3 CHS seniors named to All-District Choir

Three Colorado High School seniors placed in the 1985-86 All-District Choir at the district meet in Iowa Park on Saturday, November 16.

Mahon funeral services held

George Herman Mahon, 85, was buried Friday at Loraine City Cemetery in services befitting the retired congressman who helped shape the destiny of the United States for over 40 years.

Mr. Mahon died Tuesday at Shannon Hospital in San Angelo. Funeral services were held Friday at 11 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Lubbock with Rev. Sam Nader, pastor, officiating.

A short graveside service was held at 4 p.m. Friday at the Loraine City Cemetery. An honor guard from Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock presented Mrs. Mahon the U.S. flag which had draped the casket as a group of jets from Reese Air Force Base flew over.

Other survivors besides Mrs. Mahon include a daughter, Daphne Mahon Holt of Dallas; three grandchildren, George M. Holt of Durham, N.C., and Betsy Davis and Laural Ann Luper, both of Dallas; three sisters, Mrs. Cecil Martin and Mrs. Mary Agnes Meadows, both of Loraine and Mrs. Gary Reeder of Abilene; and a brother, Elmer O. Mahon of Roscoe.

As a congressman, Mahon was a member of the U.S. House of Representatives from November, 1934, when he was elected to the 74th Congress, until his retirement in 1978.

Mahon was one of the most powerful and most influential members of the House of Representatives. When he retired, he was dean of Congress, with only six persons having served longer.

Mahon represented the 19th Congressional District (it was created in 1934)—sprawling from the New Mexico border to Haskell County—and consisting of Andrews, Borden, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines,

George Mahon

Garza, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Midland, Motley, Scurry, Terry, and Yoakum counties.

Mahon became a member of the House Appropriations Committee in 1939 and began his service on the War Department Subcommittee in 1940. In 1949 all defense appropriations were consolidated into one Defense Appropriations Bill, and Mahon became chairman of the Subcommittee.

Chairman of the Joint Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Federal Expenditures, he also served on the President's Commission on Budget Concepts in 1968. He was a member of the Board of Regents of the Smithsonian Institution of Washington, D.C., one of the foremost scientific organizations in the world.

In May, 1964, Representative Mahon was elected to the position of Annual pecan show slated

The 10th Annual Mitchell County Pecan Show is scheduled for Tuesday, December 10, and Wednesday, December 11, at the C. C. Thompson Room.

County Extension Agent Mike Mauldin explains the show is sponsored by the Horticulture Committee of the County Program Building Committee, the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce and the City National Bank.

All pecans entered must have been grown in 1985. Growers are limited to one entry of each improved or papershell variety. If only one entry is entered in any class, the entry will be judged with "open varieties." There is no limit on the number of seedling or native pecans. Nuts must have been grown by the person showing them. All entries become the property of the Mitchell County Pecan Show and they will be given to a charitable organization.

Each entry must consist of 43 nuts with the nuts to be displayed on a paper plate.

Entries will be taken between 1-3 p.m. December 10 at the C. C. Thompson Room. Pecans may also be left at either the County Extension Agent's office or the Chamber of Commerce office during the week of the show. Entries should be marked with the owner's name, address and variety of pecan.

Any alteration of pecan shells by marking, filling or polishing will disqualify the entry so treated. However, exhibitors are encouraged to remove all traces of husks and foreign matter from the shells.

Classes and premiums include Apache, Barton, Brade, Burkett, Caddo, Cherokee, Cheyenne, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Comanche, DeLmas, Desirable, Halbert, John Garner, Kincaid, Mahan, McCulley, Mohawk, Onliwon, Perique, Ranger, San Saba Improved, Schley, Shawnee, Shoshoni, Sioux, Squirrel's Delight, Stuart, Success, Tejas, Texas Prolific, Western, Wichita, in-shell known hybrids, in-shell variety seedlings, other in-shell varieties, shelling known hybrid, shelling variety seedlings, other shelling varieties, natives, smallest pecans and largest pecans.

The champion in-shell pecans, reserve champion in-shell pecans and champion native pecans will be awarded rosettes.

The best of show and reserve best of show will each be awarded banners.

Classes will be judged on size, color and appearance, shell thickness, cracking quality, kernel quality, attractiveness and other factors, said Mauldin.

Mahon has received honorary degrees from Waynesburg College, Pennsylvania; Wayland Baptist University, Plainview, Texas; Texas Tech University, Lubbock; Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene; and Pepperdine College, Los Angeles. In 1963 he was presented with the Congressional Distinguished Service Award of the American Political Science Association at the annual meeting of the organization in New York City, and in 1969 received the George Washington Award of the American Good Government Society.

Stinson enjoys holiday cooking

Thanksgiving is a favorite holiday at the Billy and Glenda Stinson home. "I really enjoy Thanksgiving because I'm not as busy with my work and I prepare the dinner and everyone comes to our house," says Glenda Stinson. "It's a relaxing time and it's not as busy as Christmas."

"I enjoy cooking and especially preparing desserts. It's hard for me to get used to preparing small meals because both of our children are married now and it's just the two of us. We always have a lot left over."

"My mother taught me the most about cooking and I also stayed with my grandmother one summer when I was in high school. She was a very good cook and I learned a lot from her also."

Billy and Glenda Stinson are parents of two children, Joe and Sherry. Joe is married to Jackie Sue and they live in Colorado City. Sherry and husband, William Gene Hanks reside in San Angelo. They are the parents of six and half month old daughter, Lauren Nicole. "This will be our granddaughter's first Thanksgiving and we are excited about that."

"I recently tried a recipe Susan McGowan shared with me. It was a cookie praline recipe and she said they were so easy to make. I followed the recipe exactly and cooked the ingredients in a pan. When I got ready to spoon out the cookies, it became so hard I couldn't get them out of the pan. I soaked the pan for days and I thought I never was going to get the pan clean. I tried to make those cookies twice and both times they failed. I don't know what I did wrong."

Today she is sharing some of her favorite recipes with RECORD readers.

Writing skills essential to good grades

(Fourth in a series)
Should you help your child with writing?
Yes, if you want your child to:
-Do well in school
-Enjoy self-expression
-Become more self-reliant
You know how important writing will be to your child's life. It will be important from first-grade through college and throughout adulthood.

Writing is:
Practical. Most of us make lists, jot down reminders, and write notes and instructions at least occasionally.

Job-Related. Professional and white-collar workers write frequently—preparing memos, letters, briefing papers, sales reports, articles, research reports, proposals, and the like. Most workers do some writing on the job.

Stimulating. Writing helps to provoke thoughts and to organize them logically and concisely.

Social. Most of us write thank-you notes and letters to friends at least now and then.

Therapeutic. It can be helpful to express feelings in writing that cannot be expressed so easily by speaking.

Unfortunately, many schools are unable to give children sufficient instruction in writing. There are various reasons: teachers aren't trained to teach writing skills, writing classes may be too large, it's often difficult to measure writing skills, etc.

Study after study shows that students' writing lacks clarity, coherence, and organization. Only a few students can write persuasive essays or competent business letters. As many as one out of four have serious writing difficulties. And students say they like writing less and less as they go through school. Writing is more than putting words on paper. It's a final stage in the complex process of communicating that begins with thinking. Writing is an especially important stage in communication, the intent being to leave no room for doubt. Has any country ratified a verbal treaty? One of the first means of communication for your child is through drawing. Do encourage the child to draw and to discuss his/her drawings. Ask questions: What is the boy doing? Does the house look like ours? Can you tell a story about this picture?

Most children's basic speech patterns are formed by the time they enter school. By that time children speak clearly, recognize most letters of the alphabet, and may try to write. Show an interest in, and ask questions about, the things your child says, draws, and may try to write.

Writing well requires:
-Clear thinking. Sometimes the child needs to have his/her memory refreshed about a past event in order to write about it.

-Sufficient time. Children may have 'stories in their heads' but need time to think them through and write them down. School class periods are often not long enough.

Reading. Reading can stimulate a child to write about his/her own family or school life. If your child reads good books, (s)he will be a better writer.

-A meaningful task. A child needs meaningful, not artificial writing tasks. You'll find suggestions for such tasks in the section, "Things To Do."

-Interest. All the time in the world won't help if there is nothing to write, nothing to say. Some of the reasons for writing include: sending messages, keeping records, expressing feelings, or relaying information.

-Practice. And more practice. -Revising. Students need experience in revising their work—i.e., seeing what they can do to make it clearer, more descriptive, more concise, etc.

GETTING INTO THE SPIRIT OF THANKS

Rev. Julius E. Early - Pastor

First United Methodist Church

It's that season again! Turkeys, football, grandma's house, family get-togethers, so it seems that we need to begin to get into the spirit of thanks! Thanksgiving is about expressing gratitude and thanks to God! And many of us need some sort of cheerleader to get us into that spirit. That is to say this is not our USUAL spirit--so we have to get "pumped up" in some way to really get into the spirit of thanks!

It's so easy to just drift through life taking all the good things that happen along the way for granted! Many (if not most!) of us pray, if we pray at all, when life has gone sour or we find ourselves in crisis. But when things have gone good--or especially good--when we have fallen in love with that special someone, when we have landed that great job, when we have found our way in life and have a bead on what it is we are going to do with life--too many of us are slow to give thanks to God for the good that has been done on our behalf.

In Luke 17:11-19 the story is told of Jesus' healing ten lepers. Only one of them came back to say "thank you" to Jesus for his healing--yet all ten were healed! I'd guess that about that same ratio of those who receive from God great blessing and those who return thanks to God for those blessing still holds! So, why don't you join with a group of God's People in this town this week and give thanks to God for all the blessings He has poured into your life! Get into the spirit of thanks!

Self Culture Club hears Pilgrim story

The Self Culture Club met for their regular meeting Friday, November 15, in the home of Mrs. Lester Watson.

Mrs. L. B. Elliott presided over the meeting and Mrs. Paul Beeman led the pledge and prayer.

A business meeting was conducted and contributions were made to the Girltown USA; Penny Arts; Musical Penny and to the Mesquite District Scholarship fund. Napkins were sold for a money-making project.

Eddie Barclay presented the program "The Story of the Pilgrims." "Fame, fortune, and freedom are the start which have guided pilgrims to friendly shores of America," Mrs. Barclay stated. Those who founded the first white settlement in 1607 on the barren strands in now Massachusetts, their cause was set by a single desire--freedom. These Englishmen loved their native land, but under those present laws were denied the right by order of Crown Government to worship as they wished.

It was reported that the Englishmen first went to Holland where religious freedom flourished. There, they learned new trades. The pilgrims, being progressive, wanted to build homes, educate their children, worship God as they wanted to worship.

In their new country, America, laws were passed as needed. In 1632 they were required to keep firearms and those who drank too much were confined to one's home. For 15 years they had no written criminal law and no prisons, instead there were fines, forfeitures, whipping posts and stockades. Mrs. Barclay ended her discourse with a prayer.

The Federation report was given by Elizabeth Elliott which consisted of home medical care administered by nurses for those who do not need hospital care.

Those present were Eddie Barclay, Fannie Beeman, Elizabeth Elliott, Della Fox, Dona Reed, Austin Watson and hostess, Pearl Watson.

HEALTH Through CHIROPRACTIC

WITH Dr. Rick Schaffer

HOW LONG BEFORE I'M WELL?

How long is a piece of rope? There is definite answer to this question since every case is different from every other. Your Chiropractor has treated numerous other problems of a similar nature, but each case is unique unto itself. Your Chiropractor will, however, be able to give you an approximation of the time it will take to obtain results.

How long it will take you to actually "get well" depends upon many conditions, or factors, such as weight, age, duration of you condition, along with other factors, including your cooperation. Your Chiropractor will suggest a program designed to get you well in the shortest possible time.

McGee, Harvey exchange vows

Donna Gayle McGee, daughter of Mrs. Gene McGee of Snyder and the late Gene McGee, became the bride of Dalton Wade Harvey on Oct. 19 in Colonial Hill Baptist Church. Grandparents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Joe McGee and Mrs. Ed Small of Loraine. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hanzel of Midland.

Rev. Miller F. Robinson, pastor of the church, officiated the double ring ceremony.

A two-tiered, 15-branch candelabrum flanked by two seven-branch candelabra centered the altar. English ivy, springeria and baby's breath accented each. White urns atop column stands held arrangements of white spider, button and starburst mums and English ivy. The aisles were decorated with gloved candles highlighted with satin ribbon.

Pianist Triesta Lilly and organist Paula Howard provided wedding music. Margaret Sherrod and Jane Womack sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her brother, Doug McGee, the bride chose a traditional, white satin formal gown. Hand beaded Alencon lace, a Victorian collar and an inset yoke of tulle lace graced the princess style gown. The fitted bodice featured a dropped waistline and long, fitted sleeves which tapered to a point at the wrist. The gown swept to a chapel-length train trimmed with Alencon lace. Georgene Galloway designed and crafted the gown.

The bride chose a headpiece of flowers and beads with a fingertip veil. She wore a blue garter and diamond stud earrings given to her by the groom.

She carried a crescent cascade of gardenias, stephanotis, baby's breath and English ivy atop a white Bible. Her great grandmother's handkerchief and white streamers were tucked into the Bible.

Merry McGee of Midland, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor with Billie Hibbit as bridesmatron and Kim Harlin as bridesmaid. Attend-ants wore tea-length, blue taffeta dresses with cummerbunds and matching shoes.

Harold Hanzel of Midland stood as best man for his stepson with the groom's brothers, Harold D. Hanzel of Sweetwater and Michael Hanzel of Austin, as groomsmen.

Luis Guerro of Austin, Alan Hanzel of Midland, the groom's cousin, Michael Hanzel of Austin and Doug McGee of Midland served as ushers.

A reception followed in the church's fellowship hall.

A white cloth with a white tulle overlay graced the bride's table. Accented with the bridal bouquet, the table held crystal and white candles resting on a mirror. Miniature blue flowers trimmed the white bridal cake designed by Beth Hicks. Danna Chesser, Jill Wilkinson and Patti Pitner presided at the bride's table.

Gold appointments decorated the groom's table which had been covered with a white cloth overlaid with royal blue. Pam Hanzel of Sweetwater and Tonna Hanzel and Donna Allen of Midland served a chocolate cake depicting a golfer, cheese rolls and crackers.

Reece, Brook and Regan Small of Fort Worth registered guests. Sandra Robinson directed the wedding.

A bridal luncheon was hosted by Nona Williams, Shirley Fritz, Joann Snider, Rosie Floyd and Joyce Pace. Other parties were hosted in Snyder and Midland.

A 1980 graduate of Snyder High School and a 1984 graduate of Angelo State University, the bride is employed by First City National Bank of Midland.

The groom is a 1975 graduate of Robert E. Lee High school in Midland. Currently employed by Texas Electric Service Company in Midland, he attends Midland College.

Following a honeymoon trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the couple has made their home in Midland.

Mr. & Mrs. Dalton Harvey

Hargrove, Kirby united

Sheri Renee Hargrove and John Edward Kirby were united in marriage November 8th in Bellview Baptist Church in Hurst, Texas. The couple are living in Hurst.

The bride is the daughter of James and Joyce Hargrove and the granddaughter of Willis and Lurline Hargrove, who attended the wedding with their son James Hubert Hargrove and his daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Hargrove returned home November 10th with their son, Lynn Hargrove and wife Jeanna and daughters, Kelly Lynn and Celeste. Kelly and sister, Celeste, were members of the wedding party.

The Hargroves had as their guests November 15, Glen Hunt, Mrs. Hargrove's brother of Sacramento, California. Also visiting was J. Willis Hunt from Klamath Falls, Oregon and Earl Hunt and wife, Lola. All gathered at the home of Maxine and Jim Barkley of Big Spring Saturday and Sunday for a reunion.

Mitchell SWCD selling trees

If you are interested in wildlife, you probably cannot find a better western plant than Russian Olive to provide high quality food and cover for wildlife.

The Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District is selling Russian Olive trees until February 15. Russian Olive is a fast growing shrub or tree, usually 15 to 25 feet tall. It has silver-gray leaves and in early summer bears many small, yellow, highly fragrant flowers. The highly nutritious fruit is a favored food of more than 40 kinds of game and non-game birds.

For more information on Russian Olive trees or other windbreak trees offered by the Mitchell SWCD, contact the District in the G-Kell building in Colorado City.

RUSSIAN OLIVE trees provide excellent windbreaks and furnish food and cover for wildlife. The Mitchell SWCD is selling Russian Olive trees until February 15.

MITCHELL COUNTY Extension Agent Mike Mauldin, left, was one of 20 extension personnel attending a recent wildlife management training tour. The two-day session included stops in Coleman, Kerr and Gillespie counties where agents and specialists viewed successful hunting enterprises on the Henry Weldge Ranch near Doss and the Big Six Ranch near Coleman. The final stop was the Texas Parks and Wildlife's Kerr Wildlife Management Area where deer breeding theory and deer habitat management were discussed.

CHS varsity teams look rough in season openers

Colorado High School varsity basketball teams looked understandably rough in season opening games at Midland Greenwood Tuesday night that resulted in a 57-24 loss for the boys and a 45-27 loss for the girls.

Greenwood's Rangerettes outscored the Wolves 15-2 in the opening period, but were only able to extend their 13 point lead by five points through the remaining three periods. Colorado City outscored the Ranger girls 16-13 in the second period to make the halftime score a 10 point 28-18 lead for Greenwood.

The Wolves turned the ball over 16 times and shot 26 percent from the floor and 38 percent from the free throw line.

"I knew Greenwood would be tough," said girls coach Will Gollihar. "They were ranked second in the state late last season. I thought we looked alright for our first game. We had our rough spots."

"Overall I was pleased with it. We lost by 38 last year. They came back and played a little tougher in the second half. You just can't shoot 26 percent and beat anybody. The defense maintained their position better in the second half. Against a good club you can't afford to fall behind then come back—especially in their gym."

The Wolves scored only three points in the final period after a six point third quarter.

Scoring for Colorado City were Denise Jackson 16, Diane Gregory four, Kellie Beights three and Jody Huff and Jennifer Monroe two.

Rebounding totals were Jackson eight, Huff six, Sherry Fite five, Beights four, Monroe four, Holly Tarter three and Gregory and Sandra Williams two.

Over on the boys side, the Wolves "couldn't buy a basket," said coach Mike Hart. "I'm not disappointed. I figured we would turn the ball over. It's just that we missed a bunch of shots that would have put us in there with them."

Greenwood took an 11-6 lead after one period and outscored the Wolves in every period for the 23 point margin.

"We played and looked at everybody," said Hart. "The only offensive plan was some discussion we had. We've had four workouts and three were more or less tryouts. They (Rangers) are ahead of us right now. I'd like to play them again in three or four weeks. It could be a different game."

Prior to the game, Hart had said the Wolves would pressure on defense—as they always do—and try to go with a more wide open running offense.

The Wolves offense didn't respond to the green light given, though, and only scored two points in the third period and five in the final stanza.

Sophomore Ken Woods scored six as the Wolves high point man and scoring four points each were Terry Jackson, Wylie Dakan and Ruben Rivera. Mike Ligon, Albert Rivera and Guy Compton scored two points.

"We're just looking at everybody here early," said Hart. "We don't have a superstar. We need a bunch of folks contributing. I figure offhand we missed eight to 10 easy power shots that with a little more concentration should have gone in. Several times we went for six or eight foot jump shots. With a little more effort, we couldn't gotten layups."

The Wolves host Snyder Tuesday.

HELLO, PECAN LOVERS!

Gosh, aren't the pecan trees beautiful this fall? You ought to be out taking pictures of your family gathering pecans, from--well--your tree or if your neighbor's not home, perhaps from his. If your neighbor objects, invite him over for a piece of pecan pie. Or--maybe--go to the park and help the squirrels harvest the nuts from the pecan trees there. They are loaded. If all else fails, buy some from me. I raised a lot of pecans this year. The trees were watered, fed and sprayed. They're only $1.00 a pound and if I sell enough I can make a down payment on my water-bill. We have a few that we're real proud of that we're selling at $1.20 a pound. These are Comanches--at one time best of show in the pecan show. To us, they're champions every year.

Turkey roasting made easier

By Debbie Christian County Extension Agent

Thawing a turkey can be time consuming and messy, which may be one of the reasons most of us eat turkey only once or twice a year. But thawing has little to do with how a turkey tastes when it's done—so why do it?

You can roast a juicy, tender turkey any time of the year with only about five minutes preparation time. You can take the turkey directly from freezer to oven with little worry about taste.

Using taste panels, studies conducted by food scientists at Utah State University found very little difference between thawed, roasted turkey and turkeys put directly in the oven from the freezer.

They simply unwrapped the turkeys, put them breast up in a pan, covered the top with a foil tent and put them in the oven to bake. The only additional time spent on preparation was used to check the temperature of the bird and to remove the foil tent during the final hour to aid browning.

The major drawback of the freezer-to-oven method is that you cannot stuff the turkey before you cook it.

You may still want to thaw and stuff your turkey for Thanksgiving because it is traditional. If so, use one of three methods for thawing:

1) Leave the turkey in its original plastic wrapper and place it on a tray in the refrigerator allowing 24 hours for each 5 pounds of turkey to thaw. That's three days for a 15 pound bird.

2) Leave the turkey in its original plastic wrapper, cover it with cold water and change the water frequently. It will take about half an hour per pound to thaw, or eight hours for a 15 pound turkey.

3) Using a microwave will be the quickest method. Follow the directions that come with the appliance for times. You may need to turn the turkey so it will defrost evenly and not start to cook.

If the turkey is thawed using either the water method or a microwave oven, be sure to refrigerate or cook the turkey as soon as it is thawed.

Staci Wood

Student of the Week Journalism helped CHS senior overcome shyness

Deadlines and making assignments are something that Colorado High School senior Staci Wood, 17, has become accustomed to this year.

Staci, the daughter of Charles and Dolores Wood, is editor of the HOWL, the student newspaper.

This is her first year on the newspaper staff and says she decided to join the staff because she likes journalism and enjoys writing.

"And it's a challenge for me because I used to be shy," she adds with a laugh.

As editor, she explains that she's the one to decide which articles are newsworthy and it's up to her to proofread the articles once they are submitted for publication.

She explains that the deadlines are not really a problem for the once-a-month publication. "Everyone on the staff except for one is a senior and they pretty well discipline themselves."

In addition to her editing duties, she also writes editorials and features.

Editorials have become hard-nitting this year with such topics as "no pass, no play" rule and the controversial bon fire issue.

Staci explains that a two-week journalism camp at Southern Methodist University this past summer helped prepare her for her editing duties this year. At the camp, she was presented an award for the most improved journalist.

Other activities which add up for a busy senior year for her include being chaplain of the student council, vice president of the National Honor Society and treasurer for the Spanish Club.

She describes involvement as a "key" to a satisfying high school career, adding that "I couldn't make it if I were just taking classes."

She admits that her most challenging subject is trigonometry.

She hopes to eventually attend the University of Texas and major in journalism or advertising and to some day be a writer of books and plays as well as a journalist.

Mid-winter session set

SNYDER-College students may earn three hours of college credit in a Mid-Winter Session scheduled by Western Texas College from January 2-14.

Classes will meet from 9-11:45 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. daily except on January 4, 5, 11 and 12. Final examinations will start at 8 a.m. on January 14.

Courses on the schedule are Business 232 (Business Law), Computer Science 130 (Introduction to Computer Science), English 231 (American Literature), English 232 (English Literature), Government 231 and 232 (American, State and Local Government), History 132 (United States History since 1865), and Mathematics 134 (College Trigonometry).

Fees will be $46 plus textbooks. Students enrolling in Computer Science 130 will also pay a $20 lab fee.

Registration for the Mid-Winter session will be held from December 17-20. Late registration will be held from 8-9 a.m. on January 2. Registration forms will be available in the Student Services office in the Administration Building. Students who have previously attended WTC and have an Application for Admission on file may register by mail by sending the required fee to the Student Services office. Students who have not attended WTC may have an Application for Admission sent to them by calling the office at 915 573-8511.

"Mid-Winter classes are available for students with strong academic backgrounds," Dr. Duane Hood, Dean of Student Services, noted. "Because of the stringent demands of the classes, students with grade point averages below 3.0 should consider carefully the course requirements before registration."

Piland receives degree

Edward Mark Piland of Colorado City was one of 318 University of Texas students to receive a Bachelor of Business Administration degree at the close of the 1985 summer session.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Piland of Colorado City.
