

City Voters to Elect Three Council Members

Three members of the Wellington City Council will be named in this year's municipal election Saturday, April 4.

The election was called in a council meeting Tuesday, Feb. 3.

The three members whose terms expire are Cliff Hartman, J. Y. Martin and Ernest Harwell.

So far, none of these has filed for re-election, and neither have any other candidates filed, according to Russell Yates, city secretary.

The deadline for candidates to file and have their names on the ballots is Wednesday, March 4.

He had been trimming a tree shortly before he became ill, his daughter, Mrs. Austin O'Neil, Jr., of Hale Center, said.

Dr. Joe Horn, Plainview heart specialist and former Wellington resident, will come Saturday for consultation.

Mr. Coleman is a life-long resident of the county.

Besides his daughter, a brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Coleman of Oklahoma City have been here with him and with Mrs. Coleman.

BLOOD DRIVE CHAIRMAN

Don Hood, laboratory technician at St. Joseph's Hospital, is chairman of the Red Cross blood program campaign to recruit donors for the visit of the Bloodmobile Tuesday, February 24.

Mr. Hood's need at this point is for volunteers to recruit blood donors. They are needed in every community in the county — Samnorwood-Dozier, Quail, Dodson, and in the smaller communities, he said.

Their job is to secure definite commitments from people that they will be blood donors on Tuesday, Feb. 24.

St. Joseph's In Program

140 Units of Blood Sought for Red Cross Feb. 24

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Wellington Tuesday, Feb. 24, from 12:00 noon to 5:15 p.m. for the semi-annual blood collection. The blood center will be in the community building.

The quota is 140 units (pints) for the county.

Chairman of this drive is Don Hood, registered technician in charge of the laboratory at St. Joseph's Hospital.

The most urgent need of all is for blood donors, for this county has never met its quota, he pointed out.

Collection of blood for the Red Cross Bloodmobile is a matter of county-wide concern and not of Wellington alone, Mr. Hood declared, "and the amount asked for represents only 4% of the total population."

The twice-yearly blood drives are the local commitment made in order for St. Joseph's Hospital to secure blood for its patients from the Red Cross Blood Center. The agreement was made after the number of local walking blood donors could no longer supply the hospital's needs.

St. Joseph's receives as much blood as it needs, and in return, the people of the county are asked to meet the blood quotas during the Bloodmobile visits.

The amount of blood used by the hospital far exceeds the amount the county has given since the program went into effect.

New Donors

New donors are urgently needed in this drive. "Our records show that most of the donors to the Red Cross Bloodmobile are repeaters," Mr. Hood declared. "We have to ask the same people over and over in order to fill the quotas."

"There is one thing we want the county as a whole to be aware of. We are not giving this blood away. It doesn't go to help somebody in another part of the country. We are using it right here."

Commissioners Approve Payment to Auditors

Members of the Commissioners' Court Monday approved payment of a bill for $4,250 to Cornell and Company of Amarillo for an examination of the books of county offices.

This bill was approved along with other bills presented for payment.

Considerable discussion was given to installing air conditioning in the courthouse, but no action was taken at that time, County Judge Zook Thomas said.

The Court also passed an order agreeing to go along with the Texas Highway Department in the widening of US 83 to four lanes from Wellington north to the Lutie vicinity.

Under the terms of the Highway Department approval of this project, the county will pay for one half the right of way for the new section, which will amount to approximately $30,000.

A new piece of equipment was approved for the sheriff's department, a breath-o-lizer, which will measure alcohol content of the breath of persons arrested on suspicion of drunkenness or driving while intoxicated.

County Agent Don Reeves met with the court to request an increase in travel allowance. The commissioners approved an increase of $25 per month, or $200 for the remaining eight months of this fiscal year. The current allowance is $1,000 for his office. However, the $200 represented a transfer of funds, as it will be taken out of the item for extra help already set up for the Extension service.

The travel allowance for the county agent's office defrays his expenses to all meetings which he must attend concerning his work, as well as such trips to livestock shows where Collingsworth 4-H steers are judged consistently high.

Voters to Fill Four Places on School Board

Voters of the Wellington Independent School District will name four trustees in this year's election Saturday, April 4, Supt. J. L. Harper announced.

The election was called in a meeting of the school board Monday evening, Feb. 9.

The resignation of Dick Pendleton was accepted. This was presented at the time that Mrs. Pendleton became an employee of the school lunch room.

This place was left open until the coming election.

The four places to be filled in the April 4 election are those of Mr. Pendleton; Richard Nall, who is filling the unexpired term of Eddie Slay; and of David Baumgardner and Glen Taylor, whose terms expire.

Mr. Nall and Mr. Taylor have filed for re-election. Mr. Baumgardner has not indicated if he plans to seek re-election.

"It used to be that the board could appoint a board member to fill all of the unexpired term of a member who resigned, but now that board can appoint one to serve only until the next general trustee election," explained Supt. Harper.

The places now held by Mr. Nall, Mr. Baumgardner and Mr. Taylor will be for three years. The board member elected to fill Mr. Pendleton's unexpired term will serve one year.

The deadline for filing is Wednesday, March 4, and applications for a place on the ballot can be had from Mr. Harper, he said.

Lakeview Wins 4-B Round Robin Title

District 4-B Boys round robin play came to a climax in Wellington High School Gymnasium Monday and Tuesday nights, Feb. 9 and 10, when the winner of the first half title was determined.

By a 2-point victory, Hedley took the honor Tuesday night. When the buzzer sounded, the score was 62-60 over Lakeview.

The District 4-B tournament, which determines the other half of the title winner, will begin

Wellington Girls Win District 2-AA Crown

Wellington Rockettes have won the District 2-AA girls basketball championship by defeating Shamrock and Electra in their last two games of the season.

They will meet Spearman girls in bi-district play Monday, Feb. 16. The game will be at the new Miami Gymnasium, beginning at 8:00 p.m. Officials of the two schools decided on the site in a meeting Wednesday morning.

This is the seventh championship in the nine years Coach James Stavenhagen has coached the girls. It is the third bi-district game between Spearman and Wellington.

The Shamrock game, Tuesday, Feb. 3, was crucial for almost everyone knew that the winner was probably going to also win district. Both teams played hard but Wellington was able to keep her poise and took the victory 38 to 24.

Earlier in the season Shamrock had defeated the Rockettes in Wellington, their only loss, with seven victories.

The Wellington girls have a record of 15 games won and only 7 lost during the season.

The girls have one more non-conference game before they meet Spearman. They will play Altus High School at Altus Saturday at 5:15.

The victory cincher was close. Wellington had led during the entire game but never by more than 5 points until the last two minutes of play.

It was a ball-control game. Neither team would take a shot unless it was a good one and girls of both teams worked hard for their points.

"We were able to work the Shamrock defense over pretty good," said Coach Stavenhagen. "Our defense has improved tremendously since Christmas. We haven't let anyone score very much on us since then."

Cathy Singley scored 18 points for Wellington Pam Guthrie 17. Sue Parker led Shamrock scoring with 10.

Wellington-Electra

The Rockettes defeated Electra 32 to 13 in a game played there Friday night, Feb. 6.

"The girls didn't play real well offensively, but defensively they were real tough," declared their coach. "Really and truly, our forwards were off, but we played a tremendously good defensive game."

Pam Guthrie led Wellington's scoring with 21 points. Beth Pierce had 7 for Electra.

Services Held for Retired Ranch Employee

Funeral services for Jess J. Stice, 79, retired ranch hand of the Samnorwood-Dozier area were conducted at Glen Davis Memorial Methodist Church at Dozier Tuesday, Jan. 27.

Mr. Stice died Sunday, Jan. 25, in Shamrock General Hospital after an illness of four days.

Officiating at the service were the Rev. Dick Roehr, pastor of Samnorwood Baptist Church.

Pallbearers were Jessie Hammer and Pat Salmon of Amarillo, W. R. Breeding, Pat Bradley, Jim Ray, and Guss Gooch. Burial was in Dozier Cemetery.

Mr. Stice was born Feb. 19, 1890, in San Jacinto, Calif. When he was 18 months old, his parents brought him to San Angelo. He moved to Antelope Flat, near Clarendon, in 1910, and on May 4, 1913, at Clarendon, he was married to Miss Katy Elizabeth Rish.

He was a ranchhand during the 1920's and 1930's on the L.S. Ranch north of Amarillo and on the J.A. Ranch, near Clarendon. His wife preceded him in death in 1938, while they were living at Twitty.

Mr. Stice moved to the Samnorwood-Dozier area in 1948, and for 22 years was employed

Youth Injured in Accident

Truitt Holton, 18, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital for a cut under his left eye, received when the car which he was driving overturned at the intersection of 8th and Bowie Streets, Police Chief Donald Nunnelle reported.

The accident occurred about 10:40 p.m. Friday, Feb. 6, he said.

Randy Mosenbocker, a passenger in the car, was reported uninjured.

The accident occurred when the vehicle, traveling west, went up on the curb and out of control, according to Chief Nunnelle. It overturned and came to rest upside down against a utility pole.

Holton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Holton, was released from the hospital Saturday.

His car, a 1965 Chevrolet, was a total loss, according to the chief of police.

Collingsworth County
FARM NEWS

By Don Reeves
County Agricultural Agent

The soil is a good place to start farm income improvement for 1970. A soil inventory should include a close study of the acres to be farmed or grazed and what practices will make them more productive.

Since soils even on the same farm may vary widely in their productive capacity and adaptability to crops, a logical starting point is a soil testing program. The determinations from the soil testing laboratory will give needed information on the amounts of plant food required to provide the planned crop or pasture with the nutrients needed to meet expected production. Thus recommendations based on a soil test will cover only the field or pasture from which the soil sample was taken.

To be effective, the soil sample must be representative of the field or pasture. In fact, this is the key to soil testing. The laboratory analysis will be no more accurate nor representative than the sample from which the determinations were made.

While many farmers in Collingsworth County follow a program of soil testing, there are many others who could profit from the practice. There are few practices which annually return a greater profit than does the use of plant food. Demonstration results year after year continue to prove its worth.

Farmers desiring information on soil testing and instructions on how to take and mail samples for testing are invited to come to the county agent's office located in the courthouse.

Don't Feed Parasites

It costs money to feed cattle lice and the returns are negative. In fact, these parasites are among the most damaging of all cattle parasites.

Cattle infested with lice spend a great deal of time rubbing against fences, posts or other convenient objects. Cattle on feed do not gain as they should and more feed is required for a pound of gain.

Infested cows lose weight and their calves become prime targets of the pests. Reduced weaning weights of calves can hit the pocketbook where it really hurts.

Cattle lice are common over the entire state and include both the biting and sucking types. Their populations build up rapidly after cool weather arrives in the fall.

Many chemicals are available for controlling lice as well as other external parasites of farm livestock. Because of restrictions and safety hazards which apply to the use of the chemicals, it is suggested that stockmen come by the county agent's office for a copy of MP-691, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry." The guide outlines recommended chemicals and application methods for getting the best results.

The importance of reading and following the labeled instructions on the chemical containers is very important as these chemicals can be hazardous if used in the wrong manner.

Two-Day Disaster Workshop

Three Wellington women attended a Red Cross disaster workshop in Amarillo Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 3 and 4. Mrs. Bob Sessions, director of the Community Action Center, Mrs. Billy Gene Williams and Mrs. W. E. Franks were among the 22 representatives from Panhandle counties. Grace Fraschetti, Red Cross Midwest Headquarters, Kansas City, instructed the group in how the Red Cross sets up shop in case of a disaster in a community.

Bill Hatch is Collingsworth County Red Cross disaster chairman.

Mrs. Sessions and Mrs. Franks also attended a Community Action workshop conducted by representatives of the Internal Revenue Service, Dallas.

CA workers learned how to assist those in their areas with such simple problems as "which line do I put my name on," how to fill out simple applications, and when they should consult a professional, Mrs. Sessions said.

Room Changes at Hospital

Re-arrangement of several rooms has been completed at St. Joseph's Hospital, Sister Mary Perpetua, administrator, has announced.

The staff room, where staff meetings and a number of organizational meetings are held, was combined with the Sisters' dining room on the west side of the building.

An office for Don Hood, registered laboratory technician, and storage space for laboratory records, was installed in one part of the divided staff room.

The other half will be used as an extension of the medical records department.

This gives full utilization to a large room that was used no more than a few hours each week, Sister Perpetua pointed out. It also provides a more convenient dining-sitting room for the Sisters, with no loss of usefulness as a staff facility.

CHECK ENDORSEMENTS

Do you know what is meant by a "special endorsement"? A special endorsement specifies the name of the person to whom the check is payable.

There are three types of special endorsements. They are: qualified, restrictive, and conditional.

A qualified endorsement merely assigns the title to a check.

A restrictive endorsement permits payment only within certain limits. As an example, "For deposit only" is a restrictive endorsement.

A conditional endorsement bears some condition. As an example: Payable only if lawn mower operates as well as it did before trouble.

Checks payable to two or more persons must be endorsed by each payee. The exception is where one has authority to endorse for others.

Check endorsers are liable, in order in which endorsements appear. Thus the last endorser is liable.

County Stock Men Urged to Attend Stocker-Feeder Meet

The very "heart" of the mushrooming cattle feeding industry in the Texas Panhandle and adjacent areas will undergo careful examination at a PEP (Panhandle Economic Program) Stocker-Feeder Conference in Amarillo on Wednesday, Feb. 18.

An outstanding program has been developed for the conference, points out Don Reeves, Collingsworth County agricultural agent, and everyone interested in the cattle industry is encouraged to attend. Several from this county plan to be there, Mr. Reeves said.

The conference will kick off at 9 a.m. at the Holiday Inn West. Its theme is "Meeting the Need for Feedlot Replacements."

Opening remarks will be made by R. B. Dawson, Jr. of Tulia, chairman of the PEP Agricultural Production Task Force, and Leo Forrest of Amarillo, PEP chairman. Erbin Crowell of Canadian, program committee chairman, will preside at the morning session.

Leadoff speaker will be Dr. C. M. Smallwood of West Texas State University, who will discuss "Stocker Cattle — Who Needs Them? You Do." He will be followed by Stanton Brown with the League Ranch at Benjamin. Brown's topic will be "They'll Never Look Back."

A panel of three order-buying firm representatives will round out the morning session — John Spightes, Kenneth Murray Livestock Co., Montgomery, Ala.; J. D. Vann, Vann-Roach Cattle Co., Fort Worth; and Kendall Quinn, Quinn Brothers Livestock Commission at Jackson, Miss. They will tell "How We Shake 'Em Out of the Bushes."

Dawson will preside at the noon luncheon and during the afternoon session of the conference.

Speaking at the luncheon on "Selling Beef Is Everyone's Job" will be Jim McNease with the National Livestock and Meat Board.

Headlining the list of afternoon speakers is Dr. E. E. Krause, veterinarian from Clovis, who will discuss "Avoiding the First Two Week Wreck." He will be followed by Ross Cooley, consulting nutritionist from Hereford, whose presentation will be "You Can't Starve a Profit Out of Them."

The day-long confab will be brought to a close with a "question and answer" period in which all program speakers will participate. Smallwood will moderate this portion titled "Let's Get It Straight Before We Leave."

Faded Clipping Describes Death of Pioneer Rancher

Something of the way in which the pioneers of Collingsworth lived and the manner in which they died is revealed in the obituaries of early Wellington newspapers.

Mrs. Zack Lowrie has such an obituary, published in the Collingsworth Courier telling of the death of her father, the late D. M. Henard on Jan. 28, 1905. Mrs. May Hix saved it many years, then gave it to Mrs. Lowrie.

"His death resulted from an accident that occurred on the previous Thursday afternoon at which time he was running a yearling near his home when his horse ran over the animal and fell, catching Mr. Henard underneath and driving the horn of the saddle into the rider's lower bowels," read the obituary.

Wellington doctors did what they could.

... two of the best surgeons within reach, Dr. Bacon Saunders of Ft. Worth and Dr. Shirey of Amarillo were wired for and reached here Sunday morning and immediately performed an operation, only to find that their skill could do nothing to avert the inevitable result, the operation revealing large rents in one or more of the intestines.

More information about the pioneer rancher was given.

"Dan Henard, as he was familiarly known, came to this county from Greer County, Oklahoma in 1898 and resided in Wellington for several years. He was a successful cattleman and had accumulated no inconsiderable amount of property. He took a great deal of interest in school matters and was one of the most liberal subscribers to a fund recently raised to build Wellington a good school building. He was a kind husband and father and at all times a good citizen.

... The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Baptist Church, Rev. J. K. Duke officiating. One of the longest processions ever seen in Wellington followed the remains to its last resting place and the stores of the town were closed during the funeral service."

Mr. Henard was survived by his wife and five children: the late John Henard, Sherm Henard of Plains, Mrs. Lowrie, the late Mrs. Carrie Gray, and the late Mrs. Stella Tingle.

Caddo Lake Seems Creation of Night

AUSTIN—Caddo Lake, according to Indian legend, was made in the dark of night by an earthquake.

Whatever merit the legend has, an atmosphere at Caddo Lake persists which makes one receptive to the idea that it is a creation of the night.

A starkly beautiful area, it nurtures an air of foreboding with its labyrinth of waterways and isolated hammocks.

Impenetrable and endless cypress groves stir a sense of danger in the newcomer because each grove looks like the next, and the thought of being lost comes easily and naturally.

Caddo Lake is and will probably forever be a wilderness, and this is its attraction. Because the lake attracts so many visitors each year, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is adding more facilities to Caddo Lake State Park, located 15 miles northwest of Marshall in Harrison County.

SWEETIE PIE

"What's the penalty on hit-an'-run?"

Yield Grades Tell the Story

COLLEGE STATION—Are all beef carcasses the same? The answer, says Frank Orts, Extension meats specialist, is an emphatic no.

Research has shown that there can be as much as $175 difference between two beef carcasses of the same weight, Orts said. Of course, this is a very unusual difference but differences of $30 to $50 are not uncommon, he added.

The USDA reports that for each one percent increase in the percentage of edible meat from the chuck, loin, rib and round there is a value difference of nearly $2 per hundred-weight of carcass. Therefore, if two 600-pound beef carcasses have a percentage difference of 5% in the yield of boneless, closely trimmed steak and roast meat from the chuck, loin, rib and round, then the higher yielding carcass would be worth $10 more per hundredweight or $60 total, explained Orts.

Harvard University was established at Cambridge, Mass., in 1636 and taken over by the students in 1969.

Seafood Offers Maximum Value

Basically, fishes are cheaper in comparison with other high protein foods since they raise and feed themselves and don't require the attention of a farmer or rancher. This means the fisherman can limit his investment to harvesting and processing equipment, without the added financial burdens imposed by land, feed, and environment needs, and can pass the savings directly to the consumer.

Comparatively, fishes are lower in price than other high protein food items. Fillets, portions, sticks, and most canned fish, have no bones and little or no waste. Fish steaks have only a small piece of backbone.

Fish goes well with plentiful, low cost foods. Mix fish in soups, chowders, or casseroles, or just serve it with other foods.

Fish can be prepared in many ways by using low cost but tasty spices and seasonings, such as salt and pepper, cinnamon, cloves, thyme, nutmeg, curry powder. They are the most economical protein foods you can buy and serve.

Open House Set at New Homes in Wellington

Open House will be held at two of Wellington's new homes Friday, Feb. 13. Lawrence Glenn, builder, of Amarillo, has announced. The public is invited to visit them between 10:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.

They are those of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fulcher, in the Leslie Moore Addition at the south end of Graham Street, and of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm (Bud) Seale at 1310 Haskell Street.

Both homes are being completed early this week. They are of contemporary design.

The Fulcher home, of a near-buff brick finish, has three bedrooms, a living room, den-kitchen, and two baths and a utility room. There is an attached two-car garage.

The house is carpeted throughout and much wood finish is used in the kitchen-den. There is much closet space and many built-in features. In the den Mrs. Fulcher's sewing niche, complete with space for all her accessories, can be closed off by double doors.

The Seale home is finished with salmon pink brick. It has four bedrooms, two baths, kitchen, storage room and attached garage. The Seale family chose inlaid tile for their floors, and half wood finish in the kitchen. Woodwork throughout is of stained mahogany and the walls are of textone finish, white in every room.

Detergent Enzymes May Irritate Skin

COLLEGE STATION. — Enzymes in concentrated form — such as those present in some laundry products — may have an irritating effect on the skin.

Although the enzyme concentration in the laundry products is low, some people may be hypersensitive to the enzymes and develop an allergy when exposed either to enzymatic detergent solutions or to clothes washed in them, reports Linda Jacobson, Extension home management specialist.

If such a problem develops, she suggests you see your dermatologist and revert to a non-enzyme detergent.

Red Cross Furnished Half of All Blood Used in U. S.

Every minute of every day, 10 units of blood are used in this country to treat the sick and injured. That's over five million units in a year.

One half of this comes from the American Red Cross Blood Program.

All of the blood used at St. Joseph's Hospital comes from Red Cross. Because of this, the hospital can get as much blood as it needs, of the types it needs no matter if it is one of the rare types, and there is a supply of fresh blood on hand at all times.

The Red Cross mobile blood unit from Wichita, Kansas, will be in Wellington Tuesday, Feb. 24, collecting blood. Not one unit of this will ever be wasted.

Most blood recipients at St. Joseph's receive fresh whole blood, to which only a preservative is added. This may be kept for 21 days.

Whole blood transfusions are necessary whenever large amounts of blood have been lost as a result of accident, injury, childbirth or certain diseases.

Plasma, the liquid portion of the blood, is usually separated from the cells by settling or centrifuging. Fresh frozen plasma is used mainly in the treatment of hemophilia.

Antihemophilic globulin of high potency can be prepared from fresh frozen plasma. Such material should be reserved for the very severe hemophilic patient or hemophiliacs subject to injury or undergoing surgery.

The solids separated from the plasma include red and white cells and platelets. Because there are about 20 times as many red cells as the others combined, it is generally known as "packed red blood cells."

These may be stored 21 days also, and are valuable in treating certain anemias where it is undesirable to give plasma. This preparation is the preferred transfusion treatment in patients not actively bleeding.

Platelets can be separated from the freshly collected blood and are effective in stopping bleeding due to platelet deficiency.

Plasma has been broken down into fractions, quick and then dried. Later they are dissolved, sterilized and packaged. These include:

Serum albumin, used for certain kidney and liver diseases, severe malnutrition, and in emergencies, for accident and shock victims.

Gamma globulin is able to modify or prevent measles and infectious hepatitis. Vaccinia immune globulin, a specially prepared gamma globulin used in the management of complications resulting from smallpox vaccination.

Fibrinogen is one of the plasma products essential to blood clotting and is used in certain cases of hemorrhage.

All of these blood derivatives are available to any hospital participating in the Red Cross Blood Program, at any time and in any quantity that may be needed.

Plastic Furniture
With plastic furniture moving to center stage, the cleaning problem also comes into the spotlight. There is a new product created to clean Plexiglass without scratching. It has been introduced at the January home furnishings shows in New York and Dallas. It is a cream that is used with a treated cloth that creates an anti-static dust-repellent surface. Watch for it in your local stores in the near future.

Oranges
Oranges today are the passport for family health and economy. In fact one large orange supplies most of the daily requirements of vitamin C. Here are a few suggestions for using oranges:

Cut the citrus into different shapes and sizes; mix with crunchy white coconut.

Mix dates, figs and orange pieces for a dessert or appetizer.

Top ice cream or sherbet with orange sections.

Use orange juice in place of milk in the egg batter for French toast. Add a bit of grated orange peel. Try it topped with orange marmalade.

A Century Old
Today's youngster can expect to live 90 to 100 years. His imagination should be 'sparkled' to this possibility. Try to broaden your child's interest beyond the narrow confines of learning a profession or trade and of supporting a family. He will be living long after his children are gone and out on their own.

Souper Ideas
Flavorful soups are perfect sandwich companions for a winter lunch. You can add taste and eye appeal. Try one of these suggestions:

... stir finely diced cheese into steaming potato soup till melted (allow 1/3 cup cheese for each bowl of soup).

... brown day-old bread cubes in butter seasoned with garlic salt; toss cubes in grated Parmesan cheese; float on the soup.

... blend a little hot tomato soup into softened cream cheese, and stir into remaining soup and serve.

... top bowls of cream soup with bits of sharp cheese and minced parsley.

Quarter of a Million

The average American family is worth more than a quarter of a million dollars — spreading an income of $7,000 a year over 40 working years. How much the money is really worth depends on the use or misuse the family makes of it.

News in Dishes

There's something new and unusual in dishes for 1970. A leading silversmiths and plastics manufacturing company has developed a kit containing special paper and ink, enough for 50 plates. The budding young artists in your family can draw the design or you can have several made of a set of personal art plates. Or you can choose a theme and utilize the talents of the whole family. The possibilities are almost unlimited. When the creations are ready return them and the designs will be molded in plastic plates. This is not only a conversation piece but a nice memento. Be on the lookout for this new kit soon to be in hobby shops and other stores.

Mrs. Glenn Is Club Speaker

The Belles Lettres Club met with Mrs. L. M. Bartlett February 3 at 2:30 p.m. During the business session, directed by the president, Mrs. Bob Hightower, members voted to help with the all-district breakfast during the annual convention of the District Federation of Women's Clubs at Shamrock in April.

Mrs. Barney Glenn presented the program on US Savings Bonds. She made a poster to show the different bonds, and how they create tax-savings and for retirement, educational funds, and for other purposes. The E bonds are the most popular, she said.

Saving bond interest is exempt on state and local income tax. Federal tax on the bonds' interest may be deferred until the bonds are cashed or matured, the speaker said.

The hostess served a salad plate to members, Mrs. E. F.

Future Farmers Are Our Future Customers

We believe in the future of cotton, and we believe the Future Farmers of Collingsworth can make it profitable in this area.

Future Farmers learn by doing. You study cotton by raising a patch . . . plant, spray, plow and harvest, then sell your project and total your profit.

Money made by the Future Farmers of Wellington, Quail and Samnorwood contributes to the economy of Collingsworth County. But the members earn more than money. They earn knowledge and the right way of farming and raising livestock.

Some Future Farmers are already our customers . . . some of our best customers were Future Farmers not many years ago. And there will come the time when almost every cotton grower who drives across the scales of the Farmers Co-op Gin will have been at some time a Future Farmer. That's how important you are to us!

Loans to Help Small Business Described

An agency that helps business men in small rural West Texas towns prepare applications for Small Business Administration loans was described for members of the Wellington Rotary Club Tuesday, Feb. 10.

Oscar Dickerson, executive director of the Aspermont Small Business Development Center, Inc., also outlined briefly the various loans that are available through SBA.

He was accompanied by Gerald Fincher, counselor for the Aspermont SBDC, and this was the first of a number of visits they will make to Wellington to assist small business men.

Small towns must learn what is available to them, to know their resources and what services are available to bring these about, and to know also what outside resources are available.

The job of Aspermont SBDC is to provide these services when they can, Mr. Dickerson explained.

The SBA Economic Opportunity Loans, which make up approximately 85% of those handled by Aspermont SBDC, are for the man who doesn't have any money, Mr. Dickerson said.

They are available to existing small business men who need additional capital, to the young man without financing who would like to come back to a small town to establish a business—or to aid other business men who fall in the low income group, the speaker explained.

Of the 200 loans with which Aspermont SBDC has assisted, there have been only five foreclosures, he said. He credited the dependable character and the willingness to work long hours at the job, qualities found in West Texas.

Mr. Dickerson explained briefly the regular SBA loan, with a $350,000 ceiling.

The Aspermont Small Business Development Center, Inc., serves 18 counties lying to the south and west of Collingsworth and is governed by a board of directors on which each member county has a representative.

It is funded by 85% federal money and 15% from the counties served.

Other Editors Say . . .

Youth's Right to Vote

Changes in eligible voting ages of youths to 18, others to 19 or 20 years, are being sought in several states.

Ballot proposals providing for such changes are already sought this year in California, Oregon, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, Wyoming, Alaska, Hawaii, Maine and Nebraska, according to the Christian Science Monitor.

If all passed, the publication adds, nearly 10 million persons could be added to the voters rolls by 1971.

However, the paper continues, this type of a constitutional amendment has met almost total defeat in state plebiscites in recent years.

Since 1966, Ohio, New Jersey, Maryland, Nebraska and Michigan have defeated the change on initiatives that would reduce the local voting age.

This is a question which certainly has two or more sides. Some argue that if youth is old enough at 18 years to fight for his country he is old enough to cast a ballot. Others say that some of our youth, although they qualify by age in defending their country in the armed services have not, through their studies and research, qualified themselves as voters.

Perhaps the nation's youth would take more interest in the responsibilities of government if they had the right to cast a ballot.

There is not much argument against the fact that assuming the responsibilities of government also carries the necessity for proper preparedness for governing others.

However, in light of youth's continuing pressure for change and desire for a piece of the action — it might be that if the burden and responsibility of taking action were placed on youth they just might help the voting public find some sensible solutions to today's problems. —Wichita Falls Record News.

Wrong Sex Aspect Taught

A famed child psychiatrist says he believes the manner in which most sex education is taught encourages young people to be sexually promiscuous by concentrating too much on the biological aspects of reproduction.

Dr. Bruno Bettelheim of the University of Chicago says in an article in the January issue of Ladies' Home Journal that most courses in sex education proceed as if "teaching sex were like teaching addition or subtraction . . . where nothing more happens than an intellectual taking-in of information."

Dr. Bettelheim said that while learning about addition "will normally create no anxieties that interfere with understanding, the opposite is true of young people learning about sex."

He said the correct way to give sex instruction is "never neglect the all-important emotional factors that make the purely physiological event so important. Because these emotional factors determine whether the physiological experience will take on the tenderness and attachment we want sex to have for our children." Unfortunately, he added, most sex education seems to concentrate on the physiological.

If, on the other hand, the meaning of sex is essentially a combination of a physiological process with the most meaningful emotional experience there is," Dr. Bettelheim said, "then to have one without the other makes emotional cripples of us and cheats us of the most satisfying experience available to man." —United Press International.

For Achievement Above and Beyond What's Necessary

A feud between big city and rural school districts over the cost of education is expected to go to federal court soon in a major lawsuit.

Dallas, Fort Worth and Houston school boards questioned the "financial fairness" of collection and distribution of the state's minimum foundation funds.

They claim that the distribution formula favors rural districts. A bill to correct this brought a storm of protest from rural districts during last year's legislative session. Best the legislature could come up with under the circumstances was a bill creating an 18-member committee to recommend "a fair and equitable basis for a division of financial responsibilities between the state and the various local districts of Texas."

Suit will seek statewide uniform property tax valuations. Action is due to be directed against the State Board of Education.

Meanwhile, the Texas Research League pointed out that aid to local school districts is the most expensive obligation of state government and most important determinant of future tax requirements.

Expansion of the foundation school program and teacher pay increases voted last year will increase state expenditures for public elementary and secondary education by $345 million in the current biennium and will produce an additional 50% increase in total state costs during the next six years.

Cumulative total increase in state aid for a six-year period is calculated at $1.6 billion in new state funds. Higher salaries account for 65% of this.

Research League predicts that the Legislature will have to raise $298 million in new funds for public schools next year, $270 million more in 1973 and $186 million more in 1975.

CROSSROADS REPORT

I see where Senator Kennedy is real worried about how the little children are being hauled around all over the country and back and forth in the cities in school buses which maybe ain't safe to ride in.

So he is demanding federal overzealment of all school bussing, with strictest supervision of drivers and all kinds of safety devices on the kid wagons.

Such as, no doubt, Mr. Kennedy will insist on having escape hatches installed on all buses, so the kids can get out safely if a senator ever happens to get hired as a driver and misses a bridge with his bus.

Teacher Mediocrity Condemned at TSTA

A teacher revolt—revolt against mediocrity in the profession, against injustice and cowardice, was urged when members of the county unit of the Texas State Teachers Association met Monday evening, Feb. 9, for one of the four meetings of the year.

Their speaker was Mrs. Patsy (John) Duncan, counselor in Crockett Junior High School in Amarillo, and a candidate for president-elect, 1970-71, of the Texas State Teachers Association.

It is a revolution of the mind and spirit and heart that she told of, and the teachers were urged to help young men—and women—to enter the professions, not only teaching, but the ministry and law and those other professions where such ideals may be taught.

Teachers must help young people to stand for what they believe, Mrs. Duncan told the group.

Young people believe that adults have put someone ahead of them, but if they feel compassion within adults, they will respond to it, she said.

And no one is quicker than a young person to spot a teacher for a "job of security", Mrs. Duncan reminded in closing.

With Malicia Junod as the teacher, those taking part as students were Lillian McKinney, Gary Mike Gulley, James Wolf, Alfred Saldana, Frances Hays, Cathy Thomason, Charlotte Masten, Susan Oney, Billy Teakell, Gary Mac Thomas, and Sidney Duncan. The voice over the intercom was that of Sam Dyess.

Sam Dyess then gave a short serious reading describing the unassuming schoolmaster who seeks no rewards for himself.

Mrs. McAlister presided at the banquet and John Thomas introduced the speaker.

Guests of the teachers were husbands and wives, members of their school boards and their wives.

Coupons Sought for Kidney Machine

PLAINVIEW.— Residents of nine states have joined the students of Wayland Baptist College in an attempt to raise 600,000 Betty Crocker coupons needed to purchase a kidney machine for former Wayland student, Larry Parks of Circleville, Ohio.

Coupons are still being sought in the drive and may be mailed to the Student Government Association at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, Texas. Some 240,000 coupons have been collected to date.

The drive originated when Larry Parks, a freshman ministerial student from Circleville, Ohio, discovered shortly before Christmas that he was the victim of Brights disease in the chronic and terminal stages. Parks is 24 years old, married and the father of two small children. In order to live, Parks must have a kidney transplant or a kidney machine and related equipment valued at some $60,000.

General Mills has agreed to purchase the necessary equipment if friends of Parks can raise the 600,000 Betty Crocker coupons.

FU Fly-In Members Report on Washington

WASHINGTON, D.C.—If major farm programs are allowed to expire at the end of this year, disaster will follow in the rural economy, a Farmers Union Fly-In group of some 260 farmers from eight states told members of the House and Senate early this week.

Doug Seal, Rudie Tate, W. E. Marchant and Earl Hunter were among farm and rural leaders from Texas, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico, Kansas, and Pennsylvania, making the House and Senate calls and delivering Farmers Union recommendations on major legislative needs of agriculture.

The delegation divided into groups to call on Congressmen. Those of which the Collingsworth men were members visited with the legislative aides of representatives from California, Illinois, Massachusetts, and Connecticut. Most of these had voted against the extension of the 1965 farm program the last time it came before Congress, Mr. Hunter and Mr. Marchant said.

The 18th District Fly-In members were guests of Congressman Bob Price and the Texas group was also host at a breakfast for their respective Congressmen.

"The Farmers Union has worked with 25 other general farm and commodity groups to develop the coalition farm bill. This bill—the Purcell Bill—is co-sponsored by more than 50 members of the House and Senate. It is not all that Farmers Union believes is needed, but it provides the framework on which Congress can build an improved, long-range program," said Tony T. Dechant, national president of Farmers Union.

Jay Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union, warned against either elimination of parity as a basis for farm support levels or making the farm programs entirely discretionary with the Secretary of Agriculture.

The 65-member Texas delegation headed by Naman met with ASCS Administrator Kenneth Frick to protest a 13% reduction in "projected yields" of cotton. The meeting was called by Congressman George Mahon of the 19th Congressional District of Texas.

The grassroots lobbyists also urged restoration of advance payments in the 1970 farm programs, inclusion of a strengthened food stamp program in the farm bill and a rollback of the currently excessive interest rates.

In a session at the Department of Agriculture Monday, the Fly-In group met Secretary Clifford M. Hardin's executive assistant, E. F. Behrens; Carl Farrington of the ASCS; Andrew Mair, specialist on international trade; Joseph Haspray of the Farmers Home Administration and Jon Green-eisen of the Farm Credit Administration.

Rockets Win Over Shamrock and Electra

The Wellington Skyrockets defeated Shamrock 69 to 49 in a game played here Tuesday, Feb. 3, then traveled to Electra to add another victory, 69 to 56, Friday evening, Feb. 6.

Both Shamrock and Wellington boys played in spurts through their game, but the Rockets were able to play a little smoother brand of basketball than their Irish opponents.

Lester Robinson led Wellington's scoring with 18 points, while Donnie Rhodes had 14 for Shamrock.

"I feel our boys will need to pick up a little bit if they are to win the rest of their games," said Coach James Stavenhagen early this week.

The Wellington-Electra game was a good one from the spectator standpoint. Both teams played pretty good basketball but the Rockets never did hit the basket very well. However, they had the other phases of the game working for them.

The game turned Wellington's way early in the second period when the Rockets were able to build a small lead, then added to it through the remainder of the game.

Lester Robinson again was high point man with 31 for Wellington, and Bob Sargent and Dick Love got 14 each for Electra.

Wellington Chapter Observes FFA Week

Vocational agriculture students in Wellington High School will join FFA members all through the nation in activities to emphasize the importance of agriculture during FFA Week, later in February.

The theme for this year's celebration is "FFA... emphasizes agriculture." Throughout the week the young agriculturists will be emphasizing the importance to this nation of a dynamic and prosperous agriculture. Not only will they be informing the nation of the importance of agriculture to its citizens, but they will also seek to inform the public of the vast opportunities open to the young people in agriculture today.

"We have such an abundance of food in America that people seem to take farming and agribusiness for granted," said Don Lacy, Wellington FFA Chapter advisor and vocational agriculture teacher. "Actually farming is now and always has been our nation's largest and most vital industry. As our population expands, it will become increasingly important for men and women to train to meet the demand for food."

"It is fortunate," Mr. Lacy said, "that many of the young men in our community have the opportunity to participate in the FFA. Through this program they not only learn about all aspects of modern agriculture, but they have an opportunity to develop leadership skills and work together to build a better community."

Membership in the FFA is made up of high school students in vocational agriculture. The organization's activities are designed to help develop leadership and good citizenship and to stimulate student interest in higher achievement. While for many years the FFA has devoted its main efforts toward establishing young men in farming, it also is working to train and develop men for thousands of jobs which support the nation's farmers and provide consumer services.

The Wellington FFA Chapter has 65 members. Among the major projects for the Wellington Chapter this year are the up-coming Parent-Son Banquet, Feb. 23, featuring Bill Sarpalus of Boys Ranch as the guest speaker. Sarpalus is last year's State FFA president.

This year's Parent-Son Banquet replaces the Father-Son banquets held formerly.

Chapter officers are James Jones, president; Ricky Nall, vice president; Dallas Holland, secretary; David Hodges, treasurer; Stan Parker, reporter; Danny Watts, sentinel; Mike Davis, parliamentarian; Jerry Lewis, historian; Clyde Harper, song leader; and Joe Montgomery, chaplain. Don Lacy is chapter advisor.

Leigh Nall is the Chapter Sweetheart, as well as the Greenbelt District Sweetheart. Chapter members are Alton Belew, Dana Bell, Billy Carter, Gary Cummings, Dan Fires, Jacob Green, Nicky Guthrie, Steve Hunter, Don Judd, Barry Long.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

On the editorial page in this issue you will find a list of candidates for state offices including both Democrats and Republicans. The Democrats have their ticket filled and the Republican ballot has candidates down far enough to include candidates for land commissioner and agriculture commissioner.

This reminds us. We have received a copy of "Treasure Tempest in Texas" from Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler. It deals with the Spanish treasure sunk off Padre Island in 1553. It shows pictures of the rare objects and the gold and silver coins found in the wreckage. A storm caught the treasure-laden fleet near Cuba and drove some of the heavier ships clear across the Gulf of Mexico. If you are a collector of Texas books you should get a copy of this booklet. While the concluding pages are political, the pictures of the recovered objects are authentic and interesting.

This is about the last call for transplanting shrubs and trees and setting out new ones. You will be taking a risk if you wait any longer than February. It has been so dry that care should be used in setting out the plants. Dig the holes and water them well and if possible water them again after they have been planted.

Did you ever notice how the limbs of young apple and young apricot trees will twine around each other instead of spreading out? There is a reason—both are members of the rose family. Proper shape can be achieved only by pruning.

So you think food prices are high. Consider these statistics: In 1920 it required four hours and thirty minutes of work to buy a pound of steak, a pound of pork, a quart of milk, a dozen eggs, a dozen oranges, and a ten pound sack of potatoes. Today it requires only one hour and thirty minutes of work to purchase the same amount of solid foods plus a number of luxuries.

A&M has this to say concerning food in 1970. Expenditures may not be quite as large as in 1969. Quantity increases will probably match population growth. A further drop is likely in the percentage of income spent for food in 1970. Since the biggest chunk of most food budgets goes for meat, A&M food experts say to look for best beef values on round steaks and roasts, ground beef, short ribs, chuck roasts and steak and beef liver. Pork values include picnics, end cut loin roasts and chops, shoulder roasts and steak and pork liver.

The crow population is reaching its peak in this area. The second largest crow roost in the nation is north of us in Wheeler County—the largest being northeast of Lawton. One game management officer of the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department estimates more than a million crows in his county. That is bound to be in Wheeler. I have not been up there at the right time in recent years; but in other years there was a flight pattern about Twitty each evening that was incredible. You could see crows by the tens of thousands flying east as far as the eye could see.

I have been through the mill since the first of the year. The first week in January was used for a trip to Houston and a checkup at M. D. Anderson Hospital and Cancer Institute. The last week in January we were in Austin because our son had back surgery due to a pinched nerve that was causing a muscle in his life leg to wither. And the first week in February I was poking around in the dust of the old Wellington Hotel and came down with some kind of respiratory ailment that must have come from King Tut's tomb.

Flu and virus are all over town so you had better take care of yourself. Neighboring towns have been having worse seiges than Wellington.

$3,500 to Reimburse Loss

Board Ups Lunch Cost, Re-Elects Principals

Students in the Wellington schools who eat in the cafeteria will have to pay more for their lunches beginning March 1, Supt. J. L. Harper has announced.

The action was taken by the School Board in its regular February meeting Monday night Feb. 9.

In the same meeting the board re-elected the school's three principals. These are E. W. Clement, now in his 10th year as high school principal; A. A. McQueary, in his 11th year as junior high principal. Thayne Amontet was re-elected to the combined post of elementary school principal and athletic director. He has held the latter post three years and is in his second year as principal.

The cost of lunches, effective March 1, will be: Elementary students, 45¢. Junior high and high school students, 50¢.

School personnel and teachers, 75¢. Non-school personnel, $1.00.

"This has been necessary due to the heavy financial loss in our lunch room this year, due to increased costs of labor, food and other expenses," said Mr. Harper.

"We have had to reimburse the lunchroom $3500 out of local money this year and that still isn't going to bring us out. Last year and this year are the first times we have had to do this since I have been here."

All members of the school board were present for the meeting, including J. B. Killian, David Baumgardner, Richard Nall, Jones Singley, Glen Taylor and John Sherman.

No Charge for Blood

RC Blood Program Health Care Bargain

A patient's use of blood through the Red Cross Blood Program is one of the big bargains in health costs today.

Don Hood, chairman of the bloodmobile drive here Tuesday, Feb. 24, tells why:

There is no charge for blood or blood derivatives from the Red Cross. The shipping charge for blood sent to the hospital and any that may be returned is also absorbed by the Red Cross.

The only charge the Red Cross makes is $13 per unit for processing the blood.

The hospital charges only $7.50 for cross-matching the patient's blood with that to be transfused, and an $8.00 charge for administering the blood.

This is a total overall cost of $28.50 per unit. If the patient receives several pints of blood during that stay in the hospital, he pays the cross-matching fee only once, bringing the cost down to $21.50.

TANE Speakers Due Sunday at Baptist Churches

Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education (TANE) representatives will speak in the First Baptist and Mount Sinai Baptist Mission Churches Sunday, Feb. 15.

TANE speakers, ministers and laymen of several Christian denominations, speak in some 2,500 churches in Texas each year.

The organization is dedicated to the prevention of problems that arise from the use of alcohol, narcotics and other dangerous drugs. TANE programs include public school assembly programs, publishing, production of audio visual aids, legislative information service, free film lending library, and an annual school on alcohol and narcotics studies, sponsored jointly by TANE and Baylor University.

TANE's books and film strips geared to prevent alcohol and drug problems, have been distributed throughout the English-speaking world. Some are being translated into other languages for use in the Far East and South America.

A non-profit, educational organization, TANE is supported financially by Texas churches of 19 denominations.

"The speaker's purpose in visiting a church is not to reach drunks and narcotics addicts, but to report to the church on alcohol and drug problems, what can be done, and what is being done about them," said Rev. Albert F. Tucker, TANE executive director.

Lakeview Win

With the four teams so equal in strength, it is still possible that the tournament victor will be someone other than Hedley and another tie will have to be played off.

In the girls division, Hedley is the round robin winner with a 7-1 record; then comes Lakeview, 6-2; Samnorwood, 5-3; and Quail, 4-4.

The 4-B tournament will open at 6:00 p.m. Thursday when the Quail and Hedley girls meet. Samnorwood and Lakeview girls will play at 7:30.

The first boys game will be at 9:00 when No. 1 and No. 4 teams — Hedley and Samnorwood, meet.

The girls championship game will be at 7:00 p.m. Friday, and the second game will feature the No. 2 and No. 3 boys teams, Lakeview and Quail.

The boys championship game will be Saturday night, and if there has to be a play-off in the girls division, this also will be Saturday night. This will determine whether the boys game starts at 8:00 or 8:30 p.m. according to Coach Bill Wilson of Quail.

AN ADVERTISING SUPPLEMENT TO THE WELLINGTON LEADER, FEBRUARY 12, 1970

Just Released—"MAJOR ADAMS" Series To Be Seen on KVII

WARD BOND RETURNS TO TELEVISION

Pro News Men Have Human Side, Too

by Free-lance Writer, Ray Knight

The hard-nosed, cold-facts atmosphere in which KVII's Pro News men work might suggest that the men themselves should be stern and insensitive.

A casual chat in a rare calm moment reveals quite a different picture.

Take Jim Pratt, for example. As KVII's Managing Editor, Jim must put his twenty-two years of broadcasting experience on the line before each newscast; it's up to him to determine which of the thousands of daily happenings will be of greatest interest to area viewers. It's the kind of job that would make a lesser man cringe.

But Jim Pratt is a big man with a big friendliness. He approaches his awesome duties with the calm confidence that big men always seem to have. In the whirlwind of frantic activity before every newscast, Jim can be seen at the center of the storm, guiding his staff steadily through preparations for the broadcast just moments away. Unruffled, he directs editing of a film story, decides a script question for one of the reporters, explains to the producer how the sequence of shots will go, and diplomatically fields a call from a complaining viewer. While others in the same shoes might appear harassed, Jim is collected, cool.

I asked him what his secret was. "Well," he said, "maybe it's like that little sign over there says—'Anyone who can keep his head in all this confusion just doesn't understand the situation.'"

Okay, count modesty as another Jim Pratt trademark. He does, indeed, understand the situation. Associated Press and UPI awards for best newscast, best story, and best documentary attest to his awareness. His understanding of the situation won him the C.B.S. News Fellowship to Columbia University and the I.M.A. Man of the Year Award in 1963. When he says something, he knows whereof he speaks.

As a political science scholar, Jim expresses concern for the future. "The sociological lag must catch up to the technological advance," he says. "If not, the population explosion will produce self-annihilation or cause legalization of genocide." To Jim and Dorothy, his wife of twenty-three years, the future is an important matter: "We have four daughters who'll have to live in it."

Roger Davis, the other half of the anchor team on Pro News, pursues more immediate problems through his efforts on the Hotline feature. Designed to expose and correct specific problems revealed by viewers, Hotline—under Roger's direction—has provided the individual citizen with the means to get action on his grievances.

In "real life"—that is, off-camera—Roger is the same man you see on your home screen: generally serious, but gifted with a subtle, sharply-honed wit that contrasts pleasantly with the gentle, homey humor of Jim Pratt. It was Roger who started the good-natured feud with Pratt as to whether a broken area in street pavement was a "chuckhole" (as it is known in his native Pennsylvania), or a "chug-hole" (as ex-farm boy Pratt maintains). To this writer's knowledge, the question remains unresolved.

Such exchanges between the two provide brightness and optimism to leaven the often disheartening character of today's news.

In the more entertaining world of sports, Woody Van Dyke sparkles as one of the really true "sports." With abandon befitting a Darrell Royal on fourth down, Woody jumps in with both feet. Controversy swirls in his wake. After each of his reports, the ring of the newsroom phone is inevitable. And inevitably the comments run the gamut—from, "Hey, Woody, you're absolutely right; give 'em the dickens!", to the less complimentary, "What kinda ding-a-ling sportscaster are you?" Rarely is there a middle ground. But then, Woody is not a middle-of-the-road guy.

Woody's greatest concern? Getting the Dallas Cowboys into the Super Bowl!

If there is anyone on the Pro News team who must endure more torment than Van Dyke, it would have to be Channel 7's Weatherman, Bill Stone. This affable man-of-the-elements faces the formidable task of predicting the behavior of Nature's most unpredictable phenomenon. But Stone stands square to the odds, draws deep from nearly thirty years experience, and fires his forecast. I've checked up on the results: his aim is good.

Perhaps Bill's accuracy can be attributed to his long experience with the U.S. Weather Bureau and U.S. Air Force (ret'd), where many lives were dependent on his oracle powers. Absorbed with the weather and its study, Bill speaks of social problems in the jargon of his trade. He sees the greatest difficulty confronting current society as being "Pollution—not only atmospheric, but in the personal lives of individuals."

Like I said, his aim is good.

Jim Pratt, Roger Davis, Woody Van Dyke, Bill Stone—four men who breathe and live an austere, punishing, demanding profession that few of us could survive. Yet these four men—leaders of the KVII Pro News team—meet their individual challenges with the cool poise of professionals, and still find time to be human.

You've gotta admire guys like that.

When it ran on the network, "Wagon Train" was the highest-rated western in TV history. No other western has matched its rugged appeal since. Now the incomparable WARD BOND can be enjoyed again as "Major Adams" comes to the KVII screen each weeknight following the 10 p.m. Pro News.

In announcing KVII's decision to program the series in this time period, managing partner John Tyler said, "We feel the viewers should be offered an alternative to the talk-show format. Ward Bond was a great actor and made this series a television classic. We felt the people at home who don't like the talk shows would enjoy seeing this wholesome award-winning program. "Major Adams" not only deals with the covered wagons and their extraordinary passengers, but also relates the lives of townspeople en route who offer pioneers a haven for rest, repairs and reorganization. In these roles will be such stars as Ernest Borgnine, Mickey Rooney, Bette Davis, Charles Laughton, Wally Cox, Ricardo Montalban, Lee Marvin, Agnes Moorehead, Cliff Robertson, Shelley Winters and many more.

Among the many awards garnered by this series is one by The Saturday Review of Literature, which stated: "This is the best of the Westerns . . . bold, refreshing . . . fine production . . . emphasis on character and authentic atmosphere."

"Major Adams" can be seen Monday through Friday at 10:45 p.m., right after the 10 p.m. Pro News.

Supporting Cast Gives Pro News Strong Foundation

In the trade, they're called "leg men." They're the men who log hundreds of hours and miles of tire rubber in search for news. They're a sturdy, dedicated breed. At KVII, they're known as Conners, Foss, and Zortman. Because of their maddeningly regular knack for getting exclusive scoops, their competitors call them the "Fearsome Three-some." Together they form a broad base of experience to provide firm support for KVII's Pro News.

Larry Conners, while news director of an Amarillo radio station, wrote and produced news broadcasts that were later to be cited with honors from both United Press International and Associated Press. He's currently seen on KVII's noon Pro News.

In the saying "It takes one to know one" lies the key to Kelly Foss' invaluable contribution to Pro News broadcasts.

In a profession which finds itself closely related to law enforcement sources, it is a distinct asset to have served in those ranks. Before entering broadcasting, Kelly did duty as a police officer in Hereford and in Amarillo. He also served as a deputy sheriff for Potter County.

The man with the sonorous handle of Bill Tell Zortman hails from the corn country of Iowa. As KVII's Man-in-Motion, Zortman's beat is the Texas Panhandle, with concentration on events of importance to viewers in the Pampa and Borger areas. These three men, along with a critical assist from photo-man Jim Davis (who makes sure all the newsfilm is processed right . . . and in time), make up the support team of Pro News—the sweat behind the glory.

Pretty Kay Clardy, KVII receptionist, relays a message called in for Jim Pratt during a recent 6 p.m. Pro News broadcast.

CATTLE BOOM

Tompkins Keeps Tabs on Rapidly Growing Cattle Feeding Industry

All of a sudden you see businessmen wearing cowboy boots and LBJ-type Stetsons. You hear office workers quoting the current market price on good-to-choice slaughter steers. Even a conversation with the corner druggist is sprinkled with words like fat cattle, cost-per-pound of gain, and shrink.

It's all part of the $6-billion and still-growing cattle feeder-packing industry in the Texas Panhandle. With over a million head of cows being finished out in area feedlots, the cattle industry has become a prime support to the economy.

Jack Tompkins, KVII's Farm and Ranch Director, keeps Channel 7 viewers abreast of the changing influences on the cattle market. Through his many contacts with key people in the industry, Tompkins is able to provide immediate information on fluctuations in the market.

In addition to cattle news, Tompkins also features grain and hog prices on his daily reports at 6:45 a.m. and noon on KVII.

And STILL Texas' Tallest Tower

Though several new television towers have been erected in the state since the completion of KVII's tower last spring, none have challenged Channel 7's title of Texas' Tallest Tower.

The orange-and-white mammoth majestically stretches 1,703 feet into the Panhandle sky above the Canadian River breaks. A third of a mile high, the Channel 7 tower climbs higher than the Empire State Building, the Eiffel Tower and the Statue of Liberty.

Texas' Tallest Tower from KVII—unchallenged and still champion.

Clovis viewers may now see KVII programs on Channel 6, via the newly-constructed translator northeast of the city. Consult your TV serviceman or dealer for antenna information.

New Program Line-Up Sparks Channel 7 Viewing

In response to viewer requests, KVII's programming department has made several changes in the Spring line-up that should win approval of TV fans.

The most notable new show is MAJOR ADAMS with Ward Bond at 10:45 following Pro News Monday through Friday.

The morning line-up sees the much-acclaimed "SESAME STREET" series at 8:00 already proving to be a children's favorite.

Famous TIMMY AND LASSIE find a home at 10:00, just before GALLOPING GOURMET at 10:30.

JUDD FOR THE DEFENSE, who's been keeping late hours on Channel 7, moves to 3:00 each weekday afternoon, followed by DARK SHADOWS, THE MUNSTERS, "F" TROOP, and GILLIGAN'S ISLAND.

Movie fans get another night on KVII with the addition of FRIDAY CINEMA SEVEN at 11:45, following MAJOR ADAMS.
