Exports In Slump

WASHINGTON (AP) — American farmers were able to export crop production fast year from only 57 million acres - about one in five harvested - the fewest in a decade, says the Agriculture Department.

Officials said most of the export slump was due to reduced shipments of wheat and cotton.

The 57 million acres used to produce 1968 exports were included in 301 million of the total acres harvested by U. S. farmers last year.

This compared with 69 million acres exported from 308 million harvested in 1967; 69 million from 295 million harvested in 1968, and 76 million from 298 million harvested in 1967, the report said.

Not since 1958 when 44 million acres porudction were exported from 324 million harvested had overseas shipments fallen below the 60 million acre mark.

The acreage statistics were included in a report by the Economics Research Service describing recent changes in U.S. farm productivity.

Total farm production last year was a record high, nearly two per cent more than in 1967 and 20 per cent greater than the 1957-59 average, the report said.

And despite a population increase from 152 million in 1950 to around 200 million in 1968, the amount of land needed to produce crops for Americans on a per capita basis was reduced to 1.2 acres in 1968 from 1.9 in 1950.

Value of U.S. farm exports for the fiscal year ended June 30 was about $5.8 billion, the smallest since 1963.

Farm exports in 1967-68 totaled $6.3 billion, and in 1966-67 were a record $6.8 billion.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, July 14, the 195th day of 1969. There are 170 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1789, the citizens of Paris stormed and captured the Bastille. It was the beginning of the French revolution.

On this date —

In 1690, seven French privateers captured the New England islands of Martha's Vineyard, Nantucket and Block Island, but failed to take Newport, R. I.

In 1798, the U. S. Congress passed a Sedition Act, making it a federal crime to publish false, scandalous and malicious writings against the government.

In 1853, Commodore Matthew C. Perry U. S. Navy, landed on a beach in Japan and handed the lord of Toda a letter to the emperor from President Millard Fillmore.

In 1879, the U. S. Congress provided a yearly pension of $3,000 for President Abraham Lincoln's widow, Mary Todd Lincoln.

In 1960, a Democratic National Convention in Los Angeles nominated Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson for vice president.

In 1965, Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson collapsed and died on a street in London.

Ten years ago: For the ninth successive year, India moved for the admission of Communist China to the United Nations.

Five years ago: Iraq nationalized some businesses but did not move against foreign oil companies.

One year ago: The gaiety of the Bastille Day celebration in Paris was dimmed by rioting arrests and rain.

ALL ESCAPED — Everyone escaped without injuries late Sunday afternoon when this 1968 Mercury and trailer overturned nine miles southeast of Snyder on U. S. Highway 84. The car was driven by Mrs. Ruthelyce K. McKinney, Route 1, Harlingen. Her husband, Edward A. McKinney and their four children were passengers in the car. Highway Patrolmen who investigated said Mrs. McKinney lost control of the car and the trailer whipped around, upsetting the car.

IN SPEECH TO CONGRESS

Nixon Asks Action On Drug Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told Congress today it must act against the drug abuse problem now as "a serious national threat to the personal health and safety of millions of Americans."

Outlining the dimensions of the problem in a special message, Nixon cited an increase of nearly 800 per cent in seven years in juvenile arrests involving use of drugs.

Nixon called for new legislation, including an interim measure to correct what he called constitutional deficiencies of the marijuana tax act. It was on the basis of these that the Supreme Court struck down parts of the marijuana laws in May.

Other Nixon proposals:

Development by the Justice Department of a model state narcotics and dangerous drug act.

Strengthened international cooperation to stop production of contraband drugs abroad. Most illicit narcotics and a high potency marijuana consumed in this country is produced in other countries.

The stepping up of efforts to intercept illegal entry of drugs, involving more manpower for the customs bureau to combat smuggling.

The throwing of more men and money into the battle at home against illicit traffic in drugs—with no numbers or amounts specified.

Steps to close an information gap on the drug problem.

Additional research to acquire new knowledge and understanding of the entire area of drug addiction, aimed at releasing men from bonds of dependency.

Expanded research on the federal level aimed at rehabilitation of those who are psychologically dependent on regular use of drugs and those physically addicted. These, Nixn said, are genuinely sick people.

A redoubling of a federal training program for state and local law enforcement officials.

Nixon said the current laws are inadequate and out of date and the proposed measure will put into a single statute a revised, modern plan for control of the drug problem.

ON ABM PROPOSAL

Prouty To Take Stand Today

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators in search of a compromise in the closely fought battle over President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense program looked hopefully today to Vermont Sen. Winston L. Prouty for support.

With the delivery of a scheduled floor speech on the antiballistic missile—ABM—proposal today, Republican Prouty takes his name off the now nearly vanished list of Safeguard undecideds.

By finally taking a stand, Prouty joins his Vermont colleague, Sen. George D. Aiken, as one of the key figures in the ABM debate.

Aiken, also a Republican, came out last week against deployment of the system, insisting the administration come to an accommodation with Safeguard opponents. He became the 50th senator to oppose Safeguard.

Sources close to Prouty, while professing no advance knowledge of his decision, had stressed "He would weigh very heavily" the reasoning laid out by Aiken, who called on the administration to accept modification of the Safeguard proposal so it can be backed in forthcoming arms talks with the Russians by a large Senate majrity.

Prouty voted three times last year to delay the Johnson administration's Sentinel ABM system and said, after Nixon unveiled Safeguard, that he was skeptical but would have to study it.

Besides the senators opposed to ABM missile deployment, 48 favor it and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., refuses to state his position, according to latest checks by The Associated Press.

In spite of the reported opposition, ABM supporters still predict victory.

It came against a backdrop of reports that the administration is exploring the possibility of accepting — if necessary — something along the lines of Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre's proposal

Staats Proposes Procedure Change

WASHINGTON (AP) — Firms competing for multi-billion dollar Pentagon contracts should develop weapons prototypes before any award of government money is made, the federal comptroller recommended today.

The requirements would, among other things, save money, said Comptroller General Elmer B. Staats.

While the procedure might require an initial increase in research and development costs, Staats said this would be overcome by a sharp decline in cost overruns that now result from what he termed "tenuous cost-estimating."

He said this procedure would increase competition and prevent one firm from being "locked in" on a contract for future production of such hardware as missiles, planes and tanks.

Staats made the proposal in testimony prepared for the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, holding a one-day hearing on ways of making defense procurement more economical.

He gave these reasons for recommending prototype development:

—"Two competent contractors vying against each other to develop the better weapons system should give us better performance, price and delivery.

—"Physical hardware can be tested and compared before a production go-ahead decision is made.

—"The cost overrun problem should diminish because contractors will have visible products on which to base their costs.

—"More than one design approach to a mission can be explored and evaluated."

Staats suggested such a system could be tried on weapons like the F-15 fighter aircraft, the Subsonic Cruise Armed Decoy (SCAD) and the AX close support aircraft, currently in early development.

Mrs. Hayden Rites Today

Funeral service was set for 2 p.m. today in the First Baptist Church in Seymour for Mrs. Stella Hayden, 75, who died at 8 p.m. Saturday at Hillcrest Lodge.

Mrs. Hayden had resided at the lodge here for the past two years. She was a native of Johnson County.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. B. P. Hayden of Snyder; a son, W. S. Black of Wichita Falls; and one grandchild.

Local arrangements were handled by Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Float Entry List Is Due

Organizations planning to enter floats in the Rodeo parade here Wednesday have been asked to report to the Chamber of Commerce office by 4 p.m. Tuesday. The report may be made by telephone.

The Rodeo Association needs to know the number of floats by that hour, it was explained.

The decorated floats in the parade will be competing for $150 in prize money to be awarded by the Rodeo Association.

Challenge Issued In Riding Event

Interest in Rodeo Week activities here was sharpened considerably over the weekend with a challenge involving the inter-state riding contest between Texas and South Dakota teams.

The Western Development Co. of Rapid City S. D., laid down the challenge, offering to buy steak dinners for all contestants in the inter-state riding event if the South Dakota crew should lose to the Texans. The challenge was acceped immediately by Ezell-Key Grain Co. The local firm is committed to finance steak dinners if the Texas team should lose to the South Dakota team.

The competitors in the inter-state riding event will have plenty of incentive, of course, as they also compete for purses totalling over $1,000.

The rodeo will begin Wednesday, with the downtown parade scheduled for 5 p.m. and the opening performance in the arena west of town booked for 8:30 p.m.

Performances will continue each evening at 8:30 through Saturday.

Trio Is Captured After Wild Chase

NATCHITOCHES, La. (AP) — A daring man whose family was terrorized by three armed, escaped prisoners held two of them at bay and shot a third with their own submachine gun Sunday night to end an hours-long chase by hundreds of police.

The action capped more than 15 hours of freedom for the trio, who had held and released 13 hostages in several parts of the state.

The three were James Marion Sumner, 28; Garry Robert Williams, 22; and Luther Pettitt, 29, all of Houston, Tex. They escaped from the Gregg County jail at Longview, Tex., early Sunday with a deputy sheriff and the jailer as hostages.

Sumner and Williams were brought to the Natchitoches Parish jail early today. Pettitt was taken to the Confederae Memorial Hospial in Shreveport for a wound in the left side of the chest.

Sheriff Sam H. James said Sumner and Williams were charged in Natchitoches with the armed robbery of Mrs. Jesse Brossett. He said the fleeing men took $17 and shotgun shells from the woman's home north of Natchitoches.

The FBI said federal charges of kidnaping, interstate transportation of a stolen car and violation of the federal firearms law were lodged against them at Longview.

A fourth escapee was believed to have remained in Gregg County.

The three led Texas Rangers, state police, the FBI and deputy sheriffs of eight parishes (counties) on a chase through north and central Louisiana.

At one point, Gov. John McKeithen hopped in his private plane to try to meet with them. By phone, he talked them into releasing five hostages.

The manhunt ended about 11 p.m. at the frame house of Leo Martin at Flatwoods, in the Kisatchie National Forest.

"They stormed the house," said a shaken Martin, 60. "They rammed a gun into my girl's back and came in."

He said the escapees were eating dinner with him, his wife and 16-year-old daughter when Pettitt left the room at the sound of an approaching car. Another momentarily put his submachine gun down.

"That was my chance," Martin said. "I grabbed it up and held it on the other two and made them sit down on the floor. The tall one (Pettitt) came back in and as he walked through the kitchen door, that's when I let him have it," said Martin.

"Them others saw I meant business and I didn't have no more trouble out of them."

But Martin's terrified wife picked up an automatic shotgun and "she went wild and filled the kitchen full of holes," Martin said.

Elso Bailey Dies Sunday

Funeral service has been set for 10a.m. Wednesday at Amarillo for Elso Bailey, 60, who died at 1:30 a.m. Sunday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

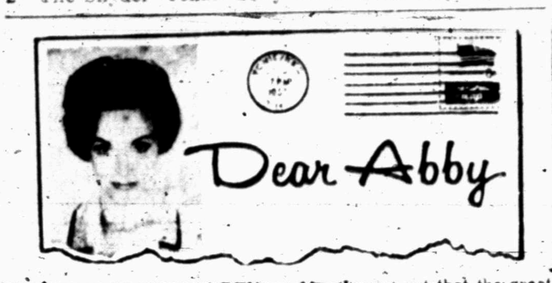

Mr. Bailey, a native of Louisiana, had lived here the past two months. He was a retired civil service worker and was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife; a stepdaughter, Mrs. J. R. Wolfe of Snyder; four stepsons, Dean Johnson of Muleshoe, Freddie Johnson of Grants, N. M., Cleo and Eugene Johnson, both of Amarillo. Also surviving are four sisters, three brothers, 25 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Rites will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Blackburn-Shaw Chapel in Amarillo, with burial in the Llano Cemetery there. Bell-Seale Funeral Home handled local arrangements.

BY ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our marriage is about to break up over a silly matter like my son's hair.

This is the second marriage for both of us. We are both 40, each has three children, and have been very happily married for four years.

My son (I'll call him John) is 21. He's a responsible boy, holds down a good job, and has never given us any trouble. He lives at home and pays room and board. He's not eligible for service because of a knee injury.)

John wears his hair in the new "mod" style, longish sideburns, and quite full. I can't say I'm crazy about it, but I feel that as long as he's a good citizen, and keeps it clean, he can wear his hair the way he wants to.

My husband and I are at war over this. He says if John doesn't cut his hair WE are finished. He can't kick John out of the house because it's MY house, but he can leave me, which he is now threatening to do. Imagine! He says, "It's either John or me."

Abby, I love my husband. This is our first serious conflict. He respects your opinion. Can you help me?

DISTURBED IN MASS.

DEAR DISTURBED: Your husband strikes me as being childish, unrealistic, and narrow-minded. Since he "respects" my opinion, please tell him for me that I have a 24-year-old son whose hair style is also "mod," but he is a good citizen, and I feel that as long as he keeps it clean and well-groomed, he has earned the right to wear his hair any way he wants to, regardless of MY preference.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Maybe I'm too sentimental, overly sensitive, or just plain petty, but I have to get this off my chest!

For all the years before my daughter was married, on Mother's Day, she'd remember me with a lovely card to which she'd add a sweet personal message. Now that she's married, she still sends me Mother's Day cards, but they are always "TO GRANDMA, from Little Tom, Dick, or Harry."

Now Abby, I adore my grandchildren, but I am not their mother! Altho my daughter buys, signs, and sends those cards "to Grandma," they are not an adequate substitute for a Mother's Day card from her. It would mean to much if she would scribble a little message, saying, "Mom, I love you. Have a nice day. . ." or something like that.

I hope you publish my letter because my daughter never misses your column. There! I feel better already. Thanks, Abby. HURT

DEAR HURT: Mission accomplished.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column, someone quoted SOCRATES, pointing out that criticism of the young by the elders is nothing new. In your reply you gave your readers the impression that Greece went to the dogs immediately following the death of Socrates, and didn't recover until Melina Mercouri made "NEVER ON SUNDAY" and Jackie Kennedy married Onassis.

May I point out that the great work of Sophocles, Euripides, and Thucydides came AFTER Socrates. And later still the Greeks produced such schlemiels as Plato and Aristotle.

Melina Mercouri is loved for her patriotic devotion to a free Greece, but Mr. Onassis, with or without Jackie, is hardly the greatest thing that happened to Greece since the original Aristotle.

Sincerely yours,
JOANNE IN OAKLAND

CONFIDENTIAL TO "COUNTING ON YOU" VIA THE TRENTON TIMES: Tell him that when you marry it will be forever, and you want more time to think it over. If a girl married a man because she "feel sorry" for him, it's only a matter of time before she feels sorrier for herself.

Busy Days For Firemen

The Snyder Fire Department was called out five times Saturday afternoon and night, and again on Sunday night, primarily to grass fires.

The department answered a call to a grass fire at 2:05 p.m. Saturday at 3408 Avenue U. Then at 2:40 p.m., they were called to a fire at a heater treater, three miles south of Union.

The other calls Saturday, all to grass fires, were at 4:20, in a alley behind the 3900 block of Avenue S, at 9:15 at Twenty-first and Avenue Q and about midnight at Thirty-first and Avenue D.

The Sunday call came at 9 p.m. to a grass and trash fire in the Andress Heights Addition.

Italy's New Cabinet Studies Government

President Giuseppe Saragat asked the 54-year-old caretaker premier to form a Cabinet after eight days of government crisis. The Socialist party, junior partners to Rumor's Christian Democrats in the previous government, had split into two warring factions. This ended the coalition's majority in Parliament, and Rumor resigned.

Pirates Raid Queen Elizabeth

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A trio of long-haired pirates has raided the Queen Elizabeth, berthed here as a tourist attraction.

Commodore Geoffrey Marr said the three apparently boarded the ship by climbing ropes up its side under cover of night and made off with a 50-pound brass bell. Marr likened the raid to college prank.

WHO Head Urges Use Of Fluoride

BOSTON (AP) — The director general of the World Health Organization (WHO) says fluoride treatment is the most effective and economical way of preventing tooth decay.

The treatment "exceeds any dental manpower capacity or economic resources that can be reasonably allocated for dental care in countries with highly developed health systems," Dr. M. G. Candau said in a report released Sunday.

The report was on the agenda for discussion at today's session of WHO, now in the second week of its three-week assembly.

Candau said fluoride treatment is reducing tooth decay effectively in "approximately 110 million people in over 4,600 communities."

In most communities, fluoride treatment is done by adding small amounts of the chemical to the water supply.

There has been widespread opposition to fluoridation of water supplies.

"The only well tested and effective preventive method in current use which has resulted in a substantial decrease in the rate of dental caries (tooth decay) is controlled application of fluorides," the report said.

Candau said that studies show that 10,000 dentists treat less than 40 per cent of the population of the United States, and that the nation spends only about one-seventh of the funds necessary to alleviate the nation's dental problems.

Damage To Cars Is Under Probe

The Snyder Police are investigating a case of malicious destruction of private property, which occurred Saturday night. It was reported that someone threw a baseball bat with black tape and nails through the rear window of an automobile owned by Roland Bell.

Also being investigated are two cases of automobiles being struck by unknown subjects. Richard Chambers reported that the right rear fender of his car was struck sometime between 5 p.m. Friday and 6 a.m. Saturday. James Liner also reported that he had discovered a small dent in the left rear fender of his car. He made the discovery Saturday morning.

Capt. George Duvall Ends Flying Career

NEW YORK (AP) — Capt. George C. Duvall, who made his first commercial flight with one passenger in 1936, ended his career Sunday with his 910th Atlantic crossing.

Duvall brought 101 passengers from Frankfurt, Germany to Kennedy Airport, landing his Boeing 707 jet 37 minutes ahead of schedule.

"That's a good way to end it," he said.

Guard Will Scrutinize Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard, sometimes criticized for spotty leadership, is setting up machinery to weed out weak senior officers.

Starting next year, it was learned, three-man selection boards will meet in every state to review annually the records of officers with 20 years or more of service.

The boards to include regular Army, as well as Guard officers, will decide who stays and who should be dropped.

National Guard bureau officials said this means about 4,000 to 5,000 lieutenant colonels and colonels will be scrutinized each year. Veteran warrant officers also will be subject to annual review.

But guard generals are exempt from what is called "selective retention."

Officials said officers below the rank of lieutenant colonel already are subject to periodic consideration concerning possible promotion, but until now lieutenant colonels and colonels have not had to undergo this sort of review.

Creation of the board is the latest action taken in recent years to strengthen the Army Guard officer corps.

Guard leadership came under heavy fire two years ago as a result of the performance of some Guard units during civil disturbances in Detroit and elsewhere.

But even before that critics in the regular Army and elsewhere had suggested leadership of the state-based National Guard needed overhauling to make it more reliable in the event of military emergencies.

Space Program Cost Is Negligible

LONDON (AP) — The cost of the Apollo moon program is a "negligible" item in the American economy, Britain's leading space scientist says.

"Its annual cost is only a third of the annual tobacco bill of the American people, and one-sixth of their drink bill," Sir Bernard Lovell wrote in the London Times.

"Arguments about the national economy are convenient excuses for a lack of vision."

Rogers Says Aid Can Be Shifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers declared today the United States is prepared to shift its Vietnamese aid program toward peacetime development if the war can be ended or scaled down in the months ahead.

to delay authority for ABM missile deployment, while going ahead with the rest of the Safeguard system.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird has indicated to some ABM backers that, if such a fallback becomes necessary, the administration could live with the McIntyre proposal.

Aiken said again over the weekend modification "is necessary to avoid political disaster" for the administration. "What happens on the ABM vote will have considerable effect on other programs," he said.

The Vermont Republican, his party's senior Senate member, indicated he was dissatisfied with both the McIntyre amendment and one introduced by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., limiting the ABM to research and barring any deployment or site acquisition.

Laird is reportedly adamant in opposition to the Hart-Cooper amendment.

But the McIntyre proposal would permit work on installation and testing of Safeguard's radar and computers at the two initial ABM sites in Montana and North Dakota, a development the secretary considers vital to keep the program on schedule.

Cuban Exiles Burn Soviet Union Flag

NEW YORK (AP) — Cuban exiles burned the flag of the Soviet Union Sunday near that country's mission to the United Nation. They were protesting the voyage of a Soviet naval flotilla to Cuba.

Two were arrested for throwing eggs.

Rogers testified before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in support of President Nixon's request for $2.6 billion for military and economic assistance for the next fiscal year. Included are $375 million for military assitance and $2.2 billion for various forms of economic assistance.

Without help from the wealthy powers to the underdeveloped countries, he said, the cold war split between Russia and the West could be followed by a global division between the rich and the poor countries.

The aid program includes $440 million for economic assistance to South Vietnam.

"In Vietnam," Rogers said, "we are prepared to shift the aid program toward greater emphasis on economic and social development if there is a resolution of the conflict or a significant de-escalation of the war in the months ahead."

U.S. programs to aid Laos and Thailand, Rogers said, are largely "an outgrowth of the hostilities in Vietnam and will depend in form and amount on the course of the war there."

Rogers said that India and Pakistan provide "a testing ground of whether man can check the ravagages of malnutrition and escape from the grip of poverty."

He noted that over two-thirds of the proposed development loan program in the Nixon aid package, apart from funds for Latin America, is destined for India and Pakistan.

As for Latin America, Rogers said "continuation of our assistance obviously is essential to constructive changes in an atmosphere of purposeful cooperation."

The administration's program, he reminded the committee, calls for $1.1 billion in development loans, $515 million for "supporting assistance" almost entirely for Vietnam, Laos and Thailand, $463 million for technical assistance, and $115 million for an emergency fund, administrative expenses and the like.

Rogers said that 86 per cent of the development loan program would go to eight countries—Brazil, Chile, Colombia, India, Indonesia, Korea, Pakistan and Turkey.

3 Mishaps Are Logged

The Snyder Police investigated one automobile accident Saturday afternoon and two more Sunday.

Involved in the mishap Saturday, which occurred at 5:05 p.m. in the 200 block of Thirty-fifth Street, were a 1968 Chrysler, driven by Linda Dickenson Rehm, and a 1969 Chevrolet, driven by Sharon Marie Moore. Estimate of damage was fifteen dollars to the Chrysler and none to the Chevrolet.

A mishap was reported at 9:50 p.m. Sunday in the 2900 block of Avenue S. Involved were a 1965 Chevrolet, driven by Pauline E. McArthur of Snyder, and a 1965 Plymouth, driven by Joe Danniel Arriasa of San Antonio. The damage to each of the vehicles was estimaated at $175.

The police were called at 10:55 p.m. Sunday to the Cogdell Hospital parking lot. Involved was a 1966 Chevrolet, driven by Inez Graham Stevens and the parked 1968 Pontiac owned by Glendon Bynum. The estimated damage was $30 to the Pontiac and none to the Chevrolet.

Prisoners Get Too Much Punishment

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Marion County jail officials think the 718 prisoners may be getting a little too much punishment.

The four-year-old facility was built without air conditioning and jail commander Earl Gilleland says summertime temperature tops 100 degrees in cell blocks.

Prisoners were cutting off coveralls to beat the heat, so jail officers passed out walking shorts.

"We don't want a dungeon," said County Commission President Walter E. Hemphill. So commissioners will talk next week about buying air conditioning.

Astronauts To Address Nation At 7

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., and Michael Collins pause in their training tonight to tell the nation how it feels to be going to the moon. The preparation of their spacecraft was ahead of schedule for Wednesday's launch, and the weather is expected to be ideal.

As supercold oxygen and hydrogen flowed into some of the command ship and lunar lander systems, the space agency reshuffled its built-in "holds" to provide time for two additional quality control tests of the liquid hydrogen system as the 9:32 a.m. EDT launching nears.

The three astronauts, after last-minute rehearsal at make-believe flight controls, planned to work out in the gymnasium later in the day before going on television and radio at 7 p.m.

They'll be questioned by a panel of four newsmen on a program to be carried on all networks.

Rolling Stone Visits Miss Faithfull

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Rolling Stone Mick Jagger bounded up the steps of St. Vincent's Hospital today carrying a bouquet of yellow and red roses for his girl friend Marianne Faithfull.

The 22-year-old girl singer is recovering from an overdose of barbiturates. She collapsed in a hotel suite last Wednesday and was unconscious until Sunday.

"Miss Faithfull is on a very light diet which began this morning," the hospital announced. She is sitting up in bed and talking to the nurses around her."

BRIDE-ELECT HONORED — Honored with a bridal shower Friday night in the West Texas Bank Community Room was Miss Debbie Reynolds, bride-elect of Jerry Jones. Pictured are Mrs. Clyde Reynolds, mother of the bride-elect; Miss Reynolds, and Mrs. Willard Jones, mother of the prospective groom. The honoree's colors of pink and white were used in the decor with a centerpiece of pink roses in a milk glass container on a pink colored lace cloth. Hostesses for the shower were Mmes. C. U. Bishop, Homer Reed, Clarence Moore, Oren Sturdivant, G. K. Fambro, Bobby Rose, Charline Hendricks, Norman Fulks, Alfred Lieb, Ray Haney, J. C. Massingale, Carl Voss, Wilson Bright, Connie Smith, Broadway Browning, John Bailey, W. C. Salmon, Billy Don Martin, Herb McKinley, Garth Austin, Billy Joe Stephens and Marion Bishop.

Food In Dandelions

Don't be so scornful as you distastefully dispose of the dandelions that mar your lawn and garden.

There is food in the dandelion that flourishes almost anywhere and everywhere, according to "Eddible Native Plants of the Rocky Mountains."

Author Dr. H.D. Harrington says this invading plant, seeds of which are carried far by the wind, are fine for salads. Especially good are plants grown in the shade. Roots may be planted in the basement for blanched leaves in winter. The crown is reported edible and leaves are boiled as you would spinach, with a change of water to reduce bitterness. Slice roots for salads. Some people fry, roast and dry them to produce a coffee-like beverage.

It is said that dried leaves make an acceptable "tea" and dandelion blossoms (with sugar and fermentables) produce wine. Young blossom heads have been praised in pancakes (drop them in batter before turning the pancake).

And in a pinch lost Boy Scouts could eat dandelion seeds.

After all this, if you prefer to keep your fine grass free of dandelions, treat the lawn with a 2-4, D-type weed killer that has an aversion to dandelions but won't hurt the grass.

"Staple" refers to cotton fiber length.

Chilly Knees To Get Fashionable Coverup

By LOUISE COOK

NEW YORK (AP) — Fashionable girls won't have to freeze their knees this winter.

American ready-to-wear designers have finally taken pity on minishirted misses who can't stand the cold and have presented a profusion of maxicoats.

Almost all the designers who recently showed fall and winter collections here included at least one of the long, long coats in their offerings.

Most of the coats were fitted through the bodice and flared to the floor with a deep vent in back so women won't have to hobble along. They are intended for daytime wear over minishirts, pants or jumpsuits.

Donald Brooks showed long coast in the regency style, with a double-breasted panel closing in front.

Oscar de la Renta opened his show with several floor-length capes, a bit dramatic for everyday wear perhaps, but sure to protect against the elements.

Don Simonelli, designing for Modelia, offered a new treatment of an old standby, showing a fire engine red maxi duffle coat complete with hood and rhinestone frog closings. He also featured a floor-length navy blue vinyl trench coat.

Murry Neiman, designing for Hannah Troy, showed a bright pink corduroy maxi coat with sable collar and cuffs for evening.

Originala offered a long, black coat with full shirt and self capelet that could be worn both day and night.

Victor Joris of Cuddlecoat stretched out the sweater to the floor and showed it over a matching knit pants suit.

One of the few exceptions to the maxi parade was the collection Ole Borden did for Rembrandt. Borden, a Danish designer, opened his collection with a bright red wool midi coat — with hem at the middle of the calf — and promptly announced: "The maxi is very clumsy."

Borden may be right and some girls may find themselves trailing their hems through snow and slush. But at least they'll be warm.

Grasses Help Improve Climate

Not only are the attractive blue-grasses, fine fesous and bent-grasses in your lawn esthetically important, they help improve the nearby climate. Dr. Robert W. Schery of the Lawn Institute in Marysville, Ohio, says a lawn "ameliorates the temperature significantly," compared with bare ground.

"Ground well-insulated by grass never has its temperature go so low in cold weather as does unprotected soil, and never so high in summer. And we are not talking about just a degree or two. . ." he says.

Perennial turfgrasses make an excellent thermal blanket for the ground, the expert says, and in summer good grass reflects considerable heat back into the atmosphere

"In cool weather, it absorbs heat from the soil that might otherwise escape to the atmosphere," he explains. "Your lawn not only beautifies the property, but works day and night as a conditioner of your immediate environment."

soc Scalping Season 2-14 cent.

Scalping Season Only In Spring

There is only one time of year, spring, when it is safe to scalp your bluegrass or fine fescue lawn. In early spring, before new growth has begun, no harm will result from a close cut to remove winter-battered old foliage that soon would be replaced anyway. The loss is no setback for the grass, which has stored food in the crowns and rhizomes below mowing level.

But both varities of grass grow fairly erect, so that after early spring, you will lose much green leaf, the food-making part of the plant, if you cut too low.

Mowing and sweeping the foliage gives bluegrass a quicker start. Sunlight will reach the soil more easily, warming it, and fresh bright green shoots may be seen readily, adding to the lawn's fresh look.

Hall Tells Thrilling Tale

THE STRIKER PORTFOLIO. By Adam Hall. Simon & Schuster. $4.95.

West Germany's airforce contained 500 Striker SK - 6 swingwing aircraft as part of the NATO striking force, the Germans having bought them from the British at $6 million each.

But in a year's time 36 of them had crashed, always killing the pilot. It was a problem not only of preventing furthur disasters, but of finding who was responsible, and why.

So secret agent Quiller was assigned by "the Bureau" in London to visit West Germany and "get in the way" of whatever agents might be operating there.

One of Quiller's colleagues, named Lovett, apparently had found a leak in the enemy's network, for he was able to signal London the time and place of the next crash. But by the time Quiller had arrived on the scene, Lovett had thrown himself out of a fourth floor window — or at least that was the official version of his fate.

But at least Lovett's death gave Quiller a starting point in his search for contact with the enemy, and it wasn't long before he drew their fire — literally. Then came considerable mayhem — the murder of a double-agent, a duel of wreck-the-other-car at high speeds on a superhighway, Quiller's betrayal by a woman agent — before the mystery was solved.

Hall's hard-nosed, fast-thinking hero is the same agent who had such bitter battles in "The Quiller Memorandum" and "The 9th Directive."

The author skips most of the sophisticated folderol of the usual spy novel and concentrates on violent action and sudden switches of plot. He writes a dandy thriller.

Republicans Abandon Hope Of Defeating Senate Bids

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have all but abandoned hope of defeating the Senate re-election bids next year of two potential 1972 Democratic presidential candidates, Edward M. Kennedy and Edmund S. Muskie.

But GOP observers anticipate, with ill-concealed glee the possibility that former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy will wage a damaging Democratic primary battle for McCarthy's Minnesota Senate seat, leaving an opening for the Republicans.

In Massachusetts, an adviser to GOP Gov. Francis W. Sargent told reporters the Republicans are looking for a candidate who can make a "respectable' showing against Kennedy while losing. This would be calculated to salvage GOP candidates for state offices. He explained the Republican dilemma this way:

"If we put up a very heavy hitter then the Kennedy machine tools up, with all of the Kennedy girls and money, and the juggernaut is rolling. The White House wants to see Kennedy scarred but Gov. Sargent doesn't want to get scored."

The Republicans have batted around several names, including Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and his son, George Lodge, Former Gov. John A. Volpe, now secretary of transportation and a list of Republican members of Congress.

But thus far they haven't found an acceptable volunteer for the honor of losing to Kennedy.

In Maine the Republicans are so bereft of suitable candidates that some of them are talking about endorsing Muskie and letting it go at that.

Their problem, observers say, is to find someone who "wouldn't mind looking ridiculous" running against the 1968 Democratic vice presidential candidate in his bid for a third Senate term.

Nobody, including the principals, seems to have any clear idea of what is going to happen in the Minnesota Democratic Farmer-Labor primary.

No sane politician professes to be able to guess whether McCarthy will change his mind about not running again for his party's nomination.

There are clear signs, however, that Humphrey is getting a bit restive about all of this uncertainty. He wants to come back to the Senate, a job he enjoyed greatly.

He will certainly go for it if McCarthy doesn't try again and probably will even if his former colleague does.

Republicans are not worried that Humphrey might try for the 1972 presidential nomination. They think President Nixon would defeat him by a substantially greater margin than in 1968. They have counted McCarthy out of the running.

National Republicans suspect they will not have much luck turning out Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield in Montana.

This is the kind of recognition that Montana voters savor for one of their own, even if they don't always agreed with his position.

Wallace Will Seek White House Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — George C. Wallace says he will be a candidate for the White House in 1972—unless President Nixon manages to solve just about every major National question.

Wallace said Sunday he hopes Nixon is able to cope with foreign and domestic problems, but:

"Unless he does conclude the war honorably, give some tax reduction to the middle class in our country, cut out unnecessary spending and restore law and order, get the government out of control of public-local institutions such as the schools, unless he solves these problems then I would be a candidate in 1972.

"If he does, I would not be a candidate in 1972," Wallace said.

Wallace appeared on ABC's television-radio program "Issues and Answers."

Clerk Didn't Recognize Guest

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—A guest at a motel asked the woman desk clerk to buy him a newspaper from a vending machine in the lobby.

When she put in the dime and opened the gate, the clerk told the guest, "Oh hell, while I've got it open I might as well take one for myself."

A short time later, she learned the guest was evangelist Billy Graham, who was in town for a golf match with Vice President Spiro Agnew.

Longview Beauty Is Miss Texas

FORT WORTH (AP) — For the new Miss Texas, being second is just not enough.

That's how Dana Dowell fells about the Miss America contest she will enter after winning the Texas crown Saturday night here.

The 18-year-old beauty from Longview won her title over 62 other Texas girls to take the crown.

During a news conference Sunday, the brown-eyed, brown-haired Miss Texas was asked if she would be satisfied to reach the semifinals in the Miss America contest.

Her answer: "No!"

"I hope to bring back the Miss America title for Texas," she said.

She won her first victory as preliminary swimsuit winner Wednesday night during the week long pageant. She measures 36-23-36.

In talent competition, she played a trap drum solo. She began playing the drums in the seventh grade and was to be featured drummer for the Kilgore Junior College.

"The drum is the heartbeat of the band. It sets the pace, and the pace has a lot to do in the mood of the pageant.

"With a drum you can express just as much as with any other instrument," she said, but she did not know if she will perform the same presentation at Atlantic City.

Miss Dowell will receive a $2,000 scholarship as Miss Texas, and said "My father was real happy about this. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Dowell of White Oak.

Drum major at Kilgore Junior College, she plans to use the scholarship to finish her education toward being a dermatologist because it helps "make people beautiful."

Does she have any advice for other beauty contestants?

"You just have to be yourself because, you can't go a whole year being somebody else. You do your best and if that's not enough . . ."

After winning the title Saturday night, Miss Dowell said her first reaction was a "great big letter in Longview."

She explained why she wanted to be Miss America.

"I believe that Miss America is our ideal girl and that is what I would like to be, the ideal girl."

87 Persons Injured In Irish Riots

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — Police and troops were kept on alert throughout Northern Ireland today after a weekend of rioting and gunfire in which at least 87 persons were hurt.

Police spokesmen said the fighting was the worst since the civil rights campaign against the government touched off violence last autumn between Northern Ireland's Protestants and Catholics.

Two civilians were hit by stray shots in Londonderry, but it was not known yet who did the shooting. They were the first gunfire victims since the strife started.

In Dungiven, 19 miles to the south, rioting Catholics tried to burn a group of police officers trapped inside a hall owned by the Protestant Orange Order. The fire was put out, but several police were injured.

In Londonderry, long a center of religious feuding, eight policemen fired in the air to scatter a mob who had trapped them in a side street.

Civil rights leaders blamed the weekend riots on reaction to Orange Day parades Saturday at which Protestants celebrated the victory of King William over Catholic forces at the Battle of the Boyne almost 300 years ago.

"This has nothing to do with civil rights, said Eamonn McCann, one of the more extreme leftists in the civil rights movement. "The old primeval instincts have come to the surface. It is a religious war, aggravated by the massive Catholic unemployment in Derry and by the bad housing conditions in the Bogside," Londonderry's Catholic area.

Britain's Trade Deficit Is Doubled

LONDON (AP) — Britain again bought more abroad than it sold to foreign customers last month. By the end of June the deficit on its foreign trade books was double that in May, the Board of Trade announced today.

The deficit for June was put at 28 million pounds—$67.2 million. The revised figure for May was 14 million pounds.

The June figures came as a disappointment after the prediction from Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins that Britain should have a foreign trade surplus of some 300 million pounds—$720 million—a year by next March.

Falls And GallmanWin

Max Falls and Gary Gallman continued to dominate the tennis tournament trail for the summer in this area as they won the doubles crown Sunday in the Key City Open Tennis Tournament in Abilene. Falls, of Snyder, and Gallman, presently of Dallas and formerly a Snyderite, have teamed together to win five championships this summer.

Falls also joined with Ronnie Maddux to reach the semifinals in the boys 18-year-old bracket. They were eliminated by Chisolm and Euston of Midland. Chisolm was the winner of the 18-year-old singles division.

The Snyderites made quite a showing as a number of the boys advanced beyond the first round. In the singles competition for those 16 years old and younger, Gallman reached the semifinals, Falls got to the quarterfinals and Mike Boles reached the third round. Boles and Bebo Boren also made the third round in the 16-year-old doubles.

Coach Ken McAllister, who heads the summer tennis program here, reached the semifinals in the men's singles, and also in the men's doubles, where he was teamed with Roy Rhodes of Sweetwater.

Others from Snyder to make the trip to the tournament were Linda Miller, Leslie Bilberry, Terrisu Sims, Carol McAllister, Bryant Young, Randy Potts, David Watlington and Mike Clifton.

Although the Abilene tourney was the last official one connected with the summer program, several of the Snyderites are planning to enter a tournament at Mason this weekend.

Beard Elated Over Victory

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

EDINA, Minn. (AP) — Frank Beard, spurred on by a common fly, was elated at last, weary and far from satisfied in the wake of his victory in the $110,000 Minnesota Golf Classic.

"You have certain goals," the articulate, intelligent man from Louisville said after his resounding triumph. "One win doesn't do it. You have a lot to prove. You win one and you want to win two or three more before the year is over.

"I never had any doubts about my game or about myself. But I was beginning to wonder when I was going to win again."

He referred to a two-year victory drought — he'd finished second six times since the last title in June 1967 — that was broken Sunday on the 6,913-yard par 71 Braemar Golf Club course.

And when he broke it, he did it convincingly with a final 66 for 269 — 15-under par — and a seven-stroke margin, matching the biggest victory margin of the year.

Oddly enough it was a par—one he almost didn't get—that Beard cited as the turning point of his round.

"It was on the fifth hole," he said. "I had about a 30-foot birdie putt. Just as I was about to strike the ball, a fly landed on it. I stepped back and brushed it away. Then, just as I hit the ball the fly landed again and I jumped just a little and I left it six feet short. But I made that putt for a par.

"Even though the margin turned out to be pretty big, that was the catalyst. That gave me the momentum. If there was a turning point, that was it."

He had five birdies and not a bogey in his steady, almost mechanical round. He reached two par fives in two and two-putted, birdied two par threes from six and 12 feet and pitched to within four feet on the ninth hole for a bird that gave him a five-stroke lead.

The victory was worth $20,000, pushed his earnings past $95,000 for the year, put him in sight of his third consecutive $100,000 year but came at a cost.

"I'm very tired," he said. "It will be worse at Philadelphia (this week). I'd much rather be home but I've got a wife and three kids to support.

Tommy Aaron, with a closing 68, and South African newcomer Hugh Inggs, with a 70, tied for second at 276 and were trailed at 277 by Labron Harris, 70, and Dave Stockton, 73.

Morrall Retirement Still A Mystery

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP) — The mystery around the retirement of quarterback Earl Morrall from the Baltimore Colts remains up in the air.

After conferring with Coach Don Shula, Morrall said Sunday night he would decide in a few days whether he would continue his career in the National Football League.

Jacklin May Become New Golden Boy

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Sports Writer

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (AP) — England's Tony Jacklin set out today on the golden trail in the world of golf and for once the Big Three of the past decade were on the sidelines.

The Big Three never figured in the 1969 British Open Golf Championships which 25-year-old Jacklin returned to his home shores by shooting a four-under-par 280 over 72 holes last week.

The trio which dominated the game for years, became millionaires and gave golf a magic halo are of course:

—Arnold Palmer, 40, of Latrobe, Pa., who never even bothered to come here this time although he regarded the British Open title he won twice with respect and affection.

—Jack Nicklaus, the Golden Bear from Columbus, Ohio, failed to whip Lytham's 6,848-yard course. He finished sixth with 285, one over par and prize money of $3,300—the sum he spends on golf jackets and tee pegs.

—Gary Player, the Ebullient South African, who finished 23rd with a 292 for a miniscule prize of $540.

Nicklaus has not won a big one in two years. Palmer has been searching for answers to the eternal question: "When do you retire?" And Player, even at 34, is looking back over his shoulder at the next generation.

All of which suits Jacklin, now on his way to the same pinnacles.

With a new home to furnish, a baby expected in the autumn, a game toughened on the American circuit and a bright and witty personality, Tony may wind up in another Big Three one day.

The real survivor is Mark McCormack, Chicago lawyer, fairly good amateur player and the man who got the idea to build the Palmer-Nicklaus-Player stable by handling their affairs.

Guess who is Jacklin's manager, backed him with cash expenses until the English lad can hit the jackpot? McCormack.

Haynie Wins Open

TORONTO (AP) — After a disastrous 8 on the par-4 10th hole Saturday, Sandra Haynie got "really charged up" Sunday and went out to win the $22,0 Canadian Women's Open Golf Championship by five strokes.

Gilbert Close To Signing With Braves

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Chris Gilbert who played in the backfield at Texas, did not sign a contract with the Fort Worth Braves Sunday, but Braves' owner Tommy Mercer said he was optimistic about reaching an agreement with the young speedster soon.

Mercer, contacted at the Houston International Airport, told the Fort Worth Sar-Telegram, "Our chances for signing Chris are great. I am very optimistic. We're so close to getting."

Gilbert was the 5th-round draft choice by the New York Jets, but has been unable to resolve a problem over the size of his bonus with the world champs. The all-time leading ground-gainer in the Southwest Conference, Gilbert turned down a Jets' offer on July 2 and received a contract offer from Mercer.

"After talking things over with Mr. Mercer," Gilbert said by telephone after Sunday's meeting, "I feel at this point I'm closer to signing with the Fort Worth Braves than I am with the New York Jets. One more meeting and I'll know for sure."

"I hope I can come to terms," Gilbert said of Fort Worth's entry in the Texas Division of the Continental Football League. "It's a great opportunity for me to stay in Texas, and I feel I can have a great future with Mr. Mercer."

Sunday's meeting between Mercer, Gilbert and Gilbert's father lasted an hour and a half, and Mercer said another meeting would be held later this week in Fort Worth.

"Chris just wants to be sure that he's doing the best thing for himself," Mercer said.

'Unpredictable Joe' Delays Revelation

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

HEMPSTEAD, N.Y. (AP) — The Joe Namath mystery case had another chapter today following an "automatic" called by the unpredictable quarterback at the line of scrimmage that delays for at least another 36 hours any revelation of his plans.

The line of scrimmage, manned by some 35 news media representatives, and hundreds of interested onlookers, was set Sunday at the Tower C dormitory on the Hofstra University campus here, where the New York Jets veterans were required to report by 6 p.m.

Persistent reports had speculated that Namath might show, but he slept through a noon celebration ceremony, at which the Jets of the American Football League received their championship rings, finally rose, drove out to pick up his girl friend at the airport and then stopped off at Central Park for a softball game.

But, at 4 p.m., Namath changed the play, and Tower C buzzed with the news that he put in a call to Coach Weeb Ewbank.

"He stated he has a business deal to finalize and he will do that, then get back to me Tuesday night or Wednesday," Ewbank explained. "He was apologetic that he wasn't here and I got the impression that when he finished his business he would be ready to go."

Ewbank, however, said he did not know whether the business involved concerned Bachelors III, the swinging East Side night spot reportedly frequented by gamblers, that is at the center of the dispute between Namath and pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle.

A call to Namath's East Side apartment elicited the response from a friend that Namath was going to Miami to take care of some business concerning Broadway Joe's, a food franchise in which the quarterback has a financial interest.

Namath would not talk to reporters, thus maintaining the mystery surrounding the ultimate intentions of the shaggy-haired Super Bowl star, who announced his retirement rather than sell his interest in Bachelors III as ordered by Rozelle.

However, by placing the call to Ewbank and getting the coach's tacit approval to take care of his business, Namath technically had permission to be AWOL at camp and, therefore, did not violate the contract reportedly paying him $500,000 over a three-year period.

That fact heightened the suspicion that Namath may eventually challenge Rozelle and the pro football establishment in court by instituting an anti-trust suit, claiming he is being deprived of earning a living.

Under the theory advanced, Namath eventually will turn up in camp, renounce his retirement and announce his readiness to play, but without selling Bachelors III. That supposedly will leave Rozelle, who had ordered Namath to sell or face suspension, no alternative but to suspend him. Namath then will sue.

Clippers Shut Out Jets 1-0

The Snyder Clippers strengthened their first place standing with a narrow 1-0 victory over the Jets, in Senior Teenage League action here Saturday night.

It was a pitchers' duel all the way as Bruce Almond shut out the Jets on only three hits, while the Clippers managed five hits off of Jet pitcher Charley Johnson.

The Clippers got their one run in the top of the fourth on a walk by Milton Cates, Bruce Almond's double, and successive singles by Bruce Bell and Mike Levens. Cates tallied the run.

The Jets had one serious scoring threat, in the sixth inning. Pitcher Almond struck out the first two Jet batters in that frame, but then gave up a single to Richie Thompson, a double to Bobby Thompson, and a walk to Ronnie Lewis. Larry Wall then grounded out, second to first, to end the inning.

The Clippers managed to get men on base in every inning except the sixth, but the Jets would buckle down and get them out without any damage, other than the one run in the fourth.

Terry Arnold hit a double for the Jets, while the other singles for the Clippers were by Jim Patrick and Joe Wilson.

Cowboy Rookies In Running Drill

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Wide receiver Reggie Rucker, a rookie from Boston University, covered nearly two miles Sunday in a 12-minute running drill at the training camp of the Dallas Cowboys.

Rucker, a free agent, was the fastest of the little men—under 200 pounds. Tom Stincie, a third round draft pick from Michigan, covered a mile and three-quarters to lead the big men. He stands 6-foot-3½ and weighs 230.

In an afternoon drill, Roger Staubach, Heisman trophy winner in 1963 for Navy, teamed with Bob Belden of Notre Dame and Indiana's George Wortley to do most of the passing.

Coach Tom Landry said he was impressed with the running of rookie Claxton Welch, a ninth round choice from Oregon.

Phil Niekro Embarrassed By His Kid Brother Joe

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Oh brother. How will Atlanta's Phil Niekro explain his annual pitching confrontation with kid brother, Joe, to the rest of the family?

This one seemed stacked for Phil. After all, he had won 14 games—11 more than Joe, and he had the pennant-contending Braves behind him while Joe's San Diego Padres are going nowhere.

But this is the era of youth and 24-year-old Joe beat Phil, who's 30, 1-0 Sunday on a six-hitter that kept the Braves from reclaiming first place in the National League's West Division.

Joe got the only run of the game in the fourth inning when Nate Colbert doubled and scored on Ivan Murrell's single. the Braves' best chance to score ended in the sixth when left fielder Larry Stahl cut down a runner at the plate. The runner? It was, of course, Phil Niekro.

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, New York swept a doubleheader from Montreal 4-3 and 9-7 to keep pace in the East with first-place Chicago, which won a pair from Philadelphia 6-0 and 6-4.

In other games, Pittsburgh split a doubleheader with St. Louis, winning 3-0 before losing 4-2, Houston rapped Cincinnati 9-6 and San Francisco edged Los Angeles 3-2.

In the American League, Washington swept a doubleheader from New York 5-4 and 10-1, Minnesota took two from Seattle, 5-2 and 5-4, Detroit split with Cleveland, winning 6-1 before losing 9-4, Kansas City and Chicago divided two, the Royals taking the first 8-4 and the White Sox the nightcap, 4-1. California beat Oakland 8-5 in the first game and then lost 7-2 and Baltimore dropped Boston 6-3.

The Niekros had split their first two career meetings, Phil winning in 1967 and Joe last season.

Phil gained some satisfaction by tagging his brother for a single but it was all but wiped out when, after moving to second on Felipe Alou's hit, he was thrown out by Stahl on another single by Tony Gonzales.

Ed Kranepool, who had tied the score with a sacrifice fly in the first game for the Mets, won it with an eighth inning double that scored pinch runner Bud Harrelson from first base.

Then Tommie Agee cracked two homers and scored four runs as New York wiped out a four-run deficit to take the nightcap from the Expos. Rusty Staub homered and drove in six runs in the doubleheader for Montreal.

Ken Holtzman won his first game in more than a month, pitching a four-hitter for the Cubs in the opener against the Phillies. It was Holtzman's fifth shutout of the season but his first complete game since May 20 and first victory since June 10.

Ernie Banks drove in four runs in the nightcap with a single, triple and sacrifice fly. The triple was the first in two seasons for the veteran slugger.

Roberto Clemente cracked a three-run homer in the eighth inning of the opener, breaking up a pitching duel between Pittsburgh's Jim Bunning and Bob Gibson of the Cardinals. Gibson struck out six and ran his career total to 2,002, becoming the 20th pitcher in history to pass 2,000 strikeouts.

Nelson Briles pitched six perfect innings in the nightcap before surrendering a hit. Then, after Pittsburgh had reached Briles for two runs tying the game, the Cards salvaged the split on Tim McCarver's tie-breaking sacrifice fly and three walks which forced in another run.

Houston exploded for seven runs in the seventh inning and whipped Cincinnati. Doubles by Hector Torres, John Edwards, Doug Rader and Julio Gotay keyed the Astros' big inning. Fred Whitfield homered for the Reds.

Bobby Bonds drilled a run-scoring single and a homer, backing Mike Mcjcormick's six-hit pitching as the Giants trimmed the Dodgers. Homers by Maury Wills and Manny Mota accounted for both Los Angeles runs.

Mutual Funds Performing Poorly On Falling Market

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analysis

NEW YORK (AP) — Many highly regarded mutual funds that less than a year ago were the rage of the stock market are now performing so poorly that their losses far exceed the decline in the market as a whole.

Their performance—or lack of it—seems to puncture many widely held beliefs regarding the ability of funds to outperform the market. In fact, the poor showing of the funds seems to have intensified the recent market drop.

Many of the declines in asset value per share were more than 20 per cent during the first half of the year, and some losses even exceeded 30 per cent. In the same period the N.Y. Stock Exchange Index fell only 8.1 per cent.

Heavily emphasized in the funds' sales literature is the assurance that money invested in their shares will be professionally managed, the inference being that the investor will have more protection than if he invested on his own. A fee is charged for this management.

So poor has been the record of the majority of funds that the compilation of "best performers" is really a list of funds that have suffered the smallest losses. Only one major fund seems to have managed a gain in the six months.

Some of the severest declines were suffered by funds that not many months ago were surrounded by an aura of certain success after seemingly cracking the code that marked the route to profits.

The highly touted Enterprise Fund, which in 1967 ran up an astonishing gain of more than 113 per cent, dropped 20.3 per cent in asset value per share during the first half of 1969.

The Fletcher Capital Fund and the Fletcher Fund, which are managed by the same firm that guides Enterprise, registered losses of 24.8 per cent and 27.6 per cent respectively. These losses have deepened since June 30.

Statistics compiled by the Nuveen Corporation, a brokerage house, reveal a story that apparently belies some of the popular claims of the funds, such as their alleged ability to cushion losses for small investors.

Nuveen analyzed the performance of 327 funds with assets in excess of $1 million. Of these, only the Templeton Growth Fund managed to increase its asset value in the six months, advancing by 8.7 per cent. The other 326 declined.

In fact, only 51 of the funds managed to do better than the Dow Jones Industrial Average; that is, they managed to hold their losses to less than 7.5 per cent.

The performance of funds also influences strongly the per share valuation of stocks in which they invest, and in this manner, it can be argued, their recent poor performance has deepened the sharp market decline of 1969.

Junior Editors Quiz on VIKING SHIPS

QUESTION: With such fragile-looking ships, how could the Vikings have made long ocean voyages?

* * *

ANSWER: Maybe the Viking ships were fragile-looking, but actually they were masterpieces of ship design and building, much more modern than other sailing ships of their period (700-1100 A.D.). Notice the low, lean shape, with bow and stern sharp at the water line, but lifting high above. This meant the ship's bow would rise high over a wave. If a big comber came racing up astern, the stern would rise above the water also. Being low to the water meant such ships would sail very well, because all the wind's force would act on the sail. The light hulls also means that oarsmen could handle them easily while going in and out of harbors, up rivers, or when the wind came from ahead. In such cases, they could drop both sail and mast and depend on the oars alone. In construction, too, these ships were far from fragile, for they were beautifully built of solid oak. Add the stern, rugged fighting spirit of the Vikings themselves and you can see how they could sail their Dragons and Long Serpents far out over the seas to such distant lands as Greenland and the then unknown coast of North America.

Columnist Opens His Mail Again

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Illness or disability causes the average employe to miss 5.4 days of work yearly.

How much do you spend on your pet dog? Probably about $115 annually — unless you are one of those owners who like to splurge by ornamenting their pooches with $25 rhinestone collars and minkcoats that range from $150 to $1,000. Some $3 billion will be spent in 1969 caring for the nation's 26 million canine pets.

What are the chances that you will suffer some kind of injury this year? Slightly more than one out of four. So—take care.

Poor people are more likely than the wealthy to develop arthritis. On the other hand, people with reasonably high incomes but low education levels are more likely to take their own lives. A recent study found suicide rates excessive among machinists, plumbers, carpenters and electricians.

Quotable notables: "I write at high speed because boredom is bad for my health. It upsets my stomach more than anything else. I also avoid green vegetables. They're grossly overrated."—Noel Coward.

Boating has become probably America's fastest growing recreation. About 42 million will take to the water in boats this summer. The number is expected to rise to 97 million by the year 2000, when it may become as hard to find a place to park a boat as it is now to park a car.

Sew sew: Last year women home sewers stitched out more than 300 million garments—an amount equal to a third of all the dresses, coats, suits, slips and blouses turned out in factories.

Worth remembering: "Never contradict your wife. Listen awhile and she'll contradict herself."

History lesson: Can you name the U.S. presidents who bore the following nicknames: "Colossus of Debate," "King Andy the 1," "Stocking-foot Orator," and "Sphinx." They were John Adams, Andrew Johnson, William McKinley, and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

It was Robert Louis Stevenson who observed, "If your morals make you dreary, depend upon it they are wrong."

Student Support For Radical Action Fading

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Student support for radical action is diminishing and militants may be unable to engineer many more massive demonstrations, an educator says.

Gustave Arlt, president of the United States Council of Graduate Schools, said "the bulk of the students" realize campus administrators have tried to solve legitimate grievances and will not be pushed into precipitate action by revolutionaries.

Arlt spoke Saturday after presiding over a week-long conference of graduate school deans.

London's famous Pall Mall was named for a form of croquet called Paille Maille played in France more than 300 years ago.

Continues To Shine Shoes At 96

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — At 96 you'd think Philip Racciopa would quit.

But he just continues to keep busy shining shoes.

"I feel better if I do something," he says as he buffs away in his South Philadelphia shop. "If not, I sleep, and that's no good. I need the exercise."

Racciopa, a stoutish, slightly bent six-footer with still a lot of his own hair, has been polishing shoes for 65 years—and boasts he still delivers the best shine in town.

Before he started shining shoes, he was, he says proudly, "a pick and shovel man" in Atlantic City, N.J.

Racciopa came to America from Italy early in 1880, and never learned to read or write English. He's been a widower 17 years and three of his five children are still living.

ROSWELL RIGSBY

VERY SPECIAL!!
SPANISH ARCHITECTURE

Mottled purple slate entry with see-through wrought iron invites your attention to the living-dining area with it's swinging chandeliers and luscious golden carpet . . . A second glance from the entry-way reveals the ornately hand carved beams against the white plastered cathedral ceiling of the family room. Through the door, your eyes fall on a fireplace of white Spanish brick studded with colorful tile, patterned from Mexico. Cabinet and dressing room doors throughout the house are delicately grooved with three rows of diamonds at top and bottom and accented with shades of turquoise and gold. Swinging chandeliers in the family room depicts the architecture of Old Spain, and as the family room wanders into the breakfast area a gigantic tulip swings down to light the rich foil background of at the sides of the bay window. The childrens wing has two bedrooms and bath has rich red carpet and accents of white and gold. The large master bedroom also has a sitting room with built-in book shelves, deep turquoise carpet, huge walk-in closet and a dressing room and bath that defies description . . . There's much more!! . . . COME and SEE for yourself. 4507 El Paso. There's nothing like it anywhere. Let this be your home.

SPECIAL GIFT — Thelma Nunley, a resident of Snyder for the past 16 years, has joined the staff at Hinshaw's House of Flowers 2804 Avenue S, "We're glad to have her with us," said Herschel Hinshaw, who operates the firm along with his wife, Pat. Hinshaw's has joined Speed-A-Gift, a delivery service connected with floral telegraph delivery. Customers now can send flowers in any of 12 separate quality gift items, such as the chafing dish held by Thelma. All you have to do is dial 573-9600 for delivery anywhere in the United States.

Hinshaw's Continues To Expand Its Services Here

Hinshaw's House of Flowers, 2804 Avenue S, is continuing to expand its service for the benefit of its customers.

Over the years, Hinshaw's has earned a reputation for providing fresh flowers for all occasions. Now, thanks to the House of Flowers' membership in Speed-A-Gift, a delivery service connected with floral telegraph delivery, Hinshaw's patrons can send gifts anywhere in the Unfed States. All they have to do is place their order with Hinshaw's at 573-9600 or 573-9700.

You can still send fresh flowers to that special person you care for. And, if you prefer, you can also send them in any of 12 gift items, including a pitcher and bowl, cup and saucer, watering can, Ye Olde Mug, Brentwood box, silent butler, tea kettle, silver bowl, coffee grinder, ice bucket, fondue set or chafing dish.

"Speed-A-Gift has to send the gift our customers choose," Hershell Hinshaw, owner of the House of Flowers along with his wife, Pat, pointed out. "They can't make any substitutions," he added. "If you want your flowers sent in a Brentwood box, it has to go in a Brentwood box. Speed-A-Gift cannot substitute a tea kettle or any other gift items for your choice."

However, all of the gifts are quality items that will remind that favorite someone of your thoughtfulness long after the flowers are gone.

Hinshaw's membership in Speed-A-Gift is part of an overall plan to increase the House of Flowers' gift lines. More and more, customers are discovering that, while you can "say it with flowers," you can say it more eloquently with flowers plus chocolates or some other gift.

The Hinshaw gift line has been expanded to include the world famous Mira-Flor chocolates, candles, candle holders, candlelabra, wall plaques, brass items, wood wares, gifts of pottery, coffee grinders, coffee mugs on trees and many other quality gifts. Picture frames by Charles D. Burns of Boston also are available.

Of course, along with its gift lines, Hinshaw's still provides its patrons with fresh cut flowers, potted plants and arrangements, artistically designed to delight the receiver at any time of the ytar as well as on special occasions.

While doctors consider the common cold a minor ailment, it accounts for one quarter of the total time lost for illness each year. The average cold lasts from three to seven days and results in a minimum of 180 million work days lost nationally, according to a market research project.

Violence Erupts In San Diego

SAN DIEGO (AP) — One person was shot fatally during an outbreak of sniper fire, arson robberies and looting touched off after arrests in the predominantly Negro southeast section of San Diego Sunday night.

An unidentified man was killed by a shotgun blast fired by the owner of a liquor store being robbed just before midnight, police said.

Police gunfire wounded three other persons who officers said had been shooting at them with a rifle. The violence began at dusk and subsided around midnight, except for sporadic incidents.

Several persons were hurt by thrown rocks and shattered glass, authorities said. No police injuries were reported. Police Capt. William Kiltnder said "anybody who wasn't black" had rocks tossed at him.

The trouble started when local residents telephoned police of fighting among a large group gathered in a park. Officers investigating the complaints said they were taunted and pelted with rocks from the crowd.

Shots were fired at police from the crowd in the park after officers stopped an automobile for a routine investigation and the occupants resisted, police said.

Authorities reported eight arrests on charges of attempted murder, three on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon and 15 on suspicion of failure to disperse.

Fire Hits Business Area Of Greenville

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Firemen fought a blaze in downtown Greenville for almost four hours Sunday and finally put it out after it gutted a half block of buildings.

Fire Chief Woodrow Wallace said the blaze started in a grocery store and spread into a cafe, billiard hall and a barber shop before it was extinguished.

Wallace estimated damage at $100,000. The fire was in the Market Square area, he said.

Harrowing Experience Not New To Moon Explorers

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —Who are they, these three men who will fly to the moon and thus inscribe their names alongside the greatest explorers in mankind's history?

Neil A. Armstrong, civilian, 38 years old, who will be the first to step onto the lunar surface; Air Force Col. Edwin E. Aldrin, 39, who will follow Armstrong down, and Air Force Lt. Col. Michael Collins, 38, who will remain in the command vehicle.

Armstrong, the Apollo 11 commander, has had three narrow brushes with death. His most harrowing experience occurred in March, 1966, after he steered Gemini 8 to the first space linkup, with an Agen satellite. Thirty minutes after docking, a Gemini jet thruster struck open and sent the combined vehicles into a wild spin.

Armstrong, undocked, fought Gemini 8 back into control and made a safe emergency landing in the Pacific.

His quick reflexes saved him again last year when a lunar landing training craft lost power and fell while he was piloting it. He ejected and parachuted to earth.

Armstrong, native of Wapakoneta, Ohio, flew 78 combat missions in Korea as a naval aviator, bailing out once when his jet was hit by antiaircraft fire. He left the military in 1952 and joined a government flight research program in 1955 and flew the X-15 rocket plane to more than 200,000 feet high and at more than 4,000 miles an hour. He became an astronaut in 1962.

Aldrin, born in Montclair, N. J., was graduated third in a class of 475 at the U.S. Military Academy in 1951. He later attended Massachusetts Institute of Technology and received a doctor of science degree in astronautics. He received jet pilot wings in 1952 and flew 52 combat missions in Korea, gaining credit for downing two enemy MIG 15 aircraft.

His mother's name, appropriately, was Marion Moon.

Aldrin and Collins were selected as astronauts in 1963. Aldrin flew on the four-day Gemini 12 trip and is the present world space-walking champion, with more than 5½ hours outside his orbiting ship.

Collins also has space walking experience, a total of 85 minutes on Gemini 10 in 1966. Born in Rome, Italy, the son of an Army major general, he was graduated from West Point in 1952 and chose an Air Force career.

Before becoming an astronaut, Collins was a test pilot at the Flight Test Center, Edwards Air Force Base, Calif.

When they were named to the Apollo 11 crew last January, it was not certain theirs would be the moon landing mission. If something had gone wrong on Apollo 9 or 10 they would have had to fly a repeat of one of those tests, pushing the landing off until Apollo 12 or later.

"We're certainly glad it worked out the way it did," Armstrong commented. "It's a great honor to be selected for any mission in the Apollo program; this one, of course, in particular."

Collins originally was on the Apollo 8 crew but was replaced last year after he underwent surgery for removal of a bone spur on his spine. He said: "Particularly in my case, it's a matter of circumstance. I don't think there's any Apollo mainline crew that couldn't take over and do the job of the first lunar landing. The three of us having arrived at this particular spot has involved a lot of ancient history and a lot of circumstances."

On the moon there are no oceans or atmosphere to destroy surface features. Thus, it may retain a record dating back more than four billion years to the infancy of the solar system.

Was the moon once a part of the earth? Is it a wanderer from space, trapped in earth's gravitational field? Were the earth and moon formed at essentially the same time, perhaps from the same giant gas cloud?

The rocks also could answer the ages-old scientific debate over whether the moon's craters were formed by volcanic action or by meteor hits. Most experts believe both types are on the moon, but there are some who hold tenaciously to one theory or the other.

Apollo 11's rocks should keep geologists busy for years. But because they come from only one small area of the moon, they will only whet the appetites of scientists.

So other astronauts will go to the moon and collect more bits of this alien world.

The space agency has the funds for three additional moon landings in the next year and is seeking money and authority for six additional missions.

If future flights are approved, astronauts will fly into suspected volcanic areas, riverlike channels, fracture zones and into the center of craters, gradually extending their stay-time on the surface to several days.

From these early explorations, NASA expects to learn if it would be worthwhile to build an Antarctica-type base on the moon. It could be manned by 20 or 30 persons, with crewmen being exchanged from time to time.

Russia has hinted at such a plan. At several international space conferences, the United States, Russia and other nations have discussed establishing an international camp on the moon, operated by scientists and engineers of many lands.

By placing huge radio telescopes there, scientists could peer deep into space, seeking clues to the formation of the universe. The moon also could become the home of specialized industries. For, as knowledge of chemistry, metallurgy and electronics becomes more advanced, it is possible that many industrial processes might emerge that must be carried out in a pure vacuum like that on the moon. Among the possibilities are perfectly round ball bearings, precision optical lenses and superstrong materials.

If man one day goes to the planets, the moon could be a stopping off place, a gas station, with fuel manufactured in lunar refineries.

A major race to the planets could develop between the United States and Russia. The Soviets have conducted a much more vigorous program of unmanned planetary exploration and have said they would like to land cosmonauts on Mars in the early 1980s.

NASA officials don't believe it's possible for Americans to attempt a planetary expedition until mid-1980s, unless it becomes a crash effort.

America's future course in space may be set in September after President Nixon receives a report he reqquested from a blue ribbon task force. The committee, made up of Vice President Spiro Agnew, presidential science adviser Lee DuBridge, NASA administrator Thomas O. Paine and Air Force Secretary Robert Seamans, was asked to recommend space goals for the next decade.

The task force is expected to recommend a balanced program calling for continued manned flight, lunar exploration, orbiting space stations and at least consideration of manned planetary missions. It probably also will recommend development of lower cost space transportation—cheaper rockets and reusable spaceships that can land like conventional airplanes.

Space agency officials would like a go-ahead to develop a huge multipurpose space station for launching in the mid-1970s. As a preliminary step it plans to orbit a two-story laboratory in late 1971.

The lab, called a workshop, will be visited by three different three-man crews, with the longest remaining aboard 56 days. They will conduct medical, scientific and engineering experiments to determine how effectively man can work for long periods in weightless space.

The Defense Department had planned to launch two-man research labs at the same time period to determine what military tasks man could perform in space. There were charges of duplication by some congressmen, and last month defense officials cancelled the project after spending $1.3 billion on it.

NASA's large space station plan envisions a research lab that might orbit for 10 or more years. It initially would have a crew of 10 or 12 and would be serviced from earth by a series of shuttle flights. Eventually it could expand to hold 100 or more men and women and could be used for both civilian and military purposes.

Offshore Leasing Resumption Asked

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Oilwell drilling contractors have asked the federal government to return to an orderly schedule of offshore lease sales.

Such sales were suspended by the Interior Department after the February oil spill in the Santa Barbara Channel off the California Coast.

"We respectfully suggest emergency conditions existed only at Santa Barbara—and no longer exist at Santa Barbara," said M.H. Wheless Jr., president of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors.

"There is an urgent need that a schedule of lease sales be announced promptly."

Members of the association drilled more than 95 per cent of the 1,500 wells completed in United States offshore areas last year. With an investment in excess of $1 billion, they operate nearly 200 mobile, tender and platform drilling rigs.

Wheless made his observations in a statement submitted to the U.S. Geological Survey in response to offshore drilling regulation changes proposed by the Interior Department.

"The impact of the Santa Barbara incident has spread far beyond the Santa Barbara area," he said.

Wheless said the cancellation of scheduled lease sales in the Gulf of Mexico threatens to create a major slowdown in drilling activity in that area. He said some offshore units are idle now and that several mobile units have moved to foreign waters to obtain work.

"Most of the existing leases have been explored," he said. "Unless another lease sale is held at an early date, a serious decline in drilling activity would mean many idle rigs and a substantial reduction in purchases and employment."

He said he contained development of offshore natural resources is of importance to all citizens.

"There is a serious need at this time to find much larger quantities of oil and gas to satisfy much higher consuming levels in the near future," he said.

"Offshore waters have been the most prolific source of new oil and gas supplies in recent years. Now is not the time to disrupt the development of the nation's most promising source of needed additional oil and gas."

Wheless said offshore developments have made important contributions to the economy.

An estimated $1¼ billion were spent on the 1,500 wells drilled last year. This included $475 million for drilling contractors, $270 million for steel casing and equipment, and $250 million for supporting services.

Wheless said a resumption of offshore lease sales is essential so contractors and suppliers can intelligently plan relocation of rig, termination of personnel, and the rescheduling of financial obligatios.

"The Santa Barbara oil leak was an isolated incident which should not be permitted to overshadow an otherwise excellent development record," he said.

"More than 12,000 wells were drilled in U.S. offshore waters the last 20 years without a similar accident. This constitutes an excellent record, one which demonstrates that industry and government agencies have conducted offshore operations in a safe and efficient manner. This record does not justify the postponement of all leasing activities.
