AGREES TO THREE MONTH CEASE-FIRE WITH EGYPTIANS

Israel Okays U. S. Plan

(AP WIREPHOTO)

MIDI-FLAG — These two rock fans wrap themselves up in the flag at the Powder Ridge ski area in Middlefield, Conn., Thursday, where an estimated 16,000 persons have assembled despite a court injunction barring a scheduled rock festival there. State police set up road blocks to prevent any more rock fans from reaching the area.

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israel accepted today the United States peace proposal for the Middle East and agreed to a three-month cease-fire with the Egyptians.

A government announcement said Israel had decided "to subscribe to the latest peace initiative of the government of the United States and to appoint, at the appropriate time, a representative for peace negotiations without prior conditions" under auspices of U.N. Middle East envoy Gunnar Jarring of Sweden.

Egypt and Jordan have already accepted the plan, but Palestinian guerrilla organizations have split on the proposal with the principal commando outfits vowing to continue the fight.

The Israeli Cabinet reached agreement at its fourth meeting on the U.S. proposal, which encountered strong opposition from rightist elements who had threatened to quit Prime Minister Golda Meir's coalition government if it accepted the American proposal.

The Israeli announcement said the decision on the cease-fire was reached after "taking into account the clarifications provided by the government of the United States."

This was taken to mean Washington's reported reassurances to Israel that it would continue to maintain the Middle East balance of power and prevent any of the warring parties from reaping military advantage from any cease-fire.

The Israelis fear the Egyptians will use a limited cease-fire to beef up their military defenses along the Suez Canal prior to renewing the fighting.

In Cairo, a spokesman for President Gamal Abdel Nasser warned Egypt's Arab critics to avoid "division in the Arab lines" over the American plan and Nasser's acceptance.

In new air action, Israeli planes staged a reprisal raid today on Jordanian army positions following rocket attacks by Jordan-based Arab guerrillas on Israeli settlements.

The military command in Tel Aviv said the Jordanian army has been aiding the guerrillas in their assaults against civilian targets.

All planes returned safely from the 25-minute raid, an Israeli spokesman said. He located the area hit as just across the border from two frontier settlements just south of the Sea of Galilee.

Nasser's spokesman, Information Minister Mohamed Hassanein Heikal said in his warning that Israel might undertake a "crazy act" if the Arabs turn their attention to matters other than the "armed struggle with the enemy."

Freedom From Fear Promised By Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Nixon has given the Israeli government his personal assurance that entering Middle East talks, as he proposed, would not endanger Israel's military position.

Nixon told a television-radio news conference at the Century Plaza Hotel Thursday night that he hopes Israel will join Egypt and Jordan in accepting his proposal for a 90-day cease-fire while negotiations move forward.

Acknowledging that some Israeli officials fear their enemies would take military advantage of a cease-fire, Nixon declared: "If there is a cease-fire a natural proposition connected with that, a condition with that, is that there will be a military standstill during that period."

18 QUESTIONS
The Israeli cabinet has been sharply divided over whether to accept the proposal with members of a right-wing party threatening to resign if it is.

Fielding 18 questions in 29 minutes, Nixon also told the audience of Washington and California newsmen:

"The administration will send federal officials into the South to promote full school desegregation when help is asked.

"We are not going to have forced policy in this area," he said. "Our policy is one of cooperation rather than coercion."

"The economy will be moving upward in the last half of 1970" with inflation being cooled. However, he said, he may have to veto some popular bills if Congress appropriates more than he wants and a request for higher taxes would be used as a last resort to keep the federal budget under control.

He believes his order sending U.S. ground troops into Cambodia increased the prospects for a negotiated peace. He said Washington and Saigon are in agreement on negotiation policy.

The chief executive urged Congress to move quickly to pass his environmental protection measures and, referring to the smog blanket that covered much of the East Coast this week, said: "It was perhaps fortunate in a way that the East Coast saw this problem in such a massive manner. Now we realize that we don't have much time left."

Nixon was asked about the report, made public earlier in the week, in which his special advisers on campus unrest said Nixon had not been paying enough attention to the problems of students and racial minorities.

The President countered that, while the federal government will do what it can to ease campus unrest, "it is a problem which college administrators and college faculties must face up to." He said he thought it "very short-sighted" for university presidents and professors "to put the blame for all the problems of the universities on the government."

Nixon also was asked about statements by his campus advisers that government should recognize the reality of fears of repression among students and minority groups.

"We do not believe in repression," the President said. "It is not a government policy."

His questioner had referred to some of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's public comments, to which Nixon replied:

SPEAKING UP
"I, of course, do not accept the proposition that the vice president represses people. It seems to me that people are very free in speaking up about the vice president. Many of them do to me."

At several points, Nixon expressed hope for at least limited success in the strategic arms limitation talks with the Soviet Union in Vienna. He said they were aimed at limitation of arms rather than disarmament.

And, responding to a question from a Los Angeles newsmen in this city with a heavy population of Mexican-Americans, Nixon said increasing job opportunities for Mexican-Americans was a "high priority" administration objective.

Bomb Rakes Men's Billet In Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — A bomb ripped through the ground floor of a U.S. enlisted men's billet in downtown Saigon tonight, causing extensive damage to the building and a half-dozen vehicles. First reports said there were no injuries.

American demolition experts said terrorists placed a 45-pound plastic charge adjacent to the 10-story Ky Son enlisted men's billet. About 400 Americans left the building and U.S. officers said all military men were accounted for.

The explosion hurled a large ball of flame into the sky and fire swept through the billet. Some adjoining Vietnamese frame buildings also were damaged, along with a half dozen military vehicles parked near the billet.

A string of American billets in the section have been bombed in previous terrorist attacks. The bombing was the first major incident in Saigon since July 20 when Viet Cong gunners fired two rockets into the capital. An apartment house was hit but no one was hurt.

Two days ago national police claimed to have broken up a Viet Cong terrorist ring in Saigon with the arrest of 12 cell members.

Six Crewmen Crash Victims

PIGGOTT, Ark. (AP) — All six crewmen aboard an Air Force C130 Hercules transport plane were killed Thursday night when the aircraft crashed and burned about one mile southwest of here.

The aircraft, attached to the 42nd Combat Training Wing at Little Rock Air Force Base, was on a training mission over northeast Arkansas, Capt. Jason Kappanadce, the base information officer, said.

No Defense Against Russian Space Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russian space bomb that orbited the globe this week is seen by some strategists as the Soviet Union's answer to America's development of an antiballistic missile system.

There is no defense against the space bomb, Pentagon officials said, and the Soviets are believed to have already deployed the weapon.

In announcing the test, the Defense Department warned, "This is further evidence of the continuing momentum of the Soviet development and test program for strategic weapons."

The main response to a space bomb would be the U.S. strategic mix of land and sea missiles and aircraft.

The Safeguard antimissile system, satellite monitoring and new long-range radars all bear on the space bomb but are still under development.

The Soviets tested their space bomb, or Fractional Orbital Bombardment System—FOBS—vehicle Tuesday, the Pentagon said.

It was launched from the Soviet spaceport of Tyuratam, Kazakhstan, traveling eastward across Mongolia, Red China, Japan, Chile, Argentina, East Africa and back to the Aral Sea recovery area.

The orbit was as high as 130 miles and as low as 90 miles. The whole trip took 90 minutes. The payload, if any, was not disclosed by the Pentagon.

U.S. planners look at FOBS as a way for Russia to get a sneak shot at American defenses. It is seen as coming at the United States from over the South Pole, eluding the extensive radar warning network already aimed northward for ICBM attack detection. The best use for FOBS, they say, would be a general target such as a B52 air base, or, possibly cities. It is considered less nearly accurate than ICBMs and therefore worthless against such pinpoint targets as U.S. Minuteman silos.

FOBS would descend from its orbit on command, delivering a warhead in the three-megaton range.

Fem Spent Days Trapped In Plane Wreckage, Dies

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A young woman who survived a plane crash and then spent three days on a mountainside waiting for rescuers, Betty Geyer of San Antonio, Tex., died today.

A funeral home spokesman in Roswell said Mrs. Geyer, 29, died in an air ambulance en route from a Roswell hospital to an Albuquerque hospital. A spokesman at St. Joseph Hospital in Albuquerque would only say Mrs. Geyer was pronounced dead by a doctor in the hospital.

Mrs. Geyer had survived the plane crash that killed six persons last Friday on Capitan peak near Ruidoso. She was found strapped into her plane seat in the wreckage when rescuers reached the crash site Monday.

The twin-engine Cessna 310 had crashed at about the 9,000-foot altitude level on a flight from Del Rio, Tex., to Ruidoso. Mrs. Geyer's husband, Robert Geyer, had said his wife was with a group going to the weekend horse races at Ruidoso Downs.

Killed in the crash were Mrs. Geyer's mother, Mrs. William Sumbling Sr., 47; Mrs. Geyer's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Sumbling Jr., 27 and 24, of New Braunfels, Tex.; the Sumbings' daughter, Sandy, 2; Mrs. Geyer's cousin, Gordon Lytton, 26; and the pilot, Jerry Gates, 24, Del Rio.

There was no immediate indication from hospital authorities on why Mrs. Geyer was being transferred from Roswell to Albuquerque. She had been reported in fair condition with pelvic and leg fractures. One report said she also received a concussion.

The air ambulance carrying Mrs. Geyer left Roswell at 5 a.m. today.

Her husband was at St. Joseph Hospital this morning.

$6 Million Job?
CHICAGO (AP) — The FBI said today it is investigating the disappearance of $6 million in negotiable bonds from a shipment from a New York bank to a Chicago bank.

'Hot Ice' Stolen

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer Bobbie Gentry says a diamond ring worth $20,000 has been stolen from the refrigerator of her home where she left it hidden in a wrapping of tin foil.

The ring was missing when she came home from the Landmark Hotel where she is now appearing. Miss Gentry told sheriff's deputies Thursday.

Detectives said the ring had 15 one-carat diamonds. It was given to Miss Gentry by Reno casino operator William Harrah, whom she divorced this spring after a four-month marriage.

Real Friendship!

DALLAS (AP) — Janice Arthur, 19, and Jerry Lee Goodwin, 24, of Oklahoma City said it was the least they could do for a friend. So when best man Larry Getso found himself in a hospital for appendix surgery on their wedding day, they had the ceremony transferred to his bedside.

SLICIN' UP THE BEEF — J. C. (Red) Woodard slices just a small portion of the barbecued beef that was served at the Old Settlers Reunion today. The meat has been sizzling since 11 p.m. Thursday.

Music, Barbecue, Friends Highlight Settlers Reunion

By LINDA CROSS
Fiddle music, the rich smell of barbecued beef and a feeling of friendship combined to form the atmosphere of the Old Settlers Reunion and barbecue at Comanche Trail Park this morning.

Settlers of all ages were milling around the pavilion and barbecue pits while the music of Texas Shorty could be heard throughout the area. Many, drawn to the pits by the smell of the barbecue, were trying to con Cecil Long, vice president of the reunion and "chief barbecue-er and bottle-washer," out of an early sample of his wares before the noon feed.

Long began barbecuing the 1,500 pounds of beef at 11 last night, and he and his crew have been taking turns tending the meat all night and this morning.

A special concoction called "son of a gun" stew is on the menu, too. The recipe for son of a gun is just not to waste anything — put everything in. One sampler said that the mess was well named. "It tastes like, well, like a son of a gun," he said.

Before the noon feed, some special awards were given to some special old settlers. The award for the oldest man in attendance went to Bass Lofton, 86, 508 E. 12th. Lofton came to West Texas in 1929 from Mississippi.

Mrs. J. M. Morgan, 98, was the oldest woman in attendance. Mrs. Morgan lives at 1500 Scurry. Her husband helped to build Howard County's second courthouse.

The settler who had come the longest way to attend was Clyde Hull, Phoenix, Ariz. Hull came to Howard County in 1909 and moved to New Mexico in 1933. He then moved on to Arizona.

Don Brooks, KHEM Radio, was the master of ceremonies and presented the honored settlers, Jess Slaughter, reunion president, awarded the awards.

Following the awards ceremony, the Rev. Elra Phillips gave the invocation and conducted a short memorial for the Old Settlers who have died.

The invocation was followed with the noon barbecue. The 1,500 pounds of beef, 200 pounds of beans and innumerable pickles and onions were served to the crowd of settlers by Long and his crew.

Texas Shorty provided "music to devour beef by" for the feasting Old Settlers.

CRMWD Directors Sell $800,000 Fund Bonds

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District cleared the way Thursday for another substantial extension to the system and a venture into a new phase of operations.

They sold to First National Bank of Fort Worth $800,000 in revenue bonds to finance the development of a ground brackish water system to supply the SACROC Unit in southwestern Scurry County. The bonds, with a 5 1/2-year maturity, will command 6 per cent interest.

The district is to develop a well field capable of supplying 60,000 barrels of brackish water per day. One well, drilled to approximately 700 feet, indicated ample production for the field, and contract was awarded to F. C. Wheeler, Stanton, for four more wells at $18,750 each. The district may negotiate for completion of the wells within 45 days rather than the specified 90 days.

Bids will be opened at the district offices in Big Spring at 10 a.m. Aug. 7, for 25,000 feet of 24-in. supply line, also for construction of this pipeline. Other contracts likely will be let soon for gathering lines and pumps. O. H. Ivie, general manager, said he hopes the new system can be completed in early fall. The project will stand on its own financially. While the district has supplied oil companies with water, this is the first time that it has developed wells for this purpose.

The board also approved an expenditure of $8,430 as its part of the cost of operating stream gauging stations.

Paschal Odum, assistant general manager, said the district's work force had done an outstanding job in meeting all water demands.

There was some discussion by directors of steps which might be taken to assure essential supplies of water for next summer should there be no appreciable runoff into Lake J. B. Thomas and Lake E. V. Spence. Ivie said that additional wells might be developed in the Snyder, Big Spring and Martin County areas without heavy cost. Other supplies, which are under consideration but which would require major investment, are in Ward and Winkler Counties to meet pressures on the west end of the system.

Farmer With First Bale Of Cotton Gets Cash Prize

When the first bale of cotton is ginned in Howard County, the cotton grower will receive a cash prize of about $500 in the award sponsored each year by the Agricultural Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The award has been given each year since 1937, with the prize money donated by Howard County ginners, cotton wholesalers and retailers, and other businessmen interested in cotton production.

There is a race each year between the Agricultural Committee members trying to get the money together and the cotton producers trying to get the crops in, and when the committee wins the money is ready when the first bale is ginned. Contest rules require that the bale weigh more than 450 pounds, certified by the gin manager, and the cotton must have been planted and produced on a farm covered by a Howard County ASC Farm Identification Number. The Chamber of Commerce office must be notified as soon as possible after the ginning is completed.

The amount of the award has varied somewhat over the years due to the amount of donations. The 1951 award was more than $900, and in 1964, 1965, and 1966 the first bale got $300 and the second bale earned $200.

Delbert Stanley, last year's winner, received $500.

Opening lead: King of ♠. Mismanagement of his resources cost South a vulnerable game contract in hearts.

West opened the king of clubs and South played the ace. A small heart was led at trick two and when West followed with the nine, the queen was put in from dummy—losing to East's king. A club came back putting West in and the latter switched to the ten of diamonds. South played North's ace.

The ace and king of spades were cashed followed by a spade ruff as East showed out. A heart to the ace put the dummy in to trump out West's remaining spade and establish North's long card in the suit. If the hearts had divided two-two, the six of hearts would have provided a late entry to cash the ten of spades for a much needed sluff.

When West showed out on the second round of hearts, declarer's hopes went glimmering. There was no way to avoid the loss of two diamonds and he went down to defeat.

North observed that if his partner had led the jack of hearts from his hand originally, dummy's queen is retained as a late entry to the spade. East can frustrate this plan however by holding off the king of hearts for one round.

South can assure his contract by going after the spades immediately. The ace and king are cashed followed by a third round ruff as East shows out. The trump finesse may be tried next, losing to the king. When North regains the lead with the ace of diamonds, a second spade ruff establishes the ten. Trumps are drawn by cashing the jack, and then leading to dummy's ace, and the good spade provides South with his 10th trick.

Bitter Partisan Battle Over Wage-Price Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members squared off today for a bitter partisan battle over giving President Nixon standby power to freeze prices and wages—temporarily—authority he says he neither needs nor wants.

Republicans contend the proposal is a purely political one designed to harass the administration.

Some of them are mounting a counterattack—an amendment that would put the freeze into effect by congressional action, without involving the President. They argue that if the Democratic Congress thinks controls are needed, it should take the responsibility—and any blame—for them.

'SHOTGUN' GIVER Democratic House leaders, however, are backing the stand-

City Transfers 5 To County Jail

Five prisoners were transferred Thursday by city police to Howard County Jail. Two of the prisoners are charged with possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs, two with burglary and one with attempting to pass a forged instrument.

Arthur Frank Ingle and Randy Rosewine Starnes, both of Pawnee, Okla., are in county jail on charges of possession of marijuana and dangerous drugs. Justice of the Peace Walter Grice has set their bond at $15,000 each.

Lorenzo L. Pineda, 27, 509 N. Lancaster, and Domingo C. Lemon, 22, Wyoming Hotel, were transferred to county jail on charges of burglary. Their bond was set at $2,500 by Judge Grice. Pineda posted bond and was released.

Gary Leroy Eckenbarger, 34, Oakland, Calif., was transferred to county jail Thursday also. Eckenbarger was arrested Wednesday and charged with attempting to pass a forged instrument. His bond was set at $2,000 by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter.

version. Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee, principal sponsor of the measure, said he does not think controls are needed at present, but "I'm willing to give the President a shotgun in the corner to use if he has to."

The provision was written by the Banking Committee, divided on party lines, into a bill to extend the Defense Production Act, authority for the government to control defense-important materials and facilities. The act expires at midnight, but the House passed Thursday a 15-day extension to allow time for both branches of Congress to complete action on regular extension legislation.

RUBBED RAW

The measure would give the President discretionary authority to freeze prices and wages at any levels not lower than those prevailing last May 25, when the bill was introduced. The authority would expire Feb. 28, 1971.

Republican nerves have been rubbed raw by continuing attacks on Nixon's economic policies, which Democrats describe as contributing both to continued inflation and increased unemployment. Specifically, Democrats have been castigating Nixon for not using broad powers voted last year to control and direct credit. The administration opposed this grant of standby authority also.

Democrats have been irritated by Nixon's repeated chiding of Congress for exceeding his spending figures and what he has termed inaction on other proposals, including crime legislation.

HIGHER TAXES

Nixon told a news conference Thursday night that the nation can avoid inflation and higher taxes only with cooperation from Congress.

"The next three months will be the critical time," he said. "If we don't get the cooperation, we will have to look for other means to raise revenue."

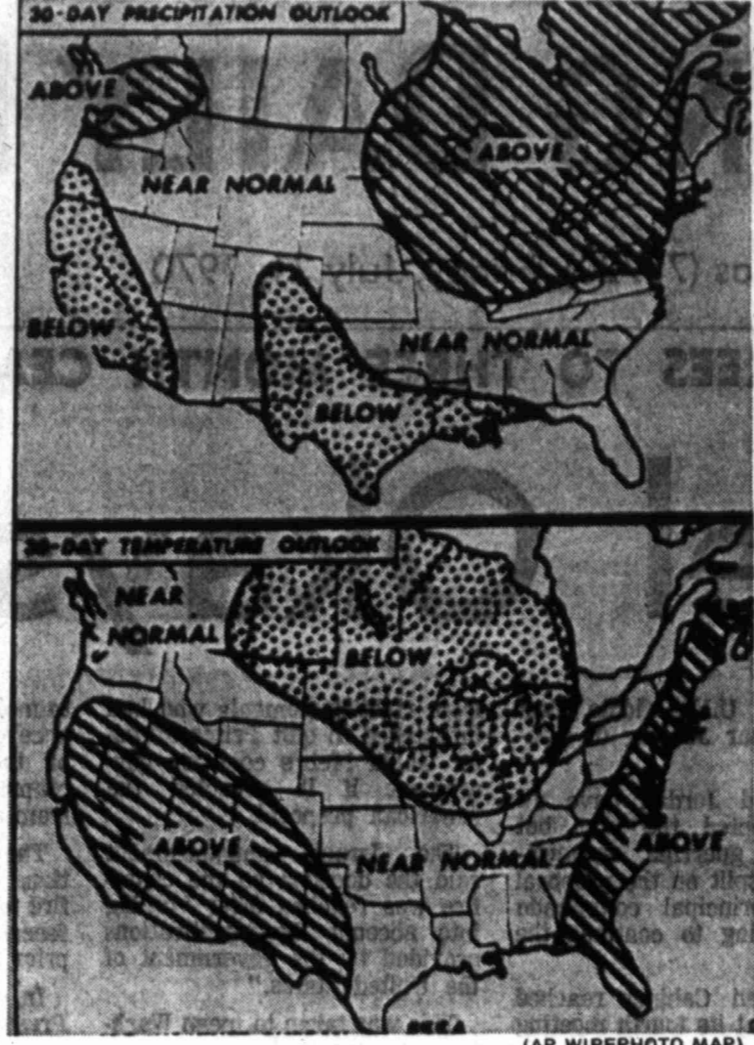

Asked whether he will veto education and housing bills that exceed his budget by nearly $1 billion, Nixon replied: "It is necessary for the President to represent all the people and to stand up against the very well-intentioned congressmen and senators who vote for these bills that benefit some people but could cost all the people in higher prices and taxes."

Big Spring Jaycees have set their annual community carnival this year for Sept. 1-5 College Park Shopping Center.

Proceeds of the annual carnival are used for the Jaycee community projects.

Starr County Vote Inquiry

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—An intensive federal investigation into alleged vote fraud in Starr County wound up Thursday when a federal grand jury returned indictments against three county officials and 15 others.

The six-count indictment accused the 18 of conspiring to injure and oppress certain voters during the course of absentee balloting prior to the May 2 primary election.

The indictment, returned by 22 members of a 23-member federal grand jury, alleges that the accused "conspired to injure and oppress the qualified voters in the free exercise and enjoyment of rights and privileges secured to them by the Constitution and laws of the United States."

Sheriff Rene A. Solis, 68, who is also a physician and considered one of the border county's top political leaders, headed the list of those indicted.

County Commissioner Amando Pena and Constable Reynaldo Alvarez were also indicted. A total of 1,203 persons cast absentee ballots out of a total vote of 8,168. Of those absentee voters, 454 claimed physical illness and most were signed by Sheriff Solis.

Others named in the indictment were Raul Villarreal, Santiago Clarke (also known as Jimmy Clarke), Felberto Salinas, Concepcion Alaniz, Max Gaytan, Leonel Solis Sr., Helen Bauer, Amelia Pina, Alvaro Canales, Brizido Escobar, Guadalupe M. Morado, Minnie Garcia, Augustin Moreno, Leonel Ramos and Federico Pilon.

The grand jurors heard testimony Thursday from a chartered bus load of elderly Starr County residents. One of those testifying was Mrs. Cruz Zarate who is both deaf and blind.

The witnesses were paid their witness fees by check and were allowed to cash the checks at the federal courthouse. This was reportedly done because some of them would be reluctant to cash the checks in Starr County and let it be known that they appeared before the grand jury.

A posse of several U.S. marshals accompanied the bus to and from Rio Grande City with marshals accompanying some of the residents to their homes. The grand jury panel included three Starr County residents.

One of them, Miss Margarita Luisa Munoz, listened to the testimony and then disqualified herself and left the room before the grand jury voted on the indictments. Miss Munoz is the daughter of Starr County tax assessor-collector Crisoforo Munoz.

U.S. Dist. Judge Reynaldo Garza said he would issue bench warrants for those indicted and would set a $2,000 personal recognition bond for each of them.

Why Should Cereal Be A Vitamin Pill?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The heavily fortified breakfast cereals proliferating on supermarket shelves would have to be removed under a revived government proposal.

Renewed action on the eight-year-old proposal follows nutrition crusader Robert B. Choate's Senate testimony last week describing most breakfast cereals as "calories and little else."

The Food and Drug Administration proposals for cereal enrichment would work on both ends of the spectrum—upgrading the content of the least nutritious while dealing a fatal blow to the nine cereals Choate described as nutritionally meritorious.

RESTORATION KEY

The proposal is in harmony with long-standing FDA policy of "restoration" rather than fortification, said agency attorney Robert N. Anderson, whose soon-to-be published findings of fact will set the stage for a hearing examiner's decision and presentation to the agency commissioner by fall for a final decision.

"Restoration" refers to adding to processed foods only as much nutrient as is found in the natural state but which might be removed by milling or processing. "When you begin to play with the food supply for a large population, there has to be a careful monitoring when you set out to change what nature has done," said Anderson in an interview.

Present regulations ban fluoride, vitamin K and folic acid but restrict no other nutrients. The proposed regulation—opposed by the food industry—would permit addition of only niacin, which wards off pellagra; thiamine, which combats beriberi; riboflavin, which promotes healthy skin, and iron, which enriches the blood.

Local Youths Attend Meet

Chartered buses carried youths from throughout the state to Waco Tuesday to attend the Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar on the campus of Baylor University.

Included in the group were two Howard County youths, Debra Buchanan and Richard Kiohr, both high school students.

Named to represent this area in the eight annual conference, the two youths will take part in extensive studies of citizenship, American heritage, the proper role of government and the threat of communism.

Debra is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buchanan, Gail Route, Big Spring. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Kiohr, Forsan.

In their four days on the Baylor campus, the 450 participants are staying in college dormitories and have access to university recreation facilities. The seminar ends Friday.

The FDA would require cereals to contain the following percentages of adult daily minimum requirements: thiamine, 10 per cent to 21 per cent; riboflavin, 2 per cent to 4 per cent; niacin, 5 per cent to 10 per cent; and iron, 5 per cent to 10 per cent.

The food industry, with the support of the American Medical Association, has proposed setting cereal fortification limits at between 25 and 100 per cent of adult requirements.

Kellogg's and Post, the two largest cereal manufacturers, list 11 cereals marketed now with iron content alone in excess of the FDA-proposed maximum.

Choate, a director of last year's White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health, testified that people aren't getting as much nutrition as they expect—or need—from cereals. FDA attorney Anderson disagrees.

GOOD QUESTION

"Why should cereal be a vitamin pill?" he said.

"Why should we get all our nutrients from one meal?" "I don't think people think they just have to give their kid a bowl of cereal in the morning and they'll be all set for the rest of the day," Anderson said.

The cereal enrichment program is part of a proposal which also would set standards for fruit juices, frozen desserts, powdered and fluid milk, milk fortifiers, processed fruit for infants and diet supplements.

UT Regents Will Hear Silber's Plea

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas regents meet today to hear Dr. John R. Silber make one last plea against a university reorganization plan that led to his dismissal as dean last week.

There were indications Silber would lose again today.

The scheduled hour-long debate over restructuring the College of Arts and Sciences climaxed a week of bitter controversy that some said equalled the 1944 furor when regents fired president Homer Rainey over academic freedom arguments.

Technically, the regents were asked today to:

—Adopt a plan of acting UT president Bryce Jordan to split the College of Arts and Sciences into three colleges—Humanities, Social and Behavioral Sciences and Natural Sciences—each with a separate dean under an overall provost.

—Or heed Silber's advice to continue the college, which taught 24,000 of the university's 36,000 students last year, under a single dean with associate deans over specified study areas.

Still others want the regents to do nothing now but wait until the full faculty and an expected 40,000 students return to the campus this fall.

Frank C. Erwin Jr., chairman of regents, said Thursday he thinks it is the "tendency" of the board to approve the Jordan plan. Erwin is former National Democratic Committeeman for Texas, a political ally of former President Lyndon Johnson and former Gov. John Connally and a political mentor to Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Silber, a quiet, boyish looking 43-year-old philosopher, was fired as dean last Friday by chancellor-elect Charles LeMaistre, a medical doctor who took over his new job July 9. No public explanation was given for Silber's dismissal except that Jordan recommended it in the best interest of the university.

Other sources have said that Silber, who was a possible choice as permanent president, was dismissed because Erwin thought he was "building an empire."

Picnic Ends Recreation Program

Around 225 youngsters were expected to take part in a picnic at noon today to celebrate the Citywide Summer Recreation program.

The final session of the 1970 program was unrelaxed during the morning and included demonstrations to show visitors what the boys and girls had been doing all summer. There also was a free swim period from 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. with the wiener roast and watermelon feast to follow. Newsom's, Safeway, Joe Jabor's, and Kwikie's gave the materials for the picnic.

Sam Dawson, who directed the Lakeview and Bauer sections of the summer program, said 158 had been enrolled at Lakeview and 85 at Bauer. Average daily attendance was 126 during June and July.

The program is made possible as a public service by the City of Big Spring, the United Fund, the Big Spring schools, and the YMCA.

Town Uncorks Liquid Assets Few Can Beat

LINCOLN PARK, Tex. (AP) — Lincoln Park is a small city (pop. 250) but it has liquid assets few can beat. It sits, a wet spot in the middle of a dry county soaking up the Texas sun, alluring as any desert oasis.

Most of the business comes from the nearby dry towns of Denton and McKinney, respectively 10 and 22 miles away. There's enough of it to keep two checkout lines busy most days, plus an extra one and a drive-in window at weekends.

The B&B Liquor Store and the B&B Beer Store are the only stores in town. They're mighty busy slaking the thirst of those who come from miles around. For if you take a few steps to the north, south, east or west, you're back in driest Denton County.

Lincoln Park, a city of 80 trailer homes, decided to go wet June 2, roughly 18 months after it sprang from a 46-acre pasture as the dream of two Dallas lawyers who knew their law about local option.

CHECKOUT LINES

After getting the new township properly incorporated, Parks W. Bell and John B. Foster called a poll of its 28 registered voters to decide on the crucial issue. Twenty-four wet carriers the day over four dries. Lincoln Park was in business.

Intensive Care Unit Is Approved

The local Veterans Administration Hospital has been approved for a six-bed intensive care unit, according to Jack D. Powell, hospital director. Construction on the unit will be completed sometime during the 1971 fiscal year.

The unit will provide continuous specialized care for patients with acute coronary, medical or surgical problems. The professional staff will monitor the patients' vital signs with the help of advanced electronic equipment similar to that used to check the astronauts during space flights.

liquor stores stand just across Texas Highway 24 from the mobile homes they serve. The White Oak Grove United Methodist Church, which got there first, regards them from dry territory a few hundred yards away.

Farmers in wide-brimmed straw hats and checkered shirts buy their drink from a man studying for a master's degree or a girl working for her Ph. D. Two 20-year-olds, humping cases of beer are seniors from Denton's North Texas State University. James Draper of Denton is studying marketing and getting first-hand experience. Pete Hollar of Pilot Point, Tex., is majoring in advertising. Sherry Gay, 21, who takes your money, is from Fort Worth and working for a master's degree in psychology.

Most of the staff of 22, in their bright red and white candy-stripe shirts, are from North State University, too. It's probably the most highly educated staff in any liquor store across the nation.

'UPTIGHT PLACE'

John Foster, one of the Lincoln Park founding fathers (his friend, Parks Bell, is Mayor), said the stores took in around $10,000 on their first day of business and have averaged about $3,000 since.

There was a little opposition from the dries, especially from the churches, at the start, he said, "but it didn't amount to much."

"We did it all very legal," said Foster. "We run a very uptight place." Foster says he can add another 100 trailer living units to Lincoln Park and extend its present 46 acres to about 300. A manufacturing company for mobile homes is moving in next year and there are plans for a swimming pool, a clubhouse, a barbecue and a pizza parlor.

Latest news is that two other Denton County townships are thinking of climbing on the liquor wagon. Lake Dallas plans a poll Aug. 8 and Little Elm, five miles down the road from Lincoln Park, is circulating a petition to the same end.

A Texas summer can make a man mighty thirsty.

Exec Training In New York City

O. C. Hart, vice-president of the Maryland Casualty Insurance company, is undergoing a two weeks' course in the Executive Training Workshop in New York City.

The workshop is jointly sponsored by the College of Insurance and Columbia University.

A native of Big Spring, O. C. is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. C. (Gus) Hart. He is a resident of Baltimore, Maryland.

Scouts Sell Safety Flares

Boy Scout Troop 6 will be engaged Saturday in a combination safety-fund raising project.

Members of the troop will call on residents, offering a package of three fuses (emergency flares) for use in event a car or truck is stalled on the highway at night. The flares put up a brilliant, distinctive light so that approaching cars will be warned of the stalled vehicle.

The flares have a burning time of 15 minutes each, and they have a shelf life of five years. Cost per packet will be $1.25, and net proceeds go to help finance camping and other activities of the troop, which is sponsored by the Salvation Army.

Cook's department store is cooperating by furnishing booth space, and the flares also will be available at the Texaco station operated at 2215 Wasson Road by Joe Hernandez.

BITING BACK — A chain reaction collision on a road near Reading, Pa., Thursday night among five cars saw this foreign compact going "underground" and winding up under the rear of a large car. Collision occurred during a light rain. Two riders in the compact were injured slightly.

A Devotion For Today . . .

PRAYER: Father, help us this day to listen to You. Take away your restlessness that we may hear Your quiet call to serve and answer with our lives. Amen.

The British Run A Railroad

Since the British started the railroad business, perhaps they can teach us something about operating profitable railroads. For the government-owned British railway system had a profit of $36 million last year.

The curious thing about the British operation is that passenger revenues, at $636 million, exceeded freight revenues of $630 million. Local commuter traffic, as in most of the United States, operated at a loss, however. But the decision was made long ago to operate at a loss where the need for transportation is overriding.

Why has passenger traffic in the United States been so uniformly unprofitable for railroads for so many years? Those who have never run a railroad may be more confident of an answer than those who have.

Why, for instance, would it not be profitable to run a high-speed train schedule successfully between Dallas and Houston? If operated properly, passengers could probably make the trip in only a little more time than by air, considering the time spent between downtown and the airport at both terminals. The trip would be less hectic and equally as comfortable. One distinct advantage would be that passengers would once again be able to survey the landscape and terrain, a lost art in jet airplanes.

At some point in time not now beyond recall, the long slide in railroad passenger service began. Chair cars and even some Pullmans were allowed to deteriorate. Dinners were dropped. Amenities disappeared. Courtesy and service declined. Few trains departed or arrived on time.

Railroad men tend to blame buses and airplanes for their loss of passengers and falling revenues. The complaint against planes, especially for long hauls, was a valid one. But it is difficult to make much distinction between taking a train or taking a bus.

So today the railroad's passenger service, with few exceptions, is in a shambles. Any time the Texas Railroad Commission is due to grant a request from Missouri Pacific Railroad to discontinue The Eagle, the last passenger service between St. Louis and Laredo, and the only train with a border connection.

It does seem possible that American railroad men could profit from a study of the British system. Perhaps they could find some ways of restoring railroad passenger traffic profit. For the need for railroad passenger service is going to become more acute as the population grows and highways become so clogged that surface transportation must come into its own again.

Money For Revolutionaries

J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI has been saying for a long time that much of the anti-American activity in this country is being assisted, both in finances and in direction, from outside the country. Some have disputed this.

U.S. intelligence sources now assert that revolutionary organizations received a whopping total of more than $6 million from foreign benefactors in 1969.

The money has been traced to the Soviet Union, Cuba, Communist China, North Vietnam and North Korea. Biggest contributors in Russia, the Chinese next, then Cuba.

The money mostly comes in as cash, although there has been some manipulation through Swiss bank accounts. And worse, there is suspicion that Communist countries have worked out a deal with small American exporters. The governments make a 10 to 20 per cent overpayment to exporters who in turn transmit sums to the "fronts" for revolutionary outfits.

The defenders of some of our militant groups protest that they operate under pure dissent, a right given by the republic. There is now evidence to the contrary, and again here is a demonstration of how our foes work to crumble our governmental and protective institutions.

David Lawrence

Problem Of The Black Colleges

WASHINGTON — Public attention has recently been focused on the efforts of many southern communities to organize white private schools, and the Internal Revenue Service has been ordered by the Nixon administration to deny tax exemptions to private contributors who want to make gifts for the purpose of aiding these projects. The explanation given is that the exemptions would be a form of "government support" for private schools attended only or primarily by white students.

BUT AN informative report on "government support" has just been issued here by the Federal Interagency Committee on Education, which embraces representatives of several departments of the government. The document is entitled "Federal Agencies and Black Colleges." It states in part:

"The federal government during 1969 provided slightly more than $4 billion for the support of institutions of high learning. The traditionally white colleges and universities received $3,922 billion of this amount, while the traditionally black colleges received $119.5 million, or 3 per cent."

THIS IS ONLY another way of saying that the federal government has been favoring white colleges while giving the black colleges very small sums. Also there apparently has been no objection to individuals making tax-deductible gifts to the black colleges in order to help them. The report adds:

"IN THE SUMMER of 1969, the black colleges, like most others, became increasingly concerned about their enrollments, faculties, and financial support. They were aware that white colleges, long ambivalent about integration of their campuses, but recently prodded by the federal government, were broadening their recruitment to include outstanding black students and superior black faculty members. Both these actions militated against the more poorly supported black colleges. They were also keenly sensitive about federal funds flowing to institutions of high learning, which they believed were moving to black schools in inequitable sums."

MANY FEDERAL programs, it is stated, exclude the black colleges. This is because most of the funds are aimed at graduate training and research. But the Federal Interagency Committee declares:

"The fact is that many do participate well in all programs which support undergraduate institutions. Indeed, black colleges often are more successful in obtaining federal grants than are traditionally white schools in certain parts of the country. Nonetheless, they could do better, and because of their modest resources and limited private support potential, should be considered in a special category by the Federal government."

THE REPORT recommends that the administration should move toward the elimination of "all matching fund requirements at colleges enrolling a large proportion of students and to the special needs of students disadvantaged in either economic or academic terms" and that new legislation should be proposed which will have relevancy "to the economic plight of black black colleges."

'It's Groovy To Be Young And Smarter Than Anybody'

John Cunniff Caught With Their Umbrellas Down

NEW YORK (AP) — The unexpectedly sharp rise in the wholesale price index for July was like a sudden summer shower on a day the weatherman had promised would be fair. A lot of people were caught with their umbrellas down.

A few days earlier, administration officials had pointed to a basketful of statistics that, they said, indicated the economy was returning to stability again, and that a less inflationary upturn could be expected soon.

If figures could throw cold water on opinions they would, but their mute testimony is devastating enough. In July, the Labor Department said, wholesale prices rose at a 6 per cent annual rate.

It was a slowdown in the increase of wholesale prices that had led the administration to be optimistic. For two months before July the rate of increase was only 2.4 per cent. And the worst seemed to have been reached way back in January. The sudden increase, therefore, was shocking.

Generally speaking, wholesale prices work their way down through the economy like water through a sponge, being absorbed to some extent until they spill out over retail markets weeks and months later.

True, some of the present rise might be absorbed before it reaches the consumer, but don't bet on it. Business is complaining about lagging profits and isn't in a mood to take on added costs. Quite likely they'll pass them on.

One outside possibility still exists that the situation might not be really so bad as portrayed by the wholesale price index. That is, the fluctuation could be a fluke. Perhaps the index is inaccurate.

That, at least, is the belief of George Stigler of the University of Chicago, who co-authored with James Kindahl of the University of Massachusetts a book that is highly critical of the government's methods of compiling prices.

Says Stigler, "I am absolutely confident that there has been extensive price cutting during the slowdown of the past six to eight months; but these cuts have not showed up in the government's WPI."

In their book, "The Behavior of Industrial Prices," the authors contend that price cuts have been made right under the noses of researchers but have been ignored.

The WPI, for example, uses in its compilations the prices that sellers list in their catalogs, taking into account only standard discounts.

Stigler and Kindahl contend that many buyers today are actually paying much less than listed prices because of special discounts, tie-in sales, introductory offers, shipping concessions and so on.

Regardless of which is the more accurate measure, the WPI as compiled by the government, or the buyers' price index as proposed by Stigler and Kindahl, price action in the next few months is going to tell a big story.

If wholesale prices continue to rise then there is little possibility of consumer inflation being dramatically reduced in the next few months. It might take a lot longer than was originally anticipated.

To Your Good Health Electric Blankets For The Small Fry?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: When our eldest son entered the service, the youngest, now 5, "inherited" his room and electric blanket.

Since then neighbors have said an electric blanket is not advisable for a child that age, and that it will lower his resistance. At this point I don't know what to do next fall when the weather turns cold.

—MRS. J. J. H.
It's nice that the little fellow "inherited" a room of his own. And the electric blanket won't "lower his resistance."

All the same, but for other reasons, I'd quietly put the electric blanket away and not bring it out next fall.

First, a child's metabolism is sufficiently active to generate his own heat without electrical help. In fact, if he gets too warm, that will disturb his sleep.

I'd save it for use only in bitter cold weather.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I enclose

25 cents and a self-addressed stamped envelope for your booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble." A woman once told me she used a solution of boiled water, salt, and soda, with a small baby syringe, and swore it kept her sinus open. Would this be any help? —Mrs. E.M.C.

We have a number of sinuses, or cavities connected with the nasal passages, as will be explained in the booklet. I would suggest that your friend didn't know this, and that furthermore her trouble, whatever it was, probably wasn't sinus disease.

Indiscriminate use of salt water in that fashion can, indeed, even spread infection if any exists, and makes matters worse. I suggest that you not try it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 77 and for several months I have been menstruating, not much but enough to be miserable. This last week I almost hemorrhaged, and I went to bed for two days.

I am on Social Security and can't afford to go to a doctor as often as I should, so I am hoping you will tell me what to do. —E.R.

Depending on other factors which I would have to know to give you an answer, this bleeding may be a serious matter. If you're on Social Security, then you are old enough for Medicare, too. My advice: whether you are able to afford it or not, go to a doctor. That's the item of first importance. Then, when you are getting the medical advice or treatment that you need, make the necessary arrangements to have further care under Medicare or Medicaid, which was set up explicitly for folks in your age bracket.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment, write in care of The Herald, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Ooooooooooooooh!

I wish to report (breathlessly): They have found the missing link between cigarettes and lung cancer — the chain smoker.

MY DRINKING cousin, Bobby Harris, and I were camping out at Lake Texoma on my vacation. We were eating breakfast about sunrise and I noticed he had his hand in his bowl of breakfast food, and asked: "What in the world are you doing?" "Feeling my oats," bragged Bob.

Oh, "Round The Town" editor, don't you agree happiness is not using the overworked phrase "Happiness is . . ."

AN OLD CITY editor of mine, Ralph Sewell of the Daily Oklahoman, used to hand a publicity release to a reporter and say: "Give me half a paragraph on that." He had some staff members who could and did.

My priceless cousin, Price Everett, probably the fastest pun in Bridgeport, has a stirring story about our national pastime, which when last heard from was baseball.

After several innings of a game in which the pitcher repeatedly "shook off" the catcher's signals, the catcher stalked out to the mound.

"When this is over," he told the pitcher disgustedly, "I'm going to dedicate a song to you." "Yeah?" the pitcher replied. "What song?" "You are my shun-sign!"

A. G. HALL, 1501 Scurry, was amused by an ad in The Herald boasting that this particular flea Tiny Tim canceled a performance recently because he lost his voice. Count your blessings, friends.

With the bonuses being offered employees for pleasing the customers, a stewardess is likely to suggest: "But we have several other countries you might like."

True, you can't win 'em all. But you notice that they only remember Custer's last stand.

THE WOMEN'S Liberation Movement demands equal rights for women at all levels.

It's the best illustration there is of feminine logic.

Marquis Childs A Cease-Fire For The Mideast

WASHINGTON — To a group of skeptical Congressmen Assistant Secretary of State for the Middle East Joseph J. Sisco expressed confidence that a Mideast cease-fire could be safely policed to prevent violations. This could be done through satellite and electronic surveillance without a ground patrol by a neutral force, which would, in any event, be unworkable.

SISCO MADE a convincing case even with members with large Jewish constituencies pushing for all-out aid for Israel. With most thoughtful members, including those committed to the Israeli cause, this enhanced their admiration for the skill, the finesse and dedication the Assistant Secretary on the hot spot has put into the Middle East peace initiative.

A cease-fire for 90 days is crucial to the proposal. It is central to Secretary of State William P. Rogers' call to stop shooting and start talking. But, at the source of the deepest Israeli fears, it could frustrate the peace plan before it has been given a trial.

THE ISRAELIS fear that Egypt will use the 90 days to increase the buildup of protective missiles along the Suez Canal. With Soviet technical direction the Nasser forces will move in advance SAM equipment, making the Egyptian position impregnable. Israeli air attacks thus precluded, the Egyptian force could sooner or later move to the attack. That is the nightmare haunting beleaguered Israel.

THE PROFOUND change is Gamal Abdel Nasser's unconditional acceptance of the American proposal with the recognition of Israel's territorial integrity. This was obviously brought about during Nasser's 19 days in Moscow. An effort by Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko on a special mission to Cairo for the same goal had failed earlier.

The about-face is widely taken as a clear indication that the Soviet Union wants to avoid a confrontation with the United States in the Middle East. Nor does Moscow want to see the destruction of Israel.

THOSE WHO CRY doom will, of course, put another interpretation on the shift. It is only a temporary ploy to insure the weakness of Israel as the military buildup of the Arab states goes on in secret while Washington withholds the Phantoms and the advanced defensive missiles Israel seeks.

SOME OF ISRAEL'S most-devoted friends in Congress have concluded that time is running out for embattled Israelis. Fifty more Phantoms, 100 more, far from swinging the balance, this could only lead to a greatly enlarged war. And America's role in that war — still another war — has been the subject of endless hours of speculation in top government councils. The premise that Nasser could be forced to the peace table by bombing was always dubious. It had long since been demonstrably false.

The hopeful change that has occurred may be merely illusion. It could be shattered by any number of events, an accident or willed by those who want the initiative to fail. But that the landscape has changed is undeniable.

Andrew Tully Speaker For Sanity On The Campus

WASHINGTON — A professor named Sidney Hook, who has been around some, apparently sneaked into those hearings of the President's Commission on Campus Unrest when nobody was looking. So before they indict him for sanity — whoopee!

HOOK TEACHES at New York University and has been recognized as a philosopher of high competence even by the befuddled New York Times, for which he occasionally writes a piece. Which is by way of saying that when Hook calls college administrators and faculties a passel of poltroons he should not be suspected of doing his bit for pay for the American Legion, the U. S. Chamber of Commerce or the Association of Retired Cotton Plantation Overseers.

WHAT HOOK deserves a medal for is his causal daring in calling these allegedly intellectual educators plain stupid. The fact that Hook politely dressed his charge in the phrase, "failure of intelligence," merely reveals that he can speak the language of academe.

A medal? How about renaming Pennsylvania Avenue for an educator who rejects the fashionable premise that unless social and foreign policy problems are solved, campus disruptions and violence will continue? And who goes on the describe as "noisome hogwash" the "poisonous claim that the current threat to academic freedom comes from outside the university?"

IT IS A measure of the confused and chickenhearted thinking of the times that Hook found it necessary to remind us all of a fact of life in this Republic. To wit, "The political process is open to students and faculty on the same footing as all other qualified citizens to express their point of view."

This, of course, is a fact the rioters and arsonists and abductors on campus have purposefully overlooked, possibly because it is not as much fun to participate in an orderly and rational dialogue.

THIS BRINGS us to what Hook calls the "connivance of university administrators in behalf of causes that had nothing to do with educational issues." These administrators, says Hook, have "substituted for the goals of learning the political goals of action."

For his courage, I suppose Hook will be dropped from his club and cut on the street by his more exquisite colleagues. But if those who write the history of this lunatic era are not completely bereft of their senses, they will find room for one of his utterances that explains what this Republic is all about.

THE COMMENT is more: it is a tribute to the system. It reads, simply, "There will always be social and foreign policy problems in an open society of uncoerced opinion."

MRS. JACK ALLEN TONN (Frank Brandon Photography)

Couple United In Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen Tonn are on a trip to San Antonio following their marriage Thursday evening in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tonn, 1712 E. 15th. The bride is the former Miss Pamela Sue Dewees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Dewees, 1904 Alabama.

The wedding party stood before an improvised altar enhanced with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and emerald foliage as the ceremony was read by the Rev. Dale Cain, pastor of East Fourth Baptist Church. Miss Diane Oliphant, organist, accompanied Miss Kendra Dewees, sister of the bride, as she sang "More" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Stan Wegman of Lubbock was matron of honor, and another sister, Miss Tammie Tonn, was bridesmaid. They wore sleeveless A-line dresses of pink crepe and carried nosegays of feathered pink carnations tied with white satin.

Stan Wegman of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man, and his brother, Randy Tonn, served as groomsmen.

The bride's attire was a street-length dress of white peau de soie caged lace and fashioned with a cowl collar. The long lace sleeves were flared and accented with a small bow. Her cascade of feathered white carnations were backed with tulle and showered with picot ribbon.

Miss Anita Hickey was in charge of the bride's book, and members of the house party were Mrs. Pete Sanderson, Mrs. Arnold Tonn and Miss Jerre Tonn.

The reception table was covered with a floor-length white net cloth, embossed with roses, over a pink underlay. The columned cake was trimmed with pink roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Appointments were crystal and silver, and the centerpiece was an arrangement of white spider mums and pompons.

For traveling, Mrs. Tonn wore a chestnut brown tailored linen suit with gold and brown scarf and brown accessories. Upon returning, the couple will reside at 15 April Lane.

Tonn graduated from Big Spring High School, where he was active in Industrial Cooperative Training, as did his wife, who participated in Vocational Office Education and was a member of the Shorthand Club.

Tonn is employed by American Magnesium Company in Ira.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Troy Wheeler, Hobbs, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Campbell, Winters; and Mrs. and Mrs. Jake Tonn of Fort Worth.

Rev. Bradley has announced that the church grounds are prepared for installation of playground equipment. Donations of slides, swings and other equipment for the children's recreation are welcomed.

Mrs. Ernest Bauch has been rehired as director of the Westside Recreation Center, it was announced Tuesday at the Women's Society of Christian Service meeting at Wesley United Methodist Church. The recreation center will be reopened soon.

New officers were installed to assume duties in September. Mrs. Don Crockett officiated as Mrs. Ben Boadle was installed as president with Mrs. David Pohl, vice president; Mrs. Ray Anderson, secretary; Mrs. Don Morgan, treasurer; and Mrs. Morris Holmes, assistant treasurer.

Recommendations from the executive board concerning programs, gifts and memorials were adopted. The WSCS will use money from memorials to buy permanent gifts for the church and books for the church library.

Mrs. Alta King and Mrs. J. E. Peters worded the prayers. The next meeting of the circles will be Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Don Morgan, 2406 Cheyenne. Study programs will be discontinued at the monthly WSCS meetings.

Slender Benders Plan Style Show

The "Back to School" style show being sponsored by the TOPS Slender Benders was discussed at Tuesday's meeting at Midway School with Mrs. Tommy McFarland presiding. The show will be Tuesday.

The program was given by Mrs. Douglas Ernst who spoke on hair styles.

The 16 present reported a 12½-pound total weight loss. Due to the style show, there will be no meeting at the school Tuesday. On Aug. 11, secret pals will be revealed, and members were reminded that, beginning in September, gifts will be exchanged once each month. The fruit basket was won by Mrs. Ovis James and Mrs. W. R. Morrison.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: My insurance man seemed to think that this was a real good idea so I thought I would share it with you.

You know when you make a claim for a loss (from fire or theft) with your insurance company, it is necessary to give an itemized list and a complete description of the article or articles covered.

This is not always an easy task, and, to simplify the matter, I have made, in addition to a list, pictures of the articles with my camera.

Several of the items that I consider to be very valuable, for instance a very old and dear Banjo Clock and a couple of antique chests, I have photographed from several angles.

After taking the pictures and compiling the list (and the list should be made before the loss and not afterwards), I make a special trip to my bank and put it in my safety deposit box.

I feel that this little extra worry on my part would be of great help in settling a claim. . . . Dorothea Engleman

"One picture is worth a thousand words," and, in this case, there is certainly no doubt about it.

Take a bow, Dorothea, in fact several of them — you do, indeed, deserve a BRAVO!!! . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here is another word of appreciation for your wonderful nylon net. I have a treasured hooked rug with scalloped edges made by my mother some time before she died.

It was beginning to ravel rather badly around the edges. I tried binding it with tape and with bias-cut material, but it was not satisfactory.

So I used matching nylon net! After mending the frayed edge of the rug, I doubled the net in strips about 2½ inches wide and bound the rug with that.

It was necessary to use a strong thread and a glover's needle which easily penetrated the thick, closely woven rags with which the rug was hooked.

The results were marvelous — it was neat, firm and altogether pleasing. . . . Mrs. T.R. Blanchard

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Many mornings I do not have time to read the newspaper so I cut out "Heloise," clip them all together and read them while I'm under the dryer at the beauty shop. This is good reading and I have time to concentrate on getting beautiful . . . hints. . . Ruth

Dear Heloise: When I was a new bride in a small apartment I had no place to keep my potholders where they would be handy. They were always lying on the countertops where they were constantly in my way — and my husband's.

One day while I was out, he hung up a rack that was meant to hold kitchen utensils and hung my potholders on it. The rack had six hooks so it holds all the potholders I have and now it's hanging right beside my stove.

A lot of people have noticed it and commented that they were going to do the same thing. . . . Mary

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Pre-Nuptial Party Held For Miss Vicki Vaughn

Miss Vicki Vaughn, bride-elect of Larry Callihan, was honored with a bridal shower Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. R. L. Cooper, 3213 Drexel. The honoree wore a blue knit A-line dress accented with a white tie and accessories. She was presented a white spider mum corsage as were her mother, Mrs. Curtis Vaughn Sr., and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. Ross Callihan.

The refreshment table was covered with a blue cloth overlaid with white crochet and centered with white turtle doves atop ruffled tulle sprinkled with flowers. Candelabras flanked the centerpiece, and silver and milkglass appointments were used. Mrs. Thomas Yeats and Mrs. Harold Mossholder served. Guests included Mrs. Gladys Craver and Miss Cheryl Vaughn, grandmother and sister of the bride-elect; and Miss Sherri Lynn Callihan, sister of the prospective bridegroom.

Hostesses were Mrs. Jesse Mayors, Mrs. Floyd Williams, Mrs. Wayne Dow, Mrs. V. C. Rigdon, Mrs. Howard Shaffer, Mrs. Frank Goodman, Mrs. Henry Adams, Mrs. Roy Watkins, Mrs. Ruth Hampton, Mrs. B. L. Griffin, Mrs. Bill Swindell and Miss Arlene Hartin.

The couple plans to marry Aug. 15 in Trinity Baptist Church.

Continental Singers Due Here For Concert

The Continental Singers and Orchestra, world-touring group which scored a smash hit before a filled auditorium here last year, will be back at the First Baptist Church Aug. 26 at 7:45 p.m. All music lovers are urged to reserve this date. There is no admission, although an offering will be taken.

The organization is made up of 20 singers and 20 instrumentalists selected by audition from all over the United States. The majority of these young people (ages 17-24) are professional musicians or are majoring in some area of music in various colleges and universities around the country.

Their 90-minute program will include concert anthem selections, hymn arrangements, gospel songs, spirituals, and folk adaptations.

The Continental Singers have been touring the United States for the past six years. In 1965, they traveled throughout Western Europe appearing in the Caribbean countries, and in 1968, to the Far East and the Caribbean Islands.

They have performed on many television shows at local television stations around the country and were the regular music for a TV series entitled, "The World of Youth." The group has made six long-play record albums.

In addition to the U.S. summer itinerary for 1970, the group will be presented around the world, throughout Europe and Latin America.

Although not in the group which will be here, two Big Spring young women have been performing with the singers. They are Carolyn Montgomery and Lucia Taylor.

College Students To Sing For Baptist Revival Here

"We Three Kings," folk singers with a Christian message, will be featured in East Fourth Street Baptist Church's revival Aug. 3-9. Services will begin at 7:45 each night.

The folk-gospel group is composed of three young men, Jim Faull, Skip Dean and Mark Sutton. They call themselves the Three Kings because "they bring their gift of musical talent to the Lord as did the Wise Men long ago."

Between their appearances in the Southwest, the three are trying to finish their college education. "We Three Kings" has performed for many of the Southern Baptist Conventions and at NASA Space Center in Houston.

Their repertoire includes gospel music, hymns and contemporary religious music done in a popular-folk style. All three play musical instruments and accompany themselves. Jim Faull plays the guitar and trumpet, Mark Sutton, guitar, and Skip Dean, a bass. Mark Sutton, a tenor, and Skip Dean, a bass, are the vocalists.

Sutton has written a song that "expresses the philosophy of the group — that you can be happy and have fun as a Christian." The song is called "Happy Am I." All three have written songs that have been recorded in their albums.

Church Briefs

Midland Pastor Featured Speaker

AUSTIN — Dr. L. L. Morriss, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Midland, will be the featured speaker during a religious service in the State Capitol House Chamber Sunday.

The special service is scheduled at 8:45 a.m. in conjunction with the Texas Youth Conference's "Summer Conference," today through Sunday in Seguin and Austin.

"We are pleased that Dr. Morriss will join us for this phase of the conference," conference director Jack Ladd said. "He is highly regarded among the clergy of our state as a man who relates directly with young people and adults."

Morriss is president of the Midland Ministerial Association and serves on the board of trustees of Baylor University and the board of Paisano Encampment, Alpine. He received a George Washington honor medal award from the Freedoms Foundation, Valley Forge, Pa., in 1962.

Some 1,000 Texas teenagers and adults are expected for this year's "Summer Conference," the TYC's eighth annual summer conference.

Youth Choir To Be Here Aug. 14

The Youth choir of Trinity Baptist Church in San Antonio will sing at the First Baptist Church the evening of Aug. 14. The choir will be en route home from a singing tour to California, and this will be one of the last appearances of the tour.

Leroy Yarbrough, director of music in the San Antonio church, is director of the choir of some 65 to 70 voices.

Elbow Church Homecoming Set

Central Baptist Church, Elbow, is planning a special homecoming celebration Sunday. Pastor William C. McMillian will deliver the early message and former pastors of the church will deliver afternoon messages as special guest speakers.

The musical program will feature several groups from Westside Baptist Church and the Wilburn Family Singers.

Lunch will be served in the Elbow Elementary School cafeteria and all former members and friends of the Elbow church are invited to attend by the Rev. McMillian.

Among the returning pastors will be the Rev. Ben Ferguson and Mack Alexander. The Rev. Ferguson is retired from the ministry and Alexander teaches in Forsan.

Congregations Join Facilities

GREEN RIVER, Wyo. (AP) — A United Church congregation, the Union Congregational Church, that started out in a saloon 83 years ago is pooling resources to build a new church in cooperation with an Episcopal congregation, St. John's, which has been a town landmark since 1892.

They'll share the new $165,000 sanctuary by adjusting times of their Sunday morning services, while children will have Sunday school classes together.

Soviet Baptists Minimize Growth

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The president of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary says there are more than 2 million Baptists in the Soviet Union.

Dr. Duke K. McCall said, "It's not wise for religious leaders to advertise publicly the growth in their church membership (in the U.S.S.R.) and they know it."

The church claims about 510,000 Baptists in Russia, but McCall said there are many more than that figure.

OCEAN'S EDGE OCEAN'S EDGE OCEAN'S EDGE

Yesterday I saw the ocean for the first time. Jim and I had been invited to a house party at a cottage on the shore. Having recently moved East from the Midwest, I had anticipated nothing more on the drive down than a week-end of fun and games, swimming and dancing.

But I wasn't prepared for the ocean. Its grandeur and beauty stirred me. Today I walked along the beach for long hours watching the waves or searching the shore for shells, listening to the wonderful roar of the sea as white-caps splashed around me.

Tonight as I stood at ocean's edge, the stars seemed near. Breakers crashing rhythmically sprinkled phosphorescence on the sand. For an instant I was caught within infinity. Sky, beach and tides contained me—in that moment I saw God.

I may never again achieve the clarity of that second on the beach, but someday I may. For this experience has awakened in me a longing to know more about God and the Truths the beauty of His world reveal.

Next Move Is Up To Owners

By The Associated Press

A scoreless tie existed today in the pro football contract dispute after the veteran players put the owners on the offensive with a coffin-corner kick.

National Football League veterans, almost to a man, refused to report to training camp Thursday after the owners hung out the welcome sign.

It thus appeared to be the owners' move next.

"The situation is more critical than people think," said Wellington Mara, president of the New York Giants.

He said his team's scheduled exhibition with Green Bay Aug. 8 would probably be cancelled if the situation isn't settled by this weekend.

"If we lost the exhibition game," said Mara, "we lost $1 million. That money will have to come out of the players' salaries in some way."

When no veterans showed up at the Cincinnati Bengals' camp Thursday, General Manager Paul Brown closed shop. Apparently dismayed over the bitter, sometimes-volatile contract war, Brown said it could mean the end of the 1970 season.

There were only 15 yearlings left in the Bengals' site in Wilmington, Ohio.

Another owner, who asked to remain anonymous, was more optimistic.

"I really don't think we've given them enough time," he said. "Twenty-four hours just wasn't enough time for most players to pack their bags and get to camp."

"I think you'll see their ranks beginning to break up Saturday because if they don't get to camp over the weekend they stand to miss a paycheck for the first exhibition games."

Apparently hoping to undermine the unity of the striking NFL Players Association, owners unwatched their training camp gates Wednesday with the exhibition season only a week away.

Torborg On Target As Dodgers Romp

By The Associated Press

Jeff Torborg, who used to be a no-hit catcher in more ways than one, has shed his mask and revealed himself as a fence-buster.

Torborg, who caught Sandy Koufax' fourth no-hitter five years ago and handled Bill Singer's no-hit gem two weeks ago, pined his first home run since 1967 as Singer and the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped Montreal 7-3 Thursday night.

The 28-year-old receiver, a 211 lifetime hitter, crashed a three-run homer in the fourth inning and blooped a run-scoring single in the seventh for the biggest offensive binge of his seven-year career with the Dodgers.

"After I hit that bloo single," he said, "my teammates said that I had moved their defense back after the homer and then trickered them by dropping one in."

SINGER BREEZES
Torborg's four-RBI night helped Singer breeze to his fifth consecutive victory for an 8-3 season mark. The hard-throwing right-hander, who bounced back from a spring hepatitis attack and fired a no-hitter against Philadelphia on July 20, checked the Expos on six hits and struck out 10.

In other National League games, Cincinnati downed Pittsburgh 8-4; St. Louis topped Atlanta 4-2 and the Chicago Cubs trimmed Houston 6-3.

In American League play, Cleveland shaded Minnesota 3-2; Oakland nudged Boston 2-1; Milwaukee beat Washington 6-2 and Kansas City nipped Detroit 3-2 in 10 innings.

Torborg keyed a four-run Los Angeles burst in the fourth with a shot over the left field fence off Dan McGinn after singles by Ted Sizemore and Bill Russell. It was his seventh major league homer.

"I remember the last one," he said. "It was off Rich Nye in Chicago. Don Drysdale was pitching for us."

"Four runs batted in in a game is a high for me. I've had three before, but never four."

The home run and single gave him 10 RBI for the year and boosted his batting average 10 points to .227. He has batted .161 and .185 in the past two seasons as a part-time catcher.

GETS 35TH HOMER
Johnny Bench clubbed his 35th homer—high in the majors—for two Cincinnati runs: Tony Perez drove in two more with a single and his 31st homer and Lee May cracked a two-run single as the Reds beat southpaw Bob Veale to remain 12 games ahead of the second place Dodgers in the NL West.

The loss trimmed the Pirates' East Division lead over the idle New York Mets to one-half game.

Lou Brock slammed two bases-empty homers and Joe Torre hit a third, leading the Cardinals past Atlanta. Rookie Jerry Reuss shut out the Braves until the ninth, when Clete Boyer kayoed him with a two-run homer.

Johnny Callison homered and Billy Williams drove in his 98th and 97th runs of the season with a single—surpassing by one his total run-production of 1969—as the Cubs pasted the Astros behind Ferguson Jenkins.

Cotton Mize mounted the pitching knob for Baroid and scattered seven hits. One of those was a first inning home run by Ken Strickland. Tiny Burdette had a second-inning double for the Merchants.

Baroid backed up Mize with a nine-hit offensive and was guilty of only one error.

Baroid plays Havlik Roofing of San Angelo in the winners' bracket at 8 o'clock this evening. The Merchants return to play in the losers' bracket at 6:30 o'clock.

Havlik is also undefeated but has played only one game. That resulted in a win over Forsan.

LACK OF ENTRIES RESULTS IN CANCELLATION OF MEET

ODESSA — Rumors which have been circulating about West Texas for months became fact earlier this week when the $35,000 Odessa Pro-Am Golf tournament was cancelled. The meet had been scheduled for Aug. 19-25.

Lack of entries caused the tournament committee to call off the colorful event.

The PGA had put the meet in a strait-jacket by announcing that only pros in the North Texas chapter of the PGA could compete. The NCAA then dealt it a death blow by ruling that collegians could not team with pros and take part in such a meet.

The tournament was founded in 1949 by Shorty Hornbuckle and had flourished through the years. The tournament did banner business at the gate for a couple of seasons when entertainer Dean Martin took part.

Such outstanding pros as Cary Middlecoff, Gay Brewer, Byron Nelson and Billy Maxwell have competed in the meet in other years.

Baroid Trounces Merchants, 6-1

STERLING CITY — Baroid Chemical of Big Spring remained undefeated in the second round of the Sterling City Invitational Softball tournament by defeating the Big Spring Merchants Thursday, 6-1.

Tommy Arista led Baroid at bat by clubbing three hits, two of them home runs. Albert Mendoza had two safeties in four tries for Baroid, one of them a four-master.

Cotton Mize mounted the pitching knob for Baroid and scattered seven hits. One of those was a first inning home run by Ken Strickland. Tiny Burdette had a second-inning double for the Merchants.

Baroid backed up Mize with a nine-hit offensive and was guilty of only one error.

Baroid plays Havlik Roofing of San Angelo in the winners' bracket at 8 o'clock this evening. The Merchants return to play in the losers' bracket at 6:30 o'clock.

Beauty Pageant Will Be Held At Raceway Here

A gala beauty pageant will add color and excitement to the Big Spring Raceway motorcycle races this weekend.

The short track events will be featured in races starting at 8:30 p.m. today at the Raceway (formerly the Sahara Drive-In Theatre) on Interstate 20 just west of Big Spring. Contests are slated in the mini-bike, 100 cc, 125 cc, 250 cc and the open class.

Races start at the same hour Saturday, but there will be a break in the action for the beauty show set for 9 p.m. under the direction of Beverley McGann.

Around a dozen are entered in the contest, including Debbie B r a d s h a v, Ann Nicholson, Diana Dearing, Rose Marie Thixton, Betty Henkle, Donna Martin, Cheri Turner, Debbie Page and Savrina Kay Kneidel.

Seventeen Big Spring merchants have posted outstanding prizes, ranging all the way from steak dinners for two up to a six-weeks modeling course and a diamond watch. In addition, the first place trophy is three feet high, with a 2 1/2-ft. trophy for second place, 2-ft. for third, and 1 1/2-ft. for fourth.

Master of ceremonies will be Bill Mack of KBST, and judges will include Mayor Arnold Marshall, Candace Bass, Col. Anderson Atkinson, Mrs. Margie Parker, Winston Wrinkle and Ar-officials from the police department.

The Saturday evening racing will be scrambles with five classes. Admission is $2 for adults.

AT COUNTRY CLUB TODAY Cup Matches Launch 39th Annual Meet

Entries in the 39th annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament totaled 100 at 9:30 o'clock this morning and Country Club pro C. G. Griffin said the tournament committee would be able to accommodate late callers.

The tournament formally gets under way Saturday and continues through Sunday. Players will engage in 18 holes of medal play each day. Entry fee is $20 per player.

Dan Gaudin, Weatherford, is defending titlist in the tournament, which has been wrapped around Labor Day in the past. The tournament dates were shifted this year because so many club tournaments are held in early September.

First National Bank Cup matches today serve as a prelude to the meet.

Sunny Edwards, of Ruidoso, N.M., the visiting captain, has lined up a formidable contingent. Playing with him will be George Powell, Colorado City; Frank Powell, Midland; Roy Peden, Kermit; Charles W y s o n g, McKinney; Bob Waters, Big Spring; Jess Claiborne, Lamesa; David Price, Odessa; Jerry Barron, Big Spring, and Gaudin.

Don Reynolds, the local captain, has picked a lineup which includes Dan Wilkins,

CHARLES WYSONG

Harold Hall, Teddy Griffin, Novis Womack, Dick Pfeiffer, Jack Cook, Weedon Bryant, Ted Gross and Spot Cockrell.

The cup matches were due to start teeing up at 1 p.m. today. The tournament players will be assigned to flights after their first 18 holes of play Saturday.

Each flight will be made up of 20 players and four prizes will be awarded to leaders in each flight.

The flight winner earns merchandise awards valued at $150, runners-up get $100, third place finishers $80 and fourth place winners $25.

Among tournament favorites are Mike Cleckler of Odessa, who has won a couple of times here in the past; W y s o n g, Claiborne and Peden.

Local threats include Barron, Wilkins and Gross.

W y s o n g is a brother to Dudley W y s o n g, the touring pro, and teamed with Waters in the Big Spring Partnership tournament a couple of months ago.

A barbecue will be staged for entries and guests at the clubhouse this evening while a dance is planned for Saturday night.

Reynolds is doubling as the tournament director. Other members of the committee are Bryant, R. P. Nicholson, Earl Reynolds, Whitney Reynolds, Wally Slate and Fred Wilkerson.

If no more than 100 players enter (which is enough for five flights), a shotgun start will be used and all players will start at 1 p.m. Saturday.

The field will get off at 2 p.m. Saturday. The starting hour Sunday will be moved to 1 p.m.

Cup pairings: Edwards-Peden vs. Reynolds-Womack; Claiborne-Price vs. Wilkins-Gross; W y s o n g-Waters vs. Hall-Cook; Gaudin-Barron vs. Griffin-Bryant; George Powell-Frank Powell vs. Pfeiffer-Cockrell.

Unearned Runs Enable Andrews To Triumph

ODESSA — Andrews scored three unearned runs in the second and held on to defeat the Big Spring Hardware team, 3-0, in the first round of the district Hi-Junior baseball tournament here Thursday.

The loss sent the Big Spring team into the losers' bracket. They were to return to play at 1 p.m. today against Floydada, first round loser to San Angelo, 8-2.

Manager Tommy Walker of Big Spring said this morning either Troy Kerby or Orlando Olague likely would pitch for his team.

A win over Floydada would qualify the Tigers for a 6 p.m. start today against the loser in the San Angelo-Midland contest. The tournament ends Saturday night.

David Newman was the hard-luck hurler for Big Spring. He surrendered only three hits but his mates couldn't give him any batting support.

In Andrews' second, Mickey Matthews and Dennis Hemme reached base on errors. Jim Clements followed with a single that scored two runs. Two Big Spring throwing errors then enabled Clements to reach home.

Big Spring managed four hits off Collins Rice and he walked three but fanned 14. The Tigers left seven runners stranded.

Big Spring had the bases loaded in the fourth. Tommy Brewer singled, Tommy Tune was walked and Alan Davis reached base on a bobbie but Rice met the challenge by slipping a third strike past Pete Shaffer.

Shaffer, Willie Williams and Newman had the other hits for Big Spring.

Midland and San Angelo were to tangle at 10 a.m. today and the winner goes against Andrews at 8 o'clock this evening.

The eight teams in the tournament are seeking a spot in the State tournament.

Newman whiffed five and surrendered only one free pass.

Ohio State University has raised its president's salary to $50,000 a year.

The second highest paid official in the state is Gov. James A. Rhodes, at $40,000.

What a backward state — paying two guys more than they pay the football coach at the state university.

Golfer Tommy Jordan, who plans to view the $200,000 annual PGA Championship at Southern Hills Country Club with his wife and friends in Tulsa in two weeks, stared at this round writer and remarked:
"We're going to print GOODYEAR on your stomach and go to all the bowl games."

Gordon Zeigler, Plainview whiz, reports:
"One of the pro football Miami Dolphins has opened a fast food franchise. His fried chicken is called Flipper Lickin' Good."
It's just as well not to hit a man while he's up, too.
I'm on the verge of giving up the Houston Astros for the year. A few more days, and I'll return to reading.
It will be difficult, for I have been hooked the past three years. But maybe someone will help the cause by prefacing each game with the warning:
"Caution: Following the Houston Astros may be hazardous to your mental health."

DEAR ABBY: Please say something about pregnant women who work in offices right up to the time their labor pains start coming two minutes apart.

I realize it doesn't take any brains to breed, and some of those nitwits can't count very well. Also they were in their fourth month when the office gang gave them a bridal shower, so they can't very well quit three months later for "maternity leave." But it sure makes it tough on the other girls. We have to bend down and pick up things they are constantly dropping, and the can't reach the high files and can't bend down to get into the lower ones. They're always leaving early for a doctor's appointment. And if they're late in the morning, we have to excuse them because of morning sickness.

Pregnant women do not belong in an office. They belong at home! MARYLOO IN D.C. DEAR MARYLOO: That's where they'd like to be. Home! There is only one reason in the world a pregnant woman goes to an office, and that's because she has to work. So how about a little compassion, sister?

who is 29. I am a divorcee, which my fiance knows, but I didn't tell him that I have been divorced twice, instead of just once. Also, he thinks I am a natural redhead and I am not.

My question: How much should I tell him about myself? If a man likes you for yourself, are the other details important? "TWO TIME LOSER" DEAR LOSER: They could be very important to a man who has asked you to be his wife. Level with him. If he finds out later that you lied to him, you're apt to be a "three-time loser."

DEAR ABBY: Will you please say something in your column about the manners of men on the telephone? (For some reason women are a little more considerate.) Men constantly cough, clear their throats, hic, belch, and whistle. And I've even had men who swear!

I wear a headset which brings the sound even closer. Thank you. OPERATOR SIX DEAR OPERATOR: All right: GENTLEMEN, now hear this! No coughing, hic, belching, whistling or swearing into the telephone. Talk pretty, or you're apt to wind up with the supervisor.

DEAR ABBY: I need a little confidential advice, and fast: I'll be honest with you, Abby. I am 38 years old, but I look much younger and I'm passing for 28. I am engaged to a man

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

FIRST, THE GOOD NEWS...

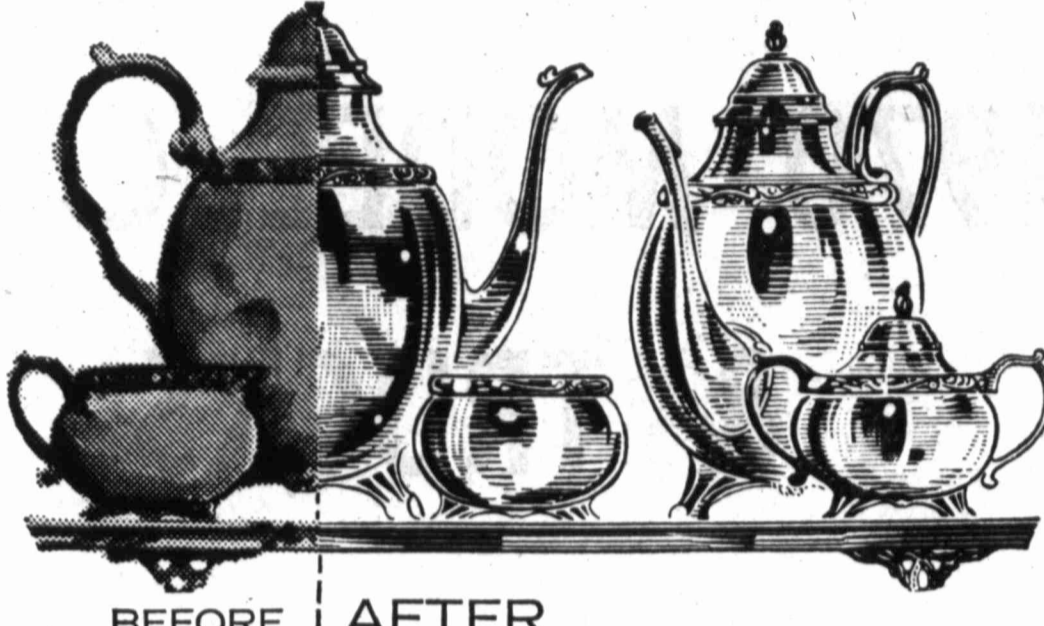

BALTIMORE (AP) — Julius Salsbury, a former night club owner appealing a federal gambling conviction, had some good luck recently. He won a Cadillac at a raffle held by the Mt. De Sales Academy in suburban Cantonsville, but he elected to take $5,000 cash instead. Salsbury's windfall did not go unnoticed. The Internal Revenue Service has filed a claim for the money as part payment for back income taxes it says he owes.

Landmark Law Suit Booked

CRANE, Tex. (AP) — A landmark law suit that could affect the status of billions of dollars in Texas oil and gas leases will be heard in a district court here in November.

To be determined is whether regulatory agencies controlling oil and gas production deny full lease benefit to property leasing companies.

The suit was brought by Gulf Oil Corp. and others against Southland Royalty Corp. and 103 other defendants. Gulf maintains it leased 45,771 acres in Northeast Crane County in Southwest Texas for $22,885.50 in July, 1925. Another 640 acres was added to the lease in March, 1926.

The company says the 50-year-lease has a clause absolving it of delays or interruptions in drilling or other operations caused by "storm or as a result of some order requisition, or necessity of the government or as a result of any cause whatsoever beyond the control of the leasee."

Gulf claims the Texas Railroad Commission has periodically interrupted production. The company says the lease should not expire July 14, 1975, but should continue until 50 years of operations have occurred. Gulf claims it and other plaintiffs have invested millions of dollars in the lease, which is presently producing large quantities of oil and gas from 900 wells.
