Jet Airliner Crash Kills 58 Persons

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A jet airliner within landing sight of the runway crashed and exploded during a lightning-laced thunderstorm Monday night, killing 58 of the 62 persons aboard.

Five persons were thrown clear of the exploding wreckage. One died in a hospital. Four lived, but one was in very critical condition.

The American Airlines three-engine Boeing 707 jet smashed near the top of a 300-foot wooded hillside a mile and a half from the Greater Cincinnati Airport.

FLAMES FLASH
"About 75 feet more and he would have made it," said William Wilkerson, operations director at the airport in Kentucky 13 miles from downtown Cincinnati.

The wreckage flashed flames into the murky night sky for hours. Workers, certain no one lived in the melted metal, waited for fires to subside before beginning the gruesome search for bodies early today.

Ten Civil Aeronautics Board investigators flew to Cincinnati to begin probing the wreckage to learn why the plane had plunged fatally, just moments from a safe landing after a flight from New York City.

ABOARD PLANE
One of the survivors was Elmer Weekley of Saratoga, Calif., an American flight officer riding the plane but not as a member of the crew.

Aboard the plane, but not among the survivors, were two men from television station WPIX in New York City. They were Jack F. A. Flynn, 44, son of F. M. Flynn, president and publisher of the New York Daily News, which owns the station, and John Kirchstein, 29, Flynn was the station's national sales manager. Kirchstein is a research director.

Also on board were Mr. and Mrs. Rex C. Larkin of Lexington, Ky., stable owners noted in harness racing, and Dr. Carl Michelson, a theology professor from Drew University in Madison, N.J., who was to address a national Methodist meeting here.

Election Testing City Tax Power

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma's new city taxing power was tested in six municipal elections today.

"It will make the difference between barely existing and doing what should have been done for many years," said City Mgr. Robert Tinstman. Oklahoma City, largest of the towns trying to adopt the one-cent sales tax.

The legislature gave cities broad taxing powers for the first time this year, by allowing enactment by local governments with approval of voters of levies ranging from auto taxes to general sales taxes.

Oklahoma City officials estimate passage of the issue would give the city about $8 million a year added revenue. Also voting on the city sales tax were Norman, The Village, Nichols Hills, Del City and Midwest City, all near Oklahoma City.

They succeed Manuel DeBusk and Charles Mathews of Dallas and Wilmer Smith of Wilson for terms expiring in 1971.

Tannery is executive vice president of Pepsi Co., Inc. Martin is board chairman of the Dunlap Co., which operates department stores in the Southwest. Cash is president of Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp.

As he was rushed into an ambulance he muttered, "Give me some water, give me some water," police said.

Police said his mother, Mrs. Mildred La Porte, lives in Utica, N.Y.

Asked why he tried setting himself on fire early in the morning, he told police: "So nobody could stop me."

He told police, "I did this as a religious action."

PACIFIST GROUP
He identified himself as a member of the Catholic Workers, a group of pacifists who work with alcoholics and the poor.

The incident came one week after Norman R. Morrison, a Baltimore Quaker, burned himself to death outside the Pentagon to protest U.S. involvement in Viet Nam.

Officers said La Porte poured gasoline over himself and ignited himself at about 5 a.m. in the middle of First Avenue, about 20 feet from 42nd Street.

It was not immediately clear where he poured the gasoline over himself. No car was found at the scene, littered with charred bits of his clothing.

GUARDS ARRIVE
A U.N. security guard rushed from a nearby building, police said. Five other guards joined him with fire extinguishers in a few minutes.

Pink Bollworm Frets California
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — There's an unwanted visitor from Arizona in Southern California cotton fields.

"It's the pink bollworm, a major cotton pest which has invaded the state for the first time."

The Agriculture Department reported Monday that the first live worm stage has been discovered in the Bard Valley of Imperial County near the California-Arizona border.

There are 14 welfare agencies depending on the total budget of $99.64 to finance their services for the forthcoming year.

The United Fund campaign slowed to a trickle again, following a weekend of heavy contributions. This morning, the total had climbed a few hundred dollars — to $81,200.

Leaders urged volunteers to make their contacts and report on their cards. The end of the drive is at hand, and all reports are necessary to bring the campaign to a close.

Republicans — Tom R. Van Sickle, chairman of the Young Republican National Federation, accused Johnson of "blatantly blackmailing" the aluminum companies in an effort to control prices. Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of Utah said the Johnson administration's "overreaction" was an unjustified, angry gesture.

Democrats — Many senators and House members spoke up in favor of the administration's action. Sen. Stuart Symington, chairman of the Senate stockpile subcommittee, flew back to the capital from his Missouri home to support the administration's strategy. He declared the government's action could not be considered antibusiness.

Fowler and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced the government's decision Saturday, saying repeatedly that it was not tied to the industry's price increases.

Mrs. Eisenhower: "Now, general, don't you worry. I'm going to stay right here with you at my bedside or in the next room."

"TLL FOLLOW"
Eisenhower: "Well, what will you do if they take me home?" Mrs. Eisenhower: "Well, I'll follow you."

The conversation came after the former president had several hours sleep.

Eisenhower's son, John, was near by. He had flown in from Pennsylvania after receiving word of his father's illness.

Eisenhower, the nation's 34th president, complained of chest pains about midnight and a heart specialist, Dr. Louis Battey of Augusta, was summoned to the Eisenhower vacation residence at the Augusta National Golf Club. Hospitalization followed.

GIVEN SEDATION
Col. William W. Cox, the senior medical officer at Ft. Gordon, said Eisenhower was given narcotics to relieve the chest pains, allowing the former president to rest easily.

Cox said Eisenhower played golf on a par-three course Monday.

A par-three golf course is a smaller layout than a regular course and each hole is a par three. Because of the shorter distances, there is little need for wood shots, and the course demands accuracy more than strength.

"I want to congratulate the operators and the commissioners court," Payne said. "It is nice to hold a hearing where everyone is so agreeable."

Dec. 8 Closing Ordered For Ecumenical Council
VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI today ordered the Vatican Ecumenical Council to close on Dec. 8.

The Roman Catholic pontiff sent a letter to the council, as it reconvened in St. Peter's Basilica after a 10-day recess, informing it of his decision.

He also told the council it would meet in public session Dec. 7 for the promulgation of its final decrees. The Dec. 8 meeting will be devoted to the closing Mass and ceremony.

The council will come to an end nearly seven years after Pope John XXIII's announcement in January 1959 that he planned to call together the bishops of the church to adapt Roman Catholicism to the challenges of modern times.

One major council document — on modern world problems — is said to be giving trouble. Pope Paul in effect set a deadline for completing deliberation on this document, which deals with such controversial issues as birth control and nuclear weapons.

Whipped Student Shoots Teacher
DENTON (AP) — Three shotgun blasts wounded a high school shop teacher Monday and police jailed a pupil, 16.

Jimmy Daniels, 35, the wounded instructor, said the shooting occurred after he whipped the youth for cutting classes. Both are Negroes.

Daniels was reported in good condition at a hospital with pellet wounds in the right arm, chest and leg.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Gene Kiser said the student, Arthur Paige, would be held in county jail to await a juvenile court hearing.

Daniels told officers that after the whipping the youth left while the class was working at a house near the school, returned with a shotgun and opened fire as the teacher ran.

He said a man grabbed the shotgun wielder and a neighbor called police.

Daniels, a teacher here for eight years, said he administered the whipping on the authority of Principal C. B. Redd. The Denton Independent School District leaves corporal punishment to the discretion of principal and teacher.

Sarge's Aim: Win Hearts
RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — "We are here to help, not to hurt. We are here to build up, not to knock down." Thus said the letter from Viet Nam.

"We could easily win... but to win we won't gain nothing, unless we won their hearts."

The letter was a thank-you note from Sgt. I.C. Richard V. Huband of Richmond to Mrs. Robert M. Blanton of Richmond, who had written him to say she was proud of his service.

Huband, a medical corpsman, who flies to South Vietnamese hamlets to treat the ill and wounded when the Viet Cong cut off the land routes, wrote: "I believe that everything I do just for myself while I am on this earth will die with me."

"It is all the little things that I am able to do for someone else that will live long in the hearts of others after I am gone."

Aluminum Dispute Gains New Steam
WASHINGTON (AP) — The aluminum controversy is generating new steam on four fronts.

The dispute swirls around the industry's announced price increases and the government's decision to reduce its aluminum stockpile by 200,000 surplus tons. Much of it would be transferred to government contractors.

CHARGES FLY
As charges and counter-charges ricocheted through the capital, these were the developments:

Government — While President Johnson maintained an official silence, Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler warned of disturbing signals in the nation's price picture.

Industry — The president of Reynolds Metals Co., J. H. McConnell, declared the price increases are noninflationary. The president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, Robert P. Gerholz, charged the administration's action was an "unwarranted attack on the free market economy."

Doctor Draft Jolting Town

ENON, Ohio (AP) — This village is fighting to keep its only medical doctor from being drafted as an outgrowth of the war in Viet Nam.

Townpeople carried the battle to his draft board, only to find a second front had opened. The town's only dentist may be drafted, too.

Both Dr. Joel Vanderglas, 32, a general practitioner, and Dr. James T. McMillin, 26, a dentist, have taken preinduction physical examinations, but neither knows yet whether he passed.

Residents sent petitions to Dr. Vanderglas' draft board in Uniontown, Pa., his hometown, telling of the need in Enon for a doctor. The petitions were mailed Oct. 29, the day Dr. McMillin got his order to report for examination.

NO RESPONSE
The draft board has not responded to the petitions, which Dr. Vanderglas did not circulate.

"I don't know how much the service needs him," said Joe Young, who works at nearby Wright-Patterson Air Force Base like many of the 3,500 residents of Enon, "but he's the only medical doctor in this area."

Until Dr. Vanderglas came, residents went to doctors in Springfield or Fairborn, both about 10 miles away.

"That's not much good in case of an emergency," said Mayor Lawrence T. Davis.

"Nor does it provide for night or weekend calls."

"Dr. Vanderglas is real fine about coming out at night when you need him," said Mrs. Charles Wade.

EVERY FAMILY
Roger Bernard, 32, a high school teacher who started the petition campaign, said 1,133 signatures on the petitions represented virtually every family.

The idea came from Bernard's memory of a similar, and successful, campaign during World War II to keep a doctor in his hometown, Sabina, 35 miles southeast.

The petitions didn't ask the board to defer Dr. Vanderglas but made it clear "he is desperately needed," said Bernard.

"It would be practically impossible to get anybody to replace him," Bernard added.

Vanderglas began practice here four years ago. Dr. McMillin came 18 months ago, and recently the two bought the building where they have offices.

Dr. Vanderglas has four children, Dr. McMillin two. But dependents are not a factor in drafting doctors and dentists.

Sheriff To Be Cooler
Howard County Sheriff's department, for the first time in history, is to be provided with an air-conditioned patrol car.

The Howard County Commissioners Court Monday morning voted to buy a Plymouth sedan from the Big Spring Chrysler company. The car bought is to be equipped with air conditioning. Price paid for the car, less the trade-in of a Dodge the department has, was $1,979.51.

The Plymouth was the second low bid.

Other bids for air-conditioned models considered were McDonald Motor Company, $1,852; Polard Chevrolet, $2,087 and $2,157; Shasta Ford, $2,021.02.

The commissioners also authorized the purchase of a loader for the road and bridge department. The bid of Treanor Equipment Co., Abilene, was accepted. The loader will cost the county $11,811.

Two other bids were before the court. Service Machinery Co., Lubbock, bid $10,792, and Patterson Equipment Co., Abilene, bid $12,900.

All Over 72 May Get Extra SS Benefits

Erven Fisher, Social Security district manager in Big Spring, announced today that his office is making an extensive effort to reach persons 72 or over who have credit for work under Social Security, but who do not receive Social Security benefits.

The Social Security Amendments of 1965 reduced the amount of work credit some persons 72 or over need to qualify for monthly benefits, Fisher added. He said that many persons in this area have not been able to qualify for benefits in the past because they did not have credit for enough work under Social Security.

Now, many of these people, or their widows, can receive a special benefit of $35 a month if they have credit for less work than before.

These persons should contact the Big Spring Social Security district office to find out if they can receive this special benefit. Wives of such workers can receive a special benefit of $17.50 a month when they are 72.

Another reason these people should visit the district office, Fisher continued, is because of "medicare." Anyone 65 or over, who does not receive Social Security or railroad retirement benefits, should establish eligibility for hospital insurance benefits. At the same time, they may sign up for medical insurance benefits, the voluntary part of the program. People who are 65 or over before Jan. 1, 1966, need to sign up for medical insurance before March 31, 1966, so that they can have this protection when the program starts July 1, 1966.

Employees at the district office will give a complete explanation of "medicare" rights. The district office is at 1009 Gregg, and the telephone number is AM 4-5226.

Fertilizer Factory Opened In India
BOMBAY, India (AP) — India's largest fertilizer factory, built with aid from the U.S. Agency for International Development, has opened. The plant will produce 420,000 tons of fertilizers annually.

The 2,500 oilmen were told Monday a presidential advisory group has indicated development of a non-polluting means of powering automobiles is likely to become a national necessity.

Frank Ikard, the institute's president from New York City, said a weekend report by the environmental pollution panel of the president's advisory committee underscores the fact air and water pollution problems overshadow all issues currently facing the domestic petroleum industry.

The fuel cell theory was developed nearly 150 years ago. The first major operational use of such a power plant was not accomplished, however, until the eight-day Gemini 5 space flight of Aug. 14-22.

Fuel cells used on Gemini 5 and to be used on future duration missions, including moon landings, produce power through a reaction of hydrogen with oxygen. Gemini 5 had difficulties with a hydrogen system but officials of the manned spacecraft center at Houston said the fuel cells themselves operated very efficiently.

SMALL SIZE
Furnas said the automobile cells will be small in size and reasonable in weight and should eliminate smog problems in urban areas such as Los Angeles.

Furnas, a member of scientific panels advising the Army, Navy and House committee on science and astronauts, also predicted rocket-propelled hypersonic aircraft will be in commercial use within 70 years.

Ikard said the presidential pollution panel report unquestionably will fan emotions, raise fears and bring demands for action.

"The substance of the report is that there still is time to save the world's people from the catastrophic consequence of pollution, but time is running out," Ikard said.

He pledged the petroleum industry's cooperation in the national effort but said oilmen must not permit the job ahead "to become obscured by rash statements and fanciful notions."

Robert Dunlop of Philadelphia, president of the Sun Oil Co., was elected board chairman of the API, which represents all segments of the domestic oil and gas industry. He succeeds J. Ed. Warren of New York City, president of the Cities Service Co.

Fuel Cell-Powered Autos Seen Within Seventy Years

CHICAGO (AP) — A scientist said today automobiles will be powered universally by fuel cells within 70 years.

"There will be no noxious fumes or other undesirable products," said Dr. Clifford Furnas, president of the State University of New York in Buffalo.

"They will be silent in operation and will produce electrical energy at high efficiency."

Fuel cells produce energy through a chemical reaction. Furnas said automobile fuel cells of the future will operate on clean hydrocarbons and use air as the oxidizer.

Furnas, a former assistant defense secretary for research and development, made his forecast in a speech to American Petroleum Institute, the nation's largest oil trade group.

Gemini 5 had difficulties with a hydrogen system but officials of the manned spacecraft center at Houston said the fuel cells themselves operated very efficiently.

SMALL SIZE
Furnas said the automobile cells will be small in size and reasonable in weight and should eliminate smog problems in urban areas such as Los Angeles.

Furnas, a member of scientific panels advising the Army, Navy and House committee on science and astronauts, also predicted rocket-propelled hypersonic aircraft will be in commercial use within 70 years.

Ikard said the presidential pollution panel report unquestionably will fan emotions, raise fears and bring demands for action.

"The substance of the report is that there still is time to save the world's people from the catastrophic consequence of pollution, but time is running out," Ikard said.

He pledged the petroleum industry's cooperation in the national effort but said oilmen must not permit the job ahead "to become obscured by rash statements and fanciful notions."

Robert Dunlop of Philadelphia, president of the Sun Oil Co., was elected board chairman of the API, which represents all segments of the domestic oil and gas industry. He succeeds J. Ed. Warren of New York City, president of the Cities Service Co.

Milk Output Will Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Milk production will climb to near record heights next year, reports the government, despite the fact that Americans will continue to consume less milk per person.

The Agriculture Department said the 1966 predicted yield of 12 billion pounds of milk would be only fractionally below the 1964 record, and a further rise in imports is likely because of relatively favorable U.S. prices and the large world milk supply.

During the first nine months of 1965 milk production dropped slightly because of higher prices for beef cattle and drought conditions in the Northeastern states.

Amarillo Soldier Dies In Viet Nam
WASHINGTON (AP) — A soldier from Amarillo, Tex., was among 41 military personnel who lost their lives recently in Viet Nam, the Defense Department announced Monday.

Spec. 4 Jerry Basden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Basden in Amarillo, died from causes other than hostile action, officials said.

Shriner Initiation Held At Sphinx

CAIRO (AP) — Some 300 Shriners, garbed in fezzes and colorful robes, gathered recently between the massive paws of the Sphinx to initiate 32 members into the ancient Arabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

The Shriners, mostly from the United States, went by camel caravan to a tent city provided for them by the Egyptian government. There they were entertained by belly dancers and whirling dervishes.

No Handlebar For Briton Now

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — David Evans—who bought himself out of the Royal Air Force a year ago because he could not wear a handlebar mustache—says he made a wise decision.

The former RAF man said he bought himself out for $280, took over a pub, and began letting the mustache grow all over again. The mustache was 10 inches long when he was forced to shave it off. "Now it's 12 inches long from tip to tip," said Evans.

All Of Bills Now Signed

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has cleared his desk of all 1965 legislation, including one bill that could lead to insurance for millions who now cannot buy protection against floods or hurricane-driven waters.

Johnson, the Texas White House announced Monday night, signed all pending legislation well in advance of a midnight deadline — and without allowing any measure to die by pocket veto.

After a bill reaches the President, he has 10 days in which to sign or veto it or, after Congress has adjourned, to let it die by inaction. Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson now has acted on all measures Congress passed before adjournment.

Signs Watched For Hint Of Inflation Storm

NEW YORK (AP) — The "constant dollar" is the barometer economists scan these days for any signs of an inflation storm.

Potential inflation is about the only cloud in an otherwise sunny outlook for the U.S. economy in 1966. As the nation's economic expansion moves through its 56th month, some concern is developing whether the cloud will develop into something serious.

STEADY LOSS

So far the economy has escaped serious inflation. It has not escaped the steady, but small, annual loss of purchasing power that has prevailed since World War II.

Inflation is an abnormal increase in the supply of money and credit leading directly to increased prices. As prices go up, of course, the purchasing power of each unit of money diminishes.

When does the economist know that purchasing power is eroding faster than the value of productivity is increasing?

That's the job of the constant dollar.

MEASURING STICK

Despite its image, the constant dollar is not some kind of eternal currency. Rather, it is a measuring stick of purchasing power. The current measure is the purchasing power of a dollar in 1958. By measuring the purchasing power of the 1965 dollar against that of the 1958 dollar it is possible for the economist to determine how much of the expansion of the value of goods and services has been real and how much has been inflation.

For example, the nation's total expenditures for goods and services — the so-called Gross National Product — ran through September at an annual rate of $676.9 billion, the U.S. Commerce Department reported. That figure is in terms of 1965 dollars.

$609 BILLION

But by the constant dollar yardstick, the GNP through September was at an annual rate of $609.1 billion.

Put another way, that means it took nearly 68 cents in September to purchase what could be bought for 61 cents in 1958.

On its face that looks like an ominous loss of purchasing power. However, during the seven years since 1958, the increase in personal income, productivity and the value of goods and services has exceeded the loss, whether measured in constant dollars or percentage changes.

Freeze Hits U.S. Sectors

By The Associated Press

A thrust of freezing cold extended over much of the nation today accompanied in some areas by showers, snow and fog.

Brisk northerly winds pushed the wintry cold into the north central United States from the upper Great Lakes to Kansas.

The mercury dipped to 1 below zero at Roseau, in northern Minnesota, before dawn and to 4 above at Bemidji, Minn. It was 15 at Duluth and 11 at Fargo, N.D.

Gale warnings were displayed on the upper Great Lakes.

Light snow fell from Upper Michigan to northern Minnesota. One inch of snow covered the ground at International Falls, Minn., where the temperature was 11 above zero.

Blustery northwest winds produced snow flurries over the mountains of northern and western New England as the temperature dropped into the 20s.

Showers and thundershowers fell from Texas to New England. Widespread fog cloaked the metropolitan East.

In the South, rain dampened Tennessee and eased the forest fire hazard. In Florida, temperatures were in the mid 70s to mid 80s.

Oil Output Shows Climb

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — U. S. crude oil and lease condensate production increased 124,200 barrels daily to an average of 7,777,200 last week, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Louisiana production averaged 1,661,700 barrels daily, up 57,900. Texas reported 2,882,700; Oklahoma 583,900, up 20,808; and New Mexico 318,500.

Friona Station Permit Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — County Broadcasting Co. of Friona, Tex., has been granted a construction permit for a daytime AM station at 1070 kilocycles, the Federal Communications Commission announced Monday.

A Devotional For The Day

He is our peace, who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us. (Ephesians 2:14)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, we pray that Thou wilt open the eyes of our understanding. Help us to seek the things that belong to our peace. May we be used of Thee to help those around us, especially those who do not know Thee. In the Savior's name. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

Be Reasonable

A San Angelo attorney has raised what seems to us to be a reasonable question.

Addressing himself to the matter of the Criminal Code provision requiring that an arresting officer take the person arrested immediately before a magistrate, he noted that this is not new. So why go to extremes on it, considering it has been the law for a century.

He then cited having been called out of bed at 2 a.m. by a magistrate, who also had been called out of bed by an arresting officer in the wee hours of the morning.

"No court so far as I know has ever held that it was necessary to file a complaint in the wee, small hours of the night," he said. "If the arrest was lawful, the officer has a perfect right to jail the person and hold him until office hours the next day. Why can't the police and magistrates be reasonable?"

Indeed, why not?

Must Be A Way

The City of Big Spring is ready to approach the Big Spring Independent School District with a proposal for development and operation of a school playground facility adjacent to Lakeview. City Manager Larry Crow predicted, in a report to Chamber of Commerce directors Monday, that "it will go, and it can be a model for other joint operations."

The Chamber directors hope so, too, for they gave their blessing to a proposal by the education committee to work with the school and city to grass playground areas around the schools. Of course this can be done, but this will take money. The Big Spring situation is not unique, unless it is in the problem of top soil. Much of this may have to be hauled in, but this is not an insurmountable obstacle. Other school districts have found ways to finance water bills incurred by these grassed areas.

Were it a choice between buildings and grass, or essential services and sodded play areas, most people would have no difficulty in resolving the matter. But if other places can manage to have both, there would seem to be some overpowering reason if we can't.

Holmes Alexander Does The Government Know Best?

WASHINGTON — Political science is such an inexact knowledge that its metaphysicians often prescribe cures that are worse than the disease.

THERE ARE many sustaining examples. We could start with Prohibition and come down to the War on Poverty without finding many examples of where paternalism clearly did us any lasting good. If we make it hard for citizens to buy guns, we inhibit both the gangster and the sportsman, and we infringe on the Constitution which holds that a free people are a well-armed people. If we try to outlaw smut, we interfere with honest realism, and we substitute government fiat for the exercise of good taste and the workings of the free market.

BY AND LARGE, it's probably better for the central government to let nature and society run their own courses. I never saw the rule proven out better than in the continuous effort to take the violence out of television entertainment. A couple of years ago we had Senate hearings which got around to complaining that TV shows were a cause of juvenile delinquency. I can't find, from the Federal Communications Commission, which licenses the broadcast industry, that any direct influence has been brought upon the studios, but when Washington frowns at a government-controlled industry, there are knees that commence to tremble.

FOR THAT reason or some less probable one, the two best Wild West shows on weekend nights, which is when ink-stained slaves stop reading and writing to watch a good program, have turned into gutless drivel.

It's been too long since I've seen Marshal Matt Dillon or "Gunsmoke" beat the bad man to the draw and leave him dead in front of the saloon. Instead, we get a serio-comic take-off on the Don Quixote classic, even down to the donkey-riding squire called Festus. The new format amounts to a denaturing of the story line as expressed in the title, and to an emasculation of the gun-toting, rough justice saga which grew out of our American conquest of the continent. The values of the adventure tale and the historical significance are both lost, and muddling - good entertainment has been reduced to drivel.

BUT THE CASE of "Bonanza" in the past several weeks is more deplorable and, in truth, is downright despicable. There we had the admirable Ben Cartwright at his magnificent and hospitable home, The Ponderosa, with his three fearless and upright sons. The fine family was an example of earned success, easy-going respectability and always a force for the right. But lately they have stopped shooting, except into the air. On a recent show Ben Cartwright got the better of his opponent by telling a lie in order to obtain some water rights. He gave the punch-line by advising his sons that sometimes it is clever to cheat. The substitution here of one-upmanship for violence is a sorrowful example of a cure being far worse than the illness.

IT IS DIFFICULT to prove that the social improvement moguls of government are the culprit, but it's a fact that both the Federal bureaucracy and Congress treat television quite differently than if it were a truly free enterprise.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The white citizenry of Lowndes County in Alabama is carrying forward its brazen demonstration that murder is no crime there if the victim is a civil rights worker. In a county in which more than 80 per cent of the population is Negro, an all-white jury was impeached to try a Ku Klux Klansman on charges of killing Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo of Detroit, an organizer of the civil rights march from Selma to Montgomery last March. Included in the jury were self-acknowledged white supremacists. The evidence appeared so compelling to the State Attorney General that he told the jurors: "If you do not convict this man, you might as well lock up the courthouse, open up the jail and throw away the keys." The verdict was "not guilty."

Less than a month ago another Lowndes County jury acquitted the killer of Jonathan Daniels, an Episcopal seminary student, who had been active in a Negro voter registration drive. The jurors blandly accepted the defense plea that the shooting was necessary to protect "white women-folk." The repeated pervasions of justice in Lowndes County and in other Southern districts make apparent the need for a Federal law under which it would be a Federal crime to assault or threaten assault on any person with racial purpose or effect. Such a law would permit the collection and presentation of evidence by Federal agents, the prosecution of cases by a United States Attorney in a Federal district court and the drawing of jurors from a wider geographic area than the immediate town in which prejudice runs high.

The concept of a fair trial encompasses protection for the principles of justice as well as for the accused. —NEW YORK TIMES

U.S. Presidents Smash Head-On Into Big Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two presidents — Lyndon B. Johnson and John F. Kennedy — smashed head-on into a big industry when they suddenly raised prices while they were trying to keep prices steady.

But the way they did it — Johnson with aluminum, Kennedy with steel — is a study in contrasts.

Kennedy did it with his chin out, full of denunciations, and, although he won, the victory cost him dearly for his relations with business were sour for a long time afterward.

SO FAR, Johnson has done it quietly and indirectly — he hasn't said one word but let his aides do the talking — yet his administration hasn't yet admitted it was trying to discourage the aluminum price-bust.

Johnson, a shrewd politician who knows the importance of having big business on his side and has spent a lot of time trying to line up businessmen, wants to win but he isn't using the Kennedy tactics.

On April 10, 1962, U.S. Steel informed Kennedy it was raising prices. Immediately on Kennedy's orders his aides began phoning other companies to dissuade them from following U.S. Steel. But they did.

The next day at his news conference Kennedy denounced the industry's action as "irresponsible defiance" and "ruthless disregard" of its duty. He began to apply other pressures.

HIS BROTHER, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, announced a grand jury investigation of the price increases. He sent out subpoenas to the heads of steel companies. The implication was that might be price-fixing.

Various congressional committees, headed by Democrats, announced they would begin investigations. By April 13, two days after the price bust began, the steel industry revoked its increases.

Johnson's case with the aluminum industry has a longer history. After World War II the government began stockpiling various metals and supplies, including aluminum. Now it figures it has on hand, above its stockpile needs, about 1.4 million tons of aluminum.

The government wanted that much returned to the commercial market over the next 10 years. Since 1963 the aluminum industry had already helped the government sell off over 100,000 tons.

MONDAY HOUSE Speaker John W. McCormack said the government for the past eight months has been trying to work out with the industry disposal of more of the surplus.

But 12 days ago the aluminum industry began raising prices on what it is turning out. Two days later, while Johnson himself never said a public word, his office announced he had instructed some of his Cabinet members to meet in Washington to discuss disposing of the government's unneeded aluminum.

Let's Face It, That's Middle Age

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you middle-aged?

If you are and don't know it, some of your best friends won't tell you. They think it more kindly to let you go on kidding yourself.

But here's a handy guide to tell whether you have left the pastures of youth behind. You probably are middle-aged if:

You know that Galli-Curci is not a new Italian mouth wash but the name of a famous soprano.

IT SEEMS like only yesterday that you used to get a balky car engine started on a wintry morning by hand-cranking it.

You are so used to hearing the children call your wife "mother" that you start doing it, too.

At Christmas you get more muffers than bright neckties as presents.

At the office you ask the supply clerk to put a seat pad on your swivel chair to make it more comfortable. And you no longer lean back so far in the chair-for fear it will tip over.

You no longer can read the fine print in the telephone directory with the aid of a single lighted match. It takes you two matches to look up a number.

YOUR DREAMS become grimmer. Instead of being romantic or full of fanciful adventures, they usually are woven around the problems of your job.

Somehow your feet get tired earlier in the day, and shoes become the most important part of your wardrobe. It takes you longer to pick out a pair of shoes than it does to buy a new suit.

After you put the sock on your right foot in the morning, you pause, sigh, and brood about what the day will bring before you put on the left sock.

Amid the growing number of credit cards in your wallet is another card that lists your blood type, the miracle drugs you are allergic to, and what person to call in case of an emergency.

It is rare for you to get eight uninterrupted hours of sleep.

IF ONE of the girls in the office pins a flower in your lapel on your birthday, you brag about it to your wife all week. You also start a campaign to get the girl a merit raise from the boss.

You wonder why young people want to talk so much about "the bomb." You have lived under its threat for so long you are numb.

If you overhear a group of high school kids chattering on the bus, you can travel a mile and a half without even understanding the subject of their conversation.

There are only two kinds of food on any menu—those you like but shouldn't eat, and those you should eat but can't stand.

You no longer have the physical stamina to acquire a new bad habit nor the moral fiber to give up an old one.

By such signs cometh middle age. But weep no more. All you can do is buck up and face it.

To Your Good Health Fasting A Safe Reducing Method, If Supervised

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you discuss fasting to reduce weight? I have heard of taking only water and vitamins for 20 to 30 days, without hunger, and with beneficial results. Is this method really safe? Must it be supervised by a doctor? Is there an age limit? —H.K.E.

I would say that there is some difference of opinion on this method of reducing. So far as I know, it is safe enough but this means much closer supervision than you suppose. Either in a hospital, or under complete daily supervision of a doctor who understands this method thoroughly.

It is NOT safe to attempt any such regimen and see your doctor once a week, or to call him and say you still feel good. Rather, a battery of laboratory tests must be employed repeatedly. For just a couple of examples, the mineral balance in the body is important. If it begins to get out of balance, it should be corrected promptly. Or, under such a rigid fast, gout may occur due to uric acid accumulation. This must be corrected at once.

Obviously it is possible to lose weight rapidly and in large amounts by this method, and after the first few days people report that they stop feeling hungry. However, as you can understand, it is neither a simple or inexpensive method because of the amount of testing and supervision required.

I don't know of any age limit, but a person should be in robust health before starting such a program.

Possibly the most basic objection is that — the method doesn't teach the patient new eating habits. He got fat before! If he goes back to his former habits, he can get fat again. For this reason alone there is a great deal to be said for the slow, simple way of reducing — learning to eat a little less of everything, and especially to eat less of the more fattening foods.

That, in fact, is the strongest argument against ALL special methods of reducing. If they don't establish a new eating habit, the patient may have gotten slimmer, temporarily, but he won't stay that way.

Dear Dr. Molner: My boy,

3½, has hemorrhoids, I can't say he complains too much, but they protrude after a bowel movement. Is this uncommon for his age, and is surgery necessary? —MRS. C. J. M.

Hemorrhoids are not common in children but they do occur occasionally. Faulty bowel habits and constipation usually precede the trouble.

As a rule they are not treated by an operation unless they are bleeding and very painful. The treatment instead generally consists of a gradual process of training the child to have more regular movements and a soft stool. This involves patience on your part, greater intake of water or other fluids, on his part, more bulk in the diet such as from fruits and vegetables, and perhaps stool softeners as may be prescribed by your doctor.

Fat! My leaflet, "The Lost Secret of Reducing," tells how to get rid of it the easy way. For your copy write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim We Believed In Armistice Day

Most people fairly familiar with the basic facts about the Revolutionary War, the Civil War, and, of course, World War II.

It amazes me to note how few people, particularly those who have been born and grew up since 1918 seem to know even the barest facts about World War I.

IT IS TRUE that this nation had a relatively brief career in that conflict. We did not get into the mess until the spring of 1917; the war came to an end on Nov. 11, 1918.

However, it was no small war. It began with the assassination of an archduke and his wife in a remote mid-European town called Sarajevo in early 1914. The war involved nearly all of Europe, part of Asia and, ultimately, this nation in the four years it flared.

THERE WERE 8,000,000 men killed in this war, and total casualties were 37,000,000. Our own losses, because we did not get into the struggle until late, were only 126,000 killed.

World War I is not ancient history. It occurred in the lifetime of millions of men and women still around. They should remember it well.

World War II, so much bigger, so far flung in its scope, and only 20 years ago, of course, is remembered much more acutely.

THURSDAY, NOV. 11 will be noted in a casual fashion as a sort of holiday. It is now called Veterans Day.

A score of years ago, the day had a great deal more importance. It was then known as Armistice Day. It was the anniversary of the date the Germans capitulated and World War I came to a stop.

We called it "Armistice Day" because all that was agreed upon by the military leaders on Nov. 11, 1918, was an armistice — a cease fire interval in which negotiations for peace might be considered.

Actually, no more fitting designation of a day has ever been coined.

FROM NOV. 11, 1918 until the outbreak of World War II was truly just a sort of ineffective, cease fire situation. From Nov. 11 to this very day, the world has not known real peace. No peace is in sight; none of us alive today, probably, can have real hopes of seeing a true peace.

Younger people tell me their school histories place little stress on World War I. I have had young fellows ask: "What is this Nov. 11 business? Why was it selected as Veterans Day?"

WHEN WORLD WAR I stopped on Nov. 11, 1918, leaders of the world believed they had reached the eve of the Golden Age. The forces of right, they said, had beaten down the forces of tyranny and evil. Never again would there be a conflict in which all of the world would be involved. We could junk our Navies (we did, too), reduce our Armies to almost zero. Literally we would beat our swords into plowshares and car fenders. We would never again have cause to go to war.

SO WE celebrated Armistice Day. I think we even believed the happy fiction we were telling one another. Some kept on believing it until Dec. 7, 1941.

Can we ever believe it again? —SAM BLACKBURN

Art Buchwald Who Discovered Columbus?

WASHINGTON—While everyone is arguing over who discovered America, there is a controversy now raging amongst the Indian tribes over who discovered Columbus.

The chief of the White Hawks has just issued a statement saying that his ancestors were the first to greet Columbus when he landed, and produced the text of the conversation Columbus had with his uncle of many centuries removed.

"Greetings, White Father," the chief said as Columbus stepped ashore. "What brings you to New Vinland?"

COLUMBUS IS said to have looked at his map. "New Vinland? I thought this was the New World."

"It was, White Father, but then Lief the Lucky discovered it."

"Does anyone know about this?" "Only you and I and some monk map-makers."

"Can you keep your mouth shut, Indian?"

"What did you call me?" "Indian. I promised Queen Isabel I'd find a new route to the East Indies. Therefore, you're an Indian."

"And what are you, White Father?" "I am Columbus, an explorer of Italian birth."

"WONDERFUL," the chief said. "From now on we'll call today Columbus Day in your honor."

"That's very nice of you, Indian. I hereby take this island and all islands north, south, east, and west of it, in the name of the Queen of Spain."

The chief looked at Columbus. "Are you some kind of a nut?"

"What do you mean by that, Indian?"

"This land belongs to us. We were here first. Our fathers and their fathers who came before them. We don't want to be Spanish."

"INDIAN, we are your friends. We are going to help you. We will educate your children and build hospitals and schools and roads. We are going to give you foreign aid and give you guns and armor so you can protect yourself and be free."

"But, White Father, we are free." "Don't argue. We know what's best for you. Now, where are the spices?"

"What spices?" "Don't kid us, chief. You've got to have spices around here or they wouldn't call you Indians."

"THEY DON'T call us Indians. You still don't know where you are."

Columbus looked at his map again. "I've got a pretty good idea. Where is Puerto Rico from here?"

The chief pointed.

"And Cuba?"

The chief pointed again.

"Then that would put us here in the Bahamas. Why didn't I think of that before?"

"BECAUSE THE season hasn't started yet. It's kind of quiet now."

Columbus said, "Well, give me all the gold you've got and I'll let you off with your lives."

"You white men are too good to us," the chief said. "How can we ever repay you?"

As Columbus stuffed the gold in the sacks he said, "Just forget about Lief the Lucky. You ever breathe a word to anyone and I'll have my boys make cement moccasins for all of you."

"DON'T WORRY about a thing, Columbus. It will be our secret. The only one I will tell the truth to is my son."

"Where is he?" "He's going to Yale."

Marquis Childs Nuclear Problems In Europe

LONDON — The present scramble for place in Europe is like the children's game called "Fruit Basket Upset."

All the players are frantically searching for a chair that will have some relation to the realities of power in this moment of uncertainty.

That is to say all the players but one. Standing in the center of the circle, President De Gaulle of France seems at least to know what he wants. If his goal is, as his accusers say, to destroy any hope of Atlantic unity and set the old nationalistic scramble going, then he has succeeded beyond his wildest dreams.

IN LONDON and Washington — and in Bonn — there is agreement on the threat if a rearmament of Germany, the Greatest power on the ground in NATO, is denied a place at the high table of nuclear control. A Germany still divided with no prospect of reunification in the future and with 10 million refugees from the East constantly pressing the issue is bound to create division and dissension.

BUT AGREEMENT in the West stops at this point. The big difference is over how to give Germany a nuclear voice. It began with the American proposal for a mixed manned nuclear fleet, MLF, the multi-lateral force. Then abruptly a year ago — and British opposition leaders speak bitterly of this — the rug was pulled out from under MLF by Washington.

THE BRITISH had cooked up another version — ANF, an allied nuclear force with a pooling of nuclear weapons including Britain's own independent nuclear deterrent under some common command. Presumably one motive was to unload part or all of the cost of the four Polaris submarines agreed to build at a cost of up to $1 billion with Germany picking up a share of the tab. Now both MLF and ANF are in the deep freeze and they may never come out again.

TODAY THE British are torn between a realization of the need, constantly pressed by top American officials, to solve the German riddle and a determined hope for a nuclear proliferation treaty with the Soviet Union that will damp down the Cold War between East and West. That is why Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart is going to Moscow at the end of the month — he says he means to try to find out just how high is the price for a treaty in terms of allied unity and Germany's nuclear role.

STEWART HOPES that both Moscow and Bonn will be satisfied with the nuclear consultative committee that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has suggested. Part of the answer may be known before Stewart flies to Moscow since Germany's Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder is coming here.

Germany could produce weapons in a comparatively short time and a delivery system equaling or surpassing that which France is currently pushing with missiles and Polaris-type submarines. That is what sets Germany apart from France with its minuscule nuclear development which can hardly have more than nuisance value and Britain with a so-called deterrent dependent on V bombers nearly as outmoded as the stagecoach.

VIEWED FROM the perspective of an imminent nuclear arms race, as many Britons see it, the nuclear proliferation treaty seems a last chance to hold back from the brink with the roar of the falls already audible. But the real danger in the view of top American policymakers is that Moscow will use the bait of a treaty to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to break up the West-European alliance.

MRS. JAMES NEAL JOHNSON

Couple Married In Lubbock Ceremony

Miss LeAnne Womack exchanged wedding vows with James Neal Johnson Oct. 29 in the Second Baptist Church at Lubbock. Officiating was the Rev. C. G. Sewell, grandfather of the bride.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Douglas Sewell, Lubbock, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude J. Russell, Rt. 2. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Johnson, Midland.

The bride chose a street-length dress of white sheer wool with a high, rolled collar, long sleeves and softly-pleated skirt. The waistline was accented by a white satin contoured belt featuring a large bow in front. The shoulder-length veil fell from a crown embroidered with pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with yellow rosebuds.

Miss Lana Sewell of Sweetwater was maid of honor, and the best man was Jerry Tomlinson of Big Spring. Ushers were Mike Slagle and Ronnie Sowders of Lubbock.

For traveling, the bride chose a burgandy suit trimmed with navy blue and wore navy accessories. A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

The couple will reside at University Village, Lubbock.

Britishers Make Tree

Christmas trees, made from nylon net, were created by Mrs. Horace Doyal, president, when the British Wives Club met Monday evening in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

Mrs. Doyal presided as Mrs. John Strong was named treasurer to replace Mrs. Lester Chism who has resigned the position.

A report was given on the Halloween party, sponsored by the wives, for students at the Exceptional Children's School, and two new members were welcomed. They are Mrs. Troy Thomas of Scotland, who won the attendance prize, and Mrs. John D. Green, Ireland, who was awarded the game prize.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Doyal and Mrs. Joe W. Cathey.

Mrs. J. F. Skalicky will be the guest speaker Nov. 22, and will demonstrate Christmas gift wrap.

Group Sees Sweetwater Chartering

COAHOMA (SC) — Thursday night was charter night for the Sweetwater Evening Lions Club and those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Clawson and Mr. and Mrs. John Justiss.

Mrs. Phil Wynn and Mrs. Bill Easterling attended a reading workshop at Andrews Saturday.

The Tommy New family has moved to Sand Springs.

Mrs. Mary Charles Coates spent the weekend in Lubbock with her son-in-law and daughter, the Bobby Potts.

Mrs. Ed Gaines is home recuperating from surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McFarland and daughters, Debbie and Carla, left Sunday for a week's vacation. They are visiting relatives at Austin, Hico and Stephenville.

Mrs. F. D. Null, accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Null of Big Spring, spent the weekend at Qultman visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. Monty Davis and children of Nocona spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Anderson, and in Big Spring with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Davis.

Mrs. Carl Dale Reid and her sister, Mrs. Alice Payne, and Mrs. Payne's daughter, Marilyn Teel, are in Galveston for Marilyn to have a series of tests.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Best and family and Mrs. George Best, spent the weekend at Noodle with the Carrol Bests. While there they attended the Merkel homecoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Zilbert and children, Bonnie and Bruce, of Lubbock spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Wilson. Also, the Wilson's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ohmer Kelly of Stanton, spent Sunday here.

Rainbow Girls Attend Thanksgiving Dinner

A Thanksgiving dinner for the member's husbands and for guests from the Order of the Rainbow for Girls was held during the Monday evening meeting of the Social Order of the Beauceant.

Eighty-four attended the dinner at the Masonic Temple with Mrs. O. L. Nabors presiding.

Representing the Rainbow Girls were Deanna Morris, worthy advisor, and her mother, Mrs. H. H. Morris; Ayn McGlothlin and her mother, Mrs. Carl McGlothlin; Kay Coppedge and Judy Daniels, grand drill leader for the state of Texas.

During the program session, Mrs. Dub Fryar gave a Thanksgiving reading. The tables were highlighted with arrangements of fall chrysanthemums surrounding replicas of turkeys.

Following the dinner, the order went into session with 38 members attending.

Mrs. L. R. Mundt and Mrs. A. J. Way were initiated into the order. Mrs. Lee Porter and Mrs. J. D. Thompson will head the committee to select needy families to receive Thanksgiving baskets of food and clothing.

A letter of instruction on the meaning of the order was given by Mrs. Nabors.

Party Notes Departure

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Buntyn and daughter, Sheree, were honored with a Sunday evening farewell party at the Hillcrest Baptist Church fellowship hall.

The Buntyn family will be moving to El Dorado, Ark., and gifts were presented by Mrs. Rex Greenwood and Mrs. Willard Hendrix.

The refreshment table was covered with a brown Irish linen cloth. The centerpiece was an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums floating in a cut glass compote and surrounded by floating candles. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Amos Johnson and Mrs. H. C. Spivey.

Approximately 50 attended, and the room was highlighted by arrangements of autumn flowers.

TB PROJECT COMPLETED

No more volunteers for stuffing envelopes for the Howard County TB Association will be needed. The Permian Basin Medical Auxiliary and its helpers completed, at noon today, the task of getting the material ready for mailing.

Plans Made For Holiday Projects

Holiday projects were discussed during the Monday afternoon meeting of the Junior Auxiliary to the VFW Auxiliary, Christensen Tucker Post No. 2013.

Debbie Miller presided at the post home session, and Patsy Eason gave the opening prayer.

The projects selected were the decoration of tables for Thanksgiving dinner at the Veterans Administration Hospital, a collection of gifts for the hospital Christmas shop, and a collection of nylon hose to be used for loom weaving therapy by the patients.

Refreshments were served to nine members.

Birth Announced By Bob Tarbets

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tarbet, Vincent Route, Coahoma, are parents of a son, Teddy Dwayne, born at 12:06 p.m., Nov. 1, in the Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. The infant weighed 7 pounds, 10 ounces.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Tarbet, Ackerly, and the maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Don Fish, Los Angeles, Calif.

Six Receive Pledge Pins

Six women received pledge pins during a Monday evening pledge ritual conducted by Mrs. Billy G. McDonald, president of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

The ceremony was held in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building with Mrs. Jack Blizzard and Mrs. Don Kenner and Mrs. Bob Bradford assisting with the service.

The pledges were Mrs. Dan Johnson, Mrs. Ronnie Clanton, Mrs. Jack Lewis, Mrs. Gene Adams, Mrs. Billy D. McDonald and Mrs. Ronnie McCalsion.

A welcoming ritual was held for two transferees, Mrs. John Turner from Colorado City and Mrs. Harry McMillan from Plainview.

To conclude the evening, the group accompanied the hostesses, Mrs. Lamar Green and Mrs. Paul Garrett, to the Ramada Inn for refreshments.

Members are urged to bring canned goods for a Thanksgiving basket at the Nov. 22 meeting when the Rev. Byron Ornd will be the guest speaker.

Dominoes Played At Club Meeting

WESTBROOK (SC) — Dominoes games were played during the recent meeting of the Golden Age Club. The members also voted to insure the club building. Refreshments were served to 32.

Magazine Editor Talks To St. Thomas Society

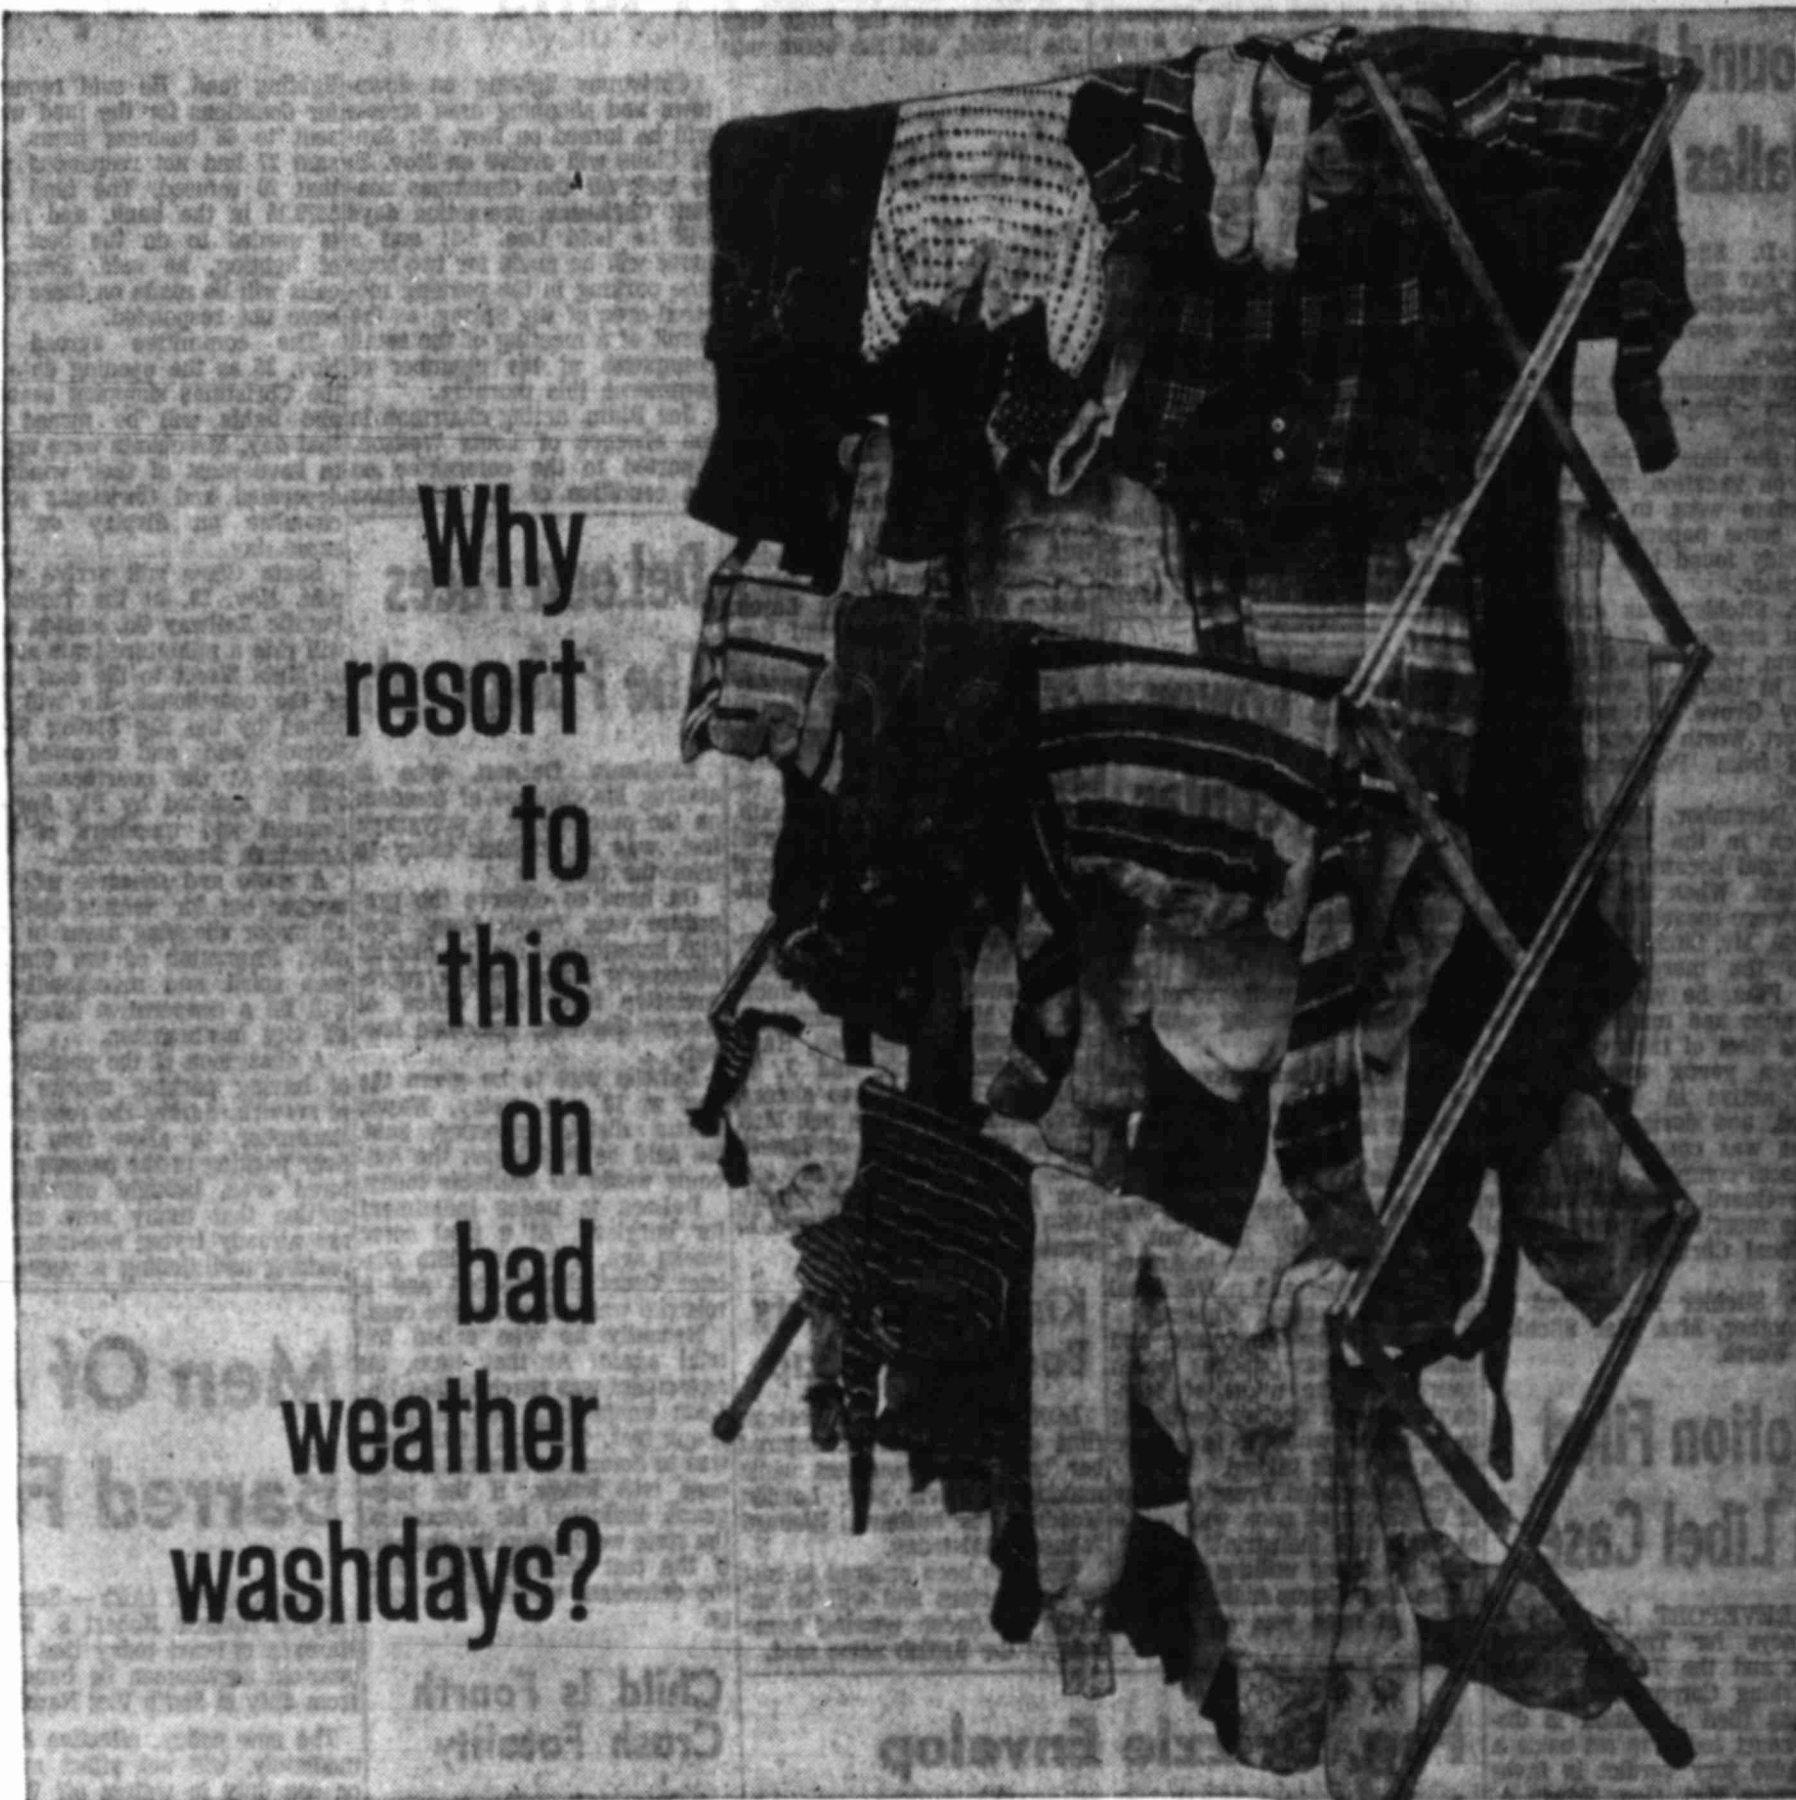

The Rev. Thomas Quinlivan, San Antonio, editor of the magazine, "Mary Immaculate" was the guest speaker Monday evening when the Altar Society of St. Thomas Catholic Church met in the church basement. The speaker, who was introduced by the Rev. Robert F. McDermott, stressed the importance of striving to become saints.

During the business session, Miss Tina Molina presided in the absence of Mrs. Leo Gonzales. Reports on the recent convention in Brownwood were heard. The Bible workshop, which Mrs. Gonzales gave there, will be repeated at the next society meeting.

Rev. McDermott expressed appreciation to the women for their work on the festival, and plans were started for a Christmas celebration. Complete arrangements will be announced Dec. 6. Also, the society will begin its sale of Christmas cards soon.

Rev. McDermott read a letter from the chancellor of the Diocese of San Angelo thanking the group for a $28 donation to the Bishop's Bursar for the education of a Diocesan priest.

Attendance prizes went to Agustin Fierro, Miss Isabel Molina and Mrs. Manuel Cervantes.

County's First Oil Well Is 40 Years Old Today

Forty years ago this morning, Fred Hyer stood in the crisp November dawn and saw the lines of his wildcat oil rig glisten.

The day before, his No. 1 H. R. Clay had experienced a change in formations at 1,508 feet. Hyer had his driller pound on before shutting down for the night, and it was apparent they were into something.

CROWD CAME
Although the crew had been sworn to secrecy, by noon the next day at least 100 jitneys and wagons were parked around while excited and curious natives watched the spectacle of oil around the derrick and dog house.

Howard County had its first commercial oil well.

This was not the first oil fever for the community, but it was the forerunner of exploration which kicked off the 1926-30 oil boom which trebled the city's population in that space of time.

The fabulous promoter, S. E. J. Cox had found oil in his General Oil No. 1 McDowell in northern Glasscock County in the summer of 1920, and he hit traces in some of the other four wildcats he put down. In September, Underwriters No. 1 Morrisson was brought in as what many regard as the first producer in the Permian Basin. This gave rise to the Westbrook field and stimulated other wildcatting.

FRED HYER

FAILED
One after the other, these ventures failed.

Fred Hyer, who had been in the oil business for years, opened offices in Fort Worth. Across the hall was H. R. Clay, who had a large ranch straddling the Howard - Glasscock line. He kept pestering Hyer to drill an oil test on the property, and finally, armed with a seven-section lease, Hyer decided to give it a fling.

He moved in a rig from Breckenridge and hired a crew from Westbrook and started operation in early August at approximately 900 feet from the west and 600 from the south lines of section 13-29, W&NW. Had it been less than a 1,000 feet to the south, it would have been a dry hole. Hyer won't say there is no oil that way, but noted that "nobody's found it."

HUMBLE LEASED
After a time he decided to sell some leases, but he couldn't give them away. Finally he made a trip to Houston and talked with Wallace Pratt, Hum-

Stocks Lower And Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market settled irregularly lower early this afternoon although the aluminum held their ground fairly well, recouping some losses. Trading was active.

The market was mixed most of the morning but weakness developed in some of the influential blue chips, this dragging down the popular averages.

Important in this respect was a 3-point loss by Du Pont, a drop of nearly a point in American Telephone and a fractional decline in General Motors.

Some of the electronic and other glamour stocks which spurred in the midst of Monday's general decline continued to advance while a few were down on profit taking.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .6 at 353.3 with industrials off 1.6, rails up .2 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.23 to 950.72.

Fog, Drizzle Envelop Large Areas Of State

By The Associated Press

Dank weather enveloped broad stretches of Texas again today.

Scattered areas of light rain drifted through northern and central areas of the state toward the east in early morning, and it also was drizzly in places along the coast and in the deep south.

Fog was even more widespread before daylight, dipping visibility to zero at Dalhart in the upper Panhandle and restricting airline operations in some other areas.

A feeble cool front pushed as far south as a line linking Texas, Arkansas and Lubbock. Thereafter it weakened rapidly and by daylight became too diffused to be tracked.

Fliers To Meet

ble's geologist. He asked $25 an acre for two adjoining quarter sections. Pratt offered him $12.50 and Hyer took him up. Word spread that Humble, one of the hottest traders in oil properties, had taken the lease, and by the time Hyer got back to his hotel, Gulf was after him. Others followed, and when he returned to Big Spring buyers kept driving over the lonesome ranch road to the drillsite in a draw at the edge of the hilly southeastern part of Howard County.

Hyer paid off his crew in cash and in bonus leases, and eventually turned his holdings (less 600 acres which he kept out) for $250,000 to Continental Oil. It turned out to be worth many times that much but Hyer had no regrets because he said "I couldn't have poor-boyed an oil field."

NO RECORD
There is no known record of how much the well has produced, but upwards of 200,000 barrels might not be a bad guess. It could be more, because even today the venerable well still wrings out about a gallon of oil a day.

The most important thing about it, however, is that it attracted other wildcaters. Among them Owens & Sloan, who hit with their No. 1 Chalk to the east and got a 50-barrel well with some gas. Then a third test near the Ross City site flowed, and the boom was on.

Christmas Merchandising Plans Shaped Up Today

Christmas lighting on downtown and shopping area streets will be turned on Nov. 26; Santa Claus will arrive on Nov. 29 to kick off the Christmas season; Christmas promotion days will be held Dec. 2-3; and a move will be made for two-hour free parking in the parking metered area of Big Spring, as the result of a meeting of the retail committee of the chamber of commerce this morning.

Joe Blum, acting chairman in the absence of Louis Wolfson, reported to the committee on the condition of the Christmas lighting fund. He said requests for donations for the fund were sent to 68 business firms. He said 27 had not responded and that 20 refused. The fund has $679.15 in the bank, and more is needed to do the best job of lighting, he said. Personal calls will be made on those who have not responded.

The committee agreed on Nov. 26 as the opening date of the Christmas shopping season, and lights will be turned on that day. Merchants were urged to have most of their windows decorated and Christmas merchandise on display on the same day.

Santa Claus will arrive at 2 p.m. Nov. 29, at the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. station and will ride a miniature train south on Main Street to the east side of the courthouse. He will be joined by the Big Spring High School band, and escorted by police. At the courthouse, he will be assisted by Big Spring firemen and members of the American Business Club.

A route and schedule will be worked out for Santa's visit to all major shopping areas in the city. Promotion of the Christmas spirit and merchandising will be a cooperative effort of all city businessmen.

A discussion of the possibility of having parking meters out of service, during the month of December, to allow free two-hour parking in the present metered area, brought out information that many area cities are already trying non-metered parking and finding it successful.

Child Is Fourth Crash Fatality

FAIRFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Kelly Dewese, 4, died today the fourth member of her family killed in a head-on collision near here Sunday.

Her mother, Mrs. Johnny Dewese, 28, of Arlington and two brothers, Bart, 5, and Jeff, 1, were killed outright.

Dewese, 30, and four other persons were injured.

Men Of Age 17 Barred From Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara ordered today that 17-year-old servicemen be banned from duty in South Viet Nam.

The new policy, effective immediately, will not affect men on sea duty in waters off Viet Nam. Nor will it end overseas duty for 17-year-olds elsewhere in the world.

The minimum age for service in South Viet Nam will be 18, the Pentagon announcement said.

The services were ordered to cancel or change assignments of any 17-year-olds now destined for Viet Nam, and to divert these men "to other appropriate assignments."

The Pentagon said exact figures are not available but that it is estimated fewer than 1 percent of the 148,380 American military men now in Viet Nam are in the 17-year bracket.

Bliss, 57, was hospitalized last Friday when he complained of chest pains. Doctors said they found no trace of heart trouble.

A physician said Bliss would check into an Albuquerque hotel for a few days of rest before returning to his home in Akron, Ohio.

He was attending the Western States Republican Conference when he became ill.

Old Men's Home For Taipei Area

TAIPEI (AP) — Ground has been broken for a proposed $250,000 old men's home at Mt. Yangming near Taipei.

Driver Hurt In Car Crash

A local man was in Howard County Hospital following a 7:44 a.m. accident today, officers said. Rex Clifford Edwards, 1006 Wood, was driver of a car which was in collision with a car driven by Connie Wayne Key, 1210 Lloyd, at the intersection of Settles and Ridgeway.

Edwards was driving north, turning west, officers said, when the collision happened. The key vehicle was traveling south.

Both cars were extensively damaged, officers said, estimating the total damage at around $4,000. There were no other injuries, but both cars were towed away by Independent Wrecker.

At 8:26 a.m. today, the cars of James Elbert Wilson, 1410 Wood, and Robert Bernard Baker, 3709 Hamilton, were in collision at the intersection of Fourth and Gregg, police said.

A local woman was injured in one of four Monday accidents, officers said. Annabelle Lawber, 1105 N. Gregg, was treated and released from Howard County Hospital following an accident at the intersection of Sixth and Goliad. Her car struck a telephone pole, officers said.

Chestley Johnson, 2203 Runnels, escaped injury when his car struck the parked truck of Charlie Levy Clark, Gail Route, in the Runnels Junior High School parking lot.

Judy Carol Aleman, 601 NW 5th, and Linda Carol Ray, 815 Creighton, were not injured when their cars collided at Seventeenth and Lancaster, police said.

The final minor accident Monday was between the cars of Evaristo C. Albarado, Webb AFB, and Edward Dwayne Marion, Route 1, Seminole, at the intersection of Second and Gregg.

Together Not Forsaken

CHICAGO (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dru'yor are carrying togetherness right into the operating room.

The Prairie Du Chien, Wis., couple will undergo surgery Wednesday in Chicago for similar heart conditions. The open-heart surgery will be performed by Dr. M. S. Mazel, a pioneer in the technique.

"They're going to flip a coin to see which of us goes first," Alvin Dru'yor, 62, said Monday night in a telephone interview from his bed at Edgewater Hospital. He is in the publishing business.

Dru'yor said he has had a heart condition for about seven years. His wife, Inez, 60, accompanied him to Chicago two weeks ago for Dru'yor's physical examination.

"She never had a physical herself so we decided it was a good time for her to have one," he said. "They discovered she had the same condition I had only her's was worse."

"What was strange was that she'd had no problems," he said. "I was always the complainer."

The operation, called a cardiomy, is to unblock arteries leading to the heart. Dr. Mazel has performed 250 open heart operations. These will be the first on a husband and wife.

The Dru'yors, who entered the hospital Sunday, are sharing the same room.

"That seems to scare everybody," said Dru'yor. "The nurses look in and you can tell they're thinking, 'Has this hospital gone modern or something, putting a man and woman in the same room?'"

Two Sturdy 'Big Bears' For Traveling Comfort

These two Yamaha 250cc Japanese-made motorcycles are on the floor at Bedell Bros. on North Birdwell Lane, along with several other models, for economical operation by sports loving men and women who like to ride in comfort.

Bedell Bros. Showing New 1966 Model Motorcycles

If you like smooth performance, comfortable riding, and economical transportation, all you have to do is go by Bedell Bros. plant out on North Birdwell Lane, just south of the Snyder Highway, and take a look at the variety of motorcycles they have on the floor.

The Yamaha "Big Bear" cycles, at a reasonable price, would be the pride of any motorcycle rider, with dual exhausts, and plenty of precision parts in the engines. Bedell Bros. also have a Sports model, with the same 250 cc. engine used in the Big Bears.

Other Yamaha motorcycles include the 305 Cross Country Sports, 80 Trails, 80 Streets, and the new model Yamaha 60s. The Cross Country also is included in the 80 series.

The middle size motorcycles seem to be the most popular models by a narrow margin, Bedell said, but all models have been moving in sales.

The British-made Triumphs are also becoming popular motorcycles in the Big Spring area.

Bedells have three in the 500 series, and will have other 1966 models later. They are being distributed in the Western United States out of Pasadena, Calif.

A trip out to Bedell Bros. will satisfy you if you are a motorcycle enthusiast. If they don't have the model you prefer in the 1966 group, just wait a little.

Drive Up Room At Security State Bank

When the bank was built, at Gregg and Fifteenth Streets, the officials had the convenience of the public in mind. There is plenty of room at the front and south side for off-street parking, a big parking lot in the rear, and two convenient drive-in windows on the north end. When you enter the building the tellers are right in front of you, with no long walks necessary to make transactions. Officials are also in plain view from the spacious lobby.

Byron's Can Move Goods Wherever You Wish To Go

If you plan to move across town or across the state, Byron's Storage and Transfer, owned by Byron Neel, can relieve you of a lot of worries and hard work by taking over the entire process. You just walk out with the clothes on your back and let experienced men take over the task of getting everything moved to your new home with the greatest efficiency.

But, if you are moving out of the state or across the nation, call United Van Lines, for which Byron Neel is agent, at AM 3-7351. Tell them when they can start packing, and when the household goods are needed at the new location. The family can go ahead or follow, with the feeling that everything will be in place when needed.

Byron's Storage and Transfer, 106 E. 1st, features local and long distance moving, and has a bonded and sanitized warehouse for storage of household goods for future moving. The building is also fire-proof.

Fast, modern vans are driven by men who know their business and who make safe moving a pleasure for any one changing locations. The firm is an agent for United Van Lines and can pack household goods for shipment to any part of the United States, Canada, or overseas.

In preparation for moves, kitchen utensils are packed securely, with no danger of breaking. Glassware, mirrors, pictures, lamps and all fragile items are wrapped and packed securely, and labeled for identification on opening.

If you prefer to do your own packing, Byron's can provide the proper boxes, crates, barrels, wardrobes and everything that goes with the move, and you can label your cartons for proper location in the new home.

On the other hand, if you must move your household goods out of your present home, and wait until you find a place to live in another community, Byron's warehouse is a safe place, and the cost is within the reach of every one.

Crawling Insects Are No Jokes For Housewives

We wish we could make a joke about roaches, ants, spiders, silverfish, and other crawling insects that are eternally invading your home. But any housewife will tell you, "It's no joke!"

The funny part is that women have been fighting these pests for many years, using a variety of weapons. The latest being messy, unsafe, toxic sprays, which fill your entire home with unpleasant and dangerous fumes.

We only wish we could pass on to every housewife the fact that was learned by scientists many years ago, and that is: The safest and most effective way of combating crawling insects is spot applications of a brush-on insecticide — Johnston's No-Roach.

No-Roach is effective against all crawling insects—cockroaches, ants, spiders and silverfish. One application stays effective for months.

It is also clean and easy to use, and is harmless to pets.

There is no need to move dishes or food when you use Johnston's No-Roach. Just brush the colorless, odorless coating where you want it. It dries quickly to form an invisible film that stays effective for months. Brush Johnston's No-Roach in cabinets, on baseboards, door sills, window sills, or wherever you see roaches and ants. Use No-Roach and forget about bugs for months.

You can get No-Roach at Hull & Phillips, Newsom's, Safeway, Piggly Wiggly, Furr's, and all grocery stores. It is distributed by Striplings.

LT. A. C. RAWLINS III

Lt. Rawlins Assigned To F-100 School

Lt. A. C. Rawlins III, grandson of Mrs. J. P. Dodge, 610 Goliad, and a native of Big Spring, has been assigned to Luke AFB, Ariz., for F-100 combat crew training.

Lt. Rawlins, who is an Air Force Academy graduate, received his wings as a jet pilot at Laughlin AFB, Del Rio with class 66-B. He posted the highest grade average in the Flying Training Command for his class on the 12 flight checks and was cited by Col. Frank M. Masden Jr., wing commander.

He is the son of Mrs. D. Y. Childers, Llano, who is known to her many friends here as Zolite Mae. Born in Big Spring, he attended school here until about the seventh grade and was active in the First Baptist Church and in Scouting. He moved to Rankin when his mother went to teach there and was graduated in 1959. There he qualified for the Rankin Study Club scholarship for high grades and high moral standing. He also received the American Legion Award.

He attended Texas A&M before his appointment to the AF Academy in June, 1960. At the academy, where he was graduated with a B.S. degree in 1964, he was cited for military achievements. In June, 1964, he was married to Wylene Anderson of Denver, Colo. His father, A. C. Rawlins, lives in Arlington.

Gay Hill 4-H Plans Discussed

Twenty persons, 14 members and six adults including two guests, were present for the Gay Hill 4-H Club meeting at Bethel Baptist Church Monday evening. Mrs. Delaine Crawford and Alice Ward, representing the Extension Service, were present, with Mrs. Crawford as guest speaker. One new member, Terry Tickling, was introduced.

Mrs. Crawford talked on projects which members can undertake, with the first on Soil and Water Conservation. She showed leader guides and member guides, on natural resources, foods, nutrition, swine, beef cattle and several other varied projects.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. L. C. Underwood and Mrs. G. W. Murphy.

In an exciting finish, Victor Mitchell and Sam Stayman of New York City emerged as the winners of the Life Master's Pairs at the Summer Nationals recently concluded in Chicago. The victors received a valuable assist from their partner, Sol Rubinow, also of New York, who administered a sound chelacking in the final round to the pair that had been leading the event. Mrs. Mitchell and Rubinow finished seventh in a field that broke all existing records for attendance.

An interesting hand from a qualifying round of the event is presented today. Altho North and South can take 12 tricks in a spade contract, very few of the contestants bid the slam.

At many of the tables where the hand was played, after South had overcalled East's opening one heart bid with one spade, North made a jump shift in either diamonds or clubs in an attempt to elicit further information from his

Ruling On Soto Due

Higinio Soto, convicted of robbery by force and who has been a prisoner in the Howard County jail continuously since Oct. 25, 1964, should know, within a week or two, what fate has in store for him.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, is slated to consider an appeal filed by Soto Wednesday. The court has set the day for oral arguments, but there will be no oral presentation of the case, according to Wayne Burns, district attorney. He said he would not attend and that he did not think Norman Spencer Jr., court-appointed attorney representing Soto, would be on hand.

Burns anticipates the court will probably rule on the appeal within a week.

Soto was arrested a few minutes after he allegedly held-up a teller in the Security State Bank Oct. 25, 1964. He was tried by a jury in district court. Found guilty of robbery by force, he was sentenced to 25 years in the state penitentiary. His attorney filed an appeal, and the appeal has been slowly working its way to hearing for some months.

Petrofina Buys Rodman Wells

American Petrofina will purchase from Earl G. Rodman, Odessa, and others 13 producing oil and gas wells located in the Robertson Field of Gaines County. The consideration for the acquisition was not announced. Petrofina estimated reserves exceed 1,000,000 net barrels of crude oil. Other crude oil production is owned and operated by Petrofina in the area.

In October, American Petrofina announced acquisitions involving the producing properties of Garfield for over $20 million and K. K. Amini for approximately $1.5 million.

American Petrofina is engaged in exploration and production activities in the Southwest, Mid-Continent, and Rocky Mountain regions. It operates three refineries in Texas and one in Kansas including the petrochemical complex in Big Spring, of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, a subsidiary. American Petrofina products are marketed under the Fina brand and distributed through more than 3,200 service stations located in 14 mid-continent states.

Den Makes Plans For Pack Meet

Den 5 of the Cub Scout Pack 202 met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ben F. Johnson Jr., den mother. The boys sang the last stanza of "The Star-Spangled Banner" to open the meeting. They then practiced other songs to be sung at the pack meeting Nov. 22 at the First Methodist Church. They also made plans on how Den 5 would conduct the Pack Flag Ceremony.

The Cubs completed the plaster dog footprints and then started making leather neckerchief slides. Mrs. C. M. Coldiron assisted Mrs. Johnson.

Rev. Murray Will Retire This Week

The Rev. R. B. Murray, who helped build the Crestview Baptist Church from scratch, is retiring this week. Although he will leave the pastorate, he plans to continue his work through occasional supply and evangelism meetings.

Rev. Murray has set a busy pace since he embarked on a career in the ministry back in 1942. When many men are looking toward retirement, he left a successful business as an oil company agent, surrendering and being ordained at his home, Carbon in Eastland County.

His first charge was the Staff Baptist Church, in Eastland County. He went from there to the First Baptist Church at Sheffield; Friendship Baptist Church near Lamesa; Oak Street Baptist Church at Colorado City; First Baptist Church at Paint Rock; and Grace Baptist Church at San Angelo. While in San Angelo, his congregation built a new plant, a pattern followed here.

Rev. Murray came to Big Spring and the Northside Baptist Church July 31, 1957. There were 43 in Sunday school that year, and the plant was valued at $20,000.

In 1961, the congregation decided to build the new Crestview Baptist Church, in the growing northeast part of the city. Some of this work was contracted, but a lot of it was built by the members—as many as 43—working nights. And Rev. Murray was a familiar figure on the construction site. Today there are some 275 in Sunday school and the church assets are pegged at $135,000.

REV. R. B. MURRAY

The original plant on 1011 N. Scurry was maintained as a mission when the congregation moved, and today it has some 55 in Sunday school.

All this activity has taken its toll for the pastor, and he had five heart attacks within a year, soon after the new building was occupied. This has encouraged him to take things a bit easier. He and Mrs. Murray will return to Carbon to make their home, helping other churches that may call him from time to time.

Rev. Murray has served as district representative of the "Baptist Standard" association moderator, camp director, president of the Ministerial Alliance in Colorado City, and evangelism chairman for District 8.

Wednesday night services will be the last for the pastor at Crestview, as the couple will move Thursday.

He is the brother of Mrs. Fannie Barrett, Big Spring. He was a 50-year member of the Coahoma Masonic Lodge, and a longtime member of the Coahoma Methodist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jewell Mitchell, and Mrs. Beemie Mames; two sons, James O. Neel and Bill Neel, all of Los Angeles; four sisters and one brother.

There are several nephews and nieces, some of whom live in Big Spring.

Jim Neel Dies At 91

Funeral for J. C. (Jim) Neel, 91, will be Wednesday in Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. Neel, a resident of Los Angeles since the '30s, died Saturday after a long illness.

For 50 years, Mr. Neel was section foreman for the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. at Coahoma. He retired many years ago, moving to the West Coast at that time.

He is the brother of Mrs. Fannie Barrett, Big Spring. He was a 50-year member of the Coahoma Masonic Lodge, and a longtime member of the Coahoma Methodist Church.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Jewell Mitchell, and Mrs. Beemie Mames; two sons, James O. Neel and Bill Neel, all of Los Angeles; four sisters and one brother.

There are several nephews and nieces, some of whom live in Big Spring.

Cub Pack 138 To Make Awards

Cub Scout Pack 138, sponsored by the College Heights P-T-A, will hold its November meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at the school.

All boys eight to 10 years of age are welcome to join the pack and should bring mother or dad, or both.

Twenty members of the pack will receive awards, and all boys wanting to join a growing pack are invited to attend.

Weary Meg Gay At Ball For Charity

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fighting fatigue and laryngitis, Britain's Princess Margaret showed royal stamina by sticking right through to the end of a dazzling charity ball that broke up in the wee hours today.

Saying little and dancing not at all, the petite princess, reigned smilingly from a dais over the World Adoption International Fund dinner-dance at the Hollywood Palladium. Usually celebrity-satiated Hollywood stars twirled by, stealing glances or outright gawking in her direction.

The princess, in a diamond crown, a necklace with marble-sized diamonds and a corolla-blue gown that matched her eyes, managed a few soft words with her dinner partner, Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, at the head table.

Her husband, the Earl of Snowdon, chatted affably throughout the dinner with any and all about him, including comedian Bob Hope.

She intended, despite her laryngitis, to carry on today, visiting a British old folks' home, the California Institute of Technology and Jet Propulsion Laboratory in nearby Pasadena, attending a reception at the home of the British consul-general and then gracing yet another private Hollywood party tonight.

Mrs. Fentress and her husband came to Texas in 1914 from Norwalk, Conn.

Citizens Backing U.S. Stand Will March Veterans Day

By The Associated Press

Veterans Day observances Thursday will point up a massive national backlash against draft card burners and other critics of U.S. policy in Vietnam, reports from across America showed today.

In addition to the traditional turnout of war veterans, parades in many cities are expected to attract thousands of ordinary citizens who want to march to demonstrate support for their country's cause.

The national headquarters of the American Legion touched off "Operation Show Your Colors" involving the distribution of 10 million metal lapel pin flags. With each pin comes a card saying "Americans are serving the cause of freedom in Viet Nam. I wear my country's flag to show that I support their efforts."

12,000 MARCHERS

Frank Brockhoven, chairman of the Veterans Day parade in Boston, said, "Everybody wants to get in it — everybody's calling me." He estimated that more than 12,000 would march, led by servicemen home from the war in Viet Nam.

In Denver, Colo., the United Veterans Council, sponsor of an annual parade, arranged for one section to consist of unorganized citizens who want to join the line of march as a sign of national solidarity.

In Columbus, Ohio, the parade grand marshal is Postmaster Victor J. Bodish who arranged for the city's letter carriers to march in their working uniforms. Students of Ohio State University planned a blood-donating session which they dubbed a "bleed in" — a switch on the "teach-ins" which have been held at some schools to protest the Viet Nam fighting.

PLACE WREATH

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will address Washington's major Veterans Day rally at Arlington National Cemetery and place a presidential wreath at the Tomb of the Unknowns.

A sponsoring committee said it expected one of the greatest throngs ever to attend such a ceremony, partly because col-

Gift Shop Plans Made

American Legion Auxiliary will have its gift shop for Veterans Hospital patients here during Christmas, it was announced last week at a meeting of the VA voluntary service advisory committee of the Big Spring VA Hospital.

Committees were also named to buy and decorate Christmas trees for various locations throughout the hospital.

Several new representatives were named to serve on the VAVS committee. Mrs. Frances Barlow and Mrs. H. D. Bruton will be representative and deputy representative of the American Legion Auxiliary; Mrs. R. E. Ray and Mrs. Floyd Williams were named representative and deputy representative of the city council of the P.T.A.; representative and deputy from the VFW auxiliary are Mrs. Ethel Crenshaw and Mrs. Gertrude McCann; World War I veterans' representative is L. R. Mundt.

Mrs. Ara Cunningham, volunteer director, told the gathering 56 youths served during the summer, working a total of 8,197 hours.

Committee members were asked to submit topics for discussion at the national VAVS meeting, to be in Washington, D.C., next April. Further Christmas activities planning will be discussed at a special meeting Dec. 2.

lege student leaders in the area plan to demonstrate to show their feeling that the draft card burners represent only a narrow fringe of their generation.

Gov. Haydon Burns of Florida invited the public to a mass meeting in the state Capitol at Tallahassee to discuss counter-moves to those opposed to U.S. participation in the Viet Nam fighting.

Gov. John H. King of New Hampshire asked citizens of his state to show their faith in Viet Nam policy by holding "special events" on Veterans Day. Veterans organizations of the state suggested that motorists turn on their headlights for five minutes at 11 a.m. Thursday to signal their support of the fighting men across the Pacific.

New York was one of the few places where opponents of the U.S. course of action announced plans for Veterans Day demonstrations. An organization called Youth Against War and Fascism said it would hold a Union Square rally under the slogan "To end the war in Viet Nam." The New England Committee for Nonviolent Action said 50 of its members would demonstrate at the gate of the Ft. Devens military reservation in Massachusetts.

Parliamentarians Plan Workshop Meet In Midland

The Permian Unit of the Texas State Association of Parliamentarians has announced a State Parliamentary Law Workshop Nov. 13, from 1:30 to 6 p.m. in Midland. The workshop will be in the First National Room of the First National Bank.

Registration will be $1.50 per person for instruction and refreshments, and a certificate for four hours credit toward National Association of Parliamentarians membership may be earned.

The program will include: how to conduct a business meeting; main motions; elections, with demonstration; committee rules; how an organization can change its mind (reconsider and rescind); and a panel to answer questions from the audience.

Instructors are all registered parliamentarians. Dr. Charles C. Rahm, Lubbock, the only man registered as a parliamentarian in Texas, has held offices in the local and state organizations of Toastmasters International, and the state and national association of osteopaths.

Mrs. Forrest Haney, Odessa, is a past board member, Texas Association of Parliamentarians, will be one of the instructors, as will Mrs. Gerta Morris, Dallas, president of the state association. Mrs. Ben Johnson Jr., Midland, is a past president of the Texas association.

The workshop is open to the community as a public service.

Cobalt Sent To West Germany

LONDON (AP) — A consignment of 30,000 curies of radioactive cobalt 60 has been shipped to Melsungen, West Germany, by truck from the Harwell atomic center, the British atomic energy authority says.

The consignment—the largest quantity of radioactive material ever shipped from Britain to Europe—will be used for a gamma irradiation plant to sterilize medical equipment.

Member of THE ORDER OF THE GOLDEN RULE

Murder Of Young Woman Under Probe

HOUSTON (AP) — Chief Deputy Sheriff Loyd Frazier said Monday night he believes at least two persons were involved in the slaying of Mrs. Jacqueline Young.

The body of the 25-year-old secretary was found in the back seat of her car Saturday in a pasture near La Porte. An autopsy showed she had been beaten and strangled but not raped. "I don't think there is any sex offense involved in this case and I don't think there is any robbery motive," Frazier said. "I think Mrs. Young was killed by someone whom she knew."

A lover of Western music and a fan of singer George Jones, Mrs. Young went to a night club Friday to hear Jones.

During an intermission she went to Jones' camper with him, another man and two women, authorities said. She reportedly became ill and was put in one of the bunks.

When and under what circumstances she left the camper are questions to which officers still seek the answers, Frazier said.

LBJ Signs Sugar Bill Extension

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has signed into law a five-year extension of the sugar bill that sets new foreign quotas and also boosts the U.S. share of the market by 580,000 tons.

The provision to increase the domestic share of the sugar market was written into the bill after producers claimed they were unable to unload huge warehouses surpluses.

SPARKS ROW

The bill, signed Monday, sparked a congressional haggle over foreign quotas after the House Agriculture Committee dropped the administration's formula for allocating the market and wrote its own. Foreign producers are allotted about 40 percent of the U.S. sugar market, with the rest filled by U.S. beet and cane growers.

Some House members contended there were links between Washington lobbyists hired by foreign countries and the countries' share of the sugar quota.

PROPOSAL DEFEATED

Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., at one stage offered an amendment to the bill that would have cut a country's quota to zero if it hires a lobbyist. Findley's proposal was defeated.

N-Warhead In Space Nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. authorities considered — and rejected — the idea of building orbiting nuclear missiles, sources said today.

They rate it a clumsy, inaccurate method of waging atomic war — far less effective than land-based and submarine-launched weapons.

The experts calculate that a warhead launched from orbit wouldn't come within perhaps 50 miles of its target on earth. Compared to this, they said, U.S. intercontinental ballistic missiles and submarine-launched Polaris missiles have an accuracy within one mile of target.

SOVIET MISSILE

By and large, the U.S. experts regard an orbiting nuclear missile as more a psychological weapon than one with real military value.

These views, which have been prevalent in the Pentagon for quite some time, were underscored by U.S. authorities after the Soviets paraded in Moscow a 115-foot missile which they claimed can orbit the earth with a nuclear warhead.

American sources said the technique of putting an atomic weapon in orbit is no more difficult than orbiting any space vehicle — and this technique was long ago mastered by the United States.

RADIO COMMAND

Such a weapon would be fired by radio command from the earth's surface — another technique that is well within "the state of the art."

Road Project Bids Coming

AUSTIN (AP) — Contractors will bid on road jobs expected to cost $23.5 million at the Texas Highway Department's monthly bid opening Nov. 9-10. Among the projects is a $7 million job in downtown San Antonio which will link Interstate 10 to the Interstate 35 interchange.

This work in San Antonio will bring to 66 miles, from Boerne to Seguin, the total of Interstate 10 miles built or under construction in Texas.

Total Population Quadrupled To 4

HELM, Ill. (AP) — The population here has quadrupled in the last 15 months.

The population in this Southern Illinois town doubled in July 1964, when Max McConaughay, the town's lone resident for several years, got married. Then Mr. and Mrs. Ray Medder moved in last July and the population doubled again.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly In Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today as drug counters everywhere.

C-C Directors Endorse Campus Beautification

Chamber of commerce directors put their endorsement Monday on efforts to beautify school grounds.

They gave backing to the chamber's education committee in its efforts to replace dirt and rocks with some grass on elementary school campuses. Colored pictures of Big Spring grade school playground areas and those in neighboring cities were projected for the board.

Larry Crow, city manager, said that a joint operation between the city and schools was shaping up on a 3½-acre tract adjacent to Lakeview school. This has reached the point of the city making a proposal to the schools.

"It is in the mill and it will go," he said, predicting that it might become a model for other such ventures.

What happened to the master plan of a joint development of the Boydston playground area, John Currie wanted to know. He Robb, president, cited figures that showed Big Spring second only to Snyder in per capita (student) cost for schools and observed that "if schools in other towns can do it (have grass), we think we can too."

Crow told the directors that studies were under way toward making the historic "big spring" site into a park area. Prospects for this, he said, are good.

Paul Meek, chairman of the industrial committee, said that negotiations were well along toward inducing a small technical firm to locate here.

"We think it is the sort of thing which has potential," he observed. The contact came out of chamber letters to patent attorneys.

Efforts to secure a mental health clinic designation have been launched, but the next step depends upon willingness of surrounding counties to cooperate, said Robb. County Judge Lee Porter is seeking to get other counties to name two men to a committee to explore possibilities. A minimum of 100,000 population is required for a clinic to be considered.

Garner McAdams was named as a director, succeeding Carlton Chapman, who moved to Wofforth.

All segments of the community will be contacted for ideas on the program of work, said chamber manager Carroll Davidson. Automobile dealers, beauticians and barbers, pharmacists, clothiers, and every other major field of enterprise — regardless of chamber membership — will be invited to give suggestions.

Gains Made With Harvest

AUSTIN (AP) — Farmers in Northwest Texas are making harvest progress in good weather, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, but rains last week slowed field work in the rest of the state.

Some Low Plains cotton could be affected by moisture. Cotton harvest, 45 per cent complete for the state, is progressing slowly in most areas as growers await a freeze.

Heavy dews cause some morning delays in the sorghum harvest, which is 91 per cent complete. Moisture held peanut digging to a minimum.

Wheat planting is almost completed. Showers increased prospects of the oat crop, which is 80 per cent complete.

Showers also slowed pecan harvests in many areas. The crop is 25 per cent gathered. Yields are good.

State Board To Honor Chairman

AUSTIN (AP) — Fellow members of the Texas Board of Corrections voted Monday to name the next addition to the state prison system, an Anderson County unit, for their chairman, H. H. Coffield of Rockdale.

HERALD'S PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

Joe Jaure, Alfonso Calvio Among Football Honorees

Properly engraved certificates will go to the football players on area teams selected as Players of the Week by the Daily Herald sports staff, judges of performances in contests last week. They include:

BIG SPRING — It was a close race, but a second look at game film convinced Big Spring coaches that Joe Jaure had earned the award. Close behind, largely on a display of great courage, was Gregg Pate. Jaure averaged 5.2 yards per carry, no mean achievement against Odessa Permian's line and was outstanding as usual on defense. As one coach put it, the 140-pound Pate should have received the Purple Heart for taking punishment on his rollouts to pass, for blockers were missing the stunning Odessans. Still he tossed for one TD.

LINEMAN — Honors went to Wayne Nall, senior right end. Although he has been hampered by a hand injury, Nall grabbed off five passes. While none of them were long gainers (42 yards in all), they came at critical points and loosened Permian's defense. He also showed to advantage as the left linebacker. SANDS — Alfonso Calvio, sophomore halfback who weighs 140 pounds, was picked because of his sharp running against Flower Grove. His team went down in an upset, but Calvio picked up 70 yards. He also made several saves at safety.

LINEMAN — Larry Oaks, a 150-pound junior, sparked from his position as defensive line-backer. He had to go in on offense (where he has had 11 years' experience) for the injured Hambrick and did a creditable job with his blocking.

STANTON — BACKS of the week for Stanton are Mike Hall, a senior half-back, who shares the honor with Buddy Shanks, a senior quarter-back. Coaches voted a dual award because of equally sparkling performances, although Stanton was upset by Tahoka. Hall made nine tackles on defense, some of them saving what appeared certain TDs. Shanks, despite pressure, completed 15 of 25 passes.

Bert Decker, 185-pound sophomore, who goes both ways at left tackle, earned the LINE-MAN'S nod. He was particularly effective on defense, and his blocking was effective on offense.

COAHOMA — Bobby Phiergo, 155-pound senior who plays corner linebacker on defense and either split or tight end on offense, took the BACK-OF-THE-WEEK honors. He repeatedly came up fast to choke off sweep attempts by Aspermont, and then on offense caught three touchdown passes. His scores alone were enough for a margin of victory.

The choice for LINEMAN of the week was Mike Butler in a ding-dong battle with Dean Bannan and Keith Hodnett, either of whom could have qualified under normal conditions. But Mike did such superb blocking on offense that he got the edge. He played "real heads up ball," as his coach described it.

GARDEN CITY — BACK — Vernon Newsom was a veritable one-man gang for the Bearcats in their smashing win over Sterling City. He carried the ball 17 times for net gains totaling 136 yards, which averages out to eight yards per carry. He scored three touchdowns and passed for two more. Assigned to the middle line-backer's spot on defense, Vernon made 12 tackles.

LINEMAN — Center James Seidenberger, a 190-pound junior who plays corner linebacker on defense and either split or tight end on offense, took the BACK-OF-THE-WEEK honors. He repeatedly came up fast to choke off sweep attempts by Since Forsan's feat of playing a scoreless tie against Imperial was regarded as a team effort, Back and Lineman awards of the week have been awarded to the entire Forsan team. Coach Oscar Becker said he never got a better over-all effort than the one his team made against Imperial.

Texans Move Far Ahead

LEVELLAND — South Plains College of Levelland moved farther ahead in the Western Conference golf race by winning the third round of competition here Saturday.

Odessa College supplied the teams which finished second and third in the day of activity.

South Plains finished with a two-man score of 143 while Odessa's No. 2 tandem had a 146 and Odessa's No. 1 duo a 149.

Joe Arrendondo of South Plains shot a sizzling 69 for top honors.

Buddy Cook of Odessa dropped in a hole-in-one in Friday's practice round with a 7-iron on the 6th green on a 158-yard drive.

After three conference matches, South Plains has 36 points; OC's No. 2 team 28½; OC's No. 1 team 27.

The teams go to Roswell, N. M., in two weeks to participate in the fourth conference meet.

Sugar Ray, Joey Archer Tangle In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, who was middleweight champion five times, and Joey Archer, a young man hungry for the same title, square off in a 10-round bout in Pittsburgh's Civic Arena Wednesday night.

The winner could be in line for a shot at the middleweight title now held by Dick Tiger, whom Archer has beaten. Archer, 27, who has won 44 fights and lost one, is a heavy favorite.

Robinson, 45, the grand old man of professional boxing who has been urged to quit for the good of boxing and his own health, says he wants the title "just one more time."

"Look, I've never been a failure yet," he said. "Four times I've been right, coming back to win the title when people said 'why doesn't he quit?'"

"Archer is the top contender," added the man who has boxed for a living for a quarter of a century. "I know I can beat him."

Since he lost his last try at regaining the middleweight crown in a match with Gene Fullmer March 4, 1961, Robinson has been making the circuit of small fight cards in places like Johnstown, Pa., and Steubenville, Ohio, for purses of $6,000 or less.

But, he says, "it's not for the money... I'm not doing this to live on. I want to win the middleweight crown once more, then I'll quit."

Robinson has won 174, lost 17 fights in his pro career.

The blue-eyed Irishman from New York City and his brother and manager, Jimmy Archer, believe if Robinson, rated among the all-time greats, is beaten Wednesday, Archer's next opponent will be Dick Tiger.

Joey Archer, though respecting the man 18 years his senior, doesn't plan to give Robinson a chance for the knockout punch.

"He was great in his day," he said, "but those days are no more for him. I know he can still throw combinations and will try to knock me out."

"But he won't," he added. "I'll put pressure on him all the way. He doesn't want that title any more than I do."

Coahoma Hosts Forsan Girls

COAHOMA — Coahoma girls will entertain Forsan girls in basketball games this evening. The B team game will start at 7 p.m., the A team game following about 8 p.m.

Coahoma, Plains To Vie In Andrews Nov. 20

The Class A bi-district football game between Coahoma and Plains will be played in Andrews at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 20.

Details for the contest were worked out at a meeting held in Andrews Monday night. Each team still has a regular season game remaining on its schedule but has already won the right to represent its league in the playoffs.

Coahoma will represent District 6-A in the game while Plains will be the 5-A delegate. Coahoma will be playing in the bi-district round for the second straight year. Plains succeeded Seagraves as the 6-A king.

Coahoma winds up play Friday night against Abilene Wylie while Plains' final round opponent will be Stanton, which Coahoma met earlier this year. Spike Dykes is coach of the Coahoma club, which remains largely untested in nine straight contests this year. Rip Sewell is coach of the Plains outfit. Tickets for the playoff contest will be priced at $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students and will be available at the school in Coahoma, as well as in Plains and Andrews.

Winner of the bi-district battle becomes eligible to oppose the survivor of the Districts 7-A-8-A encounter. District 7-B is composed of Clint, Canutillo, Fabens, Marfa and Van Horn while the leader in 8-A is Sonora.

Sonora clinched the 8-A title last week by slaughtering Menard, 46-0, and has rolled up nine straight wins while yielding only 26 points.

Plains is 8-1 for the year and has scored 308 points to 80 for the opposition. Last week, the Cowboys drubbed a perennial toughie, Wink, by a score of 308 to 80.

Bulldogs Point For Last Test

COAHOMA — Coahoma has nothing at stake except its perfect season's record and its pride Friday when it meets Wylie High in Abilene at 7:30 p.m. Coach Spike Dykes thinks his Bulldogs had better be ready for this. Although Wylie has been beaten by Aspermont, Rotan and Merkel, all of whom Coahoma has swamped, it has one of the better defensive clubs of the district.

The Bulldogs may be in danger of pointing too much to their Nov. 19 meeting with Plains in a bi-district contest. Both Coahoma and Plains are rated among top choices in the state race.

Bisons Prep For Plains

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes face the great challenge of trying to head off the state-contending Plains team. Game time is 7:30 p.m. Friday at Plains.

Physically, Stanton came through its Tahoka encounter in good shape, but inexperience turned up unpredictable and killing plays. For instance, Stanton let Tahoka have two relatively easy first quarter TDs, then fought back to trail 12-14 at the half. On the first play of the second half, however, Tahoka sprung back for 64 yards and a score.

In the final quarter Tahoka drove to a first down on the Stanton five but could not go over. Stanton promptly fumbled it back, and once again the Buffs held for four downs, then a long punt got them out of trouble. But only for a moment. On the next play, Tahoka broke away for a score and it broke the Buff's back.

If his boys can settle down and avoid those kind of mistakes, coach Bill Milam thinks they may make it hot for Plains Friday.

Mustangs Face Crucial Test

ACKERLY — Sands faces a critical test here Friday at 7:30 p.m. when Wellman comes here. Both teams will be trying to stay alive in the district race. Should Gail upset Dawson and Sands win, it would be in a four-way tie with Gail, Dawson and Klondike. Of course, Wellman has that same chance because its 4-2 record is the same as Sands.

How to succeed in saving without really trying

It's hard to sock away money at times, especially when you get to feeling you just can't spare much for savings. And therein lies the real beauty of buying U. S. Savings Bonds on the Payroll Savings Plan.

You never even see the money you're saving until you've suddenly got your hands on a brand new Savings Bond—and it's all yours. That can give you a mighty fine feeling, especially when your Bonds begin to stack up.

Here's how the plan works: just tell your employer to set aside a small amount from your pay toward the purchase of a Savings Bond. Before you know it, you've got a mate to that first Bond. And your Bonds are already busy—earning another dollar at maturity for every three you invest.

Bonds are busy another way, too. While they're earning money for you, they're helping to keep your country strong.

So join the millions of Americans who have made a success of saving through the Payroll Savings Plan. You'll find you really don't have to work very hard at it. Try it and see.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- ✓ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- ✓ You can get your money when you need it
- ✓ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- ✓ You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

Royal, Tittle May Get Job At LSU

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Louisiana was rife with rumors today that Charlie McClelland, LSU football coach, will be fired and either Darrell Royal of Texas or former pro quarterback Y. A. Tittle would be hired to replace him.

The reports, however, seemingly are without foundation. McClelland currently is concerned about regrouping his team after back-to-back defeats for the first time since he became head coach at Louisiana State.

McClelland was unavailable for comment.

Royal and Tittle, when contacted, both said there was absolutely no foundation to the rumors and squashed the reports.

At Austin, Tex., Royal said emphatically Monday night that "there's nothing to" the report he had been offered a 10-year contract to go to LSU.

"After losing those three games (Texas lost three in a row before beating Baylor last Saturday) I hope they're not trying to hire Charlie McClelland to coach Texas," Royal said.

Tittle, at his home in Palo Alto, Calif., said, "No, I haven't heard anything about it. McClelland has done a fine job at LSU. I don't see how anyone could conceivably consider dismissing him."

NOW A SCOUT

Tittle, who played college football at LSU, was a pro star in the National Football League with the San Francisco 49ers and the New York Giants. He currently is a scout and assistant coach with the 49ers.

New Orleans sportscaster Hap Glaudi reported twice on his WWL-TV show Monday that Gov. John J. McKeithen has offered Royal a contract to coach at LSU for 10 years and $1 million.

Adding fuel to the fire was this comment in Monday's Nashville, Tenn., Banner, by Sports Editor Fred Russell, one of the South's most respected sports writers:

"Mickey Herskowitz of the Houston Post, perhaps one of the three or four newspapermen closest to Darrell Royal of Texas, says Royal has a fat offer from another college."

Russell didn't elaborate.

McKeithen is in Argentina and could not be reached for comment about Glaudi's report. Glaudi, who was sports editor of the now defunct New Orleans Item, said McKeithen had recently been fishing and hunting in Texas with Royal.

"I have never hunted and fished with Gov. McKeithen,"

Royal said, "although we are good friends. I was his guest at the Governor's Mansion at the Louisiana State-Florida game but I had gone to Baton Rouge just to see a football game."

The LSU-Florida game Royal referred to was last season.

BEHIND SCENES

In addition to the Glaudi story, another one being circulated by word of mouth throughout the state is that McKeithen, an LSU alumnus, has been working behind the scenes with other LSU supporters to raise $100,000 and buy up McClelland's contract with Tittle being hired as head coach.

Tittle said he was not certain he would be interested in the coaching assignment at his alma mater.

"My home is in California," he said.

McClelland is on the first year of a five-year contract with an annual salary of $21,500. He became head coach at LSU in 1962 when Paul Dietzel asked to be relieved of his contract so he could go to Army.

Officials at LSU say they "won't dignify" either the Royal or Tittle reports by commenting on them.

Dissident LSU fans have been howling about the Tigers' three losses so far this campaign. The Bengals were beaten by Florida and then lost consecutively to Mississippi and Alabama.

McClelland had to play both Ole Miss and Alabama without the services of his hotshot sophomore quarterback, Nelson Stokley, who twisted a knee early in the Ole Miss game (which LSU lost 23-0) on Oct. 30 and injured it in warmups for the game at Baton Rouge last Saturday with fifth-ranked Alabama, which won 31-7.

McClelland, who played his college football for Paul (Bear) Bryant at Kentucky, was Dietzel's chief assistant before taking the head job.

For his first three full seasons at LSU, McClelland posted a 22-6-2 record in regular season games and took the Tigers to bowls each year. Only a few coaches have better records for the same 1962-1964 period.

LSU still has games left with Mississippi State and traditional rival Tulane this year.

League Would Tighten Rule

AUSTIN (AP) — The legislative council of the Texas Intercollegiate League has recommended that there be no football during the school day—that is, the class period—in the football season.

It suggested, however, that the seventh period of school, which is devoted to physical training and runs 60 minutes, could allow conditioning exercises, such as a weight program, in line with football. But football itself could not be played.

After class there is no limit to the time that can be spent on football training each day during the season.

This obviously was an answer to a request from the coaches that competitive athletic training be allowed during the physical education period of the year around.

This was among a long list of recommendations made by the council at its annual meeting here.

The council voted to do away with rebates at the state meet in May each year and that the schools sending contestants to the meet would have to pay all their expenses.

These rebates have paid travel, hotel and eating expenses for the contestants. Last year the League paid out about $12,000.

The council also voted that athletic practice or drills not be permitted on Sunday. It also thought there should be a specified date for baseball to start practice, and that the number of games be set.

There has been no limit of any kind on either the season or the number of games as is the case in football and basketball.

COAHOMA (SC) — Films on the Aspermont-Coahoma football meeting will be shown at tonight's meeting of the Coahoma Quarterback Club, scheduled to be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening.

Yankees Due To Be Back, Says Webb

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The World Series should be played without the interruption of a day off for travel.

During the season, pitchers should pitch every fourth day and should not be rested to point for a particular game.

The New York Yankees may be in dire trouble, but they have the organization to return to power.

Such are the candid opinions of Del E. Webb, former co-owner of the Yankees and a man who, in the process of amassing a personal fortune of millions, has been active in baseball for 40 years or more.

Webb, whose construction and hotel empire spans the country, was talking with friends in Las Vegas, Nev., at the recent $100,000 Sahara Golf Tournament, one of his diversions.

"If a World Series goes seven games, it should be played in seven days," Webb declared. "This business of stretching it to nine or 10 days is obsolete, something that goes back to the years when teams had to travel by railroad."

"This is the jet age and baseball ought to adjust to it."

"A Series that is stretched out all those days gives the pitchers an unfair advantage. And pitching is 80 per cent of the difference in a short series."

Webb, once a pitcher in the old Pacific Coast League, thinks it nonsense not to make the pitchers work every fourth day. "Too much rest and they get rusty," Whitey Ford, early in his career, found this out. And they should understand they are expected to pitch nine innings — or more if necessary."

Looking to the Yankee future, Webb predicted that New York second baseman Bobby Richardson will not be around next year.

"We offered him $60,000 to play this year. And there's a funny thing about that," Webb related. "Richardson, who wants to be a preacher, and his wife thought over the $60,000 a few days."

"He came to us and said he wasn't worth that much. Maybe $40,000 or $45,000. He said he didn't want to appear to be dictating terms, but maybe we could give the $15,000 or $20,000 to some worthy cause and keep him in mind for a scouting job or something later on."

Stokes Inducted Into Cage Shrine

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Maurice Stokes, former college and professional basketball star now paralyzed with a form of sleeping sickness, made an infrequent public appearance here Monday night and was inducted into the Cambria County War Memorial Arena Sports Hall of Fame.

Stokes, one of 18 sports figures admitted to the organization, made the trip from a hospital in Cincinnati, Ohio, by a special plane and was transported to the banquet by ambulance.

It was only his second public appearance since being stricken by the illness March 15, 1958.

The 31-year-old Stokes, who is confined to a wheelchair and speaks with difficulty, had attorney Walter Beel of Cincinnati read a note dictated by him.

In it he thanked all those who made the banquet possible.

"God bless each and every one of you," Stokes' statement said.

Odessa Scouting Report Will Be Given Tonight

A detailed scouting report on Big Spring's next football opponent, Odessa High, will be given at tonight's meeting of the Quarterback Club, scheduled to get under way at 7:30 o'clock in the high school cafeteria.

Last year, the two clubs were chief contenders for the 2-AAAA championships. Big Spring upset the Bronchos, 20-6, but Odessa proceeded to win the championship.

This year, the clubs are far off the pace in the title race.

Big Spring needs the win to even its conference record at 3-3. Odessa needs the victory and one over Permian next week to even its record for the year.

Action films on the Big Spring-Permian game will also be shown, with the commentary due to be offered by head coach Don Robbins.

Refreshments will be served to those in attendance.

Arkansas Still 2nd On AP Grid Ballot

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State, Arkansas, Nebraska and Notre Dame, gorging themselves on touchdowns as if trying to outstrip each other, continued to pace the national rankings today in The Associated Press college football poll.

The Michigan State Spartans, who crushed Iowa 35-0 for their eighth straight victory, extended their No. 1 position to the third week by polling 32 of the 51 votes of a special panel of sports writers and broadcasters. Arkansas, with 14 firsts, remained the No. 2 team after a 31-0 rout of Rice while Nebraska led, with four No. 1 votes, clung to third on a 42-6 triumph over Kansas.

Notre Dame had the biggest field day of the leaders, trouncing Pittsburgh 60-13, and mustered a challenge to Nebraska for the No. 3 position. The Irish collected the other first-place vote.

The standings are arrived at on the basis of points, figured on a formula of 10 for a first-place selection, nine for second and on down the line.

Michigan State's point total was 482, compared with 459 for Arkansas, 406 for Nebraska and 381 for Notre Dame.

The first six teams in the standings remained unchanged from last week, with Alabama fifth after beating Louisiana State 31-7 and Southern California sixth on the strength of a 35-0 triumph over California.

Michigan State plays Indiana this week in what should be little more than a tuneup for the battle with Notre Dame Nov. 20. Arkansas takes on Southern Methodist, Nebraska meets Oklahoma State and Notre Dame goes against North Carolina.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and total points:

Rank	Team	First-Place Votes	Season Record	Total Points
1	Michigan State (22)	32	6-0	482
2	Arkansas (14)	14	8-0	459
3	Nebraska (4)	4	8-0	406
4	Notre Dame (1)	1	6-1	381
5	Alabama (6-1)	6	5-1	380
6	South Carolina (5-1)	5	1-0	379
7	UCLA (4-1)	4	1-0	378
8	Tennessee (3-2)	3	2-1	377
9	Missouri (3-2)	3	2-1	376
10	Kentucky (2-2)	2	2-2	375

Pro Leagues Mum About Planning

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League and the American Football League are playing it cute about the date of their annual player drafts of college talent. Nobody wants to announce the date but it undoubtedly will be Saturday, Nov. 27, the day of the Army-Navy game.

Once again the two leagues are expected to operate from New York headquarters with club field representatives in contact with their home office by direct wire. Last year the NFL draft lasted all day Saturday and into the afternoon hours of Sunday.

With millions of dollars in television revenue available on both sides, a wild scramble is expected once more with the usual cloak-and-dagger moves.

Pope Might Visit Poland

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The possibility is still alive that Pope Paul VI will visit Poland next spring.

Both the Vatican and the Polish government have denied reports of arrangements for the Pope to come to the May 3, 1966, celebration of 1,000 years of Christianity in Poland.

The feeling here is that the denials were prompted by premature publicity for a project that could take shape in the coming winter.

Some Italian reporters who accompanied President Giuseppe Saragat to Poland last month wrote about a papal visit as if it were already decided.

NOT RULED OUT
Prof. Aleksander Skarzyski, director of the Polish government's Office of Religious Affairs, told The Associated Press there was no truth to the stories. But he did not rule out the possibility of a journey here by the Pope.

Numerous matters would have to be settled first, the director said. Many Polish Catholics are interested in having the pontiff come here because of the prestige this would mean for their country.

Communist regime officials are also pondering possible disadvantages. There would be the danger that the visit might disrupt public order, something dreaded by any regime in power.

DRAW MILLIONS

Polish Catholics are so fervently religious that more than 100,000 will spend days walking to reach appearances of Stefan Cardinal Wyszyński, the Roman Catholic primate of Poland. The Pope could draw millions. Handling such a crowd would require the kind of church-state cooperation that does not now exist. Despite this, one Warsaw diplomat has predicted to his government that there is a 60-40 chance that the Pope will come here.

Some Polish Catholics feel a papal journey here would be the logical way to continue the approach to the East started by the late Pope John XXIII. This policy has brought formal church-state agreements with Communist authorities in Czechoslovakia and Hungary.

DIGNIFY REDS?
But some critics feel a personal appearance by Pope Paul would dignify the Warsaw Communist regime.

There are also political problems involving the post-World War II Polish-German boundary — problems which either side could use to stop a papal visit here. But they could also be brushed aside if both the Pope and the Polish government become convinced that the trip should be made.

The Vatican has avoided 2 formal statements recognizing the postwar transfer of former German territory to Poland, but it has named Polish bishops to rule Church affairs in the disputed lands.

County Buys Two Trucks

Howard County Commissioners bought two trucks for the county road and bridge department Monday.

One truck was bought from Shasta Ford for $5,022.81. A second truck was bought from Poland Chevrolet for $5,500. Two old trucks were traded in, and the commissioners said the difference in the cash paid for the new trucks was caused by the variation in value on the old trucks.

Ratings Show NBC Leading, CBS Second

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Nielsen ratings, made public Monday, showed NBC in front by a fraction of a point, followed closely by CBS. ABC was third. NBC, according to research departments of the three networks, had an average evening prime-time rating of 19.2, while CBS had 19.0 and ABC, 16.8 for the two-week period ending Oct. 24. The estimates will be studied closely by the networks and the sponsors. By the time this sampling of viewing preferences was made, it is believed the public had decided which shows it liked best.

TOP TEN

Top 10 programs, in order of popularity, were NBC's "Bonanza," CBS' "Beverly Hillsbillies," "Gomer Pyle," "The Lucy Show," "The Red Skelton Show," "The Andy Griffith Show," NBC's "Get Smart," "Saturday Night at the Movies," CBS' "Peticoat Junction," and the "Ed Sullivan Show."

The death of Dorothy Kilgallen seemed like the loss of a personal friend to millions of American television viewers who had enjoyed her earnest and skillful game — playing on CBS' "What's My Line?" for the past 15 years.

John Daly, host of the program, said that the newspaper columnist had appeared to be in high spirits and good health before and during the program Sunday night, and had given fellow panelist, Bennett Cerf, the preface of a book she planned to write for his publishing house.

DEAR ABBY

A Father's Problem

DEAR ABBY: My wife died leaving me with a small daughter to raise. She is now 16 and wants to spend nights and weekends with her girl friend. I have never met the girl friend's parents, nor have they ever called and asked my permission to allow my daughter to stay with them. As a matter of fact, I have never even met the girl friend. On the basis of these facts I have refused to allow my daughter to spend the night with her friend. I do not wish to restrict the child unfairly, but I feel that staying out all night is a serious step, and I am fearful. My daughter says that I am much too strict. Please give me a woman's viewpoint. WORRIED FATHER

Miss Kilgallen, Dead At 52, Began Rise To Fame In '36

NEW YORK (AP) — Dorothy Kilgallen, dead at 52, started her rise to fame as a columnist and television personality by circling the globe in a breath-taking 24 days.

The year was 1936 and by dirigible and by China clipper she worked her way across land and sea. Her daily reports made her a celebrity.

Death came to Miss Kilgallen Monday as she slept after appearing as a regular panelist on the Sunday night "What's My Line?" television show and writing her "Voice of Broadway" syndicated column.

An autopsy Monday night failed to reveal the cause of death. Dr. James Luke, examiner, said further tests will be made.

TV PANELIST

Even in death Miss Kilgallen was seen and read. Her column was published in the New York Journal-American and she was seen in a videotaped appearance on "To Tell the Truth."

As a newspaperwoman and as a television panelist, she was widely known for her persistent and sometimes tart questioning.

She was an effective contrast to the easy-going manner of Arlene Francis, the other woman on the four-member TV panel.

"She was just full of beans last night," said the program's moderator, John Daly. "She was in great spirits."

Miss Kilgallen was born in Chicago into a newspaper family. Her father, James L. Kilgallen, was with the now defunct International News Service for many years and is now with the Hearst Headline Service.

TO BROOKLYN

Her father was transferred to New York and she grew up in Brooklyn. As a summer cub reporter in 1931 she got her first by-line and never returned to college.

Her race around the world in 1936 catapulted her into fame.

After a brief time in Hollywood as a reporter—and one-time actress in "Winner Take All"—she returned to New York to start a Broadway column, a hitherto masculine field.

Occasionally she departed Broadway to cover some of the most important stories of her day.

She and her husband, Broadway producer Dick Kollmar, 54, lived in a five-story Manhattan town house. They had three children, Richard Kollmar Jr., Mrs. Larry Grossman and Kerry Kollmar.

Rookies To Man Gemini

HOUSTON (AP) — Two space-flight rookies, Elliott See Jr. and Charles Bassett II, have been chosen to man Gemini 9 next year. Bassett will propel himself on a stroll around the world.

Bassett will emerge from the spacecraft sometime during the two or three day mission wearing a new self-sustaining space-walk pack weighing 200 pounds on earth but nothing in the void of space.

TOP PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the mission will be to give the United States more experience in rendezvous and docking, where their craft actually parks with another object in space.

The target: An Agena rocket. Bassett is due to walk over to the Agena once it is locked with Gemini 9 and put a plate on the side of the rocket.

GATHER DATA

This special plate will gather information on cosmic dust and radiation. An astronaut on one of the three remaining Gemini flights will leave his capsule and retrieve the plate later.

Gemini 9, which could take off as early as April if the current schedule holds, is one of five two-man missions designed to link up with the Agena. The technique is vital to U.S. efforts to put a man on the moon.

Coahoma Lions Slate Supper

COAHOMA (SC)—Tickets are on sale for the Lions Club annual pancake supper, scheduled Dec. 4 in the elementary cafeteria from 5-8 p.m. Ducats will be 75 cents, with children under 12, 50 cents.

The Lions Monday heard Marshall Day, who brought the program, showing a film on Lucite paint. There were 16 present in the morning meeting held at Richters Cafeteria.

Several Projects Listed In Choir Booster Budget

Eighteen members of the Big Spring Choir Booster Association, Monday evening approved the budget to finance these projects for the 1965-66 school year: the donation of a $100 scholarship award to a deserving senior student who plans to take music at Howard County Junior College; the presentation of sweaters to eligible senior members of the high school choir; a concert tour in the spring for the senior high school a cappella choir; music recognition awards to junior high students; and a trip to the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Choral for interested students.

Initial fund raising projects will be the annual candy sale, the sale of sweat shirts by the choir departments, and the membership drive for all parents and persons interested in advancing choral music in the schools.

Dr. Halvard Hansen was installed as president for the coming year. Others installed were first vice president—Mrs. Lela Hansen; second vice president—Mrs. Vonna Lee Cederberg; third vice presidents—Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh, senior high; Mrs. Noble Rogers, Goliad Junior High; and Mrs. Roy Watkins, Runnels Junior High; and treasurer—Mrs. Nelda Colclazer.

Parliament In Britain Starts Stormy Session

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government entered a new and stormy session of Parliament today with its majority down to a single vote and with revolt threatening in Rhodesia.

But the 49-year-old Labor leader and his ministers were blandly proclaiming confidence they would ride out the tests and shocks of the legislative year ahead and emerge in front of their Conservative challengers.

Death and one election defeat have cut the government's margin over its Conservative and Liberal opponents from five votes to one in the 630-member House of Commons.

Special elections are due shortly to fill two vacancies previously held by Labor men. The Laborites are sure of winning one but face a tough fight in the other district.

Wilson nevertheless has projected among his followers a sense of certainty that they will win out against any acts of God or moves that Edward Heath's Conservatives might make.

One major factor Wilson holds to be in his favor is the fact that the nation faces an emergency from the threat of Rhodesia's white minority to seize independence. British voters rarely change governments in the midst of crisis.

As Wilson sees it, Jo Grimond and the other eight Liberals in Commons have neither the money nor the wish to risk their power-balancing role in another election.
