LBJ Sets Up Crime Commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson set up today a national crime commission headed by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach and named 18 other members of the commission.

Johnson said the commission's work "will be the first systematic, nationwide study ever made of the entire spectrum of crime problems, ranging from its causes at one extreme to arrest and rehabilitation at the other."

REPORTS ASSIGNED

Johnson called on the commission to make a comprehensive report to him in 18 months and to make interim reports whenever it has recommendations ready.

Known officially as the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, the commission will study crime throughout the nation and recommend ways to reduce and prevent it.

Members of the commission, in addition to Katzenbach, are:

Mrs. Genevieve Blatt, former deputy attorney general of Pennsylvania.

Judge Charles D. Breitel, justice of the New York State Supreme Court, Appellate Division.

YALE PREXY

Dr. Sheppard Wins 30-Day Freedom Stay

CINCINNATI (AP)—The U.S. 6th Circuit Court of Appeals granted Dr. Samuel Sheppard a 30-day stay today in its mandate for his return to the Ohio penitentiary.

The stay, effective for 30 days from today, was granted in order to allow Dr. Sheppard's attorneys time to go to the U.S. Supreme Court with an appeal from a recent court of appeals decision. It ordered Dr. Sheppard's return to prison to resume a life sentence for the slaying in 1954 of his first wife.

Missile Strike Report From Viet Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new factor has flashed into Viet Nam strategy talks with the blasting of an American jet bomber over North Viet Nam by what U.S. officials said appeared to be a surface- to-air missile.

The policy talks were expected to continue at the White House today, with President Johnson back from a weekend at Camp David in the Maryland mountains.

The White House has given no indication as to when decisions stemming from the talks might be announced. But Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey indicates some decisions might be made by Tuesday night.

Newsweek magazine, in an exclusive interview, today quoted the President as saying the Communists "think we've lost.

NO PULLOUT

"They think they can run us out. I've tried 13 peace offensives to get them to talk, but no. We've either got to hold out or get out.

"We're going to do what's necessary. We cannot just get out."

Newsweek said the President also described his policy as one "to minimize our losses and exercise maximum restraint. . .to show our strength without being reckless."

The President added in the interview: "They're pouring in power. They're pouring in troops every week, and we have to put troops in to oppose them."

In Honolulu, Hawaii, Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp Jr., the U.S. Pacific military commander, said in an interview that the Viet Cong forces are stronger now than they were six months ago. He declined to comment on the downing of the U.S. plane Sunday.

POSSIBLE MISSILE

Word of the possible missile use came from a U.S. spokesman in Saigon, capital of South Viet Nam.

He said: "Initial indications are that the plane (an F4C Phantom jet) was downed by what might have been a surface-to-air missile."

The development brought no public comment from either President Johnson or Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who conferred with the President at Camp David.

Nor was there any comment on the plane incident from governors gathered at Minneapolis for their annual conference.

But there was talk about Viet Nam.

LBJ COURAGE

Said New York Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller: "I think he (Johnson) has shown tremendous courage. . .for preserving the honor and integrity of our country for the defense of freedom in the world."

Not Belongings Of Missing Girls

AUSTIN (AP) — Bloody and torn clothing found near Kerrville was eliminated today as a clue in the disappearance of two Dallas coeds, missing since July 18.

A spokesman for the Texas Department of Public Safety said investigators are convinced the clothing, found Sunday, did not belong to Shirley Ann Stark or Susan Rigsby.

TO LARGE

Texas Ranger Bill Wilson said Sunday night the clothing seemed too large for the young women and was not the quality of other clothing known to belong to the two.

The clothing was found on a fence row Sunday by Game Warden Donald McClure about seven miles from Kerrville.

CLUE QUEST

The Texas Department of Public Safety, meanwhile, asked farmers and ranchers all over the state to watch for any clues connected to the disappearance, including any signs of "fresh diggings."

Kerr County Deputy Sheriff Raymond Rhodes described the clothing as "cut and torn, and had lots of blood on them." They said they consisted of underclothing and part of a dress.

Miss Stark and Miss Rigsby, both 21 and Chi Omega sorority sisters, were last seen July 18 near the campus of the University of Texas where Miss Rigsby was to have registered for the summer session.

CHECK LEADS

Austin police said they checked every conceivable lead Sunday, but reported no progress toward solving the strange case.

Two persons claiming to have extra sensory perception, a woman from Dallas and a man from Miami, Fla., have said they believe the young women were abducted by at least two men.

The coeds parents have maintained a vigil here during the search.

Miss Stark drove Miss Rigsby to Austin on the day they disappeared. They dropped from sight shortly after they ate at a restaurant with a coed who was to have been Miss Rigsby's roommate at an Austin apartment.

CLOTHES DITCHED

A bundle of clothes belonging to Miss Rigsby was found in a roadside ditch near Austin last Tuesday, and Miss Stark's car was found last Wednesday in an apartment house parking lot near the university campus.

At Least 20 Listed Injured In Derailment

STERLING, Colo. (AP)—The westbound Union Pacific passenger train City of Denver derailed about 11 miles southwest of Sterling in northeastern Colorado today.

First reports said 20 to 25 passengers were injured but no one was killed. Ambulances were sent from Sterling, Fort Morgan, Brush and Akron to move the injured to Logan County Memorial Hospital here.

All Sterling doctors were summoned. Reporters at the hospital said the injured were handled speedily.

REMAIN UPRIGHT

In Ohama, Union Pacific officials said the rear nine cars of the 18-car train were derailed but remained upright. The diesel power units and front cars moved down the track a half a mile.

Derailed were two coaches, a diner, three sleepers, a lounge car, a dormitory car and a dead-head diner—one not being used. The train carried 303 passengers.

BROKEN RAIL

A railroad spokesman said there was no report on the accident cause but a member of the train crew said that a broken rail may have been responsible.

School buses carried passengers not injured into the Memorial Auditorium here. They will be transported to Denver.

ESCAPE INJURY

It was the second train derailment in Colorado in less than 24 hours. All 305 passengers of the eastbound California Zephyr of the Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad escaped injury when a part of the train was derailed in the mountains 35 miles west of Denver Sunday night. The engineer and firemen were shaken up.

Confusing Dimension Seen Added To Law Enforcement

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Civil rights demonstrations have added a new and often confusing dimension to the job of law enforcement, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith said today.

"It is a duty not clearly defined, and it is a disturbing one in many ways for a typical peace officer," Smith said. "Most of us find it a little hard to decide exactly where 'civil disobedience' ends and 'law violation' begins."

CRIME SEMINAR

The lieutenant governor addressed the 87th annual conference and crime seminar of the Sheriffs' Association of Texas.

Smith described local peace officers as a link in a long chain of law enforcement.

"The police chief or sheriff of this space age has to be an executive as well as an officer, a trained executive capable of running a modern enforcement office with modern methods and smart enough and flexible enough to cooperate with the Department of Public Safety, the FBI and other agencies to the public's advantage," Smith said.

RESTRICT DISCRETION

Smith said many laws and court decisions greatly restrict the discretion of local officers.

"My personal impression is that the present Supreme Court has swung the pendulum pretty far to the side of the defendant, sometimes it seems to the detriment of the law-abiding community," he said. "Yet would any of us say that an accused person should not have the benefit of every reasonable safeguard and protection in the law?

"I don't think we would. Possibly—or even probably—the pendulum will swing back one of these days and stabilize itself squarely between the two very important considerations of individual rights and community rights."

Greek Deputy Premier Contender For Top Spot

ATHENS (AP)—Former Deputy Premier Stephanos Stephanopoulos said he would be willing to serve as premier to help pull Greece out of its dangerous political crisis.

Stephanopoulos, a member of ousted Premier George Papandreou's Center Union party, said he would accept the role of compromise candidate "if I have the support of the majority of Center Union party deputies."

LOSING GROUND

Papandreou's campaign to regain control of the government appeared to be losing ground.

Stephanopoulos asserted that the new premier named by King Constantine, George Athanasiadis Novas, "doesn't have a chance of winning a confidence vote in Parliament."

He said the members in Parliament of the Center Union party, to which he, Papandreou and Athanasiadis Novas all belong, would "prepare a solution to offer the moment Athanasiadis Novas is defeated."

DEBATE LOOMS

Parliamentary debate prior to the confidence vote starts July 29.

About 100 center union deputies were reported remaining aloof from the power struggle between the 77-year-old ex-premier and the 72-year-old Athanasiadis Novas.

Shot Aimed At Another Is Fatal

ROBSTOWN (AP) — Frank Gonzalez, 22, of Robstown, died Sunday night after being struck between the eyes by a bullet while driving his car on a downtown street in this Southeast Texas town.

Police said the shot was fired by a man standing on the curb and aiming at a man on the other side of the street.

Flint Quarry Bill Endorsed

WASHINGTON (AP)— A bill to preserve as a national monument area the Alibates flint quarries in the Texas Panhandle, once a principal source for arrowheads for Indians, was endorsed today before a Senate Interior subcommittee.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., author of the bill, said the area is rich in archeological evidences of human life 7,000 years before the pyramids of Egypt were built.

T. R. Swem, assistant director of the National Park Service, told the committee the quarry sites are about five miles from Borger and already have been acquired by the government in connection with construction of the Sanford Dam and Reservoir.

He said the park service wants to buy 92 acres of adjoining land to protect the scenic values of the area and proposes to spend $100,000 on roads and $160,000 on construction of trails and exhibit buildings, and placing of signs and markers.

Replying to questions, Swem said the land would cost about $5,000 and would be obtained from a family named Bevins.

Sen. Clinton Anderson, D-N.M., told that the land was owned by the Lee Bivins family of Amarillo, said he knew the family and felt sure it would be glad to give the government easement to the acreage to make sure that no commercial developments would mar the scenery.

A similar bill by Rep. Walter Rogers, D-Tex., has been passed by the House.

Federal-Level 'Renege' Flayed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. J W. Fulbright has accused the federal government and private business of allowing "special interests to disrupt the foreign policy of the United States."

In a speech prepared for the Senate today, but released Sunday night, the Arkansas Democrat said the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. was the victim of the affair.

PRESSURE CLAIMED

He said Firestone, encouraged by the U.S. government, planned to sell a $50-million synthetic rubber plant to Romania. He said the plan was dropped when Firestone was "subjected to unusual competitive pressures and to a nuisance boycott campaign conducted by an extremist political organization."

The federal government, he said, then ignored its policy of "building bridges" to eastern Europe, and adopted a hands-off attitude.

NAMES GOODYEAR

Fulbright named Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. as the competitor and the Young Americans for Freedom as the pressure group.

The State Department had no comment, none was available from Firestone.

Soviet Will Test Rockets

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union will test new types of carrier rockets for space launchings in the Pacific from July 28 to Oct. 15, Tass said today.

The Russians warned nations using sea and air ways in the Pacific to keep out of an area with a diameter of 40 nautical miles and with a center at 37 degrees 39 minutes north latitude and 173 degrees 25 minutes east longitude throughout that period from 12 noon to 8 p.m.

Plane Lost Carrying 36

MANILA (AP)—Hampered by monsoon rains, searchers failed today to find any trace of a Philippine air force transport plane that disappeared over the central islands Sunday with 36 persons on board.

Search flights by air force and commercial planes were curtailed by poor visibility. More flights are scheduled for Tuesday.

Employment Bias Complaints Made

The commission disclosed the number Saturday but gave no details on who filed the complaints, where they came from or what was alleged.

Personal Income Said Up $100

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income in the United States last year increased by $100 per person, the Commerce Department reported Sunday.

It said the boost was about 5 per cent over 1963 figures.

After allowing for increases in prices, the average person's purchasing power increase was fixed at 3.5 per cent.

Sea Disaster Under Probe

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The Coast Guard today began a formal inquiry into the death of the trawler Snoopy, blown to matchsticks Friday night by a torpedo dredged up from the ocean floor.

A formal hearing, mandatory in all sea disasters, will be held soon but Coast Guard spokesmen said no date has yet been set.

Only four members of the Snoopy's 12-man crew survived the blast, 41 miles off False Cape on North Carolina's Outer Banks.

All of them are in satisfactory condition at the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital here.

Only three bodies have been recovered.

Tory Leadership Race Lists Three

LONDON (AP) — Three contenders were nominated today in the race for leader of Britain's Conservative party and potential prime minister. Nomination of the third man made a decision on the first ballot Tuesday unlikely.

The three put forward by Tory members of Parliament were:

Edward Heath, 49, a bachelor who tried to negotiate Britain's entry into the Common Market until he ran up against President Charles de Gaulle's veto.

Reginald Maudling, 48, chancellor of the exchequer in the last Conservative government. Regarded as an able and affable administrator, he was the favorite.

Enoch Powell, 53, former health minister who believes in modern methods, unbridled free enterprise and has the backing of some younger members of his party.

ENOCH POWELL

If Heath and Maudling had stood alone, it might have been a quick contest ending Tuesday. The entry of Powell into the ring make a second ballot likely.

A fourth possible candidate, Peter Thorneycroft, 55, announced he would not stand for election. But he added that if the vote was deadlocked, he reserved his position.

JFK Decision To Replace Rusk Told

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., who was an adviser to President Kennedy, says Kennedy decided in 1963 to replace Dean Rusk as secretary of state after the 1964 election.

Schlesinger makes the statement in an article in the current issue of Life magazine. The article is an excerpt from his forthcoming book about Kennedy.

Schlesinger writes that Kennedy "remained impressed by Rusk's capacity to define but grew increasingly depressed by his reluctance to decide."

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., brother of the late President, commented on the article that Rusk "has served the nation with integrity, ability and energy," and that President Kennedy "had entire confidence in the integrity and purpose of Secretary Rusk."

The state department had no comment.

President Johnson's press secretary, Bill D. Moyers, said Johnson still strongly holds the opinion of Rusk he expressed in a July 13 news conference: that Rusk ranks first in his Cabinet and "first with me."

Schlesinger writes that Rusk was "a superb technician" and "the perfect No. 2 man."

Accused Aid Official Due Trial In Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Robert Kimball, an American aid official, is expected to be tried in a Vietnamese court on charges of murdering a senior U.S. police adviser and a Vietnamese woman.

Le Tu Truc, chief of police of Saigon's 3rd Precinct, said that Kimball, 36, had confessed killing Jack E. Ryan, 44, chief of the U.S. Aid Mission's public safety division, and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Hai, 26, outside Ryan's house Friday night.

A reliable police source said Kimball would be charged with homicide. Truc said Kimball had signed a statement admitting the killings. But the police chief refused to disclose any details of the statement.

The United States and Viet Nam have no status of forces agreement spelling out jurisdiction over cases such as this.

Police said Mrs. Hai, the wife of a Vietnamese air force captain, was a close friend of Kimball. The police said she and the killer were in Ryan's yard when Ryan arrived and was shot. Mrs. Hai tried to run out of the yard, the police said, but was shot and her body was dragged back into the yard.

Roundup On After Mishap

DECATUR, Ill. (AP)—Farmers watched for several hours as amateur cowpunchers trampled in their young cornfields, then took over the search themselves.

Missing were 66 head of cattle who escaped early Sunday when a cattle truck from Hamilton, Tex., overturned 10 miles west of here.

The truck, owned by the Leroy Beach Co. and driven by Robert Ogle of Hamilton, was carrying 84 animals to slaughter.

One was killed by a car. Seventeen more were rounded up by deputy sheriffs, state police, firemen, men on horseback and an airplane spotter.

The farmers took out after the rest.

Union Shop Issue Faces House Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labor, housing, health care and reapportionment legislation top this week's busy calendar on Capitol Hill.

The House braced for a showdown fight on a key administration bill which would repeal legislation permitting states to outlaw the union shop.

Tuesday's vote on the Taft-Hartley union shop amendment was viewed as a major test by the administration's forces, who acted as though they had enough votes nailed down for victory.

The House also planned to vote Tuesday on the housing bill and a compromise version of the administration's $6.4-billion program of health care for the elderly financed through Social Security.

A Senate vote was expected today on a compromise version of the administration's $7.5-billion housing bill, which includes a controversial new program of rental subsidies for low-income families.

The Senate also was slated to vote today on the nomination of former Mississippi Gov. James P. Coleman to be judge of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in the Deep South. Some critics contend Coleman has a segregationist background which disqualifies him for the post.

President Johnson's nomination of Henry Cabot Lodge to be ambassador to South Viet Nam is expected to come before the Senate sometime this week.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen girded to resume his fight for legislation proposing a constitutional amendment to permit apportionment of one branch of state legislatures on a basis other than population. The proposal is aimed at bypassing the Supreme Court's one man-one vote decision.

The apportionment row could throw a roadblock in the way of efforts to adjourn Congress by Labor Day.

Senate - House conferees planned to resume Tuesday their efforts to work out a compromise version of the administration's bill to protect the voting rights of Negroes and other minorities.

High Winds Leave Loss

By The Associated Press

Turbulent weather dumped rain on parts of North Texas Sunday, breaking a heat wave, but also leaving at least three deaths and some destruction in its wake.

High winds, which suddenly slammed into the area, capsized boats on Garza-Little Elm Reservoir north of Dallas and caused the drowning of three persons. The wind also lifted a $10,000 boathouse from the lake and dumped it on three cars parked on the shore nearby.

Pleasant temperatures brought on by rain showers may continue in parts of South and North Texas where thundershowers are predicted for Monday night and Tuesday. Rain fell early Monday morning at Lubbock and Childress in West Texas and coastal areas received numerous showers Sunday.

Temperatures dropped Sunday in the Panhandle-Plains area as a cool front moved through.

High temperature readings in the state Sunday were 105 at Presidio and Wichita Falls. All points reported readings of 90 degrees or higher except in the Panhandle, where Dalhart's 83 was the low maximum for the state.

GOP Governors In 1968 'Ball Game'

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — The nation's Republican governors found themselves in a new 1968 presidential ball game today following Nelson A. Rockefeller's announcement that he will not seek the GOP nomination again.

Rockefeller's announcement Sunday appeared to have removed the kind of roadblock that kept other Repubician moderates out of the contest against conservative Barry Goldwater until the final month of the 1964 preconvention campaign.

The Republican governors, here for the annual governors conference, breakfast today with GOP National Chairman Ray Bliss.

DEMOS MEET

Their Democratic counterparts, meeting with John M. Bailey, the national chairman of their party, found themselves juggling a perennial problem, civil rights. It arose when host Gov. Karl F. Rolvaag of Minnesota moved to get a conference statement pledging efforts to uphold civil and human rights.

Tuesday the governors turn to such problems as state financing, legislative reapportionment and educational programs.

Politics held the primary attention today, with indications that controversy may spill over into the foreign field. Republicans were taking issue with the trend of President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam.

In removing himself from consideration for the presidential nomination, Rockefeller reiterated his intention to seek a third term as governor of New York.

PARTY UNITY

He said his withdrawal from the national scene will be an asset to moderates seeking to reunite the party.

"To pull the party together, I think it is best to pull out," he said.

Rockefeller said he didn't think two other Republican governors often mentioned as the 1968 presidential nominee, George Romney of Michigan and William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, should rule themselves out of the race.

Said Scranton, who lost last year to Barry Goldwater: "I haven't given any thought whatsoever on 1968 and I don't intend to do so for a long time."

Romney commented: "We should be concentrating on 1966 and forget about 1968."

Red Exercise Stalls Barges

BERLIN (AP) — Communist troop maneuvers shut down nearly all barge traffic between West Germany and isolated West Berlin today.

West Berlin customs officials said barge traffic was halted in the Rathenow-Brandenburg area in East Germany, about 35 miles west of Berlin.

It was the first time since the Red troop exercises began 10 days ago that the shutdown on the Elbe and Havel rivers was virtually complete. There had been earlier delays around the locks on the Havel near Rathenow.

Bargemen arriving in West Berlin Saturday said that East German, Russian and Polish units were crossing the streams.

Allied military sources said the exercises were normal. They said that because of spring flooding they were taking place now rather than earlier in the year as is usual.

Shrimp Boat Blast Kills 1

SABINE PASS, Tex. (AP) — Charles Edwards of Port Arthur, Tex., was killed Sunday when the shrimp boat "G. I. Joe" exploded 18 miles from Sabine Pass.

The Coast Guard abandoned search for the missing man's body at nightfall.

The only other person aboard, Captain Warren L. Scott of Morgan City, La., jumped into the Gulf of Mexico in time to escape injury. He was picked up by crewmen of the "Pisces" out of Port Arthur.

"It sank in about two minutes," Scott said, "I barely had time to get off." He added that the 60-foot vessel carried no explosives.

The marine inspection office at Port Arthur is expected to conduct an investigation aimed at determining the cause of the explosion.

The diesel-powered wooden-hulled "G. I. Joe" was owned by Willie Auchion of Morgan City.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠K 2 ♡K 8 7 ◇A J 10 2 ♣Q 10 9 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ◇	Dbl.	Redbl.	1 ♡
Pass	2 ♡	2 ♠	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 ♣	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four clubs. Partner has shown a distaste for no trump, so it would be foolish to persist in that direction. You have a good fit for the clubs and should show it.

Q. 2—As South vulnerable you hold:

♠K 10 ♡KQ 10 7 4 ◇J 7 5 4 ♣5 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
1 NT	Pass	2 ◇	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. A try for game is in order even tho partner has already announced a minimum opening. The significant fact is that North did not pass your two diamond bid which he was at perfect liberty to do.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠7 4 ♡6 3 ◇A 10 8 6 2 ♣AKQJ

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♡	Pass	2 ◇	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
4 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have better than an opening bid and partner has opened and jumped. This spells a slam which you should bid forthwith. The prescribed call is six hearts. North has not only opened and jumped but, in the meantime, shown great strength by his bid of two spades, technically known as a "reverse."

Q. 4—As South vulnerable you hold:

♠2 ♡J 7 5 4 ◇Q 10 8 4 ♣K J 7 3

The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♡	1 ♠	Dbl.	?

What do you bid?

A.—This does not appear to be a propitious place for the hand to play. A rescue bid of one no trump is in order, in that it suggests to partner to rescue himself in either diamonds or clubs, whichever he prefers, since obviously you are short in spades and have length in the other three suits.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠A Q 10 4 ♡3 2 ◇6 5 ♣Q J 8 6 5

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♡	2 ◇	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. If you mention either of your suits, partner will probably be cornered into bidding three hearts which will place you in a highly awkward position. When a free bid tends to project the bidding to the three level, the player contemplating such action should be backed up by a holding which is equal to an opening bid.

Q. 6—As South vulnerable you hold:

♠AKQ J 9 3 ♡10 4 ◇A 10 6 5 ♣3

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 NT	Pass
3 ◇	Pass	3 NT	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. Hope for slam is not abandoned by the four spade bid. The very fact that you took pains to bid three diamonds, intending all the time to take partner out of his aggressively bid game contract, indicates your willingness to entertain the idea of a slam. If his points are first rate [aces and kings], he may proceed.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠A Q J 6 4 ♡7 ◇A 8 6 5 ♣10 7 2

The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ◇	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ◇	Pass	3 ♡	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. Do not make the mistake of bidding three no trump. Partner was in position to make that call himself, but bid hearts instead. When you return to diamonds partner will be able to infer that your holding probably contains a singleton.

Q. 8—East-West vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠10 9 6 3 ♡J 8 3 2 ◇K 6 ♣A 9 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
1 ♠	Dbl.	?

What do you bid?

A.—Pass. This holding falls just short of the requirements for a redouble. An immediate raise should be offered only on a hand with less high card strength and more distributional values. You are forced to compromise by passing for the time being with every intention of offering competition on the next round.

White Sit-In Group Nabbed

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sixteen white civil rights demonstrators allowed themselves to be arrested for a sit-in Sunday in a cafe that had integrated hours earlier.

Abe Dabaghi, owner of the Cafe Raven, turned away Negroes four times last week, but Saturday night he announced he would serve Negroes. Two Negro men were served Sunday.

Sunday night, 25 white demonstrators staged a sit-in in the cafe, demanding that Dabaghi formally notify an organization called the Huntsville Action for Youth (HA-YOU) of his intention to integrate.

HA-YOU has sponsored demonstrations for more than a week. On at least one point—police protection for the demonstrators—its leaders have differed with the leaders of the local chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

HA-YOU last week sent a telegram to Gov. John Connally, requesting that state officers be sent to protect them. The local chapter of the NAACP said police protection was adequate and refused to join in sending the wire.

When the 25 demonstrators refused to leave Sunday night, Dabaghi called police. Sixteen still were there when police arrived.

After they were put in jail on charges of disturbing the peace, 14 Negroes were served in the

Take it for a test drive. See if you pass.

The real test in a Volkswagen is to see if you know what driving really is.

(If you think you're driving in other cars, then what you do in a VW is something else.)

Most cars give you all the lively moving sensation of sitting on your living room couch.

But the Volkswagen isn't sprung like other cars. Its 4-wheel torsion bar suspension (the kind that they have in racing cars) gives you the feel of the road.

You always know what's going on because you know what your car's going on.

And you know what's coming, because you'll see more road than you ever saw before. (Our sloping hood doesn't cut off your view.)

When you twist the steering wheel a little, you can feel the front wheels turn a little. So you know the car's doing just what you told it to. (Doesn't that sound satisfying?)

We can tell you that the VW parks shorter than other cars, and maneuvers more easily.

But we can't tell you how it feels to drive one.

So take the test.

Maybe you can tell us.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Keeps Odors From Kitchen

Dear Heloise:

I am the proud owner of a new disposal unit. But I find that odors come from the unit. Can you help me? . . . H. O.

• • •

Many people complain of this. I believe it is because they do not use them correctly.

After the garbage is put in the desposal, turn on the COLD water faucet before you start the machine. (The instructions say to use cold water. Besides, it's cheaper than hot!) AFTER the unit has done all its chopping (you can tell this as you won't see any more food in the unit), leave the water running a bit so that all the chopped food will be sure to be washed down through the pipes thoroughly so no odor can come back up.

HELOISE

It is my opinion that we try to save any where we can, and do not use enough water when running our disposal units.

Also citrus fruit peels, such as grapefruit, oranges and lemons are wonderful for removing odors. Grind them up last and let them set a bit. Sweetens your drain.

And, too, you can fill your sink with water and pour in some disinfectant such as pine, then pull the plug and turn on your switch. This makes it clean all the way. . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

Our new car is not equipped with seat covers, and since the upholstery is so attractive, we didn't want to hide its beauty.

To keep the front (or back) seat clean, I cut a piece of heavy, transparent plastic (NOT PLIOFILM) to fit the seat, allowing a few extra inches at the back, to slip between the back rest and the seat so that it could be tucked in and kept in place.

This covering serves as a protection from soil, since I always toss my purse, small packages and bags down on the seat whenever I enter the car.

It protects the seat from food spills at a drive-in, wet clothing when you get caught in a shower, dampness from wet bathing suits, etc. . . Anne Murray

• • •

Dear Heloise:

My four - year - old daughter takes down her own braids and combs out her hair and brushes it before I comb it. I always get it done quickly and, best of all, there is no fear and no tears. . . . L. R.

• • •

Dear Heloise:

When I attend a tea or coffee with my pre-school child, I put a cup and saucer from a toy set in a plastic bag in my purse.

Young ones think they're quite grown up when they can have a cup of tea with Mommy at grown ups' tea parties. . . Gwen S.

• • •

Wonderful, Gwen. The toy set is much easier to handle . . . and you don't have to worry about the child breaking one of your hostess' good cups or saucers. . . . Heloise

• • •

Dear Heloise:

I licked the problem of the bathroom mirror and walls steaming:

I made my shower curtain of chintz. It absorbs moisture and can be easily laundered. Terry cloth could also be used to make pretty shower curtains. . . Mrs. Paul Blomberg

Widow Who Sailed Alone To Hawaii Tells Of Voyage

Editor's Note — Sharon Sites, 34, a Los Angeles widow, last week completed a 40-day single-handed Pacific Ocean crossing from Los Angeles to Hawii in her 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp. She describes her experiences in the following story written exclusively for The Associated Press.

By SHARON SITES

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — Now I've known fear and loneliness.

And perhaps loneliness is the worst part.

Unless you've sat in a boat for five days on end, knowing you're just a speck in a large ocean, this feeling you can never in your wildest dreams imagine. Not unless you've been there, that is.

It was nine months ago, while I was out for a Sunday afternoon drive in Los Angeles, headed no place, killing time, that I found myself at the marina. On an impulse, I drove down. I learned of Al Adams and his sailing school and took down the phone number from a billboard.

A few days later I started my sailing lessons.

At that time, of course, I had never considered ever sailing farther than, perhaps, Catalina Island, about 22 miles off the coast.

Almost five months to the day, on June 12, I was sailing away from the California coast heading toward Hawaii in my own 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp. I had spent my life savings to buy and equip her.

Al went alongside me on the 49-foot sloop Cotton Blossom II together with my closest friends — Barbara and Sandy Williford, their children, Chris, Craig and Carol, and Dan and Dione Patton and Gary Bassett.

The Cotton Blossom left me about noon the next day, 75 miles out. It was a glorious day. The winds were good for sailing and watching the Cotton blossom turn back I knew that I was on my own. I pointed my Sea Sharp toward Hawaii 2,200 miles away.

But the winds became light — too light. I was discouraged there for a while. I was virtually becalmed for 12 days. In all that time, I just hadn't gone anywhere to speak of. I began despairing that I would get any winds but on June 24 I got them — from nothing they picked up and up and up right up to around 65 m.p.h.

This was to be the most frightening part of my voyage and often I wished myself back home in Los Angeles, in a comfortable bed.

I'd secured my lifeline, tying myself to the boat. But the wind was so strong I couldn't even stand upright against it. I had to literally crawl around on my hands and knees. You can't imagine the deafening roar of wind and water, and the shrill, terrible whistle through the rigging. It was terrifying and it lasted six days. At times, I thought it would never end. Days and nights ran into each other, and at times I prayed.

I knew the Lord had his hand on my shoulder and the Sea Sharp eventually rode out the storm.

I figured my bearings and wrote in my log, "Half of the time is gone and I have covered only one-fourth of the distance." It was only about 600 miles from the California coast, and that's when the depression began.

I had visions of being a derelict at sea if this was to be my rate of progress. My mental salvation came with the hours I spent daily writing my log and taking pictures.

But the winds became more favorable. It never really calmed down to give me pleasant sailing. My spirits rose. I think I was more concerned then that I wasn't going to reach Hawaii in time to see Sandy and Barbara. I knew they couldn't wait longer than July 22. They'd flown over and were in Honolulu with Al, and I began to feel bad that I wouldn't reach there before they left.

I think I lost something between 20 and 25 pounds those first two or three weeks of the voyage, but I gained about 10 pounds back before I reached Hawaii.

July 2 was a big day at sea for me. Unfortunately, I had no one or anything to share it with. I'd taken along my pet Thailand turtle but she died 14 days out. I had a burial at sea for her. It was very sad. She represented a living thing on board. During the voyage I never saw another boat. The last plane I saw circled me about 160 miles off the California coast.

I didn't even see many birds. They weren't so crazy as to be out in that sort of weather. It was overcast all the way.

But on July 2 we — the boat and I — found the trade winds which carry you to Hawaii. I had my Fourth of July celebration two days early.

By July 6, after four days of steady progress, and realizing I could average 83 miles a day, I spent hours calculating "Was it still possible that I could arrive before July 22?" I wrote in my log, "I know if the winds stay with me now, it is still possible." . . .

I wrote in my log my estimated time of arrival, "July 21st at 2 a.m."

I was actually offshore — off Oahu Island — at 11 p.m. on the 20th, three hours ahead of my ETA. I was very proud.

But before that, at 9 a.m. that day, I sighted land for the first time. . .

It was Molokai, and before me was my last test. I had been warned before leaving that the Molokai Channel, leading to Honolulu, was one of the two roughest stretches of water facing me. Of the two, this could be the roughest and the most dangerous.

It became dark.

I saw lights, but couldn't identify them with my chart due to the low overcast. It was ironic that after following Hugh MacDonald's (My navigation instructor) teaching so well throughout the 39 days that I was having trouble in the final stretch.

I passed Kokohead and Diamond Head without fully realizing it.

In the darkness, distance is deceptive and when I came upon two channel marker lights I knew I was too close to the reef.

I had been warned about attempting to navigate through the reefs and into the harbor on my own. I knew, too, that I was too close and it was at this point that I decided to fire my "Very" pistol.

I loaded it, but I didn't do it properly. The gun backfired on me, hurting my right wrist. I thought the wrist was broken. It might as well have been because it swelled up and I couldn't use it. I was in great pain and I knew that even if I wanted to I couldn't handle the boat and bring her into harbor.

What was worse, nobody saw the flare.

Shortly after dawn, this was the 40th day, I saw the fishing boat Catherine S., and I can tell you, it took me time to pluck up sufficient courage to fire that pistol again.

The thought went through my mind, "Suppose I damage my left arm as well." I was almost helpless as it was. I couldn't handle the Sea Sharp. But I fired my second flare and the Catherine S., came alongside. The skipper called the Coast Guard.

At 11:45 a.m. a Coast Guard towline was secured to my boat and I knew my long voyage was at its end.

These few words can hardly begin to capture the ordeal of my 39 days at sea, but the warm reception granted me at the dock by my friends and the people of Hawaii will remain as one of the highlights of my adventure.

N.Y. Police Save Infants

NEW YORK (AP) — Police prevented two distraught fathers from throwing their baby daughters from Manhattan tenements Sunday in separate incidents.

James de Loatch, 28, after an argument with his wife, police said, stormed to the roof of a five-story Harlem tenement with his daughters, Lorraine, 3, and Lynne, 1.

A patrolman arrived in time to snatch the older girl from De Loatch but was unable to stop him from straddling a two-foot parapet and dangling little Lynne over a courtyard.

"What have they got to live for up here?" De Loatch cried.

Police Capt. Daniel F. O'Brien replied, "Things are getting better. Maybe when she grows up things will be better for her."

O'Brien, inching forward, grabbed Lynne. De Loatch, a Negro, was taken to Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Several hours later, on the Lower East Side, Angelo Morales, 25, threatened to throw his eight-months-old daughter, Marisol, from a seventh-story fire escape.

Four persons teamed up to seize father and infant. They were neighbors Emelio Corchado, 35, and Theodore McDonald.

Morales also was taken to Bellevue hospital.

Letter En Route On Extradition Plans

A letter is en route to Wayne Burns, district attorney, from officials at the New Mexico State Prison relative to the fate of fugitive Jack Eubank. A telegram from Santa Fe so advised Burns today.

Meantime, pending receipt of the letter, which should make the position of the New Mexico officials on Eubank's case clear, the prisoner continues in his Howard County jail cell.

He will not be released from custody until some sort of official instruction from New Mexico or an order of the district court is at hand, A. N. Standard, sheriff, has stated.

Meantime, defense attorney Lanny Hamby is watching developments. Should the letter arrive and authorize the dropping of efforts to extradite the prisoner, Hamby will undoubtedly demand that his client be released. He could go to court, if needed, to force his demands.

Burns said last week that for some unknown reason an airmail letter which he sent to the New Mexico authorities on July 9, containing detailed information on just what the Texas extradition laws require, had only reached Santa Fe last Thursday.

The decision to drop efforts to extradite the prisoner had been made a week ago today, according to the New Mexico officials. Whether the receipt of Burns' belated letter will alter the decision is not known.

Eubank, a lifer from New Mexico State Penitentiary serving a sentence for a murder committed in 1953, has been in the county jail here since March 4. He spent seven years in Big Spring following his escape from the prison in 1957.

Burglars Open McEwen Safe

Burglars were foiled at only one of three break-ins during the weekend, according to police Monday.

More than $123 in cash was taken from a safe at McEwen Motor Co., 403 Scurry, Saturday night, detectives said. They said entrance was made through an open window on the east side of the building next to an alley. The safe was opened by knocking off the combination knob and punching the lock pin, detectives said. There had been an attempt to open the floor safe, but it was unsuccessful.

Alvin Davis, 901 NW 5th, told police Sunday that his home had been burgled between July 1 and 24, while he was on vacation. He found both the back and front doors open on his return. Police said a bedroom window screen was cut. Missing were a television set, a record player, and a table radio. Davis valued the items at about $375.

Charles Napps, 401 Scurry, told police Sunday his home had been entered. Police found a broken window, but a house search turned up no missing articles.

Man Beaten, Watch Taken

Desiderio Casias Carmona, 620 NW 3rd, told police that two young men attacked him in front of 615 NW 4th Saturday night, and took his watch. Sunday morning Carmona indicated that one of a group of six men shown him by police was one of his attackers. Police said Carmona will press charges.

OIL REPORT

Wolfcamp Test Has Oil Show

General Crude and Tucker No. 1 Foster, a Wolfcamp prospector in Sterling County, had good shows of free oil during the weekend from the 3,900-19 foot interval.

On a drillstem test, operator recovered 420 feet of free 27 gravity oil, 270 feet of very heavy gas-cut mud, and 1,890 feet of drilling mud. Operator found a hole in the drill pipe and retested at the same interval.

The tool was open 2½ hours and gas surfacing in one hour was too small to measure. Recovery was 500 feet of free oil and 100 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud. Flowing pressure was 358 to 406 pounds. The 30 minute initial shut-in pressure was 1,189 pounds and the one-hour final shut-in pressure was 406 pounds.

The project is two and three-quarter miles northeast of the WAM (Fusselman) pool. Operator is drilling below 3,930 feet. Drillsite is 1,980 from the south and 660 from the west lines of 27-13, SPRR survey.

In Sterling County, A. E. Walker and C. H. Smith, of Big Spring, will re-enter and dig as a wildcat the No. 1 L. C. Reed, three miles northwest of Sterling City and three miles north of the El Kay (multipay) field. The project was originally drilled and abandoned at 2,502 feet in 1959 by C. D. Turner of Big Spring. Wellsite is 330 from south and east lines, 14-14 SPRR survey.

Minor Wrecks Reported Sunday

A car driven by Luz de Los Santos, 608 N. San Antonio, and three parked cars were damaged Sunday in an accident in the 500 block of NW 9th. No one was injured. The other cars involved belong to Santiago Lopez Leal, 901 Goliad, damaged fender; Bill McClelland, 808 Lamesa Drive, damaged to both rear fenders; and Cleojas Rodriquez, 502 N. 9th, light damage.

Saturday, there was a minor collision between a car driven by Mrs. Florence Kincaid Hodges, 504 Donley, and a pickup driven by Domingo H. Garcia, Ellis Homes, US 80 west, at the intersection of Second and Benton. The Kincaid car was damaged heavily on the right side, the Garcia truck on the front end. Both drivers escaped injury.

DAILY DRILLING

BORDEN

Lario No. 1 Murphy is continuing testing after pumping 110 barrels in 24 hours. Location is 660 from the east line and 1,980 from the south line, section 95-25, H&TC survey, 16 miles southeast of Gail.

DAWSON

Phillips No. 1-A Beaird had no shows in a drillstem test in the upper Spraberry between 6,760 - 960. Operator is bottomed at 7,110 feet in lime and taking another test of the same interval. On the first test, tool was open 55 minutes and operator recovered 210 feet of drilling mud. Drillsite is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines, section 3-34-4n, T&P survey, nine miles southeast of Lamesa.

Knox No. 3-3 Wright is making hole below 4,647 feet in lime. Drillsite is 1,980 from the south and west lines, section 8-L, J. Poitevent survey, 14 miles northeast of Lamesa.

Louisiana Land and Exploration No. 1 Bartlett is digging below 7,494 feet. It is spotted 2,170 from the south line and 700 from the west line of section 32-34-5n, T&P survey, six miles southeast of Lamesa.

Text Of Amendments Will Be Published In Herald

Beginning Sept. 7, Texas voters will vote on 27 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution in three separate elections.

The other two elections will be Nov. 2, 1965, and Nov. 8, 1966, the general election.

The Herald will publish the complete texts of the 10 proposed amendments which will be voted on Nov. 2.

They appear in Tuesday's Herald and will be printed again on Aug. 3, 10 and 17.

The six amendments printed will be:

SJR No. 14, which proposes to provide a four-year term for the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, comptroller of public accounts, treasurer, commissioner of the General Land Office, and certain statutory state officers.

STUDENT LOANS

HJR No. 11, which proposes to authorize loans to students at institutions of higher education by creating the Texas Opportunity Plan Fund.

HJR No. 5, which proposes to increase the amount of bonds that may be issued by the Veterans' Land Board to $400 million.

HJR No. 8, which proposes to raise the salaries of the lieutenant governor and Speaker of the House of Representatives and for increasing the daily expense allowances of legislators while in session.

HJR No. 81, which proposes expansion of state welfare medical care programs in order to qualify for federal aid for medical care for indigent, aged, blind, dependent children, and disabled persons.

SJR No. 24, which proposes to raise the amount of ad valorem taxes allocated for higher education.

SJR No. 27, on the proposition of whether to broaden the field in which the school teacher retirement fund may be invested.

SJR No. 47, whether to increase the terms of House of Representative members from two years to four years, starting in 1967.

HJR No. 57, whether to allow establishment of mandatory retirement of judges at age 75, with the authorization that the legislature could set the age at 70 if it wished. This proposal also would provide authorization for removal of judges when they are unable to carry out their duties.

SJR No. 7, whether to allow certain hospitals to be exempt from ad valorem taxes in Houston. This pertains only to Houston.

On Sept. 7, 1965, voters will consider only one proposed constitutional amendment: whether State Senate membership will be increased from its present 31 members to 39 members.

VOTING IN 1966

On Nov. 8, 1965, voters will decide:

—Whether to change the date on which House of Representatives members begin their terms to the second Tuesday after the first Monday of each odd-numbered year. State senators currently begin their terms on that date, but house members may be sworn into office as soon as general election returns are canvassed.

—Whether to repeal the poll tax as a requirement for voting in Texas, and to allow the legislature to establish a new voter registration system.

—Whether to allow men residents of Texas to vote for president and vice president before they establish eligibility for Texas citizenship.

AID TO VICTIMS

—Whether to allow the legislature to set up a system of payments to widows and children of law enforcement officials and firemen killed in the line of duty.

—Whether to allow military personnel to vote in state and local elections if they have met other voting requirements of Texas.

—Whether to allow the legislature to set up a method for dissolving hospital districts when they are no longer needed or wanted.

—Whether to provide that annexations by school districts shall not invalidate previously voted taxes.

AGRICULTURAL LAND

—Whether to allow local units of government of Harris County to consolidate some of their functions. This is a localized question only.

—Whether to set up a plan to provide tax benefits for owners of agricultural land near cities so long as the land is dedicated to agricultural use.

—Whether to authorize regional airport authorities. This is primarily a North Texas Proposal.

—Whether to allow the legislature to set up a statewide retirement disability and benefit system for officials and employes of all local units of government.

—Whether to expand from $200 million to $400 million the state loan fund for water development loans to cities and water systems.

—Whether to expand the three member Texas Court of Criminal Appeals to five members.

—Whether to allow the state to accept private grants and federal matching money to be used in rehabilitating the physically and mentally handicapped.

—Whether to remove Arlington State College from the list of schools eligible to share in the University of Texas permanent fund.

Efforts Are Being Made On Spring Site

Efforts are being made toward eventual improvement of the area around the "big spring," Chamber of Commerce manager Carroll Davidson said today. Saturday Chill Wills, here for the opening of the Ramada Inn, suggested the area should be cleaned, improved and made into a historical and tourist attraction.

Wills also offered to help in attempting to obtain state assistance.

Davidson said the efforts being made currently are for local development, possibly with the property being acquired and deeded to the city.

"We've been working on it for some time," he said of the proposed development. Privately - owned property whould first have to be acquired, however, he said.

The city parks and recreation board has included improvement of the big spring as part of a master plan for future parks development in the city.

Goldberg Takes Oath For Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Arthur J. Goldberg was sworn in today as U.S. ambassador to the United Nations and promised to strive "in my own way to help keep the candle of peace burning."

Shifting from the Supreme Court to take the diplomatic post, Goldberg said the quest for peace will be the true memorial to the late Adlai E. Stevenson, the man he succeeds.

"I have no illusions that peace can be achieved rapidly," Goldberg told President Johnson and an audience of Cabinet members, congressmen and other officials in the White House rose garden.

"But I have every confidence that it is going to be possible to inch forward to it, inch by agonizing inch," Goldberg said. He said there is no alternative in a nuclear age.

Johnson said he knows of no man "more able, more gifted to express, interpret and explain the policies of the United States government as determined by the people and the President and the Congress."

Goldberg took the oath with his right hand held high, his left on a red-bound book of the Holy Scriptures.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey were among those who stood behind him. After completing the oath, Goldberg turned to Johnson and handed him a letter of resignation from the Supreme Court.

Almost Rained During Night

It almost rained in Big Spring Sunday night, and again Monday morning.

For a few fleeting seconds around 10:30 p.m. Sunday big drops of rain pattered down on the town and again shortly before 7 a.m. today, a repeat performance was offered. Neither shower produced enough rain to even rate the debatable honor of being identified as a "trace."

Meantime, clouded skies brought some relief Monday morning for the sizzling heat which has prevailed consistently for days. It was only 80 degrees at mid-morning.

Farmers, becoming increasingly anxious as day after day of rainless weather holds, were hopeful something good might come out of the current overcast.

It is generally agreed that the promising cotton crop is now being gravely menaced by the continued lack of moisture and the burning hot sun.

Color Guard Wins First, To Compete Nationally

The color guard of Big Spring's American Legion Post 355 won state honors in the legion convention in El Paso Friday night. The state championship makes the group eligible to compete in the national championship at Portland, Ore., in August.

Commanding the guard was S. M. Sgt. Herb Smith. Members are S. Sgt. G. Spadafore, T. Sgt. L. G. Fontenot, T. Sgt. H. F. Kight and T. Sgt. J. H. Frair. All are assigned to Webb AFB.

The guard competed with three other legion teams, from Austin, Brownsville and New Braunfels. Marine and Army officers and Army sergeants served as judges, with judging involving marching, commands, appearance and other criteria. The competition was at Dudley Field at El Paso.

The winning group was presented a first prize of $175.

Arrangements are pending to attempt to send the color guard to the national convention.

The El Paso convention elected a Wichita Falls man, Clayton Mann, as new commander of the state legion department. Corpus Christi was chosen as the site for next year's convention. The Big Spring delegation to the convention was headed by post commander Carl Knappe.

Cooperation

City police and sheriff's deputies cooperated early Monday in capturing two escapees from the Big Spring State Hospital. One is a resident of Midland and the other lives in Odessa. Chief Deputy Lindy Oldfield said the two were picked up eight miles north of Big Spring on US 87. They were returned to the hospital.

Weather Forecast

Scattered showers are forecast for Monday night over parts of the northern Plains, the plateau region and the central Rockies. Some showers are also forecast over the Carolinas. Morton's Takes District Softball Championship

Morton's stomped Skateland, 11-4, to take the ASA District softball tournament Saturday night at City Park, after Skateland had eliminated Webb, 6-1, in an earlier game that evening. Now both Morton's and Skateland are eligible for the state tourney in Brownwood in August.

In the early game, Skateland knocked out 11 hits against Webb pitcher Lambert, while their own ace, Paige, gave up only five.

Webb actually scored first, in the fourth inning, but Skateland went ahead in the fifth on two runs, and scored four in the final stanza to take second place in the tourney.

HIT BARRAGE

Morton's batting order tagged Skateland's Blasingame for 15 hits including three homers, in the next game, the early win having apparently tired the Skateland players. The winners were none too sharp, either, as Mize and winning pitcher Wetsel gave up eight hits between them.

Scoring at every opportunity, Morton's soon ran up a two-run advantage and in the sixth inning jumped all over the tiring Blasingame for eight hits, including a three-run homer by shortstop New. Morton's scored five runs in the fatal inning. Catcher Farris homered in the first for Skateland, but the runners-up couldn't match the output of Morton's, as catcher Thomas homered in the first and left fielder Suggs did the same in the fourth for the tournament champs.

FALLS FROM CAR

Stengel Awaits Surgery On Hip

NEW YORK (AP) — Casey Stengel, perhaps the most colorful of all baseball's storied characters and a legend in his own time, lay in a hospital bed today, rigid in traction and wracked with pain, awaiting surgery on a fractured left hip.

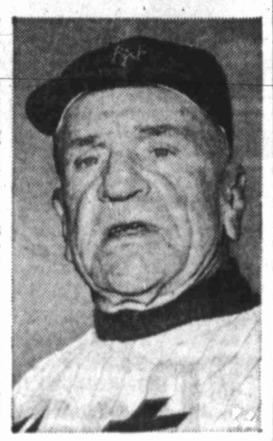
"At his age, any such surgery has to be considered serious," Dr. Peter La Motte said of the fabled Ol' Perfesser, field boss and guiding spirit of the New York Mets, one-time leader of the Yankees and for 55 years a baseball figure.

Dr. La Motte, Met team physician, said Stengel suffered a displaced fracture of the left hip when he fell stepping out of a car early Sunday, on the eve of his 75th birthday celebration scheduled between games of a Met doubleheader at Shea Stadium.

The seriousness of the injury was not known until Stengel awoke Sunday in severe pain at the home of Met controller Joe DeGregorio.

He was rushed by ambulance to Roosevelt Hospital, placed in traction and given sedatives to relieve the pain.

A series of tests was scheduled today. The operation will be performed either Tuesday or Wednesday. Stengel will be hospitalized for about three weeks, and presumably will have a longer convalescent period at his home in Glendale, Calif.



CASEY STENGEL

The injury made it doubtful Stengel will rejoin the Mets this season and raised even more questions about his future with the struggling darlings of New York's New Breed.

Casper's Weight Helps Him To Playoff Victory

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — What's with professional golfer Billy Casper and his diet?

Since April he has trimmed his weight from 220 pounds to 175 and his waistline from 40 inches to 34. He says he never felt better in his life.

You have to believe that because the slimmer he has been getting, the more PGA tournaments he has been winning, the latest being his second Insurance City Open victory in three years.

In blistering heat, the 34-year-old Casper rolled in a 20-foot birdie putt to beat 29-year-old Johnny Pott on the first extra hole in a sudden death playoff for the ICO title Sunday. It was worth $11,000 to him and $6,200 to Pott.

They had tied after regulation 72-hole play with 274, 10-under-par at the 6,568-yard Wethersfield Country Club course. To get a crack at the top money, Billy had to make up three strokes on Pott during the final 18 holes over the par 71 layout.

Ironically, Casper nearly had to quit during the first round because of intestinal flu. He survived with a 70 and took a 72 the next day when he felt slightly improved. He finished with back-to-back 66s.

For the dieting Casper, the ICO was his third PGA victory of the season, and the $11,000 which brought his season's official earnings to $53,808, extended his streak of finishing in the money to 43 tournaments, the longest of any active player.

Olympic Group Pulls Surprise

NEW YORK (AP) — Kenneth L. (Tug) Wilson is on his way out as president and Asa Bushnell as secretary of the U.S. Olympic Committee in a major shake-up of officers in the governing body for the Olympic movement in this country.

The surprise move came in the form of nominations by the group's executive committee — tantamount to election — of a completely new slate of officers for four-year terms.

"The committee felt it was in the best interests of the Olympic movement and in order to create a new image and new interest that a rotation of officers be made," an executive committee spokesman said Sunday.

He declined to elaborate.

Wilson, former Big Ten Athletic Conference Commissioner, has been associated with the Olympics in an official capacity ever since he was a javelin thrower on the 1920 U.S. team.

He has served as president since 1953 and is one of three Americans on the International Olympic Committee.

Bushnell, commissioner of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference, has been SPC secretary for 20 years.

Douglas F. Roby of Detroit, a past president of the Amateur Athletic Union and vice president of the U.S. Olympic Committee since 1953, was nominated to succeed Wilson as president.

Fourth Place At Stake In Games

Seaboard, Coahoma, and Pioneer, three American Softball League teams, will contest for fourth place in the league tonight at 7:30 at City Park.

First game of the playoff will be between Seaboard and Coahoma. The winner will play Pioneer for fourth-place honors.

Astros Just Can't Score

HOUSTON (AP) — The frustrated Houston Astros, who had not scored a run against Cincinnati in 20 innings, loaded the bases with none out and trailing, 1-0, in the eighth inning Sunday.

Pitcher Mike Cuellar was next up, but the Astros called on Nellie Fox to pinch hit, with the top of the batting order to follow.

Fox forced Bob Aspromonte at home.

Lead-off hitter Joe Morgan had to face a new pitcher, Bill McColl, who replaced John Tsitouris.

Morgan fouled out.

Houston decided to pull Lee Maye for pinch-hitter Frank Thomas.

Thomas forced Bob Lillis at third and Houston's frustration was compounded.

"If you can't score with the bases loaded and nobody out," Astro manager Luman Harris said after the game, "You can't beat anybody."

The Reds took the game, 3-1, and the four-game series by the same mark.

Four of Cincinnati's eight hits Sunday were doubles. They put together two of them in the fourth inning for a run, and two more in the ninth for two more.

After the eighth-inning Houston threat, the Reds decided to get a thicker cushion to preserve Tsitouris' victory.

Ron Taylor coughed up the ninth-inning doubles later saying, "I'll have to take the responsibility for this loss. I messed it up by giving them two runs in the ninth."

Houston finally scored in the last frame on a single by Jim Wynn, who went all the way to third on McCool's wild pitch, and a double by Walt Bond.

LOOKING 'EM' OVER

By TOMMY HART

When Big Spring's Don White enrolls at SMU this fall, he'll face competition for the center's job on the freshman football team from such boys as Stan Poulos, Odessa Permian; Tommy Bell, Terrell; and Bo Cannon, Amarillo Tascosa.

White will be the smallest of the four but no ones goes to SMU with better credentials. Those who say the Big Spring-Odessa game last fall agree that White outplayed Odessa's All-America Skippy Spruill all over the field.

Texas Football magazine lists Coahoma eighth among the state's Class A football powers this fall, a factor that will put the Bulldogs squarely on the spot in District 6-A.

Coach Spike Dykes, who has been busy this summer putting out football brochures for three districts (2-AAAA, 3-AAA and 5-AA), knows the other conference coaches will be throwing HIS press clippings at their boys. For that reason, the Bulldogs will probably be the "target for tonight," in turn, for ten opponents before the season has run its course.

You get promoted into the elite society and, right away, the hungry element starts taking pot shots at you. That's a way of life, especially among football teams.

Spike will admit only: "We COULD have a good football team."

What he means is, the Bulldogs can prosper if they are willing to pay the price. It is as simple as that.

When the high school coaches of the state converge upon Dallas next month for their annual school, some of them will be taking part in a golf tournament which has as its director Bob Cowsar.

Baseball fans who followed the old Longhorn League back in 1947 will recall Cowsar. The myopic Cowsar (he couldn't see the pitcher's mound from home plate without his glasses) hit .409.

That was the season the entire Sweetwater team had a collective batting average of .330, yet failed to play .500 ball and wound up fourth in the standings.

In that Dallas tournament for the coaches, by the way, even the worst players may be rewarded.

If you hit a ball far enough out of bounds, the player may find a sign which reads:

"Take this to the clubhouse for three new balls."

Paul Harney, the pro golfer who is very discriminating about the tournaments he enters, says the game of golf attacks Ken Venturi physically.

No doctor can find anything wrong with Venturi, says Harney, but his hands remain swollen and misshapen. In other words, Venturi gets the shakes on the tour because of nerves.

Harney says he can remember situations so tense in tournament play that he has stood over his ball, looked down and not been able to see it.

The National Football League retains one man (Mark Duncan) to screen applicants for officiating jobs, make officiating assignments and try to keep 14 volatile head coaches as content as possible.

He gets 300 job applications a year. The NFL hires an average of only three a year, or did before it took on a sixth whistleblower for each of its games this season.

NFL birddogs scout the prospect, watch his demeanor under fire, send him written tests and conduct a personal interview. The league's turnover in arbiters is very small.

However, Burl Toler, the Negro official recently hired by the league didn't even apply for his job.

He was recommended to the circuit by another NFL official. Toler will serve as a head lineman. The new official in NFL games this year will be called a line judge.

Kathy Whitworth Wins Buckeye Test

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Kathy Whitworth won the $10,000 Buckeye Savings Association Ladies Pro Golf Tournament with a 20-foot putt and said she was happy she did not have to go into a playoff.

Miss Whitworth, of San Antonio, Tex. started the final 18-hole round Sunday four strokes behind Susie Maxwell of Oklahoma City. She shot a two-under par 70 for a 54-hole total of 207, while Miss Maxwell ballooned to a three-over-par 75 on the Clovernook Country Club course and finished with a 208.

Tech To Reorganize Athletic Department

LUBBOCK (AP) — Reorganization of the Texas Tech athletic department with the primary purpose of preventing a repetition of the basketball fiasco has been ordered by the board of directors.

Last winter Texas Tech forfeited the Southwest Conference basketball championship because player Norman Reuther had failed by one hour of having enough school work to meet Southwest Conference rules.

It was not discovered until Tech was playing in the second term and games in which Reuther participated were forfeited.

School officials said it was an error, that the discrepancy had gotten by the athletic department.

A special committee was appointed in April to study the school's athletic situation surrounding the ineligibility of Reuther.

The committee reported to the board of directors last week and its recommendations were unanimously adopted.

They called for improvement of that part of the athletic program concerning spring sports, eventually combining the positions of athletic director and head football coach and employing more efficient methods for providing constant information concerning the academic status of athletes.

Also, the athletic council was ordered changed to include two outsiders. It now has eight members, with six from the faculty and one each from the ex-students association and the student body. It will be increased to nine with five from the faculty, one from the ex-students, one from the student body and two from outside the administration.

The status of athletic director Polk Robison and head football coach J. T. King has not been indicated under the proposed reorganization.

Neither has that of Dr. J. William Davis, the school's faculty representative to the Southwest Conference who revealed the error that brought Tech's loss of the basketball championship.

Old Smoky Gives A Lot Of Bounce

By The Associated Press

If a little Go-Go went when Forrest Harrill Burgess came to the Chicago White Sox, they haven't missed it. In a pinch, Old Smoky gives the Sox plenty of bounce to the ounce.

Burgess, paunchy, 38-year-old strongman of Al Lopez' bench, broke the major league record for pinch-swingers Sunday with a two-run double — the 108th pinch hit of his 16-year career — as the White Sox divided a doubleheader with Detroit.

The veteran catcher's hit, which keyed an eight-run sixth-inning rally in Chicago's 10-6 first-game victory, moved him one ahead of Red Lucas, who had 107 pinch-hits for three National League clubs from 1928-38.

"The thing that makes Smoky a great pinch hitter is the fact that he is always swinging and gets a piece of the ball," Lopez said after the second game, which the Tigers won 13-2 with a four-homer barrage. "He's not too fussy where the ball is. He just takes his cuts."

While Chicago and Detroit were splitting their twin bill, the Minnesota Twins, paced by Tony Oliva and Zoilo Versalles, came from four runs behind and whipped Baltimore 8-5, stretching their American League lead over the second-place Orioles to 3½ games.

Cleveland and New York split a doubleheader, the Indians taking the nightcap 7-4 behind the hitting of Fred Whitfield after the Yankees won 3-0 on Mel Stottlemyre's four-hitter. Washington beat Kansas City 4-3 in the first of a pair on a bases-loaded walk in the ninth but dropped the second game 5-3. Boston edged Los Angeles 5-4 in a single game.

The Twins struck for four runs in the eighth, three on Oliva's 17th homer, to tie Baltimore, then won it in the ninth on Versalles' two-run triple and Oliva's sacrifice fly. Rookie John Miller checked Minnesota on two hits, one a homer by Jimmie Hall, until the eighth-inning uprising. Brooks Robinson homered for the Orioles.

Whitfield rapped four hits, including a three-run homer, in the Indians' second-game victory over the Yankees before 56,634, the largest Cleveland crowd since June 17, 1962. Whitfield's homer was his fifth against New York pitching this season.

Stottlemyre breezed to his 11th victory in the first game.

WINS 10TH VICTORY

Bob Shaw's Temper And Aim Improving

By The Associated Press

Bob Shaw's aim is improving. So is his temper.

The San Francisco pitcher, starting for the second straight day, picked up his 10th victory Sunday as the Giants edged Milwaukee 2-1 for their third consecutive triumph.

But the day before, it appeared that Shaw might lose his seventh game on just three pitches. The third pitch hit lead-off batter Felipe Alou and bounced Shaw out of the game.

The 32-year-old right-hander was asked to leave when he told umpire Bill Jackowski what he thought of the call on Alou. Shaw contended rather vehemently that the ball hit the bat before it hit the batter.

Once Shaw had departed, the Braves scored a run in the inning and held the lead until the Giants scored in the fifth, taking Shaw off the hook.

Less than 24 hours later, Shaw tried to get back on it. He started again — and again hit leadoff batter Alou with a pitch. But this time it took him only two pitches to zero in, and he was satisfied with his bullseye.

He didn't even bring up the point for discussion.

Instead, he retired the Braves in the inning and allowed them only one run and no hit batters in the next seven.

Elsewhere in the National League, first-place Los Angeles held on to its one-game lead by defeating St. Louis 5-1, Chicago stopped Pittsburgh 5-0 after losing 3-2 in 13 innings, Cincinnati trimmed Houston 3-1 and New York whipped Philadelphia 8-1 before bowing 3-1.

Rookies Jim Lefebvre and Jeff Torborg provided the big punch for the Dodgers, each stroking a two-run single in a five-run, fifth-inning explosion.

Bill Faul pitched a three-hitter in the Cubs' second-game victory and figured in his second triple play in 12 days. He got Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente to line into it in the fourth inning. The Cubs pulled a triple play against Milwaukee July 14 with Faul on the mound.

The Pirates won the opener on Del Crandall's two-out homer off Lindy McDaniel in the 13th. Vernon Law, Pittsburgh's seventh pitcher, gained his 11th victory. He won his 10th with a seven-inning performance Saturday.

Ruben Amaro's two-out error on Galen Cisco's grounder helped New York to four unearned runs in the second inning of the opener. Billy Cowan tripled home two of the runs and scored as Roy McMillan singled.

Philadelphia came back in the nightcap and took advantage of Chuck Hiller's two-out error for two runs in the sixth. Bobby Wine scored as Hiller booted Cookie Rojas' grounder, and Dick Stuart eventually singled in Rojas with the deciding run.

Home Run Paces Abilene To Win

Ron Fullmer hit a hanging curve ball out of the park in the seventh inning, giving the Abilene Sports a 2-1 lead over the Gage Oilers. Abilene made this stand up taking the win from the local sandlotters, Sunday night.

Starter Danny Valdes was pulled in the fourth inning, and Bobby Suggs went the rest of the way for the Oilers. The two pitchers gave up a total of only five hits to the Sports.

But the five hits were enough, as only one Oiler got a solid feel of Sport hurler Fullmer's pitches. Roy New went three hits, none of them scoring anyone. The Oiler's run came in the first inning on three consecutive Sports infield errors, Tito Arencibia scoring.

The Sports tied the game in the fourth with three straight singles off Valdes, and then, in the seventh, Fullmer parked the ball, giving the Sports the victory.

The Oiler's fine double-play combination of New - Barron-Arencibia gave the losers some consolation, though, coming through with a double-play for the third consecutive game.

Player Sweeps To 11 Stroke Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Open champion Gary Player, who said he just couldn't get going in the final round, emerged as an 11-stroke victor in the four-day National Challenge golf match.

Player took the $20,000 first prize as he rounded out a 72-hole total of 269 at nearby Lakewood Country Club Sunday.

Going into the final round Player was leading U.S. amateur champion Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., by 16 strokes. He shot a two over par 73, his worst score of the four rounds, but still won running away.

Meanwhile, Jack Nicklaus, with his second straight 66, squeaked into second place with a four-day total of 280. If there were any doubts that Player was falling off, they were dispelled by Nicklaus, however.

"I'll tell you this," said Nicklaus. "The way Gary played this week, he'd have beaten anybody by 10 shots."

Nicklaus nosed out Arnold Palmer by one stroke. Palmer shot 68 Sunday for a total of 281, and placed the three top spots in the hands of the three pros.

Leading the three amateurs in the match, and finishing just one stroke behind Palmer was Dean Beman. Five more strokes behind, with a total of 287 was Campbell, who finished up with a 75 in the final round.

Amateur Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., shot 73 Sunday to total 289 and end up sixth.

Drouth Strikes In Many Parts Of The World

By The Associated Press

Severe drouth conditions have left withered fields, emaciated cattle, dry streams and bleak prospects for crops in many parts of the world.

The drouth has hit parts of Australia, Korea, India, Italy, Portugal, Kenya, Panama and other areas.

Parts of Australia are undergoing one of the worst drouths on record. The outlook is grim in many of the nation's richest agricultural areas.

Heavy rains the past few days broke the drouth in the coastal areas of eastern Australia, but vast sheep and cattle ranches to the west still are dry.

The federal minister for primary production, C. F. Adermann, said "undoubtedly the drouth will have adverse effects on our wheat and other cereal production in the coming season. Wool, meat and milk production also will be affected."

Here is a brief summary of drouth conditions in other areas:

PORTUGAL

Poor harvests are predicted in most regions. In the southern region, drouth and wide tracts of abandoned farmlands have brought a plague of locusts, which damaged tomato and sunflower crops. Corn and potato crops both dropped this year, although wheat is not in bad shape, according to the National Institute of Statistics. Grapes have not been affected.

INDIA

Eastern India suffered under the worst dry spell in a decade this spring, but Food Ministry officials in New Delhi said that viewed from a nationwide basis, there appeared to be no fear of serious economic dislocation.

Officials in Calcutta estimated at least one million acres of jute, India's big money-making export, were damaged. Another 300,000 acres of the crop were not planted this year.

Exact damage to crops and to India's food position cannot be evaluated for several months until the impact of the belated monsoon rains is studied. Even a slight drop in yields is harmful because the nation already eats more than it grows.

PANAMA

A 30-50 per cent drop in average rainfall in central Panama has affected the country's richest farming zone and prime cattle area.

Cattle herds find little food on the parched, cracking pastures. Unless rain comes soon, rice fields will be a total loss. The Panama Canal restricts the start of shipping due to low lake levels.

KENYA

Two years ago Kenya was a corn exporter. Today corn crops stand shriveled in the fields and the nation is importing tons of U.S. corn to feed its people. The drouth is the worst since 1961 when vast cattle herds were decimated and many people died.

ITALY

Drouth in northern Italy this spring was the worst since 1938. The thaw was slower than usual and in addition there was no rain all May. Rice industry spokesmen estimate a crop yield about 5 per cent below normal. The corn crop also is expected to be affected.

SOUTH AFRICA

Vast areas of the cane belt have suffered an unprecedented summer drouth and many rivers have stopped flowing, preventing irrigation of sugar cane fields. The shortage of water may cut the cane crop from an expected 1.5 million tons to 1.1 million, official estimates said. The wool clip is down.

SOUTH KOREA

The worst drouth in 60 years this spring was broken this month when the rainy season finally set in. Crop prospects, which had been forecast to drop 30 per cent this fall, were revised upward and agriculture experts now predict an average rice crop.

ARGENTINA

Inadequate rains in the provinces of Cordoba and Santa Fe will affect corn yields. Some late-planted areas have been abandoned for use as forage.

First Space Chief Dead

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Roy W. Johnson, the nation's first space chief, died here in Stamford Hospital after a long illness. He was 59.

Johnson gave up a $158,000-a-year job as executive vice president of General Electric Co. in 1958 to become director of the Defense Department's Advanced Research Projects Agency.

The agency was a forerunner of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Dusty Job

The city's new $30,000 "Traxcavator" Caterpillar stirs up a storm of dust as it covers over garbage at the nearly-full sanitary fill just off IS 20 east of town.

City's New Tractor Fixed For Sanitary Fill Work

The city's new $30,000 Caterpillar "Traxcavator," used at the city sanitary fills, is back in action after being equipped with screen guards to keep trash out of the radiator, according to Ernest Lillard, director of public works.

The Caterpillar had been overheating, and was sent back to the dealer for correction. The company representative decided that trash from the fill had been keeping air from cooling the radiator fluid, causing the engine to overheat. Guards were installed, and the company also provided special operational instructions to the city workers.

The 40,000-pound earth mover can move up to three cubic yards of fill with each dip of its 2,630-pound bucket. A huge, 525 cubic-inch displacement diesel engine of six cylinders and 150 horsepower is required to maneuver the stubby tractor. The engine is aided by two forward speeds through each of four speed ranges.

For protection of the operator against the dust and muck raised by the operation of the tractor and the West Texas winds, an enclosed cab has been installed.

The old sanitary fill just off IS 20 has about been used up, and the tractor will shortly begin work on the newly - completed fill near the airport road, north of town, Lillard said.

Plane Crash Kills Texan

PARRISH, Ala. (AP)—A Fort Worth, Tex., man died Saturday when his single-engine Piper Comanche crashed into a hilly, thickly wooded section of Walker County, 12 miles south of here.

Killed was James D. Knight, whose wrecked plane was discovered Sunday afternoon after an intensified search by air rescue planes.

The small private plane cut a swath about 100 yards long as it plowed over treetops. Walker County is in northwest Alabama.

Knight was en route from Rome, Ga., to Fort Worth. He left Rome at 2:30 p.m. (EST) Saturday and the search began when he didn't arrive in the Texas city at the time specified on a flight plan.

Mayor Wagner's Wedding Today

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Barbara Joan Cavanagh, sister of New York's deputy mayor, will be married today by Francis Cardinal Spellman in his private chapel at his residence.

About 40 persons are expected to attend the 3:30 p.m. ceremony. Cardinal Spellman will read a special blessing from Pope Paul VI.

Whale In Tow Reaches U.S.

(AP) — There was a whale of a traffic jam at nearby Deception Pass Sunday. Namu arrived.

The four-ton killer whale, who swam into a fisherman's net at Namu, B.C., and is being towed in a pen to a Seattle aquarium, passed through the pass at 8:45 p.m.

The crowd began gathering about 2 p.m., the state patrol reported.

"It got to the point where people had to park and walk almost a mile to get to the bridge in order to see," said trooper Bob Erhart.

The pass is at the north end of Whidbey Island, a few miles northwest of here and about 70 miles from Seattle, where Namu is due Tuesday.

Mass March On Chicago City Hall Due

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the Southern Baptist preacher of "freedom now" took the rich, predominantly white, northern suburb of Winnetka by storm Sunday night.

A crowd observers estimated at more than 15,000 — police estimated a more conservative 8,000 — welcomed King with a standing ovation as he took the rostrum of Winnetka's village green.

ROARS APPROVAL

His audience roared its approval as King said: "The price that America must pay for the oppression of the Negro is the price of its own destruction. The clock is ticking, and we must act before it is too late."

King stressed during nine appearances Sunday — most of them in Chicago's South Side Negro community — that he wanted everyone to join a huge march on City Hall today. "We need to march at least 10,000 strong tomorrow," he repeated at almost every stop.

Police were said to be preparing for some 3,000 marchers.

ASK OUSTER

If successful, the march would be Chicago's biggest since rights demonstrators began almost daily marches a month and a half ago. Marchers are asking the immediate ouster of Schools Sup. Benjamin C. Willis and have directed some of their barbs at Mayor Richard J. Daley. They accuse Willis of fostering de facto segregation in schools and Daley of not stepping into the matter.

The planned march will climax a Chicago visit that began with King's arrival Friday night. It included nine stops Saturday as well as Sunday's nine, seven of them outdoor rallies and two of them preaching appearances at church services.

The Chicago visit was the first of four King said he intends to make in the coming days. His itinerary calls tentatively for a plane trip to Cleveland this afternoon or night where he will spend two days; two days of rest in Atlanta, his home; and then on to Philadelphia and Washington.

A Devotional For The Day

"Be strong and of good courage; be not frightened, neither be dismayed." (Joshua 1:9, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for the faith of our fathers who stood firm "in spite of dungeon, fire, and sword." Give us a strong, single-minded heart to choose what is pleasing in Thy sight. May we live in constant awareness of Thy presence so that we can have even a portion of Thy power. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Voting Age Limit Remains

The 59th Texas Legislature earlier this year, as had several of its predecessors, rejected proposals to lower the legal voting age in this state from 21 to 18 or 19. Apparently the Legislature was responsibly representative in that decision.

If the Legislature had submitted such an amendment to the Texas Constitution to the people, it probably would have been heavily defeated. A recent poll of public opinion over the state indicates that Texas voters are more than 2-to-1 against lowering the voting age from 21.

That view prevailed through all age groups, educational levels and degrees of urbanization. Most significantly perhaps, strongest opposition was noted in the 21-34 age group, that is, those nearest teenage experience.

There are strong logical arguments for lowering the voting age to the level of adult responsibility in other fields, such as criminal law, and military service. But there is also widespread doubt that younger people have the maturity of judgment and extent of experience necessary to intelligent voting, though they could with justification counter that the same is true of many of their elders.

The strongest barrier to lowering the voting age probably is simply tradition. The minimum is 21 years of age in 46 states. The exceptions are Hawaii, 20; Alaska, 19; Georgia and Kentucky 18. And the experience of those four states has not been such, or sufficient, to change national thinking.

Predictably there will be other attempts in the Texas Legislature to lower the voting age. Predictably also, however, is their failure unless a groundswell of public demand unexpectedly builds up in favor of the change, especially among the young people who would be affected. Whether it may be attributed to apathy or wisdom, there just does not seem to be much demand in the 18-21 age group for the right to vote.

Continuing Change

Perhaps no one who thought the problem through could have cherished the illusion that racial integration of American life would become a racing tide. Nevertheless the gulf between hope and realization continues to be revealed in many ways.

Recently, for instance, Federal Judge Homer Thornberry of Austin informed the Travis County Bar Association that it should integrate or he would be forced to resign. The association will vote on integration July 29.

It may be that change in this field will not be as prolonged as the struggle upward from slavery, but the process obviously is going to proceed slowly, often by fits and starts. Yet the nation cannot be satisified with anything less than an equal opportunity for all its citizens.

Little Company In A Big Field

Perhaps a dozen Americans—well, maybe 20—have heard of Sotad. It's a newly-formed corporation fathered by three American small-businessmen disparately located in Waynesboro, Va., Dallas and Milwaukee. You can't help wondering how they got together!

What daring, what aspiration! You might even call it impertinence. A tiny, untried American enterprise on the African shores of the Mediterranean puts itself in a class with Texaco, Socony and Alcoa—all billion-dollar operations—by using a corporate acronym. Will it live up to its pretension?

SOTAD IS French alphabetics for Tunisian-American Small-Business Development Corp.—Societe Tuniso Americaine Development. It's capitalized for $75,000 in all—$15,000 in hard American dollars and $60,000 in counterpart Tunisian dinars advanced by the Agency for International Development (AID). Already it has put $45,000 in Claude Gozlan's financial pot.

Why? Because Gozlan is a rarity—a Tunisian with entrepreneurial zest, a yen to own and operate his own business.

IN 1956 HE SOLD his automobile for $2,000, got a small shop, hired three employees and started manufacturing tables, chairs and other simple items of furniture of metal and wood. For locomotion, he bought a motor scooter.

He now employs 170 persons. This year he expects to gross $800,000 (in dinars), a $200,000 gain over last year. His capital is stated at $250,000, on which he nets $80,000, or better than 30 per cent. Not bad.

THAT HIGH earnings potential and the challenge—the chance to implant American knowhow where it will be effective politically and economically—lured the three Americans into Tunisia. They are:

Charles Eckman, whose Virginia Metalcrafters, Inc. makes lawnmowers and garden tractors and whose Williamsburg Reproductions manufactures brass and other metal products. He is working with Gozlan on the use of Eckman parts in the manufacture of tractors and in fashioning brass products for export, largely to the U. S.

DAN VAREL, who will work with Gozlan in producing oil-well bits, the mainstay of his Varel Manufacturing Co., in Dallas, also he has plants in Paris and Algeria.

Robert Moon, soon to make his fourth trip to the Gozlan works. His Lakeside Manufacturing Co., Milwaukee specializes in sheet-metal products—tables, chairs and other items. This, as noted, is what Gozlan got started in. Moon hopes to cut costs and improve designs.

Gozlan is completing a tour of the plants of his three partners to see firsthand the how and why of their methods and techniques. He was brought together with his American co-venturers by Eugene Foley, head of the Small Business Administration, who feels that underdeveloped countries don't—can't—develop giant industries overnight. They need small businesses. Foley sponsored a trip of small-businessmen to Tunisia.

IF THE GOZLAN venture succeeds, Sotad will explore other joint ventures. "We don't lack for opportunities, for offers," Moon told me.

But Eckman, Varel and Moon are true American businessmen. They're in Tunisia for profit. They don't intend to lose their stake or AID's either.

They're also in Tunisia for kicks. It's their way—and Foley's—of planting the American flag abroad without using the marines. Call it technological infiltration—if you will.

Let's hope Sotad grows up to its acronym.

Billy Graham

When we're made such selfish creatures, how can we honestly say, "Thy will be done?" I. M.

It is this basic "selfishness" that actually leads people to seek help outside themselves. If a man is drowning, his will to live makes him cry "help." When a tramp is hungry, his hunger makes him beg food. The wise person, realizing that his own selfish way can lead to difficulty, should bring himself to say, "Thy will be done." We speak about "surrender," and this is a good word. But, actually, when we surrender to God, we stand to gain rather than lose. Jesus said: "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you." Too often we have the concept that yielding to God means that we stand to lose some of the good in life. But Jesus said, "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it."

Yielding to God doesn't mean that life is going to be worse. It simply means that we are trading doubt for faith, confusion for peace, and frustration for assurance. Any person who is selfish enough to want the best for himself, should consider living for God. As our Lord said, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul."

Rocky Closes Door On Himself

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller must have thought a lot in nine days for within that time he decided to do what he had said would be meaningless to do.

He discussed the question of any 1968 presidential ambitions and closed the door on himself. But this wouldn't be the first time he did something like that and changed his mind.

What made it remarkable about taking himself out of the presidential race this early is that the Republican field is as wide open as at any time in history.

HIS PARTY, still trying to pick itself up off the floor after its 1964 disaster, has been mute about practically everything, including the 1968 presidential race.

At this moment no one among the Republicans, including Rockefeller, looks like more than a mere possibility for the GOP nomination three years from now.

Rockefeller, twice elected New York's governor, told a news conference July 16 he would definitely seek a third term in 1966. Winning that, of course, would keep him in public life.

THAT, IN turn, would give him a good foundation for seeking the presidential nomination. But would he try for the presidency three years from now? He avoided a direct answer to newsmen at the July 16 conference.

Instead, he said "We are so far away from 1968 it is meaningless" to discuss it. He added: "I am not giving it time or thought."

Then Sunday on the CBS program "Face the Nation," he said he would not be a GOP presidential candidate in 1968 or any other year. He ruled himself out forever. He said something like that once before.

ON DEC. 26, 1959, he said he would not be a candidate in the 1960 race. He closed the door on himself that time after touring the country and finding Vice President Richard M. Nixon was away out in front.

He said then his "decision was definite and final."

As the 1960 nominating convention drew near he had second thoughts, although it is hard to see why since Nixon was still away out in front all by himself. Rockefeller announced he'd be willing to be drafted.

Perils Of Tourist Class

NEW YORK (AP) — One of life's little ordeals today is taking a long international air journey in tourist or economy class.

The money you save barely covers the cost of having your friendly neighborhood osteopath straighten the kinks out of your backbone.

As a matter of fact, after making a round-trip economy flight of some 20,000 miles to and from Viet Nam, I have only one suggestion to the air lines: replace any member of the crew, except possibly the pilot, with a staff orthopedist or a chiropractor.

Going over wasn't so bad because I didn't know what I was up against. But I had to spend nearly three months in the war zone to get up enough courage to face the trip back.

The air line fellows who make the seating assignments must be either sadists or former sardine canners. Their goal seems always to wedge a fat man in the middle of the three cramped seats.

Then the fun begins.

On the outside seat is a tall man with legs so long he trips up hostesses several times before one finally tells him he can't leave them in the aisle. So he puts one foot under the seat ahead of him and one under the seat in front of the fat man next to him.

And the passenger by the window, on the other side of the fat man, usually is a talkative middle-aged lady who suffers from claustrophobia and is making her first flight.

She can't stand being crowded and becomes nervous. Every 15 minutes she has to clamber over the fat man to go to the comfort room. After 1,000 miles her spiked heels have scraped both his shins raw.

About then food is served. The hostesses fly back and forth with trays like burdened birds. The theory is that if enough food is stuffed into the passengers they will go into a coma and quit trying to move around.

By the time his circulation returns in his arms, the fat man's companions have finished their meal. He weakly tries to cut his steak and winds up with his elbows in the neighboring plates. He is too tired to struggle. He just leaves them there, soaking up gravy, until the hostesses come to his rescue and take away the trays.

But if tourist flights are tough on the paying guests, they are equally hard on the heroic, hard-working hostesses. At the end of one stage of my journey, I told one hostess who was leaving, "I guess you girls really feel like a rest."

"Oh, our work isn't quite through yet, sir," she said brightly, "we still have to take off our shoes and press the grapes to make the champagne for the return."

Tolnaftate Fights Fungus Infections

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: When I last visited my chiropedist he told me I had a fungus infection in my toenails and was in for some trouble.

Well, recently the trouble started. Should a chiropeodist or an M.D. treat this and how long does it take? — MRS. M.G.

Your letter raises two different points. One is control of fungus, which I'll get to in a moment. Before that: What do you suppose your chiropodist (also known as podiatrist) had in mind when he warned you?

This is the sort of thing that leaves doctors of all kinds in a quandary. When we see some ominous condition shaping up, naturally we apply all possible pressure to have the patient agree to immediate treatment.

If it is some lesser ailment, then what? The patient is inclined to wonder, or be outright suspicious, if he is told to have treatment for something that isn't, so far as he can see, bothering him. So very often a doctor does just what your chiropodist did: Tells the patient that trouble is coming, and leaves it up to the patient to decide when he wants to do something about it. You've reached that time. If you had asked your chiropodist what to do about it, you might have avoided the trouble, but you would never have known what you were avoiding.

Fungus infections of the skin (feet, hands, scalp, or elsewhere) are fairly common. Also quite stubborn. When fungus gets into the nails, considerable time is required to get rid of it because the nails grow so slowly — four to six months for complete replacement.

Only in the last few years have we had really effective medication to combat entrenched fungus infections.

One is the drug griseofulvin, which is taken by mouth. This must be prescribed in carefully measured quantities, and for safety requires periodic blood counts.

In the last few years, this drug has subdued fungus infections which in some cases had resisted all prior treatment.

But fungus, like germs of many types, comes in varieties and what easily stops one kind may fail against another.

Hence a new drug (a solution containing a chemical called tolnaftate) is a welcome addition. It has demonstrated ability to eliminate some fungus forms which resist other methods of treatment. Tolnaftate is rubbed onto the skin or nails.

One problem is that a "fungus infection" may not always be the whole story. Sometimes additional skin trouble is present, too. Most careful diagnosis is necessary in such cases, and more than one form of treatment may be required.

Stopping treatment (if a nail is involved) before the infected nail is replaced by a new, healthy one, can let the problem start to spread again, so don't be too hasty. Sometimes debridement (removal) of thick, dead skin is wise, and at times a whole nail may be removed.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can adenoids, if they are bad, make a person feel like he has sinus trouble? — D.I.

It's possible, although not likely in an adult.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises—Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

Crowds Fish

NEW YORK (AP)—Fishermen are warned against crowding game fish out of the water with litter.

C. R. Gutermuth, chairman of Keep America Beautiful's national advisory council, estimates that some 50 million people in the U. S. will go fishing this year.

"Each of these anglers, if he were a litterbug, would dump about a pound of rubbish into our streams, lakes and salt water—or along the shores," Mr. Gutermuth said. "That adds up to a potential of 50 million pounds of rubbish in a single season. At that rate, we would have more litter than fish."

Bright Lexicon Of Business

One thing and another:

A tongue-in-cheek business lexicon has been outlined by a business tycoon in the midwest, who says that everyone in business must, at one time or another, convey a judgment about people.

Here are his definitions:

If we say a man is 'exceptionally well qualified,' we could really mean that he has committed 'no major blunders.'

IF WE SAY he is 'quick thinking,' we probably mean he offers 'plausible excuses for errors.'

The phrase 'forceful and aggressive' might be translated 'argumentative.'

'Zealous attitude' could mean 'opinionated.'

'Tactful when dealing with superiors' is often the man who knows when to keep his mouth shut.

THE PHRASE 'extra hours on the job' can really mean 'he has a miserable home life.'

That king of cliches, 'active socially' on any fitness report is immediately taken to mean 'he drinks' heavily.'

If the report says 'wife active socially' that means 'she drinks, too.'

NOT LONG AGO in Ventura, Calif., two employes of a bank came to the conclusion that a man seated near them looked like a bandit who had recently held up the bank and escaped with $8,000 in loot.

They summoned police who spirited the suspect to headquarters and questioned him.

THE POOR GUY was released after it was established that he had a perfect alibi — he was working as a deputy district attorney at the time of the robbery.

The Press Corps Favorite

WASHINGTON — In a Senate corridor on the morning of this writing some 20 reporters waited outside the closed meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee, at which all but 3 of the 16 members were present. When the door opened and the lawmakers emerged, the reporters instictively gathered around, not the high-powered Democrats, but around Everett McKinley Dirksen, Republican.

THE MATTER seems relevant because upon this reporter's return to his office he found a 48-page brochure entitled "Operation Enlightenment," which lamented the GOP's horrible relations with the press and which proposed a number of ways to rectify it. A committee of 12 Republicans had sponsored the publication and engaged a sharp young public relationist to write it.

Consider the paradox. In Everett Dirksen, Senate Minority Leader, the Republicans have far and away the most popular, productive newsmaker on Captiol Hill. Yet the GOP, quite correctly, confesses to a general inability to get its story over and admits to downright gaucheness in press relations on the part of its last two presidential candidates and many other party members.

THE OVERSIMPLIFIED remedy for Republicans seems obvious enough. They should imitate, not Democrats, as is so often the GOP practice, but their grand old man, Ev Dirksen. The remedy is not altogether attainable, since the Dirksen personality and style are delightfully inimitable. But while much of his method comes naturally to this affable man, he does not achieve his success with newsgatherers simply by being himself, nor by being always available, nor by having (as he does) one of the most alert and obliging staffs on the Hill.

DIRKSEN SUCCEEDS by trying harder than he lets on. He is the only Senator I know who periodically comes to the Press Gallery for voluntary conferences.

Though he gives the appearance of being artless and desultory, Dirksen has cultivated a quality without which no reporter or editor can long endure — a knowledge of what makes news. Not always but with remarkable frequency, the Senator will either originate or add something to a subject that fairly cries out to be clothed in print. It will hardly ever be sensational, but it will be pertinent.

TODAY, AMONG other disclosures, he informed us that, while his proposed Constitutional amendment to override the Supreme Court's one-man-one-vote decision on legislative apportionment might fail in the Judiciary Committee, he intended to fight for it "by the rule book" on the Senate floor. Dirksen was promising us what may turn out to be the most fascinating parliamentary chess match of the 89th Congress. He gave us a hint of his central argument by recommending that we read a certain opinion by Supreme Court Justice John Marshall Harlan.

INSTEAD OF dodging the press, Dirksen seeks it out. Instead of mushy and boresome generalities, he offers hard news on a newsy subject. Republicans don't need a handbook on how to get along with the press. They have this walking example.

The Weather And Viet Nam

WASHINGTON — A dangerous delusion regarding the future course of the war in Viet Nam has taken root and has flourished in the cheerless climate of midsummer Washington.

The delusion runs as follows: When the torrential monsoon rains end in mid-October, the gathering disaster in Viet Nam will be reversed. American airpower (so runs the myth) no longer will be hampered by the endless tropical rains and can be used to bring the Viet Cong to heel.

LIKE ALL THE myths that commend themselves to the panacea peddlers in the Pentagon, this myth is glib, persuasive and easy to understand. It is also, sad to say, phony. The reality is a much different, much grimmer thing. When, as it inevitably must, the war does not improve with the end of the monsoon there is bound to be discouragement and disillusion here at home.

The fact is that what Westerners commonly call "the" monsoon is actually the southwest monsoon that brings incredible amounts of rain to almost all of Southeast Asia from mid-May to mid-October.

BUT EQUALLY predictable is northeast monsoon, which takes place from early November until about mid-March. This monsoon rakes most of Southeast Asia with relatively cool, dry winds. If any season in that God-forsaken quarter of the world can be described as moderate, it is this one. But there is a joker in all this — there is a phenomenon associated with the northeast monsoon that is destined to bring frustration and heartbreak to Americans who have pinned their hopes on a dry-season air offensive. The fact is that the November-to-May monsoon that brings dry, cool breezes to most of Southeast Asia, perversely dumps the worst rains of the year on the Vietnamese coastal plain where all but one of the major U. S. airbases are located.

THUS THE "end" of the monsoon in mid-October will not bring better flying weather to U. S. airbases in Viet Nam — it will bring weather that will impose further cruel handicaps on American air operations.

The sprawling U. S. base at Da Nang, for example, can expect four solid months of pounding rain after the mid-October date that is supposed to signal the advent of good flying weather. In October, 23 inches of rain can be expected at Da Nang; in November, 15 inches; in December, nine inches. Not until January, when the average rainfall at Da Nang dwindles to four inches, will the dry season actually come to the biggest U. S. airbase in Viet Nam.

PLAINLY THE END of the southwest monsoon in mid-October is destined to bring a severe disappointment to the happy-talk fabricants in the Defense and State Departments. American policy-makers have yet to learn that the most costly luxury in war is wishful thinking.

Big Business

ROME (AP)—The Food and Agriculture Organization reports that wildlife is big business in many countries. FAO cites the Republic of Central Africa, which received nearly $5 million a year in fees for the export of elephant tusks, the Philippines which exports more than $200,000 worth of wild animals a year, and Kenya, whose wildlife resources are estimated to be worth $15 million a year in trade and tourism.

Lend Ears

GUILDFORD, England (AP)—The silence these days in the central library often is broken by a shrill cry of:

"Friends, Romans, countrymen, lend me your ears."

The readers in the library do not object. For the cry comes from a resident of the library, Peter, a budgerigar belonging to deputy librarian Miss Rita Day.

Peter can also recite parts of "The Mikado," a few nursery rhymes and the library's telephone number.

Blame Salt

LONDON (AP) — Four members of the department of pharmacology in Seth Medical College, Bombay, India, have suggested in a letter to the Lancet, British Medical Journal, that "Man to some extent owes his common cold to the consumption of salt."

They reported that two adults and two children with recurrent colds "Have obtained complete and sustained relief for the past six to 14 months by taking a salt free diet."

They claimed that "in children a common cold can be inducted at will by administering a salted diet."

Dear Abby

Cooking Troubles

DEAR ABBY: If I don't get this gripe off my chest, I'll explode. I've been married six years to a wonderful guy, until he gets to the table. I can spend a whole day preparing a delicious meal and he looks at it like it's yesterday's leftovers. He examines everything I put in front of him like it has poison in it. He never tells me what he LIKES, but nine out of ten things I prepare he DOES NOT LIKE. He thinks meat should come without fat, and I feel guilty when he carves every little bit down to practically nothing. You can imagine the strain it puts on me at meal time. I haven't enjoyed a meal for months.

It's not that I can't cook. I can. His mother is a terrible cook, and he's been in the service, so I don't understand where he picked up these fussy eat-know what to do.

POSITIVELY STUMPED

DEAR STUMPED: Have a little chat with hubby when you are both relaxed and away from the table. Tell him how hard you try to please him, and ask for his cooperation in planning the meals. If he makes no effort to help you, you'll know that his problem is not what HE'S eating — but what's eating HIM.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and am going with a wonderful boy who is 25. I told my parents he was only 19. I hate to lie, but in this case I had to because if they knew how old he was they would never let me go out with him. We always have to sneak around and hope we don't see anybody we know. I am not ashamed of him, Abby, and there is nothing wrong with him, but I just can't let my folks now the whole truth about him. I am getting fed up with having to sneak around like a couple of criminals. I think too much of him to break up with him. I just don't know what to do. Can you help me?

DARK EYES

DEAR DARK EYES: There IS something wrong with him. He is cooperating in the deception of your parents. Tell them how old he is. If they object, accept it with grace and they might surprise you and allow you to date him.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law is 47 and has been divorced 14 years. She's lived alone in her own home all those years. She has supported herself and has always been a wonderful, uncomplaining woman. She's often "kidded" about finding a boy friend. Now it seems she's found one. Pete (not his real name) has been divorced twice. He drinks more than he should and also gambles. (He can't afford it.) He seldom takes my mother-in-law anywhere, but has been making himself more and more at home at her place. He's stayed all night and this we strongly disapprove of. We know she's lonely, but how come she never needed a man for 14 years and now all of a sudden she needs one? She says she neither intends to marry him or break off with him. All she wants is "companionship." Should we tell her that if she continues to see him we'll have nothing further to do with her?

VEXED

DEAR VEXED: If you have let her know that you disapprove of her relationship with him, you've done all you can do. Don't punish her by "having nothing further to do with her," or Pete will become her whole life. Hope that she sees the light soon.

Inmates End Hunger Strike

HOUSTON (AP)—A six - day hunger strike by prisoners in the Harris County jail ended last week when all the strikers ate breakfast.

Some of the prisoners who had been claiming their food was so poorly prepared they couldn't eat it ate two pans of food for breakfast.

Pair Arrested In Jewel Theft

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A chum of Jack (Murph the Surf) Murphy, the man involved in the Star of India sapphire theft, and a former Playboy Club bunny were caught with $150,000 worth of stolen jewels here after somebody tipped police.

Richard Duncan Pearson, 34, and Mary Elaine Denison, 22, were charged with the Sunday burglary of Miami's big Jordan Marsh department store.

Cong Striking Nearer Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Viet Cong guerrillas are stepping up harassment activities closer to Saigon, a U.S. military spokesman said today.

The Communists initiated six actions within 25 miles of the capital during the weekend, the spokesman said. Three of the actions were reported south of Saigon in neighboring Long An Province.

The actions included a mortar barrage against an outpost and infiltration into a hamlet.

Only scattered and relatively light ground action was reported today as the United States continued its air strikes in both North and South Viet Nam.

Two Viet Cong were reported killed, another wounded and six captured by U.S. Marines who suffered no casualties, the spokesman said. He said guerrillas attempted to ambush a Marine patrol in the Da Nang area.

The spokesman said 26 Viet Cong were reported killed during a government search and destroy operation with close air support in Quang Tin Province, 350 miles northeast of Saigon.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes flew more than 200 sorties against suspected Communist installations in the south in a 24-hour period ending this morning, the spokesman said.

A forward artillery observer estimated 35 Viet Cong were killed 7 miles east of Bien Hoa air base, the spokesman said, but there was no ground confirmation. Another 15 guerrillas were reported killed in a raid against a Viet Cong encampment 25 miles southeast of Can Tho, in the Mekong River delta, but again the casualties were not confirmed by body count.

A U.S. military spokesman reported Sunday that a U.S. Air Force jet bomber was shot down about 40 miles west of Hanoi Saturday by what appeared to be an antiaircraft missile.

No parachute was seen after the plane was hit, the spokesman said, and the two crewmen were presumed killed.

The Soviet Union is known to have built launching sites for surface-to-air missiles in the Hanoi area, but no U.S. planes have been reported shot down by missiles from the ground before. All losses of U.S. planes have been attributed to conventional antiaircraft fire or enemy planes.

Judy Collier's Funeral Today

Services will be at 10 a.m. today in the East Fourth Street Baptist Church for Judy Marie Collier, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. (Babe) Collier, 201 W. 4th, Coahoma. She was killed instantly Saturday afternoon in a car-pickup accident about four miles east of Big Spring at the intersection of Moss Creek Road and Midway Road.

Her sister, Shelia Collier, was hospitalized.

The Rev. H. B. Graves, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Coahoma, will officiate at services, assisted by the Rev. Lloyd Mayhow, Levelland. Burial will be in Coahoma Cemetery under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Miss Collier was born in Big Spring Aug. 5, 1948. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Coahoma and active in youth work. She was a junior at Coahoma High School.

Pallbearers will be Donald Duke, Donald Lee, Clifton C. Harrison, B. J. Cauble, Billy Paul Thomas and Travis Greenfield.

'Thank You' To Sheriff

Sheriff A. N. Standard received a thank-you note from one of his prisoners today.

Bobby Beardsley, under 4-year sentence for theft, who is waiting out come of an appeal, wrote the note.

Last Thursday, Beardsley's father, A. R. Beardsley, San Angelo, died at San Angelo.

Relatives called asking if Sheriff Standard would permit Beardsley to attend the services. Beardsley, the sheriff pointed out has a poor record as a prisoner. However, the sheriff decided to permit him to attend the rites. Two deputies escorted him to San Angelo and brought him back after the rites.

No difficulty was encountered.

Today Beardsley wrote:

"It seems to me if I am ever to straighten up and become a real man I've got to start right now . . . Thank you for taking me to San Angelo. . ."

Miss Bennett Was Star In 47 Films

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Constance Bennett's patrician beauty, her ability to wear stunning clothes and her brittle comedy established her as a top performer in the sophisticated films of the 1930s.

"Listen," she once said, "there are worlds to enjoy that aren't made of mink and sables. And the world of mink and sables isn't free of drudgery and heartaches. It's all what you make it."

When she died of a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday at the age of 59, Miss Bennett had known five marriages, a film career which spanned four decades and a reputation as a shrewd businesswoman.

Best known for her role as the fetching female ghost of the "Topper" films — later redone into a popular television series —Miss Bennett came from a theatrical family to star in 47 motion pictures.

Her father was Richard Bennett, a popular actor of his day, and her sisters actress Joan Bennett and the late Barbara Bennett, an actress and dancer who died in 1958.

At the time of her death Miss Bennett was married to Brig. Gen. John Theron Coulter, commander of the New York Air Defense sector based at McGuire Air Force Base.

Funeral Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Frank E. Campbell Funeral Home, New York City, with burial Wednesday at Arlington National Cemetery.

Spitfire Aircraft Heads For Texas Restoration

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — One of only four Spitfire aircraft known to be on the North American continent is on its way to Texas for restoration and yet more flying.

The Spitfire type of plane was instrumental in staving off the German Luftwaffe during the battle of Britain in World War II.

WAR II CRAFT

The Texas-bound craft, now owned by Harvey J. Ferguson of McAllen, Tex., will be put back in flying order by an organization known as the Confederate Air Force. The group has an extensive collection of serviceable World War II craft for use in air shows.

The Ferguson Spitfire left St. Paul, Minn., Sunday and was to reach Des Moines Monday.

The Spitfire is being hauled to Texas on a 40-foot flatbed truck. It is expected to arrive at the Confederate Air Force headquarters at Rebel Fied, Mercedes, Tex., in about a week.

The Spitfire is unique because it will be the only one in the world restored to flying condition, the Confederate Air Force claims.

CLEVELAND EVENT

It was shipped from England to Canada in the late 1940s, and was last flown in the 1952 Cleveland Air Races.

Former Cuban President Fulgencio Batista purchased it for use in his war against rebels led by Fidel Castro in the mid-1950s. The craft was damaged in Hollywood, Fla., while it waited to be flown to Cuba, however, and never joined Batista's air force.

Once restored, the Spitfire will be nicknamed "Winnie the 5th" in memory of Winston Churchill, and will join some 35 other U. S. World War II planes in Confederate Air Force shows around the world.

Water Safety Course Set

LAMESA (SC) — A Water Safety Instructors Course ended Friday night with 12 persons receiving instructor's certificates. Joe Arrington of Midland, Volunteer Red Cross water safety instructor - trainer, taught the course.

Those completing the course have had at least 60 hours training in water safety and life saving. Receiving the certificates were Mike Porter, Woody Hart, Roy and Jimmy McKay, Pat Wiggins, Harden Flintroy, Lee McAllister Jr., Bobby Hansard, Mrs. Jerry Brown, Mrs. C. R. Jamison and Billy Salser.

Assisting Arrington in the training were Pluma Goosetree, Mrs. Lloyd Wiggins and Lee McAllister.

The new instructors will begin enrolling students for free swimming lessons beginning Wednesday morning at 9 a.m. No charge is made for lessons. Only the price of admission to the pool will be charged. Classes for beginners and advanced beginners will be taught along with a "Learn to Swim" program for teenagers and a Junior Red Cross Life Saving Course. Classes will be held at the North Pool.

Thousands At Coronation Ball For Miss Universe

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Two thousand people crowded an oceanfront hotel to watch Thailand's Miss Universe celebrate the biggest party of her life: her coronation ball.

Hundreds waved, applauded and tooted horns as Apasra (Pook) Hongsakula walked through the hotel lobby on a red carpet to the ballroom Sunday night.

She smiled and waved back, saying, "Thank you, thank you."

In the ballroom, her escort, Marine 2nd Lt. Robert Wade of Charleston, S.C., had to battle autograph seekers to keep his date within arm's reach.

FIRST DATE

It was the 18-year-old dark-eyed Pook's first date. For first dates, it was a dinger.

Six hundred persons paid $50 each to eat a seven-course candle-light dinner and gaze at the Miss Universe lovelies. Seventy-two U.S. Marine officers in dress whites did the honors on the dance floor.

"I'm still dazed," said Pook, the nickname meaning "Fatty" by which everyone now calls her. Her name Apasra, or fairy, is too hard for most to pronoucen. It's Ah-pas-lah.

A thousand persons milled in the hotel lobby and on the streets during the ball hopeful one beauty would slip out.

As the girls arrived and left, traffic came to a near halt within 10 blocks of the hotel. The same thing happened as they left.

LOVES DANCING

"I love to dance, all kinds of dances," Pook said. "My favorite is the waltz."

"The waltz is impossible in her dress,", said Lt. Wade. "We sort of did a two step two feet apart." Her gold ball gown, specially designed for this night, swept out in a wide hoop.

Pook, the crown on her raven hair, picked up the train of her dress and swept into the middle of the crowded floor to do a mild version of the frug.

"I could do better," she told admirers.

The petite dark-eyed queen was crowned Saturday night. With the title goes a year-long $10,000 appearance contract, $10,000 in cash and other gifts.

Parents Kiss Miss Universe

The Associated Press death count started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Melton Fred Johnson, 25, of Orange, drowned Sunday when he fell out of a boat on Little Cypress Bayou.

INJURIES FATAL

Eighteen-year-old David Stach of Houston died Sunday of injuries suffered Friday in a freeway traffic accident.

Three Dallas residents apparently drowned in Garza-Little Elm Reservoir Sunday when a wind gust line capsized their boat. Rescue workers recovered the body of 6-year-old Eddie Ray Wilson and searched for his father, Wilmer Wilson, 45, and Jo Anna Scott, 4.

Charles Edwards of Port Arthur was presumed dead Sunday after a shrimp boat exploded in the Gulf of Mexico off Sabine Pass.

FOUND DEAD

Joe Padilla, 23, of Amarillo, was found dead at the scene Sunday after his car slammed into a guard rail on Interstate 40 in Amarillo.

Florentino Gomez, 54, of Laredo, was killed Sunday when he was pinned between a boxcar and a truck he was loading at Laredo.

Gene Anderson, 13, was fatally shot Friday night at an Austin home where he was babysitting. A verdict was withheld.

Mrs. Melba Jean Spivey, 43, of Waco, was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding collided with a lumber truck near Houston.

CHILD KILLED

Rebecca Ashton, 7, of Burkburnett, was killed Saturday when she was struck by a car near Wichita Falls.

Judy Collier, 16, of Coahoma, was killed Saturday when the car in which she was riding and a pickup collided near Big Spring.

Kit Russell Sims, 21, of Wichita Falls, was killed Saturday night when the car he was driving collided with a bridge support north of Wichita Falls. Four others, including the victim's brother, were injured.

Mrs. J. W. Fowler, 65, of Lufkin was killed Sunday in a two-car collision north of Lufkin. Joe Dakas, 39, of Marshall was critically injured.

Jerry Barrett, 26, of Yazoo City, Miss., was burned to death when a trailer-truck in which he was riding left Interstate 10, hit a sign and burst into flames east of Beaumont Sunday. The driver of the truck, Dale R. White, 31, of Ellisville, Miss., was seriously burned.

Robert V. Bush, 37, burned to death early Sunday when fire of undetermined origin swept his rural home near Hawley in central West Texas. Bush was alone in the structure at the time.

Six Drown While Wading

BOONE, Iowa (AP)—A Sunday picnic at the Ledges State Park southeast of here ended in the drowning death of six children, members of two central Iowa families.

Drowned while wading in Peace Creek Ripple, a section of the Des Moines River which runs through the Ledges Park, were Richard Erwin, 10, his brothers, Steven, 9, and Douglas, 5, and Raymond Schoenbaum, 13, and his sister, Connie, 10, and Rose, 9.

Parents of the children were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Erwin of Des Moines and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schoenbaum of Ames. Erwin is Mrs. Schoenbaum's brother.

Mrs. Schoenbaum said the families had been picnicking and the children asked if they could wade up the river. She told them not to, but "they apparently did not mind," she said.

Two Employes Are Promoted

LAMESA (SC)—James McAlister, former city finance director, has been named assistant city manager, and L. E. Petty was appointed assistant city secretary. The appointments were made at a recent meeting of the City Council.

Carroll Taylor, city manager, said the new positions were created to make it possible for business to be conducted in the absence of either the city manager or city secretary.

Gambling Boom On Gulf Coast?

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Gambling may be illegal in Mississippi but it seems to be booming on the Gulf Coast along the resort strip between Gulfport and Biloxi.

Keesler Air Force Base at Biloxi has 108 establishments listed as off limits to military personnel, due mainly to gambling on the premises. That's a new high.
