LBJ 'All The Way' In Olton

A Long-Time Voter

And A First-Timer

PRESIDENTIAL VOTES -- Olton voters turned out in droves Tuesday to cast ballots in the quadrennial Presidential general election. J. E. Fuller found the proceedings "old hat." He has been voting for "about 50 years," thus casting votes in about a dozen Presidential elections. Elza Miller, on the other hand, cast his first vote in a Presidential election. Fuller was the 789th person to vote in Olton Tuesday, and Miller was 803 on the list of voters.

Harvest Awaiting A Freeze

Cotton harvest in the Olton area is proceeding at a somewhat faster pace than at this time last year, but that doesn't necessarily mean that all the cotton farmers in the area are real happy.

Right now practically every cotton grower in the area seems to have one thought on his mind -- "Freeze."

Ginning totals through Wednesday stood at 3,273 bales for the six Olton area gins, and cotton is starting to move in now, according to reports.

But every ginner questioned said that the time is ripe for a freeze.

The word is that cotton quality is pretty good right now, but that it won't stay that way if a freeze doesn't make a rather quick appearance.

As far as the quality is concerned, the first of this year's bi-weekly reports from Plains Cotton Growers on High Plains cotton indicates an early picture somewhat better than last year's.

Average staple length so far has been 30.8 thirty-seconds of an inch, with 25.5 per cent of the cotton having a staple length of one inch or better.

The first figure is a small rise from last year at this time, but the second figure is more than twice as large.

As far as the freeze is concerned, only the weatherman knows for sure.

But the average date for a freeze in the area is Nov. 7 and that is this weekend. And the temperature at the moment of the writing of this story is 36 and dropping; so it looks promising that the first freeze is not far away.

The area has already experienced several frosty mornings, and everything seems to be in order for a full scale visit from old Jack Frost.

Northeast of town Wilton Bodkin said his cotton was ready for a freeze. He said that he's be ready to harvest within a couple of days after a good freeze, but added that some of the cotton would take ten days to two weeks to be ready to strip -- after a freeze.

Bobby Copeland, who farms east of town, said he figured just about all the cotton and cotton farmers in the area were ready for a good cold snap. "At least," he added, "I'd like one."

Copeland said that all the cotton on his place was ready for the freeze, and that he was ready for the cotton to be ready.

S. M. Breland Service Set

Funeral services for Silas M. Breland, long-time area resident, are slated for 2:30 p.m. Friday at the First Baptist Church in Olton.

Born Nov. 18, 1896, in Falls County, Texas, he lacked only two weeks being 68 when he died Wednesday morning at the Plainview Hospital.

He married Miss Jewel Powers in 1919 in Red Springs Texas, and the couple moved to the Olton area in 1927 -- moving northwest of the town.

In 1939, the Brelands moved to a home northeast of Olton, in Hale County.

A life-long Baptist, he was a long-time member of Valley View Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, Marcus and Wendell; three daughters, Mrs. Wanda McCartie of Plainview, Mrs. Alice Muse Curry of Roswell; Mrs. Dolores Brothers of Clovis; thirteen grandchildren, two brothers, Oris Breland of Lubbock and Lee Breland of Tucson, Arizona; one sister, Mrs. Zula Machen.

Mustangs Still Have Chance If-

The Floydada Whirlwinds blew a pretty big hole in Olton's hopes for the district crown this year, but the chance is still there -- IF.

If Olton can down Friona here this week and Friona can whip Floydada there next week -- Olton will have defeated Friona, Friona will have defeated Floydada, Floydada will have defeated Olton and all three teams will have 4-1 district records and be tied for the district lead.

Right now the biggest part of that big "if" is the Friona Chiefs, and the answer will be known Friday night when the dust settles after Olton's clash

Copeland Rites Held

Funeral services for Earl Copeland, 62, were held Monday at 2:30 in the Halfway Baptist Church with the Rev. Bob Schmeltekopf and the Rev. George Young officiating.

Directing the arrangements was Parsons Funeral of Olton with interment in the Plainview Memorial Park.

Copeland was a retired farmer and blacksmith. He was born April 23, 1902, and died Friday Oct. 30.

He was a resident of Olton for the past 40 years and a member of the Baptist Church. His wife preceded him in death on Nov. 27, 1962.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Cassie Copeland, Olton; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Shipley, Olton, Mrs. Marshall Ellis of Plainview; four brothers, Derwood, Jay, Ray and Roy, Olton; three sisters, Mrs. Herman Bell, Plainview; Mrs. Roy Roberts, Mrs. Jack Weathers, Olton; and five grandchildren.

Pallbearers were A. D. Huddleston, Oliver Harmell, Winifred Smith, Claude Fargason, Aubrey Talley and Doc Brown.

Honorary pallbearers were Herbert Walker, Rollo Harrell, Joe Parker, T. T. Smith, Ralph Shannon, Joe Prater, Foster James, and Carl King.

ORC Meeting Set Nov. 19

Annual meeting of the membership of Olton Recreation Center has been scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the ORC.

Announcement of the meeting was made Wednesday by Geo. Clark, president of the board of directors.

Clark said members will meet to elect officers and discuss the cllub's financial status and a possible increase in membership dues.

Baby Dies After FM 168 Mishap

A five-month-old baby boy is dead as a result of a Tuesday afternoon FM collision one mile south of Olton on FM 168.

The dead child is Manuel Sauceda Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sauceda of Olton who was riding in a car driven by his father when the accident occurred.

The other driver involved in the accident was Sidney Earl Roberts of Littlefield.

As reported by the Highway Patrol of Littlefield, Roberts was traveling north on FM 168 toward Olton in a pickup. The Sauceda family was traveling east on a county road in a '59 automobile.

The collision between the front of the pickup and the right side of the auto, knocked the auto off the highway.

Damage to both vehicles was extensive, but only the three occupants of the Sauceda vehicle were injured.

The Sauceda baby was fatally injured and both Manuel Sauceda and his wife were admitted to the Community Clinic in Olton.

The time of the accident was about 12:15 p.m. Tuesday. The weather was basically clear, but with high winds and blowing dust.

According to a Highway Patrol report, the Sauceda automobile had stopped at a stop sign where the roads intersect -- and then pulled onto the road where the collision took place.

Schools: Million-Dollar Year

Olton schools were a million dollar business in the year ending Aug. 31, 1964, according to an audit report approved by school board members at a regular meeting Tuesday night.

That much money was handled through the schools, primarily because a $300,000 bond issue was included in the funds, in addition to regular operations of the system.

Most of the money came from three places from local sources, $309,000; from the state, $348,000; and from the sale of bonds, $300,000.

Regular budgetary disbursements came to about $570,000, and the other main expenditure, of course, was the $300,000 building program.

In all, total income was $1,087,000, while total expense was $1,033,000. The school system started the year with a cash balance of $37,000 and ended it with a balance of almost $92,000.

A statement of the school's receipts and disbursements for the year is published in this week's Enterprise, page 12.

Study of the audit, prepared by Williams and Merriman, Muleshoe accountants, took up much of the board's time Tuesday night.

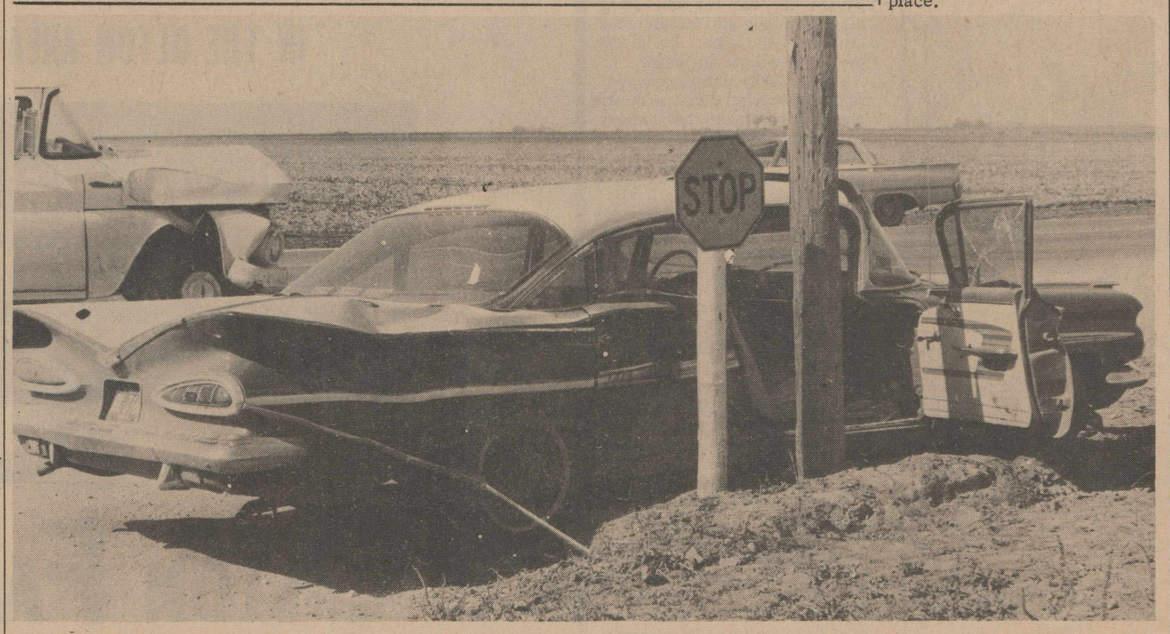

In other activity, the board:

1. Heard an attendance report which places enrollment at 1506 as of Nov. 3, compared to 1490 at about the same time a year ago. The total included 756 in elementary, 331 in junior high and 286 in high school, along with 133 in Bohner.

2. Studied a report from the lunchroom showing that phase of the school operation well in the black after a month's work.

3. Granted an easement to Southwestern Public Service to install a transformer behind the new vocational building now under construction.

4. Elected a math teacher, Lee N. Clayton, formerly of Oklahoma with 27 years' teaching experience.

WHERE ONE WAS KILLED -- The automobile in which five-month-old Manuel Sauceda Jr. was riding when he was fatally injured was knocked from the highway and came to a stop against a stop sign and a telephone pole. The baby's parents were admitted to Community Clinic in Olton for treatment of injuries they received in the accident.

STORES SAY IT'S HARVEST TIME!

A dozen Olton merchants have teamed up to advertise their wares in a "Harvest of Values" for Olton shoppers Friday, Saturday and Monday.

The merchants tell of new items and bargains in their messages on pages 3,4 and 5.

Participating in the event are K Dept. Store, Walter's Dept. Store, Whittington's, Duncan's 5-10, Consumers, Olton Drug, Northside Gift, Bizzell's, Kelley's, White's, J. C. Jones Co. and Superior Cleaners.

Bush Leads Here In Senate Vote

Olton voters turned out in record numbers at the ballot box Tuesday to join with the rest of the nation in casting a landslide majority for Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Approximately "105 per cent" of the Olton voters cast ballots -- this figure because the poll tax list contains only 1050 names, while 1102 votes were cast in the election.

The discrepancy arises from the fact that names of voters over 60 and those voting in "free" national contests do not appear on the poll tax list.

Voting absentee were 28 persons, while 1074 made the trip to the Olton polls in person.

When the votes were counted and the results tabulated, LBJ had gone all the way -- with 61.8 per cent of Olton's vote, 68.1 per cent of the county vote, 62.9 per cent of the state vote, and 61.4 per cent of the votes throughout the nation -- in the greatest popular percentage landslide in the history of the nation.

Late Wednesday Sen. Barry Goldwater was leading Johnson in Arizona -- the home state of the GOP nominee. Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina were in the Goldwater camp; the rest of the nation was in the Democratic camp.

John F. Kennedy won the Presidency in 1960 by less than 50,000 votes. Early Wednesday the Johnson lead was approaching the 15 million mark.

The electoral vote stacked up at 486 for Johnson and 52 for Goldwater. The "Solid South" was not so solid this year, but what solidarity there was was Republican -- rather than the traditional Democratic. But, in way of contrast, Vermont voted Democratic Tuesday for the first time in the history of the state.

In Lamb County, Johnson swept to an easy victory, winning all 17 precincts.

Pre-election "guestimates" were that the closest race in the state and in Olton -- would be the senatorial contest between Sen Ralph Yarborough and Republican George Bush. And so it was.

Yarborough's victory on the state level was smallest of the state-wide Democratic landslides; he took only 56.2 per cent of the vote.

Lamb County went along with the rest of the state, but in Olton, the situation was reversed.

George Bush was the only Republican victor in Olton, but he won 55.6 per cent of the local vote -- 585 votes to Yarborough's 467.

The rest of the election -- every contest on the ballot beneath the senatorial race -- was Democratic in Olton, in Lamb County, in Texas.

Joe Pool defeated GOP challenger Bill Hayes for the congressman-at-large post. Pool won 697-332 in Olton, 4599-1672 in the county and retained his post.

George Mahon remained the only congressman ever to represent the 19th District in Congress. He defeated Joe B. Phillips to maintain his powerful position.

Mahon won in Olton 788-269 (74.6 per cent of the vote), and he won in the county 5081 - 1329 (79.3 per cent).

Gov. John B. Connally won re-election easily -- with 77.2 per cent of the Olton vote, 80.8 per cent of the county vote and similar margin in the total state vote.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock ran even stronger than Connally. Smith defeated Horace Houston 822-207 in Olton, and 5132-1118 in the county.

And Attorney General Waggoner Carr, also of Lubbock, ran the best race of all. He won 831-214 in Olton, and 5261-1102 in the county.

The Republicans had no candidates in county races, and the Democrats on the ballot went in uncontended.

Three constitutional amendments were on the ballot, and all were passed in Olton, in Lamb County and throughout the state.

The vote in Olton was 354-291 for the school fund amendment. In the county the vote was 2562-291 for the issue.

Olton's vote was 350-273 for the amendment on conservation districts while the county passed the amendment 2436-1359.

Medical care for the aged won the greatest support -- 426-268 for in Olton, and 3057-1157 for in the county.

The Democratic sweep in the state was as complete as it is possible for a sweep to be. Texas had two Republican congressmen before the election, and even the most optimistic of optimitic Democrats would not have bet much against their re-election.

But Dallas went Democratic, and left Bruce Alger without his seat in Congress; and the 16th District went Democratic, upsetting Ed Foreman and replacing him in Congress.

The only national representative of the Republican party in Texas now is Sen. John Tower.

Now, with history made, the country can settle down once more -- until the next quadrennial Presidential race becomes the chief topic of conversation throughout the nation.

We Said It Before... We'll Say It Again

(Editor's Note: Reprinted below are the last three paragraphs of a letter by Publisher Bill Turner to President Lyndon B. Johnson. The letter was printed in last week's Olton Enterprise, prior to the election).

" . . . I hope that you are well aware that your election next Tuesday will not be a mandate from the people for big government to become bigger.

"It will, instead, be a mandate from a majority which feels you are better equipped to lead.

"The direction in which you lead us must be one which will preserve the heritage and freedoms of our great nation."

PHILOSOPHER

Thrift Drift Solution

Editor's note: The Running Water Philosopher on his Careless Weed farm has a novel slant on the economy this week.

Dear editar:

I didn't want to bring this up during the campaigning as it wasn't irrevelant enough to classify as an issue, but now that the election is over and the country can settle down to important things I can get around to discussing it.

According to a newspaper item I've been saving for three weeks now, economists have hailed as good news the discovery that the people during the third quarter of this year resumed their normal habits of spending.

During the second quarter the experts had detected a dangerous drift toward thrift and this had them worried. During that period people were saving over 8 per cent of their take-home pay, whereas in the third quarter they got back to saving only 7 per cent, with the possibility of going a little lower, what with Christmas coming on and all.

As I understand this theory the economy is geared to a steady pace of producing and selling, and a jump in saving means a drop in buying, followed by a slump in producing. In others words, a penny saved is a wheel stopped.

I have not gone into this theory thoroughly, but I am willing to practive it, provided there are some built - in safeguards to protect a man's reputation.

For example, say right now I'm a little hard-pressed for cash, and you could say it without indulging in campaign talk, and as a result have cut down on my spending. Now I don't want people, unaware of the situation, saying, "Look at him, not spending much these days. Probably saving his money. What's he trying to do, wreck the economy?"

Now the last thing I'd want to do is wreck the economy, therefore it seems to me the government ought to have a special fund to tide people over when, with the help of expensive families and short sighted credit managers, they've cut down on spending.

Any time a man's saving goes above 7 per cent of his income, the government should nip it in the bud and step in with a subsidy to bring it back down to the safe, national level, and keep the wheels turning. I was never a man who liked to shirk his duty.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Ask Amy

BY AMY ADAMS

THIS VETO GETS MY VOTE!

Dear Amy:

This is no big problem, but we would like another opinion on this. My boyfriend is 21 and I am 20. We have been dating for about 5 months now, and I am wondering if it is considered proper for us to be alone in his or my home for a few hours — or an afternoon?

My parents don't think we should be, and I never thought it particularly right when no one is at home. My boyfriend doesn't seem to agree. Could you please give us your idea on this subject.

D.H.

Dear D.H.:

I am usually considered a Liberal, but on your question, I am a Conservative! It's not important what your boyfriend thinks. Your parents' veto gets my vote!

Dear Amy:

I'm 29 years old and have been married nearly 10 years. My husband is good to me and I told him I wanted to get a job to help him out financially. He told me that if I did, he would take our 7 year old son and leave me. I would love to take a part-time job. Every little bit helps. Please tell me what to do?

E.R.

Dear E.R.:

What you should do is very clear. Your husband wants your only job to be taking care of him, your son and your home. Give him a big kiss ..... and do your job well!

Dear Amy:

My family constantly complains that my husband is too quiet when we visit them. It hurts me to have anyone criticize him for he is a perfect husband. It's true that he has little to say on such visits. If I mention it to him, he gets angry and insists he can't change. Is it possible for him to change?

Mrs. V. W.

Dear Mrs. V. W.:

Some people are born talkers and some are born listeners. Both have their places in this world, and it's futile to try to change them. Disregard your family's criticism of your husband. Assure them that you are satisfied with your man and, above all, let him know!

Dear Amy:

I know you'll think this is an unusual problem, but it has been bothering me so much lately that I've got to have your advice. I'm 15 years old and I am going steady with a nice guy (he's 17). About two years ago I got myself in some trouble with a boy my age. I was lucky there were no consequences. I've paid for it, believe me, and every time I think of it, I get nauseous. My boyfriend and I really love each other. I'm sure of that, and he trusts me.

My problem is should I tell him about the past and risk losing him? It makes me feel awful to hide anything from him. But I know it would shock him. I'm so confused. Just call me. . . .

Frantic

Dear Frantic:

Don't think about it. Don't speak of it . . . and don't repeat it!

Dear Amy:

I am a divorcee, 30, with four small children. My ex-husband is married but supports the children and sees them on weekends.

Recently, I met a nice man who apparently is very fond of me and the youngsters. My family objects to him as a serious suitor because he's very nervous, a result of service overseas. My parents say he would never become adjusted to a home with active children. What do you think.

Anxious Alice

Dear Anxious:

Your parents are right. Children can get on anyone's nerves occasionally. If your friend is nervous, they could ruin him completely. Don't make any decisions until you seek the advice of his doctor. He knows how deep his illness is and what the prospects are for a complete recovery.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I found this in a church magazine, thought it would be of general interest and would like for you to reprint it.

THE INTOXICATED CAT

A letter to an editor written by an unhappy woman complained that her husband thought it funny to make their pet cat drunk by pouring gin into its milk. The woman said that she didn't think it was doing the cat a bit of good, for the cat would dance like mad, stagger around in circles, and finally fall in a heap in the corner and go to sleep. Besides, the woman reported, the cat was now losing all of her hair as a result of the gin diet, and what did a cat look like without any hair?

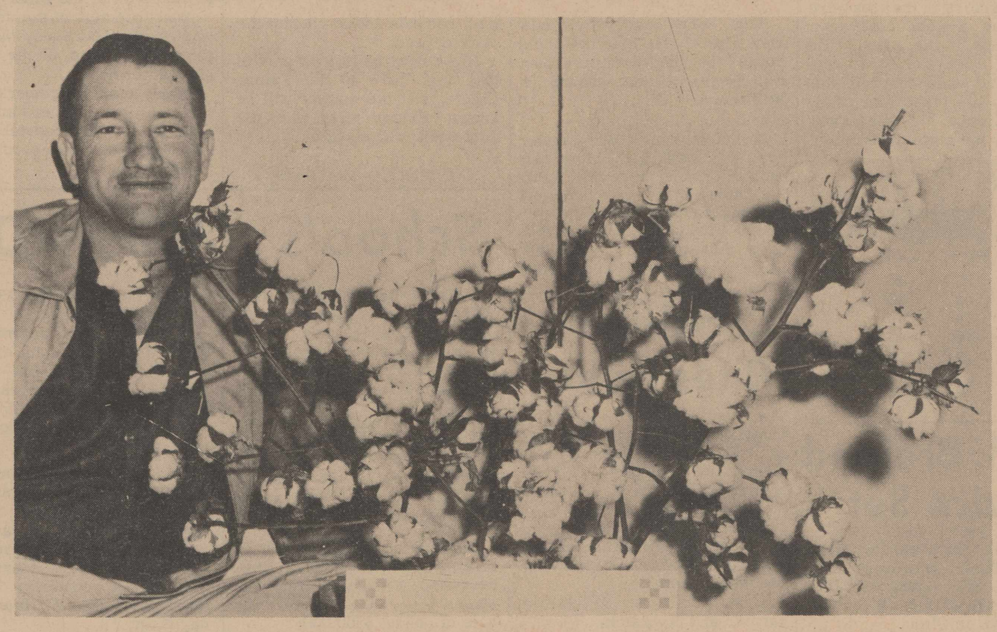

Immediately letters poured in to the newspapers from aroused readers all over the country denouncing the husband and suggesting various degrees of punishment for a man who would be so cruel to an animal.

Perhaps I have a warped sense of humor, but the reactions of the readers struck me as ironically funny. Give a cat liquor and you are considered cruel. Give a man liquor and you are considered sophisticated. Let a cat reel, act foolish, fall in a drunken stupor, and immediately it is an occasion for readers from coast to coast to protest. Let a man do the same thing and we simply ignor it.

We wouldn't give liquor to a cat. It is inhuman. Yet, we give it to our sons and daughters and with all the advertising media at our command we continually encourage them to drink it. It's not fit for a cat but it is fit for our children. How crazy can we get? Church News, Lewis Memorial Church, Tampa, Fla.

2½ BALE COTTON?

YES _ _ _ 2½ BALE COTTON IS WHAT EVERY FARMER IN THE OLTON AREA DREAMS OF _ _ _

One of the best approaches to realize this goal is a complete soil analysis. You can combine this know how with good farming techniques, the right kind of fertilizer -and some luck- to make this kind of yield.

Ag Extension Honors Mahon

LUBBOCK -- Congressman George H. Mahon was honored here Saturday by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service for distinguished service to Texas agriculture.

Mahon received a plaque, known as the "Knapp-Porter Award," as a part of Extension's celebration of its 50th Anniversary Year. Governor Connally had previously proclaimed this week as "Texas Agricultural Extension Service 50th Anniversary Week."

The award, one of two presented this week, honors men who have "projected the visionary aims of Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, originator of Extension teaching methods, and Walter C. Porter, pioneer farm demonstrator." The other award was made to Congressman Olin E. Teague on the Texas A & M University campus earlier this week.

Old Fashioned "Sticky" Buns

STICKY BUNS

Remember those wonderful homemade breakfast rolls that grandma used to make as an extra special treat? Fresh from the oven -- dripping with a delicious mixture of crunchy pecans and caramel -- gooey enough to satisfy the most avid craving for finger licking.

PECAN STICKY BUNS

For the dough, use a rich yeast roll recipe calling for about 5 cups of flour. After the first rising, proceed as follows:

Punch down. Divide dough in half.

Melt 1 cup butter or margarine and mix with 1 1/2 cups brown sugar and 1 cup chopped pecans. Spread evenly on bottom of 14" x 10" x 2" pan.

Mix 1 cup brown sugar with 1/2 cup chopped pecans.

Put one-half dough on floured board and roll into a 12-inch jelly roll. Cut into 1-inch slives and place in prepared pan. Repeat with remainder of dough. Cover, let rise in warm place until doubled in bulk (about 1 hour).

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 25 minutes. Makes 2 dozen.

Eastern Star School Planned

The "Autumn Harvest" Session of the Eastern Star School of Instruction will be held Monday, Nov. 9, at the Masonic Hall, 103 W. Mississippi St., in Floydada.

Serving as chairman of the school will be Mrs. LaVerne Long, of Silverton, who was appointed Deputy Grand Matron of District 2, Sec. 3, at the recent grand chapter held in San Antonio. Mrs. Flora McNeil, of Floydada, will be co-chairman.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m.

Official opening will be at 9 a.m.

A luncheon will be held at 12:15 at the Colonial House.

At 6 p.m. a banquet will be held at the high school cafeteria honoring Mrs. Amy Goebel, worthy grand matron. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Roberta Griffin, Box 644, Silverton.

ATTENDS FOOTBALL GAME

John Schenck, Sr., Dr. Oliver Jones, Walter D. Bryan and Pat Blessing attended the football game at Canyon Saturday night.

Mack Lancaster Places Second In PPK Meet

Olton's Mack Lancaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Lancaster, displayed his football skills in Dallas Saturday in district Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

The North Texas youngsters got to turn the tables, as their skills were displayed before a National Football League audience; but then the normal order of things was restored, and the National Football League provided regular league play.

Lancaster was the only Olton youth remaining in the PP&K competition after zone competition in Lubbock recently.

Although the 12-year-old made a good showing in Dallas, a Daingerfield youth -- Harold Paden -- will compete in the Cotton Bowl Nov. 29 for the chance to go to the national finals.

Lancaster came in second, right behind Paden, but the effort was not quite good enough for a chance to continue competition.

Winners in the Dallas contests, sponsored by the NFL and Ford Motor Company, were:

13-year olds -- 1st Phillip James, Irving; 2nd, Mark Wideman, Ralls.

12-years-olds -- 1st, Harold Paden, Daingerfield; 2nd Mack Lancaster, Olton.

11-year-olds -- 1st, Wayne Howard, Arlington; 2nd Mike Newton, Rochester.

10-year-olds -- 1st, Mike Adams, Forney; 2nd Troy Gaunt, Rochester.

9-year-olds -- 1st, Randy Grisson, Denton; 2nd, Steve Pierce, Dallas.

8-year-olds -- 1st, Jimmy Elzner, Kaufman; 2nd, Bruce Jones, Rotan.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to take this opportunity to give our many thanks to all you nice people who have written, sent cards and gifts to our folks, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Morris, who are in the John Sealy hospital. You will never know what it has meant to them, as well as us.

Thanks again.

WT, Tech Bout Set

LUBBOCK -- West Texas State, only team on Tech's first football schedule being played this fall invades Jones Stadium for a game with the Red Raiders at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

All the fans streaming south won't be pulling for the Buffaloes, since Texas Tech is banking on products of Panhandle schoolboy football. Among these are All-America halfback candidate Donny Anderson of Stinnett, tackle Bill Malone of Phillips, and Sam Cornelius, of Spearman, and Clyde Windom of McLean, end Terry McWhorter of Perryton, and halfback Jerry Locelace of Farwell.

Each team has won four games this season. West Texas has downed Texas Western, North Texas, Trinity, and San Jose State and lost to Ohio, Arizona State, and Memphis State, to bring a 4-3 mark into the neighborhood encounter. Texas Tech, fresh from a 6-6 regionally televised draw with Rice University last week, is 4-2-1. Victories have been over Mississippi State, Texas A & M, Texas Christian, and Southern Methodist. Texas and Baylor defeated the Raiders.

In its first year, 1925, Texas Tech edged West Texas 13-12. The series now stands at 19-7 in Tech's favor, although West Texas has won three of the six contests since Tech was voted into the Southwest Conference in 1956. In the most recent meeting, two years ago, the Buffaloes grabbed the season opener by a 30-27 score.

More than revenge for defeat is spurring the Red Raiders. A triumph Saturday night will assure Tech of its first winning season since 1955, when the Raiders rode a 7-2-1 mark into the Sun Bowl.

SHORT SNORTS -- U. S. Department of Agriculture reports these fall farming operations: high plains wheat planting has reached 93 per cent level; statewide wheat crop is 88 per cent planted; and sorghum combining is 85 per cent completed.

State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar has endorsed the "Teaching Taxes" program -- an educational supplement designed to help students understand the preparation of income tax returns -- made available by R. L. Phinney, District Director of the Internal Revenue at Austin.

F. M. Road Construction Is Announced

A contract for 23.9 miles of construction on F. M. Roads 2479, 1055 & 2567 in Lamb and Castro County has been awarded to a Lubbock firm, it was announced in Austin this week by the State Highway Commission.

Kerr Construction Company submitted the low bid of $347,385.86 on the project. Grading, structures, base and surfacing on FM 2479 from County Road Intersection, south 6 miles to FM 37, 3 mi. east of Amherst and on FM 1055; from FM 1524 south to FM 1055 from Amherst, north to FM 1843 and from FM 2567 from SH 86, 6 miles east of Dimmitt, to a point 5 miles north is expected to take 210 working days, according to O. L. Crain District Highway Engineer at Lubbock.

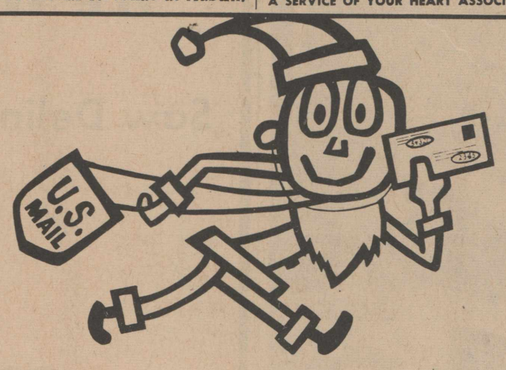

Rhea E. Bradley, Resident Engineer at Littlefield will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

Frank Hair Rites Held

Funeral services for Frank Hair, 70, Truth or Consequences, N.M., were held today in the Main Street Church of Christ with the J. D. Lancaster minister, officiating.

Parsons Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements and burial was in the Olton Cemetery.

Hair was born May 6, 1894. He moved to Olton from Davidson, Okla., in 1928. He farmed in Olton until 1943 when he took up residence in Truth or Consequences, N.M.

Survivors include his wife, Pearl; two sons, Wayne and Otis, and on grandson, John Wayne, all of Olton; three brothers, Lee Hair, Dennison; Jessie Hair, Oakland, Calif.; Chester Hair, Davidson, Okla.; three sister, Mrs. Roxie Thornhill, Truth or Consequences, N. M.: Mrs. Wes Qualls, Davidson, Okla,; Mrs. Iva James, Plainview.

Pallbearers were Elmer Machen, Roy Aikman, Jack Straw, Ray Slatten, Paul Burrus and Roy McAfee.

Relatives who attended the funeral included a niece, La Vern Scott, Sallasaw, Okla., and two nephews, Leon Hair of Olton and DeWayne Hair of Davidson, Okla.

Accident Is Reported

Only one traffic mishap in Olton itself marred the past week.

Two vehicles -- one being driven by Mrs. Ann Capehart and one being driven by Dan Gregory -- struck up more than a passing acquaintance in front of the Post Office.

The Capehart auto came out of the tangle without a scratch, but about $150 damage was done to the Gregory vehicle, according to Police Chief Emmett Burrows.

SON VISITS

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grimsley and girls of Denver, Colo., recently visited in the home of his mother Mrs. I. D. Grimsley.

CROPS PROGRESS -- Clear, open weather helped move along the harvest in the cotton farming region of the blacklands of Texas, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

USDA says clear weather also aided farmers to push sorghum combining and the planting of small grain. Lack of topsoil moisture slowed growth of grass and some grains, but ranges and pastures remained in good condition over most of Texas.

College Preview Day Scheduled

PLAINVIEW, College Preview Day at Wayland Baptist College has been set Nov. 14, says Dr. W. Neil Record, chairman of the annual spend-the-day-on-the-campus affair.

Seniors and juniors in high school, together with youth counselors and parents, are invited to take a look at life at Wayland.

Campus tours will follow the registration period at 8:30, followed by a program in Cates auditorium at which the Pioneer Players of the drama department will present the play, "Construction" by Stone. Following luncheon, student musicians will present a concert. To close the day's activities, student groups will have a "fun and fellowship" period.

High school seniors interested in auditioning for music scholarships and for membership in choral ensembles and band are urged to contact Dr. Wallace C. McKenzie, head of the department of music and art, in advance if at all possible for a definite time for the audition. Those desiring auditions should bring their music.

Interviews will be arranged for students who wish to talk with coaches about athletic scholarships in track and in basketball, both men and women. Athletic Director Ed S. Billings may be contacted in advance of Nov. 14, but interviews can be arranged after arrival on campus, says Dr. Record.

High school students, their counselors and parents will be guests of Wayland Baptist College for luncheon in Slaughter Memorial Center.

TOUCHDOWN -- Richard Hall's churning legs carried him for a touchdown on this run, a 19-yard burst that put Olton head of Floydada, 7-0. But the Whirlwinds came back for a fourth quarter score to win, 8-7.

FRIONA--

with the Cheiftains here.

The Mustangs stampeded past the Chiefs 21-6 last year in the final game of the season, but this year's game promises to be somewhat more difficult.

A victory Friday is a must for the Ponies if they are to remain in contention for a share of the top spot in the district standings.

If Friona wins, the Mustangs are eliminated from a chance at the crown, and Friona and Floydada would decide the district title next week.

Friona stands 7-1 for the season and 3-0 for district play while the Mustangs are 4-4 for the season and 2-1 for district play.

A 56-man squad, with five starters back from last year's 8-2 team, Friona should be -- and is -- a strong team capable of causing trouble for everybody in the district.

The Chiefs will have one major advantage over the Mustangs, and that is backfield speed. A lot of this speed is wrapped up in Danny Murphee a 155 pound senior letterman who runs like a sprinter.

Three other seniors will be with Murphee in the backfield. Milton Hargus will be starting at halfback, Doug Dodd will be running from the fullback position, and Jimmy Snead will be calling the plays.

Two junior lettermen and five seniors will be on the line.

Doyle Mabry will fill the center of the line. Jackie Clark and Bob Smis will be beside him in guard positions. Tackles will be Dale Milner -- one of the best in the area -- and Gene Weatherly.

Out at the ends of the line will be George Rushing and Larry Buckley.

The Friona backfield averages 163 pounds -- about five pounds per man heavier than the Mustang backfield. But the lines will be pretty evenly matched -- 172 for Olton and 173 -- for Friona.

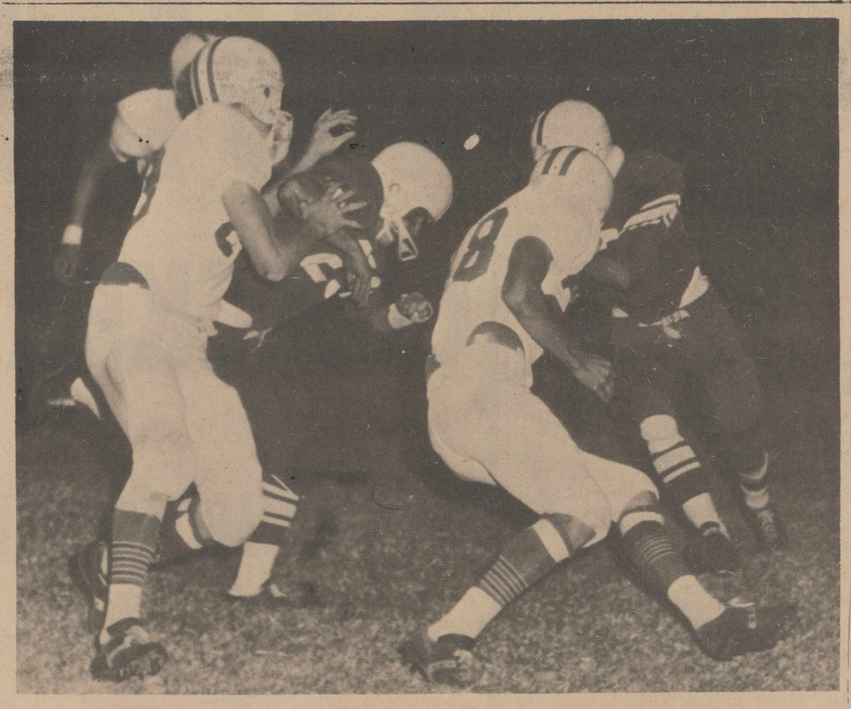

Hale Center has been one common opponent for the two teams. The Chiefs smashed the Owls 24-7, while the Owls edged the Mustangs 14-13 in the final quarter of plays.

Olton topped Abernathy 39-12, while the Chiefs won theirs, 26-21. Olton beat Lockney 21-6 and Friona won over the Longhorns, 28-14.

The Mustangs will go with their regular starting lineup against the Chiefs.

Joe Priest will call the signals at quarterback. Joe Costello will back him up at fullback, with Jackie Burkhalter at wingback and Richard Hall at halfback to complete the backfield.

Olton will start with Gail Bizzell at center, Steve Moss and Don Sopher at guards, Don Mitchell and Dennis Givens at tackles and Charles Church and Darrell Glover at ends.

THE MUSTANGS closed in on Floydada's Tommy Watts (23) to stop him after a six-yard gain on this play. Watts gained 67 yards to lead all ballcarriers in the game.

Mrs. Trusty Is Winner In Contest

Mrs. V. J. Trusty came up with top honors this week as four contestants battled it out for top honors in the Enterprise football contest.

All four top entries missed only four games -- including two ties -- of the 19 in the contest.

Mrs. Trusty was closest on the tie-breaker, guessing Floydada would beat Olton 14-13. The final was Floydada 8, Olton 7, leaving Mrs. Trusy only 12 points off the mark.

Darryl Dennis won second place by missing the tie-breaker only 18 points.

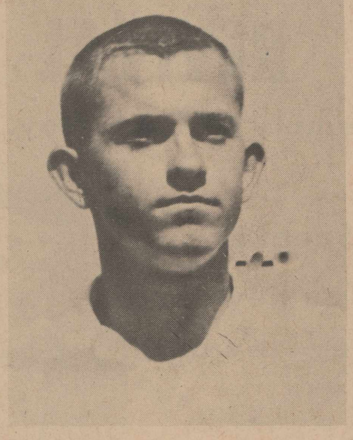

W. L. Jones, Plainview, won third, missing the tie-breaker by 19.

Mrs. Geneva Stofel was a close fourth. She was 32 points off on the tie-breaker.

Seventeen others in the contest missed only five games.

There's still time to enter the contest for this week. It's easty -- simply get a copy of the Oct. 29 Enterprise, fill out the entry form and turn it in to any of the participating merchants by 4 p.m. Friday.

The heartbreak of it all was the fact that Olton seemed to have the Whirlwinds on the run.

After the Mustangs went ahead, 7-0 they put Floydada in a deep hole, at the Whirlwind seven.

Floydada moved for a couple of first downs to the Wind 40. but there the Ponies tightened up their defenses.

Two plays were held to two yards and on third down Teague made exactly nothing. It appeared it would be fourth-and-eight, and the Mustangs would receive a Floydada punt.

But the Ponies were detected offsides on the play, and the Whirlwinds had new life, facing third down and three.

Floydada's Sylvester Perez made the first down with a yard to spare, and two plays later, Teague let loose with his game-winning "bomb."

Floydada dominated the game offensively, chalking up 14 first downs to Olton's eight, and rolling for 260 yards to Olton's 130.

But the Ponies had put up a whale of a defensive battle, intercepting two Teague passes in the first half and grabbing off five Whirlwind fumbles during the clash.

Olton threatened twice and Floydada once in the first half.

After an exchange of punts in the first period, Olton, with a wind advantage, took over at the Floydada 47.

Fullback Joe Costello gained a yard and then Halfback Hall streaked off right tackle for 30. He was cut down at the Whirlwind 16 as he attempted to cut back.

Three plays netted only a yard and on fourth down at the Floydada 15, QB Joe Priest's pass to Hall was broken up.

Floydada rolled out to the Olton 42, but ran into stiff Olton opposition there and Teague punted out on the Olton six.

Two plays by the Mustangs netted only a yard and on third down, Hall attempted to quick-kick.

The ball got into the wind, however, and the kick netted only seven yards, Floydada taking over at the Mustang 14.

Floydada ran two plays, but gained only a yard, so on third down, Teague hit Bearden with a pass at the Olton three-yard-line.

Bearden was hit hard by Olton's Richard Hall just as he took the pass, and the Whirlwind fumbled, the ball rolling into, and out of, the endzone.

As a result, Olton took over at its own 20. Two plays gained nothing and Priest punted against the wind, 35 yards to the Floydada 47.

Two plays later, Priest intercepted a Teague pass at the Olton 30 and returned to the Floydada 30.

Three plays gained only one and on fourth down, the Mustangs missed a first down by a yard as Priest's pass to End Darrell Glover connected for eight to the Floydada 21.

Olton had another opportunity a few moments later when Teague completed another pass that was fumbled and Olton's Charles Church recovered at the Floydada 43.

Once again, the Ponies couldn't go and Priest punted.

Floydada moved out to the Wind 48 and Teague let go with another pass, this one intercepted at the Olton 25 by Priest, who returned to mid-field.

Priest completed an 18-yard gainer to Church as the first half ended with Olton on Floydada's 32.

Midway in the third quarter, Priest recovered a Teague fumble at the Olton 33, and the Mustangs set sail on their touchdown drive.

Jackie Burkhalter rolled for a 21-yard gain to the Floydada 46 and three plays later Priest connected with Glover for 15 yards and a first down at the Wind 33.

Costello plugged for eight and Hall rolled for four more, giving the Mustangs a first down at the Whirlwind 21.

After Priest gained two, Hall hit off right tackle and took advantage of some good blocking to go all the way. Richard was hit at about the three-yard line but his momentum carried him in for the score.

Priest kicked the extra point and Olton led 7-0 as the fourth quarter opened.

After the kick-off, Olton's Dwight Clark recovered another Teague fumble, giving the Mustangs the ball at the Olton 48.

Three plays gained only four and Priest punted to the Floydada 15. A penalty against Floydada moved the ball back with the Wind 7.

It was at that juncture that the Whirlwinds began their victory drive with only eight minutes left to play.

On a third and eight situation, Floydada's Steve Marler broke for 11 yards to the 20.

Two plays later, Perez ran for 18 to the Floydada 40.

Then came Olton's five-yard penalty and Perez's third down run for four and a first down at the Olton 49.

Two plays later, Teague hit Bearden with the 46 yard pass and Watts ran the extra points for an 8-7 Floydada lead.

But the Mustangs still had a chance. Olton's Don Mitchell recovered a Floydada fumble at the Wind 28 with almost two minutes left.

There the Whirlwinds rose up and dropped Priest for a nine-yard loss, then hit Burkhalter for a five-yard deficit.

Third and fourth down passes went incomplete and Floydada took over to run out the clock.

Watts led all rushers for the game with 67 yards on 14 runs. For Olton, Hall gained 52 yards in 12 tries.

Defensively, Olton got outstanding play from Mitchell, Clark, Don Sopher, Steve Moss, Dennis Givens, Hall and Priest.

Floydada's David Luttick, a tackle, led the Whirlwind defense.

WHY
IS
LICHTE-SULLINS ACID DELINTING CO.
one of the largest on the Plains?
BECAUSE:

1. We furnish trailors to catch your cottonseed when you gin. These are furnished within 30 miles of Littlefield (this includes the Olton area). Just have your ginner call us collect and tell us when your cotton will be ginned.

2. We take a composite sample of delinted seed from each load of seed and send to the State Seed Laboratory of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Their report sheet is mailed to the farmer. No guessing.

3. We save the farmer real money. Our price is $35.00 per ton, which is an economic break that counts.

4. We have a 10,000 square foot storage warehouse for finished seed. We give you 21 days free storage after delinting. After that, if you wish to leave your seed with us, our charge is $1.00 per ton per month, which covers storage handling and insurance. Many who do not have good home storage use our warehouse, but it is your choice.

Our method? The oldest form of acid delinting. It has been in use on the Plains since 1937.

Look us over. We have had a good business here since 1958. We still ask the same question, "WHY PAY MORE THAN $35.00 PER TON FOR DELINTING?"

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN, Tex. -- This city once again became the seat of the executive branch of the federal government as President Johnson moved back in his home grounds for an expected prolonged post-election stay.

The President preferred to vote in person at his old box in Johnson City, rather than cast an absentee ballot.

An elaborate communications network was prepared for the election day party here. Hundreds of national press, radio and television representatives accompanied Johnson to Texas Monday night.

Major developments are anticipated at the vaction White House during the days immediately following the counting of votes.

The president, while resting up from the campaign, undoubtedly will be formulating his plans for the future and staying abreast of national and international developments at this important period.

He is scheduled to entertain at least one distinguished visitor at the LBJ Ranch. Mexico's President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz will visit him Nov. 12-13 according to early reports.

Most observers predict the President will remain at least until mid-November, possibly longer.

CLEANUP -- Water Polution Control Board announces its intention to adopt and enforce stringent new regulations on all sewage treatment plants in Bexar County.

Board decided that there is no point in trying to clean up the Houston Ship Channel. It will be designated for navigation and industrial use, not for recreation.

ESTES JUDGMENT ENTERED --Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr reports that the 108th District Court in Potter County rendered a $547,500 summary judgment against onetime West Texas financier Billie Sol Estes, winding up the state's suit against Estes and the Commercial Solvents Corp.

State claimed Estes and the firm combined to unlawfully injure and drive out competition in anhydrous ammonia fertilizer in the high plains area by selling below cost and through other schemes violating the anit trust act.

Commercial Solvents earlier paid $150,000 under an agreed judgment. But it admitted no liability.

Estes is appealing the Federal Court's 15 year fraud and conspiracy sentence to U. S. Supreme Court.

HIGHWAY PROJECTS -- A delegation from Tarrant, Wise, Parker, Johsnon, Hood and Denton counties called on the State Highway Commission seeking a $72,100,000 highway development program in the Fort Worth metropolitan area.

Emphasis was placed on construction of a 56-mile link between Fort Worth and Ennis on U. S. Highway 287 to facilitate truck traffic from Houston to Fort Worth.

Highway Commission's approval this week of a $40 million highway construction project within the city limits of El Paso demonstrates results that can come from close cooperation between residents of a community and a state agency.

Eighteen months ago, the mayor and county judge from El Paso conferred with the Commissioners on traffic problems resultant from that city's status as the third fastest-growing city in the U. S. in the decade ending in 1960.

Highway Department told them it could do nothing unless the people of El Paso got busy. They did -- and passed a $15 million road construction bond program in October.

When city officials came back to ask the Highway Commission for help, it came in a hurry, since $6,500,000 worth of local right-of-way funds were ready.

AG OPINIONS -- Attorney General's office also has ruled that savings and loan association agents cannot appraise properties on which a loan application has been made; and that no further court action is necessary to escheat funds ordered turned over to the State Treasury by state judges.

COURTS SPEAK -- Court of Criminal Appeals criticized state courts of inquiry but declined to declare unconstitutional the law authorizing such procedures.

Issue came before the court in the appeal of Pasadena Attorney N. A. Smith who claimed his constitutional rights were violated in a court of inquiry into Pasadena city finances. Judges ordered Smith freed of contempt of court charges arising from his refusal to testify at a court of inquiry held on June 2.

Court of Criminal Appeals also ordered a new trial for Arthur Geter on marijuana charges in Harris County, citing a new U. S. Supreme Court decision that legal representation in trials is a constitutional right. Geter began serving a life term in 1952.

Supreme Court refused to review a dispute between City of Athens and Gulf State's Telephone Company a fair return on its investment. City asked higher court to review the case.

In another case the Supreme Court agreed that Connecticut General Life Insurance Company is entitled to collect $408,661 in overpayment of occupation taxes for 1952 - 57 and for 1959.

It left standing the lower court findings that United Press International libeled Bruce B. Mohs, a Madison, Wis., pilot in a story concerning a seaplane landing. Court of Civil Appeals has questioned the accuracy of most of the story. Mohs was awarded some $7,500 in damages.

Board for State Hospitals and Special Schools cannot negotiate a new water-supply contract with the City of Big Spring, according to a ruling by 53rd District Judge Herman Jones. City attempted to have the Austin court set aside a 1937 contract under which it agreed to furnish water to the Big Spring State Hospital at a cost of 10 cents per 1,000 gallons. Estimated cost of furnishing this service is set at 32 cents per 1,000 gallons. It is expected that the city will appeal Jones's decision.

BUSINESS CLIMBS -- Texas building permits rose to a near-record level of $155,000,000 in September.

It was the 43rd month of the current Texas business expansion -- second longest peacetime cyclical upswing since December 1854. Longest period was March 1933 -- May 1939.

Business index as measured by University of Texas Bureau of Business Research was 12 per cent above September, 1963 -- one per cent below all-time high of 152 per cent last July. Researchers registered an optimistic outlook for the remaining months of 1964.

APPOINTMENTS -- Gov. John Connally has selected Richard M. Price of Abilene as 104th District Attorney. He succeeds Tom Todd who resigned the post effective Nov. 1. Price was the only general election candidate for the office. District includes Fisher, Jones and Taylor counties.

Connally reappointed Bay City Mayor Richard C. Gusman to the Battleship Texas Commission and selected Lofton O. Wells of Houston and Mrs. Mack (Viola) Webb of El Campo as new members of the Commission.

Appointees yet to be made total 72, on 29 state agencies, including the Sabine River Authority, Water Development Board, Texas Liquor Control Board, and 22 other administering bodies.

Texas Society of Professional Engineers has endorsed Governmor Connally's authorization of a state water study by the Texas Water Commission.

State Board of Health announces that $13,000,000 has been allocated for 30 hospitals, educational facilities and related medical units over the state.

PUBLIC EMPLOYEES WEEK -- Governor Connally has proclaimed November 8 - 15 as Texas Public Employees Week.

In his memorandum, the Governor stated that "Texas public employees have continued to become more aware of their responsibilities to provide better public service to the taxpayers of Texas while at the same time raising their professional qualifications."

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith presented the Official Memorandum, in Connally's absence from the State, to Paul W. Hancock, president of the sponsoring organization, Texas Public Employees Association.

COTTON PLAYS AN IMPORTANT PART IN HIS LIFE

Cotton may not be in this little fellow's vocabulary for a long time, but you can bet it'll be in his wardrobe. Cotton will play a major part in his life from the diapers and shirts he wears not to the time when he takes his place in the business world. In this area, when cotton is such a vital part of the economy, his future may depend on our support today of cotton and cotton products.

The Boll Weevil Battle

LUBBOCK, The success of an undertaking destined to play a major role in determining the economic future of an entire area, as is the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program, can easily be undermined by the unthinking circulation of half-truths and isolated facts and by the untrained interpretations of such informational bits and pieces. Especially is this true of an areawide effort such as the boll weevil program to which the participation of the people themselves is a prerequisite to success. Therefore no effort can be spared to nip in the bud rumors, even well-meaning ones, which might endanger that participation.

At the beginning of the boll weevil program detractors said that weevils had been below the Caprock on the Eastern edge of the Plains for forty years. That is a fact, of course. But what they failed to mention was the weevil invasion of increasing cotton acreages about the Caprock since 1960 and the consequent warning of the most reknowned entomologists in the country that the entire Plains was endangered. Fortunately more people chose to trust these trained entomologists than elected to follow those who would have us bury our heads in the sand while the weevil ate his way through the very foundation of our economy, and the program got underway.

Spraying was hampered from the start by rain and wind and it took longer to complete the first and second sprayings than was anticipated. The weevil kill was not as good in all cases as it might have been under ideal conditions. Delay in spraying allowed weevils to migrate into areas not originally included in the control zone, and other problems.

Delayed spraying was interpreted by some as meaning an incompetent applicator with insufficient planes to do the job, and less than perfect kills along with weevils emerging behind the spray were taken to signify an ineffective chemical or improper application.

Yet, if we are to believe the best weevil control experts from Texas A & M, Mississippi State College, the Federal Boll Weevil Laboratory and elsewhere who have all the facts at hand, nothing to date has prevented nor threatens to prevent the spray program from achieving its prime objective -- to reduce by 90 per cent or more the number of weevils going into hibernation. And happily, the results of field weevil counts and analysis being made constantly as an integral part of the program by Texas A & M and Agricultural Research Service supports the opinion of the experts.

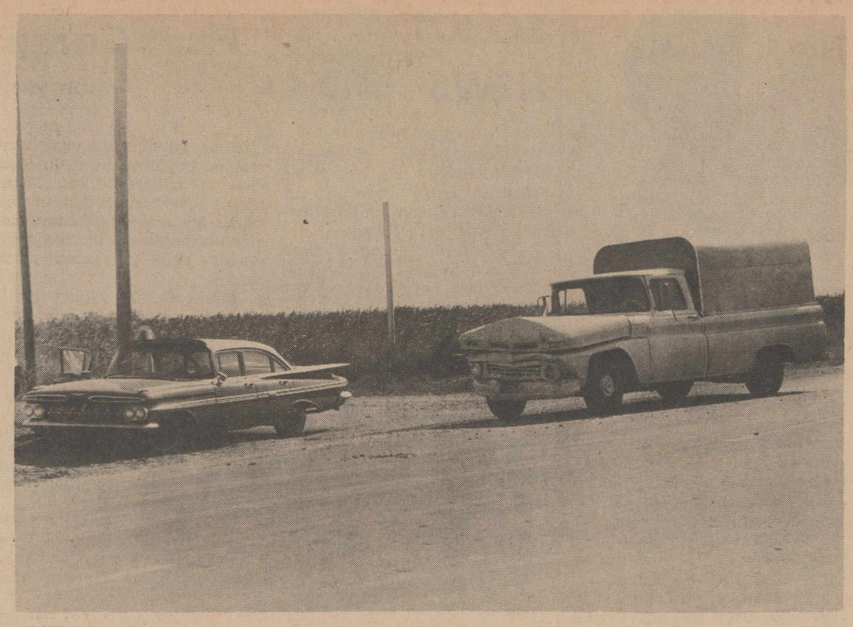

Indicative of the blanket results being obtained by the spraying is the following example.

On the morning of Oct. 14, entomologists determined that a field near East Afton had an estimated 7, 160 adult boll weevils and 6,128 unemerged weevils per acre -- a total of 13,288 weevils per acre. After the count the third dose of technical malathion was applied and another was taken the following day, Oct. 15, revealing only 2,904 adult weevils. The third day, Oct. 16, 2,244 weevils were counted and on the fourth day the count had dropped to only 594 weevils -- a reduction of over 90 per cent of the adult weevils that were found were in diapause and these were very young and fat weevils not calculated to leave the field before the next spraying.

The above example was purposely chosen because it was a field with an extremely high weevil population before spraying. Other fields checked in the same manner showed even better results.

No single spraying is expected to kill all of the weevils in a field. Many of them at any given time have not yet emerged from squares and bolls and cannot possibly be reached by an insecticide. Furthermore, the success of the program is only dependent on killing weevils in the diapause stage (prepared for hibernation outside the field) or nearing that stage, not killing all weevils in a field.

Officials are still confident that in excess of 90 per cent of the diapause weevils will have been killed by the time the fourth application of malathion is completed.

SCENE OF FATAL ACCIDENT -- Vehicles driven by Manuel Sauceda of Olton and Sidney Earl Roberts of Littlefield collided in the middle of this FM 168 intersection one mile south of Olton Tuesday. The driver of the pickup was not injured, but all three of the occupants of the car were -- one, a five-month-old baby, was fatally injured.

Phosphorus In Soil Tests Discussed By Agronomist

BY W. F. "BILL" BENNETT
AGRONOMIST

This fourth in a series on soil test results is on phosphorus. There are probably more chemical soil test results for phosphorus than for any other plant nutrient. One reason for so many different tests is that each test is usually designed for a specific area or groups of soil.

It is important to use a phosphorus test which has been developed specifically for an area. Texas A & M University research and extension personnel located at Lubbock have developed such a test specifically designed for the alkaline, calcareous soils of this area. The test consists of extracting a sample of soil with a strong acid solution. The amount that is removed by the acid solution is then measured.

Phosphorus tests are usually classed as very low, low, medium or high. This classification indicates the ability of the soil to provide phosphorus for plant growth. Soils testing in the very low to low range will not usually provide enough phosphorus for good plant growth.

The recommendation for phosphorus for good plant growth.

The recommendation for phosphorus given on soil test reports is designed to give maximum net profit for a given yield potential.

One main point to consider in using soil tests is to be sure the lab that does your testing is reliable and can give you a good test and a good recommendation. A knowledge of the area is necessary to make good soil test recommendations for phosphorus.

BATTLE RECORD TO DATE

SPRAYING	ACRES SPRAYED	COMMENT
Number 1 (Beginning Sept. 15)	303,000 acres (Originally estimated 240,000 acres. Total includes Skip-row)	First application was hampered by rain, wind, etc. Migrating weevils caused increase in size of control zone. Extremely high adult and unemerged weevil populations encountered.
Number 2 (Beginning about October 4)	281,000 acres (Reduction due to acreage desiccated or harvested)	Field checks indicated effective kill of adult weevils but continuing emergence kept new weevil population up. Additional planes brought in to speed up sprayings.
Number 3 (Beginning about October 13)	230,000 acres (Continuing harvest and desiccation)	Field examination showed great reduction in number of adult weevils, with low occurrence of weevils in diapause stage. Also fewer unemerged weevils.
Number 4 (Beginning about October 21)	190,000 acres	Few unemerged and very young weevils left. Practically no weevils in diapause stage.

CONCLUSION: Remaining unemerged and young adult weevils will be kept from going into hibernation either by frost or a fifth spraying.

Entomologists agree that hibernating weevils will have been reduced by more than 90 percent by end of this year's program.

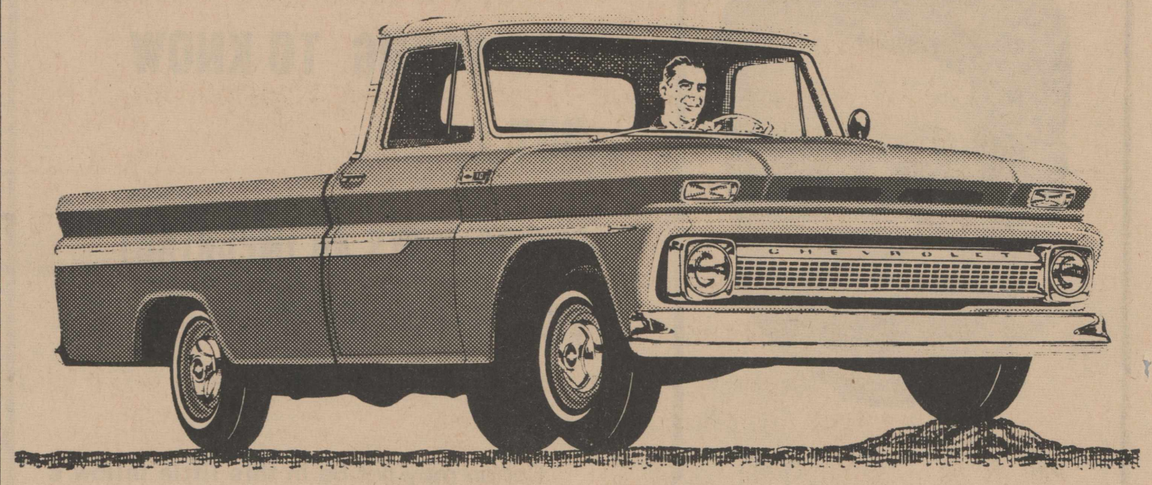

Financial Arrangements

- Compresses to collect 50c per bale, and remit to a special boll weevil control fund in bank — no connection with P.C.G. regular funds.
- While compresses collect on all cotton, the contribution is voluntary for individual farmers who may request and receive refund.
- All funds are under direction of a Certified Public Accountant firm.
- Monthly financial reports by U.S.D.A. and Boll Weevil Steering Committee will be made — Complete audit will be published at the end of season.
- Any unexpended Steering Committee funds will be placed in interest bearing account for continuation of Boll Weevil Program next season. Unexpended U.S.D.A. funds must return to Treasury, as all appropriations are on annual basis only.

Old King Cold, Not Very Merry

Old King Cold is a king-sized troublemaker.

The American Medical Association's new pamphlet on the common cold reports that Old King Cold costs the United States $5 billion annually in lost wages, lost production and medical expenses. More than 20 million people suffer from colds on any given wintry day. The common cold is the most costly ailment in our country, as well as in most other countries.

The common cold is defined as an acute upper respiratory tract inflammation that ordinarily is communicable and is caused by viruses. But this definition has little meaning since the popular use of the word "cold" includes everthing from a minor sniffle and a nasal obstruction to a disabling illness similar to influnza.

A number of viruses produce the symptons we call a cold possibly as many as a hundred. The true cold is an infection with one or more viruses.

Current research seems to indicate that colds are harder to catch than has been thought. In controlled studies, close contact for several hours was necessary before cross infection occurred. Fresh colds appear to be more contagious than older ones, and children's colds have been shown to be more contagious than those of adults. Even apparently well persons may harbor cold viruses and may infect others.

Low temperatures and inclement weather, in themselves, probably have little to do with precipitating colds. Dampness and chill have been suspected of causing colds, but experimental evidence now indicates that they are probably only triggering factors. The relative humidity of the air may be important, however.

There is a sharp rise in incidence of colds at the time the winter heating season begins. The lowered humidity in heated rooms causes the dry nose and throat which contributes to susceptibility to infection. The nose, throat and lungs work better when the air that is breathed has a relative humidity of about 45 per cent. Dry mucous membranes cannot clean themselves by action of their cilia, the hairlike structures that move mucus upward out of the respiratory tract. As a result they become more culnerable to invasion by cold viruses.

No specific treatment, so far available, is effective against the cold virus. Any treatment must be directed toward relief of the symptons and prevention of complications. The wonder drugs -- antibiotics and sufas -- have no effect on viruses. They should be used only under medical supervision for the control of complicating bacterial infections. Bed rest, or at least inactivity in a controlled environment, is helpful. Your doctor may suggest mild medication to help allay the discomfort.

Those who have repeated colds should investigate the possibility of allergies being mistaken for colds. Current cold vaccines are of little value, since so many viruses cause colds and effective vaccines have been developed for so few of the viruses producing cold symptoms.

Solid evidence is lacking to demonstrate that "natural" foods, taking vitamin supplements, special types of clothing, or forced exposure to sunlight and fresh air have any effect on susceptibility to colds.

Colds are spread by intimate personal contact. A person with a cold should practice good contagion preventing techniques. Coughs and sneezes should be covered. Frequent hand washing is helpful. The victim of a cold should have his own drinking glass, towels and other personal items. Above all, he should stay away from other people.

So far medical science has not been able to break through the guard of Old King Cold. All that can be hoped for is symptomatic treatment to make one feel better until the cold goest away and as much care as possible to prevent spread to others.

Pig Sale Held Here Saturday

Olton's fifth annual weaning pig sale didn't match last year's but it was a success none the less.

W. B. Dickenson Jr., as auctioneer, sold 258 head of pigs Saturday at the FFA Barn, bringing in $7,387.

Olton Swine Breeder's Assn. combined their Durocs, Hampshires, Poland Chinas, Chester Whites, Spotted Polands, and Crossbreds, selling them for better than an average $28 each.

The sale champion was a Duroc raised by Tom Hefferman, it brought $100.

A Berkshire raised by Curtis Schaefer also brought $100.

Last year the top price paid for one of the pigs was $80. The sale last year netted $7723 but the average price of the pigs was less than $20.

SHELL DISPUTE -- Parks and wildlife Commission has not decided yet whether to call a public hearing on the application of a Corpus Christi construction firm to dredge oyster shell from Copano Bay.

New Century Meet Held

"Door To Lovliness" was the topic under discussion at a Wednesday afternoon meeting of New Century Study Club at the PCA Community room.

The program was led by Mrs. Elmer McGill andguest speaker was Mrs. Ineta Dennis, cosmetic consultant. Mrs. McGill spoke on makeup and hair care.

Devotional was given by Mrs. A. J. Spain and roll call was answered with questions on makeup and hair care.

Hostess was Mrs. C. J. Dorris with Mrs. Leo Smith as co-hostess.

Refreshments of applesauce cake with whipped cream, nuts, mints and coffee were served.

Members present were Mmes. McGill, Spain, Dorris, Smith, Wilton Bodkin, Bob Burgess, John Clark, Jr., M. C. Church, Forrest Latimer, Gilbert Roberson, J. L. Snider, Archie Sorley, Don Spain, Ed Thompson, Fred Thompson, Bill Turner and two new members, Mrs. Owen Jones and Mrs. Mrs. Ollie Jones.

Next meeting will be a covered dish luncheon Nov. 18 in the A. J. Spain home at 11 a.m.

Members are asked to bring gifts for a box to be sent to a mental home and roll call will be gifts for a Thanksgiving food basket to be given to a local family.

SUNDAY GUESTS

Having Sunday dinner in the Ivin Wozencraft home were Miss Sharon Adrian, Frank Ferrari, and Jim Mahaffey. The group accompanied Patsey Wozencraft home after she had spent the weekend with Miss Adrian in Amarillo.

Baby Sitting Election Judge

Baby-sitting is not one of the official functions of election judges.

But if that is what it takes to get the job done, Election Judge Eldon Franks says he's willing.

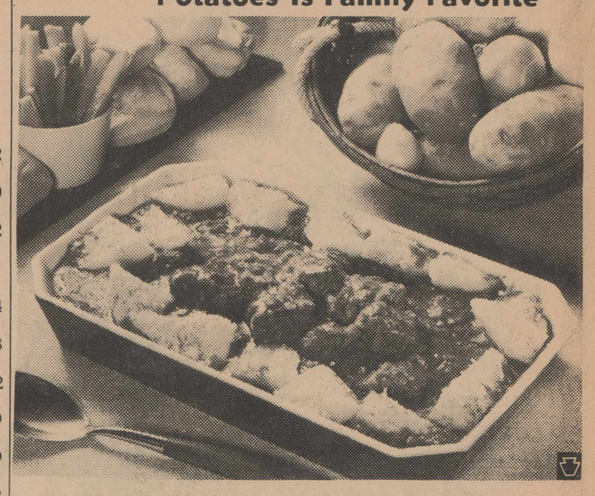

According to Franks, he received a telephone call during Tuesday's election and the caller, a local Negro lady, had this request to make:

"I can't come and vote because I'm babysitting so would you just vote for Mr. Johnson for me, please?"

Franks explained to the caller that it wouldn't be exactly right for him to do as she asked.

However, a firm believer in everyone voting, Franks added that he "would come and babysit for her if she wanted him to."

Herb-Flavored Beef Stew Crowned With Potatoes Is Family Favorite

This heart, fragrant beef stew can be a gourmet's delight, both to serve to guests or treat the family. It is full-flavored, nourishing and satisfying, according to the Washington State Potato Commission's menu-planning department. You can cook it on top of the stove or in the oven and, if desired, it can be prepared a day ahead, stored in the refrigerator, then merely reheated for serving. When the stew is done, crown the spicy meat chunks with potatoes lightly sprinkled with cheese and dill.

HERBED BEEF STEW WITH RUSSET POTATOES
2 lbs. chuck, round steak or beef stew, cut in 2 -inch cubes
1/3 cup flour
1 tbsp. paprika
1 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
4 tbsps. shortening
2 cups thinly sliced onions
1 clove minced garlic
1 10 1/4 can consomme
1 4 oz. can green chiles, minced
1/4 tsp. marjoram
3/4 tsp. dill weed
6 potatoes
Grated Parmesan cheese

Blend flour, paprika, salt and pepper and roll cubes of beef in seasoned mixture. Heat shortening in Dutch oven or iron skillet. Brown meat. Add onions, garlic, consomme, chiles, marjoram and 1/2 tsp. dill. Cover and simmer in moderately slow oven (300 degrees F.) about 2 hours or until meat is tender. About 30 mins. before meat is done, boil potatoes in jackets. Remove skins, cut into quarters. When meat is placed in serving dish, arrange potato quarters around edge of dish, over meat, sprinkle potatoes with Parmesan cheese and remaining dill. Makes 6 servings.
