HOUSE PLANTS FIRM FOOT ON TAX REBATES

Would Limit Tax Remissions To Cases of Calamity For Two Years

LOVE BILL DELAYED

House Will Not Act This Week On Amnesty Revocation Proposition

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—Tax remission would be limited to cases of public calamity and for periods of only two years at a time under a proposed constitutional amendment adopted 101 to 21, by the house today after supporters had scored efforts to escape taxation.

The Love senate bill to repeal amnesty granted former Governor James E. Ferguson, carried over from yesterday's calendar, was not reached today. Action on it cannot be had regularly now until Wednesday, the next senate bill day since adjournment, instead of recess, was voted this afternoon.

If recess had been voted the house would have continued Friday on its incompleted calendar of senate bills.

Forest Law Defeated

Representative Leonard Tillotson's resolution to amend to constitution to allow passage of a program of reforestation laws was defeated after extended debate in which opponents charged that the way would be opened for remission of taxes on timber lands.

Much of the morning session was devoted to grinding out measures of local concern, including district bond issues and road districts.

The house sent to the committee on federal relations a concurrent resolution by Representative Pool of El Paso, other Mexican border county representatives and the San Antonio delegation, criticising the federal policy of federal intervention in the Nicaraguan-Mexican situation, and providing for a copy to be sent to President Coolidge, Senator Borah and members of the Texas congressional delegation.

Paying his respects to the tax resolution introduced by Representatives Powell, Justice, Hall, Story and others. Representative

Resolutions read by J. M. Gwynn of San Fransico, newly elected president of the department were adopted with but one dissenting vote. The only protest against action of the convention in its entire six day session came from George W. Wannamaker of St. Matthews, South Carolina, who opposed the federal department of education recommendation on the ground that it would lead to federal domination of the schools.

Before a hand full of delegates, who were all that remained for the final action, Mr. Wannamaker declared that under a national education secretary "the autonomy of the American school system would be relegated to the rear."

BURNS FATAL TO BOY OF 4

Child Plunges Headlong Into Tub of Boiling Water

Tragedy, which followed an hour of innocent play, crept into the little family of Mrs. Rawley Mann, 1106 Indiana avenue, and claimed the life of her four-year-old son, Billy, Thursday.

The child died in the General hospital at 4 p. m. from burns sustained when he fell into a tub of scalding water in the back yard of the Mann home about 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Stumbles Over Brick.

The mother was away from home at the time, and her 11-year-old daughter, Doris, was washing clothes, using the tub to heat water over an improvised furnace. In her care were her two small brothers, Billy and N. T., aged 7, who were playing in the yard.

According to the girl, Billy was running from his brother and apparently did not see the tub. Stumbling over a brick, he fell headlong into the water.

Mrs. H. C. Allred, 1108 Indiana avenue, whose house adjoins the Mann home, was in her back yard when she was attracted by screams of the children, and rushing into the other yard saw them bending over the body of the child, who had then been dragged from the overturned tub.

A few minutes later, she said, Mrs. Mann returned from town where she had been shopping.

Services Today.

The two women undressed the boy and stopped a passing motorist who took him to the hospital. Attendants reported that he had been burned completely over his entire body.

The body will be forwarded to Haskell, Texas, by the Merkle Undertaking company Friday for burial.

Mrs. Mann is a widow. Another son, Bud, aged 16, is employed at a local grocery store.

Y. M. C. A. Construction Approved; Leaders Name Date For Drive Today

Construction of a Young Men's Christian association building in Wichita Falls has been definitely decided upon by the committee appointed to sponsor the building, Walter Cline, chairman of the committee said Thursday night.

A meeting in the chamber of commerce offices will be held Friday morning during which members of the committee will confer with Wichita Falls business men relative to the best time in which to start a drive for funds for construction during 1927. A definite date for the starting of the drive will be determined at the Friday meeting, Cline said.

The committee composed of Cline, chairman; R. E. Shepherd, W. B. Hamilton, J. B. Hunt, J. W. Culbertson, J. H. Allison and Wiley Robertson, recently decided that $400,000 was needed for the purchasing of a site and the erection of the building. Fifty thousand dollars of this amount will be expended for a site, according to Cline.

George Goodwin of the national Y. M. C. A. with headquarters in New York, was invited to confer with the members relative to formation of plans for the raising of funds and the construction of the building. He arrived several days ago in Wichita Falls and will attend the Friday meeting.

FOR VOTERS

Wichita Falls Should Have At Least Six Boxes, Says Huff

Wichita Falls should have at least six polling places for its coming city election, as well as in other elections, according to an opinion expressed to The Record News Thursday by Judge R. E. Huff.

"Personally, I shall have to go more than two miles to cast a ballot, and I imagine there are other citizens in similar circumstances. I believe that Wichita Falls is large enough for at least six boxes, if not more."

FRAUD JURORS STILL LOCKED ON DECISION

57 Hours of Study Fails To Bring Verdict in Trial Of Daugherty

ASK FOR EVIDENCE

Jury Studies Testimony In Effort to Vote Final Verdict

FEDERAL COURT, NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—A seemingly deadlocked jury that has had the Daugherty-Miller case for 57 hours, tonight had not reported a verdict.

At 10:20 o'clock tonight they returned to their deliberations after hearing reread parts of the testimony relating to the whereabouts of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty on April 19, 1921.

Questions were asked about former Alien Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller's whereabouts on the same day.

The testimony showed that Daugherty was in New York in President Harding's suite, Jess W. Smith, Daugherty's handy man, also was in New York that day, as were Richard Merton and the late John T. King, Republican national committeeman from Connecticut.

King's appointment pad for that day which Smith's name appeared, and a hotel account showing Merton was at the Ritz-Carlton hotel.

Merton testified he gave King $441,000 for helping him effect allowance of claims for $7,000,000 proceeds of impounded shares of American Metal company. It is alleged Miller and Daugherty got part of this "fee."

The jury reported inability to agree on one of the defendants. They said they had been able to agree on the other.

Jury No. 9 appeared to be the one holding up the verdict.

At 11:50 Judge Knox ordered the jury locked up until tomorrow.

Law Safeguards Owners Of Land In T-O Boundary Suit

Texas House Votes That Possessors of Disputed Acreage Be Given First Rights by Law.

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—Residents on the 40,000 to 50,000 acre strip of land awarded to Texas in settlement of the Texas-Oklahoma boundary suit would be protected from state sale of the land for school purposes, under a bill finally passed in the house today.

The bill provides that allotment of the lands to the school system as the law provides shall be held up until the legislature designates what disposition shall be made of it. As it is now, Representative Young who with Representative Satterwhite introduced the bill explained, the land commissioner coud sell the land "from under the settlers who had title to it from the state of Oklahoma" prior to the boundary dispute.

The land commissioner drew up the restraining bill, however, Young said.

'Mystery Cloud' Hides Identity Of Wounded Man

Somewhat of a mystery Thursday night surrounded the wounding of a Wichita Falls man, about 23, who was treated by a local physician. The man was found in his room with a gunshot wound in his chest. A shotgun was nearby, according to persons who escorted the physician to the house to give the wounded man treatment.

Persons at the house made no report of the shooting at the local police station, and the man was not taken to a hospital. The physician was called shortly after 9:30 Thursday night, he said, and went with friends of the man to a house in North Wichita Falls. He made no record of the address, and later efforts to find the house proved futile. Shortly after 1 o'clock Friday morning no additional report had been made to police, nor had any further call been received giving the wounded man's condition. Persons who accompanied the physician on the call gave him the wounded man's name, but no such person could later be found.

At 1 a. m. Friday Sheriff W. G. Bralley stated that no report of the shooting had been made to him.

INSANE CROWDED

State Hospitals Need More Room To Handle Patients

AUSTIN, March 3.(AP)—Overcrowded conditions in state eleemosynary institutions, especially in the insane asylums are becoming acute, Dr. H. H. Harrington, chairman of the state board of control said today.

The board today was notified that there is no room in any state insane asylum for two persons, recently adjudged insane, bringing the total to about 20 in the state who cannot be admitted and who are being held in jails or cared for in private homes, he said.

Harrington recently expressed fear that the legislature will be adjourned without having provided funds for relieving the situation. An item in the budget for construction of a dormitory at the Wichita Falls asylum was not acted on by the senate and house finance committees.

"Courtesy Cards" Curbing Speeders On New Clay County Highway

While the long stretch of new pavement in Clay county may sorely tempt many motorists, Clyde L. Bentley, highway officer who visited Wichita Falls Thursday, believes that few take advantage of it when they see the "calling cards" that have been prepared and are being given by officers.

"Help us help you!" the card says, adding that the speed limit is 35 miles per hour, and asking a number of safety questions, closing with: "Do You Practice the Golden Rule? Courtesy is Our Motto!

"We have a nice smooth road, but not a race track," Bentley said.

Bentley is well known in Wichita Falls. For a number of years he was with the traffic department of the city police force, going to Clay county as highway officers last fall when the first stretch of pavement was opened.

SENATE VOTES RECESS AFTER 36-HOUR BOUT

Upper House of Congress In Record Session Forced By Filibuster

RESTS AT MIDNIGHT

Congress Closes Short Term Session Today Noon Under Plans

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) The senate recessed at 12:06 a. m. until 8:30 a. m. after being in session continuously for more than 37 hours.

WASHINGTON, March 3.(AP)—The senate just before midnight went into executive session to consider nominations and agreed to recess until 8:30 a. m. tomorrow at its conclusion.

Shortly after the executive session got under way, a row developed over confirmation of the five members of the new radio commission.

On meeting tomorrow the Reed resolution to continue the life of the campaign funds committee which had been before the senate continuously since 11 a. m. yesterday, will still be the unfinished business.

69TH CONGRESS LOCKS AS ADJOURNMENT NEARS.

WASHINGTON, March 3.(AP)—The 69th congress neared the end of its labors tonight with the executive mill of the senate tightly locked by a filibuster and the house machinery idling for want of grist.

In continuous session since yesterday morning, the senate went wearily into another night of wrangling over the resolution prolonging the life of the campaign funds committee, while the alien property and public buildings bills and an appropriation measure carrying funds for many assorted purposes waited for a turn that may never come.

At noon tomorrow the tenure of the congress expires by constitutional limitation, and no meeting of the new senate and house is in prospect until next December.

Filibuster Holds.

Repeated efforts today and tonight to break the senate deadlock and permit action on the appropriation and other pressing bills merely had the result of stiffening the lines of the contending forces and producing new threats to keep up the fight until the gavels fall at 12 o'clock tomorrow.

The house also sat until late, but worked leisurely on various minor subjects. Several days ago it completed its legislative program except for a few last minute adjustments.

Senator Reed of Missouri was the driving force behind the campaign funds resolution, which would give the investigating committee of which he is chairman, authority to continue its activities during the summer recess. The leader of the filibuster was Reed, of Pennsylvania, whose state has furnished one of the principal fields of inquiry for the committee.

Ready to Quit.

There were times when the two senators were themselves ready to suspend hostilities long enough to let some of the other bills through, but in each instance objection was raised from some other quarter.

As the deadlock continued past the usual adjournment hour, and gave promise of holding senators at the capitol for a second successive all-night session, a consignment of khaki army blankets was made available for those who sought rest and quiet on the lounges in the rear of the chamber and in the cloak rooms. The blankets had been furnished by the quartermaster general of the army, at the request of the senate sergeant-at-arms.

COMMITTEE APPROVES VARE-SMITH CREDENTIALS.

WASHINGTON, March 3.(AP) Credentials of William S. Vare, and Frank L. Smith, senator-elect from Illinois, were unexpectedly and unanimously approved today by the senate election committee.

Action was taken after the formal certification of election from the state governors had been presented in the senate in the midst of a filibuster against a resolution to continue the life of the special committee which reported huge expenditures on be alf of both in their primary campaigns last year.

Chairman Ernst and other members of the election committee said approval of the credentials by the senate before adjournment tomorrow would have no bearing upon the efforts that will be made to bar Vare and Smith at the next session.

In Proper Form.

"The credentials were in proper form and there was no other action the committe could take," said Senator Ernst.

Both on and off the floor of the senate predictions were made that neither Vare nor Smith would be seated. It was stated that even if their credentials were approved at this session they would merely mean the placing of their names on the payroll during the recess.

The senate last January refused by a decisive vote to seat Smith as Governor Small's appointee pending a further investigation of contributions made to his primary campaign fund by Samuel Insull, of Chicago, and other public utilities operators.

House Opposes Tax Remissions

DeBerry pleaded for an unmistakable definition of calamity, but voted for the resolution.

"I tore my britches on the Galveston port project tax remission," DeBerry said, "but I am living now in hope the good God will forgive me.

"I got sold on that idea like the rest of them, but now I submit to you that it is unfair for any community to come into the legislature under the calamity statute and go out under the appropriation statute."

Representative Cecil Story explained that the resolution will not effect pending legislation seeking tax remission, since it calls for a constitutional amendment to be voted in November, 1928. North Texas legislators are pushing measures to get the tax remission to aid a Trinity river reclamation project.

Representative R. E. Morse of Houston held that that "we ought not to pass the tax remission buck up to the people." He referred to records of the 39th legislature to show that four of those signing the resolution had voted for the Cameron county tax remission two years ago.

BUS COMPANY BILL TIES UP SENATORS

AUSTIN, March 3. (AP)—Debate on the policies the state should adopt in regulating bus bus companies occupied all the time of the senate this afternoon and the question was undecided when the upper house finally adjourned for the night.

The relation of indemnity insurance companies to the bus companies and their patrons and the degree of authority the railroad commission should be given in denying certificates to companies were the points upon which most of the debate hinged.

The first question was finally decided by the adoption of an amendment which would permit an injured patron to come into court in a suit in which the bus company and insurance company were co-defendants. Senator Bailey of Cuero and Senator Woodward of Coleman made the principal fight for this amendment declaring that under the present law the injured patron would be forced sue twice and obtain judgments against the bus company and the insurance company before collecting.

Opponents of the amendment declared that this would repeal a court precedent which holds that no mention can be made in a damage suit of the fact that the defendant has insurance, because such knowledge prejudices the jury. After adoption of this amendment the senate defeated another amendment which would have taken from the railroad commission the right to refuse certificates of convenience and necessity on on the grounds that another company was already operating on the route which the applicant sought to use.

Amendment Loses.

Proponents of the amendment argued that any one who wished to start a bus company and could convince the commission that it was capable of meeting the regulations of the commission should be allowed to operate busses. Friends of the bill attacked the amendment on the grounds that it would permit any irresponsible company to operate. Senator Moore charged that many of the bus companies were transporting liquor and Senator Stuart declared that a monopoly was a good thing and that unlimited competition would be a bad thing.

The vote was 14 to 15 against the amendment and the senate adjourned while several senators were clamoring for recognition so that they could send up other amendments.

Travis Gerdes, under two-year penitentiary sentence here for theft, who had not been located by officers since his case was affirmed by the higher court recently, was located in a residence on Flood street early Thursday morning by members of the night police force. Gerdes is being held in the county jail pending his transfer to the state prison.

Another report of back-yard prowlers was turned in to police headquarters Thursday night from a residence in the 4100 block of 10th street where a small quantity of clothing had been stolen.

Probably the strongest and most distinguished cast ever assembled for any picture in the history of the screen, is seen in the triumphant return of Rex Ingram's production, "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalpse," showing at the Majestic, starting Saturday.

While every player of the twenty-five principal roles was selected because of his or her special ability to enact the part, there is scarcely a name in the list that is not prominently known to motion picture followers.

The late Rudolph Valentino, who has the role of Julio, the romantic South American hero of the story, is one of the most glamorous figures the screen has ever produced. "The Four Horsmen of the Apocalypse" is the picture which introduced him to fame.

Alice Terry is enacting the leading feminine role, that of Marguerite, the little French girl. Miss Terry has played recently in "Mare Nostrum" and "The Magician."

Brick and Concrete Block Factory Installed to Serve Turkey Section

Special to The Record News.

TURKEY, Texas, March 3.—W. F. Hedrick, local contractor has just completed a building, installed machinery for the manufacture of concrete brick, concrete blocks and artificial stones of all kinds.

A run has been made of concrete brick, for exhibit and demonstration purposes. Any color desired can be made and the brick now on exhibit is a good looking brick, very firm and hard. They can be made at prices to compete with common kiln dried brick, even after freight service is extended to Turkey. The plant will have a capacity of around 2000 brick per day.

A plant of this kind means much to the development of Turkey just at this time due to the greatest building boom just now opening up, as the saving alone, of just the freight by truck from railroad point will mean the savings of several hundred dollars on a common size building.

Every Person Missionary in Spreading Christian Doctrine, Rotary Club Told

"Everyone is a missionery," Dr. L. E. Smith, missionary from Africa, told members of the Wichita Falls Rotary club at a luncheon Thursday. "The missionaries we speak of only go out a little farther away from home."

Referring to the boys work program undertaken by the club, Dr. Smith said that it was commendable, but warned the Rotarians not to stop too soon.

"The world is indeed large," he said, holding a small wooden image.

Tells of People.

He told of his experiences in Africa, and of some of the difficulties that foreigners met in conversing with the natives. He said that in the district where he was stationed there were eight different languages spoken, and it was the first duty of the missionary to teach the people the official language of the land, whether it was Spanish, French or English.

"There is one man over there who is my hero," the speaker declared. "He is a native, seven fet tall, one of the first to be Christianized." This was followed by a number of stories concerning this man, who, the doctor said, could speak English as well as any American, and who was one of the best native hunters in his district.

Applying Christianity.

"The world is looking for applied Christianity, and the missionaries are applying it," he said in closing.

E. F. Bomfalk and J. S. Pitman, chairman of the program committee, led a short sing-song.

Albert Myres, president, urged a good attendance at the Waco conference, to be held March 25 and 26, when the Wichita Falls club will stage a "model" luncheon.

R. E. Penick, chairman of the boys work committee, requested that the cards mailed to Rotarians regarding the adoption of a "little brother" by each member, be returned immediately.

FIVE INFANTS DIE BY ACID

Nurse's Mistake Fatal For Hospital Babies

By Universal Service.

CHICAGO, March 3. — Boric acid, placed by mistake in drinking water and fed drop by drop to five little babies caused their death at Columbus hospital here, according to preliminary statement made tonight by hospital and health authorities.

The babies all died within fourteen hours. The eldest was only fourteen days old and the mothers were still confined to the hospital when their infants died. The mothers are said to be on the verge of a nervous break down.

Alarm spread when one by one the babies died, Little Myrtle Golitz, born fourteen days ago, was the first to die. She suffered convulsions. Joan T. Barhiri, 8 days, Evelyn K. Anagnostopulos, 7 days, Panagioth Hallanis, 7 days and Lillian S. Cohen, 14 days, followed within a few hours.

Doctors Investigate.

Dr. Zan Klopper, coronor's physician, investigated the death of the Golitz baby and reported it had died of intestinal influenza. As reports of other deaths poured in Dr. Herman Bundesen, health commissioner, ordered a rigid investigation. It was revealed all the infants had ided of the same ailment.

Dr. Bundesen, with other members of his staff, visited the hospital. He reported today he had found a bottle containing a solution of boric acid had been kept on hand to be used as an antiseptic for bathing the babies' eyes. At the same place a bottle of distilled water was kept to give the babies as drinking water. Conclusion was reached that a nurse had made a mistake.

The following statement, signed by Dr. Daniel Orth, chief of staff of the hospital, and his aids was issued this afternoon:

"After a conference with Dr. Bundesen and a most careful investigation of the records, we can only conclude that probably a solution of drinking water given the five children caused their deaths. We are making every effort to verify this."

The state's attorney's office detailed investigators to determine if there had been criminal neglect. One angle to be investigated is why a report of the deaths was delayed several hours. If criminal neglect is indicated the matter will be laid before the grand jury, according to attaches of the state's attorneys office.

Conclusion that boric acid caused the death of the infants was based on the statement of three nurses, Miss Margaret Cuff, Miss Irene Schwartz and Miss Aileen Calahan, who were examined at the office of Dr. Bundesen.

Nurse Explains.

Miss Schwartz said:

"When I was on duty at 5:15 p. m., on Feb. 26, I made up the solution in a kettle similar to one which had been used to boil distilled water and left it on the fire.

"When Miss Callahan came in she set it in the window to cool, and it was taken from there by Miss Cuff, who had just been assigned there after an absence of five months. She poured the odorless and colorless liquid into a bottle labeled 'distilled water,' and afterward she and other nurses gave it to the babies without suspecting it was injurious.

"When Miss Cuff was in that ward before, it was customary to boil water for drinking purposes and she did not know that we had been getting it from the dispensary for several weeks. There had been a label on the kettle used for boric acid, but it had come off and there was nothing to lead her to suspect that her assumption that the liquid was not water, as she assumed it was."

The death of the babies followed two days later. Five other infants given the solution survived.

Child's 'Hunch' Saves Five From Death When Family's Home Burns

HOUSTON, March 3.(AP)—The "hunch" of a 12 year old girl probably saved herself, her mother, two younger sisters and Miss Thelma Parker, a friend of the family from burning to death here Wednesday night.

"I just know this house will catch fire tonight," Katheryn, daughter of Mrs. A. J. Goggin, told her mother shortly before they retired. To please the child Mrs. Goggan consented to sleep in a bed room on the ground floor instead of upstairs as usual.

Shortly after midnight flames awoke them. Fire blocked their passage to the hallway, a wall of flames stopped them at the front door and a locked door at the rear barred their progress. After a struggle it was opened and the five persons fled to the back yard in their night clothes.

Reports persisted that they had perished and firemen searched every corner of the structure after the fire had been subdued. A little later they were found in a house several blocks distant where they had gone in the family car.

The wreckage burst into flames almost immediately. Spectators and officials who had been clocking the time of the tests rushed to the spot and found the driver's body lying near the wrecked car. He had apparently been killed instantly as the head was nearly severed from the body.

JUDGE FACES SENATE TRIAL

Editor Comes Out On Top In Long Controversy

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 3. (AP)—A four-year fight between George R. Dale, Muncie newspaper publisher, and Judge Clarence W. Dearth of the Delaware county circuit court has reached a climax in the impeachment of the judge on charges that he exceeded his judicial authority in the prosecution of the editor.

The impeachment was voted late yesterday by the house of representatives of the general assembly, the action being the first of its kind in Indiana since 1855 and the first under the state's present constitution.

Six managers will be named by the house to prosecute Judge Dearth before the senate. Upon presentation of the articles of impeachment, probably today, he automatically will be suspended from the bench.

Confident that no action would be taken on contempt indictment facing him in Muncie, Dr. Dale, whose attacks on Judge Dearth and other Muncie officials were followed by the publisher's citations for contempt and libel, planned to return there soon from Fort Recovery, Ohio, just over the state line, where he has been directing publishing of his weekly newspaper by telephone.

Dale had attacked in his paper alleged lax law enforcement in Muncie. Dale's paper was moved from Muncie to Portland to escape jurisdiction of Judge Dearth's court.

YOUNG "DOUG" GETS CHANCE

Son of Famous Actor Will Play Lead Role

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
Motion Picture Editor, Universal Service

LOS ANGELES, March 3.—Young Douglas Fairbanks is literally walking on air these days. He is F. W. Murnau's choice for "L'Aiglon," and if his tests prove all that the European director expects, and the financial arrangements are mutually satisfactory, Doug Jr., will sail for Europe to play the name part in Edward Rostand's world famous drama.

All for the sake of a few good stories Patsy Ruth Miller is asking for her release from Warner Brothers. Pat isn't temperamental, nor is she unreasonable, but she does believe she should be given some good comedies suited to her talents. When they weren't forthcoming she asked that she be excused from the option part of her contract. So a mutual agreement has been reached whereby Pat does a little free lancing. She is now working on "The First Auto" and when she finishes it she will be ready to listen to other offers. If given comedy without the heavy emotional stuff, I believe she has one of the best futures in the movies. But then who asked for my advice.

Nobody can sell Eddie Cantor the idea of using animals in his pictures in the future. He has had enough, that's all, and enough is plenty. Several weeks ago a couple of playful seals nipped his ear while he was playing a scene with them in a tank. Yesterday a dog with whom he had a scene in "Special Delivery" took a large bite out of Eddie's left leg, making such a wound that he had to have it cauterized. You may laugh but you wouldn't even smile if you had seen how mournful Eddie looked.

He said, "You can't tell me, I know, the seals told the dog."

Thomas Meighan, Richard Dix, Alice Joyce and a long list of film players who have refused to work outside of the Eastern Paramount studios are playing out of luck. If they want to act in movies at all for Famous they will have to play right here in Hollywood. What, with all of the companies moving west at present, studio space, real estate and everything else should go up in price. With Famous Players-Lasky moving their companies to Hollywood there will be about two film producing organizations at work in New York, one at the Fox studio and the other the Robert Kane company.

GREETINS

When I was young, in Maryland,
Strangers on a highway meeting,
Saluted with a friendly hand,
And passed a cordial, smiling greeting.

When I grew up and came to town,
I kept on nodding there, and speaking
To people passing up and down,
You'd think I'd come from Ind or Peking!

They stared at me, they drew away
As though I were a little crazy,
Til human friendliness, each day,
Seemed more fictitious and more hazy.

I make my greetings, now I'm wise,
To youngsters, waiving snowy mittens;
To those who see with warmer eyes—
Nice friendly puppies, birds and kittens!

How to Speak.

"Learn to speak slowly, other graces will follow in their proper place," is the advice given by Miss Ada Moore, expert in voice production.

Miss Moore tells women who are anxious to improve their public speaking or their manner of ordinary conversation that the three "I's"—pitch, point and pause—must be studied carefully. The tone of a woman's voice can never be stressed enough, the importance of its quality is well understood.

"Put on the brakes occasionally, don't rush pell mell through your conversations," is included in Miss Moore's advice to women.

MODISH MITZI Dotting the Landscape as it Were By JAY V. JAY

Even to Dad's unobserving eye there is something very similar about these three dresses. "Why," says he, "you three have bought dresses just alike." Imagine? Mitzi is quite amazed, doesn't he see the difference? They are dotted, to be sure. But Polly's dress has polka dots, Adelaide's is confetti, and Mitzi's similates coin dots. Naturally, since dots of all kinds are popular they all three wear them. The styles of the dresses are as different as style can be and still exist smartly in the same season. Dad is about to blame his glasses.

"Why, you all have dresses alike," says the Goofer. Poor Goofer thinks Dad. He's got a lot to learn and Polly starts right in to tell him how little he knows about fashions. While she enlightens the Goofer you may observe Adelaide's tight fitting felt that comes low in the neck, also Mitzi's less severe hat with the bunch of flowers clinging to the side brim and Polly's own small hat with the upturned brim. Maybe it's about time for Dad to leave. After all, the Goofer is able to cope with his own problems. He'll know better next time!

Take a Good Look at Mother Ere You Propose to Maid, Dix Says

'I Should Take a Very Long and Careful Look at Mother Before I Popped the Question,' Says Dorothy Dix, 'Because Most Girls Are What Mother Made Them.'

A young man asks me if it is safe to judge a girl by her mother. Generally speaking, yes. Ninety-five times out of a hundred the best tip that a youth can get on a maiden is to size up her mother and study her past performances. The way mother looks at 50 is pretty apt to be the way Mabel will look at middle age. The kind of a housekeeper mother is, is more than likely to be the way that Mabel will keep house. Mother's point of view is about the way that Mabel will look at things.

For you see, son, Mabel is the result of both heredity and environment and the chances are that mother has not only bequeathed to her daughter her own beauty or homeliness, her own brains or stupidity but she has formed the girl's character, and the ideals that will make her code of conduct as long as she lives.

Of course, every man thinks that he is going to make over his wife according to his own taste, and he never doubts, when he marries a young girl, that she will be as plastic as dough in his hands. But before he is through with the honeymoon he has found out his error. He has discovered that mother had been on the job some 18 or 20 years before him and that, strive as he will, he cannot undo her work.

It was mother who implanted in Mabel's tiny breast, while she was yet in the cradle, a love of honor and truth and loyalty and a sense of duty, or else taught her to trade on her sex and be a mean little liar and grafter and quitter. It was mother who taught Mabel to read and think and develop her mind, or else who let her grow up a Dumb Dora with her sole interest centered on clothes and boys and dates.

It was mother who taught Mabel habits of industry and thrift, or cultivated laziness and shiftlessness and extravagance in her. It was mother who taught Mabel to be unselfish and sweet and kind, or who trained her to be a hard-boiled Gimme-Gimme, with no consideration for any other human being but herself. It was mother who gave Mabel the strength to stand up and do her duty, or who made her a weakling with a yellow streak in her, who will always do the easy thing instead of the right thing.

Therefore, son, I should take a very long and careful look at mother before I popped the question to Mabel, for the old adage, "like mother, like daughter, is only too likely to be true.

If mother, for instance, is one of those ladies who habitually deceive their husbands about the bills and all family matters, and whose favorite motto is 'what a man doesn't know doesn't hurt him.'—

I should leave Mabel for some more optimistic suitor, for I should want for my wife and the mother of my children a woman who would play the game squarely with me, and who had honor and honesty bred into her very bones.

If mother has kept father's nose to the grindstone all of his life trying to pay for her extravagances.—

I would never let myself in for a lifetime of slavery by marrying her daughter, for I should want a wife who would be a helpmate instead of a milstone about my neck.

If mother is a sloppy housekeeper where nothing is ever done on time, where the meals are a menance to life, and where there is no order or system or management—

I would not endanger my stomach and my happiness by putting them in Mabel's hands, for I would know that she did not even have a standard of good housekeeping, nor know the first principle about making a comfortable home.

Nor would I marry Mabel if her mother is a shrewish, tyrannical, overbearing woman of whom her husband stands in cowering fear. I should reflect that Mabel might have inherited mamma's temper, and that, anyway, I didn't want a wife who had not been reared in an atmosphere in which men and women do not exercise a decent self-control over their tongues.

But if mother at 50 is more interesting and better company than most girls; if she is large-minded and intelligent and humorous and sympathetic; if her husband still adores her, and her grown children make of her a pal; if her household runs as if on skids; if she has been a real partner to her husband in her marriage and the prop and stay of her family, then I should know that not once in a thousand times does that kind of a woman raise up a daughter who makes a bad wife.

Speaking by and large, as the mother is, so is the daughter, but there is no rule without its exceptions, and now and then an old hen hatches out a swan. Sometimes the fool woman has a clever daughter. Sometimes a weak woman has a strong daughter. Sometimes a frivolous mother has a serious-minded daughter.

And sometimes a girl is so disgusted with her mother's way of doing things that she takes the opposite tact, and goes to the other extreme.

Sometimes the girl who has been brought up in a house like a pigsty, becomes a monomanic on cleanliness. She who has known in her youth the dread knock of the bill collector forever pounding on the front door, turns into almost a miser, and she who has been brought up in an atmosphere of strife becomes a peace-at-any-price wife.

But these changes do not often occur. Most women are what mothers made them, and so it is to safe to judge them by their mothers.

DOROTHY DIX.

A Bit of Advice.

Good habits, formed early, are vital to the future life of a child. The constant repetitioin of a good habit accustoms the baby and the child to a life of regularity, which sows the seeds of health, punctuality and splendid habits. Map out your child's day, include those things which will mean something to him in the future, and don't be swayed from your purpose.

HER DAY of WORK and PLAY

by AMY ABBOTT

Where the Trouble Lies.

Failure of marriage is due, like failure in other undertakings, to a lack of training and skill. You can't be an expert husband or wife if you haven't learned how, and more than you can be a carpenter or stenographer without education. A successful marriage is not an accident; it is an art. Such is the philosophy of Dr. George A. Dorsey, sociologist, who wrote that enormously interesting book, "Why We Behave Like Human Beings."

A spoiled child continues on the same tactics after marriage. Once the habit of considering his or her own desires above all else is well established, it is not easy to play a give-and-take game with a life mate, Mr. Dorsey contends.

The next big step in the training for marriage is to dissociate parental love from sexual attachments. Dr. Dorsey thinks that mother or father fixations are largely responsible for the inability of young persons to adapt themselves to each other.

"A boy in love with his mother finds it hard to transfer his affections to another. A girl never finds a man quite as splendid as the father she adores," Dr. Dorsey pointed out. "When they marry substitutes rather than break off these parental attachments the marriage is doomed."

Quoting from "Why We Behave Like Human Beings," Dr. Dorsey explains sex appetitte, which is so often mistaken for love instinct. He says:

"We wake up to discover that we have married a dimple, a Cupid's bow, a broad chest, a mustache, purple socks, a Roman nose, a blue dress, a trim ankle or a head of hair. That, in short, we have married certain trimmings and accessories."

It is the child who has been disciplined to get along with others, who has consideration and understanding in his relationships, who will make a good mate, says Dr. Dorsey. He decries the old tradition of bringing women up to be decorative ornaments that they may be satisfactory wives.

Keeping Silver Clean.

Bright and shining silver is appreciated by everyone, but keeping it unblemished and free from dents and scratches is a problem. However, a few simple rules have been found to banish silverware difficulties. It is not necessary to use hours of effort to remove tarnish; a safe and easy method is to boil water in an aluminum kettle, using a teaspoon of salt and one of soda to each quart of water. Place the silverware in the boiling solution, taking particular care to see that each piece of silver comes in contact with the aluminum. After a few seconds the silver will be seen to be free from tarnish. Specks and stains may be removed from silver by applying a paste of whiting and olive oil.

Silverware may also be cleaned by dipping a cloth in peroxide, rubbing it on soap and applying it to the piece to be cleaned. Scratches disappear when rubbed with a chamois dipped in olive oil. Remember that the beauty of silver lies in its cleanliness and polish.

IS CAL PLAYING POLITICS

FOR YEARS and years the great southwest has been without representation on the interstate commerce commission. In this southwest are included the states of Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. These are great producing states, important shipping states and the center of the oil industry in the Mid-Continent section.

Roosevelt, Taft, Wilson and Harding ignored the southwest and its producers and shippers. Now President Coolidge has nominated for a vacant place on the commission Ezra C. Brainerd of Oklahoma. Colonel Rene B. Creager had recommended for the place Colonel C. C. Hines. Appointment of Brainerd knocked the Hines boom sky-high. It may stifle the ambition of Clarence Gilmore to be an I. C. C. representative.

Now who is Brainerd? He is a lawyer, he is a republican, he had the backing of Senators Harreld and Pine, which mean that he had the backing of the republican organization of Oklahoma. Brainerd isn't a shipper; he isn't a producer. He is a citizen of the southwest. This will help some. If he isn't deaf, the people of the southwest can pour their troubles into his ear. This will help some.

Texas should have been given the place. Texas has a vast population. Texas has vast interests. Texas was the largest exporter to foreign lands last year. Texas is building new railroads and hopes to continue to build new railroads. But the southwest has been recognized. This is something. Three republican presidents and one democratic president ignored the southwest. Now the cautious son of New England has broken the jinx.

New Jersey had the place. Oklahoma gets the place. Pennsylvania demanded the place, but Cyrus E. Woods of that state who was nominated for the place was slapped off the map by the American senators, republicans as well as democrats, who did not approve of his appointment.

BUCKNER READY TO RETIRE

UNITED STATES DISTRICT ATTORNEY EMORY R. BUCKNER of New York has served as a prosecutor upwards of five years, making a national reputation for himself. He prosecuted Harry M. Daugherty, and in closing for the government, he asked the jury to return a verdict of guilty on all counts against the man who was called to the cabinet by Warren G. Harding.

In that address Buckner notified the world that his resignation had been sent to Washington and that in the very near future he would return to private practice to make a living for his family and to educate his young daughter.

Buckner is a westener. He was born and reared and educated in Nebraska. He became a lawyer and journeyed to New York to make the metropolis his home. Success came to him. Harlan M. Stone was appointed attorney general of the United States. He drafted his young colleague for district attorney.

Buckner is the man who padlocked night clubs out of existence; speak-easies out of existence; the man who smashed the big rum runner combines and the man who has done his best to place Harry M. Daugherty behind prison bars. He has given years to his government now he is going to work for his family.

BIG SILVER MINE IN TEXAS

IT is announced that the Shafter mines near Marfa is the largest silver producing mine in the United States. This mine for the past few months has been closed down. It is again operating with more than 100 men at work on eight-hour shift. It is located in Presidio county on the recently designated state highway between Marfa and Presidio. According to a Marfa correspondent the Shafter mine was opened in 1895 by General J. G. Shafter and Anson Mills of New York, and until the past few months has been in continuous operation producing a gross of $20,000,000 silver bullion. Texas has quicksilver mines. Is there a gold mine in Texas? A producing gold mine? Congressman Hudspeth pushed through a bill establishing a United States fort at Marfa. It is to be named Fort Roosevelt in honor of the distinguished commander of the Rough Riders. Theodore Roosevelt, while president, visited Texas, but it was not his first visit. He delivered an address to 50,000 Texans and in that address he christened the Lone Star commonwealth. "The Garden of the Lord," not the gardens of the Gods.

There are gardens of the Gods in many countries. Texas has made magnificent strides along constructive building lines since the Roosevelt speech was made. He was a president who knew the west and the south as well as the north and the east, and he was just as much at home in Texas as in New York.

BOOMING THE CAUSE OF LOWDEN

IOWA was hard hit when the president vetoed the McNary-Haugen bill. The Iowa legislature adopted a resolution asking congress to pass the bill over the president's veto and 61 lawmakers wired a petition to Frank O. Lowden proposing him for the presidency.

Politics is an interesting game.

Frank O. Lowden is away out in the Arizona desert country, and will have nothing to say for three weeks. He backed the McNary-Haugen bill to an unsuccessful finish. Now where will he go from the Arizona desert? Back to the wheat belt and the corn belt.

He is a gentleman farmer. He is the owner of several large farms. His backers say that he never farms the farmers and that he grows corns on his hands. Really the political situation is growing interesting the country over.

OKLAHOMA SLAYS ANTI-EVOLUTION BILL.

AN anti-evolution bill was introduced early in the session of the Oklahoma legislature. It would prohibit the teaching in state supported schools of any story of creation of man other than that set out in the Bible. It was favorably reported by the committee on education. Lower House members killed it by a vote of 46 to 30. That's that.

The Man Nobody Knows

INSTALLMENT XXVII.

Advertised By Service.

Again he moved forward, the crowd pressing hard. The ruler's residence was now in plain sight. The paid mourners, hired by the hour, were busy about the doorway; they increased their activities as their employer came in sight—hideous wails and the dull sounding of cymbals—a horrible pretense of grief. Quickening his stride Jesus was in the midst of them.

"Give peace," he cried with a commanding gesture. "The maid is not dead, but sleepeth."

They laughed him to scorn. Brushing them aside he strode into the house and took the little girl by the hand. The crowd looked on dumfounded, for at the magic of his touch she opened her eyes and sat up.

Front page stories five and six. A woman sick twelve years, and healed. A child whom the doctors had abandoned for dead, sits up and smiles! No wonder a thousand tongues were busy that night advertising his name and work. "The fame thereof went abroad into all that land," says the narrative. Nothing could keep it from going abroad. It was irresistable news!

He was advertised by his service, not by his sermons; this is the second noteworthy fact. Nowhere in the Gospels do you find it announced that:

Jesus of Nazareth Will Denounce.

The Scribes and Parisees in the Central Synagogue.

Tonight at Eight o'Clock.

Special music.

His preaching was almost incidental. On only one occasion did he deliver a long discourse, and that was probably interrupted often by questions and debates. He did not come to establish a theology but to lead a life. Living more healthfully than any of his contemporaries he spread health wherever he went. Thinking more daringly, more divinely, he expressed himself in thoughts of surpassing beauty, as naturally as a plant bursts into bloom. His sermons, if they may be called sermons, were chiefly explanatory of his service. He healed a lame man, gave sight to a blind man, fed the hungry, cheered the poor; and by these works he was advertised much more than by his words.

The church, which covets advertising and receives little, is much more fruitful in such good works than the man on the street suspects. Most of our colleges were founded under its inspiration; most of our hospitals grew out of, and are supported by, its membership, the ideals that animate all civic enterprises are its ideals; and its members furnish to such movements the most dependable support. More than this, the day by day life of any genuine pastor is a constant succession of healings and helpings, as any one who has been privileged to grow up in a minister's family very well knows. The door-bell rings at breakfast-time; it rings at dinner-time; it rings late at night—and every ring means that some one has come to cast his burden upon the parsonage. A man comes blinded by his greed or hatred or fear—he opens his heart to the pastor, and goes away having received his sight. A parent whose child is dead in selfishness, comes leading the child by the hand. And sometimes the preacher is able to touch the withered veins of conscience, and life becomes normal and wholesome again. A man out of work, whose family is hungry, knocks timidly at the parsonage door. And somehow, from the parson's few loaves and fishes, the other family is fed.

These are Jesus' works, done in Jesus' name. If he were to live again, in these modern days, he would find a way to make them known—to be advertised by his service, not merely by his sermons. One thing is certain: he would not neglect the market place. Few of his sermons were delivered in synagogues. For the most part he was in the crowded places, the Temple Court, the city squares, the centers where goods were bought and sold. I emphasized this fact once to a group of preachers.

"You mean that we ought to do street preaching," one of them exclaimed.

But street preaching is not at all analogous to what Jesus did. The cities in which he worked were both small and leisurely; the market was a gathering place where everybody came at some time—the transfer place for all merchandise and for ideas. Where will you find such a market place in modern days? A corner of Fifth Avenue? A block on Broadway? Only a tiny fraction of the city's people pass any given point in the down-town district on any given day. A man might stand and preach for years at Fifth Avenue and Thirtieth Street, and only one in a hundred thousand people would ever know that he lived.

No; the present day market place is the newspaper and the magazine. Printed columns are the modern thoroughfares; published advertisements are the crossroads where the sellers and the buyers meet. Any issue of a national magazine is a world's fair, a bazaar filled with the products of the world's work. Clothes and clocks and candle-sticks; soup and soap and cigarettes; lingerie and limousines—the best of all of them are there, proclaimed by their makers in persuasive tones. That every other voice should be raised in such great market places, and the voice of Jesus of Nazareth be still—this is a vital omission which he would find a way to correct.

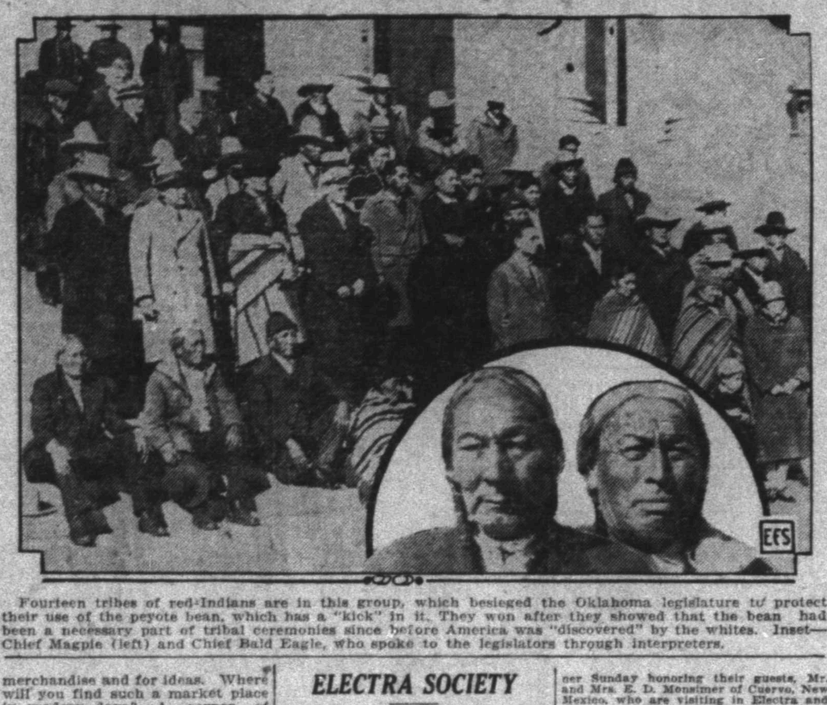

A good man leaveth an inheritance to his children: and the wealth of the sinner is laid up for the just.

Much food is in the tillage of the poor: but there is that which is destroyed for want of judgment.

He that spareth his rod hateth his son: but he that loveth him chasteneth him betimes.

The righteous eateth to the satisfying of his soul: but the belly of the wicked shall want.—Proverbs 13:22-25.

Indians Fight For And Save Hooch Bean

Fourteen tribes of red-Indians are in this group, which besieged the Oklahoma legislature to protect their use of the peyote bean, which has a "kick" in it. They won after they showed that the bean had been a necessary part of tribal ceremonies since before America was "discovered" by the whites. Inset—Chief Magpie (left) and Chief Bald Eagle, who spoke to the legislators through interpreters.

BO BROADWAY ..... By Joseph Van Raalte

NEW YORK, March 3. (EFS)—"Why did you quit column writing?" a friend inquired of a New York Lit'ry Gent.

"I'll tell you," replied the Inky Brother, "I tried to indulge a predilection for telling the truth and the Boss slipped into the error of mistaking me for a radical—a Bushy Apostle of the Better Day. So I quit columning and took up ad writing, a line of word juggling in which no one ever writes a lie unless he believes it to be the truth.

Charles Ulrich, known along Broadway as "The Lone Wolf of Purple Canyon"—who almost succeeded one time in selling Gloria Swanson a scenario—visited the Newspaper club recently to deny a canard that he was the bird who held the straight flush the night of the Frisco earthquake.

Father Cashin, former Catholic chaplain at Sing Sing prison, laid the foundation for a number of sincere friendships during his tenure of office in the place where men are supposed to drag through the years leaving no footprints.

He is now attached to a downtown church in Manhattan, and to the rectory frequently there come visitors from "up the River," whose terms are completed and who are in quest of work and helpful contacts.

On a recent Saturday afternoon there appeared at the rectory one of The Boys who, after 20 minutes' conversation, arose to leave, saying he wanted to "look the old stampin' ground over."

"Now if I were you I wouldn't do that, Jerry," counseled the priest. "Why don't you forget that old neighborhood and your companions of other days. Start things fresh—new friends, new scenes. That's the safest way. I'll tell you what you do. Take a walk around town, go to a picture show and come back here tonight and I'll have the housekeeper fit you up a place to sleep. And if you wouldn't mind I'd like you to take up the collection at the 6 o'clock mass tomorrow morning."

Thus they parted. When Father Cashin retired that night The Lad had not put in appearance, but he breezed along about 11 o'clock with a bundle under his arm, a bit leg weary, but obviously pleased and proud of the trust the clergyman was placing in him.

"He was as good as his word," says Father Cashin. "He put in appearance at the 6 o'clock mass and I nearly got the shock of my life when I saw him stalking down the middle aisle with a collection basket under his arm and arrayed in a dress suit that he had hired for the occasion!"

Her table adjoined mine and she had become loquacious after her sixteenth highball.

"He gets sore," she was explaining to her friend, "because I calls up an gets his wife on the phone. I didn't say nothin' out o' th' way. As soon as she says she's his wife I hangs up th' receiver. So we have an argument an' he quit me cold."

"But you got to admit, dearie," remarked the friend, "that it was a social error."

Old Judge Twinchins who died the other day came within an ace of never achieving the bench.

Hizoner was one of those great big, upstandin' two-fisted drinkers, who regarded it as unreasonable for anyone to expect to find him sober after 6 p. m.

The political boss responsible for his nomination was the proud father of a six-months-old baby for whom Twinchins manifested tremendous regard. He used to drop round to the Boss' villa several times a week, hold the infant on his lap, descant upon its manifold charms and forecast a rosy future.

One night he got around to the house lit like a Christmas tree. He picked up the baby who began to mourn and wail and in the heat of debate the candidate for judicial nomination lost his hold and the infant slipped from his arms. Fortunately the nurse happened to be standing by and caught the child as it fell.

It is a well-known fact in political circles that if the baby had landed on the floor that night, Twinchins would never have landed on the bench.

As President Coolidge once remarked: "The ideal of America is idealism."

Fellowship of Prayer

Daily Lenten Devotion

Prepared by Rev. Charles Emerson Burton, D.D., for Commission on Evangelism of Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

Topic for the Week.
"GOD IS A SPIRIT."
Friday
"God Is Immanent."

Scripture: Read—Psalms 139. "In him we live, and move, and have our being" (Acts 17:28). "Surely Jehovah is in this place; and I knew it not" (Gen. 28:16). "Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising; thou understandest my thought afar off" (Ps. 139:1.)

See—Nehemiah 9:20; Hosea 14:5; John 14:16-23.

Meditation: We live in a marvelous world. Wonderful are our physical bodies; still more baffling are our personalities, with self-consciousness and all their spiritual expressions. It is possible to gaze on these wonders themselves until we have no eye for God; contrariwise, it is possible to gaze until we adore God, their author.

"Be it mine to detect thy hiding place . . . to discover thy beauty sleeping in the grass, thy glory in the dust . . . to see thy presence in struggle and in sorrow . . . in Galilee and in Gethsemane."

Hymn:

Christian, rise, and act thy creed,
Let thy pray'r be in thy deed;
Seek the right, perform the true
Raise thy work and life anew.

Hearts around thee sink with care;
Thou canst help their load to bear,
Thou canst bring inspiring light,
Arm their faltering wills to fight.

Come then, Law divine, and reign,
Freest faith assailed in vain,
Perfect love bereft of fear,
Born in heaven and radiant here.
—P. A. Rollo Russell, 1893.

Prayer: Thanks for life.

Pray for—missions, home and foreign (this is the interdenominational Day of Prayer for missions.)

Collect—Lord of all truth, whose mind is quick and powerful, we praise Thee for the universe, so vast, so orderly, so dependable. We bless Thee for the persons of men and the powers of friendship in them and us, but yet more for friendship with Thyself, for fellowship with Thy Son, and for Thy pervading presence with us in the Holy Spirit. Precious are the moments of intimate intercourse with Thee. Reprove us, we entreat Thee, for the pursuit of things to the forgetting of friendships human and divine. Give us the discriminating mind which detects the subtles of sin and the beauty of holiness. So shall we know victory in the conflict. Therefore we covenant with Thee to put first things first by the grace of Christ. Amen.

NEW BUILDING FOR ELECTRA

New Construction Progress In Oil Fields

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, March 3.—Only $5000 worth of new building permits were issued in Electra during February, these being $4500 on a house for G. C. Harrison and $500 on a house for E. L. Carter. But several new houses have been built in Woodruff Heights and outlying districts, and much repair work has been done on other buildings, besides the interior decorating has been completed on many buildings which were begun in 1926.

The landscape gardners have about finished the work on beautifying the grounds of the R. Y. Smith home in Woodruff Heights. Picturesque driveways as well as park space and rose gardens have been laid off and the shrubbery is being set.

The grading and ditching has been completed prepatory to laying five additional blocks of pavement in the residential districts south of the railroad tracts, and the laying of pavement will be begun as soon as the weather permits.

Considerable work is being done in the oil fields in the way of building new power plants and houses. The Patterson Oil company of Fort Worth is building a new power plant on their lease, adjoining the townsite of Electra on the east. This new power plant will be equipped with a 35-horsepower engine to be used in the pumping of the wells on the lease.

Many Hear Dr. Smith

ELECTRA, March 3—Fully 1500 men, women and children filled the auditorium of the First Methodist church to capacity, Wednesday evening, and many were turned away, when Dr. E. L. Smith of St. Louis, returned missionary from the eastern coast of Africa, told of conditions in that dark continent. The platform of the church was decked with trophies of Africa including a 27-foot alligator skin, and the lecture was made while pictures were thrown on a screen, which actually gave the conditions in the life of the medical missionary and his wife. Rev. L. D. Grafton, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, introduced the speaker, he being a representative in Africa from the Presbyterian church.

$5000 Awarded Widow

ELECTRA, March 3—Word was received here Wednesday that both the house of representatives and United States senate had passed favorably Monday night, the bill awarding $5000 to Mrs. Ruth Walling of Fort Worth. Mrs. Walling is the youngest sister of Mrs. W. A. Shanafelt of Electra, and her husband was killed a year ago while hunting in the woods near Beaumont with a companion. He was the "innocent bystander" while government agents raided a still nearby run by three negroes. James Walling was but 24 years of age and left a widow and three baby girls, the youngest three months old.

Walling distinguished himself in the World war, took part in six major engagements and served two years over seas. His family extend grateful appreciation to each one who showed kindly interest in the passing of this bill, especially Fritz Lanham, congressman from Fort Worth district; Senator Mayfield, who represented the bills in house and senate; Hon. "use no trunks," the salesman replied.

"Oh, I thought you wuz one of these traveling salesmen gentlemen," said the porter.

"I am, but I sell brains, understand? I sell brains."

"Well, excuse me, Boss, but youse the first traveling fella' that's been here this season who ain't carrying no samples."

Chesterfield Loses—
Beware, Stecher—
Plans All Upset—
Admits Nothing—

By GENE FOWLER

NEW YORK, March 3.—Renato Gardini, Italian wrestler, is rapidly replacing Chesterfield both for his superb manners and for his skill in letter writing. Signor Gardini lost a fall to Champion Joe Stecher a few days ago at the 71st Regiment Armory. Gendarmes were summoned to restrain Gardini's vocally strenuous adherents, who not alone believed Stecher had failed to pin the Signor's shoulders properly to the floor but who supplemented their beliefs with menacing raspberries.

Signor Gardini's pen is mightier than his hammerlock. He put a half Nelson on his borrowed typewriter and threw this missive:

"I am called a wrestler by profession. Si! Si! Si! Si! And my kind meaning friends—Gatzia to them—would have it that Signor Stecher did not throw me fairly. But, Si! Si! He did so, and I am not what is called in Bella America as a "Yes Man" and in Italia a "Si, Si, Man" either. And you can bet all your lira on that, too.

"Let it be written that I may never sip my beloved red wine again if I do not speak truly. Let it be known that Signor Gardini, winner of three Pentathlons—one, two, three, see, I count them for you—was first to salute the one who was right. And while I salute Signor Stecher here in these place, I will throw him on his not-so-good ear when I meet him again, whether it be in the piazza or the plaza.

"The only regrets which I have is that I cannot meet him at the top of the Spanish setps in my dear Roma, where Meistro Michael Angelo planned those beautiful steps, and I would hurl Signor Stecher down all and each step until he counted them each one with his spine and I would ask him—Ha! Ha!—I would ask him, Si! Si! to try and get the Seimors hold on the obelisk which is at the top of these dear steps.

"In my beloved Milano where is La Scala and songbirds of people who sing, I once had the occasion to admit something. Wrestlers don't never admit nothing, you say, but look. Am I not the Pentathlon winner? But, as I say truly, I was in Milano to wrestle a great Signor Pantanelli de Luca, the Count of Pisa, who had muscles so beeg he cannot do anything buy wear his trousers legs for sleeves. And I am insult.

"I am not insult because on account of the trouser legs, but because in a ristorante, Signor the Count say Gardini is a horse driver and I am doloroso. We happen to meet near the great duomo in Milano and there I shake hands with my feet when I greet the great Count. Somehow he fall on the seat and pull at his mustacio either with pain or range. I forget which because I do not ask him.

"Then, when he get up, I learn it is not the Count at all but his twin brother instead. So I, Gardini, ask his pardon. I am first to admit I am wrong. There in Milano, hard by the duomo, I admit I am wrong. I don't have to admit it, because the Count's brother, who also is a count—his whole family was nothing less than counts, except his sister—challenge me to the duel.

"We say 'Buenes Aires,' which in Italy is not a city in South America, but is said at the goodby, and get ready for the duel. But we never fight, because Signor Giaccamo Curley, the wrestling Meistro, he cable me to come quick to Bella America. I am sorry, but I have to go, so I go. Si! It must be fate.

"All the way over the aqua see, I think and think. When the wrestler thinks, it is what is called the exception to the rule. First I think whether I will not see my friend Signor William Gard of the Metropolitan Grand Opera, for he is good and maybe he put me in opera with my friend and blood brother, Martinelli, who sing tenor maybe as good as me. But then I think of Stecher and would return to my beloved Italia a champion not alone of Pentathlon but of wrestle as well.

"So I take up wrestle. And then Signor Stecher upset my plan. Signor Stecher upset me, too. I am all upset! Si! Si! It must be fate. But maybe it is not fate but Stecher. Maybe Stecher is fate. Who knows? Signor Curley may know, but he no tell. Ernest Roeber, once the great champion, he referee. He see Stecher pin me down. I admit I was put down. If Signor Hoeber, the once great champion, if he no see, then I Signor Gardini, would not admit nothing."

RAIN HALTS PRACTICE.
By Universal Service.

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Mar. 3. Regular practice was postponed this morning by Manager Donie Bush of the Pittsburgh Pirates on account of the wet field from last night's rain but there was a two-hour workout of regulars and rookies this afternoon.

Spudders' New Shortstop Blows In Ready To Step

Johnny Mann, From Macon, Looks Like Timber of Major League Playing Caliber

Johnny Mann, for several seasons one of the most consistent fielding shortstops in minor league baseball and believed by Wichita Falls baseball officials to be in line for rapid rise to a major league berth, arrived in the Spudder camp Thursday afternoon and declared himself ready for action.

Mann, another Rabbit Tavener all over again and then some if pre-season forecasts stand up, was purchased from the Macon team the past winter by Wichita Falls to plug that long sore point in the Spudder defense—shortstop. Johnny led the South Atlantic league shortfielders in defense work last year, making an average of .961, better than any fielding figure ever amassed by a Texas league shortstop. Devliveros and Flashkamper, the two leading shortstops in Texas last season, fielded .930 and .945 respectively. Mann played in 136 games, scored 269 putouts and 445 assists. He batted .306, one point better than he hit with Macon the year before.

Pete Lapan, sturdy Spudder hold-over in the catching department, busted into town Thursday morning full of ginger and ambition. Pete declared he is in great shape and ready for the season to open right away. "I've kept in good condition all winter, caught several winter league games and am feeling fine. A little leg exercise is all I need."

Lapan with Turgeon and Jenkins was idolized by Spud fans last year for his ability to sock the sphere over the parapet in a clinch. The midget wallooped the agate well over the .300 mark. His fighting game behind the plate, also, won many a warm spot in the grandstand managers' hearts.

Although a chill breeze still hovered over the orchard, Manager Williams put his squad through a rousing warm-up session yesterday which started with fly-shagging and closed with a heavy artillery bombardment.

Dynamite Thomas hoisted the horsehide over the garden wall and Turgeon slammed 'er at a stinging gait. Lapan, White, Fussell and Williams each took a shot at chunking 'em across to the hungry hitters.

The squad was augmented by a number of rookies. Frank Kimbrough, Simmons college, shortstep flash, has been signed and was on deck.

Farron Hollingsworth, rookie righthander from Earth, Texas, blew in and was put to work. Vernon Glass, the youthful southpaw, caught a little air, also. Sam Schmidt, another recruit hurler, swung into action.

Canine Potentate

"Pinegrad Perfection," Sealyterrier, was judged the best dog of all classes entered in annual dog show classic in New York City. The champ is owned by Frederick C. Brown.

YOUNG IMPROVES

New York Outfielder To Be Given Blood Transfusion

SAN ANTONIO, March 3. (AP) Ross Young of San Antonio, New York Giant outfielder, is somewhat improved today, it was reported by physicians in attendance on the baseball star, who has been gravely ill here for some time with complications resulting from kidney trouble.

Young will be given a blood transfusion this afternoon it was said at the hospital. While Young's condition a week ago was considered extremely critical hope is held out now for his complete recovery, although he will not be able to play baseball for a year at least.

HEILMANN DUE TODAY.
By Universal Service.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. Mar. 3. "Railbirds" watching the Detroit Tigers in training here hunched their movable grandstand chairs forward a bit and began thinking up excuses to dodge work tomorrow when the report spread through Block stadium that the camp roll call on Friday would be answered by the eminent Harry Heilmann.

You Can Look Him Over Now Boys

JOHNNY MANN

Johnny Mann tripped in ahead of time Thursday, fooling everybody. Spudder officials hadn't expected the new shortstop on deck for several days yet. Now the hot stovers may cease speculating and see Mann himself in action. Pilot Carl Williams expects Johnny to be the class of the league at shortstop this year. He'll hit around .300, too, prophesies Prez Gardner.

WICHITA FALLS CAGE CHAMPS OFF FOR FORT WORTH SERIES

The basketball kings of Wichita Falls, John Tyson's Panhandle Refiners, depart at 7:30 Friday morning on a bus for Fort Worth where Friday and Saturday nights they will engage the Marland Oilers for the championship of the two cities, the first step in the drive for the state amateur athletic federation cage crown.

One game is to be played tonight and two Saturday, providing the third mill is necessary to decide the honors.

Panhandle Thursday was declared to be in top shape and on edge for the battles. The uncannily-scoring Riley Rawls is expected to show the Cowtown quint some of the classiest basket-sinking ever knocked off on a Fort Worth court. Teaming with Jack Thurman at forward, Rawls should get away for many baskets. Panhandle's probable starting line-up will find Rawls and Thurman at forwards; McCasland, another mean scorer, at center, and the guard position taken care of by Ross and Tyson.

Nine athletes will make the trip. Beside the five named, Haney, Wolford, Riley Cannon and Roy Cannon will travel along.

Nelson Not Crazy, "Trifle Eccentric"

CHICAGO, March 3. (AP)—Battling Nelson is sane.

Physicians at the Psychopathic hospital found him "a trifle eccentric," but his condition was not such as to warrant holding him further and he was discharged when arraigned in municipal court today. The former lightweight champion's friends for years have attributed his eccentricities of locomotion and speech to poundings he received in the prize ring, but none had regarded him as insane.

HORSE HIDERS WALLOP PILL

Major League Clubs Stage Busy Practice

ATLANTA, Ga., March 3. (AP) Fair weather came back today to Florida, where most of the major league squads are being groomed for the big push for pennants, and there was activity on every field. Managers who had had to curtail or halt practice yesterday because of the unseasonable cold kept their athletes busy until late afternoon. Good weather also favored the Detroit Tigers training activities at San Antonio, Texas, and the Chicago Americans at Shreveport, La.

In Florida, Dave Bancroft decided that with most of his squad on hand, they should indulge in a little variety, so he divided the Braves into a double of squads and sent them against each other. He will select a lineup from the two nines to meet the Washington Senators Saturday in the first regularly played exhibition game of the season.

Bucky Gets Busy.

"Bucky" Harris, also did a little setting house in order for the entertainment of Boston by turning his pitchers loose full force with Muddy Ruel and Benny Tate taking their offerings. Fred Marberry, who works mostly in the relief role, signed his contract for the Griffs.

The holdout atmosphere that was thick a week ago had petrified today until merely a haze hung here and there, most noticeable over the quarters of the Cincinnati Reds where Hendrix has four absentees.

The Yankees at St. Petersburg are looking forward to Sunday when Ruth will step off a southbound "flyer" and begins his activities. The Robins also have the same day to look forward to as the coming of several of Uncle Wilbert Robinson's men is set then.

Regular Phils Due.

The Phillies, training at Bradenton, expect the vanguard of their regulars Saturday and McInnis will get down to real work then.

Ty Cobb is in Florida and will join the Athletics at Fort Myers Sunday.

The Cards expect to give Avon Park a touch of world supremacy color Tuesday when they will raise their championship bunting over the field as they meet the University of Florida's 'gaitors in a practice game.

John McGraw let Hornsby's and Bently's nine clash today and Ty Cobb, en route to Fort Myers, was a spectator. These two Giant lineups will be welded into one Monday to face Dan Howley's Browns at Sarasota.

The Indians had their first real workout during the day with only three regulars missing, the Sewell brothers and Sherry Smith. The latter had been listed a holdout.

Red Sox On Way.

The Red Sox are expected to strike New Orleans in full force tonight, as but a few of the Boston club have reached the scene to date.

The railbirds at San Antonio have planned to turn out enmass tomorrow to watch Moriarity's Tigers, who are gaining full speed. Harry Heilmann will be on hand then and many are going especially to see him take his famed stance at the plate, for a few strikes at the ball. The workout today was snappy.

NEW YORK, March 3.(AP)—Rule makers of the gridirons, meeting in annual session here Friday and Saturday are prepared for a lively scrimage against the huddle and the shift.

Shooting 'Em Over In Texas Camps

By Universal Service.

SAN ANTONIO, March 3.—Recruits and regulars continue to pour into Harry Ables free boarding house for places at the grub bench. Catchers Pete Arzatti and Lawrence Tankserley reported for practice this morning and this afternoon a whole flock of veteran's and semi-pro stars including Outfielders Les Phipps, Bob Sanguinettem, Dave Cheeves and Dick Sullivan, Infielder Dutch Dehrens and Pitchers Will Ward and Sep Good, the left hander from the Michigan-Ontario league, checked in for meal tickets and uniforms.

HIGH SCHOOL TWIRLER BECOMES SHORT STOP.

WACO, March 3.—Made a free agent after a try-out with the Chicago Cubs last year, Fred Adair, 19-year-old Waxahachie high school pitcher, joined the Waco Cubs today. Adair is a shortstop. Del Pratt is giving his batterymen brief workouts at Cub park in preparation for the first exhibition game with the House of David next Tuesday.

FORT WORTH, March 3.—Cold winds are still holding back the Cats in spring training. Ever since Monday when Jakie Atz sounded first call, the Panthers have been taking easy workouts under the lee side of the grandstand. All except Ziggy Sears are in camp and Sears is expected to report for practice Monday.

DALLAS GETS JUMP ON REST OF LEAGUE.

MINERAL WELLS, March 3.—Dallas is getting the jump on other Texas league clubs. With fine weather the last few days Snipe Conley has started to bear down on training. Pitchers are cutting loose with their fast balls and by the end of the week Snipe will probably let them put a little something on the pill. Infielders and outfielders are getting in hours of batting practice and today several blows cleared the outer fences. Dallas plays the Victory-Wilson semi-pro club in Dallas this week-end.

ART LOSES WORRIED LOOK AT SHREVEPORT.

SHREVEPORT, March 3.—Art Phelan's worried look has disappeared. With fine weather for the first time since the batterymen reported last Monday, Phelan put his heavers through a strenuous program today. Exhibition games will be played with the Chicago White Sox who are training with the Sports, it was announced.

FORT WORTH, March 3. (AP) Arrival of Dick Kerr, veteran, and two rookies, Rufe Meadows and David Rawlins, ran the total southpaws in the Fort Worth training camp to five. Another, Carl Hubbell, is slated to arrive next week, also Bill Moore, right hander. Both were obtained by the Cats from International league clubs.

Manager Atz sent his battery men through a stiff workout that was featured by a snappy infield drill, with pitchers on the bags.

Spudders to Play Frederick Team

Two exhibition games will be played by the Wichita Falls Spudders in Frederick, March 12 and 13, announced Secretary Guy Airey Thursday. Manager Carl Williams will take his first string club across into Oklahoma for these battles, he says, declaring he is not going to take any risk of losing out to the powerful Frederick nine which has made a name for itself the past several seasons. "It won't be any rookie team I'll send against Frederick," Williams said. "It's going to be the regulars. Those fellows over there play some mighty good baseball, I've been told, and I don't care to take a licking unless I can't help it."

Babe Ruth Gets in Jam With Uncle Sam On Matter of His Income Tax

NEW YORK, March 3.(AP)—Babe Ruth took another long flight in the realm of high finance today to plan a $250,000 trust fund, a new $75,000 motion picture contract, investment in Florida real estate and finally a tussle with Uucle Sam over his income tax.

Babe's business engagements came so thick and fast that postponement of the formal signing of his contract with the Yankees, under which he is to receive $210,000 for the next three seasons, became necessary. The event was put off till 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, after which the home run king will pack his gripes for the trek to the Southern training camp o nSaturday.

Friends ventured the opinion that Ruth decidedly had "turned over a new financial leaf" as announcement of his movements for the day were disclosed by Arthur McGovern, his trainer. McGovern said the fellow had definitely arranged his trust fund plans with a New York bank.

Babe added his signature to no new cinema agreement, but admitted that negotiations virtually were completed for his return to Hollywood next winter. Representatives of sporting goods houses trailed him in quest of his endorsement for bats, balls, gloves, and golf sticks.

Babe went to the income tax problem early in the day, but after a half hour's bout he admitted Uucle Sam "had him licked" and dumped that problem on his lawyer. According to Babe's modest efforts, however, he owes the government between $40,000 and $50,000. His earnings last year ran close to $250,000.

Between business engagements, Ruth sandwitched an hour of training. After pounding a handball, tosing the dumbells and steaming out, Babe hopped on the scales and saw the beam swing over to 218 pounds.

SHARKEY WINS OVER M'TIGUE

M'Tigue Unable to Outfight Younger Opponent

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, March 3. (AP)—Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, scored a technical knockout tonight over Mike McTigue of New York in the twelfth of a 15-round match.

Referee Kid McPharland stopped the fight with McTigue still on his feet, but out, battered and bleeding from the mouth in a stream. It appeared that the veteran Irishman had been severely slashed in the jaw and he was in bad shape, spattered face to waist with blood when the referee intervened.

THE GENTLER SEX

Maybe they do call 'em the weaker sex but they're interested in the outcome of a slugging match between two principals matched in a "manly art" contest.

The fact was manifested Thursday night during the progress of the Jack Sharkey and Mike McTigue battle in New York.

Members of the Record News editorial staff kept a record of telephone calls coming into the office requesting information on the outcome of the fight, and—unable to score effectively. Mike missed a sharp right and nearly went down under three sharp left hooks to the head. The Colt charged in to take two more cracking lefts and a jarring right to the chin. Hold Mike drew away to split out blood. Sharkey ripped in again with another pair of hooks to Mike's crown just before the bell.

Fifty per cent of the inquiries were made by women.

ROUND TWO: Mike danced out speedily at the bell but soon went into a retreat before Sharkey's crushing attack. Mike flipped his short right counter to Sharkey's chin but the Boston boy poured a volley of lefts to the body without noticing it. Mike's attack was ineffectual; Sharkey's sounding thumps a real offense. A left hook sent Mike back, and Sharkey just missed a terrific right. They cuffed each other about the head in the center of the ring and Sharkey drove the red-thatched Irishman into the ropes with a clubbing head attack at the bell.

ROUND THREE: McTigue failed to tie up the Boston boy in a clinch and Sharkey's left bounced off his left. As they drew back Sharkey took a short right to the lips that drew blood. Maddened, he slipped his right to Mike's chin, nearly downing his lighter foe. Sharkey spit blood and winked three times over Mike's shoulder to reassure his handlers. Mike flew in at the sight of blood, chased Jack into a corner and scored heavily with both hands to the head. They came out in a crushing exchange and the referee took Mike's left hook on the chin when he tried to separate them. They came right together again, ripping uppercuts to each other's head as the crowd shrieked its approval. The bell sent them gladly to their corners.

ROUND FOUR: Mike was landing cleanly now and the Boston boy's confidence was a bit shaken. Sharkey piled on the McTigue lifting his left hook as he came in to batter the Irishman on the ropes. Mike broke a wrist band on his glove and they halted for repairs. The crowd booed Sharkey when he refused to shake hands. Sharkey jumped in and they smashed madly to head and body, toe to toe in the center of the ring. Mike was driving into the attack now, taking the offensive for the first time, and blood oozed from Sharkey's left eye. He was missing often now with his left. Mike went after him new, smacking his left easily to Sharkey's head while Jack bruised back, the Colt did not want to stop fighting at the bell.

ROUND SIX: The pace was slower now as they danced around and confined their efforts to popping lefts. Sharkey came in close to lift both hands in jarring hooks to the head, but Mike buried two lefts deep into Jack's body. Mike was boxing entirely now, saving his strength against the perfect and boring power of his youthful rival. Sharkey quit boxing with a sweeping attack that put Mike to the ropes but Mike bumped two sounding rights to the chin to offset Sharkey's body bombardment at the bell.

ROUND SEVEN: Sharkey tore out both arms swinging and again pinned Mike on the ropes. Two lefts seemed through foxy Michael's defense but that was all. Mike let go with the right, like punch that knocked out Berlenbach. It landed flush on Sharkey's chin and he didn't even blink. Mike went back to boxing again. Sharkey didn't want that. He drove two left hooks to Mike's chin on the ropes, and coming out stopped a pretty uppercut to dig his right in Mike's stomach. Sharkey's eyes was almost completely shut at the bell.

ROUND EIGHT: Mike was moving backward at a fast clip now sprinkling a trail of annoying left jabs in his rear. Sharkey took them all, mostly on left eye and cut mouth, just to belt his right home to Mike's body occasionally. Mike suddenly took the offensive, crashing rights and lefts to Sharkey's head as they floundered into the ropes. It was over in a second but Sharkey tried the boxing stunt now. He couldn't jab Michael, and he was so rough in the clinch that McTigue warned Sharkey personally after the bell ended the round.

ROUND NINE: Sharkey drove a pretty left hook through Michael's guard. They locked lefts and clubbed each other with rights half way around the ring. Sharkey's youth and strength kept him constantly attacking. Mike was anxious to box only. It was a jabbing match again, with little excitement as they boxed and showed their technical ability right up to the bell.

ROUND TEN: Sharkey jabbed and clinched. Mike jabbed and clinched. Then Sharkey did it all over again, Mike was backing into the ropes and he stood there while Sharkey tried to find a vulnerable spot. Mike was too crafty so they went back to grabbing. Sharkey crashed a right and left hook to the head and Mike boxed in dead earnest. Another right bounced off Mike's chin. A left hook almost pinned Mike, now groggy, on the ropes, but the bell halted the skirmish.

ROUND ELEVEN: McTigue was weakening now and content to jab. Sharkey drove him into the ropes and hammered; three clubbing lefts into Michael's face. McTigue broke clear dizzy and blinky, but still boxing for all he was worth. Sharkey's left hook doubled Mike in agony near the ropes when the blow appeared to be foul. Mike half doubled up, went back to battle at the referee's insistence, however. Mike was slowed now and Sharkey's lefts reached his head frequently. They stood and leered at each other from swollen eyes and bloody lips after the bell should have sent them to rest.

ROUND TWELVE: Sharkey drove a heavy left to McTigue's head and blood poured from his mouth. He was spitting mouthfuls of blood, reeling back from a steady hammering, when the referee stepped in to stop the bout. The crowd was on its feet yelling for him to do it, convinced that McTigue was severely cut and in danger. First reports were that an artery had been cut to cause the excessive bleeding. The fight was stopped two minutes, nine seconds of the twelfth round.

Sharkey was leading by a decisive margin on points when the unexpected finish came, but Mike had put up a game, give-and-take battle. The sailor used his big advantage in weight, 189 1-2 to 179 1-2, to pile up a lead on points.

ENVOY TELLEZ QUITS CAPITAL

Mexican Ambassador Departs For His Country

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) Sudden departure of Ambassador Manuel C. Tellez for Mexico City tonight led to rumors that his recall had been requested by the state department. The department refused to comment upon this report but it was learned from official sources that no such request had been submitted to the Mexico City government.

The ambassador slipped out of Washington early tonight, and it was several hours before his departure became known. No embassy formalities apparently preceded his leaving, only his private secretary accompanying him to the train. The ambassador left his wife and two children here.

Embassy officials declined to discuss the departure of the ambassador or the persistent report that he had been recalled. He went from here to New York where he plans to catch a steamer for a Mexican port.

During the day there was unusual activity at the Mexican embassy as the envoy prepared to leave Washington, and neither he nor the counselor, Senor Castro-Leal, would see newspapermen. Tellez has been ambassador here since Feb. 1925.

The attention of officials here is known to have been drawn recently to documents in connection with the American-Mexican diplomatic controversies which have been distributed or at least made available through embassy sources. There has also been evidence for several weeks of extraordinary precautions on the part of the Washington government to safeguard its confidential report dealing with the Mexican situation.

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) A report that the Washington government had notified the Mexican foreign office that Ambassador Manuel C. Tellez was no longer persona grata here gained circulation tonight, coincident with the disclosure that he had left Washington for Mexico City.

The basis of the report that the continued stay here of Ambassador Tellez would be displeasing to the Washington administration, was that embassy activities in connection with the circulation of anti-American propaganda had prompted a request for his recall.

Acting Secretary Grew of the state department and Assistant Secretary Olds could not be reached tonight. No other state department officials would comment as to the reason for the ambassador's impending departure. Tellez returned to Washington yesterday from an interrupted trip to Mexico for the stated purpose of visiting a brother who was said to be seriously ill.

The ambassador started on that trip on the same day the note to Mexico about which absolute silence has been maintained both in Washington and Mexico City was dispatched to the American embassy for delivery to the foreign office.

TEXAN WOULD CONTINUE MEXICAN ARMS EMBARGO

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) With less than 24 hours of life remaining for the 69th congress, Representative Connally, Democrat, Texas, who has vigorously opposed the administration's Nicaraguan-Mexican policy, took a parting shot at the state department by introducing a resolution to prohibit lifting the embargo on arms shipments into Mexico. It was referred to the house foreign affairs committee, where it will die with the congress tomorrow.

MANY NOTES EXCHANGED BY TWO GOVERNMENTS.

WASHINGTON, March 3. (AP) So many notes are passing between the United States and Mexico, Senor Don Antonio Gastro-Leal, counselor of the Mexican embassy, said today, that he did "not really know" which one is referred to when newspaper men ask the subject of the most recent interchange.

MEXICAN ANTI-AMERICAN BOYCOTT GETS KNOCKOUT.

The Texas Electric Company has one thing to sell—Service. In payment, it must receive from the people not only their money, but also their good will.

The good will of the people of this state and of this city is essential to the Texas Electric Company. It is our business to deserve it and give value received—just as it is our business to give service to patrons in return for their money.

Good will is based on understanding, and we believe it is vitally important to the future of your community that its citizens shall know and understand the policies—and the problems—of their public utility organizations.

It is important that in their treatment of these organizations, the people shall be guided by their best judgment of what will actually promote the welfare of this community.

FAIN-M'GAHA BRING IN THREE WELLS IN WILBARGER COUNTY

WAGGONER E-4 RECORD WELL

Fluhman Pool Gets Two New Producing Wells

Three new producers were completed Wednesday night and Thursday by the Fain-McGaha Oil company in Wilbarger county, one of which ranks as the largest producer of the year in that county.

Fain-McGaha's No. 4-E Waggoner in section 51, block 4 of the H. & T. C. survey was reported Thursday morning as swabbing at the rate of 700 barrels daily from the sand at 1986 to 1994 feet. This is the fourth consecutive producer drilled by Fain-McGaha in this pool which was opened five months ago. Its initial performance indicates that it will be the banner well for Wilbarger thus far in 1927.

In the Fluhman pool, also discovered by the Fain-McGaha company in partnership with the Roxana Petroleum corporation, these companies' No. 4 Fluhman in section 30, block 9, H. & T. C. survey, swabbed 65 barrels in the first 12 hours.

Fain-McGaha and Roxana No. 6 Fluhman swabbed 17 barrels in the first 12 hours from a total depth of 1454 feet.

The Fluhman pool now has seven producers to its credit without a failure. Two other wells are on the sand, Gulf Production company's No. 1 Milner being scheduled to drill into the sand at 1457 feet Thursday night.

News of The Fields

TIDAL, TURBEVILLE

The Tidal Oil company's No. 3-A Turbeville, located in block 152, Robt. Carson survey, in Archer county, swabbed 100 barrels in six hours after drilling out the plug in the sand at 1513 feet.

FAIN-M'GAHA, FERGUSON

The Fain-McGaha Oil company's No. 2 W. P. Ferguson, north of the Griffin pool in Wichita county, and in the W. H. Spillers survey has been abandoned as a dry hole at a total depth of 1320 feet.

CAMP, LUKE

The Camp Drilling company is setting pipe to test out a sand at 1279 feet in its No. 3 Ben Luke, located 300 feet west of the discovery well of the Munester townsite pool in Cooke county and in the Thos. Scott survey. The test is reported to be showing for a nice producer.

"Togo" and His Tight Rope Gather Honors in Week's Vaudeville

Probably the best act on the Majestic bill this week was "Togo" in his sensational slide from the second balcony. It was new, unusual and thrilling. The Japanese lad walked a rope that extended from the stage to the balcony, and before anyone knew what was happening, came sliding down the rope to the stage again. Nor was that all of his tricks. He displayed such skill in several top spinning and juggling feats as only the Japanese are capable of doing.

Ethel Barker and Fred Babb with the Philipine Sextette in "Bits of Personality" also had a clever act. A beautiful Spanish dance featured this part of the bill, besides solo dances and selections by the Philippine Sextette.

"Money, Money, Money," in which Homer B. Mason and Marguerite Keeler were presented, was fair. I nother words, it would rate about 60 per cent on a 100 per cent basis. It was old, for one thing, and entirely too long for that kind of act.

Earnest Hiatt in "Nothing Serious" was pretty good, however, his act was inclined to be boring, with only one person featured, which is never as interesting as when several persons take part.

Pearson, Newport and Pearson in "Rythm" composed a clever athletic act in which Pearson and Pearson performed several stunts, always kepeing perfect time to the piano which Miss Newport played. Miss Newport also danced and sang.

Pauline Stark in "Women Love Diamonds" was featured on the screen.

WELSH SINGERS HERE TONIGHT

Program at Junior College Starts at 8

A treat of the season will be offered Wichita Falls tonight when the Rhondda Welsh male singers come to the Junior College auditorium to sing under the auspices of the Wichita Falls Teachers association. With a rare repertoire of more than eighty pieces to select from, including all types of music, from the light forma and comedy to the heavier operatic, folk songs, national airs and negro spirituals, the program will be presented by a group of sixteen artists of world wide reputation.

Praised By Critics.

Press dispatches and individual reports received in Wichita Falls during the past several weeks referring to the successes of the singers in more than 20 other appearances in Texas, recite a long list of triumphs which should assure Wichita Falls an event long to be remembered. Several local citizens who have heard the singers have spoken in high terms of the merits of the organization.

After having given more than twenty performances in various Texas cities, including five at Dallas, two at Houston, two at Denison, and appearances at Waco, San Marcos, Waxahachie, Sherman, Greenville, Bonham, Denton and other points, the Rhondda singers come to Wichita Falls from Denton, where they sang at the Texas college for women Thursday night.

Five Tours.

During the course of five tours of the United States made since the Rhondda singers won the noted Pittsburgh, Pa., international song festival first prize, in competition with 53 choirs from all parts of the world, in 1913, the organization has given over 1400 concerts and has traveled over 140,000 miles, enough to go around the world six times.

Although tickets have sold pretty well, according to Registrar Presson of the junior college, manager of the local appearance, there are still many good seats available in the large college auditorium. Choices for seats may be phoned in to Registrar Presson at 6116 or called for at the college during school hours. All seats in the house are reserved. The program will open at 8 o'clock Friday night.

NEGRO ACQUITTED

Cain Bowie Freed by Jury In 15 Minutes

Cain Bowie, negro, was acquitted of the murder of Julius McLendon, negro, by a jury in the 89th district court Thursday morning.

McLendon was shot to death on the night of May 1, 1926, in a negro cafe, and Bowie, pleading self defense, said the affair had been the outcome of alleged threats made by McLendon on the night before the shooting took place.

The jury was out for little more than 15 minutes. The trial is said to have been one of the speediest in the history of the court. Within less than 21 hours after the trial began, Bowie was freed.

CALL MONEY.

NEW YORK, March 3.(AP)—Call money, steady; all loans 4; closing bid 4. Time loans, steady; 60-90 days 4½@4½; 4-6 months 4½@4½; prime mercantile paper 4@4½.

N. Y. Stocks

NEW YORK, March 3.(AP)—The stock market gave an impressive demonstration of its recuperative power today by rallying sharply under the leadership of the high priced industrials. Speculators for the advance, apparently convinced that the market's weakened technical condition had been sufficiently corrected for the time being by yesterday's short reaction, started to bid up stocks from the opening, overcoming rather a rennous opposition in the middle of the session. Trading showed a marked contraction in volume, compared with most recent sessions.

Call money held steady at 4 per cent, despite the calling of about $15,000,000 in loans. In fact, funds were reported available in the "outside market" as low as 3½ per cent. The Bank of England made no change in its 5 per cent rediscount rate, and the New York federal reserve bank also announced a continuance of the 4 per cent rate.

The recovery in prices was all the more impressive because of the collapse of Cities Service common on the curb, which was attributed, at first, to the illness of the president of the company, and later to the expiration of the marketing syndicate. A few weak spots also developed on the "big board," notably Stromberg Carburetor which slumped to another new low at 35¾; American Beet Sugar, American Linseed, and Union Oil of California, but selling of these issues failed to unsettle the rest of the list.

Commercial Solvents B continued its sensational advance on reports of record-breaking earnings, soaring 12 points to a new high record at 278, and closing within a point of the top.

General Motors showed a net gain of 4¾ at 163¾, and U. S. Steel common closed 1¾ higher at 135¾.

Railroad shares made up most of the ground lost yesterday, but there were few features in that group. Atchison, New York Central, Wabash common, Baltimore and Ohio, and Reading all showed substantial gains. General Railway Signal soared nearly 9 points to a new record at 112¾.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Another sharp upturn in Japanese yen to 49.13 cents was the only change of consequence in the firm foreign exchange market. Demand sterling held steady around 4.84 12-16, and French francs above 3.90 cents.

MARKET GOSSIP

J. H. Baldwin and Co., brokers, basement Bob Waggoner building, today received the following from New York, New Orleans and Chicago connections:

Wheat: Market averaged fractionally lower today, with prices holding within a narrow range. There seemed to be good class of support around $1.49, but on the upturns offerings increased and volume of trade was not sufficient to absorb same. The seaboard reported a fair export business, and it was also stated that a considerable amount of Manitobas had been sold direct from the Winnipeg market continued very strong relatively and their May is better than one cent over Chicago at the close. Some improvement in Canadian cash prices was noticeable. Liverpool market closed ¾ to 1d lower on estimates of large shipments, or about six million from Argentina this week in face of two holidays and strikes at some ports. Practically no change was reported in domestic cash demand. Hard wheat is fairly well taken, with quite liberal receipts in the southwest, but soft wheat situation is still dull with sales at the gulf at 2¼ cents over May, or at about five cents discount under hard wheat. No improvement in domestic flour demand is reported. There is considerable difference of opinion as to how much longer the southwestern movement is going to continue, but most advices are to the effect that there are still liberal quantities of wheat to come forward. Weather conditions are generally favorable everywhere. Lack of improvement in the outside trade is disappointment to some of the holders, but to our belief that broadening in the trade will likely create higher prices, but to maintain the advances it will be necessary to have more urgent domestic or export cash demand.

Corn: Market was easier throughout most of the session, with scattered commission house selling in evidence, also hedging sales were noticeable in moderate amounts. Country movement continues larger than was generally anticipated and offerings, both for immediate and deferred shipment, were considerably increased today. Shipping demand fails to improve and further increases in stocks are likely to result. We believe corn will work to lower levels until such time as there is a demand that would indicate a reduction in stocks.

Oats: Prices averaged a little easier following corn. There is a fair consumptive demand in evidence also if receipts do not increase we are inclined to feel that a continuation of this demand will result in better prices.

Rye: There was not much trade today, with prices slightly lower. Bids were again said to be in evidence slightly under the market, with soem pressure for export having been put through.

Cotton: The weather map was more favorable over the south, with high and warmer temperatures. Practically the entire cotton producing sections has had ample winter rains and prospects for the new crop are good so far. No important change occurred in prices today. A fair business went forward within a narrow range. New York advices mentioned sales by spot brokers for March and May. The market lacked bullish enthusiasm and in the late trading its tone seemed easy.

Stocks: The stock market was strong all day in great contrast to yesterday. There was a brief unsettlement for a time on account of some difficulties in a curb utility stock. A great part of the losses were entirely erased. We continue to believe that high grade stocks are a purchase on such drives as yesterday. Reiter Foster opened 10; high 10; low 9½; close 9¾; sales 2600.

The New York and Harlem railroad was started in 1831 and has a life under its charter of 500 years. It originally operated a road in New York City. Later a road to Chatham, N. Y., was constructed. This was leased in 1873 to the New York Central for 401 years at a rent equivalent to 8 per cent dividends on the preferred and common stock and interest on the bonds of the New York and Harlem.

Under a later agreement assumed by the New York Central in 1914, rental was made interest on $12,000,000 3 1-2 per cent bonds and 10 per cent on the stock. The road owns 136.71 miles of first line track, 55.61 miles of secon line track and sidings other tracks, etc. The company also owns the Fourth Avenue street railway which it leased to the New York Railways company but taken bac kwhen rental was not paid.

Bonded debt consists of the $12,000,000 issue cited above. Capital stock outstanding includes $1,343,950 in 10 per cent preferred shares of $50 par and $8,656,050 in common shares of $50 par. INCOME TAX REPORTS DUE

March 15 Last Date to Make Federal Returns

As the leaves begin to bud on the trees; when the blades of grass start to sprouting from the ground you'll commence to believe that spring is here, but—

You'll be sure of the fact on March 15, for that is the day when Uncle Sam says you must "divvy up" your year's earnings with him.

The last day for the filing of income tax returns is March 15.

Who Must File Reports.

Income tax returns can be filed in the Internal Revenue office, in the Wichita Falls postoffice building, or with the Internal Revenue collector at Dallas, according to J. V. Montrief, deputy revenue collector, stationed in Wichita Falls. However, the reports must be in either office by midnight, March 15.

Persons required to file returns follow:

Single persons whose net income for 1926 was $1,500, or more.

Married persons whose net income was $3,500, or more.

Every person or business with an income of $5,000, or more.

Net income, on which the tax is assessed, is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc.

Here's The Rate.

The tax is 1 1-2 per cent normal on the first $4,000 in excess of exemptions and credits; three per cent on the next $4,000 and five per cent on the balance of net income. Surtaxes are imposed on net incomes in excess of $10,000.

Every corporation and partnership is required to file a report with the collector naming all single employes receiving $1,500, or more, during 1926 as salary and married employes receiving $3,500, or more.

Traveling salesmen are required to file a report showing their gross income, which includes salary, commissions and traveling expenses. A deduction of traveling expenses is allowed. However, until 1920 it was necessary for traveling salesmen to pay a tax on all money expended for hotel accommodations and food.

"TOO MUCH HOOCH," SAYS "CORPSE."

NEW YORK.—After Lieut. David McCann at the Brooklyn police headquarters had nine phone calls to the effect that a dead man was sitting in an automobile several blocks away, he sent about 25 detectives to the spot. Sure enough, there was the dead man. When a doctor arrived the "corpse" opened his eyes, announcing he was Ralph Harrison, 25. He explained he had taken a drink or two the night before and the last thing he remembered was seeing three or four cars where one should have been, so he decided to pull up to the curb and take a nap.

INSURES TOY ANIMALS.

LOS ANGELES.—When passengers on the liner "Calawali" wish to show their appreciation of the courtesy of Capt. A. A. Sawyer during a voyage they present him with toy animals, knowing his fondness for the miniature figures. Youngsters often insist on giving him their most cherished toys. Although the entire collection is worth about $2 in actual cash, he carries considerable insurance on the toys.

A CORKER.

Pat went to the drug store for an empty bottle. Selecting one that answered his purpose, he asked: "How much:"

"Well," said said the clerk, "if you want the empty bottle it'll be five cents, but if you have something put into it we won't charge you anything for the bottle."

"Sure, that's fair enough," said Pat. "Put in a cork."

KING GETS BUMPED.

LONDON.—Even a king finds it difficult to go window shopping in the crowds of London. Ask Albert, King of the Belgians. He knows. For he has been bumped—and bumped heavily at that—by a pedestrian, hurrying on with a "Sorry!"

Noble But Jobless

Lord Ashley, heir of the Earl of Shaftsbury, who was disowned for wedding Sylvia Hawkes, Follies girl, in London, is looking for a job. Need a lord in your business?

Biederwolf Party Delayed—Reception And Dinner Planned For Saturday

Word was received from Dr. Biederwolf and party Thursday that they will not arrive in Wichita Falls Friday afternoon as was at first planned, but will arrive instead on Saturday afternoon at 2.20 o'clock on the Texas Special.

An informal reception will be given the party at the station in which the entire citizenship and especially those interested in the evangelistic campaign are invited to take part.

Saturday evening at 5:30 o'clock, the evangelistic party and executive committee will be entertained at an informal dinner at the First Presbyterian church, and the first meeting of the union revival will be held Sunday night.

Several hundred attended the union prayer meeting held at the tabernacle Wednesday night when talks were made by the Rev. S. S. McKenney, pastor of the First Methodist church and by Rev. Dan Grieder, junior pastor of the First Presbyterian church. Music was furnished by the evangelistic choir.

Amendment Loses

Proponents of the amendment argued that any one who wished to start a bus company and could convince the commission that it was capable of meeting the regulations of the commission should be allowed to operate busses. Friends of the bill attacked the amendment on the grounds that it would permit any irresponsible company to operate. Senator Moore charged that many o fthe bus companies were transporting liquor and Senator Stuart declared that a monopoly was a good thing and that unlimited competition would be a bad thing.

The vote was 14 to 15 against the amendment and the senate adjourned while several senators were clamoring for recognition so that they could send up other amendments.

A THREE DAYS COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stops the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the truble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist.—Adv.
