
Menard substitutes:		Thornton, Law, Kidd, Huss, Durgan, Freeman, Highsmith, Kilgore.
Sonora substitutes:		McMillian, Sloan, Burleson, Odom, B. Shurley, G. Shurley, Gully, Henderson, Merriman, Awalt, White, Boughton.

The officials for the game were: Whitehead, and West of San Angelo, Halbert.

Sonora kicked off at precisely 7:45 with Menard receiving. Haney brought the ball back about 5 yards.

Menard fumbled but recovered but lost several yards. On the next play Menard kicked but it was short, Berger touched it but couldn't keep his hands on it. Menard covered. Odom made an awful good tackle on this play. Word made a first down for Menard. Haney around his own right end went over for Menard's first.

Pan-American Club Holds Second Meeting

The Pan American Club held its second meeting of the year. O. L. Richardson presided. The roll was called and the minutes were read. Due to a mixup the program committee failed to provide entertainment, so the club sang Spanish songs.

touchdown. Bowers took the ball over for the extra point. The score 7-0.

Haney did the kicking for the Menard lads and Richardson brought the ball back to the 30 yard line. Glen Richardson was injured slightly on the play but stayed in the game. Hudson picked up several yards on the next

School Personals

After nearly three weeks of being sick in bed following an appendix operation, Sanford "Bo" Trainer returned to school Monday. It seems that Bo's knee caused most of his trouble the last week or two but it has healed up just fine. Although Bo still looks a little white it seems like he is back for good.

Marjorie Ann Lightfoot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Lightfoot, was taken to San Angelo Friday afternoon for a tonsilectomy. The operation was performed early Saturday morning in the Clinic Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Lightfoot returned home with their daughter Sunday.

It was reported by Mr. Lightfoot at school Monday that Ann is rapidly improving.

Sonora high school welcomes a new student, Mary Louise Gee. Mary Louise comes to Sonora high from the Eldorado schools. She is classified here as a senior.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Gilmore and daughters, Pat and Peg, formerly of Sonora, now residents of San Angelo, attended the Menard game Friday night and stayed over for the Del Rio-Eldorado game Saturday. We are always glad to see some of our exes attend our games. It might interest everyone to know that Pat is a member of the staff which makes up the San Angelo high school annual, the "Westerner." We're sure proud of you, Pat. Peggy is to be a member of the "Footlighter's Club," a dramatic club composed of San Angelo high school members.

Miss Edmonson Resumes Second Year Of Teaching Here

We are glad to have with us this year Miss Edmonson, who taught here last year for her first year of teaching in public schools. Miss Edmonson has been teaching in Sonora Schools since February, 1938. She teaches Homemaking 1, 2, and 3. She also teaches junior business.

Miss Edmonson was born in Hillsboro, Texas, and also graduated from Hillsboro high school in 1933. Other schooling was at Baylor one year, Hillsboro Junior College, and received degree from T. S. C. W. at Denton.

Besides her other duties Miss Edmonson is sponsor of the Junior class.

IN THE HUDDLE WITH THE BOYS

The zero hour will come Saturday afternoon at 2:30 when the Sonora Broncos will meet the Eldorado Eagles. The Eagles are and have been for a long time Sonora's toughest competition. The last time Sonora defeated Eldorado was in 1929, when the Broncos picked the Eagles 37-7. Most of the Broncos scouted the game between Del Rio and the Eagles. Eldorado has always had a strong team and this year they are no snap. Each year the Broncos go in there with more determination than ever to clip the wings of the Eldorado Eagles.

Last year the score was 19-0—that was the closest Sonora has come to defeating them since 1936 when the score was 12-0. This year let's make the score at least 13-0 in favor of the Broncos.

Following are the football scores of the past years:

1929—Sonora 37, Eldorado 7.
1930—Sonora 0, Eldorado 7.
1931—Sonora 0, Eldorado 13.
1932—Sonora 0, Eldorado 26.
1933—Sonora 0, Eldorado 38.
1934—Sonora 0, Eldorado 40.
1935—Sonora 6, Eldorado 25.
1936—Sonora 0, Eldorado 12.
1937—Sonora 0, Eldorado 34.
1938—Sonora 0, Eldorado 66.
1939—Sonora 0, Eldorado 19.
1940—Sonora ?, Eldorado ?.

Betty Grace Vehle Entertains with Dance

Friday night after the game at Menard the Sonora people who participated in either the band, pep squad, or football team and their friends were honored with a dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Vehle. They were assisted by their daughter, Betty Grace. Everybody knew the hostess and host since they were former Sonorans. A fine time was enjoyed by everyone including the punch that was served. Everyone wishes to thank Mr. and Mrs. Vehle for the enjoyable time.

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, Humpty Dumpty had a great fall, all the King's horses and all the King's men had egg nog.

'I Won't Tell A Soul'

Wilfred, we hear that you are beginning to like Menard. We wonder!

"Albert" Lights Second Bonfire Of The Year

Thursday night preceding the Friday night ball game at Menard, a bon-fire graciously built by those little freshmen was enjoyed by the majority of high school students. The bon-fire was lit by "Albert" the lamp with which all our bon-fires so far this season have been lighted. The parade to the bon-fire started at the head of main street to the draw where the fire had been built. After the ceremony of lighting the fire was over, yells led by the pep leaders were heard from all.

Plans To Attend Area Meeting Made

On Friday, September 27, the Homemaking Club met in the cottage for the second meeting of the year. The minutes were read by Fannie Sellman, President. Various announcements were made pertaining to Homemaking. The matter of getting pins was discussed. The club has decided to attend the Area meeting in Sweetwater. It is to be held October 12. Membership is smaller this year than last, but the club expects to accomplish a lot.

EAGLES LOSE, 13-7, SATURDAY

The Eldorado Eagles were defeated Saturday in a close game with the Del Rio Wildcats, coached by Bill Carraway, ex-coach of Sonora High School. The Eldorado team is still pretty tough and Sonora, be sure and watch Page and Green when you meet them Saturday and try to follow suit with Del Rio. We think you can, so let's show Eldorado too.

PRESCRIPTIONS

No Substitute for CARE

There are no short cuts to perfection in compounding a prescription. The vital ingredients are fresh, pure chemicals plus skilled, painstaking caution. When your doctor specifies a combination of drugs, that combination must be prepared precisely, cleanly, expertly. We are schooled well in that field—to protect your health. When there's a prescription to be filled, use CARE—as we do.

Styles Taking Patriotic Turn

Styles, which are just as sensitive to the times as the stock market, are going patriotic this fall! That's the fashion revivelle sounded by Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist of the A. & M. College Extension Service.

As evidence she lists such popular colors in fall apparel as patriot red, khaki green, soldier blue and yonkee doodle. Costume jewelry, too, is definitely patriotic. Counters everywhere are beginning to display flag pins, liberty bells, British emblems, "God Bless America" bracelets, vanities in red, white and blue, patriotic handkerchiefs and belts.

Colors which aren't patriotic are mostly "woody." Selections are including bittersweet red, winterberry red, sumac red, lava green, hunting green, meadow gold, sand dune, shadow blue, camel beige, toffee tan, and plantation tan.

Some Texas colors for hosiery shades have been recommended by J. Frank Dobie, authority on Texiana, for blending with fall costumes. They are Alamo, a dusky mauve; taupe, road runner, wine-tinted beige, mesquite, medium brown bronzes, spring beige, pinto bean tile beige, saddle, and golden coffee tan.

As to the cut and design of this fall's dresses, the flare and swing of last season disappear in favor of the straight and narrow silhouette. "There is a fullness, but it is used in such a way that it gives a slim, willowy effect," as Mrs. Barnes puts it.

Fullness may be acquired by graceful godet pleats in front, side saddle drapery, or the new side-buttoned drape. The apron front dress is quite new, too.

In sleeves some of the old styles are being revived, such as ragland, dolman, and saddle shoulders—all with a new touch.

REVIVAL MEETING

AT THE JESU NAME GOSPEL CHURCH

(In South Sonora on the old Rock Springs Road)

Rev. George F. Roe, Pastor
The Rev. August Apelt from Beaumont will conduct a revival meeting beginning on October 5 at the above-mentioned place.

The public, the churches and all Christians are cordially invited to come and worship with us. Come let us meet God and get revived in him through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Services begin every night at 7:30 p. m. Come early and take part in the song service.

Two Ex-students Make Good In College Activities

Troy White, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy White, was elected president of the Sophomore class at Sul Ross last week. Troy, Jr., finished school from the Sonora high and later attended business college in San Antonio. This will be his first year to play in the college band.

Another outstanding Sonoran is Doc Simmons. Doc finished school here last year and enrolled in A. & M. for his education. He was one of the few boys that was asked to play in the college band. Doc is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Simmons.

We are proud of these boys and hope there will be more students of Sonora High School that will participate in college activities.

MISS JEFFRESS APPOINTED

Miss Willie Mae Jeffress, who employed as Secretary of the Ranch Experiment Station from May, 1933 to July, 1938, has received an appointment through competitive Civil Service examination to a position in the office of The State Adjutant General, J. Watt Page in Austin. This work is connected with the Selective Service draft regulation. At the time of her appointment to this position she was secretary to W. M. Holland, Oil Lease Broker, San Angelo, Texas, where she has been employed for the past year. Miss Jeffress left for her new position on September 16th.

Texas Business Shows Gain Over Last Year

AUSTIN, Oct. 2—The over-all picture of Texas business—shown by 10 business factors statistically charted by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research—for August was "encouraging," Bureau officials said.

These factors were listed as follows:

Charts—105, the same as in August a year ago but 17 more than in July this year. Capitalization of new firms—$1,205,000 as compared with $4,387,000 in July and $1,278,000 in August, 1939.

Commercial failures—27, with liabilities of $819,000, compared to 39 with liabilities of $3,255,000 in July and 28 with liabilities of $633,000 in August, 1939.

Building permits—up 26.8 per cent over July and 62.9 per cent over August, 1939.

Postal receipts—1.5 per cent higher than in July, 6.4 per cent higher than in August, 1939.

Purchases of new automobiles—down 19.5 per cent from July but 15.5 per cent above August, 1939.

Employment—about the same as in July, 2.2 per cent higher than in August, 1939.

Payrolls—1.1 per cent above July, 4.3 per cent above August, 1939.

Purchases of savings bonds—down 37.3 per cent from August, 1939, but for the first eight months of 1940 purchases are 17 per cent above those of the corresponding period of 1939.

Southern pine—production up 15.5 per cent over July, 4.9 per cent over August, 1939; shipments up 20.2 per cent and 22.6 per cent unfilled orders at the end of the month, 35.6 per cent and 96.1 per cent higher.

Consumption of electric power—7.1 per cent over July, 1.4 per cent over August, 1939.

AUSTIN—Your occasional bad dreams will pale into insignificance when you see the prehistoric "nightmares" in the Texas Memorial Museum.

The massive white stone building, open on the University of Texas less than two years—one of the finest collections of fossils in the country—displays such hair-raising monstrosities as these:

A 60,000,000-year-old 12-foot long, sea-going fish, snared with a pick and shovel near Dallas.

A 7,000,000-year-old sea monster's skull, excavated just seven miles south of Austin. Reconstructed, the cigar-shaped reptile—a mosasaur—would measure some 25 feet in length and weigh more than 10,000 pounds.

The skull of a giant, pre-historic buffalo with horns 18 inches round at the core and a spread of some five feet. The animal would have dwarfed the modern bison, museum curators say.

A 13-inch-long prehistoric wolf skull, largest ever found. Its owner roamed Texas plains about the same time as the sabre-toothed tiger, preyed on the huge mastodons.

The list goes on and on, according to museum director E. H. Sellards. It's part of the extensive geology exhibits at the state museum. Soon to go on display will be skeletal remains of a huge "shovel-jawed" mastodon, a huge ground sloth, and a glyptodon—prehistoric, armor-plated relative of the armadillo, the size of an ox.

Several Sonorans At Beauty Convention

Several Sonorans, including Miss Draper and Mrs. Manly Randall of the Grace Draper Beauty Shop, Miss Lucille Clements and Mrs. Ruby Stephens of the Stephens Beauty Shop, attended the National Convention of Hairdressers and Cosmetologists at San Antonio. The three-day session opened Monday.

More than 7,000 delegates from all over the Western Hemisphere were present. Educational features marked the program.

Mrs. D. A. McGonagil is visiting Mrs. Nannie B. Wilson and Mrs. Leo Brown. Mrs. McGonagil is from Marathon.

DO YOU KNOW TEXAS?

DID YOU KNOW: That the Texas Panhandle is so named because it appears on the maps to be the handle of a big pan? That Oklahoma has a portion called the "Panhandle" for the same reason?

Q. How did the Staked Plains of Texas get its name? S. T. R.

A. Coronado, fearing that he would lose his way on his trek across the West Texas plains in 1541, four hundred years ago, placed stakes to show the way back. Thus they have since become known as the Texas Staked Plains.

Most popular tune of the moment in the taverns is a melancholy ditty entitled "All You Left Me Is a Worried Mind."

Deaths From Fires Show Increase

AUSTIN, Sept. 30—The Texas fire death record for the first eight months of 1940 has been the worst in many years, Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, reported today.

Hall said he had records of 290 deaths for the eight months as against 383 for the entire previous year. He stated that during the past five years when the annual property loss by fire in Texas has been the lowest in the history of the state, the annual death loss by fire has been the highest, which is definite proof that Texans are not applying the principles of fire prevention in their daily routine.

Sixty-seven persons lost their lives by getting trapped in burning dwellings. Fifty-seven deaths were caused by standing too close to open fires. Automobile wrecks caused 38 fire deaths to rank as the third leading cause.

Records on other fatalities were: burns: various causes, three; burns from electricity, three, acetylene torch burns, four; butane gas explosions, one; explosions, various causes, four; gas explosions from improper installations, nine; asphyxiated by gas, seven; cleaning clothes and floors with gasoline, five; improper use and care of gasoline, twenty-seven; explosion of gasoline washing machine, one; starting fire with kerosene, fourteen; children playing with matches, three; murder (arsenical) three; falling into open fires, five; oil well explosions, four; scalds from escaping steam, one; coffee, tea and grease scalds, two; scalds from falling into hot water, fifteen; smoking in bed, four; gasoline and kerosene stove explosions, eight; suicides, three, undetermined, two.

With 1940 feed supplies, and with pastures improved by conservative farming, farmers could provide every person in the nation with 45 quarts more milk and cream and 81 pounds more cheese, butter, ice cream and other manufactured dairy products than each person ate in 1939.

36th Division Meets Saturday for Reunion

Veterans of the Wartime 36th Division, from all sections of Oklahoma and Texas, will assemble in Fort Worth October 5 and 6 in annual reunion.

Advance reservations indicate the largest attendance in recent years. Arrangement Committee have provided a program of two full days of entertainment.

Saturday morning, October 5th, will be devoted to registrations, with a buffet lunch. Saturday night the first annual banquet will be held, followed by the annual dance. All Saturday activities will be in the Texas Hotel.

Sunday morning Memorial Services will be observed in the Municipal auditorium, followed by a business meeting. The annual luncheon, on Sunday, will be in Pioneer Palace, and entertainment will be provided for Sunday afternoon.

The Women's Auxiliary to the 36th Division Association will meet Saturday morning at the Texas Hotel, the meeting to be followed by a luncheon. Picture shows and other entertainment will be tendered the wives and families of the Veterans during the afternoon.

Conditions in Europe, and especially France, will furnish much food for conversation at the Reunion. Veterans at the time of meeting find Germany again occupying that portion of France in which they fought, this time as a conqueror. On October 5, 1918, the 36th Division began to move into the Battle of Champagne, with the French Army, and commenced to take over front line positions on the night of October 6. There followed twenty-one days of fighting during which the Germans were driven back more than thirteen miles. During this offensive the division captured 813 prisoners and took munitions and materials valued at more than ten million dollars.

For several days during the Germans' recent defeat of France, the news dispatches carried the names of towns and villages in the Champagne sector, on the Aisne River, falling to the German forces, which are engraved in the memories of 36th Division Veterans as the places from which they had driven the invader in 1918.

The Wartime 36th Division was play. O. L. Richardson punted, and Haney brought the ball back for 15 yards.

Bowers went through right end to be stopped on the line of scrimmage. Menard attempted a pass but was knocked down by the Broncos. Menard was penalized 5 yards for offside. Hudson plunged center for a first down. He was stopped by Thompson.

Laddie Richardson made a very pretty run but was called back. Sonora's pass was intercepted by Reynolds. The Yellow Jackets made no gain on the next two plays.

It is the third down and 6 yards to go for a first down for Menard. On this play Haney was taken for an 11 yard loss. Menard punted and it went out of bounds on the 38 yd. line. Sonora fumbled but recovered. Hudson went over left guard for three yards. Richardson punted. Reynolds brought it back to his own 25. Thompson gained four yards on the next play. Thompson also gained four yards on the next play. The Yellow Jackets made no gain on the next two plays. Thompson was injured and left the game. Fourth down and less than a yard to go for a first down. Menard was penalized 5 yards for off-side. The next play was the fourth down for Menard and two yards to the touchdown line. The Broncos halted

Men Behind the Mike on Humble's Football Broadcasts

These four announcers are featured on the Humble Oil & Refining Company's radio descriptions of Southwest Conference Football games; literally they fill the air with the air-minded football of the Southwest each Saturday afternoon.

At left is Kern Tips, one of the outstanding football announcers of the country. Next to him is Eddie Dunn, Texas radio personality who recently moved to Chicago, but plans to travel southward to handle several of the Humble broadcasts. At right is Cy Leland, who followed up a brilliant career as a player at T. C. U. with a career fully as brilliant as a football announcer; like Kern Tips, Cy is a veteran of the Humble broadcasts. Center, outline, is Hal Thompson, the well-known sports announcer of Dallas. These four announcers will be supplemented and assisted on the Humble Company broadcasts by other well-known Texas radio men.

Measurements Taken For Band Uniforms

Tuesday, the Bronco Band was measured for new uniforms. The measurements were taken by Mr. H. C. Harder of Ft. Worth, who represents the Lily-Ames Uniform Company.

The new uniforms are to change the color and design of the present and past uniforms of Sonora High School. They are to be a rich gray, trimmed with scarlet and black.

The style of the uniform is somewhat different from the styles selected by most bands. The uniform itself is a military style, with Pershing cap and Sam Brown belt, but the cut of the coat and trousers denotes something more than just a uniform. The coat is somewhat of modified drape model.

The trousers are cut just like the newest slacks, with pleats and small bottoms. They look very well with or without the coat.

These uniforms have not been ordered as yet because of some financial difficulties, but with the support of the town we can order them and have them before the end of the football season. If you have any money that you would like to invest in uniforms for the band, please let us know. Besides helping our band to be as well dressed as the other bands in our district, you will be helping the morale of the whole student body.

ed the Yellow Jacket threat and took possession of the ball. Sonora 35 yards. Haney went around right end to be stopped by Shroyer. Menard fumbled and Sonora recovered and then O. L. Richardson went around for a long run and a first down. The Broncos lost eight yards on the next play. The next play the Broncos picked up the lost yards but O. L. Richardson lost another yard on the next play. The Broncos tried a lateral play but lost a few yards. Richardson punted but the punt was short. On the next play Raney gained about 5 yards. Sonora piled the Yellow Jackets on the line of scrimmage. Word plowed through for a first down. Reynolds picked up three yards on the next play. Hudson stopped Haney on the line of scrimmage. Third down and five. Reynolds made first down on the next play. Menard made another first down. The ball is now on the 47 yard line. Thompson was stopped on the line of scrimmage. Menard tried a pass but it was incomplete. Haney through center made a short gain. Leverett was injured on the next play but stayed in the game. Menard made 8 yds. on the play, but it was measured for a first down and was a little short. The ball went over to Sonora. The Broncos fumbled but recovered. Sonora kicked. Haney brought the ball back for 8 yards. Menard fumbled but recovered. It was the second down and 10 yards to go. Haney picked up several yards on the next play. The fourth down and 1 yard to go. Menard fumbled and Sonora recovered.

Third Quarter

Sonora received the kick off. Laddie Richardson brought the kickoff back for some 20 yards. Hudson lost five yards on the next play. Richardson around his own right end to the 5 yard stripe. J. R. Hudson then plowed through to the pay stripe for Sonora's well-earned touchdown. Laddie Richardson then looped around his own end for the extra point.

The score is now 7-7. Sonora kicked and Reynolds brought the ball up for several yards. Menard boys then completed a pass for a first down, and another pass but it was incomplete. Menard fumbled, Sonora recovering.

Fourth Quarter

Sonora passed but was intercepted. In the next play Menard went over for another touchdown. The extra point was incomplete. The score is now 13-7. Menard kicked to Sonora and Sonora brought the ball back to the 30 yard line.

A pass from Richardson was attempted but was incomplete. Richardson punted. Menard had the ball on the 45 yard line. A center rush nets Menard a five yard gain. Menard fumbled and Sonora recovered. Richardson picked up seven yards in the next play. Sonora fumbled but recovered and lost 25 yards on the play. It was third down and 32 yards to a first down.

Sonora punted and Haney carried the ball back for 20 yards. Reynolds picked up 3 on the next. Menard tried a pass but was incomplete. Menard punted and the ball was brought back to the 20. Next play Richardson picked up a few yards. Richardson attempted to pass but it was incomplete. The Broncos tried another pass but it was incomplete. Richardson picked up a few more yards. Hudson tried for a first down but it was a little short. The ball is now in possession of Menard. Haney makes a few yards. The whis-

Love Birds of Habersville

How to be nonchalant while holding the key to the city is illustrated by William Powell to Myrna Loy in their new co-starring vehicle, "I Love You Again."

Ann Sheridan Competes With Tropics and Wins

Shouted at by Pat O'Brien, advised by Andy Devine, pampered by an unforgettable character known as "Rosario," and courted by James Cagney, Ann Sheridan, Dallas "Oomph" girl, comes to the La Vista today and Saturday in a new starring role in "Tropic Zone."

Undoubtedly one of the most action-packed pictures made this year, "Tropic Zone" features everything from condemned men's escapes to train wrecks, bandit fights, and shipboard rows to Cagney-O'Brien brawls and triangle shootings.

The scene is laid in a Central American banana town where Pat O'Brien is general manager of a large company and Cagney is plantation manager. The picture opens as Cagney is about to leave for the states. Sheridan's arrival changes his mind, however, and there isn't a dull moment the rest of the picture.

The directors employed exaggeration to make this one of the best comedies of the year. Rosario, the bandit chief, is Sheridan's best friend, conducts his murders with the decorum of a diplomat, yet remains the best character interpretation of the picture.

I Give You... TEXAS by BOYCE HOUSE

It all depends upon the point of view, Grandpa used to say:

One time when I was in town and walking along with a kill-joy named George, he kept up a running fire of criticism of the men who drove by in automobiles. (This was back when automobiles were not so common.) "Look at 'em," he'd say, "all reared back, feelin' better than folks that have to walk, as much as to say, 'Git outta my way!'"

Well, a friend happened to see me and he stopped and invited us to ride in his big touring car and we accepted. He turned around to say something to George and looked back just in time to keep from hitting a pedestrian.

"I'll have to be careful," the driver remarked. But George, sitting back on the cushions, said, "Let the so-and-so's look where they're going."

Readers of these weekly vaporings may recall previous mention of Brann Garner, Ranger theatre manager. The latest story is that the banker called on Garner and said, "I've employed a new man in a business enterprise of mine. I'm paying him all that his services justify but he is going to make the town a good citizen and I wish you'd issue him a season pass—he won't use it often but it will make him feel welcome in Ranger."

"Of course," Garner replied. "By the way, I've a young fellow working for me; I can't pay him as much money as I'd like to but he is a mighty good citizen and I wish you'd give him a bank account down at your bank. He won't write checks very often — not more than once or twice a week—" "You win, you win," said the banker, waving his arms and backing out the door.

Lobby of Hotel Texas in Fort Worth is in the grand manner that was customary until a few years ago when hotel builders started designing lobbies with the dimensions of band-boxes and oversized telephone booths. A big lobby suggests an equally broad hospitality and, if there is a hotel in the state with as large a lobby as the Texas has, I've missed it. Above the balcony is a high-vaulted ceiling, the whole scene flooded with light which makes for easy reading of your newspaper, or for readily recognizing friends. And I've never gone in there but what I've seen at least one familiar face. Cattlemen, oil men, business men, prosperous farmers, traveling men and just travelers — fill that football-field sized lobby, because Hotel Texas in Cowtown is the meeting place of Texans.

HOW SIGNAL FLAGS BEGAN

The signal flags used by our Naval vessels are the results of developments over several hundred years. The shapes, designs and colors are restricted to those easily distinguishable. At first the national flags of the ships were used, and later the flags of foreign countries. This use of foreign flags, particularly in emergency codes adopted at sea, persisted long after official code flags had been adopted by the British Navy and was in vogue with the British Navy and in the American Navy during the American Revolution. At first the codes were very simple and contained only a few easily-remembered signals. The red flag, as a signal for battle, was not of English origin, but was one of the unwritten customs of the sea.

Argentine Girl Wins U. S. Scholarship

AUSTIN—Superior low-income diets of the United States have brought a South American home economics student to the University of Texas to do special research along this line.

Leonor Guissani, 24-year-old coed from Argentina is winner of a $500 scholarship jointly awarded by the American Home Economics Association and the local chapter of Omicron Nu, honorary home economics society. She will live with six senior girls in a home management house while studying nutrition, Miss Lucy Rathbone, professor of home economics, said.

Since 1937 Miss Guissani has been with the National School Medical Board in Buenos Aires, where she worked with special diets for undernourished children, also giving instruction in nutrition and general hygiene to parents and doing research.

The scholarship Miss Guissani holds is one of five in the United States.

FEEDING THE NAVY

On all ships and stations of the Navy, menus for meals are drawn up for a week at a time. The weekly menu sheet must be delivered to the Commanding Officer for his signature before it can be carried into effect and no later changes may be made without his approval. Commissary personnel are thoroughly trained regarding food values, calories, vitamins, and the requirements of the body.

Medical officers inspect the bake shops and galleys regularly and comment on methods used in the preparation of foods. The Officer-of-the-Deck with the day's duty eats a ration from the general mess each day and is prepared to certify how well it was prepared and served.

Nothing, therefore, is left to chance; great care and the resources of the organization are used in the Navy to see that its men are well fed.

knew we had reached our objective. In the middle of a cornfield was a German plane, swastika and all. We were very thrilled, as you can imagine. Between the lane and the plane was a procession of sightseers. They looked quite like a bank-holiday crowd and were very gay.

We ran to the plane and my first desire was to photograph it. But on enquiring from the Australian soldiers guarding it, I was told it wasn't permitted. I was very disappointed. The plane we saw was quite intact except for the undercarriage, which was imbedded in the ground. There were bullet holes in the fuselage and through the propellers, which, by the way, had been bent and twisted when the plane made its (apparently) pancake landing.

Further on, in the next field, there was a gap in the hedge and in the gap a great hole where another Nazi raider had crashed to its doom. There was very little of this plane left at all—the engine was there, but half into the earth (it was still too hot to touch) and one of the 6-foot propellers had broken off and shot five feet into the ground. Around, scattered all over the field, were bits and pieces of the plane. People were taking away scraps of metal as souvenirs, and when we spotted an oxygen cylinder, with some German writing on it, we thought it would be a good idea to take it home (although it was 1 1/2 feet long, and not a little heavy), and plant it in the garden to surprise father, who would naturally have thought it was an unexploded bomb, or shell. However, we were defeated in our mischievous purpose by the sentry, who said, "Only pieces small enough for your pockets, please," and took the beautiful cylinder away from us.

On our way home we called at a farm for a glass of milk, and while we were drinking it the owner told us how she had been out in the farm grounds with her husband when 3 German planes came roaring low across the sky with some of our spitfires in pursuit. I will go on in her own words—"The planes were machine-gunning each other and the noise was tremendous. We lay flat on the grass, and hoped for the best. Then we heard one Nazi plane in a spin, and then there was a thump and explosion as it came to earth. The other plane was forced to land, and from that plane the crew was saved. Another raider crashed 2 miles away, so you see that was 3 planes in one afternoon near us."

I might mention that the day this had happened the RAF "bagged" 169 German planes. Besides, I shan't go repeating myself if you do that.

People here, and especially my parents were very interested in the Devil's River News. It is the personal, friendly—neighbourly touch that seems so foreign to us. You see, here anyone could go all round the world and back and no paper would think of printing the fact; except, of course, unless you were a famous person. How does your paper collect such a lot of intimate news about the goings and comings of all the people in your town? Do they have a hundred reporters always on the scout-round, or do the people send in reports of their own doings? It strikes me that you could know all about your neighbours without even going outside the door.

Flats, seedbeds, and potting soil are now sterilized simply and quickly with chloropicrin, once the 'tear gas' of warfare. Treating soil to destroy harmful organisms is merely a matter of giving the slightly dampened area a shot or two from a bottle into which a small applicator "needles" the gas below the surface.

pid in the calves fed skim milk than those fed the milk substitute. The weight of the calves fed the milk substitute was 97.3 per cent of normal for Jerseys and 95.2 per cent of normal height and the Holsteins were 98.2 per cent of normal height. This growth information indicates that the calves fed on the milk substitute were almost of normal size at weaning age.

It is also interesting to note the costs between the two groups of difference in the average feed calves. These costs were calculated by using the current market prices of all of the ingredients used in the skim milk substitute, as compared with the current market price of skim milk powder which incidentally has been abnormally high during the progress of this experiment. The average feed cost for all calves which have finished the experiment from birth to 6 months of age for those fed the milk substitute was only 65.7 per cent of the feed costs of those fed skim milk.

Dairymen should not be misled by these comparative feed costs. Those who have skim milk available should use every ounce of it that is needed for calf feeding and all in excess should be utilized in the feeding of swine and poultry, because in many instances skim milk has very little if any market value and is a very excellent feed for livestock and poultry, especially growing animals. Only those dairymen who sell their whole milk and do not have any skim milk available should consider the use of a milk substitute for calf raising. Even then one should not consider the use of a milk substitute if skim milk can be purchased at the same price as the substitute because any milk substitute will only approach skim milk as a feed for young calves.

Many dairymen visiting A. & M. College during the progress of this experiment have shown quite an interest in this work at least to the extent of requesting the formula of the milk substitute and directions for feeding. While the data of this experiment are not sufficient at this time to warrant definite statements as to the value of this milk substitute the leaders of the experiment are willing to send information to any one desiring it. Write to the Dairy Department of the A. & M. College or to the Dairy Division of the Agricultural Experiment Station.

Champion Truckers To Be Chosen

AUSTIN—October 2. — What trio of truck drivers are the safest and most efficient among the vast army of men piloting motor transport equipment over the highways of the United States today?

Who among these "gentlemen of the highway" are qualified to be rated as "National Champions" respectively in handling straight trucks, tractor semi-trailers, and full trucks and trailers? All are "trucks" to the man on the street. But there's a whale of a difference among them to the three and one-half million Americans employed in the trucking industry over the country.

These questions, so far as Texas is concerned, will be answered during the first annual State Truck Rodeo to be held in Dallas October 4, the day preceding the opening of the State Fair. The Texas champion will be eligible to compete in the National Truck Rodeo to be held in Los Angeles, California, November 11-14. The event is being sponsored by the Texas Motor Transportation Association.

It will be more than a test of skill in operating "trucks" over the highways. The winners will be proficient in their knowledge of safety rules and regulations, as laid down by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

They will be tops in neatness and correctness of driving attire. Drivers for most truck lines are uniformed these days. The champions will be men who know all the answers to the questions of safe driving and safe practices—and put this knowledge to daily use in performance of their duties.

They will be well versed in maintenance and repair of equipment, as well as to the size and importance of the trucking industry in serving the country today. Likewise will they know exactly what to do whenever any emergency arises while they are piloting their equipment from city to city or within the confines of any one community.

counties. All counties through which the route passes have pledged their cooperation in the project, the commission was told.

Two alternative routes from Brady to Del Rio were suggested, one by way of Menard and the other by way of Junction. H. E. Thornton of Menard, past president of the Chamber of Commerce of that city, discussed the advantages of the route through Menard. A delegation from Kimble county, unable to be present at the hearing, sent word that the county was willing to furnish right-of-way in the event the commission selected the route through Junction.

Thornton requested that the highway commission make surveys of the alternative routes. He was authorized, he said, to pledge Menard county to acquire the necessary right-of-way.

J. C. Netts, manager of the Del Rio Chamber of Commerce, pointed out the new highway would accommodate thousands of visitors to the Big Bend National Park when the park is finally established by the federal governments.

Representatives of the various counties were presented to the commission by M. J. Benefield, manager of the Brady Chamber of Commerce. On behalf of McCulloch County, Judge Howell E. Cobb of Brady announced the county had "money in the bank for the right-of-way and is anxious to spend it."

Judge Cobb pointed out that the county had spent $1,500 to survey three possible routes southwest of Brady and suggested that the commission might utilize the county's surveys in deciding in what direction to build the proposed highway.

Judge J. L. Johnson of Rocksprings, representing Edwards County, said the commissioners' court was ready and willing to provide the necessary right-of-way through that county.

Reputation . . . The Backbone of Banking

You can't build a reputation overnight . . . or even in a few years. Certainly not a reputation in the field of banking, where people judge integrity by records that go back through decades. This bank is old enough to have established a long and honorable record of reliability—yet young enough to be completely in tune with the times and fully aware of every modern banking need.

Growers' Association, outlined the benefits which the livestock industry would receive from the highway. He said the Edwards Plateau region, the greatest sheep and goat raising area in the country, is less adequately served by rail than any other section of Texas. Motor transportation, he said, has been the mainstay of the livestock industry.

"Motor trucks are ideally adapted to this service," Stewart declared. "The more accessible the Fort Worth market is made to the producers of livestock the greater will be the benefits to the whole industry."

A group of Sonora citizens is working on plans for a highway to come through here from the north and connect with Del Rio.
