Sun Vue Fertilizer Operates Multiple Service Business

Sun Vue gets its beginning in the Hart area in 1963, when Jim Stanford operated the business west of Jones Seed and Farm Supply.

Primarily, at the beginning, Stanford was involved in checking crops for fertilizer needs and soil analysis. Serving a six county area, Stanford and his partners, both of Lockney, began checking crops in the Plainview area in 1956. This led into the fertilizer business for them.

Now a full fledged fertilizer business, both liquid and dry fertilizer is available at the hometown plant. The fertilizer is manufactured by Smith-Douglas, a subsidiary of Borden's.

Stanford said that liquid manufacturing plant in Lockney provides mixed liquids for the company. All liquid grades except anhydrous ammonia are made at the Lockney plant.

Sun Vue, located in various places, has chosen the plains area for their plants, having one in Silverton, Cotton Center, Hart and the home office at Lockney.

Checking crops is still a service offered by Sun Vue, but on somewhat a different basis than most fertilizer dealers, Stanford said.

"We do this on an independent contract....inspect and consult with recommendations...and charge for that service. This service, being paid for, then allows the farmer to buy the needed materials from whomever they choose, rather than being obligated to purchase ours."

"We deal mostly in fertilizers and farm chemicals but have some livestock feeds," Stanford stated. "We primarily offer the same service as other businesses in our line, including custom dry and liquid fertilizer application, ammonia rigs furnished with purchase of chemicals, soil tests and assistance in any way possible to the farmers."

Herbicide rigs are usually owned by farmers or done by custom workers, Stanford said.

Calvin Alexander, one of the regular employees at Sun Vue, takes a leave of absence in the summer and does such custom work.

Liquid Morea, a protein supplement for livestock and a dry mineral supplement known as Catalyx, is supplied to area ranchers by Sun Vue. Pioneer and Excel milo and corn seed is also available from the business.

Employees, in addition to Alexander and Stanford, are David Irons, Danny Godfrey, Mike Menchaca, Debbie Godfrey and Clinton Holiman.

Stanford, who lives in Plainview, drives to Hart each day. He and his wife, Bonnie, have three children, Sandra, 10; Cynthia, 9; and James "Chip", 7. He is a member of the Hart Lions Club and the family attends the Methodist Church in Plainview.

Eighteen years experience in the business, plus a Master's Degree in Ag Education makes Stanford a valuable asset to the business. Added to that, a Master's Degree in Entomology and eighteen years experience by the partners makes a farmer even more confident that his problems are in good hands when he comes to Sun Vue for advice.

'Sonny' Mancias Injured Friday

Jose Artemio "Sonny" Mancias was released Tuesday evening from Central Plains Hospital in Plainview where he had been hospitalized since Friday as the result of injuries received in a two-vehicle collision about six miles north Edmonson.

Mancias was the driver of a 1969 auto that was involved in a collision with a 1972 pickup driven by Tommy Henry Terrell, 33, of Kress.

Cauliflower: A cabbage with a college education.

Louise came home in January with a poor report card.

"Well, what happened?" demanded her father.

"You know how it is, Dad," explained Louise. "Everything is marked down after the holidays."

The class was in the middle of their first lesson on baking a cake. "Sharla," said Mrs. Scribner, "please go into the kitchen and see if our cake is done yet. Just stick a knife in the cake and see if it comes out clean." In a few minutes Sharla was back. "Oh, Mrs. Scribner, the knife came out so clean," she said excitedly, "that I stuck in all the other dirty knives too!"
