PLANE TO BE BROUGHT TO NEW YORK SOON
FOR U. S. JAUNT

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Major James Fitzmaurice of the Bremen crew told Washington newspapermen today that he and his companions may fly their ship back to Germany.

Doing most of the talking for the German-Irish crew at a special conference with the newspaper men at the Mayflower hotel, Fitzmaurice also disclosed that the Bremen will be flown from Greenly Island in time for the fliers to begin an air tour of the country from New York next Wednesday.

If for any reason the Bremen cannot be used the sister Junkers plane will transport them over the country, he said.

"What do you think of Greenly Island?" Baron Von Huenefeld was asked.

"I never want to see it again," he said through an interpreter, while the other two fliers nodded approval.

The aviators plan to leave tomorrow morning by air for New York.

SMITH PASSES FIRST TEST IN NOMINEE RACE

WASHINGTON, May 2.—By his sweeping victory in the California presidential primaries, Governor Alfred E. Smith has passed his first big test of strength in the race for the nomination at the Houston convention.

Herbert Hoover, who, like the New York executive, is showing his heels to his opponents in the fight for the republican nomination at Kansas City, has further advanced his lead by winning the 59 delegates in his home state, and stimulated the hopes of his supporters by polling a tremendous vote.

Two Opponents

With full delegates slates in the field for himself, Senator Reed of Missouri, and Senator Walsh of Montana, who like Smith, is a Catholic, and who had the backing of William C. McAdoo, Smith's bitter opponent in the Madison Square Garden nomination fight in 1924, the New York governor faced his first real convention in the California primary.

NEW RULING IS GIVEN OUT IN LIQUOR CASES

AUSTIN, May 2.—Two new liquor rulings were made Wednesday by the court of criminal appeals which at the same time reversed a fifteen year murder sentence and a five year robbery conviction.

Denying John Ware, under a Denton county liquor sentence, a rehearing, the court held that even when a raiding officer admits that he was not positive the premises he searched contained intoxicants, the search warrant is not invalidated when the defendant himself concedes presence of illicit stuff.

Previous Ruling Cited

This holding drew interest in view of the court's previous decisions that a warrant based only on "information and belief" is worthless. The distinction is seen, the court indicated, in that Ware, although attacking legality of the arresting officer's warrant, admitted in his appeal the presence of liquor.

The state split honors, however, the James Jackson case being reversed because the prosecution, although ostensibly proving Jackson had liquor for sale, did not establish whether it was spirituous, vinous or malt. That phase must be shown, the court decided. Jackson, who served a five year term in Hall county.

SWEEPING VICTORY IN CALIFORNIA IS BIG JAR TO OPPONENTS

WASHINGTON, May 2.—By his sweeping victory in the California presidential primaries, Governor Alfred E. Smith has passed his first big test of strength in the race for the nomination at the Houston convention.

Herbert Hoover, who, like the New York executive, is showing his heels to his opponents in the fight for the republican nomination at Kansas City, has further advanced his lead by winning the 59 delegates in his home state, and stimulated the hopes of his supporters by polling a tremendous vote.

Two Opponents

With full delegates slates in the field for himself, Senator Reed of Missouri, and Senator Walsh of Montana, who like Smith, is a Catholic, and who had the backing of William C. McAdoo, Smith's bitter opponent in the Madison Square Garden nomination fight in 1924, the New York governor faced his first real convention in the California primary.

While all three democratic candidates were on the same footing, Hoover was unopposed in the republican voting.

Former Senator Phelan, who nominated McAdoo four years ago, headed the Smith delegate slate and Isador Dockweiler, democratic national committeeman from California, also was lined up for him.

In 1924 the democratic delegation from the coast state stuck to McAdoo for 99 ballots. On the 101st Smith got one, on the next the whole delegation swung to Walsh, and on the 103rd it went over to John W. Davis.

In basing California's 26 convention votes, Smith brought his claimed delegate total up to 494, or 239 1-2 short of the two-thirds necessary to nominate. His claims to 70, however, are disputed.

The balloting brought the total democratic delegates selected thus far to 670, or 63 1-2 less than the two-thirds majority, and leaves 430 to be chosen. With Virginia's convention, the last on the calendar, set for June 21.

The 29 Hoover gained boosted his total claimed delegates to 390, or 140 less than the required majority of 545. His claims to 458 delegates are disputed. His nearest opponent, Lorden, claims 239, of which 96 are not conceded by his opponents.

Republican delegates selected to date number 835, with 254 to be chosen, the last being the 19 in West Virginia May 29 when Hoover and Senator Goff of that state, fight it out in the primary.

In an effort to clinch the nomination.

The farmer, V. B. Gilmore, claims to have not been paid yet for the damages of running the grade through his field. According to officers and railroad officials today, he has built a fence across the dump and right of way and placed a sign there, warning, "all railroad men and survey boys keep out."

MAN HELD IN POISON PLOT WAIVES PRELIMINARY HEARING AND BOND IS SET AT $3,500 IN GEORGETOWN CASE

GEORGETOWN, May 2.—Steve Machac, Bohemian farmer, of Granger, who was arrested yesterday and charged with attempting to poison Rosa David and her family of four last Saturday, today waived preliminary hearing and his bond, which had not been made, was set at $3,500.

Machac, in a statement to District Attorney Harry Dolan, denied any knowledge of the attempt to poison Mrs. David, and said he had not bought poison, as charged. District Attorney Dolan said that Saturday Mrs. David purchased some meat which she hung in a well where it would keep. Noticing, later, that something was wrong with the meat, she washed it and poured the water into a hog trough. The hogs died a few minutes later.

MARYE and MOM
Their Letters
BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

Marye, dear: I've a little time to spare while the clothes are soaking so I'll finish what I wanted to tell you last time. It's so nice to have a washing machine. Frank helped father buy it for me.

Well, Marye, Mr. Northrup said that a man from South America must think American girls are just waiting to be made love to because they give the men they go out with so many chances for it. Down there, girls are always chaperoned, even after they're engaged. And he said that they didn't respect a husband who failed to protect his wife because, with them, a husband always did that. If he didn't, it meant he didn't care what outside interest she might have. And no decent man could be like that.

So it must look to your friend Pedro as if Alan is either a fool or a scoundrel. For you can't completely Americanize anyone who has grown up in another country. All this jazz, cocktail drinking and cigar smoking that most of you young people indulge in must make a foreigner think the American boys and girls have cut loose from all respectability.

I'll grant that individually some of you take steps now and then to correct the impression. No doubt you Marye, have given your friend a better opinion of you than he had before. But you can't just be sure that what's in his mind isn't flattering to you or your husband either. And maybe some little remark you make will put an end to his harassing. For I honestly can't see how anyone but one of you youngsters yourselves can really believe that you aren't so bad as you seem. I know I've heard girls say things right here in this house that no girl could have said twenty years ago without giving a false impression. But their boy friends don't seem to pay any attention to what they say, no matter how shocking it is.

You can't expect a foreigner to be like that, though. And when a woman is toying with the thought of love I guess the man with her isn't going to be too dumb to know it. So if he's got the same thing on his own mind, Unspoken thoughts aren't so rarely read as you might suppose. But even if you don't mind making a scene with this man you might remember that Alan is deserving of more respect.

Sincerely love,
MOM

NEXT: Marye agrees to drop Pedro.

ROTARY TAKES FIRST BALLOT ON DIRECTORS

MUSICAL NUMBERS AND "SAFETY" TALK ARE MAIN FEATURES

With musical numbers by members of the chorus of the Rotary pageant, which was so well received at the recent District conference, an address upon "Safety Measures" and the initial balloting on directors as featured members of the Lubbock Rotary club and approximately 30 guests had a busy luncheon session at Hotel Lubbock today.

The meeting, the regular weekly gathering of the organization, was begun at noon and lasted until 1:30 p. m.

Railroad Man Speaks
R. F. "Mike" Bayless, general freight and passenger agent of the Panhandle and Santa Fe lines here, was in charge of the first of the program, which consisted of an address by A. R. Tillman, of Albuquerque, an official of the Santa Fe system. Mr. Tillman quoted statistics to show that accidents are mainly caused by the carelessness of principals and issued a warning to his audience in regard to racing trains to grade crossings.

Upon the conclusion of Mr. Tillman's talk, Wallace W. Rix, director of the pageant, led the musicians in several numbers, including "The Song of Spain," "It's A Long, Long Way to Tipperary," "Where The River Shannon Flows" and the Rotary song, words of which were written by Mrs. R. D. Erwin, of Lubbock.

Musicians and members of the pageant cast present as guests of the club were:

Mrs. Carl Scoggin, Lynn Williams, Homer Grant, Violet Grayson, McKnight, Warren Clemm, Harry Blocker, Elma Waller, Misses Eugene Marshall and Ruth Rix, Messrs. Warren Clemm, Harry Blocker, Edgar Shelton, L. W. Pierpoint, H. S. Brown, L. M. Brooks, C. J. Atchison and Edgar Immon of the chorus; Mrs. R. A. Turrell, Misses Beulah Dunn, Margaret Hahell and Francis Lamer, Harmon Jenkins and Dr. Larson of Amarillo, of the orchestra; Misses Ruth Dunn, Mary Meador, Chan Rix, Mesdames George Field, Byron Dickinson, Sam Dunn, R. D. Erwin, Chas. Gray and Violet Grayson, McKnight of the cast.

Visitors Are Thanked
Following the musical numbers Rev. Walter P. Jennings, president of the club, thanked the visitors for the program and for their work in the conference, which, he said, "put the first District a score of years ahead."

Jed A. Rix, chairman of the conference executive committee, made a report concerning finances of the conference and the ballots for nomination of new directors were collected. Five places upon the directorate are open and today's vote will result in the choice of ten high men from which the five directors will be elected at next Wednesday's meeting.

Rev. B. F. Dickson of the Baptist church led the devotional and talks were made by Rev. E. P. Baile of Crofton and Mesdames Whitfield and Pulling. A violin solo was given by Miss Nannie Marie Pearson and a vocal number by Mrs. A. A. Baker. About twenty-five ladies were served iced tea and cake at the close of the program.

SENATOR WILLIAM E. BORAH

BORAH, THE UNBOSSSED, STILL FAR FROM WHITE HOUSE

EDITORS: This, the 19th in a series of Presidential Campaign Portraits written for The Journal and NEA Service by Robert Talley, tells the story of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho. Tomorrow's article will be about Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland.

BY ROBERT TALLEY
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, May 2.—For the better part of 20 years they have been talking about William E. Borah, of Idaho, as a candidate for president. He is often called "the abolitionist in the U. S. senate," but he probably is no nearer the nomination today than he ever was. For the House doubtless color his imagination.

For Senator Borah, technically a Republican, has the political misfortune of being too blamed independent to suit the tastes of the party leaders who stand behind him at every national convention and pull the strings from which the nomination dangles.

Sometimes Borah marches with the crowd, sometimes he marches alone. But always he alone he path that he has set out for himself after deep study of the question, regardless of party addition or political expediency.

capitol guides point him out to tourists from the senate galleries. There he sits at his flat-topped desk on the Republican side of the center aisle, four rows back from the vice president's rostrum. His wealth of wavy, dark hair is parted in the middle; his broad face is creased with deep lines, bushy brows overhang a pair of keenly penetrating blue eyes. His habitually gloomy expression seldom changes. He is 63 years old, and looks every day of it.

When Borah, stocky of build and generous of frame, stands up to speak there is something about him that reminds one of a huge bear. It is an instantaneous impression that even the stranger can not escape. Borah, admittedly one of the senate's greatest orators, is no flaming, fiery speaker. He does not shout, yet bang the desk or make motions like a man going through his morning exercises. Emphasis is limited to an occasional shake of his bushy head or a slight pause—ever so delicate—just before a word that he wishes to stress.

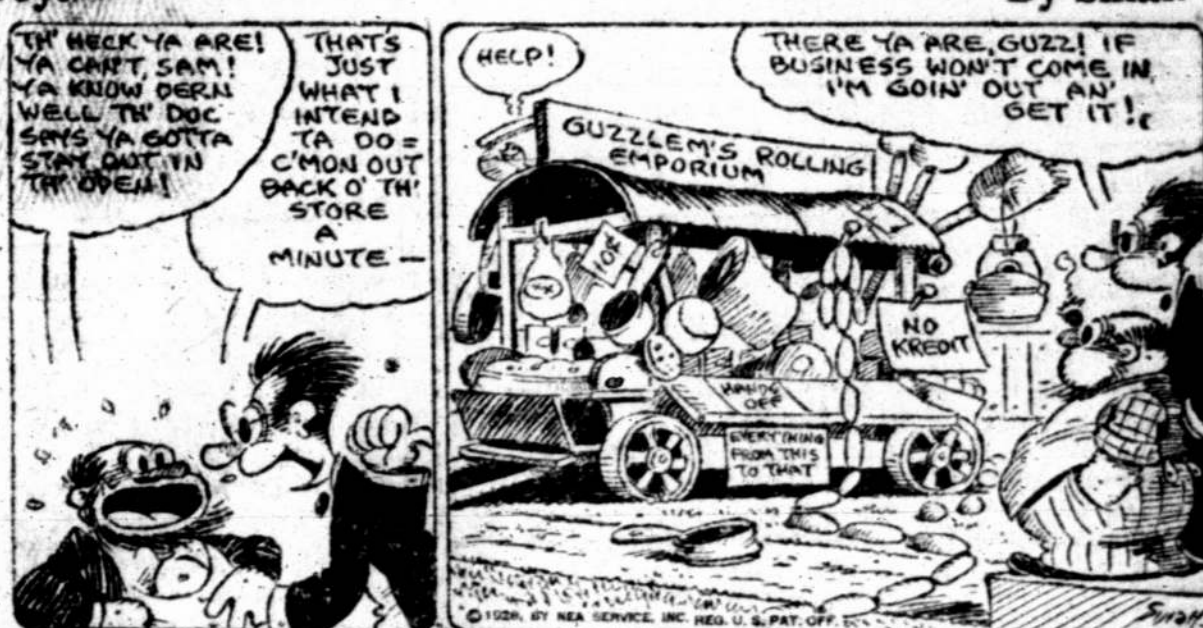

A political recluse, Senator Borah is much the same socially. He accepts few of the invitations for dinner engagements and the like, with which every prominent man in Washington is showered by artificial diplomats and aspiring hostesses. He maintains a home in neither Washington nor in Boise, Idaho, living in a small hotel apartment at each place. He does not drink or smoke, although he chews gum. Plain in action as he is in looks, Borah rides to and from the capitol every day in the street cars, often lugging a heavy load of books under his arm. He does not own an automobile, so when the White

Borah is that he is "anti-everything," which is easily understood, most of his great battles during 20 years in the senate have been against measures rather than proposing them. He was opposed to America's entry into the League of Nations, opposed to the child labor amendment, opposed to the soldier bonus, opposed to the Pacific pact, opposed to the World Court, opposed to the British debt funding arrangement, and opposed on many other issues. He was opposed to the amendment and is now opposed to modification of the Volstead act; he was opposed to American intervention in Nicaragua. But recently he has opposed withdrawal of the marines from that country.

House wants him for an important consultation on foreign affairs it has to send one of the president's intimates for him. But Borah owns a horse—a fine animal named "Governor." He is a familiar, but solitary, figure along the bridge paths in Rock Creek Park.

HAWKINS ASKS MOODY'S STAND BE MADE CLEAR

GOVERNOR FAILED TO COMMIT SELF, HIS OPPONENT SAYS

AUSTIN, May 2.—William E. Hawkins, Breckenridge, former state supreme court justice, gubernatorial candidate, Tuesday issued a statement charging that Governor Moody had not made plain his position on national politics and calling on the governor to answer questions concerning the presidential candidacy of Al Smith.

Mr. Hawkins recalled the governor's refusal Monday to debate with R. L. Henry, chairman of the "Hawkins" county Al Smith-for-president club, on Smith's merits. He referred to Governor Moody's statement in that connection in which the executive declared his beliefs are clear to the voters.

Query On "Dry" Plank
One of the queries Hawkins propounded: "If the national convention shall adopt a 'dry' plank and Al Smith shall declare his willingness to accept nomination and stand thereon, will our Texas delegation be justified (in your opinion) in casting the forty votes of Texas for him on the theory that he is in harmony with that plank?" Please answer this question yes or no? If not, why not?"

Another follows: "If it is right and proper and not violative of the spirit of hospitality for you as governor to voice publicly, at this juncture, implacable opposition to his candidacy be voiced as well by pledge taking democrats through formal resolutions in primary conventions and in our state convention and in our state session?"

"And why have you sought to finish the resolution for such resolutions made in March by the constitutional democrats under the leadership of such distinguished prohibition democrats as the late Harper Kirby, Cone Johnson and V. A. Collins?"

Directing his statement to Mr. Moody, Mr. Hawkins asserted: "Had you not butted in and undertaken to prevent the adoption of instructions throughout this state from the ground up Texas today would stand safely in the anti-Smith column and you would not need to make an eleventh hour demonstration to convince voters that really and sincerely you are opposed to Smith's nomination."

CONSOLIDATION MADE IN TEXAS POWER CONCERNS

(By Associated Press)
FORT WORTH, May 2.—Acquisition of the properties of the Texas Gulf Power company by the Texas-Louisiana Power company was announced today by A. P. Barrett, president.

The Texas-Louisiana Power company maintains its general offices in Fort Worth, and is credited with being the largest, independent public utilities organization of the south west. It owns and operates properties in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona and Kentucky.

The localities affected by this consolidation are as follows: Spear and Miller 100 ton ice plant at El Paso; Gainesville Gas company at Gainesville; Wichita Falls Traction company at Wichita; Electric, Water, and Sewer Service at Texas City; Electric Service at Dickinson; Electric Service at Friendwood; Electric Service at Lamarque; Electric Service at Brazoria; Electric Service at Sweeney; Electric Service at West Columbia; Electric Service at East Columbia; Electric and Ice properties at Angleton; Electric and water properties at Strawn; all in Texas.

Although Senator Borah is chairman on the powerful Committee on Foreign Relations, he has never been abroad for the simple reason that he has felt himself unable to afford it on his salary as a senator, which is about his only income.

Despite his record for liberalism, Borah stayed with Taft when Roosevelt bolted the party in 1912. Yet, before and since that time he has often been one of his party's severest critics. Only recently, with his customary independence, he has embarrassed Republican leaders by asking for a private fund to repay Harry Sinclair's campaign contributions of 1920 and thus erase the stain.

At about the same time he sent each Republican presidential candidate a questionnaire asking his views on prohibition. His announced purpose was to place all candidates on record in advance of the convention.

Warning Is Given To Chicken Owners
Following recent repeated complaints from various neighborhoods of the city regarding the matter of chickens running loose and destroying the flowers and gardens, Chief of Police John Lemond issued a warning today to all chicken owners against such a practice. These chickens must be copped up, he said, or fines will be assessed against the owners.

A city ordinance rules that no chickens must be allowed to run loose in the city limits and Chief Lemond stated today that as far as possible he and his force were going to see that this regulation was enforced. A fine of $5 is to be assessed for the first offense and is likely to be increased if the violations are repeated. Desk Sergeant J. T. Immon said.

come. Then he read law for two years in a brother-in-law's office at Lyons, Kan. In 1900, when 23, he was admitted to the bar and he started for Seattle to seek his fortune in the new country of the great northwest.

But Borah never got to Seattle. At Boise, Idaho, his money ran out, so he settled there. He made a success at the practice of law and by 1900 he was one of the biggest men in Boise.

Borah first came into national fame when he was employed as a special prosecutor to prosecute dynamiters in the labor war that raged in Idaho. For the dynamiting of the home of Governor Steuneger, in which the governor was killed, he sent several men to the penitentiary.

But this did not weaken Borah in the eyes of the law-abiding labor element, as shown by the fact that when he first ran for the senate in 1907 he showed great strength in labor counties. He entered the senate Jan. 15, 1907, and has been there ever since. His present term will expire in 1921.

On the "On to Lamesa" committee, J. C. Anderson, Douglas Brwin, Harold Griffith, L. C. Ellis and J. T. Trigg have been selected from the Chamber of Commerce while Claude H. Grollman, Paul Barrier, J. Walker Gamel, Alvin R. Hendrick and D. H. Mansell will work to the same end but from the Retail Merchants association. No chairman were named from these two committees, the members being empowered to choose their own directors.

George E. Benson, automobile dealer, has been selected as chairman of the airport committee and has been directed to select his own committee, which he will make public soon. Mr. Benson has already begun laying plans for his campaign.

Taber Labor Cases Are All Dismissed

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Seven cases in which A. W. Taber, superintendent of the state men's Confederate home, was charged with violation of the state labor law for women were dismissed Tuesday in justice court.

Taber was acquitted recently in county court on appeal from a $50 justice court fine in one case, charging him with employing women in the institution more than the legal limit of nine hours a day and 54 hours a week. The cases were filed by the state labor department.

"Ten—Two and Four" Are Magic Words in Mysterious New Club

Prominent Doctor Says Drinks Will Be on Him if Club Doesn't Enroll Best Citizenship, Not Excepting Sheriff, Ministers and County Attorney

Following closely the story published yesterday regarding rumors of a "drinking club" being organized here comes information through underground channels that the "pass-word" has leaked out. From where or whom the information comes cannot be learned, but it is passing from lip to lip with amazing rapidity. Those "in the know" are seen to wink wisely at fellow conspirators and whisper "ten, two, four."

Conjectures as to the meaning of the words are rife. Some hazard the guess that it is merely a set of arbitrary numbers like the combination of a safe, which are to be whispered at the iron-barred door as the "open sesame" to the club. Others contend that the numbers when added together total sixteen and that sixteen is a hotel room or street number of the club headquarters. Whatever is the significance of the "pass-word," it will undoubtedly have to be changed, if non-members are to be prevented from taking advantage of it. Too much wise-talk seems to have already made it pretty much public property.

A man by the name of D. I. Spenser was found today who admits a direct connection with the "prominent doctor" who is said to be the organizer. Spenser is firm in the belief that under the unique plan, the club can be operated without interference from the law. He promised that full details of the proposed plan will be forthcoming within the next few days.—Advertisement.

Moody Goes To San Antonio For Meet

AUSTIN, May 2 (AP)—Governor Moody went to San Antonio Tuesday night to attend an American Legion affair. He expects to make a political speech at Houston Wednesday night and one at Dallas Thursday, and if those engagements permit, attend the funeral of Senator I. D. Fairchild at Tarklin.

"Ten—Two and Four" Are Magic Words in Mysterious New Club

Prominent Doctor Says Drinks Will Be on Him if Club Doesn't Enroll Best Citizenship, Not Excepting Sheriff, Ministers and County Attorney

Following closely the story published yesterday regarding rumors of a "drinking club" being organized here comes information through underground channels that the "pass-word" has leaked out. From where or whom the information comes cannot be learned, but it is passing from lip to lip with amazing rapidity. Those "in the know" are seen to wink wisely at fellow conspirators and whisper "ten, two, four."

Conjectures as to the meaning of the words are rife. Some hazard the guess that it is merely a set of arbitrary numbers like the combination of a safe, which are to be whispered at the iron-barred door as the "open sesame" to the club. Others contend that the numbers when added together total sixteen and that sixteen is a hotel room or street number of the club headquarters. Whatever is the significance of the "pass-word," it will undoubtedly have to be changed, if non-members are to be prevented from taking advantage of it. Too much wise-talk seems to have already made it pretty much public property.

A man by the name of D. I. Spenser was found today who admits a direct connection with the "prominent doctor" who is said to be the organizer. Spenser is firm in the belief that under the unique plan, the club can be operated without interference from the law. He promised that full details of the proposed plan will be forthcoming within the next few days.—Advertisement.
