Polls Put Nixon Top

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four national surveys and a California state poll show Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon decidely leading Democratic Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in the presidential race.

Time and Newsweek magazines, the Gallup Poll and a New York Times survey all show that Nixon would win if the election were held today.

Both Newsweek and the Times say Humphrey would get fewer electoral college votes than third party candidate George C. Wallace, although Newsweek says Humphrey's popular vote would be higher.

Time gives Nixon 34 states with 328 electoral votes, Humphrey 10 states and the District of Columbia with 121 votes and Wallace only four Deep South states with 39 votes.

Although the Gallup Poll showed that Humphrey had gained slightly since August, he still trailed Nixon by 12 percentage points.

A California state poll published in the Los Angeles Times gave Nixon 43 percent of the vote in California and Humphrey 34 percent. Wallace got seven percent.

Humphrey's campaign manager Lawrence O'Brien said Sunday that his candidate's poor showing was due to the late start of his campaign. It was delayed by the lateness of the Democratic National convention, O'Brien said on NBC television's "Meet the Press."

New State Colleges Approved By Board

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK

DALLAS (AP) — The Coordinating Board of the Texas higher education system approved establishment of new Texas colleges today and at the same time clarified a controversial list some interpreted as a recommendation to limit enrollments at some schools.

The board of the Texas College and University System approved establishment of new colleges at Odessa-Midland, Corpus Christi, San Antonio and two at Houston. It also called for a new school at Laredo under Texas A&I University at Kingsville.

The legislature makes the final decisions on new schools.

Committee reports were presented by Tom Sealy of Midland.

The board also made it clear that enrollment limits listed earlier for schools were only for planning purposes and are subject to review. This clarification removed one main point of controversy.

The committee recommended that no action be taken at this time on the establishment of a new senior-level school in the Dallas-Fort Worth area until the University of Texas plan for the North Texas area can be given consideration. This will be at a public hearing in Austin Oct. 11.

The committee recommended that a special high-level education center be established at Laredo to be administered by Texas A&I University at Kingsville.

A delegation from Laredo had asked for the establishment of a senior college but the committee said the area at the present times does not meet the criteria for an independent school.

But it said the Laredo area has some needs which should be met immediately.

The committee also said the Tyler area cannot qualify now for a senior-level college but the board should give consideration to such a project in 1973 when it is believed that the Tyler area will have sufficient population for such a school in the committee's opinion.

The compromise plan offered to Laredo appeared to quell most of the protests to the new college construction plan which has been voiced at a June meeting in Austin.

The new construction program and the limitation on enrollment at existing institutions are major points in a master plan for the state's system of higher learning projected to 1980.

The Texas Legislature, which has the sole power to create and finance new schools, will have the final word on where and when new institutions will be created.

Multiple Launcher Taken From Reds

TAN AN, Vietnam, (AP) — The U.S. Army today unveiled a captured enemy rocket launcher that could have pounded Saigon with a dozen simultaneously launched missiles containing 500 pounds of explosives.

A captured North Vietnamese second lieutenant who was to use the launcher said about 150 enemy officers were trained with him to take over rocket platoons in South Vietnam.

The Chinese-made 107mm multiple rocket launcher was the first of its type ever captured in the South, although single tube launchers have been seized frequently.

The weapon was found Sunday about 10 miles south of Saigon in a joint sweep by U.S. 9th Division infantrymen and South Vietnamese soldiers of the 46th Regiment, 25th Division.

"Good God Almighty," were the first words of the U.S. commander in Vietnam, Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., when he saw the bank of 12 rocket tubes. With him was the visiting U.S. commander from the Pacific, Adm. John S. McCain.

After inspecting the launcher Abrams shrugged and added, "If they are going to send these things down here we will have to capture them."

The South Vietnamese regimental commander whose men captured the weapon, Lt. Col. Tran Van Huyen, said the launcher was to be used in attacks on Saigon.

Communiques reported 184 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed in two savage fights south of Da Nang and along the Cambodian border near the Duc Lap Special Forces camp. Another 169 enemy soldiers were reported killed in a dozen smaller skirmishes from the Mekong Delta to the demilitarized zone.

Allied casualties were put at 44 dead, 109 wounded and 11 missing. South Vietnam forces were involved in the major fights and suffered the bulk of the allied casualties—33 dead, 70 wounded and 11 missing.

Ten miles south of Da Nang elite South Vietnamese rangers backed by armored personnel carriers, dive-bombers and helicopter gunships reported killing 114 Communist troops threatening South Vietnam's second largest city. The rangers suffered considerable losses, too, 17 killed and 41 wounded.

Enemy gunners sent five rounds of big Russian-made 122mm rockets slamming into the eastern part of Da Nang Sunday night. Most of the rounds fell near the headquarters of the South Vietnamese 1st Corps, and eight civilians were reported wounded.

In support of the government infantrymen at Duc Lap, the U.S. Air Force's B52 bombers dumped more than 250 tons of explosives on troop concentrations four to six miles northwest of the camp.

An allied force sweeping the southern approaches to Saigon found a 107mm rocket launcher with up to a dozen tubes for simultaneous fring nine miles south of the capital. A stockpile of more than 200 big 122-mm rockets, 82mm mortars, and smaller bazooka-type rockets was unearthed 10 mile northwest of the capital.

Military spokesmen said other ammuntion and supplies seized over the weekend would be enough to sustain two Communist regiments of 5,000 men for several weeks.

Showers Revive Vegetation Here

Weekend showers revived late summer vegetation in the Snyder area.

The showers in this area were mostly light, mixed with periods of drizzles. The official gauge at the city water plant measured a total of .44 inch, while some measurements of more than half an inch were reported.

HemisFair Mishap Fatal

By RICHARD BEENE
Associated Press Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Eleven minimonorail cars derailed at the HemisFair Sunday, killing one person and injuring 49 after one of the trains struck another.

Thirteen of the injured remained in hospitals today as an investigation began to determine the cause of the accident.

Witnesses said the cars derailed after one train struck another from behind as they were rounding a curve by the HemisFair infirmary.

Bystanders and fair employes rushed to rescue the injured from the cars, two of which had fallen into a lagoon beside the 12-foot-tall monorail. One woman was saved from drowning.

"It was horrible," said Chris Ilg, 21, of Akron, Ohio, a fair employe. "I heard a tremendous crash and I saw people falling out—a little boy fell out, and people were screaming and asking where their families were."

"It was like a slow snake creeping down," she said.

The dead woman was identified by hospital officials as Emilee Schmidt, 65, of Ellisville, Mo. Her sister-in-law, Ella Schmidt, 71, of Glencoe, Mo., was injured and in fair condition.

One of the injured Ella Jacobs, 74, of Hallsville, Mo., was listed in serious condition.

The tragedy struck on the day HemisFair had its second highest attendance. HemisFair spokesmen said 89,678 visited the fair Sunday, bringing the total to 5,551,322 since the fair opened April 6. The record one-day high is 100,486. The exposition closes Oct. 6.

It was the third known mishap involving the brightly colored trains and the first in which anyone was injured, officials said. Fire damaged four cars during a test run before the fair opened, and one officer said a collision similar to Sunday's occurred in the early days of the fair. It was minor, however, and no one was injured, he said.

Police blamed Sunday's collision on faulty brakes but John Moore, manager of the 1.5-mile long monorail system, disputed this account.

Some of the trains resumed operations Sunday night.

Rail Mishap Hurts 100

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — A Penn Central train traveling an estimated 80 miles an hour with 178 passengers aboard struck a derailed freight train Sunday injuring about 100 persons.

Six persons were hospitalized.

A railroad spokesman said the collision took place as the passenger train, headed from New York to Philadelphia at approximately 80 miles per hour, hit derailed cars of a freight train which had just left a Penn Central yard on an adjacent track.

The high speed locomotive lurched forward after the initial impact and came to rest on its side on the embankment along with the second car—an empty passenger car.

The remaining five cars remained precariously balanced on the track.

Askins Rites Set This Afternoon

Funeral service was set for 3 p.m. today at the Bell-Seale Chapel here for W. H. (Billy) Askins, 84, who died at 9:10 p.m. Saturday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Askins, a retired rancher, lived at 1507 Twenty-first Street.

Eld. Carl Watson, Primitive Baptist minister of Abilene, was to officiate, with Dr. A. B. Lightfoot, pastor of First Baptist Church in Snyder, assisting. Burial was to be in the Gail Cemetery, under direction of Bell - Seale.

Mr. Askins was a native of Leon County and lived in Comanche County before coming to Borden County in 1903. He had lived in the Borden-Scurry area continuously since that time. He was married to Miss Alice Hood on Sept. 25, 1907 in Borden County. Mrs. Askins survives.

Other survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Bill (Nettie) Kelly of Snyder and Mrs. Jack (Phadene) Harless of Snyder; two sons, Elmer Askins of Big Spring and Emmett Askins of Snyder; a sister, Mrs. John Mosley of Dublin; two brothers, Dee Askins of Safford, Ariz., and Sid Askins of Burkburnett; 13 gradchildren, 25 great-grandchildren, and three great-great-grandchildren.

NIXON'S PEOPLE DECLINE

Humphrey Asks TV Debate

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hubert H. Humphrey has stepped up his campaign to press Republican presidential opponent Richard M. Nixon into a face-to-face debate. Nixon's people say, meanwhile, he isn't going to be drawn into a running argument.

Humphrey accused Nixon Sunday of refusing to speak out on vital issues and expanded his challenge for nationally televised debates to include the two vice presidential candidates.

"Sen. (Edmund S.) Muskie and I are ready—anytime, anyplace, anywhere," Humphrey said in a statement. "We are waiting to hear from our opposition."

Nixon's national political director, Robert Ellsworth, without referring to televised debates, said the Republican is not going to be enticed into spending his time answering Humphrey charges in a running argument.

"That's what you do when you're behind in politics," Ellsworth said in Santa Barbara. "You try to provoke a fight with the other fellow."

With four polls and surveys showing him well ahead of Humphrey at this point, Nixon concentrated instead today on trying to win the California vote and the state's 40 presidential electoral college votes.

In other political developments:

—Democratic vice presidential candidate Muskie said many Americans are drifting to the view that immediate crime control is more important than eradicating poverty but said the nation "cannot put a wall around black people and buy safety and security for the society."

Muskie was interviewed on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

—Republican vice presidential candidate Spiro T. Agnew blamed increasing crime on confusion over what is proper dissent, and accused Humphrey of adding to the problem in 1966 when he said if he lived in the slums he could "lead a mighty good revolt."

"Once you give a nervous, hostile and ill-informed people a theoretic justification for using violence in certain cases," Agnew said in Chicago, "it is like a tiny hole in the like—it's limits are not predictable."

Newly-Called Units To Be Deactivated

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Naval Reserve squadron from Dallas, called up along with five others after North Korea seized the USS Pueblo last January, will be deactivated in the near future, the Pentagon said today.

The squadron has officers and men from a wide area including Fort Worth and Dallas.

When it was called Jan. 25, the squadron had 21 points, 5 ground officers and 109 enlisted men. Some others were added later.

The squadron trained in Dallas until it moved to the West Coast in June.

It was the second major step taken by the Navy involving reservists within a week.

On Friday the Navy announced early releases for 30,000 Navy men who were serving two-year active duty tours under a special reserve program.

The six air squadrons will be returned to civilian life by Nov. 1, the Pentagon estimated.

"The processes necessary to transfer the squadrons to ready reserve status began today," an announcement said. "The squadrons are expected to move from their present operational fleet bases to their respective reserve air stations in the near futur."

The Pentagon, which has been criticized recently for the way it has utilized reservists, said the six units were called up after the Pueblo was seized "to improve the aviation strength of the Navy and to provide additional resources to meet contingencies that might nave arisen.

"Since current Navy commitments can be met by the regular air units, the Navy has decided to release the reserve air units to inactive status," the Pentagon said.

Cold Front Moves Across Panhandle

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new cold front began moving across the Texas Panhandle early today dropping temperatures to the low 60s.

Skies were clear over most of the state Sunday night but low clouds developed over scattered portions of East Texas before dawn.

Heavy rains totaling up to almost nine inches fell in parts of Central Texas over the weekend and a tornado ripped through Lake Jackson below Houston early Sunday.

The tornado hit the downtown area, ripped off part of the roof of the Post Office and shattered windows. Damage was also reported at a lumber yard in the vicinity and a half mile away where trees were uprooted.

Winds up to 55 miles an hour lashed Beaumont Sunday as a line of violent thunderstorms pushed across the southeast corner of the state.

Winds topped the 280 - foot tower of Radio Station KLVI, broke windows at a shopping center, ripped down signs, and snapped power lines. A 1½ inch rain accompanied the storm.

Heavy rains were caused by a warm frontal system moving slowly northward in East Texas.

Temperatures Sunday ranged from a high of 99 degrees at McAllen to a low of 81 degrees at Dallas.

The outlook for today was for temperatures in the 80s and 90s and a few thundershowers along and ahead of the front in the Panhandle.

DEAR ABBY: What does a wife (recently married) do when she discovers that her husband talks in his sleep? He is in military personnel and handles highly confidential material.

Please forward some solutions as this is no joke.

HEARS A LOT

DEAR HEARS: Tell your husband that he talks in his sleep. As for solutions: I can recommend adhesive tape for HIS mouth and ear plugs for YOUR ears.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have a very disturbing problem and would like your opinion.

A certain member of our family is living with a woman other than his wife. We live in a distant city and they are planning to visit us soon. It is assumed that we will provide overnight accommodations for them. Others in the family have given them a bed together.

We do not approve of this set up, but don't know exactly how to handle the situation. Any suggestions?

WANTS TO DO RIGHT

DEAR WANTS: Disapproving as you do, don't provide them with a bed together!

DEAR ABBY: I am 20, married to a wonderful man and have a 6-month-old child. My problem is an extreme case of jealousy.

I won't let my husband watch certain shows on television because I'm jealous of the girls in it. I also cut all the pictures of pretty girls in bathing suits and revealing dresses out of the newspaper and magazines so my husband won't see them.

You are probably wondering why my husband puts up with this. Well, I sometimes wonder, too. I'm just lucky, I guess.

My husband has never given me any reason to doubt his love or faithfulness, so what is wrong with me? Am I normal? Please give me some advice.

JEALOUS BUT LUCKY

DEAR JEALOUS: A certain amount of jealousy is normal. It's caused by a combination of basic emotions. (The desire for love and attention, fear of losing love, and lack of self-confidence.) Since you don't doubt your husband's love or faithfulness, and have no real "rivals," you are probably suffering from lack of confidence.

If you insist on cutting out those paper dolls, and try to keep your husband in "blinders," I recommend professional help. You may not be "lucky" forever.

Nigerians, Biafrans In Heavy Battles

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Nigerian and Biafran forces are reported locked in heavy fighting for the town of Owerri—one of the last two left of the rebels—and casualties are believed high on both sides.

Troops returning from the front said the Nigerian 16th and 17th brigades were encountering stiff resistance from seasoned secessionist soldiers.

A wounded sergeant, evacuated from Owerri 50 miles south to Port Harcourt, said rebel troops were so numberous that "they gush out like sand... They are like sand, uncountable."

Civilians fleeing from Owerri to Biafran headquarters at Umuahia also told of intense fighting outside Owerri, swollen by refugees from a prewar population of 26,000 to hundreds of thousands.

Owerri and Umuahia are the only major towns still in Biafran hands at last report.

Nigerian troops, driving to crush the year-old secessionist regime, had been reported just a few miles outside Owerri for weeks. Col. Benjamin Adekunle, commander of the Nigerian 3rd Division, was quoted as having told wounded troops Friday that he would "drink tea in Owerri Sunday."

Infant Receives New Heart, Lungs

HOUSTON (AP) —Doctors said today a 2-month old girl who received the transplanted heart and lungs of another infant was in "encouraging" condition.

A hospital advisory said the heart action of Debra Lynn Lee of Husmith, Tex., was good. However, the hospital spokesman said the child's breathing was being aided by a respirator.

Debra received the new organs in a 57-minute operation Sunday.

Farmers To Reap Record Grain Crops

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Large per-acre yields and generally favorable weather are helping farmers harvest record grain crops this year, the Agiculture Department reports.

The govenment's index of all crops rose during the past month to a record 122 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This was five points above the previous high of last year and reflects a tremendous farm-crop output led by wheat and livestock feed-grains.

Corn was estimated at 4.6 billion bushels, only 2 per cent less than the record crop of 1967. This year's yield was forecast at a record 83 bushels an acre, compared with 78.2 last year and the 1962-66 average of 68.3 bushels.

Sorghum grain, the second-ranking livestock feed, was estimated at a record 791 million bushels, three per cent more than last year and 33 per cent larger than average.

The oats crop was estimated at 934 million bushels, up 20 per cent from last year and seven per cent more than average.

Total production of the four major feed grains is expected to total 177.1 million tons, one per cent more than last year's record and 19 per cent larger than average.

The total output of grain for human use was forecast at 54.1 million tons, six per cent more than last year.

Wheat was estimated at 1.6 billion bushels, five per cent more than the record of 1967 and 30 per cent larger than average.

Production of rice was forecast at 110 million hundredweight, 23 per cent larger than last year's high.

Soy beans are expected to yield a record 1.1 million bushels, 11 per cent more than the 1967 crop and 40 per cent larger than average.

Production of fresh summer vegetables was estimated at four per cent larger than last year, but early fall production was forecast down about three per cent.

The important fall potato crop is expected to be about nine per cent smaller than last year. Total production of noncitrus fruit was estimated at 14 per cent over 1967.

Record sugar beet production also was indicated, and sugar cane output was estimated at about the 1967 level.

Tobacco production this year was forecast nine per cent below 1967.

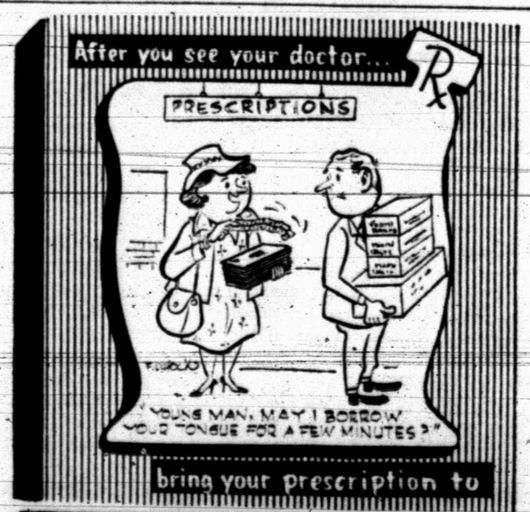
The apple crop was estimated at one per cent less, but peaches and pears are expected to increase this year by more than one-third.

Work To Develop Computer Language

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Russian, an Israeli and an American are working together at the University of California at Los Angeles to develop new computer language for working with information about earthquakes.

The scientific team is headed by Prof. Leon Knopoff of the UCLA institute of Geophysics and Planetary Physics and Prof. Vladimir I. Kelis-Borok of the Institute for the Physics of the Earth in Moscow. The group also includes Dr. Michael Shimshoni of Israeli's Weismann institute of science and three graduate students.

Each team member is using a different technique to gather information about the earth's behaviour during earthquakes, Dr. Knopoff said Sunday.



Socialists Tighten Grip In Sweden

By EDWIN A. SHANKE
Associated Press Writer

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Socialists strengthened their 36-year grip on the Swedish welfare state with a smashing parliamentary election victory Sunday, the biggest vote of confidence the Social Democratic party has won since the war.

The surprising result, to most political commentators, who had expected a much closer race. It also checked the trend to the right in Scandinavia. Both Norway and Denmark ousted Socialist governments in the past two years in favor of non-Socialist governments.

On the basis of computer calculations, the Socialists provisionally took 49 per cent of the vote and 125 of the 233 seats at stake in the lower house of Parliament, a gain of 12 seats.

The combined opposition dropped seven seats to a total of 105, while the Communists retained only three of their eight seats.

This gave the Socialists a majority of 17 seats, their first since World War II. In the last house, they had a working majority of nine because the eight Communists always voted with them.

Some slight rearrangement of seats could result from the estimated 300,000 mail votes. Although the computers were keyed to reflect them, the volume was at least 65 per cent above the 1964 total.

Political commentators attributed the sharp reversal in Socialist fortunes, after a setback in local elections two years ago, to two factors:

1. The record size of the poll —an estimated 89 per cent of the eligible voters—showed that the Socialists brought out supporters who in the past stayed home because they took a Socialist victory for granted.

2. The Czechoslovak crisis aroused a feeling of uncertainty about the future which rallied voters around the party in power. It also accounted for the sharp drop in the Communist vote, most of which is thought to have gone to the Socialists.

Premier Tage Erlander, architect of the welfare state and the party leader for the last 22 years, told newsmen there was a third reason: "We have regained the confidence of the young voters and that is of decisive importance for the future."

Erlander, now 67, said he would not lead his party into the next election in 1970. Olof Palme, 41-year-old minister of education, is most often mentioned as his successor.

The new lower house was chosen for only two years instead of four because in 1970 Sweden goes over to a single-chamber Parliament.

The preliminary standings in the new 233-seat lower house:

Social Democrats 125, gain of 12; Communists 3, loss of 5; Center Party 39, gain of 4; Liberals 33, loss of 10; Conservatives 32, loss of 1, and 1 independent.

Martins Mills Deaths Said Murder, Suicide

MARTINS MILLS, Tex. (AP) —Jeffie Sandoval, 39, shot his wife, Magdalena, to death Sunday night and then killed himself, Van Zandt County sheriff's officers said.

Justice of the Peace Joe Wallace ruled murder and suicide in the deaths. Officers found the bodies after San Antonio police relayed a tip they said they had from a San Antonian with relatives in the Northeast Texas town.

Guilty Plea In Liquor Case Here

George Kirkpatrick pleaded guilty in Count Court to charges to illegal sale and illegal possession of intoxicating beverages. He received a $100 fine plus court costs on the sale offense. The other charge brought him a 90-day jail term and a $100 fine, out the sentence was probated for one year.

He was apprehended last Tuesday on the Clairemont Highway after making a sale of beer to local police officers. Credited with investigation that solved the case were Detective Sergeant Bobby Goodwin, Patrol Sergeant D'Wayne Jernigan and Patrolman Jerry Morris. They confiscated over 90 cans or bottles of beer.

Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, created in 1872, was the world's first national park.

Suspect Hunted In Saturday Shooting

Betty Jo Cobb, 31, was shot in the right forearm with a small caliber pistol as she sat in a car with her hsuband, Stanley, in front of a cafe in the 3400 block of Avenue M at 11:40 p.m. Saturday, according to City Police.

Officers said the slug went through the arm and grazed her right hip. She was treated at Cogdell Memorial Hospital and then released. Police are seeking a suspect in the shooting.

Charge Is Filed In Knifing Here

Luis Silva, 34, Route 3, was charged Saturday with assault with intent to murder following the knifing of Alberto Guzman, 19, 2006 Twenty - first Street.

City Judge Gene Dulaney set bond at $1,000, and Silva was remanded to County Jail in lieu of bond. Guzman was treated for lacerations of the face and subsequently released from Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

2 Students Held Here

Two students from West Texas State University at Canyon and a local teenager were apprehended by City Police in Towle Park about 10:30 a.m. Sunday.

Officers confiscated about a case of beer and turned the juvenile over to Juvenile Officers on a charge of minor in illegal possession of intoxicating beverages.

[illegible] said a subsequent investigation indicated the two students had stolen some change from coin operated machines at the Pancake House in Canyon during a recent breakin. A warrant charging burglary was to be issued out of Canyon, and the youths are being held for authorities from there. They signed a statement in connection with the burglary and also in connection with theft of stereo tape cartridges at Canyon and in Amarillo.

MRS. DWAIN KENT BUTLER

Miss Agnew, Mr. Butler Exchange Doublering Vows In Lubbock Church

The Monterey Church of the Nazarene in Lubbock was the scene of a candlelight ceremony uniting Faye Elizabeth Agnew of Lubbock and Dwain Kent Butler of Snyder in marriage. Rev. Wales Lankford of Amarillo North Beacon Church of the Nazarene, read the doublering wedding vows at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 31.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Elizabeth Agnew of Portales, New Mexico and James Agnew of Stockton, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Butler of Snyder are the groom's parents.

The church pews were decorated with large candles with green bows at the base. The couple stood before an arch of greenery, accented by a large bouquet of yellow gladiolus at the top. Candle trees graced each side of the arch.

Traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. John K. Lanham of Lubbock at the organ, accompanied by Tom Bennett as trumpeter. Rev. Harold Lawrence sang "Because," followed by Mrs. Dick Proctor singing "Together Forever." As the bridal couple knelt to pray, Mrs. Don Johnson sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride wore a formal gown of Chantilly lace and peau de soie. The fitted bodice was overlayed with lace and scalloped at the neckline with long sleeves tapered at the wrists. The wide lace tiers fell from the fitted waist and formed a short chapel train. Her three - tiered veil of illusion fell from two large cabbage roses. She carried a bouquet of yellow rose buds accented by white lace and greenery. She wore the traditional blue garter and a penny in her shoe minted in the year of the couple's birth.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Don Johnson of Lubbock as matron of honor. Mrs. Jim Nelson of Lubbock and Regina Butler of Snyder, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. They were dressed identically in sunlight yellow floor length A-line gowns of peau de soie. A large pleat formed at the left side held together by a tie of the same material. They wore three-tiered yellow veils of illusion which fell from cabbage roses. They carried cascade arrangements of green feathered carnations accented with green net and ribbon. Tammy Watson of Lubbock, wearing a dress similar to the other attendants was flower girl. Scott Meador was ring bearer.

Attending the groom were Tommy Hallmark of Snyder as best man. Groomsmen were Jerry Beard and Terry Williamson, also of Snyder. Guests were seated by Dick Proctor and Jerry Anderson of Lubbock, David Fallstaedt of Haskell and Ron Paetstald of Hereford.

A reception at the church followed the wedding. Mrs. Dick Proctor presided at the reception table. A tiered candelabra holding three candles tied at their bases with green ribbon and the wedding cake, which was designed as interlocking rings, centered with a bride and groom, decorated the table. Appointments of crystal and silver completed the setting. The bride's colors of yellow, green and white were carried out.

For the wedding trip the bride chose an avacado green silk shantung coat dress with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. The couple left shortly after the reception for a trip through Arkansas, Tennessee and Virginia. The Great Smoky Mountains National Park was a point of interest. The trip ended in Washington, D. C. The couple are at home at 69 K. Ridge Road, Greenbelt, Maryland.

Mrs. Butler is a 1964 graduate of O'Donnell High School and has been employed by South Plains United Grocers, Inc. in Lubbock.

The groom is a 1964 graduate of Snyder High School and Texas Tech in 1968 with a degree in physics. At Tech he was a member of Sigma Pi Sigma, honor physics society. He will be employed by Naval Ordnance Laboratories in White Oak, Maryland, while attending the University of Maryland on a fellowship from N.O.L. doing graduate work.

Out - of - town guests were from Brownfield, Snyder, Hamlin, Fort Worth, Portales, N. M. and San Diego, Calif.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the fellowship hall of Monterey Church of the Nazarene.

Union 4-H Plans For County Fair Activities

The Union 4-H Club met Thursday at the Union community center. Lou Alice Mathis called the group to order.

Darlene Tate gave county-wide committee report. The girls voted to have an educational booth at the County Fair, with the committee consisting Linda Sowell, Lou Alice Mathis and Dotsy Rsson.

Mrs. Tate showed a film on clothing to the group.

Refreshments were served by Darlene and Barbra Tate to Peggy and Martha Stephens, Rita Eicke, Dotsy Rosson, Lisa Westfall, Jeana von Roeder, Tammy and Lisa Gober, Laura Robertson, Donna Wall, Mrs. Mathis, Martha Jo Mathis, Mrs. Eicke, Teka Eicke and Miss Butts, county agent.

McKissick Would Cast Vote For John Brown

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Floyd McKissick, New York attorney and former head of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) said Sunday that, "if I were going to vote for anyone for president, it would be for John Brown."

Brown, an abolitionist, led a raid on the U.S. arsenal at Harper's Ferry, W. Va., in 1859, was convicted of treason, and was hanged.

McKissick, a former resident of Asheville, said at the 100th anniversary of Hopkins Chapel AME church that John Brown "is a dead man but a good white man."

Iota Psi Chapter Starts New Year Of Activities

Members of Iota Psi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority began their 1968-69 year last Tuesday evening with a business meeting at the home of Frances Billingsley 3616 Avenue B. Faydean Hart is the Chapter president. Serving with her are Trudie Wood, Vice President; Billie Stone, Secretary; Frances Billingsley, Treasurer; Educational Director, Beverly Ainsworth; Parlimentarian, Virginia McMillan; Historian, Anita Payne, and Jonquil Girl, Betty Hunter.

The following committee chairmen were appointed: Social - Virginia Johnston, Ways and Means - Frances Billingsley, Contact - Billie Stone and Virginia McMillan, Welfare - Johnnie Harber, and Publicity - Trudie Wood.

To aid the Chapter in its philantropic projects, a garage sale will be held on Saturday September 21 at 2202 Forty-third Street.

Iota Psi Chapter selected as its educational program this year the subject "YOU ARE THE GOVERNMENT." In presenting the subject Educational Director Beverly Ainsworth gave the following:

You Are The Government

"How proudly we Americans listen to the 4th of July speakers, how tall we stand when we hear the Star Spangled Banner, haw privileged we are with all the freedoms we take for granted in this wonderful nation we live in. However, for the normal citizen, this is exactly where our patriotism stops and apathy takes over our everyday lives.

This program study is to develop a more interested you, and for you to take a working part in our government, and to stimulate you to study your own community and learn what is needed to help in some of the problem areas.

Women today have a unique opportunity in American politics. Not only do they outnumber men in the United States, but by 1968 there were four million more potential women voters than their male counterparts.

Think about that for a moment. Fifty years ago, women didn't even have the right to cast a ballot in this country. And today they have the numerical power to select — without a single male vote — not only the President but also every governor, U. S. Senator and representative, state legislator and every other elected official right down to the local mayor.

"That's great," you say, "but I'm just ONE woman and there is not much I can do to influence the political picture of this country."

But you are wrong. Your first responsibility is to register; then study to educate yourself on the issues involved and then VOTE. Join a political party and help elect its candidates, or join the League of Women Voters which concentrates on studying all the issues, then make up your own mind and vote. Just how extensively you wish to become involved in politics depends on YOU. But one thing is clear. We women must (1) become more interested, (2) more knowledgeable and (3) more active in politics at every level.

For too long we have taken the strength and security of this great nation for granted. For too long now we have worried more about our house cleaning than about helping to "clean house" if we don't agree with how our city, county, state or national government is being run."

Mrs. Ainsworth's report was one of nine which members of the sorority are preparing for presentation at each monthly business meeting.

[illegible] the members honored their sister Billie Stone with a Pink & Blue Shower.

Those present were Trudie Wood, Billie Stone, Anna Stephens, Anita Payne, Virginia McMillan, Virginia Johnston, Betty Hunter Faydean Hart, Johnnie Harber, Beverly Ainsworth and the hostess Frances Billingsley.

Sorority Has First Year's Meet

Gamma Upsilon Chapter of ESA met recently in the home of Lillian Ashley for the first business meeting of the new year. Norma Thompson, president, presided. All state and international correspondence was read that had been received during the summer.

The ways and means chairman announced plans to have a garage sale and other money raising projects. Each member is urged to do their part in these events with reports to be made at the next meeting.

The group went over the new yearbook that was planned and compiled by the executive committee when they met with Mrs. Thompson. The theme for the year is "Under The Big Top." Some very interesting and exciting programs have been planned for the year.

The meeting closed with the closing ritual and all present enjoyed refreshments served by the hostess.

The Galapagos Islands, owned by Ecuador, were declared a national park in 1965.

RADICALS STIR UNREST

Plan To Cripple Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — A campaign by student revolutionaries and activists to cripple Columbia University again begins Tuesday with two planned demonstrations at the 214-year-old Ivy League school.

The radical Students for a Democratic Society has planned its first major actions to coincide with the arrival of freshmen on the Morningside Heights campus. Many classes start Sept. 26.

Those in the university hoping to avoid further disruption on campus and the band of student radicals, begin acting out a drama to see whether Columbia can reopen in peace this term.

Student activists and college administrators throughout the country are expected to follow the developments closely. After the earlier outbreaks at the University of California at Berkeley, Columbia has become the symbol of student unrest in the United States.

Columbia's school year ended in chaos last spring following clashes that involved administration, students, faculty, and New York City police.

A sit-in that began April 23 spread, and students quickly occupied five campus buildings. Eight days later, 1,000 city police cleared the buildings and arrested more than 700 persons.

There were nearly 200 injured. Some students and faculty, outraged over the use of police force, supported the strike. Formal classes ended.

Three weeks later, another demonstration was held, to protest the suspension of leaders of the earlier protest. Columbia President Grayson Kirk called in the police early the next morning, May 22.

More than 100 arrests were made without incident at first, but rows of helmeted policemen swept across the campus. Students tossed bricks. Several policemen were seriously injured and nearly 100 students were clubbed.

During the summer, the university administration and trustees agreed to a series of liberalizing moves.

[illegible] symbol [illegible] acquiescence to militant students, many others, retired, raising hopes among some in the school that major change in university policy would follow.

The student critics, however, say the changes so far do not go far enough. "The university as it exists now really shouldn't be allowed to function," says SDS.

The central question remains: Will the relatively small band of activists win enough support in the genearal student body and the faculty, as they did during the spring disorders, to paralyze the university anew?

The first planned action took place last Thursday, a demonstration at a meeting of some 750 senior faculty members. There was some shoving and pushing as about 200 activists, led by SDS, tried to push into the meeting.

Next will come a "victory rally," according to plans obtained from SDS sources, at noon Tuesday in front of the school cafeteria, to celebrate [illegible] cafeteria work, winning a weekly minimum wage of $100.

Then, at 6:30 p.m., on the steps of Low Memorial Library, and just before a convocation for freshmen, a torchlight service is planned to honor slain Congo leader Patrice Lumumba.

This reference is part of an attack on Acting President Andrew J. Cordier, career diplomat who served with the United Nations at the time of the Congo crisis.

Assam Wages War To Save Rhinos

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian militiamen in remote northeastern Assam State are waging a battle to save the great Indian rhinoceros from extinction.

Money-minded poachers have reduced the Rhinoceros Unicornis to 350—as compared with thousands at the turn of the century. In one recent clash with guards at a special sanctuary for the rhinocero, seven poachers were slain.

Strangely, the 6,000-pound waddling mass of hard flesh is not sought as a big game trophy. Poachers slaughter Unicornis mainly to secure his three-pound, 15-inch-long horn, which retails at a per gram value equivalent to that of gold.

The reason: For centuries throughout Southeast Asia the Indian rhino's horn has been believed to be endowed with sexually stimulating properties. N.H. Desai, a New Delhi zoo official and authority on the rhino, says: "The aphrodisiac property of the horn is 100 per cent myth."

The business, nevertheless, must be brisk, or poachers wouldn't be risking their lives.

Besides the watchful police and sanctuary guards, there is the menace from the rhino himself—which must be hit at his vulnerable point, where one layer of hide meets another fat layer.

"For the rest," said a veteran hunter, "you may as well be shooting at a Patton tank."

Marksmanship plus Unicornis' sluggish mating habits have depleted the ranks.

Perhaps because of his enormous appetite — 440 pounds of grass and leaf fodder per day—the Indian rhino is a reluctant lover. And when Mrs. Unicornis conceives it takes her 19 months to deliver a 120-pound calf.

$2 Billion In Checks

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Eugene Sambrini, opening up his gas station Sunday morning, found an odd-looking bag propped against one of his pumps. He took a look inside and called police. Inside, they said, were $2 million worth of cancelled checks en route to the Federal Reserve Bank in Los Angeles from San Francisco. The loss had not been reported police said.

J. C. Penney's 93rd Birthday

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas will be host today to a birthday celebration for the founder of one of the world's largest department stores.

James Cash Penney, the man who for nearly seven decades has headed the giant chain of retail merchandise stores that bear his name, will be the official guest of honor at a convention of Penney's retired personnel at 1:30 p.m. at the Sheraton Dallas Hotel. Penney will [illegible] his 92nd birthday.

Penney, who started his first business in a Wyoming mining town in 1902, built a chain of 1,700 department stores that had total sales last year of $2.75 billion, second only to Sears, Roebuck, & Company as the United States largest general merchandise retailer.

Accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Caroline Penney, the retail executive will spend most of the week in Dallas with the approximately 500 former employes of the Penney company.

Two Little Puppies Now Police Dogs

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two puppies of unspecified breed and dubious parentage may now be classified as police dogs—at least temporarily.

Officer Ronnie Pott was making his rounds Sunday when he was stopped by two young women with two puppies they said they had just found.

The women asked Potts where they could find the Humane Society, and when he telephoned to try to find an animal aid station open on Sunday, the women left.

The puppies, the latest [illegible] of Potts' patrol car and at last report were being kept in quarters reserved for police dogs.

Numismatists Wary

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Winners in the New Mexico State Fair's numismatics (coins) division may be a bit wary of theft. When contest winners were announced Sunday, the entrants asked that their home addresses not be listed.

Gales, Floods Battering England

By COLIN FROST
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — Gales and torrential rain lashed southern England today, adding to the havoc caused by the worst floods in 15 years. The army moved in to help with relief and rescue work.

Road and rail services were disrupted [illegible] thousands [illegible] were homeless. Thousands of London commuters couldn't get to work.

Authorities kept anxious watch for higher tides along the east coast and the Thames Estuary, where northeast gales brought a new and more serious threat. The combination of northeast gales and higher tides in 1953 caused Britain's worst floods of the century, with 307 persons drowned.

This time the only casualty so far was a woman swept away from her car as a river inundated a road in Sussex. Her daughter was swept away, too, but was found alive clinging to a tree half a mile down river.

The weather bureau said the nonstop rain which caused the flooding [illegible] scores of [illegible] schools and a bingo hall [illegible] higher land were used as [illegible] ters.

Lewisham, a busy shopping center in southeast London, [illegible] like a lake. Water stood [illegible] feet deep in the streets. Damage to stocks in department stores was immense.

Road and rail links were [illegible] est hit in Kent, Essex, [illegible] and Sussex, the four counties which supply the bulk of London's commuters. Thousands of cars were abandoned [illegible] slides poured over rail lines, already disrupted by electrical failures.

The heaviest rainfall was in the west Hup[illegible] streams. One heading north from the Bay of Biscay was warm and moisture laden. The other, from the northeast, was cold. Their impact brought severe electrical storms.

Helicopters went out at dawn to survey possible routes to several Kentish towns and villages reported completely isolated.

The River Wandle, normally little more than a stream, broke its banks during the night at Wimbledon in South London.

Morrall Fills In Ably For Ailing Unitas

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Johnny Unitas says he had a perfect game.

"I didn't make a mistake," he said.

Earl Morrall says he "made about 20 mistakes that John wouldn't have made." But Morrall, on the side-line sidelines, nursing an injured right arm. Morrall, acquired from New York less than a month ago and with minima experience with the Colt system, was thrown into the breech.

He completed 16 of 31 passes for 198 yards and two touchdowns.

In other National Football League games Sunday, defending champion Green Bay bombed Philadelphia 30-13, Dallas blasted Detroit 59-13, Cleveland took New Orleans 24-10, New York beat Pittsburgh 34-20 and Washington defeated Chicago 31-10.

The Packers opened its 40th season in the Western Division with a 3-0 victory over Minnesota Sunday in the only game fought with Los Angeles at St. Louis.

Unitas, the Colts' veteran, in the American Football League, made [illegible] sidelines, nursing an injured right arm. Morrall, acquired from New York less than a month ago and with minima experience with the Colt system, was thrown into the breech.

He completed 16 of 31 passes for 198 yards and two touchdowns.

Morrall, a 12-year veteran, had his second pass of the day intercepted and returned for a touchdown. But he came back with confidence, directed a 72-yard scoring drive and then passed for touchdowns on tosses of eight and 16 yards.

"Earl was on the spot all week getting ready for this game," Coach Don Shula said, and he produced when it counted. He handled it like the guy we used to look up Unitas."

The champion Packers made [illegible] and Bart Starr and a rugged defense. Starr hit on touchdown passes of 12 and 55 yards and a brilliant kickoff return by Herb [illegible] another touchdown. The defense, meanwhile, didn't allow the Eagles a touchdown until the final period.

Don Meredith hit Bob Hayes with a 50-yard touchdown strike on his first throw against Detroit and the Dallas Cowboys were off and running to their highest point production in history.

Meredith hit on 16 of 19 passes for 228 yards, including another touchdown, before leaving with the game safely in the bag in the third period. Walt Garrison scored two touchdowns on one yard plunges.

Detroit simply was overwhelmed by a Dallas offense that ran up 542 yards.

Sonny Jurgensen demonstrated he was completely recovered from his elbow operation, firing four touchdown passes—including one of 99 yards to Gerry Allen—in Washington's victory over Chicago. He also connected on scoring passes of 16, six and 19 yards.

Ron Blye's two long kickoff returns set up a pair of early New York touchdowns and the Giants took it from there against Pittsburgh. Fran Tarkenton threw touchdown passes of 10 and 13 yards following Blye's heroics and later scored on a four yard run.

Cleveland used a couple of pass interceptions to break a 10-10 tie and beat New Orleans. Brown defensive back Ernie Kellerman stole a Bill Kilmer pass in the fourth quarter and seven plays later the Browns scored. Moments later Bill Glass picked off another Kilmer pass and raced 17 yards for a insurance touchdown.

In the Saturday game Minnesota turned two fumble recoveries inside the 20-yard line into touchdowns and then romped over Atlanta. Viking Joe Kapp threw three touchdown passes and Bill Brown scored three times.

STRAINS ON A FAST BALL — The strain is quite evident on the face of Detroit Tigers' pitcher Denny McLain as he pitches a fastball at an Oakland A's batter while attempting to notch his 30th win of the season. He did it when Detroit won 5-4. (AP Wirephoto)

Shades Of Diz: Denny Gets 30th

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Denny McLain of the Detroit Tigers has his name in baseball's record books and a quarter-of-a-million dollars on the way to his bank book-two items which undoubtedly make it difficult to locate any reason for an encore.

But there still are two targets for McLain: The $100,000 salary—or more—which he insists he will get from the Tigers and the opportunity to become the first pitcher in half-a-century to win as many as 33 games.

The 24-year-old Tiger right-hander, also known for his organ music, became the first 30-game winner in the majors since Dizzy Dean in 1934 when he defeated the Oakland A's 5-4 Saturday.

But McLain admittedly wasn't only shooting for the record books against the A's. According to his agent, Frank Scott, some $200,000 in endorsements awaited victory No. 30, and McLain himself put his stamp on a $100,000 salary.

McLain, who is being paid an estimated $33,000, said before he went out to pitch, "I want $100,000 and that's what I'm going to get. I don't care if they (the Tigers) care about me saying it. And I'm not saying I'm stopping at $100,000.

"I didn't say $100,000 isn't much today."

According to Manager Mayo Smith, McLain probably will get three more starts before the end of the regular season and, therefore, can reach as high as 33 victories.

No pitcher has been able to put together that many since Grover Alexander of Philadelphia in 1916.

Travis Trips Ponies 14-0

Travis 8th grade blanked Sweetwater 14-0 on the Junior High turf here Saturday afternoon with Scotty Sullivan paving the way for victory.

Scotty scored both of Travis' touchdowns on punt returns. He ran the first one back 34 yards in the first quarter and went 75 yards midway of the third quarter for the second one.

Russell Fisk, who looked good on defense for the Blue Devils, spilled one of the Sweetwater backs in the end zone for a 2-point safety in the last period. Mike Boles looked sharp, completing several passes for Travis.

Travis hosts Goliad of Big Spring here at 6 p.m. Saturday.

The Tiger Booster Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the high school cafeteria.

Members will view films of the Dunbar game and hear scouting reports on next Thursday's opponent — Lakeview, according to an announcement by Vonnie Black, president.

Lueders Hits Hobbs With Bomb 38-26

HOBBS — Aerial - minded Lueders scored three times on passes in the first half, then added one TD in each of the final two periods to take a 38-26 victory over the host Panthers here Friday night in a non-district Six - Man affray.

Lueders tallied once in the first quarter and twice in the second frame on the long "bomb." Hobbs crossed the goal once in the second period on a 20-yard reverse by Gill Warren.

Trailing 6-24 at halftime, the Panthers rallied for two TD's in the third stanza with Lorin Pearce getting a TD on a short plunge, then throwing a 25-yard pass to Ricky Williams for the other one. However, Lueders found the range again and ran over the extra points to stay out front.

Both teams scored once in the last period — Hobbs on a plunge while Lueders returned the kickoff back for a touchdown.

Ross Aguilar was outstanding on defense for the Panthers.

Hobbs hosts O'Brien at 8 p.m. Friday.

Whirlwinds Rip Texans

LAMESA — With an awesome display of blinding speed, the host Whirlwind Freshmen socked Lamar 9th grade 48-6 here Saturday night in the season grid opener for both teams.

Lamesa made the most of its speed, building a 28-0 advantage at halftime. The Whirlwinds got one TD up the middle, two more on passes, but the remainder resulted from blinding speed around the ends.

The Texans' David Wittie went 80 yards on a sweep early in the fourth period for Lamar's only score.

Lamar visits Big Spring Saturday for a 7:30 p.m. tussle with the Branmas.

Palmer Pockets 'Pleasant' Cash

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Arnold Palmer can relax. He's pro golf's first official millionaire—and he's also out of a slump.

Palmer pushed his official PGA earnings over the $1 million mark as he won the $150,000 Kemper Open with one of his old-time charges Sunday at the Pleasant Valley Country Club.

A veteran of 14 years on the tour, Palmer later was asked how it felt to become a millionaire by playing golf. He replied with a big laugh.

"It feels great—certainly one of the greatest thrills of my life, he said. "Actually, I went over the $1 million mark some time last year. Now its nice to have it official. For a while there this year I didn't know if I could make it."

Palmer, who was 39 last Tuesday, earned $98,515.22 in official money on the PGA tour through last year. He has added $110,377.37 this season, but some is listed as unofficial—such as money picked up in play outside PGA jurisdiction.

The old warhorse, accompanied by an increased Arnie's Army in a huge crowd of 39,300, started the final round three strokes off the pace. It was apparent that it was to be his day. He had an eagle 3 on the second hole, sinking a six-foot putt.

He went on to add five birdies, more than offsetting a pair of bogeys, and finished with a five-under-par 67 and a 72-hole total of 278, 12 strokes under regulation.

The victory, worth $30,000, was Palmer's 53rd championship, but only his second this year. He won the Bob Hope Classic in February before going into his slump.

"I kind of felt like myself again," he said after leading Australian Bruce Crampton and veteran Art Wall by four strokes.

Crampton, who had a closing 73 after trailing by one stroke after 54 holes, and Wall, who finished with a 70, both collected $14,623.

Orville Moody, 34, a pro rookie on the tour who led with 206 starting the final day, and unheralded John Lively tied for fourth at 281, earning $6,975 apiece. Another stroke back were Dow Finsterwald, Al Geiberger, Phil Rodgers and Doug Sanders.

'Bubbly' Flows In Astrodome For Cards

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Curt Flood's champagne spray gave the St. Louis Cardinals that heady feeling again before Cincinnati's George Culver officially popped the cork.

Flood's five-hit spree in a 7-1 victory at Houston Sunday got the Cardinals National League pennant party off to an early start.

But the champagne stayed on ice for one anxious hour before word arrived from the West Coast that Cincinnati had eliminated the second place San Francisco Giants 4-0 on Culver's four-hitter.

Then the bubbly flowed as the Cardinals celebrated their second successive flag and third in the last five years.

"It's good to be right on the scene when this is going on," said General Manager Bing Devine, who rejoined the Cardinals this season after three years with the New York Mets.

"This is the game you wait for from March 1st on," said Flood, whose five singles in five trips to the plate raised his batting average six points to .302.

Sunday's victory, coupled with San Francisco's loss to the Reds, sent the Cardinals 12½ games ahead of the Giants, who have just 12 to play.

Pittsburgh trimmed New York 3-0 on Steve Blass' two-hit pitching, the Chicago Cubs blanked Philadelphia 4-0 behind Fergu- son Jenkins and rookie George Stone hurled Atlanta past Los Angeles 3-2 in other NL games.

Detroit moved closer to the American League pennant by pounding Oakland 13-0 while Cleveland downed runner-up Baltimore 2-0, the streaking New York Yankees edged Washington 3-2, Minnesota nipped Boston 3-2 and California beat the Chicago White Sox 4-1.

Southpaw Steve Carlton pitched the Cardinals to their biggest victory of the year, surviving Houston 11 hits, including Jim Wynn's two-run homer, to bring his record to 13-11.

Flood and Roger Maris, who knocked in three runs with his fifth homer and a sacrifice fly, paced the Cardinals' 15-hit barrage against Don Wilson, 13-15, and three Houston relievers.

Carlton fell behind 2-1 when Wynn unloaded his 23rd homer in the first inning, but Flood's second hit and Maris' homer sent the Cards ahead to stay in the third. Orlando Cepeda drilled a two-run single in the fifth and the champs added two more runs in the sixth on Flood's bases-loaded single and Maris' sacrifice fly.

Culver, a last-minute replacement for Mel Queen, the Reds' scheduled starter, finished the Giants with the help of a three-run relief job by Jim Hannan.

Stone, who got the Braves' only run support with a two-run single off Ray Sadecki to snap the scoreless pitching and Tony Perez extended his hitting streak to 15 games with a run-scoring double.

Culver allowed just one hit—Willie Mays' ninth inning double after the fifth in bringing his season mark to 11-15.

Blass, 16-5, struck out 10 Mets and drove in two of the Pirates' runs with singles in the second and fourth innings.

Billy Williams doubled in two Chicago runs and Adolfo Phillips homered, helping Jenkins, 18-14, breeze past the Phillies with an eight-hitter.

Stone nailed his seventh victory in 10 decisions with relief help from cousin Cecil Upshaw as the Braves subdued the Dodgers. Felix Millan, Hank Aaron, Joe Torre and Mike Lum each poked two hits and drove in a run.

Big Spring Wins 43-0

With a "bread and butter" option play around end, the Big Spring Shorthorns defeated the Snyder Junior Varsity 43-0 on Junior High turf here Saturday morning.

After a scoreless first period, Big Spring tallied midway of the second frame and went on to break open the game with two more TD's before intermission. Two of the visitors' tallies resulted from passes with the option play accounting for the remainder.

Bid Cooper and Joe Hale turned in creditable performances on defense for Snyder while Bill Branson looked good both ways. He remained at his quarterback post, although he sustained an injury early in the affray.

The junior varsity journeys to Colorado City Saturday night for a 7:30 o'clock clash.

LING LOSES HIS COOL

Federal Regulators Blasted

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — At conventions, on golf courses, in city clubs, at offices and wherever businessmen gather, the conversation is likely to be about Washington—not just political Washington, but the Washington of the regulators.

Sometimes it is alleged that the two are one, and to a degree that might be true. But the men who run the corporations and borrow and lend and trade the money feel particularly harassed these days by the regulators.

Most of the harpoons are being tossed by the Federal Trade Commission, the Federal Communications Commission, the Justice Department, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

On the receiving end have been the advertisers, the drug manufacturers, the conglomerate corporations, the mutual funds, the stock exchanges, the brokers, the price hikers, the money lenders, the airlines the carmakers. . .

Obviously the list could go on and on, which isn't at all odd, for many of Washington's agencies are set up for the purpose of examining and criticizing—and hopefully setting straight—the methods of business.

Many businessmen never have trusted Washington's theoreticians, feeling the battle for progress is fought in the marketplace rather than in books. Washington, they feel, not only is intruding but is hurting reputations and investments.

Little wonder then that one businessman, James J. Ling, chairman of Ling-Temco-Vought Inc., blew his normally cool demeanor in a speech a few days ago and accused government agencies of "business McCarthyism or witch-hunting."

His speech is especially interesting because it seems to be the honest view of a man and not the pap of a public relations department. An associate says that the contents were all Ling's and that he made changes even as he spoke.

Ling, who built Ling-Temco-Vought into a huge operation with sales close to $2 billion a year mainly by buying up other companies, was particularly offended by the FTC.

On July 9 that agency announced an "in-depth" investigation of the conglomerate merger movement, and said that the study would consider the "effects and implications" of the trend.

Ling felt the use of "implications," a word not otherwise defined, smacked of guilt by association techniques. Thus the reference to McCarthyism.

At another point Ling said that bureaucrats would socialize all business "and thus pave the way for the ultimate demise of the entrepreneurial system, which has been the cornerstone of this country's strength and growth."

This may be true, but Ling seems to have given a new meaning to the term. The dictionary calls an entrepreneur "the organizer of an economic venture," and Ling certainly is that.

This system, some might argue, could weaken the entrepreneurial spirit by encouraging the founders of successful small ventures to sell out to the conglomerates rather than compete and develop on their own.

Ling also stated his opinion strongly that he didn't believe it was "any business of the Justice Department how efficiently we function." What business is it of government, he asked, as to whether economies result from mergers?

The answer some years ago might have been "none." But now the federal government is charged by law with maintaining a growing economy with as little inflation and as small a rate of unemployment as possible.

Inefficiency contributes to inflation. Certain industries, in fact, are believed to be inflation breeders because they are slow to modernize, spurn new technology and have weak management. As a result their prices are high.

In this sense the government seems to have a concern about the efficiency of private enterprises, no matter how intrusive it sounds.

The debates will continue, but by speaking frankly, Ling actually has improved business-government relations, particularly in promoting a dialogue on some obviously contested viewpoints.

The value of straight talk is appreciated especially by those who know that government-business relations often are soured because neither party speaks its mind.

Beauty Salons Are No Man's Land

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP)—We women may come out of the hairdresser's looking like a million dollars, but I wouldn't give two cents for the way we look when we're inside.

These establishments are popularly known as beauty salons, but that's a misnomer. They're more like a chamber of horrors.

The posher places perform the rites of rehabilitation in the privacy of individual booths, but one of which I am customarily a customer leave us all out in the open where we can see and be seen.

They do, however, charitably undertake the hair-coloring process in a more remote section of the shop where women with red, brown or purple locks can drip a little less publicly under their peaked plastic caps.

Their only consoliation in this situation is that the incipient blonde across the way looks even worse than they do.

There is no end to the various adornments the operators can place on a woman's scalp for her session under the dryer. There are curlers the size of orange juice cans, clips in various colors, pink plastic pads to cover the ears, nets that hang stringily down the back and strips of sticky tape across the nape of the neck.

Nobody proposes to win any beauty contests in this getup, but these gals are potential Miss Americas compared to the women in various stages of the comb-out process.

With their hair teased straight out in every direction, and solidified in that position with streams of hairspray, they resemble a cross between Medusa and the three witches of Macbeth.

Given time, these towering tresses can be coaxed down into less Vesuvian proportions and commanded to remain in that state through the application of still more lacquer. As a matter of fact, not one hair thus stiffened would have the temerity to move until the next week's appointment.

All this maneuvering takes place to the accompaniment of constant chatter conducted in voices loud enough to outpoint the decibel system of the whirring dryers. It is not the place to spend a quiet Saturday afternoon.

Fortunately, except for the male operators, beauty salons are no man's land. Lucky women—and lucky men!—

Junior Editors Quiz on WATER CYCLE

QUESTION: How and where does a water cycle start?

* * *

ANSWER: Water is continually being moved around between the earth's water masses, the air and the land; this is the water cycle. At the right of our picture, the arrows pointing upward represent the first stage. Heat, coming from the sun, warms the surface of the sea and of ponds and lakes. This turns some of the warmed water into invisible water vapor, which is evaporated or moved up into the air. A great deal of water vapor also moves upward from the green leaves of plants. The warmed air is cooled as it rises, and the water vapor in it condenses in visible form as cloud. Many clouds are carried overland by wind and, under certain conditions, the moisture in them comes down as rain or snow. Now it is turned to water, which works downwards. Sinking into the soil, it seeps down to join the underlying ground water, or it may collect in the form of streams and rivers which empty into the sea. Here, evaporation begins again; the water cycle starts once more, incidentally bringing to us the drinking water we must have in order to live.

Bitterness And Discontent Plague Indonesian Province

By ED BLANCHE
Associated Press Writer

SUKARNAPURA, Indonesia (AP) — Standing in the shadows, a dark-skinned Papuan whispered: "There is no freedom on West Irian."

Then he hurried off down the dimly lit street in this sprawling capital of Indonesia's trouble-plagued New Guinea province, West Irian.

Another furtively thrust a tattered typewritten copy of a letter, allegedly written by an unnamed political prisoner, into a Western newsman's hand. It was addressed to "those leaders who have Papuan blood but who have adopted Indonesian thinking." It appealed to them to take action to halt Indonesian "brutalities" here.

It charged the leaders have sold out their people for "power, position and riches" under the Indonesians.

In a waterfront cafe, an old fisherman said: "We want no part of the Indonesians. Tell them to get out. We don't want them here."

This is the undercurrent of bitterness and discontent among Papuan natives which lies scarcely concealed beneath the placid surface of this land of primitive beauty.

It is the legacy of five years of neglect and sometimes corrupt Indonesian administration.

The government of Indonesian President Suharto is desperately trying to repair the damage and convince the Papuans that Indonesia genuinely wishes to develop the territory with a drive to improve conditions and ease restrictions.

Papuans admit, most of them reluctantly, that conditions have improved over the last 18 months. Suharto has purged some of the corrupt officials appointed by the ousted Sukarno regime. Foreign Minister Adam Malik has promised West Irian more political freedom.

Selected groups of political prisoners have been released. The army says this leaves 123, including the former governor, Bonay, who joined rebel nationalists.

The army is providing teachers and building villages under a civic mission program. The air force makes food drops to remote villages in the rugged, remote interior.

But the natives are suspicious of Suharto's motives. They feel he is trying to win them over before the Act of Free Choice, in which the territory is scheduled next year to determine its own future—remaining part of Indonesia or seeking independence.

It is committed to do so under an agreement signed in the United Nations with the Netherlands in 1962 when the Sukarno regime took over the former Dutch colony.

The government plans only to consult regional leaders to determine the people's wishes, and many Papuans object. They claim the regional assembly members, all appointed by Jakarta, are puppets of the government.

But a full-scale plebiscite, which the Papuans demand, would be difficult. This is a thinly populated country the size of France. Most areas are inaccessible jungle and most of the people are primitive tribesmen living in Stone Age conditions.

There is little doubt most Papuans distrust the Indonesians. They remember the unfulfilled promises of Sukarno when he took over the area.

They charge the Indonesians, especially the military, have taken repressive measures to stifle protest.

In the Manokwari region in the northwest, some 2,000 poorly armed rebels still hold out against thousands of troops in the towering Vogelkop—Bird's Head—a natural mountain fortress.

Nine thousand Arfak tribesmen recently surrendered and returned to their villages. The military commander, Brig. Gen. Sarwo Edhie, predicted the rebels still holding out would soon be crushed.

Discontent is widespread and organized. Fritz Kiriheoy, a political leader, says 5 per cent of the people are against remaining within the republic. This is perhaps an exaggeration. But he acknowledges, along with other educated Papuans, that if the government pledged to continue development after 1968 and give West Irian a greater degree of autonomy, the decision next year might go Jakarta's way.

There are officials in Jakarta who consider this fair, but fear Indonesia, bogged down in paying off its $2.4 billion national debt and solving its pressing economic problems, may not be able to carry out development fast enough for the impatient Papuans.

Secession would touch off a political explosion which could seriously threaten Suharto's government. A large number of Indonesian nationalists and rightists violently oppose the Act of Free Choice in what they consider part of Indonesia. The loss of West Irian would upset the delicate political balance.

...YES, MANY MORE CUTS FOR BROILING AND ROASTING

with Furr's PROTEN BEEF

*PROTEN REG. U.S. PAT. OFF. LICENSOR

New names for steaks and roasts, yes . . . but as soon as you discover the difference . . . you'll be a PROTEN Beef Lover for life! Furr's PROTEN offers you a variety in broiling beef cuts never before possible. Now, chuck roasts can be broiled like the finest standing rib! . . . taking much less cooking time and less heat to do the trick . . . that saves you money any way you look at it!

Shown on this page are just six of the "new names" in steaks and roasts. Let Furr's show you others . . . a Penthouse Roast . . . Delmonico Broil Steaks or a London Broil . . . you'll like 'em all!

DENVER OVEN ROAST

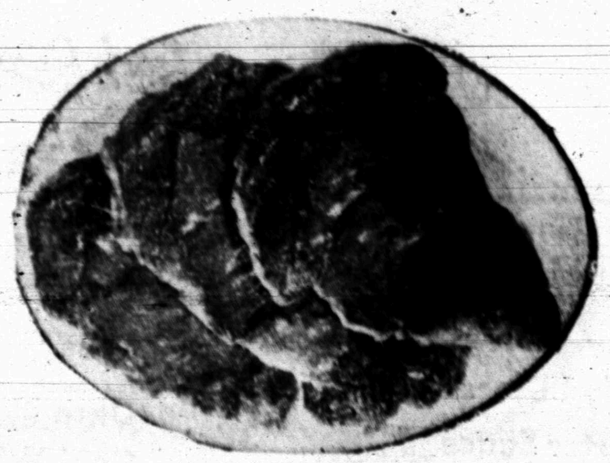
Serve something special — serve a PROTEN Beef Denver Oven Roast. It's so easy to cook — just roast in a slow oven at 325 F. degrees to rare, medium, or well done. It's tender and delicious because it's PROTEN Beef.

IMPERIAL OVEN ROAST

The Imperial Oven Roasts you see in our meat cases are boneless chuck roasts. Because they are PROTEN Beef, these uniformly tender roasts may be oven roasted as you roast a standing rib roast . . . uncovered, without adding moisture, in a slow 325 F. degrees oven. Deliciousness assured!

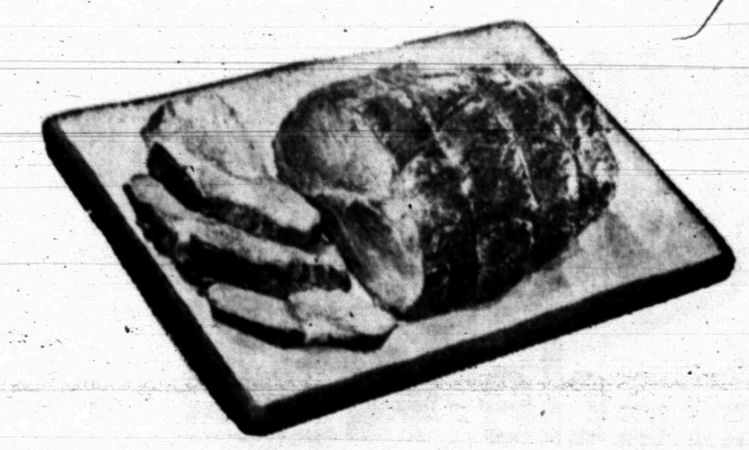
KEY CLUB STEAKS

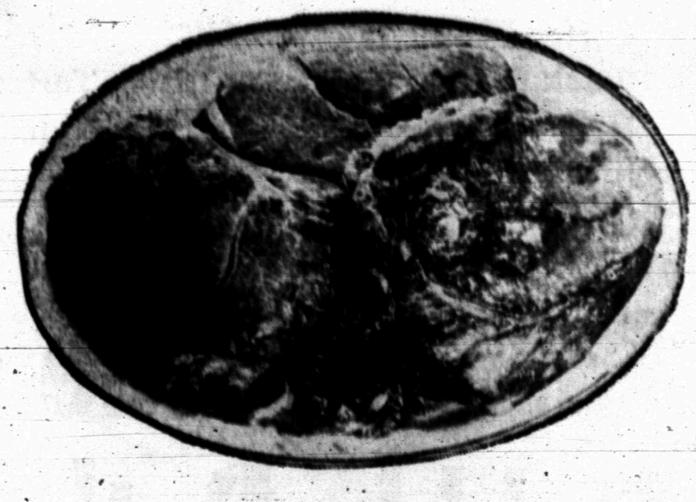
Newcomers to the charcoal grill and the oven broiler are PROTEN Beef Key Club Broil Steaks. Slow broiled to rich brown, PROTEN Beef Key Club Broil Steaks tempt the lovers of good beef.



ESSEX OVEN ROAST

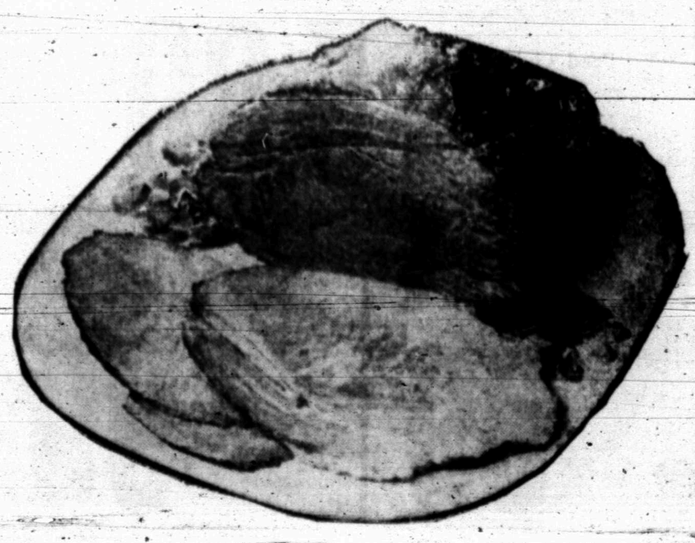
A PROTEN Beef Essex Oven Roast is the Sunday kind of roast you enjoy best. It's boneless, juicy, lean and delicious. Best of all, it's tender . . . because it's PROTEN Beef. You'll be proud to serve this easy-to-slice roast.





MANHATTEN OVEN ROAST

Easy-to-carve and tender-to-serve. This meaty roast has a minimum of fat and maximum of flavor. Roast on a rotisserie or on a rack in a shallow open pan in a slow oven, 325 F. degrees, for the best tasting roast ever.



SAVOY BROIL STEAKS

These tender, meaty steaks are low in fat and high in protein. Thick cut steaks are excellent for charcoal or ovenbroiling. Thinner steaks are best panbroiled. Cooked either way, Savoy Broil Steaks of PROTEN Beef are tops in good eating.
