Wind-Driven Ice Floes Bear 100 Wounded Explosion Victims Out To Sea

COMPROMISE BOND ISSUE OF $450,000 URGED

INJURED DRIFT IN ICY WATERS AS SHIP BURNS

Rescuers Battle Barriers To Reach Wounded In Blast

AMERICANS ABROAD

Movie Party Trapped On Newfoundland Sealing Boat

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, March 16. (UP)—A poignant drama of the Far North was being enacted tonght on ice floes on on the little Newfoundland Horse Island, following an explosion which shattered the sealing ship Viking and left it, a flaming hulk, to burn to the water's edge.

The disaster occurred Saturday night. It was not until this afternoon that word of the wreck reached the outside world.

With news of the wreck came the threat of additional tragedy.

More than 100 of the ship's crew of between 140 and 150 were reported drifting helplessly on ice floes which were being driven offshore by a northwest wind.

Americans Aboard

There was grave fear here and at Horse Island that many of them must perish unless steamships picked them up.

Three Americans were among the ship's crew. It was typical of the scattered news from the scene that while two of them were reported saved, no one knew which two.

One of the Americans is Varick Frissell, a Yale graduate and scientist thrill seeker, of New York. He had been making a motion picture of winter sealing and was determined that its Far Northern scenes should be authentic.

The others are Harry Sargent of Boston, a recent Harvard graduate and fellow explorer, and A. E. Penrod, New York, Frissell's camera man and close friend.

Data Missing

There was no authentic report as to the tabulation of the saved, wounded and missing.

The radio station at Horse Island reported 34 men were believed to have been killed in the original explosion, that many were horribly injured and that others were afloat on the ice, drifting fast from hope of help from shore.

Rescue work proceeded tonight by every available means. Fishermen went out over the four miles of pack ice offshore in boats and the efficient little Labrador komatiks, or sleds, which can be used to shove

Reichstag Makes War On Political Assassinations

BERLIN, March 16. (US)—Following a tumultuous session, during which Communists accused Socialists of abetting a political assassination, the reichstag tonight moved to end the outbreaks of "civil war" throughout the republic over week-ends.

The deputies voted unanimously to demand that the government draft a low providing drastic punishment for "inciting to political murders." They also urged that the measure provide regulation of the sale of firearms.

Hawks Sees Airships Outspeeding the Sun

AUSTIN, March 16. (UP)—Capt. Frank Hawks of Houston, holder of the transcontinental speed record, addressing the Texas legislature this afternoon, predicted that in a short time airplanes will outspeed the sun.

"You will be able to lunch in New York, leave for the West and breakfast in Los Angeles," he said.

Pointing out that his flight had caught up a fourth of the sun's speed across the continent, Hawks said:

"One of these pages here may fly half as fast as the sun and then others will fly still faster than the sun speed is exceeded."

And so they lived happily ever after.

Prison Term And New Indictment Follow Young Bank Robberies

Real-Life Thriller Enacted by Inmate Of Hollis Jail When Improvised Rope Proves Too Short to Effect Get-Away

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., March 16.—Movie cameramen would have danced with joy if they had been on location at the Harmon county jail when Leslie B. Davis attempted to escape a la Harold Lloyd.

Davis, held on a "hot check" charge filed at Mangum, had been in jail less than two hours when he was found to have departed by way of the skylight. Deputy sheriffs found the prisoner had made a rope of blankets, tied it to the roof of the building and was descending when the break was discovered. But when he was within 50 feet of the ground his rope—and his luck—played out.

When he had reached the level to the court clerk's office on the second floor of the courthouse Davis was chagrined to learn he had literally reached the end of his rope. In desperation he grabbed the edge of the window sill. When the officers found him the strength of his finger tips was waning and he was calling frantically for help.

The officers rushed to the clerk's office only to find the massive iron vault door securely fastened by a combination lock. The clerk was summoned. Davis' pleas for help became louder each time his finger tips slipped a fraction of an inch on the window sill. The fire department was called. Davis, dangling helpless from the cornice, glanced fearfully at the sinister concrete below. He felt his grip failing. . .

Officers wondered what was delaying the clerk. Then the firemen arrived and Davis was brought to the ground on a ladder, the last ounce of strength in his fingers exhausted.

Sudden Death Strikes Again To Silence Vice Probe Witness

Dancer's Mysterious Illness Quickens Investigation of New York Police Operations

NEW YORK, March 16. (AP)—Death following the trail of the city vice investigators has claimed its third victim.

Georgia Gray, 25, dancer and witness against members of the police vice squad, died supposedly of pneumonia in Bellevue hospital Saturday, police revealed today. The body of the titian haired beauty was identified by an investigator of the district attorney's staff. Circumstances of her death were so suspicious, the authorities said, they ordered an autopsy and search for poison in her vital organs.

Shock caused by news of the beauty's death was intensified by the mystery of certain bruises reported to have been found on her body and said by hospital authorities to have been received before she was admitted under the name of Viola Smith.

With the strangling of Vivian Gordon unsolved and the tragic suicide of the 16-year-old daughter, Benita Bischoff, resulting from revelations brought about by her murder, the death of Georgia Gray threw the vice investigators into a new flurry of excitement.

The Gray girl was at liberty under bond as a witness in the scheduled trial of Policeman Daniel Sullivan, an outgrowth of charges that members of the vice squad "framed" innocent women and railroaded them to reformatories if they were unable to buy their way to freedom.

She was a witness against a plain clothesman Leigh Halpern, who was acquitted of a perjury charge. She testified that Halpern was a close associate of her missing common law husband, Hal Gibson, said to have been a police stool pigeon in vice cases.

The dancer, whose real name was said to have been Lucia Dickens, and her mother, a resident of Augusta, Ga., was known as Gloria Corrine at the West Side apartment from which she was removed to the hospital.

She became ill last Thursday and was removed to the hospital on Friday.

$500,000 FARM FUND VOTED

State Would Reimburse Plains Farmers

AUSTIN, March 16. (AP)—From an executive session the house committee on appropriations this afternoon voted out favorably a bill asking an appropriation of $500,000 to be used in reimbursing farmers in the Big Spring, Midland and Lamesa area for money used in combating the pink boll worm.

Its testimony taken from farmers and business men of the area, the committee closed its doors and settled down to secret action, passing out the bill after some 30 minutes of deliberation.

J. S. Blackford of Martin county, who told the committee he was a "dirt farmer" said it cost the farmers of his section $2 a bale to have the seed sterilized and the lint fumigated. He stated the pink boll worm restrictions had caused the price of lands to slump there. He explained he could not sell his land, plus extensive improvements, for what he gave a few years ago.

Blackford said the farmers considered the $500,000 as a just obligation owed to them by the state. He explained that the farmers of his section had a mass meeting Saturday night "passed around the hat," and "chipped in" enough money to send him to Austin to appear before the committee.

J. M. Del Curto of the state department of agriculture said the amount due the farmers in the pink boll worm areas was approximately $498,000.

Speakers on the subject of pink boll worm extermination were unanimous in saying that fumigation and sterilization cost the farmers from on to three dollars per bale.

Supreme Court Refuses Nassak Diamond Ruling

WASHINGTON, March 16. (UP)—The supreme court today refused to rule upon the status of the famous Nassak diamond as an "artistic antique."

GEORGETOWN, Texas, March 16. (AP)—A jury was completed late today to try Will Edmondson, San Saba county ranchman, for the slaying of Fred Bolinger. The present trial is the sixth.

Leo Brothers' Trial Moves at Pace Of Snail as Lawyers Seek Jurors

CHICAGO, March 16. (AP)—Widespread heralding of "Jake" Lingle's assassination last June and the host of events piled in its wake proved a barrier to rapid selection of jurors today for the trial of Leo V. Brothers, charged with slaying the Tribune crime reporter.

Both defense and prosecution dwelt consistently on the prominence given the slaying in Chicago newspapers.

At the end of the day only 10 veniremen had been questioned—three being tentatively accepted, six excused for cause or by peremptory challenges and one still was on the stand as court adjourned. The three tentatively in the box were Frank J. Ellerman, Hermann Isaacson, and Edward J. Brown.

The monotonous selection of jurors was delayed until late in the morning so the prosecution could submit the names of additional witnesses.

Most striking of these was Father John Reynolds of Notre Dame university. He was believed to be the "priest" who witnessed the killing and then faded into the background. Another was Clark R. Applegate, Owensboro, Ky., and New Orleans race horse owner, brought here from New Orleans by the state's attorney's office and the special Lingle "board of strategy."

Three other names were on the list—Patrick Campbell, Daniel Mills and Marcus David, all of Chicago. These three were believed to have been passing through the Michigan boulevard subway when a "blond man" crept up behind the reporter, fired a pistol at his head, and vanished.

Brothers was the calmest person in the court room.

Loving Suspect Gets Ten Years

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, March 16.—Machinery of the 30th district court dealt with two recent Young county bank robberies Monday, sentencing Fred Jennings to 10 years imprisonment for participation in the holdup of the Loving State bank on Feb. 22 and returning two indictments against Erwin Spicer, Abilene man, for the looting of the Jean State bank last week.

Jennings, 25-year-old Olney man, pleaded guilty to aiding the Loving bandits to escape from the scene of the robbery. The jury sent him to the penitentiary for 10 years after 20 minutes deliberation.

Testimony in the trial showed that Jennings waited in his car outside the city while two other men robbed the Loving bank of $1,865. The bandits left their car and fled with Jennings, state witnesses said, according to a pre-arranged plan. The money was recovered.

Earl Benson, also charged as a principal in the robbery, is scheduled to go to trial Tuesday. J. H. Nelson is charged as an accessory after the fact. Two other men, not yet arrested, are under indictment.

Indictments charging burglary and theft over $50 were returned against Erwin Spicer, arrested in Abilene last Thursday after he was observed spending burned money. The bank at Jean was opened with an acetylene torch and approximately $1,700 removed Wednesday night.

After the trial of Jennings Monday, Earl Montgomery, 19-year-old youth, was given a five-year suspended sentence for burglary.

FEDERAL OIL BOARD TO HEAR RELIEF GROUP

Wilbur Wires Murray To Prepare Program For Discussion

STERLING BILL UP

Governor Presents Plan To Create Oil and Gas Commission

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur today wired C. I. Murray, chairman of the oil states advisory committee, informing him the federal oil conservation board would give his group an open hearing in Washington early in April.

The secretary's telegram was in reply to one received from Murray advising him the advisory committee would hold a conference here March 30.

Secretary Wilbur suggested the commitee prepare an agenda covering topics they wish to bring before the board.

STERLING PRESENTS COMMISSION BILL

AUSTIN, March 16. (AP)—Governor Sterling today sent a message to the legislature recommending the creation of an appointive conservation commission to supervise oil and gas, and a bill carrying out his plan was introduced by Senators Woodul of Houston and Woodward of Coleman.

The matter was submitted as an emergency. The governor predicted that unless immediate action was taken to relieve the oil industry an economic disaster would follow that would involve all the people of Texas.

Commission Censured

The governor's message climaxed several days of argument between him and the railroad commission in which the commission was censured for not having prorated East Texas and for assertedly allowing tremendous gas waste in Reagan county.

Former Gov. Pat M. Neff, member of the railroad commission, today sided with Governor Sterling in his criticism of Reagan county policies. Neff said he sought to prevent waste there but the other two commissioners, C. V. Terrell, chairman, and Lon A. Smith, did not agree with him.

"On the present basis of gas consumption, enough gas has been wasted in this one field during the past 18 months to feed the gas meters of Texas for more than 500 years," Neff said.

Representative Hardy of Breckenridge, chairman of the house committee on oil, gas and mining, stated he would not introduce the governor's bill, asserting he was opposed to an appointive commission. The personnel of a commission of this nature should be kept close to the people and should be elected, Hardy said.

Some of the legislators spoke of the possibility of combining the proposed conservation commission with the suggested public utilities commission, but the governor recommended a separate body for each set of duties.

Court Denies Injunction To Halt Lawton Work

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., March 16.—George Hulsey and other Lawton citizens today were denied an injunction to halt work on the city water system. The injunction had been sought in district court on the grounds that allegedly inferior and light pipe was used, conflicting with advertised specifications.

This decision of District Judge Rice came as the climax of the hottest mayoralty campaign ever held in this city. A record Democratic vote is expected to be polled Tuesday.

Oklahoma Vets to Get $2,000,000 This Week

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 16. (UP)—Oklahoma war veterans will receive more than $2,000,000 this week in loans on adjusted compensation certificates, veterans' bureau officials said today.

About $3,000,000 already has been distributed under the recent law allowing the 50 per cent loan on certificates. The bureau is handling about 1,000 applications daily, Edgar Everridge, accountant, said. More than 25,000 are on file.

Foreman Baits Diggers With Fake Treasure

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 16. (UP)—An unidentified workman was reported to have found a tin can containing $1,500 in currency last week while digging a water main ditch here. His fellow workmen, spurred on by the thought that they too might be lucky enough to find some of the hidden treasure, swung their shovels and picks right lustily.

The job went forward without delay with every man digging as fast as he could.

Work today lagged, however, when it was learned an energetic foreman, believing the crew had not been making as fast progress as was possible, plotted with one of the workers and perpetrated the treasure-finding hoax.

Shure, Irish Eyes Smile on St. Patrick's

"When Irish eyes are smiling—" Well, you can just bet your shamrock that these Irish eyes are smiling on St. Patrick's day, for their possessors are Irish as far back as their family trees go, and on both sides, too. The closeup is of Maureen O'Sullivan, dainty film star who recently came to this country from Dublin, while the young lady with the Irish geranium is none other than Nancy Carroll, also of the movies, whose proud boast is that "my mother was born in County Roscommon and my father in County Clare."

TAX DECREASE BODES RAISE

Treasury May Be Forced To Ask Increase

WASHINGTON, March 16. (US)—Slumps in incomes on the tax returns which poured in as the deadline for 1930 was reached tonight, gave rise to reports that a tax boost may be considered when congress convenes next December.

Despite abandonment of the 1 per cent cut of last year, indications today were that the first quarter payments will approximate only $500,000,000 against $628,000,000 for the same period of last year.

Meanwhile customs duties and other forms of government income have been similarly hit by the economic depression.

Unless business picks up to such an extent as to bring these revenue sources back to normal, the treasury department will have no other course than to ask for a tax increase next December, in order to balance its budget.

New Mexico Gasoline Tax Upheld by Court

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP)—New Mexico's five-cent tax on gasoline was sustained as valid today by the supreme court.

The George E. Breece Lumber company and the Southwest Lumber company, in behalf of themselves and other large users of gasoline for purposes other than travel on the public highways, had challenged the validity of the tax.

Grand Jury to Probe Fort Bend Gambling

HOUSTON, March 16. (AP)—An investigation of gambling in Fort Bend county will be made by the next grand jury to be convened April 13, County Attorney C. L. Dutton said today. The inquiry will center around the night club Loma Linda, where 72 persons were arrested in a raid by state rangers early yesterday.

Hoover Off Tomorrow On Voyage

WASHINGTON, March 16. (US)—President Hoover today approved final plans for his cruise to the Caribbean on which he will visit the Virgin Islands and Porto Rico and very probably Cuba. It was decided he will sail early Thursday morning, leaving the White House for Norfolk Wednesday evening.

The president will board the reconditioned battleship Arizona at Norfolk, and at his specific orders will take ship's luck and ship's fare. He is literally to travel as a naval officer would on active duty. He said that no officers were to give up their cabins for any member of his party and he himself will occupy a cabin reserved for a commander, who will not be on this trip.

So specific were the president's orders, and so limited the space that three of the secret service men who usually accompany him will leave for Miami, Fla., by train and fly from there to Porto Rico to be there when he arrives. They will fly from there to the Virgin Islands and when he begins his return journey fly back to the mainland of the United States.

Vallee Denies Charge Of 71-Year-Old Woman

NEW YORK, March 16. (INS)—Rudy Vallee, through his counsel before State Supreme Court Justice Irwin untermeyer, today denied he sang about Pauline Klemp, 71-year-old lay sister of a religious order, over the radio. Miss Klemp has sued Vallee for $25,000 alleging he slandered her.

Miss Klemp contends that after she persuaded Vallee not to end his life in May, 1929, he sang over the radio and on the stage, "Pauline Klemp saved my life and saved my soul. Pauline, I love you. Pauline, I want to marry you and if you refuse you are a hypocrite."

Vallee asked to have the suit dismissed, claiming he never heard of the alleged incident. Decision was reserved.

Joliet Warden Blames Chaplain For Bloody Rebellion of Convicts

JOLIET, Ill., March 16. (AP)—A tumult of accusation against an ousted chaplain rose above the rumbling of rebellion in the old state prison today.

Turning from his announcement that a second prisoner had died of wounds suffered in Saturday's riot, Warden Henry C. Hill charged that Rev. George Whitmeyer had fomented discontent, carried messages for convicts, and, knowingly or not had been a messenger in a jail delivery plot.

"My conscience is clear, and I am not afraid of an honest investigation," replied the clergyman, former pastor of an Episcopal parish at Herrin. He had tendered the requested resignation Feb. 25, terming the killing of three escaping prisoners "murder."

A crescendo of rebellion rose today as the "grapevine" carried word of the death of George Jakowanis, shot by a guard during the uprising Saturday. His was the sixth death among the convicts in a month—three ran into waiting gunners as they lowered themselves from the stone walls Feb. 22; Joseph Coakley's death from a clot on the heart while in solitary confinement last week precipitated a legislative investigation, and two were killed and two wounded in the riot.

A reversion to routine seemed no nearer tonight, and national guard companies were under orders to be ready for service.

F. W. FISCHER ASKS CITY TO CALL ELECTION

Water Opponents Suggest Modified Plan Of Improvements

NEED IS ADMITTED

J. B. Marlow Presents Plan And Recommends City Drop Manager

A $450,000 bond issue, proposing practically the same type of improvements for the city water system as the recently defeated $1,000,000 bond issue, although on a smaller scale, was presented to the city council Monday night at the regular council meeting by J. B. Marlow and F. W. Fischer, who were leaders, respectively, of the proponents and opponents of the defeated bond issue in a heated fight during the past month.

Aldermen as Managers

Mr. Marlow also submitted a plan whereby the city could immediately dispense with the city manager and the present aldermen could take turns in holding the city manager job for a month each.

The modified bond issue was outlined in a letter written to Mr. Marlow by Mr. Fischer and presented to the council by Mr. Marlow, who described it as a "peace offering" from those who opposed the bonds in Saturday's election.

Under Mr. Fischer's plan, $150,000 would be expended for additional settling basins and improvements in the filtration plant; $20,000 for a fence to prevent refuse from being thrown into the open ditch connecting Lake Wichita and the filtration plant; $75,000 for a ditch around the north side of the lake to divert irrigation water from city water; $150,000 for additional large water mains in the city; and $55,000 for the construction of a large water main across the river to the refining district of the city.

A suggestion in the letter that such an election be called after the coming aldermanic election on April 7 was seconded by Mr. Marlow in his presentation of the document. "The election on April 7 should have nothing to do with this matter," Mr. Marlow said. "We want harmony and peace."

In addition to the plan outlined in the letter, Mr. Marlow explained to the aldermen a plan he had devised to save money for the city and also quell those who opposed George D. Fairtrace, present city manager.

"Mr. Fairtrace has made a good city manager, but he has been handicapped," Mr. Marlow said. "Handicapped as he was, I believe he has more than paid his wages, but there are hundreds of people in this city that think we're paying him too much money.

"There's not a city anywhere that has any better business men on its council than Wichita Falls, and the members of this council could take month about handling this city manager job. Mr. Fairtrace has earned his money, but he's got the city in such good shape now that the rest of you can easily take care of it."

The following statement was subsequently issued by the city council in regard to the Fischer-Marlow plan:

Council Issues Statement

"The bond election held last Saturday was called at the request of a large number of our citizenship and if a sufficient number of citizens request the submission of a modified or smaller bond issue, the council will seriously consider same; but it is not our desire to burden the people by calling another bond election unless there is a real demand for same."

The council refused to comment on the suggestion regarding the city manager, however.

The letter, written by Mr. Fischer to Mr. Marlow, and read to the council as the suggestion of both, follows:

"Hon. J. B. Marlow,
"Wichita Falls, Texas.

"Dear Mr. Marlow:

"As you know, I opposed the issuance of the million dollar bond issue which was defeated by a substantial majority in Saturday's election. I was of the belief, as was a majority of our citizens, that nothing like a million dollars was needed to insure us pure soft water and make the necessary improvements upon our water mains to furnish ample pressure all over the city and thereby reduce to a minimum the fire hazard; however, it was conceded by all that some improvement ought to be made as soon as practical, our contention being that these improvements could be made out of the earnings of the water department, if not diverted into the general fund for the payment of salaries of other departments. Therefore, the question now is, whether it is best for the city to make these improvements gradually as the earnings of the water department will permit, which will necessarily extend over a period of years, or make them immediately by adopting a small bond issue which can be retired out of that portion of the earnings of the water department that would otherwise go into the improvements if no bonds are adopted.

SMALL BOND ISSUE ASKED

Compromise Program Offered by Opposition

Fischer Suggests Compromise

"While our side was victorious in the bond election, yet if the result of the same divides our citizenship upon a question so vital to the city's growth, then some common meeting ground ought to be found. Therefore, if the city council would submit to the voters another proposition for the issuance of bonds in an amount not to exceed $450,000 which would assure our citizens that neither the taxes or the water rates would be raised, but that the same would be retired out of that portion of the earnings of the water department that would otherwise be expended in improving the water system gradually, I believe that all of our citizens would unite in adopting such a bond issue, so that all of such improvements can be made immediately and thereby obtain the benefits that will result from a completed job. The retirement of these bonds in this manner can be easily accomplished as it will require only approximately $32,000 per year for this purpose and this amount can be taken out of the earnings of the water department without impairing its efficiency in any manner whatsoever. In addition to the earnings of the water department with which this bond issue can be retired, resort can also be had for this purpose to the savings that will accrue from the anticipated reduction in the salaries of the city employes and the consolidation of its different departments where feasible, and the elimination of other unnecessary expenses which are now being borne by the city. Therefore, it is obvious that this bond issue can be retired without increasing in any manner the tax or water rates.

Program of Improvements

"Four hundred and fifty thousand dollars, if spent in the manner as set out below, would make every improvement and remedy every condition necessary to meet every requirement of our city for many years. The manner I have in mind for expending said sum is as follows:

"One hundred and fifty thousand dollars for additional settling basins and necessary improvements in the water plant.

"Twenty thousand dollars for fencing the canal that brings the water from the lake into the purification plant. This would provide for closely woven wire fence on each side and over the top so that no refuse could be thrown therein.

"Seventy-five thousand dollars for a north side canal to divert the irrigation water from Lake Kemp out of Lake Wichita. Some say that this expense should be borne by the irrigation district, but the irrigation district is none other than the city of Wichita Falls so far as this expense is concerned.

"One hundred and fifty thousand dollars for additional large water mains, which would not only furnish adequate water pressure all over the city, but would cause the fire insurance rates to be reduced to the minimum, as well as eliminate all fire hazard.

Mains to Refineries

"Fifty-five thousand dollars for the construction of a large water main across the river to the refining district, and the construction of the necessary additional water mains in the west part of the city. I consider construction of the water main to the refinery district as an excellent investment as the refiners have stated that if they can be furnished with an ample supply of soft water, which can be done by this improvement, that they will purchase at least $60,000 more water per year than they are now purchasing. This account alone will pay more than half the amount required for the interest and sinking fund necessary for the retirement of this bond issue, which leaves only approximately $16,000 per annum to be paid out of the water department's earnings.

"I believe that the submission of this proposition to the voters should be at a date after the aldermanic election on April 7, thereby precluding the respective candidates making this an issue in their campaign.

Pledges Support

"While we each have our preference for the respective candidates for aldermen, yet, as stated above, it is of the utmost importance that our citizenship be united, not only upon the water question, but the high gas rate is of paramount importance and must be reduced substantially before winter sets in again as it affects the very existence of every man, woman and child. To accomplish this, it will require the united effort of our citizenship.

"If you agree with me upon a bond issue for the amount and purposes as set out above, and can prevail upon the city council to submit such an issue to the voters at some date after April 7, I assure you that I will support it vigorously.

"Very truly yours,
(Signed) F. W. FISCHER."

Election Returns Confirmed

The council also passed a resolution announcing official election returns from last Saturday's election. The official returns shows a total of 1,458 votes for the bonds and 1,995 votes against the bonds, or the same totals as compiled by The Record News and Daily Times in unofficial returns Saturday night.

Permission was granted B. W. Johnson, 1710 Tenth street, to erect two overhead tanks for the storage of gasoline and kerosene at the corner of North Broadway and the Iowa Park road. Permission was also given J. E. Stephens to build a hamburger stand at 412 Travis street, and to Jim Dural to build a gasoline filling station on the northwest corner of Eighth and Austin streets.

Texas Gains Another Important Post in Congress With Aswell Death

State's Delegation in House Holds Unprecedented Position In Control of Many Committees

Special to The Record News.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The death today of Representative J. B. Aswell of Louisiana will elevate Representative Marvin Jones of Texas to the post as ranking minority member of the house committee on agriculture or to the chairmanship, should the Democrats succeed in their determination to organize the house. The West Texas congressman also becomes ranking minority member or chairman of the committee of national forests and insures him a place on all conference committees dealing with legislation affecting agriculture.

Never before has any one state held such a commanding position in the house as Texas will have in this congress. Should the Democrats succeed in organizing the house Representative John N. Garner will become speaker, Representative J. J. Mansfield, chairman of the rivers and harbors committee, Representative Sam Rayburn, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, Representative Hatton Sumners of the judiciary committee, Representative Fritz Lanham of the committee on public buildings, Representative Guinn Williams of the committee on insular affairs, and should Representative Joseph W. Byrns of Tennessee become Democratic floor leader, Representative J. P. Buchanan of Texas would succeed him as chairman of the all powerful appropriations committee.

On the other hand, should the Republicans organize the house, the Texas Democrats then would become the ranking minority members of these committees and thus only little less powerful than the chairman.

ASWELL IN HOUSE LAST 18 YEARS

WASHINGTON, March 16. (AP)—Representative James B. Aswell, senior member of Louisiana's Democratic house delegation, died today from heart disease.

Death came at 2:15 a. m., a few hours before he planned to leave for home to spend the summer.

Dr. Aswell, an educator before his election to the house 18 years ago, was 62 years old and had been re-elected to the next congress.

He was the ranking Democratic member of the house agricultural committee and would have become committee chairman if his party organized the next house.

100 ADRIFT ON ICE FLOES

Blast Victims Carried Out To Sea

over ice floes and to bridge leads between them.

The steamship Foundation Franklin of the Montreal Salvage company left St. John's at noon to go to the rescue. The government steamship Sagona left at 5 p. m.

The situation generally was one to rate among the epics of this ice-bound land.

Victims Untended

Aside from the men drifting without food on the ice floes, amid snow flurries which began this afternoon, the injured were burned, some were without arms or legs, some had broken spines—and all were without medical treatment.

Not until the Sagona arrives at Horse Island, 225 miles northwest of St. John by air line—a day's steaming—will there be doctors or nurses, or medical supplies.

The radio station at Horse Island reported that some of the most terribly injured were left, perforce, to die on the ice while the brave fishermen-rescuers devoted themselves to those who had a chance to live if they reached shore. They were pictured as drifting out with the uninjured, to die, it was feared, during the night.

The situation at Horse Island was not much better. The survivors landed exhausted and without food. There was not sufficient food on the island to take care of more than the bare requirements of the little populace.

Food Limited

Two hundred and twenty-five miles by the route it must take around Cape St. John and across White bay, separated the government ship Sagona and the island this evening. The ship must fight ice and wind, and may be held up by the strong ice barrier. It was feared here there will be a serious food shortage unless the ship can make good time.

From Lascie, a fishing hamlet between Cape St. John and Patridge Point, 10 miles south of the scene of the wreck, came reports tonight of a strong northwest wind. The four-mile ice barrier was packed hard off shore, it was said. Fishermen were unable to right the wreck of the Viking or the survivors of its crew. The fishermen had komatiks and boats ready to put out over the ice with food in the even survivors were sighted.

The fishermen said the northwest wind was carrying the loose ice off shore and southward around Cape St. John. After that, they reported, the survivors probably would have to depend for their lives on clinging to the drifting sheets of ice in the open water until steamships located them.

FIRE WRECKS HOME

Fire of undetermined origin wrecked the home owned and occupied by H. L. Lewis, 515 Woods street, shortly after 6 o'clock Monday night, according to fire officials. Damage was estimated to be $1,000. None of the family was present when the blaze started.

Deliverance From Sin Wichita's Big Need, Says Pastor

The call to Moses to lead the people of Israel from Egypt is typical of a present day call to deliver the world from evil, the Rev. A. C. Turner, in speaking on the subject "The Call From the Bush" said Monday night at the South Side Baptist church, where a series of services are being held during this and next week.

In speaking of the command Moses received from the bush, the Rev. Mr. Turner said, "I do not know why God manifested Himself to Moses in this form, but to my own mind it suggests a symbol of the thing which God was very much interested in at that time. Israel, whom God loved, was at that time burning under the lash of terrible persecution.

"Israel's need was typical of the needs of the world today, which is deliverance from the devil. Our great need in our city is not more water, but deliverance from sin. When our little village can flaunt its own "Hell's Half Acre" without molestation from the law, it little behooves us to point the finger of scorne to Chicago and their Al Capone."

Tuesday night the Rev. Mr. Turner's subject will be "Who Is the Devil? Where Did He Come From? What Does He Look Like? What Does He Do? Where Is He going?"

Lone Bandit Robs Wichitan on Street

A lone bandit held up Roy Bragoon, 1409 Monroe street, shortly before midnight Monday as Bragoon stepped from the entrance of the Panhandle building at Seventh and Travis streets. The man escaped with $42 in currency, Bragoon told police.

After searching his victim's pockets as he held a gun on Bragoon, the hijacker ran two blocks to Burnett street and disappeared around a corner. The robber made no move to take other valuables, it was said.

JAR FACTORY TO REOPEN

Ball Bros. Plant Resumes Production April 1

The manufacture of glass fruit jars will be resumed here on or about April 1 by the Ball Bros. Glass company of Texas, it was announced Monday by T. B. Smock, superintendent. The resumption of operations follows several months inactivity at the plant.

Old Employes Return

Employment for approximately 100 men and women will be furnished with the reopening of the plant, which has a pay roll of $10,000 monthly when in operation. Only old employes of the company will be employed, Mr. Smock said.

Three weeks of preparation required for the opening of the plant are now under way, and near April 1 production will be commenced at top capacity. The plant will operate continuously as long as the demand for its products last. With a productive fruit crop, Mr. Smock said, operations will continue for 10 or 12 months. An unfavorable production of fruit this season will result in a proportionate curtailment of the operating period. The fruit season, he said, is not sufficiently advanced to predict its probable productivity and the relative requirements of fruit jars.

The fruit jar plant here is one of six owned by its parent company. Several are located in Oklahoma but the Wichita Falls plant will be the only one to resume operations in the Southwest. In addition to its pay roll of $10,000 monthly, a sum of $10,000 per month is spent locally with freight agents, and the consumption of approximately 750,000 cubic feet of gas per day requires the expenditures of approximately $15,000 a month. Electric power and other local expenditures amount to a sizeable figure.

100,000 Gross Jars Annually

The output of the plant here at top production is 750 gross of fruit jars per day. A normal year, it was said, results in a production of 100,000 gross of jars.

States in the Southwest usually consume the entire production of the plant. Served by the industry here are Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Louisiana, Oklahoma and parts of Arkansas and Utah.

During the months of operation production is always at capacity and due to the nature of manufacture the plant operates continuously night and day.

'Wild Parties' Bring Divorce to Mrs. Gay

LOS ANGELES, March 16. (AP)—Allegations of "wild parties" and "other women" brought a divorce today to Mrs. Mildred Gay from Byron Gay, song writer.

"He stayed away from home for periods lasting from two days to a month," she charged. Then he would come home and tell me about his wild parties. He admitted to me one that he took a young woman riding in his automobile and she was clad only in an overcoat."

Negro Methodists To Present Pageant Here

The pageant is said to be the best one of its kind and has approximately 100 voices in it. The public is invited to attend. Tickets will be on sale within the next few days. The proceeds will be used in paying for the church, it was said.

Piles Go Quick
Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protruding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr. Leonhardt's prescription, HEM-ROID, succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that Allison Drug Store says one bottle of HEM-ROID tablets must end your pile agony or money back.—Adv.

PANHANDLE OIL OUTPUT DROPS

Gray-Wheeler Wildcat Has Hole Full of Water

Special to The Record News.

AMARILLO, Texas, March 16.—The Panhandle field of Northwest Texas declined again the past fiscal week, averaging 52,393 barrels a day from 1,363 wells. The decrease was 627 barrels a day.

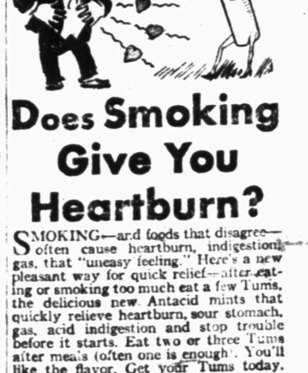

The prevailing characteristic of the granite wash wells of Gray county was shown by Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 Morse, in the northwest corner of the south half of the northeast of section 5, block 26, of H. & G. N. survey, which was completed for one barrel of oil and 1,500,000 feet of gas after a 40-quart shot at 2541 to 2573 feet. The total depth was 2551 feet. It is an east offset well to No. 1-A Parton, which came in for 200 barrels a day.

Midway between production in eastern Gray county and Central Wheeler county, and just in Wheeler, is the Remo and others No. 1 Spain, in the northwest corner of the northeast of section 52, block 24, of H. & G. N. survey, which got a hole full of water at 2505 feet. It may be drilled deeper as it is well placed on the structure and geologists want more data upon the control.

East of the main Hutchinson county field, and a semi-wildcat is the Texilvania Oil corporation No. 1 Harney, at the northwest corner of the southwest of the northwest of section 14, block M-21, of T. C. survey, which has resumed drilling at 2400 feet after cleaning up a bad fishing job. It will test a promising horizon in the big lime.

Four new tests were started for gas in the plains area, whose production follows:

County—	Past Week Wells	Week Output	Pr. Week Output
Carson	244	3,535	3,791
Gray	742	39,574	38,993
Hutchinson	911	8,716	9,502
Moore	22	256	249

ELECTION EVE STIRS LAWTON

Hot City Race Draws To Fiery Close

Special to The Record News.

LAWTON, Okla., March 16.—City politics is "sizzling hot" in Lawton and the four candidates for mayor are improving every shining hour in the endeavor to round up a few more scattering votes. It is one of the most hotly contested races for mayor ever held in this city's history.

Present incumbent, Fred C. Larrance, is making a strong bid for re-election in defense of his administration. He is being bitterly opposed and the Democratic press is openly opposing his candidacy and citing the alleged extravagance of his administration.

With primary day at hand, voters without regard to their chosen candidate express doubt as to the result. Each of the four candidates will poll a heavy vote. House-to-house canvass is being made by women supporters of Mayor Larrance, who had the advantage of an organization at the opening of the campaign. Other candidates are H. W. Leininger, former chairman of the state highway commission under Henry Johnston, Raymond Fields, former city councilman and heavy property owner, and C. R. Simpson, former councilman.

Candidates in the city clerk's race are Jim Thomas, former employe of the state highway commission; Johnnie Ledgerwood, present councilman from the third ward, and the present incumbent, Todd Sanders.

Contests for councilmen in the wards where administration candidates are running are red hot, administration and anti-administration forces.

Labor organizations are taking unusually active interest in candidates this spring. So many are out of employment they have all their time to electioneer.

Musicians Club Presents Wichita Artists in Annual Spring Concert

Local Compositions Among Enjoyable Features of Successful Program Given Here

By FRIEDA van EMDEN

The Musicians club last night presented several of its professionally active members in a well-planned spring concert at the Junior college auditorium before a large and very appreciative audience.

The artistic success of last night's performance must have left many with the firm conviction, that there still is an incentive for the younger generation in the taking up of music. The radio seemed for a while to infringe on concerts, fewer performers were needed, as each performer reached a larger audience. But could any radio rendition even under perfect conditions have given the listener the enthusiasm that so visibly swayed the audience last night? Those musicians that carry on away from the great centers, where the struggle for recognition is even so much harder and discouraging, than in our sort of community, are torchbearers and if any of the younger listeners were inspired to emulate the artists, concerts like the one last night are certainly to be ranked among the truly artistic achievements.

Opening Numbers

The concert with the Mendelsohn Concerto in G. Minor played on two pianos, with Mrs. A. H. Britain playing the solo part and Mrs. F. R. Collard playing the part other times taken by the orchestra. This number was executed with the most beautiful precision and great dignity. The solo parts were limpid and fluently done, Mrs. Britain's style lends itself to a perfect rendition of this classical masterpiece, which is so typical of Mendelssohn's best-known works, as it is at once airy and bright, brilliant and easy to follow. Mrs. Collard's stately accompaniment made for such a perfect ensemble, that the public hopefully will look forward to many more joint performances of these two accomplished pianists.

Mrs. Hermoine Vaughn, accompanied by Mrs. Collard gave a dramatic reading, "The Gypsy Flower Girl" by McDowell, displaying dramatic ability and a well-trained voice.

Mrs. Harwood Stacy, formerly of this city and a pianist and composer of note, was next on the program. Her first number, the Rhapsodie in B Minor by Brahms, was masterfully done, her attack was surprisingly virile, her shading superb. One might say that she played with passion, bringing out his ever-changing harmonies, which are never disappointing, with beautiful emphasis on the melody. Brahms being one of the first of the modernists, Mrs. Stacy was entirely in her element.

Plays Own Composition

Her second number in her solo group was one of her latest compositions, entitled "Under a Texas Moon." A sweet romantic eight-bar melody is elaborated upon and at times worked into a beautiful crescendo, taking one's breath away, just as one can become over-awed by the steady contemplation of the magnificence of a starry night. In her next number Mrs. Stacy experimented with a lovely melody of Ethel Allen Nelson, his "Valse Scherzo," and transcribed it into a piano number, closely adhering to his thoughts and harmonies and turning out a witty and entirely satisfying transcription. As an interesting touch the original form of "Valse Scherzo" was afterwards given as an encore with Mr. Nelson playing the violin part and Mrs. Stacy the accompaniment, and left one wondering which form was the most interesting. Mrs. Stacy's compositions are of our day and time, of a non to ultra modernism, interesting in their appropriate use of such media as the whole-tone scale and augmentive fifths, but coherent and melodious, in happy contrast to some modern works, which though interesting in harmony and intricate in design, never aim at beauty. Having acquired a remarkable technic Mrs. Stacey does not spare herself or those wanting to play her compositions. Her transcription of the Valse Scherzo included witty acrobatics and a demand of speed, to which she as a performer did full justice. As an encore she gave Leschetizky's "Arabeske," her fingers weaving an airy light pattern.

The vocal soloist of the evening, Willard Underwood, sang the Verdi Aria "Questa Quella" with fine understanding of style, his voice is best suited to this type of song. In the "London Bridge" by Besley one could not but admire his enunciation. He opened his group with a charming song, "The Woods Are Calling," composed by his wife, Mrs. Charlene B. Underwood, who is coming to the foreground as a composer of lyric and dramatic short songs, as a rule writing the lyrics herself and closely wedding the music to them.

Violin Numbers Close

The program was closed by a group of violin numbers, played by Ethel Allen Nelson, Mrs. Harwood Stacey proving also to be a splendid accompanist. The first number was the ever beloved Andante from the E Minor Concerto of Mendelssohn, which violinists the world over have immortalized more than any other of Mendelssohn's compositions. It contains one of the sublime melodies of the ages, intense in feeling, showing the Oriental side of his nature in contrast to the mood of his German environment displayed in the piano-concerto, which opened the program. Nelson gave it with intense feeling and the beauty of tone which it requires. It was followed by the "Introduction and Rondo Capriccio" (first part) of Saint-Saens. This came to his listeners with such ease and brilliancy that it was hard to realize that this very composition is a criterion of the ability of any violinist, as it makes great demands on both hands, both in bowing-neatness and in fingering. As a last number a new work of Mr. Nelson was heard "Souvenir Triste," played entirely with muted strings, which adds to its haunting beauty. After a modern triad it spreads into a melody depicting resignation to an unretrievable loss, regret, but not despair. Mr. Nelson and Mrs. Stacy after this played as an encore the original version of "Valse Scherzo" and were heartily applauded, the public appreciating their work both as performers and composers.

In my experience there is no medicine to equal Konjola, for I have not a trace of rheumatism or constipation."

Mr. William Davenport

And consider what Konjola did for Mr. William Davenport, 912 Monroe street, Fort Worth: "This splendid medicine gave me relief from rheumatism after I had about given up hope. I had stomach and kidney disorders too, and I could not find anything to help me. Konjola was recommended, but I was skeptical. But results were amazing. In less than a month all pain vanished, and today I feel better in every way."

Mrs. James F. Ferguson

And is there not encouragement in the statement of Mrs. James F. Ferguson, 504 E. Rippy street, Fort Worth, who declares: "For thirteen years I suffered dreadfully with stomach trouble. Pains followed the simplest meal, while heartburn, dizziness, nausea and headaches were daily occurrences. But today I am like a different person. All trace of illness is gone, and I eat heartily."

Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-deadening drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals. It needs no such ingredients. Buy Konjola in any drug store, and do not accept a substitute.—Adv.

Episcopal Club Hears Talk By Judge John Kay

An appeal to men to lay aside prejudice, accept knowledge that is proved and use it as a stepping stone in fathoming the unknown—in the manner of an astronomer—was raised by Judge John C. Kay in an address on "The Stars" Monday night before the Episcopal Men's club.

Judge Kay cited the astronomer as typical of a man of patience "convinced that man is not like the beasts that perish," who builds his knowledge from facts that have been mastered. "An astronomer," he said, "is never an agnostic." He urged men to take up some study and master it, that in doing so he might become more appreciative of the life about him. He recommended the study of the stars as a branch of learning that "leads to thought and humility."

The regular monthly banquet was served to 40 members of the club. Judge Kay was introduced by Tarlton Morrow. The program included vocal solos by Mrs. Walter Priddy, with Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff accompanying on the piano. Several piano solos were given by Charles Kiker of the Knickerbocker studios. The invocation was given by the Rev. W. D. Bratton. Dr. W. J. Masters presided.

NEW HIGHWAY LINKS CITIES

Breckenridge - Seymour Road Near Completion

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, March 16.—With the highway from Breckenridge to Seymour practically finished with a hard-top surface, the local chamber of commerce will start making a bid for the business and good will of people of that section, John Z. Martin, chamber of commerce secretary, said today.

There is a little work yet to be done on the new road but all detours have already been opened and it is not necessary to get off the main highway during the entire 70-mile trip from Seymour.

The new highway opens up a new trading territory for Breckenridge merchants as well as a new route for tourists through here. The chamber of commerce here will endeavor to attract new people to Breckenridge via the new route by placing signs advertising Breckenridge along the right-of-way, especially near Seymour and at other highway intersections to direct travelers this way.

Santone Official Challenges Audit

SAN ANTONIO, March 16. (AP)—Street Commissioner Steffler in open city council meeting Monday met members of a local auditing company face to face and challenged them to "produce a single pay roll that has been padded during the Tobin and Chambers administrations."

In a fiery address the street commissioner leveled his challenge to the auditing firm that Friday returned a report of the financial operations of the city from 1923 to 1930.

"Before the citizens of San Antonio," Commissioner Steffler said, "you have by innuendo charged me and every city official with corruption in office. Now that you have made such a charge I demand that you back it up. I demand that you bring a padded pay roll before this body and prove your accusation. If you do not do that, I want you to admit you are in error."

Way to Get at a Cold Is Through the Bowels

As soon as you catch cold, the pores close; perspiration is checked. Gases and waste can't escape through the skin. That's why your doctor's first advice in case of colds is a mild laxative like cascara. Medical authorities agree it actually strengthens bowel muscles. You get cascara in its most pleasant form in candy Cascarets.

Remember this when you catch cold; whenever breath is bad; tongue coated; or you're headachy, bilious, constipated.

Why resort to harsher things when Cascarets activate the bowels so quickly, so harmlessly and pleasantly—and cost only a dime? —Adv.

IOWA PARK, Texas, March 16.—An interesting canning and cooking demonstration was held at J. A. Tanner's store in Iowa Park Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock by members of the 4-H club. A meal for family of six, consisting of roast chicken, brown potatoes, green beans and Brown Betty pudding was prepared by Mrs. C. C. Burrows, Mrs. G. C. Hathaway and Miss Ethel Luise Webb, home demonstration agent. Chicken, pork and beef were canned in tin cans, at which time attention was called to the small cost of cans and the fact that they can be used twice, as an extra lid comes with each can.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, March 16.—During the next few weeks truck farmers will plant the largest acreage of cantaloupes ever planted in Montague county. Members of the producers association have already reported plans for the planting of more than 300 acres, and this is only part of the entire cantaloupe crop to be planted in the county. Many farmers and gardeners in the county, not connected with any association, will plant from a quarter to two acres of cantaloupes each.

For many farmers here, cantaloupe production is a new venture, but they have the advantage of the instructions and encouragement of producing and marketing specialists. A number of expert instructors have been in the county, from time to time, since last fall, giving advice on producing and marketing several varieties of agricultural products adapted to the soil here.

Experienced producers gathered and sold more than $100 worth of cantaloupes per acre here last year, and perhaps a few producers sold over $200 worth per acre.

The Southwest Montague County Singing convention will convene at Brushy, three miles north of Fruitland, Sunday, March 22. Services will begin at 10 o'clock a. m. and continue until 3:30 p. m. It is expected that many special song leaders and quartets will attend from surrounding communities and from out of the county.

Mr. Steuer's Charges Think Them Over Mr. Voliva's Business He Sells Globes

By EMILE GAUVREAU

The indictment of the New York state superintendent of banks now looms up as a possibility. The man who closed the Bank of the United States is now criticized for not acting soon enough—as Mr. Steuer characterizes it, for "neglect of duty." The superintendent's predecessor, Frank H. Warder, guilty of an offense in connection with the defunct City Trust company, is now serving a term in Sing Sing.

Never in the history of city or state politics, with the possible exception of the Tweed and Murphy regimes, have more accusers wound up as the accused. It almost seems that the moment a man is invested with public office he becomes, ipso facto, a person to be investigated.

The bank superintendent will undoubtedly clear himself, just as Brodsky cleared himself and as Kresel may clear himself. But the odor of the politician will cling to him long after he has retired to private life. Perhaps this is the most ominous sign of the times: The immediate suspicion which attaches to individuals and organizations set up to defend the rights of the citizen. The citizen has been bereft of practically every right, and there is no defense to speak of.

History has proven that the whole world may be wrong and one man right—as in the case of Columbus, Galileo, Bruno da Vinci and Roger Bacon. But every man who has differed with the world is not, therefore, right. The chances are, in fact, that he's wrong. And that seems to be the case with Wilbur Glenn Voliva, millionaire overseer of the Christian Apostolic church of Zion, Ill., who is more convinced than ever that the world is as flat as a pancake—although he has just returned from a trip around the world!

Voliva is a fundamentalist in religion and everything else—except business. In that, as he admits, he's very modern. And being modern in business, he built up a fortune which started at 33 cents and is now $10,000,000. He owns candy factories, bakeries, printing plants and department stores. In these department stores he even sells globes showing the world is not flat, but round! That's business! The rest is publicity. And the whole is hyprocrisy.

Another piece of news that confirms the general belief in the corruptibility of men in public office is the one that comes from Washington Courthouse, Ohio. Mal S. Daugherty, 68-year-old banker and brother of former Atty. Gen. Harry Daugherty, is found guilty of defrauding the Ohio State bank, of which he was president.

The Daugherty boys seemed to know exactly what was expected of them when they entered the game of finance and diplomacy. They stand today as shining examples of what may be expected from attorney generals and bank presidents.

Perhaps the hardest blow in all these malodorous revelations falls on the school teachers. To whom can they now "point with pride" as models of virtue and self-sacrifice? Should the rising generation rise in the presence of a supreme court judge or mayor or even governor, when so many of these honorable gentlemen have been proven out and out scoundrels? That is a problem. The younger generation needs to respect and revere someone. And there are few left to either respect or revere.

The Joy of Working

WHEN Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, on his 90th birthday, remarked that his work was not done yet, and would never be done as long as he lived, he aimed a shaft right at the center of one of the oldest of human dreams.

This dream—which all of us, in one way or another, nourish now and then—is the dream of somehow getting one's life work finished so that one can get out of harness and sit down somewhere to enjoy the evening of life in carefree idleness and repose.

Most of us, of course, are fated never to make that dream come true; but we keep on dreaming it, just the same, looking forward to some time in the future when we can stop working and take things easy. And it is just this that Mr. Justice Holmes will have none of.

"The work," says the aged justice, "never is done while the power to work remains. It cannot be, while you still live. For to live is to function. That is all there is in living."

Perhaps this is something that applies only to those fortunate people who have found work for which they are especially fitted and which they especially enjoy. Mr. Justice Holmes, of course, falls into that classification exactly. Not all of us are that lucky.

Nevertheless, to a certain degree his remark has a universal application. And its truth rests largely on a little-understood but important fact; namely, that we enjoy life most, not when we are actually seeking happiness, but when we have completely forgotten about it and are working our heads off at the day's job.

Often enough this job is not particularly interesting. Often enough the man who is plugging away at it can think of many other jobs that he would enjoy a good deal more. But that is not the point. The point is that to plunge head-over-heels into work—to lose one's self in the doing of something, so that all of one's energies and abilities are called into play constantly—is to know a completeness of living that can be known in no other way.

For life is not exactly a toilsome pilgrimage towards a restful stopping place where one can lie under the trees and wait for the night. It is the sum total of all of the things one does, day in and day out. If these things hold one, and demand the utmost one can give them, life comes, in the end, to a respectable sum. It is easy to see that this is just what has happened to Mr. Justice Holmes.

Life's Platitudes

A MODERN essayist has come around to the discovery that the business of living results mainly in the personal proving of the platitudes about life. The writer, a contributor to a sophisticated magazine, says "As children we wrote in copy books innumerable repetitions of statements meaning little to us at the time beyond the achievement of a Spencerian slant. As the shadows began to lengthen we learned that many of these homely, uninteresting precepts were true."

What a blow all this must seem to the generation which has called itself "modern" and boasted its eagerness to experiment, its daring determination to find truth at all cost. The flappers and the flappers' boy friends—are they after all spending their energy merely to learn that honesty is the best policy, that truth crushed to earth shall rise again, and that a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush?

Somehow it scarcely seems worth the tremendous stress and strain. Old and young alike have waxed hot and emphatic in the battle. Old and young alike have said things in the heat of argument which calm judgment overrules. To learn now that all this might have been avoided by simple adherence to the copy books is just the sort of irony that life supplies plentifully.

Mexico Ready for American Tourists

PRESIDENT RUBIO is building public highways in Mexico. State Chairman W. R. Ely of the Texas highway commission is covering Mexico and the Central Americas on his way to the South American conference of highway builders. Now the national railways of Mexico will establish offices in six cities of the United States and in France and England to encourage business and the coming of tourists to Mexico. American offices will be in New York, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis and San Francisco. "On to Panama" is a dead slogan. "On to Patagonia" is the new slogan. Some day the United States of South America will be on the map. Some day the United States of Central America and Mexico will be on the map. South of the Rio Grande river there is said to be 150,000,000 Spanish speaking people. Why not friendly relations and trade ties?

Too Wide

And you, my dear, who hurt so very much
So short a time ago—you hurt no longer.
You, picture-on-the-wall that used to clutch
My heartstrings—your enchantment is no stronger
This evening than a dozen other faces
More beautiful (if more diffused by years)
Than yours. My dear, this inconstant eye effaces
The sharpest images. Nor any tears
To dignify the effacement have I shed,
No poems wrought of anguish, no sleepless nights,
No single blasphemous wish that you were dead,
No dreary letter saying the last rites
Of love . . .
Too wide the world, too full of ships
And sealing wax and shoes—and eager lips!
—JIGGER.

Anything for a Laugh

They will tell you that Mrs. Pat Campbell, one of the grand old ladies of the stage, is strapped these days and has a difficult time of it—but that they still like her because she won't ask for a break.

Mrs. Campbell, however, gets a bigger kick out of making celebrities miserable. The other night at a party, when she met Amelia Earhart, she cooed:

"Oh yes. You're the lady who swims."

"But," said Miss Earhart, "I cannot swim."

"Aren't you the one who swam from France to England?" queried Mrs. C.

"No, I fly!" almost shrieked Amelia.

"Oh, yes," said Mrs. Campbell as she gently slapped Miss Earhart's wrist, "you flew from France to England!"

Cholly Gets a Cracker

Cholly Knickerbocker, the N. Y. American's society scooper, scolds his contemporaries for claiming a "beat" on the greatly discussed Tony Biddle divorce. In his bureau yesterday he branded those who claimed the scoop as "fiction writers" and reported that it was his "duty" to print that "Walter Winchell was the first journalist to print a line to the effect that the Biddles were being divorced."

We thank Cholly for the ad. S'very nice of Cholly, but we cannot recall ever doing anything to him to warrant being called a journalist, which anyone'll tell you is a person on a newspaper, who gets less money than a reporter, but who tried to conceal that fact by carrying a cane.

Just Twice as Much

Take it from Clayton, Jackson & Durante, a Ku Kluxer walked into a shop run by a negro and demanded to know why his window displayed a placard reading "200 per cent!"

"Well," said the brownskin, "you Kluxers say you is 100 per cent because you don't like the Jews, Catholics and colored people, right?"

"Absolutely!" thundered the Kluxer.

"Well," snapped the darkey, "I hate you and everybody else!"

In Other Words

You can find one in every theater lobby. Between acts of J. M. Barrie's old play, "The Admirable Crichton," one of the critics was saying that he thought the show creaked, and that he intended so reporting.

"He comes not to praise," mumbled a pun-maker, "but to Barrie him."

Why Columnists Go Mad

"I am very much surprised," indignantly writes Josephine Sievers Birt, of No. 3421 W. 150th St., Cleveland, Ohio, "to see in your column a poem called 'Temptation' by a person named Freddie. I am not under the collar because I wrote that over a year ago, and you never used it. I'd like Freddie's name and address to give him a piece of my mind, for probably he has several of my other poems. I have made arrangements to broadcast my verses for a consideration. You certainly wouldn't like to have your stuff thefted!"

The poem has caused us no end of heckling and Freddie has been rebuked. The verse, we learned too late, is by Oscar Wilde.

Oop!

"Dear Mr. Winchell," writes Bill Mack, of the Irving Berlin Co., No. 177 Tremont St., Boston, "in a recent 'Things I Never Knew Till Now' column, you stated that there is a Winchell School in Boston. You are absolutely right, sir, but what you probably do not know until now is that the reason they named it The Winchell is that it only goes to the 5th grade!"

?Red-face my is.

At Last!

The ageless query, "Why does a chicken cross the road?" has finally been answered with some common sense.

The Messrs. Vallee or Chevalier probably are on the other side.

The Retort Dandy

Benjamin Block, the owner of Morvich, one of the better racing steeds, relays the feud between Senator Evans and an Illinoisy editor, who battled the senator via printer's ink for many years.

The aggravating newspaper man finally wearied of the quarrel, and encountering Evans, said: "Senator, I suppose you don't want to talk to me after the way I've annoyed you, but on my word of honor I'll never say a mean thing about you again. Watch me henceforth—and see the difference."

"Oh, that's all right," replied Senator Evans. "I don't care how much you lie about me, but I warn you—I'll kill you—if you tell the truth about me."

Big Business Girl . . . By One of Them

Synopsis of Preceeding Installments

Claire MacIntyre, known as "Mac," determines upon a business career upon being graduated from State university. At the university she has fallen in love with Johnny Goodman, who is to graduate a year later. Johnny is handsome and a talented musician, but a bit undependable. It is hard to withstand his protestations against her plan, but Mac goes to Chicago, leaving behind the memories of gay petting parties. Johnny is to have a summer engagement with his college musicians in Paris. Mad lives with her kindly Uncle Jerry in Chicago. She has had some experience in managing a dry cleaning business in college, so determines upon that as her field, though Uncle Jerry says racketeers have made a good deal of trouble in that line in Chicago. Mac is delighted when she gets a start in the office of the R. J. Clayton company, cleaners and dyers. Luke Winters, R. J.'s secretary, takes Mac on a yacht party. Next day at the office Mac makes a hit by her clever handling of a wealthy customer, who comes in with a complaint about some cleaning the firm has done.

It was about this time that a letter came from Johnny, saying he was leaving France immediately and when he landed he would rush to Chicago to open at the Villa Carlotta on September 27th. That was a dine and dance place out on the Rand road, northwest of Chicago, and it would be the final week of their season. Johnny was to get a fair sum for one performance.

Mac was glad for him, although she felt a kind of sadness and a fear of having him in town. She wished her own position were more secure. If only she had some sort of success to fall back on when he would begin arguing that business was certainly no place for Claire MacIntyre.

It was too late for an answer. He would arrive in little over a week. It hardly seemed possible. The thoughts of him assailed the curves of her heart. "Johnny! Johnny!" she talked to the great mirror in her bedroom . . . Would it be the same again? Or was this going to be just another love that had died down and embered?

But nobody at the office seemed aware that she was heartsick, or even aware of the fact that she had such an organ. Things were happening fast.

"Get a load of this!" sputtered Luke one morning, his voice jagged with excitement.

Mac completely forgot that she was going to be angry with him about something that had happened Saturday. He was shaking a letter in front of her. She took it and read it slowly.

"Dear Mr. Clayton," it said. "Again we are forced to call your attention to the fact that your dues to this group are long past due. We feel particularly sorry about this, since it comes at a time when our industry is enjoying a seasonable burst of activity and we want all of the members to share alike in our prosperity.

"Mr. Benjamin Green will call on you Wednesday morning and we hope you will give him the pleasure of an interview. Trusting that we may count on your continued cooperation, I remain,

"Yours sincerely,

"James R. Braymen, Executive Secretary, United Federation of Cleaners and Dyers."

"With love and kisses," exclaimed Luke. "You must come and see us sometime."

"What does it mean?" asked Mac "Trouble—and plenty of it! We always get one of these letters before they bust out with a little rough stuff."

"It certainly is an oily letter."

"Braymen was once a good friend of R. J.'s. We haven't had any trouble for months. I guess his crowd of hoodlums is getting restless for something to do. They cost money, you know. And they're all the time cutting up somebody, or scrapping around."

"Will R. J. see Green?"

"I should say not. He never does. It's a silly form they go through."

"Do you know him?"

"Sure. I take him out to lunch when he comes around, slip him a couple of cigars and try to kid him along. It doesn't matter what you do, because they've got their minds made up already."

Mac's eyes were shining. "Could you take me along this time?"

"Why not? He isn't dangerous. Those business agents seldom carry a rod. I doubt if they could even use one. All they know anything about is soft soap."

"Fine."

"All he'll do will be to brag about himself, how he got up in the world. He'll talk against the American Association of Cleaners and Dyers. You know, there are three unions trying to get control of the big cleaners in Chicago: the United Federation, the American and the International Cleaners and Dyers. And if you count in the Blue Island gang, which started to muscle in on the West Side, that makes four. All of them, except the Blue Island outfit, have been pretty strong for a long time."

"They all sound alike to me."

"Yes, and they all work alike because the big shots are always moving from one group to another. We never joined the Federation, but Braymen assumes we have, only that we haven't gotten around to paying up our dues. If we did pay them up—and I imagine it would be over ten thousand dollars by this time—we would be given a number of 'stops' around town where our drivers would pick up wholesale work from small tailoring and cleaning shops. No other cleaner in the Federation could accept work from our stops. If we found we wanted more work, we'd have to 'loan' the federation another grand to get more stops."

"Will you tell R. J. I'd like to go with you tomorrow?"

"Absolutely."

And the next day when dapper little Mr. Green appeared, smelling very strongly and expensively of the barber shop and dressed in clothes that quite evidently were made by a smart tailor, Mac found herself entertaining him in her office until Luke Winters finished his conference with some building contractors.

"Mr. Winters didn't want you to wait in the outer office, so he asked me to have you come in here." She motioned to a seat, and he sank into it with a polite murmer of thanks.

"Ah, he is such a nice young man, Mr. Winters. Always so nice and thoughtful." Mr. Green was swarthy, his face having a peculiar dark coloring. He was small and rather plump, with very tiny feet. There was no jewelry about him, which was rather surprising. His voice was liquid. The listener might have been led to wonder if somewhere in his lineage there hadn't been an opera singer or two.

Mac observed him in detail without appearing to. She thought of some of the things Luke had revealed. Sometimes they hired "choppers," or operators of machine-guns and sawed-off shotguns to do a job. Punishment was swift and certain to those who had antagonized or disobeyed. They always shot high, in the face or at the base of the skull, because death was so much more certain and swift that way. Luke had told Mac of the tenacity and the cunning of killers. One man, formerly an alky cooker, had waited 15 years to get another who had given him a "bum rap," or false identification, when there had been a police round-up. Such men had long black records and they had killed more police than they cared to remember.

"I have never seen you, Miss MacIntyre. How is that?" Mr. Green was asking her. She smiled at him cordially.

"I haven't been here very long. Only a few months."

"Of course. I have not called here for a long time. But I hope to come again when such a charming lady is here. It is a pleasure."

The telephone rang. It was Luke Winters. He couldn't go out to lunch because the men in his office wanted to leave town at 4 and he had to finish with them. If she didn't want to go alone with Green, she should tell him to come back tomorrow.

"What would you advise?" said Mac, very professionally, into the mouthpiece.

"Go ahead. He'll hand you a few laughs. Give him a little knee work, too, and maybe he'll stall off trouble for awhile longer."

"Think so?"

"Absolutely. Go ahead. Let's see you handle him, Mac."

"All right." She realized Green was fond of women. In the first glimpse of him, she had decided that he could be handled. It would be a thrill, eating lunch with a racketeer.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

When this column was born, it was a difficult thing to select the infant's name. The one above was chosen chiefly because we knew no other that sounded like it. And it may be—we have no definite memory—that we intended to talk more of people individually—not so much of the world in general.

◆ ◆ ◆

At a club meeting some weeks ago, two out-of-town ladies remarked on reading, it each morning and feeling acquainted with the writer. Which, by the way, is the chief joy of writing it. The writer loves friends. (Though should you read some of the letters she receives, you would judge she does not always make them.)

◆ ◆ ◆

Back to our story (we are always taking bypaths), when these ladies spoke as they did, another friend who lives in the city, said "I like everything about it but the name." She felt the name indicated a "peeping" person; one who went about eavesdropping and looking in windows, etc.

◆ ◆ ◆

That thought had never come to us. Though when we walk down a street in the twilight, we do love to look into prettily lighted interiors and dream of the homes built happily there. And we must confess that we have used our one blessing—the best hearing pair of ears extant—to listen.

◆ ◆ ◆

We always listen. The world interests us. When we sit in a cafe, we eat with our mind on loud talking individuals about us. What people have to say interests us. When we go along the street, we have our ears tuned to the average person's conservations on the corner. We like to know what a man or a woman thinks of the world. It often gives us lines of thought that our own tired brain has not considered.

◆ ◆ ◆

But we would like to invite correspondence. We would beg suggestions for a name to this column—do not be too hard on us. Tell us if the one we use seems appropriate to you, gentle reader—(or otherwise)—or tell us a more fitting one. Should a tide of opinion give us excuse, we might change it. Then too, some who are not so friendly might enjoy reading printed their opinions of the writer's writings.

◆ ◆ ◆

Once we had a letter—no, just a clipped column—with one paragraph marked, and beside it written "Quit writing such slush or don't write at all"—with no signature. We like signatures. Once we had a letter that called us "wolfheart." But those have been more than overbalanced by letters from friends.

◆ ◆ ◆

We do not expect the world in general to agree with us in all we write. The only thing we can promise is that we are always open to conviction. But it takes logic sometimes to convince us.

◆ ◆ ◆

But it is not that which we must consider now. (Back again to the main road). Just supposin' we keep on writing at random—today about a column—tomorrow maybe about a person—maybe the next day about flowers—then about "tolerance," which is our pet golden rule—what should the column be called?

◆ ◆ ◆

There may be those who think it has no excuse for being. Perish the thought! It's the only chance we have to do much talking.

Ingrown Nail Turns Right Out!

Pain Stops Instantly!

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.—Adv.

Anemia Due to Toxemia

Many people write to me that they believe themselves anemic. The only thing for them to do is to go to a doctor and have him make a blood examination. It is impossible for anyone to tell whether or not you have anemia just by looking at you. The person with anemia is not always pale and thin but may appear to be well and healthy.

In the test for anemia a few drops of blood are withdrawn causing no more pain than a pin prick. The doctor then examines the blood under a microscope and can tell you whether or not you have anemia. One with anemia often suffers from weakness, dizziness, headache, inflammation in the eyes, constipation, excessive acidity in the stomach, and always tires easily.

Many queer appetites are formed during anemia, such as a desire for pickles, lead pencils, chalk, etc.

The most important cause of anemia is a toxic condition of the blood brought about by wrong habits of eating and exercising. The patient first develops constipation and excessive acidity of the stomach, showing that the digestive functioning is not normal. The condition becomes worse until a very toxic state is the result. As these toxins are carried in the blood stream they destroy the red cells of the blood and prevent the body from absorbing iron.

General factors which lower the resistance and build up the toxic picture of anemia are: Not enough sun and fresh air; lack of simple, wholesome food; too much pastry, soda fountain mixtures; confining work, etc.

Some diseases are productive of anemia, among them being hookworm, malaria typhoid, rheumatism. Anemia may be due to continued hemorrhages.

Secondary anemia is found when there is a condition of pus in the body due to pyorrhea, abscessed teeth, chronic appendicitis, suppurative tonsils, etc.

The body's ability to assimilate iron is greatly increased by a short orange juice fast accompanied by such helpful measures as fresh air, sunshine, massage, cold showers, etc. Both pernicious and secondary anemia usually yield in a spectacular manner to this method of treatment. The toxins which are responsible for the anemic condition are absorbed and eliminated during the fast so that the body is then able to obtain its full nourishment of iron and other blood building foods. As the blood becomes cleaner and healthier there is an increase in both the number of red blood cells, and the percentage of color.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Asthma and Climate

Question—Mrs. O. J. F. asks: "Has climate any effect on asthma?"

Answer—Asthmatics often feel a relief from their symptoms when going to a dryer climate even though they take their bad habits with them. But on the other hand I have never seen a case of asthma that could not be cured in any kind of climate if the asthmatic is willing to follow the proper rules about diet, exercise, deep breathing, etc.

Gray Hair

Question—M. B. D. asks: "Can gray hair be restored to its original color by diet?"

Answer—In a few rare instances I have seen the normal color restored to the hair through the adoption of a better dietary, but ordinarily no effect is observed by a change of diet except that the hair will become stronger and more growth will be induced through using foods containing the minerals out of which hair is produced.

Use of Appendix

Question—P. M. asks: "Is it true that the appendix is an organ to dispose of poisons? How is this accomplished?"

Answer—The appendix is simply an elongation of the secum which has gradually grown smaller throughout the centuries of man's life on earth. It really has the same nerves and blood vessels as the rest of the colon, and the inside membrane secretes the same lubricating fluids as the colon. It is very sensitive and I believe because of this fact should be retained as it seems to assist in stimulating intestinal peristalsis whenever food enters that part of the intestines. It is much more difficult to cure chronic constipation after the appendix has been removed. It can only help dispose of poisons in that it helps the normal peristalsis of the colon.

ALLDAY ARRIVES; MILT STEENGRAFE REPORTED AS HOLDOUT

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

Now, let's get acquainted with our shortstop, Joe Hassler. The boy has been around some. The most interesting part of his baseball career begins when he became the property of the world champion Philadelphia Athletics back in 1926. The Mackmen had no sooner bought him than he was sent out for conditioning to Wheeling, W. Va., of the Middle Atlantic league. In 1927 the A's sent him to Waterbury, Conn., of the Eeastern league, another Athletic farm.

Then in 1928 the Athletic recalled him and gave him a shot at the big show. He got into few games, but did creditably with the stick, hitting for a .275 average in something like 35 games. He remained with the Athletics until mid-season of 1929, and was sold to Portland, Ore., of the Pacific Coast league.

Last year he was on the jump most of the time, and never was allowed to settle down and play baseball. First Portland sold him to the Baltimore Orioles of the International league, and later the Orioles sold him to the Browns. He got into a few games with the Browns towards the close of the 1930 season.

In the half season he played with Portland, a sixth place club, in 1929, Hassler showed plenty of stuff. The chances are that had he been able to go the whole season with the Pacific coasters he would have rung up a much better batting average than did Jim Levey here last year, and the records testify to his ability as a fielder.

In the 56 games he played with Portland, he rang up a batting average of .242. Not so impressive, but it is a reasonable certainty that had he played more games the final count would have been higher. He got 47 hits, including only four home runs. He drove in 19 runs and scored 27 himself. In that time, however, he was credited with only one stolen base. In that department, Levey must reign supreme.

As to his fielding, in the 56 games he handled 293 chances with but 22 errors, for a final average of .930.

It is unsafe, of course, to compare Hassler's and Levey's records for the two seasons, because the question of what Hassler would have done had he played the whole season cannot be answered.

Nevertheless, you can get some idea of the proximity of the two by a comparison. Levey's final fielding average for the 1930 season was .931, one point higher than Hassler's. Levey made 62 errors in that season. If Hassler had gone the whole 1929 season with Portland in the same manner he did the last half, it is probable his errors would have totaled around 50, much lower than Levey's total.

Compared to Hassler's batting average of .242 for the half season, Levey hit .289 in 1930.

It would be more interesting to compare Hassler's 1930 record with Lavey's, but the official averages have not as yet been published.

Paying the Prof.

Alex Lucy of Dundee, recruit outfielder with the Spudders, promises to revive the old custom of paying the minister and the school teachers in home produce.

Lucey's folks own a large ranch and farm near Dundee. The place is noted for large coveys of quail that swarm there during the hunting season, and these flocks the Lucys seek to keep more or less for themselves. They object to hunters slaughtering them in flocks.

One day while Lucy was officiating at the plough on a large tract filled with quail a party of hunters drove up.

"Seen any quail around here?" they asked.

"No, ain't seen a one," replied Lucy, and he was trembling in his boots when he said it for fear his plough and team would scare up a covey.

But Lucy feels more kindly towards Jim Galloway, who is helping Carl Williams sift the wheat from the chaff down at Athletic park.

"If Jim would teach me how to hit, I'd sure take him on some good quail hunts," said Lucy.

Comparing Professions

J. Alvin Gardner and Ray Cahill, scout of the St. Louis Browns who arrived here Monday morning, philosophized about the work of baseball players while looking over the squad yesterday.

"We pay good money," said Gardner, "to see a fifth rate show up in New York, where the actors, having done the same thing year in and year out are jaded and uninspiring, and if a ball club should stage such a sorry performance the players would be hooted off the diamond and the crowd never would return. Yet people pay exorbitant prices for the priviledge of seeing questionable acting, and go back for more."

And Cahill added this sage remark: "There is no one on earth who can help a ball player keep his job. No one can do his fielding for him, no one can do his hitting for him. It takes absolute self confidence and ability to be a ball player, and there is not a finer way for athletes to make a living."

Cahill, a veteran observer of the grand old game, could say little of the prospects of the Spudder club this year after his one-day in camp, but it was apparent he was impressed by some of the young players.

"Those kinds don't realize what good throwing arms they have," he said, as the rookies scampered through an infield drill. He referred to several, among them Hambright of Lubbock, an excellent fielding prospect, and E. K. Martin, left-hander who is tearing up the soil and putting plenty of pepper in his handling of first base.

Star Texas Gridster Withdraws From School

AUSTIN, March 18. (AP)—University of Texas athletic authorities today stated that Bohn Hilliard of Orange, star backfield man on last season's freshman football squad, had withdrawn from school.

They stated the withdrawal was occasioned by scholastic difficulties and he probably would return next fall. He would not be eligible for football until 1932.

GEYGAN GETS INTO UNIFORM

Second Week Opens With Heavy Workout

By FRED THOMPSON

Franklin "Bear" Allday, slugging second baseman, arrived at Athletic park Monday afternoon in good time to prevent his classification among the tardy, and with the exception of the three players conditioning with the St. Louis Browns, only one cog is now missing in the 1931 machine. All veterans were due in Monday.

The missing one is Milton Steengrafe, big right-handed curve ball veteran, who failed to arrive here on the deadline set by President William E. Huff, and whose non-appearance gave credence to the current report that he is a holdout for a bigger and better salary. However, club officials announced they anticipated no great trouble in dealing with the veteran, and confidently expected him in camp by the last of the week. It is not so urgent, they said, that regular members of the team report early as it is for the younger material.

Big Milton won 19 games for the Spudders last year and should he arrive on the scene as promised, he will be the ace of the mound staff. The three players conditioning with in the Browns' training camp in Florida are Buck Stanton, first baseman; Wallace Hebert, left-handed pitcher; and Forrest Pressnell, right-hander who is also counted on as a regular starter on the mound. The latter will leave the Browns when the American leaguers reach Memphis, Tenn., on their exhibition trek up the Mississippi valley, and should arrive here toward the last of the month.

Allday Leading Candidate

Allday, recently married, was delayed in reaching camp by a visit with relatives in Dallas. The second sacker did not get into uniform Monday, but will join the workout Tuesday. Sent on option last year to Springfield in the Western association, Bear had a good year, and is one of the leading candidates for Lin Storti's old job this season. His main rival, Art Scharien, last year with Topeka of the Western league, is on hand, and the scramble between Allday and Scharien will be on in earnest today.

Skipper Carl Williams did not stage a "civil war" Monday, nor does he plan one for Tuesday, but another intra-camp game may be staged Wednesday afternoon if the weather holds good, he said. After looking the boys over in the first intra-squad game of the season Sunday, the pilot instituted probably the toughest workout of the season Monday, starting in the morning with infield drill and its allied skirmishes and winding up in the afternoon with more infield drill and a lengthy batting practice. It is likely that beginning Wednesday several inter-camp games will be staged as a final polishing off for the two-game exhibition series with the Dallas Steers at Dallas Saturday and Sunday.

Chappie Geygan Arrives

Another arrival Monday was Jim Geygan, otherwise Chappie, pinch-hitting demon who played hither and yon last year in a utility role. At present Geygan is regarded as a leading candidate for the third sack, but developments may change this outlook, so the snappy little infielder settled down to work Monday to fit himself for any job Skipper Williams might assign him.

Williams announced Monday, much to the delight of the business office, that he would start cutting the feed bills this week. One youngster not under contract, Cheevens by name, was stricken from the list Monday, and the remainder of the week pink slips will be handed several under contract who failed to come through.

With one week of solid training behind the squad, things took on a rosy hue down at camp Monday. With most of the experienced men in uniform, the nucleus of a good ball club is becoming clearly visible. All the outfielders save the unknown one expected from the Browns are on hand, Morris Badgro, Herbert Kelly, and Robert Fuss, and are rapidly getting acquainted with the vast gardens they must patrol. All are showing up well in batting practice. The catchers, Arthur Bradbury and Herbert Bryant, continue their merry duel, with W. D. Ratliff, rookie backstop, following energetically in the footsteps of his superiors.

For the first time Monday the railbirds saw three-fourths of a veteran infield in action. Joe Hassler and Art Scharien, who arrived Sunday, donned their monkey suits Monday and went at it, Scharien at second and Hassler at short while Debs Garms, who promises to give Geygan a race at third, completed the trio. On the first sack was E. K. Martin, late of the Texas Aggies, who, if pep and life are the main requisites, should be with the champion club in a major league. Martin is a left-hander, like Irving Burns, and shows just as much ginger when he plays the game as the great first sacker of last year.

Hassler Is Fast

Hassler and Scharien, however, took the spotlight as soon as they came in to the shortfield. Hassler lacks the grace of Jim Levey, but don't let his apparent awkwardness fool you. He is lanky, taller than Levey, but those huge joints of his are capable of much dash and movement and are his greatest asset. He has a quick recovery and whips the ball to first like a rifle shot.

Schaden likewise is a finished fielder. He is another product of the "Gardner system." When he turned up here in 1928 he found Pete Turgeon as his opponent. Garner thought of sending him to the Spudders Abilene farm, but found a job for him in a higher classification, Springfield. Last year he was a regular with Topeka, in still a higher loop, and this year he's ready for business. There is little to ask of his fielding, and, if he can come across at bat as well as his rival Allday, a merry scrap for the second base job should ensue.

Hollywood Club Buys Infielder From Phillies

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 18. (AP)—Jack Sherlock, Philadelphia nationals' infilder, was purchased today by the Hollywood club of the Pacific Coast league, in training here.

Do Horses Have Wings? Oh, Sure—Look!

(By NEA Service)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 16.—A high jumping horse gets as much kick out of a record jump as his rider, declares Fred Wettach, Jr., of Trillora farms, Shrewsbury, N. J., and for want of more substantial evidence either way, it might be well to believe him.

Wettach is the owner of King's Own, the horse that recently cleared the bars at eight feet, three inches, the highest jump ever made in an exhibition here. Wettach has taken higher hurdles, both indoors and out, than any other horseman in the world. Astride Going Up, another product of Trillora farms, Wettach set a world indoor record of seven feet, six inches at the New York Horse show in Madison Square garden.

Among the famous horses in the Trillora farms string are By Request, winner of two $1,000 stakes at the Brockton, Mass., show; The Wasp, an 18-year-old veteran who jumped seven feet last season; Baldface, a new 5-year-old; Susan, Tyrone and Khedive.

Wettach has been riding jumpers since he was 10 years old; he is now 27. Winter polo also is a diversion of the Trillora farms horseman.

Training Camp Chatter

Houston Buffs

HOUSTON, March 16. (AP)—The Houston Buffs leave here tomorrow for College Station, where tomorrow and Wednesday they will take on the Texas Aggies in a two-game series. The entire Bison squad will make the trip, with the exception of Pete Fowler and Bob Durham, pitchers, who are on the casualty list.

The Buff game with the Kingsville Mopacs was washed out Sunday, but it did the Houston nine no harm. Manager Schultz has kept his boys going at a fast clip and the team is in splendid condition.

Byron Lackey, Aggie catcher last season, is due to work one of the games for the Buffs.

Four more rookies were cut from the Houston squad Monday. They are Gil Johns, infield; Jim Letts and Charles Cramer, outfielders, and Deakin, pitcher.

Chicago White Sox

SAN ANTONIO, March 16. (AP)—Two more players, Infielder John "Blondy" Ryan and Cateher Victor Siegel, were released by the White Sox today. Ryan, former Holy Cross college star, was sent to Atlanta on option while Siegel probably will be placed with some Three Eye league club.

Yanks Beat Braves

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16. (AP)—With Babe Ruth and Tony Lazzeri setting the pace, the New York Yankees walloped the Boston Braves 8-6, today for their fourth victory in five starts against the National leaguers.

The Babe connected only once in five times at the plate, but the hit was a double and was delivered with the bases loaded. The blow was actually of home run proportions, but the Babe merely trotted around to second. Lazzeri helped the cause of the Yanks with three doubles.

Dallas Steers

CORSICANA, Texas, March 16. (AP)—The Yannigans defeated the regulars of the Dallas Steers, 5-4, today. Nick Borelli put the yannigans in the lead in the eighth inning when he hit a long home run with one on.

Cards Trounce Athletics

BRADENTON, Fla., March 16. (AP)—Brilliant pitching by "Wild Bill" Hallahan and "Dizzy" Dean featured the St. Louis Cardinals' 7-4 victory over the world champion Philadelphia Athletics this afternoon. This was the Cardinals' third victory in the four-game spring "world series."

Dean's pitching was more sensational than that of Hallahan, who like Dean shut out Connie Mack's men in his three innings on the mound. The Cardinals made 14 hits off Rommell, Walberg and McDonald, a rookie.

St. Louis Browns

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 16. (AP)—Rain today prevented the St. Louis Browns from playing their scheduled exhibition contest with the Philadelphia Nationals. Walter Stewart, the ace of Bill Killefer's mound staff, probably will make his first appearance in a game this season when the Browns and Phillies meet Wednesday at Winter Haven.

Shreveport Sports

SHREVEPORT, March 14. (AP)—All members of the Shreveport Sports baseball club were in camp today with the exception of Outfielder Welsh and Catcher Hill, obtained from Mobile, and a few youngsters. The squad was divided, the youngsters working in the morning and the more experienced players in the afternoon. Intra-squad games will start next Saturday but Skipper Jake Atz said he might have a four-inning battle Thursday.

Giants Defeat Chisox

SAN ANTONIO, March 16. (AP)—After seeing an early lead fade, the New York Giants came back in the tenth inning to score three runs and defeat the Chicago White Sox 9-6 today.

The Giants counted six runs in the first eight innings while Clarence Mitchell, the spitball southpaw, and Morrell held the Sox scoreless for six frames. In the seventh inning, the American leaguers started, however, and before Bill Walker stemmed the attack they had crossed the plate six times and tied the score. John Berly, up from Rochester, was the victim of the Sox' attack.

In the tenth Lindstrom, Jackson and Ott bunched their hits for what proved the winning runs and thus evened the series.

Fort Worth Cats

FORT WORTH, March 16. (AP)—The tidal wave of Fort Worth baseball talent reached its crest today—then ebbed away. Sixty-three players worked out during the morning and afternoon sessions. Thirty-one were included in the morning group of rookies, while 32 were on hand in the afternoon.

Five of the rookies were sliced from the group in the morning and Manager Art Phelan plans to continue the cuts daily.

C-C TO LAUNCH TRADE TOURS

Manufacturers - Jobbers To Meet Wednesday

Trade trip plans will be formed by the executive committee of the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce at its meeting Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the chamber offices, it was announced Monday by Dudley B. Foy, industrial manager.

Arrangements are to be made for a banquet for all members of the manufacturers and jobbers trade. The banquet will be held Tuesday March 24, it was announced, for the purpose of stimulating the interest of manufacturers and jobbers in the division and its activities. Following the formation of the 1931 division last week and the election of officers and an executive committee, a portion of the time Wednesday will be devoted to the selection of committees to function during the year.

THREE INDUSTRIES ASK OF LOCATIONS HERE

Three industrial companies, with the view to establishing plants here have requested information concerning Wichita Falls from the chamber of commerce, according to Dudley B. Foy, assistant manager. The requests come from a chemical manufacturing company, a food manufacturing and canning company, and an airplane manufacturing concern. Full information of the manufacturing facilities of Wichita Falls have been sent each concern, Mr. Foy said.

The airplane company requires a building of large floor space which adjoins space suitable for a landing field. A new plant is to be established by the chemical company, which manufactures a product used in the treatment of water. The firm desires a location in a territory where its products can be used to facilitate distribution. Information about the Wichita valley was sought by the food manufacturing company and whether glass containers suitable for foods were manufactured here.

SHAKE-UP IN A'S RUMORED

Infield Changes Talked But Connie Smiles

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.

FORT MYERS, Fla., March 16. (AP)—While several rival pilots are assuring themselves and any one else who will listen that the Philadelphia Athletics are bound to crack this season, Connie Mack is going serenely about his business of getting the same old nine ready for another pennant race.

The patriarchal pilot of the two-time world champions admits he would like to uncover a couple of sure-fire young pitchers, but outside of that he is pretty certain the old vehicle is good for another race or two.

Earnshaw Reported Ailing

There still are the "big five"—Grove, Earnshaw, Foxx, Cochrane and Simmons—whose blinding curves and big bats have subdued the baseball world for two seasons. There have been reports that Earnshaw has not been able to get in shape and might not be ready to start the campaign, but whether there is any foundation for the reports, no one in Florida seems to know.

The dealers in inside information, too, have it there will be shake-up in the somewhat venerable infield of the A's. The 34-year-old Jimmy Dykes, they say, has slowed up to such an extent he may be displaced at third, and Joe Boley's arm no longer is the whip it used to be shortstop. To all of which Connie Mack merely smiles. There has not been, strangely enough, any intimation that Max Bishop might lose his job at second or the explosive Jimmie Foxx be chased off first base.

That the boys are anxious to win a third straight for their 68-year-old manager is evinced by the early arrivals of some of the big guns and the pace they have set in training. Lefty Grove, who contributed 28 victories last season, was one of the first to hit camp. It is felt Earnshaw's hegira to Hot Springs merely was pursuant to a desire to have himself in the pink for the season's start. His 22 wins swung the tide last year.

Counting on Walberg

Providing Grove and Earnshaw enjoy their usual robust health, the pitching situation would appear to revolve about the ability of George Walberg to do a comeback. If he does, there will be nothing for the opposition to do but cheer the three-time champions.

If there is a winner among the big crop of rookies, it appears to be Hank McDonald, youngster purchased from Portland, Ore. He has shown so much ability in exhibition games several managers of rival clubs have predicted he will be a big shot in his first season. Albert Butcher, a 19-year-old right-hander from the independent ranks, also has impressed observers.

There was never much doubt that Mack would retain his ball-busting outfield intact. Al Simmons, sometimes called the "one-man" outfield, Edmung "Bing" Miller and "Mule" Haas, will be back at their old stands, despite that fact neither Miller nor Haas burned up the league with their hitting in 1930. Simmons can crack the ball often and far enough for all three.

Mickey Cochrane already has been appointed to the catching staff for another term, with Heving and a youngster for aid.

DALLAS, March 16. (AP)—Sol Dreyfuss, president of the Dallas Texas league baseball club, today let a contract for a $30,000 lighting system for use during night games this season. Work will start Tuesday, and it will be ready for use within 30 days, Dreyfuss said.

Bob Tarleton, business manager of the club, said the nocturnal baseball season will open here May 5, when the Houston Buffaloes make their first 1931 appearance in Dallas.

Spring Football Drill Begins at Electra

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, March 16.—Spring football practice has been under way for several days and the candidates are being put through hard workouts, according to Coach Harvey Stanford. As soon as enough men for two teams have reported, signals will be learned by each team and regular scrimmages will be held. Only three letter men will be back for the 1931 Tiger squad, Lee Parnell, Robert Cloniger and Captain Monty McDannald. The boys who have had little or no experience in football will be put through their paces the rest of this term in order to have them trained by the beginning of the next school term.

Those who reported for practice this week are Clarence Koerth, Banard Watkins, F. L. Ables, Monty McDannald, Fayne McKinnis, Rodney Lane, Oren Stroud, Earnest Sowell, Lamar Curtiss, Robert Staton, Aubrey Seberes, Homer Welbourn and Hoye McCracken.

Electra Track Squad Engaged in Workouts

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, March 16.—The Electra High school track is being put into excellent condition and has been graded during the past week so that the Tigers will have a splendid field for their practices. Coach Wilbur Presson has had the thinly-clads out for workouts each afternoon and track fundamentals and good form have been emphasized.

The senior track canidates include Lee Parnell, Cecil Eaton, Coye Sandifer, Robert Cloniger, Joe Smith, Roger Golden, T. C. McCorkle, Aubrey Smith, William King, James Parr, Cloyd Smith, Eugene Seals, Charles Lane, Keith Chunn, Bob Jackson, Rex Swafford, Estill White, Jack Long, Claude Rodawalt, Raymond Russell, Maynard Stroud, Alton Hogie, Millard Welch, James Tanner, Sanderson Warden, George Ellis, Vonderrel Turner, Hartwell Minderman, James Ball, Paul Jones, Alton Jones and Burford Adams. E. M. Tampke is coach of the junior track team.

Borotra defeated Lieut. R. W. Watt Jr., New York, 6-2, 6-2, and Boussus put out Ernest H. Kuhn, New York, 6-3, 6-3.

Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, also entered the third round, beating Walter Swaybill, New York university, 6-4, 6-2.

U. S. Track Team To Compete in Africa

NEW YORK, March 16. (AP)—The Amateur Athletic Union today announced plans to send an American track team to South Africa next summer, leaving New York July 8.

The team, to be composed of three sprinters, one hurler, five middle distance runners, one long distance man, a high jumper and a broad jumper, will be selected from among the place winners at the A. A. U. championships at Lincoln, Neb., July 3 and 4.

Gabby Street Has More Star Players Than Cards Know What to Do With

BRADENTON, Fla., March 16. (AP)—One glimpse of the St. Louis Cardinals indicates why Charles E. (Gabby) Street is the most envied manager in the big leagues today.

Thanks to the elaborate system of farms operated by the National league champions, Street has the sort of job baseball pilots dream about. Like the old lady who lived in a shoe, he has more high-powered talent than he knows what to do with.

Although the pennant campaign is yet a month away, the Red Birds are trimmed for action now. They have everything they need, including an abundance of pitching, fine hitting and fielding. There are no untried rookies in camp. Every one of the 29 players now on the official roster was a star last year, either in the big show or in the fast minor league company.

11 Pitchers in Camp

There are 11 pitchers in camp. They won 155 games in 1930 while losing only 86, Jerome Dean and Paul Derringer, two outstanding recruits, chalked up 26 and 23 victories, respectively. Add to them a staff that last year was good enough to win a pennant without any help, and you get a fair idea of what opposing batters will be up against.

Headed by Bill Hallahan, southpaw, the mound corps includes Burleigh Grimes, Jesse Haines, Sylvester Johnson, Jim Lindsay, and Flint Rhem, veteran right-handers, and Al Grabowski, another portsider. All pitchers winning ball last year, and opposing pilots can hold slight hope they will not do equally well this summer.

Allyn Stout, right-hander who won 18 games for Houston and led the Texas league in strikeouts, and Tony Kaufmann, who went back to pitching last season after trying the outfield for a couple of years, are the other two newcomers. Kaufmann won seven out nine starts for Houston.

Infield Is Set

The infield appears set, with Jim Bottomley back at first, Frankie Frisch at second, Charlie Gelbert at short and Sparky Adams on third. Only three extras are carried, and it is considered unlikely any of the trio can break in regularly. Jim Collins, who led the International league with a batting mark of .376 will understudy Bottomley, while Edward Delker, who hit .360 for Rochester, is disputing the hot corner with Adams. Bill Myers is a second baseman from the Houston farm.

Baseball men expect Gelbert, hero of the last world series, to prove himself the outstanding shortstop in either league this season.

Even though Chick Hafey, regular left fielder, is a stubborn holdout, Street has a quartet of veteran gardeners to draw from in Ray Blades, Taylor Douthitt, George Watkins and Ernest Orsatti. All hit well over .300 last year, Blades showing the way with .336, and Watkins, who alternated with him in right, .373. Douthit is a fixture in centerfield.

Three promising recruits are John Martin, who hit .363 for Rochester; Joel Hunt, the former Texas Aggie football player, who hit .324 at Houston, and Albert Moore, a .346 clubber from Buffalo.

Jimmie Wilson again will be the number one catcher, with Gus Mancuso and the veteran Mike Gonsales, rounding out a powerful staff. As backstops run, Wilson and Mancuso are exceptionall heavy hitters, Mancuso's .365 last year placing him well up among the sluggers of the National league.

Goree All-Stars Enter Fort Worth Tournament

Goree won the trophy as the champion of the Knox-Baylor-Haskell Independent league and won first place in a 16-team tournament recently held in Wichita Falls. The team is in excellent condition and local fans are confident that they will make a good showing at the state meet in Fort Worth.

A special athletic program has been arranged for Tuesday night, March 17, in the Goree gym, the proceeds of which will help pay the expenses of the team on its trip to Fort Worth.

"AS I WUZ SAYIN'"

How to Keep a Man at Home

"I see where the old custom of passin' around cigars after dinner is gettin' popular again, writes Miss Fawn Lippincut in the current issue of The Weekly Slip Horn.

"It's a great idea, girls, an' I recommend it. Fer one thing, it keeps the men at home, an' out o' trouble.

"But remember, while a good cigar makes a man more sociable an' human, a bad one gits his goat and sticks in his memory.

"Even though they only cost a nickel, rocky fords are the safest bet. Ever' buddy likes 'em, includin' millionaires an' vice-presidents.

"An' then you kin still afford to lose at bridge."

ROCKY FORD is long-filler, Sumatra-wrapped. Made in a sunlit factory, the pride and show-factory of Richmond, Va. . . . a factory as clean as a modern bakery . . . a factory that is automatic machine-equipped throughout.

Cables were unfavorable, and the Egyptian markets advanced heavily on a reported low stage of water in the river Nile. Silver also advanced sharply, and reports from the cotton goods market claimed sales last week were 50 per cent in excess of production.

The advance was also helped by reports of torrential rains over the week-end in South Texas making extensive replanting necessary. The advance carried prices up 26 to 28 points above Saturday's close. In the early afternoon there was a recession of 6 to 8 points on realizing. The market later ruled steady, within the previous range but showed a tendency to improve on the good exports. The close was steady within 4 to 6 points of the best, the general market showing net advances for the day of 22 to 23 points.

Utilities Inspire Price Gains In Face of Discouraging News

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, March 16. (US)—Despite considerable adverse news and widespread bearishness, the stock market today enjoyed a sizeable price appreciation.

Public Utilities continued to dominate speculative attention and their strength imparted courage to bullish interests in other groups. The Railroads lagged far behind Industrials and Utilities in the upturn. Most of the active issues closed higher for the day.

Technical conditions within the market itself, created by an increased short interest over the last few days, were excellent for an advance, and this technical influence was fully confirmed in the fact that the most sizeable gains were scored in stocks with known large bear accounts.

External news of the day included disclosure that foreign trade of the United States for February dropped to pre-war levels, with exports lowest since November, 1914, and imports smallest since the same month of 1916.

Question of disappointing tax returns was discussed in banking circles, and there was a suggestion from Washington of possibly increased tax rates. Offsetting this bear news, however, was a rather sharp further advance in the price of silver, which rose more than a cent to the best price since December.

The advance in silver furnished additional powerful ammunition for the bulls in both American & Foreign Power and International Telephone & Telegraph. It has been their contention that the upturn in silver is of more permanent character than generally appreciated, and that this improvement is of vast importance to these two companies, with their world-wide affiliations. Both stocks harbor extensive short accounts and the advance in their prices induced considerable covering by nervous bears.

The Electric Bond & Share company's report for 1930, just issued, shows that it increased its holdings of American & Foreign Power from below 50 per cent at the end of 1929 to 53 per cent a year later. It also added to its holdings of National Power & Light and now owns 46 per cent of the National Common capital, compared with 40 per cent a year ago.

Public Service of New Jersey and Consolidated Gas joined with I. T. & T. and Foreign Power in leading the Utility group upward. Public Service gained more than three points on reports that its dividend may be increased. United Corporation likewise was strong, although a good part of the buying of this issue appeared to be short covering. Group work in United Gas improvement kept this issue strong.

U. S. Steel spurted almost two points to close at its highest price of the day. Industrials as a group, however, were influenced chiefly by the strength in Utilities. Case Threshing machine responded to short covering. International Match preferred, a stock which at lower levels attracted considerable investment buying, advanced three points to a new high for this year. The stock pays $4 annually, which is amply covered by earnings; low for this year was 55.

The bearish feeling in speculative circles was somewhat offset by bullish advices of several leading statistical stock market services. Trading exceeded by a small margin two million shares.

Woolworth was a feature of strength, rising two points to its former high on buying which appeared to be of more than passing importance. It is understood that large-scale buying has come into this stock from foreign quarters, particularly England, where the company has an extensive chain of stores.

Allied Chemical rallied a point. This stock has witnessed heavy short covering the past week and has been attracting greater attention from technical players who realize that purely on technical factors the stock market might enjoy a sharp recovery, regardless of its inability to hold the higher price.

Union Carbide rallied with the market. Its 1930 report showed $3.12 a common share, of which 90 cents was earned in the final quarter.

U. S. Industrial Alcohol ignored the Carbide report's remarks that results of the company's plant for manufacture of synthetic ethyl alcohol were more favorable than had been estimated. The report also stated that during the year experimental work and plans were completed for synthetic manufacture of butanol, which makes up a substantial proportion of commercial solvents production.

Solvents, however, has developed a wide range of products, which gives it a more stable earning power than when it depended almost entirely on a few products.

A factor of great importance, at least in developing more cheerful sentiment, became known to important quarters in the issuance of American Telephone & Telegraph company's latest chart on business. Although the report is never made public, this column learns that the index line of the chart now shows a "flattening out" tendency after a long and sustained decline. Official comment accompanying the chart, which is furnished only to influential bankers and industrialists, is of mildly optimistic tone, with the statement that it now is but a question of a few months before an actual upturn in general business will be witnessed.

Leading commodities joined silver in its price movement, cotton especially showing a sharp advance.

The stock market obviously is dominated by its technical position.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, March 16. (AP)—Grain sorghums were stronger as the week started on the cash grain market here. Other prices were about unchanged with demand reported fair for the light offerings.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas common points, freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 hard of any protein 77½@80¼c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 71½@72½c; No. 2 white 74½@75½c; No. 2 yellow 73½@74½c.

Oats—No. 2 red 42½@43c; No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 42@42½c.

Barley—No. 2 56@57c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.23@1.35; No. 2 kaffir $1.20.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, March 16. (AP)—Grains tightened up today after wheat had again outdone the season's bottom-price record. An early downward swing of wheat and corn was associated with increasing stocks of wheat visible supply. Oversold conditions in the Chicago wheat market became apparent, however, and corn displayed independent strength, smaller shipments of corn to Chicago from other terminals being expected.

Wheat closed firm, unchanged to ⅝c higher, corn ⅜@1⅛c advanced, oats unchanged to ⅛c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 20c.

Notwithstanding that the United States wheat visible supply showed 1,836,000 bushels increase for the week and totaled almost 200,000,000 bushels against 153,561,000 a year ago, buying for houses that have been conspicuous on the bear side led to price rallies just before the market closed. The visible supply figures had evidently been discounted in advance.

Closing Indemnities—Wheat, July, 62⅝@62⅝@63⅝@63⅛c; Sept., 62⅝@65⅝c. Corn—May, 64⅝@66@66⅛c; July, 67@67⅛@68⅛c; Sept., 66⅞@68⅛@68⅝c.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, March 16. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Packers took advantage of liberal cattle receipts around the 11-market circuit to enforce moderate to sharp price declines. EAST TEXAS OIL

Special to The Record News.

LONGVIEW, Texas, March 16.—One test in the Spring Hill area is in the limelight after penetrating 25 feet of oil sand; one has spudded in in the William Robinson survey, which embraces the Lathrop discovery area, while another is preparing to drill plug this week in the same section and a fourth test in the David Ferguson survey is rigging up, a composite survey-forecast of Gregg county oil developments shows, opening what oil men believe will be one of the most unusually active weeks since the beginning of the boom.

WILDCAT CORES OIL BEARING SAND
Special to The Record News

LONGVIEW, Texas, March 16.—The Ernest Elick No. 1 Church Lot, at Springhill, has cored 25 feet of oil sand between 3598 and 3623 feet, it was revealed today. This test has been coring for several days, but results were not released pending acreage operations in the vicinity.

This test is two miles northeast of the Lathrop discovery hole and about half way between it and the Mamie Hammond No. 1 Hamby, the core results reflecting favorably in the direction of the Hamby test, which has been so closely watched for some time.

The Hamby crew today was working preparatory to taking another core below 3605 feet. Crew at the Eslick No. 1 are idling machinery merely to keep the hole open pending the arrival of casing which will be set at once.

Navarro Oil company's No. 1 G. W. Tenery on a 10-acre lease in the William Robinson survey and one which cored oil sand last week, is now busy making connections with the separator and erecting storage tanks. Plug may be drilled tomorrow and the test brought in about Wednesday.

The Simms & Stanolind No. 1 G. B. Tenery on a 10-acre tract in the William Robinson survey, spudded in this morning. Youngblood Trustees No. 1 W. M. Lamb on 12-acre tract in the David Ferguson survey, is rigging up and spudding in operations are scheduled to occur soon.

LLOYD TEST HAS SATURATED SAND
Special to The Record News.

LONGVIEW, Texas, March 16.—Unfailing indications that the Longview and Kilgore oil fields will be connected were given today in the announcement that the Lloyd Oil corporation No. 1 S. E. Andrews well, Gregg county, two miles northwest of Kilgore, has cored eight feet of highly saturated oil sand.

The sand was picked up in the hole at a depth of 3650 feet and was drilled eight feet lower for a comprehensive core, reports stated.

DEEP TEST SPUDS

JOAQUIN, Texas, March 16. (AP)—E. L. Chapman of Fort Worth spudded in his Pickering No. 1 last night on a location one mile east of Joaquin. He announced a 7,000-foot test would be made if necessary.

GREGG COUNTY GETS FIFTH PRODUCER

LONGVIEW, Texas, March 16. (AP)—Gregg county's fifth producing well and the fourth test to be brought in within five days was completed in the Lathrop area late yesterday when the Magnolia Petroleum company's No. 1 B. Rodden came in for an estimated daily production of 10,000 barrels or more.

The well is an east offset to the Arkansas Fuel Oil company's No. 2 Lathrop. It is located about 150 yards northeast of the Roeser and Pendleton Inc., East Texas Refining company's No. 1 B. Rodden, completed last week.

The Magnolia No. 1 Rodden was drilled in at a depth of 3615 feet. Sand was first cored at 3597 feet. The first hour gauge flow was 229 barrels through one-inch choke.

The well is 200 feet from the north and west lines of a 42-acre lease, 4200 feet from the west line and 6200 feet from the north line of the William Robinson survey and is about 200 yards southeast of Lathrop No. 1 discovery well.

Magnolia's No. 2 Crim, offset to the Karona No. 1 Peterson, in the Bateman pool south of Kilgore, likely will be drilled in today, officials of the company announced. The test is in the southwest corner of the Magnolia lease, Robert E. Winn survey, in northern Rusk county.

NEW DAILY PAPER

KILGORE, Texas, March 16. (AP)—The first issue of the Kilgore Daily News came off the press this afternoon. Kilgore was without a paper when oil was discovered here.

The publishers began the publication of a semi-weekly paper January first. Tom E. Foster, publisher of the Center Daily News, is publisher of the new daily. H. G. Anthony, formerly of Center, is editor, and E. S. Shoaf is the advertising manager.

YOUNT-LEE BUYING

HOUSTON, March 16. (UP)—Yount-Lee Oil company of Beaumont has bought the holdings of Marrs McLean in High Island, Galveston, it was learned today.

The consideration was said to be $2,000,000, of which $600,000 will be paid in cash and the remainder in oil.

This deal gives Yount-Lee control of the field except for a few small parcels and the Smith lease, owned by Gulf.

Last week Yount-Lee closed a deal for the holdings of Farrell, et al, in the East Texas field. Consideration was $3,500,000, of which $1,275,000 was paid in cash.

Kansas to Prorate Oil Production

TOPEKA, Kan., March 16. (AP)—Gov. Harry H. Woodring announced today he would sign the Carpenter oil proration bill despite his personal objections to the theory of the measure under which the state will be given regulatory powers over production of petroleum in Kansas.

The chief executive, in announcing his intention to sign the bill passed in the closing days of the legislature, said he was "unable to reconcile restrictions on the production of natural resources in Kansas with the free importation of oil, but 90 per cent of the independent oil men in Kansas favor the bill."

"I also feel, he said, "we should fall in line with Oklahoma and Texas and other oil producing states in the mid-continent area."

THIRD HAND BIDDING (CONT'D) — Lesson No. 37

IN auction, after dealer has bid no trump and second hand has overcalled with a suit, third hand must have that suit stopped and strongly protected to raise his partner in No Trump. If he has no stoppers in the suit bid, but does have four tricks in another suit, he should bid that suit. After dealer has bid and second hand doubled informatively, if you can raise your partner's bid, or have a bid of your own, it should be made, not waiting for fourth hand to name a suit in response to partner's double.

102. LEGAL NOTICES
ORDINANCE NO. 1049

An ordinance ordering an election in the City of Wichita Falls, Texas, to be held on the seventh day of April, A. D., 1931, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of the city of Wichita Falls, for adoption or rejection, amendments to the existing charter of the city of Wichita Falls, designating the places at which said election is to be held, appointing presiding officers thereof, and declaring an emergency.

Whereas, on the second day of February, A. D., 1931, a resolution was duly passed by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls giving notice of the intention to pass an ordinance providing for the submission to the qualified voters of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, of proposed amendments to the existing charter of said city; and,

Whereas, notice of intention to submit such charter amendments was given by publication in Wichita Falls Record News, the official newspaper of said city, published in said city, and which notice was published for ten days, the date of the first publication thereof being not less than twenty days next preceding the date of this ordinance; and,

Whereas, the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls deems it proper to submit proposed amendments to the present city charter to the qualified voters of the said city, an opportunity having been afforded persons to appear for and against said amendments; therefore,

Be it ordained by the board of aldermen of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas:

Section 1: That an election be held in the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, on the seventh day of April, A. D., 1931, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city, for adoption or rejection, the following proposed amendments to the existing charter of the city of Wichita Falls:

AMENDMENT NO. 1

To amend section 34 of the city charter of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, so as to hereafter read as follows:

"Section 34: At 8 o'clock p. m. on the Monday next following the regular municipal election the board of aldermen shall meet at the usual place for holding such meetings, at which time the newly elected aldermen shall assume the duties of office. Thereafter the board of aldermen shall meet at such time and place as may be prescribed by ordinance, but not less frequently than once each month. Special meetings may be called by the mayor and shall be called by the city clerk upon the written request of three aldermen or the city manager. All meetings of the board of aldermen, and of committees thereof, except as hereinafter provided, shall be open to the public and the board shall provide by its rules that citizens shall have an opportunity to be heard at any such meeting in regard to any matter considered, or to be considered, thereat. Executive sessions of the board of aldermen may be held when considering the advisability of appointing or removing officers or employes of the city, or when considering any litigation to which the city is a party, or the settlement thereof, or any matter likely to produce any such litigation, or when considering the purchase of any public utility or other property, and when determining the policy of the city relative thereto, but no vote shall be taken except in open meeting, after such executive session is over and announcement of that fact is made at the door of the city hall where such meeting is held. The board of aldermen shall be the judge of the election and qualification of its members, subject to review by the courts, but any alderman convicted of a felony while in office shall thereby immediately forfeit his office. The board may determine its own rules of procedure, punish its members for disorderly behavior and with the consent of four-fifths of all the members, may expel an alderman. A majority of all the members elected to the board of aldermen shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from time to time."

AMENDMENT NO. 2

To amend section 81 of the city charter of the city of Wichita Falls, Texas, so as to hereafter read as follows:

TAXES—WHEN DUE AND PAYABLE INTEREST AND PENALTIES

Section 81: All taxes due the city of Wichita Falls shall be payable at the office of the city assessor and collector, and may be paid at any time after the tax rolls for the year have been completed and approved, which tax rolls shall be completed and approved not later than October first, and no demand shall be required to be made upon any taxpayer whose duty it shall be to attend at the collector's office and pay the same as aforesaid.

Unless otherwise provided by ordinance as hereinafter provided, all taxes levied and collected for the year 1930 shall be paid by February 1, 1931, or thereafter bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, and all taxes hereafter to be levied for the year 1931 and subsequent years shall be paid by the first day of February of the year succeeding the levy, and when not paid by February first, shall thereafter bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, and in addition thereto there shall be collected an additional 10 per cent upon the amount of such taxes as a penalty against the person, firm or corporation failing, neglecting or refusing to pay such taxes by the time when the same began to bear interest as aforesaid, which penalty shall be collected by seizure and sale of personal or real property of the delinquent or by suit, the same as herein provided for the collection of taxes.

A lien is hereby created on all property, real and personal, in favor of the city of Wichita Falls for all taxes, ad valorem, occupation or otherwise, assessed against such property. Said lien shall exist from the first day of January in each year until the taxes are paid; such lien shall be prior to all other claims, and no gift, sale, assignment, or transfer of any kind, or judicial writ of any kind can ever defeat such lien, but the assessor and collector of taxes can pursue such property and whenever found may seize and sell enough thereof to satisfy such taxes, or the city may enforce and foreclose said liens, by suit or otherwise, in any court having jurisdiction, and may cause all or any part of such property to be sold to satisfy such taxes.

The board of aldermen may, from time to time, by ordinance provide that all taxes due the city of Wichita Falls for the year 1930, and—or any subsequent year or years, may be paid in equal installments, but in no event to exceed four such installments, and may fix the times when such installments shall become due and payable, and may provide that failure to pay any one or more of such installments when due shall render all of the unpaid balance of such taxes delinquent, and the penalty accrued thereon and may provide the time when and the circumstances under which the penalty on all such taxes shall accrue thereon, and may fix the time when the interest on such taxes or unpaid balance shall commence to run but the rate of such interest shall never exceed six per cent per annum.

Upon the adoption of such ordinance or ordinances the time of payment and the like therein, shall supersede and take the place of the aforesaid provisions of this section applicable thereto.

This amendment shall not affect the validity of any taxes levied and assessed for the year 1930 and prior years.

Section 2: That the polling places and presiding officers at said election, shall be respectively as follows:

Today

At the Theaters

By ELEANOR FLEMING

MAJESTIC: "Dracula" with Bela Lugosi. Tom Howard comedy and Charley Chase comedy. Sound news.
STRAND: "Kiki" with Mary Pickford and Reginald Denny.
GEM: Buck Jones in "Desert Vengeance." Comedy.

Just because this column recommended that Doug and Mary take up chicken-ranching, everybody rushes to the defense of "America's Sweetheart" for her performance in "Kiki." They base their praise of Miss Pickford on the fact that she did well "for a woman of her age."

❖ ❖ ❖

"Come on and give the old girl a hand," they plead. "She gets over pretty well for a veteran." Admitted. She is better than expected. But public opinion and approval does not include any charitable feelings toward those whose day is done, and if those who pay to see "Kiki" feel that someone else could have handled the title role more capably, they don't give Mary Pickford a mental pat on the head and say, "There, there, old girl—you're pretty good yet."

❖ ❖ ❖

If Fifi Dorsay, for instance, had played "Kiki," there would not have been the Pickford name to spread across the theater in foot-and-a-half letters, but there would have been a real Kiki. Those who saw Lenore Ulric in the same role on the stage shudder at the Hollywood French and gasp at Mary's active capers, afraid she might break something. She's evidently learned somersaulting from her husband.

❖ ❖ ❖

Hearing Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore at the price of a regular movie is a bargain, no matter what the story may be, and those who know "The New Moon" say that the plot is more nearly adequate than most musical plays.

❖ ❖ ❖

Pictures have been "jerked" in Wichita Falls before on account of poor patronage, but Monday a movie was held over for an extra day. "Dracula" has drawn so many packed houses in its two-day run that it will be held over through Tuesday night at the Majestic theater. "The New Moon" will not begin until Wednesday.

CHEST EMPTY

The Wichita Falls community chest is empty and members of the finance committee are mailing out over 500 personal letters to those who are behind on their pledges. Approximately $6,000 must be collected before the March bills can be paid, it was said.

FEDERAL JAIL OFFER REFUSED

County Asks $1 Per Day For Each Prisoner

Upon the recommendation of Paul Barnett, county auditor, the commissioners court Monday voted to reject the offer of the federal government for housing, safekeeping and feeding federal prisoners in the Wichita county jail during the ensuing two years.

According to the information obtained, the government offered to pay the county 75 cents per prison day per capita for the stipulated accommodations. It was indicated that Mr. Barnett would resubmit the county's contract to federal authorities, asking for $1 per day per man.

According to the auditor's statement, the service represented an outlay by the county of $1.08 per day per prisoner last year, the government's allowance being 60 cents.

The county auditor was authorized to advertise for bids to furnish a road maintainer for use in precinct No. 4 at Electra. Bids are to be opened on April 6, it was said.

The report of Miss Elizabeth Hall, county clerk, for the month of February was received and referred to Mr. Barnett. It showed receipts of $1,966.45, and disbursements of $1,175.

And Sometimes Stifle Them, Kiwanis Club Told

If men in the United States today are automatons, mechanical as the modern appliances in their homes, enslaved by custom, conformity and success, the women are largely to blame, according to a talk given by B. D. Donnell, editor of the Daily Times and Record News, before members of the Kiwanis club Monday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Modern thought teaches that dreams lie in our subconscious minds and are more a part of us than our conscious thoughts, Mr. Donnell said, basing his observations upon "Babbitt" and other books by Sinclair Lewis.

"Women are the inspiration of most of the dreams of men, and sometimes they stifle those dreams. They have a depth and fineness of emotion that is beyond man's comprehension, but they too have their standardized customs and conventions which they enforce even more rigidly than the Good Citizens league in 'Babbitt' enforced its bigotries," the speaker said.

Mr. Donnell expressed regret that universal human nature is such that "Babbitt" could not end differently.

"I should rather have seen his dream become an urge that took him from his family to heresy or radicalism, but Babbitt being what he was, and his world being what it was, there was no other end but surrender. He is universal, and familiar. Haven't you felt about people of your acquaintance that only their bodies have life—that spiritually they are dead, and perhaps have never lived, because they have never dreamed? Haven't you known folks who were so concerned about being right that they failed to do good?"

Mr. Donnell likened himself to Babbitt because of similar conformity to "the scheme of things as they are," and went so far as to declare that in recent comments the famous author himself has shown strong symptoms of Babbittry. George F. Babbitt remains popular, however, the speaker said, because of "his good nature, his affability, and his simplicity."

Mayor Walter Nelson Jr., introduced Mr. Donnell. Miss Harriett Bradley, contralto, sang "The Song From Paradise," and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling," accompanied by Miss Lorene Tucker, pianist.

E. F. Riley Discusses Growth Of Installment Buying in Club Talk

Changes in installment buying of furniture during the past 50 years have resulted in reduced margins but increased profits through better selection of customers, according to a talk given on that business by E. F. Riley before members of the I. O. Boosters club at the Y. W. C. A. Monday noon.

Easy-payment plan furniture selling was inaugurated in the South about 50 years ago, the speaker said, by his father, J. H. Riley, at Nashville, Tenn. The earliest practice required the purchaser to leave the merchandise in the store of the seller until it was paid for, when it would be delivered, Mr. Riley stated.

"That policy was followed for many, many years," the speaker continued. "Then installment selling came out into the open. That was when my father began selling on payments in Nashville. Business was obtained by knocking at front doors. He could not call on the better and middle class of trade, because they felt ashamed to buy goods on installments. As a result, negro customers made up the bulk of the business for a long time. The salesman would go into a home, see what they had, which was very little, and what they needed, which was often a wagonload. He took in what old furniture they had as the first payment on the purchase of new stuff. Regardless of the amount of the sale, the payment was always $1 per week."

Prices were marked up very generously in that period, the speaker said, to allow 10 per cent for selling and another 10 per cent for collecting. Even then, he said, many dealers failed because so many loads of furniture, delivered on negligible down payments, disappeared under cover of night and were never discovered.

Under that system, Mr. Riley said, the average collector was expected to handle about 300 accounts, handling about 100 of them on Monday, which was "collection day." Under present conditions, he continued, practically all furniture is sold on time payments, customers are checked very carefully as credit risks, and a person whose credit is good buys furniture almost anywhere without any down payment whatever.

Those present Monday were entertained by Mrs. J. S. Pitman and Mrs. Omar Barker. Mrs. Pitman sang, "Can't Yo Heah Me Callin', Caroline," and "A Little Smile Goes a Long, Long Way," with Mr. Pitman playing her accompaniments. Mrs. Barker, dramatic reader, presented with unusual effect two numbers, "The Debutante Plays Bridge," and "The New Piano."

About 20 members were present.

WILLIAMS' APPEAL FILED

Haskell County Slayer Asks New Trial

AUSTIN, March 16. (AP)—Appeal was on file with the state court of criminal appeals today for Will Fritts, given death by a Kent county jury on charges of murder in the fatal shooting of D. W. Hamilton, Haskell county farmer, at his home near Rochester Oct. 24, 1928.

Allegations in the case were that Fritts had been indicted by a Haskell county jury in connection with the sale of liquor to Hamilton's son, Earl Hamilton, and that Fritts went to the Hamilton home the night of the shooting for the purpose of asking the youth to correct testimony he had given in connection with the indictment.

Both D. W. Hamilton and Earl Hamilton were slain. Mrs. D. W. Hamilton testified that Fritts fired three shots. Undertakers examining the bodies said two bullets struck the son and another penetrated the father's body near the heart.

Ticket Sales Heavy For Religious Forum

Advance ticket sales indicate that a full house will hear Clarence Darrow, noted criminal attorney, and three other well known speakers take part in a forum of religious discussion at the Memorial auditorium Thursday evening, according to H. C. Cheshire, who has charge of local arrangements.

Mr. Darrow will talk on "Why I Am an Agnostic." The other speakers will be Dr. C. C. Selecman, president of Southern Methodist university; Rabbi Harry A. Merfeld of Fort Worth, and Quin O'Brien, Chicago attorney, who will explain why they adhere to the Protestant, Jewish and Catholic faiths, respectively.

When Darrow spoke at New Orleans last week a crowd of more than 4,000 persons packed the house to capacity and a full house also attended the forum held in Houston two days later.
