MERCHANDISE.

Warnings against inflation are beginning to reach us country people with increasing force and frequency.

Nearly all the experts who comment on it say we have inflation already but it can get much worse.

Accurate definitions of inflation are rather complicated.

In fact, some of the definitions are harder to understand than the condition itself, what we can all see by looking around.

When just about everybody has spending money in their pockets because they can't find enough of the things they want to buy, that is where inflation begins.

The results are quite natural. Automatically people start bidding against each other for what items they do find, and prices advance far beyond real values. Then, no matter what we buy, we are squandering money.

Regulation Prices.

What we need to cure inflation is plain to see: more things to buy. That's all it takes.

If I need a hat and can find only one that fits my head and suits my taste, the dealer can (unless restrained by law) charge me whatever he wishes. I may rebel at the price but somebody else will pay it and the merchant will not need to worry about me. More hats will set the matter straight.

When hats that suit me are offered by every haberdasher in town, some competitor is certain to lower his price to increase sales. Another will try to outdo him, and this competition continues until falling prices get too near cost to go cheaper. It is that simple.

Goods are the scare-crowd that frighten away inflation.

Whatever interferes with the production of merchandise only makes inflation worse.

Artificial Feeding.

Inflation is like hunger. It is a want that has the full force of a need. Hunger includes a craving that throws a person's sense of values completely out of plumb. Food is the only satisfactory answer to the hunger question and, just so, goods are the only sound solution to inflation. There are tricks ways to hold prices down, when goods have to be scarce, but they are only temporary help.

Once in a while somebody has a strange ailment that makes eating impossible, or very dangerous. Physicians deny such a patient food while they try to adjust the malady. Sometimes they use drugs to make the patient sleep and forget his craving; sometimes they flow energizing liquids into the blood stream, but it is no diet. Nobody can live on it; it only makes starvation slower.

War Is a Malady.

During the war, people in America were rightly denied goods; there were not enough workmen, not enough factories, not enough materials to supply the nation's defenders, our men and their allies. Consumer goods were scarce and a lot of people had extra money. All prices would have skyrocketed but government restrained it by law. It was an emergency—drastic remedy; no complaint.

Price controls did not contribute anything permanent to this country's economic strength, however. They simply eased the shock for civilians who had to undergo economic surgery or perish of dictatorship. Now the ordeal is over and the patient is wholesomely hungry for merchandise. Every regulation that now retards production should be removed or relaxed in the public interest.

Strikes tied up most business activity in New York today and shut off public utilities and transportation in two other large cities as a new company offer failed to break the deadlock in the General Motors' strike.

GM offered to settle the strike of 175,000 CIO United Automobile Workers with a raise of 18½ cents an hour at a negotiating session held a few minutes after the company announced it was raising the pay of salaried employes five per cent.

UAW negotiators walked out of the negotiating session immediately after the offer, maintaining their demand for a 19½ cents hike.

Meanwhile, the federal government appealed individually to 3,500 striking New York City tugboatmen to return to work and end a fuel supply crisis which has halted all activities except those essential to sustain life in the world's largest city.

Capt. William Bradley, president of the striking longshoremen's local replied:

"This strike will not be settled until we settle with the owners."

President Truman refused the plea of Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh to seize the crippled facilities of the Duquesne Light Company and end the nation's latest major walkout.

Transportation already was at a standstill in Philadelphia, due to a motorman's strike.

The Pittsburgh walkout boosted the number of strike-idled workers to 1,475,000.

Judge J. D. Barker Funeral Today at Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Feb. 12.—Funeral services for Judge John Dudley Barker, 69, lawyer, local business man and former county judge of Fisher county, will be held here at 4 o'clock this afternoon. Burial will be in a Sweetwater cemetery.

Judge Barker died Monday afternoon in a local hospital, following an illness of several years. He was born near Farmersville, Collier county, Jan. 28, 1877, and married Miss Elizabeth Garlington of Bowie, Feb. 27, 1898. The couple moved to Fisher county in 1901. He was a licensed minister of the Universalist church and spent the first few years preaching and teaching school. After several years of home study and reading law, he was admitted to the bar.

In 1918, after serving two terms as county judge, he moved to Cisco, during which time he was an active lay leader in Cisco First Methodist church, frequently supplying the pulpit. In 1934 Judge and Mrs. Barker moved to Sweetwater. He continued to practice law here and organized the Sweetwater federal savings and loan association, of which he was president at the time of his death.

Survivors include the widow, two sons, Owen D. and Conway both of Galveston; three daughters, Mrs. Sherman E. Roberts of Odessa, Mrs. Roland Jordan, Texas City, and Mrs. Elmo Cure of Sweetwater; five sisters, Mrs. Nancy White, Mrs. Maude McCreight, Mrs. Oma Hodo, and Mrs. Hester Clements, all of Rotan and Mrs. Nellie Reiger of Lubbock; two brothers, Alfred of Abilene and Lloy of Rotan. Ten grandchildren also survive.

Rev. Tom Johnson, pastor of First Methodist church, and Dr. Clyde A. Long, Sweetwater district superintendent, will be the officiating ministers at the funeral this afternoon.

STROLLING DOWN THE BOARDWALK at Atlantic City, N. J. is the Earl of Halifax, British Ambassador to the U. S. and beautiful "Miss America," Bess Myerson of New York. According to an official statement the Earl of Halifax will soon resign his position and return to England. The Earl and the American beauty were at opening of a convention here.

Miss Maudie Mae Shooting at Sun-Smith Will Be Buried Wednesday This Man Needs

DALLAS, Feb. 12.—The sordid story of how narcotic addicts introduce youngsters to the use of the needle was revealed in Federal Judge T. Whitfield Davidson's court.

An addict, Walter H. (Double) Kidd, with three convictions behind him, was sentenced by Judge Davidson to a five-year term "because there is nothing in the law that will permit me to have you shot at sunrise."

Asst. Dist. Atty. Wingate Lucas told the story:

"Judge, this man met an 18-year-old girl in Fort Worth," he said. "Her husband was in the Army overseas. She had a baby girl. Kidd induced her to take up the use of the hypodermic needle. When the habit gripped her, he put her on the streets as a prostitute."

"When the husband came home he tried, on account of the baby, to forgive and forget. But Kidd came back, induced the woman to abandon both child and husband, and today she is a confirmed dope addict. In addition, he has threatened the girl and her parents as well."

Cisco Looks Good to Noal Fagan, a New Resident Here

Noal E. Fagan, who with Mrs. Fagan and their small son recently located in Cisco, is well pleased with his choice of a home town and believes Cisco will grow into a city of at least 12,000 people within the next five years.

With an abundance of the best drinking water, paved streets, good schools, churches, Cisco Junior College, sound banking facilities, a daily newspaper and 5,000 friendly people, Mr. Fagan said he couldn't see how he could lose on his prophecy.

The Fagans live at 1008 west Eleventh street and he is connected with Moore drug store as licensed pharmacist. He graduated from the University of Texas in 1941 and has been licensed to practice his profession since that date. He was in the navy from January, 1942, until October, 1945, and served a year and a half in the Pacific area. The new Ciscoans are members of the Methodist church.

U. S. Today Used Fighting Talk in Note to Argentina

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—The United States today accused Argentina of wartime collaboration, espionage, hemisphere intrigue and aid to Nazi Germany.

The state department delivered to all other American republics based on documents captured in Germany.

Citing a 500 per cent increase in Argentine military credits in the past four years, the "blue book" accuses Argentine totalitarian groups of combining with Nazi leaders and organizations to create a Nazi-Fascist state.

Argentina was accused of a conspiracy to obtain arms from Germany, of attempting to undermine the Inter-American system and of making mockery of its pledge to the United Nations to "reaffirm faith in human rights and in the dignity and worth of the human person."

HOUSE BARS TWO.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Rep. Hugh Delacy, D. Wash., and Rep. John E. Rankin, D. Miss., were barred from speaking in the house for the remainder of today's session after a bitter exchange of words over Rankin's attack on radio commentator Walter Winchell.

US POP. 139,500,000.

HEFNER TO REPRESENT.

"Tom C. Hefner has been selected by the board of directors of Breckenridge National Farm Loan association to represent the organization at the stockholders' meeting of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, February 19-20, in Houston," says E. L. Jones Jr., secretary-treasurer. The Breckenridge association, organized in 1943, has $44,310 stock in the land bank, which is owned entirely by the national farm loan association throughout Texas.

PEARL HARBOR, T. H.—Lenin Baird, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Baird, Cisco, Texas, is one of 1149 Navy and Marine Corps veterans returning to the states for discharge aboard the U. S. S. Dane, an attack transport of the "Magic Carpet" fleet. This ship left Okinawa, January 21, and is scheduled to arrive in San Francisco about February 11. The U. S. S. Dane is one of the navy's fleet of "ships of the train" which carried assault troops in Pacific landings on enemy-held islands from the Battle of Guadalcanal in 1942 through the occupation of Japan.

ALBANY SCOUTS.

ALBANY, Feb. 12.—Boy Scout week will be observed in Albany by local scout troops, cub dens, and scout leaders. The week's activities will be highlighted with the Scout, Cub and Dad banquet tonight at the Presbyterian educational building, beginning at 7 o'clock.

WEARY TRAVELERS back from the war and the seven seas are anchored idly in the harbor at Newport News, Va. Approximately 180 ships of the world's largest merchant fleet are now in the waters of James River. Many are the miracle ships that rolled off the American assembly lines during the Battle of the Atlantic when merchantmen were target of German subs. In other ports more ships of the gigantic fleet are also "washed up." In next few months this group alone is expected to double.

THEY HAD NO CHOICE.

MOSCOW, Feb. 12.—In carnival spirits, Russia yesterday counted more than 100,000,000 ballots cast Sunday in a national election which was certain to yield an overwhelming endorsement for Josef Stalin and the Communist party. The "joker" in the Red elections was that the ballots carried the name of but one person for each office to be filled.

SPORTSMANSHIP.

We may be seeing now for a while, how much fairness and self-control the average citizen has in his soul with regard to goods and prices. Relaxed rationing makes a pretty good test. The fair-minded and self-respecting person will reckon on no more than his proper share of groceries and other limited essentials, and will not cheat by going from one store to another and sneaking double orders when he can. He knows the value of a clean conscience, and will be fair.

Most people have probably behaved in this self-respecting way, but there may still be some, in any neighborhood, who don't play so fair as they would be expected to in a ball or bridge game.

WILLKIE STILL LIVES.

A good way to drop out of the public eye is to be defeated for the presidency. After their defeats James M. Cox, John W. Davis and Alf M. Landon carried on their regular occupations, but were seldom heard from on national matters. This has been true of most beaten nominees.

One exception was Wendell Willkie, whose birthday is to be celebrated on Feb. 18th. Not widely known outside of business circles before his nomination in 1940, Mr. Willkie conducted a vigorous campaign and made a strong showing. But it was after his defeat that he really won popular enthusiasm. His plea for world unity made him a figure whose influence has continued since his sudden death in 1944. A Willkie Memorial house in New York is devoted to the perpetuation of his ideas. His life has become a national asset.

BOMBING ANTARCTICA.

Dropping atomic bombs on the Antarctic continent to blow up the ice cap and release the coal and other mineral deposits lying beneath the frozen surface is suggested by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker. This plan, which he has submitted to the Army Navy and Coast Guard, he thinks is the only feasible way of obtaining Antarctica's metals. As the land is uninhabited, except for seals, whales and penguins at the water's edge, the experiment might be safe.

But would it? It might result in the release of vast quantities of water, whose tidal waves could easily reach South America and New Zealand. Before the United States goes ahead with the project, there should and probably will be consultation with countries which might be seriously affected.

WALLS CANNOT HOLD.

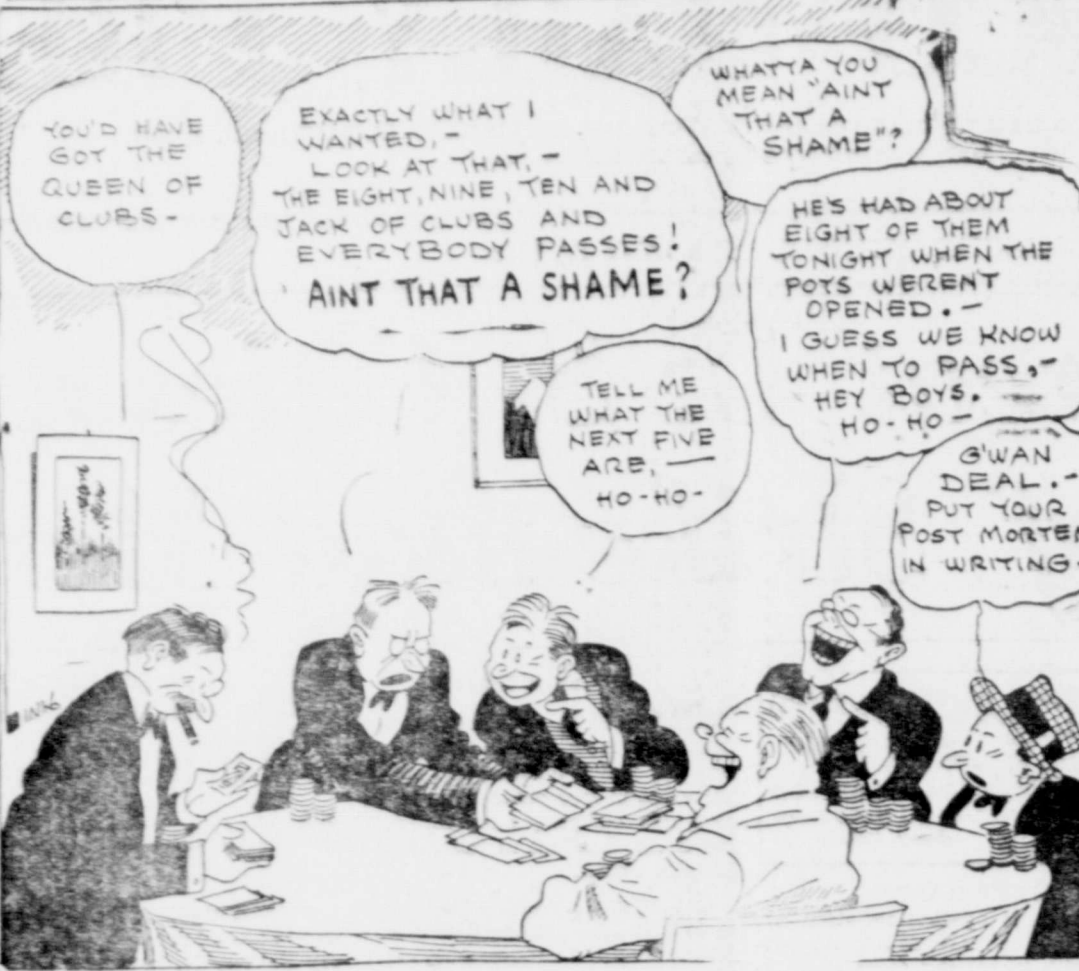

THERE are no walls or barriers for the soul. No limitations and no boundaries to its goal. The body can be prisoned—bars can keep it captured long slow hours, awake, asleep. But all the while the inner spirit flies. Transmutes to glory grim captivity. Knowing an utter and completed whole. Because no walls or bars can hold the soul. —Dorothy Quirk in New York Times
