Nixon Meets With Advisers

The SDN Column

High schools and a sprinkling of colleges get into the 1969 football action picture this weekend, which means that fans here can get in many hours of watching the autumn sport if they desire.

There are plenty of offerings, both "live" and on television, beginning with an in-person performance tonight in Tiger Stadium between the resident Tigers and the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes. Then, if you desire more in less than 24 hours, you may go to Big Spring and watch the local junior varsity meet the Big Spring JV team at 2 p.m. Saturday, and then if you still crave football, you may amble over to Colorado City and see Travis Junior High's 9th graders play C-City 9th, or go on to Sweetwater and catch Travis 8th vs. Sweetwater 8th, both the latter starting at 6 p.m. Saturday, or you may come on back to Snyder and see Lamar 9th host Lamesa 9th at 7:30.

If its bigger time football you want, SMU and Air Force will open the TV college schedule at 8:30 p.m. Saturday on the tube.

Going a notch higher, the AFL New York Jets will face Buffalo in their league opener on television at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, to be followed up immediately by Houston and Oakland. And if you are not out of breath by then you may continue on television and catch the NFL Dallas Cowboys and Baltimore Colts at 8 p.m. Sunday. Whew! !

It seems strange for the Tigers to be opening their season with Lamesa, a team they usually meet well down in the season, and stranger still that tonight's game is not a conference game.

But, there's almost never a season without some new or strange events. Remember some 15 years ago when a college kid named Tommy Lewis jumped off the Alabama bench in the Cotton Bowl and ran onto the field and tackled Dickie Moegle of Rice, who was on his way to a touchdown? Lewis of course was literally a "12th man" and his feat, or folly, resulted in a rules change. Many fans undoubtedly remember the incident, but do you remember who was Alabama's quarterback that day? He was a fellow named Bart Starr.

And then there was the time a few years ago when Lubbock Monterey and Midland were playing at Midland and one team led (I have forgotten which) by 7-0 before the clock even started. The opening kickoff rolled into the end zone and both teams, treating it as a punt, gathered around, reluctant to pick up the football. Finally one youngster on the kicking team did pick it up to hand it to the referee, who immediately signaled a touchdown.

But this is another season, and the stage is set for more notable events.

To Review War Strategy

By LEWIS GULICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon personally ordered a 36-hour halt in B52 bombing missions over South Vietnam but has now directed that the bombings be resumed, the White House announced today.

Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the temporary cessation in sorties was ordered to give policymakers time to determine what the Communists intended to do about the level of fight following the 72-hour cease-fire they had announced to mark the death of Ho Chi Minh.

Ziegler said the level of enemy activity now has reverted to pre-truce levels and that, for that reason, Nixon had sent the big bombers back into the skies.

The announcement came as the President closeted himself with key advisers from Washington, Saigon and Paris for a broad review of the Vietnam situation.

The press aide, in seeking to explain the motivation for the brief halt in B52 operations, said Washington wanted to determine whether the Communist-initiated truce "had political significance beyond the death of Ho."

In other words, the question was whether the other side might continue to hold down military activity even after the end of the cease-fire period.

In addition, Ziegler said, the United States wanted to make it clear that the enemy and not the U.S. forces would be responsible for resumption of full-scale fighting.

He said the enemy picked up the military tempo even before the end of the truce period and that therefore it was found necessary to fly B52 missions for a 12-hour period following the truce.

The meeting, which was called several days ago, took on added significance in the light of reports that the U.S. Command in a move to de-escalate the fighting, had halted B52 bombing raids across South Vietnam.

"It's a gesture of de-escalation, a political move," one Saigon source said. "There is a new leadership in Hanoi."

Presidential news secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, who said there would be no announcement immediately following this morning's meeting, gave this list of officials called in by Nixon:

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, U.S. Commander in Vietnam Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. Ambassador to Saigon Ellsworth Bunker; Secretary of State William P. Rogers; Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; Pacific commander-in chief Adm. John S. McCain, CIA chief Richard Helms, Philip Habib, senior professional diplomat on the U.S. negotiating team at Paris, and Henry A. Kissinger, presidential assistant for national security affairs.

Word of the bombing suspension, which was greeted with initial no comments by administration spokesmen, followed suggestions by some influential officials here that the United States take new peace initiatives aimed at the new leadership in North Vietnam.

How the current Hanoi leaders, who succeeded the late Ho Chi Minh, respond to the latest U.S. de-escalation could have a strong effect on any further American troop cutbacks, another topic certain for discussion at today's White Huse meeting.

Jaycees Present Tiger To School

Presentation of a life-sized fiber glass Tiger highlighted the opening pep rally of the new football season this morning in the Snyder High School Gym.

Mickey Nunley, Manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce, presented the new symbol of SHS athletic teams to Gary Terrell, president of the student council, as the student body, faculty and a number of visitors looked on.

Snyder Jaycees purchased the eight-foot Tiger with donations they received from a number of local business firms. Jimmy McFarland and Darrell Rains head up the Jaycee committee which handled the project.

Everyone Invited To Ranchers' Day

Anyone interested in attending the Rancher's Day celebration Sept. 20 who has not received an invitation should contact Mrs. Wilson Connell at 573-9447 or 573-2033. Mrs. Connell is general chairman of the gathering.

Due to a lack of invitations, Mrs. Connell said she realized many people who should have been invited were not. The gathering is intended for anyone who wishes to share in the remembrances of the history of Snyder.

Emergency Medical Service Discussed

How to reduce a $12 billion annual loss and, even more important, how to reduce a 55,000 per year death toll dominated discussion Thursday night at a meeting held in the Cogdell Memorial Hospital board room.

Meeting with a group of local citizens were Harvie Yoe, field supervisor, and Thomas J. Ardery Jr., field consultant, of the Texas State Department of Health's Division of Disaster, Health and Medical Services.

Yoe explained that this division of the state health department deals primarily with emergency medical service and is particularly interested in upgrading emergency service for victims of traffic mishaps and other accidents. Consequently, the discussion dealt mostly with emergency ambulance service and emergency hospital facilities and personnel.

Ardery projected a film which showed how a small Wisconsin town organized and trained a group of volunteers to carry out emergency rescue operations. The film showed the group functioning in a practice which involved a simulated school bus crash.

Yoe said the Division of Disaster, Health and Medical Services had made surveys of emergency services in Texas and had found some to be deficient. He said the ambulance and hospital service in Snyder met high standards. However, some of the local citizens attending the session discussed the possibility of offering some type of training for emergency rescue crews that could be called upon in the event of a major tragedy. The service that exists now was generally described as adequate, but the question was, "what would we do if a tragedy should occur requiring many more ambulances along with special rescue equipment and trained rescuers?"

Odis Glasscock, who operates Snyder Ambulance Service, said the service, which is subsidized by the city and county, has three emergency vehicles, and could get as many as nine available on rather short notice. However, he said the problem would be finding qualified people to operate them.

Ardery said that officials of the American College of Surgeons estimated that 20 per cent of the 55,000 persons who died last year on the nation's highways likely could have been

NCO Investigation Is Widening

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources indicate an investigation of financial irregularities in military service clubs is widening. "The investigators keep turning up new leads," said one source.

He described the problem as appearing most acute in Vietnam, but said mishandling of funds, goods and services also is suspected in clubs in West Germany and the United States as well.

Although the probe has centered on noncommissioned officers' clubs, investigators are looking into officers clubs as well.

The inquiry centers on the way club managers used funds available to operate the facilities.

Although money to operate the clubs does not come out of the federal treasury, the Pentagon has the responsibility for assuring that there are no irregularities.

The armed services are due to report to Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird by Sept. 19 on what their probers have discovered and what corrective action has been taken.

However, the widening scope of the investigation suggests the Sept. 19 report can only be an interim accounting.

And the Pentagon has decided to bring no charges against anybody until a Senate investigation into the situation is opened later this month.

This, it was explained, will permit the senators to question anybody they wish without being inhibited by the possibility that such inquiries could affect the course of any criminal cases.

Also, if a person is formally charged, he might not be available for Senate questioning.

Laird obviously is bending over backward to cooperate with the Senate group and has pledged full support to the committee.

A total of 50 military investigators is on the case now, and although Navy, Marine and Air Force service clubs are being scrutinized, Pentagon sources said the soft spots appeared to be chiefly in the Army.

GM Increase Formulates New Factor

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler, Ford and American Motors had a new factor to consider today as they formulated their 1970 car prices—the 1970 General Motors price list which boosts price tags an average of about $125.

GM, however, puts the average hike at $119. It says that because of higher volume more weight should be given the lower-priced Chevrolet than the more expensive Cadillacs.

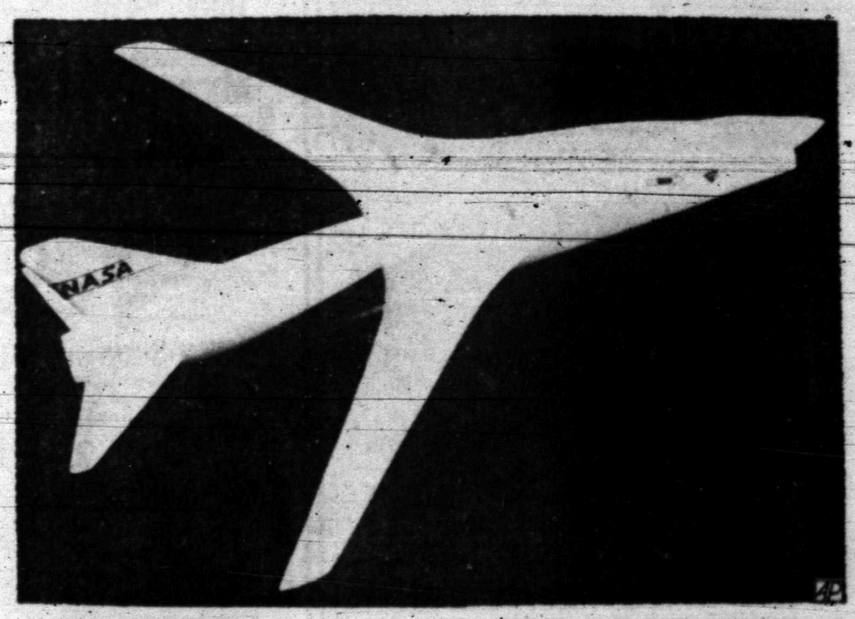
GM also announced Thursday it was continuing its warranty plan which provides coverage for the power train—engine, transmission and rear axle—for five years or 50,000 miles.

Henry Ford II, Ford Motor Co. board chairman, said a staff of executives was at work today considering the competitive impact of the GM warranty. Ford previously had announced a one year, unlimited mileage plan covering the entire car, including power train. GM's coverage for the entire car is for one year or 12,000 miles.

Ford, speaking at a news conference called after he announced he had fired Ford President Semon E. Knudsen, declined comment on prices. "We will have our answer next week," he said.

GM begins sales on Sept. 18, Ford the next day and Chrysler on Sept. 23. It was the first time in four years that GM had announced prices first.

Because of its tremendous sales volume—it sells more cars than the other three automakers together—GM can operate on a lower per-car profit basis.



'BOOMERANG' WING MAY INCREASE PLANE SPEED—A new boomerang-shaped wing, shown on this NASA model, may increase the speed of subsonic commercial jet transport planes 100 miles an hour. The new wing, mounted above the fuselage, would reduce drag and buffeting. Tests will begin at Edwards Air Force Base in California next year. (AP Wirephoto)

Budget Debate In Homestretch

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is heading into the homestretch of its long debate on the defense budget with critics of Pentagon spending still pressing their uphill fight for cuts.

A vote was scheduled today on the amendment of Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., to defer $377.1 million for the CVAN69 nuclear aircraft carrier pending a study of the need and cost.

Backers of the amendment hoped to do better than earlier in the week when a move to delay the next batch of C5A supr-cargo planes failed 64-23. But foes of the CVAN69 project conceded privately only massive absenteeism could give them a victory.

Debate on the $20 billion military procurement authorization bill started July 7.

Among remaining amendments, the one with the best chance of approval appears to be a proposal by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., to restrict U.S. military aid to Laos and Thailand to "equipment, material, supplies and maintenance thereof."

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is being married at a fairly large church ceremony here in Portland, Oregon. Her grandfather (my father) lives in Seattle, and my problem is what to do about Lottie, his third wife. Lottie is a coarse and vulgar woman, who doesn't need champagne to tell dirty jokes. You can tell that I'd rather not have her, but an invtation went out to "Mr. and Mrs." so there is a good chance that my father will bring Lottie.

I am having nightmares, Abby. What courtesies must we extend to her if she comes? She's never met the bride and I don't feel that she should be treated as a "grandmother."

The other grandmother (my husband's mother) is also from Seattle, and she doesn't speak to Lottie THERE, so I doubt if things will be any different in Portland.

I don't want this occasion spoiled for my daughter or anyone else, but I want to do the right thing.

Naturally, my father is not aware of what is so obvious to the rest of us.

STUMPED IN PORTLAND

DEAR STUMPED: If your father brings his wife, she should be accorded all the courtesies of a "grandmother." If the other grandmother doesn't speak to Lottie, it's their affair. Relax, and don't preoccupy yourself with the anticipated misconduct of any one guest.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 35-year-old widow with two children, ages 12 and 7. I've been a widow for three years. I had a wonderful husband and all the 10 years we were married I never looked at another man. I was a good wife and I am still a good mother.

My children and I live alone and I have not spent one night away from them since my husband's death.

Six months ago I met a man I'll call Bill. He is divorced. I care a lot for Bill and he says he cares for me and my children. He's in the service now, stationed in Thailand. He is getting a few days leave this summer and has asked me to meet him in Hawaii. I want to, but my parents are old fashioned, and they say no respectable woman would go to Hawaii to meet a man. Abby, we are not going to LIVE together. I am sure there is more than one hotel in Hawaii.

My sister has agreed to keep my children. Do you think it would be improper for me to meet Bill in Hawaii? He has offered to pay my expenses. If I go, should I let him? I can afford to pay my own way without much strain. Thank you.

DIXIE

DEAR DIXIE: I vote "GO". But since you aren't officially engaged and can pay your own expenses without much strain, do so. Have a wonderful time, and aloha!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I can really sympathize with that woman who was afraid of birds. When I was young, I attended a huge family gathering, and several chickens were decapitated in preparation for the dinner. One of the older boys picked up a headless chicken and chased me with it. I became so frightened I fainted.

Later on in my life, even a feather's touch made me ill. My husband found this out and he used to think it was great fun to try to tickle me with a feather. I finally ended up in a hospital with a nervous breakdown.

After a recovery (and a divorce from this cruel man) I was finally cured of my fear by a psychiatrist, but it was a long and expensive process. Unresolved fears are nightmares that can last a lifetime.

SYMPATHIZER

DEAR ABBY: This letter is in response to "WAITING," regarding her status as a widow or wife.

In some states if the wife does not hear from her husband (or if his body is not recovered) within five years, she may acquire from the court a declaration of presumptive death. In the meantime, she is still a wife.

Yoe said Texas has had a licensing law for ambulance operators since 1943, but that many are still operated by unlicensed and unqualified personnel.

Literature concerning emergency medical service, proper equipment and standards for ambulance service and training courses were distributed.

Sitting in on the session were representatives of county and city governments, hospital officials, representatives of the sheriff and police departments, schools and news media.

Insurance Report Is Due Today

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith's auto insurance study committee makes a report today that would clear the way for new and higher rates for automobile policies to be issued.

The preliminary report to Smith deals only with the 11.4 per cent average statewide boost in the price of insuring the family car, recommended July 8 by State Insurance Board actuaries.

The board postponed action on the staff proposal, pending completion of the committee's initial report. New rates originally were to have been issued Aug. 1, effective Sept. 1.

Meanwhile, insurance companies have been anxiously awaiting issuance of the new rates, claiming current premium levels are causing them to lose money.

Smith appointed the committee in the wake of widespread public complaints about the proposed rate increases. It will continue its work, with hearings on suggested policy changes beyond the immediate matter of the rate increase.

Actual rates are not determined on a statewide basis but according to 40 separate territories and 14 different rating classes.

Student Rotarian In First Meeting

The Snyder Rotary Club met yesterday for their weekly luncheon meeting.

Student Rotarian for the month, Gary Terrell, was introduced. Marlin Terrell introduced the program, which was presented by Linda Wesson and Gary Terrell. The program was on Americanism. Linda and Gary attended a citizenship seminar in Waco this past summer, which was sponsored by the Farm Bureau.

Guests at the meeting were J. B. Claiborne, guest of R. C. Patton and Frank Taylor, guest of Mel Gilbert. H. F. Clark, president, presided.

Dirksen Buried With Honors

PEKIN, Ill. (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen was buried with military honors Thursday in this central Illinois town where he was born.

Among the 3,000 persons who ringed the cemetery were Vice Presdent Spiro T. Agnew, more than 40 senators and several Cabinet members.

The 10-minute service led by the Rev. Edward L.R. Elson, Senate chaplain, brought to a close four days of tribute to the Senate Republican leader who died Sunday.

Dirksen's widow Louella, daughter Danice, and son-in-law, Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., sat in front row as the Rev. Mr. Elson delivered the eulogy.

"The last march has ended, a mighty man now answers roll call. His battles are fought, his victories are won."

Dirksen, an artillery observer in World War I, received a three-volley salute from a seven-member rifle team before Taps was sounded. A hot sun beat down on the flag-draped coffin.

The Senate delegation, which included Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Edmund S. Muskie, Edward M. Kennedy, Gordon Allot, Barry Goldwater, and Charles H. Percy, stood in a semicircle.

Study Club Has Brunch

The Altrurian Daughters Study Club opened the new club year with a brunch at Martha Ann Woman's Club Thursday. Mrs. Ross Carroll Jr. presided and welcomed 18 members and one guest, Mrs. Frank Love.

Mrs. Bob Womack led the invocation and reported the year's theme to be "My Country Tis of Thee" with the motto, "Greater Visions for Tomorrows World."

The serving table was outstanding with it's centerpiece of fresh fruit, denoting a fruitful year planned. The brunch tables were decorated to carry out the theme and motto with world globes on clouds of red, white and blue.

Mrs. M. L. Broman presented a most interesting and informative program on Federation.

Analysis Of Man

TWO DREISERS. By Ellen Moers.

The tenacity of Theodore Dreiser's grip on the imaginations of anatomists of fiction down to our own time is both a puzzle and a revelation.

It is a puzzle that such an awkward writer continues to draw the devotion of influential readers in the United States and abroad, while more skillful craftsmen, better able to portray American life — Sinclair Lewis, for instance — are pushed farther into the background.

At the same time, this phenomenon reveals the values currently sought in fiction. Style is irrelevant. The serving of social causes becomes all - important and obscures large defects. Efforts at the psychological probing of character, however shaky the "science" on which it is based, still win awe-struck approval. The antiheroes, who people Dreiser's novels, are now triumphant. And Dreiser even seems to have been forgiven for having little sympathy with one major element: a somewhat irrational symbolism.

His latest champion, Ellen Moers, is to be congratulated for effectvely analyzing, in "Two Dreisers," the forces that made him what he was. She uses a highly successful technique: bracketing Dreiser's development between his two most famous novels, "Sister Carrie," published in 1900 and "An American Tragedy," which came out in 1925.

No one could accuse her of trying to glamorize Dreiser's origins. The uninspiring drabness and harshness of his family background is made clear. And she misses none of the dubious ideologies and pseudosciences that Dreiser was forever incorporating into his fiction. She is more than kind in giving each a respectful hearing.

Dreiser's work raises questions applicable to all "creative" writers. At what point does the desire to promote social purposes or current ideologies obliterate the artist?

WHITE POTATO PIE — A hearty dessert that is real soul food. The recipe comes from "A Good Heart and A Light Hand," a collection of traditional Negro recipes by Ruth L. Gaskins of Alexandria, Va.

Best Soul-Food Cookery

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Eight cookbooks devoted to soul food now grace my shelves. Of these collections of traditional Negro recipes, I find "A Good Heart and A Light Hand" by Ruth L. Gaskins (Simon and Schusteer) the most interesting and authentic.

Ruth Gaskins, a resident of Alexandria, Va., collected her recipes by gathering them from her Negro friends —most of whom now lie in Alexandria but originally came from other parts of the South. Many of these contributors are professional cooks, though Miss Gaskins is not. "A Good Heart and A Light Hand" is charmingly illustrated with black and white drawings, and the recipes are clearly written and efficiently organized.

When I asked a black friend who was born and raised in Pennsylavania which recipe in the Gaskins' book appealed to her most, she chose the White Potato Pie. I, too, was interested in the recipe because other white potato pies I had made were designed to accompany the main course and this one was sweet — a dessert pie. On testing the recipe, I found it had a most appealing and almost baffling texture. If pressed for a description, I'd say it was a cross between an old-fashioned lemon sponge pie and cheese cake.

One suggestion for those who make the pie; you may wish to use lemon rind and lemon juice in it instead of the lemon extract called for in too powerful quantity. Interestingly enough, lemon extract shows up over and over again in soul-food compilations — more so than in any other group of cookbooks.

RUTH L. GASKINS' WHITE POTATO PIE

¾ cup sugar
½ stick butter
¼ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, seperated
1½ cups hot mashed potatoes
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon each: vanilla and lemon extract
1 unbaked pie shell

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Add sugar, butter, salt and slightly beaten egg yolks to hot potatoes. Then add milk and flavorings. Fold in the egg whites which have been stiffly beaten. The mixture should be fairly thin. Bake in a 9-inch pan which has been lined with the unbaked pie shell. Bake for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake for 45 minutes longer or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Food Editor's Notes:

You'll need to cook about ¾ pound of potatoes to yield the 1 ½ cups mashed potatoes called for; in measuring, pack potatoes down slightly after putting through a ricer.

For flavoring, I omit the lemon extract and use 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind and 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice with the 1 tablespoon vanilla.

To help keep the top of the pie from cracking, beat the egg whites only until peaks that tilt over slightly form when the beater is slowly withdrawn.

If top if pie gets very dark before baking time is up, cover with a square of regular-weight aluminum foil.

Because the filling puffs up during baking — it recedes as the pie cools — makes the pie crust shell with a high, fluted edge — C.B.

Shrimp Curry

12-ounce package frozen cleaned peeled shrimp
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 to 2 tablespoons curry powder
1 1-3 cups strong fish or chicken stock or a mixture of the two
2-3 cup milk
1 can (6 ounces) broiled mushrooms, thoroughly drained

Cook shrimp according to package directions; drain and set aside. In a medium saucepan over low heat melt the butter; stir in flour and curry powder; remove from heat, gradually stir in stock and milk, keeping smooth. Return to moderately low heat and, stirring constantly, cook until thickened and bubbly. Add shrimp and mushrooms and reheat. Add salt and pepper if necessary. Makes 4 servings.

Wagon Wheels

6 frankfurters
Fat for frying
1 can (1 lb.) baked beans
½ cup cubed process American cheese
3 tablespoons barbecue sauce
6 enriched hamburger buns
6 tomato slices
6 onion slices

Slash frankfurters crosswise almost through at ½ - inch interyals. Cook in fat; turn when lightly browned. Frankfurters will curl into circles. Combine beans, cheese and barbecue sauce. Place frankfurters on buns; spoon baked bean mixture into center "holes." Warm in preheated 350 degree oven until cheese melts, 10 to 12 minutes. Top with tomato and onion slices. Serve hot.

Modern Business Methods Needed In School Systems

By WAYNE EISENMAN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The administration of public school systems is big business—expenditures of $20 million a year are not uncommon—but comparatively few schools have taken advantage of modern business methods.

One of the largest educational consulting firms in the nation estimates average elementary and high schools could improve efficiency by 35 per cent employing a business-like approach to administration and expenditures.

The crux of the problem, according to Englehardt & Englehardt Inc., of Purdy Station New York, is that educators traditionally are the ones who become financial managers and administrators.

"Just because a man is a great educator, it doesn't mean he can administer a multimillion budget," said Emerson W. Mitchell, an Englehardt business and systems analyst.

The school scene has changed since the days of the little red schoolhouse, when 40 or 50 pupils gathered in a few rooms to learn the three Rs.

Today, public schools reflect the sprawling megalopolises they serve.

They run their own transportation systems, process mountains of paper work and decide how to spend millions of dollars to the best advantage of thousands of students.

Outside the major population belts, many school systems operate the largest food distribution and personnel systems in their counties.

The system in North Carolina, for example, last year spent $54 million educating, feeding and transporting 78,000 students and employed 3,600 professional and 1,600 non-professionals.

"The average system is operating at about 50 per cent efficiency," says Mitchell. "With the application of management principles long ago accepted by businessmen with far smaller budgets, they could boost efficiency to 85 per cent."

Budgetary and cost control, systems research, the use of computers and other techniques would free superintendents and others from administrative busywork to improve the education system, he says.

The superintendent of one large school district in the Northeast now has 20 department heads reporting to him.

"In industry, it's recommended that no more than seven or nine department heads report to the top man," Mitchell said. "That man can't possibly do his primary job. He's too busy hearing reports from subordinates."

In addition to the administrative tasks of purchasing, planning, food service, maintenance, payroll preparation, Englehardt said systematic data processing could simplify the following areas, now done as much as 80 per cent manually in the schools:

—Student testing, including mechanical, teacher-originated diagnostic testing.

—Attendance record keeping.

—Scheduling of facilities and personnel.

—Computer assisted instruction including problem solving, and tutorial logics.

—Keeping student records such as transcript preparation, and data needed for guidance programs and progress reports.

—Libary materials control.

Simple Ways To Checkup On Prestige

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Have you given yourself a prestige check-up lately?

If not, why not?

Millions of Americans now get some kind of annual medical checkup. This is good as far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough.

A medical checkup only determines the state of your physical health. It lets you know how much wear and tear your body is showing and whether you still have muscle tone or have gone flabby.

What you need to know in addition is the state of your social health. Competition is not only the life of trade, it is also the life of our business-oriented society.

Are you still clawing your way up the ladder of success, or unknowingly, have you begun to zoom on a toboggan path toward the bottom. Only a regular prestige checkup can give you the answer.

In time, of course, these checkups will be given by computers. But there is no reason why, if you are one of those do-it-yourself guys, you can't figure out yourself the state of your prestige.

You can congratulate yourself that you're doing okay if—

The wife of the boss insists that you dance with her at least twice at the annual office spring get-together.

Instead of your getting an occasional dunning letter from the alumni office, the president of your college suggests having lunch with you when he drops into town.

You quit hanging around pool halls and spend more time at country clubs.

When you drop into the bank to explain how your wife overdrew your joint account, the banker no longer looks at you in chill disbelief. He calls you by your first name—or, better yet, by your initials—and says not to worry about it until the bank does.

On a business trip you don't feel it necessary to wash your own socks in the hotel wash bowl; at home your wife has quit ironing your shirts and now sends them to the laundry.

At least one member of the family has had a small nervous breakdown and emerged from it successfully.

You have been asked to head a charitable drive in your community, even if it was only to raise funds to wipe out chilblains among the Eskimos.

The shoeshine man who goes from floor to floor in your building is now willing to trade stock market tips with you because he figures you may have almost as much inside knowledge as he does.

The boss doesn't push the buzzer on his desk so often anymore to summon you to his office. When he has something on his mind, he likes to drop into your office and talk it over more informally. If he asks how your kids are, he remembers their names.

You no longer can waste time at the barbershop leafing through naughty magazines while awaiting your turn in the chair. Your secretary now arranges your haircuts by appointment.

Junior Editors Qyiz on PORTS

QUESTION: What is the importance of freshwater ports?

ANSWER: A port is a city or town whose chief business is connected with the ships which go in and come out. There are fishing ports and there were whaling ports. But the greatest ports are those concerned with trade and the transfer of goods. Whether such a port is a seaport close to the ocean, or a freshwater port situated on a river or lake, is not so important. We are apt to think of seaports as the most important kinds, but it is interesting to know that inland freshwater ports include such places as London, Montreal, New Orleans and Bordeaux, France. These are great ports because they are situated where there is an immense flow of goods coming in and out. In America, there is a spectacular group of such inland ports strung around through that vast inland waterway, the Great Lakes. Take the twin ports of Duluth, Minn., and Superior, Wisc. Iron ore from the Mesabi Range, grain from the Northwest, are close at hand; steamers load these at the twin ports and carry them for great distances. Some steamers travel to Chicago, an immense port by itself. Others go all the way through the Great Lakes and up the Saint Lawrence Seaway to the sea. Here it is possible for ships to head for any port in the world.

Tiger-Tornado Opener Is Rated A Toss-Up

The 1969 season opening football clash between Snyder's Tigers and Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes here tonight may provide local fans with a glimpse of two powerful high school teams that surprisingly may make fewer errors than most teams usually do in their opening games. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m. in Tiger Stadium.

The clash pits two lettermen-laden squads against each other. The Tigers of Coach Wayne Tyrone, in his third year at the Bengal helm, have 11 lettermen while their opponents have 15 numeral winners. Robert James, a former Snyder schoolboy, has been moved up to head coach at Lamesa after five years as an assistant.

Both teams should field strong running attacks. Lamesa has more depth, especially in the line, but the Bengals may be stronger in the aerial game. Thus, to the observer — biased or otherwise — tonight's collision could be a battle to the final gun and should surprise nobody if it ends in a standoff.

Tyrone has several talented runners he can call on, including fullbacks Ricky Glasscock, Eddie Ray McClain, Johnny Mata and Steve Pierce, halfbacks Randy Levens, Willis Harrison, Larry Wall and Stewart Sims and flanker backs Larry Green and Mark Gilstrap.

Levens and Harrison, both seniors, were outstanding runners last year. Gilstrap and Greene, both seniors, had some experience in the '68 campaign. Wall, Mata and Sims are juniors, and all have exceptional ability. Glasscock, another senior, carried the ball some last year. He has good size and was used primarily on defense. This is the first season for McClain to try his hand at running, but he showed good potential in the scrimmage with Midland and could develop into a top-notch performer with a little experience. He's tough as a linebacker on defense. Pierce, a senior, also has good size; however, he didn't compete last year.

The backs have been used in several combinations and should provide Tyrone with depth in the running department. Probable starters for tonight's affray will be Levens at left half, Gilstrap at flanker back, and McClain at fullback.

Senior Lee McNair will guide the Bengal attack. He has a good passing arm, and, with some talented receivers to throw at, gives the Black and Gold good balance.

"We'll be improved in passing this year," Tyrone said, "especially from the standpoint of pass protection."

While graduation losses took their toll along the Tiger line, there are several promising sophomores and juniors who have the size and ability to develop into topnotch trenchmen. The only lettermen returning up front are split end Merce Hernandez, quick guard Delbert Hirst, and center Rocky Land. These three are among the best in the league. The other posts will be manned by underclassmen.

Bill Wilson, a 164-pound junior, will start at tight end. Offensive tackles are juniors Joe Hale (205) and Barry Welsh (205) while Mike Line, a 196-pound sophomore, will open at strong guard.

Defensively, Harrison and Levens will operate at halfback, Hernandez and Greene will be at cornerback and Ricky Glasscock, Hirst and McClain will man the linebacker posts. Hale and Welsh will see double duty on defense while the defensive tackles are Steve Dillaha, 212-pound junior, and Tony Breedlove, 203-pound junior.

"Our front four averages over 200 pounds on defense," declared Tyrone, who is pleased with the overall team size this year. He's hoping some of the younger boys can develop in quickness. Otherwise, all of the ingredients for a classy ball club are present. Sims, the junior runner, handles the punting chores.

Snyder will operate again from the pro-type offense with a split end and a flanker back. Look for the Tigers to be tough on the ground. They probably won't resort to the forward pass except to keep the defense honest, but when they do, they could be downright dangerous.

Lamesa also has a stablefull of top tunners, led by senior tailback Bennie Williams (165) and junior fullback Aaron Manuel (175). Williams netted 514 yards on 114 thrusts last year, and Manuel sacked up 355 yards in 85 runs. Any one of five other excellent runners could open at wingback, but the job probably will go to Gene Tutle, a 175-pound senior letterman.

The only question mark in the Tornado offense is at quarterback where two lettermen — senior Jerry Beaty (160) and junior Cecil Davis (170) have been vying for a starting role. Both were running backs last season, and apparently have relinquished the signal calling chores to Brent Minnix, a 145-pound senior who has not competed in two years. However, he is an excellent ball handler and has been named a starter by James.

All along the forward wall — both offensively and defensively — Lamesa can start senior lettermen. The Tors will be a tough unit to score against. They bested the Bengals 19-9 in the last game of the season last year.

But we think the Tigers can do it and predict they will prevail by a 14-13 count in a hard-fought skirmish.

College Season Gets Underway

The UCLA Bruins, who were sick last year, appear to have a cure for their ills—Mickey Cureton, that is.

Cureton, touted as the city's most exciting runner since Jon Arnett, will put the backfield in motion Saturday night as UCLA entertains Oregon State in college football.

It's one of only 12 games as college teams open the 1969 season with an abbreviated schedule.

UCLA, a perrenial power, skidded to a disappointing 3-7 season last year. But Cureton, with his explosive speed, will hypo the offense.

He proved his ability to find daylight at Centennial High School in Compton, Calif. In three seasons there, the 5-9, 180-pound junior scored 74 touchdowns and rang up 474 points. He was the most sought-after player by colleges in California.

"He's very hard-hitting and very quick," says one observer. "And if he stays healthy, anything can happen."

UCLA will go with an inexperienced backfield against the Beavers, who finished 7-3 last year and feature the return of an unplayable defense. Joining Cureton will be quarterback Dennis Dummit, another junior with a gaudy background.

Dummitt, in two years at long Beach City College, completed 220 of 373 passes for 66.2 per cent and 30 touchdowns. He took the quarterbacking job away from Jim Nader, last year's regular.

Greg Jones, a senior who's been the Bruins' leading rusher the past two years, gives the backfield some experience.

Oregon State, also with a relatively inexperienced running attack relies on a steely defensive line to win games. Guts of the defense are, Bill Nelson, a 6-7, 260-pound guard and Jesse Lewis, a 6-1, 230-pound tackle.

Other games on Saturday's schedule include three Missouri Valley Conference games—Utah State at Wichita State, Cincinnati at West Virginia and Louisville at Drake. Also on tap in afternoon contests are, West Chester at Villanova; Central Michigan at Western Michigan; Xavier at Miami, Ohio; Dayton at Kent State and Buffalo at Ball State.

Three other games, besides the UCLA-Oregon State tilt, are at night: Wake Forest at North Carolina State; Air Force at Southern Methodist and Pacific at Texas-El Paso.

Three new head coaches will be making their debut in the Missouri Valley—Ben Wilson of Wichita, Ray Callahan of Cincinnati and Lee Corso of Louisville.

Colts Really Not Weak

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Ever since the New York Jets pelted the Baltimore Colts' right defensive flank with "super" success to win the Super Bowl, others have been trying the same formula.

The Colts right side likely will get more action Sunday night in their preseason wrapup in the Cotton Bowl against the Dallas Cowboys.

"The Jets worked over the right side of our line pretty good," said Baltimore general manager Harry Julmes. "But as far as that being a weakness . . . well, we won 13 of 14 regular season games and beat Cleveland for the NFL title and it wasn't a weakness. I think it was just one of those days."

Furthermore, the Colts have won all five of their preseason games. Dallas enters the game 4-1, losing only the opener to Los Angeles.

The Colts still have cornerback Lenny Lyles and linebacker Don Shinnik on the right side. Right defensive end Ordell Braase has retired and is replaced by Roy Hilton, a five-year veteran.

The Cowboys defensive secondary also will be getting another test, possibly their toughest of the preseason.

Cowboy head coach Tom Landry said cornerback Phil Clark was pretty well entrenched as a starter after making passing grades through the five games.

Clark, starting his fourth pro season, considered the Cowboys' "weak link" in the secondary by opposing quarterbacks, has been tested in each game.

Landry said before preseason started he was putting Clark into the fight "to see what he can do."

Now rookie free agent Otto Brown of Prairie View is being given the same treatment. He'll be at strong safety against the Colts. "This will be our last chance to see what he can do," Landry said.

EARL, CHIP STEWART HAVE 2-STROKE LEAD

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Earl and Chip Stewart, the precision father-son golfing team from Dallas, carried a two-shot lead into the second round today of the $35,000 Odessa Pro-Am.

Twenty-eight teams were within five shots of the leaders as the 72-hole race for the $8,000 first prize resumed over the 6,600-yard par 72 Odessa Country Club course.

Stewart, 47, back on the tour after 15 years as a club pro, and Chip 22, a former University of Texas golfer, whittled 10 strokes from par Thursday to move ahead of four teams bunched at 64.

Both pro and amateur contributed five birdies to a 32-30—62 effort that flirted with a 61 when Earl nearly eagled the par 4 18th hole with an approach shot that missed the cup by inches.

"I finally helped him out of a hole didn't I," Earl laughed contending, in effect, that Chip had carried most of the load as they finished third here the last two years.

Among the 64 shooters was tour veteran Billy Maxwell, who once called Odessa home, and his amateur partner, Richard Ellis of Texas A&M.

Also in this group were Terry Dill and Bill Penn of Austin, Tex.; Jim Wiechers and Bob Ireland of Atherton, Calif.; and Jim Grant, of Weathersfield, Conn. and Bill Harvey of Greensboro, N.C.

LAMAR 9TH HERE

Three Jr. Teams Play Saturday

AT BIG SPRING

Kitten Opener Slated Saturday

With two scrimmages under their belts, but hampered during the week by a muddy field, the Snyder High School junior varsity inaugurates the 1969 season at Big Spring Saturday in a 2 p.m. contest.

Coaches Jerry McLeod and Larry McNair were encouraged by the fact that three new grid candidates reported to the camp late. A couple of them have good size and could be of real help in the line.

On the firing line for the first clash will be quarterback Butch Buchanan. He has an accurate arm, and could force the Shorthorns to spread out their defenses. Billy Clayton, a 155-pound soph, will open at fullback if he doesn't see action with the varsity tonight. Rounding out the backfield are Bobby Thompson, at half, and Sammy Harrison at wingback. Both are quick and hard runners.

The line includes center Jerry Hardin (175), left tackle Rickey Grimes (196), right tackle Larry York (155), left guard Danny Reynolds (188) and right guard Louis Lloyd (153). Tight end is Mike Dennis (150), and the split end is Gary Patterson (150).

On defense, the Kittens will employ Bobby Schrader (157), Hardin, and Randy Wright (161) as linebackers, Clayton and Brett Bell (127) at cornerbacks, Travis Bunch (128) and Patterson at halfback, Grimes and York at tackle, and Reynolds and Lloyd or Melvin Edwards (170) at guard.

The complete roster, in addition to some boys who may see action on the varsity, includes Terry Arnold, Brett Bell, Jackson Brewster, Butch Buchanan, Joe Bullard, Travis Bunch, Mike Dennis, Ricky Grimes, Sammie Harrison, Kent Horsley, Sandy Land, Louis Lloyd, Bill Lockhart, John Odom, Mark Ramage, Bobby Schrader, Dickey Stanley, Ron Thomas, Bobby Thompson, Claburn Warford, Larry York, Jim Ballard, Melvin Edwards and Kenneth Stanley.

Pacer Cardigan Bay retired during the 1968 season with career earnings of $1,000,837.

CHURCH NOTES

"But be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind." Romans 12:2.

We can have a pleasant time
enjoying our mind,
And no more delightful experience can we find;
There we free our thoughts and let them go
And strive to learn just to know and know.
How generous of God to all mankind
In bequeathing an Eden, the human mind!

Bingo Is Now A 'No-No'

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Bingo is now a "No-no" in the Brownsville Diocese of the Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop Humberto Medeiros has sent a letter to all Catholic priests, parishes and organizations ordering that bingo games be halted.

A diocese office spokesman at Brownsville said the letters were mailed earlier this week after Texas Ranger Jerome Preiss of San Benito showed the Bishop six pages of legal opinions holding that bingo is illegal in Texas.

Preiss said he had received "many" complaints concerning the operation of Bingo games in the six South Texas counties under his jurisdiction, the Edinburg Daily Review reported yesterday. Preiss was not available for comment. A spokesman at the Harlingen office of the Department of Public Safety said the ranger was on vacation.

Jim Ray, chief of criminal law enforcement for the Department of Public Safety, said there is no statewide crackdown on bingo. Ray said a private party in Brownsville complained about the bingo games there, but he was not at liberty to identify the complainant.

"One of my duties, which is also yours, is to abide by the civil laws of the state. It is my obligation to direct everyone to comply with such laws and to hold personally responsible those guilty of the same," the Bishop said.

The Edinburgh Daily Review reported Thursday that churches in Mission and La Joya said they will halt the bingo games. The Catholic War Veterans Organization at Mission also reported the organization voted Wednesday night, after receiving the letter, to discontinue the games. A spokesman for the organization said profits from the games had been used to finance a boy scout troop and a youth baseball team.

Fair Weather Is Favored For Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Fair and pleasant weather favored most of the nation today although an autumnlike chill persisted in parts of the Great Lake region and the east.

Showers were confined mostly to widely scattered sections of the Rockies and the Southwest. Nearly an inch of rain splashed over Grand Canyon, Ariz., during the night.

A warming trend fanned out of the plains and over much of the Midwest. However, more cool weather was building up off the Pacific northwest.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from 45 at Hibbing, Minn., Elmira, N.Y., and Beckley, W. Va., to 93 at Needles, Calif.

The first telephone directory carried only names — not one telephone number. Among the pioneer subscribers were a clergyman, three doctors, two dentists, two stables, the "Yale News", and the New Haven Flour Company, which had no less than four phones, one at each of its plants.

Heavy Ice Halts Tests

NEW YORK (AP) — Increasingly heavy ice conditions have forced the ice-breaking tanker SS Manhattan to pull out of floe-clogged McClure Strait north of Banks Island in Canada's Northwest Territories.

Leaders of the expedition decided late Thursday to proceed instead south through Prince of Wales Strait, a relatively narrow but ice free passage between Banks and Victora Islands and then west to ther Point Barrow, Alaska, destination.

The 115,000-ton tanker, being used by the Humble Oil & Refining Co. to explore the feasibility of using the Northwest Passage to ship oil from Alaska north slope to the East Coast, was stuck in the ice twice Thursday.

Both times the Canadian Coast Guard icebreaker John A. MacDonald was able to free the huge tanker but helicopters scouting the ice pack found increasingly difficult conditions ahead.

A company spokesman said the Manhattan had broken through thicker ice unaided but that the ice in McClure Strait is tougher because it is two or more years old and has lost salinity.

"We tried to go the hardest way through the Northwest Passage but even if we can't get through we have an alternate route," the spokesman said, referring to the Prince of Wales Strait.

Heart Attack Fatal To Leon Payne

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Leon Payne, who composed such country and western songs as "I Love You Because" and "They'll Never Take Her Love Away From Me," died Wednesday of an apparent heart attack. He was 52.

Payne, who was blind, reached a peak in popularity in country-western music circles in the 1950s with the song "I Love You Because." He performed in a soft, smooth style similar to that of Eddie Arnold.

He died in a San Antonio hospital shortly after returning from a tour of Japan. A San Antonio resident and a native of Alma, Tex., Payne attended the Texas School for the Blind as a youth.

Border Development Funds Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was asked Thursday to vote funds for operating the commission for Border Development and Friendship.

In making the request President Nixon wrote to the presiding officers of the Senate and House:

"Should the Congress fail to authorize this commission to continue, it would amount to a unilateral revocation of a commitment we have made to the government and people of Mexico.

"We would also be remiss in our obligations and responsibilities to our own people in the area."

Congress was asked earlier to appropriate $360,000 for work of the commission.

Camille was no lady.

Camille was a hurricane the likes of which this country has never seen.

Starting on the night of August 17th, it ripped its way through Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

It flooded Virginia and West Virginia.

It killed people by the hundreds.

It destroyed homes by the thousands.

It crippled countless small businessmen and farmers and fishermen.

And it left thousands of Americans in desperate straits.

Red Cross volunteers are there right now, doing everything they can, but the latest estimate says it will take $15,000,000 to put those thousands of American men, women and children back on their feet.

Give them all you can. Right now, you're all they've got.

Camille was a disaster.

The public is invited to all the activities which will be held at the Latin-American Center, located at Avenue M and Thirteenth Street.

Master of ceremonies for the celebration will be Jose Diaz of Slaton, and the guest speaker will be Hector Melgar, originally from Guatemala and now owner of the American Motor Inn.

The festivities will open with the colorful parade at 6:30 p.m. Sunday in downtown Snyder. Presentation of the Queen is set for Monday and the coronation is set for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Fr. W. McNamar of Sweetwater and Fr. Saturnine Lajo, originally of Spain, will preside at the fiesta.

Throughout the three-day celebration there will be booths serving Mexican food and for games and entertainment for children, teen-agers and adults. All will be welcome.

FIESTA QUEEN — Celia Solis will be crowned Queen of the Fiesta, or American Queen, at Tuesday night's coronation at the Latin-American Center. "Queen of Spain" will be Patsy Solis and "Queen of Mexico" will be Rosa Rodriquez.

Confirmed as U.S. representatives to the U.N. General Assembly were Ambassador Charles W. Yost, Wiliam B. Buffum, Reps. Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., and J. Irving Whalley, R-Pa., and Shirley Temple Black.

Broiler Prices To Weaken

WASHINGTON (AP) — Agriculture Department experts say prices paid to broiler chicken producers are likely to weaken further this fall as more plentiful supplies reach the market.

Officials said Thursday in a report on the poultry and egg situation that prices "will remain under pressure" from expected large supplies of broilers and red meat but that the market generally will be stronger than a year earlier.

Wholesale prices for ready-to-cook broilers in nine survey cities averaged 29.6 cents a pound during January-August, 7 per cent more than a year earlier, the report said.

"So far in 1969, high prices for competing meats lent strength to broilers," officials said. "But beef cattle prices have declined from summer highs and may ease further this fall as the larger number of cattle in feedlots moves to market, and hog prices are expected to decline seasonally."

Higher prices and rising consumer demand for meat of all types have resulted in larger output this year, the report said. Broiler meat production through July was 8 per cent more than a year earlier, and weekly output during August averaged 10 per cent ahead of a year ago.

Increased placements of chicks and eggs for hatching indicate 6 to 8 per cent larger marketings through November, the report said.

Egg production during the first eight months of this year was down 2 per cent from 1968. Fewer layers and a reduced rate of production was responsible, the report said.

Egg prices paid producers this fall are expected to average more than summer levels as production declines seasonally and may be near the relatively high mark of last fall, officials said.

Turkey production this year was estimated at 106.4 million birds, about the same as 1968. But there are more heavy breeds being raised this year, the report said, and total turkey meat output probably will be more.

Associated Press Executive Dies

ROME (AP) — Robert J. Cavagnaro, 63, a general executive for The Associated Press for many years, died Thursday. He had become ill while vacationing in Rome. Cavagnaro formerly was chief of AP bureaus in Newark and Denver and General Sports Editor. Most of his time in recent years was in the AP's membership department.

DeBakey Disapproves Proposal

HOUSTON (AP)—Dr. Michael E. DeBakey says he disapproved of a proposal by Dr. Denton A. Cooley to use an artificial heart in humans because DeBakey felt the proposal lacked adequate evidence of safety and effectiveness.

The statement Thursday was the first official one by DeBakey, president of Baylor College of Medicine, concerning Cooley's use of the artificial heart last April.

Both Cooley and DeBakey head teams that have performed human heart transplants. Cooley's team has performed 20, more than any other team in the world, at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital. DeBakey's team has performed 11 at nearby Methodist Hospital in the Texas Medical Center.

Dr. Cooley said this week he had declined to accept a clinical appointment on the Baylor staff because the research project had been turned down by Baylor's Committee on Human Experimentation.

Dr. DeBakey said Thursday he had written a letter to Dr. Cooley officially informing him that Dr. Cooley's resignation from the clinical staff has been accepted by the board of trustees of Baylor.

Dr. Cooley had refused to sign a pledge that he would abide by guidelines of the National Institute of Health regarding experimentation on humans.

Baylor regulations require that the department chairman approve all research involving humans.

Dr. DeBakey said that of the 1,350 full-time and clinical faculty members at Baylor, Dr. Cooley was the only one who would not sign a guideline agreement.

Dr. Cooley and his team first used the artificial heart during an implantation April 4. Haskell [illegible], the patient, died April 8 after receiving a donor's heart.

The National Heart Institute initiated charges that Dr. Cooley had violated federal guidelines in that the mechanical heart had been constructed through use of federal funds. Dr. Cooley maintained that the heart was developed with private funds.

Israeli Continues Attacks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli warplanes swept across the Gulf of Suez today in an attack on Egyptian military objectives on Egypt' eastern coast, the Israeli military announced in Tel Aviv.

It was the fourth straight day of aerial activity on the Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire line. It came 24 hours after fierce air battles with Egyptian aircraft in which Israel claimed shooting down 11 Soviet-made planes and Cairo claimed the downing of six Israeli aircraft.

A brief announcement said the planes today went in at 10:30 a.m. and returned to Israel unharmed.

Singled out for attack, a Tel Aviv spokesman said, were Ras Zafarana, 55 miles south of Port Suez, and Ras Gharib, about 120 miles south of Port Suez, which is on the southern end of the Suez Canal.

Earlier the Israelis reported one of their patrols killed eight Arab guerrillas in a clash 25 miles north of the Dead Sea Thursday night.

Polio Resurgence Warning Issued

By FRANK CAREY
AP Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government health experts warning against a resurgence of polio if the nations lets down its vaccination guard, say potential pockets of the dread disease already exist in every metropolitan area of the country.

Public Health Service doctors cautioned against any undue complacency from the fact that so far this year only 10 cases of paralytic polio—the lowest rate in history—have been reported. There were 48 such cases last year.

In the years before 1955 when vaccines first became available, there were up to 20,000 cases annually of deadly or crippling polio.

But the government doctors said that even now on a nationwide basis approximately 30 per cent of the children in the most highly susceptible 1 to 4 year age group remain without vaccine.

Most of these are in ghetto or other low socio-economic sectors.

The possibility of outbreaks in these communities worry doctors such as F. Robert Freckleton, chief of the immunization branch of the Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center at Atlanta, Ga.

"If we lose any of our present momentum in the vaccination program—and we already have problems there—these pockets of unvaccinated or incompletely vaccinated children may increase in number and size," he said.

Freckleton and Dr. Michael B. Gregg, chief of CDC's virus disease epidemiolgy section, discussed the situation in separate telephone interviews.

Gregg forecasts that unless something is done to improve the present rate and extent of polio vaccinations, and maintain it as new babies come along—"pockets of polio may be with us for many years—that is, for example, two or three cases in a neighborhood, four or five in a ghetto . . ."

He said epidemics such as occurred prior to 1955 currently aren't a threat because, even under the present incomplete vaccination coverage, between 75 and 80 per cent of the population up to age 40 have been vaccinated.

And this, he said, amounts essentially to "herd immunity"—enough to prevent widespread transmission of virus, and therefore enough to prevent mass epidemics.

Under the new federal Vaccine Assistance Act the government since 1963 has provided $53.2 million to the states to help provide free vaccines and promote innoculation programs.

"One problem as regards ghetto and similar areas," Freckleton said, "is that even when vaccination is accessible and without charge, it's often underutilized.

"The trouble is, many of these families have multiple problems. And, if their kids are well, these people don't give priority to things like seeking vaccinations."
