One Man Escapes

Both Men Give Residence As Bristow, Okla.; Fugitives Are Overtaken By Pursuers Near Borger

(By The Associated Press)

PANHANDLE, Dec. 5.— Two men who robbed the First State bank of Panhandle of $1,000 at 12:15 p. m. today were captured a short time later by Ed Deahl, president of the bank, assisted by officers, and tonight were held in jail here.

The money was recovered.

The robbers entered the bank by a side door and herded Deahl, Russell Downs, bookkeeper; Oma Canndey, bookkeeper, and M. G. Weeth, county commissioner, into the vault. They shut the vault door, thinking they were locking it, and fled in an automobile in which a third man waited.

Fires One Shot

Deahl managed to open the vault door, however, and seizing a gun, reached the street in time to fire one shot at the robbers' car. He jumped into an automobile with Deputies M. D. Eagle and Sewell Thorp and pursued the robbers. They were joined by Elwood Webb, a boy they met walking along the road, and after an hour's chase, overtook the fugitive gunmen near Borger. One of the trio made his getaway.

One of the men captured was released from the Oklahoma state penitentiary after serving a one-year term for arson, officers said. Both men are about 35 years old and said they lived in Bristow, Okla.

Bank At Pflugerville Is Robbed Of $4,500

AUSTIN, Dec. 5. (AP) — Central Texas officers had only a few clews to work on tonight in an effort to solve robbery of the Farmers State bank at Pflugerville, near here. It was estimated approximately $4,500 was taken from the bank.

The robbers burned their way into the money safe and left no finger prints while they were at the job, Sheriff Coley White reported after a visit to the scene of the robbery.

The robbery was not discovered until this morning when the bank was opened for business. Officials believed the bank was entered Sunday night.

Irate Townsmen Storm Jail To Seize Labor Agitators; Smear Red Paint Over Clipped Heads

Six Men Are Taken From Jail And Warned Not To Return To California Town; Had Been Arrested After Dispute Over Wages; Officers Seek In Vain For Unknown Abductors

(By The Associated Press)

VACAVILLE, Calif., Dec. 5.— Sheriff's officers today sought vainly to learn the identity of about 30 persons who took six labor agitators from the county jail, clipped their hair, smeared them with red paint, and warned them not to return here.

The six had been arrested after demonstrations growing out of disputes over wages paid to fruit tree pruners. The workers protested what they said was a 25-cent cut in wages to $1.25 a day.

Police Chief O. E. Alley said those who kidnaped the six apparently were irate townsmen who somehow had obtained a key to the jail. Warning newspaper men not to follow them, they drove 15 miles from here last night, administered the clippers and paint and dispersed. Five of the six agitators were reported seen walking toward Sacramento today.

Frank H. Buck, Democratic congressman-elect and owner of large orchards in this district, issued a statement condemning the incident as "unlawful and liable to breed further trouble rather than settle existing disturbances."

Influenza Epidemic Reported On Increase; Business Areas Begin To Feel Disease's Blow

Cases Said To Be Becoming A Bit More Severe; Dr. Jack M. Lewis Gravely Ill While Others Are Confined

AN epidemic of influenza, which struck Lubbock last week, seemingly was diminished Monday, several physicians reported. One doctor declared the disease "apparently is increasing, and the cases are becoming more severe."

Twenty per cent, or more than 200 students, of Lubbock High school's enrollment was absent Monday, Principal R. W. Matthews said. He said a large number of the students were suffering of the disease. All teachers were present, however. Supt. M. H. Duncan declared attendance was reduced in about the same proportion at other schools here.

Tech Shows Drop

Less Texas Technological college students called doctors Monday than on last Friday when 125 received medical attention, Dean Jas. M. Gordon said.

It's A Small Old World Even After 16 Years

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA, Kas., Dec. 5. — The 16-year-old theft mystery that caused Detective Don Finney's face to burn every day has been solved—and what a comfort.

There was joy in life back in 1916 when Finney worked in a New Mexico logging camp, and was the owner of an especially keen, hard razor.

But one day a fellow workman left — and with him the razor. All these years, Finney avers, his bristly whiskers yielded stubbornly and painfully to various blades.

But it is a small world. The detective spied a familiar face at a headquarters "show up" today and asked to inspect the man's personal effects.

"There it is, my long lost blade," he cried, exhibiting the instrument.

Nonagenarian Is Called By Death

Joseph King, 97, a resident of Lubbock county 13 years, died at the home of a son, John King, about two miles east of Lubbock at 9 o'clock last night. Death was attributed to pneumonia, which attacked the nonagenarian five days ago.

Funeral services will be conducted by Elder John T. Smith, at Bynum-Stahler chapel at 2 o'clock this afternoon, and burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Mr. King, who moved to this county from Mitchell county, is survived by five sons, Robert and John King of Lubbock; Pete King of Putnam; W. J. King, Amarillo, W. D. King, Tacoma, Wash., and three daughters, Mrs. S. J. Etheredge, Memphis, Texas, Mrs. E. C. Clemmer, Putnam, and Mrs. J. C. Price, Hereford.

Early Advance Of Stocks Is Lost After Vote On Repeal

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—An early advance of prices on the New York stock exchange, carrying them about $1 to $2 a share above Saturday's closing prices, virtually was washed away in the final trading hour today coincident with defeat in the house of representatives of the resolution for repeal of the 18th amendment.

Selling pressure was light except in a handful of so-called "wet" stocks which had made fairly sharp gains in recent months. A few stocks, notably Coca Cola, which had been under pressure because of speculative belief that repeal might provide stiffer competition for those companies, rallied after the Washington vote was taken. After declining to a low of $71.12 a share, it rallied to $74.50, up 50c a share.

SUSPENSION ASKED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP) — Ferdinand Veverka, minister of Czecho-slovakia, filed with the state department today a second note on debts which specifically requested suspension of the December 15 payment due from the Prague government. This note is an amplification on that country's original appeal for few weeks ago for debt relief.

"Sing Sing Revue," Edition Of 1932, Presented Monday

OSSINING, N. Y., Dec. 5 (AP)— The 1932 edition of the "Sing Sing Revue," featuring a cast of several accomplished male-factors, was opened to the public tonight in the prison chapel.

The show opened with a skit in which the performers essayed the roles of gansters and "gun molls." Equipped with flashlights and guns, they came stealthily out onto the darkened stage, while cold shivers ran up and down the spines of the audience.

Warden Lewis E. Lawes, thinking his charges might forget they were only acting, had caused the weapons to be thoroughly crippled beforehand so they would not shoot even if the performers had cartridges to fit them, which they presumably hadn't.

Shouts, Boos, Cheers, Hisses Of Demonstrators Ring Out In Silent Woodland As They Stage Parade

Trouble Is Feared

Demands And Threats Shouted While Police Reserves Rush To Scene; Gas Squads Are On The Alert

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—The shouts, boos, cheers and hisses of hundreds of demonstrators echoed only through a silent woodland tonight as they joined columns in the first parade of their stay here.

Refused a permit to march through the city, denied an injunction against "police interference," the demonstrators held their parade within the small area in which the authorities have confined them since they arrived.

Their audience consisted of some 45 bluecoats, reserves having been called when the demonstrators began to mass in a group.

The parade in the pavement stretch where they are held, began to the tune of the Internationale. As the group advanced toward a roped police line, the sirens of the reserves screamed through the city bringing re-inforcements.

At the head of the column were William Reynolds, Detroit, Herbert Benjamin, Chicago, sponsors of the march, a young woman and a negro.

The police gas squad fingered naseau and smoke bombs. The head of the column reached the rope, wheeled and started back as police, who had expected trouble, booed and jeered, and they themselves booed and jeered in return.

Demands Shouted

In the staccato tones of a college yell the marchers shouted "We de-

Uncle Hangs, Girl Weds, Bank Fails, Books Burn

But College Freshman Has Determined Smile On His Face As He Resumes His Duties In Office Of School Paper; Misfortune, Which Dogs His Steps, Backed By News Reports

(By The Associated Press)

MURRAY, Ky., Dec. 5.—Jack Dunaway, a Murray college freshman, resumed his class work and his duties in the office of the College News today, a determined smile on his face, and told this story:

Within the past week his uncle hanged himself, his sweetheart married a rival, a bank where his mother had $1,000 on deposit closed and the home where he had been staying here burned with all his books and clothes.

Lee Clark, a member of the Kentucky general assembly, said he could vouch for the youngster's story and the latter gave the details as follows:

His uncle, Boris Denham, 30, hanged himself in Detroit last week and was buried at Sinking Springs near here last Wednesday.

The girl he had hoped to marry, Blanche Sherman, a Murray graduate, was married last Thursday in Akron, O., to Harlin K. Kep.

The bank that failed was in Shawnee, Okla.

The home near here of Graham Denham, another uncle with whom young Dunaway had been staying while in college, was burned last Friday, and all Dunaway's clothes and books were destroyed.

Dunaway was graduated last spring from Central High school, Ft. Worth, Texas, where he was editor-in-chief of the Pantherette, is the son of G. W. Dunaway, who was killed in Texas oil fields in 1920. His mother, Mrs. Meta Dunaway of Roswell, N. M., was in a San Angelo, Texas, sanitarium two weeks ago.

Hunt On For Man's Slayer

Ferguson Leader Declares Sterling Forces Seek To Kill The Goose That Lays The Golden Egg—Texas Schools

POINTING out that the committee from the legislature which proposed that technological and agricultural courses be taken from Texas Technological college, was named during the Sterling administration, J. A. (Ab) Humphries, ardent Ferguson campaigner Monday declared that "our program of education will be backed by the new administration with zeal unheard of in the past six years."

Texas Tech "was the conception of James E. Ferguson, though not built in his administration," Humphries declared. "It is just such schools with just such faculty and just such aggregation of students that will receive the whole-hearted support of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson and her prime minister.

"Instead of making it a school of liberal arts, as suggested in the report of the efficiency committee, it would have been far more consistent to have reversed the order and made it a school of technology and withdraw the liberal arts.

"Texas Tech in all its phases has come to stay and while funds for the support of our state institutions are and will be coming in slowly, yet our program of education will be backed by the new administration with a zeal unheard of in the past six years.

"Tech college has been in existence seven years, and has enrolled more students in that time than some of the universities in the old world have in seven hundred years."

Mr. Humphries charged that "this committee, as also other committees of former legisla-

Body Located Alongside Of Houston Road

Dark Young Man Being Sought As Last Known Companion Of Victim Who Was Reported As Drinking Heavily

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 5. — The search for the suspected slayer of Carl G. Genter, whose body was found yesterday sprawled on the roadside on the Houston-San Antonio highway, turned tonight toward the last person with whom Genter was seen here—a dark young man.

E. L. Vaden, manager of a Salvation Army home, in a statement to deputy sheriffs said he saw the suspect with Genter Saturday night and that both said they were going to Los Angeles.

Would Be Back

Genter, said Vaden, "told me if I saw anything in the papers about his being gone for me not to tell anyone where he went — that he would be back in about six weeks."

The young man said he was going with Genter. He had previously told me that his parents and other relatives lived in Los Angeles and he wanted to go back to them."

"Genter pulled a large roll of bills out of his pocket, and said he had more in every pocket. The two men left together."

Was Reported Drinking

Several witnesses had told investigators Genter was drinking heavily Saturday, and had been seen to flourish his money about.

Genter's automobile, blood-stained and bullet marked, was found today in a garage at Flatonia where a man generally fitting the description of the swarthy suspect had left it. The garage owner did not notice the suspicious circumstances concerning the machine until the driver had departed presumably by bus for San Antonio.

Genter owned a shoe shop in Goose Creek, near here, and had homes both there and at Houston.

Over 100 Are Thought Lost

Japanese Destroyer Believed To Have Foundered Late Monday; 14 Survivers Are Picked Up By Other Ships

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Tuesday, Dec. 6 — The navy office announced today that 106 members of the crew of the destroyer Sawarabi were missing and feared lost when the vessel foundered in a storm 100 miles off northwest Formosa.

Three sister ships of the Sawarabi picked up 14 survivors and it was feared all others were lost when the ship went down late Monday. The commander of the Mako naval base sent the cruisers Isuzu and Kitakami to assist in the search.

The Sawarabi, 900 tons, accompanied by her sister ships, Sanaya, Kuretake and Wakatake, left the Kure naval base December 3 en route to the Mako base. The destroyers encountered heavy seas Monday afternoon. The Sawarabi was in distress shortly thereafter, and was rolling heavily in the high seas when the other ships lost sight of her in the darkness.

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Dec. 5—State Representative John M. Mathis of Houston today called a special meeting of a sub-committee of the Texas liquor control committee, to be held in Austin December 12.

The meeting will be for consideration of proposed bill designed to amend the Dean act, the state prohibition law, a proposed amendment to the prohibition section of the state constitution, and a plan whereby beverage alcohol could be manufactured and sold in Texas "under strict state regulation and control," said the announcement, which was issued through the Texas federation of anti prohibition clubs, parent organization of the liquor control committee.

Members of the sub committee called to meet are State Senators W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales and Archie Parr of Benavides; State Representatives P. L. Anderson of San Antonio, A. L. Baker of Stockdale and W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi; John R. Boyle and Ray Marshall of San Antonio; W. C. Baker of Kerrville, James R. Dougherty of Beeville, H. E. Hoover of Canadian, C. C. ### Cooper Acquitted Of Charges Here

Haskell Cooper, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, was acquitted by a 99th district court jury Monday afternoon, on instruction of Judge Clark M. Mullican.

Burton S. Burks, assistant district attorney, recommended the instructed verdict to Judge Mullican after presenting the state's testimony. Cooper was driver of the machine which collided with a car in which Woody Tudor was fatally injured near Slaton. Slaying of Dr. S. H. Adams, pioneer Slaton doctor, by A. L. Tudor, father of Woody, was an aftermath of the accident. The younger Tudor died on an operating table in the doctor's office August 25. The elder Tudor, convicted of murder with malice, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary last week.

Trial of Ignacio Cervantez, Mexican, charged with murder, is to be called in district court Tuesday, Mr. Burks said.

Slaton Man Likely To Face Cotton Theft Charge Today

A Slaton man Tuesday probably will be charged with theft of a bale of cotton, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said Monday.

A bale of lint, held in a Slaton cotton yard by E. R. Legg for J. W. Savell, the owner, was sold by the suspect to a compress at Slaton. A check, issued to "T. W. Clark," was cashed by the man held in county jail, the county attorney said. The suspect was identified as the man selling the cotton, Tom Abel, former peace officer at Slaton and sheriff-elect, said.

PRODUCERS REPORTED

AUSTIN, Dec. 5 (AP)—There were 212 producing oil wells completed in Texas during November, a report of the oil and gas division of the Texas railroad commission revealed today. One hundred and seventy-four dry holes were recorded.

Einstein Gets Angry And Threatens To Abandon Visit To United States

(By The Associated Press)

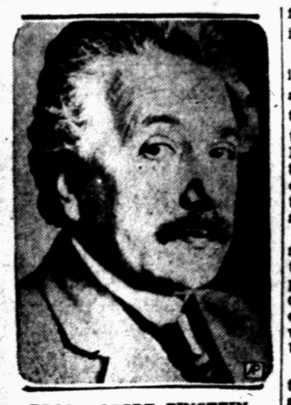

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—Prof. Albert Einstein, who has been invited to the United States to pursue his scientific researches, became so angry today at questions about his political beliefs put to him at the American consulate that he may call off the trip.

TO ISSUE VISA

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP) The state department was advised today by its consul general at Berlin that a visa for Professor Albert Einstein to visit the United States would be issued tomorrow.

The reason for the unusual question—Prof. Einstein said it amounted to an "inquisition"—was not explained, but recently the state department at Washington forwarded a demand by the woman patriot corporation that the scientist be barred on the ground that he was a communist.

Frau Einstein, who was present at the dramatic set-to at the consulate and who was even more angry about it than her husband, declared emphatically the professor was neither a communist nor an anarchist. He has no political affiliations whatever, she said, but he is a confirmed pacifist.

PROF. ALBERT EINSTEIN

Ordinarily the father of relativity does not have to gother about arranging for his own visa when he travels. It is understood that on this occasion, as previously, the Hamburg American line attempted to obtain the visa for him but failed. The American authorities asked that the professor appear personally.

He was good humored when he showed up at the consulate and, although patently surprised, he replied to all the routine questions concerning his age, birthplace and citizenship. "Scientific research" was the reason for his trip to the United States.

"Are you going over to visit relatives or friends or what?" The examining official asked.

"I am not going because I desire to visit somebody, but because I have been invited," Prof Einstein replied. "Germany is good enough

Extra Session Looming After Defeat Monday

Democrats Plan For Immediate Attack On Modification Of Volstead Act; Beer Measure Expected Soon

Lack Six Votes

Rainey Offers Proposal And Calls Upon Solons To Give Him Support; Galleries Are Crowded At Session

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—A bold and unprecedented attempt by the Democratic leadership to force its party's outright prohibition repeal proposal through the house failed today and dimmed prospects of further action on the issue in that branch during the remainder of the short session.

The action was interpreted on capitol hill as foreshadowing a special of the new congress next spring soon after President - Elect Roosevelt is inaugurated so the Democrats may carry out their pledge for flat repeal.

Despite defeat of the resolution by the narrow margin of 272 to 144—two-thirds majority being required for adoption—the Democrats planned an immediate attack on the problem of modifying the Volstead act. Speaker Garner hopes a beer bill will be ready for action before the Christmas holidays.

Eighty-one "lame duck" members, not returned to the next congress, and thirty-three Democrats re-elected in November voted against the measure. Sixty-nine defeated incumbents voted for it. A shift of six votes from the negative to the affirmative would have sent the resolution to the senate.

Vote Tabulation

Altogether 168 Democrats, 103 Republicans, and 1 farmer-labor voted for the measure; 44 Democrats and 100 Republicans voted against it. Eleven of the Democrats opposing are "lame ducks" while 70 are Republicans, a total of 81.

Spectacular in its inception, swiftness of attack and failure, the Democratic effort will go down in history as the first to bring a constitutional amendment before a legislative branch of the government under procedure preventing any amendment and curtailing debate to 40 minutes.

Was First Test

It was the first test in congress on flat repeal of the eighteenth amendment since it was voted into the constitution in 1917, although

17 SHOPPING DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Annual Programs Interest First Methodist And First Baptist Women

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

RAMBLING ideas when nothing else seems worth while for a column: The number of people in town on Saturdays . . . . Most of them are from out of the city but plenty more are townspeople who have saved up to shop on Saturday. Seems like we might reserve Saturdays for rural folk and let those in town do their shopping on other days . . . . Might help out the clerks and merchants . . . . Who wants to shop in a crowd, anyway, when there are other days just as good?

With so many people having the influenza, one almost has the feeling of being left out if he remains well . . . . However, it isn't a slight thing to complain about.

CAKE DECORATIONS

CHRISTMAS fruit cakes must be gaily decorated in style, according to one note that has come to this desk. If you want mistletoe atop your cake, use the tiny white raisins for berries and for the holly use candied cherries. For leaves use strips of citron.

FOR XMAS GIFTS

SOMEONE with ideas has made up a list of 10 Christmas presents to buy for the family with the slogan of "Nothing over three dollars and something nice for a quarter." And here is the list, just in case it helps you with the holiday shopping:

Powder spray set—a bathing luxury; make-up mirror—a trick of all stage beauties now brought to the dressing table of the well groomed girl; handkerchiefs—hand appliques for women and colored borders for men; towel and washclothes—transparent wrapped gift sets in boudoir colors; scarves—be sure they are gay in color and cut on the bias for perfect fit; blanket—with soft shades combined with white; stockings—dark shades are in vogue; lingerie—an eternal feminine favorite. Tea rose crepe with Alencon lace is popular; atomizer—new ones are out this season; luncheonette—a two-decker sandwich plate good for bridge parties and buffet supper.

Just personally, I'd like at least one of each—that is, all except the atomizer, for which I have no use at all. The last two, both gifts, are still unused.

HEALTH HINTS

FOR those who don't eat breakfast or take only a cup of coffee, there might be some advice worth listening to that came to this desk through the mail. "Heartier breakfasts build cold resistance," so the letter says, adding, "A sip of coffee and a nibble of toast may be all that the mistress of the house wants for breakfast, but the youngsters heading for school and the man who is off to work must be wheedled into eating more than that. They need something hearty to build up energy and resistance to the penetrating cold air."

However, perhaps that isn't so timely here. Isn't it the warm air instead of the cold that is carrying all these colds about?

TAKING A HINT

PERHAPS you didn't know it, but those famous coffee houses in England started because one man had too many friends. He had a servant, it seems, who had been brought from Smyrna and who prepared coffee daily. When friends dropped in at the coffee hour they, too, were served. Soon word got around about the good coffee and too many friends dropped in. That gave the man an idea. He started a coffee house and sold the beverage.

You know, a lot of people have used that same reasoning. Women have been so good at planning parties that they have been able to commercialize the talent. Others have started bakeries because their friends liked their pies or cakes or breads. Baby shops have been started by women whose friends have liked the dainty things they were able to make.

They're good ideas in lots of instances. We are being told that in a world where there is an oversupply of workmen the plan is going to have to be carried further. Jobs are for those who create them. That's the gist of a lot of stories we read now. So, taking a lesson from the man who had good coffee, a lot of us may some day be running establishments that are unheard of even today when there is virtually no limit to the things people do.

FOR the last course of your holiday meal or for a salad garnish, stuff pitted dates with cream cheese which has been moistened with cream. Sprinkle the tops of some of the cheese-stuffed dates with paprika and some with chopped pistachio nuts.

MUST WOMEN SUFFER?

Is it their lot to suffer cramps and backaches every month? Certainly not. The tonic effect of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has ended all that for many thousands of women.

Mrs. Schnepper's case is typical. She was always sickly. Tired. Gloomy. Blue," she says, "everywhere I go people tell me how much better I look. I'm dancing for joy all the time."

Monday Officially Marks End Of Year For Methodist Women

Reports Are Made At Harvest Day Program; Baptists Are To Start Series Of Prayer Programs Today

Monday, day for church society meeting in Lubbock, was unusually important for members of the First Methodist Women's Missionary society who attended a covered dish lunch and heard reports of the year's work when they gathered at the church. This is an annual occasion.

Another annual affair of interest to church women is the week of prayer program for foreign missions that is to be started this afternoon.

Coincident with the beginning of a calendar year, members of the First Methodist W. M. S. will start a society year. Monday afternoon marked the close of 1932 in this society and was designated as "Harvest Day" as reports were made and business matters closed for twelve months. However, the society is to meet again on Monday, December 26.

These reports will be heard next Monday at a Harvest Day program for the Lubbock Methodist district to be held in the Tahoka Methodist church.

Lunch Is Served

Preceding the program, a covered dish lunch was served to forty women. Mrs. J. D. Peters, retiring vice-president who has been acting as president, presided. She was presented with a gift from the society.

Talks on the Harvest Day theme were made by Mesdames George C. Wolffarth, C. A. Bickley and J. O. Haymes. Mesdames O. B. Trinkle and J. C. Reynolds sang a duet.

Following a regular monthly business meeting Monday afternoon, women in First Baptist Women's Missionary society are to start a series of prayer services this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The programs are to last one hour and will be conducted today, Thursday and Friday afternoons at the church. Wednesday's program will be presented by the Young Women's auxiliary and will be in the evening. Foreign missions will be studied.

Reports on all society activities were heard at the meeting Monday afternoon. Mrs. Tom Campbell presided and Mrs. J. E. Alexander led the devotional.

Tech Group Gives Monthly Tea Here

There was an attendance of more than 50 women at a regular monthly tea for Tech faculty women Saturday afternoon at Seaman hall.

Rekab The Magician To Give Program Of Magic For P.-T. A. Work Tonight

REKAB THE MAGICIAN

Lovers of magic and mystifying performances will have an opportunity to view one of the best exhibitions of its nature "on the road" today when Rekab, young master magician, brings his repertoire of tricks to the Lubbock High school auditorium tonight for a program under the auspices of the City Parent-Teachers council.

The magician will be presented in matinee and night performances, the matinee at 4:15 and the evening show at 8 o'clock.

To Escape From Box

Rekab will appear in a packing box escape exhibition this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the corner of Broadway and Avenue J. He is to be handcuffed and nailed in the box from which he is to escape, leaving the box as it was before his escape.

The box, made by employes of a local lumber company, has been on display for the past several days.

Miss Edelle, billed as "the girl with the radio mind," is Rekab's chief assistant. His haunted house illusion is one of the tricks in which Miss Edelle figures strongly.

Tickets for Rekab's performances are on sale at Bowen's Drug store, Bowen's Hilton pharmacy, John Halsey Drug store, and the Sherrod Bros. Hardware company store. Matinee prices will be 25 cents and 15 cents; night 35 and 20 cents.

Net receipts will be used in correcting physical defects of indigent children, the Parent-Teacher council has announced.

Rekab has a company of assistants and a truck load of special effects, scenery, and paraphernalia. His Chinese rice mystery is well known in the Orient but seldom seen by an American audience. The performance is climaxed by an illusio, substitution of a man for a woman.

PASTEURIZATION AND STERILIZATION

Through research by Doctor Louis Pasteur during the last century, the cause of infection was discovered as being simply contamination from an unclean or germ-laden source. Doctor Joseph Lister thoroughly demonstrated that surgical operations could be performed without infection, by keeping wound, instruments and dressings completely sterile. Unless there is an inner infection, the present day infected operation wound is rare indeed.

Even Lister with his crude methods of sterilizing, reduced the mortality of his operations from every other one to one out of twenty—and that was in 1865.

Modern obstetrics has especially profited from this discovery by Pasteur and practical application by Lister and others. Almost never is the hospital birth followed by infection.

Discovery of Pasteurization or sterilization has been one of the greatest gifts from Medical Science, affects us all every hour of the day, and adds to our comfort and well-being—whether we are sick or well.

Story of Pasteur and Lister

DR. LOUIS PASTEUR—Born in Dole, France. As a youth his hobbies were portrait painting and fishing. Graduated from Ecole Normale of Paris in 1847. His research and investigations devoted for most part to fermentation, micro-organisms, molecular dissymmetry and spontaneous generation (in other words germs and bacteria) and preventive vaccines.

His best known development is the Pasteur treatment for hydrophobia. Some of his brilliant pupils have done epoch-making work on diphtheria anti-toxin, lactic-acid bacillus (pasteurization of milk), preventive inoculations against anthrachine, and many others. Doctor Pasteur died in 1895.

LORD JOSEPH LISTER—English surgeon, professor of surgery at University of Glasgow. Deeply impressed with the high mortality from septicemia, pyemia, erysipelas, tetanus and gangrene, he sought for a remedy. Turned to chemical antiseptics, such as zinc chloride and carbolic acid, and was the first to use them in surgery. Modern surgery has almost entirely discarded strong antiseptics, but the Listerian ideal, theory and practice of avoiding sepsis remains the same. Lister died in 1912, one of England's greatest surgeons.

Pop Warner Quits Stanford Job And Goes To Temple

"Nine Seasons Enough," Says Veteran Coach

Financial Offer From Temple Thought To Be Too Much To Overlook; Alumni Unrest Is Partly To Blame For Move

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., Dec. 5. (AP)—Glenn Scobey Warner, Stanford's football coach, resigned today and, in the winter of a notable career that began nearly 38 years ago, will move to Temple university, Philadelphia, to teach the gridiron strategy which made him one of the great figures of the American college sport.

In a briefly worded note to the director of athletics, Dr. Thomas A. Storey, Coach Warner submitted his resignation. It came after recent official denials from authorities at Stanford.

Warner's decision to move to Temple climaxed a year's consideration of offers received from the institution. A year ago when he was east with the Stanford team, "Old Pop" was offered the berth. He thought the matter over and decided to stay here.

Offer Is Repeated

This year the offer was repeated, despite one of the most disastrous seasons written into the records of Warner's long career. Disgruntled Stanford alumni were reported to be after his scalp. The "Old Fox" admitted this today when interviewed in his home, where he is confined to bed with a cold.

"The longer a coach stays at one place," drawled Pop, "the more familiar the alumni get with him. They begin to feel free to tell him what to do. They want to name his assistant coaches, and even want to pick the team."

For some time, Warner said, he had known a Stanford alumni group in Los Angeles had been clamoring for a change. But he said he is not leaving because of criticism.

No Fault To Find

"I had been assured of cooperation with those in charge here," he said. "I have no fault to find with the administration, student body and the rest.

"I believe this to be a wonderful oportunity and I am satisfied I am bettering my position. After all nine years is enough for a coach to stay in one place. I was at Pittsburgh that long. Every move I've made has been an advancement.

Although no information on the subject was forthcoming, it is believed Warner's salary at Temple will range between $15,000 and $18,000 annually. He was supposed to be receiving around $12,000 per year at Stanford.

To Leave Shortly

Warner's school year here is not up until next September but it was learned no obstacles would be put in his path. It is his desire to sever connections shortly in order to be ready for spring training at Temple next year. Only last August Warner agreed to remain at Stanford five years, but he will not be held.

Only Warner and Temple authorities know the terms of his new contract, but campus sources here said he would be in complete charge of all affairs pertaining to the team. The contract is said also to stipulate Warner may continue to live in Palo Alto in the off season. He already has confided to friends he will continue to make his home here, a stone's throw from the campus.

It is understood he already has recommended names of those he would like to have as his assistants at Temple. It was also reported he would not take any of his present Stanford assistance, with the possible exception of Wallace Denny, Indian trainer who has followed him since his coaching days at Carlisle.

Warner does not intend to make any recommendations as to his successor, but said he would be glad to cooperate in the selection of one if asked to.

"Tiny" Thornhill Suggested

The resignation had hardly been sent to the university before speculation as to Warner's successor began. Names of Ernie Nevers, full back star developed by Warner here and rated by him as "the greatest player I ever coached;" Andy Kerr, Colgate coach; C. E. "Tiny" Thornhill, present chief assistant to Warner; Dick Hanley of Northwestern, and Jock Sutherland of Pittsburgh have been mentioned.

A telegram was received from a Pittsburgh newspaper asking for a check on the report there that Sutherland was in line to take over the reins at Stanford. Sutherland was a star player under Warner.

Kerr was sent out to Stanford in 1922 by Warner to lay the groundwork. The 'Old Fox' followed in 1924 and started the coaching that pulled Stanford from the depths.

Pennsylvania Welcomes Pop Warner's Move

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5. (AP)—Back to Pennsylvania soil where he started his brilliant coaching career stretching across more than three decades comes Glenn S. (Pop) Warner to be football meator at Temple university.

Unable to resist the tempting offer, coupled with some dissatisfaction in his situation on the west coast, Warner today wired Temple athletic authorities he had mailed his signed contract and was resigning as Stanford university coach.

Warner's contract calls for five years of service at a salary unofficially reported at $15,000 a year. He will have full charge of the Temple football squad and will pick his own assistants.

Miller To Be Retained

Henry J. (Heine) Miller, former star of the University of Pennsylvania, who has been head coach at Temple since 1925, will be retained in some capacity for a year. What position he will fill will be up to Warner to decide. Miller's contract expires with the end of the present year. He has been receiving $5,500 annually.

Temple athletic authorities and others in high places at the university were greatly elated that Warner chose Temple above all other institutions that were reported after him as football tutor.

It was learned today that influential persons connected with Temple lost no time in going after Warner when reports came across the country that he might leave the Pacific coast if a satisfactory offer came his way.

Capitalist Sends Letter

A letter was sent to him and when his team came east to play Pittsburgh, November 26, he was met in the smoky city by Charles G. Erny, Philadelphia, a Temple trustee and donor of Temple's $450,000 stadium.

What Erner told Warner at the Pittsburgh meeting was not revealed but it was sufficient to make him consider jumping from the Pacific to the Atlantic seaboard.

Temple University, a young institution compared with the great seats of learning in the United States, has made rapid strides in the football world. The institution was founded by the late Russell H. Conwell in 1884 and chartered as a university in 1907. Today it has 12,500 students in its day and evening classes and 800 persons on its teaching staff.

No Football Till 1925

Only interclass football was played until 1925, when the great adventure was made into intercollegiate competition, Heinie Miller was engaged as coach and later he gathered about him a staff of assistants including Bert Bell, former Pennsylvania backfield coach and John Da Grossa, Atlantic City, and formerly of Georgetown University, as line coach.

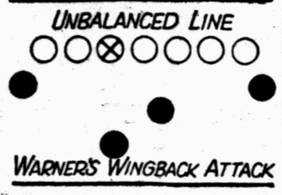

In the eight seasons of Miller's regime, Temple has won 50 games, lost 15 and tied eight games. The team has traveled as far west as the Rocky Mountains to play Denver university and among its victims have been Brown and Drake.

This year Temple defeated Thiel, West Virginia, Bucknell, Denver, Pennsylvania state. It tied with Carnegie Tech and the Haskell Indians and lost only one game—to Villanova 7-0.

Texas Star Is Snapped While Admiring Auto

Dallas "Wonder Girl" Athlete Charged With Posing For Advertising Company And Forced To Forfeit Standing

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Mildred Babe Didrikson, Dallas, generally regarded as the greatest all-around star in the history of women's athletics, ran afoul of the by-laws of the National Amateur Athletic union today and suffered automatic disqualification.

Daniel J. Ferris, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., said the Texas girl had forfeited her amateur standing by permitting her name to be used in advertising a commercial production.

Babe Didrikson

Specifically, the complaint was lodged on the basis of an automobile advertisement appearing in local papers last Sunday. Miss Didrikson was quoted as praising the performance of the concern's latest model. Accompanying the advertisement was a picture of the Texas girl, showing her clearing a hurdle.

All this, Ferris said, was in direct violation of the rules and automatically disbarred Miss Didrikson from further amateur competition.

The Texas girl was one of the outstanding American figures in the Olympics this summer. She won the javelin throw and the 80-meter hurdles, setting new world's records in both, and placed second to Jean Shiley, Philadelphia, in the high jump. One of her jumps in this latter competition was disallowed because officials asserted she had "dived" over the bar.

Wins National Honors

Just prior to the Olympics, she won the national women's track and field team title for her home club single handed. She won the broad jump, javelin, shotput, 80-meter hurdles and the baseball throw outright, tied Miss Shiley for the high jump title, and placed fourth in the discus throw to score a total of 30 points.

She first rose to athletic prominin-

Big Six To Decrease Sports

Conference Seeks Reduction In Minor Sports

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5 (AP)—Big Six conference athletic directors, at their annual meeting today, began working on reduction of minor sports schedules and other measures designed to balance budgets, although some reported encouraging figures on attendance and gate receipts during the foobtall season just closed.

The revisions which are expected to be similar to those of last year in the winter and spring schedules will be submitted tomorrow to the conference faculty council which will go into a huddle separately and jointly with the directors.

One economy measure affected the basketball coaches, who attended a big six session this afternoon, and a 5th district rules interpretation meeting tonight. It decrees that only one official shall arbitrate basketball games, the same as last season, despite the extra burden imposed by adoption of the new "10-second" and "3-second" rules, which require close surveillance.

The basketball coaches approved the new rules and adopted a few clarifying interpretations. They were virtually unanimous in the belief that the rules intended to speed up the play were worthy of trial and expressed the collective opinion they would become permanent fixtures in basketball.

Women Award Golf Play To Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 5. (AP)—The Women's Western Golf association today bolstered the World's Fair sport program by awarding all its 1933 tournaments to Chicago.

The approved schedule:

International team matches between Canada and Western players, June 19, 20 and 21. The association is trying to get three different courses for the event to provide a variety of play. The matches were inaugurated at Winnipeg, Canada, last year, the Americans winning.

Western Women's open, June 26 to 30 at course number four, Olympic fields.

Western junior: to be held sometime in July over a north side course to be selected later with the dates. The event this year will be open to all girls under 18 who have never played in a western major championship.

Western match play championship, Oak Park Country club, August 7 to 12.

72-hole western derby, Sunset Ridge Country club, Aug. 16 to 18.

Match play vs. par tournament, July 11, over course to be selected later.

Player Market Low As Minors Discuss Terms

Proposed Salary Limit Ditched At Meeting Of International League Clubs; Only One Man Is Traded At Meeting

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5. (AP) — The proposed salary limit for minor league baseball players apparently struck its first snag today when the international circuit adjourned its annual meeting without taking any definite action on fixing payrolls.

The International League meeting was held in conjunction with the National Association of professional baseball leagues, whose executive committee has proposed a salary limit of $6,500 a month. This already has been adopted by the American Association.

New Low Is Reached

The player market, which usually is brisk when the minor leagues gather, reached a new low when only one deal was announced. Joe Dunn, manager of Hazleton club in the New York-Penn circuit, signed two Ohio semi-pro players, a left hand pitcher, James Orndorf Piqua, and a catcher, Harlan Bull, Springfield. He ordered them to report next spring.

No official announcement was made by International League officials but several club owners intimated that, while the league favored a salary limit, they believed the figure set by the committee was too low.

The International several weeks ago went on record as favoring a limit of $44,500 a year with 18 players as the maximum number carried. This runs approximately $2,000 higher than the executive committee's recommendation.

Immediately after the international meeting adjourned the club owners went into session with the American Association magnets to discuss the salary matter. Whether the two leagues agree to a compromise or stand pat on their original proposals is a matter of conjecture.

Gents And Mustangs Represented On This All-Southwestern Grid Lineup

By NEA Service

ALTHOUGH there are only seven teams listed in the Southwest conference, NEA Service, in making its All-Conference selections from this territory, includes an eighth team, Centenary, because it is not in either the Southern or Southwest circuits, and because it met four teams in the latter league during the past year.

Officials, coaches and correspondents who watched games in this section of the country seemed to agree that there were plenty of backfield stars seen in action this year, but that a lack of line material was evident. Only one backfield selection was selected by any great majority of votes. He is Ernie Koy, Texas University's great fullback.

Three linemen gathered a good majority of votes. They are Vaught, T. C. U. guard; Cummings, Texas Aggies end, and Oliphant, Centenary tackle. Cummings started the season as tackle, but finished as a wow of an end. Vaught received All-America mention on several teams.

ALL-SOUTHWESTERN

A Lame Duck President

WHERE doubt exists, if any does, as to the wisdom of the Norris amendment abolishing the lame duck session of Congress by inaugurating a new administration in January instead of in March it will be removed by the situation created in Washington by the recent political upheaval.

At a time when the welfare of the nation cries for the fullest cooperation and concord of ideas between the executive and legislative branches of the federal government, cooperation is virtually impossible, not merely because one party is in the White House and in control of the senate and another in control of the house but because the repudiated policies of Mr. Hoover are opposed to those of the Democratic majority in the house.

President Hoover will veto the beer and farm relief measures and Democrats propose to get through the house and can expect little support from that quarter for his own program. The Democratic leadership will take advantage of its own power by holding up all presidential appointments until after March 4.

Unless President Hoover recognizes the will of the people as expressed on November 8, the short session will accomplish nothing and a special session will have to be called by the new president immediately after he takes office. The people will be reconciled to three more months of delay only if it is occasioned by an honest difference of opinion. Politics must be forgotten.

FARMER'S PLIGHT IS WORSE

When President Hoover observed during the recent campaign that things cannot be so bad that they cannot grow worse he might have had in mind agriculture. Upon entering the White House four years ago he found agriculture in such a sorry state that he called a special session of Congress at which extraordinary remedial steps were taken. Since then the condition of the farmer has grown steadily worse.

So farm relief crops up again among the first major problems with which the next president must deal. Should a special session of Congress be called, this question undoubtedly will be included in the order of business.

None of the remedies prescribed thus far has permanently helped the patient. But Old Doc Congress is undaunted. Some new experiment is as certain as the others were destined to failure under the conditions that existed.

Perhaps the next nostrum to be given a try-out will be the debenture plan—twice vetoed and once blocked in the house. Or it may be that new scheme—the domestic allotment plan. Or it may be something else. Whatever form it takes it will need the cooperation of nature and the farmer. Nothing will help very much as long as production continues to exceed consumption.

PRESIDENTIAL FAMILIES

Election of Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency makes the third time that the United States has drawn two chief executives from one family. John Adams and John Quincy Adams were father and son. William Henry Harrison was the grandfather of Benjamin Harrison. Theodore Roosevelt and Franklin D. Roosevelt were cousins.

Of them all the two Rosevelts were the most remote both in blood and politics. President John Adams was a Federalist and President John Quincy Adams was a Democratic Republican, meaning that he had become an independent after the disintegration of the Federalist party. William Henry Harrison and Benjamin Harrison were Whig and Republican, respectively, the Republican party having absorbed the Whig, whereas Theodore Roosevelt was a Republican and Franklin D. Roosevelt is a Democrat, having nothing in common politically except their progressive tendencies and similar political careers. Both used the same ladder to the White House.

Three pairs of related presidents in a total of 31 chief executives does not mean that a few American families have a comparative monopoly on the presidential timber. One successful politician in a family usually provides the incentive and opportunities for his descendants to follow in his footsteps. Moreover, political organizations know the value of exploiting a famous name.

Beer Plan Looks Impossible

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. — Opening of the "beer hearing" by the ways and means committee of the house of representatives reveals from the very outset what the result of all prohibition modification efforts is sure to be while the eighteenth amendment remains in the constitution.

Charles P. Stewart

Either—

1. Conflicting demands by different interests which hope to profit from modification will prevent modification altogether.

Or—

2. The only modification of which there is any possibility whatever will be insufficient to effect any material improvement in present conditions.

THE REPRESENTATIVES' ways and means committee, as most folk doubtless know, is the congressional group which frames revenue raising measures.

The purpose of its pending hearing is to place on beer a tax at a rate calculated to bring the maximum total into the federal treasury. It must be high enough to yield a sizable sum. It must not be too high or it will discourage beer consumption.

And of course the beer must be of a sort to create a demand for itself or its sale will be so limited that Uncle Sam's share will be disappointing.

IT ALREADY is recognized that one-half of 1 per cent is an inadequate alcoholic content to make beer a popular beverage.

Therefore, the ways and means committee will have to specify a tax upon a higher percentage than that. Then it will be up to the judiciary committee to decide whether or not beer of the newly-designated potency is, in fact, intoxicating. It must not be intoxicating; that would be in violation of the eighteenth amendment. It is agreed on all hands that the closer it comes to the intoxicating point, the greater chances of popularity it will have and the better its prospects of proving to be a good revenue raiser—which, after all, is the essential consideration, at least with some folk.

HOWEVER, the nearer legal beer comes to the intoxicating limit, the more it will arouse the jealousy of the country's potential wine industry. If "real beer" is legalized, representatives of the grape growers—present now in full force at the ways and means committee hearing—are prepared to insist immediately that "real wine" be legalized also.

Now, it may be that 4 per cent beer will pass muster with connoisseurs, but all experts agree that 8 per cent is the rock bottom of alcoholic content for wine, and even that is generally spoken of as 2 to 4 per cent below first-rate desirability.

For one thing, it is gravely questionable that an 8 per cent beverage can get past the judiciary committee as a non-intoxicant.

And, even should it do so, as to wine, it immediately would follow that the brewers thereupon would call for a higher beer content than a mere 4 per cent, which makes a mighty thin mixture in competition with 8 per cent wine, simultaneously available.

BEST INITIAL betting, then, is that a jam between the beer and wine factions will block modification legalization entirely at the winter session of congress.

Still, there remains the alternative guess that beer proponents will keep their percentage so low as to get it approved—say at the 2.75 figure, which is all that some of the so-called wets are standing out for—independently of the wine growers' campaign and clamorings.

What then?

Why, it is disputed by hardly anyone that householders will rush out in throngs and order a case or two of 2.75 per cent beer—after which, on the testimony of scores of excellent authorities, the market will slump to about that of the present one-half of 1 per cent. And there may be as much bootlegging as at present, with no appreciable increase in revenue.

THERE IS, in short, little likelihood of a settlement of the wet-and-dry controversy while the eighteenth amendment survives.

The amendment could be nullified, certainly (that is, it could if a congressional majority could be induced to nullify it), by the simple process of repealing the enforcing act, leaving nothing to make the constitutional provision effective.

But nullification would bring no revenue. Congress could not very well tax what still would be an unconstitutional industry.

JUNGLE JUMPINESS

An expedition into the Brazilian jungles in search of pigmies and white Indians, if such there be, conducted under the auspices of the Brooklyn Museum, regretfully reports failure.

Native guides led the explorers galloping about when they heard a far cry, ascribed to pigmies, that turned out to be coming from spider monkeys. On another night the camp Indians grew overwrought at sounds all about them they ascribed to hostile Waikes, surrounding them with fell intent. That proved to be just a local frog calling to his mate and being answered back.

To the exploring party this is depressing. To some of us not at all enjoying "10 above" the far cry of a spider monkey or the love song of a jungle frog a thousand miles back of Manaos could be cheerful adventures without sense of loss and frustration.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE ROAD THAT WALKED:

The province of Kansu, China was visited by a catastrophic earthquake in 1922, resulting in more than 100,000 deaths. The Chinese have no word for landslide, for which they substitute the ideograph signifying "The Mountains Walked".

The most singular freak of the Kansu cataclysm occurred when a quarter-mile section of the road near Tsingning was lifted from its bed and carried over the bed of a stream, coming to rest intact upon the top of a hill formed by loose loess. In this extraordinary sweep of the road the poplars lining it were carried along, and even crows' nests in the trees were carries undistributed to the road's new site.

THE WRITING HORSE:

"Germinal", the writing stallion, was trained by his owner, Dr. Rouhet of France. The most interesting feat of this intelligent equine was his ability to write legibly and neatly with the aid of a brush fastened in his mouth. Upon being articulated by his master, he could put down any of the twelve words with which the stallion was familiar.

Southern Hospitality Is Displayed By Mrs. Garner Rather Than Swank

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—Mrs. John N. Garner today declared for southern hospitality rather than social swank, and gave up her seat in the speaker's box of the house to Texas visitors.

"This is our banner busy day," said Mrs. Garner, pounding the typewriter keys.

"We can't even take time to eat on a day like this.

"If I stay down here while the house is in session, it will give me a fine chance to get some work out."

However, she wore one of her prettiest dresses, dark blue crepe with a cleverly contrived collar of Scotch plaid with blue predominating.

Its novelty lay in tailored tabs on the lapels which followed the "V" front, to turn trickily at the belt line to a tailored sash on the left side.

She graciously greeted all who sought her out in her sequestered first floor office at the capitol, and showed some of them her new coffee percolator.

It was sent to her by Scott Ferris and Ben Barnett, of Oklahoma City, who had read that the percolator which was used on her busy days last session had disappeared—probably the prize of souvenir hunters.

Hardly had she got the first percolator dusted off when a second arrived from Charles Edison, son of the famous inventor.

"An Associated Press dispatch brings to my attention the baffling myster story of 'the missing Garner percolator'," Mr. Edison wrote.

"During these history-making days when the vice-president-elect is waging such an energetic battle for the repeal of the eighteenth amendment, it seems thoroughly incongruous that you should be denied the congressional privilege of a cup of good coffee."

Mrs. Garner beamed upon both percolators and went back to her desk.

Child Is Given Temporary Home

DALLAS, Dec. 5. (AP) — A four-year-old boy whom a mother at a Denison tourist camp entrusted to a stranger to take to Fort Worth and who was abandoned at a cafe here, was given a temporary home today by a city detective and his wife.

Officers were informed that the mother, who gave her name as Ade Jordan, had said she would come here in several days to take back her son, John "Boy" Miller. They said she had declared she was unable to support her several children and had asked a man to see that John was taken to a brother in Fort Worth.

The boy was located at a hotel here last night after a night watchman at a cafe reported to police he overheard a man offer to sell the boy to anyone who would give him a home. The man to whom the propoeition was made said he had no money, whereupon the stranger said he was going north, could not take the child with him and walked out.

The injured men were Ben Tabor, 45; Harold Johnson, 20; Walter Blatch, 28; and Ernest Mangum, 30. Mangum, with a broken back, was the most seriously hurt. All six men were riding on the trailer, which ran down a steep hill and careened into a ditch, pinning them beneath it.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 5. (AP)—Cotton continued quiet today with prices fluctuating rather aimlessly as trades appeared disposed to await congressional developments and the final government crop report due Thursday. Futures firmed for a time in mid-afternoon but eased when the Garner repeal resolution met defeat and the close showed net losses for the day of 6 to 7 points.

A private authority estimated the crop at 12,402,000 bales and ginnings to December 1 at 11,419,420 running bales.

The market opened quiet and easy. Liverpool cables came in 1 penny point better than due but Sterling was lower. Private cables said the market was quiet with some hedge and continental selling. Manchester cabled trading was cautious with far eastern bids on cloth too low. First trades here showed losses of 3 to 5 points and prices eased off a little further after the start due to hedge selling, but trading continued very limited. January traded down to 5.53, March to 5.62 and May to 5.72, or 5 to 6 points down from Saturday's close.

Later, prices gradually improved owing to an advance in stocks, and although there was little disposition to trade January eventually advanced to 5.60, March to 5.74, and May to 5.82 or 2 to 6 points above Saturday's close. Later when it was known that the prohibition amendment repeal had failed, prices eased off in sympathy with stocks making new lows for the day at 5.51 for January, 5.61 for March and 5.71 for May or 9 to 13 points below the revious highs. The close was at the bottom on the three most active months showing net declines for the day of 7 points.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow unchanged to 1 penny point down.

Port receipts 46,400 for week 82,395, for season 4,944,306, last season 5,397,223. Exports 82,547 for week 102,833, for season 3,310,210, last season 3,091,483. Port stock 4,742,561, last year 4,706,491. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 155,331, last year 160,518. Spot sales at southern markets 41,880, last year 24,397.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Cotton moved into new low ground today, but its actual loss was slight.

March contracts, which had sold from 5.66@5.74 on a midday rally, broke to 5.65, new low for the movement, and closed at that figure, with the general market closing steady at net declines of 4 to 7 points.

The opening was 2 to 6 points lower under some southern selling and liquidation, the market later stiffening on trade buying and covering promoted by steadiness in the grain and stock markets.

December sold up 5.87@5.80 while later months sold 3 to 4 points net higher with May advancing to 5.84. Prices eased again in the late trading under a renewal of commission house or local liquidation which followed an easier turn in the stock market. Closing quotations were within a point of the lowest.

A private report placed the indicated crop at 12,108,000 bales while another estimated 12,402,000. The figures on ginnings prior to Dec. 1 ranged from 11,198,000 to 11,419,000 bales. A canvass indicated that New York cotton exchange members on the average were looking for a crop of 12,126,000 bales.

The New York cotton exchange service placed the world's consumption of cotton of all growths for the first three months of this season at 5,823,000 bales against 5,574,000 last year.

Liverpool reported a quiet market there. Exports today 86,841 making 3,334,475 so far this season. Port receipts 46,400. U. S. port stocks 4,788,623.

Stocks Have Firm Leaning Monday; Stamina Lacking After Pro Ballot

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Stocks had a leaning toward firmness today, although the stamina of an early rally was tested and found somewhat wanting when defeat of the prohibition repeal resolution became known.

Until the result of the congressional balloting reached Wall street, the market was roughly one to three points higher, having built up its cautious gains in the course of a slow, steady improvement during the morning and early afternoon but speculators who had been supporting the bottling equipment issues reduced commitments quickly, and other divisions weakened in sympathy, until all the gain had been lost. However, the market stiffened toward the close, so that final prices averaged fractionally higher. Transactions totaled 725,219 shares. The most active period was during the decline, when offerings were rather brisk for perhaps half an hour.

Owen Glass, which had been more than 2 points higher, showed an extreme loss of similar size, although the net decline amounted to 1 1-4. Crown Cork and Seal dropped a couple of points. Alcohol stocks, on the other hand, were steady, while Coca Cola hopped up 3 1-2 net.

Babe Says Permission Was Not Given

DALLAS, Dec. 5 (AP) — Mildred Babe Didrikson, Dallas girl athlete and Olympic games champion, when advised tonight that officials of the National Amateur Athletic union had declared her ineligible for further amateur competition, denied emphatically that she had given any individual or firm permission for the use of her name in advertising.

She said she had not violated any rule that would impair her amateur standing and was surprised to learn of the action of A. A. U. officials in New York.

"I let this automobile company make a picture of me," the Babe explained, "but I told them not to use it. They did so without my permission.

On Basketball Team

"I do not intend to turn professional before next summer—if then; and I want to continue as an amateur at least through the present basketball season. We're going to have a great team and hope to win back the national championship." She is captain of the Golden Cyclones, girls' basketball team sponsored by a Dallas Insurance firm, of which she is an employe.

Col. M. J. McCombs, athletic director for the insurance company, said he would telegraph Ferris immediately to confirm the report she had been ruled ineligible and, in the event this action already has been taken, will enter suit immediately for the Babe against the automobile firm which published the advertisement, seeking damages.

"Our main interest," Colonel McCombs said, "is to get Babe reinstated and we shall work to that end. She not only tells me she did not give anyone permission to use her name but says she has never seen the model car which she is quoted as praising."

mand entrance into Washington," "We want bread. To hell with beer," and "unite and fight." Speeches followed.

As dusk fell, heavy details of police were added to the cordon that for 24 hours had surrounded the marchers. Especial attention was devoted to a stretch of woodland on one side of the demonstrator's detention camp and police were stationed there at close intervals.

A westerly wind, blowing steadily colder, brought shivers and apprehensive expressions from the tatterdemalion army and appraising glances from the ever-ready tear gas squad, which would depend upon it to spread the cloudy fumes in case of trouble.

To Hear Arguments

Suggestions trouble was in the making came, police said, in reports from within the groups of marchers, whose leaders during the day had sought unsuccessfully to obtain an immediate court order forbidding police interference and ending their status of under technical arrest. Justice Oscar Luhring of the District of Columbia supreme court said, however, he would hear their arguments for such an injunction Thursday.

During the day, too, the police refused to issue a parade permit to the marchers' leader, diminutive and bespectacled Herbert Benjamin. They told him flatly no large group would be permitted to march to the capitol.

for me if America does not want me."

"What party do you belong to or sympathize with?"

The professor did not understand the significance of this question and asked for an explanation.

"You see," the investigator said, "when persons applying for visas hold certain political beliefs it is difficult if not impossible to grant the visa. For instance, are you a communist or an anarchist?"

The professor abruptly arose.

"What's this, an inquisition?" he demanded. "Is this an attempt at chicanery? I don't propose to answer such silly questions.

"I didn't ask to go to America. Your countrymen invited me, yes begged me. If I am to enter your country as a suspect I don't want to go at all. If you don't want to give me a visa please say so, then I'll know where I stand. But don't ask me humiliating questions."

When Prof. Einstein and his wife got home she telephoned the consulate that she must know by eleven o'clock tomorrow morning whether the visa has been granted. Otherwise, he said, she will notify the American scientists who extended the invitation to her husband that the engagement is off.

"Wouldn't it be funny," the professor remarked, "if they wouldn't let me in? Why, the whole world would laugh at America."

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 5. (AP) — Fed steers and yearlings met a slow demand at steady to 25 lower levels as compared with the close of last week. Medium weight and heavy steers carried most of the loss. Best steers with weight in Chicago brought 7.00 and top long yearlings made 7.35. A few other loads of better grade steers at various points ranged within a spread of 6.00@7.00 while the general bulk of offerings had to sell at 4.25@5.75. Some markets also reported a rather slow trade on stockers and feeders at values unevenly steady to 25 lower. A few loads of better grade yearling stockers and stock steer calves cleared up to 5.75 while majority of stockers and feeders sold from 3.25@5.25. Receipts at eleven markets totaled 75,400 as compared with 71,648 last Monday and 80,413 a year ago.

Hog trade was rather uneven in trend, several markets reporting a steady to 10 lower tone as compared with Friday's average while others were as much as 10 to 15 lower. Chicago had a practical top of 3.50 on best light lights.

Lambs held generally steady with late last week, a spread of 5.00@5.75 taking the bulk of desirable kinds with a few loads at 6.00@6.25. Choice yearlings turned at 4.90 and medium to choice feeding lambs brought 4.40@5.25.

Grain

FORT WORTH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Dec. 5. (AP)—Demand was good for wheat and slow to fair for other offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas Gulf ports, export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard according to protein and billing, 53@54. Barley: No. 2 nominally 31@32; No. 3 nominally 30@31. Sorghums, No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. 67@69; No. 3 white kaffir 55@57.

Delivered Texas common points or group three: Corn No. 2 mixed 39@40; No 3 white 42@43; No. 2 yellow 40@41.

Delivered Texas common points: Oats, No. 2 red 23@24; No. 3 red 22@23.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Dec. 5. (AP)—Defeat of prohibition repeal caused much interest among grain traders today, but hardly the slightest unusual change in price.

Announcement of the prohibition vote reached the board of trade five minutes before the day's dealings ended, and in that interval the quotations on barley held exactly unaltered. Corn meanwhile weakened 1-4 cent a bushel and wheat 1-2 cent commonplace fluctuations under any circumstances.

A sharp decrease in the United States wheat visible supply total, together with reports of big overseas buying of Canadian wheat, unfavorable crop advices from domestic winter wheat territory and from Argentina, as well as purchasing of wheat for flour manufacturers who looked to possible adoption of agricultural domestic allotment plans by congress were largely responsible for general price upturns that preceded the Washington vote adverse to prohibition repeal.

Wheat closed firm, 1-2 to 1 1-4 above Saturday's finish, corn 1-8 to 3-8 up, oats 1-4 to 5-8 advanced, barley 1 3-8 higher, and provisions unchanged to a decline of 2 cents.

Repeal Defeat

the Beck-Linthicum submission proposal was defeated last spring 227 to 187.

Speaker Garner was greeted warmly as he vigorously walked into the chamber promptly at 12 o'clock to open the house. The galleries were packed with prominent persons, even the seldom used executive and diplomatic sections. Senators and members of the cabinet were on the floor to watch.

Dispensing with the opening formalities as quickly as possible, the vice president-elect then discarded all custom in recognizing Representative Rainey of Illinois, party floor leader, to offer the resolution.

Several attempts were made to extend debate time, but the wets apparently were so confident of victory they prevented it.

Coming down into the historic well of the house to open the brief debate, Rainey read the Democratic and Republican wet planks.

He called upon his forces to support the measure, declaring it conformed "with the wording of both platforms."

Attacking the procedure invoked by Speaker Garner, Representative Snell of New York, Republican leader, said "you are not only breaking the precedents of one hundred and fifty years, but you are not showing proper respect to the office of president by passing important legislation before the usual notification of meeting and receiving any message the president desires to send us."

With the conclusion of the debate, the roll was called amid unusual silence. Every member and the 700 persons crowded into the galleries listened to check the vote of each member.

"Two-thirds not having voted, the resolution is lost," Speaker Garner said in announcing the vote.

"The childhood and youth of this country has more defense and fewer defenders, more virtues and fewer supporters, more prospects for enriching the horizon of our future and fewer patriots to uphold their program than can be justified in law, morals, or equity."

Mr. Humphries declared that the proposal would "modify, abandon or abolish some of our state schools in the interests, ostensibly economy, but in fact to change the policy from a democratic or Jeffersonian program of distribution of knowledge as now obtains to one centralized in the University of Texas at Austin and in A. and M. college at College Station. This last program will not succeed, and our friends need not worry."

Hawk Recommends Benefit Show To Be Held In City

"Scandals of 1932," a benefit show for crippled children, was "highly" recommended to Lubbock persons by Wilbur C. Hawk, Amarillo publisher and West Texas Chamber of Commerce president, in a telegram received here. The show, sponsored by the Kiwanis, Rotary, American Business and Lions club, will be presented at high school auditorium Friday night.

"You probably are not familiar with the quality and high class features in 'Scandals of 1932,' which your civic clubs are staging for benefit of crippled children," Mr. Hawk said in the wire, to Chas. A. Guy, Lubbock publisher.

"Since I happened to attend the show when Mike Hollander staged it here, just want to highly recommend it to you and the people of Lubbock.

"The cast is largely composed of high school boys and girls, and the show is of a type that will please and entertain the entire family. It is worthy of your whole-hearted support and if it pleases the people of Lubbock as it did in Amarillo, you will be doing your readers a favor to recommend that they attend."

Hollander, a veteran showman of Amarillo, is director of the "Scandals," which will feature Lubbock people and the Texas Blue Bonnets, a chorus of young girls from Amarillo.

Fire Prevention Is Being Planned

Members of the chamber of commerce fire prevention committee Monday morning mapped out a campaign of fire prevention for the next month. Particular stress will be laid on fire prevention during the Christmas holidays.

A display on fire prevention, pointing out the results of carelessness, is to be put into a downtown store window by the committee soon. Tags giving warning on use of various decorations, candles and other inflamables are to be placed on every Christmas tree sold in the city. A bulletin carrying similar information is to be given every school child.

Merchants are to be requested to use precaution in wiring special Christmas displays and windows and are also to be asked discourage the sale of fireworks in the city. The rate and penalty for storage and sale of fireworks in a building is to be pointed out to every merchant.

City Fire Marshall D. A. Forbess is to make special inspection of meeting places in the city where Christmas programs with decorations and costumes are to be held.

Those present in the meeting Monday were: L. Wesley Read, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty and Mr. Forbess, members of the Lubbock Fire Prevention Board, Guy L. McAfee, chairman the committee, Prof. M. H. Duncan, C. W. Ratliff and Garnet Reeves.

Woman's Body Lies In State

Funeral Services For The Last Surviving Daughter Of Gen. Sam Houston Will Be Held In Texas Alamo

SAN ANTONIO, Dec. 5 (AP)—The body of Mrs. Nettie Houston Bringhurst, last surviving daughter of General Sam Houston, will lie in state in the Alamo, Texas shrine of independence, from 8 a. m., to 10 a. m., Tuesday. Funeral service will be held in the Alamo at 10 a. m., followed by burial in Mission Park.

Mrs. Bringhurst was fatally injured in an automobile accident near Schulenberg Saturday afternoon. She was brought to San Antonio after the accident and died at Santa Rosa hospital.

Her body will lie in state at a local funeral chapel pending transfer to the Alamo Tuesday.

Mrs. Bringhurst, youngest daughter of General Houston, was riding in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Nettie Bush, at the time of the accident. The car, en route to Houston, overturned when a tire blew out. Mrs. Bush and her daughter, Margaret, 10, and Mrs. J. B. Haitchew of Abilene, a niece of Mrs. Bringhurst, suffered minor injuries.

Plans for the funeral services were being made Monday morning. Active pallbearers are G. G. Reiwald, Dr. W. S. Hamilton, Dick O. Terrell, Harry Hertzberg, Arthur Wynne and H. C. Hinderson.

Besides her daughter and granddaughter in San Antonio, she is survived by a brother, A. J. Houston of LaPorte.

As a descendent of the father of her state, Mrs. Bringhurst was honored during her lifetime at patriotic gatherings here and throughout the state. She was 80 years old.

She was the fifth born in a line of eight children, of whom four were sons and four daughters. Her mother, prior to her marriage to General Houston, was Margaret Lea.

She married Major L. Bringhurst, a professor at the Texas A. & M. college, at the governor's mansion in Austin, February 28, 1876, being given away in marriage by Governor Hubbard, a close friend of her family. Major Bringhurst died 20 years ago and Mrs. Bringhurst and her daughter moved to San Antonio.

A member of the Daughter's of the Republic of Texas, she took active part in all patriotic work pertaining to the Texas revolution. She unveiled the monument to her father, which stands at the entrance to the Hermann park in Houston, in 1925.

She was a poet of some note and wrote under the name of both Nettie Houston and Nettie Houston Bringhurst. One of her volumes was published.

Texas Tech Convocation Is To Be Staged This Morning

A convocation of Texas Technological college students, postponed from Monday because of illness of Dr. Bradford Knapp, president, will be conducted at the gymnasium at 11 o'clock this morning.

The president has called the meeting to discuss proposed curtailment of activities at the college and to warn students "not to become excited over any such reports."

Although still abed Monday afternoon late, Dr. Knapp was reported to be improved. The college president stated he had suffered "severe pain since Sunday morning with a temporary ailment," the doctor said.

Key Bankers Aid Extension Work

More than 2,600 bankers in the United States are acting as "key" bankers working in cooperation with the extension services of 40 states in the development of a stronger agricultural program, according to Dan H. Otis, director of the agricultural work of the American Bankers association.

"The only states that do not have close cooperation between the banker groups and the extension service are the New England states," Mr. Otis said in discussing his work. "There are about 40 states that are more or less active, with an agricultural program.

"We have 2,600 counties with key bankers. There are over 3,600 counties but not all of these interested in agriculture. There are many with mining or large industrial programs."

Texas not only has the largest area but it has the largest program of agricultural work for its banker's association. The state has 254 counties and in practically every one there is a key banker who works with the extension service, either the county agent or the state w at College Station.

"Georgia is following the Texa plan," Mr. Otis explained. There a a number of states that more or les follow it.

"I am convinced of one thing, since coming to West Texas, that the report that there si a slump in the depression is more or less true. Our natural resources never fail.

"Texas is outstanding in its form of banker's organiaztion working with farmers. Other states are coming more and more to pattern after the Texas plan."

Foreign Diplomats In China Are But Commuters; Capital Changes Suddenly

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5 (AP) — American and foreign diplomats in China are commuters in their official life, but they have hopes this business of traveling hundreds of miles will end eventually.

The government there has moved the capital again—this time from Loyang back to Nanking—and this has encouraged the heads of foreign missions to think that in time with adjustment of the Manchurian question it will return to Peiping.

That is where those officials live and when they have official business they have to get on a train and go to Nanking, to Loyang or wherever the caiptal is. Frequently they must journey many long miles to Shanghai because a number of important Chinese functionaries stay there.

In Pieping the American minister, Nelson T. Johnson, and his diplomatic colleagues are quartered in a comfortable legation compound, surrouded by walled gardens and protected by foreign troops. They were awarded their land under the Boxer settlement more than 30 years ago and enjoy secial privileges which they will not yield willingly.

Chiang Kai-Shek and his followers moved the capital to Loyang from Nanking last winter when Japanese warships threatened the latter city during the Sino-Japanese troubles. Emperor Chou Ping-Wang made Loyang his capital 770 years before the Christian era. Cang-An was capital of the empire for 970 years and Peiping has sheltered the government for 786.

Special Judge Is Sought In Court

AUSTIN, Dec. 5. (AP)—Members of the Travis county bar plan to meet tomorrow and elect a special judge to sit in the 98th district court should Judge J. D. Moore still be sick.

Judge Moore was unable to preside in his court today. Tomorrow is appearance day and James V. Allred, Texas attorney general, said he would insist on a setting of the case wherein J. E. Ferguson and others obtained an injunction restraining the Texas highway commission from expending any more money for construction at this time.

Allred said the highway commission would ask for a trial of one case on its merits, although an appeal from the court's order granting the temporary injunction is pending in the third court of civil appeals. The case was submitted to the appellate court Saturday.

Ferguson and Allred held a conference today about the probable trial in district court of the case on its merits. Ferguson suggested that the trial on its merits be postponed until after the appellate court had acted, but Allred said he would insist on an early setting of the case in the lower court.

Ferguson indicated that in event the appeals court decided against him he would make application to the supreme court for a writ of error.

Romance Is Not Dead In College

DENTON, Dec. 5. (AP)—That modern girls are romantic regardless of modernistic fads and frills has at last been proved, according to the librarian at Texas State College for Women. More than one-third of the books checked out of the college library are of the romantic fiction class.

Approximately two hundred two-week books are checked out daily, one-third fiction. English literature coming next followed by autobiography, biography and memoirs of women. Books mentioned by lecturers on the campus are usually in wide demand immediately following the appearance of the speaker. Interest in the mystery story, which has been so strong in the past, appears to be waning in comparison with other years.

Among the most popular modern authors are Hemmingway, Atherton, Kipling, Baum, Aldrich, Bromfield, Priestly and Norris. Sinclair Lewis' "Main Street" and Willa Cather's "Death Comes For The Archbishop" are ever popular.
